Author: David

1 Ascribe to the LORD,[d] O mighty ones,
ascribe to the LORD glory and strength.
2 Ascribe to the LORD the glory due his name;
worship the LORD in the splendor of his[y] holiness.

3 The voice[e] of the LORD is over the waters;
the God of glory thunders,
the LORD thunders over the mighty waters.
4 The voice of the LORD is powerful;
the voice of the LORD is majestic.
5 The voice of the LORD breaks the cedars;
the LORD breaks in pieces the cedars of Lebanon.
6 He makes Lebanon skip[f] like a calf,
Sirion[z,g] like a young wild ox.
7 The voice of the LORD strikes with flashes of lightning.
8 The voice of the LORD shakes the desert;

y 2 Or LORD with the splendor of z 6 That is, Mount Hermon

28:2 [w] Ps 5:7
28:3 [x] Ps 12:2
28:4 [y] Rev 18:6
28:5 [z] Isa 5:12
28:7 [a] Ps 18:1 [b] Ps 13:5
28:8 [c] Ps 20:6
29:1 [d] 1Ch 16:28
29:3 [e] Job 37:5
29:6 [f] Ps 114:4 [g] Dt 3:9

28:3–5 It's easy to pretend friendship. Wicked people often put on a show of kindness or friendship in order to gain their own ends. David, in his royal position, may have met many who pretended friendship only to meet their own goals. David knew that God would punish them eventually, but he prayed that their punishment would come swiftly. True believers should be straightforward and sincere in all their relationships.

29:5, 6 The cedars of Lebanon were giant trees that could grow to 120 feet tall and 30 feet in circumference. A voice that could break the cedars of Lebanon would be a truly powerful voice—the voice of God. Sirion means Mount Hermon. All that was impressive to people was under God's complete control.

the LORD shakes the Desert of Kadesh.[h] 9The voice of the LORD twists the oaks[a] and strips the forests bare.
And in his temple all cry, "Glory!"

10The LORD sits[b] enthroned over the flood;
the LORD is enthroned as King forever.
11The LORD gives strength to his people;[i] the LORD blesses his people with peace.

29:8 [h]Nu 13:26

29:11 [i]Ps 28:8

PSALM 30

A psalm. A song. For the dedication of the temple.[c] Of David.

Theme: A celebration of God's deliverance.
Earthly security is uncertain, but God is always faithful.
Author: David

1I will exalt you, O LORD, for you lifted me out of the depths and did not let my enemies gloat over me.
2O LORD my God, I called to you for help and you healed me.
3O LORD, you brought me up from the grave[d];
you spared me from going down into the pit.[j] 4Sing to the LORD, you saints of his;
praise his holy name.
5For his anger[k] lasts only a moment,
but his favor lasts a lifetime;
weeping may remain for a night,
but rejoicing comes in the morning.

6When I felt secure, I said,
"I will never be shaken."
7O LORD, when you favored me, you made my mountain[e] stand firm;
but when you hid your face,
I was dismayed.

8To you, O LORD, I called;
to the Lord I cried for mercy:
9"What gain is there in my destruction,[f] in my going down into the pit?
Will the dust praise you?
Will it proclaim your faithfulness?[l]

30:3 [j]Ps 86:13

30:5 [k]Ps 103:9

30:9 [l]Ps 6:5

[a] 9 Or LORD makes the deer give birth [b] 10 Or sat [c] Title: Or palace [d] 3 Hebrew Sheol [e] 7 Or hill country [f] 9 Or there if I am silenced

29:10, 11 Throughout history, God has revealed his power through mighty miracles over nature, such as the great flood (Genesis 6–9). He promises to continue to reveal his power. Paul urged us to understand how great God's power is (Ephesians 1:18–23). The same power that raised Christ from the dead is available to help us with our daily problems. When you feel weak and limited, don't despair. Remember that God can give you strength. The power that controls creation and raises the dead is available to you.

30:1ff David may have written this psalm when he dedicated Araunah's threshing floor (which became the future site of the temple) and after God stopped the great plague he had used to discipline David (1 Chronicles 21:1–22:6). The serious illness mentioned in 30:2, 3 may refer to an illness David experienced or to the plague itself.

30:5 Like a shot given by a doctor, the discomfort of God's anger lasts only a moment, but the good effects go on for a long time. Let God's anger be a sharp pain that warns you to turn from sin.

30:6, 7 Security had made David feel invincible. Although he knew that his riches and power had come from God, they had gone to his head, making him proud. Wealth, power, and fame have an intoxicating effect on people, making them feel self-reliant, self-secure, and independent of God. But this false security can be easily shattered. Don't be trapped by the false security of prosperity. Depend on God for your security, and you won't be shaken when worldly possessions disappear.

10 Hear, O LORD, and be merciful to me;
O LORD, be my help."

11 You turned my wailing into dancing;
you removed my sackcloth and clothed me with joy, 12 that my heart may sing to you and not be silent.
O LORD my God, I will give you thanks forever.

PSALM 31

For the director of music. A psalm of David.

Theme: In times of stress, depending upon God requires complete commitment.
Author: David, although some say Jeremiah

1 In you, O LORD, I have taken refuge;
let me never be put to shame;
deliver me in your righteousness.
2 Turn your ear to me,
come quickly to my rescue;
be my rock of refuge,
a strong fortress to save me.
3 Since you are my rock and my fortress,[m] for the sake of your name[n] lead and guide me.
4 Free me from the trap that is set for me,
for you are my refuge.
5 Into your hands I commit my spirit;[o] redeem me, O LORD, the God of truth.

6 I hate those who cling to worthless idols;
I trust in the LORD.
7 I will be glad and rejoice in your love, for you saw my affliction and knew the anguish of my soul.
8 You have not handed me over[p] to the enemy
but have set my feet in a spacious place.

9 Be merciful to me, O LORD, for I am in distress;
my eyes grow weak with sorrow,[q]
my soul and my body with grief.

31:3 [m] Ps 18:2 [n] Ps 23:3
31:5 [o] Lk 23:46
31:8 [p] Dt 32:30
31:9 [q] Ps 6:7

30:11 Sackcloth refers to clothes worn as a sign of mourning.

31:1 David called upon God to deliver him. He wanted God to stop those who were unjustly causing trouble. Therefore, David made his request based upon what he knew of God's name, or character. Because God is righteous and loving, he loves to deliver his people.

31:1–6 We say we have faith in God, but do we really trust him? David's words, "Into your hands I commit my spirit," convey his complete trust in God. Jesus used this phrase as he was dying on the cross – showing his absolute dependence on God the Father (Luke 23:46). Stephen repeated these words as he was being stoned to death (Acts 7:59), confident that in death he was simply passing from God's earthly care to God's eternal care. We should commit our possessions, our families, and our vocations to God. But first and foremost, we should commit ourselves completely to him.

31:6 Why did David suddenly bring up the subject of idol worship? He wanted to contrast his total devotion to God with the diluted worship offered by many Israelites. Pagan religious rituals were never completely banished from Israel and Judah, despite the efforts of David and a few other kings. Obviously a person who clung to idols could not commit his spirit into God's hands. When we put today's idols (wealth, material possessions, success) first in our lives, we cannot expect God's Spirit to guide us. God is our highest authority and requires our first allegiance.

31:8 In David's day, armies needed large areas of land for their military maneuvers. David praised God for the "spacious place" – the open spaces that gave him the freedom to move within God's boundaries. If you feel restrained by God's moral boundaries, remember that God has given you much freedom, far more than you need to move within those boundaries. Use the opportunities he gives you to make proper decisions. Use them wisely and they will lead to victory.

31:9–13 In describing his own feelings, David writes of the helplessness and hopelessness everyone feels when hated or rejected. But adversity is easier to accept when we recognize our true relationship with the sovereign God (31:14–18). Although our enemies may seem to have the upper hand, they are ultimately the helpless and hopeless ones. Those who know God will be victorious in the end (31:23). We can have courage today because God will preserve us.

10 My life is consumed by anguish and my years by groaning;
my strength fails because of my affliction,[g]
and my bones grow weak.
11 Because of all my enemies,
I am the utter contempt of my neighbors;
I am a dread to my friends—
those who see me on the street flee from me.
12 I am forgotten by them as though I were dead;[r]
I have become like broken pottery.
13 For I hear the slander of many;
there is terror on every side;[s] they conspire against me and plot to take my life.

14 But I trust in you, O LORD;
I say, "You are my God."
15 My times are in your hands; deliver me from my enemies and from those who pursue me.
16 Let your face shine on your servant;
save me in your unfailing love.
17 Let me not be put to shame, O LORD, for I have cried out to you;
but let the wicked be put to shame and lie silent in the grave.[h] 18 Let their lying lips[t] be silenced, for with pride and contempt
they speak arrogantly against the righteous.

19 How great is your goodness, which you have stored up for those who fear you,
which you bestow in the sight of men on those who take refuge in you.
20 In the shelter of your presence you hide them from the intrigues of men;
in your dwelling you keep them safe from accusing tongues.

21 Praise be to the LORD,
for he showed his wonderful love[u] to me when I was in a besieged city.[v] 22 In my alarm[w] I said,
"I am cut off from your sight!"
Yet you heard my cry for mercy
when I called to you for help.

23 Love the LORD, all his saints!
The LORD preserves the faithful,
but the proud he pays back in full.
24 Be strong and take heart,[x]
all you who hope in the LORD.

31:12 [r] Ps 88:4

31:13 [s] Jer 20:3, 10

31:18 [t] Ps 120:2

31:21 [u] Ps 17:7 [v] 1Sa 23:7

31:22 [w] Ps 116:11

31:24 [x] Ps 27:14

g 10 Or guilt h 17 Hebrew Sheol

31:14, 15 In saying, "My times are in your hands," David was expressing his belief that all of life's circumstances are under God's control. Knowing that God loves and cares for us enables us to keep steady in our faith regardless of our circumstances. It keeps us from sinning foolishly by taking matters into our own hands or resenting God's timetable.

PSALM 32

Of David. A maskil.[1]

Theme: Forgiveness brings true joy. Only when we ask God to forgive our sins will he give us real happiness and relief from guilt.
Author: David

1 Blessed is he whose transgressions are forgiven, whose sins are covered.[y]
2 Blessed is the man whose sin the LORD does not count against him and in whose spirit is no deceit.[z]

3 When I kept silent, my bones wasted away
through my groaning all day long.
4 For day and night your hand was heavy upon me;
my strength was sapped
as in the heat of summer. Selah
5 Then I acknowledged my sin to you and did not cover up my iniquity.
I said, "I will confess[a] my transgressions to the LORD"— and you forgave
the guilt of my sin. Selah

6 Therefore let everyone who is godly pray to you while you may be found;
surely when the mighty waters rise,
they will not reach him.
7 You are my hiding place;
you will protect me from trouble

32:1 [y] Ps 85:2
32:2 [z] Jn 1:47
32:5 [a] Pr 28:13

[1] Title: Probably a literary or musical term

CONFESSION, REPENTANCE, AND FORGIVENESS IN PSALMS

Over the centuries, many believers, overcome by an awareness of their own sins, have found in the words of the penitential (confession) psalms a ray of hope. The psalmists shared with God both the depth of their sorrow and repentance, as well as the height of joy at being forgiven. They rejoiced in the knowledge that God would respond to confession and repentance with complete forgiveness. We, who live on the other side of the cross of Christ, can rejoice even more because we understand more. God has shown us that he is willing to forgive because his judgment on sin was satisfied by Christ's death on the cross.

As you read these psalms, note the pattern followed by the psalmists in responding to God: (1) they recognized their sinfulness and tendency to do wrong; (2) they realized that sin was rebellion against God himself; (3) they admitted their sins to God; (4) they trusted in God's willingness to forgive; and (5) they accepted his forgiveness. Use these psalms as a reminder of how easy it is to drift away from God and fall into sin, and what is needed to reestablish that fellowship.

Selected psalms that emphasize these themes are 6; 14; 31; 32; 38; 41; 51; 102; 130; 143.

32 title Maskil is a term perhaps denoting psalms written to make a person wise or prudent, to increase a person's success or skill.

32:1ff Read this psalm in conjunction with Psalm 51—both are penitential psalms. Here David expresses the joy of forgiveness. God had forgiven him for the sins he had committed against Bathsheba and Uriah (2 Samuel 11, 12). This is another of the penitential (repentance) psalms where the writer confesses his sin to God.

32:1, 2 God wants to forgive sinners. Forgiveness has always been part of his loving nature. He announced this to Moses (Exodus 34:7); he revealed it to David; and he dramatically showed it to the world through Jesus Christ. These verses convey several aspects of God's forgiveness: forgives transgression, covers sin, doesn't count our sins against us. Paul quoted these verses in Romans 4:7, 8 and showed that we can have this joyous experience of forgiveness through faith in Christ.

32:5 What is confession? To confess our sin is to agree with God, acknowledging that he is right to declare what we have done as sinful, and that we are wrong to desire or to do it. It is to affirm our intention of abandoning that sin in order to follow him more faithfully.

and surround me with songs of deliverance. Selah

8 I will instruct you and teach you in the way you should go;
I will counsel you and watch over you.
9 Do not be like the horse or the mule, which have no understanding but must be controlled by bit and bridle or they will not come to you.
10 Many are the woes of the wicked,[b]
but the LORD's unfailing love surrounds the man who trusts[c] in him.

11 Rejoice in the LORD[d] and be glad, you righteous;
sing, all you who are upright in heart!

32:10 [b] Ro 2:9 [c] Pr 16:20

32:11 [d] Ps 64:10

PSALM 33

Theme: Because God is Creator, Lord, Savior, and Deliverer, he is worthy of our trust and praise. Because he is faithful and his word is dependable, we can rejoice and sing, giving thanks and praise.
Author: Anonymous

1 Sing joyfully to the LORD, you righteous;
it is fitting[e] for the upright to praise him.
2 Praise the LORD with the harp; make music to him on the ten-stringed lyre.
3 Sing to him a new song;
play skillfully, and shout for joy.

4 For the word of the LORD is right and true;
he is faithful in all he does.
5 The LORD loves righteousness and justice;[f]
the earth is full of his unfailing love.

6 By the word of the LORD were the heavens made, their starry host by the breath of his mouth.
7 He gathers the waters of the sea into jars[i];
he puts the deep into storehouses.
8 Let all the earth fear the LORD;
let all the people of the world revere him.
9 For he spoke, and it came to be;
he commanded, and it stood firm.
10 The LORD foils the plans of the nations;
he thwarts the purposes of the peoples.
11 But the plans of the LORD stand firm forever,

33:1 [e] Ps 147:1

33:5 [f] Ps 11:7

7 Or sea as into a heap

32:8, 9 God describes some people as being like horses or mules that have to be controlled by bits and bridles. Rather than letting God guide them step by step, they stubbornly leave God only one option. If God wants to keep them useful for him, he must use discipline and punishment. God longs to guide us with love and wisdom rather than punishment. He offers to teach us the best way to go. Accept the advice written in God's Word and don't let your stubbornness keep you from obeying God.

33:2, 3 David, who some believe wrote this psalm, was an accomplished harpist (1 Samuel 16:15–25). He frequently spoke about musical instruments throughout his psalms. He undoubtedly composed music for many of the psalms, and he commissioned music for temple worship (1 Chronicles 25).

33:4 All God's words are right and true—they can be trusted. The Bible is reliable because, unlike people, God does not lie, forget, change his words, or leave his promises unfulfilled. We can trust the Bible because it contains the words of a holy, trustworthy, and unchangeable God.

33:6–9 This is a poetic summary of the first chapter of Genesis. God is not just the coordinator of natural forces, he is the Lord of creation, the almighty God. Because he is all-powerful, we should revere him in all we do.

33:11 "The plans of the LORD stand firm forever." Are you frustrated by inconsistencies you see in others, or even in yourself? God is completely trustworthy—his intentions never change. There is a promise that good and perfect gifts come to us from the Creator who never changes (James 1:17). When you wonder if there is anyone in whom you can trust, remember that God is completely the purposes of his heart through all generations.

12 Blessed is the nation whose God is the LORD, the people he chose[g] for his inheritance.
13 From heaven the LORD looks down and sees all mankind;[h] 14 from his dwelling place he watches all who live on earth—15 he who forms the hearts of all, who considers everything they do.[i] 16 No king is saved by the size of his army;
no warrior escapes by his great strength.
17 A horse[j] is a vain hope for deliverance;
despite all its great strength it cannot save.
18 But the eyes of the LORD are on those who fear him,
on those whose hope is in his unfailing love, 19 to deliver them from death and keep them alive in famine.

20 We wait in hope for the LORD;
he is our help and our shield.
21 In him our hearts rejoice, for we trust in his holy name.
22 May your unfailing love rest upon us, O LORD, even as we put our hope in you.

33:12 [g] Dt 7:6

33:13 [h] Job 28:24; Ps 11:4

33:15 [i] Jer 32:19

33:17 [j] Ps 20:7

PSALM 34[k]

Of David. When he pretended to be insane before Abimelech, who drove him away, and he left.

Theme: God pays attention to those who call on him. Whether God offers escape from trouble or help in times of trouble, we can be certain that he always hears and acts on behalf of those who love him.
Author: David, after pretending to be insane in order to escape from King Achish (1 Samuel 21:10–15)

1 I will extol the LORD at all times;
his praise will always be on my lips.
2 My soul will boast[k] in the LORD;
let the afflicted hear and rejoice.
3 Glorify the LORD with me;
let us exalt his name together.

4 I sought the LORD, and he answered me;
he delivered me from all my fears.
5 Those who look to him are radiant;

34:2 [k] Jer 9:24

[k] This psalm is an acrostic poem, the verses of which begin with the successive letters of the Hebrew alphabet.

---

consistent. Let him counsel you, and trust in his plans for your life.

33:16, 17 Horse refers to military strength. Because God rules and overrules every nation, leaders should never put their trust in their physical power. Military might is not the ground of our hope. Our hope is in God and in his gracious offer to save us if we will trust in him.

33:18, 19 This is not an ironclad guarantee that all believers will be delivered from death and starvation. Thousands of Christian saints have been beaten to death, whipped, fed to lions, or executed (Romans 8:35, 36; Hebrews 11:32–40). God can (and often miraculously does) deliver his followers from pain and death, though sometimes, for purposes known only to him, he chooses not to. When faced with these harsh realities, we must focus on the wise judgments of God. The writer was pleading for God's watchful care and protection. In times of crisis, we can place our hope in God.

34:1ff God promises great blessings to his people, but many of these blessings require our active participation. He will deliver us from fear (34:4), save us out of our troubles (34:6), guard and deliver us (34:7), show us goodness (34:8), supply our needs (34:9), listen when we talk to him (34:15), and redeem us (34:22), but we must do our part. We can appropriate his blessings when we seek him (34:4, 10), cry out to him (34:6, 17), trust him (34:8), fear him (34:7, 9), refrain from lying (34:13), turn from evil, do good and seek peace (34:14), are humble (34:18), and serve him (34:22).

their faces are never covered with shame.
6This poor man called, and the LORD heard him;
he saved him out of all his troubles.
7The angel of the LORD encamps around those who fear him, and he delivers them.

8Taste and see that the LORD is good;[l] blessed is the man who takes refuge[m] in him.
9Fear the LORD, you his saints, for those who fear him lack nothing.
10The lions may grow weak and hungry,
but those who seek the LORD lack no good thing.

11Come, my children, listen to me;
I will teach you the fear of the LORD.
12Whoever of you loves life and desires to see many good days, 13keep your tongue from evil and your lips from speaking lies.
14Turn from evil and do good;[n] seek peace and pursue it.

15The eyes of the LORD are on the righteous[o]
and his ears are attentive to their cry; 16the face of the LORD is against those who do evil, to cut off the memory of them from the earth.

17The righteous cry out, and the LORD hears[p] them;
he delivers them from all their troubles.
18The LORD is close to the broken-hearted and saves those who are crushed in spirit.

19A righteous man may have many troubles, but the LORD delivers him from them all;
20he protects all his bones,

34:8 [l] 1Pe 2:3 [m] Ps 2:12
34:14 [n] Ps 37:27
34:15 [o] Job 36:7
34:17 [p] Ps 145:19

34:8 "Taste and see" does not mean, "Check out God's credentials." Instead it is a warm invitation: "Try this; I know you'll like it." When we take that first step of obedience in following God, we cannot help discovering that he is good and kind. When we begin the Christian life, our knowledge of God is partial and incomplete. As we trust him daily, we experience how good he is.

34:9 You say you belong to the Lord, but do you fear him? To fear the Lord means to show deep respect and honor to him. We demonstrate true reverence by our humble attitude and genuine worship. Reverence was shown by Abraham (Genesis 17:2–4), Moses (Exodus 3:5, 6), and the Israelites (Exodus 19:16–24). Their reactions to God's presence varied, but all deeply respected him.

34:9, 10 At first we may question David's statement, because we seem to lack many good things. This is not a blanket promise that all Christians will have everything they want. Instead, this is David's praise for God's goodness – all those who call upon God in their need will be answered, sometimes in unexpected ways.

Remember, God knows what we need, and our deepest needs are spiritual. Many Christians, even though they face unbearable poverty and hardship, still have enough spiritual nourishment to live for God. David was saying that to have God is to have all you really need. God is enough.

If you feel you don't have everything you need, ask: (1) Is this really a need? (2) Is this really good for me? (3) Is this the best time for me to have what I desire? Even if you answer yes to all three questions, God may allow you to go without to help you grow more dependent on him. He may want you to learn that you need him more than you need to achieve your immediate desires.

34:11–14 The Bible often connects the fear of the Lord (love and reverence for him) with obedience. "Fear God and keep his commandments" (Ecclesiastes 12:13); "If anyone loves me, he will obey my teaching" (John 14:23). David said that a person who fears the Lord doesn't lie, turns from evil, does good, and promotes peace. Reverence is much more than sitting quietly in church. It includes obeying God in the way we speak and the way we treat others.

34:14 Somehow we think that peace should come to us with no effort. But David explained that we are to seek and pursue peace. Paul echoed this thought in Romans 12:18. A person who wants peace cannot be argumentative and contentious. Because peaceful relationships come from our efforts at peacemaking, work hard at living in peace with others each day.

34:18, 19 We often wish we could escape troubles – the pain of grief, loss, sorrow, and failure; or even the small daily frustrations that constantly wear us down. God promises to be "close to the brokenhearted," to be our source of power, courage, and wisdom, helping us through our problems. Sometimes he chooses to deliver us from those problems. When trouble strikes, don't get frustrated with God. Instead, admit that you need God's help and thank him for being by your side.

34:20 This is a prophecy about Christ when he was crucified. Although it was the Roman custom to break the legs of the victim to speed death, not one of Jesus' bones was broken (John 19:32–37). In addition to the prophetic meaning, David was pleading for God's protection in times of crisis.

not one of them will be broken.[q]

34:20 [q] Jn 19:36*

21 Evil will slay the wicked;[r]
the foes of the righteous will be condemned.
22 The LORD redeems his servants;
no one will be condemned who takes refuge in him.

34:21 [r] Ps 94:23

PSALM 35

Of David.

Theme: A prayer to God for help against those who try to inflict injury for no reason. When our enemies are unjust and lie about us, even when we do good to them, we can appeal to God who is always just.
Author: David, possibly written when he was being hunted by Saul (1 Samuel 24)

1 Contend, O LORD, with those who contend with me; fight against those who fight against those who fight against me.
2 Take up shield and buckler;
arise and come to my aid.
3 Brandish spear and javelin[1] against those who pursue me.
Say to my soul,
"I am your salvation."

4 May those who seek my life be disgraced[s] and put to shame;
may those who plot my ruin be turned back in dismay.
5 May they be like chaff before the wind,
with the angel of the LORD driving them away;
6 may their path be dark and slippery,
with the angel of the LORD pursuing them.
7 Since they hid their net for me without cause and without cause dug a pit for me, 8 may ruin overtake them by surprise — [t] may the net they hid entangle them, may they fall into the pit, to their ruin.
9 Then my soul will rejoice in the LORD and delight in his salvation.
10 My whole being will exclaim,
"Who is like you, O LORD?
You rescue the poor from those too strong for them,
the poor and needy from those who rob them."

11 Ruthless witnesses come forward;
they question me on things I know nothing about.
12 They repay me evil for good and leave my soul forlorn.

35:4 [s] Ps 70:2

35:8 [t] 1 Th 5:3

[1] 3 Or and block the way

35:1ff This is one of the "imprecatory" (cursing) psalms that call upon God to deal with enemies. These psalms sound extremely harsh, but we must remember: (1) David could not understand why he was forced to flee from men who were unjustly seeking to kill him. He was God's anointed king over a nation called to annihilate the evil people of the land. (2) David's call for justice was sincere; it was not a cover for his own personal vengeance. He truly wanted to seek God's perfect ideal for his nation. (3) David did not say that he would take revenge, but he gave the matter to God. These are merely his suggestions. (4) These psalms use hyperbole (or overstatement). They were meant to motivate others to take a strong stand against sin and evil.

Cruelty may be far removed from some people's experience, but it is a daily reality to others. God promises to help the persecuted and to bring judgment on unrepentant sinners. When we pray for justice to be done, we are praying as David did. When Christ returns, the wicked will be punished.

13 Yet when they were ill, I put on sackcloth and humbled myself with fasting.[u]
When my prayers returned to me unanswered, 14 I went about mourning
as though for my friend or brother.
I bowed my head in grief
as though weeping for my mother.
15 But when I stumbled, they gathered in glee;
attackers gathered against me when I was unaware.
They slandered me without ceasing.
16 Like the ungodly they maliciously mocked[m];
they gnashed their teeth at me.
17 O Lord, how long will you look on?
Rescue my life from their ravages,
my precious life[v] from these lions.
18 I will give you thanks in the great assembly;
among throngs of people I will praise you.

19 Let not those gloat over me who are my enemies without cause; let not those who hate me without reason[w]
maliciously wink the eye.
20 They do not speak peaceably, but devise false accusations against those who live quietly in the land.
21 They gape at me and say, "Aha! Aha![x]
With our own eyes we have seen it."

22 O LORD, you have seen[y] this; be not silent.
Do not be far[z] from me, O Lord.
23 Awake, and rise to my defense!
Contend for me, my God and Lord.
24 Vindicate me in your righteousness, O LORD my God;
do not let them gloat over me.
25 Do not let them think, "Aha, just what we wanted!"
or say, "We have swallowed him up."[a] 26 May all who gloat over my distress be put to shame and confusion;

may all who exalt themselves over me be clothed with shame and disgrace.
27 May those who delight in my vindication shout for joy and gladness;
may they always say, "The LORD be exalted, who delights in the well-being of his servant."
28 My tongue will speak of your righteousness and of your praises all day long.

35:13 [u] Job 30:25

35:17 [v] Ps 22:20

35:19 [w] Ps 38:19; 69:4

35:21 [x] Ps 40:15

35:22 [y] Ex 3:7 [z] Ps 10:1

35:25 [a] La 2:16

[m] 16 Septuagint; Hebrew may mean ungodly circle of mockers.

35:13 David was sad when his prayers seemed "unanswered." When our deliverance is delayed, it is easy to assume that God hasn't answered our prayers. God hears every prayer, but he answers according to his wisdom. Don't let the absence of an immediate answer cause you to doubt or resent God. Instead let it be an occasion to deepen your faith.

35:21–23 David cried out to God to defend him when people wrongly accused him. If you are unjustly accused, your natural reaction may be to lash out in revenge or to give a detailed de-

PSALM 36

For the director of music. Of David the servant of the LORD.

Theme: God's faithfulness, justice, and love are contrasted with the sinful hearts of men and women. In spite of our fallen condition, God pours out his love on those who know him.
Author: David

1 An oracle is within my heart concerning the sinfulness of the wicked:[n]
There is no fear of God before his eyes.[b] 2 For in his own eyes he flatters himself too much to detect or hate his sin.
3 The words of his mouth are wicked and deceitful;
he has ceased to be wise and to do good.[c] 4 Even on his bed he plots evil;[d] he commits himself to a sinful course[e] and does not reject what is wrong.

5 Your love, O LORD, reaches to the heavens, your faithfulness to the skies.
6 Your righteousness is like the mighty mountains, your justice like the great deep.
O LORD, you preserve both man and beast.
7 How priceless is your unfailing love!
Both high and low among men find[o] refuge in the shadow of your wings.
8 They feast on the abundance of your house;[f]
you give them drink from your river[g] of delights.
9 For with you is the fountain of life;[h] in your light we see light.

10 Continue your love to those who know you,
your righteousness to the upright in heart.
11 May the foot of the proud not come against me, nor the hand of the wicked drive me away.
12 See how the evildoers lie fallen—thrown down, not able to rise!

36:1 [b] Ro 3:18*
36:3 [c] Jer 4:22
36:4 [d] Pr 4:16 [e] Isa 65:2
36:8 [f] Ps 65:4 [g] Job 20:17; Rev 22:1
36:9 [h] Jer 2:13

[n] 1 Or heart: / Sin proceeds from the wicked. [o] 7 Or love, O God! / Men find; or love! / Both heavenly beings and men / find

---

fense of your every move. Instead, ask God to fight the battle for you. He will clear your name in the eyes of those who really matter.

36:1 Because the wicked have no fear of God, nothing restrains them from sinning. They plunge ahead as if nothing will happen to them. But God is just and is only delaying their punishment. This knowledge should hold us back from sinning. Let the fear of God do its work in you to keep you from sin. In your gratitude for God's love, don't ignore his justice.

36:5–8 In contrast to evil people and their wicked plots that end in failure, God is faithful, righteous, and just. His love reaches to the heavens; his faithfulness reaches to the skies; his righteousness is as solid as mighty mountains; and his judgments are as full of wisdom as the oceans with water ("the great deep"). We need not fear evil people because we know God loves us, judges evil, and will care for us throughout eternity.

36:9 This vivid image – "fountain of life" – gives us a sense of fresh, cleansing water that gives life to the spiritually thirsty. This same picture is used in Jeremiah 2:13, where God is called the "spring of living water." Jesus spoke of himself as living water that could quench thirst forever and give eternal life (John 4:14).

PSALM 37[P]

Of David.

Theme: Trust in the Lord and wait patiently for him to act.
This psalm vividly contrasts the wicked person with the righteous.
Author: David

1 Do not fret because of evil men or be envious[j] of those who do wrong;[j] 2 for like the grass they will soon wither, like green plants they will soon die away.[k]

3 Trust in the LORD and do good;
dwell in the land and enjoy safe pasture.
4 Delight yourself in the LORD and he will give you the desires of your heart.

5 Commit your way to the LORD; trust in him and he will do this:
6 He will make your righteousness shine like the dawn,[l]
the justice of your cause like the noonday sun.

7 Be still before the LORD and wait patiently for him;
do not fret when men succeed in their ways,
when they carry out their wicked schemes.

8 Refrain from anger and turn from wrath;
do not fret—it leads only to evil.
9 For evil men will be cut off, but those who hope in the LORD will inherit the land.

10 A little while, and the wicked will be no more;[m] though you look for them, they will not be found.
11 But the meek will inherit the land[n]
and enjoy great peace.

12 The wicked plot against the righteous and gnash their teeth[o] at them; 13 but the Lord laughs at the wicked, for he knows their day is coming.[p]

14 The wicked draw the sword and bend the bow
to bring down the poor and needy, to slay those whose ways are upright.
15 But their swords will pierce their own hearts,

37:1 [j] Pr 23:17-18; Ps 73:3
37:2 [k] Ps 90:6
37:6 [l] Job 11:17
37:10 [m] Job 7:10
37:11 [n] Mt 5:5
37:12 [o] Ps 35:16
37:13 [p] 1Sa 26:10

P This psalm is an acrostic poem, the stanzas of which begin with the successive letters of the Hebrew alphabet.

37:1 We should never envy evil people, even though some may be extremely popular or excessively rich. No matter how much they have, it will fade and vanish like grass that withers and dies. Those who follow God live differently from the wicked and, in the end, will have far greater treasures in heaven. What the unbeliever gets may last a lifetime, if he is lucky. What you get from following God lasts forever.

37:4, 5 David calls us to take delight in the Lord and to commit everything we have and do (our "way") to him. But how do we do this? To delight in someone means to experience great pleasure and joy in his or her presence. This happens only when we know that person well. Thus, to delight in the Lord, we must know him better. Knowledge of God's great love for us will indeed give us delight.

To commit ourselves to the Lord means entrusting everything—our lives, families, jobs, possessions—to his control and guidance. To commit ourselves to the Lord means to trust in him (37:5), believing that he can care for us better than we can ourselves. We should be willing to wait patiently (37:7) for him to work out what is best for us.

37:8, 9 Anger and worry (fretting) are two very destructive emotions. They reveal a lack of faith that God loves us and is in control. We should not worry; instead, we should trust in God, giving ourselves to him for his use and safekeeping. When you dwell on your problems, you will become anxious and angry. But if you concentrate on God and his goodness, you will find peace. Where do you focus your attention?

37:11 Meekness hardly seems the proper weapon to deal with enemies. God's warfare must be carried out with calm faith, humility before God, and hope in his deliverance. Jesus also promises a sure reward for those with humble attitudes (Matthew 5:5).

and their bows will be broken.

16Better the little that the righteous have than the wealth[q] of many wicked; 17for the power of the wicked will be broken,[r]
but the LORD upholds the righteous.

18The days of the blameless are known to the LORD, and their inheritance will endure forever.
19In times of disaster they will not wither;
in days of famine they will enjoy plenty.

20But the wicked will perish:
The LORD's enemies will be like the beauty of the fields,
they will vanish — vanish like smoke.[s]

21The wicked borrow and do not repay, but the righteous give generously;[t] 22those the LORD blesses will inherit the land, but those he curses will be cut off.

23If the LORD delights in a man's way,
he makes his steps firm;
24though he stumble, he will not fall,
for the LORD upholds him with his hand.

25I was young and now I am old, yet I have never seen the righteous forsaken or their children begging bread.
26They are always generous and lend freely;
their children will be blessed.

27Turn from evil and do good;[u]
then you will dwell in the land forever.
28For the LORD loves the just and will not forsake his faithful ones.

They will be protected forever,
but the offspring of the wicked will be cut off; 29the righteous will inherit the land and dwell in it forever.

30The mouth of the righteous man utters wisdom, and his tongue speaks what is just.
31The law of his God is in his heart;
his feet do not slip.

32The wicked lie in wait[v] for the righteous, seeking their very lives;

37:16 qPr 15:16
37:17 rPs 10:15
37:20 sPs 102:3
37:21 tPs 112:5
37:27 uPs 34:14
37:32 vPs 10:8

37:21 You can tell a lot about a person's character by the way he or she handles money. The wicked person steals under the guise of borrowing. The righteous person gives generously to the needy. The wicked person, therefore, focuses on himself, while the righteous person looks to the welfare of others.

37:23, 24 The person in whom God delights is one who follows God, trusts him, and tries to do his will. God watches over and makes firm every step that person takes. If you would like to have God direct your way, then seek his advice before you step out.

37:25 Because children starve today, as they did in David's time, what did David mean by these words? The children of the righteous need not go hungry because other believers can help out in their time of need. In David's day, Israel obeyed God's laws that ensured that the poor were treated fairly and mercifully. As long as Israel was obedient, there was enough food for everyone. When Israel forgot God, the rich took care only of themselves, and the poor suffered (Amos 2:6, 7).

When we see a Christian brother or sister suffering today, we can respond in one of three ways. (1) We can say, as Job's friends did, that the afflicted person brought this on himself. (2) We can say that this is a test to help the poor develop more patience and trust in God. (3) We can help the person in need. David would approve of only the last option. Although many governments today have their own programs for helping those in need, this is no excuse for ignoring the poor and needy within our reach.

33but the LORD will not leave them in their power or let them be condemned when brought to trial.[w]

34Wait for the LORD[x]
and keep his way.
He will exalt you to inherit the land;
when the wicked are cut off, you will see[y] it.

35I have seen a wicked and ruthless man flourishing[z] like a green tree in its native soil, 36but he soon passed away and was no more;
though I looked for him, he could not be found.

37Consider the blameless, observe the upright;
there is a future[q] for the man of peace.
38But all sinners will be destroyed;
the future[r] of the wicked will be cut off.

39The salvation[a] of the righteous comes from the LORD;
he is their stronghold in time of trouble.[b] 40The LORD helps[c] them and delivers them;
he delivers them from the wicked and saves them, because they take refuge in him.

37:33 [w] 2Pe 2:9
37:34 [x] Ps 27:14 [y] Ps 52:6
37:35 [z] Job 5:3
37:39 [a] Ps 3:8 [b] Ps 9:9
37:40 [c] 1Ch 5:20

PSALM 38

A psalm of David. A petition.

Theme: Sorrow for sin brings hope. God alone is the true source of healing and protection for those who confess their sins to him.
Author: David

1O LORD, do not rebuke me in your anger or discipline me in your wrath.[d] 2For your arrows[e] have pierced me, and your hand has come down upon me.
3Because of your wrath there is no health in my body;
my bones have no soundness because of my sin.
4My guilt has overwhelmed me like a burden too heavy to bear.[f]

5My wounds fester and are loathsome because of my sinful folly.
6I am bowed down and brought very low;
all day long I go about mourning.[g] 7My back is filled with searing pain;

38:1 [d] Ps 6:1
38:2 [e] Job 6:4
38:4 [f] Ezr 9:6
38:6 [g] Ps 35:14

[q] 37 Or there will be posterity [r] 38 Or posterity

37:34 It is difficult to wait patiently for God to act when we want change right away. But God promises that if we submit to his timing, he will honor us. Peter said, "Humble yourselves, therefore, under God's mighty hand, that he may lift you up in due time" (1 Peter 5:6). Be patient, steadily doing the work God has given you to do, and allow God to choose the best time to change your circumstances.

38:1 As a child might cry to his father, so David cried to God. David was not saying, "Don't punish me," but, "Don't punish me while you are angry." He acknowledged that he deserved to be punished, but he asked that God temper his discipline with mercy. Like children, we are free to ask for mercy, but we should not deny that we deserve punishment.

38:1ff This is called a penitential psalm because David expressed sorrow for his sin (38:18). He stated that his sin led to health problems (38:1–8) and separated him from God and others, causing extreme loneliness (38:9–14). He then confessed his sin and repented (38:15–22).

38:2–4 David saw his anguish as judgment from God for his sins. Although God does not always send physical illness to punish us for sin, this verse and others in Scripture (Acts 12:21–23; 1 Corinthians 11:30–32) indicate that he does in certain circumstances. Our sin can have physical or mental side effects that can cause great suffering. Sometimes God has to punish his children in order to bring them back to himself (Hebrews 12:5–11). When we repent of our sin, God promises to forgive us. He delivers us from sin's eternal consequences although he does not promise to undo all of sin's earthly consequences.

there is no health in my body.
8I am feeble and utterly crushed;
I groan in anguish of heart.

9All my longings lie open before you, O Lord;
my sighing[h] is not hidden from you.
10My heart pounds, my strength fails me;
even the light has gone from my eyes.[i] 11My friends and companions avoid me because of my wounds;
my neighbors stay far away.
12Those who seek my life set their traps,
those who would harm me talk of my ruin;
all day long they plot deception.

13I am like a deaf man, who cannot hear,
like a mute, who cannot open his mouth; 14I have become like a man who does not hear,
whose mouth can offer no reply.
15I wait for you, O LORD;
you will answer, O Lord my God.
16For I said, "Do not let them gloat or exalt themselves over me when my foot slips."

17For I am about to fall, and my pain is ever with me.
18I confess my iniquity;
I am troubled by my sin.
19Many are those who are my vigorous enemies;
those who hate me without reason are numerous.
20Those who repay my good with evil slander me when I pursue what is good.

21O LORD, do not forsake me;
be not far[j] from me, O my God.
22Come quickly to help me,
O Lord my Savior.

38:9
[h]Job 3:24

38:10
[i]Ps 6:7

38:21
[j]Ps 35:22

PSALM 39

For the director of music. For Jeduthun. A psalm of David.

Theme: Apart from God, life is fleeting and empty.
This is an appeal for God's mercy because life is so brief.
Author: David

1I said, "I will watch my ways[k]
and keep my tongue from sin;
I will put a muzzle on my mouth
as long as the wicked are in my presence." 2But when I was silent and still, not even saying anything good,

39:1
[k]1Ki 2:4

38:13, 14 It is extremely difficult to be silent when others tear us down because we want to protect our reputation. We find it difficult to do nothing while they assault something so precious to us. But we don't need to lash back in revenge or justify our position; we can trust God to protect our reputation. Jesus was silent before his accusers (Luke 23:9, 10); he left his case in God's hands (1 Peter 2:21–24). That is a good place to leave our case too!

39:1–3 David resolved to keep his tongue from sin; that is, he decided not to complain to other people about God's treatment of him. David certainly had reason to complain. David was the anointed king of Israel, but he had to wait many years before taking the throne. Then one of his sons tried to kill him and become king instead. But when David could not keep still any longer, he took his complaints directly to God. We all have complaints about our job, money, or situations, but complaining to others may make them think that God cannot take care of us. It may also look as if we blame God for our troubles. Instead, like David, we should take our complaints directly to God.

my anguish increased.
3My heart grew hot within me,
and as I meditated, the fire burned;
then I spoke with my tongue:

4"Show me, O LORD, my life's end and the number of my days;
let me know how fleeting is my life.
5You have made my days a mere handbreadth;
the span of my years is as nothing before you.
Each man's life is but a breath. Selah
6Man is a mere phantom as he goes to and fro:
He bustles about, but only in vain;
he heaps up wealth, not knowing who will get it.[l]

39:6 [l]Lk 12:20

7"But now, Lord, what do I look for?
My hope is in you.
8Save me from all my transgressions;
do not make me the scorn of fools.
9I was silent; I would not open my mouth, for you are the one who has done this.
10Remove your scourge from me;
I am overcome by the blow of your hand.
11You rebuke and discipline men for their sin;
you consume their wealth like a moth[m]—
each man is but a breath. Selah

39:11 [m]Job 13:28

12"Hear my prayer, O LORD, listen to my cry for help;
be not deaf to my weeping.
For I dwell with you as an alien,
a stranger, as all my fathers were.
13Look away from me, that I may rejoice again before I depart and am no more."[n]

39:13 [n]Job 10:21

PSALM 40

For the director of music. Of David. A psalm.

Theme: Doing God's will sometimes means waiting patiently. While we wait, we can love God, serve others, and tell others about him.
Author: David

1I waited patiently for the LORD;
he turned to me and heard my cry.
2He lifted me out of the slimy pit, out of the mud and mire;[o]

40:2 [o]Ps 69:14

39:4 Life is short no matter how long we live. If there is something important we want to do, we must not put it off for a better day. Ask yourself, "If I had only six months to live, what would I do?" Tell someone that you love him or her? Deal with an undisciplined area in your life? Tell someone about Jesus? Because life is short, don't neglect what is truly important.

39:5, 6 The brevity of life is a theme throughout the books of Psalms, Proverbs, and Ecclesiastes. Jesus also spoke about it (Luke 12:20). It is ironic that people spend so much time securing their lives on earth and spend little or no thought about where they will spend eternity. David realized that amassing riches and busily accomplishing worldly tasks would make no difference in eternity. Few people understand that their only hope is in the Lord. (For other verses on the brevity of life, see Ecclesiastes 2:18 and James 4:14.)

39:10 What did David mean when he asked God to remove the "scourge" because he was overcome by the "blow" of God's hand? It may be a picture of the difficulties David was facing that caused him to feel as if he were being struck. Just as a loving father carefully disciplines his children, so God corrects us (Hebrews 12:5–9).

40:1–4 Waiting for God to help us is not easy, but David received four benefits from waiting: God (1) lifted him out of his despair, (2) set his feet on a rock, (3) gave him a firm place to stand, and (4) put a new song of praise in his mouth. Often blessings cannot be received unless we go through the trial of waiting.

40:2 [p] Ps 27:5

he set my feet on a rock[p]
and gave me a firm place to stand.
3He put a new song in my mouth,
a hymn of praise to our God.
Many will see and fear and put their trust in the LORD.

4Blessed is the man who makes the LORD his trust, who does not look to the proud,
to those who turn aside to false gods.[s] 5Many, O LORD my God, are the wonders you have done.
The things you planned for us
no one can recount to you;
were I to speak and tell of them,
they would be too many to declare.

40:6 [q] 1Sa 15:22

6Sacrifice and offering you did not desire,[q]
but my ears you have pierced[t,u]; burnt offerings and sin offerings
you did not require.
7Then I said, "Here I am, I have come—it is written about me in the scroll.[v] 8I desire to do your will, O my God; your law is within my heart."

40:9 [r] Ps 22:25

9I proclaim righteousness in the great assembly;[r]
I do not seal my lips,
as you know, O LORD.
10I do not hide your righteousness in my heart;
I speak of your faithfulness[s] and salvation.
I do not conceal your love and your truth from the great assembly.

40:10 [s] Ps 89:1

11Do not withhold your mercy from me, O LORD;
may your love and your truth always protect me.
12For troubles without number surround me;
my sins have overtaken me, and I cannot see.[t]
They are more than the hairs of my head, and my heart fails[u] within me.

40:12 [t] Ps 38:4 [u] Ps 73:26

13Be pleased, O LORD, to save me;
O LORD, come quickly to help me.

[s] 4 Or to falsehood [t] 6 Hebrew; Septuagint but a body you have prepared for me (see also Symmachus and Theodotion) [u] 6 Or opened [v] 7 Or come / with the scroll written for me

40:6 "Sacrifice and offering you did not desire." The religious ritual of David's day involved sacrificing animals in the tabernacle. David says these acts were meaningless unless done for the right reasons. Today we often make rituals of going to church, taking communion, or paying tithes. These activities are also empty if our reasons for doing them are selfish. God doesn't want these sacrifices and offerings without an attitude of devotion to him. The prophet Samuel told Saul, "To obey is better than sacrifice" (1 Samuel 15:22). Make sure that you give God the obedience and lifelong service he desires from you.

40:7, 8 "I desire to do your will, O my God." Jesus portrayed this attitude of obeying and serving God (John 4:34; 5:30). He came as the prophets foretold, proclaiming the Good News of God's righteousness and forgiveness of sins. In Hebrews 10:5–10, verses 6–8 are applied to Jesus.

40:9, 10 David said he would speak of God's faithfulness and salvation to those around him. When we feel the impact of God's righteousness on our lives, we cannot keep it hidden. We want to tell other people what God has done for us. If God's faithfulness has changed your life, don't be timid. It is natural to share a good bargain with others or recommend a skillful doctor, so it should also feel natural to share what God has done for us.

40:10 When we think of faithfulness, a friend or a spouse may come to mind. People who are faithful to us accept and love us, even when we are unlovable. Faithful people keep their promises, whether promises of support or promises made in our marriage vows. God's faithfulness is like human faithfulness, only perfect. His love is absolute, and his promises are irrevocable. He loves us in spite of our constant bent toward sin, and he keeps all the promises he has made to us, even when we break our promises to him.

14 May all who seek to take my life
be put to shame and confusion;
may all who desire my ruin[v]
be turned back in disgrace.
15 May those who say to me, "Aha! Aha!"
be appalled at their own shame.
16 But may all who seek you
rejoice and be glad in you;
may those who love your salvation always say,
"The LORD be exalted!"[w]

17 Yet I am poor and needy;
may the Lord think of me.
You are my help and my deliverer;
O my God, do not delay.

40:14 [v] Ps 35:4

40:16 [w] Ps 35:27

PSALM 41

For the director of music. A psalm of David.

Theme: A prayer for God's mercy when feeling sick or abandoned. When we're sick or when everyone deserts us, God remains at our side.
Author: David

1 Blessed is he who has regard for the weak;
the LORD delivers him in times of trouble.
2 The LORD will protect him and preserve his life;
he will bless him in the land[x]
and not surrender him to the desire of his foes.
3 The LORD will sustain him on his sickbed and restore him from his bed of illness.

4 I said, "O LORD, have mercy on me;
heal me, for I have sinned against you."
5 My enemies say of me in malice,
"When will he die and his name perish?[y]"
6 Whenever one comes to see me,
he speaks falsely, while his heart gathers slander;
then he goes out and spreads it abroad.

7 All my enemies whisper together against me;
they imagine the worst for me, saying, 8 "A vile disease has beset him;
he will never get up from the place where he lies." 9 Even my close friend, whom I trusted,
he who shared my bread,
has lifted up his heel against me.[z]

10 But you, O LORD, have mercy on me; raise me up, that I may repay them.
11 I know that you are pleased with me,
for my enemy does not triumph over me.
12 In my integrity you uphold me and set me in your presence forever.

41:2 [x] Ps 37:22

41:5 [y] Ps 38:12

41:9 [z] Job 19:19; Jn 13:18*

41:1 The Bible often speaks of God's care for the weak, poor, and needy, and of his blessing on those who share this concern. God wants our generosity to reflect his own free giving. As he has blessed us, we should bless others.

41:9 This verse is viewed in the New Testament as a prophecy of Christ's betrayal (John 13:18). Judas, one of Jesus' 12 disciples, had spent three years learning from Jesus, traveling and eating with him (Mark 3:14–19), and handling the finances for the group. Eventually Judas, who knew Jesus extremely well, betrayed him (Matthew 26:14–16, 20–25).

13 Praise be to the LORD, the God of Israel,
from everlasting to everlasting.
Amen and Amen.[a]

41:13
[a] Ps 106:48

BOOK II
Psalms 42:1—72:20

These psalms include a prayer for rescue, a call to worship, a confession of sin, an encouragement to trust God, a psalm for those hurt by friends, a prayer for those who have been slandered, and a missionary psalm. These psalms can help us retain a sense of wonder in our worship.

PSALM 42[w]

For the director of music. A maskil[x] of the Sons of Korah.

Theme: A thirst for God. When you feel lonely or depressed, meditate on God's kindness and love.
Author: The sons of Korah, who were temple musicians and assistants

1 As the deer pants for streams of water, so my soul pants for you, O God.
42:2
[b] Ps 63:1
2 My soul thirsts[b] for God, for the living God.
When can I go and meet with God?
3 My tears have been my food
day and night,
while men say to me all day long,
"Where is your God?"
4 These things I remember as I pour out my soul:
how I used to go with the multitude, 42:4
[c] Isa 30:29
leading the procession to the house of God,[c] with shouts of joy and thanksgiving among the festive throng.

5 Why are you downcast, O my soul?
Why so disturbed within me?
Put your hope in God,
for I will yet praise him,
my Savior and 6 my God.

My[y] soul is downcast within me;
therefore I will remember you from the land of the Jordan,

[w] In many Hebrew manuscripts Psalms 42 and 43 constitute one psalm. [x] Title: Probably a literary or musical term [y] 5,6 A few Hebrew manuscripts, Septuagint and Syriac; most Hebrew manuscripts praise him for his saving help. / 6 O my God, my

41:13 Psalms is divided into five books, and each one ends with a doxology or an expression of praise to God. The first book of the psalms. chapters 1 through 41, takes us on a journey through suffering, sorrow, and great joy. It teaches us much about God's eternal love and care for us and how we should trust him even in the day-to-day experiences of life.

42:1ff Psalms 42—49 were written by the sons of Korah. Korah was a Levite who led a rebellion against Moses (Numbers 16:1—35). He was killed, but his descendants remained faithful to God and continued to serve God in the temple. David appointed men from the clan of Korah to serve as choir leaders (1 Chronicles 6:31—38), and they continued to be temple musicians for hundreds of years (2 Chronicles 20:18, 19).

42:1, 2 As the life of a deer depends upon water, so our lives depend upon God. Those who seek him and long to understand him find never-ending life. Feeling separated from God, this psalmist wouldn't rest until he restored his relationship with God because he knew that his very life depended on it.

42:4, 5 The writer of this psalm was discouraged because he was exiled to a place far from Jerusalem and could not worship in the temple. During these God-given holidays, the nation was to remember all that God had done for them. Many of these festivals are explained in the chart in Leviticus 23.

42:5, 6 Depression is one of the most common emotional ailments. One antidote for depression is to meditate on the record of God's goodness to his people. This will take your mind off the present situation and give hope that it will improve. It will focus your thoughts on God's ability to help you rather than on your inability to help yourself. When you feel depressed, take advantage of this psalm's antidepressant. Read the Bible's accounts of God's goodness, and meditate on them.

42:6 Hermon refers to Mount Hermon. Mizar means smallness, so Mount Mizar could be a smaller mountain in that mountain range.

the heights of Hermon — from Mount Mizar.
7 Deep calls to deep in the roar of your waterfalls;
all your waves and breakers have swept over me.

8 By day the LORD directs his love, at night his song is with me — a prayer to the God of my life.

9 I say to God my Rock,
"Why have you forgotten me?
Why must I go about mourning,
oppressed by the enemy?"
10 My bones suffer mortal agony
as my foes taunt me, saying to me all day long,
"Where is your God?"

11 Why are you downcast, O my soul?
Why so disturbed within me?
Put your hope in God,
for I will yet praise him,
my Savior and my God.

PSALM 43[z]

Theme: Hope in a time of discouragement. In the face of discouragement, our only hope is in God.
Author: The sons of Korah (temple assistants).

1 Vindicate me, O God, and plead my cause against an ungodly nation;
rescue me from deceitful and wicked men.
2 You are God my stronghold.
Why have you rejected me?
Why must I go about mourning,
oppressed by the enemy?[d] 3 Send forth your light and your truth, let them guide me;
let them bring me to your holy mountain,
to the place where you dwell.
4 Then will I go to the altar of God,
to God, my joy and my delight.
I will praise you with the harp,
O God, my God.

5 Why are you downcast, O my soul?
Why so disturbed within me?
Put your hope in God,
for I will yet praise him,
my Savior and my God.[e]

43:2 [d] Ps 42:9

43:5 [e] Ps 42:6

[z] In many Hebrew manuscripts Psalms 42 and 43 constitute one psalm.

43:3 The "holy mountain" is Mount Zion, in Jerusalem, the city that David named as Israel's capital. The temple was built there as the place for the people to meet God in worship and prayer.

43:3, 4 The psalmist asked God to send his light and truth to guide him to the holy mountain, the temple, where he would meet God. God's truth (see 1 John 2:27) provides the right path to follow and God's light (see 1 John 1:5) provides the clear vision to follow it. If you feel surrounded by darkness and uncertainty, follow God's light and truth. He will guide you.

PSALM 44

For the director of music. Of the Sons of Korah. A maskil.[a]

Theme: A plea for victory by the battle-weary and defeated. When it seems that God has let you down, don't despair. Instead, remember God's past deliverance and be confident that he will restore you.
Author: The sons of Korah (temple assistants)

1 We have heard with our ears, O God;
our fathers have told us what you did in their days, in days long ago.
2 With your hand you drove out the nations and planted[f] our fathers;
you crushed the peoples and made our fathers flourish.[g] 3 It was not by their sword[h] that they won the land, nor did their arm bring them victory;
it was your right hand, your arm,
and the light of your face, for you loved[i] them.

4 You are my King and my God, who decrees[b] victories for Jacob.
5 Through you we push back our enemies;
through your name we trample our foes.
6 I do not trust in my bow,
my sword does not bring me victory;
7 but you give us victory over our enemies,
you put our adversaries to shame.
8 In God we make our boast[j] all day long,
and we will praise your name forever. Selah

9 But now you have rejected and humbled us;
you no longer go out with our armies.
10 You made us retreat[k] before the enemy,
and our adversaries have plundered us.
11 You gave us up to be devoured like sheep and have scattered us among the nations.
12 You sold your people for a pittance,[l] gaining nothing from their sale.

13 You have made us a reproach to our neighbors,
the scorn and derision of those around us.
14 You have made us a byword among the nations;
the peoples shake their heads at us.
15 My disgrace is before me all day long,
and my face is covered with shame

44:2 [f] Ex 15:17 [g] Ps 80:9
44:3 [h] Jos 24:12 [i] Dt 4:37
44:8 [j] Ps 34:2
44:10 [k] Lev 26:17
44:12 [l] Isa 52:3; Jer 15:13; 52:3

[a] Title: Probably a literary or musical term [b] 4 Septuagint, Aquila and Syriac; Hebrew King, O God; / command

44:1ff This psalm may have been sung at an occasion like the one in 2 Chronicles 20:18, 19, where the faithful Jehoshaphat was surrounded by enemies and the Levites sang to the Lord before the battle.

44:1–3 Driving out the nations refers to the conquest of Canaan (the promised land) described in the book of Joshua. God gave the land to Israel – they were supposed to enter and drive out anyone who was wicked and opposed to God. Israel was told to settle the land and to be a witness to the world of God's power and love. Surrounded by enemies, the psalmist remembered what God had done for his people and took heart. We can have this same confidence in God when we feel attacked.

44:6, 7 In whom or in what do you trust? Only God is trustworthy – he will never let you down.

44:9–22 Israel had been defeated despite their faith (44:17) and obedience (44:18) to God. The psalmist could not understand why God allowed this to happen, but he did not give up hope of discovering the answer (44:17–22). Although he felt his suffering was undeserved, he revealed the real reason for it: he suffered because he was committed to the Lord. Paul quoted the psalmist's complaint (Romans 8:36) to show that we must always be ready to face death for the cause of Christ. Thus, our suffering may not be a punishment, but a battle scar that demonstrates our loyalty.

16 at the taunts of those who reproach and revile me, because of the enemy, who is bent on revenge.

17 All this happened to us, though we had not forgotten you or been false to your covenant.
18 Our hearts had not turned back;
our feet had not strayed from your path.
19 But you crushed us and made us a haunt for jackals and covered us over with deep darkness.

20 If we had forgotten the name of our God or spread out our hands to a foreign god, 21 would not God have discovered it, since he knows the secrets of the heart?
22 Yet for your sake we face death all day long;
we are considered as sheep to be slaughtered. [m]

44:22 [m] Ro 8:36*

23 Awake, [n] O Lord! Why do you sleep?
Rouse yourself! Do not reject us forever.
24 Why do you hide your face and forget our misery and oppression?

44:23 [n] Ps 7:6

25 We are brought down to the dust; [o]
our bodies cling to the ground.
26 Rise up and help us;
redeem us because of your unfailing love.

44:25 [o] Ps 119:25

PSALM 45

For the director of music. To the tune of "Lilies." Of the Sons of Korah. A maskil. [c] A wedding song.

Theme: A poem to the king (possibly Solomon) on the occasion of his wedding. While this psalm was written for an historic occasion, it is also seen as a prophecy about Christ and his bride, the church, who will praise him throughout all generations.
Author: The sons of Korah (temple assistants)

1 My heart is stirred by a noble theme as I recite my verses for the king;
my tongue is the pen of a skillful writer.

2 You are the most excellent of men and your lips have been anointed with grace, [p]
since God has blessed you forever.
3 Gird your sword upon your side, O mighty one;
clothe yourself with splendor and majesty.
4 In your majesty ride forth victoriously in behalf of truth, humility and righteousness;
let your right hand display awesome deeds.
5 Let your sharp arrows pierce the hearts of the king's enemies;

45:2 [p] Lk 4:22

[c] Title: Probably a literary or musical term

44:22–26 The writer cried out to God to redeem his people because of his unfailing love. Nothing can separate us from God's love, not even death (Romans 8:36–39). When you fear for your life, ask God for deliverance, and remember that even death cannot separate you from him.

44:23–25 The psalmist's words suggest that he did not believe God had left him. God was still the Ruler, but he seemed to be asleep, and the psalmist wondered why. In the New Testament, the disciples wondered why Jesus was asleep when they needed his help during a storm (Mark 4:35–41). In both cases, of course, God was ready to help, but he wished first to build faith in his followers.

45:1ff This is called a Messianic psalm because it prophetically describes the Messiah's future relationship to the church, his body of believers. Verse 2 expresses God's abundant blessing on his Messiah; verses 6–8 find their true fulfillment in Christ (Hebrews 1:8, 9). The church is described as the bride of Christ in Revelation 19:7, 8; 21:9; 22:17.

let the nations fall beneath your feet.
6 Your throne, O God, will last for ever and ever;
a scepter of justice will be the scepter of your kingdom.
7 You love righteousness[q] and hate wickedness;
therefore God, your God, has set you above your companions by anointing you with the oil of joy.[r] 8 All your robes are fragrant with myrrh and aloes and cassia; from palaces adorned with ivory the music of the strings makes you glad.
9 Daughters of kings are among your honored women;
at your right hand[s] is the royal bride in gold of Ophir.

10 Listen, O daughter, consider and give ear:
Forget your people and your father's house.
11 The king is enthralled by your beauty;
honor him, for he is your lord.
12 The Daughter of Tyre will come with a gift,[d] men of wealth will seek your favor.

13 All glorious is the princess within ⌞her chamber⌟;
her gown is interwoven with gold.
14 In embroidered garments she is led to the king;
her virgin companions follow her and are brought to you.
15 They are led in with joy and gladness;
they enter the palace of the king.

16 Your sons will take the place of your fathers;
you will make them princes throughout the land.
17 I will perpetuate your memory through all generations;
therefore the nations will praise you for ever and ever.

45:7
[q] Ps 33:5
[r] Heb 1:8-9*

45:9
[s] 1Ki 2:19

PSALM 46

For the director of music. Of the Sons of Korah. According to alamoth.[e] A song.

Theme: God is always there to help, providing refuge, security, and peace. God's power is complete and his ultimate victory is certain. He will not fail to rescue those who love him.
Author: The sons of Korah (temple assistants)

1 God is our refuge and strength, an ever-present help in trouble.
2 Therefore we will not fear, though the earth give way and the mountains fall into the heart of the sea, 3 though its waters roar[f] and foam and the mountains quake with their surging. Selah

46:3
[f] Ps 93:3

[d] 12 Or A Tyrian robe is among the gifts [e] Title: Probably a musical term

---

45:8, 9 Myrrh is a fragrant gum of an Arabian tree, generally used in perfumes. Aloes, a spice, may have come from sandalwood, a close-grained and fragrant wood often used for storage boxes or chests (see also Proverbs 7:14–17; Song of Songs 4:13, 14). Cassia was probably made from flowers of the cinnamon tree. These expensive fragrances were appropriate for a king's wedding. The location of Ophir is unknown, but believed to be in either Arabia or Africa. It was famous as a source of gold.

45:13–17 This beautiful section of poetry pictures Christ's bride, the church, with the richest blessings as she unites forever with him (see Revelation 19:6–8; 21:2).

46–48 Psalms 46–48 are hymns of praise, celebrating deliverance from some great foe. Psalm 46 may have been written when the Assyrian army invaded the land and surrounded Jerusalem (2 Kings 18:13–19:37).

46:1–3 The fear of mountains or cities suddenly crumbling into the sea as the result of a nuclear blast haunts many people today. But the psalmist says that even if the world ends, we need not fear. In the face of utter destruction, the writer expressed a quiet confidence in God's ability to save him. It seems impossible to consider the end of the world without becoming consumed by fear, but the Bible is clear – God is our refuge even in the face of total destruction. He is not merely a temporary retreat; he is our eternal refuge and can provide strength in any circumstance.

4There is a river whose streams make glad the city of God, the holy place where the Most High dwells.
5God is within her, she will not fall;
God will help her at break of day.
6Nations are in uproar, kingdoms fall;
he lifts his voice, the earth melts.

7The LORD Almighty is with us;
the God of Jacob is our fortress. Selah

8Come and see the works of the LORD, the desolations he has brought on the earth.
9He makes wars cease to the ends of the earth;
he breaks the bow and shatters the spear,
he burns the shields[f] with fire.
10"Be still, and know that I am God;
I will be exalted among the nations,
I will be exalted in the earth."

11The LORD Almighty is with us;
the God of Jacob is our fortress. Selah

PSALM 47

For the director of music. Of the Sons of Korah. A psalm.

Theme: God is still King of the world. All nations of the earth will eventually recognize his lordship.
Author: The sons of Korah (temple assistants)

1Clap your hands, all you nations;
shout to God with cries of joy.
2How awesome[a] is the LORD Most High,
the great King over all the earth!
3He subdued[b] nations under us, peoples under our feet.
4He chose our inheritance[c] for us,
the pride of Jacob, whom he loved. Selah

5God has ascended amid shouts of joy,
the LORD amid the sounding of trumpets.
6Sing praises to God, sing praises;
sing praises to our King, sing praises.

7For God is the King of all the earth;
sing to him a psalm[g][d] of praise.
8God reigns[e] over the nations;
God is seated on his holy throne.
9The nobles of the nations assemble

[f] 9 Or chariots [g] 7 Or a maskil (probably a literary or musical term)

46:4 - Ps 48:1, 8
46:5 v Isa 12:6
46:8 w Ps 66:5
46:9 x Isa 2:4; y Eze 39:9
46:10 z Isa 2:11
47:2 a Dt 7:21
47:3 b Ps 18:39, 47
47:4 c 1Pe 1:4
47:7 d Col 3:16
47:8 e 1Ch 16:31

46:4, 5 Many great cities have rivers flowing through them, sustaining people's lives by making agriculture possible and facilitating trade with other cities. Jerusalem had no river, but it had God who, like a river, sustained the people's lives. As long as God lived among the people, the city was invincible. But when the people abandoned him, God no longer protected them, and Jerusalem fell to the Babylonian army.

46:10 War and destruction are inevitable, but so is God's final victory. At that time, all will stand quietly before the Lord Almighty. How proper, then, for us to be still now, reverently honoring him and his power and majesty. Take time each day to be still and to exalt God.

47:1ff This psalm may have been written about the same event as Psalm 46 – the Assyrian invasion of Judah by Sennacherib (2 Kings 18:13 – 19:37).

47:2 The Lord Most High is awesome beyond words, but this didn't keep Bible writers from trying to describe him. And it shouldn't keep us from talking about him either. We can't describe God completely, but we can tell others what he has done for us. Don't let the indescribable aspects of God's greatness prevent you from telling others what you know about him.

as the people of the God of Abraham,
for the kings[h] of the earth belong to God;
he is greatly exalted.

PSALM 48

A song. A psalm of the Sons of Korah.

Theme: God's presence is our joy, security, and salvation. God is praised as the defender of Jerusalem, the holy city of the Jews. He is also our defender and guide forever.
Author: The sons of Korah (temple assistants)

48:1
[f] Ps 96:4
[g] Mic 4:1; Zec 8:3
48:2
[h] Ps 50:2
[i] Mt 5:35

[1] Great is the LORD,[f] and most worthy of praise, in the city of our God, his holy mountain.[g] [2] It is beautiful[h] in its loftiness, the joy of the whole earth.
Like the utmost heights of Zaphon[l] is Mount Zion, the[l] city of the Great King.[i] [3] God is in her citadels;
he has shown himself to be her fortress.

48:4
[j] 2Sa 10:1-19

[4] When the kings joined forces, when they advanced together,[j] [5] they saw ⌞her⌟ and were astounded;
they fled in terror.
[6] Trembling seized them there,
pain like that of a woman in labor.
[7] You destroyed them like ships of Tarshish shattered by an east wind.

[8] As we have heard,
so have we seen in the city of the LORD Almighty, in the city of our God:

[h] 9 Or shields [l] 2 Zaphon can refer to a sacred mountain or the direction north. [l] 2 Or earth, / Mount Zion, on the northern side / of the

PSALMS THAT HAVE INSPIRED HYMNS

Psalm 23	The King of Love My Shepherd Is My Shepherd Shall Supply My Need The Lord Is My Shepherd
Psalm 46	A Mighty Fortress Is Our God
Psalm 61	Hiding in Thee (O Safe to the Rock That Is Higher Than I . . .)
Psalm 87	Glorious Things of Thee Are Spoken
Psalm 90	O God, Our Help in Ages Past
Psalm 100	All People That on Earth Do Dwell Before Jehovah's Awful Throne
Psalm 103	Praise to the Lord, the Almighty
Psalm 104	O Worship the King, All Glorious Above
Psalm 126	Bringing in the Sheaves

47:9 Abraham was the father of the Israelite nation. The one true God was sometimes called the "God of Abraham" (Exodus 3:6; 1 Kings 18:36). In a spiritual sense, God's promises to Abraham apply to all who believe in God, Jew or Gentile (Romans 4:11, 12; Galatians 3:7–9). Thus the God of Abraham is our God too.

48:2 Why is Mount Zion – Jerusalem – "the city of the Great King"? Because the temple was located in Jerusalem, the city was seen as the center of God's presence in the world. The Bible pictures Jerusalem as the place where believers will gather in the "last days" (Isaiah 2:2ff), and as the spiritual home of all believers where God will live among them (Revelation 21:2, 3).

48:8 Because Jerusalem has been destroyed several times since this psalm was written, the phrase, "God makes her secure forever" may refer prophetically to the new Jerusalem where God will judge all nations and live with all believers (Revelation 21).

God makes her secure forever. Selah

9 Within your temple, O God, we meditate on your unfailing love.
10 Like your name,[k] O God, your praise reaches to the ends of the earth;
your right hand is filled with righteousness.
11 Mount Zion rejoices, the villages of Judah are glad because of your judgments.[l] 12 Walk about Zion, go around her, count her towers,
13 consider well her ramparts, view her citadels,
that you may tell of them to the next generation.[m] 14 For this God is our God for ever and ever;
he will be our guide even to the end.

48:10 [k] Jos 7:9

48:11 [l] Ps 97:8

48:13 [m] Ps 78:6

PSALM 49

For the director of music. Of the Sons of Korah. A psalm.

Theme: Trusting in worldly possessions is futile. You cannot take possessions with you when you die, and they cannot buy forgiveness from sin.
Author: The sons of Korah (temple assistants)

1 Hear this, all you peoples;
listen, all who live in this world,
2 both low and high,
rich and poor alike:
3 My mouth will speak words of wisdom;[n]
the utterance from my heart will give understanding.
4 I will turn my ear to a proverb;[o]
with the harp I will expound my riddle:

5 Why should I fear[p] when evil days come, when wicked deceivers surround me — 6 those who trust in their wealth and boast of their great riches?
7 No man can redeem the life of another or give to God a ransom for him —
8 the ransom for a life is costly,

49:3 [n] Ps 37:30

49:4 [o] Ps 78:2

49:5 [p] Ps 23:4

48:11 The people of Judah were from Israel's largest tribe, which settled in the southern part of Canaan where Jerusalem was located (Joshua 15:1–12). David was from Judah, and he made Jerusalem his capital and the center of the nation's worship. Jesus was also a member of the tribe of Judah. The psalmist was saying that the day would come when God would bring justice to the land, and God's people would get the respect they deserved.

48:12, 13 After an enemy army had unsuccessfully besieged Jerusalem, it was important for the people to make a tour of the city, inspecting its defenses and praising God for the protection it had offered. In times of great joy or after God has brought us through some great trial, we ought to inspect our defenses to make sure that the foundations — faith in God, knowledge of his Word, and the fellowship and prayers of the body of believers — remain strong (Ephesians 2:20–22). Then we should praise God for his protection!

48:14 We often pray for God's guidance as we struggle with decisions. What we need is both guidance and a guide — a map that gives us landmarks and directions and a constant companion who has an intimate knowledge of the way and will make sure we interpret the map correctly. The Bible will be such a map, and the Holy Spirit will be the constant companion and guide. As you make your way through life, use both the map and your Guide.

49:1ff The futility of worldliness — riches, pride, fame — resounds from this psalm. Comparable in form to the book of Ecclesiastes, this psalm is one of the few written more to instruct than to give praise.

49:7, 8, 15 In the slave market of the ancient world, a slave had to be redeemed or ransomed (someone had to pay the price) in order to go free. In Mark 10:45, Ephesians 1:7, and Hebrews 9:12, we learn that Jesus paid such a price so that we could be set free from slavery to sin in order to begin a new life with him.

There is no way for a person to buy eternal life with God. God alone can redeem a soul. Don't count on wealth and physical comforts to keep you happy because you will never have enough wealth to keep from dying.

no payment is ever enough — [q] 9that he should live on[r] forever and not see decay.

10For all can see that wise men die;[s]
the foolish and the senseless alike perish and leave their wealth to others.
11Their tombs will remain their houses[k] forever, their dwellings for endless generations,
though they had[l] named lands after themselves.

12But man, despite his riches, does not endure;
he is[m] like the beasts that perish.

13This is the fate of those who trust in themselves, and of their followers, who approve their sayings. Selah 14Like sheep they are destined for the grave,[n]
and death will feed on them.
The upright will rule[t] over them in the morning;
their forms will decay in the grave,[n]
far from their princely mansions.
15But God will redeem my life[o] from the grave;[u]
he will surely take me to himself. Selah

16Do not be overawed when a man grows rich, when the splendor of his house increases; 17for he will take nothing with him when he dies,
his splendor will not descend with him.
18Though while he lived he counted himself blessed — and men praise you when you prosper — 19he will join the generation of his fathers, who will never see the light[v] of life.

20A man who has riches without understanding is like the beasts that perish.

PSALM 50

A psalm of Asaph.

Theme: The contrast between true and false faith. God desires sincere thanks, trust, and praise.
Author: Asaph, one of David's chief musicians

1The Mighty One, God, the LORD, speaks and summons the earth
from the rising of the sun to the place where it sets.

[k] 11 Septuagint and Syriac; Hebrew In their thoughts their houses will remain [l] 11 Or / for they have
[m] 12 Hebrew; Septuagint and Syriac read verse 12 the same as verse 20. [n] 14 Hebrew Sheol; also in verse 15
[o] 15 Or soul

49:8 [q] Mt 16:26
49:9 [r] Ps 89:48
49:10 [s] Ecc 2:16
49:14 [t] Da 7:18
49:15 [u] Hos 13:14
49:19 [v] Job 33:30

49:10–14 The rich and poor have one similarity – when they die, they leave all they own here on earth. At the moment of death (and all of us will face that moment), both rich and poor are naked and empty-handed before God. The only riches we have at that time are those we have already invested in our eternal heritage. At the time of death, each of us will wish we had invested less on earth, where we must leave it, and more in heaven, where we will retain it forever. To have treasure in heaven, we must place our faith in God, pledge ourselves to obey him, and utilize our resources for the good of his kingdom. This is a good time to check up on your investments and see where you have invested the most. Then do whatever it takes to place your investments where they really count.

50:1ff God judges people for treating him lightly. First, he speaks to the superficially religious people who bring their sacrifices but are only going through the motions (50:1–15). They do not honor God with true praise and thankfulness. Second, he chides wicked, hardhearted people for their evil words and immoral lives (50:16–22). He asks the superficially religious for genuine thanksgiving and trust, and he warns the evil people to consider their deeds, lest he destroy them in his anger.

50:1–4 This psalm begins as though God is finally ready to judge the evil people on earth. But surprisingly, we read that God's great fury is leveled against his own people (or at least those who claim to be his). God's judgment must begin with his own people (1 Peter 4:17).

2From Zion, perfect in beauty,
God shines forth.
3Our God comes and will not be silent;
a fire devours before him,
and around him a tempest rages.
4He summons the heavens above,
and the earth,[w] that he may judge his people:
5"Gather to me my consecrated ones, who made a covenant[x] with me by sacrifice."
6And the heavens proclaim his righteousness, for God himself is judge. Selah

7"Hear, O my people, and I will speak,
O Israel, and I will testify against you:
I am God, your God.[y]
8I do not rebuke you for your sacrifices or your burnt offerings, which are ever before me.
9I have no need of a bull from your stall or of goats from your pens, 10for every animal of the forest is mine,
and the cattle on a thousand hills.
11I know every bird in the mountains, and the creatures of the field are mine.
12If I were hungry I would not tell you, for the world is mine, and all that is in it.
13Do I eat the flesh of bulls or drink the blood of goats?
14Sacrifice thank offerings to God, fulfill your vows to the Most High,
15and call upon me in the day of trouble;
I will deliver you, and you will honor[z] me."

16But to the wicked, God says:

"What right have you to recite my laws or take my covenant on your lips?
17You hate my instruction and cast my words behind you.
18When you see a thief, you join[a] with him;
you throw in your lot with adulterers.
19You use your mouth for evil and harness your tongue to deceit.[b] 20You speak continually against your brother and slander your own mother's son.
21These things you have done and I kept silent;
you thought I was altogether[p] like you.

50:4 [w] Dt 4:26
50:5 [x] Ex 24:7
50:7 [y] Ex 20:2
50:15 [z] Ps 22:23
50:18 [a] Ro 1:32; 1Ti 5:22
50:19 [b] Ps 52:2

[p] 21 Or thought the 'I AM' was

50:5–9 God's perfect moral nature demands that the penalty for sin be death; however, a person could offer an animal to God as a substitute for himself, symbolizing the person's faith in the merciful, forgiving God. But, the people were offering sacrifices and forgetting their significance! The very act of sacrifice showed that they had once agreed to follow God wholeheartedly. But at this time their hearts were not in it. We may fall into the same pattern when we participate in religious activities, tithe, or attend church out of habit or conformity rather than out of heartfelt love and obedience. God wants righteousness, not empty ritual. (See the note on 40:6.)

50:16–22 Some people glibly recite God's laws but are filled with deceit and evil. They claim his promises but refuse to obey him. This is sin, and God will judge people for it. We too are hypocrites when we are not what we claim to be. To let this inconsistency remain shows that we are not true followers of God.

50:21 At times God seems silent. By his silence he is not condoning sin, nor is he indifferent to it. Instead, he is withholding deserved punishment, giving time for people to repent (2 Peter 3:9). God takes no pleasure in the death of the wicked and wants them to turn from evil (Ezekiel 33:11). But his silence does not last forever – a time of punishment will surely come.

But I will rebuke you and accuse you to your face.

50:22
[c] Job 8:13

22"Consider this, you who forget God,[c] or I will tear you to pieces, with none to rescue:
23He who sacrifices thank offerings honors me,
and he prepares the way
so that I may show him[q] the salvation of God."

PSALM 51

For the director of music. A psalm of David. When the prophet Nathan came to him after David had committed adultery with Bathsheba.

Theme: David's plea for mercy, forgiveness, and cleansing. God wants our hearts to be right with him.
Author: David

1Have mercy on me, O God,
according to your unfailing love;
according to your great compassion blot out my transgressions.
2Wash away all my iniquity and cleanse[d] me from my sin.

51:2
[d] Heb 9:14

3For I know my transgressions, and my sin is always before me.
4Against you, you only, have I sinned and done what is evil in your sight, so that you are proved right when you speak and justified when you judge.[e]

51:4
[e] Ro 3:4*

5Surely I was sinful at birth, sinful from the time my mother conceived me.
6Surely you desire truth in the inner parts[r];
you teach[s] me wisdom in the inmost place.

51:7
[f] Heb 9:19
[g] Isa 1:18

7Cleanse me with hyssop,[f] and I will be clean;
wash me, and I will be whiter than snow.[g] 8Let me hear joy and gladness;
let the bones you have crushed rejoice.

51:9
[h] Jer 16:17

9Hide your face from my sins[h] and blot out all my iniquity.

[q] 23 Or and to him who considers his way / I will show [r] 6 The meaning of the Hebrew for this phrase is uncertain. [s] 6 Or you desired . . . ; / you taught

51:1–7 David was truly sorry for his adultery with Bathsheba and for murdering her husband to cover it up. He knew that his actions had hurt many people. But because David repented of those sins, God mercifully forgave him. No sin is too great to be forgiven! Do you feel that you could never come close to God because you have done something terrible? God can and will forgive you of any sin. While God forgives us, however, he does not always erase the natural consequences of our sin – David's life and family were never the same as a result of what he had done (see 2 Samuel 12:1–23).

51:4 Although David had sinned with Bathsheba, David said that he had sinned against God. When someone steals, murders, or slanders, it is against someone else – a victim. According to the world's standards, extramarital sex between two consenting adults is acceptable if nobody gets hurt. But people do get hurt – in David's case, a man was murdered, and a baby died. All sin hurts us and others, but ultimately it offends God because sin in any form is a rebellion against God's way of living. When tempted to do wrong, remember that you will be sinning against God. That may help you stay on the right track.

51:7 Hyssop branches were used by the Israelites in Egypt to place the blood of a lamb on the doorframes of their homes. This would keep them safe from death (Exodus 12:22). This act demonstrated the Israelites' faith and secured their release from slavery in Egypt. This verse calls for cleansing from sin and readiness to serve the Lord.

10 Create in me a pure heart, O God, and renew a steadfast spirit within me.
11 Do not cast me from your presence or take your Holy Spirit from me.
12 Restore to me the joy of your salvation and grant me a willing spirit, to sustain me.

13 Then I will teach transgressors your ways, and sinners will turn back to you.
14 Save me from bloodguilt, O God,
the God who saves me,
and my tongue will sing of your righteousness.
15 O Lord, open my lips,
and my mouth will declare your praise.
16 You do not delight in sacrifice, or I would bring it;
you do not take pleasure in burnt offerings.
17 The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit;
a broken and contrite heart,
O God, you will not despise.

18 In your good pleasure make Zion prosper;
build up the walls of Jerusalem.
19 Then there will be righteous sacrifices, whole burnt offerings to delight you;
then bulls will be offered on your altar.

PSALM 52

For the director of music. A maskil of David. When Doeg the Edomite had gone to Saul and told him: "David has gone to the house of Ahimelech."

Theme: God will judge the evildoer. Our anger must not block our confidence in God's ability to defeat evil.
Author: David

1 Why do you boast of evil, you mighty man?
Why do you boast all day long,
you who are a disgrace in the eyes of God?
2 Your tongue plots destruction;
it is like a sharpened razor,
you who practice deceit.

51:10 Ac 15:9; Eze 18:31
51:14 2Sa 12:9; Ps 35:28
51:16 1Sa 15:22

17 Or My sacrifice, O God, is Title: Probably a literary or musical term

51:10 Because we are born as sinners (51:5), our natural inclination is to please ourselves rather than God. David followed that inclination when he took another man's wife. We also follow it when we sin in any way. Like David, we must ask God to cleanse us from within (51:7), clearing our hearts and spirits for new thoughts and desires. Right conduct can come only from a clean heart and spirit. Ask God to create a pure heart and spirit in you.

51:12 Do you ever feel stagnant in your faith, as though you are just going through the motions? Has sin ever driven a wedge between you and God, making him seem distant? David felt this way. He had sinned with Bathsheba and had just been confronted by Nathan the prophet. In his prayer he cried, "Restore to me the joy of your salvation." God wants us to be close to him and to experience his full and complete life. But sin that remains unconfessed makes such intimacy impossible. Confess your sin to God. You may still have to face some earthly consequences, as David did, but God will give back the joy of your relationship with him.

51:13 When God forgives our sin and restores us to a relationship with him, we want to reach out to others who need this forgiveness and reconciliation. The more you have felt God's forgiveness, the more you will desire to tell others about it.

51:17 God wants a broken spirit and a broken and contrite heart. You can never please God by outward actions—no matter how good—if your inward heart attitude is not right. Are you sorry for your sin? Do you genuinely intend to stop? God is pleased by this kind of humility.

52:1 This psalm was written about Doeg, the Edomite who had betrayed Ahimelech and David and then killed God's priests (see 1 Samuel 21:7; 22:9–23). Doeg thought he was a great hero—even boasting about his deed. In reality, his deed was evil, an offense to God. It is easy to mistake "accomplishment" with goodness. Just because something is done well or thoroughly doesn't mean it is good (for example, someone may be a great gambler or a skillful liar). Measure all you do by the rule of God's Word, not by how proficiently you do it.

3You love evil rather than good, falsehood[n] rather than speaking the truth. Selah 4You love every harmful word,
O you deceitful tongue!

5Surely God will bring you down to everlasting ruin:
He will snatch you up and tear you from your tent;
he will uproot you from the land of the living. Selah 6The righteous will see and fear;
they will laugh[o] at him, saying, 7"Here now is the man who did not make God his stronghold but trusted in his great wealth[p] and grew strong by destroying others!"

8But I am like an olive tree flourishing in the house of God;
I trust in God's unfailing love
for ever and ever.
9I will praise you forever[q] for what you have done;
in your name I will hope, for your name is good.[r]
I will praise you in the presence of your saints.

52:3 [n] Jer 9:5
52:6 [o] Job 22:19
52:7 [p] Ps 49:6
52:9 [q] Ps 30:12 [r] Ps 54:6

PSALM 53

For the director of music. According to mahalath.[v] A maskil[w] of David.

Theme: All have sinned. Because of sin, no person can find God on his or her own. Only God can save us.
Author: David

1The fool says in his heart,
"There is no God."
They are corrupt, and their ways are vile;
there is no one who does good.

2God looks down from heaven on the sons of men to see if there are any who understand, any who seek God.
3Everyone has turned away,
they have together become corrupt;
there is no one who does good,
not even one.

4Will the evildoers never learn — those who devour my people as men eat bread and who do not call on God?
5There they were, overwhelmed with dread, where there was nothing to dread.[s]
God scattered the bones[t] of those who attacked you;

53:5 [s] Lev 26:17 [t] Eze 6:5

[v] Title: Probably a musical term [w] Title: Probably a literary or musical term

52:8 With God by his side, David compared himself to an olive tree flourishing in the house of God. Not only is an olive tree one of the longest-living trees, but a flourishing tree has even greater longevity. David was contrasting God's eternal protection of his faithful servants with the sudden destruction of the wicked (52:5-7).

53:1 Echoing the message of Psalm 14, this psalm proclaims the foolishness of atheism (see also Romans 3:10). People may say there is no God in order to cover their sin, to have an excuse to continue in sin, and/or to ignore the Judge in order to avoid the judgment. A "fool" does not necessarily lack intelligence; many atheists and unbelievers are highly educated. Fools are people who reject God, the only one who can save them.

you put them to shame, for God despised them.

6 Oh, that salvation for Israel would come out of Zion!
When God restores the fortunes of his people, let Jacob rejoice and Israel be glad!

PSALM 54

For the director of music. With stringed instruments.
A maskil[x] of David. When the Ziphites had gone to Saul and said, "Is not David hiding among us?"

Theme: A call for God to overcome enemies. God is our helper, even in times of hurt and betrayal.
Author: David

1 Save me, O God, by your name;
vindicate me by your might.
2 Hear my prayer, O God;
listen to the words of my mouth.

3 Strangers are attacking me;[u] ruthless men seek my life—men without regard for God. Selah

4 Surely God is my help;
the Lord is the one who sustains me.

5 Let evil recoil on those who slander me;
in your faithfulness[v] destroy them.

6 I will sacrifice a freewill offering to you;
I will praise your name, O LORD,
for it is good.
7 For he has delivered me from all my troubles, and my eyes have looked in triumph on my foes.[w]

54:3 [u] Ps 86:14

54:5 [v] Ps 89:49

54:7 [w] Ps 59:10

PSALM 55

For the director of music. With stringed instruments.
A maskil[x] of David.

Theme: Expressing deep dismay over the treachery of a close friend. When friends hurt us, the burden is too difficult to carry alone.
Author: David

1 Listen to my prayer, O God, do not ignore my plea;
2 hear me and answer me.
My thoughts trouble me and I am distraught 3 at the voice of the enemy, at the stares of the wicked;
for they bring down suffering upon me[x]

55:3 [x] 2Sa 16:6-8

[x] Title: Probably a literary or musical term

54:3, 4 Many of David's psalms follow the pattern found in these two verses – a transition from prayer to praise. David was not afraid to come to God and express his true feelings and needs. Thus his spirit was lifted, and he praised God, his helper, protector, and friend.

54:5 David said that God repays evil to his enemies. Proverbs 26:27 warns that those who cause trouble will reap trouble. What we have intended for others may blow up in our own faces. To be honest and straightforward before God and others is simpler, easier, and safer in the long run.

55:1ff This psalm was most likely written during the time of Absalom's rebellion and Ahithophel's betrayal (2 Samuel 15–17). Some say verses 12–14 are Messianic because they also describe Judas's betrayal of Christ (Matthew 26:14–16, 20–25).

and revile me in their anger.

4My heart is in anguish within me;
the terrors of death assail me.
5Fear and trembling have beset me;
horror has overwhelmed me.
6I said, "Oh, that I had the wings of a dove!
I would fly away and be at rest—7I would flee far away and stay in the desert; Selah 8I would hurry to my place of shelter, far from the tempest and storm."

9Confuse the wicked, O Lord, confound their speech, for I see violence and strife[y] in the city.
10Day and night they prowl about on its walls;
malice and abuse are within it.
11Destructive forces are at work in the city;
threats and lies never leave its streets.

12If an enemy were insulting me,
I could endure it;
if a foe were raising himself against me,
I could hide from him.
13But it is you, a man like myself,
my companion, my close friend, 14with whom I once enjoyed sweet fellowship
as we walked with the throng at the house of God.[z]

15Let death take my enemies by surprise;
let them go down alive to the grave,[y] for evil finds lodging among them.

16But I call to God, and the LORD saves me.
17Evening, morning and noon
I cry out in distress, and he hears my voice.
18He ransoms me unharmed from the battle waged against me, even though many oppose me.
19God, who is enthroned forever,[a] will hear them and afflict them— Selah men who never change their ways and have no fear of God.

20My companion attacks his friends;[b]
he violates his covenant.
21His speech is smooth as butter,

55:9 [y] Jer 6:7

55:14 [z] Ps 42:4

55:19 [a] Dt 33:27

55:20 [b] Ps 7:4

[y] 15 Hebrew Sheol

55:6–8 Even those who are especially close to God, as David was, have moments when they want to escape from their problems and pressures.

55:9–11 The city that was supposed to be holy was plagued by internal problems: violence, strife, malice, abuse, destruction, threats, and lies. External enemies, though a constant threat, were not nearly as dangerous as the corruption inside. Even today, churches often look to defend themselves against troubles from the sinful world while failing to see that their own sins are causing their troubles.

55:12–14 Nothing hurts more than a wound from a friend. There may be times when friends will lovingly confront you in order to help you. Real friends stick by you in times of trouble and bring healing, love, acceptance, and understanding. What kind of friend are you? Don't betray those you love.

55:17 Praying evening, morning, and noon is certainly an excellent way to maintain correct priorities throughout every day. Daniel followed this pattern (Daniel 6:10), as did Peter (Acts 10:9, 10). The prayers of God's people are effective against the overwhelming evil in the world.

yet war is in his heart;
his words are more soothing than oil,
yet they are drawn swords.

22 Cast your cares on the LORD and he will sustain you;
he will never let the righteous fall. [c] 23 But you, O God, will bring down the wicked into the pit of corruption;
bloodthirsty and deceitful men [d] will not live out half their days. [e]

But as for me, I trust in you.

55:22 [c] Ps 37:24

55:23 [d] Ps 5:6 [e] Job 15:32

PSALM 56

For the director of music. To the tune of "A Dove on Distant Oaks." Of David. A miktam. [z] When the Philistines had seized him in Gath.

Theme: Trusting in God's care in the midst of fear. When all seems dark, one truth still shines bright: when God is for us, those against us will never succeed.
Author: David

1 Be merciful to me, O God, for men hotly pursue me; [f] all day long they press their attack.
2 My slanderers pursue me all day long;
many are attacking me in their pride.

3 When I am afraid,
I will trust in you.
4 In God, whose word I praise,
in God I trust; I will not be afraid.
What can mortal man do to me? [g]

5 All day long they twist my words;
they are always plotting to harm me.
6 They conspire, [h] they lurk, they watch my steps,
eager to take my life.

7 On no account let them escape;
in your anger, O God, bring down the nations.
8 Record my lament;
list my tears on your scroll [a] — are they not in your record?

9 Then my enemies will turn back when I call for help.

56:1 [f] Ps 57:1-3

56:4 [g] Ps 118:6

56:6 [h] Ps 59:3

[z] Title: Probably a literary or musical term [a] 8 Or I put my tears in your wineskin

55:22 God wants us to cast our cares on him, but often we continue to bear them ourselves even when we say we are trusting in him. Trust the same strength that sustains you to carry your cares also.

56:1ff This was probably written on the same occasion as Psalm 34, when David fled from Saul to Philistine territory. He had to pretend insanity before Achish when some servants grew suspicious of him (1 Samuel 21:10–15).

56:3, 4 David stated, "What can mortal man do to me?" How much harm can people do to us? They can inflict pain, suffering, and death. But no person can rob us of our souls or our future beyond this life. How much harm can we do to ourselves? The worst thing we can do is to reject God and lose our eternal future. Jesus said, "Do not be afraid of those who kill the body but cannot kill the soul" (Matthew 10:28). Instead, we should fear God, who controls this life and the next.

56:8 Even in our deepest sorrow, God cares! Jesus reminded us further of how much God understands us – he knows even the number of hairs on our heads (Matthew 10:30). Often we waver between faith and fear. When you feel so discouraged that you are sure no one understands, remember that God knows every problem and sees every tear.

56:9 [i] Ro 8:31

By this I will know that God is for me.[i]
10 In God, whose word I praise,
in the LORD, whose word I praise —
11 in God I trust; I will not be afraid.
What can man do to me?

12 I am under vows to you, O God;
I will present my thank offerings to you.
56:13 [j] Ps 116:8 [k] Job 33:30
13 For you have delivered me[b] from death[j] and my feet from stumbling, that I may walk before God in the light of life.[c k]

PSALM 57

For the director of music. To the tune of "Do Not Destroy."
Of David. A miktam.[d] When he had fled from Saul into the cave.

Theme: God's faithful help and love in times of trouble. When we face trials, God will quiet our hearts and give us confidence.
Author: David

57:1 [l] Ps 2:12 [m] Isa 26:20

1 Have mercy on me, O God, have mercy on me, for in you my soul takes refuge.[l]
I will take refuge in the shadow of your wings until the disaster has passed.[m]

57:2 [n] Ps 138:8

2 I cry out to God Most High, to God, who fulfills his purpose for me.[n]
57:3 [o] Ps 56:1
3 He sends from heaven and saves me, rebuking those who hotly pursue me;[o] Selah
God sends his love and his faithfulness.

57:4 [p] Ps 35:17 [q] Pr 30:14

4 I am in the midst of lions;[p]
I lie among ravenous beasts — men whose teeth are spears and arrows, whose tongues are sharp swords.[q]

5 Be exalted, O God, above the heavens;
57:5 [r] Ps 108:5
let your glory be over all the earth.[r]

57:6 [s] Ps 145:14

6 They spread a net for my feet —
I was bowed down[s] in distress.
They dug a pit in my path —
but they have fallen into it themselves. Selah

7 My heart is steadfast, O God,
my heart is steadfast;
I will sing and make music.
8 Awake, my soul!

[b] 13 Or my soul [c] 13 Or the land of the living [d] Title: Probably a literary or musical term

---

57:1ff This psalm was probably written when David was hiding in a cave from Saul (see 1 Samuel 22 – 24).

57:4 At times, we may be surrounded by people who gossip about us or criticize us. Verbal cruelty can damage us as badly as physical abuse. Rather than answering with hateful words, we, like David, can talk with God about the problem.

57:7 David's firm faith in God contrasted sharply with his enemies' loud lying and boasting. When confronted with verbal attacks, the best defense is simply to be quiet and praise God, realizing that our confidence is in his love and faithfulness (57:10). In times of great suffering, don't turn inward to self-pity or outward to revenge, but upward to God.

Awake, harp and lyre![t]
I will awaken the dawn.

9I will praise you, O Lord, among the nations;
I will sing of you among the peoples.
10For great is your love, reaching to the heavens;
your faithfulness reaches to the skies.[u]

11Be exalted, O God, above the heavens;
let your glory be over all the earth.

57:8 [t]Ps 33:2

57:10 [u]Ps 36:5

PSALM 58

For the director of music. To the tune of "Do Not Destroy."
Of David. A miktam.[e]

Theme: A prayer for God's justice. When no justice can be found, rejoice in knowing that justice will triumph because there is a God who will judge with complete fairness.
Author: David, at a time when men in authority were twisting justice 1Do you rulers indeed speak justly?

Do you judge uprightly among men?
2No, in your heart you devise injustice, and your hands mete out violence on the earth.[v] 3Even from birth the wicked go astray;
from the womb they are wayward and speak lies.
4Their venom is like the venom of a snake,
like that of a cobra that has stopped its ears, 5that will not heed the tune of the charmer, however skillful the enchanter may be.

6Break the teeth in their mouths, O God;
tear out, O LORD, the fangs of the lions![w] 7Let them vanish like water that flows away;
when they draw the bow, let their arrows be blunted.
8Like a slug melting away as it moves along, like a stillborn child,[x] may they not see the sun.

9Before your pots can feel the heat of the thorns—whether they be green or dry—the wicked will be swept away.[f] 10The righteous will be glad when they are avenged, when they bathe their feet in the blood of the wicked.[y] 11Then men will say,
"Surely the righteous still are rewarded; surely there is a God who judges the earth."

58:2 [v]Ps 94:20

58:6 [w]Job 4:10

58:8 [x]Job 3:16

58:10 [y]Ps 68:23

[e] Title: Probably a literary or musical term [f] 9 The meaning of the Hebrew for this verse is uncertain.

58:1ff This is called an imprecatory psalm (see the note on 35:1ff). It is a cry for justice so intense that it seems, at first glance, to be a call for revenge.

58:1ff The Old Testament is filled with references to justice, and it is a key topic in the psalms. Unfortunately, many judges and rulers in ancient times took justice into their own hands. They had complete authority with no accountability and the power to make their own laws. When earth's judges are corrupt, there is little hope of justice in this life. But God loves justice, and those who obey him will experience perfect justice in eternity.

58:11 Of all people, our national leaders should be just and fair. When they are unjust and unfair, people suffer. The rich get richer, the poor get poorer, politicians wrest power from the people, national morality deteriorates, and God is ignored. When right triumphs at last, "the righteous will be glad" (58:10). Be assured that there will be a day of accountability and that God judges fairly. Be careful never to side with injustice, lest you find yourself standing before an angry Judge.

PSALM 59

For the director of music. To the tune of "Do Not Destroy."
Of David. A miktam. [g] When Saul had sent men to watch David's house in order to kill him.

Theme: Prayer and praise for God's saving help.
God's constant love is our place of safety in a wicked world.
Author: David

59:1 [z] Ps 143:9
1 Deliver me from my enemies, O God; [z] protect me from those who rise up against me.
2 Deliver me from evildoers
59:2 [a] Ps 139:19
and save me from bloodthirsty men. [a]

59:3 [b] Ps 56:6
3 See how they lie in wait for me!
Fierce men conspire [b] against me for no offense or sin of mine, O LORD.
4 I have done no wrong, yet they are ready to attack me.
Arise to help me; look on my plight!
5 O LORD God Almighty, the God of Israel, rouse yourself to punish all the nations;
59:5 [c] Jer 18:23
show no mercy to wicked traitors. [c] Selah

59:6 [d] ver 14
6 They return at evening, snarling like dogs, [d]
and prowl about the city.
7 See what they spew from their mouths—
they spew out swords from their lips, and they say, "Who can hear us?"
59:8 [e] Ps 37:13
8 But you, O LORD, laugh at them; [e]
you scoff at all those nations.

9 O my Strength, I watch for you;
you, O God, are my fortress, 10 my loving God.

God will go before me
and will let me gloat over those who slander me.
11 But do not kill them, O Lord our shield, [h] 59:11 [f] Dt 4:9 or my people will forget. [f]
In your might make them wander about,
and bring them down.
12 For the sins of their mouths,
59:12 [g] Pr 12:13
for the words of their lips, [g]
let them be caught in their pride.
For the curses and lies they utter,
13 consume them in wrath,
59:13 [h] Ps 104:35
consume them till they are no more. [h]
Then it will be known to the ends of the earth that God rules over Jacob. Selah

14 They return at evening,
snarling like dogs,

[g] Title: Probably a literary or musical term [h] 11 Or sovereign

59:7, 8 Vile men curse God as if he cannot hear and will not respond. But God scoffs at them. Evil people live as if God cannot see and will not punish. But God watches patiently until that day when their deeds will rise up to accuse them. As believers we must be careful not to follow the same foolish practices as evil people. We must remember that God hears and sees all we do.

59:10 David was hunted by those whose love had turned to jealousy, and this was driving them to try to murder him. Trusted friends, and even his son, had turned against him. What changeable love! But David knew that God's love for him was changeless. "His love endures forever" (100:5). God's mercy to all who trust him is just as permanent as his mercy to David. When the love of others fails or disappoints us, we can rest in God's enduring love.

and prowl about the city.
15They wander about for food and howl if not satisfied.
16But I will sing of your strength, in the morning I will sing of your love;[j]
for you are my fortress,
my refuge in times of trouble.

59:16 [j]Ps 101:1

17O my Strength, I sing praise to you;
you, O God, are my fortress, my loving God.

PSALM 60

For the director of music. To the tune of, "The Lily of the Covenant." A miktam[l] of David. For teaching. When he fought Aram Naharaim[j] and Aram Zobah,[k] and when Joab returned and struck down twelve thousand Edomites in the Valley of Salt.

Theme: Real help comes from God alone. When a situation seems out of control, we can trust God to do mighty things.
Author: David, when Israel was away at war with Aram in the north, and Edom invaded Israel from the south (2 Samuel 8)

1You have rejected us,[j] O God, and burst forth upon us;
you have been angry — now restore us!
2You have shaken the land and torn it open;
mend its fractures,[k] for it is quaking.
3You have shown your people desperate times;[l]
you have given us wine that makes us stagger.

60:1 [j]Ps 44:9
60:2 [k]2Ch 7:14
60:3 [l]Ps 71:20

4But for those who fear you, you have raised a banner to be unfurled against the bow. Selah

5Save us and help us with your right hand,
that those you love may be delivered.
6God has spoken from his sanctuary:
"In triumph I will parcel out Shechem[m]
and measure off the Valley of Succoth.
7Gilead is mine, and Manasseh is mine;
Ephraim is my helmet,
Judah my scepter.[n]
8Moab is my washbasin,
upon Edom I toss my sandal;
over Philistia I shout in triumph.[o]"

60:6 [m]Ge 12:6
60:7 [n]Ge 49:10
60:8 [o]2Sa 8:1

9Who will bring me to the fortified city?
Who will lead me to Edom?
10Is it not you, O God, you who have rejected us

[l]Title: Probably a literary or musical term [j]Title: That is, Arameans of Northwest Mesopotamia [k]Title: That is, Arameans of central Syria

60:1ff This psalm gives us information about David's reign not found in the books of 1 and 2 Samuel or 1 and 2 Chronicles. Although the setting of the psalm is found in 2 Samuel 8, that passage makes no reference to the fact that David's forces had met stiff resistance (60:1–3) and apparently even a temporary defeat (60:9, 10). The closer we get to God, the more our enemies will attack us because we threaten their evil and selfish way of living.

60:3 Instead of the wine of blessing God had given them the cup of his judgment. God's rejection was intended to bring them back to himself.

60:6–10 God said the cities and territories of Israel were his, and he knew the future of each of the nations. When the world seems out of control, we must remind ourselves that God owns the cities and knows the future of every nation. God is in control. In and through him we will gain the victory.

60:8 David mentioned the enemy nations that surrounded Israel. Moab lay directly to the east, Edom to the south, and Philistia to the west. At the time this psalm was written, David was fighting Aram to the north. Although he was surrounded by enemies, David believed that God would help him triumph.

and no longer go out with our armies?
11Give us aid against the enemy,
for the help of man is worthless.[p] 12With God we will gain the victory,
and he will trample down our enemies.

60:11
[p]Ps 146:3

PSALM 61

For the director of music. With stringed instruments. Of David.

Theme: Prayer for security and assurance. Wherever we are, we can trust that God will be there to answer our cries for help.
Author: David, written when he was forced to escape during the days of Absalom's rebellion (2 Samuel 15—18), or after he had narrowly escaped one of Saul's efforts to kill him while hiding in the desert

61:1
[q]Ps 64:1

1Hear my cry, O God;[q]
listen to my prayer.

2From the ends of the earth I call to you,
I call as my heart grows faint;
lead me to the rock that is higher than I.
3For you have been my refuge,
a strong tower against the foe.[r]

61:3
[r]Pr 18:10

4I long to dwell in your tent forever and take refuge in the shelter of your wings. Selah 5For you have heard my vows,[s] O God;
you have given me the heritage of those who fear your name.

61:5
[s]Ps 56:12

6Increase the days of the king's life, his years for many generations.
7May he be enthroned in God's presence forever;[t] appoint your love and faithfulness to protect him.

61:7
[t]Ps 41:12

8Then will I ever sing praise to your name and fulfill my vows day after day.

PSALM 62

For the director of music. For Jeduthun. A psalm of David.

Theme: Placing all hope in God. Knowing that God is in control allows us to wait patiently for him to rescue us. True relief does not come when the problem is resolved because more problems are on the way! True relief comes from an enduring hope in God's ultimate salvation. Only then will all trials be resolved.
Author: David, possibly written during the days of Absalom's rebellion (2 Samuel 15—18)

1My soul finds rest in God alone;
my salvation comes from him.
2He alone is my rock and my salvation;
he is my fortress, I will never be shaken.

3How long will you assault a man?

61:1, 2 David must have been far from home when he wrote this psalm. Fortunately, God is not limited to any geographic location. Even when we are among unknown people and surroundings, God never abandons us. A "higher" rock would be a plain of refuge and safety. God's all-surpassing strength is always with us.

61:8 David made a vow to praise God each day. David continually praised God through both the good and difficult times of his life. Do you find something to praise God for each day? As you do, you will find your heart elevated from daily distractions to lasting confidence.

62:3–6 David expressed his feelings to God and then reaffirmed his faith. Prayer can release our tensions in times of emotional stress. Trusting God to be our rock, salvation, and fortress (62:2) will change our entire outlook on life. No longer must we be held captive by resentment toward others when they hurt us. When we are resting in God's strength, nothing can shake us.

Would all of you throw him down—
this leaning wall,[u] this tottering fence?
4They fully intend to topple him from his lofty place;
they take delight in lies.
With their mouths they bless,
but in their hearts they curse.[v] Selah 5Find rest, O my soul, in God alone;
my hope comes from him.
6He alone is my rock and my salvation;
he is my fortress, I will not be shaken.
7My salvation and my honor depend on God[l];
he is my mighty rock, my refuge.
8Trust in him at all times, O people;
pour out your hearts to him,[w]
for God is our refuge. Selah 9Lowborn men are but a breath, the highborn are but a lie;
if weighed on a balance,[x] they are nothing;
together they are only a breath.
10Do not trust in extortion or take pride in stolen goods;
though your riches increase,
do not set your heart on them.
11One thing God has spoken,
two things have I heard:
that you, O God, are strong, 12 and that you, O Lord, are loving.
Surely you will reward each person
according to what he has done.[y]

62:3 [u] Isa 30:13
62:4 [v] Ps 28:3
62:8 [w] 1Sa 1:15
62:9 [x] Isa 40:15
62:12 [y] Mt 16:27

PSALM 63

A psalm of David. When he was in the Desert of Judah.

Theme: A desire for God's presence, provision, and protection. No matter where we are, our desire should be for God because only he satisfies fully.
Author: David

1O God, you are my God, earnestly I seek you;
my soul thirsts for you,[z]
my body longs for you,
in a dry and weary land
where there is no water.
2I have seen you in the sanctuary[a] and beheld your power and your glory.

63:1 [z] Ps 42:2
63:2 [a] Ps 27:4

[l] 7 Or / God Most High is my salvation and my honor

62:9–12 It is tempting to use honor, power, wealth, or prestige to measure people. We may even think that such people are really getting ahead in life. But on God's scales, these people are a "breath," a puff of air. What, then, can tilt the scales when God weighs us? Trusting God and working for him (62:12). Wealth, honor, power, or prestige add nothing to our value in God's eyes, but the faithful work we do for him has eternal value.

63:1ff Psalms 61, 62, and 63 were probably written when David was seeking refuge during Absalom's rebellion (2 Samuel 15 – 18).

63:1–5 Hiding from his enemies in the barren Desert of Judah, David was intensely lonely. He longed for a friend he could trust to ease his loneliness. No wonder he cried out, "O God, . . . my soul thirsts for you, . . . in a dry and weary land." If you are lonely or thirsty for something lasting in your life, remember David's prayer. God alone can satisfy our deepest longings!

3 Because your love is better than life,
my lips will glorify you.
63:4 4 I will praise you as long as I live,[b]
b Ps 104:33 and in your name I will lift up my hands.
5 My soul will be satisfied as with the richest of foods;
with singing lips my mouth will praise you.

6 On my bed I remember you;
I think of you through the watches of the night.
63:7 7 Because you are my help,[c] c Ps 27:9 I sing in the shadow of your wings.
8 My soul clings to you;
your right hand upholds me.

9 They who seek my life will be destroyed;
63:9 they will go down to the depths of the earth.[d] d Ps 55:15 10 They will be given over to the sword and become food for jackals.

11 But the king will rejoice in God;
63:11 all who swear by God's name will praise him,[e]
e Isa 45:23 while the mouths of liars will be silenced.

PSALM 64

For the director of music. A psalm of David.

Theme: A complaint against conspiracy. When others conspire against us, we can ask God for protection because he knows everything.
Author: David

1 Hear me, O God, as I voice my complaint;
64:1 protect my life from the threat of the enemy.[f] f Ps 140:1 2 Hide me from the conspiracy of the wicked, from that noisy crowd of evildoers.

3 They sharpen their tongues like swords
64:3 and aim their words like deadly arrows.[g] g Ps 58:7 4 They shoot from ambush at the innocent man;
they shoot at him suddenly, without fear.

5 They encourage each other in evil plans,
they talk about hiding their snares;
they say, "Who will see them[m]?"
6 They plot injustice and say,
"We have devised a perfect plan!"
Surely the mind and heart of man are cunning.

7 But God will shoot them with arrows;

m 5 Or us

63:6 The night was divided into three watches. Someone aware of all three would be having a sleepless night. A cure for sleepless nights is to turn our thoughts to God. There are many reasons we can't sleep – illness, stress, worry – but sleepless nights can be turned into quiet times of reflection and worship. Use them to review how God has guided and helped you.

64:1ff Evil can come in the form of a secret conspiracy or an ambush because Satan wants to catch us unprepared. He tempts us in our weakest areas when we least expect it. But God himself will strike down our enemies (64:7), whether they are physical or spiritual. Wickedness is widespread and affects us in many ways, but the final victory already belongs to God and those who trust and believe in him.

64:1, 2 We may believe that God wants to hear only certain requests from us. While it is true that we should offer praise, confession, and respectful petitions, it is true also that God is willing to listen to anything we want to tell him. David expressed himself honestly, knowing that God would hear his voice. God will always listen to us, and he will fully understand what we say.

64:3–10 The words spoken against us are among the most painful attacks we may have to face. If we trust in God, these attacks will not hurt us.

suddenly they will be struck down.
8 He will turn their own tongues against them[h] and bring them to ruin;
all who see them will shake their heads in scorn.

9 All mankind will fear;
they will proclaim the works of God and ponder what he has done.
10 Let the righteous rejoice in the LORD and take refuge in him;
let all the upright in heart praise him![i]

64:8 [h] Pr 18:7

64:10 [i] Ps 32:11

PSALM 65

For the director of music. A psalm of David. A song.

Theme: God provides abundantly. We can be thankful to God for his many blessings.
Author: David

1 Praise awaits[n] you, O God, in Zion;
to you our vows will be fulfilled.
2 O you who hear prayer,
to you all men will come.[j] 3 When we were overwhelmed by sins, you forgave[o] our transgressions.
4 Blessed are those you choose[k]
and bring near to live in your courts!
We are filled with the good things of your house,[l]
of your holy temple.

5 You answer us with awesome deeds of righteousness,
O God our Savior,
the hope of all the ends of the earth and of the farthest seas, 6 who formed the mountains by your power, having armed yourself with strength,[m] 7 who stilled the roaring of the seas,[n]
the roaring of their waves, and the turmoil of the nations.[o]
8 Those living far away fear your wonders; where morning dawns and evening fades
you call forth songs of joy.

9 You care for the land and water it;
you enrich it abundantly.
The streams of God are filled with water to provide the people with grain,[p]

65:2 [j] Isa 66:23

65:4 [k] Ps 33:12 [l] Ps 36:8

65:6 [m] Ps 93:1

65:7 [n] Mt 8:26 [o] Isa 17:12-13

65:9 [p] Ps 104:14

n 1 Or befits; the meaning of the Hebrew for this word is uncertain. o 3 Or made atonement for 65:1, 2 In Old Testament times, vows were taken seriously and fulfilled completely. No one had to make a vow, but once made, it was binding (Deuteronomy 23:21–23). The vow that is being fulfilled here is the promise to praise God for his answers to prayer.

65:3 Although we may feel overwhelmed by the multitude of our sins, God will forgive them all if we ask sincerely. Do you feel as though God could never forgive you, that your sins are too many, or that some of them are too great? The good news is that God can and will forgive them all. Nobody is beyond redemption, and nobody is so full of sin that he or she cannot be made clean.

65:4 Access to God, the joy of living in the temple courts, was a great honor. God had chosen a special group of Israelites, the tribe of Levi, to serve as priests in the tabernacle (Numbers 3:5–51). They were the only ones who could enter the sacred rooms where God's presence resided. Because of Jesus' death on the cross, all believers today have personal access to God's presence everywhere and at any time.

65:6–13 This harvest psalm glorifies God the Creator as reflected in the beauty of nature. Nature helps us understand something of God's character. The Jews believed that God's care of nature was a sign of his love and provision for them. Nature shows God's generosity – giving us more than we need or deserve. Understanding God's abundant generosity should make us grateful to God and generous to others.

for so you have ordained it.[p] 10 You drench its furrows and level its ridges;
you soften it with showers and bless its crops.
11 You crown the year with your bounty, and your carts overflow with abundance.
12 The grasslands of the desert overflow;
the hills are clothed with gladness.
13 The meadows are covered with flocks and the valleys are mantled with grain;
they shout for joy and sing.

PSALM 66

For the director of music. A song. A psalm.

Theme: God answers prayer. Individually and as a body of believers, we should praise and worship God.
Author: Anonymous, written after a great victory in battle

66:1 [q] Ps 100:1
1 Shout with joy to God, all the earth![q]
2 Sing the glory of his name;
make his praise glorious!
66:3 [r] Ps 65:5
3 Say to God, "How awesome are your deeds![r]
So great is your power that your enemies cringe before you.
4 All the earth bows down to you;
they sing praise to you,
they sing praise to your name." Selah

5 Come and see what God has done, how awesome his works in man's behalf!
66:6 [s] Ex 14:22
6 He turned the sea into dry land,[s] they passed through the waters on foot—come, let us rejoice in him.
7 He rules forever by his power, his eyes watch the nations—
let not the rebellious rise up against him. Selah

8 Praise our God, O peoples, let the sound of his praise be heard;
9 he has preserved our lives and kept our feet from slipping.
10 For you, O God, tested us;
you refined us like silver.
11 You brought us into prison and laid burdens on our backs.
66:12 [t] Isa 51:23
12 You let men ride over our heads;[t]
we went through fire and water, but you brought us to a place of abundance.

[p] 9 Or for that is how you prepare the land

66:5–7 The writer was remembering the famous story about God's rescue of the Israelites by parting the Red Sea. God saved the Israelites then, and he continues to save his people today.

66:10–12 Just as fire refines silver in the smelting process, trials refine our character. They bring us a new and deeper wisdom, helping us discern truth from falsehood and giving us the discipline to do what we know is right. Above all, these trials help us realize that life is a gift from God to be cherished, not a right to be taken for granted.

13I will come to your temple with burnt offerings and fulfill my vows[u] to you—14vows my lips promised and my mouth spoke when I was in trouble.
15I will sacrifice fat animals to you and an offering of rams;
I will offer bulls and goats. Selah

16Come and listen, all you who fear God;
let me tell you what he has done for me.
17I cried out to him with my mouth;
his praise was on my tongue.
18If I had cherished sin in my heart,
the Lord would not have listened;[v] 19but God has surely listened and heard my voice in prayer.
20Praise be to God,
who has not rejected my prayer or withheld his love from me!

66:13 [u]Ecc 5:4

66:18 [v]Jas 4:3

PSALM 67

For the director of music. With stringed instruments. A psalm. A song.

Theme: Joy comes from spreading the news about God around the world.
Author: Anonymous, possibly written for one of the harvest feasts

1May God be gracious to us and bless us and make his face shine upon us,[w] Selah 2that your ways may be known on earth, your salvation among all nations.[x]

3May the peoples praise you, O God;
may all the peoples praise you.
4May the nations be glad and sing for joy, for you rule the peoples justly and guide the nations of the earth. Selah 5May the peoples praise you, O God;
may all the peoples praise you.

6Then the land will yield its harvest,[y]
and God, our God, will bless us.
7God will bless us,
and all the ends of the earth will fear him.

67:1 [w]Nu 6:24-26

67:2 [x]Tit 2:11

67:6 [y]Lev 26:4; Ps 85:12; Eze 34:27

66:13–15 People sometimes make bargains with God, saying, "If you heal me (or get me out of this mess), I'll obey you for the rest of my life." However, soon after they recover, the vow is forgotten and the old life-style is resumed. This writer made a promise to God, but he remembered the promise and was prepared to carry it out. God always keeps his promises and wants us to follow his example. Be careful to follow through on whatever you promise to do.

66:18 Our confession of sin must be continual because we continue to do wrong. But true confession requires us to listen to God and to want to stop doing what is wrong. David confessed his sin and prayed, "Forgive my hidden faults. Keep your servant also from willful sins" (19:12, 13). When we refuse to repent or when we harbor and cherish certain sins, we place a wall between us and God. We may not be able to remember every sin we have ever committed, but our attitude should be one of confession and obedience.

67:2 Could the psalmist have looked across the years to see the gospel go throughout the earth? This psalm surely speaks of the fulfillment of the Great Commission (Matthew 28:18–20), when Jesus commanded that the gospel be taken to all nations. Count yourself among that great crowd of believers worldwide who know the Savior; praise him for his Good News; and share that gospel so that the harvest will be abundant.

PSALM 68

For the director of music. Of David. A psalm. A song.

Theme: Remembering God's glory and power. Times and cultures change, but God is always majestically present as defender and provider.
Author: David

1 May God arise, may his enemies be scattered;
may his foes flee[z] before him.
2 As smoke is blown away by the wind,
may you blow them away;
as wax melts before the fire,
may the wicked perish before God.
3 But may the righteous be glad and rejoice before God;
may they be happy and joyful.

4 Sing to God, sing praise to his name, extol him who rides on the clouds[q]— his name is the LORD—and rejoice before him.
5 A father to the fatherless, a defender of widows, is God in his holy dwelling.
6 God sets the lonely in families,[r]
he leads forth the prisoners with singing;
but the rebellious live in a sun-scorched land.

7 When you went out[a] before your people, O God, when you marched through the wasteland, Selah 8 the earth shook,
the heavens poured down rain,
before God, the One of Sinai, before God, the God of Israel.
9 You gave abundant showers, O God;
you refreshed your weary inheritance.
10 Your people settled in it, and from your bounty, O God, you provided for the poor.

11 The Lord announced the word, and great was the company of those who proclaimed it:
12 "Kings and armies flee in haste;
in the camps men divide the plunder.
13 Even while you sleep among the campfires,[s]
the wings of ⌞my⌟ dove are sheathed with silver, its feathers with shining gold."

68:1 [z] Nu 10:35

68:7 [a] Ex 13:21

[q] 4 Or / prepare the way for him who rides through the deserts [r] 6 Or the desolate in a homeland [s] 13 Or saddlebags

68:1ff This psalm begins just like Moses' cry in Numbers 10:35 as the Israelites followed the ark of the covenant. It undoubtedly brought to mind the time when David led a joyous procession that brought the ark from the house of Obed-Edom to Jerusalem (2 Samuel 6:11–15).

68:3–6 With shouts of praise and the sound of trumpets, David and his people took the holy ark toward Mount Zion (2 Samuel 6:15). It was a time to sing praises to the Lord, whose presence brings great joy. Only in God is there hope for the orphans, widows, prisoners, and all other lonely people. If you are lonely or disadvantaged, join David in praise, and discover great joy from loving and praising God.

68:4–6 David praised God for his protection and provision. When we see God's true majesty, our response should be to praise him. This was a song of faith because many of these benefits had not yet come true in David's time. It should also be our song of faith. We must continue to trust God because, in time, he will fulfill all his promises.

68:8 Mount Sinai had a prominent role in Israelite history. It was at Mount Sinai that God met Moses and commissioned him to lead Israel out of Egypt (Exodus 3:1–10). It was to Mount Sinai that the nation of Israel returned and received God's laws (Exodus 19:1–3), and God's presence made the entire mountain tremble (Exodus 19:18). This sacred mountain was a constant reminder of God's words and promises.

68:13 The dove is a symbol of God's beloved Israel, who is so protected and blessed that it has taken silver and gold from its enemies, even though it stayed in camp.

14 When the Almighty[t] scattered the kings in the land, it was like snow fallen on Zalmon.

15 The mountains of Bashan are majestic mountains;
rugged are the mountains of Bashan.
16 Why gaze in envy, O rugged mountains,
at the mountain where God chooses[b] to reign,
where the LORD himself will dwell forever?
17 The chariots of God are tens of thousands and thousands of thousands;
the Lord has come from Sinai into his sanctuary.
18 When you ascended on high,
you led captives[c] in your train;
you received gifts from men,[d]
even from[u] the rebellious — that you,[v] O LORD God, might dwell there.

19 Praise be to the Lord, to God our Savior, who daily bears our burdens. Selah
20 Our God is a God who saves;
from the Sovereign LORD comes escape from death.

21 Surely God will crush the heads of his enemies, the hairy crowns of those who go on in their sins.
22 The Lord says, "I will bring them from Bashan;
I will bring them from the depths of the sea,
23 that you may plunge your feet in the blood of your foes,[e] while the tongues of your dogs[f] have their share."

24 Your procession has come into view, O God,
the procession of my God and King into the sanctuary.
25 In front are the singers, after them the musicians;
with them are the maidens playing tambourines.
26 Praise God in the great congregation;
praise the LORD in the assembly of Israel.
27 There is the little tribe[g] of Benjamin, leading them, there the great throng of Judah's princes,
and there the princes of Zebulun and of Naphtali.

28 Summon your power, O God[w]; show us your strength, O God, as you have done before.
29 Because of your temple at Jerusalem kings will bring you gifts.
30 Rebuke the beast among the reeds,
the herd of bulls[h] among the calves of the nations.
Humbled, may it bring bars of silver.
Scatter the nations who delight in war.
31 Envoys will come from Egypt;[i]

68:16 [b] Dt 12:5

68:18 [c] Jdg 5:12 [d] Eph 4:8*

68:23 [e] Ps 58:10 [f] 1Ki 21:19

68:27 [g] 1Sa 9:21

68:30 [h] Ps 22:12

68:31 [i] Isa 45:14

[t] 14 Hebrew Shaddai [u] 18 Or gifts for men, / even [v] 18 Or they [w] 28 Many Hebrew manuscripts, Septuagint and Syriac; most Hebrew manuscripts Your God has summoned power for you

68:15, 16 Bashan, the land northeast of Israel, was the home of mighty mountains, including Mount Hermon, the tallest and most awesome mountain in the region. God's choice of Mount Zion, a foothill by comparison, for the site of the temple led the psalmist to write poetically of the envy of the mountains of Bashan.

68:17 This psalm celebrates the final stages of a journey that began at Mount Sinai with the construction of the ark of the covenant and finally ended at Mount Zion (site of the sanctuary), the chosen dwelling place of God among his people. It may describe the moving of the ark of the covenant into Jerusalem.

68:18 This verse, quoted in Ephesians 4:8, is applied to the ministry of the ascended Christ. It celebrates his victory over evil. It assures all of us who believe in Christ that by trusting him, we can overcome evil.

68:19–21 God sets his people free and crushes his enemies. Salvation is freedom from sin and death. Those who refuse to turn to God will be crushed by sin and death. They will be trapped by the sin they loved and destroyed by the death they feared. How much better it will be for those who love God and fear the consequences of sin.

Cush[x] will submit herself to God.

32Sing to God, O kingdoms of the earth, sing praise to the Lord, Selah 33to him who rides the ancient skies above, who thunders with mighty voice.
34Proclaim the power of God, whose majesty is over Israel,
whose power is in the skies.
35You are awesome, O God, in your sanctuary;
the God of Israel gives power and strength to his people.

Praise be to God!

PSALM 69

For the director of music. To the tune of "Lilies." Of David.

Theme: A cry of distress in a sea of trouble. We may have to suffer severely for our devotion to God, but that should cause us to look forward with joy to the day when evil and injustice will be gone forever.
Author: David

1Save me, O God,
for the waters have come up to my neck.
2I sink in the miry depths,
where there is no foothold.
I have come into the deep waters;
the floods engulf me.
3I am worn out calling for help;[j]
my throat is parched.
My eyes fail,[k]
looking for my God.
4Those who hate me without reason[l] outnumber the hairs of my head;
many are my enemies without cause,[m]
those who seek to destroy me.
I am forced to restore what I did not steal.

5You know my folly, O God;
my guilt is not hidden from you.

6May those who hope in you not be disgraced because of me, O Lord, the LORD Almighty;
may those who seek you not be put to shame because of me,

69:3
[j]Ps 6:6
[k]Ps 119:82

69:4
[l]Jn 15:25*
[m]Ps 35:19

[x] 31 That is, the upper Nile region

68:34, 35 When we consider all God has done for us, we should feel an overwhelming sense of awe as we kneel before the Lord in his sanctuary. Nature surrounds us with countless signs of God's wonderful power. His unlimited power and unspeakable majesty leave us breathless in his presence. How fortunate we are that God cares for us.

69:1ff This is one of the most quoted psalms in the New Testament, and it is often applied to the ministry and suffering of Jesus. Verse 4, like John 15:25, speaks of Jesus' many enemies. The experience of being scorned by his brothers (69:8) is expressed in John 7:5. Verse 9 portrays David's zeal for God; Christ showed great zeal when he threw the money changers out of the temple (John 2:14–17). Paul quoted part of 69:9 in Romans 15:3. Christ's great suffering is portrayed in 69:20, 21 (Matthew 27:24; Mark 15:23; Luke 23:36; John 19:28–30). Verses 22 through 28 are quoted in Romans 11:9, 10; and Peter applied 69:25 to Judas (Acts 1:20).

69:3 David cried out until he was physically exhausted, with a parched throat and blurred vision. Yet he still trusted God to save him. When devastated by death or tragedy, we need not collapse or despair because we can turn to God and ask him to save us and help us. The tears will still come, but we will not be crying in vain.

O God of Israel.
7For I endure scorn for your sake,
and shame covers my face.
8I am a stranger to my brothers,
an alien to my own mother's sons; 9for zeal for your house consumes me,[n]
and the insults of those who insult you fall on me.
10When I weep and fast,[o]
I must endure scorn;
11when I put on sackcloth, people make sport of me.
12Those who sit at the gate mock me,
and I am the song of the drunkards.[p] 13But I pray to you, O LORD, in the time of your favor;[q]
in your great love, O God, answer me with your sure salvation.
14Rescue me from the mire,
do not let me sink;
deliver me from those who hate me,
from the deep waters.[r] 15Do not let the floodwaters engulf me or the depths swallow me up[s] or the pit close its mouth over me.
16Answer me, O LORD, out of the goodness of your love;
in your great mercy turn to me.
17Do not hide your face from your servant;
answer me quickly, for I am in trouble.
18Come near and rescue me;
redeem me because of my foes.
19You know how I am scorned,[t] disgraced and shamed;
all my enemies are before you.
20Scorn has broken my heart and has left me helpless;
I looked for sympathy, but there was none,
for comforters,[u] but I found none.[v] 21They put gall in my food and gave me vinegar for my thirst.[w] 22May the table set before them become a snare;
may it become retribution and[y] a trap.
23May their eyes be darkened so they cannot see,
and their backs be bent forever.[x] 24Pour out your wrath on them;
let your fierce anger overtake them.
25May their place be deserted;[y]
let there be no one to dwell in their tents.
26For they persecute those you wound and talk about the pain of those you hurt.
27Charge them with crime upon crime;
do not let them share in your salvation.

69:9 [n] Jn 2:17*
69:10 [o] Ps 35:13
69:12 [p] Job 30:9
69:13 [q] Isa 49:8
69:14 [r] Ps 144:7
69:15 [s] Nu 16:33
69:19 [t] Ps 22:6
69:20 [u] Job 16:2; [v] Isa 63:5
69:21 [w] Jn 19:28-30
69:23 [x] Ro 11:9-10*
69:25 [y] Mt 23:38

[y] 22 Or snare / and their fellowship become

69:13 What problems David faced! He was scoffed at, mocked, insulted, humiliated, and made the object of city-wide gossip. But still he prayed. When we are completely beaten down, we are tempted to turn from God, give up, and quit trusting him. When your situation seems hopeless, determine that no matter how bad things become you will continue to pray. God will hear your prayer, and he will rescue you. When others reject us, we need God most. Don't turn from your most faithful friend.

69:28 [z] Ex 32:32-33

28 May they be blotted out of the book of life[z] and not be listed with the righteous.

29 I am in pain and distress;
may your salvation, O God, protect me.

69:30 [a] Ps 28:7

30 I will praise God's name in song[a] and glorify him with thanksgiving.
31 This will please the LORD more than an ox, more than a bull with its horns and hoofs.[b]
69:31 [b] Ps 50:9-13
32 The poor will see and be glad[c]—
69:32 [c] Ps 34:2 [d] Ps 22:26
you who seek God, may your hearts live![d] 33 The LORD hears the needy and does not despise his captive people.

34 Let heaven and earth praise him,
69:34 [e] Ps 96:11; Isa 44:23
the seas and all that move in them,[e]
35 for God will save Zion
69:35 [f] Ps 51:18
and rebuild the cities of Judah.[f]
Then people will settle there and possess it;
36 the children of his servants will inherit it,
69:36 [g] Ps 37:29
and those who love his name will dwell there.[g]

PSALM 70

For the director of music. Of David. A petition.

Theme: An urgent prayer for help. It can be your prayer when you're short on time and long on need.
Author: David

1 Hasten, O God, to save me;
O LORD, come quickly to help me.
70:2 [h] Ps 35:4 [i] Ps 35:26
2 May those who seek my life[h]
be put to shame and confusion;
may all who desire my ruin be turned back in disgrace.[i]
3 May those who say to me, "Aha! Aha!"
turn back because of their shame.
4 But may all who seek you
rejoice and be glad in you;
may those who love your salvation always say,
"Let God be exalted!"

5 Yet I am poor and needy;
come quickly to me, O God.
You are my help and my deliverer;
O LORD, do not delay.

69:28 The book of life is God's list of those who are in right relationship to him and who remain faithful (1:3; 7:9; 11:7; 34:12; 37:17, 29; 55:22; 75:10; 92:12–14; 140:13). The New Testament use of "book of life" indicates those who will receive eternal life (see Philippians 4:3; Revelation 3:5; 13:8; 20:15).

69:32 When David says, "May your hearts live!" he means, "You will feel glad and joyful." Most people want lasting joy and will try almost anything to obtain it, from scrambling for more money to being involved in sexual escapades. The only genuine source of happiness is God, and we receive lasting joy only by seeking him. How are you trying to find happiness? Seek God and live as he directs you (Matthew 6:33, 34), and true joy will soon follow.

70:1–5 When others disappoint and threaten us, we feel empty, as though a vital part of ourselves has been stolen. When others break the trust we have placed in them, they also break our spirits. At those empty, broken moments, we must join the psalmist in begging God to rush to our aid. He alone can fill our lives with his joy (70:4). With the psalmist we should cry out, "O LORD, do not delay!"

70:4 This short psalm (similar in content to 40:13–17) was David's plea for God to come quickly with his help. Yet even in his moment of panic, he did not forget praise. Praise is important because it helps us remember who God is. Often our prayers are filled with requests for ourselves and others, and we forget to thank God for what he has done and to worship him for who he is. Don't take God for granted and treat him as a vending machine. Even when David was afraid, he praised God.

PSALM 71

Theme: God's constant help—from childhood to old age. Our lives are a testimony of what God has done for us.
Author: Anonymous

1 In you, O LORD, I have taken refuge;
let me never be put to shame.
2 Rescue me and deliver me in your righteousness;
turn your ear to me and save me.
3 Be my rock of refuge,
to which I can always go;
give the command to save me,
for you are my rock and my fortress.
4 Deliver me, O my God, from the hand of the wicked,[j] from the grasp of evil and cruel men.

5 For you have been my hope, O Sovereign LORD, my confidence[k] since my youth.
6 From birth[l] I have relied on you;
you brought me forth from my mother's womb.
I will ever praise[m] you.
7 I have become like a portent[n] to many,
but you are my strong refuge.[o]
8 My mouth is filled with your praise, declaring your splendor[p] all day long.

9 Do not cast me away when I am old;
do not forsake me when my strength is gone.
10 For my enemies speak against me;
those who wait to kill me conspire together.
11 They say, "God has forsaken him;
pursue him and seize him,
for no one will rescue[q] him."
12 Be not far[r] from me, O God;
come quickly, O my God, to help[s] me.
13 May my accusers perish in shame;
may those who want to harm me be covered with scorn and disgrace.

14 But as for me, I will always have hope;
I will praise you more and more.
15 My mouth will tell of your righteousness, of your salvation all day long,
though I know not its measure.
16 I will come and proclaim your mighty acts,[t] O Sovereign LORD;
I will proclaim your righteousness, yours alone.
17 Since my youth, O God, you have taught me, and to this day I declare your marvelous deeds.[u]

71:4 [j] Ps 140:4
71:5 [k] Jer 17:7
71:6 [l] Ps 22:10 [m] Ps 34:1
71:7 [n] Isa 8:18; 1Co 4:9 [o] Ps 61:3
71:8 [p] Ps 96:6; 104:1
71:11 [q] Ps 7:2
71:12 [r] Ps 38:21 [s] Ps 22:19; 38:22
71:16 [t] Ps 106:2
71:17 [u] Ps 26:7

71:1ff The psalmist was old and saw his life as a "portent," a solemn sign or testimony to others of all God had done for him (71:7, 18). Remembering God's lifetime of blessing will help us see the consistency of his grace throughout the years, trust him for the future, and share with others the benefits of following him.

71:14 As we face the sunset years, we recognize that God has been our constant help in the past. As physical powers wane, we need God even more, and we realize he is still our constant help. We must never despair, but keep on expecting his help no matter how severe our limitations. Hope in him helps us to keep going, to keep serving him.

18 Even when I am old and gray,
do not forsake me, O God,
till I declare your power to the next generation,
your might to all who are to come.

19 Your righteousness reaches to the skies,[v] O God, you who have done great things.
Who, O God, is like you?[w]
20 Though you have made me see troubles, many and bitter, you will restore[x] my life again;
from the depths of the earth
you will again bring me up.
21 You will increase my honor and comfort me once again.

22 I will praise you with the harp
for your faithfulness, O my God;
I will sing praise to you with the lyre,
O Holy One of Israel.
23 My lips will shout for joy when I sing praise to you —
I, whom you have redeemed.
24 My tongue will tell of your righteous acts all day long,[y]
for those who wanted to harm me have been put to shame and confusion.

71:19 [v] Ps 36:5 [w] Ps 35:10
71:20 [x] Hos 6:2
71:24 [y] Ps 35:28

PSALM 72

Of Solomon.

Theme: The perfect king. In this psalm, a king asks God to help his son rule the nation justly and wisely. It looks forward to the endless reign of the Messiah, who alone can rule with perfect justice and whose citizens will enjoy perfect peace.
Author: Solomon

1 Endow the king with your justice, O God, the royal son with your righteousness.
2 He will[z] judge your people in righteousness,[z] your afflicted ones with justice.
3 The mountains will bring prosperity to the people,
the hills the fruit of righteousness.
4 He will defend the afflicted among the people and save the children of the needy;[a] he will crush the oppressor.

5 He will endure[a] as long as the sun,
as long as the moon, through all generations.
6 He will be like rain falling on a mown field, like showers watering the earth.
7 In his days the righteous will flourish; prosperity will abound till the moon is no more.

72:2 [z] Isa 9:7
72:4 [a] Isa 11:4

[z] 2 Or May he; similarly in verses 3-11 and 17 [a] 5 Septuagint; Hebrew You will be feared

71:18 A person is never too old to serve God, never too old to pray. Though age may stop us from certain physical activities, it need not end our desire to tell others (especially children) about all we have seen God do in the many years we've lived.

72:1, 2 What qualities do we want most in our leaders? God desires all who rule under him to be righteous and just. Think how the world would change if world leaders would commit themselves to these two qualities. Let us pray that they will (see 1 Timothy 2:1, 2).

8 He will rule from sea to sea and from the River[b] to the ends of the earth.[c] 9 The desert tribes will bow before him and his enemies will lick the dust.
10 The kings of Tarshish and of distant shores will bring tribute to him;
the kings of Sheba and Seba will present him gifts.[d] 11 All kings will bow down to him and all nations will serve him.

12 For he will deliver the needy who cry out,
the afflicted who have no one to help.
13 He will take pity on the weak and the needy and save the needy from death.
14 He will rescue them from oppression and violence, for precious is their blood in his sight.

15 Long may he live!
May gold from Sheba be given him.
May people ever pray for him and bless him all day long.
16 Let grain abound throughout the land;
on the tops of the hills may it sway.
Let its fruit flourish like Lebanon;
let it thrive like the grass of the field.
17 May his name endure forever;
may it continue as long as the sun.[e]

All nations will be blessed through him,
and they will call him blessed.[f]

18 Praise be to the LORD God, the God of Israel,[g] who alone does marvelous deeds.
19 Praise be to his glorious name forever;
may the whole earth be filled with his glory.[h]
Amen and Amen.

20 This concludes the prayers of David son of Jesse.

[b] 8 That is, the Euphrates [c] 8 Or the end of the land

72:8 [b] Ex 23:31 [c] Zec 9:10

72:10 [d] 2Ch 9:24

72:17 [e] Ps 89:36 [f] Ge 12:3; Lk 1:48

72:18 [g] 1Ch 29:10

72:19 [h] Nu 14:21

72:12–14 God cares for the needy, the afflicted, and the weak because they are precious to him. If God feels so strongly about these needy ones and loves them so deeply, how can we ignore their plight? Examine what you are doing to reach out with God's love – are you ignoring their plight or are you meeting their needs?

72:17 Solomon, David's son, reigned in Israel's golden age. He built the magnificent temple, and the land rested in peace. This psalm, though written by Solomon, looks beyond Solomon's reign to that of Jesus the Messiah, whose kingdom extends "to the ends of the earth" (72:8) and is greater than any human empire. This will be fulfilled when Christ returns to reign forever (Revelation 11:15). When we anticipate his worldwide rule, it fills our hearts with hope.

72:19, 20 Book II ends with "Amen and Amen," as did Psalm 41, which closed Book I. This last verse does not mean that David wrote this psalm, but that he wrote most of the psalms in Book II.

73:1ff Asaph was the leader of one of David's Levitical choirs. He collected Psalms 73 – 83 but may not have written all of them. In this psalm, Asaph explains that until he entered God's sanctuary, he could not understand the justice in allowing the wicked to thrive while the righteous endured hardship. But when he saw that one day justice would be done, he acknowledged God's wisdom.

BOOK III
Psalms 73:1—89:52

These psalms celebrate the sovereignty of God, God's hand in history, God's faithfulness, and God's covenant with David. These psalms remind us that our worship of the almighty God should be continual.

PSALM 73

A psalm of Asaph.

Theme: The temporary prosperity of the wicked and the lasting rewards of the righteous. We should live holy lives and trust God for our future rewards.
Author: Asaph, a leader of one of the temple choirs (see 1 Chronicles 25:1)

1 Surely God is good to Israel, to those who are pure in heart.

2 But as for me, my feet had almost slipped;
I had nearly lost my foothold.
3 For I envied the arrogant when I saw the prosperity of the wicked.

4 They have no struggles;
their bodies are healthy and strong.[d]
5 They are free from the burdens common to man;
they are not plagued by human ills.
6 Therefore pride is their necklace;
they clothe themselves with violence.
7 From their callous hearts comes iniquity[e];
the evil conceits of their minds know no limits.
8 They scoff, and speak with malice;
in their arrogance they threaten oppression.
9 Their mouths lay claim to heaven,
and their tongues take possession of the earth.
10 Therefore their people turn to them and drink up waters in abundance.[f] 11 They say, "How can God know?
Does the Most High have knowledge?"

12 This is what the wicked are like—always carefree, they increase in wealth.

73:13 /Job 9:29-31
13 Surely in vain[/] have I kept my heart pure;
in vain have I washed my hands in innocence.
14 All day long I have been plagued;
I have been punished every morning.

15 If I had said, "I will speak thus,"
I would have betrayed your children.
73:16 /Ecc 8:17
16 When I tried to understand[/] all this,
it was oppressive to me

[d] 4 With a different word division of the Hebrew; Masoretic Text struggles at their death; / their bodies are healthy
[e] 7 Syriac (see also Septuagint); Hebrew Their eyes bulge with fat [f] 10 The meaning of the Hebrew for this verse is uncertain.

73:1-20 Two strong themes wind their way through these verses: (1) the wicked prosper, leaving faithful people wondering why they bother to be good, and (2) the wealth of the wicked looks so inviting that faithful people may wish they could trade places. But these two themes come to unexpected ends, for the wealth of the wicked suddenly loses its power at death and the rewards for the good suddenly take on eternal value. What seemed like wealth is now waste, and what seemed worthless now lasts forever. Don't wish you could trade places with evil people to get their wealth. One day they will wish they could trade places with you and have your eternal wealth.

17till I entered the sanctuary of God;
then I understood their final destiny.

18Surely you place them on slippery ground;[k]
you cast them down to ruin.
19How suddenly are they destroyed, completely swept away by terrors!
20As a dream[l] when one awakes,
so when you arise, O Lord,
you will despise them as fantasies.

21When my heart was grieved and my spirit embittered, 22I was senseless and ignorant;
I was a brute beast before you.

23Yet I am always with you;
you hold me by my right hand.
24You guide[m] me with your counsel, and afterward you will take me into glory.
25Whom have I in heaven but you?
And earth has nothing I desire besides you.[n] 26My flesh and my heart[o] may fail, but God is the strength of my heart and my portion forever.

27Those who are far from you will perish;
you destroy all who are unfaithful to you.
28But as for me, it is good to be near God.[p]
I have made the Sovereign LORD my refuge;
I will tell of all your deeds.

73:18 [k] Ps 35:6
73:20 [l] Job 20:8
73:24 [m] Ps 48:14
73:25 [n] Php 3:8
73:26 [o] Ps 84:2
73:28 [p] Heb 10:22

PSALM 74

A maskil[g] of Asaph.

Theme: A plea for God to help his people defend his cause and remember his promises. When we feel devastated or forgotten, we can plead to God for help, knowing that he hears.
Author: Asaph (or one of his descendants, since many believe this to be written after Jerusalem's fall in 586 B.C.)

1Why have you rejected us forever, O God?
Why does your anger smolder against the sheep of your pasture?[q] 2Remember the people you purchased of old, the tribe of your inheritance, whom you redeemed—
Mount Zion, where you dwelt.[r] 3Turn your steps toward these everlasting ruins, all this destruction the enemy has brought on the sanctuary.

74:1 [q] Ps 95:7
74:2 [r] Ps 68:16

g Title: Probably a literary or musical term

73:20 Asaph realized that the rich who put their hope, joy, and confidence in their wealth live in a dreamworld. A dream exists only in the mind of the dreamer. Don't let your life's goals be so unreal that you awaken too late and miss the reality of God's truth. Happiness and hope can be a reality, but only when they are based on God, not on riches. Because reality is in God, we should get as close to him as we can in order to be realistic about life.

73:23, 24 Asaph declares his confidence in God's presence and guidance. From birth to death God has us continually in his grip. But far more, we have the hope of the resurrection. Though our courage and strength may fail, we know that one day we will be raised to life to serve him forever. He is our security, and we must cling to him.

74:1, 2 God's anger against Israel had grown hot during the many years of their sin and idolatry. His patience endured for generations, but at last it was set aside for judgment. If you fall into sin and quickly seek God's forgiveness, his mercy may come quickly and his anger may leave quickly. If you persist in sinning against him, don't be surprised when his patience runs out.

74:4 [s] La 2:7

4 Your foes roared[s] in the place where you met with us;
they set up their standards as signs.
5 They behaved like men wielding axes to cut through a thicket of trees.[t]
74:5 [t] Jer 46:22
6 They smashed all the carved paneling with their axes and hatchets.
7 They burned your sanctuary to the ground;
they defiled the dwelling place of your Name.
8 They said in their hearts, "We will crush them completely!"
They burned every place where God was worshiped in the land.
9 We are given no miraculous signs;
no prophets are left,
and none of us knows how long this will be.

10 How long will the enemy mock you, O God?
Will the foe revile your name forever?
11 Why do you hold back your hand, your right hand?
Take it from the folds of your garment and destroy them!

12 But you, O God, are my king from of old;
you bring salvation upon the earth.
74:13 [u] Ex 14:21 [v] Isa 51:9
13 It was you who split open the sea[u] by your power;
you broke the heads of the monster[v] in the waters.
14 It was you who crushed the heads of Leviathan and gave him as food to the creatures of the desert.
74:15 [w] Ex 17:6; Nu 20:11 [x] Jos 2:10
15 It was you who opened up springs[w] and streams;
you dried up[x] the ever flowing rivers.
16 The day is yours, and yours also the night;
you established the sun and moon.
17 It was you who set all the boundaries of the earth;
you made both summer and winter.[y]
74:17 [y] Ge 8:22

18 Remember how the enemy has mocked you, O LORD, how foolish people have reviled your name.
19 Do not hand over the life of your dove to wild beasts;
do not forget the lives of your afflicted[z] people forever.
74:19 [z] Ps 9:18
20 Have regard for your covenant, because haunts of violence fill the dark places of the land.
21 Do not let the oppressed retreat in disgrace;
may the poor and needy[a] praise your name.
74:21 [a] Ps 35:10

22 Rise up, O God, and defend your cause; remember how fools mock you all day long.
74:23 [b] Ps 65:7
23 Do not ignore the clamor of your adversaries,[b]
the uproar of your enemies, which rises continually.

74:8 When enemy armies defeated Israel, they sacked and burned Jerusalem, trying to wipe out every trace of God. This has often been the response of people who hate God. Today many are trying to erase God from traditions in our society and from subjects taught in our schools. Do what you can to maintain a Christian influence, but don't become discouraged when others appear to make great strides in eliminating all traces of God – they cannot eliminate his presence among believers.

74:10–18 From our perspective, God sometimes seems slow to intervene on our behalf. But what might appear slow to us is good timing from God's perspective. It's easy to become impatient while waiting for God to act, but we must never give up on him. When God is silent and you are in deep anguish, follow the method in this psalm. Review the great acts of God throughout Biblical history; then review what he has done for you. This will remind you that God is at work, not only in history, but also in your life today.

74:13, 14 "The monster in the waters" recalls the Lord's words to Egypt (Ezekiel 32:2ff). "Leviathan" refers to the Canaanite seven-headed serpent, Lotan. In their legends, Baal defeated these creatures. This psalm praised God for doing in reality what the Canaanite gods could only do in legends.

PSALM 75

For the director of music. To the tune of "Do Not Destroy." A psalm of Asaph. A song.

Theme: Because God is the final judge, the tables will be turned upon the wicked. When arrogant people threaten our security, we can be confident that God will ultimately overrule and destroy them.
Author: Asaph

1 We give thanks to you, O God, we give thanks, for your Name is near;[c] men tell of your wonderful deeds.

2 You say, "I choose the appointed time;
it is I who judge uprightly.
3 When the earth and all its people quake,
it is I who hold its pillars firm. Selah
4 To the arrogant I say, 'Boast no more,'
and to the wicked, 'Do not lift up your horns.[d] 5 Do not lift your horns against heaven;
do not speak with outstretched neck.' "

6 No one from the east or the west or from the desert can exalt a man.
7 But it is God who judges:[e]
He brings one down, he exalts another.[f]
8 In the hand of the LORD is a cup full of foaming wine mixed[g] with spices;
he pours it out, and all the wicked of the earth drink it down to its very dregs.[h]

9 As for me, I will declare this forever;
I will sing praise to the God of Jacob.
10 I will cut off the horns of all the wicked, but the horns of the righteous will be lifted up.[i]

75:1 [c] Ps 145:18
75:4 [d] Zec 1:21
75:7 [e] Ps 50:6 [f] 1Sa 2:7; Da 2:21
75:8 [g] Pr 23:30 [h] Jer 25:15
75:10 [i] Ps 89:17; 148:14

PSALM 76

For the director of music. With stringed instruments. A psalm of Asaph. A song.

Theme: A call for God to punish evildoers. Even man's angry revolt will be used by God to bring glory to himself.
Author: Asaph

1 In Judah God is known;
his name is great in Israel.
2 His tent is in Salem,
his dwelling place in Zion.
3 There he broke the flashing arrows, the shields and the swords, the weapons of war.[i] Selah

76:3 [i] Ps 46:9

75:2 God will act when he is ready. Children have difficulty grasping the concept of time. "It's not time yet" is not a reason they easily understand because they only comprehend the present. As limited human beings, we can't understand God's perspective about time. We want everything now, unaware that God's timing is better. When God is ready, he will do what needs to be done, not what we would like him to do. We may be as impatient as children, but we must not doubt the wisdom of God's timing. Wait for God to reveal his plan. Don't take matters into your own hands.

75:8 The cup of wine represents God's judgment. The judgment of God is coming against the wicked. God will pour out his fury on his enemies, and they will be forced to drink it. Drinking the cup of God's judgment is a picture used frequently in Scripture (Isaiah 51:17, 22; Jeremiah 25:15; 49:12; Habakkuk 2:16; Revelation 14:10; 16:19; 18:6). It gives the impression of taking a dose of one's own medicine. To drink it down to the dregs means to be punished completely.

76:1ff This psalm praises God for his awesome power. It was most likely written to celebrate the defeat of Sennacherib's army after he invaded Judah (see 2 Kings 18:13–19, 37).

4You are resplendent with light, more majestic than mountains rich with game.
5Valiant men lie plundered, they sleep their last sleep;
not one of the warriors can lift his hands.
6At your rebuke, O God of Jacob, both horse and chariot[k] lie still.
7You alone are to be feared.
Who can stand before you when you are angry?[l] 8From heaven you pronounced judgment, and the land feared and was quiet—9when you, O God, rose up to judge,[m] to save all the afflicted of the land. Selah 10Surely your wrath against men brings you praise, and the survivors of your wrath are restrained.[h]

11Make vows to the LORD your God and fulfill them; let all the neighboring lands
bring gifts to the One to be feared.
12He breaks the spirit of rulers;
he is feared by the kings of the earth.

76:6 [k] Ex 15:1

76:7 [l] Na 1:6

76:9 [m] Ps 9:8

PSALM 77

For the director of music. For Jeduthun. Of Asaph. A psalm.

Theme: We are comforted through the hard times by remembering God's help in the past. Recalling God's miracles and previous works can give us courage to continue.
Author: Asaph

1I cried out to God for help;
I cried out to God to hear me.
2When I was in distress, I sought the Lord;
at night I stretched out untiring hands and my soul refused to be comforted.

3I remembered you, O God, and I groaned;
I mused, and my spirit grew faint. Selah 4You kept my eyes from closing;
I was too troubled to speak.
5I thought about the former days,[n]
the years of long ago;
6I remembered my songs in the night.
My heart mused and my spirit inquired:

7"Will the Lord reject forever?
Will he never show his favor[o] again?
8Has his unfailing love vanished forever?

77:5 [n] Dt 32:7; Ps 143:5

77:7 [o] Ps 85:1

[h] 10 Or Surely the wrath of men brings you praise, / and with the remainder of wrath you arm yourself

76:10 How can wrath bring praise to God? Hostility to God and his people gives God the opportunity to do great deeds. For example, the Pharaoh of Egypt refused to free the Hebrew slaves (Exodus 5:1, 2) and thus allowed God to work mighty miracles for his people (Exodus 11:9). God turns the tables on evildoers and brings glory to himself from the foolishness of those who deny him or revolt against him. God's wrath expressed in judgment brings praise from those who have been delivered.

77:1–12 Asaph cried out to God for courage during a time of deep distress. The source of Asaph's distress (77:4) was his doubt (77:7–9). He pled, "I cried out to God for help." But in 77:13–20, the "I" is gone. As Asaph expressed his requests to God, his focus changed from thinking of himself to worshiping God: "You are the God who performs miracles" (77:14). Only after he put aside his doubts about God's holiness and care for him (77:13, 14) did he eliminate his distress (77:20). As we pray to God, he shifts our focus from ourselves to him.

Has his promise failed for all time?
9Has God forgotten to be merciful?
Has he in anger withheld his compassion?[p]" Selah

77:9
[p] Isa 49:15

10Then I thought, "To this I will appeal:
the years of the right hand of the Most High."
11I will remember the deeds of the LORD;
yes, I will remember your miracles of long ago.
12I will meditate on all your works and consider all your mighty deeds.

13Your ways, O God, are holy.
What god is so great as our God?[q]

77:13
[q] Ex 15:11

14You are the God who performs miracles;
you display your power among the peoples.
15With your mighty arm you redeemed your people,[r]
the descendants of Jacob and Joseph. Selah

77:15
[r] Ex 6:6

16The waters[s] saw you, O God,
the waters saw you and writhed;
the very depths were convulsed.

77:16
[s] Ex 14:21, 28

17The clouds poured down water,
the skies resounded with thunder;
your arrows flashed back and forth.
18Your thunder was heard in the whirlwind, your lightning lit up the world;
the earth trembled and quaked.
19Your path led through the sea,
your way through the mighty waters,
though your footprints were not seen.

20You led your people[t] like a flock[u]
by the hand of Moses and Aaron.

77:20
[t] Ex 13:21
[u] Isa 63:11

PSALM 78

A maskil[1] of Asaph.

Theme: Lessons from history. Asaph retells the history of the Jewish nation from the time of slavery in Egypt to David's reign. It was told over and over to each generation so they would not forget God and make the same mistakes as their ancestors.
Author: Asaph

1O my people, hear my teaching;[v]
listen to the words of my mouth.

78:1
[v] Isa 51:4

2I will open my mouth in parables,[w]
I will utter hidden things, things from of old—

78:2
[w] Mt 13:35*

3what we have heard and known,
what our fathers have told us.
4We will not hide them from their children;

[1] Title: Probably a literary or musical term

77:11, 12 Memories of God's miracles and faithfulness sustained Israel through their difficulties. They knew that God was capable and trustworthy. When you meet new trials, review how good God has been to you, and this will strengthen your faith.

77:16 This statement refers to the miraculous parting of the Red Sea. This great event is mentioned many times in the Old Testament (Exodus 14:21, 22; Joshua 24:6; Nehemiah 9:9; Psalm 74:13; 106:9; 136:13–15). The story of this incredible miracle was handed down from generation to generation, reminding the Israelites of God's power, protection, and love.

78:1ff The people of Israel rebelled and were not faithful to God (78:8); forgot about the wonders God had done (78:11, 12); put God to the test by making demands from him (78:18); lied to him and tried to flatter him (78:36); and continued to turn away from him even after he did great works on their behalf (78:42–56). This is recorded in God's Word so that we can avoid the same errors. In 1 Corinthians 10:5–12, Paul used this classic story of Israel's unfaithfulness to warn the early Christians to be faithful.

we will tell the next generation
the praiseworthy deeds of the LORD, his power, and the wonders he has done.
5He decreed statutes for Jacob[x]
and established the law in Israel, which he commanded our forefathers to teach their children, 6so the next generation would know them, even the children yet to be born,[y]
and they in turn would tell their children.
7Then they would put their trust in God and would not forget his deeds but would keep his commands.
8They would not be like their forefathers—
a stubborn[z] and rebellious generation, whose hearts were not loyal to God,
whose spirits were not faithful to him.

9The men of Ephraim, though armed with bows, turned back on the day of battle;
10they did not keep God's covenant and refused to live by his law.
11They forgot what he had done,[a]
the wonders he had shown them.
12He did miracles in the sight of their fathers in the land of Egypt, in the region of Zoan.[b] 13He divided the sea[c] and led them through;
he made the water stand firm like a wall.[d] 14He guided them with the cloud by day and with light from the fire all night.[e] 15He split the rocks[f] in the desert and gave them water as abundant as the seas; 16he brought streams out of a rocky crag and made water flow down like rivers.

17But they continued to sin[g] against him, rebelling in the desert against the Most High.
18They willfully put God to the test
by demanding the food they craved.
19They spoke against God, saying,
"Can God spread a table in the desert?
20When he struck the rock, water gushed out,[h] and streams flowed abundantly.
But can he also give us food?
Can he supply meat for his people?"
21When the LORD heard them, he was very angry;
his fire broke out[i] against Jacob,
and his wrath rose against Israel,

78:5 [x]Ps 147:19
78:6 [y]Ps 22:31
78:8 [z]Ex 32:9
78:11 [a]Ps 106:13
78:12 [b]Nu 13:22
78:13 [c]Ex 14:21 [d]Ex 15:8 78:14 [e]Ex 13:21
78:15 [f]Nu 20:11
78:17 [g]Heb 3:16
78:20 [h]Nu 20:11
78:21 [i]Nu 11:1

78:5 God commanded that the stories of his mighty acts in Israel's history and his laws be passed on from parents to children. This shows the purpose and importance of religious education—to help each generation obey God and set their hope on him. It is important to keep children from repeating the same mistakes as their ancestors. What are you doing to pass on the history of God's work to the next generation?

78:9, 10 Ephraim was the most prominent tribe of Israel from the days of Moses to Saul's time. The tabernacle was set up in its territory. There is no other Biblical record of Ephraim's soldiers turning back from battle, so this is probably a metaphor referring to Ephraim's failure to provide strong leadership during those years. When David became king, the tribe of Judah gained prominence. Because of David's faith and obedience, God chose Jerusalem in Judah to be the place for the new temple and rejected Ephraim (78:67). This caused tension between the two tribes. This psalm may have been written because of that tension in order to demonstrate once again why God chose Judah. God works through those who are faithful to him.

22 for they did not believe in God or trust[j] in his deliverance.
23 Yet he gave a command to the skies above and opened the doors of the heavens; 24 he rained down manna[k] for the people to eat,
he gave them the grain of heaven.
25 Men ate the bread of angels;
he sent them all the food they could eat.
26 He let loose the east wind[l] from the heavens and led forth the south wind by his power.
27 He rained meat down on them like dust, flying birds like sand on the seashore.
28 He made them come down inside their camp,
all around their tents.
29 They ate till they had more than enough,[m] for he had given them what they craved.
30 But before they turned from the food they craved, even while it was still in their mouths, 31 God's anger rose against them;
he put to death the sturdiest among them,
cutting down the young men of Israel.

32 In spite of all this, they kept on sinning;
in spite of his wonders, they did not believe.
33 So he ended their days in futility[n]
and their years in terror.
34 Whenever God slew them, they would seek[o] him;
they eagerly turned to him again.
35 They remembered that God was their Rock, that God Most High was their Redeemer.
36 But then they would flatter him with their mouths,[p] lying to him with their tongues; 37 their hearts were not loyal to him,
they were not faithful to his covenant.
38 Yet he was merciful;
he forgave[q] their iniquities and did not destroy them.
Time after time he restrained his anger and did not stir up his full wrath.
39 He remembered that they were but flesh,
a passing breeze[r] that does not return.
40 How often they rebelled against him in the desert[s] and grieved him in the wasteland!
41 Again and again they put God to the test;
they vexed the Holy One of Israel.
42 They did not remember his power—
the day he redeemed them from the oppressor, 43 the day he displayed his miraculous signs in Egypt,
his wonders in the region of Zoan.
44 He turned their rivers to blood;[t]
they could not drink from their streams.
45 He sent swarms of flies[u] that devoured them,
and frogs[v] that devastated them.

78:22 [j] Heb 3:19
78:24 [k] Jn 6:31*
78:26 [l] Nu 11:31
78:29 [m] Nu 11:20
78:33 [n] Nu 14:29, 35
78:34 [o] Hos 5:15
78:36 [p] Eze 33:31
78:38 [q] Isa 48:10
78:39 [r] Job 7:7
78:40 [s] Ps 95:8
78:44 [t] Ex 7:20-21
78:45 [u] Ex 8:24; Ps 105:31
[v] Ex 8:2, 6

78:36, 37 Over and over the children of Israel claimed that they would follow God, but then they turned away from him. The problem was that they followed God with words and not with their hearts; thus their repentance was empty. Talk is cheap. God wants our conduct to back up our spiritual claims and promises.

46 He gave their crops to the grasshopper, their produce to the locust.
47 He destroyed their vines with hail[w]
and their sycamore-figs with sleet.
48 He gave over their cattle to the hail,
their livestock to bolts of lightning.
49 He unleashed against them his hot anger, his wrath, indignation and hostility—
a band of destroying angels.
50 He prepared a path for his anger;
he did not spare them from death
but gave them over to the plague.
51 He struck down all the firstborn of Egypt,
the firstfruits of manhood in the tents of Ham.
52 But he brought his people out like a flock;[x]
he led them like sheep through the desert.
53 He guided them safely, so they were unafraid;
but the sea engulfed[y] their enemies.
54 Thus he brought them to the border of his holy land, to the hill country his right hand[z] had taken.
55 He drove out nations[a] before them and allotted their lands to them as an inheritance;
he settled the tribes of Israel in their homes.

56 But they put God to the test and rebelled against the Most High;
they did not keep his statutes.
57 Like their fathers[b] they were disloyal and faithless, as unreliable as a faulty bow.
58 They angered him with their high places;
they aroused his jealousy with their idols.
59 When God heard them, he was very angry;
he rejected Israel completely.
60 He abandoned the tabernacle of Shiloh,
the tent he had set up among men.
61 He sent ⌞the ark of⌟ his might into captivity, his splendor into the hands of the enemy.
62 He gave his people over to the sword;
he was very angry with his inheritance.
63 Fire consumed their young men, and their maidens had no wedding songs;[c] 64 their priests were put to the sword,[d] and their widows could not weep.

65 Then the Lord awoke as from sleep,
as a man wakes from the stupor of wine.
66 He beat back his enemies;
he put them to everlasting shame.[e] 67 Then he rejected the tents of Joseph,
he did not choose the tribe of Ephraim;
68 but he chose the tribe of Judah,
Mount Zion, which he loved.
69 He built his sanctuary like the heights,
like the earth that he established forever.
70 He chose David[f] his servant

78:47 [w] Ex 9:23
78:52 [x] Ps 77:20
78:53 [y] Ex 14:28
78:54 [z] Ps 44:3
78:55 [a] Ps 44:2
78:57 [b] Eze 20:27
78:63 [c] Jer 7:34
78:64 [d] 1Sa 4:17
78:66 [e] 1Sa 5:6
78:70 [f] 1Sa 16:1

78:51 This was the Passover described in Exodus 12:29, 30 when all the firstborn of the Egyptians were slain. The "tents of Ham" refers to Noah's second son, who was the ancestor of the Egyptians. Ham is sometimes used as a synonym for Egypt.

and took him from the sheep pens;
71 from tending the sheep he brought him to be the shepherd of his people Jacob,
of Israel his inheritance.
72 And David shepherded them with integrity of heart; with skillful hands he led them.

PSALM 79

A psalm of Asaph.

Theme: When outraged by injustice, cry out to God, not against him. In times of disaster, our mood may be anger, but our trust must remain in God.
Author: Asaph (or one of his descendants), probably written after the Babylonians had leveled Jerusalem (see 2 Kings 25)

1 O God, the nations have invaded your inheritance;
they have defiled your holy temple,
they have reduced Jerusalem to rubble.
2 They have given the dead bodies of your servants as food to the birds of the air, the flesh of your saints to the beasts of the earth.[g] 3 They have poured out blood like water
all around Jerusalem,
and there is no one to bury the dead.
4 We are objects of reproach to our neighbors, of scorn and derision to those around us.

5 How long,[h] O LORD? Will you be angry[i] forever?
How long will your jealousy burn like fire?[j]
6 Pour out your wrath on the nations that do not acknowledge[k] you, on the kingdoms
that do not call on your name;
7 for they have devoured Jacob and destroyed his homeland.
8 Do not hold against us the sins of the fathers;
may your mercy come quickly to meet us,
for we are in desperate need.

9 Help us, O God our Savior, for the glory of your name;
deliver us and forgive our sins for your name's sake.[l] 10 Why should the nations say,
"Where is their God?"
Before our eyes, make known among the nations

79:2 [g] Jer 7:33

79:5 [h] Ps 74:10 [i] Ps 74:1 [j] Zep 3:8

79:6 [k] Jer 10:25

79:9 [l] Jer 14:7

78:71, 72 Although David had been on the throne when this psalm was written, he is called a shepherd and not a king. Shepherding, a common profession in Biblical times, was a highly responsible job. The flocks were completely dependent upon shepherds for guidance, provision, and protection. David had spent his early years as a shepherd (1 Samuel 16:10, 11). This was a training ground for the future responsibilities God had in store for him. When he was ready, God took him from caring for sheep to caring for Israel, God's people. Don't treat your present situation lightly or irresponsibly; it may be God's training ground for your future.

79:6 According to the Old Testament, God's wrath and judgment often fell on entire nations because of the sins of people within those nations. Here Asaph pled for judgment on kingdoms that refused to acknowledge God's authority. Ironically, Asaph's own nation of Judah was being judged by God for refusing to do this very thing (2 Chronicles 36:14–20). These were people who had sworn allegiance to God but were now rejecting him. This made their judgment even worse.

79:10 In the end, God's glory will be evident to all people, but in the meantime, we must endure suffering with patience and allow God to strengthen our character through it. For reasons that we do not know, pagan people often are allowed to scoff at believers. We should be prepared for criticism, jokes, and unkind remarks because God does not place us beyond the attacks of scoffers.

that you avenge the outpoured blood of your servants.
11 May the groans of the prisoners come before you;
by the strength of your arm preserve those condemned to die.

12 Pay back into the laps[m] of our neighbors seven times[n]
the reproach they have hurled at you, O Lord.
13 Then we your people, the sheep of your pasture,[o]
will praise you forever;
from generation to generation
we will recount your praise.

79:12
[m] Isa 65:6; Jer 32:18
[n] Ge 4:15

79:13
[o] Ps 74:1

PSALM 80

For the director of music. To the tune of "The Lilies of the Covenant." Of Asaph. A psalm.

Theme: A prayer for revival and restoration after experiencing destruction. God is our only hope for salvation.
Author: Asaph (or one of his descendants), probably written after the northern kingdom of Israel was defeated and its people deported to Assyria

1 Hear us, O Shepherd of Israel, you who lead Joseph like a flock;
you who sit enthroned between the cherubim, shine forth
2 before Ephraim, Benjamin and Manasseh.
Awaken your might;
come and save us.

3 Restore[p] us,[q] O God;
make your face shine upon us,

80:3
[p] La 5:21
[q] Nu 6:25

PRAYER IN THE BOOK OF PSALMS

Prayer is human communication with God. Psalms could be described as a collection of song-prayers. Probably the most striking feature of these prayers is their unedited honesty. The words often express our own feelings—feelings that we would prefer no one, much less God, ever knew. Making these psalms our prayers can teach us a great deal about how God wants us to communicate with him. Too often we give God a watered-down version of our feelings, hoping we won't offend him or make him curious about our motives. As we use the psalms to express our feelings, we learn that honesty, openness, and sincerity are valuable to God.

Following are several types of prayers with examples from Psalms. Note that the psalm writers communicated with God in a variety of ways for a variety of reasons. Each of us is invited to communicate with God. Using the psalms will enrich your personal prayer life.

Prayers of:	Psalms:
Praise to God	100; 113; 117
Thanksgiving by a community	67; 75; 136
Thanksgiving by an individual	18; 30; 32
Request by the community	79; 80; 123
Request by an individual	3; 55; 86
Sorrow by the community	44; 74; 137
Sorrow by an individual	5; 6; 120
Anger	35; 109; 140
Confession	6; 32; 51
Faith	11; 16; 23

80:1 Cherubim are mighty angels.

80:3, 7, 19 Three times the writer calls on God to "restore us." Before restoration must come repentance, turning away from sin. Repentance involves humbling ourselves and turning to God to receive his forgiveness. As we turn to God, he helps us see ourselves, including our sin, more clearly. Then, as we see our sin, we must repeat the process of repentance. Only then can we constantly be restored to fellowship with God.

that we may be saved.

4 O LORD God Almighty,
how long will your anger smolder against the prayers of your people?
5 You have fed them with the bread of tears;
you have made them drink tears by the bowlful.
6 You have made us a source of contention to our neighbors, and our enemies mock us.

7 Restore us, O God Almighty;
make your face shine upon us,
that we may be saved.

8 You brought a vine out of Egypt;
you drove out the nations and planted it.
9 You cleared the ground for it, and it took root and filled the land.
10 The mountains were covered with its shade,
the mighty cedars with its branches.
11 It sent out its boughs to the Sea,[j] its shoots as far as the River.[k]

12 Why have you broken down its walls so that all who pass by pick its grapes?
13 Boars from the forest ravage it and the creatures of the field feed on it.
14 Return to us, O God Almighty!
Look down from heaven and see!
Watch over this vine,
15 the root your right hand has planted,
the son[l] you have raised up for yourself.

16 Your vine is cut down, it is burned with fire;
at your rebuke your people perish.
17 Let your hand rest on the man at your right hand,
the son of man you have raised up for yourself.
18 Then we will not turn away from you;
revive us, and we will call on your name.

19 Restore us, O LORD God Almighty; make your face shine upon us,
that we may be saved.

PSALM 81

For the director of music. According to gittith.[m] Of Asaph.

Theme: A holiday hymn. This hymn celebrates the exodus from Egypt—God's goodness versus Israel's waywardness. God is our deliverer in spite of our wanderings.
Author: Asaph, probably written to be used during the Feast of Tabernacles

1 Sing for joy to God our strength;
shout aloud to the God of Jacob!

[j] 11 Probably the Mediterranean [k] 11 That is, the Euphrates [l] 15 Or branch [m] Title: Probably a musical term

---

80:17 "The man at your right hand" is probably not the Messiah, but Israel, whom God calls elsewhere his "firstborn son" (Exodus 4:22). The psalmist is making a plea that God would restore his mercy to Israel, the people he chose to bring his message into the world.

81:1–5 Israel's holidays reminded the nation of God's great miracles. They were times of rejoicing and times to renew one's strength for life's daily struggles. At Christmas, do your thoughts revolve mostly around presents? Is Easter only a warm anticipation of spring and Thanksgiving only a good meal? Remember the spiritual origins of these special days, and use them as opportunities

2Begin the music, strike the tambourine, play the melodious harp and lyre.

3Sound the ram's horn at the New Moon, and when the moon is full, on the day of our Feast; 4this is a decree for Israel,
an ordinance of the God of Jacob.
5He established it as a statute for Joseph when he went out against Egypt, where we heard a language we did not understand.[n]

6He says, "I removed the burden from their shoulders;
their hands were set free from the basket.
7In your distress you called[r] and I rescued you,
I answered[s] you out of a thundercloud;
I tested you at the waters of Meribah.[t] Selah

8"Hear, O my people,[u] and I will warn you — if you would but listen to me, O Israel!
9You shall have no foreign god[v] among you;
you shall not bow down to an alien god.
10I am the LORD your God,
who brought you up out of Egypt.
Open wide your mouth and I will fill it.

11"But my people would not listen to me;
Israel would not submit to me.
12So I gave them over[w] to their stubborn hearts to follow their own devices.

13"If my people would but listen to me,[x]
if Israel would follow my ways, 14how quickly would I subdue their enemies and turn my hand against their foes!
15Those who hate the LORD would cringe before him,
and their punishment would last forever.
16But you would be fed with the finest of wheat;[y] with honey from the rock I would satisfy you."

81:7 [r]Ex 2:23 [s]Ex 19:19 [t]Ex 17:7
81:8 [u]Ps 50:7
81:9 [v]Ex 20:3
81:12 [w]Ac 7:42
81:13 [x]Dt 5:29
81:16 [y]Dt 32:14

PSALM 82

A psalm of Asaph.

Theme: A fair judge. God will judge the wicked who have unfairly treated others.
Author: Asaph

1God presides in the great assembly;
he gives judgment among the "gods":

2"How long will you[o] defend the unjust and show partiality[z] to the wicked? Selah

82:2 [z]Dt 1:17

[n] 5 Or / and we heard a voice we had not known [o] 2 The Hebrew is plural.

---

to worship God for his goodness to you, your family, and your nation.

81:2–4 David instituted music for the temple worship services (1 Chronicles 25). Music and worship go hand in hand. Worship should involve the whole person, and music helps lift a person's thoughts and emotions to God. Through music we can reflect upon our needs and shortcomings as well as celebrate God's greatness.

81:11, 12 God let the Israelites go on blindly, stubbornly, and selfishly, when they should have been obeying and pursuing God's desires. God sometimes lets us continue in our stubbornness to bring us to our senses. He does not keep us from rebelling, because he wants us to learn the consequences of sin. He uses these experiences to turn people away from greater sin to faith in him.

81:13–16 God had provided in his covenant that he would restore his people if they would listen to him and return to him (Exodus 23:22–27; Leviticus 26:3–13; Deuteronomy 7:12–26; 28:1–14).

3 Defend the cause of the weak and fatherless;
maintain the rights of the poor and oppressed.
4 Rescue the weak and needy;
deliver them from the hand of the wicked.

5 "They know nothing, they understand nothing.
They walk about in darkness;
all the foundations[a] of the earth are shaken.

6 "I said, 'You are "gods";[b]
you are all sons of the Most High.'
7 But you will die[c] like mere men;
you will fall like every other ruler."

8 Rise up, O God, judge the earth, for all the nations are your inheritance.[d]

82:5 [a] Ps 11:3
82:6 [b] Jn 10:34*
82:7 [c] Ps 49:12
82:8 [d] Ps 2:8

PSALM 83

A song. A psalm of Asaph.

Theme: Combatting God's enemies. This psalm is a prayer for God to do whatever it takes to convince the world that he is indeed God. Someday all will recognize and admit that God is in charge.
Author: Asaph (or one of his descendants)

1 O God, do not keep silent;[e] be not quiet, O God, be not still.
2 See how your enemies are astir,[f]
how your foes rear their heads.
3 With cunning they conspire against your people;
they plot against those you cherish.
4 "Come," they say, "let us destroy them as a nation, that the name of Israel be remembered no more."

5 With one mind they plot together;
they form an alliance against you—6 the tents of Edom and the Ishmaelites, of Moab[g] and the Hagrites, 7 Gebal, Ammon and Amalek,
Philistia, with the people of Tyre.
8 Even Assyria has joined them to lend strength to the descendants of Lot. Selah

9 Do to them as you did to Midian, as you did to Sisera and Jabin at the river Kishon, 10 who perished at Endor

83:1 [e] Ps 28:1
83:2 [f] Ps 2:1
83:6 [g] 2Ch 20:1

[p] 7 That is, Byblos

82:6 This psalm calls the rulers and judges of Israel "gods" and "sons of the Most High." They were called gods because they represented God in executing judgment. John 10:34–36 records Jesus using this passage to defend his claims to be God. His argument was as follows: if God would call mere men "gods," why was it blasphemous for him, the true Son of God, to declare himself equal with God?

83:5–8 This alliance against God may refer to the gathering of certain kings to fight against Jehoshaphat and the people of Judah (2 Chronicles 20). The psalm's author is called Asaph, but this can mean Asaph or one of his descendants. A descendant of Asaph named Jahaziel prophesied victory for Judah in the battle against Jehoshaphat (2 Chronicles 20:13–17). The psalmist says the alliance against Judah is really against God. Thus Jahaziel exclaimed, "The battle is not yours, but God's" (2 Chronicles 20:15). God is "the Most High over all the earth" (83:18), and the enemies of Israel were considered God's enemies.

83:6 The Hagrites may have been the descendants of Hagar (Genesis 21:8–21).

83:8–11 The "descendants of Lot" refers to the Moabites and Ammonites (Genesis 19:36–38). Sisera was the commander of the army of the oppressive Canaanite King Jabin. He was killed by a woman (see Judges 4 for the complete story). (For the story of Oreb and Zeeb, see Judges 7:25; for Zebah and Zalmunna, see Judges 8:21.)

and became like refuse on the ground.
11 Make their nobles like Oreb and Zeeb,
all their princes like Zebah and Zalmunna, 12 who said, "Let us take possession of the pasturelands of God."

13 Make them like tumbleweed, O my God, like chaff before the wind.
14 As fire consumes the forest or a flame sets the mountains ablaze,[h] 15 so pursue them with your tempest and terrify them with your storm.
16 Cover their faces with shame
so that men will seek your name, O LORD.

17 May they ever be ashamed and dismayed;
may they perish in disgrace.
18 Let them know that you, whose name is the LORD—that you alone are the Most High over all the earth.

83:14
[h] Dt 32:22

PSALM 84

For the director of music. According to gittith.[q] Of the Sons of Korah. A psalm.

Theme: God's living presence is our greatest joy. His radiant presence helps us grow in strength, grace, and glory.
Author: The sons of Korah (temple assistants)

84:1
[i] Ps 27:4

1 How lovely is your dwelling place,[i]
O LORD Almighty!
2 My soul yearns, even faints,
for the courts of the LORD;
my heart and my flesh cry out for the living God.

3 Even the sparrow has found a home,
and the swallow a nest for herself, where she may have her young—
a place near your altar,
O LORD Almighty, my King and my God.
4 Blessed are those who dwell in your house;
they are ever praising you. Selah

5 Blessed are those whose strength is in you, who have set their hearts on pilgrimage.
6 As they pass through the Valley of Baca,

[q] Title: Probably a musical term

83:13–18 Surrounding Judah were pagan nations that sought Judah's downfall. The psalmist prayed that God would blow these nations away like chaff before the wind until they recognized that the Lord is above all rulers of the earth. Sometimes we must be humbled by adversity before we will look up and see the Lord; we must be defeated before we can have the ultimate victory. Wouldn't it be better to seek the Lord in times of prosperity than to wait until his judgment is upon us?

84:1, 4 The writer longed to get away from the bustling world to meet God inside his dwelling place, his holy temple. We can meet God anywhere, at any time. But we know that going into a church building can help us step aside from the busy mainstream of life so we can quietly meditate and pray. We find joy not only in the beautiful building but also in the prayers, music, lessons, sermons, and fellowship.

84:5–7 The pilgrimage to the temple passed through the barren Valley of Baca. No specific valley has been identified with Baca. Because Baca can mean "weeping," it may have been a symbolic reference to the times of struggles and tears through which people must pass on their way to meet God. Growing strong in God's presence is often preceded by a journey through barren places in our lives. The person who loves to spend time with God will see his or her adversity as an opportunity to re-experience God's faithfulness. If you are walking through your own Valley of Baca today, be sure your pilgrimage leads toward God, not away from him.

they make it a place of springs;
the autumn rains also cover it with pools.[r] 7They go from strength to strength, till each appears[j] before God in Zion.

84:7 [j]Dt 16:16

8Hear my prayer, O LORD God Almighty; listen to me, O God of Jacob. Selah 9Look upon our shield,[s] O God;
look with favor on your anointed one.

10Better is one day in your courts than a thousand elsewhere;
I would rather be a doorkeeper in the house of my God than dwell in the tents of the wicked.
11For the LORD God is a sun[k] and shield;[l]
the LORD bestows favor and honor;
no good thing does he withhold[m]
from those whose walk is blameless.

84:11 [k]Isa 60:19 [l]Ge 15:1 [m]Ps 34:10

12O LORD Almighty,
blessed[n] is the man who trusts in you.

84:12 [n]Ps 2:12

PSALM 85

For the director of music. Of the Sons of Korah. A psalm.

Theme: From reverence to restoration. Reverence leads to forgiveness, restoring our love and joy for God.
Author: The sons of Korah (temple assistants)

1You showed favor to your land, O LORD;
you restored the fortunes of Jacob.
2You forgave the iniquity of your people and covered all their sins. Selah 3You set aside all your wrath and turned from your fierce anger.[o]

85:3 [o]Dt 13:17

4Restore us again, O God our Savior, and put away your displeasure toward us.
5Will you be angry with us forever?
Will you prolong your anger through all generations?
6Will you not revive us again,
that your people may rejoice in you?
7Show us your unfailing love, O LORD, and grant us your salvation.

8I will listen to what God the LORD will say;
he promises peace to his people, his saints—
but let them not return to folly.
9Surely his salvation[p] is near those who fear him, that his glory[q] may dwell in our land.

85:9 [p]Isa 46:13 [q]Zec 2:5

10Love and faithfulness meet together; righteousness[r] and peace kiss each other.

85:10 [r]Ps 72:2-3; Isa 32:17

[r] 6 Or blessings [s] 9 Or sovereign

84:11 God does not promise to give us everything we think is good, but he will not withhold what is permanently good. He will give us the means to walk along his paths, but we must do the walking. When we obey him, he will not hold anything back that will help us serve him.

85:6, 7 The psalmist was asking God to revive his people, bringing them back to spiritual life. God is capable of reviving both churches and individuals. He can pour out his love on us, renewing our love for him. If you need revival in your church, family, or personal spiritual life, ask God to give you a fresh touch of his love.

11 Faithfulness springs forth from the earth, and righteousness looks down from heaven.
12 The LORD will indeed give what is good,[s] and our land will yield its harvest.
13 Righteousness goes before him and prepares the way for his steps.

85:12
[s] Ps 84:11; Jas 1:17

PSALM 86

A prayer of David.

Theme: Devoted trust in times of deep trouble
Author: David

1 Hear, O LORD, and answer me,
for I am poor and needy.
2 Guard my life, for I am devoted to you.
You are my God; save your servant who trusts in you.
3 Have mercy[t] on me, O Lord, for I call to you all day long.
4 Bring joy to your servant,
for to you, O Lord,
I lift[u] up my soul.

86:3
[t] Ps 57:1

86:4
[u] Ps 143:8

5 You are forgiving and good, O Lord, abounding in love[v] to all who call to you.
6 Hear my prayer, O LORD;
listen to my cry for mercy.
7 In the day of my trouble I will call to you,
for you will answer me.

86:5
[v] Ps 145:8; Joel 2:13

8 Among the gods there is none like you, O Lord;
no deeds can compare with yours.
9 All the nations you have made will come and worship[w] before you, O Lord;
they will bring glory to your name.
10 For you are great and do marvelous deeds;[x]
you alone[y] are God.

86:9
[w] Rev 15:4

86:10
[x] Ps 72:18
[y] Dt 6:4; Mk 12:29

11 Teach me your way,[z] O LORD, and I will walk in your truth;
give me an undivided heart,
that I may fear your name.
12 I will praise you, O Lord my God, with all my heart;
I will glorify your name forever.
13 For great is your love toward me;
you have delivered me from the depths of the grave.[t]

86:11
[z] Ps 25:5

14 The arrogant are attacking me, O God;
a band of ruthless men seeks my life —

[t] 13 Hebrew Sheol

86:7 Sometimes our trouble or pain is so great that all we can do is cry out to God, "Guard my life" (86:2). And often, when there is no relief in sight, all we can do is acknowledge the greatness of God and wait for better days ahead. The conviction that God answers prayer will sustain us in such difficult times.

86:8–10 "There is none like you, O LORD." The God of the Bible is unique! He is alive and able to do mighty deeds for those who love him. All human-created deities are powerless because they are merely inventions of the mind, not living beings. The Lord alone is "worthy . . . to receive glory and honor and power" (Revelation 4:11). Although people believe in many gods, you need never fear that God is only one among many or that you may be worshiping the wrong God. The Lord alone is God.

men without regard for you.
15 But you, O Lord, are a compassionate and gracious God, slow to anger, abounding in love and faithfulness.
16 Turn to me and have mercy on me;
grant your strength to your servant and save the son of your maidservant.[u] 17 Give me a sign of your goodness, that my enemies may see it and be put to shame,
for you, O LORD, have helped me and comforted me.

PSALM 87

Of the Sons of Korah. A psalm. A song.

Theme: The city of God, where all believers will one day gather
Author: The sons of Korah (temple assistants)

1 He has set his foundation on the holy mountain;
2 the LORD loves the gates of Zion more than all the dwellings of Jacob.
3 Glorious things are said of you,
O city of God: Selah
4 "I will record Rahab[v] and Babylon among those who acknowledge me—Philistia too, and Tyre, along with Cush[w]— and will say, 'This[x] one was born in Zion.' "

5 Indeed, of Zion it will be said,
"This one and that one were born in her,
and the Most High himself will establish her."
6 The LORD will write in the register of the peoples:
"This one was born in Zion." Selah
7 As they make music they will sing,
"All my fountains are in you."

PSALM 88

A song. A psalm of the Sons of Korah. For the director of music. According to mahalath leannoth.[y] A maskil[z] of Heman the Ezrahite.

Theme: When there is no relief in sight. God understands even our deepest misery.
Author: Heman, one of the sons of Korah (possibly the same man mentioned in 1 Chronicles 15:19; 16:41; 25:4, 5 as a musician and the king's seer)

1 O LORD, the God who saves me, day and night I cry out before you.

[u] 16 Or save your faithful son [v] 4 A poetic name for Egypt [w] 4 That is, the upper Nile region [x] 4 Or "O Rahab and Babylon, / Philistia, Tyre and Cush, / I will record concerning those who acknowledge me: / 'This [y] Title: Possibly a tune, "The Suffering of Affliction" [z] Title: Probably a literary or musical term

---

86:17 It is right to pray for a sign of God's goodness. As David found, it may be just what we need. But let us not overlook the signs he has already given: the support of family and friends, the fellowship of other Christians, the light of each new day. And we can be confident that he knows our situation no matter how desperate it becomes, and he cares.

87:1ff Zion (the holy mountain, Jerusalem) and its temple here represent the future community of all believers. This psalm looks ahead to the Holy City of God described in Revelation 21:10–27. The honor of living there will be granted to all whose names are recorded in the Lamb's book of life (Revelation 21:27). It is God's grace that forms and sustains this wonderful community. How could anyone refuse God's offer to be part of this celebration?

87:4 Rahab is a name for a monster known in ancient Near East-

2 May my prayer come before you;
turn your ear to my cry.

3 For my soul is full of trouble and my life draws near the grave.[a] 4 I am counted among those who go down to the pit;
I am like a man without strength.
5 I am set apart with the dead,
like the slain who lie in the grave,
whom you remember no more,
who are cut off from your care.

6 You have put me in the lowest pit,
in the darkest depths.
7 Your wrath lies heavily upon me;
you have overwhelmed me with all your waves. Selah
8 You have taken from me my closest friends and have made me repulsive to them.
I am confined and cannot escape;
9 my eyes are dim with grief.

I call to you, O LORD, every day;
I spread out my hands to you.
10 Do you show your wonders to the dead?
Do those who are dead rise up and praise you? Selah
11 Is your love declared in the grave, your faithfulness in Destruction[b]?
12 Are your wonders known in the place of darkness, or your righteous deeds in the land of oblivion?

13 But I cry to you for help, O LORD;
in the morning my prayer comes before you.
14 Why, O LORD, do you reject me and hide your face from me?

15 From my youth I have been afflicted and close to death;
I have suffered your terrors and am in despair.
16 Your wrath has swept over me;
your terrors have destroyed me.
17 All day long they surround me like a flood;
they have completely engulfed me.
18 You have taken my companions and loved ones from me;
the darkness is my closest friend.

88:7 Ps 42:7
88:8 Job 19:13
88:9 Ps 143:6
88:10 Ps 6:5
88:13 Ps 5:3
88:14 Ps 13:1
88:15 Job 6:4
88:17 Ps 124:4

[a] 3 Hebrew Sheol [b] 11 Hebrew Abaddon

---

ern poetry as an enemy of God. Here the name is used to represent Egypt, a traditional enemy of God's people.

88:1ff Have you ever felt as though you have hit bottom? The psalmist is so low that he even despairs of life itself. Although everything is bad and getting worse, he is able to tell it all to God. This is one of the few psalms that gives no answer or expression of hope. Don't think that you must always be cheerful and positive. Grief and depression take time to heal. No matter how low we feel, we can always take our problems to God and express our anguish to him.

88:13, 14 When writing this, the psalmist was close to death, perhaps debilitated by disease, and forsaken by friends. But he could still pray. Perhaps you are not so afflicted, but you know someone who is. Consider being a prayer companion for that person. This psalm can be a prayer you can lift to God on his or her behalf.

PSALM 89

A maskil[c] of Ethan the Ezrahite.

Theme: God's promise to preserve David's descendants. God's promise is fulfilled in Jesus Christ, who will reign for eternity. The love and kindness promised to David is ours in Christ.
Author: Ethan (a Levite leader and possibly one of the head musicians in the temple, 1 Chronicles 15:17, 19), or one of his descendants

1 I will sing of the LORD's great love forever; with my mouth I will make your faithfulness known through all generations.
2 I will declare that your love stands firm forever, that you established your faithfulness in heaven itself.

3 You said, "I have made a covenant with my chosen one,
I have sworn to David my servant,
4 'I will establish your line forever and make your throne firm through all generations.' "[i] Selah

89:4 [i] Lk 1:33

5 The heavens[j] praise your wonders, O LORD, your faithfulness too, in the assembly of the holy ones.
6 For who in the skies above can compare with the LORD?
Who is like the LORD among the heavenly beings?
7 In the council of the holy ones God is greatly feared;
he is more awesome than all who surround him.
8 O LORD God Almighty, who is like you?
You are mighty, O LORD, and your faithfulness surrounds you.

89:5 [j] Ps 19:1

9 You rule over the surging sea;
when its waves mount up, you still them.[k] 10 You crushed Rahab like one of the slain;
with your strong arm you scattered your enemies.
11 The heavens are yours, and yours also the earth;
you founded the world and all that is in it.
12 You created the north and the south;
Tabor[l] and Hermon sing for joy at your name.
13 Your arm is endued with power;
your hand is strong, your right hand exalted.

89:9 [k] Ps 65:7

89:12 [l] Jos 19:22

14 Righteousness and justice are the foundation of your throne;
love and faithfulness go before you.
15 Blessed are those who have learned to acclaim you, who walk in the light of your presence, O LORD.
16 They rejoice in your name all day long;
they exult in your righteousness.
17 For you are their glory and strength,

[c] Title: Probably a literary or musical term

89:1ff This psalm was written to describe the glorious reign of David. God had promised to make David the mightiest king on earth and to keep his descendants on the throne forever (2 Samuel 7:8–16). But Jerusalem was destroyed, and kings no longer reign there. So these verses can only look forward, prophetically, to the future reign of Jesus Christ, David's descendant. Verse 27 is a prophecy concerning David's never-ending dynasty, which will reach its fulfillment and highest expression in Christ's future reign over the world (see Revelation 22:5).

89:5 The "assembly of the holy ones" generally refers to angels. In the courts of heaven, a host of angels praise the Lord. This scene is one of majesty and grandeur to show that God is beyond compare. His power and purity place him high above nature and angels. See Deuteronomy 33:2, Luke 2:13, and Hebrews 12:22 for more about angels.

89:12 This refers to Mount Tabor and Mount Hermon. Mount Tabor, though low in elevation (1,900 feet), was the scene of Deborah's victory in Judges 4. Mount Hermon (9,000 feet) was tall and majestic.

89:14, 15 Righteousness, justice, love, and faithfulness are the foundation of God's throne; they are fundamental aspects of the way God rules. As God's ambassadors, we should deal with people similarly. Make sure your actions flow out of righteousness, justice, love, and faithfulness because any unfair, unloving, or dishonest action cannot come from God.

89:17, 24 Horn refers to the horn of an animal, the symbol of its

and by your favor you exalt our horn.[d] 18 Indeed, our shield[e] belongs to the LORD, our king to the Holy One of Israel.

19 Once you spoke in a vision, to your faithful people you said:
"I have bestowed strength on a warrior;
I have exalted a young man from among the people.
20 I have found David my servant;
with my sacred oil I have anointed him.
21 My hand will sustain him;
surely my arm will strengthen him.
22 No enemy will subject him to tribute;
89:22 [m] 2Sa 7:10 no wicked man will oppress[m] him.
23 I will crush his foes before him
89:23 [n] 2Sa 7:9 and strike down his adversaries.[n]
24 My faithful love will be with him, and through my name his horn[f] will be exalted.
25 I will set his hand over the sea,
his right hand over the rivers.
26 He will call out to me, 'You are my Father,
89:26 [o] 2Sa 22:47 my God, the Rock my Savior.'[o]
27 I will also appoint him my firstborn,
89:27 [p] Nu 24:7 the most exalted[p] of the kings of the earth.
28 I will maintain my love to him forever, and my covenant with him will never fail.
29 I will establish his line forever, his throne as long as the heavens endure.

30 "If his sons forsake my law and do not follow my statutes, 31 if they violate my decrees and fail to keep my commands, 32 I will punish their sin with the rod, their iniquity with flogging;
89:33 [q] 2Sa 7:15 33 but I will not take my love from him,[q]
nor will I ever betray my faithfulness.
34 I will not violate my covenant or alter what my lips have uttered.
35 Once for all, I have sworn by my holiness—and I will not lie to David—36 that his line will continue forever and his throne endure before me like the sun; 37 it will be established forever like the moon,
the faithful witness in the sky." Selah

89:38 [r] 1Ch 28:9 38 But you have rejected,[r] you have spurned, you have been very angry with your anointed one.

[d] 17 Horn here symbolizes strong one. [e] 18 Or sovereign [f] 24 Horn here symbolizes strength.

power. In verse 17, horn means our strong one, our hope for the Messiah. In verse 24, David is promised to have God's power to accomplish God's will. Without God's help, we are weak and powerless, inadequate for even the simplest spiritual tasks. But when we are filled with God's Spirit, his power flows through us and our accomplishments will exceed our expectations.

89:34–37 In light of Israel's continual disobedience throughout history, this is an amazing promise. God promised that David's descendants would always sit on the throne (89:29), but that if the people disobeyed, they would be punished (89:30–32). Yet, even through their disobedience and punishment, God would never break faith with them (89:33). Israel did disobey, evil ran rampant, the nation was divided, exile came—but through it all, a remnant of God's people remained faithful. Centuries later, the Messiah arrived, the eternal King from David's line, just as God had promised. All that God promises, he fulfills. He will not take back even one word of what he says. God can also be trusted to save us as he promised he would (Hebrews 6:13–18). God is completely reliable.

39 You have renounced the covenant with your servant and have defiled his crown in the dust.[s] 40 You have broken through all his walls and reduced his strongholds to ruins.
41 All who pass by have plundered him;
he has become the scorn of his neighbors.[t] 42 You have exalted the right hand of his foes;
you have made all his enemies rejoice.
43 You have turned back the edge of his sword and have not supported him in battle.
44 You have put an end to his splendor and cast his throne to the ground.
45 You have cut short the days of his youth;
you have covered him with a mantle of shame. Selah

46 How long, O LORD? Will you hide yourself forever?
How long will your wrath burn like fire?[u]
47 Remember how fleeting is my life.[v]
For what futility you have created all men!
48 What man can live and not see death, or save himself from the power of the grave[g]?[w] Selah 49 O Lord, where is your former great love, which in your faithfulness you swore to David?
50 Remember, Lord, how your servant has[h] been mocked,[x]
how I bear in my heart the taunts of all the nations, 51 the taunts with which your enemies have mocked, O LORD, with which they have mocked every step of your anointed one.

52 Praise be to the LORD forever!
Amen and Amen.[y]

89:39 [s] La 5:16
89:41 [t] Ps 44:13
89:46 [u] Ps 79:5
89:47 [v] Job 7:7
89:48 [w] Ps 22:29
89:50 [x] Ps 69:19
89:52 [y] Ps 41:13

BOOK IV
Psalms 90:1 — 106:48

These psalms include a prayer of Moses, a psalm about oppressors, and a psalm praising God as our King. These psalms remind us that we should remember our place and be submissive before the almighty God.

PSALM 90

A prayer of Moses the man of God.

Theme: God's eternal nature is contrasted with man's frailty. Our time on earth is limited and we are to use it wisely, not living for the moment, but with our eternal home in mind.
Author: Moses, making this the oldest of the psalms

1 Lord, you have been our dwelling place throughout all generations.
2 Before the mountains were born or you brought forth the earth and the world, from everlasting to everlasting you are God.

3 You turn men back to dust, saying, "Return to dust, O sons of men."
4 For a thousand years in your sight

g 48 Hebrew Sheol h 50 Or your servants have 90:4 Moses reminds us that a thousand years are like a day to the Lord. God is not limited by time. It's easy to get discouraged when years pass and the world doesn't get better. We sometimes wonder if God is able to see the future. But don't assume that God has our limitations. God is completely unrestricted by time. Because he is eternal, we can depend on him.

are like a day that has just gone by, or like a watch in the night.[z] 5You sweep men away in the sleep of death;
they are like the new grass of the morning—6though in the morning it springs up new,
by evening it is dry and withered.

7We are consumed by your anger and terrified by your indignation.
8You have set our iniquities before you,
our secret sins[a] in the light of your presence.
9All our days pass away under your wrath;
we finish our years with a moan.
10The length of our days is seventy years—or eighty, if we have the strength;
yet their span[i] is but trouble and sorrow,
for they quickly pass, and we fly away.

11Who knows the power of your anger?
For your wrath is as great as the fear that is due you.
12Teach us to number our days[b] aright, that we may gain a heart of wisdom.

13Relent, O LORD! How long will it be?
Have compassion on your servants.[c] 14Satisfy us in the morning with your unfailing love, that we may sing for joy and be glad all our days.
15Make us glad for as many days as you have afflicted us, for as many years as we have seen trouble.
16May your deeds be shown to your servants, your splendor to their children.[d]

17May the favor[j] of the Lord our God rest upon us; establish the work of our hands for us—
yes, establish the work of our hands.[e]

90:4 [z] 2Pe 3:8
90:8 [a] Ps 19:12
90:12 [b] Ps 39:4
90:13 [c] Dt 32:36
90:16 [d] Hab 3:2
90:17 [e] Isa 26:12

PSALM 91

Theme: God's protection in the midst of danger. God doesn't promise a world free from danger, but he does promise his help whenever we face danger.
Author: Anonymous

1He who dwells in the shelter of the Most High will rest in the shadow of the Almighty.[k] 2I will say[l] of the LORD, "He is my refuge and my fortress, my God, in whom I trust."

[i] 10 Or yet the best of them [j] 17 Or beauty [k] 1 Hebrew Shaddai [l] 2 Or He says

90:8 God knows all our sins as if they were spread out before him, even the secret ones. We don't need to cover up our sins before him because we can talk openly and honestly with him. But while he knows all that terrible information about us, God still loves us and wants to forgive us. This should encourage us to come to him rather than frighten us into covering up our sin.

90:12 Realizing that life is short helps us use the little time we have more wisely and for eternal good. Take time to number your days by asking, "What do I want to see happen in my life before I die? What small step could I take toward that purpose today?"

90:17 Because our days are numbered, we want our work to count, to be effective and productive. We desire to see God's eternal plan revealed now and for our work to reflect his permanence. If we feel dissatisfied with this life and all its imperfections, remember our desire to see our work established is placed there by God (see the note on Ecclesiastes 3:11). But our desire can only be satisfied in eternity. Until then we must apply ourselves to loving and serving God.

91:1–6 God is a shelter, a refuge when we are afraid. The writer's faith in the Almighty God as Protector would carry him through all the dangers and fears of life. This should be a picture of our trust—trading all our fears for faith in him, no matter how intense our fears. To do this we must "dwell" and "rest" with him (91:1). By entrusting ourselves to his protection and pledging our daily devotion to him, we will be kept safe.

3Surely he will save you from the fowler's snare[f] and from the deadly pestilence.
4He will cover you with his feathers, and under his wings you will find refuge;
his faithfulness will be your shield and rampart.
5You will not fear the terror of night,
nor the arrow that flies by day, 6nor the pestilence that stalks in the darkness,
nor the plague that destroys at midday.
7A thousand may fall at your side,
ten thousand at your right hand,
but it will not come near you.
8You will only observe with your eyes and see the punishment of the wicked.

9If you make the Most High your dwelling—even the LORD, who is my refuge—10then no harm[g] will befall you, no disaster will come near your tent.
11For he will command his angels[h] concerning you to guard you in all your ways;[i] 12they will lift you up in their hands, so that you will not strike your foot against a stone.[j] 13You will tread upon the lion and the cobra;
you will trample the great lion and the serpent.

14"Because he loves me," says the LORD, "I will rescue him;
I will protect him, for he acknowledges my name.
15He will call upon me, and I will answer him;
I will be with him in trouble,
I will deliver him and honor him.[k] 16With long life will I satisfy him and show him my salvation."

91:3 [f]Ps 124:7

91:10 [g]Pr 12:21

91:11 [h]Heb 1:14 [i]Ps 34:7

91:12 [j]Mt 4:6*; Lk 4:10-11*

91:15 [k]1Sa 2:30

PSALM 92

A psalm. A song. For the Sabbath day.

Theme: Be thankful and faithful every day.
This psalm was used in temple services on the Sabbath.
Author: Anonymous

1It is good to praise the LORD and make music to your name,[l] O Most High, 2to proclaim your love in the morning and your faithfulness at night, 3to the music of the ten-stringed lyre and the melody of the harp.[m]
4For you make me glad by your deeds, O LORD;

92:1 [l]Ps 147:1

92:3 [m]Ps 33:2

91:11 One of the functions of angels is to watch over believers (Hebrews 1:14). There are examples of guardian angels in Scripture (1 Kings 19:5; Daniel 6:22; Matthew 18:10; Luke 16:22; Acts 12:7), although there is no indication that one angel is assigned to each believer. Angels can also be God's messengers (Matthew 2:13; Acts 27:23, 24). Angels are not visible, except on special occasions (Numbers 22:31; Luke 2:9). Verses 11 and 12 were quoted by Satan when he tempted Jesus (Matthew 4:6; Luke 4:10, 11). It is comforting to know that God watches over us even in times of great stress and fear.

92:1, 2 During the Thanksgiving holiday, we focus on our blessings and express our gratitude to God for them. But thanks should be on our lips every day. We can never say thank you enough to parents, friends, leaders, and especially to God. When thanksgiving becomes an integral part of your life, you will find that your attitude toward life will change. You will become more positive, gracious, loving, and humble.

I sing for joy at the works of your hands.
5How great are your works, O LORD, how profound your thoughts![n] 6The senseless man[o] does not know, fools do not understand, 7that though the wicked spring up like grass and all evildoers flourish,
they will be forever destroyed.

8But you, O LORD, are exalted forever.

9For surely your enemies, O LORD, surely your enemies will perish;
all evildoers will be scattered.[p] 10You have exalted my horn[m q] like that of a wild ox;
fine oils[r] have been poured upon me.
11My eyes have seen the defeat of my adversaries;
my ears have heard the rout of my wicked foes.[s]

12The righteous will flourish like a palm tree, they will grow like a cedar of Lebanon;[t] 13planted in the house of the LORD,
they will flourish in the courts of our God.
14They will still bear fruit in old age,
they will stay fresh and green, 15proclaiming, "The LORD is upright;
he is my Rock, and there is no wickedness in him."

92:5 [n] Ps 40:5; Ro 11:33
92:6 [o] Ps 73:22
92:9 [p] Ps 68:1
92:10 [q] Ps 89:17 [r] Ps 23:5
92:11 [s] Ps 54:7
92:12 [t] Ps 52:8; Hos 14:6

PSALM 93

Theme: God's unchanging and almighty nature. His creation reminds us of his great power.
Author: Anonymous

1The LORD reigns,[u] he is robed in majesty;
the LORD is robed in majesty and is armed with strength.[v]
The world is firmly established;
it cannot be moved.[w] 2Your throne was established long ago;
you are from all eternity.

3The seas have lifted up, O LORD,
the seas have lifted up their voice;
the seas have lifted up their pounding waves.
4Mightier than the thunder[x] of the great waters, mightier than the breakers of the sea—
the LORD on high is mighty.

93:1 [u] Ps 97:1 [v] Ps 65:6 [w] Ps 96:10
93:4 [x] Ps 65:7

[m] 10 Horn here symbolizes strength.

92:12, 13 Palm trees are known for their long life. To flourish like palm trees means to stand tall and to live long. The cedars of Lebanon grew to 120 feet in height and up to 30 feet in circumference; thus, they were solid, strong, and immovable. The psalmist saw believers as upright, strong, and unmoved by the winds of circumstance. Those who place their faith firmly in God can have this strength and vitality.

92:14 Honoring God is not limited to young people who seem to have unlimited strength and energy. Even in old age, devoted believers can produce spiritual fruit. There are many faithful older people who continue to have a fresh outlook and can teach us from a lifetime experience of serving God. Seek out an elderly friend or relative to tell you about his or her experiences with the Lord and challenge you to new heights of spiritual growth.

93:1ff Jewish tradition claims that the next seven psalms (93–99) anticipated some of the works of the Messiah. Psalm 93 is said to have been used in post-captivity temple services and may have been written during Sennacherib's invasion (2 Kings 18:13–19:37).

5 Your statutes stand firm;
holiness adorns your house for endless days, O LORD.

PSALM 94

Theme: God will keep his people from the severe punishment awaiting the wicked. Since God is holy and just, we can be certain that the wicked will not prevail.
Author: Anonymous

1 O LORD, the God who avenges,
O God who avenges, shine forth.
2 Rise up, O Judge[y] of the earth;
pay back to the proud what they deserve.
3 How long will the wicked, O LORD,
how long will the wicked be jubilant?

4 They pour out arrogant words;
all the evildoers are full of boasting.
5 They crush your people, O LORD;
they oppress your inheritance.
6 They slay the widow and the alien;
they murder the fatherless.
7 They say, "The LORD does not see;
the God of Jacob pays no heed."

8 Take heed, you senseless ones among the people;
you fools, when will you become wise?
9 Does he who implanted the ear not hear?
Does he who formed the eye not see?[z]
10 Does he who disciplines nations not punish?
Does he who teaches[a] man lack knowledge?
11 The LORD knows the thoughts of man;
he knows that they are futile.[b]

12 Blessed is the man you discipline,[c] O LORD, the man you teach from your law;
13 you grant him relief from days of trouble,
till a pit is dug for the wicked.
14 For the LORD will not reject his people;[d]
he will never forsake his inheritance.
15 Judgment will again be founded on righteousness, and all the upright in heart will follow it.

16 Who will rise up for me against the wicked?
Who will take a stand for me against evildoers?
17 Unless the LORD had given me help,[e]
I would soon have dwelt in the silence of death.
18 When I said, "My foot is slipping," your love, O LORD, supported me.

94:2 [y] Ge 18:25
94:9 [z] Ex 4:11
94:10 [a] Job 35:11; Isa 28:26
94:11 [b] 1Co 3:20*
94:12 [c] Job 5:17; Heb 12:5
94:14 [d] Ro 11:2
94:17 [e] Ps 124:2

93:5 The key to God's eternal reign is his holiness. God's glory is seen not only in his strength but in his perfect moral character as well. God will never do anything that is not morally perfect. This reassures us that we can trust him, yet it places a demand on us. Our desire to be holy (dedicated to God and morally clean) is our only suitable response. We must never use unholy means to reach a holy goal because God says, "Be holy because I, the LORD your God, am holy" (Leviticus 19:1, 2).

94:12, 13 At times, God must discipline us to help us. This is similar to a loving parent's disciplining his child. The discipline is not very enjoyable to the child, but it is essential to teach him right from wrong. The Bible says that "no discipline seems pleasant at the time, but painful. Later on, however, it produces a harvest of righteousness and peace for those who have been trained by it" (Hebrews 12:11). When you feel God's hand of correction, accept it as proof of his love. Realize that God is urging you to follow his paths instead of stubbornly going your own way.

19When anxiety was great within me, your consolation brought joy to my soul.

20Can a corrupt throne be allied with you—one that brings on misery by its decrees?
21They band together against the righteous and condemn the innocent[f] to death.
22But the LORD has become my fortress, and my God the rock in whom I take refuge.[g] 23He will repay them for their sins and destroy them for their wickedness;
the LORD our God will destroy them.

94:21 [f] Pr 17:15, 26

94:22 [g] Ps 18:2

PSALM 95

Theme: An invitation to worship God
Author: Anonymous

1Come, let us sing for joy to the LORD;
let us shout aloud to the Rock of our salvation.
2Let us come before him with thanksgiving and extol him with music and song.

3For the LORD is the great God,
the great King above all gods.[h] 4In his hand are the depths of the earth, and the mountain peaks belong to him.
5The sea is his, for he made it,
and his hands formed the dry land.

6Come, let us bow down in worship,
let us kneel before the LORD our Maker; 7for he is our God and we are the people of his pasture,[i]
the flock under his care.

Today, if you hear his voice,
8 do not harden your hearts as you did at Meribah,[n j]

95:3 [h] Ps 96:4

95:7 [i] Ps 74:1

95:8 [j] Ex 17:7

[n] 8 Meribah means quarreling.

JUSTICE IN THE BOOK OF PSALMS

Justice is a major theme in Psalms. The psalmists praise God because he is just; they plead for him to intervene and bring justice where there is oppression and wickedness; they condemn the wicked who trust in their wealth; they extol the righteous who are just toward their neighbors.

Justice in Psalms is more than honesty. It is active intervention on behalf of the helpless, especially the poor. The psalmists do not merely wish the poor could be given what they need, but they plead with God to destroy those nations that are subverting justice and oppressing God's people.

Here are some examples of psalms that speak about justice. As you read them, ask yourself, "Who is my neighbor? Does my life-style—my work, my play, my buying habits, my giving—help or hurt people who have less than I do? What one thing could I do this week to help a helpless person?"

Selected psalms that emphasize this theme are 7; 9; 15; 37; 50; 72; 75; 82; 94; 145.

95:8 A hardened heart is as useless as a hardened lump of clay or a hardened loaf of bread. Nothing can restore it and make it useful. The psalmist warns against hardening our hearts as Israel did in the desert by continuing to resist God's will (Exodus 17:7). They were so convinced that God couldn't deliver them that they simply lost their faith in him. When someone's heart becomes hardened, that person is so stubbornly set in his ways that he or she cannot turn to God. This does not happen all at once; it is the result of a series of choices to disregard God's will. If you resist God long enough, God may toss you aside like hardened bread, useless and worthless.

95:8 Meribah means "quarreling," and Massah means "testing." This refers to the incident at Rephidim (Exodus 17:1–7) when the Israelites complained to Moses because they had no water (see also Numbers 20:1–13).

as you did that day at Massah[o] in the desert, 9 where your fathers tested[k] and tried me, though they had seen what I did.
10 For forty years I was angry with that generation;
I said, "They are a people whose hearts go astray, and they have not known my ways."
11 So I declared on oath in my anger,
"They shall never enter my rest."[l]

95:9 [k] 1Co 10:9

95:11 [l] Heb 4:3*

PSALM 96

Theme: How to praise God. We can sing about him, tell others about him, worship him, give him glory, bring offerings to him, and live holy lives.
Author: Possibly David because this psalm closely resembles David's hymn of praise in 1 Chronicles 16:23–36

1 Sing to the LORD a new song;
sing to the LORD, all the earth.
2 Sing to the LORD, praise his name;
proclaim his salvation day after day.
3 Declare his glory among the nations, his marvelous deeds among all peoples.

4 For great is the LORD and most worthy of praise;
he is to be feared above all gods.[m]
5 For all the gods of the nations are idols, but the LORD made the heavens.
6 Splendor and majesty are before him;
strength and glory are in his sanctuary.

7 Ascribe to the LORD,[n] O families of nations,
ascribe to the LORD glory and strength.
8 Ascribe to the LORD the glory due his name;
bring an offering and come into his courts.
9 Worship the LORD in the splendor of his[p] holiness;
tremble before him, all the earth.

10 Say among the nations, "The LORD reigns."
The world is firmly established, it cannot be moved;
he will judge the peoples with equity.[o] 11 Let the heavens rejoice, let the earth be glad;
let the sea resound, and all that is in it;
12 let the fields be jubilant, and everything in them.
Then all the trees of the forest will sing for joy;
13 they will sing before the LORD, for he comes,
he comes to judge[p] the earth.
He will judge the world in righteousness
and the peoples in his truth.

96:4 [m] Ps 95:3

96:7 [n] Ps 29:1

96:10 [o] Ps 67:4

96:13 [p] Rev 19:11

o 8 Massah means testing. p 9 Or LORD with the splendor of 95:11 What keeps us from God's ultimate blessings (entering his "rest")? Ungrateful hearts (95:2), not worshiping or submitting to him (95:6), hardening our hearts (95:8), testing God because of stubborn doubts (95:9). In Hebrews 4:5–11, we are warned not to harden our hearts, but to reject the glamour of sin and anything else that would lead us away from God.

96:1–4 The psalmist sings out his praises to God, overwhelmed by all that God has done. If we believe God is great, we cannot help telling others about him. The best witnessing happens when our hearts are full of appreciation for what he has done. God has chosen to use us to "declare . . . his marvelous deeds among all peoples." Praise for our great God overflows from his creation and should overflow from our lips. How well are you doing at telling others about God's greatness?

PSALM 97

Theme: God, our awesome Conqueror, is righteous and just.
Author: Anonymous

97:1 [q] Ps 96:10
1 The LORD reigns,[q] let the earth be glad;
let the distant shores rejoice.

2 Clouds and thick darkness surround him;
97:2 [r] Ps 89:14
righteousness and justice are the foundation of his throne.[r] 3 Fire goes before him and consumes his foes on every side.
4 His lightning lights up the world;
the earth sees and trembles.
5 The mountains melt like wax before the LORD,
before the Lord of all the earth.
6 The heavens proclaim his righteousness, and all the peoples see his glory.

7 All who worship images are put to shame,
those who boast in idols—
97:7 [s] Heb 1:6
worship him,[s] all you gods!

8 Zion hears and rejoices and the villages of Judah are glad because of your judgments, O LORD.
9 For you, O LORD, are the Most High over all the earth;
you are exalted far above all gods.

97:10 [t] Am 5:15 [u] Da 3:28 [v] Ps 37:40
10 Let those who love the LORD hate evil,[t] for he guards the lives of his faithful ones and delivers[u] them from the hand of the wicked.[v]
97:11 [w] Job 22:28
11 Light is shed[w] upon the righteous and joy on the upright in heart.
12 Rejoice in the LORD, you who are righteous, and praise his holy name.

PSALM 98

A psalm.

Theme: A song of joy and victory. Because God is victorious over evil, all those who follow him will be victorious with him when he judges the earth.
Author: Anonymous

98:1 [x] Ex 15:6 [y] Isa 52:10
1 Sing to the LORD a new song,
for he has done marvelous things;
his right hand[x] and his holy arm[y]

97:2 The clouds and thick darkness that surround God symbolize his unapproachable holiness and the inability of people to find him on their own. If he were uncovered, no one could stand before his blazing holiness and glory.

97:7 People worship all kinds of images and idols. Although God reveals himself and his love through nature and the Bible, there are many who decide to ignore or reject him and pursue goals they believe are more important. The Bible makes it clear that these people are idol worshipers because they give their highest loyalty to something other than God. One day we will stand before God in all his glory and power. Then we will see all our goals and accomplishments for what they really are. How foolish our earthly pursuits will seem then!

97:10 A sincere desire to please God will result in an alignment of your desires with God's desires. You will love what God loves and hate what God hates. If you love the Lord, you will hate evil. If you do not despise the actions of people who take advantage of others, if you admire people who only look out for themselves, or if you envy those who get ahead using any means to accomplish their ends, then your primary desire in life is not to please God. Learn to love God's ways and hate evil in every form – not only the obvious sins but also the socially acceptable ones.

98:1ff This is a psalm of praise anticipating the coming of God to rule his people. Jesus fulfilled this anticipation when he came to save all people from their sins (98:2, 3), and he will come again to judge the world (98:8, 9). God is both perfectly loving and perfectly just. He is merciful when he punishes, and he overlooks no sin when he loves. Praise him for his promise to save you and to return again.

have worked salvation for him.
2The LORD has made his salvation known and revealed his righteousness to the nations.
3He has remembered his love and his faithfulness to the house of Israel;
all the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God.

4Shout for joy to the LORD, all the earth,
burst into jubilant song with music;
5make music to the LORD with the harp, with the harp and the sound of singing, 6with trumpets and the blast of the ram's horn—shout for joy before the LORD, the King.

7Let the sea resound, and everything in it,
the world, and all who live in it.
8Let the rivers clap their hands,
let the mountains sing together for joy;
9let them sing before the LORD,
for he comes to judge the earth.
He will judge the world in righteousness
and the peoples with equity.[z]

98:9 [z] Ps 96:10

PSALM 99

Theme: Praise for God's fairness and holiness. Because God is perfectly just and fair, we can trust him completely.
Author: Anonymous

1The LORD reigns,
let the nations tremble;
he sits enthroned between the cherubim,[a] let the earth shake.
2Great is the LORD in Zion;
he is exalted[b] over all the nations.
3Let them praise your great and awesome name—
he is holy.

99:1 [a] Ex 25:22
99:2 [b] Ps 97:9

4The King is mighty, he loves justice—you have established equity;
in Jacob you have done
what is just and right.
5Exalt the LORD our God
and worship at his footstool;
he is holy.

6Moses and Aaron were among his priests,

99:1 Cherubim are mighty angels that comprise one of several ranks of angels. (For more on angels, see the note on 91:11.)

99:3 Everyone should praise God's great and awesome name because his name symbolizes his nature, his personage, and his reputation. But the name of God is used so often in vulgar conversation that we have lost sight of its holiness. How easy it is to treat God lightly in everyday life. If you claim him as your father, live worthy of the family name. Respect God's name and give him praise by both your words and your life.

99:5 God's holiness is terribly frightening for sinners, but a wonderful comfort for believers. God is morally perfect and is set apart from people and sin. He has no weaknesses or shortcomings. For sinners, this is frightening because all their inadequacies and evil are exposed by the light of God's holiness. God cannot tolerate, ignore, or excuse sin. For believers, God's holiness gives comfort because, as we worship him, we are lifted from the mire of sin. As we believe in him, we are made holy.

99:6 The Bible records several instances where Moses, Aaron, and Samuel cried out to God for help (Exodus 15:25; 17:4; Numbers 11:11–15; 12:13; 14:13ff; 16:44–48; 1 Samuel 7:5, 9; 15:11).

Samuel was among those who called on his name;
they called on the LORD and he answered them.
7He spoke to them from the pillar of cloud;
they kept his statutes and the decrees he gave them.

8O LORD our God,
you answered them;
you were to Israel[q] a forgiving God,[c]
though you punished their misdeeds.[r] 9Exalt the LORD our God
and worship at his holy mountain, for the LORD our God is holy.

99:8 [c] Nu 14:20

PSALM 100

A psalm. For giving thanks.

Theme: An invitation to enter joyfully into God's presence. His faithfulness extends to our generation and beyond.
Author: Anonymous

1Shout for joy to the LORD, all the earth.
2 Worship the LORD with gladness;
come before him with joyful songs.
3Know that the LORD is God.[d]
It is he who made us, and we are his[s];
we are his people, the sheep of his pasture.

4Enter his gates with thanksgiving and his courts with praise;
give thanks to him and praise his name.[e] 5For the LORD is good and his love endures forever;
his faithfulness[f] continues through all generations.

100:3 [d] Ps 46:10
100:4 [e] Ps 116:17
100:5 [f] Ps 119:90

PSALM 101

Of David. A psalm.

Theme: A prayer for help to walk a blameless path. To live with integrity, both our efforts and God's help are necessary.
Author: David

1I will sing of your love[g] and justice;
to you, O LORD, I will sing praise.
2I will be careful to lead a blameless life—when will you come to me?

I will walk in my house

101:1 [g] Ps 89:1

[q] 8 Hebrew them [r] 8 Or / an avenger of the wrongs done to them [s] 3 Or and not we ourselves

100:3 God is our Creator; we did not create ourselves. Many people live as though they are the creator and center of their own little world. This mind-set leads to a greedy possessiveness and, if everything should be taken away, a loss of hope itself. But when we realize that God created us and gives us all we have, we will want to give to others as God gave to us (2 Corinthians 9:8). Then, if all is lost, we still have God and all he gives us.

100:4 God alone is worthy of being worshiped. What is your attitude toward worship? Do you willingly and joyfully come into God's presence, or are you just going through the motions, reluctantly going to church? This psalm tells us to remember God's goodness and dependability, and then to worship with thanksgiving and praise!

101:1ff David may have written this psalm early in his reign as king as he set down the standards he wanted to follow. David knew that to lead a blameless life he would need God's help (101:2). We can lead blameless lives if we avoid (1) looking at wickedness ("I will set before my eyes no vile thing," 101:3), (2) evil associates ("men of perverse heart," 101:4), (3) slander (101:5), and (4) pride (101:5). While avoiding the wrongs listed above, we must also let God's Word show us the standards by which to live.

with blameless heart.
3I will set before my eyes
no vile thing.

The deeds of faithless men I hate;
they will not cling to me.
4Men of perverse heart[h] shall be far from me;
I will have nothing to do with evil.

101:4 [h]Pr 11:20

5Whoever slanders his neighbor in secret, him will I put to silence;
whoever has haughty eyes and a proud heart,
him will I not endure.

6My eyes will be on the faithful in the land, that they may dwell with me;
he whose walk is blameless[i] will minister to me.

101:6 [i]Ps 119:1

7No one who practices deceit will dwell in my house;
no one who speaks falsely will stand in my presence.

8Every morning[j] I will put to silence all the wicked[k] in the land;
I will cut off every evildoer[l]
from the city of the LORD.

101:8 [j]Jer 21:12 [k]Ps 75:10 [l]Ps 118:10-12

PSALM 102

A prayer of an afflicted man. When he is faint and pours out his lament before the LORD.

Theme: The cure for distress. Because God is living, eternal, and unchanging, we can trust him to help his people in this generation just as he helped his people in past generations.
Author: Anonymous

1Hear my prayer, O LORD;
let my cry for help come to you.
2Do not hide your face from me when I am in distress.
Turn your ear to me;
when I call, answer me quickly.

3For my days vanish like smoke;[m]
my bones burn like glowing embers.

102:3 [m]Jas 4:14

4My heart is blighted and withered like grass;[n]
I forget to eat my food.

102:4 [n]Ps 37:2

5Because of my loud groaning
I am reduced to skin and bones.
6I am like a desert owl,[o]
like an owl among the ruins.

102:6 [o]Isa 34:11

101:6 David said that he would keep his eyes "on the faithful in the land." In other words, he would choose as models and as friends those who are godly and truthful. Our friends and associates can have a profound influence on our lives. Make sure to keep your eyes on those who are faithful to God and his Word.

102:3, 4 The psalmist felt so bad that he forgot to eat. When we face sickness and despair, our days pass blindly and we don't care about even our basic needs. In these times, God alone is our comfort and strength. Even when we are too weak to fight, we can lean on him. It is often when we recognize our weaknesses that God's greatest strength becomes available.

102:6, 7 These birds are pictures of loneliness and desolation. At times we may need to be alone, and solitude may comfort us. But we must be careful not to spurn those who reach out to us. Don't reject help and conversation. Suffering silently is neither Christian nor particularly healthy. Instead, accept graciously the support and help from family and friends.

7 I lie awake;[p] I have become like a bird alone on a roof.
8 All day long my enemies taunt me;
those who rail against me use my name as a curse.
9 For I eat ashes as my food and mingle my drink with tears[q] 10 because of your great wrath, for you have taken me up and thrown me aside.
11 My days are like the evening shadow;
I wither away like grass.

12 But you, O LORD, sit enthroned forever; your renown endures[r] through all generations.
13 You will arise and have compassion[s] on Zion, for it is time to show favor to her;
the appointed time has come.
14 For her stones are dear to your servants;
her very dust moves them to pity.
15 The nations will fear the name of the LORD,
all the kings of the earth will revere your glory.
16 For the LORD will rebuild Zion and appear in his glory.[t] 17 He will respond to the prayer of the destitute;
he will not despise their plea.

18 Let this be written for a future generation, that a people not yet created[u] may praise the LORD:
19 "The LORD looked down from his sanctuary on high,
from heaven he viewed the earth, 20 to hear the groans of the prisoners and release those condemned to death."
21 So the name of the LORD will be declared[v] in Zion and his praise in Jerusalem 22 when the peoples and the kingdoms assemble to worship the LORD.

23 In the course of my life[t] he broke my strength;
he cut short my days.
24 So I said:
"Do not take me away, O my God, in the midst of my days;
your years go on[w] through all generations.
25 In the beginning[x] you laid the foundations of the earth, and the heavens are the work of your hands.
26 They will perish,[y] but you remain;
they will all wear out like a garment.
Like clothing you will change them and they will be discarded.
27 But you remain the same,
and your years will never end.
28 The children of your servants[z] will live in your presence;
their descendants will be established before you."

102:7 [p] Ps 77:4
102:9 [q] Ps 42:3
102:12 [r] Ps 135:13
102:13 [s] Isa 60:10
102:16 [t] Isa 60:1-2
102:18 [u] Ps 22:31
102:21 [v] Ps 22:22
102:24 [w] Ps 90:2
102:25 [x] Heb 1:10-12*
102:26 [y] Isa 34:4
102:28 [z] Ps 69:36

t 23 Or By his power

102:16–22 Christ's future reign on earth will encompass two events mentioned in these verses. Jerusalem (Zion) will be restored, and the entire world will worship God (Revelation 11:15; 21:1–27).

102:25–27 The writer of this psalm felt rejected and tossed aside because of his great troubles (102:9, 10). Problems and heartaches can overwhelm us and cause us to feel that God has rejected us. But God our Creator is eternally with us and will keep all his promises, even though we may feel alone. The world will perish, but God will remain. Hebrews 1:10–12 quotes these verses to show that Jesus Christ, God's Son, was also present and active at the creation of the world.

PSALM 103

Of David.

Theme: God's great love for us. What God does for us tells us what he is really like.
Author: David

[1]Praise the LORD, O my soul;[a] all my inmost being, praise his holy name.
[2]Praise the LORD, O my soul,
and forget not all his benefits—[3]who forgives all your sins and heals all your diseases, [4]who redeems your life from the pit and crowns you with love and compassion, [5]who satisfies your desires with good things
so that your youth is renewed like the eagle's.

[6]The LORD works righteousness and justice for all the oppressed.

[7]He made known his ways to Moses,
his deeds to the people of Israel:
[8]The LORD is compassionate and gracious, slow to anger, abounding in love.
[9]He will not always accuse, nor will he harbor his anger forever;[b] [10]he does not treat us as our sins deserve[c] or repay us according to our iniquities.
[11]For as high as the heavens are above the earth,
so great is his love for those who fear him;
[12]as far as the east is from the west,
so far has he removed our transgressions from us.
[13]As a father has compassion[d] on his children,
so the LORD has compassion on those who fear him; [14]for he knows how we are formed,
he remembers that we are dust.
[15]As for man, his days are like grass,
he flourishes like a flower[e] of the field;
[16]the wind blows over it and it is gone,
and its place remembers it no more.
[17]But from everlasting to everlasting the LORD's love is with those who fear him,

103:1 [a]Ps 104:1
103:9 [b]Ps 30:5
103:10 [c]Ezr 9:13
103:13 [d]Mal 3:17
103:15 [e]Job 14:2

103:1ff David's praise focused on God's glorious deeds. It is easy to complain about life, but David's list gives us plenty for which to praise God—he forgives our sins, heals our diseases, redeems us from death, crowns us with love and compassion, satisfies our desires, and gives righteousness and justice. We receive all of these without deserving any of them. No matter how difficult your life's journey, you can always count your blessings—past, present, and future. When you feel as though you have nothing for which to praise God, read David's list.

103:7 God's law was given first to Moses and the people of Israel. God's law presents a clear picture of God's nature and will. It was God's training manual to prepare his people to serve him and to follow his ways. Review the Ten Commandments (Exodus 20) and the history of how they were given, asking God to show you his will and his ways through them.

103:12 East and west can never meet. This is a symbolic portrait of God's forgiveness—when he forgives our sin, he separates it from us and doesn't even remember it. We need never wallow in the past, for God forgives and forgets. We tend to dredge up the ugly past, but God has wiped our record clean. If we are to follow God, we must model his forgiveness. When we forgive another, we must also forget the sin. Otherwise, we have not truly forgiven.

103:13, 14 We are fragile, but God's care is eternal. Too often we focus on God as Judge and Lawgiver, ignoring his compassion and concern for us. When God examines our lives, he remembers our human condition. Our weakness should never be used as a justification for sin. His mercy takes everything into account. God will deal with you compassionately. Trust him.

and his righteousness with their children's children — 18 with those who keep his covenant and remember to obey his precepts.

19 The LORD has established his throne in heaven, and his kingdom rules over all.

20 Praise the LORD, you his angels, you mighty ones who do his bidding,
who obey his word.
21 Praise the LORD, all his heavenly hosts, you his servants who do his will.
22 Praise the LORD, all his works everywhere in his dominion.

Praise the LORD, O my soul.

PSALM 104

Theme: Appreciating God through his creation. He not only creates, but maintains his creation. The Lord's care is the source of our joy.
Author: Anonymous

1 Praise the LORD, O my soul.

O LORD my God, you are very great;
you are clothed with splendor and majesty.
2 He wraps himself in light as with a garment;
he stretches out the heavens[f] like a tent
3 and lays the beams[g] of his upper chambers on their waters.
He makes the clouds[h] his chariot

104:2 [f] Isa 40:22

104:3 [g] Am 9:6 [h] Isa 19:1

HOW GOD IS DESCRIBED IN PSALMS

Most of the psalms speak to God or about God. Because they were composed in a variety of situations, various facets of God's character are mentioned. Here is a sample of God's characteristics as understood and experienced by the psalm writers. As you read these psalms, ask yourself if this is the God you know.

God is . . .	References
All-knowing and ever-present	Psalm 139
Beautiful and desirable	Psalms 27; 36; 45
Creator	Psalms 8; 104; 148
Good and generous	Psalms 34; 81; 107
Great and sovereign	Psalms 33; 89; 96
Holy	Psalms 66; 99; 145
Loving and faithful	Psalms 23; 42; 51
Merciful and forgiving	Psalms 32; 111; 130
Powerful	Psalms 76; 89; 93
Willing to reveal his will, law, and direction	Psalms 1; 19; 119
Righteous and just	Psalms 71; 97; 113
Spirit	Psalms 104; 139; 143

103:20–22 Everything everywhere is to praise the Lord: all angels — mighty ones and heavenly hosts — and all his works! Praising God means remembering all he has done for us (103:2), fearing him and obeying his commands (103:17, 18), and doing his will (103:21). Does your life praise the Lord?

104:1ff This psalm is a poetic summary of God's creation of the world as found in the first chapter of Genesis. What God created each day is mentioned by the psalmist as a reason to praise God. On day one, God created light (104:1, 2; Genesis 1:3); day two, the heavens and the waters (104:2, 3; Genesis 1:6); day three, land and vegetation (104:6–18; Genesis 1:9–13); day four, the sun, moon, and stars (104:19–23; Genesis 1:14–16); day five, fish and birds (104:25, 26; Genesis 1:20–23); and on day six, animals, man, and food to sustain them (104:21–24, 27–30; Genesis 1:24–31). God's act of creation deserves the praise of all people.

and rides on the wings of the wind.[j] 4He makes winds his messengers,[u][j] flames of fire his servants.

5He set the earth on its foundations;
it can never be moved.
6You covered it with the deep as with a garment;
the waters stood above the mountains.
7But at your rebuke the waters fled,
at the sound of your thunder they took to flight; 8they flowed over the mountains,
they went down into the valleys,
to the place you assigned for them.
9You set a boundary they cannot cross;
never again will they cover the earth.

10He makes springs pour water into the ravines;
it flows between the mountains.
11They give water to all the beasts of the field;
the wild donkeys quench their thirst.
12The birds of the air nest by the waters;
they sing among the branches.
13He waters the mountains[k] from his upper chambers;
the earth is satisfied by the fruit of his work.
14He makes grass grow for the cattle, and plants for man to cultivate—bringing forth food[l] from the earth:
15wine[m] that gladdens the heart of man,
oil to make his face shine,
and bread that sustains his heart.
16The trees of the LORD are well watered,
the cedars of Lebanon that he planted.
17There the birds make their nests;
the stork has its home in the pine trees.
18The high mountains belong to the wild goats;
the crags are a refuge for the coneys.[v]

19The moon marks off the seasons,[n] and the sun knows when to go down.
20You bring darkness,[o] it becomes night,
and all the beasts of the forest prowl.
21The lions roar for their prey and seek their food from God.
22The sun rises, and they steal away;
they return and lie down in their dens.
23Then man goes out to his work,[p]
to his labor until evening.

24How many are your works, O LORD!
In wisdom you made them all;
the earth is full of your creatures.

104:3 [j] Ps 18:10
104:4 [j] Heb 1:7*
104:13 [k] Ps 147:8
104:14 [l] Ge 1:30; Job 28:5
104:15 [m] Jdg 9:13
104:19 [n] Ge 1:14
104:20 [o] Isa 45:7
104:23 [p] Ge 3:19

[u] 4 Or angels [v] 18 That is, the hyrax or rock badger

104:5 The earth is built on God's foundations. "It can never be moved" by anyone other than God. Even though one day the heavens and the earth will be destroyed (2 Peter 3:10), he will create a new heaven and a new earth that will last forever (Isaiah 65:17; Revelation 21:1). The same power that undergirds the world also provides a firm foundation for believers.

104:24 Creation is filled with stunning variety, revealing the rich creativity, goodness, and wisdom of our loving God. As you observe your natural surroundings, thank God for his creativity. Take a fresh look at people, seeing each one as God's unique creation, each with his or her own special talents, abilities, and gifts.

25 There is the sea, vast and spacious, teeming with creatures beyond number—living things both large and small.
26 There the ships go to and fro,
and the leviathan,[q] which you formed to frolic there.

104:26 [q] Job 41:1

27 These all look to you to give them their food[r] at the proper time.
28 When you give it to them,
they gather it up;
when you open your hand,
they are satisfied with good things.
29 When you hide your face,
they are terrified;
when you take away their breath,
they die and return to the dust.
30 When you send your Spirit,
they are created,
and you renew the face of the earth.

104:27 [r] Ps 145:15; 147:9

31 May the glory of the LORD endure forever; may the LORD rejoice in his works—32 he who looks at the earth, and it trembles, who touches the mountains, and they smoke.[s]

104:32 [s] Ps 144:5

33 I will sing to the LORD all my life;
I will sing praise to my God as long as I live.
34 May my meditation be pleasing to him,
as I rejoice in the LORD.
35 But may sinners vanish from the earth and the wicked be no more.

Praise the LORD, O my soul.

Praise the LORD.[w]

PSALM 105

Theme: God's mighty deeds in bringing Israel to the promised land. Remembering his miracles encourages us to keep living close to him.
Author: David

1 Give thanks to the LORD, call on his name;
make known among the nations what he has done.
2 Sing to him, sing praise to him;
tell of all his wonderful acts.
3 Glory in his holy name;
let the hearts of those who seek the LORD rejoice.

[w] 35 Hebrew Hallelu Yah; in the Septuagint this line stands at the beginning of Psalm 105.

104:26 Here leviathan simply means a large and active sea creature.

104:28–30 Psalm 105 expresses God's sovereignty in history; this psalm tells of his sovereignty over all creation. God has supreme, unlimited power over the entire universe. He creates; he preserves; he governs. As we understand God's power, we realize that he is sufficient to handle our lives.

104:29 Today many people are arrogant enough to think they don't need God. But our every breath depends on the Spirit he has breathed into us (Genesis 2:7; 3:19; Job 33:4; 34:14, 15; Daniel 5:23). Not only do we depend on God for our very lives, but he wants the best for us. We should also desire to learn more of his plans for us each day.

105:1ff The first 15 verses of this psalm are also found in 1 Chronicles 16:8–22, where they are sung as part of the celebration of David's bringing the ark of the covenant to Jerusalem. Three other psalms are also hymns recounting Israel's history – 78, 106, and 136.

4 Look to the LORD and his strength; seek his face always.

5 Remember the wonders he has done,
his miracles, and the judgments he pronounced,
6 O descendants of Abraham his servant,
O sons of Jacob, his chosen ones.
7 He is the LORD our God;
his judgments are in all the earth.

8 He remembers his covenant[t] forever,
the word he commanded, for a thousand generations, 9 the covenant he made with Abraham,[u]
the oath he swore to Isaac.
10 He confirmed it to Jacob as a decree, to Israel as an everlasting covenant:
11 "To you I will give the land of Canaan as the portion you will inherit."

12 When they were but few in number,[v] few indeed, and strangers in it,[w] 13 they wandered from nation to nation, from one kingdom to another.
14 He allowed no one to oppress[x] them;
for their sake he rebuked kings:[y] 15 "Do not touch my anointed ones;
do my prophets no harm."

16 He called down famine[z] on the land and destroyed all their supplies of food;
17 and he sent a man before them—
Joseph, sold as a slave.[a] 18 They bruised his feet with shackles, his neck was put in irons, 19 till what he foretold came to pass,
till the word of the LORD proved him true.
20 The king sent and released him,
the ruler of peoples set him free.[b] 21 He made him master of his household, ruler over all he possessed, 22 to instruct his princes as he pleased and teach his elders wisdom.

23 Then Israel entered Egypt;[c]
Jacob lived as an alien in the land of Ham.
24 The LORD made his people very fruitful;
he made them too numerous[d] for their foes,
25 whose hearts he turned to hate his people,

105:8
[t] Lk 1:72

105:9
[u] Ge 22:16-18

105:12
[v] Dt 7:7
[w] Heb 11:9

105:14
[x] Ge 35:5
[y] Ge 12:17-20

105:16
[z] Lev 26:26; Isa 3:1

105:17
[a] Ge 37:28

105:20
[b] Ge 41:14

105:23
[c] Ge 46:6

105:24
[d] Ex 1:7, 9

105:4, 5 If God seems far away, persist in your search for him. God rewards those who sincerely look for him (Hebrews 11:6). Jesus promised, "Seek and you will find" (Matthew 7:7). The psalmist suggested a valuable way to find God – become familiar with the way he has helped his people in the past. The Bible records the history of God's people. In searching its pages we will discover a loving God who is waiting for us to find him.

105:6–11 The nation Israel, the people through whom God revealed his laws to mankind, is descended from Abraham. God chose Abraham and promised that his descendants would live in the land of Canaan (now called Israel), and that they would be too numerous to count (Genesis 17:6–8). Abraham's son was Isaac; Isaac's son was Jacob. These three men are considered the patriarchs or founders of Israel. God blessed them because of their faith (see Hebrews 11:8–21).

105:23–25 Did God cause the Egyptians to hate the Israelites? God is not the author of evil, but the Bible writers don't always distinguish between God's ultimate action and the intermediate steps. Thus by God blessing the Israelites, the Egyptians came to hate them (Exodus 1:8–22). Because God caused the Israelites' blessing, he is also said to have caused the Egyptians to hate them. God used their animosity as a means to lead the Israelites out of Egypt.

to conspire against his servants.
105:26 [e] Ex 3:10
26 He sent Moses[e] his servant, and Aaron, whom he had chosen.
27 They performed his miraculous signs among them,
his wonders in the land of Ham.
105:28 [f] Ex 10:22
28 He sent darkness[f] and made the land dark—for had they not rebelled against his words?
105:29 [g] Ex 7:21
29 He turned their waters into blood, causing their fish to die.[g]
105:30 [h] Ex 8:2, 6
30 Their land teemed with frogs,[h] which went up into the bedrooms of their rulers.
105:31 [i] Ex 8:16-18
31 He spoke, and there came swarms of flies, and gnats[i] throughout their country.
105:32 [j] Ex 9:22-25
32 He turned their rain into hail,[j] with lightning throughout their land; 33 he struck down their vines and fig trees and shattered the trees of their country.
34 He spoke, and the locusts came, grasshoppers without number;
35 they ate up every green thing in their land, ate up the produce of their soil.
36 Then he struck down all the firstborn in their land,
the firstfruits of all their manhood.

37 He brought out Israel, laden with silver and gold, and from among their tribes no one faltered.
38 Egypt was glad when they left, because dread of Israel had fallen on them.
105:39 [k] Ex 13:21
39 He spread out a cloud[k] as a covering,
and a fire to give light at night.
105:40 [l] Ex 16:13
40 They asked, and he brought them quail[l] and satisfied them with the bread of heaven.
105:41 [m] 1Co 10:4
41 He opened the rock,[m] and water gushed out;
like a river it flowed in the desert.

42 For he remembered his holy promise given to his servant Abraham.
43 He brought out his people with rejoicing, his chosen ones with shouts of joy;
105:44 [n] Jos 13:6-7
44 he gave them the lands of the nations,[n] and they fell heir to what others had toiled for—45 that they might keep his precepts

HISTORY IN THE BOOK OF PSALMS

For the original hearers, the historical psalms were vivid reminders of God's past acts on behalf of Israel. These history songs were written for passing on important lessons to succeeding generations. They celebrated the many promises God had made and faithfully kept; they also recounted the faithlessness of the people.

We cannot read this ancient history without reflecting on how consistently God's people failed to learn from the past. They repeatedly turned from fresh examples of God's faithfulness and forgiveness only to plunge back into sin. God can use these psalms to remind us how often we do exactly the same thing: having every reason to live for God, we choose instead to live for everything but God. If we paid more attention to "his story" we wouldn't make so many mistakes in our own stories.

Selected historical psalms include: 68; 78; 95; 105; 106; 111; 114; 135; 136; 149.

105:45 God's purpose for saving the Israelites was that they would "keep his precepts and observe his laws." Too often we use our lives and freedom to please ourselves, but we should honor God. That is God's purpose for our lives and why he gave us his Word.

and observe his laws.
Praise the LORD.[x]

PSALM 106

Theme: A song of national repentance as the people return from captivity. God patiently delivers us, in spite of our forgetfulness and self-willed rebellion.
Author: Anonymous

[1]Praise the LORD.[y]

Give thanks to the LORD, for he is good;
his love endures forever.
[2]Who can proclaim the mighty acts of the LORD or fully declare his praise?
[3]Blessed are they who maintain justice, who constantly do what is right.[o]
[4]Remember me, O LORD, when you show favor to your people, come to my aid when you save them,
[5]that I may enjoy the prosperity of your chosen ones, that I may share in the joy of your nation and join your inheritance in giving praise.

[6]We have sinned, even as our fathers did;
we have done wrong and acted wickedly.
[7]When our fathers were in Egypt,
they gave no thought to your miracles;
they did not remember your many kindnesses, and they rebelled by the sea,[p] the Red Sea.[z] [8]Yet he saved them for his name's sake,[q] to make his mighty power known.
[9]He rebuked[r] the Red Sea, and it dried up;[s] he led them through[t] the depths as through a desert.
[10]He saved them[u] from the hand of the foe;
from the hand of the enemy he redeemed them.
[11]The waters covered their adversaries;
not one of them survived.
[12]Then they believed his promises and sang his praise.

[13]But they soon forgot what he had done and did not wait for his counsel.
[14]In the desert they gave in to their craving;
in the wasteland they put God to the test.[v] [15]So he gave them what they asked for, but sent a wasting disease upon them.

106:3 [o]Ps 15:2
106:7 [p]Ex 14:11-12
106:8 [q]Ex 9:16
106:9 [r]Ps 18:15 [s]Ex 14:21 [t]Isa 63:11-14
106:10 [u]Ex 14:30
106:14 [v]1Co 10:9

[x] 45 Hebrew Hallelu Yah [y] 1 Hebrew Hallelu Yah; also in verse 48 [z] 7 Hebrew Yam Suph; that is, Sea of Reeds; also in verses 9 and 22

106:1ff While Psalm 105 is a summary of God's faithfulness, Psalm 106 is a summary of man's sinfulness. Psalm 105 covers events up to the exodus from Egypt (Exodus 5 – 14), and Psalm 106 covers events from the exodus up to what appears to be the Babylonian captivity (2 Kings 25).

106:2 If we ever stopped to list all the mighty acts or miracles in the Bible, we would be astounded. They cover every aspect of life. The more we think about what God has done, the more we can appreciate the miracles he has done for us individually – birth, personality development, loving friends and family, specific guidance, healing, salvation – the list goes on and on. If you think you have never seen a miracle, look closer – you will see God's power and loving intervention on your behalf. God still performs great miracles!

106:13–15 In the desert, Israel was so intent on getting the food and water they wanted that they became blind to what God wanted. They were more concerned about immediate physical gratification than lasting spiritual satisfaction. They did not want what was best for them, and they refused to trust in God's care and provision (Numbers 11:18–33). If you complain enough, God may give you what you ask for, even if it is not the best for you. If you're not getting what you want, perhaps God knows it is not in your best interest. Trust in his care and provision.

106:16
[w] Nu 16:1-3

16 In the camp they grew envious[w] of Moses and of Aaron, who was consecrated to the LORD.
17 The earth opened[x] up and swallowed Dathan;
it buried the company of Abiram.
18 Fire blazed among their followers;
a flame consumed the wicked.

106:17
[x] Dt 11:6

106:19
[y] Ex 32:4

19 At Horeb they made a calf[y]
and worshiped an idol cast from metal.
20 They exchanged their Glory[z] for an image of a bull, which eats grass.

106:20
[z] Jer 2:11; Ro 1:23

106:21
[a] Ps 78:11

21 They forgot the God[a] who saved them, who had done great things in Egypt, 22 miracles in the land of Ham and awesome deeds by the Red Sea.

106:23
[b] Ex 32:10

23 So he said he would destroy[b] them — had not Moses, his chosen one, stood in the breach before him
to keep his wrath from destroying them.

106:24
[c] Dt 8:7
[d] Heb 3:18-19

24 Then they despised the pleasant land;[c]
they did not believe[d] his promise.
25 They grumbled in their tents and did not obey the LORD.
26 So he swore to them with uplifted hand that he would make them fall in the desert, 27 make their descendants fall among the nations and scatter them throughout the lands.

28 They yoked themselves to the Baal of Peor and ate sacrifices offered to lifeless gods; 29 they provoked the LORD to anger by their wicked deeds, and a plague broke out among them.
30 But Phinehas stood up and intervened,

106:30
[e] Nu 25:8

and the plague was checked.[e] 31 This was credited to him as righteousness for endless generations to come.

106:32
[f] Nu 20:2-13

32 By the waters of Meribah[f] they angered the LORD, and trouble came to Moses because of them;
33 for they rebelled against the Spirit of God,

106:33
[g] Nu 20:8-12

and rash words came from Moses' lips.[a g]

34 They did not destroy the peoples as the LORD had commanded them,

106:35
[h] Jdg 3:5-6

35 but they mingled[h] with the nations and adopted their customs.
36 They worshiped their idols, which became a snare to them.
37 They sacrificed their sons and their daughters to demons.

[a] 33 Or against his spirit, / and rash words came from his lips

106:22 The land of Ham is Egypt.

106:23 "Stood in the breach" means that Moses served as the people's intercessor. This refers to the time when the Lord wanted to destroy the people for worshiping the golden calf (Exodus 32:7–14).

106:34–39 Israel constantly turned away from God. How, after the great miracles they saw, could they turn from God and worship the idols of the land? We also have seen God's great miracles, but sometimes find ourselves enticed by the world's gods — power, convenience, fame, sex, and pleasure. As Israel forgot God, so we are susceptible to forgetting him and giving in to the pressures of an evil world. Remember all that God has done for you so you won't be drawn away from him by the world's pleasures.

38 They shed innocent blood,
the blood of their sons and daughters,
whom they sacrificed to the idols of Canaan,
and the land was desecrated by their blood.
39 They defiled themselves[i] by what they did;
by their deeds they prostituted[j] themselves.

40 Therefore the LORD was angry with his people and abhorred his inheritance.
41 He handed them over[k] to the nations,
and their foes ruled over them.
42 Their enemies oppressed them and subjected them to their power.
43 Many times he delivered them, but they were bent on rebellion and they wasted away in their sin.

44 But he took note of their distress
when he heard their cry;[l] 45 for their sake he remembered his covenant and out of his great love he relented.
46 He caused them to be pitied by all who held them captive.

47 Save us, O LORD our God, and gather us from the nations, that we may give thanks to your holy name
and glory in your praise.

48 Praise be to the LORD, the God of Israel,
from everlasting to everlasting.
Let all the people say, "Amen!"[m]

Praise the LORD.

106:39
[i] Eze 20:18
[j] Nu 15:39

106:41
[k] Jdg 2:14

106:44
[l] Jdg 3:9

106:48
[m] Ps 41:13

BOOK V
Psalms 107:1 — 150:6

These psalms praise God's works, recount the blessings of righteous living, thank God for deliverance, and praise God for his wonderful Word. These psalms remind us that the best sacrifice we can offer to God is a faithful and obedient life.

PSALM 107

Theme: Thankfulness to God should constantly be on the lips of those whom he has saved. This psalm was written to celebrate the Jews' return from their exile in Babylon.
Author: Anonymous

1 Give thanks to the LORD, for he is good;
his love endures forever.

106:40–42 God allowed trouble to come to the Israelites in order to help them. Our troubles can be helpful because they (1) humble us, (2) wean us from the allurements of the world and drive us back to God, (3) vitalize our prayers, (4) allow us to experience more of God's faithfulness, (5) make us more dependent upon God, (6) encourage us to submit to God's purpose for our lives, and (7) make us more compassionate toward others in trouble.

106:44–46 This is a beautiful picture of God's great love for his people who deserved only judgment. Fortunately, God's compassion and mercy toward us are not limited by our faithfulness to him. God was merciful to us in sending his Son to die for our sins. If he did this while we were captive to sin, how much more merciful will he be now that we are his children?

107:1ff This psalm speaks of four different types of people in distress and how God rescues them: wanderers (107:4–9), prisoners (107:10–16), the sick (107:17–20), and the storm-tossed (107:23–30). No matter how extreme our calamity, God is able to break through to help us. He is loving and kind to those who are distressed.

107:1, 2 "Let the redeemed of the LORD say . . ." God has done so much for us, and we have so much for which to thank him (see Psalm 103). He wants us to tell everyone all that he has done. These verses are not so much a mandate to witness as a declaration that when we live in God's presence we will not be able to

107:2
[n] Ps 106:10

2 Let the redeemed[n] of the LORD say this—those he redeemed from the hand of the foe, 3 those he gathered from the lands, from east and west, from north and south.[b]

4 Some wandered in desert wastelands, finding no way to a city where they could settle.
5 They were hungry and thirsty,
and their lives ebbed away.
6 Then they cried out to the LORD in their trouble,
and he delivered them from their distress.
107:7
[o] Ezr 8:21
7 He led them by a straight way[o]
to a city where they could settle.
8 Let them give thanks to the LORD for his unfailing love
and his wonderful deeds for men, 107:9
[p] Lk 1:53
9 for he satisfies[p] the thirsty and fills the hungry with good things.

10 Some sat in darkness and the deepest gloom,
107:10
[q] Job 36:8
prisoners suffering in iron chains,[q] 11 for they had rebelled against the words of God and despised the counsel of the Most High.
12 So he subjected them to bitter labor;
they stumbled, and there was no one to help.
13 Then they cried to the LORD in their trouble,
and he saved them from their distress.
14 He brought them out of darkness and the deepest gloom
107:14
[r] Ac 12:7
and broke away their chains.[r]
15 Let them give thanks to the LORD for his unfailing love
and his wonderful deeds for men, 16 for he breaks down gates of bronze and cuts through bars of iron.

17 Some became fools through their rebellious ways and suffered affliction because of their iniquities.
18 They loathed all food
107:18
[s] Job 33:22
and drew near the gates of death.[s]
19 Then they cried to the LORD in their trouble,
and he saved them from their distress.
107:20
[t] Mt 8:8
[u] Ps 30:3
20 He sent forth his word[t] and healed them;
he rescued them from the grave.[u]
21 Let them give thanks to the LORD for his unfailing love and his wonderful deeds for men.
107:22
[v] Lev 7:12
[w] Ps 9:11; 73:28; 118:17
22 Let them sacrifice thank offerings[v]
and tell of his works[w] with songs of joy.

23 Others went out on the sea in ships;
they were merchants on the mighty waters.
24 They saw the works of the LORD, his wonderful deeds in the deep.
25 For he spoke and stirred up a tempest

[b] 3 Hebrew north and the sea

---

keep this glorious experience to ourselves (see also Acts 1:8; 2 Corinthians 5:18–20). What has God done for you? Is there someone you can tell?

107:5–9 Lost, hungry, thirsty, and exhausted, these wanderers typify the Israelites in exile. But they also typify anyone who has not found the satisfaction that comes from knowing God. Anyone who recognizes his or her own lostness can receive the offer of Jesus to satisfy these needs. Jesus is the way (John 14:6), the bread from heaven (John 6:33, 35), the living water (John 4:10–14), and the giver of rest (Matthew 11:28–30). Have you received his life-giving offer?

that lifted high the waves.
26 They mounted up to the heavens and went down to the depths;
in their peril their courage melted away.
27 They reeled and staggered like drunken men;
they were at their wits' end.
28 Then they cried out to the LORD in their trouble,
and he brought them out of their distress.
29 He stilled the storm to a whisper;
the waves of the sea were hushed.
30 They were glad when it grew calm, and he guided them to their desired haven.
31 Let them give thanks to the LORD for his unfailing love
and his wonderful deeds for men.
32 Let them exalt him in the assembly[x] of the people and praise him in the council of the elders.

107:32 [x] Ps 22:22, 25

33 He turned rivers into a desert, flowing springs into thirsty ground, 34 and fruitful land into a salt waste,[y]
because of the wickedness of those who lived there.

107:34 [y] Ge 13:10

35 He turned the desert into pools of water and the parched ground into flowing springs; 36 there he brought the hungry to live,
and they founded a city where they could settle.
37 They sowed fields and planted vineyards that yielded a fruitful harvest;
38 he blessed them, and their numbers greatly increased,[z] and he did not let their herds diminish.

107:38 [z] Ge 12:2

39 Then their numbers decreased, and they were humbled by oppression, calamity and sorrow; 40 he who pours contempt on nobles made them wander in a trackless waste.
41 But he lifted the needy[a] out of their affliction and increased their families like flocks.

107:41 [a] 1Sa 2:8; Ps 113:7-9

42 The upright see and rejoice, but all the wicked shut their mouths.[b]

107:42 [b] Job 5:16; Ro 3:19

43 Whoever is wise,[c] let him heed these things and consider the great love of the LORD.

107:43 [c] Jer 9:12; Hos 14:9

PSALM 108

A song. A psalm of David.

Theme: Victory in God's strength. With God's help, we can do more than we think.
Author: David

1 My heart is steadfast, O God;
I will sing and make music with all my soul.
2 Awake, harp and lyre!
I will awaken the dawn.
3 I will praise you, O LORD, among the nations;

107:32 Those who have never truly suffered may not appreciate God as much as those who have matured under hardship. Those who have seen God work in times of distress have a deeper insight into his loving-kindness. If you have experienced great trials, you have the potential for great praise.

108:1ff The conclusions from two previous psalms have been put together to make this psalm. The first five verses are quoted from Psalm 57:7–11, and the next eight verses (108:6–13) are from Psalm 60:5–12.

I will sing of you among the peoples.
4For great is your love, higher than the heavens;
your faithfulness reaches to the skies.
5Be exalted, O God, above the heavens,
and let your glory be over all the earth.

6Save us and help us with your right hand,
that those you love may be delivered.
7God has spoken from his sanctuary:
"In triumph I will parcel out Shechem
and measure off the Valley of Succoth.
8Gilead is mine, Manasseh is mine;
Ephraim is my helmet,
Judah my scepter.
9Moab is my washbasin,
upon Edom I toss my sandal;
over Philistia I shout in triumph."

10Who will bring me to the fortified city?
Who will lead me to Edom?
11Is it not you, O God, you who have rejected us
and no longer go out with our armies?
12Give us aid against the enemy,
for the help of man is worthless.
13With God we will gain the victory,
and he will trample down our enemies.

PSALM 109

For the director of music. Of David. A psalm.

Theme: Righteous indignation against liars and slanderers. We can tell God our true feelings and desires.
Author: David

1O God, whom I praise,
do not remain silent,
2for wicked and deceitful men have opened their mouths against me;
they have spoken against me with lying tongues.
3With words of hatred[d] they surround me;
they attack me without cause.
4In return for my friendship they accuse me,
but I am a man of prayer.
5They repay me evil for good,
and hatred for my friendship.

109:3 [d] Ps 69:4

108:9 Moab, Edom, and Philistia were Israel's enemies to the east, south, and west, respectively. They despised the Israelites and Israel's God.

108:13 Do our prayers end with requests for help to make it through stressful situations? David prayed not merely for rescue, but for victory. With God's help we can claim more than mere survival, we can claim victory! Look for ways God can use your distress as an opportunity to show his mighty power.

109:1ff David endured many false accusations (1 Samuel 22:7–13; 2 Samuel 15:3, 4), as did Christ centuries later (Matthew 26:59–61; 27:39–44). Verse 8 is quoted in Acts 1:20 as being fulfilled in Judas's death.

109:4 David was angry at being attacked by evil people who slandered him and lied. Yet David remained a friend and a man of prayer. While we must hate evil and work to overcome it, we must love everyone, including those who do evil, because God loves them. We are called to hate the sin, but love the person. Only through God's strength will we be able to follow David's example.

6 Appoint[c] an evil man[d] to oppose him;
let an accuser[e] stand at his right hand.
7 When he is tried, let him be found guilty, and may his prayers condemn[f] him.
8 May his days be few;
may another take his place[g] of leadership.
9 May his children be fatherless and his wife a widow.[h]
10 May his children be wandering beggars;
may they be driven[f] from their ruined homes.
11 May a creditor seize all he has;
may strangers plunder the fruits of his labor.
12 May no one extend kindness to him or take pity on his fatherless children.
13 May his descendants be cut off, their names blotted out[i] from the next generation.
14 May the iniquity of his fathers[j] be remembered before the LORD;
may the sin of his mother never be blotted out.
15 May their sins always remain before the LORD, that he may cut off the memory of them from the earth.

16 For he never thought of doing a kindness, but hounded to death the poor and the needy and the brokenhearted.
17 He loved to pronounce a curse—
may it[g] come on him;
he found no pleasure in blessing—
may it be[h] far from him.
18 He wore cursing as his garment; it entered into his body like water,[k]
into his bones like oil.
19 May it be like a cloak wrapped about him,
like a belt tied forever around him.
20 May this be the LORD's payment to my accusers, to those who speak evil of me.

21 But you, O Sovereign LORD, deal well with me for your name's sake;
out of the goodness of your love, deliver me.
22 For I am poor and needy,
and my heart is wounded within me.
23 I fade away like an evening shadow;
I am shaken off like a locust.
24 My knees give[l] way from fasting;
my body is thin and gaunt.
25 I am an object of scorn[m] to my accusers;
when they see me, they shake their heads.[n]

26 Help me, O LORD my God; save me in accordance with your love.

109:6 [e] Zec 3:1
109:7 [f] Pr 28:9
109:8 [g] Ac 1:20*
109:9 [h] Ex 22:24
109:13 [i] Pr 10:7
109:14 [j] Ex 20:5
109:18 [k] Nu 5:22
109:24 [l] Heb 12:12
109:25 [m] Ps 22:6 [n] Mt 27:39

[c] 6 Or They say:, "Appoint (with quotation marks at the end of verse 19) [d] 6 Or the Evil One [e] 6 Or let Satan
[f] 10 Septuagint; Hebrew sought [g] 17 Or curse, / and it has [h] 17 Or blessing, / and it is

109:6–20 This is another of the imprecatory psalms, a call for God to judge the wicked. (For an explanation of imprecatory psalms, see the note on 35:1ff.) David was not taking vengeance into his own hands, but was asking that God be swift in his promised judgment of evil people. David's words depict the eventual doom of all God's enemies.

109:21 A name is more than a label; it is a representation of character and reputation. David is pleading for God to live up to his name—to his character of love and mercy. "For your name's

109:27
[o] Job 37:7

109:28
[p] 2Sa 16:12
[q] Isa 65:14

109:29
[r] Ps 35:26

109:31
[s] Ps 16:8

27 Let them know[o] that it is your hand, that you, O LORD, have done it.
28 They may curse, [p] but you will bless;
when they attack they will be put to shame,
but your servant will rejoice. [q] 29 My accusers will be clothed with disgrace and wrapped in shame[r] as in a cloak.

30 With my mouth I will greatly extol the LORD;
in the great throng I will praise him.
31 For he stands at the right hand[s] of the needy one,
to save his life from those who condemn him.

PSALM 110

Of David. A psalm.

Theme: The credentials for the Messiah. Jesus is the Messiah.
Author: David

110:1
[t] Mt 22:44*; Mk 12:36*; Lk 20:42*; Ac 2:34*
[u] 1Co 15:25

1 The LORD says[t] to my Lord:
"Sit at my right hand
until I make your enemies
a footstool for your feet."[u]

2 The LORD will extend your mighty scepter from Zion;
you will rule in the midst of your enemies.
3 Your troops will be willing on your day of battle.
Arrayed in holy majesty,
from the womb of the dawn
you will receive the dew of your youth. [i]

4 The LORD has sworn and will not change his mind:
"You are a priest forever, in the order of Melchizedek."

110:5
[v] Ps 16:8
[w] Ps 2:12
[x] Ps 2:5; Ro 2:5

5 The Lord is at your right hand;[v]
he will crush kings[w] on the day of his wrath.[x] 6 He will judge the nations, heaping up the dead and crushing the rulers of the whole earth.
7 He will drink from a brook beside the way[j];
therefore he will lift up his head.

[i] 3 Or / your young men will come to you like the dew [j] 7 Or / The One who grants succession will set him in authority sake," then, means "in accordance with your character."

---

110:1 This is one of the most-quoted psalms in the New Testament because of its clear references to the Messiah. In Matthew 22:41–45, Jesus recited the words of this verse and applied them to himself. Verses 1 and 6 look forward to Christ's final and total destruction of the wicked (Revelation 6–9); 110:2 prophesies of Christ's reign on the earth (Revelation 20:1–7); 110:3, 4 tell of Christ's priestly work for his people (Hebrews 5–8); and 110:5, 6 look forward to the final battle on earth when Christ will overcome the forces of evil (Revelation 19:11–21).

110:1–7 Many people have a vague belief in God, but refuse to accept Jesus as anything more than a great human teacher. But the Bible does not allow that option. Both the Old and New Testaments proclaim the deity of the One who came to save and to reign. Jesus explained that this psalm spoke of the Messiah as greater than David, Israel's greatest king (Mark 12:35–37). Peter used this psalm to show that Jesus, the Messiah, sits at God's right hand and is Lord over all (Acts 2:32–35). You can't straddle the fence, calling Jesus "just a good teacher," because the Bible clearly calls him Lord.

110:4 For more about Melchizedek, see his Profile at the end of Genesis 16. As a priest like Melchizedek, Christ will never abuse his divine position, and his reign will be forever. Jesus is more fully described as our High Priest in Hebrews 5.

PSALM 111[k]

Theme: All that God does is good. Reverence for God is the beginning of wisdom.
Author: Anonymous

[1]Praise the LORD.[l]

I will extol the LORD with all my heart in the council of the upright and in the assembly.

[2]Great are the works[y] of the LORD;
they are pondered by all who delight in them.
[3]Glorious and majestic are his deeds,
and his righteousness endures forever.
[4]He has caused his wonders to be remembered;
the LORD is gracious and compassionate.
[5]He provides food for those who fear him;
he remembers his covenant forever.
[6]He has shown his people the power of his works, giving them the lands of other nations.
[7]The works of his hands are faithful and just;
all his precepts are trustworthy.[z]
[8]They are steadfast for ever and ever, done in faithfulness and uprightness.
[9]He provided redemption[a] for his people;
he ordained his covenant forever—
holy and awesome is his name.

[10]The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom;
all who follow his precepts have good understanding.
To him belongs eternal praise.

111:2 [y]Ps 143:5

111:7 [z]Ps 19:7

111:9 [a]Lk 1:68

PSALM 112[k]

Theme: The advantages of having faith in God. God guards the minds and actions of those who follow his commands.
Author: Anonymous

[1]Praise the LORD.[l]

Blessed is the man who fears the LORD, who finds great delight[b] in his commands.
[2]His children will be mighty in the land;
the generation of the upright will be blessed.
[3]Wealth and riches are in his house,
and his righteousness endures forever.

112:1 [b]Ps 119:14, 16, 47, 92

[k]This psalm is an acrostic poem, the lines of which begin with the successive letters of the Hebrew alphabet.
[l]1 Hebrew Hallelu Yah

111—118 Psalms 111—118 are called hallelujah psalms. Hallelujah means "praise the LORD" and expresses the uplifting and optimistic tone of these songs.

111:9 The redemption here pictures the rescue by God of the Israelites from Egypt and the future return from captivity in Babylon (see Deuteronomy 7:8; Jeremiah 31:11). Redemption means recovery of something or someone upon payment of a ransom. All people were being held in slavery by sin, until Jesus paid the price to free us—giving his life as a perfect sacrifice. Before Jesus offered himself as a sacrifice for sin, people were not permitted into God's presence (the Most Holy Place); now, all believers can freely approach God's throne through prayer and have God in their lives through the Holy Spirit.

111:10 The only way to become truly wise is to fear (revere) God. This same thought is expressed in Proverbs 1:7–9. Too often people want to skip this step, thinking they can become wise by life experience and academic knowledge alone. But if we do not acknowledge God as the source of wisdom, then our foundation for making wise decisions is shaky, and we are prone to mistakes and foolish choices.

112:1 Many blessings are available to us – honor, prosperity, security, freedom from fear (112:2–9)—if we fear the Lord and delight in obeying his commands. If you expect God's blessings, you must revere him and gladly obey him.

4Even in darkness light dawns for the upright, for the gracious and compassionate and righteous man.[m]
112:5 5Good will come to him who is generous and lends freely,[c]
[c] Ps 37:21, 26
who conducts his affairs with justice.
6Surely he will never be shaken;
112:6 a righteous man will be remembered[d] forever.
[d] Pr 10:7
7He will have no fear of bad news;
112:7 his heart is steadfast,[e] trusting in the LORD.
[e] Ps 57:7
8His heart is secure, he will have no fear;
in the end he will look in triumph on his foes.
112:9 9He has scattered abroad his gifts to the poor,[f]
[f] 2Co 9:9*
[g] Ps 75:10
his righteousness endures forever;
his horn[n] will be lifted[g] high in honor.

112:10 10The wicked man will see and be vexed,
[h] Ps 37:12
he will gnash his teeth[h] and waste away;
the longings of the wicked will come to nothing.

PSALM 113

Theme: The scope of God's care. God's great mercy is demonstrated by his concern for the poor and the oppressed.
Author: Anonymous

1Praise the LORD.[o]

Praise, O servants of the LORD,
praise the name of the LORD.
2Let the name of the LORD be praised,
113:2 both now and forevermore.[i]
[i] Da 2:20
3From the rising of the sun to the place where it sets, the name of the LORD is to be praised.

113:4 4The LORD is exalted[j] over all the nations,
[j] Ps 99:2
[k] Ps 8:1
his glory above the heavens.[k] 5Who is like the LORD our God,
the One who sits enthroned on high,
113:6 6who stoops down to look[l]
[l] Ps 11:4; 138:6; Isa 57:15 on the heavens and the earth?

113:7 7He raises the poor[m] from the dust
[m] 1Sa 2:8
[n] Ps 107:41
and lifts the needy[n] from the ash heap; 8he seats them with princes, with the princes of their people.
113:9 9He settles the barren[o] woman in her home
[o] 1Sa 2:5
as a happy mother of children.
Praise the LORD.

[m] 4 Or I for the LORD*, is gracious and compassionate and righteous* [n] 9 Horn here symbolizes dignity.
[o] 1 Hebrew Hallelu Yah; also in verse 9

112:5 Generosity will cure two problems that money can create. The rich man may abuse others in his desire to accumulate wealth. Generosity will eliminate that abuse. Also, the fear of losing money can be a snare. Generosity and respect for God places our trust in him, not our money, for justice and security.

112:7, 8 We all want to live without fear; our heroes are fearless people who take on all dangers and overcome them. The psalmist teaches us that fear of God can lead to a fearless life. To fear God means to respect and revere him as the almighty Lord. When we trust God completely to take care of us, we will find that our other fears – even of death itself – will subside.

112:9 "His horn will be lifted high in honor" means that God's dignity will be uplifted and those faithful to God will be honored. The horn was a symbol of power and dignity just as the horns of animals represent their strength.

113:5–9 In God's eyes, a person's value has no relationship to his or her wealth or position on the social ladder. Many people who have excelled in God's work began in poverty or humble beginnings. God supersedes the social orders of this world, often choosing his future leaders and ambassadors from among social outcasts. Do you treat the unwanted in society as though they have value? Demonstrate by your actions that all people are valuable and useful in God's eyes.

PSALM 114

Theme: The mighty God who delivered Israel from Egypt.
We can celebrate God's great work in our lives.
Author: Anonymous

1When Israel came out of Egypt,[p]
the house of Jacob from a people of foreign tongue, 2Judah became God's sanctuary,
Israel his dominion.

3The sea looked and fled,[q]
the Jordan turned back; 4the mountains skipped like rams,
the hills like lambs.

5Why was it, O sea, that you fled,
O Jordan, that you turned back, 6you mountains, that you skipped like rams,
you hills, like lambs?

7Tremble, O earth, at the presence of the Lord,
at the presence of the God of Jacob, 8who turned the rock into a pool,
the hard rock into springs of water.[r]

114:1
[p]Ex 13:3

114:3
[q]Ex 14:21

114:8
[r]Ex 17:6; Nu 20:11

PSALM 115

Theme: God is alive. He is thinking about us and caring for us, and we should put him first in our lives.
Author: Anonymous

1Not to us, O LORD, not to us but to your name be the glory, because of your love and faithfulness.

2Why do the nations say,
"Where is their God?"[s] 3Our God is in heaven;
he does whatever pleases him.[t] 4But their idols are silver and gold, made by the hands of men.[u]
5They have mouths, but cannot speak,

115:2
[s]Ps 42:3

115:3
[t]Ps 135:6

115:4
[u]Jer 10:3-5

114:7 When God gave the law at Mount Sinai, the mountain trembled in God's presence. Even with our great technology, the seas, rivers, and mountains still present us with formidable challenges. But to God, who controls nature, they are as nothing. When observing the power of an ocean wave or the majesty of a mountain peak, think of God's greatness and glory, which are far more awesome than the natural wonders you can see. To tremble at God's presence means to recognize God's complete power and authority and our frailty by comparison.

115–118 Psalms 115–118 were traditionally sung at the Passover meal, commemorating Israel's escape from slavery in Egypt (Exodus 11, 12).

115:1 The psalmist asked that God's name, not the nation's, be glorified. Too often we ask God to glorify his name with ours. For example, we may pray for help to do a good job so that our work will be noticed. Or we may ask that a presentation go well so we will get applause. There is nothing wrong with looking good or impressing others; the problem comes when we want to look good no matter what happens to God's reputation in the process. Before you pray, ask yourself, "Who will get the credit if God answers my prayer?"

115:4–8 When the psalms were written, many people worshiped idols – statues of wood, stone, or metal. They took pride in what they could see and had contempt for what they couldn't see. Today, we still may value tangible objects (home, clothing, possessions) rather than intangible realities (spiritual growth, salvation, giving to those in need, spending time with loved ones). Those who spend their time obtaining tangible objects are as foolish and empty as the idols themselves. (For more on the foolishness of idols, see Isaiah 44:9–20.)

eyes, but they cannot see;
6they have ears, but cannot hear,
noses, but they cannot smell;
7they have hands, but cannot feel,
feet, but they cannot walk;
nor can they utter a sound with their throats.
8Those who make them will be like them,
and so will all who trust in them.

9O house of Israel, trust in the LORD—
he is their help and shield.
10O house of Aaron, trust in the LORD—
he is their help and shield.
11You who fear him, trust in the LORD—
he is their help and shield.

12The LORD remembers us and will bless us:
He will bless the house of Israel,
he will bless the house of Aaron, 13he will bless those who fear the LORD—
small and great alike.

14May the LORD make you increase,
both you and your children.
15May you be blessed by the LORD,
the Maker of heaven[v] and earth.

115:15 [v] Ge 1:1

16The highest heavens belong to the LORD,
but the earth he has given to man.
17It is not the dead[w] who praise the LORD,
those who go down to silence;
18it is we who extol the LORD,
both now and forevermore.[x]

115:17 [w] Ps 88:10-12

115:18 [x] Ps 113:2

Praise the LORD.[p]

PSALM 116

Theme: Praise for being saved from certain death. Worship is a thankful response and not a repayment for what God has done.
Author: Anonymous

1I love the LORD,[y] for he heard my voice;
he heard my cry for mercy.
2Because he turned his ear to me,
I will call on him as long as I live.

116:1 [y] Ps 18:1

3The cords of death entangled me,
the anguish of the grave[q] came upon me;
I was overcome by trouble and sorrow.
4Then I called on the name of the LORD:
"O LORD, save me!"

[p] 18 Hebrew Hallelu Yah [q] 3 Hebrew Sheol

115:12 "The LORD remembers us," says the psalm writer. What a fantastic truth! There are many times when we feel isolated, alone, and abandoned, even by God. In reality, he sees, understands, and thinks about us. When depressed by problems or struggling with self-worth, be encouraged that God keeps you in his thoughts. If he thinks about you, surely his help is near.

116:1, 2 God is so responsive that you can always reach him. He bends down and listens to your voice. This writer's love for the Lord had grown because he had experienced answers to his prayers. If you are discouraged, remember that God is near, listening carefully to every prayer and answering each prayer in order to give you his best.

5 The LORD is gracious and righteous;[z]
our God is full of compassion.
6 The LORD protects the simplehearted;
when I was in great need, he saved me.

7 Be at rest[a] once more, O my soul,
for the LORD has been good[b] to you.

8 For you, O LORD, have delivered my soul from death, my eyes from tears,
my feet from stumbling,
9 that I may walk before the LORD in the land of the living.[c] 10 I believed;[d] therefore[r] I said,
"I am greatly afflicted."
11 And in my dismay I said,
"All men are liars."[e]

12 How can I repay the LORD for all his goodness to me?
13 I will lift up the cup of salvation
and call on the name of the LORD.
14 I will fulfill my vows to the LORD
in the presence of all his people.

15 Precious in the sight[f] of the LORD is the death of his saints.
16 O LORD, truly I am your servant;[g]
I am your servant, the son of your maidservant[s];[h]
you have freed me from my chains.

17 I will sacrifice a thank offering to you
and call on the name of the LORD.
18 I will fulfill my vows to the LORD
in the presence of all his people, 19 in the courts[i] of the house of the LORD—
in your midst, O Jerusalem.

Praise the LORD.[t]

116:5 [z] Ezr 9:15

116:7 [a] Mt 11:29 [b] Ps 13:6

116:9 [c] Ps 27:13

116:10 [d] 2Co 4:13*

116:11 [e] Ro 3:4

116:15 [f] Ps 72:14

116:16 [g] Ps 119:125; 143:12 [h] Ps 86:16

116:19 [i] Ps 96:8

PSALM 117

Theme: Another reason for praise—God's love for the whole world. We should praise God for his unlimited love.
Author: Anonymous

1 Praise the LORD, all you nations;[j] extol him, all you peoples.
2 For great is his love toward us,
and the faithfulness of the LORD endures forever.
Praise the LORD.[u]

117:1 [j] Ro 15:11*

[r] 10 Or believed even when [s] 16 Or servant, your faithful son [t] 19 Hebrew Hallelu Yah [u] 2 Hebrew Hallelu Yah

116:15 God stays close to us even in death. When someone we love is nearing death, we may become angry and feel abandoned. But believers (saints) are precious to God, and he carefully chooses the time when they will be called into his presence. Let this truth provide comfort when you've lost a loved one. God sees, and each life is valuable to him (see Jesus' statement in Matthew 10:29).

117:1, 2 Not only is Psalm 117 the shortest chapter in the Bible, it is also the middle chapter. Paul quotes from this psalm in Romans 15:11 to show that God's salvation is for all people, not just the Jews.

PSALM 118

Theme: Confidence in God's eternal love. God's love is unchanging in the midst of changing situations. This gives us security.
Author: Anonymous

1 Give thanks to the LORD, for he is good;
his love endures forever.

118:2 [k] Ps 115:9
2 Let Israel say: [k]
"His love endures forever."
3 Let the house of Aaron say:
"His love endures forever."
4 Let those who fear the LORD say:
"His love endures forever."

118:5 [l] Ps 120:1
5 In my anguish [l] I cried to the LORD, and he answered by setting me free.
118:6 [m] Heb 13:6*
6 The LORD is with me; [m] I will not be afraid.
What can man do to me?
7 The LORD is with me; he is my helper.
I will look in triumph on my enemies.

118:8 [n] Ps 40:4
8 It is better to take refuge in the LORD [n] than to trust in man.
118:9 [o] Ps 146:3
9 It is better to take refuge in the LORD than to trust in princes. [o]

10 All the nations surrounded me,
but in the name of the LORD I cut them off.
11 They surrounded me on every side,
but in the name of the LORD I cut them off.
118:12 [p] Dt 1:44
12 They swarmed around me like bees, [p]
but they died out as quickly as burning thorns;
in the name of the LORD I cut them off.

13 I was pushed back and about to fall,
but the LORD helped me.
118:14 [q] Ex 15:2
14 The LORD is my strength [q] and my song;
he has become my salvation.

15 Shouts of joy and victory resound in the tents of the righteous:
"The LORD's right hand has done mighty things!
16 The LORD's right hand is lifted high;
the LORD's right hand has done mighty things!"

118:17 [r] Hab 1:12
[s] Ps 73:28
17 I will not die [r] but live, and will proclaim [s] what the LORD has done.
18 The LORD has chastened me severely, but he has not given me over to death.

19 Open for me the gates of righteousness;

117:1, 2 Have you ever said, "I can't think of anything God has done for me. How can I praise him?" This psalm gives two reasons for praising God: his great love toward us, and his faithfulness that endures forever. If he did nothing else for us, he would still be worthy of our highest praise.

118:8 Pilots put confidence in their planes. Commuters place confidence in trains, cars, or buses. Each day we must put our confidence in something or someone. If you are willing to trust a plane or car to get you to your destination, are you willing to trust God to guide you here on earth and to your eternal destination? Do you trust him more than any human being? How futile it is to trust anything or anyone more than God.

I will enter and give thanks to the LORD.
20This is the gate of the LORD through which the righteous may enter.[t] 21I will give you thanks, for you answered me;
you have become my salvation.

22The stone the builders rejected has become the capstone;[u] 23the LORD has done this,
and it is marvelous in our eyes.
24This is the day the LORD has made;
let us rejoice and be glad in it.

25O LORD, save us;
O LORD, grant us success.
26Blessed is he who comes[v] in the name of the LORD.
From the house of the LORD we bless you.[v] 27The LORD is God,
and he has made his light shine[w] upon us.
With boughs in hand, join in the festal procession up[w] to the horns of the altar.

28You are my God, and I will give you thanks;
you are my God,[x] and I will exalt[y] you.

29Give thanks to the LORD, for he is good;
his love endures forever.

118:20 [t]Rev 22:14

118:22 [u]Mt 21:42; Mk 12:10; Lk 20:17*; Ac 4:11*

118:26 [v]Mt 21:9*; Mk 11:9*; Lk 19:38

118:27 [w]1Pe 2:9

118:28 [x]Isa 25:1 [y]Ex 15:2

PSALM 119[x]

Theme: God's Word is true and wonderful. Stay true to God and his Word no matter how bad the world becomes. Obedience to God's laws is the only way to achieve real happiness.
Author: Anonymous, some suggest Ezra the priest

א Aleph

1Blessed are they whose ways are blameless, who walk[z] according to the law of the LORD.
2Blessed are they who keep his statutes and seek him with all their heart.
3They do nothing wrong;[a] they walk in his ways.
4You have laid down precepts that are to be fully obeyed.

119:1 [z]Ps 128:1

119:3 [a]1Jn 3:9; 5:18

v 26 The Hebrew is plural. w 27 Or Bind the festal sacrifice with ropes / and take it x This psalm is an acrostic poem; the verses of each stanza begin with the same letter of the Hebrew alphabet.

118:22, 23 Jesus referred to this verse when he spoke of being rejected by his own people (Matthew 21:42; Mark 12:10, 11; Luke 20:17). Although he was rejected, Jesus is now the "capstone," the most important part of the church (Acts 4:11; Ephesians 2:20; 1 Peter 2:6, 7). The capstone is the center stone in the top of an arch, holding the whole arch together.

118:24 There are days when the last thing we want to do is rejoice. Our mood is down, our situation is out of hand, and our sorrow or guilt is overwhelming. We can relate to the writers of the psalms who often felt this way. But no matter how low the psalmists felt, they were always honest with God. And as they talked to God, their prayers ended in praise. When you don't feel like rejoicing, tell God how you truly feel. You will find that God will give you a reason to rejoice. God has given you this day to live and to serve him—be glad!

118:27 The "horns of the altar" were the projections from the four corners of the altar.

119:1ff This is both the longest psalm and the longest chapter in the Bible. It may have been written by Ezra after the temple was rebuilt (Ezra 6:14, 15) as a repetitive meditation on the beauty of God's Word and how it helps us stay pure and grow in faith. Psalm 119 has 22 carefully constructed sections, each corresponding to a different letter in the Hebrew alphabet and each verse beginning with the letter of its section. Almost every verse mentions God's Word. Such repetition was common in the Hebrew culture. People did not have personal copies of the Scriptures to read as we do, so God's people memorized his Word and passed it along orally. The structure of this psalm allowed for easy memorization. Remember, God's Word, the Bible, is the only sure guide for living a pure life.

5Oh, that my ways were steadfast in obeying your decrees!
6Then I would not be put to shame
when I consider all your commands.
7I will praise you with an upright heart as I learn your righteous laws.
8I will obey your decrees;
do not utterly forsake me.

ב Beth

9How can a young man keep his way pure?
By living according to your word.
10I seek you with all my heart;
do not let me stray from your commands.
11I have hidden your word in my heart that I might not sin against you.
12Praise be to you, O LORD;
teach me your decrees.
13With my lips I recount
all the laws that come from your mouth.
14I rejoice in following your statutes as one rejoices in great riches.
15I meditate on your precepts[b] and consider your ways.
16I delight in your decrees;
I will not neglect your word.

119:15 [b] Ps 1:2

ג Gimel

17Do good to your servant, and I will live;
I will obey your word.
18Open my eyes that I may see wonderful things in your law.
19I am a stranger on earth;[c]
do not hide your commands from me.
20My soul is consumed[d] with longing for your laws at all times.
21You rebuke the arrogant, who are cursed and who stray from your commands.
22Remove from me scorn[e] and contempt,
for I keep your statutes.
23Though rulers sit together and slander me, your servant will meditate on your decrees.
24Your statutes are my delight;
they are my counselors.

119:19 [c] Heb 11:13

119:20 [d] Ps 42:2

119:22 [e] Ps 39:8

119:9 We are drowning in a sea of impurity. Everywhere we look we find temptation to lead impure lives. The psalmist asked a question that troubles us all: how do we stay pure in a filthy environment? We cannot do this on our own, but must have counsel and strength more dynamic than the tempting influences around us. Where can we find that strength and wisdom? By reading God's Word and doing what it says.

119:11 Hiding (keeping) God's Word in our hearts is a deterrent to sin. This alone should inspire us to memorize Scripture. But memorization alone will not keep us from sin; we must also put God's Word to work in our lives, making it a vital guide for everything we do.

119:12–24 Most of us chafe under rules, for we think they restrict us from doing what we want. At first glance, then, it may seem strange to hear the psalmist talk of rejoicing in following God's statutes as much as in great riches. But God's laws were given to free us to be all he wants us to be. They restrict us from doing what might cripple us and keep us from being our best. God's guidelines help us follow his path and avoid paths that lead to destruction.

119:19 The psalmist says that he is a "stranger on earth," and so he needed guidance. Almost any long trip requires a map or guide. As we travel through life, the Bible should be our road map, pointing out safe routes, obstacles to avoid, and our final destination. We must recognize ourselves as pilgrims, travelers here on earth who need to study God's map to learn the way. If we ignore

ד Daleth

25 I am laid low in the dust;[f] preserve my life according to your word.
26 I recounted my ways and you answered me;
teach me your decrees.
27 Let me understand the teaching of your precepts;
then I will meditate on your wonders.[g] 28 My soul is weary with sorrow;
strengthen me according to your word.
29 Keep me from deceitful ways;
be gracious to me through your law.
30 I have chosen the way of truth;
I have set my heart on your laws.
31 I hold fast to your statutes, O LORD;
do not let me be put to shame.
32 I run in the path of your commands, for you have set my heart free.

119:25 [f] Ps 44:25

119:27 [g] Ps 145:5

ה He

33 Teach me, O LORD, to follow your decrees;
then I will keep them to the end.
34 Give me understanding, and I will keep your law and obey it with all my heart.
35 Direct me in the path of your commands,
for there I find delight.
36 Turn my heart toward your statutes and not toward selfish gain.
37 Turn my eyes away from worthless things;
preserve my life[h] according to your word.[ע] 38 Fulfill your promise to your servant,
so that you may be feared.
39 Take away the disgrace I dread, for your laws are good.
40 How I long for your precepts!
Preserve my life in your righteousness.

119:37 [h] Ps 71:20

ו Waw

41 May your unfailing love come to me, O LORD, your salvation according to your promise; 42 then I will answer the one who taunts me,
for I trust in your word.
43 Do not snatch the word of truth from my mouth, for I have put my hope in your laws.
44 I will always obey your law,

ע 37 Two manuscripts of the Masoretic Text and Dead Sea Scrolls; most manuscripts of the Masoretic Text life in your way

---

the map, we will wander aimlessly through life and risk missing our real destination.

119:27, 28 Our lives are cluttered with rule books, but the authors never come with us to help us follow the rules. But God does. That is the uniqueness of our Bible. God not only provides the rules and guidelines, but comes with us personally each day to strengthen us so that we can live according to those rules. All we must do is invite him and respond to his direction.

119:36 In today's world, people most often covet financial gain. Money represents power, influence, and success. For many people, money is a god. They think about little else. True, money can buy certain comforts and offer some security. But far more valuable than wealth is obedience to God because it is a heavenly treasure rather than an earthly one (Luke 12:33). We should do what God wants, regardless of the financial implications. Make the psalmist's prayer your own, asking God to turn your heart toward his statutes and not toward making money; it's in your own best interest in the long run.

for ever and ever.
45I will walk about in freedom,
for I have sought out your precepts.
119:46 46I will speak of your statutes before kings[i]
[i]Mt 10:18; Ac 26:1-2 and will not be put to shame, 47for I delight in your commands
because I love them.
48I lift up my hands to[z] your commands, which I love, and I meditate on your decrees.

ז Zayin

49Remember your word to your servant,
for you have given me hope.
50My comfort in my suffering is this:
Your promise preserves my life.
51The arrogant mock me without restraint,
119:51 but I do not turn[j] from your law.
[j]Job 23:11
52I remember your ancient laws, O LORD, and I find comfort in them.
53Indignation grips me because of the wicked, who have forsaken your law.
54Your decrees are the theme of my song wherever I lodge.
119:55 55In the night I remember[k] your name, O LORD, [k]Ps 63:6 and I will keep your law.
56This has been my practice:
I obey your precepts.

ח Heth

57You are my portion, O LORD;
I have promised to obey your words.
58I have sought your face with all my heart;
be gracious to me according to your promise.
59I have considered my ways and have turned my steps to your statutes.
60I will hasten and not delay to obey your commands.
61Though the wicked bind me with ropes,
I will not forget your law.
62At midnight I rise to give you thanks for your righteous laws.
63I am a friend to all who fear you,
to all who follow your precepts.
119:64 64The earth is filled with your love,[l] O LORD;
[l]Ps 33:5 teach me your decrees.

ט Teth

65Do good to your servant
according to your word, O LORD.
66Teach me knowledge and good judgment, for I believe in your commands.

[z] 48 Or for

119:44-46 The psalmist talks about keeping the laws and yet being free. Contrary to what we often expect, obeying God's laws does not inhibit or restrain us. Instead it frees us to be what God designed us to be. By seeking God's salvation and forgiveness, we have freedom from sin and the resulting oppressive guilt. By living God's way, we have freedom to fulfill God's plan for our lives.

67 Before I was afflicted I went astray,
but now I obey your word.
68 You are good,[m] and what you do is good;
teach me your decrees.
69 Though the arrogant have smeared me with lies,[n]
I keep your precepts with all my heart.
70 Their hearts are callous[o] and unfeeling,
but I delight in your law.
71 It was good for me to be afflicted
so that I might learn your decrees.
72 The law from your mouth is more precious to me than thousands of pieces of silver and gold.[p]

119:68 [m] Ps 106:1
119:69 [n] Job 13:4
119:70 [o] Ps 17:10
119:72 [p] Ps 19:10

י Yodh

73 Your hands made me[q] and formed me;
give me understanding to learn your commands.
74 May those who fear you rejoice[r] when they see me,
for I have put my hope in your word.
75 I know, O LORD, that your laws are righteous, and in faithfulness[s] you have afflicted me.
76 May your unfailing love be my comfort,
according to your promise to your servant.
77 Let your compassion come to me that I may live, for your law is my delight.
78 May the arrogant be put to shame for wronging me without cause;
but I will meditate on your precepts.
79 May those who fear you turn to me,
those who understand your statutes.
80 May my heart be blameless toward your decrees, that I may not be put to shame.

119:73 [q] Job 10:8; Ps 138:8
119:74 [r] Ps 34:2
119:75 [s] Heb 12:5-11

כ Kaph

81 My soul faints[t] with longing for your salvation, but I have put my hope in your word.
82 My eyes fail,[u] looking for your promise;
I say, "When will you comfort me?"
83 Though I am like a wineskin in the smoke,
I do not forget your decrees.
84 How long[v] must your servant wait?
When will you punish my persecutors?
85 The arrogant dig pitfalls[w] for me,
contrary to your law.
86 All your commands are trustworthy;
help me, for men persecute me without cause.
87 They almost wiped me from the earth,
but I have not forsaken your precepts.
88 Preserve my life according to your love,
and I will obey the statutes of your mouth.

119:81 [t] Ps 84:2
119:82 [u] Ps 69:3
119:84 [v] Rev 6:10
119:85 [w] Ps 35:7

ל Lamedh

89 Your word, O LORD, is eternal;[x]
it stands firm in the heavens.
90 Your faithfulness continues through all generations;
you established the earth, and it endures.
91 Your laws endure[y] to this day,
for all things serve you.

119:89 [x] 1Pe 1:25
119:91 [y] Jer 33:25

92 If your law had not been my delight,
I would have perished in my affliction.
93 I will never forget your precepts, for by them you have preserved my life.
94 Save me, for I am yours;
I have sought out your precepts.
95 The wicked are waiting to destroy me,
but I will ponder your statutes.
96 To all perfection I see a limit;
but your commands are boundless.

מ Mem

97 Oh, how I love your law!
I meditate on it all day long.
98 Your commands make me wiser[z] than my enemies, for they are ever with me.
99 I have more insight than all my teachers,
for I meditate on your statutes.
100 I have more understanding than the elders,
for I obey your precepts.
101 I have kept my feet[a] from every evil path
so that I might obey your word.
102 I have not departed from your laws,
for you yourself have taught me.
103 How sweet are your words to my taste, sweeter than honey[b] to my mouth!
104 I gain understanding from your precepts;
therefore I hate every wrong path.

119:98 [z] Dt 4:6

119:101 [a] Pr 1:15

119:103 [b] Ps 19:10

נ Nun

105 Your word is a lamp to my feet and a light[c] for my path.
106 I have taken an oath[d] and confirmed it,
that I will follow your righteous laws.
107 I have suffered much;
preserve my life, O LORD, according to your word.
108 Accept, O LORD, the willing praise of my mouth, and teach me your laws.
109 Though I constantly take my life in my hands,
I will not forget your law.
110 The wicked have set a snare for me,
but I have not strayed from your precepts.
111 Your statutes are my heritage forever;
they are the joy of my heart.
112 My heart is set on keeping your decrees to the very end.

119:105 [c] Pr 6:23

119:106 [d] Ne 10:29

119:97–104 God's Word makes us wise – wiser than our enemies and wiser than any teachers who ignore it. True wisdom goes beyond amassing knowledge; it is applying knowledge in a life-changing way. Intelligent or experienced people are not necessarily wise. Wisdom comes from allowing what God teaches to guide us.

119:105 To walk safely in the woods at night we need a light so we don't trip over tree roots or fall into holes. In this life, we walk through a dark forest of evil. But the Bible can be our light to show us the way ahead so we won't stumble as we walk. It reveals the entangling roots of false values and philosophies. Study the Bible so you will be able to see your way clear enough to stay on the right path.

ס Samekh

113 I hate double-minded men,
but I love your law.
114 You are my refuge and my shield;
I have put my hope in your word.
115 Away from me,[e] you evildoers, that I may keep the commands of my God!
116 Sustain me according to your promise, and I will live;
do not let my hopes be dashed.[f]
117 Uphold me, and I will be delivered;
I will always have regard for your decrees.
118 You reject all who stray from your decrees, for their deceitfulness is in vain.
119 All the wicked of the earth you discard like dross;[g] therefore I love your statutes.
120 My flesh trembles in fear of you;
I stand in awe of your laws.

119:115 [e] Ps 6:8
119:116 [f] Ro 5:5
119:119 [g] Eze 22:18, 19

ע Ayin

121 I have done what is righteous and just;
do not leave me to my oppressors.
122 Ensure your servant's well-being;
let not the arrogant oppress me.
123 My eyes fail, looking for your salvation, looking for your righteous promise.
124 Deal with your servant according to your love
and teach me your decrees.
125 I am your servant;[h] give me discernment that I may understand your statutes.
126 It is time for you to act, O LORD;
your law is being broken.
127 Because I love your commands more than gold,[i] more than pure gold.
128 and because I consider all your precepts right,
I hate every wrong path.

119:125 [h] Ps 116:16
119:127 [i] Ps 19:10

פ Pe

129 Your statutes are wonderful;
therefore I obey them.
130 The unfolding of your words gives light;
it gives understanding to the simple.[j] 131 I open my mouth and pant, longing for your commands.
132 Turn to me and have mercy on me,
as you always do to those who love your name.
133 Direct my footsteps according to your word;
let no sin rule over me.
134 Redeem me from the oppression of men,
that I may obey your precepts.

119:130 [j] Ps 19:7

119:113 Double-minded people cannot make up their minds between good and evil. But when it comes to obeying God, there is no middle ground; you must take a stand. Either you are obeying him or you are not. Either you are doing what he wants or you are undecided. Choose to obey God, and say with the psalmist, "I love your law."

119:125 The psalmist asked God for discernment. Faith comes alive when we apply Scripture to our daily tasks and concerns. We need discernment so we can understand, and we need the desire to apply Scripture where we need help. The Bible is like medicine – it goes to work only when we apply it to the affected areas. As you read the Bible, be alert for lessons, commands, or examples that you can put into practice.

119:135 [k] Ps 4:6
135 Make your face shine[k] upon your servant
and teach me your decrees.
119:136 [l] Jer 9:1, 18
136 Streams of tears[l] flow from my eyes, for your law is not obeyed.

ץ Tsadhe

137 Righteous are you, O LORD, and your laws are right.
119:138 [m] Ps 19:7
138 The statutes you have laid down are righteous;[m]
they are fully trustworthy.
119:139 [n] Ps 69:9
139 My zeal wears me out,[n]
for my enemies ignore your words.
119:140 [o] Ps 12:6
140 Your promises have been thoroughly tested,[o]
and your servant loves them.
141 Though I am lowly and despised,
I do not forget your precepts.
142 Your righteousness is everlasting
119:142 [p] Ps 19:7
and your law is true.[p] 143 Trouble and distress have come upon me, but your commands are my delight.
144 Your statutes are forever right;
give me understanding that I may live.

ק Qoph

145 I call with all my heart; answer me, O LORD, and I will obey your decrees.
146 I call out to you; save me and I will keep your statutes.
119:147 [q] Ps 5:3
147 I rise before dawn[q] and cry for help;
I have put my hope in your word.
148 My eyes stay open through the watches of the night,
that I may meditate on your promises.
149 Hear my voice in accordance with your love;
preserve my life, O LORD, according to your laws.
150 Those who devise wicked schemes are near,
but they are far from your law.
119:151 [r] Ps 34:18
151 Yet you are near,[r] O LORD, and all your commands are true.
152 Long ago I learned from your statutes
119:152 [s] Lk 21:33
that you established them to last forever.[s]

ר Resh

153 Look upon my suffering and deliver me, for I have not forgotten your law.
119:154 [t] 1Sa 24:15
154 Defend my cause and redeem me;[t] preserve my life according to your promise.
155 Salvation is far from the wicked, for they do not seek out your decrees.
156 Your compassion is great, O LORD; preserve my life according to your laws.
157 Many are the foes who persecute me,
but I have not turned from your statutes.
158 I look on the faithless with loathing, for they do not obey your word.
159 See how I love your precepts; preserve my life, O LORD, according to your love.

160 All your words are true;
all your righteous laws are eternal.

ש Sin and Shin

161 Rulers persecute me without cause, but my heart trembles at your word.
162 I rejoice in your promise like one who finds great spoil.
163 I hate and abhor falsehood
but I love your law.
164 Seven times a day I praise you
for your righteous laws.
165 Great peace[u] have they who love your law,
and nothing can make them stumble.
166 I wait for your salvation, O LORD, and I follow your commands.
167 I obey your statutes,
for I love them greatly.
168 I obey your precepts and your statutes, for all my ways are known[v] to you.

119:165
[u] Isa 32:17

119:168
[v] Pr 5:21

ת Taw

169 May my cry come before you, O LORD;
give me understanding according to your word.
170 May my supplication come before you;
deliver me according to your promise.
171 May my lips overflow with praise, for you teach me your decrees.
172 May my tongue sing of your word,
for all your commands are righteous.
173 May your hand be ready to help me,
for I have chosen your precepts.
174 I long for your salvation, O LORD, and your law is my delight.
175 Let me live that I may praise you,
and may your laws sustain me.
176 I have strayed like a lost sheep.
Seek your servant,
for I have not forgotten your commands.

PSALM 120

A song of ascents.

Theme: A prayer for deliverance from false accusers. All believers must live with the tension of being in the world but not belonging to it.
Author: Anonymous, some suggest Hezekiah

1 I call on the LORD in my distress, and he answers me.

119:160 One of God's characteristics is truthfulness. He embodies perfect truth; therefore, his Word cannot lie. It is true and dependable for guidance and help (see John 17:14–17). The Bible is completely true and trustworthy.

119:165 Modern society longs for peace of mind. Here is clear-cut instruction on how to attain this: if we love God and obey his laws, we will have "great peace." Trust in God, who alone stands above the pressures of daily life and gives us full assurance.

2Save me, O LORD, from lying lips and from deceitful tongues.

3What will he do to you,
and what more besides, O deceitful tongue?
4He will punish you with a warrior's sharp arrows, with burning coals of the broom tree.

5Woe to me that I dwell in Meshech, that I live among the tents of Kedar![w] 6Too long have I lived among those who hate peace.
7I am a man of peace;
but when I speak, they are for war.

120:5
[w] Ge 25:13

PSALM 121

A song of ascents.

Theme: We can depend upon God for help. Pilgrims must travel through lonely country to their destination; they are protected, not by anything created, but by the Creator of everything.
Author: Anonymous, some suggest Hezekiah

1I lift up my eyes to the hills—where does my help come from?
2My help comes from the LORD,
the Maker of heaven and earth.[x]

121:2
[x] Ps 104:5

3He will not let your foot slip—he who watches over you will not slumber; 4indeed, he who watches over Israel will neither slumber nor sleep.

5The LORD watches over you—
the LORD is your shade at your right hand; 6the sun[y] will not harm you by day, nor the moon by night.

121:6
[y] Isa 49:10

7The LORD will keep you from all harm—
he will watch over your life;
8the LORD will watch over your coming and going both now and forevermore.[z]

121:8
[z] Dt 28:6

120–134 Psalms 120–134 are called "Pilgrim Psalms" or "Songs of Ascent." They were sung by those who journeyed (and thus "ascended") to the temple for the annual feasts. Each psalm is a "step" along the journey. Psalm 120 begins the journey in a distant land in hostile surroundings; Psalm 122 pictures the pilgrims arriving in Jerusalem; and the rest of the psalms move toward the temple, mentioning various characteristics of God.

120:5, 6 Meshech was a nation far to the north of Israel; Kedar a nation to the southeast. Both were known for being warlike and barbarian. Because the psalmist couldn't have been in two places at one time, he was lamenting that he felt far from home and surrounded by pagan people.

120:7 Peacemaking is not always popular. Some people prefer to fight for what they believe in. The glory of battle is in the hope of winning, but someone must be a loser. The glory of peacemaking is that it may actually produce two winners. Peacemaking is God's way, so we should carefully and prayerfully attempt to be peacemakers.

121:1ff This song expresses assurance and hope in God's protection day and night. He not only made the hills but heaven and earth as well. We should never trust a lesser power than God himself. But not only is he all-powerful, he also watches over us. Nothing diverts or deters him. We are safe. We never outgrow our need for God's untiring watch over our lives.

PSALM 122

A song of ascents. Of David.

Theme: Stepping into the presence of God. What Jerusalem was for the Israelites, the church is to the believer.
Author: David

1 I rejoiced with those who said to me,
"Let us go to the house of the LORD."
2 Our feet are standing in your gates, O Jerusalem.

3 Jerusalem is built like a city that is closely compacted together.
4 That is where the tribes go up,
the tribes of the LORD,
to praise the name of the LORD
according to the statute given to Israel.
5 There the thrones for judgment stand,
the thrones of the house of David.

6 Pray for the peace of Jerusalem:
"May those who love you be secure.
7 May there be peace within your walls and security within your citadels."
8 For the sake of my brothers and friends,
I will say, "Peace be within you."
9 For the sake of the house of the LORD our God,
I will seek your prosperity.

PSALM 123

A song of ascents.

Theme: Look to God for mercy. We are encouraged to be attentive to God's leading.
Author: Anonymous, some suggest Hezekiah

1 I lift up my eyes to you,
to you whose throne is in heaven.
2 As the eyes of slaves look to the hand of their master, as the eyes of a maid look to the hand of her mistress,
so our eyes look to the LORD our God,
till he shows us his mercy.

3 Have mercy on us, O LORD, have mercy on us, for we have endured much contempt.

122:1 Going to God's house can be a chore or a delight. For the psalmist, it was a delight. As a pilgrim attending one of the three great religious festivals, he rejoiced to worship with God's people in God's house. We may find worship a chore if we have unconfessed sin or if our love for God has cooled. But if we are close to God and enjoy his presence, we will be eager to worship and praise him. Our attitude toward God will determine our view of worship.

122:5 The "thrones for judgment" are the courts of justice by the town gate. In Bible times, the elders in a town sat to hear cases and administer justice at the gate (Ruth 4:1, 2). Sometimes the king himself would sit at the gate to meet his subjects and make legal decisions (2 Samuel 19:8). Speeches and prophecies were also made at the city gate (Nehemiah 8:1; Jeremiah 17:19, 20).

122:6–9 The psalmist was not praying for his own peace and prosperity, but for that of his brothers and friends in Jerusalem. This is intercessory prayer, prayer on behalf of others. Too often we are quick to pray for our own needs and desires, and omit interceding for others. Will you intercede for someone in need today?

122:6–9 The peace sought in these verses is much more than the mere absence of conflict. It suggests completeness, health, justice, prosperity, and protection. The world cannot provide this peace. Real peace comes from faith in God because he alone embodies all the characteristics of peace. To find peace of mind and peace with others, you must find peace with God.

123:1ff The psalmist lifted his eyes to God, waiting and watching for God to send his mercy. The more he waited, the more he cried out to God because he knew that the evil and proud offered no help – they had only contempt for God.

4We have endured much ridicule from the proud, much contempt from the arrogant.

PSALM 124

A song of ascents. Of David.

Theme: God delivers us from those who seek to destroy us. God is on the side of those who seek him.
Author: David, possibly written after his defeat of the Philistines (2 Samuel 5:17–25)

1If the LORD had not been on our side —
let Israel say[a] — 2if the LORD had not been on our side
when men attacked us, 3when their anger flared against us,
they would have swallowed us alive;
4the flood would have engulfed us,
the torrent would have swept over us, 5the raging waters
would have swept us away.

6Praise be to the LORD,
who has not let us be torn by their teeth.
7We have escaped like a bird out of the fowler's snare;[b]
the snare has been broken, and we have escaped.
8Our help is in the name of the LORD,
the Maker of heaven[c] and earth.

124:1 [a] Ps 129:1
124:7 [b] Ps 91:3
124:8 [c] Ge 1:1; Ps 121:2

PSALM 125

A song of ascents.

Theme: God is our Protector. The mountains around Jerusalem symbolize God's protection for his people.
Author: Anonymous, some suggest Hezekiah

1Those who trust in the LORD are like Mount Zion, which cannot be shaken but endures forever.
2As the mountains surround Jerusalem, so the LORD surrounds his people
both now and forevermore.

3The scepter of the wicked will not remain[d] over the land allotted to the righteous, for then the righteous might use their hands to do evil.

4Do good, O LORD, to those who are good,

125:3 [d] Pr 22:8; Isa 14:5

124:7, 8 Do you ever feel trapped by overwhelming odds? With God, there is always a way out because he is the Creator of all that exists. No problem is beyond his ability to solve; no circumstance is too difficult for him. We can turn to the Creator for help in our time of need, for he is on our side. God will provide a way out; we need only trust him and look for it. David compared this to a bird escaping the fowler's snare (trap).

125:1 Have you ever known people who were drawn to every new fad or idea? Such people are inconsistent and therefore unreliable. The secret to consistency is to trust in God, because he never changes. He cannot be shaken by the changes in our world, and he endures forever. The fads and ideas of our world, and our world itself, will not.

125:3 Although the psalmist wrote, "The scepter of the wicked will not remain over the land allotted to the righteous," often Israel had to put up with evil rulers. The psalmist was expressing what will ultimately happen when God executes his final judgment. Human sinfulness often ruins God's ideal on earth, but that doesn't mean God has lost control. Evil prevails only as long as God allows.

to those who are upright in heart.
5But those who turn to crooked ways[e]
the LORD will banish with the evildoers.

Peace be upon Israel.[f]

125:5
[e]Pr 2:15
[f]Ps 128:6

PSALM 126

A song of ascents.

Theme: God does great things. His power not only releases us from sin's captive hold, but brings us back to him.
Author: Anonymous, possibly written to celebrate the exiles' return from captivity (Ezra 1)

1When the LORD brought back[g] the captives to[a] Zion, we were like men who dreamed.[b] 2Our mouths were filled with laughter, our tongues with songs of joy.[h]
Then it was said among the nations,
"The LORD has done great things for them."
3The LORD has done great things for us, and we are filled with joy.

4Restore our fortunes,[c] O LORD, like streams in the Negev.
5Those who sow in tears will reap with songs of joy.
6He who goes out weeping, carrying seed to sow,
will return with songs of joy,
carrying sheaves with him.

126:1
[g]Ps 85:1

126:2
[h]Job 8:21

PSALM 127

A song of ascents. Of Solomon.

Theme: Life without God is senseless. All of life's work—building a home, establishing a career, and raising a family—must have God as the foundation.
Author: Solomon

1Unless the LORD builds the house, its builders labor in vain.
Unless the LORD watches[i] over the city,
the watchmen stand guard in vain.
2In vain you rise early and stay up late,
toiling for food[j] to eat—
for he grants sleep to[d] those he loves.

127:1
[i]Ps 121:4

127:2
[j]Ge 3:17

[a] 1 Or LORD restored the fortunes of [b] 1 Or men restored to health [c] 4 Or Bring back our captives [d] 2 Or eat— / for while they sleep he provides for

126:5, 6 God's ability to restore life is beyond our understanding. Forests burn down and are able to grow back. Broken bones heal. Even grief is not a permanent condition. Our tears can be seeds that will grow into a harvest of joy because God is able to bring good out of tragedy. When burdened by sorrow, know that your times of grief will end and that you will again find joy. We must be patient as we wait. God's great harvest of joy is coming!

127:1 Families establish homes and watchmen guard cities, but both these activities are futile unless God is with them. A family without God can never experience the spiritual bond God brings to relationships. A city without God will crumble from evil and corruption on the inside. Don't make the mistake of leaving God out of your life—if you do, all your accomplishments will be futile. Make God your highest priority, and let him do the building.

127:2 God is not against human effort. Hard work honors God (Proverbs 31:10–29). But working to the exclusion of rest or to the neglect of family may be a cover-up for an inability to trust God to provide for our needs. We all need adequate rest and times of spiritual refreshment. On the other hand, this verse is not an excuse to be lazy (Proverbs 18:9). Be careful to maintain a balance: work while trusting God, and also rest while trusting him.

3Sons are a heritage from the LORD, children a reward from him.
4Like arrows in the hands of a warrior are sons born in one's youth.
5Blessed is the man whose quiver is full of them.
They will not be put to shame
when they contend with their enemies in the gate.

PSALM 128

A song of ascents.

Theme: God, the true head of the home. [This is called the marriage prayer because it was often sung at Israelite marriages.] God will reward your devotion to him with inner peace.
Author: Anonymous, some suggest Hezekiah

1Blessed are all who fear the LORD, who walk in his ways.[k] 2You will eat the fruit of your labor;[l] blessings and prosperity will be yours.
3Your wife will be like a fruitful vine within your house;
your sons will be like olive shoots[m] around your table.
4Thus is the man blessed who fears the LORD.

5May the LORD bless you from Zion[n]
all the days of your life;
may you see the prosperity of Jerusalem,
6 and may you live to see your children's children.

Peace be upon Israel.[o]

128:1 [k] Ps 119:1-3
128:2 [l] Isa 3:10
128:3 [m] Ps 52:8; 144:12
128:5 [n] Ps 20:2
128:6 [o] Ps 125:5

PSALM 129

A song of ascents.

Theme: Confidence in times of persecution. God will bring us through the tough times.
Author: Anonymous, some suggest Hezekiah

1They have greatly oppressed me from my youth—
let Israel say[p]—
2they have greatly oppressed me from my youth,
but they have not gained the victory over me.
3Plowmen have plowed my back and made their furrows long.

129:1 [p] Ps 124:1

127:3–5 Too often children are seen as liabilities rather than assets. But the Bible calls children "a heritage from the LORD," a reward. We can learn valuable lessons from their inquisitive minds and trusting spirits. Those who view children as a distraction or nuisance should instead see them as an opportunity to shape the future. We dare not treat children as an inconvenience when God values them so highly.

128:1ff The psalmist wrote that a good family life is a reward for following God. The values outlined in God's Word include love, service, honesty, integrity, and prayer. These help all relationships, and they are especially vital to home life. Is your home life heavenly or hectic? Reading and obeying God's Word is a good place to start to make your family all that it should be.

129:2 The people of Israel were persecuted from their earliest days, but never destroyed completely. The same is true of the church. Christians have faced times of severe persecution, but the church has never been destroyed. As Jesus said to Peter, "On this rock I will build my church, and the gates of Hades will not overcome it" (Matthew 16:18). When you face persecution and discrimination, take courage – the church will never be destroyed.

129:3 This verse foreshadowed Jesus' unjust punishment before his death. He endured horrible lashes from the whip of his tormentors, which indeed made "furrows" on his back (John 19:1).

4But the LORD is righteous;
he has cut me free from the cords of the wicked.

5May all who hate Zion
be turned back in shame.
6May they be like grass on the roof,
which withers before it can grow; 7with it the reaper cannot fill his hands,
nor the one who gathers fill his arms.
8May those who pass by not say,
"The blessing of the LORD be upon you;
we bless you[q] in the name of the LORD."

129:8
[q]Ps 118:26

PSALM 130

A song of ascents.

Theme: Assurance of the Lord's forgiveness.
God will surely forgive us if we confess our sins to him.
Author: Anonymous, some suggest Hezekiah

1Out of the depths I cry to you, O LORD;
2 O Lord, hear my voice.
Let your ears be attentive to my cry for mercy.

3If you, O LORD, kept a record of sins,
O Lord, who could stand?
4But with you there is forgiveness;[r] therefore you are feared.[s]

130:4
[r]Ex 34:7
[s]1Ki 8:40

5I wait for the LORD,[t] my soul waits, and in his word I put my hope.
6My soul waits for the Lord
more than watchmen wait for the morning,
more than watchmen wait for the morning.

130:5
[t]Isa 8:17

7O Israel, put your hope in the LORD, for with the LORD is unfailing love and with him is full redemption.
8He himself will redeem Israel from all their sins.

PSALM 131

A song of ascents. Of David.

Theme: Trust and contentment. Quiet trust in God is the basis for our contentment.
Author: David

1My heart is not proud,[u] O LORD,
my eyes are not haughty;

131:1
[u]Ro 12:16

130:1, 2 In the depths of despair, the psalmist cried out to God. Despair makes us feel isolated and distant from God, but this is precisely when we need God most. Despair over sin should not lead to self-pity, causing us to think more about ourselves than God. Instead, it should lead to confession and then to God's mercy, forgiveness, and redemption. When we feel overwhelmed by a problem, feeling sorry for ourselves will only increase feelings of hopelessness; but crying out to God will turn our attention to the only One who can really help.

130:3, 4 Keeping a record of sins (or holding a grudge) is like building a wall between you and another person, and it is nearly impossible to talk openly while the wall is there. God doesn't keep a record of our sins; when he forgives, he forgives completely, tearing down any wall between us and him. Therefore, we fear (revere) God, yet we can talk to him about anything. When you pray, realize that God is holding nothing against you. His lines of communication are completely open.

131:1, 2 Pride results from overvaluing ourselves and undervalu-

I do not concern myself with great matters or things too wonderful for me.
2But I have stilled and quieted my soul;
like a weaned child with its mother,
like a weaned child is my soul[v] within me.

131:2
[v]Mt 18:3; 1Co 14:20

3O Israel, put your hope[w] in the LORD
both now and forevermore.

131:3
[w]Ps 130:7

PSALM 132

A song of ascents.

Theme: Honor God and he will honor you. The psalmist reflects upon that great day when the ark of the covenant was brought to Jerusalem and praises God for his promise to perpetuate David's line.
Author: Anonymous

1O LORD, remember David and all the hardships he endured.

2He swore an oath to the LORD and made a vow to the Mighty One of Jacob:[x]

132:2
[x]Ge 49:24

3"I will not enter my house or go to my bed—4I will allow no sleep to my eyes,
no slumber to my eyelids, 5till I find a place[y] for the LORD,
a dwelling for the Mighty One of Jacob."

132:5
[y]Ac 7:46

6We heard it in Ephrathah,[z]
we came upon it in the fields of Jaar[e]:[f a] 132:6

[z]1Sa 17:12
[a]1Sa 7:2

7"Let us go to his dwelling place;[b]
let us worship at his footstool—

132:7
[b]Ps 5:7

8arise, O LORD,[c] and come to your resting place, you and the ark of your might.
9May your priests be clothed with righteousness;
may your saints sing for joy."

132:8
[c]Nu 10:35

10For the sake of David your servant,
do not reject your anointed one.

11The LORD swore an oath to David,[d] a sure oath that he will not revoke:
"One of your own descendants
I will place on your throne—
12if your sons keep my covenant

132:11
[d]Ps 89:3-4, 35

[e] 6 That is, Kiriath Jearim [f] 6 Or heard of it in Ephrathah, / we found it in the fields of Jaar. (And no quotes around verses 7-9)

---

ing others. It leads to restlessness because it makes us dissatisfied with what we have and concerned about what everyone else is doing. It keeps us always hungering for more attention and adoration. By contrast, humility puts others first and allows us to be content with God's leading in our lives. Such contentment gives us security so that we no longer have to prove ourselves to others. Let humility and trust affect your perspective and give you the strength and freedom to serve God and others.

132:2–5 This refers to David's desire to build the temple. When David became king, he built a beautiful palace, but he was troubled that the ark of the covenant, the symbol of God's presence among his people (Exodus 25:10–22), remained in a tent (2 Samuel 6:17; 7:1–17). This so bothered David that he couldn't sleep until he corrected the situation. He began to lay the plans for the temple to house the ark. (Eventually the temple was built by his son, Solomon.) We must live so close to God that we become restless until God's will is accomplished through us.

132:11, 12 The promise that David's sons would sit on Israel's throne forever is found in 2 Samuel 7:8–29. This promise had two parts: (1) David's descendants would perpetually rule over Israel as long as they followed God, and (2) David's royal line would never end. The first part was conditional; as long as the kings obeyed God ("keep my covenant and the statutes I teach them"), their dynasty continued. The second part of the promise was unconditional. It was fulfilled in Jesus Christ, a descendant of David, who reigns forever.

and the statutes I teach them, then their sons will sit on your throne for ever and ever."

13For the LORD has chosen Zion,[e]
he has desired it for his dwelling:
14"This is my resting place for ever and ever;
here I will sit enthroned, for I have desired it—15I will bless her with abundant provisions; her poor will I satisfy with food.[f] 16I will clothe her priests with salvation, and her saints will ever sing for joy.

17"Here I will make a horn[g] grow[g] for David and set up a lamp for my anointed one.
18I will clothe his enemies with shame, but the crown on his head will be resplendent."

132:13 [e] Ps 48:1-2

132:15 [f] Ps 147:14

132:17 [g] Eze 29:21; Lk 1:69

PSALM 133

A song of ascents. Of David.

Theme: The joy of harmonious relationships
Author: David

1How good and pleasant it is when brothers live together[h] in unity!
2It is like precious oil poured on the head, running down on the beard,
running down on Aaron's beard,
down upon the collar of his robes.
3It is as if the dew of Hermon[i] were falling on Mount Zion.
For there the LORD bestows his blessing,[j]
even life forevermore.

133:1 [h] Ge 13:8

133:3 [i] Dt 4:48 [j] Lev 25:21

PSALM 134

A song of ascents.

Theme: Worship God and experience the joy of his blessings
Author: Anonymous, some suggest Hezekiah

1Praise the LORD, all you servants[k] of the LORD who minister by night in the house of the LORD.

134:1 [k] Ps 135:1-2

[9] 17 Horn here symbolizes strong one, that is, king.

132:17, 18 The horn to "grow for David" refers to one of his mighty descendants. David's son, Solomon, was indeed a glorious king (1 Kings 3:10–14); but these verses look ahead even further to another descendant of David, Jesus the Messiah (Matthew 1:17). The power, might, and glory of the Messiah will last forever.

133:1–3 David stated that unity is pleasant and precious. Unfortunately, unity does not abound in the church as it should. People disagree and cause division over unimportant issues. Some delight in causing tension by discrediting others. Unity is important because (1) it makes the church a positive example to the world and helps draw others to us; (2) it helps us cooperate as a body of believers as God meant us to, giving us a foretaste of heaven; (3) it renews and revitalizes ministry because there is less tension to sap our energy.

Living in unity does not mean that we will agree on everything; there will be many opinions just as there are many notes in a musical chord. But we must agree on our purpose in life—to work together for God. Our outward expression of unity will reflect our inward unity of purpose.

133:2 Expensive oil was used by Moses to anoint Aaron as the first high priest of Israel (Exodus 29:7) and to dedicate all the priests to God's service. Brotherly unity, like the anointing oil, shows that we are dedicated to serving God wholeheartedly.

133:3 Mount Hermon is the tallest mountain in Palestine, located northeast of the Sea of Galilee.

134:2 [l] 1Ti 2:8

2 Lift up your hands[l] in the sanctuary and praise the LORD.

134:3 [m] Ps 124:8

3 May the LORD, the Maker of heaven[m] and earth, bless you from Zion.

PSALM 135

Theme: A hymn of praise. This psalm contrasts the greatness of God with the powerlessness of idols. Pagans worship idols while God's people worship the living God.
Author: Anonymous

1 Praise the LORD.[h]

Praise the name of the LORD;
praise him, you servants of the LORD,
2 you who minister in the house of the LORD,
in the courts of the house of our God.

135:3 [n] Ps 119:68 [o] Ps 147:1

3 Praise the LORD, for the LORD is good;[n]
sing praise to his name, for that is pleasant.[o]
135:4 [p] Ex 19:5; Dt 7:6
4 For the LORD has chosen Jacob to be his own,
Israel to be his treasured possession.[p]

5 I know that the LORD is great, that our Lord is greater than all gods.
135:6 [q] Ps 115:3
6 The LORD does whatever pleases him,[q]
in the heavens and on the earth,
in the seas and all their depths.
7 He makes clouds rise from the ends of the earth;
135:7 [r] Jer 10:13; Zec 10:1
he sends lightning with the rain[r] and brings out the wind from his storehouses.

135:8 [s] Ex 12:12

8 He struck down the firstborn[s] of Egypt,
the firstborn of men and animals.
9 He sent his signs and wonders into your midst, O Egypt,
135:9 [t] Ps 136:10-15
against Pharaoh and all his servants.[t]
135:10 [u] Nu 21:21-25; Ps 136:17-21
10 He struck down many[u] nations and killed mighty kings—11 Sihon king of the Amorites,
Og king of Bashan
135:11 [v] Jos 12:7-24
and all the kings of Canaan[v]— 12 and he gave their land as an inheritance, an inheritance to his people Israel.

135:13 [w] Ex 3:15 [x] Ps 102:12

13 Your name, O LORD, endures forever,[w] your renown,[x] O LORD, through all generations.
14 For the LORD will vindicate his people
135:14 [y] Dt 32:36
and have compassion on his servants.[y]

h 1 Hebrew Hallelu Yah; also in verses 3 and 21

134:1–3 This psalm is about a very small group – the Levites who served as temple watchmen ("you servants of the LORD who minister by night"). Singing this psalm, the last of the "songs of ascent" (Psalms 120 – 134), the worshipers would ascend the hill where the temple sits and see the watchmen who protect it day and night. They saw the watchmen's work as an act of praise to God, done reverently and responsibly. Make your job or your responsibility in the church an act of praise by doing it with reverence to God. Honor him by the quality of your work and the attitude of service you bring to it.

134:3 Zion is another name for Jerusalem.

135:4 That the descendants of Jacob (Israel) were a chosen people reflects God's commission to the nation in Deuteronomy 7:6–8 and in Peter's sermon to the church in 1 Peter 2:9. God treasures us. He gives love and mercy to all those who believe in him.

15 The idols of the nations are silver and gold, made by the hands of men.
16 They have mouths, but cannot speak,
eyes, but they cannot see;
17 they have ears, but cannot hear,
nor is there breath in their mouths.
18 Those who make them will be like them,
and so will all who trust in them.

19 O house of Israel, praise the LORD;
O house of Aaron, praise the LORD;
20 O house of Levi, praise the LORD;
you who fear him, praise the LORD.
21 Praise be to the LORD from Zion,[z] to him who dwells in Jerusalem.

135:21
[z] Ps 134:3

Praise the LORD.

PSALM 136

Theme: The never-ending story of God's love.
God deserves our praise because his endless love never fails.
Author: Anonymous

1 Give thanks to the LORD, for he is good.[a]
His love endures forever.
2 Give thanks to the God of gods.[b]
His love endures forever.
3 Give thanks to the Lord of lords:
His love endures forever.

4 to him who alone does great wonders,
His love endures forever.
5 who by his understanding[c] made the heavens,[d]
His love endures forever.
6 who spread out the earth[e] upon the waters,
His love endures forever.
7 who made the great lights[f]—
His love endures forever.
8 the sun to govern the day,
His love endures forever.
9 the moon and stars to govern the night;
His love endures forever.

10 to him who struck down the firstborn of Egypt
His love endures forever.
11 and brought Israel out[g] from among them
His love endures forever.
12 with a mighty hand and outstretched arm;
His love endures forever.

136:1
[a] Ps 106:1

136:2
[b] Dt 10:17

136:5
[c] Pr 3:19; Jer 51:15
[d] Ge 1:1

136:6
[e] Jer 10:12

136:7
[f] Ge 1:14, 16

136:11
[g] Ex 6:6

135:15–18 Those who worshiped idols were as blind and insensitive as the idols themselves. They couldn't see or hear what God had to say. In subtle, imperceptible ways we become like the idols we worship. If the true God is your God, you will become more like him as you worship him. What are your goals? What takes priority in your life? Choose carefully because you will take on the characteristics of whatever you worship.

136:1ff Repeated throughout this psalm is the phrase, "His love endures forever." This psalm may have been a responsive reading, with the congregation saying these words in unison after each sen-

136:13 [h] Ps 78:13

13 to him who divided the Red Sea[l][h] asunder
His love endures forever.
14 and brought Israel through the midst of it,
His love endures forever.

136:15 [i] Ex 14:27

15 but swept Pharaoh and his army into the Red Sea;[i]
His love endures forever.

136:16 [j] Ex 13:18

16 to him who led his people through the desert,[j]
His love endures forever.

136:17 [k] Ps 135:9-12

17 who struck down great kings,[k]
His love endures forever.
18 and killed mighty kings—
His love endures forever.
19 Sihon king of the Amorites
His love endures forever.
20 and Og king of Bashan—
His love endures forever.

136:21 [l] Jos 12:1

21 and gave their land[l] as an inheritance,
His love endures forever.
22 an inheritance to his servant Israel;
His love endures forever.

23 to the One who remembered us in our low estate
His love endures forever.
24 and freed us from our enemies,
His love endures forever.
25 and who gives food to every creature.
His love endures forever.

26 Give thanks to the God of heaven.
His love endures forever.

PSALM 137

Theme: A person in exile weeps over the bitterness of captivity. Our sorrow can make it difficult to imagine singing joyful songs again.
Author: Anonymous

1 By the rivers of Babylon we sat and wept when we remembered Zion.
2 There on the poplars
we hung our harps,
3 for there our captors asked us for songs,
our tormentors demanded songs of joy;
they said, "Sing us one of the songs of Zion!"

4 How can we sing the songs of the LORD
while in a foreign land?
5 If I forget you, O Jerusalem, may my right hand forget ⌞its skill⌟.
6 May my tongue cling to the roof of my mouth
if I do not remember you,
if I do not consider Jerusalem
my highest joy.

[l] 13 Hebrew Yam Suph; that is, Sea of Reeds; also in verse 15 tence. The repetition made this important lesson sink in. God's love includes aspects of love, kindness, mercy, and faithfulness. We never have to worry that God will run out of love because it flows from a well that will never run dry.

7Remember, O LORD, what the Edomites[m] did on the day Jerusalem fell.
"Tear it down," they cried,
"tear it down to its foundations!"

137:7
[m] La 4:21-22

8O Daughter of Babylon, doomed to destruction,[n]
happy is he who repays you for what you have done to us—9he who seizes your infants and dashes them against the rocks.

137:8
[n] Isa 13:1, 19; Jer 25:12, 26

PSALM 138

Of David.

Theme: Thanksgiving for answered prayer. God works out his plans for our lives and will bring us through the difficulties we face.
Author: David

1I will praise you, O LORD, with all my heart;
before the "gods" I will sing your praise.
2I will bow down toward your holy temple[o]
and will praise your name for your love and your faithfulness, for you have exalted above all things
your name and your word.
3When I called, you answered me;
you made me bold and stouthearted.

138:2
[o] 1Ki 8:29

4May all the kings of the earth[p] praise you, O LORD,
when they hear the words of your mouth.
5May they sing of the ways of the LORD,
for the glory of the LORD is great.

138:4
[p] Ps 102:15

6Though the LORD is on high, he looks upon the lowly,
but the proud he knows from afar.
7Though I walk[q] in the midst of trouble,
you preserve my life;
you stretch out your hand against the anger of my foes,
with your right hand you save me.
8The LORD will fulfill ⌞his purpose⌟[r] for me;
your love, O LORD, endures forever—do not abandon the works of your hands.[s]

138:7
[q] Ps 23:4

138:8
[r] Php 1:6
[s] Job 10:3, 8

137:7 The Edomites were related to the Israelites, both nations having descended from Isaac and his father Abraham. Although Israel shared its southern border with Edom, there was bitter hatred between the two nations. The Edomites did not come to help when the city of Jerusalem was besieged by the Babylonian army. In fact, they rejoiced when the city was destroyed (Jeremiah 49:7–22; Joel 3:19; Obadiah 1–20).

137:8, 9 God destroyed Babylon and its offspring for their proud assault against God and his kingdom. The Medes and Persians destroyed Babylon in 539 B.C. Many of those who were oppressed lived to see the victory. The phrase about the infants is harsh because the psalmist is crying out for judgment: "Treat the Babylonians the way they treated us."

138:1 "Before the 'gods' " may mean in the presence of subordinate heavenly beings (angels), or, more likely, it may be a statement ridiculing the kings or gods of the pagan nations. God is the highest in the whole earth.

138:1–3 Thanksgiving should be an integral part of our praise to God. This theme is woven throughout the psalms. As we praise and thank God for material and spiritual blessings, we should also thank him for answered prayer. Remember when you asked God for protection, strength, comfort, patience, love, or other special needs, and he supplied them? Beware of taking God's provision and answered prayer for granted.

138:8 Every person dreams and makes plans for the future. Then they work hard to see those dreams and plans come true. But to make the most of life, we must include God's plan in our plans. He alone knows what is best for us; he alone can fulfill his purpose for us. As you make plans and dream dreams, talk with God about them.

139:1–5 Sometimes we don't let people get to know us com-

PSALM 139

For the director of music. Of David. A psalm.

Theme: God is all-seeing, all-knowing, all-powerful, and everywhere present. God knows us, God is with us, and his greatest gift is to allow us to know him.
Author: David

1 O LORD, you have searched me[t] and you know me.
2 You know when I sit and when I rise;[u]
you perceive my thoughts from afar.
3 You discern my going out and my lying down;
you are familiar with all my ways.[v]
4 Before a word is on my tongue
you know it completely, [w] O LORD.

5 You hem me in — behind and before;
you have laid your hand upon me.
6 Such knowledge is too wonderful for me, too lofty for me to attain.

7 Where can I go from your Spirit?
Where can I flee[x] from your presence?
8 If I go up to the heavens,[y] you are there;

139:1 [t] Ps 17:3
139:2 [u] 2Ki 19:27
139:3 [v] Job 31:4
139:4 [w] Heb 4:13
139:7 [x] Jer 23:24
139:8 [y] Am 9:2-3

ANGER AND VENGEANCE IN THE BOOK OF PSALMS

Several psalms shock those familiar with New Testament teachings. The psalmists didn't hesitate to demand God's justice and make vivid suggestions on how he might carry it out. Apparently, no subject was unsuitable for discussion with God, but our tendency is to avoid the subjects of anger and vengeance in the psalms.

To understand the words of anger and vengeance, we need to understand several things:

(1) The judgments asked for are to be carried out by God, and are written out of intense personal and national suffering. The people are unable or unwilling to take revenge themselves and are asking God to intervene. Because few of us have suffered intense cruelty on a personal or national level, we find it difficult to grasp these outbursts.

(2) These writers were intimately aware of God's justice. Some of their words are efforts to vividly imagine what God might allow to happen to those who had harmed his people.

(3) If we dared to write down our thoughts while unjustly attacked or suffering cruelty, we might be shocked at our own bold desire for vengeance. We would be surprised at how much we have in common with these men of old. The psalmists did not have Jesus' command to pray for one's enemies, but they did point to the right place to start. We are challenged to pay back good for evil, but until we respond to this challenge, we will not know how much we need God's help in order to forgive others.

(4) There is a helpful parallel between the psalms of anger and the psalms of vengeance. The "angry" psalms are intense and graphic, but they are directed at God. He is boldly told how disappointing it is when he turns his back on his people or acts too slowly. But while these thoughts and feelings were sincerely expressed, we know from the psalms themselves that these passing feelings were followed by renewed confidence in God's faithfulness. It is reasonable to expect the same of the "vengeance" psalms. We read, for example, David's angry outburst against Saul's pursuit in Psalm 59, yet we know that David never took personal revenge on Saul. The psalmists freely spoke their minds to God, having confidence that he could sort out what was meant and what was felt. Pray with that same confidence—God can be trusted with your heart.

Selected psalms that emphasize these themes are 10; 23; 28; 35; 59; 69; 109; 137; 139; 140.

pletely because we are afraid they will discover something about us that they won't like. But God already knows everything about us, even to the number of hairs on our heads (Matthew 10:30), and still he accepts and loves us. God is with us through every situation, in every trial — protecting, loving, guiding. He knows and loves us completely.

139:7 God is omnipresent — he is present everywhere. Because this is so, you can never be lost to his Spirit. This is good news to those who know and love God, because no matter what we do or where we go, we can never be far from God's comforting presence (see Romans 8:35–39).

if I make my bed in the depths,[j] you are there.
9If I rise on the wings of the dawn,
if I settle on the far side of the sea, 10even there your hand will guide me, your right hand will hold me fast.

11If I say, "Surely the darkness will hide me and the light become night around me," 12even the darkness will not be dark[z] to you;
the night will shine like the day,
for darkness is as light to you.

13For you created my inmost being;
you knit me together in my mother's womb.
14I praise you because I am fearfully and wonderfully made;
your works are wonderful,
I know that full well.
15My frame was not hidden from you when I was made in the secret place.
When I was woven together in the depths of the earth,
16 your eyes saw my unformed body.
All the days ordained for me were written in your book before one of them came to be.

17How precious to[k] me are your thoughts, O God!
How vast is the sum of them!
18Were I to count them,
they would outnumber the grains of sand.
When I awake,
I am still with you.

19If only you would slay the wicked,[a] O God!
Away from me, you bloodthirsty men!
20They speak of you with evil intent;
your adversaries misuse your name.
21Do I not hate those who hate you, O LORD, and abhor those who rise up against you?
22I have nothing but hatred for them;
I count them my enemies.

23Search me,[b] O God, and know my heart;
test me and know my anxious thoughts.
24See if there is any offensive way in me,
and lead me[c] in the way everlasting.

139:12 [z] Job 34:22

139:19 [a] Isa 11:4

139:23 [b] Job 31:6

139:24 [c] Ps 5:8

l 8 Hebrew Sheol [k] 17 Or concerning

139:13–15 God's character goes into the creation of every person. When you feel worthless or even begin to hate yourself, remember that God's Spirit is ready and willing to work within you. We should have as much respect for ourselves as our Maker has for us.

139:21–24 David's hatred for his enemies came from his zeal for God. David regarded his enemies as God's enemies, so his hatred was a desire for God's righteous justice and not for personal vengeance. Is it all right to be angry at people who hate God? Yes, but we must remember that it is God who will deal with them, not us. If we truly love God, then we will be deeply hurt if someone hates him. David asked God to search his heart and mind and point out any wrong motives that may have been behind his strong words. But while we seek justice against evil, we must also pray that God's enemies will turn to him before he judges them (see Matthew 5:44).

139:23, 24 David asked God to search for sin and point it out, even to the level of testing his thoughts. This is exploratory surgery for sin. How are we to recognize sin unless God points it out? Then, when God shows us, we can repent and be forgiven. Make this verse your prayer. If you ask the Lord to search your heart and your thoughts and to reveal your sin, you will be continuing on God's "way everlasting."

PSALM 140

For the director of music. A psalm of David.

Theme: Prayer for protection against those who slander or threaten you. Deliverance begins with concentrating on our future life with God.
Author: David

1 Rescue me, O LORD, from evil men;
protect me from men of violence,
2 who devise evil plans[d] in their hearts and stir up war every day.
3 They make their tongues as sharp as a serpent's;
the poison of vipers[e] is on their lips. Selah

4 Keep me, O LORD, from the hands of the wicked;
protect me from men of violence
who plan to trip my feet.
5 Proud men have hidden a snare for me;
they have spread out the cords of their net and have set traps[f] for me along my path. Selah

6 O LORD, I say to you, "You are my God."
Hear, O LORD, my cry for mercy.
7 O Sovereign LORD, my strong deliverer, who shields my head in the day of battle—8 do not grant the wicked their desires, O LORD;
do not let their plans succeed,
or they will become proud. Selah

9 Let the heads of those who surround me be covered with the trouble their lips have caused.
10 Let burning coals fall upon them;
may they be thrown into the fire,[g]
into miry pits, never to rise.
11 Let slanderers not be established in the land;
may disaster hunt down men of violence.

12 I know that the LORD secures justice for the poor and upholds the cause of the needy.
13 Surely the righteous will praise your name and the upright will live before you.

140:2 [d] Ps 36:4
140:3 [e] Ps 58:4
140:5 [f] Ps 31:4
140:10 [g] Ps 11:6

PSALM 141

A psalm of David.

Theme: A prayer for help when facing temptation. David asks God to protect him and to give him wisdom in accepting criticism. Be open to honest criticism—God may be speaking to you through others.
Author: David

1 O LORD, I call to you; come quickly[h] to me.
Hear my voice when I call to you.
2 May my prayer be set before you like incense;[i] may the lifting up of my hands be like the evening sacrifice.[j]

141:1 [h] Ps 22:19
141:2 [i] Rev 5:8; 8:3 [j] Ex 29:39, 41

140:12 To whom can the poor turn when they are persecuted? They lack the money to get professional help; they may be unable to defend themselves. But there is always someone on their side—the Lord will stand by them and ultimately bring about justice. This should be a comfort for us all. No matter what our situation may be, the Lord is with us. But this truth should also call us to responsibility. As God's people, we are required to defend the rights of the powerless.

3 Set a guard over my mouth, O LORD;
keep watch over the door of my lips.
4 Let not my heart be drawn to what is evil, to take part in wicked deeds with men who are evildoers;
let me not eat of their delicacies.

5 Let a righteous man[l] strike me — it is a kindness;
let him rebuke me[k] — it is oil on my head.
My head will not refuse it.

141:5
[k] Pr 9:8

Yet my prayer is ever against the deeds of evildoers;
6 their rulers will be thrown down from the cliffs, and the wicked will learn that my words were well spoken.
7 They will say, "As one plows and breaks up the earth, so our bones have been scattered at the mouth of the grave.[m]"

8 But my eyes are fixed on you, O Sovereign LORD;
in you I take refuge — do not give me over to death.
9 Keep me from the snares they have laid for me,
from the traps set by evildoers.
10 Let the wicked fall[l] into their own nets, while I pass by in safety.

141:10
[l] Ps 35:8

PSALM 142

A maskil[n] of David. When he was in the cave. A prayer.

Theme: A prayer when overwhelmed and desperate.
When we feel cornered by our enemies, only God can keep us safe.
Author: David

1 I cry aloud to the LORD;
I lift up my voice to the LORD for mercy.[m]
2 I pour out my complaint before him;
before him I tell my trouble.

142:1
[m] Ps 30:8

3 When my spirit grows faint[n] within me, it is you who know my way.
In the path where I walk men have hidden a snare for me.
4 Look to my right and see;
no one is concerned for me.
I have no refuge;
no one cares for my life.

142:3
[n] Ps 143:4, 7

[l] 5 Or Let the Righteous One [m] 7 Hebrew Sheol [n] Title: Probably a literary or musical term

---

141:3 James wrote that "the tongue is a small part of the body, but it makes great boasts" (James 3:5). On the average, a person opens his or her mouth approximately 700 times a day to speak. David wisely asked God to help keep him from speaking evil — sometimes even as he underwent persecution. Jesus himself was silent before his accusers (Matthew 26:63). Knowing the power of the tongue, we would do well to ask God to guard what we say so that our words will bring honor to his name.

141:4 David asked God to guard his heart. Evil acts begin with evil desires. It isn't enough to ask God to keep you away from temptation, make you stronger, or change your circumstances. You must ask him to change you on the inside — at the level of your desires.

141:5 David says that being rebuked by a righteous person is a kindness. Nobody really likes criticism, but everybody can benefit from it when it is given wisely and taken humbly. David suggested how to accept criticism: (1) don't refuse it, (2) consider it a kindness, and (3) keep quiet (don't fight back). Putting these suggestions into practice will help you control how you react to criticism, making it productive rather than destructive, no matter how it was originally intended.

142:4, 5 Have you ever felt that no one cared what happened to you? David had good reason to feel that way, and he wrote, "I cry to you, O LORD." Through prayer we can pull out of our tailspin and be reminded that God cares for us deeply.

5I cry to you, O LORD;
I say, "You are my refuge,
my portion in the land of the living."[o] 6Listen to my cry,
for I am in desperate need;[p] rescue me from those who pursue me, for they are too strong for me.
7Set me free from my prison, that I may praise your name.

Then the righteous will gather about me because of your goodness to me.

142:5 [o] Ps 27:13

142:6 [p] Ps 79:8

PSALM 143

A psalm of David.

Theme: A prayer in the midst of hopelessness and depression. Our prayers should fit into what we know is consistent with God's character and plans.
Author: David

1O LORD, hear my prayer,
listen to my cry for mercy;
in your faithfulness and righteousness come to my relief.
2Do not bring your servant into judgment, for no one living is righteous before you.

3The enemy pursues me,
he crushes me to the ground;
he makes me dwell in darkness like those long dead.
4So my spirit grows faint within me;
my heart within me is dismayed.

5I remember[q] the days of long ago;
I meditate on all your works and consider what your hands have done.
6I spread out my hands to you;
my soul thirsts for you like a parched land. Selah

7Answer me quickly, O LORD;
my spirit fails.
Do not hide your face[r] from me or I will be like those who go down to the pit.
8Let the morning bring me word of your unfailing love, for I have put my trust in you.
Show me the way I should go,
for to you I lift up my soul.[s] 9Rescue me from my enemies, O LORD, for I hide myself in you.
10Teach me to do your will,

143:5 [q] Ps 77:6

143:7 [r] Ps 22:24; 27:9

143:8 [s] Ps 25:1-2

142:7 This psalm was written when David was hiding from Saul in caves like the ones at Adullam (1 Samuel 22) or En Gedi (1 Samuel 24). These may have seemed like prisons to him because of the confinement.

143:7 David was losing hope, caught in paralyzing fear and deep depression. At times, we feel caught in deepening depression, and we are unable to pull ourselves out. At those times, we can come to the Lord and, like David, express our true feelings. Then he will help us as we remember his works (143:5), reach out to him in prayer (143:6), trust him (143:8), and decide to do his will (143:10).

143:10 David's prayer was to be taught to do God's will, not his own. A prayer for guidance is self-centered if it doesn't recognize God's power to redirect our lives. Asking God to restructure our priorities awakens our minds and stirs our wills.

for you are my God;
may your good Spirit lead[t] me on level ground.

143:10
[t]Ne 9:20;
Ps 25:4-5

11For your name's sake, O LORD, preserve my life;
in your righteousness, bring me out of trouble.
12In your unfailing love, silence my enemies; destroy all my foes,[u]
for I am your servant.

143:12
[u]Ps 54:5

PSALM 144

Of David.

Theme: Rejoicing in God's care. Whether in times of prosperity or adversity, blessed are those whose God is the Lord.
Author: David

1Praise be to the LORD my Rock, who trains my hands for war,
my fingers for battle.
2He is my loving God and my fortress,
my stronghold and my deliverer,
my shield, in whom I take refuge,
who subdues peoples[o] under me.

3O LORD, what is man[v] that you care for him,
the son of man that you think of him?
4Man is like a breath;
his days are like a fleeting shadow.

144:3
[v]Heb 2:6

5Part your heavens,[w] O LORD, and come down; touch the mountains, so that they smoke.[x] 6Send forth lightning and scatter the enemies;
shoot your arrows[y] and rout them.
7Reach down your hand from on high;
deliver me and rescue me
from the mighty waters,
from the hands of foreigners 8whose mouths are full of lies,[z] whose right hands are deceitful.

144:5
[w]Ps 18:9
[x]Ps 104:32

144:6
[y]Ps 18:14

144:8
[z]Ps 12:2

9I will sing a new song to you, O God;
on the ten-stringed lyre[a] I will make music to you, 10to the One who gives victory to kings, who delivers his servant David[b] from the deadly sword.

144:9
[a]Ps 33:2-3

144:10
[b]Ps 18:50

11Deliver me and rescue me
from the hands of foreigners whose mouths are full of lies,
whose right hands are deceitful.

12Then our sons in their youth will be like well-nurtured plants,[c] and our daughters will be like pillars

144:12
[c]Ps 128:3

[o] 2 Many manuscripts of the Masoretic Text, Dead Sea Scrolls, Aquila, Jerome and Syriac; most manuscripts of the Masoretic Text subdues my people

144:3, 4 Life is short. David reminds us that it is "like a breath" and that our "days are like a fleeting shadow." James says that our lives are "a mist that appears for a little while and then vanishes" (James 4:14). Because life is short, we should live for God while we have the time. Don't waste your life by selecting an inferior purpose that has no lasting value. Live for God – he alone can make your life worthwhile, purposeful, and meaningful.

carved to adorn a palace.
13 Our barns will be filled with every kind of provision.
Our sheep will increase by thousands,
by tens of thousands in our fields;
14 our oxen will draw heavy loads.[p]
There will be no breaching of walls,
no going into captivity,
no cry of distress in our streets.

15 Blessed are the people of whom this is true;
blessed are the people whose God is the LORD.

PSALM 145[q]

A psalm of praise. Of David.

Theme: A time will come when all people will join together in recognizing and worshiping God. Because God is full of love, he satisfies all who trust in him.
Author: David

145:1 [d] Ps 30:1; 34:1

1 I will exalt you,[d] my God the King;
I will praise your name for ever and ever.
2 Every day I will praise you and extol your name for ever and ever.

145:3 [e] Job 5:9

3 Great is the LORD and most worthy of praise;
his greatness no one can fathom.[e] 4 One generation will commend your works to another;
they will tell of your mighty acts.
5 They will speak of the glorious splendor of your majesty, and I will meditate on your wonderful works.[r]

145:6 [f] Ps 66:3 [g] Dt 32:3

6 They will tell of the power of your awesome works,[f]
and I will proclaim[g] your great deeds.
7 They will celebrate your abundant goodness and joyfully sing of your righteousness.

145:8 [h] Ps 86:15

8 The LORD is gracious and compassionate,[h] slow to anger and rich in love.
9 The LORD is good to all;
he has compassion on all he has made.
10 All you have made will praise you, O LORD;
your saints will extol you.
11 They will tell of the glory of your kingdom and speak of your might,

[p] 14 Or our chieftains will be firmly established [q] This psalm is an acrostic poem, the verses of which (including verse 13b) begin with the successive letters of the Hebrew alphabet. [r] 5 Dead Sea Scrolls and Syriac (see also Septuagint); Masoretic Text On the glorious splendor of your majesty / and on your wonderful works I will meditate

PRAISE IN THE BOOK OF PSALMS

Most of the psalms are prayers, and most of the prayers include praise to God. Praise expresses admiration, appreciation, and thanks. Praise in the book of Psalms is often directed to God, and just as often the praise is shared with others. Considering all that God has done and does for us, what could be more natural than outbursts of heartfelt praise?

As you read Psalms, note the praise given to God, not only for what he does—his creation, his blessings, his forgiveness—but also for who he is—loving, just, faithful, forgiving, patient. Note also those times when the praise of God is shared with others, and they too are encouraged to praise him. In what ways have you recently praised God or told others all that he has done for you?

Selected psalms that emphasize this theme are 8; 19; 30; 65; 84; 96; 100; 136; 145; 150.

12so that all men may know of your mighty acts and the glorious splendor of your kingdom.
13Your kingdom is an everlasting kingdom,[j] and your dominion endures through all generations.

The LORD is faithful to all his promises and loving toward all he has made.[s] 14The LORD upholds all those who fall and lifts up all[j] who are bowed down.
15The eyes of all look to you,
and you give them their food at the proper time.
16You open your hand and satisfy the desires of every living thing.

17The LORD is righteous in all his ways and loving toward all he has made.
18The LORD is near to all who call on him,
to all who call on him in truth.
19He fulfills the desires of those who fear him;
he hears their cry and saves them.
20The LORD watches over all who love him,[k]
but all the wicked he will destroy.

21My mouth will speak in praise of the LORD.
Let every creature praise his holy name
for ever and ever.

145:13
[j]2Pe 1:11

145:14
[j]Ps 146:8

145:20
[k]Ps 31:23

PSALM 146

Theme: The help of man versus the help of God. Help from man is temporal and unstable, but help from God is lasting and complete.
Author: Anonymous

1Praise the LORD.[t]

Praise the LORD,[l] O my soul.
2 I will praise the LORD all my life;[m]
I will sing praise to my God as long as I live.

3Do not put your trust in princes, in mortal men,[n] who cannot save.
4When their spirit departs, they return to the ground;[o]
on that very day their plans come to nothing.

5Blessed is he whose help is the God of Jacob,

146:1
[l]Ps 103:1

146:2
[m]Ps 104:33

146:3
[n]Isa 2:22

146:4
[o]Ecc 12:7

[s] 13 One manuscript of the Masoretic Text, Dead Sea Scrolls and Syriac (see also Septuagint); most manuscripts of the Masoretic Text do not have the last two lines of verse 13. [t] 1 Hebrew Hallelu Yah; also in verse 10

145:14 Sometimes our burdens seem more than we can bear, and we wonder how we can go on. David stands at this bleak intersection of life's road and points toward the Lord, the great burden-bearer. God is able to lift us up because (1) his greatness is unfathomable (145:3); (2) he does mighty acts across many generations (145:4); (3) he is full of glorious splendor and majesty (145:5); (4) he does wonderful and awesome works (145:5, 6); (5) he is righteous (145:7); (6) he is gracious, compassionate, patient, and loving (145:8, 9); (7) he rules over an everlasting kingdom (145:13); (8) he is our source of all our daily needs (145:15, 16); (9) he is righteous and loving in all his dealings (145:17); (10) he remains near to those who call on him (145:18); (11) he hears our cries and saves us (145:19, 20). If you are bending under a burden and feel that you are about to fall, turn to God for help. He is ready to lift you up and bear your burden.

146–150 These last five psalms overflow with praise. Each begins and ends with "Praise the LORD." They show us where, why, and how to praise God. What does praise do? (1) Praise takes our minds off our problems and shortcomings, and focuses them on God. (2) Praise leads us from individual meditation to corporate worship. (3) Praise causes us to consider and appreciate God's character. (4) Praise lifts our perspective from the earthly to the heavenly.

146:3–8 The psalmist portrays man as an inadequate savior, a false hope; even princes cannot deliver (146:3). God is the hope and the help of the needy. Jesus affirms his concern for the poor and afflicted in Luke 4:18–21; 7:21–23. He does not separate the social and spiritual needs of people, but attends to both. While God, not the government, is the hope of the needy, we are his instruments to help here on earth.

whose hope is in the LORD his God, 6the Maker of heaven and earth, the sea, and everything in them—
the LORD, who remains faithful forever.
7He upholds the cause of the oppressed[p] and gives food to the hungry.[q]
The LORD sets prisoners free,
8 the LORD gives sight to the blind,
the LORD lifts up those who are bowed down,
the LORD loves the righteous.
9The LORD watches over the alien and sustains the fatherless and the widow, but he frustrates the ways of the wicked.

10The LORD reigns forever, your God, O Zion, for all generations.

Praise the LORD.

146:7
[p] Ps 103:6
[q] Ps 107:9

PSALM 147

Theme: What gives God joy. Although God created everything, his greatest joy comes from our genuine worship and trust.
Author: Anonymous, possibly written when the exiles returned to Jerusalem

1Praise the LORD.[u]

How good it is to sing praises to our God, how pleasant[r] and fitting to praise him![s] 2The LORD builds up Jerusalem;
he gathers the exiles of Israel.
3He heals the brokenhearted and binds up their wounds.

4He determines the number of the stars and calls them each by name.
5Great is our Lord[t] and mighty in power;
his understanding has no limit.[u] 6The LORD sustains the humble[v]
but casts the wicked to the ground.

7Sing to the LORD with thanksgiving;
make music to our God on the harp.
8He covers the sky with clouds;
he supplies the earth with rain and makes grass grow[w] on the hills.
9He provides food[x] for the cattle and for the young ravens when they call.

147:1
[r] Ps 135:3
[s] Ps 33:1

147:5
[t] Ps 48:1
[u] Isa 40:28

147:6
[v] Ps 146:8-9

147:8
[w] Ps 104:14

147:9
[x] Ps 104:27-28

[u] 1 Hebrew Hallelu Yah; also in verse 20

146:9 God's plans frustrate the "ways of the wicked" because his values are the opposite of society's. Jesus turned society's values upside down when he proclaimed that "many who are first will be last, and many who are last will be first" (Matthew 19:30), and that "whoever wants to save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for me will find it" (Matthew 16:25). Don't be surprised when others don't understand your Christian values, but don't give in to theirs.

147:5 Sometimes we feel as if we don't understand ourselves—what we want, how we feel, what's wrong with us, or what we should do about it. But God's understanding has no limit, and therefore he understands us fully. If you feel troubled and don't understand yourself, remember that God understands you perfectly. Take your mind off yourself and focus it on God. Strive to become more and more like him. The more you learn about God and his ways, the better you will understand yourself.

10 His pleasure is not in the strength of the horse,[y] nor his delight in the legs of a man;
11 the LORD delights in those who fear him, who put their hope in his unfailing love.

12 Extol the LORD, O Jerusalem;
praise your God, O Zion, 13 for he strengthens the bars of your gates and blesses your people within you.
14 He grants peace to your borders and satisfies you[z] with the finest of wheat.

15 He sends his command to the earth;
his word runs swiftly.
16 He spreads the snow like wool and scatters the frost like ashes.
17 He hurls down his hail like pebbles.
Who can withstand his icy blast?
18 He sends his word and melts them;
he stirs up his breezes, and the waters flow.

19 He has revealed his word to Jacob, his laws and decrees[a] to Israel.
20 He has done this for no other nation;
they do not know his laws.

Praise the LORD.

147:10 [y] Ps 33:16-17

147:14 [z] Ps 132:15

147:19 [a] Mal 4:4

PSALM 148

Theme: Let all creation praise and worship the Lord.
Author: Anonymous

1 Praise the LORD.[v]

Praise the LORD from the heavens, praise him in the heights above.
2 Praise him, all his angels, praise him, all his heavenly hosts.
3 Praise him, sun and moon,
praise him, all you shining stars.
4 Praise him, you highest heavens and you waters above the skies.[b]
5 Let them praise the name of the LORD, for he commanded and they were created.
6 He set them in place for ever and ever;
he gave a decree[c] that will never pass away.

148:4 [b] Ge 1:7

148:6 [c] Jer 33:25

v 1 Hebrew Hallelu Yah; also in verse 14

147:10, 11 We spend much effort trying to sharpen our skills or increase our strength. There is nothing wrong with doing so, and, in fact, our gifts can be used to glorify God. But when we use our skills with no regard for God, they are indeed worth little. It is our fear (reverence) and trust that God desires. When he has those, then he will use our skills and strengths in ways far greater than we can imagine.

147:19, 20 The nation of Israel (the descendants of Jacob) was special to God because to its people God brought his laws, and through its people he sent his Son, Jesus Christ. Now any individual who follows God is just as special to him. In fact, the Bible says that the real nation of Israel is not a specific people or geographic place, but the community of all who believe in and obey God (see Galatians 3:28, 29).

148:5–14 All creation is like a majestic symphony or a great choir composed of many harmonious parts that together offer up songs of praise. Each part (independent, yet part of the whole) is caught up and carried along in the swelling tides of praise. This is a picture of how we as believers should praise God – individually, yet as part of the great choir of believers worldwide. Are you singing your part well in the worldwide choir of praise?

7 Praise the LORD from the earth,
you great sea creatures and all ocean depths, 8 lightning and hail, snow and clouds, stormy winds that do his bidding,[d] 9 you mountains and all hills,[e] fruit trees and all cedars, 10 wild animals and all cattle,
small creatures and flying birds, 11 kings of the earth and all nations,
you princes and all rulers on earth, 12 young men and maidens,
old men and children.

13 Let them praise the name of the LORD,
for his name alone is exalted;
his splendor is above the earth and the heavens.[f] 14 He has raised up for his people a horn,[w]
the praise of all his saints, of Israel, the people close to his heart.

Praise the LORD.

148:8 [d] Ps 147:15-18
148:9 [e] Isa 44:23
148:13 [f] Ps 8:1

PSALM 149

Theme: A victory celebration. We have the assurance that God truly enjoys his people.
Author: Anonymous

1 Praise the LORD.[x g]

Sing to the LORD a new song,
his praise in the assembly of the saints.

2 Let Israel rejoice in their Maker;
let the people of Zion be glad in their King.
3 Let them praise his name with dancing and make music to him with tambourine and harp.
4 For the LORD takes delight[h] in his people;
he crowns the humble with salvation.[i] 5 Let the saints rejoice in this honor and sing for joy on their beds.[j]

6 May the praise of God be in their mouths and a double-edged[k] sword in their hands, 7 to inflict vengeance on the nations and punishment on the peoples, 8 to bind their kings with fetters, their nobles with shackles of iron,
9 to carry out the sentence written against them.
This is the glory of all his saints.

Praise the LORD.

149:1 [g] Ps 33:2
149:4 [h] Ps 35:27 [i] Ps 132:16
149:5 [j] Job 35:10
149:6 [k] Heb 4:12; Rev 1:16

[w] 14 Horn here symbolizes strong one, that is, king. [x] 1 Hebrew Hallelu Yah; also in verse 9

149:3–5 Although the Bible invites us to praise God, we often aren't sure how to go about it. Here, several ways are suggested – in the dance, with the voice, with musical instruments. God enjoys his people, and we should enjoy praising him.

149:6, 7 The double-edged sword symbolizes the completeness of judgment that will be executed by the Messiah when he returns to punish all evildoers (Revelation 1:16).

PSALM 150

Theme: A closing hymn of praise. God's creation praises him everywhere in every way. We should join this rejoicing song of praise.
Author: Anonymous

1 Praise the LORD.[y]

Praise God in his sanctuary;
praise him in his mighty heavens.
2 Praise him for his acts of power;[/] praise him for his surpassing greatness.
3 Praise him with the sounding of the trumpet,

150:2 /Dt 3:24

y 1 Hebrew Hallelu Yah; also in verse 6

WHERE TO GET HELP IN THE BOOK OF PSALMS

When you feel . . .

Afraid: 3; 4; 27; 46; 49; 56; 91; 118
Alone: 9; 10; 12; 13; 27; 40; 43
"Burned out": 6; 63
Cheated: 41
Confused: 10; 12; 73
Depressed: 27; 34; 42; 43; 88; 143
Distressed: 13; 25; 31; 40; 107
Elated: 19; 96
Guilty: 19; 32; 38; 51
Hateful: 11
Impatient: 13; 27; 37; 40
Insecure: 3; 5; 12; 91
Insulted: 41; 70
Jealous: 37
Like Quitting: 29; 43; 145
Lost: 23; 139
Overwhelmed: 25; 69; 142
Penitent/Sorry: 32; 51; 66
Proud: 14 30; 49
Purposeless: 14; 25; 39; 49; 90
Sad: 13
Self-confident: 24
Tense: 4
Thankful: 118; 136; 138
Threatened: 3; 11; 17
Tired/Weak: 6; 13; 18; 28; 29; 40; 86
Trapped: 7; 17; 42; 88; 142
Unimportant: 8; 90; 139
Vengeful: 3; 7; 109
Worried: 37
Worshipful: 8; 19; 27; 29; 150

When you're facing . . .

Atheists: 10; 14; 19; 52; 53; 115
Competition: 133
Criticism: 35; 56; 120
Danger: 11
Death: 6; 71; 90
Decisions: 1; 119
Discrimination: 54
Doubts: 34; 37; 94
Evil people: 10; 35; 36; 49; 52; 109; 140
Enemies: 3; 25; 35; 41; 56; 59
Heresy: 14
Hypocrisy: 26; 28; 40; 50
Illness: 6; 139
Lies: 5; 12; 120
Old Age: 71; 92
Persecution: 1; 3; 7; 56
Poverty: 9; 10; 12
Punishment: 6; 38; 39
Slander/Insults: 7; 15; 35; 43; 120
Slaughter: 6; 46; 83
Sorrow: 23; 34
Success: 18; 112; 127; 128
Temptation: 38; 141
Troubles: 34; 55; 86; 102; 142; 145
Verbal Cruelty: 35; 120

When you want . . .

Acceptance: 139
Answers: 4; 17
Confidence: 46; 71
Courage: 11; 42
Fellowship with God: 5; 16; 25; 27; 37; 133
Forgiveness: 32; 38; 40; 51; 69; 86; 103; 130
Friendship: 16
Godliness: 15; 25
Guidance: 1; 5; 15; 19; 25; 32; 48
Healing: 6; 41
Hope: 16; 17; 18; 23; 27
Humility: 19; 147
Illumination: 19
Integrity: 24; 25
Joy: 9; 16; 28; 126
Justice: 2; 7; 14; 26; 37; 49; 58; 82
Knowledge: 2; 8; 18; 19; 25; 29; 97; 103
Leadership: 72
Miracles: 60; 111
Money: 15; 16; 17; 49
Peace: 3; 4
Perspective: 2; 11
Prayer: 5; 17; 27; 61
Protection: 3; 4; 7; 16; 17; 18; 23; 27; 31; 91; 121; 125
Provision: 23
Rest: 23; 27
Salvation: 26; 37; 49; 126
Stability: 11; 33; 46
Vindication: 9; 14; 28; 35; 109
Wisdom: 1; 16; 19; 64; 111

praise him with the harp and lyre, 4praise him with tambourine and dancing, praise him with the strings and flute, 5praise him with the clash of cymbals, praise him with resounding cymbals.

6Let everything that has breath praise the LORD.

Praise the LORD.

150:3–5 Music and song were an integral part of Old Testament worship. David introduced music into the tabernacle and temple services (1 Chronicles 16:4–7). The music must have been loud and joyous as evidenced by the list of instruments and the presence of choirs and songleaders. Music was also important in New Testament worship (Ephesians 5:19; Colossians 3:16).

150:6 How could the message be more clear? The writer was telling the individual listeners to praise God. What a fitting way to end this book of praise – with a direct encouragement for you to praise God too. Remember to praise him every day!

150:6 In a way, the book of Psalms parallels our spiritual journey through life. It begins by presenting us with two roads – the way to life and the way to death. If we choose God's way to life, we still face both blessings and troubles, joy and grief, successes and obstacles. Throughout it all, God is at our side, guiding, encouraging, comforting, and caring. As the wise and faithful person's life draws to an end, he or she realizes clearly that God's road is the right road. Knowing this will cause us to praise God for leading us in the right direction and for assuring our place in the perfect world God has in store for those who have faithfully followed him.

VITAL STATISTICS

PURPOSE:
To teach people how to attain wisdom and discipline and a prudent life, and how to do what is right and just and fair (see 1:2, 3)—in short, to apply divine wisdom to daily life and to provide moral instruction

AUTHOR:
Solomon wrote most of this book, with Agur and Lemuel contributing some of the later sections

DATE WRITTEN:
Solomon wrote and compiled most of these proverbs early in his reign

SETTING:
This is a book of wise sayings, a textbook for teaching people how to live godly lives through the repetition of wise thoughts

KEY VERSE:
"The fear of the LORD is the beginning of knowledge, but fools despise wisdom and discipline" (1:7).

SPECIAL FEATURES:
The book uses varied literary forms: poems, brief parables, pointed questions, and couplets. Other literary devices include antithesis, comparison, and personification

ALPHABET letters, vowels, and consonants, formed into words, sentences, paragraphs, and books—spoken, lectured, signed, whispered, written, and printed. From friendly advice to impassioned speeches and from dusty volumes to daily tabloids, messages are sent and received with each sender trying to impart knowledge . . . and wisdom.

Woven into human fabric is the desire to learn and understand. Our minds set us apart from animals, and we analyze, conceptualize, theorize, discuss, and debate everything from science to the supernatural. And we build schools, institutes, and universities where learned professors can teach us about the world and about life.

Knowledge is good, but there is a vast difference between "knowledge" (having the facts) and "wisdom" (applying those facts to life). We may amass knowledge, but without wisdom, our knowledge is useless. We must learn how to live out what we know.

The wisest man who ever lived, Solomon, left us a legacy of written wisdom in three volumes—Proverbs, Ecclesiastes, and Song of Songs. In these books, under the inspiration of the Holy Spirit, he gives practical insights and guidelines for life.

In the first of these three volumes, Solomon passes on his practical advice in the form of proverbs. A proverb is a short, concise sentence that conveys moral truth. The book of Proverbs is a collection of these wise statements. The main theme of Proverbs, as we might expect, is the nature of true wisdom. Solomon writes, "The fear of the LORD is the beginning of knowledge, but fools despise wisdom and discipline" (1:7). He then proceeds to give hundreds of practical examples of how to live according to godly wisdom.

Proverbs covers a wide range of topics, including youth and discipline, family life, self-control and resisting temptation, business matters, words and the tongue, knowing God, marriage, seeking the truth, wealth and poverty, immorality, and, of course, wisdom. These proverbs are short poems (usually in couplet form), containing a holy mixture of common sense and timely warnings. Although they are not meant to teach doctrine, a person who follows their advice will walk closely with God. The word "proverb" comes from a Hebrew word that means "to rule or to govern," and these sayings, reminders, and admonitions provide profound advice for governing our lives.

As you read Proverbs, understand that knowing God is the key to wisdom. Listen to the thoughts and lessons from the world's wisest man, and apply these truths to your life. Don't just read these proverbs; act on them!

THE BLUEPRINT

A. WISDOM FOR YOUNG PEOPLE (1:1—9:18)	Solomon instructed the young people of his day like a father giving advice to his child. While many of these proverbs are directed toward young people, the principles supporting them are helpful to all believers, male and female, young and old. Anyone beginning his or her journey to discover more of wisdom will benefit greatly from these wise sayings.
B. WISDOM FOR ALL PEOPLE (10:1—24:34)	Solomon wanted to impart wisdom to all people, regardless of their age, sex, or position in society. These short, wise sayings give us practical wisdom for daily living. We should study them diligently and integrate them into our life.
C. WISDOM FOR THE LEADERS (25:1—31:31)	In addition to the proverbs that Solomon collected, the men of Hezekiah collected many proverbs that Solomon and others wrote. While most of these are general in nature, many are directed specifically to the king and those who dealt with the king. These are particularly useful for those who are leaders or aspire to be leaders.

MEGATHEMES

THEME	EXPLANATION	IMPORTANCE
Wisdom	God wants his people to be wise. Two kinds of people portray two contrasting paths of life. The fool is the wicked, stubborn person who hates or ignores God. The wise person seeks to know and love God.	When we choose God's way, he grants us wisdom. His Word, the Bible, leads us to live rightly, have right relationships, and make right decisions.
Relationships	Proverbs gives us advice for developing our personal relationships with friends, family members, and coworkers. In every relationship, we must show love, dedication, and high moral standards.	To relate to people, we need consistency, tact, and discipline to use the wisdom God gives us. If we don't treat others according to the wisdom God gives, our relationships will suffer.
Speech	What we say shows our real attitude toward others. How we talk reveals what we're really like. Our speech is a test of how wise we have become.	To be wise in our speech we need to use self-control. Our words should be honest and well-chosen.
Work	God controls the final outcome of all we do. We are accountable to carry out our work with diligence and discipline, not laziness.	Because God evaluates how we live, we should work purposefully. We must never be lax or self-satisfied in using our skills.
Success	Although people work very hard for money and fame, God views success as having a good reputation, moral character, and the spiritual devotion to obey him.	A successful relationship with God counts for eternity. Everything else is perishable. All our resources, time, and talents come from God. We should strive to use them wisely.

A. WISDOM FOR YOUNG PEOPLE (1:1—9:18)

Proverbs begins with a clear statement of its purpose—to impart wisdom for godly living. The first few chapters are Solomon's fatherly advice to young people. Although most of the material in this section is directed toward young people, all who seek wisdom will greatly benefit from these wise words. This is where one can discover the source of wisdom, the value of wisdom, and the benefits of wisdom.

Prologue: Purpose and Theme

1 The proverbs of Solomon[a] son of David, king of Israel:

1:1 [a] 1Ki 4:29-34

2 for attaining wisdom and discipline;
for understanding words of insight;
3 for acquiring a disciplined and prudent life,
doing what is right and just and fair;
4 for giving prudence to the simple,[b] knowledge and discretion[c] to the young—5 let the wise listen and add to their learning,[d] and let the discerning get guidance—6 for understanding proverbs and parables,[e]
the sayings and riddles of the wise.

1:4 [b] Pr 8:5 [c] Pr 8:12

1:5 [d] Pr 9:9

1:6 [e] Ps 49:4

7 The fear of the LORD is the beginning of knowledge, but fools[a] despise wisdom and discipline.

Exhortations to Embrace Wisdom

Warning Against Enticement

8 Listen, my son,[f] to your father's instruction and do not forsake your mother's teaching.[g] 9 They will be a garland to grace your head and a chain to adorn your neck.

1:8 [f] Pr 4:1 [g] Pr 6:20

10 My son, if sinners entice you, do not give in[h] to them.
11 If they say, "Come along with us;

1:10 [h] Dt 13:8

[a] 7 The Hebrew words rendered fool in Proverbs, and often elsewhere in the Old Testament, denote one who is morally deficient.

1:1 What the book of Psalms is to prayer and devotional life, the book of Proverbs is to everyday life. Proverbs gives practical suggestions for effective living. This book is not just a collection of homey sayings; it contains deep spiritual insights drawn from experience. A proverb is a short, wise, easy-to-learn saying that calls a person to action. It doesn't argue about basic spiritual and moral beliefs; it assumes we already hold them. The book of Proverbs focuses on God—his character, works, and blessings—and it tells how we can live in close relationship to him.

1:1 Solomon, the third king of Israel, son of the great King David, reigned during Israel's golden age. When God said he would give him whatever he wanted, he asked for a discerning heart (1 Kings 3:5–14). God was pleased with this request, and he not only made Solomon wise but also gave him great riches and power and an era of peace. Solomon built the glorious temple in Jerusalem (1 Kings 6) and wrote most of the book of Proverbs. His Profile is found in 1 Kings 4.

1:6 Riddles were thought-provoking questions.

1:7 One of the most annoying types of people is a know-it-all, a person who has a dogmatic opinion about everything, is closed to anything new, resents discipline, and refuses to learn. Solomon calls this kind of person a fool. Don't be a know-it-all. Instead, be open to the advice of others, especially those who know you well and can give valuable insight and counsel. Learn how to learn from others. Remember, only God knows it all.

1:7–9 In this age of information, knowledge is plentiful, but wisdom is scarce. Wisdom means far more than simply knowing a lot. It is a basic attitude that affects every aspect of life. The foundation of knowledge is to fear the Lord—to honor and respect God, to live in awe of his power, and to obey his Word. Faith in God should be the controlling principle for your understanding of the world, your attitudes, and your actions. Trust in God—he will make you truly wise.

1:8 Our actions speak louder than our words. This is especially true in the home. Children learn values, morals, and priorities by observing how their parents act and react every day. If parents exhibit a deep reverence for and dependence on God, the children will catch these attitudes. Let them see your reverence for God. Teach them right living by giving worship an important place in your family life and by reading the Bible together.

1:10–19 Sin is enticing because it offers a quick route to prosperity and makes us feel like one of the crowd. But when we go along with others and refuse to listen to the truth, our own appetites become our masters, and we'll do anything to satisfy them. Sin, even when attractive, is deadly. We must learn to make choices, not on the basis of flashy appeal or short-range pleasure, but in view of the long-range effects. Sometimes this means steering clear of people who want to entice us into activities that we know are wrong. We can't be friendly with sin and expect our lives to remain unaffected.

let's lie in wait for someone's blood,
let's waylay some harmless soul;
12let's swallow them alive, like the grave,[b] and whole, like those who go down to the pit; 13we will get all sorts of valuable things and fill our houses with plunder; 14throw in your lot with us, and we will share a common purse" — 15my son, do not go along with them, do not set foot[i] on their paths;
16for their feet rush into sin, they are swift to shed blood.[j] 17How useless to spread a net in full view of all the birds!
18These men lie in wait for their own blood;
they waylay only themselves!
19Such is the end of all who go after ill-gotten gain;
it takes away the lives of those who get it.

1:15
[i] Ps 119:101

1:16
[j] Isa 59:7

Warning Against Rejecting Wisdom

20Wisdom calls aloud in the street,
she raises her voice in the public squares; 21at the head of the noisy streets[c] she cries out,
in the gateways of the city she makes her speech:

22"How long will you simple ones[d] love your simple ways?
How long will mockers delight in mockery and fools hate knowledge?
23If you had responded to my rebuke,
I would have poured out my heart to you and made my thoughts known to you.
24But since you rejected me when I called[k]
and no one gave heed when I stretched out my hand,

1:24
[k] Isa 65:12; 66:4; Jer 7:13

[b] 12 Hebrew Sheol [c] 21 Hebrew; Septuagint / on the tops of the walls [d] 22 The Hebrew word rendered simple in Proverbs generally denotes one without moral direction and inclined to evil.

UNDERSTANDING PROVERBS Most often, proverbs are written in the form of couplets. These are constructed in three ways:

Type	Description	Key Word(s)	Examples
Contrasting	Meaning and application come from the differences or contrast between the two statements of the proverb	"but"	10:6; 15:25, 27
Comparing	Meaning and application come from the similarities or comparison between the two statements of the proverb	"as/so" "better/than"	10:26; 15:16, 17; 25:25
Complementing	Meaning and application come from the way the second statement complements the first	"and"	10:18; 15:23

1:19 Going after "ill-gotten gain" is one of Satan's surest traps. It begins when he plants the suggestion that we can't live without some possession or more money. Then that desire fans its own fire until it becomes an all-consuming obsession. Ask God for wisdom to recognize any greedy desire before it destroys you. God will help you overcome it.

1:20 The picture of wisdom calling aloud in the streets is a personification – a literary device to make wisdom come alive for us. Wisdom is not a separate being; it is the mind of God revealed. By reading about Jesus Christ's earthly ministry, we can see wisdom in action. In order to understand how to become wise, we can listen to wisdom calling and instructing us in the book of Proverbs (see the chart in chapter 14). For New Testament calls to wisdom, see 2 Timothy 1:7 and James 1:5. Make sure you don't reject God's offer of wisdom to you.

1:22 In the book of Proverbs, a "simple one" or a fool is not someone with a mental deficiency but someone with a character deficiency (such as rebellion, laziness, or anger). The fool is not stupid, but he or she is unable to tell right from wrong or good from bad.

1:23–28 God is more than willing to pour out his heart and make known his thoughts to us. To receive his advice, we must be willing to listen, refusing to let pride stand in our way. Pride is thinking more highly of our own wisdom and desires than of God's. If we think we know better than God or feel we have no need of God's direction, we have fallen into foolish and disastrous pride.

25since you ignored all my advice and would not accept my rebuke, 26I in turn will laugh[l] at your disaster;
I will mock when calamity overtakes you — 27when calamity overtakes you like a storm, when disaster sweeps over you like a whirlwind,
when distress and trouble overwhelm you.

28"Then they will call to me but I will not answer; they will look for me but will not find me.[m] 29Since they hated knowledge and did not choose to fear the LORD, 30since they would not accept my advice and spurned my rebuke, 31they will eat the fruit of their ways and be filled with the fruit of their schemes.[n] 32For the waywardness of the simple will kill them, and the complacency of fools will destroy them;
33but whoever listens to me will live in safety and be at ease, without fear of harm."

1:26 [l]Ps 2:4

1:28 [m]Eze 8:18; Zec 7:13

1:31 [n]Jer 6:19

Moral Benefits of Wisdom

2 My son, if you accept my words and store up my commands within you, 2turning your ear to wisdom and applying your heart to understanding, 3and if you call out for insight and cry aloud for understanding, 4and if you look for it as for silver and search for it as for hidden treasure,[o] 5then you will understand the fear of the LORD and find the knowledge of God.
6For the LORD gives wisdom, and from his mouth come knowledge and understanding.
7He holds victory in store for the upright, he is a shield to those whose walk is blameless,[p] 8for he guards the course of the just and protects the way of his faithful ones.[q] 9Then you will understand what is right and just and fair — every good path.
10For wisdom will enter your heart, and knowledge will be pleasant to your soul.
11Discretion will protect you,

2:4 [o]Mt 13:44

2:7 [p]Ps 84:11

2:8 [q]1Sa 2:9

1:31, 32 Many proverbs point out that the "fruit of their ways" will be the consequences people will experience in this life. Faced with either choosing God's wisdom or persisting in rebellious independence, many decide to go it alone. The problems such people create for themselves will destroy them. Don't ignore God's advice even if it is painful for the present. It will keep you from greater pain in the future.

2:3–6 Wisdom comes in two ways: it is a God-given gift and also the result of an energetic search. Wisdom's starting point is God and his revealed Word, the source of "knowledge and understanding" (2:6). In that sense, wisdom is his gift to us. But he gives it only to those who earnestly seek it. But because God's wisdom is hidden from the rebellious and foolish, it takes effort to find it and use it. The pathway to wisdom is strenuous. When we are on the path, we discover that true wisdom is God's and that he will guide us and reward our sincere and persistent search.

2:6, 7 God gives us wisdom and victory but not for drifting through life or acting irresponsibly with his gifts and resources. If we are faithful and keep our purpose in life clearly in mind, he will keep us from pride and greed.

2:9, 10 We gain wisdom through a constant process of growing. First, we must trust and honor God. Second, we must realize that the Bible reveals God's wisdom to us. Third, we must make a lifelong series of right choices and avoid moral pitfalls. Fourth, when we make sinful or mistaken choices, we must learn from our errors and recover. People don't develop all aspects of wisdom at once. For example, some people have more insight than discretion; others have more knowledge than common sense. But we can pray for all aspects of wisdom and take the steps to develop them in our lives.

2:11 [r] Pr 4:6

and understanding will guard you.[r]

12 Wisdom will save you from the ways of wicked men, from men whose words are perverse, 13 who leave the straight paths to walk in dark ways, 14 who delight in doing wrong and rejoice in the perverseness of evil,
2:15 [s] Ps 125:5
15 whose paths are crooked[s] and who are devious in their ways.

16 It will save you also from the adulteress,
from the wayward wife with her seductive words,
17 who has left the partner of her youth
2:17 [t] Mal 2:14
and ignored the covenant she made before God.[e t]
2:18 [u] Pr 7:27
18 For her house leads down to death and her paths to the spirits of the dead.[u] 19 None who go to her return or attain the paths of life.

[e] 17 Or covenant of her God

PEOPLE CALLED "WISE" IN THE BIBLE

The special description "wise" is used for 12 significant people in the Bible. They can be helpful models in our own pursuit of wisdom.

The Person	Their Role	Reference	How they practiced wisdom
Joseph	Wise leader	Acts 7:10	Prepared for a major famine. Helped rule Egypt.
Moses	Wise leader	Acts 7:20–22	Learned all the Egyptian wisdom, then graduated to God's lessons in wisdom to lead Israel out of Egypt.
Bezalel	Wise artist	Exodus 31:1–5	Designed and supervised the construction of the tabernacle and its utensils in the desert.
Joshua	Wise leader	Deuteronomy 34:9	Learned by observing Moses, obeyed God, led the people into the promised land.
David	Wise leader	2 Samuel 14:20	Never let his failures keep him from the source of wisdom—reverence for God.
Abigail	Wise wife	1 Samuel 25:3	Managed her household well in spite of a surly and mean husband.
Solomon	Wise leader	1 Kings 3:5–14; 4:29–34	Knew what to do even though he often failed to put his own wisdom into action.
Daniel	Wise counselor	Daniel 5:11, 12	Known as a man in touch with God. A solver of complex problems with God's help
Magi	Wise learners	Matthew 2:1–12	Not only received special knowledge of God's visit to earth, but checked it out personally.
Stephen	Wise leader	Acts 6:8–10	Organized the distribution of food to the Grecian widows. Preached the gospel to the Jews.
Paul	Wise messenger	2 Peter 3:15, 16	Spent his life communicating God's love to all who would listen.
Christ	Wise youth Wise Savior Wisdom of God	Luke 2:40, 52; 1 Corinthians 1:20–25	Not only lived a perfect life, but died on the cross to save us and make God's wise plan of eternal life available to us.

2:11 Discretion is the ability to tell right from wrong. It enables the believer to detect evil motives in men (2:12) and women (2:16). With practice it helps us evaluate courses of action and consequences. For some it is a gift; for most it is developed by using God's truth to make wise choices day by day. Hebrews 5:14 emphasizes that we must train ourselves in order to have discretion.

2:16, 17 An adulteress is a seductive woman or a prostitute. Two of the most difficult sins to resist are pride and sexual immorality. Both are seductive. Pride says, "I deserve it"; sexual desire says, "I need it." In combination, their appeal is deadly. In fact, says Solomon, only by relying on God's strength can we overcome them. Pride appeals to the empty head; sexual enticement to the empty heart. By looking to God, we can fill our heads with his wisdom and our hearts with his love. Don't be fooled—remember what God says about who you are and what you were meant to be. Ask him for strength to resist these temptations.

20 Thus you will walk in the ways of good men and keep to the paths of the righteous.
21 For the upright will live in the land,[v]
and the blameless will remain in it; 22 but the wicked will be cut off from the land, and the unfaithful will be torn from it.

2:21
[v] Ps 37:29

Further Benefits of Wisdom

3 My son, do not forget my teaching, but keep my commands in your heart, 2 for they will prolong your life many years and bring you prosperity.

3 Let love and faithfulness never leave you;
bind them around your neck,
write them on the tablet of your heart.
4 Then you will win favor and a good name in the sight of God and man.

5 Trust in the LORD with all your heart and lean not on your own understanding; 6 in all your ways acknowledge him,
and he will make your paths straight.[f]

7 Do not be wise in your own eyes;
fear the LORD and shun evil.
8 This will bring health to your body and nourishment to your bones.[w]

3:8
[w] Job 21:24

9 Honor the LORD with your wealth, with the firstfruits of all your crops;
10 then your barns will be filled to overflowing, and your vats will brim over with new wine.

11 My son, do not despise the LORD's discipline

[f] 6 Or will direct your paths

3:3 Love and faithfulness are important character qualities. Both involve actions as well as attitudes. A loving person not only feels love; he or she also acts loyally and responsibly. A faithful person not only believes the truth; he or she also works for justice for others. Thoughts and words are not enough—our lives reveal whether we are truly loving and faithful. Do your actions measure up to your attitudes?

3:5, 6 Leaning has the sense of putting your whole weight on something, resting on and trusting in that person or thing. When we have an important decision to make, we sometimes feel that we can't trust anyone—not even God. But God knows what is best for us. He is a better judge of what we want than even we are! We must trust him completely in every choice we make. We should not omit careful thinking or belittle our God-given ability to reason; but we should not trust our own ideas to the exclusion of all others. We must not be wise in our own eyes. We should always be willing to listen to and be corrected by God's Word and wise counselors. Bring your decisions to God in prayer; use the Bible as your guide; and then follow God's leading. He will make your paths straight by both guiding and protecting you.

3:6 To receive God's guidance, said Solomon, we must acknowledge God in all our ways. This means turning every area of life over to him. About a thousand years later, Jesus emphasized this same truth (Matthew 6:33). Look at your values and priorities. What is important to you? In what areas have you not acknowledged him? What is his advice? In many areas of your life you may already acknowledge God, but it is in the areas where you attempt to restrict or ignore his influence that will cause you grief. Make him a vital part of everything you do; then he will guide you because you will be working to accomplish his purposes.

3:9, 10 The firstfruits refers to the practice of giving to God's use the first and best portion of the harvest (Deuteronomy 26:9–11). Many people give God their leftovers. If they can afford to donate anything, they do so. These people may be sincere and contribute willingly, but their attitude is nonetheless backward. It is better to give God the first part of our income. This demonstrates that God, not possessions, has first place in our lives and that our resources belong to him (we are only managers of God's resources). Giving to God first helps us conquer greed, helps us properly manage God's resources, and opens us up to receive God's special blessings.

3:11, 12 Discipline means "to teach and to train." Discipline sounds negative to many people because some disciplinarians are not loving. God, however, is the source of all love. He doesn't punish us because he enjoys inflicting pain but because he is deeply concerned about our development. He knows that in order to become morally strong and good, we must learn the difference between right and wrong. His loving discipline enables us to do that.

3:11, 12 It's difficult to know when God has been disciplining us until we look back on the situation later. Not every calamity comes and do not resent his rebuke, 12 because the LORD disciplines those he loves,

as a father[g] the son he delights in.[x]

13 Blessed is the man who finds wisdom,
the man who gains understanding, 14 for she is more profitable than silver and yields better returns than gold.[y] 15 She is more precious than rubies;
nothing you desire can compare with her.
16 Long life is in her right hand;
in her left hand are riches and honor.
17 Her ways are pleasant ways,
and all her paths are peace.
18 She is a tree of life[z] to those who embrace her;
those who lay hold of her will be blessed.

19 By wisdom the LORD laid the earth's foundations, by understanding he set the heavens in place;
20 by his knowledge the deeps were divided,
and the clouds let drop the dew.

21 My son, preserve sound judgment and discernment,
do not let them out of your sight;
22 they will be life for you,
an ornament to grace your neck.[a] 23 Then you will go on your way in safety, and your foot will not stumble;

3:12 [x] Dt 8:5; Heb 12:5-6*
3:14 [y] Job 28:15
3:18 [z] Ge 2:9
3:22 [a] Pr 1:8-9

[g] 12 Hebrew; Septuagint / and he punishes

WISDOM: APPLIED TRUTH
The book of Proverbs tells us about people who have wisdom and enjoy its benefits.

Reference	The Person Who Has Wisdom	Benefits of Wisdom
Proverbs 3; 4 A father's instructions	Is loving Is faithful Trusts in the Lord Puts God first Turns away from evil Knows right from wrong Listens and learns Does what is right	Long, prosperous life Favor with God and people Reputation for good judgment Success Health, vitality Riches, honor, pleasure, peace Protection
Proverbs 8; 9 Wisdom speaks	Possesses knowledge and discretion Hates pride, arrogance, and evil behavior Respects and fears God Gives good advice and has common sense Loves correction and is teachable Knows God	Riches, honor Justice Righteousness Life God's favor Constant learning Understanding directly from God, of course. But if we rebel against God and refuse to repent when God has identified some sin in our lives, he may use guilt, crises, or bad experiences to bring us back to him. Sometimes, however, difficult times come even when there is no flagrant sin in our lives. Then, our response should be patience, integrity, and confidence that God will show us what to do.

3:16, 17 Proverbs contains many strong statements about the benefits of wisdom, including long life, wealth, honor, and peace. If you aren't experiencing them, does this mean you are short on wisdom? Not necessarily. Instead of guarantees, these statements are general principles. In a perfect world, wise behavior would always lead to these benefits. Even in our troubled world, living wisely usually results in obvious blessings – but not always. Sometimes sin intervenes, and some blessings must be delayed until Jesus returns to establish his eternal kingdom. That is why we must "live by faith, not by sight" (2 Corinthians 5:7). We can be sure that wisdom ultimately leads to blessing.

3:21 What is the difference between sound judgment and discernment? Discernment (or discretion) is the ability God gives to many people to think and make correct choices. Sound judgment, however, he gives only to those who follow him. Sound judgment includes discernment, but goes beyond it. It also includes the knowledge that comes from instruction, training, and discipline, and the insight that results from knowing and applying God's truths.

24 when you lie down, you will not be afraid;
when you lie down, your sleep will be sweet.
25 Have no fear of sudden disaster or of the ruin that overtakes the wicked, 26 for the LORD will be your confidence and will keep your foot from being snared.

27 Do not withhold good from those who deserve it, when it is in your power to act.
28 Do not say to your neighbor,
"Come back later; I'll give it tomorrow" — when you now have it with you. [b]

3:28
[b] Lev 19:13

29 Do not plot harm against your neighbor, who lives trustfully near you.
30 Do not accuse a man for no reason — when he has done you no harm.

31 Do not envy [c] a violent man or choose any of his ways, 32 for the LORD detests a perverse man but takes the upright into his confidence.

3:31
[c] Ps 37:1

33 The LORD's curse is on the house of the wicked, but he blesses the home of the righteous.
34 He mocks proud mockers
but gives grace to the humble. [d] 35 The wise inherit honor, but fools he holds up to shame.

3:34
[d] Jas 4:6*; 1Pe 5:5*

Wisdom Is Supreme

4 Listen, my sons, [e] to a father's instruction;
pay attention and gain understanding.
2 I give you sound learning,
so do not forsake my teaching.
3 When I was a boy in my father's house, still tender, and an only child of my mother, 4 he taught me and said,
"Lay hold of my words with all your heart;
keep my commands and you will live. [f] 5 Get wisdom, get understanding;
do not forget my words or swerve from them.
6 Do not forsake wisdom, and she will protect you; [g] love her, and she will watch over you.
7 Wisdom is supreme; therefore get wisdom.
Though it cost all you have, [h] get understanding.

4:1
[e] Pr 1:8

4:4
[f] Pr 7:2

4:6
[g] 2Th 2:10

[h] 7 Or Whatever else you get

3:27, 28 Delaying to do good is inconsiderate and unfair, whether it is repaying a loan, returning a tool, or fulfilling a promise. Withholding destroys trust and creates a great inconvenience. Be as eager to do good as you are to have good done to you.

4:3, 4 One of the greatest responsibilities of parents is to encourage their children to become wise. Here Solomon tells how his father, David, encouraged him to seek wisdom when he was young ("tender") (see 1 Kings 2:1–9 and 1 Chronicles 28, 29 for David's charge to his son). This encouragement may have prompted Solomon to ask God for a discerning heart above everything else (1 Kings 3:9). Wisdom can be passed on from parents to children, from generation to generation. Ultimately, of course, all wisdom comes from God; parents can only urge their children to turn to him. If your parents never taught you in this way, God's Word can function as a loving and compassionate mother or father to you. You can learn from the Scriptures and then create a legacy of wisdom as you teach your own children.

4:5–7 If you want wisdom, you must decide to go after it. It takes resolve – a determination not to abandon the search once you begin no matter how difficult the road may become. This is not a once-in-a-lifetime step, but a daily process of choosing between two paths – the wicked (4:14–17, 19) and the righteous (4:18). Nothing else is more important or more valuable.

4:7 David taught Solomon as a young boy that seeking God's wisdom was the most important choice he could make. Solomon learned the lesson well. When God appeared to the new king to 8 Esteem her, and she will exalt you; embrace her, and she will honor you.

9 She will set a garland of grace on your head and present you with a crown of splendor."[h]

10 Listen, my son, accept what I say, and the years of your life will be many.
11 I guide you in the way of wisdom and lead you along straight paths.
12 When you walk, your steps will not be hampered;
when you run, you will not stumble.
13 Hold on to instruction, do not let it go;
guard it well, for it is your life.
14 Do not set foot on the path of the wicked or walk in the way of evil men.[i] 15 Avoid it, do not travel on it;
turn from it and go on your way.
16 For they cannot sleep till they do evil;[j]
they are robbed of slumber till they make someone fall.
17 They eat the bread of wickedness and drink the wine of violence.

18 The path of the righteous is like the first gleam of dawn, shining ever brighter till the full light of day.[k] 19 But the way of the wicked is like deep darkness;
they do not know what makes them stumble.

20 My son, pay attention to what I say;
listen closely to my words.
21 Do not let them out of your sight,[l]
keep them within your heart;
22 for they are life to those who find them and health to a man's whole body.[m] 23 Above all else, guard your heart, for it is the wellspring of life.
24 Put away perversity from your mouth;

4:9 [h] Pr 1:8-9
4:14 [i] Ps 1:1; Pr 1:15
4:16 [j] Ps 36:4
4:18 [k] 2Sa 23:4
4:21 [l] Pr 3:21
4:22 [m] Pr 3:8

STRATEGY FOR EFFECTIVE LIVING	Begins with	God's Wisdom	Respecting and appreciating who God is. Reverence and awe in recognizing the almighty God.
	Requires	Moral Application	Trusting in God and his Word. Allowing his Word to speak to us personally. Willing to obey.
	Requires	Practical Application	Acting on God's direction in daily devotions.
	Results in	Effective Living	Experiencing what God does with our obedience.

fulfill any request, Solomon chose wisdom above all else. We should also make God's wisdom our first choice. We don't have to wait for God to appear to us. We can boldly ask him for wisdom today through prayer. James 1:5 assures us that God will grant our request.

4:13–17 Even friends can make you fall. It is difficult for people to accept the fact that friends and aquaintances might be luring them to do wrong. Young people want to be accepted, so they would never want to confront or criticize a friend for wrong plans or actions. Many other people can't even see how their friends' actions could lead to trouble. While we should be accepting of others, we need a healthy skepticism about human behavior. When you feel yourself being heavily influenced, proceed with caution. Don't let your friends cause you to fall into sin.

4:23–27 Our heart – our feelings of love and desire – dictates to a great extent how we live because we always find time to do what we enjoy. Solomon tells us to guard our heart above all else, making sure we concentrate on those desires that will keep us on the right path. Make sure your affections push you in the right direction. Put boundaries on your desires: don't go after everything you see. Look straight ahead, keep your eyes fixed on your goal, and don't get sidetracked on detours that lead to sin.

keep corrupt talk far from your lips.
25 Let your eyes look straight ahead, fix your gaze directly before you.
26 Make level[l] paths for your feet[n]
and take only ways that are firm.
27 Do not swerve to the right or the left;[o] keep your foot from evil.

4:26 [n] Heb 12:13*

4:27 [o] Dt 5:32

Warning Against Adultery

5 My son, pay attention to my wisdom, listen well to my words of insight,
2 that you may maintain discretion and your lips may preserve knowledge.
3 For the lips of an adulteress drip honey, and her speech is smoother than oil;[p] 4 but in the end she is bitter as gall,[q] sharp as a double-edged sword.
5 Her feet go down to death;
her steps lead straight to the grave.[r] 6 She gives no thought to the way of life;
her paths are crooked, but she knows it not.

5:3 [p] Ps 55:21; Pr 7:5

5:4 [q] Ecc 7:26

5:5 [r] Pr 7:26-27

7 Now then, my sons, listen to me;
do not turn aside from what I say.
8 Keep to a path far from her,
do not go near the door of her house, 9 lest you give your best strength to others and your years to one who is cruel, 10 lest strangers feast on your wealth and your toil enrich another man's house.
11 At the end of your life you will groan, when your flesh and body are spent.
12 You will say, "How I hated discipline!
How my heart spurned correction![s] 13 I would not obey my teachers or listen to my instructors.
14 I have come to the brink of utter ruin in the midst of the whole assembly."

5:12 [s] Pr 12:1

15 Drink water from your own cistern,

[l] 26 Or Consider the 15 Hebrew Sheol

5:3 This "adulteress" is a prostitute. Proverbs includes many warnings against illicit sex for several reasons. First, a prostitute's charm is used as an example of any temptation to do wrong or to leave the pursuit of wisdom. Second, sexual immorality of any kind was and still is extremely dangerous. It destroys family life. It erodes a person's ability to love. It degrades human beings and turns them into objects. It can lead to disease. It can result in unwanted children. Third, sexual immorality is against God's law.

5:3–8 Any person should be on guard against those who use flattery and smooth speech (lips that drip honey) that would lead him or her into sin. The best advice is to take a detour and even avoid conversation with such people.

5:11–13 At the end of your life, it will be too late to ask for advice. When desire is fully activated, people don't want advice—they want satisfaction. The best time to learn the dangers and foolishness of going after forbidden sex (or anything else that is harmful) is long before the temptation comes. Resistance is easier if the decision has already been made. Don't wait to see what happens. Prepare for temptation by deciding now how you will act when you face it.

5:15 "Drink water from your own cistern" is a picture of faithfulness in marriage. It means to enjoy the spouse God has given you. In desert lands, water is precious, and a well is a family's most important possession. In Old Testament times, it was considered a crime to steal water from someone else's well, just as it was a crime to have intercourse with another man's wife. In both cases, the offender is endangering the health and security of family.

5:15–21 In contrast to much of what we read, see, and hear today this passage urges couples to look to each other for lifelong satisfaction and companionship. Many temptations entice husbands and wives to desert each other for excitement and pleasures to be found elsewhere when marriage becomes dull. But God designed marriage and sanctified it, and only within this covenant relationship can we find real love and fulfillment. Don't let God's best for you be wasted on the illusion of greener pastures somewhere else. Instead, rejoice with your spouse as you give running water from your own well.

16 Should your springs overflow in the streets,
your streams of water in the public squares?
17 Let them be yours alone,
never to be shared with strangers.
18 May your fountain be blessed, and may you rejoice in the wife of your youth.[t] 19 A loving doe, a graceful deer[u]— may her breasts satisfy you always,
may you ever be captivated by her love.
20 Why be captivated, my son, by an adulteress?
Why embrace the bosom of another man's wife?

21 For a man's ways are in full view of the LORD, and he examines all his paths.[v] 22 The evil deeds of a wicked man ensnare him;[w]
the cords of his sin hold him fast.
23 He will die for lack of discipline,[x] led astray by his own great folly.

5:18 [t] Mal 2:14
5:19 [u] SS 4:5
5:21 [v] Pr 15:3; Jer 32:19; Heb 4:13
5:22 [w] Ps 9:16
5:23 [x] Job 4:21

Warnings Against Folly

6 My son, if you have put up security for your neighbor, if you have struck hands in pledge[y] for another,
2 if you have been trapped by what you said,
ensnared by the words of your mouth,
3 then do this, my son, to free yourself,
since you have fallen into your neighbor's hands:
Go and humble yourself;
press your plea with your neighbor!
4 Allow no sleep to your eyes,
no slumber to your eyelids.[z]
5 Free yourself, like a gazelle from the hand of the hunter, like a bird from the snare of the fowler.

6:1 [y] Pr 11:15
6:4 [z] Ps 132:4

THINGS GOD HATES
The book of Proverbs notes 14 types of people and actions that God hates. Let these be guidelines of what we are not to be and do!

Violent people	Proverbs 3:31
Haughtiness, lying, murdering, scheming, eagerness to do evil, a false witness, stirring up dissension	Proverbs 6:16–19
Those who are untruthful	Proverbs 12:22
The sacrifice of the wicked	Proverbs 15:8
The way of the wicked	Proverbs 15:9
The thoughts of the wicked	Proverbs 15:26
Those who are proud	Proverbs 16:5
Those who judge unjustly	Proverbs 17:15 yourselves to God and to each other.

5:18–20 God does not intend faithfulness in marriage to be boring, lifeless, pleasureless, and dull. Sex is a gift God gives to married people for their mutual enjoyment. Real happiness comes when we decide to find pleasure in the relationship God has given or will give us and to commit ourselves to making it pleasurable for our spouse. The real danger is in doubting that God knows and cares for us. We then may resent his timing and carelessly pursue sexual pleasure without his blessing.

5:19 See Song of Songs, chapter 4, for parallels to this frank expression of the joys of sexual pleasure in marriage.

6:1–5 These verses are not a plea against generosity, but against overextending one's financial resources and acting in irresponsible ways that could lead to poverty. It is important to maintain a balance between generosity and good stewardship. God wants us to help our friends and the needy, but he does not promise to cover the costs of every unwise commitment we make. We should also act responsibly so that our family does not suffer.

6 Go to the ant, you sluggard;
consider its ways and be wise!
7 It has no commander,
no overseer or ruler,
8 yet it stores its provisions in summer and gathers its food at harvest.

9 How long will you lie there, you sluggard?
When will you get up from your sleep?
10 A little sleep, a little slumber,
a little folding of the hands to rest—11 and poverty will come on you like a bandit and scarcity like an armed man.[k]

12 A scoundrel and villain, who goes about with a corrupt mouth, 13 who winks with his eye, signals with his feet
and motions with his fingers, 14 who plots evil with deceit in his heart—he always stirs up dissension.[a] 15 Therefore disaster will overtake him in an instant;
he will suddenly be destroyed—without remedy.

16 There are six things the LORD hates, seven that are detestable to him:
17 haughty eyes,
a lying tongue,
hands that shed innocent blood,[b] 18 a heart that devises wicked schemes, feet that are quick to rush into evil, 19 a false witness who pours out lies and a man who stirs up dissension among brothers.

6:14
[a] ver 16-19

6:17
[b] Isa 1:21; 59:7

Warning Against Adultery

20 My son, keep your father's commands and do not forsake your mother's teaching.
21 Bind them upon your heart forever;
fasten them around your neck.[c] 22 When you walk, they will guide you;
when you sleep, they will watch over you;
when you awake, they will speak to you.
23 For these commands are a lamp, this teaching is a light,[d]
and the corrections of discipline are the way to life, 24 keeping you from the immoral woman,
from the smooth tongue of the wayward wife.

6:21
[c] Pr 3:3; 7:1-3

6:23
[d] Ps 119:105

[k] 11 Or like a vagrant / and scarcity like a beggar

6:6–11 Those last few moments of sleep are delicious – we savor them as we resist beginning another workday. But Proverbs warns against giving in to the temptation of laziness, of sleeping instead of working. This does not mean we should never rest: God gave the Jews the Sabbath, a weekly day of rest and restoration. But we should not rest when we should be working. The ant is used as an example because it utilizes its energy and resources economically. If laziness turns us from our responsibilities, poverty may soon bar us from the legitimate rest we should enjoy. (See also the chart in chapter 28.)

6:20–23 It is natural and good for children, as they grow toward adulthood, to become increasingly independent of their parents. Young adults, however, should take care not to turn a deaf ear to their parents – to reject their advice just when it is needed most. If you are struggling with a decision or looking for insight, check with your parents or other older adults who know you well. Their extra years of experience may have given them the wisdom you seek.

25 Do not lust in your heart after her beauty or let her captivate you with her eyes, 26 for the prostitute reduces you to a loaf of bread, and the adulteress preys upon your very life.[e] 27 Can a man scoop fire into his lap without his clothes being burned?
28 Can a man walk on hot coals without his feet being scorched?
29 So is he who sleeps with another man's wife;
no one who touches her will go unpunished.

30 Men do not despise a thief if he steals to satisfy his hunger when he is starving.
31 Yet if he is caught, he must pay sevenfold,[f]
though it costs him all the wealth of his house.
32 But a man who commits adultery lacks judgment;[g] whoever does so destroys himself.
33 Blows and disgrace are his lot,
and his shame will never be wiped away; 34 for jealousy arouses a husband's fury,
and he will show no mercy when he takes revenge.
35 He will not accept any compensation;
he will refuse the bribe, however great it is.

Warning Against the Adulteress

7 My son,[h] keep my words
and store up my commands within you.
2 Keep my commands and you will live;[i] guard my teachings as the apple of your eye.
3 Bind them on your fingers;
write them on the tablet of your heart.[j]
4 Say to wisdom, "You are my sister," and call understanding your kinsman;
5 they will keep you from the adulteress,
from the wayward wife with her seductive words.

6 At the window of my house
I looked out through the lattice.
7 I saw among the simple,
I noticed among the young men,
a youth who lacked judgment.[k]
8 He was going down the street near her corner, walking along in the direction of her house 9 at twilight,[l] as the day was fading, as the dark of night set in.

6:26 [e] Pr 7:22-23
6:31 [f] Ex 22:1-14
6:32 [g] Pr 7:7
7:1 [h] Pr 1:8
7:2 [i] Pr 4:4
7:3 [j] Pr 3:3
7:7 [k] Pr 6:32
7:9 [l] Job 24:15

6:25 Regard lust as a warning sign of danger ahead. When you notice that you are attracted to a person of the opposite sex or preoccupied with thoughts of him or her, your desires may lead you to sin. Ask God to help you change your desires before you are drawn into sin.

6:25–35 Some people argue that it is all right to break God's law against sexual sin if nobody gets hurt. In truth, somebody always gets hurt. Spouses are devastated. Children are scarred. The partners themselves, even if they escape disease and unwanted pregnancy, lose their ability to fulfill commitments, to feel sexual desire, to trust, and to be entirely open with another person. God's laws are not arbitrary. They do not forbid good, clean fun; rather, they warn us against destroying ourselves through unwise actions or running ahead of God's timetable.

7:6–23 Although this advice is directed toward young men, young women should heed it as well. The person who has no purpose in life is simple-minded (7:7). Without aim or direction, an empty life is unstable, vulnerable to many temptations. Even though the young man in this passage doesn't know where he is going, the adulteress knows where she wants him. Notice her strategies: she is dressed to allure men (7:10); her approach is bold (7:13); she invites him over to her place (7:16–18); she cunningly answers his every objection (7:19, 20); she persuades him with smooth talk (7:21); she traps him (7:23). To combat temptation, make sure your life is full of God's Word and wisdom (7:4). Recognize the strategies of temptation, and run away from them—fast.

10 Then out came a woman to meet him, dressed like a prostitute and with crafty intent.
11 (She is loud[m] and defiant,
her feet never stay at home;
12 now in the street, now in the squares, at every corner she lurks.)
13 She took hold of him and kissed him and with a brazen face she said:

14 "I have fellowship offerings[l] at home;
today I fulfilled my vows.
15 So I came out to meet you;
I looked for you and have found you!
16 I have covered my bed with colored linens from Egypt.
17 I have perfumed my bed with myrrh, aloes and cinnamon.
18 Come, let's drink deep of love till morning;
let's enjoy ourselves with love!
19 My husband is not at home;
he has gone on a long journey.
20 He took his purse filled with money and will not be home till full moon."

21 With persuasive words she led him astray;
she seduced him with her smooth talk.
22 All at once he followed her like an ox going to the slaughter, like a deer[m] stepping into a noose[n] 23 till an arrow pierces his liver, like a bird darting into a snare,
little knowing it will cost him his life.[n]

24 Now then, my sons, listen to me;
pay attention to what I say.
25 Do not let your heart turn to her ways or stray into her paths.
26 Many are the victims she has brought down;
her slain are a mighty throng.
27 Her house is a highway to the grave,[o] leading down to the chambers of death.[o]

7:11 [m] Pr 9:13

7:23 [n] Ecc 7:26

7:27 [o] Pr 2:18

Wisdom's Call

8 Does not wisdom call out?
Does not understanding raise her voice?
2 On the heights along the way,
where the paths meet, she takes her stand;
3 beside the gates leading into the city,
at the entrances, she cries aloud:

[l] 14 Traditionally peace offerings [m] 22 Syriac (see also Septuagint); Hebrew fool [n] 22 The meaning of the Hebrew for this line is uncertain. [o] 27 Hebrew Sheol

7:25–27 There are definite steps you can take to avoid sexual sins. First, guard your mind. Don't read books, look at pictures, or encourage fantasies that stimulate the wrong desires. Second, keep away from settings and friends that tempt you to sin. Third, don't think only of the moment – focus on the future. Today's thrill may lead to tomorrow's ruin.

8:1ff Wisdom's call is contrasted to the call of the adulteress in chapter 7. Wisdom is portrayed as a woman who guides us (8:1–13) and makes us succeed (8:14–21). Wisdom was present at the creation and works with the Creator (8:22–31). God approves of those who listen to wisdom's counsel (8:32–35). Those who hate wisdom love death (8:36). Wisdom should affect every aspect of our entire life, from beginning to end. Be sure to open all corners of your life to God's direction and guidance.

4"To you, O men, I call out;
I raise my voice to all mankind.
5You who are simple, gain prudence;
you who are foolish, gain understanding.
6Listen, for I have worthy things to say;
I open my lips to speak what is right.
7My mouth speaks what is true,
for my lips detest wickedness.
8All the words of my mouth are just;
none of them is crooked or perverse.
9To the discerning all of them are right;
they are faultless to those who have knowledge.
10Choose my instruction instead of silver, knowledge rather than choice gold, 11for wisdom is more precious[p] than rubies, and nothing you desire can compare with her.[q]

12"I, wisdom, dwell together with prudence;
I possess knowledge and discretion.
13To fear the LORD is to hate evil;
I hate pride and arrogance,
evil behavior and perverse speech.
14Counsel and sound judgment are mine;
I have understanding and power.[r] 15By me kings reign and rulers make laws that are just;
16by me princes govern,
and all nobles who rule on earth.[p] 17I love those who love me,[s] and those who seek me find me.
18With me are riches and honor, enduring wealth and prosperity.
19My fruit is better than fine gold;
what I yield surpasses choice silver.[t] 20I walk in the way of righteousness, along the paths of justice, 21bestowing wealth on those who love me and making their treasuries full.

22"The LORD brought me forth as the first of his works,[q,r] before his deeds of old; 23I was appointed[s] from eternity,
from the beginning, before the world began.
24When there were no oceans, I was given birth,
when there were no springs abounding with water; 25before the mountains were settled in place,
before the hills, I was given birth, 26before he made the earth or its fields or any of the dust of the world.
27I was there when he set the heavens in place,

8:11
[p] Job 28:17-19
[q] Pr 3:13-15

8:14
[r] Ecc 7:19

8:17
[s] 1Sa 2:30; Jn 14:21-24

8:19
[t] Pr 3:13-14

[p] 16 Many Hebrew manuscripts and Septuagint; most Hebrew manuscripts and nobles—all righteous rulers
[q] 22 Or way; or dominion [r] 22 Or The LORD possessed me at the beginning of his work; or The LORD brought me forth at the beginning of his work [s] 23 Or fashioned

8:13 The more a person fears and respects God, the more he or she will hate evil. Love for God and love for sin cannot coexist. Harboring secret sins means that you are tolerating evil within yourself. Make a clean break with sin and commit yourself completely to God.

8:22–31 God says wisdom is primary and fundamental. It is the foundation on which all life is built. Paul and John may have alluded to some of Solomon's statements about wisdom to describe Christ's presence at the creation of the world (Colossians 1:15–17; 2:2, 3; Revelation 3:14).

when he marked out the horizon on the face of the deep, 28 when he established the clouds above and fixed securely the fountains of the deep, 29 when he gave the sea its boundary
so the waters would not overstep his command, and when he marked out the foundations of the earth.[u]
30 Then I was the craftsman at his side.
I was filled with delight day after day,
rejoicing always in his presence, 31 rejoicing in his whole world and delighting in mankind.[v]

32 "Now then, my sons, listen to me;
blessed are[w] those who keep my ways.
33 Listen to my instruction and be wise;
do not ignore it.
34 Blessed is the man who listens to me, watching daily at my doors,
waiting at my doorway.
35 For whoever finds me finds life and receives favor from the LORD.
36 But whoever fails to find me harms himself;
all who hate me love death."

8:29 [u] Job 38:5

8:31 [v] Ps 104:1-30

8:32 [w] Lk 11:28

Invitations of Wisdom and of Folly

9 Wisdom has built[x] her house;
she has hewn out its seven pillars.
2 She has prepared her meat and mixed her wine;
she has also set her table.
3 She has sent out her maids, and she calls[y]
from the highest point of the city.
4 "Let all who are simple come in here!"
she says to those who lack judgment.[z] 5 "Come, eat my food and drink the wine I have mixed.[a] 6 Leave your simple ways and you will live;
walk in the way of understanding.

7 "Whoever corrects a mocker invites insult;
whoever rebukes a wicked man incurs abuse.
8 Do not rebuke a mocker or he will hate you;
rebuke a wise man and he will love you.[b] 9 Instruct a wise man and he will be wiser still;
teach a righteous man and he will add to his learning.[c]

10 "The fear of the LORD[d] is the beginning of wisdom,

9:1 [x] Eph 2:20-22; 1Pe 2:5

9:3 [y] Pr 8:1-3

9:4 [z] Pr 6:32

9:5 [a] Isa 55:1

9:8 [b] Ps 141:5

9:9 [c] Pr 1:5, 7

9:10 [d] Pr 1:7

9:1 The seven pillars are figurative; they do not represent seven principles of wisdom. In the Bible, the number seven represents completeness and perfection. This verse poetically states that wisdom lacks nothing – it is complete and perfect.

9:1ff Wisdom and Folly (foolishness) are portrayed in this chapter as rival young women, each preparing a feast and inviting people to it. But Wisdom is a responsible woman of character, while Folly is a prostitute serving stolen food. Wisdom appeals first to the mind; Folly to the senses. It is easier to excite the senses, but the pleasures of Folly are temporary. By contrast, the satisfaction that wisdom brings lasts forever.

9:1–5 The banquet described in this chapter has some interesting parallels to the banquet Jesus described in one of his parables (Luke 14:15–24). Many may intend to go, but they never make it because they get sidetracked by other activities that seem more important at the time. Don't let anything become more important than your search for God's wisdom.

9:7–10 Are you a mocker or a wise person? You can tell by the way you respond to criticism. Instead of tossing back a quick put-down or clever retort when rebuked, listen to what is being said. Learn from your critics; this is the path to wisdom. Wisdom begins with knowing God. He gives insight into living because he created life. To know God is not just to know the facts about him, but to stand in awe of him and have a relationship with him. Do you really want to be wise? Get to know God better and better. (See James 1:5 2 Peter 1:2–4 for more on how to become wise.)

and knowledge of the Holy One is understanding.
11For through me your days will be many,
and years will be added to your life.[e] 12If you are wise, your wisdom will reward you;
if you are a mocker, you alone will suffer."

9:11 [e]Pr 3:1-2; 10:27

13The woman Folly is loud;[f]
she is undisciplined and without knowledge.
14She sits at the door of her house, on a seat at the highest point of the city,[g] 15calling out to those who pass by,
who go straight on their way.
16"Let all who are simple come in here!"
she says to those who lack judgment.
17"Stolen water is sweet;
food eaten in secret is delicious![h]" 18But little do they know that the dead are there, that her guests are in the depths of the grave.[t]

9:13 [f]Pr 7:11

9:14 [g]ver 3

9:17 [h]Pr 20:17

B. WISDOM FOR ALL PEOPLE (10:1 — 24:34)

These short couplets are what we commonly recognize as proverbs. They cover a wide range of topics. The first section was written by Solomon. The next two sections were written by others, but collected by Solomon. These sayings give people practical wisdom for godly living at every stage of life.

Proverbs of Solomon

10 The proverbs of Solomon:

A wise son brings joy to his father,[i] but a foolish son grief to his mother.

2Ill-gotten treasures are of no value,
but righteousness delivers from death.

3The LORD does not let the righteous go hungry but he thwarts the craving of the wicked.

4Lazy hands make a man poor, but diligent hands bring wealth.[j]

5He who gathers crops in summer is a wise son, but he who sleeps during harvest is a disgraceful son.

6Blessings crown the head of the righteous, but violence overwhelms the mouth of the wicked.[u]

10:1 [i]Pr 15:20

10:4 [j]Pr 12:24; 21:5

[t] 18 Hebrew Sheol [u] 6 Or but the mouth of the wicked conceals violence; also in verse 11

9:14–17 There is something hypnotic and intoxicating about wickedness. One sin leads us to want more; sinful behavior seems more exciting than the Christian life. That is why many people put aside all thought of Wisdom's sumptuous banquet (9:1–5) in order to eat the stolen food of Folly. Don't be deceived – sin is dangerous. Before reaching for forbidden fruit, take a long look at what happens to those who eat it. (See the chart in chapter 22.)

10:2 Some people bring unhappiness on themselves by choosing ill-gotten treasures. For example, craving satisfaction, they may do something that destroys their chances of ever achieving happiness. God's principles for right living bring lasting happiness because they guide us into long-term right behavior in spite of our ever-changing feelings.

10:3 Proverbs is full of verses contrasting the righteous person with the wicked. These statements are not intended to apply universally to all people in every situation. For example, some good people do go hungry. Rather, they are intended to communicate the general truth that the life of the person who seeks God is better in the long run than the life of the wicked person – a life that leads to ruin. These statements are not ironclad promises, but general truths. In addition, a proverb like this assumes a just government that cares for the poor and needy – the kind of government Israel was intended to have (see Deuteronomy 24:17–22). A corrupt government often thwarts the plans of righteous men and women.

10:4, 5 Every day has 24 hours filled with opportunities to grow, serve, and be productive. Yet it is so easy to waste time, letting life slip from our grasp. Refuse to be a lazy person, sleeping or frittering away the hours meant for productive work. See time as God's gift and seize your opportunities to live diligently for him.

7 The memory of the righteous will be a blessing, but the name of the wicked will rot.

8 The wise in heart accept commands,
but a chattering fool comes to ruin.

9 The man of integrity walks securely, but he who takes crooked paths will be found out. [k]

10 He who winks maliciously causes grief, and a chattering fool comes to ruin.

11 The mouth of the righteous is a fountain of life, but violence overwhelms the mouth of the wicked.

12 Hatred stirs up dissension, but love covers over all wrongs. [l]

13 Wisdom is found on the lips of the discerning, but a rod is for the back of him who lacks judgment. [m]

14 Wise men store up knowledge, but the mouth of a fool invites ruin. [n]

15 The wealth of the rich is their fortified city, but poverty is the ruin of the poor.

16 The wages of the righteous bring them life,
but the income of the wicked brings them punishment.

17 He who heeds discipline shows the way to life, but whoever ignores correction leads others astray.

18 He who conceals his hatred has lying lips,
and whoever spreads slander is a fool.

19 When words are many, sin is not absent,
but he who holds his tongue is wise. [o]

20 The tongue of the righteous is choice silver, but the heart of the wicked is of little value.

21 The lips of the righteous nourish many,
but fools die for lack of judgment.

22 The blessing of the LORD brings wealth, and he adds no trouble to it.

23 A fool finds pleasure in evil conduct, [p]
but a man of understanding delights in wisdom.

24 What the wicked dreads will overtake him;
what the righteous desire will be granted. [q]

10:9
[k] Pr 28:18

10:12
[l] 1Pe 4:8

10:13
[m] Pr 26:3

10:14
[n] Pr 18:6, 7

10:19
[o] Jas 3:2-12

10:23
[p] Pr 2:14

10:24
[q] Ps 145:17-19

10:18 By hating another person you may become a liar or a fool. If you try to conceal your hatred, you end up lying. If you slander the other person and are proven wrong, you are a fool. The only way out is to admit your hateful feelings to God. Ask him to change your heart, to help you love instead of hate.

10:20 Words from a good person are valuable ("choice silver"). A lot of poor advice is worth less than a little good advice. It is easy to get opinions from people who will tell us only what they think will please us, but such advice is not helpful. Instead we should look for those who will speak the truth, even when it hurts. Think about the people to whom you go for advice. What do you expect to hear from them?

10:22 God supplies most people with the personal and financial abilities to respond to the needs of others. If we all realized how God has blessed us, and if we all used our resources to do God's will, hunger and poverty would be wiped out. Wealth is a blessing only if we use it in the way God intended.

10:24 The wicked person dreads death. Those who do not believe in God usually fear death, and with good reason. By contrast, believers desire eternal life and God's salvation – their hopes will be rewarded. This verse offers a choice: you can have either your fears or your desires come true. You make that choice by rejecting God and living your own way, or by accepting God and following him.

25When the storm has swept by, the wicked are gone, but the righteous stand firm forever.

26As vinegar to the teeth and smoke to the eyes,
so is a sluggard to those who send him.

10:27
[r] Pr 9:10-11

27The fear of the LORD adds length to life,[r]
but the years of the wicked are cut short.

28The prospect of the righteous is joy,
but the hopes of the wicked come to nothing.

29The way of the LORD is a refuge for the righteous,
but it is the ruin of those who do evil.

30The righteous will never be uprooted,
but the wicked will not remain in the land.

31The mouth of the righteous brings forth wisdom,
but a perverse tongue will be cut out.

32The lips of the righteous know what is fitting,
but the mouth of the wicked only what is perverse.

11

11:1
[s] Lev 19:36; Dt 25:13-16

The LORD abhors dishonest scales,[s] but accurate weights are his delight.

11:2
[t] Pr 16:18

2When pride comes, then comes disgrace,[t]
but with humility comes wisdom.

11:3
[u] Pr 13:6

3The integrity of the upright guides them, but the unfaithful are destroyed by their duplicity.[u]

11:4
[v] Eze 7:19

4Wealth is worthless in the day of wrath,[v]
but righteousness delivers from death.

5The righteousness of the blameless makes a straight way for them, but the wicked are brought down by their own wickedness.

6The righteousness of the upright delivers them, but the unfaithful are trapped by evil desires.

GOD'S ADVICE ABOUT MONEY

Proverbs gives some practical instruction on the use of money, although sometimes it is advice we would rather not hear. It's more comfortable to continue in our habits than to learn how to use money more wisely. The advice includes:

Be generous in giving	11:24, 25; 22:9
Place people's needs ahead of profit	11:26
Be cautious of countersigning for another	17:18; 22:26, 27
Don't accept bribes	17:23
Help the poor	19:17; 21:13
Store up for the future	21:20
Be careful about borrowing	22:7

Other verses to study include: 11:15; 20:16; 25:14; 27:13

11:4 "The day of wrath" refers to when we die or to the time when God settles accounts with all people. On judgment day, each of us will stand alone, accountable for all our deeds. At that time, no amount of riches will buy reconciliation with God. Only our love for God and obedience to him will count.

7When a wicked man dies, his hope perishes;
all he expected from his power comes to nothing.[w]

11:7
[w]Pr 10:28

8The righteous man is rescued from trouble, and it comes on the wicked instead.

9With his mouth the godless destroys his neighbor, but through knowledge the righteous escape.

10When the righteous prosper, the city rejoices;
when the wicked perish, there are shouts of joy.

11Through the blessing of the upright a city is exalted, but by the mouth of the wicked it is destroyed.

12A man who lacks judgment derides his neighbor, but a man of understanding holds his tongue.

13A gossip betrays a confidence,[x]
but a trustworthy man keeps a secret.

11:13
[x]Pr 20:19

14For lack of guidance a nation falls, but many advisers make victory sure.

15He who puts up security for another will surely suffer, but whoever refuses to strike hands in pledge is safe.

16A kindhearted woman gains respect, but ruthless men gain only wealth.

17A kind man benefits himself,
but a cruel man brings trouble on himself.

18The wicked man earns deceptive wages, but he who sows righteousness reaps a sure reward.[y]

11:18
[y]Hos 10:12-13

19The truly righteous man attains life,
but he who pursues evil goes to his death.

20The LORD detests men of perverse heart but he delights in those whose ways are blameless.

21Be sure of this: The wicked will not go unpunished, but those who are righteous will go free.

22Like a gold ring in a pig's snout is a beautiful woman who shows no discretion.

23The desire of the righteous ends only in good,

11:7, 8 These verses, like 10:3, contrast two paths in life, but are not intended to apply universally to all people in all circumstances. God's people are not excluded from problems or struggles. If a person follows God's wisdom, however, God can rescue him or her from trouble. But a wicked person will fall into his or her own traps. Even if good people suffer, they can be sure they will ultimately be rescued from eternal death.

11:9 The mouth can be used either as a weapon or a tool, hurting relationships or building them up. Sadly, it is often easier to destroy than to build, and most people have received more destructive comments than those that build up. Every person you meet today is either a demolition site or a construction opportunity. Your words will make a difference. Will they be weapons for destruction or tools for construction?

11:14 A good leader needs and uses wise advisers. One person's perspective and understanding is severely limited; he or she may not have all the facts or may be blinded by bias, emotions, or wrong impressions. To be a wise leader at home, at church, or at work, seek the counsel of others and be open to their advice. Then, after considering all the facts, make your decision. (See the chart in chapter 29.)

11:19 Righteous people attain life because they live life more fully each day. They also attain life because people usually live longer when they live right, with proper diet, exercise, and rest. In addition, they need not fear death because eternal life is God's gift to them (John 11:25). By contrast, evil people not only find eternal death, but also miss out on real life on earth.

11:22 Physical attractiveness without discretion soon wears thin. We are to seek those character strengths that help us make wise decisions, not just those that make us look good. Not everyone who looks good is pleasant to live or work with. While taking good care of our body and appearance is not wrong, we also need to develop our ability to think.

but the hope of the wicked only in wrath.

24 One man gives freely, yet gains even more;
another withholds unduly, but comes to poverty.

25 A generous man will prosper;
he who refreshes others will himself be refreshed. [z]

26 People curse the man who hoards grain, but blessing crowns him who is willing to sell.

27 He who seeks good finds goodwill, but evil comes to him who searches for it. [a]

28 Whoever trusts in his riches will fall, but the righteous will thrive like a green leaf. [b]

29 He who brings trouble on his family will inherit only wind, and the fool will be servant to the wise.

30 The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life,
and he who wins souls is wise.

31 If the righteous receive their due on earth,
how much more the ungodly and the sinner!

12

Whoever loves discipline loves knowledge,
but he who hates correction is stupid.

2 A good man obtains favor from the LORD,
but the LORD condemns a crafty man.

3 A man cannot be established through wickedness, but the righteous cannot be uprooted. [c]

4 A wife of noble character is her husband's crown, but a disgraceful wife is like decay in his bones.

5 The plans of the righteous are just,
but the advice of the wicked is deceitful.

6 The words of the wicked lie in wait for blood, but the speech of the upright rescues them. [d]

11:25
[z] 2Co 9:6-9

11:27
[a] Ps 7:15-16

11:28
[b] Ps 52:8; 92:12-14

12:3
[c] Pr 10:25

12:6
[d] Pr 14:3

11:24, 25 These two verses present a paradox: that we become richer by being generous. The world says to hold on to as much as possible, but God blesses those who give freely of their possessions, time, and energy. When we give, God supplies us with more so that we can give more. In addition, giving helps us gain a right perspective on our possessions. We realize they were never really ours to begin with, but they were given to us by God to be used to help others. What then do we gain by giving? Freedom from enslavement to our possessions, the joy of helping others, and God's approval.

11:29 One of the greatest resources God gives us is the family. Families provide acceptance, encouragement, guidance, and counsel. Bringing trouble on your family – whether through anger or through an exaggerated desire for independence – is foolish because you cut yourself off from all they provide. In your family, strive for healing, communication, and understanding.

11:30 A wise person is a model of a meaningful life. Like a tree attracts people to its shade, his or her sense of purpose attracts others who want to know how they too can find meaning. Gaining wisdom yourself, then, can be the first step in leading people to God. Leading people to God is important because it keeps us in touch with God while offering others eternal life.

11:31 Contrary to popular opinion, no one sins and gets away with it. The faithful are rewarded for their faith. The wicked are punished for their sins. Don't think for a moment that "it won't matter" or "nobody will know" or "we won't get caught" (see also 1 Peter 4:18).

12:1 If you don't want to learn, years of schooling will teach you very little. But if you want to be taught, there is no end to what you can learn. This includes being willing to accept discipline and correction and to learn from the wisdom of others. A person who refuses constructive criticism has a problem with pride. Such a person is unlikely to learn very much.

12:3 To be established means to be successful. Real success comes only to those who do what is right. Their efforts stand the test of time. Then, what kind of success does wickedness bring? We all know people who cheated to pass the course or to get a larger tax refund – is this not success? And what about the person who ignores his family commitments and mistreats his workers but gets ahead in business? These apparent successes are only temporary. They are bought at the expense of character. Cheaters grow more and more dishonest, and those who hurt others become callous and cruel. In the long run, evil behavior does not lead to success; it leads only to more evil. Real success maintains personal integrity. If you are not a success by God's standards, you have not achieved true success. (See the chart in chapter 19.)

7 Wicked men are overthrown and are no more,
but the house of the righteous stands firm.

8 A man is praised according to his wisdom,
but men with warped minds are despised.

9 Better to be a nobody and yet have a servant than pretend to be somebody and have no food.

10 A righteous man cares for the needs of his animal,
but the kindest acts of the wicked are cruel.

11 He who works his land will have abundant food, but he who chases fantasies lacks judgment. [e]

12:11 [e] Pr 28:19

12 The wicked desire the plunder of evil men, but the root of the righteous flourishes.

13 An evil man is trapped by his sinful talk,
but a righteous man escapes trouble.

14 From the fruit of his lips a man is filled with good things [f] as surely as the work of his hands rewards him.

12:14 [f] Pr 13:2

15 The way of a fool seems right to him,
but a wise man listens to advice.

16 A fool shows his annoyance at once, but a prudent man overlooks an insult. [g]

12:16 [g] Pr 29:11

17 A truthful witness gives honest testimony, but a false witness tells lies.

18 Reckless words pierce like a sword,
but the tongue of the wise brings healing.

19 Truthful lips endure forever,
but a lying tongue lasts only a moment.

20 There is deceit in the hearts of those who plot evil, but joy for those who promote peace.

21 No harm befalls the righteous,
but the wicked have their fill of trouble.

22 The LORD detests lying lips,
but he delights in men who are truthful.

23 A prudent man keeps his knowledge to himself, [h]
but the heart of fools blurts out folly.

12:23 [h] Pr 10:14

12:13 Sinful talk is twisting the facts to support your claims. Those who do this are likely to be trapped by their own lies. But for someone who always tells the truth, the facts—plain and unvarnished—give an unshakable defense. If you find that you always have to defend yourself to others, maybe your honesty is less than it should be. (See the chart in chapter 20.)

12:16 When someone annoys or insults you, it is natural to retaliate. But this solves nothing and only encourages trouble. Instead, answer slowly and quietly. Your positive response will achieve positive results. Proverbs 15:1 says, "A gentle answer turns away wrath."

12:19 Truth is always timely; it applies today and in the future. Because it is connected with God's changeless character, it is also changeless. Think for a moment about the centuries that have passed since these proverbs were written. Consider the countless hours that have been spent carefully studying every sentence of Scripture. The Bible has withstood the test of time. Because God is truth, you can trust his Word to guide you.

12:21 This is a general, but not universal, truth. Although harm does befall the righteous, they are able to see opportunities in their problems and move ahead. The wicked, without God's wisdom, are ill-equipped to handle their problems. (See the notes on 3:16, 17; 10:3; 11:7, 8 for more about general truths that are not intended as universal statements.)

12:23 Prudent people have a quiet confidence. Insecure or uncertain people feel the need to prove themselves, but prudent people don't have to prove anything. They know they are capable, so they can get on with their work. Beware of showing off. If you are modest, people may not notice you at first, but they will respect you later.

24Diligent hands will rule, but laziness ends in slave labor.

12:25 /Pr 15:13
25An anxious heart weighs a man down,[i] but a kind word cheers him up.

26A righteous man is cautious in friendship,[v]
but the way of the wicked leads them astray.

27The lazy man does not roast[w] his game,
but the diligent man prizes his possessions.

28In the way of righteousness there is life;
along that path is immortality.

13

A wise son heeds his father's instruction, but a mocker does not listen to rebuke.

13:2 /Pr 12:14
2From the fruit of his lips a man enjoys good things,[j]
but the unfaithful have a craving for violence.

3He who guards his lips guards his life, but he who speaks rashly will come to ruin.

4The sluggard craves and gets nothing, but the desires of the diligent are fully satisfied.

5The righteous hate what is false,
but the wicked bring shame and disgrace.

[v] 26 Or man is a guide to his neighbor [w] 27 The meaning of the Hebrew for this word is uncertain.

TEACHING AND LEARNING

Good teaching comes from good learning—and Proverbs has more to say to students than to teachers. Proverbs is concerned with the learning of wisdom. The book makes it clear that there are no good alternatives to learning wisdom. We are either becoming wise learners or refusing to learn and becoming foolish failures. Proverbs encourages us to make the right choice.

Wise Learners	Proverb(s)	Foolish Failures
Quietly accept instruction and criticism	10:8; 23:12; 25:12	Ignore instruction
Love discipline	12:1	Hate correction
Listen to advice	12:15; 21:11; 24:6	Think they need no advice
Accept parents' discipline	13:1	Mock parents
Lead others to life	10:17	Lead others astray
Receive honor	13:18	End in poverty and shame
Profit from constructive rebuke	15:31, 32; 29:1	Self-destruct by refusing rebuke

Advice to Teachers:
Help people avoid traps (13:14).
Use pleasant words (16:21).
Speak at the right time (15:23; 18:20).

12:27 The diligent make wise use of their possessions and resources; the lazy waste them. Waste has become a way of life for many who live in a land of plenty. Waste is poor stewardship. Make good use of everything God has given you, and prize it.

12:28 For many, death is a darkened door at the end of life, a passageway to an unknown and feared destiny. But for God's people, death is a bright pathway to a new and better life. So why do we fear death? Is it because of the pain we expect, the separation from loved ones, its surprise? God can help us deal with those fears. He has shown us that death is not final, but is just another step in the eternal life we received when we followed him.

13:3 You have not mastered self-control if you do not control what you say. Words can cut and destroy. James recognized this truth when he stated, "The tongue is a small part of the body, but it makes great boasts" (James 3:5). If you want to be self-controlled, begin with your tongue. Stop and think before you react or speak. If you can control this small but powerful member, you can control the rest of your body. (See the chart in chapter 26.)

6 Righteousness guards the man of integrity, but wickedness overthrows the sinner.[k]

7 One man pretends to be rich, yet has nothing;
another pretends to be poor, yet has great wealth.[l]

8 A man's riches may ransom his life, but a poor man hears no threat.

9 The light of the righteous shines brightly, but the lamp of the wicked is snuffed out.[m]

10 Pride only breeds quarrels, but wisdom is found in those who take advice.

11 Dishonest money dwindles away, but he who gathers money little by little makes it grow.

12 Hope deferred makes the heart sick,
but a longing fulfilled is a tree of life.

13 He who scorns instruction will pay for it,
but he who respects a command is rewarded.

14 The teaching of the wise is a fountain of life,[n]
turning a man from the snares of death.

15 Good understanding wins favor, but the way of the unfaithful is hard.[x]

16 Every prudent man acts out of knowledge, but a fool exposes his folly.

17 A wicked messenger falls into trouble,
but a trustworthy envoy brings healing.[o]

18 He who ignores discipline comes to poverty and shame, but whoever heeds correction is honored.

19 A longing fulfilled is sweet to the soul,
but fools detest turning from evil.

20 He who walks with the wise grows wise,

13:6 [k] Pr 11:3, 5

13:7 [l] 2Co 6:10

13:9 [m] Job 18:5; Pr 4:18-19

13:14 [n] Pr 10:11

13:17 [o] Pr 25:13

[x] 15 Or unfaithful does not endure

13:6 Living right is like posting a guard for your life. Every choice for good sets into motion other opportunities for good. Evil choices follow the same pattern, but in the opposite direction. Each decision you make to obey God's Word will bring a greater sense of order to your life, while each decision to disobey will bring confusion and destruction. The right choices you make reflect your integrity. Obedience brings the greatest safety and security.

13:10 "I was wrong" or "I need advice" are difficult phrases to utter because they require humility. Pride is an ingredient in every quarrel. It stirs up conflict and divides people. Humility, by contrast, heals. Guard against pride. If you find yourself constantly arguing, examine your life for pride. Be open to the advice of others, ask for help when you need it, and be willing to admit your mistakes.

13:13 God created us, knows us, and loves us. It only makes sense, then, to listen to his instructions and do what he says. The Bible is his unfailing word to us. It is like an owner's manual for a car. If you obey God's instructions, you will "run right" and find his kind of power to live. If you ignore them, you will have breakdowns, accidents, and failures.

13:17 In Solomon's day, a king had to rely on messengers for information about his country. These messengers had to be trustworthy. Inaccurate information could even lead to bloodshed. Reliable communication is still vital. If the message received is different from the message sent, marriages, businesses, and diplomatic relations can all break down. It is important to choose your words well and to avoid reacting until you clearly understand what the other person means.

13:19 Whether a "longing fulfilled" is good or bad depends on the nature of the desire. It is "sweet to the soul" to achieve worthwhile goals, but not all goals are worth pursuing. When you set your heart on something, you may lose your ability to assess it objectively. With your desire blinding your judgment, you may proceed with an unwise relationship, a wasteful purchase, or a poorly conceived plan. Faithfulness is a virtue, but stubbornness is not.

13:20 The old saying "A rotten apple spoils the barrel" is often applied to friendships, and with good reason. Our friends and associates affect us, sometimes profoundly. Be careful whom you choose as your closest friends. Spend time with people you want to be like – because you and your friends will surely grow to resemble each other.

13:20 When most people need advice, they go to their friends first because friends accept them and usually agree with them. But that is why they may not be able to help them with difficult probbut a companion of fools suffers harm.

21 Misfortune pursues the sinner, but prosperity is the reward of the righteous. [p]

13:21 [p] Ps 32:10

22 A good man leaves an inheritance for his children's children, but a sinner's wealth is stored up for the righteous. [q]

13:22 [q] Job 27:17; Ecc 2:26

23 A poor man's field may produce abundant food, but injustice sweeps it away.

24 He who spares the rod hates his son, but he who loves him is careful to discipline him. [r]

13:24 [r] Pr 19:18; 22:15; 29:15, 17

25 The righteous eat to their hearts' content, but the stomach of the wicked goes hungry.

14 The wise woman builds her house, but with her own hands the foolish one tears hers down.

2 He whose walk is upright fears the LORD,
but he whose ways are devious despises him.

3 A fool's talk brings a rod to his back, but the lips of the wise protect them. [s]

14:3 [s] Pr 12:6

4 Where there are no oxen, the manger is empty, but from the strength of an ox comes an abundant harvest.

5 A truthful witness does not deceive, but a false witness pours out lies. [t]

14:5 [t] Pr 12:17

6 The mocker seeks wisdom and finds none, but knowledge comes easily to the discerning.

7 Stay away from a foolish man, for you will not find knowledge on his lips.

8 The wisdom of the prudent is to give thought to their ways, but the folly of fools is deception.

9 Fools mock at making amends for sin, but goodwill is found among the upright.

---

lems. Our friends are so much like us that they may not have any answers we haven't already heard. Instead, we should seek out older and wiser people to advise us. Wise people have experienced a lot of life—and have succeeded. They are not afraid to tell the truth. Who are the wise, godly people who can warn you of the pitfalls ahead?

13:23 The poor are often victims of an unjust society. A poor man's soil may be good, but unjust laws may rob him of his own produce. This proverb does not take poverty lightly or wink at injustice; it simply describes what often occurs. We should do what we can to fight injustice of every sort. Our efforts may seem inadequate; but it is comforting to know that in the end God's justice will prevail.

13:24 It is not easy for a loving parent to discipline a child, but it is necessary. The greatest responsibility that God gives parents is the nurture and guidance of their children. Lack of discipline puts parents' love in question because it shows a lack of concern for the character development of their children. Disciplining children averts long-range disaster. Without correction, children grow up with no clear understanding of right and wrong and with little direction to their lives. Don't be afraid to discipline your children. It is an act of love. Remember, however, that your efforts cannot make your children wise; they can only encourage your children to seek God's wisdom above all else!

14:4 When a farmer has no oxen for plowing, his food trough for the animals will be empty. The only way to keep your life free of people problems is to keep it free of other people. But if your life is empty of people, it is useless; and if you live only for yourself, your life loses its meaning. Instead of avoiding people, we should serve others, share the faith, and work for justice. Is your life clean, but empty? Or does it give evidence of your serving God wholeheartedly?

14:6 We all know mockers, people who scoff at every word of instruction or advice. They never find wisdom because they don't seek it seriously. Wisdom comes easily to those who pay attention to experienced people and to God. If the wisdom you need does not come easily to you, perhaps your attitude is the barrier.

14:9 How rarely we find goodwill around us today. Angry drivers scowl at each other in the streets. People fight to be first in line. Disgruntled employers and employees both demand their rights. But the common bond of God's people should be goodwill. Those with goodwill think the best of others and assume that others have good motives and intend to do what is right. When someone crosses you, and you feel your blood pressure rising, ask yourself, "How can I show goodwill to this person?"

10 Each heart knows its own bitterness, and no one else can share its joy.

11 The house of the wicked will be destroyed,
but the tent of the upright will flourish.

12 There is a way that seems right to a man,
but in the end it leads to death.[u]

13 Even in laughter[v] the heart may ache, and joy may end in grief.

14 The faithless will be fully repaid for their ways,[w] and the good man rewarded for his.[x]

15 A simple man believes anything, but a prudent man gives thought to his steps.

16 A wise man fears the LORD and shuns evil,[y] but a fool is hotheaded and reckless.

17 A quick-tempered man does foolish things, and a crafty man is hated.

18 The simple inherit folly,
but the prudent are crowned with knowledge.

19 Evil men will bow down in the presence of the good,
and the wicked at the gates of the righteous.

20 The poor are shunned even by their neighbors, but the rich have many friends.[z]

21 He who despises his neighbor sins, but blessed is he who is kind to the needy.

22 Do not those who plot evil go astray?
But those who plan what is good find[y] love and faithfulness.

23 All hard work brings a profit,
but mere talk leads only to poverty.

24 The wealth of the wise is their crown,
but the folly of fools yields folly.

25 A truthful witness saves lives,
but a false witness is deceitful.

26 He who fears the LORD has a secure fortress,
and for his children it will be a refuge.

27 The fear of the LORD is a fountain of life,
turning a man from the snares of death.

28 A large population is a king's glory,
but without subjects a prince is ruined.

29 A patient man has great understanding,

14:12 [u] Pr 16:25

14:13 [v] Ecc 2:2

14:14 [w] Pr 1:31 [x] Pr 12:14

14:16 [y] Pr 22:3

14:20 [z] Pr 19:4, 7

y 22 Or show

14:12 The "way that seems right" may offer many options and require few sacrifices. Easy choices, however, should make us take a second look. Is this solution attractive because it allows me to be lazy? Because it doesn't ask me to change my life-style? Because it requires no moral restraints? The right choice often requires hard work and self-sacrifice. Don't be enticed by apparent shortcuts that seem right but end in death.

14:29 A quick temper can be like a fire out of control. It can burn us and everyone else in its path. Anger divides people. It pushes us into hasty decisions that only cause bitterness and guilt. Yet anger, in itself, is not wrong. Anger can be a legitimate reaction to injustice and sin. When you feel yourself getting angry, look for the cause. Are you reacting to an evil situation that you are going to set right? Or are you responding selfishly to a personal insult? Pray but a quick-tempered man displays folly.

30 A heart at peace gives life to the body, but envy rots the bones.

14:31 [a] Pr 17:5

31 He who oppresses the poor shows contempt for their Maker,[a] but whoever is kind to the needy honors God.

32 When calamity comes, the wicked are brought down, but even in death the righteous have a refuge.

14:33 [b] Pr 2:6-10

33 Wisdom reposes in the heart of the discerning[b] and even among fools she lets herself be known.[z]

[z] 33 Hebrew; Septuagint and Syriac / but in the heart of fools she is not known

WISDOM AND FOOLISHNESS
The wise and the foolish are often contrasted in Proverbs. The characteristics, reputation, and results of each are worth knowing if wisdom is our goal.

	The Wise	The Foolish
Characteristics	Help others with good advice	Lack judgment	10:21
	Enjoy wisdom	Enjoy foolishness	10:23
	Cautious with reason	Gullible	14:15
		Avoid the wise	15:12
	Seek knowledge	Feed on foolishness	15:14
	Value wisdom above riches		16:16
	Receive life	Receive punishment	16:22
	Respond to correction	Respond to punishment	17:10
	Pursue wisdom	Pursue illusive dreams	17:24
		Blame failure on God	19:3
	Profit from correction	An example to others	19:25
		Are proud and arrogant	21:24
		Scorn good advice	23:9
		Make truth useless	26:7
		Repeat their folly	26:11
	Trust in wisdom	Trust in themselves	28:26
	Control their anger	Unleash their anger	29:11
Reputation	Admired as counselors	Beaten as servants	10:13
	Rewarded with knowledge	Inherit folly	14:18
		Cause strife and quarrels	22:10
		Receive no honor	26:1
	Keep peace	Stir up anger	29:8
Results	Stay on straight paths	Go the wrong way	15:21
		Lash out when discovered in folly	17:12
		Endangered by their words	18:6, 7
	Their wisdom conquers others' strength		21:22
	Avoid wicked paths	Walk a troublesome path	22:5
	Have great advice		24:5
		Will never be chosen as counselors	24:7
		Must be guided by hardship	26:3
		Persist in foolishness	27:22

that God will help you control your quick temper, channeling your feelings into effective action and conquering selfish anger through humility and repentance.

14:31 God has a special concern for the poor. He insists that people who have material goods should be generous with those who are needy. Providing for the poor is not just a suggestion in the Bible; it is a command that may require a change of attitude (see Leviticus 23:22; Deuteronomy 15:7, 8; Psalms 113:5–9; 146:5–9; Isaiah 58:7; 2 Corinthians 9:9; James 2:1–9).

34 Righteousness exalts a nation, but sin is a disgrace to any people.

35 A king delights in a wise servant,
but a shameful servant incurs his wrath. [c]

14:35 [c] Mt 24:45-51

15 A gentle answer turns away wrath, [d]
but a harsh word stirs up anger.

15:1 [d] Pr 25:15

2 The tongue of the wise commends knowledge, but the mouth of the fool gushes folly.

3 The eyes of the LORD are everywhere, [e] keeping watch on the wicked and the good.

15:3 [e] Heb 4:13

4 The tongue that brings healing is a tree of life, but a deceitful tongue crushes the spirit.

5 A fool spurns his father's discipline,
but whoever heeds correction shows prudence.

6 The house of the righteous contains great treasure,
but the income of the wicked brings them trouble.

7 The lips of the wise spread knowledge;
not so the hearts of fools.

8 The LORD detests the sacrifice of the wicked,
but the prayer of the upright pleases him.

9 The LORD detests the way of the wicked
but he loves those who pursue righteousness.

10 Stern discipline awaits him who leaves the path;
he who hates correction will die.

11 Death and Destruction [a] lie open before the LORD [f]— how much more the hearts of men! [g]

15:11 [f] Job 26:6 [g] 2Ch 6:30

12 A mocker resents correction;
he will not consult the wise.

13 A happy heart makes the face cheerful, but heartache crushes the spirit. [h]

15:13 [h] Pr 12:25; 17:22

14 The discerning heart seeks knowledge, but the mouth of a fool feeds on folly.

15 All the days of the oppressed are wretched,
but the cheerful heart has a continual feast.

[a] 11 Hebrew Sheol and Abaddon

15:1 Have you ever tried to argue in a whisper? It is equally hard to argue with someone who insists on answering gently. On the other hand, a rising voice and harsh words almost always trigger an angry response. To turn away wrath and seek peace, choose gentle words.

15:3 At times it seems that God has let evil run rampant in the world, and we wonder if he even notices it. But God sees everything clearly—both the evil actions and the evil intentions lying behind them (15:11). He is not an indifferent observer. He cares and is active in our world. Right now, his work may be unseen and unfelt, but don't give up. One day he will wipe out evil and punish the evildoers, just as he will establish the good and reward those who do his will.

15:14 What we feed our minds is just as important as what we feed our bodies. The kinds of books we read, the people we talk with, the music we listen to, and the films we watch are all part of our mental diet. Be discerning because what you feed your mind influences your total health and well-being. Thus, a strong desire to discover knowledge is a mark of wisdom.

15:15 Our attitudes color our whole personality. We cannot always choose what happens to us, but we can choose our attitude toward each situation. The secret to a cheerful heart is filling our minds with thoughts that are true, pure, and lovely, with thoughts that dwell on the good things in life (Philippians 4:8). This was Paul's secret as he faced imprisonment, and it can be ours as we face the struggles of daily living. Look at your attitudes and then examine what you allow to enter your mind and what you choose to dwell on. You may need to make some changes.

16 Better a little with the fear of the LORD than great wealth with turmoil.
15:16 /Ps 37:16-17

17 Better a meal of vegetables where there is love than a fattened calf with hatred.
15:17 /Pr 17:1

18 A hot-tempered man stirs up dissension, but a patient man calms a quarrel.

19 The way of the sluggard is blocked with thorns,
but the path of the upright is a highway.

20 A wise son brings joy to his father,
15:20 kPr 10:1
but a foolish man despises his mother.

21 Folly delights a man who lacks judgment,
but a man of understanding keeps a straight course.

22 Plans fail for lack of counsel,
but with many advisers they succeed.

23 A man finds joy in giving an apt reply —
15:23 /Pr 25:11
and how good is a timely word!

24 The path of life leads upward for the wise to keep him from going down to the grave. [b]

15:25 mPr 12:7 25 The LORD tears down the proud man's house but he keeps the widow's boundaries intact.

26 The LORD detests the thoughts of the wicked, but those of the pure are pleasing to him.

27 A greedy man brings trouble to his family,
but he who hates bribes will live.

28 The heart of the righteous weighs its answers,
but the mouth of the wicked gushes evil.

29 The LORD is far from the wicked
15:29 nPs 145:18-19
but he hears the prayer of the righteous.

30 A cheerful look brings joy to the heart, and good news gives health to the bones.

31 He who listens to a life-giving rebuke will be at home among the wise.

32 He who ignores discipline despises himself, but whoever heeds correction gains understanding.

15:33 oPr 1:7 33 The fear of the LORD teaches a man wisdom, [c] and humility comes before honor.

[b] 24 Hebrew Sheol [c] 33 Or Wisdom teaches the fear of the LORD

15:17–19 The "path of the upright" doesn't always seem easy (15:19), but look at the alternatives. Hatred (15:17), dissension (15:18), and laziness (15:19) cause problems that the upright person does not have to face. By comparison, his or her life is a smooth, level road because it is built on a solid foundation of love for God.

15:22 People with tunnel vision, those who are locked into one way of thinking, are likely to miss the right road because they have closed their minds to any new options. We need the help of those who can enlarge our vision and broaden our perspective. Seek out the advice of those who know you and have a wealth of experience. Build a network of advisers. Then be open to new ideas and be willing to weigh their suggestions carefully. Your plans will be stronger and more likely to succeed.

15:28 The righteous weigh their answers; the wicked don't wait to speak because they don't care about the effects of their words. It is important to have something to say, but it is equally important to weigh it first. Do you carefully plan your words, or do you pour out your thoughts without concern for their impact?

16 To man belong the plans of the heart, but from the LORD comes the reply of the tongue.

2 All a man's ways seem innocent to him,
but motives are weighed by the LORD.

3 Commit to the LORD whatever you do,
and your plans will succeed.[p]

4 The LORD works out everything for his own ends—even the wicked for a day of disaster.

5 The LORD detests all the proud of heart.
Be sure of this: They will not go unpunished.[q]

6 Through love and faithfulness sin is atoned for;
through the fear of the LORD a man avoids evil.

7 When a man's ways are pleasing to the LORD,
he makes even his enemies live at peace with him.

8 Better a little with righteousness than much gain with injustice.

9 In his heart a man plans his course,
but the LORD determines his steps.

10 The lips of a king speak as an oracle, and his mouth should not betray justice.

11 Honest scales and balances are from the LORD;
all the weights in the bag are of his making.

12 Kings detest wrongdoing, for a throne is established through righteousness.[r]

13 Kings take pleasure in honest lips;

16:3 [p] Ps 37:5-6

16:5 [q] Pr 11:20-21

16:12 [r] Pr 25:5

16:1 "From the LORD comes the reply of the tongue" means that the final outcome of the plans we make is in God's hands. If this is so, why make plans? In doing God's will, there must be partnership between our efforts and God's control. He wants us to use our minds, to seek the advice of others, and to plan. Nevertheless, the results are up to him. Planning, then, helps us act God's way. As you live for him, ask for guidance as you plan, and then act on your plan as you trust in him.

16:2 "All a man's ways seem innocent to him." People can rationalize anything if they have no standards for judging right and wrong. We can always prove that we are right. Before putting any plan into action, ask yourself these three questions: (1) Is this plan in harmony with God's truth? (2) Will it work under real-life conditions? (3) Is my attitude pleasing to God?

16:3 There are different ways to fail to commit whatever we do to the Lord. Some people commit their work only superficially. They say the project is being done for the Lord, but in reality they are doing it for themselves. Others give God temporary control of their interests, only to take control back the moment things stop going the way they expect. Still others commit a task fully to the Lord, but put forth no effort themselves, and then they wonder why they do not succeed. We must maintain a delicate balance: trusting God as if everything depended on him, while working as if everything depended on us. Think of a specific effort in which you are involved right now. Have you committed it to the Lord?

16:4 This verse doesn't mean that God created some people to be wicked, but rather that God uses even the activities of wicked people to fulfill his good purposes. God is infinite and we are finite. No matter how great our intellects, we will never be able to understand him completely. But we can accept by faith that he is all-powerful, all-loving, and perfectly good. We can believe that he is not the cause of evil (James 1:13, 17); and we can trust that there are no loose ends in his system of judgment. Evil is a temporary condition in the universe. One day God will destroy it. In the meantime, he uses even the evil intentions of people for his good purposes (see Genesis 50:20).

16:5 Pride is the inner voice that whispers, "My way is best." It is resisting God's leadership and believing that you are able to live without his help. Whenever you find yourself wanting to do it your way and looking down on other people, you are being pulled by pride. Only when you eliminate pride can God help you become all he meant you to be. (See the chart in chapter 18.)

16:7 We want other people to like us, and sometimes we will do almost anything to win their approval. But God tells us to put our energy into pleasing him instead. Our effort to be peacemakers will usually make us more attractive to those around us, even our enemies. But even if it doesn't, we haven't lost anything. We are still pleasing God, the only one who truly matters.

16:11 Whether we buy or sell, make a product or offer a service, we know what is honest and what is dishonest. Sometimes we feel pressure to be dishonest in order to advance ourselves or gain more profit. But if we want to obey God, there is no middle ground: God demands honesty in every business transaction. No amount of rationalizing can cover for a dishonest business practice. Honesty and fairness are not always easy, but they are what God demands. Ask him for discernment and courage to be consistently honest and fair.

they value a man who speaks the truth.

14 A king's wrath is a messenger of death, but a wise man will appease it.

16:15
[s] Job 29:24

15 When a king's face brightens, it means life;[s] his favor is like a rain cloud in spring.

16 How much better to get wisdom than gold,
to choose understanding rather than silver!

17 The highway of the upright avoids evil;
he who guards his way guards his life.

18 Pride goes before destruction, a haughty spirit before a fall.[t]

16:18
[t] Pr 11:2

19 Better to be lowly in spirit and among the oppressed than to share plunder with the proud.

20 Whoever gives heed to instruction prospers, and blessed is he who trusts in the LORD.[u]

16:20
[u] Jer 17:7

21 The wise in heart are called discerning, and pleasant words promote instruction.[d]

22 Understanding is a fountain of life to those who have it, but folly brings punishment to fools.

[d] 21 Or words make a man persuasive

HOW GOD IS DESCRIBED IN PROVERBS

Proverbs is a book about wise living. It often focuses on a person's response and attitude toward God, who is the source of wisdom. And a number of proverbs point out aspects of God's character. Knowing God helps us on the way to wisdom.

God . . .	is aware of all that happens	15:3
	knows the heart of all people	15:11; 16:2; 21:2
	controls all things	16:33; 21:30
	is a place of safety	18:10
	rescues good people from danger	11:8, 21
	condemns the wicked	11:31
	delights in our prayers	15:8, 29
	loves those who obey him	15:9; 22:12
	cares for poor and needy	15:25; 22:22, 23
	purifies hearts	17:3
	hates evil	17:5; 21:27; 28:9
Our response should be . . .	to fear and reverence God	10:27; 14:26, 27; 15:16; 16:6; 19:23; 28:14
	to obey God's Word	13:13; 19:16
	to please God	21:3
	to trust in God	22:17–19; 29:25

16:18 Proud people take little account of their weaknesses and do not anticipate stumbling blocks. They think they are above the frailties of common people. In this state of mind they are easily tripped up. Ironically, proud people seldom realize that pride is their problem, although everyone around them is well aware of it. Ask someone you trust whether self-satisfaction has blinded you to warning signs. He or she may help you avoid a fall.

16:22 For centuries people sought a fountain of youth, a spring that promised to give eternal life and vitality. It was never found. But God's wisdom is a fountain of life that can make a person happy, healthy, and alive forever. How? When we live by God's Word, he washes away the deadly effects of sin (see Titus 3:4–8), and the hope of eternal life with him gives us a joyful perspective on our present life. The fountain of youth was only a dream, but the fountain of life is reality. The choice is yours. You can be enlightened by God's wisdom, or you can be dragged down by the weight of your own foolishness.

23 A wise man's heart guides his mouth, and his lips promote instruction.[e]

24 Pleasant words are a honeycomb, sweet to the soul and healing to the bones.

25 There is a way that seems right to a man,
but in the end it leads to death.[v]

16:25
[v] Pr 14:12

26 The laborer's appetite works for him;
his hunger drives him on.

27 A scoundrel plots evil, and his speech is like a scorching fire.[w]

16:27
[w] Jas 3:6

28 A perverse man stirs up dissension, and a gossip separates close friends.[x]

16:28
[x] Pr 17:9

29 A violent man entices his neighbor and leads him down a path that is not good.[y]

16:29
[y] Pr 1:10

30 He who winks with his eye is plotting perversity;
he who purses his lips is bent on evil.

31 Gray hair is a crown of splendor;[z]
it is attained by a righteous life.

16:31
[z] Pr 20:29

32 Better a patient man than a warrior, a man who controls his temper than one who takes a city.

33 The lot is cast into the lap,
but its every decision is from the LORD.

17 Better a dry crust with peace and quiet than a house full of feasting,[f] with strife.[a] 17:1

[a] Pr 15:16, 17

2 A wise servant will rule over a disgraceful son, and will share the inheritance as one of the brothers.

3 The crucible for silver and the furnace for gold,[b]
but the LORD tests the heart.[c]

17:3
[b] Pr 27:21
[c] Ps 26:2

4 A wicked man listens to evil lips;
a liar pays attention to a malicious tongue.

5 He who mocks the poor shows contempt for their Maker;[d]

17:5
[d] Pr 14:31

[e] 23 Or mouth / and makes his lips persuasive [f] 1 Hebrew sacrifices

16:26 "The laborer's appetite works for him" means that no matter how much difficulty or drudgery we may find in our work, our appetite is an incentive to keep going. Hunger makes us work to satisfy that hunger.

16:31 The Hebrews believed that a long life was a sign of God's blessing; therefore, gray hair and old age were good. While young people glory in their strength, old people can rejoice in their years of experience and practical wisdom. Gray hair is not a sign of disgrace to be covered over; it is a crown of splendor. As you deal with older people, treat them with respect.

16:32 Self-control is superior to conquest. Success in business, school, or home life can be ruined by a person who has lost control of his or her temper. So it is a great personal victory to control your temper. When you feel yourself ready to explode, remember that losing control may cause you to forfeit what you want the most.

16:33 The lot was almost always used in ceremonial settings and was the common method for determining God's will. Several important events occurred by lot, including the identification of Achan as the man who had sinned (Joshua 7:14), the division of the promised land among the tribes (Joshua 14:2), and the selection of the first king for the nation (1 Samuel 10:16–26).

17:3 It takes intense heat to purify gold and silver. Similarly, it often takes the heat of trials for the Christian to be purified. Through trials, God shows us what is in us and clears out anything that gets in the way of complete trust in him. Peter says, "These have come so that your faith – of greater worth than gold, which perishes even though refined by fire – may be proved genuine and may result in praise, glory and honor when Jesus Christ is revealed" (1 Peter 1:7). So when tough times come your way, realize that God wants to use them to refine your faith and purify your heart.

17:5 Few acts are as cruel as making fun of the less fortunate, but many people do this because it makes them feel good to be better off or more successful than someone else. Mocking the poor is mocking the God who made them. We also ridicule God when we mock the weak, those who are different, or anyone else. When you catch yourself putting down others just for fun, stop and think about who created them.

whoever gloats over disaster[e] will not go unpunished.

6 Children's children are a crown to the aged,
and parents are the pride of their children.

7 Arrogant[g] lips are unsuited to a fool—
how much worse lying lips to a ruler!

8 A bribe is a charm to the one who gives it;
wherever he turns, he succeeds.

9 He who covers over an offense promotes love,[f]
but whoever repeats the matter separates close friends.[g]

10 A rebuke impresses a man of discernment more than a hundred lashes a fool.

11 An evil man is bent only on rebellion;
a merciless official will be sent against him.

12 Better to meet a bear robbed of her cubs than a fool in his folly.

13 If a man pays back evil for good,
evil will never leave his house.

14 Starting a quarrel is like breaching a dam;
so drop the matter before a dispute breaks out.

15 Acquitting the guilty and condemning the innocent—
the LORD detests them both.[h]

16 Of what use is money in the hand of a fool, since he has no desire to get wisdom?

17 A friend loves at all times, and a brother is born for adversity.

18 A man lacking in judgment strikes hands in pledge and puts up security for his neighbor.[i]

19 He who loves a quarrel loves sin;
he who builds a high gate invites destruction.

20 A man of perverse heart does not prosper;
he whose tongue is deceitful falls into trouble.

21 To have a fool for a son brings grief;
there is no joy for the father of a fool.[j]

22 A cheerful heart is good medicine, but a crushed spirit dries up the bones.

17:5 [e] Job 31:29

17:9 [f] Pr 10:12 [g] Pr 16:28

17:15 [h] Ex 23:6-7; Isa 5:23

17:18 [i] Pr 6:1-5

17:21 [j] Pr 10:1

[g] 7 Or Eloquent

17:8 Solomon is not condoning bribery (see 17:15, 23), but he is making an observation about the way the world operates. Bribes may get people what they want, but the Bible clearly condemns using them (Exodus 23:8; Proverbs 17:23; Matthew 28:11–15).

17:9 This proverb is saying that we should be willing to forgive others' sins against us. Covering over offenses is necessary to any relationship. It is tempting, especially in an argument, to bring up all the mistakes the other person has ever made. Love, however, keeps its mouth shut—difficult though that may be. Try never to bring anything into an argument that is unrelated to the topic being discussed. As we grow to be like Christ, we will acquire God's ability to forget the confessed sins of the past.

17:17 What kind of friend are you? There is a vast difference between knowing someone well and being a true friend. The greatest evidence of genuine friendship is loyalty (loving "at all times") (see 1 Corinthians 13:7)—being available to help in times of distress or personal struggles. Too many people are fair-weather friends. They stick around when the friendship helps them and leave when they're not getting anything out of the relationship. Think of your friends and assess your loyalty to them. Be the kind of true friend the Bible encourages.

17:22 To be cheerful is to be ready to greet others with a welcome, a word of encouragement, an enthusiasm for the task at hand, and a positive outlook on the future. Such people are as welcome as pain-relieving medicine.

23 A wicked man accepts a bribe[k] in secret to pervert the course of justice.

24 A discerning man keeps wisdom in view,
but a fool's eyes wander to the ends of the earth.

25 A foolish son brings grief to his father and bitterness to the one who bore him.[l]

26 It is not good to punish an innocent man, or to flog officials for their integrity.

27 A man of knowledge uses words with restraint, and a man of understanding is even-tempered.

28 Even a fool is thought wise if he keeps silent, and discerning if he holds his tongue.[m]

17:23 [k] Ex 23:8

17:25 [l] Pr 10:1

17:28 [m] Job 13:5

18 An unfriendly man pursues selfish ends;
he defies all sound judgment.

2 A fool finds no pleasure in understanding but delights in airing his own opinions.

3 When wickedness comes, so does contempt, and with shame comes disgrace.

4 The words of a man's mouth are deep waters,
but the fountain of wisdom is a bubbling brook.

5 It is not good to be partial to the wicked or to deprive the innocent of justice.

6 A fool's lips bring him strife,
and his mouth invites a beating.

7 A fool's mouth is his undoing, and his lips are a snare to his soul.[n]

18:7 [n] Pr 10:14

8 The words of a gossip are like choice morsels;
they go down to a man's inmost parts.

9 One who is slack in his work is brother to one who destroys.[o]

18:9 [o] Pr 28:24

10 The name of the LORD is a strong tower;
the righteous run to it and are safe.

11 The wealth of the rich is their fortified city;[p] they imagine it an unscalable wall.

18:11 [p] Pr 10:15

12 Before his downfall a man's heart is proud, but humility comes before honor.

17:24 While there is something to be said for having big dreams, this proverb points out the folly of chasing fantasies (having eyes that wander "to the ends of the earth," see 12:11). How much better to align your goals with God's, being the kind of person he wants you to be! Such goals (wisdom, honesty, patience, love) may not seem exciting, but they will determine your eternal future. Take time to think about your dreams and goals, and make sure they cover the really important areas of life.

17:27, 28 This proverb highlights several benefits of keeping quiet: (1) it is the best policy if you have nothing worthwhile to say; (2) it allows you the opportunity to listen and learn; (3) it gives you something in common with those who are wiser. Make sure to pause to think and to listen so that when you do speak, you will have something important to say.

18:8 It is as hard to refuse to listen to gossip as it is to turn down a delicious dessert. Taking just one morsel of either one creates a taste for more. You can resist rumors the same way a determined dieter resists candy – never even open the box. If you don't nibble on the first bite of gossip, you can't take the second and the third.

18:11 In imagining that their wealth is their strongest defense, rich people are sadly mistaken. Money cannot provide safety – there are too many ways for it to lose its power. The government may cease to back it; thieves may steal it; inflation may rob it of all value. But God never loses his power. He is always dependable. Where do you look for security and safety – uncertain wealth or God who is always faithful?

13 He who answers before listening—that is his folly and his shame.

14 A man's spirit sustains him in sickness,
but a crushed spirit who can bear?

15 The heart of the discerning acquires knowledge;
the ears of the wise seek it out.

16 A gift opens the way for the giver and ushers him into the presence of the great.

17 The first to present his case seems right, till another comes forward and questions him.

18:18 [q] Pr 16:33

18 Casting the lot settles disputes [q] and keeps strong opponents apart.

19 An offended brother is more unyielding than a fortified city, and disputes are like the barred gates of a citadel.

18:20 [r] Pr 12:14

20 From the fruit of his mouth a man's stomach is filled; with the harvest from his lips he is satisfied. [r]

18:21 [s] Mt 12:37

21 The tongue has the power of life and death, and those who love it will eat its fruit. [s]

18:22 [t] Pr 19:14

22 He who finds a wife finds what is good and receives favor from the LORD. [t]

23 A poor man pleads for mercy, but a rich man answers harshly.

24 A man of many companions may come to ruin,
but there is a friend who sticks closer than a brother.

HUMILITY AND PRIDE Proverbs is direct and forceful in rejecting pride. The proud attitude heads the list of seven things God hates (6:16, 17). The harmful results of pride are constantly contrasted with humility and its benefits.

Results of . . .	Humility	Pride
	Leads to wisdom	Leads to disgrace	11:2
	Takes advice	Produces quarrels	13:10
	Leads to honor		15:33
		Leads to punishment	16:5
		Leads to destruction	16:18
	Ends in honor	Ends in downfall	18:12
	Brings one to honor	Brings one low	29:23

18:13, 15, 17 In these concise statements, there are three basic principles for making sound decisions: (1) get the facts before answering; (2) be open to new ideas; (3) make sure you hear both sides of the story before judging. All three principles center around seeking additional information. This is difficult work, but the only alternative is prejudice—judging before getting the facts.

18:22 This verse states that it is good to be married. Today's emphasis on individual freedom is misguided. Strong individuals are important, but so are strong marriages. God created marriage for our enjoyment and he pronounced it good. This is one of many passages in the Bible that show marriage as a joyful and good creation of God (Genesis 2:21–25; Proverbs 5:15–19; John 2:1–11).

18:23 This verse does not condone insulting the poor; it is simply recording an unfortunate fact of life. It is wrong for rich people to treat the less fortunate with contempt and arrogance, and God will judge such actions severely (see 14:31).

18:24 Loneliness is everywhere—many people feel cut off and alienated from others. Being in a crowd just makes people more aware of their isolation. We all need friends who will stick close, listen, care, and offer help when it is needed—in good times and bad. It is better to have one such friend than dozens of superficial acquaintances. Instead of wishing you could find a true friend, seek to become one. There are people who need your friendship. Ask God to reveal them to you, and then take on the challenge of being a true friend.

19 Better a poor man whose walk is blameless than a fool whose lips are perverse.[u]

19:1 [u] Pr 28:6

2 It is not good to have zeal without knowledge, nor to be hasty and miss the way.

3 A man's own folly ruins his life,
yet his heart rages against the LORD.

4 Wealth brings many friends, but a poor man's friend deserts him.[v]

19:4 [v] Pr 14:20

5 A false witness[w] will not go unpunished, and he who pours out lies will not go free.

19:5 [w] Ex 23:1

6 Many curry favor with a ruler,[x] and everyone is the friend of a man who gives gifts.

19:6 [x] Pr 29:26

7 A poor man is shunned by all his relatives — how much more do his friends avoid him!
Though he pursues them with pleading,
they are nowhere to be found.[h]

8 He who gets wisdom loves his own soul;
he who cherishes understanding prospers.[y]

19:8 [y] Pr 16:20

9 A false witness will not go unpunished, and he who pours out lies will perish.[z]

19:9 [z] ver 5

10 It is not fitting for a fool to live in luxury — how much worse for a slave to rule over princes!

11 A man's wisdom gives him patience;
it is to his glory to overlook an offense.

12 A king's rage is like the roar of a lion, but his favor is like dew on the grass.[a]

19:12 [a] Pr 16:14-15

13 A foolish son is his father's ruin, and a quarrelsome wife is like a constant dripping.[b]

19:13 [b] Pr 21:9

14 Houses and wealth are inherited from parents,[c] but a prudent wife is from the LORD.

19:14 [c] 2Co 12:14

15 Laziness brings on deep sleep, and the shiftless man goes hungry.[d]

19:15 [d] Pr 10:4

16 He who obeys instructions guards his life, but he who is contemptuous of his ways will die.

17 He who is kind to the poor lends to the LORD,

[h] 7 The meaning of the Hebrew for this sentence is uncertain.

19:1 A blameless life is far more valuable than wealth, but most people don't act as if they believe this. Afraid of not getting everything they want, they will pay any price to increase their wealth — cheating on their taxes, stealing from stores or employers, withholding tithes, refusing to give. But when we know and love God, we realize that a lower standard of living — or even poverty — is a small price to pay for personal integrity. Do your actions show that you sacrifice your integrity to increase your wealth? What changes do you need to make in order to get your priorities straight?

19:2 We often move hastily through life, rushing headlong into the unknown. Many people marry without knowing what to expect of their partner or of married life. Others try illicit sex or drugs without considering the consequences. Some plunge into jobs without evaluating whether they are suitable to that line of work. Don't rush into the unknown. Be sure you understand what you're getting into and where you want to go before you take the first step. And if it still seems unknown, be sure you are following God.

19:8 Is it good to love yourself? Yes, when your soul is at stake! This proverb does not condone the self-centered person who loves and protects his or her selfish interests and will do anything to serve them. Instead it encourages those who really care about themselves to seek wisdom.

19:16 The instructions we are told to obey are those found in God's Word — both the Ten Commandments (Exodus 20) and other passages of instruction. To obey what God teaches in the Bible is self-preserving. To disobey is self-destructive.

19:17 Here God identifies with the poor as Jesus does in Mat-and he will reward him for what he has done.[e]

18 Discipline your son, for in that there is hope;
do not be a willing party to his death.[f]

19 A hot-tempered man must pay the penalty;
if you rescue him, you will have to do it again.

20 Listen to advice and accept instruction, and in the end you will be wise.

21 Many are the plans in a man's heart, but it is the LORD's purpose that prevails.[g]

22 What a man desires is unfailing love[l]; better to be poor than a liar.

23 The fear of the LORD leads to life:
Then one rests content, untouched by trouble.

24 The sluggard buries his hand in the dish;
he will not even bring it back to his mouth![h]

25 Flog a mocker, and the simple will learn prudence; rebuke a discerning man, and he will gain knowledge.[i]

26 He who robs his father and drives out his mother[j] is a son who brings shame and disgrace.

27 Stop listening to instruction, my son, and you will stray from the words of knowledge.

19:17 [e] Mt 10:42
19:18 [f] Pr 13:24
19:21 [g] Ps 33:11
19:24 [h] Pr 26:15
19:25 [i] Pr 9:9
19:26 [j] Pr 28:24

[l] 22 Or A man's greed is his shame

HOW TO SUCCEED IN GOD'S EYES
Proverbs notes two significant by-products of wise living: success and good reputation. Several verses also point out what causes failure and poor reputation.

Qualities that promote success and a good reputation:
Righteousness	10:7; 12:3; 28:12
Hating what is false	13:5
Committing all work to the Lord	16:3
Using words with restraint; being even-tempered	17:27, 28
Loving wisdom and understanding	19:8
Humility and fear of the Lord	22:4
Willingness to confess and renounce sin	28:13
Qualities that prevent success and cause a bad reputation:
Wickedness	10:7; 12:3; 28:12
Seeking honor	25:27
Hatred	26:24–26
Praising oneself	27:2
Concealing sin	28:13

Other verses dealing with one's reputation are: 11:10, 16; 14:3; 19:10; 22:1; 23:17, 18; 24:13, 14

thew 25:31–46. As our Creator, God values all of us, whether we are poor or rich. When we help the poor, we honor both the Creator and his creation. God accepts our help as if we had offered it directly to him.

19:23 Those who fear the Lord are "untouched by trouble" because of their healthy habits, their beneficial life-style, and sometimes through God's direct intervention. Nevertheless, the fear of the Lord does not always protect us from trouble in this life: evil things still happen to people who love God. This verse is not a universal promise, but a general guideline. It describes what would happen if this world were sinless, and what will happen in the new earth, when faithful believers will be under God's protection forever. (See the note on 3:16, 17 for more about this concept.)

19:24 "Buries his hand in the dish" refers to the custom of eating where a dish would be passed and people would reach in and get food for themselves. This proverb is saying that some people are so lazy that they won't even feed themselves.

19:25 There is a great difference between the person who learns from criticism and the person who refuses to accept correction. How we respond to criticism determines whether or not we grow in wisdom. The next time someone criticizes you, listen carefully to all that is said. You might learn something.

28 A corrupt witness mocks at justice, and the mouth of the wicked gulps down evil.[k]

29 Penalties are prepared for mockers, and beatings for the backs of fools.

20

Wine is a mocker and beer a brawler;
whoever is led astray by them is not wise.

2 A king's wrath is like the roar of a lion;
he who angers him forfeits his life.

3 It is to a man's honor to avoid strife,
but every fool is quick to quarrel.

4 A sluggard does not plow in season;
so at harvest time he looks but finds nothing.

5 The purposes of a man's heart are deep waters,
but a man of understanding draws them out.

6 Many a man claims to have unfailing love, but a faithful man who can find?[m]

7 The righteous man leads a blameless life;
blessed are his children after him.[n]

8 When a king sits on his throne to judge, he winnows out all evil with his eyes.[o]

9 Who can say, "I have kept my heart pure;
I am clean and without sin"?[p]

10 Differing weights and differing measures—the LORD detests them both.[q]

11 Even a child is known by his actions, by whether his conduct is pure and right.

12 Ears that hear and eyes that see—the LORD has made them both.

13 Do not love sleep or you will grow poor;[r] stay awake and you will have food to spare.

14 "It's no good, it's no good!" says the buyer;
then off he goes and boasts about his purchase.

15 Gold there is, and rubies in abundance, but lips that speak knowledge are a rare jewel.

16 Take the garment of one who puts up security for a stranger;
hold it in pledge if he does it for a wayward woman.

17 Food gained by fraud tastes sweet to a man,[s] but he ends up with a mouth full of gravel.

19:28
k Job 15:16

20:2
l Pr 19:12

20:6
m Ps 12:1

20:7
n Ps 37:25-26

20:8
o ver 26

20:9
p 1Ki 8:46

20:10
q ver 23

20:13
r Pr 6:11

20:17
s Pr 9:17

20:3 A person who is truly confident of his or her strength does not need to parade it. A truly brave person does not look for chances to prove it. A resourceful woman can find a way out of a fight. A man of endurance will avoid retaliating. Foolish people find it impossible to avoid strife. Men and women of character can. What kind of person are you?

20:4 You've heard similar warnings: if you don't study, you'll fail the test; if you don't save, you won't have money when you need it. God wants us to anticipate future needs and prepare for them. We can't expect him to come to our rescue when we cause our own problems through lack of planning and action. He provides for us, but he also expects us to be responsible.

20:9 No one is without sin. As soon as we confess our sin and repent, sinful thoughts and actions begin to creep back into our lives. We all need ongoing cleansing, moment by moment. Thank God he provides forgiveness by his mercy when we ask for it. Make confession and repentance a regular part of your talks with God. Rely on him moment by moment for the cleansing you need.

18 Make plans by seeking advice;
if you wage war, obtain guidance.[t]

20:18 [t] Pr 24:6

19 A gossip betrays a confidence;[u] so avoid a man who talks too much.

20:19 [u] Pr 11:13

20 If a man curses his father or mother, his lamp will be snuffed out in pitch darkness.[v]

20:20 [v] Job 18:5

21 An inheritance quickly gained at the beginning will not be blessed at the end.

22 Do not say, "I'll pay you back for this wrong!"
Wait for the LORD, and he will deliver you.[w]

20:22 [w] Ro 12:19

23 The LORD detests differing weights, and dishonest scales do not please him.[x]

20:23 [x] ver 10

24 A man's steps are directed by the LORD.
How then can anyone understand his own way?

HONESTY AND DISHONESTY

Proverbs tells us plainly that God despises all forms of dishonesty. Not only does God hate dishonesty, but we are told that it works against us—others no longer trust us, and we cannot even enjoy our dishonest gains. It is wiser to be honest because "a righteous man escapes trouble" (12:13).

Others' opinion
Leaders value those who speak the truth.	16:13
Most people will appreciate truth in the end more than flattery.	28:23
Quality of life
The righteous person's plans are just.	12:5
Truthful witnesses do not deceive; false witnesses pour out lies.	14:5
Truthful witnesses save lives.	14:25
The children of the righteous are blessed.	20:7
Short-term results
Ill-gotten treasure is of no value.	10:2
The righteous are rescued from trouble.	11:8
The evil are trapped by sinful talk.	12:13
Fraudulent gain is sweet for a while.	20:17
Long-term results
The upright are guided by integrity.	11:3
Truthful lips endure.	12:19
Riches gained quickly don't last.	20:21
Riches gained dishonestly don't last.	21:6
The blameless are kept safe.	28:18
God's opinion
God delights in honesty.	11:1
God delights in those who are truthful.	12:22
God detests unjust measures.	20:10
God is pleased when we do what is right and just.	21:3

20:23 "Differing weights" refers to the loaded scales a merchant might use in order to cheat the customers. Dishonesty is a difficult sin to avoid. It is easy to cheat if we think no one else is looking. But dishonesty affects the very core of a person. It makes him untrustworthy and untrusting. It eventually makes him unable to know himself or relate to others. Don't take dishonesty lightly. Even the smallest portion of dishonesty contains enough of the poison of deceit to kill your spiritual life. If there is any dishonesty in your life, tell God about it now.

20:24 We are often confused by the events around us. Many things we will never understand; others will fall into place in years to come as we look back and see how God was working. This proverb counsels us not to worry if we don't understand everything as it happens. Instead, we should trust that God knows what he's doing, even if his timing or design is not clear to us. See Psalm 37:23 for a reassuring promise of God's direction in your life.

25 It is a trap for a man to dedicate something rashly and only later to consider his vows. [y]

26 A wise king winnows out the wicked;
he drives the threshing wheel over them. [z]

27 The lamp of the LORD searches the spirit of a man[l]; it searches out his inmost being.

28 Love and faithfulness keep a king safe;
through love his throne is made secure.

29 The glory of young men is their strength, gray hair the splendor of the old. [a]

30 Blows and wounds cleanse away evil, and beatings purge the inmost being.

21 The king's heart is in the hand of the LORD;
he directs it like a watercourse wherever he pleases.

2 All a man's ways seem right to him, but the LORD weighs the heart. [b]

3 To do what is right and just is more acceptable to the LORD than sacrifice. [c]

4 Haughty eyes and a proud heart, the lamp of the wicked, are sin!

5 The plans of the diligent lead to profit [d] as surely as haste leads to poverty.

6 A fortune made by a lying tongue is a fleeting vapor and a deadly snare. [k]

7 The violence of the wicked will drag them away, for they refuse to do what is right.

8 The way of the guilty is devious,
but the conduct of the innocent is upright.

9 Better to live on a corner of the roof than share a house with a quarrelsome wife.

20:25
[y] Ecc 5:2, 4-5

20:26
[z] ver 8

20:29
[a] Pr 16:31

21:2
[b] Pr 16:2

21:3
[c] 1Sa 15:22; Isa 1:11; Mic 6:6-8

21:5
[d] Pr 10:4

[l] 27 Or The spirit of man is the LORD*'s lamp* [k] 6 Some Hebrew manuscripts, Septuagint and Vulgate; most Hebrew manuscripts vapor for those who seek death

20:25 To dedicate something meant that you intended to give it as an offering to God. Dedicated means set apart for religious use. This proverb points out the evil of making a vow rashly and then reconsidering it. God takes vows seriously and requires that they be carried out (Deuteronomy 23:21–23). We often have good intentions when making a vow because we want to show God that we are determined to please him. Jesus, however, says it is better not to make promises to God because he knows how difficult they are to keep (Matthew 5:33–37). If you still feel it is important to make a vow, make sure that you weigh the consequences of breaking that vow. (In Judges 11, Jephthah made a rash promise to sacrifice the first thing he saw on his return home. As it happened, he saw his daughter first.) It is better not to make promises than to make them and then later want to change them. It is better still to count the cost beforehand and then to fulfill them. (For a list of other Bible people who made rash vows, see the chart in Judges 11.)

21:1 In Solomon's day, kings possessed absolute authority and were often considered to be like gods. This proverb shows that God, not earthly rulers, has ultimate authority over world politics. Although they may not have realized it, the earth's most powerful kings have always been under God's control. (See Isaiah 10:5–8 for an example of a king who was used for God's purposes.)

21:2 People can find an excuse for doing almost anything, but God looks behind the excuses to the motives of the heart. We often have to make choices in areas where the right action is difficult to discern. We can help ourselves make such decisions by trying to identify our motives first and then asking, "Would God be pleased with my real reasons for doing this?" God is not pleased when we do good deeds only to receive something in return.

21:3 Sacrifices and offerings are not bribes to make God overlook our character faults. If our personal and business dealings are not characterized by justice, no amount of generosity when the offering plate is passed will make up for it.

21:5 Faithful completion of mundane tasks is a great accomplishment. Such work is patiently carried out according to a plan. Diligence does not come naturally to most people; it is a result of strong character. Don't look for quick and easy answers. Be a diligent servant of God.

10 The wicked man craves evil;
his neighbor gets no mercy from him.

11 When a mocker is punished, the simple gain wisdom;
when a wise man is instructed, he gets knowledge.[e]

21:11 [e] Pr 19:25

12 The Righteous One[l] takes note of the house of the wicked and brings the wicked to ruin.[f]

21:12 [f] Pr 14:11

13 If a man shuts his ears to the cry of the poor,
he too will cry out and not be answered.

14 A gift given in secret soothes anger, and a bribe concealed in the cloak pacifies great wrath.

15 When justice is done, it brings joy to the righteous but terror to evildoers.

16 A man who strays from the path of understanding comes to rest in the company of the dead.

17 He who loves pleasure will become poor;
whoever loves wine and oil will never be rich.

18 The wicked become a ransom[g] for the righteous, and the unfaithful for the upright.

21:18 [g] Pr 11:8

19 Better to live in a desert than with a quarrelsome and ill-tempered wife.

20 In the house of the wise are stores of choice food and oil, but a foolish man devours all he has.

21 He who pursues righteousness and love finds life, prosperity[m] and honor.[h]

21:21 [h] Mt 5:6

22 A wise man attacks the city of the mighty and pulls down the stronghold in which they trust.

23 He who guards his mouth and his tongue keeps himself from calamity.[i]

21:23 [i] Pr 12:13

24 The proud and arrogant man — "Mocker" is his name;
he behaves with overweening pride.

25 The sluggard's craving will be the death of him,[j] because his hands refuse to work.

21:25 [j] Pr 13:4

26 All day long he craves for more,
but the righteous give without sparing.

27 The sacrifice of the wicked is detestable — how much more so when brought with evil intent!

[l] 12 Or The righteous man [m] 21 Or righteousness

21:11, 12 It is usually better to learn from the mistakes of others than from our own. We can do this by listening to their advice. Take counsel from others instead of plunging ahead and learning the hard way.

21:13 We should work to meet the needs of the poor and protect their rights — we may be in need of such services ourselves someday.

21:20 This proverb is about saving for the future. Easy credit has many people living on the edge of bankruptcy. The desire to keep up and to accumulate more pushes them to spend every penny they earn, and they stretch their credit to the limit. But anyone who spends all he has is spending more than he can afford. A wise person puts money aside for when he or she may have less. God approves of foresight and restraint. God's people need to examine their life-styles to see whether their spending is God-pleasing or merely self-pleasing.

21:27 The kind of worship ("sacrifice") described in this proverb is no better than a bribe. How do people try to bribe God? They may go to church, tithe, or volunteer, not because of their love and devotion to God, but because they hope God will bless them in return. But God has made it very clear that he desires obedience and love more than religious ritual (see 21:3; 1 Samuel 15:22). God does not want our sacrifices of time, energy, and money alone; he wants our hearts — our complete love and devotion. We may be able to bribe people (21:14), but we cannot bribe God.

28 A false witness will perish, and whoever listens to him will be destroyed forever.[n]

29 A wicked man puts up a bold front, but an upright man gives thought to his ways.

30 There is no wisdom, no insight, no plan that can succeed against the LORD.[k]

31 The horse is made ready for the day of battle, but victory rests with the LORD.[l]

22 A good name is more desirable than great riches;
to be esteemed is better than silver or gold.[m]

21:30 [k] Isa 8:10

21:31 [l] Ps 33:12-19

22:1 [m] Ecc 7:1

[n] 28 Or I but the words of an obedient man will live on

RIGHTEOUSNESS

Proverbs often compares the life-styles of the wicked and the righteous, and makes a strong case for living by God's pattern. The advantages of righteous living and the disadvantages of wicked living are pointed out. The kind of person we decide to be will affect every area of our lives.

	Righteous	Wicked	References
Outlook on life	Hopeful	Fearful	10:24
	Concerned about the welfare of God's creation	Even their kindness is cruel	12:10
	Understand justice	Don't understand justice	28:5
Response to life	Covered with blessings	Covered with violence	10:6
		Bent on evil	16:30
	Give thought to their ways	Put up a bold front	21:29
	Persevere against evil	Brought down by calamity	24:15, 16
		Hate those with integrity	29:10
How they are seen by others	Are appreciated	Do not endure Lead others into sin	13:15 16:29
	Conduct is upright	Conduct is devious	21:8
	Are not to desire the company of godless people	Plot violence	24:1, 2
	Others are glad when they triumph	Others hide when they rise to power	28:12
	Care for the poor	Unconcerned about the poor	29:7
	Detest the dishonest	Detest the upright	29:27
Quality of life	Stand firm	Swept away	10:25
	Delivered by righteousness	Trapped by evil desires	11:6

21:31 This proverb refers to preparing for battle. All our preparation for any task is useless without God. But even with God's help we still must do our part and prepare. His control of the outcome does not negate our responsibilities. God may want you to produce a great book, but you must learn to write. God may want to use you in foreign missions, but you must learn the language. God will accomplish his purposes, and he will be able to use you if you have done your part by being well prepared.

22:4 This is a general observation that would have been especially applicable to an obedient Israelite living in Solomon's God-fearing kingdom. Nevertheless, some have been martyrs at a young age, and some have given away all their wealth for the sake of God's kingdom. The book of Proverbs describes life the way it should be. It does not dwell on the exceptions. (For more on this concept, see the note on 3:16, 17.)

22:6 "In the way he should go" is literally, "according to his [the child's] way." It is natural to want to bring up all our children alike

2 Rich and poor have this in common:
The LORD is the Maker of them all.

3 A prudent man sees danger and takes refuge, but the simple keep going and suffer for it. [n]

4 Humility and the fear of the LORD bring wealth and honor and life.

5 In the paths of the wicked lie thorns and snares, [o]
but he who guards his soul stays far from them.

6 Train [o] a child in the way he should go, [p]
and when he is old he will not turn from it.

22:3 [n] Pr 27:12

22:5 [o] Pr 15:19

22:6 [p] Eph 6:4

[o] 6 Or Start

AND WICKEDNESS

	Righteous	Wicked	References
Quality of life (cont.)	No real harm befalls them	Constant trouble befalls them	12:21
	Income results in treasure	Income results in trouble	15:6
	Avoid evil		16:17
		Fall into constant trouble	17:20
	Are bold as lions	Are fearful constantly	28:1
	Will be safe	Will suddenly fall	28:18
Short-term results	Walk securely	Will be found out	10:9
	Rewarded with prosperity	Pursued by misfortune	13:21
Long-term results	God protects them	God destroys them	10:29
		Will be punished for rebellion	17:11
Eternal expectations	Never uprooted	Will not remain	10:30
	Earn a sure reward	Earn deceptive wages	11:18
	Attain life	Go to death	11:19
	End only in good	End only in wrath	11:23
	Will stand firm	Will be overthrown	12:7
	Have a refuge when they die	Will be brought down by calamity	14:32
God's opinion of them	Delights in the good	Detests the perverse	11:20
	Evil people will bow to them	They will bow to the righteous	14:19 or train them the same way. This verse implies that parents should discern the individuality and special strengths that God has given each one. While we should not condone or excuse self-will, each child has natural inclinations that parents can develop. By talking to teachers, other parents, and grandparents, we can better discern and develop the individual capabilities of each child.

22:6 Many parents want to make all the choices for their child, but this hurts him or her in the long run. When parents teach a child how to make decisions, they don't have to watch every step he or she takes. They know their children will remain on the right path because they have made the choice themselves. Train your children to choose the right way.

22:7 Does this mean we should never borrow? No, but it warns us never to take on a loan without carefully examining our ability to repay it. A loan we can handle is enabling; a loan we can't handle is enslaving. The borrower must realize that until the loan is repaid, he or she is a servant to the individual or institution that made it.

7 The rich rule over the poor, and the borrower is servant to the lender.

8 He who sows wickedness reaps trouble, and the rod of his fury will be destroyed.

9 A generous man will himself be blessed,
for he shares his food with the poor.

10 Drive out the mocker, and out goes strife;
quarrels and insults are ended.

11 He who loves a pure heart and whose speech is gracious will have the king for his friend. [q]

22:11
[q] Mt 5:8

12 The eyes of the LORD keep watch over knowledge, but he frustrates the words of the unfaithful.

13 The sluggard says, "There is a lion outside!" [r] or, "I will be murdered in the streets!"

22:13
[r] Pr 26:13

14 The mouth of an adulteress is a deep pit; [s] he who is under the LORD's wrath will fall into it. [t]

22:14
[s] Pr 5:3-5
[t] Ecc 7:26

15 Folly is bound up in the heart of a child.
but the rod of discipline will drive it far from him. [u]

22:15
[u] Pr 13:24

16 He who oppresses the poor to increase his wealth and he who gives gifts to the rich — both come to poverty.

Sayings of the Wise

17 Pay attention and listen to the sayings of the wise;
apply your heart to what I teach, 18 for it is pleasing when you keep them in your heart and have all of them ready on your lips.
19 So that your trust may be in the LORD,
I teach you today, even you.
20 Have I not written thirty [p] sayings for you, sayings of counsel and knowledge, 21 teaching you true and reliable words, so that you can give sound answers to him who sent you?

22 Do not exploit the poor because they are poor and do not crush the needy in court, 23 for the LORD will take up their case and will plunder those who plunder them.

24 Do not make friends with a hot-tempered man,

[p] 20 Or not formerly written; or not written excellent

22:12 "Knowledge" refers to those who have knowledge, those who live right and speak the truth. It takes discipline, determination, and hard work to live God's way, but God protects and rewards those who make the commitment to follow him.

22:13 This proverb refers to an excuse a lazy person might use to avoid going to work. The excuse sounds silly to us, but that's often how our excuses sound to others. Don't rationalize laziness. Take your responsibilities seriously and get to work.

22:15 Young children often do foolish and dangerous things simply because they don't understand the consequences. Wisdom and common sense are not transferred by just being a good example. The wisdom a child learns must be taught consciously. "The rod of discipline" stands for all forms of discipline or training. Just as God trains and corrects us to make us better, so parents must discipline their children to make them learn the difference between right and wrong. To see how God corrects us, read 3:11, 12.

22:22, 23 This proverb is a message of hope to people who must live and work under unjust authoritarian leaders. It is also a warning to those who enjoy ruling with an iron hand. Sometimes God intervenes and directly destroys tyrants. More often, he uses other rulers to overthrow them or their own oppressed people to rebel against them. If you are in a position of authority at church, work, or home, remember what happens to tyrants. Leadership through kindness is more effective and longer lasting than leadership by force.

22:24, 25 People tend to become like those with whom they spend a lot of time. Even the negative characteristics sometimes rub off. The Bible exhorts us to be cautious in our choice of com-do not associate with one easily angered, 25or you may learn his ways and get yourself ensnared.[v]

22:25
[v] 1Co 15:33

26Do not be a man who strikes hands in pledge or puts up security for debts; 27if you lack the means to pay,
your very bed will be snatched from under you.

22:28
[w] Dt 19:14

28Do not move an ancient boundary stone[w] set up by your forefathers.

29Do you see a man skilled in his work?
He will serve before kings;
he will not serve before obscure men.

23

When you sit to dine with a ruler,
note well what[q] is before you, 2and put a knife to your throat
if you are given to gluttony.
3Do not crave his delicacies,
for that food is deceptive.

4Do not wear yourself out to get rich;
have the wisdom to show restraint.
5Cast but a glance at riches, and they are gone, for they will surely sprout wings and fly off to the sky like an eagle.[x]

23:5
[x] Pr 27:24

6Do not eat the food of a stingy man,
do not crave his delicacies;
7for he is the kind of man who is always thinking about the cost.[r]
"Eat and drink," he says to you,
but his heart is not with you.
8You will vomit up the little you have eaten and will have wasted your compliments.

9Do not speak to a fool,
for he will scorn the wisdom of your words.[y]

23:9
[y] Pr 9:7

10Do not move an ancient boundary stone or encroach on the fields of the fatherless, 11for their Defender is strong;
he will take up their case against you.[z]

23:11
[z] Pr 22:22-23

[q] 1 Or who [r] 7 Or for as he thinks within himself, / so he is; or for as he puts on a feast, / so he is

---

panions. Choose people with characteristics you would like to develop in your own life.

22:26 This verse is saying that it is wise to be slow to countersign a note or to be liable for another person's debt.

22:28 In Joshua 13–21, the land was divided and the boundaries marked out for each tribe. Moses had already warned the people that when they reached the promised land they shouldn't cheat their neighbors by moving one of the landmarks to give themselves more land and their neighbors less (Deuteronomy 19:14; 27:17). "Gerrymandering"—changing political boundaries so that one group of voters benefits and another loses—is a modern form of moving boundary markers.

23:1–3 The point of this proverb is to be careful when eating with an important or influential person because he or she may try to bribe you. No good will come from the meal.

23:4, 5 We have all heard of people who have won millions of dollars and then lost it all. Even the average person can spend an inheritance—or a paycheck—with lightning speed and have little to show for it. Don't spend your time chasing fleeting earthly treasures. Instead store up treasures in heaven, for such treasures will never be lost. (See Luke 12:33, 34 for Jesus' teaching.)

23:6–8 In graphic language, the writer warns us not to envy the life-styles of those who have become rich by being stingy and miserly, and not to gain their favor by fawning over them. Their "friendship" is phony—they will just use you for their own gain.

23:10, 11 The term Defender or redeemer refers to someone who bought back a family member who had fallen into slavery or who accepted the obligation to marry the widow of a family member (Ruth 4:3–10). God is also called a Redeemer (Exodus 6:6; Job 19:25). (For an explanation of ancient boundary stones, see the note on 22:28.)

12 Apply your heart to instruction and your ears to words of knowledge.

13 Do not withhold discipline from a child;
if you punish him with the rod, he will not die.
14 Punish him with the rod and save his soul from death.[s]

15 My son, if your heart is wise, then my heart will be glad;
16 my inmost being will rejoice
when your lips speak what is right.

17 Do not let your heart envy[a] sinners,
but always be zealous for the fear of the LORD.
18 There is surely a future hope for you,
and your hope will not be cut off.

19 Listen, my son, and be wise,
and keep your heart on the right path.
20 Do not join those who drink too much wine[b] or gorge themselves on meat, 21 for drunkards and gluttons become poor,[c]
and drowsiness clothes them in rags.

22 Listen to your father, who gave you life,
and do not despise your mother when she is old.
23 Buy the truth and do not sell it;
get wisdom, discipline and understanding.[d] 24 The father of a righteous man has great joy;
he who has a wise son delights in him.[e] 25 May your father and mother be glad;
may she who gave you birth rejoice!

26 My son, give me your heart and let your eyes keep to my ways, 27 for a prostitute is a deep pit[f]
and a wayward wife is a narrow well.
28 Like a bandit she lies in wait,[g]
and multiplies the unfaithful among men.

29 Who has woe? Who has sorrow?
Who has strife? Who has complaints?
Who has needless bruises? Who has bloodshot eyes?
30 Those who linger over wine,[h]

23:17 [a] Ps 37:1

23:20 [b] Isa 5:11, 22

23:21 [c] Pr 21:17

23:23 [d] Pr 4:7

23:24 [e] ver 15-16

23:27 [f] Pr 22:14

23:28 [g] Pr 7:11-12

23:30 [h] Isa 5:11

[s] 14 Hebrew Sheol

23:12 The people most likely to gain knowledge are those who are willing to listen. It is a sign of strength, not weakness, to pay attention to what others have to say. People who are eager to listen continue to learn and grow throughout their lives. If we refuse to become set in our ways, we can always expand the limits of our knowledge.

23:13, 14 The stern tone of discipline here is offset by the affection expressed in verse 15. However, many parents are reluctant to discipline their children at all. Some fear they will forfeit their relationship, that their children will resent them, or that they will stifle their children's development. But correction won't kill children, and it may prevent them from foolish moves that will.

23:17, 18 How easy it is to envy those who get ahead unhampered by Christian responsibility or God's laws. For a time they do seem to get ahead without paying any attention to what God wants. But to those who follow him, God promises a hope and a wonderful future even if we don't realize it in this life.

23:29, 30 The soothing comfort of alcohol is only temporary. Real relief comes from dealing with the cause of the anguish and sorrow and turning to God for peace. Don't lose yourself in alcohol; find yourself in God.

23:29–35 Israel was a wine-producing country. In the Old Testament, winepresses bursting with new wine were considered a sign of blessing (3:10). Wisdom is even said to have set her table with wine (9:2, 5). But the Old Testament writers were alert to the dangers of wine. It dulls the senses; it limits clear judgment (31:1–9); it lowers the capacity for control (4:17); it destroys a person's efficiency (21:17). To make wine an end in itself, a means of self-indulgence, or as an escape from life is to misuse it and invite the consequences of the drunkard.

who go to sample bowls of mixed wine.
31 Do not gaze at wine when it is red,
when it sparkles in the cup,
when it goes down smoothly!
32 In the end it bites like a snake and poisons like a viper.
33 Your eyes will see strange sights and your mind imagine confusing things.
34 You will be like one sleeping on the high seas, lying on top of the rigging.
35 "They hit me," you will say, "but I'm not hurt!
They beat me, but I don't feel it!
When will I wake up
so I can find another drink?"

24:1 [f] Pr 3:31-32; 23:17-18

24

Do not envy[f] wicked men,
do not desire their company;
2 for their hearts plot violence, and their lips talk about making trouble.

3 By wisdom a house is built,
and through understanding it is established;
4 through knowledge its rooms are filled with rare and beautiful treasures.

5 A wise man has great power,
and a man of knowledge increases strength;
6 for waging war you need guidance, and for victory many advisers.

7 Wisdom is too high for a fool;
in the assembly at the gate he has nothing to say.

8 He who plots evil
will be known as a schemer.
9 The schemes of folly are sin,
and men detest a mocker.

10 If you falter in times of trouble,
how small is your strength!

11 Rescue those being led away to death;
hold back those staggering toward slaughter.[i]
24:11 [i] Ps 82:4
12 If you say, "But we knew nothing about this," does not he who weighs the heart perceive it?
Does not he who guards your life know it?

24:5 The athlete who thinks – who assesses the situation and plans strategies – has an advantage over a physically stronger but unthinking opponent. And wisdom, not muscle, is certainly why God has put people in charge of the animal kingdom. We exercise regularly and eat well to build our strength, but do we take equal pains to develop wisdom? Because wisdom is a vital part of strength, it pays to attain it.

24:6 In any major decision we make concerning college, marriage, career, children, etc., it is not a sign of weakness to ask for advice. Instead, it is foolish not to ask for it. Find good advisers before making any big decision. They can help you expand your alternatives and evaluate your choices.

24:8 Plotting to do evil can be as wrong as doing it because what you think determines what you will do. Left unchecked, wrong desires will lead us to sin. God wants pure lives, free from sin, and planning evil spoils the purity even if the evil action has not yet been committed. Should you say, "Then I might as well go ahead and do it because I've already planned it"? No. You have sinned in your attitude, but you have not yet damaged other people. Stop in your tracks and ask God to forgive you and put you on a different path.

24:10 Times of trouble can be useful. They can show you who you really are, what kind of character you have developed. In addition, they can help you grow stronger. When Jeremiah questioned God because of the trouble he faced, God asked how he ever expected to face big challenges if the little ones tired him out (Jeremiah 12:5). Don't complain about your problems. The trouble you face today is training you to be strong for the more difficult situations you will face in the future.

Will he not repay each person according to what he has done?[k]

24:12 [k]Ro 2:6*

13Eat honey, my son, for it is good;
honey from the comb is sweet to your taste.
14Know also that wisdom is sweet to your soul;
if you find it, there is a future hope for you,
and your hope will not be cut off.

15Do not lie in wait like an outlaw against a righteous man's house, do not raid his dwelling place;
16for though a righteous man falls seven times, he rises again, but the wicked are brought down by calamity.

17Do not gloat[l] when your enemy falls;
when he stumbles, do not let your heart rejoice, 18or the LORD will see and disapprove and turn his wrath away from him.

24:17 [l]Ob 1:12

19Do not fret[m] because of evil men or be envious of the wicked, 20for the evil man has no future hope,
and the lamp of the wicked will be snuffed out.

24:19 [m]Ps 37:1

21Fear the LORD and the king,[n] my son,
and do not join with the rebellious, 22for those two will send sudden destruction upon them,
and who knows what calamities they can bring?

24:21 [n]Ro 13:1-5

Further Sayings of the Wise

23These also are sayings of the wise:

To show partiality[o] in judging is not good:
24Whoever says to the guilty, "You are innocent" — peoples will curse him and nations denounce him.
25But it will go well with those who convict the guilty, and rich blessing will come upon them.

24:23 [o]Lev 19:15

26An honest answer is like a kiss on the lips.

27Finish your outdoor work and get your fields ready;
after that, build your house.

28Do not testify against your neighbor without cause, or use your lips to deceive.
29Do not say, "I'll do to him as he has done to me;
I'll pay that man back for what he did."[p]

24:29 [p]Pr 20:22; Mt 5:38-41

30I went past the field of the sluggard,[q]

24:30 [q]Pr 6:6-11

24:17, 18 David, Solomon's father, refused to gloat over the death of his lifelong enemy Saul (see 2 Samuel 1). On the other hand, the nation of Edom rejoiced over Israel's defeat and was punished by God for their attitude (Obadiah 12). To gloat over others' misfortune is to make yourself the avenger and to put yourself in the place of God, who alone is the real judge of all the earth (see Deuteronomy 32:35).

24:26 A kiss on the lips was a sign of true friendship. People often think that they should bend the truth to avoid hurting a friend. But one who gives an honest answer is a true friend.

24:27 We should carry out our work in its proper order. If a farmer builds his house in the spring, he will miss the planting season and go a year without food. If a businessman invests his money in a house while his business is struggling to grow, he may lose both. It is possible to work hard and still lose everything if the timing is wrong or the resources to carry it out are not in place.

24:29 Here is a reverse version of the Golden Rule (see Luke 6:31). Revenge is the way the world operates, but it is not God's way.

past the vineyard of the man who lacks judgment; 31 thorns had come up everywhere,
the ground was covered with weeds,
and the stone wall was in ruins.
32 I applied my heart to what I observed and learned a lesson from what I saw:
33 A little sleep, a little slumber,
24:33 a little folding of the hands to rest[r]—
[r]Pr 6:10
34 and poverty will come on you like a bandit
and scarcity like an armed man.[t]

C. WISDOM FOR THE LEADERS (25:1 — 31:31)

These proverbs were collected by Hezekiah's aides. The first section was written by Solomon, and the next two sections were written by others. While we all can learn from these proverbs, many were originally directed toward the king or those who dealt with the king. These are particularly helpful for those who are leaders or aspire to become leaders. The book ends with a description of a truly good wife, who is an example of godly wisdom.

More Proverbs of Solomon

25:1 [s]1Ki 4:32 [t]Pr 1:1

25 These are more proverbs[s] of Solomon, copied by the men of Hezekiah king of Judah:[t]

2 It is the glory of God to conceal a matter;
to search out a matter is the glory of kings.

3 As the heavens are high and the earth is deep,
so the hearts of kings are unsearchable.

4 Remove the dross from the silver, and out comes material for[u] the silversmith;
25:5 [u]Pr 20:8 [v]Pr 16:12
5 remove the wicked from the king's presence,[u]
and his throne will be established through righteousness.[v]

6 Do not exalt yourself in the king's presence, and do not claim a place among great men;
25:7 [w]Lk 14:7-10
7 it is better for him to say to you, "Come up here,"[w] than for him to humiliate you before a nobleman.

What you have seen with your eyes
8 do not bring[v] hastily to court, for what will you do in the end
25:8 [x]Mt 5:25-26 if your neighbor puts you to shame?[x]

9 If you argue your case with a neighbor, do not betray another man's confidence, 10 or he who hears it may shame you and you will never lose your bad reputation.

11 A word aptly spoken
25:11 [y]Pr 15:23 is like apples of gold in settings of silver.[y]

[t] 34 Or like a vagrant / and scarcity like a beggar [u] 4 Or comes a vessel from [v] 7,8 Or nobleman / on whom you had set your eyes. / [8]Do not go

25:1 Hezekiah's story is told in 2 Kings 18 — 20; 2 Chronicles 29 — 32; and Isaiah 36 — 39. He was one of the few kings of Judah who honored the Lord. By contrast, his father Ahaz actually nailed the temple door shut. Hezekiah restored the temple, destroyed idol worship centers, and earned the respect of surrounding nations, many of whom brought gifts to God because of him. It is not surprising that Hezekiah had these proverbs copied and read, for "in everything that he undertook in the service of God's temple and in obedience to the law and the commands, he sought his God and worked wholeheartedly. And so he prospered" (2 Chronicles 31:21).

25:6, 7 Jesus made this proverb into a parable (see Luke 14:7–11). We should not seek honor for ourselves. It is better to quietly and faithfully accomplish the work God has given us to do. As others notice the quality of our lives, then they will draw attention to us.

12 Like an earring of gold or an ornament of fine gold is a wise man's rebuke to a listening ear.[z]

13 Like the coolness of snow at harvest time is a trustworthy messenger to those who send him;
he refreshes the spirit of his masters.[a]

14 Like clouds and wind without rain is a man who boasts of gifts he does not give.

15 Through patience a ruler can be persuaded,[b] and a gentle tongue can break a bone.[c]

16 If you find honey, eat just enough—too much of it, and you will vomit.[d] 17 Seldom set foot in your neighbor's house—too much of you, and he will hate you.

18 Like a club or a sword or a sharp arrow is the man who gives false testimony against his neighbor.[e]

19 Like a bad tooth or a lame foot is reliance on the unfaithful in times of trouble.

20 Like one who takes away a garment on a cold day, or like vinegar poured on soda,
is one who sings songs to a heavy heart.

21 If your enemy is hungry, give him food to eat;
if he is thirsty, give him water to drink.
22 In doing this, you will heap burning coals on his head, and the LORD will reward you.[f]

23 As a north wind brings rain, so a sly tongue brings angry looks.

24 Better to live on a corner of the roof
than share a house with a quarrelsome wife.[g]

25 Like cold water to a weary soul is good news from a distant land.[h]

26 Like a muddied spring or a polluted well is a righteous man who gives way to the wicked.

27 It is not good to eat too much honey,[i] nor is it honorable to seek one's own honor.[j]

28 Like a city whose walls are broken down

25:12 [z] Pr 13:18

25:13 [a] Pr 13:17

25:15 [b] Ecc 10:4 [c] Pr 15:1

25:16 [d] ver 27

25:18 [e] Pr 12:18

25:22 [f] Ro 12:20*

25:24 [g] Pr 21:9

25:25 [h] Pr 15:30

25:27 [i] ver 16 [j] Pr 27:2

25:13 It is often difficult to find people you can really trust. A faithful employee ("messenger") is punctual, responsible, honest, and hardworking. This person is invaluable as he or she helps take some of the pressure off his or her employer. Find out what your employer needs from you to make his or her job easier, and do it.

25:14 Most churches, missions organizations, and Christian groups depend on the gifts of people to keep their ministries going. But many who promise to give fail to follow through. The Bible is very clear about the effect this has on those involved in the ministry. If you make a pledge, keep your promise.

25:18 Lying ("false testimony") is vicious. Its effects can be as permanent as those of a stab wound. The next time you are tempted to pass on a bit of gossip, imagine yourself stabbing the victim of your remarks with a sword. This image may shock you into silence.

25:21, 22 God's form of retaliation is most effective and yet difficult to do. Paul quotes this proverb in Romans 12:19–21. In Matthew 5:44, Jesus encourages us to pray for those who hurt us. By returning good for evil, we are acknowledging God as the balancer of all accounts and trusting him to be the judge.

25:26 To "give way to the wicked" means setting aside your standards of right and wrong. No one is helped by someone who compromises with the wicked.

25:27 Dwelling on the honors you deserve can only be harmful. It can make you bitter, discouraged, or angry, and it will not bring you the rewards that you think should be yours. Pining for what you should have received may make you miss the satisfaction of knowing you did your best.

25:28 Even though city walls restricted the inhabitants' movements, people were happy to have them. Without walls, they would have been vulnerable to attack by any passing group of marauders. Self-control limits us, to be sure, but it is necessary. An out-of-

is a man who lacks self-control.

26

Like snow in summer or rain[k] in harvest, honor is not fitting for a fool.

2 Like a fluttering sparrow or a darting swallow, an undeserved curse does not come to rest.[l]

3 A whip for the horse, a halter for the donkey,[m] and a rod for the backs of fools!

4 Do not answer a fool according to his folly, or you will be like him yourself.

5 Answer a fool according to his folly, or he will be wise in his own eyes.

6 Like cutting off one's feet or drinking violence is the sending of a message by the hand of a fool.

7 Like a lame man's legs that hang limp is a proverb in the mouth of a fool.

8 Like tying a stone in a sling is the giving of honor to a fool.

26:1 [k] 1Sa 12:17

26:2 [l] Dt 23:5

26:3 [m] Ps 32:9

THE FOUR TONGUES

What we say probably affects more people than any other action we take. It is not surprising, then, to find that Proverbs gives special attention to words and how they are used. Four common speech patterns are described in Proverbs. The first two should be copied, while the last two should be avoided.

The Controlled Tongue	Those with this speech pattern think before speaking, know when silence is best, and give wise advice.	10:19; 11:12, 13; 12:16; 13:3; 15:1, 4, 28; 16:23; 17:14, 27, 28; 21:23; 24:26
The Caring Tongue	Those with this speech pattern speak truthfully while seeking to encourage.	10:32; 12:18, 25; 15:23; 16:24; 25:15; 27:9
The Conniving Tongue	Those with this speech pattern are filled with wrong motives, gossip, slander, and a desire to twist truth.	6:12–14; 8:13; 16:28; 18:8; 25:18; 26:20–28
The Careless Tongue	Those with this speech pattern are filled with lies, curses, quick-tempered words—which can lead to rebellion and destruction.	10:18, 32; 11:9; 12:16, 18; 15:4; 17:9, 14, 19; 20:19; 25:23

Other verses about our speech include: 10:11, 20, 31; 12:6, 17–19; 13:2; 14:3; 19:5, 28; 25:11; 27:2, 5, 14, 17; 29:9

control life is open to all sorts of enemy attack. Think of self-control as a wall for defense and protection.

26:2 "An undeserved curse does not come to rest" means that it has no effect.

26:4, 5 These two verses seem to be in contradiction. But the writer is saying that we shouldn't take a foolish person seriously and try to reason with his or her empty arguments. This will only make him or her proud and determined to win the argument. In some situations, you ought not to even try to answer a fool, for there is no way you can penetrate his or her closed mind. You may, in fact, be stooping to that person's level if you do choose to answer. Such a fool will abuse you and you will be tempted to abuse him or her in return. There are other situations where your common sense tells you to answer in order to expose the fool's pride and folly.

26:7 In the mouth of a fool, a proverb becomes as useless as a paralyzed leg. Some people are so blind that they won't get much wisdom from reading these proverbs. Only those who want to be wise have the receptive attitude needed to make the most of them. If we want to learn from God, he will respond and pour out his heart to us (1:23).

26:8 Sometimes when someone in a group causes discord or dissension, the leader tries to make him loyal and productive by giving him a place of privilege or responsibility. This usually doesn't work. In fact, it is like tying the stone to the sling – it won't go anywhere and will swing back and hurt you. The dissenter's new power may be just what he needs to manipulate the group.

9 Like a thornbush in a drunkard's hand
is a proverb in the mouth of a fool.

10 Like an archer who wounds at random is he who hires a fool or any passer-by.

11 As a dog returns to its vomit,[n] so a fool repeats his folly.

12 Do you see a man wise in his own eyes?[o]
There is more hope for a fool than for him.[p]

13 The sluggard says, "There is a lion in the road, a fierce lion roaming the streets!"[q]

14 As a door turns on its hinges, so a sluggard turns on his bed.

15 The sluggard buries his hand in the dish;
he is too lazy to bring it back to his mouth.[r]

16 The sluggard is wiser in his own eyes than seven men who answer discreetly.

17 Like one who seizes a dog by the ears is a passer-by who meddles in a quarrel not his own.

18 Like a madman shooting firebrands or deadly arrows 19 is a man who deceives his neighbor and says, "I was only joking!"

20 Without wood a fire goes out;
without gossip a quarrel dies down.[s]

21 As charcoal to embers and as wood to fire, so is a quarrelsome man for kindling strife.[t]

22 The words of a gossip are like choice morsels;
they go down to a man's inmost parts.[u]

23 Like a coating of glaze[w] over earthenware are fervent lips with an evil heart.

24 A malicious man disguises himself with his lips,
but in his heart he harbors deceit.
25 Though his speech is charming,[v] do not believe him, for seven abominations fill his heart.[w]

26:11 [n] 2Pe 2:22*

26:12 [o] Pr 3:7 [p] Pr 29:20

26:13 [q] Pr 22:13

26:15 [r] Pr 19:24

26:20 [s] Pr 22:10

26:21 [t] Pr 14:17

26:22 [u] Pr 18:8

26:25 [v] Ps 28:3 [w] Jer 9:4-8

[w] 23 With a different word division of the Hebrew; Masoretic Text of silver dross

26:9 Normally the first prick of a thorn alerts us, so we remove the thorn before it damages us. A drunk person, however, may not feel the thorn, and so it will work its way into his flesh. Similarly, a fool may not feel the sting of a proverb because he does not see where it touches his life. Instead of taking its point to heart, a fool will apply it to his church, his employer, his spouse, or whomever he is rebelling against. The next time you find yourself saying, "So-and-so should really pay attention to that," stop and ask yourself, "Is there a message in it for me?"

26:13–16 If a person is not willing to work, he or she can find endless excuses to avoid it. But laziness is more dangerous than a prowling lion. The less you do, the less you want to do, and the more useless you become. To overcome laziness, take a few small steps toward change. Set a concrete, realistic goal. Figure out the steps needed to reach it, and follow those steps. Pray for strength and persistence. To keep your excuses from making you useless, stop making useless excuses.

26:17 Seizing the ears of a stray dog is a good way to get bitten, and interfering in arguments is a good way to get hurt. Many times both arguers will turn on the person who interferes. It is best simply to keep out of arguments that are none of your business. If you must become involved, try to wait until the arguers have stopped fighting and cooled off a bit. Then maybe you can help them mend their differences and their relationship.

26:20 Talking about every little irritation or piece of gossip only keeps the fires of anger going. Refusing to discuss them cuts the fuel line and makes the fires die out. Does someone continually irritate you? Decide not to complain about the person, and see if your irritation dies from lack of fuel.

26:24–26 This proverb means that people with hate in their hearts may sound pleasant enough; don't believe what they say.

26 His malice may be concealed by deception, but his wickedness will be exposed in the assembly.

26:27
[x] Ps 7:15
[y] Pr 28:10

27 If a man digs a pit,[x] he will fall into it;
if a man rolls a stone, it will roll back on him.[y]

26:28
[z] Pr 29:5

28 A lying tongue hates those it hurts, and a flattering mouth[z] works ruin.

27

27:1
[a] Jas 4:13-16

Do not boast about tomorrow, for you do not know what a day may bring forth.[a] 27:2

[b] Pr 25:27

2 Let another praise you, and not your own mouth;
someone else, and not your own lips.[b]

3 Stone is heavy and sand a burden, but provocation by a fool is heavier than both.

4 Anger is cruel and fury overwhelming, but who can stand before jealousy?

5 Better is open rebuke than hidden love.

6 Wounds from a friend can be trusted,
but an enemy multiplies kisses.

7 He who is full loathes honey,
but to the hungry even what is bitter tastes sweet.

8 Like a bird that strays from its nest is a man who strays from his home.

9 Perfume and incense bring joy to the heart, and the pleasantness of one's friend springs from his earnest counsel.

10 Do not forsake your friend and the friend of your father, and do not go to your brother's house when disaster[c] strikes
you — better a neighbor nearby than a brother far away.

27:10
[c] Pr 17:17

27:11
[d] Pr 10:1; 23:15-16

11 Be wise, my son, and bring joy to my heart;[d]
then I can answer anyone who treats me with contempt.

12 The prudent see danger and take refuge,
but the simple keep going and suffer for it.

13 Take the garment of one who puts up security for a stranger;
hold it in pledge if he does it for a wayward woman.[e]

27:13
[e] Pr 20:16

14 If a man loudly blesses his neighbor early in the morning, it will be taken as a curse.

15 A quarrelsome wife is like a constant dripping on a rainy day;

27:6 Who would prefer a friend's wounds to an enemy's kisses? Anyone who considers the source. A friend who has your best interests at heart may have to give you unpleasant advice at times, but you know it is for your own good. An enemy, by contrast, may whisper sweet words and happily send you on your way to ruin. We tend to hear what we want to hear, even if an enemy is the only one who will say it. A friend's advice, no matter how painful, is much better.

27:15, 16 Quarrelsome nagging, a steady stream of unwanted advice, is a form of torture. People nag because they think they're not getting through, but nagging hinders communication more than it helps. When tempted to engage in this destructive habit, stop and examine your motives. Are you more concerned about yourself – getting your way, being right – than about the person you are pretending to help? If you are truly concerned about other people, think of a more effective way to get through to them. Surprise them with words of patience and love, and see what happens.

16 restraining her is like restraining the wind or grasping oil with the hand.

17 As iron sharpens iron,
so one man sharpens another.

18 He who tends a fig tree will eat its fruit,[f] and he who looks after his master will be honored.[g]

19 As water reflects a face, so a man's heart reflects the man.

20 Death and Destruction[x] are never satisfied,[h] and neither are the eyes of man.[i]

21 The crucible for silver and the furnace for gold,[j] but man is tested by the praise he receives.

22 Though you grind a fool in a mortar, grinding him like grain with a pestle,
you will not remove his folly from him.

23 Be sure you know the condition of your flocks, give careful attention to your herds;
24 for riches do not endure forever,
and a crown is not secure for all generations.
25 When the hay is removed and new growth appears and the grass from the hills is gathered in, 26 the lambs will provide you with clothing, and the goats with the price of a field.
27 You will have plenty of goats' milk to feed you and your family and to nourish your servant girls.

28 The wicked man flees though no one pursues,[k]
but the righteous are as bold as a lion.

2 When a country is rebellious, it has many rulers,
but a man of understanding and knowledge maintains order.

3 A ruler[y] who oppresses the poor is like a driving rain that leaves no crops.

4 Those who forsake the law praise the wicked,

27:18 [f] 1Co 9:7 [g] Lk 19:12-27

27:20 [h] Hab 2:5 [i] Ecc 1:8

27:21 [j] Pr 17:3

28:1 [k] Lev 26:17

[x] 20 Hebrew Sheol and Abaddon [y] 3 Or A poor man

27:17 There is a mental sharpness that comes from being around good people. And a meeting of minds can help people see their ideas with new clarity, refine them, and shape them into brilliant insights. This requires discussion partners who can challenge each other and stimulate thought – people who focus on the idea without involving their egos in the discussion; people who know how to attack the thought and not the thinker. Two friends who bring their ideas together can help each other become sharper.

27:18 With all the problems and concerns a leader has, it can be easy to overlook the very people who most deserve attention – faithful employees or volunteers (those who tend the fig trees). The people who stand behind you, who work hard and help you get the job done, deserve to share in your success. Be sure that in all your worrying, planning, and organizing, you don't forget the people who are helping you the most.

27:21 Praise tests a person, just as high temperatures test metal. How does praise affect you? Do you work to get it? Do you work harder after you've gotten it? Your attitude toward praise tells a lot about your character. People of high integrity are not swayed by praise. They are attuned to their inner convictions, and they do what they should whether or not they are praised for it.

27:23–27 Because life is short and our fortunes uncertain, we should be all the more diligent in what we do with our lives. We should act with foresight, giving responsible attention to our homes, our families, and our careers. We should be responsible stewards, like a farmer with his lands and herds. Thinking ahead is a duty, not an option, for God's people.

28:2 For a government or a society to endure, it needs wise, informed leaders – and these are hard to find. "It has many rulers" may mean that anarchy is prevailing. Each person's selfishness quickly affects others. A selfish employee who steals from his company ruins its productivity. A selfish driver who drinks before taking the wheel makes the state highways unsafe. A selfish spouse who has an adulterous affair often breaks up several families. When enough people live for themselves with little concern for how their actions affect others, the resulting moral rot contaminates the entire nation. Are you part of the problem . . . or the solution?

but those who keep the law resist them.

5Evil men do not understand justice, but those who seek the LORD understand it fully.

6Better a poor man whose walk is blameless than a rich man whose ways are perverse.[l]

7He who keeps the law is a discerning son, but a companion of gluttons disgraces his father.[m]

8He who increases his wealth by exorbitant interest amasses it for another, who will be kind to the poor.

9If anyone turns a deaf ear to the law, even his prayers are detestable.[n]

10He who leads the upright along an evil path will fall into his own trap,[o]
but the blameless will receive a good inheritance.

28:6 [l]Pr 19:1

28:7 [m]Pr 23:19-21

28:9 [n]Ps 109:7; Pr 15:8

28:10 [o]Pr 26:27

DILIGENCE AND LAZINESS Proverbs makes it clear that diligence—being willing to work hard and do one's best at any job given to him or her—is a vital part of wise living. We work hard not to become rich, famous, or admired (although those may be by-products), but to serve God with our very best during our lives.

The Diligent	The Lazy	References
Become rich	Are soon poor	10:4
Gather crops early	Sleep during harvest	10:5
	Are an annoyance	10:26
Have abundant food	Chase fantasies	12:11
Hard work returns rewards		12:14
Will rule	Will become slaves	12:24
Prize their possessions	Waste good resources	12:27
Are fully satisfied	Want much but get little	13:4
Bring profit	Experience poverty	14:23
Have an easy path	Have trouble all through life	15:19
	Are like those who destroy	18:9
	Go hungry	19:15
	Won't feed themselves	19:24
	Won't plow in season	20:4
Stay awake and have food to spare	Love sleep and grow poor	20:13
Make careful plans	Make hasty speculations	21:5
	Love pleasure and become poor	21:17
Give without sparing	Desire things but refuse to work for them	21:25, 26
	Are full of excuses for not working	22:13
Will serve before kings		22:29
	Sleep too much, which leads to poverty	24:30–34
Reap abundance through hard work	Experience poverty because of laziness	28:19

28:5 Because justice is part of God's character, a person who follows God treats others justly. The beginning of justice is concern for what is happening to others. A Christian cannot be indifferent to human suffering because God isn't. And we certainly must not contribute to human suffering through selfish business practices or unfair government policies. Be sure you are more concerned for justice than for the bottom line.

28:9 God does not listen to our prayers if we intend to go back to our sin as soon as we get off our knees. If we want to forsake our sin and follow him, however, he willingly listens – no matter how bad our sin has been. What closes his ears is not the depth of our sin, but our secret intention to do it again.

11 A rich man may be wise in his own eyes, but a poor man who has discernment sees through him.

12 When the righteous triumph, there is great elation;
but when the wicked rise to power, men go into hiding.[p]

13 He who conceals his sins does not prosper, but whoever confesses and renounces them finds mercy.[q]

14 Blessed is the man who always fears the LORD,
but he who hardens his heart falls into trouble.

15 Like a roaring lion or a charging bear is a wicked man ruling over a helpless people.

16 A tyrannical ruler lacks judgment, but he who hates ill-gotten gain will enjoy a long life.

17 A man tormented by the guilt of murder will be a fugitive till death;
let no one support him.

18 He whose walk is blameless is kept safe, but he whose ways are perverse will suddenly fall.[r]

19 He who works his land will have abundant food, but the one who chases fantasies will have his fill of poverty.[s]

20 A faithful man will be richly blessed, but one eager to get rich will not go unpunished.[t]

21 To show partiality is not good[u]— yet a man will do wrong for a piece of bread.[v]

22 A stingy man is eager to get rich and is unaware that poverty awaits him.

23 He who rebukes a man will in the end gain more favor than he who has a flattering tongue.[w]

24 He who robs his father or mother and says, "It's not wrong"— he is partner to him who destroys.[x]

25 A greedy man stirs up dissension, but he who trusts in the LORD[y] will prosper.

26 He who trusts in himself is a fool,

28:12 [p] Pr 29:2

28:13 [q] Ps 32:1-5

28:18 [r] Pr 10:9

28:19 [s] Pr 12:11

28:20 [t] ver 22

28:21 [u] Pr 18:5 [v] Eze 13:19

28:23 [w] Pr 27:5-6

28:24 [x] Pr 18:9

28:25 [y] Pr 29:25

28:11 Rich people often think they are wonderful; depending on no one, they take credit for all they do. But that's a hollow self-esteem. Through dependence on God in their struggles, the poor may develop a richness of spirit that no amount of wealth can provide. The rich man can lose all his material wealth, while no one can take away the poor man's character. Don't be jealous of the rich; money may be all they will ever have.

28:13 It is human nature to hide our sins or overlook our mistakes. But it is hard to learn from a mistake you don't acknowledge making. And what good is a mistake if it doesn't teach you something? To learn from an error you need to admit it, confess it, analyze it, and make adjustments so that it doesn't happen again. Everybody makes mistakes, but only fools repeat them.

28:13 Something in each of us strongly resists admitting we are wrong. That is why we admire people who openly and graciously admit their mistakes and sins. These people have a strong self-image. They do not always have to be right to feel good about themselves. Be willing to reconsider—to admit you are wrong and to change your plans when necessary. And remember, the first step toward forgiveness is confession.

28:14 To fear the Lord means to revere and honor him.

28:17, 18 A sinner's conscience will drive him either into guilt resulting in repentance or to death itself because of a refusal to repent. It is no act of kindness to try to make him feel better; the more guilt he feels, the more likely he is to turn to God and repent. If we interfere with the natural consequences of his act, we may make it easier for him to continue in sin.

28:26 For many people, the rugged individualist is a hero. We admire the bold, self-directed men and women who know what they want and fight for it. They are self-reliant, neither giving nor asking advice. What a contrast to God's way. A person can't know the future and can't predict the consequences of his or her choices with certainty. And so the totally self-reliant person is doomed to failure. The wise person depends on God.

but he who walks in wisdom is kept safe.

27He who gives to the poor will lack nothing, but he who closes his eyes to them receives many curses.

28When the wicked rise to power, people go into hiding;
but when the wicked perish, the righteous thrive.

29

A man who remains stiff-necked after many rebukes will suddenly be destroyed—without remedy.[z]

29:1
[z] 2Ch 36:16; Pr 6:15

2When the righteous thrive, the people rejoice;
when the wicked rule, the people groan.

29:3
[a] Pr 10:1
[b] Pr 5:8-10; Lk 15:11-32

3A man who loves wisdom brings joy to his father,[a] but a companion of prostitutes squanders his wealth.[b]

4By justice a king gives a country stability, but one who is greedy for bribes tears it down.

5Whoever flatters his neighbor is spreading a net for his feet.

6An evil man is snared by his own sin, but a righteous one can sing and be glad.

7The righteous care about justice for the poor, but the wicked have no such concern.

8Mockers stir up a city, but wise men turn away anger.[c]

29:8
[c] Pr 11:11

9If a wise man goes to court with a fool,
the fool rages and scoffs, and there is no peace.

29:10
[d] 1Jn 3:12

10Bloodthirsty men hate a man of integrity and seek to kill the upright.[d]

LEADERSHIP
Since many of the proverbs came from King Solomon, it is natural to expect some of his interest to be directed toward leadership.

Qualities of good leadership	References
Diligence	12:24
Trustworthy messengers	13:17
Don't penalize people for integrity	17:26
Listen before answering	18:13
Able to discern	18:15
Listen to both sides of the story	18:17
Able to stand up under adversity	24:10
Able to stand up under praise	27:21
What happens without good leadership
Honoring the wrong people backfires	26:8
A wicked ruler is dangerous	28:15
People despair	29:2
A wicked ruler has wicked officials	29:12

Other verses to study: 24:27; 25:13; 27:18

28:27 God wants us to identify with the needy, not ignore them. The second part of this proverb could be restated positively: "those who open their eyes to poor people will be blessed." If we help others when they are in trouble, they will do whatever they can to return the favor (see 11:24, 25). Paul promises that God will supply all our needs (Philippians 4:19); he usually does this through other people. What can you do today to help God supply someone's need?

29:1 Making the same mistake over and over is an invitation to disaster. Eventually people have to face the consequences of refusing to learn. If their mistake is refusing God's invitations or rejecting his commands, the consequences will be especially serious. In the end, God may have to turn them away. Make sure you are not stiff-necked.

11 A fool gives full vent to his anger, but a wise man keeps himself under control. [e]

12 If a ruler listens to lies,
all his officials become wicked.

13 The poor man and the oppressor have this in common:
The LORD gives sight to the eyes of both.

14 If a king judges the poor with fairness, his throne will always be secure. [f]

15 The rod of correction imparts wisdom, but a child left to himself disgraces his mother. [g]

16 When the wicked thrive, so does sin, but the righteous will see their downfall. [h]

17 Discipline your son, and he will give you peace;
he will bring delight to your soul.

18 Where there is no revelation, the people cast off restraint;
but blessed is he who keeps the law. [i]

19 A servant cannot be corrected by mere words;
though he understands, he will not respond.

20 Do you see a man who speaks in haste?
There is more hope for a fool than for him. [j]

21 If a man pampers his servant from youth, he will bring grief [z] in the end.

22 An angry man stirs up dissension, and a hot-tempered one commits many sins.

23 A man's pride brings him low,
but a man of lowly spirit gains honor. [k]

24 The accomplice of a thief is his own enemy;
he is put under oath and dare not testify. [l]

25 Fear of man will prove to be a snare, but whoever trusts in the LORD is kept safe.

26 Many seek an audience with a ruler,
but it is from the LORD that man gets justice.

27 The righteous detest the dishonest;
the wicked detest the upright.

29:11 [e] Pr 12:16

29:14 [f] Ps 72:1-5

29:15 [g] Pr 13:24

29:16 [h] Ps 91:8

29:18 [i] Ps 1:1-2; 119:1-2

29:20 [j] Pr 26:12

29:23 [k] Pr 11:2

29:24 [l] Lev 5:1

[z] 21 The meaning of the Hebrew for this word is uncertain.

29:13 "The LORD gives sight to the eyes of both" means that everyone depends on God for sight. Both the oppressor and the poor have the gift of sight from the same God. God sees and judges both, and his judgment falls on those whose greed or power drives them to oppress the poor.

29:15 Parents of young children often weary of disciplining them. They feel like all they do is nag, scold, and punish. When you're tempted to give up and let your children do what they want, or when you wonder if you've ruined every chance for a loving relationship with them, remember—kind, firm correction helps them learn, and learning makes them wise. Consistent, loving discipline will ultimately teach them to discipline themselves.

29:16 When the wicked are in leadership, sin prevails. In any organization—whether a church, a business, a family, or a government—the climate comes from the top. The people become like their leaders. What kind of climate are you setting for the people you lead?

29:18 "Revelation" refers to words from God received by prophets. Where there is ignorance of God, crime and sin run wild. Public morality depends on the knowledge of God, but it also depends on keeping God's laws. In order for both nations and individuals to function well, people must know God's ways and keep his rules.

29:24 This proverb is saying that a thief's accomplice won't tell the truth when under oath. Thus, by his perjury, he will hurt himself.

29:25 Fear of people can hamper everything you try to do. In extreme forms, it can make you afraid to leave your home. By contrast, fear of God—respect, reverence, and trust—is liberating. Why fear people who can do no eternal harm? Instead, fear God who can turn the harm intended by others into good for those who trust him.

Sayings of Agur

30 The sayings of Agur son of Jakeh — an oracle[a]:

This man declared to Ithiel, to Ithiel and to Ucal:[b]

2"I am the most ignorant of men;
I do not have a man's understanding.
3I have not learned wisdom,
nor have I knowledge of the Holy One.
4Who has gone up[m] to heaven and come down?
Who has gathered up the wind in the hollow of his hands?
Who has wrapped up the waters in his cloak?
Who has established all the ends of the earth?
What is his name, and the name of his son?
Tell me if you know!

5"Every word of God is flawless;[n]
he is a shield to those who take refuge in him.
6Do not add[o] to his words, or he will rebuke you and prove you a liar.

7"Two things I ask of you, O LORD;
do not refuse me before I die:
8Keep falsehood and lies far from me;
give me neither poverty nor riches,
but give me only my daily bread.[p] 9Otherwise, I may have too much and disown you and say, 'Who is the LORD?'[q]
Or I may become poor and steal, and so dishonor the name of my God.

10"Do not slander a servant to his master, or he will curse you, and you will pay for it.

11"There are those who curse their fathers and do not bless their mothers;[r] 12those who are pure in their own eyes and yet are not cleansed of their filth; 13those whose eyes are ever so haughty, whose glances are so disdainful; 14those whose teeth[s] are swords and whose jaws are set with knives to devour the poor[t] from the earth, the needy from among mankind.

30:4 [m] Jn 3:13
30:5 [n] Ps 12:6; 18:30
30:6 [o] Dt 4:2
30:8 [p] Mt 6:11
30:9 [q] Dt 8:10-14; Hos 13:6
30:11 [r] Pr 20:20
30:14 [s] Job 4:11 [t] Am 8:4

[a] 1 Or Jakeh of Massa [b] 1 Masoretic Text; with a different word division of the Hebrew declared, "I am weary, O God; / I am weary, O God, and faint.

30:1 The origin of these sayings is not clear. Nothing is known about Agur except that he was a wise teacher who may have come from Lemuel's kingdom (see the note on 31:1).

30:2–4 Because God is infinite, certain aspects of his nature will always remain a mystery. Compare these questions with the questions God asked Job (Job 38 – 41).

30:4 Some scholars feel that the son referred to is the Son of God, the preincarnate being of the Messiah who, before the foundation of the earth, participated in the creation. Colossians 1:16, 17 teaches that through Christ the world was created.

30:7–9 Having too much money can be dangerous, but so can having too little. Being poor can, in fact, be hazardous to spiritual as well as physical health. On the other hand, being rich is not the answer. As Jesus pointed out, rich people have trouble getting into God's kingdom (Matthew 19:23, 24). Like Paul, we can learn how to live whether we have little or plenty (Philippians 4:12), but our lives are more likely to be effective if we have "neither poverty nor riches."

30:13 This phrase refers to prideful and haughty people who look down on others. Verses 11–14 contain a fourfold description of arrogance.

15"The leech has two daughters.
'Give! Give!' they cry.

"There are three things that are never satisfied, four that never say, 'Enough!':
16the grave,[c] [u] the barren womb, land, which is never satisfied with water,
and fire, which never says, 'Enough!'

17"The eye that mocks a father, that scorns obedience to a mother,
will be pecked out by the ravens of the valley,
will be eaten by the vultures.

18"There are three things that are too amazing for me, four that I do not understand:
19the way of an eagle in the sky,
the way of a snake on a rock,
the way of a ship on the high seas,
and the way of a man with a maiden.

20"This is the way of an adulteress:
She eats and wipes her mouth and says, 'I've done nothing wrong.' [v]

21"Under three things the earth trembles, under four it cannot bear up:
22a servant who becomes king, [w]
a fool who is full of food, 23an unloved woman who is married, and a maidservant who displaces her mistress.

24"Four things on earth are small,
yet they are extremely wise:
25Ants are creatures of little strength, yet they store up their food in the summer; [x] 26coneys[d] [y] are creatures of little power, yet they make their home in the crags; 27locusts have no king,
yet they advance together in ranks;
28a lizard can be caught with the hand,
yet it is found in kings' palaces.

29"There are three things that are stately in their stride, four that move with stately bearing:
30a lion, mighty among beasts,
who retreats before nothing; 31a strutting rooster, a he-goat, and a king with his army around him.[e]

32"If you have played the fool and exalted yourself, or if you have planned evil,
clap your hand over your mouth! [z] 33For as churning the milk produces butter, and as twisting the nose produces blood, so stirring up anger produces strife."

30:16 [u] Hab 2:5

30:20 [v] Pr 5:6

30:22 [w] Pr 19:10

30:25 [x] Pr 6:6-8

30:26 [y] Ps 104:18

30:32 [z] Job 29:9

[c] 16 Hebrew Sheol [d] 26 That is, the hyrax or rock badger [e] 31 Or king secure against revolt

30:15ff "Three things . . . four" is a poetic way of saying the list is not complete. The writer of these proverbs is observing the world with delighted interest. Verses 15–30 are an invitation to look at nature from the perspective of a keen observer.

Sayings of King Lemuel

31 The sayings of King Lemuel — an oracle[f] his mother taught him:

2 "O my son, O son of my womb,
O son of my vows,[g]
3 do not spend your strength on women, your vigor on those who ruin kings.[a]

4 "It is not for kings, O Lemuel — not for kings to drink wine,[b] not for rulers to crave beer, 5 lest they drink and forget what the law decrees, and deprive all the oppressed of their rights.
6 Give beer to those who are perishing, wine to those who are in anguish;
7 let them drink and forget their poverty and remember their misery no more.

8 "Speak up for those who cannot speak for themselves, for the rights of all who are destitute.
9 Speak up and judge fairly;
defend the rights of the poor and needy."

Epilogue: The Wife of Noble Character

10[h] A wife of noble character[c] who can find?[d]
She is worth far more than rubies.
11 Her husband has full confidence in her and lacks nothing of value.
12 She brings him good, not harm,
all the days of her life.
13 She selects wool and flax and works with eager hands.
14 She is like the merchant ships, bringing her food from afar.
15 She gets up while it is still dark;
she provides food for her family and portions for her servant girls.
16 She considers a field and buys it;
out of her earnings she plants a vineyard.
17 She sets about her work vigorously;
her arms are strong for her tasks.

31:3
[a] Dt 17:17; 1Ki 11:3; Pr 5:1-14

31:4
[b] Pr 20:1; Ecc 10:16-17; Isa 5:22

31:10
[c] Ru 3:11; Pr 18:22
[d] Pr 8:35

[f] 1 Or of Lemuel king of Massa, which [g] 2 Or / the answer to my prayers [h] 10 Verses 10-31 are an acrostic, each verse beginning with a successive letter of the Hebrew alphabet.

30:24–28 Ants can teach us about preparation; coneys (badgers) about wise building; locusts about cooperation and order; and lizards about fearlessness.

31:1 Little is known about Lemuel except that he was a king who received wise teachings from his mother. His name means "devoted to God." Some believe that Lemuel and Agur were both from the kingdom of Massa in northern Arabia.

31:4–7 Drunkenness might be understandable among dying people in great pain, but it is inexcusable for national leaders. Alcohol clouds the mind and can lead to injustice and poor decisions. Leaders have better things to do than anesthetize themselves with alcohol.

31:10–31 Proverbs has a lot to say about women. How fitting that the book ends with a picture of a woman of strong character, great wisdom, many skills, and great compassion.

Some people have the mistaken idea that the ideal woman in the Bible is retiring, servile, and entirely domestic. Not so! This woman is an excellent wife and mother. She is also a manufacturer, importer, manager, realtor, farmer, seamstress, upholsterer, and merchant. Her strength and dignity do not come from her amazing achievements, however. They are a result of her reverence for God. In our society where physical appearance counts for so much, it may surprise us to realize that her appearance is never mentioned. Her attractiveness comes entirely from her character.

The woman described in this chapter has outstanding abilities. Her family's social position is high. In fact, she may not be one woman at all – she may be a composite portrait of ideal womanhood. Do not see her as a model to imitate in every detail; your days are not long enough to do everything she does! See her instead as an inspiration to be all you can be. We can't be just like her, but we can learn from her industry, integrity, and resourcefulness.

18 She sees that her trading is profitable, and her lamp does not go out at night.
19 In her hand she holds the distaff and grasps the spindle with her fingers.
20 She opens her arms to the poor and extends her hands to the needy.[e] 21 When it snows, she has no fear for her household;
for all of them are clothed in scarlet.
22 She makes coverings for her bed;
she is clothed in fine linen and purple.
23 Her husband is respected at the city gate, where he takes his seat among the elders of the land.
24 She makes linen garments and sells them,
and supplies the merchants with sashes.
25 She is clothed with strength and dignity;
she can laugh at the days to come.
26 She speaks with wisdom, and faithful instruction is on her tongue.[f] 27 She watches over the affairs of her household and does not eat the bread of idleness.
28 Her children arise and call her blessed;
her husband also, and he praises her:
29 "Many women do noble things, but you surpass them all."
30 Charm is deceptive, and beauty is fleeting;
but a woman who fears the LORD is to be praised.
31 Give her the reward she has earned,
and let her works bring her praise at the city gate.

31:20 [e] Dt 15:11

31:26 [f] Pr 10:31

31:19 The distaff and spindle are two implements used in hand spinning.

31:31 The book of Proverbs begins with the command to fear the Lord (1:7) and ends with the picture of a woman who fulfills this command. Her qualities are mentioned throughout the book: hard work, fear of God, respect for spouse, foresight, encouragement, care for others, concern for the poor, wisdom in handling money. These qualities, when coupled with fear of God, lead to enjoyment, success, honor, and worth. Proverbs is very practical for our day because it shows us how to become wise, make good decisions, and live according to God's ideal.

THE MOLDED bunny lies in the basket, surrounded by green paper "grass." With Easter morning eyes wide with anticipation, the little boy carefully lifts the chocolate figure and bites into one of the long ears. But the sweet taste fades quickly, and the child looks again at the candy in his hand. It's hollow!

Empty, futile, hollow, nothing . . . the words ring of disappointment and disillusionment. Yet this is the life-experience of many. Grasping the sweet things—possessions, experience, power, and pleasure—they find nothing inside. Life is empty, meaningless . . . and they despair.

Almost 3,000 years ago, Solomon spoke of this human dilemma; but the insights and applications of his message are relevant in our time. Ecclesiastes, Solomon's written sermon, is an analysis of life's experiences and a critical essay about its meaning. In this profound book, Solomon takes us on a mental journey through his life, explaining how everything he tried, tested, or tasted was "meaningless"—useless, irrational, pointless, foolish, and empty—an exercise in futility. And remember, these words are from one who "had it all"—tremendous intellect, power, and wealth. After this biographical tour, Solomon made his triumphant conclusion: "Fear God and keep his commandments, for this is the whole ⌊duty⌋ of man. For God will bring every deed into judgment, including every hidden thing, whether it is good or evil" (12:13, 14).

When Solomon became king, he asked God for wisdom (2 Chronicles 1:7–12), and he became the wisest man in the world (1 Kings 4:29–34). He studied, taught, judged, and wrote. Kings and leaders from other nations came to Jerusalem to learn from him. But with all of his practical insight on life, Solomon failed to heed his own advice, and he began a downward spiral. Near the end of his life, Solomon looked back with an attitude of humility and repentance. He took stock of the world as he had experienced it, hoping to spare his readers the bitterness of learning through personal experience that everything apart from God is empty, hollow, and meaningless.

Although the tone of Ecclesiastes is negative and pessimistic, we must not conclude that the only chapter worth reading and applying is the last one, where he draws his conclusions. In reality, the entire book is filled with practical wisdom (how to accomplish things in the world and stay out of trouble) and spiritual wisdom (how to find and know eternal values). Solomon had a very honest approach to life. All of his remarks relating to the futility of life are there for a purpose—to lead people to seek true happiness in God alone. He was not trying to destroy all hope, but to direct our hopes to the only One who can truly fulfill them. Solomon affirms the value of knowledge, relationships, work, and pleasure, but only in their proper place. All of these temporal things in life must be seen in light of the eternal.

Read Ecclesiastes and learn about life. Hear the stern warnings and dire predictions, and commit yourself to remember your Creator now (12:1).

VITAL STATISTICS

PURPOSE:
To spare future generations the bitterness of learning through their own experience that life is meaningless apart from God

AUTHOR:
Solomon

TO WHOM WRITTEN:
Solomon's subjects in particular, and all people in general

DATE WRITTEN:
Probably around 935 B.C., late in Solomon's life

SETTING:
Solomon was looking back on his life, much of which was lived apart from God

KEY VERSE:
"Now all has been heard; here is the conclusion of the matter: Fear God and keep his commandments, for this is the whole ⌊duty⌋ of man" (12:13).

THE BLUEPRINT

1. Solomon's personal experience (1:1—2:26)
2. Solomon's general observations (3:1—5:20)
3. Solomon's practical counsel (6:1—8:17)
4. Solomon's final conclusion (9:1—12:14)

Ecclesiastes shows that certain paths in life lead to emptiness. This profound book also helps us discover true purpose in life. Such wisdom can spare us from the emptiness that results from a life without God. Solomon teaches that people will not find meaning in life in knowledge, money, pleasure, work, or popularity. True satisfaction comes from knowing that what we are doing is part of God's purpose for our lives. This is a book that can help free us from our scramble for power, approval, and money, and draw us closer to God.

MEGATHEMES

THEME	EXPLANATION	IMPORTANCE
Searching	Solomon searched for satisfaction almost as though he was conducting a scientific experiment. Through this process, he discovered that life without God is a long and fruitless search for enjoyment, meaning, and fulfillment. True happiness is not in our power to accumulate or attain because we always want more than we can have. In addition, there are circumstances beyond our control that can snatch away our possessions or attainments.	People are still searching. Yet the more they try to get, the more they realize how little they really have. No pleasure or happiness is possible without God. Without him, satisfaction is a lost search. Above everything we should strive to know and love God. He gives wisdom, knowledge, and joy.
Emptiness	Solomon shows how empty it is to pursue the pleasures that this life has to offer rather than a relationship with an eternal God. The search for pleasure, wealth, and success is ultimately disappointing. Nothing in the world can fill the emptiness and satisfy the deep longings in our restless hearts.	The cure for emptiness is to center on God. His love also can fill the emptiness of human experience. Fear God throughout your life and fill your life with serving God and others rather than with selfish pleasures.
Work	Solomon tried to shake people's confidence in their own efforts, abilities, and wisdom and to direct them to faith in God as the only sound basis for living. Without God, there is no lasting reward or benefit in hard work.	Work done with the wrong attitude will leave us empty. But work accepted as an assignment from God can be seen as a gift. Examine what you expect from your efforts. God gives you abilities and opportunities to work so that you can use your time well.
Death	The certainty of death makes all merely human achievements futile. God has a plan for human destiny that goes beyond life and death. The reality of aging and dying reminds each individual of the end to come when God will judge each person's life.	Because life is short, we need wisdom that is greater than this world can offer. We need the words of God. If we listen to him, his wisdom spares us the bitterness of futile human experience and gives us a hope that goes beyond death.
Wisdom	Human wisdom doesn't contain all the answers. Knowledge and education have their limits. To understand life, we need the wisdom that can be found only in God's Word to us—the Bible.	When we realize that God will evaluate all that we do, we should learn to live wisely, remembering that he is present each day, and learn to obey his guidelines for living. But in order to have God's wisdom, we must first get to know and honor him.

1. Solomon's personal experience

Everything Is Meaningless

1:1 [a] ver 12; Ecc 7:27; 12:10

1 The words of the Teacher,[a a] son of David, king in Jerusalem:

2 "Meaningless! Meaningless!" says the Teacher.
"Utterly meaningless!
Everything is meaningless."[b]

1:2 [b] Ps 39:5-6; 62:9; Ecc 12:8

3 What does man gain from all his labor at which he toils under the sun?[c]

1:3 [c] Ecc 2:11, 22

4 Generations come and generations go,
but the earth remains forever.
5 The sun rises and the sun sets, and hurries back to where it rises.[d]

1:5 [d] Ps 19:5-6

6 The wind blows to the south and turns to the north;
round and round it goes,
ever returning on its course.
7 All streams flow into the sea,
yet the sea is never full.
To the place the streams come from,
there they return again.
8 All things are wearisome, more than one can say.
The eye never has enough of seeing,[e] nor the ear its fill of hearing.

1:8 [e] Pr 27:20

9 What has been will be again, what has been done will be done again;[f]
there is nothing new under the sun.

1:9 [f] Ecc 3:15

10 Is there anything of which one can say,
"Look! This is something new"?
It was here already, long ago;
it was here before our time.
11 There is no remembrance of men of old,
and even those who are yet to come will not be remembered by those who follow.

[a] 1 Or leader of the assembly; also in verses 2 and 12

1:1 The author, Solomon (the "king over Israel in Jerusalem," see 1:12), referred to himself as the Teacher, or leader of the assembly. He was both assembling people to hear a message and gathering wise sayings (proverbs). Solomon, one person in the Bible who had everything (wisdom, power, riches, honor, reputation, God's favor), is the one who discussed the ultimate emptiness of all that this world has to offer. He tried to destroy people's confidence in their own efforts, abilities, and righteousness and direct them to commitment to God as the only reason for living.

1:1–11 Solomon had a purpose for writing skeptically and pessimistically. Near the end of his life, he looked back over everything he had done, and most of it seemed meaningless. A common belief was that only good people prospered and that only the wicked suffered, but that hadn't proven true in his experience. Solomon wrote this book after he had tried everything and achieved much, only to find that nothing apart from God made him happy. He wanted his readers to avoid these same senseless pursuits. If we try to find meaning in our accomplishments rather than in God, we will never be satisfied, and everything we pursue will become wearisome.

1:2 Solomon's kingdom, Israel, was in its golden age, but Solomon wanted the people to understand that success and prosperity don't last long (Psalm 103:14–16; Isaiah 40:6–8; James 4:14). All human accomplishments will one day disappear, and we must keep this in mind in order to live wisely. If we don't, we will become either proud and self-sufficient when we succeed or sorely disappointed when we fail. Solomon's goal was to show that earthly possessions and accomplishments are ultimately meaningless. Only the pursuit of God brings real satisfaction. We should honor God in all we say, think, and do.

1:8–11 Many people feel restless and dissatisfied. They wonder: (1) If I am in God's will, why am I so tired and unfulfilled? (2) What is the meaning of life? (3) When I look back on it all, will I be happy with my accomplishments? (4) Why do I feel burned out, disillusioned, dry? (5) What is to become of me? Solomon tests our faith, challenging us to find true and lasting meaning in God alone. As you take a hard look at your life, as Solomon did his, you will see how important serving God is over all other options. Perhaps God is asking you to rethink your purpose and direction in life, just as Solomon did in Ecclesiastes.

Wisdom Is Meaningless

12I, the Teacher, [g] was king over Israel in Jerusalem. 13I devoted myself to study and to explore by wisdom all that is done under heaven. What a heavy burden God has laid on men! [h] 14I have seen all the things that are done under the sun; all of them are meaningless, a chasing after the wind.

15What is twisted cannot be straightened; [i] what is lacking cannot be counted.

16I thought to myself, "Look, I have grown and increased in wisdom more than anyone who has ruled over Jerusalem before me; [j] I have experienced much of wisdom and knowledge." 17Then I applied myself to the understanding of wisdom, and also of madness and folly, [k] but I learned that this, too, is a chasing after the wind.

18For with much wisdom comes much sorrow;
the more knowledge, the more grief. [l]

1:12 [g] ver 1
1:13 [h] Ecc 3:10
1:15 [i] Ecc 7:13
1:16 [j] 1Ki 3:12
1:17 [k] Ecc 2:3, 12
1:18 [l] Ecc 12:12

Pleasures Are Meaningless

2 I thought in my heart, "Come now, I will test you with pleasure to find out what is good." But that also proved to be meaningless. 2"Laughter," I said, "is foolish. And what does pleasure accomplish?" 3I tried cheering myself with wine, and embracing folly — my mind still guiding me with wisdom. I wanted to see what was worthwhile for men to do under heaven during the few days of their lives.

4I undertook great projects: I built houses for myself and planted vineyards. 5I made gardens and parks and planted all kinds of fruit trees in them. 6I made reservoirs to water groves of flourishing trees. 7I bought male and female slaves and had other slaves who were born in my house. I also owned more herds and flocks than anyone in Jerusalem before me. 8I amassed silver and gold [m] for myself, and the treasure of kings and provinces. I acquired men and women singers, and a harem [b] as well — the delights of the heart of man. 9I became greater by far than anyone in Jerusalem before me. In all this my wisdom stayed with me.

2:8 [m] 1Ki 9:28

10I denied myself nothing my eyes desired;
I refused my heart no pleasure.
My heart took delight in all my work,
and this was the reward for all my labor.
11Yet when I surveyed all that my hands had done

[b] 8 The meaning of the Hebrew for this phrase is uncertain.

1:12–15 "What is twisted cannot be straightened" refers to the ultimate perplexity and confusion that come to us because of all the unanswered questions in life. Solomon, writing about his own life, discovered that neither his accomplishments nor his wisdom could make him truly happy. True wisdom is found in God, and true happiness comes from pleasing him.

1:16–18 The more you understand, the more pain and difficulty you experience. For example, the more you know, the more imperfection you see around you; and the more you observe, the more evil becomes evident. As you set out with Solomon to find the meaning of life, you must be ready to feel more, think more, question more, hurt more, and do more. Are you ready to pay the price for wisdom?

1:16–18 Solomon highlights two kinds of wisdom in the book of Ecclesiastes: (1) human knowledge, reasoning, or philosophy, and (2) the wisdom that comes from God. In these verses Solomon is talking about human knowledge. When human knowledge ignores God, it only highlights our problems because it can't provide answers without God's eternal perspective and solution.

2:1ff Solomon conducted his search for life's meaning as an experiment. He first tried pursuing pleasure. He undertook great projects, bought slaves and herds and flocks, amassed wealth, acquired singers, added many women to his harem, and became the greatest person in Jerusalem. But none of these gave him satisfaction — "Yet when I surveyed all that my hands had done and what I had toiled to achieve, everything was meaningless, a chasing after the wind; nothing was gained under the sun" (2:11). Some of the pleasures Solomon sought were wrong and some were worthy, but even the worthy pursuits were futile when he pursued them as an end in themselves. We must look beyond our activities to the reasons we do them and the purpose they fulfill. Is your goal in life to search for meaning or to search for God who gives meaning?

2:4–6 Solomon had built houses, a temple, a kingdom, a family (see 1 Kings 3 — 11). In the course of history, they all would be ruined. In Psalm 127:1, Solomon wrote, "Unless the LORD builds the house, its builders labor in vain. Unless the LORD watches over the city, the watchmen stand guard in vain." This book is part of Solomon's testimony to what happens to a kingdom or family that forgets God. As you examine your projects or goals, what is your starting point, your motivation? Without God as your foundation, all you are living for is meaningless.

2:11 Solomon summarized all his attempts at finding life's meaning as "chasing after the wind." We feel the wind as it passes, but we can't catch hold of it or keep it. In all our accomplishments, and what I had toiled to achieve, everything was meaningless, a chasing after the wind;[n] nothing was gained under the sun.[o]

2:11
[n]Ecc 1:14
[o]Ecc 1:3

Wisdom and Folly Are Meaningless

12Then I turned my thoughts to consider wisdom, and also madness and folly.[p]
What more can the king's successor do than what has already been done?
13I saw that wisdom is better than folly,
just as light is better than darkness.
14The wise man has eyes in his head, while the fool walks in the darkness;
but I came to realize that the same fate overtakes them both.[q]

2:12
[p]Ecc 1:17

2:14
[q]Ps 49:10; Ecc 9:3, 11-12

15Then I thought in my heart,

"The fate of the fool will overtake me also.
What then do I gain by being wise?"
I said in my heart,
"This too is meaningless."
16For the wise man, like the fool, will not be long remembered;
in days to come both will be forgotten.
Like the fool, the wise man too must die!

Toil Is Meaningless

17So I hated life, because the work that is done under the sun was grievous to me. All of it is meaningless, a chasing after the wind. 18I hated all the things I had toiled for under the sun, because I must leave them to the one who comes after me.[r] 19And who knows whether he will be a wise man or a fool? Yet he will have control over all the work into which I have poured my effort and skill under the sun. This too is meaningless. 20So my heart began to despair over all my toilsome labor under the sun. 21For a man may do his work with wisdom, knowledge and skill, and then he must leave all he owns to someone who has not worked for it. This too is meaningless and a great misfortune. 22What does a man get for all the toil and anxious striving with which he labors under the sun?[s] 23All his days his work is pain and grief; even at night his mind does not rest. This too is meaningless.

24A man can do nothing better than to eat and drink and find satisfaction in his

2:18
[r]Ps 49:10

2:22
[s]Ecc 1:3

---

even the big ones, our good feelings are only temporary. Security and self-worth are not found in these accomplishments, but far beyond them in the love of God. Think about what you consider worthwhile in your life – where you place your time, energy, and money. Will you one day look back and decide that these, too, were a "chasing after the wind"?

2:16 Solomon realized that wisdom alone cannot guarantee eternal life. Wisdom, riches, and personal achievement matter very little after death – and everyone must die. We must not build our lives on perishable pursuits, but on the solid foundation of God. Then even if everything we have is taken away, we still will have God, who is all we really need anyway. This is the point of the book of Job (see the introduction to Job).

2:16 Is death the ultimate equalizer of all people, no matter what they attained in life? While this appears to be true from an earthly perspective, God makes it clear (as Solomon later points out in 12:14) that what we do here has a great impact upon our eternal reward.

2:18–23 Solomon continues to show that hard work bears no lasting fruit for those who work solely to earn money and gain possessions. Not only will everything be left behind at death, but it may be left to those who have done nothing to earn it. In addition, it may not be well cared for, and all that was gained may be lost. In fact, Solomon's son, who inherited his throne, was often foolish – see 1 Kings 12. Hard work done with proper motives (caring for your family, serving God) is not wrong. We must work to survive, and, more important, we are responsible for the physical and spiritual well-being of those under our care. But the fruit of hard work done to glorify only ourselves will be passed on to those who may later lose or spoil it all. Such toil often leads to grief, while serving God leads to everlasting joy. Do you know the real reason you are working so hard?

2:24–26 Is Solomon recommending we make life a big, irresponsible party? No, he is encouraging us to take pleasure in what we're doing now and to enjoy life because it comes from God's hand. True enjoyment in life comes only as we follow God's guidelines for living. Without him, satisfaction is a lost search. Those who really know how to enjoy life are the ones who take life each day as a gift from God, thanking him for it and serving him in it. Those without God will have no relief from toil and no direction to guide them through life's complications.

work.[t] This too, I see, is from the hand of God,[u] 25for without him, who can eat or find enjoyment? 26To the man who pleases him, God gives wisdom, knowledge and happiness, but to the sinner he gives the task of gathering and storing up wealth[v] to hand it over to the one who pleases God. This too is meaningless, a chasing after the wind.

2:24 [t]Ecc 3:22 [u]Ecc 3:12-13; 5:17-19

2:26 [v]Job 27:17

2. Solomon's general observations

A Time for Everything

3 There is a time[w] for everything, and a season for every activity under heaven:

2 a time to be born and a time to die,
a time to plant and a time to uproot,
3 a time to kill and a time to heal,
a time to tear down and a time to build,
4 a time to weep and a time to laugh,
a time to mourn and a time to dance,
5 a time to scatter stones and a time to gather them,
a time to embrace and a time to refrain,
6 a time to search and a time to give up,
a time to keep and a time to throw away, 7 a time to tear and a time to mend,
a time to be silent and a time to speak, 8 a time to love and a time to hate,
a time for war and a time for peace.

3:1 [w]ver 11, 17; Ecc 8:6

9What does the worker gain from his toil?[x] 10I have seen the burden God has laid on men. [y] 11He has made everything beautiful in its time. He has also set eternity in the hearts of men; yet they cannot fathom what God has done from beginning to end.[z] 12I know that there is nothing better for men than to be happy and do good while they live. 13That everyone may eat and drink, and find satisfaction in all his toil—this is the gift of God.[a] 14I know that everything God does will endure forever; nothing can be added to it and nothing taken from it. God does it so that men will revere him.

3:9 [x]Ecc 1:3

3:10 [y]Ecc 1:13

3:11 [z]Ro 11:33

3:13 [a]Ecc 2:24

15Whatever is has already been,
and what will be has been before;[b]

3:15 [b]Ecc 1:9

3:1–5:20 Solomon's point in this section is that God has a plan for all people. Thus he provides cycles of life, each with its work for us to do. Although we may face many problems that seem to contradict God's plan, these should not be barriers to believing in him, but rather opportunities to discover that, without God, life's problems have no lasting solutions!

3:1–8 Timing is important. All the experiences listed in these verses are appropriate at certain times. The secret to peace with God is to discover, accept, and appreciate God's perfect timing. The danger is to doubt or resent God's timing. This can lead to despair, rebellion, or moving ahead without his advice.

3:8 When is there a time for hating? We shouldn't hate evil people, but we should hate what they do. We should also hate it when people are mistreated, when children are starving, and when God is being dishonored. In addition, we must hate sin in our lives—this is God's attitude (see Psalm 5:5).

3:9–13 Your ability to find satisfaction in your work depends to a large extent upon your attitude. You will become dissatisfied if you lose the sense of purpose God intended for your work. We can enjoy our work if we (1) remember that God has given us work to do (3:10), and (2) realize that the fruit of our labor is a gift from him (3:13). See your work as a way to serve God.

3:11 God has "set eternity in the hearts of men." This means that we can never be completely satisfied with earthly pleasures and pursuits. Because we are created in God's image, (1) we have a spiritual thirst, (2) we have eternal value, and (3) nothing but the eternal God can truly satisfy us. He has built in us a restless yearning for the kind of perfect world that can only be found in his perfect rule. He has given us a glimpse of the perfection of his creation. But it is only a glimpse; we cannot see into the future or comprehend everything. So we must trust him now and do his work on earth.

3:12 To be happy and do good while we live are worthy goals for life, but we can pursue them the wrong way. God wants us to enjoy life. When we have the proper view of God, we discover that real pleasure is found in enjoying whatever we have as gifts from God, not in what we accumulate.

3:14 What is the purpose of life? It is that we should revere the all-powerful God. To revere God means to respect and stand in awe of him because of who he is. Purpose in life starts with whom we know, not what we know or how good we are. It is impossible to fulfill your God-given purpose unless you revere God and give him first place in your life.

and God will call the past to account.[c]

16And I saw something else under the sun:

In the place of judgment — wickedness was there, in the place of justice — wickedness was there.

17I thought in my heart,

"God will bring to judgment
both the righteous and the wicked, for there will be a time for every activity,
a time for every deed."[c]

3:17 [c]ver 1

18I also thought, "As for men, God tests them so that they may see that they are like the animals.[d] 19Man's fate is like that of the animals; the same fate awaits them both: As one dies, so dies the other. All have the same breath[d]; man has no advantage over the animal. Everything is meaningless. 20All go to the same place; all come from dust, and to dust all return.[e] 21Who knows if the spirit of man rises upward[f] and if the spirit of the animal[e] goes down into the earth?"

3:18 [d]Ps 73:22

3:20 [e]Ge 2:7

3:21 [f]Ecc 12:7

22So I saw that there is nothing better for a man than to enjoy his work,[g] because that is his lot. For who can bring him to see what will happen after him?

3:22 [g]Ecc 2:24

Oppression, Toil, Friendlessness

4 Again I looked and saw all the oppression that was taking place under the sun:

I saw the tears of the oppressed —
and they have no comforter;
power was on the side of their oppressors —
and they have no comforter.
2And I declared that the dead,
who had already died,
are happier than the living,
who are still alive.
3But better than both is he who has not yet been,[h] who has not seen the evil that is done under the sun.

4:3 [h]Job 3:16

4And I saw that all labor and all achievement spring from man's envy of his neighbor. This too is meaningless, a chasing after the wind.

[c] 15 Or God calls back the past [d] 19 Or spirit [e] 21 Or Who knows the spirit of man, which rises upward, or the spirit of the animal, which

3:16 There is wickedness in the place of justice. It even affects the legal system. Solomon asked how God's plan can be perfect when there is so much injustice and oppression in the world (4:1). He concluded that God does not ignore injustice, but will bring it to an end at his appointed time (12:13, 14).

3:16ff Solomon reflects on several apparent contradictions in God's control of the world: (1) there is wickedness where there should be justice (3:16, 17); (2) people created in God's image die just like the animals (3:18–21); (3) no one comforts the oppressed (4:1–3); (4) many people are motivated by envy (4:4–6); (5) people are lonely (4:7–12); (6) recognition for accomplishments is temporary (4:13–16). It is easy to use such contradictions as excuses not to believe in God. But Solomon used them to show how we can honestly look at life's problems and still keep our faith. This life is not all there is, yet even in this life we should not pass judgment on God because we don't know everything. God's plan is for us to live forever with him. So live with eternal values in view, realizing that all contradictions will one day be cleared up by the Creator himself (12:14).

3:19–22 Our bodies can't live forever in their present state. In that sense, humans and animals are alike. But Solomon acknowledged that God has given people the hope of eternity (see the note on 3:11), and that we will undergo judgment in the next life (3:17; 12:7, 14) – making us different from animals. Because man has eternity set in his heart, he has a unique purpose in God's overall plan. Yet we cannot discover God's purpose for our lives by our own efforts – only through building a relationship with him and seeking his guidance. Are you now living as God wants? Do you see life as a gift from him?

4:4–6 Some people are lazy while others are workaholics. The lazy person, seeing the futility of dashing about for success, folds his hands and hurts both himself and those who depend on him. The workaholic is often driven by envy, greed, and a constant desire to stay ahead of everyone else. Both extremes are foolish and irresponsible. The answer is to work hard but with moderation. Take time to enjoy the other gifts God has given and realize that it is God who gives out the assignments and the rewards, not us.

5The fool folds his hands[i] and ruins himself.
6Better one handful with tranquillity than two handfuls with toil[j] and chasing after the wind.

4:5 [i]Pr 6:10

4:6 [j]Pr 15:16-17; 16:8

7Again I saw something meaningless under the sun:

8There was a man all alone;
he had neither son nor brother.
There was no end to his toil,
yet his eyes were not content[k] with his wealth.
"For whom am I toiling," he asked,
"and why am I depriving myself of enjoyment?"
This too is meaningless—
a miserable business!

4:8 [k]Pr 27:20

9Two are better than one,
because they have a good return for their work:
10If one falls down,
his friend can help him up.
But pity the man who falls and has no one to help him up!
11Also, if two lie down together, they will keep warm.
But how can one keep warm alone?
12Though one may be overpowered,
two can defend themselves.
A cord of three strands is not quickly broken.

Advancement Is Meaningless

13Better a poor but wise youth than an old but foolish king who no longer knows how to take warning. 14The youth may have come from prison to the kingship, or he may have been born in poverty within his kingdom. 15I saw that all who lived and walked under the sun followed the youth, the king's successor. 16There was no end to all the people who were before them. But those who came later were not pleased with the successor. This too is meaningless, a chasing after the wind.

Stand in Awe of God

5 Guard your steps when you go to the house of God. Go near to listen rather than to offer the sacrifice of fools, who do not know that they do wrong.

2Do not be quick with your mouth, do not be hasty in your heart to utter anything before God.
God is in heaven
and you are on earth,
so let your words be few.[l] 3As a dream comes when there are many cares, so the speech of a fool when there are many words.

5:2 [l]Pr 20:25

4When you make a vow to God, do not delay in fulfilling it. He has no pleasure

---

4:9–12 There are advantages to cooperating with others. Life is designed for companionship, not isolation, for intimacy, not loneliness. Some people prefer isolation, thinking they cannot trust anyone. We are not here on earth to serve ourselves, however, but to serve God and others. Don't isolate yourself and try to go it alone. Seek companions; be a team member.

4:13–16 Advancement or getting to the top is meaningless. Position, popularity, and prestige are poor goals for a life's work. Although many seek them, they are shadows without substance. Many people seek recognition for their accomplishments; but people are fickle, changing quickly and easily. How much better to seek God's approval. His love never changes.

5:1 "Guard your steps" means "be careful." When we enter the house of God, we should have the attitude of being open and ready to listen to God, not to dictate to him what we think he should do.

in fools; fulfill your vow. 5It is better not to vow than to make a vow and not fulfill it. 6Do not let your mouth lead you into sin. And do not protest to the temple messenger, "My vow was a mistake." Why should God be angry at what you say and destroy the work of your hands? 7Much dreaming and many words are meaningless. Therefore stand in awe of God.[m]

5:7 [m]Ecc 3:14

Riches Are Meaningless

8If you see the poor oppressed in a district, and justice and rights denied, do not be surprised at such things; for one official is eyed by a higher one, and over them both are others higher still. 9The increase from the land is taken by all; the king himself profits from the fields.

10Whoever loves money never has money enough;
whoever loves wealth is never satisfied with his income.
This too is meaningless.

11As goods increase,
so do those who consume them.
And what benefit are they to the owner except to feast his eyes on them?

12The sleep of a laborer is sweet, whether he eats little or much,
but the abundance of a rich man permits him no sleep.

5:13 [n]Ecc 6:1-2

13I have seen a grievous evil under the sun:[n] wealth hoarded to the harm of its owner, 14 or wealth lost through some misfortune, so that when he has a son

there is nothing left for him.
15Naked a man comes from his mother's womb, and as he comes, so he departs.[o]
He takes nothing from his labor[p] that he can carry in his hand.

5:15 [o]Job 1:21 [p]Ps 49:17; 1Ti 6:7

16This too is a grievous evil:

As a man comes, so he departs,
and what does he gain,
since he toils for the wind?[q] 17All his days he eats in darkness, with great frustration, affliction and anger.

5:16 [q]Ecc 1:3

18Then I realized that it is good and proper for a man to eat and drink, and to find satisfaction in his toilsome labor[r] under the sun during the few days of life God has given him—for this is his lot. 19Moreover, when God gives any man wealth and possessions, and enables him to enjoy them, to accept his lot and be happy in his

5:18 [r]Ecc 2:10, 24

5:4, 5 Solomon warns his readers about making foolish vows (promises) to God. In Israelite culture, making vows was a serious matter. Vows were voluntary but, once made, were unbreakable (Deuteronomy 23:21–23). It is foolish to make a vow you cannot keep or to play games with God by only partially fulfilling your vow (Proverbs 20:25). It's better not to vow than to make a vow to God and break it. It's better still to make a vow and keep it. (See the note on Matthew 5:33ff.)

5:10, 11 We always want more than we have. Solomon observed that those who love money and seek it obsessively never find the happiness it promises. Wealth also attracts freeloaders and thieves, causes sleeplessness and fear, and ultimately ends in loss because it must be left behind (Mark 10:23–25; Luke 12:16–21). No matter how much you earn, if you try to create happiness by accumulating wealth, you will never have enough. Money in itself is not wrong, but loving money leads to all sorts of sin. Whatever financial situation you are in, don't depend on money to make you happy. Instead, use what you have for the Lord.

5:19, 20 God wants us to view what we have (whether it is much or little) with the right perspective—our possessions are a gift from God. Although they are not the source of joy, they are a reason to rejoice because every good thing comes from God. We should focus more on the Giver than the gift. We can be content with what we have when we realize that with God we have everything we need.

work—this is a gift of God.[s] 20He seldom reflects on the days of his life, because God keeps him occupied with gladness of heart. 5:19 [s]Ecc 2:24

3. Solomon's practical counsel

6 I have seen another evil under the sun, and it weighs heavily on men: 2God gives a man wealth, possessions and honor, so that he lacks nothing his heart desires, but God does not enable him to enjoy them, and a stranger enjoys them instead. This is meaningless, a grievous evil.

3A man may have a hundred children and live many years; yet no matter how long he lives, if he cannot enjoy his prosperity and does not receive proper burial, I say that a stillborn[t] child is better off than he. 4It comes without meaning, it departs in darkness, and in darkness its name is shrouded. 5Though it never saw the sun or knew anything, it has more rest than does that man— 6even if he lives a thousand years twice over but fails to enjoy his prosperity. Do not all go to the same place? 6:3 [t]Job 3:16

7All man's efforts are for his mouth, yet his appetite is never satisfied.[u] 6:7 [u]Pr 27:20 8What advantage has a wise man over a fool?[v] 6:8 [v]Ecc 2:15
What does a poor man gain
by knowing how to conduct himself before others?
9Better what the eye sees than the roving of the appetite.
This too is meaningless,
a chasing after the wind.

10Whatever exists has already been named,
and what man is has been known;
no man can contend with one who is stronger than he.
11The more the words,
the less the meaning,
and how does that profit anyone?

12For who knows what is good for a man in life, during the few and meaningless days he passes through like a shadow?[w] Who can tell him what will happen under the sun after he is gone? 6:12 [w]Ps 39:6

Wisdom

7 A good name is better than fine perfume,[x] 7:1 [x]Pr 22:1 and the day of death better than the day of birth.
2It is better to go to a house of mourning

6:1–8:15 In this section, Solomon shows that having the right attitude about God can help us deal with present injustices. Prosperity is not always good, and adversity is not always bad. But God is always good; if we live as he wants us to, we will be content.

6:1–6 "God does not enable him to enjoy them" probably means that the person has died. Even if he had lived a long life, it is ultimately meaningless in itself because all that he has accumulated is left behind. Everyone dies, and both rich and poor end up in the grave. Many people work hard to prolong life and improve their physical condition. Yet people don't spend nearly as much time or effort on their spiritual health. How shortsighted it is to work hard to extend this life and not take the steps God requires to gain eternal life.

6:6 "All go to the same place" means that everyone dies.

6:9 "The roving of the appetite" refers to wasting time dreaming and wishing for what one doesn't have.

6:10 God knows and directs everything that happens, and he is in complete control over our lives, even though at times it may not seem like it. How foolish it is for us to contend with our Creator, who knows us completely and can see the future. (See also Jeremiah 18:6; Romans 9:19–24.)

6:12 Solomon is stating the profound truth that we cannot predict what the future holds. The only one who knows what will happen after we're gone is God. No human knows the future, so each day must be lived for its own value. Solomon is arguing against the notion that human beings can take charge of their own destiny. In all our plans we should look up to God, not just ahead to the future.

7:1–4 This seems to contradict Solomon's previous advice to eat, drink, and find satisfaction in one's work—to enjoy what God has given. We are to enjoy what we have while we can, but realize that adversity also strikes. Adversity reminds us that life is short, than to go to a house of feasting, for death is the destiny of every man;

the living should take this to heart.
3 Sorrow is better than laughter,[y]
because a sad face is good for the heart.
4 The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning,
but the heart of fools is in the house of pleasure.
5 It is better to heed a wise man's rebuke[z]
than to listen to the song of fools.
6 Like the crackling of thorns under the pot,
so is the laughter of fools.
This too is meaningless.

7 Extortion turns a wise man into a fool, and a bribe[a] corrupts the heart.

8 The end of a matter is better than its beginning, and patience[b] is better than pride.
9 Do not be quickly provoked in your spirit,
for anger resides in the lap of fools.

10 Do not say, "Why were the old days better than these?"
For it is not wise to ask such questions.

11 Wisdom, like an inheritance, is a good thing and benefits those who see the sun.
12 Wisdom is a shelter
as money is a shelter,
but the advantage of knowledge is this:
that wisdom preserves the life of its possessor.

13 Consider what God has done:

Who can straighten
what he has made crooked?[c] 14 When times are good, be happy;
but when times are bad, consider:
God has made the one
as well as the other.
Therefore, a man cannot discover anything about his future.

15 In this meaningless life of mine I have seen both of these:

7:3 [y] Pr 14:13
7:5 [z] Pr 15:31-32
7:7 [a] Ex 23:8
7:8 [b] Pr 14:29
7:13 [c] Ecc 1:15

---

teaches us to live wisely, and refines our character. Christianity and Judaism see value in suffering and sorrow. The Greeks and Romans despised it; Eastern religions seek to live above it; but Christians and Jews see it as a refining fire. Most would agree that we learn more about God from difficult times than from happy times. Do you try to avoid sorrow and suffering at all costs? See your struggles as great opportunities to learn from God.

7:2, 4 Many people avoid thinking about death, refuse to face it, and are reluctant to attend funerals. Solomon is not encouraging us to think morbidly, but he knows that it is helpful to think clearly about death. It reminds us that there is still time for change, time to examine the direction of our lives, and time to confess our sins and find forgiveness from God. Because everyone will eventually die, it makes sense to plan ahead to experience God's mercy rather than his justice.

7:7 Money talks, and it can confuse those who would otherwise judge fairly. We hear about bribes given to judges, police officers, and witnesses. Bribes are given to hurt those who tell the truth and help those who oppose it. The person who is involved in extortion or takes a bribe is indeed a fool, no matter how wise he thought he was beforehand. It is said that everyone has a price, but those who are truly wise cannot be bought at any price.

7:8 To finish what we start takes hard work, wise guidance, self-discipline, and patience. Anyone with vision can start a big project. But vision without wisdom often results in unfinished projects and goals.

7:14 God allows both good times and bad times to come to everyone. He blends them in our lives in such a way that we can't predict the future or count on human wisdom and power. We usually give ourselves the credit for the good times. Then in bad times, we tend to blame God without thanking him for the good that comes out of it. When life appears certain and controllable, don't let self-satisfaction or complacency make you too comfortable, or God may allow bad times to drive you back to him. When life seems uncertain and uncontrollable, don't despair—God is in control and will bring good results out of tough times.

a righteous man perishing in his righteousness, and a wicked man living long in his wickedness.[d] 16 Do not be overrighteous, neither be overwise—
why destroy yourself?
17 Do not be overwicked, and do not be a fool—
why die before your time?
18 It is good to grasp the one and not let go of the other.
The man who fears God will avoid all ⌞extremes⌟.[f]

19 Wisdom makes one wise man more powerful than ten rulers in a city.

20 There is not a righteous man on earth who does what is right and never sins.[e]

21 Do not pay attention to every word people say, or you may hear your servant cursing you—22 for you know in your heart that many times you yourself have cursed others.

23 All this I tested by wisdom and I said,

"I am determined to be wise"—
but this was beyond me.
24 Whatever wisdom may be,
it is far off and most profound—who can discover it?[f]
25 So I turned my mind to understand, to investigate and to search out wisdom and the scheme of things and to understand the stupidity of wickedness and the madness of folly.[g]

26 I find more bitter than death
the woman who is a snare, whose heart is a trap
and whose hands are chains.
The man who pleases God will escape her,
but the sinner she will ensnare.[h]

27 "Look," says the Teacher,[g] "this is what I have discovered:

"Adding one thing to another to discover the scheme of things—28 while I was still searching but not finding—

7:15 [d] Ecc 8:12-14

7:20 [e] 2Ch 6:36; Pr 20:9

7:24 [f] Job 28:12

7:25 [g] Ecc 1:17

7:26 [h] Pr 5:3-5

f 18 Or will follow them both g 27 Or leader of the assembly

7:16–18 How can a person be too righteous or too wise? This is a warning against religious conceit—legalism or false righteousness. Solomon was saying that some people become overly righteous or wise in their own eyes because they are deluded by their own religious acts. They are so rigid or narrow in their views that they lose their sensitivity to the true reason for being good—to honor God. Balance is important. God created us to be whole people who seek his righteousness and goodness. Thus we should avoid both extremes of legalism and immorality.

7:23–25 Solomon, the wisest man in the world, confessed how difficult it had been to act and think wisely. He emphasized that no matter how much we know, there are always mysteries we will never understand. So thinking you have enough wisdom is a sure sign that you don't.

7:27, 28 Did Solomon think women were not capable of being upright (wise and good)? No, because in the book of Proverbs he personified wisdom as a responsible woman. The point of Solomon's statement is not that women are unwise, but that hardly anyone, man or woman, is upright before God. In his search, Solomon found that goodness and wisdom were almost as scarce among men as among women, even though men were given a religious education program in his culture and women were not. In effect, the verse is saying, "I have found only one in a thousand people who is wise in God's eyes. No. I have found even fewer than that!"

I found one upright man among a thousand,
but not one upright woman among them all.
29This only have I found:
God made mankind upright, but men have gone in search of many schemes."

8

Who is like the wise man?
Who knows the explanation of things?
Wisdom brightens a man's face and changes its hard appearance.

Obey the King

2Obey the king's command, I say, because you took an oath before God. 3Do not be in a hurry to leave the king's presence. Do not stand up for a bad cause, for he will do whatever he pleases. 4Since a king's word is supreme, who can say to him, "What are you doing?"

5Whoever obeys his command will come to no harm, and the wise heart will know the proper time and procedure.
8:6 6For there is a proper time and procedure for every matter,[i] /Ecc 3:1 though a man's misery weighs heavily upon him.

7Since no man knows the future,
who can tell him what is to come?
8No man has power over the wind to contain it[h];
so no one has power over the day of his death.
As no one is discharged in time of war,
so wickedness will not release those who practice it.

9All this I saw, as I applied my mind to everything done under the sun. There is a time when a man lords it over others to his own[j] hurt. 10Then too, I saw the wicked buried—those who used to come and go from the holy place and receive praise[j] in the city where they did this. This too is meaningless.

11When the sentence for a crime is not quickly carried out, the hearts of the people are filled with schemes to do wrong. 12Although a wicked man commits a hundred crimes and still lives a long time, I know that it will go better with God-fearing men, who are reverent before God. 13Yet because the wicked do not fear God, it will not go well with them, and their days will not lengthen like a shadow.

14There is something else meaningless that occurs on earth: righteous men who get what the wicked deserve, and wicked men who get what the righteous deserve.
8:14 This too, I say, is meaningless.[i] 15So I commend the enjoyment of life, because /Ecc 7:15 nothing is better for a man under the sun than to eat and drink and be glad. Then joy will accompany him in his work all the days of the life God has given him under the sun.

[h] 8 Or over his spirit to retain it [i] 9 Or to their [j] 10 Some Hebrew manuscripts and Septuagint (Aquila); most Hebrew manuscripts and are forgotten

7:29 God created human beings to live uprightly and do what is right. Instead, they have left God's path to follow their own downward road.

8:1 Wisdom is the ability to see life from God's perspective and then to know the best course of action to take. Most people would agree that wisdom is a valuable asset, but how can we acquire it? Proverbs 9:10 teaches that the fear of the Lord (respect and honor) is the beginning of wisdom. Wisdom comes from knowing and trusting God; it is not merely the way to find God. Knowing God will lead to understanding and then to sharing this knowledge with others.

8:10 This verse probably refers to how we quickly forget the evil done by some people after they have died. Returning from the cemetery, we praise them in the very city where they did their evil deeds.

8:11 If God doesn't punish us immediately, we must not assume that he doesn't care or that sin has no consequences, even though it is easy to sin when we don't feel the consequences right away. When a young child does something wrong, and the wrong is not discovered, it will be much easier for the child to repeat the act. But God knows every wrong we commit, and one day we will have to answer for all that we have done (12:14).

8:15 Solomon recalls the remedy for life's unanswered questions. He recommends joy and contentment as encouragement for us along life's pilgrimage. We must accept each day with its daily measure of work, food, and pleasure. Let us learn to enjoy what God has given us to refresh and strengthen us to continue his work.

16When I applied my mind to know wisdom and to observe man's labor on earth — his eyes not seeing sleep day or night — 17then I saw all that God has done.
No one can comprehend what goes on under the sun. Despite all his efforts to search it out, man cannot discover its meaning. Even if a wise man claims he knows, he cannot really comprehend it.[k]

8:17 [k]Ro 11:33

4. Solomon's final conclusion

A Common Destiny for All

9 So I reflected on all this and concluded that the righteous and the wise and what they do are in God's hands, but no man knows whether love or hate awaits him.[l] 2All share a common destiny — the righteous and the wicked, the good and 9:1 [l]Ecc 10:14 the bad,[k] the clean and the unclean, those who offer sacrifices and those who do not.

As it is with the good man,
so with the sinner;
as it is with those who take oaths, so with those who are afraid to take them.[m] 9:2 [m]Job 9:22

3This is the evil in everything that happens under the sun: The same destiny overtakes all. The hearts of men, moreover, are full of evil and there is madness in their hearts while they live, and afterward they join the dead. 4Anyone who is among the living has hope[l] — even a live dog is better off than a dead lion!

5For the living know that they will die, but the dead know nothing;[n] 9:5 [n]Job 14:21
they have no further reward,
and even the memory of them is forgotten.
6Their love, their hate and their jealousy have long since vanished; never again will they have a part in anything that happens under the sun.

7Go, eat your food with gladness, and drink your wine with a joyful heart,[o] for 9:7 [o]Ecc 2:24 it is now that God favors what you do. 8Always be clothed in white, and always anoint your head with oil. 9Enjoy life with your wife, whom you love, all the days of this meaningless life that God has given you under the sun — all your meaningless days. For this is your lot in life and in your toilsome labor under the sun.
10Whatever your hand finds to do, do it with all your might, for in the grave,[m]

[k] 2 Septuagint (Aquila), Vulgate and Syriac; Hebrew does not have and the bad. [l] 4 Or What then is to be chosen? With all who live, there is hope [m] 10 Hebrew Sheol

8:16, 17 Even if he had access to all the world's wisdom, the wisest man would know very little. No one can fully comprehend God and all that he has done, and there are always more questions than answers. But the unknown should not cast a shadow over our joy, faith, or work because we know that someone greater is in control and that we can put our trust in him. Don't let what you don't know about the future destroy the joy God wants to give you today.

9:2 "All share a common destiny" means that all will die.

9:5, 10 When Solomon says the dead know nothing and that there is no work, planning, knowledge, or wisdom in death, he is not contrasting life with afterlife, but life with death. After you die, you can't change what you have done. Resurrection to a new life after death was a vague concept for Old Testament believers. It was only made clear after Jesus rose from the dead.

9:7–10 Considering the uncertainties of the future and the certainty of death, Solomon recommends enjoying life as God's gift. He may have been criticizing those who put off all present pleasures in order to accumulate wealth, much like those who get caught up in today's rat race. Solomon asks, "What is your wealth really worth, anyway?" Because the future is so uncertain, we should enjoy God's gifts while we are able.

9:8 Wearing white clothes and having oil on the head were signs of happiness and celebration.

9:9 Solomon also wrote a proverb about marriage. "He who finds a wife finds what is good and receives favor from the LORD" (Proverbs 18:22). How sad it would be to be married and not appreciate the enjoyment and companionship God has given you.

9:10, 11 It isn't difficult to think of cases where the swiftest or the strongest don't win, the wise go hungry, and the intelligent are unrewarded with wealth or honor. Some people see such examples and call life unfair, and they are right. The world is finite, and sin has twisted life, making it what God did not intend. Solomon is trying to reduce our expectations. The book of Proverbs emphasizes how life would go if everyone acted fairly; Ecclesiastes explains what usually happens in our sinful and imperfect world. We must keep our perspective. Don't let the inequities of life keep you from earnest, dedicated work. We serve God, not people (see Colossians 3:23).

where you are going, there is neither working nor planning nor knowledge nor wisdom.

11I have seen something else under the sun:

The race is not to the swift or the battle to the strong,[p] nor does food come to the wise or wealth to the brilliant or favor to the learned;
but time and chance happen to them all.

12Moreover, no man knows when his hour will come:

As fish are caught in a cruel net,
or birds are taken in a snare,
so men are trapped by evil times[q] that fall unexpectedly upon them.[r]

Wisdom Better Than Folly

13I also saw under the sun this example of wisdom that greatly impressed me: 14There was once a small city with only a few people in it. And a powerful king came against it, surrounded it and built huge siegeworks against it. 15Now there lived in that city a man poor but wise, and he saved the city by his wisdom. But nobody remembered that poor man. 16So I said, "Wisdom is better than strength." But the poor man's wisdom is despised, and his words are no longer heeded.

17The quiet words of the wise are more to be heeded than the shouts of a ruler of fools.
18Wisdom is better than weapons of war,
but one sinner destroys much good.

10 As dead flies give perfume a bad smell,
so a little folly outweighs wisdom and honor.
2The heart of the wise inclines to the right,
but the heart of the fool to the left.
3Even as he walks along the road,
the fool lacks sense
and shows everyone[s] how stupid he is.
4If a ruler's anger rises against you,
do not leave your post;[t]
calmness can lay great errors to rest.[u]

5There is an evil I have seen under the sun,
the sort of error that arises from a ruler:
6Fools are put in many high positions,
while the rich occupy the low ones.
7I have seen slaves on horseback, while princes go on foot like slaves.[v]

8Whoever digs a pit may fall into it;[w] whoever breaks through a wall may be bitten by a snake.
9Whoever quarries stones may be injured by them;

9:11 [p] Am 2:14-15

9:12 [q] Pr 29:6 [r] Ecc 2:14

10:3 [s] Pr 13:16

10:4 [t] Ecc 8:3 [u] Pr 16:14

10:7 [v] Pr 19:10

10:8 [w] Ps 57:6

9:13–18 Our society honors wealth, attractiveness, and success above wisdom. Yet wisdom is a greater asset than strength, although it is often unrecognized by the masses. Even though it is more effective, wisdom is not always heard, and wise people often go unheeded. From this parable we can learn to be receptive to wisdom, no matter who it comes from.

10:4 This proverb has implications for employer/employee relationships. Employees should ride out the temper tantrums of their employer. If we quietly do our work and don't get upset, the employer will probably get over his or her anger and calm down.

10:5–7 By describing these circumstances that aren't fair or don't make sense, Solomon is saying that wisdom alone can't bring justice. Solomon continues to build to his conclusion that everything we have (from wisdom to riches) is nothing without God. But when God uses what little we have, it becomes all we could ever want or need.

whoever splits logs may be endangered by them.

10 If the ax is dull and its edge unsharpened, more strength is needed
but skill will bring success.

11 If a snake bites before it is charmed, there is no profit for the charmer.[x]

12 Words from a wise man's mouth are gracious,[y] but a fool is consumed by his own lips.
13 At the beginning his words are folly;
at the end they are wicked madness —
14 and the fool multiplies words.[z]

No one knows what is coming — who can tell him what will happen after him?

15 A fool's work wearies him;
he does not know the way to town.

16 Woe to you, O land whose king was a servant[n][a] and whose princes feast in the morning.
17 Blessed are you, O land whose king is of noble birth and whose princes eat at a proper time — for strength and not for drunkenness.[b]

18 If a man is lazy, the rafters sag;
if his hands are idle, the house leaks.

19 A feast is made for laughter, and wine makes life merry,
but money is the answer for everything.

20 Do not revile the king[c] even in your thoughts, or curse the rich in your bedroom,
because a bird of the air may carry your words,
and a bird on the wing may report what you say.

10:11 [x] Ps 58:5

10:12 [y] Pr 10:32

10:14 [z] Ecc 5:3

10:16 [a] Isa 3:4-5, 12

10:17 [b] Pr 31:4

10:20 [c] Ex 22:28

Bread Upon the Waters

11 Cast your bread upon the waters, for after many days you will find it again.
2 Give portions to seven, yes to eight,
for you do not know what disaster may come upon the land.

[n] 16 Or king is a child

10:10 Trying to do anything without the necessary skills or tools is like chopping wood with a dull ax. If your tool is dull, you should sharpen it to do a better job. Similarly, if you lack skills, you should sharpen them through training and practice. In each situation, sharpening the ax means recognizing where a problem exists, acquiring or honing the skills (or tools) to do the job better, and then going out and doing it. Find the areas of your life where your "ax" is dull, and sharpen your skills so you can be more effective for God's work.

10:16–18 When the Israelites had immature and irresponsible leaders, their nation fell. The books of 1 and 2 Kings describe the decline of the kingdoms when the leaders were concerned only about themselves. These verses pinpoint the basic problems of these leaders — selfishness and laziness.

10:19 Government leaders, businesses, families, even churches get trapped into thinking money is the answer to every problem. We throw money at our problems. But just as the thrill of wine is only temporary, the soothing effect of the last purchase soon wears off and we have to buy more. Scripture recognizes that money is necessary for survival, but it warns against the love of money (see Matthew 6:24; 1 Timothy 6:10; Hebrews 13:5). Money is dangerous because it deceives us into thinking that wealth is the easiest way to get everything we want. The love of money is sinful because we trust money rather than God to solve our problems. Those who pursue its empty promises will one day discover that they have nothing because they are spiritually bankrupt.

11:1–5 In these verses Solomon summarizes that life involves both risk and opportunity. Because life has no guarantees, we must be prepared. "Cast your bread upon the waters" means that life has opportunities and we must seize them, not merely play it safe. Solomon does not support a despairing attitude. Just because life is uncertain does not mean we should do nothing. We need a spirit of trust and adventure, facing life's risks and opportunities with God-directed enthusiasm and faith.

3If clouds are full of water, they pour rain upon the earth.
Whether a tree falls to the south or to the north,
in the place where it falls, there will it lie.
4Whoever watches the wind will not plant;
whoever looks at the clouds will not reap.

11:5
[d] Jn 3:8-10
[e] Ps 139:14-16

5As you do not know the path of the wind,[d] or how the body is formed[o] in a mother's womb,[e]
so you cannot understand the work of God,
the Maker of all things.

6Sow your seed in the morning, and at evening let not your hands be idle,
for you do not know which will succeed,
whether this or that,
or whether both will do equally well.

Remember Your Creator While Young

11:7
[f] Ecc 7:11

7Light is sweet,
and it pleases the eyes to see the sun.[f] 8However many years a man may live, let him enjoy them all.
But let him remember the days of darkness, for they will be many.
Everything to come is meaningless.

9Be happy, young man, while you are young, and let your heart give you joy in the days of your youth.
Follow the ways of your heart and whatever your eyes see,
but know that for all these things
God will bring you to judgment.[g]

11:9
[g] Ecc 2:24; 3:17

10So then, banish anxiety from your heart and cast off the troubles of your body, for youth and vigor are meaningless.

12:1
[h] Ecc 11:8

12 Remember[h] your Creator in the days of your youth, before the days of trouble come and the years approach when you will say,
"I find no pleasure in them"— 2before the sun and the light and the moon and the stars grow dark,

[o] 5 Or know how life (or the spirit) / enters the body being formed

11:4 Waiting for perfect conditions will mean inactivity. This practical insight is especially applicable to our spiritual life. If we wait for the perfect time and place for personal Bible reading, we will never begin. If we wait for a perfect church, we will never join. If we wait for the perfect ministry, we will never serve. Take steps now to grow spiritually. Don't wait for conditions that may never exist.

11:7, 8 Solomon is no dreary pessimist in 11:7–12:14. He encourages us to rejoice in every day but to remember that eternity is far longer than a person's life span. Psalm 90:12 says, "Teach us to number our days aright, that we may gain a heart of wisdom." The wise person does not just think about the moment and its impact; he or she takes the long-range view toward eternity. Approach your decisions from God's perspective – consider their impact ten years from now and into eternity. Live with the attitude that although our lives are short, we will live with God forever.

11:9, 10 We often hear people say, "It doesn't matter." But many of your choices will be irreversible – they will stay with you for a lifetime. What you do when you're young does matter. Enjoy life now, but don't do anything physically, morally, or spiritually that will prevent you from enjoying life when you are old.

12:1 A life without God can produce a bitter, lonely, and hopeless old age. A life centered around God is fulfilling; it will make the "days of trouble" – when disabilities, sickness, and handicaps cause barriers to enjoying life – satisfying because of the hope of eternal life. Being young is exciting. But the excitement of youth can become a barrier to closeness with God if it makes young people focus on passing pleasures instead of eternal values. Make your strength available to God when it is still yours – during your youthful years. Don't waste it on evil or meaningless activities that become bad habits and make you callous. Seek God now.

and the clouds return after the rain; 3when the keepers of the house tremble,
and the strong men stoop,
when the grinders cease because they are few,
and those looking through the windows grow dim; 4when the doors to the street are closed and the sound of grinding fades;
when men rise up at the sound of birds,
but all their songs grow faint; 5when men are afraid of heights and of dangers in the streets;
when the almond tree blossoms and the grasshopper drags himself along and desire no longer is stirred.
Then man goes to his eternal home[i] and mourners[j] go about the streets.

12:5 [i]Job 10:21 [j]Jer 9:17

6Remember him — before the silver cord is severed, or the golden bowl is broken;
before the pitcher is shattered at the spring,
or the wheel broken at the well, 7and the dust returns to the ground it came from,
and the spirit returns to God[k] who gave it.

12:7 [k]Ecc 3:21

8"Meaningless! Meaningless!" says the Teacher.[p]
"Everything is meaningless!"

The Conclusion of the Matter

9Not only was the Teacher wise, but also he imparted knowledge to the people. He pondered and searched out and set in order many proverbs.[l] 10The Teacher searched to find just the right words, and what he wrote was upright and true.

12:9 [l]1Ki 4:32

11The words of the wise are like goads, their collected sayings like firmly embedded nails — given by one Shepherd. 12Be warned, my son, of anything in addition to them.

Of making many books there is no end, and much study wearies the body.[m]

12:12 [m]Ecc 1:18

13Now all has been heard;

[p] 8 Or the leader of the assembly; also in verses 9 and 10

12:6–8 The silver cord, golden bowl, pitcher, and wheel symbolize life's fragility. How easily death comes to us; how swiftly and unexpectedly we can return to the dust from which we came. Therefore, we should recognize life as a precious resource to be used wisely and not squandered frivolously.

12:7, 8 Stripped of God's Spirit, our bodies return to dust. Stripped of God's purpose, our work is in vain. Stripped of God's love, our service is futile. We must put God first over all we do and in all we do because without him we have nothing. Knowing that life is futile without God motivates the wise person to seek God first.

12:11 A goad (also called an oxgoad) was a sharp metal tip attached to a handle and used to keep oxen or cattle moving. Like a goad, a wise word or important truth might be unpleasant when first applied, but it will keep us moving in God's direction.

12:12 There are endless opinions about life and philosophies about how we should live that could be read and studied forever. It is not wrong to study these opinions, but we should spend the majority of our time feeding on the truth of God's Word. Wisdom should lead to action. Wise students of the Bible will understand and do what they are taught. Because our time on earth is so short, we should use it to learn important truths — they affect this life and eternity.

12:13, 14 In his conclusion, Solomon presents his antidotes for the two main ailments presented in this book. Those who lack purpose and direction in life should fear God and keep his commandments. Those who think life is unfair should remember that God will review every person's life to determine how he or she has responded to him, and he will bring every deed into judgment. Have you committed your life to God, both present and future? Does your life measure up to his standards?

12:13, 14 The book of Ecclesiastes cannot be interpreted correctly without reading these final verses. No matter what the mysteries and apparent contradictions of life are, we must work toward the single purpose of knowing God.

In Ecclesiastes, Solomon shows us that we should enjoy life, but this does not exempt us from obeying God's commandments. We should search for purpose and meaning in life, but they cannot be found in human endeavors. We should acknowledge the evil, foolishness, and injustice in life, yet maintain a positive attitude and strong faith in God.

All people will have to stand before God and be judged for what they did in this life. We will not be able to use life's inconsistencies as an excuse for failing to live properly. To live properly, we need to (1) recognize that human effort apart from God is futile; (2) put God first – now; (3) receive everything good as a gift from God;

here is the conclusion of the matter:
Fear God and keep his commandments,[n]
for this is the whole ⌞duty⌟ of man.
14For God will bring every deed into judgment, including every hidden thing,
whether it is good or evil.

12:13
[n]Dt 4:2

(4) realize that God will judge both evil and good; (5) know that God will judge the quality of every person's life. How strange that people spend their lives striving for the very enjoyment that God gives freely, as a gift.

VITAL STATISTICS

PURPOSE:
To tell of the love between a bridegroom (King Solomon) and his bride, to affirm the sanctity of marriage, and to picture God's love for his people

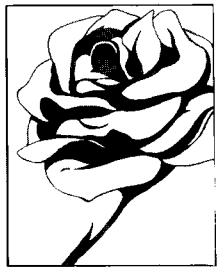
AUTHOR:
Solomon

DATE WRITTEN:
Probably early in Solomon's reign

SETTING:
Israel—the Shulammite woman's garden and the king's palace

KEY VERSE:
"I am my lover's and my lover is mine; he browses among the lilies" (6:3).

KEY PEOPLE:
King Solomon, the Shulammite woman, and friends



SATURATED with stories of sexual escapades, secret rendezvous, and extramarital affairs, today's media preach that immorality means freedom, perversion is natural, and commitment is old-fashioned. Sex, created by God and pronounced good in Eden, has been twisted, exploited, and turned into an urgent, illicit, casual, and self-gratifying activity. Love has turned into lust, giving into getting, and lasting commitment into "no strings attached."

In reality, sexual intercourse, the physical and emotional union of male and female, should be a holy means of celebrating love, producing children, and experiencing pleasure, protected by the commitment of marriage.

God thinks sex is important, and Scripture contains numerous guidelines for its use and warnings about its misuse. And sex is always mentioned in the context of a loving relationship between husband and wife. Perhaps the highlight of this is Song of Songs, the intimate story of a man and a woman, their love, courtship, and marriage. Solomon probably wrote this "song" in his youth, before being overtaken by his own obsession with women, sex, and pleasure.

A moving story, drama, and poem, Song of Songs features the love dialogue between a simple Jewish maiden (the Shulammite woman) and her lover (Solomon, the king). They describe in intimate detail their feelings for each other and their longings to be together. Throughout the dialogue, sex and marriage are put in their proper, God-given perspective.

There has been much debate over the meaning of this song. Some say it is an allegory of God's love for Israel and/or for the church. Others say it is a literal story about married love. But in reality, it is both—an historical story with two layers of meaning. On one level we learn about love, marriage, and sex; and on the other level we see God's overwhelming love for his people. As you read Song of Songs, remember that you are loved by God, and commit yourself to seeing life, sex, and marriage from his point of view.

THE BLUEPRINT

1. The wedding day (1:1—2:7)
2. Memories of courtship (2:8—3:5)
3. Memories of engagement (3:6—5:1)
4. A troubling dream (5:2—6:3)
5. Praising the bride's beauty (6:4—7:9a)
6. The bride's tender appeal (7:9b—8:4)
7. The power of love (8:5–14)

Song of Songs is a wedding song honoring marriage. The most explicit statements on sex in the Bible can be found in this book. It has often been criticized through the centuries because of its sensuous language. The purity and sacredness of love represented here, however, are greatly needed in our day where distorted attitudes about love and marriage are commonplace. God created sex and intimacy, and they are holy and good when enjoyed within the bounds of marriage. A husband and wife honor God when they love and enjoy each other.

MEGATHEMES

THEME	EXPLANATION	IMPORTANCE
Sex	Sex is God's gift to his creatures. He endorses sex, but restricts its expression to those committed to each other in marriage.	God wants sex to be motivated by love and commitment, not lust. It is for mutual pleasure, not selfish enjoyment.
Love	As the relationship developed, the beauty and wonder of a romance unfolded between Solomon and his bride. The intense power of love affected the hearts, minds, and bodies of the two lovers.	Because love is such a powerful expression of feeling and commitment between two people, it is not to be regarded casually. We are not to manipulate others into loving us, and love should not be prematurely encouraged in a relationship.
Commitment	The power of love requires more than the language of feeling to protect it. Sexual expression is such an integral part of our selfhood that we need the boundary of marriage to safeguard our love. Marriage is the celebration of daily commitment to each other.	While romance keeps a marriage interesting, commitment keeps romance from dwindling away. The decision to commit yourself to your spouse alone begins at the marriage altar. It must be maintained day by day.
Beauty	The two lovers praise the beauty they see in each other. The language they use shows the spontaneity and mystery of love. Our praise should not be limited to physical beauty; beautiful personality and moral purity should also be praised.	Our love for our spouse makes him or her appear beautiful. It is the inner qualities that keep love alive. Don't just look for physical attractiveness in a spouse. Look for the qualities that don't fade with time—spiritual commitment, integrity, sensitivity, and sincerity.
Problems	Over time, feelings of loneliness, indifference, and isolation came between Solomon and his bride. During those times, love grew cold and barriers were raised.	Through careful communication, lovers can be reconciled, commitment can be renewed, and romance refreshed. Don't let walls come between you and your partner. Take care of problems while they are still small.

1. The wedding day

1 Solomon's Song of Songs.[a]

1:1 [a] 1Ki 4:32

Beloved[a]

2 Let him kiss me with the kisses of his mouth — for your love[b] is more delightful than wine.
3 Pleasing is the fragrance of your perfumes;
your name is like perfume poured out.
No wonder the maidens love you!
4 Take me away with you — let us hurry!
Let the king bring me into his chambers.[c]

1:2 [b] SS 4:10

1:4 [c] Ps 45:15

Friends

We rejoice and delight in you[b];
we will praise your love more than wine.

Beloved

How right they are to adore you!

5 Dark am I, yet lovely,
O daughters of Jerusalem,
dark like the tents of Kedar,
like the tent curtains of Solomon.[c] 6 Do not stare at me because I am dark, because I am darkened by the sun.
My mother's sons were angry with me and made me take care of the vineyards;
my own vineyard I have neglected.
7 Tell me, you whom I love, where you graze your flock and where you rest your sheep at midday.
Why should I be like a veiled woman beside the flocks of your friends?

[a] Primarily on the basis of the gender of the Hebrew pronouns used, male and female speakers are indicated in the margins by the captions Lover and Beloved respectively. The words of others are marked Friends. In some instances the divisions and their captions are debatable. [b] 4 The Hebrew is masculine singular. [c] 5 Or Salma

1:1 Solomon, a son of King David, became king and was chosen by God to build the temple in Jerusalem. God gave him extraordinary wisdom. Much of his reign was characterized by wisdom and reverence for God, although toward the end of his life he became proud and turned from God. Read about Solomon in 1 Kings 1 – 11 and 1 Chronicles 28 – 2 Chronicles 9. Solomon wrote more than 3,000 proverbs (see the book of Proverbs) and over 1,000 songs, one of which is this book, Song of Songs. His Profile is found in 1 Kings 4.

1:1ff Solomon frequently visited the various parts of his kingdom. One day, as he visited some royal vineyards in the north, his royal entourage came by surprise upon a beautiful peasant woman tending the vines. Embarrassed, she ran from them. But Solomon could not forget her. Later, disguised as a shepherd, he returned to the vineyards and won her love. Then, he revealed his true identity and asked her to return to Jerusalem with him. Solomon and his beloved are being married in the palace as this book begins.

The Song of Songs is a series of seven poems, not necessarily in chronological order. It reflects upon the first meeting of Solomon and the peasant woman, their engagement, their wedding, their wedding night, and the growth of their marriage after the wedding.

1:1ff There are three characters or groups of characters in this book: the girl (the "beloved"), Solomon (the "lover"), and "friends." The girl who caught Solomon's attention may have been from Shunem, a farming community about 60 miles north of Jerusalem. Her tanned skin indicates that she probably worked outside in the vineyards (1:6) – thus she may not have been from the upper class. The friends include either members of Solomon's harem or workers in the palace, as well as the girl's brothers (as in 8:8, 9).

1:1–4 This vivid description of a love relationship begins with a picture of love itself. Love is "more delightful than wine"; it makes the lovers rejoice. Acts 10:9–16 teaches that what God has created and cleansed we should not misuse or call common. We can enjoy love. God created it as a gift to us and a delight for all our senses.

1:5 Kedar was a nomadic community in northern Arabia. It was known for its tents that were woven from black goat hair.

1:6 The vineyard mentioned here was apparently owned by Solomon (because he came to visit it) and leased to the girl's stepbrothers (her "mother's sons"), who made her take care of the vineyards in the hot sun. Thus she could not take care of her own skin ("my own vineyard I have neglected"). When she was brought to Jerusalem, the young girl was embarrassed about her tanned complexion because the girls in the city had the fair, delicate skin that was considered much more beautiful. But Solomon loved her dark skin.

1:7 The girl felt insecure at being different from the women of Jerusalem (1:6) and at being alone while her lover was away (1:7). She longed for the security of his presence. The basis of true love is commitment; so in a relationship where there is genuine love, there is never any fear of deceit, manipulation, or exploitation.

Friends

1:8 [d]SS 5:9

8 If you do not know, most beautiful of women,[d] follow the tracks of the sheep and graze your young goats
by the tents of the shepherds.

Lover

9 I liken you, my darling, to a mare harnessed to one of the chariots[e] of Pharaoh.
1:9 [e]2Ch 1:17
10 Your cheeks are beautiful with earrings, your neck with strings of jewels.
11 We will make you earrings of gold, studded with silver.

Beloved

12 While the king was at his table, my perfume spread its fragrance.
13 My lover is to me a sachet of myrrh resting between my breasts.
14 My lover is to me a cluster of henna blossoms from the vineyards of En Gedi.

Lover

15 How beautiful you are, my darling!
Oh, how beautiful!
1:15 [f]SS 4:1; 5:2, 12
Your eyes are doves.[f]

Beloved

16 How handsome you are, my lover!
Oh, how charming!
And our bed is verdant.

Lover

17 The beams of our house are cedars;
our rafters are firs.

Beloved[d]

2 I am a rose[e] of Sharon, a lily of the valleys.

Lover

2 Like a lily among thorns is my darling among the maidens.

Beloved

3 Like an apple tree among the trees of the forest is my lover among the young men.

d 1 Or Lover e 1 Possibly a member of the crocus family

---

1:14 En Gedi was an oasis hidden at the base of rugged limestone cliffs west of the Dead Sea. It was known for its fruitful palm trees and fragrant balsam oil. The terrain surrounding En Gedi was some of the most desolate in Palestine, and it had an extremely hot desert climate. The henna blossoms in En Gedi would have appeared all the more beautiful because of their stark surroundings; thus the girl was complimenting Solomon's looks, saying that he stood out among all the men.

1:16, 17 The lover and his beloved describe their woodland surroundings as a wedding bedroom.

2:1 The rose of Sharon and lily of the valleys were flowers commonly found in Israel. Perhaps the girl was saying, "I'm not so special; I'm just an ordinary flower," to which Solomon replied, "Oh, no, you are extraordinary -- a lily among thorns." Solomon used the language of love. There is nothing more vital than encouraging and appreciating the person you love. Be sure to tell your spouse "I love you" every day, and show that love by your actions.

I delight to sit in his shade, and his fruit is sweet to my taste.
4He has taken me to the banquet hall,
and his banner over me is love.
5Strengthen me with raisins, refresh me with apples,
for I am faint with love.
6His left arm is under my head,
and his right arm embraces me.[g] 7Daughters of Jerusalem, I charge you
by the gazelles and by the does of the field:
Do not arouse or awaken love
until it so desires.[h]

2:6 [g] SS 8:3

2:7 [h] SS 3:5; 8:4

2. Memories of courtship

8Listen! My lover!
Look! Here he comes,
leaping across the mountains,
bounding over the hills.
9My lover is like a gazelle or a young stag.[i] Look! There he stands behind our wall, gazing through the windows,
peering through the lattice.
10My lover spoke and said to me,
"Arise, my darling,
my beautiful one, and come with me.
11See! The winter is past;
the rains are over and gone.
12Flowers appear on the earth;
the season of singing has come,
the cooing of doves
is heard in our land.
13The fig tree forms its early fruit;
the blossoming vines spread their fragrance.
Arise, come, my darling;
my beautiful one, come with me."

2:9 [i] ver 17

Lover

14My dove in the clefts of the rock, in the hiding places on the mountainside, show me your face,
let me hear your voice;
for your voice is sweet,
and your face is lovely.[j]

2:14 [j] SS 1:5

2:7 Feelings of love can create intimacy that overpowers reason. Young people are too often in a hurry to develop an intimate relationship based on their strong feelings. But feelings aren't enough to support a lasting relationship. This verse encourages us not to force romance lest the feelings of love grow faster than the commitment needed to make love last. Patiently wait for feelings of love and commitment to develop together.

2:8—3:5 In this section Solomon's beloved reflects on her courtship with Solomon, remembering the first day they met and recalling one of her dreams about their being together.

2:12, 13 The lovers celebrated their joy in the creation and in their love. God created the world, the beauty we see, the joy of love and sex, and gave us senses to enjoy them. Never let problems, conflicts, or the ravages of time ruin your ability to enjoy God's gifts. Take time to enjoy the world God has created.

2:15 "The little foxes" are an example of the kinds of problems that can disturb or destroy a relationship. The lovers wanted anything that could potentially cause problems between them to be removed. It is often the "little foxes" that cause the biggest problems in marriage. These irritations must not be minimized or ignored, but identified so that, together, the couple can deal with them.

15Catch for us the foxes, the little foxes
that ruin the vineyards,
our vineyards that are in bloom.

Beloved

2:16 [k] SS 7:10 [l] SS 6:3

16My lover is mine and I am his;[k]
he browses among the lilies.[l] 17Until the day breaks and the shadows flee,
turn, my lover,
and be like a gazelle
or like a young stag[m] on the rugged hills.[f]

2:17 [m] ver 9

3

All night long on my bed
I looked for the one my heart loves;
I looked for him but did not find him.
2I will get up now and go about the city,
through its streets and squares;
I will search for the one my heart loves.
So I looked for him but did not find him.
3The watchmen found me
as they made their rounds in the city.[n]
"Have you seen the one my heart loves?"
4Scarcely had I passed them
when I found the one my heart loves.
I held him and would not let him go till I had brought him to my mother's house, to the room of the one who conceived me.

3:3 [n] SS 5:7

3:5 [o] SS 2:7 [p] SS 8:4

5Daughters of Jerusalem, I charge you[o]
by the gazelles and by the does of the field:
Do not arouse or awaken love
until it so desires.[p]

3. Memories of engagement

3:6 [q] SS 8:5

6Who is this coming up from the desert[q]
like a column of smoke, perfumed with myrrh and incense made from all the spices of the merchant?
7Look! It is Solomon's carriage, escorted by sixty warriors,
the noblest of Israel, 8all of them wearing the sword,
all experienced in battle,

[f] 17 Or the hills of Bether

3:1–4 Many scholars agree that in these verses the girl was recalling a dream that caused her to become so concerned about her lover's whereabouts that she arose in the middle of the night to search for him. When you love someone, you will do all you can to ensure the safety of that person and care for his or her needs, even at a cost to your personal comfort. This shows up most often in small actions – walking upstairs to get your spouse a glass of water, leaving work early to attend some function your child is involved in, or sacrificing your personal comfort to tend to the needs of a friend.

3:6–5:1 Here the scene changes. Some believe that the wedding procession is described in 3:6–11, the wedding night in 4:1–5:1, and the consummation of the marriage in 4:16–5:1. Another possible explanation is that the period of Solomon's engagement to the girl is being remembered. In the previous section (2:8–3:5), Solomon and the girl fell in love. In this section, Solomon returns to the girl in all his royal splendor (3:6–11), expresses his great love for her (4:1–5), and then proposes (4:7–15). The girl accepts (4:16), and Solomon responds to her acceptance (5:1).

3:7, 9 Solomon's carriage was probably a covered and curtained couch used for carrying a single passenger on the shoulders of men.

each with his sword at his side, prepared for the terrors of the night.
9King Solomon made for himself the carriage;
he made it of wood from Lebanon.
10Its posts he made of silver, its base of gold.
Its seat was upholstered with purple, its interior lovingly inlaid
by[g] the daughters of Jerusalem.
11Come out, you daughters of Zion, and look at King Solomon wearing the crown,
the crown with which his mother crowned him on the day of his wedding, the day his heart rejoiced.

Lover

4 How beautiful you are, my darling!
Oh, how beautiful!
Your eyes behind your veil are doves.[r]
Your hair is like a flock of goats descending from Mount Gilead.[s] 2Your teeth are like a flock of sheep just shorn, coming up from the washing.
Each has its twin;
not one of them is alone.[t] 3Your lips are like a scarlet ribbon;
your mouth is lovely.
Your temples behind your veil
are like the halves of a pomegranate.[u] 4Your neck is like the tower of David, built with elegance[h];
on it hang a thousand shields,
all of them shields of warriors.
5Your two breasts[v] are like two fawns, like twin fawns of a gazelle that browse among the lilies.
6Until the day breaks
and the shadows flee,[w]
I will go to the mountain of myrrh and to the hill of incense.
7All beautiful you are, my darling;
there is no flaw in you.

8Come with me from Lebanon, my bride, come with me from Lebanon.
Descend from the crest of Amana, from the top of Senir,[x] the summit of Hermon, from the lions' dens
and the mountain haunts of the leopards.
9You have stolen my heart, my sister, my bride;
you have stolen my heart

4:1 [r] SS 1:15; [s] SS 6:5
4:2 [t] SS 6:6
4:3 [u] SS 6:7
4:5 [v] SS 7:3
4:6 [w] SS 2:17
4:8 [x] Dt 3:9

[g] 10 Or its inlaid interior a gift of love / from [h] 4 The meaning of the Hebrew for this word is uncertain.

4:1–7 We feel like awkward onlookers when we read this intensely private and intimate exchange. In the ecstasy of their love, the lovers praised each other using beautiful imagery. Their words may seem strange to readers from a different culture, but their intense feelings of love and admiration are universal. Communicating love and expressing admiration in both words and actions can enhance every marriage.

with one glance of your eyes,
with one jewel of your necklace.
10How delightful is your love, my sister, my bride!
How much more pleasing is your love than wine,
and the fragrance of your perfume than any spice!
11Your lips drop sweetness as the honeycomb, my bride;
milk and honey are under your tongue.
The fragrance of your garments is like that of Lebanon.
12You are a garden locked up, my sister, my bride;
you are a spring enclosed, a sealed fountain.
13Your plants are an orchard of pomegranates with choice fruits,
with henna and nard, 14 nard and saffron,
calamus and cinnamon,
with every kind of incense tree,
with myrrh and aloes
and all the finest spices.
15You are[l] a garden fountain, a well of flowing water streaming down from Lebanon.

Beloved

16Awake, north wind, and come, south wind!
Blow on my garden,
that its fragrance may spread abroad.
Let my lover come into his garden and taste its choice fruits.[y]

4:16
[y] SS 2:3

Lover

5 I have come into my garden, my sister, my bride;
I have gathered my myrrh with my spice.
I have eaten my honeycomb and my honey;
I have drunk my wine and my milk.[z]

5:1
[z] SS 4:11

Friends

Eat, O friends, and drink;
drink your fill, O lovers.

[l] 15 Or I am (spoken by the Beloved)

4:12 In comparing his bride to a locked garden, Solomon was praising her virginity. Virginity, considered old-fashioned by many in today's culture, has always been God's plan for unmarried people—and with good reason. Sex without marriage is cheap. It cannot compare with the joy of giving yourself completely to the one who is totally committed to you.

4:15 Solomon's bride was as refreshing to him as a fountain. Could your spouse say the same about you? Sometimes the familiarity that comes with marriage causes us to forget the overwhelming feelings of love and refreshment we shared at the beginning. Many marriages could use a course in "refreshing." Do you refresh your spouse, or are you a burden of complaints, sorrows, and problems? Partners in marriage should continually work at refreshing each other by an encouraging word, an unexpected gift, a change of pace, a surprise call or note, or even a withholding of a discussion of some problem until the proper time. Your spouse needs you to be a haven of refreshment because the rest of the world usually isn't.

4. A troubling dream

Beloved

2I slept but my heart was awake.
Listen! My lover is knocking:
"Open to me, my sister, my darling,
my dove, my flawless one.
My head is drenched with dew,
my hair with the dampness of the night."
3I have taken off my robe—must I put it on again?
I have washed my feet—
must I soil them again?
4My lover thrust his hand through the latch-opening;
my heart began to pound for him.
5I arose to open for my lover, and my hands dripped with myrrh,
my fingers with flowing myrrh,
on the handles of the lock.
6I opened for my lover,
but my lover had left; he was gone.
My heart sank at his departure.[i]
I looked[a] for him but did not find him.
I called him but he did not answer.
7The watchmen found me
as they made their rounds in the city.[b]
They beat me, they bruised me;
they took away my cloak,
those watchmen of the walls!
8O daughters of Jerusalem, I charge you—if you find my lover,
what will you tell him?
Tell him I am faint with love.

5:6
[a] SS 3:1

5:7
[b] SS 3:3

Friends

9How is your beloved better than others, most beautiful of women?[c]
How is your beloved better than others,
that you charge us so?

5:9
[c] SS 1:8

Beloved

10My lover is radiant and ruddy, outstanding among ten thousand.
11His head is purest gold;
his hair is wavy

i 6 Or heart had gone out to him when he spoke

5:2ff This new section tells how the couple's marriage grew and matured in spite of problems. Some time had passed since the wedding, and the girl felt as though some indifference had developed in their relationship. She had become cool to her husband's advances, and by the time she changed her mind and responded to him, he had left. Her self-centeredness and impatience, though brief, caused separation. But she quickly moved to correct the problem by searching for her husband (5:6–8).

5:2–8 It is inevitable that, with the passing of time and the growth of familiarity, a marriage will start to lose its initial sparkle. Glances and touches no longer produce the same emotional response. Conflicts and pressures may creep in, causing you to lose your tenderness toward your spouse. The world is not a haven for lovers; in fact, external stress often works against the marriage relationship. But spouses can learn to be havens for each other. If intimacy and passion decline, remember that they can be renewed and regenerated. Take time to remember those first thrills, the excitement of sex, your spouse's strengths, and the commitment you made. When you focus on the positives, reconciliation and renewal can result.

5:7 The girl was alone outside during the night. In Old Testament times, she would have been looked upon as a criminal or a prostitute and treated as such. This image symbolizes the pain she felt at being separated from her lover.

and black as a raven.
5:12 [d] SS 1:15
12 His eyes are like doves[d]
by the water streams, washed in milk,
mounted like jewels.
13 His cheeks are like beds of spice yielding perfume.
His lips are like lilies
dripping with myrrh.
14 His arms are rods of gold set with chrysolite.
His body is like polished ivory decorated with sapphires.[k] 15 His legs are pillars of marble set on bases of pure gold.
His appearance is like Lebanon,
choice as its cedars.
16 His mouth is sweetness itself;
he is altogether lovely.
This is my lover, this my friend,
O daughters of Jerusalem.

Friends

6 Where has your lover gone, most beautiful of women?[e]
6:1 [e] SS 1:8
Which way did your lover turn,
that we may look for him with you?

Beloved

2 My lover has gone down to his garden, to the beds of spices,
to browse in the gardens and to gather lilies.
6:3 [f] SS 7:10 [g] SS 2:16
3 I am my lover's and my lover is mine;[f] he browses among the lilies.[g]

5. Praising the bride's beauty

Lover

4 You are beautiful, my darling, as Tirzah, lovely as Jerusalem,
majestic as troops with banners.
5 Turn your eyes from me;
they overwhelm me.
Your hair is like a flock of goats
descending from Gilead.[h]
6:5 [h] SS 4:1
6 Your teeth are like a flock of sheep
coming up from the washing.

[k] 14 Or lapis lazuli

5:16 The girl calls Solomon her "friend." In a healthy marriage, lovers are also good friends. Too often people are driven into marriage by the exciting feelings of love and passion before they take the time to develop a deep friendship. This involves listening, sharing, and showing understanding for the other's likes and dislikes. Friendship takes time, but it makes a love relationship much deeper and far more satisfying.

6:3 The girl said that she and her lover belonged to each other – they had given themselves to each other unreservedly. No matter how close we may be to our parents or our best friends, it is only in marriage that we realize complete union of mind, heart, and body.

6:4 Tirzah was a city about 35 miles northeast of Jerusalem. Its name means "pleasure" or "beauty." Jeroboam made Tirzah the first capital of the divided northern kingdom (1 Kings 14:17). "Majestic as troops with banners" means that the beloved must have had awe-inspiring beauty, like a mighty army readying for battle.

Each has its twin,
not one of them is alone.[j] 7Your temples behind your veil are like the halves of a pomegranate.[j] 8Sixty queens there may be,
and eighty concubines,
and virgins beyond number;
9but my dove, my perfect one, is unique,
the only daughter of her mother,
the favorite of the one who bore her.
The maidens saw her and called her blessed;
the queens and concubines praised her.

Friends

10Who is this that appears like the dawn, fair as the moon, bright as the sun, majestic as the stars in procession?

Lover

11I went down to the grove of nut trees to look at the new growth in the valley, to see if the vines had budded or the pomegranates were in bloom.[k] 12Before I realized it, my desire set me among the royal chariots of my people.[l]

Friends

13Come back, come back, O Shulammite; come back, come back, that we may gaze on you!

Lover

Why would you gaze on the Shulammite as on the dance of Mahanaim?

7 How beautiful your sandaled feet,
O prince's[j] daughter!
Your graceful legs are like jewels,
the work of a craftsman's hands.
2Your navel is a rounded goblet that never lacks blended wine.
Your waist is a mound of wheat encircled by lilies.
3Your breasts[m] are like two fawns, twins of a gazelle.
4Your neck is like an ivory tower.
Your eyes are the pools of Heshbon
by the gate of Bath Rabbim.
Your nose is like the tower of Lebanon looking toward Damascus.

6:6 [j]SS 4:2
6:7 [j]SS 4:3
6:11 [k]SS 7:12
7:1 [j]Ps 45:13
7:3 [m]SS 4:5

[l] 12 Or among the chariots of Amminadab; or among the chariots of the people of the prince

6:8, 9 Solomon did indeed have many queens (wives) and concubines (1 Kings 11:3). Polygamy, though not condoned, was common in Old Testament days. Solomon says that his love for this woman has not diminished since their wedding night, even though many other women are available to him.

7:4, 5 The phrase "your eyes are the pools of Heshbon" suggests sparkling eyes. Heshbon was the ancient capital of the Amorites. Bath Rabbim may have been a gate of Heshbon. The "tower of Lebanon" may have been a watchtower (evidently a prominent one and seen as very beautiful). Some suggest that this refers to the Lebanon mountain range. Mount Carmel overlooks the Mediterranean Sea and Palestine.

7:5 [n] Isa 35:2

5 Your head crowns you like Mount Carmel.[n]
Your hair is like royal tapestry;
the king is held captive by its tresses.

7:6 [o] SS 1:15

6 How beautiful[o] you are and how pleasing,
O love, with your delights!
7 Your stature is like that of the palm,
and your breasts like clusters of fruit.
8 I said, "I will climb the palm tree;
I will take hold of its fruit."
May your breasts be like the clusters of the vine,

7:8 [p] SS 2:5

the fragrance of your breath like apples,[p] 9 and your mouth like the best wine.

6. The bride's tender appeal

Beloved

May the wine go straight to my lover, flowing gently over lips and teeth.[m]

7:10 [q] Ps 45:11 [r] SS 2:16; 6:3

10 I belong to my lover, and his desire[q] is for me.[r]
11 Come, my lover, let us go to the countryside, let us spend the night in the villages.[n] 12 Let us go early to the vineyards to see if the vines have budded, if their blossoms have opened,

7:12 [s] SS 6:11

and if the pomegranates are in bloom[s]— there I will give you my love.

7:13 [t] Ge 30:14

13 The mandrakes[t] send out their fragrance, and at our door is every delicacy,
both new and old,
that I have stored up for you, my lover.

8

If only you were to me like a brother, who was nursed at my mother's breasts!
Then, if I found you outside,
I would kiss you,
and no one would despise me.
2 I would lead you and bring you to my mother's house—
she who has taught me.
I would give you spiced wine to drink,
the nectar of my pomegranates.

8:3 [u] SS 2:6

3 His left arm is under my head
and his right arm embraces me.[u]

8:4 [v] SS 2:7; 3:5

4 Daughters of Jerusalem, I charge you:
Do not arouse or awaken love
until it so desires.[v]

[m] 9 Septuagint, Aquila, Vulgate and Syriac; Hebrew lips of sleepers [n] 11 Or henna bushes

7:10–13 As a marriage matures, there should be more love and freedom between marriage partners. Here the girl takes the initiative in lovemaking. Many cultures have stereotypes of the roles men and women play in lovemaking, but the security of true love gives both marriage partners the freedom to initiate acts of love and express their true feelings.

7:13 Mandrakes were a somewhat rare plant often thought to increase fertility. Mandrakes are also mentioned in Genesis 30:14–17.

8:1 In the ancient Near East, it was improper to show public affection except between family members. The girl is wishing that she could freely show affection to her lover, even in public.

7. The power of love

Friends

5 Who is this coming up from the desert[w] leaning on her lover?

8:5
[w] SS 3:6

Beloved

Under the apple tree I roused you;
there your mother conceived you,
there she who was in labor gave you birth.
6 Place me like a seal over your heart,
like a seal on your arm;
for love is as strong as death,
its jealousy[o] unyielding as the grave.[p]
It burns like blazing fire, like a mighty flame.[q]
7 Many waters cannot quench love; rivers cannot wash it away.
If one were to give all the wealth of his house for love, it[r] would be utterly scorned.[x]

8:7
[x] Pr 6:35

Friends

8 We have a young sister, and her breasts are not yet grown.
What shall we do for our sister for the day she is spoken for?
9 If she is a wall,
we will build towers of silver on her.
If she is a door,
we will enclose her with panels of cedar.

Beloved

10 I am a wall,
and my breasts are like towers.
Thus I have become in his eyes like one bringing contentment.
11 Solomon had a vineyard[y] in Baal Hamon;
he let out his vineyard to tenants.
Each was to bring for its fruit
a thousand shekels[s z] of silver.
12 But my own vineyard is mine to give;
the thousand shekels are for you, O Solomon, and two hundred[t] are for those who tend its fruit.

8:11
[y] Ecc 2:4
[z] Isa 7:23

[o] 6 Or ardor [p] 6 Hebrew Sheol [q] 6 Or / like the very flame of the LORD [r] 7 Or he [s] 11 That is, about 25 pounds (about 11.5 kilograms); also in verse 12 [t] 12 That is, about 5 pounds (about 2.3 kilograms)

8:6, 7 In this final description of their love, the girl includes some of its significant characteristics (see also 1 Corinthians 13). Love is as strong as death; it cannot be killed by time or disaster; and it cannot be bought for any price because it is freely given. Love is priceless, and even the richest king cannot buy it. Love must be accepted as a gift from God and then shared within the guidelines God provides. Accept the love of your spouse as God's gift, and strive to make your love a reflection of the perfect love that comes from God himself.

8:8, 9 The girl was reflecting on the days when she was younger and under the care of her brothers, who wondered how to help her prepare for marriage. They decided that if she was like a wall, standing firm against sexual temptation, they would praise her. But if she was like a door, open to immorality, they would take steps to guard her from doing something foolish. In 8:10, she testifies that she has been persistent in her morality and thus has found favor in Solomon's eyes.

8:11, 12 Solomon could demand rent from the tenants for his vineyard, but the girl had her own vineyard and it was her right to assign it. But she willingly gave Solomon its fruit. In a good marriage, there is no private property, for everything is shared between the partners. Note: Baal Hamon is mentioned only here in the Bible, and its location is unknown.

Lover

13 You who dwell in the gardens with friends in attendance,
let me hear your voice!

Beloved

14 Come away, my lover,
and be like a gazelle
or like a young stag[a] on the spice-laden mountains.[b]

8:14
[a] SS 2:9
[b] SS 2:8, 17

8:14 The love between Solomon and his bride did not diminish in intensity after their wedding night. The lovers relied on each other and kept no secrets from each other. Devotion and commitment were the keys to their relationship, just as they are in our relationships to our spouses and to God. The faithfulness of our marital love should reflect God's perfect faithfulness to us.

Paul shows how marriage represents Christ's relationship to his church (Ephesians 5:22–33), and John pictures the second coming as a great marriage feast for Christ and his bride, his faithful followers (Revelation 19:7, 8; 21:1, 2). Many theologians have thought that Song of Songs is an allegory showing Christ's love for his church. It makes even better sense to say that it is a love poem about a real human love relationship, and that all loving, committed marriages reflect God's love.

Amos becomes a prophet 760 B.C.	Hosea becomes a prophet 753	Micah becomes a prophet 742	Isaiah becomes a prophet 740	Ahaz becomes king of Judah 735	Hoshea becomes king of Israel 732	Israel falls to the Assyrians 722	Hezekiah becomes king of Judah 715

VITAL STATISTICS

PURPOSE:
To call the nation of Judah back to God and to tell of God's salvation through the Messiah

AUTHOR:
The prophet Isaiah son of Amoz

DATE WRITTEN:
The events of chapters 1—39 occurred during Isaiah's ministry, so they were probably written about 700 B.C. Chapters 40—66, however, may have been written near the end of his life, about 681 B.C.

SETTING:
Isaiah is speaking and writing mainly in Jerusalem

KEY VERSE:
"But he was pierced for our transgressions, he was crushed for our iniquities; the punishment that brought us peace was upon him, and by his wounds we are healed" (53:5).

KEY PEOPLE:
Isaiah, his two sons Shear-Jashub and Maher-Shalal-Hash-Baz

SPECIAL FEATURES:
The book of Isaiah contains both prose and poetry and uses personification (attributing personal qualities to divine beings or inanimate objects). Also, many of the prophecies in Isaiah contain predictions that foretell a soon-to-occur event and a distant future event at the same time.

SLOWLY he rose, and the crowd fell silent. Those at the back leaned forward, straining to hear. The atmosphere was electric. He spoke, and his carefully chosen words flew like swift arrows and found their mark. The great man, a spokesman for God, was warning . . . and condemning. The crowd became restless—shifting positions, clenching fists, and murmuring. Some agreed with his message, nodding their heads and weeping softly. But most were angry, and they began to shout back insults and threats.

Such was the life of a prophet.

The "office" of prophet was instituted during the days of Samuel, the last of the judges. Prophets stood with the priests as God's special representatives. The prophet's role was to speak for God, confronting the people and their leaders with God's commands and promises. Because of this confrontational stance and the continuing tendency of people to disobey God, true prophets usually were not very popular. But though their message often went unheeded, they faithfully and forcefully proclaimed the truth.

The book of Isaiah is the first of the writings of the Prophets in the Bible; and Isaiah, the author, is generally considered to be the greatest prophet. He was probably reared in an aristocratic home and was married to a prophetess. In the beginning of his ministry he was well-liked. But, like most prophets, he soon became unpopular because his messages were so difficult to hear. He called the people to turn from their lives of sin and warned them of God's judgment and punishment. Isaiah had an active ministry for 60 years before he was executed during Manasseh's reign (according to tradition). As God's special messenger to Judah, Isaiah prophesied during the reigns of several of its rulers. Many of those messages are recorded in his book: Uzziah and Jotham, chapters 1—6; Ahaz, chapters 7—14; and Hezekiah, chapters 15—39.

The first half of the book of Isaiah (chapters 1—39) contains scathing denunciations and pronouncements as he calls Judah, Israel, and the surrounding nations to repent of their sins. However, the last 27 chapters (40—66) are filled with consolation and hope as Isaiah unfolds God's promise of future blessings through his Messiah.

As you read Isaiah, imagine this strong and courageous man of God, fearlessly proclaiming God's word, and listen to his message in relation to your own life—return, repent, and be renewed. Then trust in God's redemption through Christ and rejoice. Your Savior has come, and he's coming again!

Sennacherib surrounds Jerusalem 701 | Manasseh becomes king of Judah 697 | Isaiah's ministry ends 681 | Josiah becomes king of Judah 640

THE BLUEPRINT

A. WORDS OF JUDGMENT (1:1—39:8)
1. The sins of Israel and Judah
2. Judgment against pagan nations
3. God's purpose in judgment
4. Jerusalem's true and false hopes
5. Events during the reign of Hezekiah

The 39 chapters in the first half of Isaiah generally carry the message of judgment for sin. Isaiah brings the message of judgment to Judah, Israel, and the surrounding pagan nations. Judah had a form of godliness, but in their hearts they were corrupt. Isaiah's warnings were intended to purify the people by helping them understand God's true nature and message. However, they ignored the repeated warnings that Isaiah brought. We need not repeat their error; rather, we should heed the prophetic voice.

B. WORDS OF COMFORT (40:1—66:24)
1. Israel's release from captivity
2. The future Redeemer
3. The future kingdom

The 27 chapters in the second half of Isaiah generally bring a message of forgiveness, comfort, and hope. This message of hope looks forward to the coming of the Messiah. Isaiah speaks more about the Messiah than does any other Old Testament prophet. He describes the Messiah as both a suffering servant and a sovereign Lord. The fact that the Messiah was to be both a suffering servant and a sovereign Lord could not be understood clearly until New Testament times. Based on what Jesus Christ has done, God freely offers forgiveness to all who turn to him in faith. This is God's message of comfort to us because those who heed it find eternal peace and fellowship with him.

MEGATHEMES

THEME	EXPLANATION	IMPORTANCE
Holiness	God is highly exalted above all his creatures. His moral perfection stands in contrast to evil people and nations. God is perfect and sinless in all his motives and actions, so he is in perfect control of his power, judgment, love, and mercy. His holy nature is our yardstick for morality.	Because God is without sin, he alone can help us with our sin. It is only right that we regard him as supreme in power and moral perfection. We must never treat God as common or ordinary. He alone deserves our devotion and praise. He is always truthful, fair, and just.
Punishment	Because God is holy, he requires his people to treat others justly. He promised to punish Israel, Judah, and other nations for faithless immorality and idolatry. True faith had degenerated into national pride and empty religious rituals.	We must trust in God alone and fulfill his commands. We cannot forsake justice nor give in to selfishness. If we harden our hearts against his message, punishment will surely come to us.
Salvation	Because God's judgment is coming, we need a Savior. No man or nation can be saved without God's help. Christ's perfect sacrifice for our sins is foretold and portrayed in Isaiah. All who trust God can be freed from their sin and restored to him.	Christ died to save us from our sin. We cannot save ourselves. He is willing to save all those who turn from their sin and come to him. Salvation is from God alone. No amount of good works can earn it.
Messiah	God will send the Messiah to save his people. He will set up his own kingdom as the faithful Prince of Peace who rules with righteousness. He will come as sovereign Lord, but he will do so as a servant who will die to take away sins.	Our trust must be in the Messiah, not in ourselves or in any nation or power. There is no hope unless we believe in him. Trust Christ fully and let him rule in your life as your sovereign Lord.
Hope	God promises comfort, deliverance, and restoration in his future kingdom. The Messiah will rule over his faithful followers in the age to come. Hope is possible because Christ is coming.	We can be refreshed because there is compassion for those who repent. No matter how bleak our situation or how evil the world is, we must continue to be God's faithful people who hope for his return.

A. WORDS OF JUDGMENT (1:1—39:8)

Isaiah begins by bringing a message of divine judgment for both Israel and Judah. Although the advance of the Assyrians poses a problem for Judah, God foretells the destruction of Assyria and other evil surrounding nations through the prophet Isaiah. This section ends with the Assyrian invasion being held off, demonstrating the clear unfolding of God's plan and promises for the nation at this time.

1. The sins of Israel and Judah

1 The vision concerning Judah and Jerusalem that Isaiah son of Amoz saw[a] during the reigns of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz[b] and Hezekiah, kings of Judah.

1:1 [a] Isa 2:1 [b] 2Ki 16:1

A Rebellious Nation

2 Hear, O heavens! Listen, O earth!
For the LORD has spoken:
"I reared children and brought them up,
but they have rebelled against me.
3 The ox knows his master,
the donkey his owner's manger,
but Israel does not know,[c]
my people do not understand."

1:3 [c] Jer 9:3, 6

4 Ah, sinful nation,
a people loaded with guilt,
a brood of evildoers,[d]
children given to corruption!
They have forsaken the LORD;
they have spurned the Holy One[e] of Israel and turned their backs on him.

1:4 [d] Isa 14:20 [e] Isa 5:19, 24

5 Why should you be beaten anymore?
Why do you persist in rebellion?[f]
Your whole head is injured, your whole heart afflicted.[g] 6 From the sole of your foot to the top of your head there is no soundness[h]— only wounds and welts and open sores,
not cleansed or bandaged or soothed with oil.

1:5 [f] Isa 31:6 [g] Isa 33:6, 24

1:6 [h] Ps 38:3

7 Your country is desolate, your cities burned with fire;
your fields are being stripped by foreigners

1:1 Isaiah was a prophet during the time when the original nation of Israel had been divided into two kingdoms—Israel in the north, and Judah in the south. The northern kingdom had sinned greatly against God, and the southern kingdom was headed in the same direction—perverting justice, oppressing the poor, turning from God to idols, and looking for military aid from pagan nations rather than from God. Isaiah came primarily as a prophet to Judah, but his message was also for the northern kingdom. Sometimes "Israel" refers to both kingdoms. Isaiah lived to see the destruction and captivity of the northern kingdom in 722 B.C. Thus, his ministry began as one of warning.

1:2–4 Here "Israel" means the southern kingdom, Judah. The people of Judah were sinning greatly and refused to know and understand God. God brought charges against them through Isaiah because they had rebelled and had forsaken the Lord. By these acts, they had broken their moral and spiritual covenant with God (see Deuteronomy 28). By breaking their agreement, they were bringing God's punishment upon themselves. First God gave them prosperity, but they didn't serve him. Then God sent them warnings, but they refused to listen. Finally, he would bring the fire of his judgment (see 1:7).

1:4–9 As long as the people of Judah continued to sin, they cut themselves off from God's help and isolated themselves. When you feel lonely and separated from God, remember that God does not abandon you. Our sins cut us off from him. The only sure cure for this kind of loneliness is to restore a meaningful relationship with God by confessing your sin, obeying his instructions, and communicating regularly with him (see Psalm 140:13; Isaiah 1:16–19; 1 John 1:9).

1:7 Was this destruction taking place at that time? Judah was attacked many times during Isaiah's lifetime. To be stripped (devastated) by foreigners was the worst kind of judgment. This verse could be a picture of the results of these invasions or a prediction of the coming invasion of Israel by Assyria. But most likely it pointed to Babylon's future invasion of Judah and the fall of Jerusalem in 586 B.C. as well.

right before you,
laid waste as when overthrown by strangers.
8The Daughter of Zion is left like a shelter in a vineyard, like a hut[j] in a field of melons,
like a city under siege.
9Unless the LORD Almighty had left us some survivors,
we would have become like Sodom,
we would have been like Gomorrah.[j]

10Hear the word of the LORD,[k]
you rulers of Sodom;[l]
listen to the law of our God,
you people of Gomorrah!
11"The multitude of your sacrifices — what are they to me?" says the LORD.
"I have more than enough of burnt offerings,
of rams and the fat of fattened animals;
I have no pleasure
in the blood of bulls and lambs and goats.[m] 12When you come to appear before me, who has asked this of you,[n]
this trampling of my courts?
13Stop bringing meaningless offerings![o]
Your incense[p] is detestable to me.
New Moons, Sabbaths and convocations[q] —
I cannot bear your evil assemblies.
14Your New Moon festivals and your appointed feasts[r]
my soul hates.
They have become a burden to me;
I am weary[s] of bearing them.

1:8 [j] Job 27:18

1:9 [j] Ge 19:24; Ro 9:29*

1:10 [k] Isa 28:14 [l] Eze 16:49; Rev 11:8

1:11 [m] 1Sa 15:22

1:12 [n] Ex 23:17

1:13 [o] Isa 66:3 [p] Jer 7:9 [q] 1Ch 23:31

1:14 [r] Nu 28:11-29:39 [s] Isa 43:22, 24

ISAIAH served as a prophet to Judah from 740–681 B.C.

Climate of the times	Society was in a great upheaval. Under King Ahaz and King Manasseh the people reverted to idolatry, and there was even child sacrifice.
Main message	Although judgment from other nations was inevitable, the people could still have a special relationship with God.
Importance of message	Sometimes we must suffer judgment and discipline before we are restored to God.
Contemporary prophets	Hosea (753–715) Micah (742–687)

1:9 Sodom and Gomorrah were two cities that God completely destroyed for their great wickedness (Genesis 19:1–25). They are mentioned elsewhere in the Bible as examples of God's judgment against sin (Jeremiah 50:40; Ezekiel 16:46–63; Matthew 11:23, 24; Jude 7). "Some survivors" from Judah were spared by God because they were faithful.

1:10 Isaiah compared the rulers and people of Judah to the rulers and people of Sodom and Gomorrah. To hear what God wanted to say, the people had to listen and be willing to obey. When we can't hear God's message, perhaps we are not listening carefully or we are not truly willing to do what he says.

1:10–14 God was unhappy with their sacrifices, but he was not revoking the system of sacrifices he had initiated with Moses. Instead, God was calling for sincere faith and devotion. The leaders were carefully making the traditional sacrifices and offerings at holy celebrations, but they were still unfaithful to God in their hearts. Sacrifices were to be an outward sign of their inward faith in God, but the outward signs became empty because no inward faith existed. Why, then, did they continue to offer sacrifices? Like many people today, they had come to place more faith in the rituals of their religion than in the God they worshiped. Examine your own religious practices: do they spring from your faith in the living God? God does not take pleasure in our outward expressions if our inward faith is missing (see Deuteronomy 10:12–16; 1 Samuel 15:22, 23; Psalm 51:16–19; Hosea 6:6).

1:13 "New Moons" and "Sabbaths" refer to monthly offerings (Numbers 28:11–14) and weekly and special annual Sabbaths on the Day of Atonement and Feast of Tabernacles (Leviticus 16:31, 23–34, 39). For all the feasts, see the chart in Leviticus 23. Although the people did not feel sorry for their sins, they continued to offer sacrifices for forgiveness. Gifts and sacrifices mean nothing to God when they come from someone with a corrupt heart. God wants us to love him, trust him, and turn from our sin; after that, he will be pleased with our "sacrifices" of time, money, or service.

15 When you spread out your hands in prayer,
I will hide my eyes from you;
even if you offer many prayers,
I will not listen.
Your hands are full of blood;[t]
16 wash and make yourselves clean.
Take your evil deeds
out of my sight!
Stop doing wrong,[u]
17 learn to do right!
Seek justice,
encourage the oppressed.[a] Defend the cause of the fatherless,[v] plead the case of the widow.

18 "Come now, let us reason together,"[w]
says the LORD.
"Though your sins are like scarlet,
they shall be as white as snow;[x]
though they are red as crimson,
they shall be like wool.
19 If you are willing and obedient,
you will eat the best from the land;[y] 20 but if you resist and rebel,
you will be devoured by the sword."[z]
For the mouth of the LORD has spoken.

21 See how the faithful city has become a harlot![a]
She once was full of justice; righteousness used to dwell in her—
but now murderers!
22 Your silver has become dross,
your choice wine is diluted with water.
23 Your rulers are rebels, companions of thieves;
they all love bribes
and chase after gifts.
They do not defend the cause of the fatherless;
the widow's case does not come before them.[b]
24 Therefore the Lord, the LORD Almighty,
the Mighty One of Israel, declares:
"Ah, I will get relief from my foes and avenge[c] myself on my enemies.
25 I will turn my hand against you;

1:15 [t] Isa 59:3

1:16 [u] Isa 55:7

1:17 [v] Ps 82:3

1:18 [w] Isa 43:9, 26 [x] Ps 51:7; Rev 7:14

1:19 [y] Dt 30:15-16

1:20 [z] Isa 3:25

1:21 [a] Jer 2:20

1:23 [b] Jer 5:28

1:24 [c] Isa 35:4

[a] 17 Or / rebuke the oppressor

1:18 Scarlet, or crimson, was the color of a deep-red permanent dye, and its deep stain was virtually impossible to remove from clothing. The bloodstained hands of the murderers are probably in view here (see 1:15, 21). The stain of sin seems equally permanent, but God can remove sin's stain from our lives as he promised to do for the Israelites. We don't have to go through life permanently soiled. God's Word assures us that if we are willing and obedient, Christ will forgive and remove our most indelible stains (Psalm 51:1–7).

1:21, 22 "The faithful city" refers to Jerusalem, representing all of Judah. God compares the actions of his people to a harlot. The people had turned from the worship of the true God to worshiping idols. Their faith was defective, impure, and diluted. Idolatry, outward or inward, is spiritual adultery, breaking our commitment to God in order to love something else. Jesus described the people of his day as adulterous, even though they were religiously strict. As the church, we are the "bride" of Christ (Revelation 19:7), and, by faith, we can be clothed in his righteousness. Has your faith become impure? Ask God to restore you. Keep your devotion to him strong and pure.

1:25 God promised to refine his people similar to the way that metal is purged with lye in a smelting pot. This process involves melting the metal and skimming off the impure dross until the worker can see his own image in the liquid metal. We must be willing to submit to God, allowing him to remove our sin so that we might reflect his image.

I will thoroughly purge away your dross and remove all your impurities.[d] 26I will restore your judges as in days of old,[e] your counselors as at the beginning.
Afterward you will be called the City of Righteousness,[f]
the Faithful City."

27Zion will be redeemed with justice, her penitent ones with righteousness.
28But rebels and sinners will both be broken, and those who forsake the LORD will perish.[g]

29"You will be ashamed because of the sacred oaks[h] in which you have delighted;
you will be disgraced because of the gardens[i]
that you have chosen.
30You will be like an oak with fading leaves,
like a garden without water.
31The mighty man will become tinder and his work a spark;
both will burn together,
with no one to quench the fire."

The Mountain of the LORD

2 This is what Isaiah son of Amoz saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem:

2In the last days

the mountain[j] of the LORD's temple will be established as chief among the mountains;
it will be raised above the hills,
and all nations will stream to it.

3Many peoples will come and say,

"Come, let us go up to the mountain of the LORD,
to the house of the God of Jacob.
He will teach us his ways,
so that we may walk in his paths."
The law will go out from Zion,
the word of the LORD from Jerusalem.[k] 4He will judge between the nations and will settle disputes for many peoples.

1:25
[d] Mal 3:3

1:26
[e] Jer 33:7, 11
[f] Zec 8:3

1:28
[g] Ps 9:5; 2Th 1:8-9

1:29
[h] Isa 57:5
[i] Isa 65:3

2:2
[j] Mic 4:7

2:3
[k] Lk 24:47

1:29, 30 Throughout history, the oak tree has been a symbol of strength, but the people were worshiping "sacred oaks." Ezekiel mentions that groves of oak trees were used as places for idol worship (Ezekiel 6:13). Are you devoted to symbols of strength and power that rival God's place in your life? Do you have interests and commitments where your love for them borders on worship? Make God your first loyalty; everything else will fade in time and burn away under his scrutiny.

1:31 A spark set to tinder ignites a quick, devouring fire. God compares mighty people whose evil deeds devour them to a roaring fire. Our lives can be destroyed quickly by a small but deadly spark of evil. What potential "fire hazards" do you need to remove?

2:2 The temple was built on the mountain of the Lord, Mount Moriah, highly visible to all the people of Jerusalem. For more on the significance of the temple, see the note on 2 Chronicles 5:1ff. In the last days the temple will attract the nations, not because of its architecture and prominence, but because of God's presence and influence.

2:2–4 God gave Isaiah the gift of seeing the future. At this time, God showed Isaiah what would eventually happen to Jerusalem. Revelation 21 depicts the glorious fulfillment of this prophecy in the new Jerusalem, where only those whose names are written in the Lamb's book of life will be allowed to enter. God made a covenant (promise) with his people and will never break it. God's faithfulness gives us hope for the future.

2:4, 5 This describes a wonderful future of peace when instruments of war will be converted to instruments of farming, when we will be taught God's laws and will obey them. Although we know that eventually God will remove all sin and thus the causes of war, conflicts, and other problems, we should not wait for him to act before we begin to obey him. Just as Judah was told in 2:5, we should walk in his light now. Though our eternal reward awaits us, we already can enjoy many benefits of obedience now as we apply God's Word to our lives.

They will beat their swords into plowshares and their spears into pruning hooks.
Nation will not take up sword against nation,[l]
nor will they train for war anymore.

2:4 [l] Isa 32:18; Hos 2:18

5Come, O house of Jacob,[m]
let us walk in the light of the LORD.

2:5 [m] Isa 58:1

The Day of the LORD

6You have abandoned[n] your people,
the house of Jacob.
They are full of superstitions from the East;
they practice divination like the Philistines and clasp hands with pagans.[o] 7Their land is full of silver and gold;
there is no end to their treasures.
Their land is full of horses;[p] there is no end to their chariots.
8Their land is full of idols;
they bow down to the work of their hands,
to what their fingers[q] have made.
9So man will be brought low and mankind humbled—
do not forgive them.[b]

2:6 [n] Dt 31:17 [o] 2Ki 16:7

2:7 [p] Dt 17:16

2:8 [q] Isa 17:8

10Go into the rocks, hide in the ground
from dread of the LORD
and the splendor of his majesty![r] 11The eyes of the arrogant man will be humbled and the pride[s] of men brought low;
the LORD alone will be exalted in that day.

2:10 [r] 2Th 1:9; Rev 6:15-16

2:11 [s] Isa 5:15

12The LORD Almighty has a day in store for all the proud and lofty,
for all that is exalted[t]
(and they will be humbled), 13for all the cedars of Lebanon, tall and lofty,
and all the oaks of Bashan,[u] 14for all the towering mountains and all the high hills,[v] 15for every lofty tower and every fortified wall,

2:12 [t] Isa 24:4, 21

2:13 [u] Zec 11:2

2:14 [v] Isa 30:25

[b] 9 Or not raise them up

2:6 The people were following practices of the Assyrian empire. "Divination like the Philistines" meant claiming to know and control the future by the power of demons or by interpreting omens. These practices were forbidden by God (see Leviticus 19:26; Deuteronomy 18:10, 14). The Philistines worshiped Dagon, Ashtoreth, and Baal-Zebub. During the more sinful periods of their history, the people of Israel worshiped these pagan gods along with Yahweh, and even gave them Hebrew names.

2:8, 9 Under the reign of evil kings, idol worship flourished in both Israel and Judah. A few good kings in Judah stopped it during their reigns. Though very few people worship carved or molded images today, worshiping objects that symbolize power continues. We pay homage to cars, homes, sports stars, celebrities, money, etc. Idol worship is evil because (1) it insults God when we worship something he created rather than worshiping him; (2) it keeps us from knowing and serving God when we put our confidence in anything other than him; (3) it causes us to rely on our own efforts rather than on God. (See also Deuteronomy 27:15.)

2:12 The "day" of the Lord Almighty is the day of judgment, the time when God will judge both evil and good. That day will come, and we will want a proper relationship with God when it does. God alone must be exalted (2:11, 17) as the first step toward developing that relationship with him.

2:15–17 Lofty towers were part of a city or nation's defenses. This phrase refers to security based on military fortresses. "Every trading ship" pictures economic prosperity; and a "stately vessel" is a pleasure vessel. Nothing can compare with or rival the place God must have in our hearts and minds. To place our hope elsewhere is nothing but false pride. Place your confidence in God alone.

16 for every trading ship[c]
and every stately vessel.
17 The arrogance of man will be brought low and the pride of men humbled;
the LORD alone will be exalted in that day,
18 and the idols will totally disappear.[w]

19 Men will flee to caves in the rocks and to holes in the ground
from dread of the LORD
and the splendor of his majesty,
when he rises to shake the earth.[x] 20 In that day men will throw away to the rodents and bats their idols of silver and idols of gold, which they made to worship.
21 They will flee to caverns in the rocks and to the overhanging crags
from dread of the LORD
and the splendor of his majesty,
when he rises to shake the earth.[y]

22 Stop trusting in man,[z] who has but a breath in his nostrils.
Of what account is he?[a]

Judgment on Jerusalem and Judah

3 See now, the Lord,
the LORD Almighty, is about to take from Jerusalem and Judah
both supply and support:
all supplies of food[b] and all supplies of water,
2 the hero and warrior,
the judge and prophet,
the soothsayer and elder,
3 the captain of fifty and man of rank,
the counselor, skilled craftsman and clever enchanter.

4 I will make boys their officials;
mere children will govern them.[c] 5 People will oppress each other—man against man, neighbor against neighbor.[d]
The young will rise up against the old,
the base against the honorable.

6 A man will seize one of his brothers at his father's home, and say,
"You have a cloak, you be our leader;

2:18 [w] Isa 21:9
2:19 [x] Heb 12:26
2:21 [y] ver 19
2:22 [z] Ps 146:3 [a] Jas 4:14
3:1 [b] Lev 26:26
3:4 [c] Ecc 10:16 fn
3:5 [d] Mic 7:2, 6

[c] 16 Hebrew every ship of Tarshish

2:19 See Revelation 6:15–17 for a description of the dread in God's enemies on the day of his wrath.

2:22 "But a breath in his nostrils" refers to mankind's mortality. People are very limited when compared to God. They can be unreliable, selfish, and shortsighted. Yet we trust our lives and futures more readily to mortal human beings than to the all-knowing God. Beware of people who want you to trust them instead of God. Remember that only God is completely reliable. He is perfect and he loves us with an enduring love (Psalm 100:5).

3:1–3 Jerusalem besieged, her leaders destroyed—this unhappy picture would soon become a reality. Disobedience would bring serious affliction and great destruction, as God had warned (Deuteronomy 28).

3:2 Isaiah was not condoning the use of soothsayers (diviners) by including them on this list. He was showing how far the nation had sunk. See the note on 2:6.

3:4–9 This section describes what happens when a nation loses its leadership.

take charge of this heap of ruins!"
7But in that day he will cry out,
"I have no remedy.[e]
I have no food or clothing in my house;
do not make me the leader of the people."

8Jerusalem staggers, Judah is falling;[f]
their words and deeds are against the LORD, defying his glorious presence.
9The look on their faces testifies against them;
they parade their sin like Sodom;[g]
they do not hide it.
Woe to them!
They have brought disaster upon themselves.

10Tell the righteous it will be well with them,
for they will enjoy the fruit of their deeds.
11Woe to the wicked! Disaster is upon them!
They will be paid back for what their hands have done.

12Youths[h] oppress my people,
women rule over them.
O my people, your guides lead you astray;[i] they turn you from the path.

13The LORD takes his place in court;
he rises to judge the people.
14The LORD enters into judgment against the elders and leaders of his people:
"It is you who have ruined my vineyard;
the plunder[j] from the poor is in your houses.
15What do you mean by crushing my people and grinding the faces of the poor?"
declares the Lord, the LORD Almighty.

16The LORD says,
"The women of Zion are haughty, walking along with outstretched necks,
flirting with their eyes,

3:7 [e] Eze 34:4
3:8 [f] Isa 1:7
3:9 [g] Ge 13:13
3:12 [h] ver 4 [i] Isa 9:16
3:14 [j] Jas 2:6

3:9–11 The people would be proud of their sins, parading them out in the open. But sin is self-destructive. In today's world, sinful living often appears glamorous, exciting, and clever. But sin is wrong regardless of how society perceives it, and, in the long run, sin will make us miserable and destroy us. God tries to protect us by warning us about the harm we will cause ourselves by sinning. Those who are proud of their sins will receive the punishment from God they deserve. Having rejected God's path to life (see Psalm 1), the only alternative is the path to destruction.

3:10, 11 In the middle of this gloomy message, God gives hope – eventually the righteous will receive God's reward and the wicked will receive their punishment. It is disheartening to see the wicked prosper while we struggle to obey God and follow his plan. Yet we keep holding on to God's truth and take heart! God will bring about justice in the end, and he will reward those who have been faithful.

3:14 The elders and leaders were responsible to help people, but instead they stole from the poor. Because they were unjust, Isaiah said the leaders would be the first to receive God's judgment. Leaders will be held accountable. If you are in a position of leadership, you must lead according to God's just commands. Corruption will bring God's wrath, especially if others follow your example.

3:14 Why is justice so important in the Bible? (1) Justice is part of God's nature; it is the way he runs the universe. (2) It is a natural desire in every person. Even as sinners, we all want justice for ourselves. (3) When government and church leaders are unjust, the poor and powerless suffer. Thus they are hindered from worshiping God. (4) God holds the poor in high regard. They are the ones most likely to turn to him for help and comfort. Injustice, then, attacks God's children. When we do nothing to help the oppressed, we are in fact joining with the oppressor. Because we follow a just God, we must uphold justice.

3:16–26 The women of Judah had placed their emphasis on clothing and jewelry rather than on God. They dressed to be noticed, to gain approval, and to be fashionable. Yet they ignored the real purpose for their lives. Instead of being concerned about the oppression around them (3:14, 15), they were self-serving and self-centered. People who abuse their possessions will end up with nothing. These verses are not an indictment against clothing and jewelry, but a judgment on those who use them lavishly while remaining blind to the needs of others. When God blesses you with money or position, don't flaunt it. Use what you have to help others, not impress them.

tripping along with mincing steps, with ornaments jingling on their ankles.
17Therefore the Lord will bring sores on the heads of the women of Zion;
the LORD will make their scalps bald."

18In that day the Lord will snatch away their finery: the bangles and headbands
3:18 [k] Jdg 8:21 and crescent necklaces,[k] 19the earrings and bracelets and veils, 20the head-
3:20 [l] Ex 39:28 dresses[l] and ankle chains and sashes, the perfume bottles and charms, 21the signet rings and nose rings, 22the fine robes and the capes and cloaks, the purses 23and mirrors, and the linen garments and tiaras and shawls.

24Instead of fragrance there will be a stench;
instead of a sash, a rope;
instead of well-dressed hair, baldness;
instead of fine clothing, sackcloth;
instead of beauty, branding.
3:25 [m] Isa 1:20 25Your men will fall by the sword,[m] your warriors in battle.
3:26 [n] Jer 14:2 26The gates of Zion will lament and mourn;[n] destitute, she will sit on the ground.
4 In that day seven women
4:1 [o] Isa 13:12 will take hold of one man[o] [p] 2Th 3:12 and say, "We will eat our own food[p] and provide our own clothes;
only let us be called by your name.
Take away our disgrace!"

The Branch of the LORD

4:2 [q] Jer 23:5-6 2In that day the Branch of the LORD[q] will be beautiful and glorious, and the fruit of the land will be the pride and glory of the survivors in Israel. 3Those who are left 4:3 [r] Isa 60:21 in Zion, who remain in Jerusalem, will be called holy,[r] all who are recorded[s]
[s] Lk 10:20 among the living in Jerusalem. 4The Lord will wash away the filth of the women of 4:4 [t] Isa 28:6 Zion; he will cleanse the bloodstains from Jerusalem by a spirit[d] of judgment[t] and a spirit[d] of fire. 5Then the LORD will create over all of Mount Zion and over those 4:5 [u] Ex 13:21 who assemble there a cloud of smoke by day and a glow of flaming fire by night;[u] over all the glory will be a canopy. 6It will be a shelter and shade from the heat of 4:6 [v] Isa 25:4 the day, and a refuge[v] and hiding place from the storm and rain.

The Song of the Vineyard

5 I will sing for the one I love
5:1 [w] Ps 80:8-9 a song about his vineyard:[w]
My loved one had a vineyard on a fertile hillside.
2He dug it up and cleared it of stones and planted it with the choicest vines.
He built a watchtower in it and cut out a winepress as well.

[d] 4 Or the Spirit

4:2–4 The "Branch of the LORD" probably refers to the Messiah, although some believe it refers to Judah. The point is that during the distress predicted by Isaiah, some people will be protected by God's loving grace. Those protected will be set apart to God when Messiah rules the earth (Jeremiah 23:5, 6; Zechariah 6:12, 13). Their distinctive mark will be their holiness, not wealth or prestige. This holiness comes from a sincere desire to obey God and from wholehearted devotion to him. Evil will not always continue as it does now. The time will come when God will put an end to all evil, and his faithful followers will share in his glorious reign.

5:1–7 The lesson of the song of the vineyard shows that God's chosen nation was to bear fruit – to carry out his work, to uphold justice. It did bear fruit, but the fruit was bad. This passage uses plays on words: the Hebrew words for justice and bloodshed sound very much alike, as do those for righteousness and distress. Jesus said, "By their fruit you will recognize them" (Matthew 7:20). Have you examined your own "fruit" lately? Is it good or bad – useful or wild?

Then he looked for a crop of good grapes,
but it yielded only bad fruit.[x]

3"Now you dwellers in Jerusalem and men of Judah, judge between me and my vineyard.[y] 4What more could have been done for my vineyard than I have done for it?[z]
When I looked for good grapes, why did it yield only bad?
5Now I will tell you what I am going to do to my vineyard:
I will take away its hedge,
and it will be destroyed;
I will break down its wall,[a]
and it will be trampled.[b] 6I will make it a wasteland, neither pruned nor cultivated,
and briers and thorns will grow there.
I will command the clouds not to rain on it."

7The vineyard[c] of the LORD Almighty is the house of Israel, and the men of Judah
are the garden of his delight.
And he looked for justice, but saw bloodshed;
for righteousness, but heard cries of distress.

Woes and Judgments

8Woe to you who add house to house and join field to field[d] till no space is left and you live alone in the land.

9The LORD Almighty has declared in my hearing:[e]

"Surely the great houses will become desolate, the fine mansions left without occupants.
10A ten-acre[e] vineyard will produce only a bath[f] of wine, a homer[g] of seed only an ephah[h] of grain."

11Woe to those who rise early in the morning to run after their drinks, who stay up late at night
till they are inflamed with wine.[f] 12They have harps and lyres at their banquets, tambourines and flutes and wine,
but they have no regard for the deeds of the LORD,
no respect for the work of his hands.[g]
13Therefore my people will go into exile

5:2 [x] Lk 13:6
5:3 [y] Mt 21:40
5:4 [z] Mt 23:37
5:5 [a] Ps 80:12 [b] Lk 21:24
5:7 [c] Ps 80:8
5:8 [d] Mic 2:2
5:9 [e] Isa 22:14
5:11 [f] Pr 23:29-30
5:12 [g] Ps 28:5

[e] 10 Hebrew ten-yoke, that is, the land plowed by 10 yoke of oxen in one day [f] 10 That is, probably about 6 gallons (about 22 liters) [g] 10 That is, probably about 6 bushels (about 220 liters) [h] 10 That is, probably about 3/5 bushel (about 22 liters)

5:8–25 In this section, God condemns six sins: (1) exploiting others (5:8–10); (2) drunkenness (5:11, 12); (3) taking sarcastic pride in sin (5:18, 19); (4) confusing moral standards (5:20); (5) being conceited (5:21); (6) perverting justice (5:22–24). Because of these sins, God punished Israel with destruction by Assyria (5:25–30). A similar fate was awaiting Judah if they didn't turn from these sins.

5:11–13 These people spent many hours drinking and partying, but Isaiah predicted that eventually many would die of hunger and thirst. Ironically, our pleasures – if they do not have God's blessing – may destroy us. Leaving God out of our lives allows sin to come into them. God wants us to enjoy life (1 Timothy 6:17) but to avoid those activities that could lead us away from him.

5:13 The nation's heroes – the "men of rank" – would suffer the for lack of understanding; their men of rank will die of hunger and their masses will be parched with thirst.

14 Therefore the grave[i] enlarges its appetite and opens its mouth without limit;
into it will descend their nobles and masses with all their brawlers and revelers.
15 So man will be brought low and mankind humbled,[h]
the eyes of the arrogant[i] humbled.
16 But the LORD Almighty will be exalted by his justice, and the holy God will show himself holy[j] by his righteousness.
17 Then sheep will graze as in their own pasture;
lambs will feed[j] among the ruins of the rich.

18 Woe to those who draw sin along with cords of deceit, and wickedness[k] as with cart ropes, 19 to those who say, "Let God hurry, let him hasten his work
so we may see it.
Let it approach,
let the plan of the Holy One of Israel come,
so we may know it."[l]

20 Woe to those who call evil good and good evil,
who put darkness for light and light for darkness,[m] who put bitter for sweet and sweet for bitter.

21 Woe to those who are wise in their own eyes[n]
and clever in their own sight.

22 Woe to those who are heroes at drinking wine and champions at mixing drinks, 23 who acquit the guilty for a bribe,
but deny justice to the innocent.[o] 24 Therefore, as tongues of fire lick up straw and as dry grass sinks down in the flames, so their roots will decay[p]
and their flowers blow away like dust;
for they have rejected the law of the LORD Almighty and spurned the word of the Holy One of Israel.
25 Therefore the LORD's anger[q] burns against his people;

5:15 [h] Isa 2:9 [i] Isa 2:11
5:16 [j] Isa 29:23
5:18 [k] Isa 59:4-8
5:19 [l] Eze 12:22; 2Pe 3:4
5:20 [m] Mt 6:22-23
5:21 [n] Ro 12:16
5:23 [o] Ps 94:21
5:24 [p] Job 18:16
5:25 [q] 2Ki 22:13

[i] 14 Hebrew Sheol [j] 17 Septuagint; Hebrew / strangers will eat

same humiliation as the common people. Why? Because they lived by their own values rather than God's. Many of today's media and sports heroes are idolized because of their ability to live as they please. Are your heroes those who defy God, or those who defy the world in order to serve God?

5:18, 19 Some people drag their sins around with them. Some do so arrogantly, but for others, their sins have become a burden that wears them out. Are you dragging around a cartload of sins that you refuse to give up? Before you find yourself worn out and useless, turn to the One who promises to take away your burden of sin and replace it with a purpose for living that is a joy to fulfill (see Matthew 11:28–30).

5:20 When people do not carefully observe the distinction between good and evil, destruction soon follows. It is easy for people to say, "No one can decide for anyone else what is really right or wrong." They may think getting drunk can't hurt them, extramarital sex isn't really wrong, or money doesn't control them. But when we make excuses for our actions, we break down the distinction between right and wrong. If we do not take God's Word, the Bible, as our standard, soon all moral choices will appear fuzzy. Without God, we are headed for a breakdown and much suffering.

5:24 The people suffered because they rejected God's law. It is sad to see so many people today searching for meaning in life while spurning God's Word. We can avoid the error of Israel and Judah by making reading the Bible a high priority in our lives.

his hand is raised and he strikes them down.
The mountains shake,
and the dead bodies are like refuse in the streets.

Yet for all this, his anger is not turned away,
his hand is still upraised.[r]

26He lifts up a banner for the distant nations, he whistles[s] for those at the ends of the earth.[t] Here they come,
swiftly and speedily!
27Not one of them grows tired or stumbles, not one slumbers or sleeps;
not a belt is loosened at the waist, not a sandal thong is broken.[u] 28Their arrows are sharp, all their bows[v] are strung;
their horses' hoofs seem like flint,
their chariot wheels like a whirlwind.
29Their roar is like that of the lion,[w] they roar like young lions;
they growl as they seize[x] their prey and carry it off with no one to rescue.[y] 30In that day they will roar over it like the roaring of the sea.
And if one looks at the land,
he will see darkness and distress;
even the light will be darkened by the clouds.

5:25
[r] Isa 9:12, 17, 21

5:26
[s] Isa 7:18
[t] Dt 28:49

5:27
[u] Joel 2:7-8

5:28
[v] Ps 7:12

5:29
[w] Jer 51:38
[x] Isa 10:6
[y] Isa 42:22

Isaiah's Commission

6 In the year that King Uzziah died,[z] I saw the Lord[a] seated on a throne, high and exalted, and the train of his robe filled the temple. 2Above him were seraphs, each with six wings: With two wings they covered their faces, with two they covered their feet, and with two they were flying. 3And they were calling to one another:

6:1
[z] 2Ki 15:7
[a] Jn 12:41

"Holy, holy, holy is the LORD Almighty;
the whole earth is full of his glory."[b]

6:3
[b] Ps 72:19; Rev 4:8

4At the sound of their voices the doorposts and thresholds shook and the temple was filled with smoke.

5"Woe to me!" I cried. "I am ruined! For I am a man of unclean lips, and I live

---

5:26–30 This passage describes what God would do if the people disobeyed him (Deuteronomy 28). Assyria began to torment Israel during the reign of Ahaz (735–715 B.C.). This powerful aggressor destroyed the northern kingdom in 722 B.C. and scattered the people throughout its own empire. Sin has consequences. Although this judgment was not immediate, eventually Israel was punished.

6:1 The year that King Uzziah died was approximately 740 B.C. He remained leprous until he died because he tried to take over the high priest's duties (2 Chronicles 26:18–21). Although Uzziah was generally a good king with a long and prosperous reign, many of his people turned away from God.

6:1ff Isaiah's vision was his commission to be God's messenger to his people. Isaiah was given a difficult mission. He had to tell people who believed they were blessed by God that instead God was going to destroy them because of their disobedience.

6:1ff Isaiah's lofty view of God in 6:1–4 gives us a sense of God's greatness, mystery, and power. Isaiah's example of recognizing his sinfulness before God encourages us to confess our sin. His picture of forgiveness reminds us that we, too, are forgiven. When we recognize how great our God is, how sinful we are, and the extent of God's forgiveness, we receive power to do his work. How does your concept of the greatness of God measure up to Isaiah's?

6:1–3 The throne, the attending seraphs or angels, and the threefold holy all stressed God's holiness. Seraphs were a type of angel whose name is derived from the word for "burn," perhaps indicating their purity as God's ministers. In a time when moral and spiritual decay had peaked, it was important for Isaiah to see God in his holiness. Holiness means morally perfect, pure, and set apart from all sin. We also need to discover God's holiness. Our daily frustrations, society's pressures, and our shortcomings reduce and narrow our view of God. We need the Bible's view of God as high and lifted up to empower us to deal with our problems and concerns. God's moral perfection, properly seen, will purify us from sin, cleanse our minds from our problems, and enable us to worship and to serve.

among a people of unclean lips, and my eyes have seen the King, the LORD Almighty."

6Then one of the seraphs flew to me with a live coal in his hand, which he had taken with tongs from the altar. 7With it he touched my mouth and said, "See, this has touched your lips;[c] your guilt is taken away and your sin atoned for."

8Then I heard the voice of the Lord saying, "Whom shall I send? And who will go for us?"

And I said, "Here am I. Send me!"

6:7 [c] Jer 1:9

Trees and prophets share at least one important characteristic—both are planted for the future. Yet seedlings are often overlooked and prophets often ignored. Isaiah is one of the best examples of this. The people of his time could have been rescued by his words. Instead, they refused to believe him. With the passing of centuries, however, Isaiah's words have cast a shadow on all of history.

Isaiah was active as a prophet during the reigns of five kings, but he did not set out to be a prophet. By the time King Uzziah died, Isaiah may have been established as a scribe in the royal palace in Jerusalem. It was a respectable career, but God had other plans for his servant. Isaiah's account of God's call leaves little doubt about what motivated the prophet for the next half century. His vision of God was unforgettable.

The encounter with God permanently affected Isaiah's character. He reflected the God he represented. Isaiah's messages—some comforting, some confronting—are so distinct that some have guessed they came from different authors. Isaiah's testimony is that the messages came from the only One capable of being perfect in justice as well as in mercy—God himself.

When he called Isaiah as a prophet, God did not encourage him with predictions of great success. God told Isaiah that the people would not listen. But he was to speak and write his messages anyway because eventually some would listen. God compared his people to a tree that would have to be cut down so that a new tree could grow from the old stump (Isaiah 6:13).

We who are part of that future can see that many of the promises God gave through Isaiah have been fulfilled in Jesus Christ. We also gain the hope of knowing that God is active in all of history, including our own.

Strengths and accomplishments:
- Considered the greatest Old Testament prophet
- Quoted at least 50 times in the New Testament
- Had powerful messages of both judgment and hope
- Carried out a consistent ministry even though there was little positive response from his listeners
- His ministry spanned the reigns of five kings of Judah

Lessons from his life:
- God's help is needed in order to effectively confront sin while comforting people
- One result of experiencing forgiveness is the desire to share that forgiveness with others
- God is purely and perfectly holy, just, and loving

Vital statistics:
- Where: Jerusalem
- Occupations: Scribe, prophet
- Relatives: Father: Amoz. Sons: Shear-Jashub, Maher-Shalal-Hash-Baz
- Contemporaries: Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, Hezekiah, Manasseh, Micah

Key verse:
"Then I heard the voice of the Lord saying, 'Whom shall I send? And who will go for us?' And I said, 'Here am I. Send me!' " (Isaiah 6:8).

Isaiah's story is told in 2 Kings 19:2—20:19. He is also mentioned in 2 Chronicles 26:22; 32:20, 32; Matthew 3:3; 8:17; 12:17–21; John 12:38–41; Romans 10:16, 20, 21.

6:5–8 Seeing the Lord and listening to the praise of the angels, Isaiah realized that he was unclean before God, with no hope of measuring up to God's standard of holiness. When Isaiah's lips were touched with a live burning coal, however, he was told that his sins were forgiven. It wasn't the coal that cleansed him, but God. In response Isaiah submitted himself entirely to God's service. No matter how difficult his task would be, he said, "Here am I. Send me!" The painful cleansing process was necessary before Isaiah could fulfill the task to which God was calling him. Before we accept God's call to speak for him to those around us, we must be cleansed as Isaiah was, confessing our sins and submitting to God's control. Letting God purify us may be painful, but we must be purified so that we can truly represent God, who is pure and holy.

6:8 The more clearly Isaiah saw God (6:5), the more aware Isaiah became of his own powerlessness and inadequacy to do anything of lasting value without God. But he was willing to be God's spokesman. When God calls, will you also say, "Here am I. Send me!"?

9He said, "Go and tell this people:

" 'Be ever hearing, but never understanding;
be ever seeing, but never perceiving.' [d] 10Make the heart of this people calloused; [e] make their ears dull and close their eyes. [k]
Otherwise they might see with their eyes, hear with their ears,
understand with their hearts,
and turn and be healed." [f]

6:9 [d]Mt 13:15*

6:10 [e]Ps 119:70 [f]Mk 4:12*

11Then I said, "For how long, O Lord?"
And he answered:

"Until the cities lie ruined and without inhabitant, until the houses are left deserted and the fields ruined and ravaged, 12until the LORD has sent everyone far away and the land is utterly forsaken. [g] 13And though a tenth remains in the land, it will again be laid waste.
But as the terebinth and oak leave stumps when they are cut down, so the holy seed will be the stump in the land."

6:12 [g]Jer 4:29

The Sign of Immanuel

7 When Ahaz son of Jotham, the son of Uzziah, was king of Judah, King Rezin [h] of Aram and Pekah son of Remaliah king of Israel marched up to fight against Jerusalem, but they could not overpower it.

7:1 [h]2Ki 15:37

2Now the house of David [i] was told, "Aram has allied itself with [l] Ephraim"; so the hearts of Ahaz and his people were shaken, as the trees of the forest are shaken by the wind.

7:2 [i]ver 13

3Then the LORD said to Isaiah, "Go out, you and your son Shear-Jashub, [m] to meet Ahaz at the end of the aqueduct of the Upper Pool, on the road to the Washer-

[k] 9,10 Hebrew; Septuagint 'You will be ever hearing, but never understanding; / you will be ever seeing, but never perceiving.' / 10This people's heart has become calloused; / they hardly hear with their ears, / and they have closed their eyes [l] 2 Or has set up camp in [m] 3 Shear-Jashub means a remnant will return.

6:9–13 God told Isaiah that the people would listen but not learn from his message because their hearts had become calloused (hardened) beyond repentance. God's patience with their chronic rebellion was finally exhausted. His judgment was to abandon them to their rebellion and hardness of heart. Why did God send Isaiah if he knew the people wouldn't listen? Although the nation itself would not repent and would reap judgment, some individuals would listen. In 6:13 God explains his plan for a remnant (holy seed) of faithful followers. God is merciful even when he judges. We can gain encouragement from God's promise to preserve his people. If we are faithful to him we can be sure of his mercy.

6:11–13 When would the people listen? Only after they had come to the end and had nowhere to turn but to God. This would happen when the land was destroyed by invading armies and the people taken into captivity. The "tenth" refers either to those who remained in the land after the captivity, or those who returned from Babylon to rebuild the land. Each group was about a tenth of the total population. When will we listen to God? Must we, like Judah, go through calamities before we will listen to God's words? Consider what God may be telling you, and obey him before time runs out.

7:1 The year was 734 B.C. Ahaz, king of Judah in Jerusalem, was about to be attacked by an alliance of the northern kingdom of Israel and Aram. He was frightened by the possible end of his reign and by the invading armies who killed many people or took them as captives (2 Chronicles 28:5–21). But, as Isaiah predicted, the kingdom of Judah did not come to an end at this time. The sign of Immanuel would be a sign of deliverance.

7:2 "The house of David" refers to Judah, the southern kingdom. "Ephraim," the dominant tribe in the north, is a reference to Israel, the northern kingdom.

7:3 Shear-Jashub means "a remnant will return." God told Isaiah to give his son this name as a reminder of his plan for mercy. From the beginning of God's judgment he planned to restore a remnant of his people. Shear-Jashub was a reminder to the people of God's faithfulness to them.

7:3 The "aqueduct of the Upper Pool" may have been the site of the Gihon spring, located east of Jerusalem. The Gihon spring was the main source of water for the holy city, and was also the spring that emptied into Hezekiah's famous water tunnel (2 Chronicles 32:30). The Washerman's Field was a well-known place where clothing or newly woven cloth was laid in the sun to dry and whiten (see 36:2).

7:3 j 2Ki 18:17

7:4 k Isa 30:15 l Isa 10:24

man's Field.j 4Say to him, 'Be careful, keep calm*k* and don't be afraid. Do not lose heart because of these two smoldering stubs of firewood — because of the fierce anger*l* of Rezin and Aram and of the son of Remaliah. 5Aram, Ephraim and Remaliah's son have plotted your ruin, saying, 6"Let us invade Judah; let us tear it apart and divide it among ourselves, and make the son of Tabeel king over it." 7Yet this is what the Sovereign LORD says:

7:7 m Isa 8:10

" 'It will not take place,
it will not happen,m
8for the head of Aram is Damascus, and the head of Damascus is only Rezin.
Within sixty-five years
Ephraim will be too shattered*n* to be a people.
9The head of Ephraim is Samaria, and the head of Samaria is only Remaliah's son.
If you do not stand firm in your faith,o
you will not stand at all.' "

7:8 n Isa 17:1-3

7:9 o 2Ch 20:20

10Again the LORD spoke to Ahaz, 11"Ask the LORD your God for a sign, whether in the deepest depths or in the highest heights."

12But Ahaz said, "I will not ask; I will not put the LORD to the test."

13Then Isaiah said, "Hear now, you house of David! Is it not enough to try the patience of men? Will you try the patience of my God also? 14Therefore the Lord himself will give you[n] a sign: The virgin will be with child and will give birth to a son, and[o] will call him Immanuel.[pp] 15He will eat curds and honey when he knows enough to reject the wrong and choose the right. 16But before the boy knows*q* enough to reject the wrong and choose the right, the land of the two kings you dread will be laid waste. 17The LORD will bring on you and on your people and on the house of your father a time unlike any since Ephraim broke away*r* from Judah — he will bring the king of Assyria.s"

7:14 p Isa 8:8, 10; Mt 1:23*

7:16 q Isa 8:4

7:17 r 1Ki 12:16 s 2Ch 28:20

7:18 t Isa 5:26

18In that day the LORD will whistle*t* for flies from the distant streams of Egypt and for bees from the land of Assyria. 19They will all come and settle in the steep ravines and in the crevices in the rocks, on all the thornbushes and at all the water n 14 The Hebrew is plural. o 14 Masoretic Text; Dead Sea Scrolls and he or and they p 14 Immanuel means God with us.

7:4–8:15 Isaiah predicted the breakup of Israel's alliance with Aram (7:4–9). Because of this alliance, Israel would be destroyed; Assyria would be the instrument God would use to destroy them (7:8–25) and to punish Judah. But God would not let Assyria destroy Judah (8:1–15). They would be spared because God's gracious plans cannot be thwarted.

7:8 Ahaz, one of Judah's worst kings, refused God's help and instead, he tried to buy aid from the Assyrians with silver and gold from the temple (2 Kings 16:8). When the Assyrians came, they brought further trouble instead of help. In 722 B.C., Samaria, the capital of Ephraim (another name for Israel, the northern kingdom), fell to the Assyrian armies, thus ending the northern kingdom.

7:12 Ahaz appeared righteous by saying he would not test God with a sign ("I will not ask; I will not put the LORD to the test"). In fact, God had told him to ask, but Ahaz didn't really want to know what God would say. Often we use some excuse, such as not wanting to bother God, to keep us from communicating with him. Don't let anything keep you from hearing and obeying God.

7:14–16 Virgin is translated from a Hebrew word used for an unmarried woman old enough to be married, one who is sexually mature (see Genesis 24:43; Exodus 2:8; Psalm 68:25; Proverbs 30:19; Song of Songs 1:3; 6:8). Some have compared this young woman to Isaiah's young wife and newborn son (8:1–4). This is not likely because she had a child, Shear-Jashub, and her second child was not named Immanuel. Some believe that Isaiah's first wife may have died, and so this is his second wife. It is more likely that this prophecy had a double fulfillment. (1) A young woman from the house of Ahaz who was not married would marry and have a son. Before three years passed (one year for pregnancy and two for the child to be old enough to talk), the two invading kings would be destroyed. (2) Matthew 1:23 quotes Isaiah 7:14 to show a further fulfillment of this prophecy in that a virgin named Mary conceived and bore a son, Immanuel, the Christ.

7:18 Flies and bees are symbols of God's judgment (see Exodus 23:28). Egypt and Assyria did not at this time devastate Judah. Hezekiah followed Ahaz as king, and he honored God; therefore God held back his hand of judgment. Two more evil kings reigned before Josiah, of whom it was said that no other king turned so completely to the Lord (2 Kings 23:25). However, Judah's doom had been sealed by the extreme evil of Josiah's father, Amon. During Josiah's reign, Egypt marched against the Assyrians. Josiah then declared war on Egypt, though God told him not to. After Josiah was killed (2 Chronicles 35:20–27), only weak kings reigned in Judah. The Egyptians carried off Josiah's son, Jehoahaz, after three months. The next king, Jehoiakim, was taken by Nebuchadnezzar to Babylon. Egypt and Assyria had dealt death blows to Judah.

holes. 20In that day the Lord will use[u] a razor hired from beyond the River[q]—the king of Assyria—to shave your head and the hair of your legs, and to take off your beards also. 21In that day, a man will keep alive a young cow and two goats. 22And because of the abundance of the milk they give, he will have curds to eat. All who remain in the land will eat curds and honey. 23In that day, in every place where there were a thousand vines worth a thousand silver shekels,[r] there will be only briers and thorns.[v] 24Men will go there with bow and arrow, for the land will be covered with briers and thorns. 25As for all the hills once cultivated by the hoe, you will no longer go there for fear of the briers and thorns; they will become places where cattle are turned loose and where sheep run.

7:20 [u] Isa 10:15

7:23 [v] Isa 5:6

Assyria, the LORD's Instrument

8 The LORD said to me, "Take a large scroll and write on it with an ordinary pen: Maher-Shalal-Hash-Baz.[s] 2And I will call in Uriah[w] the priest and Zechariah son of Jeberekiah as reliable witnesses for me."

8:2 [w] 2Ki 16:10

3Then I went to the prophetess, and she conceived and gave birth to a son. And the LORD said to me, "Name him Maher-Shalal-Hash-Baz. 4Before the boy knows[x] how to say 'My father' or 'My mother,' the wealth of Damascus and the plunder of Samaria will be carried off by the king of Assyria."

8:4 [x] Isa 7:16

5The LORD spoke to me again:

6"Because this people has rejected the gently flowing waters of Shiloah and rejoices over Rezin and the son of Remaliah,[y] 7therefore the Lord is about to bring against them the mighty floodwaters of the River[q]—
the king of Assyria with all his pomp.
It will overflow all its channels, run over all its banks 8and sweep on into Judah, swirling over it, passing through it and reaching up to the neck.
Its outspread wings will cover the breadth of your land,
O Immanuel[t]![z]

8:6 [y] Isa 7:1

8:8 [z] Isa 7:14

9Raise the war cry,[u] you nations, and be shattered!
Listen, all you distant lands.
Prepare for battle, and be shattered!
Prepare for battle, and be shattered!
10Devise your strategy, but it will be thwarted;[a] propose your plan, but it will not stand,[b]
for God is with us.[v c]

8:10 [a] Job 5:12 [b] Isa 7:7 [c] Ro 8:31

[q] 20,7 That is, the Euphrates [r] 23 That is, about 25 pounds (about 11.5 kilograms) [s] 1 Maher-Shalal-Hash-Baz means quick to the plunder, swift to the spoil; also in verse 3. [t] 8 Immanuel means God with us. [u] 9 Or Do your worst [v] 10 Hebrew Immanuel

7:20 Hiring Assyria to save them would be Judah's downfall (2 Kings 16:7, 8). To "shave" Judah's hair was symbolic of total humiliation. Numbers 6:9 explains that after being defiled, a person who had been set apart for the Lord had to shave his head as part of the cleansing process. Shaving bodily hair was an embarrassment—an exposure of nakedness. For a Hebrew man, having his beard shaved was humiliating (2 Samuel 10:4, 5).

7:21–25 Judah's rich farmland would be trampled until it became pastureland fit only for grazing. No longer would it be a place of agricultural abundance, a land "flowing with milk and honey" (Exodus 3:8), but a land with only curds, briers, and thorns.

8:1–4 These verses predict the fall of Israel and Aram. Aram fell to Assyria in 732 B.C., and Israel followed in 722 B.C. Isaiah put his message on a large scroll in a public place. God was warning all his people.

8:6–8 "The gently flowing waters of Shiloah" refers to God's gentle and sustaining care. Because Judah rejected God's kindness, choosing instead to seek help from other nations, God would punish them. We see two distinct attributes of God—his love and his wrath. To ignore his love and guidance results in sin and invites his wrath. We must recognize the consequences of our choices. God wants to protect us from bad choices, but he still gives us the freedom to make them.

8:7, 8 The heart of the Assyrian empire was located between the Tigris and Euphrates Rivers. This flood is a poetic way of describ-

Fear God

11The LORD spoke to me with his strong hand upon me, warning me not to follow the way of this people. He said:

8:12 d Isa 7:2 e 1Pe 3:14*

12"Do not call conspiracy[d] everything that these people call conspiracy[w];
do not fear what they fear,
and do not dread it.[e]

8:13 f Nu 20:12

13The LORD Almighty is the one you are to regard as holy,[f] he is the one you are to fear,
he is the one you are to dread, 14and he will be a sanctuary;
but for both houses of Israel he will be a stone that causes men to stumble and a rock that makes them fall.[g]

8:14 g Lk 2:34; Ro 9:33*; 1Pe 2:8*

And for the people of Jerusalem he will be a trap and a snare.
15Many of them will stumble;
they will fall and be broken,
they will be snared and captured."

16Bind up the testimony and seal up the law among my disciples.
17I will wait for the LORD,
who is hiding his face from the house of Jacob.
I will put my trust in him.

8:18 h Heb 2:13*

18Here am I, and the children the LORD has given me.[h] We are signs and symbols in Israel from the LORD Almighty, who dwells on Mount Zion.

8:19 i 1Sa 28:8

19When men tell you to consult[i] mediums and spiritists, who whisper and mutter, should not a people inquire of their God? Why consult the dead on behalf of the living? 20To the law[j] and to the testimony! If they do not speak according to this word, they have no light[k] of dawn. 21Distressed and hungry, they will roam through the land; when they are famished, they will become enraged and, looking upward, will curse their king and their God. 22Then they will look toward the earth and see only distress and darkness and fearful gloom, and they will be thrust into utter darkness.[l]

8:20 j Lk 16:29 k Mic 3:6

8:22 l Isa 5:30

w 12 Or Do not call for a treaty / every time these people call for a treaty ing the overwhelming force of the Assyrian army.

---

8:9 To "be shattered" means to lose courage by the pressure of sudden fear.

8:11–15 Isaiah, along with most of the prophets, was viewed as a traitor because he did not support Judah's national policies. He called the people to commit themselves first to God, and then to the king. He even predicted the overthrow of the government.

8:16 "Bind up the testimony" and "seal up the law" mean that the words would be written down and preserved for future generations. Because some people faithfully passed on these words from generation to generation, we have the book of Isaiah today. Each of us needs to accept the responsibility to pass on God's Word to our children and grandchildren, encouraging them to love the Bible, read it, and learn from it. Then they will faithfully pass it on to their children and grandchildren.

8:17 Isaiah decided to wait for the Lord, though God was "hiding his face from the house of Jacob." Many of the prophecies God gave through the prophets would not come true for 700 years; others still haven't been fulfilled. Are you willing to accept the Lord's timing, not yours?

8:19 The people would consult mediums and spiritists to seek answers from dead people instead of consulting the living God. God alone knows the future, and only he is eternal. We can trust God to guide us.

8:21 After rejecting God's plan for them, the people of Judah would blame God for their trials. People continually blame God for their self-induced problems. How do you respond to the unpleasant results of your own choices? Where do you fix the blame? Instead of blaming God, look for ways to grow through your failures.

To Us a Child Is Born

9 Nevertheless, there will be no more gloom for those who were in distress. In the past he humbled the land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali,[m] but in the future he will honor Galilee of the Gentiles, by the way of the sea, along the Jordan—

9:1 [m] 2Ki 15:29

2 The people walking in darkness have seen a great light;[n] on those living in the land of the shadow of death[x]
a light has dawned.[o]
3 You have enlarged the nation
and increased their joy;
they rejoice before you
as people rejoice at the harvest, as men rejoice
when dividing the plunder.
4 For as in the day of Midian's defeat, you have shattered
the yoke that burdens them,
the bar across their shoulders,[p]
the rod of their oppressor.[q]
5 Every warrior's boot used in battle and every garment rolled in blood will be destined for burning, will be fuel for the fire.
6 For to us a child is born,[r]
to us a son is given,[s] and the government[t] will be on his shoulders.
And he will be called Wonderful Counselor,[y] Mighty God,[u]
Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace.
7 Of the increase of his government and peace
there will be no end.[v]
He will reign on David's throne and over his kingdom, establishing and upholding it with justice[w] and righteousness from that time on and forever.
The zeal[x] of the LORD Almighty will accomplish this.

9:2 [n] Eph 5:8 [o] Mt 4:15-16*

9:4 [p] Isa 10:27 [q] Isa 14:4

9:6 [r] Lk 2:11 [s] Jn 3:16 [t] Mt 28:18 [u] Isa 10:21

9:7 [v] Da 2:44; Lk 1:33 [w] Isa 11:4 [x] Isa 37:32

The LORD's Anger Against Israel

8 The Lord has sent a message against Jacob;
it will fall on Israel.

x 2 Or land of darkness y 6 Or Wonderful, Counselor

9:1 In our gloom and despair, we fear that our sorrows and troubles will never end. But we can take comfort in this certainty: although the Lord may not always take us around our troubles, if we follow him wholeheartedly, he will lead us safely through them.

9:1–7 This child who would become their deliverer is the Messiah, Jesus. Matthew quotes these verses in describing Christ's ministry (Matthew 4:15, 16). The territories of Zebulun and Naphtali represent the northern kingdom as a whole. These were also the territories where Jesus grew up and often ministered; this is why they would see "a great light."

9:2 The apostle John also referred to Jesus as the "light" (John 1:9). Jesus referred to himself as "the light of the world" (John 8:12).

9:2–6 In a time of great darkness, God promised to send a light who would shine on everyone living in the shadow of death. He is both "Wonderful Counselor" and "Mighty God." This message of hope was fulfilled in the birth of Christ and the establishment of his eternal kingdom. He came to deliver all people from their slavery to sin.

9:8–10 Pride made Israel think it would recover and rebuild in its own strength. Even though God made Israel a nation and gave them the land they occupied, the people put their trust in themselves rather than in him. Too often we take pride in our accomplishments, forgetting that it is God who has given us our every resource and ability. We may even become proud of our unique status as Christians. God is not pleased with any pride or trust in

9 All the people will know it—Ephraim and the inhabitants of Samaria—who say with pride and arrogance[y] of heart, 10 "The bricks have fallen down,
but we will rebuild with dressed stone;
the fig trees have been felled,
but we will replace them with cedars."
11 But the LORD has strengthened Rezin's[z] foes against them and has spurred their enemies on.
12 Arameans from the east and Philistines[a] from the west have devoured Israel with open mouth.

Yet for all this, his anger is not turned away,
his hand is still upraised.

13 But the people have not returned to him who struck[b] them, nor have they sought the LORD Almighty.
14 So the LORD will cut off from Israel both head and tail, both palm branch and reed in a single day;[c] 15 the elders and prominent men are the head, the prophets who teach lies are the tail.
16 Those who guide this people mislead them,
and those who are guided are led astray.[d] 17 Therefore the Lord will take no pleasure in the young men, nor will he pity the fatherless and widows,
for everyone is ungodly[e] and wicked,
every mouth speaks vileness.

Yet for all this, his anger is not turned away,
his hand is still upraised.[f]

18 Surely wickedness burns like a fire;
it consumes briers and thorns,
it sets the forest thickets ablaze,
so that it rolls upward in a column of smoke.
19 By the wrath of the LORD Almighty the land will be scorched and the people will be fuel for the fire;
no one will spare his brother.
20 On the right they will devour,
but still be hungry;
on the left they will eat,[g]
but not be satisfied.
Each will feed on the flesh of his own offspring[z]:
21 Manasseh will feed on Ephraim, and Ephraim on Manasseh;

9:9 [y] Isa 46:12

9:11 [z] Isa 7:8

9:12 [a] 2Ch 28:18

9:13 [b] Jer 5:3

9:14 [c] Rev 18:8

9:16 [d] Isa 3:12

9:17 [e] Isa 10:6 [f] Isa 5:25

9:20 [g] Isa 49:26

[z] 20 Or arm

NAMES FOR MESSIAH
Isaiah uses four names to describe the Messiah. These names have special meaning to us.

Wonderful Counselor	• He is exceptional, distinguished, and without peer, the one who gives the right advice.
Mighty God	• He is God himself.
Everlasting Father	• He is timeless; he is God our Father.
Prince of Peace	• His government is one of justice and peace.

ourselves because it cuts off our contact with him.

9:21 Ephraim and Manasseh were tribes in the northern kingdom descended from Joseph's two sons. They fought a civil war because of their selfishness and wickedness (see Judges 12:4).

together they will turn against Judah.

Yet for all this, his anger is not turned away,
his hand is still upraised.[h]

9:21 [h]Isa 5:25

10

Woe to those who make unjust laws,
to those who issue oppressive decrees, 2to deprive the poor of their rights and withhold justice from the oppressed of my people, making widows their prey
and robbing the fatherless.
3What will you do on the day of reckoning,[i] when disaster[j] comes from afar?
To whom will you run for help?[k]
Where will you leave your riches?
4Nothing will remain but to cringe among the captives or fall among the slain.

10:3 [i]Job 31:14 [j]Lk 19:44 [k]Isa 20:6

Yet for all this, his anger is not turned away,[l]
his hand is still upraised.

10:4 [l]Isa 5:25

God's Judgment on Assyria

5"Woe to the Assyrian, the rod of my anger, in whose hand is the club[m] of my wrath!
6I send him against a godless[n] nation,
I dispatch him against a people who anger me,
to seize loot and snatch plunder,[o]
and to trample them down like mud in the streets.
7But this is not what he intends,[p] this is not what he has in mind;
his purpose is to destroy,
to put an end to many nations.
8'Are not my commanders all kings?' he says.
9 'Has not Calno fared like Carchemish?[q]
Is not Hamath like Arpad, and Samaria like Damascus?[r] 10As my hand seized the kingdoms of the idols,[s] kingdoms whose images excelled those of Jerusalem and Samaria—11shall I not deal with Jerusalem and her images as I dealt with Samaria and her idols?' "

10:5 [m]Jer 51:20
10:6 [n]Isa 9:17 [o]Isa 5:29
10:7 [p]Ge 50:20
10:9 [q]2Ch 35:20 [r]2Ki 16:9
10:10 [s]2Ki 19:18

12When the Lord has finished all his work against Mount Zion[t] and Jerusalem,

10:12 [t]2Ki 19:31

10:1 God will judge crooked judges and those who make unjust laws. Those who oppress others will be oppressed themselves. It is not enough to live in a land founded on justice; each individual must deal justly with the poor and the powerless. Don't pass your responsibility off to your nation or even your church. You are accountable to God for what you do.

10:7 Although Assyria did not know it was part of God's plan, God used this nation to judge his people. God accomplishes his plans in history despite people or nations who reject him. He did not merely set the world in motion and let it go! Because our all-powerful, sovereign God is still in control today, we have security even in a rapidly changing world.

10:9 Calno, Carchemish, Hamath, Arpad, Samaria, and Damascus were cities conquered by Assyria. Assured of great victories that would enlarge the empire, the king of Assyria gave an arrogant speech. Already Assyria had conquered several cities and thought Judah would be defeated along with the others. Little did they know that they were under the mightier hand of God.

10:10 Samaria and Jerusalem were filled with idols that were powerless against the Assyrian military machine. Only the God of the universe could and would overthrow Assyria, but not until he had used the Assyrians for his purposes.

10:12 The predicted punishment of the Assyrians soon took place. In 701 B.C., 185,000 Assyrian soldiers were slain by the angel of the Lord (37:36, 37). Later, the Assyrian empire fell to Babylon, never to rise again as a world power.

10:12 The Assyrians were haughty. They thought they had accomplished everything in their own power. Our perspective can become distorted by our accomplishments if we fail to recognize God working his purposes through us. When we think we are strong enough for anything, we are bound to fail because pride has blinded us to the reality that God is ultimately in control.

he will say, "I will punish the king of Assyria for the willful pride of his heart and the haughty look in his eyes. 13For he says:

10:13 [u] Da 4:30 [v] Eze 28:4

" 'By the strength of my hand I have done this,[u]
and by my wisdom, because I have understanding.
I removed the boundaries of nations,
I plundered their treasures;[v]
like a mighty one I subdued[a] their kings.
14As one reaches into a nest,
so my hand reached for the wealth[w] of the nations;
as men gather abandoned eggs,
so I gathered all the countries;
not one flapped a wing,
or opened its mouth to chirp.' "

10:14 [w] Job 31:25

10:15 [x] Ro 9:20-21

15Does the ax raise itself above him who swings it, or the saw boast against him who uses it?[x]
As if a rod were to wield him who lifts it up, or a club brandish him who is not wood!

10:16 [y] Isa 17:4

16Therefore, the Lord, the LORD Almighty, will send a wasting disease[y] upon his sturdy warriors;
under his pomp a fire will be kindled like a blazing flame.

10:17 [z] Isa 37:23

17The Light of Israel will become a fire, their Holy One[z] a flame;
in a single day it will burn and consume his thorns and his briers.
18The splendor of his forests and fertile fields
it will completely destroy,
as when a sick man wastes away.
19And the remaining trees of his forests will be so few that a child could write them down.

The Remnant of Israel

10:20 [a] 2Ki 16:7

20In that day the remnant of Israel, the survivors of the house of Jacob, will no longer rely[a] on him who struck them down but will truly rely on the LORD,
the Holy One of Israel.
21A remnant will return,[b] a remnant of Jacob will return to the Mighty God.
22Though your people, O Israel, be like the sand by the sea, only a remnant will return.
Destruction has been decreed,[b]

10:22 [b] Isa 28:22

[a] 13 Or / I subdued the mighty, [b] 21 Hebrew shear-jashub; also in verse 22

10:15 No instrument or tool accomplishes its purposes without a greater power. The Assyrians were a tool in God's hands, but they failed to recognize it. When a tool boasts of greater power than the one who uses it, it is in danger of being discarded. We are useful only to the extent that we allow God to use us.

10:17 Assyria's downfall came in 612 B.C. when Nineveh, the capital city, was destroyed. Assyria had been God's instrument of judgment against Israel, but it too would be judged for its wickedness. No one escapes God's judgment against sin, not even the most powerful of nations (Psalm 2).

10:20, 21 Once Assyria's army was destroyed, a small group of God's people would stop relying on Assyria and start trusting God. This remnant would be but a fraction of Israel's former population: see Ezra 2:64, 65 for the small number who returned to Judah (see also 11:10–16).

10:20, 21 Those who remained faithful to God despite the horrors of the invasion are called the remnant. The key to being a part of the remnant was faith. Being a descendant of Abraham, living in the promised land, having trusted God at one time – none of these were good enough. Are you relying on your Christian heritage, the rituals of worship, or past experience to put you in a right relationship with God? The key to being set apart by God is faith in him.

overwhelming and righteous.
23 The Lord, the LORD Almighty, will carry out the destruction decreed upon the whole land.[c]

10:23
[c] Ro 9:27-28*

24 Therefore, this is what the Lord, the LORD Almighty, says:

"O my people who live in Zion,[d]
do not be afraid of the Assyrians, who beat you with a rod and lift up a club against you, as Egypt did.
25 Very soon my anger against you will end and my wrath will be directed to their destruction."

10:24
[d] Ps 87:5-6

26 The LORD Almighty will lash[e] them with a whip, as when he struck down Midian at the rock of Oreb;
and he will raise his staff over the waters,[f]
as he did in Egypt.
27 In that day their burden will be lifted from your shoulders, their yoke from your neck;
the yoke will be broken because you have grown so fat.[c]

10:26
[e] Isa 37:36-38
[f] Ex 14:16

28 They enter Aiath;
they pass through Migron;[g]
they store supplies at Micmash.[h] 29 They go over the pass, and say,
"We will camp overnight at Geba."
Ramah trembles;
Gibeah of Saul flees.
30 Cry out, O Daughter of Gallim![i] Listen, O Laishah!
Poor Anathoth!
31 Madmenah is in flight;
the people of Gebim take cover.
32 This day they will halt at Nob;[j] they will shake their fist at the mount of the Daughter of Zion, at the hill of Jerusalem.

10:28
[g] 1Sa 14:2
[h] 1Sa 13:2

10:30
[i] 1Sa 25:44

10:32
[j] 1Sa 21:1

33 See, the Lord, the LORD Almighty, will lop off the boughs with great power.
The lofty trees will be felled,
the tall[k] ones will be brought low.
34 He will cut down the forest thickets with an ax;
Lebanon will fall before the Mighty One.

10:33
[k] Am 2:9

The Branch From Jesse

11 A shoot will come up from the stump of Jesse;[l] from his roots a Branch[m] will bear fruit.
2 The Spirit[n] of the LORD will rest on him—
the Spirit of wisdom and of understanding, the Spirit of counsel and of power,

11:1
[l] Rev 5:5
[m] Isa 4:2

11:2
[n] Isa 61:1; Mt 3:16; Jn 1:32-33

[c] 27 Hebrew; Septuagint broken / from your shoulders

10:28–34 The way these cities are listed approximates the route the Assyrians would take in their invasion of Judah in 701 B.C. They would go from Aiath (probably Ai) at the northern border to Nob (only two miles from Jerusalem).

11:1–9 Assyria would be like a tree cut down at the height of its power (10:33, 34), never to rise again. Judah (the royal line of David) would be like a tree chopped down to a stump. But from that stump a new shoot would grow – the Messiah. He would be greater than the original tree and would bear much fruit. The Messiah is the fulfillment of God's promise that a descendant of David would rule forever (2 Samuel 7:16).

the Spirit of knowledge and of the fear of the LORD—3and he will delight in the fear of the LORD.

He will not judge by what he sees with his eyes,[o] or decide by what he hears with his ears;[p] 4but with righteousness he will judge the needy, with justice he will give decisions for the poor of the earth.
He will strike[q] the earth with the rod of his mouth;
with the breath[r] of his lips he will slay the wicked.
5Righteousness will be his belt and faithfulness the sash around his waist.[s]

6The wolf will live with the lamb,[t]
the leopard will lie down with the goat,
the calf and the lion and the yearling[d] together;
and a little child will lead them.
7The cow will feed with the bear, their young will lie down together,
and the lion will eat straw like the ox.
8The infant will play near the hole of the cobra, and the young child put his hand into the viper's nest.
9They will neither harm nor destroy
on all my holy mountain, for the earth will be full of the knowledge[u] of the LORD as the waters cover the sea.

10In that day the Root of Jesse will stand as a banner for the peoples; the nations[v] will rally to him,[w] and his place of rest will be glorious. 11In that day the Lord will reach out his hand a second time to reclaim the remnant that is left of his people from Assyria,[x] from Lower Egypt, from Upper Egypt,[e] from Cush,[f] from Elam, from Babylonia,[g] from Hamath and from the islands of the sea.

12He will raise a banner for the nations and gather the exiles of Israel;
he will assemble the scattered people of Judah from the four quarters of the earth.
13Ephraim's jealousy will vanish,
and Judah's enemies[h] will be cut off;
Ephraim will not be jealous of Judah,
nor Judah hostile toward Ephraim.[y]
14They will swoop down on the slopes of Philistia to the west;

11:3 [o] Jn 7:24 [p] Jn 2:25
11:4 [q] Mal 4:6 [r] Job 4:9; 2Th 2:8
11:5 [s] Eph 6:14
11:6 [t] Isa 65:25
11:9 [u] Hab 2:14
11:10 [v] Lk 2:32 [w] Ro 15:12*
11:11 [x] Mic 7:12; Zec 10:10
11:13 [y] Jer 3:18; Eze 37:16-17, 22

[d] 6 Hebrew; Septuagint lion will feed [e] 11 Hebrew from Pathros [f] 11 That is, the upper Nile region
[g] 11 Hebrew Shinar [h] 13 Or hostility

11:3–5 God will judge with righteousness and justice. How we long for fair treatment from others, but do we give it? We hate those who base their judgments on appearance, false evidence, or hearsay, but are we quick to judge others using those standards? Only Christ can be the perfectly fair judge. Only as he governs our hearts can we learn to be as fair in our treatment of others as we expect others to be toward us.

11:4, 5 Judah had become corrupt and was surrounded by hostile, foreign powers. The nation desperately needed a revival of righteousness, justice, and faithfulness. They needed to turn from selfishness and show justice to the poor and the oppressed. The righteousness that God values is more than refraining from sin. It is actively turning toward others and offering them the help they need.

11:6–10 A golden age is yet to come, a time of peace when children could play with formerly dangerous animals. Not all of this was fulfilled at Christ's first coming. For example, nature has not returned to its intended balance and harmony (see Romans 8:9–22). Such perfect tranquility is possible only when Christ reigns over the earth.

11:11 When will this remnant of God's people be returned to their land? Old Testament prophecy is often applied both to the near future and the distant future. Judah would soon be exiled to Babylon, and a remnant would return to Jerusalem in 537 B.C. at Cyrus's decree. In the ages to come, however, God's people would be dispersed throughout the world. These cities represent the four corners of the known world—Hamath in the north, Egypt in the south, Assyria and Babylonia in the east, the islands of the sea in the west. Ultimately God's people will be regathered when Christ comes to reign over the earth.

11:13 Ephraim, the dominant tribe of the north, is used as another name for Israel, the northern kingdom.

11:14 Edom, Moab, and Ammon were three countries bordering Judah (along with Philistia). They were the nations who, when Judah was defeated, rejoiced and took their land.

together they will plunder the people to the east.
They will lay hands on Edom[z] and Moab,
and the Ammonites will be subject to them.
15The LORD will dry up
the gulf of the Egyptian sea;
with a scorching wind he will sweep his hand over the Euphrates River.[i]
He will break it up into seven streams so that men can cross over in sandals.
16There will be a highway[a] for the remnant of his people that is left from Assyria, as there was for Israel
when they came up from Egypt.[b] 11:14

[z]Da 11:41

11:16
[a]Isa 19:23
[b]Ex 14:26-31

Songs of Praise

12 In that day you will say:

"I will praise you, O LORD.
Although you were angry with me,
your anger has turned away
and you have comforted me.
2Surely God is my salvation;
I will trust and not be afraid.
The LORD, the LORD, is my strength and my song;
he has become my salvation.[c]" 3With joy you will draw water[d]
from the wells of salvation.

12:2
[c]Ex 15:2

12:3
[d]Jn 4:10, 14

4In that day you will say:

"Give thanks to the LORD, call on his name;[e]
make known among the nations what he has done,
and proclaim that his name is exalted.
5Sing[f] to the LORD, for he has done glorious things;[g]
let this be known to all the world.
6Shout aloud and sing for joy, people of Zion, for great is the Holy One of Israel among you.[h]" 12:4

[e]Ps 105:1

12:5
[f]Ex 15:1
[g]Ps 98:1

12:6
[h]Zep 3:14-17

2. Judgment against pagan nations

A Prophecy Against Babylon

13 An oracle concerning Babylon that Isaiah son of Amoz saw:

2Raise a banner[i] on a bare hilltop, shout to them;
beckon to them
to enter the gates of the nobles.

13:2
[i]Jer 51:27

[1] 15 Hebrew the River

11:15, 16 Isaiah is talking about a new or second exodus when God will bring his scattered people back to Judah and the Messiah will come to rule the world. The Lord dried up the Red Sea so the Israelites could walk through it on their way to the promised land (Exodus 14). He dried up the Jordan River so the nation could cross into the land (Joshua 3). God will again provide the way of return for his people.

12:1ff This chapter is a hymn of praise – another graphic description of the people's joy when Jesus Christ comes to reign over the earth. Even now we need to express our gratitude to God – thanking him, praising him, and telling others about him. From the depths of our gratitude, we must praise him. And we should share the Good News with others.

13:1ff Chapters 1 – 12 speak of judgment against the southern kingdom and, to a lesser extent, against the northern kingdom. Chapters 13 – 23 are about the judgment on other nations. Chapter 13 is an oracle or message from God concerning Babylon. Long before Babylon became a world power and threatened Judah, Isaiah spoke of its destruction. Babylon was the rallying point of rebellion against God after the flood (Genesis 11). Revelation 17 and 18 use Babylon as a symbol of God's enemies. At the time of this oracle, Babylon was still part of the Assyrian empire. Isaiah communicated a message of challenge and hope to God's people, telling them not to rely on other nations but to rely on God alone.

3I have commanded my holy ones;
I have summoned my warriors[j] to carry out my wrath—
those who rejoice[k] in my triumph.

4Listen, a noise on the mountains,
like that of a great multitude!
Listen, an uproar among the kingdoms,
like nations massing together!
The LORD Almighty is mustering an army for war.
5They come from faraway lands, from the ends of the heavens[l]—
the LORD and the weapons of his wrath—to destroy[m] the whole country.

6Wail, for the day of the LORD is near;
it will come like destruction from the Almighty.[l] 7Because of this, all hands will go limp, every man's heart will melt.[n] 8Terror will seize them, pain and anguish will grip them;
they will writhe like a woman in labor.
They will look aghast at each other,
their faces aflame.

9See, the day of the LORD is coming —a cruel day, with wrath and fierce anger—to make the land desolate and destroy the sinners within it.
10The stars of heaven and their constellations will not show their light.
The rising sun will be darkened[o]
and the moon will not give its light.[p] 11I will punish the world for its evil, the wicked for their sins.
I will put an end to the arrogance of the haughty and will humble the pride of the ruthless.
12I will make man[q] scarcer than pure gold,
more rare than the gold of Ophir.
13Therefore I will make the heavens tremble;[r] and the earth will shake from its place at the wrath of the LORD Almighty, in the day of his burning anger.

14Like a hunted gazelle,
like sheep without a shepherd,
each will return to his own people,
each will flee to his native land.[s] 15Whoever is captured will be thrust through;
all who are caught will fall by the sword.[t] 16Their infants will be dashed to pieces before their eyes;
their houses will be looted and their wives ravished.

17See, I will stir up against them the Medes, who do not care for silver and have no delight in gold.

13:3 [j] Joel 3:11 [k] Ps 149:2
13:5 [l] Isa 5:26 [m] Isa 24:1
13:7 [n] Eze 21:7
13:10 [o] Isa 5:30 [p] Eze 32:7; Mt 24:29*; Mk 13:24*
13:12 [q] Isa 4:1
13:13 [r] Isa 34:4; 51:6
13:14 [s] Jer 50:16
13:15 [t] Isa 14:19

l 6 Hebrew Shaddai

And he let them know that their greatest enemies would receive from God the punishment they deserve.

13:12 Ophir was known for its rare and valuable gold. It is thought to have been located on the southwestern coast of Arabia.

18 Their bows will strike down the young men;
they will have no mercy on infants nor will they look with compassion on children.
19 Babylon, the jewel of kingdoms,
the glory[u] of the Babylonians'[k] pride, will be overthrown by God
like Sodom and Gomorrah.
20 She will never be inhabited or lived in through all generations;
no Arab will pitch his tent there,
no shepherd will rest his flocks there.
21 But desert creatures will lie there, jackals will fill her houses;
there the owls will dwell,
and there the wild goats will leap about.
22 Hyenas will howl in her strongholds, jackals in her luxurious palaces.
Her time is at hand,[v]
and her days will not be prolonged.

13:19 [u] Da 4:30

13:22 [v] Jer 51:33

14 The LORD will have compassion[w] on Jacob; once again he will choose[x] Israel and will settle them in their own land.
Aliens[y] will join them and unite with the house of Jacob.
2 Nations will take them and bring[z] them to their own place.
And the house of Israel will possess the nations[a] as menservants and maidservants in the LORD's land.
They will make captives of their captors and rule over their oppressors.[b]

14:1 [w] Ps 102:13 [x] Zec 1:17; 2:12 [y] Eph 2:12-19

14:2 [z] Isa 60:9 [a] Isa 49:7, 23 [b] Isa 60:14

3 On the day the LORD gives you relief from suffering and turmoil and cruel bondage, 4 you will take up this taunt[c] against the king of Babylon:

14:4 [c] Hab 2:6

How the oppressor has come to an end!
How his fury[l] has ended!
5 The LORD has broken the rod of the wicked,
the scepter of the rulers,
6 which in anger struck down peoples[d]
with unceasing blows, and in fury subdued nations with relentless aggression.[e] 7 All the lands are at rest and at peace;
they break into singing.
8 Even the pine trees[f] and the cedars of Lebanon

14:6 [d] Isa 10:14 [e] Isa 47:6

14:8 [f] Eze 31:16

[k] 19 Or Chaldeans' [l] 4 Dead Sea Scrolls, Septuagint and Syriac; the meaning of the word in the Masoretic Text is uncertain.

13:20 Even before Babylon became a world power, Isaiah prophesied that, though it would shine for a while, Babylon's destruction would be so complete that the land would never again be inhabited. Babylon, in present-day Iraq, still lies in utter ruin, burned under mounds of dirt and sand.

14:1 A prominent theme in Isaiah is that aliens (non-Israelites) would join the returning Israelites (56:6, 7; 60:10; 61:5). God's intention was that through his faithful people all the world would be blessed (Genesis 12:3). Through the family of David, the whole world could be saved by Christ. We must not limit God's love to our own people. God loves the whole world.

14:4–11 These verses could have both present and future significance in reference to Babylon. The historical city and empire would be permanently destroyed. Babylon has also been used as a picture of all those who oppose God. Thus, in the end times, all who oppose God will be destroyed and all evil will be removed from the earth forever.

14:5, 6 Power fades quickly. God permitted Babylon to have temporary power for a purpose – to punish his wayward people. When the purpose ended, so did the power. Beware of placing confidence in human power because one day it will fade, no matter how strong it appears now.

exult over you and say,
"Now that you have been laid low, no woodsman comes to cut us down."

14:9 g Eze 32:21
9 The grave[mg] below is all astir to meet you at your coming;
it rouses the spirits of the departed to greet you—all those who were leaders in the world;
it makes them rise from their thrones—all those who were kings over the nations.
10 They will all respond,
they will say to you,
"You also have become weak, as we are;
you have become like us."
11 All your pomp has been brought down to the grave, along with the noise of your harps;
maggots are spread out beneath you and worms cover you.

14:12 h Lk 10:18
12 How you have fallen[h] from heaven,
O morning star, son of the dawn!
You have been cast down to the earth,
you who once laid low the nations!
13 You said in your heart,
"I will ascend[i] to heaven;
I will raise my throne[j]
above the stars of God;
I will sit enthroned on the mount of assembly, on the utmost heights of the sacred mountain.[n]
14 I will ascend above the tops of the clouds;
I will make myself like the Most High."[k]
15 But you are brought down to the grave, to the depths[l] of the pit.

14:13 i Da 8:10 j Eze 28:2
14:14 k Isa 47:8; 2Th 2:4
14:15 l Mt 11:23
16 Those who see you stare at you,
they ponder your fate:
"Is this the man who shook the earth
and made kingdoms tremble, 17 the man who made the world a desert,[m] who overthrew its cities and would not let his captives go home?"

14:17 m Joel 2:3
18 All the kings of the nations lie in state,
each in his own tomb.
19 But you are cast out[n] of your tomb
like a rejected branch;
you are covered with the slain,
with those pierced by the sword,
those who descend to the stones of the pit.
Like a corpse trampled underfoot,

14:19 n Isa 22:16-18

[mg] 9 Hebrew Sheol; also in verses 11 and 15 [n] 13 Or the north; Hebrew Zaphon

14:12 "Morning star, son of the dawn" could be names used to worship the kings of Assyria and Babylon. More likely, it means that they will fade like the morning star when the sun rises.

14:12–14 There are several interpretations for the fallen one in these verses. (1) He is Satan, because the person here is too powerful to be any human king. Although Satan may fit verses 12–14, he does not fit well with the rest of the chapter. (2) This could be Sennacherib or Nebuchadnezzar, kings with supreme power. Their people looked upon them as gods. These kings wanted to rule the world. (3) This could refer to both Satan and a great human king, possibly Nebuchadnezzar, because Babylon is pictured as the seat of evil in Revelation 17, 18. Pride was Satan's sin as well as Babylon's. Common to all three viewpoints is the truth that pride willfully opposes God and will result in judgment. Israel made the mistake of being too proud to depend on God, and we are vulnerable to that same mistake.

20 you will not join them in burial, for you have destroyed your land and killed your people.

The offspring[o] of the wicked will never be mentioned again.
21 Prepare a place to slaughter his sons for the sins of their forefathers;
they are not to rise to inherit the land and cover the earth with their cities.

22 "I will rise up against them," declares the LORD Almighty.
"I will cut off from Babylon her name and survivors, her offspring and descendants,[p]"
declares the LORD.

23 "I will turn her into a place for owls[q]
and into swampland;
I will sweep her with the broom of destruction," declares the LORD Almighty.

14:20
[o] Job 18:19

14:22
[p] Job 18:19

14:23
[q] Isa 34:11-15; Zep 2:14

A Prophecy Against Assyria

24 The LORD Almighty has sworn,

"Surely, as I have planned, so it will be,
and as I have purposed, so it will stand.[r] 25 I will crush the Assyrian[s] in my land;
on my mountains I will trample him down.
His yoke will be taken from my people,
and his burden removed from their shoulders.[t]"

26 This is the plan determined for the whole world;
this is the hand[u] stretched out over all nations.
27 For the LORD Almighty has purposed, and who can thwart him?
His hand is stretched out, and who can turn it back?[v]

14:24
[r] Ac 4:28

14:25
[s] Isa 10:5, 12
[t] Isa 10:27

14:26
[u] Ex 15:12

14:27
[v] 2Ch 20:6; Isa 43:13; Da 4:35

A Prophecy Against the Philistines

28 This oracle came in the year King Ahaz died:

29 Do not rejoice, all you Philistines,[w] that the rod that struck you is broken;
from the root of that snake will spring up a viper, its fruit will be a darting, venomous serpent.
30 The poorest of the poor will find pasture,
and the needy[x] will lie down in safety.
But your root I will destroy by famine;
it will slay your survivors.

31 Wail, O gate! Howl, O city!
Melt away, all you Philistines!
A cloud of smoke comes from the north,[y]
and there is not a straggler in its ranks.
32 What answer shall be given to the envoys of that nation?
"The LORD has established Zion,[z] and in her his afflicted people will find refuge."

14:29
[w] 2Ch 26:6

14:30
[x] Isa 3:15

14:31
[y] Jer 1:14

14:32
[z] Ps 87:2, 5

14:24–27 This prophecy came true as Isaiah predicted (see 2 Kings 19 and Isaiah 37:21–38).

14:28–31 Isaiah received this message from the Lord in 715 B.C., the year that King Ahaz of Judah died. "The rod that struck

A Prophecy Against Moab

15 An oracle concerning Moab:

Ar in Moab is ruined,
destroyed in a night!
Kir in Moab is ruined,
destroyed in a night!
2Dibon goes up to its temple,
to its high places to weep;
Moab wails over Nebo and Medeba.
Every head is shaved
and every beard cut off.
3In the streets they wear sackcloth;
on the roofs and in the public squares[a] they all wail,
prostrate with weeping.
4Heshbon and Elealeh cry out,
their voices are heard all the way to Jahaz.
Therefore the armed men of Moab cry out,
and their hearts are faint.

5My heart cries out over Moab;
her fugitives flee as far as Zoar,
as far as Eglath Shelishiyah.
They go up the way to Luhith, weeping as they go;
on the road to Horonaim
they lament their destruction.[b] 6The waters of Nimrim are dried up and the grass is withered;[c]
the vegetation is gone and nothing green is left.
7So the wealth they have acquired[d] and stored up they carry away over the Ravine of the Poplars.
8Their outcry echoes along the border of Moab;
their wailing reaches as far as Eglaim,
their lamentation as far as Beer Elim.
9Dimon's[o] waters are full of blood, but I will bring still more upon Dimon[o]— a lion[e] upon the fugitives of Moab and upon those who remain in the land.

16 Send lambs[f] as tribute to the ruler of the land,
from Sela, across the desert,
to the mount of the Daughter of Zion.
2Like fluttering birds pushed from the nest,

15:3 [a] Jer 48:38

15:5 [b] Jer 48:5

15:6 [c] Joel 1:12

15:7 [d] Isa 30:6

15:9 [e] 2Ki 17:25

16:1 [f] 2Ki 3:4

[o] 9 Masoretic Text; Dead Sea Scrolls, some Septuagint manuscripts and Vulgate Dibon

you" (14:29) was not Ahaz but Shalmaneser V or Sargon of Assyria. The "cloud of smoke" from the north (14:31) refers to the soldiers of Sargon of Assyria.

15:1 Moab was east of the Dead Sea. The Moabites were descendants of Lot through his incestuous relationship with his older daughter (Genesis 19:31–38). Moab had always been Israel's enemy. They oppressed Israel and invaded their land (Judges 3:12–14), fought against Saul (1 Samuel 14:47) and against David (2 Samuel 8:2, 11, 12). Moab would be punished for treating Israel harshly.

16:1ff Attacked by the Assyrians, Moabite refugees would flee to Sela, which lay in the country of Edom to the south. Desperate Moabites would send a tribute of lambs to Jerusalem asking for Judah's protection. Jerusalem would be a safe refuge for a while. Isaiah advised Judah to accept these refugees as a sign of compassion during the enemy's time of devastation.

so are the women of Moab at the fords of the Arnon.[g]

3"Give us counsel, render a decision.
Make your shadow like night—
at high noon.
Hide the fugitives,
do not betray the refugees.
4Let the Moabite fugitives stay with you;
be their shelter from the destroyer."

The oppressor[h] will come to an end, and destruction will cease;
the aggressor will vanish from the land.
5In love a throne[i] will be established;
in faithfulness a man will sit on it—one from the house[p] of David[j]— one who in judging seeks justice and speeds the cause of righteousness.

6We have heard of Moab's pride—
her overweening pride and conceit, her pride and her insolence—
but her boasts are empty.
7Therefore the Moabites wail,
they wail together for Moab.
Lament and grieve
for the men[q] of Kir Hareseth.[k] 8The fields of Heshbon wither, the vines of Sibmah also.
The rulers of the nations have trampled down the choicest vines, which once reached Jazer
and spread toward the desert.
Their shoots spread out
and went as far as the sea.
9So I weep,[l] as Jazer weeps, for the vines of Sibmah.
O Heshbon, O Elealeh,
I drench you with tears!
The shouts of joy over your ripened fruit and over your harvests[m] have been stilled.
10Joy and gladness are taken away from the orchards;[n]
no one sings or shouts in the vineyards;
no one treads out wine at the presses,
for I have put an end to the shouting.
11My heart laments for Moab like a harp,
my inmost being[o] for Kir Hareseth.
12When Moab appears at her high place,
she only wears herself out;

16:2 [g] Nu 21:13-14
16:4 [h] Isa 9:4
16:5 [i] Da 7:14; Mic 4:7 [j] Lk 1:32
16:7 [k] 2Ki 3:25
16:9 [l] Isa 15:3 [m] Jer 40:12
16:10 [n] Isa 24:7-8
16:11 [o] Isa 63:15

p 5 Hebrew tent q 7 Or "raisin cakes," a wordplay

16:10 The treading of grapes (squeezing the juice from grapes by mashing them with bare feet) was the climax of the harvest season, a time of great joy in the vineyards. But the joy of harvest would soon be ended because the people in their pride ignored God and rebelled against him.

16:12 When the people of Moab experienced God's wrath, they sought their own idols and gods. Nothing happened, however, because there was no one there to save them. When we seek our own ways of escape in order to get through our daily troubles, the effect is the same: no pleasure, pastime, or man-made religious idea will come to save us. Our hope lies in God, the only One who can hear and help.

16:12 [p] Isa 15:2

when she goes to her shrine[p] to pray,
it is to no avail.

13This is the word the LORD has already spoken concerning Moab. 14But now the LORD says: "Within three years, as a servant bound by contract would count them, Moab's splendor and all her many people will be despised, and her survivors will be very few and feeble."[q]

16:14 [q] Isa 21:17

An Oracle Against Damascus

17 An oracle concerning Damascus:

"See, Damascus will no longer be a city
but will become a heap of ruins.
2The cities of Aroer will be deserted and left to flocks, which will lie down, with no one to make them afraid.[r]
17:2 [r] Jer 7:33
3The fortified city will disappear from Ephraim, and royal power from Damascus;
the remnant of Aram will be like the glory of the Israelites,"[s]
17:3 [s] Isa 7:8, 16; 8:4
declares the LORD Almighty.

4"In that day the glory of Jacob will fade;
17:4 [t] Isa 10:16
the fat of his body will waste[t] away.
5It will be as when a reaper gathers the standing grain
17:5 [u] Jer 51:33
and harvests[u] the grain with his arm — as when a man gleans heads of grain in the Valley of Rephaim.
6Yet some gleanings will remain,[v]
17:6 [v] Isa 24:13
as when an olive tree is beaten, leaving two or three olives on the topmost branches, four or five on the fruitful boughs," declares the LORD, the God of Israel.

7In that day men will look to their Maker and turn their eyes to the Holy One of Israel.
8They will not look to the altars,
the work of their hands,
and they will have no regard for the Asherah poles[r] and the incense altars their fingers have made.

9In that day their strong cities, which they left because of the Israelites, will be like places abandoned to thickets and undergrowth. And all will be desolation.

10You have forgotten God your Savior;

r 8 That is, symbols of the goddess Asherah

16:13, 14 Tiglath-Pileser III invaded Moab in 732 B.C.; Sennacherib invaded Moab the same year that he invaded Judah, 701 B.C. The earlier event occurred three years after Isaiah's prediction, marking Isaiah as a true prophet. In these events, the people of Israel saw prophecy fulfilled before their very eyes.

17:1ff The northern kingdom and Aram made an alliance to fight against Assyria. But Tiglath-Pileser III captured Damascus, the capital of Aram, in 732 B.C. and annexed the northern kingdom to the Assyrian empire. Ahaz, king of Judah, paid tribute to Tiglath-Pileser III (2 Kings 16:1–14).

17:7–11 God's message to Damascus is that it will be completely destroyed. The Arameans had turned from the God who could save them, depending instead on their idols and their own strength. No matter how successful they were, God's judgment was sure. Often we depend on the trappings of success (expensive cars, pastimes, clothes, homes) to give us fulfillment. But God says we will reap grief and pain if we have depended on temporal things to give us eternal security. If we don't want the same treatment Damascus received, we must turn from these false allurements and trust in God.

17:8 The Asherah poles were images of Asherah, a Canaanite goddess who was the female consort of Baal. Queen Jezebel may have brought the worship of Asherah into the northern kingdom. The cult encouraged immoral sexual practices and attracted many people. The Bible warns against worshiping Asherah poles (Exodus 34:13; Deuteronomy 12:3; 16:21), and Manasseh was condemned for putting up an Asherah pole in the temple (2 Kings 21:7). Unlike pagan gods, our God does not try to attract the greatest number of people but instead seeks the greatest good for all people.

you have not remembered the Rock, your fortress.
Therefore, though you set out the finest plants and plant imported vines, 11 though on the day you set them out, you make them grow, and on the morning[w] when you plant them, you bring them to bud, yet the harvest will be as nothing in the day of disease and incurable pain.[x]

12 Oh, the raging of many nations—they rage like the raging sea!
Oh, the uproar of the peoples—
they roar like the roaring of great waters!
13 Although the peoples roar like the roar of surging waters, when he rebukes[y] them they flee far away, driven before the wind like chaff on the hills,
like tumbleweed before a gale.
14 In the evening, sudden terror!
Before the morning, they are gone![z]
This is the portion of those who loot us,
the lot of those who plunder us.

17:11 [w] Ps 90:6 [x] Job 4:8
17:13 [y] Ps 9:5
17:14 [z] 2Ki 19:35

A Prophecy Against Cush

18 Woe to the land of whirring wings[s] along the rivers of Cush,[t] 2 which sends envoys by sea in papyrus boats over the water.

Go, swift messengers,
to a people tall and smooth-skinned,
to a people feared far and wide,
an aggressive nation of strange speech,
whose land is divided by rivers.[a]

3 All you people of the world,
you who live on the earth,
when a banner is raised on the mountains,
you will see it,
and when a trumpet sounds,
you will hear it.
4 This is what the LORD says to me:
"I will remain quiet and will look on from my dwelling place, like shimmering heat in the sunshine, like a cloud of dew[b] in the heat of harvest."
5 For, before the harvest, when the blossom is gone and the flower becomes a ripening grape,
he will cut off the shoots with pruning knives,
and cut down and take away the spreading branches.
6 They will all be left to the mountain birds of prey and to the wild animals;[c]

18:2 [a] ver 7
18:4 [b] Isa 26:19
18:6 [c] Jer 7:33

[s] 1 Or of locusts [t] 1 That is, the upper Nile region

18:1ff This prophecy was probably given in the days of Hezekiah (2 Kings 19; 20). The "land of whirring wings" refers to locusts, and probably pictures the armies of Cush. The king of Cush had heard that Assyria's great army was marching south toward them. He sent messengers up the Nile asking the surrounding nations to form an alliance. Judah was also asked, but Isaiah told the messengers to return home because Judah needed only God's help to repel the Assyrians. Isaiah prophesied that Assyria would be destroyed at the proper time (37:21–38).

18:3 This is a signal of the doom of Cush and Assyria's victory over Cush (see 20:1–6).

the birds will feed on them all summer,
the wild animals all winter.

7 At that time gifts will be brought to the LORD Almighty from a people tall and smooth-skinned, from a people feared far and wide,
an aggressive nation of strange speech,
whose land is divided by rivers—
the gifts will be brought to Mount Zion, the place of the Name of the LORD Almighty.[d]

18:7 [d] Ps 68:31

A Prophecy About Egypt

19 An oracle concerning Egypt:[e]
See, the LORD rides on a swift cloud and is coming to Egypt.
The idols of Egypt tremble before him,
and the hearts of the Egyptians melt within them.

19:1 [e] Ex 12:12

2 "I will stir up Egyptian against Egyptian—brother will fight against brother,[f] neighbor against neighbor,
city against city,
kingdom against kingdom.[g]
3 The Egyptians will lose heart, and I will bring their plans to nothing;
they will consult the idols and the spirits of the dead,
the mediums and the spiritists.[h] 4 I will hand the Egyptians over to the power of a cruel master, and a fierce king[i] will rule over them,"
declares the Lord, the LORD Almighty.
5 The waters of the river will dry up,[j]
and the riverbed will be parched and dry.
6 The canals will stink;
the streams of Egypt will dwindle and dry up.[k]
The reeds and rushes will wither,
7 also the plants along the Nile,

19:2 [f] Jdg 7:22 [g] 2Ch 20:23

19:3 [h] Isa 47:13

19:4 [i] Isa 20:4; Jer 46:26; Eze 29:19

19:5 [j] Jer 51:36

19:6 [k] Eze 30:12

ALLIANCES TODAY

Government	We rely on government legislation to protect the moral decisions we want made, but legislation cannot change people's hearts.
Science	We enjoy the benefits of science and technology. We look to scientific predictions and analysis before we look to the Bible.
Education	We act as though education and degrees can guarantee our future and success without considering what God plans for our future.
Medical care	We regard medicine as the way to prolong life and preserve its quality—quite apart from faith and moral living.
Financial systems	We place our faith in financial "security"—making as much money as we can for ourselves—forgetting that, while being wise with our money, we must trust God for our needs.

Isaiah warned Judah not to ally with Egypt (20:5; 30:1, 2; 31:1). He knew that trust in any nation or any military might was futile. Their only hope was to trust in God. Although we don't consciously put our hope for deliverance in political alliances in quite the same way, we often put our hope in other forces.

19:1 Egypt, the nation where God's people were enslaved for 400 years (Exodus 1), was hated by the people of Israel. Yet Judah was considering an alliance with Egypt against Assyria (2 Kings 18:17ff). But Isaiah warned against this alliance because God would destroy Assyria in his time.

at the mouth of the river.
Every sown field along the Nile will become parched, will blow away and be no more.
8The fishermen will groan and lament,
all who cast hooks into the Nile;
those who throw nets on the water will pine away.
9Those who work with combed flax will despair,
the weavers of fine linen[l] will lose hope.
10The workers in cloth will be dejected, and all the wage earners will be sick at heart.

11The officials of Zoan[m] are nothing but fools;
the wise counselors of Pharaoh give senseless advice.
How can you say to Pharaoh,
"I am one of the wise men,
a disciple of the ancient kings"?

12Where are your wise men now?
Let them show you and make known what the LORD Almighty has planned against Egypt.
13The officials of Zoan have become fools,
the leaders of Memphis[u][n] are deceived;
the cornerstones of her peoples have led Egypt astray.
14The LORD has poured into them
a spirit of dizziness;
they make Egypt stagger in all that she does,
as a drunkard staggers around in his vomit.
15There is nothing Egypt can do—head or tail, palm branch or reed.[o]

19:9 [l]Pr 7:16
19:11 [m]Nu 13:22
19:13 [n]Jer 2:16
19:15 [o]Isa 9:14

16In that day the Egyptians will be like women. They will shudder with fear at the uplifted hand[p] that the LORD Almighty raises against them. 17And the land of Judah will bring terror to the Egyptians; everyone to whom Judah is mentioned will be terrified, because of what the LORD Almighty is planning against them.

18In that day five cities in Egypt will speak the language of Canaan and swear allegiance to the LORD Almighty. One of them will be called the City of Destruction.[v]

19In that day there will be an altar[q] to the LORD in the heart of Egypt, and a monument[r] to the LORD at its border. 20It will be a sign and witness to the LORD Almighty in the land of Egypt. When they cry out to the LORD because of their oppressors, he will send them a savior and defender, and he will rescue[s] them. 21So the LORD will make himself known to the Egyptians, and in that day they will acknowledge the LORD. They will worship with sacrifices and grain offerings; they will make vows to the LORD and keep them. 22The LORD will strike Egypt with a

19:16 [p]Isa 11:15
19:19 [q]Jos 22:10 [r]Ge 28:18
19:20 [s]Isa 49:24-26

[u] 13 Hebrew Noph [v] 18 Most manuscripts of the Masoretic Text; some manuscripts of the Masoretic Text, Dead Sea Scrolls and Vulgate City of the Sun (that is, Heliopolis)

19:11–15 Egypt was noted for its wisdom, but here its wise men and officials were deceived and foolish. True wisdom can come only from God. We must ask him for wisdom to guide our decisions, or we will also be uncertain and misdirected. Are you confused about something now? Ask God for wisdom to deal with it.

19:19, 23 After Egypt's chastening, it would turn from idols and worship the one true God. Even more amazing is Isaiah's prophecy that the two chief oppressors of Israel, Egypt and Assyria, would unite in worship. This prophecy will come true "in that day," the future day of Christ's reign.

19:20 When Egypt calls to God for help, he will send a savior to deliver them. Our Savior, Jesus Christ, is available to all who call upon him. We too can pray and receive his saving power (John 1:12).

19:22 Egypt is but one Gentile nation who will bow before the Lord. Philippians 2:10, 11 says every knee will bow, every tongue confess that Jesus Christ is Lord. So we shouldn't be surprised that Egyptians and Assyrians are part of the "every." Each of us is part of that "every" too. We may bow now in devotion, or later in submission.

19:22
[f] Isa 45:14

plague; he will strike them and heal them. They will turn[f] to the LORD, and he will respond to their pleas and heal them.

19:23
[u] Isa 11:16
[v] Isa 27:13

23 In that day there will be a highway[u] from Egypt to Assyria. The Assyrians will go to Egypt and the Egyptians to Assyria. The Egyptians and Assyrians will worship[v] together. 24 In that day Israel will be the third, along with Egypt and Assyria, a blessing on the earth. 25 The LORD Almighty will bless them, saying, "Blessed be Egypt my people,[w] Assyria my handiwork,[x] and Israel my inheritance.[y]"

19:25
[w] Ps 100:3
[x] Isa 29:23; Eph 2:10
[y] Hos 2:23

A Prophecy Against Egypt and Cush

20:1
[z] 2Ki 18:17

20 In the year that the supreme commander,[z] sent by Sargon king of Assyria, came to Ashdod and attacked and captured it — 2 at that time the LORD spoke through Isaiah son of Amoz. He said to him, "Take off the sackcloth[a] from your body and the sandals from your feet." And he did so, going around stripped[b] and barefoot.[c]

20:2
[a] Zec 13:4
[b] 1Sa 19:24
[c] Mic 1:8

3 Then the LORD said, "Just as my servant Isaiah has gone stripped and barefoot for three years, as a sign[d] and portent against Egypt and Cush,[w] 4 so the king of Assyria will lead away stripped and barefoot the Egyptian captives and Cushite exiles, young and old, with buttocks bared — to Egypt's shame. 5 Those who trusted in Cush and boasted in Egypt[e] will be afraid and put to shame. 6 In that day the people who live on this coast will say, 'See what has happened to those we relied on, those we fled to for help and deliverance from the king of Assyria! How then can we escape?' "

20:3
[d] Isa 8:18

20:5
[e] 2Ki 18:21

A Prophecy Against Babylon

21 An oracle concerning the Desert by the Sea:

21:1
[f] Zec 9:14

Like whirlwinds sweeping through the southland,[f] an invader comes from the desert, from a land of terror.

2 A dire vision has been shown to me:
The traitor betrays,[g] the looter takes loot.
Elam, attack! Media, lay siege!
I will bring to an end all the groaning she caused.

21:2
[g] Isa 33:1

3 At this my body is racked with pain, pangs seize me, like those of a woman in labor;
I am staggered by what I hear,
I am bewildered by what I see.
4 My heart falters,
fear makes me tremble;
the twilight I longed for has become a horror to me.

5 They set the tables,
they spread the rugs,

[w] 3 That is, the upper Nile region; also in verse 5

19:23–25 In Jesus Christ, former enemies may unite in love. In Christ, people and nations that are poles apart politically will bow at his feet as brothers and sisters. Christ breaks down every barrier that threatens relationships (see Ephesians 2:13–19).

20:1ff Sargon II was king of Assyria from 722–705 B.C., and this event happened in 711 B.C. Isaiah graphically reminds Judah that they should not count on foreign alliances to protect them.

20:2 God's command to Isaiah was to walk about naked for three years, a humiliating experience. God was using Isaiah to demonstrate the humiliation that Egypt and Cush would experience at the hands of Assyria. But the message was really for Judah: Don't put your trust in foreign governments, or you will experience this kind of shame and humiliation from your captors.

20:2 God asked Isaiah to do something that seemed shameful and illogical. At times, God may ask us to do things we don't understand. We must obey God in complete faith, for he will never ask us to do something wrong.

21:1ff "The Desert by the Sea" is Babylon by the Persian Gulf. Some scholars say this prophecy was fulfilled at Babylon's fall in 539 B.C. (see Daniel 5). But others say this was a prophecy of Babylon's revolt against Assyria around 700 B.C.

21:5 If the prophecy refers to the fall of Babylon in 539 B.C., this may picture the feast in Daniel 5.

they eat, they drink!
Get up, you officers,
oil the shields!

6This is what the Lord says to me:

"Go, post a lookout
and have him report what he sees.
7When he sees chariots[h]
with teams of horses, riders on donkeys
or riders on camels,
let him be alert,
fully alert."

8And the lookout[x][i] shouted,

"Day after day, my lord, I stand on the watchtower;
every night I stay at my post.
9Look, here comes a man in a chariot with a team of horses.
And he gives back the answer:
'Babylon[j] has fallen,[k] has fallen!
All the images of its gods[l] lie shattered on the ground!' "

10O my people, crushed on the threshing floor,[m]
I tell you what I have heard from the LORD Almighty, from the God of Israel.

21:7
[h] ver 9

21:8
[i] Hab 2:1

21:9
[j] Rev 14:8
[k] Jer 51:8
[l] Isa 46:1; Jer 50:2; 51:44

21:10
[m] Jer 51:33

A Prophecy Against Edom

11An oracle concerning Dumah[y]:

Someone calls to me from Seir,
"Watchman, what is left of the night?
Watchman, what is left of the night?"
12The watchman replies,
"Morning is coming, but also the night.
If you would ask, then ask;
and come back yet again."

A Prophecy Against Arabia

13An oracle concerning Arabia:

You caravans of Dedanites,

[x] 8 Dead Sea Scrolls and Syriac; Masoretic Text A lion [y] 11 Dumah means silence or stillness, a wordplay on Edom.

21:6, 7 Lookouts (watchmen on the city walls) often appear in prophetic visions of destruction. They are the first to see trouble coming. The prophet Habakkuk was a watchman (Habakkuk 2:1). The vision of the riders could represent the Medes and Persians attacking Babylon in 539 B.C.

21:8, 9 Babylon was not only a great and powerful city, it was also filled with horrible sin (idolatry, witchcraft, and temple prostitution). Babylon was, and remains, a symbol of all that stands against God. Despite all its glory and power, Babylon would be destroyed, along with all its idols. They would give no help in time of trouble.

21:10 Threshing and winnowing were two steps in ancient Israel's farming process. The heads of wheat (often used to symbolize Israel) were first trampled to break open the seeds and expose the valued grain inside (threshing). The seeds were then thrown into the air, and the worthless chaff blew away while the grain fell back to the ground (winnowing). Israel would experience this same kind of process – the worthless, sinful, rebellious people would be taken away, but God would keep the good "grain" to replenish Israel.

21:11 Dumah, or Edom, had been a constant enemy of God's people. They rejoiced when Israel fell to the Assyrians, and this sealed Edom's doom (34:8ff; 63:4). Seir was another name for Edom because the hill country of Seir was given to Esau and his descendants (see Joshua 24:4). Obadiah foretells, in great detail, the destruction of Edom.

21:13ff The places listed here are all in Arabia. They are border cities that controlled the trade routes through the land. This is Isaiah's prediction of disaster.

who camp in the thickets of Arabia, 14 bring water for the thirsty;
you who live in Tema,
bring food for the fugitives.
15They flee from the sword,
from the drawn sword,
from the bent bow
and from the heat of battle.

16This is what the Lord says to me: "Within one year, as a servant bound by contract would count it, all the pomp of Kedar will come to an end. 17The survivors of the bowmen, the warriors of Kedar, will be few." The LORD, the God of Israel, has spoken.

A Prophecy About Jerusalem

22:1 [n] Joel 3:2, 12, 14

22 An oracle concerning the Valley[n] of Vision:

What troubles you now,
that you have all gone up on the roofs, 2O town full of commotion,
O city of tumult and revelry?
Your slain were not killed by the sword,
nor did they die in battle.
3All your leaders have fled together;
they have been captured without using the bow.
All you who were caught were taken prisoner together,
having fled while the enemy was still far away.
4Therefore I said, "Turn away from me;
let me weep bitterly.
Do not try to console me over the destruction of my people."[o]

22:4 [o] Jer 9:1

5The Lord, the LORD Almighty, has a day of tumult and trampling and terror[p] in the Valley of Vision,
a day of battering down walls and of crying out to the mountains.
6Elam takes up the quiver,[q]
with her charioteers and horses;
Kir[r] uncovers the shield.
7Your choicest valleys are full of chariots, and horsemen are posted at the city gates;
8 the defenses of Judah are stripped away.

22:5 [p] La 1:5

22:6 [q] Jer 49:35
[r] 2Ki 16:9

And you looked in that day to the weapons in the Palace of the Forest;[s] 9you saw that the City of David

22:8 [s] 1Ki 7:2

22:1–13 "The Valley of Vision" refers to the city of Jerusalem, where God revealed himself. Jerusalem would be attacked unless God's people returned to him. Instead they used every means of protection possible except asking God for help. They wanted to trust in their ingenuity, their weapons, and even their pagan neighbors (see 2 Chronicles 32 for the description of a siege of Jerusalem).

22:4 Isaiah had warned his people, but they did not repent; thus they would experience God's judgment. Because of his care for them, Isaiah was hurt by their punishment and mourned deeply for them. Sometimes people we care for ignore our attempts to help, so they suffer the very grief we wanted to spare them. At times like that we grieve because of our concern. God expects us to be involved with others, and this may sometimes require us to suffer with them.

22:6, 7 Elam and Kir were under Assyrian rule. The entire Assyrian army, including its vassals, joined in the attack against Jerusalem.

22:8–11 The leaders did what they could to prepare for war: they got weapons, inspected the walls, and stored up water in a reservoir. But all their work was pointless because they never asked God for help. Too often we take steps that, though good in themselves, really won't give us the help we need. We must get the weapons and inspect the walls, but God must guide the work.

had many breaches in its defenses:
you stored up water
in the Lower Pool.
10 You counted the buildings in Jerusalem and tore down houses to strengthen the wall.
11 You built a reservoir between the two walls[t] for the water of the Old Pool,[u]
but you did not look to the One who made it, or have regard for the One who planned it long ago.

12 The Lord, the LORD Almighty, called you on that day
to weep and to wail,
to tear out your hair[v] and put on sackcloth.
13 But see, there is joy and revelry, slaughtering of cattle and killing of sheep, eating of meat and drinking of wine![w]
"Let us eat and drink," you say,
"for tomorrow we die!"[x]

14 The LORD Almighty has revealed this in my hearing:[y] "Till your dying day this sin will not be atoned for," says the Lord, the LORD Almighty.

15 This is what the Lord, the LORD Almighty, says:

"Go, say to this steward,
to Shebna,[z] who is in charge of the palace:
16 What are you doing here and who gave you permission to cut out a grave[a] for yourself here, hewing your grave on the height and chiseling your resting place in the rock?

17 "Beware, the LORD is about to take firm hold of you and hurl you away, O you mighty man.
18 He will roll you up tightly like a ball and throw[b] you into a large country.
There you will die
and there your splendid chariots will remain—
you disgrace to your master's house!
19 I will depose you from your office,
and you will be ousted from your position.

20 "In that day I will summon my servant, Eliakim[c] son of Hilkiah. 21 I will clothe him with your robe and fasten your sash around him and hand your authority over to him. He will be a father to those who live in Jerusalem and to the house of Judah. 22 I will place on his shoulder the key[d] to the house of David; what he opens no one can shut, and what he shuts no one can open.[e] 23 I will drive him like a peg into a firm place;[f] he will be a seat[z] of honor[g] for the house of his father. 24 All the glory of his family will hang on him: its offspring and offshoots—all its lesser vessels, from the bowls to all the jars.

[z] 23 Or throne

22:11 [t] 2Ki 25:4 [u] 2Ch 32:4
22:12 [v] Mic 1:16
22:13 [w] Isa 56:12 [x] 1Co 15:32*
22:14 [y] Isa 5:9
22:15 [z] 2Ki 18:18
22:16 [a] Mt 27:60
22:18 [b] Isa 17:13
22:20 [c] 2Ki 18:18
22:22 [d] Rev 3:7 [e] Job 12:14
22:23 [f] Ezr 9:8 [g] Job 36:7

22:13, 14 The people said, "Let us eat and drink," because they had given up hope. Attacked on every side (22:7), they should have repented (22:12), but they chose to feast instead. The root problem was that Judah did not trust God's power or his promises (see 56:12; 1 Corinthians 15:32). When you face difficulties, turn to God. Today we still see people giving up hope. There are two common responses to hopelessness: despair and self-indulgence. But this life is not all there is, so we are not to act as if we had no hope. Our proper response should be to trust God and his promise to include us in the perfect and just new world that he will create.

22:15–25 Shebna, a high court steward or official, was just as materialistic as the rest of the people in Jerusalem (22:13). He may have been in the group favoring an alliance with foreigners, thus ignoring Isaiah's advice. The Lord revealed that Shebna would lose his position and be replaced by Eliakim (22:21). Eliakim would be the "peg" driven into "a firm place" (22:23). Unfortunately, Eliakim too would fall (22:25).

22:25 [h] ver 23 [i] Isa 46:11

25"In that day," declares the LORD Almighty, "the peg[h] driven into the firm place will give way; it will be sheared off and will fall, and the load hanging on it will be cut down." The LORD has spoken.[i]

A Prophecy About Tyre

23:1 [j] Jer 47:4

23 An oracle concerning Tyre:[j]

Wail, O ships of Tarshish!
For Tyre is destroyed and left without house or harbor.
From the land of Cyprus[a] word has come to them.

2Be silent, you people of the island and you merchants of Sidon, whom the seafarers have enriched.
3On the great waters came the grain of the Shihor;
the harvest of the Nile[b] was the revenue of Tyre,
and she became the marketplace of the nations.

4Be ashamed, O Sidon, and you, O fortress of the sea,
for the sea has spoken:
"I have neither been in labor nor given birth;
I have neither reared sons nor brought up daughters."
5When word comes to Egypt,
they will be in anguish at the report from Tyre.

6Cross over to Tarshish;
wail, you people of the island.
23:7 [k] Isa 32:13
7Is this your city of revelry,[k]
the old, old city, whose feet have taken her
to settle in far-off lands?
8Who planned this against Tyre,
the bestower of crowns,
whose merchants are princes,
whose traders are renowned in the earth?
23:9 [l] Job 40:11 [m] Isa 5:13
9The LORD Almighty planned it, to bring low[l] the pride of all glory and to humble all who are renowned[m] on the earth.

10Till[c] your land as along the Nile,
O Daughter of Tarshish,
for you no longer have a harbor.
11The LORD has stretched out his hand over the sea and made its kingdoms tremble.
He has given an order concerning Phoenicia[d]

[a] 1 Hebrew Kittim [b] 2,3 Masoretic Text; one Dead Sea Scroll Sidon, / who cross over the sea; / your envoys 3are on the great waters. / The grain of the Shihor, / the harvest of the Nile, [c] 10 Dead Sea Scrolls and some Septuagint manuscripts; Masoretic Text Go through [d] 11 Hebrew Canaan

23:1ff Isaiah's prophecies against other nations began in the east with Babylon (chapter 13) and ended in the west with Tyre in Phoenicia. Tyre was one of the most famous cities of the ancient world. A major trading center with a large seaport, Tyre was very wealthy and very evil. Tyre was rebuked by Jeremiah (Jeremiah 25:22, 27; 47:4), Ezekiel (Ezekiel 26—28), Joel (Joel 3:4–8), Amos (Amos 1:9, 10), and Zechariah (Zechariah 9:3, 4). This is another warning against political alliances with unstable neighbors.

23:5 Why would Egypt be "in anguish" when Tyre fell? Egypt depended on Tyre's shipping expertise to promote and carry their products around the world. Egypt would lose an important trading partner with the fall of Tyre.

23:9 God would destroy Tyre because he hated its people's pride. Pride separates people from God, and he will not tolerate it. We must examine our lives and remember that all true accomplishment comes from our Creator. We have no reason for pride in ourselves.

that her fortresses be destroyed.[n] 12He said, "No more of your reveling,[o]
O Virgin Daughter of Sidon, now crushed!

"Up, cross over to Cyprus[e];
even there you will find no rest."
13Look at the land of the Babylonians,[f]
this people that is now of no account!
The Assyrians[p] have made it a place for desert creatures;
they raised up their siege towers, they stripped its fortresses bare and turned it into a ruin.[q]

14Wail, you ships of Tarshish;
your fortress is destroyed!

15At that time Tyre[r] will be forgotten for seventy years, the span of a king's life. But at the end of these seventy years, it will happen to Tyre as in the song of the prostitute:

16"Take up a harp, walk through the city,
O prostitute forgotten;
play the harp well, sing many a song,
so that you will be remembered."

17At the end of seventy years, the LORD will deal with Tyre. She will return to her hire as a prostitute[s] and will ply her trade with all the kingdoms on the face of the earth. 18Yet her profit and her earnings will be set apart for the LORD; they will not be stored up or hoarded. Her profits will go to those who live before the LORD,[t] for abundant food and fine clothes.

23:11 [n]Isa 25:2
23:12 [o]Rev 18:22
23:13 [p]Isa 10:5 [q]Isa 10:7
23:15 [r]Jer 25:22
23:17 [s]Eze 16:26; Rev 17:1
23:18 [t]Isa 60:5-9

3. God's purpose in judgment

The LORD's Devastation of the Earth

24 See, the LORD is going to lay waste the earth and devastate it;
he will ruin its face
and scatter its inhabitants—2it will be the same for priest as for people,[u]
for master as for servant,
for mistress as for maid,
for seller as for buyer,
for borrower as for lender,
for debtor as for creditor.[v] 3The earth will be completely laid waste and totally plundered.
The LORD has spoken this word.

4The earth dries up and withers,

24:2 [u]Hos 4:9 [v]Dt 23:19-20

e 12 Hebrew Kittim f 13 Or Chaldeans

23:15, 16 Some scholars believe this is a literal 70 years; some say it is symbolic of a long period of time. If it is literal, this may have occurred between 700–630 B.C. during the Assyrian captivity of Israel, or it may have been during the 70-year captivity of the Jews in Babylon (605–536 B.C.). During the 70 years, the Jews would forget about Tyre. But when they returned from captivity, they would once again trade with Tyre.

24–27 These four chapters are often called "Isaiah's Apocalypse." They discuss God's judgment on the entire world for its sin. Isaiah's prophecies were first directed to Judah, then to Israel, then to the surrounding nations, and finally to the whole world. These chapters describe the last days when God will judge the whole world. At that time he will finally and permanently remove evil.

24:4, 5 Not only the people suffered from their sins; even the land suffered the effects of evil and lawbreaking. Today we see the results of sin in our own land—pollution, crime, addiction, poverty. Sin affects every aspect of society so extensively that even those the world languishes and withers, the exalted of the earth languish.

24:5 [w] Ge 3:17
5 The earth is defiled[w] by its people;
they have disobeyed the laws, violated the statutes
and broken the everlasting covenant.
6 Therefore a curse consumes the earth;
its people must bear their guilt.
Therefore earth's inhabitants are burned up,
and very few are left.
7 The new wine dries up and the vine withers;
24:7 [x] Isa 16:8-10
all the merrymakers groan.[x]
8 The gaiety of the tambourines is stilled, 24:8 [y] Hos 2:11 [z] Rev 18:22 [a] Eze 26:13
the noise[y] of the revelers has stopped, the joyful harp[z] is silent.[a] 9 No longer do they drink wine with a song;
24:9 [b] Isa 5:20
the beer is bitter[b] to its drinkers.
10 The ruined city lies desolate;
the entrance to every house is barred.
11 In the streets they cry out for wine;
all joy turns to gloom,
all gaiety is banished from the earth.
12 The city is left in ruins,
its gate is battered to pieces.
13 So will it be on the earth and among the nations,
24:13 [c] Isa 17:6
as when an olive tree is beaten,[c] or as when gleanings are left after the grape harvest.

14 They raise their voices, they shout for joy;
from the west they acclaim the LORD's majesty.
15 Therefore in the east give glory to the LORD;
24:15 [d] Mal 1:11
exalt[d] the name of the LORD, the God of Israel, in the islands of the sea.
16 From the ends of the earth we hear singing:
"Glory to the Righteous One."

But I said, "I waste away, I waste away!
Woe to me!
The treacherous betray!
24:16 [e] Jer 5:11
With treachery the treacherous betray![e]"
24:17 [f] Jer 48:43
17 Terror and pit and snare[f] await you,
O people of the earth.
18 Whoever flees at the sound of terror
will fall into a pit;
whoever climbs out of the pit
will be caught in a snare.

24:18 [g] Ge 7:11
The floodgates of the heavens[g] are opened,
the foundations of the earth shake.
19 The earth is broken up,
the earth is split asunder,

---

faithful to God suffer. We cannot blame God for these conditions because human sin has brought them about. The more we who are believers renounce sin, speak against immoral practices, and share God's Word with others, the more we slow our society's deterioration. We must not give up: sin is rampant, but we can make a difference.

24:14–16 The believers who are left behind after God judges Judah will sing to the glory of God's righteousness. Isaiah grieved because of his world's condition. We too can become depressed by the evil all around us. At those times we need to hold on to God's promises for the future and look forward to singing praises to him when he restores heaven and earth.

the earth is thoroughly shaken.
20 The earth reels like a drunkard, it sways like a hut in the wind;
so heavy upon it is the guilt of its rebellion that it falls — never to rise again.

21 In that day the LORD will punish[h]
the powers in the heavens above and the kings on the earth below.
22 They will be herded together like prisoners bound in a dungeon;
they will be shut up in prison and be punished[g] after many days.
23 The moon will be abashed, the sun[i] ashamed;
for the LORD Almighty will reign on Mount Zion[j] and in Jerusalem, and before its elders, gloriously.[k]

24:21 [h] Isa 10:12

24:23 [i] Isa 13:10 [j] Heb 12:22 [k] Isa 60:19

Praise to the LORD

25 O LORD, you are my God;
I will exalt you and praise your name, for in perfect faithfulness you have done marvelous things,[l] things planned long ago.
2 You have made the city a heap of rubble,[m]
the fortified town a ruin,
the foreigners' stronghold[n] a city no more;
it will never be rebuilt.
3 Therefore strong peoples will honor you;
cities of ruthless nations will revere you.
4 You have been a refuge[o] for the poor,
a refuge for the needy in his distress,
a shelter from the storm
and a shade from the heat.
For the breath of the ruthless is like a storm driving against a wall
5 and like the heat of the desert.
You silence[p] the uproar of foreigners;
as heat is reduced by the shadow of a cloud,
so the song of the ruthless is stilled.

6 On this mountain[q] the LORD Almighty will prepare a feast[r] of rich food for all peoples, a banquet of aged wine —
the best of meats and the finest of wines.[s]
7 On this mountain he will destroy

25:1 [l] Ps 98:1

25:2 [m] Isa 17:1 [n] Isa 13:22

25:4 [o] Isa 4:6

25:5 [p] Jer 51:55

25:6 [q] Isa 2:2 [r] Mt 8:11; 22:4 [s] Pr 9:2

[g] 22 Or released

24:21 "The powers in the heavens above" refer to spiritual forces opposed to God. Nobody, not even the fallen angels, will escape due punishment.

25:1 Isaiah exalted and praised God because he realized that God completes his plans as promised. God also fulfills his promises to you. Think of the prayers he has answered, and praise him for his goodness and faithfulness.

25:4 The poor suffered because ruthless people oppressed them. But God is concerned for the poor and is a refuge for them. When we are disadvantaged or oppressed, we can turn to God for comfort and help. Jesus states that the kingdom of God belongs to the poor (Luke 6:20).

25:6 Here is a marvelous prophecy of "all peoples" – Gentiles and Jews together – at God's Messianic feast, celebrating the overthrow of evil and the joy of eternity with God. It shows that God intended his saving message to go out to the whole world, not just to the Jews. During the feast, God will end death forever (25:7, 8). The people who participate in this great feast will be those who have been living by faith. That is why they say, "Surely this is our God; we trusted in him, and he saved us" (25:9). See also chapter 55 for another presentation of this great banquet.

25:7 [f] 2Co 3:15-16

the shroud[f] that enfolds all peoples,
the sheet that covers all nations;
8 he will swallow up death[u] forever.
The Sovereign LORD will wipe away the tears[v]
from all faces;
he will remove the disgrace of his people from all the earth.
The LORD has spoken.

25:8 [u] Hos 13:14; 1Co 15:54-55* [v] Rev 7:17; 21:4

9 In that day they will say,

"Surely this is our God;[w]
we trusted in him, and he saved[x] us.
This is the LORD, we trusted in him;
let us rejoice and be glad in his salvation."

25:9 [w] Isa 40:9 [x] Isa 33:22

10 The hand of the LORD will rest on this mountain;
but Moab will be trampled under him
as straw is trampled down in the manure.
11 They will spread out their hands in it,
as a swimmer spreads out his hands to swim.
God will bring down their pride
despite the cleverness[h] of their hands.
12 He will bring down your high fortified walls and lay them low;
he will bring them down to the ground,
to the very dust.

A Song of Praise

26 In that day this song will be sung in the land of Judah:

We have a strong city;
God makes salvation
its walls[y] and ramparts.
2 Open the gates that the righteous nation may enter,
the nation that keeps faith.
3 You will keep in perfect peace him whose mind is steadfast, because he trusts in you.
4 Trust in the LORD forever,
for the LORD, the LORD, is the Rock eternal.
5 He humbles those who dwell on high,
he lays the lofty city low;
he levels it to the ground[z]
and casts it down to the dust.

26:1 [y] Isa 60:18

26:5 [z] Isa 25:12

[h] 11 The meaning of the Hebrew for this word is uncertain.

25:8 When the Lord speaks, he does what he says. It is comforting to know that God's plans and activities are closely tied to his word. When we pray according to God's will (as expressed in the Bible) and claim his promises (as recorded in the Bible), he hears us and answers our requests.

25:8 Part of this verse is quoted in 1 Corinthians 15:54 to describe Christ's victory over death. God's ultimate victory is seen when death, our ultimate enemy, is defeated (see also Hosea 13:14). Another part of this verse is quoted in Revelation 21:4, which describes the glorious scene of God's presence with his people.

25:10 Moab was a symbol of all who oppose God and are rebellious to the end. Moab was Israel's enemy for years (see the note on 15:1).

26:1ff People will praise God on the day of the Lord when Christ establishes his kingdom (see chapter 12). Chapter 26 is a psalm of trust, praise, and meditation. Once more, God revealed the future to Isaiah.

26:3 We can never avoid strife in the world around us, but with God we can know perfect peace even in turmoil. When we are devoted to him, our whole attitude is steady and stable. Supported by God's unchanging love and mighty power, we are not shaken by the surrounding chaos (see Philippians 4:7). Do you want peace? Keep your thoughts on and your trust in God.

6 Feet trample it down—
the feet of the oppressed, the footsteps of the poor.[a]

7 The path of the righteous is level;
O upright One, you make the way of the righteous smooth.
8 Yes, LORD, walking in the way of your laws,[i b]
we wait for you;
your name and renown
are the desire of our hearts.
9 My soul yearns for you in the night;
in the morning my spirit longs[c] for you.
When your judgments come upon the earth,
the people of the world learn righteousness.
10 Though grace is shown to the wicked,
they do not learn righteousness;
even in a land of uprightness they go on doing evil and regard[d] not the majesty of the LORD.
11 O LORD, your hand is lifted high,
but they do not see it.
Let them see your zeal for your people and be put to shame;
let the fire reserved for your enemies consume them.

12 LORD, you establish peace for us;
all that we have accomplished you have done for us.
13 O LORD, our God, other lords[e] besides you have ruled over us, but your name alone do we honor.
14 They are now dead, they live no more;
those departed spirits do not rise.
You punished them and brought them to ruin;
you wiped out all memory of them.
15 You have enlarged the nation, O LORD;
you have enlarged the nation.
You have gained glory for yourself;
you have extended all the borders[f] of the land.

16 LORD, they came to you in their distress;
when you disciplined them,
they could barely whisper a prayer.[i] 17 As a woman with child and about to give birth[g] writhes and cries out in her pain, so were we in your presence, O LORD.
18 We were with child, we writhed in pain,
but we gave birth to wind.
We have not brought salvation[h] to the earth;
we have not given birth to people of the world.

19 But your dead will live;

26:6 [a] Isa 3:15
26:8 [b] Isa 56:1
26:9 [c] Isa 55:6
26:10 [d] Isa 22:12-13
26:13 [e] Isa 2:8; 10:5, 11
26:15 [f] Isa 33:17
26:17 [g] Jn 16:21
26:18 [h] Ps 17:14

i 8 Or judgments i 16 The meaning of the Hebrew for this clause is uncertain.

26:7, 8 At times the "path of the righteous" doesn't seem smooth and it isn't easy to do God's will, but we are never alone when we face tough times. God is there to help us through difficulties, to comfort us, and to lead us. God does this by giving us a purpose (keeping our mind centered on him, 26:3) and giving us provisions as we travel. God provides us with relationships of family, friends, and mentors. God gives us wisdom to make decisions and faith to trust him. Don't despair; stay on God's path.

26:10 Even wicked people receive God's benefits, but that doesn't teach them to do what is right. Sometimes God's judgment teaches us more than God's good gifts. If you have been enriched by God's goodness and grace, respond to him with your grateful devotion.

26:16–19 The people realized the pain of being away from God's presence, and yet they are assured that they will live again. God turned his back on his people when they disobeyed, but a small number never lost hope and continued to seek him. No matter how difficult times may be, we have hope when we keep our trust in him. Can you wait patiently for God to act?

26:19 Some people say there is no life after death. Others believe their bodies will rise.

You who dwell in the dust,
wake up and shout for joy.
Your dew is like the dew of the morning;
the earth will give birth to her dead.[i]

26:19 [i]Eze 37:1-14; Da 12:2

20Go, my people, enter your rooms and shut the doors[j] behind you; hide yourselves for a little while until his wrath has passed by.

26:20 [j]Ex 12:23

21See, the LORD is coming[k] out of his dwelling to punish the people of the earth for their sins.
The earth will disclose the blood shed upon her;
she will conceal her slain no longer.

26:21 [k]Jude 1:14

Deliverance of Israel

27 In that day,

the LORD will punish with his sword,
his fierce, great and powerful sword, Leviathan the gliding serpent,
Leviathan the coiling serpent;
he will slay the monster[l] of the sea.

27:1 [l]Ps 74:13

2In that day —

"Sing about a fruitful vineyard:[m] 3 I, the LORD, watch over it;
I water it continually.
I guard it day and night
so that no one may harm it.
4 I am not angry.
If only there were briers and thorns confronting me!
I would march against them in battle;
I would set them all on fire.
5Or else let them come to me for refuge;[n]
let them make peace[o] with me, yes, let them make peace with me."

27:2 [m]Jer 2:21

27:5 [n]Isa 25:4 [o]Job 22:21

6In days to come Jacob will take root, Israel will bud and blossom and fill all the world with fruit.[p]

27:6 [p]Isa 37:31

7Has [the LORD] struck her as he struck down those who struck her?
Has she been killed
as those were killed who killed her?

---

that there is, but it is not physical life. But Isaiah tells us that our bodies shall rise again. According to 1 Corinthians 15:50–53, all the dead believers will arise with new imperishable bodies — bodies like the one Jesus had when he was resurrected (see Philippians 3:21). Isaiah 26:19 is not the only Old Testament verse to speak about the resurrection; see also Job 19:26; Psalm 16:10; Daniel 12:2, 13.

26:20, 21 When God comes to judge the earth, the guilty will find no place to hide. Jesus said that the hidden will be made known because his truth, like a light shining in a dark corner, will reveal it (Matthew 10:26). Instead of trying to hide your shameful thoughts and actions from God, confess them to him and receive his forgiveness.

27:1 "That day" is a reference to the end of the evil world as we know it. In ancient Aramean (Ugaritic) literature, Leviathan was a seven-headed monster, the enemy of God's created order. Thus Isaiah is comparing God's slaughter of the wicked to the conquering of a great enemy. Although evil is a powerful foe, God will crush it and abolish it from the earth forever.

27:2–6 The trampled vineyard of chapter 5 will be restored in God's new earth. God will protect and care for the vineyard, his people. It will no longer produce worthless fruit but will produce enough good fruit for the whole world. Gentiles will come to know God through Israel.

8By warfare[k] and exile you contend with her—with his fierce blast he drives her out,
as on a day the east wind blows.
9By this, then, will Jacob's guilt be atoned for,
and this will be the full fruitage of the removal of his sin:[q]
When he makes all the altar stones to be like chalk stones crushed to pieces, no Asherah poles[l] or incense altars will be left standing.
10The fortified city stands desolate,[r] an abandoned settlement, forsaken like the desert;
there the calves graze,
there they lie down;[s]
they strip its branches bare.
11When its twigs are dry, they are broken off and women come and make fires with them.
For this is a people without understanding;[t]
so their Maker has no compassion on them, and their Creator[u] shows them no favor.

27:9 [q] Ro 11:27*

27:10 [r] Isa 32:14 [s] Isa 17:2

27:11 [t] Dt 32:28; Isa 1:3 [u] Dt 32:18; Isa 43:1, 7, 15; 44:1-2, 21, 24

12In that day the LORD will thresh from the flowing Euphrates[m] to the Wadi of Egypt, and you, O Israelites, will be gathered up one by one. 13And in that day a great trumpet[v] will sound. Those who were perishing in Assyria and those who were exiled in Egypt will come and worship the LORD on the holy mountain in Jerusalem.

27:13 [v] Lev 25:9; Mt 24:31

4. Jerusalem's true and false hopes

Woe to Ephraim

28 Woe to that wreath, the pride of Ephraim's drunkards, to the fading flower, his glorious beauty,
set on the head of a fertile valley—
to that city, the pride of those laid low by wine!
2See, the Lord has one who is powerful and strong.
Like a hailstorm and a destructive wind,
like a driving rain and a flooding downpour,
he will throw it forcefully to the ground.
3That wreath, the pride of Ephraim's drunkards, will be trampled underfoot.
4That fading flower, his glorious beauty,
set on the head of a fertile valley,
will be like a fig[w] ripe before harvest—
as soon as someone sees it and takes it in his hand,

28:4 [w] Hos 9:10

[k] 8 See Septuagint; the meaning of the Hebrew for this word is uncertain. [l] 9 That is, symbols of the goddess Asherah [m] 12 Hebrew River

27:9 Only God can take away sin, but to be driven out of the land was considered the penalty that would purify God's people. Deuteronomy 28:49–52, 64 explains God's warning about these consequences.

27:11 Isaiah compares the state of Israel's spiritual life with dry twigs that are broken off and used to make fires. Trees in Scripture often represent spiritual life. The trunk is the channel of strength from God; the branches are the people who serve him. Tree branches sometimes waver and blow in the wind. Like Israel, they may dry up from internal rottenness and become useless for anything except building a fire. What kind of branch are you? If you are withering spiritually, check to see if you are firmly attached to God.

27:12 To "thresh" means to "judge." God's purpose in judging the earth is not vengeance, but purging. He wants to correct us and bring us back to him. God does not punish us for our sin just to make us suffer, but to make those who are faithful better equipped for fruitful service.

27:12 A wadi is a stream or dry streambed.

28:1 Ephraim represents the northern kingdom of Israel, ruled by a line of evil kings. When Israel split into two kingdoms after Solomon's reign, Jerusalem ended up in the southern kingdom. Leaders in the northern kingdom, wishing to stay entirely separate from their relatives to the south, set up idols to keep the people from going to the temple in Jerusalem to worship (see 1 Kings 12). Thus the people in the northern kingdom were led into idolatry. Isaiah gave this message to Israel to warn them, as well as to Judah to encourage them to repent before being punished as the northern kingdom would be only a few years later.

he swallows it.

5 In that day the LORD Almighty will be a glorious crown,[x]
a beautiful wreath
for the remnant of his people.
6 He will be a spirit of justice[y]
to him who sits in judgment, a source of strength
to those who turn back the battle at the gate.

7 And these also stagger from wine and reel from beer:
Priests and prophets stagger from beer and are befuddled with wine;
they reel from beer,
they stagger when seeing visions,
they stumble when rendering decisions.
8 All the tables are covered with vomit[z]
and there is not a spot without filth.

9 "Who is it he is trying to teach?
To whom is he explaining his message?
To children weaned[a] from their milk,
to those just taken from the breast?
10 For it is:
Do and do, do and do,
rule on rule, rule on rule[n];
a little here, a little there."

11 Very well then, with foreign lips and strange tongues
God will speak to this people,[b] 12 to whom he said,
"This is the resting place, let the weary rest";[c] and, "This is the place of repose" —
but they would not listen.
13 So then, the word of the LORD to them will become:
Do and do, do and do,
rule on rule, rule on rule;
a little here, a little there —
so that they will go and fall backward, be injured and snared and captured.

14 Therefore hear the word of the LORD, you scoffers who rule this people in Jerusalem.
15 You boast, "We have entered into a covenant with death, with the grave[o] we have made an agreement.
When an overwhelming scourge sweeps by,[d]
it cannot touch us,

28:5 [x] Isa 62:3
28:6 [y] Isa 11:2-4
28:8 [z] Jer 48:26
28:9 [a] Ps 131:2
28:11 [b] 1Co 14:21*
28:12 [c] Mt 11:28-29
28:15 [d] ver 2, 18

[n] 10 Hebrew sav lasav sav lasav / kav lakav kav lakav (possibly meaningless sounds; perhaps a mimicking of the prophet's words); also in verse 13 [o] 15 Hebrew Sheol; also in verse 18

28:9–14 These verses characterize the people's reaction to Isaiah. In effect, they were saying, "He's speaking to us like a school teacher speaks to small children. We don't need to be taught. We'll make up our own minds." For this attitude, Isaiah prophesied that the Assyrians would teach them in a way they would like even less.

28:15 Judah was afraid of the Assyrians, the "overwhelming scourge." Instead of trusting God, the Judeans turned to other sources for security. God accused them of making a covenant with death. It is used to mean the grave or state of being dead. This passage may refer to Hezekiah's alliance with Pharaoh Tirhakah against Assyria (2 Kings 19:9; Isaiah 37:9). God would cancel this agreement – Egypt would be of no help when Assyria attacked. Is it worth selling out what you believe in for temporary protection against an enemy? If you want lasting protection, turn to the only one able to deliver you from eternal death – God.

for we have made a lie our refuge and falsehood[p] our hiding place.[e]"

16So this is what the Sovereign LORD says:

"See, I lay a stone in Zion, a tested stone,[f]
a precious cornerstone for a sure foundation;
the one who trusts will never be dismayed.[g] 17I will make justice[h] the measuring line and righteousness the plumb line;
hail will sweep away your refuge, the lie,
and water will overflow your hiding place.
18Your covenant with death will be annulled;
your agreement with the grave will not stand.
When the overwhelming scourge sweeps by,[i]
you will be beaten down by it.
19As often as it comes it will carry you away;
morning after morning, by day and by night,
it will sweep through."

The understanding of this message will bring sheer terror.
20The bed is too short to stretch out on,
the blanket too narrow to wrap around you.
21The LORD will rise up as he did at Mount Perazim,[j]
he will rouse himself as in the Valley of Gibeon—to do his work, his strange work,
and perform his task, his alien task.
22Now stop your mocking,
or your chains will become heavier;
the Lord, the LORD Almighty, has told me of the destruction decreed[k] against the whole land.[l]

23Listen and hear my voice;
pay attention and hear what I say.
24When a farmer plows for planting, does he plow continually?
Does he keep on breaking up and harrowing the soil?
25When he has leveled the surface,
does he not sow caraway and scatter cummin?
Does he not plant wheat in its place,[q] barley in its plot,[q]
and spelt in its field?
26His God instructs him
and teaches him the right way.

27Caraway is not threshed with a sledge,
nor is a cartwheel rolled over cummin;

28:15 [e] Isa 29:15

28:16 [f] Ps 118:22; Ac 4:11 [g] Ro 9:33*; 10:11*; 1Pe 2:6*

28:17 [h] Isa 5:16

28:18 [i] ver 15

28:21 [j] 1Ch 14:11

28:22 [k] Isa 10:22 [l] Isa 10:23

p 15 Or false gods q 25 The meaning of the Hebrew for this word is uncertain.

28:16 If you're building anything, you need a firm base. Isaiah speaks of a foundation stone, a cornerstone, that will be laid in Zion. This cornerstone is the Messiah, the foundation on whom we build our lives. Is your life built on the flimsy base of your own successes or dreams? Or is it set on a firm foundation (see Psalm 118:22; 1 Peter 2:8)?

28:21 God fought on Joshua's side at the Valley of Gibeon (Joshua 10:1–14) and on David's side at Mount Perazim (2 Samuel 5:20). But here he would fight against Israel, his own people, in these same places.

28:23–29 The farmer uses special tools to plant and harvest tender herbs so he will not destroy them. He takes into account how fragile they are. In the same way God takes all our individual circumstances and weaknesses into account. He deals with each of us sensitively. We should follow his example when we deal with others. Different people require different treatment. Be sensitive to the needs of those around you and the special treatment they may need caraway is beaten out with a rod, and cummin with a stick.

28 Grain must be ground to make bread;
so one does not go on threshing it forever.
Though he drives the wheels of his threshing cart over it,
his horses do not grind it.
29 All this also comes from the LORD Almighty, wonderful in counsel[m] and magnificent in wisdom.[n]

28:29
[m] Isa 9:6
[n] Ro 11:33

Woe to David's City

29 Woe to you, Ariel, Ariel,
the city where David settled!
Add year to year
and let your cycle of festivals go on.
2 Yet I will besiege Ariel;
she will mourn and lament,[o]
she will be to me like an altar hearth.[r] 3 I will encamp against you all around;
I will encircle[p] you with towers and set up my siege works against you.
4 Brought low, you will speak from the ground;
your speech will mumble[q] out of the dust.
Your voice will come ghostlike from the earth;
out of the dust your speech will whisper.

5 But your many enemies will become like fine dust,
the ruthless hordes like blown chaff.
Suddenly,[r] in an instant,
6 the LORD Almighty will come with thunder and earthquake and great noise, with windstorm and tempest and flames of a devouring fire.
7 Then the hordes of all the nations that fight against Ariel, that attack her and her fortress and besiege her,
will be as it is with a dream,[s]
with a vision in the night—8 as when a hungry man dreams that he is eating, but he awakens, and his hunger remains;
as when a thirsty man dreams that he is drinking,
but he awakens faint, with his thirst unquenched.
So will it be with the hordes of all the nations that fight against Mount Zion.

9 Be stunned and amazed, blind yourselves and be sightless;
be drunk, but not from wine,[t]
stagger, but not from beer.
10 The LORD has brought over you a deep sleep:
He has sealed your eyes[u] (the prophets);
he has covered your heads (the seers).

29:2
[o] Isa 3:26; La 2:5

29:3
[p] Lk 19:43-44

29:4
[q] Isa 8:19

29:5
[r] Isa 17:14

29:7
[s] Job 20:8

29:9
[t] Isa 51:21-22

29:10
[u] Ps 69:23; Isa 6:9-10; Ro 11:8*

29:11
[v] Isa 8:16

11 For you this whole vision is nothing but words sealed[v] in a scroll. And if you give the scroll to someone who can read, and say to him, "Read this, please," he will answer, "I can't; it is sealed." 12 Or if you give the scroll to someone who cannot read, and say, "Read this, please," he will answer, "I don't know how to read."

[r] 2 The Hebrew for altar hearth sounds like the Hebrew for Ariel.

29:1 Ariel is a special name for Jerusalem, David's city. It may mean "lion of God" (Jerusalem is strong as a lion) or "altar hearth" (Jerusalem is the place of the altar in the temple. See 29:2; Ezekiel 43:15, 16).

13The Lord says:

"These people come near to me with their mouth and honor me with their lips, but their hearts are far from me.[w]
Their worship of me
is made up only of rules taught by men.[s x] 14Therefore once more I will astound these people with wonder upon wonder;
the wisdom of the wise[y] will perish,
the intelligence of the intelligent will vanish.[z]" 15Woe to those who go to great depths to hide their plans from the LORD, who do their work in darkness and think,
"Who sees us?[a] Who will know?"
16You turn things upside down, as if the potter were thought to be like the clay!
Shall what is formed say to him who formed it,
"He did not make me"?
Can the pot say of the potter,[b]
"He knows nothing"?

17In a very short time, will not Lebanon be turned into a fertile field and the fertile field seem like a forest?[c] 18In that day the deaf will hear the words of the scroll, and out of gloom and darkness
the eyes of the blind will see.[d] 19Once more the humble[e] will rejoice in the LORD;
the needy[f] will rejoice in the Holy One of Israel.
20The ruthless will vanish,
the mockers will disappear,
and all who have an eye for evil will be cut down—21those who with a word make a man out to be guilty, who ensnare the defender in court[g]
and with false testimony deprive the innocent of justice.

22Therefore this is what the LORD, who redeemed Abraham, says to the house of Jacob:

"No longer will Jacob be ashamed;
no longer will their faces grow pale.
23When they see among them their children,
the work of my hands,
they will keep my name holy;
they will acknowledge the holiness of the Holy One of Jacob,
and will stand in awe of the God of Israel.

29:13 [w] Eze 33:31; [x] Mt 15:8-9*; Mk 7:6-7*
29:14 [y] Jer 49:7; [z] 1Co 1:19*
29:15 [a] Ps 94:7
29:16 [b] Isa 45:9; Ro 9:20-21*
29:17 [c] Isa 32:15
29:18 [d] Isa 32:3
29:19 [e] Isa 61:1; [f] Jas 2:5
29:21 [g] Am 5:10, 15

[s] 13 Hebrew; Septuagint They worship me in vain; / their teachings are but rules taught by men

29:13, 14 The people claimed to be close to God, but they were disobedient and merely went through the motions; therefore, God would bring judgment upon them. Religion had become routine instead of real. Jesus quoted Isaiah's condemnation of Israel's hypocrisy when he spoke to the Pharisees, the religious leaders of his day (Matthew 15:7–9; Mark 7:6, 7). We are all capable of hypocrisy. Often we slip into routine patterns when we worship and we neglect to give God our love and devotion. If we want to be called God's people, we must be obedient and worship him honestly and sincerely.

29:15 Thinking God couldn't see them and didn't know what was happening, the people of Jerusalem tried to hide their plans from him. How strange that so many people think they can hide from God. In Psalm 139 we learn that God has examined us and knows everything about us. Would you be embarrassed if your best friends knew your personal thoughts? Remember that God knows all of them.

29:17–24 The world described here, under Christ's rule, will be far different from the one we live in today. There will be no more violence or gloom. This new world will be characterized by joy, understanding, justice, and praise to God.

29:24 [h] Isa 28:7

24 Those who are wayward[h] in spirit will gain understanding;
those who complain will accept instruction."

Woe to the Obstinate Nation

30 "Woe to the obstinate children,"
declares the LORD,
"to those who carry out plans that are not mine, forming an alliance, but not by my Spirit,
heaping sin upon sin;
30:2 [i] Isa 31:1
2 who go down to Egypt[i] without consulting me;
who look for help to Pharaoh's protection,
to Egypt's shade for refuge.
3 But Pharaoh's protection will be to your shame,
30:3 [j] Isa 20:4-5
Egypt's shade will bring you disgrace.[j]
4 Though they have officials in Zoan and their envoys have arrived in Hanes, 30:5 [k] ver 7
5 everyone will be put to shame because of a people[k] useless to them, who bring neither help nor advantage,
but only shame and disgrace."

6 An oracle concerning the animals of the Negev:

Through a land of hardship and distress,
of lions and lionesses,
of adders and darting snakes,
the envoys carry their riches on donkeys' backs,
30:6 [l] Isa 15:7
their treasures[l] on the humps of camels,
to that unprofitable nation,
7 to Egypt, whose help is utterly useless.
Therefore I call her
Rahab the Do-Nothing.

8 Go now, write it on a tablet for them,
inscribe it on a scroll,
that for the days to come
it may be an everlasting witness.
30:9 [m] Isa 28:15
9 These are rebellious people, deceitful[m] children, children unwilling to listen to the LORD's instruction.
10 They say to the seers,
"See no more visions!"
and to the prophets,
"Give us no more visions of what is right!
Tell us pleasant things,

30:1 The obstinate children are the people of Judah (see 1:2), those who have rebelled against God. The negotiations for an alliance were underway, and Isaiah condemned their twisted plans. The people of Judah sought advice from everyone but God. When we are driven by fear, we tend to search everywhere for comfort, advice, and relief, hoping to find an easy way out of our troubles. Instead, we should consult God. Although he gives emergency help in a crisis, he prefers to be our Guide throughout our lives. By reading his Word and actively seeking to do his will, we can maintain our bond with him who provides stability no matter what the crisis.

30:2ff Hezekiah had been seeking a defensive alliance with Egypt against Sennacherib of Assyria (see 2 Kings 18:21).

30:6 This oracle is titled "concerning the animals of the Negev," but is directed to those who carried bribes to Egypt through the desert in the Negev region.

30:7 Rahab was a mythological female sea monster associated with Leviathan (see the note on 27:1; also Job 9:13; 26:12). It was a name associated with Egypt, where hippopotamuses, perhaps a likeness to Rahab, sat on the Nile River and did nothing.

30:10, 11 Some people in Judah may have sought refuge in Egypt. In their desire to find security, they wanted to hear only good news. They did not welcome the truth from God's prophets. Often the truth makes us uncomfortable. We prefer lies and illusions when they make us feel more secure. It is much better to face reality than to live a lie. Don't settle for something that makes you feel comfortable but is not true.

prophesy illusions.
11 Leave this way,
get off this path,
and stop confronting[n] us with the Holy One of Israel!"

30:11 [n] Job 21:14

12 Therefore, this is what the Holy One of Israel says:

"Because you have rejected this message, relied on oppression
and depended on deceit, 13 this sin will become for you like a high wall,[o] cracked and bulging, that collapses suddenly, in an instant.
14 It will break in pieces like pottery,[p] shattered so mercilessly that among its pieces not a fragment will be found for taking coals from a hearth or scooping water out of a cistern."

30:13 [o] Ps 62:3

30:14 [p] Ps 2:9

15 This is what the Sovereign LORD, the Holy One of Israel, says:

"In repentance and rest is your salvation, in quietness and trust[q] is your strength,
but you would have none of it.
16 You said, 'No, we will flee on horses.'[r]
Therefore you will flee!
You said, 'We will ride off on swift horses.'
Therefore your pursuers will be swift!
17 A thousand will flee at the threat of one;
at the threat of five[s]
you will all flee[t] away, till you are left like a flagstaff on a mountaintop, like a banner on a hill."

30:15 [q] Isa 32:17

30:16 [r] Isa 31:1, 3

30:17 [s] Lev 26:8 [t] Dt 28:25

18 Yet the LORD longs[u] to be gracious to you;
he rises to show you compassion.
For the LORD is a God of justice.[v]
Blessed are all who wait for him!

30:18 [u] Isa 42:14 [v] Isa 5:16

19 O people of Zion, who live in Jerusalem, you will weep no more. How gracious he will be when you cry for help! As soon as he hears, he will answer you. 20 Although the Lord gives you the bread[w] of adversity and the water of affliction, your teachers will be hidden[x] no more; with your own eyes you will see them. 21 Whether you turn to the right or to the left, your ears will hear a voice behind you, saying, "This is the way; walk in it." 22 Then you will defile your idols overlaid with silver and your images covered with gold; you will throw them away like a menstrual cloth and say to them, "Away with you!"

30:20 [w] 1Ki 22:27 [x] Ps 74:9; Am 8:11

30:15 God warned Judah that turning to Egypt and other nations for military might could not save them. Only God could do that. They must wait for him in "quietness and trust." No amount of fast talking or hasty activity could speed up God's grand design. We have nothing to say to God but thank you. Salvation comes from God alone. Because he has saved us, we can trust him and be peacefully confident that he will give us strength to face our difficulties. We should lay aside our busy care and endless effort and allow him to act.

30:20 The Lord gave his people the bread of adversity and the water of affliction, but he promised to be with them, teach them, and guide them during hard times. God expects a lot from us, and many times following him can be painful; but he always acts out of his love for us. Next time you go through a difficult time, try to appreciate the experience and grow from it, learning what God wants to teach you. God may be showing you his love by patiently walking with you through adversity.

30:21 When the people of Jerusalem left God's path, he would correct them. He will do the same for us. But when we hear his voice of correction, we must be willing to follow it!

23He will also send you rain for the seed you sow in the ground, and the food that comes from the land will be rich and plentiful. In that day your cattle will graze in 30:23 broad meadows.[y] 24The oxen and donkeys that work the soil will eat fodder and y Ps 65:13 mash, spread out with fork and shovel. 25In the day of great slaughter, when the towers fall, streams of water will flow on every high mountain and every lofty hill.
30:26 26The moon will shine like the sun,[z] and the sunlight will be seven times brighter, z Isa 60:19-20; Rev 21:23 like the light of seven full days, when the LORD binds up the bruises of his people a Isa 1:5 and heals[a] the wounds he inflicted.

30:27 27See, the Name[b] of the LORD comes from afar, b Isa 59:19 with burning anger and dense clouds of smoke;
his lips are full of wrath,
and his tongue is a consuming fire.
30:28 28His breath[c] is like a rushing torrent,
c Isa 11:4 rising up to the neck.[d]
d Isa 8:8 He shakes the nations in the sieve of destruction;
e 2Ki 19:28 he places in the jaws of the peoples
a bit[e] that leads them astray.
29And you will sing
as on the night you celebrate a holy festival;
your hearts will rejoice
as when people go up with flutes 30:29 to the mountain[f] of the LORD,
f Ps 42:4 to the Rock of Israel.
30The LORD will cause men to hear his majestic voice and will make them see his arm coming down with raging anger and consuming fire, with cloudburst, thunderstorm and hail.
30:31 31The voice of the LORD will shatter Assyria;[g]
g Isa 10:5, 12 with his scepter he will strike them down.
32Every stroke the LORD lays on them with his punishing rod will be to the music of tambourines and harps, 30:32 as he fights them in battle with the blows of his arm.[h] h Eze 32:10 33Topheth has long been prepared;
it has been made ready for the king.
Its fire pit has been made deep and wide,
with an abundance of fire and wood;
the breath of the LORD,
like a stream of burning sulfur,
sets it ablaze.

Woe to Those Who Rely on Egypt

31:1 31 Woe to those who go down to Egypt[i] for help, i Isa 30:2, 5 who rely on horses, who trust in the multitude of their chariots and in the great strength of their horsemen, but do not look to the Holy One of Israel,
or seek help from the LORD.
31:2 2Yet he too is wise and can bring disaster;
j Nu 23:19 he does not take back his words.[j]

31:1 It was wrong for Judah to look to other nations for military help. (1) They were trusting in human beings instead of God. Judah sought protection from those who had far less power than God. Both Egypt and Judah would fall as a result of their arrogance. (2) They were serving their own interests instead of God's, and thus they did not even consult him. They violated God's stipulation in Deuteronomy 17:16. (3) They did not want to pay the price of looking to God and repenting of their sinful ways. When we have problems, it is good to seek help, but we must never bypass God or his previous directions to us.

He will rise up against the house of the wicked, against those who help evildoers.
3But the Egyptians are men and not God;[k] their horses are flesh and not spirit.
When the LORD stretches out his hand,
he who helps will stumble,
he who is helped[l] will fall;
both will perish together.

31:3
[k]Eze 28:9
[l]Isa 30:5-7

4This is what the LORD says to me:

"As a lion[m] growls,
a great lion over his prey—and though a whole band of shepherds is called together against him, he is not frightened by their shouts or disturbed by their clamor—so the LORD Almighty will come down[n]
to do battle on Mount Zion and on its heights.
5Like birds hovering overhead,
the LORD Almighty will shield[o] Jerusalem;
he will shield it and deliver it,
he will 'pass over' it and will rescue it."

31:4
[m]Am 3:8
[n]Isa 42:13

31:5
[o]Ps 91:4

6Return to him you have so greatly revolted against, O Israelites. 7For in that day every one of you will reject the idols of silver and gold[p] your sinful hands have made.

31:7
[p]Isa 30:22

8"Assyria[q] will fall by a sword that is not of man;
a sword, not of mortals, will devour them.
They will flee before the sword and their young men will be put to forced labor.
9Their stronghold[r] will fall because of terror;
at sight of the battle standard their commanders will panic,"
declares the LORD,
whose fire[s] is in Zion,
whose furnace is in Jerusalem.

31:8
[q]Isa 10:12

31:9
[r]Dt 32:31, 37
[s]Isa 10:17

The Kingdom of Righteousness

32 See, a king will reign in righteousness and rulers will rule with justice.[t] 2Each man will be like a shelter from the wind and a refuge from the storm, like streams of water in the desert and the shadow of a great rock in a thirsty land.

32:1
[t]Isa 9:7

3Then the eyes of those who see will no longer be closed,[u]
and the ears of those who hear will listen.
4The mind of the rash will know and understand, and the stammering tongue will be fluent and clear.
5No longer will the fool[v] be called noble

32:3
[u]Isa 29:18

32:5
[v]1Sa 25:25

31:7 Someday these people would throw their idols away, recognizing that they are nothing but man-made objects. Idols such as money, fame, or success are seductive. Instead of contributing to our spiritual development, they rob us of our time, energy, and devotion that ought to be directed toward God. At first our idols seem exciting and promise to take us places, but in the end we will find that we have become their slaves. We need to recognize their worthlessness now, before they rob us of our freedom.

32:1 Having suffered much injustice from evil rulers, many in Judah were hungry for a strong king who would rule with justice. This desire will be fulfilled when Christ reigns. Evil will be banished, and the King will reign in righteousness and rule with justice. In the immediate future, Judah would be destroyed and taken into captivity. But one day, God's Son, the King unlike any other king, will reign in righteousness.

32:5, 6 When the righteous King comes, people's motives will nor the scoundrel be highly respected.

6For the fool speaks folly,
his mind is busy with evil:
He practices ungodliness and spreads error concerning the LORD;
the hungry he leaves empty[w]
and from the thirsty he withholds water.
7The scoundrel's methods are wicked,[x]
he makes up evil schemes to destroy the poor with lies, even when the plea of the needy is just.
8But the noble man makes noble plans, and by noble deeds he stands.

32:6 [w] Isa 3:15

32:7 [x] Jer 5:26-28

The Women of Jerusalem

9You women who are so complacent, rise up and listen[y] to me;
you daughters who feel secure,
hear what I have to say!
10In little more than a year
you who feel secure will tremble;
the grape harvest will fail,[z]
and the harvest of fruit will not come.
11Tremble, you complacent women;
shudder, you daughters who feel secure!
Strip off your clothes,[a] put sackcloth around your waists.
12Beat your breasts[b] for the pleasant fields, for the fruitful vines 13and for the land of my people, a land overgrown with thorns and briers—yes, mourn for all houses of merriment and for this city of revelry.
14The fortress[c] will be abandoned,
the noisy city deserted;
citadel and watchtower will become a wasteland forever,
the delight of donkeys, a pasture for flocks, 15till the Spirit is poured upon us from on high,
and the desert becomes a fertile field,
and the fertile field seems like a forest.[d] 16Justice will dwell in the desert and righteousness live in the fertile field.
17The fruit of righteousness will be peace;[e]
the effect of righteousness will be quietness and confidence[f] forever.
18My people will live in peaceful dwelling places,

32:9 [y] Isa 28:23

32:10 [z] Isa 5:5-6

32:11 [a] Isa 47:2

32:12 [b] Na 2:7

32:14 [c] Isa 13:22

32:15 [d] Isa 29:17

32:17 [e] Jas 3:18
[f] Isa 30:15

---

become transparent. Fools will not be regarded as noble. Those who have opposed God's standards of living will be unable to maintain their deception. In the blazing light of the holy Savior, sin cannot disguise itself and appear good. Christ's revealing light shines into the darkest corners of our hearts, showing sin clearly for what it is. When King Jesus reigns in your heart, there is no place for sin, no matter how well hidden you may think it is.

32:9–13 The people turned their backs on God and concentrated on their own pleasures. This warning is not just to the women of Jerusalem (see 3:16—4:1), but to all who sit back in their thoughtless complacency, enjoying crops, clothes, land, and cities while an enemy approaches. Wealth and luxury bring false security, lulling us into thinking all is well when disaster is around the corner. By abandoning God's purpose for our lives, we also abandon his help.

32:15–17 God acts from above to change man's condition here on earth. Only when God's Spirit is among us can we achieve true peace and fruitfulness (Ezekiel 36:22–38; Galatians 5:22, 23). This will happen in the end times. We can also have God's Spirit with us now, for he is available to all believers through Christ (John 15:26). But the outpouring mentioned here happens when the worldwide kingdom of God is established for all eternity (see Joel 2:28, 29).

in secure homes,
in undisturbed places of rest.
19Though hail[g] flattens the forest[h] and the city is leveled completely, 20how blessed you will be,
sowing your seed by every stream, and letting your cattle and donkeys range free.[i]

32:19
[g] Isa 28:17
[h] Zec 11:2

32:20
[i] Isa 30:24

Distress and Help

33 Woe to you, O destroyer, you who have not been destroyed!
Woe to you, O traitor,
you who have not been betrayed!
When you stop destroying,
you will be destroyed;
when you stop betraying,
you will be betrayed.[j]

33:1
[j] Isa 21:2

2O LORD, be gracious to us;
we long for you.
Be our strength every morning,
our salvation in time of distress.
3At the thunder of your voice, the peoples flee;
when you rise up, the nations scatter.
4Your plunder, O nations, is harvested as by young locusts;
like a swarm of locusts men pounce on it.

5The LORD is exalted, for he dwells on high;
he will fill Zion with justice and righteousness.
6He will be the sure foundation for your times,
a rich store of salvation and wisdom and knowledge;
the fear[k] of the LORD is the key to this treasure.[t]

33:6
[k] Mt 6:33

7Look, their brave men cry aloud in the streets;
the envoys[l] of peace weep bitterly.

33:7
[l] 2Ki 18:37

8The highways are deserted,
no travelers are on the roads.
The treaty is broken,
its witnesses[u] are despised,
no one is respected.
9The land mourns[v] and wastes away,
Lebanon[m] is ashamed and withers;
Sharon is like the Arabah,
and Bashan and Carmel drop their leaves.

33:9
[m] Isa 2:13

10"Now will I arise," says the LORD.
"Now will I be exalted;

[t] 6 Or is a treasure from him [u] 8 Dead Sea Scrolls; Masoretic Text / the cities [v] 9 Or dries up

33:1 The "destroyer" is Assyria. Assyria continually broke its promises, but demanded that others keep theirs. It is easy to put ourselves in the same selfish position, demanding our rights while ignoring the rights of others. Broken promises shatter trust and destroy relationships. Determine to keep your promises; at the same time, ask forgiveness for past promises you have broken. Treat others with the same fairness that you demand for yourself.

33:2 These are the words of the righteous remnant who were waiting for God to deliver them from their oppression.

33:4 See 2 Kings 19:20–37 and Isaiah 37:21–38 for a description of the victory over Assyria described here.

33:5 When Christ's kingdom is established, Zion—Jerusalem—will be the home of justice and righteousness because the Messiah will reign there. As a light to the world, the new Jerusalem will be the Holy City (Revelation 21:2).

33:8 The Assyrians broke their peace treaty (2 Kings 18:14–17).

33:9 These fruitful, productive areas would become deserts. Lebanon was known for its huge cedars. Sharon was very fertile. Bashan was very productive in grain and cattle. Carmel was thickly forested.

now will I be lifted up.
33:11 [n] Ps 7:14; Isa 59:4
11 You conceive[n] chaff,
you give birth to straw;
your breath is a fire that consumes you.
12 The peoples will be burned as if to lime;
like cut thornbushes they will be set ablaze."

33:13 [o] Ps 49:1
13 You who are far away,[o] hear what I have done;
you who are near, acknowledge my power!
14 The sinners in Zion are terrified; trembling grips the godless:
"Who of us can dwell with the consuming fire?
Who of us can dwell with everlasting burning?" 15 He who walks righteously and speaks what is right,[p] 33:15 [p] Ps 15:2; 24:4 [q] Ps 119:37 who rejects gain from extortion and keeps his hand from accepting bribes, who stops his ears against plots of murder and shuts his eyes[q] against contemplating evil — 16 this is the man who will dwell on the heights, whose refuge[r] will be the mountain fortress.
33:16 [r] Isa 25:4
His bread will be supplied, and water will not fail him.

17 Your eyes will see the king in his beauty and view a land that stretches afar.[s]
33:17 [s] Isa 26:15
18 In your thoughts you will ponder the former terror:[t]
33:18 [t] Isa 17:14
"Where is that chief officer?
Where is the one who took the revenue?
Where is the officer in charge of the towers?"
19 You will see those arrogant people no more,
those people of an obscure speech,
with their strange, incomprehensible tongue.

20 Look upon Zion, the city of our festivals;
your eyes will see Jerusalem,
a peaceful abode, a tent that will not be moved;[u]
33:20 [u] Ps 46:5
its stakes will never be pulled up, nor any of its ropes broken.
21 There the LORD will be our Mighty One.
It will be like a place of broad rivers and streams.
No galley with oars will ride them,
no mighty ship will sail them.
22 For the LORD is our judge, the LORD is our lawgiver,[v]
33:22 [v] Jas 4:12
the LORD is our king;
it is he who will save us.

23 Your rigging hangs loose:
The mast is not held secure,
the sail is not spread.
Then an abundance of spoils will be divided and even the lame will carry off plunder.
24 No one living in Zion will say, "I am ill";
and the sins of those who dwell there will be forgiven.

33:14–16 These sinners realized that they could not live in the presence of the holy God, for he is like a fire that consumes evil. Only those who walk righteously and speak what is right can live with God. Isaiah gives examples of how to demonstrate our righteousness and uprightness: we can reject gain from extortion and bribes, refuse to listen to plots of wrong actions, and shut our eyes to evil. If we are fair and honest in our relationships, we will dwell with God, and he will supply our needs.

Judgment Against the Nations

34 Come near, you nations, and listen; pay attention, you peoples!
Let the earth[w] hear, and all that is in it,
the world, and all that comes out of it!
2The LORD is angry with all nations;
his wrath is upon all their armies.
He will totally destroy[w] them,
he will give them over to slaughter.
3Their slain will be thrown out, their dead bodies will send up a stench;[x]
the mountains will be soaked with their blood.
4All the stars of the heavens will be dissolved[y]
and the sky rolled up like a scroll;
all the starry host will fall[z]
like withered leaves from the vine, like shriveled figs from the fig tree.

5My sword has drunk its fill in the heavens;
see, it descends in judgment on Edom,
the people I have totally destroyed.
6The sword of the LORD is bathed in blood, it is covered with fat—
the blood of lambs and goats, fat from the kidneys of rams.
For the LORD has a sacrifice in Bozrah and a great slaughter in Edom.
7And the wild oxen will fall with them,
the bull calves and the great bulls.
Their land will be drenched with blood,
and the dust will be soaked with fat.

8For the LORD has a day of vengeance,[a] a year of retribution, to uphold Zion's cause.
9Edom's streams will be turned into pitch, her dust into burning sulfur;
her land will become blazing pitch!
10It will not be quenched night and day;
its smoke will rise forever.[b]
From generation to generation it will lie desolate;
no one will ever pass through it again.
11The desert owl[x] and screech owl[x] will possess it;
the great owl[x] and the raven will nest there.
God will stretch out over Edom
the measuring line of chaos and the plumb line[c] of desolation.
12Her nobles will have nothing there to be called a kingdom, all her princes will vanish away.
13Thorns will overrun her citadels, nettles and brambles her strongholds.[d]

34:1 [w] Ps 49:1

34:3 [x] Joel 2:20

34:4 [y] 2Pe 3:10 [z] Mt 24:29*

34:8 [a] Isa 63:4

34:10 [b] Rev 14:10-11; 19:3

34:11 [c] 2Ki 21:13

34:13 [d] Isa 13:22

[w] 2 The Hebrew term refers to the irrevocable giving over of things or persons to the LORD, often by totally destroying them; also in verse 5. [x] 11 The precise identification of these birds is uncertain.

34:5 The Edomites shared a common ancestry with Israel. The Israelites were descended from Jacob; the Edomites from Jacob's twin brother, Esau. Edom was always Israel's bitter enemy. The destruction of Edom mentioned here is a picture of the ultimate end of all who oppose God and his people.

She will become a haunt for jackals, a home for owls.
34:14 [e] Isa 13:22
14 Desert creatures will meet with hyenas,[e] and wild goats will bleat to each other;
there the night creatures will also repose and find for themselves places of rest.
15 The owl will nest there and lay eggs, she will hatch them, and care for her young under the shadow of her wings;
there also the falcons will gather,
each with its mate.

16 Look in the scroll of the LORD and read:

None of these will be missing,
not one will lack her mate.
For it is his mouth that has given the order,
and his Spirit will gather them together.
34:17 [f] Jer 13:25
17 He allots their portions;[f]
his hand distributes them by measure.
They will possess it forever and dwell there from generation to generation.

Joy of the Redeemed

35 The desert and the parched land will be glad;
the wilderness will rejoice and blossom.
Like the crocus, 2 it will burst into bloom;
35:2 [g] Isa 55:12
it will rejoice greatly and shout for joy.[g]
The glory of Lebanon will be given to it, the splendor of Carmel and Sharon;
they will see the glory of the LORD,
the splendor of our God.

3 Strengthen the feeble hands,
35:3 [h] Job 4:4; Heb 12:12
steady the knees[h] that give way; 4 say to those with fearful hearts,
"Be strong, do not fear;
your God will come,
he will come with vengeance;
with divine retribution
he will come to save you."

35:5 [i] Jn 9:6-7 [j] Isa 29:18
5 Then will the eyes of the blind be opened[i] and the ears of the deaf[j] unstopped.
35:6 [k] Mt 15:30; Jn 5:8-9 [l] Mt 9:32-33
6 Then will the lame[k] leap like a deer, and the mute tongue[l] shout for joy.

34:16 Isaiah referred to the prophecies that God commanded him to write down as the "scroll of the LORD." Whoever lived to see the time of Edom's destruction would have only to look to these prophecies to find agreement between what happened and what was predicted. Prophecy predicts and history reveals what has been in God's mind for all time.

35:1ff In chapters 1 – 34, Isaiah has delivered a message of judgment on all nations, including Israel and Judah, for rejecting God. Although there have been glimpses of relief and restoration for the remnant of faithful believers, the climate of wrath, fury, judgment, and destruction has prevailed. Now Isaiah breaks through with a vision of beauty and encouragement. God is just as thorough in his mercy as he is severe in his judgment. God's complete moral perfection is revealed by his hatred of all sin, and this leads to judgment. This same moral perfection is revealed in his love for all he has created. This leads to mercy for those who have sinned but who have sincerely loved Jesus and put their trust in him.

35:1ff This chapter is a beautiful picture of the final kingdom in which God will establish his justice and destroy all evil. This is the world the redeemed can anticipate after the judgment when creation itself will rejoice in God. Chapter 34 spoke of great distress when God will judge all people for their actions. Chapter 35 pictures the days when life will be peaceful at last and everything will be made right. Carmel and Sharon were regions of thick vegetation and fertile soil. They were symbols of productivity and plenty.

Water will gush forth in the wilderness and streams[m] in the desert.
7The burning sand will become a pool,
the thirsty ground bubbling springs.
In the haunts where jackals once lay,
grass and reeds and papyrus will grow.

35:6
[m]Jn 7:38

8And a highway[n] will be there;
it will be called the Way of Holiness.
The unclean will not journey on it;
it will be for those who walk in that Way;
wicked fools will not go about on it.[y] 9No lion will be there,
nor will any ferocious beast get up on it;
they will not be found there.
But only the redeemed will walk there,
10 and the ransomed of the LORD will return.
They will enter Zion with singing;
everlasting joy will crown their heads.
Gladness and joy will overtake them,
and sorrow and sighing will flee away.[o] 35:8

[n]Mt 7:13-14

35:10
[o]Isa 30:19; Rev 7:17; 21:4

5. Events during the reign of Hezekiah

Sennacherib Threatens Jerusalem

36 In the fourteenth year of King Hezekiah's reign, Sennacherib[p] king of Assyria attacked all the fortified cities of Judah and captured them. 2Then the king of Assyria sent his field commander with a large army from Lachish to King Hezekiah at Jerusalem. When the commander stopped at the aqueduct of the Upper Pool, on the road to the Washerman's Field, 3Eliakim[q] son of Hilkiah the palace administrator, Shebna the secretary, and Joah son of Asaph the recorder went out to him.

36:1
[p]2Ch 32:1

36:3
[q]Isa 22:20-21

4The field commander said to them, "Tell Hezekiah,

" 'This is what the great king, the king of Assyria, says: On what are you basing this confidence of yours? 5You say you have strategy and military strength — but you speak only empty words. On whom are you depending, that you rebel against me? 6Look now, you are depending on Egypt,[r] that splintered reed[s] of a staff, which pierces a man's hand and wounds him if he leans on it! Such is Pharaoh king of Egypt to all who depend on him. 7And if you say to me, "We are depending on the LORD our God" — isn't he the one whose high places and altars Hezekiah removed,[t] saying to Judah and Jerusalem, "You must worship before this altar"?

36:6
[r]Isa 30:2, 5
[s]Eze 29:6-7

36:7
[t]2Ki 18:4

[y] 8 Or / the simple will not stray from it

35:8–10 This highway, the "Way of Holiness," is the way that righteous pilgrims will take from the desert of suffering to Zion (Jerusalem). It is found only by following God. Only the redeemed will travel God's highway; they will be protected from wicked travelers and harmful animals. God is preparing a way for his people to travel to his home, and he will walk with us. God never stops at simply pointing the way; he is always beside us as we go.

36:4–6 Chapter 19 describes Isaiah's prophecy of judgment upon Egypt, while chapters 30 and 31 pronounce woe on those from Judah who would ally themselves with Egypt in the face of Assyria's impending attack. Sennacherib of Assyria was taunting Judah for trusting in Egypt. Even the Assyrians knew that Egypt could not help Judah.

36:5 Hezekiah put great trust in Pharaoh's promise to help Israel against the Assyrians. but promises are only as good as the credibility of the person making them. It was Pharaoh's word against God's. How quickly we organize our lives around human advice while we neglect God's eternal promises. When choosing between God's word and someone else's, whose will you believe?

36:7 The field commander from Assyria claimed that Hezekiah had insulted God by tearing down his altars and making the people worship only in Jerusalem. But Hezekiah's reform sought to eliminate idol worship (which occurred mainly on high hills) so that the people worshiped only the true God. Either the Assyrians didn't know about the religion of the true God, or they wanted to deceive the people into thinking they had angered a powerful god.

In the same way, Satan tries to confuse or deceive us. People don't necessarily need to be sinful to be ineffective for God; they need only be confused about what God wants. To avoid Satan's deceit, study God's Word carefully and regularly. When you know what God says, you will not fall for Satan's lies.

8" 'Come now, make a bargain with my master, the king of Assyria: I will give you two thousand horses — if you can put riders on them! 9How then can you repulse one officer of the least of my master's officials, even though you 36:9 are depending on Egypt for chariots and horsemen?[u] 10Furthermore, have I [u]Isa 30:2-5 come to attack and destroy this land without the LORD? The LORD himself told me to march against this country and destroy it.' "

11Then Eliakim, Shebna and Joah said to the field commander, "Please speak to 36:11 your servants in Aramaic,[v] since we understand it. Don't speak to us in Hebrew in [v]Ezr 4:7 the hearing of the people on the wall."

12But the commander replied, "Was it only to your master and you that my master sent me to say these things, and not to the men sitting on the wall — who, like you, will have to eat their own filth and drink their own urine?"

36:13 13Then the commander stood and called out in Hebrew,[w] "Hear the words of the [w]2Ch 32:18 great king, the king of Assyria! 14This is what the king says: Do not let Hezekiah deceive you. He cannot deliver you! 15Do not let Hezekiah persuade you to trust in the LORD when he says, 'The LORD will surely deliver us; this city will not be given into the hand of the king of Assyria.'

16"Do not listen to Hezekiah. This is what the king of Assyria says: Make peace with me and come out to me. Then every one of you will eat from his own vine and 36:16 fig tree and drink water from his own cistern,[x] 17until I come and take you to a land [x]Pr 5:15 like your own — a land of grain and new wine, a land of bread and vineyards.

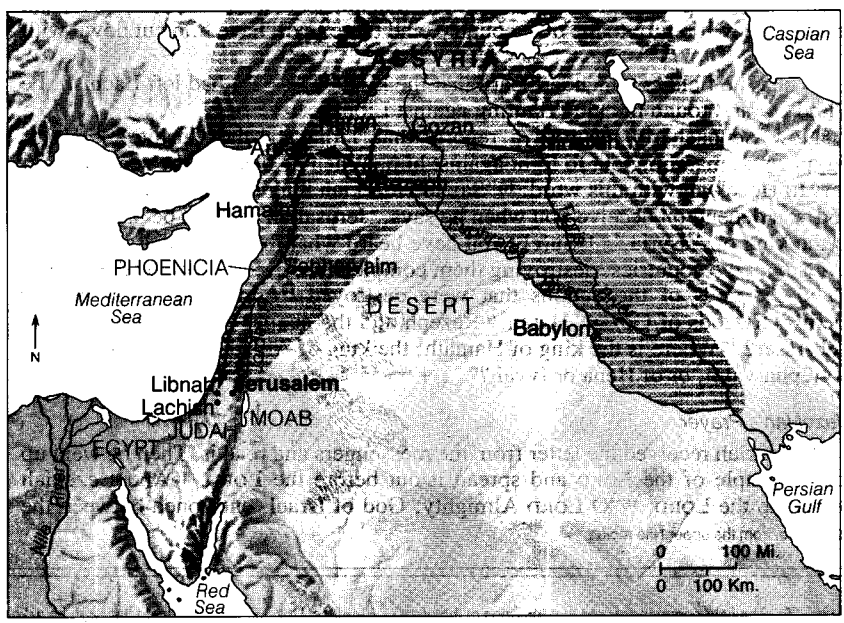
18"Do not let Hezekiah mislead you when he says, 'The LORD will deliver us.'

ASSYRIA ADVANCES
As Sennacherib beautified his capital city, Nineveh, Hezekiah withheld tribute and prepared for battle. The Assyrians advanced toward their rebellious western border, attacking swiftly down the Mediterranean coast. From Lachish, Sennacherib threatened to take Jerusalem, but Isaiah knew his threats would die with him on his return to Nineveh.



36:10 Sennacherib continued his demoralization campaign by sending the field commander to try to convince the people of Judah that God had turned against them. The Assyrians hoped to convince the people of Judah to surrender without fighting. But Isaiah had already said that the Assyrians would not destroy Jerusalem, so the people did not need to be afraid of them (10:24–27; 29:5–8).

36:11 Aramaic was an international language at this time. See also 22:15–25 for Isaiah's prophecies concerning Eliakim and Shebna.

36:17 Sennacherib's commander tried yet another ploy to demoralize the people. He appealed to the starving city under siege by offering to take them to a land with plenty of food if they surrendered. The Assyrian policy for dealing with conquered nations was to resettle the inhabitants and then to move other conquered peoples into the recently conquered area. This provided manpower for their armies and prevented revolts in conquered territories.

Has the god of any nation ever delivered his land from the hand of the king of Assyria? 19Where are the gods of Hamath and Arpad? Where are the gods of Sepharvaim? Have they rescued Samaria from my hand? 20Who of all the gods[y] of these countries has been able to save his land from me? How then can the LORD deliver Jerusalem from my hand?"

36:20 [y] 1Ki 20:23

21But the people remained silent and said nothing in reply, because the king had commanded, "Do not answer him."

22Then Eliakim son of Hilkiah the palace administrator, Shebna the secretary, and Joah son of Asaph the recorder went to Hezekiah, with their clothes torn, and told him what the field commander had said.

Jerusalem's Deliverance Foretold

37 When King Hezekiah heard this, he tore his clothes and put on sackcloth and went into the temple of the LORD. 2He sent Eliakim the palace administrator, Shebna the secretary, and the leading priests, all wearing sackcloth, to the prophet Isaiah son of Amoz. 3They told him, "This is what Hezekiah says: This day is a day of distress and rebuke and disgrace, as when children come to the point of birth[z] and there is no strength to deliver them. 4It may be that the LORD your God will hear the words of the field commander, whom his master, the king of Assyria, has sent to ridicule the living God, and that he will rebuke him for the words the LORD your God has heard. [a] Therefore pray for the remnant that still survives."

37:3 [z] Isa 26:18

37:4 [a] Isa 36:13, 18-20

5When King Hezekiah's officials came to Isaiah, 6Isaiah said to them, "Tell your master, 'This is what the LORD says: Do not be afraid[b] of what you have heard — those words with which the underlings of the king of Assyria have blasphemed me. 7Listen! I am going to put a spirit in him so that when he hears a certain report, [c] he will return to his own country, and there I will have him cut down with the sword.' "

37:6 [b] Isa 7:4

37:7 [c] ver 9

8When the field commander heard that the king of Assyria had left Lachish, he withdrew and found the king fighting against Libnah.

9Now Sennacherib received a report[d] that Tirhakah, the Cushite[z] king of Egypt, was marching out to fight against him. When he heard it, he sent messengers to Hezekiah with this word: 10"Say to Hezekiah king of Judah: Do not let the god you depend on deceive you when he says, 'Jerusalem will not be handed over to the king of Assyria.'[e] 11Surely you have heard what the kings of Assyria have done to all the countries, destroying them completely. And will you be delivered?[f] 12Did the gods of the nations that were destroyed by my forefathers deliver them — the gods of Gozan, Haran, [g] Rezeph and the people of Eden who were in Tel Assar? 13Where is the king of Hamath, the king of Arpad, the king of the city of Sepharvaim, or of Hena or Ivvah?"

37:9 [d] ver 7

37:10 [e] Isa 36:15

37:11 [f] Isa 36:18-20

37:12 [g] Ge 11:31

Hezekiah's Prayer

14Hezekiah received the letter from the messengers and read it. Then he went up to the temple of the LORD and spread it out before the LORD. 15And Hezekiah prayed to the LORD: 16"O LORD Almighty, God of Israel, enthroned between the

[z] 9 That is, from the upper Nile region

36:19, 20 The field commander said that the gods of the other cities he had conquered had not been able to save their people, so how could the God of Jerusalem save them? The Lord was supposedly the God of Samaria (the northern kingdom), and it fell. But the Lord was the God of Samaria in name only because the people were not worshiping him. That is why prophets foretold the fall of Samaria. But for the Lord's own sake and for the sake of David, the Lord would rescue them from the Assyrian army (37:35).

37:3 Judah is compared to a woman who is trying to give birth to a child but is too weak to deliver. When the situation seemed hopeless, Hezekiah didn't give up. Instead, he asked the prophet Isaiah to pray that God would help his people. No matter how bad your circumstances seem, don't despair. Turn to God.

37:4 Hezekiah did exactly what Isaiah had been calling the people to do (chapters 1 – 35). He turned to God and watched him come to Judah's aid. Turning to God means believing that God is there and that he is able to help us.

37:8–10 Although the answer to Hezekiah's prayer was already in motion because Tirhakah was poised to attack, Hezekiah did not know it. He persisted in prayer and faith even though he could not see the answer coming. When we pray, we must have faith that God has already prepared the best answer. Our task is to ask in faith and wait in humility.

cherubim, you alone are God[h] over all the kingdoms of the earth. You have made heaven and earth. 17Give ear, O LORD, and hear; open your eyes, O LORD, and see;[i] listen to all the words Sennacherib has sent to insult the living God.

18"It is true, O LORD, that the Assyrian kings have laid waste all these peoples and their lands.[j] 19They have thrown their gods into the fire and destroyed them, for they were not gods but only wood and stone, fashioned by human hands. 20Now, O LORD our God, deliver us from his hand, so that all kingdoms on earth may know that you alone, O LORD, are God.[a k]"

37:16 [h] Dt 10:17
37:17 [i] Da 9:18
37:18 [j] 2Ki 15:29
37:20 [k] Ps 46:10

Sennacherib's Fall

21Then Isaiah son of Amoz sent a message to Hezekiah: "This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says: Because you have prayed to me concerning Sennacherib king of Assyria, 22this is the word the LORD has spoken against him:

"The Virgin Daughter of Zion despises and mocks you.
The Daughter of Jerusalem
tosses her head[l] as you flee.
23Who is it you have insulted and blasphemed?
Against whom have you raised your voice and lifted your eyes in pride?[m]
Against the Holy One of Israel!
24By your messengers
you have heaped insults on the Lord.
And you have said,
'With my many chariots
I have ascended the heights of the mountains, the utmost heights of Lebanon.[n]
I have cut down its tallest cedars,
the choicest of its pines.
I have reached its remotest heights,
the finest of its forests.
25I have dug wells in foreign lands[b] and drunk the water there.
With the soles of my feet
I have dried up all the streams of Egypt.'

26"Have you not heard?
Long ago I ordained[o] it.
In days of old I planned it;
now I have brought it to pass,
that you have turned fortified cities into piles of stone.
27Their people, drained of power,
are dismayed and put to shame.
They are like plants in the field,
like tender green shoots,
like grass sprouting on the roof,[p] scorched[c] before it grows up.

28"But I know where you stay and when you come and go and how you rage against me.

37:22 [l] Job 16:4
37:23 [m] Isa 2:11
37:24 [n] Isa 14:8
37:26 [o] Ac 2:23
37:27 [p] Ps 129:6

[a] 20 Dead Sea Scrolls (see also 2 Kings 19:19); Masoretic Text alone are the LORD [b] 25 Dead Sea Scrolls (see also 2 Kings 19:24); Masoretic Text does not have in foreign lands. [c] 27 Some manuscripts of the Masoretic Text, Dead Sea Scrolls and some Septuagint manuscripts (see also 2 Kings 19:26); most manuscripts of the Masoretic Text roof / and terraced fields

37:16 Cherubim are mighty angels. "Enthroned between the cherubim" refers to the atonement cover on the ark of the covenant in the Jerusalem temple. This is a description of God's holiness, power, and sovereignty.

29 Because you rage against me and because your insolence[q] has reached my ears,
I will put my hook in your nose and my bit in your mouth, and I will make you return
by the way you came.[r]

37:29
[q] Isa 10:12
[r] ver 34

30 "This will be the sign for you, O Hezekiah:

"This year you will eat what grows by itself,
and the second year what springs from that.
But in the third year sow and reap,
plant vineyards and eat their fruit.
31 Once more a remnant of the house of Judah will take root below and bear fruit[s] above.
32 For out of Jerusalem will come a remnant, and out of Mount Zion a band of survivors.
The zeal[t] of the LORD Almighty will accomplish this.

37:31
[s] Isa 27:6

37:32
[t] Isa 9:7

33 "Therefore this is what the LORD says concerning the king of Assyria:

"He will not enter this city
or shoot an arrow here.
He will not come before it with shield or build a siege ramp against it.
34 By the way that he came he will return;
he will not enter this city,"
declares the LORD.
35 "I will defend[u] this city and save it, for my sake and for the sake of David my servant!"

37:35
[u] Isa 31:5

36 Then the angel of the LORD went out and put to death a hundred and eighty-five thousand men in the Assyrian camp. When the people got up the next morning — there were all the dead bodies! 37 So Sennacherib king of Assyria broke camp and withdrew. He returned to Nineveh and stayed there.

38 One day, while he was worshiping in the temple of his god Nisroch, his sons Adrammelech and Sharezer cut him down with the sword, and they escaped to the land of Ararat.[v] And Esarhaddon his son succeeded him as king.

37:38
[v] Jer 51:27

Hezekiah's Illness

38 In those days Hezekiah became ill and was at the point of death. The prophet Isaiah son of Amoz went to him and said, "This is what the LORD says: Put your house in order,[w] because you are going to die; you will not recover."

38:1
[w] 2Sa 17:23

2 Hezekiah turned his face to the wall and prayed to the LORD, 3 "Remember, O LORD, how I have walked before you faithfully and with wholehearted devotion and have done what is good in your eyes." And Hezekiah wept bitterly.

4 Then the word of the LORD came to Isaiah: 5 "Go and tell Hezekiah, 'This is

---

37:29 This was a common torture the Assyrians used on their captives. They were often led away with hooks in their noses or bits in their mouths as signs of humiliation.

37:35 God would defend Jerusalem for the sake of his honor and for David's sake in remembrance of his promise to David. Assyria had insulted God. They would not be his instrument to punish Jerusalem. What Jerusalem could not possibly do, God would do for them. God is prepared to do the impossible if we trust him enough to ask.

37:38 The death of Sennacherib was prophesied by Isaiah in 10:12, 33, 34 and in 37:7. His death is also recorded in 2 Kings 19.

38:1ff The events of chapters 38 and 39 happened before those of chapters 36 and 37.

38:1–5 When Isaiah went to Hezekiah, who was extremely ill, and told him of his impending death, Hezekiah immediately turned to God. God responded to his prayer, allowing Hezekiah to live another 15 years. In response to fervent prayer, God may change the course of our lives too. Never hesitate to ask God for radical changes if you will honor him with those changes.

38:1–6 According to 2 Chronicles 32:24–26, Hezekiah had a problem with pride even after this double miracle of healing and deliverance. Eventually he and his subjects humbled themselves, so God's judgment was put off for several more generations.

what the LORD, the God of your father David, says: I have heard your prayer and seen your tears; I will add fifteen years[x] to your life. 6And I will deliver you and this city from the hand of the king of Assyria. I will defend[y] this city.

7" 'This is the LORD's sign[z] to you that the LORD will do what he has promised: 8I will make the shadow cast by the sun go back the ten steps it has gone down on the stairway of Ahaz.' " So the sunlight went back the ten steps it had gone down.

9A writing of Hezekiah king of Judah after his illness and recovery:

10I said, "In the prime of my life[a] must I go through the gates of death[d] and be robbed of the rest of my years?[b]" 11I said, "I will not again see the LORD, the LORD, in the land of the living;[c]
no longer will I look on mankind, or be with those who now dwell in this world.[e] 12Like a shepherd's tent my house has been pulled down and taken from me.
Like a weaver I have rolled[d] up my life,
and he has cut me off from the loom;[e]
day and night you made an end of me.
13I waited patiently till dawn, but like a lion he broke all my bones;[f]
day and night you made an end of me.
14I cried like a swift or thrush,
I moaned like a mourning dove.[g]
My eyes grew weak as I looked to the heavens.
I am troubled; O Lord, come to my aid!"

15But what can I say?
He has spoken to me, and he himself has done this.
I will walk humbly[h] all my years because of this anguish of my soul.[i] 16Lord, by such things men live;
and my spirit finds life in them too.
You restored me to health and let me live.
17Surely it was for my benefit that I suffered such anguish.
In your love you kept me from the pit[j] of destruction;
you have put all my sins behind your back.
18For the grave[d,k] cannot praise you, death cannot sing your praise;[l]
those who go down to the pit cannot hope for your faithfulness.
19The living, the living — they praise you,

38:5 [x] 2Ki 18:2
38:6 [y] Isa 31:5
38:7 [z] Isa 7:11, 14
38:10 [a] Ps 102:24 [b] Job 17:11
38:11 [c] Ps 116:9
38:12 [d] Heb 1:12 [e] Job 7:6
38:13 [f] Job 10:16
38:14 [g] Isa 59:11
38:15 [h] 1Ki 21:27 [i] Job 7:11
38:17 [j] Ps 30:3
38:18 [k] Ecc 9:10 [l] Ps 6:5; 88:10-11

[d] 10 Hebrew Sheol [e] 11 A few Hebrew manuscripts; most Hebrew manuscripts in the place of cessation

38:16–18 Hezekiah realized that his prayer brought deliverance and forgiveness. His words "the grave cannot praise you" may reveal that he was unaware of the blessedness of the future life for those who trust in God (57:1, 2), or he may have meant that dead bodies cannot praise God. In either case, Hezekiah knew that God had spared his life, so in his poem Hezekiah praises God. Hezekiah recognized the good that came from his bitter experience. The next time you have difficult struggles, pray for God's help to gain something beneficial from them.

38:19 Hezekiah spoke of the significance of passing the joy of the Lord from father to child, from generation to generation. The heritage of our faith has come to us because of faithful men and women who have carried God's message to us across the centuries. Do you share with your children or other young people the excitement of your relationship with God?

as I am doing today;
fathers tell their children about your faithfulness.

20The LORD will save me,
and we will sing with stringed instruments[m] all the days of our lives in the temple[n] of the LORD.

38:20
[m]Ps 33:2
[n]Ps 116:17-19

21Isaiah had said, "Prepare a poultice of figs and apply it to the boil, and he will recover."

22Hezekiah had asked, "What will be the sign that I will go up to the temple of the LORD?"

Envoys From Babylon

39 At that time Merodach-Baladan son of Baladan king of Babylon sent Hezekiah letters and a gift, because he had heard of his illness and recovery. 2Hezekiah received the envoys[o] gladly and showed them what was in his storehouses — the silver, the gold,[p] the spices, the fine oil, his entire armory and everything found among his treasures. There was nothing in his palace or in all his kingdom that Hezekiah did not show them.

39:2
[o]2Ch 32:31
[p]2Ki 18:15

3Then Isaiah the prophet went to King Hezekiah and asked, "What did those men say, and where did they come from?"

"From a distant land," Hezekiah replied. "They came to me from Babylon."

4The prophet asked, "What did they see in your palace?"

"They saw everything in my palace," Hezekiah said. "There is nothing among my treasures that I did not show them."

5Then Isaiah said to Hezekiah, "Hear the word of the LORD Almighty: 6The time will surely come when everything in your palace, and all that your fathers have stored up until this day, will be carried off to Babylon. Nothing will be left, says the LORD. 7And some of your descendants, your own flesh and blood who will be born to you, will be taken away, and they will become eunuchs in the palace of the king of Babylon.[q]"

39:7
[q]Da 1:1-7

8"The word of the LORD you have spoken is good," Hezekiah replied. For he thought, "There will be peace and security in my lifetime.[r]"

39:8
[r]2Ch 32:26

39:1ff Merodach-Baladan, a Babylonian prince, was planning a revolt against Assyria and was forming an alliance. He probably hoped to convince Hezekiah to join this alliance against Assyria. Hezekiah, feeling honored by this attention and perhaps feeling some sympathy for their proposal, showed the Babylonian envoys his treasures. But Isaiah warned the king not to trust Babylon. Someday they would turn on Judah and devour Jerusalem's wealth.

39:4–7 What was so wrong about showing these Babylonians around? Hezekiah failed to see that the Babylonians would become his next threat, and that they, not the Assyrians, would conquer his city. When Isaiah told him that Babylon would someday carry it all away, this was an amazing prophecy because Babylon was struggling for independence under Assyria. Hezekiah's self-satisfied display of his earthly treasures brought its own consequences (2 Kings 25; Daniel 1:1, 2). His response (39:8) may seem a bit shortsighted, but he simply was expressing gratitude for the blessing from God that peace would reign during his lifetime and that God's judgment would not be more severe.

39:8 Hezekiah, one of Judah's most faithful kings, worked hard throughout his reign to stamp out idol worship and to purify the worship of the true God at the Jerusalem temple. Nevertheless, he knew his kingdom was not pure. Powerful undercurrents of evil invited destruction, and only God's miraculous interventions preserved Judah from its enemies. Here Hezekiah was grateful that God would preserve peace during his reign. As soon as Hezekiah died, the nation rushed back to its sinful ways under the leadership of Manasseh, Hezekiah's son. He actually rebuilt the centers of idolatry his father had destroyed.

40:1ff The book of Isaiah makes a dramatic shift at this point. The following chapters discuss the majesty of God, who is coming to rule the earth and judge all people. God will reunite Israel and Judah and restore them to glory. Instead of warning the people of impending judgment, Isaiah here comforts them. Chapter 40 refers to

B. WORDS OF COMFORT (40:1 – 66:24)

Isaiah now speaks of events that will occur after the captivity. This includes the decree by Cyrus to release the remnant captives and allow them to return to Jerusalem after he conquered Babylon. But Isaiah also foretells the coming of the suffering Servant, Jesus Christ, and describes his life and death with incredible detail. Isaiah also speaks about the coming of the new heavens and earth, when God's people will be completely restored. Because all believers will participate in this new world to come, we can have confident hope in the future.

1. Israel's release from captivity

Comfort for God's People

40

Comfort, comfort[s] my people, says your God.
2 Speak tenderly[t] to Jerusalem, and proclaim to her that her hard service has been completed,[u] that her sin has been paid for,
that she has received from the LORD's hand double for all her sins.

3 A voice of one calling:
"In the desert prepare the way[v] for the LORD[f];
make straight in the wilderness
a highway for our God.[g w] 4 Every valley shall be raised up, every mountain and hill made low;
the rough ground shall become level,
the rugged places a plain.
5 And the glory of the LORD will be revealed, and all mankind together will see it.[x]
For the mouth of the LORD has spoken."

6 A voice says, "Cry out."
And I said, "What shall I cry?"

"All men are like grass, and all their glory is like the flowers of the field.
7 The grass withers and the flowers fall,
because the breath of the LORD blows on them.
Surely the people are grass.
8 The grass withers and the flowers fall,
but the word[y] of our God stands forever.[z]"

40:1 [s] Isa 12:1
40:2 [t] Isa 35:4 [u] Isa 41:11-13
40:3 [v] Mal 3:1 [w] Mt 3:3*
40:5 [x] Isa 52:10; Lk 3:4-6*
40:8 [y] Isa 55:11 [z] Mt 5:18; 1Pe 1:24-25*

f 3 Or A voice of one calling in the desert: / "Prepare the way for the LORD g 3 Hebrew; Septuagint make straight the paths of our God

---

the restoration after the exile. Cyrus is the instrument of their deliverance from Babylon. Secondarily, it looks to the end of time when "Babylon" – the future evil world system – will be destroyed and the persecution of God's people will end.

40:1, 2 Judah still had 100 years of trouble before Jerusalem would fall, then 70 years of exile. So God tells Isaiah to speak tenderly and to comfort Jerusalem.

The seeds of comfort may take root in the soil of adversity. When your life seems to be falling apart, ask God to comfort you. You may not escape adversity, but you may find God's comfort as you face it. Sometimes, however, the only comfort we have is in the knowledge that someday we will be with God. Appreciate the comfort and encouragement found in his Word, his presence, and his people.

40:3–5 Preparing a straight highway means removing obstacles and rolling out the red carpet for the coming of the Lord. The desert is a picture of life's trials and sufferings. We are not immune to these, but our faith need not be hindered by them. Isaiah told people to prepare to see God work. John the Baptist used these words as he challenged the people to prepare for the coming Messiah (Matthew 3:3).

40:6–8 People are compared here to grass and flowers that wither away. We are mortal, but God's Word is eternal and unfailing. Public opinion changes and is unreliable, but God's Word is constant. Only in God's eternal Word will we find lasting solutions to our problems and needs.

9 You who bring good tidings[a] to Zion, go up on a high mountain.
You who bring good tidings to Jerusalem,[h] lift up your voice with a shout, lift it up, do not be afraid;
say to the towns of Judah,
"Here is your God!"
10 See, the Sovereign LORD comes with power, and his arm rules for him.
See, his reward[b] is with him,
and his recompense accompanies him.
11 He tends his flock like a shepherd:[c]
He gathers the lambs in his arms and carries them close to his heart;
he gently leads those that have young.

12 Who has measured the waters in the hollow of his hand, or with the breadth of his hand marked off the heavens?
Who has held the dust of the earth in a basket, or weighed the mountains on the scales
and the hills in a balance?
13 Who has understood the mind[i] of the LORD, or instructed him as his counselor?[d]
14 Whom did the LORD consult to enlighten him, and who taught him the right way?
Who was it that taught him knowledge[e] or showed him the path of understanding?

15 Surely the nations are like a drop in a bucket;
they are regarded as dust on the scales;
he weighs the islands as though they were fine dust.
16 Lebanon is not sufficient for altar fires,
nor its animals enough for burnt offerings.
17 Before him all the nations are as nothing;
they are regarded by him as worthless and less than nothing.

18 To whom, then, will you compare God?
What image[f] will you compare him to?
19 As for an idol, a craftsman casts it,
and a goldsmith[g] overlays it with gold and fashions silver chains for it.
20 A man too poor to present such an offering selects wood that will not rot.
He looks for a skilled craftsman to set up an idol that will not topple.

21 Do you not know?
Have you not heard?

40:9 [a] Isa 52:7-10

40:10 [b] Rev 22:12

40:11 [c] Jn 10:11

40:13 [d] 1Co 2:16*

40:14 [e] Job 21:22

40:18 [f] Ac 17:29

40:19 [g] Isa 41:7

h.9 Or O Zion, bringer of good tidings, / go up on a high mountain. / O Jerusalem, bringer of good tidings i.13 Or Spirit; or spirit

40:11 God is often pictured as a shepherd, gently caring for and guiding his flock. He is powerful (40:10), yet careful and gentle. He is called a shepherd (Psalm 23); the good shepherd (John 10:11, 14); the great Shepherd (Hebrews 13:20); and the Chief Shepherd (1 Peter 5:4). Note that the shepherd is caring for the most defenseless members of his society: children and those caring for them. This reinforces the prophetic theme that the truly powerful nation is not the one with a strong military, but rather the one that relies on God's caring strength.

40:12–31 Isaiah describes God's power to create, his provision to sustain, and his presence to help. God is almighty and all-powerful; but even so, he cares for each of us personally. No person or thing can be compared to God (40:25). We describe God as best we can with our limited knowledge and language, but we only limit our understanding of him and his power when we compare him to what we experience on earth. What is your concept of God, especially as revealed in his Son, Jesus Christ? Don't limit his work in your life by underestimating him.

40:21 [h] Ps 19:1; Ac 14:17 [i] Ro 1:19

Has it not been told[h] you from the beginning?
Have you not understood[i] since the earth was founded?
22 He sits enthroned above the circle of the earth, and its people are like grasshoppers.
He stretches out the heavens like a canopy, and spreads them out like a tent to live in.
23 He brings princes to naught and reduces the rulers of this world to nothing.
24 No sooner are they planted, no sooner are they sown,
no sooner do they take root in the ground,
than he blows on them and they wither,
and a whirlwind sweeps them away like chaff.

25 "To whom will you compare me?
Or who is my equal?" says the Holy One.
40:26 [j] Isa 51:6
26 Lift your eyes and look to the heavens:[j]
Who created all these?
He who brings out the starry host one by one,
and calls them each by name.
Because of his great power and mighty strength, not one of them is missing.

27 Why do you say, O Jacob,
and complain, O Israel,
"My way is hidden from the LORD;
my cause is disregarded by my God"?
28 Do you not know?
Have you not heard?
40:28 [k] Ps 90:2 [l] Ps 147:5; Ro 11:33
The LORD is the everlasting[k] God,
the Creator of the ends of the earth.
He will not grow tired or weary,
and his understanding no one can fathom.[l]
40:29 [m] Jer 31:25
29 He gives strength to the weary[m] and increases the power of the weak.
30 Even youths grow tired and weary,
and young men stumble and fall;
31 but those who hope in the LORD will renew their strength.
They will soar on wings like eagles;
they will run and not grow weary,
they will walk and not be faint.

The Helper of Israel

41 41:1 [n] Zec 2:13 [o] Isa 34:1
"Be silent[n] before me, you islands!
Let the nations renew their strength!
Let them come forward and speak;
let us meet together[o] at the place of judgment.

41:2 [p] Isa 45:1, 13
2 "Who has stirred up one from the east,[p]

40:29–31 Even the strongest people get tired at times, but God's power and strength never diminish. He is never too tired or too busy to help and listen. His strength is our source of strength. When you feel all of life crushing you and cannot go another step, remember that you can call upon God to renew your strength.

40:31 Hoping in the Lord is expecting that his promise of strength will help us to rise above life's distractions and difficulties. It also means trusting in God. Trusting helps us to be prepared when he speaks to us. Then we will be patient when he asks us to wait and expect him to fulfill the promises found in his Word.

41:1ff The "one from the east" is Cyrus II of Persia, who would be king within a century and a half (he is also mentioned by name in 44:28). He conquered Babylon in 539 B.C. and was responsible for the decree releasing the exiled Jews to return to Jerusalem. God could even use a pagan ruler to protect and care for Israel, because God is in control of all world empires and politics.

calling him in righteousness to his service[i]?
He hands nations over to him and subdues kings before him.
He turns them to dust with his sword,
to windblown chaff with his bow.
3He pursues them and moves on unscathed,
by a path his feet have not traveled before.
4Who has done this and carried it through, calling forth the generations from the beginning?
I, the LORD—with the first of them and with the last[q]—I am he."

41:4
[q] Isa 44:6; Rev 1:8, 17

5The islands have seen it and fear;
the ends of the earth tremble.
They approach and come forward;
6 each helps the other and says to his brother, "Be strong!"
7The craftsman encourages the goldsmith, and he who smooths with the hammer spurs on him who strikes the anvil.
He says of the welding, "It is good."
He nails down the idol so it will not topple.

8"But you, O Israel, my servant,
Jacob, whom I have chosen,
you descendants of Abraham my friend,[r] 9I took you from the ends of the earth, from its farthest corners I called you.
I said, 'You are my servant';
I have chosen you and have not rejected you.
10So do not fear, for I am with you;[s]
do not be dismayed, for I am your God.
I will strengthen you and help you;
I will uphold you with my righteous right hand.

41:8
[r] 2Ch 20:7; Jas 2:23

41:10
[s] Isa 43:2, 5

11"All who rage against you will surely be ashamed and disgraced;[t] those who oppose you will be as nothing and perish.
12Though you search for your enemies,
you will not find them.
Those who wage war against you will be as nothing[u] at all.
13For I am the LORD, your God, who takes hold of your right hand and says to you, Do not fear;
I will help you.
14Do not be afraid, O worm Jacob,

41:11
[t] Isa 45:24

41:12
[u] Isa 17:14

[i] 2 Or I whom victory meets at every step

41:4 Each generation gets caught up in its own problems, but God's plan embraces all generations. When your great-grandparents lived, God worked personally in the lives of his people. When your great-grandchildren live, God will still work personally in the lives of his people. He is the only one who sees 100 years from now as clearly as 100 years ago. When you are concerned about the future, talk with God, who knows the generations of the future as well as he knows the generations of the past.

41:8–10 God chose Israel through Abraham because he wanted to, not because the people deserved it (Deuteronomy 7:6–8; 9:4–6). Although God chose the Israelites to represent him to the world, they failed to do this; so God punished them and sent them into captivity. Now all believers are God's chosen people, and all share the responsibility of representing him to the world. One day God will bring all his faithful people together. We need not fear because (1) God is with us ("I am with you"), (2) God has established a relationship with us ("I am your God"), and (3) God gives us assurance of his strength, help, and victory over sin and death. Have you realized all the ways God has helped you?

O little Israel,
for I myself will help you," declares the LORD,
your Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel.
15"See, I will make you into a threshing sledge,
new and sharp, with many teeth.
You will thresh the mountains and crush them,
and reduce the hills to chaff.
16You will winnow[v] them, the wind will pick them up,
and a gale will blow them away.
But you will rejoice in the LORD and glory in the Holy One of Israel.

17"The poor and needy search for water,
but there is none;
their tongues are parched with thirst.
But I the LORD will answer them;
I, the God of Israel, will not forsake them.
18I will make rivers flow on barren heights, and springs within the valleys.
I will turn the desert[w] into pools of water, and the parched ground into springs.[x] 19I will put in the desert the cedar and the acacia, the myrtle and the olive.
I will set pines in the wasteland,
the fir and the cypress together, 20so that people may see and know, may consider and understand, that the hand of the LORD has done this,
that the Holy One of Israel has created it.

21"Present your case," says the LORD.
"Set forth your arguments," says Jacob's King.
22"Bring in ⌞your idols⌟ to tell us what is going to happen.[y]
Tell us what the former things were, so that we may consider them
and know their final outcome.
Or declare to us the things to come,
23 tell us what the future holds,
so we may know[z] that you are gods.
Do something, whether good or bad,[a] so that we will be dismayed and filled with fear.
24But you are less than nothing[b] and your works are utterly worthless;
he who chooses you is detestable.

25"I have stirred up one from the north,[c] and he comes—one from the rising sun who calls on my name.
He treads on rulers as if they were mortar,
as if he were a potter treading the clay.
26Who told of this from the beginning, so we could know, or beforehand, so we could say, 'He was right'?
No one told of this,

41:16 [v] Jer 51:2
41:18 [w] Isa 43:19 [x] Isa 35:7
41:22 [y] Isa 45:21
41:23 [z] Isa 45:3 [a] Jer 10:5
41:24 [b] Isa 37:19; 1Co 8:4
41:25 [c] ver 2

41:21–24 Israel was surrounded by many nations whose gods supposedly had special powers, such as raising crops and providing victories in war. These gods, however, failed to deliver. A god with limited or no power at all is not really a god. When we are tempted to put our trust in something other than the living God—money, career, family, or even military power—we should stop and ask some serious questions. Will it come through? Will it unfailingly provide what I am looking for? God delivers. When he makes a promise, he keeps it. He is the only completely trustworthy God.

no one foretold it,
no one heard any words[d] from you.
27I was the first to tell Zion, 'Look, here they are!'
I gave to Jerusalem a messenger of good tidings.[e] 28I look but there is no one[f]— no one among them to give counsel, no one to give answer when I ask them.
29See, they are all false!
Their deeds amount to nothing;
their images are but wind[g] and confusion.

41:26 [d]Hab 2:18-19
41:27 [e]Isa 40:9
41:28 [f]Isa 63:5
41:29 [g]Jer 5:13

The Servant of the LORD

42 "Here is my servant, whom I uphold, my chosen one in whom I delight;
I will put my Spirit[h] on him and he will bring justice to the nations.
2He will not shout or cry out, or raise his voice in the streets.
3A bruised reed he will not break, and a smoldering wick he will not snuff out.
In faithfulness he will bring forth justice;
4 he will not falter or be discouraged till he establishes justice on earth.
In his law the islands will put their hope."[i]

42:1 [h]Mt 3:16-17
42:4 [i]Mt 12:18-21*

5This is what God the LORD says—
he who created the heavens and stretched them out, who spread out the earth and all that comes out of it,
who gives breath[j] to its people,
and life to those who walk on it:
6"I, the LORD, have called you in righteousness;
I will take hold of your hand.
I will keep you and will make you to be a covenant[k] for the people and a light for the Gentiles,[l] 7to open eyes that are blind, to free[m] captives from prison and to release from the dungeon those who sit in darkness.

42:5 [j]Ac 17:25
42:6 [k]Isa 49:8 [l]Lk 2:32
42:7 [m]Isa 49:9; 51:14; 52:2

8"I am the LORD; that is my name!
I will not give my glory to another[n] or my praise to idols.
9See, the former things have taken place,
and new things I declare;
before they spring into being
I announce them to you."

42:8 [n]Isa 48:11

42:1–4 These verses are quoted in Matthew 12:18–21 with reference to Christ. The chosen servant reveals a character of gentleness, encouragement, justice, and truth. When you feel broken and bruised or burned out in your spiritual life, God won't step on you or toss you aside as useless, but will gently pick you up. God's loving attributes are desperately needed in the world today. Through God's Spirit, we can show such sensitivity to people around us, reflecting God's goodness and honesty to them.

42:1–9 Sometimes called the Servant Song, these verses are about the Servant-Messiah, not the servant Cyrus (described in chapter 41). Israel and the Messiah are both often called servant. Israel, as God's servant, was to help bring the world to a knowledge of God. The Messiah, Jesus, would fulfill this task and show God himself to the world.

42:6, 7 Part of Christ's mission on earth was to demonstrate God's righteousness and to be a light for the Gentiles (to all nations). Through Christ, all people have the opportunity to share in his mission. God calls us to be servants of his Son, demonstrating God's righteousness and bringing his light. What a rare privilege it is to help the Messiah fulfill his mission! But we must seek his righteousness (Matthew 6:33) before we demonstrate it to others, and let his light shine in us before we can be lights ourselves (Matthew 5:16; 2 Corinthians 4:6).

Song of Praise to the LORD

10 Sing to the LORD a new song,
his praise from the ends of the earth,
you who go down to the sea, and all that is in it,
you islands, and all who live in them.
11 Let the desert and its towns raise their voices;
let the settlements where Kedar lives rejoice.
Let the people of Sela sing for joy;
let them shout from the mountaintops.
42:12 12 Let them give glory[o] to the LORD
o Isa 24:15 and proclaim his praise in the islands.
42:13 13 The LORD will march out like a mighty[p] man, p Isa 9:6 like a warrior he will stir up his zeal;
q Isa 66:14 with a shout he will raise the battle cry and will triumph over his enemies.[q]

14 "For a long time I have kept silent,
I have been quiet and held myself back.
But now, like a woman in childbirth,
I cry out, I gasp and pant.
15 I will lay waste the mountains and hills and dry up all their vegetation;
I will turn rivers into islands and dry up the pools.
16 I will lead the blind by ways they have not known,
along unfamiliar paths I will guide them;
I will turn the darkness into light before them 42:16 and make the rough places smooth.[r] r Lk 3:5 These are the things I will do;
I will not forsake them.
17 But those who trust in idols, who say to images, 'You are our gods,' 42:17 will be turned back in utter shame.[s] s Ps 97:7; Isa 1:29

Israel Blind and Deaf

18 "Hear, you deaf;
look, you blind, and see!

THE SERVANT IN ISAIAH

The nation Israel is called the servant:	41:8 42:19 43:10 44:1, 2, 21 45:4 48:20
The Messiah is called the Servant:	42:1–17 49:3, 5–7 50:10 52:13 53:11

The nation was given a mission to serve God, to be custodian of his word, and to be a light to the Gentile nations. Because of sin and rebellion, they failed. God sent his Son, Christ, as Messiah to fulfill his mission on earth.

42:10 Look at all the Lord will do for us and through us (42:6–9)! Majestic works prompt majestic responses. Do you really appreciate the good that God does for you and through you? If so, let your praise to him reflect how you really feel.

19 Who is blind[t] but my servant, and deaf like the messenger I send?
Who is blind like the one committed to me,
blind like the servant of the LORD?
20 You have seen many things, but have paid no attention;
your ears are open, but you hear nothing."
21 It pleased the LORD for the sake of his righteousness to make his law great and glorious.
22 But this is a people plundered and looted, all of them trapped in pits[u]
or hidden away in prisons.
They have become plunder,
with no one to rescue them;
they have been made loot,
with no one to say, "Send them back."

23 Which of you will listen to this or pay close attention in time to come?
24 Who handed Jacob over to become loot, and Israel to the plunderers?
Was it not the LORD,
against whom we have sinned?
For they would not follow[v] his ways;
they did not obey his law.
25 So he poured out on them his burning anger,
the violence of war.
It enveloped them in flames,[w] yet they did not understand;
it consumed them, but they did not take it to heart.[x]

Israel's Only Savior

43 But now, this is what the LORD says — he who created you, O Jacob,
he who formed you, O Israel:[y]
"Fear not, for I have redeemed you;
I have summoned you by name;[z] you are mine.
2 When you pass through the waters,
I will be with you;
and when you pass through the rivers,
they will not sweep over you.
When you walk through the fire,
you will not be burned;
the flames will not set you ablaze.[a]
3 For I am the LORD, your God,

42:19 [t] Isa 43:8

42:22 [u] Isa 24:18

42:24 [v] Isa 30:15

42:25 [w] 2Ki 25:9 [x] Hos 7:9

43:1 [y] Isa 44:21 [z] Isa 45:3-4

43:2 [a] Ps 66:12; Da 3:25-27

42:19, 20 How could Israel and Judah be God's servants and yet be so blind? How could they be so close to God and see so little? Jesus condemned the religious leaders of his day for the same disregard of God (John 9:39–41). Yet do we not fail in the same way? Sometimes partial blindness – seeing but not understanding, or knowing what is right but not doing it – can be worse than not seeing at all.

42:23 We may condemn our predecessors for their failures, but we are twice as guilty if we repeat the same mistakes that we recognize as failures. Often we are so ready to direct God's message at others that we can't see how it touches our own lives. Make sure you are willing to take your own advice as you teach or lead.

43:1ff Chapter 42 ends with God's sorrow over the spiritual decay of his people. In chapter 43, God says that despite the people's spiritual failure, he will show them mercy, bring them back from captivity, and restore them. He would give them an outpouring of love, not wrath. Then the world would know that God alone had done this.

43:1–4 God created Israel and made it special to him. God redeemed Israel and summoned them by name to be those who belong to him. God protected Israel in times of trouble. We are important to God, and he also summons us by name and gives us his name (43:7)! When we bear God's wonderful name, we must never do anything that would bring shame to it.

43:2 Going through rivers of difficulty will either cause you to drown or force you to grow stronger. If you go in your own strength, you are more likely to drown. If you invite the Lord to go with you, he will protect you.

the Holy One of Israel, your Savior;
I give Egypt for your ransom,
Cush[k] and Seba in your stead.
4Since you are precious and honored in my sight,
and because I love you,
I will give men in exchange for you,
and people in exchange for your life.
5Do not be afraid, for I am with you;
I will bring your children from the east and gather you from the west.
6I will say to the north, 'Give them up!'
and to the south, 'Do not hold them back.'
Bring my sons from afar and my daughters from the ends of the earth—7everyone who is called by my name, whom I created for my glory, whom I formed and made.[b]"

43:7
[b] Ps 100:3; Eph 2:10

8Lead out those who have eyes but are blind,[c] who have ears but are deaf.[d] 9All the nations gather together and the peoples assemble.
Which of them foretold[e] this and proclaimed to us the former things?
Let them bring in their witnesses to prove they were right, so that others may hear and say, "It is true."
10"You are my witnesses," declares the LORD,
"and my servant whom I have chosen,
so that you may know and believe me and understand that I am he.
Before me no god[f] was formed,
nor will there be one after me.
11I, even I, am the LORD,
and apart from me there is no savior.
12I have revealed and saved and proclaimed—
I, and not some foreign god[g] among you.
You are my witnesses," declares the LORD, "that I am God.
13 Yes, and from ancient days[h] I am he.
No one can deliver out of my hand.
When I act, who can reverse it?"

43:8
[c] Isa 6:9-10
[d] Isa 42:20; Eze 12:2

43:9
[e] Isa 41:26

43:10
[f] Isa 44:6, 8

43:12
[g] Dt 32:12

43:13
[h] Ps 90:2

God's Mercy and Israel's Unfaithfulness

14This is what the LORD says—
your Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel:
"For your sake I will send to Babylon and bring down as fugitives all the Babylonians,[l] in the ships in which they took pride.

[k] 3 That is, the upper Nile region [l] 14 Or Chaldeans

43:3 God gave other nations to Persia in exchange for returning the Jews to their homeland. Egypt, Cush, and parts of Arabia (Seba) had attacked Persia, and the Persians defeated them.

43:5, 6 Isaiah was speaking primarily of Israel's return from Babylon. But there is a broader meaning: all God's people will be regathered when Christ comes to rule in peace over the earth.

43:10, 11 Israel's task was to be a witness (44:8), telling the world who God is and what he has done. Believers today share the responsibility of being God's witnesses. Do people know what God is like through your words and example? They cannot see God directly, but they can see him reflected in you.

15 I am the LORD, your Holy One,
Israel's Creator, your King."

16 This is what the LORD says—
he who made a way through the sea,
a path through the mighty waters,[i] 17 who drew out the chariots and horses, the army and reinforcements together,
and they lay there, never to rise again,
extinguished, snuffed out like a wick:
18 "Forget the former things;
do not dwell on the past.
19 See, I am doing a new thing![j]
Now it springs up; do you not perceive it?
I am making a way in the desert
and streams in the wasteland.
20 The wild animals honor me,
the jackals and the owls,
because I provide water in the desert
and streams in the wasteland,
to give drink to my people, my chosen, 21 the people I formed for myself that they may proclaim my praise.[k]

22 "Yet you have not called upon me, O Jacob, you have not wearied yourselves for me, O Israel.
23 You have not brought me sheep for burnt offerings, nor honored me with your sacrifices.[l]
I have not burdened you with grain offerings nor wearied you with demands for incense.
24 You have not bought any fragrant calamus for me, or lavished on me the fat of your sacrifices.
But you have burdened me with your sins and wearied[m] me with your offenses.[n]

25 "I, even I, am he who blots out your transgressions, for my own sake, and remembers your sins no more.
26 Review the past for me,
let us argue the matter together;
state the case for your innocence.
27 Your first father sinned;
your spokesmen rebelled against me.
28 So I will disgrace the dignitaries of your temple, and I will consign Jacob to destruction[m] and Israel to scorn.

43:16 [i] Isa 11:15

43:19 [j] 2Co 5:17

43:21 [k] Ps 102:18

43:23 [l] Am 5:25

43:24 [m] Isa 1:14 [n] Mal 2:17

m 28 The Hebrew term refers to the irrevocable giving over of things or persons to the LORD, often by totally destroying them.

43:15–21 This section pictures a new exodus for a people once again oppressed, as the Israelites had been as slaves in Egypt before the exodus. They would cry to God, and again he would hear and deliver them. A new exodus would take place through a new desert. The past miracles were nothing compared to what God would do for his people in the future.

43:22–24 Calamus may have been an ingredient in the incense used in worship. A sacrifice required both giving up a valuable animal and pleading with God for forgiveness. But the people presented God with sins instead of sacrifices. Can you imagine bringing the best of your sins to God's altar? This ironic picture shows the depths to which Israel had sunk. What do you present to God—your sins, or a plea for his forgiveness?

43:25 How tempting it is to remind someone of a past offense! But when God forgives our sins he totally forgets them. We never have to fear that he will remind us of them later. Because God forgives our sin, we need to forgive others.

Israel the Chosen

44 "But now listen, O Jacob, my servant,[o]
Israel, whom I have chosen.
2This is what the LORD says—
he who made you, who formed you in the womb,
and who will help you:
Do not be afraid, O Jacob, my servant,
Jeshurun,[p] whom I have chosen.
3For I will pour water on the thirsty land,
and streams on the dry ground;
I will pour out my Spirit on your offspring,
and my blessing on your descendants.
4They will spring up like grass in a meadow, like poplar trees by flowing streams.
5One will say, 'I belong to the LORD';
another will call himself by the name of Jacob;
still another will write on his hand, 'The LORD's,'
and will take the name Israel.

The LORD, Not Idols

6"This is what the LORD says—
Israel's King and Redeemer, the LORD Almighty:
I am the first and I am the last;[q]
apart from me there is no God.
7Who then is like me? Let him proclaim it.
Let him declare and lay out before me what has happened since I established my ancient people, and what is yet to come—
yes, let him foretell[r] what will come.
8Do not tremble, do not be afraid.
Did I not proclaim this and foretell it long ago?
You are my witnesses. Is there any God[s] besides me?
No, there is no other Rock; I know not one."

9All who make idols are nothing, and the things they treasure are worthless.
Those who would speak up for them are blind;
they are ignorant, to their own shame.
10Who shapes a god and casts an idol, which can profit him nothing?[t] 11He and his kind will be put to shame;
craftsmen are nothing but men.
Let them all come together and take their stand;

44:1 [o] over 21

44:2 [p] Dt 32:15

44:6 [q] Isa 41:4; Rev 1:8, 17

44:7 [r] Isa 41:22, 26

44:8 [s] Isa 43:10

44:10 [t] Jer 10:5

TODAY'S IDOLATRY

Isaiah tells us, "Who shapes a god and casts an idol, which can profit him nothing?" We think of idols as statues of wood or stone, but in reality an idol is anything natural that is given sacred value and power. If your answer to any of the following questions is anything or anyone other than God, you may need to check out who or what you are worshiping.

- Who created me?
- Whom do I ultimately trust?
- Whom do I look to for ultimate truth?
- Whom do I look to for security and happiness?
- Who is in charge of my future?

44:2 Jeshurun ("the upright one") is a poetic name for Israel (Deuteronomy 32:15; 33:5, 26).

44:5 The time will come when Israel will be proud of belonging to God. If we are truly God's, we should be unashamed and delighted to let everyone know about our relationship with him (44:8).

44:9–20 Here Isaiah describes how people make their own gods. How absurd to make a god from the same tree that gives firewood. Do we make our own gods—money, fame, or power? If we make a god of our own choosing, we deceive ourselves. We cannot expect it to empower our lives.

they will be brought down to terror and infamy.

12 The blacksmith[u] takes a tool and works with it in the coals;
he shapes an idol with hammers,
he forges it with the might of his arm.
He gets hungry and loses his strength;
he drinks no water and grows faint.
13 The carpenter[v] measures with a line and makes an outline with a marker;
he roughs it out with chisels and marks it with compasses.
He shapes it in the form of man,
of man in all his glory,
that it may dwell in a shrine.
14 He cut down cedars,
or perhaps took a cypress or oak.
He let it grow among the trees of the forest,
or planted a pine, and the rain made it grow.
15 It is man's fuel for burning;
some of it he takes and warms himself.
he kindles a fire and bakes bread.
But he also fashions a god and worships it;
he makes an idol and bows[w] down to it.
16 Half of the wood he burns in the fire;
over it he prepares his meal,
he roasts his meat and eats his fill.
He also warms himself and says,
"Ah! I am warm; I see the fire."
17 From the rest he makes a god, his idol;
he bows down to it and worships.
He prays[x] to it and says,
"Save me; you are my god."
18 They know nothing, they understand nothing;
their eyes[y] are plastered over so they cannot see,
and their minds closed so they cannot understand.
19 No one stops to think,
no one has the knowledge or understanding[z] to say,
"Half of it I used for fuel;
I even baked bread over its coals,
I roasted meat and I ate.
Shall I make a detestable[a] thing from what is left?
Shall I bow down to a block of wood?"
20 He feeds on ashes,[b] a deluded[c] heart misleads him;
he cannot save himself, or say,
"Is not this thing in my right hand a lie?"
21 "Remember[d] these things, O Jacob, for you are my servant, O Israel.
I have made you, you are my servant;
O Israel, I will not forget you.[e]
22 I have swept away your offenses like a cloud, your sins like the morning mist.
Return to me,

44:12 [u] Isa 40:19

44:13 [v] Isa 41:7

44:15 [w] 2Ch 25:14

44:17 [x] 1Ki 18:26

44:18 [y] Isa 6:9-10

44:19 [z] Isa 45:20 [a] Dt 27:15

44:20 [b] Ps 102:9 [c] Job 15:31; Ro 1:21-23, 28; 2Th 2:11

44:21 [d] Isa 46:8 [e] Isa 49:15

44:21 God said that we should serve our Creator (17:7; 40:28; 43:15; 45:9). Idolaters do the opposite – serving or worshiping what they have made rather than the One who made them. Our Creator paid the price to set us free from our sins against him. By contrast, no idol ever created anybody, and no idol can redeem us from our sins.

for I have redeemed you."

23 Sing for joy, O heavens, for the LORD has done this;
shout aloud, O earth beneath.
Burst into song, you mountains,
you forests and all your trees,
for the LORD has redeemed Jacob,
he displays his glory[f] in Israel.

44:23 [f] Isa 61:3

Jerusalem to Be Inhabited

24 "This is what the LORD says—
your Redeemer,[g] who formed you in the womb:

44:24 [g] Isa 43:14

I am the LORD,
who has made all things,
who alone stretched out the heavens,
who spread out the earth by myself,

25 who foils the signs of false prophets and makes fools of diviners, who overthrows the learning of the wise[h] and turns it into nonsense,

44:25 [h] 1Co 1:27

26 who carries out the words[i] of his servants and fulfills the predictions of his messengers,

44:26 [i] Zec 1:6

who says of Jerusalem, 'It shall be inhabited,' of the towns of Judah, 'They shall be built,' and of their ruins, 'I will restore them,' 27 who says to the watery deep, 'Be dry, and I will dry up your streams,' 28 who says of Cyrus,[j] 'He is my shepherd and will accomplish all that I please;
he will say of Jerusalem, "Let it be rebuilt," and of the temple,[k] "Let its foundations be laid." '

44:28 [j] 2Ch 36:22 [k] Ezr 1:2-4

45 "This is what the LORD says to his anointed, to Cyrus, whose right hand I take hold[l] of to subdue nations before him and to strip kings of their armor, to open doors before him
so that gates will not be shut:
2 I will go before you
and will level[m] the mountains[n];
I will break down gates of bronze and cut through bars of iron.[n]

45:1 [l] Isa 41:13

45:2 [m] Isa 40:4 [n] Ps 107:16

n 2 Dead Sea Scrolls and Septuagint; the meaning of the word in the Masoretic Text is uncertain.

44:25, 26 False prophets were people who claimed to bring messages from the gods. Diviners were people who would fake omens for their own benefit. Because God is truth, he is the standard for all teachings. We can always trust his Word as absolute truth. His Word is completely accurate, and against it we can measure all other teachings. If you are unsure about a teaching, test it against God's Word. God condemned the false prophets because they gave advice opposite to his.

44:28 Isaiah, who prophesied from about 740–681 B.C., called Cyrus by name almost 150 years before he ruled (559–530 B.C.)! Later historians said that Cyrus read this prophecy and was so moved that he carried it out. Isaiah also predicted that Jerusalem would fall more than 100 years before it happened (586 B.C.) and that the temple would be rebuilt about 200 years before it happened. It is clear these prophecies came from a God who knows the future.

45:1–8 This is the only place in the Bible where a Gentile ruler is said to be "anointed." God is the power over all powers, and he anoints whom he chooses for his special tasks. Cyrus's kingdom spread across 2,000 miles (the largest of any empire then known), including the territories of both the Assyrian and the Babylonian empires. Why did God anoint Cyrus? Because God had a special task for him to do for Israel. Cyrus would allow God's city, Jerusalem, to be rebuilt, and he would set the exiles free without expecting anything in return. Few kings of Israel or Judah had done as much for God's people as Cyrus would.

3 I will give you the treasures of darkness, riches stored in secret places,
so that you may know that I am the LORD,
the God of Israel, who summons you by name.[o] 4 For the sake of Jacob my servant,
of Israel my chosen,
I summon you by name
and bestow on you a title of honor, though you do not acknowledge me.
5 I am the LORD, and there is no other;[p]
apart from me there is no God.
I will strengthen you,
though you have not acknowledged me, 6 so that from the rising of the sun to the place of its setting men may know there is none besides me.
I am the LORD, and there is no other.
7 I form the light and create darkness,
I bring prosperity and create disaster;
I, the LORD, do all these things.

8 "You heavens above, rain[q] down righteousness;[r] let the clouds shower it down.
Let the earth open wide,
let salvation spring up,
let righteousness grow with it;
I, the LORD, have created it.

9 "Woe to him who quarrels with his Maker, to him who is but a potsherd among the potsherds on the ground.
Does the clay say to the potter,[s]
'What are you making?'
Does your work say,
'He has no hands'?
10 Woe to him who says to his father,
'What have you begotten?'
or to his mother,
'What have you brought to birth?'

11 "This is what the LORD says—
the Holy One of Israel, and its Maker: Concerning things to come,
do you question me about my children,
or give me orders about the work of my hands?
12 It is I who made the earth and created mankind upon it.
My own hands stretched out the heavens;[t]
I marshaled their starry hosts.
13 I will raise up Cyrus[o][u] in my righteousness:
I will make all his ways straight.
He will rebuild my city

45:3 [o] Ex 33:12
45:5 [p] Isa 44:8
45:8 [q] Ps 72:6 [r] Ps 85:11
45:9 [s] Isa 29:16; Ro 9:20-21*
45:12 [t] Ge 2:1
45:13 [u] Isa 41:2

[o] 13 Hebrew him

45:7 God is ruler over light and darkness, over prosperity and disaster. Our lives are sprinkled with both types of experiences, and both are needed for us to grow spiritually. When good times come, thank God and use your prosperity for him. When bad times come, don't resent them, but ask what you can learn from this refining experience to make you a better servant of God.

45:9 A potsherd is a broken piece of pottery, essentially worthless.

and set my exiles free, but not for a price or reward,[v]
says the LORD Almighty."

14 This is what the LORD says:

"The products of Egypt and the merchandise of Cush,[p] and those tall Sabeans —
they will come over to you and will be yours;
they will trudge behind you,
coming over to you in chains.[w]
They will bow down before you and plead with you, saying,
'Surely God is with you,[x] and there is no other;
there is no other god.' "

15 Truly you are a God who hides himself,
O God and Savior of Israel.
16 All the makers of idols will be put to shame and disgraced;
they will go off into disgrace together.
17 But Israel will be saved by the LORD with an everlasting salvation;
you will never be put to shame or disgraced,
to ages everlasting.

18 For this is what the LORD says —
he who created the heavens,
he is God;
he who fashioned and made the earth,
he founded it;
he did not create it to be empty,[y]
but formed it to be inhabited —
he says:
"I am the LORD,
and there is no other.[z]
19 I have not spoken in secret, from somewhere in a land of darkness;
I have not said to Jacob's descendants,[a]
'Seek me in vain.'
I, the LORD, speak the truth;
I declare what is right.

20 "Gather together and come;
assemble, you fugitives from the nations.
Ignorant are those who carry[b] about idols of wood,
who pray to gods that cannot save.[c] 21 Declare what is to be, present it — let them take counsel together.
Who foretold this long ago,
who declared it from the distant past?
Was it not I, the LORD?
And there is no God apart from me,

45:13 [v] Isa 52:3

45:14 [w] Isa 14:1-2 [x] 1Co 14:25

45:18 [y] Ge 1:2 [z] ver 5

45:19 [a] Isa 41:8

45:20 [b] Jer 10:5 [c] Isa 44:17

p 14 That is, the upper Nile region

45:14 The Sabeans were people from Seba in southern Arabia.

45:17 Until this time, Israel had anticipated temporal salvation — God would save them from their enemies. Here Isaiah tells of everlasting salvation with God.

45:18, 19 God's promises are public, and their fulfillment is sure. So why do we ever doubt him? We never have to be uncertain when we have a God of truth and righteousness.

a righteous God and a Savior;
there is none but me.

22"Turn to me and be saved,
all you ends of the earth;
for I am God, and there is no other.
23By myself I have sworn,
my mouth has uttered in all integrity[d]
a word that will not be revoked:
Before me every knee will bow;
by me every tongue will swear.[e] 24They will say of me, 'In the LORD alone are righteousness and strength.' "
All who have raged against him will come to him and be put to shame.[f] 25But in the LORD all the descendants of Israel will be found righteous and will exult.

45:23
[d]Heb 6:13
[e]Ro 14:11*

45:24
[f]Isa 41:11

Gods of Babylon

46 Bel[g] bows down, Nebo stoops low; their idols are borne by beasts of burden.[q]
The images that are carried about are burdensome, a burden for the weary.
2They stoop and bow down together;
unable to rescue the burden,
they themselves go off into captivity.

46:1
[g]Isa 21:9; Jer 50:2

3"Listen[h] to me, O house of Jacob,
all you who remain of the house of Israel,
you whom I have upheld since you were conceived,
and have carried since your birth.
4Even to your old age and gray hairs
I am he, I am he who will sustain you.
I have made you and I will carry you;
I will sustain you and I will rescue you.

46:3
[h]ver 12

5"To whom will you compare me or count me equal?
To whom will you liken me that we may be compared?[i] 6Some pour out gold from their bags and weigh out silver on the scales;
they hire a goldsmith[j] to make it into a god,
and they bow down and worship it.[k] 7They lift it to their shoulders and carry it;
they set it up in its place, and there it stands.
From that spot it cannot move.
Though one cries out to it, it does not answer;
it cannot save him from his troubles.

46:5
[i]Isa 40:18, 25

46:6
[j]Isa 40:19
[k]Isa 44:17

8"Remember[l] this, fix it in mind,

46:8
[l]Isa 44:21

q 1 Or are but beasts and cattle

45:22 Salvation is for all nations, not just the Israelites. Many times it seems as though Israel had an inside track on salvation. But God makes it clear that his people include all those who follow him. Israel was to be the means through which the whole world would come to know God. Jesus, the Messiah, fulfilled Israel's role and gave all people the opportunity to follow God. (See also Romans 11:11; Galatians 3:28; Ephesians 3:6; Philippians 2:10.)

46:1–4 Cyrus would carry out God's judgment against Babylon. Bel was the chief deity of the Babylonians; Nebo was the god of science and learning. These "gods," however needed animals and people to carry them around and could not even save themselves from being taken into captivity. They had no power at all. In contrast to gods who must be hauled around by people, our God created us and cares for us. His love is so enduring that he will care for us throughout our lifetime and even through death.

46:8–11 Israel was tempted to waver between the Lord God and pagan gods. Isaiah affirms the sole lordship of God. God is unique in his knowledge and in his control of the future. His consistent pur-take it to heart, you rebels.

8 Remember the former things, those of long ago;
I am God, and there is no other;
I am God, and there is none like me.[m]
9 I make known the end from the beginning, from ancient times,[n] what is still to come.
I say: My purpose will stand,[o]
and I will do all that I please.
10 From the east I summon a bird of prey;
from a far-off land, a man to fulfill my purpose.
What I have said, that will I bring about;
what I have planned, that will I do.
11 Listen[p] to me, you stubborn-hearted, you who are far from righteousness.[q] 12 I am bringing my righteousness near,
it is not far away;
and my salvation will not be delayed.
I will grant salvation to Zion,
my splendor[r] to Israel.

46:9 [m] Isa 45:5, 21
46:10 [n] Isa 45:21 [o] Ac 5:39
46:12 [p] ver 3 [q] Jer 2:5
46:13 [r] Isa 44:23

The Fall of Babylon

47 "Go down, sit in the dust,
Virgin Daughter of Babylon;
sit on the ground without a throne,
Daughter of the Babylonians.[rs]
No more will you be called tender or delicate.
2 Take millstones[t] and grind flour;
take off your veil.
Lift up your skirts, bare your legs,

47:1 [s] Jer 51:33
47:2 [t] Ex 11:5; Mt 24:41

r 1 Or Chaldeans; also in verse 5

MAJOR IDOLS MENTIONED IN THE BIBLE

Name	Where they were worshiped	What they stood for	What the worship included
Bel (Marduk)	Babylon	Weather, war, sun god	Prostitution, child sacrifice
Nebo (Son of Marduk)	Babylon	Learning, astronomy, science
Ashtoreth (Asherah)	Canaan	Goddess of love, childbirth, and fertility	Prostitution
Chemosh	Moab		Child sacrifice
Molech	Ammon	National god	Child sacrifice
Baal	Canaan	Rain, harvest, symbolized strength and fertility	Prostitution
Dagon	Philistia	Harvest, grain, success in farming	Child sacrifice pose is to carry out what he has planned. When we are tempted to pursue anything that promises pleasure, comfort, peace, or security apart from God, we must remember our commitment to God.

46:13 Much of the book of Isaiah speaks of a future deliverance when we will all live with God in perfect peace. God offers not only this future hope but also help for our present needs. His righteousness is near us, and we do not have to wait for his salvation.

47:1ff Here Isaiah predicted the fall of Babylon more than 150 years before it happened. At this time, Babylon had not yet emerged as the mightiest force on earth, the proud empire that would destroy Judah and Jerusalem. But the Babylonians, Judah's captors, would become captives themselves in 539 B.C. God, not Babylon, has the ultimate power. He used Babylon to punish his sinful people; he would use Medo-Persia to destroy Babylon and free his people.

and wade through the streams.
3 Your nakedness[u] will be exposed and your shame uncovered.
I will take vengeance;
I will spare no one."

4 Our Redeemer — the LORD Almighty is his name — is the Holy One of Israel.

5 "Sit in silence, go into darkness,[v]
Daughter of the Babylonians;
no more will you be called queen of kingdoms.[w]
6 I was angry with my people and desecrated my inheritance;
I gave them into your hand,
and you showed them no mercy.
Even on the aged
you laid a very heavy yoke.
7 You said, 'I will continue forever —
the eternal queen!'
But you did not consider these things or reflect on what might happen.[x]

8 "Now then, listen, you wanton creature, lounging in your security[y]
and saying to yourself,
'I am, and there is none besides me.
I will never be a widow[z]
or suffer the loss of children.'
9 Both of these will overtake you in a moment,[a] on a single day:
loss of children and widowhood.
They will come upon you in full measure, in spite of your many sorceries[b] and all your potent spells.
10 You have trusted[c] in your wickedness and have said, 'No one sees me.'[d]
Your wisdom and knowledge mislead you when you say to yourself,
'I am, and there is none besides me.'
11 Disaster will come upon you,
and you will not know how to conjure it away.
A calamity will fall upon you that you cannot ward off with a ransom;
a catastrophe you cannot foresee will suddenly[e] come upon you.

12 "Keep on, then, with your magic spells and with your many sorceries,

47:3
[u] Eze 16:37

47:5
[v] Isa 13:10
[w] Isa 13:19

47:7
[x] Dt 32:29

47:8
[y] Isa 32:9
[z] Rev 18:7

47:9
[a] 1Th 5:3
[b] Na 3:4

47:10
[c] Ps 52:7
[d] Isa 29:15

47:11
[e] 1Th 5:3

47:8, 9 Caught up in the pursuit of power and pleasure, Babylon believed in its own greatness and claimed to be the only power on earth. Babylon felt completely secure, and Nebuchadnezzar, its king, exalted himself as a "god." But the true God taught Nebuchadnezzar a powerful lesson by taking everything away from him (Daniel 4:28–37). Our society is addicted to pleasure and power, but these can quickly pass away. Look at your own life and ask yourself how you can be more responsible with the talents and possessions God has given you. How can you use your life for God's honor rather than your own?

47:12–15 The people of Babylon sought advice and help from astrologers and stargazers. But like the idols of wood or gold, astrologers could not even deliver themselves from what was to come from the hand of God. Why rely on those who are powerless? The helpless cannot help us. Alternatives to God are destined to fail. If you want help, find it in God, who has proven his power in creation and in history.

which you have labored at since childhood.
Perhaps you will succeed,
perhaps you will cause terror.
13All the counsel you have received has only worn you out![f]
Let your astrologers come forward, those stargazers who make predictions month by month,
let them save you from what is coming upon you.
14Surely they are like stubble;
the fire will burn them up.
They cannot even save themselves from the power of the flame.
Here are no coals to warm anyone;
here is no fire to sit by.
15That is all they can do for you—these you have labored with and trafficked[g] with since childhood.
Each of them goes on in his error;
there is not one that can save you.

47:13 [f] Isa 57:10

47:15 [g] Rev 18:11

Stubborn Israel

48 "Listen to this, O house of Jacob, you who are called by the name of Israel and come from the line of Judah, you who take oaths in the name of the LORD and invoke the God of Israel—but not in truth[h] or righteousness—2you who call yourselves citizens of the holy city and rely[i] on the God of Israel—
the LORD Almighty is his name:
3I foretold the former things long ago,
my mouth announced them and I made them known;
then suddenly I acted, and they came to pass.
4For I knew how stubborn you were;
the sinews of your neck[j] were iron,
your forehead was bronze.
5Therefore I told you these things long ago;
before they happened I announced them to you so that you could not say,
'My idols did them;
my wooden image and metal god ordained them.'
6You have heard these things; look at them all.
Will you not admit them?

"From now on I will tell you of new things,
of hidden things unknown to you.
7They are created now, and not long ago;
you have not heard of them before today.
So you cannot say,
'Yes, I knew of them.'
8You have neither heard nor understood;
from of old your ear has not been open.
Well do I know how treacherous you are;

48:1 [h] Jer 4:2

48:2 [i] Ro 2:17

48:4 [j] Ex 32:9

48:1 The people of Judah felt confident because they lived in Jerusalem, the city with God's temple. They depended on their heritage, their city, and their temple—but this was false security because they did not depend on God. Do you feel secure because you go to church or live in a Christian country? Heritage, buildings, or nations cannot give us a relationship with God; we must truly depend on him personally, with all our hearts and minds.

you were called a rebel[k] from birth.
9For my own name's sake I delay my wrath;
for the sake of my praise I hold it back from you,
so as not to cut you off.
10See, I have refined you, though not as silver;
I have tested you in the furnace of affliction.
11For my own sake, for my own sake, I do this.
How can I let myself be defamed?[l]
I will not yield my glory to another.[m]

48:8
[k] Ps 58:3

48:11
[l] Dt 32:27; Eze 20:9, 14, 22, 44
[m] Isa 42:8

Israel Freed

12"Listen to me, O Jacob,
Israel, whom I have called:
I am he;
I am the first and I am the last.[n]
13My own hand laid the foundations of the earth, and my right hand spread out the heavens;
when I summon them,
they all stand up together.

48:12
[n] Rev 1:17

14"Come together, all of you, and listen:
Which of the idols has foretold these things?
The LORD's chosen ally will carry out his purpose against Babylon;
his arm will be against the Babylonians.[s] 15I, even I, have spoken;
yes, I have called[o] him.
I will bring him,
and he will succeed in his mission.

48:15
[o] Isa 45:1

16"Come near me and listen to this:

"From the first announcement I have not spoken in secret;[p] at the time it happens, I am there."

48:16
[p] Isa 45:19
[q] Zec 2:9, 11

And now the Sovereign LORD has sent[q] me, with his Spirit.

17This is what the LORD says—
your Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel:
"I am the LORD your God,
who teaches you what is best for you,
who directs you in the way you should go.
18If only you had paid attention to my commands, your peace would have been like a river,

[s] 14 Or Chaldeans; also in verse 20

48:9–11 There was nothing in Israel's actions, attitudes, or accomplishments to compel God to love and to save them. But for his own sake, to show who he is and what he can do, he saved them. God does not save us because we are good but because he loves us and because of his forgiving nature.

48:10 Do you find it easy to complain when your life becomes complicated or difficult? Why would a loving God allow all kinds of unpleasant experiences to come to his children? This verse shows us plainly that God tests us in the "furnace of affliction." Rather than complain, our response should be to turn to God in faith for the strength to endure, and rejoice in our sufferings (see Romans 5:3; James 1:2–4). For without the testing, we would never know what we are capable of doing, nor would we grow. And without the refining, we will not become more pure and more like Christ. What kinds of adversity are you currently facing?

48:14, 15 "The LORD's chosen ally" refers to Cyrus – and this must have shocked his audience. How could the Lord choose a pagan king, an enemy? But it was Cyrus whom God would use to free his people from their captivity in Babylon. Cyrus's mission was to set Israel free by conquering Babylon, then to decree that all Jews could return to their homeland. Who but a prophet of God could tell such an inconceivable but true story almost 200 years before it happened?

48:17, 18 Like a loving parent, God teaches and directs us. We should listen to him because peace and righteousness come to us as we obey his Word. Refusing to pay attention to God's commands invites punishment and threatens that peace and righteousness.

your righteousness like the waves of the sea.
19 Your descendants would have been like the sand, your children like its numberless grains;
their name would never be cut off nor destroyed from before me."

20 Leave Babylon, flee[r] from the Babylonians!
Announce this with shouts of joy and proclaim it.
Send it out to the ends of the earth;
say, "The LORD has redeemed his servant Jacob." 21 They did not thirst when he led them through the deserts;
he made water flow for them from the rock;
he split the rock
and water gushed out.[s]

22 "There is no peace," says the LORD, "for the wicked."[t]

48:20 [r] Jer 50:8

48:21 [s] Nu 20:11

48:22 [t] Isa 57:21

2. The future Redeemer

The Servant of the LORD

49 Listen to me, you islands;
hear this, you distant nations:
Before I was born[u] the LORD called me;
from my birth he has made mention of my name.
2 He made my mouth like a sharpened sword,[v]
in the shadow of his hand he hid me;
he made me into a polished arrow and concealed me in his quiver.
3 He said to me, "You are my servant,[w]
Israel, in whom I will display my splendor."
4 But I said, "I have labored to no purpose;
I have spent my strength in vain and for nothing.
Yet what is due me is in the LORD's hand,
and my reward is with my God."

5 And now the LORD says —
he who formed me in the womb to be his servant to bring Jacob back to him and gather Israel to himself, for I am honored[x] in the eyes of the LORD and my God has been my strength — 6 he says:
"It is too small a thing for you to be my servant to restore the tribes of Jacob and bring back those of Israel I have kept.
I will also make you a light for the Gentiles,[y] that you may bring my salvation to the ends of the earth."[z]

7 This is what the LORD says —

49:1 [u] Isa 44:24

49:2 [v] Rev 1:16

49:3 [w] Zec 3:8

49:5 [x] Isa 43:4

49:6 [y] Lk 2:32
[z] Ac 13:47*

48:20 Do you see the captives leaving Babylon many years later? No wonder they are shouting with joy, as their ancestors shouted joyfully after they crossed the Red Sea, free from slavery at last! What is holding you captive? Be free! The Lord has redeemed his servants from the slavery of sin. When you let him free you from your captivity, you will feel like shouting with joy.

48:22 Many people cry out for comfort, security, and relief, but they haven't taken the first steps to turn away from sin and open the channels to God. They have not repented and trusted in him. If you want true peace, seek God first. Then he will give you his peace

49:1–7 Before the servant, the Messiah, was born, God had chosen him to bring the light of the gospel (the message of salvation) to the world (see Acts 13:47). Christ offered salvation to all nations, and his apostles began the missionary movement to take this gospel to the ends of the earth. Missionary work today continues Jesus' Great Commission (Matthew 28:18–20), taking the light of the gospel to all nations.

the Redeemer and Holy One of Israel—to him who was despised and abhorred by the nation, to the servant of rulers:
"Kings[a] will see you and rise up, princes will see and bow down,
because of the LORD, who is faithful,
the Holy One of Israel, who has chosen you."

49:7
[a] Isa 52:15

Restoration of Israel

8This is what the LORD says:

"In the time of my favor[b] I will answer you,
and in the day of salvation I will help you;[c]
I will keep you and will make you to be a covenant for the people,[d] to restore the land
and to reassign its desolate inheritances, 9to say to the captives,[e] 'Come out,'
and to those in darkness, 'Be free!'

49:8
[b] Ps 69:13
[c] 2Co 6:2*
[d] Isa 42:6

49:9
[e] Isa 42:7

"They will feed beside the roads and find pasture on every barren hill.
10They will neither hunger nor thirst, nor will the desert heat or the sun beat upon them.[f]
He who has compassion on them will guide them and lead them beside springs of water.
11I will turn all my mountains into roads, and my highways will be raised up.[g] 12See, they will come from afar[h]— some from the north, some from the west, some from the region of Aswan.[t]"

49:10
[f] Ps 121:6; Rev 7:16

49:11
[g] Isa 40:4

49:12
[h] Isa 43:5-6

13Shout for joy, O heavens;
rejoice, O earth;
burst into song, O mountains![i]
For the LORD comforts[j] his people and will have compassion on his afflicted ones.

49:13
[i] Isa 44:23
[j] Isa 40:1

14But Zion said, "The LORD has forsaken me, the Lord has forgotten me."

15"Can a mother forget the baby at her breast and have no compassion on the child she has borne?
Though she may forget,
I will not forget you![k]
16See, I have engraved you on the palms of my hands;
your walls are ever before me.
17Your sons hasten back,
and those who laid you waste depart from you.
18Lift up your eyes and look around;
all your sons gather and come to you.
As surely as I live," declares the LORD,
"you will wear[l] them all as ornaments;
you will put them on, like a bride.

49:15
[k] Isa 44:21

49:18
[l] Isa 52:1

[t] 12 Dead Sea Scrolls; Masoretic Text Sinim

49:12 The region of Aswan is in southern Egypt (see Ezekiel 29:10).

49:14, 15 The people of Israel felt that God had forsaken them in Babylon; but Isaiah pointed out that God would never forget them, as a loving mother would not forget her little child. When we feel that God has forsaken us, we must ask if we have forsaken and forgotten God (see Deuteronomy 31:6).

49:19
m Isa 54:1, 3
n Zec 10:10

19 "Though you were ruined and made desolate[m]
and your land laid waste,
now you will be too small for your people,[n]
and those who devoured you will be far away.
20 The children born during your bereavement will yet say in your hearing,
'This place is too small for us; 49:20
o Isa 54:1-3
give us more space to live in.'[o] 21 Then you will say in your heart,
'Who bore me these?
I was bereaved and barren;
I was exiled and rejected.
Who brought these up?
I was left all alone,
but these — where have they come from?' "

22 This is what the Sovereign LORD says:

"See, I will beckon to the Gentiles,
I will lift up my banner to the peoples;
they will bring your sons in their arms and carry your daughters on their shoulders.
23 Kings will be your foster fathers, 49:23
p Isa 60:16
q Ps 72:9
and their queens your nursing mothers.[p]
They will bow down before you with their faces to the ground;
they will lick the dust[q] at your feet.
Then you will know that I am the LORD;
those who hope in me will not be disappointed."

49:24
r Mt 12:29
24 Can plunder be taken from warriors,[r] or captives rescued from the fierce[u]?

25 But this is what the LORD says:

"Yes, captives will be taken from warriors, and plunder retrieved from the fierce;
I will contend with those who contend with you, 49:25
s Isa 25:9
and your children I will save.[s] 49:26
t Isa 9:20
26 I will make your oppressors eat[t] their own flesh;
they will be drunk on their own blood, as with wine.
Then all mankind will know that I, the LORD, am your Savior,
your Redeemer, the Mighty One of Jacob."

Israel's Sin and the Servant's Obedience

50 This is what the LORD says:

50:1
u Dt 24:1
"Where is your mother's certificate of divorce[u]
with which I sent her away?
Or to which of my creditors
did I sell you?
Because of your sins you were sold;

[u] 24 Dead Sea Scrolls, Vulgate and Syriac (see also Septuagint and verse 25); Masoretic Text righteous

49:24, 25 God would prove to the world that he is God by doing the impossible — causing warriors to set their captives free; and these warriors would even return the plunder they had taken from the captives! God had done this before at the exodus and would do it again when the exiles returned to Israel. Never should we doubt that God will fulfill his promises. He will even do the impossible to make them come true.

50:1, 2 God promised to fight for Israel, but Israel sold itself into sin. Israel had caused its own problems. "Was my arm too short?" means "Am I powerless to help?" The people of Israel forgot God and trusted in other countries to help them. God did not reject Israel, but Israel rejected God.

because of your transgressions your mother was sent away.
2When I came, why was there no one?
When I called, why was there no one to answer?
Was my arm too short[v] to ransom you?
Do I lack the strength to rescue you?
By a mere rebuke I dry up the sea,[w]
I turn rivers into a desert;
their fish rot for lack of water and die of thirst.
3I clothe the sky with darkness and make sackcloth[x] its covering."

4The Sovereign LORD has given me an instructed tongue, to know the word that sustains the weary.
He wakens me morning by morning,
wakens my ear to listen like one being taught.
5The Sovereign LORD has opened my ears, and I have not been rebellious;[y]
I have not drawn back.
6I offered my back to those who beat[z] me,
my cheeks to those who pulled out my beard;
I did not hide my face from mocking and spitting.[a] 7Because the Sovereign LORD helps me,
I will not be disgraced.
Therefore have I set my face like flint,[b] and I know I will not be put to shame.
8He who vindicates me is near.
Who then will bring charges against me?[c]
Let us face each other!
Who is my accuser?
Let him confront me!
9It is the Sovereign LORD who helps[d] me.
Who is he that will condemn me?
They will all wear out like a garment;
the moths[e] will eat them up.

10Who among you fears the LORD and obeys the word of his servant?
Let him who walks in the dark,
who has no light,
trust in the name of the LORD and rely on his God.
11But now, all you who light fires and provide yourselves with flaming torches, go, walk in the light of your fires and of the torches you have set ablaze.
This is what you shall receive from my hand:
You will lie down in torment.[f]

50:2
[v] Nu 11:23
[w] Ex 14:22

50:3
[x] Rev 6:12

50:5
[y] Mt 26:39; Jn 14:31

50:6
[z] Lk 22:63
[a] Mt 26:67

50:7
[b] Eze 3:8-9

50:8
[c] Ro 8:32-34

50:9
[d] Isa 41:10
[e] Job 13:28

50:11
[f] Isa 65:13-15

Everlasting Salvation for Zion

51 "Listen to me, you who pursue righteousness and who seek the LORD:
Look to the rock from which you were cut

50:10, 11 If we walk by our own light and reject God's, we become self-sufficient, and the result of self-sufficiency is torment. When we place confidence in our own intelligence, appearance, or accomplishments instead of in God, we risk torment later when these strengths fade.

and to the quarry from which you were hewn; 2look to Abraham,[g] your father,
and to Sarah, who gave you birth.
When I called him he was but one,
and I blessed him and made him many.[h] 3The LORD will surely comfort Zion and will look with compassion on all her ruins;[i] he will make her deserts like Eden, her wastelands like the garden of the LORD.
Joy and gladness will be found in her, thanksgiving and the sound of singing.

4"Listen to me, my people;
hear me, my nation:
The law will go out from me;
my justice[j] will become a light to the nations.
5My righteousness draws near speedily,
my salvation is on the way,
and my arm will bring justice to the nations.
The islands will look to me and wait in hope for my arm.
6Lift up your eyes to the heavens,
look at the earth beneath;
the heavens will vanish like smoke,[k]
the earth will wear out like a garment and its inhabitants die like flies.
But my salvation will last forever,
my righteousness will never fail.

7"Hear me, you who know what is right,[l]
you people who have my law in your hearts:
Do not fear the reproach of men or be terrified by their insults.[m] 8For the moth will eat them up like a garment;
the worm will devour them like wool.
But my righteousness will last forever,
my salvation through all generations."

9Awake, awake! Clothe yourself with strength, O arm of the LORD;
awake, as in days gone by,
as in generations of old.
Was it not you who cut Rahab to pieces, who pierced that monster[n] through?
10Was it not you who dried up the sea,
the waters of the great deep,
who made a road in the depths of the sea
so that the redeemed might cross over?
11The ransomed[o] of the LORD will return.

51:2 [g] Heb 11:11 [h] Ge 12:2
51:3 [i] Isa 52:9
51:4 [j] Isa 2:4
51:6 [k] Mt 24:35; 2Pe 3:10
51:7 [l] ver 1 [m] Ac 5:41
51:9 [n] Ps 74:13
51:11 [o] Isa 35:9

51:1, 2 The faithful remnant may have felt alone because they were few. But God reminded them of their ancestors, the source of their spiritual heritage – Abraham and Sarah. Abraham was only one person, but much came from his faithfulness. If the faithful few would remain faithful, even more could come from them. If we Christians, even a faithful few, remain faithful, think what God can do through us!

51:7 Isaiah encouraged those who follow God's laws. He gave them hope when they faced people's reproach or insults because of their faith. We need not fear when people insult us for our faith because God is with us and truth will prevail. If people make fun of you or dislike you because you believe in God, remember that they are not against you personally but against God. God will deal with them; you should concentrate on loving and obeying him.

51:9, 10 "Rahab" was a derogatory term used for Egypt (see the note on 30:7). God had performed many powerful miracles in founding Israel, perhaps none more exciting than the drying up of the sea (the Red Sea, see Exodus 14). Our God is the same God who made a road in the depths of the sea. His methods may change, but his love and care do not.

They will enter Zion with singing;
everlasting joy will crown their heads.
Gladness and joy will overtake them,
and sorrow and sighing will flee away.[p]

51:11
[p]Rev 7:17

12"I, even I, am he who comforts you.
Who are you that you fear mortal men,
the sons of men, who are but grass,[q] 13that you forget[r] the LORD your Maker, who stretched out the heavens and laid the foundations of the earth, that you live in constant terror every day because of the wrath of the oppressor, who is bent on destruction?
For where is the wrath of the oppressor?
14 The cowering prisoners will soon be set free;
they will not die in their dungeon,
nor will they lack bread.[s]
15For I am the LORD your God, who churns up the sea so that its waves roar—
the LORD Almighty is his name.
16I have put my words in your mouth and covered you with the shadow of my hand—
I who set the heavens in place, who laid the foundations of the earth, and who say to Zion, 'You are my people.' "

51:12
[q]1Pe 1:24

51:13
[r]Isa 17:10

51:14
[s]Isa 49:10

The Cup of the LORD's Wrath

17Awake, awake![t]
Rise up, O Jerusalem, you who have drunk from the hand of the LORD
the cup of his wrath,[u]
you who have drained to its dregs
the goblet that makes men stagger.
18Of all the sons she bore there was none to guide her;
of all the sons she reared
there was none to take her by the hand.
19These double calamities have come upon you—who can comfort you?—
ruin and destruction, famine and sword—who can[v] console you?
20Your sons have fainted;
they lie at the head of every street,[v]
like antelope caught in a net.
They are filled with the wrath of the LORD and the rebuke of your God.

51:17
[t]Isa 52:1
[u]Job 21:20

51:20
[v]Isa 5:25

21Therefore hear this, you afflicted one,

v 19 Dead Sea Scrolls, Septuagint, Vulgate and Syriac; Masoretic Text / how can I

51:12–16 God's people feared Babylon, but not God. They had reason to fear Babylon for the harm it wanted to do, but they should also have realized that God's power is much greater than Babylon's. Babylon was interested in making the people captives; God was interested in setting them free. The people had misplaced their fear and their love. Jerusalem should have feared God's power and loved his mercy.

51:17–52:10 Jerusalem was God's holy city, the city with God's temple. But the people of Judah experienced ruin instead of prosperity, destruction instead of liberty. Because of their sins, the people suffered. But God promised to restore Jerusalem as a holy city where sinners cannot enter. "Lay bare his holy arm" (52:10) means that God has revealed his holy power and justice. God reigns. He is in control.

made drunk, but not with wine.
22This is what your Sovereign LORD says, your God, who defends his people:
"See, I have taken out of your hand
the cup that made you stagger;
from that cup, the goblet of my wrath,
you will never drink again.
23I will put it into the hands of your tormentors,[w] who said to you,
'Fall prostrate[x] that we may walk over you.'
And you made your back like the ground, like a street to be walked over."

51:23
[w] Jer 25:15-17, 26, 28; 49:12
[x] Zec 12:2

52

52:1
[y] Isa 51:17
[z] Ne 11:1; Mt 4:5
[a] Rev 21:27

Awake, awake,[y] O Zion, clothe yourself with strength.
Put on your garments of splendor,
O Jerusalem, the holy city.[z]
The uncircumcised and defiled will not enter you again.[a] 2Shake off your dust;
rise up, sit enthroned, O Jerusalem.
Free yourself from the chains on your neck,
O captive Daughter of Zion.

3For this is what the LORD says:

52:3
[b] Ps 44:12

"You were sold for nothing,[b] and without money you will be redeemed."

4For this is what the Sovereign LORD says:

52:4
[c] Ge 46:6

"At first my people went down to Egypt[c] to live;
lately, Assyria has oppressed them.

5"And now what do I have here?" declares the LORD.

"For my people have been taken away for nothing, and those who rule them mock,[w]"
declares the LORD.

"And all day long
my name is constantly blasphemed.[d] 6Therefore my people will know my name;
therefore in that day they will know that it is I who foretold it.
Yes, it is I."

52:5
[d] Ro 2:24*

7How beautiful on the mountains are the feet of those who bring good news,[e] who proclaim peace,
who bring good tidings,
who proclaim salvation,
who say to Zion,
"Your God reigns!"
8Listen! Your watchmen lift up their voices; together they shout for joy.
When the LORD returns to Zion,

52:7
[e] Ro 10:15*

[w] 5 Dead Sea Scrolls and Vulgate; Masoretic Text wail

52:7 God says that the feet of those who bring good news are "beautiful." It is a wonderful privilege to be able to share God's Good News with others, his news of redemption, salvation, and peace. To whom do you need to give the Good News?

they will see it with their own eyes.
9 Burst into songs of joy together,
you ruins of Jerusalem,
for the LORD has comforted his people,
he has redeemed Jerusalem.[f]
10 The LORD will lay bare his holy arm in the sight of all the nations, and all the ends of the earth will see the salvation[g] of our God.

11 Depart, depart, go out from there!
Touch no unclean thing![h]
Come out from it and be pure,
you who carry the vessels of the LORD.
12 But you will not leave in haste or go in flight;
for the LORD will go before you,
the God of Israel will be your rear guard.

The Suffering and Glory of the Servant

13 See, my servant will act wisely[x];
he will be raised and lifted up and highly exalted.[i] 14 Just as there were many who were appalled at him[y]— his appearance was so disfigured beyond that of any man and his form marred beyond human likeness—15 so will he sprinkle many nations,[z] and kings will shut their mouths because of him.
For what they were not told, they will see,
and what they have not heard, they will understand.[j]

53 Who has believed our message[k] and to whom has the arm of the LORD been revealed?[l] 2 He grew up before him like a tender shoot, and like a root out of dry ground.
He had no beauty or majesty to attract us to him,
nothing in his appearance[m] that we should desire him.
3 He was despised and rejected by men,
a man of sorrows, and familiar with suffering.
Like one from whom men hide their faces
he was despised,[n] and we esteemed him not.

4 Surely he took up our infirmities

52:9 [f] Isa 48:20
52:10 [g] Lk 3:6
52:11 [h] 2Co 6:17*
52:13 [i] Php 2:9
52:15 [j] Ro 15:21*
53:1 [k] Ro 10:16* [l] Jn 12:38*
53:2 [m] Isa 52:14
53:3 [n] Ps 22:6; Jn 1:10-11

[x] 13 Or will prosper [y] 14 Hebrew you [z] 15 Hebrew; Septuagint so will many nations marvel at him

52:12 The people did not have to leave in fearful haste because Cyrus, God's anointed (45:1), decreed that the Jewish exiles could return safely to Jerusalem (Ezra 1:1–4). They had the king's approval, his guaranteed protection. More important, the Lord would go ahead to point the way and be behind to protect them.

52:13 The "servant," as the term is used here, is the Messiah, our Lord Jesus. He would be highly exalted because of his sacrifice, described in chapter 53.

52:14, 15 This servant, Christ, would be "marred beyond human likeness"; but through his suffering, he would cleanse the nations (Hebrews 10:14; 1 Peter 1:2).

53:1ff This chapter continues to speak of the Messiah, Jesus, who would suffer for the sins of all people. Such a prophecy is astounding! Who would believe that God would choose to save the world through a humble, suffering servant rather than a glorious king? The idea is contrary to human pride and worldly ways. But God often works in ways we don't expect. The Messiah's strength is shown by humility, suffering, and mercy.

53:2 There was nothing beautiful or majestic in the physical appearance of this servant. Israel would miscalculate the servant's importance – they would consider him an ordinary man. But even though Jesus would not attract a large following based on his physical appearance, he would bring salvation and healing. Many people miscalculate the importance of Jesus' life and work, and they need faithful Christians to point out his extraordinary nature.

53:3 This man of sorrows was despised and rejected by those around him, and he is still despised and rejected by many today. Some reject Christ by standing against him. Others despise Christ and his great gift of forgiveness. Do you despise him, reject him, or accept him?

53:4, 5 How could an Old Testament person understand the idea of Christ dying for our sins (our transgressions and iniquities) – and carried our sorrows,[o]

yet we considered him stricken by God, smitten by him, and afflicted.
5But he was pierced for our transgressions,[p]
he was crushed for our iniquities;
the punishment that brought us peace was upon him,
and by his wounds we are healed.[q] 6We all, like sheep, have gone astray, each of us has turned to his own way;
and the LORD has laid on him
the iniquity of us all.

7He was oppressed and afflicted, yet he did not open his mouth;[r]
he was led like a lamb to the slaughter, and as a sheep before her shearers is silent,
so he did not open his mouth.
8By oppression[a] and judgment he was taken away.
And who can speak of his descendants?
For he was cut off from the land of the living;[s]
for the transgression of my people he was stricken.[b] 9He was assigned a grave with the wicked, and with the rich[t] in his death,
though he had done no violence,
nor was any deceit in his mouth.[u]

10Yet it was the LORD's will[v] to crush him and cause him to suffer, and though the LORD makes[c] his life a guilt offering,
he will see his offspring and prolong his days,
and the will of the LORD will prosper in his hand.
11After the suffering[w] of his soul,
he will see the light [of life,][d] and be satisfied[e];
by his knowledge[f] my righteous servant will justify many,
and he will bear their iniquities.
12Therefore I will give him a portion among the great,[g] and he will divide the spoils with the strong,[h] because he poured out his life unto death,[x] and was numbered with the transgressors.[y]
For he bore the sin of many,
and made intercession for the transgressors.

53:4 [o] Mt 8:17*
53:5 [p] Ro 4:25 [q] 1Pe 2:24-25
53:7 [r] Mk 14:61
53:8 [s] Ac 8:32-33*
53:9 [t] Mt 27:57-60 [u] 1Pe 2:22*
53:10 [v] Isa 46:10
53:11 [w] Jn 10:14-18
53:12 [x] Mt 26:28, 38, 39, 42 [y] Lk 22:37*

[a] 8 Or From arrest [b] 8 Or away. / Yet who of his generation considered / that he was cut off from the land of the living / for the transgression of my people, / to whom the blow was due? [c] 10 Hebrew though you make [d] 11 Dead Sea Scrolls (see also Septuagint); Masoretic Text does not have the light [of life,]. [e] 11 Or (with Masoretic Text) 11He will see the result of the suffering of his soul / and be satisfied [f] 11 Or by knowledge of him [g] 12 Or many [h] 12 Or numerous actually bearing the punishment that we deserved? The sacrifices suggested this idea, but it is one thing to kill a lamb, and something quite different to think of God's chosen servant as that Lamb. But God was pulling aside the curtain of time to let the people of Isaiah's day look ahead to the suffering of the future Messiah and the resulting forgiveness made available to all mankind.

53:6 Isaiah speaks of Israel straying from God and compares them to wandering sheep. Yet God would send the Messiah to bring them back into the fold. We have the hindsight to see and know the identity of the promised Messiah who has come and died for our sins. But if we can see all that Jesus did and still reject him, our sin is much greater than that of the ancient Israelites who could not see what we have seen. Have you given your life to Jesus Christ, the "good shepherd" (John 10:11–16), or are you still like a wandering sheep?

53:7–12 In the Old Testament, people offered animals as sacrifices for their sins. Here, the sinless servant of the Lord offers himself for our sins. He is the Lamb (53:7) offered for the sins of all people (John 1:29; Revelation 5:6–14). The Messiah suffered for our sakes, bearing our sins to make us acceptable to God. What can we say to such love? How will we respond to him?

53:11 "My righteous servant will justify many" tells of the enormous family of believers who will become righteous, not by their own works, but by the Messiah's great work on the cross. They are justified because they have claimed Christ, the righteous servant, as their Savior and Lord (see Romans 10:9; 2 Corinthians 5:21). Their life of sin is stripped away, and they are clothed with Christ's goodness (Ephesians 4:22–24).

The Future Glory of Zion

54 "Sing, O barren woman, you who never bore a child;
burst into song, shout for joy,
you who were never in labor;
because more are the children of the desolate woman than of her who has a husband,[z]"
says the LORD.

54:1
[z] Gal 4:27*

2 "Enlarge the place of your tent,[a] stretch your tent curtains wide,
do not hold back;
lengthen your cords,
strengthen your stakes.
3 For you will spread out to the right and to the left;
your descendants will dispossess nations and settle in their desolate[b] cities.

54:2
[a] Isa 49:19-20

54:3
[b] Isa 49:19

4 "Do not be afraid; you will not suffer shame.
Do not fear disgrace; you will not be humiliated.
You will forget the shame of your youth and remember no more the reproach of your widowhood.
5 For your Maker is your husband[c]—
the LORD Almighty is his name—
the Holy One of Israel is your Redeemer;[d]
he is called the God of all the earth.
6 The LORD will call you back as if you were a wife deserted[e] and distressed in spirit—a wife who married young,
only to be rejected," says your God.

54:5
[c] Jer 3:14
[d] Isa 48:17

54:6
[e] Isa 62:4, 12

7 "For a brief moment[f] I abandoned you, but with deep compassion I will bring you back.
8 In a surge of anger[g]
I hid my face from you for a moment, but with everlasting kindness
I will have compassion on you," says the LORD your Redeemer.

54:7
[f] Isa 26:20

54:8
[g] Isa 60:10

9 "To me this is like the days of Noah, when I swore that the waters of Noah would never again cover the earth.
So now I have sworn not to be angry[h] with you,
never to rebuke you again.
10 Though the mountains be shaken and the hills be removed, yet my unfailing love for you will not be shaken[i] nor my covenant[j] of peace be removed,"
says the LORD, who has compassion on you.

54:9
[h] Isa 12:1

54:10
[i] Isa 51:6
[j] Ps 89:34

54:1 To be childless ("barren") at that time was a woman's great shame, a disgrace. Families depended on children for survival, especially when the parents became elderly. Israel (Zion) was unfruitful, like a childless woman, but God would permit her to have many children and would change her mourning into singing.

54:6–8 God said that he had abandoned Israel for a brief moment, so the nation was like a young wife rejected by her husband. But God still called Israel his own. The God we serve is holy, and he cannot tolerate sin. When his people blatantly sinned, God in his anger chose to punish them. Sin separates us from God and brings us pain and suffering. But if we confess our sin and repent, then God will forgive us. Have you ever been separated from a loved one and then experienced joy when that person returned? That is like the joy God experiences when you repent and return to him.

54:9–13 God made a covenant with Noah that he has never broken (Genesis 9:8–17). Likewise, God made a covenant of peace with the people of Israel that the time would come when he would stop rebuking them, would restore their wealth, and would personally teach their children.

11"O afflicted city, lashed by storms and not comforted, I will build you with stones of turquoise,[k]
your foundations with sapphires.[l] 12I will make your battlements of rubies, your gates of sparkling jewels,
and all your walls of precious stones.
13All your sons will be taught by the LORD,[l] and great will be your children's peace.
14In righteousness you will be established:
Tyranny[m] will be far from you;
you will have nothing to fear.
Terror will be far removed;
it will not come near you.
15If anyone does attack you, it will not be my doing;
whoever attacks you will surrender[n] to you.

16"See, it is I who created the blacksmith who fans the coals into flame and forges a weapon fit for its work.
And it is I who have created the destroyer to work havoc;
17 no weapon forged against you will prevail,[o]
and you will refute every tongue that accuses you.
This is the heritage of the servants of the LORD, and this is their vindication from me,"
declares the LORD.

Invitation to the Thirsty

55 "Come, all you who are thirsty,[p] come to the waters;
and you who have no money,
come, buy[q] and eat!
Come, buy wine and milk
without money and without cost.
2Why spend money on what is not bread, and your labor on what does not satisfy?
Listen, listen to me, and eat what is good,
and your soul will delight in the richest of fare.
3Give ear and come to me;
hear me, that your soul may live.
I will make an everlasting covenant with you,
my faithful love promised to David.[r] 4See, I have made him a witness to the peoples, a leader and commander of the peoples.
5Surely you will summon nations you know not,
and nations that do not know you will hasten to you,
because of the LORD your God,
the Holy One of Israel,
for he has endowed you with splendor."

54:11 [k] 1Ch 29:2; Rev 21:18
54:13 [l] Jn 6:45*
54:14 [m] Isa 9:4
54:15 [n] Isa 41:11-16
54:17 [o] Isa 29:8
55:1 [p] Jn 4:14 [q] Rev 3:18
55:3 [r] Ac 13:34*

[l] 11 The meaning of the Hebrew for this word is uncertain. [l] 11 Or lapis lazuli

55:1–6 Food costs money, lasts only a short time, and meets only physical needs. But God offers us free nourishment that feeds our soul. How do we get it? We come (55:1), listen (55:2), seek, and call on God (55:6). God's salvation is freely offered, but to nourish our souls we must eagerly receive it. We will starve spiritually without this food as surely as we will starve physically without our daily bread.

55:3 God's covenant with David promised a permanent homeland for the Israelites, no threat from pagan nations, and no wars (2 Samuel 7:10, 11). But Israel did not fulfill its part of the covenant by obeying God and staying away from idols. Even so, God was ready to renew his covenant again. He is a forgiving God!

6 Seek the LORD while he may be found;[s] call on him while he is near.
7 Let the wicked forsake his way and the evil man his thoughts.
Let him turn[t] to the LORD, and he will have mercy on him,
and to our God, for he will freely pardon.

8 "For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways,"
declares the LORD.
9 "As the heavens are higher than the earth,[u] so are my ways higher than your ways and my thoughts than your thoughts.
10 As the rain[v] and the snow come down from heaven, and do not return to it without watering the earth and making it bud and flourish, so that it yields seed for the sower and bread for the eater,[w] 11 so is my word that goes out from my mouth:
It will not return to me empty,
but will accomplish what I desire and achieve the purpose for which I sent it.
12 You will go out in joy and be led forth in peace;[x]
the mountains and hills will burst into song before you,
and all the trees[y] of the field will clap their hands.
13 Instead of the thornbush will grow the pine tree,
and instead of briers the myrtle[z] will grow.
This will be for the LORD's renown,[a]
for an everlasting sign, which will not be destroyed."

55:6 [s] Ps 32:6; 2Co 6:1-2
55:7 [t] Isa 44:22
55:9 [u] Ps 103:11
55:10 [v] Isa 30:23 [w] 2Co 9:10
55:12 [x] Isa 54:10, 13 [y] 1Ch 16:33
55:13 [z] Isa 41:19 [a] Isa 63:12

Salvation for Others

56 This is what the LORD says:

"Maintain justice
and do what is right,
for my salvation is close at hand and my righteousness will soon be revealed.
2 Blessed is the man who does this,
the man who holds it fast,
who keeps the Sabbath without desecrating it,
and keeps his hand from doing any evil."

3 Let no foreigner who has bound himself to the LORD say,

55:6 Isaiah tells us to call on the Lord while he is near. God is not planning to move away from us, but we often move far from him or erect a barrier between ourselves and him. Don't wait until you have drifted far away from God to seek him. Later in life turning to him may be far more difficult. Or God may come to judge the earth before you decide to turn to him. Seek God now, while you can, before it is too late.

55:8, 9 The people of Israel were foolish to act as if they knew what God was thinking and planning. His knowledge and wisdom are far greater than man's. We are foolish to try to fit God into our mold – to make his plans and purposes conform to ours. Instead, we must strive to fit into his plans.

56:2 God commanded his people to rest and honor him on the Sabbath (Exodus 20:8–11). He wants us to serve him every day, but he wants us to make one day special when we rest and focus our thoughts on him. For the Israelites, this special day was the Sabbath (Saturday). Some Christians set Saturday aside as this special day, but many accept Sunday (the day of the week that Jesus rose from the dead) as the "Lord's Day," a day of rest and hor or to God.

56:3 Isaiah clearly proclaims the radical message that God's blessings are for all people, even foreigners and eunuchs, who

"The LORD will surely exclude me from his people."
And let not any eunuch[b] complain,
"I am only a dry tree."

4For this is what the LORD says:

"To the eunuchs who keep my Sabbaths, who choose what pleases me and hold fast to my covenant—5to them I will give within my temple and its walls a memorial and a name better than sons and daughters;
I will give them an everlasting name that will not be cut off.[c] 6And foreigners who bind themselves to the LORD to serve[d] him,
to love the name of the LORD,
and to worship him,
all who keep the Sabbath without desecrating it and who hold fast to my covenant—7these I will bring to my holy mountain and give them joy in my house of prayer.
Their burnt offerings and sacrifices[e] will be accepted on my altar;
for my house will be called a house of prayer for all nations.[f]" 8The Sovereign LORD declares—
he who gathers the exiles of Israel:
"I will gather[g] still others to them besides those already gathered."

God's Accusation Against the Wicked

9Come, all you beasts of the field,[h] come and devour, all you beasts of the forest!
10Israel's watchmen are blind,
they all lack knowledge;
they are all mute dogs,
they cannot bark;
they lie around and dream,
they love to sleep.
11They are dogs with mighty appetites;
they never have enough.
They are shepherds who lack understanding;
they all turn to their own way,
each seeks his own gain.[i] 12"Come," each one cries, "let me get wine!
Let us drink our fill of beer!
And tomorrow will be like today,
or even far better."[j]

56:3 [b] Ac 8:27

56:5 [c] Isa 48:19

56:6 [d] Isa 60:7, 10

56:7 [e] Heb 13:15 [f] Mt 21:13*

56:8 [g] Isa 11:12; Jn 10:16

56:9 [h] Jer 12:9

56:11 [i] Mic 3:11

56:12 [j] Lk 12:18-19

---

were often excluded from worship and not even considered citizens in Israel. Whatever your race, social position, work, or financial situation, God's blessings are as much for you as for anyone else. No one must exclude in any way those God chooses to include.

56:7 Jesus quoted from this verse when he threw the money changers out of the temple (Mark 11:17). See the second note on Mark 11:15–17.

56:9–11 The "watchmen" were the nation's leaders. The leaders of Israel were blind to every danger. Apathetic about their people's needs, they were more concerned about satisfying their own greed. Leadership's special privileges can cause leaders either to sacrifice for the good of their people or to sacrifice their people for their own greed. If you are in a leadership position, use it for the good of your people.

57 The righteous perish,[k] and no one ponders it in his heart;
devout men are taken away,
and no one understands that the righteous are taken away to be spared from evil.
2Those who walk uprightly[l]
enter into peace;
they find rest as they lie in death.

3"But you — come here, you sons of a sorceress, you offspring of adulterers[m] and prostitutes!
4Whom are you mocking?
At whom do you sneer
and stick out your tongue?
Are you not a brood of rebels,
the offspring of liars?
5You burn with lust among the oaks and under every spreading tree;[n] you sacrifice your children in the ravines and under the overhanging crags.
6The idols, among the smooth stones of the ravines are your portion;
they, they are your lot.
Yes, to them you have poured out drink offerings[o]
and offered grain offerings.
In the light of these things, should I relent?
7You have made your bed on a high and lofty hill;[p] there you went up to offer your sacrifices.
8Behind your doors and your doorposts you have put your pagan symbols.
Forsaking me, you uncovered your bed,
you climbed into it and opened it wide;
you made a pact with those whose beds you love,[q]
and you looked on their nakedness.
9You went to Molech[k] with olive oil and increased your perfumes.
You sent your ambassadors[l] far away;
you descended to the grave[m] itself!
10You were wearied by all your ways,
but you would not say, 'It is hopeless.'[s]
You found renewal of your strength, and so you did not faint.

11"Whom have you so dreaded and feared that you have been false to me, and have neither remembered me
nor pondered this in your hearts?
Is it not because I have long been silent[t]
that you do not fear me?
12I will expose your righteousness and your works,

57:1 [k] Ps 12:1
57:2 [l] Isa 26:7
57:3 [m] Mt 16:4
57:5 [n] 2Ki 16:4
57:6 [o] Jer 7:18
57:7 [p] Eze 16:16
57:8 [q] Eze 16:26
57:9 [r] Eze 23:16, 40
57:10 [s] Jer 2:25
57:11 [t] Ps 50:21

[k] 9 Or to the king [l] 9 Or idols [m] 9 Hebrew Sheol

57:7, 8 Marriage is an exclusive relationship where a man and a woman become one. Adultery breaks this beautiful bond of unity. When the people turned from God and gave their love to idols, God said they were committing adultery – breaking their exclusive commitment to God. How could people give their love to worthless wood and stone instead of to the God who made them and loved them so very much?

57:9 Molech was an Ammonite god whose worship included child sacrifice.

57:12 God says that he will expose their righteousness and and they will not benefit you.

13When you cry out for help,
let your collection [of idols] save you!
The wind will carry all of them off,
a mere breath will blow them away.
But the man who makes me his refuge will inherit the land and possess my holy mountain."

Comfort for the Contrite

14And it will be said:

"Build up, build up, prepare the road!
Remove the obstacles out of the way of my people."[u] 15For this is what the high and lofty One says — he who lives forever, whose name is holy:
"I live in a high and holy place, but also with him who is contrite and lowly in spirit,[v] to revive the spirit of the lowly and to revive the heart of the contrite.
16I will not accuse forever, nor will I always be angry,[w] for then the spirit of man would grow faint before me —
the breath of man that I have created.
17I was enraged by his sinful greed;
I punished him, and hid my face in anger,
yet he kept on in his willful ways.[x] 18I have seen his ways, but I will heal him;
I will guide him and restore comfort[y] to him,
19 creating praise on the lips[z] of the mourners in Israel.
Peace, peace, to those far and near,"[a] says the LORD. "And I will heal them."
20But the wicked are like the tossing sea, which cannot rest,
whose waves cast up mire and mud.
21"There is no peace," says my God, "for the wicked."[b]

57:14 [u] Jer 18:15

57:15 [v] Ps 34:18; 51:17

57:16 [w] Ps 103:9

57:17 [x] Isa 1:4

57:18 [y] Isa 61:1-3

57:19 [z] Heb 13:15
[a] Ac 2:39

57:21 [b] Isa 48:22

True Fasting

58 "Shout it aloud, do not hold back.
Raise your voice like a trumpet.
Declare to my people their rebellion and to the house of Jacob their sins.
2For day after day they seek[c] me out;
they seem eager to know my ways,
as if they were a nation that does what is right and has not forsaken the commands of its God.
They ask me for just decisions

58:2 [c] Isa 48:1

---

works for what they really were – mere pretentions of doing good. Isaiah warned these people that their righteousness and works would not save them any more than their weak, worthless idols. We cannot gain our salvation through good deeds because our best deeds are not good enough to outweigh our sins. Salvation is a gift from God, received only through faith in Christ, not good deeds (Ephesians 2:8, 9).

57:14–21 Verses 1–13 speak of pride and lust; verses 14–21 tell how God relates to those who are humble and repentant ("contrite"). The high and holy God came down to our level to save us because it is impossible for us to go up to his level to save ourselves (see 2 Chronicles 6:18; Psalm 51:1–7; Philippians 2).

58:1ff True worship was more than religious ritual, going to the temple every day, fasting, and listening to Scripture readings. These people missed the point of a living, vital relationship with God. He doesn't want us acting pious when we have unforgiven sin in our hearts and perform sinful practices with our hands. More important even than correct worship and doctrine is genuine compassion for the poor, the helpless, and the oppressed.

and seem eager for God to come near them.
3 'Why have we fasted,' they say,
'and you have not seen it?
Why have we humbled ourselves, and you have not noticed?' [d]

58:3
[d] Mal 3:14

"Yet on the day of your fasting, you do as you please and exploit all your workers.
4 Your fasting ends in quarreling and strife, [e]
and in striking each other with wicked fists.
You cannot fast as you do today and expect your voice to be heard on high.
5 Is this the kind of fast [f] I have chosen, only a day for a man to humble himself?
Is it only for bowing one's head like a reed and for lying on sackcloth and ashes?
Is that what you call a fast,
a day acceptable to the LORD?

58:4
[e] 1Ki 21:9-13

58:5
[f] Zec 7:5

6 "Is not this the kind of fasting I have chosen:
to loose the chains of injustice [g]
and untie the cords of the yoke, to set the oppressed [h] free
and break every yoke?
7 Is it not to share your food with the hungry and to provide the poor wanderer with shelter — when you see the naked, to clothe [i] him, and not to turn away from your own flesh and blood? [j] 8 Then your light will break forth like the dawn, and your healing will quickly appear;
then your righteousness [n] will go before you,
and the glory of the LORD will be your rear guard. [k] 9 Then you will call, and the LORD will answer;
you will cry for help, and he will say: Here am I.

58:6
[g] Ne 5:10-11
[h] Jer 34:9

58:7
[i] Job 31:19-20; Mt 25:36
[j] Ge 29:14

58:8
[k] Ex 14:19

"If you do away with the yoke of oppression, with the pointing finger and malicious talk, [l] 10 and if you spend yourselves in behalf of the hungry and satisfy the needs of the oppressed, then your light will rise in the darkness,
and your night will become like the noonday.
11 The LORD will guide you always;
he will satisfy your needs in a sun-scorched land and will strengthen your frame.
You will be like a well-watered garden,
like a spring [m] whose waters never fail.
12 Your people will rebuild the ancient ruins [n]
and will raise up the age-old foundations;
you will be called Repairer of Broken Walls, Restorer of Streets with Dwellings.

58:9
[l] Ps 12:2

58:11
[m] Jn 4:14

58:12
[n] Isa 49:8

13 "If you keep your feet from breaking the Sabbath

[n] 8 Or your righteous One

58:6–12 We cannot be saved by deeds of service without faith in Christ, but our faith lacks sincerity if it doesn't reach out to others. Fasting can be beneficial spiritually and physically, but at its best fasting helps only the person doing it. God says he wants our service to go beyond our own personal growth to acts of kindness, charity, justice, and generosity. True fasting is more than what we don't eat; it is pleasing God by applying his Word to our society.

58:13, 14 The day of rest should also be honored not only because Sabbath-keeping is a commandment but also because it is best for us and because it honors God. Keeping the Sabbath hon-and from doing as you please on my holy day, if you call the Sabbath a delight and the LORD's holy day honorable, and if you honor it by not going your own way

and not doing as you please or speaking idle words, 14then you will find your joy in the LORD, and I will cause you to ride on the heights[o] of the land and to feast on the inheritance of your father Jacob."
The mouth of the LORD has spoken.[p]

58:14 [o] Dt 32:13 [p] Isa 1:20

Sin, Confession and Redemption

59 Surely the arm of the LORD is not too short[q] to save, nor his ear too dull to hear.
2But your iniquities have separated
you from your God;
your sins have hidden his face from you,
so that he will not hear.[r] 3For your hands are stained with blood,[s] your fingers with guilt.
Your lips have spoken lies,
and your tongue mutters wicked things.
4No one calls for justice;
no one pleads his case with integrity.
They rely on empty arguments and speak lies;
they conceive trouble and give birth to evil.
5They hatch the eggs of vipers and spin a spider's web.[t]
Whoever eats their eggs will die, and when one is broken, an adder is hatched.
6Their cobwebs are useless for clothing;
they cannot cover themselves with what they make.[u]
Their deeds are evil deeds, and acts of violence[v] are in their hands.
7Their feet rush into sin;
they are swift to shed innocent blood.
Their thoughts are evil thoughts;
ruin and destruction mark their ways.[w] 8The way of peace they do not know;
there is no justice in their paths.
They have turned them into crooked roads;
no one who walks in them will know peace.

9So justice is far from us,
and righteousness does not reach us.
We look for light, but all is darkness;[x]
for brightness, but we walk in deep shadows.
10Like the blind[y] we grope along the wall, feeling our way like men without eyes.
At midday we stumble[z] as if it were twilight;

59:1 [q] Isa 50:2
59:2 [r] Isa 58:4
59:3 [s] Isa 1:15
59:5 [t] Job 8:14
59:6 [u] Isa 28:20 [v] Isa 58:4
59:7 [w] Ro 3:15-17*
59:9 [x] Isa 5:30
59:10 [y] Dt 28:29 [z] Isa 8:15

---

ors God, our Creator, who also rested on the seventh day (Genesis 2:3). It also unifies our family and sets priorities for them. Our day of rest refreshes us spiritually and physically – providing time when we can gather together for worship and when we can reflect on God without the stress of our everyday activities.

59:1–14 Sin offends our holy God and separates us from him. Because God is holy, he cannot ignore, excuse, or tolerate sin as though it didn't matter. Sin cuts people off from him, forming a wall to isolate God from the people he loves. No wonder this long list of wretched sins makes God angry and forces him to look the other way. People who die with their life of sin unforgiven separate themselves eternally from God. God wants them to live with him forever, but he cannot take them into his holy presence unless their sin is removed. Have you confessed your sin to God, allowing him to remove it? The Lord can save you if you turn to him.

among the strong, we are like the dead.
11 We all growl like bears;
we moan mournfully like doves.[a]
We look for justice, but find none;
for deliverance, but it is far away.

12 For our offenses are many in your sight,
and our sins testify against us.
Our offenses are ever with us,
and we acknowledge our iniquities:
13 rebellion and treachery against the LORD, turning our backs[b] on our God,
fomenting oppression and revolt,
uttering lies our hearts have conceived.
14 So justice is driven back,
and righteousness[c] stands at a distance;
truth has stumbled in the streets,
honesty cannot enter.
15 Truth is nowhere to be found,
and whoever shuns evil becomes a prey.

The LORD looked and was displeased that there was no justice.
16 He saw that there was no one,
he was appalled that there was no one to intervene;
so his own arm worked salvation for him,
and his own righteousness sustained him.
17 He put on righteousness as his breastplate,[d]
and the helmet[e] of salvation on his head;
he put on the garments of vengeance and wrapped himself in zeal as in a cloak.
18 According to what they have done, so will he repay
wrath to his enemies
and retribution to his foes;
he will repay the islands their due.
19 From the west, men will fear the name of the LORD, and from the rising of the sun,[f] they will revere his glory.
For he will come like a pent-up flood that the breath of the LORD drives along.[o]

20 "The Redeemer will come to Zion, to those in Jacob who repent of their sins,"[g]
declares the LORD.

21 "As for me, this is my covenant with them," says the LORD. "My Spirit, who is on you, and my words that I have put in your mouth will not depart from your mouth, or from the mouths of your children, or from the mouths of their descendants from this time on and forever," says the LORD.

59:11 [a] Isa 38:14; Eze 7:16
59:13 [b] Tit 1:16
59:14 [c] Isa 1:21
59:17 [d] Eph 6:14 [e] 1Th 5:8
59:19 [f] Ps 113:3
59:20 [g] Ro 11:26-27*

[o] 19 Or When the enemy comes in like a flood, / the Spirit of the LORD will put him to flight

59:15 Because of Israel's willful, persistent rebellion (chapters 56–59), the nation became unable to take action against its sins. Sin fills the vacuum left when God's truth no longer fills our lives. Only God can defeat sin.

59:16, 17 God would, in fact, act to rescue the nation from enemy armies (Assyria and Babylon) and to punish wicked Israelites as well. He would also rescue his people from sin. Because this is an impossible task for any human, God himself, as the Messiah, would personally step in to help (Romans 11:26, 27). Whether we sin once or many times, out of rebellion or out of ignorance, our sin separates us from God and will continue to separate us until God forgives us and removes it.

59:21 When the Holy Spirit dwells within his people, they change. Their former desires no longer entice them; now their chief aim is to please God. We who are Christians today are the heirs of this prophecy; we are able to respond to God's will and distinguish between good and evil because the Holy Spirit dwells within us (John 14:26; Philippians 2:13; Hebrews 5:14).

3. The future kingdom

The Glory of Zion

60 "Arise, shine, for your light[h] has come,
and the glory of the LORD rises upon you.
2See, darkness covers the earth and thick darkness[i] is over the peoples, but the LORD rises upon you and his glory appears over you.
3Nations will come to your light, and kings[j] to the brightness of your dawn.

4"Lift up your eyes and look about you:
All assemble and come to you;
your sons come from afar,
and your daughters are carried on the arm.[k] 5Then you will look and be radiant, your heart will throb and swell with joy;
the wealth on the seas will be brought to you,
to you the riches of the nations will come.
6Herds of camels will cover your land, young camels of Midian and Ephah.[l]
And all from Sheba will come, bearing gold and incense
and proclaiming the praise of the LORD.
7All Kedar's[m] flocks will be gathered to you,
the rams of Nebaioth will serve you;
they will be accepted as offerings on my altar,
and I will adorn my glorious temple.[n]

8"Who are these that fly along like clouds, like doves to their nests?
9Surely the islands look to me;
in the lead are the ships of Tarshish,[p] bringing your sons from afar,
with their silver and gold,
to the honor of the LORD your God,
the Holy One of Israel,
for he has endowed you with splendor.[o]

10"Foreigners will rebuild your walls, and their kings[p] will serve you.
Though in anger I struck you,
in favor I will show you compassion.
11Your gates will always stand open,
they will never be shut, day or night, so that men may bring you the wealth of the nations—their kings[q] led in triumphal procession.
12For the nation or kingdom that will not serve you will perish;
it will be utterly ruined.

13"The glory of Lebanon will come to you,

60:1 [h] Eph 5:14
60:2 [i] Col 1:13
60:3 [j] Isa 49:23
60:4 [k] Isa 49:20-22
60:6 [l] Ge 25:4
60:7 [m] Ge 25:13 [n] Hag 2:3, 7, 9
60:9 [o] Isa 55:5
60:10 [p] Rev 21:24
60:11 [q] Ps 149:8

p 9 Or the trading ships

60:1ff As we read these promises, we long for their fulfillment. But we must patiently wait for God's timing. He is in control of history, and he weaves together all our lives into his plan.

60:6, 7 The places mentioned belonged to obscure tribes in the Arabian desert hundreds of miles from Israel. All people would come to Jerusalem because God would be living there and they would be attracted to his light. Don't be discouraged when you look around and see so few people turning to God; one day people throughout the earth will recognize him as the one true God.

the pine, the fir and the cypress together, to adorn the place of my sanctuary;
and I will glorify the place of my feet.[r] 14 The sons of your oppressors will come bowing before you;
all who despise you will bow down[s] at your feet and will call you the City of the LORD,
Zion[t] of the Holy One of Israel.

15 "Although you have been forsaken and hated, with no one traveling through,
I will make you the everlasting pride and the joy of all generations.
16 You will drink the milk of nations and be nursed[u] at royal breasts.
Then you will know that I, the LORD, am your Savior,
your Redeemer, the Mighty One of Jacob.
17 Instead of bronze I will bring you gold, and silver in place of iron.
Instead of wood I will bring you bronze,
and iron in place of stones.
I will make peace your governor and righteousness your ruler.
18 No longer will violence be heard in your land,
nor ruin or destruction within your borders,
but you will call your walls Salvation and your gates Praise.
19 The sun will no more be your light by day, nor will the brightness of the moon shine on you,
for the LORD will be your everlasting light, and your God will be your glory.[v] 20 Your sun will never set again, and your moon will wane no more;
the LORD will be your everlasting light,
and your days of sorrow will end.
21 Then will all your people be righteous and they will possess[w] the land forever.
They are the shoot I have planted, the work of my hands,[x]
for the display of my splendor.
22 The least of you will become a thousand,
the smallest a mighty nation.
I am the LORD;
in its time I will do this swiftly."

60:13
[r] 1Ch 28:2

60:14
[s] Rev 3:9
[t] Heb 12:22

60:16
[u] Isa 49:23

60:19
[v] Rev 21:23

60:21
[w] Ps 37:11, 22
[x] Isa 19:25

The Year of the LORD's Favor

61 The Spirit of the Sovereign LORD is on me, because the LORD has anointed me to preach good news to the poor.[y]
He has sent me to bind up the brokenhearted, to proclaim freedom for the captives[z]
and release from darkness for the prisoners,[q]

61:1
[y] Mt 11:5
[z] Isa 49:9

[q] 1 Hebrew; Septuagint the blind

60:19, 20 See Revelation 21:23, 24 and 22:5, where this beautiful reality is also promised.

61:1, 2 Jesus quoted these words in Luke 4:18, 19. As he read to the people in the synagogue, he stopped in the middle of 61:2 after the words, "to proclaim the year of the LORD's favor." Rolling up the scroll, he said, "Today this scripture is fulfilled in your hearing" (Luke 4:21). The next phrase in 61:2, "and the day of vengeance of our God," will come true when Jesus returns to earth again. We are now under God's favor; his wrath is yet to come.

61:2
[a] Lk 4:18-19*
[b] Mt 5:4

2 to proclaim the year of the LORD's favor[a] and the day of vengeance of our God,
to comfort[b] all who mourn,
3 and provide for those who grieve in Zion—to bestow on them a crown of beauty instead of ashes,
the oil of gladness
instead of mourning,
and a garment of praise
instead of a spirit of despair.
They will be called oaks of righteousness, a planting of the LORD
for the display of his splendor.

61:4
[c] Eze 36:33

4 They will rebuild the ancient ruins[c]
and restore the places long devastated;
they will renew the ruined cities that have been devastated for generations.
5 Aliens will shepherd your flocks;
foreigners will work your fields and vineyards.
6 And you will be called priests of the LORD,
you will be named ministers of our God.
You will feed on the wealth of nations,
and in their riches you will boast.

61:7
[d] Isa 40:2

7 Instead of their shame
my people will receive a double[d] portion, and instead of disgrace
they will rejoice in their inheritance;
and so they will inherit a double portion in their land,
and everlasting joy will be theirs.

8 "For I, the LORD, love justice;
I hate robbery and iniquity.
In my faithfulness I will reward them
and make an everlasting covenant with them.
9 Their descendants will be known among the nations and their offspring among the peoples.
All who see them will acknowledge that they are a people the LORD has blessed."

10 I delight greatly in the LORD;
my soul rejoices in my God.
For he has clothed me with garments of salvation and arrayed me in a robe of righteousness, as a bridegroom adorns his head like a priest,
and as a bride[e] adorns herself with her jewels.

61:10
[e] Isa 49:18; Rev 21:2

11 For as the soil makes the sprout come up and a garden causes seeds to grow,

61:6 Under the old covenant, God ordained the priests of Israel to stand between him and his people. They brought God's word to the people and the people's needs and sins to God. Under the new covenant, all believers are priests of the Lord, reading God's Word and seeking to understand it, confessing their sins directly to God, and ministering to others.

61:8 We suffer for many reasons—our own mistakes, someone else's mistakes, injustice. When we suffer for our own mistakes, we get what we deserve. When we suffer because of others or because of injustice, God is angry. God in his mercy says that his people have suffered enough. God will reward those who suffer because of injustice. He will settle all accounts.

61:10 "Me" could refer to the Messiah, the person anointed with the Spirit of the Lord (61:1), or to Zion (62:1), which symbolizes God's people. The imagery of the bridegroom is often used in Scripture to depict the Messiah (see Matthew 9:15), while the imagery of the bride is used to depict God's people (see Revelation 19:6–8). We too can be clothed with the righteousness of Christ when we believe in him (2 Corinthians 5:21).

so the Sovereign LORD will make righteousness and praise spring up before all nations.

Zion's New Name

62 For Zion's sake I will not keep silent, for Jerusalem's sake I will not remain quiet, till her righteousness shines out like the dawn,
her salvation like a blazing torch.
2The nations[f] will see your righteousness, and all kings your glory;
you will be called by a new name that the mouth of the LORD will bestow.
3You will be a crown of splendor in the LORD's hand,
a royal diadem in the hand of your God.
4No longer will they call you Deserted,[g] or name your land Desolate.
But you will be called Hephzibah,[r] and your land Beulah[s];
for the LORD will take delight in you,
and your land will be married.
5As a young man marries a maiden,
so will your sons[t] marry you;
as a bridegroom rejoices over his bride,
so will your God rejoice[h] over you.
6I have posted watchmen[i] on your walls, O Jerusalem;
they will never be silent day or night.
You who call on the LORD,
give yourselves no rest, 7and give him no rest till he establishes Jerusalem and makes her the praise of the earth.
8The LORD has sworn by his right hand and by his mighty arm:
"Never again will I give your grain[j] as food for your enemies, and never again will foreigners drink the new wine
for which you have toiled; 9but those who harvest it will eat it
and praise the LORD,
and those who gather the grapes will drink it in the courts of my sanctuary."
10Pass through, pass through the gates!
Prepare the way for the people.
Build up, build up the highway![k]
Remove the stones.
Raise a banner for the nations.
11The LORD has made proclamation to the ends of the earth:
"Say to the Daughter of Zion,[l]
'See, your Savior comes!

62:2 [f] Isa 40:5
62:4 [g] Isa 54:6
62:5 [h] Isa 65:19
62:6 [i] Isa 52:8
62:8 [j] Dt 28:30-33
62:10 [k] Isa 57:14
62:11 [l] Zec 9:9; Mt 21:5

[r] 4 Hephzibah means my delight is in her. [s] 4 Beulah means married. [t] 5 Or Builder

62:1–7 Many commentators believe Isaiah is speaking in verse 1. If so, Isaiah's zeal for his people and his desire to see the work of salvation completed caused him to pray without resting, hoping that Israel would be saved. We should have Isaiah's zeal to see God's will done. This is what we mean when we pray, "Your kingdom come, your will be done on earth as it is in heaven." It is good to keep praying persistently for others.

See, his reward is with him, and his recompense accompanies him.' "[m] 12They will be called the Holy People,
the Redeemed of the LORD;
and you will be called Sought After,
the City No Longer Deserted.

62:11 [m] Isa 40:10

God's Day of Vengeance and Redemption

63 Who is this coming from Edom, from Bozrah,[n] with his garments stained crimson?
Who is this, robed in splendor, striding forward in the greatness of his strength?

"It is I, speaking in righteousness, mighty to save."

2Why are your garments red,
like those of one treading the winepress?

63:1 [n] Am 1:12

3"I have trodden the winepress[o] alone;
from the nations no one was with me.
I trampled them in my anger and trod them down in my wrath;
their blood spattered my garments,
and I stained all my clothing.
4For the day of vengeance was in my heart, and the year of my redemption has come.
5I looked, but there was no one to help,
I was appalled that no one gave support;
so my own arm worked salvation for me,
and my own wrath sustained me.[p] 6I trampled the nations in my anger;
in my wrath I made them drunk and poured their blood[q] on the ground."

63:3 [o] Rev 14:20

63:5 [p] Isa 59:16

63:6 [q] Isa 34:3

THE SPIRIT IN ISAIAH

Reference	Main Teaching
11:2	The Spirit of the Lord brings wisdom, understanding, knowledge, and the fear of the Lord.
32:15	The Spirit of the Lord brings abundance.
34:16	The Spirit of the Lord carries out God's word.
40:13	The Spirit of the Lord is the Master Counselor.
42:1	The Messiah, God's Servant, will be given the Spirit.
44:3–5	Through the Spirit, God's true children will thrive.
48:16	The Spirit of the Lord sent Isaiah to prophesy.
61:1	God's servants (Isaiah and then Jesus) were anointed by the Spirit to proclaim the Good News.
63:10, 11	The Spirit of the Lord was grieved because of God's people.
63:14	The Spirit of the Lord gives rest.

62:12 The people of Jerusalem (Zion) will have new names – "the Holy People" and "the Redeemed of the LORD." Believers today also have new names – Christians. In 1 Peter 2:5, we are called "a holy priesthood."

63:1–4 Edom was a constant enemy of Israel despite its common ancestry in Isaac (Genesis 25:23). Edom rejoiced at any trouble Israel faced. The imagery in this passage is of a watchman on the wall of Jerusalem, seeing Edom approaching and fearing that the Edomite king in his crimson garment is leading an attack. But it turns out to be the Lord, in bloodstained clothes, who has trampled and destroyed Edom. Bozrah is a city in Edom. (For other prophecies against Edom, see Amos 1:11, 12; Obadiah 10, 11; Malachi 1:2–4.)

Praise and Prayer

7 I will tell of the kindnesses[r] of the LORD, the deeds for which he is to be praised,
according to all the LORD has done for us—
yes, the many good things he has done for the house of Israel,
according to his compassion[s] and many kindnesses.
8 He said, "Surely they are my people, sons who will not be false to me";
and so he became their Savior.
9 In all their distress he too was distressed,
and the angel of his presence saved them.
In his love and mercy he redeemed[t] them;
he lifted them up and carried them
all the days of old.
10 Yet they rebelled and grieved his Holy Spirit.[u]
So he turned and became their enemy and he himself fought against them.

11 Then his people recalled[u] the days of old,
the days of Moses and his people—where is he who brought them through the sea,[v] with the shepherd of his flock?
Where is he who set his Holy Spirit[w] among them, 12 who sent his glorious arm of power to be at Moses' right hand, who divided the waters before them,
to gain for himself everlasting renown, 13 who led them through the depths?
Like a horse in open country,
they did not stumble;
14 like cattle that go down to the plain,
they were given rest by the Spirit of the LORD.
This is how you guided your people to make for yourself a glorious name.

15 Look down from heaven[x] and see from your lofty throne, holy and glorious.
Where are your zeal and your might?
Your tenderness and compassion are withheld from us.
16 But you are our Father, though Abraham does not know us or Israel acknowledge us;
you, O LORD, are our Father,
our Redeemer from of old is your name.
17 Why, O LORD, do you make us wander from your ways and harden our hearts so we do not revere[y] you?
Return for the sake of your servants,
the tribes that are your inheritance.

63:7 [r] Isa 54:8 [s] Ps 51:1
63:9 [t] Dt 7:7-8
63:10 [u] Ps 51:11; Ac 7:51; Eph 4:30
63:11 [v] Ex 14:22, 30 [w] Nu 11:17
63:15 [x] Dt 26:15
63:17 [y] Isa 29:13

[u] 11 Or But may he recall

63:10 Grieving the Holy Spirit is willfully thwarting his leading by disobedience or rebellion. Isaiah mentions the work of the Holy Spirit more than any other Old Testament writer. See the note on Ephesians 4:28–32 for more on grieving the Holy Spirit.

63:15–64:7 On behalf of the faithful remnant, Isaiah asks God for two favors: to show tenderness and compassion to them and to punish their enemies. Before making these requests, Isaiah recited the LORD's past favors, reminding him of his compassion in former days (63:7–14).

18For a little while your people possessed your holy place, but now our enemies have trampled down your sanctuary.
19We are yours from of old;
but you have not ruled over them,
they have not been called by your name.[v]

64:1 [z]Ps 144:5

64

Oh, that you would rend the heavens[z] and come down, that the mountains would tremble before you!
2As when fire sets twigs ablaze and causes water to boil, come down to make your name known to your enemies and cause the nations to quake[a] before you!
64:2 [a]Jer 5:22
64:3 [b]Ps 65:5
3For when you did awesome[b] things that we did not expect, you came down, and the mountains trembled before you.
4Since ancient times no one has heard,
no ear has perceived,
no eye has seen any God besides you, who acts on behalf of those who wait for him.[c] 64:4 [c]1Co 2:9*
5You come to the help of those who gladly do right, who remember your ways.
But when we continued to sin against them,
you were angry.
How then can we be saved?
6All of us have become like one who is unclean,
and all our righteous[d] acts are like filthy rags;
64:6 [d]Isa 46:12 [e]Ps 90:5-6
we all shrivel up like a leaf,[e]
and like the wind our sins sweep us away.
7No one calls on your name or strives to lay hold of you;
for you have hidden your face from us
and made us waste away because of our sins.

8Yet, O LORD, you are our Father.
We are the clay, you are the potter;[f]
64:8 [f]Isa 29:16
we are all the work of your hand.
9Do not be angry beyond measure, O LORD;
do not remember our sins forever.
Oh, look upon us, we pray,
for we are all your people.
10Your sacred cities have become a desert;
even Zion is a desert, Jerusalem a desolation.
64:11 [g]Ps 74:3-7
11Our holy and glorious temple,[g] where our fathers praised you,
has been burned with fire,
and all that we treasured lies in ruins.
12After all this, O LORD, will you hold yourself back?
Will you keep silent and punish us beyond measure?

[v] 19 Or We are like those you have never ruled, / like those never called by your name

64:1–6 God's appearance is so intense that it is like a consuming fire that burns everything in its path. If we are so impure, how can we be saved? Only by God's mercy. The Israelites had experienced God's appearance at Mount Sinai (Exodus 19:16–19). When God met with Moses there was a thunderstorm, smoke, and an earthquake. If God were to meet us today, his glory would overwhelm us, especially when we look at our "filthy rags" (64:6).

64:6 Sin makes us unclean so that we cannot approach God (6:5; Romans 3:23) any more than a beggar in rotten rags could dine at a king's table. Our best efforts are still infected with sin. Our only hope, therefore, is faith in Jesus Christ, who can cleanse us and bring us into God's presence (read Romans 3).

This passage can easily be misunderstood. It doesn't mean that God will reject us if we come to him in faith, nor that he despises our efforts to please him. It means that if we come to him demanding acceptance on the basis of our "good" conduct, God will point out that our righteousness is nothing compared to his infinite righteousness. This message is primarily for the unrepentant person, not the true follower of God.

Judgment and Salvation

65 "I revealed myself to those who did not ask for me;
I was found by those who did not seek me.[h]
To a nation that did not call on my name.
I said, 'Here am I, here am I.'
2All day long I have held out my hands to an obstinate people,[i] who walk in ways not good, pursuing their own imaginations—3a people who continually provoke me to my very face, offering sacrifices in gardens and burning incense on altars of brick; 4who sit among the graves and spend their nights keeping secret vigil;
who eat the flesh of pigs,[j]
and whose pots hold broth of unclean meat; 5who say, 'Keep away; don't come near me,
for I am too sacred[k] for you!'
Such people are smoke in my nostrils,
a fire that keeps burning all day.

6"See, it stands written before me:
I will not keep silent[l] but will pay back[m] in full;
I will pay it back into their laps—7both your sins and the sins of your fathers,"
says the LORD.
"Because they burned sacrifices on the mountains and defied me on the hills,[n]
I will measure into their laps the full payment for their former deeds."

8This is what the LORD says:

"As when juice is still found in a cluster of grapes and men say, 'Don't destroy it, there is yet some good in it,'
so will I do in behalf of my servants;
I will not destroy them all.
9I will bring forth descendants from Jacob,
and from Judah those who will possess my mountains;
my chosen people will inherit them,
and there will my servants live.[o] 10Sharon[p] will become a pasture for flocks, and the Valley of Achor a resting place for herds,

65:1 [h] Ro 10:20*
65:2 [i] Ro 10:21*
65:4 [j] Lev 11:7
65:5 [k] Mt 9:11; Lk 18:9-12
65:6 [l] Ps 50:3 [m] Jer 16:18
65:7 [n] Isa 57:7
65:9 [o] Isa 32:18
65:10 [p] Isa 35:2

65:1 Israel considered itself to be the only people of God, but the time would come when other nations would seek him. Paul mentions Isaiah's statement in Romans 10:20 and points out that these other nations were the Gentiles. God's people today are those who accept Jesus as Savior and Lord, whether they are Jews or Gentiles. The gospel is for every person. Do not ignore or reject anyone when you share the gospel. You may be surprised at how many are sincerely searching for God.

65:3–5 God said these people directly disobeyed his laws when they worshiped and sacrificed to idols (Exodus 20:1–6), consulted the dead and evil spirits (Leviticus 19:31), and ate forbidden foods (Leviticus 11). But they were so perverse that they still thought they were more sacred than others. Jesus called such people hypocrites (Matthew 23:13–36).

65:6 God said he would pay back the people for their sins. Judgment is not our job but his because he alone is just. Who else knows our hearts and minds? Who else knows what is a completely fair reward or punishment?

65:8, 9 God will always preserve a faithful remnant of his people. No matter how bad the world is, there are always a few who remain loyal to him. Jesus made this point in Matthew 13:36–43.

65:10 Sharon is a plain in the western part of Israel. The Valley of Achor is in the east, near Jericho. The Valley of Achor was also called the Valley of Trouble because Achan was executed there for hiding the devoted goods of battle (Joshua 7:10–26). Even in this valley there will be peace: the coming restoration will be complete.

for my people who seek me.

65:11
[q] Dt 29:24-25

11 "But as for you who forsake[q] the LORD and forget my holy mountain, who spread a table for Fortune and fill bowls of mixed wine for Destiny, 12 I will destine you for the sword,
and you will all bend down for the slaughter;
65:12
[r] Pr 1:24-25
[s] 2Ch 36:15-16; Jer 7:13
for I called but you did not answer,[r]
I spoke but you did not listen.[s]
You did evil in my sight and chose what displeases me."

13 Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says:

65:13
[t] Isa 1:19
"My servants will eat,[t]
but you will go hungry;
my servants will drink,
but you will go thirsty;
my servants will rejoice,
but you will be put to shame.
14 My servants will sing out of the joy of their hearts, 65:14
[u] Mt 8:12
but you will cry out[u]
from anguish of heart and wail in brokenness of spirit.
15 You will leave your name to my chosen ones as a curse;
the Sovereign LORD will put you to death,
but to his servants he will give another name.
16 Whoever invokes a blessing in the land will do so by the God of truth;[v] 65:16
[v] Ps 31:5
he who takes an oath in the land will swear by the God of truth.
For the past troubles will be forgotten and hidden from my eyes.

New Heavens and a New Earth

17 "Behold, I will create new heavens and a new earth.[w] 65:17
[w] 2Pe 3:13
[x] Isa 43:18
The former things will not be remembered,[x]
nor will they come to mind.
18 But be glad and rejoice forever in what I will create, for I will create Jerusalem to be a delight and its people a joy.
65:19
[y] Isa 35:10; 62:5
[z] Rev 7:17
19 I will rejoice[y] over Jerusalem and take delight in my people;
the sound of weeping and of crying[z] will be heard in it no more.

20 "Never again will there be in it an infant who lives but a few days, or an old man who does not live out his years;[a] 65:20
[a] Ecc 8:13
he who dies at a hundred

65:17–25 In 65:17–19 we have a pictorial description of the new heavens and the new earth. They are eternal, and in them safety, peace, and plenty will be available to all (see also 66:22, 23; 2 Peter 3:13; Revelation 21:1). Verses 20–25 may refer to the reign of Christ on earth because sin and death have not yet been finally destroyed.

will be thought a mere youth;
he who fails to reach[w] a hundred will be considered accursed.
21They will build houses and dwell in them;
they will plant vineyards and eat their fruit.
22No longer will they build houses and others live in them, or plant and others eat.
For as the days of a tree,[b]
so will be the days of my people;
my chosen ones will long enjoy the works of their hands.
23They will not toil in vain or bear children doomed to misfortune;
for they will be a people blessed by the LORD,
they and their descendants with them.
24Before they call I will answer;
while they are still speaking[c] I will hear.
25The wolf and the lamb[d] will feed together,
and the lion will eat straw like the ox,
but dust will be the serpent's[e] food.
They will neither harm nor destroy
on all my holy mountain,"
says the LORD.

65:22 [b] Ps 92:12-14

65:24 [c] Da 9:20-23

65:25 [d] Isa 11:6
[e] Ge 3:14

Judgment and Hope

66 This is what the LORD says:

"Heaven is my throne,
and the earth is my footstool.[f]
Where is the house you will build for me?
Where will my resting place be?
2Has not my hand made all these things,[g] and so they came into being?"
declares the LORD.

"This is the one I esteem:
he who is humble and contrite in spirit,[h]
and trembles at my word.
3But whoever sacrifices a bull[i] is like one who kills a man, and whoever offers a lamb,
like one who breaks a dog's neck;
whoever makes a grain offering is like one who presents pig's blood, and whoever burns memorial incense, like one who worships an idol.
They have chosen their own ways,
and their souls delight in their abominations;

66:1 [f] 1Ki 8:27; Mt 5:34-35

66:2 [g] Ac 7:50*
[h] Isa 57:15

66:3 [i] Isa 1:11

[w] 20 Or / the sinner who reaches

66:1 Even the beautiful temple in Jerusalem was woefully inadequate for a God who is present everywhere. God cannot be confined to any human structure (see 2 Chronicles 6:18; Acts 7:49, 50). This chapter is a fitting climax to the book. God will lift up the humble, judge all people, destroy the wicked, bring all believers together, and establish the new heavens and the new earth. Let this hope encourage you each day.

66:2, 3 These key verses summarize Isaiah's message. He contrasted two ways of living: that of humble persons who have a profound reverence for God's messages and their application to life, and that of those who choose their own way. The sacrifices of the arrogant were only external compliance. In their hearts they were murderers, perverts, and idolaters. God shows mercy to the humble, but he curses the proud and self-sufficient (see Luke 1:51–53). Our society urges us to be assertive and to affirm ourselves. Don't let your freedom and right to choose lead you away from God's pathway to eternal life.

4 so I also will choose harsh treatment for them and will bring upon them what they dread.
For when I called, no one answered, when I spoke, no one listened.
They did evil in my sight and chose what displeases me."[j]

66:4 [j] Isa 65:12

5 Hear the word of the LORD,
you who tremble at his word:
"Your brothers who hate you,
and exclude you because of my name, have said,
'Let the LORD be glorified, that we may see your joy!'
Yet they will be put to shame.[k]

66:5 [k] Lk 13:17

6 Hear that uproar from the city, hear that noise from the temple!
It is the sound of the LORD
repaying[l] his enemies all they deserve.

66:6 [l] Isa 65:6

7 "Before she goes into labor,
she gives birth;
before the pains come upon her,
she delivers a son.
8 Who has ever heard of such a thing?
Who has ever seen[m] such things?
Can a country be born in a day or a nation be brought forth in a moment?
Yet no sooner is Zion in labor than she gives birth to her children.
9 Do I bring to the moment of birth and not give delivery?" says the LORD.
"Do I close up the womb
when I bring to delivery?" says your God.
10 "Rejoice with Jerusalem and be glad for her,
all you who love[n] her;
rejoice greatly with her,
all you who mourn over her.
11 For you will nurse[o] and be satisfied at her comforting breasts;
you will drink deeply and delight in her overflowing abundance."

66:8 [m] Isa 64:4

66:10 [n] Ps 26:8

66:11 [o] Isa 60:16

12 For this is what the LORD says:

"I will extend peace to her like a river,
and the wealth[p] of nations like a flooding stream;
you will nurse and be carried[q] on her arm and dandled on her knees.
13 As a mother comforts her child,
so will I comfort[r] you;
and you will be comforted over Jerusalem."

66:12 [p] Isa 60:5
[q] Isa 60:4

66:13 [r] 2Co 1:4

14 When you see this, your heart will rejoice and you will flourish like grass;
the hand of the LORD will be made known to his servants,
but his fury will be shown to his foes.

66:7–9 God will not leave his work of national restoration unfinished. In this image of birth, God shows that he will accomplish what he has promised. It is as unstoppable as the birth of a baby. When all the pain is over, the joy begins.

15 See, the LORD is coming with fire, and his chariots are like a whirlwind;
he will bring down his anger with fury,
and his rebuke with flames of fire.
16 For with fire[s] and with his sword
the LORD will execute judgment upon all men, and many will be those slain by the LORD.

66:16
[s] Isa 30:30

17 "Those who consecrate and purify themselves to go into the gardens, following the one in the midst of[x] those who eat the flesh of pigs and rats and other abominable things — they will meet their end[t] together," declares the LORD.

66:17
[t] Ps 37:20

18 "And I, because of their actions and their imaginations, am about to come[y] and gather all nations and tongues, and they will come and see my glory.

19 "I will set a sign among them, and I will send some of those who survive to the nations — to Tarshish, to the Libyans[z] and Lydians[u] (famous as archers), to Tubal and Greece, and to the distant islands that have not heard of my fame or seen my glory. They will proclaim my glory among the nations. 20 And they will bring all your brothers, from all the nations, to my holy mountain in Jerusalem as an offering to the LORD — on horses, in chariots and wagons, and on mules and camels," says the LORD. "They will bring them, as the Israelites bring their grain offerings, to the temple of the LORD in ceremonially clean vessels. 21 And I will select some of them also to be priests[v] and Levites," says the LORD.

66:19
[u] Eze 27:10

66:21
[v] Ex 19:6; 1Pe 2:5, 9

22 "As the new heavens and the new earth[w] that I make will endure before me," declares the LORD, "so will your name and descendants endure. 23 From one New Moon to another and from one Sabbath to another, all mankind will come and bow down before me," says the LORD. 24 "And they will go out and look upon the dead bodies of those who rebelled against me; their worm will not die, nor will their fire be quenched,[x] and they will be loathsome to all mankind."

66:22
[w] Isa 65:17; 2Pe 3:13

66:24
[x] Isa 1:31; Mk 9:48*

[x] 17 Or gardens behind one of your temples, and [y] 18 The meaning of the Hebrew for this clause is uncertain.
[z] 19 Some Septuagint manuscripts Put (Libyans); Hebrew Pul

66:15–17 This is a vivid picture of the great judgment that will occur at Christ's second coming (2 Thessalonians 1:7–9).

66:19 God's people will go out as missionaries to all parts of the earth — to Tarshish (Spain), to the Libyans in northern Africa, to the Lydians in western Asia Minor, to northeastern Asia Minor (Tubal), and to Greece.

66:22–24 Isaiah brings his book to a close with great drama. For the faithless there is a sobering portrayal of judgment. For the faithful, there is a glorious picture of rich reward — "so will your name and descendants endure." The contrast is so striking that it would seem that everyone would want to be God's follower. But we are often just as rebellious, foolish, and reluctant to change as the Israelites. We are just as negligent in feeding the hungry, working for justice, and obeying God's Word. Make sure you are among those who will be richly blessed.

JEREMIAH

HAIMBSL

Zephaniah becomes a prophet 640 B.C. | Jeremiah becomes a prophet 627 | King Josiah killed in battle 609 | Daniel taken captive 605 | Ezekiel begins to prophesy in Babylonia 593 | Judah falls: Jerusalem destroyed; Jeremiah's ministry ends 586 | First exiles return to Judah 538

WHAT is success? Most definitions include references to achieving goals and acquiring wealth, prestige, favor, and power. "Successful" people enjoy the good life—being financially and emotionally secure, being surrounded by admirers, and enjoying the fruits of their labors. They are leaders, opinion makers, and trendsetters. Their example is emulated; their accomplishments are noticed. They know who they are and where they are going, and they stride confidently to meet their goals.

By these standards, Jeremiah was a miserable failure. For 40 years he served as God's spokesman to Judah; but when Jeremiah spoke, nobody listened. Consistently and passionately he urged them to act, but nobody moved. And he certainly did not attain material success. He was poor and underwent severe deprivation to deliver his prophecies. He was thrown into prison (chapter 37) and into a cistern (chapter 38), and he was taken to Egypt against his will (chapter 43). He was rejected by his neighbors (11:19–21), his family (12:6), the false priests and prophets (20:1, 2; 28:1–17), friends (20:10), his audience (26:8), and the kings (36:23). Throughout his life, Jeremiah stood alone, declaring God's messages of doom, announcing the new covenant, and weeping over the fate of his beloved country. In the eyes of the world, Jeremiah was not a success.

But in God's eyes, Jeremiah was one of the most successful people in all of history. Success, as measured by God, involves obedience and faithfulness. Regardless of opposition and personal cost, Jeremiah courageously and faithfully proclaimed the word of God. He was obedient to his calling. Jeremiah's book begins with his call to be a prophet. The next 38 chapters are prophecies about Israel (the nation united) and Judah (the southern kingdom). Chapters 2—20 are general and undated, and chapters 21—39 are particular and dated. The basic theme of Jeremiah's message is simple: "Repent and turn to God, or he will punish." But then, because the people rejected this warning, Jeremiah moved to predicting specifically the destruction of Jerusalem. This terrible event is described in chapter 39. Chapters 40—45 describe events following Jerusalem's fall. The book concludes with prophecies concerning a variety of nations (chapters 46—52).

As you read Jeremiah, feel with him as he agonizes over the message he must deliver, pray with him for those who refuse to respond to the truth, and watch his example of faith and courage. Then commit yourself to being successful in God's eyes.

VITAL STATISTICS

PURPOSE:
To urge God's people to turn from their sins and back to God

AUTHOR:
Jeremiah

TO WHOM WRITTEN:
Judah (the southern kingdom) and its capital city, Jerusalem

DATE WRITTEN:
During Jeremiah's ministry, approximately 627–586 B.C.

SETTING:
Jeremiah ministered under Judah's last five kings—Josiah, Jehoahaz, Jehoiakim, Jehoiachin, and Zedekiah. The nation was sliding quickly toward destruction and was eventually conquered by Babylon in 586 B.C. (see 2 Kings 21—25). The prophet Zephaniah preceded Jeremiah, and Habakkuk was Jeremiah's contemporary.

KEY VERSE:
"'Your wickedness will punish you; your backsliding will rebuke you. Consider then and realize how evil and bitter it is for you when you forsake the LORD your God and have no awe of me,' declares the Lord, the LORD Almighty" (2:19).

KEY PEOPLE:
Judah's kings (listed above), Baruch, Ebed-Melech, King Nebuchadnezzar, the Recabites

KEY PLACES:
Anathoth, Jerusalem, Ramah, Egypt

SPECIAL FEATURES:
This book is a combination of history, poetry, and biography. Jeremiah often used symbolism to communicate his message.

THE BLUEPRINT

A. GOD'S JUDGMENT ON JUDAH (1:1—45:5) 1. The call of Jeremiah 2. Jeremiah condemns Judah for her sins 3. Jeremiah prophesies destruction 4. Jeremiah accuses Judah's leaders 5. Restoration is promised 6. God's promised judgment arrives	Jeremiah confronts many people with their sins: kings, false prophets, those at the temples, and those at the gates. A lack of response made Jeremiah wonder if he was doing any good at all. He often felt discouraged and sometimes bitter. To bring such gloomy messages to these people was a hard task. We too have a responsibility to bring this news to a fallen world: those who continue in their sinful ways are eternally doomed. Although we may feel discouraged at the lack of response, we must press on to tell others about the consequences of sin and the hope that God offers. Those who tell people only what they want to hear are being unfaithful to God's message.
B. GOD'S JUDGMENT ON THE NATIONS (46:1—52:34) 1. Prophecies about foreign nations 2. The fall of Jerusalem	Jeremiah lived to see many of his prophecies come true—most notably the fall of Jerusalem. The fulfillment of this and other prophecies against the foreign nations came as a result of sin. Those who refuse to confess their sin bring judgment upon themselves.

MEGATHEMES

THEME	EXPLANATION	IMPORTANCE
Sin	King Josiah's reformation failed because the people's repentance was shallow. They continued in their selfishness and worship of idols. All the leaders rejected God's law and will for the people. Jeremiah lists all their sins, predicts God's judgment, and begs for repentance.	Judah's deterioration and disaster came from their callous disregard and disobedience of God. When we ignore sin and refuse to listen to God's warning, we invite disaster. Don't settle for half measures in removing sin.
Punishment	Because of sin, Jerusalem was destroyed, the temple was ruined, and the people were captured and carried off to Babylon. The people were responsible for their destruction and captivity because they refused to listen to God's message.	Unconfessed sin brings God's full punishment. It is useless to blame anyone else for our sin—we are accountable to God before anyone else. We must answer to him for how we live.
God is Lord of all	God is the righteous Creator. He is accountable to no one but himself. He wisely and lovingly directs all creation to fulfill his plans, and he brings events to pass according to his timetable. He is Lord over all the world.	Because of God's majestic power and love, our only duty is to submit to his authority. By following his plans, not our own, we can have a loving relationship with him and serve him with our whole hearts.
New hearts	Jeremiah predicted that after the destruction of the nation, God would send a new shepherd, the Messiah. He would lead them into a new future, a new covenant, and a new day of hope. He would accomplish this by changing their sinful hearts into hearts of love for God.	God still restores his people by renewing their hearts. His love can transform the problems created by sin. We can have assurance of a new heart by loving God, trusting Christ to save us, and repenting of our sin.
Faithful service	Jeremiah served God faithfully for 40 years. During that time the people ignored, rejected, and persecuted him. Jeremiah's preaching was unsuccessful by human standards, yet he did not fail in his task. He remained faithful to God.	People's acceptance or rejection of us is not the measure of our success. God's approval alone should be our standard for service. We must bring God's message to others even when we are rejected. We must do God's work even if it means suffering for it.

A. GOD'S JUDGMENT ON JUDAH (1:1 – 45:5)

Jeremiah was called by God to be a prophet to Judah (the southern kingdom). He faithfully confronted the leaders and the people with their sin, prophesied both their 70-year captivity in Babylon and their eventual return from exile. After surviving the fall of Jerusalem, Jeremiah was forcefully taken to Egypt. Yet Jeremiah remained faithful in spite of Jerusalem's destruction. Years of obedience had made him strong and courageous. May we be able to stand through difficult times as did Jeremiah.

1. The call of Jeremiah

1:1 [a] Jos 21:18

1 The words of Jeremiah son of Hilkiah, one of the priests at Anathoth[a] in the territory of Benjamin. 2The word of the LORD came to him in the thirteenth year of the reign of Josiah son of Amon king of Judah, 3and through the reign of Jehoiakim son of Josiah king of Judah, down to the fifth month of the eleventh year of Zedekiah son of Josiah king of Judah, when the people of Jerusalem went into exile.

4The word of the LORD came to me, saying,

5"Before I formed you in the womb I knew[a] you,
before you were born[b] I set you apart;
I appointed you as a prophet to the nations."

1:5 [b] Isa 49:1

1:6 [c] Ex 3:11

6"Ah, Sovereign LORD," I said, "I do not know how to speak;[c] I am only a child."

7But the LORD said to me, "Do not say, 'I am only a child.' You must go to everyone I send you to and say whatever I command you. 8Do not be afraid of them, for I am with you[d] and will rescue you," declares the LORD.

1:8 [d] Jer 15:20

1:9 [e] Isa 6:7

9Then the LORD reached out his hand and touched[e] my mouth and said to me,

[a] 5 Or chose

JEREMIAH served as a prophet to Judah from 627 B.C. until the exile in 586 B.C.

Climate of the times	• Society was deteriorating economically, politically, spiritually. • Wars and captivity. • God's word was deemed offensive.
Main message	Repentance from sin would postpone Judah's coming judgment at the hands of Babylon.
Importance of message	Repentance is one of the greatest needs in our immoral world. God's promises to the faithful shine brightly by bringing hope for tomorrow and strength for today.
Contemporary prophets	Habakkuk (612–588) Zephaniah (640–621)

1:1, 2 After King Solomon's death, the united kingdom of Israel had split into rival northern and southern kingdoms. The northern kingdom was called Israel; the southern, Judah. Jeremiah was from Anathoth, four miles north of Jerusalem in the southern kingdom. He lived and prophesied during the reigns of the last five kings of Judah. This was a chaotic time politically, morally, and spiritually. As Babylon, Egypt, and Assyria battled for world supremacy, Judah found itself caught in the middle of the triangle. Although Jeremiah prophesied for 40 years, he never saw his people heed his words and turn from their sins.

1:5 God knew you, as he knew Jeremiah, long before you were born or even conceived. He thought about you and planned for you. When you feel discouraged or inadequate, remember that God has always thought of you as valuable and that he has a purpose in mind for you.

1:5 Jeremiah was "appointed" by God "as a prophet to the nations." God has a purpose for each Christian, but some people are appointed by God for specific kinds of work. Samson (Judges 13:3–5), David (1 Samuel 16:12, 13), John the Baptist (Luke 1:13–17), and Paul (Galatians 1:15, 16) were also called to do particular jobs for God. Whatever work you do should be done for the glory of God (Philippians 1:11). If God gives you a specific task, accept it cheerfully and do it with diligence. If God has not given you a specific call or assignment, then seek to fulfill the mission common to all believers – to love, obey, and serve God – until his guidance becomes more clear.

1:6–8 Often people struggle with new challenges because they lack self-confidence, feeling that they have inadequate ability, training, or experience. Jeremiah thought he was "only a child" – too young and inexperienced to be God's spokesman to the world. But God promised to be with him. We should not allow feelings of inadequacy to keep us from obeying God's call. He will always be with us. When you find yourself avoiding something you know you should do, be careful not to use lack of self-confidence as an excuse. If God gives you a job to do, he will provide all you need to do it.

1:8 God promised to "rescue" Jeremiah from trouble, not to keep trouble from coming. God did not insulate him from jailings, deportation, or insults. God does not keep us from encountering life's storms, but he will see us through them. In fact, God walks through these storms with us and rescues us.

"Now, I have put my words in your mouth. 10See, today I appoint you over nations and kingdoms to uproot and tear down, to destroy and overthrow, to build and to plant."[f]
11The word of the LORD came to me: "What do you see, Jeremiah?"
"I see the branch of an almond tree," I replied.
12The LORD said to me, "You have seen correctly, for I am watching[b] to see that my word is fulfilled."
13The word of the LORD came to me again: "What do you see?"
"I see a boiling pot, tilting away from the north," I answered.
14The LORD said to me, "From the north disaster will be poured out on all who live in the land. 15I am about to summon all the peoples of the northern kingdoms,"
declares the LORD.

"Their kings will come and set up their thrones
in the entrance of the gates of Jerusalem;
they will come against all her surrounding walls and against all the towns of Judah.
16I will pronounce my judgments on my people because of their wickedness in forsaking me,[g] in burning incense to other gods and in worshiping what their hands have made.

17"Get yourself ready! Stand up and say to them whatever I command you. Do not be terrified by them, or I will terrify you before them. 18Today I have made you a fortified city, an iron pillar and a bronze wall to stand against the whole land — against the kings of Judah, its officials, its priests and the people of the land.
19They will fight against you but will not overcome you, for I am with you and will rescue[h] you," declares the LORD.

1:10 [f] Jer 18:7-10

1:16 [g] Jer 17:13

1:19 [h] ver 8

2. Jeremiah condemns Judah for her sins

Israel Forsakes God

2 The word of the LORD came to me: 2"Go and proclaim in the hearing of Jerusalem:

" 'I remember the devotion of your youth,[i] how as a bride you loved me and followed me through the desert,

2:2 [i] Eze 16:8-14, 60

[b] 12 The Hebrew for watching sounds like the Hebrew for almond tree.

1:10 God appointed Jeremiah to bring his word to "nations and kingdoms." Jeremiah's work was to warn not only the Jews but all the nations of the world about God's judgment on sin. Don't forget in reading the Old Testament that, while God was consistently working through the people of Judah and Israel, his plan was to communicate to every nation and person. We are included in Jeremiah's message of judgment and hope, and as believers we are to share God's desire to reach the whole world for him.

1:11–14 The vision of the branch of an almond tree revealed the beginning of God's judgment because the almond tree is among the first to blossom in the spring. God saw the sins of Judah and the nations, and he would carry out swift and certain judgment. The boiling pot tilting away from the north and spilling over Judah pictured Babylon delivering God's scalding judgment against Jeremiah's people.

1:14–19 The problems we face may not seem as ominous as Jeremiah's, but they are critical to us and may overwhelm us! God's promise to Jeremiah and to us is that nothing will defeat us completely; he will help us through the most agonizing problems. Face each day with the assurance that God will be with you and see you through.

1:16 The people of Judah sinned greatly by continuing to burn incense to and worship other gods. God had commanded them specifically against this (Exodus 20:3–6) because idolatry places trust in created things rather than the Creator. Although these people belonged to God, they chose to follow false gods. Many "gods" entice us to turn away from God. Material possessions, dreams for the future, approval of others, and vocational goals compete for our total commitment. Striving after these at the expense of our commitment to God puts our heart where Judah's was — and God severely punished Judah.

2:1–3:5 In this section, the marriage analogy sharply contrasts God's love for his people with their love for other gods and reveals Judah's faithlessness. Jeremiah condemned Judah (he sometimes called Judah "Jerusalem," the name of its capital city) for seeking security in worthless, changeable things rather than the unchangeable God. We may be tempted to seek security from possessions, people, or our own abilities, but these will fail us. There is no lasting security apart from the eternal God.

2:2 We appreciate a friend who remains true to his or her commitment, and we are disappointed with someone who fails to keep a promise. God was pleased when his people obeyed initially, but he became angry with them when they refused to keep their commitment. Temptations distract us from God. Think about your original commitment to obey God, and ask yourself if you are remaining truly devoted.

through a land not sown.
3 Israel was holy to the LORD,[j]
the firstfruits of his harvest;
all who devoured her were held guilty,[k] and disaster overtook them,' "
declares the LORD.

4 Hear the word of the LORD, O house of Jacob, all you clans of the house of Israel.

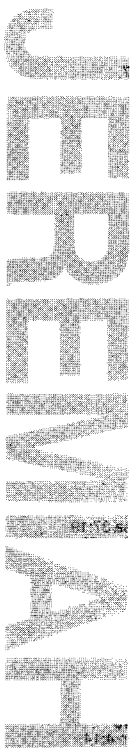
2:3 [j] Ex 19:6
[k] Jer 50:7



Endurance is not a common quality. Many people lack the long-term commitment, caring, and willingness that are vital to sticking with a task against all odds. But Jeremiah was a prophet who endured.

Jeremiah's call by God teaches how intimately God knows us. He valued us before anyone else knew we would exist. He cared for us while we were in our mother's womb. He planned our lives while our bodies were still being formed. He values us more highly than we value ourselves.

Jeremiah had to depend on God's love as he developed endurance. His audiences were usually antagonistic or apathetic to his messages. He was ignored; his life was often threatened. He saw both the excitement of a spiritual awakening and the sorrow of a national return to idolatry. With the exception of the good King Josiah, Jeremiah watched king after king ignore his warnings and lead the people away from God. He saw fellow prophets murdered. He himself was severely persecuted. Finally, he watched Judah's defeat at the hands of the Babylonians.

Jeremiah responded to all this with God's message and human tears. He felt firsthand God's love for his people and the people's rejection of that love. But even when he was angry with God and tempted to give up, Jeremiah knew he had to keep going. God had called him to endure. He expressed intense feelings, but he also saw beyond the feelings to the God who was soon to execute justice, but who afterward would administer mercy.

It may be easy for us to identify with Jeremiah's frustrations and discouragement, but we need to realize that this prophet's life is also an encouragement to faithfulness.

Strengths and accomplishments:
- Wrote two Old Testament books, Jeremiah and Lamentations
- Ministered during the reigns of the last five kings of Judah
- Was a catalyst for the great spiritual reformation under King Josiah
- Acted as God's faithful messenger in spite of many attempts on his life
- Was so deeply sorrowful for the fallen condition of Judah that he earned the title "weeping prophet"

Lessons from his life:
- The majority opinion is not necessarily God's will
- Although punishment for sin is severe, there is hope in God's mercy
- God will not accept empty or insincere worship
- Serving God does not guarantee earthly security

Vital statistics:
- Where: Anathoth
- Occupation: Prophet
- Relative: Father: Hilkiah
- Contemporaries: Josiah, Jehoahaz, Jehoiakim, Jehoiachin, Zedekiah, Baruch

Key verses:
" 'Ah, Sovereign LORD,' I said, 'I do not know how to speak; I am only a child.' But the LORD said to me, 'Do not say, "I am only a child." You must go to everyone I send you to and say whatever I command you. Do not be afraid of them, for I am with you and will rescue you,' declares the LORD." (Jeremiah 1:6–8).

Jeremiah's story is told in the book of Jeremiah. He is also mentioned in Ezra 1:1; Daniel 9:2; Matthew 2:17; 16:14; 27:9. See also 2 Chronicles 34, 35 for the story of the spiritual revival under Josiah.

2:3 The firstfruits, or the first part, of the harvest were set aside for God (Deuteronomy 26:1–11). That's how Israel was dedicated to him in years gone by. Israel had been as eager to please God as if she were his young bride, a holy, devoted people. This contrasted greatly with the situation in Jeremiah's time.

2:4–8 The united nation of Israel included both the "house of Israel" and the "house of Jacob" (Judah). Jeremiah knew Israel's history well. The prophets recited history to the people for several reasons: (1) to remind them of God's faithfulness; (2) to make sure the people wouldn't forget (they didn't have Bibles to read); (3) to emphasize God's love for them; (4) to remind the people that there was a time when they were close to God. We should learn from history so we can build on the successes and avoid repeating the failures of others.

5This is what the LORD says:

"What fault did your fathers find in me,
that they strayed so far from me?
They followed worthless idols and became worthless[f] themselves.
6They did not ask, 'Where is the LORD, who brought us up out of Egypt and led us through the barren wilderness, through a land of deserts and rifts,[m] a land of drought and darkness,[c] a land where no one travels and no one lives?'
7I brought you into a fertile land to eat its fruit and rich produce.[n]
But you came and defiled my land and made my inheritance detestable.
8The priests did not ask,
'Where is the LORD?'
Those who deal with the law did not know me;
the leaders rebelled against me.
The prophets prophesied by Baal,
following worthless idols.

9"Therefore I bring charges against you again,"
declares the LORD.
"And I will bring charges against your children's children.
10Cross over to the coasts of Kittim[d] and look,
send to Kedar[e] and observe closely;
see if there has ever been anything like this:
11Has a nation ever changed its gods?
(Yet they are not gods[o] at all.)
But my people have exchanged their[f] Glory[p] for worthless idols.
12Be appalled at this, O heavens, and shudder with great horror,"
declares the LORD.
13"My people have committed two sins:
They have forsaken me,
the spring of living water,[q]
and have dug their own cisterns, broken cisterns that cannot hold water.
14Is Israel a servant, a slave by birth?
Why then has he become plunder?
15Lions[r] have roared;
they have growled at him.

2:5 [f] 2Ki 17:15
2:6 [m] Dt 32:10
2:7 [n] Nu 13:27
2:11 [o] Isa 37:19 [p] Ro 1:23
2:13 [q] Jn 4:14
2:15 [r] Jer 4:7

[c] 6 Or and the shadow of death [d] 10 That is, Cyprus and western coastlands [e] 10 The home of Bedouin tribes in the Syro-Arabian desert [f] 11 Masoretic Text; an ancient Hebrew scribal tradition my

2:8 Baal was the chief male god of the Canaanite religion. "Baals" (2:23) refers to the fact that Baal was worshiped in many centers in Canaanite practice. Baal was the god of fertility. Worship of Baal included animal sacrifice and sacred prostitution (male and female) in the high places. Jezebel, the wife of King Ahab, introduced Baal worship into the northern kingdom, and eventually it spread to Judah. The sexual orientation of this worship was a constant temptation to the Israelites, who were called to be holy.

2:10 God was saying that even pagan nations like Kittim (Cyprus, in the west) and Kedar (the home of Arab tribes living in the desert east of Palestine) remained loyal to their national gods. But Israel had abandoned the one and only God for a completely worthless object of worship.

2:13 Who would set aside a sparkling spring of water for a cistern, a pit that collected rainwater? God told the Israelites they were doing that very thing when they turned from him, the spring of living water, to the worship of idols. Not only that, but the cisterns they chose were broken and empty. The people had built religious systems in which to store truth, but those systems were worthless. Why should we cling to the broken promises of unstable "cisterns" (money, power, religious systems, or whatever transitory thing we are putting in place of God) when God promises to constantly refresh us with himself, the living water (John 4:10)?

They have laid waste his land;
his towns are burned and deserted.
16 Also, the men of Memphis[g] and Tahpanhes have shaved the crown of your head.[h] 17 Have you not brought this on yourselves[s] by forsaking the LORD your God when he led you in the way?
18 Now why go to Egypt[t]
to drink water from the Shihor[i]?[u]
And why go to Assyria to drink water from the River[j]?
19 Your wickedness will punish you;
your backsliding will rebuke you.
Consider then and realize how evil and bitter it is for you when you forsake the LORD your God and have no awe of me,"
declares the Lord, the LORD Almighty.

20 "Long ago you broke off your yoke and tore off your bonds;
you said, 'I will not serve you!'
Indeed, on every high hill and under every spreading tree[v]
you lay down as a prostitute.
21 I had planted[w] you like a choice vine of sound and reliable stock.
How then did you turn against me into a corrupt,[x] wild vine?
22 Although you wash yourself with soda and use an abundance of soap, the stain of your guilt is still before me,"
declares the Sovereign LORD.
23 "How can you say, 'I am not defiled;[y]
I have not run after the Baals'?
See how you behaved in the valley;[z]
consider what you have done.
You are a swift she-camel running here and there, 24 a wild donkey[a] accustomed to the desert, sniffing the wind in her craving —
in her heat who can restrain her?
Any males that pursue her need not tire themselves;
at mating time they will find her.

2:17 [s] Jer 4:18
2:18 [t] Isa 30:2 [u] Jos 13:3
2:20 [v] Dt 12:2
2:21 [w] Ex 15:17 [x] Isa 5:4
2:23 [y] Pr 30:12 [z] Jer 7:31
2:24 [a] Jer 14:6

[g] 16 Hebrew Noph [h] 16 Or have cracked your skull [i] 18 That is, a branch of the Nile [j] 18 That is, the Euphrates

2:16, 17 Memphis was near modern Cairo's present location in lower Egypt, and Tahpanhes was in northeastern Egypt. Jeremiah could be speaking of Pharaoh Shishak's previous invasion of Judah in 926 B.C. (1 Kings 14:25), or he may have been predicting Pharaoh Neco's invasion in 609 B.C. when King Josiah of Judah would be killed (2 Kings 23:29, 30). Jeremiah's point is that the people brought this on themselves by rebelling against God.

2:22 The stain of sin is more than skin-deep. Israel had stains that could not be washed out, even with the strongest cleansers. Spiritual cleansing must reach deep into the heart – and this is a job that God alone can do. We cannot ignore the effects of sin and hope they will go away. Your sin has caused a deep stain that God can and will remove if you are willing to let him cleanse you (Isaiah 1:18; Ezekiel 36:25).

2:23–27 The people are compared to animals who search for mates in mating season. Unrestrained, they rush for power, money, alliances with foreign powers, and other gods. The idols did not seek the people; the people sought the idols and then ran wildly after them. Then they became so comfortable in their sin that they could not think of giving it up. Their only shame was in getting caught. If we desire something so much that we'll do anything to get it, this is a sign that we are addicted to it and out of tune with God.

25 Do not run until your feet are bare and your throat is dry.
But you said, 'It's no use!
I love foreign gods,
and I must go after them.'

26 "As a thief is disgraced[b] when he is caught, so the house of Israel is disgraced—
they, their kings and their officials, their priests and their prophets.
27 They say to wood, 'You are my father,' and to stone, 'You gave me birth.'
They have turned their backs to me
and not their faces;
yet when they are in trouble,[c] they say,
'Come and save us!'
28 Where then are the gods[d] you made for yourselves?
Let them come if they can save you when you are in trouble!
For you have as many gods
as you have towns, O Judah.

29 "Why do you bring charges against me?
You have all rebelled against me,"
declares the LORD.
30 "In vain I punished your people;
they did not respond to correction.
Your sword has devoured your prophets[e] like a ravening lion.

31 "You of this generation, consider the word of the LORD:

"Have I been a desert to Israel or a land of great darkness?[f]
Why do my people say, 'We are free to roam;
we will come to you no more'?
32 Does a maiden forget her jewelry,
a bride her wedding ornaments?
Yet my people have forgotten me,
days without number.
33 How skilled you are at pursuing love!
Even the worst of women can learn from your ways.
34 On your clothes men find the lifeblood of the innocent poor, though you did not catch them breaking in.[g]
Yet in spite of all this 35 you say, 'I am innocent;
he is not angry with me.'
But I will pass judgment on you because you say, 'I have not sinned.'
36 Why do you go about so much,

2:26 [b] Jer 48:27
2:27 [c] Isa 26:16
2:28 [d] Isa 45:20
2:30 [e] Ac 7:52
2:31 [f] Isa 45:19
2:34 [g] Ex 22:2

2:30 Being a prophet in Jeremiah's day was risky business. Prophets had to criticize the policies of evil kings, and this made them appear to be traitors. The kings hated the prophets for standing against their policies, and the people often hated the prophets for preaching against their idolatrous life-styles. (See Acts 7:52.)

2:31, 32 Forgetting can be dangerous, whether it is intentional or an oversight. Israel forgot God by focusing its affections on the allurements of the world. The more we focus on the pleasures of the world, the easier it becomes to forget God's care, his love, his dependability, his guidance, and most of all, God himself. What pleases you most? Have you been forgetting God lately?

2:36 God is not against alliances or working partnerships, but he is against people trusting others for the help that should come from him. This was the problem in Jeremiah's time. After the days of David and Solomon, Israel fell apart because the leaders turned to other nations and gods instead of the true God. They played power changing your ways?

You will be disappointed by Egypt[h] as you were by Assyria.
37You will also leave that place with your hands on your head,[i] for the LORD has rejected those you trust;
you will not be helped by them.

3

"If a man divorces[j] his wife and she leaves him and marries another man, should he return to her again?
Would not the land be completely defiled?
But you have lived as a prostitute with many lovers[k]— would you now return to me?"
declares the LORD.
2"Look up to the barren heights and see.
Is there any place where you have not been ravished?
By the roadside you sat waiting for lovers,
sat like a nomad[k] in the desert.
You have defiled the land with your prostitution and wickedness.
3Therefore the showers have been withheld,[l] and no spring rains have fallen.
Yet you have the brazen look of a prostitute;
you refuse to blush with shame.[m] 4Have you not just called to me:
'My Father, my friend from my youth,
5will you always be angry?[n]
Will your wrath continue forever?'

[k] 2 Or an Arab

2:36 [h] Isa 30:2, 3, 7
2:37 [i] 2Sa 13:19
3:1 [j] Dt 24:1-4 [k] Jer 2:20, 25; Eze 16:26, 29
3:3 [l] Lev 26:19 [m] Jer 6:15
3:5 [n] Ps 103:9

THE KINGS OF JEREMIAH'S LIFETIME

King	Story of his reign	Dates of his reign	Character of reign	Jeremiah's message to the king
Josiah	2 Kings 22:1–23:30	640–609 B.C.	Mostly good	3:6–25
Jehoahaz	2 Kings 23:31–33	609 B.C.	Evil	22:11–17
Jehoiakim	2 Kings 23:34–24:7	609–598 B.C.	Evil	22:18–23; 25:1–38; 26:1–24; 27:1–11; 35:1–19; 36:1–32
Jehoiachin	2 Kings 24:8–17	598–597 B.C.	Evil	13:18–27 22:24–30
Zedekiah	2 Kings 24:18–25:26	597–586 B.C.	Evil	21:1–14; 24:8–10; 27:12–22; 32:1–5; 34:1–22; 37:1–21; 38:1–28; 51:59–64

politics, thinking that their strong neighbors could protect them. But Judah would soon learn that its alliance with Egypt would be just as disappointing as its former alliance with Assyria (2 Kings 16:8, 9; Isaiah 7:13–25).

3:1 This law, found in Deuteronomy 24:1–4, says that a divorced woman who remarries can never be reunited with her first husband. Judah "divorced" God and "married" other gods. God had every right to permanently disown his wayward people, but in his mercy he was willing to take them back again.

3:2 "Like a nomad in the desert" means, as an Arab thief might hide and wait to plunder a passing caravan, Judah ran to idolatry. It was a national preoccupation.

3:4, 5 In spite of their great sin, the people of Israel continued to talk like they were God's children. The only way they could do this was to minimize their sin. When we know we've done something wrong, we want to downplay the error and relieve some of the guilt we feel. As we minimize our sinfulness, we naturally shy away from making changes, and so we keep on sinning. But if we view every wrong attitude and action as a serious offense against God, we will begin to understand what living for God is all about. Is there any sin in your life that you've written off as too small to worry about? God says that we must confess and turn away from every sin.

This is how you talk, but you do all the evil you can."

Unfaithful Israel

6During the reign of King Josiah, the LORD said to me, "Have you seen what faithless Israel has done? She has gone up on every high hill and under every spreading tree and has committed adultery there. 7I thought that after she had done all this she would return to me but she did not, and her unfaithful sister[o] Judah saw it. 8I gave faithless Israel her certificate of divorce and sent her away because of all her adulteries. Yet I saw that her unfaithful sister Judah had no fear;[p] she also went out and committed adultery. 9Because Israel's immorality mattered so little to her, she defiled the land and committed adultery with stone and wood.[q] 10In spite of all this, her unfaithful sister Judah did not return to me with all her heart, but only in pretense," declares the LORD.

11The LORD said to me, "Faithless Israel is more righteous[r] than unfaithful Judah. 12Go, proclaim this message toward the north:

" 'Return, faithless Israel,' declares the LORD,
'I will frown on you no longer,
for I am merciful,' declares the LORD,
'I will not be angry forever.
13Only acknowledge[s] your guilt—
you have rebelled against the LORD your God, you have scattered your favors to foreign gods[t] under every spreading tree,[u] and have not obeyed me,' "
declares the LORD.

14"Return, faithless people," declares the LORD, "for I am your husband. I will choose you—one from a town and two from a clan—and bring you to Zion. 15Then I will give you shepherds after my own heart, who will lead you with knowledge and understanding. 16In those days, when your numbers have increased greatly in the land," declares the LORD, "men will no longer say, 'The ark of the covenant of the LORD.' It will never enter their minds or be remembered;[v] it will not be missed, nor will another one be made. 17At that time they will call Jerusalem The Throne of the LORD, and all nations will gather in Jerusalem to honor the name of the LORD. No longer will they follow the stubbornness of their evil hearts.[w] 18In those days the house of Judah will join the house of Israel, and together[x] they will come from a northern[y] land to the land[z] I gave your forefathers as an inheritance.

3:7 [o]Eze 16:46
3:8 [p]Eze 23:11
3:9 [q]Jer 2:27
3:11 [r]Eze 16:52
3:13 [s]Dt 30:1-3 [t]Jer 2:25 [u]Dt 12:2
3:16 [v]Isa 65:17
3:17 [w]Jer 11:8
3:18 [x]Isa 11:13 [y]Jer 31:8 [z]Am 9:15

3:6–6:30 The northern kingdom, Israel, had fallen to Assyria, and its people had been taken into captivity. The tragic lesson of their fall should have caused the southern kingdom, Judah, to return to God, but Judah paid no attention. Jeremiah urged Judah to return to God to avoid certain disaster. This message came between 627 and 621 B.C., during Josiah's reign. Although Josiah obeyed God's commands, his example apparently did not penetrate the hearts of the people. If the people refused to repent, God said he would destroy the nation because of the evils of Josiah's grandfather, King Manasseh (2 Kings 23:25–27).

3:11–13 Israel was not even trying to look as if it were obeying God, but Judah maintained the appearance of right faith without a true heart. Believing the right doctrines without heartfelt commitment is like offering sacrifices without true repentance. Judah's false repentance brought Jeremiah's words of condemnation. To live without faith is hopeless; to express sorrow without change is treacherous and unfaithful. Being sorry for sin is not enough. Repentance demands a change of mind and heart that results in changed behavior.

3:12–18 The northern kingdom, Israel, was in captivity, being punished for its sins. The people of Judah undoubtedly looked down on these northern neighbors for their blatant heresy and degraded morals. Even so, Jeremiah promised the remnant of Israel God's blessings if they would turn to him. Judah, still secure in its own mind, should have turned to God after seeing the destruction of Israel. But the people of Judah refused, so Jeremiah startled them by telling about God's promise to Israel's remnant if they would repent.

3:15 God promised to give his people leaders ("shepherds" after his own heart) who would follow him, filled with knowledge (wisdom) and understanding. God saw Israel's lack of direction, so he promised to provide the right kind of leadership. We look to and trust our leaders for guidance and direction. But if they do not follow God, they will lead us astray. Pray for God-honoring leaders in our nations, communities, and churches—those who will be good examples and bring us God's wisdom.

3:16, 17 In the days of Solomon's reign over a united Israel, the people had a beautiful temple where they worshiped God. The temple housed the ark of the covenant, the symbol of God's presence with the people. The ark held the tablets of the Ten Commandments (see Exodus 25:10–22). Those days with the ark wouldn't be missed in the future kingdom because God's presence by the Holy Spirit would be there personally among his people.

19"I myself said,

" 'How gladly would I treat you like sons and give you a desirable land, the most beautiful inheritance of any nation.'
I thought you would call me 'Father' and not turn away from following me.
20But like a woman unfaithful to her husband, so you have been unfaithful to me, O house of Israel,"
declares the LORD.

21A cry is heard on the barren heights,
the weeping and pleading of the people of Israel,
because they have perverted their ways and have forgotten the LORD their God.

22"Return, faithless people;
I will cure[a] you of backsliding."

"Yes, we will come to you,
for you are the LORD our God.
23Surely the ⌞idolatrous⌟ commotion on the hills and mountains is a deception; surely in the LORD our God is the salvation[b] of Israel.
24From our youth shameful gods have consumed the fruits of our fathers' labor—their flocks and herds,
their sons and daughters.
25Let us lie down in our shame,[c]
and let our disgrace cover us.
We have sinned against the LORD our God,
both we and our fathers;
from our youth[d] till this day we have not obeyed the LORD our God."

3:22
[a] Hos 6:1

3:23
[b] Ps 3:8

3:25
[c] Ezr 9:6
[d] Jer 22:21

4

"If you will return, O Israel, return to me,"
declares the LORD.
"If you put your detestable idols out of my sight
and no longer go astray, 2and if in a truthful, just and righteous way you swear,[e] 'As surely as the LORD lives,' then the nations will be blessed[f] by him and in him they will glory."

3This is what the LORD says to the men of Judah and to Jerusalem:

4:2
[e] Dt 10:20; Isa 65:16
[f] Gal 3:8

"Break up your unplowed ground[g] and do not sow among thorns.[h] 4Circumcise yourselves to the LORD,

4:3
[g] Hos 10:12
[h] Mk 4:18

3:22–25 Jeremiah predicted a day when the nation would be reunited, true worship would be reinstated, and sin would be seen for what it is. Our world glorifies the thrill that comes from wealth, competition, and sexual pleasure, and it ignores the sin that is so often associated with these thrills. It is sad that so few see sin as it really is—a deception. Most people can't see this until they are destroyed by the sin they pursue. The advantage of believing God's Word is that we don't have to learn by hard experience the destructive results of sin.

4:3 Jeremiah told the people to break up the hardness of their hearts as a plow breaks up unplowed ground—soil that has not been tilled for a season. Good kings like Josiah had tried to turn the people back to God, but the people had continued to worship their idols in secret. Their hearts had become hardened to God's will. Jeremiah said the people needed to remove the sin that hardened their hearts before the good seed of God's commands could take root. Likewise we must remove our heart-hardening sin if we expect God's word to take root and grow in our lives.

circumcise your hearts,
you men of Judah and people of Jerusalem,
or my wrath will break out and burn like fire
because of the evil you have done —
burn with no one to quench it.

Disaster From the North

5"Announce in Judah and proclaim in Jerusalem and say:
'Sound the trumpet throughout the land!'
Cry aloud and say:
'Gather together!
Let us flee to the fortified cities!'
6Raise the signal to go to Zion!
Flee for safety without delay!
For I am bringing disaster from the north,[i] even terrible destruction."

4:6 [i]Jer 50:3

7A lion has come out of his lair;
a destroyer of nations has set out.
He has left his place
to lay waste[j] your land.
Your towns will lie in ruins without inhabitant.
8So put on sackcloth,
lament and wail,
for the fierce anger of the LORD has not turned away from us.

4:7 [j]Isa 1:7

9"In that day," declares the LORD,
"the king and the officials will lose heart,
the priests will be horrified, and the prophets will be appalled."

10Then I said, "Ah, Sovereign LORD, how completely you have deceived[k] this people and Jerusalem by saying, 'You will have peace,'[l] when the sword is at our throats."

4:10 [k]2Th 2:11 [l]Jer 14:13

11At that time this people and Jerusalem will be told, "A scorching wind from the barren heights in the desert blows toward my people, but not to winnow or cleanse;
12a wind too strong for that comes from me.[l] Now I pronounce my judgments against them."

13Look! He advances like the clouds, his chariots come like a whirlwind,
his horses are swifter than eagles.
Woe to us! We are ruined!
14O Jerusalem, wash[m] the evil from your heart and be saved.
How long will you harbor wicked thoughts?

4:14 [m]Jas 4:8

15A voice is announcing from Dan, proclaiming disaster from the hills of Ephraim.
16"Tell this to the nations,

[l] 12 Or comes at my command

4:6, 7 The disaster from the north would come from Babylon when Nabopolassar and Nebuchadnezzar II would attack (see 2 Chronicles 36).

4:10 Jeremiah, deeply moved by God's words, expressed his sorrow and confusion to God. Jeremiah was intercessor for the people. These people had false expectations because of the past promises of blessings, their blindness to their own sin, and the false prophets who kept telling them that all was well.

4:15 Disaster was announced first from Dan and then on to the hills of Ephraim because Dan was located at the northern border of Israel. Thus the Danites would be the first to see the approaching armies as they invaded from the north. No one would be able to stop the armies because they would be coming as punishment for the people's sin.

proclaim it to Jerusalem:
'A besieging army is coming from a distant land, raising a war cry against the cities of Judah.
17They surround[n] her like men guarding a field, because she has rebelled against me,' "
declares the LORD.

18"Your own conduct and actions[o] have brought this upon you.[p]
This is your punishment.
How bitter[q] it is!
How it pierces to the heart!"

19Oh, my anguish, my anguish!
I writhe in pain.
Oh, the agony of my heart!
My heart pounds within me,
I cannot keep silent.
For I have heard the sound of the trumpet;
I have heard the battle cry.
20Disaster follows disaster;
the whole land lies in ruins.
In an instant my tents[r] are destroyed,
my shelter in a moment.
21How long must I see the battle standard and hear the sound of the trumpet?

22"My people are fools;
they do not know me.
They are senseless children;
they have no understanding.
They are skilled in doing evil;
they know not how to do good."

23I looked at the earth, and it was formless and empty;[s] and at the heavens,
and their light was gone.
24I looked at the mountains, and they were quaking;
all the hills were swaying.
25I looked, and there were no people;
every bird in the sky had flown away.[t] 26I looked, and the fruitful land was a desert;
all its towns lay in ruins
before the LORD, before his fierce anger.

27This is what the LORD says:

"The whole land will be ruined,
though I will not destroy[u] it completely.
28Therefore the earth will mourn[v]
and the heavens above grow dark,

4:17 [n] 2Ki 25:1, 4

4:18 [o] Ps 107:17 [p] Jer 2:17 [q] Jer 2:19

4:20 [r] Jer 10:20

4:23 [s] Ge 1:2

4:25 [t] Zep 1:3

4:27 [u] Jer 5:10, 18; 30:11; 46:28

4:28 [v] Hos 4:3

4:19–31 Jeremiah was anguished by the sure devastation of the coming judgment. This judgment would continue until the people turned from their sin and listened to God. Although this prophecy refers to the future destruction by Babylon, it could also describe the judgment of all sinners at the end of the world.

4:22 Judah was skilled in doing evil and did not know how to do good. Right living is more than simply avoiding sin. It requires decision and discipline. We must develop skills in right living because our behavior attracts attention to our God. We should pursue excellence in Christian living with as much effort as we pursue excellence at work.

4:27 God warned that destruction was certain, but he promised that the faithful remnant would be spared. God is committed to preserving those who are faithful to him.

because I have spoken and will not relent.[w]
I have decided and will not turn back."

4:28 [w] Nu 23:19

29 At the sound of horsemen and archers every town takes to flight.
Some go into the thickets;
some climb up among the rocks.
All the towns are deserted;
no one lives in them.

30 What are you doing, O devastated one?
Why dress yourself in scarlet and put on jewels of gold?
Why shade your eyes with paint?[x]
You adorn yourself in vain.
Your lovers despise you;
they seek your life.

4:30 [x] 2Ki 9:30

31 I hear a cry as of a woman in labor, a groan as of one bearing her first child—
the cry of the Daughter of Zion gasping for breath, stretching out her hands[y] and saying,
"Alas! I am fainting;
my life is given over to murderers."

4:31 [y] Isa 1:15; La 1:17

Not One Is Upright

5 "Go up and down[z] the streets of Jerusalem, look around and consider,
search through her squares.
If you can find but one person[a] who deals honestly and seeks the truth,
I will forgive this city.

5:1 [z] Eze 22:30
[a] Ge 18:32

2 Although they say, 'As surely as the LORD lives,'[b] still they are swearing falsely."

5:2 [b] Jer 4:2

3 O LORD, do not your eyes look for truth?
You struck[c] them, but they felt no pain;
you crushed them, but they refused correction.
They made their faces harder than stone and refused to repent.

5:3 [c] Isa 9:13

4 I thought, "These are only the poor;
they are foolish,
for they do not know the way of the LORD,
the requirements of their God.
5 So I will go to the leaders[d]
and speak to them;
surely they know the way of the LORD,
the requirements of their God."
But with one accord they too had broken off the yoke and torn off the bonds.

5:5 [d] Mic 3:1, 9

5:1 Jerusalem was the capital city and center of worship for Judah, but God challenged anyone to find one honest and truthful person in the entire city. God was willing to spare the city if one upright person could be found (he made a similar statement about Sodom; see Genesis 18:32). Think how significant your testimony may be in your city or community. You may represent the only witness for God to many people. Are you faithful to that opportunity?

5:3 Nothing but truth is acceptable to God. When we pray, sing, speak, or serve, nothing closes the door of God's acceptance more than hypocrisy, lying, or pretense. God sees through us and refuses to listen. To be close to God, be honest with him.

5:4, 5 Even the leaders who knew God's laws and understood his words of judgment had rejected him. They were supposed to teach and guide the people, but instead they led them into sin. Jeremiah observed the poor and foolish (ignorant)—those who were uninformed of God's ways—and realized they were not learning God's laws from their leaders. Thus God's search in Jerusalem was complete. There were no true followers in any level of society.

6 Therefore a lion from the forest will attack them,
a wolf from the desert will ravage them,
a leopard[e] will lie in wait near their towns to tear to pieces any who venture out, for their rebellion is great and their backslidings many.

7 "Why should I forgive you?
Your children have forsaken me and sworn[f] by gods that are not gods.[g]
I supplied all their needs, yet they committed adultery and thronged to the houses of prostitutes.
8 They are well-fed, lusty stallions, each neighing for another man's wife.[h] 9 Should I not punish them for this?"[i]
declares the LORD.
"Should I not avenge myself
on such a nation as this?

10 "Go through her vineyards and ravage them, but do not destroy them completely.
Strip off her branches,
for these people do not belong to the LORD.
11 The house of Israel and the house of Judah have been utterly unfaithful to me,"
declares the LORD.

12 They have lied about the LORD;
they said, "He will do nothing!
No harm will come to us;
we will never see sword or famine.[j] 13 The prophets are but wind and the word is not in them;
so let what they say be done to them."

14 Therefore this is what the LORD God Almighty says:

"Because the people have spoken these words,
I will make my words in your mouth a fire and these people the wood it consumes.
15 O house of Israel," declares the LORD,
"I am bringing a distant nation[k] against you—an ancient and enduring nation,
a people whose language you do not know,
whose speech you do not understand.
16 Their quivers are like an open grave;
all of them are mighty warriors.
17 They will devour[l] your harvests and food, devour[m] your sons and daughters;
they will devour[n] your flocks and herds,
devour your vines and fig trees.
With the sword they will destroy the fortified cities in which you trust.

5:6 [e] Hos 13:7
5:7 [f] Jos 23:7 [g] Dt 32:21; Gal 4:8
5:8 [h] Eze 22:11
5:9 [i] Jer 9:9
5:12 [j] Jer 14:13
5:15 [k] Dt 28:49
5:17 [l] Lev 26:16 [m] Dt 28:32 [n] Dt 28:31

5:7 God held these people responsible for the sins of their children because the children had followed their parents' example. The sin of leading others, especially our children, astray by our example is one for which God will hold us accountable.

5:15 Babylon was indeed an ancient nation. The old Babylonian empire had lasted from about 1900 B.C. to 1550 B.C., and earlier kingdoms had been on her soil as early as 3000 B.C. Babylon in Jeremiah's day would shortly rebel against Assyrian domination, form its own army, conquer Assyria, and become the next dominant world power.

18"Yet even in those days," declares the LORD, "I will not destroy you completely. 19And when the people ask,[o] 'Why has the LORD our God done all this to us?' you will tell them, 'As you have forsaken me and served foreign gods in your own land, so now you will serve foreigners[p] in a land not your own.'

5:19
[o] 1Ki 9:9
[p] Dt 28:48

20"Announce this to the house of Jacob and proclaim it in Judah:
21Hear this, you foolish and senseless people, who have eyes[q] but do not see,
who have ears but do not hear:[r] 22Should you not fear me?" declares the LORD.
"Should you not tremble in my presence?
I made the sand a boundary for the sea,
an everlasting barrier it cannot cross.
The waves may roll, but they cannot prevail;
they may roar, but they cannot cross it.
23But these people have stubborn and rebellious hearts;
they have turned aside and gone away.
24They do not say to themselves,
'Let us fear the LORD our God,
who gives autumn and spring rains in season,
who assures us of the regular weeks of harvest.'[s] 25Your wrongdoings have kept these away;
your sins have deprived you of good.

5:21
[q] Isa 6:10; Eze 12:2
[r] Mt 13:15

5:24
[s] Ge 8:22

26"Among my people are wicked men who lie in wait like men who snare birds and like those who set traps to catch men.
27Like cages full of birds,
their houses are full of deceit;
they have become rich and powerful 28 and have grown fat[t] and sleek.
Their evil deeds have no limit;
they do not plead the case of the fatherless[u] to win it,
they do not defend the rights of the poor.[v] 29Should I not punish them for this?"
declares the LORD.
"Should I not avenge myself
on such a nation as this?

5:28
[t] Dt 32:15
[u] Zec 7:10
[v] Isa 1:23

30"A horrible[w] and shocking thing has happened in the land:
31The prophets prophesy lies,[x]
the priests rule by their own authority, and my people love it this way.
But what will you do in the end?

5:30
[w] Hos 6:10

5:31
[x] Mic 2:11

5:21 Have you spoken to someone, only to realize that the person hasn't heard a word you were saying? Jeremiah told the people that their eyes and ears did them no good because they refused to see or hear God's message. The people of Judah and Israel were foolishly deaf when God promised blessings for obedience and destruction for disobedience. When God speaks through his Word or his messengers, we harm ourselves if we fail to listen. God's message will never change us unless we listen to it.

5:22–24 What is your attitude when you come into God's presence? We should come with fear and trembling (that is, awe and respect) because God sets the boundaries of the roaring seas and establishes the rains and harvests. God had to strip away all the benefits that Judah and Israel had grown to respect more than him with the hope that the people would turn back to God. Don't wait until God removes your cherished resources before committing yourself to him as you should.

5:28, 29 People and nations who please God treat the fatherless (orphans) justly and care for the poor. Wicked men in Israel treated the defenseless unjustly, which displeased God greatly. Some defenseless people – orphans, the poor, the homeless, and the lonely – are within your reach. What action can you take to help at least one of them?

Jerusalem Under Siege

6 "Flee for safety, people of Benjamin!
Flee from Jerusalem!
Sound the trumpet in Tekoa!
Raise the signal over Beth Hakkerem![y]
For disaster looms out of the north,[z]
even terrible destruction.
2I will destroy the Daughter of Zion, so beautiful and delicate.
3Shepherds with their flocks will come against her;
they will pitch their tents around[a] her,
each tending his own portion."

4"Prepare for battle against her!
Arise, let us attack at noon!
But, alas, the daylight is fading,
and the shadows of evening grow long.
5So arise, let us attack at night and destroy her fortresses!"

6This is what the LORD Almighty says:

"Cut down the trees
and build siege ramps against Jerusalem.
This city must be punished;
it is filled with oppression.
7As a well pours out its water,
so she pours out her wickedness.
Violence[b] and destruction[c] resound in her;
her sickness and wounds are ever before me.
8Take warning, O Jerusalem, or I will turn away from you and make your land desolate so no one can live in it."

9This is what the LORD Almighty says:

"Let them glean the remnant of Israel
as thoroughly as a vine;
pass your hand over the branches again,
like one gathering grapes."

10To whom can I speak and give warning?
Who will listen to me?
Their ears are closed[m][d]
so they cannot hear.
The word[e] of the LORD is offensive to them;
they find no pleasure in it.

6:1 [y] Ne 3:14; [z] Jer 4:6

6:3 [a] 2Ki 25:4

6:7 [b] Ps 55:9; [c] Jer 20:8

6:10 [d] Ac 7:51; [e] Jer 20:8

[m] 10 Hebrew uncircumcised

6:1 The Lord warned Jeremiah's own tribe of Benjamin to flee, not to the security of the great walled city of Jerusalem because it would be under siege, but toward Tekoa, a town about 12 miles south of Jerusalem. The warning smoke signal was lit at Beth Hakkerem, halfway between Jerusalem and Bethlehem.

6:3 The shepherds were the leaders of Babylon's armies, and their flocks were their troops.

6:9 The remnant mentioned here is not to be confused with the righteous remnant. This remnant is those left after the first wave of destruction. Like a grape-gatherer, Babylon wouldn't be satisfied until every person was taken. Babylonians invaded Judah three times until they destroyed the nation and its temple completely (2 Kings 24; 25).

6:10 The people became angry and closed their ears. They wanted no part of God's commands because living for God did not appear very exciting. As in Jeremiah's day, people today dislike God's demand for disciplined living. As unsettling as people's responses might be, we must continue to share God's word. Our responsibility is to present God's word; their responsibility is to accept it. We must not let what people want to hear determine what we say.

11 But I am full of the wrath of the LORD.
and I cannot hold it in.

"Pour it out on the children in the street and on the young men gathered together;
both husband and wife will be caught in it,
and the old, those weighed down with years.
12 Their houses will be turned over to others,[f] together with their fields and their wives,[g] when I stretch out my hand against those who live in the land,"
declares the LORD.

6:12 [f] Dt 28:30 [g] Jer 8:10

13 "From the least to the greatest,
all are greedy for gain;[h]
prophets and priests alike,
all practice deceit.
14 They dress the wound of my people
as though it were not serious.
'Peace, peace,' they say,
when there is no peace.[i] 15 Are they ashamed of their loathsome conduct?
No, they have no shame at all;
they do not even know how to blush.[j]
So they will fall among the fallen;
they will be brought down when I punish them,"
says the LORD.

6:13 [h] Isa 56:11

6:14 [i] Jer 4:10

6:15 [j] Jer 3:3

16 This is what the LORD says:

"Stand at the crossroads and look;
ask for the ancient paths,[k]
ask where the good way is, and walk in it, and you will find rest[l] for your souls.
But you said, 'We will not walk in it.'
17 I appointed watchmen over you and said,
'Listen to the sound of the trumpet!'
But you said, 'We will not listen.'
18 Therefore hear, O nations; observe, O witnesses,
what will happen to them.
19 Hear, O earth:
I am bringing disaster on this people,
the fruit of their schemes,[m]
because they have not listened to my words and have rejected my law.
20 What do I care about incense from Sheba or sweet calamus from a distant land?
Your burnt offerings are not acceptable;[n]
your sacrifices[o] do not please me."[p]

6:16 [k] Jer 18:15 [l] Mt 11:29

6:19 [m] Pr 1:31

6:20 [n] Am 5:22 [o] Mic 6:7-8 [p] Isa 1:11

6:14 "Ignore it and maybe it will go away!" Sound familiar? This was Israel's response to Jeremiah's warnings. They kept listening to predictions of peace because they did not like Jeremiah's condemnation of their sin. But denying the truth never changes it; what God says always happens. Sin is never removed by denying its existence. We must confess to God that we have sinned and ask him to forgive us.

6:16 The right path for living is ancient and has been marked out by God. But the people refused to take God's path, going their own way instead. We face the same decision today, going God's old but true way, or following a new path of our own choosing. Don't be misled. The only way to find peace and "rest for your souls" is to walk on God's path.

6:20 Sheba, located in southwest Arabia, was a center of trade in incense and spices used in pagan religious rituals.

21 Therefore this is what the LORD says:

"I will put obstacles before this people.
Fathers and sons alike will stumble over them;
neighbors and friends will perish."

22 This is what the LORD says:

"Look, an army is coming from the land of the north;
a great nation is being stirred up
from the ends of the earth.
23 They are armed with bow and spear;
they are cruel and show no mercy.
They sound like the roaring sea
as they ride on their horses;
they come like men in battle formation
to attack you, O Daughter of Zion."

24 We have heard reports about them,
and our hands hang limp.
Anguish has gripped us,
pain like that of a woman in labor.[q] 25 Do not go out to the fields or walk on the roads,
for the enemy has a sword,
and there is terror on every side.
26 O my people, put on sackcloth[r] and roll in ashes;[s] mourn with bitter wailing as for an only son, for suddenly the destroyer will come upon us.

27 "I have made you a tester of metals and my people the ore, that you may observe and test their ways.
28 They are all hardened rebels, going about to slander.
They are bronze and iron;[t]
they all act corruptly.
29 The bellows blow fiercely to burn away the lead with fire, but the refining goes on in vain;
the wicked are not purged out.
30 They are called rejected silver, because the LORD has rejected them."

6:24
[q] Jer 4:31; 50:41-43

6:26
[r] Jer 4:8
[s] Jer 25:34

6:28
[t] Eze 22:18

6:29, 30 Metal is purified by fire. As it is heated, impurities are burned away and only the pure metal remains. As God tested the people of Judah, however, he could find no purity in their lives. They continued in their sinful ways. Do you see impurities in your life that should be burned away? Confess these to God and allow him to purify you as he sees fit. Take time right now to reflect on the areas of your life that he has already refined; then thank him for what he is doing.

False Religion Worthless

7 This is the word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD: 2"Stand at the gate of the LORD's house and there proclaim this message:

" 'Hear the word of the LORD, all you people of Judah who come through these gates to worship the LORD. 3This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: Reform your ways[u] and your actions, and I will let you live in this place. 4Do not trust in deceptive[v] words and say, "This is the temple of the LORD, the temple of the LORD, the temple of the LORD!" 5If you really change your ways and your actions and deal with each other justly, 6if you do not oppress the alien, the fatherless or the widow and do not shed innocent blood in this place, and if you do not follow other gods[w] to your own harm, 7then I will let you live in this place, in the land I gave your forefathers for ever and ever. 8But look, you are trusting in deceptive words that are worthless.

9" 'Will you steal and murder, commit adultery and perjury,[n] burn incense to Baal and follow other gods[x] you have not known, 10and then come and stand before me in this house,[y] which bears my Name, and say, "We are safe" — safe to do all these detestable things? 11Has this house, which bears my Name, become a den of robbers[z] to you? But I have been watching! declares the LORD.

12" 'Go now to the place in Shiloh[a] where I first made a dwelling for my Name, and see what I did[b] to it because of the wickedness of my people Israel. 13While you were doing all these things, declares the LORD, I spoke to you again and again, but you did not listen;[c] I called you, but you did not answer. 14Therefore, what I did to Shiloh I will now do to the house that bears my Name, the temple you trust in, the place I gave to you and your fathers. 15I will thrust you from my presence, just as I did all your brothers, the people of Ephraim.'[d]

16"So do not pray for this people nor offer any plea[e] or petition for them; do not plead with me, for I will not listen to you. 17Do you not see what they are doing in the towns of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem? 18The children gather wood, the fathers light the fire, and the women knead the dough and make cakes of bread for the Queen of Heaven. They pour out drink offerings to other gods to provoke me to anger. 19But am I the one they are provoking? declares the LORD. Are they not rather harming themselves, to their own shame?

20" 'Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: My anger and my wrath will n 9 Or and swear by false gods

7:3 u Jer 18:11; 26:13

7:4 v Mic 3:11

7:6 w Dt 8:19

7:9 x Ex 20:3

7:10 y Jer 32:34; Eze 23:38-39

7:11 z Mt 21:13*

7:12 a Jos 18:1 b 1Sa 4:10-11, 22

7:13 c Isa 65:12

7:15 d Ps 78:67

7:16 e Ex 32:10

7:1 – 10:25 As this section opens, God sends Jeremiah to the temple gates to confront the false belief that God will not let harm come to the temple and those who live near it. Jeremiah rebukes the people for their false and worthless religion, their idolatry, and the shameless behavior of the people and their leaders. Judah, he says, is ripe for judgment and exile. This happened during the reign of Jehoiakim, a puppet of Egypt. The nation, in shock over the death of Josiah, was going through a spiritual reversal that removed much of the good Josiah had done. The themes of this section are false religion, idolatry, and hypocrisy. Jeremiah was almost put to death for this sermon, but he was saved by the officials of Judah (see chapter 26).

7:2, 3 The people followed a worship ritual but maintained a sinful life-style. It was religion without personal commitment to God. We can easily do the same. Attending church, taking communion, teaching church school, singing in the choir – all are empty exercises unless we are truly doing them for God. It is good to do these activities, not because we ought to do them for the church, but because we want to do them for God.

7:9–11 There are several parallels between how the people of Judah viewed their temple and how many today view their churches. (1) They didn't make the temple part of their daily living. We go to beautiful churches well-prepared for worship, but often we don't take the presence of God with us through the week. (2) The image of the temple became more important than the substance of faith. The image of going to church and belonging to a group can become more important than a life changed for God. (3) The people used their temple as a sanctuary. Many use religious affiliation as a hideout, thinking it will protect them from evil and problems.

7:11, 12 Jesus used these words from 7:11 in clearing the temple (Mark 11:17; Luke 19:46). This passage applied to the evil in the temple in Jesus' day as well as in Jeremiah's. God's tabernacle had been at Shiloh, but Shiloh had been abandoned (Psalm 78:60; Jeremiah 26:6). If God did not preserve Shiloh because the tabernacle was there, why would he preserve Jerusalem because of the temple?

7:15 Ephraim is another name for Israel, the northern kingdom, which had been taken into captivity by Assyria in 722 B.C.

7:18 The Queen of Heaven was a name for Ishtar, the Mesopotamian goddess of love and fertility. After the fall of Jerusalem, the refugees from Judah who fled to Egypt continued to worship her (44 17). A papyrus dating from the 5th century B.C., found at Hermopolis in Egypt, mentions the Queen of Heaven among the gods hon ored by the Jewish community living there.

7:19 This verse answers the question, "Who gets hurt when we turn away from God?" We do! Separating ourselves from God is like keeping a green plant away from sunlight or water. God is our only source of spiritual strength. Cut yourself off from him, and you cut off life itself.

be poured out on this place, on man and beast, on the trees of the field and on the fruit of the ground, and it will burn and not be quenched.

21" 'This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: Go ahead, add your burnt offerings to your other sacrifices[f] and eat[g] the meat yourselves! 22For when I brought your forefathers out of Egypt and spoke to them, I did not just give them commands about burnt offerings and sacrifices,[h] 23but I gave them this command: Obey me, and I will be your God and you will be my people.[i] Walk in all the ways I command you, that it may go well with you. 24But they did not listen or pay attention; instead, they followed the stubborn inclinations of their evil hearts. They went backward and not forward. 25From the time your forefathers left Egypt until now, day after day, again and again I sent you my servants the prophets. 26But they did not listen to me or pay attention. They were stiff-necked and did more evil than their forefathers.'[j]

27"When you tell[k] them all this, they will not listen to you; when you call to them, they will not answer. 28Therefore say to them, 'This is the nation that has not obeyed the LORD its God or responded to correction. Truth has perished; it has vanished from their lips. 29Cut off[l] your hair and throw it away; take up a lament on the barren heights, for the LORD has rejected and abandoned this generation that is under his wrath.

The Valley of Slaughter

30" 'The people of Judah have done evil in my eyes, declares the LORD. They have set up their detestable idols[m] in the house that bears my Name and have defiled it. 31They have built the high places of Topheth[n] in the Valley of Ben Hinnom to burn their sons and daughters in the fire — something I did not command, nor did it enter my mind. 32So beware, the days are coming, declares the LORD, when people will no longer call it Topheth or the Valley of Ben Hinnom, but the Valley of Slaughter,[o] for they will bury[p] the dead in Topheth until there is no more room. 33Then the carcasses of this people will become food for the birds of the air and the beasts of the earth, and there will be no one to frighten them away. 34I will bring an end to the sounds[q] of joy and gladness and to the voices of bride and bridegroom[r] in the towns of Judah and the streets of Jerusalem, for the land will become desolate.

8 " 'At that time, declares the LORD, the bones of the kings and officials of Judah, the bones of the priests and prophets, and the bones of the people of Jerusalem will be removed from their graves. 2They will be exposed to the sun and the moon and all the stars of the heavens, which they have loved and served and which they have followed and consulted and worshiped. They will not be gathered up or buried, but will be like refuse lying on the ground. 3Wherever I banish them, all the survivors of this evil nation will prefer death to life,[s] declares the LORD Almighty.'

7:21 [f]Am 5:21-22 [g]Hos 8:13
7:22 [h]1Sa 15:22
7:23 [i]Lev 26:12
7:26 [j]Jer 16:12
7:27 [k]Eze 2:7
7:29 [l]Job 1:20
7:30 [m]Eze 7:20-22
7:31 [n]2Ki 23:10
7:32 [o]Jer 19:6 [p]Jer 19:11
7:34 [q]Isa 24:8 [r]Rev 18:23
8:3 [s]Job 3:22; Rev 9:6

7:21-23 God had set up a system of sacrifices to encourage the people to joyfully obey him (see the book of Leviticus). He required the people to make these sacrifices, not because the sacrifices themselves pleased him, but because they caused the people to recognize their sin and refocus on living for God. They faithfully made the sacrifices but forgot the reason they were offering them, and thus they disobeyed God. Jeremiah reminded the people that acting out religious rituals was meaningless unless they were prepared to obey God in all areas of life. (See the chart in Hosea 7.)

7:25 From the time of Moses to the end of the Old Testament period, God sent many prophets to Israel and Judah. No matter how bad the circumstances were, God always raised up a prophet to speak against their stubborn spiritual attitudes.

7:31, 32 The high places (or altars) of Topheth (meaning "fireplace") were set up in the Valley of Ben Hinnom, where debris and rubbish from the city were thrown away. This altar was used to worship Molech — a god who required child sacrifice (2 Kings 23:10). Their valley of sacrifice would become their valley of slaughter by the Babylonians. At the place where the people had killed their children in sinful idol worship, they themselves would be slaughtered.

8:1, 2 The threat that the graves of Judah's people would be opened was horrible to a people who highly honored the dead and believed that it was the highest desecration to open graves. This would be an ironic punishment for idol worshipers: their bones would be laid out before the sun, moon, and stars — the gods they thought could save them.

Sin and Punishment

4"Say to them, 'This is what the LORD says:

" 'When men fall down, do they not get up?
When a man turns away, does he not return?
5Why then have these people turned away?
Why does Jerusalem always turn away?
They cling to deceit;
they refuse to return.
6I have listened attentively,
but they do not say what is right.
No one repents of his wickedness, saying, "What have I done?"
Each pursues his own course like a horse charging into battle.
7Even the stork in the sky knows her appointed seasons, and the dove, the swift and the thrush observe the time of their migration.
But my people do not know the requirements of the LORD.

8" 'How can you say, "We are wise, for we have the law[t] of the LORD," when actually the lying pen of the scribes has handled it falsely?
9The wise will be put to shame;
they will be dismayed and trapped.
Since they have rejected the word of the LORD,
what kind of wisdom do they have?
10Therefore I will give their wives to other men and their fields to new owners.
From the least to the greatest,
all are greedy for gain;[u]
prophets and priests alike,
all practice deceit.
11They dress the wound of my people
as though it were not serious.
"Peace, peace," they say,
when there is no peace.
12Are they ashamed of their loathsome conduct?
No, they have no shame[v] at all;
they do not even know how to blush.
So they will fall among the fallen;
they will be brought down when they are punished,
says the LORD.

13" 'I will take away their harvest,
declares the LORD.
There will be no grapes on the vine.[w]
There will be no figs on the tree, and their leaves will wither.[x]
What I have given them

8:8 [t]Ro 2:17

8:10 [u]Isa 56:11

8:12 [v]Jer 3:3

8:13 [w]Joel 1:7 [x]Mt 21:19

8:4–6 When people fall down or realize that they are headed in the wrong direction, it only makes sense for them to get up or change directions. But as God watched the nation, he saw people living sinful lives by choice, deceiving themselves that there would be no consequences. They had lost perspective concerning God's will for their lives and were trying to minimize their sin. Are there some indicators that you have fallen down or are heading the wrong way? What are you doing to get back on the right path?

will be taken from them.[o]' "

14"Why are we sitting here?
Gather together!
Let us flee to the fortified cities
and perish there!
For the LORD our God has doomed us to perish and given us poisoned water[y] to drink, because we have sinned[z] against him.
15We hoped for peace
but no good has come,
for a time of healing
but there was only terror.[a] 16The snorting of the enemy's horses is heard from Dan;
at the neighing of their stallions
the whole land trembles.
They have come to devour
the land and everything in it,
the city and all who live there."

17"See, I will send venomous snakes among you, vipers that cannot be charmed,[b] and they will bite you,"
declares the LORD.

18O my Comforter[p] in sorrow,
my heart is faint within me.
19Listen to the cry of my people from a land far away:
"Is the LORD not in Zion?
Is her King no longer there?"

"Why have they provoked me to anger with their images, with their worthless foreign idols?"

20"The harvest is past,
the summer has ended,
and we are not saved."

21Since my people are crushed, I am crushed;
I mourn, and horror grips me.
22Is there no balm in Gilead?[c]
Is there no physician there?
Why then is there no healing for the wound of my people?

8:14 [y] Jer 9:15 [z] Jer 14:7, 20
8:15 [a] Jer 14:19
8:17 [b] Ps 58:5
8:22 [c] Ge 37:25

[o] 13 The meaning of the Hebrew for this sentence is uncertain. [p] 18 The meaning of the Hebrew for this word is uncertain.

8:16 Dan was the northernmost tribe in Israel.

8:18 Jeremiah was pleading with God to save his people.

8:20–22 These words vividly portray Jeremiah's emotion as he watched his people reject God. He responded with anguish to a world dying in sin. We watch that same world still dying in sin, still rejecting God. But how often is our heart broken for our lost friends and neighbors, our lost world? Only when we have Jeremiah's kind of passionate concern will we be moved to help. We must begin by asking God to break our hearts for the world he loves.

8:22 Gilead was famous for its healing balm (medicine). This is a rhetorical question. The obvious answer is, "Yes—God," but Israel was not applying the "balm"; they were not obeying the Lord. Although the people's spiritual sickness was still very deep, it could be healed. But the people refused the medicine. God could heal their self-inflicted wounds, but he would not force his healing on them.

9

1 Oh, that my head were a spring of water and my eyes a fountain of tears!
I would weep day and night for the slain of my people.[d] 2 Oh, that I had in the desert a lodging place for travelers, so that I might leave my people
and go away from them;
for they are all adulterers,[e]
a crowd of unfaithful people.

3 "They make ready their tongue like a bow, to shoot lies;[f] it is not by truth
that they triumph[q] in the land.
They go from one sin to another;
they do not acknowledge me,"
declares the LORD.

4 "Beware of your friends;
do not trust your brothers.[g]
For every brother is a deceiver,[r] and every friend a slanderer.
5 Friend deceives friend,
and no one speaks the truth.
They have taught their tongues to lie;
they weary themselves with sinning.
6 You[s] live in the midst of deception;[h] in their deceit they refuse to acknowledge me,"
declares the LORD.

7 Therefore this is what the LORD Almighty says:

"See, I will refine[i] and test them,
for what else can I do
because of the sin of my people?
8 Their tongue is a deadly arrow;
it speaks with deceit.
With his mouth each speaks cordially to his neighbor,
but in his heart he sets a trap for him.
9 Should I not punish them for this?"
declares the LORD.
"Should I not avenge myself
on such a nation as this?"

10 I will weep and wail for the mountains and take up a lament concerning the desert pastures.
They are desolate and untraveled,
and the lowing of cattle is not heard.
The birds of the air[j] have fled and the animals are gone.

11 "I will make Jerusalem a heap of ruins, a haunt of jackals;[k]

9:1 [d] Isa 22:4
9:2 [e] Jer 23:10
9:3 [f] Ps 64:3
9:4 [g] Mic 7:5-6
9:6 [h] Jer 5:27
9:7 [i] Isa 1:25
9:10 [j] Jer 4:25; Hos 4:3
9:11 [k] Isa 34:13

[q] 3 Or lies; / they are not valiant for truth [r] 4 Or a deceiving Jacob [s] 6 That is, Jeremiah (the Hebrew is singular)

9:1–6 Jeremiah felt conflicting emotions concerning his people. Lying, deceit, treachery, adultery, and idolatry had become common sins. He was angered by their sin, but he had compassion too. He was set apart from them by his mission for God, but he was also one of them. Jesus had similar feelings when he stood before Jerusalem, the city that would reject him (Matthew 23:37).

and I will lay waste the towns of Judah so no one can live there."[l]

9:11 [l] Isa 25:2

12 What man is wise enough to understand this? Who has been instructed by the LORD and can explain it? Why has the land been ruined and laid waste like a desert that no one can cross?

13 The LORD said, "It is because they have forsaken my law, which I set before them; they have not obeyed me or followed my law. 14 Instead, they have followed the stubbornness of their hearts; they have followed the Baals, as their fathers taught them." 15 Therefore, this is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: "See, I will make this people eat bitter food and drink poisoned water.[m] 16 I will scatter them among nations[n] that neither they nor their fathers have known, and I will pursue them with the sword[o] until I have destroyed them."[p]

9:15 [m] Jer 8:14

9:16 [n] Lev 26:33 [o] Eze 5:2 [p] Jer 44:27

17 This is what the LORD Almighty says:

"Consider now! Call for the wailing women[q] to come;
send for the most skillful of them.
18 Let them come quickly and wail over us
till our eyes overflow with tears and water streams from our eyelids.
19 The sound of wailing is heard from Zion:
'How ruined we are!
How great is our shame!
We must leave our land
because our houses are in ruins.' "

20 Now, O women, hear the word of the LORD;
open your ears to the words of his mouth.
Teach your daughters how to wail;
teach one another a lament.
21 Death has climbed in through our windows and has entered our fortresses;
it has cut off the children from the streets and the young men from the public squares.

9:17 [q] Ecc 12:5

22 Say, "This is what the LORD declares:

" 'The dead bodies of men will lie like refuse on the open field, like cut grain behind the reaper,
with no one to gather them.' "

23 This is what the LORD says:

"Let not the wise man boast of his wisdom[r] or the strong man boast of his strength or the rich man boast of his riches, 24 but let him who boasts boast[s] about this:
that he understands and knows me,
that I am the LORD,[t] who exercises kindness,[u] justice and righteousness on earth, for in these I delight,"

declares the LORD.

9:23 [r] Ecc 9:11

9:24 [s] 1Co 1:31* [t] 2Co 10:17* [u] Ps 51:1

9:23, 24 People tend to admire four qualities in others: human wisdom, power (strength), kindness, and riches. But God puts a higher priority on knowing him personally and living a life that reflects his justice and righteousness. What do you want people to admire most about you?

25"The days are coming," declares the LORD, "when I will punish all who are circumcised only in the flesh— 26Egypt, Judah, Edom, Ammon, Moab and all who live in the desert in distant places.[t][v] For all these nations are really uncir- 9:26 [v]Jer 25:23
cumcised, and even the whole house of Israel is uncircumcised in heart."

God and Idols

10 Hear what the LORD says to you, O house of Israel. 2This is what the LORD says:

"Do not learn the ways of the nations[w] 10:2 [w]Lev 20:23 or be terrified by signs in the sky, though the nations are terrified by them.
3For the customs of the peoples are worthless;
they cut a tree out of the forest, and a craftsman[x] shapes it with his chisel. 10:3 [x]Isa 40:19 4They adorn it with silver and gold;
they fasten it with hammer and nails so it will not totter.[y] 10:4 [y]Isa 41:7 5Like a scarecrow in a melon patch, their idols cannot speak;[z] 10:5 [z]1Co 12:2
they must be carried [a]Isa 41:24; 46:7
because they cannot walk.
Do not fear them;
they can do no harm
nor can they do any good."[a]

6No one is like you, O LORD;
you are great,
and your name is mighty in power.
7Who should not revere you,
O King of the nations?
This is your due.
Among all the wise men of the nations and in all their kingdoms,
there is no one like you.
8They are all senseless and foolish;
they are taught by worthless wooden idols.
9Hammered silver is brought from Tarshish and gold from Uphaz.
What the craftsman and goldsmith have made[b] 10:9 [b]Ps 115:4 is then dressed in blue and purple—all made by skilled workers.
10But the LORD is the true God;

[t] 26 Or desert and who clip the hair by their foreheads

9:25, 26 Circumcision went back to the time of Abraham. For the people of Israel it was a symbol of their covenant relationship to God (Genesis 17:9–14). Circumcision was also practiced by pagan nations, but not as the sign of a covenant with God. By Jeremiah's time, the Israelites had forgotten the spiritual significance of circumcision even though they continued to do the physical ritual.

10:2, 3 Most people would like to know the future. Decisions would be easier, certain failures avoided, and some successes assured. The people of Judah wanted to know the future too, and they tried to discern it through reading the signs in the sky. Jeremiah's response applies today: God made the earth and the heavens, including stars that people consult and worship (10:12). No one will discover the future in made-up charts of God's stars. But God, who promises to guide you, knows your future and will be with you all the way. He may not reveal your future to you, but he will walk with you as the future unfolds. Don't trust the stars; trust the One who made the stars.

10:8 Those who put their trust in a chunk of wood, even though it is carved well and clothed beautifully, are foolish. The simplest person who worships God is wiser than the wisest person who worships a worthless substitute, because this person has discerned who God really is. In what or whom do you place your trust?

10:9 Tarshish was located at the westward limit of the ancient world, perhaps in what is now Spain (see Jonah 1:3). It was a source of silver, tin, lead, and iron for Tyre (Ezekiel 27:12). The location of Uphaz is unknown. Instead, it may be a metallurgical term for "refined gold." No matter how well made or how beautiful idols are, they can never have the power and life of the true and living God.

he is the living God, the eternal King.
When he is angry, the earth trembles;
the nations cannot endure his wrath.

11"Tell them this: 'These gods, who did not make the heavens and the earth, will 10:11 perish[c] from the earth and from under the heavens.' "[u]
[c] Isa 2:18

12But God made the earth by his power;
he founded the world by his wisdom
10:12 and stretched out the heavens[d] by his understanding.
[d] Ge 1:1, 8
13When he thunders, the waters in the heavens roar;
he makes clouds rise from the ends of the earth.
10:13 He sends lightning with the rain[e]
[e] Ps 135:7 and brings out the wind from his storehouses.

14Everyone is senseless and without knowledge;
every goldsmith is shamed by his idols.
His images are a fraud;
they have no breath in them.
15They are worthless, the objects of mockery;
when their judgment comes, they will perish.
10:16 16He who is the Portion[f] of Jacob is not like these,
[f] Dt 32:9 for he is the Maker of all things, including Israel, the tribe of his inheritance—
the LORD Almighty is his name.

Coming Destruction

10:17 17Gather up your belongings[g] to leave the land,
[g] Eze 12:3-12 you who live under siege.
18For this is what the LORD says:
10:18 "At this time I will hurl[h] out
[h] 1Sa 25:29 those who live in this land;
I will bring distress on them
so that they may be captured."

19Woe to me because of my injury!
My wound is incurable!
Yet I said to myself,
10:19 "This is my sickness, and I must endure[i] it."
[i] Mic 7:9
10:20 20My tent[j] is destroyed;
[j] Jer 4:20 all its ropes are snapped.
My sons are gone from me and are no more;
no one is left now to pitch my tent or to set up my shelter.
21The shepherds are senseless and do not inquire of the LORD;
so they do not prosper
10:21 and all their flock is scattered.[k]
[k] Jer 23:2
22Listen! The report is coming—a great commotion from the land of the north!
It will make the towns of Judah desolate, a haunt of jackals.

[u] 11 The text of this verse is in Aramaic.

10:19–21 In this section, Jeremiah uses the picture of nomads wandering in the desert trying to pitch their tents. The shepherds of the nation are the evil leaders responsible for the distress. The flock is the people of Judah. Instead of guiding the people to God, the leaders were leading them astray.

Jeremiah's Prayer

23I know, O LORD, that a man's life is not his own;
it is not for man to direct his steps.
24Correct me, LORD, but only with justice—not in your anger,[l]
lest you reduce me to nothing.
25Pour out your wrath on the nations that do not acknowledge you, on the peoples who do not call on your name.
For they have devoured Jacob;
they have devoured him completely and destroyed his homeland.[m]

10:24 [l]Ps 6:1

10:25 [m]Ps 79:6-7

3. Jeremiah prophesies destruction

The Covenant Is Broken

11 This is the word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD: 2"Listen to the terms of this covenant and tell them to the people of Judah and to those who live in Jerusalem. 3Tell them that this is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says: 'Cursed[n] is the man who does not obey the terms of this covenant— 4the terms I commanded your forefathers when I brought them out of Egypt, out of the iron-smelting furnace.' I said, 'Obey[o] me and do everything I command you, and you will be my people,[p] and I will be your God. 5Then I will fulfill the oath I swore[q] to your forefathers, to give them a land flowing with milk and honey'—the land you possess today."

11:3 [n]Dt 27:26

11:4 [o]Ex 24:8 [p]Jer 7:23

11:5 [q]Dt 7:12

I answered, "Amen, LORD."

6The LORD said to me, "Proclaim all these words in the towns of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem: 'Listen to the terms of this covenant and follow[r] them. 7From the time I brought your forefathers up from Egypt until today, I warned them again and again, saying, "Obey me." 8But they did not listen or pay attention; instead, they followed the stubbornness of their evil hearts. So I brought on them all the curses of the covenant I had commanded them to follow but that they did not keep.' "

11:6 [r]Dt 15:5; Jas 1:22

9Then the LORD said to me, "There is a conspiracy[s] among the people of Judah and those who live in Jerusalem. 10They have returned to the sins of their forefathers, who refused to listen to my words. They have followed other gods[t] to serve them. Both the house of Israel and the house of Judah have broken the covenant I made with their forefathers. 11Therefore this is what the LORD says: 'I will bring on them a disaster they cannot escape. Although they cry[u] out to me, I will not listen to them. 12The towns of Judah and the people of Jerusalem will go and cry out to the gods to whom they burn incense, but they will not help them at all when disaster[v] strikes. 13You have as many gods as you have towns, O Judah; and the altars you have set up to burn incense to that shameful god Baal are as many as the streets of Jerusalem.'

11:9 [s]Eze 22:25

11:10 [t]Jdg 2:12-13

11:11 [u]Jer 14:12

11:12 [v]Dt 32:37

14"Do not pray[w] for this people nor offer any plea or petition for them, because I will not listen when they call to me in the time of their distress.

11:14 [w]Ex 32:10

10:23, 24 God's ability to direct our lives well is infinitely beyond our ability. Sometimes we are afraid of God's power and God's plans because we know his power would easily crush us if he used it against us. Don't be afraid to let God correct your plans. He will give you wisdom if you are willing.

11:1—13:27 This section concerns the broken covenant, and a rebuke for those who returned to idols after Josiah's reform. Jeremiah's rebuke prompted a threat against his life by his own countrymen. As Jeremiah suffered, he pondered the prosperity of the wicked. As he brought these words to a close, he used a ruined linen belt and filled wineskins as object lessons of God's coming judgment (see the note on 13:1–11).

11:14 At first glance this command is shocking – God tells Jeremiah not to pray, and says he won't listen to the people if they pray. A time comes when God must dispense justice. Sin brings its own bitter reward. If the people were unrepentant and continued in their sin, neither their prayers nor Jeremiah's would prevent God's judgment. Their only hope was repentance – sorrow for sin, turning from it, and turning to God. How can we keep praying for God's help if we haven't committed our lives to him? God's blessings come when we are committed to him, not when we selfishly hang on to our sinful ways.

15"What is my beloved doing in my temple as she works out her evil schemes with many?
Can consecrated meat avert your punishment?
When you engage in your wickedness,
then you rejoice.[v]"

16The LORD called you a thriving olive tree with fruit beautiful in form.
But with the roar of a mighty storm
he will set it on fire,[x] and its branches will be broken.

11:16 [x] Jer 21:14

11:17 [y] Isa 5:2

17The LORD Almighty, who planted[y] you, has decreed disaster for you, because the house of Israel and the house of Judah have done evil and provoked me to anger by burning incense to Baal.

Plot Against Jeremiah

18Because the LORD revealed their plot to me, I knew it, for at that time he showed me what they were doing. 19I had been like a gentle lamb led to the slaughter; I did not realize that they had plotted against me, saying,

"Let us destroy the tree and its fruit;
let us cut him off from the land of the living, that his name be remembered[z] no more."

11:19 [z] Ps 83:4

20But, O LORD Almighty, you who judge righteously and test the heart and mind,
let me see your vengeance upon them,
for to you I have committed my cause.

21"Therefore this is what the LORD says about the men of Anathoth who are seeking your life[a] and saying, 'Do not prophesy in the name of the LORD or you will die by our hands' — 22therefore this is what the LORD Almighty says: 'I will punish them. Their young men[b] will die by the sword, their sons and daughters by famine. 23Not even a remnant will be left to them, because I will bring disaster on the men of Anathoth in the year of their punishment.[c]' "

11:21 [a] Jer 12:6

11:22 [b] Jer 18:21

11:23 [c] Jer 23:12

Jeremiah's Complaint

12 You are always righteous, O LORD, when I bring a case before you.
Yet I would speak with you about your justice:
Why does the way of the wicked prosper?[d]
Why do all the faithless live at ease?

12:1 [d] Jer 5:27-28

2You have planted[e] them, and they have taken root;
they grow and bear fruit.
You are always on their lips but far from their hearts.

12:2 [e] Jer 11:17

[v] 15 Or Could consecrated meat avert your punishment? / Then you would rejoice

11:18–23 To Jeremiah's surprise, the people of Anathoth, his hometown, were plotting to kill him. They wanted to silence Jeremiah's message for several reasons: (1) economic – his condemnation of idol worship would hurt the business of the idol-makers; (2) religious – the message of doom and gloom made the people feel depressed and guilty; (3) political – he openly rebuked their hypocritical politics; and (4) personal – the people hated him for showing them that they were wrong. Jeremiah had two options: run and hide, or call on God. Jeremiah called, and God answered. Like Jeremiah, we can either run and hide when we face threats because of our faithfulness to God, or we can call on God for help. Hiding compromises our message; calling on God lets him reinforce it.

12:1–6 Many people have asked, "Why does the way of the wicked prosper?" (See, for example, Job 21:4–21 and Habakkuk 1:1–4.) Jeremiah knew that God's justice would ultimately come, but he was impatient because he wanted justice to come quickly. God didn't give a doctrinal answer; instead he gave a challenge – if Jeremiah couldn't handle this, how would he handle the injustices ahead? It is natural for us to demand fair play and cry for justice against those who take advantage of others. But when we call for justice, we must realize that we ourselves would be in big trouble if God gave each of us what we truly deserve.

3 Yet you know me, O LORD;
you see me and test[f] my thoughts about you.
Drag them off like sheep to be butchered!
Set them apart for the day of slaughter!
4 How long will the land lie parched[w]
and the grass in every field be withered?[g]
Because those who live in it are wicked,
the animals and birds have perished.
Moreover, the people are saying,
"He will not see what happens to us."

12:3 [f] Ps 139:1-4

12:4 [g] Joel 1:10-12

God's Answer

5 "If you have raced with men on foot and they have worn you out,
how can you compete with horses?
If you stumble in safe country,[x]
how will you manage in the thickets by[y] the Jordan?
6 Your brothers, your own family—even they have betrayed you;
they have raised a loud cry against you.[h]
Do not trust them,
though they speak well of you.

12:6 [h] Pr 26:24-25; Jer 9:4

7 "I will forsake my house, abandon my inheritance;
I will give the one I love into the hands of her enemies.
8 My inheritance has become to me like a lion in the forest.
She roars at me;
therefore I hate her.[i] 9 Has not my inheritance become to me like a speckled bird of prey that other birds of prey surround and attack?
Go and gather all the wild beasts;
bring them to devour.[j] 10 Many shepherds will ruin my vineyard and trample down my field;
they will turn my pleasant field into a desolate wasteland.[k] 11 It will be made a wasteland, parched and desolate before me;
the whole land will be laid waste because there is no one who cares.
12 Over all the barren heights in the desert destroyers will swarm,
for the sword of the LORD will devour from one end of the land to the other;
no one will be safe.
13 They will sow wheat but reap thorns;
they will wear themselves out but gain nothing.[l]

12:8 [i] Hos 9:15

12:9 [j] Isa 56:9

12:10 [k] Isa 5:1-7

12:13 [l] Lev 26:20; Dt 28:38

[w] 4 Or land mourn [x] 5 Or If you put your trust in a land of safety [y] 5 Or the flooding of 12:5, 6 Life was extremely difficult for Jeremiah despite his love for and obedience to God. When he called to God for relief, God's reply in effect was, "If you think this is bad, how are you going to cope when it gets really tough?" Not all of God's answers to prayer are nice or easy to handle. Any Christian who has experienced war, bereavement, or a serious illness knows this. But we are to be committed to God even when the going gets tough and when his answers to our prayers don't bring immediate relief.

So bear the shame of your harvest because of the LORD's fierce anger."

12:14 [m] Zec 2:7-9
12:15 [n] Am 9:14-15
12:16 [o] Jer 4:2

14This is what the LORD says: "As for all my wicked neighbors who seize the inheritance I gave my people Israel, I will uproot[m] them from their lands and I will uproot the house of Judah from among them. 15But after I uproot them, I will again have compassion and will bring[n] each of them back to his own inheritance and his own country. 16And if they learn well the ways of my people and swear by my name, saying, 'As surely as the LORD lives'[o]—even as they once taught my people to swear by Baal—then they will be established among my people. 17But if any nation does not listen, I will completely uproot and destroy it," declares the LORD.

A Linen Belt

13 This is what the LORD said to me: "Go and buy a linen belt and put it around your waist, but do not let it touch water." 2So I bought a belt, as the LORD directed, and put it around my waist.

3Then the word of the LORD came to me a second time: 4"Take the belt you bought and are wearing around your waist, and go now to Perath[z] and hide it there in a crevice in the rocks." 5So I went and hid it at Perath, as the LORD told me.

13:5 [p] Ex 40:16

6Many days later the LORD said to me, "Go now to Perath and get the belt I told you to hide there." 7So I went to Perath and dug up the belt and took it from the place where I had hidden it, but now it was ruined and completely useless.

8Then the word of the LORD came to me: 9"This is what the LORD says: 'In the same way I will ruin the pride of Judah and the great pride[q] of Jerusalem. 10These wicked people, who refuse to listen to my words, who follow the stubbornness of their hearts and go after other gods[r] to serve and worship them, will be like this belt—completely useless! 11For as a belt is bound around a man's waist, so I bound the whole house of Israel and the whole house of Judah to me,' declares the LORD, 'to be my people for my renown[s] and praise and honor.[t] But they have not listened.'

13:9 [q] Lev 26:19
13:10 [r] Jer 9:14
13:11 [s] Jer 32:20 [t] Ex 19:5-6

Wineskins

12"Say to them: 'This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says: Every wineskin should be filled with wine.' And if they say to you, 'Don't we know that every wineskin should be filled with wine?' 13then tell them, 'This is what the LORD says: I am going to fill with drunkenness all who live in this land, including the kings who sit on David's throne, the priests, the prophets and all those living in Jerusalem. 14I will smash them one against the other, fathers and sons alike, declares the LORD. I will allow no pity or mercy or compassion[u] to keep me from destroying them.' "

13:14 [u] Jer 16:5

Threat of Captivity

15Hear and pay attention, do not be arrogant,
for the LORD has spoken.
16Give glory to the LORD your God before he brings the darkness,

[z] 4 Or possibly the Euphrates; also in verses 5-7

13:1 A linen belt was one of the more intimate pieces of clothing, clinging close to the body. It was like underwear. Jeremiah's action showed how God would ruin Judah just as Jeremiah had ruined the linen belt.

13:1–11 Actions speak louder than words. Jeremiah often used vivid object lessons to arouse the people's curiosity and get his point across. This lesson of the linen belt illustrated Judah's destiny. Although the people had once been close to God, their pride had made them useless. Proud people may look important, but God says their pride makes them good for nothing, completely useless. Pride rots our hearts until we lose our usefulness to God.

13:15 While it is good to respect our country and our church, our loyalties always carry a hidden danger—arrogance. When is pride harmful? When it causes us to (1) look down on others; (2) be selfish with our resources; (3) force our solutions on others' problems; (4) think God is blessing us because of our own merits; (5) be content with our plans rather than seeking God's plans.

before your feet stumble on the darkening hills.
You hope for light,
but he will turn it to thick darkness and change it to deep gloom.
17 But if you do not listen,
I will weep in secret
because of your pride;
my eyes will weep bitterly, overflowing with tears,[v]
because the LORD's flock will be taken captive.[w]

13:17
[v] Jer 9:1
[w] Jer 14:18

18 Say to the king and to the queen mother,
"Come down from your thrones, for your glorious crowns will fall from your heads."
19 The cities in the Negev will be shut up, and there will be no one to open them.
All Judah[x] will be carried into exile, carried completely away.

13:19
[x] Jer 20:4

20 Lift up your eyes and see those who are coming from the north.[y]
Where is the flock that was entrusted to you,
the sheep of which you boasted?
21 What will you say when [the LORD] sets over you those you cultivated as your special allies?
Will not pain grip you like that of a woman in labor?
22 And if you ask yourself,
"Why has this happened to me?" —
it is because of your many sins[z] that your skirts have been torn off and your body mistreated.[a] 23 Can the Ethiopian[a] change his skin or the leopard its spots?
Neither can you do good who are accustomed to doing evil.

13:20
[y] Jer 6:22

13:22
[z] Jer 16:10-12
[a] Eze 16:37; Na 3:5-6

24 "I will scatter you like chaff driven by the desert wind.
25 This is your lot,
the portion[b] I have decreed for you,"
declares the LORD,
"because you have forgotten me
and trusted in false gods.
26 I will pull up your skirts over your face that your shame may be seen[c] —

13:25
[b] Job 20:29

13:26
[c] La 1:8

[a] 23 Hebrew Cushite (probably a person from the upper Nile region)

13:18 The king was Jehoiachin, and the queen mother was Nehushta. The king's father, Jehoiakim, had surrendered to Nebuchadnezzar but later rebelled. During Jehoiachin's reign, Nebuchadnezzar's armies besieged Jerusalem, and both Jehoiachin and Nehushta surrendered. Jehoiachin was sent to Babylon and imprisoned (2 Kings 24:1–12). Jeremiah's prophecy came true.

13:19 The Negev region is the dry wasteland stretching south from Beersheba. The towns in this area would be closed to any refugees fleeing the invading army.

13:23 Not even the threat of captivity could move the people to repent. The people had become so accustomed to doing evil that they had lost their ability to change. God never rejects those who sincerely turn to him. God is warning them to repent before it becomes impossible to change. We must never put off until tomorrow those changes God wants us to make. Our attitudes and patterns for living can become so set that we will lose all desire to change and will no longer fear the consequences.

27your adulteries and lustful neighings, your shameless prostitution!
I have seen your detestable acts on the hills and in the fields.
Woe to you, O Jerusalem!
How long will you be unclean?"

Drought, Famine, Sword

14 This is the word of the LORD to Jeremiah concerning the drought:

2"Judah mourns,[d]
her cities languish;
they wail for the land,
and a cry goes up from Jerusalem.
3The nobles send their servants for water;
they go to the cisterns
but find no water.[e]
They return with their jars unfilled;
dismayed and despairing,
they cover their heads.
4The ground is cracked because there is no rain in the land;
the farmers are dismayed and cover their heads.
5Even the doe in the field deserts her newborn fawn because there is no grass.[f] 6Wild donkeys stand on the barren heights[g] and pant like jackals;
their eyesight fails
for lack of pasture."

7Although our sins testify against us,
O LORD, do something for the sake of your name.
For our backsliding is great;
we have sinned against you.
8O Hope[h] of Israel,
its Savior in times of distress,
why are you like a stranger in the land,
like a traveler who stays only a night?
9Why are you like a man taken by surprise, like a warrior powerless to save?
You are among us, O LORD,
and we bear your name;
do not forsake us!

10This is what the LORD says about this people:

"They greatly love to wander;
they do not restrain their feet.[i]
So the LORD does not accept them;
he will now remember their wickedness and punish them for their sins."[j]

14:2 [d] Isa 3:26
14:3 [e] 2Ki 18:31
14:5 [f] Isa 15:6
14:6 [g] Jer 2:24
14:8 [h] Jer 17:13
14:10 [i] Jer 2:25 [j] Hos 8:13

14:1 – 15:21 This section opens with God sending a drought on Judah and refusing to answer their prayers for rain. It continues with Jeremiah's description of judgment to come.

14:1ff Drought was a judgment with devastating consequences. As usual, when their backs were to the wall, the people cried out to God. But God rejected their plea because they did not repent; they merely wanted his rescue. Not even Jeremiah's prayers would help. Their only hope was to turn to God.

11 Then the LORD said to me, "Do not pray[k] for the well-being of this people. 12 Although they fast, I will not listen to their cry; though they offer burnt offerings[l] and grain offerings, I will not accept them. Instead, I will destroy them with the sword, famine and plague."

13 But I said, "Ah, Sovereign LORD, the prophets keep telling them, 'You will not see the sword or suffer famine.[m] Indeed, I will give you lasting peace in this place.' "

14 Then the LORD said to me, "The prophets are prophesying lies in my name. I have not sent them or appointed them or spoken to them. They are prophesying to you false visions, divinations, idolatries[b] and the delusions of their own minds. 15 Therefore, this is what the LORD says about the prophets who are prophesying in my name: I did not send them, yet they are saying, 'No sword or famine will touch this land.' Those same prophets will perish by sword and famine.[n] 16 And the people they are prophesying to will be thrown out into the streets of Jerusalem because of the famine and sword. There will be no one to bury them or their wives, their sons or their daughters. I will pour out on them the calamity they deserve.

17 "Speak this word to them:

" 'Let my eyes overflow with tears night and day without ceasing; for my virgin daughter — my people — has suffered a grievous wound,
a crushing blow.
18 If I go into the country,
I see those slain by the sword;
if I go into the city,
I see the ravages of famine.[o]
Both prophet and priest have gone to a land they know not.' "

19 Have you rejected Judah completely?
Do you despise Zion?
Why have you afflicted us
so that we cannot be healed?[p]
We hoped for peace
but no good has come,
for a time of healing
but there is only terror.[q] 20 O LORD, we acknowledge our wickedness and the guilt of our fathers;
we have indeed sinned against you.
21 For the sake of your name do not despise us;
do not dishonor your glorious throne.[r]
Remember your covenant with us and do not break it.
22 Do any of the worthless idols of the nations bring rain?
Do the skies themselves send down showers?
No, it is you, O LORD our God.
Therefore our hope is in you,
for you are the one who does all this.

14:11 [k] Ex 32:10
14:12 [l] Jer 7:21
14:13 [m] Jer 5:12
14:15 [n] Jer 5:12-13
14:18 [o] Eze 7:15
14:19 [p] Jer 30:12-13 [q] Jer 8:15
14:21 [r] Jer 3:17

[b] 14 Or visions, worthless divinations

14:14 What made the people listen to and support the false prophets? These "prophets" said what the people wanted to hear. False teachers earn fame and money by telling people what they want to hear, but they lead people away from God. If we encourage false teachers, we are as guilty as they are.

14:19–22 Interceding for the people, Jeremiah asked God if Judah's repentance would bring his help. But God refused to come to their aid (15:1) because the people were insincere, wicked, and stubborn. They knew he wanted to bless them, and they knew what they needed to do to receive that blessing. They wanted God to do

15 Then the LORD said to me: "Even if Moses[s] and Samuel were to stand before me, my heart would not go out to this people.[t] Send them away from my presence! Let them go! 2And if they ask you, 'Where shall we go?' tell them, 'This is what the LORD says:

15:1
[s]Ex 32:11
[t]Jer 7:16

" 'Those destined for death, to death;
those for the sword, to the sword;
those for starvation, to starvation;
those for captivity, to captivity.'

3"I will send four kinds of destroyers against them," declares the LORD, "the sword to kill and the dogs to drag away and the birds[u] of the air and the beasts of the earth to devour and destroy. 4I will make them abhorrent to all the kingdoms of the earth[v] because of what Manasseh[w] son of Hezekiah king of Judah did in Jerusalem.

15:3
[u]Dt 28:26

15:4
[v]Dt 28:25
[w]2Ki 23:26-27

5"Who will have pity[x] on you, O Jerusalem?
Who will mourn for you?
Who will stop to ask how you are?
6You have rejected[y] me," declares the LORD.
"You keep on backsliding.
So I will lay hands on you and destroy you;
I can no longer show compassion.
7I will winnow them with a winnowing fork at the city gates of the land.
I will bring bereavement and destruction on my people,[z]
for they have not changed their ways.
8I will make their widows more numerous than the sand of the sea.
At midday I will bring a destroyer against the mothers of their young men;
suddenly I will bring down on them anguish and terror.
9The mother of seven will grow faint[a]
and breathe her last.
Her sun will set while it is still day;
she will be disgraced and humiliated.
I will put the survivors to the sword before their enemies,"
declares the LORD.

15:5
[x]Isa 51:19

15:6
[y]Jer 6:19

15:7
[z]Jer 18:21

15:9
[a]1Sa 2:5

10Alas, my mother, that you gave me birth,[b] a man with whom the whole land strives and contends!
I have neither lent nor borrowed,
yet everyone curses me.

15:10
[b]Job 3:1

11The LORD said,

"Surely I will deliver you for a good purpose;
surely I will make your enemies plead with you in times of disaster and times of distress.

---

his part, but they did not want to do theirs. It's easy to express sorrow for wrong actions, especially when we want something, but we must be willing to stop doing what is wrong. God will forgive those who are truly repentant, but hypocrites will be severely punished.

15:1 Moses and Samuel were two of God's greatest prophets. Like Jeremiah, both interceded between God and the people (Exodus 32:11; Numbers 14:11–20; 1 Samuel 7:9; 12:17; Psalm 99:6). Intercession is often effective. In this case, however, the people were so wicked and stubborn that God knew they would not turn to him.

15:3, 4 The goal of these destroyers was to destroy the living and devour the dead. This would happen because of Manasseh's evil reign and the people's sin (2 Kings 21:1–16; 23:26; 24:3), and the destruction would be complete. The people may have argued that they should not be responsible for Manasseh's sins, but they continued what Manasseh began. If we follow corrupt leaders knowingly, we can't excuse ourselves by blaming their bad example.

12"Can a man break iron—iron from the north—or bronze?
13Your wealth and your treasures
I will give as plunder, without charge,[c] because of all your sins
throughout your country.
14I will enslave you to your enemies
in[c] a land you do not know, for my anger will kindle a fire that will burn against you."

15You understand, O LORD;
remember me and care for me.
Avenge me on my persecutors.
You are long-suffering—do not take me away;
think of how I suffer reproach for your sake.[d] 16When your words came, I ate[e] them;
they were my joy and my heart's delight,
for I bear your name,
O LORD God Almighty.
17I never sat[f] in the company of revelers, never made merry with them;
I sat alone because your hand was on me and you had filled me with indignation.
18Why is my pain unending and my wound grievous and incurable?
Will you be to me like a deceptive brook,
like a spring that fails?

19Therefore this is what the LORD says:

"If you repent, I will restore you that you may serve me;
if you utter worthy, not worthless, words,
you will be my spokesman.
Let this people turn to you,
but you must not turn to them.
20I will make you a wall to this people,
a fortified wall of bronze;
they will fight against you but will not overcome you, for I am with you to rescue and save you,"[g]
declares the LORD.
21"I will save you from the hands of the wicked and redeem you from the grasp of the cruel."

15:13 [c] Ps 44:12

15:15 [d] Ps 69:7-9

15:16 [e] Eze 3:3

15:17 [f] Ps 1:1; 26:4-5; Jer 16:8

15:20 [g] Jer 20:11

Day of Disaster

16 Then the word of the LORD came to me: 2"You must not marry and have sons or daughters in this place." 3For this is what the LORD says about the sons and daughters born in this land and about the women who are their mothers and the men

[c] 14 Some Hebrew manuscripts, Septuagint and Syriac (see also Jer. 17:4); most Hebrew manuscripts I will cause your enemies to bring you / into

15:17–21 Jeremiah accused God of not helping him when he really needed it. Jeremiah had taken his eyes off God's purposes and was feeling sorry for himself. He was angry, hurt, and afraid. In response, God didn't get angry at Jeremiah; he answered by rearranging Jeremiah's priorities. As God's mouthpiece, he was to influence the people, not let them influence him. There are three important lessons in this passage: (1) in prayer we can reveal our deepest thoughts to God; (2) God expects us to trust him, no matter what; (3) we are here to influence others for God.

16:1–17:18 This section portrays the coming day of disaster. It who are their fathers: 4"They will die of deadly diseases. They will not be mourned or buried but will be like refuse lying on the ground. They will perish by sword and famine, and their dead bodies will become food for the birds of the air and the beasts of the earth."

5For this is what the LORD says: "Do not enter a house where there is a funeral meal; do not go to mourn or show sympathy, because I have withdrawn my blessing, my love and my pity from this people," declares the LORD. 6"Both high and low will die in this land. They will not be buried or mourned, and no one will cut himself or shave his head for them. 7No one will offer food to comfort those who mourn for the dead — not even for a father or a mother — nor will anyone give them a drink to console them.

8"And do not enter a house where there is feasting and sit down to eat and drink. 9For this is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: Before your eyes and in your days I will bring an end to the sounds of joy and gladness and to the voices of bride and bridegroom in this place.[h]

16:9 [h] Rev 18:23

10"When you tell these people all this and they ask you, 'Why has the LORD decreed such a great disaster against us? What wrong have we done? What sin have we committed against the LORD our God?'[i] 11then say to them, 'It is because your fathers forsook me,' declares the LORD, 'and followed other gods and served and worshiped them. They forsook me and did not keep my law. 12But you have behaved more wickedly than your fathers.[j] See how each of you is following the stubbornness of his evil heart instead of obeying me. 13So I will throw you out of this land into a land neither you nor your fathers have known,[k] and there you will serve other gods day and night, for I will show you no favor.'

16:10 [i] Dt 29:24; Jer 5:19

16:12 [j] Jer 7:26

16:13 [k] Dt 28:36

14"However, the days are coming," declares the LORD, "when men will no longer say, 'As surely as the LORD lives, who brought the Israelites up out of Egypt,' 15but they will say, 'As surely as the LORD lives, who brought the Israelites up out of the land of the north and out of all the countries where he had banished them.' For I will restore them to the land I gave their forefathers.

16"But now I will send for many fishermen," declares the LORD, "and they will catch them.[l] After that I will send for many hunters, and they will hunt them down on every mountain and hill and from the crevices of the rocks. 17My eyes are on all their ways; they are not hidden from me, nor is their sin concealed from my eyes. 18I will repay them double for their wickedness and their sin, because they have defiled my land with the lifeless forms of their vile images and have filled my inheritance with their detestable idols."

16:16 [l] Am 4:2; Hab 1:14-15

19O LORD, my strength and my fortress, my refuge in time of distress,

---

begins by showing Jeremiah's loneliness. He is a social outcast because of his harsh messages and his celibate life-style. He must not marry, have children, or take part in funerals or festivals. The section concludes with another appeal to avoid judgment by turning to God. The people did not heed Jeremiah's words, however, and the first wave of destruction came almost immediately, in 605 B.C. (2 Kings 24:8–12). The second wave came in 597 B.C., and Judah was completely destroyed in 586 B.C.

16:5–7 In Jeremiah's culture, it was unthinkable not to show grief publicly. The absence of mourning showed the people how complete their devastation would be. So many people would die that it would be impossible to carry out mourning rituals for all of them.

16:8–13 Jeremiah was also told not to participate in parties or other joyful events to show how seriously God took the nation's sins. In both cases (no public grief or joy), Jeremiah's life was to be an attention-getter and an illustration of God's truth. Sometimes we think that the only way to communicate is through speaking or teaching, but God can use a wide variety of means to bring his message. Use your creativity.

16:14, 15 The book of Exodus records God's miraculous rescue of his people from Egyptian slavery (Exodus 1 – 15). The people's return from exile would be so momentous that it would overshadow even the exodus from Egypt. Even though his people had been so stubborn, God would once again show his great mercy.

16:17 Small children think that if they can't see you, then you can't see them. The people of Israel may have wished that hiding from God were as simple as closing their eyes. Although they closed their eyes to their sinful ways, their sins certainly weren't hidden from God. He who sees everything cannot be deceived. Do you have a sinful attitude or action that you hope God won't notice? He knows about it. The first step of repentance is to acknowledge that God knows about your sins.

16:19 In this prayer, Jeremiah approached God with three descriptive names: strength, fortress, and refuge. Each name gives a slightly different glimpse of how Jeremiah experienced God's presence, and each is a picture of security and protection. Let God be your strength when you feel weak, your fortress when enemies come against you, and your refuge when you need to retreat from life's pressures.

to you the nations will come from the ends of the earth and say,
"Our fathers possessed nothing but false gods, worthless idols that did them no good.
20Do men make their own gods?
Yes, but they are not gods!"[m]

16:20
[m]Jer 2:11

21"Therefore I will teach them—this time I will teach them my power and might.
Then they will know that my name is the LORD.

17 "Judah's sin is engraved with an iron tool,[n] inscribed with a flint point, on the tablets of their hearts[o]
and on the horns of their altars.
2Even their children remember their altars and Asherah poles[d] beside the spreading trees and on the high hills.
3My mountain in the land and your[e] wealth and all your treasures
I will give away as plunder, together with your high places,
because of sin throughout your country.
4Through your own fault you will lose the inheritance I gave you.
I will enslave you to your enemies
in a land you do not know,
for you have kindled my anger, and it will burn[p] forever."

17:1
[n]Job 19:24
[o]2Co 3:3

17:4
[p]Jer 7:20

5This is what the LORD says:

"Cursed is the one who trusts in man,[q] who depends on flesh for his strength and whose heart turns away from the LORD.
6He will be like a bush in the wastelands;
he will not see prosperity when it comes.
He will dwell in the parched places of the desert,
in a salt[r] land where no one lives.

17:5
[q]Isa 2:22

17:6
[r]Dt 29:23

7"But blessed is the man who trusts[s] in the LORD, whose confidence is in him.
8He will be like a tree planted by the water that sends out its roots by the stream.
It does not fear when heat comes;

17:7
[s]Ps 34:8; Pr 16:20

[d] 2 That is, symbols of the goddess Asherah [e] 2,3 Or hills / 3and the mountains of the land. / Your

17:1 God's people continued to sin even though they had the law, the prophets of God, and history filled with God's miracles. How could they do that? Why do we continue to cherish sin even though we understand the eternal consequences? Jeremiah says the heart is deceitful (17:9), and "Judah's sin is engraved . . . on the tablets of their hearts." The Hebrews symbolized the various aspects of a person by locating them in certain physical organs. The heart was the organ of reason, intelligence, and will. So deep is our tendency to sin that only God's redemption can deliver us.

17:5–8 Two kinds of people are contrasted here: those who trust in human beings and those who trust in the Lord. The people of Judah were trusting in false gods and military alliances instead of God, and thus they were barren and unfruitful. In contrast, those who trust in the Lord flourish like trees planted by water (see Psalm 1). In times of trouble, those who trust in human beings will be impoverished and spiritually weak, so they will have no strength to draw on. But those who trust in the Lord will have abundant strength, not only for their own needs, but even for the needs of others. Are you satisfied with being unfruitful, or do you, like a well-watered tree, have strength for the time of crisis and even some to share as you bear fruit for the Lord?

its leaves are always green.
It has no worries in a year of drought and never fails to bear fruit."[t]

17:8 [t] Ps 1:3

9 The heart is deceitful above all things and beyond cure.
Who can understand it?

10 "I the LORD search the heart and examine the mind,[u]
to reward[v] a man according to his conduct, according to what his deeds deserve."

17:10 [u] Jer 20:12 [v] Jer 32:19

11 Like a partridge that hatches eggs it did not lay is the man who gains riches by unjust means.
When his life is half gone, they will desert him,
and in the end he will prove to be a fool.

12 A glorious throne, exalted from the beginning, is the place of our sanctuary.
13 O LORD, the hope[w] of Israel, all who forsake you will be put to shame.
Those who turn away from you will be written in the dust because they have forsaken the LORD, the spring of living water.

17:13 [w] Jer 14:8

14 Heal me, O LORD, and I will be healed;
save me and I will be saved,
for you are the one I praise.[x]
15 They keep saying to me,
"Where is the word of the LORD?
Let it now be fulfilled!"[y]
16 I have not run away from being your shepherd;
you know I have not desired the day of despair.
What passes my lips is open before you.
17 Do not be a terror to me;
you are my refuge[z] in the day of disaster.
18 Let my persecutors be put to shame,
but keep me from shame;
let them be terrified,
but keep me from terror.
Bring on them the day of disaster;
destroy them with double destruction.[a]

17:14 [x] Ps 109:1
17:15 [y] Isa 5:19
17:17 [z] Jer 16:19
17:18 [a] Ps 35:1-8

Keeping the Sabbath Holy

19 This is what the LORD said to me: "Go and stand at the gate of the people, through which the kings of Judah go in and out; stand also at all the other gates of Jerusalem. 20 Say to them, 'Hear the word of the LORD, O kings of Judah and all people of Judah and everyone living in Jerusalem who come through these gates. 21 This is what the LORD says: Be careful not to carry a load on the Sabbath[b] day or

17:21 [b] Nu 15:32-36; Ne 13:15-21

17:9, 10 God makes it clear why we sin – it's a matter of the heart. Our hearts have been inclined toward sin from the time we were born. It is easy to fall into the routine of forgetting and forsaking God. But we can still choose whether or not to continue in sin. We can yield to a specific temptation, or we can ask God to help us resist temptation when it comes.

17:11 There is a right way and a wrong way to do any task. Jeremiah says that the man who becomes rich by unjust means will end up foolish and poor. Whether at work, school, or play, we should strive to be honest in all our dealings. Getting a promotion, passing an exam, or gaining prestige unjustly will never bring God's blessing or lasting happiness.

17:19–27 The people were working on the Sabbath, their day of rest (Exodus 20:8–11). They considered making money more important than keeping God's law. If they would repent and put God first in their lives, God promised them honor among the nations. Over a century later, when Nehemiah led the exiles on their return to Jerusalem, one of his most important reforms was to reinstitute Sabbath observance (Nehemiah 13:15–22).

bring it through the gates of Jerusalem. 22Do not bring a load out of your houses or do any work on the Sabbath, but keep the Sabbath day holy, as I commanded your forefathers.[c] 23Yet they did not listen or pay attention;[d] they were stiff-necked and would not listen or respond to discipline. 24But if you are careful to obey me, declares the LORD, and bring no load through the gates of this city on the Sabbath, but keep the Sabbath day holy by not doing any work on it, 25then kings who sit on David's throne[e] will come through the gates of this city with their officials. They and their officials will come riding in chariots and on horses, accompanied by the men of Judah and those living in Jerusalem, and this city will be inhabited forever. 26People will come from the towns of Judah and the villages around Jerusalem, from the territory of Benjamin and the western foothills, from the hill country and the Negev,[f] bringing burnt offerings and sacrifices, grain offerings, incense and thank offerings to the house of the LORD. 27But if you do not obey me to keep the Sabbath day holy by not carrying any load as you come through the gates of Jerusalem on the Sabbath day, then I will kindle an unquenchable fire in the gates of Jerusalem that will consume her fortresses.' "[g]

17:22 [c] Ex 20:8
17:23 [d] Jer 7:26
17:25 [e] Jer 22:2, 4
17:26 [f] Zec 7:7
17:27 [g] 2Ki 25:9

At the Potter's House

18 This is the word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD: 2"Go down to the potter's house, and there I will give you my message." 3So I went down to the potter's house, and I saw him working at the wheel. 4But the pot he was shaping from the clay was marred in his hands; so the potter formed it into another pot, shaping it as seemed best to him.

5Then the word of the LORD came to me: 6"O house of Israel, can I not do with you as this potter does?" declares the LORD. "Like clay[h] in the hand of the potter, so are you in my hand, O house of Israel. 7If at any time I announce that a nation or kingdom is to be uprooted,[i] torn down and destroyed, 8and if that nation I warned repents of its evil, then I will relent[j] and not inflict on it the disaster I had planned. 9And if at another time I announce that a nation or kingdom is to be built up and planted, 10and if it does evil[k] in my sight and does not obey me, then I will reconsider the good I had intended to do for it.

18:6 [h] Isa 45:9; Ro 9:20-21
18:7 [i] Jer 1:10
18:8 [j] Jer 26:13; Jnh 3:8-10
18:10 [k] Eze 33:18

11"Now therefore say to the people of Judah and those living in Jerusalem, 'This is what the LORD says: Look! I am preparing a disaster for you and devising a plan against you. So turn[l] from your evil ways, each one of you, and reform your ways and your actions.' 12But they will reply, 'It's no use.[m] We will continue with our own plans; each of us will follow the stubbornness of his evil heart.' "

18:11 [l] 2Ki 17:13
18:12 [m] Isa 57:10

13Therefore this is what the LORD says:

"Inquire among the nations:
Who has ever heard anything like this?
A most horrible[n] thing has been done by Virgin Israel.
14Does the snow of Lebanon ever vanish from its rocky slopes?
Do its cool waters from distant sources ever cease to flow?[f]

18:13 [n] Jer 5:30

[f] 14 The meaning of the Hebrew for this sentence is uncertain.

17:26 The Negev is the southern part of Judah.

18:1 – 19:15 The parables in these chapters, probably written during the early years of Jehoiakim's reign, illustrate God's sovereignty over the nation. God has power over the clay (Judah), and he continues to work with it to make it a useful vessel. But Judah must soon repent, or the clay will harden the wrong way. Then it will be worth nothing and will be broken and destroyed.

18:6 As the potter molded or shaped a clay pot on the potter's wheel, defects often appeared. The potter had power over the clay, to permit the defects to remain or to reshape the pot. Likewise, God had power to reshape the nation to conform to his purposes. Our strategy should not be to become mindless and passive – one aspect of clay – but to be willing and receptive to God's impact on us. As we yield to God, he begins reshaping us into valuable vessels.

18:12 Our society admires assertiveness, independence, and defiance of authority. In a relationship with God these qualities become stubbornness, self-importance, and refusal to listen or change. Left unchecked, stubbornness becomes a way of life hostile to God.

15 Yet my people have forgotten me;
they burn incense to worthless idols, which made them stumble in their ways and in the ancient paths.[o]
They made them walk in bypaths and on roads not built up.
16 Their land will be laid waste,
an object of lasting scorn;
all who pass by will be appalled and will shake their heads.
17 Like a wind[p] from the east,
I will scatter them before their enemies;
I will show them my back and not my face[q]
in the day of their disaster."

18:15 [o] Jer 6:16

18:17 [p] Jer 13:24 [q] Jer 2:27

18:18 [r] Jer 11:19 [s] Mal 2:7

18 They said, "Come, let's make plans[r] against Jeremiah; for the teaching of the law by the priest[s] will not be lost, nor will counsel from the wise, nor the word from the prophets. So come, let's attack him with our tongues and pay no attention to anything he says."

19 Listen to me, O LORD; hear what my accusers are saying!
20 Should good be repaid with evil?
Yet they have dug a pit[t] for me.
Remember that I stood before you and spoke in their behalf to turn your wrath away from them.
21 So give their children over to famine;
hand them over to the power of the sword.

18:20 [t] Ps 35:7

GOD'S OBJECT LESSONS IN JEREMIAH

Reference	Object Lesson	Significance
1:11, 12	Branch of an almond tree	God will carry out his threats of punishment.
1:13	Boiling pot, tilting away from the north	God will punish Judah.
13:1–11	A ruined linen belt	Because the people refused to listen to God, they had become useless, good for nothing, like a ruined linen belt.
18:1–17	Potter's clay	God could destroy his sinful people if he so desired. This is a warning to them to repent before he is forced to bring judgment.
19:1–12	Broken clay jars	God would smash Judah just as Jeremiah smashed the clay jars.
24:1–10	Two baskets of figs	Good figs represent God's remnant. Poor figs are the people left behind.
27:2–11	Yoke	Any nation who refused to submit to Babylon's yoke of control would be punished.
43:8–13	Large stones	The stones marked the place where Nebuchadnezzar would set his throne when God allowed him to conquer Egypt.
51:59–64	Scroll sunk in the river	Babylon would sink to rise no more.

18:18 Jeremiah's words and actions challenged the people's social and moral behavior. He had openly spoken against the king, the officials, the priests and prophets, the scribes, and the wise (4:9; 8:8, 9). He wasn't afraid to give unpopular criticism. The people could either obey him or silence him. They chose the latter. They did not think they needed Jeremiah; their false prophets told them what they wanted to hear. How do you respond to criticism? Listen carefully – God may be trying to tell you something.

Let their wives be made childless and widows;[u]
let their men be put to death, their young men slain by the sword in battle.
22Let a cry be heard from their houses
when you suddenly bring invaders against them, for they have dug a pit to capture me
and have hidden snares for my feet.
23But you know, O LORD,
all their plots to kill me.
Do not forgive their crimes or blot out their sins from your sight.
Let them be overthrown before you;
deal with them in the time of your anger.

18:21
[u]Ps 109:9

19 This is what the LORD says: "Go and buy a clay jar from a potter. Take along some of the elders of the people and of the priests 2and go out to the Valley of Ben Hinnom,[v] near the entrance of the Potsherd Gate. There proclaim the words I tell you, 3and say, 'Hear the word of the LORD, O kings[w] of Judah and people of Jerusalem. This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: Listen! I am going to bring a disaster on this place that will make the ears of everyone who hears of it tingle.[x] 4For they have forsaken[y] me and made this a place of foreign gods; they have burned sacrifices in it to gods that neither they nor their fathers nor the kings of Judah ever knew, and they have filled this place with the blood of the innocent.[z] 5They have built the high places of Baal to burn their sons[a] in the fire as offerings to Baal—something I did not command or mention, nor did it enter my mind. 6So beware, the days are coming, declares the LORD, when people will no longer call this place Topheth or the Valley of Ben Hinnom,[b] but the Valley of Slaughter.

19:2
[v]Jos 15:8

19:3
[w]Jer 17:20
[x]1Sa 3:11

19:4
[y]Isa 65:11
[z]2Ki 21:16

19:5
[a]Lev 18:21

19:6
[b]Jos 15:8

7" 'In this place I will ruin[g] the plans of Judah and Jerusalem. I will make them fall by the sword before their enemies, at the hands of those who seek their lives, and I will give their carcasses[c] as food to the birds of the air and the beasts of the earth. 8I will devastate this city and make it an object of scorn;[d] all who pass by will be appalled and will scoff because of all its wounds. 9I will make them eat[e] the flesh of their sons and daughters, and they will eat one another's flesh during the stress of the siege imposed on them by the enemies who seek their lives.'

19:7
[c]Jer 16:4

19:8
[d]Jer 18:16

19:9
[e]Dt 28:49-57; La 4:10

10"Then break the jar while those who go with you are watching, 11and say to them, 'This is what the LORD Almighty says: I will smash[f] this nation and this city just as this potter's jar is smashed and cannot be repaired. They will bury[g] the dead in Topheth until there is no more room. 12This is what I will do to this place and to those who live here, declares the LORD. I will make this city like Topheth. 13The houses in Jerusalem and those of the kings of Judah will be defiled like this place, Topheth—all the houses where they burned incense on the roofs to all the starry hosts and poured out drink offerings to other gods.' "

19:11
[f]Ps 2:9; Isa 30:14
[g]Jer 7:32

14Jeremiah then returned from Topheth, where the LORD had sent him to prophesy, and stood in the court[h] of the LORD's temple and said to all the people, 15"This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: 'Listen! I am going to bring on this city and the villages around it every disaster I pronounced against them, because they were stiff-necked and would not listen to my words.' "

19:14
[h]2Ch 20:5

g 7 The Hebrew for ruin sounds like the Hebrew for jar (see verses 1 and 10).

19:6 The Valley of Ben Hinnom was the garbage dump of Jerusalem and the place where children were sacrificed to the god Molech. It is also mentioned in 7:31, 32. Topheth was located in the valley and means "fireplace" and was probably where children were burned as sacrifices.

19:7–13 The horrible carnage that Jeremiah predicted happened twice, in 586 B.C. during the Babylonian invasion under Nebuchadnezzar, and in A.D. 70 when Titus destroyed Jerusalem. During the Babylonian siege, food became so scarce that people became cannibals, even eating their own children. (See Leviticus 26:29 and Deuteronomy 28:53–57 for prophecies concerning this; and see 2 Kings 6:28, 29; Lamentations 2:20; 4:10 for accounts of actual occurrences.)

Jeremiah and Pashhur

20:1 [i] 1Ch 24:14

20 When the priest Pashhur son of Immer,[i] the chief officer in the temple of the LORD, heard Jeremiah prophesying these things, 2he had Jeremiah the prophet beaten and put in the stocks at the Upper Gate of Benjamin at the LORD's temple. 3The next day, when Pashhur released him from the stocks, Jeremiah said to him, "The LORD's name for you is not Pashhur, but Magor-Missabib.[h] 4For this is what the LORD says: 'I will make you a terror to yourself and to all your friends; with your own eyes[j] you will see them fall by the sword of their enemies. I will hand all Judah over to the king of Babylon, who will carry them away to Babylon or put them to the sword. 5I will hand over to their enemies all the wealth of this city—all its products, all its valuables and all the treasures of the kings of Judah. They will take it away[k] as plunder and carry it off to Babylon. 6And you, Pashhur, and all who live in your house will go into exile to Babylon. There you will die and be buried, you and all your friends to whom you have prophesied[l] lies.' "

20:4 [j] Jer 29:21

20:5 [k] 2Ki 20:17

20:6 [l] Jer 14:15

Jeremiah's Complaint

7O LORD, you deceived[i] me, and I was deceived[i];
you overpowered me and prevailed.
I am ridiculed all day long;
everyone mocks me.
8Whenever I speak, I cry out proclaiming violence and destruction.[m]
So the word of the LORD has brought me insult and reproach all day long.
9But if I say, "I will not mention him or speak any more in his name," his word is in my heart like a fire,[n]
a fire shut up in my bones.
I am weary of holding it in;[o]
indeed, I cannot.
10I hear many whispering,
"Terror on every side!
Report him! Let's report him!"
All my friends are waiting for me to slip,[p] saying,
"Perhaps he will be deceived;
then we will prevail over him and take our revenge on him."

11But the LORD is with me like a mighty warrior;
so my persecutors[q] will stumble and not prevail.
They will fail and be thoroughly disgraced;
their dishonor will never be forgotten.

20:8 [m] Jer 6:7

20:9 [n] Ps 39:3 [o] Ac 4:20

20:10 [p] Lk 11:53-54

20:11 [q] Jer 17:18

h 3 Magor-Missabib means terror on every side. i 7 Or persuaded

20:1ff This event took place during the reign of Jehoiakim of Judah. Jeremiah preached at the Valley of Ben Hinnom, the center of idolatry in the city. He also preached in the temple, which should have been the center of true worship. Both places attracted many people; both were places of false worship.

20:1–3 Pashhur was the official in charge of maintaining order in the temple (see 29:26 for a description of the responsibility). He was also a priest and had pretended to be a prophet. After hearing Jeremiah's words, Pashhur had him beaten and put in the stocks (locked up) instead of taking his message to heart and acting on it. The truth sometimes stings, but our reaction to the truth shows what we are made of. We can deny the charges and destroy evidence of our misdeeds, or we can take the truth humbly to heart and let it change us. Pashhur may have thought he was a strong leader, but he was really a coward.

20:4–6 This prophecy of destruction came true in three waves of invasion by Babylon. The first wave happened within the year (605 B.C.). Pashhur was probably exiled to Babylon during the second wave in 597 B.C. when Jehoiachin was taken captive. The third invasion occurred in 586 B.C.

20:7–18 Jeremiah cried out in despair mixed with praise, unburdening his heart to God. He had faithfully proclaimed God's word and had received nothing in return but persecution and sorrow. Yet when he withheld God's word for a while, it became fire in his bones until he could hold it back no longer. When God's living message of forgiveness becomes fire in your bones, you also will feel compelled to share it with others, regardless of the results.

12O LORD Almighty, you who examine the righteous and probe the heart and mind,[r]
let me see your vengeance upon them,
for to you I have committed[s] my cause.

13Sing to the LORD!
Give praise to the LORD!
He rescues the life of the needy from the hands of the wicked.

14Cursed be the day I was born![t]
May the day my mother bore me not be blessed!
15Cursed be the man who brought my father the news, who made him very glad, saying,
"A child is born to you — a son!"
16May that man be like the towns[u]
the LORD overthrew without pity.
May he hear wailing in the morning,
a battle cry at noon.
17For he did not kill me in the womb,[v]
with my mother as my grave, her womb enlarged forever.
18Why did I ever come out of the womb to see trouble and sorrow and to end my days in shame?

20:12
[r]Jer 17:10
[s]Jer 11:20

20:14
[t]Jer 15:10

20:16
[u]Ge 19:25

20:17
[v]Job 10:18-19

4. Jeremiah accuses Judah's leaders

God Rejects Zedekiah's Request

21 The word came to Jeremiah from the LORD when King Zedekiah[w] sent to him Pashhur son of Malkijah and the priest Zephaniah[x] son of Maaseiah. They said: 2"Inquire now of the LORD for us because Nebuchadnezzar[l] king of Babylon is attacking us. Perhaps the LORD will perform wonders for us as in times past so that he will withdraw from us."

3But Jeremiah answered them, "Tell Zedekiah, 4'This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says: I am about to turn against you the weapons of war that are in your hands, which you are using to fight the king of Babylon and the Babylonians[k] who are outside the wall besieging you. And I will gather them inside this city. 5I myself will fight against you with an outstretched hand and a mighty arm in anger and fury and great wrath. 6I will strike down those who live in this city — both men and animals — and they will die of a terrible plague.[y] 7After that, declares the LORD, I will hand over Zedekiah[z] king of Judah, his officials and the people in this city who survive the plague, sword and famine, to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon[a] and to their enemies who seek their lives. He will put them to the sword; he will show them no mercy or pity or compassion.'[b]

21:1
[w]2Ki 24:18
[x]2Ki 25:18

21:6
[y]Jer 14:12

21:7
[z]Jer 52:9
[a]Jer 37:17; 39:5
[b]2Ch 36:17

[l] 2 Hebrew Nebuchadrezzar, of which Nebuchadnezzar is a variant; here and often in Jeremiah and Ezekiel
[k] 4 Or Chaldeans; also in verse 9

21:1 Chapters 21 – 28 are Jeremiah's messages concerning Nebuchadnezzar's attacks on Jerusalem between 588 and 586 B.C. (see also 2 Kings 25). King Zedekiah decided to rebel against Nebuchadnezzar (2 Kings 24:20), and the nobles advised allying with Egypt. Jeremiah pronounced judgment on the kings (21:1 – 23:8) and false prophets (23:9–40) for leading the people astray.

21:1, 2 King Zedekiah probably was referring to God's deliverance of Jerusalem from Sennacherib, king of Assyria, in the days of Hezekiah (Isaiah 36; 37). But Zedekiah's hopes were dashed. He was Judah's last ruler during the time of the exile of 586 B.C.

21:1, 2 Pashhur came to the prophet for help. (This is not the same Pashhur as in 20:1.) God still had work for Jeremiah to do. In living out our faith, we may find that rejection, disappointment, or hard work has brought us to the point of despondency. But we are still needed. God has important work for us as well.

21:1–14 Jeremiah had foretold Jerusalem's destruction. The city s leaders had denied his word and mocked his announcements. In desperation, King Zedekiah turned to God for help, but without acknowledging God's warnings or admitting his sin. Too often we expect God to help us in our time of trouble even though we have ignored him in our time of prosperity. But God wants a lasting relationship. Are you trying to build a lasting friendship with God, or are you merely using him occasionally to escape trouble? What would you think of your family or friends if they thought of you only as a temporary resource?

8"Furthermore, tell the people, 'This is what the LORD says: See, I am setting before you the way of life and the way of death. 9Whoever stays in this city will die by the sword, famine or plague.[c] But whoever goes out and surrenders to the Babylonians who are besieging you will live; he will escape with his life.[d] 10I have determined to do this city harm[e] and not good, declares the LORD. It will be given into the hands[f] of the king of Babylon, and he will destroy it with fire.'

11"Moreover, say to the royal house of Judah, 'Hear the word of the LORD; 12O house of David, this is what the LORD says:

" 'Administer justice every morning;
rescue from the hand of his oppressor
the one who has been robbed,
or my wrath will break out and burn like fire
because of the evil you have done —
burn with no one to quench it.
13I am against[g] you, ⌜Jerusalem,⌟ you who live above this valley on the rocky plateau,
declares the LORD —
you who say, "Who can come against us?
Who can enter our refuge?"[h] 14I will punish you as your deeds[i] deserve,
declares the LORD.
I will kindle a fire[j] in your forests that will consume everything around you.' "

21:9 [c] Jer 14:12 [d] Jer 38:2, 17; 39:18; 45:5

21:10 [e] Jer 44:11, 27 [f] Jer 38:2-3

21:13 [g] Eze 13:8 [h] Jer 49:4

21:14 [i] Isa 3:10-11 [j] 2Ch 36:19

Judgment Against Evil Kings

22 This is what the LORD says: "Go down to the palace of the king of Judah and proclaim this message there: 2'Hear the word of the LORD, O king of Judah, you who sit on David's throne — you, your officials and your people who come through these gates. 3This is what the LORD says: Do what is just and right. Rescue from the hand of his oppressor[k] the one who has been robbed. Do no wrong or violence to the alien, the fatherless or the widow, and do not shed innocent blood in this place. 4For if you are careful to carry out these commands, then kings[l] who sit on David's throne will come through the gates of this palace, riding in chariots and on horses, accompanied by their officials and their people. 5But if you do not obey[m] these commands, declares the LORD, I swear[n] by myself that this palace will become a ruin.' "

6For this is what the LORD says about the palace of the king of Judah:

"Though you are like Gilead to me,
like the summit of Lebanon,
I will surely make you like a desert,
like towns not inhabited.
7I will send destroyers against you,
each man with his weapons,
and they will cut[o] up your fine cedar beams and throw them into the fire.

8"People from many nations will pass by this city and will ask one another, 'Why has the LORD done such a thing to this great city?'[p] 9And the answer will be:

22:3 [k] Jer 21:12

22:4 [l] Jer 17:25

22:5 [m] Jer 17:27 [n] Heb 6:13

22:7 [o] Isa 10:34

22:8 [p] Dt 29:25-26; 1Ki 9:8-9

21:13 Jerusalem was built on a plateau with valleys on three sides. Because of its strategic location, the inhabitants thought they were safe.

22:1ff Chapters 22 – 25 may not be in chronological order. In 21:8–10 God implied that it was too late for repentance. In 22:4, however, God said that there was still time to change. The events to which this chapter refer occurred before those of chapter 21.

22:3 God gave the king the basis for rebuilding the nation – turn from evil and do right. Doing what is right is more than simply believing all the right doctrines about God. It means living obediently to God. Good deeds do not save us, but they display our faith (James 2:17–26).

'Because they have forsaken the covenant of the LORD their God and have worshiped and served other gods.' "

10Do not weep for the dead ⌜king⌟ or mourn his loss;
rather, weep bitterly for him who is exiled, because he will never return
nor see his native land again.

11For this is what the LORD says about Shallum[l][q] son of Josiah, who succeeded his father as king of Judah but has gone from this place: "He will never return. 12He will die in the place where they have led him captive; he will not see this land again."

22:11 [q] 2Ki 23:31

13"Woe to him who builds[r] his palace by unrighteousness, his upper rooms by injustice, making his countrymen work for nothing,
not paying[s] them for their labor.
14He says, 'I will build myself a great palace[t] with spacious upper rooms.'
So he makes large windows in it, panels it with cedar and decorates it in red.

22:13 [r] Mic 3:10; Hab 2:9 [s] Jas 5:4

22:14 [t] Isa 5:8-9

15"Does it make you a king to have more and more cedar?
Did not your father have food and drink?
He did what was right and just,
so all went well[u] with him.
16He defended the cause of the poor and needy,[v]
and so all went well.
Is that not what it means to know me?"
declares the LORD.
17"But your eyes and your heart are set only on dishonest gain, on shedding innocent blood and on oppression and extortion."

22:15 [u] Isa 3:10

22:16 [v] Ps 72:1-4, 12-13

18Therefore this is what the LORD says about Jehoiakim son of Josiah king of Judah:

"They will not mourn for him:
'Alas, my brother! Alas, my sister!'
They will not mourn for him:
'Alas, my master! Alas, his splendor!'
19He will have the burial of a donkey—dragged away and thrown[w] outside the gates of Jerusalem."

22:19 [w] Jer 36:30

20"Go up to Lebanon and cry out, let your voice be heard in Bashan,
cry out from Abarim,
for all your allies are crushed.

[l] 11 Also called Jehoahaz

22:10–12 Good King Josiah had died at the battle of Megiddo (2 Kings 23:29); his son Shallum (Jehoahaz) reigned for only three months in 609 B.C. before being taken away to Egypt by Pharaoh Neco. He would be the first ruler to die in exile. The people were told not to waste their tears on the death of Josiah, but to cry for the king who was taken into exile and would never return.

22:15, 16 God passed judgment on King Jehoiakim. His father, Josiah, had been one of Judah's great kings, but Jehoiakim was evil. Josiah had been faithful to his responsibility to be a model of right living, but Jehoiakim had been unfaithful to his responsibility to imitate his father. God's judgment was on unfaithful Jehoiakim. He could not claim his father's blessings when he had not followed his father's God. We may inherit our parents' money, but we cannot inherit their faith. A great heritage, a good education, or a beautiful home doesn't guarantee strong character. We must have our own relationship with God.

21 I warned you when you felt secure,
but you said, 'I will not listen!'
This has been your way from your youth;[x]
you have not obeyed me.
22 The wind will drive all your shepherds away,
and your allies will go into exile.
Then you will be ashamed and disgraced because of all your wickedness.
23 You who live in 'Lebanon,[m]'
who are nestled in cedar buildings, how you will groan when pangs come upon you,
pain[y] like that of a woman in labor!

22:21 [x] Jer 3:25

22:23 [y] Jer 4:31

24 "As surely as I live," declares the LORD, "even if you, Jehoiachin[n] son of Jehoiakim king of Judah, were a signet ring on my right hand, I would still pull you off. 25 I will hand you over to those who seek your life, those you fear—to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon and to the Babylonians.[o] 26 I will hurl[z] you and the mother who gave you birth into another country, where neither of you was born, and there you both will die. 27 You will never come back to the land you long to return to."

22:26 [z] 2Ki 24:8; 2Ch 36:10

28 Is this man Jehoiachin a despised, broken pot,[a] an object no one wants?
Why will he and his children be hurled out, cast into a land they do not know?
29 O land,[b] land, land,
hear the word of the LORD!
30 This is what the LORD says:
"Record this man as if childless,[c] a man who will not prosper in his lifetime, for none of his offspring will prosper, none will sit on the throne of David or rule anymore in Judah."

22:28 [a] Ps 31:12; Jer 48:38

22:29 [b] Jer 6:19

22:30 [c] 1Ch 3:18; Mt 1:12

The Righteous Branch

23 "Woe to the shepherds[d] who are destroying and scattering the sheep of my pasture!" declares the LORD. 2 Therefore this is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says to the shepherds who tend my people: "Because you have scattered my flock and driven them away and have not bestowed care on them, I will bestow punishment on you for the evil you have done," declares the LORD. 3 "I myself will gather the remnant[e] of my flock out of all the countries where I have driven them and will bring them back to their pasture, where they will be fruitful and increase in number. 4 I will place shepherds[f] over them who will tend them, and they will no longer be afraid[g] or terrified, nor will any be missing," declares the LORD.

23:1 [d] Jer 10:21

23:3 [e] Jer 32:37

23:4 [f] Jer 31:10 [g] Jer 30:10

[m] 23 That is, the palace in Jerusalem (see 1 Kings 7:2) [n] 24 Hebrew Coniah, a variant of Jehoiachin; also in verse 28 [o] 25 Or Chaldeans

22:21 Jehoiakim had been hardheaded and hardhearted since childhood. God warned him, but he refused to listen. His prosperity always took a higher priority than his relationship with God. If you ever find yourself so comfortable that you don't have time for God, stop and ask which is more important—the comforts of this life or a close relationship with God.

22:24, 25 A signet ring was extremely valuable because a king used it to authenticate important documents. Jehoiachin's sins spoiled his usefulness to God. Even if he were God's own signet ring, God would depose him because of his sins (see 24:1).

22:30 Zedekiah reigned after Jehoiachin but died before him (52:10, 11). Jehoiachin was the last king of David's line to sit on the throne in Judah (1 Chronicles 3:15–20). He had seven sons, but not one served as king. Jehoiachin's grandson Zerubbabel ruled after the return from exile (Ezra 2:2). He was only a governor, not a king.

23:1–4 Those responsible to lead Israel in God's path were the very ones responsible for Israel's present plight, and so God had decreed harsh judgment against them. Leaders are held responsible for those entrusted to their care. Whom has God placed in your care? Remember that you are accountable to God for those you influence and lead.

5"The days are coming," declares the LORD,
"when I will raise up to David[p] a righteous Branch,[h] a King who will reign[i] wisely and do what is just and right in the land.
6In his days Judah will be saved and Israel will live in safety.
This is the name[j] by which he will be called:
The LORD Our Righteousness.[k]

23:5
[h]Isa 4:2
[i]Isa 9:7

23:6
[j]Jer 33:16
[k]1Co 1:30

7"So then, the days are coming," declares the LORD, "when people will no longer say, 'As surely as the LORD lives, who brought the Israelites up out of Egypt,' 8but they will say, 'As surely as the LORD lives, who brought the descendants of Israel up out of the land of the north and out of all the countries where he had banished them.' Then they will live in their own land."

Lying Prophets

9Concerning the prophets:

My heart is broken within me;
all my bones tremble.
I am like a drunken man,
like a man overcome by wine, because of the LORD
and his holy words.
10The land is full of adulterers;
because of the curse[q] the land lies parched[r]
and the pastures[l] in the desert are withered.
The ⌞prophets⌟ follow an evil course and use their power unjustly.

23:10
[l]Jer 9:10

11"Both prophet and priest are godless;[m] even in my temple I find their wickedness,"
declares the LORD.

23:11
[m]Jer 6:13; Zep 3:4

12"Therefore their path will become slippery;[n] they will be banished to darkness and there they will fall.
I will bring disaster on them in the year they are punished,[o]"
declares the LORD.

23:12
[n]Jer 13:16
[o]Jer 11:23

13"Among the prophets of Samaria
I saw this repulsive thing:
They prophesied by Baal
and led my people Israel astray.
14And among the prophets of Jerusalem
I have seen something horrible:
They commit adultery and live a lie.[p]

23:14
[p]Jer 29:23

[p] 5 Or up from David's line [q] 10 Or because of these things [r] 10 Or land mourns

23:5, 6 Jeremiah contrasted the present corrupt leaders with the coming Messiah, the perfect King who would come from David's line to reign over Israel. The King is called a righteous Branch because he will sprout up from the stump of David's fallen dynasty (Isaiah 11:1). This new growth will have God's own characteristics. Like the Creator, the Branch will be righteous.

23:9–14 How did the nation become so corrupt? A major factor was false prophecy. The false prophets had a large, enthusiastic audience and were very popular because they made the people believe that all was well. By contrast, Jeremiah's message from God was unpopular because it showed the people how bad they were.

There are four warning signs of false prophets – characteristics we need to watch for even today. (1) They may appear to speak God's message, but they do not live according to his principles. (2) They water down God's message in order to make it more palatable. (3) They encourage their listeners, often subtly, to disobey God. (4) They tend to be arrogant and self-serving, appealing to the desires of their audience instead of being true to God's Word.

23:14 Sodom and Gomorrah were sinful cities destroyed by God (Genesis 19:23, 24). In the Bible they typify the ultimate in

They strengthen the hands of evildoers, so that no one turns from his wickedness.
They are all like Sodom to me;
the people of Jerusalem are like Gomorrah."

15Therefore, this is what the LORD Almighty says concerning the prophets:

"I will make them eat bitter food and drink poisoned water, because from the prophets of Jerusalem ungodliness has spread throughout the land."

16This is what the LORD Almighty says:

"Do not listen to what the prophets are prophesying to you;
they fill you with false hopes.
They speak visions[q] from their own minds,
not from the mouth of the LORD.
17They keep saying to those who despise me,
'The LORD says: You will have peace.'
And to all who follow the stubbornness of their hearts
they say, 'No harm[r] will come to you.'
18But which of them has stood in the council of the LORD to see or to hear his word?
Who has listened and heard his word?
19See, the storm[s] of the LORD
will burst out in wrath,
a whirlwind swirling down
on the heads of the wicked.
20The anger of the LORD will not turn back until he fully accomplishes
the purposes of his heart.
In days to come
you will understand it clearly.
21I did not send[t] these prophets,
yet they have run with their message;
I did not speak to them,
yet they have prophesied.
22But if they had stood in my council, they would have proclaimed my words to my people and would have turned them from their evil ways and from their evil deeds.

23"Am I only a God nearby,[u]"
declares the LORD,
"and not a God far away?
24Can anyone hide in secret places so that I cannot see him?"
declares the LORD.
"Do not I fill heaven and earth?"[v]
declares the LORD.

25"I have heard what the prophets say who prophesy lies[w] in my name. They say, 'I had a dream! I had a dream!' 26How long will this continue in the hearts of these lying prophets, who prophesy the delusions of their own minds? 27They think the dreams they tell one another will make my people forget my name, just as their

23:16 [q] Jer 14:14
23:17 [r] Jer 5:12; Mic 3:11
23:19 [s] Jer 25:32; 30:23
23:21 [t] Jer 14:14
23:23 [u] Ps 139:1-10
23:24 [v] 1Ki 8:27
23:25 [w] Jer 14:14

---

degrading, sinful behavior and rebellion against God.

23:20 "In days to come you will understand it clearly" means that the people would see the truth of this prophecy when Jerusalem fell.

fathers forgot[x] my name through Baal worship. 28Let the prophet who has a dream tell his dream, but let the one who has my word speak it faithfully. For what has straw to do with grain?" declares the LORD. 29"Is not my word like fire," declares the LORD, "and like a hammer that breaks a rock in pieces?

30"Therefore," declares the LORD, "I am against the prophets[y] who steal from one another words supposedly from me. 31Yes," declares the LORD, "I am against the prophets who wag their own tongues and yet declare, 'The LORD declares.' 32Indeed, I am against those who prophesy false dreams," declares the LORD. "They tell them and lead my people astray with their reckless lies, yet I did not send or appoint them. They do not benefit these people in the least," declares the LORD.

23:27 [x] Jdg 3:7

23:30 [y] Dt 18:20

False Oracles and False Prophets

33"When these people, or a prophet or a priest, ask you, 'What is the oracle[s z] of the LORD?' say to them, 'What oracle?[t] I will forsake you, declares the LORD.' 34If a prophet or a priest or anyone else claims, 'This is the oracle[a] of the LORD,' I will punish that man and his household. 35This is what each of you keeps on saying to his friend or relative: 'What is the LORD's answer?'[b] or 'What has the LORD spoken?' 36But you must not mention 'the oracle of the LORD' again, because every man's own word becomes his oracle and so you distort the words of the living God, the LORD Almighty, our God. 37This is what you keep saying to a prophet: 'What is the LORD's answer to you?' or 'What has the LORD spoken?' 38Although you claim, 'This is the oracle of the LORD,' this is what the LORD says: You used the words, 'This is the oracle of the LORD,' even though I told you that you must not claim, 'This is the oracle of the LORD.' 39Therefore, I will surely forget you and cast you out of my presence along with the city I gave to you and your fathers. 40I will bring upon you everlasting disgrace[c]—everlasting shame that will not be forgotten."

23:33 [z] Mal 1:1

23:34 [a] La 2:14

23:35 [b] Jer 33:3

23:40 [c] Jer 20:11

Two Baskets of Figs

24 After Jehoiachin[u d] son of Jehoiakim king of Judah and the officials, the craftsmen and the artisans of Judah were carried into exile from Jerusalem to Babylon by Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, the LORD showed me two baskets of figs[e] placed in front of the temple of the LORD. 2One basket had very good figs, like those that ripen early; the other basket had very poor figs, so bad they could not be eaten.

3Then the LORD asked me, "What do you see,[f] Jeremiah?"

24:1 [d] 2Ch 36:9 [e] Am 8:1-2

24:3 [f] Jer 1:11

[s] 33 Or burden (see Septuagint and Vulgate) [t] 33 Hebrew; Septuagint and Vulgate 'You are the burden. (The Hebrew for oracle and burden is the same.) [u] 1 Hebrew Jeconiah, a variant of Jehoiachin

23:28 True prophets and false prophets are as different as straw and grain. Straw is useless for food and cannot compare to nourishing grain. To share the gospel is a great responsibility because the way we present it and live it will encourage people either to accept it or reject it. Whether we speak from a pulpit, teach in a class, or share with friends, we are entrusted with accurately communicating and living out God's Word. As you share God's Word with friends and neighbors, they will look for its effectiveness in your life. Unless it has changed you, why should they let it change them? If you preach it, make sure you live it!

23:33–40 People mocked Jeremiah by saying sarcastically, "What is the oracle of the LORD?" (oracle meaning "utterance" or "burden"). The people mocked Jeremiah and God because it seemed that Jeremiah brought nothing but God's sad news of condemnation. But this sad news was the truth. If they had accepted it, they would have had to repent and turn to God. Because they did not want to do this, they rejected Jeremiah's message. Have you ever rejected a message or made fun of it because it would require you to change your ways? Before dismissing someone who brings sad news, look carefully at your motives.

24:1 This happened in 597 B.C. Jehoiachin was taken to Babylon, and Zedekiah became king. Often royal officials were exiled to keep them from exerting power and starting a rebellion. Skilled craftsmen and artisans were taken because they were valuable for Babylon's building program. Jeremiah foretold this event in 22:24–28.

24:2–10 The good figs represented the exiles to Babylon—not because they themselves were good, but because their hearts would respond to God. He would preserve them and bring them back to the land. The poor figs represented those who remained in Judah or ran away to Egypt. Those people may have arrogantly believed they would be blessed if they remained in the land or escaped to Egypt, but the opposite was true because God would use the captivity to refine the exiles. We may assume we are blessed when life goes well and cursed when it does not. But trouble is a blessing when it makes us stronger, and prosperity is a curse if it entices us away from God. If you are facing trouble, ask God to help you grow stronger for him. If things are going your way, ask God to help you use your prosperity for him.

"Figs," I answered. "The good ones are very good, but the poor ones are so bad they cannot be eaten."

4Then the word of the LORD came to me: 5"This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says: 'Like these good figs, I regard as good the exiles from Judah, whom I sent away from this place to the land of the Babylonians.[v] 6My eyes will watch over them for their good, and I will bring them back[g] to this land. I will build[h] them up and not tear them down; I will plant them and not uproot them. 7I will give them a heart to know me, that I am the LORD. They will be my people,[i] and I will be their God, for they will return[j] to me with all their heart.

8" 'But like the poor[k] figs, which are so bad they cannot be eaten,' says the LORD, 'so will I deal with Zedekiah king of Judah, his officials and the survivors from Jerusalem, whether they remain in this land or live in Egypt. 9I will make them abhorrent[l] and an offense to all the kingdoms of the earth, a reproach and a byword,[m] an object of ridicule and cursing,[n] wherever I banish them. 10I will send the sword, famine and plague against them until they are destroyed from the land I gave to them and their fathers.' "

24:6
[g] Jer 29:10
[h] Jer 33:7; 42:10

24:7
[i] Heb 8:10
[j] Jer 32:40

24:8
[k] Jer 29:17

24:9
[l] Jer 15:4
[m] 1Ki 9:7
[n] Jer 29:18

Seventy Years of Captivity

25 The word came to Jeremiah concerning all the people of Judah in the fourth year of Jehoiakim[o] son of Josiah king of Judah, which was the first year of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon. 2So Jeremiah the prophet said to all the people of Judah and to all those living in Jerusalem: 3For twenty-three years — from the thirteenth year of Josiah son of Amon king of Judah until this very day — the word of the LORD has come to me and I have spoken to you again and again, but you have not listened.

25:1
[o] 2Ki 24:2

4And though the LORD has sent all his servants the prophets to you again and again, you have not listened or paid any attention. 5They said, "Turn now, each of you, from your evil ways and your evil practices, and you can stay in the land the LORD gave to you and your fathers for ever and ever. 6Do not follow other gods to serve and worship them; do not provoke me to anger with what your hands have made. Then I will not harm you."

7"But you did not listen to me," declares the LORD, "and you have provoked me with what your hands have made, and you have brought harm to yourselves."

8Therefore the LORD Almighty says this: "Because you have not listened to my words, 9I will summon all the peoples of the north and my servant[p] Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon," declares the LORD, "and I will bring them against this land and its inhabitants and against all the surrounding nations. I will completely destroy[w] them and make them an object of horror and scorn, and an everlasting ruin. 10I will banish from them the sounds of joy and gladness, the voices of bride and bridegroom, the sound of millstones and the light of the lamp.[q] 11This whole country will become a desolate wasteland, and these nations will serve the king of Babylon seventy years.

25:9
[p] Jer 27:6

25:10
[q] Rev 18:22-23

12"But when the seventy years are fulfilled, I will punish the king of Babylon and his nation, the land of the Babylonians,[v] for their guilt," declares the LORD, "and will make it desolate forever. 13I will bring upon that land all the things I have

[v] 5,12 Or Chaldeans [w] 9 The Hebrew term refers to the irrevocable giving over of things or persons to the LORD, often by totally destroying them.

24:6 The exiles in Babylon were cared for by the Lord. Although they were moved to a foreign land, their captivity was not enslavement. The people could function in business and own homes. Some, like Daniel, even held high positions in the government (see Daniel 2:48).

25:1ff Jeremiah gave this message in 605 B.C., the year Nebuchadnezzar came to power. From verse 3 we learn that the beginning of Jeremiah's ministry was in 627 B.C. He predicted the 70 years of captivity a full 20 years before it began.

25:2–6 Imagine preaching the same message for 23 years and continually being rejected! Jeremiah faced this; but because he had committed his life to God, he continued to proclaim the message — "Turn now, each of you, from your evil ways and your evil practices." Regardless of the people's response, Jeremiah did not give up. God never stops loving us, even when we reject him. We can thank God that he won't give up on us, and, like Jeremiah, we can commit ourselves to never forsaking him. No matter how people respond when you tell them about God, remain faithful to God's high call and continue to witness for him.

25:12 This event is further described in Daniel 5. The troops of Cyrus the Great entered Babylon in 539 B.C. and killed Belshazzar, the last Babylonian ruler.

spoken against it, all that are written in this book and prophesied by Jeremiah against all the nations. 14They themselves will be enslaved by many nations[r] and great kings; I will repay[s] them according to their deeds and the work of their hands."

25:14 [r] Jer 50:9; 51:27-28 [s] Jer 51:6

The Cup of God's Wrath

15This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, said to me: "Take from my hand this cup[t] filled with the wine of my wrath and make all the nations to whom I send you drink it. 16When they drink it, they will stagger and go mad because of the sword I will send among them."

25:15 [t] Isa 51:17

17So I took the cup from the LORD's hand and made all the nations to whom he sent[u] me drink it: 18Jerusalem and the towns of Judah, its kings and officials, to make them a ruin and an object of horror and scorn and cursing,[v] as they are today; 19Pharaoh king of Egypt, his attendants, his officials and all his people, 20and all the foreign people there; all the kings of Uz; all the kings of the Philistines (those of Ashkelon, Gaza, Ekron, and the people left at Ashdod); 21Edom, Moab and Ammon;[w] 22all the kings of Tyre and Sidon; the kings of the coastlands across the sea; 23Dedan, Tema, Buz and all who are in distant places[x];[x] 24all the kings of Arabia and all the kings of the foreign people who live in the desert; 25all the kings of Zimri, Elam and Media; 26and all the kings of the north,[y] near and far, one after the other — all the kingdoms on the face of the earth. And after all of them, the king of Sheshach[y] will drink it too.

25:17 [u] Jer 1:10
25:18 [v] Jer 24:9
25:21 [w] Jer 49:1
25:23 [x] Jer 9:26
25:26 [y] Jer 50:3, 9

27"Then tell them, 'This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: Drink, get drunk[z] and vomit, and fall to rise no more because of the sword[a] I will send among you.' 28But if they refuse to take the cup from your hand and drink, tell them, 'This is what the LORD Almighty says: You must drink it! 29See, I am beginning to bring disaster on the city that bears my Name, and will you indeed go unpunished? You will not go unpunished, for I am calling down a sword upon all who live on the earth, declares the LORD Almighty.'

25:27 [z] Hab 2:16 [a] Eze 21:4

30"Now prophesy all these words against them and say to them:

" 'The LORD will roar[b] from on high;
he will thunder from his holy dwelling and roar mightily against his land.
He will shout like those who tread the grapes,
shout against all who live on the earth.
31The tumult will resound to the ends of the earth,
for the LORD will bring charges against the nations;
he will bring judgment on all mankind and put the wicked to the sword,' "
declares the LORD.

25:30 [b] Isa 16:10; 42:13

32This is what the LORD Almighty says:

"Look! Disaster is spreading from nation to nation;[c] a mighty storm[d] is rising
from the ends of the earth."

25:32 [c] Isa 34:2 [d] Jer 23:19

33At that time those slain[e] by the LORD will be everywhere — from one end of the earth to the other. They will not be mourned or gathered up or buried,[f] but will be like refuse lying on the ground.

25:33 [e] Isa 66:16 [f] Ps 79:3

34Weep and wail, you shepherds;

[x] 23 Or who clip the hair by their foreheads [y] 26 Sheshach is a cryptogram for Babylon.

25:15–38 Judah would not be the only nation to drink the cup of God's wrath. Here Jeremiah listed other wicked nations who would experience God's wrath at the hand of Babylon. Finally, Babylon itself (called Sheshach in 25:26) would be destroyed because of its sin.

roll[g] in the dust, you leaders of the flock.
For your time to be slaughtered[h] has come;
you will fall and be shattered like fine pottery.
35The shepherds will have nowhere to flee,
the leaders of the flock no place to escape.
36Hear the cry of the shepherds,
the wailing of the leaders of the flock,
for the LORD is destroying their pasture.
37The peaceful meadows will be laid waste because of the fierce anger of the LORD.
38Like a lion[i] he will leave his lair, and their land will become desolate because of the sword[z] of the oppressor and because of the LORD's fierce anger.

Jeremiah Threatened With Death

26 Early in the reign of Jehoiakim[j] son of Josiah king of Judah, this word came from the LORD: 2"This is what the LORD says: Stand in the courtyard[k] of the LORD's house and speak to all the people of the towns of Judah who come to worship in the house of the LORD. Tell[l] them everything I command you; do not omit[m] a word. 3Perhaps they will listen and each will turn from his evil way. Then I will relent[n] and not bring on them the disaster I was planning because of the evil they have done. 4Say to them, 'This is what the LORD says: If you do not listen[o] to me and follow my law, which I have set before you, 5and if you do not listen to the words of my servants the prophets, whom I have sent to you again and again (though you have not listened[p]), 6then I will make this house like Shiloh and this city an object of cursing among all the nations of the earth.' "

7The priests, the prophets and all the people heard Jeremiah speak these words in the house of the LORD. 8But as soon as Jeremiah finished telling all the people everything the LORD had commanded him to say, the priests, the prophets and all the people seized him and said, "You must die! 9Why do you prophesy in the LORD's name that this house will be like Shiloh and this city will be desolate and deserted?"[q] And all the people crowded around Jeremiah in the house of the LORD.

10When the officials of Judah heard about these things, they went up from the royal palace to the house of the LORD and took their places at the entrance of the New Gate of the LORD's house. 11Then the priests and the prophets said to the officials and all the people, "This man should be sentenced to death[r] because he has prophesied against this city. You have heard it with your own ears!"

12Then Jeremiah said to all the officials and all the people: "The LORD sent me to prophesy against this house and this city all the things you have heard. 13Now reform[s] your ways and your actions and obey the LORD your God. Then the LORD will relent and not bring the disaster he has pronounced against you. 14As for me,

25:34 g Jer 6:26 h Isa 34:6
25:38 i Jer 4:7
26:1 j 2Ki 23:36
26:2 k Jer 19:14 l Jer 1:17; Ac 20:27 m Dt 4:2
26:3 n Jer 18:8
26:4 o Lev 26:14
26:5 p Jer 25:4
26:9 q Jer 9:11
26:11 r Jer 11:21; Mt 26:66
26:13 s Jer 7:5; Joel 2:12-14

z 38 Some Hebrew manuscripts and Septuagint (see also Jer. 46:16 and 50:16); most Hebrew manuscripts anger

26:1ff The events described in this chapter took place in 609–608 B.C., before the events described in chapter 25. Jehoiakim was a materialistic and self-centered king who persecuted and murdered innocent people (36:22–32; 2 Kings 23:36–24:6). Chapter 26 describes how and why Jeremiah was on trial for his life.

26:2 God reminded Jeremiah that he wanted his entire message given—"Do not omit a word." Jeremiah may have been tempted to leave out the parts that would turn his audience against him, would sound too harsh, or would make him sound like a traitor. But by God's command, he was not to delete parts of God's message to suit himself, his audience, or the circumstances in which he found himself. Like Jeremiah, we must never ignore or repress important parts of God's Word to please anyone.

26:2-9 Shiloh was where the tabernacle had been set up after the conquest of Canaan (Joshua 18:1). It was destroyed in 1050 B.C. by the Philistines. "I will make this house like Shiloh" means that Jerusalem and the temple would be destroyed. When Jeremiah said that Jerusalem, the city of God, would become an object of cursing and the temple would be destroyed (26:6), the priests and false prophets were infuriated. The temple was important to them because the people's reverence for it brought them power. By saying that the temple would be destroyed, Jeremiah undermined their authority. Jesus also infuriated the religious leaders of his time by foretelling the destruction of Jerusalem and the temple (Matthew 24:2).

26:11 Jeremiah was branded a traitor because he prophesied the destruction of the city and the temple. But the "courageous" people advocated a foreign alliance to fight Babylon and retain their independence.

I am in your hands;[t] do with me whatever you think is good and right. 15Be assured, however, that if you put me to death, you will bring the guilt of innocent blood on yourselves and on this city and on those who live in it, for in truth the LORD has sent me to you to speak all these words in your hearing."

16Then the officials and all the people said to the priests and the prophets, "This man should not be sentenced to death! He has spoken to us in the name of the LORD our God."

17Some of the elders of the land stepped forward and said to the entire assembly of people, 18"Micah[v] of Moresheth prophesied in the days of Hezekiah king of Judah. He told all the people of Judah, 'This is what the LORD Almighty says:

" 'Zion will be plowed like a field,
Jerusalem will become a heap of rubble,
the temple hill[w] a mound overgrown with thickets.'[a]

19"Did Hezekiah king of Judah or anyone else in Judah put him to death? Did not Hezekiah[x] fear the LORD and seek his favor? And did not the LORD relent, so that he did not bring the disaster he pronounced against them? We are about to bring a terrible disaster on ourselves!"

20(Now Uriah son of Shemaiah from Kiriath Jearim[y] was another man who prophesied in the name of the LORD; he prophesied the same things against this city and this land as Jeremiah did. 21When King Jehoiakim and all his officers and officials heard his words, the king sought to put him to death. But Uriah heard of it and fled[z] in fear to Egypt. 22King Jehoiakim, however, sent Elnathan[a] son of Acbor to Egypt, along with some other men. 23They brought Uriah out of Egypt and took him to King Jehoiakim, who had him struck down with a sword and his body thrown into the burial place of the common people.)

24Furthermore, Ahikam[b] son of Shaphan supported Jeremiah, and so he was not handed over to the people to be put to death.

26:14 [t] Jer 38:5

26:16 [u] Ac 23:29

26:18 [v] Mic 1:1 [w] Zec 8:3

26:19 [x] 2Ch 32:24-26

26:20 [y] Jos 9:17

26:21 [z] Mt 10:23

26:22 [a] Jer 36:12, 25

26:24 [b] 2Ki 22:12

Judah to Serve Nebuchadnezzar

27 Early in the reign of Zedekiah[b] son of Josiah king of Judah, this word came to Jeremiah from the LORD: 2This is what the LORD said to me: "Make a yoke out of straps and crossbars and put it on your neck. 3Then send word to the kings of Edom, Moab, Ammon, Tyre and Sidon through the envoys who have come to Jerusalem to Zedekiah king of Judah. 4Give them a message for their masters and say, 'This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: "Tell this to your masters: 5With my great power and outstretched arm I made the earth and its people and the animals that are on it, and I give[c] it to anyone I please. 6Now I will hand all your countries over to my servant[d] Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon; I will make even the wild animals subject to him.[e] 7All nations will serve him and his son and his grandson until the time[f] for his land comes; then many nations and great kings will subjugate him.

8" ' "If, however, any nation or kingdom will not serve Nebuchadnezzar king of

27:5 [c] Ps 115:16

27:6 [d] Jer 25:9 [e] Jer 28:14

27:7 [f] Jer 25:12

[a] 18 Micah 3:12 [b] 1 A few Hebrew manuscripts and Syriac (see also Jer. 27:3, 12 and 28:1); most Hebrew manuscripts Jehoiakim (Most Septuagint manuscripts do not have this verse.)

26:17–19 The elders remembered the words of the prophet Micah (Micah 3:12), which were similar to the words Jeremiah spoke When Micah called the people to repent, they turned from their wickedness. Although these people did not kill Jeremiah, they missed the main point – that the application of the story was for them. They spared Jeremiah, but they did not spare themselves by repenting of their sins. As you recall a great story of the Bible, ask how it can be applied to your life.

26:20–23 Uriah is an otherwise unknown prophet who was executed for faithfully proclaiming God's words. This shows us that God has had other prophets whose words are not included in the Bible.

27:1ff The year was 593 B.C., and Nebuchadnezzar had already invaded Judah once and had taken many captives. Jeremiah wore a yoke (a wooden frame used to fasten a team of animals to a plow) as a symbol of bondage. This was an object lesson, telling the people they must put themselves under Babylon's yoke or be destroyed.

27:5, 6 God punished the people of Judah in an unusual way, by appointing a foreign ruler to be his "servant." Nebuchadnezzar was not employed to proclaim God's message, but to fulfill God's promise of judgment on sin. Because God is in control of all events, he uses whomever he wants. God may use unlikely people or circumstances to correct you. Be ready to accept God's improvement, even if it comes from unexpected sources.

Babylon or bow its neck under his yoke, I will punish that nation with the sword, famine and plague, declares the LORD, until I destroy it by his hand. 9So do not listen to your prophets, your diviners, your interpreters of dreams, your mediums[g] or your sorcerers who tell you, 'You will not serve the king of Babylon.' 10They prophesy lies[h] to you that will only serve to remove you far from your lands; I will banish you and you will perish. 11But if any nation will bow its neck under the yoke[i] of the king of Babylon and serve him, I will let that nation remain in its own land to till it and to live there, declares the LORD." ' "

12I gave the same message to Zedekiah king of Judah. I said, "Bow your neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon; serve him and his people, and you will live. 13Why will you and your people die[j] by the sword, famine and plague with which the LORD has threatened any nation that will not serve the king of Babylon? 14Do not listen to the words of the prophets who say to you, 'You will not serve the king of Babylon,' for they are prophesying lies[k] to you. 15'I have not sent them,' declares the LORD. 'They are prophesying lies in my name. Therefore, I will banish you and you will perish,[l] both you and the prophets who prophesy to you.' "

16Then I said to the priests and all these people, "This is what the LORD says: Do not listen to the prophets who say, 'Very soon now the articles from the LORD's house will be brought back from Babylon.' They are prophesying lies to you. 17Do not listen to them. Serve the king of Babylon, and you will live. Why should this city become a ruin? 18If they are prophets and have the word of the LORD, let them plead with the LORD Almighty that the furnishings remaining in the house of the LORD and in the palace of the king of Judah and in Jerusalem not be taken to Babylon. 19For this is what the LORD Almighty says about the pillars, the Sea, the movable stands and the other furnishings[m] that are left in this city, 20which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon did not take away when he carried Jehoiachin[c] son of Jehoiakim king of Judah into exile from Jerusalem to Babylon, along with all the nobles of Judah and Jerusalem — 21yes, this is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says about the things that are left in the house of the LORD and in the palace of the king of Judah and in Jerusalem: 22'They will be taken to Babylon and there they will remain until the day I come for them,' declares the LORD. 'Then I will bring[n] them back and restore them to this place.' "

The False Prophet Hananiah

28 In the fifth month of that same year, the fourth year, early in the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, the prophet Hananiah son of Azzur, who was from Gibeon, said to me in the house of the LORD in the presence of the priests and all the people: 2"This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: 'I will break the yoke[o] of the king of Babylon. 3Within two years I will bring back to this place all the articles[p] of the LORD's house that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon removed from here and took to Babylon. 4I will also bring back to this place Jehoiachin[c,q] son of Jehoiakim king of Judah and all the other exiles from Judah who went to Babylon,' declares the LORD, 'for I will break the yoke of the king of Babylon.' "

5Then the prophet Jeremiah replied to the prophet Hananiah before the priests and all the people who were standing in the house of the LORD. 6He said, "Amen! May the LORD do so! May the LORD fulfill the words you have prophesied by bringing the articles of the LORD's house and all the exiles back to this place from Babylon. 7Nevertheless, listen to what I have to say in your hearing and in the hearing

c 20,4 Hebrew Jeconiah, a variant of Jehoiachin

27:9 [g] Dt 18:11
27:10 [h] Jer 23:25
27:11 [i] Jer 21:9
27:13 [j] Eze 18:31
27:14 [k] Jer 14:14
27:15 [l] Jer 6:15
27:19 [m] Jer 52:17-23
27:22 [n] Ezr 7:19
28:2 [o] Jer 27:12
28:3 [p] 2Ki 24:13
28:4 [q] Jer 22:24-27

27:12–18 Zedekiah was in a tough spot. Jeremiah called on him to surrender to Nebuchadnezzar at a time when many of the other leaders wanted him to form an alliance and fight. It would be disgraceful for a king to surrender, and he would look like a coward. This was a great opportunity for the false prophets, who kept saying that the Babylonians would not defeat the great city of Jerusalem and that God would never allow the magnificent, holy temple to be destroyed.

27:19–22 When Nebuchadnezzar invaded Judah, first in 605 and then in 597 B.C., he took away many important people living in Jerusalem – including Daniel and Ezekiel. Although these men were captives, they had a profound impact on the exiles and leaders in Babylon. Jeremiah predicted that more people and even the precious objects in the temple would be taken. This happened in 586 B.C. during Babylon's third and last invasion.

of all the people: 8From early times the prophets who preceded you and me have prophesied war, disaster and plague against many countries and great kingdoms. 9But the prophet who prophesies peace will be recognized as one truly sent by the LORD only if his prediction comes true.[r]"

28:9 [r]Dt 18:22

10Then the prophet Hananiah took the yoke off the neck of the prophet Jeremiah and broke it, 11and he said before all the people, "This is what the LORD says: 'In the same way will I break the yoke of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon off the neck of all the nations within two years.' " At this, the prophet Jeremiah went on his way.

12Shortly after the prophet Hananiah had broken the yoke off the neck of the prophet Jeremiah, the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah: 13"Go and tell Hananiah, 'This is what the LORD says: You have broken a wooden yoke, but in its place you will get a yoke of iron. 14This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: I will put an iron yoke[s] on the necks of all these nations to make them serve Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and they will serve him. I will even give him control over the wild animals.[t]' "

28:14 [s]Dt 28:48 [t]Jer 27:6

15Then the prophet Jeremiah said to Hananiah the prophet, "Listen, Hananiah! The LORD has not sent you, yet you have persuaded this nation to trust in lies.[u] 16Therefore, this is what the LORD says: 'I am about to remove you from the face of the earth. This very year you are going to die, because you have preached rebellion[v] against the LORD.' "

28:15 [u]Eze 13:6

28:16 [v]Dt 13:5; Jer 29:32

17In the seventh month of that same year, Hananiah the prophet died.

A Letter to the Exiles

29 This is the text of the letter that the prophet Jeremiah sent from Jerusalem to the surviving elders among the exiles and to the priests, the prophets and all the other people Nebuchadnezzar had carried into exile from Jerusalem to Babylon. 2(This was after King Jehoiachin[d][w] and the queen mother, the court officials and the leaders of Judah and Jerusalem, the craftsmen and the artisans had gone into exile from Jerusalem.) 3He entrusted the letter to Elasah son of Shaphan and to Gemariah son of Hilkiah, whom Zedekiah king of Judah sent to King Nebuchadnezzar in Babylon. It said:

29:2 [w]2Ki 24:12

4This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says to all those I carried[x] into exile from Jerusalem to Babylon: 5"Build houses and settle down; plant gardens and eat what they produce. 6Marry and have sons and daughters; find wives for your sons and give your daughters in marriage, so that they too may have sons and daughters. Increase in number there; do not decrease. 7Also, seek the peace and prosperity of the city to which I have carried you into exile. Pray[y] to the LORD for it, because if it prospers, you too will prosper." 8Yes, this is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: "Do not let the prophets and diviners among you deceive you. Do not listen to the dreams you encourage them to have. 9They are prophesying lies[z] to you in my name. I have not sent them," declares the LORD.

29:4 [x]Jer 24:5

29:7 [y]1Ti 2:1-2

29:9 [z]Jer 27:15

10This is what the LORD says: "When seventy years[a] are completed for

29:10 [a]2Ch 36:21; Da 9:2

[d] 2 Hebrew Jeconiah, a variant of Jehoiachin

28:8–17 Jeremiah spoke the truth, but it was unpopular; Hananiah spoke lies, but his deceitful words brought false hope and comfort to the people. God had already outlined the marks of a true prophet (Deuteronomy 13; 18:20–22): a true prophet's predictions always come true and his words never contradict previous revelation. Jeremiah's predictions were already coming true, from Hananiah's death to the Babylonian invasions. But the people still preferred to listen to comforting lies rather than painful truth.

29:4–7 Jeremiah wrote to the captives in Babylon (29:4–23 is the letter) instructing them to move ahead with their lives and to pray for the pagan nation that enslaved them. Life cannot grind to a halt during troubled times. In an unpleasant or distressing situation, we must adjust and keep moving. You may find it difficult to pray for those in authority if they are evil, but that is when your prayers are most needed (1 Timothy 2:1, 2). When you enter times of trouble or sudden change, pray diligently and move ahead, doing whatever you can rather than giving up because of fear and uncertainty.

29:10 Scholars differ on the exact dates of this 70-year period in Babylon. Some say it refers to the years 605 – 538 B.C., from the first deportation to Babylon to the arrival of the first exiles back in Jerusalem after Cyrus's freedom decree. Others point to the years 586 – 516 B.C., from the last deportation to Babylon and the destruction of the temple until its rebuilding. A third possibility is that 70 years is an approximate number meaning a lifetime. All agree Babylon, I will come to you and fulfill my gracious promise to bring you back to this place. 11For I know the plans I have for you," declares the LORD, "plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future. 12Then you will call upon me and come and pray to me, and I will listen[b] to you. 13You will seek me and find me when you seek me with all your heart. 14I will be found by you," declares the LORD, "and will bring you back from captivity.[a] I will gather you from all the nations and places where I have banished you," declares the LORD, "and will bring you back to the place from which I carried you into exile."

29:12 [b] Ps 145:19

15You may say, "The LORD has raised up prophets for us in Babylon," 16but this is what the LORD says about the king who sits on David's throne and all the people who remain in this city, your countrymen who did not go with you into exile— 17yes, this is what the LORD Almighty says: "I will send the sword, famine and plague against them and I will make them like poor figs that are so bad they cannot be eaten. 18I will pursue them with the sword, famine and plague and will make them abhorrent to all the kingdoms of the earth and an object of cursing and horror,[c] of scorn and reproach, among all the nations where I drive them. 19For they have not listened to my words," declares the LORD, "words that I sent to them again and again by my servants the prophets.[d] And you exiles have not listened either," declares the LORD.

29:18 [c] Dt 28:25

29:19 [d] Jer 25:4

20Therefore, hear the word of the LORD, all you exiles whom I have sent away from Jerusalem to Babylon. 21This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says about Ahab son of Kolaiah and Zedekiah son of Maaseiah, who are prophesying lies to you in my name: "I will hand them over to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and he will put them to death before your very eyes. 22Because of them, all the exiles from Judah who are in Babylon will use this curse: 'The LORD treat you like Zedekiah and Ahab, whom the king of Babylon burned in the fire.' 23For they have done outrageous things in Israel; they have committed adultery with their neighbors' wives and in my name have spoken lies, which I did not tell them to do. I know it and am a witness to it," declares the LORD.

Message to Shemaiah

24Tell Shemaiah the Nehelamite, 25"This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: You sent letters in your own name to all the people in Jerusalem, to Zephaniah[e] son of Maaseiah the priest, and to all the other priests. You said to Zephaniah, 26'The LORD has appointed you priest in place of Jehoiada to be in charge of the house of the LORD; you should put any madman who acts like a prophet into the stocks[f] and neck-irons. 27So why have you not reprimanded Jere-

29:25 [e] 2Ki 25:18

29:26 [f] Jer 20:2

[a] 14 Or will restore your fortunes

---

that God sent his people to Babylon for a long time, not the short captivity predicted by the false prophets.

29:11 We're all encouraged by a leader who stirs us to move ahead, someone who believes we can do the task he has given and who will be with us all the way. God is that kind of leader. He knows the future, and his plans for us are good and full of hope. As long as God, who knows the future, provides our agenda and goes with us as we fulfill his mission, we can have boundless hope. This does not mean that we will be spared pain, suffering, or hardship, but that God will see us through to a glorious conclusion.

29:12–14 God did not forget his people, even though they were captive in Babylon. He planned to give them a new beginning with a new purpose—to turn them into new people. In times of deep trouble, it may appear as though God has forgotten you. But God may be preparing you, as he did the people of Judah, for a new beginning with him at the center.

29:13 According to God's wise plan, his people were to have hope and a future; consequently they could call upon him in confidence. Although the exiles were in a difficult place and time, they should not despair because they had God's presence, the privilege of prayer, and God's grace. God can be sought and found when we seek him wholeheartedly. Neither strange lands, sorrows, frustration, nor physical problems can break that communion.

29:21 These false prophets, Ahab and Zedekiah, should not be confused with the kings who had the same names. Their family connections clearly identify them.

29:24–28 These verses describe the reaction of Shemaiah, a false prophet exiled in 597 B.C. who had protested about Jeremiah's letter. To discredit Jeremiah, Shemaiah accused him of false prophecy. Although Jeremiah's message was true and his words were from God, the people hated him because he told them to make the most of the exile. But Jeremiah's truth from God offered temporary correction and long-range benefit, while the false teachers' lies offered only temporary comfort and long-range punishment.

miah from Anathoth, who poses as a prophet among you? 28He has sent this message to us in Babylon: It will be a long time. Therefore build[g] houses and settle down; plant gardens and eat what they produce.' "

29:28 [g] ver 5

29Zephaniah the priest, however, read the letter to Jeremiah the prophet. 30Then the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah: 31"Send this message to all the exiles: 'This is what the LORD says about Shemaiah the Nehelamite: Because Shemaiah has prophesied to you, even though I did not send[h] him, and has led you to believe a lie, 32this is what the LORD says: I will surely punish Shemaiah the Nehelamite and his descendants. He will have no one left among this people, nor will he see the good things I will do for my people, declares the LORD, because he has preached rebellion[i] against me.' "

29:31 [h] Jer 14:14

29:32 [i] Jer 28:16

5. Restoration is promised

Restoration of Israel

30 This is the word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD: 2"This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says: 'Write in a book all the words I have spoken to you. 3The days are coming,' declares the LORD, 'when I will bring my people Israel and Judah back from captivity[f] and restore them to the land I gave their forefathers to possess,' says the LORD."

4These are the words the LORD spoke concerning Israel and Judah: 5"This is what the LORD says:

" 'Cries of fear are heard—terror, not peace.
6Ask and see:
Can a man bear children?
Then why do I see every strong man with his hands on his stomach like a woman in labor,[j] every face turned deathly pale?
7How awful that day will be!
None will be like it.
It will be a time of trouble for Jacob, but he will be saved out of it.

8" 'In that day,' declares the LORD Almighty,
'I will break the yoke off their necks and will tear off their bonds;
no longer will foreigners enslave them.
9Instead, they will serve the LORD their God and David their king,[k] whom I will raise up for them.

10" 'So do not fear, O Jacob my servant;[l]
do not be dismayed, O Israel,'
declares the LORD.
'I will surely save you out of a distant place,
your descendants from the land of their exile.
Jacob will again have peace and security,
and no one will make him afraid.
11I am with you and will save you,'

30:6 [j] Jer 4:31

30:9 [k] Eze 34:23-24; 37:24; Hos 3:5

30:10 [l] Isa 44:2

[f] 3 Or will restore the fortunes of my people Israel and Judah

30:1ff Chapters 30 and 31 show that Jeremiah spoke of hope and consolation as well as trouble and gloom. The people would one day be restored to their land, and God would make a new covenant with them to replace the one they broke. Where once they sinned and disobeyed, eventually they would repent and obey.

30:8, 9 Like Isaiah, Jeremiah associated events of the near future and those of the distant future. Reading these prophecies is like looking at several mountain peaks in a range. From a distance they look as though they are next to each other, when actually they are miles apart. Jeremiah presents near and distant events as if they will all happen soon. He sees the exile, but he sees also the future day when Christ will reign forever. The reference to David is not to King David, but to his famous descendant, the Messiah (Luke 1:69).

declares the LORD.
'Though I completely destroy all the nations
among which I scatter you,
I will not completely destroy[m] you.
I will discipline[n] you but only with justice;
I will not let you go entirely unpunished.'

12"This is what the LORD says:

" 'Your wound is incurable,
your injury beyond healing.
13There is no one to plead your cause,
no remedy for your sore,
no healing for you.
14All your allies[o] have forgotten you;
they care nothing for you.
I have struck you as an enemy would and punished you as would the cruel, because your guilt is so great and your sins so many.
15Why do you cry out over your wound,
your pain that has no cure?
Because of your great guilt and many sins
I have done these things to you.

16" 'But all who devour[p] you will be devoured;
all your enemies will go into exile.
Those who plunder you will be plundered;
all who make spoil of you I will despoil.
17But I will restore you to health and heal your wounds,'
declares the LORD,
'because you are called an outcast,
Zion for whom no one cares.'

18"This is what the LORD says:

" 'I will restore the fortunes[q] of Jacob's tents and have compassion[r] on his dwellings;
the city will be rebuilt on her ruins,
and the palace will stand in its proper place.
19From them will come songs of thanksgiving and the sound of rejoicing.
I will add to their numbers,
and they will not be decreased;
I will bring them honor,
and they will not be disdained.
20Their children will be as in days of old,
and their community will be established[s] before me;
I will punish all who oppress them.

30:11 [m]Jer 46:28 [n]Jer 10:24
30:14 [o]La 1:2
30:16 [p]Isa 33:1; Jer 2:3
30:18 [q]Jer 31:23 [r]Ps 102:13
30:20 [s]Isa 54:14

30:12, 13, 17 The medical language here conveys the idea that sin is terminal. Sinful people cannot be cured by being good or being religious. Beware of putting your confidence in useless cures while your sin spreads and causes you pain. God alone can cure the disease of sin, but you must be willing to let him do it.

30:15 Judah protested its punishment, even though the sin that caused the pain was scandalous. But punishment is an opportunity for growth because it makes us aware of sin's consequences. The people should have asked how they could profit from their mistakes. Remember this the next time you are corrected.

30:18 This prophecy that Jerusalem would be rebuilt was not completely fulfilled by the work of Ezra, Nehemiah, and Zerubbabel. The city was indeed rebuilt after the captivity, but the final restoration will occur when all believers are gathered in Christ's kingdom. This restoration will include buildings (30:18), people (30:19), and rulers (30:21).

21 Their leader will be one of their own;
their ruler will arise from among them.
I will bring him near[t] and he will come close to me,
for who is he who will devote himself to be close to me?'
declares the LORD.

30:21 [t] Nu 16:5

22 " 'So you will be my people, and I will be your God.' "

23 See, the storm[u] of the LORD
will burst out in wrath,
a driving wind swirling down
on the heads of the wicked.
24 The fierce anger of the LORD will not turn back until he fully accomplishes
the purposes of his heart.
In days to come
you will understand this.

30:23 [u] Jer 23:19

31 "At that time," declares the LORD, "I will be the God of all the clans of Israel, and they will be my people."
2 This is what the LORD says:

"The people who survive the sword will find favor[v] in the desert;
I will come to give rest to Israel."

31:2 [v] Nu 14:20

3 The LORD appeared to us in the past,[g] saying:

"I have loved you with an everlasting love;
I have drawn[w] you with loving-kindness.
4 I will build you up again and you will be rebuilt, O Virgin Israel.
Again you will take up your tambourines and go out to dance with the joyful.[x] 5 Again you will plant vineyards on the hills of Samaria;
the farmers will plant them
and enjoy their fruit.[y]
6 There will be a day when watchmen cry out on the hills of Ephraim,
'Come, let us go up to Zion, to the LORD our God.' "[z]

31:3 [w] Hos 11:4
31:4 [x] Jer 30:19
31:5 [y] Am 9:14
31:6 [z] Mic 4:2

7 This is what the LORD says:

"Sing with joy for Jacob;
shout for the foremost[a] of the nations.
Make your praises heard, and say,
'O LORD, save your people,
the remnant of Israel.'
8 See, I will bring them from the land of the north[b] and gather them from the ends of the earth.

31:7 [a] Dt 28:13
31:8 [b] Jer 3:18

g 3 Or LORD has appeared to us from afar

30:21 This verse refers to the restoration after the Babylonian captivity, as well as to the final restoration under Christ.

31:1 This promise is to all the clans (tribes) of Israel, not only to the tribe of Judah. The restoration will include all people who trust God.

31:3 God reaches toward his people with kindness motivated by deep and everlasting love. He is eager to do the best for them if they will only let him. After many words of warning about sin, this reminder of God's magnificent love is a breath of fresh air. Rather than thinking of God with dread, look carefully and see him lovingly drawing us toward himself.

31:8 [c] Isa 42:16
Among them will be the blind[c] and the lame, expectant mothers and women in labor;
a great throng will return.
9They will come with weeping;
they will pray as I bring them back.
I will lead them beside streams of water 31:9 [d] Isa 49:11 on a level[d] path where they will not stumble, because I am Israel's father,
and Ephraim is my firstborn son.

10"Hear the word of the LORD, O nations;
proclaim it in distant coastlands:
'He who scattered Israel will gather them
31:10 [e] Isa 40:11 and will watch over his flock like a shepherd.'[e] 11For the LORD will ransom Jacob and redeem them from the hand of those stronger than they.
31:12 [f] Eze 17:23 12They will come and shout for joy on the heights[f] of Zion;
they will rejoice in the bounty of the LORD—
the grain, the new wine and the oil,
the young of the flocks and herds.
They will be like a well-watered garden,
and they will sorrow no more.
13Then maidens will dance and be glad,
young men and old as well.
I will turn their mourning into gladness;
31:13 [g] Isa 51:11 I will give them comfort and joy[g] instead of sorrow.
14I will satisfy the priests with abundance, and my people will be filled with my bounty,"
declares the LORD.

15This is what the LORD says:

31:15 [h] Jos 18:25 [i] Mt 2:17-18*
"A voice is heard in Ramah,[h]
mourning and great weeping, Rachel weeping for her children and refusing to be comforted, because her children are no more."[i]

16This is what the LORD says:

"Restrain your voice from weeping and your eyes from tears, for your work will be rewarded,"
declares the LORD.
31:16 [j] Eze 11:17 "They will return[j] from the land of the enemy.
17So there is hope for your future,"
declares the LORD.
"Your children will return to their own land.

18"I have surely heard Ephraim's moaning:
31:18 [k] Job 5:17 'You disciplined[k] me like an unruly calf, and I have been disciplined.

31:14 This means that many sacrifices will be made at the temple so that the priests will have a feast with their portion. It is also a symbol of life and prosperity (Psalm 36:8; 63:5; Isaiah 55:2)

31:15 Rachel, Jacob's favorite wife, was the symbolic mother of the northern tribes, who were taken away by the Assyrians as slaves. Rachel is pictured crying for the exiles at Ramah, a staging point of deportation. This verse is quoted in Matthew 2:18 to describe the sadness of the mothers of Bethlehem as the male children were killed. The weeping was great in both cases.

31:18–20 "I beat my breast" was an expression picturing grief and mourning. Ephraim was one of the major tribes of the northern kingdom. Although the northern kingdom had sunk into the most degrading sins, God still loved the people. A remnant would turn to God, repenting of their sins, and God would forgive. God still loves you, despite anything you may have done. He will forgive you if you turn back to him.

Restore me, and I will return, because you are the LORD my God.
19 After I strayed,
I repented;
after I came to understand,
I beat my breast.
I was ashamed and humiliated because I bore the disgrace of my youth.' 20 Is not Ephraim my dear son,
the child in whom I delight?
Though I often speak against him,
I still remember him.
Therefore my heart yearns for him;
I have great compassion[l] for him,"
declares the LORD.

31:20 [l] Isa 55:7

21 "Set up road signs;
put up guideposts.
Take note of the highway,[m]
the road that you take.
Return, O Virgin Israel, return to your towns.
22 How long will you wander,
O unfaithful daughter?
The LORD will create a new thing on earth —
a woman will surround[h] a man."

31:21 [m] Jer 50:5

23 This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: "When I bring them back from captivity,[i] the people in the land of Judah and in its towns will once again use these words: 'The LORD bless you, O righteous dwelling,[n] O sacred mountain.' 24 People will live together in Judah and all its towns — farmers and those who move about with their flocks. 25 I will refresh the weary and satisfy the faint."

31:23 [n] Isa 1:26

26 At this I awoke and looked around. My sleep had been pleasant to me.

27 "The days are coming," declares the LORD, "when I will plant[o] the house of Israel and the house of Judah with the offspring of men and of animals. 28 Just as I watched over them to uproot and tear down, and to overthrow, destroy and bring disaster,[p] so I will watch over them to build and to plant,"[q] declares the LORD. 29 "In those days people will no longer say,

31:27 [o] Hos 2:23

31:28 [p] Jer 18:8 [q] Jer 1:10

'The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge.'[r]

31:29 [r] Eze 18:2

30 Instead, everyone will die for his own sin; whoever eats sour grapes — his own teeth will be set on edge.

31 "The time is coming," declares the LORD,
"when I will make a new covenant[s] with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah.
32 It will not be like the covenant
I made with their forefathers when I took them by the hand to lead them out of Egypt,

31:31 [s] Heb 8:8-12*

[h] 22 Or will go about ,seeking,; or will protect [i] 23 Or I restore their fortunes

31:29, 30 The people tried to blame God's judgment on the sins of their fathers. One person's sin does indeed affect other people, but all people are still held personally accountable for the sin in their own lives (Deuteronomy 24:16; Ezekiel 18:2). What excuses do you use for your sins?

because they broke my covenant, though I was a husband to them,[k]"
declares the LORD.
33"This is the covenant I will make with the house of Israel after that time," declares the LORD.
"I will put my law in their minds and write it on their hearts.
I will be their God,
and they will be my people.
34No longer will a man teach his neighbor, or a man his brother, saying, 'Know the LORD,' because they will all know[t] me, from the least of them to the greatest,"
declares the LORD.
"For I will forgive their wickedness and will remember their sins[u] no more."

35This is what the LORD says,

he who appoints the sun
to shine by day,
who decrees the moon and stars to shine by night,[v] who stirs up the sea
so that its waves roar—
the LORD Almighty is his name:[w] 36"Only if these decrees[x] vanish from my sight,"
declares the LORD,
"will the descendants of Israel ever cease to be a nation before me."

37This is what the LORD says:

"Only if the heavens above can be measured[y] and the foundations of the earth below be searched out will I reject all the descendants of Israel because of all they have done,"
declares the LORD.

38"The days are coming," declares the LORD, "when this city will be rebuilt for me from the Tower of Hananel[z] to the Corner Gate. 39The measuring line will stretch from there straight to the hill of Gareb and then turn to Goah. 40The whole valley where dead bodies and ashes are thrown, and all the terraces out to the Kidron Valley on the east as far as the corner of the Horse Gate, will be holy[a] to the LORD. The city will never again be uprooted or demolished."

31:34 [t] Jn 6:45 [u] Mic 7:19; Heb 10:17*
31:35 [v] Ge 1:16 [w] Jer 10:16
31:36 [x] Jer 33:20-26
31:37 [y] Jer 33:22
31:38 [z] Ne 3:1
31:40 [a] Joel 3:17

[i] 32 Hebrew; Septuagint and Syriac / and I turned away from [k] 32 Or was their master

31:33 God would write his law on their hearts rather than on tablets of stone, as he did the Ten Commandments. In 17:1 their sin was engraved on their hearts so that they wanted above all to disobey. This change seems to describe an experience very much like the new birth, with God taking the initiative. When we turn our lives over to God, he, by his Holy Spirit, builds into us the desire to obey him.

31:33 The old covenant, broken by the people, would be replaced by a new covenant. The foundation of this new covenant is Christ (Hebrews 8:6). It is revolutionary, involving not only Israel and Judah, but even the Gentiles. It offers a unique personal relationship with God himself, with his laws written on individuals' hearts instead of on stone. Jeremiah looked forward to the day when Jesus would come to establish this covenant. But for us today, this covenant is here. We have the wonderful opportunity to make a fresh start and establish a permanent, personal relationship with God (see 29:11; 32:38–40).

31:35–37 God has the power to do away with the decrees of nature or even to do away with his people. But he will do neither. This is not a prediction; it is a promise. This is God's way of saying that he will not reject Israel any more than he will do away with nature's laws. Neither will happen!

31:38–40 These points mark the boundaries of restored Jerusalem in the days of Nehemiah. Gareb and Goah are unknown. The valley of the dead bodies and ashes is probably the Valley of Ben Hinnom where children were sacrified in pagan worship.

Jeremiah Buys a Field

32 This is the word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD in the tenth[b] year of Zedekiah king of Judah, which was the eighteenth year of Nebuchadnezzar. 2The army of the king of Babylon was then besieging Jerusalem, and Jeremiah the prophet was confined in the courtyard of the guard[c] in the royal palace of Judah.

3Now Zedekiah king of Judah had imprisoned him there, saying, "Why do you prophesy as you do? You say, 'This is what the LORD says: I am about to hand this city over to the king of Babylon, and he will capture[d] it. 4Zedekiah king of Judah will not escape[e] out of the hands of the Babylonians[l] but will certainly be handed over to the king of Babylon, and will speak with him face to face and see him with his own eyes. 5He will take Zedekiah to Babylon, where he will remain until I deal with him, declares the LORD. If you fight against the Babylonians, you will not succeed.' "

6Jeremiah said, "The word of the LORD came to me: 7Hanamel son of Shallum your uncle is going to come to you and say, 'Buy my field at Anathoth, because as nearest relative it is your right and duty[f] to buy it.'

8"Then, just as the LORD had said, my cousin Hanamel came to me in the courtyard of the guard and said, 'Buy my field at Anathoth in the territory of Benjamin. Since it is your right to redeem it and possess it, buy it for yourself.'

"I knew that this was the word of the LORD; 9so I bought the field at Anathoth from my cousin Hanamel and weighed out for him seventeen shekels[m] of silver.[g] 10I signed and sealed the deed, had it witnessed, and weighed out the silver on the scales. 11I took the deed of purchase — the sealed copy containing the terms and conditions, as well as the unsealed copy — 12and I gave this deed to Baruch[h] son of Neriah, the son of Mahseiah, in the presence of my cousin Hanamel and of the witnesses who had signed the deed and of all the Jews sitting in the courtyard of the guard.

13"In their presence I gave Baruch these instructions: 14'This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: Take these documents, both the sealed and unsealed copies of the deed of purchase, and put them in a clay jar so they will last a long time. 15For this is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: Houses, fields and vineyards will again be bought in this land.'

16"After I had given the deed of purchase to Baruch son of Neriah, I prayed to the LORD:

17"Ah, Sovereign LORD, you have made the heavens and the earth by your great power and outstretched arm.[i] Nothing is too hard for you. 18You show love to thousands but bring the punishment for the fathers' sins into the laps of their children[j] after them. O great and powerful God, whose name is the LORD Almighty,[k] 19great are your purposes and mighty are your deeds. Your eyes are open to all the ways of men;[l] you reward everyone according to his conduct and as his deeds deserve. 20You performed miraculous signs and wonders in Egypt[m] and have continued them to this day, both in Israel and among all mankind, and have gained the renown that is still yours. 21You brought your people Israel out of Egypt with signs and wonders, by a mighty

32:1 [b] 2Ki 25:1
32:2 [c] Ne 3:25
32:3 [d] Jer 34:2-3
32:4 [e] Jer 38:18, 23; 39:5-7
32:7 [f] Lev 25:24-25; Ru 4:3-4
32:9 [g] Ge 23:16
32:12 [h] Jer 36:4
32:17 [i] 2Ki 19:15
32:18 [j] Ex 20:5 [k] Jer 10:16
32:19 [l] Jer 16:17
32:20 [m] Ex 9:16

4 Or Chaldeans; also in verses 5, 24, 25, 28, 29 and 43 m 9 That is, about 7 ounces (about 200 grams)

32:1–12 God told Jeremiah to buy a field outside Jerusalem. The city had been under siege for a year, and Jeremiah bought land that the soldiers occupied — certainly a poor investment. In addition, Jeremiah was a prisoner in the palace. But Jeremiah was demonstrating his faith in God's promises to bring his people back and to rebuild Jerusalem.

32:6–17 Trust doesn't come easy. It wasn't easy for Jeremiah to publicly buy land already captured by the enemy. But he trusted God. It wasn't easy for David to believe that he would become king, even after he was anointed. But he trusted God (1 Samuel 16—31). It wasn't easy for Moses to believe that he and his people would escape Egypt, even after God spoke to him from a burning bush. But he trusted God (Exodus 3:1 — 4:20). It isn't easy for us to believe that God can fulfill his "impossible" promises either, but we must trust him. God, who worked in the lives of Biblical heroes, will work in our lives too, if we will let him.

32:17–25 After Jeremiah bought the field, he began to wonder if such a move was wise. He sought relief in prayer from his nagging doubts. In this prayer, Jeremiah affirmed that God is Creator (32:17), the wise Judge of all the ways of people (32:19), and Redeemer (32:21). God loves us and sees our situation. Whenever we doubt God's wisdom or wonder if it is practical to obey him, we can review what we already know about him. Such thoughts and prayers will quiet our doubts and calm our fears.

hand[n] and an outstretched arm and with great terror. 22You gave them this land you had sworn to give their forefathers, a land flowing with milk and honey.[o] 23They came in and took possession of it, but they did not obey you or follow your law;[p] they did not do what you commanded them to do. So you brought all this disaster upon them.

24"See how the siege ramps are built up to take the city. Because of the sword, famine and plague, the city will be handed over to the Babylonians who are attacking it. What you said has happened, as you now see. 25And though the city will be handed over to the Babylonians, you, O Sovereign LORD, say to me, 'Buy the field with silver and have the transaction witnessed.' "

26Then the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah: 27"I am the LORD, the God of all mankind.[q] Is anything too hard for me? 28Therefore, this is what the LORD says: I am about to hand this city over to the Babylonians and to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, who will capture it. 29The Babylonians who are attacking this city will come in and set it on fire; they will burn it down, along with the houses[r] where the people provoked me to anger by burning incense on the roofs to Baal and by pouring out drink offerings to other gods.

30"The people of Israel and Judah have done nothing but evil in my sight from their youth; indeed, the people of Israel have done nothing but provoke me with what their hands have made, declares the LORD. 31From the day it was built until now, this city has so aroused my anger and wrath that I must remove it from my sight. 32The people of Israel and Judah have provoked me by all the evil[s] they have done — they, their kings and officials, their priests and prophets, the men of Judah and the people of Jerusalem. 33They turned their backs[t] to me and not their faces; though I taught them again and again, they would not listen or respond to discipline. 34They set up their abominable idols in the house that bears my Name and defiled it. 35They built high places for Baal in the Valley of Ben Hinnom to sacrifice their sons and daughters[n] to Molech,[u] though I never commanded, nor did it enter my mind,[v] that they should do such a detestable thing and so make Judah sin.

36"You are saying about this city, 'By the sword, famine and plague it will be handed over to the king of Babylon'; but this is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says: 37I will surely gather them from all the lands where I banish them in my furious anger and great wrath; I will bring them back to this place and let them live in safety. 38They will be my people,[w] and I will be their God. 39I will give them singleness of heart and action, so that they will always fear me for their own good and the good of their children after them. 40I will make an everlasting covenant with them: I will never stop doing good to them, and I will inspire them to fear me, so that they will never turn away from me. 41I will rejoice in doing them good and will assuredly plant them in this land with all my heart and soul.

42"This is what the LORD says: As I have brought all this great calamity on this people, so I will give them all the prosperity I have promised them. 43Once more fields will be bought[x] in this land of which you say, 'It is a desolate waste, without men or animals, for it has been handed over to the Babylonians.' 44Fields will be bought for silver, and deeds will be signed, sealed and witnessed in the territory of Benjamin, in the villages around Jerusalem, in the towns of Judah and in the towns of the hill country, of the western foothills and of the Negev,[y] because I will restore their fortunes,[o] declares the LORD."

[n] 35 Or to make their sons and daughters pass through the fire [o] 44 Or will bring them back from captivity

32:21 [n]Ex 6:6; Da 9:15
32:22 [o]Ex 3:8
32:23 [p]Jer 11:8
32:27 [q]Nu 16:22
32:29 [r]Jer 19:13
32:32 [s]Da 9:8
32:33 [t]Jer 2:27
32:35 [u]Lev 18:21 [v]Jer 19:5
32:38 [w]2Co 6:16*
32:43 [x]ver 15
32:44 [y]Jer 17:26

32:35 These high places were where the most important and grotesque part of Molech worship took place. Children were offered in sacrifice to this pagan god.

32:36–42 God uses his power to accomplish his purposes through his people. God doesn't give you power to be all you want to be, but he gives you power to be all he wants you to be. The people of Israel had to learn that trusting God meant radically realigning their purposes and desires toward him. God gave them "singleness of heart" toward him (32:39). We must develop that singleness of heart and action to love God above anything else.

32:44 The hill country is in western Palestine. The Negev is the southern part of Judah.

Promise of Restoration

33 While Jeremiah was still confined in the courtyard of the guard, the word of the LORD came to him a second time: 2"This is what the LORD says, he who made the earth, the LORD who formed it and established it—the LORD is his name: 3'Call to me and I will answer you and tell you great and unsearchable things you do not know.' 4For this is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says about the houses in this city and the royal palaces of Judah that have been torn down to be used against the siege ramps and the sword 5in the fight with the Babylonians[p]: 'They will be filled with the dead bodies of the men I will slay in my anger and wrath. I will hide my face from this city because of all its wickedness.

6" 'Nevertheless, I will bring health and healing to it; I will heal my people and will let them enjoy abundant peace and security. 7I will bring Judah[a] and Israel back from captivity[q] and will rebuild them as they were before. 8I will cleanse[b] them from all the sin they have committed against me and will forgive all their sins of rebellion against me. 9Then this city will bring me renown, joy, praise and honor before all nations on earth that hear of all the good things I do for it; and they will be in awe and will tremble at the abundant prosperity and peace I provide for it.'

10"This is what the LORD says: 'You say about this place, "It is a desolate waste, without men or animals."[c] Yet in the towns of Judah and the streets of Jerusalem that are deserted, inhabited by neither men nor animals, there will be heard once more 11the sounds of joy and gladness, the voices of bride and bridegroom, and the voices of those who bring thank offerings[d] to the house of the LORD, saying,

> "Give thanks to the LORD Almighty, > for the LORD is good;
> his love endures forever."[e]

For I will restore the fortunes of the land as they were before,' says the LORD.

12"This is what the LORD Almighty says: 'In this place, desolate and without men or animals—in all its towns there will again be pastures for shepherds to rest their flocks.[f] 13In the towns of the hill country, of the western foothills and of the Negev,[g] in the territory of Benjamin, in the villages around Jerusalem and in the towns of Judah, flocks will again pass under the hand[h] of the one who counts them,' says the LORD.

14" 'The days are coming,' declares the LORD, 'when I will fulfill the gracious promise I made to the house of Israel and to the house of Judah.

> 15" 'In those days and at that time
> I will make a righteous Branch[i] sprout from David's line;
> he will do what is just and right in the land.
> 16In those days Judah will be saved > and Jerusalem will live in safety.
> This is the name by which it[r] will be called:
> The LORD Our Righteousness.'

17For this is what the LORD says: 'David will never fail[j] to have a man to sit on the throne of the house of Israel, 18nor will the priests, who are Levites, ever fail to

33:2 [z] Ex 3:15

33:7 [a] Jer 32:44

33:8 [b] Heb 9:13-14

33:10 [c] Jer 32:43

33:11 [d] Lev 7:12 [e] 2Ch 5:13

33:12 [f] Isa 65:10

33:13 [g] Jer 17:26 [h] Lev 27:32

33:15 [i] Isa 4:2

33:17 [j] 2Sa 7:13

p 5 Or Chaldeans q 7 Or will restore the fortunes of Judah and Israel r 16 Or he 33:1ff God would restore Jerusalem, not because the people cried, but because it was part of his ultimate plan. The Babylonian disaster did not change God's purposes for his people. Although Jerusalem would be destroyed, it would be restored (after the 70-year captivity and in the end times when the Messiah will rule). God's justice is always tempered by his mercy.

33:3 God assured Jeremiah that he had only to call to God and God would answer (see also Psalm 145:18; Isaiah 58:9; Matthew 7:7). God is ready to answer our prayers, but we must ask for his assistance. Surely God could take care of our needs without our asking. But when we ask, we are acknowledging that he alone is God and that we cannot accomplish in our own strength all that is his domain to do. When we ask, we must humble ourselves, lay aside our willfulness and worry, and determine to obey him.

33:15, 16 These verses refer to both the first and second comings of Christ. At his first coming he would set up his reign in the hearts of believers; at his second coming he would execute justice and righteousness throughout the whole earth. Christ is the "righteous Branch" sprouting from David, the man after God's own heart.

have a man to stand before me continually to offer burnt offerings, to burn grain offerings and to present sacrifices.' "

19The word of the LORD came to Jeremiah: 20"This is what the LORD says: 'If you can break my covenant with the day and my covenant with the night, so that day and night no longer come at their appointed time, 21then my covenant with David my servant — and my covenant with the Levites who are priests ministering before me — can be broken and David will no longer have a descendant to reign on his throne. 22I will make the descendants of David my servant and the Levites who minister before me as countless as the stars of the sky and as measureless as the sand on the seashore.' "

23The word of the LORD came to Jeremiah: 24"Have you not noticed that these people are saying, 'The LORD has rejected the two kingdoms[s] he chose'? So they despise my people and no longer regard them as a nation. 25This is what the LORD says: 'If I have not established my covenant with day and night and the fixed laws of heaven and earth,[k] 26then I will reject the descendants of Jacob and David my servant and will not choose one of his sons to rule over the descendants of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. For I will restore their fortunes[t] and have compassion on them.' "

33:25 [k] Ps 74:16-17

6. God's promised judgment arrives

Warning to Zedekiah

34 While Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon and all his army and all the kingdoms and peoples in the empire he ruled were fighting against Jerusalem[l] and all its surrounding towns, this word came to Jeremiah from the LORD: 2"This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says: Go to Zedekiah king of Judah and tell him, 'This is what the LORD says: I am about to hand this city over to the king of Babylon, and he will burn it down.[m] 3You will not escape from his grasp but will surely be captured and handed over[n] to him. You will see the king of Babylon with your own eyes, and he will speak with you face to face. And you will go to Babylon.

4" 'Yet hear the promise of the LORD, O Zedekiah king of Judah. This is what the LORD says concerning you: You will not die by the sword; 5you will die peacefully. As people made a funeral fire[o] in honor of your fathers, the former kings who preceded you, so they will make a fire in your honor and lament, "Alas,[p] O master!" I myself make this promise, declares the LORD.' "

34:1 [l] 2Ki 25:1; Jer 39:1

34:2 [m] Jer 32:29

34:3 [n] Jer 21:7

34:5 [o] 2Ch 16:14 [p] Jer 22:18

[s] 24 Or families [t] 26 Or will bring them back from captivity

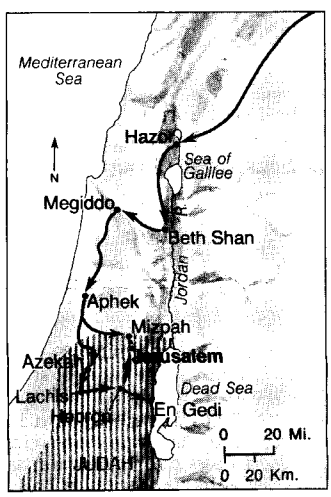
BABYLON ATTACKS JUDAH Zedekiah incurred Babylon's wrath in allying with Egypt (37:5) and not surrendering as God told him through Jeremiah (38:17). Nebuchadnezzar attacked Judah for the third and final time, moving systematically until all its cities fell. Jerusalem withstood siege for several months but was burned, as Jeremiah predicted (chapter 39).



33:18 As Christ fulfills the role of King, he also fulfills the role of Priest, maintaining constant fellowship with God and mediating for the people (see the note on 22:30). This verse does not mean that actual priests will perform sacrifices, for sacrifices will no longer be necessary (Hebrews 7:24, 25). Now that Christ is our High Priest, all believers are priests of God, and we can come before him personally.

34:1ff This chapter describes the fulfillment of many of Jeremiah's predictions. In the book of Jeremiah, many prophecies were both given and quickly fulfilled.

6Then Jeremiah the prophet told all this to Zedekiah king of Judah, in Jerusalem, 7while the army of the king of Babylon was fighting against Jerusalem and the other cities of Judah that were still holding out — Lachish and Azekah.[q] These were the only fortified cities left in Judah.

34:7 [q] 2Ch 11:9

Freedom for Slaves

8The word came to Jeremiah from the LORD after King Zedekiah had made a covenant with all the people in Jerusalem to proclaim freedom[r] for the slaves.
9Everyone was to free his Hebrew slaves, both male and female; no one was to hold a fellow Jew in bondage. 10So all the officials and people who entered into this covenant agreed that they would free their male and female slaves and no longer hold them in bondage. They agreed, and set them free. 11But afterward they changed their minds and took back the slaves they had freed and enslaved them again.

34:8 [r] Ex 21:2

12Then the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah: 13"This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says: I made a covenant with your forefathers when I brought them out of Egypt, out of the land of slavery. I said, 14'Every seventh year each of you must free any fellow Hebrew who has sold himself to you. After he has served you six years, you must let him go free.'[u][s] Your fathers, however, did not listen to me or pay attention to me. 15Recently you repented and did what is right in my sight:
Each of you proclaimed freedom to his countrymen. You even made a covenant before me in the house that bears my Name.[t] 16But now you have turned around and profaned[u] my name; each of you has taken back the male and female slaves you had set free to go where they wished. You have forced them to become your slaves again.

34:14 [s] Ex 21:2
34:15 [t] Jer 32:34
34:16 [u] Lev 19:12

17"Therefore, this is what the LORD says: You have not obeyed me; you have not proclaimed freedom for your fellow countrymen. So I now proclaim 'freedom' for you,[v] declares the LORD — 'freedom' to fall by the sword, plague and famine. I will make you abhorrent to all the kingdoms of the earth. 18The men who have violated my covenant and have not fulfilled the terms of the covenant they made before me, I will treat like the calf they cut in two and then walked between its pieces.[w] 19The leaders of Judah and Jerusalem, the court officials, the priests and all the people of the land who walked between the pieces of the calf, 20I will hand over to their enemies who seek their lives. Their dead bodies will become food for the birds of the air and the beasts of the earth.

34:17 [v] Mt 7:2
34:18 [w] Ge 15:10

21"I will hand Zedekiah king of Judah and his officials over to their enemies who seek their lives, to the army of the king of Babylon, which has withdrawn[x] from you. 22I am going to give the order, declares the LORD, and I will bring them back to this city. They will fight against it, take it and burn it down. And I will lay waste the towns of Judah so no one can live there."

34:21 [x] Jer 37:5

The Recabites

35 This is the word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD during the reign of Jehoiakim son of Josiah king of Judah: 2"Go to the Recabite[y] family and invite them to come to one of the side rooms[z] of the house of the LORD and give them wine to drink."

35:2 [y] 2Ki 10:15 [z] 1Ki 6:5

[u] 14 Deut. 15:12

34:8, 9 Babylon had laid siege to Jerusalem, and the city was about to fall. Zedekiah finally decided to listen to Jeremiah and try to appease God — so he freed the slaves. He thought he could win God's favor with a kind act, but what he needed was a change of heart. The people had been disobeying God's law from the beginning (Exodus 21:2–11; Leviticus 25:39–55; Deuteronomy 15:12–18). When the siege was temporarily lifted, the people became bold and returned to their sins (34:11–17; 37:5, 11).

34:15, 16 The people of Israel had a hard time keeping their promises to God. In the temple, they would solemnly promise to obey God, but back in their homes and at work they wouldn't do it. God expressed his great displeasure. If you want to please God,

3So I went to get Jaazaniah son of Jeremiah, the son of Habazziniah, and his brothers and all his sons—the whole family of the Recabites. 4I brought them into the house of the LORD, into the room of the sons of Hanan son of Igdaliah the man of God. It was next to the room of the officials, which was over that of 35:4 [a] 1Ch 9:19 Maaseiah son of Shallum[a] the doorkeeper. 5Then I set bowls full of wine and some cups before the men of the Recabite family and said to them, "Drink some wine."

35:6 [b] 2Ki 10:15 6But they replied, "We do not drink wine, because our forefather Jonadab[b] son of Recab gave us this command: 'Neither you nor your descendants must ever drink wine. 7Also you must never build houses, sow seed or plant vineyards; you must never have any of these things, but must always live in tents. Then you will live 35:7 [c] Ex 20:12; Eph 6:2-3 a long time in the land[c] where you are nomads.' 8We have obeyed everything our forefather Jonadab son of Recab commanded us. Neither we nor our wives nor our sons and daughters have ever drunk wine 9or built houses to live in or had vineyards, fields or crops. 10We have lived in tents and have fully obeyed everything our forefather Jonadab commanded us. 11But when Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon invaded this land, we said, 'Come, we must go to Jerusalem to escape the Babylonian[v] and Aramean armies.' So we have remained in Jerusalem."

12Then the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, saying: 13"This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: Go and tell the men of Judah and the people of 35:13 [d] Jer 32:33 Jerusalem, 'Will you not learn a lesson[d] and obey my words?' declares the LORD. 14'Jonadab son of Recab ordered his sons not to drink wine and this command has been kept. To this day they do not drink wine, because they obey their forefather's 35:14 [e] Jer 7:13 command. But I have spoken to you again and again,[e] yet you have not obeyed me. 15Again and again I sent all my servants the prophets to you. They said, "Each 35:15 [f] Jer 18:11 of you must turn from your wicked ways and reform[f] your actions; do not follow other gods to serve them. Then you will live in the land I have given to you and your fathers." But you have not paid attention or listened to me. 16The descendants of Jonadab son of Recab have carried out the command their forefather gave them, but these people have not obeyed me.'

17"Therefore, this is what the LORD God Almighty, the God of Israel, says: 'Listen! I am going to bring on Judah and on everyone living in Jerusalem every disas-
35:17 [g] Pr 1:24 [h] Jer 7:13 ter I pronounced against them. I spoke to them, but they did not listen;[g] I called to them, but they did not answer.' "[h]

18Then Jeremiah said to the family of the Recabites, "This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: 'You have obeyed the command of your forefather Jonadab and have followed all his instructions and have done everything he ordered.' 19Therefore, this is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says:
35:19 [i] Jer 15:19 'Jonadab son of Recab will never fail to have a man to serve[i] me.' "

v 11 Or Chaldean

make sure you keep your promises. God wants promises lived out, not just piously made.

34:18–20 Cutting a calf in two and walking between the halves was a customary way to ratify a contract (Genesis 15:9, 10). This action symbolized the judgment on anyone who broke the contract. God was saying, "You have broken the contract you made with me, so you know the judgment awaiting you!"

35:1ff The Recabites' code of conduct resembled that of the Nazirites, who took a special vow of dedication to God (Numbers 6). For 200 years, they had obeyed their ancestors' vow to abstain from wine. While the rest of the nation was breaking its covenant with God, these people were steadfast in their commitment. God wanted the rest of his people to remain as committed to their covenant with him as the Recabites were to their vow. God had Jeremiah tempt the Recabites with wine to demonstrate their commitment and dedication. God knew they wouldn't break their vow.

35:6 Jonadab son of Recab had joined Jehu in purging the northern kingdom of Baal worship (2 Kings 10:15–28).

35:13–17 There is a vivid contrast between the Recabites and the other Israelites. (1) The Recabites kept their vows to a fallible human leader; the people of Israel broke their covenant with their infallible divine Leader. (2) Jonadab told his family one time not to drink, and they obeyed; God commanded Israel constantly to turn from sin, and they refused. (3) The Recabites obeyed laws that dealt with temporal issues; Israel refused to obey God's laws that dealt with eternal issues. (4) The Recabites had obeyed for hundreds of years; Israel had disobeyed for hundreds of years. (5) The Recabites would be rewarded; Israel would be punished. We often are willing to observe customs merely for the sake of tradition; how much more should we obey God's Word because it is eternal.

Jehoiakim Burns Jeremiah's Scroll

36 In the fourth year of Jehoiakim son of Josiah king of Judah, this word came to Jeremiah from the LORD: 2"Take a scroll[j] and write on it all the words I have spoken to you concerning Israel, Judah and all the other nations from the time I began speaking to you in the reign of Josiah[k] till now. 3Perhaps[l] when the people of Judah hear[m] about every disaster I plan to inflict on them, each of them will turn[n] from his wicked way; then I will forgive[o] their wickedness and their sin."

4So Jeremiah called Baruch[p] son of Neriah, and while Jeremiah dictated[q] all the words the LORD had spoken to him, Baruch wrote them on the scroll.[r] 5Then Jeremiah told Baruch, "I am restricted; I cannot go to the LORD's temple. 6So you go to the house of the LORD on a day of fasting and read to the people from the scroll the words of the LORD that you wrote as I dictated. Read them to all the people of Judah who come in from their towns. 7Perhaps they will bring their petition before the LORD, and each will turn from his wicked ways, for the anger and wrath pronounced against this people by the LORD are great."

8Baruch son of Neriah did everything Jeremiah the prophet told him to do; at the LORD's temple he read the words of the LORD from the scroll. 9In the ninth month of the fifth year of Jehoiakim son of Josiah king of Judah, a time of fasting before the LORD was proclaimed for all the people in Jerusalem and those who had come from the towns of Judah. 10From the room of Gemariah son of Shaphan the secretary, which was in the upper courtyard at the entrance of the New Gate of the temple, Baruch read to all the people at the LORD's temple the words of Jeremiah from the scroll.

11When Micaiah son of Gemariah, the son of Shaphan, heard all the words of the LORD from the scroll, 12he went down to the secretary's room in the royal palace, where all the officials were sitting: Elishama the secretary, Delaiah son of Shemaiah, Elnathan[s] son of Acbor, Gemariah son of Shaphan, Zedekiah son of Hananiah, and all the other officials. 13After Micaiah told them everything he had heard Baruch read to the people from the scroll, 14all the officials sent Jehudi son of Nethaniah, the son of Shelemiah, the son of Cushi, to say to Baruch, "Bring the scroll from which you have read to the people and come." So Baruch son of Neriah went to them with the scroll in his hand. 15They said to him, "Sit down, please, and read it to us."

So Baruch read it to them. 16When they heard all these words, they looked at each other in fear and said to Baruch, "We must report all these words to the king." 17Then they asked Baruch, "Tell us, how did you come to write all this? Did Jeremiah dictate it?"

18"Yes," Baruch replied, "he dictated[t] all these words to me, and I wrote them in ink on the scroll."

19Then the officials said to Baruch, "You and Jeremiah, go and hide. Don't let anyone know where you are."

20After they put the scroll in the room of Elishama the secretary, they went to the king in the courtyard and reported everything to him. 21The king sent Jehudi to get the scroll, and Jehudi brought it from the room of Elishama the secretary and read

36:2 [j] Jer 30:2 [k] Jer 25:3
36:3 [l] ver 7 [m] Mk 4:12 [n] Jer 26:3; Ac 3:19 [o] Jer 18:8 36:4 [p] Jer 32:12 [q] ver 18 [r] Eze 2:9
36:12 [s] Jer 26:22
36:18 [t] ver 4

36:1ff This happened in the summer of 605 B.C., shortly after Nebuchadnezzar's victory over the Egyptian army at Carchemish, before the events recorded in chapters 34 and 35.

36:2–4 Most people in ancient times could neither read nor write, so those who could were extremely valuable. These scribes held positions of great importance and were very respected for their knowledge. Baruch was Jeremiah's scribe. Writing was often done on vellum or papyrus sheets that were sewn or glued together and stored in long rolls called scrolls. After the exile, scribes became teachers of the law. In New Testament times, the scribes formed a powerful political party.

36:9 A time of fasting (when people abstained from eating food to show their humility and repentance) was often called during times of national emergency. Babylon was destroying city after city and closing in on Jerusalem. As the people came to the temple, Baruch told them how to avert the coming tragedy. But they refused to listen.

36:10–32 God told Jeremiah to write his words on a scroll. Because he was not allowed to go to the temple, Jeremiah asked his scribe, Baruch, to whom he had dictated the scroll to read it to the people gathered there. Baruch then read it to the officials, and finally Jehudi read it to the king himself. Although the king burned the scroll, he could not destroy the word of God. Today many people try to put God's Word aside or say that it contains errors and therefore cannot be trusted. People may reject God's Word, but they cannot destroy it. God's Word will stand forever (Psalm 119:89).

it to the king and all the officials standing beside him. 22It was the ninth month and 36:22 u Am 3:15 the king was sitting in the winter apartment,[u] with a fire burning in the firepot in front of him. 23Whenever Jehudi had read three or four columns of the scroll, the king cut them off with a scribe's knife and threw them into the firepot, until the entire scroll was burned in the fire. 24The king and all his attendants who heard all these words showed no fear, nor did they tear their clothes. 25Even though Elnathan, Delaiah and Gemariah urged the king not to burn the scroll, he would not listen to them. 26Instead, the king commanded Jerahmeel, a son of the king, Seraiah son of Azriel and Shelemiah son of Abdeel to arrest Baruch the scribe and Jeremiah the prophet. But the LORD had hidden them.

27After the king burned the scroll containing the words that Baruch had written 36:27 v ver 4 at Jeremiah's dictation,[v] the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah: 28"Take another scroll and write on it all the words that were on the first scroll, which Jehoiakim king of Judah burned up. 29Also tell Jehoiakim king of Judah, 'This is what the LORD says: You burned that scroll and said, "Why did you write on it that the king of Babylon would certainly come and destroy this land and cut off both men and 36:29 w Isa 30:10 animals from it?"[w] 30Therefore, this is what the LORD says about Jehoiakim king of Judah: He will have no one to sit on the throne of David; his body will be thrown out and exposed to the heat by day and the frost by night. 31I will punish him and his children and his attendants for their wickedness; I will bring on them and those living in Jerusalem and the people of Judah every disaster I pronounced against them, because they have not listened.' "

32So Jeremiah took another scroll and gave it to the scribe Baruch son of Neriah, 36:32 x ver 4 and as Jeremiah dictated,[x] Baruch wrote on it all the words of the scroll that Jehoiakim king of Judah had burned in the fire. And many similar words were added to them.

Jeremiah in Prison

37:1 y 2Ki 24:17 z Jer 22:24 37 Zedekiah[y] son of Josiah was made king of Judah by Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon; he reigned in place of Jehoiachin[wz] son of Jehoiakim. 2Neither he nor his attendants nor the people of the land paid any attention to the words the LORD had spoken through Jeremiah the prophet.

3King Zedekiah, however, sent Jehucal son of Shelemiah with the priest Zephaniah[a]
37:3 a Jer 29:25; 52:24 b Jer 42:2 son of Maaseiah to Jeremiah the prophet with this message: "Please pray[b] to the LORD our God for us."

4Now Jeremiah was free to come and go among the people, for he had not yet 37:4 c ver 15 been put in prison.[c] 5Pharaoh's army had marched out of Egypt,[d] and when the 37:5 d Eze 17:15 Babylonians[x] who were besieging Jerusalem heard the report about them, they withdrew from Jerusalem.

6Then the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah the prophet: 7"This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says: Tell the king of Judah, who sent you to inquire of me, 'Pharaoh's army, which has marched out to support you, will go back to its

w 1 Hebrew Coniah, a variant of Jehoiachin x 5 Or Chaldeans; also in verses 8, 9, 13 and 14

36:22 A firepot is a pan for holding burning coals, used to heat a room.

36:25 Only three leaders protested this evil act of burning the scroll containing God's word. This shows how complacent and insensitive to God the people had become.

36:30 Jehoiakim's son, Jehoiachin, was king for three months before he was taken into captivity, but this did not qualify as sitting "on the throne of David" – an expression that implied permanence. Jehoiakim did not secure a dynasty. Zedekiah, the next ruler, was Jehoiachin's uncle. Thus the line of mortal human kings descended from David's son Solomon was finished, but in less than 600 years the eternal King would come through the descendants of Solomon's brother Nathan (see also the note on 22:30).

37:1ff King Jehoiakim died on the way to Babylon (2 Chronicles 36:6), and his son Jehoiachin was appointed king, but Jehoiachin was taken captive to Babylon three months later. Nebuchadnezzar then appointed Zedekiah as his vassal in Judah.

37:2, 3 King Zedekiah and his officials did not want to listen to Jeremiah's words, but they wanted the blessings of his prayers. They wanted a superficial religion that wouldn't cost anything. But God is not pleased with those who come to him only for what they can get rather than seeking to establish or deepen a relationship with him. We would not accept that kind of relationship with someone else, and we shouldn't expect God to accept it from us.

37:5 When Nebuchadnezzar besieged Jerusalem in 589 B.C., Pharaoh Hophra marched against him at Zedekiah's invitation. Jerusalem looked to Egypt for help in spite of Jeremiah's warnings. But the Egyptians were no help, for as soon as the Babylonians turned on them, they retreated. Jeremiah's warnings had been correct.

own land, to Egypt. 8Then the Babylonians will return and attack this city; they will capture it and burn[e] it down.'

9"This is what the LORD says: Do not deceive yourselves, thinking, 'The Babylonians will surely leave us.' They will not! 10Even if you were to defeat the entire Babylonian[y] army that is attacking you and only wounded men were left in their tents, they would come out and burn this city down."

11After the Babylonian army had withdrawn from Jerusalem because of Pharaoh's army, 12Jeremiah started to leave the city to go to the territory of Benjamin to get his share of the property among the people there. 13But when he reached the Benjamin Gate, the captain of the guard, whose name was Irijah son of Shelemiah, the son of Hananiah, arrested him and said, "You are deserting to the Babylonians!"

14"That's not true!" Jeremiah said. "I am not deserting to the Babylonians." But Irijah would not listen to him; instead, he arrested[f] Jeremiah and brought him to the officials. 15They were angry with Jeremiah and had him beaten and imprisoned in the house of Jonathan the secretary, which they had made into a prison.

16Jeremiah was put into a vaulted cell in a dungeon, where he remained a long time. 17Then King Zedekiah sent for him and had him brought to the palace, where he asked him privately, "Is there any word from the LORD?"

"Yes," Jeremiah replied, "you will be handed over to the king of Babylon."

18Then Jeremiah said to King Zedekiah, "What crime have I committed against you or your officials or this people, that you have put me in prison? 19Where are your prophets who prophesied to you, 'The king of Babylon will not attack you or this land'? 20But now, my lord the king, please listen. Let me bring my petition before you: Do not send me back to the house of Jonathan the secretary, or I will die there."

21King Zedekiah then gave orders for Jeremiah to be placed in the courtyard of the guard and given bread from the street of the bakers each day until all the bread[g] in the city was gone. So Jeremiah remained in the courtyard of the guard.[h]

37:8 [e] Jer 21:10; 38:18

37:14 [f] Jer 40:4

37:21 [g] Jer 38:9 [h] Jer 32:2; 38:6, 13, 28

Jeremiah Thrown Into a Cistern

38 Shephatiah son of Mattan, Gedaliah son of Pashhur, Jehucal[z][i] son of Shelemiah, and Pashhur son of Malkijah heard what Jeremiah was telling all the people when he said, 2"This is what the LORD says: 'Whoever stays in this city will die by the sword, famine or plague, but whoever goes over to the Babylonians[a] will live. He will escape with his life; he will live.'[j] 3And this is what the LORD says: 'This city will certainly be handed over to the army of the king of Babylon, who will capture it.' "[k]

4Then the officials said to the king, "This man should be put to death. He is discouraging the soldiers who are left in this city, as well as all the people, by the things he is saying to them. This man is not seeking the good of these people but their ruin."

5"He is in your hands," King Zedekiah answered. "The king can do nothing to oppose you."

6So they took Jeremiah and put him into the cistern of Malkijah, the king's son,

38:1 [i] Jer 37:3

38:2 [j] Jer 21:9

38:3 [k] Jer 21:4, 10

[y] 10 Or Chaldean; also in verse 11 [z] 1 Hebrew Jucal, a variant of Jehucal [a] 2 Or Chaldeans; also in verses 18, 19 and 23

37:17 Zedekiah teetered between surrender and resistance. Too frightened and weak to exercise authority, he asked Jeremiah to come secretly to the palace, perhaps hoping for some better news from God. Zedekiah was desperate; he wanted to hear a word from the Lord, but he feared the political ramifications of being caught talking to Jeremiah.

38:4, 5 No wonder Judah was in turmoil: the king agreed with everybody. He listened to Jeremiah (37:21); then he agreed Jeremiah should be killed (38:5); and finally he rescued Jeremiah (38:10). Jeremiah was not popular; his words undermined the morale of the army and the people. Zedekiah couldn't decide between public opinion and God's will. What is most influential in your life—what others say and think or what God wants?

38:6 Officials put Jeremiah in a cistern to kill him. A cistern was a large hole in the ground lined with rocks to collect rainwater. The bottom would have been dark, damp, and, in this case, full of mud. Jeremiah could drown, die of exposure, or starve to death in the cistern.

38:6 Judah's leaders persecuted Jeremiah repeatedly for faithfully proclaiming God's messages. For 40 years of faithful ministry, he received no acclaim, no love, no popular following. He was beaten, jailed, threatened, and even forced to leave his homeland.

which was in the courtyard of the guard.[l] They lowered Jeremiah by ropes into the cistern; it had no water in it, only mud, and Jeremiah sank down into the mud.

38:6 [l] Jer 37:21

7But Ebed-Melech,[m] a Cushite,[b] an official[c] in the royal palace, heard that they had put Jeremiah into the cistern. While the king was sitting in the Benjamin Gate, 8Ebed-Melech went out of the palace and said to him, 9"My lord the king, these men have acted wickedly in all they have done to Jeremiah the prophet. They have thrown him into a cistern, where he will starve to death when there is no longer any bread[n] in the city."

38:7 [m] Jer 39:16

38:9 [n] Jer 37:21

10Then the king commanded Ebed-Melech the Cushite, "Take thirty men from here with you and lift Jeremiah the prophet out of the cistern before he dies."

11So Ebed-Melech took the men with him and went to a room under the treasury in the palace. He took some old rags and worn-out clothes from there and let them down with ropes to Jeremiah in the cistern. 12Ebed-Melech the Cushite said to Jeremiah, "Put these old rags and worn-out clothes under your arms to pad the ropes." Jeremiah did so, 13and they pulled him up with the ropes and lifted him out of the cistern. And Jeremiah remained in the courtyard of the guard.[o]

38:13 [o] Jer 37:21

Zedekiah Questions Jeremiah Again

14Then King Zedekiah sent for Jeremiah the prophet and had him brought to the third entrance to the temple of the LORD. "I am going to ask you something," the king said to Jeremiah. "Do not hide anything from me."

15Jeremiah said to Zedekiah, "If I give you an answer, will you not kill me? Even if I did give you counsel, you would not listen to me."

16But King Zedekiah swore this oath secretly[p] to Jeremiah: "As surely as the LORD lives, who has given us breath,[q] I will neither kill you nor hand you over to those who are seeking your life."

38:16 [p] Jer 37:17 [q] Isa 57:16

17Then Jeremiah said to Zedekiah, "This is what the LORD God Almighty, the God of Israel, says: 'If you surrender to the officers of the king of Babylon, your life will be spared and this city will not be burned down; you and your family will live. 18But if you will not surrender to the officers of the king of Babylon, this city will be handed over to the Babylonians and they will burn it down; you yourself will not escape[r] from their hands.' "

38:18 [r] Jer 32:4

19King Zedekiah said to Jeremiah, "I am afraid[s] of the Jews who have gone over to the Babylonians, for the Babylonians may hand me over to them and they will mistreat me."

38:19 [s] Isa 51:12

20"They will not hand you over," Jeremiah replied. "Obey[t] the LORD by doing what I tell you. Then it will go well with you, and your life will be spared. 21But if you refuse to surrender, this is what the LORD has revealed to me: 22All the women[u] left in the palace of the king of Judah will be brought out to the officials of the king of Babylon. Those women will say to you:

38:20 [t] Jer 11:4

38:22 [u] Jer 6:12

" 'They misled you and overcame you—those trusted friends of yours.
Your feet are sunk in the mud;
your friends have deserted you.'

23"All your wives and children will be brought out to the Babylonians. You your-

[b] 7 Probably from the upper Nile region [c] 7 Or a eunuch

Only the pagan Babylonians showed him any respect (39:11, 12). God does not guarantee that his servants will escape persecution, even when they are faithful. But God does promise that he will be with them and will give them strength to endure (2 Corinthians 1:3–7). As you minister to others, recognize that your service is for God and not just for human approval. God rewards our faithfulness, but not always during our stay on earth.

38:7, 8 The Benjamin Gate was one of Jerusalem's city gates where legal matters were handled. A palace official, Ebed-Melech, had access to the king. When Ebed-Melech heard of Jeremiah's plight, he went immediately to deal with the injustice.

38:9–13 Ebed-Melech feared God more than man. He alone among the palace officials stood up against the murder plot. His obedience could have cost him his life. Because he obeyed, however, he was spared when Jerusalem fell (39:15–18). You can either go along with the crowd or speak up for God. When someone is treated unkindly or unjustly, for example, reach out to that person with God's love. You may be the only one who does. And, when you are being treated unkindly yourself, be sure to thank God when he sends an "Ebed-Melech" your way.

self will not escape from their hands but will be captured by the king of Babylon; and this city will[d] be burned down."

24Then Zedekiah said to Jeremiah, "Do not let anyone know about this conversation, or you may die. 25If the officials hear that I talked with you, and they come to you and say, 'Tell us what you said to the king and what the king said to you; do not hide it from us or we will kill you,' 26then tell them, 'I was pleading with the king not to send me back to Jonathan's house[v] to die there.' "

27All the officials did come to Jeremiah and question him, and he told them everything the king had ordered him to say. So they said no more to him, for no one had heard his conversation with the king.

28And Jeremiah remained in the courtyard of the guard[w] until the day Jerusalem was captured.

38:26 [v]Jer 37:15

38:28 [w]Jer 37:21

The Fall of Jerusalem

39 This is how Jerusalem was taken: 1In the ninth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the tenth month, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon marched against Jerusalem with his whole army and laid siege[x] to it. 2And on the ninth day of the fourth month of Zedekiah's eleventh year, the city wall was broken through. 3Then all the officials of the king of Babylon came and took seats in the Middle Gate: Nergal-Sharezer of Samgar, Nebo-Sarsekim[e] a chief officer, Nergal-Sharezer a high official and all the other officials of the king of Babylon. 4When Zedekiah king of Judah and all the soldiers saw them, they fled; they left the city at night by way of the king's garden, through the gate between the two walls, and headed toward the Arabah.[f]

39:1 [x]2Ki 25:1

5But the Babylonian[g] army pursued them and overtook Zedekiah[y] in the plains of Jericho. They captured him and took him to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon at Riblah in the land of Hamath, where he pronounced sentence on him. 6There at Riblah the king of Babylon slaughtered the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes and also killed all the nobles of Judah. 7Then he put out Zedekiah's eyes[z] and bound him with bronze shackles to take him to Babylon.

39:5 [y]Jer 32:4

39:7 [z]Eze 12:13

8The Babylonians[h] set fire to the royal palace and the houses of the people and broke down the walls of Jerusalem. 9Nebuzaradan commander of the imperial guard carried into exile to Babylon the people who remained in the city, along with those who had gone over to him, and the rest of the people. 10But Nebuzaradan the commander of the guard left behind in the land of Judah some of the poor people, who owned nothing; and at that time he gave them vineyards and fields.

11Now Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had given these orders about Jeremiah through Nebuzaradan commander of the imperial guard: 12"Take him and look after him; don't harm him but do for him whatever he asks." 13So Nebuzaradan the

[d] 23 Or and you will cause this city to [e] 3 Or Nergal-Sharezer, Samgar-Nebo, Sarsekim [f] 4 Or the Jordan Valley [g] 5 Or Chaldean [h] 8 Or Chaldeans

38:27 The officials wanted accurate information, but not God's truth. They wanted to use this information against God, his prophet, and the king. But Jeremiah told the officials only what the king ordered him to say. We must not withhold God's truth from others, but we should withhold information that will be used to bring evil to God's people.

39:1ff Zedekiah, son of Josiah and last king of Judah, ruled 11 years, from 597 to 586 B.C. Zedekiah's two older brothers, Jehoahaz and Jehoiakim, and his nephew Jehoiachin ruled before him. When Jehoiachin was exiled to Babylon, Nebuchadnezzar made 21-year-old Mattaniah the king, changing his name to Zedekiah. Zedekiah rebelled against Nebuchadnezzar, who captured him, killed his sons in front of him, and then blinded him and took him back to Babylon where he later died (see 2 Kings 24; 25; 2 Chronicles 36; and Jeremiah 52).

39:5 Riblah was 200 miles north of Jerusalem. This was the Babylonian headquarters for ruling the region.

39:10 Babylon had a shrewd foreign policy toward conquered lands. They deported the rich and powerful, leaving only the very poor in charge, thus making them grateful to their conquerors. This policy assured that conquered populations would be too loyal and too weak to revolt.

39:11, 12 God had promised to rescue Jeremiah from his trouble (1:8). The superstitious Babylonians, who highly respected magicians and fortune-tellers, treated Jeremiah as a seer. Because he had been imprisoned by his own people, they assumed he was a traitor and on their side. They undoubtedly knew he had counseled cooperation with Babylon and predicted a Babylonian victory. So the Babylonians freed Jeremiah and protected him.

39:13, 14 What a difference there is between Jeremiah's fate and Zedekiah's! Jeremiah was freed; Zedekiah was imprisoned. Jeremiah was saved because of his faith; Zedekiah was destroyed because of his fear. Jeremiah was treated with respect; Zedekiah was treated with contempt. Jeremiah was concerned for the people. Zedekiah was concerned for himself.

commander of the guard, Nebushazban a chief officer, Nergal-Sharezer a high official and all the other officers of the king of Babylon 14sent and had Jeremiah taken out of the courtyard of the guard. They turned him over to Gedaliah son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, to take him back to his home. So he remained among his own people.

15While Jeremiah had been confined in the courtyard of the guard, the word of 39:16 the LORD came to him: 16"Go and tell Ebed-Melech[a] the Cushite, 'This is what the
[a] Jer 38:7 LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: I am about to fulfill my words against this city through disaster, not prosperity. At that time they will be fulfilled before your eyes. 17But I will rescue you on that day, declares the LORD; you will not be handed over to those you fear. 18I will save you; you will not fall by the sword but will 39:18 escape with your life,[b] because you trust in me, declares the LORD.' "
[b] Jer 21:9

Jeremiah Freed

40 The word came to Jeremiah from the LORD after Nebuzaradan commander of the imperial guard had released him at Ramah. He had found Jeremiah bound in chains among all the captives from Jerusalem and Judah who were being carried into exile to Babylon. 2When the commander of the guard found Jeremiah, he said to him, "The LORD your God decreed this disaster for this place. 3And now the LORD has brought it about; he has done just as he said he would. All this happened because you people sinned against the LORD and did not obey him. 4But today I am freeing you from the chains on your wrists. Come with me to Babylon, if you like, and I will look after you; but if you do not want to, then don't come. Look, the whole country lies before you; go wherever you please." 5However, before Jeremiah turned to go,[i] Nebuzaradan added, "Go back to Gedaliah son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, whom the king of Babylon has appointed over the towns of Judah, and live with him among the people, or go anywhere else you 40:5 please."[c]
[c] Jer 39:14

Then the commander gave him provisions and a present and let him go. 6So 40:6 Jeremiah went to Gedaliah son of Ahikam at Mizpah[d] and stayed with him among [d] Jdg 20:1 the people who were left behind in the land.

Gedaliah Assassinated

7When all the army officers and their men who were still in the open country heard that the king of Babylon had appointed Gedaliah son of Ahikam as governor over the land and had put him in charge of the men, women and children who were the poorest in the land and who had not been carried into exile to Babylon, 8they
40:8 came to Gedaliah at Mizpah — Ishmael[e] son of Nethaniah, Johanan and Jonathan [e] Jer 41:1, 2 the sons of Kareah, Seraiah son of Tanhumeth, the sons of Ephai the Netophathite, and Jaazaniah[j] the son of the Maacathite, and their men. 9Gedaliah son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, took an oath to reassure them and their men. "Do not be 40:9 afraid to serve[f] the Babylonians,[k]" he said. "Settle down in the land and serve the [f] Jer 27:11 king of Babylon, and it will go well with you.[g] 10I myself will stay at Mizpah to [g] Jer 38:20 represent you before the Babylonians who come to us, but you are to harvest the

[i] 5 Or Jeremiah answered [j] 8 Hebrew Jezaniah, a variant of Jaazaniah [k] 9 Or Chaldeans; also in verse 10

39:17, 18 Ebed-Melech had risked his life to save God's prophet Jeremiah (38:7–13). When Babylon conquered Jerusalem, God protected Ebed-Melech from the Babylonians. God has special rewards for his faithful people, but not everyone will receive them in this life (see the note on 38:6).

40–45 These six chapters cover events following Jerusalem's fall to Babylon.

40:2, 3 The Babylonian commander, who did not know God, acknowledged that God had given the Babylonians victory. It is strange when people recognize that God exists and does miracles, but still they do not personally accept him. Knowing God is more than knowing about him. Be sure you know him personally.

40:4 Jeremiah was free to go anywhere. In Babylon he would have had great comfort and power. In Judah he would continue to face hardship. In Babylon Jeremiah would have been favored by the Babylonians, but hated by the Judean exiles. In Judah he would remain poor and unwanted, but the Judean remnant would know he was not a traitor. Jeremiah returned to Judah.

40:6 Mizpah was a few miles north of Jerusalem. Not thoroughly destroyed by the Babylonians, Mizpah served as a refuge after the destruction of Jerusalem.

wine, summer fruit and oil, and put them in your storage jars, and live in the towns you have taken over."

11When all the Jews in Moab, Ammon, Edom and all the other countries heard that the king of Babylon had left a remnant in Judah and had appointed Gedaliah son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, as governor over them, 12they all came back to the land of Judah, to Gedaliah at Mizpah, from all the countries where they had been scattered.[h] And they harvested an abundance of wine and summer fruit.

13Johanan son of Kareah and all the army officers still in the open country came to Gedaliah at Mizpah 14and said to him, "Don't you know that Baalis king of the Ammonites[i] has sent Ishmael son of Nethaniah to take your life?" But Gedaliah son of Ahikam did not believe them.

15Then Johanan son of Kareah said privately to Gedaliah in Mizpah, "Let me go and kill Ishmael son of Nethaniah, and no one will know it. Why should he take your life and cause all the Jews who are gathered around you to be scattered and the remnant of Judah to perish?"

16But Gedaliah son of Ahikam said to Johanan son of Kareah, "Don't do such a thing! What you are saying about Ishmael is not true."

41 In the seventh month Ishmael[j] son of Nethaniah, the son of Elishama, who was of royal blood and had been one of the king's officers, came with ten men to Gedaliah son of Ahikam at Mizpah. While they were eating together there, 2Ishmael son of Nethaniah and the ten men who were with him got up and struck down Gedaliah son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, with the sword, killing the one whom the king of Babylon had appointed[k] as governor over the land. 3Ishmael also killed all the Jews who were with Gedaliah at Mizpah, as well as the Babylonian[l] soldiers who were there.

4The day after Gedaliah's assassination, before anyone knew about it, 5eighty men who had shaved off their beards,[j] torn their clothes and cut themselves came from Shechem, Shiloh and Samaria,[m] bringing grain offerings and incense with them to the house of the LORD.[n] 6Ishmael son of Nethaniah went out from Mizpah to meet them, weeping as he went. When he met them, he said, "Come to Gedaliah son of Ahikam." 7When they went into the city, Ishmael son of Nethaniah and the men who were with him slaughtered them and threw them into a cistern. 8But ten of them said to Ishmael, "Don't kill us! We have wheat and barley, oil and honey, hidden in a field." So he let them alone and did not kill them with the others. 9Now the cistern where he threw all the bodies of the men he had killed along with Gedaliah was the one King Asa[o] had made as part of his defense against Baasha king of Israel. Ishmael son of Nethaniah filled it with the dead.

10Ishmael made captives of all the rest of the people who were in Mizpah—the king's daughters along with all the others who were left there, over whom Nebuzaradan commander of the imperial guard had appointed Gedaliah son of Ahikam. Ishmael son of Nethaniah took them captive and set out to cross over to the Ammonites.[p]

11When Johanan[q] son of Kareah and all the army officers who were with him heard about all the crimes Ishmael son of Nethaniah had committed, 12they took all their men and went to fight Ishmael son of Nethaniah. They caught up with him near the great pool in Gibeon. 13When all the people Ishmael had with him saw Johanan son of Kareah and the army officers who were with him, they were glad. 14All the people Ishmael had taken captive at Mizpah turned and went over to Johanan son of Kareah. 15But Ishmael son of Nethaniah and eight of his men escaped from Johanan and fled to the Ammonites.

[l] 3 Or Chaldean

40:12 [h] Jer 43:5
40:14 [i] Jer 41:10
41:1 [j] Jer 40:8
41:2 [k] Jer 40:5
41:5 [j] Lev 19:27 [m] 1Ki 16:24 [n] 2Ki 25:9
41:9 [o] 1Ki 15:22; 2Ch 16:6
41:10 [p] Jer 40:14
41:11 [q] Jer 40:8

40:13—41:3 Gedaliah, appointed governor of Judah, foolishly ignored the warnings of assassination. Ishmael, in the line of David, may have been angry that he had been passed over for leadership. This is similar to the chaotic political situation that Ezra and Nehemiah faced when they returned to rebuild the temple and the city.

41:4–9 The 80 men came from three cities of the northern kingdom to worship in Jerusalem. Ishmael probably killed them for the money and food they were carrying. Without a king, with no law and no loyalty to God, Judah was subjected to complete anarchy.

Flight to Egypt

16Then Johanan son of Kareah and all the army officers who were with him led away all the survivors from Mizpah whom he had recovered from Ishmael son of Nethaniah after he had assassinated Gedaliah son of Ahikam: the soldiers, women, children and court officials he had brought from Gibeon. 17And they went on, stop-41:17 ping at Geruth Kimham[r] near Bethlehem on their way to Egypt 18to escape the r 2Sa 19:37 Babylonians.[m] They were afraid of them because Ishmael son of Nethaniah had killed Gedaliah son of Ahikam, whom the king of Babylon had appointed as governor over the land.

42:1 42 Then all the army officers, including Johanan[s] son of Kareah and Jeza-s Jer 40:13 niah[n] son of Hoshaiah, and all the people from the least to the greatest approached 2Jeremiah the prophet and said to him, "Please hear our petition and pray to the LORD your God for this entire remnant. For as you now see, though we were once many, now only a few are left. 3Pray that the LORD your God will tell us where we should go and what we should do."

4"I have heard you," replied Jeremiah the prophet. "I will certainly pray to the LORD your God as you have requested; I will tell you everything the LORD says and 42:4 will keep nothing back from you."[t]
t 1Sa 3:17

5Then they said to Jeremiah, "May the LORD be a true and faithful witness against us if we do not act in accordance with everything the LORD your God sends you to tell us. 6Whether it is favorable or unfavorable, we will obey the LORD our 42:6 God, to whom we are sending you, so that it will go well[u] with us, for we will obey u Dt 6:3; Jer 7:23 the LORD our God."

7Ten days later the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah. 8So he called together Johanan son of Kareah and all the army officers who were with him and all the people from the least to the greatest. 9He said to them, "This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, to whom you sent me to present your petition, says: 10'If you stay in 42:10 this land, I will build[v] you up and not tear you down; I will plant you and not v Jer 24:6 uproot you, for I am grieved over the disaster I have inflicted on you. 11Do not be afraid of the king of Babylon, whom you now fear. Do not be afraid of him, declares the LORD, for I am with you and will save you and deliver you from his 42:11 hands.[w] 12I will show you compassion so that he will have compassion on you and
w Ro 8:31
42:12 restore you to your land.'[x]
x Ps 106:44-46

13"However, if you say, 'We will not stay in this land,' and so disobey the LORD your God, 14and if you say, 'No, we will go and live in Egypt, where we will not see war or hear the trumpet or be hungry for bread,' 15then hear the word of the LORD, O remnant of Judah. This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: 'If you are determined to go to Egypt and you do go to settle there, 16then the sword you fear will overtake you there, and the famine you dread will follow you into Egypt, and there you will die. 17Indeed, all who are determined to go to Egypt 42:17 to settle there will die by the sword, famine and plague;[y] not one of them will y Jer 44:13 survive or escape the disaster I will bring on them.' 18This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: 'As my anger and wrath have been poured out on those who lived in Jerusalem, so will my wrath be poured out on you when you go to Egypt. You will be an object of cursing and horror, of condemnation and reproach; you will never see this place again.'

42:19 19"O remnant of Judah, the LORD has told you, 'Do not go to Egypt.'[z] Be sure z Dt 17:16 of this: I warn you today 20that you made a fatal mistake[o] when you sent me to the LORD your God and said, 'Pray to the LORD our God for us; tell us everything he says and we will do it.' 21I have told you today, but you still have not obeyed the m 18 Or Chaldeans n 1 Hebrew; Septuagint (see also 43:2) Azariah o 20 Or you erred in your hearts

41:16, 17 Johanan and his group were already on their way to Egypt, headed south from Gibeon, stopping first at Geruth Kimham, near Bethlehem. Their visit to Jeremiah (42:1–6) was hypocritical, as Jeremiah later told them (42:20).

42:5, 6 Johanan and his associates spoke their own curse; Jeremiah merely elaborated on it. It was a tragic mistake to ask for God's guidance with no intention of following it. Be sure never to ask God for something that you know in your heart you really do not want. It is better not to pray than to pray hypocritically. God cannot be deceived.

LORD your God in all he sent me to tell you. 22So now, be sure of this: You will die by the sword, famine and plague in the place where you want to go to settle."

43 When Jeremiah finished telling the people all the words of the LORD their God—everything the LORD had sent him to tell them— 2Azariah son of Hoshaiah and Johanan son of Kareah and all the arrogant men said to Jeremiah, "You are lying! The LORD our God has not sent you to say, 'You must not go to Egypt to settle there.' 3But Baruch son of Neriah is inciting you against us to hand us over to the Babylonians,[p] so they may kill us or carry us into exile to Babylon."

4So Johanan son of Kareah and all the army officers and all the people disobeyed the LORD's command to stay in the land of Judah. 5Instead, Johanan son of Kareah and all the army officers led away all the remnant of Judah who had come back to live in the land of Judah from all the nations where they had been scattered.[a] 6They also led away all the men, women and children and the king's daughters whom Nebuzaradan commander of the imperial guard had left with Gedaliah son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, and Jeremiah the prophet and Baruch son of Neriah. 7So they entered Egypt in disobedience to the LORD and went as far as Tahpanhes.[b]

8In Tahpanhes the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah: 9"While the Jews are watching, take some large stones with you and bury them in clay in the brick pavement at the entrance to Pharaoh's palace in Tahpanhes. 10Then say to them, 'This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: I will send for my servant[c] Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and I will set his throne over these stones I have buried here; he will spread his royal canopy above them. 11He will come and attack Egypt,[d] bringing death to those destined for death, captivity to those destined for captivity, and the sword to those destined for the sword.[e] 12He[q] will set fire to the temples of the gods[f] of Egypt; he will burn their temples and take their gods captive. As a shepherd wraps his garment around him, so will he wrap Egypt around himself and depart from there unscathed. 13There in the temple of the sun[r] in Egypt he will demolish the sacred pillars and will burn down the temples of the gods of Egypt.' "

43:5
[a] Jer 40:12

43:7
[b] Jer 44:1

43:10
[c] Jer 25:9; 27:6

43:11
[d] Jer 46:13-26
[e] Jer 15:2

43:12
[f] Jer 46:25

Disaster Because of Idolatry

44 This word came to Jeremiah concerning all the Jews living in Lower Egypt—in Migdol, Tahpanhes[g] and Memphis[s h]—and in Upper Egypt[t]: 2"This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: You saw the great

44:1
[g] Jer 43:7, 8
[h] Isa 19:13

[p] 3 Or Chaldeans [q] 12 Or I [r] 13 Or in Heliopolis [s] 1 Hebrew Noph [t] 1 Hebrew in Pathros

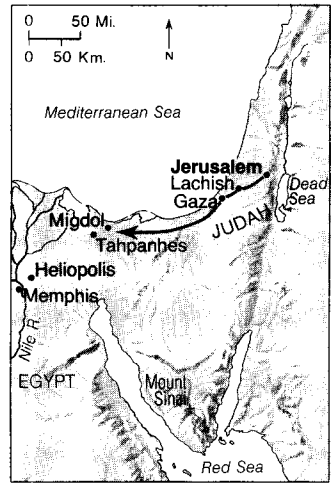
43:1–3 Johanan and his tiny band had come to Jeremiah for God's approval of their plan, not for God's direction. This is a recurring problem for most of us—seeking God's approval of our desires rather than asking him for guidance. It's not good to make plans unless we are willing to have God change them, and it is not good to pray unless we are willing to accept God's answer.

43:4–7 Afraid to obey the Lord, the people headed for Egypt, even forcing Jeremiah to go with them. (They thought that perhaps God would spare them if Jeremiah was with them.) Jeremiah had served as a prophet for 40 years. Many of his words had already come true, and he had turned down an offer to live comfortably in Babylon, returning instead to his beloved people. But the people still rejected Jeremiah's advice. The response of our audience is not necessarily a measure of our success. Jeremiah was doing all God asked, but he had been called to minister to a very stubborn group of people.

43:10–13 Nebuchadnezzar invaded Egypt in 568–567 B.C. Like Judah, Egypt rebelled against him and was quickly crushed. So much for the great empire on which Judah had constantly placed its hopes!

44:1ff This message, given in 580 B.C. while Jeremiah was in Egypt against his will, reminded the people that their following other gods had brought destruction on their land. Jeremiah told them that they would never return to Judah because the escape to Egypt had been against God's advice (42:9ff). But the people refused to learn any lessons from all the destruction their sins had caused.



ESCAPE TO EGYPT
With Judah in turmoil after the murder of Gedaliah, the people turned to Jeremiah for guidance. Jeremiah had God's answer, "Stay in this land." But the leaders disobeyed and went to Egypt, taking Jeremiah with them. In Egypt, Jeremiah told them they were in grave danger.

disaster I brought on Jerusalem and on all the towns of Judah. Today they lie deserted and in ruins 3because of the evil they have done. They provoked me to anger 44:3 [i]Dt 13:6-11 by burning incense and by worshiping other gods[i] that neither they nor you nor your fathers ever knew. 4Again and again I sent my servants the prophets, who said, 'Do not do this detestable thing that I hate!' 5But they did not listen or pay attention; they did not turn from their wickedness or stop burning incense to other gods. 6Therefore, my fierce anger was poured out; it raged against the towns of Judah and the streets of Jerusalem and made them the desolate ruins they are today.

7"Now this is what the LORD God Almighty, the God of Israel, says: Why bring such great disaster on yourselves by cutting off from Judah the men and women, the children and infants, and so leave yourselves without a remnant? 8Why provoke me to anger with what your hands have made, burning incense to other gods in Egypt, where you have come to live? You will destroy yourselves and make yourselves an object of cursing and reproach among all the nations on earth. 9Have you forgotten the wickedness committed by your fathers and by the kings and queens of Judah and the wickedness committed by you and your wives in the land of Judah and the streets of Jerusalem? 10To this day they have not humbled themselves or shown reverence, nor have they followed my law and the decrees I set before you and your fathers.

11"Therefore, this is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: I am de-
44:11 [j]Am 9:4 termined to bring disaster[j] on you and to destroy all Judah. 12I will take away the remnant of Judah who were determined to go to Egypt to settle there. They will all perish in Egypt; they will fall by the sword or die from famine. From the least to the greatest, they will die by sword or famine. They will become an object of cursing
44:12 [k]Jer 29:18 and horror, of condemnation and reproach.[k] 13I will punish those who live in Egypt with the sword, famine and plague, as I punished Jerusalem. 14None of the remnant of Judah who have gone to live in Egypt will escape or survive to return to the land of Judah, to which they long to return and live; none will return except a
44:14 [l]Jer 22:24-27 few fugitives."[l]

15Then all the men who knew that their wives were burning incense to other gods, along with all the women who were present — a large assembly — and all the people living in Lower and Upper Egypt,[u] said to Jeremiah, 16"We will not listen to the message you have spoken to us in the name of the LORD! 17We will certainly 44:17 [m]Dt 23:23 do everything we said we would:[m] We will burn incense to the Queen of Heaven and will pour out drink offerings to her just as we and our fathers, our kings and our officials did in the towns of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem. At that time we had plenty of food and were well off and suffered no harm. 18But ever since we stopped burning incense to the Queen of Heaven and pouring out drink offerings to her, we have had nothing and have been perishing by sword and famine."

44:19 [n]Jer 7:18 19The women added, "When we burned incense to the Queen of Heaven[n] and poured out drink offerings to her, did not our husbands know that we were making cakes like her image and pouring out drink offerings to her?"

20Then Jeremiah said to all the people, both men and women, who were answering him, 21"Did not the LORD remember and think about the incense burned in the towns of Judah and the streets of Jerusalem by you and your fathers, your kings and your officials and the people of the land? 22When the LORD could no longer endure your wicked actions and the detestable things you did, your land became an object

[u] 15 Hebrew in Egypt and Pathros

44:9, 10 When we forget a lesson or refuse to learn it, we risk repeating our mistakes. The people of Judah struggled with this; to forget their former sins was to repeat them. To fail to learn from failure is to assure future failure. Your past is your school of experience. Let your past mistakes point you to God's way.

44:15–18 The farther we drift from God, the more confused our thinking becomes. Whatever spiritual life was left in the Israelites when they went to Egypt was lost as they sank into the depths of idolatry. (For more information on the "Queen of Heaven," see the note on 7:18.) The escape to Egypt had brought a change in their pagan worship habits, and they blamed their troubles on their neglect of their idols. But idol worship had started all their problems in the first place. The people refused to recognize the true source of their problems – departure from God's leading. When calamity forces you to examine your life, take a close look at God's instructions for you.

of cursing[o] and a desolate waste without inhabitants, as it is today. 23Because you have burned incense and have sinned against the LORD and have not obeyed him or followed his law or his decrees or his stipulations, this disaster has come upon you, as you now see."[p]

24Then Jeremiah said to all the people, including the women, "Hear the word of the LORD, all you people of Judah in Egypt.[q] 25This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: You and your wives have shown by your actions what you promised when you said, 'We will certainly carry out the vows we made to burn incense and pour out drink offerings to the Queen of Heaven.'

"Go ahead then, do what you promised! Keep your vows! 26But hear the word of the LORD, all Jews living in Egypt: 'I swear[r] by my great name,' says the LORD, 'that no one from Judah living anywhere in Egypt will ever again invoke my name or swear, "As surely as the Sovereign LORD lives." 27For I am watching over them for harm, not for good; the Jews in Egypt will perish by sword and famine until they are all destroyed. 28Those who escape the sword and return to the land of Judah from Egypt will be very few.[s] Then the whole remnant of Judah who came to live in Egypt will know whose word will stand — mine or theirs.

29" 'This will be the sign to you that I will punish you in this place,' declares the LORD, 'so that you will know that my threats of harm against you will surely stand.' 30This is what the LORD says: 'I am going to hand Pharaoh[t] Hophra king of Egypt over to his enemies who seek his life, just as I handed Zedekiah king of Judah over to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, the enemy who was seeking his life.' "

44:22 [o]Jer 25:18

44:23 [p]Da 9:11-12

44:24 [q]Jer 43:7

44:26 [r]Ge 22:16

44:28 [s]ver 13-14

44:30 [t]Jer 46:26; Eze 30:21

A Message to Baruch

45 This is what Jeremiah the prophet told Baruch[u] son of Neriah in the fourth year of Jehoiakim son of Josiah king of Judah, after Baruch had written on a scroll the words Jeremiah was then dictating: 2"This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says to you, Baruch: 3You said, 'Woe to me! The LORD has added sorrow to my pain; I am worn out with groaning and find no rest.' "

4The LORD said, "Say this to him: 'This is what the LORD says: I will overthrow what I have built and uproot what I have planted, throughout the land.[v] 5Should you then seek great things for yourself? Seek them not. For I will bring disaster on all people, declares the LORD, but wherever you go I will let you escape with your life.' "[w]

45:1 [u]Jer 32:12

45:4 [v]Isa 5:5-7

45:5 [w]Jer 21:9

B. GOD'S JUDGMENT ON THE NATIONS (46:1 — 52:34)

All of Jeremiah's prophecies against foreign nations have been grouped together. Many of the people in these nations assumed that they were free from judgment and punishment for their sin. Following these prophecies is a historical appendix recounting the fall of Jerusalem. Just as Jerusalem received its punishment, these nations were certain to receive theirs as well. Those today who think that judgment will never touch them are forewarned.

1. Prophecies about foreign nations

A Message About Egypt

46 This is the word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah the prophet concerning the nations:[x]

46:1 [x]Jer 1:10

2Concerning Egypt:

44:28 After Jeremiah's forced move to Egypt, there is no word in the Bible about the events in the rest of his life.

44:30 Pharaoh Hophra ruled Egypt from 588 to 569 B.C. and was killed by Ahmose, one of his generals, who was then crowned in his place.

45:1ff The event relating to this chapter is recorded in 36:1-8. The chapter was written in 605 — 604 B.C. Baruch was the scribe who recorded Jeremiah's words on a scroll.

45:5 Baruch had long been serving this unpopular prophet, writing his book of struggles and judgments, and now he was upset. God told Baruch to take his eyes off himself and whatever rewards he thought he deserved. If Baruch did this, God would protect him. It is easy to lose the joy of serving our God when we take our eyes off him. The more we look away from God's purposes toward our own sacrifices, the more frustrated we will become. As you serve God, beware of focusing on what you are giving up. When this happens, ask God's forgiveness; then look at him rather than at yourself.

46:2
y 2Ki 23:29
z 2Ch 35:20

This is the message against the army of Pharaoh Neco[y] king of Egypt, which was defeated at Carchemish[z] on the Euphrates River by Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon in the fourth year of Jehoiakim son of Josiah king of Judah:

3"Prepare your shields, both large and small,
and march out for battle!
4Harness the horses,
mount the steeds!
Take your positions with helmets on!
Polish your spears,
put on your armor!
5What do I see?
They are terrified,
they are retreating,
their warriors are defeated.
They flee in haste
without looking back,
and there is terror on every side,"
declares the LORD.
6"The swift cannot flee
nor the strong escape.
In the north by the River Euphrates they stumble and fall.

46:7
a Jer 47:2

7"Who is this that rises like the Nile, like rivers of surging waters?[a] 8Egypt rises like the Nile, like rivers of surging waters.
She says, 'I will rise and cover the earth;
I will destroy cities and their people.'
9Charge, O horses!
Drive furiously, O charioteers!
March on, O warriors—
men of Cush[v] and Put who carry shields, men of Lydia[b] who draw the bow.

46:9
b Isa 66:19

46:10 c Joel 1:15
d Zep 1:7

10But that day[c] belongs to the Lord, the LORD Almighty—a day of vengeance, for vengeance on his foes.
The sword will devour till it is satisfied,
till it has quenched its thirst with blood.
For the Lord, the LORD Almighty, will offer sacrifice[d] in the land of the north by the River Euphrates.

11"Go up to Gilead and get balm,
O Virgin Daughter of Egypt.
But you multiply remedies in vain;
there is no healing for you.
12The nations will hear of your shame;

v 9 That is, the upper Nile region

46:1ff In this chapter, we gain several insights about God and his plan for this world. (1) Although God chose Israel for a special purpose, he loves all people and wants all to come to him. (2) God is holy and will not tolerate sin. (3) God's judgments are not based on prejudice and a desire for revenge, but on fairness and justice. (4) God does not delight in judgment, but in salvation. (5) God is impartial – he judges everyone by the same standard.

46:2 At the battle of Carchemish in 605 B.C., Babylon and Egypt, the two major world powers after Assyria's fall, clashed. The Babylonians entered Carchemish by surprise and defeated Egypt. This battle, which passed world leadership to Babylon, was Nebuchadnezzar's first victory, establishing him in his new position as king of the Babylonian empire. With Egypt's power declining, it was both poor strategy and disobedience to God for Judah to form an alliance with Egypt.

46:9 The soldiers from Cush and Put were from eastern and northern Africa. The men of Lydia may have been from Greece.

your cries will fill the earth.
One warrior will stumble over another;
both will fall down together."

13This is the message the LORD spoke to Jeremiah the prophet about the coming of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon to attack Egypt:[e]

46:13 [e] Isa 19:1

14"Announce this in Egypt, and proclaim it in Migdol;
proclaim it also in Memphis[w] and Tahpanhes:
'Take your positions and get ready, for the sword devours those around you.'
15Why will your warriors be laid low?
They cannot stand, for the LORD will push them down.
16They will stumble[f] repeatedly;
they will fall over each other.
They will say, 'Get up, let us go back to our own people and our native lands, away from the sword of the oppressor.'
17There they will exclaim,
'Pharaoh king of Egypt is only a loud noise;
he has missed his opportunity.'

46:16 [f] Lev 26:37

18"As surely as I live," declares the King,[g] whose name is the LORD Almighty,
"one will come who is like Tabor among the mountains,
like Carmel by the sea.
19Pack your belongings for exile,[h]
you who live in Egypt,
for Memphis will be laid waste and lie in ruins without inhabitant.

46:18 [g] Jer 48:15

46:19 [h] Isa 20:4

20"Egypt is a beautiful heifer, but a gadfly is coming against her from the north.
21The mercenaries in her ranks are like fattened calves.
They too will turn and flee together,
they will not stand their ground,
for the day[i] of disaster is coming upon them,
the time for them to be punished.
22Egypt will hiss like a fleeing serpent as the enemy advances in force;
they will come against her with axes,
like men who cut down trees.
23They will chop down her forest,"
declares the LORD,
"dense though it be.
They are more numerous than locusts,
they cannot be counted.
24The Daughter of Egypt will be put to shame, handed over to the people of the north."

46:21 [i] Ps 37:13

25The LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: "I am about to bring punishment on Amon god of Thebes,[x][j] on Pharaoh, on Egypt and her gods[k] and her kings,

46:25 [j] Eze 30:14
[k] Jer 43:12

[w] 14 Hebrew Noph; also in verse 19 [x] 25 Hebrew No

46:17 In 589 B.C. when Nebuchadnezzar besieged Jerusalem, Pharaoh Hophra marched against him at Zedekiah's invitation. But when the Babylonians stood up to the Egyptians, Pharaoh Hophra and his troops retreated. Jeremiah had prophesied that Pharaoh Hophra would be killed by his enemies (44:30). This was fulfilled nearly 20 years later when his co-regent Ahmose led a revolt.

and on those who rely on Pharaoh. 26I will hand them over to those who seek their lives, to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon and his officers. Later, however, Egypt will be inhabited[l] as in times past," declares the LORD.

46:26 [l]Eze 29:11-16

46:27 [m]Isa 43:5

27"Do not fear,[m] O Jacob my servant;
do not be dismayed, O Israel.
I will surely save you out of a distant place,
your descendants from the land of their exile.
Jacob will again have peace and security,
and no one will make him afraid.
28Do not fear, O Jacob my servant,
for I am with you," declares the LORD.
"Though I completely destroy[n] all the nations
among which I scatter you,
I will not completely destroy you.
I will discipline you but only with justice;
I will not let you go entirely unpunished."

46:28 [n]Jer 4:27

A Message About the Philistines

47 This is the word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah the prophet concerning the Philistines before Pharaoh attacked Gaza:[o]

47:1 [o]Zec 9:5-7

2This is what the LORD says:

47:2 [p]Isa 14:31

"See how the waters are rising in the north;[p]
they will become an overflowing torrent.
They will overflow the land and everything in it,
the towns and those who live in them.
The people will cry out;
all who dwell in the land will wail 3at the sound of the hoofs of galloping steeds, at the noise of enemy chariots and the rumble of their wheels.
Fathers will not turn to help their children;
their hands will hang limp.
4For the day has come to destroy all the Philistines and to cut off all survivors who could help Tyre and Sidon.
The LORD is about to destroy the Philistines,[q]
the remnant from the coasts of Caphtor.[y] 5Gaza will shave her head in mourning;
Ashkelon[r] will be silenced.
O remnant on the plain,
how long will you cut yourselves?

47:4 [q]Ge 10:14

47:5 [r]Jer 25:20

47:6 [s]Jer 12:12

6" 'Ah, sword[s] of the LORD,' you cry,
'how long till you rest?
Return to your scabbard;
cease and be still.'
7But how can it rest
when the LORD has commanded it, y 4 That is, Crete

46:28 God punished his people in order to bring them back to himself, and he punishes us to correct and purify us. No one welcomes punishment, but we should all welcome its results: correction and purity.

47:1 Located on the coastal plain next to Judah, Philistia had always been a thorn in Israel's side. The two nations battled constantly. Other prophets who spoke against Philistia include Isaiah (14:28–32), Ezekiel (25:15–17), Amos (1:6–8), and Zephaniah (2:4–7).

when he has ordered it to attack Ashkelon and the coast?"

A Message About Moab

48 Concerning Moab:

This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says:

"Woe to Nebo, for it will be ruined.
Kiriathaim[t] will be disgraced and captured;
the stronghold[z] will be disgraced and shattered.
2Moab will be praised[u] no more;
in Heshbon[a] men will plot her downfall:
'Come, let us put an end to that nation.'
You too, O Madmen,[b] will be silenced;
the sword will pursue you.
3Listen to the cries from Horonaim, cries of great havoc and destruction.
4Moab will be broken;
her little ones will cry out.[c] 5They go up the way to Luhith,[v] weeping bitterly as they go;
on the road down to Horonaim anguished cries over the destruction are heard.
6Flee! Run for your lives;
become like a bush[d] in the desert.
7Since you trust in your deeds and riches,
you too will be taken captive,
and Chemosh[w] will go into exile,
together with his priests and officials.
8The destroyer will come against every town,
and not a town will escape.
The valley will be ruined
and the plateau destroyed, because the LORD has spoken.
9Put salt on Moab,
for she will be laid waste[e];
her towns will become desolate,
with no one to live in them.

10"A curse on him who is lax in doing the LORD's work!
A curse on him who keeps his sword from bloodshed![x]

11"Moab has been at rest from youth, like wine left on its dregs,[y] not poured from one jar to another—she has not gone into exile.
So she tastes as she did,

48:1 [t]Nu 32:37
48:2 [u]Isa 16:14
48:5 [v]Isa 15:5
48:7 [w]Nu 21:29
48:10 [x]1Ki 20:42
48:11 [y]Zep 1:12

[z] 1 Or Misgab [a] 2 The Hebrew for Heshbon sounds like the Hebrew for plot. [b] 2 The name of the Moabite town Madmen sounds like the Hebrew for be silenced. [c] 4 Hebrew; Septuagint proclaim it to Zoar [d] 6 Or like Aroer [e] 9 Or Give wings to Moab, for she will fly away

48:1 The Moabites were descendants of Lot through an incestuous relationship with one of his daughters (Genesis 19:30–37). They led the Israelites into idolatry (Numbers 25:1–3) and joined the bands of raiders Nebuchadnezzar sent into Judah in 602 B.C. They were later conquered by Babylon and disappeared as a nation.

48:7 Chemosh was the main god of the nation of Moab (Numbers 21:29), and child sacrifice was an important part of his worship (2 Kings 3:26, 27).

48:9 Putting salt on a city was a symbolic act to show that it was totally destroyed (see Judges 9:45). Salt in the fields would make them unfit for crops.

48:11, 12 When making wine, the grapes were crushed. After 40 days, the wine was poured off from the dregs in the bottom of the jar. If this was not done, the wine would be inferior. The prophet was saying that because of Moab's complacency and refusal to do God's work, Moab would be totally destroyed.

and her aroma is unchanged.
12But days are coming,"
declares the LORD,
"when I will send men who pour from jars,
and they will pour her out;
they will empty her jars
and smash her jugs.
13Then Moab will be ashamed of Chemosh, as the house of Israel was ashamed
when they trusted in Bethel.

14"How can you say, 'We are warriors, men valiant in battle'?
15Moab will be destroyed and her towns invaded;
her finest young men will go down in the slaughter," declares the King,[z] whose name is the LORD Almighty.
16"The fall of Moab is at hand;
her calamity will come quickly.
17Mourn for her, all who live around her,
all who know her fame;
say, 'How broken is the mighty scepter,
how broken the glorious staff!'

18"Come down from your glory and sit on the parched ground,[a] O inhabitants of the Daughter of Dibon, for he who destroys Moab will come up against you and ruin your fortified cities.
19Stand by the road and watch,
you who live in Aroer.
Ask the man fleeing and the woman escaping,
ask them, 'What has happened?'
20Moab is disgraced, for she is shattered.
Wail and cry out!
Announce by the Arnon[b]
that Moab is destroyed.
21Judgment has come to the plateau—to Holon, Jahzah and Mephaath,[c]
22 to Dibon, Nebo and Beth Diblathaim,
23 to Kiriathaim, Beth Gamul and Beth Meon, 24 to Kerioth[d] and Bozrah—to all the towns of Moab, far and near.
25Moab's horn[f e] is cut off;
her arm is broken,"
declares the LORD.

26"Make her drunk,[f]
for she has defied the LORD.
Let Moab wallow in her vomit;
let her be an object of ridicule.
27Was not Israel the object of your ridicule?[g]
Was she caught among thieves, that you shake your head in scorn

48:15 [z] Jer 46:18

48:18 [a] Isa 47:1

48:20 [b] Nu 21:13

48:21 [c] Jos 13:18

48:24 [d] Am 2:2

48:25 [e] Ps 75:10

48:26 [f] Jer 25:16, 27

48:27 [g] Jer 2:26

[f] 25 Horn here symbolizes strength.

48:13 After Israel divided into northern and southern kingdoms, the northern kingdom set up golden calf-idols in Bethel and Dan to keep people from going to worship in Jerusalem, capital of the southern kingdom (1 Kings 12:25–29).

whenever you speak of her?
28 Abandon your towns and dwell among the rocks,
you who live in Moab.
Be like a dove that makes its nest
at the mouth of a cave.

29 "We have heard of Moab's pride —
her overweening pride and conceit,
her pride and arrogance
and the haughtiness of her heart.
30 I know her insolence but it is futile,"
declares the LORD,
"and her boasts accomplish nothing.
31 Therefore I wail[h] over Moab,
for all Moab I cry out,
I moan for the men of Kir Hareseth.
32 I weep for you, as Jazer weeps,
O vines of Sibmah.
Your branches spread as far as the sea;
they reached as far as the sea of Jazer.
The destroyer has fallen on your ripened fruit and grapes.
33 Joy and gladness are gone from the orchards and fields of Moab.
I have stopped the flow of wine from the presses;
no one treads them with shouts of joy.[i] Although there are shouts,
they are not shouts of joy.

34 "The sound of their cry rises from Heshbon to Elealeh and Jahaz,[j] from Zoar as far as Horonaim[k] and Eglath Shelishiyah, for even the waters of Nimrim are dried up.[l] 35 In Moab I will put an end to those who make offerings on the high places[m] and burn incense to their gods,"
declares the LORD.
36 "So my heart laments for Moab like a flute;
it laments like a flute for the men of Kir Hareseth.
The wealth they acquired[n] is gone.
37 Every head is shaved[o]
and every beard cut off;
every hand is slashed
and every waist is covered with sackcloth.
38 On all the roofs in Moab and in the public squares
there is nothing but mourning, for I have broken Moab like a jar[p] that no one wants,"
declares the LORD.
39 "How shattered she is! How they wail!
How Moab turns her back in shame!
Moab has become an object of ridicule,

48:31 [h] Isa 15:5-8

48:33 [i] Joel 1:12

48:34 [j] Isa 15:4 [k] Isa 15:5 [l] Isa 15:6

48:35 [m] Isa 15:2

48:36 [n] Isa 15:7

48:37 [o] Isa 15:2

48:38 [p] Jer 22:28

48:29 Moab was condemned for its pride. God cannot tolerate pride because pride is taking personal credit for what God has done or looking down on others. God does not condemn our taking satisfaction in what we do (Ecclesiastes 3:22), but he stands against overestimates of our own importance. Romans 12:3 teaches us to have an honest estimate of ourselves.

48:31 Kir Hareseth was a stronghold city in Moab. God's compassion reaches to all creation, even to his enemies.

an object of horror to all those around her."

40This is what the LORD says:

"Look! An eagle is swooping down, spreading its wings[q] over Moab.
41Kerioth[g] will be captured and the strongholds taken.
In that day the hearts of Moab's warriors will be like the heart of a woman in labor.[r] 42Moab will be destroyed as a nation because she defied the LORD.
43Terror and pit and snare[s] await you,
O people of Moab,"
declares the LORD.
44"Whoever flees from the terror
will fall into a pit,
whoever climbs out of the pit
will be caught in a snare;
for I will bring upon Moab
the year of her punishment,"
declares the LORD.
45"In the shadow of Heshbon
the fugitives stand helpless, for a fire has gone out from Heshbon, a blaze from the midst of Sihon;[t]
it burns the foreheads of Moab,
the skulls[u] of the noisy boasters.
46Woe to you, O Moab![v]
The people of Chemosh are destroyed;
your sons are taken into exile and your daughters into captivity.
47"Yet I will restore[w] the fortunes of Moab
in days to come,"
declares the LORD.

48:40 [q] Isa 8:8
48:41 [r] Isa 21:3
48:43 [s] Isa 24:17
48:45 [t] Nu 21:21, 26-28 [u] Nu 24:17
48:46 [v] Nu 21:29
48:47 [w] Jer 49:6, 39

Here ends the judgment on Moab.

A Message About Ammon

49 Concerning the Ammonites:

This is what the LORD says:

"Has Israel no sons?
Has she no heirs?
Why then has Molech[h] taken possession of Gad?
Why do his people live in its towns?
2But the days are coming,"
declares the LORD,
"when I will sound the battle cry[x] against Rabbah of the Ammonites;
it will become a mound of ruins,
and its surrounding villages will be set on fire.

49:2 [x] Jer 4:19

[g] 41 Or The cities [h] 1 Or their king; Hebrew malcam; also in verse 3

49:1 The Ammonites were descendants of Lot through an incestuous relationship with one of his daughters (as were the Moabites; see Genesis 19:30–38). They were condemned for stealing land from God's people and for worshiping the idol Molech, to whom they made child sacrifices.

Then Israel will drive out those who drove her out,[y]"
says the LORD.

49:2 [y] Eze 21:28-32; 25:2-11

3"Wail, O Heshbon, for Ai is destroyed!
Cry out, O inhabitants of Rabbah!
Put on sackcloth and mourn;
rush here and there inside the walls,
for Molech will go into exile,[z]
together with his priests and officials.

49:3 [z] Jer 48:7

4Why do you boast of your valleys, boast of your valleys so fruitful?
O unfaithful daughter,
you trust in your riches and say,
'Who will attack me?'
5I will bring terror on you from all those around you,"
declares the Lord, the LORD Almighty.
"Every one of you will be driven away,
and no one will gather the fugitives.

6"Yet afterward, I will restore[a] the fortunes of the Ammonites,"
declares the LORD.

49:6 [a] Jer 48:47

A Message About Edom

7Concerning Edom:

This is what the LORD Almighty says:

"Is there no longer wisdom in Teman?
Has counsel perished from the prudent?
Has their wisdom decayed?
8Turn and flee, hide in deep caves,
you who live in Dedan,
for I will bring disaster on Esau
at the time I punish him.
9If grape pickers came to you,
would they not leave a few grapes?
If thieves came during the night,
would they not steal only as much as they wanted?
10But I will strip Esau bare;
I will uncover his hiding places,
so that he cannot conceal himself.
His children, relatives and neighbors will perish,
and he will be no more.
11Leave your orphans; I will protect their lives.
Your widows too can trust in me."

12This is what the LORD says: "If those who do not deserve to drink the cup must drink it, why should you go unpunished? You will not go unpunished, but must drink it. 13I swear[b] by myself," declares the LORD, "that Bozrah will become a

49:13 [b] Ge 22:16

49:7 Because the Israelites descended from Jacob and the Edomites from his twin brother, Esau, both nations descended from their father, Isaac. There was constant conflict between these nations, and Edom rejoiced at the fall of Jerusalem (see the book of Obadiah). Teman, a town in the northern part of Edom, was known for its wisdom and was the hometown of Eliphaz, one of Job's friends (Job 2:11). But even the wisdom of Teman could not save Edom from God's wrath.

49:8 Dedan was a flourishing city that supported caravan travel. God told its inhabitants to flee to the caves or they would also be destroyed. Teman and Dedan were at opposite ends of the country, so this shows the completeness of God's destruction of Edom. Bozrah (49:13) is a town in northern Edom.

49:16 Edom was located in a rock fortress that today is known as ruin and an object of horror, of reproach and of cursing; and all its towns will be in ruins forever."

14I have heard a message from the LORD:
An envoy was sent to the nations to say,
"Assemble yourselves to attack it!
Rise up for battle!"

15"Now I will make you small among the nations, despised among men.
16The terror you inspire and the pride of your heart have deceived you,
you who live in the clefts of the rocks,
who occupy the heights of the hill.
Though you build your nest[c] as high as the eagle's, from there I will bring you down,"
declares the LORD.

17"Edom will become an object of horror;
all who pass by will be appalled and will scoff because of all its wounds.
18As Sodom and Gomorrah[d] were overthrown, along with their neighboring towns,"
says the LORD,
"so no one will live there;
no man will dwell in it.

19"Like a lion coming up from Jordan's thickets[e]
to a rich pastureland,
I will chase Edom from its land in an instant.
Who is the chosen one I will appoint for this?
Who is like me and who can challenge me?[f]
And what shepherd can stand against me?"
20Therefore, hear what the LORD has planned against Edom, what he has purposed against those who live in Teman:
The young of the flock[g] will be dragged away;
he will completely destroy[h] their pasture because of them.
21At the sound of their fall the earth will tremble;
their cry[i] will resound to the Red Sea.[i] 22Look! An eagle will soar and swoop down, spreading its wings over Bozrah.
In that day the hearts of Edom's warriors will be like the heart of a woman in labor.

A Message About Damascus

23Concerning Damascus:

"Hamath[j] and Arpad are dismayed,
for they have heard bad news.
They are disheartened,
troubled like[j] the restless sea.
24Damascus has become feeble,

49:16 [c] Job 39:27
49:18 [d] Ge 19:24
49:19 [e] Jer 12:5 [f] Jer 50:44
49:20 [g] Jer 50:45 [h] Mal 1:3-4
49:21 [i] Jer 50:46
49:23 [j] Isa 10:9

[i] 21 Hebrew Yam Suph; that is, Sea of Reeds [j] 23 Hebrew on or by

Petra, in southern Jordan. Edom thought it was invincible because of its location. Edom was destroyed because of her pride. Pride destroys individuals as well as nations. It makes us think we can take care of ourselves without God's help. Even serving God and others can lead us into pride. Take inventory of your life and service for God; ask God to point out and remove any pride you may be harboring.

49:23–26 Damascus was the capital of Aram, north of Israel. This city was defeated by both Assyria and Babylon. Nebuchadnezzar attacked and defeated Damascus in 605 B.C. (Amos 1:4, 5). It is difficult to attribute the defeat of the army to a particular event, but God utterly destroyed Aram.

she has turned to flee and panic has gripped her;
anguish and pain have seized her,
pain like that of a woman in labor.
25 Why has the city of renown not been abandoned,
the town in which I delight?
26 Surely, her young men will fall in the streets;
all her soldiers will be silenced in that day,"
declares the LORD Almighty.
27 "I will set fire[k] to the walls of Damascus;
it will consume the fortresses of Ben-Hadad.[l]"

49:27
[k] Am 1:4
[l] 1Ki 15:18

A Message About Kedar and Hazor

28 Concerning Kedar and the kingdoms of Hazor, which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon attacked:

This is what the LORD says:

"Arise, and attack Kedar and destroy the people of the East.
29 Their tents and their flocks will be taken;
their shelters will be carried off with all their goods and camels.
Men will shout to them,
'Terror[m] on every side!'

49:29
[m] Jer 6:25

30 "Flee quickly away!
Stay in deep caves, you who live in Hazor,"
declares the LORD.
"Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon has plotted against you;
he has devised a plan against you.

31 "Arise and attack a nation at ease, which lives in confidence,"
declares the LORD,
"a nation that has neither gates nor bars;[n]
its people live alone.

49:31
[n] Eze 38:11

32 Their camels will become plunder, and their large herds will be booty.
I will scatter to the winds those who are in distant places[k][o] and will bring disaster on them from every side,"
declares the LORD.

49:32
[o] Jer 9:26

33 "Hazor will become a haunt of jackals, a desolate place forever.
No one will live there;
no man will dwell in it."

A Message About Elam

34 This is the word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah the prophet concerning Elam, early in the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah:

35 This is what the LORD Almighty says:

"See, I will break the bow[p] of Elam,
the mainstay of their might.

49:35
[p] Isa 22:6

[k] 32 Or who clip the hair by their foreheads

49:28 Kedar and Hazor were nomadic tribes east of Israel and south of Aram, in the desert. In 599 B.C. Nebuchadnezzar destroyed them.

49:34 Elam lay east of Babylon and was attacked by Nebuchadnezzar in 597 B.C. Later Elam became the nucleus of the Persian empire (Daniel 8:2) and the residence of Darius.

36I will bring against Elam the four winds from the four quarters of the heavens;
I will scatter them to the four winds, and there will not be a nation
where Elam's exiles do not go.
37I will shatter Elam before their foes,
before those who seek their lives;
I will bring disaster upon them,
even my fierce anger,"
declares the LORD.

49:37 [q] Jer 9:16

"I will pursue them with the sword[q]
until I have made an end of them.
38I will set my throne in Elam and destroy her king and officials,"
declares the LORD.

49:39 [r] Jer 48:47

39"Yet I will restore[r] the fortunes of Elam
in days to come,"
declares the LORD.

A Message About Babylon

50 This is the word the LORD spoke through Jeremiah the prophet concerning 50:1 [s] Ge 10:10 Babylon[s] and the land of the Babylonians[1]:

2"Announce and proclaim among the nations, lift up a banner and proclaim it;
keep nothing back, but say,
'Babylon will be captured;
50:2 [t] Isa 46:1 Bel[t] will be put to shame,
Marduk filled with terror.
Her images will be put to shame and her idols filled with terror.'
3A nation from the north will attack her and lay waste her land.
No one will live in it;
both men and animals will flee away.

4"In those days, at that time,"
declares the LORD,
"the people of Israel and the people of Judah together
50:4 [u] Ezr 3:12 [v] Hos 3:5 will go in tears[u] to seek[v] the LORD their God.
5They will ask the way to Zion and turn their faces toward it.
They will come and bind themselves to the LORD in an everlasting covenant that will not be forgotten.

6"My people have been lost sheep;
their shepherds have led them astray and caused them to roam on the mountains.

[1] 1 Or Chaldeans; also in verses 8, 25, 35 and 45

49:38 The throne represents God's judgment and sovereignty. God would preside over Elam's destruction. He is the King over all kings, including Elam's.

50:1ff At the height of its power, the Babylonian empire seemed immovable. But when Babylon had finished serving God's purpose of punishing Judah for her sins, it would be punished and crushed for its own. Babylon was destroyed in 539 B.C. by the Medo-Persians (Daniel 5:30, 31). Babylon is also used in Scripture as a symbol of all evil. This message can thus apply to the end times when God wipes out all evil, once and for all.

50:3 The nation from the north was Medo-Persia, an alliance of Media and Persia that would become the next world power. Cyrus took the city of Babylon by surprise and brought the nation to its knees in 539 B.C. (Daniel 5:30, 31). The complete destruction of the city was accomplished by later Persian kings.

They wandered over mountain and hill[w] and forgot their own resting place.
7Whoever found them devoured them;
their enemies said, 'We are not guilty,
for they sinned against the LORD, their true pasture, the LORD, the hope of their fathers.'

50:6
[w]Jer 3:6

8"Flee[x] out of Babylon;
leave the land of the Babylonians,
and be like the goats that lead the flock.
9For I will stir up and bring against Babylon an alliance of great nations from the land of the north.
They will take up their positions against her,
and from the north she will be captured.
Their arrows will be like skilled warriors who do not return empty-handed.
10So Babylonia[m] will be plundered;
all who plunder her will have their fill,"
declares the LORD.

50:8
[x]Isa 48:20

11"Because you rejoice and are glad, you who pillage my inheritance,[y] because you frolic like a heifer threshing grain and neigh like stallions, 12your mother will be greatly ashamed;
she who gave you birth will be disgraced.
She will be the least of the nations—
a wilderness, a dry land, a desert.
13Because of the LORD's anger she will not be inhabited but will be completely desolate.
All who pass Babylon will be horrified and scoff because of all her wounds.

50:11
[y]Isa 47:6

14"Take up your positions around Babylon, all you who draw the bow.
Shoot at her! Spare no arrows, for she has sinned against the LORD.
15Shout[z] against her on every side!
She surrenders, her towers fall,
her walls[a] are torn down.
Since this is the vengeance of the LORD,
take vengeance on her;
do to her as she has done to others.
16Cut off from Babylon the sower, and the reaper with his sickle at harvest.
Because of the sword of the oppressor let everyone return to his own people, let everyone flee to his own land.

50:15
[z]Jer 51:14
[a]Jer 51:44, 58

17"Israel is a scattered flock that lions[b] have chased away.
The first to devour him
was the king of Assyria;

50:17
[b]Jer 2:15

[m] 10 Or Chaldea

50:17–20 God would punish wicked Babylon as he punished Assyria for what they had done to Israel. Assyria was crushed by Babylon, over which it had once ruled. Babylon in turn would be crushed by Medo-Persia, formerly under its authority. These verses also look to the time when the Messiah will rule and Israel will be the last to crush his bones was Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon."

18 Therefore this is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says:

"I will punish the king of Babylon and his land
as I punished the king of Assyria.
19 But I will bring Israel back to his own pasture and he will graze on Carmel and Bashan;
his appetite will be satisfied
on the hills[c] of Ephraim and Gilead.
20 In those days, at that time,"
declares the LORD,
"search will be made for Israel's guilt,
but there will be none,
and for the sins of Judah,
but none will be found,
for I will forgive the remnant[d] I spare.

21 "Attack the land of Merathaim and those who live in Pekod.[e] Pursue, kill and completely destroy[n] them,"
declares the LORD.
"Do everything I have commanded you.
22 The noise[f] of battle is in the land,
the noise of great destruction!
23 How broken and shattered is the hammer of the whole earth!
How desolate is Babylon
among the nations!
24 I set a trap for you, O Babylon, and you were caught before you knew it;
you were found and captured[g]
because you opposed the LORD.
25 The LORD has opened his arsenal and brought out the weapons[h] of his wrath, for the Sovereign LORD Almighty has work to do in the land of the Babylonians.
26 Come against her from afar.
Break open her granaries;
pile her up like heaps of grain.
Completely destroy her
and leave her no remnant.
27 Kill all her young bulls;
let them go down to the slaughter!
Woe to them! For their day has come,
the time for them to be punished.
28 Listen to the fugitives and refugees from Babylon declaring in Zion[i] how the LORD our God has taken vengeance, vengeance for his temple.

29 "Summon archers against Babylon, all those who draw the bow.
Encamp all around her;

50:19 [c] Jer 31:5
50:20 [d] Isa 1:9
50:21 [e] Eze 23:23
50:22 [f] Jer 51:54
50:24 [g] Jer 51:31
50:25 [h] Isa 13:5
50:28 [i] Jer 51:10

[n] 21 The Hebrew term refers to the irrevocable giving over of things or persons to the LORD, often by totally destroying them; also in verse 26.

fully restored. No sin will then be found in Israel because those who sought God will be forgiven.

50:21 Merathaim was located in southern Babylonia; Pekod was in eastern Babylonia.

let no one escape.
Repay[j] her for her deeds;
do to her as she has done.
For she has defied the LORD,
the Holy One of Israel.
30 Therefore, her young men will fall in the streets;
all her soldiers will be silenced in that day,"
declares the LORD.
31 "See, I am against you, O arrogant one,"
declares the Lord, the LORD Almighty,
"for your day has come,
the time for you to be punished.
32 The arrogant one will stumble and fall and no one will help her up;
I will kindle a fire[k] in her towns that will consume all who are around her."

33 This is what the LORD Almighty says:

"The people of Israel are oppressed, and the people of Judah as well.
All their captors hold them fast,
refusing to let them go.
34 Yet their Redeemer is strong;
the LORD Almighty is his name.
He will vigorously defend their cause
so that he may bring rest to their land, but unrest to those who live in Babylon.

35 "A sword against the Babylonians!"
declares the LORD—
"against those who live in Babylon and against her officials and wise men!
36 A sword against her false prophets!
They will become fools.
A sword against her warriors!
They will be filled with terror.
37 A sword against her horses and chariots and all the foreigners in her ranks!
They will become women.
A sword against her treasures!
They will be plundered.
38 A drought on[o] her waters!
They will dry[l] up.
For it is a land of idols,
idols that will go mad with terror.

39 "So desert creatures and hyenas will live there,
and there the owl will dwell.
It will never again be inhabited or lived in from generation to generation.[m] 40 As God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah[n]

50:29 [j] Rev 18:6

50:32 [k] Jer 49:27

50:38 [l] Jer 51:36

50:39 [m] Isa 13:19-22

50:40 [n] Ge 19:24

[o] 38 Or A sword against

50:32 Pride (arrogance) was Babylon's characteristic sin. Pride comes from feeling self-sufficient or believing that we don't need God. Proud nations or persons, however, will eventually fail because they refuse to recognize God as the ultimate power. Getting rid of pride is not easy, but we can admit that it often rules us and ask God to forgive us and help us overcome it. The best antidote to pride is to focus our attention on the greatness and goodness of God.

50:39 Babylon remains a wasteland to this day. See also Isaiah 13:19–22.

along with their neighboring towns,"
declares the LORD,
"so no one will live there;
no man will dwell in it.

41"Look! An army is coming from the north;
a great nation and many kings are being stirred up from the ends of the earth.
42They are armed with bows and spears;
they are cruel and without mercy.[o]
They sound like the roaring sea[p]
as they ride on their horses;
they come like men in battle formation
to attack you, O Daughter of Babylon.
43The king of Babylon has heard reports about them,
and his hands hang limp.
Anguish has gripped him,
pain like that of a woman in labor.
44Like a lion coming up from Jordan's thickets
to a rich pastureland,
I will chase Babylon from its land in an instant.
Who is the chosen one I will appoint for this?
Who is like me and who can challenge me?[q]
And what shepherd can stand against me?"
45Therefore, hear what the LORD has planned against Babylon, what he has purposed[r] against the land of the Babylonians:
The young of the flock will be dragged away;
he will completely destroy their pasture because of them.
46At the sound of Babylon's capture the earth will tremble;
its cry will resound among the nations.

50:42
[o] Isa 13:18
[p] Isa 5:30

50:44
[q] Job 41:10; Jer 49:19

50:45
[r] Jer 51:11

51 This is what the LORD says:

"See, I will stir up the spirit of a destroyer against Babylon and the people of Leb Kamai.[p] 2I will send foreigners to Babylon to winnow her and to devastate her land;
they will oppose her on every side in the day of her disaster.
3Let not the archer string his bow, nor let him put on his armor.
Do not spare her young men;
completely destroy[q] her army.
4They will fall down slain in Babylon,[r] fatally wounded in her streets.
5For Israel and Judah have not been forsaken by their God, the LORD Almighty, though their land[s] is full of guilt before the Holy One of Israel.

[p] 1 Leb Kamai is a cryptogram for Chaldea, that is, Babylonia. [q] 3 The Hebrew term refers to the irrevocable giving over of things or persons to the LORD, often by totally destroying them. [r] 4 Or Chaldea [s] 5 Or I and the land of the Babylonians,

50:44–46 This invader was Cyrus, who attacked Babylon by surprise and overthrew it. The world was shocked that its greatest empire was overthrown so quickly. No earthly power, no matter how great, can last forever.

51:2 Winnowers worked to separate the wheat from the chaff. When they threw the mixture into the air, the wind blew away the worthless chaff while the wheat settled to the floor. Babylon would be blown away like chaff in the wind. (See also Matthew 3:12 where John the Baptist says Jesus will separate the wheat from the chaff.)

6"Flee from Babylon!
Run for your lives!
Do not be destroyed because of her sins.[s]
It is time for the LORD's vengeance;[t] he will pay[u] her what she deserves.
7Babylon was a gold cup[v] in the LORD's hand;
she made the whole earth drunk.
The nations drank her wine;
therefore they have now gone mad.
8Babylon will suddenly fall[w] and be broken.
Wail over her!
Get balm for her pain;
perhaps she can be healed.

9" 'We would have healed Babylon, but she cannot be healed;
let us leave[x] her and each go to his own land,
for her judgment[y] reaches to the skies,
it rises as high as the clouds.'

10" 'The LORD has vindicated us;
come, let us tell in Zion
what the LORD our God has done.'[z]

11"Sharpen the arrows, take up the shields!
The LORD has stirred up the kings of the Medes, because his purpose is to destroy Babylon.
The LORD will take vengeance, vengeance for his temple.[a] 12Lift up a banner against the walls of Babylon!
Reinforce the guard,
station the watchmen,
prepare an ambush!
The LORD will carry out his purpose,
his decree against the people of Babylon.
13You who live by many waters and are rich in treasures, your end has come,
the time for you to be cut off.
14The LORD Almighty has sworn by himself:
I will surely fill you with men, as with a swarm of locusts,[b] and they will shout in triumph over you.

15"He made the earth by his power;
he founded the world by his wisdom
and stretched[c] out the heavens by his understanding.
16When he thunders, the waters in the heavens roar;
he makes clouds rise from the ends of the earth.
He sends lightning with the rain and brings out the wind from his storehouses.[d]

17"Every man is senseless and without knowledge;
every goldsmith is shamed by his idols.

51:6
[s] Rev 18:4
[t] Jer 50:15
[u] Jer 25:14

51:7
[v] Jer 25:15-16; Rev 14:8-10

51:8
[w] Isa 21:9; Rev 14:8

51:9
[x] Isa 13:14; Jer 50:16
[y] Rev 18:4-5

51:10
[z] Jer 50:28

51:11
[a] Jer 50:28

51:14
[b] Na 3:15

51:15
[c] Ge 1:1

51:16
[d] Ps 135:7

51:11 Cyrus, king of Persia, had allied with Babylon to defeat Nineveh (capital of the Assyrian empire) in 612 B.C. Then the Medes joined Persia to defeat Babylon (539 B.C.).

51:17–19 It is foolish to trust in man-made images rather than in God. It is easy to think that the things we see and touch will bring us more security than God. But things rust, rot, and decay. God is eternal. Why put your trust in something that will disappear within a few years?

His images are a fraud;
they have no breath in them.
18They are worthless, the objects of mockery;
when their judgment comes, they will perish.
19He who is the Portion of Jacob is not like these,
for he is the Maker of all things, including the tribe of his inheritance—
the LORD Almighty is his name.

51:20
[e] Isa 10:5

20"You are my war club,[e] my weapon for battle—
with you I shatter nations, with you I destroy kingdoms, 21with you I shatter horse and rider,
with you I shatter chariot and driver, 22with you I shatter man and woman, with you I shatter old man and youth, 51:22
[f] 2Ch 36:17; Isa 13:17-18
with you I shatter young man and maiden,[f] 23with you I shatter shepherd and flock, with you I shatter farmer and oxen,
with you I shatter governors and officials.

51:24
[g] Jer 50:15
24"Before your eyes I will repay[g] Babylon and all who live in Babylonia[t] for all the wrong they have done in Zion," declares the LORD.

25"I am against you, O destroying mountain, you who destroy the whole earth,"
declares the LORD.
"I will stretch out my hand against you,
roll you off the cliffs,
51:25
[h] Zec 4:7
and make you a burned-out mountain.[h] 26No rock will be taken from you for a cornerstone, nor any stone for a foundation, for you will be desolate forever,"
declares the LORD.

51:27
[i] Isa 13:2
27"Lift up a banner[i] in the land!
Blow the trumpet among the nations!
Prepare the nations for battle against her;
summon against her these kingdoms:
Ararat, Minni and Ashkenaz.
Appoint a commander against her;
send up horses like a swarm of locusts.
28Prepare the nations for battle against her—
51:28
[j] ver 11
the kings of the Medes,[j]
their governors and all their officials, and all the countries they rule.
29The land trembles and writhes, for the LORD's purposes against Babylon stand—to lay waste the land of Babylon
so that no one will live there.
51:30
[k] Jer 50:36
30Babylon's warriors[k] have stopped fighting;
they remain in their strongholds.
Their strength is exhausted;
they have become like women.
Her dwellings are set on fire;
the bars of her gates are broken.
31One courier follows another and messenger follows messenger

[t] 24 Or Chaldea; also in verse 35 to announce to the king of Babylon that his entire city is captured, 32the river crossings seized,

the marshes set on fire,
and the soldiers terrified."

33This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says:

"The Daughter of Babylon is like a threshing floor[l] at the time it is trampled;
the time to harvest[m] her will soon come."

51:33
[l]Isa 21:10
[m]Isa 17:5

34"Nebuchadnezzar[n] king of Babylon has devoured us, he has thrown us into confusion,
he has made us an empty jar.
Like a serpent he has swallowed us and filled his stomach with our delicacies, and then has spewed us out.
35May the violence done to our flesh[u] be upon Babylon," say the inhabitants of Zion.
"May our blood be on those who live in Babylonia," says Jerusalem.

51:34
[n]Jer 50:17

36Therefore, this is what the LORD says:

"See, I will defend your cause and avenge you;
I will dry up her sea
and make her springs dry.
37Babylon will be a heap of ruins,
a haunt[o] of jackals,
an object of horror and scorn,
a place where no one lives.
38Her people all roar like young lions,
they growl like lion cubs.
39But while they are aroused,
I will set out a feast for them
and make them drunk,
so that they shout with laughter—then sleep forever and not awake,"
declares the LORD.

51:37
[o]Rev 18:2

40"I will bring them down like lambs to the slaughter, like rams and goats.

41"How Sheshach[v p] will be captured, the boast of the whole earth seized!
What a horror Babylon will be among the nations!
42The sea will rise over Babylon;
its roaring waves[q] will cover her.
43Her towns will be desolate,

51:41
[p]Jer 25:26

51:42
[q]Isa 8:7

[u] 35 Or done to us and to our children [v] 41 Sheshach is a cryptogram for Babylon.

51:33 Grain was threshed on a threshing floor, where sheaves were brought from the field. The stalks of grain were distributed on the floor, a large level section of hard ground. There the grain was crushed to separate the kernels from the stalk; then the kernels were beaten with a wooden tool. Sometimes a wooden sledge was pulled over the grain by animals to break the kernels loose. Babylon would soon be "threshed" as God judged it for its sins.

51:36 This verse may refer to an event accomplished by Cyrus, who took Babylon by surprise by diverting the river that ran through the city far upstream and walking in on the dry riverbed. More likely it is saying that Babylon will be deprived of life-giving water. Unlike Jerusalem, Babylon will not be restored.

a dry and desert land,
a land where no one lives,
through which no man travels.

51:44
[r] Isa 46:1
[s] ver 58

44 I will punish Bel[r] in Babylon and make him spew out what he has swallowed.
The nations will no longer stream to him.
And the wall[s] of Babylon will fall.

45 "Come out of her, my people!
Run for your lives!
Run from the fierce anger of the LORD.
46 Do not lose heart or be afraid

51:46
[t] 2Ki 19:7

when rumors[t] are heard in the land;
one rumor comes this year, another the next, rumors of violence in the land and of ruler against ruler.
47 For the time will surely come when I will punish the idols of Babylon; her whole land will be disgraced and her slain will all lie fallen within her.
48 Then heaven and earth and all that is in them will shout for joy over Babylon, for out of the north destroyers will attack her,"
declares the LORD.

49 "Babylon must fall because of Israel's slain, just as the slain in all the earth

51:49
[u] Jer 50:29

have fallen because of Babylon.[u] 50 You who have escaped the sword, leave and do not linger!
Remember the LORD in a distant land, and think on Jerusalem."

51:51
[v] Ps 44:13-16

51 "We are disgraced,[v]
for we have been insulted and shame covers our faces, because foreigners have entered the holy places of the LORD's house."

52 "But days are coming," declares the LORD,
"when I will punish her idols, and throughout her land
the wounded will groan.

51:53
[w] Isa 14:13-14

53 Even if Babylon reaches the sky[w]
and fortifies her lofty stronghold,
I will send destroyers against her,"
declares the LORD.

54 "The sound of a cry comes from Babylon, the sound of great destruction[x]

51:54
[x] Jer 50:22

from the land of the Babylonians.[w] 55 The LORD will destroy Babylon;
he will silence her noisy din.

[w] 54 Or Chaldeans

51:44 Bel is one of the names of Marduk, the chief god of the city of Babylon.

51:51 The people were paralyzed with guilt over their past. The Babylonian armies had desecrated the temple, and the people were ashamed to return to Jerusalem. But God told them to return to the city because he would destroy Babylon for its sins.

Waves [of enemies] will rage like great waters;
the roar of their voices will resound.
56A destroyer will come against Babylon;
her warriors will be captured,
and their bows will be broken.
For the LORD is a God of retribution;
he will repay[y] in full.
57I will make her officials and wise men drunk,
her governors, officers and warriors as well;
they will sleep[z] forever and not awake," declares the King, whose name is the LORD Almighty.

58This is what the LORD Almighty says:

"Babylon's thick wall will be leveled and her high gates set on fire;
the peoples exhaust themselves for nothing,
the nations' labor is only fuel for the flames."

59This is the message Jeremiah gave to the staff officer Seraiah son of Neriah, the son of Mahseiah, when he went to Babylon with Zedekiah king of Judah in the fourth[a] year of his reign. 60Jeremiah had written on a scroll[b] about all the disasters that would come upon Babylon — all that had been recorded concerning Babylon. 61He said to Seraiah, "When you get to Babylon, see that you read all these words aloud. 62Then say, 'O LORD, you have said you will destroy this place, so that neither man nor animal will live in it; it will be desolate[c] forever.' 63When you finish reading this scroll, tie a stone to it and throw it into the Euphrates. 64Then say, 'So will Babylon sink to rise no more because of the disaster I will bring upon her. And her people[d] will fall.' "

The words of Jeremiah end here.

51:56 [y] ver 6; Ps 94:1-2
51:57 [z] Ps 76:5
51:59 [a] Jer 28:1
51:60 [b] Jer 30:2
51:62 [c] Jer 50:13, 39
51:64 [d] ver 58

2. The fall of Jerusalem

52 Zedekiah[e] was twenty-one years old when he became king, and he reigned in Jerusalem eleven years. His mother's name was Hamutal daughter of Jeremiah; she was from Libnah. 2He did evil in the eyes of the LORD, just as Jehoiakim had done. 3It was because of the LORD's anger that all this happened to Jerusalem and Judah,[f] and in the end he thrust them from his presence.

Now Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon.

4So in the ninth year of Zedekiah's reign, on the tenth[g] day of the tenth month, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon marched against Jerusalem with his whole army. They camped outside the city and built siege works all around it. 5The city was kept under siege until the eleventh year of King Zedekiah.

6By the ninth day of the fourth month the famine in the city had become so severe that there was no food for the people to eat. 7Then the city wall was broken through, and the whole army fled. They left the city at night through the gate between the two walls near the king's garden, though the Babylonians[x] were surrounding the city. They fled toward the Arabah,[y] 8but the Babylonian[z] army

52:1 [e] 2Ki 24:17
52:3 [f] Isa 3:1
52:4 [g] Zec 8:19

[x] 7 Or Chaldeans; also in verse 17 [y] 7 Or the Jordan Valley [z] 8 Or Chaldean; also in verse 14

51:59 Jeremiah could not visit Babylon, so he sent the message with Seraiah, the officer who cared for the comforts of the army. Seriah was probably Baruch's brother (32:12).

51:60–64 In this last of Jeremiah's messages, we find again the twin themes of God's sovereignty and his judgment. Babylon had been allowed to oppress the people of Israel, but Babylon itself would be judged. Although God brings good out of evil, he does not allow evil to remain unpunished. The wicked may succeed for a while, but resist the temptation to follow them or you may share in their judgment.

52:1ff This chapter provides more detail about the destruction of Jerusalem recorded in chapter 39 (similar material is found in 2 Kings 24:18 – 25:21). This appendix shows that Jeremiah's prophecies concerning the destruction of Jerusalem and the Babylonian captivity happened just as he predicted. For more information on Zedekiah, see the note on 39:1ff.

pursued King Zedekiah and overtook him in the plains of Jericho. All his soldiers were separated from him and scattered, 9and he was captured.[h]

He was taken to the king of Babylon at Riblah in the land of Hamath, where he pronounced sentence on him. 10There at Riblah the king of Babylon slaughtered the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes; he also killed all the officials of Judah. 11Then he put out Zedekiah's eyes, bound him with bronze shackles and took him to Babylon, where he put him in prison till the day of his death.[i] 12On the tenth day of the fifth month, in the nineteenth year of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, Nebuzaradan commander of the imperial guard, who served the king of Babylon, came to Jerusalem. 13He set fire[j] to the temple of the LORD, the royal palace and all the houses of Jerusalem. Every important building he burned down. 14The whole Babylonian army under the commander of the imperial guard broke down all the walls around Jerusalem. 15Nebuzaradan the commander of the guard carried into exile some of the poorest people and those who remained in the city, along with the rest of the craftsmen[a] and those who had gone over to the king of Babylon. 16But Nebuzaradan left behind the rest of the poorest people of the land to work the vineyards and fields.

17The Babylonians broke up the bronze pillars,[k] the movable stands[l] and the bronze Sea that were at the temple of the LORD and they carried all the bronze to Babylon.[m] 18They also took away the pots, shovels, wick trimmers, sprinkling bowls, dishes and all the bronze articles used in the temple service. 19The commander of the imperial guard took away the basins, censers,[n] sprinkling bowls, pots, lampstands, dishes and bowls used for drink offerings — all that were made of pure gold or silver.

20The bronze from the two pillars, the Sea and the twelve bronze bulls under it, and the movable stands, which King Solomon had made for the temple of the LORD, was more than could be weighed.[o] 21Each of the pillars was eighteen cubits high and twelve cubits in circumference[b]; each was four fingers thick, and hollow.[p] 22The bronze capital on top of the one pillar was five cubits[c] high and was decorated with a network and pomegranates of bronze all around. The other pillar, with its pomegranates, was similar. 23There were ninety-six pomegranates on the sides; the total number of pomegranates[q] above the surrounding network was a hundred.

24The commander of the guard took as prisoners Seraiah[r] the chief priest, Zephaniah[s] the priest next in rank and the three doorkeepers. 25Of those still in the city, he took the officer in charge of the fighting men, and seven royal advisers. He also took the secretary who was chief officer in charge of conscripting the people of the land and sixty of his men who were found in the city. 26Nebuzaradan the commander took them all and brought them to the king of Babylon at Riblah. 27There at Riblah, in the land of Hamath, the king had them executed.

So Judah went into captivity, away from her land. 28This is the number of the people Nebuchadnezzar carried into exile:

in the seventh year, 3,023 Jews;
29in Nebuchadnezzar's eighteenth year,
832 people from Jerusalem;
30in his twenty-third year,
745 Jews taken into exile by Nebuzaradan the commander of the imperial guard.
There were 4,600 people in all.

[a] 15 Or populace [b] 21 That is, about 27 feet (about 8.1 meters) high and 18 feet (about 5.4 meters) in circumference [c] 22 That is, about 7 1/2 feet (about 2.3 meters)

52:9 [h] Jer 32:4

52:11 [i] Eze 12:13

52:13 [j] 2Ch 36:19

52:17 [k] 1Ki 7:15 [l] 1Ki 7:27-37 [m] Jer 27:19-22

52:19 [n] 1Ki 7:50

52:20 [o] 1Ki 7:47

52:21 [p] 1Ki 7:15

52:23 [q] 1Ki 7:20

52:24 [r] 2Ki 25:18 [s] Jer 37:3

52:8, 9 Riblah was 200 miles north of Jerusalem. This was the Babylonian headquarters for ruling the region. Hamath was the district of Aram containing the nation's capital.

52:21 A cubit was a standard of measure about 17 to 20 inches long.

Jehoiachin Released

31 In the thirty-seventh year of the exile of Jehoiachin king of Judah, in the year Evil-Merodach[d] became king of Babylon, he released Jehoiachin king of Judah and freed him from prison on the twenty-fifth day of the twelfth month. 32 He spoke kindly to him and gave him a seat of honor higher than those of the other kings who were with him in Babylon. 33 So Jehoiachin put aside his prison clothes and for the rest of his life ate regularly at the king's table.[t] 34 Day by day the king of Babylon gave Jehoiachin a regular allowance[u] as long as he lived, till the day of his death.

[d] 31 Also called Amel-Marduk

52:33 [t] 2Sa 9:7

52:34 [u] 2Sa 9:10

52:31 Babylon's king showed kindness to Jehoiachin. In 561 B.C. Jehoiachin was released from prison and allowed to eat with the king. God continued to show kindness to the descendants of King David, even in exile.

52:34 In the world's eyes, Jeremiah looked totally unsuccessful. He had no money, family, or friends. He prophesied the destruction of the nation, the capital city, and the temple, but the political and religious leaders would not accept or follow his advice. No group of people liked him or listened to him. Yet as we look back, we see that he successfully completed the work God gave him to do. Success must never be measured by popularity, fame, or fortune, for these are temporal measures. King Zedekiah, for example, lost everything by pursuing selfish goals. God measures our success with the yardsticks of obedience, faithfulness, and righteousness. If you are faithfully doing the work God gives you, you are successful in his eyes.

TEARS are defined simply as "drops of salty fluid flowing from the eyes." They can be caused by irritation or laughter but are usually associated with weeping, sorrow, and grief. When we cry, friends wonder what's wrong and try to console us. Babies cry for food, and children cry at the loss of a pet; adults cry when confronted with trauma and death.

Jeremiah's grief ran deep. Called the "weeping prophet," his tears flowed from a broken heart. As God's spokesman, he knew what lay ahead for Judah, his country, and for Jerusalem, the capital and "the city of God." God's judgment would fall and destruction would come. And Jeremiah wept. His tears were not self-centered, mourning over personal suffering or loss. He wept because the people had rejected their God—the God who had made them, loved them, and sought repeatedly to bless them. Jeremiah's heart was broken because he knew that the selfishness and sinfulness of the people would bring them much suffering and an extended exile. Jeremiah's tears were tears of empathy and sympathy. His heart was broken with those things that break God's heart.

Jeremiah's two books focus on one event—the destruction of Jerusalem. The book of Jeremiah predicts it, and Lamentations looks back on it. Known as the book of tears, Lamentations is a dirge, a funeral song written for the fallen city of Jerusalem.

What makes a person cry says a lot about that person—whether he or she is self-centered or God-centered. The book of Lamentations allows us to see what made Jeremiah sorrowful. As one of God's choice servants, he stands alone in the depth of his emotions, his care for the people, his love for the nation, and his devotion to God.

What causes your tears? Do you weep because your selfish pride has been wounded, or because the people around you sin against and reject the God who loves them dearly? Do you weep because you have lost something that gives you pleasure, or because people all around you will suffer for their sinfulness? Our world is filled with injustice, poverty, war, and rebellion against God, all of which should move us to tears and to action. Read Lamentations and learn what it means to grieve with God.

VITAL STATISTICS

PURPOSE:
To teach people that to disobey God is to invite disaster, and to show that God suffers when his people suffer

AUTHOR:
Jeremiah

DATE WRITTEN:
Soon after the fall of Jerusalem in 586 B.C.

SETTING:
Jerusalem had been destroyed by Babylon and her people killed, tortured, or taken captive.

KEY VERSE:
"My eyes fail from weeping, I am in torment within, my heart is poured out on the ground because my people are destroyed, because children and infants faint in the streets of the city" (2:11).

KEY PEOPLE:
Jeremiah, the people of Jerusalem

KEY PLACE:
Jerusalem

SPECIAL FEATURES:
Three strands of Hebrew thought meet in Lamentations—prophecy, ritual, and wisdom. Lamentations is written in the rhythm and style of ancient Jewish funeral songs or chants. It contains five poems corresponding to the five chapters (see the note on 3:1ff).

THE BLUEPRINT

1. Jeremiah mourns for Jerusalem (1:1–22)
2. God's anger at sin (2:1–22)
3. Hope in the midst of affliction (3:1–66)
4. God's anger is satisfied (4:1–22)
5. Jeremiah pleads for restoration (5:1–22)

Jeremiah grieves deeply because of the destruction of Jerusalem and the devastation of his nation. But in the middle of the book, in the depths of his grief, there shines a ray of hope. God's compassion is ever-present. His faithfulness is great. Jeremiah realizes that it is only the Lord's mercy that has prevented total annihilation. This book shows us the serious consequences of human sin and how we can still have hope in the midst of tragedy because God is able to turn it around for good. We see the timeless importance of prayer and confession of sin. We will all face tragedy in our lives. But in the midst of our afflictions, there is hope in God.

MEGATHEMES

THEME	EXPLANATION	IMPORTANCE
Destruction of Jerusalem	Lamentations is a sad funeral song for the great capital city of the Jews. The temple has been destroyed, the king is gone, and the people are in exile. God had warned that he would destroy them if they abandoned him. Now, afterwards, the people realize their condition and confess their sin.	God's warnings are justified. He does what he says he will do. His punishment for sin is certain. Only by confessing and renouncing our sin can we turn to him for deliverance. How much better to do so before his warnings are fulfilled.
God's mercy	God's compassion was at work even when the Israelites were experiencing the affliction of their Babylonian conquerors. Although the people had been unfaithful, God's faithfulness was great. He used this affliction to bring his people back to him.	God will always be faithful to his people. His merciful, refining work is evident even in affliction. At those times, we must pray for forgiveness and then turn to him for deliverance.
Sin's consequences	God was angry at the prolonged rebellion by his people. Sin is the cause of their misery, and destruction is the result of their sin. The destruction of the nation shows the vanity of human glory and pride.	To continue in rebellion against God is to invite disaster. We must never trust our own leadership, resources, intelligence, or power more than God. If we do, we will experience consequences similar to Jerusalem's.
Hope	God's mercy in sparing some of the people offers hope for better days. One day, the people will be restored to a true and fervent relationship with God.	Only God can deliver us from sin. Without him there is no comfort or hope for the future. Because of Christ's death for us and his promise to return, we have a bright hope for tomorrow.

1. Jeremiah mourns for Jerusalem

1[a] How deserted lies the city, once so full of people!
How like a widow[a] is she,
who once was great among the nations!
She who was queen among the provinces has now become a slave.[b]

2Bitterly she weeps at night,
tears are upon her cheeks.
Among all her lovers
there is none to comfort her.
All her friends have betrayed her;
they have become her enemies.

3After affliction and harsh labor,
Judah has gone into exile.[c]
She dwells among the nations;
she finds no resting place.
All who pursue her have overtaken her in the midst of her distress.

4The roads to Zion mourn,

1:1
[a] Isa 47:8
[b] Isa 3:26

1:3
[c] Jer 13:19

[a] This chapter is an acrostic poem, the verses of which begin with the successive letters of the Hebrew alphabet.

1:1 This is the prophet Jeremiah's song of sorrow for Jerusalem's destruction. The nation of Judah had been utterly defeated, the temple destroyed, and captives taken away to Babylon. Jeremiah's tears were for the suffering and humiliation of the people, but those tears penetrated even deeper into his heart. He wept because God had rejected the people for their rebellious ways. Each year this book was read aloud to remind all the Jews that their great city fell because of their stubborn sinfulness.

1:2 The term lovers refers to nations such as Egypt, to whom Judah kept turning for help. As the Babylonians closed in on Jerusalem the nation of Judah turned away from God and sought help and protection from other nations instead.

for no one comes to her appointed feasts.
All her gateways are desolate,
her priests groan,
her maidens grieve,
and she is in bitter anguish.[d]

1:4
[d] Joel 1:8-13

5 Her foes have become her masters;
her enemies are at ease.
The LORD has brought her grief
because of her many sins.
Her children have gone into exile,[e] captive before the foe.

1:5
[e] Jer 52:28-30

6 All the splendor has departed from the Daughter of Zion.[f]
Her princes are like deer that find no pasture;
in weakness they have fled before the pursuer.

1:6
[f] Jer 13:18

7 In the days of her affliction and wandering Jerusalem remembers all the treasures that were hers in days of old.
When her people fell into enemy hands,
there was no one to help her.[g]
Her enemies looked at her and laughed at her destruction.

1:7
[g] Jer 37:7

8 Jerusalem has sinned greatly and so has become unclean.
All who honored her despise her,
for they have seen her nakedness;[h]
she herself groans and turns away.

1:8
[h] Jer 13:22, 26

9 Her filthiness clung to her skirts;
she did not consider her future.[i]
Her fall was astounding;
there was none to comfort her.
"Look, O LORD, on my affliction, for the enemy has triumphed."

1:9
[i] Dt 32:28-29

10 The enemy laid hands on all her treasures;[j] she saw pagan nations enter her sanctuary[k]— those you had forbidden[l]
to enter your assembly.

1:10
[j] Isa 64:11
[k] Jer 51:51
[l] Dt 23:3

11 All her people groan
as they search for bread;[m] they barter their treasures for food
to keep themselves alive.
"Look, O LORD, and consider,
for I am despised."

1:11
[m] Jer 52:6

1:9 The warning was loud and clear: If Judah played with fire, its people would get burned. Jerusalem foolishly took a chance and lost, refusing to believe that immoral living brings God's punishment. The ultimate consequence of sin is punishment (Romans 6:23). We can choose to ignore God's warnings, but as surely as judgment came upon Jerusalem, so will it come upon those who defy God. Are you listening to God's Word? Are you obeying it? Obedience is a sure sign of your love for God.

12"Is it nothing to you, all you who pass by?[n]
Look around and see.
Is any suffering like my suffering that was inflicted on me, that the LORD brought on me in the day of his fierce anger?[o]

13"From on high he sent fire, sent it down into my bones.
He spread a net for my feet and turned me back.
He made me desolate,[p]
faint all the day long.

14"My sins have been bound into a yoke[b];[q]
by his hands they were woven together.
They have come upon my neck and the Lord has sapped my strength.
He has handed me over to those I cannot withstand.

15"The Lord has rejected
all the warriors in my midst;
he has summoned an army[r] against me
to[c] crush my young men.
In his winepress the Lord has trampled the Virgin Daughter of Judah.

16"This is why I weep and my eyes overflow with tears.[s]
No one is near to comfort me, no one to restore my spirit.
My children are destitute because the enemy has prevailed."[t]

17Zion stretches out her hands,[u] but there is no one to comfort her.
The LORD has decreed for Jacob that his neighbors become his foes; Jerusalem has become an unclean thing among them.

18"The LORD is righteous,
yet I rebelled[v] against his command.
Listen, all you peoples;
look upon my suffering.
My young men and maidens
have gone into exile.

19"I called to my allies
but they betrayed me.

1:12
[n] Jer 18:16
[o] Jer 30:24

1:13
[p] Jer 44:6

1:14
[q] Dt 28:48

1:15
[r] Isa 41:2

1:16
[s] La 2:11, 18
[t] Jer 13:17

1:17
[u] Jer 4:31

1:18
[v] 1Sa 12:14

[b] 14 Most Hebrew manuscripts; Septuagint He kept watch over my sins [c] 15 Or has set a time for me / when he will

1:14 At first, sin seems to offer freedom. But the liberty to do anything we want gradually becomes a desire to do everything. Then we become captive to sin, bound by its "yoke." Freedom from sin's captivity comes only from God. He gives us freedom, not to do anything we want, but to do what he knows is best for us. Strange as it may seem, true freedom comes in obeying God – following his guidance so that we can receive his best.

1:16 God is the comforter, but because of the people's sins, he had to turn away from them and become their judge.

1:19 Jerusalem's allies could not come to help because, like Jerusalem, they failed to seek God. Though these allies appeared strong, they were actually weak because God was not with them. Dependable assistance can come only from an ally whose power is from God. When you seek wise counsel, go to Christians who get their wisdom from the all-knowing God.

My priests and my elders perished[w] in the city while they searched for food
to keep themselves alive.

1:19
[w] La 2:20

20 "See, O LORD, how distressed[x] I am!
I am in torment[y] within,
and in my heart I am disturbed,
for I have been most rebellious.
Outside, the sword bereaves;
inside, there is only death.[z]

1:20
[x] Jer 4:19
[y] La 2:11
[z] Eze 7:15

21 "People have heard my groaning, but there is no one to comfort me.
All my enemies have heard of my distress;
they rejoice[a] at what you have done.
May you bring the day[b] you have announced
so they may become like me.

1:21
[a] La 2:15
[b] Jer 30:16

22 "Let all their wickedness come before you;
deal with them
as you have dealt with me
because of all my sins.
My groans are many
and my heart is faint."

2. God's anger at sin

2[d] How the Lord has covered the Daughter of Zion with the cloud of his anger[e]!
He has hurled down the splendor of Israel from heaven to earth;
he has not remembered his footstool[c]
in the day of his anger.

2:1
[c] Ps 99:5

2 Without pity the Lord has swallowed up all the dwellings of Jacob;
in his wrath he has torn down
the strongholds[d] of the Daughter of Judah.
He has brought her kingdom and its princes down to the ground[e] in dishonor.

2:2
[d] Ps 89:39-40
[e] Isa 25:12

3 In fierce anger he has cut off
every horn[f] of Israel.
He has withdrawn his right hand[f] at the approach of the enemy.
He has burned in Jacob like a flaming fire that consumes everything around it.

2:3
[f] Ps 74:11

4 Like an enemy he has strung his bow;[g]
his right hand is ready.
Like a foe he has slain
all who were pleasing to the eye;[h] he has poured out his wrath like fire

2:4
[g] La 3:12-13
[h] Eze 24:16, 25

[d] This chapter is an acrostic poem, the verses of which begin with the successive letters of the Hebrew alphabet.
[e] 1 Or How the Lord in his anger / has treated the Daughter of Zion with contempt [f] 3 Or / all the strength; or every king; horn here symbolizes strength.

1:22 Babylon, although sinful, was God's instrument for punishing Judah and its capital, Jerusalem. The people of Jerusalem were pleading for God to punish sinful Babylon as he had punished them ("deal with them as you have dealt with me"). God would do this, for he had already passed judgment on Babylon (see Jeremiah 50:1–27).

on the tent of the Daughter of Zion.

5The Lord is like an enemy;
he has swallowed up Israel.
He has swallowed up all her palaces and destroyed her strongholds.
He has multiplied mourning and lamentation for the Daughter of Judah.[i]

6He has laid waste his dwelling like a garden;
he has destroyed his place of meeting.[j]
The LORD has made Zion forget her appointed feasts and her Sabbaths;[k] in his fierce anger he has spurned both king and priest.

7The Lord has rejected his altar and abandoned his sanctuary.
He has handed over to the enemy
the walls of her palaces;[l]
they have raised a shout in the house of the LORD as on the day of an appointed feast.

8The LORD determined to tear down
the wall around the Daughter of Zion.
He stretched out a measuring line[m]
and did not withhold his hand from destroying.
He made ramparts and walls lament;
together they wasted away.

9Her gates have sunk into the ground;
their bars he has broken and destroyed.
Her king and her princes are exiled[n] among the nations,
the law is no more,
and her prophets no longer find visions from the LORD.

10The elders of the Daughter of Zion sit on the ground in silence;
they have sprinkled dust on their heads[o]
and put on sackcloth.
The young women of Jerusalem have bowed their heads to the ground.[p]

11My eyes fail from weeping,[q]
I am in torment within,

2:5 [i] Jer 9:17-20

2:6 [j] Jer 52:13 [k] Zep 3:18

2:7 [l] Jer 33:4-5

2:8 [m] 2Ki 21:13

2:9 [n] Dt 28:36

2:10 [o] Job 2:12 [p] Job 2:13; Isa 3:26

2:11 [q] La 3:48-51

2:6 King Solomon's temple (here called God's "dwelling" and "place of meeting") in Jerusalem represented God's presence with the people (1 Kings 8:1–11). The temple was the central place of worship. Its destruction symbolized God's rejection of his people – that he no longer lived among them.

2:7 Our place of worship is not as important to God as our pattern of worship. A church building may be beautiful, but if its people don't sincerely follow God, the church will decay from within. The people of Judah, despite their beautiful temple, had rejected in their daily lives what they proclaimed in their worship rituals. Thus their worship had turned into a mocking lie. When you worship, are you saying words you don't really mean? Do you pray for help you don't really believe will come? Do you express love for God you don't really have? Earnestly seek God and catch a fresh vision of his love and care. Then worship him wholeheartedly.

2:9 Four powerful symbols and sources of security were lost: the protection of the gates, the leadership of the king and princes, the guidance of the law, and the vision of the prophets. With those four factors present, the people were lulled into a false sense of security and felt comfortable with their sins. But after each was removed, the people were confronted with the choice of repenting and returning to God or continuing on this path of suffering. Don't substitute symbols, even good ones, for the reality of a living, personal relationship with God himself.

2:11 Jeremiah's tears were sincere and full of compassion. Sorrow does not mean that we lack faith or strength. There is nothing wrong with crying – Jesus himself felt sorrow and even wept (John 11:35). How do we react to the tearing down of our society and to moral degradation? This may not be as obvious as an invading enemy army, but the destruction is just as certain. We too should be deeply moved when we see the moral decay that surrounds us.

2:11 [r] Ps 22:14

my heart is poured out[r] on the ground
because my people are destroyed, because children and infants faint
in the streets of the city.

12 They say to their mothers,
"Where is bread and wine?"
as they faint like wounded men
in the streets of the city, as their lives ebb away
in their mothers' arms.

13 What can I say for you?
With what can I compare you,
O Daughter of Jerusalem?
To what can I liken you,
that I may comfort you,
O Virgin Daughter of Zion?
Your wound is as deep as the sea.[s]
Who can heal you?

2:13 [s] La 1:12

14 The visions of your prophets were false and worthless;
they did not expose your sin to ward off your captivity.
The oracles they gave you were false and misleading.

15 All who pass your way
clap their hands at you;[t] they scoff and shake their heads
at the Daughter of Jerusalem:
"Is this the city that was called the perfection of beauty,
the joy of the whole earth?"[u]

2:15 [t] Eze 25:6
[u] Ps 48:2

16 All your enemies open their mouths wide against you;[v]
they scoff and gnash their teeth and say, "We have swallowed her up.
This is the day we have waited for;
we have lived to see it."

2:16 [v] La 3:46

17 The LORD has done what he planned;
he has fulfilled his word,
which he decreed long ago.[w]
He has overthrown you without pity,
he has let the enemy gloat over you,
he has exalted the horn[g] of your foes.

2:17 [w] Dt 28:15-45

18 The hearts of the people cry out to the Lord.
O wall of the Daughter of Zion, let your tears[x] flow like a river

2:18 [x] La 1:16

[g] 17 Horn here symbolizes strength.

2:14 False prophets were everywhere in Jeremiah's day. They gave false and misleading "oracles" (messages to people from God). While Jeremiah warned the people of coming destruction and lengthy captivity, the false prophets said that all was well and so the people need not fear. All of Jeremiah's words came true because he was a true prophet of God (Jeremiah 14:14-16).

2:15 Clapping hands, scoffing, and shaking heads were all signs of derision and mockery. They were contemptuous gestures.

day and night;
give yourself no relief,
your eyes no rest.

19 Arise, cry out in the night,
as the watches of the night begin;
pour out your heart like water in the presence of the Lord.
Lift up your hands to him for the lives of your children, who faint[y] from hunger
at the head of every street.

2:19
[y] Isa 51:20

20 "Look, O LORD, and consider:
Whom have you ever treated like this?
Should women eat their offspring,[z]
the children they have cared for?
Should priest and prophet be killed in the sanctuary of the Lord?

2:20
[z] Jer 19:9

21 "Young and old lie together in the dust of the streets;
my young men and maidens
have fallen by the sword.[a]
You have slain them in the day of your anger;
you have slaughtered them without pity.

2:21
[a] 2Ch 36:17

22 "As you summon to a feast day, so you summoned against me terrors[b] on every side.
In the day of the LORD's anger no one escaped or survived;
those I cared for and reared,
my enemy has destroyed."

2:22
[b] Ps 31:13

3. Hope in the midst of affliction

3 [h] I am the man who has seen affliction by the rod of his wrath.
2 He has driven me away and made me walk in darkness rather than light;
3 indeed, he has turned his hand against me again and again, all day long.

[h] This chapter is an acrostic poem; the verses of each stanza begin with the successive letters of the Hebrew alphabet, and the verses within each stanza begin with the same letter.

2:19 Chapter 1 describes Jerusalem's desolation and calls for God's revenge on his enemies. Chapter 2 includes a call for God's people to pour out their hearts in the Lord's presence. The people must turn from their sins; they must sincerely mourn over their wrongs against God (3:40–42). The people had much to cry about. Because of their stubborn rebellion against God, they had brought great suffering to all, especially to the innocent. Was this suffering God's fault? No, it was the fault of the wayward people. Sinful people brought destruction on themselves, but tragically, sin's consequences affected everyone — good and evil alike.

2:19 The people's suffering and sin should have brought them to the Lord, weeping for forgiveness. Only when sin breaks our hearts can God come to our rescue. Just feeling sorry about experiencing sin's consequences does not bring forgiveness. But if we cry out to God, he will forgive us.

2:21, 22 This horrible scene could have been avoided. Jeremiah had warned the people for years that this day of destruction would come, and it broke his heart to see it fulfilled. We are always shocked when we hear of tragedy striking the innocent. But often innocent bystanders are victims of judgment on a nation. Sin has a way of causing great sorrow and devastation to many.

3:1ff In Jeremiah's darkest moment, his hope was strengthened with this assurance: God had been faithful and would continue to be faithful. Jeremiah saw both God's judgment and God's steadfast love. In the time of judgment, Jeremiah could still cling to God's love just as in times of prosperity he had warned of God's judgment.

3:1ff In the original Hebrew, the first four chapters in Lamentations are acrostic poems. Each verse in each chapter begins with a successive letter of the Hebrew alphabet. Chapter 3 has 66 verses rather than 22 because it is a triple acrostic: the first three verses begin with the equivalent of A, the next three with B, and so on (see the NIV text note). This was a typical form of Hebrew poetry. Other examples of acrostics are Psalms 37, 119, and 145, and Proverbs 31:10–31.

4He has made my skin and my flesh grow old and has broken my bones.[c] 5He has besieged me and surrounded me with bitterness and hardship.
6He has made me dwell in darkness like those long dead.[d]

7He has walled me in so I cannot escape;
he has weighed me down with chains.
8Even when I call out or cry for help,
he shuts out my prayer.[e] 9He has barred my way with blocks of stone;
he has made my paths crooked.

10Like a bear lying in wait,
like a lion in hiding,
11he dragged me from the path and mangled[f] me
and left me without help.
12He drew his bow
and made me the target[g] for his arrows.

13He pierced my heart with arrows from his quiver.
14I became the laughingstock[h] of all my people;
they mock me in song[i] all day long.
15He has filled me with bitter herbs and sated me with gall.[j]

16He has broken my teeth with gravel;[k]
he has trampled me in the dust.
17I have been deprived of peace;
I have forgotten what prosperity is.
18So I say, "My splendor is gone and all that I had hoped from the LORD."

19I remember my affliction and my wandering, the bitterness and the gall.
20I well remember them,
and my soul is downcast within me.
21Yet this I call to mind and therefore I have hope:

22Because of the LORD's great love we are not consumed, for his compassions never fail.
23They are new every morning;
great is your faithfulness.
24I say to myself, "The LORD is my portion;
therefore I will wait for him."

25The LORD is good to those whose hope is in him,
to the one who seeks him;
26it is good to wait quietly for the salvation of the LORD.[l]

3:4 [c] Ps 51:8; Isa 38:13
3:6 [d] Ps 88:5-6
3:8 [e] Job 30:20
3:11 [f] Hos 6:1
3:12 [g] Job 7:20
3:14 [h] Jer 20:7 [i] Job 30:9
3:15 [j] Jer 9:15
3:16 [k] Pr 20:17
3:26 [l] Ps 37:7

3:21, 22 Jeremiah saw one ray of hope in all the sin and sorrow surrounding him: "Because of the LORD's great love we are not consumed, for his compassions never fail." God willingly responds with help when we ask. Perhaps there is some sin in your life that you thought God would not forgive. God's steadfast love and mercy are greater than any sin, and he promises forgiveness.

3:23 Jeremiah knew from personal experience about God's faithfulness. God had promised that punishment would follow disobedience, and it did. But God also had promised future restoration and blessing, and Jeremiah knew that God would keep that promise also. Trusting in God's faithfulness day by day makes us confident in his great promises for the future.

27 It is good for a man to bear the yoke while he is young.

28 Let him sit alone in silence,[m]
for the LORD has laid it on him.
29 Let him bury his face in the dust—
there may yet be hope.
30 Let him offer his cheek to one who would strike him,[n] and let him be filled with disgrace.

31 For men are not cast off by the Lord forever.[o]
32 Though he brings grief, he will show compassion, so great is his unfailing love.
33 For he does not willingly bring affliction or grief to the children of men.[p]

34 To crush underfoot
all prisoners in the land, 35 to deny a man his rights
before the Most High, 36 to deprive a man of justice—would not the Lord see such things?[q]

37 Who can speak and have it happen
if the Lord has not decreed it?[r] 38 Is it not from the mouth of the Most High that both calamities and good things come?[s] 39 Why should any living man complain when punished for his sins?[t]

40 Let us examine our ways and test them, and let us return to the LORD.[u] 41 Let us lift up our hearts and our hands to God in heaven, and say:
42 "We have sinned and rebelled[v]
and you have not forgiven.

43 "You have covered yourself with anger and pursued us;
you have slain without pity.
44 You have covered yourself with a cloud so that no prayer[w] can get through.
45 You have made us scum[x] and refuse
among the nations.

46 "All our enemies have opened their mouths wide against us.[y] 47 We have suffered terror and pitfalls, ruin and destruction.[z]"
48 Streams of tears flow from my eyes because my people are destroyed.

3:28 [m] Jer 15:17
3:30 [n] Isa 50:6
3:31 [o] Ps 94:14
3:33 [p] Eze 33:11
3:36 [q] Hab 1:13
3:37 [r] Ps 33:9-11
3:38 [s] Job 2:10
3:39 [t] Mic 7:9
3:40 [u] Ps 119:59
3:42 [v] Da 9:5
3:44 [w] ver 8
3:45 [x] 1Co 4:13
3:46 [y] La 2:16
3:47 [z] Isa 24:17-18

3:27–33 To "bear the yoke" means to willingly come under God's discipline and learn what he wants to teach. This involves several important factors: (1) silent reflection on what God wants, (2) repentant humility, (3) self-control in the face of adversity, and (4) confident patience, depending on the divine Teacher to bring about loving lessons in our lives. God has several long-term and short-term lessons for you right now. Are you doing your homework?

3:30 To "offer his cheek to one who would strike him" means to submit to physical abuse without defending yourself or fighting back. Jesus taught his followers to turn the other cheek (Matthew 5:39), and he exemplified this at the highest level just before his crucifixion (Matthew 27:27–31; Luke 22:64; John 18:22; 19:3).

3:39–42 Parents discipline children to produce right behavior. God disciplined Judah to produce right living and genuine worship. We must not complain about discipline but learn from it, trusting God and being willing to change. We must allow God's correction to bring about the kind of behavior in our lives that pleases him.

49My eyes will flow unceasingly, without relief,[a] 50until the LORD looks down from heaven and sees.[b] 51What I see brings grief to my soul because of all the women of my city.

52Those who were my enemies without cause hunted me like a bird.[c] 53They tried to end my life in a pit[d]
and threw stones at me;
54the waters closed over my head,[e]
and I thought I was about to be cut off.

55I called on your name, O LORD, from the depths of the pit.[f] 56You heard my plea: "Do not close your ears to my cry for relief."
57You came near when I called you, and you said, "Do not fear."[g]

58O Lord, you took up my case;
you redeemed my life.
59You have seen, O LORD, the wrong done to me.
Uphold my cause!
60You have seen the depth of their vengeance, all their plots against me.[h]

61O LORD, you have heard their insults, all their plots against me—62what my enemies whisper and mutter against me all day long.
63Look at them! Sitting or standing, they mock me in their songs.

64Pay them back what they deserve, O LORD, for what their hands have done.[i] 65Put a veil over their hearts,[j] and may your curse be on them!
66Pursue them in anger and destroy them from under the heavens of the LORD.

3:49 [a] Jer 14:17
3:50 [b] Isa 63:15
3:52 [c] Ps 35:7
3:53 [d] Jer 37:16
3:54 [e] Ps 69:2
3:55 [f] Jnh 2:2
3:57 [g] Isa 41:10
3:60 [h] Jer 11:20
3:64 [i] Ps 28:4
3:65 [j] Isa 6:10

4. God's anger is satisfied

4[i] How the gold has lost its luster, the fine gold become dull!
The sacred gems are scattered
at the head of every street.

2How the precious sons of Zion,

[i] This chapter is an acrostic poem, the verses of which begin with the successive letters of the Hebrew alphabet.

3:52–57 At one point in his ministry, Jeremiah was thrown into an empty cistern, and he was left to die in the mire at the bottom (Jeremiah 38:6–13). But God rescued him. Jeremiah used this experience as a picture of the nation sinking into sin. If they turned to God, he would rescue them.

4:1ff This chapter contrasts the situation before the siege of Jerusalem with the situation after the siege. The sights and sounds of prosperity were gone because of the people's sin. This chapter warns us not to assume that when life is going well, it will always stay that way. We must be careful not to glory in our prosperity and fall into spiritual bankruptcy.

4:1–10 When a city was under siege, the city wall—built for protection—sealed the people inside. They could not get out to the fields to get food and water because the enemy was camped around the city. As food in the city ran out, the people watched their enemies harvest and eat the food in the fields. The siege was a test of wills to see which army could outlast the other. Jerusalem was under siege for two years. Life became so harsh that people even ate their own children, and dead bodies were left to rot in the streets. All hope was gone.

once worth their weight in gold, are now considered as pots of clay,
the work of a potter's hands!

3Even jackals offer their breasts to nurse their young, but my people have become heartless like ostriches in the desert.

4Because of thirst the infant's tongue sticks to the roof of its mouth;
the children beg for bread,
but no one gives it to them.[k]

4:4
[k] La 2:11, 12

5Those who once ate delicacies are destitute in the streets.
Those nurtured in purple
now lie on ash heaps.

6The punishment of my people is greater than that of Sodom,[l] which was overthrown in a moment without a hand turned to help her.

4:6
[l] Ge 19:25

7Their princes were brighter than snow and whiter than milk,
their bodies more ruddy than rubies,
their appearance like sapphires.[j]

8But now they are blacker than soot;
they are not recognized in the streets.
Their skin has shriveled on their bones;[m] it has become as dry as a stick.

4:8
[m] Ps 102:3-5

9Those killed by the sword are better off than those who die of famine;
racked with hunger, they waste away for lack of food from the field.

10With their own hands compassionate women have cooked their own children,[n] who became their food
when my people were destroyed.

4:10
[n] Dt 28:53-57; La 2:20

11The LORD has given full vent to his wrath;
he has poured out his fierce anger.
He kindled a fire in Zion that consumed her foundations.[o]

4:11
[o] Dt 32:22; Jer 7:20

12The kings of the earth did not believe,
nor did any of the world's people, that enemies and foes could enter the gates of Jerusalem.

13But it happened because of the sins of her prophets

[j] 7 Or lapis lazuli

4:6 Sodom, destroyed by burning sulfur from heaven because of its wickedness (Genesis 18:20—19:29), became a symbol of God's ultimate judgment. Yet the sin of Jerusalem was even greater than the sin of Sodom!

4:13–15 To be defiled or unclean meant to be unfit to enter the temple or to worship before God. The priests and prophets should have been the most careful to maintain ceremonial purity so that they could continue to perform their duties before God. But many priests and prophets did evil and were defiled. As the nation's leaders, their example led the people into sin and caused the ultimate downfall of the nation and its capital city, Jerusalem.

and the iniquities of her priests,[p] who shed within her the blood of the righteous.

14 Now they grope through the streets like men who are blind.
They are so defiled with blood[q]
that no one dares to touch their garments.

15 "Go away! You are unclean!" men cry to them.
"Away! Away! Don't touch us!"
When they flee and wander about,
people among the nations say,
"They can stay here no longer."[r]

16 The LORD himself has scattered them;
he no longer watches over them.
The priests are shown no honor,
the elders no favor.

17 Moreover, our eyes failed, looking in vain for help;
from our towers we watched for a nation[s] that could not save us.

18 Men stalked us at every step,
so we could not walk in our streets.
Our end was near, our days were numbered,
for our end had come.[t]

19 Our pursuers were swifter than eagles in the sky;
they chased us over the mountains and lay in wait for us in the desert.

20 The LORD's anointed,[u] our very life breath, was caught in their traps.
We thought that under his shadow
we would live among the nations.

21 Rejoice and be glad, O Daughter of Edom, you who live in the land of Uz.
But to you also the cup will be passed;
you will be drunk and stripped naked.

22 O Daughter of Zion, your punishment will end;[v]
he will not prolong your exile.
But, O Daughter of Edom, he will punish your sin and expose your wickedness.

4:13 [p] Jer 6:13; Eze 22:26

4:14 [q] Jer 19:4

4:15 [r] Lev 13:46

4:17 [s] Jer 37:7

4:18 [t] Eze 7:2-12

4:20 [u] 2Sa 19:21

4:22 [v] Isa 40:2

4:17 Judah asked Egypt to help them fight the Babylonian army. Egypt gave Judah false hope – they started to help, but then retreated (Jeremiah 37:5–7). Jeremiah warned Judah not to ally itself with Egypt. He told the leaders to rely on God, but they refused to listen.

4:20 King Zedekiah, although called "the LORD's anointed," had little spiritual depth and leadership power. Instead of putting his faith in God and listening to God's true prophet, Jeremiah, he listened to the false prophets. To make matters worse, the people chose to follow and trust in their king (2 Chronicles 36:11–23). They chose the path of false confidence and complacency, wanting to feel secure rather than to follow the directives God was giving his people through Jeremiah. But the object of their confidence – King Zedekiah – was captured.

4:21, 22 Edom was Judah's archenemy, even though they had a common ancestor, Isaac (see Genesis 25:19–26; 36:1). Edom had actively aided Babylon in the siege of Jerusalem. As a reward, Nebuchadnezzar gave the outlying lands of Judah to Edom. Jeremiah said that Edom would be judged for her treachery against her brothers. (See also Jeremiah 49:7–22; Ezekiel 25:12–14; Amos 9:12; Obadiah 1–21.)

5. Jeremiah pleads for restoration

5 Remember, O LORD, what has happened to us;
look, and see our disgrace.[w] 2Our inheritance has been turned over to aliens, our homes to foreigners.
3We have become orphans and fatherless, our mothers like widows.[x] 4We must buy the water we drink;
our wood can be had only at a price.
5Those who pursue us are at our heels;
we are weary[y] and find no rest.
6We submitted to Egypt and Assyria to get enough bread.
7Our fathers sinned and are no more,
and we bear their punishment.[z] 8Slaves rule over us, and there is none to free us from their hands.[a] 9We get our bread at the risk of our lives because of the sword in the desert.
10Our skin is hot as an oven, feverish from hunger.
11Women have been ravished[b] in Zion, and virgins in the towns of Judah.
12Princes have been hung up by their hands;
elders are shown no respect.
13Young men toil at the millstones;
boys stagger under loads of wood.
14The elders are gone from the city gate;
the young men have stopped their music.[c] 15Joy is gone from our hearts;
our dancing has turned to mourning.
16The crown[d] has fallen from our head.
Woe to us, for we have sinned!
17Because of this our hearts[e] are faint, because of these things our eyes grow dim 18for Mount Zion, which lies desolate, with jackals prowling over it.

19You, O LORD, reign forever;
your throne endures[f] from generation to generation.
20Why do you always forget us?[g]
Why do you forsake us so long?
21Restore us to yourself, O LORD, that we may return;
renew our days as of old 22unless you have utterly rejected us and are angry with us beyond measure.

5:1 [w] Ps 44:13-16
5:3 [x] Jer 15:8
5:5 [y] Ne 9:37
5:7 [z] Jer 14:20
5:8 [a] Zec 11:6
5:11 [b] Zec 14:2
5:14 [c] Jer 7:34
5:16 [d] Ps 89:39
5:17 [e] Isa 1:5
5:19 [f] Ps 45:6
5:20 [g] Ps 13:1

5:1ff After expressing the full extent of his or her grief, the true believer should turn to God in prayer. Here Jeremiah prayed for mercy for his people. At the end of his prayer he wondered if God was "angry with us beyond measure." But God would not stay angry with them forever – as it says in Micah 7:18, "You do not stay angry forever but delight to show mercy."

5:14 During peace and prosperity, the leaders and elders of the city would sit at the city gate and talk over politics, theology, and philosophy, and conduct business.

5:22 A high calling flouted by low living results in deep suffering. Lamentations gives us a portrait of the bitter suffering the people of Jerusalem experienced when sin caught up with them and God turned his back on them. Every material goal they had lived for collapsed. But although God turned away from them because of their sin, he did not abandon them – that was their great hope. Despite their sinful past, God would restore them if they returned to him. Hope is found only in the Lord. Thus our grief should turn us toward him, not away from him.

Jeremiah becomes a prophet to Judah 627 B.C.	Daniel taken captive to Babylon 605	Ezekiel taken captive to Babylon 597	Ezekiel becomes a prophet to exiles 593	Judah falls; Jerusalem destroyed 586	Ezekiel's ministry ends 571	Babylon overthrown by Cyrus 539	First exiles return to Judah 538

A computer can be programmed to respond at your command. And by conditioning a dog with rewards and punishments, you can teach it to obey. But as every parent knows, children are not so easily taught. People have wills and must choose to submit, to follow the instructions of their parents and leaders. Surely discipline is part of the process—boys and girls should know the consequences of disobedience—but there is a choice to be made. They are not machines or animals.

God's children must learn to obey their heavenly Father. Created in his image, they have a choice, and God allows them to choose.

Ezekiel was a man who chose to obey God. Although he was a priest (1:3), he served as a Jewish "street preacher" in Babylon for 22 years, telling everyone about God's judgment and salvation, and calling them to repent and obey. And Ezekiel lived what he preached. During his ministry God told him to illustrate his messages with dramatic object lessons. Some of these acts included (1) lying on his side for 390 days during which he could eat only one eight-ounce meal a day cooked over manure, (2) shaving his head and beard, and (3) showing no sorrow when his wife died. He obeyed and faithfully proclaimed God's word.

God may not ask you to do anything quite so dramatic or difficult; but if he did, would you do it?

The book of Ezekiel chronicles the prophet's life and ministry. Beginning with his call as a prophet and commissioning as a "watchman for the house of Israel" (chapters 1—3), Ezekiel immediately began to preach and demonstrate God's truth, as he predicted the approaching siege and destruction of Jerusalem (chapters 4—24). This devastation would be God's judgment for the people's idolatry. Ezekiel challenged them to turn from their wicked ways. In the next section, he spoke to the surrounding nations, prophesying that God would judge them for their sins as well (chapters 25—32). The book concludes with a message of hope, as Ezekiel proclaimed the faithfulness of God and foretold the future blessings for God's people (chapters 33—48).

As you read this exciting record, watch Ezekiel fearlessly preach the word of God to the exiled Jews in the streets of Babylon and hear the timeless truth of God's love and power. Think about each person's responsibility to trust God, and about the inevitability of God's judgment against idolatry, rebellion, and indifference. Then commit yourself to obey God, whatever, wherever, and whenever he asks.

VITAL STATISTICS

PURPOSE:
To announce God's judgment on Israel and other nations and to foretell the eventual salvation of God's people

AUTHOR:
Ezekiel—the son of Buzi, a Zadokite priest

TO WHOM WRITTEN:
The Jews in captivity in Babylonia, and God's people everywhere

DATE WRITTEN:
Approximately 571 B.C.

SETTING:
Ezekiel was a younger contemporary of Jeremiah. While Jeremiah ministered to the people still in Judah, Ezekiel prophesied to those already exiled in Babylonia after the defeat of Jehoiachin. He was taken there in 597 B.C.

KEY VERSES:
"For I will take you out of the nations; I will gather you from all the countries and bring you back into your own land. I will sprinkle clean water on you, and you will be clean; I will cleanse you from all your impurities and from all your idols. I will give you a new heart and put a new spirit in you; I will remove from you your heart of stone and give you a heart of flesh" (36:24–26).

KEY PEOPLE:
Ezekiel, Israel's leaders, Ezekiel's wife, Nebuchadnezzar, "the prince"

KEY PLACES:
Jerusalem, Babylon, and Egypt

THE BLUEPRINT

A. MESSAGES OF DOOM (1:1—24:27)
   1. Ezekiel's call and commission
   2. Visions of sin and judgment
   3. Punishment is certain

While Jeremiah was prophesying in Jerusalem that the city would soon fall to the Babylonians, Ezekiel was giving the same message to the captives who were already in Babylon. Like those in Jerusalem, the captives stubbornly believed that Jerusalem would not fall and that they would soon return to their land. Ezekiel warned them that punishment was certain because of their sins and that God was purifying his people. God will always punish sin, whether we believe it or not.

B. MESSAGES AGAINST FOREIGN NATIONS (25:1—32:32)	Ezekiel condemns the sinful actions of seven nations. The people in these nations were saying that God was obviously too weak to defend his people and the city of Jerusalem. But God was allowing his people to be defeated in order to punish them for their sins. These pagan nations, however, would face a similar fate, and then they would know that God is all-powerful. Those who dare to mock God today will also face a terrible fate.
C. MESSAGES OF HOPE (33:1—48:35) 1. Restoring the people of God 2. Restoring the worship of God	After the fall of Jerusalem, Ezekiel delivered messages of future restoration and hope for the people. God is holy, but Jerusalem and the temple had become defiled. The nation had to be cleansed through 70 years of captivity. Ezekiel gives a vivid picture of the unchangeable holiness of God. We too must gain a vision of the glory of God, a fresh sense of his greatness, as we face the struggles of daily life.

MEGATHEMES

THEME	EXPLANATION	IMPORTANCE
God's holiness	Ezekiel saw a vision that revealed God's absolute moral perfection. God was spiritually and morally superior to members of Israel's corrupt and compromising society. Ezekiel wrote to let the people know that God was also present in Babylon, not just in Jerusalem.	Because God is morally perfect, he can help us live above our tendency to compromise with this world. When we focus on his greatness, he gives us the power to overcome sin and to reflect his holiness.
Sin	Israel had sinned, and God's punishment came. The fall of Jerusalem and the Babylonian exile were used by God to correct the rebels and draw them back from their sinful way of life. Ezekiel warned them that not only was the nation responsible for sin, but each individual was also accountable to God.	We cannot excuse ourselves from our responsibilities before God. We are accountable to God for our choices. Rather than neglect him, we must recognize sin for what it is—rebellion against God—and choose to follow him instead.
Restoration	Ezekiel consoles the people by telling them that the day will come when God will restore those who turn from sin. God will be their King and Shepherd. He will give his people a new heart to worship him, and he will establish a new government and a new temple.	The certainty of future restoration encourages believers in times of trial. But we must be faithful to God because we love him, not merely for what he can do for us. Is our faith in him or merely in our future benefits?
Leaders	Ezekiel condemned the shepherds (unfaithful priests and leaders) who led the people astray. By contrast, he served as a caring shepherd and a faithful watchman to warn the people about their sin. One day God's perfect Shepherd, the Messiah, will lead his people.	Jesus is our perfect leader. If we truly want him to lead us, our devotion must be more than talk. If we are given the responsibility of leading others, we must take care of them even if it means sacrificing personal pleasure, happiness, time, or money. We are responsible for those we lead.
Worship	An angel gave Ezekiel a vision of the temple in great detail. God's holy presence had departed from Israel and the temple because of sin. The building of a future temple portrays the return of God's glory and presence. God will cleanse his people and restore true worship.	All of God's promises will be fulfilled under the rule of the Messiah. The faithful followers will be restored to perfect fellowship with God and with one another. To be prepared for this time, we must focus on God. We do this through regular worship. Through worship we learn about God's holiness and the changes we must make in how we live.

A. MESSAGES OF DOOM (1:1—24:27)

Ezekiel prophesied to the exiles in Babylon. He had to dispel the false hope that Israel's captivity would be short, explain the reasons for the severe judgments on their nation, and bring a message of future hope. Although the people did not respond positively, they heard the messages and knew the truth. God's people were not without explanation and direction, and neither are we.

1. Ezekiel's call and commission

The Living Creatures and the Glory of the LORD

1:1
[a] Mt 3:16

1 In the[a] thirtieth year, in the fourth month on the fifth day, while I was among the exiles by the Kebar River, the heavens were opened[a] and I saw visions of God.

2On the fifth of the month—it was the fifth year of the exile of King Jehoiachin— 3the word of the LORD came to Ezekiel the priest, the son of Buzi,[b] by the Kebar River in the land of the Babylonians.[c] There the hand of the LORD was upon him.[b]

1:3
[b] 2Ki 3:15

4I looked, and I saw a windstorm coming out of the north—an immense cloud with flashing lightning and surrounded by brilliant light. The center of the fire

[a] 1 Or my, [b] 3 Or Ezekiel son of Buzi the priest [c] 3 Or Chaldeans

EZEKIEL served as a prophet to the exiles in Babylon from 593–571 B.C.

Climate of the times	• Ezekiel and his people are taken to Babylon as captives. • The Jews become foreigners in a strange land ruled by an authoritarian government.
Main message	Because of the people's sins, God allowed the nation of Judah to be destroyed. But there was still hope—God promised to restore the land to those who remained faithful to him.
Importance of message	God never forgets those who faithfully seek to obey him. They have a glorious future ahead.
Contemporary prophets	Daniel (605–536) Habakkuk (612–588) Jeremiah (627–586)

1:1 Ezekiel, born and raised in the land of Judah, was preparing to become a priest in God's temple when the Babylonians attacked in 597 B.C. and carried him away along with 10,000 other captives (2 Kings 24:10–14). The nation was on the brink of complete destruction. Four to five years later, when Ezekiel was 30 (the normal age for becoming a priest), God called him to be a prophet. During the first six years when Ezekiel ministered in Babylonia (1:3), Jeremiah was preaching to the Jews still in Judah, and Daniel was serving in Nebuchadnezzar's court. The Kebar River connected to the Euphrates in Babylonia and was the location of a Jewish settlement of exiles.

1:1 Why did the Jewish exiles in Babylonia need a prophet? God wanted Ezekiel to (1) help the exiles understand why they had been taken captive, (2) dispel the false hope that the captivity was going to be short, (3) bring a new message of hope, and (4) call the people to a new awareness of their dependence upon God.

1:1 God communicated to Ezekiel in visions. A vision is a miraculous revelation of God's truth. These visions seem strange to us because they are apocalyptic. This means that Ezekiel saw symbolic pictures that vividly conveyed an idea. Daniel and John were other Bible writers who used apocalyptic imagery. The people in exile had lost their perspective of God's purpose and presence, and Ezekiel came to them with a vision from God to show God's awesome glory and holiness and to warn the exiles of sin's consequences before it was too late.

1:1ff Ezekiel's latest dated message from God (29:17) was given in 571 B.C. He was taken captive during the second Babylonian invasion of Judah in 597 B.C. The Babylonians invaded Judah a third and final time in 586 B.C., completely destroying Jerusalem, burning the temple, and deporting the rest of the people (see 2 Kings 25). Ezekiel dates all his messages from the year he was taken captive (597). His first prophecy to the exiles occurred four to five years after he arrived in the land of Babylon (593 B.C.).

1:3 The name Ezekiel means "God is strong" or "God strengthens." In a very real sense, this sums up the basic message of the book—that in spite of the captivity, God's sovereign strength prevails, and he will judge his enemies and restore his true people.

1:4ff In this first vision, God called Ezekiel to be a prophet (see 2:5). Nothing in Ezekiel's previous experience had prepared him for such a display of God's glorious presence and power. The immense cloud flashed with lightning and was surrounded by a brilliant light. From the fire in the cloud came four living creatures. They showed Ezekiel that Jerusalem's coming destruction was God's punishment of Judah for its sins. (These living creatures are also seen in Revelation 4:6, 7.)

When Ezekiel received this vision, he was far away from the temple in Jerusalem, the physical symbol of God's presence. Through this vision, he learned that God is present everywhere and that God's activities in heaven are shaping the events on earth.

looked like glowing metal, 5and in the fire was what looked like four living creatures.[c] In appearance their form was that of a man, 6but each of them had four faces and four wings. 7Their legs were straight; their feet were like those of a calf and gleamed like burnished bronze.[d] 8Under their wings on their four sides they had the hands of a man.[e] All four of them had faces and wings, 9and their wings touched one another. Each one went straight ahead; they did not turn as they moved.

10Their faces looked like this: Each of the four had the face of a man, and on the right side each had the face of a lion, and on the left the face of an ox; each also had the face of an eagle.[f] 11Such were their faces. Their wings[g] were spread out upward; each had two wings, one touching the wing of another creature on either side, and two wings covering its body. 12Each one went straight ahead. Wherever the spirit would go, they would go, without turning as they went. 13The appearance of the living creatures was like burning coals of fire or like torches. Fire moved back and forth among the creatures; it was bright, and lightning[h] flashed out of it. 14The creatures sped back and forth like flashes of lightning.

15As I looked at the living creatures, I saw a wheel on the ground beside each creature with its four faces. 16This was the appearance and structure of the wheels: They sparkled like chrysolite, and all four looked alike. Each appeared to be made like a wheel intersecting a wheel. 17As they moved, they would go in any one of the four directions the creatures faced; the wheels did not turn about[d] as the creatures went. 18Their rims were high and awesome, and all four rims were full of eyes[i] all around.

19When the living creatures moved, the wheels beside them moved; and when the living creatures rose from the ground, the wheels also rose. 20Wherever the spirit would go, they would go,[j] and the wheels would rise along with them, because the spirit of the living creatures was in the wheels. 21When the creatures moved, they also moved; when the creatures stood still, they also stood still; and when the creatures rose from the ground, the wheels rose along with them, because the spirit of the living creatures was in the wheels.

22Spread out above the heads of the living creatures was what looked like an expanse,[k] sparkling like ice, and awesome. 23Under the expanse their wings were stretched out one toward the other, and each had two wings covering its body. 24When the creatures moved, I heard the sound of their wings, like the roar of rushing waters, like the voice[l] of the Almighty,[e] like the tumult of an army. When they stood still, they lowered their wings.

[d] 17 Or aside [e] 24 Hebrew Shaddai

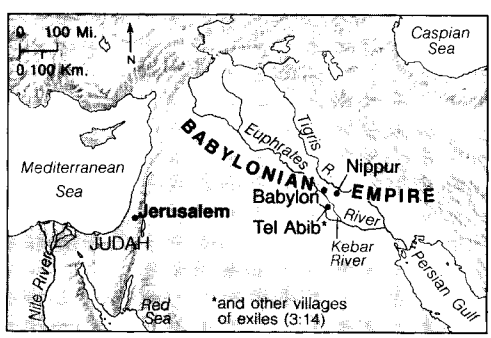
1:5 [c] Rev 4:6
1:7 [d] Rev 1:15
1:8 [e] Eze 10:8
1:10 [f] Rev 4:7
1:11 [g] Isa 6:2
1:13 [h] Rev 4:5
1:18 [i] Rev 4:6
1:20 [j] ver 12
1:22 [k] Eze 10:1
1:24 [l] Eze 10:5; 43:2; Rev 1:15

1:5 Each of the four living creatures had four faces, symbolizing God's perfect nature. Some believe that the lion represented strength; the ox, diligent service; the man, intelligence; and the eagle, divinity. Others see these as the most majestic of God's creatures and say that they therefore represent God's whole creation. The early church fathers saw a connection between these beings and the four Gospels: the lion with Matthew, presenting Christ as the Lion of Judah; the ox with Mark, portraying Christ as the Servant; the human with Luke, portraying Christ as the perfect human; the eagle with John, portraying Christ as the Son of God, exalted and divine. The vision of John in Revelation 4 parallels Ezekiel's vision.

1:16–18 The "wheel intersecting a wheel" was probably two wheels at right angles to each other, one on a north-south and the other on an east-west axis. Able to move anywhere, these wheels show that God is present everywhere and is able to see all things (1:18). God is not restricted to Jerusalem, but rules all of life and history. Though the exiles had experienced great change, God was still in control.



EXILE IN BABYLON Ezekiel worked for God right where he was—among the exiles in various colonies near the Kebar River in Babylonia. Jerusalem and its temple lay over 500 miles away, but Ezekiel helped the people understand that although they were far from home, they did not need to be far from God.

25Then there came a voice from above the expanse over their heads as they stood with lowered wings. 26Above the expanse over their heads was what looked like a throne of sapphire,[f m] and high above on the throne was a figure like that of a man. 27I saw that from what appeared to be his waist up he looked like glowing metal, as if full of fire, and that from there down he looked like fire; and brilliant light surrounded him. [n] 28Like the appearance of a rainbow[o] in the clouds on a rainy day, so was the radiance around him.[p]

This was the appearance of the likeness of the glory of the LORD. When I saw it, I fell facedown, and I heard the voice of one speaking.

Ezekiel's Call

2 He said to me, "Son of man, stand[q] up on your feet and I will speak to you." 2As he spoke, the Spirit came into me and raised me[r] to my feet, and I heard him speaking to me.

3He said: "Son of man, I am sending you to the Israelites, to a rebellious nation that has rebelled against me; they and their fathers have been in revolt against me to this very day.[s] 4The people to whom I am sending you are obstinate and stubborn.[t] Say to them, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says.' 5And whether they listen or fail to listen[u]—for they are a rebellious house[v]—they will know that a prophet has been among them.[w] 6And you, son of man, do not be afraid of them or their words. Do not be afraid, though briers and thorns[x] are all around you and you live among scorpions. Do not be afraid of what they say or terrified by them, though they are a rebellious house. 7You must speak my words to them, whether they listen or fail to listen, for they are rebellious.[y] 8But you, son of man, listen to what I say to you. Do not rebel like that rebellious house; open your mouth and eat[z] what I give you."

1:26 m Ex 24:10
1:27 n Eze 8:2
1:28 o Rev 10:1 p Rev 4:2
2:1 q Da 10:11
2:2 r Eze 3:24
2:3 s Jer 3:25; Eze 20:8-24
2:4 t Eze 3:7
2:5 u Eze 3:11 v Eze 3:27 w Eze 33:33
2:6 x Mic 7:4
2:7 y Jer 1:7
2:8 z Rev 10:9

f 26 Or lapis lazuli

1:26 This "figure like that of a man" revealed God's holiness and prepared Ezekiel for what God was about to tell him. The figure represented God himself on the throne. In a similar way, Christ revealed God in human form and prepared us for his message of salvation. Christ came into history in a real, human body.

1:27, 28 The glory of the Lord appeared like fire and brilliant light to Ezekiel. Ezekiel fell facedown, overwhelmed by the contrast between God's holiness and his own sinfulness and insignificance. Eventually every person will fall before God, either out of reverence and awe for his mercy or out of fear of his judgment. Based on the way you are living today, how will you respond to God's holiness?

1:27, 28 The four living creatures and the four wheels are powerful pictures of judgment, yet the rainbow over the throne symbolizes God's never-ending faithfulness to his people. Just as God sent a rainbow to Noah to symbolize his promise never again to destroy the earth by a flood (Genesis 9:8–17), so this rainbow symbolizes God's promise to preserve those who remain faithful to him. The purpose of God's judgment is to correct us and, ultimately, to allow perfect peace and righteousness to reign on the earth forever.

2:1 The immortal God addressed Ezekiel by calling him son of man, emphasizing the distance between them. It is amazing that God chooses to work his divine will on earth through finite, imperfect beings. We are made from the dust of the ground, yet God chooses to place within us his life and breath and to ask us to serve him.

2:2 We can only imagine what it was like for Ezekiel to experience this vision. Certainly there was much he did not understand, but Ezekiel knew that each part had significance because it came from God. When God saw Ezekiel's open and obedient attitude, he filled him with his Spirit and gave him power for the job ahead. God doesn't expect us to understand everything about him, but to be willing and obedient servants, faithful to what we know is true and right.

2:3–5 The world of business defines success in terms of giving customers what they want. Ezekiel, however, was called to give God's message to the people, whether they would listen or not. The measure of Ezekiel's success would not be how well the people responded, but how well he obeyed God and thus fulfilled God's purpose for him. Isaiah and Jeremiah also prophesied with little positive response (see Isaiah 6:9–12; Jeremiah 1:17–19). God's truth does not depend on how people respond. God will not judge us for how well others respond to our faith, but for how faithful we have been. God always gives us the strength to accomplish what he asks us to do.

2:4, 5 God called the people "obstinate and stubborn" because they refused to admit their sin. Rebelliousness was the nation's primary characteristic at this time. Even when God pointed out their wrongdoing, the people ignored the truth. Is God pointing at some sin in your life? Don't be stubborn—confess your sin and begin to live for God. By obeying him now you will be ready for God's final review of your life (Matthew 25:31–46).

2:6–8 God gave Ezekiel the difficult responsibility of presenting his message to ungrateful and abusive people. Sometimes we must be an example to or share our faith with unkind people. The Lord told Ezekiel not to be afraid and rebel, but to speak his words, whether or not the people would listen. He also wants us to tell the Good News, whether it's convenient or not (2 Timothy 4:2).

2:6–10 Three times God told Ezekiel not to be afraid. When God's Spirit is within us, we can lay aside our fears of rejection or ridicule. God's strength is powerful enough to help us live for him even under the heaviest criticism.

9Then I looked, and I saw a hand[a] stretched out to me. In it was a scroll, 10which he unrolled before me. On both sides of it were written words of lament and mourning and woe.

3 And he said to me, "Son of man, eat what is before you, eat this scroll; then go and speak to the house of Israel." 2So I opened my mouth, and he gave me the scroll to eat.

3Then he said to me, "Son of man, eat this scroll I am giving you and fill your stomach with it." So I ate[b] it, and it tasted as sweet as honey[c] in my mouth.

4He then said to me: "Son of man, go now to the house of Israel and speak my words to them. 5You are not being sent to a people of obscure speech and difficult language, but to the house of Israel — 6not to many peoples of obscure speech and difficult language, whose words you cannot understand. Surely if I had sent you to them, they would have listened to you. 7But the house of Israel is not willing to listen to you because they are not willing to listen to me, for the whole house of Israel is hardened and obstinate. 8But I will make you as unyielding and hardened as they are. 9I will make your forehead like the hardest stone, harder than flint. Do not be afraid of them or terrified by them, though they are a rebellious house."

10And he said to me, "Son of man, listen carefully and take to heart all the words I speak to you. 11Go now to your countrymen in exile and speak to them. Say to them, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says,' whether they listen or fail to listen."

12Then the Spirit lifted me up,[d] and I heard behind me a loud rumbling sound — May the glory of the LORD be praised in his dwelling place! — 13the sound of the wings of the living creatures brushing against each other and the sound of the wheels beside them, a loud rumbling sound. 14The Spirit then lifted me up and took me away, and I went in bitterness and in the anger of my spirit, with the strong hand of the LORD upon me. 15I came to the exiles who lived at Tel Abib near the Kebar River. And there, where they were living, I sat among them for seven days — overwhelmed.

Warning to Israel

16At the end of seven days the word of the LORD came to me: 17"Son of man, I have made you a watchman[e] for the house of Israel; so hear the word I speak and give them warning from me. 18When I say to a wicked man, 'You will surely die,'

2:9 [a] Eze 8:3

3:3 [b] Jer 15:16 [c] Ps 19:10; Rev 10:9-10

3:12 [d] Eze 8:3

3:17 [e] Isa 52:8

2:9, 10 Ancient books were usually scrolls, one page (up to 30 feet long) rolled up simultaneously from both ends. Normally, scrolls had writing on only one side. But in this case, the warnings overflowed to the scroll's other side, showing the full measure of judgment about to descend on Judah.

3:1–3 In his vision, Ezekiel ate God's message and found this spiritual food not only good for him, but also sweet as honey (see Revelation 10:8–10 for a similar use of this image). If you "digest" God's Word, you will find that not only does it make you stronger in your faith, but its wisdom also sweetens your life. You need to feed yourself spiritually just as you do physically. This means doing more than simply giving God's message a casual glance. You must make digesting God's Word a regular part of your life.

3:10, 11 Ezekiel needed to take God's words to heart before preaching them to others. God's message must sink deep into your heart and show in your actions before you can effectively help others understand and apply the gospel.

3:14, 15 Ezekiel was bitter and angry, not at God, but at the sins and attitudes of the people. Ezekiel's extraordinary vision had ended, and he had to begin the tedious job of prophesying among his people, who cared little about God's messages. Before the exile, the people had heard Jeremiah, but they would not listen. Here Ezekiel had to give a similar message, and he expected to be rejected as well. But Ezekiel had the vision of the living creatures and the rumbling wheels on his side. He had nothing to fear because God was with him. Despite knowing the probable outcome, Ezekiel obeyed God.

As we grow, we will have times of great joy when we feel close to God, and times when sins, struggles, or everyday tasks overwhelm us. Like Ezekiel, we should obey God even when we don't feel like it. Don't let feelings hinder your obedience.

3:15 Ezekiel sat quietly among the people for seven days. This was the customary period of mourning for the dead (Genesis 50:10; 1 Samuel 31:13; Job 2:13). Ezekiel was mourning for those who were spiritually dead. Tel Abib was the location of the settlement of Jews who were exiled from Jerusalem.

3:17, 18 A watchman's job was to stand on the city wall and warn the people of approaching danger. Ezekiel's role was to be a spiritual watchman, warning the people of the judgment to come. Some think that "accountable for his blood" means that just as a watchman on the wall would pay with his life if he failed to warn the city of approaching enemies, Ezekiel would have been held accountable if he had refused to warn the people of coming judgment. Others believe this phrase simply means that God would hold Ezekiel responsible.

3:18–21 In these verses, God is not talking about loss of salvation but rather about physical death. If the people back in Judah continued in their sins, they and their land and cities would be destroyed by Nebuchadnezzar's armies. If, on the other hand, the people would turn to God, God would spare them. God would hold Ezekiel responsible for his fellow Jews if he failed to warn them of the consequences of their sins. All people are individually responsible to God, but believers have a special responsibility to warn unbelievers of the consequences of rejecting God. If we fail to do and you do not warn him or speak out to dissuade him from his evil ways in order to save his life, that wicked man will die for[g] his sin, and I will hold you accountable for his blood. 19But if you do warn the wicked man and he does not turn from his wickedness or from his evil ways, he will die for his sin; but you will have saved yourself.[f]

3:19 [f]Ac 20:26

20"Again, when a righteous man turns from his righteousness and does evil, and I put a stumbling block before him, he will die. Since you did not warn him, he will die for his sin. The righteous things he did will not be remembered, and I will hold you accountable for his blood.[g] 21But if you do warn the righteous man not to sin and he does not sin, he will surely live because he took warning, and you will have saved yourself."

3:20 [g]Eze 18:24

22The hand of the LORD was upon me there, and he said to me, "Get up and go[h]

3:22 [h]Ac 9:6

[g] 18 Or in; also in verses 19 and 20

Although Ezekiel's visions and prophecies were clear and vivid, very little is known about the prophet's personal life. He was among the thousands of young men deported from Judah to Babylon when King Jehoiakim surrendered. Until those tragic days, Ezekiel was being trained for the priesthood. But during the exile in Babylon, God called Ezekiel to be his prophet during one of Israel's darkest times.

Ezekiel experienced the same kind of shocking encounter with God that Isaiah had reported 150 years earlier. Like Isaiah, Ezekiel was never the same after his personal encounter with God. Although God's messages through both these prophets had many points in common, the conditions in which they lived were very different. Isaiah warned of the coming storm; Ezekiel spoke in the midst of the storm of national defeat that devastated his people. He announced that even Jerusalem would not escape destruction. In addition, during this time Ezekiel had to endure the pain of his wife's death.

God's description of Ezekiel as a watchman on the walls of the city captures the personal nature of his ministry. A watchman's job was dangerous. If he failed at his post, he and the entire city might be destroyed. His own safety depended on the quality of his work. The importance of each person's accountability before God was a central part of Ezekiel's message. He taught the exiles that God expected personal obedience and worship from each of them.

As in Ezekiel's day, it is easy for us today to forget that God has a personal interest in each one of us. We may feel insignificant or out of control when we look at world events. But knowing that God is ultimately in control, that he cares, and that he is willing to be known by us can bring a new sense of purpose to our lives. How do you measure your worth? Are you valuable because of your achievements and potential, or because God, your Creator and Designer, declares you valuable?

Strengths and accomplishments:
- Was a priest by training, a prophet by God's call
- Received vivid visions and delivered powerful messages
- Served as God's messenger during Israel's captivity in Babylon
- God shaped his character to fit his mission—a tough and courageous man to reach a hard and stubborn people (Ezekiel 3:8)

Lessons from his life:
- Even the repeated failures of his people will not prevent God's plan for the world from being fulfilled
- Each person's response to God determines his or her eternal destiny
- In seemingly hopeless situations God still has people through whom he can work

Vital statistics:
- Where: Babylon
- Occupation: Prophet to the captives in Babylon
- Relatives: Father: Buzi. Wife: Unknown
- Contemporaries: Jehoiachin, Jeremiah, Jehoiakim, Nebuchadnezzar

Key verses:
"And he said to me, 'Son of man, listen carefully and take to heart all the words I speak to you. Go now to your countrymen in exile and speak to them. Say to them, "This is what the Sovereign LORD says," whether they listen or fail to listen' " (Ezekiel 3:10, 11).

Ezekiel's story is told in the book of Ezekiel and 2 Kings 24:10–17.

this, God will hold us responsible for what happens to them. This should motivate us to begin sharing our faith with others – by both word and deed – and to avoid becoming callous or unconcerned in our attitude.

out to the plain, and there I will speak to you." 23So I got up and went out to the plain. And the glory of the LORD was standing there, like the glory I had seen by the Kebar River,[i] and I fell facedown.

24Then the Spirit came into me and raised me[j] to my feet. He spoke to me and said: "Go, shut yourself inside your house. 25And you, son of man, they will tie with ropes; you will be bound so that you cannot go out among the people.[k] 26I will make your tongue stick to the roof of your mouth so that you will be silent and unable to rebuke them, though they are a rebellious house.[l] 27But when I speak to you, I will open your mouth and you shall say to them, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says.' Whoever will listen let him listen, and whoever will refuse let him refuse; for they are a rebellious house.[m]

3:23 [i]Eze 1:1
3:24 [j]Eze 2:2
3:25 [k]Eze 4:8
3:26 [l]Eze 24:27
3:27 [m]Eze 24:27; 33:22

2. Visions of sin and judgment

Siege of Jerusalem Symbolized

4 "Now, son of man, take a clay tablet, put it in front of you and draw the city of Jerusalem on it. 2Then lay siege to it: Erect siege works against it, build a ramp up to it, set up camps against it and put battering rams around it. 3Then take an iron pan, place it as an iron wall between you and the city and turn your face toward it. It will be under siege, and you shall besiege it. This will be a sign[n] to the house of Israel.

4:3 [n]Eze 12:3-6

4"Then lie on your left side and put the sin of the house of Israel upon yourself.[h] You are to bear their sin for the number of days you lie on your side. 5I have assigned you the same number of days as the years of their sin. So for 390 days you will bear the sin of the house of Israel.

6"After you have finished this, lie down again, this time on your right side, and bear the sin of the house of Judah. I have assigned you 40 days, a day for each year. 7Turn your face toward the siege of Jerusalem and with bared arm prophesy against her. 8I will tie you up with ropes so that you cannot turn from one side to the other until you have finished the days of your siege.[o]

4:8 [o]Eze 3:25

9"Take wheat and barley, beans and lentils, millet and spelt; put them in a storage jar and use them to make bread for yourself. You are to eat it during the 390 days you lie on your side. 10Weigh out twenty shekels[i] of food to eat each day and eat it at set times. 11Also measure out a sixth of a hin[j] of water and drink it at set times. 12Eat the food as you would a barley cake; bake it in the sight of the people, using human excrement for fuel." 13The LORD said, "In this way the people of Israel will eat defiled food among the nations where I will drive them."[p]

4:13 [p]Hos 9:3

14Then I said, "Not so, Sovereign LORD! I have never defiled myself. From my

h 4 Or your side i 10 That is, about 8 ounces (about 0.2 kilogram) j 11 That is, about 2/3 quart (about 0.6 liter)

3:23 Ezekiel recognized his helplessness before God and fell facedown in his presence. Sometimes our prosperity, popularity, or physical strength blind us to our spiritual helplessness. But nothing we do on our own can accomplish much for God. Only when God is in control of our wills can we accomplish great tasks for him. The first step to being God's person is to admit that you need his help; then you can begin to see what God can really do in your life.

3:24–27 Ezekiel was allowed to speak only when God had a message for the people. Thus the people knew that whatever Ezekiel said was God's message. They did not have to wonder whether Ezekiel was speaking by God's authority or his own.

4:1ff Ezekiel acted out the coming siege and fall of Jerusalem before it actually happened. God gave Ezekiel specific instructions about what to do and say and how to do and say it. Each detail had a specific meaning. Often we ignore or disregard the smaller details of God's Word, thinking God probably doesn't care. Like Ezekiel, we should want to obey God completely, even in the details.

4:4–17 Ezekiel's unusual actions symbolically portrayed the fate of Jerusalem. He lay on his left side for 390 days to show that Israel would be punished for 390 years; then he lay on his right side for 40 days to show that Judah would be punished for 40 years. Ezekiel was not allowed to move, symbolizing the fact that the people of Jerusalem would be imprisoned within the walls of the city. We know that Ezekiel did not have to lie on his side all day because these verses tell of other tasks God asked him to do during this time. The small amount of food he was allowed to eat represented the normal ration provided to those living in a city under siege by enemy armies. The food that was to be cooked over human excrement was a symbol of Judah's spiritual uncleanness.

Certainly many people saw these spectacles and, in the process, heard Ezekiel's occasional speeches (3:27). How many of us would be willing to so dramatically portray the sins of our nation? We need to pray for greater boldness in our witness.

4:12–14 Ezekiel asked God not to make him use human excrement for fuel because it violated the laws for purity (Leviticus 21, 22; Deuteronomy 23:12–14). As a priest, Ezekiel would have been careful to keep all these laws. To use human excrement for fuel would paint a dramatic picture of ruin. If nothing was left in the city that could be burned, it would be impossible to continue to follow God's laws for sacrifices.

youth until now I have never eaten anything found dead or torn by wild animals. No unclean meat has ever entered my mouth."

15"Very well," he said, "I will let you bake your bread over cow manure instead of human excrement."

16He then said to me: "Son of man, I will cut off the supply of food in Jerusalem. The people will eat rationed food in anxiety and drink rationed water in despair,[q] 17for food and water will be scarce. They will be appalled at the sight of each other and will waste away because of[k] their sin.[r]

4:16 [q] ver 10-11; Lev 26:26; Isa 3:1; Eze 12:19

4:17 [r] Lev 26:39; Eze 24:23

5 "Now, son of man, take a sharp sword and use it as a barber's razor to shave[s] your head and your beard.[t] Then take a set of scales and divide up the hair. 2When the days of your siege come to an end, burn a third of the hair with fire inside the city. Take a third and strike it with the sword all around the city. And scatter a third to the wind. For I will pursue them with drawn sword. 3But take a few strands of hair and tuck them away in the folds of your garment. 4Again, take a few of these and throw them into the fire and burn them up. A fire will spread from there to the whole house of Israel.

5:1 [s] Eze 44:20 [t] Lev 21:5

5"This is what the Sovereign LORD says: This is Jerusalem, which I have set in the center of the nations, with countries all around her. 6Yet in her wickedness she has rebelled against my laws and decrees more than the nations and countries around her. She has rejected my laws and has not followed my decrees.[u]

5:6 [u] Zec 7:11

7"Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: You have been more unruly than the nations around you and have not followed my decrees or kept my laws. You have not even[l] conformed to the standards of the nations around you.[v]

5:7 [v] Eze 16:47

8"Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: I myself am against you, Jerusalem, and I will inflict punishment on you in the sight of the nations. 9Because of all your detestable idols, I will do to you what I have never done before and will never do again.[w] 10Therefore in your midst fathers will eat their children, and children will eat their fathers.[x] I will inflict punishment on you and will scatter all your

5:9 [w] Da 9:12

5:10 [x] Lev 26:29

[k] 17 Or away in [l] 7 Most Hebrew manuscripts; some Hebrew manuscripts and Syriac You have

EZEKIEL'S ACTS OF OBEDIENCE
	2:1	Stood and received God's message
	3:24–27	Shut himself inside his house
	3:27	Faithfully proclaimed God's message
	4:1ff	Drew the city of Jerusalem on a clay tablet
	4:4, 5	Lay on his left side for 390 days
	4:6	Lay on his right side for 40 days
	4:9–17	Followed specific cooking instructions
	5:1–4	Shaved his head and beard
	12:3–7	Left home to demonstrate exile
	13:1ff	Spoke against false prophets
	19:1ff	Sang a lament concerning the leaders
	21:2	Prophesied against Israel and the temple
	21:19–23	Marked out two roads for Babylon's king
	24:16, 17	Did not mourn his wife's death

5:1–10 Shaving one's head and beard signified mourning, humiliation, and repentance. God told Ezekiel to shave his head and beard and then to divide the hair into three parts, symbolizing what was going to happen to the people in Jerusalem (see 5:12). Along with verbal prophecies, God asked Ezekiel to use dramatic visual images to command the people's attention and to burn an indelible impression on their minds. Just as God gave Ezekiel creative ways to communicate his message to the exiles, we can creatively communicate the Good News about God to a lost generation.

5:3, 4 The few strands of hair Ezekiel put in his garment symbolized the small remnant of faithful people whom God would preserve. But even some from this remnant would be judged and destroyed because their faith was not genuine. Where will you stand in the coming judgment? Matthew 7:22, 23 warns that many who believe they are safe are not. Make sure your commitment is vital and heartfelt.

5:7 The people's wickedness was so great that they couldn't even keep the laws of the pagan nations around them, not to mention God's laws.

survivors to the winds.[y] 11Therefore as surely as I live, declares the Sovereign LORD, because you have defiled my sanctuary with all your vile images and detestable practices, I myself will withdraw my favor; I will not look on you with pity or spare you. 12A third of your people will die of the plague or perish by famine inside you; a third will fall by the sword outside your walls; and a third I will scatter to the winds and pursue with drawn sword.[z]

13"Then my anger will cease and my wrath against them will subside, and I will be avenged. And when I have spent my wrath upon them, they will know that I the LORD have spoken in my zeal.

14"I will make you a ruin and a reproach among the nations around you, in the sight of all who pass by.[a] 15You will be a reproach and a taunt, a warning and an object of horror to the nations around you when I inflict punishment on you in anger and in wrath and with stinging rebuke. I the LORD have spoken. 16When I shoot at you with my deadly and destructive arrows of famine, I will shoot to destroy you. I will bring more and more famine upon you and cut off your supply of food.[b] 17I will send famine and wild beasts against you, and they will leave you childless. Plague and bloodshed[c] will sweep through you, and I will bring the sword against you. I the LORD have spoken.[d]"

5:10 [y] Eze 12:14

5:12 [z] Eze 12:14

5:14 [a] Ne 2:17

5:16 [b] Dt 32:24

5:17 [c] Eze 38:22 [d] Eze 14:21

A Prophecy Against the Mountains of Israel

6 The word of the LORD came to me: 2"Son of man, set your face against the mountains of Israel; prophesy against them 3and say: 'O mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Sovereign LORD. This is what the Sovereign LORD says to the mountains and hills, to the ravines and valleys: I am about to bring a sword against you, and I will destroy your high places.[e] 4Your altars will be demolished and your incense altars will be smashed; and I will slay your people in front of your idols. 5I will lay the dead bodies of the Israelites in front of their idols, and I will scatter your bones[f] around your altars. 6Wherever you live, the towns will be laid waste and the high places demolished, so that your altars will be laid waste and devastated, your idols[g] smashed and ruined, your incense altars broken down, and what you have made wiped out. 7Your people will fall slain among you, and you will know that I am the LORD.

8" 'But I will spare some, for some of you will escape[h] the sword when you are scattered among the lands and nations.[i] 9Then in the nations where they have been carried captive, those who escape will remember me—how I have been grieved[j] by their adulterous hearts, which have turned away from me, and by their eyes, which have lusted after their idols. They will loathe themselves for the evil they have done and for all their detestable practices.[k] 10And they will know that I am the LORD; I did not threaten in vain to bring this calamity on them.

11" 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Strike your hands together and stamp

6:3 [e] Lev 26:30

6:5 [f] Jer 8:1-2

6:6 [g] Zec 13:2

6:8 [h] Jer 44:28 [i] Eze 14:22

6:9 [j] Isa 7:13 [k] Eze 20:43

5:11 It was a serious sin to defile the temple, God's sanctuary, by worshiping idols and practicing evil within its very walls. In the New Testament, we learn that God now makes his home within those who are his. Our bodies are God's temple (see 1 Corinthians 6:19). We defile God's temple today by allowing gossiping, bitterness, love of money, lying, or any other wrong actions or attitudes to be a part of our lives. By asking the Holy Spirit's help, we can keep from defiling his temple, our bodies.

5:13 Have you ever seen someone try to discipline a child by saying, "If you do that one more time . . ."? If the parent doesn't follow through, the child learns not to listen. Empty threats backfire. God was going to punish the Israelites for their blatant sins, and he wanted them to know that he would do what he said. The people learned the hard way that God always follows through on his word. Too many people ignore God's warnings, treating them as empty threats. But what God threatens, he does. Don't make the mistake of thinking God doesn't really mean what he says.

6:1ff This is the beginning of a two-part message. Remember that Ezekiel could speak only when giving messages from God. The message in chapter 6 is that Judah's idolatry will surely call down God's judgment. The message in chapter 7 describes the nature of that judgment—utter destruction of the nation. Nevertheless, God in his mercy saved a remnant. Ezekiel prophesies against the mountains of Israel because mountains were sites of the "high places" used to worship idols.

6:8–10 A ray of light appears in this prophecy of darkness—God would spare a remnant of people, but only after they had learned some hard lessons. God sometimes has to break a person in order to bring him or her to true repentance. The people needed new attitudes, but they wouldn't change until God broke their hearts with humiliation, pain, suffering, and defeat. Does your heart long for God enough to change those areas displeasing him? Or will God have to break your heart?

6:11 Prophets often used this threefold description of judgment upon Jerusalem—sword, famine, and plague—as a way of saying that the destruction would be complete. The sword meant death in battle; famine came when enemies besieged a city; plague was always a danger during famine. Don't make the mistake of underesti-your feet and cry out "Alas!" because of all the wicked and detestable practices of the house of Israel, for they will fall by the sword, famine and plague.[l] 12He that is far away will die of the plague, and he that is near will fall by the sword, and he that survives and is spared will die of famine. So will I spend my wrath upon them.[m] 13And they will know that I am the LORD, when their people lie slain among their idols around their altars, on every high hill and on all the mountaintops, under every spreading tree and every leafy oak — places where they offered fragrant incense to all their idols.[n] 14And I will stretch out my hand against them and make the land a desolate waste from the desert to Diblah[m] — wherever they live. Then they will know that I am the LORD.' "

6:11 [l] Eze 21:14, 17

6:12 [m] Eze 5:12

6:13 [n] Jer 2:20; Hos 4:13

The End Has Come

7 The word of the LORD came to me: 2"Son of man, this is what the Sovereign LORD says to the land of Israel: The end![o] The end has come upon the four corners of the land. 3The end is now upon you and I will unleash my anger against you. I will judge you according to your conduct and repay you for all your detestable practices. 4I will not look on you with pity[p] or spare you; I will surely repay you for your conduct and the detestable practices among you. Then you will know that I am the LORD.

7:2 [o] Am 8:2, 10

7:4 [p] Eze 5:11

5"This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Disaster![q] An unheard-of[n] disaster is coming. 6The end has come! The end has come! It has roused itself against you. It has come! 7Doom has come upon you — you who dwell in the land. The time has come, the day is near; there is panic, not joy, upon the mountains. 8I am about to pour out my wrath on you and spend my anger against you; I will judge you according to your conduct and repay you for all your detestable practices.[r] 9I will not look on you with pity or spare you; I will repay you in accordance with your conduct and the detestable practices among you. Then you will know that it is I the LORD who strikes the blow.

7:5 [q] 2Ki 21:12

7:8 [r] Eze 20:8, 21

10"The day is here! It has come! Doom has burst forth, the rod[s] has budded, arrogance has blossomed! 11Violence has grown into[o] a rod to punish wickedness; none of the people will be left, none of that crowd — no wealth, nothing of value.[t] 12The time has come, the day has arrived. Let not the buyer rejoice nor the seller grieve, for wrath is upon the whole crowd. 13The seller will not recover the land he has sold as long as both of them live, for the vision concerning the whole crowd will not be reversed. Because of their sins, not one of them will preserve his life. 14Though they blow the trumpet and get everything ready, no one will go into battle, for my wrath is upon the whole crowd.

7:10 [s] Isa 10:5

7:11 [t] Jer 16:6

15"Outside is the sword, inside are plague and famine; those in the country will die by the sword, and those in the city will be devoured by famine and plague.[u] 16All who survive and escape will be in the mountains, moaning like doves of the valleys, each because of his sins.[v] 17Every hand will go limp, and every knee will become as weak as water. 18They will put on sackcloth and be clothed with terror.

7:15 [u] Dt 32:25

7:16 [v] Eze 6:8

[m] 14 Most Hebrew manuscripts; a few Hebrew manuscripts Riblah [n] 5 Most Hebrew manuscripts; some Hebrew manuscripts and Syriac Disaster after [o] 11 Or The violent one has become mating the extent of God's judgment. If you ignore the Biblical warnings and turn away from God, God's punishment awaits you.

---

6:14 The phrase "then they will know that I am the LORD" (or a variation on this phrase) occurs 65 times in the book of Ezekiel. The purpose of all God's punishment was not to take revenge, but to impress upon the people the truth that the Lord is the only true and living God. People in Ezekiel's day were worshiping man-made idols and calling them gods. Today money, sex, and power have become idols for many. Punishment will come upon all who put other things ahead of God. It is easy to forget that the Lord alone is God, the supreme authority and the only source of eternal love and life. Remember that God may use the difficulties of your life to teach you that he alone is God.

7:10, 11 In chapter 7, Ezekiel predicts the complete destruction of Judah. The wicked and proud will finally get what they deserve. If it seems as though God ignores the evil and proud people of our day, be assured that a day of judgment will come, just as it came for the people of Judah. God is waiting patiently for sinners to repent (see 2 Peter 3:9), but when his judgment comes, "none of the people will be left." What you decide about God now will determine your fate then.

7:12, 13 The nation of Judah trusted in its prosperity and possessions instead of in God. So God planned to destroy the basis of its prosperity. Whenever we begin to trust in jobs, the economy, a political system, or military might for our security, we put God in the back seat.

Their faces will be covered with shame and their heads will be shaved.[w] 19They will throw their silver into the streets, and their gold will be an unclean thing. Their silver and gold will not be able to save them in the day of the LORD's wrath.[x] They will not satisfy their hunger or fill their stomachs with it, for it has made them stumble into sin.[y] 20They were proud of their beautiful jewelry and used it to make their detestable idols and vile images. Therefore I will turn these into an unclean thing for them. 21I will hand it all over as plunder to foreigners and as loot to the wicked of the earth, and they will defile it. 22I will turn my face away from them, and they will desecrate my treasured place; robbers will enter it and desecrate it.

23"Prepare chains, because the land is full of bloodshed[z] and the city is full of violence. 24I will bring the most wicked of the nations to take possession of their houses; I will put an end to the pride of the mighty, and their sanctuaries[a] will be desecrated. 25When terror comes, they will seek peace, but there will be none. 26Calamity upon calamity will come, and rumor upon rumor. They will try to get a vision from the prophet; the teaching of the law by the priest will be lost, as will the counsel of the elders. 27The king will mourn, the prince will be clothed with despair,[b] and the hands of the people of the land will tremble. I will deal with them according to their conduct, and by their own standards I will judge them. Then they will know that I am the LORD."

7:18
[w] Isa 15:2-3; Am 8:10

7:19
[x] Zep 1:7, 18
[y] Pr 11:4

7:23
[z] 2Ki 21:16

7:24
[a] Eze 24:21

7:27
[b] Eze 26:16

Idolatry in the Temple

8 In the sixth year, in the sixth month on the fifth day, while I was sitting in my house and the elders[c] of Judah were sitting before me, the hand of the Sovereign LORD came upon me there. 2I looked, and I saw a figure like that of a man.[p] From what appeared to be his waist down he was like fire, and from there up his appearance was as bright as glowing metal.[d] 3He stretched out what looked like a hand and took me by the hair of my head. The Spirit lifted me up[e] between earth and heaven and in visions of God he took me to Jerusalem, to the entrance to the north gate of the inner court, where the idol that provokes to jealousy stood. 4And there before me was the glory of the God of Israel, as in the vision I had seen in the plain.

5Then he said to me, "Son of man, look toward the north." So I looked, and in the entrance north of the gate of the altar I saw this idol of jealousy.

6And he said to me, "Son of man, do you see what they are doing—the utterly detestable things the house of Israel is doing here, things that will drive me far from my sanctuary? But you will see things that are even more detestable."

7Then he brought me to the entrance to the court. I looked, and I saw a hole in

8:1
[c] Eze 14:1

8:2
[d] Eze 1:4, 26-27

8:3
[e] Eze 11:1

[p] 2 Or saw a fiery figure

7:19 God's people had allowed their love of money to lead them into sin. And for this, God would destroy them. Money has a strange power to lead people into sin. Paul said that "the love of money is a root of all kinds of evil" (1 Timothy 6:10). It is ironic that we use money—a gift of God—to buy things that separate us from him. It is tragic that we spend so much money seeking to satisfy ourselves, and so little time seeking God, the true source of satisfaction.

7:20 God gave the people silver and gold, but they used that silver and gold to make idols. The resources God gives us should be used to do his work and carry out his will, but too often we use them to satisfy our own desires. When we abuse God's gifts or use resources selfishly, we miss the real purpose God had in mind. This is as shortsighted as idolatry.

7:24 The people of Jerusalem took great pride in their buildings. The temple itself was a source of pride (see 24:20, 21). This pride would be crushed when the evil and godless Babylonians destroyed Jerusalem's houses and holy places. If you are going through a humiliating experience, God may be using that experience to weed out pride in your life.

8:1ff This prophecy's date corresponds to 592 B.C. The message of chapters 8–11 is directed specifically toward Jerusalem and its leaders. Chapter 8 records Ezekiel being taken in a vision from Babylon to the temple in Jerusalem to see the great wickedness being practiced there. The people and their religious leaders were thoroughly corrupt. While Ezekiel's first vision (chapters 1–3) showed that judgment was from God, this vision showed that their sin was the reason for judgment.

8:2 This person could have been an angel or a manifestation of God himself. In Ezekiel's previous vision, a man with a similar appearance was pictured as God on his throne (1:26–28).

8:3–5 This "idol that provokes to jealousy" could be an image of Asherah, the Canaanite goddess of fertility, whose character encouraged sexual immorality and self-gratification. King Manasseh had placed such an idol in the temple (2 Kings 21:7). King Josiah had burned the Asherah pole (2 Kings 23:6), but there were certainly many other idols around.

8:6ff In scene after scene, God revealed to Ezekiel the extent to which the people had embraced idolatry and wickedness. God's Spirit works within us in a similar way, revealing sin that lurks in our lives. How comfortable would you feel if God held an open house in your life today?

the wall. 8He said to me, "Son of man, now dig into the wall." So I dug into the wall and saw a doorway there.

9And he said to me, "Go in and see the wicked and detestable things they are doing here." 10So I went in and looked, and I saw portrayed all over the walls all kinds of crawling things and detestable animals and all the idols of the house of Israel. 11In front of them stood seventy elders of the house of Israel, and Jaazaniah son of Shaphan was standing among them. Each had a censer in his hand, and a fragrant cloud of incense was rising.

12He said to me, "Son of man, have you seen what the elders of the house of Israel are doing in the darkness, each at the shrine of his own idol? They say, 'The LORD does not see[f] us; the LORD has forsaken the land.' " 13Again, he said, "You will see them doing things that are even more detestable."

8:12 [f]Eze 9:9

14Then he brought me to the entrance to the north gate of the house of the LORD, and I saw women sitting there, mourning for Tammuz. 15He said to me, "Do you see this, son of man? You will see things that are even more detestable than this."

16He then brought me into the inner court of the house of the LORD, and there at the entrance to the temple, between the portico and the altar, were about twenty-five men. With their backs toward the temple of the LORD and their faces toward the east, they were bowing down to the sun in the east.[g]

8:16 [g]Dt 4:19; Jer 2:27

17He said to me, "Have you seen this, son of man? Is it a trivial matter for the house of Judah to do the detestable things they are doing here? Must they also fill the land with violence and continually provoke me to anger? Look at them putting the branch to their nose! 18Therefore I will deal with them in anger; I will not look on them with pity or spare them. Although they shout in my ears, I will not listen[h] to them."

8:18 [h]Jer 11:11

Idolaters Killed

9 Then I heard him call out in a loud voice, "Bring the guards of the city here, each with a weapon in his hand." 2And I saw six men coming from the direction of the upper gate, which faces north, each with a deadly weapon in his hand. With them was a man clothed in linen who had a writing kit at his side. They came in and stood beside the bronze altar.

3Now the glory[i] of the God of Israel went up from above the cherubim,[j] where it had been, and moved to the threshold of the temple. Then the LORD called to the

9:3 [i]Eze 10:4 [j]Eze 11:22

8:14 Tammuz was the Babylonian god of spring. He was the husband or lover of the goddess Ishtar. The followers of this cult believed that the green vegetation shriveled and died in the hot summer because Tammuz had died and descended into the underworld. Thus, the worshipers wept and mourned his death. In the springtime, when the new vegetation appeared, they rejoiced, believing that Tammuz had come back to life. God was showing Ezekiel that many people were no longer worshiping the true God of life and vegetation. We must also be careful not to spend so much time thinking about the benefits of creation that we lose sight of the Creator.

8:17 The branch to the nose could refer either to a cultic worship practice, or to the fact that Judah's sins had become a stench to God.

9:1ff This chapter presents a picture of coming judgment. After Ezekiel had seen how corrupt Jerusalem had become, God called one man to spare the small minority who had been faithful. Then he called six men to slaughter the wicked people in the city. This judgment was ordered by God himself (9:5–7).

9:2 The writing kit was a common object in Ezekiel's day. It included a long narrow board with a groove to hold the reed brush that was used to write on parchment, papyrus, or dried clay. The board had hollowed out areas for holding cakes of black and red ink that had to be moistened before use.

9:3 What is God's glory? It is the manifestation of God's character—his ultimate power, transcendence, and moral perfection. God is completely above man and his limitations. Yet God reveals himself to us so that we can worship and follow him.

9:3 Cherubim ("cherub" is singular) are an order of powerful angelic beings created to glorify God. They are associated with God's absolute holiness and moral perfection. God placed cherubim at the entrance of Eden to keep Adam and Eve out after they sinned (Genesis 3:24). Representations of cherubim were used to decorate the tabernacle and temple. The lid of the ark of the covenant, called the atonement cover, was adorned with two gold cherubim (Exodus 37:6–9). It was a symbol of the very presence of God. The cherubim seen by Ezekiel left the temple along with the glory of God (chapter 10). Ezekiel then recognized them as the living creatures he had seen in his first vision (see chapter 1).

man clothed in linen who had the writing kit at his side 4and said to him, "Go throughout the city of Jerusalem and put a mark[k] on the foreheads of those who grieve and lament[l] over all the detestable things that are done in it.[m]"

5As I listened, he said to the others, "Follow him through the city and kill, without showing pity or compassion. 6Slaughter old men, young men and maidens, women and children, but do not touch anyone who has the mark. Begin at my sanctuary." So they began with the elders who were in front of the temple.[n]

7Then he said to them, "Defile the temple and fill the courts with the slain. Go!" So they went out and began killing throughout the city. 8While they were killing and I was left alone, I fell facedown, crying out, "Ah, Sovereign LORD! Are you going to destroy the entire remnant of Israel in this outpouring of your wrath on Jerusalem?[o]"

9He answered me, "The sin of the house of Israel and Judah is exceedingly great; the land is full of bloodshed and the city is full of injustice. They say, 'The LORD has forsaken the land; the LORD does not see.'[p] 10So I will not look on them with pity[q] or spare them, but I will bring down on their own heads what they have done.[r]"

11Then the man in linen with the writing kit at his side brought back word, saying, "I have done as you commanded."

9:4 [k] Ex 12:7; Rev 7:3 [l] Ps 119:136 [m] Ps 119:53

9:6 [n] 2Ch 36:17; Jer 25:29

9:8 [o] Eze 11:13

9:9 [p] Eze 8:12

9:10 [q] Eze 8:18 [r] Eze 11:21

The Glory Departs From the Temple

10 I looked, and I saw the likeness of a throne of sapphire[q] above the expanse[s] that was over the heads of the cherubim. 2The LORD said to the man clothed in linen, "Go in among the wheels beneath the cherubim. Fill[t] your hands with burning coals from among the cherubim and scatter them over the city." And as I watched, he went in.

3Now the cherubim were standing on the south side of the temple when the man went in, and a cloud filled the inner court. 4Then the glory of the LORD[u] rose from above the cherubim and moved to the threshold of the temple. The cloud filled the temple, and the court was full of the radiance of the glory of the LORD. 5The sound of the wings of the cherubim could be heard as far away as the outer court, like the voice of God Almighty[r] when he speaks.

6When the LORD commanded the man in linen, "Take fire from among the wheels, from among the cherubim," the man went in and stood beside a wheel. 7Then one of the cherubim reached out his hand to the fire that was among them. He took up some of it and put it into the hands of the man in linen, who took it and went out. 8(Under the wings of the cherubim could be seen what looked like the hands of a man.)

9I looked, and I saw beside the cherubim four wheels, one beside each of the

10:1 [s] Eze 1:22

10:2 [t] Rev 8:5

10:4 [u] Eze 9:3

[q] 1 Or lapis lazuli [r] 5 Hebrew El-Shaddai

9:4, 5 God told the man with the writing kit to put a mark on those who were faithful to God. Their faithfulness was determined by their sensitivity to and sorrow over their nation's sin. Those with the mark were spared when the six men began to destroy the wicked people. During the exodus, the Israelites put a mark of blood on their doorframes to save them from death. In the final days, God will mark the foreheads of those destined for salvation (Revelation 7:3), and Satan will mark his followers (Revelation 13:16, 17), who, like him, are destined for destruction. When God punishes sin, he won't forget his promise to preserve his people.

9:6 The spiritual leaders ("elders") of Israel blatantly promoted their idolatrous beliefs, and the people abandoned God and followed them. Spiritual leaders are especially accountable to God because they are entrusted with the task of teaching the truth (see James 3:1). When they pervert the truth, they can lead countless people away from God and even cause a nation to fall. It is not surprising, then, that when God began to judge the nation, he started at the temple and worked outward (see 1 Peter 4:17). How sad it is that in the temple, the one place where they should have been teaching God's truth, they were teaching lies.

9:9, 10 The people said that the Lord had forsaken the land and wouldn't see their sin. People have many convenient explanations to make it easier to sin: "It doesn't matter," "Everybody's doing it," or "Nobody will ever know." Do you find yourself making excuses for sin? Rationalizing sin makes it easier to commit, but rationalization does not convince God or cancel the punishment.

10:1ff Chapters 8 – 11 depict God's glory departing from the temple. In 8:3, 4, his glory was over the northern gate. It then moved to the door (the "threshold," 9:3), the south side of the temple (10:3, 4), the eastern gate (10:18, 19; 11:1), and finally the mountain east of the temple (11:23), probably the Mount of Olives. Because of the nation's sins, God's glory had departed.

10:2 God's perfect holiness demands judgment for sin. The cherubim are mighty angels. The burning coals scattered over the city represent the purging of sin. For Jerusalem, this meant the destruction of all the people who blatantly sinned and refused to repent. Shortly after this prophecy, the Babylonians destroyed Jerusalem by fire (2 Kings 25:9; 2 Chronicles 36:19).

cherubim; the wheels sparkled like chrysolite. 10As for their appearance, the four of them looked alike; each was like a wheel intersecting a wheel. 11As they moved, they would go in any one of the four directions the cherubim faced; the wheels did not turn about[s] as the cherubim went. The cherubim went in whatever direction the head faced, without turning as they went. 12Their entire bodies, including their backs, their hands and their wings, were completely full of eyes, as were their four wheels. 13I heard the wheels being called "the whirling wheels." 14Each of the cherubim had four faces:[v] One face was that of a cherub, the second the face of a man, the third the face of a lion, and the fourth the face of an eagle.[w]

10:14
[v]Eze 1:6
[w]Eze 1:10

15Then the cherubim rose upward. These were the living creatures I had seen by the Kebar River. 16When the cherubim moved, the wheels beside them moved; and when the cherubim spread their wings to rise from the ground, the wheels did not leave their side. 17When the cherubim stood still, they also stood still; and when the cherubim rose, they rose with them, because the spirit of the living creatures was in them.

18Then the glory of the LORD departed from over the threshold of the temple and stopped above the cherubim. 19While I watched, the cherubim spread their wings and rose from the ground, and as they went, the wheels went with them.[x] They stopped at the entrance to the east gate of the LORD's house, and the glory of the God of Israel was above them.

10:19
[x]Eze 11:1, 22

20These were the living creatures I had seen beneath the God of Israel by the Kebar River, and I realized that they were cherubim. 21Each had four faces and four wings,[y] and under their wings was what looked like the hands of a man. 22Their faces had the same appearance as those I had seen by the Kebar River. Each one went straight ahead.

10:21
[y]Eze 1:6

Judgment on Israel's Leaders

11 Then the Spirit lifted me up and brought me to the gate of the house of the LORD that faces east. There at the entrance to the gate were twenty-five men, and I saw among them Jaazaniah son of Azzur and Pelatiah son of Benaiah, leaders of the people. 2The LORD said to me, "Son of man, these are the men who are plotting evil and giving wicked advice in this city. 3They say, 'Will it not soon be time to build houses?[t] This city is a cooking pot,[z] and we are the meat.' 4Therefore prophesy against them; prophesy, son of man."

11:3
[z]Jer 1:13; Eze 24:3

5Then the Spirit of the LORD came upon me, and he told me to say: "This is what the LORD says: That is what you are saying, O house of Israel, but I know what is going through your mind. 6You have killed many people in this city and filled its streets with the dead.[a]

11:6
[a]Eze 7:23

7"Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: The bodies you have thrown there are the meat and this city is the pot, but I will drive you out of it.[b] 8You fear the sword, and the sword is what I will bring against you, declares the Sovereign LORD. 9I will drive you out of the city and hand you over to foreigners and inflict punishment on you.[c] 10You will fall by the sword, and I will execute judgment on you at the borders of Israel.[d] Then you will know that I am the LORD. 11This city

11:7
[b]Eze 24:3-13; Mic 3:2-3

11:9
[c]Eze 5:8

11:10
[d]2Ki 14:25

[s] 11 Or aside [t] 3 Or This is not the time to build houses.

10:18 God's glory departed from the temple and was never completely present again until Christ himself visited it in New Testament times. God's holiness required that he leave the temple because the people had so defiled it. God had to completely destroy what people had perverted in order for true worship to be revived. We must commit ourselves, our families, our churches, and our nation to follow God faithfully so that we never have to experience God's abandoning us.

11:1–4 God had abandoned his altar and temple (chapters 9–11); here his judgment was complete as his glory stopped above the mountain east of the city (11:23). The city gate was where merchants and politicians conducted business, so the 25 men may have represented the nation's rulers. Because of their leadership positions, they were responsible for leading the people astray. They had wrongly said that they were secure from another attack by the Babylonians. "This city is a cooking pot, and we are the meat" means they believed that they were the elite, the influential, the ones who would be protected from all harm. Without God our situation is always precarious.

11:5 God knew everything about the Israelites, even their thoughts. He also knows everything about us, even the sins we try to hide. Instead of worrying about people noticing how we look or what we do, we should care about what God thinks, for he sees everything. Trying to hide our thoughts and actions from God is futile. "Secret" sins are never secret from God. The only effective way to deal with sin is to confess it and ask God to help us overcome it.

will not be a pot for you, nor will you be the meat in it; I will execute judgment on you at the borders of Israel. 12And you will know that I am the LORD, for you have not followed my decrees or kept my laws but have conformed to the standards of the nations around you.[e]"

13Now as I was prophesying, Pelatiah son of Benaiah died. Then I fell facedown and cried out in a loud voice, "Ah, Sovereign LORD! Will you completely destroy the remnant of Israel?[f]"

14The word of the LORD came to me: 15"Son of man, your brothers — your brothers who are your blood relatives[u] and the whole house of Israel — are those of whom the people of Jerusalem have said, 'They are[v] far away from the LORD; this land was given to us as our possession.'

Promised Return of Israel

16"Therefore say: 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Although I sent them far away among the nations and scattered them among the countries, yet for a little while I have been a sanctuary for them in the countries where they have gone.'

17"Therefore say: 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: I will gather you from the nations and bring you back from the countries where you have been scattered, and I will give you back the land of Israel again.'[g]

18"They will return to it and remove all its vile images and detestable idols.[h] 19I will give them an undivided heart and put a new spirit in them; I will remove from them their heart of stone and give them a heart of flesh.[i] 20Then they will follow my decrees and be careful to keep my laws. They will be my people, and I will be their God.[j] 21But as for those whose hearts are devoted to their vile images and detestable idols, I will bring down on their own heads what they have done, declares the Sovereign LORD.[k]"

22Then the cherubim, with the wheels beside them, spread their wings, and the glory of the God of Israel was above them.[l] 23The glory[m] of the LORD went up from within the city and stopped above the mountain[n] east of it. 24The Spirit lifted me up and brought me to the exiles in Babylonia[w] in the vision given by the Spirit of God.

Then the vision I had seen went up from me, 25and I told the exiles everything the LORD had shown me.

11:12 [e] Eze 8:10

11:13 [f] Eze 9:8

11:17 [g] Jer 24:5-6

11:18 [h] Eze 37:23

11:19 [i] Eze 18:31

11:20 [j] Eze 14:11

11:21 [k] Eze 9:10

11:22 [l] Eze 10:19

11:23 [m] Eze 10:4 [n] Zec 14:4

[u] 15 Or are in exile with you (see Septuagint and Syriac) [v] 15 Or those to whom the people of Jerusalem have said, 'Stay [w] 24 Or Chaldea

11:12 From the time they entered the promised land, the Israelites were warned not to copy the customs and religious practices of other nations. Disobeying this command and following pagan customs instead of God's laws always got them into trouble. Today, believers are still tempted to conform to the ways of the world. But we must get our standards of right and wrong from God, not from the popular trends of society.

11:14ff God promised the exiles in Babylonia that he would continue to be with them even though they were not in Jerusalem. This was a major concern to the Jews because they believed that God was present primarily in the temple. But God assured them that he would continue to be their God regardless of where they were. In the midst of Ezekiel's burning message of judgment stands a cool oasis — God's promise to restore the faithful few to their homeland. God's arms are now open to receive those who will repent of their sins.

11:15–21 God's messages through Ezekiel are full of irony. Here God says that the Jews in captivity are the faithful ones, and those in Jerusalem are the sinful and wicked ones. This was the opposite of the people's perception. Appearances can be deceiving. God will evaluate your life by your faith and obedience, not by your apparent earthly success. Furthermore, we should not judge others by outward appearances.

11:16 God was a sanctuary for the righteous remnant. Idolatrous people, even though they worshiped in the Jerusalem temple (11:15), would find no true sanctuary; but the faithful exiles, even though they were far from home, would be protected by God. Likewise, our external circumstances do not truly indicate our standing with God. Those who appear safe and secure may be far from him, while those going through difficult times may be safely under God's spiritual protection. We can depend on God to keep us safe if we pledge ourselves to his care.

11:18, 19 "Undivided heart" indicates a unanimous singleness of purpose. No longer will God's people seek many gods; they will be content with God. The hard, deaf, immovable heart of stone will be radically transplanted with a tender, receptive, and responsive heart of flesh (see Jeremiah 32:39; Ezekiel 18:31; 36:26). This new life can only be the work of the Holy Spirit. It is God's work, but we must recognize and turn from our sin. When we do, God will give us new motives, new guidelines, and new purpose. Have you received your new heart?

11:23 God's glory left Jerusalem and stood above a mountain on the east side of the city — almost certainly the Mount of Olives. Ezekiel 43:1–4 implies that God will return the same way he left, when he comes back to earth to set up his perfect kingdom.

3. Punishment is certain

The Exile Symbolized

12 The word of the LORD came to me: 2"Son of man, you are living among a rebellious people. They have eyes to see but do not see and ears to hear but do not hear, for they are a rebellious people.[o]

3"Therefore, son of man, pack your belongings for exile and in the daytime, as they watch, set out and go from where you are to another place. Perhaps they will understand, though they are a rebellious house. 4During the daytime, while they watch, bring out your belongings packed for exile. Then in the evening, while they are watching, go out like those who go into exile. 5While they watch, dig through the wall and take your belongings out through it. 6Put them on your shoulder as they are watching and carry them out at dusk. Cover your face so that you cannot see the land, for I have made you a sign[p] to the house of Israel."

7So I did as I was commanded. During the day I brought out my things packed for exile. Then in the evening I dug through the wall with my hands. I took my belongings out at dusk, carrying them on my shoulders while they watched.

8In the morning the word of the LORD came to me: 9"Son of man, did not that rebellious house of Israel ask you, 'What are you doing?'[q]

10"Say to them, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: This oracle concerns the prince in Jerusalem and the whole house of Israel who are there.' 11Say to them, 'I am a sign to you.'

"As I have done, so it will be done to them. They will go into exile as captives.

12"The prince among them will put his things on his shoulder at dusk[r] and leave, and a hole will be dug in the wall for him to go through. He will cover his face so that he cannot see the land. 13I will spread my net for him, and he will be caught in my snare; I will bring him to Babylonia, the land of the Chaldeans, but he will not see it, and there he will die.[s] 14I will scatter to the winds all those around him — his staff and all his troops — and I will pursue them with drawn sword.[t]

15"They will know that I am the LORD, when I disperse them among the nations and scatter them through the countries. 16But I will spare a few of them from the sword, famine and plague, so that in the nations where they go they may acknowledge all their detestable practices. Then they will know that I am the LORD."

17The word of the LORD came to me: 18"Son of man, tremble as you eat your food, and shudder in fear as you drink your water. 19Say to the people of the land: 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says about those living in Jerusalem and in the land of Israel: They will eat their food in anxiety and drink their water in despair, for their land will be stripped of everything[u] in it because of the violence of all who live there. 20The inhabited towns will be laid waste and the land will be desolate. Then you will know that I am the LORD.' "

21The word of the LORD came to me: 22"Son of man, what is this proverb you have in the land of Israel: 'The days go by and every vision comes to nothing'?[v] 23Say to them, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: I am going to put an end to this proverb, and they will no longer quote it in Israel.' Say to them, 'The days are near when every vision will be fulfilled.[w] 24For there will be no more false visions

12:2 [o] Mt 13:15

12:6 [p] Isa 8:18

12:9 [q] Eze 17:12; 24:19

12:12 [r] Jer 39:4

12:13 [s] Jer 52:11

12:14 [t] 2Ki 25:5; Eze 5:10, 12

12:19 [u] Zec 7:14

12:22 [v] Eze 11:3; Am 6:3; 2Pe 3:4

12:23 [w] Joel 2:1; Zep 1:14

12:1ff Ezekiel played the role of a captive being led away to exile, portraying what was about to happen to King Zedekiah and the people remaining in Jerusalem. The exiles knew exactly what Ezekiel was doing because only six years earlier they had made similar preparations as they left Jerusalem for Babylonia. This was to show the people that they should not trust the king or the capital city to save them from the Babylonian army – only God could do that. And the exiles who hoped for an early return from exile would be disappointed. Ezekiel's graphic demonstration was proven correct to the last detail. But when he warned them, many refused to listen.

12:10–12 Zedekiah, Judah's last king (597–586 B.C.), was reigning in Jerusalem when Ezekiel gave these oracles or messages from God. Ezekiel showed the people what would happen to Zedekiah. Jerusalem would be attacked again, and Zedekiah would join the exiles already in Babylon. Zedekiah would be unable to see because Nebuchadnezzar would have his eyes gouged out (2 Kings 25:3–7; Jeremiah 52:10, 11).

12:21–28 These two short messages were warnings that God's words would come true – soon! Less than six years later, Jerusalem would be destroyed. Yet the people were skeptical. Unbelief and false security led them to believe it would never happen. The apostle Peter dealt with this problem in the church (2 Peter 3:9). It is dangerous to say Christ will never return or to regard his coming as so far in the future as to be irrelevant today. All that God says is sure to happen. Don't dare assume that you have plenty of time to get right with God.

or flattering divinations[x] among the people of Israel. 25But I the LORD will speak what I will, and it shall be fulfilled without delay. For in your days, you rebellious house, I will fulfill whatever I say, declares the Sovereign LORD.' "

26The word of the LORD came to me: 27"Son of man, the house of Israel is saying. 'The vision he sees is for many years from now, and he prophesies about the distant future.'

28"Therefore say to them, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: None of my words will be delayed any longer; whatever I say will be fulfilled, declares the Sovereign LORD.' "

12:24 [x]Eze 13:23

False Prophets Condemned

13 The word of the LORD came to me: 2"Son of man, prophesy against the prophets of Israel who are now prophesying. Say to those who prophesy out of their own imagination: 'Hear the word of the LORD! 3This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Woe to the foolish[x] prophets who follow their own spirit and have seen nothing! 4Your prophets, O Israel, are like jackals among ruins. 5You have not gone up to the breaks in the wall to repair[y] it for the house of Israel so that it will stand firm in the battle on the day of the LORD. 6Their visions are false and their divinations a lie. They say, "The LORD declares," when the LORD has not sent them; yet they expect their words to be fulfilled.[z] 7Have you not seen false visions and uttered lying divinations when you say, "The LORD declares," though I have not spoken?

13:5 [y]Eze 22:30

13:6 [z]Eze 22:28

8" 'Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: Because of your false words and lying visions, I am against you, declares the Sovereign LORD. 9My hand will be against the prophets who see false visions and utter lying divinations. They will not belong to the council of my people or be listed in the records of the house of Israel, nor will they enter the land of Israel. Then you will know that I am the Sovereign LORD.

10" 'Because they lead my people astray, saying, "Peace," when there is no peace, and because, when a flimsy wall is built, they cover it with whitewash,[a] 11therefore tell those who cover it with whitewash that it is going to fall. Rain will come in torrents, and I will send hailstones hurtling down, and violent winds will burst forth.[b] 12When the wall collapses, will people not ask you, "Where is the whitewash you covered it with?"

13:10 [a]Eze 22:28

13:11 [b]Eze 38:22

13" 'Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: In my wrath I will unleash a violent wind, and in my anger hailstones and torrents of rain will fall with destructive fury.[c] 14I will tear down the wall you have covered with whitewash and will level it to the ground so that its foundation will be laid bare. When it[y] falls, you will be destroyed in it; and you will know that I am the LORD. 15So I will spend my wrath against the wall and against those who covered it with whitewash. I will say to you, "The wall is gone and so are those who whitewashed it, 16those prophets of Israel who prophesied to Jerusalem and saw visions of peace for her when there was no peace, declares the Sovereign LORD.[d]" '

13:13 [c]Isa 30:30

13:16 [d]Isa 57:21

17"Now, son of man, set your face against the daughters of your people who prophesy out of their own imagination. Prophesy against them[e] 18and say, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Woe to the women who sew magic charms on all their wrists and make veils of various lengths for their heads in order to ensnare

13:17 [e]ver 2

x 3 Or wicked y 14 Or the city

13:1ff This warning was directed against false prophets whose messages were not from God, but were lies intended to win popularity by saying whatever made the people happy. False prophets did not care about the truth as Ezekiel did. They lulled people into a false sense of security, making Ezekiel's job even more difficult. Beware of people who bend the truth in their quest for popularity and power.

13:10–12 These false prophets covered their lies (a "flimsy wall") with "whitewash"—a pleasing front. Such superficiality can't hold up under God's scrutiny.

13:17 In the Bible, the gift of prophecy was given to women as well as men. Miriam (Exodus 15:20), Deborah (Judges 4:4), and Huldah (2 Kings 22:14) were prophetesses. But the women mentioned here are more like the witch of 1 Samuel 28:7, and they are condemned for disheartening the righteous (13:22).

people. Will you ensnare the lives of my people but preserve your own? 19You have profaned me among my people for a few handfuls of barley and scraps of bread. By lying to my people, who listen to lies, you have killed those who should not have died and have spared those who should not live.[f]

13:19 [f]Pr 28:21

20" 'Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: I am against your magic charms with which you ensnare people like birds and I will tear them from your arms; I will set free the people that you ensnare like birds. 21I will tear off your veils and save my people from your hands, and they will no longer fall prey to your power. Then you will know that I am the LORD. 22Because you disheartened the righteous with your lies, when I had brought them no grief, and because you encouraged the wicked not to turn from their evil ways and so save their lives,[g] 23therefore you will no longer see false visions or practice divination.[h] I will save my people from your hands. And then you will know that I am the LORD.[i]' "

13:22 [g]Jer 23:14

13:23 [h]Eze 12:24 [i]Mic 3:6

Idolaters Condemned

14:1 [j]Eze 8:1; 20:1

14 Some of the elders of Israel came to me and sat down in front of me.[j] 2Then the word of the LORD came to me: 3"Son of man, these men have set up idols in their hearts and put wicked stumbling blocks[k] before their faces. Should I let them inquire of me at all? 4Therefore speak to them and tell them, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: When any Israelite sets up idols in his heart and puts a wicked stumbling block before his face and then goes to a prophet, I the LORD will answer him myself in keeping with his great idolatry. 5I will do this to recapture the hearts of the people of Israel, who have all deserted[l] me for their idols.'

14:3 [k]Eze 7:19

14:5 [l]Zec 11:8

6"Therefore say to the house of Israel, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Repent! Turn from your idols and renounce all your detestable practices![m]

14:6 [m]Isa 2:20

7" 'When any Israelite or any alien living in Israel separates himself from me and sets up idols in his heart and puts a wicked stumbling block before his face and then goes to a prophet to inquire of me, I the LORD will answer him myself. 8I will set my face against[n] that man and make him an example and a byword.[o] I will cut him off from my people. Then you will know that I am the LORD.

14:8 [n]Eze 15:7 [o]Eze 5:15

9" 'And if the prophet is enticed[p] to utter a prophecy, I the LORD have enticed that prophet, and I will stretch out my hand against him and destroy him from among my people Israel. 10They will bear their guilt — the prophet will be as guilty as the one who consults him. 11Then the people of Israel will no longer stray from me, nor will they defile themselves anymore with all their sins. They will be my people, and I will be their God, declares the Sovereign LORD.[q]' "

14:9 [p]Jer 4:10

14:11 [q]Eze 11:19-20

Judgment Inescapable

12The word of the LORD came to me: 13"Son of man, if a country sins against me by being unfaithful and I stretch out my hand against it to cut off its food supply[r]

14:13 [r]Lev 26:26

13:18 These magic charms and veils were used in witchcraft practices. They were advertised as good luck charms, but were used to ensnare the people in idolatry.

14:3 God condemned the elders for worshiping idols in their hearts and then daring to come to God's prophet for advice. On the outside, they appeared to worship God, making regular visits to the temple to offer sacrifices. But they were not sincere. It is easy for us to criticize the Israelites for worshiping idols when they so clearly needed God instead. But we have idols in our hearts when we pursue reputation, acceptance, wealth, or sensual pleasure with the intensity and commitment that should be reserved for serving God.

14:3-5 For Hebrew writers, important functions of life were assigned to different physical organs. The heart was considered the core of a person's intellectual and spiritual function. Because all people have someone or something as the object of their heart's devotion, they have the potential for idolatry within them. God wants to recapture the hearts of his people. We must never let anything captivate our allegiance or imagination in such a way to replace or weaken our devotion to God.

14:6-11 The people of Judah, though eager to accept the messages of false prophets, considered the presence of a few God-fearing men in the nation an insurance policy against disaster. In a pinch, they could always ask God's prophets for advice. But merely having God's people around doesn't help. We must remember that the relationship our pastor, family, or friends have with God will not protect us from the consequences of our own sins. Each person is responsible for his or her own relationship with God. Is your faith personal and real, or are you resting in what others have done?

and send famine upon it and kill its men and their animals, 14even if these three men—Noah, Daniel[z] and Job—were in it, they could save only themselves by their righteousness,[s] declares the Sovereign LORD.

15"Or if I send wild beasts[t] through that country and they leave it childless and it becomes desolate so that no one can pass through it because of the beasts, 16as surely as I live, declares the Sovereign LORD, even if these three men were in it, they could not save their own sons or daughters. They alone would be saved, but the land would be desolate.

17"Or if I bring a sword against that country and say, 'Let the sword pass throughout the land,' and I kill its men and their animals,[u] 18as surely as I live, declares the Sovereign LORD, even if these three men were in it, they could not save their own sons or daughters. They alone would be saved.

19"Or if I send a plague into that land and pour out my wrath upon it through bloodshed, killing its men and their animals,[v] 20as surely as I live, declares the Sovereign LORD, even if Noah, Daniel and Job were in it, they could save neither son nor daughter. They would save only themselves by their righteousness.

21"For this is what the Sovereign LORD says: How much worse will it be when I send against Jerusalem my four dreadful judgments—sword and famine and wild beasts and plague—to kill its men and their animals![w] 22Yet there will be some survivors—sons and daughters who will be brought out of it. They will come to you, and when you see their conduct and their actions, you will be consoled regarding the disaster I have brought upon Jerusalem—every disaster I have brought upon it. 23You will be consoled when you see their conduct and their actions, for you will know that I have done nothing in it without cause, declares the Sovereign LORD.[x]"

14:14 [s] Jer 15:1
14:15 [t] Eze 5:17
14:17 [u] Eze 25:13
14:19 [v] Eze 38:22
14:21 [w] Eze 5:17
14:23 [x] Jer 22:8-9

Jerusalem, A Useless Vine

15 The word of the LORD came to me: 2"Son of man, how is the wood of a vine[y] better than that of a branch on any of the trees in the forest? 3Is wood ever taken from it to make anything useful? Do they make pegs from it to hang things on? 4And after it is thrown on the fire as fuel and the fire burns both ends and chars the middle, is it then useful for anything?[z] 5If it was not useful for anything when it was whole, how much less can it be made into something useful when the fire has burned it and it is charred?

6"Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: As I have given the wood of the vine among the trees of the forest as fuel for the fire, so will I treat the people living in Jerusalem. 7I will set my face against[a] them. Although they have come out of the fire, the fire will yet consume them. And when I set my face against them, you will know that I am the LORD.[b] 8I will make the land desolate because they have been unfaithful, declares the Sovereign LORD."

15:2 [y] Hos 10:1
15:4 [z] Jn 15:6
15:7 [a] Eze 14:8 [b] Isa 24:18

An Allegory of Unfaithful Jerusalem

16 The word of the LORD came to me: 2"Son of man, confront Jerusalem with her detestable practices[c] 3and say, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says to Jerusalem: Your ancestry and birth were in the land of the Canaanites; your father

16:2 [c] Eze 20:4; 22:2

[z] 14 Or Danel; the Hebrew spelling may suggest a person other than the prophet Daniel; also in verse 20.

14:14 Noah, Daniel, and Job were great men in Israel's history, renowned for their relationships with God and for their wisdom (see Genesis 6:8, 9; Daniel 2:47, 48; Job 1:1). Daniel had been taken into captivity during Babylon's first invasion of Judah in 605 B.C., eight years before Ezekiel was taken captive. At the time of Ezekiel's message, Daniel occupied a high government position in Babylon. But even these great men of God could not have saved the people of Judah because God had already passed judgment on the nation's pervasive evil.

15:1ff The messages given to Ezekiel in chapters 15–17 provided further evidence that God was going to destroy Jerusalem. The first message was about a vine, useless at first and even more useless after being burned. The people of Jerusalem were useless to God because of their idol worship, and so they would be destroyed and their cities burned. Isaiah also compared the nation of Israel to a vineyard (see Isaiah 5:1–8). Have you also become dormant and unfruitful to God? How can you begin fulfilling his plan for you?

16:1ff This message reminded Jerusalem of its former despised status among the Canaanite nations. Using the imagery of a young baby growing to mature womanhood, God reminded Jerusalem that he raised her from a lowly state to great glory as his bride. However, she betrayed God's trust and prostituted herself by seeking alliances with pagan nations and adopting their customs. If we push God aside for anything, even education, family, career, or pleasure, we are abandoning him in the same way.

was an Amorite and your mother a Hittite. 4On the day you were born[d] your cord was not cut, nor were you washed with water to make you clean, nor were you rubbed with salt or wrapped in cloths. 5No one looked on you with pity or had compassion enough to do any of these things for you. Rather, you were thrown out into the open field, for on the day you were born you were despised.

6" 'Then I passed by and saw you kicking about in your blood, and as you lay there in your blood I said to you, "Live!"[a] 7I made you grow like a plant of the field. You grew up and developed and became the most beautiful of jewels.[b] Your breasts were formed and your hair grew, you who were naked and bare.[e]

8" 'Later I passed by, and when I looked at you and saw that you were old enough for love, I spread the corner of my garment[f] over you and covered your nakedness. I gave you my solemn oath and entered into a covenant with you, declares the Sovereign LORD, and you became mine.[g]

9" 'I bathed[c] you with water and washed the blood from you and put ointments on you. 10I clothed you with an embroidered dress and put leather sandals on you. I dressed you in fine linen and covered you with costly garments. 11I adorned you with jewelry: [h] I put bracelets on your arms and a necklace around your neck, 12and I put a ring on your nose,[i] earrings on your ears and a beautiful crown on your head. 13So you were adorned with gold and silver; your clothes were of fine linen and costly fabric and embroidered cloth. Your food was fine flour, honey and olive oil.[j] You became very beautiful and rose to be a queen.[k] 14And your fame spread among the nations on account of your beauty,[l] because the splendor I had given you made your beauty perfect, declares the Sovereign LORD.

15" 'But you trusted in your beauty and used your fame to become a prostitute. You lavished your favors on anyone who passed by and your beauty became his.[d][m] 16You took some of your garments to make gaudy high places, where you carried on your prostitution. Such things should not happen, nor should they ever occur. 17You also took the fine jewelry I gave you, the jewelry made of my gold and silver, and you made for yourself male idols and engaged in prostitution with them. 18And you took your embroidered clothes to put on them, and you offered my oil and incense before them. 19Also the food I provided for you — the fine flour, olive oil and honey I gave you to eat — you offered as fragrant incense before them. That is what happened, declares the Sovereign LORD.[n]

20" 'And you took your sons and daughters whom you bore to me and sacrificed them as food to the idols. Was your prostitution not enough?[o] 21You slaughtered my children and sacrificed them[e] to the idols. 22In all your detestable practices and your prostitution you did not remember the days of your youth,[p] when you were naked and bare, kicking about in your blood.[q]

23" 'Woe! Woe to you, declares the Sovereign LORD. In addition to all your other wickedness, 24you built a mound for yourself and made a lofty shrine[r] in every public square. 25At the head of every street you built your lofty shrines and degraded your beauty, offering your body with increasing promiscuity to anyone who passed by.[s] 26You engaged in prostitution with the Egyptians, your lustful

[a] 6 A few Hebrew manuscripts, Septuagint and Syriac; most Hebrew manuscripts "Live!" And as you lay there in your blood I said to you, "Live!" [b] 7 Or became mature [c] 9 Or I had bathed [d] 15 Most Hebrew manuscripts; one Hebrew manuscript (see some Septuagint manuscripts) by. Such a thing should not happen [e] 21 Or and made them pass through the fire,

16:4 [d] Hos 2:3
16:7 [e] Ex 1:7
16:8 [f] Ru 3:9 [g] Jer 2:2
16:11 [h] Eze 23:40
16:12 [i] Isa 3:21
16:13 [j] 1Sa 10:1 [k] Dt 32:13-14
16:14 [l] La 2:15
16:15 [m] Isa 57:8; Jer 2:20
16:19 [n] Hos 2:8
16:20 [o] Ps 106:37-38
16:22 [p] Jer 2:2 [q] ver 6
16:24 [r] Isa 57:7
16:25 [s] Pr 9:14

16:3 Canaan was the ancient name of the territory taken over by the children of Israel. The Bible often uses this name to refer to all the corrupt pagan nations of the region. The Amorites and Hittites, two Canaanite peoples, were known for their wickedness. But here God implies that his people are no better than the Canaanites.

16:15 God cared for and loved Judah, only to have it turn away to other nations and their false gods. The nation had grown to maturity and became famous, but it forgot who had given them their life (16:22). This is a picture of spiritual adultery (called apostasy — turning from the one true God). As you become wise and more mature, don't turn away from the One who truly loves you.

16:20, 21 Child sacrifice had been practiced by the Canaanites long before Israel invaded their land. But it was strictly forbidden by God (Leviticus 20:1–3). By Ezekiel's time, however, the people were openly sacrificing their own children (2 Kings 16:3; 21:6). Jeremiah confirmed that this was a common practice (Jeremiah 7:31; 32:35). Because of such vile acts among the people and priesthood, the temple became unfit for God to inhabit. When God left the temple, he was no longer Judah's guide and protector.

neighbors, and provoked[t] me to anger with your increasing promiscuity. 27So I stretched out my hand against you and reduced your territory; I gave you over to the greed of your enemies, the daughters of the Philistines,[u] who were shocked by your lewd conduct. 28You engaged in prostitution with the Assyrians[v] too, because you were insatiable; and even after that, you still were not satisfied. 29Then you increased your promiscuity to include Babylonia,[f] a land of merchants, but even with this you were not satisfied.

30"'How weak-willed you are, declares the Sovereign LORD, when you do all these things, acting like a brazen prostitute![w] 31When you built your mounds at the head of every street and made your lofty shrines in every public square, you were unlike a prostitute, because you scorned payment.

32"'You adulterous wife! You prefer strangers to your own husband! 33Every prostitute receives a fee, but you give gifts to all your lovers, bribing them to come to you from everywhere for your illicit favors.[x] 34So in your prostitution you are the opposite of others; no one runs after you for your favors. You are the very opposite, for you give payment and none is given to you.

35"'Therefore, you prostitute, hear the word of the LORD! 36This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Because you poured out your wealth[g] and exposed your nakedness in your promiscuity with your lovers, and because of all your detestable idols, and because you gave them your children's blood,[y] 37therefore I am going to gather all your lovers, with whom you found pleasure, those you loved as well as those you hated. I will gather them against you from all around and will strip you in front of them, and they will see all your nakedness. 38I will sentence you to the punishment of women who commit adultery and who shed blood; I will bring upon you the blood vengeance of my wrath and jealous anger. 39Then I will hand you over to your lovers, and they will tear down your mounds and destroy your lofty shrines. They will strip you of your clothes and take your fine jewelry and leave you naked and bare. 40They will bring a mob against you, who will stone you and hack you to pieces with their swords. 41They will burn down your houses and inflict punishment on you in the sight of many women. I will put a stop[z] to your prostitution, and you will no longer pay your lovers. 42Then my wrath against you will subside and my jealous anger will turn away from you; I will be calm and no longer angry.[a]

43"'Because you did not remember[b] the days of your youth but enraged me with all these things, I will surely bring down[c] on your head what you have done, declares the Sovereign LORD. Did you not add lewdness to all your other detestable practices?[d]

44"'Everyone who quotes proverbs will quote this proverb about you: "Like mother, like daughter." 45You are a true daughter of your mother, who despised her husband and her children; and you are a true sister of your sisters, who despised their husbands and their children. Your mother was a Hittite and your father an Amorite. 46Your older sister was Samaria, who lived to the north of you with her daughters; and your younger sister, who lived to the south of you with her daughters, was Sodom. 47You not only walked in their ways and copied their detestable practices, but in all your ways you soon became more depraved than they.[e] 48As surely as I live, declares the Sovereign LORD, your sister Sodom and her daughters never did what you and your daughters have done.[f]

49"'Now this was the sin of your sister Sodom: She and her daughters were arro-

16:26 [t]Eze 8:17
16:27 [u]2Ch 28:18
16:28 [v]2Ki 16:7
16:30 [w]Jer 3:3
16:33 [x]Hos 8:9-10
16:36 [y]Jer 19:5
16:41 [z]Eze 23:27, 48
16:42 [a]Eze 5:13
16:43 [b]Ps 78:42 [c]Eze 22:31 [d]Eze 11:21
16:47 [e]Eze 5:7
16:48 [f]Mt 10:15; 11:23-24

[f] 29 Or Chaldea [g] 36 Or lust

16:27 The conduct of the Jews was so lewd that even those who worshiped other gods, including their great enemy the Philistines, would have been ashamed to behave that way. The Jews outdid them in doing evil.

16:44–52 The city of Sodom, a symbol of total corruption, was completely destroyed by God for its wickedness (Genesis 19:24, 25). Samaria, the capital of what had been the northern kingdom (Israel), was despised and rejected by the Jews in Judah. To be called a sister of Samaria and Sodom was bad enough, but to be called more depraved than that meant that Judah's sins were an unspeakable abomination and that its doom was inevitable. The reason it was considered worse was not necessarily that Judah's sins were worse, but that Judah knew better. In that light, we who live in an age when God's message is made clear to us through the Bible are worse than Judah if we continue in sin! (See also Matthew 11:20–24.)

gant, overfed and unconcerned; they did not help the poor and needy. 50They were haughty and did detestable things before me. Therefore I did away with them as you have seen. 51Samaria did not commit half the sins you did. You have done more detestable things than they, and have made your sisters seem righteous by all these things you have done.[g] 52Bear your disgrace, for you have furnished some justification for your sisters. Because your sins were more vile than theirs, they appear more righteous than you. So then, be ashamed and bear your disgrace, for you have made your sisters appear righteous.

16:51
[g] Jer 3:8-11

53" 'However, I will restore the fortunes of Sodom and her daughters and of Samaria and her daughters, and your fortunes along with them, 54so that you may bear your disgrace and be ashamed of all you have done in giving them comfort. 55And your sisters, Sodom with her daughters and Samaria with her daughters, will return to what they were before; and you and your daughters will return to what you were before. 56You would not even mention your sister Sodom in the day of your pride, 57before your wickedness was uncovered. Even so, you are now scorned by the daughters of Edom[h] and all her neighbors and the daughters of the Philistines — all those around you who despise you. 58You will bear the consequences of your lewdness and your detestable practices, declares the LORD.[i]

16:57
[h] 2Ki 16:6

16:58
[i] Eze 23:49

59" 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: I will deal with you as you deserve, because you have despised my oath by breaking the covenant. 60Yet I will remember the covenant I made with you in the days of your youth, and I will establish an everlasting covenant with you. 61Then you will remember your ways and be ashamed when you receive your sisters, both those who are older than you and those who are younger. I will give them to you as daughters, but not on the basis of my covenant with you. 62So I will establish my covenant with you, and you will know that I am the LORD.[j] 63Then, when I make atonement for you for all you have done, you will remember and be ashamed and never again open your mouth[k] because of your humiliation, declares the Sovereign LORD.' "

16:62
[j] Eze 20:37, 43-44

16:63
[k] Ro 3:19

Two Eagles and a Vine

17 The word of the LORD came to me: 2"Son of man, set forth an allegory and tell the house of Israel a parable.[l] 3Say to them, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: A great eagle with powerful wings, long feathers and full plumage of varied colors came to Lebanon.[m] Taking hold of the top of a cedar, 4he broke off its topmost shoot and carried it away to a land of merchants, where he planted it in a city of traders.

17:2
[l] Eze 20:49

17:3
[m] Jer 22:23

5" 'He took some of the seed of your land and put it in fertile soil. He planted it like a willow by abundant water,[n] 6and it sprouted and became a low, spreading vine. Its branches turned toward him, but its roots remained under it. So it became a vine and produced branches and put out leafy boughs.

17:5
[n] Dt 8:7-9; Isa 44:4

7" 'But there was another great eagle with powerful wings and full plumage. The vine now sent out its roots toward him from the plot where it was planted and

[h] 57 Many Hebrew manuscripts and Syriac; most Hebrew manuscripts, Septuagint and Vulgate Aram

16:49 It is easy to judge and condemn Sodom, especially for its terrible sexual sins. Ezekiel reminded Judah, however, that Sodom was destroyed because its people were arrogant, overfed, and unconcerned about the needy people within their reach. It is easy to be selective in what we consider gross sin. If we do not commit such horrible sins as adultery, homosexuality, stealing, and murder, we may think we are living good enough lives. But what about sins like arrogance, gluttony, and indifference to the needy? These sins may not be as shocking to you as the others, but they are also forbidden by God.

16:59–63 Although the people had broken their promises and did not deserve anything but punishment, God would not break his promises. If the people turned back to him, he would again forgive them and renew his covenant. This covenant was put into effect when Jesus paid for the sins of all mankind by his death on the cross (Hebrews 10:8–10). No one is beyond the reach of God's forgiveness. Although we don't deserve anything but punishment for our sins, God's arms are still outstretched. He will not break his promise to give us salvation and forgiveness if we repent and turn to him.

17:1ff The first eagle in this chapter represents King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon (see 17:12), who appointed or "planted" Zedekiah as king in Jerusalem. Zedekiah rebelled against this arrangement and tried to ally with Egypt, the second eagle, to battle against Babylon. This took place while Ezekiel, miles away in Babylon, was describing these events. Jeremiah, a prophet in Judah, was also warning Zedekiah not to form this alliance (Jeremiah 2:36, 37). Although many miles apart, the prophets had the same message because both spoke for God. God still directs his chosen spokesmen to speak his truth all around the world.

stretched out its branches to him for water. 8It had been planted in good soil by abundant water so that it would produce branches, bear fruit and become a splendid vine.'

9"Say to them, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Will it thrive? Will it not be uprooted and stripped of its fruit so that it withers? All its new growth will wither. It will not take a strong arm or many people to pull it up by the roots. 10Even if it[o] is transplanted, will it thrive? Will it not wither completely when the east wind strikes it — wither away in the plot where it grew?' "

11Then the word of the LORD came to me: 12"Say to this rebellious house, 'Do you not know what these things mean?[p]' Say to them: 'The king of Babylon went to Jerusalem and carried off her king and her nobles, bringing them back with him to Babylon. 13Then he took a member of the royal family and made a treaty with him, putting him under oath.[q] He also carried away the leading men of the land, 14so that the kingdom would be brought low,[r] unable to rise again, surviving only by keeping his treaty. 15But the king rebelled against him by sending his envoys to Egypt to get horses and a large army. Will he succeed? Will he who does such things escape? Will he break the treaty and yet escape?

16" 'As surely as I live, declares the Sovereign LORD, he shall die[s] in Babylon, in the land of the king who put him on the throne, whose oath he despised and whose treaty he broke. 17Pharaoh[t] with his mighty army and great horde will be of no help to him in war, when ramps are built and siege works erected to destroy many lives.[u] 18He despised the oath by breaking the covenant. Because he had given his hand in pledge[v] and yet did all these things, he shall not escape.

19" 'Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: As surely as I live, I will bring down on his head my oath that he despised and my covenant that he broke. 20I will spread my net[w] for him, and he will be caught in my snare. I will bring him to Babylon and execute judgment upon him there because he was unfaithful to me. 21All his fleeing troops will fall by the sword,[x] and the survivors will be scattered to the winds. Then you will know that I the LORD have spoken.

22" 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: I myself will take a shoot from the very top of a cedar and plant it; I will break off a tender sprig from its topmost shoots and plant it on a high and lofty mountain.[y] 23On the mountain heights of Israel I will plant it; it will produce branches and bear fruit and become a splendid cedar. Birds of every kind will nest in it; they will find shelter in the shade of its branches. 24All the trees of the field[z] will know that I the LORD bring down the tall tree and make the low tree grow tall. I dry up the green tree and make the dry tree flourish.

" 'I the LORD have spoken, and I will do it.' "

The Soul Who Sins Will Die

18 The word of the LORD came to me: 2"What do you people mean by quoting this proverb about the land of Israel:

" 'The fathers eat sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge'?[a]

17:10 [o] Hos 13:15
17:12 [p] Eze 12:9
17:13 [q] 2Ch 36:13
17:14 [r] Eze 29:14
17:16 [s] Eze 12:13
17:17 [t] Jer 37:7 [u] Eze 29:6-7
17:18 [v] 1Ch 29:24
17:20 [w] Eze 12:13
17:21 [x] Eze 12:14
17:22 [y] Jer 23:5
17:24 [z] Ps 96:12
18:2 [a] Jer 31:29

17:10 This east wind was the hot, dry wind blowing off the desert, a wind that could wither a flourishing crop. The hot wind of Nebuchadnezzar's armies was about to overcome the nation of Judah.

17:22, 23 Ezekiel's prophecy of judgment ends in hope. When the people put their hope in foreign alliances, they were disappointed. Only God could give them true hope. God said he would plant a tender sprig, the Messiah, whose kingdom would grow and become a shelter for all who come to him (see Isaiah 11:1-5). This prophecy was fulfilled at the coming of Jesus Christ.

18:1ff The people of Judah believed they were being punished for the sins of their ancestors, not their own. They thought this way because this was the teaching of the Ten Commandments (Exodus 20:5). Ezekiel taught that the destruction of Jerusalem was due to the spiritual decay in previous generations. But this belief in the corporate life of Israel led to fatalism and irresponsibility. So Ezekiel gave God's new policy for this new land because the people had misconstrued the old one. God judges each person individually. Although we often suffer from the effects of sins committed by those who came before us, God does not punish us for someone else's sins, and we can't use their mistakes as an excuse for our sins. Each person is accountable to God for his or her actions.

In addition, some people of Judah used the corporate umbrella of God's blessing as an excuse for disobeying God. They thought that because of their righteous ancestors (18:5-9) they would live. God told them that they would not; they were the evil sons of righteous parents and, as such, would die (18:10-13). If, however, anyone returned to God, he or she would live (18:14-18).

3"As surely as I live, declares the Sovereign LORD, you will no longer quote this proverb in Israel. 4For every living soul belongs to me, the father as well as the son — both alike belong to me. The soul who sins is the one who will die.[b]

18:4 [b] Ro 6:23

5"Suppose there is a righteous man who does what is just and right.
6He does not eat at the mountain shrines
or look to the idols of the house of Israel.
He does not defile his neighbor's wife or lie with a woman during her period.
18:7 [c] Ex 22:21
7He does not oppress[c] anyone, but returns what he took in pledge for a loan.
He does not commit robbery
but gives his food to the hungry
and provides clothing for the naked.
8He does not lend at usury
18:8 [d] Ex 22:25; Lev 25:35-37; Dt 23:19-20 [e] Zec 8:16 or take excessive interest.[i d]
He withholds his hand from doing wrong and judges fairly[e] between man and man.
9He follows my decrees and faithfully keeps my laws.
That man is righteous;
18:9 [f] Am 5:4
he will surely live,[f]
declares the Sovereign LORD.

10"Suppose he has a violent son, who sheds blood or does any of these other things[j] 11(though the father has done none of them):

"He eats at the mountain shrines.
He defiles his neighbor's wife.
18:12 [g] Am 4:1 [h] Isa 59:6-7
12He oppresses the poor[g] and needy.
He commits robbery.
He does not return what he took in pledge.
He looks to the idols.
He does detestable things.[h]
13He lends at usury and takes excessive interest.

Will such a man live? He will not! Because he has done all these detestable things, he will surely be put to death and his blood will be on his own head.

14"But suppose this son has a son who sees all the sins his father commits, and though he sees them, he does not do such things:

15"He does not eat at the mountain shrines
or look to the idols of the house of Israel.
He does not defile his neighbor's wife.
16He does not oppress anyone or require a pledge for a loan.
He does not commit robbery
but gives his food to the hungry
and provides clothing for the naked.
17He withholds his hand from sin[k]
and takes no usury or excessive interest.
He keeps my laws and follows my decrees.

[i] 8 Or take interest; similarly in verses 13 and 17 [j] 10 Or things to a brother [k] 17 Septuagint (see also verse 8); Hebrew from the poor

18:8 The Law of Moses had rules about charging interest (Exodus 22:25; Leviticus 25:36; Deuteronomy 23:19, 20) to prevent God's people from taking advantage of the poor or of fellow Israelites.

18:12 Returning what one took in pledge referred to the lender letting the debtor use the cloak each night that he has placed as security on his loan. Without the cloak, the debtor would be cold at night. (See Exodus 22:26 and Deuteronomy 24:10-13 for the giving of this law.)

He will not die for his father's sin; he will surely live. 18But his father will die for his own sin, because he practiced extortion, robbed his brother and did what was wrong among his people.

19"Yet you ask, 'Why does the son not share the guilt of his father?' Since the son has done what is just and right and has been careful to keep all my decrees, he will surely live.[i] 20The soul who sins is the one who will die. The son will not share the guilt of the father, nor will the father share the guilt of the son. The righteousness of the righteous man will be credited to him, and the wickedness of the wicked will be charged against him.[j]

21"But if a wicked man turns away from all the sins he has committed and keeps all my decrees and does what is just and right, he will surely live; he will not die. 22None of the offenses he has committed will be remembered against him. Because of the righteous things he has done, he will live.[k] 23Do I take any pleasure in the death of the wicked? declares the Sovereign LORD. Rather, am I not pleased when they turn from their ways and live?

24"But if a righteous man turns from his righteousness and commits sin and does the same detestable things the wicked man does, will he live? None of the righteous things he has done will be remembered. Because of the unfaithfulness he is guilty of and because of the sins he has committed, he will die.[l]

25"Yet you say, 'The way of the Lord is not just.' Hear, O house of Israel: Is my way unjust?[m] Is it not your ways that are unjust? 26If a righteous man turns from his righteousness and commits sin, he will die for it; because of the sin he has committed he will die. 27But if a wicked man turns away from the wickedness he has committed and does what is just and right, he will save his life. 28Because he considers all the offenses he has committed and turns away from them, he will surely live; he will not die. 29Yet the house of Israel says, 'The way of the Lord is not just.' Are my ways unjust, O house of Israel? Is it not your ways that are unjust?

30"Therefore, O house of Israel, I will judge you, each one according to his ways, declares the Sovereign LORD. Repent! Turn away from all your offenses; then sin will not be your downfall.[n] 31Rid yourselves of all the offenses you have committed, and get a new heart and a new spirit. Why will you die, O house of Israel?[o] 32For I take no pleasure in the death of anyone, declares the Sovereign LORD. Repent and live!

18:19 [i] Ex 20:5

18:20 [j] Dt 24:16; Isa 3:11

18:22 [k] Ps 18:20-24

18:24 [l] Eze 3:20

18:25 [m] Eze 33:17

18:30 [n] Eze 7:3

18:31 [o] Eze 11:19; 36:26

A Lament for Israel's Princes

19 "Take up a lament concerning the princes of Israel 2and say:

" 'What a lioness was your mother
among the lions!
She lay down among the young lions and reared her cubs.
3She brought up one of her cubs,
and he became a strong lion.

18:23 God is a God of love, but he is also a God of perfect justice. His perfect love causes him to be merciful to those who recognize their sin and turn back to him, but he cannot wink at those who willfully sin. Wicked people die both physically and spiritually. God takes no joy in their deaths; he would prefer that they turn to him and have eternal life. Likewise, we should not rejoice in the misfortunes of nonbelievers. Instead, we should do all in our power to bring them to faith.

18:25 A typical childish response to punishment is to say, "That isn't fair!" In reality, God is fair, but we have broken the rules. It is not God who must live up to our ideas of fairness; instead, we must live up to his. Don't spend your time looking for the loopholes in God's law. Instead, live up to God's standards.

18:30–32 Ezekiel's solution to the problem of inherited guilt is for each person to have a changed life. This is God's work in us and not something we can do for ourselves. The Holy Spirit does it (Psalm 51:10–12). If we renounce our life's direction of sin and rebellion and turn to God, he will give us a new direction, a new love, and a new power to change. You can begin by faith, trusting in God's power to change your heart and mind. Then determine to live each day with him in control (Ephesians 4:22–24).

19:1ff Ezekiel used illustrations to communicate many of his messages. With the picture of the lioness and her cubs, he raised the curiosity of his listeners. The lioness symbolized the nation of Judah, and the two cubs were two of its kings. The first cub was King Jehoahaz, who was taken captive to Egypt in 609 B.C. by Pharaoh Neco (2 Kings 23:31–33). The second cub was either King Jehoiachin, who had already been taken into captivity in Babylon (2 Kings 24:8ff), or King Zedekiah, who soon would be (2 Kings 25:7). This illustration showed that for Judah, there was no hope for a quick return from exile, and no escape from the approaching Babylonian armies.

He learned to tear the prey
and he devoured men.
4The nations heard about him,
and he was trapped in their pit.
They led him with hooks to the land of Egypt.[p]

19:4
[p] 2Ki 23:33-34; 2Ch 36:4

5" 'When she saw her hope unfulfilled, her expectation gone,
she took another of her cubs and made him a strong lion.
6He prowled among the lions,
for he was now a strong lion.
He learned to tear the prey
and he devoured men.
7He broke down[l] their strongholds and devastated their towns.
The land and all who were in it were terrified by his roaring.
8Then the nations[q] came against him, those from regions round about.
They spread their net for him,
and he was trapped in their pit.
9With hooks they pulled him into a cage and brought him to the king of Babylon.[r]
They put him in prison,
so his roar was heard no longer
on the mountains of Israel.

19:8
[q] 2Ki 24:2

19:9
[r] 2Ch 36:6

10" 'Your mother was like a vine in your vineyard[m] planted by the water;
it was fruitful and full of branches
because of abundant water.
11Its branches were strong,
fit for a ruler's scepter.
It towered high above the thick foliage, conspicuous for its height and for its many branches.[s] 12But it was uprooted in fury and thrown to the ground.
The east wind made it shrivel,
it was stripped of its fruit;
its strong branches withered and fire consumed them.[t] 13Now it is planted in the desert, in a dry and thirsty land.
14Fire spread from one of its main[n] branches and consumed its fruit.
No strong branch is left on it fit for a ruler's scepter.'[u]

19:11
[s] Eze 31:3

19:12
[t] Hos 13:15

19:14
[u] Eze 15:4

This is a lament and is to be used as a lament."

[l] 7 Targum (see Septuagint); Hebrew He knew [m] 10 Two Hebrew manuscripts; most Hebrew manuscripts your blood [n] 14 Or from under its 19:11, 12 Not even the political and military might of Judah's kings could save the nation. Like branches of a vine, they would be cut off and uprooted by "the east wind" – the powerful Babylonian army.

Rebellious Israel

20 In the seventh year, in the fifth month on the tenth day, some of the elders of Israel came to inquire of the LORD, and they sat down in front of me.[v]
2Then the word of the LORD came to me: 3"Son of man, speak to the elders of Israel and say to them, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Have you come to inquire[w] of me? As surely as I live, I will not let you inquire of me, declares the Sovereign LORD.'
4"Will you judge them? Will you judge them, son of man? Then confront them with the detestable practices of their fathers[x] 5and say to them: 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: On the day I chose Israel, I swore with uplifted hand to the descendants of the house of Jacob and revealed myself to them in Egypt. With uplifted hand I said to them, "I am the LORD your God." 6On that day I swore to them that I would bring them out of Egypt into a land I had searched out for them, a land flowing with milk and honey,[y] the most beautiful of all lands.[z] 7And I said to them, "Each of you, get rid of the vile images you have set your eyes on, and do not defile yourselves with the idols of Egypt. I am the LORD your God.[a]"
8" 'But they rebelled against me and would not listen to me; they did not get rid of the vile images they had set their eyes on, nor did they forsake the idols of Egypt.[b] So I said I would pour out my wrath on them and spend my anger against them in Egypt. 9But for the sake of my name I did what would keep it from being profaned in the eyes of the nations they lived among and in whose sight I had revealed myself to the Israelites by bringing them out of Egypt.[c] 10Therefore I led them out of Egypt and brought them into the desert. 11I gave them my decrees and made known to them my laws, for the man who obeys them will live by them.[d] 12Also I gave them my Sabbaths as a sign between us, so they would know that I the LORD made them holy.
13" 'Yet the people of Israel rebelled[e] against me in the desert. They did not follow my decrees but rejected my laws — although the man who obeys them will live by them — and they utterly desecrated my Sabbaths. So I said I would pour out my wrath on them and destroy them in the desert. 14But for the sake of my name I did what would keep it from being profaned in the eyes of the nations in whose sight I had brought them out. 15Also with uplifted hand I swore to them in the desert that I would not bring them into the land I had given them — a land flowing with milk and honey, most beautiful of all lands[f] — 16because they rejected my laws and did not follow my decrees and desecrated my Sabbaths. For their hearts were devoted to their idols.[g] 17Yet I looked on them with pity and did not destroy them or put an end to them in the desert. 18I said to their children in the desert, "Do not follow the statutes of your fathers or keep their laws or defile yourselves with their idols. 19I am the LORD your God; follow my decrees and be careful to keep my laws.[h] 20Keep my Sabbaths holy, that they may be a sign between us. Then you will know that I am the LORD your God."
21" 'But the children rebelled against me: They did not follow my decrees, they were not careful to keep my laws — although the man who obeys them will live by them — and they desecrated my Sabbaths. So I said I would pour out my wrath on them and spend my anger against them in the desert. 22But I withheld[i] my hand, and for the sake of my name I did what would keep it from being profaned in the eyes of the nations in whose sight I had brought them out. 23Also with uplifted hand

20:1 [v] Eze 8:1
20:3 [w] Eze 14:3
20:4 [x] Eze 16:2; 22:2
20:6 [y] Ex 3:8 [z] Dt 8:7
20:7 [a] Dt 29:18
20:8 [b] Eze 7:8
20:9 [c] Eze 36:22
20:11 [d] Lev 18:5
20:13 [e] Ps 78:40
20:15 [f] Ps 95:11
20:16 [g] Am 5:26
20:19 [h] Dt 5:32-33
20:22 [i] Ps 78:38

20:1ff Here Ezekiel gives a panoramic view of Israel's history of rebellion. The emphasis is on God's attempts to bring the nation back to himself and on God's mercy for his constantly rebellious and disobedient people. Ezekiel gives the message that the people alone are responsible for the troubles and judgments they have experienced. Those who persist in rebellion God will "purge" (20:38), while he will bring the faithful "into the land of Israel, the land I had sworn with uplifted hand to give to your fathers." The reason: that "you will know that I am the LORD" (20:42).

20:12, 13 The Sabbath, instituted by God at creation, was entrusted to Israel as a sign that God had created and redeemed them (Exodus 20:8–11; Deuteronomy 5:12–15). This day of rest was a gift from a loving God, not a difficult obligation. But the people repeatedly desecrated the Sabbath and ignored their God (see also 20:20, 21). It was meant to be a memory device but they ignored it. Today, many Christians celebrate the Lord's Day, Sunday, as their Sabbath. Whatever the day, we must be careful to fulfill God's purpose for the Sabbath. He wants us to rest, to refocus, and to remember him.

20:23, 24 At the very beginning of Israel's history, God clearly

I swore to them in the desert that I would disperse them among the nations and 20:23 scatter[i] them through the countries, [24]because they had not obeyed my laws but [i]Lev 26:33 had rejected my decrees and desecrated my Sabbaths, and their eyes lusted after[k]
20:24 their fathers' idols. [25]I also gave them over[l] to statutes that were not good and laws
[k]Eze 6:9 they could not live by; [26]I let them become defiled through their gifts — the sacrifice
20:25 of every firstborn[o] — that I might fill them with horror so they would know that I [l]Ps 81:12 am the LORD.'

[27]"Therefore, son of man, speak to the people of Israel and say to them, 'This is 20:27 what the Sovereign LORD says: In this also your fathers blasphemed[m] me by for[m]Ro 2:24 saking me: [28]When I brought them into the land I had sworn to give them and they saw any high hill or any leafy tree, there they offered their sacrifices, made offerings that provoked me to anger, presented their fragrant incense and poured out 20:28 their drink offerings.[n] [29]Then I said to them: What is this high place you go to?' "
[n]Eze 6:13 (It is called Bamah[p] to this day.)

Judgment and Restoration

[30]"Therefore say to the house of Israel: 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says:
Will you defile yourselves the way your fathers did and lust after their vile im-20:30 ages?[o] [31]When you offer your gifts — the sacrifice of your sons[p] in[q] the [o]Jer 16:12 fire — you continue to defile yourselves with all your idols to this day. Am I to let 20:31 you inquire of me, O house of Israel? As surely as I live, declares the Sovereign
[p]Eze 16:20 [q]Ps 106:37-39 LORD, I will not let you inquire of me.[q]

[32]" 'You say, "We want to be like the nations, like the peoples of the world, who serve wood and stone." But what you have in mind will never happen. [33]As surely as I live, declares the Sovereign LORD, I will rule over you with a mighty hand and 20:33 an outstretched arm and with outpoured wrath.[r] [34]I will bring you from the nations
[r]Jer 21:5 and gather you from the countries where you have been scattered — with a mighty 20:34 hand and an outstretched arm and with outpoured wrath.[s] [35]I will bring you into
[s]Jer 44:6 the desert of the nations and there, face to face, I will execute judgment upon you.
[36]As I judged your fathers in the desert of the land of Egypt, so I will judge you,
20:37 declares the Sovereign LORD. [37]I will take note of you as you pass under my rod,[t]
[t]Lev 27:32 and I will bring you into the bond of the covenant. [38]I will purge[u] you of those who 20:38 revolt and rebel against me. Although I will bring them out of the land where they [u]Eze 34:17-22 are living, yet they will not enter the land of Israel. Then you will know that I am the LORD.

[39]" 'As for you, O house of Israel, this is what the Sovereign LORD says: Go and serve your idols, every one of you! But afterward you will surely listen to me and no longer profane my holy name with your gifts and idols. [40]For on my holy

[o] 26 Or —making every firstborn pass through the fire, [p] 29 Bamah means high place. [q] 31 Or —making your sons pass through warned the people about the consequences of disobedience (Deuteronomy 28:15ff). When the people disobeyed, God let them experience those devastating consequences to remind them of the seriousness of their sins. If you choose to live for yourself, apart from God, you may experience similar destructive consequences. However, even through such consequences, God may be drawing you to himself. Let your misfortunes bring you to your senses and to the merciful God before it is too late.

---

20:25 Why would God give them laws that weren't good? This isn't talking about any aspect of the Mosaic Law – Ezekiel reinforces that law (20:11, 13, 21). Evidently the Jews had taken Exodus 13:12 and 22:29, the dedication of firstborn animals and children, as a justification for child sacrifice to the Canaanite god Molech. God was giving them over to this delusion to get them to acknowledge him, to jar their consciences, and to revitalize their faith (20:26).

20:35, 36 When the Israelites disobeyed God by refusing to enter the promised land the first time, God chose to purify his people by forcing them to wander in the desert until that entire generation died (Numbers 14:26–35). Here he promised to purge the nation of its rebellious people again as they cross the vast desert from their captivity in Babylon. Only those who faithfully followed God would be able to return to their land. The purpose of this desert judgment would be to purge all those who worship idols and to restore all those faithful to God.

20:39 The Israelites were worshiping idols and giving gifts to God at the same time! They did not believe in their God as the one true God; instead, they worshiped him along with the other gods of the land. Perhaps they enjoyed the immoral pleasures of idol worship; or perhaps they didn't want to miss out on the benefits the idols might give them. Often people believe in God and give him gifts of church attendance or service, while still holding on to their idols of money, power, or pleasure. They don't want to miss out on any possible benefits. But God wants all of our lives and all of our devotion; he will not share it because devotion to anything else is idol worship. Beware of trying to keep God pleased while you also pursue the pleasures of sin. You must choose one or the other.

mountain, the high mountain of Israel, declares the Sovereign LORD, there in the land the entire house of Israel will serve me, and there I will accept them. There I will require your offerings[v] and your choice gifts,[r] along with all your holy sacrifices.[w] 41I will accept you as fragrant incense when I bring you out from the nations and gather you from the countries where you have been scattered, and I will show myself holy among you in the sight of the nations. 42Then you will know that I am the LORD, when I bring you into the land of Israel,[x] the land I had sworn with uplifted hand to give to your fathers. 43There you will remember your conduct and all the actions by which you have defiled yourselves, and you will loathe yourselves for all the evil you have done.[y] 44You will know that I am the LORD, when I deal with you for my name's sake[z] and not according to your evil ways and your corrupt practices, O house of Israel, declares the Sovereign LORD.' "

20:40 [v] Isa 60:7 [w] Isa 56:7
20:42 [x] Eze 34:13
20:43 [y] Eze 16:61; Hos 5:15
20:44 [z] Eze 36:22

Prophecy Against the South

45The word of the LORD came to me: 46"Son of man, set your face toward the south; preach against the south and prophesy against[a] the forest of the southland. 47Say to the southern forest: 'Hear the word of the LORD. This is what the Sovereign LORD says: I am about to set fire to you, and it will consume all your trees, both green and dry. The blazing flame will not be quenched, and every face from south to north will be scorched by it. 48Everyone will see that I the LORD have kindled it; it will not be quenched.[b]' "

20:46 [a] Eze 21:2
20:48 [b] Jer 7:20

49Then I said, "Ah, Sovereign LORD! They are saying of me, 'Isn't he just telling parables?' "

Babylon, God's Sword of Judgment

21 The word of the LORD came to me: 2"Son of man, set your face against Jerusalem and preach against the sanctuary. Prophesy against[c] the land of Israel 3and say to her: 'This is what the LORD says: I am against you. I will draw my sword from its scabbard and cut off from you both the righteous and the wicked. 4Because I am going to cut off the righteous and the wicked, my sword will be unsheathed against everyone from south to north.[d] 5Then all people will know that I the LORD have drawn my sword from its scabbard; it will not return again.'

21:2 [c] Eze 20:46
21:4 [d] Eze 20:47

6"Therefore groan, son of man! Groan before them with broken heart and bitter grief.[e] 7And when they ask you, 'Why are you groaning?' you shall say, 'Because of the news that is coming. Every heart will melt and every hand go limp;[f] every spirit will become faint and every knee become as weak as water.' It is coming! It will surely take place, declares the Sovereign LORD."

21:6 [e] Isa 22:4
21:7 [f] Eze 22:14

8The word of the LORD came to me: 9"Son of man, prophesy and say, 'This is what the Lord says:

" 'A sword, a sword,
sharpened and polished—10sharpened for the slaughter,[g] polished to flash like lightning!

21:10 [g] Isa 34:5-6

[r] 40 Or and the gifts of your firstfruits

20:45–47 "Toward the south" refers to Jerusalem and Judah. "The southland" is the region of the Negev, which is compared to a forest about to be destroyed by fire.

20:49 Ezekiel was exasperated and discouraged. Many Israelites were complaining that he spoke only in riddles ("parables"), so they refused to listen. No matter how important our work or how significant our ministry, we will have moments of discouragement. Apparently God did not answer Ezekiel's plea; instead, he gave Ezekiel another message to proclaim. What has been discouraging you? Have you felt like giving up? Instead, continue doing what God has told you to do. He promises to reward the faithful (Mark 13:13). God's cure for discouragement may be another assignment. In serving others, we may find the renewal we need.

21:1ff The short message in 20:45–48 introduces the first of three messages about the judgments that would come upon Jerusalem: (1) the sword of the Lord (21:1–7); (2) the sharpened sword (21:8–17); (3) the sword of Nebuchadnezzar (21:18–22). The city would be destroyed because it was defiled. According to Jewish law, defiled objects were to be passed through fire in order to purify them (see Numbers 31:22, 23; Psalm 66:10–12; Proverbs 17:3). God's judgment is designed to purify; destruction is often a necessary part of that process.

" 'Shall we rejoice in the scepter of my son ⌞Judah⌟? The sword despises every such stick.

11" 'The sword is appointed to be polished, to be grasped with the hand;
it is sharpened and polished,
made ready for the hand of the slayer.
12Cry out and wail, son of man,
for it is against my people;
it is against all the princes of Israel.
They are thrown to the sword along with my people.
Therefore beat your breast.[h]

21:12 [h] Jer 31:19

13" 'Testing will surely come. And what if the scepter ⌞of Judah⌟, which the sword despises, does not continue? declares the Sovereign LORD.'

14"So then, son of man, prophesy and strike your hands[i] together.
Let the sword strike twice,
even three times.
It is a sword for slaughter—
a sword for great slaughter, closing in on them from every side.
15So that hearts may melt and the fallen be many,
I have stationed the sword for slaughter[s] at all their gates.
Oh! It is made to flash like lightning, it is grasped for slaughter.
16O sword, slash to the right, then to the left,
wherever your blade is turned.
17I too will strike my hands[j] together,
and my wrath will subside.
I the LORD have spoken."

21:14 [i] Nu 24:10

21:17 [j] Eze 22:13

18The word of the LORD came to me: 19"Son of man, mark out two roads for the sword of the king of Babylon to take, both starting from the same country. Make a signpost where the road branches off to the city. 20Mark out one road for the sword to come against Rabbah of the Ammonites and another against Judah and fortified Jerusalem. 21For the king of Babylon will stop at the fork in the road, at the junction of the two roads, to seek an omen: He will cast lots[k] with arrows, he will consult his idols, he will examine the liver.[l] 22Into his right hand will come the lot for Jerusalem, where he is to set up battering rams, to give the command to slaughter, to sound the battle cry, to set battering rams against the gates, to build a ramp and to erect siege works.[m] 23It will seem like a false omen to those who have sworn allegiance to him, but he will remind them of their guilt and take them captive.

21:21 [k] Pr 16:33 [l] Nu 23:23

21:22 [m] Eze 4:2

[s] 15 Septuagint; the meaning of the Hebrew for this word is uncertain.

21:12 Beating the breast was a gesture of grief.

21:18–23 Ammon evidently rebelled against Babylon about the same time as King Zedekiah of Judah. In 589 B.C. the nations of Judah and Ammon were among those who conspired against Babylon (Jeremiah 27:3). Ezekiel gave this message to the exiles who had heard the news and were again filled with hope of returning to their homeland. Ezekiel said that Babylon's king would march his armies into the region to stop the rebellion. Traveling from the north, he would stop at a fork in the road, one leading to Rabbah, the capital of Ammon, and the other leading to Jerusalem, the capital of Judah. He had to decide which city to destroy. Just as Ezekiel predicted, King Nebuchadnezzar went to Jerusalem and besieged it.

21:21 Nebuchadnezzar had three ways to get advice on the future. One was shaking the arrows, much like drawing straws, to see which course of action was right; the second was consulting an idol to see if some spirit might direct him; the third was having priests inspect the liver of a sacrificed animal to see if its shape and size would indicate a decision.

24"Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: 'Because you people have brought to mind your guilt by your open rebellion, revealing your sins in all that you do — because you have done this, you will be taken captive.

25" 'O profane and wicked prince of Israel, whose day has come, whose time of punishment has reached its climax, 26this is what the Sovereign LORD says: Take off the turban, remove the crown.[n] It will not be as it was: The lowly will be exalted and the exalted will be brought low. 27A ruin! A ruin! I will make it a ruin! It will not be restored until he comes to whom it rightfully belongs; to him I will give it.'[o]

28"And you, son of man, prophesy and say, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says about the Ammonites and their insults:

" 'A sword, a sword,
drawn for the slaughter,
polished to consume
and to flash like lightning!
29Despite false visions concerning you and lying divinations about you, it will be laid on the necks of the wicked who are to be slain, whose day has come,
whose time of punishment has reached its climax.[p] 30Return the sword to its scabbard.[q]
In the place where you were created, in the land of your ancestry,
I will judge you.
31I will pour out my wrath upon you and breathe out my fiery anger[r] against you;
I will hand you over to brutal men,
men skilled in destruction.
32You will be fuel for the fire,
your blood will be shed in your land,
you will be remembered[s] no more;
for I the LORD have spoken.' "

21:26 [n] Jer 13:18

21:27 [o] Ps 2:6; Eze 37:24

21:29 [p] Eze 22:28

21:30 [q] Jer 47:6

21:31 [r] Eze 22:20-21

21:32 [s] Eze 25:10

Jerusalem's Sins

22 The word of the LORD came to me: 2"Son of man, will you judge her? Will you judge this city of bloodshed?[t] Then confront her with all her detestable practices 3and say: 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: O city that brings on herself doom by shedding blood in her midst and defiles herself by making idols, 4you have become guilty because of the blood you have shed[u] and have become defiled by the idols you have made. You have brought your days to a close, and the end of your years has come. Therefore I will make you an object of scorn to the nations and a laughingstock to all the countries. 5Those who are near and those who are far away will mock you, O infamous city, full of turmoil.

6" 'See how each of the princes of Israel who are in you uses his power to shed blood. 7In you they have treated father and mother with contempt;[v] in you they have oppressed the alien and mistreated the fatherless and the widow.[w] 8You have

22:2 [t] Na 3:1

22:4 [u] 2Ki 21:16

22:7 [v] Dt 5:16 [w] Ex 22:21-22

21:28 The Ammonites and Israelites were usually fighting with each other. God told the Israelites not to ally with foreign nations, but Judah and Ammon united against Babylon in 589 B.C. (Jeremiah 27:3). God first judged Judah when Nebuchadnezzar first went to Jerusalem (21:22); but Ammon will also be judged, not for allying with Judah, but for watching Jerusalem's destruction with insulting delight.

22:1ff Chapter 22 explains why Jerusalem's judgment would come (22:2–16), how it would come (22:17–22), and who would be judged by it (22:23–31).

22:6–13 The leaders were especially responsible for the moral climate of the nation because God chose them to lead. The same is true today (see James 3:1). Unfortunately, many of the sins mentioned here have been committed in recent years by Christian leaders. We are living in a time of unprecedented attacks by Satan. We must uphold our leaders in prayer, and leaders must seek accountability to help them keep their moral and spiritual integrity.

despised my holy things and desecrated my Sabbaths. 9In you are slanderous men bent on shedding blood; in you are those who eat at the mountain shrines and commit lewd acts. 10In you are those who dishonor their fathers' bed; in you are those who violate women during their period, when they are ceremonially unclean.[x] 11In you one man commits a detestable offense with his neighbor's wife, another shamefully defiles his daughter-in-law,[y] and another violates his sister, his own father's daughter. 12In you men accept bribes to shed blood; you take usury and excessive interest[t] and make unjust gain from your neighbors by extortion. And you have forgotten me, declares the Sovereign LORD.

13" 'I will surely strike my hands together at the unjust gain you have made and at the blood you have shed in your midst. 14Will your courage endure or your hands be strong in the day I deal with you? I the LORD have spoken, and I will do it.[z] 15I will disperse you among the nations and scatter[a] you through the countries; and I will put an end to your uncleanness. 16When you have been defiled[u] in the eyes of the nations, you will know that I am the LORD.' "

17Then the word of the LORD came to me: 18"Son of man, the house of Israel has become dross to me; all of them are the copper, tin, iron and lead left inside a furnace. They are but the dross of silver.[b] 19Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: 'Because you have all become dross, I will gather you into Jerusalem. 20As men gather silver, copper, iron, lead and tin into a furnace to melt it with a fiery blast, so will I gather you in my anger and my wrath and put you inside the city and melt you. 21I will gather you and I will blow on you with my fiery wrath, and you will be melted inside her. 22As silver is melted in a furnace, so you will be melted inside her, and you will know that I the LORD have poured out my wrath upon you.' "

23Again the word of the LORD came to me: 24"Son of man, say to the land, 'You are a land that has had no rain or showers[v] in the day of wrath.' 25There is a conspiracy of her princes[w] within her like a roaring lion tearing its prey; they devour people,[c] take treasures and precious things and make many widows within her. 26Her priests do violence to my law and profane my holy things; they do not distinguish between the holy and the common; they teach that there is no difference between the unclean and the clean; and they shut their eyes to the keeping of my Sabbaths, so that I am profaned among them. 27Her officials within her are like wolves tearing their prey; they shed blood and kill people to make unjust gain.[d] 28Her prophets whitewash these deeds for them by false visions and lying divinations. They say, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says' — when the LORD has not spoken.[e] 29The people of the land practice extortion and commit robbery; they oppress the poor and needy and mistreat the alien,[f] denying them justice.

30"I looked for a man among them who would build up the wall[g] and stand before me in the gap on behalf of the land so I would not have to destroy it, but I found none.[h] 31So I will pour out my wrath on them and consume them with my fiery anger, bringing down on their own heads all they have done, declares the Sovereign LORD.[i]"

22:10 [x] Lev 18:8, 19
22:11 [y] Lev 18:15
22:14 [z] Eze 17:24
22:15 [a] Dt 4:27
22:18 [b] Jer 6:28-30
22:25 [c] Hos 6:9
22:27 [d] Isa 1:23
22:28 [e] Eze 13:2, 6-7
22:29 [f] Ex 22:21
22:30 [g] Eze 13:5 [h] Ps 106:23; Jer 5:1
22:31 [i] Eze 7:8-9

[t] 12 Or usury and interest [u] 16 Or When I have allotted you your inheritance [v] 24 Septuagint; Hebrew has not been cleansed or rained on [w] 25 Septuagint; Hebrew prophets

22:17–22 Precious metals are refined with intense heat to remove the impurities. When heated, the dross (impurities) rises to the top of the molten metal and is skimmed off and thrown away. The purpose of the invasion of Jerusalem was to refine the people, but the refining process showed that the people, like worthless dross, had nothing good in them.

22:26 The priests were supposed to keep God's worship pure and teach the people right living. But the worship of God had become commonplace to them; they ignored the Sabbath, and they refused to teach the people. They no longer carried out their God-given duties (Leviticus 10:10, 11; Ezekiel 44:23). When doing God's work becomes no more important than any mundane task, we are no longer giving God the reverence he deserves. Instead of bringing God down to our level, we should live up to his level.

22:30 The wall spoken of here is not made of stones, but of faithful people united in their efforts to resist evil. This wall was in disrepair because there was no one who could lead the people back to God. The feeble attempts to repair the gap — through religious rituals or messages based on opinion rather than God's will — were as worthless as whitewash, only covering over the real problems. What the people really needed was total spiritual reconstruction! When we give the appearance of loving God without living his way, we are covering up sins that could eventually damage us beyond repair. Don't use religion as a whitewash; repair your life by applying the principles of God's Word. Then you can join with others to stand "in the gap" and make a difference for God in the world.

Two Adulterous Sisters

23 The word of the LORD came to me: 2"Son of man, there were two women, daughters of the same mother. 3They became prostitutes in Egypt, engaging in prostitution from their youth. In that land their breasts were fondled and their virgin bosoms caressed. 4The older was named Oholah, and her sister was Oholibah. They were mine and gave birth to sons and daughters. Oholah is Samaria, and Oholibah is Jerusalem.

5"Oholah engaged in prostitution while she was still mine; and she lusted after her lovers, the Assyrians — warriors[j] 6clothed in blue, governors and commanders, all of them handsome young men, and mounted horsemen. 7She gave herself as a prostitute to all the elite of the Assyrians and defiled herself with all the idols of everyone she lusted after.[k] 8She did not give up the prostitution she began in Egypt,[l] when during her youth men slept with her, caressed her virgin bosom and poured out their lust upon her.

9"Therefore I handed her over to her lovers, the Assyrians, for whom she lusted. 10They stripped her naked, took away her sons and daughters and killed her with the sword. She became a byword among women, and punishment was inflicted on her.[m]

11"Her sister Oholibah saw this, yet in her lust and prostitution she was more depraved than her sister.[n] 12She too lusted after the Assyrians — governors and commanders, warriors in full dress, mounted horsemen, all handsome young men.[o] 13I saw that she too defiled herself; both of them went the same way.

14"But she carried her prostitution still further. She saw men portrayed on a wall,[p] figures of Chaldeans[x] portrayed in red, 15with belts around their waists and flowing turbans on their heads; all of them looked like Babylonian chariot officers, natives of Chaldea.[y] 16As soon as she saw them, she lusted after them and sent messengers to them in Chaldea. 17Then the Babylonians came to her, to the bed of love, and in their lust they defiled her. After she had been defiled by them, she turned away from them in disgust. 18When she carried on her prostitution openly and exposed her nakedness, I turned away[q] from her in disgust, just as I had turned away from her sister. 19Yet she became more and more promiscuous as she recalled the days of her youth, when she was a prostitute in Egypt. 20There she lusted after her lovers, whose genitals were like those of donkeys and whose emission was like that of horses. 21So you longed for the lewdness of your youth, when in Egypt your bosom was caressed and your young breasts fondled.[z]

22"Therefore, Oholibah, this is what the Sovereign LORD says: I will stir up your

23:5 [j]Hos 8:9

23:7 [k]Hos 5:3

23:8 [l]Ex 32:4

23:10 [m]Eze 16:36

23:11 [n]Jer 3:8-11

23:12 [o]2Ki 16:7-15

23:14 [p]Eze 8:10

23:18 [q]Jer 6:8

[x] 14 Or Babylonians [y] 15 Or Babylonia; also in verse 16 [z] 21 Syriac (see also verse 3); Hebrew caressed because of your young breasts

23:1ff Ezekiel continued his discussion of the reasons for God's judgment by telling a further allegory. He compared the northern and southern kingdoms to two sisters who became prostitutes. The proud citizens of Jerusalem had long scorned their sister city of Samaria, thinking that they of Jerusalem were superior. But God called both of these cities prostitutes — a shock to the people of Jerusalem who thought that they were righteous. Just as the imagery of this message was shocking and distasteful to the people, so our sins are repugnant to God.

23:4-6 Oholah (meaning, "her tent"), the northern kingdom of Israel, was lured away from God by the dashing Assyrians — their fashionable clothes and powerful positions. The people coveted youth, strength, power, wealth, and pleasure — the same qualities people think will bring happiness today. But the charming Assyrians drew Israel away from God.

23:11ff Oholibah (meaning, "my tent is in her") was shown to be worse because she did not learn from the judgment upon her sister, but continued in her lust for the Assyrians and Babylonians. Therefore, her judgment was equally certain. Just as Oholibah was privileged and should have known better, so we are privileged because we know about Christ. We need to be doubly sure that we follow him.

23:12 "She too lusted after the Assyrians" may mean excessively trying to please and probably refers to Ahaz paying protection money to Tiglath-Pileser III (2 Kings 16:7, 8).

23:16 An invitation to Chaldea (Babylon) was given by Hezekiah to the envoys from Babylon (2 Kings 20:12ff; Isaiah 38; 39).

23:17 At first, Judah made an alliance with Babylonia (Chaldea), but then changed its mind. During the reigns of the last two Judean kings, Jehoiakim and Zedekiah, Judah looked to Egypt for help. Judah's unfaithfulness (its alliances with godless nations) cost it the only real protection it ever had — God.

23:21 "Lewdness" is promiscuity (see also 23:27, 49) — giving sexual favors instead of being faithful to a spouse or to God. We don't think of ourselves as being spiritually promiscuous, but we often spend more time seeking advice from magazines, television commercials, and non-Christian experts than we do from God and his Word.

23:22-26 This predicts the last attack on Jerusalem that would destroy the city and bring to Babylonia the third wave of captives in 586 B.C. (2 Kings 25; Jeremiah 52). The first attack came in 605 B.C., the second in 597 B.C. Pekod, Shoa, and Koa were Babylonian allies.

lovers against you, those you turned away from in disgust, and I will bring them
23:22 [r] Eze 16:37 against you from every side[r]— 23the Babylonians and all the Chaldeans, the men
23:23 [s] Jer 50:21 of Pekod[s] and Shoa and Koa, and all the Assyrians with them, handsome young men, all of them governors and commanders, chariot officers and men of high rank, all mounted on horses. 24They will come against you with weapons,[a] chariots and wagons and with a throng of people; they will take up positions against you on every side with large and small shields and with helmets. I will turn you over to 23:24 [t] Jer 39:5-6 them for punishment,[t] and they will punish you according to their standards. 25I will direct my jealous anger against you, and they will deal with you in fury. They will cut off your noses and your ears, and those of you who are left will fall by the 23:25 [u] ver 47 sword. They will take away your sons and daughters,[u] and those of you who are left will be consumed by fire. 26They will also strip you of your clothes and take 23:26 [v] Eze 16:39 your fine jewelry.[v] 27So I will put a stop[w] to the lewdness and prostitution you
23:27 [w] Eze 16:41 began in Egypt. You will not look on these things with longing or remember Egypt anymore.

28"For this is what the Sovereign LORD says: I am about to hand you over to those you hate, to those you turned away from in disgust. 29They will deal with you in hatred and take away everything you have worked for. They will leave you naked and bare, and the shame of your prostitution will be exposed. Your lewdness and promiscuity 30have brought this upon you, because you lusted after the nations and defiled yourself with their idols. 31You have gone the way of your sister; so I will put her cup into your hand.

32"This is what the Sovereign LORD says:

"You will drink your sister's cup,
a cup large and deep;
it will bring scorn and derision,
for it holds so much.[x] 33You will be filled with drunkenness and sorrow, the cup of ruin and desolation,
the cup of your sister Samaria.
34You will drink it and drain it dry;
you will dash it to pieces and tear your breasts.

23:32 [x] Isa 51:17; Jer 25:15

I have spoken, declares the Sovereign LORD.

35"Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: Since you have forgotten me 23:35 [y] 1Ki 14:9 and thrust me behind your back,[y] you must bear the consequences of your lewdness and prostitution."

36The LORD said to me: "Son of man, will you judge Oholah and Oholibah? Then 23:36 [z] Isa 58:1 confront them with their detestable practices,[z] 37for they have committed adultery and blood is on their hands. They committed adultery with their idols; they even sacrificed their children, whom they bore to me,[b] as food for them. 38They have also done this to me: At that same time they defiled my sanctuary and desecrated my Sabbaths. 39On the very day they sacrificed their children to their idols, they entered my sanctuary and desecrated it. That is what they did in my house.

40"They even sent messengers for men who came from far away, and when they 23:40 [a] 2Ki 9:30 [b] Jer 4:30 arrived you bathed yourself for them, painted your eyes[a] and put on your jewelry,[b] 41You sat on an elegant couch,[c] with a table spread before it on which you
23:41 [c] Est 1:6 had placed the incense and oil that belonged to me.

42"The noise of a carefree crowd was around her; Sabeans[c] were brought from the desert along with men from the rabble, and they put bracelets on the arms of the

[a] 24 The meaning of the Hebrew for this word is uncertain. [b] 37 Or even made the children they bore to me pass through the fire, [c] 42 Or drunkards

23:39 The Israelites went so far as to sacrifice their own children to idols and then to sacrifice to the Lord the same day. This made a mockery of worship. We cannot praise God and willfully sin at the same time. That would be like celebrating one's wedding anniversary and then going to bed with a neighbor.

woman and her sister and beautiful crowns on their heads. 43Then I said about the one worn out by adultery, 'Now let them use her as a prostitute, for that is all she is.' 44And they slept with her. As men sleep with a prostitute, so they slept with those lewd women, Oholah and Oholibah. 45But righteous men will sentence them to the punishment of women who commit adultery and shed blood, because they are adulterous and blood is on their hands.[d]

46"This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Bring a mob against them and give them over to terror and plunder. 47The mob will stone them and cut them down with their swords; they will kill their sons and daughters and burn[e] down their houses.

48"So I will put an end to lewdness in the land, that all women may take warning and not imitate you.[f] 49You will suffer the penalty for your lewdness and bear the consequences of your sins of idolatry. Then you will know that I am the Sovereign LORD."

23:45 [d] Eze 16:38

23:47 [e] 2Ch 36:19

23:48 [f] 2Pe 2:6

The Cooking Pot

24 In the ninth year, in the tenth month on the tenth day, the word of the LORD came to me: 2"Son of man, record this date, this very date, because the king of Babylon has laid siege to Jerusalem this very day.[g] 3Tell this rebellious house a parable[h] and say to them: 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says:

24:2 [g] 2Ki 25:1; Jer 39:1

24:3 [h] Eze 20:49 [i] Eze 11:3

" 'Put on the cooking pot;[i] put it on and pour water into it.
4Put into it the pieces of meat,
all the choice pieces—the leg and the shoulder.
Fill it with the best of these bones;
5 take the pick of the flock.
Pile wood beneath it for the bones;
bring it to a boil
and cook the bones in it.

6" 'For this is what the Sovereign LORD says:

" 'Woe to the city of bloodshed,[j]
to the pot now encrusted, whose deposit will not go away!
Empty it piece by piece without casting lots for them.

24:6 [j] Eze 22:2

7" 'For the blood she shed is in her midst:
She poured it on the bare rock;
she did not pour it on the ground,
where the dust would cover it.[k]
8To stir up wrath and take revenge
I put her blood on the bare rock, so that it would not be covered.

24:7 [k] Lev 17:13

9" 'Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says:

" 'Woe to the city of bloodshed!
I, too, will pile the wood high.

24:1–14 Ezekiel gave this illustration in 588 B.C., three years after the first of the previous messages (see 20:1, 2). The people in Judah thought they were the choice meat because they hadn't been taken into captivity in 597 when the Babylonians last invaded the land. Ezekiel used this illustration before (chapter 11) to show that though the people thought they were safe and secure inside the cooking pot, this pot would actually be the place of their destruction. This message was given to the exiles in Babylonia the very day that the Babylonians attacked Jerusalem (24:2), beginning a siege that lasted over two years and resulted in the city's destruction. When God's punishment comes, it is relentless.

24:6–13 The city of Jerusalem was like a pot so encrusted with sin that it would not come clean. God wanted to cleanse the lives of those who lived in Jerusalem, and he wants to cleanse our lives today. Sometimes he tries to purify us through difficulties and troublesome circumstances. When you face tough times, allow the sin to be burned from your life. Look at your problems as an opportunity for your faith to grow. When these times come, unnecessary priorities and diversions are purged away. We can reexamine our lives so that we will do what really counts.

10 So heap on the wood and kindle the fire.
Cook the meat well,
mixing in the spices;
and let the bones be charred.
11 Then set the empty pot on the coals till it becomes hot and its copper glows so its impurities may be melted and its deposit burned away.
12 It has frustrated all efforts; its heavy deposit has not been removed,
not even by fire.

13 " 'Now your impurity is lewdness. Because I tried to cleanse you but you would not be cleansed from your impurity, you will not be clean again until my wrath against you has subsided.[l]

24:13 [l] Jer 6:28-30

14 " 'I the LORD have spoken. The time has come for me to act. I will not hold back; I will not have pity, nor will I relent. You will be judged according to your conduct and your actions,[m] declares the Sovereign LORD.' "

24:14 [m] Eze 36:19

Ezekiel's Wife Dies

15 The word of the LORD came to me: 16 "Son of man, with one blow I am about to take away from you the delight of your eyes. Yet do not lament or weep or shed any tears.[n] 17 Groan quietly; do not mourn for the dead. Keep your turban fastened and your sandals on your feet; do not cover the lower part of your face or eat the customary food of mourners."

24:16 [n] Jer 13:17

18 So I spoke to the people in the morning, and in the evening my wife died. The next morning I did as I had been commanded.

19 Then the people asked me, "Won't you tell us what these things have to do with us?[o]"

24:19 [o] Eze 12:9

20 So I said to them, "The word of the LORD came to me: 21 Say to the house of Israel, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: I am about to desecrate my sanctuary — the stronghold in which you take pride, the delight of your eyes, the object of your affection. The sons and daughters you left behind will fall by the sword. 22 And you will do as I have done. You will not cover the lower part of your face or eat the customary food of mourners.[p] 23 You will keep your turbans on your heads and your sandals on your feet. You will not mourn or weep but will waste away because of[d] your sins and groan among yourselves.[q] 24 Ezekiel will be a sign[r] to you; you will do just as he has done. When this happens, you will know that I am the Sovereign LORD.'

24:22 [p] Jer 16:7

24:23 [q] Ps 78:64

24:24 [r] Eze 12:11

25 "And you, son of man, on the day I take away their stronghold, their joy and glory, the delight of their eyes, their heart's desire, and their sons and daughters as well — 26 on that day a fugitive will come to tell you the news. 27 At that time your mouth will be opened; you will speak with him and will no longer be silent. So you will be a sign to them, and they will know that I am the LORD.[s]"

24:27 [s] Eze 3:26

[d] 23 Or away in

24:15–18 God told Ezekiel that his wife would die and that he should not grieve for her. Ezekiel obeyed God fully, even as Hosea did when he was told to marry an unfaithful woman (Hosea 1:2, 3). In both cases, these unusual events were intended as symbolic acts to picture God's relationship with his people. Obeying God can carry a high cost. The only grief more excruciating than losing your spouse and not being allowed to grieve would be to lose eternal life because you did not obey God. Ezekiel always obeyed God wholeheartedly. We should be wholehearted in our obedience. We can begin by doing all that God commands us to do, even when we don't feel like it. Are you willing to serve God as completely as Ezekiel did?

24:20–24 Ezekiel was not allowed to mourn for his dead wife in order to show his fellow exiles that they were not to mourn over Jerusalem when it was destroyed. Any personal sorrow felt would soon be eclipsed by national sorrow over the horror of the city's total destruction. The individuals would waste away because of their sins, which caused the city's destruction.

24:27 For some time Ezekiel had not been allowed to speak except when God gave him a message to deliver to the people (3:25–27). This restriction would soon end when Jerusalem was destroyed and all Ezekiel's prophecies about Judah and Jerusalem had come true (33:21, 22).

B. MESSAGES AGAINST FOREIGN NATIONS (25:1 — 32:32)

These messages were given concerning seven nations which surrounded Judah. The Ammonites were judged because of their joy over the desecration of the temple, the Moabites because they scorned Judah as special people, the Edomites because of their special hatred of the Jews, and the Philistines because of their vengeance. All these nations would soon realize that God is supreme. Nations today are also under limits imposed by God.

A Prophecy Against Ammon

25 The word of the LORD came to me: 2"Son of man, set your face against the Ammonites and prophesy against them.[t] 3Say to them, 'Hear the word of the Sovereign LORD. This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Because you said "Aha![u]" over my sanctuary when it was desecrated and over the land of Israel when it was laid waste and over the people of Judah when they went into exile, 4therefore I am going to give you to the people of the East as a possession. They will set up their camps and pitch their tents among you; they will eat your fruit and drink your milk. 5I will turn Rabbah into a pasture for camels and Ammon into a resting place for sheep.[v] Then you will know that I am the LORD. 6For this is what the Sovereign LORD says: Because you have clapped your hands and stamped your feet, rejoicing with all the malice of your heart against the land of Israel,[w] 7therefore I will stretch out my hand against you and give you as plunder to the nations. I will cut you off from the nations and exterminate you from the countries. I will destroy you, and you will know that I am the LORD.' "

25:2 [t]Jer 49:1-6

25:3 [u]Eze 26:2

25:5 [v]Isa 17:2

25:6 [w]Zep 2:8

A Prophecy Against Moab

8"This is what the Sovereign LORD says: 'Because Moab and Seir said, "Look, the house of Judah has become like all the other nations," 9therefore I will expose the flank of Moab, beginning at its frontier towns — Beth Jeshimoth[x], Baal Meon and Kiriathaim — the glory of that land. 10I will give Moab along with the Ammonites to the people of the East as a possession, so that the Ammonites will not be remembered[y] among the nations; 11and I will inflict punishment on Moab. Then they will know that I am the LORD.' "

25:9 [x]Nu 33:49

25:10 [y]Eze 21:32

A Prophecy Against Edom

12"This is what the Sovereign LORD says: 'Because Edom[z] took revenge on the house of Judah and became very guilty by doing so, 13therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: I will stretch out my hand against Edom and kill its men and

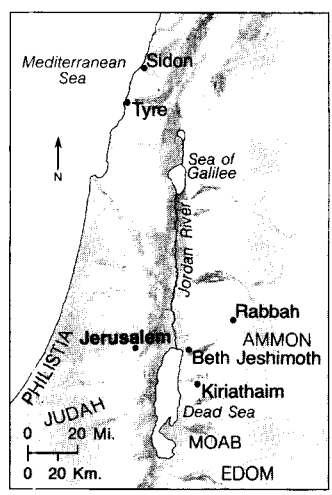
25:12 [z]2Ch 28:17

25:1ff Chapters 25 — 32 are God's word concerning the seven nations surrounding Judah. The judgments in these chapters are not simply the vengeful statements of Jews against their enemies; they are God's judgments on nations that failed to acknowledge the one true God and fulfill the good purposes God intended for them. The Ammonites were judged because of their joy over the desecration of the temple (25:1–7), the Moabites because they found pleasure in Judah's wickedness (25:8–11), the Edomites because of their racial hatred for the Jews (25:12–14), and the Philistines because they sought revenge against Judah for defeating them in battle (25:15–17).

25:5 Rabbah was the capital city of the Ammonites.

25:9 These towns were on the northern border of Moab.

25:13, 14 The Edomites were blood brothers of the Jews, both nations having descended from Isaac (Genesis 25:19–26). Edom shared its northern border with Israel, and the two nations were always in conflict. The Edomites hated Israel so much that they rejoiced when Jerusalem, Israel's capital, was destroyed. Teman was in the northern part of Edom; Dedan was in the southern part. Thus, Ezekiel was saying that the entire country would be destroyed.



JUDAH'S ENEMIES
Ammon, Moab, Edom, and Philistia, although once united with Judah against Babylon, had abandoned Judah and rejoiced to see its ruin. But these nations were as sinful as Judah and would also feel the sting of God's judgment.

their animals. I will lay it waste, and from Teman to Dedan[a] they will fall by the sword. 14I will take vengeance on Edom by the hand of my people Israel, and they will deal with Edom in accordance with my anger and my wrath; they will know my vengeance, declares the Sovereign LORD.' "

25:13 [a] Jer 25:23

A Prophecy Against Philistia

15"This is what the Sovereign LORD says: 'Because the Philistines[b] acted in vengeance and took revenge with malice in their hearts, and with ancient hostility sought to destroy Judah, 16therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: I am about to stretch out my hand against the Philistines, and I will cut off the Kerethites[c] and destroy those remaining along the coast. 17I will carry out great vengeance on them and punish them in my wrath. Then they will know that I am the LORD, when I take vengeance on them.' "

25:15 [b] 2Ch 28:18

25:16 [c] 1Sa 30:14

A Prophecy Against Tyre

26 In the eleventh year, on the first day of the month, the word of the LORD came to me: 2"Son of man, because Tyre has said of Jerusalem, 'Aha![d] The gate to the nations is broken, and its doors have swung open to me; now that she lies in ruins I will prosper,' 3therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: I am against you, O Tyre, and I will bring many nations against you, like the sea[e] casting up its waves. 4They will destroy the walls of Tyre[f] and pull down her towers; I will scrape away her rubble and make her a bare rock. 5Out in the sea[g] she will become a place to spread fishnets, for I have spoken, declares the Sovereign LORD. She will become plunder[h] for the nations, 6and her settlements on the mainland will be ravaged by the sword. Then they will know that I am the LORD.

26:2 [d] Eze 25:3

26:3 [e] Jer 50:42

26:4 [f] Am 1:10

26:5 [g] Eze 27:32 [h] Eze 29:19

7"For this is what the Sovereign LORD says: From the north I am going to bring against Tyre Nebuchadnezzar[e] king of Babylon, king of kings,[i] with horses and chariots, with horsemen and a great army. 8He will ravage your settlements on the mainland with the sword; he will set up siege works against you, build a ramp up to your walls and raise his shields against you. 9He will direct the blows of his battering rams against your walls and demolish your towers with his weapons. 10His horses will be so many that they will cover you with dust. Your walls will tremble at the noise of the war horses, wagons and chariots[j] when he enters your gates as men enter a city whose walls have been broken through. 11The hoofs of his horses will trample all your streets; he will kill your people with the sword, and your strong pillars[k] will fall to the ground. 12They will plunder your wealth and loot your merchandise; they will break down your walls and demolish your fine houses and throw your stones, timber and rubble into the sea. 13I will put an end to your noisy songs, and the music of your harps[l] will be heard no more.[m] 14I will make you a bare rock, and you will become a place to spread fishnets. You will never be rebuilt, for I the LORD have spoken, declares the Sovereign LORD.

26:7 [i] Ezr 7:12

26:10 [j] Jer 4:13

26:11 [k] Jer 43:13

26:13 [l] Isa 14:11 [m] Rev 18:22

15"This is what the Sovereign LORD says to Tyre: Will not the coastlands tremble[n] at the sound of your fall, when the wounded groan and the slaughter takes

26:15 [n] Jer 49:21

e 7 Hebrew Nebuchadrezzar, of which Nebuchadnezzar is a variant; here and often in Ezekiel and Jeremiah

---

25:16 The Kerethites originated in Crete, from which they take their name. They were either a clan of the Philistines, or possibly a separate people who migrated from the Aegean to Palestine about the same time. The Kerethites and Philistines were closely intermixed once they were in Palestine and are often mentioned together.

26:1ff This message came to Ezekiel in 586 B.C. Chapters 26 and 27 are a prophecy against Tyre, the capital of Phoenicia just north of Israel. Part of the city was on the coastline, and part was on a beautiful island. Tyre rejoiced when Jerusalem fell, because Tyre and Judah always competed for the lucrative trade that came through their lands from Egypt in the south and Mesopotamia to the north. Tyre dominated the sea trading routes while Judah dominated the land caravan routes. After Judah was defeated, Tyre thought it had all the trade routes to itself. But this gloating didn't last long. In 586 B.C., Nebuchadnezzar attacked the city. It took him 15 years to capture Tyre (586–571) because the city's back side lay on the sea so fresh supplies could be shipped in daily.

26:14 After a 15-year siege, Nebuchadnezzar could not conquer the part of Tyre located on the island; thus certain aspects of the description in 26:12, 14 exceed the actual damage done to Tyre by Nebuchadnezzar. But the prophecy predicted what would happen to the island settlement later during the conquests of Alexander the Great. Alexander threw the rubble of the mainland city into the sea until it made a bridge to the island. Then he marched across the bridge and destroyed the island (332 B.C.). Today the island city is still a pile of rubble, a testimony to God's judgment.

place in you? 16Then all the princes of the coast will step down from their thrones and lay aside their robes and take off their embroidered garments. Clothed with terror, they will sit on the ground, trembling every moment, appalled at you. 17Then they will take up a lament[o] concerning you and say to you:

" 'How you are destroyed, O city of renown, peopled by men of the sea!
You were a power on the seas,
you and your citizens;
you put your terror
on all who lived there.
18Now the coastlands tremble on the day of your fall;
the islands in the sea
are terrified at your collapse.'

19"This is what the Sovereign LORD says: When I make you a desolate city, like cities no longer inhabited, and when I bring the ocean depths over you and its vast waters cover you, 20then I will bring you down with those who go down to the pit, to the people of long ago. I will make you dwell in the earth below, as in ancient ruins, with those who go down to the pit, and you will not return or take your place[f] in the land of the living. 21I will bring you to a horrible end and you will be no more. You will be sought, but you will never again be found, declares the Sovereign LORD."[p]

26:17 [o] Eze 19:1

26:21 [p] Eze 27:36; 28:19

A Lament for Tyre

27 The word of the LORD came to me: 2"Son of man, take up a lament concerning Tyre. 3Say to Tyre, situated at the gateway to the sea, merchant of peoples on many coasts, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says:

" 'You say, O Tyre,
"I am perfect in beauty."
4Your domain was on the high seas;
your builders brought your beauty to perfection.
5They made all your timbers of pine trees from Senir[g];[q]
they took a cedar from Lebanon to make a mast for you.
6Of oaks[r] from Bashan
they made your oars;
of cypress wood[h] from the coasts of Cyprus[i]
they made your deck, inlaid with ivory.
7Fine embroidered linen from Egypt was your sail and served as your banner;
your awnings were of blue and purple
from the coasts of Elishah.
8Men of Sidon and Arvad were your oarsmen;
your skilled men, O Tyre, were aboard as your seamen.[s] 9Veteran craftsmen of Gebal[j] were on board as shipwrights to caulk your seams.

27:5 [q] Dt 3:9

27:6 [r] Zec 11:2

27:8 [s] 1Ki 9:27

[f] 20 Septuagint; Hebrew return, and I will give glory [g] 5 That is, Hermon [h] 6 Targum; the Masoretic Text has a different division of the consonants. [i] 6 Hebrew Kittim [j] 9 That is, Byblos

27:1ff Chapter 27 is a funeral lament over Tyre's fall. It compares the city to a ship (27:1–9), mentions many of its trading partners (27:10–25), and then describes how the ship sank (27:26–36). Jesus spoke of Tyre in Matthew 11:22 as a city worthy of God's judgment.

27:3, 4 The beauty of Tyre was the source of its pride, and Tyre's price guaranteed its judgment. Unwarranted conceit or pride in our own accomplishments should be a danger signal to us (see James 4:13–17). God is not against our finding pleasure or satisfaction in what we do; he is against arrogant, inflated self-esteem that looks down on others. We must acknowledge God as the basis and source of our lives.

All the ships of the sea and their sailors came alongside to trade for your wares.

27:10 [t]Eze 30:5

10" 'Men of Persia, Lydia and Put[t] served as soldiers in your army.
They hung their shields and helmets on your walls, bringing you splendor.
11Men of Arvad and Helech manned your walls on every side;
men of Gammad
were in your towers.
They hung their shields around your walls;
they brought your beauty to perfection.

12" 'Tarshish did business with you because of your great wealth of goods; they exchanged silver, iron, tin and lead for your merchandise.

27:13 [u]Ge 10:2 [v]Rev 18:13

13" 'Greece, Tubal and Meshech[u] traded with you; they exchanged slaves[v] and articles of bronze for your wares.

14" 'Men of Beth Togarmah exchanged work horses, war horses and mules for your merchandise.

27:15 [w]Ge 10:7 [x]Rev 18:12

15" 'The men of Rhodes[k w] traded with you, and many coastlands were your customers; they paid you with ivory[x] tusks and ebony.

16" 'Aram[l] did business with you because of your many products; they exchanged turquoise,[y] purple fabric, embroidered work, fine linen, coral and rubies for your merchandise.

27:16 [y]Eze 28:13

27:17 [z]Jdg 11:33

17" 'Judah and Israel traded with you; they exchanged wheat from Minnith[z] and confections,[m] honey, oil and balm for your wares.

27:18 [a]Eze 47:16-18

18" 'Damascus,[a] because of your many products and great wealth of goods, did business with you in wine from Helbon and wool from Zahar.

19" 'Danites and Greeks from Uzal bought your merchandise; they exchanged wrought iron, cassia and calamus for your wares.

20" 'Dedan traded in saddle blankets with you.

21" 'Arabia and all the princes of Kedar were your customers; they did business with you in lambs, rams and goats.

27:22 [b]Ge 10:7, 28

22" 'The merchants of Sheba[b] and Raamah traded with you; for your merchandise they exchanged the finest of all kinds of spices and precious stones, and gold.

23" 'Haran, Canneh and Eden and merchants of Sheba, Asshur and Kilmad traded with you. 24In your marketplace they traded with you beautiful garments, blue fabric, embroidered work and multicolored rugs with cords twisted and tightly knotted.

27:25 [c]Isa 2:16 fn

25" 'The ships of Tarshish[c] serve as carriers for your wares.
You are filled with heavy cargo
in the heart of the sea.
26Your oarsmen take you out to the high seas.
But the east wind will break you to pieces
in the heart of the sea.

27:27 [d]Pr 11:4

27Your wealth,[d] merchandise and wares, your mariners, seamen and shipwrights,
your merchants and all your soldiers, and everyone else on board will sink into the heart of the sea on the day of your shipwreck.
28The shorelands will quake
when your seamen cry out.
29All who handle the oars

[k] 15 Septuagint; Hebrew Dedan [l] 16 Most Hebrew manuscripts; some Hebrew manuscripts and Syriac Edom
[m] 17 The meaning of the Hebrew for this word is uncertain.

will abandon their ships;
the mariners and all the seamen will stand on the shore.
30They will raise their voice and cry bitterly over you;
they will sprinkle dust on their heads and roll[e] in ashes.[f] 31They will shave their heads because of you and will put on sackcloth.
They will weep over you with anguish of soul and with bitter mourning.
32As they wail and mourn over you,
they will take up a lament concerning you:
"Who was ever silenced like Tyre, surrounded by the sea?"
33When your merchandise went out on the seas,
you satisfied many nations;
with your great wealth and your wares
you enriched the kings of the earth.
34Now you are shattered by the sea in the depths of the waters;
your wares and all your company have gone down with you.[g] 35All who live in the coastlands[h] are appalled at you;
their kings shudder with horror
and their faces are distorted with fear.
36The merchants among the nations hiss at you;[i]
you have come to a horrible end and will be no more.[j]"

27:30
[e] Jer 6:26
[f] Rev 18:18-19

27:34
[g] Zec 9:4

27:35
[h] Eze 26:15

27:36
[i] Jer 49:17; 50:13
[j] Eze 26:21

A Prophecy Against the King of Tyre

28 The word of the LORD came to me: 2"Son of man, say to the ruler of Tyre,
'This is what the Sovereign LORD says:

" 'In the pride of your heart
you say, "I am a god;
I sit on the throne of a god
in the heart of the seas."
But you are a man and not a god,
though you think you are as wise as a god.
3Are you wiser than Daniel[n]?
Is no secret hidden from you?
4By your wisdom and understanding you have gained wealth for yourself and amassed gold and silver in your treasuries.
5By your great skill in trading you have increased your wealth, n 3 Or Danel; the Hebrew spelling may suggest a person other than the prophet Daniel.

28:1ff Previously Ezekiel had prophesied against the city of Tyre (chapters 26; 27). Here he focused his prophecy on Tyre's leader. The chief sin of Tyre's king was pride – believing himself to be a god. But Ezekiel also may have made a broader spiritual application, speaking about the spiritual king of Tyre, Satan, whom the people were really following (see the note on 28:12–19).

28:2, 3 Daniel, an important official in Nebuchadnezzar's kingdom (14:14), was already renowned for his wisdom. Daniel proclaimed that all his wisdom came from God (Daniel 2:20–23). By contrast, the king of Tyre thought that he himself was a god. When truly wise people get closer to God, they recognize their need to depend on him for guidance.

and because of your wealth your heart has grown proud.

6" 'Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says:

" 'Because you think you are wise,
as wise as a god,
7I am going to bring foreigners against you,
the most ruthless of nations;[k]
they will draw their swords against your beauty and wisdom and pierce your shining splendor.
8They will bring you down to the pit, and you will die a violent death
in the heart of the seas.
9Will you then say, "I am a god,"
in the presence of those who kill you?
You will be but a man, not a god,
in the hands of those who slay you.
10You will die the death of the uncircumcised[l] at the hands of foreigners.

28:7
[k] Eze 30:11; 31:12; 32:12

28:10
[l] Eze 32:19, 24

I have spoken, declares the Sovereign LORD.' "

11The word of the LORD came to me: 12"Son of man, take up a lament concerning the king of Tyre and say to him: 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says:

" 'You were the model of perfection, full of wisdom and perfect in beauty.[m] 13You were in Eden,
the garden of God;[n]
every precious stone adorned you:
ruby, topaz and emerald,
chrysolite, onyx and jasper,
sapphire,[o] turquoise and beryl.[p]
Your settings and mountings[q] were made of gold;
on the day you were created they were prepared.
14You were anointed as a guardian cherub,[o]
for so I ordained you.
You were on the holy mount of God;
you walked among the fiery stones.
15You were blameless in your ways from the day you were created till wickedness was found in you.
16Through your widespread trade you were filled with violence, and you sinned.
So I drove you in disgrace from the mount of God,
and I expelled you, O guardian cherub,
from among the fiery stones.
17Your heart became proud on account of your beauty, and you corrupted your wisdom

28:12
[m] Eze 27:2-4

28:13
[n] Eze 31:8-9

28:14
[o] Ex 25:17-20

[o] 13 Or lapis lazuli [p] 13 The precise identification of some of these precious stones is uncertain. [q] 13 The meaning of the Hebrew for this phrase is uncertain.

28:6–10 The enemy army ("foreigners") that attacked Tyre was the Babylonian army under Nebuchadnezzar. This attack occurred in 573/572 B.C.

28:12–19 Some of the phrases in this passage describing the human king of Tyre may describe Satan. Great care must be taken to interpret these verses with discernment. It is clear that, at times, Ezekiel describes this king in terms that could not apply to a mere man. This king had been in the Garden of Eden (28:13), had been "anointed as a guardian cherub" (28:14), and had access to the holy mountain of God (28:14), but was driven from there (28:16, 17). Ezekiel, therefore, may have been condemning not only the king of Tyre, but Satan, who had motivated the king to sin.

because of your splendor.
So I threw you to the earth;
I made a spectacle of you before kings.
18By your many sins and dishonest trade
you have desecrated your sanctuaries.
So I made a fire come out from you,
and it consumed you,
and I reduced you to ashes on the ground in the sight of all who were watching.
19All the nations who knew you
are appalled at you;
you have come to a horrible end
and will be no more.[p]' "

28:19 [p] Eze 26:21

A Prophecy Against Sidon

20The word of the LORD came to me: 21"Son of man, set your face against Sidon; prophesy against her 22and say: 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says:

" 'I am against you, O Sidon, and I will gain glory within you.
They will know that I am the LORD, when I inflict punishment on her and show myself holy within her.
23I will send a plague upon her and make blood flow in her streets.
The slain will fall within her,
with the sword against her on every side.
Then they will know that I am the LORD.[q]

28:23 [q] Eze 38:22

24" 'No longer will the people of Israel have malicious neighbors who are painful briers and sharp thorns. Then they will know that I am the Sovereign LORD.

25" 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: When I gather the people of Israel from the nations where they have been scattered,[r] I will show myself holy[s] among them in the sight of the nations. Then they will live in their own land, which I gave to my servant Jacob. 26They will live there in safety and will build houses and plant vineyards; they will live in safety when I inflict punishment on all their neighbors who maligned them. Then they will know that I am the LORD their God.[t]' "

28:25 [r] Isa 11:12 [s] Eze 20:41

28:26 [t] Am 9:14-15

A Prophecy Against Egypt

29 In the tenth year, in the tenth month on the twelfth day, the word of the LORD came to me: 2"Son of man, set your face against Pharaoh king of Egypt and prophesy against him and against all Egypt.[u] 3Speak to him and say: 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says:

29:2 [u] Isa 19:1-17; Jer 46:2

28:20, 21 Sidon was another famous seaport, located about 25 miles north of Tyre. God charged this city with contempt for his people. Sidon's economy was bound to Tyre's, so when Tyre fell to Nebuchadnezzar, Sidon was doomed to follow.

28:24–26 This promise that God's people will live in complete safety has yet to be fulfilled. While many were allowed to return from exile under Zerubbabel, Ezra, and Nehemiah, and although the political nation is restored today, the inhabitants do not yet live in complete safety (28:26). Therefore, this promise will have its ultimate fulfillment when Christ sets up his eternal kingdom. Then all people who have been faithful to God will dwell together in harmony and complete safety.

29:1ff There are seven prophecies in chapters 29–32, all dealing with judgment on Egypt. This is probably the first prophecy that was given by Ezekiel in 587 B.C. Hezekiah, Jehoiakim, and Zedekiah (kings of Judah) had all sought help from Egypt despite God's warnings.

There are three key reasons for this prophecy: (1) Egypt was an ancient enemy of the Jews, having once enslaved them for 400 years; (2) Egypt worshiped many gods; (3) Egypt's wealth and power made it seem like a good ally. Egypt offered to help Judah only because of the benefits it hoped to receive from such an alliance. When the Egyptians didn't get what they hoped for, they bailed out of their agreement without regard to any promises they had made.

29:2ff Egypt had great artistic treasures, a flourishing civilization, and world-renowned military power. Unfortunately, it was also evil, egotistical, idolatrous, and it treated slaves cruelly. For those sins God condemned Egypt. At the battle of Carchemish in 605 B.C.,

" 'I am against you, Pharaoh king of Egypt,
you great monster[v] lying among your streams.
You say, "The Nile is mine;
I made it for myself."
4But I will put hooks in your jaws and make the fish of your streams stick to your scales.
I will pull you out from among your streams,
with all the fish sticking to your scales.[w] 5I will leave you in the desert, you and all the fish of your streams.
You will fall on the open field and not be gathered or picked up.
I will give you as food to the beasts of the earth and the birds of the air.[x]

6Then all who live in Egypt will know that I am the LORD.

" 'You have been a staff of reed for the house of Israel. 7When they grasped you with their hands, you splintered and you tore open their shoulders; when they leaned on you, you broke and their backs were wrenched.[r y]

8" 'Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: I will bring a sword against you and kill your men and their animals.[z] 9Egypt will become a desolate wasteland. Then they will know that I am the LORD.

" 'Because you said, "The Nile is mine; I made it," 10therefore I am against you and against your streams, and I will make the land of Egypt a ruin and a desolate waste from Migdol to Aswan, as far as the border of Cush.[s] 11No foot of man or animal will pass through it; no one will live there for forty years.[a] 12I will make the land of Egypt desolate among devastated lands, and her cities will lie desolate forty years among ruined cities. And I will disperse the Egyptians among the nations and scatter them through the countries.[b]

13" 'Yet this is what the Sovereign LORD says: At the end of forty years I will gather the Egyptians from the nations where they were scattered. 14I will bring them back from captivity and return them to Upper Egypt,[t] the land of their ancestry. There they will be a lowly kingdom. 15It will be the lowliest of kingdoms and will never again exalt itself above the other nations. I will make it so weak that it will never again rule over the nations. 16Egypt will no longer be a source of confidence for the people of Israel but will be a reminder of their sin in turning to her for help. Then they will know that I am the Sovereign LORD.[c]' "

17In the twenty-seventh year, in the first month on the first day, the word of the

29:3 [v] Eze 32:2
29:4 [w] Eze 38:4
29:5 [x] Jer 7:33; 34:20
29:7 [y] Eze 17:15-17
29:8 [z] Eze 25:13; 32:11-13
29:11 [a] Eze 32:13
29:12 [b] Eze 30:7, 23, 26
29:16 [c] Isa 30:2

[r] 7 Syriac (see also Septuagint and Vulgate); Hebrew and you caused their backs to stand [s] 10 That is, the upper Nile region [t] 14 Hebrew to Pathros

Babylon crushed Egypt along with Assyria, its rivals for the position of world ruler.

29:9, 10 The Nile was Egypt's pride and joy, a life-giving river cutting through the middle of the desert. Rather than thanking God, however, Egypt declared, "The Nile is mine; I made it." We do the same when we say "This house is mine; I built it," or "I have brought myself to the place where I am today," or "I have built this church, business, or reputation, from the ground up." These statements reveal our pride. Sometimes we take for granted what God has given us, thinking we have made it ourselves. Of course, we have put forth a lot of hard effort, but God supplied the resources, gave us the abilities, and provided us with the opportunities to make it happen. Instead of claiming our own greatness, as the Egyptians did, we should proclaim God's greatness and give him the credit. (Migdol is in the north of Egypt, and Aswan in the south. Thus, this meant all of Egypt.)

29:13–16 This 40-year period of desolation in Egypt is hard to pinpoint. Nebuchadnezzar attacked Egypt around 572 B.C. and carried many people off to Babylon, while others fled for safety to surrounding nations. Approximately 33 years later, Cyrus, king of the Persian empire, conquered Babylon and allowed the nations which Babylon had conquered to return to their homelands. Adding a possible seven-year regrouping and travel period, this could then make up that 40-year time period. Since that time, Egypt has never returned to its previous dominance as a world power. Upper Egypt was the region south of the Nile delta.

29:17, 18 This prophecy was given in 571 B.C. and is actually the latest prophecy in Ezekiel. Nebuchadnezzar had finally conquered Tyre after a long and costly 15-year siege (586–571 B.C.). He had not counted on such an expense, so he went south and conquered Egypt to make up for all he had lost in taking Tyre. Ezekiel placed this prophecy here to describe who would bring this punishment to Egypt. God was using Nebuchadnezzar, an evil man, as an instrument of his judgment on Tyre, Judah, and Egypt – evil nations themselves. When Babylon didn't recognize God's favor, he judged it too.

LORD came to me: 18"Son of man, Nebuchadnezzar[c] king of Babylon drove his army in a hard campaign against Tyre; every head was rubbed bare and every shoulder made raw. Yet he and his army got no reward from the campaign he led against Tyre. 19Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: I am going to give Egypt to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and he will carry off its wealth. He will loot and plunder the land as pay for his army. 20I have given him Egypt as a reward for his efforts because he and his army did it for me, declares the Sovereign LORD.[e]

21"On that day I will make a horn[u][f] grow for the house of Israel, and I will open your mouth among them. Then they will know that I am the LORD."

29:18 [c]Jer 27:6

29:20 [e]Jer 25:9

29:21 [f]Ps 132:17

A Lament for Egypt

30 The word of the LORD came to me: 2"Son of man, prophesy and say: 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says:

" 'Wail[g] and say,
"Alas for that day!"
3For the day is near,[h]
the day of the LORD[i] is near—a day of clouds,
a time of doom for the nations.
4A sword will come against Egypt, and anguish will come upon Cush.[v]
When the slain fall in Egypt, her wealth will be carried away and her foundations torn down.[j]

30:2 [g]Isa 13:6

30:3 [h]Joel 2:1, 11 [i]Eze 7:12, 19

30:4 [j]Eze 29:19

5Cush and Put, Lydia and all Arabia, Libya[w] and the people[k] of the covenant land will fall by the sword along with Egypt.

30:5 [k]Jer 25:20

6" 'This is what the LORD says:

" 'The allies of Egypt will fall and her proud strength will fail.
From Migdol to Aswan
they will fall by the sword within her,
declares the Sovereign LORD.

7" 'They will be desolate
among desolate lands, and their cities will lie
among ruined cities.[l] 8Then they will know that I am the LORD, when I set fire to Egypt and all her helpers are crushed.

30:7 [l]Eze 29:12

9" 'On that day messengers will go out from me in ships to frighten Cush out of her complacency. Anguish will take hold of them on the day of Egypt's doom, for it is sure to come.[m]

30:9 [m]Eze 32:9-10

10" 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says:

[u] 21 Horn here symbolizes strength. [v] 4 That is, the upper Nile region; also in verses 5 and 9 [w] 5 Hebrew Cub

30:1–19 This s a lament for Egypt and its allies. Because of the Egyptians' pride and idolatry, they would be brought down.

30:12 Egypt's pharaohs claimed that they had made the Nile—the river on which the entire nation depended. If God dried up

" 'I will put an end to the hordes of Egypt
by the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon.[n] 11He and his army — the most ruthless of nations[o] — will be brought in to destroy the land.
They will draw their swords against Egypt and fill the land with the slain.
12I will dry up the streams of the Nile and sell the land to evil men;
by the hand of foreigners
I will lay waste the land and everything in it.

I the LORD have spoken.

13" 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says:

" 'I will destroy the idols and put an end to the images in Memphis.[x]
No longer will there be a prince in Egypt,[p]
and I will spread fear throughout the land.
14I will lay[q] waste Upper Egypt,[y] set fire to Zoan
and inflict punishment on Thebes.[z] 15I will pour out my wrath on Pelusium,[a]
the stronghold of Egypt, and cut off the hordes of Thebes.
16I will set fire to Egypt;
Pelusium will writhe in agony.
Thebes will be taken by storm;
Memphis will be in constant distress.
17The young men of Heliopolis[b] and Bubastis[c]
will fall by the sword,
and the cities themselves will go into captivity.
18Dark will be the day at Tahpanhes when I break the yoke of Egypt;
there her proud strength will come to an end.
She will be covered with clouds,
and her villages will go into captivity.[r] 19So I will inflict punishment on Egypt, and they will know that I am the LORD.' "

20In the eleventh year, in the first month on the seventh day, the word of the LORD came to me: 21"Son of man, I have broken the arm of Pharaoh king of Egypt. It has not been bound up for healing[s] or put in a splint so as to become strong

30:10 [n] Eze 29:19
30:11 [o] Eze 28:7
30:13 [p] Zec 10:11
30:14 [q] Eze 29:14
30:18 [r] ver 3
30:21 [s] Jer 46:11

[x] 13 Hebrew Noph; also in verse 16 [y] 14 Hebrew waste Pathros [z] 14 Hebrew No; also in verses 15 and 16
[a] 15 Hebrew Sin; also in verse 16 [b] 17 Hebrew Awen (or On) [c] 17 Hebrew Pi Beseth

---

the Nile, the nation would be doomed.

30:13–19 The list of cities to be destroyed shows the breadth of the destruction; the drying up of the Nile (30:12) shows its depth. Egypt would be completely incapacitated. This was a clear message to Judah not to trust Egypt for help against the Babylonians.

30:20, 21 This message came in 587 B.C. while Jerusalem was under attack from Babylon. Judah had rebelled against Babylon and made an alliance with Egypt in spite of God's warnings (Jeremiah 2:36, 37). Pharaoh Hophra made a halfhearted attempt to help Jerusalem, but when Nebuchadnezzar's army turned on him, he fled back to Egypt (Jeremiah 37:5–7). This defeat is what Ezekiel meant when he said that God had broken the arm of Pharaoh.

30:21–26 This prophecy was given to Ezekiel in 587 B.C. God destroyed Egypt's military superiority and gave it to Babylon. God allows nations to rise to power to accomplish a particular purpose, often beyond our immediate understanding. When you read about armies and wars, don't despair. Remember that God is sovereign and in charge of everything, even military might. Besides praying for your military and government leaders, pray that God's greater purposes would be carried out and that his will would be done "on earth as it is in heaven" (see Matthew 6:10).

enough to hold a sword. 22Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: I am against Pharaoh king of Egypt. I will break both his arms, the good arm as well as the broken one, and make the sword fall from his hand. 23I will disperse the Egyptians among the nations and scatter them through the countries.[t] 24I will strengthen[u] the arms of the king of Babylon and put my sword[v] in his hand, but I will break the arms of Pharaoh, and he will groan before him like a mortally wounded man. 25I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, but the arms of Pharaoh will fall limp. Then they will know that I am the LORD, when I put my sword into the hand of the king of Babylon and he brandishes it against Egypt. 26I will disperse the Egyptians among the nations and scatter them through the countries. Then they will know that I am the LORD.[w]"

30:23
[t] Eze 29:12

30:24
[u] Zec 10:6, 12
[v] Zep 2:12

30:26
[w] Eze 29:12

A Cedar in Lebanon

31 In the eleventh year, in the third month on the first day, the word of the LORD came to me: 2"Son of man, say to Pharaoh king of Egypt and to his hordes:

" 'Who can be compared with you in majesty?
3Consider Assyria, once a cedar in Lebanon, with beautiful branches overshadowing the forest;
it towered on high,
its top above the thick foliage.[x] 4The waters nourished it, deep springs made it grow tall;
their streams flowed
all around its base and sent their channels to all the trees of the field.
5So it towered higher than all the trees of the field;
its boughs increased and its branches grew long, spreading because of abundant waters.
6All the birds of the air nested in its boughs,
all the beasts of the field gave birth under its branches;
all the great nations
lived in its shade.[y] 7It was majestic in beauty, with its spreading boughs,
for its roots went down to abundant waters.
8The cedars in the garden of God could not rival it, nor could the pine trees
equal its boughs,
nor could the plane trees
compare with its branches—

31:3
[x] Isa 10:34

31:6
[y] Eze 17:23

31:1ff This message was given in 587 B.C. Ezekiel compared Egypt to Assyria, calling Assyria a great cedar tree. The Egyptians were to look at the fall of the mighty nation of Assyria (whose demise they had seen) as an example of what would happen to them. Just like Assyria, Egypt took pride in its strength and beauty; this would be its downfall. She would crash like a mighty tree and be sent to the place of the dead. There is no permanence apart from God, even for a great society with magnificent culture and military power.

31:9 "All the trees of Eden" may refer to all the other nations of the world who were jealous of Assyria's power and grandeur.

31:11 The "ruler of the nations" may be Nebuchadnezzar (see Daniel 2:37, 38).

no tree in the garden of God could match its beauty.[z] 9I made it beautiful with abundant branches, the envy of all the trees of Eden
in the garden of God.

31:8
[z] Ge 2:8-9

10" 'Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: Because it towered on high, lifting its top above the thick foliage, and because it was proud of its height, 11I handed it over to the ruler of the nations, for him to deal with according to its wickedness. I cast it aside,[a] 12and the most ruthless of foreign nations[b] cut it down and left it. Its boughs fell on the mountains and in all the valleys;[c] its branches lay broken in all the ravines of the land. All the nations of the earth came out from under its shade and left it. 13All the birds of the air settled on the fallen tree, and all the beasts of the field were among its branches.[d] 14Therefore no other trees by the waters are ever to tower proudly on high, lifting their tops above the thick foliage. No other trees so well-watered are ever to reach such a height; they are all destined for death, for the earth below, among mortal men, with those who go down to the pit.

31:11
[a] Da 5:20

31:12
[b] Eze 28:7
[c] Eze 32:5; 35:8

31:13
[d] Isa 18:6; Eze 32:4

15" 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: On the day it was brought down to the grave[d] I covered the deep springs with mourning for it; I held back its streams, and its abundant waters were restrained. Because of it I clothed Lebanon with gloom, and all the trees of the field withered away. 16I made the nations tremble at the sound of its fall when I brought it down to the grave with those who go down to the pit. Then all the trees[e] of Eden, the choicest and best of Lebanon, all the trees that were well-watered, were consoled[f] in the earth below.[g] 17Those who lived in its shade, its allies among the nations, had also gone down to the grave with it, joining those killed by the sword.

31:16
[e] Isa 14:8
[f] Eze 14:22
[g] Isa 14:15

18" 'Which of the trees of Eden can be compared with you in splendor and majesty? Yet you, too, will be brought down with the trees of Eden to the earth below; you will lie among the uncircumcised, with those killed by the sword.

" 'This is Pharaoh and all his hordes, declares the Sovereign LORD.' "

A Lament for Pharaoh

32 In the twelfth year, in the twelfth month on the first day, the word of the LORD came to me: 2"Son of man, take up a lament[h] concerning Pharaoh king of Egypt and say to him:

32:2
[h] Eze 19:1

" 'You are like a lion among the nations;
you are like a monster in the seas thrashing about in your streams, churning the water with your feet and muddying the streams.

3" 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says:

" 'With a great throng of people
I will cast my net over you,
and they will haul you up in my net.[i] 32:3

[i] Eze 12:13

[d] 15 Hebrew Sheol; also in verses 16 and 17

32:1ff This prophecy was given in 585 B.C., two months after the news of Jerusalem's fall had reached the exiles in Babylon. Ezekiel prophesied numerous judgments upon many wicked nations. These judgments served a positive purpose: they showed that evil forces are continually being overcome and that one day God will overthrow all evil, making the world the perfect place he intended. They also serve as warnings that God alone is sovereign. Even the mightiest rulers, like Pharaoh, will fall before God. All are accountable to him.

32:2 Although Pharaoh thought of himself as a strong lion, in God's eyes he was nothing but a crocodile ("monster") muddying the water. God's judgment would reduce Pharaoh to his true size. Anyone who defies God will face his judgment.

4I will throw you on the land and hurl you on the open field.
I will let all the birds of the air settle on you and all the beasts of the earth gorge themselves on you.
5I will spread your flesh on the mountains and fill the valleys with your remains.
6I will drench the land with your flowing blood all the way to the mountains, and the ravines will be filled with your flesh.
7When I snuff you out, I will cover the heavens and darken their stars;
I will cover the sun with a cloud,
and the moon will not give its light.[j]
8All the shining lights in the heavens
I will darken over you;
I will bring darkness over your land,
declares the Sovereign LORD.
9I will trouble the hearts of many peoples
when I bring about your destruction among the nations, among[e] lands you have not known.
10I will cause many peoples to be appalled at you,
and their kings will shudder with horror because of you when I brandish my sword before them.
On the day of your downfall
each of them will tremble every moment for his life.[k]

32:7
[j]Isa 13:10; Joel 2:2, 31; 3:15

32:10
[k]Eze 26:16

11" 'For this is what the Sovereign LORD says:

" 'The sword of the king of Babylon will come against you.
12I will cause your hordes to fall by the swords of mighty men—
the most ruthless of all nations.[l]
They will shatter the pride of Egypt, and all her hordes will be overthrown.
13I will destroy all her cattle from beside abundant waters
no longer to be stirred by the foot of man or muddied by the hoofs of cattle.[m] 14Then I will let her waters settle and make her streams flow like oil,
declares the Sovereign LORD.
15When I make Egypt desolate and strip the land of everything in it, when I strike down all who live there,
then they will know that I am the LORD.[n]' 32:12

[l]Eze 28:7

32:13
[m]Eze 29:8, 11

32:15
[n]Ex 7:5

[e] 9 Hebrew; Septuagint bring you into captivity among the nations, / to

32:18 The Hebrews believed in an afterlife for all people, good and bad. Ezekiel's message assumed that the evil nations had already been sent there (to the "pit") and that Egypt would share their fate. The words here are more poetic than doctrinal (see Job 24:19; Psalm 16:10; Isaiah 38:10, and the note on Matthew 25:46). The Egyptians had a preoccupation with the afterlife (the pyramids were built solely to ensure the pharaohs' comfort in the next life). This message should remind us that any attempt to control our afterlife and ignore God is foolish. God alone controls the future and life after death.

32:21–32 In these verses, Ezekiel conducts a guided tour of the grave, the region of the afterlife. In the grave, all of God's enemies are condemned in judgment; many of them experience the fate they so quickly imposed on others. Though Babylon is not mentioned, Ezekiel's readers would have concluded that if all the other nations would be judged for their rebellion against God, Babylon would be judged as well. These words would comfort the captives.

16"This is the lament they will chant for her. The daughters of the nations will chant it; for Egypt and all her hordes they will chant it, declares the Sovereign LORD."

17In the twelfth year, on the fifteenth day of the month, the word of the LORD came to me: 18"Son of man, wail for the hordes of Egypt and consign to the earth below both her and the daughters of mighty nations, with those who go down to the pit.[o] 19Say to them, 'Are you more favored than others? Go down and be laid among the uncircumcised.'[p] 20They will fall among those killed by the sword. The sword is drawn; let her be dragged off with all her hordes. 21From within the grave[f][q] the mighty leaders will say of Egypt and her allies, 'They have come down and they lie with the uncircumcised, with those killed by the sword.'

22"Assyria is there with her whole army; she is surrounded by the graves of all her slain, all who have fallen by the sword. 23Their graves are in the depths of the pit[r] and her army lies around her grave. All who had spread terror in the land of the living are slain, fallen by the sword.

24"Elam is there, with all her hordes around her grave. All of them are slain, fallen by the sword.[s] All who had spread terror in the land of the living went down uncircumcised to the earth below. They bear their shame with those who go down to the pit. 25A bed is made for her among the slain, with all her hordes around her grave. All of them are uncircumcised, killed by the sword. Because their terror had spread in the land of the living, they bear their shame with those who go down to the pit; they are laid among the slain.

26"Meshech and Tubal[t] are there, with all their hordes around their graves. All of them are uncircumcised, killed by the sword because they spread their terror in the land of the living. 27Do they not lie with the other uncircumcised warriors who have fallen, who went down to the grave with their weapons of war, whose swords were placed under their heads? The punishment for their sins rested on their bones, though the terror of these warriors had stalked through the land of the living.

28"You too, O Pharaoh, will be broken and will lie among the uncircumcised, with those killed by the sword.

29"Edom[u] is there, her kings and all her princes; despite their power, they are laid with those killed by the sword. They lie with the uncircumcised, with those who go down to the pit.[v]

30"All the princes of the north[w] and all the Sidonians are there; they went down with the slain in disgrace despite the terror caused by their power. They lie uncircumcised with those killed by the sword and bear their shame with those who go down to the pit.

31"Pharaoh — he and all his army — will see them and he will be consoled[x] for all his hordes that were killed by the sword, declares the Sovereign LORD. 32Although I had him spread terror in the land of the living, Pharaoh and all his hordes will be laid among the uncircumcised, with those killed by the sword, declares the Sovereign LORD."

32:18 [o] Eze 31:14, 16
32:19 [p] Eze 28:10
32:21 [q] Isa 14:9
32:23 [r] Isa 14:15
32:24 [s] Jer 49:37
32:26 [t] Eze 27:13
32:29 [u] Isa 34:5-15 [v] Eze 25:12-14
32:30 [w] Eze 38:6; 39:2
32:31 [x] Eze 14:22

[f] 21 Hebrew Sheol; also in verse 27

32:24-26 Elam was a nation of fierce warriors from the region east of Assyria. They were conquered by Nebuchadnezzar (Jeremiah 49:34-39) and eventually rebuilt themselves and became part of Persia. Meshech and Tubal were territories located in the eastern region of Asia Minor, now eastern and central Turkey. In chapters 38 and 39 they are described as allies of Gog, the chief prince of a confederacy. They are included with the evil nations who will be judged for fighting against God's people.

32:30 The princes of the north were probably the princes of the Phoenician city-states.

32:32 After reading Ezekiel's prophecies against all these foreign nations, we may wonder if he was blindly loyal to his own nation. But Ezekiel spoke only when God gave him a message (3:27). Besides, God's prophets pronounced judgment on God's sinful people just as much as on God's enemies. But if Babylon was God's enemy, why isn't it mentioned in Ezekiel's judgments? Perhaps because (1) God wanted to foster a spirit of cooperation between the exiles and Babylon in order to preserve his people; (2) God was still using Babylon to refine his own people; (3) God wanted to use Daniel, a powerful official in Babylon, to draw the Babylonians to him.

C. MESSAGES OF HOPE (33:1 — 48:35)

This section begins a new direction in Ezekiel's prophecies. Ezekiel is reminded that he is the nation's watchman. Before Jerusalem's fall, he told the people of their punishment and dispersion. Now he is to proclaim the hope of restoration, but even this message does not improve the people's response. They listen to him with curiosity and then live as they please. Today we have the good news of forgiveness, but how easy it is to ignore the message and continue to live sinful lives.

1. Restoring the people of God

Ezekiel a Watchman

33 The word of the LORD came to me: 2"Son of man, speak to your countrymen and say to them: 'When I bring the sword against a land, and the people of the land choose one of their men and make him their watchman, 3and he sees the sword coming against the land and blows the trumpet to warn the people, 4then if anyone hears the trumpet but does not take warning and the sword comes and takes his life, his blood will be on his own head.[y] 5Since he heard the sound of the trumpet but did not take warning, his blood will be on his own head. If he had taken warning, he would have saved himself. 6But if the watchman sees the sword coming and does not blow the trumpet to warn the people and the sword comes and takes the life of one of them, that man will be taken away because of his sin, but I will hold the watchman accountable for his blood.'

33:4 [y] Ac 18:6

7"Son of man, I have made you a watchman for the house of Israel; so hear the word I speak and give them warning from me. 8When I say to the wicked, 'O wicked man, you will surely die,' and you do not speak out to dissuade him from his ways, that wicked man will die for[g] his sin, and I will hold you accountable for his blood. 9But if you do warn the wicked man to turn from his ways and he does not do so, he will die for his sin, but you will have saved yourself.

10"Son of man, say to the house of Israel, 'This is what you are saying: "Our offenses and sins weigh us down, and we are wasting away because of[h] them. How then can we live?" ' 11Say to them, 'As surely as I live, declares the Sovereign LORD, I take no pleasure in the death of the wicked, but rather that they turn from their ways and live. Turn! Turn from your evil ways! Why will you die, O house of Israel?'

12"Therefore, son of man, say to your countrymen, 'The righteousness of the righteous man will not save him when he disobeys, and the wickedness of the wicked man will not cause him to fall when he turns from it. The righteous man, if he sins, will not be allowed to live because of his former righteousness.'[z] 13If I tell the righteous man that he will surely live, but then he trusts in his righteousness and does evil, none of the righteous things he has done will be remembered; he will die for the evil he has done. 14And if I say to the wicked man, 'You will surely die,' but he then turns away from his sin and does what is just and right — 15if he gives back what he took in pledge for a loan, returns what he has stolen,[a] follows the decrees

33:12 [z] 2Ch 7:14; Eze 3:20

33:15 [a] Lev 6:2-5

[g] 8 Or in; also in verse 9 [h] 10 Or away in

33:1ff This chapter sets forth a new direction for Ezekiel's prophecies. Up to this point, Ezekiel has pronounced judgment upon Judah (chapters 1 — 24) and the surrounding evil nations (chapters 25 — 32) for their sins. After Jerusalem fell, he turned from messages of doom and judgment to messages of comfort, hope, and future restoration for God's people (chapters 33 — 48). God previously appointed Ezekiel to be a watchman warning the nation of coming judgment (see 3:17–21). Here God appointed him to be a watchman again, but this time to preach a message of hope. There are still sections full of warnings (33:23 — 34:10; 36:1–7), but these are part of the larger picture of hope. God will remember to bless those who are faithful to him. We must pay attention to both aspects of Ezekiel's message: warning and promise. Those who persist in rebelling against God should take warning. Those faithful to God should find encouragement and hope.

33:10–12 The exiles were discouraged by their past sins. This is an important turning point in this book — elsewhere in Ezekiel the people had refused to face their sins. Here, they felt heavy guilt for rebelling against God for so many years. Therefore, God assured them of forgiveness if they repented. God wants everyone to turn to him. He looks at what we are and will become, not what we have been. God gives you the opportunity to turn to him, if you will take it. Sincerely follow God, and ask him to forgive you when you fail.

33:13 Past good deeds will not save a person who decides to turn to a life of sin. Some people think they have done enough good deeds to overshadow the sins they don't want to give up. But it's useless to try to be good in some areas so you can be deliberately bad in others. God wants wholehearted love and obedience.

33:15 While good deeds will not save us, our salvation must lead to righteous actions (see Ephesians 2:10; James 2:14–17). This includes restitution for past sins (as exemplified in the story of Zacchaeus, see Luke 19:1–10). God expects us to make restitution, whenever necessary, for the wrongs we have committed.

that give life, and does no evil, he will surely live; he will not die. 16None of the sins he has committed will be remembered against him. He has done what is just and right; he will surely live.

17"Yet your countrymen say, 'The way of the Lord is not just.' But it is their way that is not just. 18If a righteous man turns from his righteousness and does evil, he will die for it. 19And if a wicked man turns away from his wickedness and does what is just and right, he will live by doing so. 20Yet, O house of Israel, you say, 'The way of the Lord is not just.' But I will judge each of you according to his own ways."

Jerusalem's Fall Explained

21In the twelfth year of our exile, in the tenth month on the fifth day, a man who had escaped from Jerusalem came to me and said, "The city has fallen![b]" 22Now the evening before the man arrived, the hand of the LORD was upon me,[c] and he opened my mouth before the man came to me in the morning. So my mouth was opened and I was no longer silent.[d]

23Then the word of the LORD came to me: 24"Son of man, the people living in those ruins in the land of Israel are saying, 'Abraham was only one man, yet he possessed the land. But we are many; surely the land has been given to us as our possession.'[e] 25Therefore say to them, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Since you eat meat with the blood still in it and look to your idols and shed blood, should you then possess the land?[f] 26You rely on your sword, you do detestable things, and each of you defiles his neighbor's wife. Should you then possess the land?'

27"Say this to them: 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: As surely as I live, those who are left in the ruins will fall by the sword, those out in the country I will give to the wild animals to be devoured, and those in strongholds and caves will die of a plague.[g] 28I will make the land a desolate waste, and her proud strength will come to an end, and the mountains of Israel will become desolate so that no one will cross them. 29Then they will know that I am the LORD, when I have made the land a desolate waste because of all the detestable things they have done.'

30"As for you, son of man, your countrymen are talking together about you by the walls and at the doors of the houses, saying to each other, 'Come and hear the message that has come from the LORD.' 31My people come to you, as they usually do, and sit before you to listen to your words, but they do not put them into practice. With their mouths they express devotion, but their hearts are greedy for unjust gain.[h] 32Indeed, to them you are nothing more than one who sings love songs with a beautiful voice and plays an instrument well, for they hear your words but do not put them into practice.

33"When all this comes true—and it surely will—then they will know that a prophet has been among them.[i]"

33:21 [b] 2Ki 25:4, 10

33:22 [c] Eze 1:3 [d] Eze 24:27

33:24 [e] Isa 51:2; Ac 7:5

33:25 [f] Eze 22:6, 27

33:27 [g] 1Sa 13:6

33:31 [h] Ps 78:36-37; Isa 29:13

33:33 [i] 1Sa 3:20

33:21, 22 Near the beginning of his ministry, Ezekiel was unable to speak except to give specific messages from God (3:26, 27). After Ezekiel's prophecies came true and the false prophets were exposed, Ezekiel was again able to talk freely. No longer needing to prove himself, he was free to offer God's message of restoration and hope.

33:30–32 The people refused to act upon Ezekiel's message. When people mock your witness for Christ or fail to act upon your advice, don't give up. You are not witnessing for them alone, but out of faithfulness to God. You cannot make them accept your message; you can only be faithful in delivering it.

33:31 In your heart, do you really love God? These people gave the appearance of following God, but they loved their money more. Many today also give the outward impression of being religious while remaining inwardly greedy. Jesus warned that we cannot love God and Money at the same time (Matthew 6:24). It's easy to say "I surrender all" when we don't have much. It's when we start gaining some money that it becomes difficult to avoid loving it.

33:32 The people were coming to listen to Ezekiel in order to be entertained. They weren't interested in hearing a message from the Lord and then putting it into practice. Many people see church as entertainment. They enjoy the music, the people, and the activities, but they don't take the messages to heart. They don't seek to be challenged or to serve. Have you reduced church services to the level of entertainment, or does your worship truly have an impact on your life? Listen to God's words and then obey -- apply his words and put them into practice in your life.

Shepherds and Sheep

34 The word of the LORD came to me: 2"Son of man, prophesy against the shepherds of Israel; prophesy and say to them: 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Woe to the shepherds of Israel who only take care of themselves! Should not shepherds take care of the flock?[j] 3You eat the curds, clothe yourselves with the wool and slaughter the choice animals, but you do not take care of the flock.[k] 4You have not strengthened the weak or healed the sick or bound up the injured. You have not brought back the strays or searched for the lost. You have ruled them harshly and brutally.[l] 5So they were scattered because there was no shepherd, and when they were scattered they became food for all the wild animals. 6My sheep wandered over all the mountains and on every high hill. They were scattered over the whole earth, and no one searched or looked for them.

7" 'Therefore, you shepherds, hear the word of the LORD: 8As surely as I live, declares the Sovereign LORD, because my flock lacks a shepherd and so has been plundered and has become food for all the wild animals, and because my shepherds did not search for my flock but cared for themselves rather than for my flock, 9therefore, O shepherds, hear the word of the LORD: 10This is what the Sovereign LORD says: I am against[m] the shepherds and will hold them accountable for my flock. I will remove them from tending the flock so that the shepherds can no longer feed themselves. I will rescue my flock from their mouths, and it will no longer be food for them.[n]

11" 'For this is what the Sovereign LORD says: I myself will search for my sheep and look after them. 12As a shepherd looks after his scattered flock when he is with them, so will I look after my sheep. I will rescue them from all the places where they were scattered on a day of clouds and darkness. 13I will bring them out from the nations and gather them from the countries, and I will bring them into their own land. I will pasture them on the mountains of Israel, in the ravines and in all the settlements in the land. 14I will tend them in a good pasture, and the mountain heights of Israel will be their grazing land. There they will lie down in good grazing land, and there they will feed in a rich pasture[o] on the mountains of Israel. 15I myself will tend my sheep and have them lie down, declares the Sovereign LORD. 16I will search for the lost and bring back the strays. I will bind up the injured and strengthen the weak, but the sleek and the strong I will destroy. I will shepherd the flock with justice.[p]

17" 'As for you, my flock, this is what the Sovereign LORD says: I will judge between one sheep and another, and between rams and goats.[q] 18Is it not enough for you to feed on the good pasture? Must you also trample the rest of your pasture with your feet? Is it not enough for you to drink clear water? Must you also muddy the rest with your feet? 19Must my flock feed on what you have trampled and drink what you have muddied with your feet?

20" 'Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says to them: See, I myself will judge between the fat sheep and the lean sheep. 21Because you shove with flank

34:2 [j] Jer 23:1; Jn 10:11

34:3 [k] Isa 56:11; Eze 22:27

34:4 [l] Zec 11:15-17

34:10 [m] Jer 21:13 [n] 1Sa 2:29-30

34:14 [o] Ps 23:2

34:16 [p] Isa 10:16; Lk 5:32

34:17 [q] Mt 25:32-33

34:1ff Ezekiel called the exiles "Israel," referring to all Jews in captivity from both the northern and southern kingdoms. Ezekiel criticized Israel's leaders for taking care of themselves rather than taking care of their people. He outlined their sins (34:1–6) and pronounced judgment upon them (34:7–10). Then he promised that a true shepherd (the Messiah) would come who would take care of the people as the other leaders were supposed to do (34:11–31). This beautiful message portrays the fate of the present shepherds, the work of the new shepherd, and the future of the sheep.

34:4–6 God would judge the religious leaders because they were selfishly caught up in their own concerns and were neglecting their service to others. Spiritual leaders must be careful not to pursue self-development at the expense of broken, scattered people. When we give too much attention to our own needs and ideas, we may push God aside and abandon those who depend on us.

34:9, 10 Those shepherds who failed their flock would be removed from office and held responsible for what happened to the people they were supposed to lead. Christian leaders must heed this warning and care for their flock, or total failure and judgment will be the result (see 1 Corinthians 9:24–27). True leadership focuses on helping others, not just on getting ahead.

34:11–16 God promises to take over as shepherd of his scattered flock. When our leaders fail us, we must not despair but remember that God is in control and that he promises to return and care for his flock. Thus we know that we can turn to God for help. He is still in control and can transform any tragic situation to produce good for his kingdom (see Genesis 50:20; Romans 8:28).

34:18–20 A bad shepherd is not only selfish but destructive. A minister who muddies the waters for others by raising unnecessary doubts, teaching false ideas, and acting sinfully is destroying his flock's spiritual nourishment.

and shoulder, butting all the weak sheep with your horns[r] until you have driven them away, 22I will save my flock, and they will no longer be plundered. I will judge between one sheep and another. 23I will place over them one shepherd, my servant David, and he will tend[s] them; he will tend them and be their shepherd. 24I the LORD will be their God, and my servant David will be prince among them. I the LORD have spoken.

25" 'I will make a covenant of peace with them and rid the land of wild beasts so that they may live in the desert and sleep in the forests in safety.[t] 26I will bless them and the places surrounding my hill.[i] I will send down showers in season; there will be showers of blessing. 27The trees of the field will yield their fruit and the ground will yield its crops; the people will be secure in their land. They will know that I am the LORD, when I break the bars of their yoke and rescue them from the hands of those who enslaved them. 28They will no longer be plundered by the nations, nor will wild animals devour them. They will live in safety, and no one will make them afraid.[u] 29I will provide for them a land renowned for its crops, and they will no longer be victims of famine[v] in the land or bear the scorn[w] of the nations. 30Then they will know that I, the LORD their God, am with them and that they, the house of Israel, are my people, declares the Sovereign LORD. 31You my sheep, the sheep of my pasture, are people, and I am your God, declares the Sovereign LORD.' "

34:21 [r] Dt 33:17
34:23 [s] Isa 40:11
34:25 [t] Isa 11:6-9; Hos 2:18
34:28 [u] Jer 30:10
34:29 [v] Eze 36:29 [w] Eze 36:6

A Prophecy Against Edom

35 The word of the LORD came to me: 2"Son of man, set your face against Mount Seir; prophesy against it 3and say: 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: I am against you, Mount Seir, and I will stretch out my hand[x] against you and make you a desolate waste. 4I will turn your towns into ruins and you will be desolate. Then you will know that I am the LORD.

5" 'Because you harbored an ancient hostility and delivered the Israelites over to the sword at the time of their calamity, the time their punishment reached its climax,[y] 6therefore as surely as I live, declares the Sovereign LORD, I will give you over to bloodshed and it will pursue you. Since you did not hate bloodshed, bloodshed will pursue you. 7I will make Mount Seir a desolate waste and cut off from it all who come and go. 8I will fill your mountains with the slain; those killed by the sword will fall on your hills and in your valleys and in all your ravines. 9I will make you desolate forever; your towns will not be inhabited. Then you will know that I am the LORD.[z]

10" 'Because you have said, "These two nations and countries will be ours and

35:3 [x] Jer 6:12
35:5 [y] Eze 21:29
35:9 [z] Jer 49:13

[i] 26 Or I will make them and the places surrounding my hill a blessing

BAD SHEPHERDS VERSUS GOOD SHEPHERDS

Bad Shepherds	Good Shepherds
Take care of themselves	Take care of their flock
Worry about their own health	Strengthen the weak and sick, search for the lost
Rule harshly and brutally	Rule lovingly and gently
Abandon and scatter the sheep	Gather and protect the sheep
Keep the best for themselves	Give their best to the sheep

34:23–25 In contrast to the present evil shepherds (leaders) of God's people (34:1–6), God will send a perfect shepherd, the Messiah ("my servant David"), who will take care of every need his people have and set up a kingdom of perfect peace and justice (see Psalm 23; Jeremiah 23:5, 6; John 10:11; Hebrews 13:20, 21; Revelation 21). "Peace" here means more than the absence of conflict. It is contentment, fulfillment, and security.

35:1ff Ezekiel gave another prophecy against Edom (also called Seir); his first prophecy against Edom is found in 25:12–14. In this prophecy, Ezekiel is probably using Edom to represent all the nations opposed to God's people. Chapter 36 says that Israel will be restored, while this chapter says that Edom (God's enemies) will be made "a desolate waste."

35:2 Edom offered to help destroy Jerusalem and rejoiced when the city fell. Edom's long-standing hostility against God's people resulted in God's judgment.

35:6–8 Ezekiel prophesied not only against the people of Edom, but also against their mountains and land. Their home territory was Mount Seir. Mountains, symbols of strength and power, represented the pride of these people who thought they could get away with evil. Edom's desire for revenge turned against them. Edom received the punishment they were so hasty to give out. God has a way of turning our treatment of others into a boomerang. So we must be careful in our judgment of others (Matthew 7:1, 2).

we will take possession of them," even though I the LORD was there, 11therefore as surely as I live, declares the Sovereign LORD, I will treat you in accordance with the anger and jealousy you showed in your hatred of them and I will make myself known among them when I judge you.[a] 12Then you will know that I the LORD have heard all the contemptible things you have said against the mountains of Israel. You said, "They have been laid waste and have been given over to us to devour." 13You boasted against me and spoke against me without restraint, and I heard it. 14This is what the Sovereign LORD says: While the whole earth rejoices, I will make you desolate.[b] 15Because you rejoiced when the inheritance of the house of Israel became desolate, that is how I will treat you. You will be desolate, O Mount Seir, you and all of Edom.[c] Then they will know that I am the LORD.' "

35:11 [a] Ps 9:16; Mt 7:2

35:14 [b] Jer 51:48

35:15 [c] Jer 50:11-13

A Prophecy to the Mountains of Israel

36 "Son of man, prophesy to the mountains of Israel and say, 'O mountains of Israel, hear the word of the LORD. 2This is what the Sovereign LORD says: The enemy said of you, "Aha![d] The ancient heights have become our possession.[e]" ' 3Therefore prophesy and say, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Because they ravaged and hounded you from every side so that you became the possession of the rest of the nations and the object of people's malicious talk and slander, 4therefore, O mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Sovereign LORD: This is what the Sovereign LORD says to the mountains and hills, to the ravines and valleys, to the desolate ruins and the deserted towns that have been plundered and ridiculed by the rest of the nations around you[f]— 5this is what the Sovereign LORD says: In my burning zeal I have spoken against the rest of the nations, and against all Edom, for with glee and with malice in their hearts they made my land their own possession so that they might plunder its pastureland.'[g] 6Therefore prophesy concerning the land of Israel and say to the mountains and hills, to the ravines and valleys: 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: I speak in my jealous wrath because you have suffered the scorn of the nations.[h] 7Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: I swear with uplifted hand that the nations around you will also suffer scorn.

36:2 [d] Eze 25:3 [e] Eze 35:10

36:4 [f] Ps 79:4

36:5 [g] Eze 35:10, 15

36:6 [h] Ps 123:3-4; Eze 34:29

8" 'But you, O mountains of Israel, will produce branches and fruit for my people Israel, for they will soon come home. 9I am concerned for you and will look on you with favor; you will be plowed and sown, 10and I will multiply the number of people upon you, even the whole house of Israel. The towns will be inhabited and the ruins rebuilt. 11I will increase the number of men and animals upon you, and they will be fruitful and become numerous. I will settle people on you as in the past and will make you prosper more than before. Then you will know that I am the LORD. 12I will cause people, my people Israel, to walk upon you. They will possess you, and you will be their inheritance; you will never again deprive them of their children.

13" 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Because people say to you, "You devour men[i] and deprive your nation of its children," 14therefore you will no longer devour men or make your nation childless, declares the Sovereign LORD. 15No longer will I make you hear the taunts of the nations, and no longer will you suffer the scorn of the peoples or cause your nation to fall, declares the Sovereign LORD.[j]' "

36:13 [i] Nu 13:32

36:15 [j] Eze 34:29

16Again the word of the LORD came to me: 17"Son of man, when the people of Israel were living in their own land, they defiled it by their conduct and their actions. Their conduct was like a woman's monthly uncleanness in my sight. 18So I poured out my wrath on them because they had shed blood in the land and because

---

36:1ff In this prophecy, Ezekiel said that Israel would be restored as a nation and would return to its own land. The mountains were symbolic of Israel's strength (see the note on 35:6–8). To the exiles in Babylon, this seemed impossible. This message again emphasizes God's sovereignty and trustworthiness. He would first judge the nations used to punish Israel (36:1–7) and then restore his people (36:8–15).

36:2 "The ancient heights" refers to the promised land—the land of Israel. Israel's enemies challenged not only their boundaries but also God's promises to Israel.

they had defiled it with their idols. 19I dispersed them among the nations, and they were scattered through the countries; I judged them according to their conduct and their actions.[k] 20And wherever they went among the nations they profaned[l] my holy name, for it was said of them, 'These are the LORD's people, and yet they had to leave his land.'[m] 21I had concern for my holy name, which the house of Israel profaned among the nations where they had gone.[n]

22"Therefore say to the house of Israel, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: It is not for your sake, O house of Israel, that I am going to do these things, but for the sake of my holy name, which you have profaned among the nations where you have gone. 23I will show the holiness of my great name, which has been profaned among the nations, the name you have profaned among them. Then the nations will know that I am the LORD, declares the Sovereign LORD, when I show myself holy[o] through you before their eyes.

24" 'For I will take you out of the nations; I will gather you from all the countries and bring you back into your own land.[p] 25I will sprinkle[q] clean water on you, and you will be clean; I will cleanse you from all your impurities and from all your idols.[r] 26I will give you a new heart and put a new spirit in you; I will remove from you your heart of stone and give you a heart of flesh. 27And I will put my Spirit in you and move you to follow my decrees and be careful to keep my laws. 28You will live in the land I gave your forefathers; you will be my people, and I will be your God.[s] 29I will save you from all your uncleanness. I will call for the grain and make it plentiful and will not bring famine[t] upon you. 30I will increase the fruit of the trees and the crops of the field, so that you will no longer suffer disgrace among the nations because of famine. 31Then you will remember your evil ways and wicked deeds, and you will loathe yourselves for your sins and detestable practices.[u] 32I want you to know that I am not doing this for your sake, declares the Sovereign LORD. Be ashamed and disgraced for your conduct, O house of Israel!

33" 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: On the day I cleanse you from all your sins, I will resettle your towns, and the ruins will be rebuilt. 34The desolate land will be cultivated instead of lying desolate in the sight of all who pass through it. 35They will say, "This land that was laid waste has become like the garden of Eden; the cities that were lying in ruins, desolate and destroyed, are now fortified and inhabited." 36Then the nations around you that remain will know that I the LORD have rebuilt what was destroyed and have replanted what was desolate. I the LORD have spoken, and I will do it.'[v]

36:19 [k] Eze 39:24
36:20 [l] Ro 2:24; [m] Isa 52:5
36:21 [n] Ps 74:18
36:23 [o] Eze 20:41
36:24 [p] Eze 34:13; 37:21
36:25 [q] Heb 9:13; [r] Zec 13:2
36:28 [s] Eze 37:14, 27
36:29 [t] Eze 34:29
36:31 [u] Eze 6:9
36:36 [v] Eze 37:14

OLD AND NEW COVENANTS

Old Covenant	New Covenant
Placed upon stone	Placed upon people's hearts
Based on the law	Based on desire to love and serve God
Must be taught	Known by all
Legal relationship with God	Personal relationship with God

36:21–23 Why did God want to protect his holy name – his reputation – among the nations of the world? God was concerned about the salvation not only of his people, but also of the whole world. To allow his people to remain in sin and be permanently destroyed by their enemies would lead other nations to conclude that their pagan gods were more powerful than Israel's God (Isaiah 48:11). Thus, to protect his holy name, God would return a remnant of his people to their land. God will not share his glory with false gods – he alone is the one true God. The people had the responsibility to represent God properly to the rest of the world. Believers today have that same responsibility. How do you represent God to the world?

36:25–27 God promised to restore Israel not only physically, but spiritually. To accomplish this, God would give them a new heart for following him and put his Spirit within them (see 11:19, 20; Psalm 51:7–11) to transform them and empower them to do his will. Again the new covenant was promised (16:61–63; 34:23–25), ultimately to be fulfilled in Christ. No matter how impure your life is right now, God offers you a fresh start. You can have your sins washed away, receive a new heart for God, and have his Spirit within you – if you accept God's promise. Why try to patch up your old life when you can have a new one?

36:32 God said his people should be ashamed of their sins. The people had become so callous that they had lost all sensitivity to sin. First they had to "remember" (36:31) their sins, then despise them, and finally repent of them (see James 4:8, 9). As we examine our lives, we may find that we too have lost our sensitivity to certain sins. But if we measure ourselves against God's standards of right living, we will be ashamed. To regain sensitivity we must recognize our sin for what it is, feel sorry for displeasing God, and ask his forgiveness. The Holy Spirit will guide us, making us responsive and receptive to God's truth (John 14:26; 16:8, 13).

37"This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Once again I will yield to the plea of the house of Israel and do this for them: I will make their people as numerous as sheep, 38as numerous as the flocks for offerings at Jerusalem during her appointed feasts. So will the ruined cities be filled with flocks of people. Then they will know that I am the LORD."

The Valley of Dry Bones

37 The hand of the LORD was upon me,[w] and he brought me out by the Spirit[x] of the LORD and set me in the middle of a valley; it was full of bones. 2He led me back and forth among them, and I saw a great many bones on the floor of the valley, bones that were very dry. 3He asked me, "Son of man, can these bones live?"

I said, "O Sovereign LORD, you alone know.[y]"

4Then he said to me, "Prophesy to these bones and say to them, 'Dry bones, hear the word of the LORD! 5This is what the Sovereign LORD says to these bones: I will make breath[l] enter you, and you will come to life.[z] 6I will attach tendons to you and make flesh come upon you and cover you with skin; I will put breath in you, and you will come to life. Then you will know that I am the LORD.' "

7So I prophesied as I was commanded. And as I was prophesying, there was a noise, a rattling sound, and the bones came together, bone to bone. 8I looked, and tendons and flesh appeared on them and skin covered them, but there was no breath in them.

9Then he said to me, "Prophesy to the breath;[a] prophesy, son of man, and say to it, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Come from the four winds, O breath, and breathe into these slain, that they may live.' " 10So I prophesied as he commanded me, and breath entered them; they came to life and stood up on their feet—a vast army.[b]

11Then he said to me: "Son of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel. They say, 'Our bones are dried up and our hope is gone; we are cut off.' 12Therefore prophesy and say to them: 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: O my people, I am going to open your graves and bring you up from them; I will bring you back to the land of Israel.[c] 13Then you, my people, will know that I am the LORD, when I open your graves and bring you up from them. 14I will put my Spirit in you and you will live, and I will settle you in your own land. Then you will know that I the LORD have spoken, and I have done it, declares the LORD.[d]' "

One Nation Under One King

15The word of the LORD came to me: 16"Son of man, take a stick of wood and write on it, 'Belonging to Judah and the Israelites associated with him.[e]' Then take another stick of wood, and write on it, 'Ephraim's stick, belonging to Joseph and all the house of Israel associated with him.' 17Join them together into one stick so that they will become one in your hand.

37:1 [w] Eze 1:3 [x] Eze 11:24

37:3 [y] Dt 32:39; 1Sa 2:6

37:5 [z] Ps 104:29-30

37:9 [a] Ps 104:30

37:10 [b] Rev 11:11

37:12 [c] Isa 26:19; Hos 13:14

37:14 [d] Eze 36:27-28, 36

37:16 [e] Nu 17:2-3; 2Ch 15:9

[l] 5 The Hebrew for this word can also mean wind or spirit (see verses 6-14).

36:37, 38 God said that if the people asked, he would come to their aid. We cannot expect his mercy, however, until we have sought new hearts from him (36:26). We can be thankful that his invitation is open to all.

37:1ff This vision illustrates the promise of chapter 36—new life and a nation restored, both physically and spiritually. The dry bones are a picture of the Jews in captivity—scattered and dead. The two sticks (37:15-17) represent the reunion of the entire nation of Israel that had divided into northern and southern kingdoms after Solomon. The scattered exiles of both Israel and Judah would be released from the "graves" of captivity and one day regathered in their homeland, with the Messiah as their leader. This vision has yet to be fulfilled. Ezekiel felt he was speaking to the dead as he preached to the exiles because they rarely responded to his message. But these bones responded! And just as God brought life to the dead bones, he would bring life again to his spiritually dead people.

37:4, 5 The dry bones represented the people's spiritually dead condition. Your church may seem like a heap of dry bones to you, spiritually dead with no hope of vitality. But just as God promised to restore his nation, he can restore any church, no matter how dry or dead it may be. Rather than give up, pray for renewal, for God can restore it to life. The hope and prayer of every church should be that God will put his Spirit into it (37:14). In fact, God is at work calling his people back to himself, bringing new life into dead churches.

37:16 The first stick was for Judah, being the leading tribe in the southern kingdom. The other was for Joseph, because he was the father of Ephraim, the leading tribe in the northern kingdom.

37:18 [f] Eze 24:19

18 "When your countrymen ask you, 'Won't you tell us what you mean by this?' [f] 19 say to them, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: I am going to take the stick of Joseph — which is in Ephraim's hand — and of the Israelite tribes associated with him, and join it to Judah's stick, making them a single stick of wood, and they will become one in my hand.' 20 Hold before their eyes the sticks you have written on 21 and say to them, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: I will take the Israelites out of the nations where they have gone. I will gather them from all around and bring them back into their own land. [g] 22 I will make them one nation in the land, on the mountains of Israel. There will be one king over all of them and they will never again be two nations or be divided into two kingdoms. 23 They will no longer defile [h] themselves with their idols and vile images or with any of their offenses, for I will save them from all their sinful backsliding, [k] and I will cleanse them. They will be my people, and I will be their God. [i]

37:21 [g] Eze 39:27

37:23 [h] Eze 43:7 [i] Eze 36:28

24 "'My servant David will be king over them, and they will all have one shepherd. They will follow my laws and be careful to keep my decrees. 25 They will live in the land I gave to my servant Jacob, the land where your fathers lived. They and their children and their children's children will live there forever, and David my servant will be their prince forever. 26 I will make a covenant of peace with them; it will be an everlasting covenant. I will establish them and increase their numbers, and I will put my sanctuary among them forever. 27 My dwelling place will be with them; I will be their God, and they will be my people. [j] 28 Then the nations will know that I the LORD make Israel holy, when my sanctuary is among them forever.' "

37:27 [j] 2Co 6:16*

A Prophecy Against Gog

38 The word of the LORD came to me: 2 "Son of man, set your face against Gog, of the land of Magog, the chief prince of [l] Meshech and Tubal; prophesy against him 3 and say: 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: I am against you, O Gog, chief prince of [m] Meshech and Tubal. 4 I will turn you around, put hooks in your jaws and bring you out with your whole army — your horses, your horsemen fully armed, and a great horde with large and small shields, all of them brandishing their swords. 5 Persia, Cush [n] and Put will be with them, all with shields and helmets, 6 also Gomer [k] with all its troops, and Beth Togarmah from the far north with all its troops — the many nations with you.

38:6 [k] Ge 10:2

7 "'Get ready; be prepared, you and all the hordes gathered about you, and take command of them. 8 After many days you will be called to arms. In future years you will invade a land that has recovered from war, whose people were gathered from many nations to the mountains of Israel, which had long been desolate. They had been brought out from the nations, and now all of them live in safety. 9 You and all your troops and the many nations with you will go up, advancing like a storm; [l] you will be like a cloud covering the land.

38:9 [l] Isa 28:2

10 "'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: On that day thoughts will come into your mind and you will devise an evil scheme. 11 You will say, "I will invade a land

[k] 23 Many Hebrew manuscripts (see also Septuagint); most Hebrew manuscripts all their dwelling places where they sinned [l] 2 Or the prince of Rosh, [m] 3 Or Gog, prince of Rosh, [n] 5 That is, the upper Nile region

37:24, 25 The Messiah was often called David because he is David's descendant. David was a good king, but the Messiah would be the perfect King (Revelation 17:14; 19:16; 21:1ff).

37:26, 27 God's promise here goes beyond the physical and geographical restoration of Israel. He promises to breathe new spiritual life into his people so that their hearts and attitudes will be right with him and united with one another. This same process is described throughout God's Word as the cleansing and renewing of our hearts by God's Spirit (Titus 3:4–6).

38:1ff In chapter 37, Ezekiel revealed how Israel (God's people) would be restored to their land from many parts of the world. Once Israel became strong, a confederacy of nations from the north would attack, led by Gog (see also Revelation 20:8). Their purpose would be to destroy God's people. Gog's allies would come from the mountainous area southeast of the Black Sea and southwest of the Caspian Sea (central Turkey), as well as from the area that is present-day Iran, Ethiopia, Libya, and possibly the Soviet Union. Gog could be a person (he sometimes is identified with Gyges, king of Lydia in 660 B.C.), or Gog could also be a symbol of all the evil in the world. Whether symbolic or literal, Gog represents the aggregate military might of all the forces opposed to God.

Many say that the battle Ezekiel described will occur at the end of human history, but there are many differences between the events described here and those in Revelation 20. Regardless of when this battle will occur, the message is clear: God will deliver his people — no enemy can stand before his mighty power.

of unwalled villages; I will attack a peaceful and unsuspecting people — all of them living without walls and without gates and bars.[m] 12I will plunder and loot and turn my hand against the resettled ruins and the people gathered from the nations, rich in livestock and goods, living at the center of the land." 13Sheba and Dedan and the merchants of Tarshish and all her villages[o] will say to you, "Have you come to plunder? Have you gathered your hordes to loot, to carry off silver and gold, to take away livestock and goods and to seize much plunder?" '

14"Therefore, son of man, prophesy and say to Gog: 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: In that day, when my people Israel are living in safety, will you not take notice of it? 15You will come from your place in the far north, you and many nations with you, all of them riding on horses, a great horde, a mighty army.[n] 16You will advance against my people Israel like a cloud that covers the land. In days to come, O Gog, I will bring you against my land, so that the nations may know me when I show myself holy through you before their eyes.

17" 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Are you not the one I spoke of in former days by my servants the prophets of Israel? At that time they prophesied for years that I would bring you against them. 18This is what will happen in that day:
When Gog attacks the land of Israel, my hot anger will be aroused, declares the Sovereign LORD. 19In my zeal and fiery wrath I declare that at that time there shall be a great earthquake in the land of Israel.[o] 20The fish of the sea, the birds of the air, the beasts of the field, every creature that moves along the ground, and all the people on the face of the earth will tremble at my presence. The mountains will be overturned, the cliffs will crumble and every wall will fall to the ground.[p] 21I will summon a sword against Gog on all my mountains, declares the Sovereign LORD.
Every man's sword will be against his brother.[q] 22I will execute judgment[r] upon him with plague and bloodshed; I will pour down torrents of rain, hailstones[s] and burning sulfur on him and on his troops and on the many nations with him. 23And so I will show my greatness and my holiness, and I will make myself known in the sight of many nations. Then they will know that I am the LORD.'

39 "Son of man, prophesy against Gog and say: 'This is what the Sovereign
LORD says: I am against you, O Gog, chief prince of[p] Meshech and Tubal.[t] 2I will turn you around and drag you along. I will bring you from the far north and send you against the mountains of Israel. 3Then I will strike your bow[u] from your left hand and make your arrows drop from your right hand. 4On the mountains of Israel you will fall, you and all your troops and the nations with you. I will give you as food to all kinds of carrion birds and to the wild animals.[v] 5You will fall in the open field, for I have spoken, declares the Sovereign LORD. 6I will send fire on Magog and on those who live in safety in the coastlands, and they will know that I am the LORD.

7" 'I will make known my holy name among my people Israel. I will no longer let my holy name be profaned, and the nations will know that I the LORD am the Holy One in Israel.[w] 8It is coming! It will surely take place, declares the Sovereign LORD. This is the day I have spoken of.

9" 'Then those who live in the towns of Israel will go out and use the weapons for fuel and burn them up — the small and large shields, the bows and arrows, the war

38:11 [m] Jer 49:31

38:15 [n] Eze 39:2

38:19 [o] Hag 2:6, 21

38:20 [p] Hos 4:3

38:21 [q] 1Sa 14:20

38:22 [r] Isa 66:16; Jer 25:31 [s] Rev 16:21

39:1 [t] Eze 38:2, 3

39:3 [u] Hos 1:5

39:4 [v] Eze 33:27

39:7 [w] Eze 36:16, 23

o 13 Or her strong lions p 1 Or Gog, prince of Rosh,

38:13 Sheba and Dedan, great trading centers in Arabia, would in effect say to Gog, "Who are you to usurp our position as the world's trade leaders?" Sheba and Dedan would then join this confederacy. Tarshish was the leading trade center in the west; many believe it was in Spain.

38:21 God will directly intervene in the defense of Israel, unleashing severe natural disasters on the invaders from the north. In the end, the stricken pagan nations will turn on themselves in confusion and panic. All those who set themselves against God will be destroyed.

39:1ff The story of the battle continues. The defeat of the evil forces will be final and complete; they will be destroyed by divine intervention. Because of this victory, God's name will be known throughout the world. His glory will be evident, and the nations will understand that he alone is in charge of human history. God will clearly show his love for his people by restoring them to their homeland.

clubs and spears. For seven years they will use them for fuel.[x] 10They will not need to gather wood from the fields or cut it from the forests, because they will use the weapons for fuel. And they will plunder those who plundered them and loot those who looted them, declares the Sovereign LORD.[y]

11"'On that day I will give Gog a burial place in Israel, in the valley of those who travel east toward[q] the Sea.[r] It will block the way of travelers, because Gog and all his hordes will be buried there. So it will be called the Valley of Hamon Gog.[s]

12"'For seven months the house of Israel will be burying them in order to cleanse the land. 13All the people of the land will bury them, and the day I am glorified[z] will be a memorable day for them, declares the Sovereign LORD.

14"'Men will be regularly employed to cleanse the land. Some will go throughout the land and, in addition to them, others will bury those that remain on the ground. At the end of the seven months they will begin their search. 15As they go through the land and one of them sees a human bone, he will set up a marker beside it until the gravediggers have buried it in the Valley of Hamon Gog. 16(Also a town called Hamonah[t] will be there.) And so they will cleanse the land.'

17"Son of man, this is what the Sovereign LORD says: Call out to every kind of bird and all the wild animals: 'Assemble and come together from all around to the sacrifice I am preparing for you, the great sacrifice on the mountains of Israel. There you will eat flesh and drink blood. 18You will eat the flesh of mighty men and drink the blood of the princes of the earth as if they were rams and lambs, goats and bulls — all of them fattened animals from Bashan.[a] 19At the sacrifice I am preparing for you, you will eat fat till you are glutted and drink blood till you are drunk. 20At my table you will eat your fill of horses and riders, mighty men and soldiers of every kind,' declares the Sovereign LORD.[b]

21"I will display my glory among the nations, and all the nations will see the punishment I inflict and the hand I lay upon them.[c] 22From that day forward the house of Israel will know that I am the LORD their God. 23And the nations will know that the people of Israel went into exile for their sin, because they were unfaithful to me. So I hid my face from them and handed them over to their enemies, and they all fell by the sword.[d] 24I dealt with them according to their uncleanness and their offenses, and I hid my face from them.

25"Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: I will now bring Jacob back from captivity[u] and will have compassion[e] on all the people of Israel, and I will be zealous for my holy name. 26They will forget their shame and all the unfaithfulness they showed toward me when they lived in safety in their land with no one to make them afraid.[f] 27When I have brought them back from the nations and have gathered them from the countries of their enemies, I will show myself holy through them in the sight of many nations.[g] 28Then they will know that I am the LORD their God, for though I sent them into exile among the nations, I will gather them to their own land, not leaving any behind. 29I will no longer hide my face from them, for I will pour out my Spirit[h] on the house of Israel, declares the Sovereign LORD."

39:9 [x] Ps 46:9
39:10 [y] Isa 14:2
39:13 [z] Eze 28:22
39:18 [a] Ps 22:12
39:20 [b] Rev 19:17-18
39:21 [c] Eze 38:16
39:23 [d] Isa 59:2
39:25 [e] Jer 30:18
39:26 [f] Isa 17:2; Eze 34:28
39:27 [g] Eze 37:21
39:29 [h] Ac 2:17

[q] 11 Or of [r] 11 That is, the Dead Sea [s] 11 Hamon Gog means hordes of Gog. [t] 16 Hamonah means horde.
[u] 25 Or now restore the fortunes of Jacob

39:12–16 Two themes are intertwined: God's total victory over his enemies, and the need to cleanse the land to make it holy. After the final battle, teams will be used to give proper burial to the bodies of the dead enemies in order for the land to be cleansed. The land would have been defiled by unburied corpses. Those who would come in contact with the corpses out in the open would become ceremonially unclean (according to Numbers 19:14–16). Yet there will be so many that all kinds of birds will be called in order to help dispose of the corpses (39:17–20). The message for us is an exciting one: with God on our side, we are assured of ultimate victory over his foes because God will fight on our behalf (see also Zephaniah 3:14–17; Romans 8:38, 39).

39:29 Both in this prophecy and in Joel 2:28, 29, God promises to pour out his Spirit on mankind. The early church believed this began to be fulfilled at Pentecost, when God's Holy Spirit came to live in all believers (Acts 2:1–18).

2. Restoring the worship of God

The New Temple Area

40 In the twenty-fifth year of our exile, at the beginning of the year, on the tenth of the month, in the fourteenth year after the fall of the city—on that very day the hand of the LORD was upon me[j] and he took me there. 2In visions[j] of God he took me to the land of Israel and set me on a very high mountain,[k] on whose south side were some buildings that looked like a city. 3He took me there, and I saw a man whose appearance was like bronze;[l] he was standing in the gateway with a linen cord and a measuring rod[m] in his hand. 4The man said to me, "Son of man, look with your eyes and hear with your ears and pay attention to everything I am going to show you, for that is why you have been brought here. Tell the house of Israel everything you see.[n]"

40:1 [j]Eze 1:3
40:2 [j]Da 7:1, 7 [k]Rev 21:10
40:3 [l]Eze 1:7 [m]Eze 47:3; Rev 11:1; 21:15
40:4 [n]Eze 44:5

The East Gate to the Outer Court

5I saw a wall completely surrounding the temple area. The length of the measuring rod in the man's hand was six long cubits, each of which was a cubit[v] and a handbreadth.[w] He measured[o] the wall; it was one measuring rod thick and one rod high.

40:5 [o]Eze 42:20

6Then he went to the gate facing east. He climbed its steps and measured the threshold of the gate; it was one rod deep.[x] 7The alcoves[p] for the guards were one rod long and one rod wide, and the projecting walls between the alcoves were five cubits thick. And the threshold of the gate next to the portico facing the temple was one rod deep.

40:7 [p]ver 36

8Then he measured the portico of the gateway; 9it[y] was eight cubits deep and its jambs were two cubits thick. The portico of the gateway faced the temple.

10Inside the east gate were three alcoves on each side; the three had the same measurements, and the faces of the projecting walls on each side had the same measurements. 11Then he measured the width of the entrance to the gateway; it was

[v] 5 The common cubit was about 1 1/2 feet (about 0.5 meter). [w] 5 That is, about 3 inches (about 8 centimeters) [x] 6 Septuagint; Hebrew deep, the first threshold, one rod deep [y] 8,9 Many Hebrew manuscripts, Septuagint, Vulgate and Syriac; most Hebrew manuscripts gateway facing the temple; it was one rod deep. 9Then he measured the portico of the gateway; it

40:1ff The building of the temple envisioned a time of complete restoration to the exiles, a time when God would return to his people. The temple was built in 520–515 B.C. (see Ezra 5, 6), but fell short of Ezekiel's plan (Haggai 2:3; Zechariah 4:10). This vision of the temple has been interpreted in four main ways: (1) This is the temple Zerubbabel should have built in 520–515 B.C. and is the actual blueprint Ezekiel intended. But due to disobedience (43:2–10), it was never followed. (2) This is a literal temple to be rebuilt during the millennial reign of Christ. (3) This temple is symbolic of the true worship of God by the Christian church right now. (4) This temple is symbolic of the future and eternal reign of God when his presence and blessing fill the earth.

Whether the temple is literal or symbolic, it seems clear that this is a vision of God's final perfect kingdom. This gave hope to the people of Ezekiel's time who had just seen their nation and its temple destroyed with no hope of rebuilding it in the near future. The details given in this vision gave the people even more hope that what Ezekiel saw had come from God and would surely happen in the future.

40:1ff One argument against the view that Ezekiel's temple is a literal building of the future is that sacrifices are mentioned (40:38–43). If the sacrifices were to be reinstituted in the last days, then Christ's final sacrifice would not have been final. The New Testament makes it clear that Christ died once and for all (Romans 6:10; Hebrews 9:12; 10:10, 18). Our sins have been removed; no further sacrifice is needed.

In Ezekiel's day, however, the only kind of worship the people knew was the kind that revolved around the sacrifices and ceremonies described in Exodus through Deuteronomy. Ezekiel had to explain the new order of worship in terms the people would understand. The next nine chapters tell how the temple is the focal point of everything, showing that the ideal relationship with God is when all of life centers on him.

40:1ff Ezekiel explained God's dwelling place in words and images the people could understand. God wanted them to see the great splendor he had planned for those who lived faithfully. This kind of temple was never built, but it was a vision intended to typify God's perfect plan for his people—the centrality of worship, the presence of the Lord, the blessings flowing from it, and the orderliness of worship and worship duties. Don't let the details obscure the point of this vision—one day all those who have been faithful to God will enjoy eternal life with him. Let the majesty of this vision lift you and teach you about the God you worship and serve.

40:1—43:27 This vision came to Ezekiel in 573 B.C. Chapters 40--43 give the temple's measurements and then describe how it would be filled with God's glory. Because Ezekiel was a priest, he would have been familiar with the furnishings and ceremonies of Solomon's temple. As in Revelation 11:1, 2, the command to "measure" defines the areas God has marked out for special use. As you read all these details, remember that God is sovereign over all our worship and over the timetable for restoring the faithful to himself

40:3, 4 Who was this man? He was obviously not a human being, so he may have been the angel in 9:1–11 or one like him. Some say he may have been Christ himself because he speaks as God had been speaking to Ezekiel, calling him "Son of man."

40:5 The long cubit was about 21 inches, compared with the ordinary cubit of about 18 inches.

ten cubits and its length was thirteen cubits. 12In front of each alcove was a wall one cubit high, and the alcoves were six cubits square. 13Then he measured the gateway from the top of the rear wall of one alcove to the top of the opposite one; the distance was twenty-five cubits from one parapet opening to the opposite one. 14He measured along the faces of the projecting walls all around the inside of the gateway — sixty cubits. The measurement was up to the portico[z] facing the courtyard.[a] 15The distance from the entrance of the gateway to the far end of its portico was fifty cubits. 16The alcoves and the projecting walls inside the gateway were surmounted by narrow parapet openings all around, as was the portico; the openings all around faced inward. The faces of the projecting walls were decorated with palm trees.

The Outer Court

40:17 [q] Rev 11:2

17Then he brought me into the outer court.[q] There I saw some rooms and a pavement that had been constructed all around the court; there were thirty rooms along the pavement. 18It abutted the sides of the gateways and was as wide as they were long; this was the lower pavement. 19Then he measured the distance from the inside of the lower gateway to the outside of the inner court; it was a hundred cubits on the east side as well as on the north.

The North Gate

20Then he measured the length and width of the gate facing north, leading into the outer court. 21Its alcoves — three on each side — its projecting walls and its portico had the same measurements as those of the first gateway. It was fifty cubits long and twenty-five cubits wide. 22Its openings, its portico[r] and its palm tree decorations had the same measurements as those of the gate facing east. Seven steps led up to it, with its portico opposite them. 23There was a gate to the inner court facing the north gate, just as there was on the east. He measured from one gate to the opposite one; it was a hundred cubits.

40:22 [r] ver 49

The South Gate

24Then he led me to the south side and I saw a gate facing south. He measured its jambs and its portico, and they had the same measurements as the others. 25The gateway and its portico had narrow openings all around, like the openings of the others. It was fifty cubits long and twenty-five cubits wide. 26Seven steps led up to it, with its portico opposite them; it had palm tree decorations on the faces of the projecting walls on each side.[s] 27The inner court also had a gate facing south, and he measured from this gate to the outer gate on the south side; it was a hundred cubits.

40:26 [s] ver 22

Gates to the Inner Court

28Then he brought me into the inner court through the south gate, and he measured the south gate; it had the same measurements as the others. 29Its alcoves, its projecting walls and its portico had the same measurements as the others. The gateway and its portico had openings all around. It was fifty cubits long and twenty-five cubits wide. 30(The porticoes[t] of the gateways around the inner court were twenty-five cubits wide and five cubits deep.) 31Its portico faced the outer court; palm trees decorated its jambs, and eight steps led up to it.

40:30 [t] ver 21

32Then he brought me to the inner court on the east side, and he measured the gateway; it had the same measurements as the others. 33Its alcoves, its projecting walls and its portico had the same measurements as the others. The gateway and its portico had openings all around. It was fifty cubits long and twenty-five cubits wide. 34Its portico faced the outer court; palm trees decorated the jambs on either side, and eight steps led up to it.

40:35 [u] Eze 44:4

35Then he brought me to the north gate[u] and measured it. It had the same measurements as the others, 36as did its alcoves, its projecting walls and its portico, and it had openings all around. It was fifty cubits long and twenty-five cubits wide.

[z] 14 Septuagint; Hebrew projecting wall [a] 14 The meaning of the Hebrew for this verse is uncertain.

37 Its portico[b] faced the outer court; palm trees decorated the jambs on either side, and eight steps led up to it.

The Rooms for Preparing Sacrifices

38 A room with a doorway was by the portico in each of the inner gateways, where the burnt offerings[v] were washed. 39 In the portico of the gateway were two tables on each side, on which the burnt offerings, sin offerings[w] and guilt offerings[x] were slaughtered. 40 By the outside wall of the portico of the gateway, near the steps at the entrance to the north gateway were two tables, and on the other side of the steps were two tables. 41 So there were four tables on one side of the gateway and four on the other — eight tables in all — on which the sacrifices were slaughtered. 42 There were also four tables of dressed stone for the burnt offerings, each a cubit and a half long, a cubit and a half wide and a cubit high. On them were placed the utensils for slaughtering the burnt offerings and the other sacrifices. 43 And double-pronged hooks, each a handbreadth long, were attached to the wall all around.
The tables were for the flesh of the offerings.

40:38
[v] 2Ch 4:6; Eze 42:13

40:39
[w] Lev 4:3, 28
[x] Lev 7:1

Rooms for the Priests

44 Outside the inner gate, within the inner court, were two rooms, one[c] at the side of the north gate and facing south, and another at the side of the south[d] gate and facing north. 45 He said to me, "The room facing south is for the priests who have charge of the temple,[y] 46 and the room facing north is for the priests who have charge of the altar.[z] These are the sons of Zadok, who are the only Levites who may draw near to the LORD to minister before him.[a]"

47 Then he measured the court: It was square — a hundred cubits long and a hundred cubits wide. And the altar was in front of the temple.

40:45
[y] 1Ch 9:23

40:46
[z] Nu 18:5
[a] Eze 43:19; 44:15

The Temple

48 He brought me to the portico of the temple and measured the jambs of the portico; they were five cubits wide on either side. The width of the entrance was fourteen cubits and its projecting walls were[e] three cubits wide on either side.
49 The portico[b] was twenty cubits wide, and twelve[f] cubits from front to back. It was reached by a flight of stairs,[g] and there were pillars on each side of the jambs.

40:49
[b] 1Ki 6:3

41 Then the man brought me to the outer sanctuary and measured the jambs; the width of the jambs was six cubits[h] on each side.[i] 2 The entrance was ten cubits wide, and the projecting walls on each side of it were five cubits wide. He also measured the outer sanctuary; it was forty cubits long and twenty cubits wide.[c]

41:2
[c] 2Ch 3:3

3 Then he went into the inner sanctuary and measured the jambs of the entrance;
each was two cubits wide. The entrance was six cubits wide, and the projecting walls on each side of it were seven cubits wide. 4 And he measured the length of the inner sanctuary; it was twenty cubits, and its width was twenty cubits across the end of the outer sanctuary.[d] He said to me, "This is the Most Holy Place.[e]"

41:4
[d] 1Ki 6:20
[e] Heb 9:3-8

5 Then he measured the wall of the temple; it was six cubits thick, and each side room around the temple was four cubits wide. 6 The side rooms were on three levels, one above another, thirty on each level. There were ledges all around the wall of the temple to serve as supports for the side rooms, so that the supports were not inserted into the wall of the temple.[f] 7 The side rooms all around the temple were 41:6

[f] 1Ki 6:5

[b] 37 Septuagint (see also verses 31 and 34); Hebrew jambs [c] 44 Septuagint; Hebrew were rooms for singers, which were [d] 44 Septuagint; Hebrew east [e] 48 Septuagint; Hebrew entrance was [f] 49 Septuagint; Hebrew eleven [g] 49 Hebrew; Septuagint Ten steps led up to it [h] 1 The common cubit was about 1 1/2 feet (about 0.5 meter). [i] 1 One Hebrew manuscript and Septuagint; most Hebrew manuscripts side, the width of the tent

40:38, 39 The washing of the sacrifices was done according to the standards of preparation established in Leviticus 1:6–9. This washing was part of the process of presenting an acceptable sacrifice to God.

41:4 God's holiness is a central theme throughout both the Old and New Testaments. The Most Holy Place was the innermost room in the temple (Exodus 26:33, 34). This was where the ark of the covenant was kept and where God's glory was said to dwell. This room was entered only once a year by the high priest, who performed a ceremony to atone for the nation's sins.

wider at each successive level. The structure surrounding the temple was built in ascending stages, so that the rooms widened as one went upward. A stairway[g] went up from the lowest floor to the top floor through the middle floor.

41:7 [g] 1Ki 6:8

8I saw that the temple had a raised base all around it, forming the foundation of the side rooms. It was the length of the rod, six long cubits. 9The outer wall of the side rooms was five cubits thick. The open area between the side rooms of the temple 10and the ⌞priests'⌟ rooms was twenty cubits wide all around the temple. 11There were entrances to the side rooms from the open area, one on the north and another on the south; and the base adjoining the open area was five cubits wide all around.

12The building facing the temple courtyard on the west side was seventy cubits wide. The wall of the building was five cubits thick all around, and its length was ninety cubits.

13Then he measured the temple; it was a hundred cubits long, and the temple courtyard and the building with its walls were also a hundred cubits long. 14The width of the temple courtyard on the east, including the front of the temple, was a hundred cubits.[h]

41:14 [h] Eze 40:47

15Then he measured the length of the building facing the courtyard at the rear of the temple, including its galleries on each side; it was a hundred cubits.

The outer sanctuary, the inner sanctuary and the portico facing the court, 16as well as the thresholds and the narrow windows and galleries around the three of them—everything beyond and including the threshold was covered with wood. The floor, the wall up to the windows, and the windows were covered.[i] 17In the space above the outside of the entrance to the inner sanctuary and on the walls at regular intervals all around the inner and outer sanctuary 18were carved cherubim and palm trees.[j] Palm trees alternated with cherubim. Each cherub had two faces: 19the face of a man toward the palm tree on one side and the face of a lion toward the palm tree on the other. They were carved all around the whole temple.[k] 20From the floor to the area above the entrance, cherubim and palm trees were carved on the wall of the outer sanctuary.

41:16 [i] ver 25-26; 1Ki 6:15; Eze 42:3

41:18 [j] 1Ki 6:29; 7:36

41:19 [k] Eze 10:14

21The outer sanctuary[l] had a rectangular doorframe, and the one at the front of the Most Holy Place was similar. 22There was a wooden altar[m] three cubits high and two cubits square[l]; its corners, its base[k] and its sides were of wood. The man said to me, "This is the table[n] that is before the LORD." 23Both the outer sanctuary[o] and the Most Holy Place had double doors.[p] 24Each door had two leaves—two hinged leaves for each door. 25And on the doors of the outer sanctuary were carved cherubim and palm trees like those carved on the walls, and there was a wooden overhang on the front of the portico. 26On the sidewalls of the portico were narrow windows with palm trees carved on each side. The side rooms of the temple also had overhangs.[q]

41:21 [l] ver 1

41:22 [m] Ex 30:1 [n] Eze 23:41

41:23 [o] ver 1 [p] 1Ki 6:32

41:26 [q] ver 15-16; Eze 40:16

Rooms for the Priests

42 Then the man led me northward into the outer court and brought me to the rooms opposite the temple courtyard[r] and opposite the outer wall on the north side. 2The building whose door faced north was a hundred cubits[l] long and fifty cubits wide. 3Both in the section twenty cubits from the inner court and in the section opposite the pavement of the outer court, gallery faced gallery at the three levels.[s] 4In front of the rooms was an inner passageway ten cubits wide and a hundred cubits[m] long. Their doors were on the north. 5Now the upper rooms were narrower, for the galleries took more space from them than from the rooms on the lower and middle floors of the building. 6The rooms on the third floor had no pillars, as the courts had; so they were smaller in floor space than those on the lower

42:1 [r] Eze 41:12-14

42:3 [s] Eze 41:16

[l] 22 Septuagint; Hebrew long [k] 22 Septuagint; Hebrew length [l] 2 The common cubit was about 1 1/2 feet (about 0.5 meter). [m] 4 Septuagint and Syriac; Hebrew and one cubit

41:18 Cherubim are mighty angels.

41:22 The dimensions given would fit either the table of the bread of the Presence (Exodus 25:30) or the altar of incense (Exodus 30:1–3).

and middle floors. 7There was an outer wall parallel to the rooms and the outer court; it extended in front of the rooms for fifty cubits. 8While the row of rooms on the side next to the outer court was fifty cubits long, the row on the side nearest the sanctuary was a hundred cubits long. 9The lower rooms had an entrance[t] on the east side as one enters them from the outer court.

10On the south side[n] along the length of the wall of the outer court, adjoining the temple courtyard and opposite the outer wall, were rooms 11with a passageway in front of them. These were like the rooms on the north; they had the same length and width, with similar exits and dimensions. Similar to the doorways on the north 12were the doorways of the rooms on the south. There was a doorway at the beginning of the passageway that was parallel to the corresponding wall extending eastward, by which one enters the rooms.

13Then he said to me, "The north and south rooms facing the temple courtyard are the priests' rooms, where the priests who approach the LORD will eat the most holy offerings. There they will put the most holy offerings—the grain offerings, the sin offerings[u] and the guilt offerings—for the place is holy.[v] 14Once the priests enter the holy precincts, they are not to go into the outer court until they leave behind the garments[w] in which they minister, for these are holy. They are to put on other clothes before they go near the places that are for the people.[x]"

15When he had finished measuring what was inside the temple area, he led me out by the east gate and measured the area all around: 16He measured the east side with the measuring rod; it was five hundred cubits.[o] 17He measured the north side; it was five hundred cubits[p] by the measuring rod. 18He measured the south side; it was five hundred cubits by the measuring rod. 19Then he turned to the west side and measured; it was five hundred cubits by the measuring rod. 20So he measured[y] the area on all four sides. It had a wall around it, five hundred cubits long and five hundred cubits wide,[z] to separate the holy from the common.

42:9 [t]Eze 44:5; 46:19

42:13 [u]Lev 10:17 [v]Lev 6:29

42:14 [w]Eze 44:19 [x]Ex 29:9

42:20 [y]Eze 40:5 [z]Eze 45:2

The Glory Returns to the Temple

43 Then the man brought me to the gate facing east,[a] 2and I saw the glory of the God of Israel coming from the east. His voice was like the roar of rushing waters,[b] and the land was radiant with his glory.[c] 3The vision I saw was like the vision I had seen when he[q] came to destroy the city and like the visions I had seen by the Kebar River, and I fell facedown. 4The glory of the LORD entered the temple through the gate facing east.[d] 5Then the Spirit lifted me up[e] and brought me into the inner court, and the glory of the LORD filled the temple.

6While the man was standing beside me, I heard someone speaking to me from inside the temple. 7He said: "Son of man, this is the place of my throne and the place for the soles of my feet. This is where I will live among the Israelites forever. The house of Israel will never again defile my holy name—neither they nor their kings—by their prostitution[r] and the lifeless idols[s] of their kings at their high places.[f] 8When they placed their threshold next to my threshold and their doorposts beside my doorposts, with only a wall between me and them, they defiled my

43:1 [a]Eze 8:16

43:2 [b]Rev 1:15 [c]Rev 18:1

43:4 [d]Eze 10:19

43:5 [e]Eze 3:12

43:7 [f]Lev 26:30

[n] 10 Septuagint; Hebrew Eastward [o] 16 See Septuagint of verse 17; Hebrew rods; also in verses 18 and 19.
[p] 17 Septuagint; Hebrew rods [q] 3 Some Hebrew manuscripts and Vulgate; most Hebrew manuscripts I [r] 7 Or their spiritual adultery; also in verse 9 [s] 7 Or the corpses; also in verse 9

42:14 Approaching our holy God must not be taken lightly. The holy garments the priests were required to wear may symbolize the importance of having a holy heart when approaching God. The priests had to wear these special clothes in order to minister in the inner rooms of the temple. Because the garments were holy, the priests had to change their clothes before going back out to the public.

42:16–20 The perfect symmetry of Ezekiel's temple may represent the order and harmony in God's future kingdom.

43:1ff This is the culmination of chapters 40—42 because God's glory returns to the temple. It reverses the negative cast of the book and serves as a fitting end for all the passages dealing with the blessings reserved for the restored remnant. All true believers should long for that moment when God's name will finally be glorified and he will live among his people forever.

43:2 In 11:23, God's glory stopped over the Mount of Olives, to the east of Jerusalem, before leaving the city. This prophecy states that his glory would also return from the east.

43:2–4 Just as it was completely devastating when God's glory departed (11:23) from his temple, so it was overwhelming awe and joy beyond expression when Ezekiel saw God's glory return.

43:3 The Kebar River connected with the Euphrates River and was the location of a Jewish settlement of exiles in Babylonia.

holy name by their detestable practices. So I destroyed them in my anger. 9Now let them put away from me their prostitution and the lifeless idols of their kings, and I will live among them forever.

10"Son of man, describe the temple to the people of Israel, that they may be ashamed of their sins. Let them consider the plan, 11and if they are ashamed of all they have done, make known to them the design of the temple—its arrangement, its exits and entrances—its whole design and all its regulations[t] and laws. Write these down before them so that they may be faithful to its design and follow all its regulations.[g]

43:11 [g] Eze 44:5

12"This is the law of the temple: All the surrounding area on top of the mountain will be most holy. Such is the law of the temple.

The Altar

13"These are the measurements of the altar in long cubits, that cubit being a cubit[u] and a handbreadth[v]: Its gutter is a cubit deep and a cubit wide, with a rim of one span[w] around the edge. And this is the height of the altar: 14From the gutter on the ground up to the lower ledge it is two cubits high and a cubit wide, and from the smaller ledge up to the larger ledge it is four cubits high and a cubit wide. 15The altar hearth is four cubits high, and four horns project upward from the hearth. 16The altar hearth is square, twelve cubits long and twelve cubits wide. 17The upper ledge also is square, fourteen cubits long and fourteen cubits wide, with a rim of half a cubit and a gutter of a cubit all around. The steps[h] of the altar face east."

43:17 [h] Ex 20:26

18Then he said to me, "Son of man, this is what the Sovereign LORD says: These will be the regulations for sacrificing burnt offerings and sprinkling blood[i] upon the altar when it is built: 19You are to give a young bull as a sin offering to the priests, who are Levites, of the family of Zadok, who come near to minister before me, declares the Sovereign LORD. 20You are to take some of its blood and put it on the four horns of the altar and on the four corners of the upper ledge and all around the rim, and so purify the altar and make atonement for it. 21You are to take the bull for the sin offering and burn it in the designated part of the temple area outside the sanctuary.[j]

43:18 [i] Lev 1:5, 11

43:21 [j] Ex 29:14; Heb 13:11

22"On the second day you are to offer a male goat without defect for a sin offering, and the altar is to be purified as it was purified with the bull. 23When you have finished purifying it, you are to offer a young bull and a ram from the flock, both without defect. 24You are to offer them before the LORD, and the priests are to sprinkle salt[k] on them and sacrifice them as a burnt offering to the LORD.

43:24 [k] Lev 2:13

25"For seven days[l] you are to provide a male goat daily for a sin offering; you are also to provide a young bull and a ram from the flock, both without defect. 26For seven days they are to make atonement for the altar and cleanse it; thus they will dedicate it. 27At the end of these days, from the eighth day[m] on, the priests are to present your burnt offerings and fellowship offerings[x] on the altar. Then I will accept you, declares the Sovereign LORD."

43:25 [l] Lev 8:33

43:27 [m] Lev 9:1

[t] 11 Some Hebrew manuscripts and Septuagint; most Hebrew manuscripts regulations and its whole design
[u] 13 The common cubit was about 1 1/2 feet (about 0.5 meter). [v] 13 That is, about 3 inches (about 8 centimeters) [w] 13 That is, about 9 inches (about 22 centimeters) [x] 27 Traditionally peace offerings

43:9–11 God's departure from the city had been a signal for the destruction of the city and the temple. Now for God to return, his conditions had to be met: idolatry had to be removed. Some commentators feel these verses indicate that Ezekiel was commanding the people of his day to build this temple according to the designs and regulations that the angelic architect had given. But the people never repented, the conditions were not met, so the fulfillment was postponed.

43:12 The basic law of God's temple was holiness. In all he does, God is holy, perfect, and blameless. There is no trace of evil or sin in him. Just as God is holy, so we are to be holy (Leviticus 19:1; 1 Peter 1:15, 16). People are holy when they are devoted to God and separated from sin. If we do not understand the basic concept of holiness, we will never progress very far in our Christian growth.

43:18–27 This vision was simultaneously flashing back to Mount Sinai and forward to Mount Calvary. When the people returned from exile, they would seek forgiveness through the sacrificial system instituted in Moses' day. Today, Christ's death has made the forgiveness of our sins possible, making us acceptable to God (Hebrews 9:9–15). God stands ready to forgive those who come to him in faith.

The Prince, the Levites, the Priests

44 Then the man brought me back to the outer gate of the sanctuary, the one facing east, and it was shut. 2The LORD said to me, "This gate is to remain shut. It must not be opened; no one may enter through it.[n] It is to remain shut because the LORD, the God of Israel, has entered through it. 3The prince himself is the only one who may sit inside the gateway to eat in the presence of the LORD. He is to enter by way of the portico of the gateway and go out the same way.[o]"

4Then the man brought me by way of the north gate to the front of the temple. I looked and saw the glory of the LORD filling the temple of the LORD, and I fell facedown.

5The LORD said to me, "Son of man, look carefully, listen closely and give attention to everything I tell you concerning all the regulations regarding the temple of the LORD. Give attention to the entrance of the temple and all the exits of the sanctuary.[p] 6Say to the rebellious house[q] of Israel, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Enough of your detestable practices, O house of Israel! 7In addition to all your other detestable practices, you brought foreigners uncircumcised in heart[r] and flesh into my sanctuary, desecrating my temple while you offered me food, fat and blood, and you broke my covenant.[s] 8Instead of carrying out your duty in regard to my holy things, you put others in charge of my sanctuary. 9This is what the Sovereign LORD says: No foreigner uncircumcised in heart and flesh is to enter my sanctuary, not even the foreigners who live among the Israelites.

10" 'The Levites who went far from me when Israel went astray and who wandered from me after their idols must bear the consequences of their sin. 11They may serve in my sanctuary, having charge of the gates of the temple and serving in it; they may slaughter the burnt offerings[t] and sacrifices for the people and stand before the people and serve them.[u] 12But because they served them in the presence of their idols and made the house of Israel fall into sin, therefore I have sworn with uplifted hand that they must bear the consequences of their sin, declares the Sovereign LORD. 13They are not to come near to serve me as priests or come near any of my holy things or my most holy offerings; they must bear the shame of their detestable practices.[v] 14Yet I will put them in charge of the duties of the temple and all the work that is to be done in it.

15" 'But the priests, who are Levites and descendants of Zadok and who faithfully carried out the duties of my sanctuary when the Israelites went astray from me, are to come near to minister before me; they are to stand before me to offer sacrifices of fat and blood, declares the Sovereign LORD.[w] 16They alone are to enter my sanctuary; they alone are to come near my table to minister before me and perform my service.

17" 'When they enter the gates of the inner court, they are to wear linen clothes; they must not wear any woolen garment while ministering at the gates of the inner court or inside the temple. 18They are to wear linen turbans[x] on their heads and linen undergarments around their waists. They must not wear anything that makes them perspire. 19When they go out into the outer court where the people are, they are to take off the clothes they have been ministering in and are to leave them in the

44:2 [n] Eze 43:4-5

44:3 [o] Eze 46:2, 8

44:5 [p] Eze 40:4

44:6 [q] Eze 3:9

44:7 [r] Lev 26:41 [s] Lev 22:25

44:11 [t] 2Ch 29:34 [u] Nu 16:9

44:13 [v] Nu 18:3

44:15 [w] Eze 40:46

44:18 [x] Ex 28:39

44:2 Why was this east gate to remain closed? Several reasons have been suggested. (1) This was the gate through which God entered the temple, and no one else could walk where God had (43:2); (2) the closed gate indicated that God would never again leave the temple (10:19; 11:23); (3) it would prevent people from worshiping the sun as it rises in the east from within the temple grounds (8:16).

44:3 Although Christ is called a prince (37:25), this prince is probably not Christ because he offers a sacrifice to God (46:4) and he can enter only by the "portico of the gateway." He is a princely ruler of the city, but he is distinguished from other princes because he will be just and fair (see 45:8). Another view is that this picture anticipates Christ offering a sacrifice of his own life to God.

44:9 Unbelievers would not be allowed to enter the temple. Ezekiel's vision was for a restored, purified worship where only those who prepared themselves physically and spiritually could participate. In 47:22, 23, we find that people from other nations are allowed to join in worship by accepting the standards of faith and practice declared in the law (see Leviticus 24:22; Numbers 15:29).

44:15 Zadok's descendants are mentioned because many of the priests in Zadok's line had remained faithful to God, while others had become corrupt. Zadok supported God's choice of Solomon to succeed David, and was therefore appointed high priest during his reign (1 Kings 1:32–35; 2:27, 35). Zadok's descendants were considered the true priestly line throughout the time between the Old and New Testaments.

sacred rooms, and put on other clothes, so that they do not consecrate the people by means of their garments.[y]

44:19 [y] Eze 42:14

20" 'They must not shave their heads or let their hair grow long, but they are to keep the hair of their heads trimmed.[z] 21No priest is to drink wine when he enters the inner court.[a] 22They must not marry widows or divorced women; they may marry only virgins of Israelite descent or widows of priests.[b] 23They are to teach my people the difference between the holy and the common and show them how to distinguish between the unclean and the clean.

44:20 [z] Lev 21:5

44:21 [a] Lev 10:9

44:22 [b] Lev 21:7

24" 'In any dispute, the priests are to serve as judges[c] and decide it according to my ordinances. They are to keep my laws and my decrees for all my appointed feasts, and they are to keep my Sabbaths holy.

44:24 [c] Dt 17:8-9

25" 'A priest must not defile himself by going near a dead person; however, if the dead person was his father or mother, son or daughter, brother or unmarried sister, then he may defile himself. 26After he is cleansed, he must wait seven days. 27On the day he goes into the inner court of the sanctuary to minister in the sanctuary, he is to offer a sin offering for himself, declares the Sovereign LORD.

28" 'I am to be the only inheritance[d] the priests have. You are to give them no possession in Israel; I will be their possession. 29They will eat the grain offerings, the sin offerings and the guilt offerings; and everything in Israel devoted[y] to the LORD[e] will belong to them.[f] 30The best of all the firstfruits and of all your special gifts will belong to the priests. You are to give them the first portion of your ground meal so that a blessing may rest on your household. 31The priests must not eat anything, bird or animal, found dead or torn by wild animals.

44:28 [d] Nu 18:20

44:29 [e] Lev 27:21 [f] Nu 18:9, 14

Division of the Land

45 " 'When you allot the land as an inheritance, you are to present to the LORD a portion of the land as a sacred district, 25,000 cubits long and 20,000[z] cubits wide; the entire area will be holy.[g] 2Of this, a section 500 cubits square is to be for the sanctuary, with 50 cubits around it for open land. 3In the sacred district, measure off a section 25,000 cubits[a] long and 10,000 cubits[b] wide. In it will be the sanctuary, the Most Holy Place. 4It will be the sacred portion of the land for the priests, who minister in the sanctuary and who draw near to minister before the LORD. It will be a place for their houses as well as a holy place for the sanctuary.[h] 5An area 25,000 cubits long and 10,000 cubits wide will belong to the Levites, who serve in the temple, as their possession for towns to live in.[c][i]

45:1 [g] Eze 48:8-9, 29

45:4 [h] Eze 48:10-11

45:5 [i] Eze 48:13

6" 'You are to give the city as its property an area 5,000 cubits wide and 25,000 cubits long, adjoining the sacred portion; it will belong to the whole house of Israel.[j]

45:6 [j] Eze 48:15-18

7" 'The prince will have the land bordering each side of the area formed by the sacred district and the property of the city. It will extend westward from the west side and eastward from the east side, running lengthwise from the western to the eastern border parallel to one of the tribal portions.[k] 8This land will be his possession in Israel. And my princes will no longer oppress my people but will allow the house of Israel to possess the land according to their tribes.[l]

45:7 [k] Eze 48:21

45:8 [l] Eze 46:18

9" 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: You have gone far enough, O princes of Israel! Give up your violence and oppression and do what is just and right.[m]

45:9 [m] Jer 22:3

[y] 29 The Hebrew term refers to the irrevocable giving over of things or persons to the LORD. [z] 1 Septuagint (see also verses 3 and 5 and 48:9); Hebrew 10,000 [a] 3 That is, about 7 miles (about 12 kilometers) [b] 3 That is, about 3 miles (about 5 kilometers) [c] 5 Septuagint; Hebrew temple; they will have as their possession 20 rooms

44:20–31 These laws were originally given to God's people in the desert. They are recorded in the books of Exodus and Leviticus. They reveal the importance of approaching God respectfully, and they give guidelines for the priests to live above reproach so they could carry out their responsibility to teach the people "to distinguish between the unclean and the clean" (44:23).

45:1–7 The land allotted to the temple was in the center of the nation. God is central to life. He must be our first priority.

45:8–12 Greed and extortion were two of the major social sins of the nation during this time (see Amos 5:10–13). In the new economy there would be plenty of land for the "princes" (45:7, 8) and no longer any basis for greed. Therefore, God commanded the princes and the people to be just and right, especially in their business dealings. Consider the ways that you measure goods, money, or services. If you are paid for an hour of work, be sure you work for a full hour. If you sell a bushel of apples, make sure it is a full bushel. God is completely trustworthy, and his followers should be too.

Stop dispossessing my people, declares the Sovereign LORD. 10You are to use accurate scales, an accurate ephah[d][n] and an accurate bath.[e] 11The ephah and the bath are to be the same size, the bath containing a tenth of a homer[f] and the ephah a tenth of a homer; the homer is to be the standard measure for both. 12The shekel[g] is to consist of twenty gerahs.[o] Twenty shekels plus twenty-five shekels plus fifteen shekels equal one mina.[h]

45:10 [n] Lev 19:36

45:12 [o] Ex 30:13; Lev 27:25; Nu 3:47

Offerings and Holy Days

13"'This is the special gift you are to offer: a sixth of an ephah from each homer of wheat and a sixth of an ephah from each homer of barley. 14The prescribed portion of oil, measured by the bath, is a tenth of a bath from each cor (which consists of ten baths or one homer, for ten baths are equivalent to a homer). 15Also one sheep is to be taken from every flock of two hundred from the well-watered pastures of Israel. These will be used for the grain offerings, burnt offerings[p] and fellowship offerings[i] to make atonement for the people, declares the Sovereign LORD. 16All the people of the land will participate in this special gift for the use of the prince in Israel. 17It will be the duty of the prince to provide the burnt offerings, grain offerings and drink offerings at the festivals, the New Moons and the Sabbaths—at all the appointed feasts of the house of Israel. He will provide the sin offerings, grain offerings, burnt offerings and fellowship offerings to make atonement for the house of Israel.

45:15 [p] Lev 1:4

18"'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: In the first month on the first day you are to take a young bull without defect and purify the sanctuary. 19The priest is to take some of the blood of the sin offering and put it on the doorposts of the temple, on the four corners of the upper ledge of the altar and on the gateposts of the inner court. 20You are to do the same on the seventh day of the month for anyone who sins unintentionally[q] or through ignorance; so you are to make atonement for the temple.

45:20 [q] Lev 4:27

21"'In the first month on the fourteenth day you are to observe the Passover,[r] a feast lasting seven days, during which you shall eat bread made without yeast. 22On that day the prince is to provide a bull as a sin offering for himself and for all the people of the land.[s] 23Every day during the seven days of the Feast he is to provide seven bulls and seven rams without defect as a burnt offering to the LORD, and a male goat for a sin offering.[t] 24He is to provide as a grain offering an ephah for each bull and an ephah for each ram, along with a hin[j] of oil for each ephah.

45:21 [r] Ex 12:11

45:22 [s] Lev 4:14

45:23 [t] Nu 28:16-25

25"'During the seven days of the Feast, which begins in the seventh month on the fifteenth day, he is to make the same provision for sin offerings, burnt offerings, grain offerings and oil.[u]

45:25 [u] Lev 23:34-43; Nu 29:12-38

46 "'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: The gate of the inner court facing east is to be shut on the six working days, but on the Sabbath day and on the day of the New Moon it is to be opened. 2The prince is to enter from the outside through the portico[v] of the gateway and stand by the gatepost. The priests are to sacrifice his burnt offering and his fellowship offerings.[k] He is to worship at the threshold of the gateway and then go out, but the gate will not be shut until evening.[w] 3On the Sabbaths and New Moons the people of the land are to worship in the presence of the LORD at the entrance to that gateway.[x] 4The burnt offering the

46:2 [v] ver 8 [w] ver 12; Eze 44:3

46:3 [x] Lk 1:10

[d] 10 An ephah was a dry measure. [e] 10 A bath was a liquid measure. [f] 11 A homer was a dry measure. [g] 12 A shekel weighed about 2/5 ounce (about 11.5 grams). [h] 12 That is, 60 shekels; the common mina was 50 shekels. [i] 15 Traditionally peace offerings; also in verse 17 [j] 24 That is, probably about 4 quarts (about 4 liters) [k] 2 Traditionally peace offerings; also in verse 12

45:17 The conditions and regulations for these offerings are described in detail in Leviticus 1—7.

45:21 The Passover was an annual seven-day feast instituted by God so that his people would remember when he brought them out of slavery in Egypt. On that first Passover night, the destroyer passed over the homes marked by lamb's blood; he struck only the unmarked homes (see Exodus 11; 12).

45:25 This annual feast celebrated in October is called the Feast of Tabernacles. It commemorates God's protection of his people as they traveled through the desert from Egypt to the promised land (see Leviticus 23:33–43; Deuteronomy 16:13–17).

46:1–15 Ezekiel continued to describe various aspects of daily worship. While allowing for diversity in worship, God prescribed order and continuity. This continuity gave a healthy rhythm to the spiritual life of his people.

prince brings to the LORD on the Sabbath day is to be six male lambs and a ram, all without defect. 5The grain offering given with the ram is to be an ephah,[l] and the grain offering with the lambs is to be as much as he pleases, along with a hin[m] of oil for each ephah. 6On the day of the New Moon[z] he is to offer a young bull, six lambs and a ram, all without defect. 7He is to provide as a grain offering one ephah with the bull, one ephah with the ram, and with the lambs as much as he wants to give, along with a hin of oil with each ephah. 8When the prince enters, he is to go in through the portico[a] of the gateway, and he is to come out the same way.[b]

9" 'When the people of the land come before the LORD at the appointed feasts,[c] whoever enters by the north gate to worship is to go out the south gate; and whoever enters by the south gate is to go out the north gate. No one is to return through the gate by which he entered, but each is to go out the opposite gate. 10The prince is to be among them, going in when they go in and going out when they go out.

11" 'At the festivals and the appointed feasts, the grain offering is to be an ephah with a bull, an ephah with a ram, and with the lambs as much as one pleases, along with a hin of oil for each ephah.[d] 12When the prince provides[e] a freewill offering to the LORD—whether a burnt offering or fellowship offerings—the gate facing east is to be opened for him. He shall offer his burnt offering or his fellowship offerings as he does on the Sabbath day. Then he shall go out, and after he has gone out, the gate will be shut.[f]

13" 'Every day you are to provide a year-old lamb without defect for a burnt offering to the LORD; morning by morning you shall provide it.[g] 14You are also to provide with it morning by morning a grain offering, consisting of a sixth of an ephah with a third of a hin of oil to moisten the flour. The presenting of this grain offering to the LORD is a lasting ordinance. 15So the lamb and the grain offering and the oil shall be provided morning by morning for a regular[h] burnt offering.[i]

16" 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: If the prince makes a gift from his inheritance to one of his sons, it will also belong to his descendants; it is to be their property by inheritance. 17If, however, he makes a gift from his inheritance to one of his servants, the servant may keep it until the year of freedom;[j] then it will revert to the prince. His inheritance belongs to his sons only; it is theirs. 18The prince must not take any of the inheritance[k] of the people, driving them off their property. He is to give his sons their inheritance out of his own property, so that none of my people will be separated from his property.' "

19Then the man brought me through the entrance at the side of the gate to the sacred rooms facing north, which belonged to the priests, and showed me a place at the western end. 20He said to me, "This is the place where the priests will cook the guilt offering and the sin offering and bake the grain offering, to avoid bringing them into the outer court and consecrating the people."

21He then brought me to the outer court and led me around to its four corners, and I saw in each corner another court. 22In the four corners of the outer court were enclosed[n] courts, forty cubits long and thirty cubits wide; each of the courts in the four corners was the same size. 23Around the inside of each of the four courts was a ledge of stone, with places for fire built all around under the ledge. 24He said to me, "These are the kitchens where those who minister at the temple will cook the sacrifices of the people."

The River From the Temple

47 The man brought me back to the entrance of the temple, and I saw water coming out from under the threshold of the temple toward the east (for the temple faced east). The water was coming down from under the south side of the [l] 5 That is, probably about 3/5 bushel (about 22 liters) [m] 5 That is, probably about 4 quarts (about 4 liters)

[n] 22 The meaning of the Hebrew for this word is uncertain.

46:5 [y] ver 11
46:6 [z] ver 1
46:8 [a] ver 2 [b] Eze 44:3
46:9 [c] Ex 23:14
46:11 [d] ver 5
46:12 [e] Eze 45:17 [f] ver 2
46:13 [g] Ex 29:38; Nu 28:3
46:15 [h] Ex 29:42 [i] Nu 28:5-6
46:17 [j] Lev 25:10
46:18 [k] Eze 45:8; Mic 2:1-2

47:1–12 This river is similar to the river mentioned in Revelation 22:1, 2. Both rivers are associated with the river in the Garden of Eden (see Genesis 2:10). The river symbolizes life from God and the blessings that flow from his throne. It is a gentle, safe, deep river, expanding as it flows.

temple, south of the altar. [l] 2He then brought me out through the north gate and led me around the outside to the outer gate facing east, and the water was flowing from the south side.

3As the man went eastward with a measuring line[m] in his hand, he measured off a thousand cubits[o] and then led me through water that was ankle-deep. 4He measured off another thousand cubits and led me through water that was knee-deep. He measured off another thousand and led me through water that was up to the waist. 5He measured off another thousand, but now it was a river that I could not cross, because the water had risen and was deep enough to swim in—a river that no one could cross. 6He asked me, "Son of man, do you see this?"

Then he led me back to the bank of the river. 7When I arrived there, I saw a great number of trees on each side of the river.[n] 8He said to me, "This water flows toward the eastern region and goes down into the Arabah,[p][o] where it enters the Sea.[q] When it empties into the Sea,[q] the water there becomes fresh. 9Swarms of living creatures will live wherever the river flows. There will be large numbers of fish, because this water flows there and makes the salt water fresh; so where the river flows everything will live. 10Fishermen will stand along the shore; from En Gedi to En Eglaim there will be places for spreading nets.[p] The fish will be of many kinds—like the fish of the Great Sea.[r] 11But the swamps and marshes will not become fresh; they will be left for salt. 12Fruit trees of all kinds will grow on both banks of the river.[q] Their leaves will not wither, nor will their fruit[r] fail. Every month they will bear, because the water from the sanctuary flows to them. Their fruit will serve for food and their leaves for healing.[s]"

47:1 [l] Joel 3:18; Rev 22:1
47:3 [m] Eze 40:3
47:7 [n] Rev 22:2
47:8 [o] Dt 3:17
47:10 [p] Eze 26:5
47:12 [q] ver 7; Rev 22:2 [r] Ps 1:3 [s] Jer 17:8

The Boundaries of the Land

13This is what the Sovereign LORD says: "These are the boundaries[t] by which you are to divide the land for an inheritance among the twelve tribes of Israel, with two portions for Joseph. 14You are to divide it equally among them. Because I swore with uplifted hand to give it to your forefathers, this land will become your inheritance.

15"This is to be the boundary of the land:

"On the north side it will run from the Great Sea by the Hethlon road[u] past Lebo[s] Hamath to Zedad, 16Berothah[t] and Sibraim (which lies on the border between Damascus and Hamath), as far as Hazer Hatticon, which is on the border of Hauran. 17The boundary will extend from the sea to Hazar Enan,[u] along the northern border of Damascus, with the border of Hamath to the north. This will be the north boundary.[v]

18"On the east side the boundary will run between Hauran and Damascus, along the Jordan between Gilead and the land of Israel, to the eastern sea and as far as Tamar.[v] This will be the east boundary.

19"On the south side it will run from Tamar as far as the waters of Meribah Kadesh,[w] then along the Wadi of Egypt, to the Great Sea.[x] This will be the south boundary.

20"On the west side, the Great Sea will be the boundary to a point opposite Lebo[w] Hamath. This will be the west boundary.

21"You are to distribute this land among yourselves according to the tribes of

47:13 [t] Nu 34:2-12
47:15 [u] Eze 48:1
47:17 [v] Eze 48:1
47:19 [w] Dt 32:51 [x] Eze 48:28

[o] 3 That is, about 1,500 feet (about 450 meters) [p] 8 Or the Jordan Valley [q] 8 That is, the Dead Sea [r] 10 That is, the Mediterranean; also in verses 15, 19 and 20 [s] 15 Or past the entrance to [t] 15,16 See Septuagint and Ezekiel 48:1; Hebrew road to go into Zedad, 16Hamath, Berothah [u] 17 Hebrew Enon, a variant of Enan [v] 18 Septuagint and Syriac; Hebrew Israel. You will measure to the eastern sea [w] 20 Or opposite the entrance to 47:8, 9 The Arabah is the geological depression in which the Dead Sea lies. The sea that will become fresh refers to the Dead Sea, a body of water so salty that nothing can live in it. The river will freshen the Dead Sea's water so it can support life. This is another picture of the life-giving nature of the water that flows from God's temple. God's power can transform us no matter how lifeless or corrupt we may be. Even when we feel messed up and beyond hope, his power can heal us.

47:10 En Gedi and En Eglaim were on the western shore of the Dead Sea.

47:19 A wadi is a seasonal stream or streambed that is dry much of the year.

Israel. 22You are to allot it as an inheritance for yourselves and for the aliens who have settled among you and who have children. You are to consider them as native-born Israelites; along with you they are to be allotted an inheritance among the tribes of Israel.[y] 23In whatever tribe the alien settles, there you are to give him his inheritance," declares the Sovereign LORD.

47:22 [y] Eph 3:6; Col 3:11

The Division of the Land

48 "These are the tribes, listed by name: At the northern frontier, Dan will have one portion; it will follow the Hethlon road[z] to Lebo[x] Hamath; Hazar Enan and the northern border of Damascus next to Hamath will be part of its border from the east side to the west side.

48:1 [z] Eze 47:15-17

2"Asher[a] will have one portion; it will border the territory of Dan from east to west.

48:2 [a] Jos 19:24-31

3"Naphtali[b] will have one portion; it will border the territory of Asher from east to west.

48:3 [b] Jos 19:32-39

4"Manasseh[c] will have one portion; it will border the territory of Naphtali from east to west.

48:4 [c] Jos 17:1-11

5"Ephraim[d] will have one portion; it will border the territory of Manasseh from east to west.

48:5 [d] Jos 16:5-9

6"Reuben[e] will have one portion; it will border the territory of Ephraim from east to west.

48:6 [e] Jos 13:15-21

7"Judah[f] will have one portion; it will border the territory of Reuben from east to west.

48:7 [f] Jos 15:1-63

8"Bordering the territory of Judah from east to west will be the portion you are to present as a special gift. It will be 25,000 cubits[y] wide, and its length from east to west will equal one of the tribal portions; the sanctuary will be in the center of it.

9"The special portion you are to offer to the LORD will be 25,000 cubits long and 10,000 cubits[z] wide. 10This will be the sacred portion for the priests. It will be 25,000 cubits long on the north side, 10,000 cubits wide on the west side, 10,000 cubits wide on the east side and 25,000 cubits long on the south side. In the center of it will be the sanctuary of the LORD.[g] 11This will be for the consecrated priests, the Zadokites, who were faithful in serving me and did not go astray as the Levites did when the Israelites went astray.[h] 12It will be a special gift to them from the sacred portion of the land, a most holy portion, bordering the territory of the Levites.

48:10 [g] Eze 45:3-4

48:11 [h] Eze 44:15

13"Alongside the territory of the priests, the Levites will have an allotment 25,000 cubits long and 10,000 cubits wide. Its total length will be 25,000 cubits and its width 10,000 cubits. 14They must not sell or exchange any of it. This is the best of the land and must not pass into other hands, because it is holy to the LORD.[i]

48:14 [i] Lev 25:34; 27:10, 28

15"The remaining area, 5,000 cubits wide and 25,000 cubits long, will be for the common use of the city, for houses and for pastureland. The city will be in the center of it 16and will have these measurements: the north side 4,500 cubits, the south side 4,500 cubits, the east side 4,500 cubits, and the west side 4,500 cubits.[j] 17The pastureland for the city will be 250 cubits on the north, 250 cubits on the south, 250 cubits on the east, and 250 cubits on the west. 18What remains of the area, bordering on the sacred portion and running the length of it, will be 10,000 cubits on the east side and 10,000 cubits on the west side. Its produce will supply food for the workers of the city. 19The workers from the city who farm it will come from all the tribes of Israel. 20The entire portion will be a square, 25,000 cubits on

48:16 [j] Rev 21:16

[x] 1 Or to the entrance to [y] 8 That is, about 7 miles (about 12 kilometers) [z] 9 That is, about 3 miles (about 5 kilometers)

47:22, 23 In the restoration there will be room for foreigners ("aliens"). The regulations of Leviticus 24:22 and Numbers 15:29 provided for this. Isaiah also taught it (Isaiah 56:3–8). The children of foreigners will even inherit property like Israelites. Anyone who accepts the standards and is willing to obey may enjoy the blessings of God's rule.

48:1ff The land would be divided into 13 parallel portions (one for each tribe plus a sacred district) that would stretch from the Jordan River or Dead Sea to the Mediterranean Sea. The division of the land shows that in God's kingdom there is a place for all who believe in and obey the one true God (see John 14:1–6).

each side. As a special gift you will set aside the sacred portion, along with the property of the city.

21"What remains on both sides of the area formed by the sacred portion and the city property will belong to the prince. It will extend eastward from the 25,000 cubits of the sacred portion to the eastern border, and westward from the 25,000 cubits to the western border. Both these areas running the length of the tribal portions will belong to the prince, and the sacred portion with the temple sanctuary will be in the center of them.[k] 22So the property of the Levites and the property of the city will lie in the center of the area that belongs to the prince. The area belonging to the prince will lie between the border of Judah and the border of Benjamin.

23"As for the rest of the tribes: Benjamin[l] will have one portion; it will extend from the east side to the west side.

24"Simeon[m] will have one portion; it will border the territory of Benjamin from east to west.

25"Issachar[n] will have one portion; it will border the territory of Simeon from east to west.

26"Zebulun[o] will have one portion; it will border the territory of Issachar from east to west.

27"Gad[p] will have one portion; it will border the territory of Zebulun from east to west.

28"The southern boundary of Gad will run south from Tamar to the waters of Meribah Kadesh, then along the Wadi ⌞of Egypt⌟ to the Great Sea.[a q]

29"This is the land you are to allot as an inheritance to the tribes of Israel, and these will be their portions," declares the Sovereign LORD.

48:21 [k] ver 8, 10; Eze 45:7
48:23 [l] Jos 18:11-28
48:24 [m] Jos 19:1-9
48:25 [n] Jos 19:17-23
48:26 [o] Jos 19:10-16
48:27 [p] Jos 13:24-28
48:28 [q] Eze 47:19

The Gates of the City

30"These will be the exits of the city: Beginning on the north side, which is 4,500 cubits long, 31the gates of the city will be named after the tribes of Israel. The three gates on the north side will be the gate of Reuben, the gate of Judah and the gate of Levi.

32"On the east side, which is 4,500 cubits long, will be three gates: the gate of Joseph, the gate of Benjamin and the gate of Dan.

33"On the south side, which measures 4,500 cubits, will be three gates: the gate of Simeon, the gate of Issachar and the gate of Zebulun.

34"On the west side, which is 4,500 cubits long, will be three gates: the gate of Gad, the gate of Asher and the gate of Naphtali.

35"The distance all around will be 18,000 cubits.

"And the name of the city from that time on will be:

THE LORD IS THERE.[r]"

48:35 [r] Jer 3:17; Joel 3:21; Rev 21:3

[a] 28 That is, the Mediterranean

48:28 The Great Sea is the Mediterranean.

48:35 The book of Ezekiel begins by describing the holiness of God that Israel had despised and ignored. As a result, God's presence departed from the temple, the city, and the people. The book ends with a detailed vision of the new temple, the new city, and the new people – all demonstrating God's holiness. The pressures of everyday life may persuade us to focus on the here and now and thus forget God. That is why worship is so important; it takes our eyes off our current worries, gives us a glimpse of God's holiness, and allows us to look toward his future kingdom. God's presence makes everything glorious, and worship brings us into his presence.

Daniel taken captive to Babylon 605

Ezekiel becomes a prophet to exiles 593

Judah falls; Jerusalem is destroyed; Jeremiah's ministry ends 586

Daniel's first vision 553

Babylon overthrown; Daniel thrown to lions 539

First exiles return to Judah 538

Daniel's ministry ends 536

AN EARTHQUAKE shakes the foundation of our security; a tornado blows away a lifetime of treasures; an assassin's bullet changes national history; a drunk driver claims an innocent victim; a divorce shatters a home. International and personal tragedies make our world seem a fearful place, overflowing with evil and seemingly out of control. And the litany of bombings, coups, murders, and natural disasters could cause us to think that God is absent or impotent. "Where is God?" we cry, engulfed by sorrow and despair.

Twenty-five centuries ago, Daniel could have despaired. He and thousands of his countrymen had been deported to a foreign land after Judah was conquered. Daniel found himself facing an egocentric despot and surrounded by idolaters. Instead of giving in or giving up, this courageous young man held fast to his faith in his God. Daniel knew that despite the circumstances, God was sovereign and was working out his plan for nations and individuals. The book of Daniel centers around this profound truth—the sovereignty of God.

After a brief account of Nebuchadnezzar's siege and defeat of Jerusalem, the scene quickly shifts to Daniel and his three friends, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah (Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego). These men held prominent positions within the Babylonian government. Daniel, in particular, held such a position because of his ability to interpret the king's dreams that tell of God's unfolding plan (chapters 2 and 4). Sandwiched between the dreams is the fascinating account of Daniel's three friends and the furnace (chapter 3). Because they refused to bow down to an image of gold, they were condemned to a fiery death. But God intervened and spared their lives.

Belshazzar ruled Babylon after Nebuchadnezzar, and chapter 5 tells of his encounter with God's message written on a wall. Daniel, who was summoned to interpret the message, predicted Babylon's fall to the Medes and Persians. This prediction came true that very night, and Darius the Mede conquered the Babylonian kingdom.

Daniel became one of Darius's most trusted advisers. His privileged position angered other administrators, who plotted his death by convincing the king to outlaw prayer. In spite of the law, Daniel continued to pray to his sovereign Lord. As a result, he was condemned to die in a den of hungry lions. Again, God intervened and saved him, shutting the mouths of the lions (chapter 6).

The book concludes with a series of visions that Daniel had during the reigns of Belshazzar (chapters 7; 8), Darius (chapter 9), and Cyrus (chapters 10—12). These dreams dramatically outline God's future plans, beginning with Babylon and continuing to the end of the age. They give a preview of God's redemption and have been called the key to all Biblical prophecy.

God is sovereign. He was in control in Babylon, and he has been moving in history, controlling the destinies of people ever since. And he is here now! Despite news reports or personal stress, we can be confident that God is in control. As you read Daniel, watch God work and find your security in his sovereignty.

VITAL STATISTICS

PURPOSE:
To give a historical account of the faithful Jews who lived in captivity and to show how God is in control of heaven and earth, directing the forces of nature, the destiny of nations, and the care of his people

AUTHOR:
Daniel

TO WHOM WRITTEN:
The other captives in Babylon and God's people everywhere

DATE WRITTEN:
Approximately 535 B.C., recording events that occurred from about 605–535 B.C.

SETTING:
Daniel had been taken captive and deported to Babylon by Nebuchadnezzar in 605 B.C. There he served in the government for about 60 years during the reigns of Nebuchadnezzar, Belshazzar, Darius, and Cyrus.

KEY VERSE:
"He [God] reveals deep and hidden things; he knows what lies in darkness, and light dwells with him" (2:22).

KEY PEOPLE:
Daniel, Nebuchadnezzar, Shadrach, Meshach, Abednego, Belshazzar, Darius

KEY PLACES:
Nebuchadnezzar's palace, the fiery furnace, Belshazzar's banquet, the den of lions

SPECIAL FEATURES:
Daniel's apocalyptic visions (chapters 8—12) give a glimpse of God's plan for the ages, including a direct prediction of the Messiah.

THE BLUEPRINT

A. DANIEL'S LIFE (1:1—6:28)	Daniel and his three friends chose not to eat the king's food. They did not bow down to the king's image, even under penalty of death. Daniel continued to pray even though he knew he might be noticed and sentenced to death. These men are inspiring examples for us of living a faithful life in a sinful world. When we face trials, we can expect God to remain present with us through our trials. May God grant us the same courage to remain faithful under pressure.
B. DANIEL'S VISIONS (7:1—12:13)	These visions gave the captives added confidence that God is in control of history. They were to wait patiently and in faith and not to worship the gods of Babylon or accept their way of life. God still rules over human activities. Evil will be overcome, so we should wait patiently and not give in to the temptations and pressures of the sinful way of life around us.

MEGATHEMES

THEME	EXPLANATION	IMPORTANCE
God is in control	God is all-knowing, and he is in charge of world events. God overrules and removes rebellious leaders who defy him. God will overcome evil; no one is exempt. But he will deliver the faithful who follow him.	Although nations vie for world control now, one day Christ's kingdom will replace and surpass the kingdoms of this world. Our faith is sure because our future is secure in Christ. We must have courage and put our faith in God who controls everything.
Purpose in life	Daniel and his three friends are examples of dedication and commitment. They determined to serve God regardless of the consequences. They did not give in to pressures from an ungodly society because they had a clear purpose in life.	It is wise to make trusting and obeying God alone our true purpose in life. This will give us direction and peace in spite of the circumstances or consequences. We should disobey anyone who asks us to disobey God. Our first allegiance must be to God.
Perseverance	Daniel served for 70 years in a foreign land that was hostile to God, yet he did not compromise his faith in God. He was truthful, persistent in prayer, and disinterested in power for personal glory.	In order to fulfill your life's purpose, you need staying power. Don't let your Christian distinctness become blurred. Be relentless in your prayers, stay firm in your integrity, and be content to serve God wherever he puts you.
God's faithfulness	God was faithful in Daniel's life. He delivered him from prison, from a den of lions, and from enemies who hated him. God cares for his people and deals patiently with them.	We can trust God to be with us through any trial because he promises to be there. Because he has been faithful to us, we should remain faithful to him.

A. DANIEL'S LIFE (1:1—6:28)

While Ezekiel was ministering to the captives in Babylon, Daniel was drafted as a counselor to King Nebuchadnezzar. With God's help, Daniel interpreted two of the king's dreams, Daniel's three friends were rescued from certain death in the fiery furnace, and Daniel was rescued from a lions' den. Daniel's life is a picture of the triumph of faith. May God grant us this type of faith so that we may also live courageously each day.

Daniel's Training in Babylon

1 In the third year of the reign of Jehoiakim king of Judah, Nebuchadnezzar[a] king of Babylon came to Jerusalem and besieged it.[b] 2And the Lord delivered Jehoiakim king of Judah into his hand, along with some of the articles from the

1:1 [a] 2Ki 24:1 [b] 2Ch 36:6

1:1, 2 Born during the middle of Josiah's reign (2 Kings 22; 23), Daniel grew up during the king's reforms. During this time, Daniel probably heard Jeremiah, a prophet he quoted in 9:2. In 609 B.C., Josiah was killed in a battle against Egypt, and within four years, the southern kingdom of Judah had returned to its evil ways.

In 605 B.C. Nebuchadnezzar became king of Babylonia. In September of that year, he swept into Palestine and surrounded Jerusalem, making Judah his vassal state. To demonstrate his temple of God. These he carried off to the temple of his god in Babylonia[a] and put in the treasure house of his god.[c]

1:2 [c] Jer 27:19-20; Zec 5:5-11

3Then the king ordered Ashpenaz, chief of his court officials, to bring in some of the Israelites from the royal family and the nobility[d]— 4young men without any physical defect, handsome, showing aptitude for every kind of learning, well informed, quick to understand, and qualified to serve in the king's palace. He was to teach them the language and literature of the Babylonians.[b] 5The king assigned them a daily amount of food and wine from the king's table. They were to be trained for three years, and after that they were to enter the king's service.[e]

1:3 [d] Isa 39:7

1:5 [e] ver 19

6Among these were some from Judah: Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael and Azariah. 7The chief official gave them new names: to Daniel, the name Belteshazzar;[f] to Hananiah, Shadrach; to Mishael, Meshach; and to Azariah, Abednego.

1:7 [f] Da 4:8; 5:12

8But Daniel resolved not to defile[g] himself with the royal food and wine, and he asked the chief official for permission not to defile himself this way. 9Now God had

1:8 [g] Eze 4:13-14

[a] 2 Hebrew Shinar [b] 4 Or Chaldeans

DANIEL served as a prophet to the exiles in Babylon from 605–536 B.C.

Climate of the times	The people of Judah were captives in a strange land, feeling hopeless.
Main message	God is sovereign over all of human history, past, present, and future.
Importance of message	We should spend less time wondering when future events will happen and more time learning how we should live now.
Contemporary prophets	Jeremiah (627–586) Habakkuk (612–588) Ezekiel (593–571) dominance, Nebuchadnezzar took many of Jerusalem's wisest men and most beautiful women to Babylon as captives. Daniel was among this group.

1:1, 2 Nebuchadnezzar, the supreme leader of Babylonia, was feared throughout the world. When he invaded a country, defeat was certain. After a victory, the Babylonians usually took the most talented and useful people back to Babylon and left only the poor behind to take whatever land they wanted and to live peacefully there (2 Kings 24:14). This system fostered great loyalty from conquered lands and ensured a steady supply of wise and talented people for civil service.

1:2 At certain times God allows his work to suffer. In this instance, the Babylonians raided the temple of God, and took the worship articles to the tempie of a god in Babylon. This god may have been Bel, also called Marduk, the chief god of the Babylonians. Those who loved the Lord must have felt disheartened and discouraged. We feel greatly disappointed when our churches suffer physical damage, split, close down for financial reasons, or are wracked by scandals. We do not know why God allows his church to experience these calamities. But like the people who witnessed the plundering of the temple by the Babylonians, we must trust that God is in control and that he is watching over all who trust in him.

1:4 The common language of Babylonia was Aramaic, while the language of scholarship included the ancient and complicated Babylonian language. The academic program would have included mathematics, astronomy, history, science, and magic. These young men demonstrated not only aptitude, but also discipline. This character trait, combined with integrity, served them well in their new culture.

1:7 Nebuchadnezzar changed the names of Daniel and his friends because he wanted to make them Babylonian – in their own eyes and in the eyes of the Babylonian people. New names would help them assimilate into the culture. Daniel means "God is my Judge" in Hebrew; his name was changed to Belteshazzar meaning "Bel, protect his life!" (Bel, also called Marduk, was the chief Babylonian god). Hananiah means "the LORD shows grace"; his new name, Shadrach, probably means "under the command of Aku" (the moon god). Mishael means "who is like God?"; his new name, Meshach, probably means "who is like Aku?" Azariah means "the LORD helps"; his new name, Abednego, means "servant of Nego/Nebo" (or Nabu, the god of learning and writing). This was how the king attempted to change the religious loyalty of these young men from Judah's God to Babylonia's gods.

1:8 Daniel resolved not to eat this food, either because the meat was some food forbidden by Jewish law, like pork (see Leviticus 11), or because accepting the king's food and drink was the first step toward depending on his gifts and favors. Although Daniel was in a culture that did not honor God, he still obeyed God's laws.

1:8 Resolve is a strong word that means to be devoted to principle and to be committed to a course of action. When Daniel resolved not to defile himself, he was being true to a lifelong determination to do what was right and not to give in to the pressures around him. We too are often assaulted by pressures to compromise our standards and live more like the world around us. Merely wanting or preferring God's will and way is not enough to stand against the onslaught of temptation. Like Daniel, we must resolve to obey God.

1:8 It is easier to resist temptation if you have thought through your convictions well before the temptation arrives. Daniel and his friends made their decision to be faithful to the laws of God before they were faced with the king's delicacies, so they did not hesitate to stick with their convictions. We will get into trouble if we have not previously decided where to draw the line. Before such situations arise, decide on your commitments. Then when temptation comes, you will be ready to say no.

1:9 God moved with an unseen hand to change the heart of this Babylonian official. The strong moral conviction of these four young men made an impact. God promises to be with his people in times of trial and temptation (Psalm 106:46; Isaiah 43:2–5; 1 Corinthians 10:13). His active intervention often comes just when we take a stand for him. Stand for God and trust him to protect you in ways you may not be able to see.

caused the official to show favor[n] and sympathy to Daniel, 10but the official told Daniel, "I am afraid of my lord the king, who has assigned your[c] food and drink. Why should he see you looking worse than the other young men your age? The king would then have my head because of you."

11Daniel then said to the guard whom the chief official had appointed over Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael and Azariah, 12"Please test your servants for ten days: Give us nothing but vegetables to eat and water to drink. 13Then compare our appearance with that of the young men who eat the royal food, and treat your servants in accordance with what you see." 14So he agreed to this and tested them for ten days.

15At the end of the ten days they looked healthier and better nourished than any of the young men who ate the royal food. 16So the guard took away their choice food and the wine they were to drink and gave them vegetables instead.

17To these four young men God gave knowledge and understanding of all kinds of literature and learning. And Daniel could understand visions and dreams of all kinds.[i]

18At the end of the time set by the king to bring them in, the chief official presented them to Nebuchadnezzar. 19The king talked with them, and he found none equal to Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael and Azariah; so they entered the king's service.[j] 20In every matter of wisdom and understanding about which the king questioned them, he found them ten times better than all the magicians and enchanters in his whole kingdom.

21And Daniel remained there until the first year of King Cyrus.[k]

1:9 [n]Pr 16:7

1:17 [i]Da 2:19, 30

1:19 [j]Ge 41:46

1:21 [k]Da 6:28; 10:1

Nebuchadnezzar's Dream

2 In the second year of his reign, Nebuchadnezzar had dreams;[l] his mind was troubled[m] and he could not sleep.[n] 2So the king summoned the magicians,[o] enchanters, sorcerers[p] and astrologers[d] to tell him what he had dreamed. When they came in and stood before the king, 3he said to them, "I have had a dream that troubles me and I want to know what it means.[e]"

2:1 [l]Da 4:5 [m]Ge 41:8 [n]Est 6:1
2:2 [o]Ge 41:8 [p]Ex 7:11

[c] 10 The Hebrew for your and you in this verse is plural. [d] 2 Or Chaldeans; also in verses 4, 5 and 10
[e] 3 Or was TAKEN TO BABYLON Daniel, as a captive of Babylonian soldiers, faced a long and difficult march to a new land. The 500–mile trek, under harsh conditions, certainly tested his faith in God.

1:10 Anything short of complete obedience meant execution for the officials who served Nebuchadnezzar. Even in such a small matter as this, the official feared for his life.

1:12 The Babylonians were trying to change the thinking of these Jews by giving them a Babylonian education, their loyalty by changing their names, and their life-style by changing their diet. Without compromising, Daniel found a way to live by God's standards in a culture that did not honor God. Wisely choosing to negotiate rather than to rebel, Daniel suggested an experimental ten-day diet of vegetables and water, instead of the royal foods and wine the king offered. Without compromising, Daniel quickly thought of a practical, creative solution that saved his life and the lives of his companions. As God's people, we may adjust to our culture as long as we do not compromise God's laws.

1:17 Daniel and his friends learned all they could about their new culture so they could do their work with excellence. But while they learned, they maintained steadfast allegiance to God, and God gave them skill and wisdom. Culture need not be God's enemy. If it does not violate his commands, it can aid in accomplishing his purpose. We who follow God are free to be competent leaders in our culture, but we are required to pledge our allegiance to God first.

1:20 Nebuchadnezzar put Daniel and his friends on his staff of advisers. This staff included many "magicians and enchanters." These were astrologers who claimed to be able to tell the future through occult practices. They were masters at communicating their message so that it sounded authoritative—as though it came directly from their gods. In addition to knowledge, Daniel and his three friends had wisdom and understanding, given to them by God. Thus the king was far more pleased with them than with his magicians and enchanters. As we serve others, we must not merely pretend to have God's wisdom. Our wisdom will be genuine when we are rightly related to God.

1:20 How did the captives survive in a foreign culture? They learned about the culture, achieved excellence in their work, served the people, prayed for God's help, and maintained their integrity. We may feel like foreigners whenever we experience change. Alien cultures come in many forms: a new job, a new school, a new neighborhood. We can use the same principles to help us adapt to our new surroundings without abandoning God.

1:21 Daniel was one of the first captives taken to Babylon, and he 4Then the astrologers answered the king in Aramaic,[f] "O king, live forever! Tell your servants the dream, and we will interpret it."

5The king replied to the astrologers, "This is what I have firmly decided: If you do not tell me what my dream was and interpret it, I will have you cut into pieces and your houses turned into piles of rubble.[q] 6But if you tell me the dream and explain it, you will receive from me gifts and rewards and great honor.[r] So tell me the dream and interpret it for me."

2:5 [q]Ezr 6:11; Da 3:29

2:6 [r]Da 5:7, 16

7Once more they replied, "Let the king tell his servants the dream, and we will interpret it."

8Then the king answered, "I am certain that you are trying to gain time, because you realize that this is what I have firmly decided: 9If you do not tell me the dream, there is just one penalty[s] for you. You have conspired to tell me misleading and wicked things, hoping the situation will change. So then, tell me the dream, and I will know that you can interpret it for me."

2:9 [s]Est 4:11

10The astrologers answered the king, "There is not a man on earth who can do what the king asks! No king, however great and mighty, has ever asked such a thing of any magician or enchanter or astrologer.[t] 11What the king asks is too difficult. No one can reveal it to the king except the gods, and they do not live among men."

2:10 [t]ver 27

12This made the king so angry and furious that he ordered the execution of all the [f]4 The text from here through chapter 7 is in Aramaic.

THE FULFILLMENT OF DANIEL'S INTERPRETATION

The large statue in Nebuchadnezzar's dream (2:24–45) represented the four kingdoms that would dominate as world powers. We recognize these as the Babylonian empire, the Medo-Persian empire, the Grecian empire, and the Roman empire. All of these will be crushed and brought to an end by the kingdom of God, which will continue forever.

Part	Material	Empire	Period of Domination
Head	Gold	Babylonian	606 B.C.—539 B.C.
Chest and Arms	Silver	Medo-Persian	539 B.C.—331 B.C.
Belly and Thighs	Bronze	Grecian	331 B.C.—146 B.C.
Legs and Feet	Iron and Clay	Roman	146 B.C.—A.D. 476

lived to see the first exiles return to Jerusalem in 538 B.C. Throughout this time Daniel honored God, and God honored him. While serving as an adviser to the kings of Babylon, Daniel was God's spokesman to the Babylonian empire. Babylon was a wicked nation, but it would have been much worse without Daniel's influence.

2:1–11 Dreams were considered to be messages from the gods, and the wise men were expected to interpret them. Usually the wise men could give some sort of interpretation as long as they knew what the dream was about. This time, however, Nebuchadnezzar demanded to be told the dream also. God sent a series of dreams to Nebuchadnezzar with prophetic messages that could be revealed and understood only by a servant of God. People from other time periods who received dreams from God include Jacob (Genesis 28:10–15), Joseph (Genesis 37:5–11), Pharaoh's cupbearer and his baker (Genesis 40), Pharaoh (Genesis 41), Solomon (1 Kings 3:5–15), and Joseph (Matthew 1:20–24).

2:10, 11 The astrologers told the king that "not a man on earth" could know the dreams of another person. What the king asked was humanly impossible. But Daniel could tell what the king had dreamed, and he could also give the interpretation because God was working through him. In daily life, we face many apparently impossible situations that would be hopeless if we had to handle them with our limited strength. But God specializes in working through us to achieve the impossible.

2:10, 11 The astrologers were unable to persuade the king with any amount of logic or rational argument. The king asked for something impossible and didn't want anyone to change his mind. When power goes to a leader's head, whether at work, at home, or in the church, that leader can sometimes begin demanding the impossible from subordinates. At times, this may be the challenge needed to motivate workers to achieve more than they thought they could. At other times, it may be the rantings and ravings of someone deluded with power. Just as Daniel dealt wisely in the situation, we can ask God to give us wisdom to know how to deal with unreasonable bosses.

2:11 The astrologers said that the gods "do not live among men." Of course their gods didn't—they didn't even exist! This exposed the limitations of the astrologers. They could invent interpretations of dreams but could not tell Nebuchadnezzar what he had dreamed. Although his request was unreasonable, Nebuchadnezzar was furious when his advisers couldn't fulfill it. It was not unusual in these times for astrologers to be in conflict with the king. They sometimes used their craft to gain political power.

2:11 By answering that the gods "do not live among men," the astrologers betrayed their concept of the gods. Theirs was a hollow religion, a religion of convenience. They believed in the gods, but that belief made no difference in their conduct. Today, many people profess to believe in God, but it is also a hollow belief. In essence, they are practical atheists because they don't listen to him or do what he says. Do you believe in God? He does live among people, and he wants to change your life.

wise men of Babylon. 13So the decree was issued to put the wise men to death, and men were sent to look for Daniel and his friends to put them to death.[u]

14When Arioch, the commander of the king's guard, had gone out to put to death the wise men of Babylon, Daniel spoke to him with wisdom and tact. 15He asked the king's officer, "Why did the king issue such a harsh decree?" Arioch then explained the matter to Daniel. 16At this, Daniel went in to the king and asked for time, so that he might interpret the dream for him.

17Then Daniel returned to his house and explained the matter to his friends Hananiah, Mishael and Azariah. 18He urged them to plead for mercy[v] from the God of heaven concerning this mystery,[w] so that he and his friends might not be executed with the rest of the wise men of Babylon. 19During the night the mystery was revealed to Daniel in a vision.[x] Then Daniel praised the God of heaven 20and said:

"Praise be to the name of God for ever and ever;[y] wisdom and power[z] are his.
21He changes times and seasons;
he sets up kings and deposes them.
He gives wisdom[a] to the wise and knowledge to the discerning.
22He reveals deep and hidden things;[b] he knows what lies in darkness,[c]
and light[d] dwells with him.
23I thank and praise you, O God of my fathers:
You have given me wisdom[e] and power,
you have made known to me what we asked of you,
you have made known to us the dream of the king."

Daniel Interprets the Dream

24Then Daniel went to Arioch, whom the king had appointed to execute the wise men of Babylon, and said to him, "Do not execute the wise men of Babylon. Take me to the king, and I will interpret his dream for him."

25Arioch took Daniel to the king at once and said, "I have found a man among the exiles from Judah[f] who can tell the king what his dream means."

26The king asked Daniel (also called Belteshazzar), "Are you able to tell me what I saw in my dream and interpret it?"

27Daniel replied, "No wise man, enchanter, magician or diviner can explain to the king the mystery he has asked about,[g] 28but there is a God in heaven who reveals mysteries.[h] He has shown King Nebuchadnezzar what will happen in days to come. Your dream and the visions that passed through your mind[i] as you lay on your bed are these:

2:13 [u] Da 1:20

2:18 [v] Isa 37:4 [w] Jer 33:3

2:19 [x] Job 33:15

2:20 [y] Ps 113:2 [z] Jer 32:19

2:21 [a] Jas 1:5

2:22 [b] Job 12:22; Da 5:11 [c] Ps 139:11-12 [d] Isa 45:7

2:23 [e] Da 1:17

2:25 [f] Da 1:6

2:27 [g] ver 10

2:28 [h] Ge 40:8 [i] Da 4:5

2:16–18 Daniel was at a crisis point. Imagine going to see the powerful, temperamental king who had just angrily ordered your death! Daniel did not shrink back in fear, however, but confidently believed God would tell him all the king wanted to know. When the king gave Daniel time to find the answer, Daniel found his three friends and they prayed. When you find yourself in a tight spot, share your needs with trusted friends who also believe in God's power. Prayer is more effective than panic. Panic confirms your hopelessness; prayer confirms your hope in God. Daniel's trust in God saved himself, his three friends, and all the other wise men of Babylon.

2:19–23 After Daniel asked God to reveal Nebuchadnezzar's dream to him, he saw a vision of the dream. Daniel's prayer was answered. Before rushing to Arioch with the news, Daniel took time to give God credit for all wisdom and power, thanking God for answering his request. How do you feel when your prayers are answered? Excited, surprised, relieved? There are times when we seek God in prayer and, after having been answered, dash off in our excitement, forgetting to give God credit for the answer. Match your persistence in prayer with gratitude when your requests are answered.

2:21 If you ever think that you have much to learn in life, and if you ever wish that you knew more about how to handle people, then look to God for wisdom. While educational institutions provide diplomas at great expense, God gives wisdom freely to all who ask. (See James 1:5 for more on asking God for wisdom.)

2:21 When we see evil leaders who live long and good leaders who die young, we may wonder if God controls world events. Daniel saw evil rulers with almost limitless power, but Daniel knew and proclaimed that God "sets up kings and deposes them," that he controls everything that happens. God governs the world according to his purposes. You may be dismayed when you see evil people prosper, but God is in control. Let this knowledge give you confidence and peace no matter what happens.

2:24 Daniel did not use his success to promote his own self-interest. He thought of others. When striving to succeed or survive, remember the needs of others.

29"As you were lying there, O king, your mind turned to things to come, and the revealer of mysteries showed you what is going to happen. 30As for me, this mystery has been revealed to me, not because I have greater wisdom than other living men, but so that you, O king, may know the interpretation and that you may understand what went through your mind.

31"You looked, O king, and there before you stood a large statue — an enormous, dazzling statue,[j] awesome in appearance. 32The head of the statue was made of pure gold, its chest and arms of silver, its belly and thighs of bronze, 33its legs of iron, its feet partly of iron and partly of baked clay. 34While you were watching, a rock was cut out, but not by human hands.[k] It struck the statue on its feet of iron and clay and smashed them.[l] 35Then the iron, the clay, the bronze, the silver and

2:31 [j] Hab 1:7

2:34 [k] Zec 4:6 [l] Da 8:25

Daniel's early life demonstrates that there is more to being young than making mistakes. No characteristic wins the hearts of adults more quickly than wisdom in the words and actions of a young person. Daniel and his friends had been taken from their homes in Judah and exiled. Their futures were in doubt, but they all had personal traits that qualified them for jobs as servants in the king's palace. They took advantage of the opportunity without letting the opportunity take advantage of them.

Our first hint of Daniel's greatness comes in his quiet refusal to give up his convictions. He had applied God's will to his own life, and he resisted changing the good habits he had formed. Both his physical and spiritual diets were an important part of his relationship with God. He ate carefully and lived prayerfully. One of the benefits of being in training for royal service was eating food from the king's table. Daniel tactfully chose a simpler menu and proved it was a healthy choice. As with Daniel, mealtimes are obvious and regular tests of our efforts to control our appetites.

While Daniel limited his food intake, he indulged in prayer. He was able to communicate with God because he made it a habit. He put into practice his convictions, even when that meant being thrown into a den of hungry lions. His life proved he made the right choice.

Do you hold so strongly to your faith in God that whatever happens you will do what God says? Such conviction keeps you a step ahead of temptation; such conviction gives you wisdom and stability in changing circumstances. Prayerfully live out your convictions in everyday life and trust God for the results.

Strengths and accomplishments:
- Although young when deported, remained true to his faith
- Served as an adviser to two Babylonian kings and two Medo-Persian kings
- Was a man of prayer and a statesman with the gift of prophecy
- Survived the lions' den

Lessons from his life:
- Quiet convictions often earn long-term respect
- Don't wait until you are in a tough situation to learn about prayer
- God can use people wherever they are

Vital statistics:
- Where: Judah and the courts of both Babylon and Persia
- Occupation: A captive from Israel who became an adviser of kings
- Contemporaries: Hananiah, Mishael, Azariah, Nebuchadnezzar, Belshazzar, Darius, Cyrus

Key verse:
"This man Daniel, whom the king called Belteshazzar, was found to have a keen mind and knowledge and understanding, and also the ability to interpret dreams, explain riddles and solve difficult problems. Call for Daniel, and he will tell you what the writing means" (5:12).

Daniel's story is told in the book of Daniel. He is also mentioned in Matthew 24:15.

2:27–30 Before Daniel told the king anything else, he gave credit to God, explaining that he did not know the dream through his own wisdom but only because God revealed it. How easily we take credit for what God does through us! This robs God of the honor that he alone deserves. Instead we should be like Daniel and point people to God so that we give him the glory.

2:31ff The head of gold on the statue in the dream represented Nebuchadnezzar, ruler of the Babylonian empire. The silver chest and two arms represented the Medo-Persian empire, which conquered Babylon in 539 B.C. The belly and thighs of bronze were Greece and Macedonia under Alexander the Great, who conquered the Medo-Persian empire in 334–330 B.C. The legs of iron represented Rome, which conquered the Greeks in 63 B.C. The feet of clay and iron represented the breakup of the Roman empire, when the territory Rome ruled divided into a mixture of strong and weak nations. The type of metal in each part depicted the strength of the political power it represented. The rock cut out of the mountain depicted God's kingdom, which would be ruled eternally by the Messiah, the King of kings. The dream revealed Daniel's God as the power behind all earthly kingdoms.

the gold were broken to pieces at the same time and became like chaff on a threshing floor in the summer. The wind swept them away[m] without leaving a trace. But the rock that struck the statue became a huge mountain[n] and filled the whole earth.

36"This was the dream, and now we will interpret it to the king. 37You, O king, are the king of kings. The God of heaven has given you dominion[o] and power and might and glory; 38in your hands he has placed mankind and the beasts of the field and the birds of the air. Wherever they live, he has made you ruler over them all.[p] You are that head of gold.

39"After you, another kingdom will rise, inferior to yours. Next, a third kingdom, one of bronze, will rule over the whole earth. 40Finally, there will be a fourth kingdom, strong as iron—for iron breaks and smashes everything—and as iron breaks things to pieces, so it will crush and break all the others.[q] 41Just as you saw that the feet and toes were partly of baked clay and partly of iron, so this will be a divided kingdom; yet it will have some of the strength of iron in it, even as you saw iron mixed with clay. 42As the toes were partly iron and partly clay, so this kingdom will be partly strong and partly brittle. 43And just as you saw the iron mixed with baked clay, so the people will be a mixture and will not remain united, any more than iron mixes with clay.

44"In the time of those kings, the God of heaven will set up a kingdom that will never be destroyed, nor will it be left to another people. It will crush[r] all those kingdoms and bring them to an end, but it will itself endure forever.[s] 45This is the meaning of the vision of the rock cut out of a mountain, but not by human hands—a rock that broke the iron, the bronze, the clay, the silver and the gold to pieces.

"The great God has shown the king what will take place in the future. The dream is true and the interpretation is trustworthy."

46Then King Nebuchadnezzar fell prostrate[t] before Daniel and paid him honor and ordered that an offering[u] and incense be presented to him. 47The king said to Daniel, "Surely your God is the God of gods[v] and the Lord of kings and a revealer of mysteries, for you were able to reveal this mystery."

48Then the king placed Daniel in a high position and lavished many gifts on him. He made him ruler over the entire province of Babylon and placed him in charge of all its wise men.[w] 49Moreover, at Daniel's request the king appointed Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego administrators over the province of Babylon, while Daniel himself remained at the royal court.

2:35 [m]Ps 37:10 [n]Isa 2:3

2:37 [o]Jer 27:7

2:38 [p]Da 4:21-22

2:40 [q]Da 7:7, 23

2:44 [r]Ps 2:9 [s]Da 4:34; Mic 4:7, 13

2:46 [t]Ac 10:25 [u]Ac 14:13

2:47 [v]Da 11:36

2:48 [w]ver 6

The Image of Gold and the Fiery Furnace

3 King Nebuchadnezzar made an image[x] of gold, ninety feet high and nine feet[g] wide, and set it up on the plain of Dura in the province of Babylon. 2He

3:1 [x]Isa 46:6; Hab 2:19

g 1 Aramaic sixty cubits high and six cubits wide (about 27 meters high and 2.7 meters wide)

2:36 When Daniel says "we," he is referring to himself and his three friends. Just as Daniel involved them in praying for God's help, he gave them credit when he presented the interpretation. Because they helped Daniel in the prayer, he was careful to share the credit with them.

2:44 God's kingdom will never be destroyed. If you are upset by threats of war and the prosperity of evil leaders, remember that God, not world leaders, decides the outcome of history. Under God's protection, God's kingdom is indestructible. Those who believe in God are members of his kingdom and are secure in him.

2:47 Nebuchadnezzar honored Daniel and Daniel's God. If Daniel had taken the credit himself, the king would have honored only Daniel. Because Daniel gave God the credit, the king honored both of them. Part of our mission in this world is to show unbelievers what God is like. We can do that by giving God credit for what he does in our lives. Our acts of love and compassion may impress people, and if we give God credit for our actions, they will want to know more about him. Give thanks to God for what he is doing in and through you.

2:49 After being named ruler over the whole province of Babylon and placed in charge of the wise men, Daniel requested that his companions, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, be appointed as his assistants. Daniel knew that he could not handle such an enormous responsibility without capable assistants, so he chose the best men he knew—his three Hebrew companions. A competent leader never does all the work alone; he or she knows how to delegate and supervise. Moses, Israel's greatest leader, shared the burden of administration with dozens of assistants. (This story is in Exodus 18:13–27.)

3:1 In Babylon's religious culture, statues were frequently worshiped. Nebuchadnezzar hoped to use this huge image (ninety feet high by nine feet wide) as a strategy to unite the nation and solidify his power by centralizing worship. This gold image may have been inspired by his dream. Instead of having only a head of gold, however, it was gold from head to toe. Nebuchadnezzar wanted his kingdom to last forever. When he made the statue, Nebuchadnezzar showed that his devotion to Daniel's God was short-lived. He neither feared nor obeyed the God who was behind the dream.

3:2 Satraps were governors over major divisions of the empire, then summoned the satraps, prefects, governors, advisers, treasurers, judges, magistrates and all the other provincial officials[y] to come to the dedication of the image he had set up. 3So the satraps, prefects, governors, advisers, treasurers, judges, magistrates and all the other provincial officials assembled for the dedication of the image that King Nebuchadnezzar had set up, and they stood before it.

4Then the herald loudly proclaimed, "This is what you are commanded to do, O peoples, nations and men of every language:[z] 5As soon as you hear the sound of the horn, flute, zither, lyre, harp, pipes and all kinds of music, you must fall down and worship the image of gold that King Nebuchadnezzar has set up.[a] 6Whoever does not fall down and worship will immediately be thrown into a blazing furnace."[b]

7Therefore, as soon as they heard the sound of the horn, flute, zither, lyre, harp and all kinds of music, all the peoples, nations and men of every language fell down and worshiped the image of gold that King Nebuchadnezzar had set up.

8At this time some astrologers[h] came forward and denounced the Jews. 9They said to King Nebuchadnezzar, "O king, live forever![c] 10You have issued a decree, O king, that everyone who hears the sound of the horn, flute, zither, lyre, harp, pipes and all kinds of music must fall down and worship the image of gold,[d] 11and that whoever does not fall down and worship will be thrown into a blazing furnace. 12But there are some Jews whom you have set over the affairs of the province of Babylon — Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego[e] — who pay no attention to you, O king. They neither serve your gods nor worship the image of gold you have set up."

13Furious[f] with rage, Nebuchadnezzar summoned Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego. So these men were brought before the king, 14and Nebuchadnezzar said to them, "Is it true, Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego, that you do not serve my gods[g] or worship the image of gold I have set up? 15Now when you hear the sound of the horn, flute, zither, lyre, harp, pipes and all kinds of music, if you are ready to fall down and worship the image I made, very good. But if you do not worship it, you will be thrown immediately into a blazing furnace. Then what god[h] will be able to rescue you from my hand?"

16Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego replied to the king, "O Nebuchadnezzar, we do not need to defend ourselves before you in this matter. 17If we are thrown

3:2 [y] ver 27
3:4 [z] Da 4:1; 6:25
3:5 [a] ver 10, 15
3:6 [b] Jer 29:22
3:9 [c] Da 5:10
3:10 [d] ver 4-6
3:12 [e] Da 2:49
3:13 [f] Da 2:12
3:14 [g] Isa 46:1; Jer 50:2
3:15 [h] Isa 36:18-20

h 8 Or Chaldeans

serving as the chief representatives of the king. Prefects were the governors over conquered cities. Governors were civil administrators over provinces.

3:6 This blazing furnace was not a small oven for cooking dinner or heating a house; it was a huge industrial furnace that could have been used for baking bricks or smelting metals. The temperatures were hot enough to assure that no one could survive. The roaring flames could be seen leaping from its top opening, and a fiery blast killed the soldiers who went up to the large opening (3:22).

3:12 We don't know if other Jews refused to fall down and worship the image, but these three were singled out as public examples. Why didn't the three men just bow to the image and tell God that they didn't mean it? They had determined never to worship another god, and they courageously took their stand. As a result, they were condemned and led away to be executed. The men did not know whether they would be delivered from the fire; all they knew was that they would not fall down and worship an idol. Are you ready to take a stand for God no matter what? When you stand for God, you will stand out. It may be painful, and it may not always have a happy ending. Be prepared to say, "If he rescues me, or if he doesn't, I will serve only God."

3:13 Nebuchadnezzar had lost control. How could anyone dare to disobey his commands? As the supreme ruler of Babylonia, he expected absolute obedience. But his pride had caused him to go beyond his own authority. His demands were unjust and his reactions extreme. If you find yourself angered when people don't follow your directions, ask yourself, "Why am I reacting?" Your ego may be overly involved with your authority.

3:15 The three men were given one more chance. Here are eight excuses they could have used to bow to the image and save their lives: (1) We will fall down but not actually worship the idol. (2) We won't become idol worshipers, but will worship it this one time, and then ask God for forgiveness. (3) The king has absolute power, and we must obey him. God will understand. (4) The king appointed us — we owe this to him. (5) This is a foreign land, so God will excuse us for following the customs of the land. (6) Our ancestors set up idols in God's temple! This isn't half as bad! (7) We're not hurting anybody. (8) If we get ourselves killed and some pagans take our high positions, they won't help our people in exile!

Although all these excuses sound sensible at first, they are dangerous rationalizations. To fall down and worship the image would violate God's command in Exodus 20:3, "You shall have no other gods before me." It would also erase their testimony for God forever. Never again could they talk about the power of their God above all other gods. What excuses do you use for not standing up for him?

3:16–18 Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego were pressured to deny God, but they chose to be faithful to him no matter what happened! They trusted God to deliver them, but they were determined to be faithful regardless of the consequences. If God always rescued those who were true to him, Christians would not need faith. Their religion would be a great insurance policy, and there would be lines of selfish people ready to sign up. We should be faithful to serve God whether he intervenes on our behalf or not. Our eternal reward is worth any suffering we may have to endure first.

into the blazing furnace, the God we serve is able to save[i] us from it, and he will rescue us from your hand, O king. 18But even if he does not, we want you to know, O king, that we will not serve your gods or worship the image of gold you have set up.[j]"

3:17 [i]Ps 27 1-2

3:18 [j]ver 28

19Then Nebuchadnezzar was furious with Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego, and his attitude toward them changed. He ordered the furnace heated seven times hotter than usual 20and commanded some of the strongest soldiers in his army to tie up Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego and throw them into the blazing furnace. 21So these men, wearing their robes, trousers, turbans and other clothes, were bound and thrown into the blazing furnace. 22The king's command was so urgent and the furnace so hot that the flames of the fire killed the soldiers who took up Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego, 23and these three men, firmly tied, fell into the blazing furnace.

24Then King Nebuchadnezzar leaped to his feet in amazement and asked his advisers, "Weren't there three men that we tied up and threw into the fire?"

They replied, "Certainly, O king."

25He said, "Look! I see four men walking around in the fire, unbound and unharmed, and the fourth looks like a son of the gods."

26Nebuchadnezzar then approached the opening of the blazing furnace and shouted, "Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego, servants of the Most High God,[k] come out! Come here!"

3:26 [k]Da 4:2, 34

So Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego came out of the fire, 27and the satraps, prefects, governors and royal advisers crowded around them.[l] They saw that the fire had not harmed their bodies, nor was a hair of their heads singed; their robes were not scorched, and there was no smell of fire on them.

3:27 [l]Heb 11:32-34

28Then Nebuchadnezzar said, "Praise be to the God of Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego, who has sent his angel[m] and rescued his servants! They trusted in him and defied the king's command and were willing to give up their lives rather than serve or worship any god except their own God. 29Therefore I decree[n] that the people of any nation or language who say anything against the God of Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego be cut into pieces and their houses be turned into piles of rubble, for no other god can save[o] in this way."

3:28 [m]Ps 34:7; Da 6:22

3:29 [n]Da 6:26 [o]Da 6:27

30Then the king promoted Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego in the province of Babylon.[p]

3:30 [p]Da 2:49

Nebuchadnezzar's Dream of a Tree

4 King Nebuchadnezzar,

To the peoples, nations and men of every language, who live in all the world:

3:19 "His attitude toward them changed." When we do something that offends non-Christians, their attitude toward us often changes because they are basically selfish. Christians should be different; they should still love those who offend them.

3:25 It was obvious to those watching that this fourth person was supernatural. We cannot be certain who the fourth man was. It could have been an angel or a pre-incarnate appearance of Christ. In either case, God sent a heavenly visitor to accompany these faithful men during their time of great trial.

3:25–30 God's deliverance of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego was a great victory of faith for the Jews in captivity. They were protected from harm, they were comforted in trial, God was glorified, and they were rewarded. Let us determine to be true to God no matter how difficult the pressure or punishment. God's protection transcends anything we could imagine.

3:27 These young men had been completely untouched by the fire and heat. Only the rope that bound them had been burned. No human can bind us if God wants us to be free. The power available to us is the same that delivered Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego and raised Christ from the dead (Ephesians 1:18–20). Trust God in every situation. There are eternal reasons for temporary trials, so be thankful that your destiny is in God's hands, not in human hands.

3:28, 29 Nebuchadnezzar was not making a commitment here to serve the Hebrews' God alone. Instead, he was acknowledging that God is powerful, and he commanded his people not to speak against God. Nebuchadnezzar didn't tell the people to throw away all the other gods, but to add this one to the list.

3:30 Where was Daniel in this story? The Bible doesn't say, but there are several possibilities. (1) He may have been on official business in another part of the kingdom. (2) He may have been present, but because he was a ruler, the officials didn't accuse him of not falling down and worshiping the image. (3) He may have been in the capital city handling the administration while Nebuchadnezzar was away. (4) He may have been considered exempt from bowing down to the image because of his reputation for interpreting dreams through his God. Whether Daniel was there or not, we can be sure that he would not have worshiped the image.

May you prosper greatly![q]

2It is my pleasure to tell you about the miraculous signs and wonders that the Most High God[r] has performed for me.

3How great are his signs,
how mighty his wonders![s]
His kingdom is an eternal kingdom;
his dominion endures[t] from generation to generation.

4I, Nebuchadnezzar, was at home in my palace, contented and prosperous. 5I had a dream[u] that made me afraid. As I was lying in my bed, the images and visions that passed through my mind[v] terrified me. 6So I commanded that all the wise men of Babylon be brought before me to interpret the dream for me. 7When the magicians, enchanters, astrologers[i] and diviners[w] came, I

4:1 [q] Da 6:25
4:2 [r] Da 3:26
4:3 [s] Da 6:27 [t] Da 2:44
4:5 [u] Da 2:1 [v] Da 2:28
4:7 [w] Da 2:2
[i] 7 Or Chaldeans

Friendships make life enjoyable and difficult times bearable. Friendships are tested and strengthened by hardships. Such was the relationship between three young Jewish men deported to Babylon along with Daniel. Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego help us think about the real meaning of friendship. As much as these friends meant to each other, they never allowed their friendship to usurp God's place in their lives—not even in the face of death.

Together they silently defied King Nebuchadnezzar's order to fall down and worship the image of gold. They shared a courageous act, while others, eager to get rid of them, told the king that the three Jews were being disloyal. While this was not true, Nebuchadnezzar could not spare them without shaming himself.

This was the moment of truth. Death was about to end their friendship. A small compromise would have allowed them to live and go on enjoying each other, serving God, and serving their people while in this foreign land. But they were wise enough to see that compromise would have poisoned the very conviction that bound them so closely—each had a higher allegiance to God. So they did not hesitate to place their lives in the hands of God. The rest was victory!

When we leave God out of our most important relationships, we tend to expect those relationships to meet needs in us that only God can meet. Friends are helpful, but they cannot meet our deepest spiritual needs. Leaving God out of our relationships indicates how unimportant he really is in our own lives. Our relationship with God should be important enough to touch our other relationships—especially our closest friendships.

Strengths and accomplishments:
- Stood with Daniel against eating food from the king's table
- Shared a friendship that stood the tests of hardship, success, wealth, and possible death
- Unwilling to compromise their convictions even in the face of death
- Survived the fiery furnace

Lessons from their lives:
- There is great strength in real friendship
- It is important to stand with others with whom we share convictions
- God can be trusted even when we can't predict the outcome

Vital statistics:
- Where: Babylon
- Occupations: King's servants and advisers
- Contemporaries: Daniel, Nebuchadnezzar

Key verses:
"Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego replied to the king, 'O Nebuchadnezzar, we do not need to defend ourselves before you in this matter. If we are thrown into the blazing furnace, the God we serve is able to save us from it, and he will rescue us from your hand, O king. But even if he does not, we want you to know, O king, that we will not serve your gods or worship the image of gold you have set up' " (3:16–18).

The story of Shadrach (Hananiah), Meshach (Mishael), and Abednego (Azariah) is told in the book of Daniel.

4:2, 3 Although Nebuchadnezzar praised Daniel's God, he still did not believe in him completely or submit to him alone (4:8). Many people attend church and use spiritual language, but they really don't believe in God or obey him. Profession doesn't always mean possession. How do your beliefs match with your obedience?

told them the dream, but they could not interpret it for me. 8Finally, Daniel came into my presence and I told him the dream. (He is called Belteshazzar,[x] after the name of my god, and the spirit of the holy gods is in him.)

9I said, "Belteshazzar, chief[y] of the magicians, I know that the spirit of the holy gods[z] is in you, and no mystery is too difficult for you. Here is my dream; interpret it for me. 10These are the visions I saw while lying in my bed: I looked, and there before me stood a tree in the middle of the land. Its height was enormous.[a] 11The tree grew large and strong and its top touched the sky; it was visible to the ends of the earth. 12Its leaves were beautiful, its fruit abundant, and on it was food for all. Under it the beasts of the field found shelter, and the birds of the air lived in its branches; from it every creature was fed.

13"In the visions I saw while lying in my bed, I looked, and there before me was a messenger,[j] a holy one,[b] coming down from heaven. 14He called in a loud voice: 'Cut down the tree and trim off its branches; strip off its leaves and scatter its fruit. Let the animals flee from under it and the birds from its branches.[c] 15But let the stump and its roots, bound with iron and bronze, remain in the ground, in the grass of the field.

" 'Let him be drenched with the dew of heaven, and let him live with the animals among the plants of the earth. 16Let his mind be changed from that of a man and let him be given the mind of an animal, till seven times[k] pass by for him.

17" 'The decision is announced by messengers, the holy ones declare the verdict, so that the living may know that the Most High[d] is sovereign[e] over the kingdoms of men and gives them to anyone he wishes and sets over them the lowliest of men.'

18"This is the dream that I, King Nebuchadnezzar, had. Now, Belteshazzar, tell me what it means, for none of the wise men in my kingdom can interpret it for me.[f] But you can,[g] because the spirit of the holy gods is in you."[h]

Daniel Interprets the Dream

19Then Daniel (also called Belteshazzar) was greatly perplexed for a time, and his thoughts terrified[i] him. So the king said, "Belteshazzar, do not let the dream or its meaning alarm you."

Belteshazzar answered, "My lord, if only the dream applied to your enemies and its meaning to your adversaries! 20The tree you saw, which grew large and strong, with its top touching the sky, visible to the whole earth, 21with beautiful leaves and abundant fruit, providing food for all, giving shelter to the beasts of the field, and having nesting places in its branches for the birds of the air— 22you, O king, are that tree! You have become great and strong; your greatness has grown until it reaches the sky, and your dominion extends to distant parts of the earth.[j]

23"You, O king, saw a messenger, a holy one, coming down from heaven and saying, 'Cut down the tree and destroy it, but leave the stump, bound

4:8 [x] Da 1:7

4:9 [y] Da 2:48 [z] Da 5:11-12

4:10 [a] Eze 31:3-4

4:13 [b] ver 23

4:14 [c] Eze 31:12; Mt 3:10

4:17 [d] ver 2, 25 [e] Da 5:18-21

4:18 [f] Ge 41:8; Da 5:8, 15 [g] Ge 41:15 [h] ver 7-9

4:19 [i] Da 7:15, 28

4:22 [j] Jer 27:7

[j] 13 Or watchman; also in verses 17 and 23 [k] 16 Or years; also in verses 23, 25 and 32

4:17 One of the most difficult lessons to learn is that God is sovereign. He is above all of those who are above us. He limits the power and authority of all the government, business, and religious leaders in the world. Those who live in freedom and with a relatively high degree of autonomy find this difficult to understand. While we may feel as though we are free to do what we please, God is sovereign over all of our plans and desires.

4:19 When Daniel understood Nebuchadnezzar's dream, he was stunned, and he wondered how to break the news. He told the king he wished what the dream foreshadowed would happen to the king's enemies and not to Nebuchadnezzar. How could Daniel be so deeply grieved at the fate of Nebuchadnezzar—the king who was responsible for the destruction of Daniel's home and nation? Daniel had forgiven Nebuchadnezzar, and so God was able to use Daniel. Very often when we have been wronged by someone, we find it difficult to forget the past. We may even be glad when that person suffers. Forgiveness means putting the past behind us. Can you love someone who has hurt you? Can you serve someone who mistreated you? Ask God to help you forgive, forget, and love. God may use you in an extraordinary way in that person's life!

4:23ff Although much of the world thought that Nebuchadnezzar was a mighty (even divine) king, God demonstrated that Nebuchadnezzar was an ordinary man. The king would go insane and become like an animal for a set period of time ("seven times"). God humiliated Nebuchadnezzar to show that almighty God, not Nebuchadnezzar, was Lord of the nations. No matter how powerful a person may become, self-centered pride will push God from his or her life. Pride may be one of the most dangerous temptations you with iron and bronze, in the grass of the field, while its roots remain in the ground. Let him be drenched with the dew of heaven; let him live like the wild animals, until seven times pass by for him.'

4:24 [k]Job 40:12

24"This is the interpretation, O king, and this is the decree[k] the Most High has issued against my lord the king: 25You will be driven away from people and will live with the wild animals; you will eat grass like cattle and be drenched with the dew of heaven. Seven times will pass by for you until you acknowledge that the Most High[l] is sovereign over the kingdoms of men and gives them to anyone he wishes.[m] 26The command to leave the stump of the tree with its roots means that your kingdom will be restored to you when you acknowledge that Heaven rules. 27Therefore, O king, be pleased

4:25 [l]ver 17 [m]Jer 27:5; Da 5:21

Nebuchadnezzar was one world leader who decided he could get more cooperation from the people he conquered by letting them keep their gods. Their lands he took, their riches he robbed, their lives he controlled, but their idols he allowed them to worship, sometimes even worshiping them himself. Nebuchadnezzar's plan worked well, with one glaring exception. When he conquered the little nation of Judah, he met a God who demanded exclusive worship—not just his share among many gods. In a sense, Nebuchadnezzar had always been able to rule the gods. This new God was different; this God dared to claim that he had made Nebuchadnezzar all that he was. One of the great conquerors in history was himself conquered by his Creator.

The Bible allows us to note the ways in which God worked on Nebuchadnezzar. God allowed him victories, but he was accomplishing God's purposes. God allowed him to deport the best young Jewish leaders as his palace servants, while placing close to him a young man named Daniel, who would change the king's life. God allowed Nebuchadnezzar to attempt to kill three of his servants to teach the king that he did not really have power over life and death. God warned him of the dangers in his pride, and then allowed Nebuchadnezzar to live through seven years of insanity before restoring him to the throne. God showed the king who was really in control!

These lessons are clear to us today because of our place in history. When our attention shifts to our own lives, we find ourselves unable to see how God is working. But we do have the advantage of God's Word as our guide for today's challenges. We are commanded to obey God; we are also commanded to trust him. Trusting him covers those times when we are not sure about the outcome. God has entrusted us with this day; have we trusted him with our lives?

Strengths and accomplishments:
- Greatest of the Babylonian kings
- Known as a builder of cities
- Described in the Bible as one of the foreign rulers God used for his purposes

Weaknesses and mistakes:
- Thought of himself as a god and was persuaded to build an image of gold that all were to worship
- Became extremely proud, which led to a bout of insanity
- Tended to forget the demonstrations of God's power he had witnessed

Lessons from his life:
- History records the actions of God's willing servants and those who were his unwitting tools
- A leader's greatness is affected by the quality of his advisers
- Uncontrolled pride is self-destructive

Vital statistics:
- Where: Babylon
- Occupation: King
- Relatives: Father: Nabopolassar. Son: Evil-Merodach. Grandson: Belshazzar
- Contemporaries: Jeremiah, Ezekiel, Daniel, Jehoiakim, Jehoiachin

Key verse:
"Now I, Nebuchadnezzar, praise and exalt and glorify the King of heaven, because everything he does is right and all his ways are just. And those who walk in pride he is able to humble" (4:37).

Nebuchadnezzar's story is told in 2 Kings 24; 25; 2 Chronicles 36; Jeremiah 21—52; Daniel 1—4.

will face. Don't let your accomplishments cause you to forget God.

4:27–33 Daniel pleaded with Nebuchadnezzar to change his ways, and God gave Nebuchadnezzar 12 months to do it. Unfortunately, there was no repentance in the heart of this proud king, and so the dream was fulfilled.

to accept my advice: Renounce your sins by doing what is right, and your wickedness by being kind to the oppressed.[n] It may be that then your prosperity will continue.[o]"

4:27
[n] Isa 55:6-7
[o] 1Ki 21:29; Ps 41:3; Eze 18:22

The Dream Is Fulfilled

28 All this happened to King Nebuchadnezzar. 29 Twelve months later, as the king was walking on the roof of the royal palace of Babylon, 30 he said, "Is not this the great Babylon I have built as the royal residence, by my mighty power and for the glory of my majesty?"[p]

4:30
[p] Da 5:20

31 The words were still on his lips when a voice came from heaven, "This is what is decreed for you, King Nebuchadnezzar: Your royal authority has been taken from you. 32 You will be driven away from people and will live with the wild animals; you will eat grass like cattle. Seven times will pass by for you until you acknowledge that the Most High is sovereign over the kingdoms of men and gives them to anyone he wishes."

33 Immediately what had been said about Nebuchadnezzar was fulfilled. He was driven away from people and ate grass like cattle. His body was drenched with the dew of heaven until his hair grew like the feathers of an eagle and his nails like the claws of a bird.[q]

4:33
[q] Da 5:20-21

34 At the end of that time, I, Nebuchadnezzar, raised my eyes toward heaven, and my sanity was restored. Then I praised the Most High; I honored and glorified him who lives forever.[r]

4:34
[r] Da 12:7
[s] Lk 1:33

His dominion is an eternal dominion;
his kingdom endures from generation to generation.[s] 35 All the peoples of the earth are regarded as nothing.[t] He does as he pleases[u]
with the powers of heaven and the peoples of the earth.
No one can hold back his hand or say to him: "What have you done?"[v]

4:35
[t] Isa 40:17
[u] Ps 115:3; 135:6
[v] Isa 45:9; Ro 9:20

36 At the same time that my sanity was restored, my honor and splendor were returned to me for the glory of my kingdom. My advisers and nobles sought me out, and I was restored to my throne and became even greater than before. 37 Now I, Nebuchadnezzar, praise and exalt and glorify the King of heaven, because everything he does is right and all his ways are just.[w] And those who walk in pride he is able to humble.

4:37
[w] Ps 33:4-5

The Writing on the Wall

5 King Belshazzar gave a great banquet for a thousand of his nobles and drank wine with them. 2 While Belshazzar was drinking his wine, he gave orders to bring in the gold and silver goblets[x] that Nebuchadnezzar his father[l] had taken

5:2
[x] Jer 52:19

[l] 2 Or ancestor; or predecessor; also in verses 11, 13 and 18

4:34 Ancient kings tried to avoid mentioning their weaknesses or defeats in their monuments and official records. From Nebuchadnezzar's records, however, we can infer that for a time during his 43-year reign he did not rule. The Bible, however, explains Nebuchadnezzar's pride and punishment.

4:36 Nebuchadnezzar's pilgrimage with God is one of the themes of this book. In 2:47, he acknowledged that God revealed mysteries to Daniel. In 3:28, 29 he praised the God who rescued the three Hebrews. Despite Nebuchadnezzar's recognition that God exists and works great miracles, in 4:30 we see that he still did not acknowledge God as his Lord. We may recognize that God exists and does wonderful miracles, but God is not going to change us until we acknowledge him as Lord.

5:1 Sixty-six years have elapsed since chapter 1, which tells of Nebuchadnezzar's strike against Jerusalem in 605 B.C. Nebuchadnezzar died in 562 B.C. after a reign of 43 years. His son, Evil-Merodach, ruled from 562–560 B.C.; his brother-in-law Neriglissar reigned four years from 560–556 B.C. After a two-month reign by Labashi-Marduk in 556 B.C., the Babylonian empire continued from 556–539 B.C. under the command of Nabonidus. Belshazzar was the son of Nabonidus. He co-reigned with his father from 553–539 B.C. Nebuchadnezzar is called Belshazzar's "father." The term could also mean "ancestor."

5:1 Archaeologists have recently discovered Belshazzar's name on several documents. He ruled with his father, Nabonidus, staying home to administer the affairs of the kingdom while his father tried to reopen trade routes taken over by Cyrus and the Persians. Belshazzar was in charge of the city of Babylon when it was captured.

from the temple in Jerusalem, so that the king and his nobles, his wives and his 5:2 concubines might drink from them.[y] 3So they brought in the gold goblets that had [y] Da 1:2 been taken from the temple of God in Jerusalem, and the king and his nobles, his wives and his concubines drank from them. 4As they drank the wine, they praised 5:4 the gods of gold and silver, of bronze, iron, wood and stone.[z] [z] Rev 9:20 5Suddenly the fingers of a human hand appeared and wrote on the plaster of the wall, near the lampstand in the royal palace. The king watched the hand as it wrote.
6His face turned pale and he was so frightened that his knees knocked together and his legs gave way.

7The king called out for the enchanters, astrologers[m] and diviners to be brought 5:7 and said to these wise[a] men of Babylon, "Whoever reads this writing and tells me [a] Da 4:6-7 what it means will be clothed in purple and have a gold chain placed around his neck, and he will be made the third highest ruler in the kingdom."

8Then all the king's wise men came in, but they could not read the writing or tell the king what it meant. 9So King Belshazzar became even more terrified and his face grew more pale. His nobles were baffled.

10The queen,[n] hearing the voices of the king and his nobles, came into the ban-
5:10 quet hall. "O king, live forever!"[b] she said. "Don't be alarmed! Don't look so [b] Da 3:9 pale! 11There is a man in your kingdom who has the spirit of the holy gods in him.
In the time of your father he was found to have insight and intelligence and wisdom like that of the gods. King Nebuchadnezzar your father—your father the king, I 5:11 say—appointed him chief of the magicians, enchanters, astrologers and diviners.[c]
[c] Da 2:47-48 5:12 12This man Daniel, whom the king called Belteshazzar,[d] was found to have a keen [d] Da 1:7 mind and knowledge and understanding, and also the ability to interpret dreams, [e] Da 6:3 explain riddles and solve difficult problems.[e] Call for Daniel, and he will tell you what the writing means."

13So Daniel was brought before the king, and the king said to him, "Are you
5:13 Daniel, one of the exiles my father the king brought from Judah?[f] 14I have heard [f] Da 6:13 that the spirit of the gods is in you and that you have insight, intelligence and outstanding wisdom. 15The wise men and enchanters were brought before me to read this writing and tell me what it means, but they could not explain it. 16Now I have heard that you are able to give interpretations and to solve difficult problems. If you can read this writing and tell me what it means, you will be clothed in purple and have a gold chain placed around your neck, and you will be made the third highest ruler in the kingdom."

17Then Daniel answered the king, "You may keep your gifts for yourself and give your rewards to someone else. Nevertheless, I will read the writing for the king and tell him what it means.

18"O king, the Most High God gave your father Nebuchadnezzar sovereignty
5:18 and greatness and glory and splendor.[g] 19Because of the high position he gave [g] Jer 27:7; Da 2:37-38 him, all the peoples and nations and men of every language dreaded and feared 5:19 him. Those the king wanted to put to death, he put to death;[h] those he wanted to [h] Da 2:12-13 spare, he spared; those he wanted to promote, he promoted; and those he wanted to humble, he humbled. 20But when his heart became arrogant and hardened with

[m] 7 Or Chaldeans; also in verse 11 [n] 10 Or queen mother

5:7 Belshazzar served as co-regent with his father Nabonidus. Thus, Nabonidus was the first ruler and his son Belshazzar, the second. The person who could read the writing would be given third place, which was the highest position and honor that Belshazzar could offer.

5:8 Although the writing on the wall contained only three words in Aramaic, a language understood by Babylonians (see 2:4), the people could not determine its prophetic significance. God gave Daniel alone the ability to interpret the message of doom to Babylon. The wise men of the kingdom were ignorant of God's wisdom, no matter how great the reward. Daniel did not rush into the banquet hall with the others. His loyalty was to God, not money.

5:10 This queen was either Nabonidus's wife or the wife of one of his predecessors, possibly even of Nebuchadnezzar. She was not Belshazzar's wife, because his wives were with him in the banquet hall.

5:17 The king offered Daniel beautiful gifts and great power if he would explain the writing, but Daniel turned him down. Daniel was not motivated by material rewards. His entire life had been characterized by doing right. Daniel was not showing disrespect in refusing the gifts, but he was growing older himself and knew the gifts would do him little good. Daniel wanted to show that he was giving an unbiased interpretation to the king. Doing right should be our first priority, not gaining power or rewards. Do you love God enough to do what is right, even if it means giving up personal rewards?

pride,[l] he was deposed from his royal throne and stripped of his glory. 21He was driven away from people and given the mind of an animal; he lived with the wild donkeys and ate grass like cattle; and his body was drenched with the dew of heaven, until he acknowledged that the Most High God is sovereign over the kingdoms of men and sets over them anyone he wishes.[j]

22"But you his son,[o] O Belshazzar, have not humbled yourself, though you knew all this. 23Instead, you have set yourself up against the Lord of heaven. You had the goblets from his temple brought to you, and you and your nobles, your wives and your concubines drank wine from them. You praised the gods of silver and gold, of bronze, iron, wood and stone, which cannot see or hear or understand.[k] But you did not honor the God who holds in his hand your life and all your ways.[l] 24Therefore he sent the hand that wrote the inscription.

25"This is the inscription that was written:

MENE, MENE, TEKEL, PARSIN[p]

26"This is what these words mean:

Mene[q]: God has numbered the days of your reign and brought it to an end.[m]

27*Tekel*[r]: You have been weighed on the scales and found wanting.[n]

28*Peres*[s]: Your kingdom is divided and given to the Medes and Persians."[o]

29Then at Belshazzar's command, Daniel was clothed in purple, a gold chain was placed around his neck, and he was proclaimed the third highest ruler in the kingdom.

30That very night Belshazzar, king of the Babylonians,[t] was slain,[p] 31and Darius[q] the Mede took over the kingdom, at the age of sixty-two.

5:20
[l] Da 4:30

5:21
[j] Da 4:16-17, 35

5:23
[k] Ps 115:4-8; Hab 2:19
[l] Jer 10:23

5:26
[m] Isa 13:6

5:27
[n] Ps 62:9

5:28
[o] Da 6:28

5:30
[p] Jer 51:31

5:31
[q] Da 6:1; 9:1

Daniel in the Den of Lions

6 It pleased Darius to appoint 120 satraps to rule throughout the kingdom, 2with three administrators over them, one of whom was Daniel.[r] The satraps were made accountable to them so that the king might not suffer loss. 3Now Daniel so

6:2
[r] Da 2:48-49

[o] 22 Or descendant; or successor [p] 25 Aramaic UPARSIN (that is, AND PARSIN) [q] 26 Mene can mean numbered or mina (a unit of money). [r] 27 Tekel can mean weighed or shekel. [s] 28 Peres (the singular of Parsin) can mean divided or Persia or a half mina or a half shekel. [t] 30 Or Chaldeans

5:21–23 Belshazzar knew Babylonian history, and so he knew how God had humbled Nebuchadnezzar. Nevertheless, Belshazzar's banquet was a rebellious challenge to God's authority as he took the sacred goblets from God's temple and drank from them. No one who understands that God is the Creator of the universe should be foolish enough to challenge him.

5:22 Often kings would kill the bearer of bad news. But Daniel was not afraid to tell the truth to the king even though it was not what he wanted to hear. We should be just as courageous in telling the truth under pressure.

5:24 Belshazzar used the goblets from the temple for his party, and God condemned him for this act. We must not use for sinful purposes what has been dedicated to God. Today this would include church buildings, financial donations, and anything else that has been set apart for serving God. Be careful how you use what is God's.

5:27 The writing on the wall was a message for all those who defy God. Although Belshazzar had power and wealth, his kingdom was totally corrupt, and he could not withstand the judgment of God. God's time of judgment comes for all people. If you have forgotten God and slipped into a sinful way of life, turn away from your sin now before he removes any opportunities to repent. Ask God to forgive you, and begin to live by his standards of justice.

5:28 The Medes and Persians joined forces to overthrow Babylon. This event was predicted in the second phase of Nebuchadnezzar's dream in chapter 2—the silver chest and arms.

5:31 Darius and his soldiers entered Babylon by diverting the river that ran through the city, then walking in on the dry riverbed.

5:31 This Darius is not to be confused with Darius I, mentioned in Ezra, Haggai, and Zechariah, or Darius II (the Persian), mentioned in Nehemiah. Darius the Mede is named only in the book of Daniel. Other records name no king between Belshazzar and Cyrus. Thus, Darius may have been (1) appointed by Cyrus to rule over Babylon as a province of Persia, (2) another name for Cyrus himself or for his son, Cambyses, or (3) a descendant of Xerxes I.

6:1–3 At this time, Daniel was over 80 years old and one of Darius's top three administrators. Daniel was working with those who did not believe in his God, but he worked more efficiently and capably than all the rest. Thus, he attracted the attention of the pagan king and earned a place of respect. One of the best ways to influence non-Christian employers is to work diligently and responsibly. How well do you represent God to your employer?

6:3, 4 Daniel made enemies at work by doing a good job. Perhaps you have had a similar experience. When you begin to excel, you will find that coworkers may look for ways to hold you back and tear you down. How should you deal with those who would cheer at your downfall and even try to hasten it? Conduct your whole life above reproach. Then you will have nothing to hide, and your enemies will have a difficult time finding legitimate charges against you. Of course, this will not always save you from attacks, and, like Daniel, you will have to rely on God for protection.

distinguished himself among the administrators and the satraps by his exceptional 6:3 qualities that the king planned to set him over the whole kingdom.[s] 4At this, the s Est 10:3; Da 5:12-14 administrators and the satraps tried to find grounds for charges against Daniel in his conduct of government affairs, but they were unable to do so. They could find no corruption in him, because he was trustworthy and neither corrupt nor negligent. 5Finally these men said, "We will never find any basis for charges against this man Daniel unless it has something to do with the law of his God."

6So the administrators and the satraps went as a group to the king and said: "O
6:6 t Ne 2:3 King Darius, live forever![t] 7The royal administrators, prefects, satraps, advisers
6:7 u Da 3:2 and governors[u] have all agreed that the king should issue an edict and enforce the v Ps 59:3; Da 3:6 decree that anyone who prays to any god or man during the next thirty days, except to you, O king, shall be thrown into the lions' den.[v] 8Now, O king, issue the 6:8 w Est 1:19 decree and put it in writing so that it cannot be altered — in accordance with the laws of the Medes and Persians, which cannot be repealed."[w] 9So King Darius put the decree in writing.

10Now when Daniel learned that the decree had been published, he went home to his upstairs room where the windows opened toward Jerusalem. Three times a day
6:10 x Ps 95:6 he got down on his knees[x] and prayed, giving thanks to his God, just as he had done before. 11Then these men went as a group and found Daniel praying and asking God for help. 12So they went to the king and spoke to him about his royal decree: "Did you not publish a decree that during the next thirty days anyone who prays to any god or man except to you, O king, would be thrown into the lions' den?"

The king answered, "The decree stands — in accordance with the laws of the 6:12 y Da 3:8-12 Medes and Persians, which cannot be repealed."[y]

13Then they said to the king, "Daniel, who is one of the exiles from Judah, pays 6:13 z Est 3:8 no attention[z] to you, O king, or to the decree you put in writing. He still prays three times a day." 14When the king heard this, he was greatly distressed;[a] he was 6:14 a Mk 6:26 determined to rescue Daniel and made every effort until sundown to save him.

15Then the men went as a group to the king and said to him, "Remember, O king,

KINGS DANIEL SERVED

Name	Empire	Story told in	Memorable event
Nebuchadnezzar	Babylonia	chapters 1—4	Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego thrown into fiery furnace; Nebuchadnezzar went mad for 7 years
Belshazzar	Babylonia	chapters 5, 7, 8	Daniel read the writing on the wall, which signaled the end of the Babylonian empire
Darius	Medo-Persia	chapters 6, 9	Daniel thrown into a lions' den
Cyrus	Medo-Persia	chapters 10—12	The exiles return to their homeland in Judah and their capital city, Jerusalem

6:4, 5 The jealous officials couldn't find anything about Daniel's life to criticize, so they attacked his religion. If you face jealous critics because of your faith, be glad they're criticizing that part of your life — perhaps they had to focus on your religion as a last resort! Respond by continuing to believe and live as you should. Then remember that God is in control, fighting this battle for you.

6:8, 9 In Babylon, the king's word was the law. In the Medo-Persian empire, however, when a law was made, even the king couldn't change it. Darius was an effective government administrator, but he had a fatal flaw — pride. By appealing to his vanity, the men talked Darius into signing a law effectively making himself a god for 30 days. This law could not be broken — not even by an important official like Daniel. Another example of the irrevocable nature of the laws of the Medes and Persians appears in Esther 8:8.

6:10 Daniel stood alone. Although he knew about the law against praying to anyone except the king, he continued to pray three times a day as he always had. Daniel had a disciplined prayer life. Our prayers are usually interrupted not by threats, but simply by the pressure of our schedules. Don't let threats or pressures cut into your prayer time. Pray regularly, no matter what, for prayer is your lifeline to God.

6:10 Daniel made no attempt to hide his daily prayer routine from his enemies in government, even though he knew he would be disobeying the new law. Hiding his daily prayers would have been futile because surely the conspirators would have caught him at something else during the month. Also, hiding would have demonstrated that he was afraid of the other government officials. Daniel continued to pray because he could not look to the king for the guidance and strength that he needed during this difficult time. Only God could provide what he really needed.

that according to the law of the Medes and Persians no decree or edict that the king issues can be changed."

16So the king gave the order, and they brought Daniel and threw him into the lions' den. The king said to Daniel, "May your God, whom you serve continually, rescue you!"

17A stone was brought and placed over the mouth of the den, and the king sealed[b] it with his own signet ring and with the rings of his nobles, so that Daniel's situation might not be changed. 18Then the king returned to his palace and spent the night without eating[c] and without any entertainment being brought to him. And he could not sleep.[d]

19At the first light of dawn, the king got up and hurried to the lions' den. 20When he came near the den, he called to Daniel in an anguished voice, "Daniel, servant of the living God, has your God, whom you serve continually, been able to rescue you from the lions?"[e]

21Daniel answered, "O king, live forever! 22My God sent his angel,[f] and he shut the mouths of the lions.[g] They have not hurt me, because I was found innocent in his sight.[h] Nor have I ever done any wrong before you, O king."

23The king was overjoyed and gave orders to lift Daniel out of the den. And when Daniel was lifted from the den, no wound[i] was found on him, because he had trusted in his God.

24At the king's command, the men who had falsely accused Daniel were brought in and thrown into the lions' den, along with their wives and children.[j] And before they reached the floor of the den, the lions overpowered them and crushed all their bones.

25Then King Darius wrote to all the peoples, nations and men of every language throughout the land:

"May you prosper greatly![k]

26"I issue a decree that in every part of my kingdom people must fear and reverence the God of Daniel.[l]

"For he is the living God and he endures forever;
his kingdom will not be destroyed, his dominion will never end.[m] 27He rescues and he saves;
he performs signs and wonders[n]
in the heavens and on the earth.
He has rescued Daniel from the power of the lions."

28So Daniel prospered during the reign of Darius and the reign of Cyrus[u o] the Persian.

u 28 Or Darius, that is, the reign of Cyrus

6:17 [b] Mt 27:66

6:18 [c] 2Sa 12:17 [d] Est 6:1

6:20 [e] Da 3:17

6:22 [f] Da 3:28 [g] Heb 11:33 [h] 2Ti 4:17

6:23 [i] Da 3:27

6:24 [j] Dt 24:16; 2Ki 14:6

6:25 [k] Da 4:1

6:26 [l] Da 3:29 [m] Da 2:44

6:27 [n] Da 4:3

6:28 [o] Da 1:21

6:16 Lions roamed the countryside and forests in Mesopotamia, and the people feared them and greatly respected their power. Some kings hunted lions for sport. The Persians captured lions, keeping them in large parks where they were fed and attended. Lions were also used for executing people. But God has ways of delivering his people (6:22) that none of us can imagine. It is always premature to give up and give in to the pressure of unbelievers, because God has power they know nothing about. God can even shut the lions' mouths.

6:16 Even unbelievers witnessed to Daniel's consistency. By his continual service, Daniel had demonstrated his faithful devotion to God. What can unbelievers determine about your life?

6:21–23 The man or woman who trusts in God and obeys his will is untouchable until God takes him or her. To trust God is to have immeasurable peace. God, who delivered Daniel, will deliver you. Do you trust him with your life?

6:24 In accordance with Persian custom, this cruel punishment was transferred to those who had conspired against the king by provoking him into an unjust action (see also Esther 7:9, 10). The king's great anger resulted in the execution of the evil officials and their families. Evil deeds often backfire on those who plan cruelty.

6:25–27 Nebuchadnezzar had come to believe that Israel's God was real because of the faithfulness of Daniel and his friends. Here Darius was also convinced of God's power because Daniel was faithful and God rescued him. Although Daniel was captive in a strange land, his devotion to God was a testimony to powerful rulers. If you find yourself in new surroundings, take the opportunity to testify about God's power in your life. Be faithful to God so he can use you to make an impact on others.

B. DANIEL'S VISIONS (7:1 — 12:13)

Daniel had many dreams and visions he did not understand. He dreamed of four beasts, which represented four kingdoms of the world, and of a ram and goat, which depicted two of those kingdoms in greater detail. Daniel's visions reveal that the Messiah will be the ruler of a spiritual kingdom that will overpower and overshadow all other earthly kingdoms. These visions help us see that we should interpret all of history in light of God's eternal kingdom.

Daniel's Dream of Four Beasts

7 In the first year of Belshazzar king of Babylon, Daniel had a dream, and visions passed through his mind[p] as he was lying on his bed. He wrote down the substance of his dream.

7:1 [p] Da 1:17

2 Daniel said: "In my vision at night I looked, and there before me were the four winds of heaven churning up the great sea. 3 Four great beasts,[q] each different from the others, came up out of the sea.

7:3 [q] Rev 13:1

4 "The first was like a lion, and it had the wings of an eagle. I watched until its wings were torn off and it was lifted from the ground so that it stood on two feet like a man, and the heart of a man was given to it.

5 "And there before me was a second beast, which looked like a bear. It was raised up on one of its sides, and it had three ribs in its mouth between its teeth. It was told, 'Get up and eat your fill of flesh!'[r]

7:5 [r] Da 2:39

6 "After that, I looked, and there before me was another beast, one that looked like a leopard. And on its back it had four wings like those of a bird. This beast had four heads, and it was given authority to rule.

7 "After that, in my vision at night I looked, and there before me was a fourth beast — terrifying and frightening and very powerful. It had large iron[s] teeth; it crushed and devoured its victims and trampled underfoot whatever was left. It was different from all the former beasts, and it had ten horns.[t]

7:7 [s] Da 2:40 [t] Rev 12:3

8 "While I was thinking about the horns, there before me was another horn, a little[u] one, which came up among them; and three of the first horns were uprooted before it. This horn had eyes like the eyes of a man and a mouth that spoke boastfully.[v]

7:8 [u] Da 8:9 [v] Rev 13:5-6

9 "As I looked,

"thrones were set in place,
and the Ancient of Days took his seat.
His clothing was as white as snow;
the hair of his head was white like wool.[w]
His throne was flaming with fire, and its wheels[x] were all ablaze.

7:9 [w] Rev 1:14 [x] Eze 1:15

10 A river of fire[y] was flowing,

7:10 [y] Ps 50:3

7:1 Chronologically, this chapter takes place before chapter five. At this time, Belshazzar had just been given a position of authority (553 B.C.), and Daniel was probably in his late sixties. The first six chapters of Daniel present history; the last six chapters are visions relating mainly to the future.

7:1ff Daniel had a vision of four great beasts, each representing a world empire. This was similar to Nebuchadnezzar's dream in chapter two. Nebuchadnezzar's dream covered the political aspects of the empires; Daniel's dream depicted their moral characteristics. These nations, which would reign over Israel, were evil and cruel; but Daniel also saw God's everlasting, indestructible kingdom arrive and conquer them all.

7:4–8 The lion with an eagle's wings represents Babylon with her swift conquests (statues of winged lions have been recovered from Babylon's ruins). The bear that ravaged the lion is Medo-Persia. The three ribs in its mouth represent the conquests of three major enemies. The leopard is Greece. Its wings show the swiftness of Alexander the Great's campaign as he conquered much of the civilized world in four years (334–330 B.C.). The leopard's four heads are the four divisions of the Greek empire after Alexander's death.

The fourth beast points to both Rome and the end times. Many Bible scholars believe that the horns correspond to ten kings who will reign shortly before God sets up his everlasting kingdom. These ten kings had still not come to power at the time of John's vision recorded in the book of Revelation (Revelation 17:12). The little horn is a future human ruler or the antichrist (see also 2 Thessalonians 2:3, 4). God is illustrating the final end of all worldly kingdoms in contrast to his eternal kingdom.

7:9 Here the prophecy shifts to the end times. This judgment scene is similar to one that was seen by the apostle John (Revelation 1:14, 15). The Ancient of Days is almighty God, who assigns power to kingdoms and who will himself judge those kingdoms in the end.

7:10 Daniel saw God judging millions of people as they stood before him. We all must stand before almighty God and give an account of our lives. If your life were judged by God today, what would he say about it? How would he measure it against his will for us? We should live each day with the full awareness that we must appear before God to give account for how we used our lives. How will your life measure up?

coming out from before him.[z]
Thousands upon thousands attended him;
ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him.
The court was seated,
and the books[a] were opened.

7:10
[z] Rev 5:11
[a] Rev 20:11-15

11"Then I continued to watch because of the boastful words the horn was speaking. I kept looking until the beast was slain and its body destroyed and thrown into the blazing fire.[b] 12(The other beasts had been stripped of their authority, but were allowed to live for a period of time.)

7:11
[b] Rev 19:20

13"In my vision at night I looked, and there before me was one like a son of man,[c] coming with the clouds of heaven.[d] He approached the Ancient of Days and was led into his presence. 14He was given authority, glory and sovereign power; all peoples, nations and men of every language worshiped him.[e] His dominion is an everlasting dominion that will not pass away, and his kingdom is one that will never be destroyed.[f]

7:13
[c] Mt 8:20*; Rev 1:13*
[d] Rev 1:7

7:14
[e] Ps 72:11
[f] Heb 12:28

The Interpretation of the Dream

15"I, Daniel, was troubled in spirit, and the visions that passed through my mind disturbed me. 16I approached one of those standing there and asked him the true meaning of all this.

"So he told me and gave me the interpretation of these things: 17'The four great beasts are four kingdoms that will rise from the earth. 18But the saints of the Most High will receive the kingdom and will possess it forever—yes, for ever and ever.'[g]

7:18
[g] Isa 60:12-14; Rev 2:26

19"Then I wanted to know the true meaning of the fourth beast, which was different from all the others and most terrifying, with its iron teeth and bronze claws—the beast that crushed and devoured its victims and trampled underfoot whatever was left. 20I also wanted to know about the ten horns on its head and about the other horn that came up, before which three of them fell—the horn that looked more imposing than the others and that had eyes and a mouth that spoke boastfully. 21As I watched, this horn was waging war against the saints and defeating them,[h] 22until the Ancient of Days came and pronounced judgment in favor of the saints of the Most High, and the time came when they possessed the kingdom.

7:21
[h] Rev 13:7

23"He gave me this explanation: 'The fourth beast is a fourth kingdom that will appear on earth. It will be different from all the other kingdoms and will devour the whole earth, trampling it down and crushing it. 24The ten horns[i] are ten kings who will come from this kingdom. After them another king will arise, different from the earlier ones; he will subdue three kings. 25He will speak against the Most High and oppress his saints and try to change the set times[j] and the laws. The saints will be handed over to him for a time, times and half a time.[v]

7:24
[i] Rev 17:12

7:25
[j] Da 2:21

26" 'But the court will sit, and his power will be taken away and completely

[v] 25 Or for a year, two years and half a year

7:11, 12 The slaying of the beast represents the fall of Rome. While this beast was destroyed, the other beasts were allowed to live for a period of time. The kingdoms (or their cultures) continued to be recognizable in some form; history did not end when God intervened with his judgment.

7:13, 14 This "one like a son of man" is the Messiah. Jesus used this verse to refer to himself (Matthew 26:64; Luke 21:27; John 1:51). The clouds of heaven portray the Son of Man as divine; throughout the Bible clouds represent his majesty and awesome presence. God's glory appeared in a cloud in Exodus 16:10 and 19:9 at the giving of the law at Sinai.

7:18 The "saints of the Most High" are the true Israel, the people ruled by the Messiah. Jesus Christ gave the kingdom to the new Israel, his church, made up of all faithful believers. His coming ushered in the kingdom of God, and all believers are its citizens (see also 7:22, 27). Although God may allow persecution to continue for a while, the destiny of his followers is to possess the kingdom and be with him forever.

7:24 The ten horns, or ten kings, are also mentioned in Revelation 17:12. There were also ten toes in Nebuchadnezzar's vision (2:41, 42). While all do not agree concerning the identity of these ten kings, we are reminded in Revelation 17:12–14 that these kings will make war against Christ, but, as the King of kings, he will conquer them. The other king mentioned here in verse 24 is the future ant christ of 2 Thessalonians 2:3, 4.

7:25 While the exact meaning of this "time, times and half a time" is debated, we do know that God told Daniel that persecution would continue only a relatively short time. God has promised to give his kingdom to his saints.

destroyed forever. 27Then the sovereignty, power and greatness of the kingdoms under the whole heaven will be handed over to the saints, the people of the Most High. His kingdom will be an everlasting[k] kingdom, and all rulers will worship and obey him.'

28"This is the end of the matter. I, Daniel, was deeply troubled by my thoughts, and my face turned pale, but I kept the matter to myself."

7:27 [k]Lk 1:33; Rev 11:15

Daniel's Vision of a Ram and a Goat

8 In the third year of King Belshazzar's reign, I, Daniel, had a vision, after the one that had already appeared to me. 2In my vision I saw myself in the citadel of Susa in the province of Elam; in the vision I was beside the Ulai Canal. 3I looked up,[l] and there before me was a ram with two horns, standing beside the canal, and the horns were long. One of the horns was longer than the other but grew up later. 4I watched the ram as he charged toward the west and the north and the south. No animal could stand against him, and none could rescue from his power. He did as he pleased and became great.

8:3 [l]Da 10:5

5As I was thinking about this, suddenly a goat with a prominent horn between his eyes came from the west, crossing the whole earth without touching the ground. 6He came toward the two-horned ram I had seen standing beside the canal and charged at him in great rage. 7I saw him attack the ram furiously, striking the ram and shattering his two horns. The ram was powerless to stand against him; the goat knocked him to the ground and trampled on him, and none could rescue the ram from his power. 8The goat became very great, but at the height of his power his large horn was broken off,[m] and in its place four prominent horns grew up toward the four winds of heaven.[n]

8:8 [m]2Ch 26:16-21 [n]Da 7:2

9Out of one of them came another horn, which started small but grew in power to the south and to the east and toward the Beautiful Land.[o] 10It grew until it reached the host of the heavens, and it threw some of the starry host down to the earth[p] and trampled on them. 11It set itself up to be as great as the Prince of the host;[q] it took away the daily sacrifice from him, and the place of his sanctuary was brought low.[r] 12Because of rebellion, the host ⌞of the saints⌟[w] and the daily sacrifice were given over to it. It prospered in everything it did, and truth was thrown to the ground.

8:9 [o]Da 11:16

8:10 [p]Rev 12:4

8:11 [q]Da 11:36-37 [r]Da 11:31; 12:11

13Then I heard a holy one[s] speaking, and another holy one said to him, "How long will it take for the vision to be fulfilled[t]—the vision concerning the daily sacrifice, the rebellion that causes desolation, and the surrender of the sanctuary and of the host that will be trampled underfoot?"

8:13 [s]Da 4:23 [t]Da 12:6

[w] 12 Or rebellion, the armies

8:1 As with chapter 7, this chapter precedes chapter 5 chronologically; the dream probably occurred in 551 B.C. when Daniel was about 70 years old. Chapters 7 and 8 correspond to the first and third years of Belshazzar and belong chronologically between chapters 4 and 5. Chapter 9 took place at approximately the same time as chapter 6. It gives us more details about the Medo-Persian and Greek empires, the two world powers that ruled after Babylonia.

8:2 Susa was one of the capitals of the Babylonian empire. Located in what is now Iran, Susa was a well-developed city. It was the winter capital of the Persian empire and a mighty fortress (citadel). In his vision, Daniel saw himself in this important location. The earliest known code of law, the Code of Hammurapi, was found there. Susa rivaled Babylon itself in cultural sophistication.

8:3 The two horns were the kings of Media and Persia (8:20). The longer horn represented the growing dominance of Persia in the Medo-Persian empire.

8:5–7 The goat represented Greece, and its large horn, Alexander the Great (8:21). This is an amazing prediction because Greece was not yet considered a world power when this prophecy was given. Alexander the Great conquered the world with great speed and military strategy, indicated by the goat's rapid movement. Shattering both horns symbolized Alexander breaking both parts of the Medo-Persian empire.

8:8 Alexander the Great died in his thirties at the height of his power. His kingdom was split into four parts under four generals: Ptolemy I of Egypt and Palestine; Seleucus of Babylonia and Syria; Lysimachus of Asia Minor; and Antipater of Macedon and Greece.

8:9 Israel ("the Beautiful Land") was attacked by Antiochus IV Epiphanes (the small horn) in the second century B.C. He was the eighth ruler of the Seleucid empire (Babylonia and Syria). He overthrew the high priest, looted the temple, and replaced worship of God with a Greek form of worship. A further fulfillment of this prophecy of a powerful horn will occur in the future with the coming of the antichrist (see 8:17, 19, 23; 11:36; 2 Thessalonians 2:4).

8:11 The "Prince of the host" here refers to a heavenly authority, perhaps an angel or even God himself. (See also Joshua 5:13–15.)

14He said to me, "It will take 2,300 evenings and mornings; then the sanctuary will be reconsecrated."

The Interpretation of the Vision

15While I, Daniel, was watching the vision and trying to understand it, there before me stood one who looked like a man. 16And I heard a man's voice from the Ulai calling, "Gabriel,[u] tell this man the meaning of the vision."

17As he came near the place where I was standing, I was terrified and fell prostrate.[v] "Son of man," he said to me, "understand that the vision concerns the time of the end."

18While he was speaking to me, I was in a deep sleep, with my face to the ground.[w] Then he touched me and raised me to my feet.[x]

19He said: "I am going to tell you what will happen later in the time of wrath, because the vision concerns the appointed time of the end.[xy] 20The two-horned ram that you saw represents the kings of Media and Persia. 21The shaggy goat is the king of Greece, and the large horn between his eyes is the first king. 22The four horns that replaced the one that was broken off represent four kingdoms that will emerge from his nation but will not have the same power.

23"In the latter part of their reign, when rebels have become completely wicked, a stern-faced king, a master of intrigue, will arise. 24He will become very strong, but not by his own power. He will cause astounding devastation and will succeed in whatever he does. He will destroy the mighty men and the holy people.[z] 25He will cause deceit to prosper, and he will consider himself superior. When they feel secure, he will destroy many and take his stand against the Prince of princes. Yet he will be destroyed, but not by human power.[a]

26"The vision of the evenings and mornings that has been given you is true,[b] but seal up the vision, for it concerns the distant future."[c]

27I, Daniel, was exhausted and lay ill for several days. Then I got up and went about the king's business. I was appalled by the vision; it was beyond understanding.

Daniel's Prayer

9 In the first year of Darius son of Xerxes[y] (a Mede by descent), who was made ruler over the Babylonian[z] kingdom — 2in the first year of his reign, I, Daniel, understood from the Scriptures, according to the word of the LORD given to Jeremiah the prophet, that the desolation of Jerusalem would last seventy[d] years. 3So

8:16 [u] Lk 1:19

8:17 [v] Eze 1:28; Rev 1:17

8:18 [w] Da 10:9 [x] Eze 2:2

8:19 [y] Hab 2:3

8:24 [z] Da 11:36

8:25 [a] Da 2:34

8:26 [b] Da 10:1 [c] Da 10:14

9:2 [d] 2Ch 36:21

x 19 Or because the end will be at the appointed time y 1 Hebrew Ahasuerus z 1 Or Chaldean

8:14 The phrase "evenings and mornings" means evening and morning sacrifices, and refers to the time from the desecration of the altar in the temple by Antiochus IV Epiphanes to the restoration of temple worship under Judas Maccabeus in 165 B.C.

8:16 Gabriel is an angel, the heavenly messenger God used to explain Daniel's visions (9:21). He also announced the birth of John the Baptist (Luke 1:11) and the Messiah (Luke 1:26).

8:17 The "time of the end," in this case, refers to the whole period from the end of the exile until the second coming of Christ. Many of the events that would happen under Antiochus IV Epiphanes will be repeated on a broader scale just before Christ's second coming. During these times, God deals with Israel in a radically different way, with divine discipline coming through Gentile nations. This period is sometimes referred to as the "times of the Gentiles" (Luke 21:24).

8:23 This stern-faced king describes both Antiochus IV Epiphanes and the antichrist at the end of human history.

8:25 This Prince of princes is God himself. No human power could defeat the king whom Daniel saw in his vision, but God would bring him down. Antiochus IV Epiphanes reportedly went insane and died in Persia in 164 B.C. God's power and justice will prevail, so we should never give up our faith or lose hope, no matter how powerful God's enemies may seem.

9:1 The vision in chapter 9 was given to Daniel during the same time period of chapter 6. This Darius is the person mentioned in chapter 6. The Xerxes (or Ahasuerus) mentioned here is not Esther's husband. The events described in the book of Esther happened about 50 years later.

9:2, 3 Daniel pleaded with God to bring about the promised return of his people to their land. The prophet Jeremiah had written that God would not allow the captives to return to their land for 70 years (Jeremiah 25:11, 12; 29:10). Daniel knew of this prophecy and realized that this 70-year period was coming to an end.

9:3ff In Daniel's prayer for the nation he confessed his own sin, using the pronoun "we" throughout. In times of adversity, it's easy to blame others and excuse our own actions. If any Israelite was righteous, it was Daniel; and yet he confessed his sinfulness and need for God's forgiveness. Instead of looking for others to blame, first look inside and confess your own sins to God.

9:3-19 Daniel knew how to pray. As he prayed, he fasted, confessed his sins, and pleaded that God would reveal his will. He prayed with complete surrender to God and with complete openness to what God was saying to him. When you pray, do you speak openly to God? Examine your attitude. Talk to God with openness,

I turned to the Lord God and pleaded with him in prayer and petition, in fasting,
9:3 [e] Jer 29:12 and in sackcloth and ashes.[e]
4I prayed to the LORD my God and confessed:

9:4 [f] Dt 7:9 "O Lord, the great and awesome God, who keeps his covenant of love[f] with all who love him and obey his commands, 5we have sinned and done 9:5 [g] Ps 106:6 wrong.[g] We have been wicked and have rebelled; we have turned away from your commands and laws. 6We have not listened to your servants the proph-9:6 [h] 2Ch 36:16 ets,[h] who spoke in your name to our kings, our princes and our fathers, and to all the people of the land.

7"Lord, you are righteous, but this day we are covered with shame — the men of Judah and people of Jerusalem and all Israel, both near and far, in all the countries where you have scattered us because of our unfaithfulness to you. 8O LORD, we and our kings, our princes and our fathers are covered with shame because we have sinned against you. 9The Lord our God is merciful and 9:9 [i] Ne 9:17 forgiving, even though we have rebelled against him;[i] 10we have not obeyed
9:10 [j] 2Ki 17:13-15 the LORD our God or kept the laws he gave us through his servants the prophets.[j] 11All Israel has transgressed your law and turned away, refusing to obey you.

"Therefore the curses and sworn judgments written in the Law of Moses, the 9:11 [k] Isa 1:4-6 servant of God, have been poured out on us, because we have sinned[k] against 9:12 [l] Zec 1:6 you. 12You have fulfilled[l] the words spoken against us and against our rulers
[m] Eze 5:9 by bringing upon us great disaster. Under the whole heaven nothing has ever been done like what has been done to Jerusalem.[m] 13Just as it is written in the Law of Moses, all this disaster has come upon us, yet we have not sought the favor of the LORD our God by turning from our sins and giving attention to 9:13 [n] Isa 9:13; Jer 2:30 your truth.[n] 14The LORD did not hesitate to bring the disaster upon us, for the LORD our God is righteous in everything he does; yet we have not obeyed him.

15"Now, O Lord our God, who brought your people out of Egypt with a 9:15 [o] Jer 32:21 [p] Ne 9:10 mighty hand[o] and who made for yourself a name[p] that endures to this day, we have sinned, we have done wrong. 16O Lord, in keeping with all your 9:16 [q] Ps 31:1 righteous acts,[q] turn away your anger and your wrath from Jerusalem, your city, your holy hill. Our sins and the iniquities of our fathers have made Jerusalem and your people an object of scorn to all those around us.

17"Now, our God, hear the prayers and petitions of your servant. For your 9:17 [r] Nu 6:24-26 sake, O Lord, look with favor[r] on your desolate sanctuary. 18Give ear, O
9:18 [s] Isa 37:17 God, and hear; open your eyes and see the desolation of the city that bears your Name.[s] We do not make requests of you because we are righteous, but vulnerability, and honesty, and be ready for God's reply.

---

9:4–6 The captives from Judah had rebelled against God. Their sins had led to their captivity. But God is merciful even to rebels, if they confess their sins and return to him. Don't let your past disobedience keep you from returning to God. He is waiting for you and wants you to return to him.

9:6 God had sent many prophets to speak to his people through the years, but their messages had been ignored. The truth was too painful to hear. God still speaks clearly and accurately through the Bible, and he also speaks through preachers, teachers, and concerned friends. Sometimes the truth hurts, and we would rather hear words that soothe, even if they are false. If you are unwilling to accept God's message, maybe you are trying to avoid making a painful change. Don't settle for a soothing lie that will bring harsh judgment. Accepting the truth even if it is painful can only help you.

9:11–13 Daniel mentioned the curses outlined in Deuteronomy 28. God had given the people of Israel a choice: obey me and receive blessings, or disobey me and face curses. The affliction was meant to turn the people to God. When we face difficult circumstances, we should ask ourselves if God has reason to send judgment. If we think so, we must urgently seek his forgiveness. Then we can ask him to help us through our troubles.

9:14 Daniel spoke about how God continually tried to bring Israel back to himself. Yet even after disaster struck them, they refused to obey him. God still uses circumstances, other people, and, most important, his Word to bring his people back to him. What would it take for God to get your attention?

9:17–19 It would be a mistake to read the Bible as dry history and miss the deep personal feelings. In this section, Daniel was crying out to the Lord. He had a deep concern for his nation and his people. So often our prayers are without passion and true compassion for others. Are you willing to pray by pouring out your deep feelings to God?

9:18 Daniel begged for mercy, not for help, because he knew that his people deserved God's wrath and punishment. God sends his help, not because we deserve it, but because he wants to show great mercy. If God would refuse to help us because of our sin, how could we complain? But when he sends mercy when we deserve punishment, how can we withhold our praise and thanksgiving?

because of your great mercy. 19O Lord, listen! O Lord, forgive! O Lord, hear and act! For your sake, O my God, do not delay, because your city and your people bear your Name."

The Seventy "Sevens"

20While I was speaking and praying, confessing my sin and the sin of my people Israel and making my request to the LORD my God for his holy hill — 21while I was still in prayer, Gabriel,[t] the man I had seen in the earlier vision, came to me in swift flight about the time of the evening sacrifice. 22He instructed me and said to me, "Daniel, I have now come to give you insight and understanding. 23As soon as you began to pray, an answer was given, which I have come to tell you, for you are highly esteemed. Therefore, consider the message and understand the vision:[u]

24"Seventy 'sevens'[a] are decreed for your people and your holy city to finish[b] transgression, to put an end to sin, to atone for wickedness, to bring in everlasting righteousness, to seal up vision and prophecy and to anoint the most holy.[c]

25"Know and understand this: From the issuing of the decree[d] to restore and rebuild Jerusalem until the Anointed One,[e] the ruler, comes, there will be seven 'sevens,' and sixty-two 'sevens.' It will be rebuilt with streets and a trench, but in times of trouble. 26After the sixty-two 'sevens,' the Anointed One will be cut off[v] and will have nothing.[f] The people of the ruler who will come will destroy the city and the sanctuary. The end will come like a flood: War will continue until the end, and desolations have been decreed. 27He will confirm a covenant with many for one 'seven.'[g] In the middle of the 'seven'[g] he will put an end to sacrifice and offering. And on a wing ⌞of the temple⌟ he will set up an abomination that causes desolation, until the end that is decreed[w] is poured out on him."[h][i]

9:21 [t] Da 8:16

9:23 [u] Mt 24:15

9:26 [v] Isa 53:8

9:27 [w] Isa 10:22

Daniel's Vision of a Man

10 In the third year of Cyrus king of Persia, a revelation was given to Daniel (who was called Belteshazzar).[x] Its message was true[y] and it concerned a great war.[j] The understanding of the message came to him in a vision.

2At that time I, Daniel, mourned for three weeks. 3I ate no choice food; no meat

10:1 [x] Da 1:7 [y] Da 8:26

[a] 24 Or 'weeks'; also in verses 25 and 26 [b] 24 Or restrain [c] 24 Or Most Holy Place; or most holy One [d] 25 Or word [e] 25 Or an anointed one; also in verse 26 [f] 26 Or off and will have no one; or off, but not for himself [g] 27 Or 'week' [h] 27 Or it [i] 27 Or And one who causes desolation will come upon the pinnacle of the abominable ⌞temple⌟ until the end that is decreed is poured out on the desolated ⌞city⌟ [j] 1 Or true and burdensome

9:23 Just as God answered Daniel's prayer, so we can have confidence that God hears and answers our prayers.

9:24, 25 Each day of these 70 weeks ("seventy 'sevens' ") may represent one year. The Bible often uses round numbers to make a point, not to give an exact count. For example, Jesus said we are to forgive others "seventy-seven" times (Matthew 18:22). He did not mean a literal 77 times only, but that we should be abundantly forgiving. Similarly, some scholars see this figure of 70 weeks as a figurative time period. Others, however, interpret this time period as a literal 70 weeks or 490 years, observing that Christ's death came at the end of the 69 weeks (i.e., 483 years later). One interpretation places the 70th week as the seven years of the great tribulation, still in the future. Consequently the number would symbolize both the first and second comings of Christ.

9:25 A "trench" can mean a moat or a conduit for water. This shows that Jerusalem will be rebuilt as a complete, fully functioning city.

9:26 The Messiah, the Anointed One, will be rejected and killed by his own people. His perfect eternal kingdom will come later.

9:26, 27 There has been much discussion on the numbers, times, and events in these verses, and there are three basic views: (1) the prophecy was fulfilled in the past at the desecration of the temple by Antiochus IV Epiphanes in 168–167 B.C. (see 11:31); (2) it was fulfilled in the past at the destruction of the temple by the Roman general Titus in A.D. 70 when one million Jews were killed; or (3) it is still to be fulfilled in the future under the antichrist (see Matthew 24:15).

10:1ff This is Daniel's final vision (536 B.C.). In it, he was given further insight into the great spiritual battle between God's people and those who want to destroy them. There is also more detailed information on the future, specifically the struggles between the Ptolemies (kings of the South) and the Seleucids (kings of the North).

10:1ff Prior to this vision, Cyrus allowed the Jews to return to Jerusalem, but Daniel stayed in Babylonia. Why didn't Daniel return to Jerusalem? He may have been too old to make the long, hazardous journey (he was over 80); his government duties could have prevented him; or God may have told him to stay behind to complete the work he was called to do.

10:3 Daniel refrained from eating choice foods and using lotions because these were signs of feasting and rejoicing.

10:5, 6 The man seen by Daniel was a heavenly being. Some commentators believe that this was an appearance of Christ (see Revelation 1:13–15), while others think it was an angel (because or wine touched my lips; and I used no lotions at all until the three weeks were over.

4On the twenty-fourth day of the first month, as I was standing on the bank of the great river, the Tigris, 5I looked up and there before me was a man dressed in linen, with a belt of the finest gold[z] around his waist. 6His body was like chrysolite, his face like lightning, his eyes like flaming torches,[a] his arms and legs like the gleam of burnished bronze,[b] and his voice like the sound of a multitude.

7I, Daniel, was the only one who saw the vision; the men with me did not see it, but such terror overwhelmed them that they fled and hid themselves. 8So I was left alone,[c] gazing at this great vision; I had no strength left, my face turned deathly pale and I was helpless. 9Then I heard him speaking, and as I listened to him, I fell into a deep sleep, my face to the ground.

10A hand touched me[d] and set me trembling on my hands and knees. 11He said, "Daniel, you who are highly esteemed,[e] consider carefully the words I am about to speak to you, and stand up, for I have now been sent to you." And when he said this to me, I stood up trembling.

12Then he continued, "Do not be afraid, Daniel. Since the first day that you set your mind to gain understanding and to humble[f] yourself before your God, your words were heard, and I have come in response to them.[g] 13But the prince of the Persian kingdom resisted me twenty-one days. Then Michael,[h] one of the chief princes, came to help me, because I was detained there with the king of Persia. 14Now I have come to explain to you what will happen to your people in the future, for the vision concerns a time yet to come.[i]"

15While he was saying this to me, I bowed with my face toward the ground and was speechless.[j] 16Then one who looked like a man[k] touched my lips, and I opened my mouth and began to speak.[k] I said to the one standing before me, "I am overcome with anguish because of the vision, my lord, and I am helpless. 17How can I, your servant, talk with you, my lord? My strength is gone and I can hardly breathe."

18Again the one who looked like a man touched me and gave me strength. 19"Do not be afraid, O man highly esteemed," he said. "Peace![l] Be strong now; be strong."

When he spoke to me, I was strengthened and said, "Speak, my lord, since you have given me strength."

20So he said, "Do you know why I have come to you? Soon I will return to fight against the prince of Persia, and when I go, the prince of Greece[m] will come; 21but first I will tell you what is written in the Book of Truth. (No one supports me against them except Michael,[n] your prince. 1And in the first year of Darius[o] the Mede, I took my stand to support and protect him.)

10:5 [z] Jer 10:9

10:6 [a] Rev 19:12 [b] Rev 1:15

10:8 [c] Ge 32:24

10:10 [d] Jer 1:9

10:11 [e] Da 9:23

10:12 [f] Da 9:3 [g] Da 9:20

10:13 [h] ver 21; Da 12:1; Jude 1:9

10:14 [i] Da 2:28; 8:26

10:15 [j] Eze 24:27

10:16 [k] Jer 1:9; Da 8:15-18

10:19 [l] Jdg 6:23

10:20 [m] Da 8:21; 11:2

10:21 [n] ver 13

11:1 [o] Da 5:31

[k] 16 Most manuscripts of the Masoretic Text; one manuscript of the Masoretic Text, Dead Sea Scrolls and Septuagint Then something that looked like a man's hand

---

he required Michael's help – 10:13). In either case, Daniel caught a glimpse of the battle between good and evil supernatural powers.

10:6 Chrysolite is a translucent, semi-precious stone.

10:10–18 Daniel was frightened by this vision, but the messenger reassured him. Daniel lost his speech, but the messenger's touch restored it. Daniel felt weak and helpless, but the messenger's words strengthened him. God can bring us healing when we are hurt, peace when we are troubled, and strength when we are weak. Trust God to minister to you as he did to Daniel.

10:12, 13 Although God sent a messenger to Daniel, a powerful spiritual being ("prince of the Persian kingdom") detained the messenger for three weeks. Daniel faithfully continued praying and fasting, and God's messenger eventually arrived, assisted by Michael, the archangel. Answers to our prayers may be hindered by unseen obstacles. Don't expect God's answers to come too easily or too quickly. Prayer may be challenged by evil forces, so pray fervently and pray earnestly. Then expect God to answer at the right time.

10:20, 21 The heavenly warfare was to be directed against Persia, and then Greece. Each of these nations was to have power over God's people. Both Persia and Greece were represented by evil angelic "princes," or demons. But God is in control of the past, present, and future, and he has all events recorded in his "Book of Truth."

The Kings of the South and the North

2"Now then, I tell you the truth: Three more kings will appear in Persia, and then a fourth, who will be far richer than all the others. When he has gained power by his wealth, he will stir up everyone against the kingdom of Greece. 3Then a mighty king will appear, who will rule with great power and do as he pleases.[p] 4After he has appeared, his empire will be broken up and parceled out toward the four winds of heaven.[q] It will not go to his descendants, nor will it have the power he exercised, because his empire will be uprooted and given to others.

5"The king of the South will become strong, but one of his commanders will become even stronger than he and will rule his own kingdom with great power. 6After some years, they will become allies. The daughter of the king of the South will go to the king of the North to make an alliance, but she will not retain her power, and he and his power[l] will not last. In those days she will be handed over, together with her royal escort and her father[m] and the one who supported her.

7"One from her family line will arise to take her place. He will attack the forces of the king of the North and enter his fortress; he will fight against them and be victorious. 8He will also seize their gods,[r] their metal images and their valuable articles of silver and gold and carry them off to Egypt.[s] For some years he will leave the king of the North alone. 9Then the king of the North will invade the realm of the king of the South but will retreat to his own country. 10His sons will prepare for war and assemble a great army, which will sweep on like an irresistible flood[t] and carry the battle as far as his fortress.

11"Then the king of the South will march out in a rage and fight against the king of the North, who will raise a large army, but it will be defeated. 12When the army is carried off, the king of the South will be filled with pride and will slaughter many thousands, yet he will not remain triumphant. 13For the king of the North will muster another army, larger than the first; and after several years, he will advance with a huge army fully equipped.

14"In those times many will rise against the king of the South. The violent men among your own people will rebel in fulfillment of the vision, but without success. 15Then the king of the North will come and build up siege ramps[u] and will capture a fortified city. The forces of the South will be powerless to resist; even their best troops will not have the strength to stand. 16The invader will do as he pleases; no one will be able to stand against him.[v] He will establish himself in the Beautiful

11:3 [p] Da 8:4, 21

11:4 [q] Da 8:22

11:8 [r] Isa 37:19; 46:1-2 [s] Jer 43:12

11:10 [t] Isa 8:8; Jer 46:8; Da 9:26

11:15 [u] Eze 4:2

11:16 [v] Jos 1:5; Da 8:7

[l] 6 Or offspring [m] 6 Or child (see Vulgate and Syriac)

11:2 The angelic messenger was revealing Israel's future (see 10:20, 21). Only God can reveal future events so clearly. God's work not only deals with the sweeping panorama of history, but also focuses on the intricate details of people's lives. And his plans – whether for nations or individuals – are unshakable.

11:2 The fourth Persian king may have been Xerxes I (486–465 B.C.), who launched an all-out effort against Greece in 480 (Esther 1:1).

11:2ff Babylonia was defeated by Medo-Persia. Medo-Persia was defeated by Greece under Alexander the Great, who conquered most of the Mediterranean and Middle Eastern lands. After Alexander's death, the empire was divided into four parts. The Ptolemies gained control of the southern section of Palestine, and the Seleucids took the northern part. Verses 1–20 show the conflict between the Ptolemies and Seleucids over control of Palestine in 300–200 B.C. Verses 21–35 describe the persecution of Israel under Antiochus IV Epiphanes. In verses 36–45 the prophecy shifts to the end times. Antiochus IV fades from view and the antichrist of the last days becomes the center of attention.

11:3 This mighty king of Greece was Alexander the Great, who conquered Medo-Persia and built a huge empire in only four years.

11:4, 5 Eventually Alexander the Great's empire was divided into four nations. These four weaker nations were comprised of the following regions: (1) Egypt, (2) Babylonia and Syria, (3) Asia Minor, and (4) Macedon and Greece. The king of Egypt ("the king of the South") was Ptolemy I or perhaps a reference to the Ptolemaic dynasty in general.

11:6, 7 These prophecies seem to have been fulfilled many years later in the Seleucid wars between Egypt and Syria. In 252 B.C., Ptolemy II of Egypt ("the South") gave his daughter Berenice in marriage to Antiochus II of Syria ("the North") to finalize a peace treaty between their two lands. But Berenice was murdered in Antioch by Antiochus II's former wife, Laodice. Berenice's brother, Ptolemy III, ascended the Egyptian throne and declared war against the Seleucids to avenge his sister's murder.

11:9–11 The king of Syria ("the North") was Seleucus II, and the king of Egypt ("the South") was Ptolemy IV.

11:13 This king of the north may have been Antiochus III (the Great). He defeated many Egyptian cities (11:15) and established himself in Israel ("the Beautiful Land," 11:16). He was later defeated by the Romans at Magnesia (11:18).

Land and will have the power to destroy it. 17He will determine to come with the might of his entire kingdom and will make an alliance with the king of the South.
And he will give him a daughter in marriage in order to overthrow the kingdom, but his plans[n] will not succeed or help him. 18Then he will turn his attention to the 11:18 coastlands[w] and will take many of them, but a commander will put an end to his w Isa 66:19 insolence and will turn his insolence back upon him.[x] 19After this, he will turn x Hos 12:14 back toward the fortresses of his own country but will stumble and fall,[y] to be seen 11:19 no more.
y Ps 27:2
11:20 20"His successor will send out a tax collector to maintain the royal splendor.[z] In z Isa 60:17 a few years, however, he will be destroyed, yet not in anger or in battle.
21"He will be succeeded by a contemptible person who has not been given the honor of royalty. He will invade the kingdom when its people feel secure, and he will seize it through intrigue. 22Then an overwhelming army will be swept away 11:22 before him; both it and a prince of the covenant will be destroyed.[a] 23After coming a Da 8:10-11 to an agreement with him, he will act deceitfully,[b] and with only a few people he 11:23 will rise to power. 24When the richest provinces feel secure, he will invade them b Da 8:25 and will achieve what neither his fathers nor his forefathers did. He will distribute plunder, loot and wealth among his followers. He will plot the overthrow of fortresses — but only for a time.
25"With a large army he will stir up his strength and courage against the king of the South. The king of the South will wage war with a large and very powerful army, but he will not be able to stand because of the plots devised against him.
26Those who eat from the king's provisions will try to destroy him; his army will be swept away, and many will fall in battle. 27The two kings, with their hearts bent on 11:27 evil,[c] will sit at the same table and lie to each other, but to no avail, because an end c Ps 64:6 will still come at the appointed time.[d] 28The king of the North will return to his
d Hab 2:3 own country with great wealth, but his heart will be set against the holy covenant.
He will take action against it and then return to his own country.
29"At the appointed time he will invade the South again, but this time the outcome will be different from what it was before. 30Ships of the western coast-11:30 lands[o e] will oppose him, and he will lose heart. Then he will turn back and vent e Ge 10:4 his fury against the holy covenant. He will return and show favor to those who forsake the holy covenant.
31"His armed forces will rise up to desecrate the temple fortress and will abolish 11:31 the daily sacrifice. Then they will set up the abomination that causes desolation.[f] f Da 8:11-13; Mt 24:15* 32With flattery he will corrupt those who have violated the covenant, but the people 11:32 who know their God will firmly resist[g] him.
g Mic 5:7-9

n 17 Or but she o 30 Hebrew of Kittim

11:17 The invader, Antiochus III, tried to bring peace between Egypt and Syria by having his daughter marry Ptolemy V Epiphanes of Egypt, but the plan failed.

11:20 The successor to Antiochus III was Seleucus IV. He sent Heliodorus to collect money from the temple treasury in Jerusalem.

11:21 Seleucus IV was succeeded by his brother, Antiochus IV Epiphanes, who found favor with the Romans.

11:22 The "overwhelming army" refers to the way all opposition against Antiochus IV will be broken. The prince of the covenant may be the high priest Onias III, who was assassinated by Menelaus in 170 B.C.

11:27 These two treacherous kings were probably Antiochus IV of Syria and Ptolemy VI of Egypt. Treachery and deceit are a power broker's way to position himself over someone else. When two power brokers try to gain the upper hand, it is a mutually weakening and self-destructive process. It is also futile because God ultimately holds all power in his hands.

11:29-31 Antiochus IV would again invade "the South," but enemy ships would cause him to retreat. On his way back, he plundered Jerusalem, desecrated the temple, and stopped the Jews' daily sacrifices. The temple was desecrated when he sacrificed pigs on an altar erected in honor of Zeus. According to Jewish law, pigs were unclean and were not to be touched or eaten. To sacrifice a pig in the temple was the worst kind of insult an enemy could level against the Jews. This happened in 168-167 B.C.

11:32 This reference to those who have violated the covenant may include Menelaus, the high priest, who was won over by Antiochus and who conspired with him against the Jews who were loyal to God. The "people who know their God" may refer to the Maccabees and their sympathizers, but a further fulfillment may lie in the future.

33"Those who are wise will instruct many, though for a time they will fall by the sword or be burned or captured or plundered.[h] 34When they fall, they will receive a little help, and many who are not sincere[i] will join them. 35Some of the wise will stumble, so that they may be refined,[j] purified and made spotless until the time of the end, for it will still come at the appointed time.

11:33 [h]Mt 24:9; Jn 16:2; Heb 11:32-38

11:34 [i]Mt 7:15; Ro 16:18

11:35 [j]Da 12:10; Zec 13:9; Jn 15:2

The King Who Exalts Himself

36"The king will do as he pleases. He will exalt and magnify himself above every god and will say unheard-of things[k] against the God of gods. He will be successful until the time of wrath is completed, for what has been determined must take place. 37He will show no regard for the gods of his fathers or for the one desired by women, nor will he regard any god, but will exalt himself above them all. 38Instead of them, he will honor a god of fortresses; a god unknown to his fathers he will honor with gold and silver, with precious stones and costly gifts. 39He will attack the mightiest fortresses with the help of a foreign god and will greatly honor those who acknowledge him. He will make them rulers over many people and will distribute the land at a price.[p]

11:36 [k]Rev 13:5-6

40"At the time of the end the king of the South will engage him in battle, and the king of the North will storm[l] out against him with chariots and cavalry and a great fleet of ships. He will invade many countries and sweep through them like a flood. 41He will also invade the Beautiful Land. Many countries will fall, but Edom, Moab[m] and the leaders of Ammon will be delivered from his hand. 42He will extend his power over many countries; Egypt will not escape. 43He will gain control of the treasures of gold and silver and all the riches of Egypt, with the Libyans[n] and Nubians in submission. 44But reports from the east and the north will alarm him, and he will set out in a great rage to destroy and annihilate many. 45He will pitch his royal tents between the seas at[q] the beautiful holy mountain. Yet he will come to his end, and no one will help him.

11:40 [l]Isa 5:28

11:41 [m]Jer 48:47

11:43 [n]2Ch 12:3; Na 3:9

The End Times

12 "At that time Michael,[o] the great prince who protects your people, will arise. There will be a time of distress[p] such as has not happened from the beginning of nations until then. But at that time your people—everyone whose name is found written in the book—will be delivered.[q] 2Multitudes who sleep in the dust of the earth will awake: some to everlasting life, others to shame and ever-

12:1 [o]Da 10:13 [p]Rev 16:18 [q]Jer 30:7

p 39 Or land for a reward q 45 Or the sea and 11:33, 34 Those who are wise will teach many, but they will also face great persecution. Difficult times remind us of our weaknesses and our inability to cope. We want answers, leadership, and clear direction. During these times, God's Word begins to interest even those who would never look at it. We should be ready to use our opportunities to share God's Word in needy times. We must also be prepared to face persecution and rejection as we teach and preach.

11:35 God's messenger described a time of trial when even wise believers may stumble. This could mean (1) falling into sin, (2) being fearful and losing faith, (3) mistakenly following wrong teaching, or (4) experiencing severe suffering and martyrdom. If we persevere in our faith, any such experience will only refine us and make us stronger. Are you facing trials? Recognize them as opportunities to strengthen your faith. If we remain steadfast in these experiences, we will be stronger in our faith and closer to God.

11:36–39 These verses could refer to Antiochus IV Epiphanes, Titus (the Roman general), or the antichrist. Some of these events may have been fulfilled in the past, and some have yet to be fulfilled.

11:37 The "one desired by women" may refer to Tammuz, a Babylonian fertility god. Tammuz is also mentioned in Ezekiel 8:14. In other words, this person won't recognize any deity or religions at all, not even pagan ones. Instead, he will proclaim himself to be divine and the ultimate power.

11:38 The "god of fortresses" is believed by some to be Jupiter or Zeus. The implication is that this king will make war his god. More than all his predecessors, he will wage war and glorify its horrors.

11:40 The antichrist of the last days becomes the center of attention from this point through the rest of the book of Daniel.

11:45 "The beautiful holy mountain" is Mount Zion or the city of Jerusalem.

12:1 Great suffering is in store for God's people throughout the years ahead. This way of describing the future is also used by Jeremiah (Jeremiah 30:7) and Jesus (Matthew 24:21ff). Yet the great suffering is tempered by a great promise of hope for true believers.

12:2 This is a clear reference to the resurrection of both the righteous and the wicked, although the eternal fates of each will be quite different. Up to this point in time, teaching about the resurrection was not common, although every Israelite believed that one day he or she would be included in the restoration of the new kingdom. This reference to a bodily resurrection of both the saved and the lost was a sharp departure from common belief. (See also Job 19:25, 26; Psalm 16:10; and Isaiah 26:19 for other Old Testament references to the resurrection.)

lasting contempt.[r] 3Those who are wise[rs] will shine like the brightness of the heavens, and those who lead many to righteousness, like the stars for ever and ever.
4But you, Daniel, close up and seal the words of the scroll until the time of the end.[t] Many will go here and there to increase knowledge."

5Then I, Daniel, looked, and there before me stood two others, one on this bank of the river and one on the opposite bank.[u] 6One of them said to the man clothed in linen, who was above the waters of the river, "How long will it be before these astonishing things are fulfilled?"

7The man clothed in linen, who was above the waters of the river, lifted his right hand and his left hand toward heaven, and I heard him swear by him who lives forever, saying, "It will be for a time, times and half a time.[sv] When the power of the holy people has been finally broken, all these things will be completed.[w]"

8I heard, but I did not understand. So I asked, "My lord, what will the outcome of all this be?"

9He replied, "Go your way, Daniel, because the words are closed up and sealed until the time of the end. 10Many will be purified, made spotless and refined, but the wicked will continue to be wicked.[x] None of the wicked will understand, but those who are wise will understand.

11"From the time that the daily sacrifice is abolished and the abomination that causes desolation is set up, there will be 1,290 days. 12Blessed is the one who waits[y] for and reaches the end of the 1,335 days.

13"As for you, go your way till the end. You will rest, and then at the end of the days you will rise to receive your allotted inheritance.[z]"

12:2 [r] Mt 25:46
12:3 [s] Da 11:33
12:4 [t] Rev 22:10
12:5 [u] Da 10:4
12:7 [v] Da 7:25 [w] Lk 21:24
12:10 [x] Isa 32:7
12:12 [y] Isa 30:18
12:13 [z] Rev 14:13

r 3 Or who impart wisdom s 7 Or a year, two years and half a year

12:3 Many people try to be stars in the world of entertainment, only to find their stardom temporary. God tells us how we can be eternal "stars"—by being wise and leading many to God's righteousness. If we share our Lord with others, we can be true stars—radiantly beautiful in God's sight!

12:4 Closing up and sealing the words of the scroll meant that it was to be kept safe and preserved. This was to be done so that believers of all times could look back on God's work in history and find hope. Daniel did not understand the exact meaning of the times and events in his vision. We can see events as they unfold, for we are in the end times. The whole book will not be understood until the climax of earth's history.

12:7 "Time, times and half a time" may add up to 3 1/2 years (see the NIV text note), and may be taken as either literal or figurative.

12:7 "The power of the holy people" seems to be crushed again and again throughout history. God's recurring purpose in this is to break the pride and self-sufficiency of his rebellious people and to bring them to accept him as their Lord.

12:10 Trials and persecutions make very little sense to us when we experience them. But they can purify us if we are willing to learn from them. After you survive a difficult time, seek to learn from it so that it can help you in the future. See Romans 5:3–5 for more on God's purpose in our sufferings.

12:11 "The abomination" set up in the temple refers to the altar of Zeus, where Antiochus IV Epiphanes sacrificed a pig. Some think it will have another fulfillment in the antichrist and one of his horrible acts of evil (Matthew 24:15). However, this and the predictions at the early part of the chapter may refer specifically to Antiochus IV Epiphanes, and the rest of the prophecy may refer to the end times.

12:11, 12 Either these are further calculations relating to the persecution of the Jews under Antiochus IV Epiphanes, or they refer to the end times. The abolishing of the daily sacrifices means the removal of worship of the true God, as well as oppression of believers. There is much speculation about these numbers in verses 11 and 12. The point is that this time of persecution has an end; God is in control of it, and he will be victorious over evil.

12:13 The promise of resurrection was reaffirmed to Daniel. He would one day see the fulfillment of his words, but he was not to spend the rest of his life wondering what his visions might mean. Instead, he was to rest in the comfort of God's sovereignty and look forward to the time when he would rise to receive and share eternal life with God. God does not reveal everything to us in this life. We must be content with the partial picture until he wants us to see more. He will tell us all we need to know.

12:13 Daniel stands tall in the gallery of God's remarkable servants. Born of royal heritage, yet taken into captivity when only a teenager, Daniel determined to remain faithful to God in the land of his captivity. Even at great personal cost, Daniel spent his entire lifetime advising his captors with unusual wisdom. God chose him as his servant to record some of the events of the captivity and some significant events concerning the future. As an old man, having been faithful to God throughout his years, Daniel was assured by God that he would rise from the dead and receive his portion in God's eternal kingdom. Faithfulness to God has a rich reward, not necessarily in this life, but most certainly in the life to come.

Jeroboam II becomes king of Israel 793 B.C.

Amos becomes a prophet 760

VITAL STATISTICS

PURPOSE:
To illustrate God's love for his sinful people

AUTHOR:
Hosea son of Beeri ("Hosea" means "salvation")

TO WHOM WRITTEN:
Israel (the northern kingdom) and God's people everywhere

DATE WRITTEN:
Approximately 715 B.C., recording events from about 753–715 B.C.

SETTING:
Hosea began his ministry during the end of the prosperous but morally declining reign of Jeroboam II of Israel (the upper classes were doing well, but they were oppressing the poor). He prophesied until shortly after the fall of Samaria in 722 B.C.

KEY VERSE:
"The LORD said to me, 'Go, show your love to your wife again, though she is loved by another and is an adulteress. Love her as the LORD loves the Israelites, though they turn to other gods and love the sacred raisin cakes'" (3:1).

KEY PEOPLE:
Hosea, Gomer, their children

KEY PLACES:
The northern kingdom (Israel), Samaria, Ephraim

SPECIAL FEATURES:
Hosea employs many images from daily life—God is depicted as husband, father, lion, leopard, bear, dew, rain, moth, and others; Israel is pictured as wife, sick person, vine, grapes, early fruit, olive tree, woman in childbirth, oven, morning mist, chaff, and smoke, to name a few.

GROOMSMEN stand at attention as the music swells and the bride begins her long walk down the aisle, arm in arm with her father. The smiling, but nervous, husband-to-be follows every step, his eyes brimming with love. Then happy tears are shed, vows stated, and families merged. A wedding is a joyous celebration of love. It is the holy mystery of two becoming one, of beginning life together, and of commitment. Marriage is ordained by God and illustrates his relationship with his people. Thus, there is perhaps no greater tragedy than the violation of those sacred vows.

God told Hosea to find a wife, and told him ahead of time that she would be unfaithful to him. Although she would bear many children, some of these offspring would be fathered by others. In obedience to God, Hosea married Gomer. His relationship with her, her adultery, and their children became living, prophetic examples to Israel.

The book of Hosea is a love story—real, tragic, and true. Transcending the tale of young man and wife, it tells of God's love for his people and the response of his "bride." A covenant had been made and God had been faithful. His love was steadfast and his commitment unbroken. But Israel, like Gomer, was adulterous and unfaithful, spurning God's love and turning instead to false gods. Then after warning of judgment, God reaffirmed his love and offered reconciliation. His love and mercy were overflowing, but justice would be served.

The book begins with God's marriage instructions to Hosea. After Hosea's marriage, children were born, and each given a name signifying a divine message (chapter 1). Then, as predicted, Gomer left Hosea to pursue her lusts (chapter 2). But Hosea (whose name means "salvation") found her, redeemed her, and brought her home again, fully reconciled (chapter 3). Images of God's love, judgment, grace, and mercy were woven into their relationship. Next, God outlined his case against the people of Israel—their sins would ultimately cause their destruction (chapters 4; 6; 7; 12) and would rouse his anger, resulting in punishment (chapters 5; 8—10, 12; 13). But even in the midst of Israel's immorality, God was merciful and offered hope, expressing his infinite love for his people (chapter 11) and the fact that their repentance would bring about blessing (chapter 14).

The book of Hosea dramatically portrays our God's constant and persistent love. As you read this book, watch the prophet submit himself willingly to his Lord's direction; grieve with him over the unfaithfulness of his wife and his people; and hear the clear warning of judgment. Then reaffirm your commitment to being God's person, faithful in your love and true to your vows.

Hosea becomes a prophet; King Zechariah of Israel is killed 753	King Shallum of Israel is killed 752	Tiglath-Pileser III invades Israel 743	Micah becomes a prophet to Judah 742	Isaiah becomes a prophet to Judah 740		Israel (northern kingdom) falls 722	Hosea's ministry ends 715

THE BLUEPRINT

A. HOSEA'S WAYWARD WIFE (1:1—3:5)	Hosea was commanded by God to marry a woman who was unfaithful in marriage and would cause him many heartaches. Just as Gomer lost interest in Hosea and ran after other lovers, we too can easily lose appreciation for our special relationship with God and pursue dreams and goals that do not include him. When we compromise our Christian life-styles and adopt the ways of the world, we are being unfaithful.
B. GOD'S WAYWARD PEOPLE (4:1—14:9) 1. Israel's sinfulness 2. Israel's punishment 3. God's love for Israel	God wanted the people in the northern kingdom to turn from their sin and return to worshiping him alone, but they persisted in their wickedness. Throughout the book, Israel is described as ignorant of God, with no desire to please him. Israel did not understand God at all, just as Gomer did not understand Hosea. Like a loving husband or patient father, God wants people to know him and to turn to him daily.

MEGATHEMES

THEME	EXPLANATION	IMPORTANCE
The nation's sin	Just as Hosea's wife, Gomer, was unfaithful to him, so the nation of Israel had been unfaithful to God. Israel's idolatry was like adultery. They sought illicit relationships with Assyria and Egypt in pursuit of military might, and they mixed Baal worship with the worship of God.	Like Gomer, we can chase after other loves—love of power, pleasure, money, or recognition. The temptations in this world can be very seductive. Are we loyal to God, remaining completely faithful, or have other loves taken his rightful place?
God's judgment	Hosea solemnly warned Judah against following Israel's example. Because Judah broke the covenant, turned away from God, and forgot her Maker, she experienced a devastating invasion and exile. Sin has terrible consequences.	Disaster surely follows ingratitude toward God and rebellion. The Lord is our only true refuge. If we harden our hearts against him, there is no safety or security anywhere else. We cannot escape God's judgment.
God's love	Just as Hosea went after his unfaithful wife to bring her back, so the Lord pursues us with his love. His love is tender, loyal, unchanging, and undying. No matter what, God still loves us.	Have you forgotten God and become disloyal to him? Don't let prosperity diminish your love for him or let success blind you to your need for his love.
Restoration	Although God will discipline his people for sin, he encourages and restores those who have repented. True repentance opens the way to a new beginning. God forgives and restores.	There is still hope for those who turn back to God. No loyalty, achievement, or honor can be compared to loving him. Turn to the Lord while the offer is still good. No matter how far you have strayed, God is willing to bring you back.

A. HOSEA'S WAYWARD WIFE (1:1—3:5)

Hosea highlights the parallels between his relationship with Gomer and God's relationship with the nation of Israel. Although Israel made a covenant with the one true God, she went after other false gods. In the same way, Hosea married Gomer, knowing ahead of time that she would leave him. Hosea tenderly dealt with his wife in spite of her sin. And God was merciful toward the people of Israel despite their sins. God has not changed; he is still merciful and forgiving.

1 The word of the LORD that came to Hosea son of Beeri during the reigns of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, and during the reign of Jeroboam[a] son of Jehoash[a] king of Israel:

1:1 [a] 2Ki 13:13

Hosea's Wife and Children

2When the LORD began to speak through Hosea, the LORD said to him, "Go, take to yourself an adulterous[b] wife and children of unfaithfulness, because the land is guilty of the vilest adultery[c] in departing from the LORD." 3So he married Gomer daughter of Diblaim, and she conceived and bore him a son.

1:2 [b] Hos 3:1 [c] Dt 31:16; Hos 5:3

4Then the LORD said to Hosea, "Call him Jezreel,[d] because I will soon punish the house of Jehu for the massacre at Jezreel, and I will put an end to the kingdom of Israel. 5In that day I will break Israel's bow in the Valley of Jezreel."

1:4 [d] 2Ki 10:1-14

6Gomer conceived again and gave birth to a daughter. Then the LORD said to Hosea, "Call her Lo-Ruhamah,[b] for I will no longer show love to the house of Israel,[e] that I should at all forgive them. 7Yet I will show love to the house of Judah; and I will save them—not by bow, sword or battle, or by horses and horsemen, but by the LORD their God.[f]"

1:6 [e] Hos 2:4

1:7 [f] Zec 4:6

8After she had weaned Lo-Ruhamah, Gomer had another son. 9Then the LORD said, "Call him Lo-Ammi,[c] for you are not my people, and I am not your God.

[a] 1 Hebrew Joash, a variant of Jehoash [b] 6 Lo-Ruhamah means not loved. [c] 9 Lo-Ammi means not my people.

1:1 Hosea was a prophet to the northern kingdom of Israel. He served from 753 to 715 B.C. Under the reign of Jeroboam II, the northern kingdom had prospered materially but had decayed spiritually. The people were greedy and had adopted the moral behavior and idolatrous religion of the surrounding Canaanites.

Hosea's role was to show how the northern kingdom had been unfaithful to God, their "husband" and provider, and had married themselves to Baal and the gods of Canaan. He warned that unless they repented of their sin and turned back to God, they were headed for destruction. Hosea spoke of God's characteristics—his powerful love and fierce justice—and how their practical experience of these should affect their lives and make them return to God. Unfortunately, the people had broken their covenant with God, and they would receive the punishments God had promised (Deuteronomy 27; 28).

1:2, 3 Did God really order his prophet to marry a woman who would commit adultery? Some who find it difficult to believe God could make such a request view this story as an illustration, not an historical event. Many, however, think the story is historical and give one of these explanations: (1) According to God's law, a priest could not marry a prostitute or a divorced woman (Leviticus 21:7). However, Hosea was not a priest. (2) It is possible that Gomer was not an adulterous woman when Hosea married her, and that God was letting Hosea know that Gomer would later turn to adultery and prostitution. In any case, Hosea knew ahead of time that his wife would be unfaithful and that their married life would become a living object lesson to the adulterous northern kingdom. Hosea's marriage to an unfaithful woman would illustrate God's relationship to the unfaithful nation of Israel.

1:2, 3 It is difficult to imagine Hosea's feelings when God told him to marry a woman who would be unfaithful to him. He may not have wanted to do it, but he obeyed. God often required extraordinary obedience from his prophets who were facing extraordinary times. God may ask you to do something difficult and extraordinary, too. If he does, how will you respond? Will you obey him, trusting that he who knows everything has a special purpose for his request? Will you be able to accept the fact that the pain involved in obedience may benefit those you serve, and not you personally?

1:4, 5 Elijah had predicted that the family of Israel's King Ahab would be destroyed because of their wickedness (1 Kings 21:20–22), but Jehu went too far in carrying out God's command (2 Kings 10:1–11). Therefore, Jehu's dynasty would also be punished—in the Valley of Jezreel, the very place where he carried out the massacre of Ahab's family. God's promise to put an end to Israel as an independent kingdom ("break Israel's bow") came true 25 years later when the Assyrians conquered the northern kingdom and carried the people into captivity.

1:6, 8 In 1:3, we read that Gomer "bore him [Hosea] a son." In 1:6 and 1:8, we learn that Gomer gave birth to two more children, but there is no indication that Hosea was their natural father, and some translations imply that he was not. Whether or not the children were Hosea's, the key to this part of the story is found in the names God chose for the children, showing his reaction to Israel's unfaithfulness. God's reaction to unfaithfulness is no different today. He wants our complete devotion.

1:7 God said he would personally rescue the people of Judah from their enemies with no help from their armies or weapons. Although God asks us to do our part, we should remember that he is not limited to human effort. God often chooses to work through people, but only because it is good for them. He can accomplish all his purposes without any help from us if he so chooses. You are very important to God, but on your own you have neither the ability to fulfill nor the power to disrupt God's plans.

1:9 Here God was in essence dissolving the covenant (Jeremiah 7:23). The name of the third child conveys the finality of God's judgment. God's warnings recorded in Deuteronomy 28:15–68 were beginning to come true: Israel was abandoning God, and in turn, he was leaving them alone and without his blessings.

10"Yet the Israelites will be like the sand on the seashore, which cannot be measured or counted. In the place where it was said to them,
'You are not my people,' they will be called 'sons of the living God.'[g] 11The people of Judah and the people of Israel will be reunited,[h] and they will appoint one leader and will come up out of the land,[i] for great will be the day of Jezreel.

1:10
[g] Ro 9:26*

1:11
[h] Isa 11:12, 13
[i] Eze 37:15-28

2 "Say of your brothers, 'My people,' and of your sisters, 'My loved one.'

Israel Punished and Restored

2"Rebuke your mother,[j] rebuke her,
for she is not my wife,
and I am not her husband.
Let her remove the adulterous look from her face and the unfaithfulness from between her breasts.
3Otherwise I will strip her naked and make her as bare as on the day she was born;[k]
I will make her like a desert, turn her into a parched land,
and slay her with thirst.
4I will not show my love to her children, because they are the children of adultery.
5Their mother has been unfaithful

2:2
[j] Isa 50:1

2:3
[k] Eze 16:4, 22

HOSEA served as a prophet to Israel (the northern kingdom) from 753–715 B.C.

Climate of the times	Israel's last six kings were especially wicked; they promoted heavy taxes, oppression of the poor, idol worship, and total disregard for God. Israel was subjected to Assyria and was forced to pay tribute, which depleted its few remaining resources.
Main message	The people of Israel had sinned against God, as an adulterous woman sins against her husband. Judgment was sure to come for living in total disregard for God and fellow humans. Israel fell to Assyria in 722 B.C.
Importance of message	When we sin, we sever our relationship with God, breaking our commitment to him. While all must answer to God for their sins, those who seek God's forgiveness are spared eternal judgment.
Contemporary prophets	Jonah (793–753) Amos (760–750) Micah (742–687) Isaiah (740–681)

1:10 The Old Testament prophetic books sometimes use the word "Israelites" to refer to the people of the united kingdom (north and south) and sometimes just to the northern kingdom. In talking about past events, Hosea usually thought of Israel as the northern kingdom with its capital in Samaria. But when Hosea spoke about future events relating to God's promises of restoration, it is difficult to understand his words as applying only to the northern kingdom because the exiled northerners would become hopelessly intermingled with their conquerors. Thus most scholars see the promises of return as either: (1) conditional – the Israelites chose not to return to God, and therefore they were not entitled to the blessings included in the promises of restoration, or (2) unconditional – God's promises of restoration have been fulfilled in Jesus Christ, and therefore the church (the new Israel) receives his blessings (Romans 9:25, 26; 1 Peter 2:10).

1:10, 11 Although Israel was unfaithful, God's commitment remained unchanged. This promise of a future reuniting reiterated the covenant made with Moses (Deuteronomy 30:1–10) and foreshadowed the prophecies of Jeremiah (Jeremiah 29:11–14; 31:31–40) and Ezekiel (Ezekiel 11:16–21). It was a prediction of the day when all the people of God will be united under Christ. Today all believers everywhere are God's chosen people, a royal priesthood (see 1 Peter 2:9).

1:11 Just as the other children's names carried significance, so did Jezreel. In verse 4, the name depicts divine judgment; here it represents the scattering. The name means "God scatters." Here it represents the scattering a farmer does when he plants seeds. This was a sign of a new day and a new relationship between God and Israel.

2:2ff Israel's punishment and restoration are the themes of this chapter. As in a court case, the adulteress is brought to trial and found guilty. But after her punishment, she is joyfully and tenderly restored to God.

2:5–7 The Israelites were thanking false gods (specifically Baal, the god whom they believed controlled weather and thus farming) for their food, shelter, and clothing, instead of the true God who gave those blessings. Therefore, God would block Israel's "path with thornbushes" and "wall her in" by making the rewards of idol worship so disappointing that the people would be persuaded to turn back to God. Despite Israel's unfaithfulness, God was still faithful and merciful. He would continue to hold his arms out to his people, even to the point of placing obstacles in their wayward path to turn them back to him.

and has conceived them in disgrace.
She said, 'I will go after my lovers,
who give me my food and my water,
my wool and my linen, my oil and my drink.'[l] 6Therefore I will block her path with thornbushes;
I will wall her in so that she cannot find her way.[m] 7She will chase after her lovers but not catch them;
she will look for them but not find them.
Then she will say,
'I will go back to my husband as at first,
for then I was better off[n] than now.'
8She has not acknowledged[o] that I was the one who gave her the grain, the new wine and oil, who lavished on her the silver and gold—which they used for Baal.

9"Therefore I will take away my grain[p] when it ripens, and my new wine[q] when it is ready.
I will take back my wool and my linen, intended to cover her nakedness.
10So now I will expose her lewdness before the eyes of her lovers;
no one will take her out of my hands.[r] 11I will stop all her celebrations:
her yearly festivals, her New Moons, her Sabbath days—all her appointed feasts.[s] 12I will ruin her vines and her fig trees, which she said were her pay from her lovers;
I will make them a thicket,[t]
and wild animals will devour them.
13I will punish her for the days
she burned incense to the Baals;
she decked herself with rings and jewelry,
and went after her lovers,
but me she forgot,[u]"
declares the LORD.

14"Therefore I am now going to allure her;
I will lead her into the desert and speak tenderly to her.

2:5 [l] Jer 44:17-18

2:6 [m] La 3:9

2:7 [n] Eze 16:8

2:8 [o] Isa 1:3

2:9 [p] Hos 8:7 [q] Hos 9:2

2:10 [r] Eze 16:37

2:11 [s] Isa 1:14; Am 8:10

2:12 [t] Isa 5:6

2:13 [u] Hos 4:6

2:7 Just as Gomer would return to her husband if she thought she would be better off with him, so people often return to God when they find life's struggle too difficult to handle. Returning to God out of desperation is better than rebelling against him, but it is better yet to turn to God out of gratitude for his care.

2:8 Material possessions are success symbols in most societies. Israel was a wealthy nation at this time, and Gomer may have accumulated silver and gold. But Gomer didn't realize that Hosea had given her all she owned, just as Israel did not recognize God as the Giver of blessings. Both Gomer and Israel used their possessions irresponsibly as they ran after other lovers and other gods. How do you use your possessions? Use what God has given you to honor him.

2:12 The Israelites were so immersed in idolatry that they actually believed pagan gods gave them their vineyards and orchards ("her vines and her fig trees"). They had forgotten that the entire land was a gift from God (Deuteronomy 32:49). Today many people give credit to everything and everyone but God for their prosperity—luck, hard work, quick thinking, the right contacts. When you succeed, who gets the credit?

2:13 Baal was the most important of the Canaanite gods, and his name came to be used to describe all the local deities worshiped throughout the land occupied by Israel. Unfortunately, Israel did not get rid of the idols and pagan worship centers as they had been commanded. Instead, they tolerated and frequently joined Baal worshipers, often through the influence of corrupt kings. One Israelite king especially noted for his Baal worship was Ahab. The prophet Elijah, in a dramatic showdown with Ahab's hired prophets, proved God's power far superior to Baal's (1 Kings 18).

2:14, 15 God was promising (1) to bring the people to the desert, a place free from distractions, so he could clearly communicate with them, and (2) to change what had been a time of difficulty into a day of hope. The Valley of Achor ("trouble") is the site where Achan had sinned by keeping forbidden war plunder (see Joshua 7). He had brought great disaster to Joshua's troops when they were attempting to conquer the land. God uses even our negative experiences to create opportunities to turn back to him. As you face problems and trials, remember that God speaks to you in the desert, and not just in times of prosperity.

15 There I will give her back her vineyards, and will make the Valley of Achor[d] [v] a door of hope.
There she will sing[e] as in the days of her youth, [w] as in the day she came up out of Egypt.

16 "In that day," declares the LORD,
"you will call me 'my husband';
you will no longer call me 'my master.[f]' 17 I will remove the names of the Baals from her lips; [x] no longer will their names be invoked.
18 In that day I will make a covenant for them with the beasts of the field and the birds of the air and the creatures that move along the ground. [y]
Bow and sword and battle
I will abolish from the land,
so that all may lie down in safety. [z]
19 I will betroth you to me forever;
I will betroth you in[g] righteousness and justice,
in[h] love and compassion.
20 I will betroth you in faithfulness, and you will acknowledge [a] the LORD.

21 "In that day I will respond,"
declares the LORD—
"I will respond [b] to the skies, and they will respond to the earth;
22 and the earth will respond to the grain,

2:15 [v] Jos 7:24, 26 [w] Jer 2:2
2:17 [x] Ex 23:13; Ps 16:4
2:18 [y] Job 5:22 [z] Eze 34:25
2:20 [a] Jer 31:34
2:21 [b] Zec 8:12

[d] 15 Achor means trouble. [e] 15 Or respond [f] 16 Hebrew baal [g] 19 Or with; also in verse 20 [h] 19 Or with

SPIRITUAL UNFAITHFULNESS

Spiritual adultery and physical adultery are alike in many ways, and both are dangerous. God was disappointed with his people because they had committed spiritual adultery against him, as Gomer had committed physical adultery against Hosea.

Parallels	The danger
Both spiritual and physical adultery are against God's law.	When we break God's law in full awareness of what we're doing, our hearts become hardened to the sin and our relationship with God is broken.
Both spiritual and physical adultery begin with disappointment and dissatisfaction—either real or imagined—with an already existing relationship.	The feeling that God disappoints can lead you away from him. Feelings of disappointment and dissatisfaction are normal and, when endured, will pass.
Both spiritual and physical adultery begin with diverting affection from one object of devotion to another.	The diverting of our affection is the first step in the blinding process that leads into sin.
Both spiritual and physical adultery involve a process of deterioration; it is not usually an impulsive decision.	The process is dangerous because you don't always realize it is happening until it is too late.
Both spiritual and physical adultery involve the creation of a fantasy about what a new object of love can do for you.	Such fantasy creates unrealistic expectations of what a new relationship can do and only leads to disappointment in all existing and future relationships.

2:16 Not until Judah's exile would the entire nation begin to come to its senses, give up its idols, and turn back to God; and not until that day when God rules through Jesus the Messiah will the relationship between God and his people be restored. In that day, God will no longer be like a master to them; he will be like a husband (Isaiah 54:4–8). The relationship will be deep and personal, the kind of relationship we can know, though imperfectly, in marriage.

2:19, 20 The time will come when unfaithfulness will be impossible—God will bind us to himself in his perfect righteousness, justice, love, compassion, and faithfulness. Betrothal in Hosea's time was more than a simple agreement to marry. It was a binding engagement, a deep commitment between two families for a future, permanent relationship. God was promising a fresh new beginning, not just a temporary rewriting of a tired old agreement. (See Jeremiah 31:31–34.)

2:19, 20 God's wedding gift to his people, both in Hosea's day and in our own, is his compassion. Through no merit of our own, God forgives us and makes us right with him. There is no way for us by our own efforts to reach God's high standard for moral and spiritual life, but he graciously accepts us, forgives us, and draws us into a relationship with himself. In that relationship we have personal and intimate communion with him.

the new wine and oil, and they will respond to Jezreel.[i] 23I will plant[c] her for myself in the land;
I will show my love to the one I called 'Not my loved one.'[d]
I will say to those called 'Not my people,'[k] 'You are my people';[e] and they will say, 'You are my God.[f]' "

2:23
[c]Jer 31:27
[d]Hos 1:6
[e]Hos 1:10
[f]Ro 9:25*

Hosea's Reconciliation With His Wife

3 The LORD said to me, "Go, show your love to your wife again, though she is loved by another and is an adulteress.[g] Love her as the LORD loves the Israelites, though they turn to other gods and love the sacred raisin cakes.[h]"

3:1
[g]Hos 1:2
[h]2Sa 6:19

2So I bought her for fifteen shekels[l] of silver and about a homer and a lethek[m] of barley. 3Then I told her, "You are to live with[n] me many days; you must not be a prostitute or be intimate with any man, and I will live with[n] you."

4For the Israelites will live many days without king or prince,[i] without sacrifice[j] or sacred stones, without ephod or idol.[k] 5Afterward the Israelites will return and seek the LORD their God and David their king. They will come trembling to the LORD and to his blessings in the last days.[l]

3:4
[i]Hos 13:11
[j]Hos 2:11
[k]Jdg 17:5-6

3:5
[l]Jer 50:4-5

B. GOD'S WAYWARD PEOPLE (4:1 — 14:9)

The rest of the book deals with Israel's sin and her impending judgment. Hosea points out the moral and spiritual decay of the nation. He describes the punishment awaiting the people and pleads with them to return to God. Although judgment and condemnation of sin are prevalent in the book, a strand of love and restoration runs throughout. Even in the midst of judgment, God is merciful and will restore those who repent and turn to him.

1. Israel's sinfulness

The Charge Against Israel

4 Hear the word of the LORD, you Israelites, because the LORD has a charge to bring against you who live in the land:
"There is no faithfulness, no love,

[l] 22 Jezreel means God plants. [l] 23 Hebrew Lo-Ruhamah [k] 23 Hebrew Lo-Ammi [l] 2 That is, about 6 ounces (about 170 grams) [m] 2 That is, probably about 10 bushels (about 330 liters) [n] 3 Or wait for

3:1 This short chapter pictures the nation's exile and return. Israel would experience a time of purification in a foreign land, but God would still love the people and would be willing to accept them back. God commanded Hosea to show the same forgiving spirit to Gomer. Although Hosea had good reason to divorce Gomer, he was told to buy her back and love her.

3:2 Apparently Gomer was on her own for a while. Needing to support herself, she must have either sold herself into slavery or become the mistress of another man. In either case, Hosea had to pay to get her back — although the required amount was pitifully small. Gomer was no longer worth much to anyone except Hosea, but he loved her just as God loved Israel. No matter how low we sink, God is willing to buy us back — to redeem us — and to lift us up again.

3:3 After this, Gomer is no longer mentioned by Hosea. This is explained in 3:4. Gomer's isolation showed how God would deal with the northern kingdom (5:6, 15). It is dangerous to rebel against God. If he were ever to withdraw his love and mercy, we would be without hope.

3:4 God would separate the Israelites from their treasured idolatrous practices. Sacrifices and sacred stones were elements of idol worship. Here the ephod is not the official vest of the priest, but an image used in idol worship; the idols were household gods, which were strictly forbidden for God's people.

3:4, 5 The northern kingdom had rebelled against David's dynasty and had taken Jeroboam as their king (1 Kings 12; 13). Their rebellion was both political and religious. At that time, they reverted back to the worship of golden idols. "David their king" refers to the time of Messiah's rule when all people will bow before him in humility and submission. Those who won't accept Christ's blessings now will face his power and judgment later. How much better it is to love and follow Christ now than face his angry judgment later.

4:1ff In this chapter, God brings a charge of disobedience against Israel. The religious leaders had failed to turn the people to God, and ritual prostitution had replaced right worship. The nation had declined spiritually and morally, breaking the laws that God had given them. The people found it easy to condemn Hosea's wife for her adultery. They were not so quick to see that they had been unfaithful to God.

4:1-3 God explained the reasons for Israel's suffering. Their lawless behavior had brought the twin judgments of increased violence and ecological crisis. There is not always a direct cause-and-effect relationship between our actions and the problems we face. Nevertheless, when we are surrounded with difficulties, we should seriously ask, "Have I done anything sinful or irresponsible that has caused my suffering?" If we discover that we are at fault, even partially, we must change our ways before God will help us.

no acknowledgment of God in the land.
2 There is only cursing,[o] lying and murder, stealing[m] and adultery;
they break all bounds,
and bloodshed follows bloodshed.
3 Because of this the land mourns,[p]
and all who live in it waste away;
the beasts of the field and the birds of the air and the fish of the sea are dying.[n]

4 "But let no man bring a charge, let no man accuse another,
for your people are like those who bring charges against a priest.[o]
5 You stumble day and night, and the prophets stumble with you.
So I will destroy your mother[p]—
6 my people are destroyed from lack of knowledge.[q]

"Because you have rejected knowledge,
I also reject you as my priests;
because you have ignored the law[r] of your God,
I also will ignore your children.
7 The more the priests increased,
the more they sinned against me;
they exchanged[q] their[r] Glory for something disgraceful.[s] 8 They feed on the sins of my people and relish their wickedness.
9 And it will be: Like people, like priests.[t]
I will punish both of them for their ways and repay them for their deeds.[u]

10 "They will eat but not have enough;[v] they will engage in prostitution but not increase, because they have deserted[w] the LORD to give themselves 11 to prostitution, to old wine and new,

4:2 [m] Hos 7:1
4:3 [n] Zep 1:3
4:4 [o] Dt 17:12
4:5 [p] Hos 2:2
4:6 [q] Hos 2:13 [r] Hos 8:1, 12
4:7 [s] Hos 10:1, 6; 13:6
4:9 [t] Isa 24:2 [u] Jer 5:31; Hos 9:9, 15
4:10 [v] Lev 26:26; Mic 6:14 [w] Hos 7:14

[o] 2 That is, to pronounce a curse upon [p] 3 Or dries up [q] 7 Syriac and an ancient Hebrew scribal tradition; Masoretic Text I will exchange [r] 7 Masoretic Text; an ancient Hebrew scribal tradition my

4:2 This verse may allude to the assassinations of kings during Hosea's lifetime. Shallum killed Zechariah (the king, not the prophet) and took the throne. Then Menahem killed Shallum and destroyed an entire city because it refused to accept him as king (2 Kings 15:8–16). God pointed out that even murder was being taken casually in Israel.

4:4–9 Hosea leveled his charges against the religious leaders. Who were these religious leaders? When Jeroboam I rebelled against Solomon's son Rehoboam and set up a rival kingdom in the north, he also set up his own religious system (see 1 Kings 12:25–33). In violation of God's law, he made two golden calves and told the people to worship them. He also appointed his own priests, who were not descendants of Aaron. At first the residents of the northern kingdom continued to worship God, even though they were doing it in the wrong way, but very soon they also began to worship Canaanite gods. Before long they had substituted Baal for God and no longer worshiped God at all. It is not surprising that Jeroboam's false priests were unable to preserve the true worship of God.

4:6–9 God accused the religious leaders of keeping the people from knowing him ("destroyed from lack of knowledge"). They were supposed to be spiritual leaders, but they had become leaders in wrongdoing. The people may have said to one another, "It must be OK if the priests do it." Spiritual leadership is a heavy responsibility. Whether you teach a church school class, hold a church office, or lead a Bible study, don't take your leadership responsibilities lightly. Be a leader who leads others to God.

4:8 The priests relished the people's sins. Every time a person brought a sin offering, the priest received a portion of it. The more the people sinned, the more the priests received. Because they couldn't eat all of the offerings themselves, they sold some and gave some to their relatives. The priests profited from the continuation of sin; it gave them power and position in the community. So instead of trying to lead the people out of sin, they encouraged sin to increase their profits.

4:10–12 The chief Canaanite gods, Baal and Asherah, represented the power of fertility and sexual reproduction. Not surprisingly, their worship included rituals with vile sexual practices. Male worshipers had sex with female temple prostitutes, or priestesses, and young women wishing to bear children had sex with male priests. But God said their efforts to increase fertility would not succeed.

which take away the understanding [12]of my people.
They consult a wooden idol[x]
and are answered by a stick of wood.
A spirit of prostitution leads them astray;
they are unfaithful to their God.
[13]They sacrifice on the mountaintops and burn offerings on the hills, under oak, poplar and terebinth,
where the shade is pleasant.
Therefore your daughters turn to prostitution and your daughters-in-law to adultery.[y]

4:12 [x] Jer 2:27

4:13 [y] Hos 2:13

[14]"I will not punish your daughters when they turn to prostitution, nor your daughters-in-law
when they commit adultery, because the men themselves consort with harlots and sacrifice with shrine prostitutes—
a people without understanding will come to ruin!

[15]"Though you commit adultery, O Israel, let not Judah become guilty.

"Do not go to Gilgal;[z]
do not go up to Beth Aven.[s]
And do not swear, 'As surely as the LORD lives!'
[16]The Israelites are stubborn, like a stubborn heifer.
How then can the LORD pasture them like lambs in a meadow?
[17]Ephraim is joined to idols;
leave him alone!
[18]Even when their drinks are gone,
they continue their prostitution;
their rulers dearly love shameful ways.
[19]A whirlwind[a] will sweep them away,
and their sacrifices will bring them shame.

4:15 [z] Hos 9:15; 12:11

4:19 [a] Hos 12:1

Judgment Against Israel

5 "Hear this, you priests!
Pay attention, you Israelites!
Listen, O royal house!
This judgment is against you:
You have been a snare[b] at Mizpah,

5:1 [b] Hos 6:9

[s] 15 Beth Aven means house of wickedness (a name for Bethel, which means house of God).

4:12 The "stick of wood," or divining rod, was a way of attempting to tell the future. By divorcing themselves from God's authoritative religion centered in Jerusalem, inhabitants of the northern kingdom had effectively cut themselves off from God's word and from his way of forgiveness. The drive to be free from all restrictions can move us completely out of God's will.

4:15 God sent a warning to the southern kingdom of Judah that its priests should not become like those in Israel. Israel's priests who remained in the north had forgotten their spiritual heritage and had sold out to Baal. They were promoting idol worship and ritual prostitution. Israel would not escape punishment, but Judah could if it refused to follow Israel's example.

4:17 Ephraim is another name for Israel, the northern kingdom, because Ephraim was the most powerful of the ten tribes in the north. In the same way, the southern kingdom was called Judah after its most powerful tribe.

4:19 The whirlwind that would sweep Israel away referred to the Assyrian invasion that would destroy the nation about 20 years later.

5:1, 2 Mizpah and Tabor may have been sites prominent in the false worship of Baal. The leaders likely even encouraged the people to sin at these places. With both their civil and religious leaders hopelessly corrupt, the people of Israel did not have much of a chance. They looked to their leaders for guidance, and they should have found it. Today we can often choose our own leaders, but we still need to be aware of whether they are taking us toward or away from God. God held the people responsible for what they did. Similarly, God holds us responsible for our actions and choices.

a net spread out on Tabor.
2The rebels are deep in slaughter.
I will discipline all of them.
3I know all about Ephraim;
Israel is not hidden from me.
Ephraim, you have now turned to prostitution;
Israel is corrupt.

4"Their deeds do not permit them to return to their God.
A spirit of prostitution[c] is in their heart;
they do not acknowledge the LORD.
5Israel's arrogance testifies against them;
the Israelites, even Ephraim, stumble in their sin;
Judah also stumbles with them.
6When they go with their flocks and herds to seek the LORD,[d]
they will not find him;
he has withdrawn himself from them.
7They are unfaithful[e] to the LORD;
they give birth to illegitimate children.
Now their New Moon festivals will devour[f] them and their fields.

8"Sound the trumpet in Gibeah, the horn in Ramah.[g]
Raise the battle cry in Beth Aven[t]; lead on, O Benjamin.
9Ephraim will be laid waste on the day of reckoning.
Among the tribes of Israel
I proclaim what is certain.[h] 10Judah's leaders are like those who move boundary stones.[i] I will pour out my wrath on them like a flood of water.
11Ephraim is oppressed,
trampled in judgment,
intent on pursuing idols.[u j] 12I am like a moth to Ephraim, like rot to the people of Judah.

13"When Ephraim saw his sickness, and Judah his sores,
then Ephraim turned to Assyria,[k]
and sent to the great king for help.
But he is not able to cure you,
not able to heal your sores.

5:4 [c] Hos 4:11
5:6 [d] Mic 6:6-7
5:7 [e] Hos 6:7 [f] Hos 2:11-12
5:8 [g] Isa 10:29
5:9 [h] Isa 46:10
5:10 [i] Dt 19:14
5:11 [j] Mic 6:16
5:13 [k] Hos 7:11

[t] 8 Beth Aven means house of wickedness (a name for Bethel, which means house of God). [u] 11 The meaning of the Hebrew for this word is uncertain.

5:4 Persistent sin hardens a person's heart, making it difficult to repent. Deliberately choosing to disobey God can sear the conscience; each sin makes the next one easier to commit. Don't allow sin to groove a hard path deep within you. Steer as far away from sinful practices as possible.

5:8 Gibeah and Ramah were Israelite cities near Jerusalem. Hosea prophesied that these cities would sound the alarm of the coming judgment.

5:10 Those who "move boundary stones" are guilty of a serious crime (Deuteronomy 27:17). Hosea was saying that the leaders of Judah were like those who cheat people by moving the boundary stones on their land (see Deuteronomy 19:14).

5:13 During the reigns of Menahem and Hoshea, Israel turned to Assyria for help (2 Kings 15:19, 20; 17:3, 4). But even the great world powers of that time could not help Israel, for God himself had determined to judge the nation. If we neglect God's call to repentance, how can we escape? (See Hebrews 2:3.)

14For I will be like a lion to Ephraim, like a great lion to Judah.
I will tear them to pieces and go away;
I will carry them off, with no one to rescue them.[l] 15Then I will go back to my place until they admit their guilt.
And they will seek my face;
in their misery[m] they will earnestly seek me."

5:14 [l]Mic 5:8

5:15 [m]Jer 2:27

2. Israel's punishment

Israel Unrepentant

6 "Come, let us return to the LORD.
He has torn us to pieces[n]
but he will heal us;
he has injured us
but he will bind up our wounds.[o] 2After two days he will revive us;
on the third day he will restore us,
that we may live in his presence.
3Let us acknowledge the LORD;
let us press on to acknowledge him.
As surely as the sun rises,
he will appear;
he will come to us like the winter rains,[p]
like the spring rains that water the earth."

6:1 [n]Hos 5:14
[o]Dt 32:39

6:3 [p]Joel 2:23

4"What can I do with you, Ephraim?[q]
What can I do with you, Judah?
Your love is like the morning mist,
like the early dew that disappears.
5Therefore I cut you in pieces with my prophets,
I killed you with the words of my mouth;
my judgments flashed like lightning upon you.
6For I desire mercy, not sacrifice,[r] and acknowledgment of God rather than burnt offerings.
7Like Adam,[v] they have broken the covenant—
they were unfaithful[s] to me there.
8Gilead is a city of wicked men,

6:4 [q]Hos 11:8

6:6 [r]Isa 1:11; Mt 9:13*

6:7 [s]Hos 5:7

[v] 7 Or As at Adam; or Like men

6:1–3 This is presumption, not genuine repentance. The people did not understand the depth of their sins. They did not turn from idols, regret their sins, or pledge to make changes. They thought that God's wrath would last only a few days; little did they know that their nation would soon be taken into exile. Israel was interested in God only for the material benefits he provided; they did not value the eternal benefits that come from worshiping him. Before judging Israel, however, consider your attitude. What do you hope to gain from your religion? Do you "repent" easily, without seriously considering what changes need to take place in your life?

6:4 God answered his people, pointing out that their profession of loyalty, like mist and dew, evaporated easily and had no substance. Many find it easy and comfortable to maintain the appearance of being committed without deep and sincere loyalty. If you profess loyalty to God, back it up with your actions.

6:6 Religious rituals can help people understand God and nourish their relationship with him. That is why God instituted circumcision and the sacrificial system in the Old Testament and baptism and the Lord's Supper in the New Testament. But a religious ritual is helpful only if it is carried out with an attitude of love for and obedience to God. If a person's heart is far from God, ritual will become empty mockery. God didn't want the Israelites' rituals; he wanted their hearts. Why do you worship? What is the motive behind your "offerings" and "sacrifices"?

6:7 One of Hosea's key themes is that Israel had broken the covenant God had made with them at Mount Sinai (Exodus 19; 20). God wanted to make Israel a blessing and a light to all the nations (Genesis 12:2, 3; Isaiah 49:6); and if God's chosen people obeyed him and proclaimed him to the world, he would give them special blessings. If they broke the covenant, however, they would suffer severe penalties, as they should have known (see Deuteronomy 28:15–68). Sadly, the people broke the agreement and proved themselves unfaithful to God. How about you? Have you also broken faith with God? What about your forgotten promises to serve him?

6:8, 9 Gilead was once a sacred place, but here it was corrupt. Shechem was once a city of refuge designated by Joshua (Joshua 20:1, 2, 7, 8); Gilead was a region that included Ramoth, also a city of refuge. At this time these areas were associated with murder and crime, with bands of evil priests lying in wait to murder stained with footprints of blood.

9As marauders lie in ambush for a man,
so do bands of priests;
they murder on the road to Shechem, committing shameful crimes.
6:10 [t]Jer 5:30
10I have seen a horrible[t] thing in the house of Israel.
There Ephraim is given to prostitution and Israel is defiled.

11"Also for you, Judah,
6:11 [u]Joel 3:13
a harvest[u] is appointed.

"Whenever I would restore the fortunes of my people, 7 1whenever I would heal Israel, the sins of Ephraim are exposed 7:1 [v]Hos 6:4 [w]Hos 4:2
and the crimes of Samaria revealed.[v]
They practice deceit, thieves break into houses,[w]
bandits rob in the streets; 2but they do not realize that I remember all their evil deeds.
7:2 [x]Jer 2:19
Their sins engulf them;[x]
they are always before me.

3"They delight the king with their wickedness,
7:3 [y]Mic 7:3
the princes with their lies.[y]
7:4 [z]Jer 9:2
4They are all adulterers,[z] burning like an oven whose fire the baker need not stir from the kneading of the dough till it rises.
5On the day of the festival of our king
7:5 [a]Isa 28:1, 7
the princes become inflamed with wine,[a]
and he joins hands with the mockers.
6Their hearts are like an oven;

OBEDIENCE VERSUS SACRIFICES
God says many times that he doesn't want our gifts and sacrifices when we give them out of ritual or hypocrisy. God wants us first to love and obey him.

1 Samuel 15:22, 23	Obedience is far better than sacrifice.
Psalm 40:6–8	God doesn't want burnt offerings; he wants our lifelong service.
Psalm 51:16–19	God isn't interested in penance; he wants a broken and contrite heart.
Jeremiah 7:21–23	It isn't sacrifices God wants; he desires our obedience and promises that he will be our God and we will be his people.
Hosea 6:6	God doesn't want sacrifices; he wants our loving loyalty. He doesn't want offerings; he wants us to acknowledge him.
Amos 5:21–24	God hates pretense and hypocrisy; he wants to see justice roll on like a river.
Micah 6:6–8	God is not satisfied with offerings; he wants us to be fair and just and merciful, and to walk humbly with him.
Matthew 9:13	God doesn't want sacrifices; he wants us to be merciful.

---

travelers passing through the territory.

6:11 So that Judah would not become proud as they saw the northern kingdom's destruction, Hosea interjected a solemn warning about God's "harvest." God's temple was in Judah (Jerusalem), and the people thought that what happened in Israel could never happen to them. But when they had become utterly corrupt, they too were led off into captivity (see 2 Kings 25).

7:1, 2 God sees and knows everything. Like Israel, we often forget this. Thoughts like "No one will ever know," or "No one is watching" may tempt us to try to get away with sin. If you are facing difficult temptations, you will be less likely to give in if you remind yourself that God is watching. When faced with the opportunity to sin, remember that God sees everything.

they approach him with intrigue.
Their passion smolders all night;
in the morning it blazes like a flaming fire.
7 All of them are hot as an oven;
they devour their rulers.
All their kings fall,
and none of them calls on me.

8 "Ephraim mixes[b] with the nations;
Ephraim is a flat cake not turned over.
9 Foreigners sap his strength,[c]
but he does not realize it.
His hair is sprinkled with gray,
but he does not notice.
10 Israel's arrogance testifies against him,[d] but despite all this he does not return to the LORD his God or search[e] for him.

11 "Ephraim is like a dove, easily deceived and senseless —
now calling to Egypt,
now turning to Assyria.
12 When they go, I will throw my net[f] over them;
I will pull them down like birds of the air.
When I hear them flocking together,
I will catch them.
13 Woe to them,
because they have strayed from me!
Destruction to them,
because they have rebelled against me!
I long to redeem them
but they speak lies against me.
14 They do not cry out to me from their hearts[g]
but wail upon their beds.
They gather together[w] for grain and new wine
but turn away from me.
15 I trained them and strengthened them,
but they plot evil[h] against me.
16 They do not turn to the Most High;
they are like a faulty bow.
Their leaders will fall by the sword

7:8 [b] Ps 106:35
7:9 [c] Hos 8:7
7:10 [d] Hos 5:5 [e] Isa 9:13
7:12 [f] Eze 12:13
7:14 [g] Jer 3:10
7:15 [h] Na 1:9, 11

[w] 14 Most Hebrew manuscripts; some Hebrew manuscripts and Septuagint They slash themselves

7:7 "Hot as an oven" refers to the lust for power and intrigue that was burning in these leaders' hearts. Three Israelite kings were assassinated during Hosea's lifetime – Zechariah, Shallum, and Pekahiah (2 Kings 15:8–26). The kings' foreign relations and domestic lives were ruined because they ignored God and his word.

7:8 The people of Israel had intermarried with foreign people and had picked up their evil ways. When we spend a lot of time with people, we can easily pick up their attitudes and begin to imitate their actions. When you work, live, or play with unbelievers, beware of the influence they may have on you. Instead of drifting into bad habits, see if you can have a positive influence and point these people to God.

7:10 Arrogance (pride) keeps a person from returning to God because arrogance acknowledges no need of help from anyone, human or divine. Pride intensifies all our other sins because we cannot repent of any of them without first giving up our pride.

7:11 Israel's King Menahem had paid Assyria to support him in power (2 Kings 15:19, 20); King Hoshea turned against Assyria and went to Egypt for help (2 Kings 17:4). Israel's kings went back and forth, allying themselves with different nations when they should have allied themselves with God.

7:16 A faulty bow is unreliable. Its arrows miss the target, and its owner would be quite vulnerable in battle. Life without God is as unreliable as a faulty bow. Without God's direction, our thoughts are filled with lust, cheating, selfishness, and deceit. As long as we are warped by sin, we will never reach our true potential.

7:16 People look everywhere except to God for happiness and fulfillment, pursuing possessions, activities, and relationships. In reality, only God can truly satisfy the deep longings of the soul. Look first to heaven, to the Most High God. He will meet your spiritual needs, not all your materialistic wants.

because of their insolent words.
For this they will be ridiculed in the land of Egypt.[i]

7:16 [i]Hos 9:3

Israel to Reap the Whirlwind

8 "Put the trumpet to your lips!
An eagle[j] is over the house of the LORD because the people have broken my covenant and rebelled against my law.[k] 2Israel cries out to me,
'O our God, we acknowledge you!'
3But Israel has rejected what is good;
an enemy will pursue him.
4They set up kings without my consent;
they choose princes without my approval.
With their silver and gold
they make idols for themselves to their own destruction.
5Throw out your calf-idol, O Samaria!
My anger burns against them.
How long will they be incapable of purity?[l]
6 They are from Israel!
This calf — a craftsman has made it;
it is not God.
It will be broken in pieces, that calf of Samaria.

7"They sow the wind and reap the whirlwind.[m]
The stalk has no head;
it will produce no flour.
Were it to yield grain, foreigners would swallow it up.
8Israel is swallowed up;[n]
now she is among the nations like a worthless thing.
9For they have gone up to Assyria like a wild donkey wandering alone.
Ephraim has sold herself to lovers.
10Although they have sold themselves among the nations,
I will now gather them together.[o]
They will begin to waste away under the oppression of the mighty king.

11"Though Ephraim built many altars for sin offerings,

8:1 [j]Jer 4:13 [k]Hos 4:6

8:5 [l]Jer 13:27

8:7 [m]Pr 22:8

8:8 [n]Jer 51:34

8:10 [o]Eze 16:37

8:1–4 "An eagle is over the house of the LORD" referred to Assyria coming to attack Israel and take the people into captivity (2 Kings 15:28, 29). The people would call to God, but it would be too late because they had stubbornly refused to give up their idols. We, like Israel, often call on God to ease our pain without wanting him to change our behavior. And we, like Israel, may repent after it is too late to avoid the painful consequences of sin.

8:5 Samaria was the capital of the northern kingdom, and sometimes it stands for the whole kingdom of Israel. Jeroboam I had set up worship of calf-idols at Bethel and Dan and had encouraged the people to worship them (1 Kings 12:25–33). Thus the people were worshiping the image of a created animal rather than the Creator.

