The Jewish nature of Matthew's Gospel may suggest that it was written in Palestine, though many think it may have originated in Syrian Antioch. Some have argued on the basis of its Jewish characteristics that it was written in the early church period, possibly the early part of A.D. 50, when the church was largely Jewish and the gospel was preached to Jews only (Ac 11:19). However, those who have concluded that both Matthew and Luke drew extensively from Mark's Gospel date it later—after the Gospel of Mark had been in circulation for a period of time. See chart on "Dating the Synoptic Gospels," p. 1431. Accordingly, some feel that Matthew would have been written in the late 50s or in the 60s. Others, who assume that Mark was written between 65 and 70, place Matthew in the 70s or even later.

Recipients

Since his Gospel was written in Greek, Matthew's readers were obviously Greek-speaking. They also seem to have been Jews. Many elements point to Jewish readership: Matthew's concern with fulfillment of the OT (he has more quotations from and allusions to the OT than any other NT author); his tracing of Jesus' descent from Abraham (1:1–17); his lack of explanation of Jewish customs (especially in contrast to Mark); his use of Jewish terminology (e.g., "kingdom of heaven" and "Father in heaven," where "heaven" reveals the Jewish reverential reluctance to use the name of God); his emphasis on Jesus' role as "Son of David" (1:1; 9:27; 12:23; 15:22; 20:30–31; 21:9,15; 22:41–45). This does not mean, however, that Matthew restricts his Gospel to Jews. He records the coming of the Magi (non-Jews) to worship the infant Jesus (2:1–12), as well as Jesus' statement that the "field is the world" (13:38). He also gives a full statement of the Great Commission (28:18–20). These passages show that, although Matthew's Gospel is Jewish, it has a universal outlook.

Purpose

Matthew's main purpose is to prove to his Jewish readers that Jesus is their Messiah. He does this primarily by showing how Jesus in his life and ministry fulfilled the OT Scriptures. Although all the Gospel writers quote the OT, Matthew includes nine additional proof texts (1:22–23; 2:15; 2:17–18; 2:23; 4:14–16; 8:17; 12:17–21; 13:35; 27:9–10) to drive home his basic theme: Jesus is the fulfillment of the OT predictions of the Messiah. Matthew even finds the history of God's people in the OT recapitulated in some aspects of Jesus' life (see, e.g., his quotation of Hos 11:1 in 2:15). To accomplish his purpose Matthew also emphasizes Jesus' Davidic lineage (see Recipients above).

Structure

The way the material is arranged reveals an artistic touch. The whole Gospel is woven around five great discourses: (1) chs. 5—7; (2) ch. 10; (3) ch. 13; (4) ch. 18; (5) chs. 24—25. That this is deliberate is clear from the refrain that concludes each discourse: "When Jesus had finished saying these things," or similar words (7:28; 11:1; 13:53; 19:1; 26:1). The narrative sections, in each case, appropriately lead up to the discourses. The Gospel has a fitting prologue (chs. 1—2) and a challenging epilogue (28:16–20).

The fivefold division may suggest that Matthew has modeled his book on the structure of the Pentateuch (the first five books of the OT). He may also be presenting the gospel as a new Torah and Jesus as a new and greater Moses.

The Genealogy of Jesus

1:1–17pp — Lk 3:23–38
1:3–6pp — Ru 4:18–22
1:7–11pp — 1Ch 3:10–17

1 A record of the genealogy of Jesus Christ the son of David,[a] the son of Abraham:[b]

[2]Abraham was the father of Isaac,[c]
Isaac the father of Jacob,[d] Jacob the father of Judah and his brothers,[e]
[3]Judah the father of Perez and Zerah, whose mother was Tamar,[f]
Perez the father of Hezron,
Hezron the father of Ram,
[4]Ram the father of Amminadab,
Amminadab the father of Nahshon,
Nahshon the father of Salmon,
[5]Salmon the father of Boaz, whose mother was Rahab,[g]
Boaz the father of Obed, whose mother was Ruth,
Obed the father of Jesse,
[6]and Jesse the father of King David.[h]

David was the father of Solomon, whose mother had been Uriah's wife,[i] [7]Solomon the father of Rehoboam, Rehoboam the father of Abijah, Abijah the father of Asa,
[8]Asa the father of Jehoshaphat,
Jehoshaphat the father of Jehoram,
Jehoram the father of Uzziah,
[9]Uzziah the father of Jotham, Jotham the father of Ahaz,
Ahaz the father of Hezekiah,
[10]Hezekiah the father of Manasseh,[j]
Manasseh the father of Amon,
Amon the father of Josiah,
[11]and Josiah the father of Jeconiah[a] and his brothers at the time of the exile to Babylon.[k]

[12]After the exile to Babylon:
Jeconiah was the father of Shealtiel,[l]
Shealtiel the father of Zerubbabel,[m]
[13]Zerubbabel the father of Abiud,
Abiud the father of Eliakim,
Eliakim the father of Azor,
[14]Azor the father of Zadok,
Zadok the father of Akim,
Akim the father of Eliud,
[15]Eliud the father of Eleazar,
Eleazar the father of Matthan,
Matthan the father of Jacob,
[16]and Jacob the father of Joseph, the husband of Mary,[n] of whom was born Jesus, who is called Christ.[o]

[17]Thus there were fourteen generations in all from Abraham to David, fourteen from David to the exile to Babylon, and fourteen from the exile to the Christ.[b]

The Birth of Jesus Christ

[18]This is how the birth of Jesus Christ came about: His mother Mary was

[a] 11 That is, Jehoiachin; also in verse 12 [b] 17 Or Messiah. "The Christ" (Greek) and "the Messiah" (Hebrew) both mean "the Anointed One."

1:1–16 For a comparison of Matthew's genealogy with Luke's see note on Lk 3:23–38. The types of people mentioned in this genealogy reveal the broad scope of those who make up the people of God as well as the genealogy of Jesus.

1:1 the son of David. A Messianic title (see note on 9:27) found several times in this Gospel (in 1:20 it is not a Messianic title). the son of Abraham. Because Matthew was writing to Jews, it was important to identify Jesus in this way.

1:3 Tamar. In Matthew's genealogy four women are named: Tamar (here), Rahab (v. 5), Ruth (v. 5) and Bathsheba (not by name but by description—"Solomon, whose mother had been Uriah's wife," v. 6). At least three of these women were Gentiles (Tamar, Rahab and Ruth). Bathsheba was probably an Israelite (1Ch 3:5) but was closely associated with the Hittites because of Uriah, her Hittite husband. By including these women (contrary to custom) in his genealogy, Matthew may be indicating at the very outset of his Gospel that God's activity is not limited to men or the people of Israel.

1:4 Amminadab. Father-in-law of Aaron (Ex 6:23).

1:5 Rahab. See Jos 2. Since quite a long time had elapsed between Rahab and David and because of Matthew's desire for systematic organization (see note on v. 17), many of the generations between these two ancestors were assumed, but not listed, by Matthew.

1:8 Jehoram the father. Matthew calls Jehoram the father of Uzziah, but from 2Ch 21:4–26:23 it is clear that, again, several generations were assumed (Ahaziah, Joash and Amaziah) and that "father" is used in the sense of "forefather."

1:11 Josiah the father. Similarly (see note on v. 8), Josiah is called the father of Jeconiah (i.e., Jehoiachin; see NIV text note), whereas he was actually the father of Jehoiakim and the grandfather of Jehoiachin (2Ch 36:1–9).

1:12 Shealtiel the father. See note on 1Ch 3:19.

1:16 Matthew does not say that Joseph was the father of Jesus but only that he was the husband of Mary and that Jesus was born of her. In this genealogy Matthew shows that, although Jesus is not the physical son of Joseph, he is the legal son and therefore a descendant of David.

1:17 fourteen generations ... fourteen ... fourteen. These divisions reflect two characteristics of Matthew's Gospel: (1) an apparent fondness for numbers and (2) concern for systematic arrangement. The number 14 may have been chosen because it is twice seven (the number of completeness) and/or because it is the numerical value of the name David (see note on Rev 13:17). For the practice of telescoping genealogies to achieve the desired number of names see Introduction to 1 Chronicles: Genealogies.

1:18 pledged to be married. There were no sexual relations during a Jewish betrothal period, but it was a much more binding relationship than a modern engagement and could be broken only by divorce (see v. 19). In Dt 22:24 a betrothed woman is called a "wife," though the preceding pledged to be married to Joseph, but before they came together, she was found to be with child through the Holy Spirit.[p] [19]Because Joseph her husband was a righteous man and did not want to expose her to public disgrace, he had in mind to divorce[q] her quietly.

[20]But after he had considered this, an angel[r] of the Lord appeared to him in a dream[s] and said, "Joseph son of David, do not be afraid to take Mary home as your wife, because what is conceived in her is from the Holy Spirit. [21]She will give birth to a son, and you are to give him the name Jesus,[ct] because he will save his people from their sins."[u]

[22]All this took place to fulfill[v] what the Lord had said through the prophet: [23]"The virgin will be with child and will give birth to a son, and they will call him Immanuel"[dw]—which means, "God with us."

[24]When Joseph woke up, he did what the angel[x] of the Lord had commanded him and took Mary home as his wife. [25]But he had no union with her until she gave birth to a son. And he gave him the name Jesus.[y]

The Visit of the Magi

2 After Jesus was born in Bethlehem in Judea,[z] during the time of King Herod,[a] Magi[e] from the east came to Jerusalem [2]and asked, "Where is the one who has been born king of the Jews?[b] We saw his star[c] in the east[f] and have come to worship him."

[3]When King Herod heard this he was disturbed, and all Jerusalem with him. [4]When he had called together all the people's chief priests and teachers of the law, he asked them where the Christ[g] was to be born. [5]"In Bethlehem[d] in Judea," they replied, "for this is what the prophet has written:

[6]" 'But you, Bethlehem, in the land of Judah,

[c]21 Jesus is the Greek form of Joshua, which means the LORD saves. [d]23 Isaiah 7:14 [e]1 Traditionally Wise Men [f]2 Or star when it rose [g]4 Or Messiah verse speaks of her as being "pledged to be married." Matthew uses the terms "husband" (v. 19) and "wife" (v. 24) of Joseph and Mary before they were married.

1:19 righteous. To Jews this meant being zealous in keeping the law. divorce her quietly. He would sign the necessary legal papers but not have her judged publicly and stoned (see Dt 22:23–24).

1:20 in a dream. The phrase occurs five times in the first two chapters of Matthew (here; 2:12–13,19,22) and indicates the means the Lord used for speaking to Joseph. son of David. Perhaps a hint that the message of the angel related to the expected Messiah. take Mary home as your wife. They were legally bound to each other, but not yet living together as husband and wife. what is conceived in her is from the Holy Spirit. This agrees perfectly with the announcement to Mary (Lk 1:35), except that the latter is more specific (see note on Lk 1:26–35).

1:22 fulfill. Twelve times (here; 2:15,23; 3:15; 4:14; 5:17; 8:17; 12:17; 13:14,35; 21:4; 27:9) Matthew speaks of the OT being fulfilled, i.e., of events in NT times that were prophesied in the OT—a powerful testimony to the divine origin of Scripture and its accuracy even in small details. In the fulfillments we also see the writer's concern for linking the gospel with the OT.

1:23 See note on Isa 7:14. This is the first of at least 47 quotations, most of them Messianic, that Matthew takes from the OT (see NIV text notes throughout Matthew).

1:25 he had no union with her until she gave birth. Both Matthew and Luke (1:26–35) make it clear that Jesus was born of a virgin. Although this doctrine is often ridiculed, it is an important part of the evangelical faith.

2:1 Bethlehem in Judea. A village about five miles south of Jerusalem. Matthew says nothing of the events in Nazareth (cf. Lk 1:26–56). Possibly wanting to emphasize Jesus' Davidic background, he begins with the events that happened in David's city. It is called "Bethlehem in Judea," not to distinguish it from the town of the same name about seven miles northwest of Nazareth, but to emphasize that Jesus came from the tribe and territory that produced the line of Davidic kings. That Jews expected the Messiah to be born in Bethlehem and to be from David's family is clear from Jn 7:42. King Herod. Herod the Great (37–4 B.C.), to be distinguished from the other Herods in the Bible (see chart on "House of Herod," p. 1438). Herod was a non-Jew, an Idumean, who was appointed king of Judea by the Roman Senate in 40 B.C. and gained control in 37. Like most rulers of the day, he was ruthless, murdering his wife, his three sons, mother-in-law, brother-in-law, uncle and many others—not to mention the babies in Bethlehem (v. 16). His reign was also noted for splendor, as seen in the many theaters, amphitheaters, monuments, pagan altars, fortresses and other buildings he erected or refurbished—including the greatest work of all, the rebuilding of the temple in Jerusalem, begun in 19 B.C. and finished 68 years after his death. Magi. Probably astrologers, perhaps from Persia or southern Arabia, both of which are east of the Holy Land. Jerusalem. Since they were looking for the "king of the Jews" (v. 2), they naturally came to the Jewish capital city (see map No. 8 at the end of the study Bible).

2:2 king of the Jews. Indicates the Magi were Gentiles. Matthew shows that people of all nations acknowledged Jesus as "king of the Jews" and came to worship him as Lord. star. Probably not an ordinary star, planet or comet, though some scholars have identified it with the conjunction of Jupiter and Saturn.

2:4 chief priests. Sadducees (see note on 3:7) who were in charge of worship at the temple in Jerusalem. teachers of the law. The Jewish scholars of the day, professionally trained in the development, teaching and application of OT law. Their authority was strictly human and traditional.

2:6 This prophecy from Micah had been given seven centuries earlier.

7Then Herod called the Magi secretly and found out from them the exact time the star had appeared. 8He sent them to Bethlehem and said, "Go and make a careful search for the child. As soon as you find him, report to me, so that I too may go and worship him."

9After they had heard the king, they went on their way, and the star they had seen in the east[i] went ahead of them until it stopped over the place where the child was. 10When they saw the star, they were overjoyed. 11On coming to the house, they saw the child with his mother Mary, and they bowed down and worshiped him.[f] Then they opened their treasures and presented him with gifts[g] of gold and of incense and of myrrh.
12And having been warned[h] in a dream[i] not to go back to Herod, they returned to their country by another route.

The Escape to Egypt

13When they had gone, an angel[j] of the Lord appeared to Joseph in a dream.[k] "Get up," he said, "take the child and his mother and escape to Egypt. Stay there until I tell you, for Herod is going to search for the child to kill him."[l]

14So he got up, took the child and his mother during the night and left for Egypt, 15where he stayed until the death of Herod. And so was fulfilled[m] what the Lord had said through the prophet:
"Out of Egypt I called my son."[jn]

16When Herod realized that he had been outwitted by the Magi, he was furious, and he gave orders to kill all the boys in Bethlehem and its vicinity who were two years old and under, in accordance with the time he had learned from the Magi. 17Then what was said through the prophet Jeremiah was fulfilled:[o]

18"A voice is heard in Ramah, weeping and great mourning,
Rachel[p] weeping for her children and refusing to be comforted, because they are no more."[kq]

The Return to Nazareth

19After Herod died, an angel[r] of the Lord appeared in a dream[s] to Joseph in Egypt 20and said, "Get up, take the child and his mother and go to the land of Israel, for those who were trying to take the child's life are dead."[t]

21So he got up, took the child and his mother and went to the land of Israel.
22But when he heard that Archelaus was reigning in Judea in place of his father Herod, he was afraid to go there. Having been warned in a dream,[u] he withdrew to the district of Galilee,[v] 23and he went and lived in a town called Nazareth.[w] So was fulfilled[x] what was said through the prophets: "He will be called a Nazarene."[y]

2:11 house. Contrary to tradition, the Magi did not visit Jesus at the manger on the night of his birth as did the shepherds. They came some months later and visited him as a "child" in his "house." the child with his mother Mary. Every time the child Jesus and his mother are mentioned together, he is mentioned first (vv. 11,13–14,20–21). gold . . . incense . . . myrrh. The three gifts perhaps gave rise to the legend that there were three "wise men." But the Bible does not indicate the number of the Magi, and they were almost certainly not kings. myrrh. See note on Ge 37:25.

2:15 the death of Herod. In 4 B.C. Out of Egypt I called my son. This quotation from Hos 11:1 originally referred to God's calling the nation of Israel out of Egypt in the time of Moses. But Matthew, under the inspiration of the Spirit, applies it also to Jesus. He sees the history of Israel (God's children) recapitulated in the life of Jesus (God's unique Son). Just as Israel as an infant nation went down into Egypt, so the child Jesus went there. And as Israel was led by God out of Egypt, so also was Jesus. How long Jesus and his parents were in Egypt is not known.

2:16 kill all the boys . . . two years old and under. The number killed has often been exaggerated as being in the thousands. In so small a village as Bethlehem, however (even with the surrounding area included), the number was probably not large—though the act, of course, was no less brutal.

2:18 See note on Jer 31:15.

2:22 Archelaus. This son of Herod the Great ruled over Judea and Samaria for only ten years (4 B.C.-A.D. 6). He was unusually cruel and tyrannical and so was deposed. Judea then became a Roman province, administered by prefects appointed by the emperor. Galilee. The northern part of the Holy Land in Jesus' day.

2:23 Nazareth. A rather obscure town, nowhere mentioned in the OT. It was Jesus' hometown (21:11; 26:71; see Lk 2:39; 4:16–24; Jn 1:45–46). He will be called a Nazarene. These exact words are not found in the OT and probably refer to several OT prefigurations and/or predictions (note the plural, "prophets") that the Messiah would be despised (e.g., Ps 22:6; Isa 53:3), for in Jesus' day "Nazarene" was virtually a synonym for "despised" (see Jn 1:45–46). Some hold that in speaking of Jesus as a "Nazarene," Matthew is referring primarily to the word "Branch" (Hebrew neṣer) in Isa 11:1.

John the Baptist Prepares the Way

3:1–12pp — Mk 1:3–8; Lk 3:2–17

3 In those days John the Baptist[z] came, preaching in the Desert of Judea [2]and saying, "Repent, for the kingdom of heaven[a] is near." [3]This is he who was spoken of through the prophet Isaiah:

"A voice of one calling in the desert,
'Prepare the way for the Lord, make straight paths for him.' "[1b]

[4]John's[c] clothes were made of camel's hair, and he had a leather belt around his waist.[d] His food was locusts[e] and wild honey. [5]People went out to him from Jerusalem and all Judea and the whole region of the Jordan. [6]Confessing their sins, they were baptized[f] by him in the Jordan River.

3:1 John the Baptist. The forerunner of Jesus, born c. 7 B.C. to Zechariah, a priest, and his wife Elizabeth (see Lk 1:5–80). Desert of Judea. An area that stretched some 20 miles from the Jerusalem-Bethlehem plateau down to the Jordan River and the Dead Sea, perhaps the same region where John lived (cf. Lk 1:80). The people of Qumran (often associated with the Dead Sea Scrolls) lived in this area too.

3:2 Repent. Make a radical change in one's life as a whole. the kingdom of heaven. A phrase found only in Matthew, where it occurs 33 times. See Introduction: Recipients. Mark and Luke refer to "the kingdom of God," a term Matthew uses only four times (see note on Mk 11:30). The kingdom of heaven is the rule of God and is both a present reality and a future hope. The idea of God's kingdom is central to Jesus' teaching and is mentioned 50 times in Matthew alone.

3:3 All three Synoptic Gospels quote Isa 40:3 (Luke quotes two additional verses) and apply it to John the Baptist. make straight paths for him. Equivalent to "Prepare the way for the Lord" (see note on Lk 3:4). The preparation was to be moral and spiritual.

3:4 leather belt. Used to bind up the loose outer garments. locusts and wild honey. A man living in the desert did not hesitate to eat insects, and locusts were among the clean foods (Lev 11:21–22). John's simple food, clothing and life-style were a visual protest against self-indulgence.

3:6 Jordan River. See note on Mk 1:5.

7But when he saw many of the Pharisees and Sadducees coming to where he was baptizing, he said to them: "You brood of vipers![g] Who warned you to flee from the coming wrath?[h] 8Produce fruit in keeping with repentance.[i] 9And do not think you can say to yourselves, 'We have Abraham as our father.'[j] I tell you that out of these stones God can raise up children for Abraham. 10The ax is already at the root of the trees, and every tree that does not produce good fruit will be cut down and thrown into the fire.[k]

11"I baptize you with[m] water for repentance.[l] But after me will come one who is more powerful than I, whose sandals I am not fit to carry. He will baptize you with the Holy Spirit[m] and with fire.[n] 12His winnowing fork is in his hand, and he will clear his threshing floor, gathering his wheat into the barn and burning up the chaff with unquenchable fire."[o]

The Baptism of Jesus

3:13–17pp — Mk 1:9–11; Lk 3:21,22; Jn 1:31–34

13Then Jesus came from Galilee to the Jordan to be baptized by John.[p] 14But John tried to deter him, saying, "I need to be baptized by you, and do you come to me?"

15Jesus replied, "Let it be so now; it is proper for us to do this to fulfill all righteousness." Then John consented.

16As soon as Jesus was baptized, he went up out of the water. At that moment heaven was opened,[q] and he saw the Spirit of God[r] descending like a dove and lighting on him. 17And a voice from heaven[s] said, "This is my Son,[t] whom I love; with him I am well pleased."[u]

The Temptation of Jesus

[m]11 Or in

3:7 Pharisees and Sadducees. The Pharisees (see notes on Mk 2:16; Lk 5:17) were a legalistic and separatistic group who strictly, but often hypocritically, kept the law of Moses and the unwritten "tradition of the elders" (15:2). The Sadducees (see notes on Mk 12:18; Lk 20:27; Ac 4:1) were more worldly and politically minded, and were theologically unorthodox—among other things denying the resurrection, angels and spirits (Ac 23:8). baptizing. See note on Mk 1:4. the coming wrath. The arrival of the Messiah will bring repentance or judgment.

3:9 We have Abraham as our father. See Jn 8:39. Salvation does not come as a birthright (even for the Jews) but through faith in Christ (Ro 2:28–29; Gal 3:7,9,29). these stones. John may have pointed to the stones in the Jordan River. children for Abraham. The true people of God are not limited to the physical descendants of Abraham (cf. Ro. 9:6)

3:10 The ax is already at the root of the trees. Judgment is near.

3:11 with water for repentance. John's baptism presupposed repentance, and he would not baptize the Pharisees and Sadducees because they failed to give any evidence of repentance (vv. 7–8). carry. Mark (1:7) and Luke (3:16) have "untie," but the Greek for "carry" can also mean "remove." with the Holy Spirit and with fire. Demonstrated in a dramatic way at Pentecost (Ac 1:5,8; 2:1–13; 11:16), though here "fire" may refer to judgment to come (see v. 12). The outpouring of the Holy Spirit on all God's people was promised in Joel 2:28–29.

3:12 His winnowing fork. For the process of winnowing see note on Ru 1:22. Here it is figurative for the day of judgment at Christ's second coming. The OT prophets and NT writers sometimes compress the first and second comings of Christ so that they seem to be one event.

3:15 This occasion marked the beginning of Christ's Messianic ministry. There were several reasons for his baptism: 1. The first, mentioned here, was "to fulfill all righteousness." The baptism indicated that he was consecrated to God and officially approved by him, as especially shown in the descent of the Holy Spirit (v. 16) and the words of the Father (v. 17; cf. Ps 2:7; Isa 42:1). All God's righteous requirements for the Messiah were fully met in Jesus. 2. At Jesus' baptism John publicly announced the arrival of the Messiah and the inception of his ministry (Jn 1:31–34). 3. By his baptism Jesus completely identified himself with man's sin and failure (though he himself needed no repentance or cleansing from sin), becoming our substitute (2Co 5:21). 4. His baptism was an example to his followers.

3:16–17 All three persons of the Trinity are clearly seen here.

3:16 Spirit of God. The Holy Spirit came upon Jesus not to overcome sin (for he was sinless), but to equip him (see note on Jdg 3:10) for his work as the divine-human Messiah. like a dove. Either in the form of a dove or in a descent like a dove. See also note on Mk 1:10.

3:17 a voice from heaven. The voice (1) authenticated Jesus' unique sonship and echoes Ps 2:7 ("This is my Son"), (2) identified Jesus with the suffering servant of Isa 42:1 ("whom I love"), and (3) offered the Father's support of Jesus in his mission ("with him I am well pleased"). This word from the Father must have tremendously encouraged Jesus at the very outset of his earthly ministry. I am well pleased. The tense of the Greek verb used here is timeless. God has always been and always will be pleased with his Son.

4:1–11 The significance of Jesus' temptations, especially because they occurred at the outset of his public ministry, seems best understood in terms of the kind of Messiah he was to be. He would not accomplish his mission by using his supernatural power for his own needs (first temptation), by using his power to win a large following by miracles or magic (second temptation) or by compromising with Satan (third temptation). Jesus had no inward desire or inclination to sin, for these in themselves are sin (Mt 5:22,28). Because he was God he did not sin in any way, whether by actions or word or inner desire (2Co 5:21; Heb 7:26; 1Pe 2:22; 1Jn 3:5). Yet Jesus' temptation was real, not merely symbolic. He was "tempted in every way, just as we are—yet was without sin" (Heb 4:15). He was confronted by the tempter with a real opportunity to sin. Although Jesus was the Son of God, he defeated Satan by using a weapon that everyone has at his or her disposal: the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God (Eph 6:17). He met all three temptations with Scriptural truth (vv. 4,7,10) from Deuteronomy.

4:1 led by the Spirit ... to be tempted. This testing of Jesus (the Greek verb translated "tempted" can also be rendered "tested"), which was divinely intended, has as its primary background Dt 8:1–5, from which Jesus also quotes in his first reply to the devil (see v. 4 and NIV text note). There Moses recalls how the Lord led the Israelites in the desert 40 years "to humble you and test you in order to know what was in your heart, whether or not you would keep his commands." Here at the beginning of his ministry Jesus is subjected to a similar test and shows himself to be the true Israelite who lives "on every word that comes from the mouth of the LORD." And whereas Adam failed the great test and plunged the whole race into sin (Ge 3), Jesus was faithful and thus demonstrated his qualification to become the Savior of all who receive him. It was, moreover, important that Jesus be tested/tempted as Israel and we are, so that he could become our "merciful and faithful high priest" (Heb 2:17) and thus be "able to help those who are being tempted" (Heb 2:18; see Heb 4:15–16). Finally, as the one who remained faithful in temptation he became the model for all believers when they are tempted. tempted by the devil. God surely tests his people, but it is the devil who tempts to evil (see note on Ge 22:1; see also 1Jn 3:8; Rev 2:9–10 and notes; Rev 12:9–10). Like the Hebrew for "Satan," the Greek for "devil" means "accuser" or "slanderer." The devil is a personal being, not a mere force or influence. He is the great archenemy of God and the leader of the hosts of darkness.

4:2 forty days and forty nights. The number recalls the experiences of Moses (Ex 24:18; 34:28) and Elijah (1Ki 19:8), as well as the 40 years of Israel's temptation (testing) in the desert (Dt 8:2–3).

4:3 If you are the Son of God. Meaning "Since you are." The devil is not casting doubt on Jesus' divine sonship, but is tempting him to use his supernatural powers as the Son of God for his own ends.

4:4 Just as God gave the Israelites manna in a supernatural way (Dt 8:3), so also man must rely on God for spiritual feeding. Jesus relied on his Father, not his own miracle power, for provision of food.

4:5 See note on Lk 4:2. highest point of the temple. See note on Lk 4:9. temple. The temple, including the entire temple area, had been rebuilt by Herod the Great (see note on 2:1; see also Jn 2:20). The courtyard had been greatly enlarged, to about 330 by 500 yards. To accomplish this a huge platform had been erected to compensate for the sharp falling off of the land to the southeast. An enormous retaining wall made of massive stones was built to support

Jesus' Baptism and Temptation

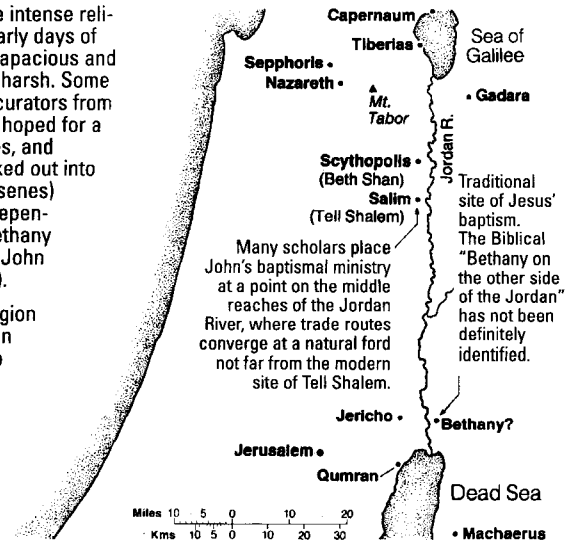
Events surrounding Jesus' baptism reveal the intense religious excitement and social ferment of the early days of John the Baptist's ministry. Herod had been rapacious and extravagant; Roman military occupation was harsh. Some agitation centered around the change of procurators from Gratus to Pilate in A.D. 26. Most of the people hoped for a religious solution to their low political fortunes, and when they heard of a new prophet, they flocked out into the desert to hear him. The religious sect (Essenes) from Qumran professed similar doctrines of repentance and baptism. Jesus was baptized at Bethany on the other side of the Jordan (see Jn 1:28). John also baptized at "Aenon near Salim" (Jn 3:23).

The temptation took place in (1) the desert region of the lower Jordan Valley, (2) a high mountain (possibly one of the abrupt cliffs near Jericho that present an unsurpassed panorama) and (3) the pinnacle of the temple, from which the priests sounded the trumpet to call the city's attention to important events.



high mountain and showed him all the kingdoms of the world and their splendor. 9"All this I will give you," he said, "if you will bow down and worship me."

10Jesus said to him, "Away from me, Satan![f] For it is written: 'Worship the Lord your God, and serve him only.'[g]"

11Then the devil left him,[h] and angels came and attended him.[i]

Jesus Begins to Preach

12When Jesus heard that John had been put in prison,[j] he returned to Galilee.[k] 13Leaving Nazareth, he went and lived in Capernaum,[l] which was by the lake in the area of Zebulun and Naphtali— 14to fulfill[m] what was said through the prophet Isaiah:

Jordan,
Galilee of the Gentiles—16the people living in darkness have seen a great light; on those living in the land of the a light has dawned."[n]

4:12 See map No. 9 at the end of the study Bible. John had been put in prison. See Mk 1:14 and note on Lk 3:20. The reason for John's imprisonment is given in 14:3–4.

4:13 Capernaum. Although not mentioned in the OT, it was evidently a sizable town in Jesus' day. Peter's house there became Jesus' base of operations during his extended ministry in Galilee (see Mk 2:1; 9:33). A fifth-century basilica now stands over the supposed site of Peter's house, and a fourth-century synagogue is located a short distance from it.

4:15–16 Another Messianic prophecy from Isaiah. Jesus spent most of his public ministry "in the area of Zebulun and Naphtali" (v. 13), which is north and west of the Sea of Galilee.

Herod's Temple

20 BC.–A.D. 70

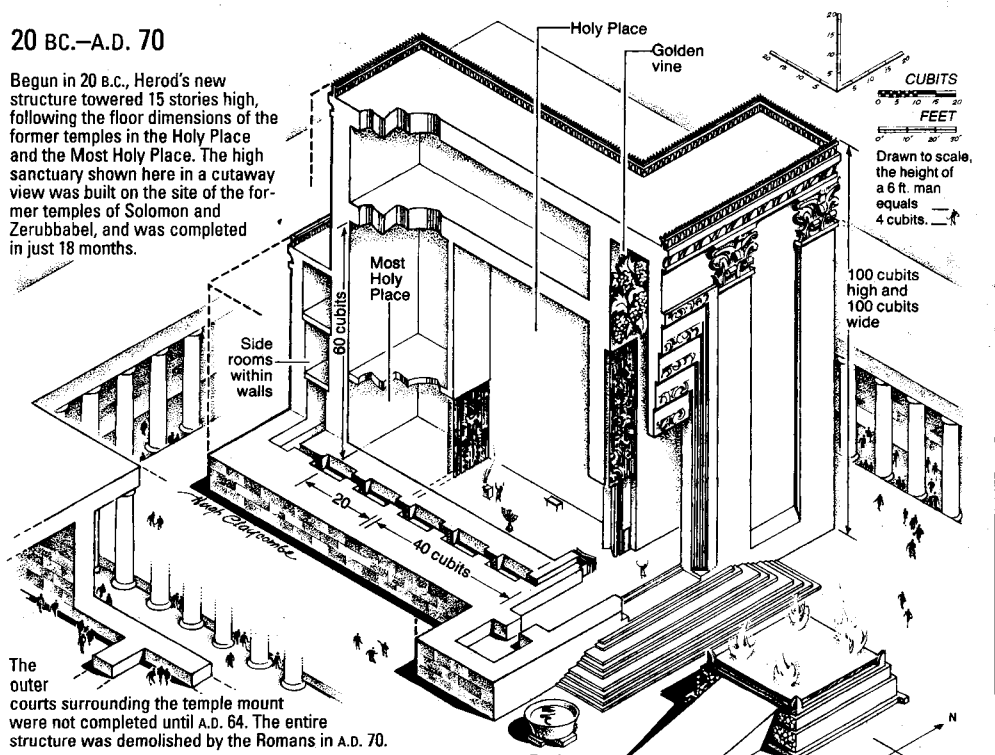
Begun in 20 B.C., Herod's new structure towered 15 stories high, following the floor dimensions of the former temples in the Holy Place and the Most Holy Place. The high sanctuary shown here in a cutaway view was built on the site of the former temples of Solomon and Zerubbabel, and was completed in just 18 months.



Dimensions of rooms, steps, doorways, cornices and exterior measurements are mentioned in history (Josephus and the Mishnah) but are subject to interpretation, and all drawings vary.

The Calling of the First Disciples

4:18–22pp — Mk 1:16–20; Lk 5:2–11; Jn 1:35–42

18As Jesus was walking beside the Sea of Galilee,[p] he saw two brothers, Simon called Peter[q] and his brother Andrew. They were casting a net into the lake, for they were fishermen. 19"Come, follow me,"[r] Jesus said, "and I will make you fishers of men." 20At once they left their nets and followed him.[s]

21Going on from there, he saw two other brothers, James son of Zebedee and his brother John.[t] They were in a boat with their father Zebedee, preparing their nets. Jesus called them, 22and immediately they left the boat and their father and followed him.[u]

Jesus Heals the Sick

23Jesus went throughout Galilee,[v] teaching in their synagogues,[w] preaching the good news[x] of the kingdom,[y] and healing every disease and sickness among the people.[z] 24News about him spread all over Syria,[a] and people brought to him all who were ill with various diseases, those suffering severe pain, the demon-possessed,[b] those having seizures,[c] and the paralyzed,[d] and he healed them. 25Large crowds from Galilee, the Decapolis,[s] Jerusalem, Judea and the region across the Jordan followed him.[e] on"). Some think these words mark the three main sections of the book. Repent. Jesus began his public ministry with the same message as that of John the Baptist (3:2). The people must repent because God's reign was drawing near in the person and ministry of Jesus Christ. Repentance is more than a change of mind or feeling sorry for one's sins. It is a radical and deliberate turning or returning to God that results in moral and ethical change and action. kingdom of heaven. See note on 3:2.

4:18 Sea of Galilee. See note on Mk 1:16. net. A circular casting net used either from a boat or while standing in shallow water.

4:19 fishers of men. Evangelism was at the heart of Jesus' call to his disciples.

4:20 See note on Mk 1:17.

4:21 preparing their nets. Washing, mending and hanging the nets up to dry in preparation for the next day's work.

4:23 teaching ... preaching ... healing. Jesus' threefold ministry. The synagogues (see note on Mk 1:21) provided a place for him to teach on the Sabbath. During the week he preached to larger crowds in the open air. good news. See note on Mk 1:1.

4:24 Syria. The area north of Galilee and between Damascus and the Mediterranean Sea. those having seizures. The Greek word for this expression originally meant "moonstruck" and reflects the ancient superstition that seizures were caused by changes of the moon. the paralyzed. A transliteration of the Greek that has come directly into English. Greek physicians were among the best in ancient times, and many of our medical terms come from their language.

4:25 the Decapolis. A league of free cities (see NIV text note) characterized by high Greek culture. All but one, Scythopolis (Beth Shan), were east of the Sea of Galilee and the Jordan River. The league stretched from a point northeast of the Sea of Galilee southward to Philadelphia (modern Amman).

5:1–7:29 The Sermon on the Mount is the first of five great discourses in Matthew (chs. 5–7; 10; 13; 18; 24–25). It contains three types of material: (1) beatitudes, i.e., declarations of blessedness (5:1–12), (2) ethical admonitions (5:13–20; 6:1–7:23) and (3) contrasts between Jesus' ethical teaching and Jewish legalistic traditions (5:21–48). The Sermon ends with a short parable stressing the importance of practicing what has just been taught (7:24–27) and an expression of amazement by the crowds at the authority with which Jesus spoke (7:28–29).

Opinion differs as to whether the Sermon is a summary of what Jesus taught on one occasion or a compilation of teachings presented on numerous occasions. Matthew possibly took a single sermon and expanded it with other relevant teachings of Jesus. Thirty-four of the verses in Matthew's Sermon occur in different contexts in Luke than the apparently parallel Sermon on the Plain (Lk 6:17–49).

The Sermon on the Mount's call to moral and ethical living is so high that some have dismissed it as being completely unrealistic or have projected its fulfillment to the future kingdom. There is no doubt, however, that Jesus (and Matthew) gave the Sermon as a standard for all Christians, realizing that its demands cannot be met in our own power. It is also true that Jesus occasionally used hyperbole to make his point (see, e.g., note on 5:29–30).

5:1 mountainside. The exact location is uncertain. It may have been the gently sloping hillside at the northwest corner of the Sea of Galilee, not far from Capernaum (see note on Lk 6:20–49). The new law, like the old (Ex 19:3), was given from a mountain. sat down. It was the custom for Jewish rabbis to be seated while teaching (see Mk 4:1; 9:35; Lk 4:20; 5:3; Jn 8:2). disciples. Lit. "learners." Since at the end of the Sermon the "crowds" expressed amazement at Jesus' teaching (7:28), "disciples" may here be used in a broader sense than the Twelve. Or perhaps the Sermon is addressed to the Twelve with the crowds also listening.

5:3 Blessed. The word means more than "happy," because happiness is an emotion often dependent on outward circumstances. "Blessed" here refers to the ultimate well-being and distinctive spiritual joy of those who share in the salvation of the kingdom of God. See notes on Ps 1:1; Rev 1:3. poor in spirit. In contrast to the spiritually proud and self-sufficient. theirs is the kingdom of heaven. The kingdom is not something earned. It is more a gift than a recompense.

[5]Blessed are the meek,
for they will inherit the earth.[h] [6]Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness, for they will be filled.[i] [7]Blessed are the merciful, for they will be shown mercy.[j] [8]Blessed are the pure in heart,[k] for they will see God.[l]
[9]Blessed are the peacemakers,[m] for they will be called sons of God.[n]
[10]Blessed are those who are persecuted because of righteousness,[o] for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.[p]

[11]"Blessed are you when people insult you,[q] persecute you and falsely say all kinds of evil against you because of me.[r] [12]Rejoice and be glad,[s] because great is your reward in heaven, for in the same way they persecuted the prophets who were before you.[t]

Salt and Light

[13]"You are the salt of the earth. But if the salt loses its saltiness, how can it be made salty again? It is no longer good for anything, except to be thrown out and trampled by men.[u]

[14]"You are the light of the world.[v] A city on a hill cannot be hidden. [15]Neither do people light a lamp and put it under a bowl. Instead they put it on its stand, and it gives light to everyone in the house.[w] [16]In the same way, let your light shine before men,[x] that they may see your good deeds[y] and praise[z] your Father in heaven.

The Fulfillment of the Law

[17]"Do not think that I have come to abolish the Law or the Prophets; I have not come to abolish them but to fulfill them.[a] [18]I tell you the truth, until heaven and earth disappear, not the smallest letter, not the least stroke of a pen, will by any means disappear from the Law until everything is accomplished.[b] [19]Anyone who breaks one of the least of these commandments[c] and teaches others to do the same will be called least in the kingdom of heaven, but whoever practices and teaches these commands will be called great in the kingdom of heaven. [20]For I tell you that unless your righteousness surpasses that of the Pharisees and the teachers of the law, you will certainly not enter the kingdom of heaven.[d]

5:5 meek. This beatitude is taken from Ps 37:11 and refers not so much to an attitude toward people as to a disposition before God, namely, humility. the earth. The new promised land (cf. Rev 21:1).

5:8 heart. The center of one's being, including mind, will and emotions (see note on Ps 4:7).

5:9 peacemakers. Those who promote peace, as far as it depends on them (Ro 12:18). In so doing, they reflect the character of their heavenly Father and so are called "sons of God."

5:10 theirs is the kingdom of heaven. A present reality as well as a future hope.

5:13 salt. Used for flavoring and preserving. loses its saltiness. Most of the salt used in Israel came from the Dead Sea and was full of impurities. This caused it to lose some of its flavor.

5:15 lamp. In Jesus' day people used small clay lamps that burned olive oil drawn up by a wick (see note on Ex 25:37). bowl. A bowl that held about 8 quarts of ground meal or flour.

5:16 Father in heaven. Matthew uses the term "Father in heaven" or "heavenly Father" 17 times, whereas Mark and Luke use the term only once each, and John does not use it at all.

5:17 the Law. The first five books of the Jewish Scriptures (our OT). the Prophets. Not only the Latter Prophets—Isaiah, Jeremiah and Ezekiel, which we call Major Prophets, and the 12 Minor Prophets (lumped together by the Jews as "the Book of the Twelve")—but also the so-called Former Prophets (Joshua, Judges, Samuel and Kings). Taken together, "the Law" and "the Prophets" designated the entire OT, including the Writings, the third section of the Hebrew Bible. See 13:35, where Matthew introduces a quotation from the Writings (Ps 78:2) with "what was spoken through the prophet." fulfill. Jesus fulfilled the Law in the sense that he gave it its full meaning. He emphasized its deep, underlying principles and total commitment to it rather than mere external acknowledgment and obedience.

5:18–20 Jesus is not speaking against observing all the requirements of the Law, but against hypocritical, Pharisaical legalism. Such legalism was not the keeping of all details of the Law but the hollow sham of keeping laws externally, to gain merit before God, while breaking them inwardly. It was following the letter of the Law while ignoring its spirit. Jesus repudiates the Pharisees' interpretation of the Law and their view of righteousness by works. He preaches a righteousness that comes only through faith in him and his work. In the verses that follow, he gives six examples of Pharisaical externalism.

5:18 smallest letter. One word in Greek (iota), which we use when we say, "It doesn't make one iota of difference." It is the nearest Greek equivalent to the Hebrew yodh, the smallest letter of the Hebrew alphabet (see Ps 119:73 title). least stroke of a pen. The Greek word for this phrase means "horn" and was used to designate the slight embellishment or extension of certain letters of the Hebrew alphabet (somewhat like the bottom of a "j").

5:21 it was said. The contrast that Jesus sets up (vv. 21,27,31,33,38,43) is not between the OT and his teaching (he has just established the validity of the OT Law). Rather, it is between externalistic interpretation of the rabbinic tradition on the one hand, and Jesus' correct interpretation of the Law on the other. murder. Several Hebrew and Greek verbs mean "kill." The ones used here and in Ex 20:13 specifically mean "murder."

and anyone who murders will be subject to judgment.' [22]But I tell you that anyone who is angry[t] with his brother[u] will be subject to judgment.[g] Again, anyone who says to his brother, 'Raca,[v]' is answerable to the Sanhedrin.[h] But anyone who says, 'You fool!' will be in danger of the fire of hell.[i]

[23]"Therefore, if you are offering your gift at the altar and there remember that your brother has something against you, [24]leave your gift there in front of the altar. First go and be reconciled to your brother; then come and offer your gift.

[25]"Settle matters quickly with your adversary who is taking you to court. Do it while you are still with him on the way, or he may hand you over to the judge, and the judge may hand you over to the officer, and you may be thrown into prison. [26]I tell you the truth, you will not get out until you have paid the last penny.[w]

Adultery

[27]"You have heard that it was said, 'Do not commit adultery.'[x j] [28]But I tell you that anyone who looks at a woman lustfully has already committed adultery with her in his heart.[k] [29]If your right eye causes you to sin,[l] gouge it out and throw it away. It is better for you to lose one part of your body than for your whole body to be thrown into hell. [30]And if your right hand causes you to sin,[m] cut it off and throw it away. It is better for you to lose one part of your body than for your whole body to go into hell.

Divorce

[31]"It has been said, 'Anyone who divorces his wife must give her a certificate of divorce.'[y n] [32]But I tell you that anyone who divorces his wife, except for marital unfaithfulness, causes her to become an adulteress, and anyone who marries the divorced woman commits adultery.[o]

Oaths

[33]"Again, you have heard that it was said to the people long ago, 'Do not break your oath,[p] but keep the oaths you have made to the Lord.'[q] [34]But I tell you, Do not swear at all:[r] either by heaven, for it is God's throne;[s] [35]or by the earth, for it is his footstool; or by Jerusalem, for it is the city of the Great King.[t] [36]And do not swear by your head, for you cannot make even one hair white or black. [37]Simply let your 'Yes' be 'Yes,' and your 'No,' 'No';[u] anything beyond this comes from the evil one.[v]

An Eye for an Eye

[38]"You have heard that it was said, 'Eye for eye, and tooth for tooth.'[z w] [39]But I tell you, Do not resist an evil person. If someone strikes you on the right cheek, turn to him the other also.[x] [40]And if someone wants to sue you and take your tunic, let him have your cloak as well. [41]If someone forces you to go one mile, go with him two miles. [42]Give to the one who asks you, and do not turn away from the one who wants to borrow from you.[y]

[z]38 Exodus 21:24; Lev. 24:20; Deut. 19:21 [a]43 Lev. 19:18

5:22 Raca. May be related to the Aramaic word for "empty" and mean "Empty-head!" Sanhedrin. See note on Mk 14:55. hell. The Greek word is ge(h)enna, which derives its name from a deep ravine south of Jerusalem, the "Valley of (the Sons of) Hinnom" (Hebrew ge hinnom). During the reigns of the wicked Ahaz and Manasseh, human sacrifices to the Ammonite god Molech were offered there. Josiah desecrated the valley because of the pagan worship there (2Ki 23:10; see Jer 7:31–32; 19:6). It became a sort of perpetually burning city dump and later a figure for the place of final punishment.

5:23–26 Two illustrations of dealing with anger by means of reconciliation.

5:26 penny. The smallest Roman copper coin.

5:28 looks at a woman lustfully. Not a passing glance but a willful, calculated stare that arouses sexual desire. According to Jesus this is a form of adultery even if it is only "in his heart."

5:29–30 Jesus is not teaching self-mutilation, for even a blind man can lust. The point is that we should deal as drastically with sin as necessary.

5:30 hell. See note on v. 22.

5:32 except for marital unfaithfulness. See note on 19:3. Neither Mk 10:11–12 nor Lk 16:18 mentions this exception.

5:33–37 The OT allowed oaths except those that profaned the name of God. Jesus would do away with all oaths, in favor of always speaking the truth.

5:38 See notes on Ex 21:23–25; Lev 24:20.

5:39 resist. Here it probably means in a court of law. strikes. The Greek verb used here means "slaps you with the back of the hand." It was more of an insult than an act of violence. The point is that it is better to be insulted even twice than to take the matter to court.

5:40 tunic ... cloak. The first was an undergarment, the second a loose outer one.

5:41 forces. The Greek verb comes from a Persian word meaning "press into service" and is used in 27:32, where the Roman soldiers pressed Simon into service to carry Jesus' cross.

5:42 Probably not a general requirement to give to everyone who asks, but a reference to the poor (cf. Dt 15:7–11; Ps 112:5,9).

5:43 hate your enemy. Words not found anywhere in the OT. However, hatred for one's enemies was an accepted part of the Jewish ethic at that time.

enemy.'[a] 44But I tell you: Love your enemies[b] and pray for those who persecute you,[b] 45that you may be sons[c] of your Father in heaven. He causes his sun to rise on the evil and the good, and sends rain on the righteous and the unrighteous.[d] 46If you love those who love you, what reward will you get?[e] Are not even the tax collectors doing that? 47And if you greet only your brothers, what are you doing more than others? Do not even pagans do that? 48Be perfect, therefore, as your heavenly Father is perfect.[f]

Giving to the Needy

6 "Be careful not to do your 'acts of righteousness' before men, to be seen by them.[g] If you do, you will have no reward from your Father in heaven.

2"So when you give to the needy, do not announce it with trumpets, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and on the streets, to be honored by men. I tell you the truth, they have received their reward in full. 3But when you give to the needy, do not let your left hand know what your right hand is doing, 4so that your giving may be in secret. Then your Father, who sees what is done in secret, will reward you.[h]

Prayer

6:9–13pp — Lk 11:2–4

5"And when you pray, do not be like the hypocrites, for they love to pray standing[i] in the synagogues and on the street corners to be seen by men. I tell you the truth, they have received their reward in full. 6But when you pray, go into your room, close the door and pray to your Father,[j] who is unseen. Then your Father, who sees what is done in secret, will reward you. 7And when you pray, do not keep on babbling[k] like pagans, for they think they will be heard because of their many words.[l] 8Do not be like them, for your Father knows what you need[m] before you ask him.

9"This, then, is how you should pray:

" 'Our Father[n] in heaven,
hallowed be your name,
10your kingdom[o] come,
your will be done[p] on earth as it is in heaven.
11Give us today our daily bread.[q]
12Forgive us our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors.[r]
13And lead us not into temptation,[s]
but deliver us from the evil one.'[c][t]

14For if you forgive men when they sin against you, your heavenly Father will also forgive you.[u] 15But if you do not forgive men their sins, your Father will not forgive your sins.[v]

Fasting

16"When you fast,[w] do not look somber[x] as the hypocrites do, for they disfigure their faces to show men they are fasting. I tell you the truth, they have received their reward in full. 17But when you fast, put oil on your head and wash your face, 18so that it will not be obvious to men that you are fasting, but only to your Father, who is unseen; and your Father, who sees what is done in secret, will reward you.[y]

5:44 pray. Prayer is one of the practical ways love expresses itself (cf. Job 42:8–10).

5:45 that you may be sons of your Father in heaven. Loving one's enemy does not make one a son of the heavenly Father. But it does make one known as a son. the evil and the good. God shows his love to people without distinction.

5:46 tax collectors. Traditionally known as "publicans," these were local men employed by Roman tax contractors to collect taxes for them. Because they worked for Rome and often demanded unreasonable payments, the tax collectors gained a bad reputation and were generally hated and considered traitors.

5:48 Be perfect. Christ sets up the high ideal of perfect love (see vv. 43–47)—not that we can fully attain it in this life. That, however, is God's high standard for us.

6:1 acts of righteousness. This verse introduces the discussion of three acts of righteousness: (1) giving (vv. 2–4), (2) praying (vv. 5–15) and (3) fasting (vv. 16–18). reward from your Father. Spiritual growth and maturity or perhaps a heavenly reward of some kind.

6:2 announce it with trumpets. Perhaps a reference to the noise made by coins as they were thrown into the temple treasury. Or the phrase may be used figuratively to mean "make a big show of it." hypocrites. The Greek word means "play-actor." Matthew uses the word 13 times (Mark, twice; Luke, three times). Here it refers to those who fake being pious. their reward in full. The honor they receive from people is all the reward they get.

6:3 do not let your left hand know what your right hand is doing. Not to be taken literally but as a way of emphasizing that one should not call attention to one's giving. Self-glorification is always a present danger.

6:6 room. The Greek word means "storeroom." Unlike most of the rooms in the house, it had a door that could be shut.

6:7 babbling like pagans. They used long lists of the names of their gods in their prayers, hoping that by constantly repeating them they would call on the name of the god that could help them. Jesus is not necessarily condemning all long prayers, but meaningless verbiage in praying.

6:12 debts. Moral debts, i.e., sins (see note on Lk 11:4).

6:16 fast. See notes on Mk 2:18 and Lk 18:12.

6:17 put oil on your head and wash your face. Jews put ashes on their heads when fasting. But Jesus told them to maintain their regular appearance. Fasting should not be done in an ostentatious way.

Treasures in Heaven

6:22,23pp — Lk 11:34–36

19"Do not store up for yourselves treasures on earth,[z] where moth and rust destroy,[a] and where thieves break in and steal. 20But store up for yourselves treasures in heaven,[b] where moth and rust do not destroy, and where thieves do not break in and steal.[c] 21For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also.[d]

22"The eye is the lamp of the body. If your eyes are good, your whole body will be full of light. 23But if your eyes are bad, your whole body will be full of darkness. If then the light within you is darkness, how great is that darkness!

24"No one can serve two masters. Either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will be devoted to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve both God and Money.[e]

Do Not Worry

25"Therefore I tell you, do not worry[f] about your life, what you will eat or drink; or about your body, what you will wear. Is not life more important than food, and the body more important than clothes? 26Look at the birds of the air; they do not sow or reap or store away in barns, and yet your heavenly Father feeds them.[g] Are you not much more valuable than they?[h] 27Who of you by worrying can add a single hour to his life[d]?[i]

28"And why do you worry about clothes? See how the lilies of the field grow. They do not labor or spin. 29Yet I tell you that not even Solomon in all his splendor[j] was dressed like one of these. 30If that is how God clothes the grass of the field, which is here today and tomorrow is thrown into the fire, will he not much more clothe you, O you of little faith?[k] 31So do not worry, saying, 'What shall we eat?' or 'What shall we drink?' or 'What shall we wear?' 32For the pagans run after all these things, and your heavenly Father knows that you need them.[l] 33But seek first his kingdom[m] and his righteousness, and all these things will be given to you as well.[n] 34Therefore do not worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow will worry about itself. Each day has enough trouble of its own.

Judging Others

7 "Do not judge, or you too will be judged.[o] 2For in the same way you judge others, you will be judged, and with the measure you use, it will be measured to you.[p]

3"Why do you look at the speck of sawdust in your brother's eye and pay no attention to the plank in your own eye? 4How can you say to your brother, 'Let me take the speck out of your eye,' when all the time there is a plank in your own eye? 5You hypocrite, first take the plank out of your own eye, and then you will see clearly to remove the speck from your brother's eye.

6"Do not give dogs what is sacred; do not throw your pearls to pigs. If you do, they may trample them under their feet, and then turn and tear you to pieces.

Ask, Seek, Knock

7:7–11pp — Lk 11:9–13

7"Ask and it will be given to you;[q] seek and you will find; knock and the door will be opened to you. 8For everyone who asks receives; he who seeks finds;[r] and to him who knocks, the door will be opened.

9"Which of you, if his son asks for bread, will give him a stone? 10Or if he

6:19–21 The dangers of riches are often mentioned in the NT (e.g., v. 24; 13:22; 19:22; Mk 10:17–30; Lk 12:16–21; 1Ti 6:9–10,17–19; Heb 13:5), but nowhere are they condemned in and of themselves. What Jesus condemns here is greed and hoarding of money.

6:19 moth and rust. Representative of all agents and processes that destroy worldly possessions. break in and steal. Houses in Palestine had walls made of mud bricks and could be broken into easily.

6:20 treasures in heaven. Anything done in this life that has eternal value. The phrase is the equivalent of being "rich toward God" (Lk 12:21). In this context it probably more specifically refers to using one's material wealth for good causes.

6:28 lilies. Here represents flowers generally.

6:30 thrown into the fire. Grass was commonly used to heat the clay ovens of the Holy Land.

7:1 The Christian is not to judge hypocritically or self-righteously, as can be seen from the context (v. 5). The same thought is expressed in 23:13–39 (cf. Ro 2:1). To obey Christ's commands in this chapter, we must first evaluate a person's character—whether he is a "dog" (v. 6) or a false prophet (v. 15), or whether his life shows fruit (v. 16). Scripture repeatedly exhorts believers to evaluate carefully and choose between good and bad people and things (sexually immoral, 1Co 5:9; those who masquerade as angels of light, 2Co 11:14; dogs, Php 3:2; false prophets, 1Jn 4:1). The Christian is to "test everything" (1Th 5:21).

7:3 speck of sawdust . . . plank. An example of hyperbole in the teachings of Jesus (cf. 19:24, where Jesus speaks of a camel going through the eye of needle). Its purpose is to drive home a point.

7:6 Teaching should be given in accordance with the spiritual capacity of the learners. dogs. The unclean dogs of the street were held in low esteem.

7:8 ask . . . seek . . . knock. Greek present imperatives are used here, indicating constant asking, seeking and knocking. Persistent prayer is being emphasized.

asks for a fish, will give him a snake? 11If you, then, though you are evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your Father in heaven give good gifts[s] to those who ask him! 12So in everything, do to others what you would have them do to you,[t] for this sums up the Law and the Prophets.[u]

The Narrow and Wide Gates

13"Enter through the narrow gate.[v] For wide is the gate and broad is the road that leads to destruction, and many enter through it. 14But small is the gate and narrow the road that leads to life, and only a few find it.

A Tree and Its Fruit

15"Watch out for false prophets.[w] They come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ferocious wolves.[x] 16By their fruit you will recognize them.[y] Do people pick grapes from thornbushes, or figs from thistles?[z] 17Likewise every good tree bears good fruit, but a bad tree bears bad fruit. 18A good tree cannot bear bad fruit, and a bad tree cannot bear good fruit.[a] 19Every tree that does not bear good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire.[b] 20Thus, by their fruit you will recognize them.

21"Not everyone who says to me, 'Lord, Lord,'[c] will enter the kingdom of heaven,[d] but only he who does the will of my Father who is in heaven.[e] 22Many will say to me on that day,[f] 'Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy in your name, and in your name drive out demons and perform many miracles?'[g] 23Then I will tell them plainly, 'I never knew you. Away from me, you evildoers!'[h]

The Wise and Foolish Builders

24"Therefore everyone who hears these words of mine and puts them into practice[i] is like a wise man who built his house on the rock. 25The rain came down, the streams rose, and the winds blew and beat against that house; yet it did not fall, because it had its foundation on the rock. 26But everyone who hears these words of mine and does not put them into practice is like a foolish man who built his house on sand. 27The rain came down, the streams rose, and the winds blew and beat against that house, and it fell with a great crash."

28When Jesus had finished saying these things,[j] the crowds were amazed at his teaching,[k] 29because he taught as one who had authority, and not as their teachers of the law.

The Man With Leprosy

8:2-4pp — Mk 1:40-44; Lk 5:12-14

8 When he came down from the mountainside, large crowds followed him. 2A man with leprosy[el] came and knelt before him[m] and said, "Lord, if you are willing, you can make me clean."

3Jesus reached out his hand and touched the man. "I am willing," he said. "Be clean!" Immediately he was cured[f] of his leprosy. 4Then Jesus said to him, "See that you don't tell anyone.[n] But go, show yourself to the priest[o] and offer the gift Moses commanded,[p] as a testimony to them."

The Faith of the Centurion

8:5-13pp — Lk 7:1-10

5When Jesus had entered Capernaum,

[e]2 The Greek word was used for various diseases affecting the skin—not necessarily leprosy. [f]3 Greek made clean

7:12 The so-called Golden Rule is found in negative form in rabbinic Judaism and also in Hinduism, Buddhism and Confucianism. It occurred in various forms in Greek and Roman ethical teaching. Jesus stated it in positive form. the Law and the Prophets. See note on 5:17.

7:13 narrow gate. The gate that leads into the kingdom of heaven. It's synonymous with "life" (v. 14). destruction. Separation from God in hell.

7:15 false prophets. People who have not been sent by God but who claim that they have (see 24:24; Jer 23:16 and note).

7:21 Lord. A title that sometimes means only "sir" or "master" but here seems to mean more than that in view of the fact that Jesus is the one who makes the final decision about a person's eternal destiny. kingdom of heaven. See note on 3:2.

7:22 that day. The day of judgment (cf. Mal 3:17–18). prophesy. In the NT this verb primarily means to give a message from God, not necessarily to predict. demons. See note on Mk 1:23.

7:29 authority. The teachers of the law quoted other rabbis to support their own teaching (see note on 2:4), but Jesus spoke with divine authority.

8:2 leprosy. See NIV text note and Lev 13–14. Lord. See note on 7:21. make me clean. Leprosy made a person ceremonially unclean as well as physically afflicted (see note on Lk 5:12–16).

8:4 don't tell anyone. Perhaps for several reasons: (1) Jesus did not want to be considered just a miracle worker, (2) he did not want his teaching ministry hindered by too much publicity being given to his healing miracles, and (3) he did not want his death to come prematurely, i.e., before he had finished his ministry. See 9:30; 12:16; Mk 1:44; 5:43; 7:36; Lk 8:56. show yourself to the priest. See note on Lk 5:14. them. The priests.

8:5–13 Although the incident in Jn 4:43–54 is similar, it probably is a separate episode in the life of Jesus.

8:5 Capernaum. See note on 4:13. centurion. A Roman military officer in charge of 100 soldiers. In Luke's account (Lk 7:1–5) Jewish elders and friends of the centurion came to Jesus on his behalf, but Matthew does not mention these intermediaries. A parallel situation was the flogging a centurion came to him, asking for help.

6"Lord," he said, "my servant lies at home paralyzed[q] and in terrible suffering."
7Jesus said to him, "I will go and heal him."
8The centurion replied, "Lord, I do not deserve to have you come under my roof. But just say the word, and my servant will be healed.[r] 9For I myself am a man under authority, with soldiers under me. I tell this one, 'Go,' and he goes; and that one, 'Come,' and he comes. I say to my servant, 'Do this,' and he does it."
10When Jesus heard this, he was astonished and said to those following him, "I tell you the truth, I have not found anyone in Israel with such great faith.[s] 11I say to you that many will come from the east and the west,[t] and will take their places at the feast with Abraham, Isaac and Jacob in the kingdom of heaven.[u] 12But the subjects of the kingdom[v] will be thrown outside, into the darkness, where there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth."[w] 13Then Jesus said to the centurion, "Go! It will be done just as you believed it would."[x] And his servant was healed at that very hour.

Jesus Heals Many

8:14–16pp — Mk 1:29–34; Lk 4:38–41

14When Jesus came into Peter's house, he saw Peter's mother-in-law lying in bed with a fever. 15He touched her hand and the fever left her, and she got up and began to wait on him.
16When evening came, many who were demon-possessed were brought to him, and he drove out the spirits with a word and healed all the sick.[y] 17This was to fulfill[z] what was spoken through the prophet Isaiah:

"He took up our infirmities and carried our diseases."[ga]

The Cost of Following Jesus

8:19–22pp — Lk 9:57–60

18When Jesus saw the crowd around him, he gave orders to cross to the other side of the lake.[b] 19Then a teacher of the law came to him and said, "Teacher, I will follow you wherever you go."
20Jesus replied, "Foxes have holes and birds of the air have nests, but the Son of Man[c] has no place to lay his head."
21Another disciple said to him, "Lord, first let me go and bury my father."
22But Jesus told him, "Follow me,[d] and let the dead bury their own dead."

Jesus Calms the Storm

8:23–27pp — Mk 4:36–41; Lk 8:22–25
8:23–27Ref — Mt 14:22–33

23Then he got into the boat and his disciples followed him. 24Without warning, a furious storm came up on the lake, so that the waves swept over the boat. But Jesus was sleeping. 25The disciples went and woke him, saying, "Lord, save us! We're going to drown!"
26He replied, "You of little faith,[e] why are you so afraid?" Then he got up and rebuked the winds and the waves, and it was completely calm.[f]
27The men were amazed and asked, "What kind of man is this? Even the winds and the waves obey him!"

The Healing of Two Demon-possessed Men

8:28–34pp — Mk 5:1–17; Lk 8:26–37

28When he arrived at the other side in the region of the Gadarenes,[h] two demon-possessed[g] men coming from the tombs met him. They were so violent that no one could pass that way. 29"What do you want with us,[h] Son of God?" they shouted. "Have you come here to torture us before the appointed time?"[i]

of Jesus by Pilate, in which the act was obviously not carried out by Pilate himself but by the Roman soldiers at Pilate's command (27:26, lit. "he flogged Jesus").

8:8 I do not deserve to have you come under my roof. In Greek the words "I do not deserve" are the same as those used by John the Baptist in 3:11 ("I am not fit"). The entire statement reveals how highly the centurion regarded Jesus. Or perhaps his response reflects his own sense of moral guilt in the presence of Jesus.

8:11 The universality of the gospel is one of Matthew's themes (see Introduction: Recipients). feast . . . in the kingdom of heaven. The eschatological Messianic banquet that symbolizes the blessings of an intimate relationship with God (see Isa 25:6–9).

8:12 subjects of the kingdom. Jews who thought their Judaism was an inherited passport for entrance into the kingdom (see 3:9–10 and note on 3:9).

8:14 Peter's mother-in-law. See notes on Mk 1:30 and Lk 4:38.

8:18 the other side. The east side.

8:19 teacher of the law. See note on 2:4.

8:20 Son of Man. See note on Mk 8:31.

8:22 let the dead bury their own dead. Let the spiritually dead bury the physically dead. The time of Jesus' ministry was short and demanded full attention and commitment. This statement stresses the radical demands of Jesus' discipleship, since Jews placed great importance on the duty of children to bury their parents.

8:24 furious storm. See note on Mk 4:37. But Jesus was sleeping. See note on Mk 4:38.

8:28 region of the Gadarenes. The region around the city of Gadara, six miles southeast of the Sea of Galilee. Mark and Luke identify the region by the capital city Gerasa, located about 35 miles southeast of the Sea. two. Mark (5:2) and Luke (8:27) mention only one Gadarene demoniac.

8:29 appointed time. The time of their judgment (see notes on Mk 5:10 and Lk 8:31).

30Some distance from them a large herd of pigs was feeding. 31The demons begged Jesus, "If you drive us out, send us into the herd of pigs."

32He said to them, "Go!" So they came out and went into the pigs, and the whole herd rushed down the steep bank into the lake and died in the water. 33Those tending the pigs ran off, went into the town and reported all this, including what had happened to the demon-possessed men. 34Then the whole town went out to meet Jesus. And when they saw him, they pleaded with him to leave their region.[j]

Jesus Heals a Paralytic

9:2–8pp — Mk 2:3–12; Lk 5:18–26

9 Jesus stepped into a boat, crossed over and came to his own town.[k] 2Some men brought to him a paralytic,[l] lying on a mat. When Jesus saw their faith,[m] he said to the paralytic, "Take heart,[n] son; your sins are forgiven."[o]

3At this, some of the teachers of the law said to themselves, "This fellow is blaspheming!"[p]

4Knowing their thoughts,[q] Jesus said, "Why do you entertain evil thoughts in your hearts? 5Which is easier: to say, 'Your sins are forgiven,' or to say, 'Get up and walk'? 6But so that you may know that the Son of Man[r] has authority on earth to forgive sins. . . ." Then he said to the paralytic, "Get up, take your mat and go home." 7And the man got up and went home. 8When the crowd saw this, they were filled with awe; and they praised God,[s] who had given such authority to men.

The Calling of Matthew

9:9–13pp — Mk 2:14–17; Lk 5:27–32

9As Jesus went on from there, he saw a man named Matthew sitting at the tax collector's booth. "Follow me,"[t] he told him, and Matthew got up and followed him.

10While Jesus was having dinner at Matthew's house, many tax collectors and "sinners" came and ate with him and his disciples. 11When the Pharisees saw this, they asked his disciples, "Why does your teacher eat with tax collectors and 'sinners'?"[u]

12On hearing this, Jesus said, "It is not the healthy who need a doctor, but the sick. 13But go and learn what this means: 'I desire mercy, not sacrifice.'[iv] For I have not come to call the righteous, but sinners."[w]

Jesus Questioned About Fasting

9:14–17pp — Mk 2:18–22; Lk 5:33–39

14Then John's[x] disciples came and asked him, "How is it that we and the Pharisees fast,[y] but your disciples do not fast?"

15Jesus answered, "How can the guests of the bridegroom mourn while he is with them?[z] The time will come when the bridegroom will be taken from them; then they will fast.[a]

16"No one sews a patch of unshrunk cloth on an old garment, for the patch will pull away from the garment, making the tear worse. 17Neither do men pour new wine into old wineskins. If they do, the skins will burst, the wine will run out and the wineskins will be ruined. No,

8:30 herd of pigs. Large numbers of Gentiles lived in Galilee. Normally Jews did not raise pigs, since they were considered the most "unclean" of all animals.

8:32 Though Jesus seemingly consented to the demons' request, the pigs carried the demons into the depths of the sea—perhaps symbolic of the Abyss (see Lk 8:31 and note).

8:34 pleaded with him to leave. They were probably more concerned about their financial loss than about the deliverance of the miserable demon-possessed man.

9:1 crossed over. The northern end of the Sea of Galilee. his own town. Capernaum (see note on 4:13).

9:2 their faith. The faith of the men who carried him as well as the faith of the paralytic.

9:3 blaspheming. Here the term includes usurping God's prerogative to forgive sins (see note on Mk 2:7).

9:5–6 See notes on Mk 2:9–10; 14:64.

9:6 Son of Man. See note on Mk 8:31.

9:15 See notes on Mk 2:19–20.

9:17 new wineskins. In ancient times goatskins were used to hold wine. As the fresh grape juice fermented, the wine would expand, and the new wineskin would stretch. But a used skin, already stretched, would break. Jesus brings a newness that cannot be confined within the old forms.

MATTHEW

NAME MEANS: "Gift of God"
OCCUPATION: Tax collector; disciple of Jesus, writer
BEST KNOWN FOR:

- his occupation as a hated tax collector
- following Jesus immediately when called
- writing a Gospel that proclaims Jesus as the fulfillment of OT prophecy they pour new wine into new wineskins, and both are preserved."

A Dead Girl and a Sick Woman

9:18–26pp — Mk 5:22–43; Lk 8:41–56

18While he was saying this, a ruler came and knelt before him[b] and said, "My daughter has just died. But come and put your hand on her,[c] and she will live." 19Jesus got up and went with him, and so did his disciples.

20Just then a woman who had been subject to bleeding for twelve years came up behind him and touched the edge of his cloak.[d] 21She said to herself, "If I only touch his cloak, I will be healed."

22Jesus turned and saw her. "Take heart,[e] daughter," he said, "your faith has healed you."[f] And the woman was healed from that moment.[g]

23When Jesus entered the ruler's house and saw the flute players and the noisy crowd,[h] 24he said, "Go away. The girl is not dead[i] but asleep."[j] But they laughed at him. 25After the crowd had been put outside, he went in and took the girl by the hand, and she got up.[k] 26News of this spread through all that region.[l]

Jesus Heals the Blind and Mute

27As Jesus went on from there, two blind men followed him, calling out, "Have mercy on us, Son of David!"[m]

28When he had gone indoors, the blind men came to him, and he asked them, "Do you believe that I am able to do this?"

"Yes, Lord," they replied.[n]

29Then he touched their eyes and said, "According to your faith will it be done to you";[o] 30and their sight was restored. Jesus warned them sternly, "See that no one knows about this."[p] 31But they went out and spread the news about him all over that region.[q]

32While they were going out, a man who was demon-possessed[r] and could not talk[s] was brought to Jesus. 33And when the demon was driven out, the man who had been mute spoke. The crowd was amazed and said, "Nothing like this has ever been seen in Israel."[t]

34But the Pharisees said, "It is by the prince of demons that he drives out demons."[u]

The Workers Are Few

35Jesus went through all the towns and villages, teaching in their synagogues, preaching the good news of the kingdom and healing every disease and sickness.[v] 36When he saw the crowds, he had compassion on them,[w] because they were harassed and helpless, like sheep without a shepherd.[x] 37Then he said to his disciples, "The harvest[y] is plentiful but the workers are few.[z] 38Ask the Lord of the harvest, therefore, to send out workers into his harvest field."

Jesus Sends Out the Twelve

10:2–4pp — Mk 3:16–19; Lk 6:14–16; Ac 1:13

10:26–33pp — Lk 12:2–9
10:34,35pp — Lk 12:51–53

10 He called his twelve disciples to him and gave them authority to drive out evil[j] spirits[a] and to heal every disease and sickness.[b]

2These are the names of the twelve apostles: first, Simon (who is called Peter) and his brother Andrew; James son of Zebedee, and his brother John; 3Philip and Bartholomew; Thomas and Matthew the tax collector; James son of Alphaeus, and Thaddaeus; 4Simon the Zealot and Judas Iscariot, who betrayed him.[c]

5These twelve Jesus sent out with the following instructions: "Do not go among the Gentiles or enter any town of the Sa-

[j] 1 Greek unclean

9:18 ruler. From Mark and Luke we know that he was a synagogue ruler named Jairus (see note on Mk 5:22).
9:20 subject to bleeding for twelve years. See note on Mk 5:25.
9:21 See note on Mk 5:28.
9:22 daughter. See notes on Lk 8:4–8. healed. See note on Mk 5:34.
9:23 flute players. Musicians hired to play in mourning ceremonies. noisy crowd. Mourners hired to wail and lament.
9:24 not dead but asleep. See note on Lk 8:52.
9:27 blind men. Isaiah predicted the healing of the blind in the Messianic age (Isa 35:5). Son of David. A popular Jewish title for the coming Messiah (e.g., 12:23; 20:30; 21:9; 22:41–45; see note on 1:1).
9:30 See notes on 8:4 and 16:20.
9:32 could not talk. Isaiah also predicted that the mute would talk in the Messianic age (Isa 35:6).
9:34 prince of demons. See note on 10:25.
9:35 synagogues. See note on Mk 1:21. good news. See note on Mk 1:1.
10:2–4 See notes on Lk 6:14–16.
10:2 apostles. The only occurrence of this word in Matthew's Gospel. See note on Mk 6:30.
10:4 the Zealot. Either a description of Simon's religious zeal or a reference to his membership in the party of the Zealots, a Jewish revolutionary group violently opposed to Roman rule over Palestine.
10:5 Do not go. The good news about the kingdom was to be proclaimed first to Jews only. After his death and resurrection, Jesus commanded the message to be taken to all nations (28:19; cf. 21:43). Samaritans. A mixed-blood race resulting from the intermarriage of Israelites left behind when the people of the northern kingdom were exiled and Gentiles brought into the land by the Assyrians (2Ki 17:24). Bitter hostility existed between Jews and Samaritans in Jesus' day (see Jn 4:9).

maritans.[d] [6]Go rather to the lost sheep of Israel.[e] [7]As you go, preach this message: 'The kingdom of heaven[f] is near.' [8]Heal the sick, raise the dead, cleanse those who have leprosy,[k] drive out demons. Freely you have received, freely give. [9]Do not take along any gold or silver or copper in your belts;[g] [10]take no bag for the journey, or extra tunic, or sandals or a staff; for the worker is worth his keep.[h]

[11]"Whatever town or village you enter, search for some worthy person there and stay at his house until you leave. [12]As you enter the home, give it your greeting.[i] [13]If the home is deserving, let your peace rest on it; if it is not, let your peace return to you. [14]If anyone will not welcome you or listen to your words, shake the dust off your feet[j] when you leave that home or town. [15]I tell you the truth, it will be more bearable for Sodom and Gomorrah[k] on the day of judgment[l] than for that town.[m] [16]I am sending you out like sheep among wolves.[n] Therefore be as shrewd as snakes and as innocent as doves.[o]

[17]"Be on your guard against men; they will hand you over to the local councils[p] and flog you in their synagogues.[q] [18]On my account you will be brought before governors and kings[r] as witnesses to them and to the Gentiles. [19]But when they arrest you, do not worry about what to say or how to say it.[s] At that time you will be given what to say, [20]for it will not be you speaking, but the Spirit of your Father[t] speaking through you.

[21]"Brother will betray brother to death, and a father his child; children will rebel against their parents[u] and have them put to death.[v] [22]All men will hate you because of me,[w] but he who stands firm to the end will be saved.[x] [23]When you are persecuted in one place, flee to another. I tell you the truth, you will not finish going through the cities of Israel before the Son of Man comes.[y]

[26]"So do not be afraid of them. There is nothing concealed that will not be disclosed, or hidden that will not be made known.[b] [27]What I tell you in the dark, speak in the daylight; what is whispered in your ear, proclaim from the roofs. [28]Do not be afraid of those who kill the body but cannot kill the soul. Rather, be afraid of the One[c] who can destroy both soul and body in hell. [29]Are not two sparrows sold for a penny[m]? Yet not one of them will fall to the ground apart from the will of your Father. [30]And even the very hairs of your head are all numbered.[d] [31]So don't be afraid; you are worth more than many sparrows.[e]

[32]"Whoever acknowledges me before men,[f] I will also acknowledge him before my Father in heaven. [33]But whoever disowns me before men, I will disown him before my Father in heaven.[g]

[34]"Do not suppose that I have come to bring peace to the earth. I did not come to bring peace, but a sword. [35]For I have come to turn [k] 8 The Greek word was used for various diseases affecting the skin—not necessarily leprosy.

[l] 25 Greek Beezeboul or Beelzeboul [m] 29 Greek an assarion

10:7 kingdom of heaven. See note on 3:2.
10:8 leprosy. See NIV text note and note on Lev 13:2.
10:9–10 See notes on Mk 6:8–9.
10:12 your greeting. The Jews' greeting was shalom, "peace."
10:14 shake the dust off your feet. A symbolic act practiced by the Pharisees when they left an "unclean" Gentile area. Here it represented an act of solemn warning to those who rejected God's message (see notes on Lk 9:5; Ac 13:51; cf. Ac 18:6).
10:15 Sodom and Gomorrah. See Ge 19:23–29.
10:16 Cf. Paul's statement in Ro 16:19: "I want you to be wise about what is good, and innocent about what is evil."
10:17 local councils. The lower courts, connected with local synagogues, that tried less serious cases and flogged those found guilty. synagogues. See notes on Mk 1:21 and Lk 21:12.
10:19 do not worry about what to say. Not to be used by preachers as an excuse for lack of sermon preparation! See Lk 21:14–15.
10:22 he who stands firm to the end will be saved. See note on Mk 13:13.
10:23 Jesus' saying here is probably best understood as referring to his coming in judgment on the Jews when Jerusalem and the temple were destroyed in A.D. 70.
10:25 Beelzebub. The prince of demons (12:24); the Greek form of the Hebrew name Baal-Zebub ("lord of flies"; see 2Ki 1:2), a parody on and mockery of the actual epithet, Baal-Zebul ("Exalted Baal" or "Prince Baal"; see NIV text note). The name came to be used of Satan.
10:28 soul. The true self. Body and soul are closely related in this life but are separated at death and then reunited at the resurrection (cf. 2Co 5:1–10; Php 1:23–24). the One. God. He alone determines the final destiny of us all. hell. See note on 5:22.
10:34 At first glance this saying sounds like a contradiction of Isa 9:6 ("Prince of Peace"), Lk 2:14 ("on earth peace to men") and Jn 14:27 ("Peace I leave with you"). It is true that Christ came to bring peace—peace between the believer and God, and peace among men. Yet the inevitable result of Christ's coming is conflict—between Christ and the antichrist, between light and darkness, between Christ's children and the devil's children. This conflict can occur even between members of the same family (vv. 35–36).

a daughter against her mother, a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law[h]— 36 a man's enemies will be the members of his own household.'[i]

37"Anyone who loves his father or mother more than me is not worthy of me; anyone who loves his son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me;[j] 38and anyone who does not take his cross and follow me is not worthy of me.[k] 39Whoever finds his life will lose it, and whoever loses his life for my sake will find it.[l]

40"He who receives you receives me,[m] and he who receives me receives the one who sent me.[n] 41Anyone who receives a prophet because he is a prophet will receive a prophet's reward, and anyone who receives a righteous man because he is a righteous man will receive a righteous man's reward. 42And if anyone gives even a cup of cold water to one of these little ones because he is my disciple, I tell you the truth, he will certainly not lose his reward."[o]

Jesus and John the Baptist

11:2–19pp — Lk 7:18–35

11 After Jesus had finished instructing his twelve disciples,[p] he went on from there to teach and preach in the towns of Galilee.[o]

2When John[q] heard in prison[r] what Christ was doing, he sent his disciples 3to ask him, "Are you the one who was to come,[s] or should we expect someone else?"

7As John's[v] disciples were leaving, Jesus began to speak to the crowd about John: "What did you go out into the desert[w] to see? A reed swayed by the wind? 8If not, what did you go out to see? A man dressed in fine clothes? No, those who wear fine clothes are in kings' palaces. 9Then what did you go out to see? A prophet?[x] Yes, I tell you, and more than a prophet. 10This is the one about whom it is written:

" 'I will send my messenger ahead of you,[y] who will prepare your way before you.'[q z]

11I tell you the truth: Among those born of women there has not risen anyone greater than John the Baptist; yet he who is least in the kingdom of heaven is greater than he. 12From the days of John the Baptist until now, the kingdom of heaven has been forcefully advancing, and forceful men lay hold of it. 13For all the Prophets and the Law prophesied until John.[a] 14And if you are willing to accept it, he is the Elijah who was to come.[b] 15He who has ears, let him hear.[c]

16"To what can I compare this generation? They are like children sitting in the marketplaces and calling out to others:

[n] 36 Micah 7:6 [o] 1 Greek in their towns [p] 5 The Greek word was used for various diseases affecting the skin—not necessarily leprosy. [q] 10 Mal. 3:1

10:38 take his cross. The first mention of the cross in Matthew's Gospel. The cross was an instrument of death and here symbolizes the necessity of total commitment—even unto death—on the part of Jesus' disciples (see note on Mk 8:34).

10:40–42 During times of persecution, hospitality was especially important and could be dangerous. So Jesus indicates that those who provide it and show kindness to God's people will receive a reward.

11:1 While the 12 apostles were carrying out their first mission, Jesus continued his ministry in Galilee.

11:3 the one who was to come. The Messiah. expect someone else. See note on Lk 7:19.

11:4 report to John what you hear and see. See note on Lk 7:22.

11:5 leprosy. See NIV text note on Lev 13:2. the good news is preached to the poor. See note on Lk 7:22.

11:6 the man who does not fall away. See note on Lk 7:23.

11:11 greater than he. John belonged to the age of the old covenant, which was preparatory to Christ. The least NT saint has a higher privilege in Christ as a part of his bride (the church, Eph 5:25–27,32) than John the Baptist, who was only a friend of the bridegroom (Jn 3:29). Another view, however, stresses the expression "he who is least," holding that the key to its meaning is found in 18:4—"whoever humbles himself like this child." Such a person, though "least," is regarded by God as even greater than John the Baptist.

11:12 forcefully advancing. The Greek here can be taken in either an active (NIV) or a passive sense. In this context its passive meaning would be, "suffering violent attacks." The term "forceful men," then, would be understood in a negative sense, "violent people." The verse would then emphasize the ongoing persecution of the people of the kingdom.

11:13 Prophets and the Law. The entire OT prophesied the coming of the kingdom. John represented the end of the old economy.

11:14 he is the Elijah who was to come. A reference to Mal 4:5, which prophesied the reappearance of Elijah before the day of the Lord. Some of the people remembered the prophecy and asked John the Baptist, "Are you Elijah?" He answered, "I am not" (Jn 1:21). John was not literally the reincarnation of Elijah, but he did fulfill the function and role of the prophet (see Mt 17:10–13 and note on Lk 1:17).

11:16 like children sitting in the marketplaces. See note on Lk 7:32.

17" 'We played the flute for you,
and you did not dance;
we sang a dirge,
and you did not mourn.'

18For John came neither eating[d] nor drinking,[e] and they say, 'He has a demon.' 19The Son of Man came eating and drinking, and they say, 'Here is a glutton and a drunkard, a friend of tax collectors and "sinners." '[f] But wisdom is proved right by her actions."

Woe on Unrepentant Cities

11:21–23pp — Lk 10:13–15

20Then Jesus began to denounce the cities in which most of his miracles had been performed, because they did not repent. 21"Woe to you, Korazin! Woe to you, Bethsaida![g] If the miracles that were performed in you had been performed in Tyre and Sidon,[h] they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes.[i] 22But I tell you, it will be more bearable for Tyre and Sidon on the day of judgment than for you.[j] 23And you, Capernaum,[k] will you be lifted up to the skies? No, you will go down to the depths.[rl] If the miracles that were performed in you had been performed in Sodom, it would have remained to this day. 24But I tell you that it will be more bearable for Sodom on the day of judgment than for you."[m]

Rest for the Weary

11:25–27pp — Lk 10:21,22

25At that time Jesus said, "I praise you, Father,[n] Lord of heaven and earth, because you have hidden these things from the wise and learned, and revealed them to little children.[o] 26Yes, Father, for this was your good pleasure.

27"All things have been committed to me[p] by my Father.[q] No one knows the Son except the Father, and no one knows the Father except the Son and those to whom the Son chooses to reveal him.[r]

28"Come to me,[s] all you who are weary and burdened, and I will give you rest.[t] 29Take my yoke upon you and learn from me,[u] for I am gentle and humble in heart, and you will find rest for your souls.[v] 30For my yoke is easy and my burden is light."[w]

Lord of the Sabbath

12:1–8pp — Mk 2:23–28; Lk 6:1–5
12:9–14pp — Mk 3:1–6; Lk 6:6–11

12 At that time Jesus went through the grainfields on the Sabbath. His disciples were hungry and began to pick some heads of grain[x] and eat them. 2When the Pharisees saw this, they said to him, "Look! Your disciples are doing what is unlawful on the Sabbath."[y]

3He answered, "Haven't you read what David did when he and his companions were hungry?[z] 4He entered the house of God, and he and his companions ate the consecrated bread—which was not lawful for them to do, but only for the priests.[a] 5Or haven't you read in the Law that on the Sabbath the priests in the temple desecrate the day[b] and yet are innocent? 6I tell you that one[s] greater than the temple is here.[c] 7If you had known what these words mean, 'I desire mercy, not sacrifice,'[td] you would not have condemned the innocent. 8For the Son of Man[e] is Lord of the Sabbath."

9Going on from that place, he went into their synagogue, 10and a man with a shriveled hand was there. Looking for a reason to accuse Jesus,[f] they asked him, "Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath?"[g]

11He said to them, "If any of you has a sheep and it falls into a pit on the Sab-

11:17 played the flute. As at a wedding. sang a dirge. As at a funeral. The latter symbolized the ministry of John, the former that of Jesus. The people of Jesus' generation were like children who refused to respond on either occasion.

11:19 Son of Man. See note on Mk 8:31. wisdom is proved right by her actions. Apparently means that God (wisdom) had sent both John and Jesus in specific roles, and that this would be vindicated by the lasting works of both Jesus and John (see note on Lk 7:35).

11:21 Korazin. Mentioned in the Bible only twice (here and in Lk 10:13), it was near the Sea of Galilee, probably about two miles north of Capernaum. Bethsaida. On the northeast shore of the Sea of Galilee. Philip the tetrarch rebuilt Bethsaida and named it "Julias," after Julia, daughter of Caesar Augustus. Tyre and Sidon. Cities on the Phoenician coast north of Palestine. sackcloth. Here a sign of repentance (see note on Ge 37:34). Cf. Rev 6:12. ashes. Also a sign of repentance.

11:23 Capernaum. See note on Lk 10:15.

11:25 these things. The "things" probably include an understanding of Jesus' mission. the wise and learned. The teachers of the law and the Pharisees. little children. The humble followers of Jesus.

12:1 grainfields. Of wheat or barley, the latter eaten by poorer people. pick some heads of grain. See note on Mk 2.23.

12:2 Pharisees. See note on Mk 2:16. what is unlawful on the Sabbath. See note on Mk 2:24.

12:4 consecrated bread. Each Sabbath, 12 fresh loaves of bread were to be set on a table in the Holy Place (Ex 25:30; Lev 24:5–9). The old loaves were eaten by the priests.

12:5 desecrate the day. By doing work associated with the sacrifices.

12:8 the Son of Man is Lord of the Sabbath. See note on Lk 6:5.

12:9 synagogue. See note on Mk 1:21.

12:10 heal on the Sabbath. The rabbis prohibited healing on the Sabbath, unless it was feared the victim would die before the next day. Obviously the man with the shriveled hand was in no danger of this.

bath, will you not take hold of it and lift it out?[h] [12]How much more valuable is a man than a sheep![i] Therefore it is lawful to do good on the Sabbath."

[13]Then he said to the man, "Stretch out your hand." So he stretched it out and it was completely restored, just as sound as the other. [14]But the Pharisees went out and plotted how they might kill Jesus.[j]

God's Chosen Servant

[15]Aware of this, Jesus withdrew from that place. Many followed him, and he healed all their sick,[k] [16]warning them not to tell who he was.[l] [17]This was to fulfill[m] what was spoken through the prophet Isaiah:

[18]"Here is my servant whom I have chosen, the one I love, in whom I delight;[n]
I will put my Spirit on him,[o] and he will proclaim justice to the nations.
[19]He will not quarrel or cry out;
no one will hear his voice in the streets.
[20]A bruised reed he will not break, and a smoldering wick he will not snuff out, till he leads justice to victory.
[21] In his name the nations will put their hope."[up]

Jesus and Beelzebub

12:25–29pp — Mk 3:23–27; Lk 11:17–22

[22]Then they brought him a demon-possessed man who was blind and mute, and Jesus healed him, so that he could both talk and see.[q] [23]All the people were astonished and said, "Could this be the Son of David?"[r]

[24]But when the Pharisees heard this, they said, "It is only by Beelzebub,[vs] the prince of demons, that this fellow drives out demons."[t]

[25]Jesus knew their thoughts[u] and said to them, "Every kingdom divided against itself will be ruined, and every city or household divided against itself will not stand. [26]If Satan[v] drives out Satan, he is divided against himself. How then can his kingdom stand? [27]And if I drive out demons by Beelzebub,[w] by whom do your people[x] drive them out? So then, they will be your judges. [28]But if I drive out demons by the Spirit of God, then the kingdom of God[y] has come upon you.

[29]"Or again, how can anyone enter a strong man's house and carry off his possessions unless he first ties up the strong man? Then he can rob his house.

[30]"He who is not with me is against me, and he who does not gather with me scatters.[z] [31]And so I tell you, every sin and blasphemy will be forgiven men, but the blasphemy against the Spirit will not be forgiven.[a] [32]Anyone who speaks a word against the Son of Man will be forgiven, but anyone who speaks against the Holy Spirit will not be forgiven, either in this age[b] or in the age to come.[c]

[33]"Make a tree good and its fruit will be good, or make a tree bad and its fruit will be bad, for a tree is recognized by its fruit.[d] [34]You brood of vipers,[e] how can you who are evil say anything good? For out of the overflow of the heart the mouth speaks.[f] [35]The good man brings good things out of the good stored up in him, and the evil man brings evil things out of the evil stored up in him. [36]But I tell you that men will have to give account on the day of judgment for every careless word they have spoken. [37]For by your words you will be acquitted, and by your words you will be condemned."[g]

The Sign of Jonah

12:39–42pp — Lk 11:29–32
12:43–45pp — Lk 11:24–26

[38]Then some of the Pharisees and teachers of the law said to him, "Teacher, we want to see a miraculous sign[h] from you."[i]

[39]He answered, "A wicked and adulter-

12:16 not to tell who he was. See note on 8:4.

12:18–21 Another fulfillment passage (see note on 1:22). This one is from Isaiah's first servant song (42:1–4) and is the longest OT quotation in Matthew's Gospel. It summarizes the quiet ministry of the Lord's servant, who will bring justice and hope to the nations.

12:18 my servant. Jesus is called God's servant only here and in Ac 3:13 (see note there), 26; 4:27,30. the one I love, in whom I delight. See note on 3:17.

12:31 blasphemy against the Spirit will not be forgiven. The context (vv. 24,28,32) suggests that the "unpardonable sin" was attributing to Satan Christ's authenticating miracles done in the power of the Holy Spirit (see note on Mk 3:29).

12:38 miraculous sign. The Pharisees wanted to see a spectacular miracle, preferably in the sky (see Lk 11:16), as the sign that Jesus was the Messiah. Instead, he cites them a "sign" from history. See note on Lk 11:29.

12:39 adulterous. Referring to spiritual, not physical, adultery, in the sense that their generation had become unfaithful to its spiritual husband (God).

ous generation asks for a miraculous sign! But none will be given it except the sign of the prophet Jonah.[j] 40For as Jonah was three days and three nights in the belly of a huge fish,[k] so the Son of Man[l] will be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth.[m] 41The men of Nineveh[n] will stand up at the judgment with this generation and condemn it; for they repented at the preaching of Jonah,[o] and now one[w] greater than Jonah is here. 42The Queen of the South will rise at the judgment with this generation and condemn it; for she came[p] from the ends of the earth to listen to Solomon's wisdom, and now one greater than Solomon is here.

43"When an evil[x] spirit comes out of a man, it goes through arid places seeking rest and does not find it. 44Then it says, 'I will return to the house I left.' When it arrives, it finds the house unoccupied, swept clean and put in order. 45Then it goes and takes with it seven other spirits more wicked than itself, and they go in and live there. And the final condition of that man is worse than the first.[q] That is how it will be with this wicked generation."

Jesus' Mother and Brothers

12:46–50pp — Mk 3:31–35; Lk 8:19–21

46While Jesus was still talking to the crowd, his mother[r] and brothers[s] stood outside, wanting to speak to him. 47Someone told him, "Your mother and brothers are standing outside, wanting to speak to you."[y]

48He replied to him, "Who is my mother, and who are my brothers?" 49Pointing to his disciples, he said, "Here are my mother and my brothers. 50For whoever does the will of my Father in heaven[t] is my brother and sister and mother."

The Parable of the Sower

13:1–15pp — Mk 4:1–12; Lk 8:4–10
13:16,17pp — Lk 10:23,24
13:18–23pp — Mk 4:13–20; Lk 8:11–15

13 That same day Jesus went out of the house[u] and sat by the lake. 2Such large crowds gathered around him that he got into a boat[v] and sat in it, while all the people stood on the shore. 3Then he told them many things in parables, saying: "A farmer went out to sow his seed. 4As he was scattering the seed, some fell along the path, and the birds came and ate it up. 5Some fell on rocky places, where it did not have much soil. It sprang up quickly, because the soil was shallow. 6But when the sun came up, the plants were scorched, and they withered because they had no root. 7Other seed fell among thorns, which grew up and choked the plants. 8Still other seed fell on good soil, where it produced a crop—a hundred,[w] sixty or thirty times what was sown. 9He who has ears, let him hear."[x]

10The disciples came to him and asked, "Why do you speak to the people in parables?"

11He replied, "The knowledge of the secrets of the kingdom of heaven[y] has been given to you,[z] but not to them. 12Whoever has will be given more, and he will have an abundance. Whoever does not have, even what he has will be taken from him.[a] 13This is why I speak to them in parables:

"Though seeing, they do not see;
though hearing, they do not hear or understand.[b]

14In them is fulfilled[c] the prophecy of Isaiah:

" 'You will be ever hearing but never understanding;

w 41 Or something; also in verse 42 x 43 Greek unclean y 47 Some manuscripts do not have verse 47.

12:40 three days and three nights. Including at least part of the first day and part of the third day, a common Jewish reckoning of time. See note on Lk 24:46. huge fish. The Greek word does not mean "whale" but rather "sea creature," i.e., a huge fish (see note on Jnh 1:17).
12:41–42 one greater than Jonah ... one greater than Solomon. See note on Lk 11:31–32.
12:42 Queen of the South. In 1Ki 10:1 she is called the queen of Sheba, a country in southwest Arabia, now called Yemen.
12:43–45 See note on Lk 11:24.
12:46 mother and brothers. See note on Lk 8:19.
12:50 whoever does the will of my Father. See note on Mk 3:35.
13:2 sat in it. See note on Mk 4:1.
13:3–9 See vv. 18–23 for the interpretation of this first parable.
13:3 parables. Our word "parable" comes from the Greek parabole, which means "a placing beside"—and thus a comparison or an illustration. Its most common use in the NT is for the illustrative stories that Jesus drew from nature and human life. The Synoptic Gospels contain about 30 of these stories. John's Gospel contains no parables but uses other figures of speech (see notes on Mk 4:2; Lk 8:4).
to sow his seed. See note on Lk 8:5.
13:4–6 See note on Mk 4:3–8.
13:5 rocky places. Not ground covered with small stones, but shallow soil on top of solid rock. See note on Lk 8:6.
13:8 a hundred. See note on Lk 8:8.
13:10 See note on Lk 8:9.
13:11 secrets of the kingdom of heaven. See notes on Mk 4:11 and Lk 8:10.
13:13–14 Jesus speaks in parables because of the spiritual dullness of the people (see note on Lk 8:4).
13:13 Though seeing, they do not see. See notes on Mk 4:12 and Lk 8:10.

you will be ever seeing but never perceiving.
15For this people's heart has become calloused;
they hardly hear with their ears,
and they have closed their eyes.
Otherwise they might see with their eyes,
hear with their ears,
understand with their hearts and turn, and I would heal them.'[zd]

16But blessed are your eyes because they see, and your ears because they hear.[e] 17For I tell you the truth, many prophets and righteous men longed to see what you see[f] but did not see it, and to hear what you hear but did not hear it.

18"Listen then to what the parable of the sower means: 19When anyone hears the message about the kingdom[g] and does not understand it, the evil one[h] comes and snatches away what was sown in his heart. This is the seed sown along the path. 20The one who received the seed that fell on rocky places is the man who hears the word and at once receives it with joy. 21But since he has no root, he lasts only a short time. When trouble or persecution comes because of the word, he quickly falls away.[i] 22The one who received the seed that fell among the thorns is the man who hears the word, but the worries of this life and the deceitfulness of wealth[j] choke it, making it unfruitful. 23But the one who received the seed that fell on good soil is the man who hears the word and understands it. He produces a crop, yielding a hundred, sixty or thirty times what was sown."[k]

The Parable of the Weeds

24Jesus told them another parable: "The kingdom of heaven is like[l] a man who sowed good seed in his field. 25But while everyone was sleeping, his enemy came and sowed weeds among the wheat, and went away. 26When the wheat sprouted and formed heads, then the weeds also appeared.

27"The owner's servants came to him and said, 'Sir, didn't you sow good seed in your field? Where then did the weeds come from?'

28" 'An enemy did this,' he replied.

"The servants asked him, 'Do you want us to go and pull them up?'

29" 'No,' he answered, 'because while you are pulling the weeds, you may root up the wheat with them. 30Let both grow together until the harvest. At that time I will tell the harvesters: First collect the weeds and tie them in bundles to be burned; then gather the wheat and bring it into my barn.' "[m]

The Parables of the Mustard Seed and the Yeast

13:31,32pp — Mk 4:30–32
13:31–33pp — Lk 13:18–21

31He told them another parable: "The kingdom of heaven is like[n] a mustard seed,[o] which a man took and planted in his field. 32Though it is the smallest of all your seeds, yet when it grows, it is the largest of garden plants and becomes a tree, so that the birds of the air come and perch in its branches."[p]

33He told them still another parable: "The kingdom of heaven is like[q] yeast that a woman took and mixed into a large amount[a] of flour[r] until it worked all through the dough."[s]

34Jesus spoke all these things to the crowd in parables; he did not say anything to them without using a parable.[t] 35So was fulfilled[u] what was spoken through the prophet:

"I will open my mouth in parables,
I will utter things hidden since the creation of the world."[bv]

The Parable of the Weeds Explained

36Then he left the crowd and went into the house. His disciples came to him and 13:18 what the parable of the sower means. Jesus seldom interpreted his parables, but here he does.

13:19 the evil one. The devil.
13:24–30 See vv. 36–43 for the interpretation.
13:24 The kingdom of heaven is like. This phrase introduces six of the seven parables in this chapter (all but the parable of the sower).
13:25 weeds. Probably darnel, which looks very much like wheat while it is young, but can later be distinguished. This parable does not refer to unbelievers in the professing church. The field is the world (v. 38). Thus the people of the kingdom live side by side with the people of the evil one.
13:31–32 Although the kingdom will seem to have an insignificant beginning, it will eventually spread throughout the world.
13:32 the smallest . . . the largest. The mustard seed is not the smallest seed known today, but it was the smallest seed used by farmers and gardeners in the Holy Land, and under favorable conditions the plant could reach some ten feet in height. a tree . . . its branches. Likely an allusion to Da 4:21, suggesting that the kingdom of heaven will expand to world dominion and people from all nations will find rest in it (cf. Da 2:35,44–45; 7:27; Rev 11:15).
13:33 In the Bible, yeast usually symbolizes that which is evil or unclean (see note on Mk 8:15). Here, however, it is a symbol of growth. As yeast permeates a batch of dough, so the kingdom of heaven spreads through a person's life. Or it may signify the growth of the kingdom by the inner working of the Holy Spirit (using God's word).
13:35 spoken through the prophet. The quotation is from Ps 78, a psalm ascribed to Asaph, who according to 2Ch 29:30 was a "seer" (prophet).

said, "Explain to us the parable[w] of the weeds in the field."

37He answered, "The one who sowed the good seed is the Son of Man.[x] 38The field is the world, and the good seed stands for the sons of the kingdom. The weeds are the sons of the evil one,[y] 39and the enemy who sows them is the devil. The harvest[z] is the end of the age,[a] and the harvesters are angels.[b]

40"As the weeds are pulled up and burned in the fire, so it will be at the end of the age. 41The Son of Man[c] will send out his angels,[d] and they will weed out of his kingdom everything that causes sin and all who do evil. 42They will throw them into the fiery furnace, where there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.[e] 43Then the righteous will shine like the sun[f] in the kingdom of their Father. He who has ears, let him hear.[g]

The Parables of the Hidden Treasure and the Pearl

44"The kingdom of heaven is like[h] treasure hidden in a field. When a man found it, he hid it again, and then in his joy went and sold all he had and bought that field.[i]

45"Again, the kingdom of heaven is like[j] a merchant looking for fine pearls. 46When he found one of great value, he went away and sold everything he had and bought it.

The Parable of the Net

47"Once again, the kingdom of heaven is like[k] a net that was let down into the lake and caught all kinds[l] of fish. 48When it was full, the fishermen pulled it up on the shore. Then they sat down and collected the good fish in baskets, but threw the bad away. 49This is how it will be at the end of the age. The angels will come and separate the wicked from the righteous[m] 50and throw them into the fiery furnace, where there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.[n]

51"Have you understood all these things?" Jesus asked.

"Yes," they replied.

52He said to them, "Therefore every teacher of the law who has been instructed about the kingdom of heaven is like the owner of a house who brings out of his storeroom new treasures as well as old."

A Prophet Without Honor

13:54–58pp — Mk 6:1–6

53When Jesus had finished these parables,[o] he moved on from there. 54Coming to his hometown, he began teaching the people in their synagogue,[p] and they were amazed.[q] "Where did this man get this wisdom and these miraculous powers?" they asked. 55"Isn't this the carpenter's son?[r] Isn't his mother's[s] name Mary, and aren't his brothers[t] James, Joseph, Simon and Judas? 56Aren't all his sisters with us? Where then did this man get all these things?" 57And they took offense[u] at him.

But Jesus said to them, "Only in his hometown and in his own house is a prophet without honor."[v] 58And he did not do many miracles there because of their lack of faith.

John the Baptist Beheaded

14:1–12pp — Mk 6:14–29

14 At that time Herod[w] the tetrarch heard the reports about Jesus,[x] 2and he said to his attendants, "This is John the Baptist;[y] he has risen from the dead! That is why miraculous powers are at work in him."

3Now Herod had arrested John and

13:42 fiery furnace. Often mentioned in connection with the final judgment in apocalyptic literature (see Rev 19:20; 20:14). weeping and gnashing of teeth. Occurs six times in Matthew's Gospel (8:12; here; 13:50; 22:13; 24:51; 25:30) and nowhere else in the NT.

13:44–46 These two parables teach the same truth: The kingdom is of such great value that one should be willing to give up all he has in order to gain it. Jesus did not imply that one can purchase the kingdom with money or good deeds.

13:44 treasure hidden in a field. In ancient times it was common to hide treasure in the ground since there were no banks—though there were "bankers" (Mt 25:27).

13:47–51 The parable of the net teaches the same general lesson as the parable of the weeds: There will be a final separation of the righteous and the wicked. The parable of the weeds also emphasizes that we are not to try to make such a separation now and that this is entirely the Lord's business (vv. 28–30,41–42).

13:53 Concludes a teaching section and introduces a narrative section (cf. 7:28–29).

13:54 his hometown. Nazareth. teaching the people in their synagogue. See note on Mk 1:21.

13:55 carpenter's son. The word translated "carpenter" could mean "stonemason." (Apparently Joseph was not living at the time of this incident.) brothers. Sons born to Joseph and Mary after the virgin birth of Jesus (see note on Lk 8:19).

13:58 lack of faith. The close relationship between faith and miracles is stressed in Matthew's Gospel (cf. 8:10,13; 9:2,22,28–29).

14:1 tetrarch. The ruler of a fourth part of a region. Herod the tetrarch (Herod Antipas) was one of several sons of Herod the Great. When Herod the Great died, his kingdom was divided among three of his sons. Herod Antipas ruled over Galilee and Perea (4 B.C.–A.D. 39). Matthew correctly refers to him as tetrarch here, as Luke regularly does (Lk 3:19; 9:7; Ac 13:1). But in v. 9 Matthew calls him "king"—as Mark also does (Mk 6:14)—because that was his popular title among the Galileans, as well as in Rome.

14:2 John . . . risen from the dead. See note on Mk 6:16.

14:3 Herodias. A granddaughter of Herod the Great. First she married her uncle, Herod Philip (Herod the Great also bound him and put him in prison[a] because of Herodias, his brother Philip's wife,[a] [4]for John had been saying to him: "It is not lawful for you to have her."[b] [5]Herod wanted to kill John, but he was afraid of the people, because they considered him a prophet.[c]

[6]On Herod's birthday the daughter of Herodias danced for them and pleased Herod so much [7]that he promised with an oath to give her whatever she asked. [8]Prompted by her mother, she said, "Give me here on a platter the head of John the Baptist." [9]The king was distressed, but because of his oaths and his dinner guests, he ordered that her request be granted [10]and had John beheaded[d] in the prison. [11]His head was brought in on a platter and given to the girl, who carried it to her mother. [12]John's disciples came and took his body and buried it.[e] Then they went and told Jesus.

Jesus Feeds the Five Thousand

14:13-21Ref — Mt 15:32-38

[13]When Jesus heard what had happened, he withdrew by boat privately to a solitary place. Hearing of this, the crowds followed him on foot from the towns. [14]When Jesus landed and saw a large crowd, he had compassion on them[f] and healed their sick.[g]

[15]As evening approached, the disciples came to him and said, "This is a remote place, and it's already getting late. Send the crowds away, so they can go to the villages and buy themselves some food."

[16]Jesus replied, "They do not need to go away. You give them something to eat."

[17]"We have here only five loaves[h] of bread and two fish," they answered.

[18]"Bring them here to me," he said. [19]And he directed the people to sit down on the grass. Taking the five loaves and the two fish and looking up to heaven, he gave thanks and broke the loaves.[i] Then he gave them to the disciples, and the disciples gave them to the people. [20]They all ate and were satisfied, and the disciples picked up twelve basketfuls of broken pieces that were left over. [21]The number of those who ate was about five thousand men, besides women and children.

Jesus Walks on the Water

14:34-36pp — Mk 6:53-56

[22]Immediately Jesus made the disciples get into the boat and go on ahead of him to the other side, while he dismissed the crowd. [23]After he had dismissed them, he went up on a mountainside by himself to pray.[j] When evening came, he was there alone, [24]but the boat was already a considerable distance[c] from land, buffeted by the waves because the wind was against it.

[25]During the fourth watch of the night Jesus went out to them, walking on the lake. [26]When the disciples saw him walking on the lake, they were terrified. "It's a ghost,"[k] they said, and cried out in fear.

[27]But Jesus immediately said to them: "Take courage![l] It is I. Don't be afraid."[m]

[28]"Lord, if it's you," Peter replied, "tell me to come to you on the water."

[29]"Come," he said.

Then Peter got down out of the boat, walked on the water and came toward Jesus. [30]But when he saw the wind, he was afraid and, beginning to sink, cried out, "Lord, save me!"

[31]Immediately Jesus reached out his hand and caught him. "You of little faith,"[n] he said, "why did you doubt?"

had another son named Philip), who lived in Rome. While a guest in their home, Herod Antipas persuaded Herodias to leave her husband for him. Marriage to one's brother's wife, while the brother was still living, was forbidden by the Mosaic law (Lev 18:16). Philip. The son of Herod the Great and Mariamne, the daughter of Simon the high priest, and thus a half-brother of Herod Antipas, born to Malthace (see chart on "House of Herod," p. 1438).

14:6 the daughter of Herodias. Salome, according to Josephus. She later married her granduncle, the other Philip (son of Herod the Great), who ruled the northern territories (Lk 3:1). At this time Salome was a young woman of marriageable age. Her dance was unquestionably lascivious, and the performance pleased both Herod and his guests.

14:8 platter. A flat wooden dish on which meat was served.

14:13–21 See Mk 6:32–44; Lk 9:10–17; Jn 6:1–13 and notes.

14:21 besides women and children. Matthew alone notes this. He was writing to the Jews, who did not permit women and children to eat with men in public. So they were in a place by themselves.

14:22 made. The Greek word used here is strong. It means "to compel" and suggests a crisis. John records that after the miracle of the loaves and fish the crowds "intended to ... make him [Jesus] king by force" (6:15). This involved a complete misunderstanding of the mission of Jesus. The disciples may have been caught up in the enthusiasm and needed to be removed from the area quickly (cf. 16:5–12).

14:23 to pray. Matthew speaks of Jesus praying only here and in Gethsemane (cf. 26:36–46).

14:25 fourth watch. 3:00–6:00 A.M. According to Roman reckoning the night was divided into four watches: (1) 6:00–9:00 P.M., (2) 9:00-midnight, (3) midnight–3:00 A.M. and (4) 3:00–6:00 A.M. (see note on Mk 13:35). The Jews had only three watches during the night: (1) sunset–10:00 P.M., (2) 10:00 P.M.–2:00 A.M. and (3) 2:00 A.M.-sunrise (see Jdg 7:19; 1Sa 11:11). walking on the lake. See note on Mk 6:48.

32And when they climbed into the boat, the wind died down. 33Then those who were in the boat worshiped him, saying, "Truly you are the Son of God."[o]

34When they had crossed over, they landed at Gennesaret. 35And when the men of that place recognized Jesus, they sent word to all the surrounding country. People brought all their sick to him 36and begged him to let the sick just touch the edge of his cloak,[p] and all who touched him were healed.

Clean and Unclean

15 Then some Pharisees and teachers of the law came to Jesus from Jerusalem and asked, 2"Why do your disciples break the tradition of the elders? They don't wash their hands before they eat!"[q]

3Jesus replied, "And why do you break the command of God for the sake of your tradition? 4For God said, 'Honor your father and mother'[dr] and 'Anyone who curses his father or mother must be put to death.'[es] 5But you say that if a man says to his father or mother, 'Whatever help you might otherwise have received from me is a gift devoted to God,' 6he is not to 'honor his father[t]' with it. Thus you nullify the word of God for the sake of your tradition. 7You hypocrites! Isaiah was right when he prophesied about you:

8" 'These people honor me with their lips,
but their hearts are far from me.
9They worship me in vain;
their teachings are but rules taught by men.'[tu]"

10Jesus called the crowd to him and said, "Listen and understand. 11What goes into a man's mouth does not make him 'unclean,'[v] but what comes out of his mouth, that is what makes him 'unclean.' "[w]

12Then the disciples came to him and asked, "Do you know that the Pharisees were offended when they heard this?"

13He replied, "Every plant that my heavenly Father has not planted[x] will be pulled up by the roots. 14Leave them; they are blind guides.[hy] If a blind man leads a blind man, both will fall into a pit."[z]

15Peter said, "Explain the parable to us."[a]

16"Are you still so dull?"[b] Jesus asked them. 17"Don't you see that whatever enters the mouth goes into the stomach and then out of the body? 18But the things that come out of the mouth come from the heart,[c] and these make a man 'unclean.' 19For out of the heart come evil thoughts, murder, adultery, sexual immorality, theft, false testimony, slander.[d] 20These are what make a man 'unclean';[e] but eating with unwashed hands does not make him 'unclean.' "

The Faith of the Canaanite Woman

15:21-28pp — Mk 7:24-30

21Leaving that place, Jesus withdrew to the region of Tyre and Sidon.[f] 22A Canaanite woman from that vicinity came to him, crying out, "Lord, Son of David,[g] have mercy on me! My daughter is suffering terribly from demon-possession."[h]

23Jesus did not answer a word. So his disciples came to him and urged him, "Send her away, for she keeps crying out after us."

24He answered, "I was sent only to the lost sheep of Israel."[i]

25The woman came and knelt before him.[j] "Lord, help me!" she said.

26He replied, "It is not right to take the children's bread and toss it to their dogs."

27"Yes, Lord," she said, "but even the dogs eat the crumbs that fall from their masters' table."

14:34 Gennesaret. Either the narrow plain, about four miles long and less than two miles wide, on the west side of the Sea of Galilee near the north end (north of Magdala), or a town in the plain. The plain was considered a garden spot of the Holy Land—fertile and well watered.

14:36 just touch the edge of his cloak. See note on Mk 5:28.

15:2 the tradition of the elders. After the Babylonian captivity, the Jewish rabbis began to make meticulous rules and regulations governing the daily life of the people. These were interpretations and applications of the law of Moses, handed down from generation to generation. In Jesus' day this "tradition of the elders" was in oral form. It was not until c. A.D. 200 that it was put into writing in the Mishnah. wash. See Mk 7:1–4.

15:21 Tyre. See note on Mk 7:24. Sidon. About 25 miles north of Tyre.

15:22 Canaanite. A term found many times in the OT but only here in the NT. In NT times there was no country known as Canaan. Some think this was the Semitic manner of referring to the people of Phoenicia at this time. Mark says the woman was "a Greek, born in Syrian Phoenicia" (7:26).

15:26 children's. "The lost sheep of Israel" (v. 24). their dogs. The Greek says "little dogs," meaning a pet dog in the home, and Jesus' point was that the gospel was to be given first to Jews. The woman understood Jesus' implication and was willing to settle for "crumbs." Jesus rewarded her faith (v. 28).

15:27 Yes, Lord. See note on Mk 7:28.

[28]Then Jesus answered, "Woman, you have great faith![k] Your request is granted." And her daughter was healed from that very hour.

Jesus Feeds the Four Thousand

15:29–31pp — Mk 7:31–37
15:32–39pp — Mk 8:1–10
15:32–39Ref — Mt 14:13–21

[29]Jesus left there and went along the Sea of Galilee. Then he went up on a mountainside and sat down. [30]Great crowds came to him, bringing the lame, the blind, the crippled, the mute and many others, and laid them at his feet; and he healed them.[l] [31]The people were amazed when they saw the mute speaking, the crippled made well, the lame walking and the blind seeing. And they praised the God of Israel.[m]

[32]Jesus called his disciples to him and said, "I have compassion for these people;[n] they have already been with me three days and have nothing to eat. I do not want to send them away hungry, or they may collapse on the way."

[33]His disciples answered, "Where could we get enough bread in this remote place to feed such a crowd?"

[34]"How many loaves do you have?" Jesus asked.

"Seven," they replied, "and a few small fish."

[35]He told the crowd to sit down on the ground. [36]Then he took the seven loaves and the fish, and when he had given thanks, he broke them[o] and gave them to the disciples, and they in turn to the people. [37]They all ate and were satisfied. Afterward the disciples picked up seven basketfuls of broken pieces that were left over.[p] [38]The number of those who ate was four thousand, besides women and children. [39]After Jesus had sent the crowd away, he got into the boat and went to the vicinity of Magadan.

The Demand for a Sign

You know how to interpret the appearance of the sky, but you cannot interpret the signs of the times.[s] [4]A wicked and adulterous generation looks for a miraculous sign, but none will be given it except the sign of Jonah."[r] Jesus then left them and went away.

The Yeast of the Pharisees and Sadducees

[5]When they went across the lake, the disciples forgot to take bread. [6]"Be careful," Jesus said to them. "Be on your guard against the yeast of the Pharisees and Sadducees."[u]

[7]They discussed this among themselves and said, "It is because we didn't bring any bread."

[8]Aware of their discussion, Jesus asked, "You of little faith,[v] why are you talking among yourselves about having no bread? [9]Do you still not understand? Don't you remember the five loaves for the five thousand, and how many basketfuls you gathered?[w] [10]Or the seven loaves for the four thousand, and how many basketfuls you gathered?[x] [11]How is it you don't understand that I was not talking to you about bread? But be on your guard against the yeast of the Pharisees and Sadducees." [12]Then they understood that he was not telling them to guard against the yeast used in bread, but against the teaching of the Pharisees and Sadducees.[y]

Peter's Confession of Christ

16:13–16pp — Mk 8:27–29; Lk 9:18–20

[13]When Jesus came to the region of Caesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, "Who do people say the Son of Man is?"

[14]They replied, "Some say John the Baptist;[z] others say Elijah; and still others, Jeremiah or one of the prophets."[a]

15:37 The feeding of the 5,000 is recorded in all four Gospels, but the feeding of the 4,000 is only in Matthew and Mark. The 12 baskets mentioned in the accounts of the feeding of the 5,000 were possibly the lunch baskets of the 12 apostles. The seven baskets mentioned here were possibly larger.

16:12 Matthew often explains the meaning of Jesus' words (cf. 17:13).
16:13 Caesarea Philippi. To be distinguished from the magnificent city of Caesarea, which Herod the Great had built on the coast of the Mediterranean. Caesarea Philippi, rebuilt by Herod's son Philip (who named it after Tiberius Caesar and himself), was north of the Sea of Galilee, near the slopes of Mount Hermon. Originally it was called Paneas (the ancient name survives today as Banias) in honor of the Greek god Pan, whose shrine was located there. The region was especially pagan. Son of Man. See note on Mk 8:31.

16 Simon Peter answered, "You are the Christ,[j] the Son of the living God."[b] 17 Jesus replied, "Blessed are you, Simon son of Jonah, for this was not revealed to you by man,[c] but by my Father in heaven.[d] 18 And I tell you that you are Peter,[k][e] and on this rock I will build my church,[f] and the gates of Hades[l] will not overcome it.[m] 19 I will give you the keys[g] of the kingdom of heaven; whatever you bind on earth will be[n] bound in heaven, and whatever you loose on earth will be[n] loosed in heaven."[h] 20 Then he warned his disciples not to tell anyone[i] that he was the Christ.

Jesus Predicts His Death

16:21–28pp — Mk 8:31–9:1; Lk 9:22–27

21 From that time on Jesus began to explain to his disciples that he must go to Jerusalem[j] and suffer many things[k] at the hands of the elders, chief priests and teachers of the law,[l] and that he must be killed[m] and on the third day[n] be raised to life.[o]
22 Peter took him aside and began to rebuke him. "Never, Lord!" he said. "This shall never happen to you!"
23 Jesus turned and said to Peter, "Get behind me, Satan![p] You are a stumbling block to me; you do not have in mind the things of God, but the things of men."
24 Then Jesus said to his disciples, "If anyone would come after me, he must deny himself and take up his cross and follow me.[q] 25 For whoever wants to save his life[o] will lose it, but whoever loses his life for me will find it.[r] 26 What good will it be for a man if he gains the whole world, yet forfeits his soul? Or what can a man give in exchange for his soul? 27 For the Son of Man[s] is going to come[t] in his Father's glory with his angels, and then he will reward each person according to what he has done.[u] 28 I tell you the truth, some who are standing here will not taste death before they see the Son of Man coming in his kingdom."

The OT equivalent (Messiah) is used of anyone who was anointed with the holy oil, such as the priests and kings of Israel (e.g., Ex 29:7,21; 1Sa 10;1,6; 16:13; 2Sa 1:14,16). The word carries the idea of being chosen by God, consecrated to his service, and endued with his power to accomplish the assigned task. Toward the end of the OT period the word assumed a special meaning. It denoted the ideal king anointed and empowered by God to rescue his people from their enemies and establish his righteous kingdom (Da 9:25–26). The ideas that clustered around the title Messiah tended to be political and national in nature. Probably for that reason Jesus seldom used the term. When he did accept it as applied to himself, he did so with reservations (cf. Mk 8:27–30; 14:61–63).

16:18 Peter ... rock ... church. In the Greek "Peter" is petros ("detached stone") and "rock" is petra ("bedrock"). Several interpretations have been given to these words. The "bedrock" on which the church is built is (1) Christ; (2) Peter's confession of faith in Jesus as the Messiah (v. 16); (3) Christ's teachings—one of the great emphases of Matthew's Gospel; (4) Peter himself, understood in terms of his role on the day of Pentecost (Ac 2), the Cornelius incident (Ac 10) and his leadership among the apostles. Eph 2:20 indicates that the church is "built on the foundation of the apostles and prophets." church. In the Gospels this word is used only by Matthew (here and twice in 18:17). In the Septuagint it is used for the congregation of Israel. In Greek circles of Jesus' day it indicated the assembly of free, voting citizens in a city (cf. Ac 19:32,39,41). Hades. The Greek name for the place of departed spirits, generally equivalent to the Hebrew Sheol (see note on Ge 37:35). The "gates of Hades" may mean the "powers of death," i.e., all forces opposed to Christ and his kingdom (but see note on Job 17:16).

16:19 keys. Perhaps Peter used these keys on the day of Pentecost (Ac 2) when he announced that the door of the kingdom was unlocked to Jews and proselytes and later when he acknowledged that it was also opened to Gentiles (Ac 10). bind ... loose. Not authority to determine, but to announce, guilt or innocence (see 18:18 and the context there; cf. Ac 5:3,9).

16:20 not to tell. Because of the false concepts of the Jews, who looked for an exclusively national and political Messiah, Jesus told his disciples not to publicize Peter's confession, lest it precipitate a revolution against Rome (see note on 8:4).

16:21 began. The beginning of a new emphasis in Jesus' ministry. Instead of teaching the crowds in parables, he concentrated on preparing the disciples for his coming suffering and death.

16:23 Satan. A loanword from Hebrew, meaning "adversary" or "accuser" (see NIV text note on Job 1:6; see also note on Rev 2:9).

16:24 take up his cross. See notes on 10:38; Mk 8:34.

16:27 Son of Man. See note on Mk 8:31. is going to come. The parousia, the eschatological coming of Christ.

16:28 There are two main interpretations of this verse: 1. It is a prediction of the transfiguration, which happened a week later (17:1) and which demonstrated that Jesus will return in his Father's glory (16:27). 2. It refers to the Son of Man's authority and kingly reign in his post-resurrection church. Some of his disciples will witness—even participate in—this as described in the book of Acts. The context seems to favor the first view. See note on 2Pe 1:16.

17:1–9 The transfiguration was: (1) a revelation of the glory of the Son of God, a glory hidden now but to be fully revealed when he returns; (2) a confirmation of the difficult teaching given to the disciples at Caesarea Philippi (16:13–20); and (3) a beneficial experience for the disciples, who were discouraged after having been reminded so recently of Jesus' impending suffering and death (16:21).

brother of James, and led them up a high mountain by themselves. 2There he was transfigured before them. His face shone like the sun, and his clothes became as white as the light. 3Just then there appeared before them Moses and Elijah, talking with Jesus.

4Peter said to Jesus, "Lord, it is good for us to be here. If you wish, I will put up three shelters—one for you, one for Moses and one for Elijah."

5While he was still speaking, a bright cloud enveloped them, and a voice from the cloud said, "This is my Son, whom I love; with him I am well pleased.[w] Listen to him!"[x]

6When the disciples heard this, they fell facedown to the ground, terrified. 7But Jesus came and touched them. "Get up," he said. "Don't be afraid."[y] 8When they looked up, they saw no one except Jesus.

9As they were coming down the mountain, Jesus instructed them, "Don't tell anyone[z] what you have seen, until the Son of Man[a] has been raised from the dead."[b]

10The disciples asked him, "Why then do the teachers of the law say that Elijah must come first?"

11Jesus replied, "To be sure, Elijah comes and will restore all things.[c] 12But I tell you, Elijah has already come,[d] and they did not recognize him, but have done to him everything they wished.[e] In the same way the Son of Man is going to suffer[f] at their hands." 13Then the disciples understood that he was talking to them about John the Baptist.[g]

The Healing of a Boy With a Demon

14When they came to the crowd, a man approached Jesus and knelt before him. 15"Lord, have mercy on my son," he said. "He has seizures[h] and is suffering greatly. He often falls into the fire or into the water. 16I brought him to your disciples, but they could not heal him."

17"O unbelieving and perverse generation," Jesus replied, "how long shall I stay with you? How long shall I put up with you? Bring the boy here to me." 18Jesus rebuked the demon, and it came out of the boy, and he was healed from that moment.

19Then the disciples came to Jesus in private and asked, "Why couldn't we drive it out?"

20He replied, "Because you have so little faith. I tell you the truth, if you have faith[i] as small as a mustard seed,[j] you can say to this mountain, 'Move from here to there' and it will move.[k] Nothing will be impossible for you.[p]"

22When they came together in Galilee, he said to them, "The Son of Man[l] is going to be betrayed into the hands of men. 23They will kill him,[m] and on the third day[n] he will be raised to life."[o] And the disciples were filled with grief.

The Temple Tax

24After Jesus and his disciples arrived in Capernaum, the collectors of the two-drachma tax[p] came to Peter and asked,

[p] 20 Some manuscripts you. 21*But this kind does not go out except by prayer and fasting.*

See notes on Mk 9:2–7; Lk 9:28–35.

17:1 six days. Mark also says "six days"(Mk 9:2), counting just the days between Peter's confession and the transfiguration, whereas Luke, counting all the days involved, says, "About eight days" (Lk 9:28). Peter, James and John. These three disciples had an especially close relationship to Jesus (see 26:37; Mk 5:37). high mountain. Its identity is unknown. However, the reference to Caesarea Philippi (16:13) may suggest that it was Mount Hermon, which was just northeast of Caesarea Philippi (see note on Lk 9:28). by themselves. Luke adds "to pray" (Lk 9:28).

17:2 he was transfigured. His appearance changed. The three disciples saw Jesus in his glorified state (see Jn 17:5; 2Pe 1:17).

17:3 Moses and Elijah. Moses appears as the representative of the old covenant and the promise of salvation, which was soon to be fulfilled in the death of Jesus. Elijah appears as the appointed restorer of all things (Mal 4:5–6; Mk 9:11–13). Lk 9:31 says that they talked about Christ's death. See note on Lk 9:30.

17:4 three shelters. See notes on Mk 9:5; Lk 9:33.

17:5 them. Jesus, Moses and Elijah. This is my Son, whom I love; with him I am well pleased. The same words spoken from heaven at Jesus' baptism (3:17). No mere man, but the very Son of God, was transfigured.

17:6 terrified. Primarily with a sense of awe at the presence and majesty of God.

17:10 The traditional eschatology of the teachers of the law, based on Mal 4:5–6, held that Elijah must appear before the coming of the Messiah. The disciples reasoned that if Jesus really was the Messiah, as the transfiguration proved him to be, why had not Elijah appeared?

17:12 In the same way. As John the Baptist was not recognized and was killed, so Jesus would be rejected and killed.

17:13 See note on 16:12.

17:15 seizures. See note on 4:24.

17:18 Not all seizures were the result of demon possession, but these were.

17:20 little faith. Not so much the quantity of their faith as its quality—a faith that is bathed in prayer (see Mk 9:29). mustard seed. See 13:31–32 and notes. say to this mountain, 'Move from here to there.' A proverbial statement meaning to remove great difficulties (cf. Isa 54:10; 1Co 13:2). In this context it probably refers to removing the problems associated with the work of the kingdom.

17:22 The second prediction of Christ's death, the first being in 16:21.

17:24 two-drachma tax. The annual temple tax required of every male 20 years of age and older (Ex 30:13; 2Ch 24:9; Ne 10:32). It was worth half a shekel (approximately two days' wages) and was used for the upkeep of the temple.

"Doesn't your teacher pay the temple tax[q]?"

25"Yes, he does," he replied.

When Peter came into the house, Jesus was the first to speak. "What do you think, Simon?" he asked. "From whom do the kings of the earth collect duty and taxes[q]—from their own sons or from others?"

26"From others," Peter answered.

"Then the sons are exempt," Jesus said to him. 27"But so that we may not offend[r] them, go to the lake and throw out your line. Take the first fish you catch; open its mouth and you will find a four-drachma coin. Take it and give it to them for my tax and yours."

The Greatest in the Kingdom of Heaven

18:1-5pp — Mk 9:33-37; Lk 9:46-48

18 At that time the disciples came to Jesus and asked, "Who is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven?"

2He called a little child and had him stand among them. 3And he said: "I tell you the truth, unless you change and become like little children,[s] you will never enter the kingdom of heaven.[t] 4Therefore, whoever humbles himself like this child is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven.[u]

5"And whoever welcomes a little child like this in my name welcomes me.[v] 6But if anyone causes one of these little ones who believe in me to sin,[w] it would be better for him to have a large millstone hung around his neck and to be drowned in the depths of the sea.[x]

7"Woe to the world because of the things that cause people to sin! Such things must come, but woe to the man through whom they come![y] 8If your hand or your foot causes you to sin,[z] cut it off and throw it away. It is better for you to enter life maimed or crippled than to have two hands or two feet and be thrown into eternal fire. 9And if your eye causes you to sin,[a] gouge it out and throw it away. It is better for you to enter life with one eye than to have two eyes and be thrown into the fire of hell.[b]

The Parable of the Lost Sheep

10"See that you do not look down on one of these little ones. For I tell you that their angels[c] in heaven always see the face of my Father in heaven.[r]

12"What do you think? If a man owns a hundred sheep, and one of them wanders away, will he not leave the ninety-nine on the hills and go to look for the one that wandered off? 13And if he finds it, I tell you the truth, he is happier about that one sheep than about the ninety-nine that did not wander off. 14In the same way your Father in heaven is not willing that any of these little ones should be lost.

A Brother Who Sins Against You

15"If your brother sins against you,[s] go and show him his fault,[d] just between the two of you. If he listens to you, you have won your brother over. 16But if he will not listen, take one or two others along, so that 'every matter may be established by the testimony of two or three witnesses.'[te] 17If he refuses to listen to them, tell it to the church;[f] and if he refuses to listen even to the church, treat him as you would a pagan or a tax collector.[g]

18"I tell you the truth, whatever you bind on earth will be[u] bound in heaven, and whatever you loose on earth will be[u] loosed in heaven.[h]

19"Again, I tell you that if two of you on earth agree about anything you ask for, it will be done for you[i] by my Father in heaven. 20For where two or three come together in my name, there am I with them."[j]

The Parable of the Unmerciful Servant

[q] 24 Greek the two drachmas [r] 10 Some manuscripts heaven. [11]The Son of Man came to save what was lost.

17:26 the sons are exempt. The implication is that Peter and the rest of the disciples belonged to God's royal household, but unbelieving Jews did not (see 21:43).

18:1 who is the greatest? See note on Lk 9:46.

18:3 like little children. Trusting and unpretentious.

18:6 large millstone. Lit. "a millstone of a donkey," i.e., a millstone turned by a donkey—far larger and heavier than the small millstones (24:41) used by women each morning in their homes.

18:8–9 See note on 5:29–30.

18:10 their angels. Guardian angels not exclusively for children, but for God's people in general (Ps 34:7; 91:11; Heb 1:14). always see the face of. Have constant access to.

18:11 See NIV text note on v. 10.

18:12–14 The parable of the lost sheep is also found in Lk 15:3–7. There it applies to unbelievers, here to believers. Jesus used the same parable to teach different truths in different situations.

18:12 sheep. See note on Lk 15:4.

18:15 brother. A fellow believer.

18:17 church. The local congregation. Here and 16:18 are the only two places where the Gospels speak of the "church." pagan. For the Jews this meant any Gentile. tax collector. See note on 5:46. This verse establishes one basis for excommunication.

18:18 See note on 16:19.

22 Jesus answered, "I tell you, not seven times, but seventy-seven times.[v m] 23 "Therefore, the kingdom of heaven is like[n] a king who wanted to settle accounts[o] with his servants. 24 As he began the settlement, a man who owed him ten thousand talents[w] was brought to him. 25 Since he was not able to pay,[p] the master ordered that he and his wife and his children and all that he had be sold[q] to repay the debt.
26 "The servant fell on his knees before him.[r] 'Be patient with me,' he begged,
'and I will pay back everything.' 27 The servant's master took pity on him, canceled the debt and let him go.
28 "But when that servant went out, he found one of his fellow servants who owed him a hundred denarii.[x] He grabbed him and began to choke him.
'Pay back what you owe me!' he demanded.
29 "His fellow servant fell to his knees and begged him, 'Be patient with me, and I will pay you back.'
30 "But he refused. Instead, he went off and had the man thrown into prison until he could pay the debt. 31 When the other servants saw what had happened, they were greatly distressed and went and told their master everything that had happened.
32 "Then the master called the servant
in. 'You wicked servant,' he said, 'I canceled all that debt of yours because you begged me to. 33 Shouldn't you have had mercy on your fellow servant just as I had on you?' 34 In anger his master turned him over to the jailers to be tortured, until he should pay back all he owed.
35 "This is how my heavenly Father will treat each of you unless you forgive your brother from your heart."[s]

Divorce

19:1–9pp — Mk 10:1–12

19 When Jesus had finished saying these things,[t] he left Galilee and went into the region of Judea to the other side of the Jordan. 2 Large crowds followed him, and he healed them[u] there.
3 Some Pharisees came to him to test him. They asked, "Is it lawful for a man to divorce his wife[v] for any and every reason?"
4 "Haven't you read," he replied, "that at the beginning the Creator 'made them male and female,'[y w] 5 and said, 'For this reason a man will leave his father and mother and be united to his wife, and the two will become one flesh'[z ? x] 6 So they are no longer two, but one. Therefore what God has joined together, let man not separate."
7 "Why then," they asked, "did Moses command that a man give his wife a certificate of divorce and send her away?"[y] 8 Jesus replied, "Moses permitted you to divorce your wives because your hearts were hard. But it was not this way from the beginning. 9 I tell you that anyone who divorces his wife, except for marital unfaithfulness, and marries another woman commits adultery."[z] 10 The disciples said to him, "If this is the situation between a husband and wife, it is better not to marry."
11 Jesus replied, "Not everyone can accept this word, but only those to whom it has been given.[a] 12 For some are eu-nuchs because they were born that way; others were made that way by men; and others have renounced marriage[a] because of the kingdom of heaven. The one who can accept this should accept it."

The Little Children and Jesus

19:13–15pp — Mk 10:13–16; Lk 18:15–17

13 Then little children were brought to Jesus for him to place his hands on them[b] and pray for them. But the disciples rebuked those who brought them.
14 Jesus said, "Let the little children

18:25 For this practice of selling into slavery see Ex 21:2; Lev 25:39; 2Ki 4:1; Ne 5:5; Isa 50:1.
18:35 forgive. The one main teaching of the parable.
19:1 the other side of the Jordan. The east side, known later as Transjordan or Perea and today simply as Jordan. Jesus now began ministering there (see note on Lk 13:22).
19:3 Pharisees. See note on Mk 2:16. for any and every reason. This last part of the question is not in the parallel passage in Mark (10:2). Matthew possibly included it because he was writing to the Jews, who were aware of the dispute between the schools of Shammai and Hillel over the interpretation of Dt 24:1–4. Shammai held that "something indecent" meant "marital unfaithfulness"—the only allowable cause for divorce. Hillel (c. 60 B.C.-A.D. 20) emphasized the preceding clause, "who becomes displeasing to him." He would allow a man to divorce his wife if she did anything he disliked—even if she burned his food while cooking it. Jesus clearly took the side of Shammai (see v. 9), but only after first pointing back to God's original ideal for marriage in Ge 1:27; 2:24.
19:10–12 See 1Co 7:7–8,26,32–35.
19:11 this word. The disciples' conclusion in v. 10: "it is better not to marry." Not everyone can accept this teaching because it is not meant for everyone. Jesus then gives three examples of persons for whom it is meant in v. 12.
19:12 have renounced marriage because of the kingdom of heaven. Those who have voluntarily adopted a celibate life-style in order to give themselves more completely to God's work. Under certain circumstances celibacy is recommended in Scripture (cf. 1Co. 7:25–38), but it is never presented as superior to marriage.
19:14 kingdom of heaven. See note on 3:2. belongs to such as these. See note on Mk 10:14.

The Rich Young Man

19:16–29pp — Mk 10:17–30; Lk 18:18–30

[16]Now a man came up to Jesus and asked, "Teacher, what good thing must I do to get eternal life[e]?"[f]

[17]"Why do you ask me about what is good?" Jesus replied. "There is only One who is good. If you want to enter life, obey the commandments."[g]

[18]"Which ones?" the man inquired.

Jesus replied, " 'Do not murder, do not commit adultery,[h] do not steal, do not give false testimony, [19]honor your father and mother,'[b][i] and 'love your neighbor as yourself.'[c][j]"

[20]"All these I have kept," the young man said. "What do I still lack?"

[21]Jesus answered, "If you want to be perfect,[k] go, sell your possessions and give to the poor,[l] and you will have treasure in heaven.[m] Then come, follow me."

[22]When the young man heard this, he went away sad, because he had great wealth.

[23]Then Jesus said to his disciples, "I tell you the truth, it is hard for a rich man[n] to enter the kingdom of heaven. [24]Again I tell you, it is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the kingdom of God."

[25]When the disciples heard this, they were greatly astonished and asked, "Who then can be saved?"

[26]Jesus looked at them and said, "With man this is impossible, but with God all things are possible."[o]

[27]Peter answered him, "We have left everything to follow you![p] What then will there be for us?"

[28]Jesus said to them, "I tell you the truth, at the renewal of all things, when the Son of Man sits on his glorious throne,[q] you who have followed me will also sit on twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel.[r] [29]And everyone who has left houses or brothers or sisters or father or mother[d] or children or fields for my sake will receive a hundred times as much and will inherit eternal life.[s] [30]But many who are first will be last, and many who are last will be first.[t]

[d] 29 Some manuscripts mother or wife

19:16 a man. See note on Mk 10:17. what good thing must I do . . . ? The rich man was thinking in terms of righteousness by works. Jesus had to correct this misunderstanding first before answering the question more fully. eternal life. The first use of this term in Matthew's Gospel (see v. 29; 25:46). In John it occurs much more frequently, often taking the place of the term "kingdom of God (or heaven)" used in the Synoptics, which treat the following three expressions as synonymous: (1) eternal life (v. 16; Mk 10:17; Lk 18:18), (2) entering the kingdom of heaven (v. 23; Mk 10:24; Lk 18:24) and (3) being saved (vv. 25–26; Mk 10:26–27; Lk 18:26–27).

19:17 There is only One who is good. The good is not something to be done as meritorious in itself. God alone is good, and all other goodness derives from him—even the keeping of the commandments, which Jesus proceeded to enumerate (vv. 18–20). If you want to enter life, obey the commandments. "To enter life" is the same as "to get eternal life" (v. 16). The requirement to "obey the commandments" is not to establish one's merit before God but is to be an expression of true faith. The Bible always teaches that salvation is a gift of God's grace received through faith (see Eph 2:8).

19:20 all these I have kept. See note on Mk 10:20.

19:21 perfect. Greek teleios, "goal, end." His goal was eternal life, but wealth and lack of commitment stood in his way. go, sell your possessions. In his listing of the commandments, Jesus omitted "Do not covet." This was the rich man's main problem and was preventing him from entering life (see note on Mk 10:21).

19:22 he went away sad. See note on Mk 10:22.

19:23 kingdom of heaven. See note on 3:2.

19:24 camel to go through the eye of a needle. See note on Mk 10:25.

19:26 See note on Mk 10:27.

19:28 I tell you the truth. See note on Mk 10:29. Son of Man. See note on Mk 8:31. judging. Governing or ruling (cf. the OT "judge"; see Introduction to Judges: Title).

19:29 will receive a hundred times as much. Mark adds, "and with them, persecutions" (see note on Mk 10:30).

20:1–16 This parable occurs only in Matthew's Gospel. In its original setting, its main point seems to be the sovereign graciousness and generosity of God extended to "latecomers" (the poor and the outcasts of society) into God's kingdom. It is addressed to the grumblers (v. 11) who just cannot handle this amazing expression of God's grace. They almost certainly represent the religious leaders who opposed Jesus.

20:2 a denarius. The usual daily wage. A Roman soldier also received one denarius a day.

20:3 third hour. 9:00 A.M.

around. He asked them, 'Why have you been standing here all day long doing nothing?'

7" 'Because no one has hired us,' they answered.

"He said to them, 'You also go and work in my vineyard.'

8"When evening came,[w] the owner of the vineyard said to his foreman, 'Call the workers and pay them their wages, beginning with the last ones hired and going on to the first.'

9"The workers who were hired about the eleventh hour came and each received a denarius. 10So when those came who were hired first, they expected to receive more. But each one of them also received a denarius. 11When they received it, they began to grumble[x] against the landowner. 12"These men who were hired last worked only one hour,' they said, 'and you have made them equal to us who have borne the burden of the work and the heat[y] of the day.'

13"But he answered one of them, 'Friend,[z] I am not being unfair to you. Didn't you agree to work for a denarius? 14Take your pay and go. I want to give the man who was hired last the same as I gave you. 15Don't I have the right to do what I want with my own money? Or are you envious because I am generous?'[a]

16"So the last will be first, and the first will be last."[b]

Jesus Again Predicts His Death

20:17–19pp — Mk 10:32–34; Lk 18:31–33

17Now as Jesus was going up to Jerusalem, he took the twelve disciples aside and said to them, 18"We are going up to Jerusalem,[c] and the Son of Man[d] will be betrayed to the chief priests and the teachers of the law.[e] They will condemn him to death 19and will turn him over to the Gentiles to be mocked and flogged[f] and crucified.[g] On the third day[h] he will be raised to life!"[i]

A Mother's Request

20:20–28pp — Mk 10:35–45

20Then the mother of Zebedee's sons[j] came to Jesus with her sons and, kneeling down,[k] asked a favor of him.

21"What is it you want?" he asked.

She said, "Grant that one of these two sons of mine may sit at your right and the other at your left in your kingdom."[l]

22"You don't know what you are asking," Jesus said to them. "Can you drink the cup[m] I am going to drink?"

"We can," they answered.

23Jesus said to them, "You will indeed drink from my cup,[n] but to sit at my right or left is not for me to grant. These places belong to those for whom they have been prepared by my Father."

24When the ten heard about this, they were indignant[o] with the two brothers. 25Jesus called them together and said, "You know that the rulers of the Gentiles lord it over them, and their high officials exercise authority over them. 26Not so with you. Instead, whoever wants to become great among you must be your servant,[p] 27and whoever wants to be first must be your slave— 28just as the Son of Man[q] did not come to be served, but to serve,[r] and to give his life as a ransom[s] for many."

Two Blind Men Receive Sight

20:29–34pp — Mk 10:46–52; Lk 18:35–43

29As Jesus and his disciples were leaving Jericho, a large crowd followed him. 30Two blind men were sitting by the roadside, and when they heard that Jesus was going by, they shouted, "Lord, Son of David,[t] have mercy on us!"

31The crowd rebuked them and told them to be quiet, but they shouted all the 20:8 When evening came. Because farm workers were poor, the law of Moses required that they be paid at the end of each day (cf. Lev 19:13; Dt 24:14–15).

20:15 are you envious . . . ? Lit. "is your eye evil . . . ?" Apparently the evil eye was associated with jealousy and envy (cf. 1Sa 18:9).

20:17–19 See Mk 10:32–34; Lk 18:31–33 and notes.

20:19 and will turn him over to the Gentiles to be mocked and flogged and crucified. An additional statement in this third prediction of the passion. Jesus would not be killed by the Jews, which would have been by stoning, but would be crucified by the Romans. All three predictions include his resurrection on the third day (16:21; 17:23).

20:20 mother of Zebedee's sons. Mark has "James and John, the sons of Zebedee," asking the question (Mk 10:35–37), yet there is no contradiction. The three joined in making the petition.

20:21 want. See note on Mk 10:35–36. sit at your right and the other at your left. See note on Mk 10:37.

20:22 drink the cup. A figure of speech meaning to "undergo" or "experience." Here the reference is to suffering (cf. 26:39). The same figure of speech is used in Jer 25:15; Eze 23:32; Hab 2:16; Rev 14:10; 16:19; 18:6 for divine wrath or judgment. See note on Mk 10:38.

20:23 is not for me to grant. See note on Mk 10:40.

20:24 See note on Mk 10:41.

20:26 Not so with you. See note on Mk 10:43.

20:28 ransom. The Greek word was used most commonly for the price paid to redeem a slave. Similarly, Christ paid the ransom price of his own life to free us from the slavery of sin. for. Here the Greek for this preposition emphasizes the substitutionary nature of Christ's death. many. Christ "gave himself as a ransom for all men" (1Ti 2:6). Salvation is offered to "all," but only the "many" (i.e., the elect) receive it. See note on Mk 10:45.

20:29 Jericho. See note on Mk 10:46.

20:30 Two blind men. The other Synoptics mention only one (see note on Lk 18:35). Son of David. A Messianic title (see note on 9:27).

louder, "Lord, Son of David, have mercy on us!"

32Jesus stopped and called them. "What do you want me to do for you?" he asked.

33"Lord," they answered, "we want our sight."

34Jesus had compassion on them and touched their eyes. Immediately they received their sight and followed him.

The Triumphal Entry

21:4–9pp — Jn 12:12–15

21 As they approached Jerusalem and came to Bethphage on the Mount of Olives,[u] Jesus sent two disciples, 2saying to them, "Go to the village ahead of you, and at once you will find a donkey tied there, with her colt by her. Untie them and bring them to me. 3If anyone says anything to you, tell him that the Lord needs them, and he will send them right away."

4This took place to fulfill[v] what was spoken through the prophet:

5"Say to the Daughter of Zion,
'See, your king comes to you, gentle and riding on a donkey, on a colt, the foal of a donkey.' "[e][w]

6The disciples went and did as Jesus had instructed them. 7They brought the donkey and the colt, placed their cloaks on them, and Jesus sat on them. 8A very large crowd spread their cloaks[x] on the road, while others cut branches from the trees and spread them on the road. 9The crowds that went ahead of him and those that followed shouted,

"Hosanna[f] to the Son of David!"[y]
"Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord!"[gz]

"Hosanna[f] in the highest!"[a]

10When Jesus entered Jerusalem, the whole city was stirred and asked, "Who is this?"

11The crowds answered, "This is Jesus, the prophet[b] from Nazareth in Galilee."

Jesus at the Temple

21:12–16pp — Mk 11:15–18; Lk 19:45–47

12Jesus entered the temple area and drove out all who were buying[c] and selling there. He overturned the tables of the money changers[d] and the benches of those selling doves.[e] 13"It is written," he said to them, " 'My house will be called a house of prayer,'[h][f] but you are making it a 'den of robbers.'[i]"[g]

14The blind and the lame came to him at the temple, and he healed them.[h] 15But when the chief priests and the teachers of the law saw the wonderful things he did and the children shouting in the temple area, "Hosanna to the Son of David,"[i] they were indignant.[j]

16"Do you hear what these children are saying?" they asked him.

"Yes," replied Jesus, "have you never read,

" 'From the lips of children and infants
you have ordained praise'[i]?"[k]

17And he left them and went out of the city to Bethany,[l] where he spent the night.

21:1 Jerusalem. See map No. 8 at the end of the study Bible. Bethphage. The name means "house of figs." It is not mentioned in the OT, and in the NT only in connection with the Triumphal Entry. In the Talmud it is spoken of as being near Jerusalem. Mount of Olives. See note on Mk 11:1.

21:2 donkey. An animal symbolic of humility, peace and Davidic royalty (see notes on Zec 9:9; Lk 19:30). See also note on Mk 11:2. colt. See notes on Mk 11:2 and Lk 19:30.

21:3 Lord. See note on Lk 19:31.

21:7 Jesus sat on them. He sat on the cloaks. We know from Mark (11:2) and Luke (19:30) that he rode the colt. Typically, a mother donkey followed her offspring closely. Matthew mentions two animals, while the other Gospels have only one (see note on Lk 19:30).

21:8 spread their cloaks on the road. An act of royal homage (see 2Ki 9:13). branches. See note on Mk 11:8.

21:9 These are three separate quotations, not necessarily spoken at the same time. Hosanna. See note on Jer 31:7; both prayer and praise (see NIV text note). Son of David. See note on 9:27. in the highest. That is, may those in heaven sing "Hosanna" (see Ps 148:1–2; Lk 2:14).

21:12–17 In the Synoptics the cleansing of the temple occurs during the last week of Jesus' ministry; in John it takes place during the first few months (Jn 2:12–16). Two explanations are possible: 1. There were two cleansings, one at the beginning and the other at the end of Jesus' public ministry. 2. There was only one cleansing, which took place during Passion Week but which John placed at the beginning of his account for theological reasons—to show that God's judgment was operative through the Messiah from the outset of his ministry. However, different details are present in the two accounts (the selling of cattle and sheep in Jn 2:14, the whip in Jn 2:15, and the statements of Jesus in Mt 21:13; Jn 2:16). From Matthew's and Luke's accounts we might assume that the cleansing of the temple took place on Sunday, following the so-called Triumphal Entry (21:1–11). But Mark (11:15–19) clearly indicates that it was on Monday. Matthew often compressed narratives.

21:12 temple area. The "buying and selling" took place in the large outer court of the Gentiles, which covered several acres (see notes on Mk 11:15 and Lk 19:45).

21:13 house of prayer. See note on Mk 11:17.

21:17 Bethany. A village on the eastern slope of the Mount of Olives, about two miles from Jerusalem and the final station on the road from Jericho to Jerusalem.

The Fig Tree Withers

21:18–22pp — Mk 11:12–14,20–24

18Early in the morning, as he was on his way back to the city, he was hungry. 19Seeing a fig tree by the road, he went up to it but found nothing on it except leaves. Then he said to it, "May you never bear fruit again!" Immediately the tree withered.[m]

20When the disciples saw this, they were amazed. "How did the fig tree wither so quickly?" they asked.

21Jesus replied, "I tell you the truth, if you have faith and do not doubt,[n] not only can you do what was done to the fig tree, but also you can say to this mountain, 'Go, throw yourself into the sea,' and it will be done. 22If you believe, you will receive whatever you ask for[o] in prayer."

The Authority of Jesus Questioned

23Jesus entered the temple courts, and, while he was teaching, the chief priests and the elders of the people came to him. "By what authority[p] are you doing these things?" they asked. "And who gave you this authority?"

24Jesus replied, "I will also ask you one question. If you answer me, I will tell you by what authority I am doing these things. 25John's baptism—where did it come from? Was it from heaven, or from men?"

They discussed it among themselves and said, "If we say, 'From heaven,' he will ask, 'Then why didn't you believe him?' 26But if we say, 'From men'—we are afraid of the people, for they all hold that John was a prophet."[q]

27So they answered Jesus, "We don't know."

Then he said, "Neither will I tell you by what authority I am doing these things.

The Parable of the Two Sons

28"What do you think? There was a man who had two sons. He went to the first and said, 'Son, go and work today in the vineyard.'[r]

29"'I will not,' he answered, but later he changed his mind and went.

30"Then the father went to the other son and said the same thing. He answered, 'I will, sir,' but he did not go.

31"Which of the two did what his father wanted?"

"The first," they answered.

Jesus said to them, "I tell you the truth, the tax collectors[s] and the prostitutes[t] are entering the kingdom of God ahead of you. 32For John came to you to show you the way of righteousness,[u] and you did not believe him, but the tax collectors[v] and the prostitutes[w] did. And even after you saw this, you did not repent[x] and believe him.

The Parable of the Tenants

21:33–46pp — Mk 12:1–12; Lk 20:9–19

33"Listen to another parable: There was a landowner who planted[y] a vineyard. He put a wall around it, dug a winepress in it and built a watchtower.[z] Then he rented the vineyard to some farmers and went away on a journey.[a] 34When the harvest time approached, he sent his servants[b] to the tenants to collect his fruit.

35"The tenants seized his servants; they beat one, killed another, and stoned a third.[c] 36Then he sent other servants[d] to them, more than the first time, and the tenants treated them the same way. 37Last of all, he sent his son to them. 'They will respect my son,' he said.

38"But when the tenants saw the son, they said to each other, 'This is the heir.[e] Come, let's kill him[f] and take his inheritance.'[g] 39So they took him and threw him out of the vineyard and killed him.

40"Therefore, when the owner of the vineyard comes, what will he do to those tenants?"

41"He will bring those wretches to a wretched end,"[h] they replied, "and he will rent the vineyard to other tenants,[i] who will give him his share of the crop at harvest time."

21:18–22 See note on vv. 12–17; another example of compressing narratives. Mark (11:12–14,20–25) places the cursing of the fig tree on Monday morning and the disciples' finding it withered on Tuesday morning. In Matthew's account the tree withered as soon as Jesus cursed it, emphasizing the immediacy of judgment. For the theological meaning of this event see note on Mk 11:14.

21:18 city. Jerusalem.

21:33–46 See notes on Mk 12:1–12 and Lk 20:9–19.

21:33 watchtower. For guarding the vineyard, especially when the grapes ripened, and for shelter. The rabbis specified that it was to be a raised wooden platform, 15 feet high and 6 feet square.

21:35–37 The tenants are the Jews, or their leaders. The servants represent the OT prophets, many of whom were killed. The son represents Christ, who was condemned to death by the religious leaders.

21:41 other tenants. Gentiles, to whom Paul turned when the Jews, for the most part, rejected the gospel (Ac 13:46; 18:6). By the second century the church was composed almost entirely of Gentiles.

42 Jesus said to them, "Have you never read in the Scriptures:

" 'The stone the builders rejected has become the capstone[k];
the Lord has done this,
and it is marvelous in our eyes'[l][j]?

43 "Therefore I tell you that the kingdom of God will be taken away from you[k] and given to a people who will produce its fruit. 44 He who falls on this stone will be broken to pieces, but he on whom it falls will be crushed."[m][l]

45 When the chief priests and the Pharisees heard Jesus' parables, they knew he was talking about them. 46 They looked for a way to arrest him, but they were afraid of the crowd because the people held that he was a prophet.[m]

The Parable of the Wedding Banquet

22 Jesus spoke to them again in parables, saying: 2 "The kingdom of heaven is like[n] a king who prepared a wedding banquet for his son. 3 He sent his servants[o] to those who had been invited to the banquet to tell them to come, but they refused to come.

4 "Then he sent some more servants[p] and said, 'Tell those who have been invited that I have prepared my dinner: My oxen and fattened cattle have been butchered, and everything is ready. Come to the wedding banquet.'

5 "But they paid no attention and went off—one to his field, another to his business. 6 The rest seized his servants, mistreated them and killed them. 7 The king was enraged. He sent his army and destroyed those murderers[q] and burned their city.

8 "Then he said to his servants, 'The wedding banquet is ready, but those I invited did not deserve to come. 9 Go to the street corners[r] and invite to the banquet anyone you find.' 10 So the servants went out into the streets and gathered all the people they could find, both good and bad,[s] and the wedding hall was filled with guests.

11 "But when the king came in to see the guests, he noticed a man there who was not wearing wedding clothes. 12 'Friend,'[t] he asked, 'how did you get in here without wedding clothes?' The man was speechless.

13 "Then the king told the attendants, 'Tie him hand and foot, and throw him outside, into the darkness, where there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.'[u]

14 "For many are invited, but few are chosen."[v]

Paying Taxes to Caesar

22:15–22pp — Mk 12:13–17; Lk 20:20–26

15 Then the Pharisees went out and laid plans to trap him in his words. 16 They sent their disciples to him along with the Herodians.[w] "Teacher," they said, "we know you are a man of integrity and that you teach the way of God in accordance with the truth. You aren't swayed by men, because you pay no attention to who they are. 17 Tell us then, what is your opinion? Is it right to pay taxes[x] to Caesar or not?"

18 But Jesus, knowing their evil intent, said, "You hypocrites, why are you trying to trap me? 19 Show me the coin used for paying the tax." They brought him a denarius, 20 and he asked them, "Whose portrait is this? And whose inscription?"

21 "Caesar's," they replied.

[m] 44 Some manuscripts do not have verse 44.

21:44 will be broken to pieces. See note on Lk 20:18.

22:7 burned their city. A common military practice; here possibly an allusion to the destruction of Jerusalem in A.D. 70.
22:11 not wearing wedding clothes. It has been conjectured that it may have been the custom for the host to provide the guests with wedding garments. This would have been necessary for the guests at this banquet in particular, for they were brought in directly from the streets (vv. 9–10). The failure of the man in question to avail himself of a wedding garment was therefore an insult to the host, who had made the garments available.
22:13 gnashing of teeth. See note on 13:42.
22:14 A proverbial summary of the meaning of the parable. God invites "many" (perhaps "all" in view of the Semitic usage of "many") to be part of his kingdom, but only a "few" are chosen by him. This does not mean that God chooses arbitrarily. The invitation must be accepted, followed by appropriate conduct. Proper behavior is evidence of being chosen.
22:15–17 The Pharisees were ardent nationalists, opposed to Roman rule, while the hated Herodians, as their name indicates, supported the Roman rule of the Herods. Now, however, the Pharisees enlisted the help of the Herodians to trap Jesus in his words. After trying to put him off guard with flattery, they sprang their question: "Is it right to pay taxes to Caesar or not?" (v. 17). If he said "No," the Herodians would report him to the Roman governor and he would be executed for treason. If he said "Yes," the Pharisees would denounce him to the people as disloyal to his nation.
22:19 denarius. The common Roman coin of that day (see note on 20:2). On one side was the portrait of Emperor Tiberius and on the other the inscription in Latin: "Tiberius Caesar Augustus, son of the divine Augustus." The coin was issued by Tiberius and was used for paying tax to him.
22:21 to God what is God's. In distinguishing clearly between Caesar and God, Jesus also protested against the false and idolatrous claims made on the coins (see previous note and note on Mk 12:17).

Then he said to them, "Give to Caesar what is Caesar's,[x] and to God what is God's."

[22]When they heard this, they were amazed. So they left him and went away.[z]

Marriage at the Resurrection

[23]That same day the Sadducees,[a] who say there is no resurrection,[b] came to him with a question. [24]"Teacher," they said, "Moses told us that if a man dies without having children, his brother must marry the widow and have children for him.[c] [25]Now there were seven brothers among us. The first one married and died, and since he had no children, he left his wife to his brother. [26]The same thing happened to the second and third brother, right on down to the seventh. [27]Finally, the woman died. [28]Now then, at the resurrection, whose wife will she be of the seven, since all of them were married to her?"

[29]Jesus replied, "You are in error because you do not know the Scriptures[d] or the power of God. [30]At the resurrection people will neither marry nor be given in marriage;[e] they will be like the angels in heaven. [31]But about the resurrection of the dead—have you not read what God said to you, [32]'I am the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob'[n]?[f] He is not the God of the dead but of the living."

[33]When the crowds heard this, they were astonished at his teaching.[g]

The Greatest Commandment

22:34–40pp — Mk 12:28–31

[34]Hearing that Jesus had silenced the Sadducees,[h] the Pharisees got together. [35]One of them, an expert in the law,[i] tested him with this question: [36]"Teacher, which is the greatest commandment in the Law?"

[37]Jesus replied: " 'Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind.'[o][j] [38]This is the first and greatest commandment. [39]And the second is like it: 'Love your neighbor as yourself.'[p][k] [40]All the Law and the Prophets hang on these two commandments."[l]

Whose Son Is the Christ?

22:41–46pp — Mk 12:35–37; Lk 20:41–44

[41]While the Pharisees were gathered together, Jesus asked them, [42]"What do you think about the Christ[q]? Whose son is he?"

"The son of David,"[m] they replied.

[43]He said to them, "How is it then that David, speaking by the Spirit, calls him 'Lord'? For he says, [44]" 'The Lord said to my Lord:

"Sit at my right hand
until I put your enemies
under your feet." '[r][n]

[45]If then David calls him 'Lord,' how can he be his son?" [46]No one could say a word in reply, and from that day on no one dared to ask him any more questions.[o]

Seven Woes

23:1–7pp — Mk 12:38,39; Lk 20:45,46

But do not do what they do, for they do not practice what they preach. [4]They tie up heavy loads and put them on men's shoulders, but they themselves are not willing to lift a finger to move them.[q]

23:14 See NIV text note on v. 13.
23:15 Jesus does not criticize the Pharisees for their evangelistic zeal. He objects to its results. The converts wound up "out-Phariseeing" the Pharisees, and that meant they became even more sons of hell (i.e., bound for hell) than their teachers. hell. See notes on 5:22 and Lk 12:5.

Jewish Sects

PHARISEES

Their roots can be traced to the second century B.C.—to the Hasidim.

1. Along with the Torah, they accepted as equally inspired and authoritative all material contained within the oral tradition.
2. On free will and determination, they held to a mediating view that made it impossible for either free will or the sovereignty of God to cancel out the other.
3. They accepted a rather developed hierarchy of angels and demons.
4. They taught that there was a future for the dead.
5. They believed in the immortality of the soul and in reward and retribution after death.
6. They were champions of human equality.
7. The emphasis of their teaching was ethical rather than theological.

SADDUCEES

They probably had their beginning during the Hasmonean period (166-63 B.C.). Their demise occurred C. A.D. 70 with the fall of Jerusalem.

1. They denied that the oral law was authoritative and binding.
2. They interpreted Mosaic law more literally than did the Pharisees.
3. They were very exacting in Levitical purity.
4. They attributed all to free will.
5. They argued there is neither resurrection of the dead nor a future life.
6. They rejected a belief in angels and demons.
7. They rejected the idea of a spiritual world.
8. Only the books of Moses were canonical Scripture.

ESSENES

They probably originated among the Hasidim, along with the Pharisees, from whom they later separated (I Maccabees 2:42; 7:13). They were a group of very strict and zealous Jews who took part with the Maccabeans in a revolt against the Syrians, c. 165-155 B.C.

1. They followed a strict observance of the purity laws of the Torah.
2. They were notable for their communal ownership of property.
3. They had a strong sense of mutual responsibility.
4. Daily worship was an important feature along with a daily study of their sacred scriptures.
5. Solemn oaths of piety and obedience had to be taken.
6. Sacrifices were offered on holy days and during sacred seasons.
7. Marriage was not condemned in principle but was avoided.
8. They attributed all that happened to fate.

ZEALOTS

They originated during the reign of Herod the Great c. 6 B.C. and ceased to exist in A.D. 73 at Masada.

1. They opposed payment of tribute for taxes to a pagan emperor, saying that allegiance was due only to God.
2. They held a fierce loyalty to the Jewish traditions.
3. They were opposed to the use of the Greek language in Palestine.
4. They prophesied the coming of the time of salvation.

heaven swears by God's throne and by the one who sits on it.[t]

23"Woe to you, teachers of the law and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You give a tenth[j] of your spices—mint, dill and cummin. But you have neglected the more important matters of the law—justice, mercy and faithfulness.[k] You should have practiced the latter, without neglecting the former. 24You blind guides![l] You strain out a gnat but swallow a camel.

25"Woe to you, teachers of the law and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You clean the outside of the cup and dish,[m] but inside they are full of greed and self-indulgence.[n] 26Blind Pharisee! First clean the inside of the cup and dish, and then the outside also will be clean.

27"Woe to you, teachers of the law and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You are like whitewashed tombs,[o] which look beautiful on the outside but on the inside are full of dead men's bones and everything unclean. 28In the same way, on the outside you appear to people as righteous but on the inside you are full of hypocrisy and wickedness.

29"Woe to you, teachers of the law and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You build tombs for the prophets[p] and decorate the graves of the righteous. 30And you say, 'If we had lived in the days of our forefathers, we would not have taken part with them in shedding the blood of the prophets.' 31So you testify against yourselves that you are the descendants of those who murdered the prophets.[q] 32Fill up, then, the measure[r] of the sin of your forefathers![s]

33"You snakes! You brood of vipers![t] How will you escape being condemned to hell?[u] 34Therefore I am sending you prophets and wise men and teachers. Some of them you will kill and crucify;[v] others you will flog in your synagogues[w] and pursue from town to town.[x] 35And so upon you will come all the righteous blood that has been shed on earth, from the blood of righteous Abel[y] to the blood of Zechariah son of Berekiah,[z] whom you murdered between the temple and the altar.[a] 36I tell you the truth, all this will come upon this generation.[b]

37"O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, you who kill the prophets and stone those sent to you,[c] how often I have longed to gather your children together, as a hen gathers her chicks under her wings,[d] but you were not willing. 38Look, your house is left to you desolate.[e] 39For I tell you, you will not see me again until you say, 'Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord.'[v]"[f]

Signs of the End of the Age

24:1-51pp — Mk 13:1-37; Lk 21:5-36

24 Jesus left the temple and was walking away when his disciples came up to him to call his attention to its buildings. 2"Do you see all these things?" he asked. "I tell you the truth, not one stone here will be left on another;[g] every one will be thrown down."

3As Jesus was sitting on the Mount of Olives,[h] the disciples came to him privately. "Tell us," they said, "when will this happen, and what will be the sign of your coming[i] and of the end of the age?"[j]

4Jesus answered: "Watch out that no one deceives you.[k] 5For many will come in my name, claiming, 'I am the Christ,[w]' and will deceive many.[l] 6You will hear of wars and rumors of wars, but see to it that you are not alarmed. Such things must happen, but the end is v39 Psalm 118:26 w5 Or Messiah; also in verse 23

23:23 Jesus does not criticize the observance of the minutiae of the law (he says, "without neglecting" them), but he does criticize the hypocrisy often involved (see note on 5:18–20).

23:24 strain out. The strict Pharisee would carefully strain his drinking water through a cloth to be sure he did not swallow a gnat, the smallest of unclean animals. But, figuratively, he would swallow a camel—one of the largest.

23:27 whitewashed tombs. A person who stepped on a grave became ceremonially unclean (see Nu 19:16), so graves were whitewashed to make them easily visible, especially at night. They appeared clean and beautiful on the outside, but they were dirty and rotten on the inside.

23:33 hell. See notes on 5:22 and Lk 12:5.

23:35 Abel to ... Zechariah. The murder of Abel is recorded in Ge 4:8 and that of Zechariah son of Jehoiada in 2Ch 24:20–22 (Chronicles comes at the close of the OT according to the Hebrew arrangement). The expression was somewhat like our "from Genesis to Revelation." Jesus was summing up the history of martyrdom in the OT.

23:37–39 See notes on Lk 13:34–35.

24:1–25:46 The Olivet discourse, the fifth and last of the great discourses in Matthew's Gospel (see notes on 5:1–7:29; Mk 13:1–37).

24:2 not one stone ... left. Fulfilled literally in A.D. 70, when the Romans under Titus completely destroyed Jerusalem and the temple buildings. Stones were even pried apart to collect the gold leaf that melted from the roof when the temple was set on fire. stone. See note on Mk 13:1. thrown down. Excavations in 1968 uncovered large numbers of these stones, toppled from the walls by the invaders.

24:3 Mount of Olives. A ridge a little more than a mile long, beyond the Kidron Valley east of Jerusalem and rising about 200 feet above the city (see note on Mk 11:1). when will this happen, and what will be the sign of your coming and of the end of the age? Jesus deals with these questions but does not distinguish them sharply. However, it appears that the description of the end of the age is discussed in vv. 4–14, the destruction of Jerusalem in vv. 15–22 (see Lk 21:20) and Christ's coming in vv. 23–31.

still to come. 7Nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom.[m] There will be famines[n] and earthquakes in various places. 8All these are the beginning of birth pains.

9"Then you will be handed over to be persecuted[o] and put to death,[p] and you will be hated by all nations because of me.[q] 10At that time many will turn away from the faith and will betray and hate each other, 11and many false prophets[r] will appear and deceive many people.[s] 12Because of the increase of wickedness, the love of most will grow cold, 13but he who stands firm to the end will be saved.[t] 14And this gospel of the kingdom[u] will be preached in the whole world[v] as a testimony to all nations, and then the end will come.

15"So when you see standing in the holy place[w] 'the abomination that causes desolation,'[xx] spoken of through the prophet Daniel—let the reader understand— 16then let those who are in Judea flee to the mountains. 17Let no one on the roof of his house[y] go down to take anything out of the house. 18Let no one in the field go back to get his cloak. 19How dreadful it will be in those days for pregnant women and nursing mothers![z] 20Pray that your flight will not take place in winter or on the Sabbath. 21For then there will be great distress, unequaled from the beginning of the world until now—and never to be equaled again.[a] 22If those days had not been cut short, no one would survive, but for the sake of the elect[b] those days will be shortened. 23At that time if anyone says to you, 'Look, here is the Christ!' or, 'There he is!' do not believe it.[c] 24For false Christs and false prophets will appear and perform great signs and miracles[d] to deceive even the elect—if that were possible. 25See, I have told you ahead of time.

26"So if anyone tells you, 'There he is, out in the desert,' do not go out; or, 'Here he is, in the inner rooms,' do not believe it. 27For as lightning[e] that comes from the east is visible even in the west, so will be the coming[f] of the Son of Man.[g] 28Wherever there is a carcass, there the vultures will gather.[h]

29"Immediately after the distress of those days

" 'the sun will be darkened,
and the moon will not give its light;
the stars will fall from the sky, and the heavenly bodies will be shaken.'[yi]

30"At that time the sign of the Son of Man will appear in the sky, and all the nations of the earth will mourn.[j] They will see the Son of Man coming on the clouds of the sky,[k] with power and great glory. 31And he will send his angels[l] with a loud trumpet call,[m] and they will gather his elect from the four winds, from one end of the heavens to the other.

32"Now learn this lesson from the fig tree: As soon as its twigs get tender and its leaves come out, you know that summer is near. 33Even so, when you see all these things, you know that it[z] is near, right at the door.[n] 34I tell you the truth, this generation[a] will certainly not pass away until all these things have happened.[o] 35Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will never pass away.[p]

24:8 birth pains. The rabbis spoke of "birth pains," i.e., sufferings, that would precede the coming of the Messiah.
24:15 the abomination that causes desolation. The detestable thing causing the desolation of the holy place. The primary reference in Daniel (see NIV text note for references) was to 168 B.C., when Antiochus Epiphanes erected a pagan altar to Zeus on the sacred altar in the temple of Jerusalem. According to some, there were still two more stages in the progressive fulfillment of the predictions in Daniel and Matthew: (1) the Roman destruction of the temple in A.D. 70 and (2) the setting up of an image of the antichrist in Jerusalem (see 2Th 2:4; Rev 13:14–15; see also notes on Da 9:25–27; 11:31).
24:16 the mountains. The Transjordan mountains, where Pella was located. Christians in Jerusalem fled to that area during the Roman siege shortly before A.D. 70. Some believe a similar fleeing will occur in a future tribulation period (identified with Daniel's 70th "seven," Da 9:27).
24:19 See note on Mk 13:17.
24:20 in winter. See note on Mk 13:18. or on the Sabbath. Matthew alone includes this because he was writing to Jews, who were forbidden to travel more than about half a mile on the Sabbath.
24:21 great distress, unequaled. Josephus, the Jewish historian who was there, describes the destruction of Jerusalem in almost identical language. Some believe the reference is also to a future period of great distress (see Da 12:1).
24:22 days . . . cut short. Some hold that this statement means that the distress will be of such intensity that, if allowed to continue, it will destroy everyone. Others believe that Christ is referring to the cutting short of a previously determined time period (such as the 70th "seven" of Da 9:27 or the 42 months of Rev 11:2; 13:5). the elect. The people of God.
24:28 there the vultures will gather. The coming of Christ will be as obvious as the gathering of vultures around a carcass (see note on Lk 17:37, where the saying is used in a slightly different sense).

The Day and Hour Unknown

24:37-39pp — Lk 17:26,27
24:45-51pp — Lk 12:42-46

36"No one knows about that day or hour, not even the angels in heaven, nor the Son,[b] but only the Father.[q] 37As it was in the days of Noah,[r] so it will be at the coming of the Son of Man. 38For in the days before the flood, people were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage,[s] up to the day Noah entered the ark; 39and they knew nothing about what would happen until the flood came and took them all away. That is how it will be at the coming of the Son of Man.[t] 40Two men will be in the field; one will be taken and the other left.[u] 41Two women will be grinding with a hand mill; one will be taken and the other left.[v]

42"Therefore keep watch, because you do not know on what day your Lord will come.[w] 43But understand this: If the owner of the house had known at what time of night the thief was coming,[x] he would have kept watch and would not have let his house be broken into. 44So you also must be ready,[y] because the Son of Man will come at an hour when you do not expect him.

45"Who then is the faithful and wise servant,[z] whom the master has put in charge of the servants in his household to give them their food at the proper time? 46It will be good for that servant whose master finds him doing so when he returns.[a] 47I tell you the truth, he will put him in charge of all his possessions.[b] 48But suppose that servant is wicked and says to himself, 'My master is staying away a long time,' 49and he then begins to beat his fellow servants and to eat and drink with drunkards.[c] 50The master of that servant will come on a day when he does not expect him and at an hour he is not aware of. 51He will cut him to pieces and assign him a place with the hypocrites, where there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.[d]

The Parable of the Ten Virgins

25 "At that time the kingdom of heaven will be like[e] ten virgins who took their lamps[f] and went out to meet the bridegroom.[g] 2Five of them were foolish and five were wise.[h] 3The foolish ones took their lamps but did not take any oil with them. 4The wise, however, took oil in jars along with their lamps. 5The bridegroom was a long time in coming, and they all became drowsy and fell asleep.[i]

6"At midnight the cry rang out: 'Here's the bridegroom! Come out to meet him!'

7"Then all the virgins woke up and trimmed their lamps. 8The foolish ones said to the wise, 'Give us some of your oil; our lamps are going out.'[j]

9" 'No,' they replied, 'there may not be enough for both us and you. Instead, go to those who sell oil and buy some for yourselves.'

10"But while they were on their way to buy the oil, the bridegroom arrived. The virgins who were ready went in with him to the wedding banquet.[k] And the door was shut.

11"Later the others also came. 'Sir! Sir!' they said. 'Open the door for us!'

12"But he replied, 'I tell you the truth, I don't know you.'[l]

13"Therefore keep watch, because you do not know the day or the hour.[m]

The Parable of the Talents

25:14-30Ref — Lk 19:12-27

14"Again, it will be like a man going on a journey,[n] who called his servants and entrusted his property to them. 15To one he gave five talents[c] of money, to another two talents, and to another one talent, each according to his ability.[o] Then he went on his journey. 16The man who had received the five talents went at once and put his money to work and gained five more. 17So also, the one with the two talents gained two more. 18But the man who had received the one talent went off, dug a hole in the ground and hid his master's money.

19"After a long time the master of those servants returned and settled accounts with them.[p] 20The man who had received the five talents brought the other five. 'Master,' he said, 'you entrusted me with five talents. See, I have gained five more.'

21"His master replied, 'Well done, good

[b] 36 Some manuscripts do not have nor the Son.
[c] 15 A talent was worth more than a thousand dollars.

24:36 nor the Son. See note on Mk 13:32.
24:51 weeping and gnashing of teeth. See note on 13:42.
25:1 ten virgins. The bridesmaids, who were responsible for preparing the bride to meet the bridegroom. lamps. Torches that consisted of a long pole with oil-drenched rags at the top. (Small clay lamps would have been of little use in an outdoor procession.)
25:3 oil. Olive oil.
25:7 trimmed. The charred ends of the rags were cut off and oil was added.
25:9 there may not be enough. Torches required large amounts of oil in order to keep burning, and the oil had to be replenished about every 15 minutes.
25:13 keep watch. The main point of the parable. the day or the hour. Of the parousia, the coming of Christ.
25:15 talent. The term was first used for a unit of weight (about 75 pounds), then for a unit of coinage. The present-day use of "talent" to indicate an ability or gift is derived from this parable (see note on Lk 19:13).

and faithful servant! You have been faithful with a few things; I will put you in charge of many things.[q] Come and share your master's happiness!'

22"The man with the two talents also came. 'Master,' he said, 'you entrusted me with two talents; see, I have gained two more.'

23"His master replied, 'Well done, good and faithful servant! You have been faithful with a few things; I will put you in charge of many things.[r] Come and share your master's happiness!'

24"Then the man who had received the one talent came. 'Master,' he said, 'I knew that you are a hard man, harvesting where you have not sown and gathering where you have not scattered seed. 25So I was afraid and went out and hid your talent in the ground. See, here is what belongs to you.'

26"His master replied, 'You wicked, lazy servant! So you knew that I harvest where I have not sown and gather where I have not scattered seed? 27Well then, you should have put my money on deposit with the bankers, so that when I returned I would have received it back with interest.

28" 'Take the talent from him and give it to the one who has the ten talents. 29For everyone who has will be given more, and he will have an abundance. Whoever does not have, even what he has will be taken from him.[s] 30And throw that worthless servant outside, into the darkness, where there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.'[t]

The Sheep and the Goats

31"When the Son of Man comes[u] in his glory, and all the angels with him, he will sit on his throne[v] in heavenly glory. 32All the nations will be gathered before him, and he will separate[w] the people one from another as a shepherd separates the sheep from the goats.[x] 33He will put the sheep on his right and the goats on his left.

34"Then the King will say to those on his right, 'Come, you who are blessed by my Father; take your inheritance, the kingdom[y] prepared for you since the creation of the world.[z] 35For I was hungry and you gave me something to eat, I was thirsty and you gave me something to drink, I was a stranger and you invited me in,[a] 36I needed clothes and you clothed me,[b] I was sick and you looked after me,[c] I was in prison and you came to visit me.'[d]

37"Then the righteous will answer him, 'Lord, when did we see you hungry and feed you, or thirsty and give you something to drink? 38When did we see you a stranger and invite you in, or needing clothes and clothe you? 39When did we see you sick or in prison and go to visit you?'

40"The King will reply, 'I tell you the truth, whatever you did for one of the least of these brothers of mine, you did for me.'[e]

41"Then he will say to those on his left, 'Depart from me,[f] you who are cursed, into the eternal fire[g] prepared for the devil and his angels.[h] 42For I was hungry and you gave me nothing to eat, I was thirsty and you gave me nothing to drink, 43I was a stranger and you did not invite me in, I needed clothes and you did not clothe me, I was sick and in prison and you did not look after me.'

44"They also will answer, 'Lord, when did we see you hungry or thirsty or a stranger or needing clothes or sick or in prison, and did not help you?'

45"He will reply, 'I tell you the truth, whatever you did not do for one of the least of these, you did not do for me.'[i]

46"Then they will go away to eternal punishment, but the righteous to eternal life."[j][k]

The Plot Against Jesus

25:27 bankers. The Greek for this word comes from trapeza ("table"), a word seen on the front of banks in Greece today. Bankers sat at small tables and changed money (cf. 21:12). interest. The Greek for this word was first used in the sense of offspring, interest being the "offspring" of invested money.

25:29 The main point of the parable. Being ready for Christ's coming involves more than playing it safe and doing little or nothing. It demands the kind of service that produces results.

25:31–46 The two most widely accepted interpretations of this judgment are: 1. It will occur at the beginning of an earthly millennial kingdom (vv. 31,34). Its purpose will be to determine who will be allowed to enter the kingdom (v. 34). The criterion for judgment will be the kind of treatment shown to the Jewish people ("these brothers of mine," v. 40) during the preceding great tribulation period (vv. 35–40,42–45). Ultimately, how a person treats the Jewish people will reveal whether or not he is saved (vv. 41,46). 2. The judgment referred to occurs at the great white throne at the end of the age (Rev 20:11–15). Its purpose will be to determine who will be allowed to enter the eternal kingdom of the saved and who will be consigned to eternal punishment in hell (vv. 34,46). The basis for judgment will be whether love is shown to God's people (see 1Jn 3:14–15).

25:34–40 Rewards in the kingdom of heaven are given to those who serve without thought of reward. There is no hint of merit here, for God gives out of grace, not debt.

26:2 Passover. See note on Mk 14:1. Son of Man. See note on Mk 8:31.

is two days away—and the Son of Man will be handed over to be crucified."

3Then the chief priests and the elders of the people assembled[n] in the palace of the high priest, whose name was Caiaphas,[o] 4and they plotted to arrest Jesus in some sly way and kill him.[p] 5"But not during the Feast," they said, "or there may be a riot[q] among the people."

Jesus Anointed at Bethany

26:6–13pp — Mk 14:3–9
26:6–13Ref — Lk 7:37,38; Jn 12:1–8

6While Jesus was in Bethany[r] in the home of a man known as Simon the Leper, 7a woman came to him with an alabaster jar of very expensive perfume, which she poured on his head as he was reclining at the table.

8When the disciples saw this, they were indignant. "Why this waste?" they asked. 9"This perfume could have been sold at a high price and the money given to the poor."

10Aware of this, Jesus said to them, "Why are you bothering this woman? She has done a beautiful thing to me. 11The poor you will always have with you,[s] but you will not always have me. 12When she poured this perfume on my body, she did it to prepare me for burial.[t] 13I tell you the truth, wherever this gospel is preached throughout the world, what she has done will also be told, in memory of her."

Judas Agrees to Betray Jesus

26:14–16pp — Mk 14:10,11; Lk 22:3–6

14Then one of the Twelve—the one called Judas Iscariot[u]—went to the chief priests 15and asked, "What are you willing to give me if I hand him over to you?" So they counted out for him thirty silver coins.[v] 16From then on Judas watched for an opportunity to hand him over.

The Lord's Supper

26:17–19pp — Mk 14:12–16; Lk 22:7–13
26:20–24pp — Mk 14:17–21
26:26–29pp — Mk 14:22–25; Lk 22:17–20; 1Co 11:23–25

17On the first day of the Feast of Unleavened Bread,[w] the disciples came to Jesus and asked, "Where do you want us to make preparations for you to eat the Passover?"[x]

18He replied, "Go into the city to a certain man and tell him, 'The Teacher says: My appointed time[y] is near. I am going to celebrate the Passover with my disciples at your house.' " 19So the disciples did as Jesus had directed them and prepared the Passover.

20When evening came, Jesus was reclining at the table with the Twelve. 21And while they were eating, he said, "I tell you the truth, one of you will betray me."[z]

22They were very sad and began to say to him one after the other, "Surely not I, Lord?"

23Jesus replied, "The one who has dipped his hand into the bowl with me will betray me.[a] 24The Son of Man will go just as it is written about him.[b] But woe to that man who betrays the Son of Man! It would be better for him if he had not been born."

25Then Judas, the one who would betray him,[c] said, "Surely not I, Rabbi?"[d]

Jesus answered, "Yes, it is you."[d]

26:3 chief priests and the elders of the people. The clerical and lay leadership of the Sanhedrin (see note on 2:4). Caiaphas. High priest A.D. 18–36 and the son-in-law of Annas (Jn 18:13), a former high priest, who served 6–15.
26:5 there may be a riot. Hundreds of thousands of Jewish pilgrims came to Jerusalem for Passover, and riots were not unknown. The religious leaders (v. 3) knew that many people admired Jesus.
26:6–13 See note on Jn 12:1–11.
26:6 Bethany. See note on 21:17. Simon the Leper. Mentioned elsewhere only in Mk 14:3, though Simon was a common Jewish name in the first century. He was probably a well-known victim of leprosy who had been healed by Jesus.
26:7 alabaster jar. Most "alabaster" of ancient times was actually marble (see note on Mk 14:3).
26:10 beautiful. The Greek word has an aesthetic as well as an ethical meaning.
26:14 Iscariot. See note on Mk 3:19.
26:15 thirty silver coins. Equivalent to 120 denarii. Laborers customarily received one denarius for a day's work (see 20:1–16).
26:17 the first day of the Feast of Unleavened Bread. The 14th of Nisan (March-April), it was also called the preparation of the Passover. The Passover meal was eaten the evening of the 14th after sunset—and therefore technically on the 15th, since the Jewish day ended at sunset. The Feast of Unleavened Bread lasted seven days, from the 15th to the 21st of Nisan (see Lev 23:5–6), but in the time of Christ the entire period, Nisan 14–21, was referred to under that name (see note on Mk 14:12).
26:18–30 These verses clearly indicate that Jesus ate the Passover meal with his disciples the night before his crucifixion. For more information on the Lord's Supper see notes on Mk 14:22,24.
26:18 My appointed time. A reference to Jesus' crucifixion.
26:19 prepared the Passover. See note on Mk 14:15.
26:20 reclining at the table. See note on Mk 14:18.
26:21 I tell you the truth. See note on Mk 3:28.
26:23 dipped his hand into the bowl with me. It was the custom—still practiced by some in the Middle East—to take a piece of bread, or a piece of meat wrapped in bread, and dip it into a bowl of sauce (made of stewed fruit) on the table. will betray me. In that culture, as among Arabs today, to eat with a person was tantamount to saying, "I am your friend and will not hurt you." This fact made Judas's deed all the more despicable (cf. Ps 41:9).
26:24 as it is written about him. See note on Mk 14:21. Son of Man. See note on Mk 8:31.

[26]While they were eating, Jesus took bread, gave thanks and broke it,[e] and gave it to his disciples, saying, "Take and eat; this is my body."

[27]Then he took the cup,[f] gave thanks and offered it to them, saying, "Drink from it, all of you. [28]This is my blood of the[e] covenant,[g] which is poured out for many for the forgiveness of sins.[h] [29]I tell you, I will not drink of this fruit of the vine from now on until that day when I drink it anew with you[i] in my Father's kingdom."

[30]When they had sung a hymn, they went out to the Mount of Olives.[j]

Jesus Predicts Peter's Denial

26:31–35pp — Mk 14:27–31; Lk 22:31–34

[31]Then Jesus told them, "This very night you will all fall away on account of me,[k] for it is written:

" 'I will strike the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock will be scattered.'[f][l]

[32]But after I have risen, I will go ahead of you into Galilee."[m]

[33]Peter replied, "Even if all fall away on account of you, I never will."

[34]"I tell you the truth," Jesus answered, "this very night, before the rooster crows, you will disown me three times."[n]

[35]But Peter declared, "Even if I have to die with you,[o] I will never disown you." And all the other disciples said the same.

Gethsemane

26:36–46pp — Mk 14:32–42; Lk 22:40–46

[36]Then Jesus went with his disciples to a place called Gethsemane, and he said to them, "Sit here while I go over there and pray." [37]He took Peter and the two sons of Zebedee[p] along with him, and he began to be sorrowful and troubled. [38]Then he said to them, "My soul is overwhelmed with sorrow[q] to the point of death. Stay here and keep watch with me."[r]

[39]Going a little farther, he fell with his face to the ground and prayed, "My Father, if it is possible, may this cup[s] be taken from me. Yet not as I will, but as you will."[t]

[40]Then he returned to his disciples and found them sleeping. "Could you men not keep watch with me[u] for one hour?" he asked Peter. [41]"Watch and pray so that you will not fall into temptation.[v] The spirit is willing, but the body is weak."

[42]He went away a second time and prayed, "My Father, if it is not possible for this cup to be taken away unless I drink it, may your will be done."[w]

[43]When he came back, he again found them sleeping, because their eyes were heavy. [44]So he left them and went away once more and prayed the third time, saying the same thing.

[45]Then he returned to the disciples and said to them, "Are you still sleeping and resting? Look, the hour[x] is near, and the Son of Man is betrayed into the hands of sinners. [46]Rise, let us go! Here comes my betrayer!"

Jesus Arrested

26:47–56pp — Mk 14:43–50; Lk 22:47–53

[47]While he was still speaking, Judas,[y] one of the Twelve, arrived. With him was a large crowd armed with swords and clubs, sent from the chief priests and the elders of the people. [48]Now the betrayer had arranged a signal with them: "The one I kiss is the man; arrest him." [49]Going at once to Jesus, Judas said, "Greetings, Rabbi!"[z] and kissed him.

[50]Jesus replied, "Friend,[a] do what you came for."[g]

Then the men stepped forward, seized Jesus and arrested him. [51]With that, one

26:30 hymn. The Passover fellowship was concluded with the second half of the Hallel Psalms (Ps 115–118).

26:31 all fall away. Not Peter only, but all the eleven (Judas had previously withdrawn, Jn 13:30). The meaning of the words "fall away" is seen in Peter's denial (vv. 69–75) and in the terrified flight of the other disciples (v. 56). I will strike the shepherd. See note on Zec 13:7.

26:32 into Galilee. Cf. 28:10,16–20; Mk 16:7; Jn 21:1–23.

26:34 before the rooster crows. The reference may be to the third of the Roman watches into which the night was divided (see note on 14:25; see also Mk 13:35). Or it may simply refer to early morning when the rooster crows.

26:36 Gethsemane. The name means "oil press," a place for squeezing the oil from olives (see note on Mk 14:32).

26:37 Peter and the two sons of Zebedee. The latter were James and John. These three disciples seem to have been especially close to Jesus (see note on Mk 5:37).

26:38–39 Jesus did not die serenely as many martyrs have. He was no mere martyr; he was the Lamb of God bearing the penalty of the sins of the entire human race. The wrath of God was turned loose on him. Only this can adequately explain what took place at Gethsemane.

26:39 cup. A symbol of deep sorrow and suffering. Here it refers to his Father's face being turned away from him when he who had no sin was made sin (i.e., a sin offering) for us (see 27:46; 2Co 5:21).

26:41 See note on Mk 14:38.

of Jesus' companions reached for his sword,[b] drew it out and struck the servant of the high priest, cutting off his ear.[c]

52"Put your sword back in its place," Jesus said to him, "for all who draw the sword will die by the sword.[d] 53Do you think I cannot call on my Father, and he will at once put at my disposal more than twelve legions of angels?[e] 54But how then would the Scriptures be fulfilled[f] that say it must happen in this way?"

55At that time Jesus said to the crowd, "Am I leading a rebellion, that you have come out with swords and clubs to capture me? Every day I sat in the temple courts teaching,[g] and you did not arrest me. 56But this has all taken place that the writings of the prophets might be fulfilled."[h] Then all the disciples deserted him and fled.

Before the Sanhedrin

57Those who had arrested Jesus took him to Caiaphas,[i] the high priest, where the teachers of the law and the elders had assembled. 58But Peter followed him at a distance, right up to the courtyard of the high priest.[j] He entered and sat down with the guards[k] to see the outcome.

59The chief priests and the whole Sanhedrin[l] were looking for false evidence against Jesus so that they could put him to death. 60But they did not find any, though many false witnesses[m] came forward.

Finally two[n] came forward 61and declared, "This fellow said, 'I am able to destroy the temple of God and rebuild it in three days.' "[o]

62Then the high priest stood up and said to Jesus, "Are you not going to answer? What is this testimony that these men are bringing against you?" 63But Jesus remained silent.[p]

The high priest said to him, "I charge you under oath[q] by the living God:[r] Tell us if you are the Christ,[hs] the Son of God."[t]

64"Yes, it is as you say,"[u] Jesus replied. "But I say to all of you: In the future you will see the Son of Man sitting at the right hand of the Mighty One[v] and coming on the clouds of heaven."[w]

65Then the high priest tore his clothes[x] and said, "He has spoken blasphemy! Why do we need any more witnesses? Look, now you have heard the blasphemy. 66What do you think?"

"He is worthy of death,"[y] they answered.

67Then they spit in his face and struck him with their fists.[z] Others slapped him 68and said, "Prophesy to us, Christ. Who hit you?"[a]

Peter Disowns Jesus

26:69–75pp — Mk 14:66–72; Lk 22:55–62; Jn 18:16–18,25–27

69Now Peter was sitting out in the courtyard, and a servant girl came to him. "You also were with Jesus of Galilee," she said.

70But he denied it before them all. "I don't know what you're talking about," he said.

71Then he went out to the gateway, where another girl saw him and said to the people there, "This fellow was with Jesus of Nazareth."

72He denied it again, with an oath: "I don't know the man!"

73After a little while, those standing there went up to Peter and said, "Surely you are one of them, for your accent gives you away."

74Then he began to call down curses on himself and he swore to them, "I don't know the man!"

Immediately a rooster crowed. 75Then Peter remembered the word Jesus had spoken: "Before the rooster crows, you will disown me three times."[b] And he went outside and wept bitterly.

Judas Hangs Himself

27 Early in the morning, all the chief priests and the elders of the people came to the decision to put Jesus to death.[c] 2They bound him, led him away

26:65 tore his clothes. Ordinarily the high priest was forbidden by law to do this (Lev 10:6; 21:10), but this was considered a highly unusual circumstance. The high priest interpreted Jesus' answer in v. 64 as blasphemy (see note on Mk 14:64).
26:67–68 Mark reports that they blindfolded Jesus (Mk 14:65), which explains the mocking command: "Prophesy . . . Who hit you?"
26:73 your accent gives you away. Peter had a decidedly Galilean accent that was conspicuous in Jerusalem.
27:1 Early in the morning. The Sanhedrin could not have a legal session at night, so at daybreak a special meeting was held to make the death sentence (see 26:66) official. See note on Mk 15:1.
27:2 handed him over to Pilate. The Sanhedrin had been deprived by the Roman government of the right to carry out and handed him over[d] to Pilate, the governor.[e]

3When Judas, who had betrayed him,[f] saw that Jesus was condemned, he was seized with remorse and returned the thirty silver coins[g] to the chief priests and the elders. 4"I have sinned," he said, "for I have betrayed innocent blood."

"What is that to us?" they replied. "That's your responsibility."[h]

5So Judas threw the money into the temple[i] and left. Then he went away and hanged himself.[j]

6The chief priests picked up the coins and said, "It is against the law to put this into the treasury, since it is blood money." 7So they decided to use the money to buy the potter's field as a burial place for foreigners. 8That is why it has been called the Field of Blood[k] to this day. 9Then what was spoken by Jeremiah the prophet was fulfilled:[l] "They took the thirty silver coins, the price set on him by the people of Israel, 10and they used them to buy the potter's field, as the Lord commanded me."[im]

Jesus Before Pilate

27:11–26pp — Mk 15:2–15; Lk 23:2,3,18–25; Jn 18:29–19:16

11Meanwhile Jesus stood before the governor, and the governor asked him, "Are you the king of the Jews?"[n]

"Yes, it is as you say," Jesus replied.

12When he was accused by the chief priests and the elders, he gave no answer.[o] 13Then Pilate asked him, "Don't you hear the testimony they are bringing against you?"[p] 14But Jesus made no reply,[q] not even to a single charge—to the great amazement of the governor.

15Now it was the governor's custom at the Feast to release a prisoner[r] chosen by the crowd. 16At that time they had a notorious prisoner, called Barabbas. 17So when the crowd had gathered, Pilate asked them, "Which one do you want me to release to you: Barabbas, or Jesus who is called Christ?"[s] 18For he knew it was out of envy that they had handed Jesus over to him.

19While Pilate was sitting on the judge's seat,[t] his wife sent him this message: "Don't have anything to do with that innocent[u] man, for I have suffered a great deal today in a dream[v] because of him."

20But the chief priests and the elders persuaded the crowd to ask for Barabbas and to have Jesus executed.[w]

21"Which of the two do you want me to release to you?" asked the governor.

"Barabbas," they answered.

22"What shall I do, then, with Jesus who is called Christ?"[x] Pilate asked.

They all answered, "Crucify him!"

23"Why? What crime has he committed?" asked Pilate.

But they shouted all the louder, "Crucify him!"

24When Pilate saw that he was getting nowhere, but that instead an uproar[y] was starting, he took water and washed his hands[z] in front of the crowd. "I am innocent of this man's blood,"[a] he said. "It is your responsibility!"[b]

25All the people answered, "Let his blood be on us and on our children!"[c]

capital punishment, except in the case of a foreigner who invaded the sacred precincts of the temple. So Jesus had to be handed over to Pilate for execution. For additional information about Pilate see note on Mk 15:1.

27:3–10 See Ac 1:16–19.

27:5 hanged himself. See note on Ac 1:18.

27:8 called the Field of Blood. Cf. "the Valley of Slaughter" in Jer 19:6.

27:9 Jeremiah. The quotation that follows seems to be a combining of Zec 11:12–13 and Jer 19:1–13 (or perhaps Jer 18:2–12 or Jer 32:6–9). But Matthew attributes it to the major prophet Jeremiah, just as Mark (1:2–3) quotes Mal 3:1 and Isa 40:3 but attributes them to the major prophet Isaiah.

27:15 the governor's custom. Of which nothing is known outside the Gospels.

27:16 notorious. The translation of a Greek word that here probably means "outstanding" or "notable" (cf. Ro 16:7). Barabbas had taken part in a rebellion (Lk 23:19; Jn 18:40), presumably against the Romans. So he would have been a folk hero among the Jews.

27:19 This incident is found only in Matthew's Gospel.

27:25 A chilling response by a bloodthirsty crowd. It has often been used to justify the persecution of the Jewish people. It should be noted, however, that it was not God but the people themselves who uttered these words. There is no evidence here that God granted their request. If there was a fulfillment, it was most likely seen in the destruction of Jerusalem in A.D. 70.

27:26 flogged. Roman floggings were so brutal that sometimes the victim died before crucifixion. See note on Mk 15:15.

27:27 Praetorium. The governor's official residence in Jerusalem (see note on Mk 15:16).

the whole company of soldiers around him. 28They stripped him and put a scarlet robe on him,[f] 29and then twisted together a crown of thorns and set it on his head. They put a staff in his right hand and knelt in front of him and mocked him. "Hail, king of the Jews!" they said.[g] 30They spit on him, and took the staff and struck him on the head again and again.[h] 31After they had mocked him, they took off the robe and put his own clothes on him. Then they led him away to crucify him.[i]

The Crucifixion

32As they were going out,[j] they met a man from Cyrene,[k] named Simon, and they forced him to carry the cross.[l] 33They came to a place called Golgotha (which means The Place of the Skull).[m] 34There they offered Jesus wine to drink, mixed with gall;[n] but after tasting it, he refused to drink it. 35When they had crucified him, they divided up his clothes by casting lots.[io] 36And sitting down, they kept watch[p] over him there. 37Above his head they placed the written charge against him: THIS IS JESUS, THE KING OF THE JEWS. 38Two robbers were crucified with him,[q] one on his right and one on his left. 39Those who passed by hurled insults at him, shaking their heads[r] 40and saying, "You who are going to destroy the temple and build it in three days,[s] save yourself![t] Come down from the cross, if you are the Son of God!"[u]

41In the same way the chief priests, the teachers of the law and the elders mocked him. 42"He saved others," they said, "but he can't save himself! He's the King of Israel![v] Let him come down now from the cross, and we will believe[w] in him. 43He trusts in God. Let God rescue him[x] now if he wants him, for he said, 'I am the Son of God.' " 44In the same way the robbers who were crucified with him also heaped insults on him.

The Death of Jesus

27:45–56pp — Mk 15:33–41; Lk 23:44–49

45From the sixth hour until the ninth hour darkness[y] came over all the land. 46About the ninth hour Jesus cried out in a loud voice, "Eloi, Eloi,[k] lama sabachthani?"—which means, "My God, my God, why have you forsaken me?"[lz]

47When some of those standing there heard this, they said, "He's calling Elijah."

48Immediately one of them ran and got a sponge. He filled it with wine vinegar,[a] put it on a stick, and offered it to Jesus to drink. 49The rest said, "Now leave him alone. Let's see if Elijah comes to save him."

50And when Jesus had cried out again in a loud voice, he gave up his spirit.[b]

51At that moment the curtain of the temple[c] was torn in two from top to bottom. The earth shook and the rocks split.[d] 52The tombs broke open and the bodies of many holy people who had died were raised to life. 53They came out of the tombs, and after Jesus' resurrection they went into the holy city[e] and appeared to many people.

54When the centurion and those with him who were guarding[f] Jesus saw the earthquake and all that had happened, they were terrified, and exclaimed, "Surely he was the Son[m] of God!"[g]

55Many women were there, watching from a distance. They had followed Jesus from Galilee to care for his needs.[h] 56Among them were Mary Magdalene,

But in view of the ridicule voiced by "those who passed by" (vv. 39–40), it seems probable that Matthew intended the former. See note on Lk 23:47.

The Burial of Jesus

27:57–61pp — Mk 15:42–47; Lk 23:50–56; Jn 19:38–42

57As evening approached, there came a rich man from Arimathea, named Joseph, who had himself become a disciple of Jesus. 58Going to Pilate, he asked for Jesus' body, and Pilate ordered that it be given to him. 59Joseph took the body, wrapped it in a clean linen cloth, 60and placed it in his own new tomb[j] that he had cut out of the rock. He rolled a big stone in front of the entrance to the tomb and went away. 61Mary Magdalene and the other Mary were sitting there opposite the tomb.

The Guard at the Tomb

62The next day, the one after Preparation Day, the chief priests and the Pharisees went to Pilate. 63"Sir," they said, "we remember that while he was still alive that deceiver said, 'After three days I will rise again.'[k] 64So give the order for the tomb to be made secure until the third day. Otherwise, his disciples may come and steal the body[l] and tell the people that he has been raised from the dead. This last deception will be worse than the first."

65"Take a guard,"[m] Pilate answered. "Go, make the tomb as secure as you know how." 66So they went and made the tomb secure by putting a seal[n] on the stone[o] and posting the guard.[p]

The Resurrection

28:1–8pp — Mk 16:1–8; Lk 24:1–10

28 After the Sabbath, at dawn on the first day of the week, Mary Magdalene[q] and the other Mary[r] went to look at the tomb.

2There was a violent earthquake,[s] for an angel[t] of the Lord came down from heaven and, going to the tomb, rolled back the stone[u] and sat on it. 3His appearance was like lightning, and his clothes were white as snow.[v] 4The guards were so afraid of him that they shook and became like dead men.

5The angel said to the women, "Do not be afraid,[w] for I know that you are looking for Jesus, who was crucified. 6He is not here; he has risen, just as he said.[x] Come and see the place where he lay. 7Then go quickly and tell his disciples: 'He has risen from the dead and is going ahead of you into Galilee.[y] There you will see him.' Now I have told you."

8So the women hurried away from the tomb, afraid yet filled with joy, and ran to tell his disciples. 9Suddenly Jesus met them.[z] "Greetings," he said. They came to him, clasped his feet and worshiped him. 10Then Jesus said to them, "Do not be afraid. Go and tell my brothers[a] to go to Galilee; there they will see me."

The Guards' Report

11While the women were on their way, some of the guards[b] went into the city and reported to the chief priests everything that had happened. 12When the chief priests had met with the elders and devised a plan, they gave the soldiers a large sum of money, 13telling them, "You are to say, 'His disciples came during the night and stole him away[c] while we were asleep.' 14If this report gets to the governor,[d] we will satisfy him and keep you out of trouble." 15So the soldiers took the money and did as they were instructed. And this story has been widely circulated among the Jews to this very day.

The Great Commission

16Then the eleven disciples went to Galilee, to the mountain where Jesus had told them to go.[e] 17When they saw him, they worshiped him; but some doubted. 18Then Jesus came to them and said, "All authority in heaven and on earth has

Mark

See "The Synoptic Gospels," p. 1431.

Author

Although there is no direct internal evidence of authorship, it was the unanimous testimony of the early church that this Gospel was written by John Mark. The most important evidence comes from Papias (c. A.D. 140), who quotes an even earlier source as saying: (1) Mark was a close associate of Peter, from whom he received the tradition of the things said and done by the Lord; (2) this tradition did not come to Mark as a finished, sequential account of the life of our Lord, but as the preaching of Peter—preaching directed to the needs of the early Christian communities; (3) Mark accurately preserved this material. The conclusion drawn from this tradition is that the Gospel of Mark largely consists of the preaching of Peter arranged and shaped by John Mark (see note on Ac 10:37).

John Mark in the NT

It is generally agreed that the Mark who is associated with Peter in the early non-Biblical tradition is also the John Mark of the NT. The first mention of him is in connection with his mother, who had a house in Jerusalem that served as a meeting place for believers (Ac 12:12). When Paul and Barnabas returned to Antioch from Jerusalem after the famine visit, Mark accompanied them (Ac 12:25). Mark next appears as a "helper" to Paul and Barnabas on their first missionary journey (Ac 13:5), but he deserted them at Perga, in Pamphylia, to return to Jerusalem (Ac 13:13). Paul must have been deeply disappointed with Mark's actions on this occasion, because when Barnabas proposed taking Mark on the second journey, Paul flatly refused, a refusal that broke up their working relationship (Ac 15:36–39). Barnabas took Mark, who was his cousin, and departed for Cyprus. No further mention is made of either of them in the book of Acts. Mark reappears in Paul's letter to the Colossians written from Rome. Paul sends a greeting from Mark and adds: "You have received instructions about him; if he comes to you, welcome him" (Col 4:10; see Phm 24, written about the same time). At this point Mark was apparently beginning to win his way back into Paul's confidence. By the end of Paul's life, Mark had fully regained Paul's favor (see 2Ti 4:11).

Date of Composition

Some, who hold that Matthew and Luke used Mark as a major source, have suggested that Mark may have been composed in the 50s or early 60s. Others have felt that the content of the Gospel and statements made about Mark by the early church fathers indicate that the book was written shortly before the destruction of Jerusalem in A.D. 70. See chart on "Dating the Synoptic Gospels," p. 1431.

Place of Origin

According to early church tradition, Mark was written "in the regions of Italy" (Anti-Marcionite Prologue) or, more specifically, in Rome (Irenaeus and Clement of Alexandria). These same authors closely associate Mark's writing of the Gospel with the apostle Peter. The above evidence is consistent with (1) the historical probability that Peter was in Rome during the last days of his life and was martyred there, and (2) the Biblical evidence that Mark also was in Rome about the same time and was closely associated with Peter (see 2Ti 4:11; 1Pe 5:13, where the word "Babylon" is probably a cryptogram for Rome).

Recipients

The evidence points to the church at Rome or at least to Gentile readers. Mark explains Jewish customs (7:2–4; 15:42), translates Aramaic words (3:17; 5:41; 7:11,34; 15:22) and seems to have a special interest in persecution and martyrdom (8:34–38; 13:9–13)—subjects of special concern to Roman believers. A Roman destination would explain the almost immediate acceptance of this Gospel and its rapid dissemination.

Occasion and Purpose

Since Mark's Gospel is traditionally associated with Rome, it may have been occasioned by the persecutions of the Roman church in the period c. A.D. 64–67. The famous fire of Rome in 64—probably set by Nero himself but blamed on Christians—resulted in widespread persecution. Even martyrdom was not unknown among Roman believers. Mark may be writing to prepare his readers for this suffering by placing before them the life of our Lord. There are many references, both explicit and veiled, to suffering and discipleship throughout his Gospel (see 1:12–13; 3:22,30; 8:34–38; 10:30,33–34,45; 13:8,11–13).

Emphases

1. The cross. Both the human cause (12:12; 14:1–2; 15:10) and the divine necessity (8:31; 9:31; 10:33) of the cross are emphasized by Mark.

2. Discipleship. Special attention should be paid to the passages on discipleship that arise from Jesus' predictions of his passion (8:34—9:1; 9:35—10:31; 10:42—45).

3. The teachings of Jesus. Although Mark records far fewer actual teachings of Jesus than the other Gospel writers, there is a remarkable emphasis on Jesus as teacher. The words "teacher," "teach" or "teaching," and "Rabbi" are applied to Jesus in Mark 39 times.

4. The Messianic secret. On several occasions Jesus warns his disciples or the person for whom he has worked a miracle to keep silent about who he is or what he has done (1:34,44; 3:12; 5:43; 7:36–37; 8:26,30; 9:9).

5. Son of God. Although Mark emphasizes the humanity of Jesus (see 3:5; 6:6,31,34; 7:34; 8:12,33; 10:14; 11:12), he does not neglect his deity (see 1:1,11; 3:11; 5:7; 9:7; 12:1–11; 13:32; 15:39).

Special Characteristics

Mark's Gospel is a simple, succinct, unadorned, yet vivid account of Jesus' ministry, emphasizing more what Jesus did than what he said. Mark moves quickly from one episode in Jesus' life and ministry to another, often using the adverb "immediately" (see note on 1:12). The book as a whole is characterized as "The beginning of the gospel" (1:1). The life, death and resurrection of Christ comprise the "beginning," of which the apostolic preaching in Acts is the continuation.

1:2–8pp — Mt 3:1–11; Lk 3:2–16

1 The beginning of the gospel about Jesus Christ, the Son of God.[aa]

[2]It is written in Isaiah the prophet:

"I will send my messenger ahead of you, who will prepare your way"[bb]— [3]"a voice of one calling in the desert,
'Prepare the way for the Lord,
make straight paths for him.' "[cc]

[4]And so John[d] came, baptizing in the desert region and preaching a baptism of repentance[e] for the forgiveness of sins.[f] [5]The whole Judean countryside and all the people of Jerusalem went out to him. Confessing their sins, they were baptized by him in the Jordan River. [6]John wore clothing made of camel's hair, with a leather belt around his waist,[g] and he ate locusts[h] and wild honey. [7]And this was his message: "After me will come one more powerful than I, the thongs of whose sandals I am not worthy to stoop down and untie.[i] [8]I baptize you with[d] water, but he will baptize you with the Holy Spirit."[j]

1:9–11pp — Mt 3:13–17; Lk 3:21,22
1:12,13pp — Mt 4:1–11; Lk 4:1–13

[9]At that time Jesus came from Nazareth[k] in Galilee and was baptized by John[l] in the Jordan. [10]As Jesus was coming up out of the water, he saw heaven being torn open and the Spirit descending on him like a dove.[m] [11]And a voice came from heaven: "You are my Son,[n] whom I love; with you I am well pleased."[o]

[12]At once the Spirit sent him out into the desert, [13]and he was in the desert for-

The good news is that God has provided salvation through the life, death and resurrection of Jesus Christ. Jesus. See NIV text note on Mt 1:21. Christ. See NIV text note on Mt 1:17.

1:2–3 in Isaiah the prophet. The quotation that immediately follows (see first two poetry lines) comes from Mal 3:1 but is followed by one from Isa 40:3 (see note on Mt 27:9). Understanding the ministry of Jesus must begin with the OT. What Isaiah says about God applies to Jesus, his Son (v. 1). The passages cited speak of the messenger, the desert and the Lord, each of which is stressed in vv. 4–8.

1:4 John came. Mark, like John, has no nativity narrative, but begins with the ministry of John the Baptist. The name John means "The LORD is gracious." baptizing. John's practice of baptizing those who came to him in repentance was so characteristic of his ministry that he became known as "the Baptist" or "the Baptizer." the desert region. The arid region west of the Dead Sea, whose inhabitants included those who wrote and preserved the Dead Sea Scrolls. repentance. Involves deliberate turning from sin to righteousness, and John's emphasis on repentance recalls the preaching of the prophets (e.g., Hos 3:4–5). God always grants forgiveness when there is repentance. baptism. John was preaching repentance-baptism, i.e., baptism that was preceded or accompanied by repentance. Baptism was not new to John's audience. They knew of baptism for Gentile converts, but had not heard that the descendants of Abraham (Jews) needed to repent and be baptized.

1:5 whole . . . all. Obvious hyperbole, indicating the high interest created by John's preaching. For centuries Israel had had no prophet. Jordan River. The principal river in the Holy Land, beginning in the snows of Mount Hermon and ending in the Dead Sea. Its closest point to Jerusalem is about 20 miles.

1:6 camel's hair . . . leather belt. Worn by Elijah and other prophets (2Ki 1:8; cf. Zec 13:4). locusts and wild honey. See note on Mt 3:4.

1:7 message. Mark's account of John's message is brief (cf. Mt 3:7–12; Lk 3:7–17) and focuses on the coming of the powerful One.

1:8 baptize you with the Holy Spirit. See note on Mt 3:11.

1:9 At that time. Jesus probably began his public ministry c. A.D. 27, when he was approximately 30 years old (Lk 3:23). As far as we know, he had spent most of his previous life in Nazareth. Nazareth. See note on Mt 2:23. baptized by John. For the significance of Jesus' baptism see Mt 3:15 and note.

1:10–11 All three persons of the Trinity are involved: (1) the Father speaks, (2) the Son is baptized, and (3) the Holy Spirit descends on the Son.

1:10 the Spirit descending on him. Jesus' anointing for ministry—an anointing he claimed in the synagogue at Nazareth (Lk 4:18). like a dove. Symbolizing the gentleness, purity and guilelessness of the Holy Spirit (see Mt 10:16).

1:11 An allusion to Ps 2:7 and Isa 42:1. a voice. God sometimes spoke directly from heaven (see 9:7; Jn 12:28–29). You are my Son. In v. 1 Mark proclaims Jesus as the Son of God; here God the Father himself proclaims Jesus as his Son.

1:12 At once. A distinctive characteristic of Mark's style is his use (some 47 times) of a Greek word that has been variously translated "at once," "immediately," "quickly," "just then" (see, e.g., vv. 18,20,23,28–29,42–43).

1:13 forty. See note on Mt 4:2. tempted. See notes on Mt 4:1–11. Satan. See notes on Ge 3:1; Zec 3:1; Rev 2:9–10; 12:9–10. wild animals. In Jesus' day there were many more wild animals—including lions—in Israel than today. Only Mark reports their presence in this connection; he emphasizes that God kept Jesus safe in the desert. angels attended him. As they had attended Israel in the desert (see Ex 23:20,23; 32:34).

MARK

RESIDENCE: Jerusalem
OCCUPATION: Disciple of Christ, writer
BEST KNOWN FOR:
- writing the most concise account of Jesus' life, based on Peter's preaching
- deserting Paul and Barnabas on their first missionary journey
- regaining Paul's trust (2Ti 4:11)

ty days,[p] being tempted by Satan.[q] He was with the wild animals, and angels attended him.

The Calling of the First Disciples

1:16–20pp — Mt 4:18–22; Lk 5:2–11; Jn 1:35–42

[14]After John[r] was put in prison, Jesus went into Galilee,[s] proclaiming the good news of God.[t] [15]"The time has come,"[u] he said. "The kingdom of God is near. Repent and believe[v] the good news!"[w]

[16]As Jesus walked beside the Sea of Galilee, he saw Simon and his brother Andrew casting a net into the lake, for they were fishermen. [17]"Come, follow me," Jesus said, "and I will make you fishers of men." [18]At once they left their nets and followed him.[x]

[19]When he had gone a little farther, he saw James son of Zebedee and his brother John in a boat, preparing their nets. [20]Without delay he called them, and they left their father Zebedee in the boat with the hired men and followed him.

Jesus Drives Out an Evil Spirit

1:21–28pp — Lk 4:31–37

[21]They went to Capernaum, and when the Sabbath came, Jesus went into the synagogue and began to teach.[y] [22]The people were amazed at his teaching, because he taught them as one who had authority, not as the teachers of the law.[z] [23]Just then a man in their synagogue who was possessed by an evil[e] spirit cried out, [24]"What do you want with us,[a] Jesus of Nazareth?[b] Have you come to destroy us? I know who you are—the Holy One of God!"[c]

[25]"Be quiet!" said Jesus sternly. "Come out of him!"[d] [26]The evil spirit shook the man violently and came out of him with a shriek.[e]

[27]The people were all so amazed[f] that they asked each other, "What is this? A new teaching—and with authority! He even gives orders to evil spirits and they obey him." [28]News about him spread quickly over the whole region[g] of Galilee.

Jesus Heals Many

1:29–31pp — Mt 8:14,15; Lk 4:38,39
1:32–34pp — Mt 8:16,17; Lk 4:40,41

[29]As soon as they left the synagogue,[h] they went with James and John to the home of Simon and Andrew. [30]Simon's mother-in-law was in bed with a fever, and they told Jesus about her. [31]So he went to her, took her hand and helped her up.[i] The fever left her and she began to wait on them.

[32]That evening after sunset the people brought to Jesus all the sick and demon-possessed.[j] [33]The whole town gathered at the door, [34]and Jesus healed many who had various diseases.[k] He also

[e] 23 Greek unclean; also in verses 26 and 27

1:14 After John was put in prison. See Mt 4:12 and note on Lk 3:20. the good news of God. The good news from, as well as about, God.

1:15 The kingdom of God. See note on Mt 3:2. is near. The coming of Christ (the King) brings the kingdom near to the people.

1:16 Sea of Galilee. A beautiful lake, almost 700 feet below sea level, 14 miles long and 6 miles wide, fed by the waters of the upper Jordan River. It was also called the Lake of Gennesaret (Lk 5:1) and the Sea of Tiberias (Jn 6:1; 21:1). In OT times it was known as the Sea of Kinnereth (e.g., Nu 34:11). Simon. Probably a contraction of the OT name Simeon (see NIV text note on Ac 15:14). Jesus gave Simon the name Peter (3:16; Mt 16:18; Jn 1:42). net. See note on Mt 4:18.

1:17 Come, follow me. The call to discipleship is definite and demands a response of total commitment. This was not Jesus' first encounter with Simon and Andrew (see Jn 1:35–42). fishers of men. Evangelists (see Lk 5:10).

1:21 Capernaum. See note on Mt 4:13. synagogue. A very important religious institution among the Jews of that day. Originating during the exile, it provided a place where Jews could study the Scriptures and worship God. A synagogue could be established in any town where there were at least ten married Jewish men. began to teach. Jesus, like Paul (see Ac 13:15; 14:1; 17:2; 18:4), took advantage of the custom that allowed visiting teachers to participate in the worship service by invitation of the synagogue leaders.

1:22 amazed. Mark frequently reported the amazement that Jesus' teaching and actions produced (see 2:12; 5:20,42; 6:2,51; 7:37; 10:26; 11:18; see also 15:5). In these instances it was Christ's inherent authority that amazed. He did not quote human authorities, as did the teachers of the law, because his authority was directly from God. teachers of the law. See note on Mt 2:4.

1:23 a man in their synagogue . . . cried out. It was actually the demon who cried out. possessed by an evil spirit. Demonic possession intended to torment and destroy those who are created in God's image, but the demon recognized that Jesus was a powerful adversary, capable of destroying the forces of Satan.

1:24 the Holy One of God. Apart from the parallel in Lk 4:34, the title is used elsewhere only in Jn 6:69 and points to Christ's divine origin rather than his Messiahship (see Lk 1:35). The name was perhaps used by the demons in accordance with the occult belief that the precise use of a person's name gave certain control over him. The man was possessed by more than one demon (see 5:9), but only one spoke.

1:25 Be quiet! Lit. "Be muzzled!" Jesus' superior power silences the shrieks of the demon-possessed man.

1:27 with authority. Jesus' authority in how he taught (v. 22) and in what he did (here) impressed the people.

1:29 to the home of Simon and Andrew. Jesus and the disciples probably went there for a meal, since the main Sabbath meal was served immediately following the synagogue service.

1:30 Simon's mother-in-law. 1Co 9:5 speaks of Peter's being married.

1:32 the people brought. They waited until the Sabbath was over (after sunset) before carrying anything (see Jer 17:21–22).

1:34 because they knew who he was. Luke says, "be-drove out many demons, but he would not let the demons speak because they knew who he was.[t]

Jesus Prays in a Solitary Place

1:35–38pp — Lk 4:42,43

[35]Very early in the morning, while it was still dark, Jesus got up, left the house and went off to a solitary place, where he prayed.[m] [36]Simon and his companions went to look for him, [37]and when they found him, they exclaimed: "Everyone is looking for you!"

[38]Jesus replied, "Let us go somewhere else—to the nearby villages—so I can preach there also. That is why I have come."[n] [39]So he traveled throughout Galilee, preaching in their synagogues[o] and driving out demons.[p]

A Man With Leprosy

1:40–44pp — Mt 8:2–4; Lk 5:12–14

[40]A man with leprosy[f] came to him and begged him on his knees,[q] "If you are willing, you can make me clean."

[41]Filled with compassion, Jesus reached out his hand and touched the man. "I am willing," he said. "Be clean!" [42]Immediately the leprosy left him and he was cured.

[43]Jesus sent him away at once with a strong warning: [44]"See that you don't tell this to anyone.[r] But go, show yourself to the priest[s] and offer the sacrifices that Moses commanded for your cleansing,[t] as a testimony to them." [45]Instead he went out and began to talk freely, spreading the news. As a result, Jesus could no longer enter a town openly but stayed outside in lonely places.[u] Yet the people still came to him from everywhere.[v]

Jesus Heals a Paralytic

2:3–12pp — Mt 9:2–8; Lk 5:18–26

2 A few days later, when Jesus again entered Capernaum, the people heard that he had come home. [2]So many[w] gathered that there was no room left, not even outside the door, and he preached the word to them. [3]Some men came, bringing to him a paralytic,[x] carried by four of them. [4]Since they could not get him to Jesus because of the crowd, they made an opening in the roof above Jesus and, after digging through it, lowered the mat the paralyzed man was lying on. [5]When Jesus saw their faith, he said to the paralytic, "Son, your sins are forgiven."[y]

[6]Now some teachers of the law were sitting there, thinking to themselves, [7]"Why does this fellow talk like that? He's blaspheming! Who can forgive sins but God alone?"[z]

[8]Immediately Jesus knew in his spirit that this was what they were thinking in their hearts, and he said to them, "Why are you thinking these things? [9]Which is easier: to say to the paralytic, 'Your sins are forgiven,' or to say, 'Get up, take your mat and walk'? [10]But that you may cause they knew he was the Christ" (Lk 4:41). Jesus probably wanted first to show by word and deed the kind of Messiah he was (in contrast to popular notions) before he clearly declared himself, and he would not let the demons frustrate this intent.

1:36 companions. Andrew, James, John and perhaps Philip and Nathanael (cf. Jn 1:43–45).

1:39 throughout Galilee. The first of what seem to be three tours of Galilee (second tour, Lk 8:1; third tour, Mk 6:6 and Mt 11:1).

1:40 leprosy. See NIV text note and Lev 13–14.

1:41 touched the man. An act that, according to Mosaic law, brought defilement (see Lev 13, especially vv. 45–46; cf. Lev 5:2). Jesus' compassion for the man superseded ceremonial considerations.

1:44 don't tell this to anyone. See notes on Mt 8:4; 16:20. go, show yourself to the priest. See note on Lk 5:14. a testimony to them. The sacrifices were to be evidence to the priests and the people that the cure was real and that Jesus respected the law. The healing was also a testimony to Jesus' divine power, since Jews believed that only God could cure leprosy (see 2Ki 5:1–14).

1:45 no longer enter a town openly. Jesus' growing popularity with the people (see 1:28; 3:7–8; Lk 7:17) and the increasing opposition from Jewish leaders (see 2:6–7,16,23–24; 3:2,6,22) finally made it necessary for him to withdraw from Galilee into surrounding territories.

2:1 home. When in Capernaum, Jesus probably made his home at Peter's house (see 1:21,29).

2:2 So many gathered. The same enthusiasm that greeted Jesus earlier (1:32–33,37) was evident at his return.

2:3 a paralytic. Nothing definite can be said about the nature of the man's affliction beyond the fact that he could not walk. The determination of the four men to reach Jesus suggests that his condition was desperate.

2:4 they made an opening in the roof. A typical Palestinian house had a flat roof accessible by means of an outside staircase. The roof was often made of a thick layer of clay (packed with a stone roller), supported by mats of branches across wood beams.

2:5 When Jesus saw their faith. Jesus recognized that the bold action of the paralyzed man and his friends gave evidence of faith. Son, your sins are forgiven. Jesus first met the man's deepest need: forgiveness.

2:7 He's blaspheming! Who can forgive sins but God alone? In Jewish theology even the Messiah could not forgive sins, and Jesus' forgiveness of sin was a claim to deity—which they considered to be blasphemous (see note on 14:64).

2:9 Which is easier . . . ? Jesus' point probably was that neither forgiving sins nor healing was easier. Both are equally impossible to men and equally easy to God.

2:10 But that you may know. Probably spoken to the teachers of the law. The words "He said to the paralytic" are parenthetical to explain a change in the persons addressed. For a discussion of the title "Son of Man" see note on 8:31. It is clear that one purpose of miracles was to give evidence of Jesus' deity. See the use of miraculous signs in John's Gospel (2:11; 20:30–31).

know that the Son of Man[a] has authority on earth to forgive sins . . . ." He said to the paralytic, [11]"I tell you, get up, take your mat and go home." [12]He got up, took his mat and walked out in full view of them all. This amazed everyone and they praised God,[b] saying, "We have never seen anything like this!"[c]

The Calling of Levi

2:14–17pp — Mt 9:9–13; Lk 5:27–32

[13]Once again Jesus went out beside the lake. A large crowd came to him,[d] and he began to teach them. [14]As he walked along, he saw Levi son of Alphaeus sitting at the tax collector's booth. "Follow me,"[e] Jesus told him, and Levi got up and followed him.

[15]While Jesus was having dinner at Levi's house, many tax collectors and "sinners" were eating with him and his disciples, for there were many who followed him. [16]When the teachers of the law who were Pharisees[f] saw him eating with the "sinners" and tax collectors, they asked his disciples: "Why does he eat with tax collectors and 'sinners'?"[g]

[17]On hearing this, Jesus said to them, "It is not the healthy who need a doctor, but the sick. I have not come to call the righteous, but sinners."[h]

Jesus Questioned About Fasting

2:18–22pp — Mt 9:14–17; Lk 5:33–38

[18]Now John's disciples and the Pharisees were fasting.[i] Some people came and asked Jesus, "How is it that John's disciples and the disciples of the Pharisees are fasting, but yours are not?"

[19]Jesus answered, "How can the guests of the bridegroom fast while he is with them? They cannot, so long as they have him with them. [20]But the time will come when the bridegroom will be taken from them,[j] and on that day they will fast.

[21]"No one sews a patch of unshrunk cloth on an old garment. If he does, the new piece will pull away from the old, making the tear worse. [22]And no one pours new wine into old wineskins. If he does, the wine will burst the skins, and both the wine and the wineskins will be ruined. No, he pours new wine into new wineskins."

Lord of the Sabbath

2:23–28pp — Mt 12:1–8; Lk 6:1–5
3:1–6pp — Mt 12:9–14; Lk 6:6–11

[23]One Sabbath Jesus was going through the grainfields, and as his disciples walked along, they began to pick some heads of grain.[k] [24]The Pharisees said to him, "Look, why are they doing what is unlawful on the Sabbath?"[l]

[25]He answered, "Have you never read

2:12 This amazed everyone. See note on 1:22.

2:14 Levi son of Alphaeus. Matthew (see Mt 9:9; 10:3). His given name was probably Levi, and Matthew ("gift of the LORD") his apostolic name. tax collector's booth. Levi was a tax collector (see note on Lk 3:12) under Herod Antipas, tetrarch of Galilee. The tax collector's booth where Jesus found Levi was probably a toll booth on the major international road that went from Damascus through Capernaum to the Mediterranean coast and to Egypt (see the "way of the sea," Isa 9:1). Levi got up and followed. See note on Lk 5:28.

2:15 "sinners." Notoriously evil people as well as those who refused to follow the Mosaic law as interpreted by the teachers of the law. The term was commonly used of tax collectors, adulterers, robbers and the like. were eating. To eat with a person was a sign of friendship.

2:16 teachers of the law who were Pharisees. Not all teachers of the law were Pharisees—successors of the Hasidim, pious Jews who joined forces with the Maccabees during the struggle for freedom from Syrian oppression (166–142 B.C.). They first appear under the name Pharisees during the reign of John Hyrcanus (135–105). Although some, no doubt, were godly, most of those who came into conflict with Jesus were hypocritical, envious, rigid and formalistic. According to Pharisaism, God's grace extended only to those who kept his law. See notes on Mt 3:7; Lk 5:17. tax collectors. Jewish tax collectors were regarded as outcasts. They could not serve as witnesses or as judges and were expelled from the synagogue. In the eyes of the Jewish community their disgrace extended to their families. See note on Mt 5:46.

2:17 I have not come to call the righteous, but sinners. A self-righteous man does not realize his need for salvation, but an admitted sinner does.

2:18 John's disciples. John the Baptist's disciples may have been fasting because he was in prison (see 1:14), or this may have been a practice among them as an expression of repentance, intended to hasten the coming of redemption announced by John. disciples of the Pharisees. Pharisees as such were not teachers, but some were also "scribes" (teachers of the law), who often had disciples. Or perhaps the phrase is used in a nontechnical way to refer to people influenced by the Pharisees. fasting. In the Mosaic law only the fast of the Day of Atonement was required (Lev 16:29,31; 23:27–32; Nu 29:7). After the Babylonian exile four other yearly fasts were observed by the Jews (Zec 7:5; 8:19). In Jesus' time the Pharisees fasted twice a week (see Lk 18:12).

2:19 How can the guests of the bridegroom fast while he is with them? Jesus compared his disciples with the guests of a bridegroom. A Jewish wedding was a particularly joyous occasion, and the celebration associated with it often lasted a week. It was unthinkable to fast during such festivities, because fasting was associated with sorrow.

2:20 when the bridegroom will be taken from them. Jesus is the bridegroom, who would be taken from them by death, and then fasting would be in order.

2:22 new wineskins. See note on Mt 9:17.

2:23 pick some heads of grain. There was nothing wrong in the action itself, which comes under the provision of Dt 23:25.

2:24 what is unlawful on the Sabbath. According to Jewish tradition (in the Mishnah), harvesting (which is what Jesus' disciples technically were doing) was forbidden on the Sabbath. See Ex 34:21.

2:25 what David did. See 1Sa 21:1–6. The relationship between the OT incident and the apparent in-what David did when he and his companions were hungry and in need? [26]In the days of Abiathar the high priest,[m] he entered the house of God and ate the consecrated bread, which is lawful only for priests to eat.[n] And he also gave some to his companions."[o]

[27]Then he said to them, "The Sabbath was made for man,[p] not man for the Sabbath.[q] [28]So the Son of Man[r] is Lord even of the Sabbath."

3 Another time he went into the synagogue,[s] and a man with a shriveled hand was there. [2]Some of them were looking for a reason to accuse Jesus, so they watched him closely[t] to see if he would heal him on the Sabbath.[u] [3]Jesus said to the man with the shriveled hand, "Stand up in front of everyone."

[4]Then Jesus asked them, "Which is lawful on the Sabbath: to do good or to do evil, to save life or to kill?" But they remained silent.

[5]He looked around at them in anger and, deeply distressed at their stubborn hearts, said to the man, "Stretch out your hand." He stretched it out, and his hand was completely restored. [6]Then the Pharisees went out and began to plot with the Herodians[v] how they might kill Jesus.[w]

Crowds Follow Jesus

3:7–12pp — Mt 12:15,16; Lk 6:17–19

[7]Jesus withdrew with his disciples to the lake, and a large crowd from Galilee followed.[x] [8]When they heard all he was doing, many people came to him from Judea, Jerusalem, Idumea, and the regions across the Jordan and around Tyre and Sidon.[y] [9]Because of the crowd he told his disciples to have a small boat ready for him, to keep the people from crowding him. [10]For he had healed many,[z] so that those with diseases were pushing forward to touch him.[a] [11]Whenever the evil[g] spirits saw him, they fell down before him and cried out, "You are the Son of God."[b] [12]But he gave them strict orders not to tell who he was.[c]

The Appointing of the Twelve Apostles

3:16–19pp — Mt 10:2–4; Lk 6:14–16; Ac 1:13

[13]Jesus went up on a mountainside and called to him those he wanted, and they came to him.[d] [14]He appointed twelve—designating them apostles[h][e]—that they might be with him and that he might send them out to preach [15]and to

g 11 Greek unclean; also in verse 30
h 14 Some manuscripts do not have designating them apostles.

fringement of the Sabbath by the disciples lies in the fact that on both occasions godly men did something forbidden. Since, however, it is always "lawful" to do good and to save life (even on the Sabbath), both David and the disciples were within the spirit of the law (see Isa 58:6–7; Lk 6:6–11; 13:10–17; 14:1–6).

2:26 In the days of Abiathar the high priest. According to 1Sa 21:1, Ahimelech, Abiathar's father, was then high priest (see note on 2Sa 8:17). consecrated bread. See note on Mt 12:4.

2:27 The Sabbath was made for man, not man for the Sabbath. Jewish tradition had so multiplied the requirements and restrictions for keeping the Sabbath that the burden had become intolerable. Jesus cut across these traditions and emphasized the God-given purpose of the Sabbath—a day intended for man (for spiritual, mental and physical restoration; see Ex 20:8–11).

2:28 See note on Lk 6:5.

3:1–6 A demonstration that Jesus is Lord of the Sabbath (see 2:28).

3:2 Some of them. The Pharisees (v. 6; cf. Lk 6:7). to accuse Jesus. Jesus' presence demanded a decision about his preaching, his acts and his person. The hostility, first seen in 2:6–7, continues to spread. See note on v. 6. to see if he would heal him on the Sabbath. An indication that the Pharisees believed in Jesus' power to perform miracles. The question was not "Could he?" but "Would he?" Jewish tradition prescribed that aid could be given the sick on the Sabbath only when the person's life was threatened, which obviously was not the case here. See notes on 2:25; Lk 13:14.

3:4 to do good or to do evil, to save life or to kill? Jesus asks: Which is better, to preserve life by healing or to destroy life by refusing to heal? The question is ironic since, whereas Jesus was ready to heal, the Pharisees were plotting to put him to death. It is obvious who was guilty of breaking the Sabbath. they remained silent. See 12:34.

3:6 the Pharisees . . . began to plot. The decision to seek Jesus' death was not the result of this incident alone, but was the response to a series of incidents (see 2:6–7,16–17,24). The plotting of the Pharisees and the Herodians is seen again on Tuesday of Passion Week (12:13). Herodians. Influential Jews who favored the Herodian dynasty, meaning they were supporters of Rome, from which the Herods received their authority. They joined the Pharisees in opposing Jesus because they feared he might have an unsettling political influence on the people. See note on Mt 22:15–17.

3:8 Here we see impressive evidence of Jesus' rapidly growing popularity among the people. This geographical list indicates that the crowds came not only from the areas in the vicinity of Capernaum but also from considerable distances. The regions mentioned included virtually all of Israel and its surrounding neighbors. Mark tells of Jesus' work in all these regions except Idumea (see 1:14, Galilee; 5:1 and 10:1, the region across the Jordan; 7:24,31, Tyre and Sidon; 10:1, Judea; 11:11, Jerusalem). Idumea. The Greek form of the Hebrew "Edom," but here referring to an area south of Judea, not to earlier Edomite territory. (See map, p. 1540.)

3:11 the evil spirits. See note on 1:23. You are the Son of God. The evil spirits recognized who Jesus was, but they did not believe in him (see note on 1:24).

3:12 not to tell who he was. The time for revealing Jesus' identity had not yet come (see 1:34 and note; see also notes on Mt 8:4; 16:20), and demons were hardly the proper channel for such disclosure.

3:14 designating them apostles. See note on 6:30. that they might be with him. The training of the Twelve included not only instruction and practice in various forms of ministry but also continuous association and intimate fellowship with Jesus himself.

have authority to drive out demons.[f] [16]These are the twelve he appointed: Simon (to whom he gave the name Peter);[g] [17]James son of Zebedee and his brother John (to them he gave the name Boanerges, which means Sons of Thunder); [18]Andrew, Philip, Bartholomew, Matthew, Thomas, James son of Alphaeus, Thaddaeus, Simon the Zealot [19]and Judas Iscariot, who betrayed him.

Jesus and Beelzebub

3:23–27pp — Mt 12:25–29; Lk 11:17–22

[20]Then Jesus entered a house, and again a crowd gathered,[h] so that he and his disciples were not even able to eat.[i] [21]When his family heard about this, they went to take charge of him, for they said, "He is out of his mind."[j]

[22]And the teachers of the law who came down from Jerusalem[k] said, "He is possessed by Beelzebub[i]!"[l] By the prince of demons he is driving out demons."[m]

[23]So Jesus called them and spoke to them in parables:[n] "How can Satan[o] drive out Satan? [24]If a kingdom is divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand. [25]If a house is divided against itself, that house cannot stand. [26]And if Satan opposes himself and is divided, he cannot stand; his end has come. [27]In fact, no one can enter a strong man's house and carry off his possessions unless he first ties up the strong man. Then he can rob his house.[p] [28]I tell you the truth, all the sins and blasphemies of men will be forgiven them. [29]But whoever blasphemes against the Holy Spirit will never be forgiven; he is guilty of an eternal sin."[q]

[30]He said this because they were saying, "He has an evil spirit."

Jesus' Mother and Brothers

3:31–35pp — Mt 12:46–50; Lk 8:19–21

[31]Then Jesus' mother and brothers arrived.[r] Standing outside, they sent someone in to call him. [32]A crowd was sitting around him, and they told him, "Your mother and brothers are outside looking for you."

[33]"Who are my mother and my brothers?" he asked.

[34]Then he looked at those seated in a circle around him and said, "Here are my mother and my brothers! [35]Whoever does God's will is my brother and sister and mother."

4:1–12pp — Mt 13:1–15; Lk 8:4–10
4:13–20pp — Mt 13:18–23; Lk 8:11–15

4 Again Jesus began to teach by the lake.[s] The crowd that gathered around him was so large that he got into a boat and sat in it out on the lake, while all the people were along the shore at the water's edge. [2]He taught them many things by parables,[t] and in his teaching said: [3]"Listen! A farmer went out to sow his seed.[u] [4]As he was scattering the seed, some fell along the path, and the birds came and ate it up. [5]Some fell on rocky places, where it did not have much soil. It sprang up quickly, because the soil was shallow. [6]But when the sun came up, the plants were scorched, and they withered because they had no root. [7]Other seed fell among thorns, which grew up and choked the plants, so that they did not bear grain. [8]Still other seed fell on good soil. It came up, grew and

[i]22 Greek Beezeboul or Beelzeboul

3:16–19 See notes on Lk 6:14–16.

3:17 Sons of Thunder. Probably descriptive of their dispositions (see notes on 10:37; Lk 9:54–55).

3:18 Thaddaeus. Apparently the same as "Judas son of James" (see Lk 6:16; Ac 1:13). the Zealot. See note on Mt 10:4.

3:19 Iscariot. Probably means "the man from Kerioth," the town Kerioth Hezron (Jos 15:25), 12 miles south of Hebron (Jer 48:24). For Judas's betrayal of Jesus see 14:10–11,43–46.

3:20 a house. Probably the home of Peter and Andrew (see 1:29; 2:1).

3:21 his family ... went to take charge of him. No doubt they had come to Capernaum from Nazareth, some 30 miles away (see v. 31).

3:22 Beelzebub. See note on Mt 10:25.

3:23 parables. In this context the word is used in the general sense of comparisons (see note on 4:2).

3:27 enter a strong man's house and carry off his possessions. Jesus was doing this very thing when he freed people from Satan's control.

3:28 I tell you the truth. A solemn affirmation used by Jesus to strengthen his assertions (see 8:12; 9:1,41; 10:15,29; 11:23; 12:43; 13:30; 14:9,18,25,30).

3:29 whoever blasphemes against the Holy Spirit will never be forgiven. Jesus identifies this sin in v. 30 (cf. v. 22)—the teachers of the law attributed Jesus' healing to Satan's power rather than to the Holy Spirit (see note on Mt 12:31).

3:31 Jesus' mother and brothers. See note on Lk 8:19.

3:35 Whoever does God's will. Membership in God's spiritual family, evidenced by obedience to him, is more important than membership in our human families (see note on 10:30).

4:1 sat in it. Sitting was the usual position for Jewish teachers (see Mt 5:1; Lk 5:3; Jn 8:2).

4:2 parables. Usually stories out of ordinary life used to illustrate spiritual or moral truth, sometimes in the form of brief similes, comparisons (see note on 3:23), analogies or proverbial sayings. Ordinarily they had a single main point, and not every detail was meant to have significance. See notes on Mt 13:3; Lk 8:4.

4:3–8 In that day seed was broadcast by hand—which, by its nature, scattered some seed on unproductive ground (see note on Lk 8:5).

4:8 multiplying ... a hundred times. A hundredfold yield was an unusually productive harvest (see Ge 26:12). Harvest was a common figure for the consummation of God's kingdom (see Joel 3:13; Rev 14:14–20).

produced a crop, multiplying thirty, sixty, or even a hundred times."[t]

[9]Then Jesus said, "He who has ears to hear, let him hear."[u]

[10]When he was alone, the Twelve and the others around him asked him about the parables. [11]He told them, "The secret of the kingdom of God[x] has been given to you. But to those on the outside[y] everything is said in parables [12]so that,

" 'they may be ever seeing but never perceiving, and ever hearing but never understanding;
otherwise they might turn and be forgiven!'[j]"[z]

[13]Then Jesus said to them, "Don't you understand this parable? How then will you understand any parable? [14]The farmer sows the word.[a] [15]Some people are like seed along the path, where the word is sown. As soon as they hear it, Satan[b] comes and takes away the word that was sown in them. [16]Others, like seed sown on rocky places, hear the word and at once receive it with joy. [17]But since they have no root, they last only a short time. When trouble or persecution comes because of the word, they quickly fall away. [18]Still others, like seed sown among thorns, hear the word; [19]but the worries of this life, the deceitfulness of wealth[c] and the desires for other things come in and choke the word, making it unfruitful. [20]Others, like seed sown on good soil, hear the word, accept it, and produce a crop—thirty, sixty or even a hundred times what was sown."

A Lamp on a Stand

[21]He said to them, "Do you bring in a lamp to put it under a bowl or a bed? Instead, don't you put it on its stand?[d] [22]For whatever is hidden is meant to be disclosed, and whatever is concealed is meant to be brought out into the open.[e] [23]If anyone has ears to hear, let him hear."[f]

[24]"Consider carefully what you hear," he continued. "With the measure you use, it will be measured to you—and even more.[g] [25]Whoever has will be given more; whoever does not have, even what he has will be taken from him."[h]

The Parable of the Growing Seed

[26]He also said, "This is what the kingdom of God is like.[i] A man scatters seed on the ground. [27]Night and day, whether he sleeps or gets up, the seed sprouts and grows, though he does not know how. [28]All by itself the soil produces grain—first the stalk, then the head, then the full kernel in the head. [29]As soon as the grain is ripe, he puts the sickle to it, because the harvest has come."[j]

The Parable of the Mustard Seed

4:30–32pp — Mt 13:31,32; Lk 13:18,19

[30]Again he said, "What shall we say the kingdom of God is like,[k] or what parable shall we use to describe it? [31]It is like a mustard seed, which is the smallest seed you plant in the ground. [32]Yet when planted, it grows and becomes the largest of all garden plants, with such big branches that the birds of the air can perch in its shade."

[33]With many similar parables Jesus spoke the word to them, as much as they could understand.[l] [34]He did not say anything to them without using a para-

j12 Isaiah 6:9,10

4:11 secret of the kingdom of God. In the NT "secret" refers to something God has revealed to his people. The secret (that which was previously unknown) is proclaimed to all, but only those who have faith understand. In this context the secret seems to be that the kingdom of God had drawn near in the coming of Jesus Christ.

4:12 so that. Jesus likens his preaching in parables to the ministry of Isaiah, which, while it gained some disciples (Isa 8:16), was also to expose the hardhearted resistance of the many to God's warning and appeal.

4:14 the word. The interpretation calls attention to the response to the word of God that Jesus has been preaching. In spite of many obstacles, God's word will accomplish his purpose.

4:17 trouble or persecution. See 8:34–38; 10:30; 13:9–13.

4:19 deceitfulness of wealth. Prosperity tends to give a false sense of self-sufficiency, security and well-being (10:17–25; see Dt 8:17–18; 32:15; Ecc 2:4–11; Jas 5:1–6).

4:21 Do you bring in a lamp . . . ? As a lamp is placed to give, not hide, light, so Jesus, the light of the world (Jn 8:12), is destined to be revealed. lamp. See note on Mt 5:15.

4:25 Whoever has will be given more. The more we appropriate truth now, the more we will receive in the future; and if we do not respond to what little truth we may know already, we will not profit even from that.

4:26–29 Only Mark records this parable. Whereas the parable of the sower stresses the importance of proper soil for the growth of seed and the success of the harvest, here the mysterious power of the seed itself is emphasized. The gospel message contains its own power.

4:29 he puts the sickle to it, because the harvest has come. A possible allusion to Joel 3:13, where harvest is a figure for the consummation of God's kingdom.

4:30–34 The main point of this parable is that the kingdom of God seemingly had insignificant beginnings. It was introduced by the despised and rejected Jesus and his 12 unimpressive disciples. But a day will come when its true greatness and power will be seen by all the world.

4:31 See notes on Mt 13:31–32.

4:34 He did not say anything to them without using a parable. Jesus used parables to illustrate truths, stimulate thinking and awaken spiritual perception. The people in general were not ready for the full truth of the gospel. When alone with his disciples Jesus taught more specifible.[m] But when he was alone with his own disciples, he explained everything.

Jesus Calms the Storm

4:35–41pp — Mt 8:18,23–27; Lk 8:22–25

[35]That day when evening came, he said to his disciples, "Let us go over to the other side." [36]Leaving the crowd behind, they took him along, just as he was, in the boat.[n] There were also other boats with him. [37]A furious squall came up, and the waves broke over the boat, so that it was nearly swamped. [38]Jesus was in the stern, sleeping on a cushion. The disciples woke him and said to him, "Teacher, don't you care if we drown?"

[39]He got up, rebuked the wind and said to the waves, "Quiet! Be still!" Then the wind died down and it was completely calm.

[40]He said to his disciples, "Why are you so afraid? Do you still have no faith?"[o]

[41]They were terrified and asked each other, "Who is this? Even the wind and the waves obey him!"

The Healing of a Demon-possessed Man

5:1–17pp — Mt 8:28–34; Lk 8:26–37
5:18–20pp — Lk 8:38,39

5 They went across the lake to the region of the Gerasenes.[k] [2]When Jesus got out of the boat,[p] a man with an evil[l] spirit[q] came from the tombs to meet him. [3]This man lived in the tombs, and no one could bind him any more, not even with a chain. [4]For he had often been chained hand and foot, but he tore the chains apart and broke the irons on his feet. No one was strong enough to subdue him. [5]Night and day among the tombs and in the hills he would cry out and cut himself with stones.

[6]When he saw Jesus from a distance, he ran and fell on his knees in front of him. [7]He shouted at the top of his voice, "What do you want with me,[r] Jesus, Son of the Most High God?[s] Swear to God that you won't torture me!" [8]For Jesus had said to him, "Come out of this man, you evil spirit!"

[9]Then Jesus asked him, "What is your name?"

"My name is Legion,"[t] he replied, "for we are many." [10]And he begged Jesus again and again not to send them out of the area.

[11]A large herd of pigs was feeding on the nearby hillside. [12]The demons begged Jesus, "Send us among the pigs; allow us to go into them." [13]He gave them permission, and the evil spirits came out and went into the pigs. The herd, about two thousand in number, rushed down the steep bank into the lake and were drowned.

cally, but even they usually needed to have things explained.

4:35–41 Although miracles are hard for modern man to accept, the NT makes it clear that Jesus is Lord not only over his church but also over all creation.

4:35 to the other side. Jesus left the territory of Galilee to go to the region of the Gerasenes (5:1).

4:37 A furious squall came up. Situated in a basin surrounded by mountains, the Sea of Galilee is particularly susceptible to sudden, violent storms. Cool air from the Mediterranean is drawn down through the narrow mountain passes and clashes with the hot, humid air lying over the lake.

4:38 sleeping on a cushion. The picture of Jesus, exhausted and asleep on the cushion customarily kept under the coxswain's seat, is characteristic of Mark's human touch.

4:41 Who is this? In view of what Jesus had just done, the only answer to this rhetorical question was: He is the very Son of God! God's presence, as well as his power, was demonstrated (see Ps 65:7; 107:25–30; Pr 30:4). Mark indicates his answer to this question in the opening line of his Gospel (1:1). By such miracles Jesus sought to establish and increase the disciples' faith in his deity.

5:1 across the lake. The east side of the lake, a territory largely inhabited by Gentiles, as indicated by the presence of the large herd of pigs—animals Jews considered "unclean" and therefore unfit to eat. region of the Gerasenes. Gerasa, located about 35 miles southeast of the Sea of Galilee, may have had holdings on the eastern shore of the Sea, giving its name to a small village there now known as Khersa. About one mile south is a fairly steep slope within 40 yards of the shore, and about two miles from there are cavern tombs that appear to have been used as dwellings.

5:3 lived in the tombs. It was not unusual for the same cave to provide burial for the dead and shelter for the living. Very poor people often lived in such caves.

5:4 he had often been chained. Though the villagers no doubt chained him partly for their own protection, this harsh treatment added to his humiliation.

5:5 he would cry out and cut himself with stones. Every word in the story emphasizes the man's pathetic condition as well as the purpose of demonic possession—to torment and destroy the divine likeness with which man was created.

5:7 What do you want with me . . . ? A way of saying, "What do we have in common?" Similar expressions are found in the OT (e.g., 2Sa 16:10; 19:22), where they mean, "Mind your own business!" The demon was speaking, using the voice of the possessed man. Son of the Most High God. See note on 1:24. Swear to God that you won't torture me! The demon sensed that he was to be punished and used the strongest basis for an oath that he knew, though his appeal to God was strangely ironic.

5:9 My name is Legion . . . for we are many. A Roman legion was made up of 6,000 men. Here the term suggests that the man was possessed by numerous demons and perhaps also represents the many powers opposed to Jesus, who embodies the power of God.

5:10 not to send them out of the area. The demons were fearful of being sent into eternal punishment, i.e., "into the Abyss" (Lk 8:31).

5:13 He gave them permission. See note on Mt 8:32.

14 Those tending the pigs ran off and reported this in the town and countryside, and the people went out to see what had happened. 15 When they came to Jesus, they saw the man who had been possessed by the legion[u] of demons,[v] sitting there, dressed and in his right mind; and they were afraid. 16 Those who had seen it told the people what had happened to the demon-possessed man—and told about the pigs as well. 17 Then the people began to plead with Jesus to leave their region.

18 As Jesus was getting into the boat, the man who had been demon-possessed begged to go with him. 19 Jesus did not let him, but said, "Go home to your family and tell them[w] how much the Lord has done for you, and how he has had mercy on you." 20 So the man went away and began to tell in the Decapolis[mx] how much Jesus had done for him. And all the people were amazed.

5:17 plead with Jesus to leave their region. Fear of further loss may have motivated this response, but also the fact that a powerful force was at work in their midst that they could not comprehend.

5:19 tell them how much the Lord has done for you. This is in marked contrast to Jesus' exhortation to silence in the case of the man cleansed of leprosy (1:44; see 1:34; 3:12; see also note on Mt 8:4), perhaps because the healing of the demoniac was in Gentile territory, where there was little danger that Messianic ideas about Jesus might be circulated.

5:20 Decapolis. See note on Mt 4:25.

5:21 the other side of the lake. Jesus returned to the west side of the lake, perhaps to Capernaum.

synagogue rulers,[a] named Jairus, came there. Seeing Jesus, he fell at his feet [23]and pleaded earnestly with him, "My little daughter is dying. Please come and put your hands on[b] her so that she will be healed and live." [24]So Jesus went with him.

A large crowd followed and pressed around him. [25]And a woman was there who had been subject to bleeding[c] for twelve years. [26]She had suffered a great deal under the care of many doctors and had spent all she had, yet instead of getting better she grew worse. [27]When she heard about Jesus, she came up behind him in the crowd and touched his cloak, [28]because she thought, "If I just touch his clothes,[d] I will be healed." [29]Immediately her bleeding stopped and she felt in her body that she was freed from her suffering.[e]

[30]At once Jesus realized that power[f] had gone out from him. He turned around in the crowd and asked, "Who touched my clothes?"

[31]"You see the people crowding against you," his disciples answered, "and yet you can ask, 'Who touched me?' "

[32]But Jesus kept looking around to see who had done it. [33]Then the woman, knowing what had happened to her, came and fell at his feet and, trembling with fear, told him the whole truth. [34]He said to her, "Daughter, your faith has healed you.[g] Go in peace[h] and be freed from your suffering."

[35]While Jesus was still speaking, some men came from the house of Jairus, the synagogue ruler.[i] "Your daughter is dead," they said. "Why bother the teacher any more?"

[37]He did not let anyone follow him except Peter, James and John the brother of James.[j] [38]When they came to the home of the synagogue ruler,[k] Jesus saw a commotion, with people crying and wailing loudly. [39]He went in and said to them, "Why all this commotion and wailing? The child is not dead but asleep."[l] [40]But they laughed at him.

After he put them all out, he took the child's father and mother and the disciples who were with him, and went in where the child was. [41]He took her by the hand[m] and said to her, "Talitha koum!" (which means, "Little girl, I say to you, get up!").[n] [42]Immediately the girl stood up and walked around (she was twelve years old). At this they were completely astonished. [43]He gave strict orders not to let anyone know about this,[o] and told them to give her something to eat.

A Prophet Without Honor

6:1-6pp — Mt 13:54-58

6 Jesus left there and went to his hometown,[p] accompanied by his disciples. [2]When the Sabbath came,[q] he began to teach in the synagogue,[r] and many who heard him were amazed.[s]

"Where did this man get these things?" they asked. "What's this wisdom that has been given him, that he even does miracles! [3]Isn't this the carpenter? Isn't this vising the worship. Though there were exceptions (see Ac 13:15), most synagogues had only one ruler. Sometimes the title was honorary, with no administrative responsibilities assigned.

5:25 subject to bleeding for twelve years. The precise nature of the woman's problem is not known. Her existence was wretched because she was shunned by people generally, since anyone having contact with her was made ceremonially unclean (Lev 15:25–33).

5:26 She had suffered a great deal under the care of many doctors. The Jewish Talmud preserves a record of medicines and treatments prescribed for illnesses of this sort.

5:28 If I just touch his clothes. Although it needed to be bolstered by physical contact, her faith was rewarded (v. 34; cf. Ac 19:12).

5:30 power had gone out from him. The woman was healed because God graciously determined to heal her through the power then active in Jesus.

5:32 kept looking around to see who had done it. Jesus would not allow the woman to recede into the crowd without publicly commending her faith and assuring her that she was permanently healed.

5:34 healed. The Greek for "healed" actually means "saved." Here both physical healing ("be freed from your suffering") and spiritual salvation ("go in peace") are meant. The two are often seen together in Mark's Gospel (see 2:1–12; 3:1–6).

5:37 Peter, James and John. These three disciples had an especially close relationship to Jesus (see note on Ac 3:1).

5:38 people crying and wailing loudly. It was customary for professional mourners to be brought in at the time of death. In this case, however, it is not certain that enough time had elapsed for professional mourners to have been secured.

5:39 not dead but asleep. See note on Lk 8:52.

5:41 Talitha koum! Mark is the only Gospel writer who here preserves the original Aramaic—one of the languages of Palestine in the first century A.D. and probably the language Jesus and his disciples ordinarily spoke (they may also have spoken Hebrew and Greek).

5:43 not to let anyone know. In the vicinity of Galilee Jesus often cautioned people whom he healed not to spread the story of the miracle. His great popularity with the people, coupled with the growing opposition from the religious leaders, could have precipitated a crisis before Jesus' ministry was completed (see 1:44; 5:19; 7:36; 8:26).

6:1 his hometown. Though Mark does not specifically mention Nazareth, it is obviously meant (see note on 1:9).

6:2 teach in the synagogue. See note on 1:21. were amazed. See note on 1:22.

6:3 carpenter. Matthew reports that Jesus was called "the carpenter's son" (Mt 13:55); only in Mark is Jesus himself referred to as a carpenter. The Greek word can also apply to a mason or smith, but it seems to have its Mary's son and the brother of James, Joseph,[n] Judas and Simon?[t] Aren't his sisters here with us?" And they took offense at him.[u]

[4]Jesus said to them, "Only in his hometown, among his relatives and in his own house is a prophet without honor."[v] [5]He could not do any miracles there, except lay his hands on[w] a few sick people and heal them. [6]And he was amazed at their lack of faith.

Jesus Sends Out the Twelve

6:7–11pp — Mt 10:1,9–14; Lk 9:1,3–5

Then Jesus went around teaching from village to village.[x] [7]Calling the Twelve to him,[y] he sent them out two by two[z] and gave them authority over evil[o] spirits.[a]

[8]These were his instructions: "Take nothing for the journey except a staff—no bread, no bag, no money in your belts. [9]Wear sandals but not an extra tunic. [10]Whenever you enter a house, stay there until you leave that town. [11]And if any place will not welcome you or listen to you, shake the dust off your feet[b] when you leave, as a testimony against them."

[12]They went out and preached that people should repent.[c] [13]They drove out many demons and anointed many sick people with oil[d] and healed them.

John the Baptist Beheaded

6:14–29pp — Mt 14:1–12
6:14–16pp — Lk 9:7–9

[14]King Herod heard about this, for Jesus' name had become well known. Some were saying,[p] "John the Baptist[e] has been raised from the dead, and that is why miraculous powers are at work in him."

[15]Others said, "He is Elijah."[f]

And still others claimed, "He is a prophet,[g] like one of the prophets of long ago."[h]

[16]But when Herod heard this, he said, "John, the man I beheaded, has been raised from the dead!"

[17]For Herod himself had given orders to have John arrested, and he had him bound and put in prison.[i] He did this because of Herodias, his brother Philip's wife, whom he had married. [18]For John had been saying to Herod, "It is not lawful for you to have your brother's wife."[j] [19]So Herodias nursed a grudge against John and wanted to kill him. But she was not able to, [20]because Herod feared John and protected him, knowing him to be a righteous and holy man.[k] When Herod heard John, he was greatly puzzled[q]; yet he liked to listen to him.

[21]Finally the opportune time came. On his birthday Herod gave a banquet[l] for his high officials and military commanders and the leading men of Galilee.[m] [22]When the daughter of Herodias came in and danced, she pleased Herod and his dinner guests.

The king said to the girl, "Ask me for anything you want, and I'll give it to you." [23]And he promised her with an oath, "Whatever you ask I will give you, up to half my kingdom."[n] usual meaning ("carpenter") here. The question is derogatory, meaning, "Is he not a common worker with his hands like the rest of us?" brother of James, Joseph, Judas and Simon. See note on Lk 8:19. they took offense at him. They saw no reason to believe that he was different from them, much less that he was specially anointed by God.

[24]She went out and said to her mother, "What shall I ask for?"

"The head of John the Baptist," she answered.

6:5 He could not do any miracles there. It was not that Jesus did not have power to perform miracles at Nazareth, but that he chose not to in such a climate of unbelief (v. 6).

6:6 he was amazed. See note on Lk 7:9.

6:7 two by two. The purpose of going in pairs may have been to bolster credibility by having the testimony of more than one witness (cf. Dt 17:6), as well as to provide mutual support during their training period.

6:8 no bread, no bag, no money in your belts. They were to depend entirely on the hospitality of those to whom they testified (see v. 10).

6:9 not an extra tunic. At night an extra tunic was helpful as a covering to protect from the cold night air, and the implication here is that the disciples were to trust in God to provide lodging each night.

6:11 shake the dust off your feet. See note on Mt 10:14.

6:12–13 preached . . . . drove out many demons. This mission marks the beginning of the disciples' own ministry in Jesus' name (see 3:14–15), and their message was precisely the same as his (1:15).

6:12 repent. See note on 1:4.

6:13 anointed many sick people with oil. In the ancient world olive oil was widely used as a medicine (see Isa 1:6; Lk 10:34; Jas 5:14).

6:14 King Herod. See note on Mt 14:1. Mark may here have used the title "king" sarcastically (since Herod was actually a tetrarch), or perhaps he simply used Herod's popular title.

6:15 He is Elijah. See Mal 4:5.

6:16 John . . . has been raised from the dead! Herod, disturbed by an uneasy conscience and disposed to superstition, feared that John had come back to haunt him.

6:17 John arrested . . . and put in prison. See 1:14; Lk 3:19–20. Josephus says that John was imprisoned at Machaerus, the fortress in Perea on the eastern side of the Dead Sea. Herodias. See note on Mt 14:3. Philip. See note on Mt 14:3.

6:22 the daughter of Herodias. See note on Mt 14:6.

6:23 up to half my kingdom. A proverbial reference to generosity, not to be taken literally (see Est 5:3,6). Generosity suited the occasion and would win the approval of the guests.

[25]At once the girl hurried in to the king with the request: "I want you to give me right now the head of John the Baptist on a platter."

[26]The king was greatly distressed, but because of his oaths and his dinner guests, he did not want to refuse her. [27]So he immediately sent an executioner with orders to bring John's head. The man went, beheaded John in the prison, [28]and brought back his head on a platter. He presented it to the girl, and she gave it to her mother. [29]On hearing of this, John's disciples came and took his body and laid it in a tomb.

Jesus Feeds the Five Thousand

6:32–44pp — Mt 14:13–21; Lk 9:10–17; Jn 6:5–13
6:32–44Ref — Mk 8:2–9

[30]The apostles[o] gathered around Jesus and reported to him all they had done and taught.[p] [31]Then, because so many people were coming and going that they did not even have a chance to eat,[q] he said to them, "Come with me by yourselves to a quiet place and get some rest."

[32]So they went away by themselves in a boat[r] to a solitary place. [33]But many who saw them leaving recognized them and ran on foot from all the towns and got there ahead of them. [34]When Jesus landed and saw a large crowd, he had compassion on them, because they were like sheep without a shepherd.[s] So he began teaching them many things.

[35]By this time it was late in the day, so his disciples came to him. "This is a remote place," they said, "and it's already very late. [36]Send the people away so they can go to the surrounding countryside and villages and buy themselves something to eat."

[37]But he answered, "You give them something to eat."[t]

They said to him, "That would take eight months of a man's wages[r]! Are we to go and spend that much on bread and give it to them to eat?"

[38]"How many loaves do you have?" he asked. "Go and see."

When they found out, they said, "Five—and two fish."[u]

[39]Then Jesus directed them to have all the people sit down in groups on the green grass. [40]So they sat down in groups of hundreds and fifties. [41]Taking the five loaves and the two fish and looking up to heaven, he gave thanks and broke the loaves.[v] Then he gave them to his disciples to set before the people. He also divided the two fish among them all. [42]They all ate and were satisfied, [43]and the disciples picked up twelve basketfuls of broken pieces of bread and fish. [44]The number of the men who had eaten was five thousand.

6:30 apostles. In Mark's Gospel the word occurs only here and in 3:14 (in some manuscripts). The apostles were Jesus' authorized agents or representatives (see note on Heb 3:1). In the NT the word is sometimes used quite generally (see Jn 13:16, where the Greek apostolos is translated "messenger"). In the technical sense it is used (1) of the Twelve, (3:14)—in which sense it is also applied to Paul (Rom 1:1)—and (2) of a larger group including Barnabas (Ac 14:14), James the Lord's brother (Gal 1:19), and possibly Andronicus and Junias (Ro 16:7). reported to him all they had done and taught. Because he had commissioned them as his representatives. They were returning from a third preaching tour in Galilee (see note on 1:39).

6:32 they went away by themselves in a boat. John reports that they went to the other side of the Sea of Galilee (Jn 6:1). Luke, more specifically, says they went to Bethsaida (Lk 9:10), which locates the feeding of the 5,000 on the northeast shore (see note on 7:24).

6:33 ran on foot . . . and got there ahead of them. Perhaps a strong headwind slowed down the boat so that the people had time to go on foot around the lake and arrive before the boat.

6:37 eight months of a man's wages. See NIV text note. The usual pay for a day's work was one denarius (see Mt 20:2), meaning that about 200 denarii would be earned in eight months.

6:39 green grass. Grass is green around the Sea of Galilee after the late winter or early spring rains.

6:40 groups of hundreds and fifties. Recalls the order of the Mosaic camp in the desert (e.g., Ex 18:21). The word translated "groups" means "garden plots," a picturesque figure (v. 39).

6:42 all ate and were satisfied. Attempts to explain away this miracle (e.g., by suggesting that Jesus and his disciples shared their lunch and the crowd followed their good example) are inadequate. If Jesus was, as he claimed to be, God incarnate, the miracle presents no difficulties. God had promised that when the true Shepherd came the desert would become rich pasture where the sheep would be gathered and fed (Eze 34:23–31), and here the Messiah feasts with followers in the desert (cf. Isa 25:6–9). Jesus is the Shepherd who provides for all our needs so that we lack nothing (cf. Ps 23:1).

6:43 twelve basketfuls of broken pieces of bread and fish. Bread was regarded by Jews as a gift of God, and it was required that scraps that fell on the ground during a meal be picked up. The fragments were collected in small wicker baskets that were carried as a part of daily attire. Each of the disciples returned with his basket full (see 8:8; see also note on Mt 15:37).

6:44 men. Lit. "males," as in all four Gospels. Matthew further emphasizes the point by adding "besides women and children" (Mt 14:21). five thousand. The size of the crowd is amazing in light of the fact that the neighboring towns of Capernaum and Bethsaida probably had a population of only 2,000–3,000 each.

6:45 go on ahead of him. John indicates that the people were ready to take Jesus by force and make him king (Jn him to Bethsaida,[x] while he dismissed the crowd. 46After leaving them, he went up on a mountainside to pray.[y]

47When evening came, the boat was in the middle of the lake, and he was alone on land. 48He saw the disciples straining at the oars, because the wind was against them. About the fourth watch of the night he went out to them, walking on the lake. He was about to pass by them, 49but when they saw him walking on the lake, they thought he was a ghost.[z] They cried out, 50because they all saw him and were terrified.

Immediately he spoke to them and said, "Take courage! It is I. Don't be afraid."[a] 51Then he climbed into the boat[b] with them, and the wind died down.[c] They were completely amazed, 52for they had not understood about the loaves; their hearts were hardened.[d] 53When they had crossed over, they landed at Gennesaret and anchored there.[e] 54As soon as they got out of the boat, people recognized Jesus. 55They ran throughout that whole region and carried the sick on mats to wherever they heard he was. 56And wherever he went—into villages, towns or countryside—they placed the sick in the marketplaces. They begged him to let them touch even the edge of his cloak,[f] and all who touched him were healed.

Clean and Unclean

7 The Pharisees and some of the teachers of the law who had come from Jerusalem gathered around Jesus and 2saw some of his disciples eating food with hands that were "unclean,"[g] that is, unwashed. 3(The Pharisees and all the Jews do not eat unless they give their hands a ceremonial washing, holding to the tradition of the elders.[h] 4When they come from the marketplace they do not eat unless they wash. And they observe many other traditions, such as the washing of cups, pitchers and kettles.[s])[i]

5So the Pharisees and teachers of the law asked Jesus, "Why don't your disciples live according to the tradition of the elders[j] instead of eating their food with 'unclean' hands?"

6He replied, "Isaiah was right when he prophesied about you hypocrites; as it is written:

> " 'These people honor me with their lips,
> but their hearts are far from me.
> 7They worship me in vain;
> their teachings are but rules taught by men.'[t][k]

8You have let go of the commands of God and are holding on to the traditions of men."[l] 9And he said to them: "You have a fine way of setting aside the commands of God in order to observe[u] your own traditions![m] 10For Moses said, 'Honor your father and your mother,'[v][n] and, 'Anyone who curses his father or mother must be put to death.'[w][o] 11But you

6:48 fourth watch. 3:00–6:00 A.M. See 13:35; see also note on Mt 14:25. walking on the lake. A special display of the majestic presence and power of the transcendent Lord, who rules over the sea (see Ps 89:9; Isa 51:10,15; Jer 31:35).

6:49 a ghost. Popular Jewish superstition held that the appearance of spirits during the night brought disaster. The disciples' terror was prompted by what they may have thought was a water spirit.

6:52 they had not understood about the loaves. Had they understood the feeding of the 5,000, they would not have been amazed at Jesus' walking on the water or his calming the waves. their hearts were hardened. They were showing themselves to be similar to Jesus' opponents, who also exhibited hardness of heart (3:5). See 8:17–21; see also note on Ex 4:21.

6:53 Gennesaret. See note on Mt 14:34.

6:56 touch even the edge of his cloak. See note on 5:28.

7:1 The Pharisees ... had come from Jerusalem. Another delegation of fact-finding religious leaders from Jerusalem (see 3:22) sent to investigate the Galilean activities of Jesus. See notes on 2:16; Mt 2:4.

7:3 ceremonial washing. See note on Jn 2:6. the tradition of the elders. Considered to be binding (see v. 5 and note on Mt 15:2).

7:4 marketplace. Where Jews would come into contact with Gentiles, or with Jews who did not observe the ceremonial law, and thus become ceremonially unclean.

7:6 Isaiah ... prophesied. Isaiah roundly denounced the religious leaders of his day (Isa 29:13), and Jesus uses a quotation from this prophet to describe the tradition of the elders as "rules taught by men" (v. 7).

7:8 the commands of God ... the traditions of men. Jesus clearly contrasts the two. God's commands are found in Scripture and are binding; the traditions of the elders (v. 3) are not Biblical and therefore not authoritative or binding.

7:10 The fifth commandment is cited in both its positive and negative forms.

7:11 Corban. The transliteration of a Hebrew word meaning "offering." By using this word in a religious vow an irresponsible Jewish son could formally dedicate to God (i.e., to the temple) his earnings that otherwise would have gone for the support of his parents. The money, however, did not necessarily have to go for religious purposes. The Corban formula was simply a means of circumventing the clear responsibility of children toward their parents as prescribed in the law. The teachers of the law held that the Corban oath was binding, even when uttered rashly. The practice was one of many traditions that adhered to the letter of the law while ignoring its spirit. (that is, a gift devoted to God). By explaining this Hebrew word, Mark reveals that he is addressing Gentile readers, probably Romans primarily.

say[p] that if a man says to his father or mother: 'Whatever help you might otherwise have received from me is Corban' (that is, a gift devoted to God), [12]then you no longer let him do anything for his father or mother. [13]Thus you nullify the word of God[q] by your tradition[r] that you have handed down. And you do many things like that."

[14]Again Jesus called the crowd to him and said, "Listen to me, everyone, and understand this. [15]Nothing outside a man can make him 'unclean' by going into him. Rather, it is what comes out of a man that makes him 'unclean.'[x]"

[17]After he had left the crowd and entered the house, his disciples asked him[s] about this parable. [18]"Are you so dull?" he asked. "Don't you see that nothing that enters a man from the outside can make him 'unclean'? [19]For it doesn't go into his heart but into his stomach, and then out of his body." (In saying this, Jesus declared all foods[t] "clean.")[u]

[20]He went on: "What comes out of a man is what makes him 'unclean.' [21]For from within, out of men's hearts, come evil thoughts, sexual immorality, theft, murder, adultery, [22]greed,[v] malice, deceit, lewdness, envy, slander, arrogance and folly. [23]All these evils come from inside and make a man 'unclean.' "

The Faith of a Syrophoenician Woman

7:24–30pp — Mt 15:21–28

[24]Jesus left that place and went to the vicinity of Tyre.[yw] He entered a house and did not want anyone to know it; yet he could not keep his presence secret. [25]In fact, as soon as she heard about him, a woman whose little daughter was possessed by an evil[z] spirit[x] came and fell at his feet. [26]The woman was a Greek, born in Syrian Phoenicia. She begged Jesus to drive the demon out of her daughter.

[27]"First let the children eat all they want," he told her, "for it is not right to take the children's bread and toss it to their dogs."

[28]"Yes, Lord," she replied, "but even the dogs under the table eat the children's crumbs."

[29]Then he told her, "For such a reply, you may go; the demon has left your daughter."

[30]She went home and found her child lying on the bed, and the demon gone.

The Healing of a Deaf and Mute Man

7:31–37pp — Mt 15:29–31

[31]Then Jesus left the vicinity of Tyre[y] and went through Sidon, down to the Sea of Galilee[z] and into the region of the Decapolis.[aa] [32]There some people brought to him a man who was deaf and could hardly talk,[b] and they begged him to place his hand on[c] the man.

[33]After he took him aside, away from the crowd, Jesus put his fingers into the man's ears. Then he spit[d] and touched the man's tongue. [34]He looked up to heaven[e] and with a deep sigh[f] said to him, "Ephphatha!" (which means, "Be

7:13 Thus you nullify the word of God by your tradition. The teachers of the law appealed to Nu 30:1–2 in support of the Corban vow, but Jesus categorically rejects the practice of using one Biblical teaching to nullify another. The scribal interpretation of Nu 30:1–2 satisfied the letter of the passage but missed the meaning of the law as a whole. God never intended obedience to one command to nullify another.

7:16 See NIV text note on v. 15. Although this verse is present in the majority of the Greek manuscripts, it does not occur in the most ancient ones. It appears to be a scribal addition derived from either 4:9 or 4:23.

7:19 (In saying this, Jesus declared all foods "clean.") Mark adds this parenthetical comment to help his readers see the significance of Jesus' pronouncement for them (see Ac 10:9–16).

7:20 'unclean.' Jesus replaced the normal Jewish understandings of defilement with the truth that defilement comes from an impure heart, not the violation of external rules. Fellowship with God is not interrupted by unclean hands or food, but by sin (see vv. 21–23).

7:24 Tyre. A Gentile city located in Phoenicia (modern Lebanon), which bordered Galilee to the northwest. A journey of about 30 miles from Capernaum would have brought Jesus to the vicinity of Tyre. did not want anyone to know. Ever since the feeding of the 5,000 (6:30–44) Jesus and his disciples had been, for the most part, skirting the region of Galilee. His purpose was to avoid the opposition in Galilee and to secure opportunity to teach his disciples privately (9:30–31). The regions to which he withdrew were: (1) the northeastern shore of the Sea of Galilee (6:30–53), (2) Phoenicia (7:24–30), (3) the Decapolis (7:31–8:10) and (4) Caesarea Philippi (8:27–9:32).

7:26 Greek. Here probably equivalent to "Gentile." Syrian Phoenicia. At that time Phoenicia belonged administratively to Syria. Mark possibly used the term to distinguish this woman from the Libyan-Phoenicians of North Africa.

7:27 the children's bread and toss it to their dogs. See note on Mt 15:26.

7:28 Yes, Lord. The only time in this Gospel that Jesus is addressed as "Lord."

7:31 left the vicinity of Tyre and went through Sidon, down to the Sea of Galilee. Apparently Jesus went north from Tyre to Sidon (about 25 miles) and then southeast through the territory of Herod Philip to the east side of the Sea of Galilee. The route was circuitous possibly to avoid entering Galilee, where Herod Antipas was in power (see 6:17–29) and where many people wanted to take Jesus by force and make him king (Jn 6:14–15). Herod had intimated a hostile interest in Jesus (6:14–16). Decapolis. See notes on v. 24; Mt 4:25.

[36]Jesus commanded them not to tell anyone.[h] But the more he did so, the more they kept talking about it. [37]People were overwhelmed with amazement. "He has done everything well," they said. "He even makes the deaf hear and the mute speak."

8 During those days another large crowd gathered. Since they had nothing to eat, Jesus called his disciples to him and said, [2]"I have compassion for these people;[i] they have already been with me three days and have nothing to eat. [3]If I send them home hungry, they will collapse on the way, because some of them have come a long distance."

[4]His disciples answered, "But where in this remote place can anyone get enough bread to feed them?"

[5]"How many loaves do you have?" Jesus asked.

"Seven," they replied.

[6]He told the crowd to sit down on the ground. When he had taken the seven loaves and given thanks, he broke them and gave them to his disciples to set before the people, and they did so. [7]They had a few small fish as well; he gave thanks for them also and told the disciples to distribute them.[j] [8]The people ate and were satisfied. Afterward the disciples picked up seven basketfuls of broken pieces that were left over.[k] [9]About four thousand men were present. And having sent them away, [10]he got into the

7:35 the man's ears were opened ... he began to speak plainly. Jesus was doing what God had promised to do when he came to redeem his people (see Isa 35:5–6).
7:36 not to tell anyone. See 1:44; see also notes on 5:19,43; Mt 8:4; 16:20.
8:1–10 Although there are striking similarities between this account and 6:34–44, they are two distinct incidents, as indicated by the fact that Jesus himself refers to two feedings (see vv. 18–20). The differences in details are as definite as the similarities.
8:1 another large crowd gathered. Since this incident took place in the region of the Decapolis (see 7:31), the crowd probably was made up of both Jews and Gentiles.
8:2 I have compassion for these people. As Jesus had compassion because the people were like sheep without a shepherd (6:34), he now has compassion because they had been so long without food.
8:4 where ... can anyone get enough bread to feed them? The disciples' question reflects their inadequacy and acknowledges that Jesus alone could feed the people. They had not forgotten his feeding of the 5,000 (6:34–44) and were probably simply giving back to him the task of procuring bread. Alternatively, their question may reveal their spiritual dullness—they were slow learners.
8:8 seven basketfuls. See note on Mt 15:37.
8:9 four thousand men. See note on 6:44.
8:10 Dalmanutha. South of the Plain of Gennesaret a cave has been found bearing the name "Talmanutha," perhaps the spot where Jesus landed. Matthew says Jesus went to the vicinity of Magadan (Mt 15:39; see note there). Dalmanutha and Magadan (or Magdala), located on the western shore of the Sea of Galilee, may be names for the same

The Territories of Tyre and Sidon

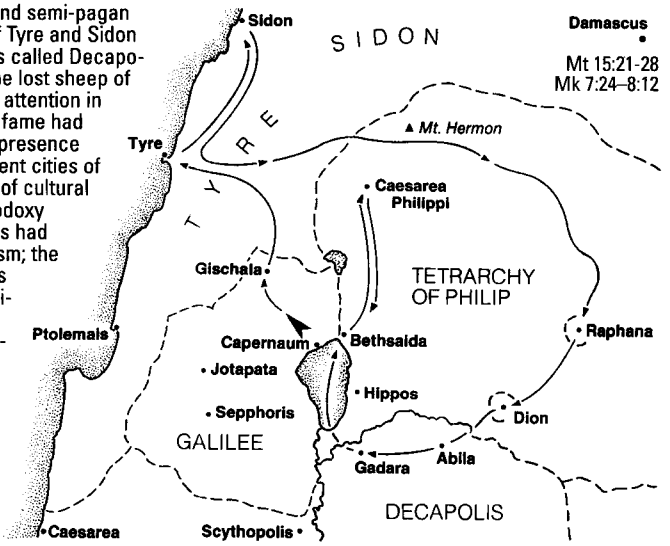
In a unique excursion into pagan and semi-pagan areas, Jesus visited the districts of Tyre and Sidon and the confederation of free cities called Decapolis. He was called to minister to "the lost sheep of Israel," but the phenomenal public attention in Galilee was intense. Even here his fame had spread, and he could not keep his presence secret. The commercially magnificent cities of Tyre and Sidon had been a source of cultural seductiveness and religious heterodoxy since the time of Jezebel. The cities had been heavily influenced by Hellenism; the sophistication of Greek culture was apparent in their coinage and architecture. Each was also a proud, historic center of Canaanite paganism, with tombs of ancient kings and temples to Melqart/Heracles, Astarte and various other deities.



boat with his disciples and went to the region of Dalmanutha..

11The Pharisees came and began to question Jesus. To test him, they asked him for a sign from heaven.[l] 12He sighed deeply[m] and said, "Why does this generation ask for a miraculous sign? I tell you the truth, no sign will be given to it." 13Then he left them, got back into the boat and crossed to the other side.

The Yeast of the Pharisees and Herod

14The disciples had forgotten to bring bread, except for one loaf they had with them in the boat. 15"Be careful," Jesus warned them. "Watch out for the yeast[n] of the Pharisees[o] and that of Herod."[p]

16They discussed this with one another and said, "It is because we have no bread."

17Aware of their discussion, Jesus asked them: "Why are you talking about having no bread? Do you still not see or understand? Are your hearts hardened?[q] 18Do you have eyes but fail to see, and ears but fail to hear? And don't you remember? 19When I broke the five loaves for the five thousand, how many basketfuls of pieces did you pick up?"

"Twelve,"[r] they replied.

20"And when I broke the seven loaves for the four thousand, how many basketfuls of pieces did you pick up?"

They answered, "Seven."[s]

21He said to them, "Do you still not understand?"[t]

The Healing of a Blind Man at Bethsaida

22They came to Bethsaida,[u] and some people brought a blind man[v] and begged Jesus to touch him. 23He took the blind man by the hand and led him outside the village. When he had spit[w] on the man's eyes and put his hands on[x] him, Jesus asked, "Do you see anything?"

24He looked up and said, "I see people; they look like trees walking around."

25Once more Jesus put his hands on the man's eyes. Then his eyes were opened, his sight was restored, and he saw everything clearly. 26Jesus sent him home, saying, "Don't go into the village.[b]"

Peter's Confession of Christ

8:27–29pp — Mt 16:13–16; Lk 9:18–20

27Jesus and his disciples went on to the villages around Caesarea Philippi. On the way he asked them, "Who do people say I am?"

28They replied, "Some say John the Baptist;[y] others say Elijah;[z] and still others, one of the prophets."

29"But what about you?" he asked. "Who do you say I am?"

Peter answered, "You are the Christ.[c]"[a] place or for two places located close to each other.

30Jesus warned them not to tell anyone about him.[b]

8:11 Pharisees. See note on 2:16. sign from heaven. The Pharisees wanted more compelling proof of Jesus' divine authority than his miracles, but he refused to perform such a sign because the request came from unbelief.

8:13 the other side. The eastern shore of the Sea of Galilee.

8:15 yeast of the Pharisees and that of Herod. Here, as generally in the NT (Mt 16:6,11; Lk 12:1; 1Co 5:6–8; Gal 5:9; but Mt 13:33 seems to be an exception—see note there), yeast is a symbol of evil or corruption. The metaphor includes the idea of a tiny amount of yeast being able to ferment a large amount of dough. In this context it refers to the evil disposition of both the Pharisees and Herod Antipas (see Lk 23:8), who called for Jesus to produce a sign, i.e., a proof of his divine authority (see note on v. 11).

8:18–20 These verses imply two feeding narratives (see note on vv. 1–10).

8:22 Bethsaida. See note on Mt 11:21.

8:24 like trees walking around. The man had no doubt bumped into trees in his blindness; now he dimly sees something like tree trunks moving about.

8:25 Once more Jesus put his hands on the man's eyes. This second laying on of hands is unique in Jesus' healing ministry. he saw everything clearly. Giving sight to the blind was another indication that Jesus was doing what God had promised to do when he came to bring salvation (Isa 35:5).

8:26 Don't go into the village. So as not to broadcast what Jesus had done for him and precipitate a crisis before Jesus had completed his ministry. See 1:44; see also notes on 5:19,43; Mt 8:4; 16:20.

8:27 Caesarea Philippi. See notes on 7:24; Mt 16:13.

8:29 Christ. See NIV text note. Because popular Jewish ideas associated with the term "Christ" were largely political and national, Jesus seldom used it. Of its seven occurrences in Mark, only three appear in the sayings of Jesus (9:41; 12:35; 13:21), and in none of these does he use the title of himself (with the possible exception of 9:41). Mark identifies Jesus as the Christ in 1:1.

8:30 not to tell anyone about him. See 1:44; see also notes on 5:19,43; Mt 8:4; 16:20.

8:31–10:52 A new section begins in 8:31 and centers on three predictions of Jesus' death (8:31; 9:31; 10:33–34). It indicates a geographical shift from Galilee, where most of Jesus' public ministry reported by Mark took place, to Jerusalem and the closing days of Jesus' life on earth. In this section Jesus defines the true meaning of "Christ" as the title applies to him.

8:31 Son of Man. Jesus' most common title for himself, used 81 times in the Gospels and never used by anyone but Jesus. In Da 7:13–14 the Son of Man is pictured as a heavenly figure who in the end times is entrusted by God with authority, glory and sovereign power. That Son of Man[c] must suffer many things[d] and be rejected by the elders, chief priests and teachers of the law,[e] and that he must be killed[f] and after three days[g] rise again.[h] 32He spoke plainly[i] about this, and Peter took him aside and began to rebuke him.

33But when Jesus turned and looked at his disciples, he rebuked Peter. "Get behind me, Satan![j] he said. "You do not have in mind the things of God, but the things of men."

34Then he called the crowd to him along with his disciples and said: "If anyone would come after me, he must deny himself and take up his cross and follow me.[k] 35For whoever wants to save his life[d] will lose it, but whoever loses his life for me and for the gospel will save it.[l] 36What good is it for a man to gain the whole world, yet forfeit his soul? 37Or what can a man give in exchange for his soul? 38If anyone is ashamed of me and my words in this adulterous and sinful generation, the Son of Man[m] will be ashamed of him[n] when he comes[o] in his Father's glory with the holy angels."

9 And he said to them, "I tell you the truth, some who are standing here will not taste death before they see the kingdom of God come[p] with power."[q]

The Transfiguration

9:2–8pp — Lk 9:28–36
9:2–13pp — Mt 17:1–13

2After six days Jesus took Peter, James and John[r] with him and led them up a high mountain, where they were all alone. There he was transfigured before them. 3His clothes became dazzling white,[s] whiter than anyone in the world could bleach them. 4And there appeared before them Elijah and Moses, who were talking with Jesus.

5Peter said to Jesus, "Rabbi,[t] it is good for us to be here. Let us put up three shelters—one for you, one for Moses and one for Elijah." 6(He did not know what to say, they were so frightened.)

7Then a cloud appeared and enveloped them, and a voice came from the cloud:[u] "This is my Son, whom I love. Listen to him!"[v] 8Suddenly, when they looked around, they no longer saw anyone with them except Jesus.

9As they were coming down the mountain, Jesus gave them orders not to tell anyone[w] what they had seen until the Son of Man[x] had risen from the dead. 10They kept the matter to themselves, [d] 35 The Greek word means either life or soul; also in verse 36.

Jesus used "Son of Man" as a Messianic title is evident by his use of it (v. 31) in juxtaposition to Peter's use of "Christ" (v. 29). See note on Da 7:13. must suffer. As predicted in the Suffering Servant passage in Isa 52:13–53:12 (see Mk 9:9,12,31; 10:33–34; 14:21,41). elders. The lay members of the Sanhedrin, the high court of the Jews. chief priests. See note on Mt 2:4. These included the ruling high priest, Caiaphas; the former high priest, Annas; and the high priestly families. teachers of the law. See note on Mt 2:4. Representatives of the three groups mentioned here constituted the Sanhedrin.

8:32 Peter . . . began to rebuke him. Suffering and rejection had no place in Peter's conception of the Messiah, and he rebuked Jesus for teaching what to him seemed not only inconceivable but terribly wrong.

8:33 Satan. Peter's attempt to dissuade Jesus from going to the cross held the same temptation Satan gave at the outset of Jesus' ministry (see Mt 4:8–10), so Jesus severely rebuked him.

8:34 deny himself. Cease to make self the object of his life and actions. take up his cross. The picture is of a man, already condemned, required to carry the beam of his own cross to the place of execution (see Jn 19:17). Cross-bearing is a willingness to suffer and die for the Lord's sake. and follow me. Implying that his own death would be by crucifixion.

8:35 save his life. Physical life may be saved by denying Jesus, but eternal life will be lost. Conversely, discipleship may result in the loss of physical life, but that loss is insignificant when compared with gaining eternal life.

8:36 the whole world. All the things that could possibly be achieved or acquired in this life. soul. That is, eternal life (also in v. 37).

8:38 ashamed of me and my words. Contrast Ro 1:16. A person who is more concerned about fitting into and pleasing his own "adulterous and sinful generation" than about following and pleasing Christ will have no part in God's kingdom. Son of Man. See note on 8:31. when he comes in his Father's glory. See 2Th 1:6–10. The situation in which Jesus is rejected, humiliated and put to death will be reversed when he returns in glory as the Judge of all people.

9:1 I tell you the truth. See note on 3:28. not taste death before they see the kingdom of God come with power. See note on Mt 16:28. kingdom of God. See note on Mt 3:2.

9:2 After six days. See note on Mt 17:1. Peter, James and John. See note on 5:37. a high mountain. See note on Lk 9:28. transfigured. See note on Mt 17:2.

9:4 Elijah and Moses. See notes on Mt 17:3; Lk 9:30.

9:5 Rabbi. Hebrew word for "(my) teacher." three shelters. Peter may have desired to erect new tents of meeting where God could again communicate with his people (see Ex 29:42). Or he may have been thinking of the booths used at the Feast of Tabernacles (Lev 23:42). In any case, he seemed eager to find fulfillment of the promised glory then, prior to the sufferings that Jesus had announced as necessary.

9:7 a voice came from the cloud. The cloud is frequently a symbol of God's presence to protect and guide (e.g., Ex 16:10; 19:9; 24:15–18; 33:9–10). Listen to him! The full sense includes obeying him. When God is involved, the only true hearing is obedient hearing (see Jas 1:22–25).

9:9 not to tell anyone. After Jesus' resurrection the disciples were to tell everyone what they had experienced, for Jesus' finished work would have demonstrated his true and full character as the Messiah. Son of Man. See note on 8:31.

9:10 what "rising from the dead" meant. As Jews they discussing what "rising from the dead" meant.

11And they asked him, "Why do the teachers of the law say that Elijah must come first?"

12Jesus replied, "To be sure, Elijah does come first, and restores all things. Why then is it written that the Son of Man[y] must suffer much[z] and be rejected?[a] 13But I tell you, Elijah has come,[b] and they have done to him everything they wished, just as it is written about him."

The Healing of a Boy With an Evil Spirit

9:14–28; 30–32pp — Mt 17:14–19; 22,23; Lk 9:37–45

14When they came to the other disciples, they saw a large crowd around them and the teachers of the law arguing with them. 15As soon as all the people saw Jesus, they were overwhelmed with wonder and ran to greet him.

16"What are you arguing with them about?" he asked.

17A man in the crowd answered, "Teacher, I brought you my son, who is possessed by a spirit that has robbed him of speech. 18Whenever it seizes him, it throws him to the ground. He foams at the mouth, gnashes his teeth and becomes rigid. I asked your disciples to drive out the spirit, but they could not."

19"O unbelieving generation," Jesus replied, "how long shall I stay with you? How long shall I put up with you? Bring the boy to me."

20So they brought him. When the spirit saw Jesus, it immediately threw the boy into a convulsion. He fell to the ground and rolled around, foaming at the mouth.[c]

21Jesus asked the boy's father, "How long has he been like this?"

"From childhood," he answered. 22"It has often thrown him into fire or water to kill him. But if you can do anything, take pity on us and help us."

23" 'If you can'?" said Jesus. "Everything is possible for him who believes."[d]

24Immediately the boy's father exclaimed, "I do believe; help me overcome my unbelief!"

25When Jesus saw that a crowd was running to the scene,[e] he rebuked the evil[e] spirit. "You deaf and mute spirit," he said, "I command you, come out of him and never enter him again."

26The spirit shrieked, convulsed him violently and came out. The boy looked so much like a corpse that many said, "He's dead." 27But Jesus took him by the hand and lifted him to his feet, and he stood up.

28After Jesus had gone indoors, his disciples asked him privately,[f] "Why couldn't we drive it out?"

29He replied, "This kind can come out only by prayer.[f]"

30They left that place and passed through Galilee. Jesus did not want anyone to know where they were, 31because he was teaching his disciples. He said to them, "The Son of Man[g] is going to be betrayed into the hands of men. They were familiar with the doctrine of the resurrection; it was the resurrection of the Son of Man that baffled them, because their theology had no place for a suffering and dying Messiah.

9:11 Elijah must come first. See note on Mt 17:10.

9:12 Elijah does come first, and restores all things. A reference to the coming of Elijah, or one like him, in preparation for the coming of the Messiah (see note on Mt 17:10). Son of Man. See note on 8:31. must suffer much and be rejected. Just as "Elijah" (John the Baptist; see note on v. 13) has been rejected (see note on Mt 17:12).

9:13 Elijah has come. A reference to John the Baptist (see Mt 17:13). they. Herod and Herodias (see 6:17–29). John, like Elijah, was opposed by a weak ruler and his wicked consort. as it is written about him. What Scripture says about Elijah in his relationship to Ahab and Jezebel (1Ki 19:1–10). There is no prediction of suffering associated with Elijah's ministry in the end times. However, what happened to Elijah under the threats of Jezebel foreshadowed what would happen to John the Baptist. The order of events suggested in vv. 11–13 is as follows: (1) Elijah ministered in the days of wicked Jezebel; (2) Elijah was a type of John the Baptist, who in turn suffered at the hands of Herodias; (3) the Son of Man suffered and was rejected a short time after John was beheaded.

9:14 the other disciples. The nine besides Peter, James and John (see v. 2).

9:18 Demonic possession was responsible for the boy's condition (see vv. 20,25–26).

9:22 to kill him. See notes on 5:5,13.

9:23 If you can? . . . Everything is possible for him who believes. The question was not whether Jesus had the power to heal the boy but whether the father had faith to believe it. A person who truly believes will set no limits on what God can do.

9:24 I do believe; help me overcome my unbelief! Since faith is never perfect, belief and unbelief are often mixed.

9:25 When Jesus saw that a crowd was running to the scene, he rebuked the evil spirit. As much as possible, Jesus wanted to avoid further publicity.

9:29 This kind. Seems to suggest that there are different kinds of demons. only by prayer. The disciples apparently had taken for granted the power given to them or had come to believe that it was inherent in them. Lack of prayer indicated they had forgotten that their power over the demonic spirits was from Jesus (see 3:15; 6:7,13).

9:30 passed through Galilee. Jesus' public ministry in and around Galilee was completed (see note on 7:24), and he was now on his way to Jerusalem to suffer and die (see 10:32–34). As he had been doing for several months, Jesus continued to focus his teaching ministry on the Twelve (v. 31).

9:31 Son of Man. See note on 8:31.

will kill him.[j] and after three days he will rise."[k] [32]But they did not understand what he meant[k] and were afraid to ask him about it.

Who Is the Greatest?

9:33–37pp — Mt 18:1–5; Lk 9:46–48

[33]They came to Capernaum.[l] When he was in the house,[m] he asked them, "What were you arguing about on the road?" [34]But they kept quiet because on the way they had argued about who was the greatest.[n]

[35]Sitting down, Jesus called the Twelve and said, "If anyone wants to be first, he must be the very last, and the servant of all."[o]

[36]He took a little child and had him stand among them. Taking him in his arms,[p] he said to them, [37]"Whoever welcomes one of these little children in my name welcomes me; and whoever welcomes me does not welcome me but the one who sent me."[q]

Whoever Is Not Against Us Is for Us

9:38–40pp — Lk 9:49,50

[38]"Teacher," said John, "we saw a man driving out demons in your name and we told him to stop, because he was not one of us."[r]

[39]"Do not stop him," Jesus said. "No one who does a miracle in my name can in the next moment say anything bad about me, [40]for whoever is not against us is for us.[s] [41]I tell you the truth, anyone who gives you a cup of water in my name because you belong to Christ will certainly not lose his reward.[t]

Causing to Sin

[42]"And if anyone causes one of these little ones who believe in me to sin,[u] it would be better for him to be thrown into the sea with a large millstone tied around his neck.[v] [43]If your hand causes you to sin,[w] cut it off. It is better for you to enter life maimed than with two hands to go into hell,[x] where the fire never goes out.[g][y] [45]And if your foot causes you to sin,[z] cut it off. It is better for you to enter life crippled than to have two feet and be thrown into hell.[ha] [47]And if your eye causes you to sin,[b] pluck it out. It is better for you to enter the kingdom of God with one eye than to have two eyes and be thrown into hell,[c] [48]where > " 'their worm does not die,

[49]Everyone will be salted[e] with fire.

[50]"Salt is good, but if it loses its saltiness, how can you make it salty again?[f] Have salt in yourselves,[g] and be at peace with each other."[h]

9:32 they did not understand. See v. 10; 8:32–33.
9:33 Capernaum. See notes on 1:21; Mt 4:13. the house. Probably the one belonging to Peter and Andrew (see 1:29).
9:34 they kept quiet. No doubt due to embarrassment. who was the greatest. Questions of rank and status are normal and played an important role in the life of Jewish groups at this time, but they had no place in Jesus' value system (see v. 35; 10:42–45).
9:35 Sitting down. See note on 4:1.
9:38 not one of us. The man apparently was a believer, but he was not one of the exclusive company of the Twelve. Nevertheless he acted in Jesus' name and had done what the disciples, on at least one occasion, had not been able to do (see vv. 14–18,28).
9:39 Do not stop him. Jesus' view of discipleship was far more inclusive than the narrow view held by the Twelve.
9:41 I tell you the truth. See note on 3:28. gives you a cup of water. God remembers even small acts of kindness extended to believers because they are believers. his reward. Including God's approval.
9:42 one of these little ones who believe in me. Perhaps the little children mentioned in vv. 36–37, or the man mentioned in v. 38. Jesus' point is clear: To cause even those whom we might consider to be the least of believers to sin will bring serious judgment. millstone. A heavy stone slab turned by a donkey in grinding grain.
9:43 cut it off. Hyperbole, a figure of speech that exaggerates to make its point, is used here to emphasize the need for drastic action. Often sin can be conquered only by radical "spiritual surgery." life. Eternal life in the presence of God. hell. See note on Mt 5:22.
9:44,46 See NIV text notes on vv. 43,45. Verses 44,46 are not found in important early manuscripts of the NT. Verses 44,46 are identical with v. 48.
9:47 kingdom of God. See note on Mt 3:2.
9:48 Isa 66:24 speaks of the punishment for rebellion against God. As the final word of Isaiah's message, the passage became familiar as a picture of endless destruction. worm does not die. Worms were always present in the rubbish dump (see note on Mt 5:22).
9:49 The saying may mean that everyone who enters hell will suffer its fire, or (if only loosely connected with the preceding) it may mean that every Christian in this life can expect to undergo the fire of suffering and purification.
9:50 Salt is good. The distinctive mark of discipleship typified by salt is allegiance to Jesus and the gospel (see 8:35,38; see also note on Mt 5:13). be at peace with each other. Strife is resolved and peace restored when we recognize in one another a common commitment to Jesus and the gospel.
10:1 region of Judea. The Greek and Roman equivalent to the OT land of Judah, essentially the southern part of the Holy Land (now exclusive of Idumea), which formerly had been the southern kingdom. For Jesus' ministry in Judea see note on Lk 9:51. Jordan. See note on 1:5. Jesus' journey took him south from Capernaum, over the mountains of Samaria into Judea and then east across the Jordan into across the Jordan.[i] Again crowds of people came to him, and as was his custom, he taught them.[j]

2Some Pharisees[k] came and tested him by asking, "Is it lawful for a man to divorce his wife?"

3"What did Moses command you?" he replied.

4They said, "Moses permitted a man to write a certificate of divorce and send her away."[l]

5"It was because your hearts were hard[m] that Moses wrote you this law," Jesus replied. 6"But at the beginning of creation God 'made them male and female.'[jn] 7'For this reason a man will leave his father and mother and be united to his wife,[k] 8and the two will become one flesh.'[lo] So they are no longer two, but one. 9Therefore what God has joined together, let man not separate."

10When they were in the house again, the disciples asked Jesus about this. 11He answered, "Anyone who divorces his wife and marries another woman commits adultery against her.[p] 12And if she divorces her husband and marries another man, she commits adultery."[q]

The Little Children and Jesus

10:13–16pp — Mt 19:13–15; Lk 18:15–17

13People were bringing little children to Jesus to have him touch them, but the disciples rebuked them. 14When Jesus saw this, he was indignant. He said to them, "Let the little children come to me, and do not hinder them, for the kingdom of God belongs to such as these.[r] 15I tell you the truth, anyone who will not receive the kingdom of God like a little child will never enter it."[s] 16And he took the children in his arms,[t] put his hands on them and blessed them.

The Rich Young Man

10:17–31pp — Mt 19:16–30; Lk 18:18–30

17As Jesus started on his way, a man ran up to him and fell on his knees[u] before him. "Good teacher," he asked, "what must I do to inherit eternal life?"[v]

18"Why do you call me good?" Jesus answered. "No one is good—except God alone. 19You know the commandments: 'Do not murder, do not commit adultery, do not steal, do not give false testimony,

[i]6 Gen. 1:27 [k]7 Some early manuscripts do not have and be united to his wife. [l]8 Gen. 2:24

Perea, where he was in the territory of Herod Antipas (see note on Mt 14:1). For Jesus' ministry in Perea see note on Lk 13:22.

10:2 Pharisees. See note on 2:16. came and tested him. The question of the Pharisees was hostile. It was for unlawful divorce and remarriage that John the Baptist denounced Herod Antipas and Herodias (see 6:17–18), and this rebuke cost him first imprisonment and then his life. Jesus was now within Herod's jurisdiction, and the Pharisees may have hoped that Jesus' reply would cause the tetrarch to seize him as he had John. Is it lawful . . . to divorce his wife? Jews of that day generally agreed that divorce was lawful, the only debated issue being the proper grounds for it (see note on Mt 19:3).

10:5 because your hearts were hard. Divorce was an accommodation to human weakness and was used to bring order in a society that had disregarded God's will, but it was not the standard God had originally intended, as vv. 6–9 clearly indicate. The purpose of Dt 24:1 was not to make divorce acceptable, but to reduce the hardship of its consequences.

10:6 at the beginning of creation. Jesus goes back to the time before human sin to show God's original intention. God instituted marriage as a great unifying blessing, bonding the male and female in his creation.

10:8 no longer two, but one. The deduction drawn by Jesus affirms the ideal of the permanence of marriage.

10:9 Therefore what God has joined together. Jesus grounds the sanctity of marriage in the authority of God himself, and his "No" to divorce safeguards against human selfishness, which always threatens to destroy marriage.

10:11 Anyone who divorces his wife. In Jewish practice divorce was effected by the husband himself, not by a judicial authority or court. commits adultery against her. A simple declaration of divorce on the part of a husband could not release him from the divine law of marriage and its moral obligations—this enduring force of the marriage bond was unrecognized in rabbinic courts. But see note on Mt 19:3; see also Mt 19:9, where an exception is mentioned. 1Co 7:15 may contain another exception (see notes on 1Co 7:12,15).

10:12 she commits adultery. In this historical and geographical context, Jesus' pronouncements confirm the bold denunciation by John the Baptist and equally condemn Herod Antipas and Herodias.

10:14 kingdom of God. See note on Mt 3:2. belongs to such as these. The kingdom of God belongs to those who, like children, are prepared to receive the kingdom as a gift of God (see note on v. 15).

10:15 I tell you the truth. See note on 3:28. like a little child. The point of comparison is the usual openness and receptivity of children. The kingdom of God must be received as a gift; it cannot be achieved by human effort. It may be entered only by those who know they are helpless, without claim or merit.

10:16 and blessed them. Jesus visually demonstrated that the blessings of the kingdom are freely given.

10:17 a man. Mark does not identify the man, but Luke (18:18) calls him a "ruler," meaning he was probably a member of an official council or court, and Matthew (19:20) says he was "young." what must I do . . . ? The rich man was thinking in terms of earning righteousness to merit eternal life, but Jesus taught that it was a gift to be received (see v. 15). eternal life. See note on Mt 19:16.

10:18 Why do you call me good? Jesus was not denying his own goodness but was forcing the man to recognize that his only hope was in total reliance on God, who alone can give eternal life. He may also have been encouraging the young man to consider the full identity and nature of the One he was addressing.

10:19 do not defraud. The prohibition of fraud may have represented the tenth commandment (against covetousness). If so, Jesus here mentions all six commandments that prohibit wrong actions and attitudes against one's fellowman (see Ex 20:12–16; Dt 5:16–21).

do not defraud, honor your father and mother.'[m]"[w]

[20]"Teacher," he declared, "all these I have kept since I was a boy."

[21]Jesus looked at him and loved him. "One thing you lack," he said. "Go, sell everything you have and give to the poor,[x] and you will have treasure in heaven.[y] Then come, follow me."[z]

[22]At this the man's face fell. He went away sad, because he had great wealth.

[23]Jesus looked around and said to his disciples, "How hard it is for the rich[a] to enter the kingdom of God!"

[24]The disciples were amazed at his words. But Jesus said again, "Children, how hard it is[n] to enter the kingdom of God![b] [25]It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the kingdom of God."[c]

[26]The disciples were even more amazed, and said to each other, "Who then can be saved?"

[27]Jesus looked at them and said, "With man this is impossible, but not with God; all things are possible with God."[d]

[28]Peter said to him, "We have left everything to follow you!"[e]

[29]"I tell you the truth," Jesus replied, "no one who has left home or brothers or sisters or mother or father or children or fields for me and the gospel [30]will fail to receive a hundred times as much[f] in this present age (homes, brothers, sisters, mothers, children and fields—and with them, persecutions) and in the age to come,[g] eternal life.[h] [31]But many who are first will be last, and the last first."[i]

Jesus Again Predicts His Death

[32]They were on their way up to Jerusalem, with Jesus leading the way, and the disciples were astonished, while those who followed were afraid. Again he took the Twelve[j] aside and told them what was going to happen to him. [33]"We are going up to Jerusalem,"[k] he said, "and the Son of Man[l] will be betrayed to the chief priests and teachers of the law.[m] They will condemn him to death and will hand him over to the Gentiles, [34]who will mock him and spit on him, flog him[n] and kill him.[o] Three days later[p] he will rise."[q]

10:20 all these I have kept. The man spoke sincerely, because for him keeping the law was a matter of external conformity. That the law also required inner obedience, which no one can fully satisfy, apparently escaped him completely. Paul speaks of having had a similar outlook before his conversion (Php 3:6). since I was a boy. Probably a reference to the age of 13, when a Jewish boy assumed personal responsibility for obeying the commandments.

10:21 Jesus ... loved him. Jesus recognized the man's earnestness. His response was not intended to shame him by exposing failure to understand the spiritual depth of the commandments but was an expression of genuine love. One thing you lack ... Go, sell everything. The young man's primary problem was his wealth (see v. 22), and therefore Jesus' prescription was to rid him of it. There is no indication that Jesus' command to him was meant for all Christians. It applies only to those who have the same spiritual problem. treasure in heaven. The gift of eternal life, or salvation. This treasure is not to be earned by self-denial or giving of one's material goods but is to be received by following Jesus. In giving away his wealth, the young man would have removed the obstacle that kept him from trusting in Jesus.

10:22 He went away sad, because he had great wealth. The tragic decision to turn away reflected a greater love for his possessions than for eternal life (cf. 4:19).

10:25 eye of a needle. The camel was the largest animal found in Palestine. The vivid contrast between the largest animal and the smallest opening represents what, humanly speaking, is impossible.

10:27 With man this is impossible, but not with God. Salvation is totally the work of God. Every attempt to enter the kingdom on the basis of achievement or merit is futile. Apart from the grace of God, no one can be saved.

10:29 I tell you the truth. See note on 3:28. gospel. See note on 1:1.

10:30 this present age ... the age to come. These two terms take in all of time from the fall of man to the eternal state. The present age is evil (Gal 1:4), but the coming righteous age will begin with the second advent of Christ and continue forever. a hundred times as much ... and with them persecutions. The life of discipleship is a combination of promise and persecution, blessing and suffering. God takes nothing from a Christian without making multiplied restoration in a new and glorious form. Paradoxically, fellowship with other believers develops most deeply in persecution. eternal life. Beyond the conflicts of history is the triumph assured to those who belong to God.

10:31 first will be last. A warning against pride in sacrificial accomplishments such as Peter had manifested (v. 28).

10:32 on their way up to Jerusalem. This last journey to Jerusalem began in a city called Ephraim (cf. Jn 11:54) and took Jesus into Galilee (Lk 17:11), south through Perea to Jericho (Lk 18:35), then to Bethany (Lk 19:29) and finally to Jerusalem (Lk 19:41). those who followed. Probably pilgrims on their way to the Passover in Jerusalem. the Twelve. See 3:16–19 and notes on Lk 6:14–16.

10:33–34 Gentiles, who will ... kill him. The word "crucify" does not occur in any of the passion predictions in Mark's Gospel, but the statement that Jesus would be handed over to Gentiles to be killed by them suggests crucifixion, since this was the usual means of Roman execution of non-Romans.

10:33 Son of Man ... chief priests ... teachers of the law. See notes on 8:31; Mt 2:4.

10:35–45 Parallel to 9:33–37. Both passages deal with true greatness and both follow a prediction of Jesus' suffering and death. Both also show how spiritually undiscerning the disciples were.

Zebedee, came to him. "Teacher," they said, "we want you to do for us whatever we ask."

[36]"What do you want me to do for you?" he asked.

[38]"You don't know what you are asking,"[s] Jesus said. "Can you drink the cup[t] I drink or be baptized with the baptism I am baptized with?"[u]

[39]"We can," they answered.

Jesus said to them, "You will drink the cup I drink and be baptized with the baptism I am baptized with,[v] [40]but to sit at my right or left is not for me to grant. These places belong to those for whom they have been prepared."

[41]When the ten heard about this, they became indignant with James and John. [42]Jesus called them together and said, "You know that those who are regarded as rulers of the Gentiles lord it over them, and their high officials exercise authority over them. [43]Not so with you. Instead, whoever wants to become great among you must be your servant,[w] [44]and whoever wants to be first must be slave of all. [45]For even the Son of Man did not come to be served, but to serve,[x] and to give his life as a ransom for many."[y]

Blind Bartimaeus Receives His Sight

10:46–52pp — Mt 20:29–34; Lk 18:35–43

[46]Then they came to Jericho. As Jesus and his disciples, together with a large crowd, were leaving the city, a blind man, Bartimaeus (that is, the Son of Timaeus), was sitting by the roadside begging. [47]When he heard that it was Jesus of Nazareth,[z] he began to shout, "Jesus, Son of David,[a] have mercy on me!"

[48]Many rebuked him and told him to be quiet, but he shouted all the more, "Son of David, have mercy on me!"

[49]Jesus stopped and said, "Call him."

So they called to the blind man, "Cheer up! On your feet! He's calling you." [50]Throwing his cloak aside, he jumped to his feet and came to Jesus.

[51]"What do you want me to do for you?" Jesus asked him.

The blind man said, "Rabbi,[b] I want to see."

[52]"Go," said Jesus, "your faith has healed you."[c] Immediately he received his sight and followed[d] Jesus along the road.

The Triumphal Entry

11:1–10pp — Mt 21:1–9; Lk 19:29–38
11:7–10pp — Jn 12:12–15

11 As they approached Jerusalem and came to Bethphage and Bethany[e] at the Mount of Olives,[f] Jesus sent two of his disciples, [2]saying to them,

10:35–36 want ... want. James's and John's desire for position and power would be realized only if they willingly submitted to servanthood (see "wants ... wants" in vv. 43–44).

10:35 James and John, the sons of Zebedee. See 1:19; 3:17.

10:37 sit at your right and the other at your left. Positions of prestige and power.

10:38 drink the cup I drink. A Jewish expression that meant to share someone's fate. In the OT the cup of wine was a common metaphor for God's wrath against human sin and rebellion (Ps 75:8; Isa 51:17–23; Jer 25:15–28; 49:12; 51:7). Accordingly, the cup Jesus had to drink refers to divine punishment of sins that he bore in place of sinful mankind (see 10:45; 14:36). be baptized with the baptism I am baptized with. The image of baptism is parallel to that of the cup, referring to his suffering and death as a baptism (see Lk 12:50; cf. Ro 6:3–4 for the figure).

10:40 is not for me to grant. Jesus would not usurp his Father's authority.

10:41 the ten. The other disciples. indignant. Possibly because they desired the positions of prestige and power for themselves.

10:43 Not so with you. Jesus overturns the value structure of the world. The life of discipleship is to be characterized by humble and loving service.

10:45 A key verse in Mark's Gospel. Jesus came to this world as a servant—indeed, the Servant—who would suffer and die for our redemption, as Isaiah clearly predicted (Isa 52:13–53:12). Son of Man. See note on 8:31. ransom. Means "the price paid for release (from bondage)." Jesus gave his life to release us from bondage to sin and death. for. That is, "in place of," pointing to Christ's substitutionary death. See note on Mt 20:28. many. In contrast to the one life given for our ransom.

10:46 Jericho. A very ancient city located five miles west of the Jordan and about 15 miles northeast of Jerusalem. In Jesus' time OT Jericho was largely abandoned, but a new city, south of the old one, had been built by Herod the Great. leaving the city. Luke says Jesus "approached the city" (Lk 18:35). He may have been referring to the new Jericho, while Matthew (20:29) and Mark may have meant the old city. a blind man ... begging. The presence of a blind beggar just outside the city gates, on a road pilgrims followed on the way to Jerusalem, was a common sight in that day.

10:47 Nazareth. See note on Mt 2:23. Son of David. A Messianic title (see Isa 11:1–3; Jer 23:5–6; Eze 34:23–24; and notes on Mt 1:1; 9:27). Verses 47–48 are the only places in Mark where it is used to address Jesus.

10:51 Rabbi. Hebrew word for "(my) teacher."

11:1–11 At this point a new section in the Gospel of Mark begins. Jesus arrives in Jerusalem, and the rest of his ministry takes place within the confines of the Holy City. The Triumphal Entry, which inaugurates Passion Week, is a deliberate Messianic action, and the clue to its understanding is found in Zec 9:9 (quoted in Mt 21:5; Jn 12:15). Jesus purposefully offers himself as the Messiah, knowing that this will provoke Jewish leaders to take action against him.

11:1 Bethphage. See note on Mt 21:1. Bethany. See note on Mt 21:17. Mount of Olives. Directly east of Jerusalem, it rises to a height of about 2,700 feet, some 200 feet higher than Mount Zion. Its summit commands a magnificent view of the city and especially of the temple.

11:2 the village ahead. Probably Bethphage. colt. The "Go to the village ahead of you, and just as you enter it, you will find a colt tied there, which no one has ever ridden.[g] Untie it and bring it here. 3If anyone asks you, 'Why are you doing this?' tell him, 'The Lord needs it and will send it back here shortly.' "

4They went and found a colt outside in the street, tied at a doorway.[h] As they untied it, 5some people standing there asked, "What are you doing, untying that colt?" 6They answered as Jesus had told them to, and the people let them go. 7When they brought the colt to Jesus and threw their cloaks over it, he sat on it. 8Many people spread their cloaks on the road, while others spread branches they had cut in the fields. 9Those who went ahead and those who followed shouted,

"Hosanna![o]"

"Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord!"[p][i]

10"Blessed is the coming kingdom of our father David!"

"Hosanna in the highest!"[j]

11Jesus entered Jerusalem and went to the temple. He looked around at everything, but since it was already late, he went out to Bethany with the Twelve.[k]

Jesus Clears the Temple

11:12–14pp — Mt 21:18–22
11:15–18pp — Mt 21:12–16; Lk 19:45–47; Jn 2:13–16

12The next day as they were leaving Bethany, Jesus was hungry. 13Seeing in the distance a fig tree in leaf, he went to find out if it had any fruit. When he reached it, he found nothing but leaves, because it was not the season for figs.[l] 14Then he said to the tree, "May no one ever eat fruit from you again." And his disciples heard him say it.

15On reaching Jerusalem, Jesus entered the temple area and began driving out those who were buying and selling there. He overturned the tables of the money changers and the benches of those selling doves, 16and would not allow anyone to carry merchandise through the temple courts. 17And as he taught them, he said, "Is it not written:

" 'My house will be called o9 A Hebrew expression meaning "Save!" which became an exclamation of praise; also in verse 10

p9 Psalm 118:25,26

Greek word can mean the young of any animal, but here it means the colt of a donkey (see Mt 21:2; Jn 12:15). which no one has ever ridden. Unused animals were regarded as especially suitable for religious purposes (see Nu 19:2; Dt 21:3; 1Sa 6:7).

11:3 If anyone asks you. The message concerning the colt is not directed specifically to the owner but to anyone who might question the disciples' action. Lord. See note on Lk 19:31.

11:8 branches. The word means "leaves" or "leafy branches," which were readily available in nearby fields. Only John mentions palm branches (Jn 12:13), which apparently came from Jericho, since they are not native to Jerusalem.

11:9 Hosanna. See note on Ps 118:25. Blessed is he who comes. A quotation of Ps 118:26, one of the Hallel ("Praise") Psalms sung at Passover and especially fitting for this occasion.

11:10 the coming kingdom of our father David. The Messianic kingdom promised to David's son (2Sa 7:11–14).

11:11 temple. See note on Mt 4:5. went out to Bethany. Apparently Jesus spent each night through Thursday of Passion Week in Bethany at the home of his friends Mary, Martha and Lazarus (see 11:19; 14:13; Mt 21:17; Jn 12:1–3). the Twelve. See 3:16–19 and notes on Lk 6:14–16.

11:12 The next day. Monday of Passion Week. Bethany. See note on Mt 21:17.

11:13 not the season for figs. Fig trees around Jerusalem normally begin to get leaves in March or April but do not produce figs until their leaves are all out in June. This tree was an exception in that it was already, at Passover time, full of leaves.

11:14 May no one ever eat fruit from you again. Perhaps the incident was a parable of judgment, with the fig tree representing Israel (see Hos 9:10; Na 3:12). A tree full of leaves normally should have fruit, but this one was cursed because it had none. The fact that the cleansing of the temple (vv. 15–19) is sandwiched between the two parts of the account of the fig tree (vv. 12–14 and vv. 20–25) may underscore the theme of judgment (see note on v. 21). The only application Jesus makes, however, is as an illustration of believing prayer (vv. 21–25).

11:15–19 All three Synoptic writers mention a cleansing of the temple at the end of Jesus' ministry. Only John has one at the beginning. See notes on Mt 21:12–17; Jn 2:14–17.

11:15 the temple area. The court of the Gentiles, the only part of the temple in which Gentiles could worship God and gather for prayer (see v. 17). buying and selling. Pilgrims coming to the Passover Feast needed animals that met the ritual requirements for sacrifice, and the vendors set up their animal pens and money tables in the court of the Gentiles. the tables of the money changers. Pilgrims needed their money changed into the local currency because the annual temple tax had to be paid in that currency. Also, the Mishnah (see note on Mt 15:2) required Tyrian currency for some offerings. those selling doves. Doves were required for the purification of women (Lev 12:6; Lk 2:22–24), the cleansing of those with certain skin diseases (Lev 14:22), and other purposes (Lev 15:14,29). They were also the usual offering of the poor (Lev 5:7).

11:16 to carry merchandise through the temple courts. A detail found only in Mark. Apparently the temple area was being used as a shortcut between the city and the Mount of Olives. See note on v. 27.

11:17 a house of prayer for all nations. Isa 56:7 assured godly non-Jews that they would be allowed to worship God in the temple. By allowing the court of the Gentiles to become a noisy, smelly marketplace, the Jewish religious leaders were interfering with God's provision. a den of robbers. Not only because they took financial advantage of the people but because they robbed the temple of its sanctity.

a house of prayer for all nations'[q]?[m]

But you have made it 'a den of robbers.'[r]"[n]

[18]The chief priests and the teachers of the law heard this and began looking for a way to kill him, for they feared him,[o] because the whole crowd was amazed at his teaching.[p]

[19]When evening came, they[s] went out of the city.[q]

The Withered Fig Tree

11:20–24pp — Mt 21:19–22

[20]In the morning, as they went along, they saw the fig tree withered from the roots. [21]Peter remembered and said to Jesus, "Rabbi,[r] look! The fig tree you cursed has withered!"

[22]"Have[t] faith in God," Jesus answered. [23]"I tell you the truth, if anyone says to this mountain, 'Go, throw yourself into the sea,' and does not doubt in his heart but believes that what he says will happen, it will be done for him.[s] [24]Therefore I tell you, whatever you ask for in prayer, believe that you have received it, and it will be yours.[t] [25]And when you stand praying, if you hold anything against anyone, forgive him, so that your Father in heaven may forgive you your sins.[u]"[u]

The Authority of Jesus Questioned

11:27–33pp — Mt 21:23–27; Lk 20:1–8

[27]They arrived again in Jerusalem, and while Jesus was walking in the temple courts, the chief priests, the teachers of the law and the elders came to him. [28]"By what authority are you doing these things?" they asked. "And who gave you authority to do this?"

[29]Jesus replied, "I will ask you one question. Answer me, and I will tell you by what authority I am doing these things. [30]John's baptism—was it from heaven, or from men? Tell me!"

[31]They discussed it among themselves and said, "If we say, 'From heaven,' he will ask, 'Then why didn't you believe him?' [32]But if we say, 'From men' . . ." (They feared the people, for everyone held that John really was a prophet.)[v]

Jesus said, "Neither will I tell you by what authority I am doing these things."

The Parable of the Tenants

12:1–12pp — Mt 21:33–46; Lk 20:9–19

12 He then began to speak to them in parables: "A man planted a vineyard.[w] He put a wall around it, dug a pit for the winepress and built a watchtower. Then he rented the vineyard to some farmers and went away on a journey. [2]At harvest time he sent a servant to the tenants to collect from them some of the fruit of the vineyard. [3]But they seized him, beat him and sent him away empty-handed. [4]Then he sent another servant to them; they struck this man on the head and treated him shamefully. [5]He sent still another, and that one they killed. He sent many others; some of them they beat, others they killed.

[6]"He had one left to send, a son, whom he loved. He sent him last of all,[x] saying, 'They will respect my son.'

[7]"But the tenants said to one another,

11:18 chief priests and the teachers of the law. See note on Mt 2:4. began looking for a way to kill him. See note on 3:6. They regarded Jesus as a dangerous threat to their whole way of life.

11:19 went out of the city. To Bethany (see note on v. 11).

11:20 In the morning. Tuesday morning of Passion Week. withered from the roots. This detail indicates that the destruction was total (see Job 18:16) and that no one in the future would eat fruit from the tree. It served as a vivid warning of the judgment to come in A.D. 70 (see 13:2 and note on Mt 24:2).

11:21 Rabbi. Hebrew word for "(my) teacher." fig tree you cursed. See note on v. 14. has withered. Perhaps prophetic of the fate of the Jewish authorities who were now about to reject their Messiah.

11:23 I tell you the truth. See note on 3:28. this mountain . . . into the sea. The Mount of Olives, from which the Dead Sea is visible.

11:26 This verse is not found in the earliest and best manuscripts of the NT (see NIV text note on v. 25), probably having been inserted from Mt 6:15.

11:27 temple courts. Several courts surrounded the main temple buildings, including the court of the women, the court of the men (Israelite), and the court of the Gentiles (see v. 16). the chief priests, the teachers of the law and the elders. See note on 8:31.

11:28 authority. The Sanhedrin was asking why Jesus performed what appeared to be an official act if he possessed no official status (see note on Lk 20:2).

11:30 from heaven, or from men? "Heaven" was a common Jewish term for God, often substituted for the divine name to avoid a possible misuse of it (see Ex 20:7). Jesus' question implied that his authority, like that of John's baptism, came from God.

12:1–12 Most of Jesus' parables make one main point. This one is rather complex, and the details fit the social situation in Jewish Galilee in the first century. Large estates, owned by absentee landlords, were put in the hands of local peasants who cultivated the land as tenant farmers. The parable exposed the planned attempt on Jesus' life, and God's judgment on the planners. See notes on Mt 21:35–37,41.

12:1 parables. See note on 4:2. A man planted a vineyard. The description reflects the language of Isa 5:1–2 where the vineyard clearly symbolizes Israel. watchtower. See note on Mt 21:33.

12:7 the inheritance will be ours. Jewish law provided that a piece of property unclaimed by an heir would be

'This is the heir. Come, let's kill him, and the inheritance will be ours.' 8So they took him and killed him, and threw him out of the vineyard.

9"What then will the owner of the vineyard do? He will come and kill those tenants and give the vineyard to others. 10Haven't you read this scripture:

" 'The stone the builders rejected has become the capstone[v];[y] 11the Lord has done this, and it is marvelous in our eyes'[w]?"[z]

12Then they looked for a way to arrest him because they knew he had spoken the parable against them. But they were afraid of the crowd;[a] so they left him and went away.[b]

Paying Taxes to Caesar

12:13–17pp — Mt 22:15–22; Lk 20:20–26

13Later they sent some of the Pharisees and Herodians[c] to Jesus to catch him[d] in his words. 14They came to him and said, "Teacher, we know you are a man of integrity. You aren't swayed by men, because you pay no attention to who they are; but you teach the way of God in accordance with the truth. Is it right to pay taxes to Caesar or not? 15Should we pay or shouldn't we?"

But Jesus knew their hypocrisy. "Why are you trying to trap me?" he asked. "Bring me a denarius and let me look at it." 16They brought the coin, and he asked them, "Whose portrait is this? And whose inscription?"

"Caesar's," they replied.

17Then Jesus said to them, "Give to Caesar what is Caesar's and to God what is God's."[e]

And they were amazed at him.

Marriage at the Resurrection

12:18–27pp — Mt 22:23–33; Lk 20:27–38

18Then the Sadducees,[f] who say there is no resurrection,[g] came to him with a question. 19"Teacher," they said, "Moses wrote for us that if a man's brother dies and leaves a wife but no children, the man must marry the widow and have children for his brother.[h] 20Now there were seven brothers. The first one married and died without leaving any children. 21The second one married the widow, but he also died, leaving no child. It was the same with the third. 22In fact, none of the seven left any children. Last of all, the woman died too. 23At the resurrection[x] whose wife will she be, since the seven were married to her?"

24Jesus replied, "Are you not in error because you do not know the Scriptures[i] or the power of God? 25When the dead rise, they will neither marry nor be given in marriage; they will be like the angels in heaven.[j] 26Now about the dead rising—have you not read in the book of Moses, in the account of the bush, how God said to him, 'I am the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob'[y]?[k] 27He is not the God of the dead, but of the living. You are badly mistaken!"

The Greatest Commandment

12:28–34pp — Mt 22:34–40

28One of the teachers of the law[l] came and heard them debating. Noticing that Jesus had given them a good answer, he asked him, "Of all the commandments, which is the most important?"

[v] 10 Or cornerstone [w] 11 Psalm 118:22,23
[x] 23 Some manuscripts resurrection, when men rise from the dead, [y] 26 Exodus 3:6

declared "ownerless," and could be claimed by anyone. The tenants assumed that the son came as heir to claim his property, and that if he were slain, they could claim the land.

12:9 others. See note on Mt 21:41.

12:10 capstone. See note on Ps 118:22.

12:12 against them. The representatives of the Sanhedrin mentioned in 11:27.

12:13–17 This incident probably took place on Tuesday of Passion Week in one of the temple courts (see chart on "Passion Week," p. 1520).

12:13 Pharisees. See note on 2:16. Herodians. See note on 3:6. The plan to destroy Jesus, which had originated early in his Galilean ministry, had now matured and was gaining momentum in Jerusalem.

12:14 pay taxes to Caesar. Jews in Judea were required to pay tribute money to the emperor. The tax was highly unpopular, and some Jews flatly refused to pay it, believing that payment was an admission of Roman right to rule. See note on Mt 22:15–17.

12:15 denarius. See notes on 6:37; Mt 22:19.

12:17 Give to Caesar what is Caesar's. See note on Mt 22:21. There are obligations to the state that do not infringe on our obligations to God (see Ro 13:1–7; 1Ti 2:1–6; Tit 3:1–2; 1Pe 2:13–17).

12:18 Sadducees. A Jewish party that represented the wealthy and sophisticated classes. They were located largely in Jerusalem and made the temple and its administration their primary interest. Though they were small in number, in Jesus' time they exerted powerful political and religious influence. See notes on Mt 3:7; Lk 20:27; Ac 4:1. who say there is no resurrection. They denied the resurrection, accepted only the five books of Moses as authoritative and flatly rejected the oral tradition (see note on Mt 15:2). These beliefs set them against the Pharisees and common Jewish piety.

12:19 See note on Mt 22:24.

12:26 book of Moses. The Pentateuch, the first five books of the OT. in the account of the bush. A common way of referring to Ex 3:1–6 (see Ro 11:2, where "about Elijah" refers to 1Ki 19:1–10).

12:28 which is the most important? Jewish rabbis counted 613 individual statutes in the law, and attempted to differentiate between "heavy" (or "great") and "light" (or "little") commands.

29"The most important one," answered Jesus, "is this: 'Hear, O Israel, the Lord our God, the Lord is one.[z] 30Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind and with all your strength.'[am] 31The second is this: 'Love your neighbor as yourself.'[bn] There is no commandment greater than these."

32"Well said, teacher," the man replied. "You are right in saying that God is one and there is no other but him.[o] 33To love him with all your heart, with all your understanding and with all your strength, and to love your neighbor as yourself is more important than all burnt offerings and sacrifices."[p]

34When Jesus saw that he had answered wisely, he said to him, "You are not far from the kingdom of God."[q] And from then on no one dared ask him any more questions.[r]

Whose Son Is the Christ?

12:35–37pp — Mt 22:41–46; Lk 20:41–44
12:38–40pp — Mt 23:1–7; Lk 20:45–47

35While Jesus was teaching in the temple courts,[s] he asked, "How is it that the teachers of the law say that the Christ[c] is the son of David?[t] 36David himself, speaking by the Holy Spirit,[u] declared:

" 'The Lord said to my Lord:
"Sit at my right hand
until I put your enemies
under your feet." '[dv]

37David himself calls him 'Lord.' How then can he be his son?"

The large crowd[w] listened to him with delight.

38As he taught, Jesus said, "Watch out for the teachers of the law. They like to walk around in flowing robes and be greeted in the marketplaces, 39and have the most important seats in the synagogues and the places of honor at banquets.[x] 40They devour widows' houses and for a show make lengthy prayers. Such men will be punished most severely."

The Widow's Offering

41Jesus sat down opposite the place where the offerings were put[y] and watched the crowd putting their money into the temple treasury. Many rich people threw in large amounts. 42But a poor widow came and put in two very small copper coins,[e] worth only a fraction of a penny.[f]

43Calling his disciples to him, Jesus said, "I tell you the truth, this poor widow has put more into the treasury than all the others. 44They all gave out of their wealth; but she, out of her poverty, put in everything—all she had to live on."[z]

Signs of the End of the Age

13:1–37pp — Mt 24:1–51; Lk 21:5–36

12:29 The first quotation came to be known as the Shema, named after the first word of Dt 6:4 in Hebrew, which means "hear." The Shema became the Jewish confession of faith, which was recited by pious Jews every morning and evening. To this day it begins every synagogue service.

12:31 To the Shema Jesus joined the commandment from Lev 19:18 to show that love for neighbor is a natural and logical outgrowth of love for God. neighbor. See Lk 10:25–37.

12:33 all burnt offerings and sacrifices. The comparison was undoubtedly suggested by the fact that the discussion took place in the temple courtyard (see 11:27).

12:34 kingdom of God. See note on Mt 3:2.

12:35 temple courts. See note on 11:27. Christ. See NIV text note on Mt 1:17. son of David. See note on 10:47. Most of the people knew that the Messiah was to be from the family of David.

12:36 The Lord said to my Lord. God said to David's Lord, i.e., David's superior—ultimately the Messiah (see note on Ps 110:1). The purpose of the quotation was to show that the Messiah was more than a descendant of David—he was David's Lord.

12:38 flowing robes. The teachers of the law wore long, white linen robes that were fringed and almost reached to the ground.

12:39 most important seats in the synagogues. A reference to the bench in front of the "ark" that contained the sacred scrolls. Those who sat there could be seen by all the worshipers in the synagogue.

12:40 devour widows' houses. Since the teachers of the law were not paid a regular salary, they were dependent on the generosity of patrons for their livelihood. Such a system was open to abuses, and widows were especially vulnerable to exploitation.

12:41 the temple treasury. Located in the court of the women. Both men and women were allowed in this court, but women could go no farther into the temple buildings. It contained 13 trumpet-shaped receptacles for contributions brought by worshipers.

12:42 very small copper coins. The smallest coins then in circulation in Palestine. Though her offering was meager, the widow brought "all she had" (v. 44; see note on 2Co 8:12).

12:43 I tell you the truth. See note on 3:28.

13:1–37 The Olivet discourse, as this chapter of Mark is commonly called, falls into five sections: (1) Jesus' prophecy of the destruction of the temple and the questions of the disciples (vv. 1–4); (2) warnings against deceivers and false signs of the end (vv. 5–23); (3) the coming of the Son of Man (vv. 24–27); (4) the lesson of the fig tree (vv. 28–31); (5) exhortation to watchfulness (vv. 32–37).

13:1 massive stones. According to Josephus (Antiquities, 15.11.3), they were white, and some of them were 37 feet long, 12 feet high and 18 feet wide.

2"Do you see all these great buildings?" replied Jesus. "Not one stone here will be left on another; every one will be thrown down."[a]

3As Jesus was sitting on the Mount of Olives[b] opposite the temple, Peter, James, John[c] and Andrew asked him privately, 4"Tell us, when will these things happen? And what will be the sign that they are all about to be fulfilled?"

5Jesus said to them: "Watch out that no one deceives you.[d] 6Many will come in my name, claiming, 'I am he,' and will deceive many. 7When you hear of wars and rumors of wars, do not be alarmed. Such things must happen, but the end is still to come. 8Nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. There will be earthquakes in various places, and famines. These are the beginning of birth pains.

9"You must be on your guard. You will be handed over to the local councils and flogged in the synagogues.[e] On account of me you will stand before governors and kings as witnesses to them. 10And the gospel must first be preached to all nations. 11Whenever you are arrested and brought to trial, do not worry beforehand about what to say. Just say whatever is given you at the time, for it is not you speaking, but the Holy Spirit.[f]

12"Brother will betray brother to death, and a father his child. Children will rebel against their parents and have them put to death.[g] 13All men will hate you because of me,[h] but he who stands firm to the end will be saved.[i]

14"When you see 'the abomination that causes desolation'[g] standing where it[h] does not belong—let the reader understand—then let those who are in Judea flee to the mountains. 15Let no one on the roof of his house go down or enter the house to take anything out. 16Let no one in the field go back to get his cloak. 17How dreadful it will be in those days for pregnant women and nursing mothers![k] 18Pray that this will not take place in winter, 19because those will be days of distress unequaled from the beginning, when God created the world,[l] until now—and never to be equaled again.[m] 20If the Lord had not cut short those days, no one would survive. But for the sake of the elect, whom he has chosen, he has shortened them. 21At that time if anyone says to you, 'Look, here is the Christ[i]!' or, 'Look, there he is!' do not believe it.[n] 22For false Christs and false prophets[o] will appear and perform signs and miracles[p] to deceive the elect—if that were possible. 23So be on your guard;[q] I have told you everything ahead of time.

24"But in those days, following that distress,

" 'the sun will be darkened,
and the moon will not give its light;
25the stars will fall from the sky,
and the heavenly bodies will be shaken.'[j][r]

26"At that time men will see the Son of Man coming in clouds[s] with great power and glory. 27And he will send his an-

13:4 The disciples thought that the destruction of the temple would be one of the events that ushered in the end times (see Mt 24:3). the sign. The way by which the disciples might know that the destruction of the temple was about to take place and that the end of the age was approaching.
13:5 Watch out. It is clear from such words as "Watch out," "You must be on your guard" (v. 9), "So be on your guard" (v. 23), "Be on guard! Be alert!" (v. 33), "Therefore keep watch" (v. 35) and "Watch!" (v. 37) that one of the main purposes of the Olivet discourse was to alert the disciples to the danger of deception.
13:6 I am he. That is, the Messiah.
13:7 the end. Not the destruction of Jerusalem but the end of the age (see Mt 24:3).
13:8 birth pains. See note on Mt 24:8.
13:9 local councils. The religious courts made up of the synagogue elders. flogged. Infraction of Jewish regulations was punishable by flogging, the maximum penalty being 39 strokes with the whip (see 2Co 11:23–24).
13:10 first. Before the end of the age (see Mt 24:14).
13:13 firm to the end. Such perseverance is a sure indication of salvation (cf. Heb 3:14; 6:11–12; 10:36).
13:14 the abomination that causes desolation. See notes on Da 9:25–27; Mt 24:15. standing where it does not belong. See 2Th 2:4. let those who are in Judea flee to the mountains. See note on Mt 24:16.

13:16 cloak. See note on Mt 5:40.
13:17 pregnant women and nursing mothers. Representative of anyone forced to flee under especially difficult circumstances.
13:18 in winter. The time when heavy rains caused streams to become swollen and impossible to cross, preventing many from reaching a place of refuge.
13:19 days of distress unequaled. See note on Mt 24:21.
13:20 the elect. The people of God.
13:21 Christ. See NIV text note on Mt 1:17.
13:24 in those days. A common OT expression having to do with the end time (see Jer 3:16,18; 31:29; 33:15–16; Joel 3:1; Zec 8:23). distress. See v. 19 and note on Mt 24:21.
13:25 The description in vv. 24–25 does not necessarily refer to a complete breakup of the universe. It was language commonly used to describe God's awful judgment on a fallen world (see Isa 13:10; 24:21–23; 34:4; Eze 32:7–8; Joel 2:10,31; 3:15; Am 8:9).
13:26 Son of Man. See note on 8:31. coming in clouds with great power and glory. A reference to Christ's second coming (see 8:38; 2Th 1:6–10; Rev 19:11–16).
13:27 angels. See note on Ge 16:7; cf. Rev 14:14–16. gather his elect. In the OT God is spoken of as gathering his scattered people (Dt 30:3–4; Isa 43:6; Jer 32:37; Eze 34:13; 36:24).

Be alert![l][y] You do not know when that time will come. 34It's like a man going away: He leaves his house and puts his servants[z] in charge, each with his assigned task, and tells the one at the door to keep watch.

35"Therefore keep watch because you do not know when the owner of the house will come back—whether in the evening, or at midnight, or when the rooster crows, or at dawn. 36If he comes suddenly, do not let him find you sleeping. 37What I say to you, I say to everyone: 'Watch!' "[a]

14:3–8Ref — Jn 12:1–8

14 Now the Passover[b] and the Feast of Unleavened Bread were only two days away, and the chief priests and the teachers of the law were looking for some sly way to arrest Jesus and kill him.[c] 2"But not during the Feast," they said, "or the people may riot."

3While he was in Bethany,[d] reclining at the table in the home of a man known as Simon the Leper, a woman came with an alabaster jar of very expensive perfume, made of pure nard. She broke the jar and poured the perfume on his head.[e]

4Some of those present were saying indignantly to one another, "Why this waste of perfume? 5It could have been sold for more than a year's wages[m] and the money given to the poor." And they rebuked her harshly.

6"Leave her alone," said Jesus. "Why are you bothering her? She has done a beautiful thing to me. 7The poor you will always have with you, and you can help them any time you want.[f] But you will not always have me. 8She did what she

13:29 these things. The signs listed in vv. 5–23 precede the destruction of Jerusalem and/or the end of the age. it. Probably a reference to the second coming of Christ (see Lk 21:31 and NIV text note on Mt 24:33).
13:30 I tell you the truth. See note on 3:28. generation. See NIV text note. If the term is understood as a normal life span, it may refer either to the generation in which Jesus lived while on earth or to the generation living when these signs begin to occur (see note on Lk 21:32).
13:32 No one knows. A map of the future would be a hindrance, not a help, to faith. Certain signs have been given, but not for the purpose of making detailed, sequential predictions. that day. An OT expression for the day of the Lord's appearance (Am 8:3,9,13; 9:11; Mic 4:6; 5:10; 7:11), referring to the coming of the Son of Man (v. 26). angels. See note on Ge 16:7. nor the Son. While on earth, even Jesus lived by faith, and obedience was the hallmark of his ministry.
13:35 in the evening, or at midnight, or when the rooster crows, or at dawn. The four watches of the night used by the Romans (see note on Mt 14:25).
14:1 Passover. The Jewish festival commemorating the time when the angel of the Lord passed over the homes of the Hebrews rather than killing their firstborn sons as he did in the Egyptian homes (see Ex 12:13,23,27). The lambs or kids used in the feast were killed on the 14th of Nisan (March-April), and the meal was eaten the same evening between sundown and midnight. Since the Jewish day began at sundown, the Passover Feast took place on the 15th of Nisan. Feast of Unleavened Bread. This feast followed Passover and lasted seven days (see Ex 12:15–20; 23:15; 34:18; Dt 16:1–8). chief priests. See note on 8:31. teachers of the law. See note on Mt 2:4.
14:2 not during the Feast. During Passover and the week-long Feast of Unleavened Bread the population of Jerusalem increased from about 50,000 to several hundred thousand. It would have been too risky to apprehend Jesus with so large and excitable a crowd present.
14:3–9 In John's Gospel this incident occurred before Passion Week began (see Jn 12:1). Matthew and Mark may place it here to contrast the hatred of the religious leaders and the betrayal by Judas with the love and devotion of the woman who anointed Jesus.
14:3 Bethany. See note on Mt 21:17. reclining at the table. The usual posture for eating a banquet meal. Simon the Leper. See note on Mt 26:6. a woman. We know from John's Gospel (12:3) that she was Mary, the sister of Martha and Lazarus. alabaster jar. A sealed flask with a long neck that was broken off when the contents were used and that contained enough ointment for one application. nard. A perfume made from the aromatic oil extracted from the root of a plant grown chiefly in India. poured the perfume on his head. Anointing was a common custom at feasts (see Ps 23:5; Lk 7:46). The woman's action expressed her deep devotion to Jesus.
14:4 Some of those present. Matthew (26:8) identifies them as the disciples, while John (12:4–5) singles out Judas Iscariot.
14:5 given to the poor. It was a Jewish custom to give gifts to the poor on the evening of Passover (see Jn 13:29).
14:7 The poor you will always have with you. This did not express lack of concern for the poor, for their needs lay close to Jesus' heart (see Mt 6:2–4; Lk 4:18; 6:20; 14:13,21; 18:22; Jn 13:29).
14:8 to prepare for my burial. It was a normal Jewish custom to anoint a body with aromatic oils in preparing it for burial (see 16:1). Jesus seems to anticipate suffering a criminal's death, for only in that circumstance was there no anointing of the body.

Bethany, the Mount of Olives and Jerusalem

4. Clearing of the temple
Mt 21:10-17; Mk 11:15-18; Lk 19:45-48

The next day he returned to the temple and found the court of the Gentiles full of traders and money changers making a large profit as they gave out Jewish coins in exchange for "pagan" money. Jesus drove them out and overturned their tables.

7. Passover Last Supper
THURSDAY
Mt 26:17-30; Mk 14:12-26; Lk 22:7-23; Jn 13:1-30

In an upper room Jesus prepared both himself and his disciples for his death. He gave the Passover meal a new meaning. The loaf of bread and cup of wine represented his body soon to be sacrificed and his blood soon to be shed. And so he instituted the "Lord's Supper." After singing a hymn they went to the Garden of Gethsemane, where Jesus prayed in agony, knowing what lay ahead for him.

8. Crucifixion—FRIDAY
Mt 27:1-66; Mk 15:1-47; Lk 22:66—23:56; Jn 18:28—19:37

Following betrayal, arrest, desertion, false trials, denial, condemnation, beatings and mockery, Jesus was required to carry his cross to "The Place of the Skull," where he was crucified with two other prisoners.

9. In the tomb

Jesus' body was placed in the tomb before 6:00 P.M. Friday night, when the Sabbath began and all work stopped, and it lay in the tomb throughout the Sabbath.

10. Resurrection—SUNDAY Mt 28:1-13; Mk 16:1-20; Lk 24:1-49; Jn 20:1-31

Early in the morning, women went to the tomb and found that the stone closing the tomb's entrance had been rolled back. An angel told them Jesus was alive and gave them a message. Jesus appeared to Mary Magdalene in the garden, to Peter, to two disciples on the road to Emmaus, and later that day to all the disciples but Thomas. His resurrection was established as a fact.

The Scriptures do not mention this day, but the counting of the days (Mk 14:1; Jn 12:1) seems to indicate that there was another day about which the Gospels record nothing.

1. Arrival in Bethany
FRIDAY
Jn 12:1
Jesus arrived in Bethany six days before the Passover to spend some time with his friends, Mary, Martha and Lazarus. On the following Tuesday evening, while Jesus was still in Bethany, Mary anointed his feet with costly perfume as an act of humility. This tender expression indicated Mary's devotion to Jesus and her willingness to serve him.
2. Sabbath—day of rest
SATURDAY
Not mentioned in the Gospels
Since the next day was the Sabbath, the Lord spent the day in traditional fashion with his friends.
3. The Triumphal Entry
SUNDAY
Mt 21:1-11; Mk 11:1-11; Lk 19:28-44; Jn 12:12-19
On the first day of the week Jesus rode into Jerusalem on a donkey, fulfilling an ancient prophecy (Zec 9:9). The crowd welcomed him with "Hosanna" and the words of Ps 118:25-26, thus ascribing to him a Messianic title as the agent of the Lord, the coming King of Israel.

[10]Then Judas Iscariot, one of the Twelve,[i] went to the chief priests to betray Jesus to them.[j] [11]They were delighted to hear this and promised to give him money. So he watched for an opportunity to hand him over.

The Lord's Supper

14:22–25pp — 1Co 11:23–25

[12]On the first day of the Feast of Unleavened Bread, when it was customary to sacrifice the Passover lamb,[k] Jesus' disciples asked him, "Where do you want us to go and make preparations for you to eat the Passover?"

[13]So he sent two of his disciples, telling them, "Go into the city, and a man carrying a jar of water will meet you. Follow him. [14]Say to the owner of the house he enters, 'The Teacher asks: Where is my guest room, where I may eat the Passover with my disciples?' [15]He will show you a large upper room,[l] furnished and ready. Make preparations for us there."

[16]The disciples left, went into the city and found things just as Jesus had told them. So they prepared the Passover.

[17]When evening came, Jesus arrived with the Twelve. [18]While they were reclining at the table eating, he said, "I tell you the truth, one of you will betray me—one who is eating with me."

[19]They were saddened, and one by one they said to him, "Surely not I?"

[20]"It is one of the Twelve," he replied, "one who dips bread into the bowl with me.[m] [21]The Son of Man[n] will go just as it is written about him. But woe to that man who betrays the Son of Man! It would be better for him if he had not been born."

[22]While they were eating, Jesus took bread, gave thanks and broke it,[o] and gave it to his disciples, saying, "Take it; this is my body."

[23]Then he took the cup, gave thanks and offered it to them, and they all drank from it.[p]

[24]"This is my blood of the[n] covenant,[q] which is poured out for many," he said to them. [25]"I tell you the truth, I will not drink again of the fruit of the vine until that day when I drink it anew in the kingdom of God."[r]

[26]When they had sung a hymn, they went out to the Mount of Olives.[s]

14:11 money. Thirty silver coins (Mt 26:15).

14:12 the first day of the Feast of Unleavened Bread. Ordinarily this would mean the 15th of Nisan, the day after Passover (see note on v. 1). However, the added phrase, "when it was customary to sacrifice the Passover lamb," makes it clear that the 14th of Nisan is meant because Passover lambs were killed on that day (Ex 12:6). The entire eight-day celebration was sometimes referred to as the Feast of Unleavened Bread, and there is evidence that the 14th of Nisan may have been loosely referred to as the "first day of Unleavened Bread."

14:13 two of his disciples. Peter and John (Lk 22:8). man carrying a jar. He would easily have been identified because customarily only women carried water jars.

14:14 Where is my guest room . . . ? It was a Jewish custom that anyone in Jerusalem who had a room available would give it upon request to a pilgrim to celebrate the Passover. It appears that Jesus had made previous arrangements with the owner of the house.

14:15 Make preparations. These would include food for the meal: unleavened bread, wine, bitter herbs, sauce and the lamb.

14:17 When evening came. Thursday of Passion Week.

14:18 reclining at the table eating. Originally the Passover meal was eaten standing (Ex 12:11), but in Jesus' time it was customary to eat it while reclining. I tell you the truth. See note on 3:28.

14:20 dips bread into the bowl with me. See note on Mt 26:23.

14:21 Son of Man. See note on 8:31. as it is written about him. Jesus no doubt had the "suffering servant" passage of Isa 53 in mind.

14:22 The NT gives four accounts of the Lord's Supper (Mt 26:26–28; Mk 14:22–24; Lk 22:19–20; 1Co 11:23–25). Matthew's account is very much like Mark's, and Luke's and Paul's have similarities. All the accounts include the taking of the bread; the thanksgiving or blessing; the breaking of the bread; the saying, "This is my body"; the taking of the cup; and the explanation of the relation of blood to the covenant. Only Paul and Luke record Jesus' command to continue to celebrate the Supper. this is my body. The bread represented his body, given for them (see Lk 22:19; 1Co 11:24).

14:23 gave thanks. The word "Eucharist" is derived from the Greek term used here.

14:24 my blood of the covenant. The cup represents the blood of Jesus, which, in turn, represents his poured-out life (i.e., his death). God's commitments to his people in the new covenant are possible only through Christ's atoning death (see Jer 31:31–34; Heb 8:8–12; see also notes on Lk 22:20; Ex 24:6,8). for many. See note on Ro 5:15.

Gethsemane

14:32–42pp — Mt 26:36–46; Lk 22:40–46

[32]They went to a place called Gethsemane, and Jesus said to his disciples, "Sit here while I pray." [33]He took Peter, James and John[x] along with him, and he began to be deeply distressed and troubled. [34]"My soul is overwhelmed with sorrow to the point of death,"[y] he said to them. "Stay here and keep watch."

[35]Going a little farther, he fell to the ground and prayed that if possible the hour[z] might pass from him. [36]"Abba,[q] Father,"[a] he said, "everything is possible for you. Take this cup[b] from me. Yet not what I will, but what you will."[c]

[37]Then he returned to his disciples and found them sleeping. "Simon," he said to Peter, "are you asleep? Could you not keep watch for one hour? [38]Watch and pray so that you will not fall into temptation.[d] The spirit is willing, but the body is weak."[e]

[39]Once more he went away and prayed the same thing. [40]When he came back, he again found them sleeping, because their eyes were heavy. They did not know what to say to him.

[41]Returning the third time, he said to them, "Are you still sleeping and resting? Enough! The hour[f] has come. Look, the Son of Man is betrayed into the hands of sinners. [42]Rise! Let us go! Here comes my betrayer!"

Jesus Arrested

14:43–50pp — Mt 26:47–56; Lk 22:47–50; Jn 18:3–11

[43]Just as he was speaking, Judas,[g] one of the Twelve, appeared. With him was a crowd armed with swords and clubs, sent from the chief priests, the teachers of the law, and the elders.

[44]Now the betrayer had arranged a signal with them: "The one I kiss is the man; arrest him and lead him away under guard." [45]Going at once to Jesus, Judas said, "Rabbi!"[h] and kissed him. [46]The men seized Jesus and arrested him. [47]Then one of those standing near drew his sword and struck the servant of the high priest, cutting off his ear.

[48]"Am I leading a rebellion," said Jesus, "that you have come out with swords and clubs to capture me? [49]Every day I was with you, teaching in the temple courts,[i] and you did not arrest me. But the Scriptures must be fulfilled."[j] [50]Then everyone deserted him and fled.[k]

[51]A young man, wearing nothing but a linen garment, was following Jesus.

[o]27 Zech. 13:7 [p]30 Some early manuscripts do not have twice. [q]36 Aramaic for Father

14:30 I tell you the truth. See note on 3:28. crows twice. See NIV text note here and on v. 72.

14:32 Gethsemane. A garden or orchard on the lower slopes of the Mount of Olives, one of Jesus' favorite places (see Lk 22:39; Jn 18:2). The name is Hebrew and means "oil press," i.e., a place for squeezing the oil from olives.

14:33 Peter, James and John. See note on 5:37.

14:36 Abba, Father. Expressive of an especially close relationship to God (see also NIV text note). this cup. The chalice of death and of God's wrath that Jesus took from the Father's hand in fulfillment of his mission. What Jesus dreaded was not death as such, but the manner of his death as the one who was taking the sin of mankind upon himself. See note on 10:38.

14:37 Simon. See note on 1:16. Perhaps Simon is singled out because of his bold assertion that he would not fail Jesus (see vv. 29–31).

14:38 fall into temptation. Be attacked by temptation. Here the temptation is to be unfaithful in face of the threatening circumstances confronting them. The spirit is willing. When that part of man that is spirit is under God's control, it strives against human weakness. The expression is taken from Ps 51:12.

14:41 Son of Man. See note on 8:31.

14:43 Judas. See note on 3:19. a crowd armed with swords and clubs. Auxiliary police or servants of the court assigned to the task of maintaining public order beyond the precincts of the temple. John (18:3) indicates that at least some of the Roman cohort of soldiers were in the arresting group, along with officers of the temple guard. The fact that some carried clubs suggests that they were conscripted at the last moment. chief priests . . . teachers of the law . . . elders. See notes on 8:31; Mt 2:4. The warrant for Jesus' arrest had been issued by the Sanhedrin.

14:45 Rabbi. Hebrew word for "(my) teacher." kissed him. A token of respect with which disciples customarily greeted their rabbi. See note on Lk 22:47.

14:47 one of those standing near. We know from John that it was Peter, and the servant he struck was named Malchus (Jn 18:10).

14:49 temple courts. See note on 11:27. Scriptures must be fulfilled. Perhaps a reference to Isa 53, or more particularly to Zec 13:7, quoted by Jesus in v. 27 and fulfilled (at least in part) at this time.

14:50 deserted him. In fulfillment of vv. 27–31.

14:51 A young man. Not specifically identified, but his anonymity may suggest that this was John Mark, writer of this Gospel. a linen garment. Ordinarily the outer garment was made of wool. The fine linen garment left behind in the hand of a guard indicates that the youth was from a wealthy family.

When they seized him, [52]he fled naked, leaving his garment behind.

Before the Sanhedrin

14:53–65pp — Mt 26:57–68; Jn 18:12,13,19–24
14:61–63pp — Lk 22:67–71

[53]They took Jesus to the high priest, and all the chief priests, elders and teachers of the law came together. [54]Peter followed him at a distance, right into the courtyard of the high priest.[l] There he sat with the guards and warmed himself at the fire.[m]

[55]The chief priests and the whole Sanhedrin[n] were looking for evidence against Jesus so that they could put him to death, but they did not find any. [56]Many testified falsely against him, but their statements did not agree.

[57]Then some stood up and gave this false testimony against him: [58]"We heard him say, 'I will destroy this man-made temple and in three days will build another,[o] not made by man.'" [59]Yet even then their testimony did not agree.

[60]Then the high priest stood up before them and asked Jesus, "Are you not going to answer? What is this testimony that these men are bringing against you?" [61]But Jesus remained silent and gave no answer.[p]

Again the high priest asked him, "Are you the Christ,[r] the Son of the Blessed One?"[q]

[62]"I am," said Jesus. "And you will see the Son of Man sitting at the right hand of the Mighty One and coming on the clouds of heaven."[r]

[63]The high priest tore his clothes.[s] "Why do we need any more witnesses?" he asked. [64]"You have heard the blasphemy. What do you think?"

They all condemned him as worthy of death.[t] [65]Then some began to spit at him; they blindfolded him, struck him with their fists, and said, "Prophesy!" And the guards took him and beat him.[u]

Peter Disowns Jesus

14:66–72pp — Mt 26:69–75; Lk 22:56–62; Jn 18:16–18,25–27

[66]While Peter was below in the courtyard,[v] one of the servant girls of the high priest came by. [67]When she saw Peter warming himself,[w] she looked closely at him.

"You also were with that Nazarene, Jesus,"[x] she said.

14:52 fled naked. The absence of an undergarment suggests that he had dressed hastily to follow Jesus.

14:53–15:15 Jesus' trial took place in two stages: a Jewish trial and a Roman trial, each of which had three episodes. For the Jewish trial these were: (1) the preliminary hearing before Annas, the former high priest (reported only in Jn 18:12–14, 19–23); (2) the trial before Caiaphas, the ruling high priest, and the Sanhedrin (14:53–65); and (3) the final action of the council, which terminated its all-night session (15:1). The three episodes of the Roman trial were: (1) the trial before Pilate (15:2–5); (2) the trial before Herod Antipas (only in Lk 23:6–12); and (3) the trial before Pilate continued and concluded (15:6–15). Since Mark gives no account of Jesus before Herod Antipas, the trial before Pilate forms a continuous and uninterrupted narrative in this Gospel (15:2–15).

14:53 high priest. Caiaphas, son-in-law of Annas, the former high priest. all the chief priests, elders and teachers of the law. The entire Sanhedrin.

14:54 courtyard of the high priest. The Sanhedrin may have met at Caiaphas's house to ensure secrecy.

14:55 Sanhedrin. The high court of the Jews. In NT times it was made up of three kinds of members: chief priests, elders, and teachers of the law. Its total membership numbered 71, including the high priest, who was presiding officer. Under Roman jurisdiction the Sanhedrin was given a great deal of authority, but they could not impose capital punishment (see Jn 18:31 and note on Mt 27:2).

14:56 Many testified falsely against him. In Jewish judicial procedure, witnesses functioned as the prosecution. did not agree. According to Dt 19:15 a person could not be convicted unless two or more witnesses gave testimony, which assumes that their testimonies had to agree.

14:58 There is no statement by Jesus precisely like this in the Gospels. It is probably an allusion to what is reported in Jn 2:19.

14:61 Christ. See NIV text note. Son of the Blessed One. "The Blessed One" was a way of referring to God without pronouncing his name (see note on 11:30). The title was therefore equivalent to "Son of God," though in this context it would seem not to refer to deity but to royal Messiahship, since in popular Jewish belief the Messiah was to be a man, not God.

14:62 Son of Man. See note on 8:31. This Son of Man saying brings together Da 7:13 and Ps 110:1.

14:63 tore his clothes. A sign of great grief or shock (see Ge 37:29; 2Ki 18:37; 19:1). In the case of the high priest it was a form of judicial act expressing the fact that he regarded Jesus' answer as blasphemous (see note on Mt 26:65).

14:64 blasphemy. The sin of blasphemy not only involved reviling the name of God (see Lev 24:10–16) but also included any affront to his majesty or authority (see Mk 2:7; 3:28–29; Jn 5:18; 10:33). Jesus' claim to be the Messiah and, in fact, to have majesty and authority belonging only to God was therefore regarded by Caiaphas as blasphemy, for which the Mosaic law prescribed death by stoning (Lev 24:16).

14:65 began to spit at him . . . struck him with their fists. Conventional gestures of rejection and condemnation (Nu 12:14; Dt 25:9; Job 30:10; Isa 50:6). they blindfolded him. An old interpretation of Isa 11:2–4 held that the Messiah could judge by smell without the aid of sight. Prophesy! Say who it was who struck you!

14:66 below. While Jesus was being beaten in an upstairs room of Caiaphas's house, Peter was below in the courtyard. one of the servant girls. The doorkeeper (Jn 18:16).

14:67 Nazarene. See note on Mt 2:23.

14:68 I don't know or understand what you're talking about. Common in Jewish law for a formal, legal denial.

about,"[y] he said, and went out into the entryway.[s] 69When the servant girl saw him there, she said again to those standing around, "This fellow is one of them." 70Again he denied it.[z]

After a little while, those standing near said to Peter, "Surely you are one of them, for you are a Galilean."[a]

71He began to call down curses on himself, and he swore to them, "I don't know this man you're talking about."[b]

72Immediately the rooster crowed the second time.[t] Then Peter remembered the word Jesus had spoken to him: "Before the rooster crows twice[u] you will disown me three times."[c] And he broke down and wept.

Jesus Before Pilate

15:2–15pp — Mt 27:11–26; Lk 23:2,3,18–25; Jn 18:29–19:16

15 Very early in the morning, the chief priests, with the elders, the teachers of the law[d] and the whole Sanhedrin,[e] reached a decision. They bound Jesus, led him away and handed him over to Pilate.[f]

2"Are you the king of the Jews?"[g] asked Pilate.

"Yes, it is as you say," Jesus replied.

3The chief priests accused him of many things. 4So again Pilate asked him, "Aren't you going to answer? See how many things they are accusing you of."

5But Jesus still made no reply,[h] and Pilate was amazed.

6Now it was the custom at the Feast to release a prisoner whom the people requested. 7A man called Barabbas was in prison with the insurrectionists who had committed murder in the uprising. 8The crowd came up and asked Pilate to do for them what he usually did.

9"Do you want me to release to you the king of the Jews?"[i] asked Pilate, 10knowing it was out of envy that the chief priests had handed Jesus over to him. 11But the chief priests stirred up the crowd to have Pilate release Barabbas[j] instead.

12"What shall I do, then, with the one you call the king of the Jews?" Pilate asked them.

13"Crucify him!" they shouted.

14"Why? What crime has he committed?" asked Pilate.

But they shouted all the louder, "Crucify him!"

15Wanting to satisfy the crowd, Pilate released Barabbas to them. He had Jesus flogged,[k] and handed him over to be crucified.

The Soldiers Mock Jesus

15:16–20pp — Mt 27:27–31

16The soldiers led Jesus away into the palace[l] (that is, the Praetorium) and called together the whole company of soldiers. 17They put a purple robe on him, then twisted together a crown of thorns and set it on him. 18And they began to call out to him, "Hail, king of the Jews!"[m] 19Again and again they struck

14:70 Galilean. Galileans were easily identified by their dialect. Peter's speech showed him to be a Galilean, and his presence among the Judeans in the courtyard suggested he was a follower of Jesus.

15:1 Very early in the morning. The working day of a Roman official began at daylight. morning. Friday of Passion Week. Sanhedrin. See note on 14:55. reached a decision. Apparently to accuse Jesus before the civil authority for treason rather than blasphemy (see Lk 23:1–14 and note on Lk 23:2). Pilate. The Roman governor of Judea from A.D. 26 to 36, whose official residence was in Caesarea, on the Mediterranean coast. (In 1961 archaeologists working at Caesarea unearthed a stone contemporary with Pilate and inscribed with his name.) When he came to Jerusalem, he stayed in the magnificent palace built by Herod the Great, located west and a little south of the temple area. Mark uses the word "Praetorium" to indicate this palace in v. 16, and it was here that the Roman trial of Jesus took place.

15:2 asked Pilate. Judgment in a Roman court was the sole responsibility of the imperial magistrate.

15:3 many things. See note on Lk 23:2. Multiple charges were common in criminal cases.

15:4 Aren't you going to answer? If Jesus made no defense, according to Roman law Pilate would have to pronounce against him.

15:6 custom. See note on Jn 18:39.

15:7 Barabbas. Probably a member of the Zealots, a revolutionary Jewish group. in the uprising. Nothing from other sources is known about this insurrection, though Mark speaks of it as if it were well known. Under the Roman prefects such revolts were common (see Lk 13:1).

15:13 Crucify. See note on v. 24.

15:15 flogged. The Romans used a whip made of several strips of leather into which were embedded (near the ends) pieces of bone and lead. The Jews limited the number of stripes to a maximum of 40 (in practice to 39 in case of a miscount), but no such limitation was recognized by the Romans, and victims of Roman floggings often did not survive.

15:16 Praetorium. The word was used originally of a general's tent, or of the headquarters in a military camp (see note on v. 1). the whole company. The soldiers quartered in the Praetorium were recruited from non-Jewish inhabitants of Palestine and assigned to the military governor.

15:17 purple robe. Probably an old military cloak, whose color suggested royalty (see Mt 27:28). crown of thorns. Made of a prickly plant (the Greek word means simply "briers"), of which there are many in Palestine. Both robe and crown were parts of the mock royal attire placed on Jesus.

15:18 Hail, king of the Jews! A mocking salutation that corresponded to "Hail, Caesar!"

15:19 spit on him. Probably a parody on the kiss of homage that was customary in the Near East when in the presence of royalty.

him on the head with a staff and spit on him. Falling on their knees, they paid homage to him. [20]And when they had mocked him, they took off the purple robe and put his own clothes on him. Then they led him out[n] to crucify him.

The Crucifixion

[21]A certain man from Cyrene,[o] Simon, the father of Alexander and Rufus,[p] was passing by on his way in from the country, and they forced him to carry the cross.[q] [22]They brought Jesus to the place called Golgotha (which means The Place of the Skull). [23]Then they offered him wine mixed with myrrh,[r] but he did not take it. [24]And they crucified him. Dividing up his clothes, they cast lots[s] to see what each would get.

[25]It was the third hour when they crucified him. [26]The written notice of the charge against him read: THE KING OF THE JEWS.[t] [27]They crucified two robbers with him, one on his right and one on his left.[v] [29]Those who passed by hurled insults at him, shaking their heads[u] and saying, "So! You who are going to destroy the temple and build it in three days,[v] [30]come down from the cross and save yourself!"

[31]In the same way the chief priests and the teachers of the law mocked him[w] among themselves. "He saved others," they said, "but he can't save himself! [32]Let this Christ,[wx] this King of Israel,[y] come down now from the cross, that we may see and believe." Those crucified with him also heaped insults on him.

The Death of Jesus

15:33–41pp — Mt 27:45–56; Lk 23:44–49

[33]At the sixth hour darkness came over the whole land until the ninth hour.[z] [34]And at the ninth hour Jesus cried out in a loud voice, "Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani?"—which means, "My God, my God, why have you forsaken me?"[xa]

[35]When some of those standing near heard this, they said, "Listen, he's calling Elijah."

[36]One man ran, filled a sponge with wine vinegar,[b] put it on a stick, and offered it to Jesus to drink. "Now leave him alone. Let's see if Elijah comes to take him down," he said.

[v]27 Some manuscripts left, [28]and the scripture was fulfilled which says, "He was counted with the lawless ones" (Isaiah 53:12) [w]32 Or Messiah [x]34 Psalm 22:1

15:21 Cyrene. An important city of Libya in North Africa that had a large Jewish population. Simon. Probably a Jew who was in Jerusalem to celebrate the Passover (cf. "Jews of Cyrene" in Ac 6:9). Alexander and Rufus. Only mentioned by Mark, but referred to in such a way as to suggest that they were known by those to whom he wrote. Rufus may be the same person spoken of in Ro 16:13. carry the cross. Men condemned to death were usually forced to carry a beam of the cross, often weighing 30 or 40 pounds, to the place of crucifixion. Jesus started out by carrying his (see Jn 19:17), but he had been so weakened by flogging that Simon was pressed into service.

15:22 The Place of the Skull. It may have been a small hill (though the Gospels say nothing of a hill) that looked like a skull, or it may have been so named because of the many executions that took place there.

15:23 wine mixed with myrrh. The Talmud gives evidence that incense was mixed with wine to deaden pain (see Pr 31:6). Myrrh is a spice derived from plants native to the Arabian deserts and parts of Africa (see note on Ge 37:25).

15:24 crucified. A Roman means of execution in which the victim was nailed to a cross. Heavy, wrought-iron nails were driven through the wrists and the heel bones. If the life of the victim lingered too long, death was hastened by breaking his legs (see Jn 19:33). Archaeologists have discovered the bones of a crucified man, near Jerusalem, dating between A.D. 7 and 66, which shed light on the position of the victim when nailed to the cross. Only slaves, the basest of criminals, and offenders who were not Roman citizens were executed in this manner. First-century authors vividly describe the agony and disgrace of being crucified. Dividing up his clothes. It was the accepted right of the executioner's squad to claim the minor possessions of the victim. Jesus' clothing probably consisted of an under and an outer garment, a belt, sandals and possibly a head covering.

15:25 third hour. See notes on Lk 23:44; Jn 19:14.

15:26 charge against him. It was customary to write the charge on a wooden board that was carried before the victim as he walked to the place of execution, and then the board was affixed to the cross above his head. THE KING OF THE JEWS. The wording of the charge differs slightly in the Gospels, but all agree that Jesus was crucified for claiming to be the king of the Jews.

15:27 two robbers. According to Roman law, robbery was not a capital offense. Mark's term must signify men guilty of insurrection, crucified for high treason.

15:28 The earlier and more reliable Greek manuscripts do not have this verse (see NIV text note on v. 27). It was probably added from Lk 22:37 (quoting Isa 53:12). Mark does not include many OT quotations.

15:29 See note on 14:58.

15:32 Christ. See NIV text note on Mt 1:17. Those crucified with him. One of the criminals later repented and asked to be included in Jesus' kingdom (Lk 23:39–43).

15:33 sixth hour. 12:00 noon. ninth hour. 3:00 P.M.

15:34 The words were spoken in Aramaic (but with some Hebrew characteristics), one of the languages commonly spoken in Palestine in Jesus' day. They reveal how deeply Jesus felt his abandonment by God as he bore the sins of mankind (but see introduction to Ps 22 and note on Ps 22:1).

15:35 Elijah. The bystanders mistook the first words of Jesus' cry ("Eloi, Eloi") to be a cry for Elijah. It was commonly believed that Elijah would come in times of critical need to protect the innocent and rescue the righteous (v. 36).

15:36 wine vinegar. A sour wine used by laborers and soldiers.

15:37 With a loud cry. The strength of the cry indicates that Jesus did not die the ordinary death of those crucified, who normally suffered long periods of complete agony,

38The curtain of the temple was torn in two from top to bottom.[d] 39And when the centurion,[e] who stood there in front of Jesus, heard his cry and[y] saw how he died, he said, "Surely this man was the Son[z] of God!"[f]

40Some women were watching from a distance.[g] Among them were Mary Magdalene, Mary the mother of James the younger and of Joses, and Salome.[h] 41In Galilee these women had followed him and cared for his needs. Many other women who had come up with him to Jerusalem were also there.[i]

The Burial of Jesus

15:42–47pp — Mt 27:57–61; Lk 23:50–56; Jn 19:38–42

42It was Preparation Day (that is, the day before the Sabbath).[j] So as evening approached, 43Joseph of Arimathea, a prominent member of the Council,[k] who was himself waiting for the kingdom of God,[l] went boldly to Pilate and asked for Jesus' body. 44Pilate was surprised to hear that he was already dead.
Summoning the centurion, he asked him if Jesus had already died. 45When he learned from the centurion[m] that it was so, he gave the body to Joseph. 46So Joseph bought some linen cloth, took down the body, wrapped it in the linen, and placed it in a tomb cut out of rock. Then he rolled a stone against the entrance of the tomb.[n] 47Mary Magdalene and Mary the mother of Joses[o] saw where he was

The Resurrection

16:1–8pp — Mt 28:1–8; Lk 24:1–10

16 When the Sabbath was over, Mary Magdalene, Mary the mother of James, and Salome bought spices[p] so that they might go to anoint Jesus' body.
2Very early on the first day of the week, just after sunrise, they were on their way to the tomb 3and they asked each other,
"Who will roll the stone away from the entrance of the tomb?"[q]

4But when they looked up, they saw that the stone, which was very large, had been rolled away. 5As they entered the tomb, they saw a young man dressed in a white robe[r] sitting on the right side, and they were alarmed.

6"Don't be alarmed," he said. "You are looking for Jesus the Nazarene,[s] who was crucified. He has risen! He is not here. See the place where they laid him.
7But go, tell his disciples and Peter, 'He is going ahead of you into Galilee. There you will see him,[t] just as he told you.' "[u]

8Trembling and bewildered, the women went out and fled from the tomb.
They said nothing to anyone, because they were afraid.

exhaustion and then unconsciousness before dying.

15:38 curtain of the temple. The curtain that separated the Holy Place from the Most Holy Place (Ex 26:31–33). The tearing of the curtain indicated that Christ had entered heaven itself for us so that we too may now enter God's very presence (Heb 9:8–10,12; 10:19–20).

15:39 centurion. A commander of 100 men in the Roman army. saw how he died. See note on v. 37. the Son of God. See notes on Mt 27:54; Lk 23:47.

15:40 Mary Magdalene. From 16:9 and Lk 8:2 we learn that Jesus had driven seven demons from her. Mary the mother of James the younger and of Joses. See v. 47; 16:1. Salome. Probably the wife of Zebedee and the mother of James and John (see Mt 27:56).

15:42 Preparation Day. Friday. Since it was now late in the afternoon, there was an urgency to get Jesus' body down from the cross before sundown, when the Sabbath began.

15:43 Arimathea. See note on Mt 27:57. Council. The Sanhedrin (see note on 14:55). kingdom of God. See note on Mt 3:2. Pilate. See note on v. 1. asked for Jesus' body. See note on Lk 23:52.

15:44 surprised. Crucified men often lived two or three days before dying, and the early death of Jesus was therefore extraordinary.

15:45 he gave the body to Joseph. The release of the body of one condemned for high treason, and especially to one who was not an immediate relative, was quite unusual.

15:46 tomb cut out of rock. Matthew tells us that the tomb belonged to Joseph and that it was new, i.e., it had not been used before (Mt 27:60). The location of the tomb was in a garden very near the site of the crucifixion (see Jn 19:41). There is archaeological evidence that the traditional site of the burial of Jesus (the Church of the Holy Sepulchre in Jerusalem) was a cemetery during the first century A.D. stone. A disc-shaped stone that rolled in a sloped channel.

16:1 Sabbath was over. About 6:00 P.M. Saturday evening. No purchases were possible on the Sabbath. Mary Magdalene, Mary the mother of James, and Salome. See note on 15:40. spices. Embalming was not practiced by the Jews. These spices were brought as an act of devotion and love. to anoint Jesus' body. The women had no expectation of Jesus' resurrection.

16:3 Who will roll the stone away . . . ? Setting the large stone in place was a relatively easy task, but once it had slipped into the groove cut in bedrock in front of the entrance it was very difficult to remove.

16:5 As they entered the tomb. Inside the large opening of the facade of the tomb was a forechamber, at the back of which a low rectangular opening led to the burial chamber. young man dressed in a white robe. Identified by Matthew (28:2) as an angel. See note on Lk 24:4.

16:6 crucified. See note on 15:24. He has risen! The climax of Mark's Gospel is the resurrection, without which Jesus' death, though noble, would be indescribably tragic. But in the resurrection he is declared to be the Son of God with power (Ro 1:4).

16:7 and Peter. Jesus showed special concern for Peter, in view of his confident boasting and subsequent denials (14:29–31,66–72). just as he told you. See 14:28.

[The earliest manuscripts and some other ancient witnesses do not have Mark 16:9–20.]

9When Jesus rose early on the first day of the week, he appeared first to Mary Magdalene,[v] out of whom he had driven seven demons. 10She went and told those who had been with him and who were mourning and weeping. 11When they heard that Jesus was alive and that she had seen him, they did not believe it.[w] 12Afterward Jesus appeared in a different form to two of them while they were walking in the country.[x] 13These returned and reported it to the rest; but they did not believe them either.

14Later Jesus appeared to the Eleven as they were eating; he rebuked them for their lack of faith and their stubborn refusal to believe those who had seen him after he had risen.[y]

19After the Lord Jesus had spoken to them, he was taken up into heaven[g] and he sat at the right hand of God.[h] 20Then the disciples went out and preached everywhere, and the Lord worked with them and confirmed his word by the signs[i] that accompanied it.

16:9–20 Serious doubt exists as to whether these verses belong to the Gospel of Mark. They are absent from important early manuscripts and display certain peculiarities of vocabulary, style and theological content that are unlike the rest of Mark. # Luke

See "The Synoptic Gospels," p. 1431.

Author

The author's name does not appear in the book, but much unmistakable evidence points to Luke. This Gospel is a companion volume to the book of Acts, and the language and structure of these two books indicate that both were written by the same person. They are addressed to the same individual, Theophilus, and the second volume refers to the first (Ac 1:1). Certain sections in Acts use the pronoun "we" (Ac 16:10–17; 20:5–15; 21:1–18; 27:1—28:16), indicating that the author was with Paul when the events described in these passages took place. By process of elimination, Paul's "dear friend Luke, the doctor" (Col 4:14), and "fellow worker" (Phm 24) becomes the most likely candidate. His authorship is supported by the uniform testimony of early Christian writings (e.g., the Muratorian Canon, A.D. 170, and the works of Irenaeus, c. 180).

Luke was probably a Gentile by birth, well educated in Greek culture, a physician by profession, a companion of Paul at various times from his second missionary journey to his first imprisonment in Rome, and a loyal friend who remained with the apostle after others had deserted him (2Ti 4:11).

Antioch (of Syria) and Philippi are among the places suggested as his hometown.

Recipient and Purpose

The Gospel is specifically directed to Theophilus (1:3), whose name means "one who loves God" and almost certainly refers to a particular person rather than to lovers of God in general. The use of "most excellent" with the name further indicates an individual, and supports the idea that he was a Roman official or at least of high position and wealth. He was possibly Luke's patron, responsible for seeing that the writings were copied and distributed. Such a dedication to the publisher was common at that time.

Theophilus, however, was more than a publisher. The message of this Gospel was intended for his own instruction (1:4) as well as the instruction of those among whom the book would be circulated. The fact that the Gospel was initially directed to Theophilus does not narrow or limit its purpose. It was written to strengthen the faith of all believers and to answer the attacks of unbelievers. It was presented to displace disconnected and ill-founded reports about Jesus. Luke wanted to show that the place of the Gentile Christian in God's kingdom is based on the teaching of Jesus. He wanted to commend the preaching of the gospel to the whole world.

Date and Place of Writing

The two most commonly suggested periods for dating the Gospel of Luke are: (1) A.D. 59–63, and (2) the 70s or the 80s (see chart on "Dating the Synoptic Gospels," p. 1431).

The place of writing was probably Rome, though Achaia, Ephesus and Caesarea also have been suggested. The place to which it was sent would, of course, depend on the residence of Theophilus. By its detailed designations of places in Palestine, the Gospel seems to be intended for readers who were unfamiliar with that land. Antioch, Achaia and Ephesus are possible destinations.

Style

Luke had outstanding command of the Greek language. His vocabulary is extensive and rich, and his style at times approaches that of classical Greek (as in the preface, 1:1–4), while at other times it is quite Semitic (1:5—2:52)—often like the Septuagint, Greek translation of the OT. His vocabulary seems to reveal geographical and cultural sensitivity, in that it varies with the particular land or people being described. When Luke refers to Peter in a Jewish setting, he uses more Semitic language than when he refers to Paul in a Hellenistic setting.

Characteristics

The third Gospel presents the works and teachings of Jesus that are especially important for understanding the way of salvation. Its scope is complete from the birth of Christ to his ascension, its arrangement is orderly, and it appeals to both Jews and Gentiles. The writing is characterized by literary excellence, historical detail and warm, sensitive understanding of Jesus and those around him.

Since the Synoptic Gospels (Matthew, Mark and Luke) report many of the same episodes in Jesus' life, one would expect much similarity in their accounts. The dissimilarities reveal the distinctive emphases of the separate writers. Luke's characteristic themes include: (1) universality, recognition of Gentiles as well as Jews in God's plan; (2) emphasis on prayer, especially Jesus' praying before important occasions (see note on 3:21); (3) joy at the announcement of the gospel or "good news" (see note on 1:14); (4) special concern for the role of women; (5) special interest in the poor (some of the rich were included among Jesus' followers, but he seemed closest to the poor); (6) concern for sinners (Jesus was a friend to those deep in sin); (7) stress on the family circle (Jesus' activity included men, women and children, with the setting frequently in the home); (8) repeated use of the title "Son of Man" (e.g., 19:10); (9) emphasis on the Holy Spirit (see note on 4:1).

Sources

Although Luke acknowledges that many others had written of Jesus' life (1:1), he does not indicate that he relied on these reports for his own writing. He used personal investigation and arrangement, based on testimony from "eyewitnesses and servants of the word" (1:2)—including the preaching and oral accounts of the apostles. His language differences from the other Synoptics and his blocks of distinctive material (e.g., 10:1—18:14; 19:1–28) indicate independent work, though he obviously used some of the same sources.

Plan

Luke's account of Jesus' ministry can be divided into three major parts: (1) the events that occurred in and around Galilee (4:14—9:50), (2) those that took place in Judea and Perea (9:51—19:27), and (3) those of the final week in Jerusalem (19:28—24:53). Luke's uniqueness is especially seen in the amount of material devoted to Jesus' closing ministry in Judea and Perea. This material is predominantly made up of accounts of Jesus' discourses. Sixteen of the 23 parables that occur in Luke are found here (9:51—18:14; 19:1–28). Of the 20 miracles recorded in Luke, only 4 appear in these sections. Already in the ninth chapter (see note on 9:51), Jesus is seen anticipating his final appearance in Jerusalem and his crucifixion (see note on 13:22).

The main theme of the Gospel is the nature of Jesus' Messiahship and mission, and a key verse is 19:10.

Introduction

1:1–4Ref — Ac 1:1

1 Many have undertaken to draw up an account of the things that have been fulfilled[a] among us, 2just as they were handed down to us by those who from the first[a] were eyewitnesses[b] and servants of the word.[c] 3Therefore, since I myself have carefully investigated everything from the beginning, it seemed good also to me to write an orderly account[d] for you, most excellent[e] Theophilus,[f] 4so that you may know the certainty of the things you have been taught.[g]

The Birth of John the Baptist Foretold

5In the time of Herod king of Judea[h] there was a priest named Zechariah, who belonged to the priestly division of Abijah;[i] his wife Elizabeth was also a descendant of Aaron. 6Both of them were upright in the sight of God, observing all the Lord's commandments and regulations blamelessly.[j] 7But they had no children, because Elizabeth was barren; and they were both well along in years.

8Once when Zechariah's division was on duty and he was serving as priest before God,[k] 9he was chosen by lot,[l] according to the custom of the priesthood, to go into the temple of the Lord and burn incense.[m] 10And when the time for the burning of incense came, all the assembled worshipers were praying outside.[n]

11Then an angel[o] of the Lord appeared to him, standing at the right side of the altar of incense.[p] 12When Zechariah saw him, he was startled and was gripped with fear.[q] 13But the angel said to him: "Do not be afraid,[r] Zechariah; your prayer has been heard. Your wife Elizabeth will bear you a son, and you are to give him the name John.[s] 14He will be a joy and delight to you, and many will rejoice because of his birth,[t] 15for he will be great in the sight of the Lord. He is never to take wine or other fermented drink,[u] and he will be filled with the Holy Spirit[v] even from birth.[bw] 16Many of the people of Israel will he bring back to the Lord their God. 17And he will go on before the Lord,[x] in

1:1–4 Using language similar to classical Greek, Luke begins with a formal preface, common to historical works of that time, in which he states his purpose for writing and identifies the recipient. He acknowledges other reports on the subject, shows the need for this new work and states his method of approach and sources of information.

1:1 things ... fulfilled among us. Things prophesied in the OT and now fully accomplished.

1:2 handed down. A technical term for passing on information as authoritative tradition. eyewitnesses and servants of the word. Luke, though not an eyewitness himself, received testimony from those who were eyewitnesses and were dedicated to spreading the gospel. Apostolic preaching and interviews with other individuals associated with Jesus' ministry were available to him.

1:3 carefully investigated. Luke's account was exact in historical detail, having been checked in every way. Inspiration by the Holy Spirit did not rule out human effort. The account is complete, extending back to the very beginning of Jesus' earthly life. It has an orderly, meaningful arrangement that is generally chronological. most excellent. Paul used this respectful term for governors Felix (Ac 24:3) and Festus (Ac 26:25). Theophilus. See Introduction: Recipient and Purpose.

1:4 so that you may know. Cf. John's purpose for writing (Jn 20:31).

1:5 Herod king of Judea. Herod the Great reigned 37–4 B.C., and his kingdom included Samaria, Galilee, much of Perea and Coele-Syria (see note on Mt 2:1). The time referred to here is probably c. 7–6 B.C. Zechariah ... Elizabeth. Both were of priestly descent from the line of Aaron. priestly division of Abijah. From the time of David the priests were organized into 24 divisions, and Abijah was one of the "heads of the priestly families" (Ne 12:12; see 1Ch 24:10).

1:6 upright ... blamelessly. They were not sinless, but were faithful and sincere in keeping God's commandments. Simeon (2:25) and Joseph (Mt 1:19) are given similar praise.

1:7 no children. See note on v. 25.

1:9 It was one of the priest's duties to keep the incense burning on the altar in front of the Most Holy Place. He supplied it with fresh incense before the morning sacrifice and again after the evening sacrifice (Ex 30:6–8). Ordinarily a priest would have this privilege very infrequently, and sometimes never, since duty assignments were determined by lot. chosen by lot. See notes on Ne 11:1; Pr 16:33; Jnh 1:7; Ac 1:26.

1:11 angel of the Lord. See v. 19. right side of the altar. The south side, since the altar faced east.

1:12 fear. A common reaction, as with Gideon (Jdg 6:22–23) and Manoah (Jdg 13:22).

1:13 Do not be afraid. This word of reassurance is given many times in both OT and NT (see, e.g., v. 30; 2:10 and note; 5:10; 8:50; 12:7,32; Ge 15:1; 21:17; 26:24; Dt 1:21; Jos 8:1). John. The name (derived from Hebrew) means "The LORD is gracious."

1:14 joy. A keynote of these opening chapters (vv. 14,44,47,58; 2:10).

1:15 wine or other fermented drink. It appears likely that John was to be subject to the Nazirite vow of abstinence from alcoholic drinks (Nu 6:1–4). If so, he was a lifelong Nazirite, as were Samson (Jdg 13:4–7) and Samuel (1Sa 1:11).

1:17 Elijah. John was not Elijah returning in the flesh (Jn 1:21), but he functioned like that OT preacher of repen-the spirit and power of Elijah,[v] to turn the hearts of the fathers to their children[z] and the disobedient to the wisdom of the righteous—to make ready a people prepared for the Lord."[a]

[18]Zechariah asked the angel, "How can I be sure of this?[b] I am an old man and my wife is well along in years."[c]

[19]The angel answered, "I am Gabriel.[d] I stand in the presence of God, and I have been sent to speak to you and to tell you this good news. [20]And now you will be silent and not able to speak[e] until the day this happens, because you did not believe my words, which will come true at their proper time."

[21]Meanwhile, the people were waiting for Zechariah and wondering why he stayed so long in the temple. [22]When he came out, he could not speak to them. They realized he had seen a vision in the temple, for he kept making signs[f] to them but remained unable to speak.

[23]When his time of service was completed, he returned home. [24]After this his wife Elizabeth became pregnant and for five months remained in seclusion. [25]"The Lord has done this for me," she said. "In these days he has shown his favor and taken away my disgrace[g] among the people."

The Birth of Jesus Foretold

[26]In the sixth month, God sent the angel Gabriel[h] to Nazareth,[i] a town in Galilee, [27]to a virgin pledged to be married to a man named Joseph,[j] a descendant of David. The virgin's name was Mary. [28]The angel went to her and said, "Greetings, you who are highly favored! The Lord is with you."

[29]Mary was greatly troubled at his words and wondered what kind of greeting this might be. [30]But the angel said to her, "Do not be afraid,[k] Mary, you have found favor with God.[l] [31]You will be with child and give birth to a son, and you are to give him the name Jesus.[m] [32]He will be great and will be called the Son of the Most High.[n] The Lord God will give him the throne of his father David,[o] [33]and he will reign over the house of Jacob forever; his kingdom[p] will never end."[q]

[34]"How will this be," Mary asked the angel, "since I am a virgin?"

[35]The angel answered, "The Holy Spirit will come upon you,[r] and the power of the Most High[s] will overshadow you. So the holy one[t] to be born will be called[c] the Son of God.[u] [36]Even Elizabeth your relative is going to have a [c]35 Or So the child to be born will be called holy.

tance and was therefore a fulfillment of Mal 4:5–6 (see Mt 11:14; 17:10–13). to turn the hearts of the fathers to their children. See note on Mal 4:6. people prepared for the Lord. John helped fulfill Isaiah's prophecy (Isa 40:3–5), as Luke shows in 3:4–6.

1:18 How can I be sure . . . ? Like Abraham (Ge 15:8), Gideon (Jdg 6:17) and Hezekiah (2Ki 20:8), Zechariah asked for a sign (cf. 1Co 1:22).

1:19 Gabriel. The name can mean "God is my hero" or "mighty man of God." Only two angels are identified by name in Scripture: Gabriel (Da 8:16; 9:21) and Michael (Da 10:13,21; Jude 9; Rev 12:7).

1:21 the people were waiting for Zechariah. They were waiting for him to come out of the Holy Place and pronounce the Aaronic blessing (Nu 6:24–26).

1:23 his time of service. Each priest was responsible for a week's service at the temple once every six months. home. See v. 39.

1:24 remained in seclusion. In joy, devotion and gratitude that the Lord had taken away her childlessness.

1:25 The Lord . . . has shown his favor and taken away my disgrace. Not only did lack of children deprive the parents of personal happiness, but it was generally considered to indicate divine disfavor and often brought social reproach (see Ge 16:2, Sarai; 25:21, Rebekah; 30:23, Rachel; 1Sa 1:1–18, Hannah; see also Lev 20:20–21; Ps 128:3; Jer 22:30).

1:26–35 This section speaks clearly of the virginal conception of Jesus (vv. 27,34–35; see Mt 1:18–25). The conception was the work of the Holy Spirit; the eternal Second Person of the Trinity, while remaining God, also "became flesh" (Jn 1:14). From conception he was fully God and fully man.

1:26 In the sixth month. That is, from the time of John's conception. Nazareth. See note on Mt 2:23.

1:27 pledged to be married. See note on Mt 1:18.

1:28 Greetings. Ave in the Latin Vulgate (from which comes "Ave Maria").

1:31 Jesus. See NIV text note on Mt 1:21 for the meaning of this name.

1:32 the Son of the Most High. This title has two senses: (1) the divine Son of God and (2) the Messiah born in time. His Messiahship is clearly referred to in the following context (vv. 32b–33). Most High. A title frequently used of God in both the OT and NT (see vv. 35,76; 6:35; 8:28; Ge 14:19 and note; 2Sa 22:14; Ps 7:10). throne. Promised in the OT to the Messiah descended from David (2Sa 7:13,16; Ps 2:6–7; 89:26–27; Isa 9:6–7). his father David. Mary was a descendant of David, as was Joseph (see Mt 1:16); so Jesus could rightly be called a "son" of David.

1:33 forever. See Ps 45:6; Rev 11:15. his kingdom will never end. Although Christ's role as mediator will one day be finished (see 1Co 15:24–28), the kingdom of the Father and Son, as one, will never end.

1:34 How will this be . . . ? Mary did not ask in disbelief, as Zechariah did (v. 20). See v. 45.

1:35 holy one. Jesus never sinned (2Co 5:21; Heb 4:15; 7:26; 1Pe 2:22; 1Jn 3:5).

1:36 Elizabeth your relative. It is not known whether she was a cousin, aunt or other relation.

- becoming the earthly mother of Jesus Christ though she was a virgin
- her consistent presence with Jesus throughout his life child[v] in her old age, and she who was said to be barren is in her sixth month. [37]For nothing is impossible with God."[w] [38]"I am the Lord's servant," Mary answered. "May it be to me as you have said." Then the angel left her.

Mary Visits Elizabeth

[39]At that time Mary got ready and hurried to a town in the hill country of Judea,[x] [40]where she entered Zechariah's home and greeted Elizabeth. [41]When Elizabeth heard Mary's greeting, the baby leaped in her womb, and Elizabeth was filled with the Holy Spirit.[y] [42]In a loud voice she exclaimed: "Blessed are you among women,[z] and blessed is the child you will bear! [43]But why am I so favored, that the mother of my Lord[a] should come to me? [44]As soon as the sound of your greeting reached my ears, the baby in my womb leaped for joy. [45]Blessed is she who has believed that what the Lord has said to her will be accomplished!"

Mary's Song

1:46–53pp — 1Sa 2:1–10

[46]And Mary said:

"My soul glorifies the Lord[b]
[47] and my spirit rejoices in God my Savior,[c] [48]for he has been mindful of the humble state of his servant.[d]
From now on all generations will call me blessed,[e] [49] for the Mighty One has done great things[f] for me—holy is his name.[g]
[50]His mercy extends to those who fear him, from generation to generation.[h] [51]He has performed mighty deeds with his arm;[i] he has scattered those who are proud in their inmost thoughts.[j] [52]He has brought down rulers from their thrones but has lifted up the humble.[k] [53]He has filled the hungry with good things[l] but has sent the rich away empty.
[54]He has helped his servant Israel, remembering to be merciful[m]
[55]to Abraham and his descendants[n] forever, even as he said to our fathers."

[56]Mary stayed with Elizabeth for about three months and then returned home.

The Birth of John the Baptist

[57]When it was time for Elizabeth to have her baby, she gave birth to a son. [58]Her neighbors and relatives heard that the Lord had shown her great mercy, and they shared her joy.

[59]On the eighth day they came to circumcise[o] the child, and they were going to name him after his father Zechariah, [60]but his mother spoke up and said, "No! He is to be called John."[p]

[61]They said to her, "There is no one among your relatives who has that name."

[62]Then they made signs[q] to his father, to find out what he would like to name the child. [63]He asked for a writing tablet, and to everyone's astonishment he wrote, "His name is John."[r] [64]Immediately his mouth was opened and his tongue was loosed, and he began to speak,[s] praising God. [65]The neighbors were all filled with awe, and throughout the hill country of Judea[t] people were talking about all these things. [66]Everyone who heard this wondered about it, asking, "What then is this child going to be?" For the Lord's hand was with him.[u]

Zechariah's Song

1:44 for joy. In some mysterious way the Holy Spirit produced this remarkable response in the unborn baby.

1:46–55 One of four hymns preserved in Lk 1–2 (see vv. 68–79; 2:14; 2:29–32 and notes). This hymn of praise is known as the Magnificat because in the Latin Vulgate translation the opening word is Magnificat, which means "glorifies." This song is like a psalm, and should also be compared with the song of Hannah (1Sa 2:1–10; see note on 1Sa 2:1).

1:50 those who fear him. Those who revere God and live in harmony with his will.

1:51 his arm. A figurative description of God's powerful acts. God does not have a body; he is spirit (Jn 4:24).

1:53 hungry. Both physically and spiritually (Mt 5:6; Jn 6:35). The coming of God's kingdom will bring changes affecting every area of life.

1:54 remembering to be merciful. The song ends with an assurance that God will be true to his promises to his people (see Ge 22:16–18).

1:56 three months. Mary evidently remained with Elizabeth until John's birth and then returned to her home in Nazareth.

1:59 name him after his father. An accepted practice in that day, as seen in Josephus (Life, 1).

1:62 they made signs to his father. Apparently assuming that since he was mute he was also deaf.

1:63 a writing tablet. Probably a small wooden board covered with wax.

1:67 filled with the Holy Spirit ... prophesied. Prophecy not only predicts but also proclaims God's word. Both Zechariah and Elizabeth (vv. 41–45) were enabled by the Holy Spirit to express what otherwise they could not have formulated.

68 "Praise be to the Lord, the God of Israel,[x]
because he has come and has redeemed his people.[y] 69 He has raised up a horn[dz] of salvation for us in the house of his servant David[a] 70 (as he said through his holy prophets of long ago),[b]
71 salvation from our enemies and from the hand of all who hate us—
72 to show mercy to our fathers[c] and to remember his holy covenant,[d]
73 the oath he swore to our father
Abraham:[e]
74 to rescue us from the hand of our enemies, and to enable us to serve him[f]
without fear[g]
75 in holiness and righteousness[h] before him all our days.

76 And you, my child, will be called a prophet[i] of the Most High;[j] for you will go on before the Lord to prepare the way for him,[k] 77 to give his people the knowledge of salvation through the forgiveness of their sins,[l]
78 because of the tender mercy of our God,
by which the rising sun[m] will come to us from heaven
79 to shine on those living in darkness and in the shadow of death,[n] to guide our feet into the path of peace."[o]

80 And the child grew and became strong in spirit;[p] and he lived in the desert until he appeared publicly to Israel.

The Birth of Jesus

2 In those days Caesar Augustus[q] issued a decree that a census should be taken of the entire Roman world.[r] 2 (This was the first census that took place while Quirinius was governor of Syria.)[s] 3 And everyone went to his own town to register.

4 So Joseph also went up from the town of Nazareth in Galilee to Judea, to Bethlehem[t] the town of David, because he belonged to the house and line of David. 5 He went there to register with Mary, who was pledged to be married to him[u] and was expecting a child. 6 While they were there, the time came for the baby to be born, 7 and she gave birth to her firstborn, a son. She wrapped him in cloths and placed him in a manger, because there was no room for them in the inn.

1:68–79 This hymn is called Benedictus ("Praise be") because the opening word in the Latin Vulgate translation is Benedictus. Whereas the Magnificat (see note on 1:46–55) is similar to a psalm, the Benedictus is more like a prophecy.

1:68 redeemed his people. Not limited to national security (v. 71), but including moral and spiritual salvation (vv. 75,77).

1:69 horn. Indicates strength (see NIV text note), as in the horn of an animal (Dt 33:17; Ps 22:21; Mic 4:13). Jesus, the Messiah from the house of David, has the power to save.

1:74 to rescue us. No doubt including liberation from all kinds of oppression and bondage as well as deliverance from sin.

1:76 called a prophet of the Most High. Whereas Jesus will be called "the Son of the Most High" (see v. 32 and note). prepare the way. See note on 3:4.

1:78 the rising sun. A reference to the coming of the Messiah (see also similar figures in Nu 24:17; Isa 9:2; 60:1; Mal 4:2). Zechariah not only praised his own son, the "prophet of the Most High" (vv. 76–77), but also gave honor to the coming Messiah (vv. 78–79).

1:79 those living in darkness. The lost, separated from God (Isa 9:1–2; Mt 4:16). peace. See note on 2:14.

1:80 lived in the desert. John's parents, old at his birth, probably died while he was young, and he apparently grew up in the Desert of Judea, which lies between Jerusalem and the Dead Sea. until he appeared publicly. John's preaching and announcing the coming of the Messiah marked his public appearance. He was about 30 years old when he began his ministry (see note on 3:23).

2:1 Luke is the only Gospel writer who relates his narrative to dates of world history. Caesar Augustus. The first and (according to many) greatest Roman emperor (31 B.C.–A.D. 14). Having replaced the republic with an imperial form of government, he expanded the empire to include the entire Mediterranean world, established the famed Pax Romana ("Roman Peace") and ushered in the golden age of Roman literature and architecture. Augustus (which means "exalted") was a title voted to him by the Roman senate in 27 B.C. census. Used for military service and taxation. Jews, however, were exempt from Roman military service. God used the decree of a pagan emperor to fulfill the prophecy of Mic 5:2. Roman world. See map No. 13 at the end of the study Bible.

2:2 Quirinius. This official was possibly in office for two terms, first 6–4 B.C. and then A.D. 6–9. A census is associated with each term. This is the first; Ac 5:37 refers to the second.

2:3 own town. Probably the town of their ancestral origin.

2:4 Nazareth . . . Bethlehem. Bethlehem, the town where David was born (1Sa 17:12; 20:6), was at least a three-day trip from Nazareth. Judea. The Greco-Roman designation for the southern part of Palestine, earlier included in the kingdom of Judah.

2:5 with Mary. Mary too was of the house of David and probably was required to enroll. In Syria, the Roman province in which Palestine was located, women 12 years of age and older were required to pay a poll tax and therefore to register. pledged to be married. See note on Mt 1:18.

2:7 cloths. Strips of cloth were regularly used to wrap a newborn infant. manger. The feeding trough of the animals. This is the only indication that Christ was born in a stable. Very early tradition suggests that it was a cave, perhaps used as a stable.

The Shepherds and the Angels

8And there were shepherds living out in the fields nearby, keeping watch over their flocks at night. 9An angel[v] of the Lord appeared to them, and the glory of the Lord shone around them, and they were terrified. 10But the angel said to them, "Do not be afraid.[w] I bring you good news of great joy that will be for all the people. 11Today in the town of David a Savior[x] has been born to you; he is Christ[ey] the Lord.[z] 12This will be a sign[a] to you: You will find a baby wrapped in cloths and lying in a manger."

13Suddenly a great company of the heavenly host appeared with the angel, praising God and saying,

14"Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace[b] to men on whom his favor rests."

15When the angels had left them and gone into heaven, the shepherds said to one another, "Let's go to Bethlehem and see this thing that has happened, which the Lord has told us about."

16So they hurried off and found Mary and Joseph, and the baby, who was lying in the manger.[c] 17When they had seen him, they spread the word concerning what had been told them about this child, 18and all who heard it were amazed at what the shepherds said to them. 19But Mary treasured up all these things and pondered them in her heart.[d]

20The shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God[e] for all the things they had heard and seen, which were just as they had been told.

Jesus Presented in the Temple

21On the eighth day, when it was time to circumcise him,[f] he was named Jesus, the name the angel had given him before he had been conceived.[g]

22When the time of their purification according to the Law of Moses[h] had been completed, Joseph and Mary took him to Jerusalem to present him to the Lord 23(as it is written in the Law of the Lord, "Every firstborn male is to be consecrated to the Lord"[f]),[i] 24and to offer a sacrifice in keeping with what is said in the Law of the Lord: "a pair of doves or two young pigeons."[gj]

25Now there was a man in Jerusalem called Simeon, who was righteous and devout.[k] He was waiting for the consolation of Israel,[l] and the Holy Spirit was upon him. 26It had been revealed to him by the Holy Spirit that he would not die before he had seen the Lord's Christ. 27Moved by the Spirit, he went into the temple courts. When the parents brought in the child Jesus to do for him what the custom of the Law required,[m] 28Simeon took him in his arms and praised God, saying:

[e]11 Or Messiah. "The Christ" (Greek) and "the Messiah" (Hebrew) both mean "the Anointed One"; also in verse 26. [f]23 Exodus 13:2,12 [g]24 Lev. 12:8

2:8 living out in the fields. Does not necessarily mean it was summer, the dry season. The flocks reserved for temple sacrifice were kept in the fields near Bethlehem throughout the year. keeping watch. Against thieves and predatory animals.

2:9 An angel of the Lord. A designation used throughout the birth narratives (see 1:11; Mt 1:20,24; 2:13,19). The angel in 1:11 is identified as Gabriel (1:19; see 1:26).

2:10 Do not be afraid. Fear was the common reaction to angelic appearances (see note on 1:13), and encouragement was needed.

2:11 town of David. Bethlehem. Savior. Many Jews were looking for a political leader to deliver them from Roman rule, while others were hoping for a savior to deliver them from sickness and physical hardship. But this announcement concerns the Savior who would deliver from sin and death (see Mt 1:21; Jn 4:42). Christ. See NIV text note. the Lord. A designation originally reserved for God but later applied to the Messiah as well (see Ac 2:36; Php 2:11).

2:14 See note on 1:46–55. This brief hymn is called the Gloria in Excelsis Deo, from the first words of the Latin Vulgate translation (meaning "Glory to God in the Highest"). The angels recognized the glory and majesty of God by giving praise to him. in the highest. A reference to heaven, where God dwells (cf. Mt 6:9). peace to men on whom his favor rests. Peace is not assured to all, but only to those pleasing to God—the objects of his good pleasure (see Luke's use of the words "pleased" and "pleasure" elsewhere: 3:22; 10:21; 12:32). The Roman world was experiencing the Pax Romana ("Roman Peace"), marked by external tranquillity. But the angels proclaimed a deeper, more lasting peace than that—a peace of mind and soul made possible by the Savior (v. 11). Peace with God is received by faith in Christ (Ro 5:1), and it is on believers that "his favor rests." The Davidic Messiah was called "Prince of Peace" (Isa 9:6), and Christ promised peace to his disciples (Jn 14:27). But Christ also brought conflict (the "sword"; see Mt 10:34–36; cf. Lk 12:49), for peace with God involves opposition to Satan and his work (Jas 4:4).

2:20 praising God. A term often used by Luke (1:64; 2:13,28; 5:25–26; 7:16; 13:13; 17:15,18; 18:43; 19:37; 23:47; 24:53).

2:22 their purification. Following the birth of a son, the mother had to wait 40 days before going to the temple to offer sacrifice for her purification. If she could not afford a lamb and a pigeon (or dove), then two pigeons (or doves) would be acceptable (Lev 12:2–8; cf. Lev 5:11). to Jerusalem. The distance from Bethlehem to Jerusalem was only about six miles. present him to the Lord. The firstborn of both man and animal were to be dedicated to the Lord (see v. 23; Ex 13:12–13). The animals were sacrificed, but the human beings were to serve God throughout their lives. The Levites actually served in the place of all the firstborn males in Israel (see Nu 3:11–13; 8:17–18).

2:25 the consolation of Israel. The comfort the Messiah would bring to his people at his coming (see vv. 26,38; 23:51; 24:21; Isa 40:1–2; Mt 5:4). the Holy Spirit was upon him. Not in the way common to all believers after Pentecost. Simeon was given a special insight by the Spirit so that he would recognize the "Christ."

29"Sovereign Lord, as you have promised,[n]
you now dismiss[h] your servant in peace.[o]
30For my eyes have seen your salvation,[p]
31 which you have prepared in the sight of all people, 32a light for revelation to the Gentiles and for glory to your people Israel."[q]

33The child's father and mother marveled at what was said about him. 34Then Simeon blessed them and said to Mary, his mother:[r] "This child is destined to cause the falling[s] and rising of many in Israel, and to be a sign that will be spoken against, 35so that the thoughts of many hearts will be revealed. And a sword will pierce your own soul too."

36There was also a prophetess,[t] Anna, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Asher. She was very old; she had lived with her husband seven years after her marriage, 37and then was a widow until she was eighty-four.[iu] She never left the temple but worshiped night and day, fasting and praying.[v] 38Coming up to them at that very moment, she gave thanks to God and spoke about the child to all who were looking forward to the redemption of Jerusalem.[w]

39When Joseph and Mary had done everything required by the Law of the Lord, they returned to Galilee to their own town of Nazareth.[x] 40And the child grew and became strong; he was filled with wisdom, and the grace of God was upon him.[y]

The Boy Jesus at the Temple

41Every year his parents went to Jerusalem for the Feast of the Passover.[z] 42When he was twelve years old, they went up to the Feast, according to the custom. 43After the Feast was over, while his parents were returning home, the boy Jesus stayed behind in Jerusalem, but they were unaware of it. 44Thinking he was in their company, they traveled on for a day. Then they began looking for him among their relatives and friends. 45When they did not find him, they went back to Jerusalem to look for him. 46After three days they found him in the temple courts, sitting among the teachers, listening to them and asking them questions. 47Everyone who heard him was amazed[a] at his understanding and his answers. 48When his parents saw him, they were astonished. His mother[b] said to him, "Son, why have you treated us like this? Your father[c] and I have been anxiously searching for you."

49"Why were you searching for me?" he asked. "Didn't you know I had to be in my Father's house?"[d] 50But they did not understand what he was saying to them.[e]

51Then he went down to Nazareth with them[f] and was obedient to them. But his mother treasured all these things in her heart.[g] 52And Jesus grew in wisdom

[h] 29 Or promised, / now dismiss
[i] 37 Or widow for eighty-four years

2:29–32 See note on 1:46–55. This hymn of Simeon has been called the Nunc Dimittis, from the first words of the Latin Vulgate translation, meaning "[You] now dismiss."

2:31 all people. As a Gentile himself, Luke was careful to emphasize the truth that salvation was offered for the Gentiles (v. 32) as well as for Jews.

2:33 child's father. Luke, aware of the virgin birth of Jesus (1:26–35), is referring to Joseph as Jesus' legal father.

2:34 falling and rising of many in Israel. Christ raises up those who believe in him, but is a stumbling block for those who disbelieve (see 20:17–18; 1Co 1:23; 1Pe 2:6–8). sign . . . spoken against. Christ points to the Father and his love for sinners, and those who oppose him also oppose the Father.

2:35 sword will pierce your own soul too. The word "too" indicates that Mary, as well as Jesus, would suffer deep anguish—the first reference in this Gospel to Christ's suffering and death.

2:36 prophetess. Other prophetesses were Miriam (Ex 15:20), Deborah (Jdg 4:4), Huldah (2Ki 22:14) and the daughters of Philip (Ac 21:9). Anna. Same name as OT Hannah (1Sa 1:2), which means "gracious." Anna praised God for the child Jesus as Hannah had praised God for the child Samuel (1Sa 2:1–10).

2:37 never left the temple. Herod's temple was quite large and included rooms for various uses, and Anna may have been allowed to live in one of them. This statement, however, probably means that she spent her waking hours attending and worshiping in the temple.

2:38 Jerusalem. The holy city of God's chosen people (Isa 40:2; 52:9); here it stands for Israel as a whole.

2:39 they returned to Galilee. Luke does not mention the coming of the Magi, the danger from Herod, or the flight to and return from Egypt (cf. Mt 2:1–23).

2:41 Feast of the Passover. Annual attendance at three feasts by all adult males (normally accompanied by their families) was commanded in the law: Passover, Pentecost and Tabernacles (see notes on Ex 23:14–17; Dt 16:16). Distance prevented many from attending all three, but most Jews tried to be at Passover.

2:42 twelve years old. At age 12 boys began preparing to take their places in the religious community the following year.

2:46 three days. One day traveling away from Jerusalem, a second traveling back and a third looking for him. the teachers. The rabbis, experts in Judaism.

2:49 in my Father's house. Jesus pointed to his personal duty to his Father in heaven. He contrasted his "my Father" with Mary's "Your father" (v. 48). At 12 years of age he was aware of his unique relationship to God. But he was also obedient to his earthly parents (v. 51).

2:52 Luke appears to have borrowed the words of 1Sa 2:26. And Jesus grew. Although Jesus was God, there is no indication that he had all knowledge and wisdom from birth. He seems to have matured like any other boy.

and stature, and in favor with God and men.[h]

John the Baptist Prepares the Way

3:2-10pp — Mt 3:1-10; Mk 1:3-5
3:16,17pp — Mt 3:11,12; Mk 1:7,8

3 In the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius Caesar—when Pontius Pilate[i] was governor of Judea, Herod[j] tetrarch of Galilee, his brother Philip tetrarch of Iturea and Traconitis, and Lysanias tetrarch of Abilene— [2]during the high priesthood of Annas and Caiaphas,[k] the word of God came to John[l] son of Zechariah[m] in the desert. [3]He went into all the country around the Jordan, preaching a baptism of repentance for the forgiveness of sins.[n] [4]As is written in the book of the words of Isaiah the prophet:

"A voice of one calling in the desert,
'Prepare the way for the Lord,
make straight paths for him.
[5]Every valley shall be filled in, every mountain and hill made low.
The crooked roads shall become straight,
the rough ways smooth.
[6]And all mankind will see God's salvation.' "[o]

[7]John said to the crowds coming out to be baptized by him, "You brood of vipers![p] Who warned you to flee from the coming wrath?[q] [8]Produce fruit in keeping with repentance. And do not begin to say to yourselves, 'We have Abraham as our father.'[r] For I tell you that out of these stones God can raise up children for Abraham. [9]The ax is already at the root of the trees, and every tree that does not produce good fruit will be cut down and thrown into the fire."[s]

[10]"What should we do then?"[t] the crowd asked.

[11]John answered, "The man with two tunics should share with him who has none, and the one who has food should do the same."[u]

[12]Tax collectors also came to be baptized.[v] "Teacher," they asked, "what should we do?"

[13]"Don't collect any more than you are required to,"[w] he told them.

[14]Then some soldiers asked him, "And what should we do?"

He replied, "Don't extort money and don't accuse people falsely[x]—be content with your pay."

[15]The people were waiting expectantly and were all wondering in their hearts if John[y] might possibly be the Christ.[kz] [16]John answered them all, "I baptize you with[l] water.[a] But one more powerful than I will come, the thongs of whose sandals I am not worthy to untie. He will

[i]6 Isaiah 40:3-5 [k]15 Or Messiah [l]16 Or in

3:1-2 Historians frequently dated an event by giving the year of the ruler's reign in which the event happened.

3:1 fifteenth year. Several possible dates could be indicated by this description, but the date A.D. 25–26 (Tiberius had authority in the provinces beginning in 11) best fits the chronology of the life of Christ. The other rulers named do not help pinpoint the beginning of John's ministry, but only serve to indicate the general historical period. Pontius Pilate. The Roman prefect who then ruled in Judea, Samaria and Idumea. Herod tetrarch of Galilee. At the death of Herod the Great (4 B.C.), his sons—Archelaus, Herod Antipas and Herod Philip—were given jurisdiction over his divided kingdom. Herod Antipas became the tetrarch of Galilee and Perea (see note on Mt 14:1). Lysanias tetrarch of Abilene. Nothing more is known of this Lysanias than that his name has been found in certain inscriptions.

3:2 the high priesthood of Annas and Caiaphas. Annas was high priest from A.D. 6 until he was deposed by the Roman official Gratus in 15. He was followed by his son Eleazar, his son-in-law Caiaphas and then four more sons. Even though Rome had replaced Annas, the Jews continued to recognize his authority (see Jn 18:13; Ac 4:6); so Luke included his name as well as that of the Roman appointee, Caiaphas. word of God. The source of John's preaching and authority for his baptizing. God's message came to John as it came to the OT prophets (cf. Jer 1:2; Eze 1:3; Hos 1:1; Joel 1:1). desert. Refers to a desolate, uninhabited area, not necessarily a sandy, waterless place.

3:3 baptism of repentance. See note on Mt 3:11. John's baptism represented a change of heart, which includes sorrow for sin and a determination to lead a holy life. forgiveness of sins. Christ would deliver the repentant person from sin's penalty by dying on the cross.

3:4 Prepare the way. Before a king made a journey to a distant country, the roads he would travel were improved. Similarly, preparation for the Messiah was made in a moral and spiritual way by the ministry of John, which focused on repentance and forgiveness of sin and the need for a Savior.

3:6 all mankind. God's salvation was to be made known to both Jews and Gentiles—a major theme of Luke's Gospel (see note on 2:31).

3:7 the coming wrath. A reference to both the destruction of Jerusalem (21:20–23), which occurred in A.D. 70, and the final judgment (Jn 3:36). But see notes on 1Th 1:10; 5:9.

3:9 ax ... at the root. A symbolic way of saying that judgment is near for those who give no evidence of repentance. fire. A symbol of judgment (Mt 7:19; 13:40–42).

3:11 two tunics. A tunic was something like a long undershirt. Since two such garments were not needed, the second should be given to a person in need of one (see 9:3).

3:12 Tax collectors. Taxes were collected for the Roman government by Jewish agents, who were especially detested for helping the pagan conqueror and for frequently defrauding their own people.

3:14 soldiers. Limited military forces were allowed for certain Jewish leaders and institutions (such as those of Herod Antipas, the police guard of the temple, and escorts for tax collectors). The professions of tax collector and soldier as such were not condemned, but the common unethical practices associated with them were.

3:16 baptize you with the Holy Spirit. Fulfilled at Pentecost (Ac 1:5; 2:4,38). and with fire. Here fire is associated with judgment (v. 17). See also the fire of Pentecost (Ac 2:3) and the fire of testing (1Co 3:13).

19But when John rebuked Herod[e] the tetrarch because of Herodias, his brother's wife, and all the other evil things he had done, 20Herod added this to them all: He locked John up in prison.[f]

The Baptism and Genealogy of Jesus

3:21,22pp — Mt 3:13–17; Mk 1:9–11
3:23–38pp — Mt 1:1–17

21When all the people were being baptized, Jesus was baptized too. And as he was praying,[g] heaven was opened 22and the Holy Spirit descended on him[h] in bodily form like a dove. And a voice came from heaven: "You are my Son,[i] whom I love; with you I am well pleased."[j]

23Now Jesus himself was about thirty years old when he began his ministry.[k] He was the son, so it was thought, of Joseph,[l]

[m] 32 Some early manuscripts Sala [n] 33 Some manuscripts Amminadab, the son of Admin, the son of Arni; other manuscripts vary widely.

3:17 His winnowing fork. See note on Ru 1:22. The chaff represents the unrepentant and the wheat the righteous. Many Jews thought that only pagans would be judged and punished when the Messiah came, but John declared that judgment would come to all who did not repent—including Jews.

3:19 rebuked Herod . . . because of Herodias. Herod Antipas had married the daughter of Aretas IV of Arabia, but divorced her to marry his own niece, Herodias, who was already his brother's (Herod Philip's) wife (see Mt 14:3; Mk 6:17).

3:20 locked John up in prison. According to Josephus, John was imprisoned in Machaerus, east of the Dead Sea (Antiquities, 18.5.2). This did not occur until sometime after the beginning of Jesus' ministry (see Jn 3:22–24), but Luke mentions it here in order to conclude his section on John's ministry before beginning his account of the beginning of Jesus' ministry (see also Mt 4:12; Mk 1:14). He later briefly alludes to John's death (9:7–9).

3:21 baptized. See note on Mt 3:15. as he was praying. Only Luke notes Jesus' praying at the time of his baptism. Jesus in prayer is one of the special themes of Luke (see 5:16; 6:12; 9:18,28–29; 11:1; 22:32,41; 23:34,46).

3:22 Holy Spirit descended. Luke specifies "in bodily form." To John, it was a sign (see Jn 1:32–34; see also note on Mk 1:10). You are my son, whom I love. See Ps 2:7; Isa 42:1; Heb 1:5. Two other times the Gospel writers record the declarations of a voice from heaven addressing Jesus: (1) on the Mount of Transfiguration (9:35), and (2) in the temple area during Jesus' final week (Jn 12:28).

3:23–38 There are several differences between Luke's genealogy and Matthew's (1:2–16). Matthew begins with Abraham (the father of the Jewish people), while Luke traces the line in the reverse order and goes back to Adam, showing Jesus' relationship to the whole human race (see note on 2:31). From Abraham to David, the genealogies of Matthew and Luke are almost the same, but from David on they are different. Some scholars suggest that this is because Matthew traces the legal descent of the house of David using only heirs to the throne, while Luke traces the complete line of Joseph to David. A more likely explanation, however, is that Matthew follows the line of Joseph (Jesus' legal father), while Luke emphasizes that of Mary (Jesus' blood relative). Although tracing a genealogy through the mother's side was unusual, so was the virgin birth. Luke's explanation here that Jesus was the son of Joseph, "so it was thought" (v. 23), brings to mind his explicit virgin birth statement (1:34–35) and suggests the importance of the role of Mary in Jesus' genealogy.

3:23 about thirty years old. Luke, a historian, relates the beginning of Jesus' public ministry both to world history (see vv. 1–2) and to the rest of Jesus' life. Thirty was the age when a Levite undertook his service (Nu 4:47) and when a man was considered mature. so it was thought. Luke had already affirmed the virgin birth (1:34–35), and here makes clear again that Joseph was not Jesus' physical father.

The Temptation of Jesus

4:1-13pp — Mt 4:1-11; Mk 1:12,13

4 Jesus, full of the Holy Spirit,[u] returned from the Jordan[v] and was led by the Spirit[w] in the desert, [2]where for forty days[x] he was tempted by the devil.[y] He ate nothing during those days, and at the end of them he was hungry.

[3]The devil said to him, "If you are the Son of God,[z] tell this stone to become bread."

[4]Jesus answered, "It is written: 'Man does not live on bread alone.'[o][a]"

[5]The devil led him up to a high place and showed him in an instant all the kingdoms of the world.[b] [6]And he said to him, "I will give you all their authority and splendor, for it has been given to me,[c] and I can give it to anyone I want to. [7]So if you worship me, it will all be yours."

[8]Jesus answered, "It is written: 'Worship the Lord your God and serve him only.'[p][d]"

[9]The devil led him to Jerusalem and had him stand on the highest point of the temple. "If you are the Son of God," he said, "throw yourself down from here. [10]For it is written:

" 'He will command his angels concerning you to guard you carefully;
[11]they will lift you up in their hands, so that you will not strike your foot against a stone.'[q][e]"

[12]Jesus answered, "It says: 'Do not put the Lord your God to the test.'[r][f]"

[13]When the devil had finished all this tempting,[g] he left him[h] until an opportune time.

4:1 full of the Holy Spirit. Luke emphasizes the Holy Spirit not only in his Gospel (1:35,41,67; 2:25–27; 3:16,22; 4:14,18; 10:21; 11:13; 12:10,12) but also in Acts, where the Spirit is mentioned 57 times. in the desert. The Desert of Judea (see Mt 3:1; see also note on 1:80).

4:2 he was tempted. See notes on Mt 4:1–11; Heb 2:18; 4:15. Luke states that Jesus was tempted for the 40 days he was fasting, and the three specific temptations recounted in Matthew and Luke seem to have occurred at the close of this period—when Jesus' hunger was greatest and his resistance lowest. The sequence of the second and third temptations differs in Matthew and Luke. Matthew probably followed the chronological order, since at the end of the mountain temptation (Matthew's third) Jesus told Satan to leave (Mt 4:10). To emphasize a certain point the Gospel writers often bring various events together, not intending to give chronological sequence. Perhaps Luke's focus here is geographical, as he concludes with Jesus in Jerusalem.

4:3 If you are. See note on Mt 4:3. tell this stone to become bread. The devil always makes his temptations seem attractive.

4:7 worship me. The devil was tempting Jesus to avoid the sufferings of the cross, which he came specifically to endure (Mk 10:45). The temptation offered an easy shortcut to world dominion.

4:9 the highest point of the temple. Either the southeast corner of the temple colonnade, from which there was a drop of some 100 feet to the Kidron Valley below, or the pinnacle of the temple proper. If you are. See note on Mt 4:3. throw yourself down. Satan was tempting Jesus to test God's faithfulness and to attract public attention dramatically.

4:10 For it is written. This time Satan also quoted Scripture, though he misused Ps 91:11–12.

4:12 Jesus answered with Scripture, as he had on each of the other two occasions, quoting from Deuteronomy (see NIV text notes here).

4:13 he left him until an opportune time. Satan continued his testing throughout Jesus' ministry (see Mk 8:33), culminating in the supreme test at Gethsemane.

4:14 in the power of the Spirit. See note on v. 1.

4:15 taught in their synagogues. See note on Mk 1:21.

4:16 He went to Nazareth. Not at the start of his ministry but perhaps almost a year later (v. 23 presupposes that Jesus had already been ministering). Probably all the events of Jn 1:19–4:42 occurred between Lk 4:13 and 4:14. as was his custom. Jesus' custom of regular worship sets an example for all his followers. to read. Jesus probably read from Isaiah in Hebrew, and then he or someone else paraphrased it in Aramaic, one of the other common languages of the day.

4:17 The scroll of the prophet Isaiah. The books of the OT were written on scrolls, kept in a special place in the synagogue and handed to the reader by a special attendant. The passage Jesus read about the Messiah (Isa 61:1–2) may have been one he chose to read, or it may have been the assigned passage for the day.

was handed to him. Unrolling it, he found the place where it is written:

18 "The Spirit of the Lord is on me,[o] because he has anointed me to preach good news[p] to the poor.
He has sent me to proclaim freedom for the prisoners and recovery of sight for the blind, to release the oppressed,
19 to proclaim the year of the Lord's favor."[sq]

20 Then he rolled up the scroll, gave it back to the attendant and sat down.[r] The eyes of everyone in the synagogue were fastened on him, 21 and he began by saying to them, "Today this scripture is fulfilled[s] in your hearing."

22 All spoke well of him and were amazed at the gracious words that came from his lips. "Isn't this Joseph's son?" they asked.[t]

23 Jesus said to them, "Surely you will quote this proverb to me: 'Physician, heal yourself! Do here in your hometown[u] what we have heard that you did in Capernaum.' "[v]

24 "I tell you the truth," he continued, "no prophet is accepted in his hometown.[w] 25 I assure you that there were many widows in Israel in Elijah's time, when the sky was shut for three and a half years and there was a severe famine throughout the land.[x] 26 Yet Elijah was not sent to any of them, but to a widow in Zarephath in the region of Sidon.[y] 27 And there were many in Israel with leprosy[t] in the time of Elisha the prophet, yet not one of them was cleansed—only Naaman the Syrian."[z]

28 All the people in the synagogue were furious when they heard this. 29 They got up, drove him out of the town,[a] and took him to the brow of the hill on which the town was built, in order to throw him down the cliff. 30 But he walked right through the crowd and went on his way.[b]

Jesus Drives Out an Evil Spirit

4:31–37pp — Mk 1:21–28

31 Then he went down to Capernaum,[c] a town in Galilee, and on the Sabbath began to teach the people. 32 They were amazed at his teaching,[d] because his message had authority.[e]

33 In the synagogue there was a man possessed by a demon, an evil[u] spirit. He cried out at the top of his voice, 34 "Ha! What do you want with us,[f] Jesus of Nazareth?[g] Have you come to destroy us? I know who you are[h]—the Holy One of God!"[i]

35 "Be quiet!" Jesus said sternly.[j] "Come out of him!" Then the demon threw the man down before them all and came out without injuring him.

36 All the people were amazed[k] and said to each other, "What is this teaching? With authority[l] and power he gives orders to evil spirits and they come out!" 37 And the news about him spread throughout the surrounding area.[m]

Jesus Heals Many

4:38–41pp — Mt 8:14–17
4:38–43pp — Mk 1:29–38

38 Jesus left the synagogue and went to the home of Simon. Now Simon's mother-in-law was suffering from a high fever,

[s]19 Isaiah 61:1,2 [t]27 The Greek word was used for various diseases affecting the skin—not necessarily leprosy. [u]33 Greek unclean; also in verse 36

4:18 This verse tells of the Messiah's ministry of preaching and healing—to meet every human need. he has anointed me. Not with literal oil (see Ex 30:22–31), but with the Holy Spirit.

4:19 the year of the Lord's favor. Not a calendar year, but the period when salvation would be proclaimed—the Messianic age. This quotation from Isa 61:1–2 alludes to the Year of Jubilee (Lev 25:8–55), when once every 50 years slaves were freed, debts were canceled and ancestral property was returned to the original family. Isaiah predicted primarily the liberation of Israel from the future Babylonian captivity, but Jesus proclaimed liberation from sin and all its consequences.

4:20 sat down. It was customary to stand while reading Scripture (v. 16) but to sit while teaching (see Mt 5:1; 26:55; Jn 8:2; Ac 16:13).

4:23 hometown. Nazareth. Although Jesus was born in Bethlehem, he was brought up in Nazareth, in Galilee (1:26; 2:39,51; Mt 2:23). Capernaum. See note on Mt 4:13.

4:26–27 Mention of Jesus' reference to God's helping two non-Israelites (1Ki 17:1–15; 2Ki 5:1–14) reflects Luke's special concern for the Gentiles. Jesus' point was that when Israel rejected God's messenger of redemption, God sent him to the Gentiles—and so it will be again if they refuse to accept Jesus (see 10:13–15; Ro 9–11).

4:26 Sidon. One of the oldest Phoenician cities, 20 miles north of Tyre. Jesus later healed a Gentile woman's daughter in this region (Mt 15:21–28).

4:28 furious. Because of Jesus' inclusion of Gentiles as recipients of God's blessing.

4:30 walked right through the crowd. Luke does not explain whether the escape was miraculous or simply the result of Jesus' commanding presence. In any case, his time (to die) had not yet come (Jn 7:30).

4:32 See note on Mk 1:22.

4:33 possessed by a demon. To pagans, "demon" meant a supernatural being, whether good or bad, but Luke makes it clear that this was an evil spirit. Such a demon could cause mental disorder (Jn 10:20), violent action (Lk 8:26–29), bodily disease (13:11,16) and rebellion against God (Rev 16:14).

4:34 Holy One of God. See note on Mk 1:24.

4:38 Simon's mother-in-law. Peter was married (1Co 9:5). a high fever. All three Synoptics tell of this miracle (Mt 8:14–15; Mk 1:29–31), but only Luke, the doctor, uses the more specific phrase "high fever."

and they asked Jesus to help her. 39So he bent over her and rebuked[n] the fever, and it left her. She got up at once and began to wait on them.

40When the sun was setting, the people brought to Jesus all who had various kinds of sickness, and laying his hands on each one,[o] he healed them.[p] 41Moreover, demons came out of many people, shouting, "You are the Son of God!"[q] But he rebuked[r] them and would not allow them to speak,[s] because they knew he was the Christ.[v]

42At daybreak Jesus went out to a solitary place. The people were looking for him and when they came to where he was, they tried to keep him from leaving them. 43But he said, "I must preach the good news of the kingdom of God[t] to the other towns also, because that is why I was sent." 44And he kept on preaching in the synagogues of Judea.[w u]

4:40 When the sun was setting. The Sabbath (v. 31) was over at sundown (about 6:00 P.M.). Until then, according to the tradition of the elders, Jews could not travel more than about two-thirds of a mile or carry a burden. Only after sundown could they carry the sick to Jesus, and their eagerness is seen in the fact that they set out while the sun was still setting.

4:41 because they knew he was the Christ. See note on Mk 1:34.

4:42 solitary place. Mark includes the words "where he prayed" (Mk 1:35).

4:43 kingdom of God. Luke's first use of this phrase; it occurs over 30 times in his Gospel. Some of its different meanings in the Bible are: the eternal kingship of God; the presence of the kingdom in the person of Jesus, the King; the approaching spiritual form of the kingdom; the future kingdom. See note on Mt 3:2.

4:44 This summary statement includes not only what has just been described (from v. 14 on) but also what lay ahead in Jesus' ministry. No express mention is made in the Synoptics of the early Judean ministry recorded in John (2:13–4:3), though it may be reflected in Mt 23:37 and Lk

Capernaum Synagogue

Capernaum was more than a seaside fishing village in the days of Jesus. It was the place that Christ chose to be the center of his ministry to the entire region of Galilee, and it possessed ideal characteristics as a point of dissemination for the gospel.

There were good reasons for this. The town itself was named Kephar Nahum, "village of (perhaps the prophet), Nahum" and was the centerpiece of a densely populated region having a bicultural flavor. On the one hand, there were numerous synagogues in Galilee (in addition to the one in Capernaum), where the ferment of Jewish religious life was profound. On the other hand, there was Hellenism, a pervasive culture already centuries old and potent in its paganism—a lifestyle that influenced manners, dress, architecture and political institutions as well.

Recent archaeological work at Capernaum has revealed a section of the pavement of a first-century synagogue below the still-existing ruins of the fourth-century one on the site. A private house later made into a church and a place of pilgrimage has yielded some evidence that may link it to the site of Simon Peter's house (Lk 4:38).

The Calling of the First Disciples

5:1–11pp — Mt 4:18–22; Mk 1:16–20; Jn 1:40–42

5 One day as Jesus was standing by the Lake of Gennesaret,[x] with the people crowding around him and listening to the word of God,[v] 2he saw at the water's edge two boats, left there by the fishermen, who were washing their nets. 3He got into one of the boats, the one belonging to Simon, and asked him to put out a little from shore. Then he sat down and taught the people from the boat.[w]

4When he had finished speaking, he said to Simon, "Put out into deep water, and let down[y] the nets for a catch."[x]

5Simon answered, "Master,[y] we've worked hard all night and haven't caught anything.[z] But because you say so, I will let down the nets."

6When they had done so, they caught such a large number of fish that their nets began to break.[a] 7So they signaled their partners in the other boat to come and help them, and they came and filled both boats so full that they began to sink.

8When Simon Peter saw this, he fell at Jesus' knees and said, "Go away from me, Lord; I am a sinful man!"[b] 9For he and all his companions were astonished at the catch of fish they had taken, 10and so were James and John, the sons of Zebedee, Simon's partners.

Then Jesus said to Simon, "Don't be afraid;[c] from now on you will catch men." 11So they pulled their boats up on shore, left everything and followed him.[d]

The Man With Leprosy

5:12–14pp — Mt 8:2–4; Mk 1:40–44

12While Jesus was in one of the towns, a man came along who was covered with leprosy.[ze] When he saw Jesus, he fell with his face to the ground and begged him, "Lord, if you are willing, you can make me clean."

13Jesus reached out his hand and touched the man. "I am willing," he said. "Be clean!" And immediately the leprosy left him.

14Then Jesus ordered him, "Don't tell anyone,[f] but go, show yourself to the priest and offer the sacrifices that Moses commanded[g] for your cleansing, as a testimony to them."

15Yet the news about him spread all the more,[h] so that crowds of people came to hear him and to be healed of their sicknesses. 16But Jesus often withdrew to lonely places and prayed.[i]

Jesus Heals a Paralytic

5:18–26pp — Mt 9:2–8; Mk 2:3–12

17One day as he was teaching, Pharisees and teachers of the law,[j] who had come from every village of Galilee and from Judea and Jerusalem, were sitting there. And the power of the Lord was present for him to heal the sick.[k]

13:34. Judea. Some manuscripts, as well as the parallel accounts (Mt 4:23; Mk 1:39), mention Galilee instead of Judea (see NIV text note). In writing to a Gentile (see Introduction: Recipient and Purpose), Luke possibly used "Judea" to refer to the whole of Palestine, the land of the Jews (23:5; Ac 10:37; 11:1,29; 26:20).

5:1 Lake of Gennesaret. Luke is the only one who calls it a lake. The other Gospel writers call it the Sea of Galilee, and John twice calls it the Sea of Tiberias (Jn 6:1; 21:1).

5:2 washing their nets. After each period of fishing, the nets were washed, stretched and prepared for use again.

5:3 sat down. The usual position for teaching (see note on 4:20). The boat provided an ideal arrangement, removed from the press of the crowd but near enough to be seen and heard.

5:7 their partners. See v. 10.

5:8 Go away from me, Lord. The nearer one comes to God, the more he feels his own sinfulness and unworthiness—as did Abraham (Ge 18:27), Job (42:6) and Isaiah (6:5).

5:11 left everything and followed him. This was not the first time these men had been with Jesus (see Jn 1:40–42; 2:1–2). Their periodic and loose association now became a closely knit fellowship as they followed the Master. The scene is the same as Mt 4:18–22 and Mk 1:16–20, but the accounts relate events from different hours of the morning.

5:12–16 The healing of the man with leprosy is described in all three of the Synoptic Gospels, but the setting is different in each. In Matthew (8:1–4) it is part of a collection of miracles; in Mark (1:40–45) and Luke it is probably one incident that occurred on the first tour of Galilee.

5:12 covered with leprosy. See NIV text note; see also note on Lev 13:2. Luke alone notes the extent of his disease. The Greek term was used in medical literature, though not concerning leprosy.

5:14 Don't tell anyone. See notes on Mt 8:4; 16:20. but go, show yourself to the priest. By this command Jesus urged the man to keep the law, to provide further proof for the actual healing, to testify to the authorities concerning his ministry and to supply ritual certification of cleansing so the man could be reinstated into society. a testimony to them. See note on Mk 1:44.

5:17 Pharisees and teachers of the law. See notes on Mt 2:4; 3:7; Mk 2:16. Opposition was rising in Galilee from these religious leaders. Pharisees. Mentioned here for the first time in Luke. Their name meaning "separated ones," they numbered about 6,000 and were spread over the whole of the Holy Land. They were teachers in the synagogues, religious examples in the eyes of the people and self-appointed guardians of the law and its proper observance. They considered the interpretations and regulations handed down by tradition to be virtually as authoritative as Scripture (Mk 7:8–13). Already Jesus had run counter to the Jewish leaders in Jerusalem (Jn 5:16–18). Now they came to a home in Capernaum (Mk 2:1–6) to hear and watch him. teachers of the law. "Scribes," who studied, interpreted and taught the law (both written and oral). The majority of these teachers belonged to the party of the Pharisees.

18Some men came carrying a paralytic on a mat and tried to take him into the house to lay him before Jesus. 19When they could not find a way to do this because of the crowd, they went up on the roof and lowered him on his mat through the tiles into the middle of the crowd, right in front of Jesus.

20When Jesus saw their faith, he said, "Friend, your sins are forgiven."[l]

21The Pharisees and the teachers of the law began thinking to themselves, "Who is this fellow who speaks blasphemy? Who can forgive sins but God alone?"[m]

22Jesus knew what they were thinking and asked, "Why are you thinking these things in your hearts? 23Which is easier: to say, 'Your sins are forgiven,' or to say, 'Get up and walk'? 24But that you may know that the Son of Man[n] has authority on earth to forgive sins. . . ." He said to the paralyzed man, "I tell you, get up, take your mat and go home." 25Immediately he stood up in front of them, took what he had been lying on and went home praising God. 26Everyone was amazed and gave praise to God.[o] They were filled with awe and said, "We have seen remarkable things today."

The Calling of Levi

5:27–32pp — Mt 9:9–13; Mk 2:14–17

27After this, Jesus went out and saw a tax collector by the name of Levi sitting at his tax booth. "Follow me,"[p] Jesus said to him, 28and Levi got up, left everything and followed him.[q]

29Then Levi held a great banquet for Jesus at his house, and a large crowd of tax collectors[r] and others were eating with them. 30But the Pharisees and the teachers of the law who belonged to their sect[s] complained to his disciples, "Why do you eat and drink with tax collectors and 'sinners'?"[t]

31Jesus answered them, "It is not the healthy who need a doctor, but the sick. 32I have not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance."[u]

Jesus Questioned About Fasting

5:33–39pp — Mt 9:14–17; Mk 2:18–22

33They said to him, "John's disciples[v] often fast and pray, and so do the disciples of the Pharisees, but yours go on eating and drinking."

34Jesus answered, "Can you make the guests of the bridegroom[w] fast while he is with them? 35But the time will come when the bridegroom will be taken from them;[x] in those days they will fast."

36He told them this parable: "No one tears a patch from a new garment and sews it on an old one. If he does, he will have torn the new garment, and the patch from the new will not match the old. 37And no one pours new wine into old wineskins. If he does, the new wine will burst the skins, the wine will run out and the wineskins will be ruined. 38No, new wine must be poured into new wineskins. 39And no one after drinking old wine wants the new, for he says, 'The old is better.' "

Lord of the Sabbath

6:1–11pp — Mt 12:1–14; Mk 2:23–3:6

6 One Sabbath Jesus was going through the grainfields, and his disciples began to pick some heads of grain, rub them in their hands and eat the kernels.[y] 2Some of the Pharisees asked, "Why are you doing what is unlawful on the Sabbath?"[z]

3Jesus answered them, "Have you never read what David did when he and his

5:31 not the healthy who need a doctor, but the sick. Not to imply that the Pharisees were "the healthy," but that a person must recognize himself as a sinner before he can be spiritually healed (see note on Mk 2:17).
5:33 John's disciples . . . fast and pray. John the Baptist had grown up in the desert and learned to subsist on a meager, austere diet of locusts and wild honey. His ministry was characterized by a sober message and a strenuous schedule. For a contrast between Jesus' ministry and John the Baptist's see 7:24–28; Mt 11:1–19. The Pharisees also had rigorous lifestyles (see note on 18:12). But Jesus went to banquets, and his disciples enjoyed a freedom not known by the Pharisees. fast. See note on Mk 2:18. While Jesus rejected fasting legalistically for display (cf. Isa 58:3–11), he himself fasted privately and permitted its voluntary use for spiritual benefit (Mt 4:2; 6:16–18).
5:35 See notes on Mk 2:19–20.
5:36 parable. See notes on Mt 13:3; Mk 4:2.
5:37 old wineskins. See note on Mt 9:17.
5:39 The old is better. Jesus was indicating the reluctance of some people to change from their traditional religious ways and try the gospel.

6:3 what David did. See note on Mk 2:25.

companions were hungry?[a] 4He entered the house of God, and taking the consecrated bread, he ate what is lawful only for priests to eat.[b] And he also gave some to his companions." 5Then Jesus said to them, "The Son of Man[c] is Lord of the Sabbath."

6On another Sabbath[d] he went into the synagogue and was teaching, and a man was there whose right hand was shriveled. 7The Pharisees and the teachers of the law were looking for a reason to accuse Jesus, so they watched him closely[e] to see if he would heal on the Sabbath.[f] 8But Jesus knew what they were thinking[g] and said to the man with the shriveled hand, "Get up and stand in front of everyone." So he got up and stood there.

9Then Jesus said to them, "I ask you, which is lawful on the Sabbath: to do good or to do evil, to save life or to destroy it?"

10He looked around at them all, and then said to the man, "Stretch out your hand." He did so, and his hand was completely restored. 11But they were furious[h] and began to discuss with one another what they might do to Jesus.

The Twelve Apostles

6:13–16pp — Mt 10:2–4; Mk 3:16–19; Ac 1:13

12One of those days Jesus went out to a mountainside to pray, and spent the night praying to God.[i] 13When morning came, he called his disciples to him and chose twelve of them, whom he also designated apostles:[j] 14Simon (whom he named Peter), his brother Andrew, James, John, Philip, Bartholomew, 15Matthew,[k] Thomas, James son of Alphaeus, Simon who was called the Zealot, 16Judas son of James, and Judas Iscariot, who became a traitor.

Blessings and Woes

6:20–23pp — Mt 5:3–12

17He went down with them and stood on a level place. A large crowd of his disciples was there and a great number of people from all over Judea, from Jerusalem, and from the coast of Tyre and Sidon,[l] 18who had come to hear him and to be healed of their diseases. Those troubled by evil[a] spirits were cured, 19and the people all tried to touch him,[m] because power was coming from him and healing them all.[n]

20Looking at his disciples, he said:

"Blessed are you who are poor, for yours is the kingdom of God.[o] 21Blessed are you who hunger now, for you will be satisfied.[p]
Blessed are you who weep now, for you will laugh.[q] 22Blessed are you when men hate you, when they exclude you[r] and insult you[s] and reject your name as evil, because of the Son of Man.[t]

23"Rejoice in that day and leap for joy,[u] because great is your reward in heaven. For that is how their fathers treated the prophets.[v]

6:4 consecrated bread. See note on Mt 12:4.
6:5 Son of Man. See note on Mk 8:31. Lord of the Sabbath. Jesus has the authority to overrule laws concerning the Sabbath, particularly as interpreted by the Pharisees (see Mt 12:8; Mk 2:27).
6:8 stand in front of everyone. So there would be no question about the healing.
6:9 which is lawful on the Sabbath . . . ? Jesus had been enduring questions and attacks from the Pharisees and now took the initiative by putting the questions to everyone in the synagogue (see note on Mk 3:4).
6:10 He looked around at them. Jesus wanted to see whether anyone objected to his question or the implied answer, but no one was bold enough to do so.
6:11 they were furious. Because they could not withstand Jesus' reasoning. Already they were plotting to take his life (Jn 5:18). See note on Mk 3:6.
6:12 Characteristically, Jesus spent the night in prayer before the important work of selecting his 12 apostles.
6:13 he called his disciples. Among those who came to hear Jesus was a group who regularly followed him and were committed to his teachings. At least 72 men were included, since this many disciples were sent out on an evangelistic campaign (10:1,17). Later, 120 believers waited and worshiped in Jerusalem following the ascension (Ac 1:15). From such disciples Jesus at this time chose 12 to be his apostles, meaning "ones sent with a special commission" (see notes on Mk 6:30; 1Co 1:1; Heb 3:1).
6:14–16 Lists of the apostles appear also in Mt 10:2–4; Mk 3:16–19; Ac 1:13. Although the order of the names varies, Peter is always first and Judas Iscariot last.
6:14 Bartholomew. Seems to be (in the Synoptics) the same as Nathanael (in John). Nathanael is associated with Philip in Jn 1:45.
6:15 Matthew. Another name for Levi. James son of Alphaeus. Probably the same as James the younger (Mk 15:40). the Zealot. See note on Mt 10:4.
6:16 Judas son of James. Another name for Thaddaeus (Mt 10:3; Mk 3:18). Judas Iscariot. Probably the only one from Judea, the rest coming from Galilee (see note on Mk 3:19).
6:17 stood on a level place. Perhaps a plateau, which would satisfy both this context and that in Mt 5:1.
6:20–49 Luke's Sermon on the Plain, apparently parallel to Matthew's Sermon on the Mount (Mt 5–7). Although this sermon is much shorter than the one in Matthew, they both begin with the Beatitudes and end with the lesson of the builders. Some of Matthew's Sermon is found in other portions of Luke (e.g., 11:2–4; 12:22–31,33–34), suggesting that the material may have been given on various occasions in Jesus' preaching.
6:20–23 See Mt 5:3–12. The Beatitudes go deeper than material poverty (v. 20) and physical hunger (v. 21). Matthew's account indicates that Jesus spoke of poverty "in spirit" (Mt 5:3) and hunger "for righteousness" (Mt 5:6).

24"But woe to you who are rich,[v] for you have already received your comfort.[w] 25Woe to you who are well fed now, for you will go hungry.[x]
Woe to you who laugh now, for you will mourn and weep.[y] 26Woe to you when all men speak well of you, for that is how their fathers treated the false prophets.[z]

Love for Enemies

6:29,30pp — Mt 5:39–42

27"But I tell you who hear me: Love your enemies, do good to those who hate you,[a] 28bless those who curse you, pray for those who mistreat you.[b] 29If someone strikes you on one cheek, turn to him the other also. If someone takes your cloak, do not stop him from taking your tunic. 30Give to everyone who asks you, and if anyone takes what belongs to you, do not demand it back.[c] 31Do to others as you would have them do to you.[d]

32"If you love those who love you, what credit is that to you?[e] Even 'sinners' love those who love them. 33And if you do good to those who are good to you, what credit is that to you? Even 'sinners' do that. 34And if you lend to those from whom you expect repayment, what credit is that to you?[f] Even 'sinners' lend to 'sinners,' expecting to be repaid in full. 35But love your enemies, do good to them,[g] and lend to them without expecting to get anything back. Then your reward will be great, and you will be sons[h] of the Most High,[i] because he is kind to the ungrateful and wicked. 36Be merciful,[j] just as your Father[k] is merciful.

Judging Others

6:37–42pp — Mt 7:1–5

37"Do not judge, and you will not be judged.[l] Do not condemn, and you will not be condemned. Forgive, and you will be forgiven.[m] 38Give, and it will be given to you. A good measure, pressed down, shaken together and running over, will be poured into your lap.[n] For with the measure you use, it will be measured to you."[o]

39He also told them this parable: "Can a blind man lead a blind man? Will they not both fall into a pit?[p] 40A student is not above his teacher, but everyone who is fully trained will be like his teacher.[q]

41"Why do you look at the speck of sawdust in your brother's eye and pay no attention to the plank in your own eye? 42How can you say to your brother, 'Brother, let me take the speck out of your eye,' when you yourself fail to see the plank in your own eye? You hypocrite, first take the plank out of your eye, and then you will see clearly to remove the speck from your brother's eye.

A Tree and Its Fruit

6:43,44pp — Mt 7:16,18,20

43"No good tree bears bad fruit, nor does a bad tree bear good fruit. 44Each tree is recognized by its own fruit.[r] People do not pick figs from thornbushes, or grapes from briers. 45The good man brings good things out of the good stored up in his heart, and the evil man brings evil things out of the evil stored up in his heart. For out of the overflow of his heart his mouth speaks.[s]

The Wise and Foolish Builders

6:47–49pp — Mt 7:24–27

46"Why do you call me, 'Lord, Lord,'[t] and do not do what I say?[u] 47I will show you what he is like who comes to me and hears my words and puts them into practice.[v] 48He is like a man building a house, who dug down deep and laid the foundation on rock. When a flood came, the torrent struck that house but could not shake it, because it was well built. 49But the one who hears my words and does not put them into practice is like a man who built a house on the ground without a foundation. The moment the torrent struck that house, it collapsed and its destruction was complete."

6:24–26 This section is a point-by-point negative counterpart of vv. 20–22.

6:27 Love your enemies. The heart of Jesus' teaching is love. While the Golden Rule (v. 31) is sometimes expressed in negative form outside the Bible, Jesus not only forbids treating others spitefully but also commands that we love everyone—even our enemies.

6:29 turn to him the other. We are not to have a retaliatory attitude. cloak . . . tunic. The cloak was the outer coat, under which the tunic was worn.

6:36 just as your Father is merciful. God's perfection should be our example and goal (see Mt 5:48).

6:37 Do not judge. Jesus did not relieve his followers of the need for discerning right and wrong (cf. vv. 43–45), but he condemned unjust and hypocritical judging of others.

6:38 poured into your lap. Probably refers to the way the outer garment was worn, leaving a fold over the belt that could be used as a large pocket to hold a measure of wheat.

6:41 speck . . . plank. Jesus used hyperbole (a figure of speech that overstates for emphasis) to sharpen the contrast and to emphasize how foolish and hypocritical it is for us to criticize someone for a fault while remaining blind to our own considerable faults.

The Faith of the Centurion

7:1–10pp — Mt 8:5–13

7 When Jesus had finished saying all this[x] in the hearing of the people, he entered Capernaum. 2There a centurion's servant, whom his master valued highly, was sick and about to die. 3The centurion heard of Jesus and sent some elders of the Jews to him, asking him to come and heal his servant. 4When they came to Jesus, they pleaded earnestly with him, "This man deserves to have you do this, 5because he loves our nation and has built our synagogue." 6So Jesus went with them.

He was not far from the house when the centurion sent friends to say to him: "Lord, don't trouble yourself, for I do not deserve to have you come under my roof. 7That is why I did not even consider myself worthy to come to you. But say the word, and my servant will be healed.[y] 8For I myself am a man under authority, with soldiers under me. I tell this one, 'Go,' and he goes; and that one, 'Come,' and he comes. I say to my servant, 'Do this,' and he does it."

9When Jesus heard this, he was amazed at him, and turning to the crowd following him, he said, "I tell you, I have not found such great faith even in Israel." 10Then the men who had been sent returned to the house and found the servant well.

Jesus Raises a Widow's Son

7:11–16Ref — 1Ki 17:17–24; 2Ki 4:32–37; Mk 5:21–24,35–43; Jn 11:1–44

11Soon afterward, Jesus went to a town called Nain, and his disciples and a large crowd went along with him. 12As he approached the town gate, a dead person was being carried out—the only son of his mother, and she was a widow. And a large crowd from the town was with her. 13When the Lord[z] saw her, his heart went out to her and he said, "Don't cry."

14Then he went up and touched the coffin, and those carrying it stood still. He said, "Young man, I say to you, get up!"[a] 15The dead man sat up and began to talk, and Jesus gave him back to his mother.

16They were all filled with awe[b] and praised God.[c] "A great prophet[d] has appeared among us," they said. "God has come to help his people."[e] 17This news about Jesus spread throughout Judea[b] and the surrounding country.[f]

Jesus and John the Baptist

7:18–35pp — Mt 11:2–19

18John's[g] disciples[h] told him about all these things. Calling two of them, 19he sent them to the Lord to ask, "Are you the one who was to come, or should we expect someone else?"

20When the men came to Jesus, they said, "John the Baptist sent us to you to ask, 'Are you the one who was to come, or should we expect someone else?' "

21At that very time Jesus cured many who had diseases, sicknesses[i] and evil spirits, and gave sight to many who were blind. 22So he replied to the messengers, "Go back and report to John what you have seen and heard: The blind receive sight, the lame walk, those who have leprosy[c] are cured, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, and the good news is preached to the poor.[j] 23Blessed is the [b]17 Or the land of the Jews [c]22 The Greek word was used for various diseases affecting the skin—not necessarily leprosy.

7:2 centurion's servant. The centurion was probably a member of Herod Antipas's forces, which were organized in Roman fashion, ordinarily in companies of 100 men. Roman centurions referred to in the NT showed characteristics to be admired (e.g., Ac 10:2; 23:17–18; 27:43). This centurion showed genuine concern for his slave, and he was admired by the Jews, who spoke favorably of him even though he was a Gentile (see vv. 5,9).

7:3 elders of the Jews. Highly respected Jews of the community, though not necessarily rulers of the synagogue. They were willing to come and plead for the centurion. In Matthew's account (Mt 8:5–13) the centurion speaks with Jesus himself, while in Luke's account he speaks with Jesus through his friends (see note on Mt 8:5).

7:6 I do not deserve to have you come under my roof. See note on Mt 8:8.

7:9 he was amazed. The amazement of Jesus is only mentioned twice, here because of belief and at Nazareth because of unbelief (Mk 6:6).

7:14 coffin. The man was probably carried in an open coffin, suggested by Jewish custom and the fact that he sat up in response to Jesus' command. This is the first of three instances of Jesus' raising someone from the dead, the others being Jairus's daughter (8:40–56) and Lazarus (Jn 11:38–44).

7:18 John's disciples. Despite John the Baptist's imprisonment, his disciples kept in contact with him and continued his ministry.

7:19 should we expect someone else? John had announced the coming of the Christ, but now he himself had been languishing in prison for months, and the work of Jesus had not brought the results John apparently expected. His disappointment was natural. He wanted reassurance—and perhaps also wanted to urge Jesus to further action.

7:22 report to John what you have seen and heard. In answer, Jesus pointed to his healing and life-restoring miracles. He did not give promises but clearly observable evidence—evidence that reflected the predicted ministry of the Messiah. the good news is preached to the poor. In Jesus' review of his works, he used an ascending scale of impressive deeds, ending with the dead raised and the good news preached to the poor. In this way, Jesus reminded John that these were the things predicted of the Messiah in the Scriptures (see Isa 29:18–21; 35:5–6; 61:1; see also Lk 4:18).

7:23 the man who does not fall away. Jesus did not want discouragement and doubt to ensnare John.

man who does not fall away on account of me."

24After John's messengers left, Jesus began to speak to the crowd about John: "What did you go out into the desert to see? A reed swayed by the wind? 25If not, what did you go out to see? A man dressed in fine clothes? No, those who wear expensive clothes and indulge in luxury are in palaces. 26But what did you go out to see? A prophet?[k] Yes, I tell you, and more than a prophet. 27This is the one about whom it is written:

" 'I will send my messenger ahead of you,
who will prepare your way before you.'[l]

28I tell you, among those born of women there is no one greater than John; yet the one who is least in the kingdom of God[m] is greater than he."

29(All the people, even the tax collectors, when they heard Jesus' words, acknowledged that God's way was right, because they had been baptized by John.[n] 30But the Pharisees and experts in the law[o] rejected God's purpose for themselves, because they had not been baptized by John.)

31"To what, then, can I compare the people of this generation? What are they like? 32They are like children sitting in the marketplace and calling out to each other:

" 'We played the flute for you,
and you did not dance;
we sang a dirge,
and you did not cry.'

33For John the Baptist came neither eating bread nor drinking wine,[p] and you say, 'He has a demon.' 34The Son of Man came eating and drinking, and you say, 'Here is a glutton and a drunkard, a friend of tax collectors and "sinners."'[q] 35But wisdom is proved right by all her children."

Jesus Anointed by a Sinful Woman

7:37–39Ref — Mt 26:6–13; Mk 14:3–9; Jn 12:1–8
7:41,42Ref — Mt 18:23–34

36Now one of the Pharisees invited Jesus to have dinner with him, so he went to the Pharisee's house and reclined at the table. 37When a woman who had lived a sinful life in that town learned that Jesus was eating at the Pharisee's house, she brought an alabaster jar of perfume, 38and as she stood behind him at his feet weeping, she began to wet his feet with her tears. Then she wiped them with her hair, kissed them and poured perfume on them.

39When the Pharisee who had invited him saw this, he said to himself, "If this man were a prophet,[r] he would know who is touching him and what kind of woman she is—that she is a sinner."

40Jesus answered him, "Simon, I have something to tell you."

"Tell me, teacher," he said.

41"Two men owed money to a certain moneylender. One owed him five hundred denarii,[e] and the other fifty. 42Neither of them had the money to pay him back, so he canceled the debts of both. Now which of them will love him more?"

43Simon replied, "I suppose the one who had the bigger debt canceled."

"You have judged correctly," Jesus said.

[d] 27 Mal. 3:1 [e] 41 A denarius was a coin worth about a day's wages.

7:24 What did you go . . . to see? John was not a weak messenger, swayed by the pressures of human opinion. On the contrary, he was a true prophet.

7:26 more than a prophet. John was the unique prophet sent to prepare the way for the Messiah.

7:28 one who is least in the kingdom of God. See note on Mt 11:11.

7:30 experts in the law. A designation used by Luke (see 10:25,37; 11:45–46,52; 14:3; see also Mt 22:35) for the "scribes" (the teachers of the law), most of whom were Pharisees (see note on 5:17). rejected God's purpose. Tax collectors had shown their willingness to repent by accepting John's baptism, whereas the Pharisees showed their rejection of God's message by refusing to be baptized.

7:32 like children sitting in the marketplace. People had rejected both John and Jesus, but for different reasons—like children who refuse to play either a joyful game or a mournful one. They would not associate with John when he followed the strictest of rules or with Jesus when he freely associated with all kinds of people.

7:34 a friend of tax collectors and "sinners." Jesus ate and talked with people who were religious and social outcasts. He even called a tax collector to be an apostle (5:27–32).

7:35 wisdom is proved right by all her children. In contrast to the rejection by foolish critics, spiritually wise persons could see that the ministries of both John and Jesus were godly, despite their differences. See note on Mt 11:19.

7:36 one of the Pharisees. See note on 5:17. His motive may have been to entrap Jesus rather than to learn from him.

7:37 a woman who had lived a sinful life. A prostitute. She must have heard Jesus preach, and in repentance she determined to lead a new life. She came out of love and gratitude, in the understanding that she could be forgiven. alabaster jar. A long-necked, globular bottle. perfume. A perfumed ointment.

7:38 stood behind him at his feet. Jesus reclined on a couch with his feet extended away from the table, which made it possible for the woman to wipe his feet with her hair and still not disturb him. poured perfume on them. The anointing, perhaps originally intended for Jesus' head, was instead applied to his feet. A similar act was performed by Mary of Bethany just over a week before the crucifixion (Jn 12:3).

7:41 five hundred denarii. See NIV text note.

44Then he turned toward the woman and said to Simon, "Do you see this woman? I came into your house. You did not give me any water for my feet,[s] but she wet my feet with her tears and wiped them with her hair. 45You did not give me a kiss,[t] but this woman, from the time I entered, has not stopped kissing my feet. 46You did not put oil on my head,[u] but she has poured perfume on my feet. 47Therefore, I tell you, her many sins have been forgiven—for she loved much. But he who has been forgiven little loves little."

48Then Jesus said to her, "Your sins are forgiven."[v]

49The other guests began to say among themselves, "Who is this who even forgives sins?"

50Jesus said to the woman, "Your faith has saved you;[w] go in peace."[x]

The Parable of the Sower

8:4–15pp — Mt 13:2–23; Mk 4:1–20

8 After this, Jesus traveled about from one town and village to another, proclaiming the good news of the kingdom of God.[y] The Twelve were with him, 2and also some women who had been cured of evil spirits and diseases: Mary (called Magdalene)[z] from whom seven demons had come out; 3Joanna the wife of Cuza, the manager of Herod's[a] household; Susanna; and many others. These women were helping to support them out of their own means.

4While a large crowd was gathering and people were coming to Jesus from town after town, he told this parable: 5"A farmer went out to sow his seed. As he was scattering the seed, some fell along the path; it was trampled on, and the birds of the air ate it up. 6Some fell on rock, and when it came up, the plants withered because they had no moisture. 7Other seed fell among thorns, which grew up with it and choked the plants. 8Still other seed fell on good soil. It came up and yielded a crop, a hundred times more than was sown."

When he said this, he called out, "He who has ears to hear, let him hear."[b]

9His disciples asked him what this parable meant. 10He said, "The knowledge of the secrets of the kingdom of God has been given to you,[c] but to others I speak in parables, so that,

> " 'though seeing, they may not see;
> though hearing, they may not understand.'[f][d]

11"This is the meaning of the parable: The seed is the word of God.[e] 12Those along the path are the ones who hear, and then the devil comes and takes away the word from their hearts, so that they may not believe and be saved. 13Those

7:44 water for my feet. The minimal gesture of hospitality.

7:47 for she loved much. Her love was evidence of her forgiveness, but not the basis for it. Verse 50 clearly states that she was saved by faith. See Eph 1:7.

7:50 Your faith has saved you. Her sins were forgiven and she could experience God's peace (see 1:79 and note on 2:14).

8:1 Jesus traveled about. Jesus' ministry had been centered in Capernaum, and much of his preaching was in synagogues, but now he traveled again from town to town on a second tour of the Galilean countryside. For the first tour see 4:43–44; Mt 4:23–25; Mk 1:38–39. For the third tour see note on 9:1–6. kingdom of God. See note on 4:43.

8:2 Mary (called Magdalene). Her hometown was Magdala. She is not to be confused with the sinful woman of ch. 7 or Mary of Bethany (Jn 11:1).

8:3 Susanna. Nothing more is known of her. helping to support them. Jesus and his disciples did not provide for themselves by miracles, but were supported by the service and means of such grateful people as these women.

8:4 parable. From this point on Jesus used parables (see notes on Mt 13:3; Mk 4:2) more extensively as a means of teaching. They were particularly effective and easy to remember because he used familiar scenes. Although parables clarified Jesus' teaching, they also included hidden meanings needing further explanation. These hidden meanings challenged the sincerely interested to further inquiry, and taught truths that Jesus wanted to conceal from unbelievers (see v. 10). From parables Jesus' enemies could find no direct statements to use against him. The parable of the sower is one of three parables recorded in each of the Synoptic Gospels (Mt 13:1–23; Mk 4:1–20). The others are those of the mustard seed (13:19; Mt 13:31–32; Mk 4:30–32) and of the vineyard (20:9–19; Mt 21:33–46; Mk 12:1–12).

8:5 to sow his seed. In Eastern practice the seed was sometimes sown first and the field plowed afterward. Roads and pathways went directly through many fields, and the traffic made much of the surface too hard for seed to take root in.

8:6 on rock. On a thin layer of soil that covered solid rock. Any moisture that fell there soon evaporated, and the germinating seed withered and died (see Mt 13:5–6).

8:8 a hundred times more. Luke's version is more abbreviated than Matthew's (13:8) and Mark's (4:8), but the point is the same: The quantity of increase depends on the quality of soil. let him hear. A challenge for listeners to understand the message and appropriate it for themselves.

8:9 His disciples. They included "the Twelve and the others" (Mk 4:10).

8:10 secrets of the kingdom of God. Truths that can be known only by revelation from God (cf. Eph 3:2–5; 1Pe 1:10–12). See note on Mk 4:11. though seeing, they may not see. This quotation from Isaiah (6:9) does not express a desire that some would not understand, but simply states the sad truth that those who are not willing to receive Jesus' message will find the truth hidden from them. Their ultimate fate is implied in the fuller quotation in Mt 13:14–15 (see note on Mk 4:12).

8:11 the word of God. The message that comes from God.

8:12 may not believe. The devil's purpose is that people will not hear with understanding and therefore will not appropriate the message and be saved.

8:13 They believe for a while. This kind of belief is superficial and does not save. It is similar to what on the rock are the ones who receive the word with joy when they hear it, but they have no root. They believe for a while, but in the time of testing they fall away.[f] [14]The seed that fell among thorns stands for those who hear, but as they go on their way they are choked by life's worries, riches[g] and pleasures, and they do not mature. [15]But the seed on good soil stands for those with a noble and good heart, who hear the word, retain it, and by persevering produce a crop.

A Lamp on a Stand

[16]"No one lights a lamp and hides it in a jar or puts it under a bed. Instead, he puts it on a stand, so that those who come in can see the light.[h] [17]For there is nothing hidden that will not be disclosed, and nothing concealed that will not be known or brought out into the open.[i] [18]Therefore consider carefully how you listen. Whoever has will be given more; whoever does not have, even what he thinks he has will be taken from him."[j]

Jesus' Mother and Brothers

8:19–21pp — Mt 12:46–50; Mk 3:31–35

[19]Now Jesus' mother and brothers came to see him, but they were not able to get near him because of the crowd. [20]Someone told him, "Your mother and brothers[k] are standing outside, wanting to see you."

[21]He replied, "My mother and brothers are those who hear God's word and put it into practice."[l]

Jesus Calms the Storm

8:22–25pp — Mt 8:23–27; Mk 4:36–41
8:22–25Ref — Mk 6:47–52; Jn 6:16–21

[22]One day Jesus said to his disciples, "Let's go over to the other side of the lake." So they got into a boat and set out. [23]As they sailed, he fell asleep. A squall came down on the lake, so that the boat was being swamped, and they were in great danger.

[24]The disciples went and woke him, saying, "Master, Master,[m] we're going to drown!"

He got up and rebuked[n] the wind and the raging waters; the storm subsided, and all was calm.[o] [25]"Where is your faith?" he asked his disciples.

In fear and amazement they asked one another, "Who is this? He commands even the winds and the water, and they obey him."

The Healing of a Demon-possessed Man

8:26–37pp — Mt 8:28–34
8:26–39pp — Mk 5:1–20

[26]They sailed to the region of the Gerasenes,[g] which is across the lake from Galilee. [27]When Jesus stepped ashore, he was met by a demon-possessed man from the town. For a long time this man had not worn clothes or lived in a house, but had lived in the tombs. [28]When he saw Jesus, he cried out and fell at his feet, shouting at the top of his voice, "What do you want with me,[p] Jesus, Son of the Most High God?[q] I beg you, don't torture me!" [29]For Jesus had commanded the evil[h] spirit to come out of the man. Many times it had seized him,

[g]26 Some manuscripts Gadarenes; other manuscripts Gergesenes; also in verse 37 [h]29 Greek unclean

James calls "dead" (Jas 2:17,26) or "useless" faith (Jas 2:20).

8:16 lights a lamp. Although Jesus couched much of his message in parables, he intended that the disciples make the truths known as widely as possible (see note on 11:33). puts it on a stand. See note on Mt 5:15.

8:17 This verse explains v. 16. It is the destiny of the truth to be made known (cf. 12:2). The disciples were to begin a proclamation that would become universal.

8:18 consider carefully how you listen. The disciples heard not only for themselves but also for those to whom they would minister (see Mk 4:24; cf. Jas 1:19–22). Truth that is not understood and appropriated will be lost (19:26), but truth that is used will be multiplied.

8:19 Jesus' mother and brothers came. See note on Mk 3:21. More is known about their motive from Mk 3:21,31–32. The family, thinking he was "out of his mind," probably wanted to get him away from his heavy schedule. brothers. Did not believe in Jesus at this time (Jn 7:5). Various interpretations concerning their relationship to Jesus arose in the early church: They were sons of Joseph by a previous marriage (according to Epiphanius) or were cousins (said Jerome). The most natural conclusion (suggested by Helvidius) is that they were the sons of Joseph and Mary, younger half brothers of Jesus. Four of these brothers are named in Mk 6:3, where sisters are also mentioned. Since Joseph is not mentioned here, it is likely that he had died.

8:21 Jesus' reply was not meant to reject his natural family but to emphasize the higher priority of his spiritual relationship to those who believed in him.

8:23 squall. See note on Mk 4:37.

8:26 region of the Gerasenes. The Gospels describe the location of this event in two ways: (1) the region of the Gerasenes (see note on Mk 5:1); (2) the region of the Gadarenes (see note on Mt 8:28). Some manuscripts of Matthew, Mark and Luke read "Gergesenes" (see NIV text note here), but this spelling may have been introduced in an attempt to resolve the differences.

8:27 demon-possessed man. See note on 4:33. Matthew (8:28) refers to two demon-possessed men, but Mark (5:2) and Luke probably mention only the one who was prominent and did the talking. tombs. An isolated burial ground avoided by most people (but see note on Mk 5:3).

8:28 Son of the Most High God. Cf. 1:32; 4:34. The title "Most High God" was commonly used by Gentiles (see Ge 14:19 and note; Ac 16:17); its use here perhaps indicates that this man was not a Jew (but see note on Mk 1:24).

and though he was chained hand and foot and kept under guard, he had broken his chains and had been driven by the demon into solitary places.

30Jesus asked him, "What is your name?"

"Legion," he replied, because many demons had gone into him. 31And they begged him repeatedly not to order them to go into the Abyss.[r]

32A large herd of pigs was feeding there on the hillside. The demons begged Jesus to let them go into them, and he gave them permission. 33When the demons came out of the man, they went into the pigs, and the herd rushed down the steep bank into the lake[s] and was drowned.

34When those tending the pigs saw what had happened, they ran off and reported this in the town and countryside, 35and the people went out to see what had happened. When they came to Jesus, they found the man from whom the demons had gone out, sitting at Jesus' feet,[t] dressed and in his right mind; and they were afraid. 36Those who had seen it told the people how the demon-possessed[u] man had been cured. 37Then all the people of the region of the Gerasenes asked Jesus to leave them,[v] because they were overcome with fear. So he got into the boat and left.

38The man from whom the demons had gone out begged to go with him, but Jesus sent him away, saying, 39"Return home and tell how much God has done for you." So the man went away and told all over town how much Jesus had done for him.

A Dead Girl and a Sick Woman

8:40–56pp — Mt 9:18–26; Mk 5:22–43

40Now when Jesus returned, a crowd welcomed him, for they were all expecting him. 41Then a man named Jairus, a ruler of the synagogue,[w] came and fell at Jesus' feet, pleading with him to come to his house 42because his only daughter, a girl of about twelve, was dying.

As Jesus was on his way, the crowds almost crushed him. 43And a woman was there who had been subject to bleeding[x] for twelve years,[i] but no one could heal her. 44She came up behind him and touched the edge of his cloak,[y] and immediately her bleeding stopped.

45"Who touched me?" Jesus asked.

When they all denied it, Peter said, "Master,[z] the people are crowding and pressing against you."

46But Jesus said, "Someone touched me;[a] I know that power has gone out from me."[b]

47Then the woman, seeing that she could not go unnoticed, came trembling and fell at his feet. In the presence of all the people, she told why she had touched him and how she had been instantly healed. 48Then he said to her, "Daughter, your faith has healed you.[c] Go in peace."[d]

49While Jesus was still speaking, someone came from the house of Jairus, the synagogue ruler.[e] "Your daughter is dead," he said. "Don't bother the teacher any more."

50Hearing this, Jesus said to Jairus, "Don't be afraid; just believe, and she will be healed."

51When he arrived at the house of Jairus, he did not let anyone go in with him except Peter, John and James,[f] and the child's father and mother. 52Meanwhile, all the people were wailing and mourning[g] for her. "Stop wailing," Jesus said. "She is not dead but asleep."[h]

53They laughed at him, knowing that she was dead. 54But he took her by the hand and said, "My child, get up!"[i] 55Her spirit returned, and at once she stood up. Then Jesus told them to give her something to eat. 56Her parents were

8:30 What is your name? Jesus asked the man his name, but it was the demons who replied, thus showing they were in control. Legion. See note on Mk 5:9.

8:31 Abyss. A place of confinement for evil spirits and for Satan (see note on Rev 9:1).

8:32 pigs. Pigs were unclean to Jews, and eating them was forbidden (Lev 11:7–8), but this was the Decapolis, a predominantly Gentile territory. he gave them permission. See note on Mt 8:32.

8:39 Return home and tell how much God has done for you. Although the man wanted to follow Jesus, he was directed to make the miracle known in his own native territory. There was no danger here of interference with Jesus' ministry (see note on Mk 5:19).

8:41 ruler of the synagogue. The ruler was responsible for conducting services, selecting participants and maintaining order (see note on Mk 5:22).

8:43 bleeding. The hemorrhage had made her ceremonially unclean for 12 years (see Lev 15:19–30). no one could heal her. Comparison with Mk 5:26 shows the restraint of Luke the physician in describing the failure of doctors to help her.

8:45 Who touched me? For the woman's good and for a testimony to the crowd, Jesus insisted that the miracle be made known.

8:46 power has gone out. See note on Mk 5:30.

8:48 Daughter. A tender address used nowhere else in Jesus' recorded words (cf. 23:28). Go in peace. Cf. 7:50.

8:50 will be healed. See note on Mk 5:34.

8:52 wailing and mourning. See note on Mk 5:38. not dead but asleep. Jesus meant that she was not permanently dead (see Jn 11:11–14 for a similar statement about Lazarus).

8:56 ordered them not to tell. See notes on Mt 8:4; Mk 5:43. Further publicity at this time concerning a raising from the dead would have been counterproductive to astonished, but he ordered them not to tell anyone what had happened.[j]

Jesus Sends Out the Twelve

9:3–5pp — Mt 10:9–15; Mk 6:8–11
9:7–9pp — Mt 14:1,2; Mk 6:14–16

9 When Jesus had called the Twelve together, he gave them power and authority to drive out all demons[k] and to cure diseases,[l] 2and he sent them out to preach the kingdom of God[m] and to heal the sick. 3He told them: "Take nothing for the journey—no staff, no bag, no bread, no money, no extra tunic.[n] 4Whatever house you enter, stay there until you leave that town. 5If people do not welcome you, shake the dust off your feet when you leave their town, as a testimony against them."[o] 6So they set out and went from village to village, preaching the gospel and healing people everywhere.

7Now Herod[p] the tetrarch heard about all that was going on. And he was perplexed, because some were saying that John[q] had been raised from the dead,[r] 8others that Elijah had appeared,[s] and still others that one of the prophets of long ago had come back to life.[t] 9But Herod said, "I beheaded John. Who, then, is this I hear such things about?" And he tried to see him.[u]

Jesus Feeds the Five Thousand

9:10–17pp — Mt 14:13–21; Mk 6:32–44; Jn 6:5–13
9:13–17Ref — 2Ki 4:42–44

10When the apostles[v] returned, they reported to Jesus what they had done. Then he took them with him and they withdrew by themselves to a town called Bethsaida,[w] 11but the crowds learned about it and followed him. He welcomed them and spoke to them about the kingdom of God,[x] and healed those who needed healing.

12Late in the afternoon the Twelve came to him and said, "Send the crowd away so they can go to the surrounding villages and countryside and find food and lodging, because we are in a remote place here."

13He replied, "You give them something to eat."

They answered, "We have only five loaves of bread and two fish—unless we go and buy food for all this crowd." 14(About five thousand men were there.)

But he said to his disciples, "Have them sit down in groups of about fifty each." 15The disciples did so, and everybody sat down. 16Taking the five loaves and the two fish and looking up to heaven, he gave thanks and broke them.[y] Then he gave them to the disciples to set before the people. 17They all ate and were satisfied, and the disciples picked up twelve basketfuls of broken pieces that were left over.

Jesus' ministry.

9:1–6 A new phase of Jesus' ministry began when he sent out the apostles to do the type of preaching, teaching and healing that they had observed him doing (Mt 9:35). This was the third tour of Galilee by Jesus and his disciples (see note on 8:1). On the first tour Jesus traveled with the four fishermen; on the second all 12 were with him; on the third Jesus traveled alone after sending out the Twelve two by two.

9:1 the Twelve. The apostles (see 6:13). power and authority. Special power to heal (see 5:17; 8:46) and authority in teaching and control over evil spirits. demons. Evil spirits (see note on 4:33).

9:3 Take nothing. No excess baggage that would encumber travel, not even the usual provisions. They were to be entirely dependent on the people with whom they were staying (see note on Mk 6:8).

9:4 stay there. They were not to move from house to house, seeking better lodging, but use only one home as headquarters while preaching in a community.

9:5 shake the dust off your feet. A sign of repudiation for their rejection of God's message and a gesture showing separation from everything associated with the place (see 10:11; see also notes on Mt 10:14; Ac 13:51).

9:7 Herod the tetrarch. See note on Mt 14:1. John had been raised from the dead. See note on Mk 6:16. Luke does not give details about John's death (see Mt 14:1–12; Mk 6:17–29), which occurred about this time, but simply notes that it had taken place (v. 9).

9:8 Elijah had appeared. See notes on 1:17; Mk 9:12.

9:9 he tried to see him. Herod's desire to see Jesus was not fulfilled until Jesus' trial (23:8–12).

9:10–17 The feeding of the 5,000 is the only miracle besides Jesus' resurrection that is reported in all four Gospels (see notes on Mk 6:30–44; Jn 6:1–14).

9:10 Bethsaida. See note on Mt 11:21. Jesus must have retired to a remote area near the town (v. 12).

9:12 Late in the afternoon. After the preaching and healing, the question was raised about food and lodging because they were in an isolated place. Jesus may have introduced the question (see Jn 6:5), but the Synoptics indicate that the disciples were also concerned.

9:14 sit down in groups of about fifty. See note on Mk 6:40.

9:17 picked up twelve basketfuls of broken pieces. This act served as an example of avoiding wastefulness and as a demonstration that everyone had been adequately fed (see note on Mk 6:43).

9:18 Who do the crowds say I am? The report brought by the disciples was the same as the one that reached Herod (see vv. 7–8). This event occurred to the north, outside Herod's territory, in the vicinity of Caesarea Philippi (see Mt 16:13 and note; see also note on Mk 7:24).

ers, that one of the prophets of long ago has come back to life."[b]

20"But what about you?" he asked. "Who do you say I am?"

Peter answered, "The Christ[j] of God."[c]

21Jesus strictly warned them not to tell this to anyone.[d] 22And he said, "The Son of Man[e] must suffer many things[f] and be rejected by the elders, chief priests and teachers of the law,[g] and he must be killed[h] and on the third day[i] be raised to life."[j]

23Then he said to them all: "If anyone would come after me, he must deny himself and take up his cross daily and follow me.[k] 24For whoever wants to save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for me will save it.[l] 25What good is it for a man to gain the whole world, and yet lose or forfeit his very self? 26If anyone is ashamed of me and my words, the Son of Man will be ashamed of him[m] when he comes in his glory and in the glory of the Father and of the holy angels.[n] 27I tell you the truth, some who are standing here will not taste death before they see the kingdom of God."

The Transfiguration

9:28–36pp — Mt 17:1–8; Mk 9:2–8

28About eight days after Jesus said this, he took Peter, John and James[o] with him and went up onto a mountain to pray.[p] 29As he was praying, the appearance of his face changed, and his clothes became as bright as a flash of lightning. 30Two men, Moses and Elijah, 31appeared in glorious splendor, talking with Jesus. They spoke about his departure,[q] which he was about to bring to fulfillment at Jerusalem. 32Peter and his companions were very sleepy,[r] but when they became fully awake, they saw his glory and the two men standing with him. 33As the men were leaving Jesus, Peter said to him, "Master,[s] it is good for us to be here. Let us put up three shelters—one for you, one for Moses and one for Elijah." (He did not know what he was saying.)

34While he was speaking, a cloud appeared and enveloped them, and they were afraid as they entered the cloud. 35A voice came from the cloud, saying, "This is my Son, whom I have chosen;[t] listen to him."[u] 36When the voice had spoken, they found that Jesus was alone. The disciples kept this to themselves, and told no one at that time what they had seen.[v]

[j] 20 Or Messiah

9:20 Peter answered. He was the spokesman for the disciples. The Christ of God. See NIV text note on 2:11. This predicted Deliverer (the Messiah) had been awaited for centuries (see Jn 4:25; see also notes on Mt 16:18; Mk 8:29).

9:21 warned them not to tell. The people had false notions about the Messiah and needed to be taught further before Jesus identified himself explicitly to the public. He had a crucial schedule to keep and could not be interrupted by premature reactions (see notes on Mt 8:4; 16:20; Mk 1:34).

9:22 Son of Man. See note on Mk 8:31. must suffer. Jesus' first explicit prediction of his death (for later references see v. 44; 12:50; 17:25; 18:31–33; cf. 24:7,25–27).

9:23 take up his cross daily. To follow Jesus requires self-denial, complete dedication and willing obedience. Luke emphasizes continued action, and "daily" is not mentioned explicitly in the parallel accounts (Mt 16:24–26; Mk 8:34). Disciples from Galilee knew what the cross meant, for hundreds of men had been executed by this means in their region.

9:24 whoever loses his life for me. A saying of Jesus found in all four Gospels and in two Gospels more than once (Mt 10:38–39; 16:24–25; Mk 8:34–35; Lk 14:26–27; 17:33; and, in slightly different form, Jn 12:25). No other saying of Jesus is given such emphasis.

9:26 If anyone is ashamed. See 12:9; see also note on Mk 8:38.

9:27 See note on Mt 16:28. kingdom of God. See note on Mt 3:2.

9:28 About eight days. Frequently used to indicate a week (e.g., Jn 20:26 in the Greek; see note on Mt 17:1). Peter, John and James. These three were also with Jesus at the healing of Jairus's daughter (8:51) and in his last visit to Gethsemane (Mk 14:33). onto a mountain. Although Mount Tabor is the traditional site of the Mount of Transfiguration, its distance from Caesarea Philippi (the vicinity of the last scene), its height (about 1,800 feet) and its occupation by a fortress make it unlikely. Mount Hermon fits the context much better by being both closer and higher (over 9,000 feet; see Mk 9:2). pray. Again Luke points out the place of prayer in an important event.

9:30 Moses and Elijah. Moses, the great OT deliverer and lawgiver, and Elijah, the representative of the prophets. Moses' work had been finished by Joshua, Elijah's by Elisha (another form of the name Joshua). They now spoke with Jesus (whose Hebrew name was Joshua) about the "exodus" he was about to accomplish, by which he would deliver his people from the bondage of sin and bring to fulfillment the work of both Moses and Elijah (see note on 1Ki 19:16).

9:31 departure. Greek exodos, a euphemism for Jesus' approaching death. It may also link Jesus' saving death and resurrection with God's saving of his people out of Egypt.

9:32 sleepy. Perhaps the event was at night. saw his glory. See note on Ex 33:18.

9:33 three shelters. Temporary structures to prolong the visit of the three important persons: lawgiver, prophet and Messiah. The idea was not appropriate, however, because Jesus had a work to finish in his few remaining days on earth (see note on Mk 9:5).

9:35 whom I have chosen. Or "the Chosen One," related to a Jewish title found in Dead Sea Scrolls literature, and possibly echoing Isa 42:1. See 23:35. have chosen. Parallel to "love" (Mt 17:5; see 2Pe 1:17).

The Healing of a Boy With an Evil Spirit

9:37–42,43–45pp — Mt 17:14–18,22,23; Mk 9:14–27,30–32

37The next day, when they came down from the mountain, a large crowd met him. 38A man in the crowd called out, "Teacher, I beg you to look at my son, for he is my only child. 39A spirit seizes him and he suddenly screams; it throws him into convulsions so that he foams at the mouth. It scarcely ever leaves him and is destroying him. 40I begged your disciples to drive it out, but they could not."

41"O unbelieving and perverse generation,"[w] Jesus replied, "how long shall I stay with you and put up with you? Bring your son here."

42Even while the boy was coming, the demon threw him to the ground in a convulsion. But Jesus rebuked the evil[k] spirit, healed the boy and gave him back to his father. 43And they were all amazed at the greatness of God.

While everyone was marveling at all that Jesus did, he said to his disciples, 44"Listen carefully to what I am about to tell you: The Son of Man is going to be betrayed into the hands of men."[x] 45But they did not understand what this meant. It was hidden from them, so that they did not grasp it,[y] and they were afraid to ask him about it.

Who Will Be the Greatest?

9:46–50pp — Mk 9:33–40

46An argument started among the disciples as to which of them would be the greatest.[z] 47Jesus, knowing their thoughts,[a] took a little child and had him stand beside him. 48Then he said to them, "Whoever welcomes this little child in my name welcomes me; and whoever welcomes me welcomes the one who sent me.[b] For he who is least among you all—he is the greatest."[c]

49"Master,"[d] said John, "we saw a man driving out demons in your name and we tried to stop him, because he is not one of us."

50"Do not stop him," Jesus said, "for whoever is not against you is for you."[e]

Samaritan Opposition

51As the time approached for him to be taken up to heaven,[f] Jesus resolutely set out for Jerusalem.[g] 52And he sent messengers on ahead, who went into a Samaritan[h] village to get things ready for him; 53but the people there did not welcome him, because he was heading for Jerusalem. 54When the disciples James and John[i] saw this, they asked, "Lord, do you want us to call fire down from heaven to destroy them!?"[j] 55But Jesus turned and rebuked them, 56and[m] they went to another village.

The Cost of Following Jesus

9:57–60pp — Mt 8:19–22

57As they were walking along the road,[k] a man said to him, "I will follow you wherever you go."

58Jesus replied, "Foxes have holes and birds of the air have nests, but the Son of Man[l] has no place to lay his head."

59He said to another man, "Follow me."[m]

9:39 A spirit seizes him. This evil spirit was causing seizures (Mt 17:15) and a speechless condition (Mk 9:17). Evil spirits were responsible for many kinds of affliction (see note on 4:33).

9:44 Another prediction of Jesus' coming death (see note on v. 22), an indication of how it will be brought about (see 22:21).

9:46 which ... would be the greatest. A subject that arose on a number of occasions (see 22:24; see also Mk 10:35–45).

9:48 he who is least ... is the greatest. A person will become great as he sincerely and unpretentiously looks away from self to revere God.

9:49 not one of us. Jesus shifts the pronoun to "you" in v. 50, which may mean that the man had a relationship to Jesus of which the disciples were unaware (see note on Mk 9:38).

9:50 whoever is not against you is for you. Spoken in the context of opposition to the disciples' work (cf. 11:23, set in a different context).

9:51 set out for Jerusalem. Lit. "set his face to go to Jerusalem" (cf. Isa 50:7). Luke emphasizes Jesus' determination to complete his mission (see note on 13:22). This journey to Jerusalem, however, is not the one that led to his crucifixion but marks the beginning of a period of ministry in Judea, of which Jerusalem was the central city. Mk 10:1 notes this departure for Judea, which John more specifically describes as a journey to Jerusalem during the time of the Feast of Tabernacles (Jn 7:1–10). The Judean ministry (see Introduction: Outline) is recounted in 9:51–13:21 and Jn 7:10–10:39.

9:52 a Samaritan village. Samaritans were particularly hostile to Jews who were on their way to observe religious festivals in Jerusalem. It was at least a three-day journey from Galilee to Jerusalem through Samaria, and Samaritans refused overnight shelter for the pilgrims. Because of this antipathy, Jews traveling between Galilee and Jerusalem frequently went on the east side of the Jordan River.

9:54 call fire down. As Elijah had (2Ki 1:9–16). James and John were known as "Sons of Thunder" (Mk 3:17).

9:55 rebuked them. See note on 2Ki 1:10.

9:57 As they were walking. Continuing their journey through Samaria to Jerusalem.

9:59 bury my father. If his father had already died, the man would have been occupied with the burial then. But evidently he wanted to wait until after his father's death, which might have been years away. Jesus told him that the spiritually dead could bury the physically dead,

But the man replied, "Lord, first let me go and bury my father."

60Jesus said to him, "Let the dead bury their own dead, but you go and proclaim the kingdom of God."[n]

61Still another said, "I will follow you, Lord; but first let me go back and say good-by to my family."[o]

62Jesus replied, "No one who puts his hand to the plow and looks back is fit for service in the kingdom of God."

Jesus Sends Out the Seventy-two

10:4–12pp — Lk 9:3–5
10:13–15,21,22pp — Mt 11:21–23,25–27
10:23,24pp — Mt 13:16,17

10 After this the Lord[p] appointed seventy-two[n] others[q] and sent them two by two[r] ahead of him to every town and place where he was about to go.[s] 2He told them, "The harvest is plentiful, but the workers are few. Ask the Lord of the harvest, therefore, to send out workers into his harvest field.[t] 3Go! I am sending you out like lambs among wolves.[u] 4Do not take a purse or bag or sandals; and do not greet anyone on the road.

5"When you enter a house, first say, 'Peace to this house.' 6If a man of peace is there, your peace will rest on him; if not, it will return to you. 7Stay in that house, eating and drinking whatever they give you, for the worker deserves his wages.[v] Do not move around from house to house.

8"When you enter a town and are welcomed, eat what is set before you.[w] 9Heal the sick who are there and tell them, 'The kingdom of God[x] is near you.' 10But when you enter a town and are not welcomed, go into its streets and say, 11'Even the dust of your town that sticks to our feet we wipe off against you.[y] Yet be sure of this: The kingdom of God is near.'[z] 12I tell you, it will be more bearable on that day for Sodom[a] than for that town.[b]

13"Woe to you,[c] Korazin! Woe to you, Bethsaida! For if the miracles that were performed in you had been performed in Tyre and Sidon, they would have repented long ago, sitting in sackcloth[d] and ashes. 14But it will be more bearable for Tyre and Sidon at the judgment than for you. 15And you, Capernaum,[e] will you be lifted up to the skies? No, you will go down to the depths.[o]

16"He who listens to you listens to me; he who rejects you rejects me; but he who rejects me rejects him who sent me."[f]

17The seventy-two[g] returned with joy and said, "Lord, even the demons submit to us in your name."[h]

18He replied, "I saw Satan[i] fall like lightning from heaven.[j] 19I have given you authority to trample on snakes[k] and scorpions and to overcome all the power of the enemy; nothing will harm you. 20However, do not rejoice that the spirits submit to you, but rejoice that your names are written in heaven."[l]

21At that time Jesus, full of joy through the Holy Spirit, said, "I praise you, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because you have hidden these things from the wise and learned, and revealed them to little children.[m] Yes, Father, for this was your good pleasure.

22"All things have been committed to me by my Father.[n] No one knows who the Son is except the Father, and no one knows who the Father is except the Son and that the spiritually alive should be busy proclaiming the kingdom of God.

10:1 appointed seventy-two. Recorded only in Luke, though similar instructions were given to the Twelve (Mt 9:37–38; 10:7–16; Mk 6:7–11; cf. Lk 9:3–5). Certain differences in early manuscripts make it unclear as to whether the number was 72 or 70 (see NIV text note). Jesus covered Judea with his message (see note on 9:51) as thoroughly as he had Galilee. two by two. During his ministry in Galilee, Jesus had also sent out the Twelve two by two (see 9:1–6; Mk 6:7 and notes), a practice continued in the early church (Ac 13:2; 15:27,39–40; 17:14; 19:22).

10:4 Do not take a purse or bag or sandals. They were to travel light, without moneybag, luggage or extra sandals. do not greet. They were not to stop along the way to visit and exchange customary lengthy greetings. The mission was urgent.

10:7 Do not move around. See note on 9:4.

10:9 The kingdom of God is near. The heart of Jesus' message (see notes on 4:43; Mt 3:2).

10:11 dust . . . we wipe off. See note on 9:5.

10:12 more bearable . . . for Sodom. Although Sodom was so sinful that God destroyed it (Ge 19:24–28; Jude 7), the people who heard the message of Jesus and his disciples were even more accountable, because they had the gospel of the kingdom preached to them. that day. Judgment day.

10:13 Korazin . . . Bethsaida. See note on Mt 11:21.

10:14 Tyre and Sidon. Gentile cities in Phoenicia, north of Galilee, which had not had opportunity to witness Jesus' miracles and hear his preaching as the people had in most of Galilee (see note on v. 12).

10:15 Capernaum. Jesus' headquarters on the north shore of Galilee (see Mt 4:13 and note), whose inhabitants had many opportunities to see and hear Jesus. Therefore the condemnation for their rejection was the greater.

10:18 Satan fall. Even the demons were driven out by the disciples (v. 17), which meant that Satan was suffering defeat.

10:19 snakes and scorpions . . . power of the enemy. The snakes and scorpions may represent evil spirits; the enemy is Satan himself.

10:20 Man's salvation is more important than power to overcome the evil one or escape his harm. your names are written. Salvation is recorded in heaven (see Ps 69:28; Da 12:1; Php 4:3; Heb 12:23; Rev 3:5).

and those to whom the Son chooses to reveal him."[o]

[23]Then he turned to his disciples and said privately, "Blessed are the eyes that see what you see. [24]For I tell you that many prophets and kings wanted to see what you see but did not see it, and to hear what you hear but did not hear it."[p]

The Parable of the Good Samaritan

10:25–28pp — Mt 22:34–40; Mk 12:28–31

[25]On one occasion an expert in the law stood up to test Jesus. "Teacher," he asked, "what must I do to inherit eternal life?"[q]

[26]"What is written in the Law?" he replied. "How do you read it?"

[27]He answered: " 'Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your strength and with all your mind';[r] and, 'Love your neighbor as yourself.'[q]"[s]

[28]"You have answered correctly," Jesus replied. "Do this and you will live."[t]

[29]But he wanted to justify himself,[u] so he asked Jesus, "And who is my neighbor?"

[30]In reply Jesus said: "A man was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho, when he fell into the hands of robbers. They stripped him of his clothes, beat him and went away, leaving him half dead. [31]A priest happened to be going down the same road, and when he saw the man, he passed by on the other side.[v] [32]So too, a Levite, when he came to the place and saw him, passed by on the other side. [33]But a Samaritan,[w] as he traveled, came where the man was; and when he saw him, he took pity on him. [34]He went to him and bandaged his wounds, pouring on oil and wine. Then he put the man on his own donkey, took him to an inn and took care of him. [35]The next day he took out two silver coins[r] and gave them to the innkeeper. 'Look after him,' he said, 'and when I return, I will reimburse you for any extra expense you may have.'

[36]"Which of these three do you think was a neighbor to the man who fell into the hands of robbers?"

[37]The expert in the law replied, "The one who had mercy on him."

Jesus told him, "Go and do likewise."

At the Home of Martha and Mary

[38]As Jesus and his disciples were on their way, he came to a village where a woman named Martha[x] opened her home to him. [39]She had a sister called Mary,[y] who sat at the Lord's feet[z] listening to what he said. [40]But Martha was distracted by all the preparations that had to be made. She came to him and asked, "Lord, don't you care[a] that my sister has left me to do the work by myself? Tell her to help me!"

[41]"Martha, Martha," the Lord answered, "you are worried[b] and upset about many things, [42]but only one thing is needed.[sc] Mary has chosen what is better, and it will not be taken away from her."

10:25 expert in the law. A scholar well versed in Scripture asked a common question (18:18; cf. Mt 22:35), either to take issue with Jesus or simply to see what kind of teacher he was. See note on 7:30.

10:27 Love ... God ... Love your neighbor. Elsewhere Jesus uses these words in reply to another question (Mt 22:35–40; Mk 12:28–32), putting the same two Scriptures together (Dt 6:5; Lev 19:18). Whether a fourfold love (heart, soul, strength and mind, as here and in Mk 12:30) or threefold (Dt 6:5; Mt 22:37; Mk 12:33), the significance is that total devotion is demanded.

10:29 to justify himself. The answer to his first question was obviously one he knew, so to gain credibility he asked for an interpretation. In effect he said, "But the real question is: Who is my neighbor?"

10:30 Jerusalem to Jericho. A distance of 17 miles and a descent from about 2,500 feet above sea level to about 800 feet below sea level. The road ran through rocky, desert country, which provided places for robbers to waylay defenseless travelers.

10:31–33 priest ... Levite ... Samaritan. It is significant that the person Jesus commended was neither the religious leader nor the lay associate, but a hated foreigner. Jews viewed Samaritans as half-breeds, both physically (see note on Mt 10:5) and spiritually (see notes on Jn 4:20,22). Samaritans and Jews practiced open hostility (see note on 9:52), but Jesus asserted that love knows no national boundaries.

10:35 two silver coins. Two days' wages, which would keep a man up to two months in an inn.

10:36 Which ... was a neighbor to the man ...? The question now became: Who proves he is the good neighbor by his actions?

10:38 a village. Bethany, about two miles from Jerusalem, was the home of Mary and Martha (Jn 12:1–3).

MARY/MARTHA

Jesus' Teaching on Prayer

11:2–4pp — Mt 6:9–13
11:9–13pp — Mt 7:7–11

11 One day Jesus was praying[d] in a certain place. When he finished, one of his disciples said to him, "Lord,[e] teach us to pray, just as John taught his disciples."

[2]He said to them, "When you pray, say:

" 'Father,[t]
hallowed be your name,
your kingdom[f] come.[u]
[3]Give us each day our daily bread.
[4]Forgive us our sins, for we also forgive everyone who sins against us.[v g]
And lead us not into temptation.[w' ] "[h]

[5]Then he said to them, "Suppose one of you has a friend, and he goes to him at midnight and says, 'Friend, lend me three loaves of bread, [6]because a friend of mine on a journey has come to me, and I have nothing to set before him.'

[7]"Then the one inside answers, 'Don't bother me. The door is already locked, and my children are with me in bed. I can't get up and give you anything.' [8]I tell you, though he will not get up and give him the bread because he is his friend, yet because of the man's boldness[x] he will get up and give him as much as he needs.[i]

[9]"So I say to you: Ask and it will be given to you;[j] seek and you will find; knock and the door will be opened to you. [10]For everyone who asks receives; he who seeks finds; and to him who knocks, the door will be opened.

[11]"Which of you fathers, if your son asks for[y] a fish, will give him a snake instead? [12]Or if he asks for an egg, will give him a scorpion? [13]If you then, though you are evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your Father in heaven give the Holy Spirit to those who ask him!"

Jesus and Beelzebub

11:14,15,17–22,24–26pp — Mt 12:22,24–29, 43–45
11:17–22pp — Mk 3:23–27

[14]Jesus was driving out a demon that was mute. When the demon left, the man who had been mute spoke, and the crowd was amazed.[k] [15]But some of them said, "By Beelzebub,[z l] the prince of demons, he is driving out demons."[m] [16]Others tested him by asking for a sign from heaven.[n]

[17]Jesus knew their thoughts[o] and said to them: "Any kingdom divided against itself will be ruined, and a house divided against itself will fall. [18]If Satan[p] is divided against himself, how can his kingdom stand? I say this because you claim that I drive out demons by Beelzebub. [19]Now if I drive out demons by Beelzebub, by whom do your followers drive them out? So then, they will be your judges. [20]But if I drive out demons by the finger of God,[q] then the kingdom of God[r] has come to you.

[21]"When a strong man, fully armed, guards his own house, his possessions are safe. [22]But when someone stronger

11:1 Jesus was praying. Not only on special occasions (e.g., baptism, 3:21; choosing the Twelve, 6:12; Gethsemane, 22:41) but also as a regular practice (5:16; Mt 14:23; Mk 1:35). teach us to pray. The Lord's model prayer was given here in answer to a request, and is similar to Mt 6:9–13, where it is a part of the Sermon on the Mount. Six petitions are included in the prayer as given in the Sermon on the Mount by Matthew (combining the last two petitions into one), whereas five appear in the prayer in Luke.

11:4 Forgive us our sins. Mt 6:12 has "debts," but the meaning is the same as "sins." Jesus taught this truth on other occasions as well (Mt 18:35; Mk 11:25). The prayer is a pattern for believers, who have already been forgiven for their sins. Jesus speaks here of daily forgiveness, which is necessary to restore broken communion with God.

11:5–13 Jesus now urged boldness (or persistence; see NIV text note on v. 8) in prayer (vv. 5–8) and gave assurance that God answers prayer (vv. 9–13). The argument is from the lesser to the greater (see v. 13).

11:13 give the Holy Spirit. Mt 7:11 has "give good gifts," meaning spiritual gifts. Luke emphasizes the work of the Spirit, the greatest of God's gifts.

11:14 demon that was mute. See note on 4:33. This evil spirit caused muteness. The probable parallel passage in Matthew (12:22–30; see also Mk 3:20–27) indicates that the man was also blind.

11:15 Beelzebub, the prince of demons. Satan (v. 18). See note on Mt 10:25.

11:16 a sign from heaven. Jesus had just healed a mute. Here was their sign, and they would not recognize it.

11:17 kingdom divided against itself. If Satan gave power to Jesus, who opposed him in every way, Satan would be supporting an attack upon himself.

11:19 by whom do your followers . . . ? Jesus did not say whether the followers of the Pharisees (see Mt 12:24) actually drove out demons (see note on v. 24); but they claimed to drive them out by the power of God, and Jesus claimed the same. So to accuse Jesus of using Satanic power was implicitly to condemn their own followers as well. your judges. They will condemn you for your accusation against them.

11:20 the kingdom of God has come. In the sense that the King was present in the person of Jesus (see note on 4:43) and that the powers of evil were being overthrown.

11:22 someone stronger attacks. Jesus was stronger than Beelzebub, and by his exorcism of demons he demon-attacks and overpowers him, he takes away the armor in which the man trusted and divides up the spoils.

23"He who is not with me is against me, and he who does not gather with me, scatters.[s]

24"When an evil[a] spirit comes out of a man, it goes through arid places seeking rest and does not find it. Then it says, 'I will return to the house I left.' 25When it arrives, it finds the house swept clean and put in order. 26Then it goes and takes seven other spirits more wicked than itself, and they go in and live there. And the final condition of that man is worse than the first."[t]

27As Jesus was saying these things, a woman in the crowd called out, "Blessed is the mother who gave you birth and nursed you."[u]

28He replied, "Blessed rather are those who hear the word of God[v] and obey it."[w]

The Sign of Jonah

11:29–32pp — Mt 12:39–42

29As the crowds increased, Jesus said, "This is a wicked generation. It asks for a miraculous sign,[x] but none will be given it except the sign of Jonah.[y] 30For as Jonah was a sign to the Ninevites, so also will the Son of Man be to this generation. 31The Queen of the South will rise at the judgment with the men of this generation and condemn them; for she came from the ends of the earth to listen to Solomon's wisdom,[z] and now one[b] greater than Solomon is here. 32The men of Nineveh will stand up at the judgment with this generation and condemn it; for they repented at the preaching of Jonah,[a] and now one greater than Jonah is here.

The Lamp of the Body

11:34,35pp — Mt 6:22,23

33"No one lights a lamp and puts it in a place where it will be hidden, or under a bowl. Instead he puts it on its stand, so that those who come in may see the light.[b] 34Your eye is the lamp of your body. When your eyes are good, your whole body also is full of light. But when they are bad, your body also is full of darkness. 35See to it, then, that the light within you is not darkness. 36Therefore, if your whole body is full of light, and no part of it dark, it will be completely lighted, as when the light of a lamp shines on you."

Six Woes

37When Jesus had finished speaking, a Pharisee invited him to eat with him; so he went in and reclined at the table.[c] 38But the Pharisee, noticing that Jesus did not first wash before the meal,[d] was surprised.

39Then the Lord[e] said to him, "Now then, you Pharisees clean the outside of the cup and dish, but inside you are full of greed and wickedness.[f] 40You foolish people![g] Did not the one who made the outside make the inside also? 41But give strated that he had overpowered Satan and disarmed him. It was therefore foolish to suggest that Jesus had cast out demons by Satan's power.

11:23 The one who does not intentionally support Jesus opposes him, making neutrality impossible. Even the worker in 9:50, whom the disciples described as "not one of us," was apparently a believer, acting in Jesus' name (see note on Mk 9:38), and Jesus did not condemn him.

11:24 evil spirit comes out. Jesus is perhaps referring to the work of Jewish exorcists, who claimed to cast out demons (cf. v. 19) but who rejected the kingdom of God and whose exorcisms were therefore ineffective. See Mt 12:43–45, where Jesus makes a similar comment about the Jewish nation of that day.

11:25 finds the house swept clean. The place had been cleaned up but left unoccupied. A life reformed but lacking God's presence is open to reoccupancy by evil.

11:29 asks for a miraculous sign. On several occasions Jews asked for miraculous signs (v. 16; Mt 12:38; Mk 8:11), but Jesus rejected their requests because they had wrong motives.

11:30 as Jonah was a sign. Jonah spent three days (see note on Mt 12:40) "buried" in the huge fish, just as Jesus would be buried for three days before his resurrection.

11:31–32 one greater than Solomon ... one greater than Jonah. Jesus argued from the lesser to the greater. If the queen of Sheba responded positively to the wisdom of Solomon, and the men of Nineveh to the preaching of Jonah, how much more should the people of Jesus' day have responded to the ministry of Jesus, who is infinitely greater than Solomon or Jonah!

11:31 The Queen of the South. The queen of Sheba (see 1Ki 10:1–10 and notes).

11:33 a bowl. A container holding about one peck. may see the light. A lamp is meant to give light to those who are near it (see v. 36). Jesus had publicly exhibited the light of the gospel for all to see, but "a wicked generation" (v. 29) requested more spectacular signs. The problem was not with any failure on Jesus' part in giving light; it was with the faulty vision of his audience.

11:34 your eyes are good. Those asking for a sign do not need more light; they need good eyes to allow the light to enter.

11:38 did not first wash. Especially for ceremonial cleansing, not commanded in the law but added in the tradition of the Pharisees (Mk 7:3; cf. Mt 15:9).

11:39 clean the outside. Engage in ceremonial washings of the body. greed and wickedness. These Pharisees were more concerned about keeping ceremonies than about being moral (cf. Mk 7:20–23).

11:40 make the inside also. The inside of man (the "heart" and inner righteousness) is more important than the outside (ceremonial cleansing).

11:41 the dish. Supplied from the figures of speech used in v. 39. everything will be clean. Giving from the heart makes everything else right. If one gives to the poor, his heart is no longer in the grip of "greed and wickedness" (v. 39).

what is inside [the dish,][c] to the poor,[h] and everything will be clean for you.[i]

42"Woe to you Pharisees, because you give God a tenth[j] of your mint, rue and all other kinds of garden herbs, but you neglect justice and the love of God.[k] You should have practiced the latter without leaving the former undone.[l]

43"Woe to you Pharisees, because you love the most important seats in the synagogues and greetings in the marketplaces.[m]

44"Woe to you, because you are like unmarked graves,[n] which men walk over without knowing it."

45One of the experts in the law[o] answered him, "Teacher, when you say these things, you insult us also."

46Jesus replied, "And you experts in the law, woe to you, because you load people down with burdens they can hardly carry, and you yourselves will not lift one finger to help them.[p]

47"Woe to you, because you build tombs for the prophets, and it was your forefathers who killed them. 48So you testify that you approve of what your forefathers did; they killed the prophets, and you build their tombs.[q] 49Because of this, God in his wisdom[r] said, 'I will send them prophets and apostles, some of whom they will kill and others they will persecute.'[s] 50Therefore this generation will be held responsible for the blood of all the prophets that has been shed since the beginning of the world, 51from the blood of Abel[t] to the blood of Zechariah,[u] who was killed between the altar and the sanctuary. Yes, I tell you, this generation will be held responsible for it all.[v]

52"Woe to you experts in the law, because you have taken away the key to knowledge. You yourselves have not entered, and you have hindered those who were entering."[w]

53When Jesus left there, the Pharisees and the teachers of the law began to oppose him fiercely and to besiege him with questions, 54waiting to catch him in something he might say.[x]

Warnings and Encouragements

12:2–9pp — Mt 10:26–33

12 Meanwhile, when a crowd of many thousands had gathered, so that they were trampling on one another, Jesus began to speak first to his disciples, saying: "Be on your guard against the yeast of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy.[y] 2There is nothing concealed that will not be disclosed, or hidden that will not be made known.[z] 3What you have said in the dark will be heard in the daylight, and what you have whispered in the ear in the inner rooms will be proclaimed from the roofs.

4"I tell you, my friends,[a] do not be afraid of those who kill the body and after that can do no more. 5But I will show you whom you should fear: Fear him who, after the killing of the body, has power to throw you into hell. Yes, I tell you, fear him.[b] 6Are not five sparrows sold for two pennies[d]? Yet not one of them is forgotten by God. 7Indeed, the very hairs of your head are all num-

11:44 unmarked graves. The Jews whitewashed their tombs so that no one would accidentally touch them and be defiled (cf. Nu 19:16; Mt 23:27). Just as touching a grave resulted in ceremonial uncleanness, being influenced by these corrupt religious leaders could lead to moral uncleanness.

11:45 experts in the law. See note on 7:30.

11:46 load people down. By adding rules and regulations to the authentic law of Moses (see note on Mt 15:2) and doing nothing to help others keep them (Mt 23:4), while inventing ways for themselves to circumvent them.

11:47 tombs for the prophets. Outwardly these "experts in the law" (v. 46) appeared to honor the prophets in building or rebuilding memorials, but inwardly they rejected the Christ the prophets announced. They lived in opposition to the teachings of the prophets, just as their forefathers had done.

11:49 God in his wisdom said. Not a quotation from the OT or any other known book. It may refer to God speaking through Jesus, or it may be referring in quotation form to God's decision to send prophets and apostles even though he knew they would be rejected.

11:51 blood of Abel . . . Zechariah. See note on Mt 23:35.

11:52 the key to knowledge. The very persons who should have opened the people's minds concerning the law obscured their understanding by faulty interpretation and an erroneous system of theology. They kept themselves and the people in ignorance of the way of salvation, or, as Matthew's account puts it, they "shut the kingdom of heaven in men's faces" (Mt 23:13).

11:54 waiting to catch him. The determination of the religious leaders to trap Jesus is evident throughout Luke (6:11; 19:47–48; 20:19–20; 22:2).

12:1 yeast of the Pharisees. See note on Mk 8:15.

12:2 nothing concealed that will not be disclosed. In this context the meaning is that nothing hidden through hypocrisy will fail to be made known.

12:3 inner rooms. Storerooms were surrounded by other rooms so that no one could dig in from outside.

12:4 after that can do no more. Encouragement in the face of persecution (see Mt 10:28).

12:5 power to throw you into hell. God alone has this power. The Greek word for "hell" is ge(h)enna (see note on Mt 5:22), not to be confused with Hades, the general name for the place of the dead. In the NT ge(h)enna is used only in Matthew, Mark, Jas 3:6 and here. fear him. Respect his authority, stand in awe of his majesty and trust in him. Verses 6–7 give the basis for trust.

12:6 five sparrows sold for two pennies. God even cares for little birds, sold cheaply for food. Three words used for Roman coins are denarius (Mt 18:28), assarion (Mt 10:29) and kodrantes (Mt 5:26), very loosely related to each other as are a 50-cent piece, nickel and penny. The coins here are assaria, so the transaction would be something like five birds for two nickels.

bered.[c] Don't be afraid; you are worth more than many sparrows.[d]

8"I tell you, whoever acknowledges me before men, the Son of Man will also acknowledge him before the angels of God.[e] 9But he who disowns me before men will be disowned[f] before the angels of God. 10And everyone who speaks a word against the Son of Man[g] will be forgiven, but anyone who blasphemes against the Holy Spirit will not be forgiven.[h]

11"When you are brought before synagogues, rulers and authorities, do not worry about how you will defend yourselves or what you will say,[i] 12for the Holy Spirit will teach you at that time what you should say."[j]

The Parable of the Rich Fool

13Someone in the crowd said to him, "Teacher, tell my brother to divide the inheritance with me."

14Jesus replied, "Man, who appointed me a judge or an arbiter between you?" 15Then he said to them, "Watch out! Be on your guard against all kinds of greed; a man's life does not consist in the abundance of his possessions."[k]

16And he told them this parable: "The ground of a certain rich man produced a good crop. 17He thought to himself, 'What shall I do? I have no place to store my crops.'

18"Then he said, 'This is what I'll do. I will tear down my barns and build bigger ones, and there I will store all my grain and my goods. 19And I'll say to myself, "You have plenty of good things laid up for many years. Take life easy; eat, drink and be merry." '

20"But God said to him, 'You fool![l] This very night your life will be demanded from you.[m] Then who will get what you have prepared for yourself?'[n]

21"This is how it will be with anyone who stores up things for himself but is not rich toward God."[o]

Do Not Worry

22Then Jesus said to his disciples: "Therefore I tell you, do not worry about your life, what you will eat; or about your body, what you will wear. 23Life is more than food, and the body more than clothes. 24Consider the ravens: They do not sow or reap, they have no storeroom or barn; yet God feeds them.[p] And how much more valuable you are than birds! 25Who of you by worrying can add a single hour to his life[e]? 26Since you cannot do this very little thing, why do you worry about the rest?

27"Consider how the lilies grow. They do not labor or spin. Yet I tell you, not even Solomon in all his splendor[q] was dressed like one of these. 28If that is how God clothes the grass of the field, which is here today, and tomorrow is thrown into the fire, how much more will he clothe you, O you of little faith![r] 29And do not set your heart on what you will eat or drink; do not worry about it. 30For the pagan world runs after all such things, and your Father[s] knows that you need them.[t] 31But seek his kingdom,[u] and these things will be given to you as well.[v]

32"Do not be afraid,[w] little flock, for your Father has been pleased to give you the kingdom.[x] 33Sell your possessions and give to the poor.[y] Provide purses for yourselves that will not wear out, a treasure in heaven[z] that will not be exhausted, where no thief comes near and no moth destroys.[a] 34For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also.[b]

12:8 acknowledges me. When a person acknowledges that Jesus is the Messiah, the Son of God (Mt 16:16; 1Jn 2:22), Jesus acknowledges that the individual is his loyal follower (cf. Mt 7:21).

12:9 will be disowned. See 9:26; 2Ti 2:12; cf. Mt 7:21; 25:41–46. The same word is used in Peter's denial (22:34, "deny"; 22:61, "disown").

12:10 blasphemes against the Holy Spirit. See note on Mt 12:31; cf. Mk 3:28–29.

12:13 divide the inheritance. Dt 21:17 gave the general rule that an elder son received double a younger one's portion. Disputes over such matters were normally settled by rabbis. This man's request of Jesus was selfish and materialistic. There is no indication that the man had been listening seriously to what Jesus had been saying (cf. vv. 1–11). Jesus replied with a parable about the consequences of greed.

12:16 parable. See note on 8:4.

12:20 fool! A strong word (11:40; Eph 5:17).

12:31 seek his kingdom. Since v. 32 suggests that Jesus is speaking to believers, who already possess the kingdom, this command probably means that Christians should seek the spiritual benefits of the kingdom rather than the material goods of the world (cf. Mt 6:33).

12:33 give to the poor. The danger of riches and the need for giving are characteristic themes in Luke (3:11; 6:30; 11:41; 14:13–14; 16:9; 18:22; 19:8).

12:37 dress himself to serve. The master reverses the [40]You also must be ready,[f] because the Son of Man will come at an hour when you do not expect him."

[41]Peter asked, "Lord, are you telling this parable to us, or to everyone?"

[42]The Lord[g] answered, "Who then is the faithful and wise manager, whom the master puts in charge of his servants to give them their food allowance at the proper time? [43]It will be good for that servant whom the master finds doing so when he returns. [44]I tell you the truth, he will put him in charge of all his possessions. [45]But suppose the servant says to himself, 'My master is taking a long time in coming,' and he then begins to beat the menservants and maidservants and to eat and drink and get drunk. [46]The master of that servant will come on a day when he does not expect him and at an hour he is not aware of.[h] He will cut him to pieces and assign him a place with the unbelievers.

[47]"That servant who knows his master's will and does not get ready or does not do what his master wants will be beaten with many blows.[i] [48]But the one who does not know and does things deserving punishment will be beaten with few blows.[j] From everyone who has been given much, much will be demanded; and from the one who has been entrusted with much, much more will be asked.

[49]"I have come to bring fire on the earth, and how I wish it were already kindled! [50]But I have a baptism[k] to undergo, and how distressed I am until it is completed![l] [51]Do you think I came to bring peace on earth? No, I tell you, but division. [52]From now on there will be five in one family divided against each other, three against two and two against three. [53]They will be divided, father against son and son against father, mother against daughter and daughter against mother, mother-in-law against daughter-in-law and daughter-in-law against mother-in-law."[m]

Interpreting the Times

[54]He said to the crowd: "When you see a cloud rising in the west, immediately you say, 'It's going to rain,' and it does.[n] [55]And when the south wind blows, you say, 'It's going to be hot,' and it is. [56]Hypocrites! You know how to interpret the appearance of the earth and the sky. How is it that you don't know how to interpret this present time?[o]

[57]"Why don't you judge for yourselves what is right? [58]As you are going with your adversary to the magistrate, try hard to be reconciled to him on the way, or he may drag you off to the judge, and the judge turn you over to the officer, and the officer throw you into prison.[p] [59]I tell you, you will not get out until you have paid the last penny.[f][q] normal roles and serves the servants (cf. 22:27; Mk 10:45; Jn 13:4–5,12–16).

12:38 second or third watch. Night was divided into four watches by the Romans (Mk 13:35) and three by the Jews (Jdg 7:19); see note on Mt 14:25. These were probably the last two of the Jewish watches. The banquet would have begun in the first watch.

12:40 Christ's return is certain, but the time is not known (cf. Mt 24:36).

12:41 Jesus taught the people in parables but used a more direct approach with the disciples. However, he did not intend these warnings of watchfulness just for the disciples (see Mk 13:37). In the following verses he emphasizes the duty to fulfill responsibilities.

12:42 wise manager. An outstanding slave (v. 43) was sometimes left in charge of an estate (see 16:1).

12:46–48 cut him to pieces ... beaten with many blows ... beaten with few blows. Three grades of punishment that the judge will mete out in proportion to both the privileges each person has enjoyed and his response to those privileges (see Ro 2:12–16).

12:49 fire. Applied figuratively in different ways in the NT (see note on 3:16). Here it is associated with judgment (v. 49) and division (v. 51). Judgment falls on the wicked, who are separated from the righteous.

12:50 baptism. The suffering that Jesus was to endure on the cross (see note on Mk 10:38). until it is completed. The words from the cross would pronounce the completion (Jn 19:28,30). Jesus wished that the hour of suffering were already past.

12:51 division. See note on Mt 10:34.

12:54–56 Wind from the west was from the Mediterranean Sea; from the south it was from the desert. Although people could use such indicators to forecast the weather, they could not recognize the signs of spiritual crisis, the coming of the Messiah, the threat of his death, the coming confrontation with Rome, and the eternal consequences these events would have for their own lives.

12:57 judge for yourselves. Despite the insistence of the Pharisees, despite the Roman system, and even despite the pressure of family, a person must accept God on his terms. The signs of the times called for immediate decision—before judgment came on the Jewish nation.

12:58 be reconciled ... or. Settle accounts before it is too late.

12:59 last penny. Greek lepton. If a kodrantes is compared to a penny (see note on v. 6), this coin corresponds to half a penny.

Repent or Perish

13 Now there were some present at that time who told Jesus about the Galileans whose blood Pilate[r] had mixed with their sacrifices. 2Jesus answered, "Do you think that these Galileans were worse sinners than all the other Galileans because they suffered this way?[s] 3I tell you, no! But unless you repent, you too will all perish. 4Or those eighteen who died when the tower in Siloam[t] fell on them—do you think they were more guilty than all the others living in Jerusalem? 5I tell you, no! But unless you repent,[u] you too will all perish."

6Then he told this parable: "A man had a fig tree, planted in his vineyard, and he went to look for fruit on it, but did not find any.[v] 7So he said to the man who took care of the vineyard, 'For three years now I've been coming to look for fruit on this fig tree and haven't found any. Cut it down![w] Why should it use up the soil?'

8" 'Sir,' the man replied, 'leave it alone for one more year, and I'll dig around it and fertilize it. 9If it bears fruit next year, fine! If not, then cut it down.' "

A Crippled Woman Healed on the Sabbath

10On a Sabbath Jesus was teaching in one of the synagogues,[x] 11and a woman was there who had been crippled by a spirit for eighteen years.[y] She was bent over and could not straighten up at all. 12When Jesus saw her, he called her forward and said to her, "Woman, you are set free from your infirmity." 13Then he put his hands on her,[z] and immediately she straightened up and praised God.

14Indignant because Jesus had healed on the Sabbath,[a] the synagogue ruler[b] said to the people, "There are six days for work.[c] So come and be healed on those days, not on the Sabbath."

15The Lord answered him, "You hypocrites! Doesn't each of you on the Sabbath untie his ox or donkey from the stall and lead it out to give it water?[d] 16Then should not this woman, a daughter of Abraham,[e] whom Satan[f] has kept bound for eighteen long years, be set free on the Sabbath day from what bound her?"

17When he said this, all his opponents were humiliated,[g] but the people were delighted with all the wonderful things he was doing.

The Parables of the Mustard Seed and the Yeast

13:18,19pp — Mk 4:30–32
13:18–21pp — Mt 13:31–33

18Then Jesus asked, "What is the kingdom of God[h] like?[i] What shall I compare it to? 19It is like a mustard seed, which a man took and planted in his garden. It grew and became a tree,[j] and the birds of the air perched in its branches."[k]

20Again he asked, "What shall I compare the kingdom of God to? 21It is like yeast that a woman took and mixed into a large amount[g] of flour until it worked all through the dough."[l]

The Narrow Door

22Then Jesus went through the towns and villages, teaching as he made his g21 Greek three satas (probably about 1/2 bushel or 22 liters)

13:1 the Galileans. The incident is otherwise unknown, but having people killed while offering sacrifices in the temple fits the reputation of Pilate. These Galileans may have broken an important Roman regulation, which led to their bloody punishment.

13:2,4 worse sinners . . . more guilty. In ancient times it was often assumed that a calamity would befall only those who were extremely sinful (see Jn 9:1–2; see also Job 4:7; 22:5, where Eliphaz falsely accused Job). But Jesus pointed out that all are sinners who must repent or face a fearful end.

13:4 those eighteen. Another unknown incident. the tower in Siloam. Built inside the southeast section of Jerusalem's wall.

13:6 fig tree. Probably refers to the Jewish nation (see note on Mk 11:14), but it may also apply to the individual soul.

13:7 For three years. A period of ample opportunity.

13:11 crippled by a spirit. Various disorders were caused by evil spirits (see note on 4:33). The description of this woman's infirmity suggests that the bones of her spine were rigidly fused together.

13:12 set free. The spirit had been cast out, and the woman was freed from the bond of Satan and from her physical handicap.

13:14 healed on the Sabbath. A focal point of attack against Jesus was his conduct on the Sabbath (see 6:6–11; 14:1–6; Mt 12:1–8,11–12; Jn 5:1–18; see also Ex 20:9–10). synagogue ruler. See note on 8:41.

13:15 untie his ox. They had more regard for the needs of an animal than for the far greater need of a person. Jesus called his critics "hypocrites" because they pretended zeal for the law, but their motive was to attack him and his healing.

13:19 mustard seed. See notes on Mt 13:31–32; Mk 4:31. Trees in Scripture are sometimes symbols of nations (see Eze 17:23; 31:6; Da 4:12,21).

13:21 yeast. See note on Mt 13:33. Its permeating quality is emphasized here as it works from the inside to affect all the dough. This parable speaks of the powerful influence of God's kingdom. large amount. See NIV text note; same amount as used by Sarah in Ge 18:6 (see NIV text note there).

13:22 through the towns and villages. See chart on "The Life of Christ," p. 1478. Somewhere between the events of 11:1 and 13:21 Jesus left Judea and began his work in and around Perea, which is recorded in 13:22–19:27; Mt 19:1–20:28; Mk 10; Jn 10:40–42. During the last part of the way to Jerusalem.[m] 23Someone asked him, "Lord, are only a few people going to be saved?"

He said to them, 24"Make every effort to enter through the narrow door,[n] because many, I tell you, will try to enter and will not be able to. 25Once the owner of the house gets up and closes the door, you will stand outside knocking and pleading, 'Sir, open the door for us.'

"But he will answer, 'I don't know you or where you come from.'[o]

26"Then you will say, 'We ate and drank with you, and you taught in our streets.'

27"But he will reply, 'I don't know you or where you come from. Away from me, all you evildoers!'[p]

28"There will be weeping there, and gnashing of teeth,[q] when you see Abraham, Isaac and Jacob and all the prophets in the kingdom of God, but you yourselves thrown out. 29People will come from east and west[r] and north and south, and will take their places at the feast in the kingdom of God. 30Indeed there are those who are last who will be first, and first who will be last."[s]

Jesus at a Pharisee's House

14:8–10Ref — Pr 25:6,7

14 One Sabbath, when Jesus went to eat in the house of a prominent Pharisee,[z] he was being carefully watched.[a] 2There in front of him was a man suffering from dropsy. 3Jesus asked the Pharisees and experts in the law,[b] "Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath or not?"[c] 4But they remained silent. So taking hold of the man, he healed him and sent him away.

5Then he asked them, "If one of you has a son[i] or an ox that falls into a well on the Sabbath day, will you not immedi-

Perean ministry, it appears that he went north to Galilee and then traveled south again through Perea to Jericho and to Jerusalem. Some of Jesus' sayings that Luke attributes to the period of ministry in Perea are found in different settings in Matthew (7:13–14,22–23). Perhaps he repeated various sayings on different occasions. as he made his way to Jerusalem. Where he would die. Although Jesus was ministering throughout Perea, his eyes were constantly set on the Holy City and his ultimate destiny.

13:23 only a few ... saved? Perhaps the questioner had observed that in spite of the very large crowds that came to hear Jesus' preaching and be healed, there were only a few followers who were loyal. Jesus did not answer directly, but warned that many would try to enter after it was too late.

13:27 I don't know you. See Mt 7:23; 25:12.

13:29 People ... from east and west and north and south. From the four corners of the world (Ps 107:3) and from among all people, including Gentiles.

13:31 Herod wants to kill you. See note on Mt 14:1. Jesus was probably in Perea, which was under Herod's jurisdiction (see note on 3:1). The Pharisees wanted to frighten Jesus into leaving this area and going to Judea.

13:32 fox. A crafty animal. today and tomorrow. In Semitic usage this phrase could refer to an indefinite but limited period of time. reach my goal. Jesus' life had a predetermined plan that would be carried out, and no harm could come to him until his purpose was accomplished (cf. 4:43; 9:22).

13:33 outside Jerusalem. Jesus' hour had not yet come (see 2:38; Jn 7:30; 8:20; cf. Jn 8:59; 10:39; 11:54). He would die in Jerusalem as had numerous prophets before him.

13:34 how often ... ! This lament over Jerusalem may suggest that Jesus was in Jerusalem more often than the Synoptics indicate (cf. Jn 2:13; 4:45; 5:1; 7:10; 10:22). However, the statement in vv. 34–35 may have been uttered some distance from Jerusalem, i.e., in Perea. According to Mt 23:37–38, the same utterance was spoken on Tuesday of Passion Week. Jesus repeated many of his teachings and sayings.

13:35 house is left ... desolate. God will abandon his temple and his city (see 21:20,24; Jer 12:7; 22:5). not see me again until. See Zec 12:10; Rev 1:7; cf. Isa 45:23; Ro 14:11; Php 2:10–11.

14:1 One Sabbath. Of seven recorded miracles on the Sabbath, Luke includes five (4:31,38; 6:6; 13:14; 14:1); the other two are Jn 5:10; 9:14. Concerning the vigil of the Pharisees see note on 13:14. Sabbath meals were prepared the day before.

14:2 dropsy. An accumulation of fluid that would indicate illness affecting other parts of the body. The Greek for this word is a medical term found only here in the NT (see Introduction: Author).

14:3 experts in the law. See notes on 5:17; 7:30. By questioning them before the miracle, Jesus made it difficult for them to protest afterward.

14:5 has a son. See NIV text note. The reading "donkey" matches well with the "ox that falls into a well." But in Dt 5:14 the law is specified for both humans and animals; one category opens with "son" and another with "ox." Jesus' action was "unlawful" only according to rabbinic interpretations, not according to the Mosaic law itself.

ately pull him out?"[d] [6]And they had nothing to say.

[7]When he noticed how the guests picked the places of honor at the table,[e] he told them this parable: [8]"When someone invites you to a wedding feast, do not take the place of honor, for a person more distinguished than you may have been invited. [9]If so, the host who invited both of you will come and say to you, 'Give this man your seat.' Then, humiliated, you will have to take the least important place. [10]But when you are invited, take the lowest place, so that when your host comes, he will say to you, 'Friend, move up to a better place.' Then you will be honored in the presence of all your fellow guests. [11]For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, and he who humbles himself will be exalted."[f]

[12]Then Jesus said to his host, "When you give a luncheon or dinner, do not invite your friends, your brothers or relatives, or your rich neighbors; if you do, they may invite you back and so you will be repaid. [13]But when you give a banquet, invite the poor, the crippled, the lame, the blind,[g] [14]and you will be blessed. Although they cannot repay you, you will be repaid at the resurrection of the righteous."[h]

The Parable of the Great Banquet

14:16–24Ref — Mt 22:2–14

[15]When one of those at the table with him heard this, he said to Jesus, "Blessed is the man who will eat at the feast[i] in the kingdom of God."[j]

[16]Jesus replied: "A certain man was preparing a great banquet and invited many guests. [17]At the time of the banquet he sent his servant to tell those who had been invited, 'Come, for everything is now ready.'

[18]"But they all alike began to make excuses. The first said, 'I have just bought a field, and I must go and see it. Please excuse me.'

[19]"Another said, 'I have just bought five yoke of oxen, and I'm on my way to try them out. Please excuse me.'

[20]"Still another said, 'I just got married, so I can't come.'

[21]"The servant came back and reported this to his master. Then the owner of the house became angry and ordered his servant, 'Go out quickly into the streets and alleys of the town and bring in the poor, the crippled, the blind and the lame.'[k]

[22]" 'Sir,' the servant said, 'what you ordered has been done, but there is still room.'

[23]"Then the master told his servant, 'Go out to the roads and country lanes and make them come in, so that my house will be full. [24]I tell you, not one of those men who were invited will get a taste of my banquet.' "[l]

The Cost of Being a Disciple

[25]Large crowds were traveling with Jesus, and turning to them he said: [26]"If anyone comes to me and does not hate his father and mother, his wife and children, his brothers and sisters—yes, even his own life—he cannot be my disciple.[m] [27]And anyone who does not carry his cross and follow me cannot be my disciple.[n]

[28]"Suppose one of you wants to build a tower. Will he not first sit down and estimate the cost to see if he has enough money to complete it? [29]For if he lays the foundation and is not able to finish it, everyone who sees it will ridicule him, [30]saying, 'This fellow began to build and was not able to finish.'

[31]"Or suppose a king is about to go to war against another king. Will he not first sit down and consider whether he is

14:7 places of honor. Maneuvering for better seats may also have caused trouble at the Last Supper (22:24).

14:11 humbles himself will be exalted. A basic principle repeated often in the Bible (see 11:43; 18:14; 20:46; 2Ch 7:14–15; Pr 3:34; 25:6- 7; Mt 18:4; 23:12; Jas 4:10; 1Pe 5:6).

14:14 resurrection of the righteous. All will be resurrected (Da 12:2; Jn 5:28–29; Ac 24:15). Some hold that the resurrection of the righteous (1Co 15:23; 1Th 4:16; Rev 20:4–6) is distinct from the "general" resurrection (1Co 15:12,21; Heb 6:2; Rev 20:11–15). the righteous. Those who have been pronounced so by God on the basis of Christ's atonement and who have evidenced their faith by their actions (cf. Mt 25:34–40).

14:15 feast in the kingdom. The great Messianic banquet to come. Association of the future kingdom with a feast was common (13:29; Isa 25:6; Mt 8:11; 25:1–10; 26:29; Rev 19:9).

14:16 Jesus replied. Jesus used the man's remark as the occasion for a parable warning that not everyone would enter the kingdom.

14:18 bought a field. The initial invitation must have been accepted, but when the final invitation came (by Jewish custom the announcement that came when the feast was ready), other interests took priority. None of the "reasons" given was genuine. For example, one did not buy a field without first seeing it, nor oxen without first trying them out (v. 19).

14:24 those men who were invited. Without explicitly mentioning them, Jesus warned the Jews that refusal to accept God's invitation would result in their rejection and the inclusion of Gentiles instead (see 20:9–19).

14:26 hate his father. A vivid hyperbole, meaning that one must love Jesus even more than his immediate family (see Mal 1:2–3 for another use of the figure). See Mt 10:37.

14:27 carry his cross. See 9:23; Mt 10:38 and notes.

14:28 estimate the cost. Jesus did not want a blind, naive commitment that expected only blessings. As a builder estimates costs or a king evaluates military strength (v. 31), so a person must consider what Jesus expects of his followers.

able with ten thousand men to oppose the one coming against him with twenty thousand? 32If he is not able, he will send a delegation while the other is still a long way off and will ask for terms of peace. 33In the same way, any of you who does not give up everything he has cannot be my disciple.[o]

The Parable of the Lost Sheep

15:4-7pp — Mt 18:12-14

15 Now the tax collectors[s] and "sinners" were all gathering around to hear him. 2But the Pharisees and the teachers of the law muttered, "This man welcomes sinners and eats with them."[t]

3Then Jesus told them this parable:[u] 4"Suppose one of you has a hundred sheep and loses one of them. Does he not leave the ninety-nine in the open country and go after the lost sheep until he finds it?[v] 5And when he finds it, he joyfully puts it on his shoulders 6and goes home. Then he calls his friends and neighbors together and says, 'Rejoice with me; I have found my lost sheep.'[w] 7I tell you that in the same way there will be more rejoicing in heaven over one sinner who repents than over ninety-nine righteous persons who do not need to repent.[x]

The Parable of the Lost Coin

8"Or suppose a woman has ten silver coins[i] and loses one. Does she not light a lamp, sweep the house and search carefully until she finds it? 9And when she finds it, she calls her friends and neighbors together and says, 'Rejoice with me; I have found my lost coin.'[y] 10In the same way, I tell you, there is rejoicing in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner who repents."[z]

The Parable of the Lost Son

11Jesus continued: "There was a man who had two sons.[a] 12The younger one said to his father, 'Father, give me my share of the estate.'[b] So he divided his property[c] between them.

13"Not long after that, the younger son got together all he had, set off for a distant country and there squandered his wealth[d] in wild living. 14After he had spent everything, there was a severe famine in that whole country, and he began to be in need. 15So he went and hired himself out to a citizen of that country, who sent him to his fields to feed pigs.[e] 16He longed to fill his stomach with the pods that the pigs were eating, but no one gave him anything.

17"When he came to his senses, he said, 'How many of my father's hired men have food to spare, and here I am starving to death! 18I will set out and go back to my father and say to him: Father, I have sinned[f] against heaven and against you. 19I am no longer worthy to be called your son; make me like one of your hired men.' 20So he got up and went to his father.

"But while he was still a long way off, his father saw him and was filled with compassion for him; he ran to his son, threw his arms around him and kissed him.[g] 21"The son said to him, 'Father, I have sinned against heaven and against you.[h] I am no longer worthy to be called your son.[k]'

15:1 tax collectors and "sinners." See notes on 3:12; Mk 2:15.
15:2 muttered. Complained among themselves, but not openly. eats with them. More than simple association, eating with a person indicated acceptance and recognition (cf. Ac 11:3; 1 Co 5:11; Gal 2:12).
15:3 this parable. Jesus responded with a story that contrasted the love of God with the exclusiveness of the Pharisees.
15:4 the lost sheep. The shepherd theme was familiar from Ps 23; Isa 40:11; Eze 34:11–16.
15:7 rejoicing in heaven. God's concern and joy at the sinner's repentance are set in stark contrast to the attitude of the Pharisees and the teachers of the law (v. 2). righteous . . . do not need to repent. Probably irony: those who think they are righteous (such as the Pharisees and the teachers of the law) and feel no need to repent.
15:8 ten silver coins. See NIV text note. A drachma was a Greek coin approximately equivalent to the Roman denarius, worth about an average day's wages (Mt 20:2). search carefully. Near Eastern houses frequently had no windows and only earthen floors, making the search for a single coin difficult.
15:12 share of the estate. The father might divide the inheritance (double to the older son; see Dt 21:17 and note on Lk 12:13) but retain the income from it until his death. But to give a younger son his portion of the inheritance upon request was highly unusual.
15:13 got together all he had. The son's motive becomes apparent when he departs, taking with him all his possessions and leaving nothing behind to come back to. He wants to be free of parental restraint and to spend his share of the family wealth as he pleases. wild living. More specific in v. 30, though the older brother may have exaggerated because of his bitter attitude.
15:15 to feed pigs. The ultimate indignity for a Jew; not only was the work distasteful but pigs were "unclean" animals (Lev 11:7).
15:16 pods. Seeds of the carob tree.

22"But the father said to his servants, 'Quick! Bring the best robe[i] and put it on him. Put a ring on his finger[j] and sandals on his feet. 23Bring the fattened calf and kill it. Let's have a feast and celebrate. 24For this son of mine was dead and is alive again;[k] he was lost and is found.' So they began to celebrate.[l]

25"Meanwhile, the older son was in the field. When he came near the house, he heard music and dancing. 26So he called one of the servants and asked him what was going on. 27'Your brother has come,' he replied, 'and your father has killed the fattened calf because he has him back safe and sound.'

28"The older brother became angry[m] and refused to go in. So his father went out and pleaded with him. 29But he answered his father, 'Look! All these years I've been slaving for you and never disobeyed your orders. Yet you never gave me even a young goat so I could celebrate with my friends. 30But when this son of yours who has squandered your property[n] with prostitutes[o] comes home, you kill the fattened calf for him!'

31" 'My son,' the father said, 'you are always with me, and everything I have is yours. 32But we had to celebrate and be glad, because this brother of yours was dead and is alive again; he was lost and is found.' "[p]

The Parable of the Shrewd Manager

16 Jesus told his disciples: "There was a rich man whose manager was accused of wasting his possessions.[q] 2So he called him in and asked him, 'What is this I hear about you? Give an account of your management, because you cannot be manager any longer.'

3"The manager said to himself, 'What shall I do now? My master is taking away my job. I'm not strong enough to dig, and I'm ashamed to beg— 4I know what I'll do so that, when I lose my job here, people will welcome me into their houses.'

5"So he called in each one of his master's debtors. He asked the first, 'How much do you owe my master?'

6" 'Eight hundred gallons[l] of olive oil,' he replied.

"The manager told him, 'Take your bill, sit down quickly, and make it four hundred.'

7"Then he asked the second, 'And how much do you owe?'

" 'A thousand bushels[m] of wheat,' he replied.

"He told him, 'Take your bill and make it eight hundred.'

8"The master commended the dishonest manager because he had acted shrewdly. For the people of this world[r] are more shrewd[s] in dealing with their own kind than are the people of the light.[t] 9I tell you, use worldly wealth[u] to gain friends for yourselves, so that

[l]6 Greek one hundred batous (probably about 3 kiloliters) [m]7 Greek one hundred korous (probably about 35 kiloliters)

15:22–23 best robe ... ring ... sandals ... feast. Each was a sign of position and acceptance (cf. Ge 41:42; Zec 3:4): a long robe of distinction, a signet ring of authority, sandals like a son (slaves went barefoot), and the fattened calf for a special occasion.

15:28 The older brother. The forgiving love of the father symbolizes the divine mercy of God, and the older brother's resentment is like the attitude of the Pharisees and teachers of the law who opposed Jesus.

15:29 even a young goat. Cheaper food than a fattened calf.

15:30 this son of yours. The older brother would not even recognize him as his brother, so bitter was his hatred.

15:31 everything I have is yours. The father's love included both brothers. The parable might better be called the parable of "The Father's Love" rather than "The Prodigal Son." It shows a contrast between the self-centered exclusiveness of the Pharisees, who failed to understand God's love, and the concern and joy of God at the repentance of sinners.

15:32 dead and is alive. A beautiful picture of the return of the younger son, which also pictures Christian conversion (see Ro 6:13; Eph 2:1,5). The words "lost and is found" are often used to mean "perished and saved" (19:10; Mt 10:6; 18:10–14).

16:1 disciples. Perhaps more than just the Twelve (see 6:13; 10:1). manager. A steward who handled all the business affairs of the owner. wasting. He had squandered his master's possessions, just as the prodigal ("wasteful") son (15:13).

16:3 What shall I do now? The dishonest manager (v. 8) had no scruples against using his position for his own benefit, even if it meant cheating his master. Knowing he would lose his job, the manager planned for his future by discounting the debts owed to his master in order to obligate the debtors to himself. Interpreters disagree as to whether his procedure of discounting was in itself dishonest. Was he giving away what really belonged to his master, or was he forgoing interest payments his master did not have a right to charge? Originally the manager may have overcharged the debtors, a common way of circumventing the Mosaic law that prohibited taking interest from fellow Jews (Dt 23:19). So, to reduce the debts, he may have returned the figures to their initial amounts, which would both satisfy his master and gain the good favor of the debtors. In any event, the point remains the same: He was shrewd enough to use the means at his disposal to plan for his future well-being.

16:6 Eight hundred gallons of olive oil. The yield of about 450 olive trees.

16:7 thousand bushels of wheat. The approximate yield of about 100 acres.

16:8 people of the light. God's people (Jn 12:36; Eph 5:8; 1Th 5:5).

16:9 use worldly wealth. God's people should be alert to make use of what God has given them. to gain friends. By helping those in need, who in the future will show their gratitude when they welcome their benefactors into heaven ("eternal dwellings"). In this way worldly wealth may be wisely used to gain eternal benefit.

when it is gone, you will be welcomed into eternal dwellings.[t]

10"Whoever can be trusted with very little can also be trusted with much,[u] and whoever is dishonest with very little will also be dishonest with much. 11So if you have not been trustworthy in handling worldly wealth,[x] who will trust you with true riches? 12And if you have not been trustworthy with someone else's property, who will give you property of your own?

13"No servant can serve two masters. Either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will be devoted to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve both God and Money."[y]

14The Pharisees, who loved money,[z] heard all this and were sneering at Jesus.[a] 15He said to them, "You are the ones who justify yourselves[b] in the eyes of men, but God knows your hearts.[c] What is highly valued among men is detestable in God's sight.

Additional Teachings

16"The Law and the Prophets were proclaimed until John.[d] Since that time, the good news of the kingdom of God is being preached,[e] and everyone is forcing his way into it. 17It is easier for heaven and earth to disappear than for the least stroke of a pen to drop out of the Law.[f]

The Rich Man and Lazarus

19"There was a rich man who was dressed in purple and fine linen and lived in luxury every day.[h] 20At his gate was laid a beggar[i] named Lazarus, covered with sores 21and longing to eat what fell from the rich man's table.[j] Even the dogs came and licked his sores.

22"The time came when the beggar died and the angels carried him to Abraham's side. The rich man also died and was buried. 23In hell,[n] where he was in torment, he looked up and saw Abraham far away, with Lazarus by his side. 24So he called to him, 'Father Abraham,[k] have pity on me and send Lazarus to dip the tip of his finger in water and cool my tongue, because I am in agony in this fire.'[l]

25"But Abraham replied, 'Son, remember that in your lifetime you received your good things, while Lazarus received bad things,[m] but now he is comforted here and you are in agony.[n] 26And besides all this, between us and you a great chasm has been fixed, so that those who want to go from here to you cannot, nor can anyone cross over from there to us.'

27"He answered, 'Then I beg you, father, send Lazarus to my father's house, 28for I have five brothers. Let him warn them,[o] so that they will not also come to this place of torment.'

29"Abraham replied, 'They have Moses[p] and the Prophets;[q] let them listen to them.'

[n] 23 Greek Hades

16:10 trusted with much. Cf. 19:17; Mt 25:21. Faithfulness is not determined by the amount entrusted but by the character of the person who uses it.

16:11 true riches. The things of highest value, ultimately those of the spirit, the eternal.

16:13 two masters. See Mt 6:24; cf. Jas 4:4.

16:16 until John. The ministry of John the Baptist, which prepared the way for Jesus the Messiah, was the dividing line between the OT (the "Law and the Prophets") and the NT (see notes on Jer 31:31–34; Heb 8:6–12). forcing his way. The meaning is disputed, but it probably speaks of the fierce earnestness with which people were responding to the gospel of the kingdom. Multitudes were coming to hear Jesus and to receive his message.

16:17 The ministry of Jesus (introducing the new covenant era) was a fulfillment of the law (defining the old covenant era) in the most minute detail (cf. 21:33). least stroke of a pen. See notes on Mt 5:17–18.

16:18 divorces his wife. See Mt 5:31–32; 19:9; Mk 10:11–12; 1Co 7:10–11. Jesus affirms the continuing authority of the law: For example, adultery was still adultery, still unlawful and still sinful. Matthew's treatment is fuller in that (1) it shows that the law was given because of man's hardened heart in regard to divorce, and (2) it includes one exception as permissible grounds for divorce—marital unfaithfulness (Mt 19:9).

16:19 a rich man. Sometimes given the name Dives (from the Latin for "rich man"). purple and fine linen. Characteristic of costly garments.

16:20 Lazarus. Not the Lazarus Jesus raised from the dead (Jn 11:43–44). If this is a parable, it is the only one in which Jesus gave a name to one of the characters. covered with sores. The Greek for this phrase is a common medical term found only here in the NT (see Introduction: Author).

16:22 Abraham's side. The Talmud mentions both paradise (see 23:43) and Abraham's side (traditionally "bosom") as the home of the righteous. Abraham's side refers to the place of blessedness to which the righteous dead go to await future vindication. Its bliss is the quality of blessedness reserved for people like Abraham.

16:23 hell. See NIV text note. Hades is the place to which the wicked dead go to await the final judgment. That torment begins in Hades is evident from the plight of the rich man. The location of Abraham's side is not specified, but it is separated from Hades by an impassable chasm. Hades includes the torment that characterizes hell (fire, Rev 20:10; agony, Rev 14:11; separation, Mt 8:12). Some understand Jesus' description of Abraham's side and Hades in a less literal way.

16:28 I have five brothers. For the first time the rich man showed concern for others.

16:29 Moses and the Prophets. A way of designating the whole OT. The rich man had failed to pay attention to Scripture and its teaching, and feared his brothers would do the same.

30"'No, father Abraham,'[r] he said, 'but if someone from the dead goes to them, they will repent.'

31"He said to him, 'If they do not listen to Moses and the Prophets, they will not be convinced even if someone rises from the dead.'"

Sin, Faith, Duty

17 Jesus said to his disciples: "Things that cause people to sin[s] are bound to come, but woe to that person through whom they come.[t] 2It would be better for him to be thrown into the sea with a millstone tied around his neck than for him to cause one of these little ones[u] to sin.[v] 3So watch yourselves.

"If your brother sins, rebuke him,[w] and if he repents, forgive him.[x] 4If he sins against you seven times in a day, and seven times comes back to you and says, 'I repent,' forgive him."[y]

5The apostles[z] said to the Lord,[a] "Increase our faith!"

6He replied, "If you have faith as small as a mustard seed,[b] you can say to this mulberry tree, 'Be uprooted and planted in the sea,' and it will obey you.[c]

7"Suppose one of you had a servant plowing or looking after the sheep. Would he say to the servant when he comes in from the field, 'Come along now and sit down to eat'? 8Would he not rather say, 'Prepare my supper, get yourself ready and wait on me[d] while I eat and drink; after that you may eat and drink'? 9Would he thank the servant because he did what he was told to do? 10So you also, when you have done everything you were told to do, should say, 'We are unworthy servants; we have only done our duty.'"[e]

Ten Healed of Leprosy

11Now on his way to Jerusalem,[f] Jesus traveled along the border between Samaria and Galilee.[g] 12As he was going into a village, ten men who had leprosy[o h] met him. They stood at a distance[i] 13and called out in a loud voice, "Jesus, Master,[j] have pity on us!"

14When he saw them, he said, "Go, show yourselves to the priests."[k] And as they went, they were cleansed.

15One of them, when he saw he was healed, came back, praising God[l] in a loud voice. 16He threw himself at Jesus' feet and thanked him—and he was a Samaritan.[m]

17Jesus asked, "Were not all ten cleansed? Where are the other nine? 18Was no one found to return and give praise to God except this foreigner?" 19Then he said to him, "Rise and go; your faith has made you well."[n]

The Coming of the Kingdom of God

17:26,27pp — Mt 24:37–39

20Once, having been asked by the Pharisees when the kingdom of God would come,[o] Jesus replied, "The kingdom of God does not come with your careful observation, 21nor will people say, 'Here it is,' or 'There it is,'[p] because the kingdom of God is within[p] you."

22Then he said to his disciples, "The time is coming when you will long to see

[o] 12 The Greek word was used for various diseases affecting the skin—not necessarily leprosy. [p] 21 Or among 16:30 someone from the dead. The story may suggest that Lazarus was intended, but Luke's account seems to imply that Jesus was speaking also of his own resurrection (cf. v. 31; 9:22). If a person's mind is closed and Scripture is rejected, no evidence—not even a resurrection—will change him.

17:2 millstone. A heavy stone for grinding grain. one of these little ones. Either young in the faith or young in age (cf. 10:21; Mt 18:6; Mk 10:24).

17:3 your brother. See Mt 18:15–17; cf. Mt 12:50.

17:4 seven times. That is, forgiveness is to be unlimited (cf. Ps 119:164; Mt 18:21–22).

17:5 Increase our faith! They felt incapable of measuring up to the standards set forth in vv. 1–4. They wanted greater faith to lay hold of the power to live up to Jesus' standards.

17:6 See Mt 17:20; Mk 11:23; see also notes on Mt 13:31–32; Mk 4:31.

17:7 a servant. A slave, used to illustrate performance of duty (cf. 12:37).

17:11 border between Samaria and Galilee. From this point Jesus seems to have journeyed to Perea, where he ministered on his way south to Jerusalem (see notes on 9:51; 13:22).

17:14 show yourselves to the priests. Normal procedure after a cure (see Lev 13:2–3; 14:2–32).

17:16 Samaritan. See note on 10:31–33. Normally Jews did not associate with Samaritans (Jn 4:9), but leprosy broke down social barriers while erecting others (see notes on Lev 13:2,4,45–46).

17:19 your faith has made you well. See Mt 9:22. The phrase may also be rendered "your faith has saved you" (7:50). The fact that the Samaritan returned to thank Jesus may indicate that he had received salvation in addition to the physical healing all ten had received (cf. 7:50; 8:48,50).

17:21 the kingdom of God is within you. Probably indicating that the kingdom is spiritual and internal (Mt 23:26), rather than physical and external (cf. Jn 18:36). But see NIV text note (cf. 19:11; 21:7; Ac 1:6), meaning that the kingdom is present in the person of its king, Jesus (see also note on 4:43). However, the immediate context (v. 20) may favor the former interpretation, namely, that the kingdom is spiritual and so not visible. If this is the correct view, the pronoun "you" in the phrase "within you" is to be taken in a general sense rather than as referring to the unbelieving Pharisees personally. The kingdom certainly was not within them.

17:22 long to see. In time of trouble, believers will desire to experience the day when Jesus returns in his glory and delivers his people from their distress.

one of the days of the Son of Man,[q] but you will not see it.[r] 23Men will tell you, 'There he is!' or 'Here he is!' Do not go running off after them.[s] 24For the Son of Man in his day[q] will be like the lightning,[t] which flashes and lights up the sky from one end to the other. 25But first he must suffer many things[u] and be rejected[v] by this generation.[w]

26"Just as it was in the days of Noah,[x] so also will it be in the days of the Son of Man. 27People were eating, drinking, marrying and being given in marriage up to the day Noah entered the ark. Then the flood came and destroyed them all.

28"It was the same in the days of Lot.[y] People were eating and drinking, buying and selling, planting and building. 29But the day Lot left Sodom, fire and sulfur rained down from heaven and destroyed them all.

30"It will be just like this on the day the Son of Man is revealed.[z] 31On that day no one who is on the roof of his house, with his goods inside, should go down to get them. Likewise, no one in the field should go back for anything.[a] 32Remember Lot's wife![b] 33Whoever tries to keep his life will lose it, and whoever loses his life will preserve it.[c] 34I tell you, on that night two people will be in one bed; one will be taken and the other left. 35Two women will be grinding grain together; one will be taken and the other left."[r][d]

37"Where, Lord?" they asked.

He replied, "Where there is a dead body, there the vultures will gather."[e]

The Parable of the Persistent Widow

18 Then Jesus told his disciples a parable to show them that they should always pray and not give up.[f] 2He said: "In a certain town there was a judge who neither feared God nor cared about men. 3And there was a widow in that town who kept coming to him with the plea, 'Grant me justice[g] against my adversary.'

4"For some time he refused. But finally he said to himself, 'Even though I don't fear God or care about men, 5yet because this widow keeps bothering me, I will see that she gets justice, so that she won't eventually wear me out with her coming!' "[h]

6And the Lord[i] said, "Listen to what the unjust judge says. 7And will not God bring about justice for his chosen ones, who cry out[j] to him day and night? Will he keep putting them off? 8I tell you, he will see that they get justice, and quickly. However, when the Son of Man[k] comes,[l] will he find faith on the earth?"

The Parable of the Pharisee and the Tax Collector

9To some who were confident of their own righteousness[m] and looked down on everybody else,[n] Jesus told this parable: 10"Two men went up to the temple to pray,[o] one a Pharisee and the other a

17:23 Do not go running off after them. Do not leave your work in order to pursue predictions of Christ's second advent.

17:24 like the lightning. His coming will be sudden, unexpected and public (cf. 12:40).

17:25 he must suffer. Jesus repeatedly foretold his coming death (5:35; 9:22,43–45; 12:50; 13:32–33; 18:32; 24:7; see Mt 16:21), which had to occur before his glorious return.

17:28 in the days of Lot. See Ge 18:16–19:28.

17:30 Son of Man is revealed. At Jesus' second coming he will be plainly visible to all (1Co 1:7; 2Th 1:7; 1Pe 1:7,13; 4:13).

17:31 on the roof of his house. It was customary to relax on the flat rooftop. When the final hour comes, however, the individual there should not be thinking of going into the house to retrieve some material objects. Matthew and Mark refer similarly to flight at the fall of Jerusalem, and indirectly to the end time (Mt 24:17–18; Mk 13:15), but here the reference is explicitly to Jesus' return (see v. 30; cf. 21:21).

17:33 whoever loses his life will preserve it. See note on 9:24 (cf. Mt 10:39).

17:35 taken. Could refer to being "taken to/from destruction" or "taken into the kingdom." What is clear is that no matter how close two people may be in life, they have no guarantee of the same eternal destiny. One may go to judgment and condemnation, the other to salvation, reward and blessing.

17:36 See NIV text note on v. 35.

17:37 Where . . . there the vultures will gather. A proverb. See note on Mt 24:28. In response to the disciples' question, Jesus explains that these things will take place wherever there are people to whom the event pertains.

18:2 nor cared about men. Unconcerned about the needs of others or about their opinion of him.

18:3 a widow. Particularly helpless and vulnerable because she had no family to uphold her cause. Only justice and her own persistence were in her favor.

18:7 will not God bring about justice . . . ? If an unworthy judge who feels no constraint of right or wrong is compelled by persistence to deal justly with a helpless individual, how much more will God answer prayer! keep putting them off. God will not delay his support of the chosen ones when they are right. He is not like the unjust judge, who had to be badgered until he wearied and gave in.

18:8 will he find faith . . . ? Particularly faith that perseveres in prayer and loyalty (see Mt 24:12–13). Christ makes a second application that looks forward to the time of his second coming. A period of spiritual decline and persecution is assumed—a time that will require perseverance such as the widow demonstrated.

18:10 to pray. Periods for prayer were scheduled daily in connection with the morning and evening sacrifices. People could also go to the temple at any time for private prayer.

tax collector. 11The Pharisee stood up[p] and prayed about[s] himself: 'God, I thank you that I am not like other men—robbers, evildoers, adulterers—or even like this tax collector. 12I fast[q] twice a week and give a tenth[r] of all I get.'

13"But the tax collector stood at a distance. He would not even look up to heaven, but beat his breast[s] and said, 'God, have mercy on me, a sinner.'[t]

14"I tell you that this man, rather than the other, went home justified before God. For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, and he who humbles himself will be exalted."[u]

The Little Children and Jesus

18:15–17pp — Mt 19:13–15; Mk 10:13–16

15People were also bringing babies to Jesus to have him touch them. When the disciples saw this, they rebuked them. 16But Jesus called the children to him and said, "Let the little children come to me, and do not hinder them, for the kingdom of God belongs to such as these. 17I tell you the truth, anyone who will not receive the kingdom of God like a little child[v] will never enter it."

The Rich Ruler

18:18–30pp — Mt 19:16–29; Mk 10:17–30

18A certain ruler asked him, "Good teacher, what must I do to inherit eternal life?"[w]

19"Why do you call me good?" Jesus answered. "No one is good—except God alone. 20You know the commandments: 'Do not commit adultery, do not murder, do not steal, do not give false testimony, honor your father and mother.'[t]"[x]

21"All these I have kept since I was a boy," he said.

22When Jesus heard this, he said to him, "You still lack one thing. Sell everything you have and give to the poor,[y] and you will have treasure in heaven.[z] Then come, follow me."

23When he heard this, he became very sad, because he was a man of great wealth. 24Jesus looked at him and said, "How hard it is for the rich to enter the kingdom of God![a] 25Indeed, it is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the kingdom of God."

26Those who heard this asked, "Who then can be saved?"

27Jesus replied, "What is impossible with men is possible with God."[b]

28Peter said to him, "We have left all we had to follow you!"[c]

29"I tell you the truth," Jesus said to them, "no one who has left home or wife or brothers or parents or children for the sake of the kingdom of God 30will fail to receive many times as much in this age and, in the age to come,[d] eternal life."[e]

Jesus Again Predicts His Death

18:31–33pp — Mt 20:17–19; Mk 10:32–34

31Jesus took the Twelve aside and told them, "We are going up to Jerusalem,[f] and everything that is written by the prophets[g] about the Son of Man[h] will be fulfilled. 32He will be handed over to the Gentiles.[i] They will mock him, insult him, spit on him, flog him[j] and kill him.[k] 33On the third day[l] he will rise again."[m]

34The disciples did not understand any of this. Its meaning was hidden from them, and they did not know what he was talking about.[n]

A Blind Beggar Receives His Sight

18:35–43pp — Mt 20:29–34; Mk 10:46–52

35As Jesus approached Jericho,[o] a blind man was sitting by the roadside begging. 36When he heard the crowd going by, he asked what was happening. 37They told him, "Jesus of Nazareth is passing by."[p]

18:12 fast twice a week. Fasting was not commanded in the Mosaic law except for the fast on the Day of Atonement. However, the Pharisees also fasted on Mondays and Thursdays (see 5:33; Mt 6:16; 9:14; Mk 2:18; Ac 27:9). a tenth of all I get. As a typical first-century Pharisee, he tithed all that he acquired, not merely what he earned.

18:13 have mercy on me. The verb used here means "to be propitiated" (see note on 1Jn 2:2). The tax collector does not plead his good works but the mercy of God in forgiving his sin.

18:14 justified before God. God reckoned him to be righteous, i.e., his sins were forgiven and he was credited with righteousness—not his own (v. 9) but that which comes from God.

18:17 like a little child. With total dependence, full trust, frank openness and complete sincerity (see Mt 18:3; 19:14; Mk 10:15; cf. 1Pe 2:2). See note on Mk 10:15.

18:18–27 For this event see notes on Mk 10:17–27.

18:18 eternal life. See note on Mt 19:16.

18:30 this age . . . the age to come. The present age of sin and misery and the future age to be inaugurated by the return of the Messiah.

18:31 everything that is written by the prophets. Sometimes referred to as the third prediction of Jesus' death, though the total number is more than three (see note on 17:25). The first distinct prediction is in 9:22 and the second in 9:43–45. The Messiah's death had been predicted and/or prefigured centuries before (e.g., Ps 22; Isa 53; Zec 13:7; see Lk 24:27; Mt 26:24,31,54). Son of Man. See note on Mk 8:31.

18:35 approached Jericho. See note on Mk 10:46. a blind man. Bartimaeus (Mk 10:46). Matthew reports that two blind men were healed (see note on Mt 20:30). Probably since one was the spokesman and more outstanding, Mark and Luke did not record the presence of the other.

38He called out, "Jesus, Son of David,[q] have mercy[r] on me!"
39Those who led the way rebuked him and told him to be quiet, but he shouted all the more, "Son of David, have mercy on me!"[s] 40Jesus stopped and ordered the man to be brought to him. When he came near, Jesus asked him, 41"What do you want me to do for you?"
"Lord, I want to see," he replied.
42Jesus said to him, "Receive your sight; your faith has healed you."[t] 43Immediately he received his sight and followed Jesus, praising God. When all the people saw it, they also praised God.[u]

Zacchaeus the Tax Collector

19 Jesus entered Jericho[v] and was passing through. 2A man was there by the name of Zacchaeus; he was a chief tax collector and was wealthy. 3He wanted to see who Jesus was, but being a short man he could not, because of the crowd. 4So he ran ahead and climbed a sycamore-fig[w] tree to see him, since Jesus was coming that way.[x]
5When Jesus reached the spot, he looked up and said to him, "Zacchaeus, come down immediately. I must stay at your house today." 6So he came down at once and welcomed him gladly.
7All the people saw this and began to mutter, "He has gone to be the guest of a 'sinner.'"[y]
8But Zacchaeus stood up and said to the Lord,[z] "Look, Lord! Here and now I give half of my possessions to the poor, and if I have cheated anybody out of anything,[a] I will pay back four times the amount."[b]

The Parable of the Ten Minas

19:12–27Ref — Mt 25:14–30

11While they were listening to this, he went on to tell them a parable, because he was near Jerusalem and the people thought that the kingdom of God[e] was going to appear at once.[f] 12He said: "A man of noble birth went to a distant country to have himself appointed king and then to return. 13So he called ten of his servants[g] and gave them ten minas.[u] 'Put this money to work,' he said, 'until I come back.'
14"But his subjects hated him and sent a delegation after him to say, 'We don't want this man to be our king.'
15"He was made king, however, and returned home. Then he sent for the servants to whom he had given the money, in order to find out what they had gained with it.
16"The first one came and said, 'Sir, your mina has earned ten more.'
17" 'Well done, my good servant![h]' his master replied. 'Because you have been trustworthy in a very small matter, take charge of ten cities.'[i] 18"The second came and said, 'Sir, your mina has earned five more.'
19"His master answered, 'You take charge of five cities.'
20"Then another servant came and said, 'Sir, here is your mina; I have kept [u] 13 A mina was about three months' wages.

18:38–39 Son of David. A Messianic title (see Mt 22:41–45; Mk 12:35; Jn 7:42; see also 2Sa 7:12–13; Ps 89:3–4; Am 9:11; Mt 12:23; 21:15–16).
18:42 your faith. See note on 17:19.
19:1 entered Jericho. See note on Mk 10:46.
19:2 chief tax collector. A position referred to only here in the Bible, probably designating one in charge of a district, with other tax collectors under him. The region was prosperous at this time, so it is no wonder that Zacchaeus had grown rich. See notes on 3:12; Mk 2:14–15.
19:4 a sycamore-fig tree. A sturdy tree from 30 to 40 feet high, with a short trunk and spreading branches, capable of holding a grown man. (See note on Am 7:14.)
19:5 I must stay at your house. Implies a divine necessity.
19:8 four times. Almost the extreme repayment required under the law in case of theft (Ex 22:1; 2Sa 12:6; cf. Pr 6:31).
19:9 son of Abraham. A true Jew—not only of the lineage of Abraham but one who also walks "in the footsteps" of Abraham's faith (Ro 4:12). Jesus recognized the tax collector as such, though Jewish society excluded him.
19:10 A key verse in Luke's Gospel. Son of Man. A Messianic title (Da 7:13) used only by Jesus in the four Gospels, by Stephen (Ac 7:56) and in John's vision (Rev 1:13). See Introduction: Plan; see also note on Mk 8:31. to seek and to save. An important summary of Jesus' purpose—to bring salvation, meaning eternal life (18:18), and the kingdom of God (18:25). See note on 15:32.
19:11 kingdom ... was going to appear. They expected the Messiah to appear in power and glory and to set up his earthly kingdom, defeating all their political and military enemies.
19:12 to have himself appointed king. A rather unusual procedure, but the Herods did just that when they went to Rome to be appointed rulers over the Jews. Similarly, Jesus was soon to depart and in the future is to return as King. During his absence, his servants are entrusted with their master's affairs (for a similar parable see Mt 25:14–30).
19:13 ten minas. See NIV text note. One talent equaled 60 minas (see Mt 25:15) and a mina equaled 100 drachmas, each drachma being worth about a day's wages (see note on 15:8). Thus the total amount was valued at between two and three years' average wages, and a tenth would be about three months' wages. This was small, however, compared with the amounts mentioned in the parable recorded in Matthew. Here all ten are given the same amount.
19:14 sent a delegation. Such an incident had occurred over 30 years earlier in the case of Archelaus (Josephus, Wars, 2.6.1; Antiquities, 17.9.3), as well as in a number of other instances. This aspect of the story may have been included to warn the Jews against rejecting Jesus as King it laid away in a piece of cloth. [21]I was afraid of you, because you are a hard man. You take out what you did not put in and reap what you did not sow.'[j]

[22]"His master replied, 'I will judge you by your own words,[k] you wicked servant! You knew, did you, that I am a hard man, taking out what I did not put in, and reaping what I did not sow?[l] [23]Why then didn't you put my money on deposit, so that when I came back, I could have collected it with interest?'

[24]"Then he said to those standing by, 'Take his mina away from him and give it to the one who has ten minas.'

[25]" 'Sir,' they said, 'he already has ten!'

[26]"He replied, 'I tell you that to everyone who has, more will be given, but as for the one who has nothing, even what he has will be taken away.[m] [27]But those enemies of mine who did not want me to be king over them—bring them here and kill them in front of me.' "

The Triumphal Entry

19:29–38pp — Mt 21:1–9; Mk 11:1–10
19:35–38pp — Jn 12:12–15

[28]After Jesus had said this, he went on ahead, going up to Jerusalem.[n] [29]As he approached Bethphage and Bethany[o] at the hill called the Mount of Olives,[p] he sent two of his disciples, saying to them, [30]"Go to the village ahead of you, and as you enter it, you will find a colt tied there, which no one has ever ridden. Untie it and bring it here. [31]If anyone asks you, 'Why are you untying it?' tell him, 'The Lord needs it.' "

[32]Those who were sent ahead went and found it just as he had told them.[q] [33]As they were untying the colt, its owners asked them, "Why are you untying the colt?"

[34]They replied, "The Lord needs it."

[35]They brought it to Jesus, threw their cloaks on the colt and put Jesus on it. [36]As he went along, people spread their cloaks[r] on the road.

[37]When he came near the place where the road goes down the Mount of Olives,[s] the whole crowd of disciples began joyfully to praise God in loud voices for all the miracles they had seen:

[38]"Blessed is the king who comes in the name of the Lord!"[vt]

"Peace in heaven and glory in the highest!"[u]

[39]Some of the Pharisees in the crowd said to Jesus, "Teacher, rebuke your disciples!"[v]

[40]"I tell you," he replied, "if they keep quiet, the stones will cry out."[w]

[41]As he approached Jerusalem and saw the city, he wept over it[x] [42]and said, "If you, even you, had only known on this day what would bring you peace—but now it is hidden from your eyes. [43]The days will come upon you when your enemies will build an embankment against you and encircle you and hem you in on every side.[y] [44]They will dash you to the ground, you and the children within your walls.[z] They will not leave one stone on another,[a] because you did not recognize the time of God's coming[b] to you."

19:22 You knew . . . that I am a hard man . . . ? The master did not admit to the statement of the servant, but repeated it in a question. If this was the opinion of the servant, he should have acted accordingly.

19:26 more will be given . . . what he has will be taken away. See 8:18; 17:33; Mt 13:12. Those who seek spiritual gain in the gospel, for themselves and others, will become richer, and those who neglect or squander what is given them will become impoverished, losing even what they have.

19:27 those enemies of mine . . . kill them. Perhaps a reference to Jerusalem's destruction in A.D. 70. The punishment of those who rebelled and actively opposed the king (v. 14) was much more severe than that of the negligent servant.

19:28–44 The Triumphal Entry occurred on Sunday of Passion Week. See charts on "The Life of Christ," p. 1478, and "Passion Week," p. 1520.

19:29 Bethphage. A village near the road going from Jericho to Jerusalem. Bethany. Another village about two miles southeast of Jerusalem (Jn 11:18), and the home of Mary, Martha and Lazarus. Mount of Olives. A ridge a little more than a mile long, separated from Jerusalem by the Kidron Valley—to the east of the city (see notes on Zec 14:4; Mk 11:1). two of his disciples. Not named here or in the parallel passages (Mt 21:1; Mk 11:1; cf. Jn 12:14).

19:30 village. Probably Bethphage. colt. In other accounts a donkey colt (Jn 12:15) is specified and the mother of the colt (Mt 21:7) with him. Luke uses a Greek word that the Septuagint frequently employed to translate the Hebrew word for "donkey." Jesus chooses to enter Jerusalem this time mounted on a donkey to claim publicly that he was the chosen Son of David to sit on David's throne (1Ki 1:33,44), the one of whom the prophets had spoken (Zec 9:9). which no one has ever ridden. One that had not been put to secular use (Nu 19:2; 1Sa 6:7).

19:31 The Lord. Either God or, more likely, Jesus himself, here claiming his own unique status as Israel's Lord.

19:37 all the miracles. The raising of Lazarus and the healing of blind Bartimaeus were recent examples, but included also would be the works recorded in John on various occasions in Jerusalem, as well as the whole of his ministry in Galilee (cf. Mt 21:14; Jn 12:17).

19:43 your enemies will build an embankment. See 21:20; fulfilled when the Romans took Jerusalem in A.D. 70, using an embankment to besiege the city. The description is reminiscent of OT predictions (Isa 29:3; 37:33; Eze 4:1–3).

19:44 the time of God's coming to you. God came to the Jews in the person of Jesus the Messiah, but they failed to recognize him and rejected him (see Jn 1:10–11; cf. Lk 20:13–16).

Jesus at the Temple

19:45,46pp — Mt 21:12–16; Mk 11:15–18; Jn 2:13–16

45Then he entered the temple area and began driving out those who were selling. 46"It is written," he said to them, " 'My house will be a house of prayer'[w];[c] but you have made it 'a den of robbers.'[x] "[d]

47Every day he was teaching at the temple.[e] But the chief priests, the teachers of the law and the leaders among the people were trying to kill him.[f] 48Yet they could not find any way to do it, because all the people hung on his words.

The Authority of Jesus Questioned

20:1–8pp — Mt 21:23–27; Mk 11:27–33

20 One day as he was teaching the people in the temple courts[g] and preaching the gospel,[h] the chief priests and the teachers of the law, together with the elders, came up to him. 2"Tell us by what authority you are doing these things," they said. "Who gave you this authority?"[i]

3He replied, "I will also ask you a question. Tell me, 4John's baptism[j]— was it from heaven, or from men?"

5They discussed it among themselves and said, "If we say, 'From heaven,' he will ask, 'Why didn't you believe him?' 6But if we say, 'From men,' all the people[k] will stone us, because they are persuaded that John was a prophet."[l]

7So they answered, "We don't know where it was from."

8Jesus said, "Neither will I tell you by what authority I am doing these things."

The Parable of the Tenants

20:9–19pp — Mt 21:33–46; Mk 12:1–12

9He went on to tell the people this parable: "A man planted a vineyard,[m] rented it to some farmers and went away for a long time.[n] 10At harvest time he sent a servant to the tenants so they would give him some of the fruit of the vineyard. But the tenants beat him and sent him away empty-handed. 11He sent another servant, but that one also they beat and treated shamefully and sent away empty-handed. 12He sent still a third, and they wounded him and threw him out.

13"Then the owner of the vineyard said, 'What shall I do? I will send my son, whom I love;[o] perhaps they will respect him.'

14"But when the tenants saw him, they talked the matter over. 'This is the heir,' they said. 'Let's kill him, and the inheritance will be ours.' 15So they threw him out of the vineyard and killed him.

"What then will the owner of the vineyard do to them? 16He will come and kill those tenants[p] and give the vineyard to others."

When the people heard this, they said, "May this never be!"

17Jesus looked directly at them and asked, "Then what is the meaning of that which is written:

" 'The stone the builders rejected has become the capstone[y] '[z]?[q]

19:45 Mark (11:11–17) makes clear that this cleansing occurred the day after the Triumphal Entry, i.e., on Monday of Passion Week. the temple area. The outer court (of the Gentiles), where animals for sacrifice were sold at unfair prices. John records a cleansing of the temple at the beginning of Jesus' ministry (Jn 2:13–25), but the Synoptics (see Mt 21:12–13; Mk 11:15–17) speak only of a cleansing at the close of Jesus' ministry (see notes on Mt 21:12–17; Jn 2:14–17).

19:47 chief priests. See 3:2; 22:52; 23:4; 24:20. They were part of the Sanhedrin, the ruling Jewish council (see note on Mk 14:55). were trying to kill him. See 20:19–20 (cf. Jn 7:1; 11:53–57).

20:1 The events of 20:1–21:36 all occurred on Tuesday of Passion Week—a long day of controversy. One day. Not specified, but Mark's parallel accounts (Mk 11:19–20,27–33) indicate that this day (Tuesday) followed the cleansing of the temple (Monday), which followed the Triumphal Entry (Sunday). chief priests. See 19:47 and note on Mt 2:4. teachers of the law. See 5:30 and notes on 5:17; Mt 2:4. elders. See note on Mt 15:2. Each of these groups was represented in the Jewish council, the Sanhedrin (see 22:66).

20:2 Who gave you this authority? They had asked this of John the Baptist (Jn 1:19–25) and of Jesus early in his ministry (Jn 2:18–22). Here the reference is to the cleansing of the temple, which not only defied the authority of the Jewish leaders but also hurt their monetary profits. The leaders may also have been looking for a way to discredit Jesus in the eyes of the people or raise suspicion of him as a threat to the authority of Rome.

20:4 John's baptism ... from heaven, or from men? By replying with a question, Jesus put the burden on his opponents—indicating only two alternatives: The work of John was either God-inspired or man-devised. By refusing to answer, they placed themselves in an awkward position. from heaven. See note on Mk 11:30.

20:10 he sent a servant. This parable (v. 9) is reminiscent of Isa 5:1–7. The servants who were sent to the tenants represent the prophets God sent in former times who were rejected (see Ne 9:26; Jer 7:25–26; 25:4–7; Mt 23:34; Ac 7:52; Heb 11:36–38). give him some of the fruit. In accordance with a kind of sharecropping agreement, a fixed amount was due the landowner. At the proper time he would expect to receive his share.

20:13 my son, whom I love. The specific reference to the beloved son makes clearer the intended application of the son in the parable to the Son, Jesus Christ (see 3:22; Mt 17:5).

20:14 inheritance will be ours. See note on Mk 12:7.

20:16 give the vineyard to others. See note on Mt 21:41.

19The teachers of the law and the chief priests looked for a way to arrest him[s] immediately, because they knew he had spoken this parable against them. But they were afraid of the people.[t]

Paying Taxes to Caesar

20:20–26pp — Mt 22:15–22; Mk 12:13–17

20Keeping a close watch on him, they sent spies, who pretended to be honest. They hoped to catch Jesus in something he said[u] so that they might hand him over to the power and authority of the governor.[v] 21So the spies questioned him: "Teacher, we know that you speak and teach what is right, and that you do not show partiality but teach the way of God in accordance with the truth.[w] 22Is it right for us to pay taxes to Caesar or not?"

23He saw through their duplicity and said to them, 24"Show me a denarius. Whose portrait and inscription are on it?"

25"Caesar's," they replied.

He said to them, "Then give to Caesar what is Caesar's,[x] and to God what is God's."

26They were unable to trap him in what he had said there in public. And astonished by his answer, they became silent.

The Resurrection and Marriage

20:27–40pp — Mt 22:23–33; Mk 12:18–27

27Some of the Sadducees,[y] who say there is no resurrection,[z] came to Jesus with a question. 28"Teacher," they said, "Moses wrote for us that if a man's brother dies and leaves a wife but no children, the man must marry the widow and have children for his brother.[a] 29Now there were seven brothers. The first one married a woman and died childless. 30The second 31and then the third married her, and in the same way the seven died, leaving no children. 32Finally, the woman died too. 33Now then, at the resurrection whose wife will she be, since the seven were married to her?"

34Jesus replied, "The people of this age marry and are given in marriage. 35But those who are considered worthy of taking part in that age[b] and in the resurrection from the dead will neither marry nor be given in marriage, 36and they can no longer die; for they are like the angels. They are God's children,[c] since they are children of the resurrection. 37But in the account of the bush, even Moses showed that the dead rise, for he calls the Lord 'the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob.'[ad] 38He is not the God of the dead, but of the living, for to him all are alive."

39Some of the teachers of the law responded, "Well said, teacher!" 40And no one dared to ask him any more questions.[e]

Whose Son Is the Christ?

20:41–47pp — Mt 22:41–23:7; Mk 12:35–40

41Then Jesus said to them, "How is it that they say the Christ[b] is the Son of David?[f] 42David himself declares in the Book of Psalms:

" 'The Lord said to my Lord:
"Sit at my right hand
43until I make your enemies
a footstool for your feet." '[cg]

44David calls him 'Lord.' How then can he be his son?"

20:19 teachers of the law. The "scribes." For their opposition to Jesus see 5:30; 9:22; 19:47; 22:2; 23:10.

20:20 authority of the governor. Fearing to take action themselves, the Jewish religious leaders hoped to draw from Jesus some statement that would bring action from the Roman officials and remove him from his contact with the people.

20:22 taxes to Caesar. To agree to the taxes demanded by Caesar would disappoint the people, but to advise no payment would disturb the Roman officials. The questioners hoped to trap Jesus with this dilemma.

20:24 a denarius. A Roman coin worth about a day's wages (see note on Mt 22:19).

20:25 to God what is God's. See note on Mt 22:21.

20:27 Sadducees. An aristocratic, politically minded group, willing to compromise with secular and pagan leaders. They controlled the high priesthood at this time and held the majority of the seats in the Sanhedrin. They did not believe in the resurrection or an afterlife, and they rejected the oral tradition taught by the Pharisees (Josephus, Antiquities, 13.10.6.). See notes on Mt 2:4; 3:7; Mk 12:18; Ac 4:1.

20:28 the man must marry the widow. The levirate law (see note on Mt 22:24; cf. Ge 38:8).

20:34–35 this age . . . that age. See note on 18:30.

20:36 like the angels. The resurrection order cannot be assumed to follow present earthly lines. In the new age there will be no marriage, no procreation and no death. children of the resurrection. Those who are to take part in the resurrection of the righteous (cf. Mt 22:23–33; Mk 12:18–27; Ac 4:1–2; 23:6–10).

20:37 account of the bush. Since Scripture chapters and verses were not used at the time of Christ, the passage was identified in this way, referring to Moses' experience with the burning bush (Ex 3:2).

20:39 Well said, teacher! Even though there was great animosity against Jesus, the teachers of the law (who were Pharisees) sided with Jesus against the Sadducees on the matter of resurrection.

20:44 David calls him 'Lord.' If the Messiah was a descendant of David, how could this honored king

Jesus said to his disciples, 46"Beware of the teachers of the law. They like to walk around in flowing robes and love to be greeted in the marketplaces and have the most important seats in the synagogues and the places of honor at banquets.[h] 47They devour widows' houses and for a show make lengthy prayers. Such men will be punished most severely."

The Widow's Offering

21:1–4pp — Mk 12:41–44

21 As he looked up, Jesus saw the rich putting their gifts into the temple treasury.[i] 2He also saw a poor widow put in two very small copper coins.[d] 3"I tell you the truth," he said, "this poor widow has put in more than all the others. 4All these people gave their gifts out of their wealth; but she out of her poverty put in all she had to live on."[j]

Signs of the End of the Age

21:5–36pp — Mt 24; Mk 13
21:12–17pp — Mt 10:17–22

5Some of his disciples were remarking about how the temple was adorned with beautiful stones and with gifts dedicated to God. But Jesus said, 6"As for what you see here, the time will come when not one stone will be left on another;[k] every one of them will be thrown down."

10Then he said to them: "Nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom.[m] 11There will be great earthquakes, famines and pestilences in various places, and fearful events and great signs from heaven.[n]

12"But before all this, they will lay hands on you and persecute you. They will deliver you to synagogues and prisons, and you will be brought before kings and governors, and all on account of my name. 13This will result in your being witnesses to them.[o] 14But make up your mind not to worry beforehand how you will defend yourselves.[p] 15For I will give you[q] words and wisdom that none of your adversaries will be able to resist or contradict. 16You will be betrayed even by parents, brothers, relatives and friends,[r] and they will put some of you to death. 17All men will hate you because of me.[s] 18But not a hair of your head will perish.[t] 19By standing firm you will gain life.[u]

20:46 flowing robes . . . important seats. See notes on Mk 12:38–39.

20:47 devour widows' houses. They take advantage of this defenseless group by fraud and schemes for selfish gain. punished most severely. Cf. 12:47–48. The higher the esteem of men, the more severe the demands of true justice; and the more hypocrisy (Mt 23:1–36), the greater the condemnation.

21:1 the temple treasury. In the court of women 13 boxes, shaped like inverted megaphones, were positioned to receive the donations of the worshipers.

21:2 very small copper coins. Jewish coins worth very little.

21:3–4 See note on 2Co 8:12.

21:5–36 See note on Mk 13:1–37.

21:5 how the temple was adorned. One stone at the southwest corner was some 36 feet long. "Whatever was not overlaid with gold was purest white" (Josephus, Jewish War, 5.5.6.). Herod gave a golden vine for one of its decorations. Its grape clusters were as tall as a man. The full magnificence of the temple as elaborated and adorned by Herod has only recently come to light through archaeological investigations on the temple hill.

21:6 not one stone . . . left. Fulfilled in A.D. 70 when the Romans took Jerusalem and burned the temple (see note on Mt 24:2).

21:7 when . . . ? Mark reports that this question was asked by four disciples: Peter, James, John and Andrew (Mk 13:3). Matthew gives the question in a fuller form, including an inquiry for the sign of Jesus' coming and the end of the age (Mt 24:3). what will be the sign . . . ? What would be the indication that these things are about to happen?

21:8 I am he. I am Jesus the Messiah (having come a second time). The time. The end time.

21:9 the end will not come right away. Refers to the end of the age (see Mt 24:3,6). All the events listed in vv. 8–18 are characteristic of the entire present age, not just signs of the end of the age.

21:11 signs from heaven. See v. 25. For prophetic descriptions of celestial signs accompanying the day of the Lord see note on Mk 13:25.

21:12 deliver you to synagogues. Synagogues were used not only for worship and school, but also for community administration and confinement while awaiting trial.

21:15 none . . . will be able to resist. See Ac 6:9–10.

21:18 Although persecution and death may come, God is in control, and the ultimate outcome will be eternal victory. not a hair of your head will perish. In view of v. 16 this cannot refer to physical safety. The figure indicates that there will be no real, i.e., spiritual, loss.

21:19 See note on Mk 13:13.

21:20 surrounded by armies. See 19:43. The sign that the end was near (cf. v. 7) would be the surrounding of Jerusalem with armies. Associated with this event would be the "abomination that causes desolation" (Mt 24:15).

its desolation is near. 21Then let those who are in Judea flee to the mountains, let those in the city get out, and let those in the country not enter the city.[w] 22For this is the time of punishment[x] in fulfillment[y] of all that has been written. 23How dreadful it will be in those days for pregnant women and nursing mothers! There will be great distress in the land and wrath against this people. 24They will fall by the sword and will be taken as prisoners to all the nations. Jerusalem will be trampled[z] on by the Gentiles until the times of the Gentiles are fulfilled.

25"There will be signs in the sun, moon and stars. On the earth, nations will be in anguish and perplexity at the roaring and tossing of the sea.[a] 26Men will faint from terror, apprehensive of what is coming on the world, for the heavenly bodies will be shaken.[b] 27At that time they will see the Son of Man[c] coming in a cloud[d] with power and great glory. 28When these things begin to take place, stand up and lift up your heads, because your redemption is drawing near."[e]

29He told them this parable: "Look at the fig tree and all the trees. 30When they sprout leaves, you can see for yourselves and know that summer is near. 31Even so, when you see these things happening, you know that the kingdom of God[f] is near.

Judas Agrees to Betray Jesus

22:1,2pp — Mt 26:2-5; Mk 14:1,2,10,11

22 Now the Feast of Unleavened Bread, called the Passover, was approaching,[p] 2and the chief priests and the teachers of the law were looking for some way to get rid of Jesus,[q] for they were afraid of the people. 3Then Satan[r] entered Judas, called Iscariot,[s] one of

[e] 32 Or race

21:21 flee to the mountains. When an army surrounds a city, it is natural to seek protection inside the walls, but Jesus directs his followers to seek the safety of the mountains because the city was doomed to destruction (see note on Mt 24:16).

21:22 time of punishment. God's retributive justice as the consequence of faithlessness (cf. Isa 63:4; Jer 5:29; Hos 9:7).

21:24 times of the Gentiles. The Gentiles would have both spiritual opportunities (Mk 13:10; cf. Lk 20:16; Ro 11:25) and domination of Jerusalem, but these times will end when God's purpose for the Gentiles has been fulfilled.

21:27 At that time ... Son of Man coming. The time of Christ's second coming (see Da 7:13). Often the predictions in this discourse refer ultimately to the end times, while at the same time describing the more imminent destruction of Jerusalem in A.D. 70.

21:28 lift up your heads. Do not be downcast at the appearance of these signs, but look up in joy, hope and trust. redemption. Final, completed redemption.

21:29 Look at the fig tree. The coming of spring is announced by the greening of the trees (cf. Mt 24:32–35; Mk 13:28–31). In a similar way, one can anticipate the coming of the kingdom when its signs are seen. But "kingdom" is used in different ways (see note on 4:43). The reference in v. 31 is to the future kingdom.

21:32 this generation. If the reference is to the destruction of Jerusalem, which occurred about 40 years after Jesus spoke these words, "generation" is used in its ordinary sense of a normal life span. All these things were fulfilled in a preliminary sense in the A.D. 70 destruction of Jerusalem. If the reference is to the second coming of Christ, "generation" might indicate the Jewish people as a race (see NIV text note), who were promised existence to the very end. Or it might refer to the future generation alive at the beginning of these things. It does not mean that Jesus had a mistaken notion he was going to return immediately.

21:34 that day. When Christ returns and the future aspect of God's kingdom is inaugurated (cf. v. 31). close on you unexpectedly. Does not mean that Christ's second coming will be completely unannounced, since there will be introductory signs (vv. 28,31).

21:35 the whole earth. The second coming of Christ will involve the whole of mankind, whereas the fall of Jerusalem did not.

21:37 Each day. Each day during the final week of his life, from his Triumphal Entry to the time of the Passover (Sunday-Thursday). Mount of Olives. See notes on 19:29; Mt 21:17.

22:1 Feast of Unleavened Bread ... Passover. "Passover" was used in two different ways: (1) a specific meal begun at twilight on the 14th of Nisan (Lev 23:4–5), and (2) the week following the Passover meal (Eze 45:21), otherwise known as the Feast of Unleavened Bread, a week in which no leaven was allowed (Ex 12:15–20; 13:3–7). By NT times the two names for the week-long festival were virtually interchangeable.

22:2 the chief priests and the teachers of the law. See 20:1.

22:3 Satan entered Judas. In the Gospels this expression is used on two separate occasions: (1) before Judas went to the chief priests and offered to betray Jesus (here), and (2) during the Last Supper (Jn 13:27). Thus the Gospel writers depict Satan's control over Judas, who had never displayed a high motive of service or commitment to Jesus.

the Twelve. 4And Judas went to the chief priests and the officers of the temple guard[t] and discussed with them how he might betray Jesus. 5They were delighted and agreed to give him money.[u] 6He consented, and watched for an opportunity to hand Jesus over to them when no crowd was present.

22:33,34pp — Mt 26:33–35; Mk 14:29–31; Jn 13:37,38

7Then came the day of Unleavened Bread on which the Passover lamb had to be sacrificed.[v] 8Jesus sent Peter and John,[w] saying, "Go and make preparations for us to eat the Passover."

9"Where do you want us to prepare for it?" they asked.

10He replied, "As you enter the city, a man carrying a jar of water will meet you. Follow him to the house that he enters, 11and say to the owner of the house, 'The Teacher asks: Where is the guest room, where I may eat the Passover with my disciples?' 12He will show you a large upper room, all furnished. Make preparations there."

13They left and found things just as Jesus had told them.[x] So they prepared the Passover.

14When the hour came, Jesus and his apostles[y] reclined at the table.[z] 15And he said to them, "I have eagerly desired to eat this Passover with you before I suffer.[a] 16For I tell you, I will not eat it again until it finds fulfillment in the kingdom of God."[b]

17After taking the cup, he gave thanks and said, "Take this and divide it among you. 18For I tell you I will not drink again of the fruit of the vine until the kingdom of God comes."

19And he took bread, gave thanks and broke it,[c] and gave it to them, saying, "This is my body given for you; do this in remembrance of me."

20In the same way, after the supper he took the cup, saying, "This cup is the new covenant[d] in my blood, which is poured out for you. 21But the hand of him who is going to betray me is with mine on the table.[e] 22The Son of Man[f] will go as it has been decreed,[g] but woe to that man who betrays him." 23They began to question among themselves which of them it might be who would do this.

24Also a dispute arose among them as to which of them was considered to be greatest.[h] 25Jesus said to them, "The kings of the Gentiles lord it over them; and those who exercise authority over them call themselves Benefactors. 26But

22:4 officers of the temple guard. All of these were Jews selected mostly from the Levites.

22:7 Passover lamb had to be sacrificed. On the 14th of Nisan between 2:30 and 5:30 P.M. in the court of the priests—Thursday of Passion Week.

22:10 a man carrying a jar. It was extraordinary to see a man carrying a jar of water, since this was normally women's work.

22:11 The Teacher asks. This form of address may have been chosen because the owner was a follower already known to Jesus.

22:13 as Jesus had told them. It may be that Jesus had made previous arrangements with the man in order to make sure that the Passover meal would not be interrupted. Since Jesus did not identify ahead of time just where he would observe Passover, Judas was unable to inform the enemy, who might have interrupted this important occasion.

22:14–30 It appears that Luke does not attempt to be strictly chronological in his account of the Last Supper. He records the most important part of the occasion first—the sharing of the bread and the cup. Then he tells of Jesus' comments about his betrayer and about the argument over who would be greatest, though both of these subjects seem to have been introduced earlier. John's Gospel (13:26–30), e.g., indicates that Judas had already left the room before the bread and cup of the Lord's Supper were shared, but Luke does not tell when he left.

22:14 reclined at the table. See note on Mk 14:3.

22:16 until it finds fulfillment. Jesus yearned to keep this Passover with his disciples because it was the last occasion before he himself was to be slain as the perfect "Passover lamb" (1Co 5:7) and thus fulfill this sacrifice for all time. Jesus would eat no more Passover meals until the coming of the future kingdom. After this he will renew fellowship with those who through the ages have commemorated the Lord's Supper. Finally the fellowship will be consummated in the great Messianic "wedding supper" to come (Rev 19:9).

22:17 After taking the cup. Either the first of the four cups shared during regular observance of the Passover meal, or the third cup.

22:18 until the kingdom of God comes. See notes on v. 16; 4:43.

22:19 is. Represents or signifies. given for you. Anticipating his substitutionary sacrifice on the cross. in remembrance of me. Just as the Passover was a constant reminder and proclamation of God's redemption of Israel from bondage in Egypt, so the keeping of Christ's command would be a remembering and proclaiming of the deliverance of believers from the bondage of sin through Christ's atoning work on the cross.

22:20 after the supper. Mentioned only here and in 1Co 11:25; see note on 1Co 11:23–26. took the cup. See note on Mk 14:24. new covenant. Promised through the prophet Jeremiah (31:31–34)—the fuller administration of God's saving grace, founded on and sealed by the death of Jesus ("in my blood"). See note on 1Co 11:25.

22:25 Benefactors. A title assumed by or voted for rulers in Egypt, Syria and Rome as a display of honor, but frequently not representing actual service rendered.

22:26 like the one who serves. Jesus urges and exemplifies servant leadership—a trait that was as uncommon then as it is now.

you are not to be like that. Instead, the greatest among you should be like the youngest,[i] and the one who rules like the one who serves.[j] 27For who is greater, the one who is at the table or the one who serves? Is it not the one who is at the table? But I am among you as one who serves.[k] 28You are those who have stood by me in my trials. 29And I confer on you a kingdom,[l] just as my Father conferred one on me, 30so that you may eat and drink at my table in my kingdom[m] and sit on thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel.[n]

31"Simon, Simon, Satan has asked[o] to sift you[t] as wheat.[p] 32But I have prayed for you,[q] Simon, that your faith may not fail. And when you have turned back, strengthen your brothers."[r]

33But he replied, "Lord, I am ready to go with you to prison and to death."[s]

34Jesus answered, "I tell you, Peter, before the rooster crows today, you will deny three times that you know me."

35Then Jesus asked them, "When I sent you without purse, bag or sandals,[t] did you lack anything?"

"Nothing," they answered.

36He said to them, "But now if you have a purse, take it, and also a bag; and if you don't have a sword, sell your cloak and buy one. 37It is written: 'And he was numbered with the transgressors'[s];[u] and I tell you that this must be fulfilled in me. Yes, what is written about me is reaching its fulfillment."

38The disciples said, "See, Lord, here are two swords."

"That is enough," he replied.

Jesus Prays on the Mount of Olives

22:40–46pp — Mt 26:36–46; Mk 14:32–42

39Jesus went out as usual[v] to the Mount of Olives,[w] and his disciples followed him. 40On reaching the place, he said to them, "Pray that you will not fall into temptation."[x] 41He withdrew about a stone's throw beyond them, knelt down[y] and prayed, 42"Father, if you are willing, take this cup[z] from me; yet not my will, but yours be done."[a] 43An angel from heaven appeared to him and strengthened him.[b] 44And being in anguish, he prayed more earnestly, and his sweat was like drops of blood falling to the ground.[h]

45When he rose from prayer and went back to the disciples, he found them asleep, exhausted from sorrow. 46"Why are you sleeping?" he asked them. "Get up and pray so that you will not fall into temptation."[c]

Jesus Arrested

22:47–53pp — Mt 26:47–56; Mk 14:43–50; Jn 18:3–11

47While he was still speaking a crowd came up, and the man who was called Judas, one of the Twelve, was leading them. He approached Jesus to kiss him, 48but Jesus asked him, "Judas, are you betraying the Son of Man with a kiss?"

49When Jesus' followers saw what was going to happen, they said, "Lord, should we strike with our swords?"[d] 50And one

[t] 31 The Greek is plural.
[s] 37 Isaiah 53:12
[h] 44 Some early manuscripts do not have verses 43 and 44.

22:28 in my trials. Including temptations (cf. 4:13), hardships (9:58) and rejection (Jn 1:11).

22:29 confer on you a kingdom. The following context (v. 30) indicates that this kingdom is the future form of the kingdom (see notes on 4:43; Mt 3:2).

22:30 sit on thrones. As they shared in Jesus' trials, so they will share in his rule (2Ti 2:12). judging. Leading or ruling. See NIV text note on Jdg 2:16. the twelve tribes of Israel. See Mt 19:28.

22:31 sift you. See NIV text note. Satan wanted to test the disciples, hoping to bring them to spiritual ruin.

22:36 a purse ... a bag. Cf. previous instructions (9:3; 10:4). Until now they had been dependent on generous hospitality, but future opposition would require them to be prepared to pay their own way. buy one. An extreme figure of speech used to warn them of the perilous times about to come. They would need defense and protection, as Paul did when he appealed to Caesar (Ac 25:11) as the one who "bears the sword" (Ro 13:4).

22:37 numbered with the transgressors. Jesus was soon to be arrested as a criminal, in fulfillment of prophetic Scripture, and his disciples would also be in danger for being his followers.

22:38 "... two swords." "That is enough." Sensing that the disciples had taken him too literally, Jesus ironically closes the discussion with a curt "That's plenty!" Not long after this, Peter was rebuked for using a sword (v. 50).

22:39 Mount of Olives. See 21:37; Jn 18:2. Matthew specifies Gethsemane (Mt 26:36), and John, an olive grove (Jn 18:1). The place apparently was located on the lower slopes of the Mount of Olives.

22:40 temptation. Here refers to severe trial of the kind referred to in vv. 28–38, which might lead to a faltering of their faith.

22:42 this cup. The cup of suffering (Mt 20:22–23; cf. Isa 51:17; Eze 23:33). See note on Mk 14:36.

22:43 An angel. Matthew and Mark tell of angels ministering to Jesus at the close of his fasting and temptations (Mt 4:11; Mk 1:13), but Luke does not. Here Luke tells of the strengthening presence of an angel, but the other Gospels do not.

22:44 drops of blood. Probably perspiration in large drops like blood, or possibly hematidrosis, the actual mingling of blood and sweat as in cases of extreme anguish, strain or sensitivity.

22:47 a crowd came up. They were sent by the chief priests, elders (Mt 26:47) and teachers of the law (Mk 14:43), and they carried swords and clubs. Included was a detachment of soldiers with officials of the Jews (v. 52; Jn 18:3). to kiss him. This signal had been prearranged to identify Jesus to the authorities (Mt 26:48). It was unnecessary because Jesus identified himself (Jn 18:5), but Judas acted out his plan anyway.

22:50 the servant of the high priest. Malchus by name; Simon Peter struck the blow (Jn 18:10).

of them struck the servant of the high priest, cutting off his right ear.

51But Jesus answered, "No more of this!" And he touched the man's ear and healed him.

52Then Jesus said to the chief priests, the officers of the temple guard,[e] and the elders, who had come for him, "Am I leading a rebellion, that you have come with swords and clubs? 53Every day I was with you in the temple courts,[f] and you did not lay a hand on me. But this is your hour[g]—when darkness reigns."[h]

Peter Disowns Jesus

22:55–62pp — Mt 26:69–75; Mk 14:66–72; Jn 18:16–18,25–27

54Then seizing him, they led him away and took him into the house of the high priest.[i] Peter followed at a distance.[j] 55But when they had kindled a fire in the middle of the courtyard and had sat down together, Peter sat down with them. 56A servant girl saw him seated there in the firelight. She looked closely at him and said, "This man was with him."

57But he denied it. "Woman, I don't know him," he said.

58A little later someone else saw him and said, "You also are one of them."

"Man, I am not!" Peter replied.

59About an hour later another asserted, "Certainly this fellow was with him, for he is a Galilean."[k]

60Peter replied, "Man, I don't know what you're talking about!" Just as he was speaking, the rooster crowed. 61The Lord[l] turned and looked straight at Peter. Then Peter remembered the word the Lord had spoken to him: "Before the rooster crows today, you will disown me three times."[m] 62And he went outside and wept bitterly.

The Guards Mock Jesus

22:63–65pp — Mt 26:67,68; Mk 14:65; Jn 18:22,23

63The men who were guarding Jesus began mocking and beating him. 64They blindfolded him and demanded, "Prophesy! Who hit you?" 65And they said many other insulting things to him.[n]

66At daybreak the council[o] of the elders of the people, both the chief priests and teachers of the law, met together,[p] and Jesus was led before them. 67"If you are the Christ,[i]" they said, "tell us."

Jesus answered, "If I tell you, you will not believe me, 68and if I asked you, you would not answer.[q] 69But from now on, the Son of Man will be seated at the right hand of the mighty God."[r]

70They all asked, "Are you then the Son of God?"[s]

He replied, "You are right in saying I am."[t]

71Then they said, "Why do we need any more testimony? We have heard it from his own lips."

23 Then the whole assembly rose and led him off to Pilate.[u] 2And they began to accuse him, saying, "We

[i]67 Or Messiah

22:51 healed him. Jesus rectified the wrong done by his follower. No faith on the part of Malchus was involved, but to allow such action would have been contrary to the teaching of Jesus.

22:53 this is your hour. It was the time appointed for Jesus' enemies to apprehend him, the time when the forces of darkness (the powers of evil) would do their worst to defeat God's plan.

22:54 house of the high priest. See notes on 3:2; Mk 14:53.

22:59 he is a Galilean. Recognized by his speech (Mt 26:73) and identified by a relative of Malchus, the high priest's slave (Jn 18:26).

22:61 The Lord ... looked straight at Peter. Peter was outside in the enclosed courtyard, and perhaps Jesus was being taken from the trial by Caiaphas to the Sanhedrin when Jesus caught Peter's eye. Peter remembered. The words spoken by Jesus (v. 34).

22:66 At daybreak. Only after daylight could a legal trial take place for the whole council (Sanhedrin) to pass the death sentence.

22:67 If you are the Christ. This demand is related to a question asked later: "Are you then the Son of God?" (v. 70).

22:71 We have heard it. The reaction to Jesus' reply makes clear that his answer was a strong affirmative. Mark has simply, "I am" (Mk 14:62). It was blasphemy to claim to be the Messiah and the Son of God—unless, of course, the claim was true (see note on Mk 14:64).

23:1 the whole assembly. The body of the Sanhedrin (Mt 26:59; 27:1) who had met at the earliest hint of dawn (22:66). led him off to Pilate. See note on Mt 27:2. Pilate. See note on Mk 15:1. The Roman governor had his main headquarters in Caesarea, but he was in Jerusalem during Passover to prevent trouble from the large number of Jews assembled for the occasion.

23:2 subverting our nation. Large crowds followed Jesus, but he was not misleading them or turning them against Rome. opposes payment of taxes. Another untrue charge (see 20:25). claims to be Christ, a king. Jesus claimed to be the Messiah, but not a political or military king, the kind have found this man subverting our nation.[v] He opposes payment of taxes to Caesar[w] and claims to be Christ,[j] a king."[x]

3So Pilate asked Jesus, "Are you the king of the Jews?"

"Yes, it is as you say," Jesus replied.

4Then Pilate announced to the chief priests and the crowd, "I find no basis for a charge against this man."[y]

5But they insisted, "He stirs up the people all over Judea[k] by his teaching. He started in Galilee[z] and has come all the way here."

6On hearing this, Pilate asked if the man was a Galilean.[a] 7When he learned that Jesus was under Herod's jurisdiction, he sent him to Herod,[b] who was also in Jerusalem at that time.

8When Herod saw Jesus, he was greatly pleased, because for a long time he had been wanting to see him.[c] From what he had heard about him, he hoped to see him perform some miracle. 9He plied him with many questions, but Jesus gave him no answer.[d] 10The chief priests and the teachers of the law were standing there, vehemently accusing him. 11Then Herod and his soldiers ridiculed and mocked him. Dressing him in an elegant robe,[e] they sent him back to Pilate. 12That day Herod and Pilate became friends[f]—before this they had been enemies.

13Pilate called together the chief priests, the rulers and the people, 14and said to them, "You brought me this man as one who was inciting the people to rebellion. I have examined him in your presence and have found no basis for your charges against him.[g] 15Neither has Herod, for he sent him back to us; as you can see, he has done nothing to deserve death. 16Therefore, I will punish him[h] and then release him.[l]"

18With one voice they cried out, "Away with this man! Release Barabbas to us!"[i] 19(Barabbas had been thrown into prison for an insurrection in the city, and for murder.)

20Wanting to release Jesus, Pilate appealed to them again. 21But they kept shouting, "Crucify him! Crucify him!"

22For the third time he spoke to them: "Why? What crime has this man committed? I have found in him no grounds for the death penalty. There fore I will have him punished and then release him."[j] 23But with loud shouts they insistently demanded that he be crucified, and their shouts prevailed. 24So Pilate decided to grant their demand. 25He released the man who had been thrown into prison for insurrection and murder, the one they asked for, and surrendered Jesus to their will.

The Crucifixion

23:33–43pp — Mt 27:33–44; Mk 15:22–32; Jn 19:17–24

26As they led him away, they seized Simon from Cyrene,[k] who was on his way in from the country, and put the cross on him and made him carry it behind Jesus.[l] 27A large number of people followed him, including women who mourned and wailed[m] for him. 28Jesus turned and said to them, "Daughters of Jerusalem, do not weep for me; weep for yourselves and for your children.[n] 29For

Rome would be anxious to eliminate.

23:3 Yes. Jesus affirms that he is a king, but then explains that his kingdom is not the kind that characterizes this world (Jn 18:33–38).

23:5 Judea. See NIV text note; may here refer to the whole of the land of the Jews (including Galilee) or to the southern section only, where the region of Judea proper was governed by Pilate (see note on 4:44).

23:7 Herod's jurisdiction. See note on 3:1. Although Pilate and Herod were rivals, Pilate did not want to handle this case; so he sent Jesus to Herod (cf. v. 12). in Jerusalem. Herod's main headquarters was in Tiberias on the Sea of Galilee; but, like Pilate, he had come to Jerusalem because of the crowds at Passover.

23:8 wanting to see him. Herod was worried about Jesus' identity (9:7–9) and had desired to kill him (13:31), though the two had never met. There is no record that Jesus ever preached in Tiberias, where Herod's residence was located.

23:11 elegant robe. See note on Mk 15:17.

23:16 I will punish him. Although Pilate found Jesus "not guilty" as charged, he was willing to have him illegally beaten in order to satisfy the chief priests and the people and to warn against any possible trouble in the future. Scourging, though not intended to kill, was sometimes fatal (see note on Mk 15:15).

23:17 See NIV text note on v. 16.

23:18 Barabbas. Means "son of Abba." Pilate offered a choice between Jesus and an obviously evil, dangerous criminal (see Mt 27:15–20; Mk 15:6–11; Jn 18:39–40).

23:19 insurrection . . . murder. This particular uprising is otherwise unknown but, coupled with murder, it shows the gravity of his deeds (see Jn 18:40).

23:22 third time. See vv. 4,14.

23:25 surrendered Jesus. Luke's account is abbreviated. Pilate had already handed Jesus over to the soldiers for scourging before he was convicted (Jn 19:1–5). He now handed him over for crucifixion.

23:26 Simon. His sons, Rufus and Alexander (Mk 15:21), must have been known in Christian circles at a later time, and perhaps were associated with the church at Rome (Ro 16:13). Cyrene. A leading city of Libya, west of Egypt. put the cross on him. See note on Mk 15:21.

23:28 weep for yourselves and for your children. Because of the terrible suffering to befall Jerusalem some 40 years later when the Romans would besiege the city and utterly destroy the temple.

23:29 Blessed are the barren. It would be better not to have children than to have them experience such suffering. Cf. Jer 16:1–4; 1Co 7:25–35.

the time will come when you will say, 'Blessed are the barren women, the wombs that never bore and the breasts that never nursed!'[o] [30]Then

[32]Two other men, both criminals, were also led out with him to be executed.[r] [33]When they came to the place called the Skull, there they crucified him, along with the criminals—one on his right, the other on his left. [34]Jesus said, "Father,[s] forgive them, for they do not know what they are doing."[nt] And they divided up his clothes by casting lots.[u]

[35]The people stood watching, and the rulers even sneered at him.[v] They said, "He saved others; let him save himself if he is the Christ of God, the Chosen One."[w]

[36]The soldiers also came up and mocked him.[x] They offered him wine vinegar[y] [37]and said, "If you are the king of the Jews,[z] save yourself."

[38]There was a written notice above him, which read: THIS IS THE KING OF THE JEWS.[a]

[39]One of the criminals who hung there hurled insults at him: "Aren't you the Christ? Save yourself and us!"[b]

[40]But the other criminal rebuked him. "Don't you fear God," he said, "since you are under the same sentence? [41]We are punished justly, for we are getting what our deeds deserve. But this man has done nothing wrong."[c]

[42]Then he said, "Jesus, remember me when you come into your kingdom.[o]"[d]

[43]Jesus answered him, "I tell you the truth, today you will be with me in paradise."[e]

Jesus' Death

23:44–49pp — Mt 27:45–56; Mk 15:33–41

[44]It was now about the sixth hour, and darkness came over the whole land until the ninth hour,[f] [45]for the sun stopped shining. And the curtain of the temple[g] was torn in two.[h] [46]Jesus called out with a loud voice,[i] "Father, into your hands I commit my spirit."[j] When he had said this, he breathed his last.[k]

[47]The centurion, seeing what had happened, praised God[l] and said, "Surely this was a righteous man." [48]When all the people who had gathered to witness this sight saw what took place, they beat their breasts[m] and went away. [49]But all those who knew him, including the women who had followed him from Galilee,[n] stood at a distance,[o] watching these things.

[m]30 Hosea 10:8 [n]34 Some early manuscripts do not have this sentence. [o]42 Some manuscripts come with your kingly power

23:30 Fall on us! People would seek escape through destruction in death rather than endure continuing suffering and judgment (cf. Hos 10:8; Rev 6:16).

23:31 tree is green ... dry. If they treat the Messiah this way when the "tree" is well-watered and green, what will their plight be when he is withdrawn from them and they suffer for their rejection in the dry period?

23:32 both criminals. See note on v. 18.

23:33 the Skull. Latin Calvaria, hence the name "Calvary" (see note on Mk 15:22). crucified. See note on Mk 15:24.

23:34 divided up his clothes. Any possessions an executed person had with him were taken by the executioners. Unwittingly the soldiers (cf. Jn 19:23–24) were fulfilling the words of Ps 22:18 (but see introduction to Ps 22 and notes on Ps 22:17,20–21).

23:35 the Chosen One. See note on 9:35.

23:36 wine vinegar. A sour drink carried by the soldiers for the day. Jesus refused a sedative drink (Mt 27:34; Mk 15:23) but later was given the vinegar drink when he cried out in thirst (Jn 19:28–30). Luke shows that it was offered in mockery.

23:38 written notice. Indicated the crime for which a person was dying. This was Pilate's way of mocking the Jewish leaders as well as announcing what Jesus had been accused of. KING OF THE JEWS. See note on Mk 15:26.

23:39 One of the criminals. See note on Mk 15:32.

23:43 paradise. In the Septuagint (the Greek translation of the OT) the word designated a garden (Ge 2:8–10) or forest (Ne 2:8), but in the NT (used only here and in 2Co 12:4; Rev 2:7) it refers to the place of bliss and rest between death and resurrection (cf. Lk 16:22; 2Co 12:2).

23:44 about the sixth hour ... the ninth hour. From noon to three in the afternoon, by the Jewish method of designating time. Jesus had been put on the cross at the third hour (9:00 A.M., Mk 15:25). The "sixth hour" of John (Jn 19:14) may be Roman time (6:00 A.M.), when Pilate gave his decision (but see note on Jn 19:14).

23:45 curtain of the temple. The curtain between the Holy Place and the Most Holy Place. Its tearing symbolized Christ's opening the way directly to God (Heb 9:3,8; 10:19–22).

23:47 praised God. Either for having seen God publicly vindicate Jesus by mighty signs from heaven, or out of fear (see Mt 27:54) to appease the heavenly Judge and thus ward off a divine penalty for having carried out an unjust judgment. this was a righteous man. Or "this man was the Righteous One." Matthew and Mark report the centurion's words as "this man was the Son (or son) of God." "The Righteous One" and "the Son of God" would have been essentially equivalent terms. Similarly, "the son of God" and "a righteous man" would have been virtual equivalents. Which one the centurion intended is difficult to determine (see note on Mt 27:54). It seems clear, however, that the Gospel writers saw in his declaration a vindication of Jesus, and since the centurion was the Roman official in charge of the crucifixion, his testimony was viewed as significant (see also the declarations of Pilate: vv. 4,14–15,22; Mt 27:23–24).

23:48 beat their breasts. A sign of anguish, grief or contrition (cf. 18:13).

23:49 the women ... from Galilee. See Mt 27:55–56; Mk 15:40–41; Jn 19:25; cf. Lk 24:10.

Jesus' Burial

23:50–56pp — Mt 27:57–61; Mk 15:42–47; Jn 19:38–42

50Now there was a man named Joseph, a member of the Council, a good and upright man, 51who had not consented to their decision and action. He came from the Judean town of Arimathea and he was waiting for the kingdom of God.[p] 52Going to Pilate, he asked for Jesus' body. 53Then he took it down, wrapped it in linen cloth and placed it in a tomb cut in the rock, one in which no one had yet been laid. 54It was Preparation Day,[q] and the Sabbath was about to begin.

55The women who had come with Jesus from Galilee[r] followed Joseph and saw the tomb and how his body was laid in it. 56Then they went home and prepared spices and perfumes.[s] But they rested on the Sabbath in obedience to the commandment.[t]

The Resurrection

24:1–10pp — Mt 28:1–8; Mk 16:1–8; Jn 20:1–8

24 On the first day of the week, very early in the morning, the women took the spices they had prepared[u] and went to the tomb. 2They found the stone rolled away from the tomb, 3but when they entered, they did not find the body of the Lord Jesus.[v] 4While they were wondering about this, suddenly two men in clothes that gleamed like lightning[w] stood beside them. 5In their fright the women bowed down with their faces to the ground, but the men said to them, "Why do you look for the living among the dead? 6He is not here; he has risen! Remember how he told you, while he was still with you in Galilee:[x] 7'The Son of Man[y] must be delivered into the hands of sinful men, be crucified and on the third day be raised again.' "[z] 8Then they remembered his words.[a]

9When they came back from the tomb, they told all these things to the Eleven and to all the others. 10It was Mary Magdalene, Joanna, Mary the mother of James, and the others with them[b] who told this to the apostles.[c] 11But they did not believe[d] the women, because their words seemed to them like nonsense. 12Peter, however, got up and ran to the tomb. Bending over, he saw the strips of linen lying by themselves,[e] and he went away,[f] wondering to himself what had happened.

23:50 Joseph, a member of the Council. Either Joseph was not present at the meeting of the Sanhedrin (22:66), or he did not support the vote to have Jesus killed (see v. 51). Mk 14:64 suggests he was not present, for the decision was supported by "all."

23:51 Arimathea. See note on Mt 27:57. waiting for the kingdom of God. See 2:25.

23:52 The remains of an executed criminal often were left unburied or at best put in a dishonored place in a pauper's field. A near relative, such as a mother, might ask for the body, but it was a courageous gesture for Joseph, a member of the Sanhedrin, to ask for Jesus' body.

23:53 in which no one had yet been laid. Rock-hewn tombs were usually made to accommodate several bodies. This one, though finished, had not yet been used. See notes on 19:30; Mk 15:46.

23:54 Preparation Day. Friday, the day before the Sabbath, when preparation was made for keeping the Sabbath. It could be used for Passover preparation, but since in this instance it is followed by the Sabbath, it indicates Friday.

23:55 The women. See v. 49; 24:10; cf. 8:2–3. They saw where Jesus was buried and would not mistake the location when they returned.

23:56 spices and perfumes. Yards of cloth and large quantities of spices were used in preparing a body for burial. Seventy-five pounds of myrrh and aloes were already used on that first evening (Jn 19:39). More was purchased for the return of the women after the Sabbath.

24:1 first day of the week. Sunday began by Jewish time at sundown on Saturday. Spices could then be bought (Mk 16:1), and they were ready to set out early the next day. When the women started out, it was dark (Jn 20:1), and by the time they arrived at the tomb, it was still early dawn (see Mt 28:1; Mk 16:2).

24:2 the stone rolled away. A tomb's entrance was ordinarily closed to keep vandals and animals from disturbing the bodies. This stone, however, had been sealed by Roman authority for a different reason (see Mt 27:62–66).

24:4 two men. They looked like men, but their clothes were remarkable (see 9:29; Ac 1:10; 10:30). Other reports referring to them call them angels (v. 23; see also Jn 20:12). Although Matthew speaks of one angel (not two, Mt 28:2) and Mark of a young man in white (Mk 16:5), this is not strange because frequently only the spokesman is noted and an accompanying figure is not mentioned. Words and posture (seated, Jn 20:12; standing, Lk 24:4) often change in the course of events, so these variations are not necessarily contradictory. They are merely evidence of independent accounts.

24:6 while . . . in Galilee. Jesus had predicted his death and resurrection on a number of occasions (9:22), but the disciples failed to comprehend or accept what he was saying.

24:9 to the Eleven and to all the others. "Eleven" is sometimes used to refer to the group of apostles (Ac 1:26; 2:14) after the betrayal by Judas. Judas was dead at the time the apostles first met the risen Christ, but the group was still called the Twelve (Jn 20:24). The "others" included disciples who, for the most part, came from Galilee.

24:10 Mary Magdalene. See note on 8:2. She is named first in most of the lists of women (Mt 27:56; Mk 15:40; but cf. Jn 19:25) and was the first to see the risen Christ (Jn 20:13–18). Joanna. See 8:3. She is named by only Luke at this point (Mark is the only one who adds Salome at this time, Mk 16:1). Mary the mother of James. See Mk 16:1. She is the "other Mary" of Mt 28:1. The absence of the mother of Jesus is significant. She was probably with John (cf. Jn 19:27).

24:12 Peter . . . ran. John's Gospel (20:3–9) includes another disciple, John himself.

24:13 two of them. One was named Cleopas (v. 18.)

seven miles[p] from Jerusalem.[s] [14]They were talking with each other about everything that had happened. [15]As they talked and discussed these things with each other, Jesus himself came up and walked along with them;[h] [16]but they were kept from recognizing him.[i]

[17]He asked them, "What are you discussing together as you walk along?"

They stood still, their faces downcast. [18]One of them, named Cleopas,[j] asked him, "Are you only a visitor to Jerusalem and do not know the things that have happened there in these days?"

[19]"What things?" he asked.

"About Jesus of Nazareth,"[k] they replied. "He was a prophet,[l] powerful in word and deed before God and all the people. [20]The chief priests and our rulers[m] handed him over to be sentenced to death, and they crucified him; [21]but we had hoped that he was the one who was going to redeem Israel.[n] And what is more, it is the third day[o] since all this took place. [22]In addition, some of our women amazed us.[p] They went to the tomb early this morning [23]but didn't find his body. They came and told us that they had seen a vision of angels, who said he was alive. [24]Then some of our companions went to the tomb and found it just as the women had said, but him they did not see."[q]

[25]He said to them, "How foolish you are, and how slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have spoken! [26]Did not the Christ[q] have to suffer these things and then enter his glory?"[r] [27]And beginning with Moses[s] and all the Prophets,[t] he explained to them what was said in all the Scriptures concerning himself.[u] which they were going, Jesus acted as if he were going farther. 29But they urged him strongly, "Stay with us, for it is nearly evening; the day is almost over." So he went in to stay with them.

30When he was at the table with them, he took bread, gave thanks, broke it[v] and began to give it to them. 31Then their eyes were opened and they recognized him,[w] and he disappeared from their sight. 32They asked each other, "Were not our hearts burning within us[x] while he talked with us on the road and opened the Scriptures[y] to us?"

33They got up and returned at once to Jerusalem. There they found the Eleven and those with them, assembled together 34and saying, "It is true! The Lord[z] has risen and has appeared to Simon."[a] 35Then the two told what had happened on the way, and how Jesus was recognized by them when he broke the bread.[b]

Jesus Appears to the Disciples

36While they were still talking about this, Jesus himself stood among them and said to them, "Peace be with you."[c] 37They were startled and frightened, thinking they saw a ghost.[d] 38He said to them, "Why are you troubled, and why do doubts rise in your minds? 39Look at my hands and my feet. It is I myself! Touch me and see;[e] a ghost does not have flesh and bones, as you see I have."

45Then he opened their minds so they could understand the Scriptures. 46He told them, "This is what is written: The Christ will suffer[l] and rise from the dead on the third day,[m] 47and repentance and forgiveness of sins will be preached in his name[n] to all nations,[o] beginning at Jerusalem.[p] 48You are witnesses[q] of these things. 49I am going to send you what my Father has promised;[r] but stay in the city until you have been clothed with power from on high."

The Ascension

50When he had led them out to the vicinity of Bethany,[s] he lifted up his hands and blessed them. 51While he was blessing them, he left them and was taken up into heaven.[t] 52Then they worshiped him and returned to Jerusalem with great joy. 53And they stayed continually at the temple,[u] praising God.

him in, he apparently would have continued on by himself.

24:31 their eyes were opened. Cf. v. 16; more than a matter of simple recognition.

24:33 the Eleven and those with them. See note on v. 9.

24:36 Jesus himself stood among them. Behind locked doors (Jn 20:19), indicating that his body was of a different order. It was the glorified body of the resurrection (cf. Mk 16:12). Peace be with you. The traditional greeting, now given new significance by the resurrection.

24:39 my hands and my feet. Indicating that Jesus' feet as well as his hands were nailed to the cross (see note on Mk 15:24; cf. Jn 20:20,27).

24:42 a piece of broiled fish. Demonstrating that he had a physical body that could consume food.

24:44 Law of Moses, the Prophets and the Psalms. The three parts of the Hebrew OT (Psalms was the first book of the third section, called the Writings), indicating that Christ (the Messiah) was foretold in the whole OT.

24:45 opened their minds. By explaining the OT Scriptures (cf. v. 27).

24:46 suffer . . . rise from the dead . . . third day. The OT depicts the Messiah as one who would suffer (Ps 22; Isa 53) and rise from the dead on the third day (Ps 16:9–11; Isa 53:10–11; compare Jnh 1:17 with Mt 12:40).

24:47 repentance and forgiveness of sins. See Ac 5:31; 10:43; 13:38; 26:18. The prediction of Christ's death and resurrection (v. 46) is joined with the essence of man's response (repentance) and the resulting benefit (forgiveness; cf. Isa 49:6; Ac 13:47; 26:22–23). beginning at Jerusalem. Cf. Ac 1:8.

24:49 what my Father has promised. Cf. Joel 2:28–29. The reference is to the coming power of the Spirit, fulfilled in Ac 2:4.

24:50 Bethany. A village on the Mount of Olives (see notes on 19:29; Mt 21:17).

24:51 taken up into heaven. Different from his previous disappearances (4:30; 24:3; Jn 8:59). They saw him ascend into a cloud (Ac 1:9).

24:53 at the temple. During the period of time immediately following Christ's ascension the believers met continually at the temple (Ac 2:46; 3:1; 5:21,42), where many rooms were available for meetings (see note on 2:37).

John

See "The Synoptic Gospels," p. 1431.

Author

The author is the apostle John, "the disciple whom Jesus loved" (13:23; 19:26; 20:2; 21:7,20,24). He was prominent in the early church but is not mentioned by name in this Gospel—which would be natural if he wrote it, but hard to explain otherwise. The author knew Jewish life well, as seen from references to popular Messianic speculations (e.g., 1:20–21; 7:40–42), to the hostility between Jews and Samaritans (4:9), and to Jewish customs, such as the duty of circumcision on the eighth day taking precedence over the prohibition of working on the Sabbath (see note on 7:22). He knew the geography of Palestine, locating Bethany about 15 stadia (about two miles) from Jerusalem (11:18) and mentioning Cana, a village not referred to in any earlier writing known to us (2:1; 21:2). The Gospel of John has many touches that were obviously based on the recollections of an eyewitness—such as the house at Bethany being filled with the fragrance of the broken perfume jar (12:3). Early writers such as Irenaeus and Tertullian say that John wrote this Gospel, and all other evidence agrees (see Introduction to 1 John: Author).

Date

In general, two views of the dating of this Gospel have been advocated:

1. The traditional view places it toward the end of the first century, c. A.D. 85 or later (see Introduction to 1 John: Date).

2. More recently, some scholars have suggested an earlier date, perhaps as early as the 50s and no later than 70.

The first view may be supported by reference to the statement of Clement of Alexandria that John wrote to supplement the accounts found in the other Gospels (Eusebius, Ecclesiastical History, 6.14.7), and thus his Gospel is later than the first three. It has also been argued that the seemingly more developed theology of the fourth Gospel indicates that it originated later.

The second view has found favor because it has been felt more recently that John wrote independently of the other Gospels. This does not contradict the statement of Clement referred to above. Also, those who hold this view point out that developed theology does not necessarily argue for a late origin. The theology of Romans (written c. 57) is every bit as developed as that in John. Further, the statement in 5:2 that there "is" (rather than "was") a pool "near the Sheep Gate" may suggest a time before 70, when Jerusalem was destroyed. Others, however, observe that John elsewhere sometimes used the present tense when speaking of the past.

Purpose and Emphases

Some interpreters have felt that John's aim was to set forth a version of the Christian message that would appeal to Greek thinkers. Others have seen a desire to supplement (or correct) the Synoptic Gospels, to combat some form of heresy, to oppose the continuing followers of John the Baptist or to achieve a similar goal. But the writer himself states his main purpose clearly: "These are written that you may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that by believing you may have life in his name" (20:31). He may have had Greek readers mainly in mind, some of whom were being exposed to heretical influence, but his primary intention was evangelistic. It is possible to understand "may believe" in the sense of "may continue to believe"—in which case the purpose would be to build up believers as well as to win new converts.

For the main emphases of the book see notes on 1:4,7,9,14,19,49; 2:4,11; 3:27; 4:34; 6:35; 13:1—17:26; 13:31; 17:1–2,5; 20:31.

The Word Became Flesh

1 In the beginning was the Word,[a] and the Word was with God,[b] and the Word was God.[c] 2He was with God in the beginning.[d]

3Through him all things were made; without him nothing was made that has been made.[e] 4In him was life,[f] and that life was the light[g] of men. 5The light shines in the darkness,[h] but the darkness has not understood[a] it.[i]

6There came a man who was sent from God; his name was John.[j] 7He came as a witness to testify[k] concerning that light, so that through him all men might believe.[l] 8He himself was not the light; he came only as a witness to the light. 9The true light[m] that gives light to every man[n] was coming into the world.[b]

10He was in the world, and though the world was made through him,[o] the world did not recognize him. 11He came to that which was his own, but his own did not receive him.[p] 12Yet to all who received him, to those who believed[q] in his name,[r] he gave the right to become children of God[s]— 13children born not of natural descent,[c] nor of human decision or a husband's will, but born of God.[t]

14The Word became flesh[u] and made his dwelling among us. We have seen his glory,[v] the glory of the One and Only,[d] who came from the Father, full of grace[w] and truth.[x]

15John testifies[y] concerning him. He cries out, saying, "This was he of whom I said, 'He who comes after me has surpassed me because he was before me.' "[z] 16From the fullness[a] of his grace[b] we have all received one blessing after another. 17For the law was given through Moses;[c] grace and truth came through Jesus Christ.[d] 18No one has

[a] 5 Or darkness, and the darkness has not overcome
[b] 9 Or This was the true light that gives light to every man who comes into the world [c] 13 Greek of bloods
[d] 14 Or the Only Begotten

1:1 In the beginning. See Ge 1:1. Word. Greeks used this term not only of the spoken word but also of the unspoken word, the word still in the mind—the reason. When they applied it to the universe, they meant the rational principle that governs all things. Jews, on the other hand, used it as a way of referring to God. Thus John used a term that was meaningful to both Jews and Gentiles. with God. The Word was distinct from the Father. was God. Jesus was God in the fullest sense (see note on Ro 9:5). The prologue (vv. 1–18) begins and ends with a ringing affirmation of his deity (see note on v. 18).

1:4 life. One of the great concepts of this Gospel. The term is found 36 times in John, while no other NT book uses it more than 17 times. Life is Christ's gift (10:28), and he, in fact, is "the life" (14:6). light of men. This Gospel also links light with Christ, from whom comes all spiritual illumination. He is the "light of the world," who holds out wonderful hope for man (8:12). For an OT link between life and light see Ps 36:9.

1:5 darkness. The stark contrast between light and darkness is a striking theme in this Gospel (see, e.g., 12:35).

1:6 John. In this Gospel the name John always refers to John the Baptist.

1:7 as a witness to testify. John the Baptist's singular ministry was to testify to Jesus (10:41). "Witness" is another important concept in this Gospel. The noun ("witness" or "testimony") is used 14 times (in Matthew not at all, in Mark three times, in Luke once) and the verb ("testify") 33 times (found once each in Matthew and Luke, not at all in Mark)—in both cases more often than anywhere else in the NT. John (the author) thereby emphasizes that the facts about Jesus are amply attested. that through him all men might believe. People were not to believe "in" John the Baptist but "through" him. Similarly, the writer's purpose was to draw them to belief in Christ (20:31); he uses the verb "believe" 98 times.

1:9 John is referring to the incarnation of Christ. world. Another common word in John's writings, found 78 times in this Gospel and 24 times in his letters (only 47 times in all of Paul's writings). It can mean the universe, the earth, the people on earth, most people, people opposed to God, or the human system opposed to God's purposes. John emphasizes the word by repetition, and moves without explanation from one meaning to another (see, e.g., 17:5,14–15 and notes).

1:12 he gave the right. Membership in God's family is by grace alone—the gift of God (see Eph 2:8–9). It is never a human achievement, as v. 13 emphasizes; yet the imparting of the gift is dependent on man's reception of it, as the words "received" and "believed" make clear.

1:14 became. Indicates transition; the Word existed before he became man. flesh. A strong, almost crude, word that stresses the reality of Christ's manhood. made his dwelling among us. We have seen his glory. The Greek for "made his dwelling" is connected with the word for "tent/tabernacle"; the verse would have reminded John's Jewish readers of the Tent of Meeting, which was filled by the glory of God (Ex 40:34–35). Christ revealed his glory to his disciples by the miracles he performed (see 2:11) and by his death and resurrection. grace and truth. The corresponding Hebrew terms are often translated "(unfailing) love and faithfulness" (see notes on Ps 26:3; Pr 16:6). grace. A significant Christian concept (see notes on Jnh 4:2; Gal 1:3; Eph 1:2), though John never uses the word after the prologue (vv. 1–18). truth. A word John uses 25 times and links closely with Jesus, who is the truth (14:6).

1:15 cries out. The present tense indicates that John the Baptist's preaching still sounded in people's ears, though he was killed long before this Gospel was written. he was before me. In ancient times the older person was given respect and regarded as greater than the younger. People would normally have ranked Jesus lower in respect than John, who was older. John the Baptist explains that this is only apparent, since Jesus, as the Word, existed before he was born on earth.

1:18 God the One and Only. An explicit declaration of Christ's deity (see vv. 1,14 and notes; 3:16). has made him known. Sometimes in the OT people are said to have seen God (e.g., Ex 24:9–11). But we are also told that no one can see God and live (Ex 33:20). Therefore, since no human being can see God as he really is, those who saw God saw him in a form he took on himself temporarily for the occasion. Now, however, Christ has made him known.

ever seen God,[e] but God the One and Only,[e,f] who is at the Father's side, has made him known.

John the Baptist Denies Being the Christ

[19]Now this was John's[g] testimony when the Jews[h] of Jerusalem sent priests and Levites to ask him who he was. [20]He did not fail to confess, but confessed freely, "I am not the Christ.[g]"[i]

[21]They asked him, "Then who are you? Are you Elijah?"[j]

He said, "I am not."

"Are you the Prophet?"[k]

He answered, "No."

[22]Finally they said, "Who are you? Give us an answer to take back to those who sent us. What do you say about yourself?"

[23]John replied in the words of Isaiah the prophet, "I am the voice of one calling in the desert,[l] 'Make straight the way for the Lord.' "[h][m]

[24]Now some Pharisees who had been sent [25]questioned him, "Why then do you baptize if you are not the Christ, nor Elijah, nor the Prophet?"

[26]"I baptize with[i] water,"[n] John replied, "but among you stands one you do not know. [27]He is the one who comes after me,[o] the thongs of whose sandals I am not worthy to untie."[p]

[28]This all happened at Bethany on the other side of the Jordan,[q] where John was baptizing.

Jesus the Lamb of God

[29]The next day John saw Jesus coming toward him and said, "Look, the Lamb of God,[r] who takes away the sin of the world![s] [30]This is the one I meant when I said, 'A man who comes after me has surpassed me because he was before me.'[t] [31]I myself did not know him, but the reason I came baptizing with water was that he might be revealed to Israel."

[32]Then John gave this testimony: "I saw the Spirit come down from heaven as a dove and remain on him.[u] [33]I would not have known him, except that the one who sent me to baptize with water[v] told me, 'The man on whom you see the Spirit come down and remain is he who will baptize with the Holy Spir-

[e]18 Or the Only Begotten [f]18 Some manuscripts but the only (or only begotten) Son [g]20 Or Messiah. "The Christ" (Greek) and "the Messiah" (Hebrew) both mean "the Anointed One"; also in verse 25. [h]23 Isaiah 40:3 [i]26 Or in; also in verses 31 and 33

1:19 the Jews. The phrase occurs about 70 times in this Gospel. It is used in a favorable sense (e.g., 4:22) and in a neutral sense (e.g., 2:6). But generally John used it of the Jewish leaders who were hostile to Jesus (e.g., 8:48). Here it refers to the delegation sent by the Sanhedrin to look into the activities of an unauthorized teacher. Levites. Descendants of the tribe of Levi, who were assigned to specific duties in connection with the tabernacle and temple (Nu 3:17–37). They also had teaching responsibilities (2Ch 35:3; Ne 8:7–9), and it was probably in this role that they were sent with the priests to John the Baptist.

1:20 I. Emphatic, contrasting John the Baptist (or Baptizer) with someone else. Throughout the following verses this emphatic "I" occurs frequently, and almost invariably there is an implied contrast with Jesus, who is always given the higher place.

1:21 Are you Elijah? . . . I am not. The Jews remembered that Elijah had not died (2Ki 2:11) and believed that the same prophet would come back to earth to announce the end time. In this sense, John properly denied that he was Elijah. When Jesus later said the Baptist was Elijah (Mt 11:14; 17:10–13), he meant it in the sense that John was a fulfillment of the prophecy of Mal 4:5 (cf. Lk 1:17). the Prophet. The prophet of Dt 18:15,18. The Jewish people expected a variety of persons to be associated with the coming of the Messiah. John the Baptist emphatically denies being the Prophet. He had come to testify about Jesus, yet they kept asking him about himself. His answers became progressively more terse.

1:23 The Baptist applied the prophecy of Isa 40:3 to his own ministry of calling people to repent in preparation for the coming of the Messiah. The men of Qumran (the community that produced the Dead Sea Scrolls; see "The Time between the Testaments," pp. 1424.) applied the same words to themselves, but they prepared for the Lord's coming by isolating themselves from the world to secure their own salvation. John concentrated on helping people come to the Messiah (the Christ).

1:24 Pharisees. The conservative religious party, who probed deeper than the rest of the delegation (v. 19). See notes on Mt 3:7; Mk 2:16; Lk 5:17.

1:25 the Christ. Means "the Anointed One" (see NIV text note on v. 20). In OT times anointing signified being set apart for service, particularly as king (cf. 1Sa 16:1,13; 26:11) or priest (Ex 40:13–15; Lev 4:3). But people were looking for not just an anointed one but the Anointed One, the Messiah.

1:27 whose sandals I am not worthy to untie. A menial task, fit for a slave. Disciples would perform all sorts of service for their rabbis (teachers), but loosing sandal thongs was expressly excluded.

1:28 Bethany. The Bethany mentioned elsewhere in the Gospels was only about two miles from Jerusalem. The site of this other Bethany is not known, except that it was located on the east side of the Jordan.

1:29 Lamb of God. An expression found in the Bible only here and in v. 36. Many suggestions have been made as to its precise meaning (e.g., the lamb offered at Passover, or the lamb of Isa 53:7, of Jer 11:19 or of Ge 22:8). But the expression seems to be a general reference to sacrifice, not the name for a particular offering. John was saying that Jesus would be the sacrifice that would atone for the sin of the world.

1:31 I . . . did not know him. John the Baptist, who "lived in the desert until he appeared publicly to Israel" (Lk 1:80), may not have known Jesus at all. But the words probably mean only that he did not know that Jesus was the Messiah until he saw the sign mentioned in vv. 32–33.

1:32 See note on Mt 3:15 for Jesus' baptism.

1:33 he . . . will baptize with the Holy Spirit. John baptized with water, but Jesus would baptize with the Spirit. If a specific event is intended by these words, the fulfillment was the sending of the Holy Spirit on the day of Pentecost (Ac 2).

it.'[w] [34]I have seen and I testify that this is the Son of God."[x]

Jesus' First Disciples

1:40–42pp — Mt 4:18–22; Mk 1:16–20; Lk 5:2–11

[35]The next day John[y] was there again with two of his disciples. [36]When he saw Jesus passing by, he said, "Look, the Lamb of God!"[z]

[37]When the two disciples heard him say this, they followed Jesus. [38]Turning around, Jesus saw them following and asked, "What do you want?"

They said, "Rabbi"[a] (which means Teacher), "where are you staying?"

[39]"Come," he replied, "and you will see."

So they went and saw where he was staying, and spent that day with him. It was about the tenth hour.

[40]Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, was one of the two who heard what John had said and who had followed Jesus. [41]The first thing Andrew did was to find his brother Simon and tell him, "We have found the Messiah" (that is, the Christ).[b] [42]And he brought him to Jesus.

Jesus looked at him and said, "You are Simon son of John. You will be called[c] Cephas" (which, when translated, is Peter[j]).[d]

Jesus Calls Philip and Nathanael

[43]The next day Jesus decided to leave for Galilee. Finding Philip,[e] he said to him, "Follow me."[f]

[44]Philip, like Andrew and Peter, was from the town of Bethsaida.[g] [45]Philip found Nathanael[h] and told him, "We have found the one Moses wrote about in the Law,[i] and about whom the prophets also wrote[j]—Jesus of Nazareth,[k] the son of Joseph."[l]

[46]"Nazareth! Can anything good come from there?"[m] Nathanael asked.

"Come and see," said Philip.

[47]When Jesus saw Nathanael approaching, he said of him, "Here is a true Israelite,[n] in whom there is nothing false."[o]

[48]"How do you know me?" Nathanael asked.

Jesus answered, "I saw you while you were still under the fig tree before Philip called you."

[49]Then Nathanael declared, "Rabbi,[p] you are the Son of God;[q] you are the King of Israel."[r]

[50]Jesus said, "You believe[k] because I told you I saw you under the fig tree. You shall see greater things than that." [51]He then added, "I tell you[l] the truth, you[l] shall see heaven open,[s] and the angels of God ascending and descending[t] on the Son of Man."[u]

Jesus Changes Water to Wine

2 On the third day a wedding took place at Cana in Galilee.[v] Jesus' mother[w] was there, [2]and Jesus and his disciples had also been invited to the wedding. [3]When the wine was gone, [j]42 Both Cephas (Aramaic) and Peter (Greek) mean rock.

[k]50 Or Do you believe . . . ? [l]51 The Greek is plural.

1:34 Son of God. See vv. 14,18; 3:16; 20:31.
1:35 two. One was Andrew (v. 40). The other is not named, but from early times it has been thought that he was the author of this Gospel. his disciples. In the sense that they had been baptized by John and looked to him as their religious teacher.
1:36 Lamb of God. See note on v. 29.
1:39 tenth hour. 4:00 P.M.
1:41 the Messiah. See note on v. 25.
1:42 Peter. See NIV text note. In the Gospels, Peter was anything but a rock; he was impulsive and unstable. In Acts, he was a pillar of the early church. Jesus named him not for what he was but for what, by God's grace, he would become.
1:44 Bethsaida. See note on Mt 11:21.
1:45 son of Joseph. Not a denial of the virgin birth of Christ (Mt 1:18,20,23,25; Lk 1:35). Joseph was Jesus' legal, though not his natural, father.
1:46 Nazareth. See 7:52; see also note on Mt 2:23.
1:47 a true Israelite. See 2:24–25.
1:48 fig tree. Its shade was a favorite place for study and prayer in hot weather.
1:49 Son of God. See vv. 14,18,34; 3:16; 20:31. At the beginning of Jesus' ministry Nathanael acknowledged Jesus with this meaningful title; later it was used in mockery (Mt 27:40; cf. Jn 19:7). King of Israel. See 12:13. In Mk 15:32 "Christ" and "King of Israel" are equated.
1:51 heaven open. In Jesus' ministry the disciples will see heaven's (God's) testimony to Jesus as plainly as if they heard an announcement from heaven concerning him. the angels of God ascending and descending. As in Jacob's dream (see Ge 28:12 and note), thus marking Jesus as God's elect one through whom redemption comes to the world—perhaps identifying Jesus as the true Israelite (see v. 47). Son of Man. Jesus' favorite self-designation (see notes on Mk 8:31; Lk 6:5; 19:10).
2:1 a wedding. Little is known of how a wedding was performed in the Holy Land in the first century, but clearly the feast was very important and might go on for a week. To fail in proper hospitality was a serious offense. Cana. Mentioned only in John's Gospel (2:11; 4:46; 21:2). It was west of the Sea of Galilee, but the exact location is unknown.
2:3 When the wine was gone. More than a minor social embarrassment, since the family had an obligation to provide a feast of the socially required standard. There was no great variety in beverages, and people normally drank water or wine.

PETER

NAME MEANS: "Rock"
OCCUPATION: Fisherman, disciple of Jesus
BEST KNOWN FOR:
- his impetuous nature and fierce devotion to Christ
- his denial that he ever knew Christ
- the speech he made at Pentecost (Ac 2:14–40)
- his missionary zeal and testimony to the early church

Jesus' mother said to him, "They have no more wine."

4"Dear woman,[x] why do you involve me?"[y] Jesus replied. "My time[z] has not yet come."

5His mother said to the servants, "Do whatever he tells you."[a]

6Nearby stood six stone water jars, the kind used by the Jews for ceremonial washing,[b] each holding from twenty to thirty gallons.[m]

7Jesus said to the servants, "Fill the jars with water"; so they filled them to the brim.

8Then he told them, "Now draw some out and take it to the master of the banquet."

They did so, 9and the master of the banquet tasted the water that had been turned into wine.[c] He did not realize where it had come from, though the servants who had drawn the water knew. Then he called the bridegroom aside 10and said, "Everyone brings out the choice wine first and then the cheaper wine after the guests have had too much to drink; but you have saved the best till now."

11This, the first of his miraculous signs,[d] Jesus performed at Cana in Galilee. He thus revealed his glory,[e] and his disciples put their faith in him.[f]

Jesus Clears the Temple

2:14–16pp — Mt 21:12,13; Mk 11:15–17; Lk 19:45,46

12After this he went down to Capernaum[g] with his mother[h] and brothers[i] and his disciples. There they stayed for a few days.

13When it was almost time for the Jewish Passover,[j] Jesus went up to Jerusalem.[k] 14In the temple courts he found men selling cattle, sheep and doves,[l] and others sitting at tables exchanging money.[m] 15So he made a whip out of cords, and drove all from the temple area, both sheep and cattle; he scattered the coins of the money changers and overturned their tables. 16To those who sold doves he said, "Get these out of here! How dare you turn my Father's house[n] into a market!"

17His disciples remembered that it is written: "Zeal for your house will consume me."[no]

18Then the Jews[p] demanded of him, "What miraculous sign[q] can you show us to prove your authority to do all this?"[r]

19Jesus answered them, "Destroy this temple, and I will raise it again in three days."[s]

20The Jews replied, "It has taken forty-six years to build this temple, and you are going to raise it in three days?" 21But the temple he had spoken of was his body.[t] 22After he was raised from the dead, his disciples recalled what he had said.[u] Then they believed the Scripture[v] and the words that Jesus had spoken.

23Now while he was in Jerusalem at the Passover Feast,[w] many people saw the miraculous signs[x] he was doing and believed[y] in his name.[o] 24But Jesus would not entrust himself to them, for he

2:4 My time has not yet come. Several similar expressions scattered through this Gospel (7:6,8,30; 8:20) picture Jesus moving inevitably toward the destiny for which he had come: the time of his sacrificial death on the cross. At the crucifixion and resurrection Jesus' time had truly come (12:23,27; 13:1; 16:32; 17:1).

2:6 ceremonial washing. Jews became ceremonially defiled during the normal circumstances of daily life, and were cleansed by pouring water over the hands. For a lengthy feast with many guests a large amount of water was required for this purpose. holding. Refers to capacity, not actual content.

2:11 signs. John always refers to Jesus' miracles as "signs," a word emphasizing the significance of the action rather than the marvel (see, e.g., 4:54; 6:14; 9:16; 11:47). They revealed Jesus' glory (see 1:14; cf. Isa 35:1–2; Joel 3:18; Am 9:13).

2:12 went down. Situated on the shore of the lake, Capernaum was at a lower level than Cana. brothers. See note on Lk 8:19.

2:13 Passover. See Ex 12 and notes on Ex 12:11–23; see also notes on Mt 26:17,18–30; Mk 14:1,12; Lk 22:1; and chart on "OT Feasts and Other Sacred Days," p. 174. Passover was one of the annual feasts that all Jewish men were required to celebrate in Jerusalem (Dt 16:16). See note on 5:1.

2:14–17 Matthew, Mark and Luke record a cleansing of the temple toward the end of Jesus' ministry (see note on Mt 21:12–17).

2:14 cattle, sheep and doves. Required for sacrifices. Jews who came great distances had to be able to buy sacrificial animals near the temple. The merchants, however, were selling them in the outer court of the temple itself, the one place where Gentiles could come to pray. exchanging money. Many coins had to be changed into currency acceptable to the temple authorities, which made money changers necessary (see note on Mk 11:15). They should not, however, have been working in the temple itself.

2:19 The Jews thought Jesus was referring to the literal temple, but John tells us that he was not (v. 21). Just a few years later Jesus was accused of saying that he would destroy the temple and raise it again (Mt 26:60–61; Mk 14:57–59), and mockers repeated the charge as he hung on the cross (Mt 27:40; Mk 15:29). The same misunderstanding may have been behind the charge against Stephen (Ac 6:14).

2:20 forty-six years. The temple was not finally completed until A.D. 64. The meaning is that work had been going on for 46 years. Since it had begun in 20 B.C., the year of the event recorded here is A.D. 27.

2:22 recalled. See 14:26.

2:23 the Passover Feast. See note on v. 13. name. In ancient times an individual's "name" summed up his whole person (see NIV text note).

knew all men. 25He did not need man's testimony about man,[z] for he knew what was in a man.[a]

Jesus Teaches Nicodemus

3 Now there was a man of the Pharisees named Nicodemus,[b] a member of the Jewish ruling council.[c] 2He came to Jesus at night and said, "Rabbi,[d] we know[e] you are a teacher who has come from God. For no one could perform the miraculous signs[f] you are doing if God were not with him."[g]

3In reply Jesus declared, "I tell you the truth, no one can see the kingdom of God unless he is born again.[p]"[h i]

4"How can a man be born when he is old?" Nicodemus asked. "Surely he cannot enter a second time into his mother's womb to be born!"

5Jesus answered, "I tell you the truth, no one can enter the kingdom of God unless he is born of water and the Spirit.[j k] 6Flesh gives birth to flesh, but the Spirit[q] gives birth to spirit.[l] 7You should not be surprised at my saying, 'You[r] must be born again.' 8The wind blows wherever it pleases. You hear its sound, but you cannot tell where it comes from or where it is going. So it is with everyone born of the Spirit."[m]

9"How can this be?"[n] Nicodemus asked.

10"You are Israel's teacher,"[o] said Jesus, "and do you not understand these things? 11I tell you the truth, we speak of what we know,[p] and we testify to what we have seen, but still you people do not accept our testimony.[q] 12I have spoken to you of earthly things and you do not believe; how then will you believe if I speak of heavenly things? 13No one has ever gone into heaven[r] except the one who came from heaven[s]—the Son of Man.[s t] 14Just as Moses lifted up the snake in the desert,[u] so the Son of Man must be lifted up,[v] 15that everyone who believes[w] in him may have eternal life.[t x]

16"For God so loved[y] the world that he gave[z] his one and only Son,[u a] that whoever believes[b] in him shall not perish but have eternal life.[c] 17For God did not send his Son into the world[d] to condemn the world, but to save the world through him.[e] 18Whoever believes in him is not condemned,[f] but whoever does not believe stands condemned already because he has not believed in the name of God's one and only Son.[v g] 19This is the verdict: Light[h] has come into the world, but men loved darkness instead of light because their deeds were evil.[i] 20Everyone who does evil hates the light, and will not come into the light for fear that his deeds will be exposed.[j] 21But whoever lives by the truth comes into the light, so that it may be seen plainly that what he has done has been done through God."[w]

John the Baptist's Testimony About Jesus

22After this, Jesus and his disciples went out into the Judean countryside, where he spent some time with them, and baptized.[k] 23Now John[l] also was baptizing at Aenon near Salim, because there was plenty of water, and people were constantly coming to be baptized.

3:1 a man of the Pharisees. See notes on Mt 3:7; Mk 2:16; Lk 5:17.

3:2 at night. Perhaps Nicodemus was afraid to come by day. Or he may have wanted a long talk, which would have been difficult in the daytime with the crowds around Jesus.

3:3 born again. The Greek also may mean "born from above" (see NIV text note). Both meanings are consistent with Jesus' redeeming work.

3:5 kingdom of God. See note on Mt 3:2. born of water and the Spirit. A phrase understood in various ways: 1. It means much the same as "born of the Spirit" (v. 8; cf. Tit 3:5). 2. Water here refers to purification. 3. Water refers to baptism—that of John (1:31) or that of Jesus and his disciples (v. 22; 4:1–2).

3:7 You. See NIV text note. This assertion applies to everyone, not just Nicodemus. must. There are no exceptions. born again. See note on v. 3.

3:8 The Holy Spirit is sovereign. He works as he pleases in his renewal of the human heart.

3:11 we. The plural associates others, perhaps the disciples, with Jesus. The words are true of Christians as well as of Christ. testimony. See note on 1:7.

3:13 the Son of Man. Jesus' favorite self-designation (see notes on Mk 8:31; Lk 6:5; 19:10).

3:14 the Son of Man must be lifted up. See notes on 12:31–32.

3:15 believes. See note on 1:7. eternal life. An infinitely high quality of life in living fellowship with God—both now and forever.

3:16 God so loved the world. The great truth that motivated God's plan of salvation (cf. 1Jn 4:9–10). world. All people on earth—or perhaps all creation (see note on 1:9). that he gave. See Isa 9:6. one and only Son. See 1:14,18; cf. Ge 22:2,16; Ro 8:32. Although believers are also called "sons of God" (2Co 6:18; Rev 21:7), Jesus is God's Son in a unique sense.

3:18 believes ... does not believe. John is not speaking of momentary beliefs and doubts but of continuing, settled attitudes.

3:22 baptized. According to 4:2 only the disciples actually baptized.

3:23 Aenon. Possibly about eight miles south of Scythopolis (Beth Shan), west of the Jordan.

24(This was before John was put in prison.)[m] 25An argument developed between some of John's disciples and a certain Jew[x] over the matter of ceremonial washing.[n] 26They came to John and said to him, "Rabbi,[o] that man who was with you on the other side of the Jordan—the one you testified[p] about—well, he is baptizing, and everyone is going to him."

27To this John replied, "A man can receive only what is given him from heaven. 28You yourselves can testify that I said, 'I am not the Christ[y] but am sent ahead of him.'[q] 29The bride belongs to the bridegroom.[r] The friend who attends the bridegroom waits and listens for him, and is full of joy when he hears the bridegroom's voice. That joy is mine, and it is now complete.[s] 30He must become greater; I must become less.

31"The one who comes from above[t] is above all; the one who is from the earth belongs to the earth, and speaks as one from the earth.[u] The one who comes from heaven is above all. 32He testifies to what he has seen and heard,[v] but no one accepts his testimony.[w] 33The man who has accepted it has certified that God is truthful. 34For the one whom God has sent[x] speaks the words of God, for God[z] gives the Spirit[y] without limit.

Jesus Talks With a Samaritan Woman

4 The Pharisees heard that Jesus was gaining and baptizing more disciples than John,[b] 2although in fact it was not Jesus who baptized, but his disciples. 3When the Lord[c] learned of this, he left Judea[d] and went back once more to Galilee.

4Now he had to go through Samaria.[e] 5So he came to a town in Samaria called Sychar, near the plot of ground Jacob had given to his son Joseph.[f] 6Jacob's well was there, and Jesus, tired as he was from the journey, sat down by the well. It was about the sixth hour.

7When a Samaritan woman came to draw water, Jesus said to her, "Will you give me a drink?"[g] 8(His disciples had gone into the town[h] to buy food.)

9The Samaritan woman said to him,

[x]25 Some manuscripts and certain Jews [y]28 Or Messiah [z]34 Greek he [a]36 Some interpreters end the quotation after verse 30.

3:25 argument . . . over . . . ceremonial washing. The Dead Sea (Qumran) Scrolls (see "The Time between the Testaments," p. 1424) show that some Jews were deeply interested in the right way to achieve ceremonial purification.

3:26 testified. See note on 1:7. John's disciples knew that he had testified about Jesus, but they loved their master and were envious of Jesus' success.

3:27 The words are true of both Jesus and John (and of everyone). Both had what God had given them, so there was no place for envy. given. The verb "to give" is used frequently in this Gospel (76 times), especially of the things the Father gives the Son.

3:29 the bridegroom. The most important man at a wedding, referring here to Jesus. The friend (best man) is there only to help the bridegroom, which describes the role of John the Baptist. full of joy. Not because he was on center stage, but because the bridegroom was there. John's joy was to hear of Jesus' success.

3:30 John the Baptist had been sent to prepare the way for the Messiah and here reaffirms his subordinate position.

3:31 The one who comes from above. Jesus, whose heavenly origin (cf. 1Co 15:47) meant much to John. the one who is from the earth. A general expression that could apply to anyone, but here it particularly refers to John the Baptist.

3:32 what he has seen and heard. Jesus taught from divine experience. no one. Does not mean that no person accepted what he said (see v. 33) but that people in general refused his teaching.

3:33 certified. When anyone accepts Christ's testimony, he accepts the truth that Jesus came from heaven and that God was acting in him for the world's salvation. He thereby certifies that God is truthful.

3:34 the one whom God has sent. Jesus. without limit. Some hold that it is only to Jesus that the Spirit is given without limit. Others take the "he" (see NIV text note) as a reference to Christ's giving the Spirit without limit to believers.

3:36 has. Eternal life is a present possession, not something the believer will only obtain later (see note on v. 15). God's wrath. A strong expression, meaning that God is actively opposed to everything evil. The word "wrath" occurs only here in John's Gospel (see note on Ro 1:18). remains. A sinner cannot expect God's wrath eventually to fade away. God's opposition to evil is both total and permanent.

4:1 Pharisees. The religious leaders took a close interest in John the Baptist (see note on 1:24) and then also in Jesus.

4:2 The disciples did not baptize without Jesus' approval (3:22).

4:3 left Judea. Success (which aroused opposition; see 7:1), not failure, led Jesus to leave Judea.

4:4 had to go. The necessity lay in Jesus' mission, not in geography. Samaria. Here the whole region, not simply the city. Jews often avoided Samaria by crossing the Jordan and traveling on the east side (see notes on Mt 10:5; Lk 9:52).

4:5 Sychar. A small village near Shechem. Jacob bought some land in the vicinity of Shechem (Ge 33:18–19), and it was apparently this land that he gave to Joseph (Ge 48:21–22). See map on p. 1597.

4:6 Jacob's well. Mentioned nowhere else in Scripture. about the sixth hour. About 12:00 noon.

4:7 to draw water. People normally drew water at the end of the day rather than in the heat of midday (see Ge 24:11 and note). But the practice is attested by Josephus, who says that the young ladies whom Moses helped (Ex 2:15–17) came to draw water at noon.

4:9 The point of the NIV text note (and probably of the

Jesus in Judea and Samaria

"You are a Jew and I am a Samaritan[l] woman. How can you ask me for a drink?" (For Jews do not associate with Samaritans.[b])

10Jesus answered her, "If you knew the gift of God and who it is that asks you for a drink, you would have asked him and he would have given you living water."[j]

11"Sir," the woman said, "you have nothing to draw with and the well is deep. Where can you get this living water? 12Are you greater than our father Jacob, who gave us the well[k] and drank from it himself, as did also his sons and his flocks and herds?"

13Jesus answered, "Everyone who drinks this water will be thirsty again, 14but whoever drinks the water I give him will never thirst.[l] Indeed, the water I give him will become in him a spring of water[m] welling up to eternal life."[n]

15The woman said to him, "Sir, give me this water so that I won't get thirsty[o] and have to keep coming here to draw water."

16He told her, "Go, call your husband and come back."

17"I have no husband," she replied.

Jesus said to her, "You are right when you say you have no husband. 18The fact is, you have had five husbands, and the man you now have is not your husband. What you have just said is quite true."

19"Sir," the woman said, "I can see that you are a prophet.[p] 20Our fathers worshiped on this mountain,[q] but you Jews claim that the place where we must worship is in Jerusalem."[r]

21Jesus declared, "Believe me, woman, a time is coming[s] when you will worship the Father neither on this mountain nor in Jerusalem.[t] 22You Samaritans worship what you do not know;[u] we worship what we do know, for salvation is from the Jews.[v] 23Yet a time is coming and has now come[w] when the true worshipers will worship the Father in spirit[x] and truth, for they are the kind of worshipers the Father seeks. 24God is spirit,[y] and his worshipers must worship in spirit and in truth."

25The woman said, "I know that Messiah" (called Christ)[z] "is coming. When he comes, he will explain everything to us."

26Then Jesus declared, "I who speak to you am he."[a]

The Disciples Rejoin Jesus

27Just then his disciples returned[b] and were surprised to find him talking with a woman. But no one asked, "What do you want?" or "Why are you talking with her?"

28Then, leaving her water jar, the woman went back to the town and said

[b]9 Or do not use dishes Samaritans have used text) is that a Jew would become ceremonially unclean if he used a drinking vessel handled by a Samaritan, since the Jews held that all Samaritans were "unclean."

4:10 gift. The Greek for this word is used only here in this Gospel and emphasizes God's grace through Christ. Jesus gave life and gave it freely. living water. In 7:38–39 the term is explained as meaning the Holy Spirit, but here it refers to eternal life (see v. 14).

4:11 deep. Christian pilgrim sources as early as the fourth century mention a well in this area that was about 100 feet deep. When the present well was cleaned out in 1935, it was found to be 138 feet deep.

4:12 our father Jacob. Respect for the past prevented her from seeing the great opportunity of the present.

4:14 welling up. The expression is a vigorous one, with a meaning like "leaping up." Jesus was speaking of vigorous, abundant life (cf. 10:10).

4:15 Cf. the misunderstanding of Nicodemus (3:4). In both cases the way was opened for further instruction.

4:18 five husbands. The Jews held that a woman might be divorced twice or at the most three times. If the Samaritans had the same standard, the woman's life had been exceedingly immoral. Apparently she had not married her present partner.

4:19 a prophet. Because of his special insight.

4:20 this mountain. Perhaps the woman did not like the way the conversation was going and so began to argue. The proper place of worship had long been a source of debate between Jews and Samaritans. Samaritans held that "this mountain" (Mount Gerizim) was especially sacred. Abraham and Jacob had built altars in the general vicinity (Ge 12:7; 33:20), and the people had been blessed from this mountain (Dt 11:29; 27:12). In the Samaritan Scriptures, Mount Gerizim (rather than Mount Ebal) was the mountain on which Moses had commanded an altar to be built (Dt 27:4–6). The Samaritans had built a temple on Mount Gerizim c. 400 B.C., which the Jews destroyed c. 128. Both actions, of course, increased hostility between the two groups. See map on p. 1597.

4:22 worship what you do not know. The Samaritan Bible contained only the Pentateuch. They worshiped the true God, but their failure to accept much of his revelation meant that they knew little of him. salvation is from the Jews. The Messiah would be a Jew.

4:24 God is spirit . . . worship in spirit and in truth. The place of worship is irrelevant, because true worship must be in keeping with God's nature, which is spirit. In John's Gospel truth is associated with Christ (14:6; see note on 1:14), a fact that has great importance for the proper understanding of Christian worship.

4:25 Messiah . . . will explain everything. The woman's last attempt to evade the issue. The matter was too important, she reasoned, for people like Jesus and herself to work out. Understanding would have to await the coming of the Messiah (see note on 1:25). The Samaritans expected a Messiah, but their rejection of all the inspired writings after the Pentateuch meant that they knew little about him. They thought of him mainly as a teacher.

4:26 I . . . am he. The only occasion before his trial on which Jesus specifically said that he was the Messiah (but see Mk 9:41). The term did not have the political overtones in Samaria that it had in Judea, which may be part of the reason Jesus used the designation here.

4:27 were surprised. Jewish religious teachers rarely spoke with women in public.

to the people, 29"Come, see a man who told me everything I ever did.[c] Could this be the Christ?"[d] 30They came out of the town and made their way toward him.

31Meanwhile his disciples urged him, "Rabbi,[e] eat something."

32But he said to them, "I have food to eat[f] that you know nothing about."

33Then his disciples said to each other, "Could someone have brought him food?"

34"My food," said Jesus, "is to do the will[g] of him who sent me and to finish his work.[h] 35Do you not say, 'Four months more and then the harvest'? I tell you, open your eyes and look at the fields! They are ripe for harvest.[i] 36Even now the reaper draws his wages, even now he harvests[j] the crop for eternal life,[k] so that the sower and the reaper may be glad together. 37Thus the saying 'One sows and another reaps'[l] is true. 38I sent you to reap what you have not worked for. Others have done the hard work, and you have reaped the benefits of their labor."

Many Samaritans Believe

39Many of the Samaritans from that town[m] believed in him because of the woman's testimony, "He told me everything I ever did."[n] 40So when the Samaritans came to him, they urged him to stay with them, and he stayed two days. 41And because of his words many more became believers.

42They said to the woman, "We no longer believe just because of what you said; now we have heard for ourselves, and we know that this man really is the Savior of the world."[o]

Jesus Heals the Official's Son

43After the two days[p] he left for Galilee. 44(Now Jesus himself had pointed out that a prophet has no honor in his own country.)[q] 45When he arrived in Galilee, the Galileans welcomed him. They had seen all that he had done in Jerusalem at the Passover Feast,[r] for they also had been there.

46Once more he visited Cana in Galilee, where he had turned the water into wine.[s] And there was a certain royal official whose son lay sick at Capernaum. 47When this man heard that Jesus had arrived in Galilee from Judea,[t] he went to him and begged him to come and heal his son, who was close to death.

48"Unless you people see miraculous signs and wonders,"[u] Jesus told him, "you will never believe."

49The royal official said, "Sir, come down before my child dies."

50Jesus replied, "You may go. Your son will live."

The man took Jesus at his word and departed. 51While he was still on the way, his servants met him with the news that his boy was living. 52When he inquired as to the time when his son got better, they said to him, "The fever left him yesterday at the seventh hour."

53Then the father realized that this was the exact time at which Jesus had said to him, "Your son will live." So he and all his household[v] believed.

54This was the second miraculous

[c] 29 Or Messiah

4:29 everything I ever did. An exaggeration, but it shows the impression Jesus made on her. Could this be the Christ? Her question seems full of longing, as though she did not expect them to say "Yes," but she could not say "No."

4:33 A misunderstanding similar to that of the woman (v. 15).

4:34 My food . . . is to do the will of him who sent me. John often mentions that Jesus depended on the Father and did the work the Father sent him to do (e.g., 5:30; 6:38; 8:26; 9:4; 10:37–38; 12:49–50; 14:31; 15:10; 17:4).

4:35 Four months more and then the harvest. Apparently a proverb that meant something like "Harvest cannot be rushed." But, while the crops must take their time ripening, in the fields that Jesus referred to the harvest is already ripe.

4:36 draws his wages. The work, or at least part of it, had been done, and others were working hard. The disciples were not to think that the harvest was far off. Jesus was not speaking of grain but of "the crop for eternal life." There was urgency, for the crop would not wait. glad together. There is no competition among Christ's faithful servants, and sower and reaper share in the joy of the crop.

4:37 See 1Co 3:6–9.

4:38 Others. May refer to John the Baptist and his supporters, on whose work the apostles would build. Or perhaps Jesus was looking further back, to the prophets and other godly men of old. Either way, he expected the apostles to be reapers as well as sowers.

4:42 the Savior of the world. In the NT the expression occurs only here and in 1Jn 4:14. It points to the facts (1) that Jesus not only teaches but also saves, and (2) that his salvation extends to the world (see note on 3:16).

4:44 a prophet has no honor in his own country. Nonetheless, Jesus went to Galilee, because he came to die for our salvation (cf. 1:29).

4:45 welcomed him. The welcome of the Galileans actually was a kind of rejection, for they were interested only in his miracles. They were not welcoming the Messiah who could save them, but only a miracle worker who could amaze them.

4:46 royal official. Evidently an officer in Herod's service.

4:48 Unless you . . . see . . . signs and wonders . . . you will never believe. The general attitude of Galileans, not that of the official.

4:50 Your son will live. Not simply a prophecy, but words of power. Jesus was healing, not forecasting a happy ending (see vv. 51,53).

4:52 seventh hour. 1:00 p.m.

4:53 believed. Cf. the aim of this Gospel (20:31).

4:54 the second miraculous sign. There had, of course, already been many such signs (2:23; 3:2), but this was the sign[w] that Jesus performed, having come from Judea to Galilee.

The Healing at the Pool

5 Some time later, Jesus went up to Jerusalem for a feast of the Jews. 2Now there is in Jerusalem near the Sheep Gate[x] a pool, which in Aramaic[y] is called Bethesda[d] and which is surrounded by five covered colonnades. 3Here a great number of disabled people used to lie—the blind, the lame, the paralyzed.[e] 5One who was there had been an invalid for thirty-eight years. 6When Jesus saw him lying there and learned that he had been in this condition for a long time, he asked him, "Do you want to get well?"

7"Sir," the invalid replied, "I have no one to help me into the pool when the water is stirred. While I am trying to get in, someone else goes down ahead of me."

8Then Jesus said to him, "Get up! Pick up your mat and walk."[z] 9At once the man was cured; he picked up his mat and walked.

The day on which this took place was a Sabbath,[a] 10and so the Jews[b] said to the man who had been healed, "It is the Sabbath; the law forbids you to carry your mat."[c]

11But he replied, "The man who made me well said to me, 'Pick up your mat and walk.' "

12So they asked him, "Who is this fellow who told you to pick it up and walk?"

13The man who was healed had no idea who it was, for Jesus had slipped away into the crowd that was there.

14Later Jesus found him at the temple and said to him, "See, you are well again. Stop sinning[d] or something worse may happen to you." 15The man went away and told the Jews[e] that it was Jesus who had made him well.

Life Through the Son

16So, because Jesus was doing these things on the Sabbath, the Jews persecuted him. 17Jesus said to them, "My Father[f] is always at his work[g] to this very day, and I, too, am working." 18For second time Jesus performed a sign after coming from Judea to Galilee.

5:1 Some time later. An indefinite expression (cf. 6:1; 7:1). a feast of the Jews. Probably one of the three pilgrimage feasts to which all Jewish males were expected to go—Passover, Pentecost or Tabernacles. The identity of this feast is significant for the attempt to ascertain the number of Passovers included in Jesus' ministry, and thus the number of years his ministry lasted. John explicitly mentions at least three different Passovers: the first in 2:13,23 (see note on 2:13), the second in 6:4 and the third several times (e.g., in 11:55; 12:1). If three Passovers are accepted, the length of Jesus' ministry was between two and three years. However, if the feast of 5:1 was a fourth Passover or assumes that a fourth Passover had come and gone, Jesus' ministry would have lasted between three and four years.

5:2 there is. Not "was." This may mean that the pool was still in existence at the time this was being written, i.e., that John wrote before the destruction of Jerusalem. However, this falls short of proving the time of writing (see Introduction: Date). Bethesda. The manuscripts have a variety of names (see NIV text note), but one of the Dead Sea Scrolls seems to show that Bethesda is the right name. The site is generally identified with the twin pools near the present-day Saint Anne's Church. There would have been a colonnade on each of the four sides and another between the two pools.

5:3–4 See NIV text note. Verse 4 was doubtless inserted by a later copyist to explain why people waited by the pool in large numbers.

5:5 invalid. John does not say what the trouble was, but it was a form of paralysis or at least lameness.

5:6 Do you want to get well? The question was important. The man had not asked Jesus for help, and a beggar of that day could lose a sometimes profitable (and easy) income if he were cured. Or perhaps he had simply lost the will to be cured.

5:7 when the water is stirred. The man did not see Jesus as a potential healer, and his mind was set on the supposed curative powers of the water.

5:9 the man was cured. Ordinarily, faith in Jesus was essential to the cure (e.g., Mk 5:34), but here the man did not even know who Jesus was (v. 13). So while Jesus usually healed in response to faith, he was not limited by a person's lack of it.

5:10 the law forbids you to carry your mat. It was not the law of Moses but their traditional interpretation of it that prohibited carrying loads of any kind on the Sabbath. The Jews had very strict regulations on keeping the Sabbath, but also had many curious loopholes that their lawyers made full use of (cf. Mt 23:4).

5:12 this fellow. The Jews were contrasting the authority of the law of God, which in their view prohibited the action, and that of a mere man (as they considered Jesus to be) who permitted it.

5:14 something worse. The eternal consequences of sin are more serious than any physical ailment.

5:16 was doing. The continuous action points to more than one incident, and the Jews apparently discerned a pattern. persecuted. John does not tell us what form the persecution took.

5:17 My Father is always at his work. Jesus' justification for his action was his close relation to his Father. The Jews did not refer to God as "My Father," regarding the term as too intimate—though they might have used "Our Father" or, in prayer, "My Father in heaven." Jesus also exemplified the way the Sabbath should be observed. God does not stop his deeds of compassion on that day and neither did Jesus.

5:18 his own Father. Referring to a special relationship. The Jews did not object to the idea that God is the Father of all, but they strongly objected to Jesus' claim that he stood in a special relationship to the Father—a relationship so close as to make himself equal with God.

this reason the Jews tried all the harder to kill him;[h] not only was he breaking the Sabbath, but he was even calling God his own Father, making himself equal with God.[i]

19Jesus gave them this answer: "I tell you the truth, the Son can do nothing by himself;[j] he can do only what he sees his Father doing, because whatever the Father does the Son also does. 20For the Father loves the Son[k] and shows him all he does. Yes, to your amazement he will show him even greater things than these.[l] 21For just as the Father raises the dead and gives them life,[m] even so the Son gives life[n] to whom he is pleased to give it. 22Moreover, the Father judges no one, but has entrusted all judgment to the Son,[o] 23that all may honor the Son just as they honor the Father. He who does not honor the Son does not honor the Father, who sent him.[p]

24"I tell you the truth, whoever hears my word and believes him who sent me[q] has eternal life[r] and will not be condemned;[s] he has crossed over from death to life.[t] 25I tell you the truth, a time is coming and has now come[u] when the dead will hear[v] the voice of the Son of God and those who hear will live. 26For as the Father has life in himself, so he has granted the Son to have life[w] in himself. 27And he has given him authority to judge[x] because he is the Son of Man.

28"Do not be amazed at this, for a time is coming[y] when all who are in their graves will hear his voice 29and come out—those who have done good will rise to live, and those who have done evil will rise to be condemned.[z] 30By myself I can do nothing;[a] I judge only as I hear, and my judgment is just,[b] for I seek not to please myself but him who sent me.[c]

Testimonies About Jesus

31"If I testify about myself, my testimony is not valid.[d] 32There is another who testifies in my favor,[e] and I know that his testimony about me is valid.

33"You have sent to John and he has testified[f] to the truth. 34Not that I accept human testimony;[g] but I mention it that you may be saved.[h] 35John was a lamp that burned and gave light,[i] and you chose for a time to enjoy his light.

36"I have testimony weightier than that of John.[j] For the very work that the Father has given me to finish, and which I am doing,[k] testifies that the Father has sent me.[l] 37And the Father who sent me has himself testified concerning me.[m]

5:19 can. Because of who and what he was, it was not possible for Jesus to act except in dependence on the Father.

5:20 the Father loves the Son. Therefore the Father revealed to the Son his plans and purposes, and the Son obediently carried them out. greater things. The Son's activities in raising the dead and judging (see following verses).

5:21 the Father raises the dead. A firm belief among the Jews. They also held that he did not give this privilege to anyone else. Jesus claimed a prerogative that, according to his opponents, belonged only to God. the Son gives life. Probably refers to Christ's gift of abundant life here and now, though possibly also to the future resurrection (see 11:25–26).

5:22 entrusted all judgment to the Son. The Jews believed that the Father is Judge of the world, so this teaching seemed heretical to them.

5:24 believes him ... has eternal life. Faith and life are connected (cf. 20:31). has eternal life. A present possession (see note on 3:15). has crossed. The decisive action has taken place, and the believer no longer belongs to death.

5:25 is coming and has now come. A reference not only to the future resurrection but also to the fact that Christ gives life now. The spiritually dead who hear him receive life from him.

5:26 has life in himself. Must be understood against the background of the OT, where life is spoken of as belonging to God and as being his gift (Dt 30:20; Job 10:12; 33:4; Ps 16:11; 27:1; 36:9; etc.). The Son has been given the same kind of life that the Father possesses (cf. also 1Jn 5:11 for the benefit to man).

5:27 authority to judge. Granted to the Son by the Father. Son of Man. See note on 1:51.

5:28–29 A reference to the future raising of the dead.

5:29 done good ... live ... done evil ... condemned. As always in Scripture, judgment is on the basis of works, though salvation, of course, is a gift from God in response to faith (cf. v. 24).

5:30 By myself I can do nothing. Jesus stresses his dependence on the Father (see note on v. 19). He judges only as he hears from the Father, which makes his judgment fair.

5:31–47 This section stresses the testimonies (see note on 1:7) of John the Baptist (v. 33), of the works of Jesus (v. 36), of God the Father (v. 37), of the Scriptures (v. 39) and of Moses (v. 46).

5:31 Jesus' testimony about himself required the support of all God's revelation. Otherwise, it would have been unacceptable.

5:32 another. The Father testifies concerning the Son. The Jews might not accept this testimony, but it was the testimony that mattered most.

5:33 You have sent to John. A reference to the delegation from the Jewish leaders to John the Baptist (see 1:19). he has testified. The testimony of John was important, though not, of course, equal to the testimony of the Father. But had the Jews believed John, they would have believed Christ and would have been saved.

5:35 John was. The past tense may indicate that John was dead or at least imprisoned. In any case, his work was done. burned and gave light. John's giving light was costly to him. for a time. The Jewish leaders never came to grips with John's message, and their responses to him were always at best tentative and superficial.

5:36 work. The miracles of Jesus, which testified to what he is and to his divine mission (see 10:25).

5:37 the Father ... has himself testified ... his voice. Probably a reference to God's voice in the Scriptures (see

You have never heard his voice nor seen his form,[n] [38]nor does his word dwell in you,[o] for you do not believe[p] the one he sent.[q] [39]You diligently study[f] the Scriptures[r] because you think that by them you possess eternal life.[s] These are the Scriptures that testify about me,[t] [40]yet you refuse to come to me[u] to have life.

Jesus Feeds the Five Thousand

6:1–13pp — Mt 14:13–21; Mk 6:32–44; Lk 9:10–17

6 Some time after this, Jesus crossed to the far shore of the Sea of Galilee (that is, the Sea of Tiberias), [2]and a great crowd of people followed him because they saw the miraculous signs[b] he had performed on the sick. [3]Then Jesus went up on a mountainside[c] and sat down with his disciples. [4]The Jewish Passover Feast[d] was near.

[5]When Jesus looked up and saw a great crowd coming toward him, he said to Philip,[e] "Where shall we buy bread for these people to eat?" [6]He asked this only to test him, for he already had in mind what he was going to do.

[7]Philip answered him, "Eight months' wages[h] would not buy enough bread for each one to have a bite!"

[8]Another of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peter's brother,[f] spoke up, [9]"Here is a boy with five small barley loaves and two small fish, but how far will they go among so many?"[g]

[10]Jesus said, "Have the people sit down." There was plenty of grass in that place, and the men sat down, about five thousand of them. [11]Jesus then took the loaves, gave thanks,[h] and distributed to those who were seated as much as they wanted. He did the same with the fish.

[12]When they had all had enough to eat, he said to his disciples, "Gather the pieces that are left over. Let nothing be wasted." [13]So they gathered them and filled twelve baskets with the pieces of the five barley loaves left over by those who had eaten.

[14]After the people saw the miraculous sign[i] that Jesus did, they began to say, "Surely this is the Prophet who is to come into the world."[j] [15]Jesus, knowing that they intended to come and make vv. 38–39). God had also given his voice of approval at Jesus' baptism (see Mt 3:17). nor seen his form. Probably refers to their lack of spiritual perception of who Jesus really is.

[f]39 Or Study diligently (the imperative) [g]44 Some early manuscripts the Only One [h]7 Greek two hundred denarii

5:38 you do not believe. The Jews did not recognize what God was saying, as their failure to believe Jesus shows.

5:39 You diligently study. The Jewish leaders studied Scripture in minute detail. Despite their reverence for the very letter of Scripture (see notes on Mt 5:18–21), they did not recognize the one to whom Scripture bears supreme testimony.

5:41 praise from men. Jesus did not accept human praise any more than human testimony (v. 34).

5:42 love of God. May mean God's love for them or theirs for God. Probably it is the latter, but people's love for God is in response to his prior love for them (1Jn 4:19).

5:43–44 The Jews had their attention firmly fixed on people. Their emphasis of v. 18 on self-seeking and on human praise showed that they did not accept the one who came from God, and therefore they missed the praise that comes from God.

5:45 Your accuser is Moses. Jesus' listeners prided themselves on their attachment to Moses, their great lawgiver. So it was an unexpected thrust for Jesus to say that Moses himself would accuse them before God.

5:46 he wrote about me. All the NT writers stressed, or assumed, that the OT, rightly read, points to Christ (cf. Lk 24:25–27,44). Jesus applied this truth specifically to the writings of Moses (see, e.g., notes on Ge 49:10; Ex 12:21; Lev 16:5; Nu 24:17; Dt 18:15).

6:1–15 The feeding of the 5,000 is the one miracle, apart from the resurrection, found in all four Gospels. It shows Jesus as the supplier of human need, and sets the stage for his testimony that he is the bread of life (v. 35).

6:1 Some time after this. See 5:1 and note. Sea of Tiberias. Probably the official Roman name, while Sea of Galilee was the popular name. The name came from the town of Tiberias (named after the emperor), founded c. A.D. 20, and probably was not much in use during Jesus' ministry.

6:2 miraculous signs. See note on 2:11.

6:4 Passover. See note on 2:13.

6:5 Philip. Since he came from nearby Bethsaida (1:44), it was appropriate to ask him.

6:9 barley loaves. Cheap bread, the food of the poor.

6:10 about five thousand. The number of men; women and children were not included (Mt 14:21).

6:12 Gather the pieces. See note on Mk 6:43.

6:13 twelve baskets ... left over. There was abundant supply.

6:14 sign. It pointed people to the Son of Man and the food for eternal life that he gives (v. 27), but they thought only of the Prophet, i.e., the prophet of Dt 18:15 who would be like Moses (see 1:21 and note). Through Moses, God had provided food and water for the people in the desert, and they expected the Prophet to do no more than this.

6:15 make him king by force. Jesus rejected the world's version of kingship as a temptation of the devil (Mt 4:8–10; him king[k] by force, withdrew again to a mountain by himself.[l]

6:16–21pp — Mt 14:22–33; Mk 6:47–51

16When evening came, his disciples went down to the lake, 17where they got into a boat and set off across the lake for Capernaum. By now it was dark, and Jesus had not yet joined them. 18A strong wind was blowing and the waters grew rough. 19When they had rowed three or three and a half miles,[i] they saw Jesus approaching the boat, walking on the water;[m] and they were terrified. 20But he said to them, "It is I; don't be afraid."[n] 21Then they were willing to take him into the boat, and immediately the boat reached the shore where they were heading.

22The next day the crowd that had stayed on the opposite shore of the lake[o] realized that only one boat had been there, and that Jesus had not entered it with his disciples, but that they had gone away alone.[p] 23Then some boats from Tiberias[q] landed near the place where the people had eaten the bread after the Lord had given thanks.[r] 24Once the crowd realized that neither Jesus nor his disciples were there, they got into the boats and went to Capernaum in search of Jesus.

Jesus the Bread of Life

25When they found him on the other side of the lake, they asked him, "Rabbi,[s] when did you get here?"

26Jesus answered, "I tell you the truth, see note on Jn 18:36).

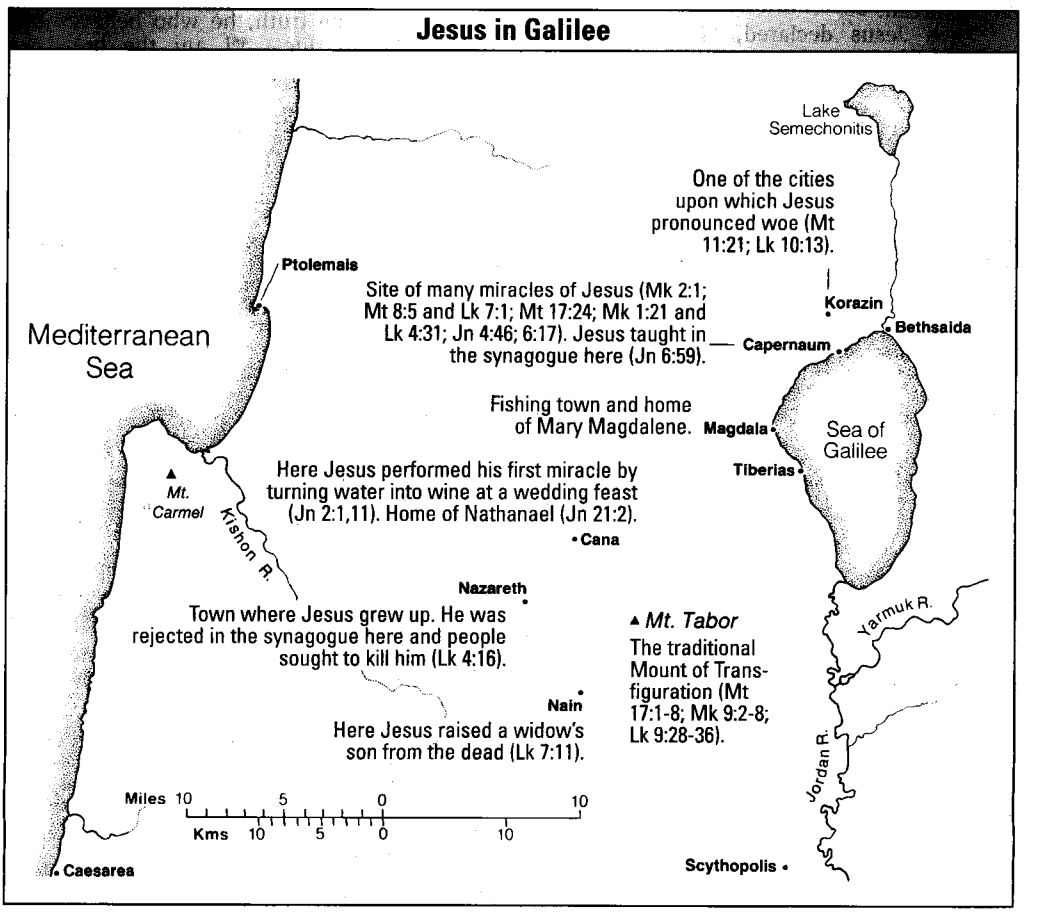
6:19 three or three and a half miles. Mark says they were "in the middle of the lake" (Mk 6:47). terrified. They thought they were seeing a ghost (Mt 14:26).

6:21 immediately the boat reached the shore. Some think that this was another miracle. In any event, the boat's safe arrival is implicitly credited to Jesus.

6:22–24 The crowd could not figure out what had happened to Jesus. But they wanted to see him again, so they looked for him in the most likely place, Capernaum.



you are looking for me,[t] not because you saw miraculous signs[u] but because you ate the loaves and had your fill. 27Do not work for food that spoils, but for food that endures[v] to eternal life,[w] which the Son of Man[x] will give you. On him God the Father has placed his seal[y] of approval."

28Then they asked him, "What must we do to do the works God requires?"

29Jesus answered, "The work of God is this: to believe[z] in the one he has sent."[a]

30So they asked him, "What miraculous sign[b] then will you give that we may see it and believe you?[c] What will you do? 31Our forefathers ate the manna[d] in the desert; as it is written: 'He gave them bread from heaven to eat.'[j]"[e]

32Jesus said to them, "I tell you the truth, it is not Moses who has given you the bread from heaven, but it is my Father who gives you the true bread from heaven. 33For the bread of God is he who comes down from heaven[f] and gives life to the world."

34"Sir," they said, "from now on give us this bread."[g]

35Then Jesus declared, "I am[h] the bread of life.[i] He who comes to me will never go hungry, and he who believes[j] in me will never be thirsty.[k] 36But as I told you, you have seen me and still you do not believe. 37All that the Father gives me[l] will come to me, and whoever comes to me I will never drive away. 38For I have come down from heaven[m] not to do my will but to do the will[n] of him who sent me.[o] 39And this is the will of him who sent me, that I shall lose none of all that he has given me,[p] but raise them up at the last day.[q] 40For my Father's will is that everyone who looks to the Son[r] and believes in him shall have eternal life,[s] and I will raise him up at the last day."

41At this the Jews began to grumble about him because he said, "I am the bread that came down from heaven." 42They said, "Is this not Jesus, the son of Joseph,[t] whose father and mother we know?[u] How can he now say, 'I came down from heaven'?"[v]

43"Stop grumbling among yourselves," Jesus answered. 44"No one can come to me unless the Father who sent me draws him,[w] and I will raise him up at the last day. 45It is written in the Prophets: 'They will all be taught by God.'[kx] Everyone who listens to the Father and learns from him comes to me. 46No one has seen the Father except the one who is from God;[y] only he has seen the Father. 47I tell you the truth, he who believes has everlasting life.[z] 48I am the bread of life.[a] 49Your forefathers ate the manna

6:27 eternal life. Not something to be achieved but to be received by faith in Christ (see vv. 28–29; see also note on 3:15). Son of Man. See note on Mk 8:31. Submission of the Son to the Father is one of John's major themes (see note on 4:34).

6:28 What must we do . . . ? They missed the point that eternal life is Christ's gift and were thinking in terms of achieving it by pious works.

6:29 work of God. Believing in Jesus Christ is the indispensable "work" God calls for—the one that leads to eternal life.

6:30 What will you do? They seek from Jesus a sign greater than the gift of manna that had accompanied Moses' ministry.

6:31 manna. A popular Jewish expectation was that when the Messiah came he would renew the sending of manna. The crowd probably reasoned that Jesus had done little compared to Moses. He had fed 5,000; Moses had fed a nation. He did it once; Moses did it for 40 years. He gave ordinary bread; Moses gave "bread from heaven."

6:32 Jesus corrected them, pointing out that the manna in the desert did not come from Moses but from God, and that the Father still "gives" (the present tense is important) the true bread from heaven (life through the Son).

6:33 the bread of God. Jesus moved the discussion to something (and Someone) much more important than manna.

6:34 this bread. Probably another misunderstanding, like that by the woman at the well (4:15; cf. also Nicodemus, 3:4). Their minds ran along materialistic lines.

6:35 I am. The first of seven self-descriptions of Jesus introduced by "I am" (see 8:12; 9:5; 10:7,9; 10:11,14; 11:25; 14:6; 15:1,5). In the Greek the words are solemnly emphatic and echo Ex 3:14. the bread of life. May mean "the bread that is living" and/or "the bread that gives life." What is implied in v. 33 is now made explicit and repeated with minor variations in vv. 41,48,51.

6:36 Contrast 20:29.

6:37 God's action (see v. 44; 10:29; 17:6; 18:9), not man's (v. 28), is primary in salvation, and Christ's mercy is unfailing (see vv. 31–40; 10:28; 17:9,12,15,19; 18:9).

6:38 I have come down from heaven. Repeated six times in this context (vv. 33,38,41,50–51,58), emphasizing Jesus' divine origin. to do the will of him who sent me. See note on 4:34.

6:39 I shall lose none. The true believer will persevere because of Christ's firm hold on him (see Php 1:6). the last day. An expression found only in John in the NT (see vv. 40,44,54).

6:40 eternal life. See note on 3:15. raise him up at the last day. Death cannot destroy the life that Christ gives.

6:41 the Jews. See note on 1:19.

6:44 draws. People do not come to Christ strictly on their own initiative; the Father draws them.

6:45 the Prophets. The section of the OT from which the quotation is taken. Everyone who . . . learns from him comes. Only those who learn from God come to salvation, and all who learn from him are saved.

6:49 they died. Jesus' opponents had set their hearts (cf. v. 31) on that which could neither give nor sustain in the desert, yet they died.[b] 50But here is the bread that comes down from heaven,[c] which a man may eat and not die. 51I am the living bread[d] that came down from heaven.[e] If anyone eats of this bread, he will live forever. This bread is my flesh, which I will give for the life of the world."[f]

52Then the Jews[g] began to argue sharply among themselves,[h] "How can this man give us his flesh to eat?"

53Jesus said to them, "I tell you the truth, unless you eat the flesh[i] of the Son of Man[j] and drink his blood,[k] you have no life in you. 54Whoever eats my flesh and drinks my blood has eternal life, and I will raise him up at the last day.[l] 55For my flesh is real food and my blood is real drink. 56Whoever eats my flesh and drinks my blood remains in me, and I in him.[m] 57Just as the living Father sent me[n] and I live because of the Father, so the one who feeds on me will live because of me. 58This is the bread that came down from heaven. Your forefathers ate manna and died, but he who feeds on this bread will live forever."[o] 59He said this while teaching in the synagogue in Capernaum.

Many Disciples Desert Jesus

60On hearing it, many of his disciples[p] said, "This is a hard teaching. Who can accept it?"[q]

61Aware that his disciples were grumbling about this, Jesus said to them, "Does this offend you?[r] 62What if you see the Son of Man[s] ascend to where he was before![t] 63The Spirit gives life;[u] the flesh counts for nothing. The words I have spoken to you are spirit[1] and they are life. 64Yet there are some of you who do not believe." For Jesus had known[v] from the beginning which of them did not believe and who would betray him.[w] 65He went on to say, "This is why I told you that no one can come to me unless the Father has enabled him."[x]

66From this time many of his disciples[y] turned back and no longer followed him.

67"You do not want to leave too, do you?" Jesus asked the Twelve.[z]

68Simon Peter answered him,[a] "Lord, to whom shall we go? You have the words of eternal life.[b] 69We believe and know that you are the Holy One of God."[c]

70Then Jesus replied, "Have I not chosen you,[d] the Twelve? Yet one of you is a devil!"[e] 71(He meant Judas, the son of Simon Iscariot,[f] who, though one of the Twelve, was later to betray him.)[g] spiritual life.

6:50 eat and not die. Jesus' gift is in contrast; the life he gives is eternal.

6:51 eats of this bread. Appropriates Jesus as the sustenance of one's life. my flesh, which I will give. Looking forward to Calvary. Providing eternal life would be costly to the Giver. world. See note on 4:42.

6:53–58 Jesus' absolute statement that "unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink his blood, you have no life in you" (v. 53) precludes a direct reference to the Lord's Supper. He clearly does not teach that receiving that sacrament is the one requirement for eternal life or that it is the only ordinance through which Christ and his saving benefits are received. In this very discourse he emphasizes faith in response to testimony (see vv. 35,40,47,51). Flesh and blood here point to Christ as the crucified one and the source of life. Jesus speaks of faith's appropriation of himself as God's appointed sacrifice, not—at least not directly—of any ritual requirement.

6:54 the last day. See note on v. 39.

6:58 the bread that came down from heaven. As in v. 49, the value of the manna is limited and is contrasted with the heavenly food Christ gives. For the tenth time in this chapter reference is made to Jesus' coming down from heaven or to the bread from heaven.

6:60 hard. Hard to accept, not hard to understand. The thought of eating the flesh of the Son of Man and drinking his blood was doubtless shocking to most of Jesus' Jewish hearers (see note on vv. 53–58).

6:62 Son of Man. See notes on Mk 8:31; Lk 6:5; 19:10. ascend. Probably refers to the series of events that began with the cross, where Jesus was glorified (see note on 7:39). where he was before. Referring to Jesus' heavenly preexistence.

6:63 Cf. 3:5–6,8. are spirit and . . . life. Are the Spirit at work producing life.

6:65 Coming to Christ for salvation is never a merely human achievement (see vv. 37,39,44–45).

6:66 From this time. May also mean "For this reason" or both. many . . . turned back. Jesus had already made clear what discipleship meant, and many were not ready to receive life in the way he taught.

6:68 As in the Synoptic Gospels, Peter acts as spokesman. words of eternal life. The expression is general. Peter was not speaking of a formula but of the thrust of Jesus' teaching. He perceived the truth of v. 63.

6:69 We believe and know. Since the Greek verbs are in the perfect tense, they mean, "We have entered a state of belief and knowledge that has continued until the present time." the Holy One of God. Applied to Jesus in Mk 1:24; Lk 4:34 (see Ac 2:27).

6:70 a devil. Judas (v. 71) would oppose Christ in the spirit of Satan.

6:71 Iscariot. Means "a man from Kerioth" (in Judea; see Jos 15:25) and would apply equally to the father and the son (cf. 12:4). Judas seems to have been the only non-Galilean among the Twelve. one of the Twelve. And therefore one of the last persons likely to betray Jesus.

7:1–8:59 In chs. 7–8 John records strong opposition to Jesus, including repeated references to threats on his life (7:1,13,19,25,30,32,44; 8:37,40,59). The apostle seems to have gathered the major arguments against the Messiahship of Jesus and here answers them.

7:1 After this. As in 5:1 and 6:1 the time is indefinite. However, 6:4 refers to the Passover Feast and 7:2 to the Feast of Tabernacles, making the interval about six months.

dea because the Jews[h] there were waiting to take his life.[i] [2]But when the Jewish Feast of Tabernacles[j] was near, [3]Jesus' brothers[k] said to him, "You ought to leave here and go to Judea, so that your disciples may see the miracles you do. [4]No one who wants to become a public figure acts in secret. Since you are doing these things, show yourself to the world." [5]For even his own brothers did not believe in him.[l]

[6]Therefore Jesus told them, "The right time[m] for me has not yet come; for you any time is right. [7]The world cannot hate you, but it hates me[n] because I testify that what it does is evil.[o] [8]You go to the Feast. I am not yet[m] going up to this Feast, because for me the right time[p] has not yet come." [9]Having said this, he stayed in Galilee.

[10]However, after his brothers had left for the Feast, he went also, not publicly, but in secret. [11]Now at the Feast the Jews were watching for him[q] and asking, "Where is that man?"

[12]Among the crowds there was widespread whispering about him. Some said, "He is a good man."

Others replied, "No, he deceives the people."[r] [13]But no one would say anything publicly about him for fear of the Jews.[s]

Jesus Teaches at the Feast

[14]Not until halfway through the Feast did Jesus go up to the temple courts and begin to teach.[t] [15]The Jews[u] were amazed and asked, "How did this man get such learning[v] without having studied?"[w]

[16]Jesus answered, "My teaching is not my own. It comes from him who sent me.[x] [17]If anyone chooses to do God's will, he will find out[y] whether my teaching comes from God or whether I speak on my own. [18]He who speaks on his own does so to gain honor for himself,[z] but he who works for the honor of the one who sent him is a man of truth; there is nothing false about him. [19]Has not Moses given you the law?[a] Yet not one of you keeps the law. Why are you trying to kill me?"[b]

[20]"You are demon-possessed,"[c] the crowd answered. "Who is trying to kill you?"

[21]Jesus said to them, "I did one miracle,[d] and you are all astonished. [22]Yet,

7:2 Feast of Tabernacles. The great feast in the Jewish year, celebrating the completion of harvest and commemorating God's goodness to the people during the desert wanderings (see Lev 23:33–43; Dt 16:13–15; cf. Zec 14:16–19). The name came from the leafy shelters in which people lived throughout the seven days of the Feast.

7:3 brothers. See note on Lk 8:19.

7:4 It is not clear whether the brothers claimed some knowledge of Jesus' miracles that other people did not have or were suggesting that any claim to Messiahship must be decided in Jerusalem. Their advice was not given sincerely, for they did not yet believe in Jesus (v. 5).

7:6 right time. Jesus moved in accordance with the will of God (see note on 2:4).

7:7 The world. Either (1) people opposed to God or (2) the human system opposed to God's purposes (see note on 1:9). The brothers belonged to the world and therefore could not be the objects of its hatred. Jesus, however, rebuked the world and was hated accordingly.

7:8 not yet. See NIV text note. Jesus was not refusing to go to the Feast, but refusing to go in the way the brothers suggested—as a pilgrim. When he went, it would be to deliver a prophetic message from God, for which he awaited the "right time" (v. 6).

7:10 not publicly. Rejecting the brothers' suggestion to show himself (v. 4).

7:12 whispering. Because it was not safe to speak openly (cf. v. 13).

7:14 halfway through the Feast. When the crowds would be at their maximum. Teaching in the temple courts at such a time would reach many.

7:15 The Jews. Distinct from "the crowds" (v. 12), who were also Jews (see note on 1:19). without having studied. Under a rabbi. Jesus had never been the disciple of a recognized Jewish teacher.

7:16 not my own. The Father, from whom he came, had been his "rabbi" (see note on 4:34).

7:17 chooses to do God's will. Reflecting a whole attitude of life. A person sincerely set on doing God's will welcomes Jesus' teaching and believes in him (cf. 6:29). he will find out. Augustine commented, "Understanding is the reward of faith . . . What is 'If any man be willing to do his will'? It is the same thing as to believe."

7:18 is a man of truth. Or "is true." They should recognize that Jesus was not self-seeking. In this Gospel, no one is spoken of as being "true" except God the Father (3:33; 8:26) and Jesus (here). Once more John ranks Jesus with God.

7:19 the law. The Jews congratulated themselves on being the chosen recipients of the law (cf. Ro 2:17), but Jesus told them that they all broke the law of which they were so proud.

7:20 You are demon-possessed. The accusation of demon possession is made elsewhere in John (e.g., 8:48–52; 10:20–21; cf. Mt 12:24–32; Mk 3:22–30). the crowd. Probably the pilgrims who had come up to Jerusalem for the Feast—different from "the Jews" who were trying to kill Jesus (v. 1) and the Jerusalem mob that knew of the plot (v. 25).

7:21 one miracle. Evidently that of healing the lame man (5:1–9), as the discussion about the Sabbath shows.

7:22 circumcision. The requirement of circumcision was included in the law Moses gave (Ex 12:44,48; Lev 12:3), yet it did not originate with Moses but went back to Abraham (Ge 17:9–14). The Jews took such regulations as that in Lev 12:3 to mean that circumcision must be performed on the eighth day even if it was the Sabbath, a day on which no work should be done. This exception is of critical importance in understanding the controversy (v. 23). Jesus was not saying that the Sabbath should not be observed or that the Jewish regulations were too harsh. He was saying that his opponents did not understand what the Sabbath meant. The command to circumcise showed that sometimes work not only might be done on the Sabbath but must be done then. Deeds of mercy were because Moses gave you circumcision[e] (though actually it did not come from Moses, but from the patriarchs),[f] you circumcise a child on the Sabbath. 23Now if a child can be circumcised on the Sabbath so that the law of Moses may not be broken, why are you angry with me for healing the whole man on the Sabbath? 24Stop judging by mere appearances, and make a right judgment."[g]

Is Jesus the Christ?

25At that point some of the people of Jerusalem began to ask, "Isn't this the man they are trying to kill?[h] 26Here he is, speaking publicly, and they are not saying a word to him. Have the authorities[i] really concluded that he is the Christ[n]?[j] 27But we know where this man is from;[k] when the Christ comes, no one will know where he is from."

28Then Jesus, still teaching in the temple courts,[l] cried out, "Yes, you know me, and you know where I am from.[m] I am not here on my own, but he who sent me is true.[n] You do not know him, 29but I know him[o] because I am from him and he sent me."[p]

30At this they tried to seize him, but no one laid a hand on him,[q] because his time had not yet come.[r] 31Still, many in the crowd put their faith in him.[s] They said, "When the Christ comes, will he do more miraculous signs[t] than this man?"

32The Pharisees heard the crowd whispering such things about him. Then the chief priests and the Pharisees sent temple guards to arrest him.

33Jesus said, "I am with you for only a short time,[u] and then I go to the one who sent me.[v] 34You will look for me, but you will not find me; and where I am, you cannot come."[w]

35The Jews said to one another, "Where does this man intend to go that we cannot find him? Will he go where our people live scattered[x] among the Greeks,[y] and teach the Greeks? 36What did he mean when he said, 'You will look for me, but you will not find me,' and 'Where I am, you cannot come'?"[z]

37On the last and greatest day of the Feast,[a] Jesus stood and said in a loud voice, "If anyone is thirsty, let him come to me and drink.[b] 38Whoever believes[c] in me, as[o] the Scripture has said,[d] streams of living water[e] will flow from within him."[f] 39By this he meant the Spirit,[g] whom those who believed in him were later to receive.[h] Up to that time the Spirit had not been given, since Jesus had not yet been glorified.[i]

40On hearing his words, some of the people said, "Surely this man is the Prophet."[j]

41Others said, "He is the Christ."

Still others asked, "How can the Christ come from Galilee?[k] 42Does not the Scripture say that the Christ will come from David's family[p] and from Bethlehem,[m] the town where David lived?" 43Thus the people were divided[n] because of Jesus. 44Some wanted to seize him, but no one laid a hand on him.[o]

Unbelief of the Jewish Leaders

45Finally the temple guards went back to the chief priests and Pharisees, who asked them, "Why didn't you bring him in?"

46"No one ever spoke the way this man does,"[p] the guards declared.

in this category.

7:25 people of Jerusalem. An expression found only here and in Mk 1:5 in the NT, probably referring to the Jerusalem mob (see note on v. 20). They did not originate the plot against Jesus, but they knew of it.

7:26 Have the authorities really concluded . . . ? In Greek, the question is in a form that expects a negative answer. the Christ. See note on 1:25.

7:27 no one will know where he is from. Some Jews held that the OT gave the origin of the Messiah (cf. v. 42; Mt 2:4–6), but others believed that it did not.

7:28 you know me. Irony, because in a sense they knew Jesus and that he came from Nazareth, but in a deeper sense they did not know Jesus or the Father (8:19). Jesus mentioned again his dependence on the Father (cf. 4:34) and went on to declare that he had real knowledge of God and that they did not. Both his origin and mission were from God.

7:30 they tried to seize him. Jesus' enemies were powerless against him until his time came (see note on 2:4).

7:31 crowd. Of pilgrims (see note on v. 20). Many of them believed on the basis of the miraculous signs (cf. 6:26).

7:32 the Pharisees. See notes on Mt 3:7; Mk 2:16; Lk 5:17. the chief priests. There was only one ruling chief priest, but the Romans had deposed a number of chief priests, and these retained the title by courtesy.

7:33 then I go. Jesus changed the topic from his miracles to his death, to which he referred enigmatically (v. 34).

7:35 scattered among the Greeks. From the time of the exile, many Jews lived outside the Holy Land and were found in most cities throughout the Roman empire.

7:37 the last . . . day of the Feast. Either the seventh or the eighth day: The Feast of Tabernacles lasted seven days (Lev 23:34; Dt 16:13,15) but had a "closing assembly" on the eighth day (Lev 23:36). See note on Mk 14:12. stood and said in a loud voice. Teachers usually sat, so Jesus drew special attention to his message.

7:38 living water. See note on 4:10.

7:39 the Spirit. Explaining the "living water" (v. 38). had not been given. In the manner in which he would be given at Pentecost (see Ac 2). glorified. Here probably refers to Jesus' crucifixion, resurrection and exaltation (see note on 13:31). The fullness of the Spirit's work depends on Jesus' prior work of salvation.

7:40 people. The "crowd" of v. 20 (see note there).

7:42 Bethlehem. There were different ideas about the Messiah's place of origin (cf. v. 27).

7:46 the guards. They knew they would be in trouble for 47"You mean he has deceived you also?"[q] the Pharisees retorted. 48"Has any of the rulers or of the Pharisees believed in him?[r] 49No! But this mob that knows nothing of the law—there is a curse on them."

50Nicodemus,[s] who had gone to Jesus earlier and who was one of their own number, asked, 51"Does our law condemn anyone without first hearing him to find out what he is doing?"

52They replied, "Are you from Galilee, too? Look into it, and you will find that a prophet[q] does not come out of Galilee."[t]

[The earliest manuscripts and many other ancient witnesses do not have John 7:53–8:11.]

53Then each went to his own home.

8 But Jesus went to the Mount of Olives.[u] 2At dawn he appeared again in the temple courts, where all the people gathered around him, and he sat down to teach them.[v] 3The teachers of the law and the Pharisees brought in a woman caught in adultery. They made her stand before the group 4and said to Jesus,
"Teacher, this woman was caught in the act of adultery. 5In the Law Moses commanded us to stone such women.[w] Now what do you say?" 6They were using this question as a trap,[x] in order to have a basis for accusing him.[y]

But Jesus bent down and started to write on the ground with his finger.
7When they kept on questioning him, he straightened up and said to them, "If any one of you is without sin, let him be the first to throw a stone[z] at her."[a] 8Again he stooped down and wrote on the ground.

9At this, those who heard began to go away one at a time, the older ones first, until only Jesus was left, with the woman still standing there. 10Jesus straightened up and asked her, "Woman, where are they? Has no one condemned you?"

11"No one, sir," she said.

"Then neither do I condemn you,"[b] Jesus declared. "Go now and leave your life of sin."[c]

[q]52 Two early manuscripts the Prophet failing to make the arrest, but did not mention the hostility of part of the crowd, which would have given them something of an excuse before the Pharisees. They were favorably impressed by the teaching of Jesus and were not inclined to cause him trouble.

7:47 the Pharisees retorted. They must have been greatly irritated. Ordinarily the chief priests would have rebuked the temple guards.

7:49 this mob. The pilgrim crowd again (see note on v. 20). knows nothing. The Pharisees exaggerated the people's ignorance of Scripture (cf. v. 42). But the average Jew paid little attention to the minutiae that mattered so much to the Pharisees. The "traditions of the elders" were too great a burden for people who earned their living by hard physical work, and consequently these regulations were widely disregarded.

7:50–51 There is irony here. The Pharisees implied that no leader believed in Jesus, yet Nicodemus, "a member of the Jewish ruling council" (3:1), spoke up. They called for people to observe the law, but Nicodemus pointed to their own disregard for the law in this instance.

7:52 a prophet does not come out of Galilee. See 1:46. They were angry—and wrong. Jonah came from Galilee, and perhaps other prophets as well. Moreover, the Pharisees overlooked the right of God to raise up prophets from wherever he chooses.

7:53–8:11 This story may not have belonged originally to the Gospel of John. It is absent from almost all the early manuscripts, and those that have it sometimes place it elsewhere (e.g., after Lk 21:38). But the story may well be authentic.

7:53 This verse (along with 8:1) shows that the story was originally attached to another narrative, since Jesus was not present at the meeting of the Sanhedrin described in vv. 45–52.

8:1 Mount of Olives. See note on Mk 11:1.

8:3 teachers of the law. See notes on Mt 2:4; Lk 5:17. a woman caught in adultery. This sin cannot be committed alone, so the question arises as to why only one offender was brought. The incident was staged to trap Jesus (v. 6), and provision had been made for the man to escape. The woman's accusers must have been especially eager to humiliate her, since they could have kept her in private custody while they spoke to Jesus.

8:4 caught in the act. Compromising circumstances were not sufficient evidence, as Jewish law required witnesses who had seen the act.

8:5 to stone such women. They altered the law a little. The manner of execution was not prescribed unless the woman was a betrothed virgin (Dt 22:23–24). And the law required the execution of both parties (Lev 20:10; Dt 22:22), not just the woman.

8:6 using this question as a trap. The Romans did not allow the Jews to carry out death sentences (18:31), so if Jesus had said to stone her, he could have been in conflict with the Romans. If he had said not to stone her, he could have been accused of being unsupportive of the law. started to write. We can only guess what Jesus wrote on the ground.

8:7 without sin. The phrase is quite general and means "without any sin," not "without this sin." let him be the first. Jesus' answer disarmed them. Since he spoke of throwing a stone, he could not be accused of failure to uphold the law. But the qualification for throwing it prevented anyone from acting.

8:9 began to go away. Because they were not "without sin" (v. 7). the older ones. They were the first to realize what was involved. But all the men were either conscience-stricken or afraid, and in the end only Jesus and the woman remained.

8:10 Woman. Not a harsh form of address (cf. its use in 19:26).

8:11 Go now and leave your life of sin. Jesus did not condone what the woman had done.

The Validity of Jesus' Testimony

12When Jesus spoke again to the people, he said, "I am[d] the light of the world.[e] Whoever follows me will never walk in darkness, but will have the light of life."[f]

13The Pharisees challenged him, "Here you are, appearing as your own witness; your testimony is not valid."[g]

14Jesus answered, "Even if I testify on my own behalf, my testimony is valid, for I know where I came from and where I am going.[h] But you have no idea where I come from[i] or where I am going. 15You judge by human standards;[j] I pass judgment on no one.[k] 16But if I do judge, my decisions are right, because I am not alone. I stand with the Father, who sent me.[l] 17In your own Law it is written that the testimony of two men is valid.[m] 18I am one who testifies for myself; my other witness is the Father, who sent me."[n]

19Then they asked him, "Where is your father?"

"You do not know me or my Father,"[o] Jesus replied. "If you knew me, you would know my Father also."[p] 20He spoke these words while teaching[q] in the temple area near the place where the offerings were put.[r] Yet no one seized him, because his time had not yet come.[s]

21Once more Jesus said to them, "I am going away, and you will look for me, and you will die[t] in your sin. Where I go, you cannot come."[u]

22This made the Jews ask, "Will he kill himself? Is that why he says, 'Where I go, you cannot come'?"

23But he continued, "You are from below; I am from above. You are of this world; I am not of this world.[v] 24I told you that you would die in your sins; if you do not believe that I am [the one I claim to be],[rw] you will indeed die in your sins."

25"Who are you?" they asked.

"Just what I have been claiming all along," Jesus replied. 26"I have much to say in judgment of you. But he who sent me is reliable,[x] and what I have heard from him I tell the world."[y]

27They did not understand that he was telling them about his Father. 28So Jesus said, "When you have lifted up the Son of Man,[z] then you will know that I am [the one I claim to be] and that I do nothing on my own but speak just what the Father has taught me.[a] 29The one who sent me is with me; he has not left me alone,[b] for I always do what pleases him."[c] 30Even as he spoke, many put their faith in him.[d]

The Children of Abraham

31To the Jews who had believed him, Jesus said, "If you hold to my teaching,[e] you are really my disciples. 32Then you will know the truth, and the truth will set you free."[f]

33They answered him, "We are Abraham's descendants[sg] and have never been slaves of anyone. How can you say that we shall be set free?"

[r] 24 Or I am he; also in verse 28 [s] 33 Greek seed; also in verse 37

8:12 I am. See note on 6:35. the light. See 1:4 and note; 9:5; 12:46. It is also true that "God is light" (1Jn 1:5). And as Jesus' followers reflect the light that comes from him, they too are "the light of the world" (Mt 5:14; cf. Php 2:15). darkness. Both the darkness of this world and that of Satan. the light of life. "God is light" (1Jn 1:5); but Jesus is also the light from God that lights the way for life—as the pillar of fire lighted the way for the Israelites (see Ex 13:21; Ne 9:12).

8:13 Pharisees. See notes on Mt 3:7; Mk 2:16; Lk 5:17.

8:14 Jesus made two points in reply. First, he was qualified to bear testimony, whereas the Pharisees were not; and he knew both his origin and his destination, whereas they knew neither. (See note on vv. 16–18 for the second point.)

8:15 The judgment of the Pharisees was limited and worldly. In the sense they meant, Jesus made it clear that he did not judge at all. In the proper sense, of course, he did judge (v. 26).

8:16–18 Jesus' second point was that his testimony was not unsupported. The Father was with him, so he and the Father were the two witnesses required by the law (Dt 17:6; 19:15).

8:16 the Father who sent me. Jesus was always aware of his mission (see note on 4:34).

8:19 If you knew me. John makes it clear that the Word (Jesus) was with God and was God (1:1) and reveals God (1:18). Jesus here stresses that the Father is known through the Son and that to know the one is to know the other.

8:20 his time. See note on 2:4.

8:23 Things other than death divide people (cf., e.g., v. 47; 3:31; 15:19; 1Jn 3:10 etc.). of. Here denotes origin. Jesus was certainly in the world, but he was not of the world. They belonged to "this world"—Satan's domain (1Jn 5:19).

8:24 believe. See note on 1:7. I am. Jesus echoes God's great affirmation about himself (see v. 58; see also notes on 6:35; Ex 3:14).

8:28 lifted up. Normally used in the NT in the sense of "exalt," but John uses it of the crucifixion (see 3:14). Son of Man. See note on Mk 8:31. I am. See notes on vv. 24,58.

8:30 faith. Cf. 20:31.

8:31 believed. Here seems to mean "made a formal profession of faith." Their words show that these people were not true believers (see vv. 33,37).

8:32 the truth. Closely connected with Jesus (v. 36; 14:6), it is not philosophical truth but the truth that leads to salvation. free. Freedom from sin, not from ignorance (see v. 36).

8:33 have never been slaves. An amazing disregard of their Roman overlords.

34Jesus replied, "I tell you the truth, everyone who sins is a slave to sin.[h] 35Now a slave has no permanent place in the family, but a son belongs to it forever.[i] 36So if the Son sets you free,[j] you will be free indeed. 37I know you are Abraham's descendants. Yet you are ready to kill me,[k] because you have no room for my word. 38I am telling you what I have seen in the Father's presence,[l] and you do what you have heard from your father.t"[m]

39"Abraham is our father," they answered.

"If you were Abraham's children,"[n] said Jesus, "then you would[u] do the things Abraham did. 40As it is, you are determined to kill me,[o] a man who has told you the truth that I heard from God.[p] Abraham did not do such things. 41You are doing the things your own father does."[q]

"We are not illegitimate children," they protested. "The only Father we have is God himself."[r]

The Children of the Devil

42Jesus said to them, "If God were your Father, you would love me,[s] for I came from God[t] and now am here. I have not come on my own;[u] but he sent me.[v] 43Why is my language not clear to you? Because you are unable to hear what I say. 44You belong to your father, the devil,[w] and you want to carry out your father's desire.[x] He was a murderer from the beginning, not holding to the truth, for there is no truth in him. When he lies, he speaks his native language, for he is a liar and the father of lies.[y] 45Yet because I tell the truth,[z] you do not believe me! 46Can any of you prove me guilty of sin? If I am telling the truth, why don't you believe me? 47He who belongs to God hears what God says.[a] The reason you do not hear is that you do not belong to God."

The Claims of Jesus About Himself

48The Jews answered him, "Aren't we right in saying that you are a Samaritan[b] and demon-possessed?"[c]

49"I am not possessed by a demon," said Jesus, "but I honor my Father and you dishonor me. 50I am not seeking glory for myself;[d] but there is one who seeks it, and he is the judge. 51I tell you the truth, if anyone keeps my word, he will never see death."[e]

52At this the Jews exclaimed, "Now we know that you are demon-possessed![f] Abraham died and so did the prophets, yet you say that if anyone keeps your word, he will never taste death. 53Are you greater than our father Abraham?[g] He died, and so did the prophets. Who do you think you are?"

54Jesus replied, "If I glorify myself,[h] my glory means nothing. My Father, whom you claim as your God, is the one who glorifies me.[i] 55Though you do not know him,[j] I know him.[k] If I said I did not, I would be a liar like you, but I do know him and keep his word.[l] 56Your father Abraham[m] rejoiced at the thought of seeing my day; he saw it[n] and was glad."

57"You are not yet fifty years old," the Jews said to him, "and you have seen Abraham!"

8:34 a slave to sin. Because the sinner cannot break free by his own strength.
8:37 you are ready to kill me. See note on 7:1–8:59.
8:38 Note the contrasts: "I . . . you"; "seen . . . heard"; "the Father . . . your father." Not until later (v. 44) did Jesus say who their father was, but it is clear even at this point that it was neither God nor Abraham as they claimed.
8:39–41 Their deeds revealed their parentage.
8:41 illegitimate. May have been a slander aimed at Jesus' virgin birth.
8:43 my language. The form of expression—the actual words. what I say. The content. These descendents of Abraham (v. 33) were so convinced of their own preconceptions that they did not really hear what Jesus was saying (cf. v. 47).
8:44 your father, the devil. These Jews' relationship to Satan was now stated explicitly. Jesus clearly excluded the idea of the universal fatherhood of God. you want. Points to determination of will. Their problem was basically spiritual, not intellectual. Being oriented toward Satan, they were bent on murder (v. 37) and eventually would succeed (v. 28). truth. Foreign to Satan and those who are his (see 14:6).
8:46 Can . . . you prove me guilty of sin? The asking of the question was more significant than the Jews' failure to answer, in that it showed Jesus had a perfectly clear conscience.
8:47 hears what God says. See 10:3–4; 1Jn 4:6.
8:48 The Jews. See note on 1:19. a Samaritan. Probably to suggest that he was lax in Jewish observances—"No better than a Samaritan." Or it may be a reflection on the birth of Jesus—perhaps claiming that his father was a Samaritan. demon-possessed. See 10:20 and note on 7:20.
8:51 my word. The whole of Jesus' message, which when accepted brings deliverance from death.
8:53 Are you greater . . . ? The question was framed to expect the answer "No." This is ironic, since Jesus was indeed far greater than Abraham, even as he was greater than Moses (see 6:30–35 and notes).
8:56 my day. All that was involved in the incarnation. Jesus probably was not referring to any one occasion but to Abraham's general joy in the fulfilling of the purposes of God in Christ, by which all nations on earth would receive blessing (Ge 18:18). he saw it. In faith, from afar.
8:57 not yet fifty years old. A generous allowance for Jesus' maximum possible age. Jesus was "about" 30 when he began his ministry (Lk 3:23).
8:58 I am! A solemnly emphatic declaration echoing God's great affirmation in Ex 3:14 (see vv. 24,28; see also note on 6:35). Jesus did not say "I was" but "I am," swered, "before Abraham was born,[o] I am!"[p] 59At this, they picked up stones to stone him,[q] but Jesus hid himself,[r] slipping away from the temple grounds.

Jesus Heals a Man Born Blind

9 As he went along, he saw a man blind from birth. 2His disciples asked him, "Rabbi,[s] who sinned,[t] this man[u] or his parents,[v] that he was born blind?"

3"Neither this man nor his parents sinned," said Jesus, "but this happened so that the work of God might be displayed in his life.[w] 4As long as it is day,[x] we must do the work of him who sent me. Night is coming, when no one can work. 5While I am in the world, I am the light of the world."[y]

6Having said this, he spit[z] on the ground, made some mud with the saliva, and put it on the man's eyes. 7"Go," he told him, "wash in the Pool of Siloam"[a] (this word means Sent). So the man went and washed, and came home seeing.[b]

8His neighbors and those who had formerly seen him begging asked, "Isn't this the same man who used to sit and beg?"[c] 9Some claimed that he was.

Others said, "No, he only looks like him."

But he himself insisted, "I am the man."

10"How then were your eyes opened?" they demanded.

11He replied, "The man they call Jesus made some mud and put it on my eyes. He told me to go to Siloam and wash. So I went and washed, and then I could see."[d]

12"Where is this man?" they asked him.

"I don't know," he said.

The Pharisees Investigate the Healing

13They brought to the Pharisees the man who had been blind. 14Now the day on which Jesus had made the mud and opened the man's eyes was a Sabbath.[e] 15Therefore the Pharisees also asked him how he had received his sight.[f] "He put mud on my eyes," the man replied, "and I washed, and now I see."

16Some of the Pharisees said, "This man is not from God, for he does not keep the Sabbath."[g]

But others asked, "How can a sinner do such miraculous signs?"[h] So they were divided.[i] 17Finally they turned again to the blind man, "What have you to say about him? It was your eyes he opened."

The man replied, "He is a prophet."[j]

18The Jews[k] still did not believe that he had been blind and had received his sight until they sent for the man's parents. 19"Is this your son?" they asked. "Is this the one you say was born blind? How is it that now he can see?"

20"We know he is our son," the parents answered, "and we know he was born blind. 21But how he can see now, or who opened his eyes, we don't know. Ask him. He is of age; he will speak for himself." 22His parents said this because they were afraid of the Jews,[l] for already the expressing the eternity of his being and his oneness with the Father (see 1:1). With this climactic statement Jesus concludes his speech that began with the related claim, "I am the light of the world" (v. 12).

8:59 to stone him. The Jews could not interpret Jesus' claim as other than blasphemy, for which stoning was the proper penalty (Lev 24:16).

9:1–12 Jesus performed more miracles of this kind than of any other. Giving sight to the blind was predicted as a Messianic activity (Isa 29:18; 35:5; 42:7). Thus these miracles were additional evidence that Jesus was the Messiah (20:31).

9:2 who sinned . . . ? The rabbis had developed the principle that "There is no death without sin, and there is no suffering without iniquity." They were even capable of thinking that a child could sin in the womb or that its soul might have sinned in a preexistent state. They also held that terrible punishments came on certain people because of the sin of their parents. As the next verse shows, Jesus plainly contradicted these beliefs.

9:4 we. Not Jesus only.

9:5 the light of the world. See note on 8:12.

9:6 Jesus used variety in his cures.

9:7 Siloam. Already an ancient name (see NIV text note on 2Ki 20:20; see also Isa 8:6). A rock-cut pool on the southern end of the main ridge on which Jerusalem was built, it served as part of the major water system developed by King Hezekiah. Sent. Or "one who has been sent."

9:8 begging. Not mentioned previously, but it was about the only way a blind person of that day could support himself.

9:13 Pharisees. See notes on Mt 3:7; Mk 2:16; Lk 5:17.

9:14 Sabbath. Cf. 5:16 and the discussion that follows.

9:16 Some . . . others. The first group started from their entrenched position and ruled out the possibility of Jesus' being from God. The second started from the fact of the "miraculous signs" and ruled out the possibility of his being a sinner (cf. vv. 31–33).

9:17 What have you to say about him? It is curious that they put such a question to such a person; their doing so reflected their perplexity. a prophet. Probably the highest designation of which the man could think. He progressed in his thinking about Jesus: from a man (v. 11), to a prophet (v. 17) who might be followed by disciples (v. 27), to one "from God" (v. 33), to one who was properly to be worshiped (v. 38).

9:18 the Jews. See note on 1:19. In their prejudice they did not learn from the sign but tried to discredit the miracle.

9:21 He is of age. There was much to which the parents could not testify, but their emphasis on the son's responsibility showed their fear of getting involved.

9:22 put out of the synagogue. Excommunication is reported as early as the time of Ezra (10:8), but there is practically no information about the way it was practiced in NT times. The synagogue was the center of Jewish community life, so excommunication cut a person off from many social relationships (though, in some of its forms, at

Jews had decided that anyone who acknowledged that Jesus was the Christ[v] would be put out[m] of the synagogue.[n] [23]That was why his parents said, "He is of age; ask him."[o]

[24]A second time they summoned the man who had been blind. "Give glory to God,[w]"[p] they said. "We know this man is a sinner."[q]

[25]He replied, "Whether he is a sinner or not, I don't know. One thing I do know. I was blind but now I see!"

[26]Then they asked him, "What did he do to you? How did he open your eyes?"

[27]He answered, "I have told you already[r] and you did not listen. Why do you want to hear it again? Do you want to become his disciples, too?"

[28]Then they hurled insults at him and said, "You are this fellow's disciple! We are disciples of Moses![s] [29]We know that God spoke to Moses, but as for this fellow, we don't even know where he comes from."[t]

[30]The man answered, "Now that is remarkable! You don't know where he comes from, yet he opened my eyes. [31]We know that God does not listen to sinners. He listens to the godly man who does his will.[u] [32]Nobody has ever heard of opening the eyes of a man born blind. [33]If this man were not from God,[v] he could do nothing."

[34]To this they replied, "You were steeped in sin at birth;[w] how dare you lecture us!" And they threw him out.[x]

Spiritual Blindness

[35]Jesus heard that they had thrown him out, and when he found him, he said, "Do you believe[y] in the Son of Man?"[z]

[36]"Who is he, sir?" the man asked. "Tell me so that I may believe in him."[a]

[37]Jesus said, "You have now seen him; in fact, he is the one speaking with you."[b]

[38]Then the man said, "Lord, I believe," and he worshiped him.[c]

[39]Jesus said, "For judgment[d] I have come into this world,[e] so that the blind will see[f] and those who see will become blind."[g]

[40]Some Pharisees who were with him heard him say this and asked, "What? Are we blind too?"[h]

[41]Jesus said, "If you were blind, you would not be guilty of sin; but now that you claim you can see, your guilt remains.[i]

The Shepherd and His Flock

10 "I tell you the truth, the man who does not enter the sheep pen by the gate, but climbs in by some other way, is a thief and a robber.[j] [2]The man who enters by the gate is the shepherd of his sheep.[k] [3]The watchman opens the gate for him, and the sheep listen to his voice.[l] He calls his own sheep by name and leads them out.[m] [4]When he has brought out all his own, he goes on ahead of them, and his sheep follow him because they know his voice.[n] [5]But they will never follow a stranger; in fact, they will run away from him because they do not recognize a stranger's voice." [6]Jesus used this figure of speech,[o] but they did least in later times, not from worship).

9:24 We. Emphatic in the Greek.

9:27 his disciples, too. The man already counted himself a disciple.

9:30–33 Good reasoning from an unschooled man.

9:31 God does not listen to sinners. Cf. the remark of some of the Pharisees in v. 16.

9:34 threw him out. May mean "expelled him from their assembly" or, more probably, "excommunicated him" (see note on v. 22).

9:35 when he found him. Jesus obviously had been looking for the man. Son of Man. See note on Mk 8:31.

9:36 The man was ready to follow any suggestion from his benefactor.

9:38 I believe. See 20:31 and note on 1:7. Lord ... he worshiped him. The man was giving Jesus the reverence due to God.

9:39 It is unlikely that the conversation of vv. 35–38 took place in the presence of the Pharisees. The incident of vv. 39–41, therefore, probably occurred a little later. For judgment. In a sense Jesus did not come for judgment (3:17; 12:47), but his coming divides people, and this always brings a type of judgment. Those who reject his gift end up "blind."

9:40 Pharisees. They found it incredible that anyone would consider them spiritually blind.

9:41 The Pharisees' claim to sight showed their complete unawareness of their spiritual blindness and need. And, though they claimed to have sight, their actions were evidence of their blindness.

10:1–30 Should be understood in light of the OT (and ancient Near Eastern) concept of "shepherd," symbolizing a royal caretaker of God's people. God himself was called the "Shepherd of Israel" (Ps 80:1; cf. Ps 23:1; Isa 40:10–11; Eze 34:11–16), and he had given great responsibility to the leaders ("shepherds") of Israel, which they failed to respect. God denounced these false shepherds (see Isa 56:9–12; Eze 34) and promised to provide the true Shepherd, the Messiah, to care for the sheep (Eze 34:23).

10:1 sheep pen. A court surrounded by walls but open to the sky, and with only one entrance. The walls kept the sheep from wandering and protected them from wild animals.

10:3 The watchman. Apparently in charge of a large fold, where several flocks were kept. his voice. The sheep recognized the voice of their own shepherd and responded only to him. his own sheep. The shepherd did not call sheep randomly, but only those that belonged to him.

10:4 he goes on ahead. The Palestinian shepherd led his sheep (he did not drive them), and the sheep followed because they knew his voice.

not understand what he was telling them.[p]

7Therefore Jesus said again, "I tell you the truth, I am[q] the gate[r] for the sheep. 8All who ever came before me[s] were thieves and robbers,[t] but the sheep did not listen to them. 9I am the gate; whoever enters through me will be saved.[x] He will come in and go out, and find pasture. 10The thief comes only to steal and kill and destroy; I have come that they may have life,[u] and have it to the full.[v]

11"I am[w] the good shepherd.[x] The good shepherd lays down his life for the sheep.[y] 12The hired hand is not the shepherd who owns the sheep. So when he sees the wolf coming, he abandons the sheep and runs away.[z] Then the wolf attacks the flock and scatters it. 13The man runs away because he is a hired hand and cares nothing for the sheep.

14"I am the good shepherd;[a] I know my sheep[b] and my sheep know me— 15just as the Father knows me and I know the Father[c]—and I lay down my life for the sheep.[d] 16I have other sheep[e] that are not of this sheep pen. I must bring them also. They too will listen to my voice, and there shall be one flock[f] and one shepherd.[g] 17The reason my Father loves me is that I lay down my life[h]—only to take it up again. 18No one takes it from me, but I lay it down of my own accord.[i] I have authority to lay it down and authority to take it up again. This command I received from my Father."[j]

19At these words the Jews were again divided.[k] 20Many of them said, "He is demon-possessed[l] and raving mad.[m] Why listen to him?"

21But others said, "These are not the sayings of a man possessed by a demon.[n] Can a demon open the eyes of the blind?"[o]

The Unbelief of the Jews

22Then came the Feast of Dedication[y] at Jerusalem. It was winter, 23and Jesus was in the temple area walking in Solomon's Colonnade.[p] 24The Jews[q] gathered around him, saying, "How long will you keep us in suspense? If you are the Christ,[z] tell us plainly."[r]

25Jesus answered, "I did tell you,[s] but you do not believe. The miracles I do in my Father's name speak for me,[t] 26but you do not believe because you are not my sheep.[u] 27My sheep listen to my voice; I know them,[v] and they follow me.[w] 28I give them eternal life,[x] and

10:7 I am. See note on 6:35.

10:8 All . . . before me. "False shepherds" like the Pharisees and the chief priests, not the true OT prophets (see note on vv. 1–30).

10:9 the gate. The one way into salvation. Inside there is safety, and one is able to go out and find pasture, i.e., the supply of all needs.

10:10 thief. His interest is in himself. Christ's interest is in his sheep, whom he enables to have life to the full (see note on 1:4).

10:11 I am. See note on 6:35. lays down his life. A Palestinian shepherd might risk danger for his sheep (see Ge 31:39; 1Sa 17:34–37), but he expected to come through alive. Jesus said that the good shepherd will die for his sheep.

10:12 hired hand. He is interested in wages, not sheep. In time of danger he runs away because of what he is (v. 13) and abandons the flock to predators.

10:14 I know . . . my sheep know. A deep mutual knowledge, like that of the Father and the Son.

10:15 I lay down my life. See v. 11; the fact of central importance.

10:16 other sheep. These already belonged to Christ, though they had not yet been brought to him. not of this sheep pen. Those outside Judaism. Here is a glimpse of the future worldwide scope of the church. one flock. All God's people have the same Shepherd (see 17:20–23).

10:17–18 That Christ would die for his people runs through this section of John's Gospel. Both the love and the plan of the Father are involved, as well as the authority he gave to the Son. Christ obediently chose to die; otherwise, no one would have had the power to kill him.

10:19 divided. See 7:43; 9:16.

10:20 demon-possessed. See note on 7:20.

10:21 Cf. 9:16.

10:22 Feast of Dedication. The commemoration of the dedication (see NIV text note) of the temple by Judas Maccabeus in December, 165 B.C., after it had been profaned by Antiochus Epiphanes. This was the last great deliverance the Jews had experienced. It was winter. A description for those unfamiliar with the Jewish calendar.

10:23 Solomon's Colonnade. See Ac 3:11; 5:12. It was a roofed structure—somewhat similar to a Greek stoa—commonly but erroneously thought to date back to Solomon's time.

10:24 the Christ. See note on 1:25 and cf. 20:31. This was the critical question, but it was not easy to answer because of the different ideas of Messiahship then in vogue.

10:25 I did tell you. Jesus had not specifically affirmed his Messiahship except to the Samaritan woman (4:26). He may have meant here that the general thrust of his teaching made his claim clear or that such statements as that in 8:58 were sufficient. Or he may have been referring to the evidence of his whole manner of life (including the miracles)—all he had done in the Father's name (for the name see note on 2:23).

10:26 not my sheep. Their failure to believe arose from what they were.

10:27 voice. Cf. vv. 3–5. I know them. Cf. v. 14. they follow. Cf. vv. 4–5.

10:28 eternal life. Christ's gift (see note on 3:15). never perish. The Greek construction here is a strong denial that the sheep will ever perish. The sheep's security is in the power of the shepherd, who will let no one take they shall never perish;[x] no one can snatch them out of my hand.[y] [29]My Father, who has given them to me,[a] is greater than all[a];[b] no one can snatch them out of my Father's hand. [30]I and the Father are one."[c]

[31]Again the Jews picked up stones to stone him,[d] [32]but Jesus said to them, "I have shown you many great miracles from the Father. For which of these do you stone me?"

[33]"We are not stoning you for any of these," replied the Jews, "but for blasphemy, because you, a mere man, claim to be God."[e]

[34]Jesus answered them, "Is it not written in your Law,[f] 'I have said you are gods'[b]?[g] [35]If he called them 'gods,' to whom the word of God[h] came—and the Scripture cannot be broken[i]— [36]what about the one whom the Father set apart[j] as his very own[k] and sent into the world?[l] Why then do you accuse me of blasphemy because I said, 'I am God's Son'?[m] [37]Do not believe me unless I do what my Father does.[n] [38]But if I do it, even though you do not believe me, believe the miracles, that you may know and understand that the Father is in me, and I in the Father."[o] [39]Again they tried to seize him,[p] but he escaped their grasp.[q]

[40]Then Jesus went back across the Jordan[r] to the place where John had been baptizing in the early days. Here he stayed [41]and many people came to him. They said, "Though John never performed a miraculous sign,[s] all that John said about this man was true."[t] [42]And in that place many believed in Jesus.[u]

The Death of Lazarus

11 Now a man named Lazarus was sick. He was from Bethany,[v] the village of Mary and her sister Martha.[w] [2]This Mary, whose brother Lazarus now lay sick, was the same one who poured perfume on the Lord and wiped his feet with her hair.[x] [3]So the sisters sent word to Jesus, "Lord, the one you love[y] is sick."

[4]When he heard this, Jesus said, "This sickness will not end in death. No, it is for God's glory[z] so that God's Son may be glorified through it." [5]Jesus loved Martha and her sister and Lazarus. [6]Yet when he heard that Lazarus was sick, he stayed where he was two more days.

[7]Then he said to his disciples, "Let us go back to Judea."[a]

[8]"But Rabbi,"[b] they said, "a short them from him.

10:29 My Father. See note on 5:17. can. The Father's power ("hand") is greater than that of any enemy, making the sheep completely secure.

10:30 one. The Greek is neuter—"one thing," not "one person." The two are one in essence or nature, but they are not identical persons. This great truth is what warrants Jesus' "I am" declarations (see 8:24,28,58 and note on 6:35; see also 17:21–22).

10:31 the Jews. See note on 1:19. to stone him. They took Jesus' words as blasphemy, and therefore prepared to carry out the law (Lev 24:16), though without due process.

10:32 great miracles. Or "good deeds" (as, e.g., in Mt 5:16; 1Ti 5:10,25; 6:18). Although the reference here includes Jesus' miracles, the underlying Greek words refer to works in general that are fine and noble in character first of all (see note on v. 38).

10:33 blasphemy. The Jewish leaders correctly understood the thrust of Jesus' words, but their preconceptions and unbelief prevented them from accepting his claim as true.

10:34 your Law. In its strictest sense the term meant the Pentateuch, but was often used, as here, of the whole OT. you are gods. The words Jesus quotes from Ps 82:6 refer to the judges (or other leaders or rulers), whose tasks were divinely appointed (see Ex 22:28 and NIV text note; Dt 1:17; 16:18; 2Ch 19:6).

10:35 Scripture cannot be broken. Jesus testified to the complete authority and reliability of the OT.

10:36 If there is any sense in which men can be spoken of as "gods" (as Ps 82:6 speaks of human rulers or judges), how much more may the term be used of him whom the Father set apart and sent!

10:37 what my Father does. The kind of works of compassion that the Father himself does.

10:38 miracles. Lit. "works." The miracles were a part of Jesus' works. It was Jesus' quality of life, not people's inability to explain his marvels, that he primarily spoke of here (see note on v. 32).

10:39 they tried to seize him. It is not clear if this was to arrest him for trial or to take him out for stoning. he escaped. John does not say why they failed, but he often makes it clear that Jesus could not be killed before the appointed time (see note on 2:4; see also Lk 4:30).

10:41 all that John said. For John the Baptist as a witness see 1:7 and note.

11:1 Lazarus. Mentioned only in chs. 11–12 of John's Gospel (the name is found also in the parable of Lk 16:19–31). The sisters are mentioned in Lk 10:38–42.

11:2 poured perfume. See 12:3.

11:3 the one you love. The relationship must have been exceptionally close.

11:4 Cf. 9:3. This sickness will not end in death. Thus predicting the raising of Lazarus (v. 44), since Jesus already knew of his death (v. 14). In fact, Lazarus must have died shortly after the messengers left Bethany, accounting for the "four days" of vv. 17,39: one day for the journey of the messengers, the two days when Jesus remained where he was (v. 6; see 10:40), and a day for Jesus' journey to Bethany. But see note on v. 17. glory. See notes on 7:39; 12:41; 13:31. Here God's Son would be glorified through what happened to Lazarus, partly because the miracle displays the glory of God (who alone can raise the dead; see 5:21) in Jesus (v. 40) and partly because it would help initiate events leading to the cross (vv. 46–53).

11:6 he stayed where he was. Jesus moved as the Father directed, not as people (here Mary and Martha) wished (cf. 2:3–4).

11:8 the Jews. See note on 1:19. tried to stone you. See note on 10:31. There was clear danger in going into Judea.

while ago the Jews tried to stone you,[c] and yet you are going back there?"

[9]Jesus answered, "Are there not twelve hours of daylight? A man who walks by day will not stumble, for he sees by this world's light.[d] [10]It is when he walks by night that he stumbles, for he has no light."

[11]After he had said this, he went on to tell them, "Our friend[e] Lazarus has fallen asleep;[f] but I am going there to wake him up."

[12]His disciples replied, "Lord, if he sleeps, he will get better." [13]Jesus had been speaking of his death, but his disciples thought he meant natural sleep.[g]

[14]So then he told them plainly, "Lazarus is dead, [15]and for your sake I am glad I was not there, so that you may believe. But let us go to him."

[16]Then Thomas[h] (called Didymus) said to the rest of the disciples, "Let us also go, that we may die with him."

Jesus Comforts the Sisters

[17]On his arrival, Jesus found that Lazarus had already been in the tomb for four days.[i] [18]Bethany[j] was less than two miles[c] from Jerusalem, [19]and many Jews had come to Martha and Mary to comfort them in the loss of their brother.[k] [20]When Martha heard that Jesus was coming, she went out to meet him, but Mary stayed at home.[l]

[21]"Lord," Martha said to Jesus, "if you had been here, my brother would not have died.[m] [22]But I know that even now God will give you whatever you ask."[n]

[23]Jesus said to her, "Your brother will rise again."

[24]Martha answered, "I know he will rise again in the resurrection[o] at the last day."[p]

[25]Jesus said to her, "I am[q] the resurrection and the life.[r] He who believes[s] in me will live, even though he dies; [26]and whoever lives and believes[t] in me will never die.[u] Do you believe this?"

[27]"Yes, Lord," she told him, "I believe that you are the Christ,[dv] the Son of God,[w] who was to come into the world."[x]

[28]And after she had said this, she went back and called her sister Mary aside. "The Teacher[y] is here," she said, "and is asking for you." [29]When Mary heard this, she got up quickly and went to him. [30]Now Jesus had not yet entered the village, but was still at the place where Martha had met him.[z] [31]When the Jews who had been with Mary in the house, comforting her,[a] noticed how quickly she got up and went out, they followed her, supposing she was going to the tomb to mourn there.

[32]When Mary reached the place where Jesus was and saw him, she fell at his feet and said, "Lord, if you had been here, my brother would not have died."[b]

[33]When Jesus saw her weeping, and the Jews who had come along with her also weeping, he was deeply moved[c] in spirit and troubled.[d] [34]"Where have you laid him?" he asked.

"Come and see, Lord," they replied.

[35]Jesus wept.[e]

[c]18 Greek fifteen stadia (about 3 kilometers) [d]27 Or Messiah

11:9 twelve hours. Enough time for what must be done, but no time for waste.

11:11 fallen asleep. A euphemism for death, used by the unbelieving world as well as by Christians.

11:15 believe. Cf. 20:31.

11:16 Thomas . . . Didymus. The Hebrew word from which we get "Thomas" and the Greek word Didymus both mean "twin." We usually remember Thomas for his doubting, but he was also capable of devotion and courage.

11:17 four days. See note on v. 4. Many Jews believed that the soul remained near the body for three days after death in the hope of returning to it. If this idea was in the minds of these people, they obviously thought all hope was gone—Lazarus was irrevocably dead.

11:18 less than two miles. Reflects John's concern for accuracy.

11:19 to comfort them. Jewish custom provided for three days of very heavy mourning, then four of heavy mourning, followed by lighter mourning for the remainder of 30 days. It was usual for friends to visit the family to comfort them.

11:20 she went out to meet him. Perhaps because as the elder she was hostess.

11:21 Repeated by Mary in v. 32. Perhaps the sisters had said this to one another often as they awaited Jesus' arrival.

11:22 whatever you ask. This comment seems to mean that Martha hoped for an immediate resurrection in spite of the fact that Lazarus's body had already begun to decay. Nothing is too difficult for God to do.

11:25 I am. See note on 6:35. life. See note on 1:4. Jesus was saying more than that he gives resurrection and life. In some way these are identified with him, and his nature is such that final death is impossible for him. He is life (cf. 14:6; Ac 3:15; Heb 7:16). He who believes . . . will live. See note on 1:7. Jesus not only is life but conveys life to the believer so that death will never triumph over him (cf. 1Co 15:54–57).

11:27 I believe. Martha is often remembered for her shortcoming recorded in Lk 10:40–41. But she was a woman of faith, as this magnificent declaration shows.

11:28 The Teacher. A significant description to be given by a woman. The rabbis would not teach women (cf. 4:27), but Jesus taught them frequently.

11:31 to mourn there. Wailing at a tomb was common, and the Jews immediately thought this was in Mary's mind. Because they followed her, Jesus got maximum publicity.

11:32 Cf. v. 21.

11:33 weeping. Both times the word denotes a loud expression of grief, i.e., "wailing." troubled. See note on 12:27; cf. 13:21.

11:35 wept. The Greek for this word is not the one for loud grief, as in v. 33, but one that denotes quiet weeping, i.e., "shed tears."

36Then the Jews said, "See how he loved him!"[f]
37But some of them said, "Could not he who opened the eyes of the blind man[g] have kept this man from dying?"[h]

Jesus Raises Lazarus From the Dead

38Jesus, once more deeply moved,[i] came to the tomb. It was a cave with a stone laid across the entrance.[j] 39"Take away the stone," he said.

"But, Lord," said Martha, the sister of the dead man, "by this time there is a bad odor, for he has been there four days."[k]

40Then Jesus said, "Did I not tell you that if you believed,[l] you would see the glory of God?"[m]

41So they took away the stone. Then Jesus looked up[n] and said, "Father,[o] I thank you that you have heard me. 42I knew that you always hear me, but I said this for the benefit of the people standing here,[p] that they may believe that you sent me."[q]

43When he had said this, Jesus called in a loud voice, "Lazarus, come out!"[r] 44The dead man came out, his hands and feet wrapped with strips of linen,[s] and a cloth around his face.[t]

Jesus said to them, "Take off the grave clothes and let him go."

The Plot to Kill Jesus

45Therefore many of the Jews who had come to visit Mary,[u] and had seen what Jesus did,[v] put their faith in him.[w] 46But some of them went to the Pharisees and told them what Jesus had done. 47Then the chief priests and the Pharisees[x] called a meeting[y] of the Sanhedrin.[z]

"What are we accomplishing?" they asked. "Here is this man performing many miraculous signs.[a] 48If we let him go on like this, everyone will believe in him, and then the Romans will come and take away both our place[e] and our nation."

49Then one of them, named Caiaphas,[b] who was high priest that year,[c] spoke up, "You know nothing at all! 50You do not realize that it is better for you that one man die for the people than that the whole nation perish."[d]

51He did not say this on his own, but as high priest that year he prophesied that Jesus would die for the Jewish nation, 52and not only for that nation but also for the scattered children of God, to bring them together and make them one.[e] 53So from that day on they plotted to take his life.[f]

54Therefore Jesus no longer moved about publicly among the Jews.[g] Instead he withdrew to a region near the desert, to a village called Ephraim, where he stayed with his disciples.

55When it was almost time for the Jew-

11:36 Cf. v. 5.

11:37 Their position was like that of Martha (v. 21) and Mary (v. 32), but they based it on Jesus' ability to give sight to the blind (cf. ch. 9).

11:39 four days. See notes on vv. 4,17.

11:40 glory. See note on v. 4.

11:44 strips of linen. Narrow strips, like bandages. Sometimes a shroud was used (see note on 19:40). a cloth. A separate item.

11:45 many of the Jews . . . put their faith in him. Perhaps some who had been opposed to Jesus now came to believe (see note on 1:19; cf. 20:31).

11:46 Pharisees. See notes on Mt 3:7; Mk 2:16; Lk 5:17.

11:47 the chief priests and the Pharisees. In all four Gospels the Pharisees appear as Jesus' principal opponents throughout his public ministry. But they lacked political power, and it is the chief priests who were prominent in the events that led to Jesus' crucifixion. Here both groups are associated in a meeting of the Sanhedrin (see note on Mk 14:55). They did not deny the reality of the miraculous signs (see note on 2:11), but they did not understand their meaning, for they failed to believe.

11:48 place. Probably the temple (see NIV text note and Ac 6:13–14; 21:28), though sometimes the Jews used the expression to denote Jerusalem.

11:49 Caiaphas. High priest c. A.D. 18–36. He was the son-in-law of Annas (18:13), who had been deposed from the high priesthood by the Romans in A.D. 15. high priest that year. Means "high priest at that time." The high priesthood was not an annual office but one supposed to be held for life. You know nothing at all! A remark typical of Sadducean rudeness (Caiaphas, as high priest, was a Sadducee). Josephus says that Sadducees "in their intercourse with their peers are as rude as to aliens." For Sadducees see notes on Mt 2:4; 3:7; Mk 12:18; Lk 20:27; Ac 4:1.

11:50 better. Caiaphas was concerned with political expediency, not with guilt and innocence. He believed that one man, no matter how innocent, should perish rather than that the nation be put in jeopardy. Ironically, the Jews went ahead with their execution of Jesus, and in A.D. 70 the nation still perished.

11:51 as high priest. Caiaphas was not a private citizen but was God's high priest, and God overruled in what he said. that year. See note on v. 49. prophesied. His words were true in a way he could not imagine. Prophecy in Scripture is the impartation of divinely revealed truth. In reality Caiaphas's words meant that Jesus' death would be for the nation, not by way of removing political trouble, but by taking away the sins of those who believed in him.

11:52 for the scattered children of God. Jesus' death would have effects far beyond the nation (cf. 1:29; 3:16; 4:42; 10:16; etc.).

11:54 he withdrew. Jesus was not to die before his "time" (see note on 2:4), but he would not act imprudently. Knowing the attitude of his opponents, he withdrew. He would die for others, but in his own time, not that of his enemies. Ephraim. If it was the city known as Ophrah, it was about 15 miles north of Jerusalem.

11:55 Passover. See notes on 2:13; 5:1. ceremonial cleansing. Especially important at a time like Passover, because without it, it would not be possible to keep the Feast (cf. 18:28; see note on 2:6).

ish Passover,[h] many went up from the country to Jerusalem for their ceremonial cleansing[i] before the Passover. [56]They kept looking for Jesus,[j] and as they stood in the temple area they asked one another, "What do you think? Isn't he coming to the Feast at all?" [57]But the chief priests and Pharisees had given orders that if anyone found out where Jesus was, he should report it so that they might arrest him.

Jesus Anointed at Bethany

12:1–8Ref — Mt 26:6–13; Mk 14:3–9; Lk 7:37–39

12 Six days before the Passover,[k] Jesus arrived at Bethany,[l] where Lazarus lived, whom Jesus had raised from the dead. [2]Here a dinner was given in Jesus' honor. Martha served,[m] while Lazarus was among those reclining at the table with him. [3]Then Mary took about a pint[f] of pure nard, an expensive perfume;[n] she poured it on Jesus' feet and wiped his feet with her hair.[o] And the house was filled with the fragrance of the perfume.

[4]But one of his disciples, Judas Iscariot, who was later to betray him,[p] objected, [5]"Why wasn't this perfume sold and the money given to the poor? It was worth a year's wages.[g]" [6]He did not say this because he cared about the poor but because he was a thief; as keeper of the money bag,[q] he used to help himself to what was put into it.

[7]"Leave her alone," Jesus replied. "It was intended that she should save this perfume for the day of my burial.[r] [8]You will always have the poor among you,[s] but you will not always have me."

[9]Meanwhile a large crowd of Jews found out that Jesus was there and came, not only because of him but also to see Lazarus, whom he had raised from the dead.[t] [10]So the chief priests made plans to kill Lazarus as well, [11]for on account of him[u] many of the Jews were going over to Jesus and putting their faith in him.[v]

The Triumphal Entry

12:12–15pp — Mt 21:4–9; Mk 11:7–10; Lk 19:35–38

[12]The next day the great crowd that had come for the Feast heard that Jesus was on his way to Jerusalem. [13]They took palm branches[w] and went out to meet him, shouting,

"Hosanna![h]"

"Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord!"[ix]

"Blessed is the King of Israel!"[y]

[14]Jesus found a young donkey and sat upon it, as it is written, [15]"Do not be afraid, O Daughter of Zion;

see, your king is coming,
seated on a donkey's colt."[jz]

[16]At first his disciples did not understand all this.[a] Only after Jesus was glorified[b] did they realize that these things had been written about him and that they had done these things to him.

[17]Now the crowd that was with him[c] when he called Lazarus from the tomb and raised him from the dead continued to spread the word. [18]Many people, because they had heard that he had given this miraculous sign,[d] went out to meet him. [19]So the Pharisees said to one an-

11:56 Isn't he coming . . . ? The question expected the answer "No."

12:1–11 All four Gospels have an account of a woman anointing Jesus. John's account seems to tell of the same incident recorded in Mt 26:6–13 and Mk 14:3–9, while that in Lk 7:36–50 is different.

12:1 Bethany. See note on Mt 21:17.

12:3 nard. The name of both a plant and the fragrant oil it yielded. Since it was very expensive, Mary's act of devotion was costly. It was also an unusual act, both because she poured the oil on Jesus' feet (normally it was poured on the head) and because she used her hair to wipe them (a respectable woman did not unbind her hair in public). Further, it showed her humility, for it was a servant's work to attend to the feet (see notes on 1:27; 13:5).

12:4 Judas Iscariot. See note on 6:71.

12:6 a thief. The one passage from which we learn that Judas was dishonest. Yet he must have been thought to be a man of some reliability, for he was keeper of the money bag.

12:7 save. Probably the meaning is "save for this purpose." Perfume was normally associated with festivity, but it was also used in burials (see 19:39–40), and Jesus links it with his burial, which Mary's act unwittingly anticipates.

12:9 Jews. See note on 1:19.

12:10 The Jewish leaders previously had spoken of the death of one man (11:50), but now they wanted another death. Sin grows.

12:12 great crowd. Pilgrims who had come up from the country for the Passover Feast. Many of the pilgrims had doubtless seen and heard Jesus in Galilee, and they welcomed the opportunity to proclaim him as Messiah.

12:13 palm branches. Used in celebration of victory. John saw a multitude with palm branches in heaven (Rev 7:9). Hosanna! See NIV text note; see also note on Mt 21:9. the name. See note on 2:23. Blessed is the King of Israel! The people's addition to the words of the psalm, which John alone records. It reflects his special interest in Jesus' royalty, which he brings out throughout the passion narrative.

12:14 donkey. See notes on Zec 9:9; Mt 21:2,7; Mk 11:2; Lk 19:30.

12:16 An example of the meaning of 16:13. glorified. See notes on v. 41; 11:4; 13:31. Only after the crucifixion and the coming of the Holy Spirit did the disciples appreciate the meaning of the prophecy and its fulfillment.

12:19 Pharisees. See notes on Mt 3:7; Mk 2:16; Lk 5:17.

other, "See, this is getting us nowhere. Look how the whole world has gone after him!"[e]

Jesus Predicts His Death

[20]Now there were some Greeks[f] among those who went up to worship at the Feast. [21]They came to Philip, who was from Bethsaida[g] in Galilee, with a request. "Sir," they said, "we would like to see Jesus." [22]Philip went to tell Andrew; Andrew and Philip in turn told Jesus.

[23]Jesus replied, "The hour[h] has come for the Son of Man to be glorified.[i] [24]I tell you the truth, unless a kernel of wheat falls to the ground and dies,[j] it remains only a single seed. But if it dies, it produces many seeds. [25]The man who loves his life will lose it, while the man who hates his life in this world will keep it[k] for eternal life.[l] [26]Whoever serves me must follow me; and where I am, my servant also will be.[m] My Father will honor the one who serves me.

[27]"Now my heart is troubled,[n] and what shall I say? 'Father,[o] save me from this hour'?[p] No, it was for this very reason I came to this hour. [28]Father, glorify your name!"

Then a voice came from heaven,[q] "I have glorified it, and will glorify it again." [29]The crowd that was there and heard it said it had thundered; others said an angel had spoken to him.

[30]Jesus said, "This voice was for your benefit,[r] not mine. [31]Now is the time for judgment on this world;[s] now the prince of this world[t] will be driven out. [32]But I, when I am lifted up from the earth,[u] will draw all men to myself."[v] [33]He said this to show the kind of death he was going to die.[w]

[34]The crowd spoke up, "We have heard from the Law[x] that the Christ[k] will remain forever,[y] so how can you say, 'The Son of Man[z] must be lifted up'?[a] Who is this 'Son of Man'?"

[35]Then Jesus told them, "You are going to have the light[b] just a little while longer. Walk while you have the light,[c] before darkness overtakes you.[d] The man who walks in the dark does not know where he is going. [36]Put your trust in the light while you have it, so that you may become sons of light."[e] When he had finished speaking, Jesus left and hid himself from them.[f]

The Jews Continue in Their Unbelief

[37]Even after Jesus had done all these miraculous signs[g] in their presence, they still would not believe in him. [38]This was to fulfill the word of Isaiah the prophet:

> "Lord, who has believed our message > and to whom has the arm of the > Lord been revealed?"[l][h]

[k]34 Or Messiah [l]38 Isaiah 53:1

12:20 Greeks. Probably "God-fearers," people attracted to Judaism by its monotheism and morality, but repelled by its nationalism and requirements such as circumcision. They worshiped in the synagogues but did not become proselytes.

12:21 Philip. A Greek name, which may be why they came to this disciple (though he was not the only one of the Twelve to have a Greek name). to see. Means "to have an interview with." After v. 22 John records no more about these Greeks (yet see note on v. 32). He regarded their coming as important but not their conversation with Jesus. Jesus came to die for the world, and the coming of these Gentiles indicates the scope of the effectiveness of his approaching crucifixion.

12:23 The hour has come. The hour to which everything else led (see note on 2:4). glorified. Jesus was speaking about his death on the cross and his subsequent resurrection and exaltation (see notes on v. 41; 11:4; 13:31).

12:24 if it dies, it produces. The principle of life through death is seen in the plant world. The kernel must perish as a kernel if there is to be a plant.

12:25 the man who hates his life . . . will keep it. To love one's life here and now—to concentrate on one's own success—is to lose what matters (cf. Mt 16:24–25; Mk 8:34–35; Lk 9:23–24). Supremely, of course, the principle is seen in the cross of Jesus. hates. Love for God must be such that all other loves are, by comparison, hatred. eternal life. See note on 3:15.

12:27 troubled. John's equivalent to the agony in Gethsemane described in the other Gospels. this hour. Jesus faced the prospect of becoming sin (or a sin offering) for sinful people (2Co 5:21). He considered praying for God to save him from this death, but refused to pray it, because the very reason he had come was to die.

12:28 Father, glorify your name! His prayer was not for deliverance but for the Father to be glorified. The voice from heaven gave the answer. name. See note on 2:23.

12:31 on this world. The cross was God's judgment on the world. the prince of this world. Satan (cf. 16:11). The cross would seem to be his triumph; in fact, it was his defeat. Out of it would flow the greatest good ever to come to the world.

12:32 lifted up. See note on 3:14. The cross was the supreme exaltation of Jesus (see notes on v. 41; 13:31). all men. Christ will draw people to himself without regard for nationality, ethnic affiliation or status. It is significant that Greek Gentiles were present on this occasion (v. 20).

12:34 the Law. Here seems to mean OT Scripture in general (see note on 10:34), the reference being to passages such as Ps 89:36; 110:4; Isa 9:7; Da 7:14. the Christ. See note on 1:25. Son of Man. The only place in the Gospels where anyone other than Jesus used the expression, and even here Jesus is being quoted (see note on Mk 8:31).

12:35–36 the light. Light is closely identified with Jesus, as seen from the call to believe in the light (see notes on 1:4; 8:12).

12:37 they still would not believe. God's ancient people should have responded when God sent his Messiah. They should have seen the significance of the signs he did.

39For this reason they could not believe, because, as Isaiah says elsewhere:

40"He has blinded their eyes and deadened their hearts, so they can neither see with their eyes,
nor understand with their hearts,
nor turn—and I would heal them."[mi]

41Isaiah said this because he saw Jesus' glory[j] and spoke about him.[k]

42Yet at the same time many even among the leaders believed in him.[l] But because of the Pharisees[m] they would not confess their faith for fear they would be put out of the synagogue;[n] 43for they loved praise from men[o] more than praise from God.[p]

44Then Jesus cried out, "When a man believes in me, he does not believe in me only, but in the one who sent me.[q] 45When he looks at me, he sees the one who sent me.[r] 46I have come into the world as a light,[s] so that no one who believes in me should stay in darkness.

47"As for the person who hears my words but does not keep them, I do not judge him. For I did not come to judge the world, but to save it.[t] 48There is a judge for the one who rejects me and does not accept my words; that very word which I spoke will condemn him[u] at the last day. 49For I did not speak of my own accord, but the Father who sent me commanded me[v] what to say and how to say it. 50I know that his command leads to eternal life.[w] So whatever I say is just what the Father has told me to say."[x]

Jesus Washes His Disciples' Feet

13 It was just before the Passover Feast.[y] Jesus knew that the time had come[z] for him to leave this world and go to the Father.[a] Having loved his own who were in the world, he now showed them the full extent of his love.[n]

2The evening meal was being served, and the devil had already prompted Judas Iscariot, son of Simon, to betray Jesus.[b] 3Jesus knew that the Father had put all things under his power,[c] and that he had come from God[d] and was returning to God; 4so he got up from the meal, took off his outer clothing, and wrapped a towel around his waist.[e] 5After that, he poured water into a basin and

[mi]40 Isaiah 6:10 [n]1 Or he loved them to the last

12:39 could not believe. Does not mean that the people in question had no choice. They purposely rejected God and chose evil, and v. 40 explains that God in turn brought on them a judicial blinding of eyes and hardening of hearts. Yet many Jewish leaders did believe in Jesus as the Messiah (v. 42).

12:40 These words from Isa 6:10 are quoted by Jesus (Mt 13:14–15; Mk 4:12; Lk 8:10) and by Paul (Ac 28:26–27).

12:41 saw Jesus' glory. Isaiah spoke primarily of the glory of God (Isa 6:3). John spoke of the glory of Jesus and made no basic distinction between the two, attesting Jesus' oneness with God. The thought of glory here is complex. There is the idea of majesty, and there is also the idea (which meant so much to John) that Jesus' death on the cross and his subsequent resurrection and exaltation show his real glory. Isaiah foresaw the rejection of Christ, as the passages quoted (Isa 53:1; 6:10) show. He spoke of the Messiah both in the words about blind eyes and hard hearts, on the one hand, and about healing, on the other. This is the cross and this is glory, for the cross and resurrection and exaltation portray both suffering and healing, rejection and triumph, humiliation and glory.

12:42 many ... leaders believed. John does not give a picture of unrelieved gloom. Many Jewish leaders believed (see note on 1:7), though they remained secret believers for fear of excommunication (see note on 9:22).

12:44 cried out. The words are given special emphasis by being spoken in a loud voice. believe in me. John ends his story of the public ministry of Jesus with an appeal for belief. He does not say when Jesus spoke these words (they may have been uttered earlier), but they are a fitting close to this part of his account. the one who sent me. Jesus' mission, as well as the inseparability of the Father and the Son, is stressed throughout this Gospel.

12:46 I have come into the world. Points to both Jesus' preexistence and his mission. light. See notes on 1:4; 8:12.

12:47 to judge. Not the purpose of Jesus' coming, but judgment is the other side of salvation. It is not the purpose of the sun's shining to cast shadows, but when the sun shines, shadows are inevitable.

12:49 the Father ... commanded me what to say. Jesus' hearers have a great responsibility. His "word" (v. 48) is that which the Father commanded him to say. To reject it, therefore, is to reject God.

12:50 eternal life. See note on 3:15. So. Jesus said what he did in order to fulfill the will of the Father—a wonderful note on which to end the account of Jesus' public ministry.

13:1–17:26 John has by far the longest account of the upper room, though curiously he says nothing about the institution of the Lord's Supper. Still we owe to him most of our information about what our Lord said to his disciples on that night. One feature of the discourse is Jesus' emphasis on love. The word occurs only six times in chs. 1–12 but 31 times in chs. 13–17.

13:1 Passover Feast. See notes on 2:13; 5:1. the time. See note on 2:4.

13:2 evening meal. Some believe that this feast was a fellowship meal eaten sometime before the Passover Feast. This would mean that the Last Supper could not have been the Passover meal as the Synoptic Gospels clearly indicate. However, this meal may have been the Passover Feast itself, in which case the accounts of the Synoptics and John would agree. the devil. See v. 27. Judas Iscariot. See note on 6:71.

13:3 the Father had put all things under his power. John again emphasizes the fulfillment of God's plan and Jesus' control of the situation.

13:5 began to wash his disciples' feet. A menial task (see note on 1:27), normally performed by a servant. On this occasion there was no servant and no one else volunteered. Jesus' action was during the meal, not upon arrival, done deliberately to emphasize a point. It was a lesson in humility, but it also set forth the principle of selfless service that was so soon to be exemplified in the began to wash his disciples' feet,[f] drying them with the towel that was wrapped around him.

[6]He came to Simon Peter, who said to him, "Lord, are you going to wash my feet?"

[7]Jesus replied, "You do not realize now what I am doing, but later you will understand."[g]

[8]"No," said Peter, "you shall never wash my feet."

Jesus answered, "Unless I wash you, you have no part with me."

[9]"Then, Lord," Simon Peter replied, "not just my feet but my hands and my head as well!"

[10]Jesus answered, "A person who has had a bath needs only to wash his feet; his whole body is clean. And you are clean,[h] though not every one of you."[i] [11]For he knew who was going to betray him,[j] and that was why he said not every one was clean.

[12]When he had finished washing their feet, he put on his clothes and returned to his place. "Do you understand what I have done for you?" he asked them. [13]"You call me 'Teacher'[k] and 'Lord,'[l] and rightly so, for that is what I am. [14]Now that I, your Lord and Teacher, have washed your feet, you also should wash one another's feet.[m] [15]I have set you an example that you should do as I have done for you.[n] [16]I tell you the truth, no servant is greater than his master,[o] nor is a messenger greater than the one who sent him. [17]Now that you know these things, you will be blessed if you do them.[p]

Jesus Predicts His Betrayal

[18]"I am not referring to all of you;[q] I know those I have chosen.[r] But this is to fulfill the scripture:[s] 'He who shares my bread[t] has lifted up his heel[u] against me.'[o][v]

[19]"I am telling you now before it happens, so that when it does happen you will believe[w] that I am He.[x] [20]I tell you the truth, whoever accepts anyone I send accepts me; and whoever accepts me accepts the one who sent me."[y]

[21]After he had said this, Jesus was troubled in spirit[z] and testified, "I tell you the truth, one of you is going to betray me."[a]

[22]His disciples stared at one another, at a loss to know which of them he meant. [23]One of them, the disciple whom Jesus loved,[b] was reclining next to him. [24]Simon Peter motioned to this disciple and said, "Ask him which one he means."

cross. John alone tells of this incident, but Luke says that in rebuking the disciples over a quarrel concerning who would be the greatest, Jesus said, "I am among you as one who serves" (Lk 22:27). Jesus' life of service would culminate on the cross.

13:8 No. Characteristically, Peter objected, though apparently no one else did. He was a mixture of humility (he did not want Jesus to perform this lowly service for him) and pride (he tried to dictate to Jesus). Unless I wash you. Jesus' reply looks beyond the incident to what it symbolizes: Peter needed a spiritual cleansing. The external washing was a picture of cleansing from sin, which Christians also sometimes need (see note on 1Jn 1:9).

13:9 my hands and my head. Peter's response was wholehearted, but he was still dictating to Jesus.

13:10 only to wash his feet. A man would bathe himself before going to a feast. When he arrived, he only needed to wash his feet to be entirely clean again.

13:11 he knew. Again John emphasizes Jesus' command of the situation.

13:13 Teacher ... Lord. An instructor would normally be called "Teacher," but "Lord" referred to one occupying the supreme place. Jesus accepted both titles.

13:14–15 Some Christians believe that Christ intended to institute a foot-washing ordinance to be practiced regularly. Most Christians, however, interpret Christ's action here as providing an example of humble service.

13:14 wash one another's feet. Christians should be willing to perform the most menial services for one another.

13:16 With minor variations this saying, which Jesus used often, is found in 15:20; Mt 10:24; Lk 6:40 (cf. Lk 22:27).

13:18 not referring to all of you. Jesus was leading up to his prediction of the betrayal (v. 21). shares my bread. To eat bread together was a mark of close fellowship (see note on Ps 41:9). lifted up his heel. May be derived from a horse's preparing to kick, or perhaps something like shaking off the dust from one's feet (Lk 9:5; 10:11).

13:19 so that ... you will believe. See 20:31. Jesus' concern was for the disciples, not himself. I am He. An emphatic form of speech, such as that in 8:58 (see note there).

13:20 anyone I send ... the one who sent me. Jesus' mission is a common theme in this Gospel, and now the mission of his followers is linked with it (cf. 20:21).

13:21 troubled. See 11:33. Though he knew of it long before it happened, Jesus was grieved by the betrayal of a friend.

13:22 at a loss. The disciples' astonishment shows that Judas had concealed his contacts with the high priests. No one suspected him (see v. 28), but all seem to have thought that the betrayal would be involuntary (see Mk 14:19).

13:23 the disciple whom Jesus loved. Usually thought to be John, the author of this Gospel (see 19:26; 20:2; 21:7,20). The expression does not, of course, mean that Jesus did not love the others, but that there was a special bond with this man. reclining. At a dinner, guests reclined on couches, leaning on the left elbow with the head toward the table.

JOHN

NAME MEANS: "The LORD shows favor"
BIRTH DATA: Son of Zebedee and Salome, brother of James OCCUPATION: Disciple of Jesus
BEST KNOWN FOR:

- being "the disciple Jesus loved"
- taking responsibility for Mary after Jesus' death
- relating his visions of the end of the world in the book of the Revelation

25Leaning back against Jesus, he asked him, "Lord, who is it?"[c]

26Jesus answered, "It is the one to whom I will give this piece of bread when I have dipped it in the dish." Then, dipping the piece of bread, he gave it to Judas Iscariot,[d] son of Simon. 27As soon as Judas took the bread, Satan entered into him.[e]

"What you are about to do, do quickly," Jesus told him, 28but no one at the meal understood why Jesus said this to him. 29Since Judas had charge of the money,[f] some thought Jesus was telling him to buy what was needed for the Feast,[g] or to give something to the poor.[h] 30As soon as Judas had taken the bread, he went out. And it was night.[i]

Jesus Predicts Peter's Denial

13:37,38pp — Mt 26:33–35; Mk 14:29–31; Lk 22:33,34

31When he was gone, Jesus said, "Now is the Son of Man[j] glorified[k] and God is glorified in him.[l] 32If God is glorified in him,[p] God will glorify the Son in himself,[m] and will glorify him at once.

33"My children, I will be with you only a little longer. You will look for me, and just as I told the Jews, so I tell you now: Where I am going, you cannot come.[n]

34"A new command[o] I give you: Love one another.[p] As I have loved you, so you must love one another.[q] 35By this all men will know that you are my disciples, if you love one another."[r]

36Simon Peter asked him, "Lord, where are you going?"[s]

Jesus replied, "Where I am going, you cannot follow now,[t] but you will follow later."[u]

37Peter asked, "Lord, why can't I follow you now? I will lay down my life for you."

38Then Jesus answered, "Will you really lay down your life for me? I tell you the truth, before the rooster crows, you will disown me three times![v]

Jesus Comforts His Disciples

14 "Do not let your hearts be troubled.[w] Trust[x] in God[q];[y] trust also in me. 2In my Father's house are many rooms; if it were not so, I would have told you. I am going there[z] to prepare a place for you. 3And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come back[a] and take you to be with me that you also may be where I am.[b] 4You know the way to the place where I am going."

Jesus the Way to the Father

5Thomas[c] said to him, "Lord, we don't know where you are going, so how can we know the way?"

6Jesus answered, "I am[d] the way[e] and the truth[f] and the life.[g] No one comes to the Father except through me.[h] 7If you really knew me, you would

[p] 32 Many early manuscripts do not have If God is glorified in him. [q] 1 Or You trust in God

13:26 the one to whom I . . . give . . . bread . . . dipped . . . in the dish. Evidently Judas was near Jesus, possibly in the seat of honor. John used Judas's full name (see note on 6:71) in recording this solemn moment.

13:27 As soon as Judas took the bread. Evidently the critical moment. If the giving of the bread to Judas was a mark of honor, it also seems to have been a final appeal—which Judas did not accept. Satan. The name is used only here in John (cf. v. 2). do quickly. Jesus' words once more indicate his control. He would die as he directed, not as his opponents determined.

13:29 the Feast. See v. 1 and note on v. 2. the poor. See 12:5.

13:30 night. In light of John's emphasis on the conflict between light and darkness, this may have been more than a time note—picturing also the darkness of Judas's soul.

13:31 Son of Man. See note on Mk 8:31. glorified. See v. 32 and note on 7:39. Here the idea of glory includes a reference to Jesus' sacrificial death on the cross and the glorious salvation that would result. God is glorified in him. The glory of the Father is closely bound to that of the Son.

13:34 A new command. In a sense it was an old one (see Lev 19:18), but for Christ's disciples it was new, because it was the mark of their brotherhood, created by Christ's great love for them (cf. Mt 22:37–39; Mk 12:30–31; Lk 10:27). As I have loved you. Our standard is Christ's love for us.

13:35 love. The distinguishing mark of Christ's followers (cf. 1Jn 3:23; 4:7–8,11–12,19–21).

13:36 where are you going? Peter seems to have ignored Jesus' words about love and was more concerned about his Master's departure. In Jesus' reply "you" is singular and thus personal to Peter, whereas in v. 33 the word is plural.

13:37 I will lay down my life. Words similar to those of the good shepherd in 10:11. Peter was characteristically sure of himself, when in fact he would not at this time lay down his life for Jesus. Exactly the opposite would be true.

13:38 you will disown me three times. Peter's denial is prophesied in all four Gospels (Mt 26:33–35; Mk 14:29–31; Lk 22:31–34).

14:1 Do not . . . be troubled. The apostles had just received disturbing news (13:33,36). Trust. The antidote for a troubled heart.

14:2 my Father's house. Heaven. rooms. Lit. "dwelling places," implying permanence.

14:3 I will come back. Jesus comes in many ways, but the primary reference here is to his second advent.

14:4 way. See v. 6.

14:5 Thomas. He was honest, and plainly told the Lord he did not understand (see note on 11:16).

14:6 I am. See note on 6:35. the way. To God. Jesus is not one way among many, but the way (cf. Ac 4:12; Heb 10:19–20). In the early church, Christianity was sometimes called "the Way" (e.g., Ac 9:2; 19:9,23). the truth. A key emphasis in this Gospel (see note on 1:14). the life. See note on 1:4. Very likely the statement means "I am the way (to the Father) in that I am the truth and the life."

14:7 me . . . my Father. Once more Jesus stresses the know[r] my Father as well.[t] From now on, you do know him and have seen him."

[8]Philip[j] said, "Lord, show us the Father and that will be enough for us."

[9]Jesus answered: "Don't you know me, Philip, even after I have been among you such a long time? Anyone who has seen me has seen the Father.[k] How can you say, 'Show us the Father'? [10]Don't you believe that I am in the Father, and that the Father is in me?[l] The words I say to you are not just my own.[m] Rather, it is the Father, living in me, who is doing his work. [11]Believe me when I say that I am in the Father and the Father is in me; or at least believe on the evidence of the miracles themselves.[n] [12]I tell you the truth, anyone who has faith[o] in me will do what I have been doing.[p] He will do even greater things than these, because I am going to the Father. [13]And I will do whatever you ask[q] in my name, so that the Son may bring glory to the Father. [14]You may ask me for anything in my name, and I will do it.

Jesus Promises the Holy Spirit

[15]"If you love me, you will obey what I command.[r] [16]And I will ask the Father, and he will give you another Counselor[s] to be with you forever— [17]the Spirit of truth.[t] The world cannot accept him,[u] because it neither sees him nor knows him. But you know him, for he lives with you and will be[s] in you. [18]I will not leave you as orphans;[v] I will come to you.[w] [19]Before long, the world will not see me anymore, but you will see me.[x] Because I live, you also will live.[y] [20]On that day[z] you will realize that I am in my Father,[a] and you are in me, and I am in you.[b] [21]Whoever has my commands and obeys them, he is the one who loves me.[c] He who loves me will be loved by my Father,[d] and I too will love him and show myself to him."

[22]Then Judas[e] (not Judas Iscariot) said, "But, Lord, why do you intend to show yourself to us and not to the world?"[f]

[23]Jesus replied, "If anyone loves me, he will obey my teaching.[g] My Father will love him, and we will come to him and make our home with him.[h] [24]He who does not love me will not obey my teaching. These words you hear are not my own; they belong to the Father who sent me.[i]

[25]"All this I have spoken while still with you. [26]But the Counselor,[j] the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in intimate connection between the Father and himself. Jesus brought a full revelation of the Father (cf. 1:18), so that the apostles had real knowledge of him.

14:10 not just my own. Jesus' teaching was not of human origin, and there was an inseparable connection between his words and his work.

14:11 Believe ... that I am in the Father and the Father is in me. Saving faith is trust in a person, but it must also have factual content. Faith includes believing that Jesus is one with the Father.

14:12 greater things. Miracles (see v. 11). These depended on Jesus' going to the Father, because they are works done in the strength of the Holy Spirit, whom Jesus would send from the Father (15:26; cf. 14:16–17).

14:13 in my name. Not simply prayer that mentions Jesus' name but prayer in accordance with all that the person who bears the name is (see note on 2:23). It is prayer aimed at carrying forward the work Jesus did—prayer that he himself will answer (see also v. 14).

14:15 love ... obey. Love, like faith (Jas 2:14–26), cannot be separated from obedience.

14:16 the Father ... will give you. The first of a series of important passages about the Holy Spirit (v. 26; 15:26; 16:7–15), the gift of the Father. another. Besides Jesus. Counselor. Or "Helper." It is a legal term, but with a broader meaning than "counsel for the defense" (see 1Jn 2:1). It referred to any person who helped someone in trouble with the law. The Spirit will always stand by Christ's people.

14:17 the Spirit of truth. In essence and in action the Spirit is characterized by truth. He brings people to the truth of God. All three persons of the Trinity are linked with truth. See also the Father (4:23–24; cf. Ps 31:5; Isa 65:16) and the Son (14:6). The world. Which takes no notice of the Spirit of God (cf. 1Co 2:14). But the Spirit was "with" Jesus' disciples and would be "in" them. Some believe the latter relationship (indwelling) specifically anticipates the coming of the Holy Spirit on the day of Pentecost (Ac 2; cf. Ro 8:9).

14:18 I will come to you. The words relate to the coming of the Spirit, but Jesus also speaks of his own appearances after the resurrection and at his second coming (see vv. 3, 19, 28; 16:22).

14:19 the world ... but you. The cross separated the world (who would not see Jesus thereafter) from the disciples (who would). Because I live, you also will live. The life of the Christian always depends on the life of Christ (cf. 1:4; 3:15).

14:20 On that day you will realize. The resurrection would radically change their thinking.

14:21 obeys ... loves. Love for Christ and keeping his commands cannot be separated (see note on v. 15). loved by my Father ... I too will love him. The love of the Father cannot be separated from that of the Son.

14:22 why ...? He (and, for that matter, the others) probably looked for Jesus to fulfill popular Messianic expectations. It was not easy, therefore, to understand how that would mean showing himself to the disciples but not to the world.

14:23 loves ... obey ... love. Again love and obedience are linked (cf. vv. 15,21).

14:24 Once more the close relationship between Jesus' words and the Father's is stressed (see v. 10; 7:16).

14:26 Counselor. See note on v. 16. Holy Spirit. His normal title in the NT (though only here and at 1:33; 20:22 in this Gospel)—emphasizing his holiness, rather than his power or greatness. whom the Father will send. Both the Father and the Son are involved in the sending (see 15:26).

my name,[k] will teach you all things[l] and will remind you of everything I have said to you.[m] 27Peace I leave with you; my peace I give you.[n] I do not give to you as the world gives. Do not let your hearts be troubled[o] and do not be afraid.

28"You heard me say, 'I am going away and I am coming back to you.'[p] If you loved me, you would be glad that I am going to the Father,[q] for the Father is greater than I.[r] 29I have told you now before it happens, so that when it does happen you will believe.[s] 30I will not speak with you much longer, for the prince of this world[t] is coming. He has no hold on me, 31but the world must learn that I love the Father and that I do exactly what my Father has commanded me.[u]

The Vine and the Branches

15 "I am[v] the true vine,[w] and my Father is the gardener. 2He cuts off every branch in me that bears no fruit,[x] while every branch that does bear fruit[y] he prunes[t] so that it will be even more fruitful. 3You are already clean because of the word I have spoken to you.[z] 4Remain in me, and I will remain in you.[a] No branch can bear fruit by itself; it must remain in the vine. Neither can you bear fruit unless you remain in me.

5"I am the vine; you are the branches. If a man remains in me and I in him, he will bear much fruit;[b] apart from me you can do nothing. 6If anyone does not remain in me, he is like a branch that is thrown away and withers; such branches are picked up, thrown into the fire and burned.[c] 7If you remain in me[d] and my words remain in you, ask whatever you wish, and it will be given you.[e] 8This is to my Father's glory,[f] that you bear much fruit, showing yourselves to be my disciples.[g]

9"As the Father has loved me,[h] so have I loved you. Now remain in my love. 10If you obey my commands,[i] you will remain in my love, just as I have obeyed my Father's commands and remain in his love. 11I have told you this so that my joy may be in you and that your joy may be complete.[j] 12My command is this: Love each other as I have loved you.[k] 13Greater love has no one than this, that he lay down his life for his friends.[l] 14You are my friends[m] if you do what I command.[n] 15I no longer call

name. See notes on v. 13; 2:23. remind you of everything I have said to you. Crucial for the life of the church—and for the writing of the NT.

14:27 Peace ... my peace. A common Hebrew greeting (20:19,21,26), which Jesus uses here in an unusual way. The term speaks, in effect, of the salvation that Christ's redemptive work will achieve for his disciples—total well-being and inner rest of spirit, in fellowship with God. All true peace is his gift, which the repetition emphasizes. I do not give ... as the world gives. In its greetings of peace the world can only express a longing or wish. But Jesus' peace is real and present. troubled. See note on v. 1.

14:28 heard me say. Cf. v. 3. the Father is greater than I. Revealing the subordinate role Jesus accepted as a necessary part of the incarnation. The statement must be understood in the light of the unity between the Father and the Son (10:30).

14:30 prince of this world. See note on 12:31. has no hold on me. Satan has a hold on people because of their fallen state. Since Christ was sinless, Satan could have no hold on him.

14:31 I do exactly what my Father has commanded me. Jesus had stressed the importance of his followers being obedient (vv. 15,21,23), and he set the example. With these words he goes to fulfill his mission (chs. 18–19).

15:1 I am. See note on 6:35. the true vine. The vine is frequently used in the OT as a symbol of Israel (e.g., Ps 80:8–16; Isa 5:1–7; Jer 2:21). When this imagery is used, Israel is often shown as lacking in some way. Jesus, however, is "the true vine."

15:2 cuts off. A reference to judgment (see note on v. 6). prunes. Pruning produces fruitfulness. In the NT the figure of good fruit represents the product of a godly life (see Mt 3:8; 7:16–20) or virtues of character (see Gal 5:22–23; Eph 5:9; Php 1:11).

15:3 clean. See NIV text note on v. 2. the word. Sums up the message of Jesus.

15:4 Remain in me. The believer has no fruitfulness apart from his union and fellowship with Christ. A branch out of contact with the vine is lifeless.

15:5 I am the vine. See note on v. 1. The repetition gives emphasis. remains in me and I in him. A living union with Christ is absolutely necessary; without it there is nothing.

15:6 thrown into the fire and burned. Judged (see note on v. 2). In light of such passages as 6:39; 10:27–28, these branches probably do not represent true believers. Genuine salvation is evidenced by a life of fruitfulness (see v. 10 and notes on vv. 2,4; see also Heb 6:9, "things that accompany salvation"; cf. Mt 7:19–23).

15:7 my words remain in you. It is impossible to pray correctly apart from knowing and believing the teachings of Christ. ask whatever you wish. See 14:13 and note.

15:8 to my Father's glory. The Father is glorified in the work of the Son (13:31–32), and he is also glorified in the fruit-bearing of disciples (see Mt 7:20; Lk 6:43–45).

15:10 obey ... as I have obeyed. Again the importance of obedience (cf. 14:15,21,23), and again the example of Christ (cf. 14:31). my love ... his love. See vv. 12,14. Obedience and love go together (see 1Jn 2:5; 5:2–3).

15:11 joy. Mentioned previously in this Gospel only in 3:29, but one of the characteristic notes of the upper room discourse (16:20–22,24; 17:13). The Christian way is never dreary, for Jesus desires his disciples' joy to be complete.

15:13 Christ's love was not only in words but also in his sacrificial death.

15:15 servants ... friends. A servant is simply an agent, you servants, because a servant does not know his master's business. Instead, I have called you friends, for everything that I learned from my Father I have made known to you.[o] 16You did not choose me, but I chose you and appointed you[p] to go and bear fruit[q]—fruit that will last. Then the Father will give you whatever you ask in my name.[r] 17This is my command: Love each other.[s]

The World Hates the Disciples

18"If the world hates you,[t] keep in mind that it hated me first. 19If you belonged to the world, it would love you as its own. As it is, you do not belong to the world, but I have chosen you[u] out of the world. That is why the world hates you.[v] 20Remember the words I spoke to you: 'No servant is greater than his master.'[w] If they persecuted me, they will persecute you also.[x] If they obeyed my teaching, they will obey yours also. 21They will treat you this way because of my name,[y] for they do not know the One who sent me.[z] 22If I had not come and spoken to them,[a] they would not be guilty of sin. Now, however, they have no excuse for their sin.[b] 23He who hates me hates my Father as well. 24If I had not done among them what no one else did,[c] they would not be guilty of sin.[d] But now they have seen these miracles, and yet they have hated both me and my Father. 25But this is to fulfill what is written in their Law:[e] 'They hated me without reason.'[v]

26"When the Counselor[f] comes, whom I will send to you from the Father,[g] the Spirit of truth[h] who goes out from the Father, he will testify about me.[i] 27And you also must testify,[j] for you have been with me from the beginning.[k]

16 "All this[l] I have told you so that you will not go astray.[m] 2They will put you out of the synagogue;[n] in fact, a time is coming when anyone who kills you will think he is offering a service to God.[o] 3They will do such things because they have not known the Father or me.[p] 4I have told you this, so that when the time comes you will remember[q] that I warned you. I did not tell you this at first because I was with you.[r]

The Work of the Holy Spirit

5"Now I am going to him who sent me,[s] yet none of you asks me, 'Where are you going?'[t] 6Because I have said these things, you are filled with grief.[u] 7But I tell you the truth: It is for your good that I am going away. Unless I go doing what his master commands and often not understanding his master's purpose. But Jesus takes his friends into his confidence. everything ... I have made known to you. From 16:12 we learn that though Jesus had let his disciples know as much as they were able to absorb of the Father's plan, the revelation was not yet complete. The Spirit would make other things known in due course.

15:16 I chose you ... bear fruit ... ask. Disciples normally chose the particular rabbi to whom they wanted to be attached, but it was not so with Jesus' disciples. He chose them, and for a purpose—the bearing of fruit. We usually desire a strong prayer life in order that we may be fruitful, but here it is the other way around. Jesus enables us to bear fruit, and then the Father will hear our prayers. name. See notes on 2:23; 14:13.

15:18–19 world. Here refers to the human system that opposes God's purpose (see note on 1:9).

15:19 you do not belong. The believer's essential being, his new life, comes specially from God, and therefore he is not the same as those who oppose God.

15:21 They will treat you this way. Because Christians do not belong to the world, persecution from the world is inevitable. The basic reason is the world's ignorance and rejection of the Father (cf. 16:3). name. See note on 2:23.

15:22 no excuse. Privilege and responsibility go together. The Jews had had the great privilege of having the Son of God among them—in addition to having received God's special revelation in the OT. Their rejection of Jesus left them totally guilty and without excuse. Had he not come to them they would still have been sinners, but they would not have been guilty of rejecting him directly (see v. 24).

15:25 to fulfill what is written. In the end God's purpose is always accomplished, despite the belief of sinful men that they have successfully opposed it. Law. See notes on 10:34; 12:34.

15:26 Counselor. See note on 14:16. I will send. See notes on 14:16,26. Spirit of truth. See note on 14:17. goes out from the Father. Probably refers to the Spirit's being sent to do the Father's work on earth rather than to his eternal relationship with the Father. testify. See note on 1:7.

15:27 you also. Emphatic. Believers bear their testimony to Christ in the power of the Spirit. But it is their testimony, and they are responsible for bearing it. from the beginning. The apostles bore the definitive testimony, for they were uniquely chosen and taught by Christ and were eyewitnesses of his glory (see Lk 24:48; Ac 10:39,41).

16:2 put you out of the synagogue. See note on 9:22. a service to God. Religious people have often persecuted others in the strong conviction that this was right (see Ac 26:9–11; Gal 1:13–14).

16:3 the Father. See note on 5:17. or me. Again the Father and the Son are linked. Not to know Christ is to be ignorant of the Father.

16:5 none of you asks me, 'Where are you going?' Peter had asked such a question (13:36), but quickly turned his attention to another subject. His concern had been with what would happen to himself and the others and not for where Jesus was going.

16:6 you are filled with grief. Because of his announced departure.

16:7 Unless I go away. Jesus did not say why the Spirit would not come until he went away, but clearly taught that his saving work on the cross was necessary before the sending of the Spirit. Counselor. See note on 14:16. I will send him. See note on 14:26.

away, the Counselor[w] will not come to you; but if I go, I will send him to you.[x] 8When he comes, he will convict the world of guilt[w] in regard to sin and righteousness and judgment: 9in regard to sin,[y] because men do not believe in me; 10in regard to righteousness,[z] because I am going to the Father,[a] where you can see me no longer; 11and in regard to judgment, because the prince of this world[b] now stands condemned.

12"I have much more to say to you, more than you can now bear.[c] 13But when he, the Spirit of truth,[d] comes, he will guide you into all truth.[e] He will not speak on his own; he will speak only what he hears, and he will tell you what is yet to come. 14He will bring glory to me by taking from what is mine and making it known to you. 15All that belongs to the Father is mine.[f] That is why I said the Spirit will take from what is mine and make it known to you.

16"In a little while[g] you will see me no more, and then after a little while you will see me."[h]

The Disciples' Grief Will Turn to Joy

17Some of his disciples said to one another, "What does he mean by saying, 'In a little while you will see me no more, and then after a little while you will see me,'[i] and 'Because I am going to the Father'?"[j] 18They kept asking, "What does he mean by 'a little while'? We don't understand what he is saying."

19Jesus saw that they wanted to ask him about this, so he said to them, "Are you asking one another what I meant when I said, 'In a little while you will see me no more, and then after a little while you will see me'? 20I tell you the truth, you will weep and mourn[k] while the world rejoices. You will grieve, but your grief will turn to joy.[l] 21A woman giving birth to a child has pain[m] because her time has come; but when her baby is born she forgets the anguish because of her joy that a child is born into the world. 22So with you: Now is your time of grief,[n] but I will see you again[o] and you will rejoice, and no one will take away your joy.[p] 23In that day[q] you will no longer ask me anything. I tell you the truth, my Father will give you whatever you ask in my name.[r] 24Until now you have not asked for anything in my name. Ask and you will receive,[s] and your joy will be complete.[t]

[w] 8 Or will expose the guilt of the world

16:8 he will convict the world. The work the Spirit does in the world (see NIV text note). The NT normally speaks of his work in believers.

16:9 in regard to sin. Apart from the Spirit's convicting work, people can never see themselves as sinners. because men do not believe. May mean that their sin is their failure to believe, or that their unbelief is a classic example of sin. Typically, John may have had both of these in mind.

16:10 in regard to righteousness. The righteousness brought about by Christ's sacrificial death (cf. Ro 1:17; 3:21–22). No one but the Holy Spirit can reveal to a person that a righteous status before God does not depend on good works but on Christ's death on the cross. because I am going to the Father. The ascension, which as part of Christ's exaltation placed God's seal of approval on Christ's redemptive act.

16:11 in regard to judgment. Jesus was speaking of the defeat of Satan, which was a form of judgment, not simply a victory. More than power is in question. God acts with justice. prince of this world. See note on 12:31.

16:12 more than you can now bear. This may mean "more than you can understand now," or "more than you can perform without the Spirit's help" (to live out Christ's teaching requires the enabling presence of the Spirit).

16:13 Spirit of truth. See note on 14:17. only what he hears. We are not told whether he hears from the Father or the Son, but it obviously does not matter, for the verse stresses the close relationship among the three. what is yet to come. Probably means the whole Christian way or revelation (presented and preserved in the apostolic writings), still future at the time Jesus spoke.

16:14 glory to me. See note on 1:14. The Spirit draws no attention to himself but promotes the glory of Christ.

16:15 All that belongs to the Father is mine. Cf. 17:10. The three Persons are closely related.

16:16 a little while ... a little while. Few doubt that the first phrase refers to the interval before the crucifixion. But interpretations differ as to whether the second refers to the interval preceding the resurrection or the coming of the Spirit or the second coming of Christ. It seems that the language here best fits the resurrection.

16:17 going to the Father. See v. 10. Jesus had not linked this with "a little while," but the apostles saw them as connected.

16:20 weep. The same verb for loud wailing as in 11:33, which carries the idea of deep sorrow and its outward expression.

16:21 A woman giving birth. Giving birth usually causes both pain and joy (cf. Isa 26:17–19; 66:7–14; Hos 13:13–14).

16:22 I will see you again. As in v. 16, probably a reference to Jesus' appearances after his resurrection. no one will take away your joy. The resurrection would change things permanently, bringing a joy that cannot be removed by the world's assaults.

16:23 you will no longer ask me anything. Seems to mean asking for information (rather than asking in prayer), which would not be necessary after the resurrection. Jesus then moved on to the subject of prayer. However, Jesus may have been saying that his disciples previously had been praying to Christ, but after his death and resurrection they were to go directly to the Father and pray in Christ's name (see vv. 24,26–27 and notes). name. See notes on 2:23; 14:13.

16:24 Until now. Previously they had asked the Father or Christ, but they had not asked the Father in Christ's name. your joy. See note on 15:11.

16:25 I have been speaking figuratively. Throughout the discourse, not just in the immediately preceding words. a time is coming. After the resurrection.

will no longer use this kind of language but will tell you plainly about my Father. 26In that day you will ask in my name.[w] I am not saying that I will ask the Father on your behalf. 27No, the Father himself loves you because you have loved me[x] and have believed that I came from God.[y] 28I came from the Father and entered the world; now I am leaving the world and going back to the Father."[z]

29Then Jesus' disciples said, "Now you are speaking clearly and without figures of speech.[a] 30Now we can see that you know all things and that you do not even need to have anyone ask you questions. This makes us believe[b] that you came from God."[c]

31"You believe at last!"[x] Jesus answered. 32"But a time is coming,[d] and has come, when you will be scattered,[e] each to his own home. You will leave me all alone.[f] Yet I am not alone, for my Father is with me.[g]

33"I have told you these things, so that in me you may have peace.[h] In this world you will have trouble.[i] But take heart! I have overcome[j] the world."

Jesus Prays for Himself

17 After Jesus said this, he looked toward heaven[k] and prayed:

"Father, the time has come.[l] Glorify your Son, that your Son may glorify you.[m] 2For you granted him authority over all people[n] that he might give eternal life[o] to all those you have given him.[p] 3Now this is eternal life: that they may know you,[q] the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom you have sent.[r] 4I have brought you glory[s] on earth by completing the work you gave me to do.[t] 5And now, Father, glorify me[u] in your presence with the glory I had with you[v] before the world began.[w]

Jesus Prays for His Disciples

They were yours; you gave them to me and they have obeyed your word. 7Now they know that everything you have given me comes from you. 8For I gave them the words you gave me[z] and they accepted them. They knew with certainty that I came from you,[a] and they believed that you sent me.[b] 9I pray for them.[c] I am not praying for the world, but for those you have given me,[d] for they are yours. 10All I have is yours, and all you have is mine.[e] And glory has come to me through them. 11I will remain in the

[x] 31 Or "Do you now believe?" [y] 6 Greek your name; also in verse 26

16:26 in my name. See notes on 2:23; 14:13. I am not saying that I will ask. Not a contradiction of Ro 8:34; Heb 7:25; 1Jn 2:1. Those passages mean that Christ's presence in heaven as the crucified and risen Lord is itself an intercession. Here the teaching is that there will be no need for him to make petitions in our behalf.

16:27 the Father himself loves you. Christ is explaining why the disciples can come directly to the Father in prayer. It is because the disciples have loved and trusted in Jesus, and in love God will hear their requests in Jesus' name.

16:29 without figures of speech. See v. 25 and note.

16:30 believe that you came from God. Two recurring themes of this Gospel: believing (see note on 1:7) and Jesus' coming from God (see notes on 4:34; 17:3,8).

16:32 you will be scattered. The disciples had faith, but not enough to stand firm in face of disaster. Jesus knew they would fail; however, his church is not built on people's strength but on God's ability to use people even after they have failed.

16:33 Notice the contrasts: between "in me" and "in this world" (see note on 1:9) and between "peace" and "trouble." I have overcome. Just before his death Jesus affirms his final victory.

17:1–26 Jesus' longest recorded prayer.

17:1 he looked toward heaven. The customary attitude in prayer (11:41; Ps 123:1; Mk 7:34), though sometimes the person prostrated himself (see Mt 26:39). Father. Used of God in John's Gospel 122 times. the time. See note on 2:4. Glorify . . . glorify. See notes on 1:14; 7:39; 13:31. The glory of the Father and that of the Son are closely connected, and the death by which Jesus would glorify God would lead to eternal life for believers (v. 2).

17:2 granted. The thought of giving is stressed in this chapter (vv. 4,6–9,11–12,14,22,24); see note on 3:27. that he might give eternal life. See note on 3:15. those you have given him. Again God's initiative in salvation is stressed.

17:3 sent. Again the mission of Jesus is mentioned.

17:4 I have brought you glory. Christ's mission was not self-centered. the work you gave me. Jesus emphasized the supreme place of the Father.

17:5 glorify me . . . with the glory I had with you. Jesus asks the Father to return him to his previous position of glory, to exchange humiliation for glorification. This occurred at Christ's resurrection and exaltation to God's right hand. world. The universe (see notes on v. 14; 1:9). "World" occurs 18 times in this prayer.

17:6 I have revealed you. See NIV text note and notes on 2:23; 14:13; cf. 1:18. those whom you gave me. Again the divine initiative (cf. 6:44).

17:7 everything . . . comes from you. Only as people see the Father at work in Jesus do they have a proper concept of God. The disciples had at last reached this understanding.

17:8 Three things about the disciples are mentioned: 1. They accepted the teaching (unlike the Pharisees and others who heard it but did not receive it). 2. They knew with certainty Jesus' divine origin. Acceptance of the revelation led them further into truth. 3. They believed (see note on 1:7; cf. 1:12; 20:31).

17:9 not . . . for the world. The only prayer Jesus could pray for the world was that it cease to be worldly (i.e., opposed to God), and this he did pray (vv. 21,23).

17:11 Holy Father. A form of address found only here in the NT (but cf. 1Pe 1:15–16; Rev 4:8; 6:10). The name suggests both remoteness and nearness; God is both world no longer, but they are still in the world,[f] and I am coming to you.[g] Holy Father, protect them by the power of your name—the name you gave me—so that they may be one[h] as we are one.[i] 12While I was with them, I protected them and kept them safe by that name you gave me. None has been lost[j] except the one doomed to destruction[k] so that Scripture would be fulfilled.[l]

13"I am coming to you now,[m] but I say these things while I am still in the world, so that they may have the full measure of my joy[n] within them. 14I have given them your word and the world has hated them,[o] for they are not of the world any more than I am of the world.[p] 15My prayer is not that you take them out of the world but that you protect them from the evil one.[q] 16They are not of the world, even as I am not of it.[r] 17Sanctify[z] them by the truth; your word is truth.[s] 18As you sent me into the world,[t] I have sent them into the world.[u] 19For them I sanctify myself, that they too may be truly sanctified.[v]

Jesus Prays for All Believers

20"My prayer is not for them alone. I pray also for those who will believe in me through their message, 21that all of them may be one,[w] Father, just as you are in me and I am in you.[x] May they also be in us so that the world may believe that you have sent me.[y] 22I have given them the glory that you gave me,[z] that they may be one as we are one:[a] 23I in them and you in me. May they be brought to complete unity to let the world know that you sent me[b] and have loved them[c] even as you have loved me.

24"Father, I want those you have given me[d] to be with me where I am,[e] and to see my glory,[f] the glory you have given me because you loved me before the creation of the world.[g]

z 17 Greek hagiazo (set apart for sacred use or make holy); also in verse 19 awe-inspiring and loving. that they may be one. The latter part of the prayer strongly emphasizes unity. Here the unity is already given, not something to be achieved. The meaning is "that they continually be one" rather than "that they become one." The unity is to be like that between the Father and the Son. It is much more than unity of organization, but the church's present divisions are the result of the failures of Christians.

17:12 I protected them. Christ's power is adequate for every need. the one doomed to destruction. Lit. "the son of destruction" (see 2Th 2:3), i.e., one belonging to the sphere of damnation and destined for destruction (but predestination is not here in view). Reference is to Judas Iscariot.

17:13 my joy. See note on 15:11.

17:14 the world. The world that is hostile to God and God's people (see notes on v. 5; 1:9). not of the world. They do not have the mind-set of the world, i.e., hostility to God, for they have been "born of the Spirit" (3:8) and are "children of God" (1:12).

17:15 not that you take them out of the world. The world is where Jesus' disciples are to do their work; Jesus does not wish them to be taken from it until that work is done (see v. 18). the evil one. Especially active in the world (1Jn 5:19), making God's protection indispensable.

17:17 Sanctify. See NIV text note. the truth; your word. Sanctification and revelation (as recorded in God's word) go together. For the connection of Christ's teaching with truth cf. 8:31–32.

17:18 As you sent me ... I have sent them. Jesus' mission is one of the dominant themes of this Gospel and is given as the pattern for his followers. into the world. We may long for heaven, but it is on earth that our work is done.

17:19 I sanctify myself. This statement appears to be unparalleled. In the Septuagint (the Greek translation of the OT) the verb is used of consecrating priests (Ex 28:41) and sacrifices (Ex 28:38; Nu 18:9). Jesus solemnly "sets himself apart to do God's will," which at this point meant his death. that they too may be ... sanctified. Jesus died on the cross not only to save us but also to consecrate us to God's service (see NIV text note on v. 17).

17:20 those who will believe in me. Jesus had just spoken of the mission and the sanctification of his followers (vv. 18–19). He was confident that they would spread the gospel, and he prayed for those who would believe as a result. All future believers are included in this prayer.

17:21 that all of them may be one. See note on v. 11. Father. See note on v. 1. that the world may believe. The unity of believers should have an effect on outsiders, to convince them of the mission of Christ. Jesus' prayer is a rebuke of the groundless and often bitter divisions among believers.

17:22 the glory. See note on v. I. Believers are to be characterized by humility and service, just as Christ was, and it is on them that God's glory rests. that they may be one as we are one. Again the Lord emphasized the importance of unity among his followers, and again the standard is the unity of the Father and the Son.

17:23 I in them and you in me. There are two indwellings: that of the Son in believers, and that of the Father in the Son. It is because the latter is a reality that the former can take place. complete unity. Again the emphasis on unity has an evangelistic aim. This time it is connected not only with the mission of Jesus but also with God's love for people and for Christ.

17:24 Father. See note on v. 1. I want. Means "I will that." Jesus said, "I will"—his last will and testament for his followers. Where he himself was concerned, he prayed, "not what I will, but what you will" (Mk 14:36). to be with me. The Christian's greatest blessing. my glory. Perhaps used here to refer to Jesus' eternal splendor (see 1Jn 3:2). Or Jesus' prayer may have been that in the life to come they might fully appreciate the glory of his lowly service (cf. Eph 2:7).

25"Righteous Father, though the world does not know you,[h] I know you, and they know that you have sent me.[i] 26I have made you known to them,[j] and will continue to make you known in order that the love you have for me may be in them[k] and that I myself may be in them."

Jesus Arrested

18:3–11pp — Mt 26:47–56; Mk 14:43–50; Lk 22:47–53

18 When he had finished praying, Jesus left with his disciples and crossed the Kidron Valley.[l] On the other side there was an olive grove,[m] and he and his disciples went into it.[n]

2Now Judas, who betrayed him, knew the place, because Jesus had often met there with his disciples.[o] 3So Judas came to the grove, guiding[p] a detachment of soldiers and some officials from the chief priests and Pharisees.[q] They were carrying torches, lanterns and weapons.

4Jesus, knowing all that was going to happen to him,[r] went out and asked them, "Who is it you want?"[s]

5"Jesus of Nazareth,"[t] they replied.

"I am he," Jesus said. (And Judas the traitor was standing there with them.) 6When Jesus said, "I am he," they drew back and fell to the ground.

7Again he asked them, "Who is it you want?"[u]

And they said, "Jesus of Nazareth."

10Then Simon Peter, who had a sword, drew it and struck the high priest's servant, cutting off his right ear. (The servant's name was Malchus.)

11Jesus commanded Peter, "Put your sword away! Shall I not drink the cup[w] the Father has given me?"

Jesus Taken to Annas

18:12,13pp — Mt 26:57

12Then the detachment of soldiers with its commander and the Jewish officials[x] arrested Jesus. They bound him 13and brought him first to Annas, who was the father-in-law of Caiaphas,[y] the high priest that year. 14Caiaphas was the one who had advised the Jews that it would be good if one man died for the people.[z]

Peter's First Denial

18:16–18pp — Mt 26:69,70; Mk 14:66–68; Lk 22:55–57

15Simon Peter and another disciple were following Jesus. Because this disciple was known to the high priest,[a] he went with Jesus into the high priest's courtyard,[b] 16but Peter had to wait outside at the door. The other disciple, who

[av] 9 John 6:39

17:25 Righteous Father. A form of address found only here in the NT (cf. "Holy Father," v. 11). they know. They did not know God directly and personally, but they knew God had sent Christ. To recognize God in Christ's mission is a great advance over anything the world can know.

18:1 crossed the Kidron Valley. East of Jerusalem and dry except during the rainy season.

18:3 Judas. See note on 6:71. officials from the chief priests and Pharisees. Equivalent to the temple guard sent by the Sanhedrin. torches. Resinous pieces of wood fastened together. lanterns. Terra-cotta holders into which household lamps could be inserted.

18:4 knowing all that was going to happen to him. Jesus was not taken by surprise.

18:5 I am. See 6:35; 8:58 and notes. with them. John does not let us forget where Judas belonged.

18:6 fell to the ground. They came to arrest a meek peasant and instead were met in the dim light by a majestic person.

18:8 I am. The threefold repetition (vv. 5,6,8) emphasizes the solemn words. let these men go. Jesus cared for the disciples even as he was going to his death. Twice he had made the arresting party say plainly that he was the one they wanted (vv. 4–5,7).

18:9 would be fulfilled. Words normally used in quoting Scripture, and Jesus' words are on the same level. See 6:39; 17:12.

18:10 Simon Peter. It is to John that we owe the information that the man with the sword (the Greek for this word refers to a short sword) was Peter, and that the man he wounded was named Malchus.

18:11 the cup. Often points to suffering (Ps 75:8; Eze 23:31–34) and the wrath of God (Isa 51:17,22; Jer 25:15; Rev 14:10; 16:19). the Father has given me. The Synoptic Gospels also speak of the cup at the time of Jesus' prayer at Gethsemane (Mt 26:39; Mk 14:36; Lk 22:42), and John says it came from the Father. God was in control.

18:12 bound him. The reason for the bonds is not clear. Perhaps their use was standard procedure, much like the modern use of handcuffs.

18:13 Annas. Had been deposed from the high priesthood by the Romans in A.D. 15 but was probably still regarded by many as the true high priest. In Jewish law a man could not be sentenced on the day his trial was held. The two examinations—this one (mentioned only by John) and that before Caiaphas—may have been conducted to give some form of legitimacy to what was done. high priest that year. See note on 11:49.

18:14 Caiaphas . . . had advised the Jews. A reference to 11:49–50. For John it was this unconscious prophecy that mattered most about Caiaphas. John may also have been hinting that a fair trial could not be expected from a man who had already said that putting Jesus to death was expedient.

18:15 another disciple. Perhaps John himself. known to the high priest. Refers to more than casual acquaintance; he had entrée into the high priest's house and could bring Peter in.

was known to the high priest, came back, spoke to the girl on duty there and brought Peter in.

17"You are not one of his disciples, are you?" the girl at the door asked Peter.

He replied, "I am not."[c]

18It was cold, and the servants and officials stood around a fire[d] they had made to keep warm. Peter also was standing with them, warming himself.[e]

The High Priest Questions Jesus

18:19–24pp — Mt 26:59–68; Mk 14:55–65; Lk 22:63–71

19Meanwhile, the high priest questioned Jesus about his disciples and his teaching.

20"I have spoken openly to the world," Jesus replied. "I always taught in synagogues[f] or at the temple,[g] where all the Jews come together. I said nothing in secret.[h] 21Why question me? Ask those who heard me. Surely they know what I said."

22When Jesus said this, one of the officials[i] nearby struck him in the face.[j] "Is this the way you answer the high priest?" he demanded.

23"If I said something wrong," Jesus replied, "testify as to what is wrong. But if I spoke the truth, why did you strike me?"[k] 24Then Annas sent him, still bound, to Caiaphas[l] the high priest.[b]

Peter's Second and Third Denials

18:25–27pp — Mt 26:71–75; Mk 14:69–72; Lk 22:58–62

25As Simon Peter stood warming himself,[m] he was asked, "You are not one of his disciples, are you?"

He denied it, saying, "I am not."[n]

26One of the high priest's servants, a relative of the man whose ear Peter had cut off,[o] challenged him, "Didn't I see you with him in the olive grove?"[p] 27Again Peter denied it, and at that moment a rooster began to crow.[q]

Jesus Before Pilate

18:29–40pp — Mt 27:11–18,20–23; Mk 15:2–15; Lk 23:2,3,18–25

28Then the Jews led Jesus from Caiaphas to the palace of the Roman governor.[r] By now it was early morning, and to avoid ceremonial uncleanness the Jews did not enter the palace;[s] they wanted to be able to eat the Passover.[t] 29So Pilate came out to them and asked, "What charges are you bringing against this man?"

30"If he were not a criminal," they replied, "we would not have handed him over to you."

31Pilate said, "Take him yourselves and judge him by your own law."

[b] 24 Or (Now Annas had sent him, still bound, to Caiaphas the high priest.)

18:17 the girl at the door. All four Gospels tell us that Peter's first challenge came from a slave girl, the most unimportant person imaginable. Her question expected the answer "No." Peter took the easy way out. The other Gospels seem to indicate that the other denials followed immediately, but it is likely that there were intervals during which other things happened (see Lk 22:58–59).

18:18 Peter also was standing with them. On a cold night he would have been conspicuous if he had stayed away from the fire.

18:19 questioned. Not legal, since witnesses were supposed to be brought in first to establish guilt. The accused was not required to prove his innocence. Perhaps Annas regarded this as a preliminary inquiry, not a trial.

18:20 I have spoken openly. It should not have been difficult to find witnesses (v. 21). nothing in secret. Not a denial that he taught the disciples privately, but a denial that he had secretly taught them subversive teaching different from his public message.

18:22 struck. Another illegality. The word apparently means a blow with the open hand—a slap.

18:23 testify. A legal term, indicating an invitation to act in proper legal form. John stresses the importance of testimony throughout his Gospel (see note on 1:7).

18:25 he was asked. Lit. "they asked him." Some find a difficulty in that Mt 26:71 says another girl asked this question, whereas Mk 14:69 says it was the same girl, and Lk 22:58 that it was a man. But with a group of servants talking around a fire, several would doubtless take up and repeat such a question, which could be the meaning of John's "they." As on the first occasion (v. 17) the question anticipated the answer "No." The servants probably did not really expect to find a follower of Jesus in the high priest's courtyard, but the question seemed worth asking.

18:26 a relative. Another piece of information we owe to John. A relative would have a deeper interest in the swordsman than other people had. But the light in the garden would have been dim, as in the courtyard (a charcoal fire glows, but does not have flames). Didn't I see you . . . ? Expected the answer "Yes."

18:27 a rooster began to crow. The fulfillment of the prophecy in 13:38.

18:28 the Roman governor. John says little about the Jewish phase of Jesus' trial but much about the Roman trial (see note on Mk 14:53–15:15). It is possible that John was in the Praetorium, the governor's official residence, for this trial. early morning. The chief priests evidently held a second session of the Sanhedrin after daybreak to give some appearance of legality to what they did (Mk 15:1). This occasion would have been immediately after that, perhaps between 6:00 A.M. and 7:00 A.M. ceremonial uncleanness. A result of entering a Gentile residence. to eat the Passover. Does not mean that the time of the Passover meal had not yet come, for this would contradict the Synoptic Gospels, which have Jesus eating the Passover meal the night before. The term "Passover" was used to refer to the whole festival of Passover and Unleavened Bread, which lasted seven days and included a number of meals.

18:29 Pilate. The Roman governor (see note on Mk 15:1). He showed himself tolerant of Jewish ways. What charges . . . ? A normal question at the beginning of a trial, but it was difficult to answer, because the Jews had no charge that would stand up in a Roman court of law.

18:31 Take him yourselves. In other words, no Roman charge, no Roman trial. no right to execute anyone. They were looking for an execution, not a fair trial. The restriction was important, for otherwise Rome's supporters could

"But we have no right to execute anyone," the Jews objected. 32This happened so that the words Jesus had spoken indicating the kind of death he was going to die[u] would be fulfilled.

33Pilate then went back inside the palace,[v] summoned Jesus and asked him, "Are you the king of the Jews?"[w]

34"Is that your own idea," Jesus asked, "or did others talk to you about me?"

35"Am I a Jew?" Pilate replied. "It was your people and your chief priests who handed you over to me. What is it you have done?"

36Jesus said, "My kingdom[x] is not of this world. If it were, my servants would fight to prevent my arrest by the Jews.[y] But now my kingdom is from another place."[z]

37"You are a king, then!" said Pilate.

Jesus answered, "You are right in saying I am a king. In fact, for this reason I was born, and for this I came into the world, to testify to the truth.[a] Everyone on the side of truth listens to me."[b]

38"What is truth?" Pilate asked. With this he went out again to the Jews and said, "I find no basis for a charge against him.[c] 39But it is your custom for me to release to you one prisoner at the time of the Passover. Do you want me to release 'the king of the Jews'?"

40They shouted back, "No, not him! Give us Barabbas!" Now Barabbas had taken part in a rebellion.[d]

Jesus Sentenced to Be Crucified

19:1–16pp — Mt 27:27–31; Mk 15:16–20

19 Then Pilate took Jesus and had him flogged.[e] 2The soldiers twisted together a crown of thorns and put it on his head. They clothed him in a purple robe 3and went up to him again and again, saying, "Hail, king of the Jews!"[f] And they struck him in the face.[g]

4Once more Pilate came out and said to the Jews, "Look, I am bringing him out[h] to you to let you know that I find no basis for a charge against him."[i] 5When Jesus came out wearing the crown of thorns and the purple robe,[j] Pilate said to them, "Here is the man!"

6As soon as the chief priests and their officials saw him, they shouted, "Crucify! Crucify!"

But Pilate answered, "You take him and crucify him.[k] As for me, I find no basis for a charge against him."[l]

7The Jews insisted, "We have a law, and according to that law he must die,[m] because he claimed to be the Son of God."[n]

8When Pilate heard this, he was even more afraid, 9and he went back inside the palace.[o] "Where do you come from?" he asked Jesus, but Jesus gave him no answer.[p] 10"Do you refuse to speak to me?" Pilate said. "Don't you realize I have power either to free you or to crucify you?"

11Jesus answered, "You would have no be quietly removed by local legal executions. Sometimes the Romans seem to have condoned local executions (e.g., of Stephen, Ac 7), but normally they retained the right to inflict the death penalty.

18:32 the kind of death he was going to die. Cf. 12:32–33 and "must" in 12:34. Jewish execution was by stoning, but Jesus' death was to be by crucifixion, whereby he would bear the curse (Dt 21:22–23). The Romans, not the Jews, had to put Jesus to death. God was overruling in the whole process.

18:33 Are you the king of the Jews? Pilate's first words to Jesus, identical in all four Gospels. One glance was enough to show him that a dangerous rebel existed only in the imaginations of Jesus' enemies.

18:34 Is that your own idea . . . ? If so, Pilate's question (v. 33) had meant, "Are you a rebel?" If the question had originated with the Jews, it meant, "Are you the Messianic King?"

18:36 My kingdom. Jesus agrees that he has a kingdom, but asserts that it is not the kind of kingdom that has soldiers to fight for it. It was not built, nor is it maintained, by military might.

18:37 to testify to the truth. Two of this Gospel's important ideas (see 1:7 and note; 1:14 and note; 14:6).

18:38 What is truth? Pilate may have been jesting, and meant, "What does truth matter?" Or he may have been serious, and meant, "It is not easy to find truth. What is it?" Either way, it was clear to him that Jesus was no rebel. no basis for a charge against him. Teaching the truth was not a criminal offense.

18:39 it is your custom. Prisoners are known to have been released on special occasions in other places. the king of the Jews. John keeps his emphasis on the note of royalty. Pilate may have hoped that the use of the title would influence the people toward the way he wanted them to decide.

18:40 Barabbas. A rebel and a murderer (Lk 23:19). The name is Aramaic and means "son of Abba," i.e., "son of the father"; in place of this man, the "Son of the Father" died.

19:1 Pilate hoped a flogging would satisfy the Jews and enable him to release Jesus (see note on Mk 15:15).

19:2 thorns. A general term relating to any thorny plant. purple. A color used by royalty.

19:6 You . . . crucify him. The petulant utterance of an exasperated man, for the Jews could not carry out this form of execution. I find no basis. For the third time Pilate proclaimed Jesus' innocence (see 18:38; 19:4). Luke also records this threefold proclamation (Lk 23:4,14,22).

19:7 he must die. Apparently referring to the penalty for blasphemy (Lev 24:16).

19:8 even more afraid. Pilate was evidently superstitious, and this charge frightened him.

19:9 Jesus gave him no answer. The reason is not clear, since Jesus had answered other questions readily. Perhaps Pilate would not have understood the answer or would not have believed it.

19:10 I have power. Pilate was incredulous and very conscious of his authority. His second question indicates his personal responsibility for crucifying Jesus.

19:11 Jesus' last words to Pilate. from above. All earthly authority comes ultimately from God. a greater sin. That of power over me if it were not given to you from above.[q] Therefore the one who handed me over to you[r] is guilty of a greater sin."

12From then on, Pilate tried to set Jesus free, but the Jews kept shouting, "If you let this man go, you are no friend of Caesar. Anyone who claims to be a king[s] opposes Caesar."

13When Pilate heard this, he brought Jesus out and sat down on the judge's seat[t] at a place known as the Stone Pavement (which in Aramaic[u] is Gabbatha). 14It was the day of Preparation[v] of Passover Week, about the sixth hour.[w]

"Here is your king,"[x] Pilate said to the Jews.

15But they shouted, "Take him away! Take him away! Crucify him!"

"Shall I crucify your king?" Pilate asked.

"We have no king but Caesar," the chief priests answered.

16Finally Pilate handed him over to them to be crucified.[y]

The Crucifixion

19:17–24pp — Mt 27:33–44; Mk 15:22–32; Lk 23:33–43

So the soldiers took charge of Jesus. 17Carrying his own cross,[z] he went out to the place of the Skull[a] (which in Aramaic[b] is called Golgotha). 18Here they crucified him, and with him two others[c]—one on each side and Jesus in the middle.

19Pilate had a notice prepared and fastened to the cross. It read: JESUS OF NAZARETH,[d] THE KING OF THE JEWS.[e] 20Many of the Jews read this sign, for the place where Jesus was crucified was near the city,[f] and the sign was written in Aramaic, Latin and Greek. 21The chief priests of the Jews protested to Pilate, "Do not write 'The King of the Jews,' but that this man claimed to be king of the Jews."[g]

22Pilate answered, "What I have written, I have written."

23When the soldiers crucified Jesus, they took his clothes, dividing them into four shares, one for each of them, with the undergarment remaining. This garment was seamless, woven in one piece from top to bottom.

24"Let's not tear it," they said to one another. "Let's decide by lot who will get it."

This happened that the scripture might be fulfilled[h] which said,

> "They divided my garments among > them > and cast lots for my clothing."[ci]

So this is what the soldiers did.

25Near the cross[j] of Jesus stood his mother,[k] his mother's sister, Mary the wife of Clopas, and Mary Magdalene.[l]

Caiaphas (not Judas, who was only a means). But "greater" implies that there was a lesser sin, so Pilate's sin was also real.

19:12 no friend of Caesar. Some people had official status as "Friends of Caesar," but the term seems to be used here in the general sense. There was an implied threat that if he released Jesus, Pilate would be accused before Caesar. His record was such that he could not face such a prospect without concern.

19:13 the Stone Pavement. Not a translation of Gabbatha, which seems to mean "the hill of the house," but a different name for the same place.

19:14 day of Preparation. Normally Friday was the day people prepared for the Sabbath. Here the meaning is Friday of Passover week. about the sixth hour. About noon. Mk 15:25 says that Jesus was crucified at "the third hour." It is possible that Mark's Gospel contains a copyist's error, for the Greek numerals for three and six could be confused. Or it may be that John was using Roman time, in which case the appearance before Pilate would have been at 6:00 A.M. and the crucifixion at 9:00 A.M. (the third hour according to Jewish reckoning; see Mk 15:33). For other time references see Mt 27:45–46; Mk 15: 33–34; Lk 23:44. Here is your king. John does not let us forget the sovereignty of Jesus. Pilate did not mean the expression seriously, but John did. the Jews. See note on 1:19.

19:15 We have no king but Caesar. More irony. They rejected any suggestion that they were rebels against Rome, but expressed the truth of their spiritual condition.

19:17 Carrying his own cross. A cross might be shaped like a T, an X, a Y, or an I, as well as like the traditional form. A condemned man would normally carry a beam of it to the place of execution. Somewhere along the way Simon of Cyrene took Jesus' cross (Mk 15:21), probably because Jesus was weakened by the flogging. Golgotha. Aramaic for "the skull." The name of the site is given in both Greek and Aramaic ("Calvary" is from the Latin with the same meaning). See note on Mk 15:22.

19:18 they crucified him. See note on Mk 15:24. As with the scourging, John describes this horror with one Greek word. None of the Gospel writers dwells on the physical sufferings of Jesus. one on each side. Perhaps meant as a final insult, but it brings out the important truth that in his death Jesus was identified with sinners.

19:19 a notice. A placard stating the crime for which a man was executed was often fastened to his cross. THE KING OF THE JEWS. Again the royalty theme.

19:20 Aramaic. One of the languages of the Jewish people at that time (along with Hebrew). Latin. The official language of Rome. Greek. The common language of communication throughout the empire. The threefold inscription may account for the slight differences in wording in the four Gospels.

19:22 Pilate must have a sufficient reason for the execution, and he was not above mocking the Jews, but for John his insistence may also have served to underscore that Jesus' kingship is final and unalterable.

19:23 undergarment. A type of shirt, reaching from the neck to the knees or ankles. seamless. Therefore too valuable to be cut up.

19:24 See introduction to Ps 22 and notes on Ps 22:17,20–21.

19:25 Clopas. Mentioned only here in the NT. Mary Magdalene. Appears in the crucifixion and resurrection story in all four Gospels, but apart from that we read of her only in Lk 8:2–3.

[26]When Jesus saw his mother[m] there, and the disciple whom he loved[n] standing nearby, he said to his mother, "Dear woman, here is your son," [27]and to the disciple, "Here is your mother." From that time on, this disciple took her into his home.

The Death of Jesus

19:29,30pp — Mt 27:48,50; Mk 15:36,37; Lk 23:36

[28]Later, knowing that all was now completed,[o] and so that the Scripture would be fulfilled,[p] Jesus said, "I am thirsty." [29]A jar of wine vinegar[q] was there, so they soaked a sponge in it, put the sponge on a stalk of the hyssop plant, and lifted it to Jesus' lips. [30]When he had received the drink, Jesus said, "It is finished."[r] With that, he bowed his head and gave up his spirit.

[31]Now it was the day of Preparation,[s] and the next day was to be a special Sabbath. Because the Jews did not want the bodies left on the crosses[t] during the Sabbath, they asked Pilate to have the legs broken and the bodies taken down. [32]The soldiers therefore came and broke the legs of the first man who had been crucified with Jesus, and then those of the other.[u] [33]But when they came to Jesus and found that he was already dead, they did not break his legs. [34]Instead, one of the soldiers pierced[v] Jesus' side with a spear, bringing a sudden flow of blood and water.[w] [35]The man who saw it[x] has given testimony, and his testimony is true.[y] He knows that he tells the truth, and he testifies so that you also may believe. [36]These things happened so that the scripture would be fulfilled:[z] "Not one of his bones will be broken,"[da] [37]and, as another scripture says, "They will look on the one they have pierced."[eb]

The Burial of Jesus

19:38–42pp — Mt 27:57–61; Mk 15:42–47; Lk 23:50–56

[38]Later, Joseph of Arimathea asked Pilate for the body of Jesus. Now Joseph was a disciple of Jesus, but secretly because he feared the Jews.[c] With Pilate's permission, he came and took the body away. [39]He was accompanied by Nicodemus,[d] the man who earlier had visited Jesus at night. Nicodemus brought a mixture of myrrh and aloes, about seventy-five pounds.[f] [40]Taking Jesus' body, the two of them wrapped it, with the spices, in strips of linen.[e] This was in accordance with Jewish burial customs.[f] [41]At the place where Jesus was crucified, there was a garden, and in the garden a new tomb, in which no one had ever been laid. [42]Because it was the Jewish day of Preparation[g] and since the tomb was nearby,[h] they laid Jesus there.

[e]37 Zech. 12:10 [f]39 Greek a hundred litrai (about 34 kilograms)

19:26 disciple whom he loved. John (see note on 13:23).
19:27 took her into his home. And so took responsibility for her. It may be that Jesus' brothers still did not believe in him (see 7:5).
19:28 I am thirsty. May refer to Ps 69:21 (cf. Ps 22:15).
19:29 wine vinegar. Equivalent to cheap wine, the drink of ordinary people. a sponge. A useful way of giving drink to one on a cross, and may indicate forethought and compassion on someone's part. hyssop. The name given to a number of plants. See also note on Ex 12:22.
19:30 It is finished. Apparently the loud cry of Mt 27:50; Mk 15:37. Jesus died as a victor and had completed what he came to do. gave up his spirit. An unusual way of describing death, perhaps suggesting an act of will.
19:31 Preparation. See note on v. 14. a special Sabbath. The Sabbath that fell at Passover time. The Passover meal had been eaten on Thursday evening, the day of Preparation was Friday, and the Sabbath came on Saturday. the Jews. See note on 1:19. to have the legs broken. To hasten death, because the victim then could not put any weight on his legs and breathing would be difficult.
19:34 pierced Jesus' side. Probably to make doubly sure that Jesus was dead, but perhaps simply an act of brutality (see v. 37; Isa 53:5; Zec 12:10; cf. Ps 22:16). blood and water. The result of the spear piercing the pericardium (the sac that surrounds the heart) and the heart itself.
19:35 The man who saw it. Either John himself or someone he regarded as reliable. Obviously he considered the incident important, and comments that it was well attested. testifies . . . believe. See note on 1:7.
19:36–37 scripture. Again John observes God's overruling in the fulfillment of Scripture. It was extraordinary that Jesus was the only one of the three whose legs were not broken and that he suffered an unusual spear thrust that did not break a bone.
19:38 Joseph. A rich disciple (Mt 27:57), and a member of the Sanhedrin who had not agreed to Jesus' condemnation (Lk 23:51). Arimathea. See note on Mt 27:57. secretly. It would have been hard for a member of the Sanhedrin to support Jesus' cause openly. Jesus' closest followers all ran away (Mk 14:50), and it was left to Joseph and Nicodemus to provide for his burial. With Pilate's permission. Otherwise people could take away their crucified friends before they died and revive them.
19:39 Nicodemus. John alone tells us that he joined Joseph in the burial. seventy-five pounds. A very large amount, such as was used in royal burials (cf. 2Ch 16:14).
19:40 strips of linen. Thin strips like bandages. There was also a shroud, a large sheet (Mt 27:59; Mk 15:46; Lk 23:53).
19:41 a new tomb. Joseph's own tomb (Mt 27:60).
19:42 Preparation. See note on v. 14. nearby. Haste was necessary, since it was near sunset, when the Sabbath would start and no work could be done.
20:1 while it was still dark. Mark says it was "just after sunrise" (Mk 16:2). Perhaps the women came in groups, with Mary Magdalene coming very early. Or John may refer to the time of leaving home, Mark to that of arrival at the tomb. Mary Magdalene. See note on 19:25; cf. Mk 16:9.

dalene[i] went to the tomb and saw that the stone had been removed from the entrance.[j] 2So she came running to Simon Peter and the other disciple, the one Jesus loved,[k] and said, "They have taken the Lord out of the tomb, and we don't know where they have put him!"[l]

3So Peter and the other disciple started for the tomb.[m] 4Both were running, but the other disciple outran Peter and reached the tomb first. 5He bent over and looked in[n] at the strips of linen[o] lying there but did not go in. 6Then Simon Peter, who was behind him, arrived and went into the tomb. He saw the strips of linen lying there, 7as well as the burial cloth that had been around Jesus' head.[p] The cloth was folded up by itself, separate from the linen. 8Finally the other disciple, who had reached the tomb first,[q] also went inside. He saw and believed. 9(They still did not understand from Scripture[r] that Jesus had to rise from the dead.)[s]

Jesus Appears to Mary Magdalene

10Then the disciples went back to their homes, 11but Mary stood outside the tomb crying. As she wept, she bent over to look into the tomb[t] 12and saw two angels in white,[u] seated where Jesus' body had been, one at the head and the other at the foot.

13They asked her, "Woman, why are you crying?"[v]

"They have taken my Lord away," she said, "and I don't know where they have put him."[w] 14At this, she turned around and saw Jesus standing there,[x] but she did not realize that it was Jesus.[y]

15"Woman," he said, "why are you crying?[z] Who is it you are looking for?"

Thinking he was the gardener, she said, "Sir, if you have carried him away, tell me where you have put him, and I will get him."

16Jesus said to her, "Mary."

She turned toward him and cried out in Aramaic,[a] "Rabboni!"[b] (which means Teacher).

17Jesus said, "Do not hold on to me, for I have not yet returned to the Father. Go instead to my brothers[c] and tell them, 'I am returning to my Father[d] and your Father, to my God and your God.' "

18Mary Magdalene[e] went to the disciples[f] with the news: "I have seen the Lord!" And she told them that he had said these things to her.

Jesus Appears to His Disciples

19On the evening of that first day of the week, when the disciples were together, with the doors locked for fear of the Jews,[g] Jesus came and stood among them and said, "Peace[h] be with you!"[i] 20After he said this, he showed them his hands and side.[j] The disciples were overjoyed[k] when they saw the Lord.

21Again Jesus said, "Peace be with you![l] As the Father has sent me,[m] I am sending you."[n] 22And with that he 20:2 to Simon Peter. Despite his denials, Peter was still the leading figure among the disciples. the one Jesus loved. John (see note on 13:23). we. Indicates that there were others with Mary (see Mt 28:1; Mk 16:1; Lk 24:10), though John does not identify them. have put him. Mary had no thought of resurrection.

20:7 folded up. An orderly arrangement, not in disarray, as would have resulted from a grave robbery.

20:8 He saw and believed. Cf. v. 29. John did not say what he believed, but it must have been that Jesus was resurrected.

20:9 Scripture. First they came to know of the resurrection through what they saw in the tomb; only later did they see it in Scripture. It is obvious they did not make up a story of resurrection to fit a preconceived understanding of Scriptural prophecy. had to rise. It was in Scripture and thus the will of God.

20:11 Mary. Perhaps Jesus appeared first to Mary because she needed him most at that time. crying. As in 11:33, it means "wailing," a loud expression of grief.

20:12 two angels. Matthew has one angel (Mt 28:2), Mark a young man (Mk 16:5) and Luke two men who were angels (Lk 24:4,23). See note on Lk 24:4.

20:14 did not realize that it was Jesus. A number of times the risen Jesus was not recognized (21:4; Mt 28:17; Lk 24:16,37). He may have looked different, or he may intentionally have prevented recognition.

20:16 Mary. Cf. 10:3–4. Rabboni. A strengthened form of Rabbi, and in the NT found elsewhere only in Mk 10:51 (in the Greek). Although the word means "(my) teacher," there are few if any examples of its use in ancient Judaism as a form of address other than in calling on God in prayer. However, John's explanation casts doubt on any thought that Mary intended to address Jesus as God here.

20:17 for I have not yet returned. The meaning appears to be that the ascension was still some time off. Mary would have opportunity to see Jesus again, so she need not cling to him. Alternatively, Jesus may be reminding Mary that after his crucifixion she cannot have him with her except through the Holy Spirit (see 16:5–16). my brothers. Probably the disciples (cf. v. 18; Mt 12:50). The members of his family did not believe in him (7:5), though they became disciples not long after this (Ac 1:14). my Father and your Father. God is Father both of Christ and of believers, but in different senses (see 1:12,14,18,34).

20:19 disciples. Probably includes others besides the apostles, "the Twelve" (v. 24). the Jews. See note on 1:19. Peace be with you! The normal Hebrew greeting (cf. Da 10:19). Because of their behavior the previous Friday, they may have expected rebuke and censure; but Jesus calmed their fears (see note on 14:27).

20:20 his hands and side. Where the wounds were (John does not refer to the wounds in the feet). According to Lk 24:37 they thought they were seeing a ghost. Jesus was clearly identifying himself.

20:21 Peace be with you! See note on v. 19. I am sending you. See note on 17:18.

20:22 Receive the Holy Spirit. Thus anticipating what happened 50 days later on the day of Pentecost (Ac 2). The disciples needed God's help to carry out the commission they had just been given.

breathed on them and said, "Receive the Holy Spirit.[o] [23]If you forgive anyone his sins, they are forgiven; if you do not forgive them, they are not forgiven."[p]

Jesus Appears to Thomas

[24]Now Thomas[q] (called Didymus), one of the Twelve, was not with the disciples when Jesus came. [25]So the other disciples told him, "We have seen the Lord!"

But he said to them, "Unless I see the nail marks in his hands and put my finger where the nails were, and put my hand into his side,[r] I will not believe it."[s]

[26]A week later his disciples were in the house again, and Thomas was with them. Though the doors were locked, Jesus came and stood among them and said, "Peace[t] be with you!"[u] [27]Then he said to Thomas, "Put your finger here; see my hands. Reach out your hand and put it into my side. Stop doubting and believe."[v]

[28]Thomas said to him, "My Lord and my God!"

[29]Then Jesus told him, "Because you have seen me, you have believed;[w] blessed are those who have not seen and yet have believed."[x]

[30]Jesus did many other miraculous signs[y] in the presence of his disciples, which are not recorded in this book.[z] [31]But these are written that you may[g] believe[a] that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God,[b] and that by believing you may have life in his name.[c]

Jesus and the Miraculous Catch of Fish

21 Afterward Jesus appeared again to his disciples,[d] by the Sea of Tiberias.[h][e] It happened this way: [2]Simon Peter, Thomas[f] (called Didymus), Nathanael[g] from Cana in Galilee,[h] the sons of Zebedee,[i] and two other disciples were together. [3]"I'm going out to fish," Simon Peter told them, and they said, "We'll go with you." So they went out and got into the boat, but that night they caught nothing.[j]

[4]Early in the morning, Jesus stood on the shore, but the disciples did not realize that it was Jesus.[k]

[5]He called out to them, "Friends, haven't you any fish?"

"No," they answered.

[6]He said, "Throw your net on the right side of the boat and you will find some." When they did, they were unable to haul the net in because of the large number of fish.[l]

[7]Then the disciple whom Jesus loved[m] said to Peter, "It is the Lord!" As soon as Simon Peter heard him say, "It is the Lord," he wrapped his outer garment around him (for he had taken it off) and jumped into the water. [8]The other disciples followed in the boat, towing the net full of fish, for they were not far from shore, about a hundred yards.[i] [9]When they landed, they saw a fire[n] of burning coals there with fish on it,[o] and some bread.

[10]Jesus said to them, "Bring some of the fish you have just caught."

20:23 Lit. "Those whose sins you forgive have already been forgiven; those whose sins you do not forgive have not been forgiven." God does not forgive people's sins because we do so, nor does he withhold forgiveness because we do. Rather, those who proclaim the gospel are in effect forgiving or not forgiving sins, depending on whether the hearers accept or reject Jesus Christ.

20:24 Thomas. See note on 11:16.

20:25 Unless I see ... and put ... I will not believe. Hardheaded skepticism can scarcely go further than this.

20:26 Peace. See vv. 19,21 and note on 14:27.

20:28 My Lord and my God! To acknowledge Jesus as one's Lord and God is the high point of faith (see note on 1:1).

20:29 those who have not seen and yet have believed. Would have been very few at this time. All whom John mentions had seen in some sense. The words, of course, apply to future believers as well.

20:30 miraculous signs. See note on 2:11. John had selected from among many. in the presence of his disciples. Those who could testify to what he had done. John again stresses testimony (see note on 1:7).

20:31 that you may believe. Expresses John's evangelistic purpose. believe. See note on 1:7. Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God. Faith has content. the Christ. See note on 1:25. This whole Gospel is written to show the truth of Jesus' Messiahship and to present him as the Son of God, so that the readers may believe in him. that by believing you may have life. Another expression of purpose—to bring about faith that leads to life (see notes on 1:4; 3:15). name. Represents all that he is and stands for (see note on 2:23).

21:1 Sea of Tiberias. See note on 6:1.

21:2 Simon Peter. See note on Mk 1:16. Thomas. See note on 11:16. sons of Zebedee. Not named in this Gospel (see Mt 4:21).

21:3 that night. Nighttime was favored by fishermen in ancient times (as Aristotle, e.g., informs us).

21:4 did not realize that it was Jesus. Cf. Mary Magdalene (see note on 20:14).

21:7 disciple whom Jesus loved. See note on 13:23. his outer garment. It is curious that he put on this garment (the word appears only here in the NT) preparatory to jumping into the water. But Jews regarded a greeting as a religious act that could be done only when one was clothed. Peter may have been preparing himself to greet the Lord.

21:9 burning coals. Lit. "charcoal," as in 18:18 ("fire"; see note on 18:26).

11Simon Peter climbed aboard and dragged the net ashore. It was full of large fish, 153, but even with so many the net was not torn. 12Jesus said to them, "Come and have breakfast." None of the disciples dared ask him, "Who are you?" They knew it was the Lord. 13Jesus came, took the bread and gave it to them, and did the same with the fish.[p] 14This was now the third time Jesus appeared to his disciples[q] after he was raised from the dead.

Jesus Reinstates Peter

15When they had finished eating, Jesus said to Simon Peter, "Simon son of John, do you truly love me more than these?"

"Yes, Lord," he said, "you know that I love you."[r]

Jesus said, "Feed my lambs."[s]

16Again Jesus said, "Simon son of John, do you truly love me?"

He answered, "Yes, Lord, you know that I love you."

Jesus said, "Take care of my sheep."[t]

17The third time he said to him, "Simon son of John, do you love me?"

Peter was hurt because Jesus asked him the third time, "Do you love me?"[u] He said, "Lord, you know all things;[v] you know that I love you."

Jesus said, "Feed my sheep.[w] 18I tell you the truth, when you were younger you dressed yourself and went where you wanted; but when you are old you will stretch out your hands, and someone else will dress you and lead you where you do not want to go." 19Jesus said this to indicate the kind of death[x] by which Peter would glorify God.[y] Then he said to him, "Follow me!"[z]

20Peter turned and saw that the disciple whom Jesus loved[a] was following them. (This was the one who had leaned back against Jesus at the supper and had said, "Lord, who is going to betray you?")[b] 21When Peter saw him, he asked, "Lord, what about him?"

22Jesus answered, "If I want him to remain alive until I return,[c] what is that to you? You must follow me."[d] 23Because of this, the rumor spread among the brothers[e] that this disciple would not die. But Jesus did not say that he would not die; he only said, "If I want him to remain alive until I return, what is that to you?"

24This is the disciple who testifies to these things[f] and who wrote them down. We know that his testimony is true.[g]

25Jesus did many other things as well.[h] If every one of them were written down, I suppose that even the whole world would not have room for the books that would be written.

21:11 Peter . . . dragged the net ashore. Appears to mean that Peter headed up the effort, for the whole group had not been able previously to haul the net into the boat (v. 6). the net was not torn. In contrast to the nets mentioned in Lk 5:6.

21:14 the third time. The third appearance to a group of disciples (20:19–23,24–29), though there had been other appearances to individuals.

21:15–17 love. The Greek word for "love" in Jesus' first two questions is different from that in his third question and in all Peter's answers. It is uncertain whether a distinction in meaning is intended since John often made slight word variations, apparently for stylistic reasons. Also, no distinction is made between these two words elsewhere in this Gospel. In this passage, however, they occur together, and the variations seem too deliberate to be explained on stylistic grounds. "Truly love" refers to a love in which the entire personality, including the will, is involved. "Love" refers to spontaneous natural affection or fondness in which emotion plays a more prominent role than will. Whatever interpretation is adopted, the important thing is that in so serious a matter as the reinstatement of Peter, the great question was whether he loved Jesus.

21:15 more than these. May mean "more than you love these men" or "more than these men love me" or "more than you love these things" (i.e., the fishing gear). Perhaps the second is best, for Peter had claimed a devotion above that of the others (cf. 13:37; Mt 26:33; Mk 14:29). Peter did not take up the comparison, and Jesus did not explain it. Feed my lambs. Probably means much the same as "Take care of my sheep" (v. 16) and "Feed my sheep" (v. 17).

21:17 you know all things. Peter's replies stress Christ's knowledge, not his own grasp of the situation.

21:18 stretch out your hands. The early church understood this as a prophecy of crucifixion.

21:19 the kind of death. Peter would be a martyr. Tradition indicates that he was crucified upside down.

21:20 disciple whom Jesus loved. See note on 13:23. was following. He was doing what Peter was twice told to do (vv. 19,22). at the supper. See 13:23–25.

21:22 until I return. A clear declaration of the second coming.

21:24 disciple who testifies. Testimony is important throughout this Gospel (see note on 1:7). We now learn that it was the beloved disciple who was the witness behind the account. these things. Must refer to the whole book. who wrote them down. The beloved disciple was not only the witness but also the actual author. We know. Evidently written by contemporaries in a position to know the truth.

21:25 many other things. As in 20:30 we are assured that the author has been selective. even the whole world would not have room. Our historical knowledge of Jesus is at best partial, but we have been given all we need to know.

Acts

Author

Although the author does not name himself, evidence outside the Scriptures and inferences from the book itself lead to the conclusion that the author was Luke.

The earliest of the external testimonies appears in the Muratorian Canon (c. A.D. 170), where the explicit statement is made that Luke was the author of both the third Gospel and the "Acts of All the Apostles." Eusebius (c. 325) lists information from numerous sources to identify the author of these books as Luke (Ecclesiastical History, 3.4).

Within the writing itself are some clues as to who the author was:

1. Luke, the companion of Paul. In the description of the happenings in Acts, certain passages make use of the pronoun "we." At these points the author includes himself as a companion of Paul in his travels (16:10–17; 20:5—21:18; 27:1—28:16). A historian as careful with details as this author proves to be would have good reason for choosing to use "we" in some places and "they" elsewhere. The author was therefore probably present with Paul at the particular events described in the "we" sections.

These "we" passages include the period of Paul's two-year imprisonment at Rome (ch. 28). During this time Paul wrote, among other letters, Philemon and Colossians. In them he sends greetings from his companions, and Luke is included among them (Phm 23–24; Col 4:10–17). In fact, after eliminating those who, for one reason or another, would not fit the requirements for the author of Acts, Luke is left as the most likely candidate.

2. Luke, the physician. Although it cannot be proved that the author of Acts was a physician simply from his vocabulary, the words he uses and the traits and education reflected in his writings fit well his role as a physician (see, e.g., note on 28:6). It is true that the doctor of the first century did not have as specialized a vocabulary as that of doctors today, but there are some usages in Luke-Acts that seem to suggest that a medical man was the author of these books. And it should be remembered that Paul uses the term "doctor" in describing Luke (Col 4:14).

Date

Two dates are possible for the writing of this book: (1) c. A.D. 63, soon after the last event recorded in the book, and (2) c. 70 or even later.

The earlier date is supported by:

1. Silence about later events. While arguments from silence are not conclusive, it is perhaps significant that the book contains no allusion to events that happened after the close of Paul's two-year imprisonment in Rome: e.g., the burning of Rome and the persecution of the Christians there (A.D. 64), the martyrdom of Peter and Paul (possibly 67) and the destruction of Jerusalem (70).

2. No outcome of Paul's trial. If Luke knew the outcome of the trial Paul was waiting for (28:30), why did he not record it at the close of Acts? Perhaps it was because he had brought the history up to date.

Those who prefer the later date hold that 1:8 reveals one of the purposes Luke had in writing his history, and that this purpose influenced the way the book ended. Luke wanted to show how the church penetrated the world of his day in ever-widening circles (Jerusalem, Judea, Samaria, the ends of the earth) until it reached Rome, the world's political and cultural center. On this understanding, mention of the martyrdom of Paul (c. A.D. 67) and of the destruction of Jerusalem (70) was not pertinent. This would allow for the writing of Acts c. 70 or even later.

Recipient

The recipient of the book, Theophilus, is the same person addressed in the first volume, the Gospel of Luke (see Introduction to Luke: Recipient and Purpose).

Importance

The book of Acts provides a bridge for the writings of the NT. As a second volume to Luke's Gospel, it joins what Jesus "began to do and to teach" (1:1) as told in the Gospels with what he continued to do and teach through the apostles' preaching and the establishment of the church. Besides linking the Gospel narratives on the one hand and the apostolic letters on the other, it supplies an account of the life of Paul from which we can learn the setting for his letters. Geographically its story spans the lands between Jerusalem, where the church began, and Rome, the political center of the empire. Historically it recounts the first 30 years of the church. It is also a bridge that ties the church in its beginning with each succeeding age. This book may be studied to gain an understanding of the principles that ought to govern the church of any age.

Theme and Purpose

The theme of the work is best summarized in 1:8. It was ordinary procedure for a historian at this time to begin a second volume by summarizing the first volume and indicating the contents anticipated in his second volume. Luke summarized his first volume in 1:1–3; the theme of his second volume is presented in the words of Jesus: "You will be my witnesses in Jerusalem, and in all Judea and Samaria, and to the ends of the earth." This is, in effect, an outline of the book of Acts (see Plan and Outline).

The main purposes of the book appear to be:

1. To present a history. The significance of Acts as a historical account of Christian origins cannot be overestimated. It tells of the founding of the church, the spread of the gospel, the beginnings of congregations, and evangelistic efforts in the apostolic pattern. One of the unique aspects of Christianity is its firm historical foundation. The life and teachings of Jesus Christ are established in the four Gospel narratives, and the book of Acts provides a coordinated account of the beginnings of the church.

2. To give a defense. One finds embedded in Acts a record of Christian defenses made to both Jews (e.g., 4:8–12) and Gentiles (e.g., 25:8–11), with the underlying purpose of conversion. It shows how the early church coped with pagan and Jewish thought, the Roman government and Hellenistic society.

Luke probably wrote this work as Paul awaited trial in Rome. If his case came to court, what better court brief could Paul have had than a life of Jesus, a history of the beginnings of the church (including the activity of Paul) and an early collection of Paul's letters?

3. To provide a guide. Luke had no way of knowing how long the church would continue on this earth, but as long as it pursues its course, the book of Acts will be one of its major guides. In Acts we see basic principles being applied to specific situations in the context of problems and persecutions. These same principles continue to be applicable until Christ returns.

4. To depict the triumph of Christianity in the face of bitter persecution. The success of the church in carrying the gospel from Jerusalem to Rome and in planting local churches across the Roman empire demonstrated that Christianity was not a mere work of man. God was in it (see 5:35–39).

Characteristics

1. Accurate historical detail. Every page of Acts abounds with sharp, precise details, to the delight of the historian. The account covers a period of about 30 years and reaches across the lands from Jerusalem to Rome. Luke's description of these times and places is filled with all kinds of people and cultures, a variety of governmental administrations, court scenes in Caesarea, and dramatic events involving such centers as Antioch, Ephesus, Athens, Corinth and Rome. Barbarian country districts and Jewish centers are included as well. Yet in each instance archaeological findings reveal that Luke uses the proper terms for the time and place being described. Hostile criticism has not succeeded in disproving the detailed accuracy of Luke's political and geographical designations.

2. Literary excellence. Not only does Luke have a large vocabulary compared with other NT writers, but he also uses these words in literary styles that fit the cultural settings of the events he is recording. At times he employs good, classical Greek; at other times the Aramaic of first-century Palestine shows through his expressions. This is an indication of Luke's careful practice of using language appropriate to the time and place being described. Aramaisms are used when Luke is describing happenings that took place in Palestine (chs. 1—12). When, however, Paul departs for Hellenistic lands beyond the territories where Aramaic-speaking people live, Aramaisms cease.

3. Dramatic description. Luke's skillful use of speeches contributes to the drama of his narrative. Not only are they carefully spaced and well balanced between Peter and Paul, but the speeches of a number of other individuals add variety and vividness to the account. Luke's use of details brings the action to life. Nowhere in ancient literature is there an account of a shipwreck superior to Luke's with its nautical details (ch. 27). The book is vivid and fast-moving throughout.

4. Objective account. Luke's careful arrangement of material need not detract from the accuracy of his record. He demonstrates the objectivity of his account by recording the failures as well as the successes, the bad as well as the good, in the early church. Not only is the discontent between the Grecian Jews and the Hebraic Jews recorded (6:1) but also the discord between Paul and Barnabas (15:39). Divisions and differences are recognized (15:2; 21:20–21).

Plan and Outline

Luke weaves together different interests and emphases as he relates the beginnings and expansion of the church. The design of his book revolves around (1) key persons: Peter and Paul; (2) important topics and events: the role of the Holy Spirit, pioneer missionary outreach to new fields, conversions, the growth of the church, and life in the Christian community; (3) significant problems: conflict between Jews and Gentiles, persecution of the church by some Jewish elements, trials before Jews and Romans, confrontations with Gentiles, and other hardships in the ministry; (4) geographical advances: five significant stages (see the quotations in the outline; see also map of "The Spread of the Gospel," p. 1672).

    b. Trial before the Sanhedrin (22:30—23:11)
    c. Transfer to Caesarea (23:12–35)
2. Paul's imprisonment in Caesarea (chs. 24—26)
    a. Trial before Felix (ch. 24)
    b. Trial before Festus (25:1–12)
    c. Hearing before Festus and Agrippa (25:13—26:32)
3. Voyage to Rome (27:1—28:15)
4. Two years under house arrest in Rome (28:16–31)

Jesus Taken Up Into Heaven

1 In my former book,[a] Theophilus, I wrote about all that Jesus began to do and to teach[b] 2until the day he was taken up to heaven,[c] after giving instructions[d] through the Holy Spirit to the apostles[e] he had chosen.[f] 3After his suffering, he showed himself to these men and gave many convincing proofs that he was alive. He appeared to them[g] over a period of forty days and spoke about the kingdom of God.[h] 4On one occasion, while he was eating with them, he gave them this command: "Do not leave Jerusalem, but wait[i] for the gift my Father promised, which you have heard me speak about.[j] 5For John baptized with[a] water,[k] but in a few days you will be baptized with the Holy Spirit."[l]

6So when they met together, they asked him, "Lord, are you at this time going to restore[m] the kingdom to Israel?"

7He said to them: "It is not for you to know the times or dates the Father has set by his own authority.[n] 8But you will receive power when the Holy Spirit comes on you;[o] and you will be my witnesses[p] in Jerusalem, and in all Judea and Samaria,[q] and to the ends of the earth."[r]

9After he said this, he was taken up[s] before their very eyes, and a cloud hid him from their sight.

10They were looking intently up into the sky as he was going, when suddenly two men dressed in white[t] stood beside them. 11"Men of Galilee,"[u] they said, "why do you stand here looking into the sky? This same Jesus, who has been taken from you into heaven, will come back[v] in the same way you have seen him go into heaven."

Matthias Chosen to Replace Judas

12Then they returned to Jerusalem[w] from the hill called the Mount of Olives,[x] a Sabbath day's walk[b] from the city. 13When they arrived, they went upstairs to the room[y] where they were staying. Those present were Peter, John, James and Andrew; Philip and Thomas, Bartholomew and Matthew; James son of Alphaeus and Simon the Zealot, and Judas son of James.[z] 14They all joined together constantly in prayer,[a] along with

[a] 5 Or in [b] 12 That is, about 3/4 mile (about 1,100 meters)

1:1 my former book. The Gospel of Luke. Acts was addressed to the same patron, Theophilus (see Introduction to Luke: Recipient and Purpose). began to do and to teach. An apt summation of Luke's Gospel, implying that Jesus' work continues in Acts through his own personal interventions and the ministry of the Holy Spirit.

1:2 taken up to heaven. The last scene of Luke's Gospel (24:50–52) and the opening scene of this second volume (vv. 6–11). The ascension occurred 40 days after the resurrection (v. 3). through the Holy Spirit. Jesus' postresurrection instruction of his apostles was carried on through the Holy Spirit, and succeeding statements make it clear that what the apostles were to accomplish was likewise to be done through the Spirit (vv. 4–5,8; see Lk 24:49; Jn 20:22; see also Introduction to Judges: Theme and Theology). Luke characteristically stresses the Holy Spirit's work and enabling power (e.g., v. 8; 2:4,17; 4:8,31; 5:3; 6:3,5; 7:55; 8:16; 9:17,31; 10:44; 13:2,4; 15:28; 16:6; 19:2,6; see note on Lk 4:1).

1:3 many convincing proofs. See the resurrection appearances (Mt 28:1–20; Lk 24:1–53; Jn 20:1–29; 1Co 15:3–8). kingdom of God. The heart of Jesus' preaching (see notes on Mt 3:2; Lk 4:43).

1:4 the gift my Father promised. The Holy Spirit (see Jn 14:26; 15:26–27; 16:12–13).

1:5 John baptized with water. See Lk 3:16. in a few days. The day of Pentecost came ten days later, when the baptism with the Holy Spirit occurred (2:1–4).

1:6 restore the kingdom to Israel? Like their fellow countrymen, they were looking for the deliverance of the people of Israel from foreign domination and for the establishment of an earthly kingdom. The reference to the coming of the Spirit had caused them to wonder if the new age was about to dawn.

1:7 the times or dates. The elapsing time or the character of coming events (see 1Th 5:1).

1:8 A virtual outline of Acts: The apostles were to be witnesses in Jerusalem (chs. 1–7), Judea and Samaria (chs. 8–9) and the ends of the earth—including Caesarea, Antioch, Asia Minor, Greece and Rome (chs. 10–28). However, they were not to begin this staggering task until they had been equipped with the power of the Spirit (vv. 4–5). my witnesses. An important theme throughout Acts (2:32; 3:15; 5:32; 10:39; 13:31; 22:15). Judea. The region in which Jerusalem was located. Samaria. The adjoining region to the north.

1:10 two men dressed in white. A common description of angels.

1:11 Men of Galilee. All the Twelve were from Galilee except Judas, and he was no longer present. in the same way. In the same resurrection body and in clouds and "great glory" (Mt 24:30).

1:12 Mount of Olives. The ascension occurred on the eastern slope of the mount between Jerusalem and Bethany (Lk 19:28–29,37; see notes on Zec 14:4; Mk 11:1; Lk 19:29). Sabbath day's walk. See NIV text note. This distance was drawn from rabbinical reasoning based on several OT passages (Ex 16:29; Nu 35:5; Jos 3:4). A faithful Jew was to travel no farther on the Sabbath.

1:13 room. Probably an upper room of a large house, such as the one where the Last Supper was held (Mk 14:15) or that of Mary, mother of Mark (see note on 12:12). Bartholomew. Apparently John calls him Nathanael (see Jn 1:45–49; 21:2). James son of Alphaeus. The same as James the younger (Mk 15:40). Zealot. See note on Mt 10:4. Judas son of James. Not Judas Iscariot, but the same as Thaddaeus (Mt 10:3; Mk 3:18).

1:14 with the women. Possibly wives of the apostles (cf. 1Co 9:5) and those listed as ministering to Jesus (Mt 27:55; Lk 8:2–3; 24:22). Mary the mother of Jesus. Last mentioned here in Scripture. brothers. See note on Lk 8:19. These brothers would include James, who later became important in the church (12:17; 15:13; Gal 2:9).

the women[b] and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with his brothers.[c]

15In those days Peter stood up among the believers[c] (a group numbering about a hundred and twenty) 16and said, "Brothers,[d] the Scripture had to be fulfilled[e] which the Holy Spirit spoke long ago through the mouth of David concerning Judas,[f] who served as guide for those who arrested Jesus— 17he was one of our number[g] and shared in this ministry."[h]

18(With the reward[i] he got for his wickedness, Judas bought a field;[j] there he fell headlong, his body burst open and all his intestines spilled out. 19Everyone in Jerusalem heard about this, so they called that field in their language[k] Akeldama, that is, Field of Blood.)

20"For," said Peter, "it is written in the book of Psalms,

" 'May his place be deserted;
let there be no one to dwell in it,'[dl] and,

" 'May another take his place of leadership.'[em]

21Therefore it is necessary to choose one of the men who have been with us the whole time the Lord Jesus went in and out among us, 22beginning from John's baptism[n] to the time when Jesus was taken up from us. For one of these must become a witness[o] with us of his resurrection."

23So they proposed two men: Joseph called Barsabbas (also known as Justus) and Matthias. 24Then they prayed,[p] "Lord, you know everyone's heart.[q] Show us[r] which of these two you have chosen 25to take over this apostolic ministry, which Judas left to go where he belongs." 26Then they cast lots, and the lot fell to Matthias; so he was added to the eleven apostles.[s]

The Holy Spirit Comes at Pentecost

2 When the day of Pentecost[t] came, they were all together[u] in one place. 2Suddenly a sound like the blowing of a violent wind came from heaven and filled the whole house where they were sitting.[v] 3They saw what seemed to be tongues of fire that separated and came to rest on each of them. 4All of them were filled with the Holy Spirit[w] and be-

[c] 15 Greek brothers [d] 20 Psalm 69:25 [e] 20 Psalm 109:8

1:16 the Scripture had to be fulfilled. For the Scripture referred to see NIV text notes on v. 20. Both before and after Christ came, numerous psalms were viewed as Messianic. What happened in the psalmist's experience was typical of the experiences of the Messiah. No doubt Jesus' instruction in Lk 24:27,45–47 included these Scriptures.

1:18 Judas bought a field. Judas bought the field indirectly: The money he returned to the priests (Mt 27:3) was used to purchase the potter's field (Mt 27:7). fell headlong. Mt 27:5 reports that Judas hanged himself. It appears that when the body finally fell, either because of decay or because someone cut it down, it was in a decomposed condition and so broke open in the middle. Another possibility is that "hanged" in Mt 27:5 means "impaled" (see NIV text note on Est 2:23) and that the gruesome results of Judas's suicide are described here.

1:19 Akeldama. An Aramaic term, no doubt adopted by people who knew the circumstances, for the field was purchased with Judas's blood money (Mt 27:3–8).

1:20 it is written. Two passages of Scripture (see NIV text notes) were put together to suggest that Judas had left a vacancy that had to be filled.

1:21 went in and out among us. Ministered publicly.

1:22 a witness with us of his resurrection. Apparently several met this requirement. On this occasion, however, the believers were selecting someone to become an official witness to the resurrection—thus, a 12th apostle (v. 25).

1:23 Barsabbas. Means "son of (the) Sabbath." This patronymic was used for two early Jewish Christians, possibly brothers. One was Joseph (here); the other was Judas, a prophet in Jerusalem who was sent to Antioch with Silas (15:22,32). Justus. Joseph's Hellenistic name. Nothing more is known of him.

1:26 cast lots. See Pr 16:33. By casting lots they were able to allow God the right of choice. The use of rocks or sticks to designate the choice was common (see 1Ch 26:13–16; see also notes on Ne 11:1; Jnh 1:7). This is the Bible's last mention of casting lots.

2:1 day of Pentecost. The 50th day after the Sabbath of Passover week (Lev 23:15–16), thus the first day of the week. Pentecost is also called the Feast of Weeks (Dt 16:10), the Feast of Harvest (Ex 23:16) and the day of firstfruits (Nu 28:26). they were all together. The nearest antecedent of "they" is the 11 apostles (plus Matthias), but the reference is probably to all those mentioned in 1:13–15. in one place. Evidently not the upstairs room where they were staying (1:13) but perhaps some place in the temple precincts, for the apostles were "continually at the temple" when it was open (Lk 24:53; see note there).

2:2 violent wind. Breath or wind is a symbol of the Spirit of God (see Eze 37:9,14; Jn 3:8). The coming of the Spirit is marked by audible (wind) and visible (fire) signs. whole house. May refer to the temple (cf. 7:47).

2:3 tongues. A descriptive metaphor appropriate to the context, in which several languages are about to be spoken. fire. A symbol of the divine presence (see Ex 3:2 and note), it was also associated with judgment (see Mt 3:12).

2:4 All of them. Could refer either to the apostles or to the 120. Those holding that the 120 are meant point to the fulfillment of Joel's prophecy (vv. 17–18) as involving more than the 12 apostles. The nearest reference, however, is to the apostles (see note on v. 1), and the narrative continues with Peter and the 11 standing to address the crowd (v. 14). filled with the Holy Spirit. A fulfillment of 1:5,8; see also Jesus' promise in Lk 24:49. Their spirits were completely under the control of the Spirit; their words were his words. in other tongues. The Spirit enabled them to speak in languages they had not previously learned (see NIV text note). Two other examples of speaking in tongues are found in Acts (10:46; 19:6). One extended NT passage deals with this spiritual gift (1Co 12–14). Not all agree, however, that these other passages refer to speaking in known languages. The gan to speak in other tongues[fx] as the Spirit enabled them.

5Now there were staying in Jerusalem God-fearing[y] Jews from every nation under heaven. 6When they heard this sound, a crowd came together in bewilderment, because each one heard them speaking in his own language. 7Utterly amazed,[z] they asked: "Are not all these men who are speaking Galileans?[a] 8Then how is it that each of us hears them in his own native language? 9Parthians, Medes and Elamites; residents of Mesopotamia, Judea and Cappadocia,[b] Pontus[c] and Asia,[d] 10Phrygia[e] and Pamphylia,[f] Egypt and the parts of Libya near Cyrene;[g] visitors from Rome 11(both Jews and converts to Judaism); Cretans and Arabs—we hear them declaring the wonders of God in our own tongues!" 12Amazed and perplexed, they asked one another, "What does this mean?"

13Some, however, made fun of them gift had particular relevance here, where people of different nationalities and languages were gathered.

2:5 God-fearing Jews. Devout Jews from different parts of the world but assembled now in Jerusalem either as visitors or as current residents (cf. Lk 2:25).

2:6 speaking in his own language. Jews from different parts of the world would understand the Aramaic of their homeland. Also the Greek language was common to all parts of the world. But more than this was occurring; they heard the apostles speak in languages native to the different places represented.

2:9 Parthians. Inhabitants of the territory from the Tigris to India. Medes. Media lay east of Mesopotamia, northwest of Persia and south-southwest of the Caspian Sea. Elamites. Elam was north of the Persian Gulf, bounded on the west by the Tigris. Mesopotamia. Between the Euphrates and Tigris rivers. Judea. The homeland of the Jews, perhaps used here in the OT sense "from the river of Egypt to . . . the Euphrates" (Ge 15:18), including Galilee. Cappadocia, Pontus and Asia. Districts in Asia Minor.

2:10 Phrygia and Pamphylia. Districts in Asia Minor. Egypt. Contained a great number of Jews. Two out of the five districts of Alexandria were Jewish. Libya. A region west of Egypt. Cyrene. The capital of a district of Libya called Cyrenaica. Rome. Thousands of Jews lived in Rome.

2:11 converts to Judaism. Gentiles who undertook the full observance of the Mosaic law were received into full fellowship with the Jews. Cretans. Represented an island lying south-southeast of Greece. Arabs. From a region to the east. The kingdom of the Nabatean Arabs lay between

Peter Addresses the Crowd

14Then Peter stood up with the Eleven, raised his voice and addressed the crowd: "Fellow Jews and all of you who live in Jerusalem, let me explain this to you; listen carefully to what I say. 15These men are not drunk, as you suppose. It's only nine in the morning![i] 16No, this is what was spoken by the prophet Joel:

17" 'In the last days, God says,
I will pour out my Spirit on all people.[j]
Your sons and daughters will prophesy,[k] your young men will see visions, your old men will dream dreams.
18Even on my servants, both men and women,
I will pour out my Spirit in those days,
and they will prophesy.[l] 19I will show wonders in the heaven above and signs on the earth below,[m] blood and fire and billows of smoke.
20The sun will be turned to darkness and the moon to blood[n]
before the coming of the great and glorious day of the Lord.
21And everyone who calls on the name of the Lord[o] will be saved.'[hp]

22"Men of Israel, listen to this: Jesus of Nazareth[q] was a man accredited by God to you by miracles, wonders and signs,[r] which God did among you through him,[s] as you yourselves know. 23This man was handed over to you by God's set purpose and foreknowledge;[t] and you, with the help of wicked men,[i] put him to death by nailing him to the cross.[u] 24But God raised him from the dead,[v] freeing him from the agony of death, because it was impossible for death to keep its hold on him.[w] 25David said about him:

" 'I saw the Lord always before me.
Because he is at my right hand,
I will not be shaken.
26Therefore my heart is glad and my tongue rejoices;
my body also will live in hope, 27because you will not abandon me to the grave, nor will you let your Holy One see decay.[x] 28You have made known to me the paths of life;
you will fill me with joy in your presence.'[jy]

29"Brothers,[z] I can tell you confidently that the patriarch[a] David died and was buried,[b] and his tomb is here[c] to this day. 30But he was a prophet and knew that God had promised him on oath that he would place one of his descendants on his throne.[d] 31Seeing what was ahead, he spoke of the resurrection of the Christ,[k] that he was not abandoned to the grave, nor did his body see decay.[e] 32God has raised this Jesus to life,[f] and we are all witnesses[g] of the fact. 33Exalted[h] to the right hand of God,[i] he has received from the Fa-the Red Sea and the Euphrates, with Petra as its capital. we hear them declaring. Not a miracle of hearing but of speaking. The believers were declaring God's wonders in the native languages of the various visiting Jews.

2:14–40 The pattern and themes of the message that follows became common in the early church: (1) an explanation of events (vv. 14–21); (2) the gospel of Jesus Christ—his death, resurrection and exaltation (vv. 22–36); (3) an exhortation to repentance and baptism (vv. 37–40). The outline of this sermon is similar to those in chs. 3; 10; 13.

2:14 with the Eleven. The apostles had been baptized with the Holy Spirit and had spoken in other languages to various groups. Now they stood with Peter, who served as their spokesman.

2:15 only nine in the morning! On a festival day such as Pentecost, the Jew would not break his fast until at least 10:00 A.M. So it was extremely unlikely that a group of men would be drunk at such an early hour.

2:17–18 all people ... sons ... daughters ... young men ... old men ... men ... women. The Spirit is bestowed on all, irrespective of sex, age and rank.

2:17 last days. See Isa 2:2; Hos 3:5; Mic 4:1; see also notes on 1Ti 4:1; 2Ti 3:1; Heb 1:1; 1Pe 1:20; 1Jn 2:18. In the passage quoted from Joel the Hebrew has "afterward" and the Septuagint "after these things." Peter interprets the passage as referring specifically to the latter days of the new covenant (see Jer 31:33–34; Eze 36:26–27; 39:29) in contrast to the former days of the old covenant. The age of Messianic fulfillment has arrived. my Spirit. See note on 1:2.

2:21 everyone who calls. Cf. v. 39; includes faith and response rather than merely using words (Mt 7:21).

2:22 accredited ... by miracles, wonders and signs. The mighty works done by Jesus were signs that the Messiah had come.

2:23 wicked men. See NIV text note; here, however, the Gentiles were acting in an evil way.

2:27 not abandon me to the grave. David referred ultimately to the Messiah (v. 31). God would not allow his physical body to decompose.

2:29 his tomb is here. The tomb of David could be seen in Jerusalem. It still contained the remains of David's body. The words of Ps 16:8–11 did not fully apply to him.

2:33 promised Holy Spirit. See note on 1:4. has poured out. See v. 17; Joel 2:28.

ther[j] the promised Holy Spirit[k] and has poured out[l] what you now see and hear. 34For David did not ascend to heaven, and yet he said,

" 'The Lord said to my Lord:
"Sit at my right hand
35until I make your enemies
a footstool for your feet." [1]m

36"Therefore let all Israel be assured of this: God has made this Jesus, whom you crucified, both Lord[n] and Christ."[o]

37When the people heard this, they were cut to the heart and said to Peter and the other apostles, "Brothers, what shall we do?"[p]

38Peter replied, "Repent and be baptized,[q] every one of you, in the name of Jesus Christ for the forgiveness of your sins.[r] And you will receive the gift of the Holy Spirit.[s] 39The promise is for you and your children[t] and for all who are far off[u]—for all whom the Lord our God will call."

40With many other words he warned them; and he pleaded with them, "Save yourselves from this corrupt generation."[v] 41Those who accepted his message were baptized, and about three thousand were added to their number[w] that day.

The Fellowship of the Believers

42They devoted themselves to the apostles' teaching[x] and to the fellowship, to the breaking of bread[y] and to prayer.[z] 43Everyone was filled with awe, and many wonders and miraculous signs were done by the apostles.[a] 44All the believers were together and had everything in common.[b] 45Selling their possessions and goods, they gave to anyone as he had need.[c] 46Every day they continued to meet together in the temple courts.[d] They broke bread[e] in their homes and ate together with glad and sincere hearts, 47praising God and enjoying the favor of all the people.[f] And the Lord added to their number[g] daily those who were being saved.

Peter Heals the Crippled Beggar

3 One day Peter and John[h] were going up to the temple[i] at the time of prayer—at three in the afternoon.[j] 2Now a man crippled from birth[k] was being carried to the temple gate[l] called Beautiful, where he was put every day to beg[m] from those going into the temple courts. 3When he saw Peter and John

[1]35 Psalm 110:1

2:34 The Lord said to my Lord. The Lord (God) said to my Lord (the Son of David, the Messiah). According to Peter, David addressed his descendant with uncommon respect because he, through the inspiration of the Spirit, recognized how great and divine he would be (Mt 22:41–45). Not only was he to be resurrected (vv. 31–32) but he was to be exalted to God's right hand (vv. 33–35). And his presence there was now being demonstrated by the sending of the Holy Spirit (v. 33; Jn 16:7). See also note on Ps 110:1.

2:37 cut to the heart. Reflects both belief in Jesus and regret over former rejection.

2:38 Repent and be baptized. Repentance was important in the message of the forerunner, John the Baptist (Mk 1:4; Lk 3:3), in the preaching of Jesus (Mk 1:15; Lk 13:3) and in the directions Jesus left just before his ascension (Lk 24:47). So also baptism was important to John the Baptizer (Mk 1:4), in the instructions of Jesus (Mt 28:18–19) and in the preaching recorded in Acts—where it was associated with belief (8:12; 18:8), acceptance of the word (v. 41) and repentance (here). in the name of Jesus Christ. Not a contradiction to the fuller formula given in Mt 28:19. In Acts the abbreviated form emphasizes the distinctive quality of this baptism, for Jesus is now included in a way that he was not in John's baptism (19:4–5). for the forgiveness of your sins. Not that baptism effects forgiveness. Rather, forgiveness comes through that which is symbolized by baptism (see Ro 6:3–4 and note). Holy Spirit. Two gifts are now given: the forgiveness of sins (see also 22:16) and the Holy Spirit. The promise of the indwelling gift of the Holy Spirit is given to all Christians (cf. Ro 8:9–11; 1Co 12:13).

2:41 their number. The number of believers.

2:42 apostles' teaching. Included all that Jesus himself taught (Mt 28:20), especially the gospel, which was centered in his death, burial and resurrection (see vv. 23–24; 3:15; 4:10; 1Co 15:1–4). It was a unique teaching in that it came from God and was clothed with the authority conferred on the apostles (2Co 13:10; 1Th 4:2). Today it is available in the books of the NT. the fellowship. The corporate fellowship of believers in worship. breaking of bread. Although this phrase is used of an ordinary meal in v. 46 (see Lk 24:30,35), the Lord's Supper seems to be indicated here (see note on 20:7; cf. 1Co 10:16; 11:20). prayer. Acts emphasizes the importance of prayer in the Christian life—private as well as public (1:14; 3:1; 6:4; 10:4,31; 12:5; 16:13,16).

2:46 broke bread in their homes. Here the daily life of Christians is described, distinguishing their activity in the temple from that in their homes, where they ate their meals—not the Lord's Supper—with gladness and generosity. glad and sincere hearts. The fellowship, oneness and sharing enjoyed in the early church are fruits of the Spirit. Joy is to be the mood of the believer (see note on 16:34).

3:1 Peter and John. Among the foremost apostles (Gal 2:9). Along with John's brother, James, they had been especially close to Jesus (Mk 9:2; 13:3; 14:33; Lk 22:8). Arrested together (4:3), they were also together in Samaria (8:14). time of prayer. The three stated times of prayer for later Judaism were midmorning (the third hour, 9:00 A.M.), the time of the evening sacrifice (the ninth hour, 3:00 P.M.) and sunset.

3:2 gate called Beautiful. The favorite entrance to the temple court, it was probably the bronze-sheathed gate that is elsewhere called the Nicanor Gate. Apparently it led from the court of the Gentiles to the court of women, on the east wall of the temple proper.

about to enter, he asked them for money.
4Peter looked straight at him, as did
John. Then Peter said, "Look at us!" 5So the man gave them his attention, expecting to get something from them.

6Then Peter said, "Silver or gold I do not have, but what I have I give you. In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth,[n] walk." 7Taking him by the right hand, he helped him up, and instantly the man's feet and ankles became strong. 8He jumped to his feet and began to walk. Then he went with them into the temple courts, walking and jumping,[o] and praising God. 9When all the people[p] saw him walking and praising God, 10they recognized him as the same man who used to sit begging at the temple gate called Beautiful,[q] and they were filled with wonder and amazement at what had happened to him.

Peter Speaks to the Onlookers

11While the beggar held on to Peter and John,[r] all the people were astonished and came running to them in the place called Solomon's Colonnade.[s] 12When Peter saw this, he said to them: "Men of Israel, why does this surprise you? Why do you stare at us as if by our own power or godliness we had made this man walk? 13The God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob,[t] the God of our fathers,[u] has glorified his servant Jesus. You handed him over[v] to be killed, and you disowned him before Pilate,[w] though he had decided to let him go.[x] 14You disowned the Holy[y] and Righteous One[z] and asked that a murderer be released to you.[a] 15You killed the author of life, but God raised him from the dead.[b] We are witnesses[c] of this. 16By faith in the name of Jesus,[d] this man whom you see and know was made strong. It is Jesus' name and the faith that comes through him that has given this complete healing to him, as you can all see.

17"Now, brothers,[e] I know that you acted in ignorance,[f] as did your leaders.[g] 18But this is how God fulfilled[h] what he had foretold[i] through all the prophets,[j] saying that his Christ[m] would suffer.[k] 19Repent, then, and turn to God, so that your sins may be wiped out,[l] that times of refreshing may come from the Lord, 20and that he may send the Christ,[m] who has been appointed for you—even Jesus. 21He must remain in heaven[n] until the time comes for God to restore everything,[o] as he promised long ago through his holy prophets.[p] 22For Moses said, 'The Lord your God will raise up for you a prophet like me from among your own people; you must listen to everything he tells you.[q] 23Anyone who does not listen to him will be completely cut off from among his people.'[nr]

24"Indeed, all the prophets[s] from Samuel on, as many as have spoken, have foretold these days. 25And you are heirs[t] of the prophets and of the covenant[u] God made with your fathers. He said to Abraham, 'Through your offspring all peoples on earth will be blessed.'[ov] 26When God raised up[w] his

[m] 18 Or Messiah; also in verse 20 [n] 23 Deut. 18:15,18,19 [o] 25 Gen. 22:18; 26:4

3:6 In the name of Jesus Christ. Not by power of their own, but by the authority of the Messiah.

3:7 he helped him up. But he had faith to be healed (v. 16).

3:8 into the temple courts. From the outer court (for Gentiles also) into the court of women, containing the treasury (Mk 12:41–44), and then into the court of Israel (see map No. 8 at the end of the Study Bible). From the outer court, nine gates led into the inner courts.

3:11 Solomon's Colonnade. A porch along the inner side of the wall enclosing the outer court, with rows of 27-foot-high stone columns and a roof of cedar (see note on Jn 10:23).

3:12–26 See note on 2:14–40.

3:13 his servant Jesus. A reminder of the suffering servant prophesied in Isa 52:13–53:12 (see Mt 12:18; Ac 4:27,30). disowned him. Voted against Jesus, spurned him, denied him and refused to acknowledge him as the true Messiah. Pilate ... had decided to let him go. See Jn 19:12.

3:14 Holy and Righteous One. Blameless in relation to God and man.

3:15 You killed ... God raised ... We are witnesses. A recurring theme in the speeches of Acts (see 2:23–24; 4:10; 5:30–32; 10:39–41; 13:28–29; cf. 1Co 15:1–4).

3:18 foretold through all the prophets. Echoes what Jesus had said (Lk 24:26–27). The suffering was prophesied (compare Isa 53:7–8 with Ac 8:32–33; Ps 2:1–2 with Ac 4:25–26; Ps 22:1 with Mt 27:46; see also 1Pe 1:11).

3:19 Repent. Repentance is a change of mind and will arising from sorrow for sin and leading to transformation of life (see note on 2:38). turn to God. Subsequent to repentance and not completely identical with it. See 11:21 ("believed and turned") and 26:20 ("repent and turn"; see also 9:35; 14:15; 15:19; 26:18; 28:27). In the strictest sense, repentance is turning from sin, and faith is turning to God. However, the word "turn" is not always used with such precision. your sins ... wiped out. Your sins will be forgiven as a result of repentance.

3:22–26 raise up ... raised up. Christ is the fulfillment of prophecies made relative to Moses, David and Abraham. He was to be a prophet like Moses (vv. 22–23), he was foretold in Samuel's declarations concerning David (v. 24; see note there), and he was to bring blessing to all people as promised to Abraham (vv. 25–26).

3:24 prophets from Samuel on. Samuel anointed David to be king and spoke of the establishment of his kingdom (1Sa 16:13; cf. 13:14; 15:28; 28:17). Nathan's prophecy (2Sa 7:12–16) was ultimately Messianic (see Ac 13:22–23,34; Heb 1:5).

3:25 offspring. The word is singular, ultimately signifying Christ (see Gal 3:16).

servant, he sent him first[x] to you to bless you by turning each of you from your wicked ways."

Peter and John Before the Sanhedrin

4 The priests and the captain of the temple guard[y] and the Sadducees[z] came up to Peter and John while they were speaking to the people. 2They were greatly disturbed because the apostles were teaching the people and proclaiming in Jesus the resurrection of the dead.[a] 3They seized Peter and John, and because it was evening, they put them in jail[b] until the next day. 4But many who heard the message believed, and the number of men grew[c] to about five thousand.

5The next day the rulers,[d] elders and teachers of the law met in Jerusalem. 6Annas the high priest was there, and so were Caiaphas,[e] John, Alexander and the other men of the high priest's family. 7They had Peter and John brought before them and began to question them: "By what power or what name did you do this?"

8Then Peter, filled with the Holy Spirit,[f] said to them: "Rulers and elders of the people! 9If we are being called to account today for an act of kindness shown to a cripple[h] and are asked how he was healed, 10then know this, you and all the people of Israel: It is by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth,[i] whom you crucified but whom God raised from the dead,[j] that this man stands before you healed. 11He is 12Salvation is found in no one else, for there is no other name under heaven given to men by which we must be saved."[l]

13When they saw the courage of Peter and John[m] and realized that they were unschooled, ordinary men,[n] they were astonished and they took note that these men had been with Jesus.[o] 14But since they could see the man who had been healed standing there with them, there was nothing they could say. 15So they ordered them to withdraw from the Sanhedrin[p] and then conferred together. 16"What are we going to do with these men?"[q] they asked. "Everybody living in Jerusalem knows they have done an outstanding miracle,[r] and we cannot deny it. 17But to stop this thing from spreading any further among the people, we must warn these men to speak no longer to anyone in this name."

18Then they called them in again and commanded them not to speak or teach at all in the name of Jesus.[s] 19But Peter and John replied, "Judge for yourselves whether it is right in God's sight to obey you rather than God.[t] 20For we cannot help speaking[u] about what we have seen and heard."[v]

21After further threats they let them go. They could not decide how to punish them, because all the people[w] were praising God[x] for what had happened. 22For the man who was miraculously healed was over forty years old.

The Believers' Prayer

23On their release, Peter and John went back to their own people and reported all that the chief priests and elders had said to them. 24When they heard this, they

[p] 11 Or cornerstone [q] 11 Psalm 118:22

4:1 priests. Those who were serving that week in the temple precincts (see note on Lk 1:23). captain of the temple guard. A member of one of the leading priestly families; next in rank to the high priest (see 5:24,26; Lk 22:4,52). Sadducees. A Jewish sect whose members came from the priestly line and controlled the temple. They did not believe in the resurrection or a personal Messiah, but held that the Messianic age—an ideal time—was then present and must be preserved. The high priest, one of their number, presided over the Sanhedrin (see 5:17; 23:6–8; Mt 22:23–33). See also notes on Mt 3:7; Mk 12:18; Lk 20:27.

4:3 evening. The evening sacrifices ended about 4:00 P.M., and the temple gates would be closed at that time. Any judgments involving life and death must be begun and concluded in daylight hours.

4:4 men. Lit. "males." five thousand. A growth from the 3,000 at Pentecost (2:41); see later growth (5:14; 6:7).

4:5 rulers, elders and teachers of the law. The three groups making up the Sanhedrin, Israel's supreme court (see Lk 22:66; see also notes on Mt 2:4; 15:2; Mk 14:55; Lk 5:17).

4:6 Annas. High priest A.D. 6–15, but deposed by the Romans and succeeded by his son, Eleazar, then by his son-in-law, Caiaphas (18–36), who was also called Joseph. However, Annas was still recognized by the Jews as high priest (Lk 3:2; cf. Jn 18:13, 24). John. May be Jonathan son of Annas, who was appointed high priest in A.D. 36. Others suggest it was Johanan ben Zaccai, who became the president of the Great Synagogue after the fall of Jerusalem. Alexander. Not further identified.

4:8 filled with the Holy Spirit. See note on 2:4.

4:11 the stone . . . rejected. Fulfillment of prophecy was an important element in early Christian sermons and defenses. Jesus had also used Ps 118:22 (Mt 21:42; see 1Pe 2:7 and cf. Ro 9:33; Isa 28:16).

4:12 no other name. See 10:43; Jn 14:6; 1Ti 2:5; see also NIV text note on Mt 1:21.

4:13 courage. A certain boldness characterized by the assurance, authority and forthrightness of the apostles (2:29; 4:29; 28:31), and shared by the believers (4:31). unschooled, ordinary men. Peter and John had not been trained in the rabbinic schools, nor did they hold official positions in recognized religious circles.

4:20 cannot help speaking. See 5:29.

4:23 went back. Probably to the same upper room where the apostles had met before (1:13) and where the congregation may have continued to meet (12:12).

4:24 Sovereign Lord. See Lk 2:29.

raised their voices together in prayer to God.[y] "Sovereign Lord," they said, "you made the heaven and the earth and the sea, and everything in them.[z] 25You spoke by the Holy Spirit through the mouth of your servant, our father David:[a]

" 'Why do the nations rage and the peoples plot in vain?
26The kings of the earth take their stand and the rulers gather together against the Lord and against his Anointed
One.'[r][s][b]

27Indeed Herod[c] and Pontius Pilate[d] met together with the Gentiles and the people[t] of Israel in this city to conspire against your holy servant Jesus,[e] whom you anointed. 28They did what your power and will had decided beforehand should happen.[f] 29Now, Lord, consider their threats and enable your servants to speak your word with great boldness.[g] 30Stretch out your hand to heal and perform miraculous signs and wonders[h] through the name of your holy servant Jesus."[i]

31After they prayed, the place where they were meeting was shaken.[j] And they were all filled with the Holy Spirit[k] and spoke the word of God[l] boldly.[m]

The Believers Share Their Possessions

32All the believers were one in heart and mind. No one claimed that any of his possessions was his own, but they shared everything they had.[n] 33With great power the apostles continued to testify[o] to the resurrection[p] of the Lord Jesus, and much grace[q] was upon them all. 34There were no needy persons among them. For from time to time those who owned lands or houses sold them,[r] brought the money from the sales 35and put it at the apostles' feet,[s] and it was distributed to anyone as he had need.[t]

36Joseph, a Levite from Cyprus, whom the apostles called Barnabas[u] (which means Son of Encouragement), 37sold a field he owned and brought the money and put it at the apostles' feet.[v]

Ananias and Sapphira

5 Now a man named Ananias, together with his wife Sapphira, also sold a piece of property. 2With his wife's full knowledge he kept back part of the money for himself,[w] but brought the rest and put it at the apostles' feet.[x]

3Then Peter said, "Ananias, how is it that Satan[y] has so filled your heart[z] that you have lied to the Holy Spirit[a] and have kept for yourself some of the money you received for the land?[b] 4Didn't it belong to you before it was sold? And after it was sold, wasn't the money at your disposal?[c] What made you think of doing such a thing? You have not lied to men but to God."[d]

5When Ananias heard this, he fell down and died.[e] And great fear[f] seized all who heard what had happened. 6Then the young men came forward, wrapped up his body,[g] and carried him out and buried him.

4:27 Herod. Herod Antipas, tetrarch of Galilee and Perea (Lk 23:7–15). Pontius Pilate. Roman procurator of Judea (Lk 23:1–24).

4:28 decided beforehand. Not that God had compelled them to act as they did, but he willed to use them and their freely chosen acts to accomplish his saving purpose.

4:30 holy servant. See note on 3:13.

4:31 was shaken. An immediate sign that the prayers had been heard (see 16:26). filled with the Holy Spirit. See note on 2:4. spoke the word of God. They continued preaching the gospel despite the warnings of the council (see note on v. 13).

4:32 one in heart and mind. In complete accord, extending to their attitude toward personal possessions (see 2:44).

4:33 testify to the resurrection. As significant as the death of Christ was, the most compelling event was the resurrection—an event about which the disciples could not keep silent.

4:34 those who owned lands or houses sold them. See note on 2:44.

4:36 Levite. Although Levites owned no inherited land in Palestine, these regulations may not have applied to the Levites in other countries (Cyprus). So perhaps Barnabas sold land he owned in Cyprus and brought the proceeds to the apostles (v. 37). Or he may have been married, and the land sold may have been from his wife's property. It is also possible that the prohibition against Levite ownership of land in Palestine was no longer observed. Cyprus. An island in the eastern part of the Mediterranean Sea. Jews had settled there from Maccabean times. Barnabas. Used here as a good example of giving. In this way Luke introduces the one who will become an important companion of Paul (see 13:1–4). For other significant contributions of this greathearted leader to the life and ministry of the early church see 9:27; 11:22,25; 15:37–39.

5:1 Ananias . . . Sapphira. Given as bad examples of sharing (Barnabas was the good example; see note on 4:36). Love of praise for (pretended) generosity and love for money led to the first recorded sin in the life of the church. It is a warning to the readers that "God cannot be mocked" (Gal 6:7). Compare this divine judgment at the beginning of the church era with God's judgments on Nadab and Abihu (Lev 10:2), on Achan (Jos 7:25) and on Uzzah (2Sa 6:7).

5:2 kept back part. They had a right to keep back whatever they chose, but to make it appear that they had given all when they had not was sinful.

5:3 Satan has so filled your heart. The continuing activity of Satan is noted (see Lk 22:3; Jn 13:2,27; 1Pe 5:8). lied to the Holy Spirit. A comparison with v. 4 shows that the Holy Spirit is regarded as God himself present with his people.

7About three hours later his wife came in, not knowing what had happened.
8Peter asked her, "Tell me, is this the price you and Ananias got for the land?"
"Yes," she said, "that is the price."[h] 9Peter said to her, "How could you agree to test the Spirit of the Lord?[i] Look! The feet of the men who buried your husband are at the door, and they will carry you out also."
10At that moment she fell down at his feet and died.[j] Then the young men came in and, finding her dead, carried her out and buried her beside her husband.[k] 11Great fear[l] seized the whole church and all who heard about these events.

The Apostles Heal Many

12The apostles performed many miraculous signs and wonders[m] among the people. And all the believers used to meet together[n] in Solomon's Colon-nade.[o] 13No one else dared join them, even though they were highly regarded by the people.[p] 14Nevertheless, more and more men and women believed in the Lord and were added to their number.[q] 15As a result, people brought the sick into the streets and laid them on beds and mats so that at least Peter's shadow might fall on some of them as he passed by.[r] 16Crowds gathered also from the towns around Jerusalem, bringing their sick and those tormented by evil[u] spirits, and all of them were healed.[s]

The Apostles Persecuted

17Then the high priest and all his associates, who were members of the party[t] of the Sadducees,[u] were filled with jealousy. 18They arrested the apostles and put them in the public jail.[v] 19But during the night an angel[w] of the Lord opened the doors of the jail[x] and brought them out.[y] 20"Go, stand in the temple courts," he said, "and tell the people the full message of this new life."[z] 21At daybreak they entered the temple courts, as they had been told, and began to teach the people.

When the high priest and his associates[a] arrived, they called together the Sanhedrin[b]—the full assembly of the elders of Israel—and sent to the jail for the apostles. 22But on arriving at the jail, the officers did not find them there.[c] So they went back and reported, 23"We found the jail securely locked, with the guards standing at the doors; but when we opened them, we found no one inside." 24On hearing this report, the captain of the temple guard and the chief priests[d] were puzzled, wondering what would come of this.

25Then someone came and said, "Look! The men you put in jail are standing in the temple courts teaching the people." 26At that, the captain went with his officers and brought the apostles. They did not use force, because they feared that the people[e] would stone them.

27Having brought the apostles, they made them appear before the Sanhedrin[f] to be questioned by the high priest. 28"We gave you strict orders not to teach in this name,"[g] he said. "Yet you have filled Jerusalem with your teaching

5:9 to test the Spirit of the Lord. If no dire consequences had followed this act of sin, the results among the believers would have been serious when the deceit became known. Not only would dishonesty appear profitable, but the conclusion that the Spirit could be deceived would follow. It was important to set the course properly at the outset in order to leave no doubt that God will not tolerate such hypocrisy and deceit.

5:11 church. The first use of the term in Acts. It can denote either the local congregation (8:1; 11:22; 13:1) or the universal church (see 20:28). The Greek word for "church" (ekklesia) was already being used for political and other assemblies (see 19:32,40) and, in the Septuagint (the Greek translation of the OT), for Israel when gathered in religious assembly.

5:12 Solomon's Colonnade. See note on 3:11.

5:13 No one else dared join them. Because of the fate of Ananias and his wife, no pretenders or halfhearted followers risked identification with the believers. Luke cannot mean that no one joined the Christian community, since v. 14 indicates that many were coming to Christ.

5:14 more men and women believed. See 4:4. This is the first specific mention of women believing (cf. 8:3,12; 9:2; 13:50; 16:1,13–14; 17:4,12,34; 18:2; 21:5; but cf. also 1:14).

5:15 Peter's shadow. Parallels such items as Paul's handkerchiefs (19:12) and the edge of Jesus' cloak (Mt 9:20)—not that any of these material objects had magical qualities, but the least article or shadow represented a direct means of contact with Jesus or his apostles.

5:17 high priest. The official high priest recognized by Rome was Caiaphas, but the Jews considered Annas, Caiaphas's father-in-law, to be the actual high priest since the high priesthood was to be held for life (see note on 4:6). his associates. His family members. party of the Sadducees. See note on 4:1.

5:18 in the public jail. To await trial the next day.

5:19 angel of the Lord. This phrase is used four other times in Acts: (1) Stephen speaks of him (7:30–38); (2) he guides Philip (8:26); (3) he liberates Peter (12:7–10); (4) he strikes down Herod (12:23). See also Mt 1:20–24; 2:13,19; 28:2; Lk 1:11–38; 2:9.

5:21 Sanhedrin. The supreme Jewish court, consisting of 70 to 100 men (71 being the proper number). They sat in a semicircle, backed by three rows of disciples of the "learned men," with the clerks of the court standing in front.

5:24 captain of the temple guard. See note on 4:1.

5:28 make us guilty of this man's blood. Probably a reference to the apostles' repeated declaration that some of the Jews and some of their leaders had killed Jesus (2:23; 3:13–15; 4:10–11; cf. Mt 27:25).

and are determined to make us guilty of this man's blood."[h] 29Peter and the other apostles replied: "We must obey God rather than men![i] 30The God of our fathers[j] raised Jesus from the dead[k]—whom you had killed by hanging him on a tree.[l] 31God exalted him to his own right hand[m] as Prince and Savior[n] that he might give repentance and forgiveness of sins to Israel.[o] 32We are witnesses of these things,[p] and so is the Holy Spirit,[q] whom God has given to those who obey him."
33When they heard this, they were furious[r] and wanted to put them to death. 34But a Pharisee named Gamaliel,[s] a teacher of the law,[t] who was honored by all the people, stood up in the Sanhedrin and ordered that the men be put outside for a little while. 35Then he addressed them: "Men of Israel, consider carefully what you intend to do to these men. 36Some time ago Theudas appeared, claiming to be somebody, and about four hundred men rallied to him. He was killed, all his followers were dispersed, and it all came to nothing. 37After him, Judas the Galilean appeared in the days of the census[u] and led a band of people in revolt. He too was killed, and all his followers were scattered. 38Therefore, in the present case I advise you: Leave these men alone! Let them go! For if their purpose or activity is of human origin, it will fail.[v] 39But if it is from God, you will not be able to stop these men; you will only find yourselves fighting against God."[w] 40His speech persuaded them. They called the apostles in and had them flogged.[x] Then they ordered them not to speak in the name of Jesus, and let them go.
41The apostles left the Sanhedrin, rejoicing[y] because they had been counted worthy of suffering disgrace for the Name.[z] 42Day after day, in the temple courts[a] and from house to house, they never stopped teaching and proclaiming the good news[b] that Jesus is the Christ.[vc]

The Choosing of the Seven

6 In those days when the number of disciples was increasing,[d] the Grecian Jews[e] among them complained against the Hebraic Jews because their widows[f] were being overlooked in the daily distribution of food.[g] 2So the Twelve gathered all the disciples[h] together and said, "It would not be right for us to neglect the ministry of the word of God[i] in order to wait on tables. 3Brothers,[j] choose seven men from among you who are known to be full of the Spirit[k] and wisdom. We will turn this responsibility over to them[l] 4and will give our attention to prayer[m] and the ministry of the word."
5This proposal pleased the whole

[v]42 Or Messiah

5:30 tree. Used to describe the cross (1Pe 2:24; see Dt 21:22–23). Like its Hebrew counterpart, the Greek for this word could refer to a tree, a pole, a wooden beam or some similar object.

5:32 so is the Holy Spirit ... given to those who obey him. See Jn 15:26–27. The disciples' testimony was directed and confirmed by the Holy Spirit, who convicts the world through the word (Jn 16:8–11) and is given to those who respond to God with "the obedience that comes from faith" (Ro 1:5; see note on 6:7).

5:34 a Pharisee named Gamaliel. The most famous Jewish teacher of his time and traditionally listed among the "heads of the schools." Possibly he was the grandson of Hillel. Like Hillel (see note on Mt 19:3), he was moderate in his views, a characteristic that is apparent in his cautious recommendation on this occasion. Saul (Paul) was one of his students (22:3).

5:36 Theudas. We know of him from no other historical source.

5:37 Judas the Galilean. The Jewish historian Josephus refers to him as a man from Gamala in Gaulanitis who refused to give tribute to Caesar. His revolt was crushed, but a movement, started in his time, may have lived on in the party of the Zealots (see 1:13 and note on Mt 10:4). days of the census. Not the first census of Quirinius, noted by Luke in his Gospel (2:2), but the one in A.D. 6.

5:40 flogged. Beaten with the Jewish penalty of "forty lashes minus one" (2Co 11:24).

6:1 the number of disciples was increasing. A considerable length of time may have transpired since the end of ch. 5. The church continued to grow (see 5:14), but this gave rise to inevitable problems, both from within (6:1–7) and from without (6:8–7:60). At this stage of its development, the church was entirely Jewish in its composition. However, there were two groups of Jews within the fellowship: 1. Grecian Jews. Hellenists—those born in lands other than Palestine who spoke the Greek language and were more Grecian than Hebraic in their attitudes and outlook. 2. Hebraic Jews. Those who spoke the Aramaic and/or Hebrew language(s) of Palestine and preserved Jewish culture and customs. daily distribution of food. Help was needed by widows who had no one to care for them and so became the church's responsibility (cf. 4:35; 11:28–29; see also 1Ti 5:3–16).

6:2 the Twelve. At this early stage, the apostles were responsible for church life in general, including the ministry of the word of God and the care of the needy. tables. The early church was concerned about a spiritual ministry ("word of God" and "prayer"; see v. 4) and a material ministry ("wait on tables").

6:3 choose seven men. The church elected them (v. 5), and the apostles "ordained" them (v. 6). In this way they were appointed to their work. full of the Spirit. See note on 2:4.

6:5 They chose Stephen ... Nicolas. It is significant that all seven of the men chosen had Greek names. The murmuring had come from the Greek-speaking segment of the church; so those elected to care for the work came from their number so as to represent their interests fairly. Only Stephen and Philip of the Seven receive further notice (Stephen, 6:8–7:60; Philip, 8:5–40; 21:8–9). from Antioch, a convert to Judaism. It is significant that a proselyte was group. They chose Stephen,[n] a man full of faith and of the Holy Spirit;[o] also Philip,[p] Procorus, Nicanor, Timon, Parmenas, and Nicolas from Antioch, a convert to Judaism. [6]They presented these men to the apostles, who prayed[q] and laid their hands on them.[r]

[7]So the word of God spread.[s] The number of disciples in Jerusalem increased rapidly,[t] and a large number of priests became obedient to the faith.

Stephen Seized

[8]Now Stephen, a man full of God's grace and power, did great wonders and miraculous signs[u] among the people. [9]Opposition arose, however, from members of the Synagogue of the Freedmen (as it was called)—Jews of Cyrene[v] and Alexandria as well as the provinces of Cilicia[w] and Asia.[x] These men began to argue with Stephen, [10]but they could not stand up against his wisdom or the Spirit by whom he spoke.[y]

[11]Then they secretly[z] persuaded some men to say, "We have heard Stephen speak words of blasphemy against Moses and against God."[a]

[12]So they stirred up the people and the elders and the teachers of the law. They seized Stephen and brought him before the Sanhedrin.[b] [13]They produced false witnesses,[c] who testified, "This fellow never stops speaking against this holy place[d] and against the law. [14]For we have heard him say that this Jesus of Nazareth will destroy this place[e] and change the customs Moses handed down to us."[f]

[15]All who were sitting in the Sanhedrin[g] looked intently at Stephen, and they saw that his face was like the face of an angel.

Stephen's Speech to the Sanhedrin

7 Then the high priest asked him, "Are these charges true?"

[2]To this he replied: "Brothers and fathers,[h] listen to me! The God of glory[i] appeared to our father Abraham while he was still in Mesopotamia, before he lived in Haran.[j] [3]'Leave your country and your people,' God said, 'and go to the land I will show you.'[w][k] included in the number and that Luke points out his place of origin as Antioch, the city to which the gospel was soon to be taken and which was to become the "headquarters" for the forthcoming Gentile missionary effort.

6:6 prayed and laid their hands on them. Laying on of hands was used in the OT period to confer blessing (Ge 48:13–20), to transfer guilt from sinner to sacrifice (Lev 1:4) and to commission a person for a new responsibility (Nu 27:23). In the NT period, laying on of hands was observed in healing (28:8; Mk 1:41), blessing (Mk 10:16), ordaining or commissioning (Ac 6:6; 13:3; 1Ti 5:22) and imparting of spiritual gifts (Ac 8:17; 19:6; 1Ti 4:14; 2Ti 1:6). These seven men were appointed to responsibilities turned over to them by the Twelve. The Greek word used to describe their responsibility ("wait on") is the verb from which the noun "deacon" comes. Later one reads of deacons in Php 1:1; 1Ti 3:8–13. The Greek noun for "deacon" can also be translated "minister" or "servant." The men appointed on this occasion were simply called the Seven (21:8), just as the apostles were called the Twelve. It is disputed whether the Seven were the first deacons or were later replaced by deacons (see note on 1Ti 3:8).

6:7 One of a series of progress reports given periodically throughout the book of Acts (1:15; 2:41; 4:4; 5:14; 6:7; 9:31; 12:24; 16:5; 19:20; 28:31). a large number of priests. Though involved by lineage and life service in the priestly observances of the old covenant, they accepted the preaching of the apostles, which proclaimed a sacrifice that made the old sacrifices unnecessary (Heb 8:13; 10:1–4, 11–14). became obedient to the faith. Responded to the commands of the gospel. To believe is to obey God. Faith itself is obedience, but faith also produces obedience (Ro 1:5; Eph 2:8–10; Jas 2:14–26).

6:8 great wonders and miraculous signs. Until now, Acts told of only the apostles working miracles (2:43; 3:4–8; 5:12). But now, after the laying on of the apostles' hands, Stephen too is reported as working miraculous signs. Philip also will soon do the same (8:6).

6:9 Freedmen. Persons who had been freed from slavery. They came from different Hellenistic areas. Cyrene. The chief city in Libya and north Africa (see note on 2:10), halfway between Alexandria and Carthage. One of its population groups was Jewish (see 11:19–21). Alexandria. Capital of Egypt and second only to Rome in the empire. Two out of five districts in Alexandria were Jewish. Cilicia. A Roman province in the southeast corner of Asia Minor adjoining Syria. Tarsus, the birthplace of Paul, was one of its principal towns. Asia. A Roman province in the western part of Asia Minor. Ephesus, where Paul later ministered for a few years, was its capital. These men began to argue. Since Saul was from Tarsus, this may have been the synagogue he attended, and he may have been among those who argued with Stephen. He was present when Stephen was stoned (7:58).

6:11 blasphemy against Moses and against God. Since Stephen declared that the worship of God was no longer to be restricted to the temple (7:48–49), his opponents twisted these words to trump up an accusation that Stephen was attacking the temple, the law, Moses and, ultimately, God.

6:12 the elders and the teachers of the law. See notes on Mt 2:4; 15:2; Lk 5:17. Sanhedrin. See note on Mk 14:55.

6:13 speaking against this holy place and against the law. Similar to the charges brought against Christ (see Mt 26:61). Stephen may have referred to Jesus' words as recorded in Jn 2:19, and the words may have been misunderstood or purposely misinterpreted (v. 14), as at the trial of Jesus.

7:1 high priest. Probably Caiaphas (see Mt 26:57–66), but see note on 4:6; cf. Jn 18:19, 24. Are these charges true? See notes on 6:11,13.

7:2 Abraham . . . in Mesopotamia, before he lived in Haran. Abraham's call came in Ur, not Haran (cf. Ge 15:7; Ne 9:7). Or perhaps he was called first in Ur, and then later his call was renewed in Haran (see note on Jer 15:19–21).

7:4 land of the Chaldeans. A district in southern Babylonia, the name was later applied to a region that included all Babylonia. After the death of his father. Ge 11:26 does not mean that all three sons—Abraham, Nahor and his father, God sent him to this land where you are now living.[l] 5He gave him no inheritance here,[m] not even a foot of ground. But God promised him that he and his descendants after him would possess the land,[n] even though at that time Abraham had no child. 6God spoke to him in this way: 'Your descendants will be strangers in a country not their own, and they will be enslaved and mistreated four hundred years.[o] 7But I will punish the nation they serve as slaves,' God said, 'and afterward they will come out of that country and worship me in this place.'[xp] 8Then he gave Abraham the covenant of circumcision.[q] And Abraham became the father of Isaac and circumcised him eight days after his birth.[r] Later Isaac became the father of Jacob,[s] and Jacob became the father of the twelve patriarchs.[t]

9"Because the patriarchs were jealous of Joseph,[u] they sold him as a slave into Egypt.[v] But God was with him[w] 10and rescued him from all his troubles. He gave Joseph wisdom and enabled him to gain the goodwill of Pharaoh king of Egypt; so he made him ruler over Egypt and all his palace.[x]

11"Then a famine struck all Egypt and Canaan, bringing great suffering, and our fathers could not find food.[y] 12When Jacob heard that there was grain in Egypt, he sent our fathers on their first visit.[z] 13On their second visit, Joseph told his brothers who he was,[a] and Pharaoh learned about Joseph's family.[b] 14After this, Joseph sent for his father Jacob and his whole family,[c] seventy-five in all.[d] 15Then Jacob went down to Egypt, where he and our fathers died.[e] 16Their bodies were brought back to Shechem and placed in the tomb that Abraham had bought from the sons of Hamor at Shechem for a certain sum of money.[f]

17"As the time drew near for God to fulfill his promise to Abraham, the number of our people in Egypt greatly increased.[g] 18Then another king, who knew nothing about Joseph, became ruler of Egypt.[h] 19He dealt treacherously with our people and oppressed our forefathers by forcing them to throw out their newborn babies so that they would die.[i]

20"At that time Moses was born, and he was no ordinary child.[y] For three months he was cared for in his father's house.[j] 21When he was placed outside, Pharaoh's daughter took him and brought him up as her own son.[k] 22Moses was educated in all the wisdom of the Egyptians[l] and was powerful in speech and action.

23"When Moses was forty years old, he decided to visit his fellow Israelites. 24He saw one of them being mistreated by an Egyptian, so he went to his defense and avenged him by killing the Egyptian. 25Moses thought that his own people would realize that God was using him to rescue them, but they did not. 26The next day Moses came upon two Israelites who were fighting. He tried to reconcile them by saying, 'Men, you are brothers; why do you want to hurt each other?'

Haran—were born to Terah in the same year when he was 70 years old. See Ge 11:26–12:1. It may be that Haran was Terah's firstborn and that Abraham was born 60 years later. Thus the death of Terah at 205 years of age could have occurred just before Abraham, at 75, left Haran.

7:6 four hundred years. A round number for the length of Israel's stay in Egypt (Ex 12:40–41 has 430 years). That four generations would represent considerably less than 400 years is not a necessary conclusion (see note on Ge 15:16). Ex 6:16–20 makes Moses the great-grandson of Levi, son of Jacob and brother of Joseph. This would make four generations from Levi to Moses. But in 1Ch 7:22–27 a list of ten names represents the generations between Ephraim, the son of Joseph, and Joshua. The ten generations at 40 years each would equal 400 years, the same period of time noted as four generations. But one list is abbreviated and the other gives a full genealogy.

7:8 covenant of circumcision. See notes on Ge 17:10–11. The essential conditions for the religion of Israel were already fulfilled long before the temple was built and their present religious customs began. twelve patriarchs. See Ge 35:23–26.

7:9 they sold him. Israel consistently rejected God's favored individuals. Stephen builds his case about Jesus' rejection by noting Joseph's rejection by his brothers (Ge 37:12–36).

7:13 second visit. See Ge 43.

7:14 Jacob and his whole family, seventy-five in all. Although the Hebrew Bible uses the number 70 (Ge 46:27; Ex 1:5; Dt 10:22), the Greek translation of the OT (the Septuagint) adds at Ge 46:20 the names of one son of Manasseh, two of Ephraim, and one grandson of each. This makes the number 75 and is the number that Stephen uses.

7:16 Stephen greatly compresses OT accounts of two land purchases (by Abraham and Jacob) and two burial places (at Hebron and Shechem). According to the OT, Abraham purchased land at Hebron (Ge 23:17–18), where he (Ge 25:9–11), Isaac (Ge 35:29) and Jacob (Ge 50:13) were buried. Jacob bought land at Shechem (Ge 33:19), where Joseph was later buried (Jos 24:32). Josephus preserves a tradition that Joseph's brothers were buried at Hebron. Stephen's rhetorical device (by which he recalls that Jacob and the 12 patriarchs were not buried in Egypt but in Canaan) is strange to modern ears but would have been well understood by his hearers.

7:18 another king, who knew nothing about Joseph. See note on Ex 1:8.

7:22 Moses was educated in all the wisdom of the Egyptians. Not explicitly stated in the OT but to be expected if he grew up in the household of Pharaoh's daughter. Both Philo and Josephus speak of Moses' great learning.

7:23 Moses was forty. Moses was 80 years old when sent to speak before Pharaoh (Ex 7:7) and 120 years old when he died (Dt 34:7). Stephen's words agree with a tradition that at Moses' first departure from Egypt he was 40 years of age.

27"But the man who was mistreating the other pushed Moses aside and said,
'Who made you ruler and judge over us?[m] 28Do you want to kill me as you killed the Egyptian yesterday?'[z] 29When Moses heard this, he fled to Midian, where he settled as a foreigner and had two sons.[n]

30"After forty years had passed, an angel appeared to Moses in the flames of a burning bush in the desert near Mount Sinai. 31When he saw this, he was amazed at the sight. As he went over to look more closely, he heard the Lord's voice:[o] 32'I am the God of your fathers,[p] the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.'[a] Moses trembled with fear and did not dare to look.[q]

33"Then the Lord said to him, 'Take off your sandals; the place where you are standing is holy ground.[r] 34I have indeed seen the oppression of my people in Egypt. I have heard their groaning and have come down to set them free. Now come, I will send you back to Egypt.'[bs]

35"This is the same Moses whom they had rejected with the words, 'Who made you ruler and judge?'[t] He was sent to be their ruler and deliverer by God himself, through the angel who appeared to him in the bush. 36He led them out of Egypt[u] and did wonders and miraculous signs[v] in Egypt, at the Red Sea[cw] and for forty years in the desert.[x]

37"This is that Moses who told the Israelites, 'God will send you a prophet like me from your own people.'[dy] 38He was in the assembly in the desert, with the angel[z] who spoke to him on Mount Sinai, and with our fathers;[a] and he received living words[b] to pass on to us.[c]

39"But our fathers refused to obey him.
Instead, they rejected him and in their hearts turned back to Egypt.[d] 40They told Aaron, 'Make us gods who will go before us. As for this fellow Moses who led us out of Egypt—we don't know what has happened to him!'[ee] 41That was the time they made an idol in the form of a calf. They brought sacrifices to it and held a celebration in honor of what their hands had made.[f] 42But God turned away[g] and gave them over to the worship of the heavenly bodies.[h] This agrees with what is written in the book of the prophets:

" 'Did you bring me sacrifices and offerings forty years in the desert, O house of Israel?
43You have lifted up the shrine of Molech
and the star of your god Rephan, the idols you made to worship.
Therefore I will send you into exile'[fi] beyond Babylon.

44"Our forefathers had the tabernacle of the Testimony[j] with them in the desert. It had been made as God directed Moses, according to the pattern he had seen.[k] 45Having received the tabernacle, our fathers under Joshua brought it with them when they took the land from the nations God drove out before them.[l] It remained in the land until the time of David,[m] 46who enjoyed God's favor and asked that he might provide a dwelling place for the God of Jacob.[gn] 47But it was Solomon who built the house for him.[o]

7:29 fled to Midian. Rejected by his own people, Moses feared that they would inform the Egyptians, and this led to his flight to Midian (Ex 2:15), the land flanking the Gulf of Aqaba on both sides. had two sons. Gershom and Eliezer (Ex 2:22; 18:3–4; 1Ch 23:15).

7:30 After forty years. Plus the 40 years of v. 23, making the 80 years of Ex 7:7. Mount Sinai. Called Horeb in Ex 3:1 (see note there).

7:35 the same Moses . . . sent to be their ruler and deliverer. Israel rejected Moses, their deliverer, just as the Jews of Stephen's day were rejecting Jesus, their deliverer. Yet both were sent by God. angel who appeared to him in the bush. See Ex 3:2.

7:37 prophet like me. See 3:22–23; see also note on Dt 18:15.

7:38 angel who spoke to him. According to Jewish interpretation at that time, the law was given to Moses by angel mediation—after the manner of the original call of Moses (see Ex 3:2; see also v. 53; Gal 3:19; Heb 2:2). he received living words to pass on to us. Moses was the mediator between God and man on Mount Sinai.

7:39 refused to obey him. Another rejection of God's representative and his commands.

7:40 Make us gods. While Moses was on Sinai receiving the law, the people made the golden calf, rejecting God and his representative (Ex 32:1). The people had not traveled far from the idolatry of Egypt.

7:42 God . . . gave them over. See note on Ro 1:24.

7:43 Stephen quotes Am 5:25–27 as translated in the Septuagint, except that he replaces Damascus with Babylon in view of the fact that the final exile of Israel from the promised land was carried out by the Babylonians (Amos was speaking first of the Assyrian exile of the northern kingdom).

7:44–50 Because he had been accused of "speaking against the holy place" (6:13), Stephen concludes his recital with a word about the sanctuary. Presumably, he had been preaching that the risen Christ had now replaced the temple as the mediation of God's saving presence among his people and as the one (the "place") through whom they (and "all nations," Mk 11:17) could come to God in prayer (see note on 6:13).

7:44 tabernacle of the Testimony. So called by Stephen because the primary contents of the desert tabernacle were the ark of the covenant and the two covenant tablets it contained, which were called "the Testimony" (see Ex 25:16,21 and notes).

48"However, the Most High[p] does not live in houses made by men.[q] As the prophet says:

49" 'Heaven is my throne, and the earth is my footstool.[r]
What kind of house will you build for me?
says the Lord.
Or where will my resting place be?
50Has not my hand made all these things?'[h][s]

51"You stiff-necked people,[t] with uncircumcised hearts[u] and ears! You are just like your fathers: You always resist the Holy Spirit! 52Was there ever a prophet your fathers did not persecute?[v] They even killed those who predicted the coming of the Righteous One. And now you have betrayed and murdered him[w]— 53you who have received the law that was put into effect through angels[x] but have not obeyed it."

The Stoning of Stephen

54When they heard this, they were furious[y] and gnashed their teeth at him. 55But Stephen, full of the Holy Spirit,[z] looked up to heaven and saw the glory of God, and Jesus standing at the right hand of God.[a] 56"Look," he said, "I see heaven open[b] and the Son of Man[c] standing at the right hand of God."

57At this they covered their ears and, yelling at the top of their voices, they all rushed at him, 58dragged him out of the city[d] and began to stone him.[e] Meanwhile, the witnesses[f] laid their clothes[g] at the feet of a young man named Saul.[h]

59While they were stoning him, Stephen prayed, "Lord Jesus, receive my spirit."[i] 60Then he fell on his knees[j] and cried out, "Lord, do not hold this sin against them."[k] When he had said this, he fell asleep.[l]

8 And Saul[m] was there, giving approval to his death.

The Church Persecuted and Scattered

On that day a great persecution broke out against the church at Jerusalem, and all except the apostles were scattered[n] throughout Judea and Samaria.[o] 2Godly men buried Stephen and mourned deeply for him. 3But Saul[p] began to destroy the church.[q] Going from house to house, he dragged off men and women and put them in prison.

Philip in Samaria

4Those who had been scattered[r] preached the word wherever they went.[s] 5Philip[t] went down to a city in Samaria and proclaimed the Christ[i] there. 6When the crowds heard Philip and saw the miraculous signs he did, they all paid close attention to what he said. 7With shrieks, evil[j] spirits came out of many,[u] and many paralytics and cripples were healed.[v] 8So there was great joy in that city.

[h]50 Isaiah 66:1,2 [i]5 Or Messiah [j]7 Greek unclean

7:49 Isaiah reminded Israel that all creation is the temple that God himself had made. Stephen recalls that word to remind his hearers that ultimately God builds his own temple.

7:51 uncircumcised hearts and ears. Though physically circumcised, they were acting like the uncircumcised pagan nations around them. They were not truly consecrated to the Lord.

7:53 law that was put into effect through angels. See note on v. 38.

7:55 full of the Holy Spirit. See note on 2:4; see also 6:5.

7:56 Son of Man. See note on Mk 8:31. Jesus used this title of himself (see Mk 2:10) to emphasize his relationship to Messianic prediction (Mt 25:31; Da 7:13–14). It is unusual for someone other than Jesus to apply this term to Christ (see also Rev 1:13).

7:58 laid their clothes at the feet of . . . Saul. Some have thought that this marked Saul as being in charge of the execution. In any case, it is Luke's way of introducing the main character of the second section of the book.

7:60 do not hold this sin against them. Compare with Jesus' words (Lk 23:34).

8:1 giving approval. See 22:20. all except the apostles. For the apostles to stay in Jerusalem would be an encouragement to those in prison and a center of appeal to those scattered. The church now went underground. scattered throughout Judea and Samaria. The beginning of the fulfillment of the commission in 1:8—not by the church's plan, but by events beyond the believers' control. See map of "The Spread of the Gospel," p. 1672.

8:3 began to destroy. See 22:4. The Greek underlying this phrase sometimes describes the ravages of wild animals.

8:4 preached the word. Many witnesses to the gospel went everywhere proclaiming the good news. The number of witnesses multiplied, and the territory covered was expanded greatly (cf. 11:19–20).

8:5 Philip. One of the Seven in the Jerusalem church (6:5), who now becomes an evangelist, proclaiming the Christ (Messiah); see also 21:8. Philip is an example of one of those who were scattered. a city in Samaria. Some manuscripts have "the city of Samaria," a reference to the old capital Samaria, renamed Sebaste or Neapolis (modern Nablus).

OCCUPATION: One of seven church leaders who supervised care for individuals

- his reputation for wisdom, faith and devotion to Christ
- his courage in defending his faith before the religious leaders of his day
- becoming the first Christian martyr

Simon the Sorcerer

9Now for some time a man named Simon had practiced sorcery[w] in the city and amazed all the people of Samaria. He boasted that he was someone great,[x] 10and all the people, both high and low, gave him their attention and exclaimed, "This man is the divine power known as the Great Power."[y] 11They followed him because he had amazed them for a long time with his magic. 12But when they believed Philip as he preached the good news of the kingdom of God[z] and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized,[a] both men and women. 13Simon himself believed and was baptized. And he followed Philip everywhere, astonished by the great signs and miracles[b] he saw.

14When the apostles in Jerusalem heard that Samaria[c] had accepted the word of God,[d] they sent Peter and John[e] to them. 15When they arrived, they prayed for them that they might receive the Holy Spirit,[f] 16because the Holy Spirit had not yet come upon any of them;[g] they had simply been baptized into[k] the name of the Lord Jesus.[h] 17Then Peter and John placed their hands

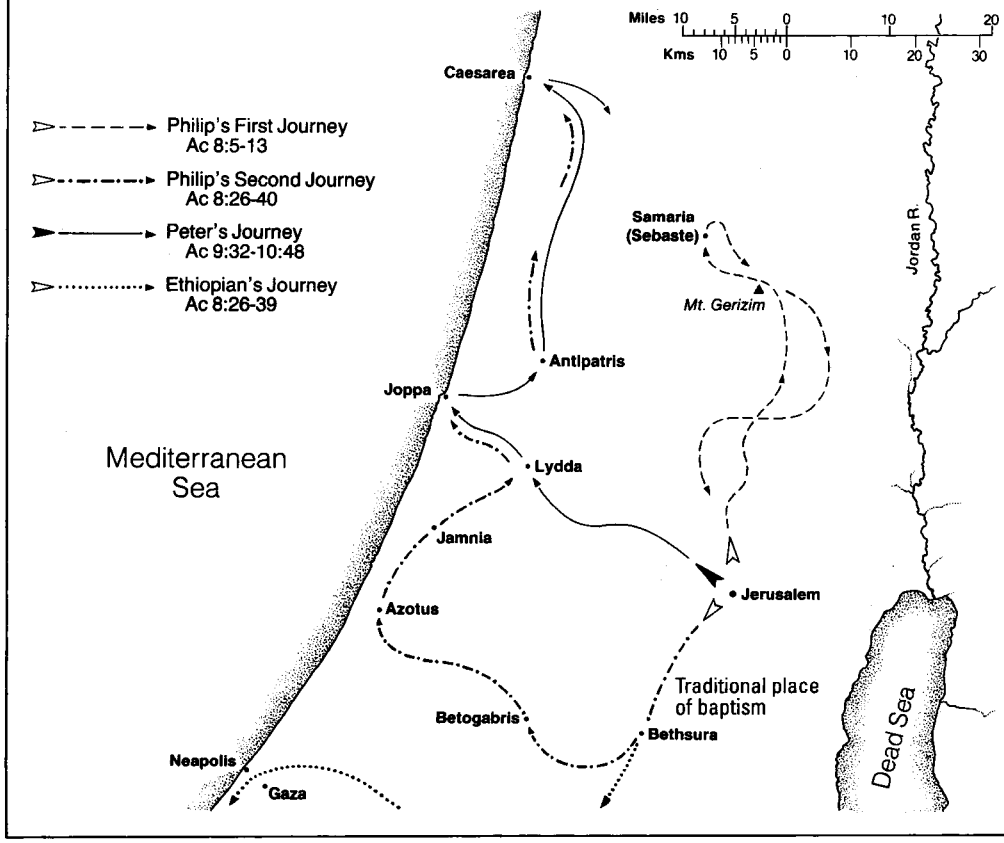
8:9 Simon. In early Christian literature the "sorcerer" (Simon Magus) is described as the arch-heretic of the church and the "father" of Gnostic teaching.
8:10 the Great Power. Simon claimed to be either God himself or, more likely, his chief representative.
8:13 Simon himself believed and was baptized. It is difficult to know whether Simon's faith was genuine. Even though Luke says Simon believed, Peter's statement that Simon had no part in the apostles' ministry because his heart was not "right before God" (v. 21) casts some doubt.
8:14 had accepted the word of God. Were obedient to the gospel proclaimed by Philip. sent Peter and John. The Jerusalem church assumed the responsibility of inspecting new evangelistic efforts and the communities of believers they produced (see 11:22).
8:16 not yet come upon any of them. Since the day of Pentecost, those who "belong to Christ" (Ro 8:9) also have the Holy Spirit. But the Spirit had not yet been made manifest to the Christians in Samaria by the usual signs. This deficiency was now graciously supplied (v. 17).
8:17 placed their hands on them. See v. 18; 19:1–7; cf. 2Ti 1:6; see also note on 6:6.

Philip's and Peter's Missionary Journeys



on them,[i] and they received the Holy Spirit.[j]

[18]When Simon saw that the Spirit was given at the laying on of the apostles' hands, he offered them money [19]and said, "Give me also this ability so that everyone on whom I lay my hands may receive the Holy Spirit."

[20]Peter answered: "May your money perish with you, because you thought you could buy the gift of God with money![k] [21]You have no part or share[l] in this ministry, because your heart is not right[m] before God. [22]Repent[n] of this wickedness and pray to the Lord. Perhaps he will forgive you for having such a thought in your heart. [23]For I see that you are full of bitterness and captive to sin."

[24]Then Simon answered, "Pray to the Lord for me[o] so that nothing you have said may happen to me."

[25]When they had testified and proclaimed the word of the Lord,[p] Peter and John returned to Jerusalem, preaching the gospel in many Samaritan villages.[q]

Philip and the Ethiopian

[26]Now an angel[r] of the Lord said to Philip,[s] "Go south to the road—the desert road—that goes down from Jerusalem to Gaza." [27]So he started out, and on his way he met an Ethiopian[1][t] eunuch,[u] an important official in charge of all the treasury of Candace, queen of the Ethiopians. This man had gone to Jerusalem to worship,[v] [28]and on his way home was sitting in his chariot reading the book of Isaiah the prophet. [29]The Spirit told[w] Philip, "Go to that chariot and stay near it."

[30]Then Philip ran up to the chariot and heard the man reading Isaiah the prophet. "Do you understand what you are reading?" Philip asked.

[31]"How can I," he said, "unless someone explains it to me?" So he invited Philip to come up and sit with him.

[32]The eunuch was reading this passage of Scripture:

"He was led like a sheep to the slaughter, and as a lamb before the shearer is silent,
so he did not open his mouth.
[33]In his humiliation he was deprived of justice.
Who can speak of his descendants?
For his life was taken from the earth."[m][x]

[34]The eunuch asked Philip, "Tell me, please, who is the prophet talking about, himself or someone else?" [35]Then Philip began[y] with that very passage of Scripture[z] and told him the good news[a] about Jesus.

[36]As they traveled along the road, they came to some water and the eunuch said, "Look, here is water. Why shouldn't I be baptized?"[n][b] [38]And he gave orders to stop the chariot. Then both Philip and the eunuch went down into the water and Philip baptized him. [39]When they came up out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord suddenly took Philip away,[c] and the eunuch did not see him again, but went on his way rejoicing. [40]Philip, however, appeared at Azotus and traveled about, preaching the gospel in all the towns[d] until he reached Caesarea.[e]

8:18 he offered them money. Simon had boasted of having great powers before (see v. 10 and note), and now he tried to buy this magical power he believed the apostles possessed.

8:23 full of bitterness. See Dt 29:18.

8:26 an angel of the Lord. Cf. v. 29; see note on 5:19. from Jerusalem to Gaza. A distance of about 50 miles.

8:27 an Ethiopian. Ethiopia corresponded in this period to Nubia, from the upper Nile region at the first cataract (Aswan) to Khartoum. Candace. The traditional title of the queen mother, responsible for performing the secular duties of the reigning king—who was thought to be too sacred for such activities. gone to Jerusalem to worship. If not a full-fledged proselyte (Dt 23:1), the Ethiopian was a Gentile God-fearer.

8:30 heard the man reading. It was customary practice to read aloud.

8:34 who is the prophet talking about . . . ? Beginning with Isa 53 (see v. 35), Philip may have identified the suffering servant with the Davidic Messiah of Isa 11 or with the Son of Man (Da 7:13).

8:35 good news. The way of salvation through Jesus Christ.

8:36 they came to some water. There were several possibilities: a brook in the Valley of Elah (which David crossed to meet Goliath, 1Sa 17:40); the Wadi el-Hasi just north of Gaza; water from a spring or one of the many pools in the area.

8:37 See NIV text note on v. 36.

8:39 rejoicing. Joy is associated with salvation in Acts (see note on 16:34).

8:40 Azotus. OT Ashdod (see 1Sa 5:1), one of the five Philistine cities. It was about 19 miles from Gaza and 60 miles from Caesarea. Caesarea. Rebuilt by Herod and with an excellent harbor, it served as the headquarters of the Roman procurators. The account leaves Philip in Caesarea at this time; his next appearance is 20 years later, and he is still located in the same place (21:8).

9:1 Saul. Introduced at the stoning of Stephen (7:58), he was born in Tarsus and trained under Gamaliel (22:3). See priest [2]and asked him for letters to the synagogues in Damascus,[g] so that if he found any there who belonged to the Way,[h] whether men or women, he might take them as prisoners to Jerusalem. [3]As he neared Damascus on his journey, suddenly a light from heaven flashed around him.[i] [4]He fell to the ground and heard a voice[j] say to him, "Saul, Saul, why do you persecute me?"

[5]"Who are you, Lord?" Saul asked.

"I am Jesus, whom you are persecuting," he replied. [6]"Now get up and go into the city, and you will be told what you must do."[k]

[7]The men traveling with Saul stood there speechless; they heard the sound[l] but did not see anyone.[m] [8]Saul got up from the ground, but when he opened his eyes he could see nothing.[n] So they led him by the hand into Damascus. [9]For three days he was blind, and did not eat or drink anything.

[10]In Damascus there was a disciple named Ananias. The Lord called to him in a vision,[o] "Ananias!"

"Yes, Lord," he answered.

[11]The Lord told him, "Go to the house of Judas on Straight Street and ask for a man from Tarsus[p] named Saul, for he is praying. [12]In a vision he has seen a man named Ananias come and place his hands on[q] him to restore his sight."

[13]"Lord," Ananias answered, "I have heard many reports about this man and all the harm he has done to your saints[r] in Jerusalem.[s] [14]And he has come here with authority from the chief priests[t] to arrest all who call on your name."[u]

[15]But the Lord said to Ananias, "Go! This man is my chosen instrument[v] to carry my name before the Gentiles[w] and their kings[x] and before the people of Israel. [16]I will show him how much he must suffer for my name."[y]

[17]Then Ananias went to the house and entered it. Placing his hands on[z] Saul, he said, "Brother Saul, the Lord—Jesus, who appeared to you on the road as you were coming here—has sent me so that you may see again and be filled with the Holy Spirit."[a] [18]Immediately, something like scales fell from Saul's eyes, and he could see again. He got up and was baptized,[b] [19]and after taking some food, he regained his strength.

Saul in Damascus and Jerusalem

Saul spent several days with the disciples[c] in Damascus.[d] [20]At once he began to preach in the synagogues[e] that Jesus is the Son of God.[f] [21]All those who heard him were astonished and asked, "Isn't he the man who raised havoc in Jerusalem among those who call on this name?[g] And hasn't he come here note on Php 3:4–14. murderous threats. We do not know that Saul was directly involved in the death of anyone other than Stephen (8:1), but there appear to have been similar cases (22:4; 26:10). high priest. Probably Caiaphas (see note on 4:6) and the members of the Sanhedrin, who had authority over Jews both in Judea and elsewhere.

9:2 Damascus. Located in the Roman province of Syria, it was the nearest important city outside the Holy Land. It also had a large Jewish population. The distance from Jerusalem to Damascus was about 150 miles, four to six days' travel. the Way. A name for Christianity occurring a number of times in Acts (16:17; 18:25–26; 19:9,23; 22:4; 24:14,22; see 2Pe 2:2). Jesus called himself "the way" (Jn 14:6). prisoners to Jerusalem. Where the full authority of the Sanhedrin could be exercised in trial for either acquittal or death.

9:3 a light from heaven. "About noon" (26:13).

9:4 why do you persecute me? To persecute the church is to persecute Christ, for the church is his body (see 1Co 12:27; Eph 1:22–23).

9:5 Who are you, Lord? In rabbinic tradition such a voice from heaven would have been understood as the voice of God himself. The solemn repetition of Saul's name and the bright light suggested to him that he was in the presence of deity.

9:7 heard the sound. Those with Saul "heard the sound" but "did not understand" what the voice was saying (22:9; cf. Da 10:7).

9:10 Ananias. Mentioned elsewhere only in 22:12. His was a common name (5:1; 23:2). The Greek form is derived from the Hebrew name Hananiah, meaning "The LORD is gracious/shows grace" (see Da 1:6).

9:11 Straight Street. Probably followed the same route of the long, straight street that today runs through the city from east to west. It is a decided contrast to the numerous crooked streets of the city (see map of "Roman Damascus," p. 1664). Tarsus. See note on 22:3. praying. Prayer is often associated with visions in Luke and Acts (see 10:9–11; Lk 1:10; 3:21; 9:28).

9:13,32 saints. See notes on Ro 1:7; Php 1:1.

9:15 before the Gentiles. See Ro 1:13–14. their kings. Agrippa (26:1) and Caesar at Rome (25:11–12; 28:19).

9:17 Jesus, who appeared to you. The Damascus road experience was not merely a vision. The resurrected Christ actually appeared to Saul, and on this fact Saul based his qualification to be an apostle (1Co 9:1; 15:8).

9:20 At once. Following his baptism. synagogues. It became Saul's regular practice to preach at every opportunity in the synagogues (13:5; 14:1; 17:1–2,10; 18:4,19; 19:8). Jesus is the Son of God. Saul's message was a declaration of what he himself had become convinced of on the Damascus road: Christ's deity and Messiahship (see NIV text note on v. 22).

9:23 After many days. Three years (Gal 1:17–18). It is probable that the major part of this period was spent in Arabia, away from Damascus, though the borders of Arabia extended to the environs of Damascus. the Jews conspired to kill him. Upon his return to Damascus, the governor under Aretas gave orders for his arrest (2Co 11:32). The absence of Roman coins struck in Damascus between A.D. 34 and 62 may indicate that Aretas was in control during that period.

9:25 lowered him in a basket. See 2Co 11:33 (cf. Jos 2:15; 1Sa 19:12).

9:26 he came to Jerusalem. From Gal 1:19 we learn that all the apostles were away except Peter and James, the Lord's brother. James was not one of the Twelve, but he held a position in Jerusalem comparable to that of an apostle.

9:27 Barnabas. See note on 4:36.

Roman Damascus

Damascus represented much more to Saul, the strict Pharisee, than any other stop on his campaign of repression. It was the hub of a vast commercial network with far-flung lines of caravan trade reaching into north Syria, Mesopotamia, Anatolia, Persia and Arabia. If the new "Way" of Christianity flourished in Damascus, it would quickly reach all these places. From the viewpoint of the Sanhedrin and of Saul, the arch-persecutor, it had to be stopped in Damascus.

The city itself was a veritable oasis, situated in a plain watered by the Biblical rivers Abana and Pharpar. Roman architecture overlaid the Hellenistic town plan with a great temple to Jupiter and a mile-long colonnaded street, the "Straight Street" of Ac 9:11. The city gates and a section of the town wall may still be seen today, as well as the lengthy bazaar that runs along the line of the ancient street.

The dominant political figure at the time of Paul's escape from Damascus (2Co 11:32-33) was Aretas IV, king of the Nabateans (9 B.C.-A.D. 40), though normally the Decapolis cities were attached to the province of Syria and were thus under the influence of Rome.

this, they took him down to Caesarea[t] and sent him off to Tarsus.[u] 31Then the church throughout Judea, Galilee and Samaria[v] enjoyed a time of peace. It was strengthened; and encouraged by the Holy Spirit, it grew in numbers,[w] living in the fear of the Lord.

Aeneas and Dorcas

32As Peter traveled about the country, he went to visit the saints[x] in Lydda. 33There he found a man named Aeneas, a paralytic who had been bedridden for eight years. 34"Aeneas," Peter said to him, "Jesus Christ heals you.[y] Get up and take care of your mat." Immediately Aeneas got up. 35All those who lived in Lydda and Sharon[z] saw him and turned to the Lord.[a]

36In Joppa[b] there was a disciple named Tabitha (which, when translated, is Dorcas[p]), who was always doing good[c] and helping the poor. 37About that time she became sick and died, and her body was washed and placed in an upstairs room.[d] 38Lydda was near Joppa; so when the disciples[e] heard that Peter was in Lydda, they sent two men to him and urged him, "Please come at once!"

39Peter went with them, and when he arrived he was taken upstairs to the room. All the widows[f] stood around him, crying and showing him the robes and other clothing that Dorcas had made while she was still with them.

40Peter sent them all out of the room;[g] then he got down on his knees[h] and prayed. Turning toward the dead woman, he said, "Tabitha, get up."[i] She opened her eyes, and seeing Peter she sat up. 41He took her by the hand and helped her to her feet. Then he called the believers and the widows and presented her to them alive. 42This became known all over Joppa, and many people believed in the Lord.[j] 43Peter stayed in Joppa for some time with a tanner named Simon.[k]

Cornelius Calls for Peter

9:31 the church. The whole Christian body, including Christians in the districts of Judea, Galilee and Samaria. The singular thus does not here refer to the various congregations but to the church as a whole (see note on 5:11). encouraged by the Holy Spirit. The work of the Spirit is particularly noted throughout the book of Acts (see 13:2 and note on 1:2). This is why the book is sometimes called the Acts of the Holy Spirit.

9:32 Lydda. A town two or three miles north of the road connecting Joppa and Jerusalem. Lydda is about 12 miles from Joppa.

9:33 Aeneas. Since Peter was there to visit the believers, Aeneas was probably one of the Christians.

9:35 Sharon. The fertile plain of Sharon runs about 50 miles along the Mediterranean coast, roughly from Joppa to Caesarea. The reference here, however, may be to a village in the neighborhood of Lydda instead of to a district (an Egyptian papyrus refers to a town by that name in the Holy Land).

9:36 Joppa. About 38 miles from Jerusalem, the main seaport of Judea. Today it is known as Jaffa and is a suburb of Tel Aviv.

9:37 body was washed. In preparation for burial, a custom common to both Jews (Purification of the Dead) and Greeks. upstairs room. If burial was delayed, it was customary to lay the body in an upper room. In Jerusalem the body had to be buried the day the person died, but outside Jerusalem up to three days might be allowed for burial.

9:38 near Joppa. See note on v. 32. come at once! Whether for consolation or for a miracle, Peter was urged to hurry in order to arrive before the burial.

9:40 sent them all out. Cf. 1Ki 17:23; 2Ki 4:33. Peter had been present on all three occasions recorded in Scripture when Jesus raised individuals from the dead (Mt 9:25; Lk 7:11–17; Jn 11:1–44). As when Jesus raised Jairus's daughter, the crowd in the room was told to leave. Unlike Jesus, however, Peter knelt and prayed.

9:42 many people believed. Cf. Jn 12:11.

9:43 a tanner. Occupations were frequently used with personal names to identify individuals further (see 16:14; 18:3; 19:24; 2Ti 4:14), but in this case it is especially significant. A tanner was involved in treating the skins of dead animals, thus contacting the unclean according to Jewish law; so he was despised by many. Peter's decision to stay with him shows already a willingness to reject Jewish prejudice and prepares the way for his coming vision and the mission to the Gentiles.

10:1 Caesarea. Located 30 miles north of Joppa and named in honor of Augustus Caesar, it was the headquarters for the Roman forces of occupation (see also note on 8:40). Cornelius. A Latin name made popular when Cornelius Sulla liberated some 10,000 slaves over 100 years earlier. These had all taken his family name, Cornelius. centurion. Commanded a military unit that normally numbered at least 100 men (see note on Lk 7:2). The Roman legion (about 6,000 men) was divided into ten regiments, each of which had a designation. This was the "Italian" (another was the "Imperial," or "Augustan," 27:1). A centurion commanded about a sixth of a regiment. Centurions were carefully selected; all of them mentioned in the NT appear to have had noble qualities (e.g., Lk 7:5). The Roman centurions provided necessary stability to the entire Roman system.

10:2 devout. In spite of all his good deeds, Cornelius needed to hear the way of salvation from a human messenger. The role of the angel (v. 3) was to bring Cornelius and Peter together (cf. 8:26; 9:10). God-fearing. The term used of one who was not a full Jewish proselyte but who believed in one God and respected the moral and ethical

God-fearing;[m] he gave generously to those in need and prayed to God regularly. [3]One day at about three in the afternoon[n] he had a vision.[o] He distinctly saw an angel[p] of God, who came to him and said, "Cornelius!"

[4]Cornelius stared at him in fear. "What is it, Lord?" he asked.

The angel answered, "Your prayers and gifts to the poor have come up as a memorial offering[q] before God.[r] [5]Now send men to Joppa[s] to bring back a man named Simon who is called Peter. [6]He is staying with Simon the tanner,[t] whose house is by the sea."

[7]When the angel who spoke to him had gone, Cornelius called two of his servants and a devout soldier who was one of his attendants. [8]He told them everything that had happened and sent them to Joppa.[u]

Peter's Vision

10:9–32Ref — Ac 11:5–14

[9]About noon the following day as they were on their journey and approaching the city, Peter went up on the roof[v] to pray. [10]He became hungry and wanted something to eat, and while the meal was being prepared, he fell into a trance.[w] [11]He saw heaven opened[x] and something like a large sheet being let down to earth by its four corners. [12]It contained all kinds of four-footed ani-teachings of the Jews.

10:3 about three in the afternoon. Another indication that Cornelius followed Jewish religious practices. Three in the afternoon was a Jewish hour of prayer (see 3:1)—the hour of the evening incense. a vision. Not a dream or trance but a revelation through an angel to Cornelius while at prayer (see v. 30; see also note on 9:11).

10:4 memorial offering. A portion of the grain offering burned on the altar was called a "memorial" (Lev 2:2).

10:5–6 Joppa . . . Simon the tanner. See notes on 9:36,43.

10:9 roof to pray. It was customary for eastern houses to have flat roofs with outside stairways. The roof was used as a convenient place for relaxation and privacy.

10:10 fell into a trance. A state of mind God produced and used to communicate with Peter. It was not merely imagination or a dream. Peter's consciousness was heightened to receive the vision from God.

10:12 all kinds of four-footed animals. Including animals

God has made clean."[a] 16This happened three times, and im-both clean and unclean according to Lev 11.

10:14 Surely not, Lord! So deeply ingrained was the observance of the laws of clean and unclean that Peter refused to obey immediately. impure or unclean. Anything common (impure) was forbidden by the law to be eaten.
10:15 God has made clean. Jesus had already laid the groundwork for setting aside the laws of clean and unclean food (Mt 15:11; see 1Ti 4:3–5).

Peter at Cornelius's House

The next day Peter started out with them, and some of the brothers[i] from Joppa went along.[j] 24The following day he arrived in Caesarea.[k] Cornelius was expecting them and had called together his relatives and close friends. 25As Peter entered the house, Cornelius met him and fell at his feet in reverence. 26But Peter made him get up. "Stand up," he said, "I am only a man myself."[l]

27Talking with him, Peter went inside and found a large gathering of people.[m] 28He said to them: "You are well aware that it is against our law for a Jew to associate with a Gentile or visit him.[n] But God has shown me that I should not call any man impure or unclean.[o] 29So when I was sent for, I came without raising any objection. May I ask why you sent for me?"

30Cornelius answered: "Four days ago I was in my house praying at this hour, at three in the afternoon. Suddenly a man in shining clothes[p] stood before me 31and said, 'Cornelius, God has heard your prayer and remembered your gifts to the poor. 32Send to Joppa for Simon who is called Peter. He is a guest in the home of Simon the tanner, who lives by the sea.' 33So I sent for you immediately, and it was good of you to come. Now we are all here in the presence of God to listen to everything the Lord has commanded you to tell us."

34Then Peter began to speak: "I now realize how true it is that God does not show favoritism[q] 35but accepts men from every nation who fear him and do what is right.[r] 36You know the message[s] God sent to the people of Israel, telling the good news[t] of peace[u] through Jesus Christ, who is Lord of all.[v] 37You know what has happened throughout Judea, beginning in Galilee after the baptism that John preached— 38how God anointed[w] Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Spirit and power, and how he went around doing good and healing[x] all who were under the power of the devil, because God was with him.[y]

39"We are witnesses[z] of everything he did in the country of the Jews and in Jerusalem. They killed him by hanging him on a tree,[a] 40but God raised him from the dead[b] on the third day and caused him to be seen. 41He was not seen by all the people,[c] but by witnesses whom God had already chosen—by us who ate[d] and drank with him after he rose from the dead. 42He commanded us to preach to the people[e] and to testify that he is the one whom God appointed as judge of the living and the dead.[f] 43All the prophets testify about him[g] that everyone[h] who believes[i] in him receives forgiveness of sins through his name."[j]

44While Peter was still speaking these words, the Holy Spirit came on[k] all who heard the message. 45The circumcised believers who had come with Peter[l] were astonished that the gift of the Holy Spirit had been poured out[m] even on the Gentiles.[n] 46For they heard them speaking in tongues[ro] and praising God.

Then Peter said, 47"Can anyone keep these people from being baptized with journey to Caesarea (see note on v. 1). some of the brothers. Six in number (11:12), they were Jewish in background (10:45).

10:26 I am only a man. Possibly Cornelius was only intending to honor Peter as one having a rank superior to his own, since he was God's messenger. But Peter allowed no chance for misunderstanding—he was not to be worshiped as more than a created being.

10:28 God has shown me. Peter recognized that his vision had deeper significance than declaring invalid the distinction between clean and unclean meat; he saw that the barrier between Jew and Gentile had been removed (see Eph 2:11–22).

10:30 Four days ago. The Jews counted a part of a day as a day: (1) the day the angel appeared to Cornelius, (2) the day the messengers came to Joppa and Peter received a vision, (3) the day the group set out from Joppa and (4) the day they arrived at Cornelius's house. a man in shining clothes. Common language to describe an angel when appearing in the form of a man.

10:34 God does not show favoritism. God does not favor an individual because of his station in life, his nationality or his material possessions (see note on Jas 2:1). He does, however, respect his character and judge his work. This is evident because God "accepts men from every nation who fear him and do what is right" (v. 35). Cornelius already worshiped the true God, but this was not enough: He lacked faith in Christ (v. 36).

10:36 peace. Between God and man (reconciliation). Lord of all. Lord of both Jew and Gentile (see vv. 34–35).

10:37 after the baptism that John preached. Similar to the outline of Mark's Gospel, Peter's sermon begins with John's baptism and continues to the resurrection of Jesus. This is significant since the early church fathers viewed Mark as the "interpreter" of Peter (see Introduction to Mark: Author). See previous summaries of Peter's preaching (2:14–41; 3:12–26; 4:8–12; 5:29–32); see also note on 2:14–40.

10:38 how God anointed Jesus. See Isa 61:1–3; Lk 4:18–21.

10:39 hanging him on a tree. See note on 5:30.

10:41 who ate and drank. Those who ate with Jesus after he rose from the dead received unmistakable evidence of his bodily resurrection (see Lk 24:42–43; Jn 21:12–15).

10:44 the Holy Spirit came on. See 8:16 and note.

10:45 astonished . . . even on the Gentiles. Apparently the early Jewish Christians failed to understand that the gospel was for the Gentiles as well as for the Jews, and that they would share alike in the benefits of redemption. Gentile proselytes to Judaism, however, were accepted (see 6:5).

water?[p] They have received the Holy Spirit just as we have."[q] [48]So he ordered that they be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ.[r] Then they asked Peter to stay with them for a few days.

Peter Explains His Actions

11 The apostles and the brothers[s] throughout Judea heard that the Gentiles also had received the word of God.[t] [2]So when Peter went up to Jerusalem, the circumcised believers[u] criticized him [3]and said, "You went into the house of uncircumcised men and ate with them."[v]

[4]Peter began and explained everything to them precisely as it had happened: [5]"I was in the city of Joppa praying, and in a trance I saw a vision.[w] I saw something like a large sheet being let down from heaven by its four corners, and it came down to where I was. [6]I looked into it and saw four-footed animals of the earth, wild beasts, reptiles, and birds of the air. [7]Then I heard a voice telling me, 'Get up, Peter. Kill and eat.'

[8]"I replied, 'Surely not, Lord! Nothing impure or unclean has ever entered my mouth.'

[9]"The voice spoke from heaven a second time, 'Do not call anything impure that God has made clean.'[x] [10]This happened three times, and then it was all pulled up to heaven again.

[11]"Right then three men who had been sent to me from Caesarea[y] stopped at the house where I was staying. [12]The Spirit told[z] me to have no hesitation about going with them.[a] These six brothers[b] also went with me, and we entered the man's house. [13]He told us how he had seen an angel[c] appear in his house and say, 'Send to Joppa for Simon who is called Peter. [14]He will bring you a message[d] through which you and all your household[e] will be saved.'

[15]"As I began to speak, the Holy Spirit came on[f] them as he had come on us at the beginning.[g] [16]Then I remembered what the Lord had said: 'John baptized with[s] water,[h] but you will be baptized with the Holy Spirit.'[i] [17]So if God gave them the same gift[j] as he gave us,[k] who believed in the Lord Jesus Christ, who was I to think that I could oppose God?"

[18]When they heard this, they had no further objections and praised God, saying, "So then, God has granted even the Gentiles repentance unto life."[l]

The Church in Antioch

[19]Now those who had been scattered by the persecution in connection with Stephen[m] traveled as far as Phoenicia, Cyprus and Antioch,[n] telling the message only to Jews. [20]Some of them, however, men from Cyprus[o] and Cyrene,[p] went to Antioch[q] and began to speak to Greeks also, telling them the good news[r] about the Lord Jesus. [21]The Lord's hand was with them,[s] and a great number of people believed and turned to the Lord.[t]

[22]News of this reached the ears of the church at Jerusalem, and they sent Barnabas[u] to Antioch. [23]When he arrived and saw the evidence of the grace of with water? The Gentiles had received the same gift (11:17) as the Jewish believers; they spoke in tongues as did the Jewish Christians on the day of Pentecost. This was unavoidable evidence that the invitation to the kingdom was open to Gentiles as well as to Jews.

11:1 The apostles and the brothers. At times "brothers" is used to refer to those of common Jewish lineage (2:29; 7:2), but in Christian contexts it denotes those united in Christ (6:3; 10:23). In matters of deep concern, the apostles did not act alone. The divine will gave guidance, and the apostles interpreted and exhorted, but the consent of the whole church was sought ("the whole group," 6:5; "apostles and the brothers," 11:1; "the church," 11:22; "the church and the apostles and elders," 15:4; cf. 15:22).

11:2 circumcised believers. Jewish Christians.

11:3 uncircumcised men. The Gentiles who would not observe the laws of clean and unclean food and would violate Jewish regulations concerning food preparation.

11:4–17 See notes on 10:1–23,28–33.

11:14 you and all your household. Not only the family but also slaves and employed individuals under Cornelius's authority (see note on Ge 6:18).

11:17 oppose God. Peter could not deny the Gentiles the invitation to be baptized (10:47) and to enjoy full fellowship in Christ with all believers. The Jewish believers were compelled to recognize that God was going to save Gentiles on equal terms with Jews. By divine action rather than by human choice, the door was being opened to Gentiles.

11:18 repentance unto life. A change of one's attitude toward sin, which leads to a turning from sin to God and results in eternal life (see note on 2:38).

11:19 Phoenicia. A country about 15 miles wide and 120 miles long stretching along the northeastern Mediterranean coast (modern Lebanon). Its important cities were Tyre and Sidon. Cyprus. An island in the northeastern Mediterranean; the home of Barnabas (4:36). Antioch. The third city of the Roman empire (after Rome and Alexandria). It was 15 miles inland from the northeast corner of the Mediterranean. The first largely Gentile local church was located here, and it was from this church that Paul's three missionary journeys were launched (13:1–4; 15:40; 18:23).

11:20 Cyrene. See note on 2:10. Greeks. Not Greek-speaking Jews, but Gentiles.

11:21 Lord's hand. Cf. 4:30; 13:11; cf. also Lk 1:66. It indicates divine approval and blessing, sometimes evidenced by signs and wonders (see Ex 8:19).

11:22 Barnabas. See notes on 4:36; 9:27. Antioch. See note on v. 19. The sending of Barnabas was apparently in keeping with the Jerusalem church's policy of sending leaders to check on new ministries that came to their attention (see 8:14).

God,[v] he was glad and encouraged them all to remain true to the Lord with all their hearts.[w] [24]He was a good man, full of the Holy Spirit[x] and faith, and a great number of people were brought to the Lord.[y]

[25]Then Barnabas went to Tarsus[z] to look for Saul, [26]and when he found him, he brought him to Antioch. So for a whole year Barnabas and Saul met with the church and taught great numbers of people. The disciples[a] were called Christians first[b] at Antioch.

[27]During this time some prophets[c] came down from Jerusalem to Antioch. [28]One of them, named Agabus,[d] stood up and through the Spirit predicted that a severe famine would spread over the entire Roman world.[e] (This happened during the reign of Claudius.)[f] [29]The disciples,[g] each according to his ability, decided to provide help[h] for the brothers[i] living in Judea. [30]This they did, sending their gift to the elders[j] by Barnabas[k] and Saul.[l]

Peter's Miraculous Escape From Prison

12 It was about this time that King Herod[m] arrested some who belonged to the church, intending to persecute them. [2]He had James, the brother of John,[n] put to death with the sword.[o] [3]When he saw that this pleased the Jews,[p] he proceeded to seize Peter also. This happened during the Feast of Unleavened Bread.[q] [4]After arresting him, he put him in prison, handing him over to be guarded by four squads of four soldiers each. Herod intended to bring him out for public trial after the Passover.[r]

[5]So Peter was kept in prison, but the church was earnestly praying to God for him.[s]

[6]The night before Herod was to bring him to trial, Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains,[t] and sentries stood guard at the entrance. [7]Suddenly an angel[u] of the Lord appeared and a light shone in the cell. He struck Peter on the side and woke him up. "Quick, get up!" he said, and the chains fell off Peter's wrists.[v]

[8]Then the angel said to him, "Put on your clothes and sandals." And Peter did so. "Wrap your cloak around you and follow me," the angel told him. [9]Peter followed him out of the prison, but he had no idea that what the angel was doing was really happening; he thought he was seeing a vision.[w] [10]They passed the first and second guards and came to the iron gate leading to the city. It opened for them by itself,[x] and they went through it. When they had walked the length of one street, suddenly the angel left him.

[11]Then Peter came to himself[y] and said, "Now I know without a doubt that the Lord sent his angel and rescued me[z] from Herod's clutches and from everything the Jewish people were anticipating."

[12]When this had dawned on him, he

11:24 full of the Holy Spirit and faith. See the description of Stephen (6:5).

11:25 Tarsus. See 9:11,30 and note on 22:3.

11:26 whole year. Luke notes definite periods of time (18:11; 19:8,10; 24:27; 28:30). Christians. Whether adopted by believers or invented by enemies as a term of reproach, it is an apt title for those "belonging to Christ" (the meaning of the term).

11:27 prophets. The first mention of the gift of prophecy in Acts. Prophets preach, exhort, explain or, as in this case, foretell (see 13:1; 15:32; 19:6; 21:9–10; Ro 12:6; 1Co 12:10; 13:2,8; 14:3,6,29–37; see also notes on Jnh 3:2; Zec 1:1; Eph 4:11).

11:28 Agabus. Later foretells Paul's imprisonment (21:10). In Acts, prophets are engaged in foretelling (v. 27; 21:9–10) at least as often as in "forthtelling" (15:32).

11:30 elders. First reference to them in Acts (see notes on 1Ti 3:1; 5:17). Since the apostles are not mentioned, they may have been absent from Jerusalem at this time.

12:1 about this time. Some hold that the events recorded in ch. 12 group together matters concerning Herod and may not be in strict chronological order. For example, the arrival of Barnabas and Saul in Jerusalem (11:30) may have followed Herod's persecution and Peter's release from prison. Since the date of Herod's death was A.D. 44, these events would probably have occurred in 43. According to this view, the famine of 11:28 occurred c. 46, following Herod's death (v. 23). Others hold that such juggling of events is not necessary. Thus the relief gift of 11:30 came before Herod's death in 44, and the return of Barnabas and Saul (v. 25) followed Herod's death. According to the former view, the Jerusalem visit of Gal 2:1–10 was the famine visit of v. 25; 11:30. According to the latter view, the Gal 2:1 visit was the Jerusalem council visit of 15:1–29. King Herod. Agrippa I, grandson of Herod the Great (see notes on Mt 2:1; 14:1) and son of Aristobulus. He was a nephew of Herod Antipas, who had beheaded John the Baptist (Mt 14:3–12) and had tried Jesus (Lk 23:8–12). When Antipas was exiled, Agrippa received his tetrarchy as well as those of Philip and Lysanias (see Lk 3:1). In A.D. 41 Judea and Samaria were added to his realm.

12:2 James. Brother of John the apostle and son of Zebedee (Mt 4:21). This event took place about ten years after Jesus' death and resurrection. Jesus had warned of their coming suffering (Mt 20:23). death with the sword. Beheaded, like John the Baptist.

12:3 Feast of Unleavened Bread. See note on Lk 22:1.

12:4 four squads. One company of four soldiers for each of the four watches of the night. Passover. Another way of referring to the whole week of the festival (see note on Lk 22:1).

12:7 a light shone. The glory of the Lord (see Lk 2:9).

12:9 prison. Probably the tower of Antonia, located at the northwest corner of the temple—the "barracks" where Paul was later held (see 21:34).

12:12 Mary. The aunt of Barnabas (see Col 4:10). Apparently her home was a gathering place for Christians. It may have been the location of the upper room where the Last Supper was held (see Mk 14:13–15; see also Ac 1:13) and the place of prayer in 4:31. John ... Mark. See went to the house of Mary the mother of John, also called Mark,[a] where many people had gathered and were praying.[b] 13Peter knocked at the outer entrance, and a servant girl named Rhoda came to answer the door.[c] 14When she recognized Peter's voice, she was so overjoyed[d] she ran back without opening it and exclaimed, "Peter is at the door!"

15"You're out of your mind," they told her. When she kept insisting that it was so, they said, "It must be his angel."[e]

16But Peter kept on knocking, and when they opened the door and saw him, they were astonished. 17Peter motioned with his hand[f] for them to be quiet and described how the Lord had brought him out of prison. "Tell James[g] and the brothers[h] about this," he said, and then he left for another place.

18In the morning, there was no small commotion among the soldiers as to what had become of Peter. 19After Herod had a thorough search made for him and did not find him, he cross-examined the guards and ordered that they be executed.[i]

Herod's Death

Then Herod went from Judea to Caesarea[j] and stayed there a while. 20He had been quarreling with the people of Tyre and Sidon;[k] they now joined together and sought an audience with him. Having secured the support of Blastus, a trusted personal servant of the king, they asked for peace, because they depended on the king's country for their food supply.[l]

21On the appointed day Herod, wearing his royal robes, sat on his throne and delivered a public address to the people. 22They shouted, "This is the voice of a god, not of a man." 23Immediately, because Herod did not give praise to God, an angel[m] of the Lord struck him down,[n] and he was eaten by worms and died.

24But the word of God[o] continued to increase and spread.[p]

25When Barnabas[q] and Saul had finished their mission,[r] they returned from[t] Jerusalem, taking with them John, also called Mark.[s]

Barnabas and Saul Sent Off

13 In the church at Antioch[t] there were prophets[u] and teachers:[v] Barnabas,[w] Simeon called Niger, Lucius of Cyrene,[x] Manaen (who had been brought up with Herod[y] the tetrarch) and Saul. 2While they were worshiping the Lord and fasting, the Holy Spirit said,[z] "Set apart for me Barnabas and Saul for the work[a] to which I have called them."[b] 3So after they had fasted

12:13 Rhoda. A hired servant, but in sympathy with the family and the church.

12:15 his angel. Reflects the belief that everyone has a personal angel who ministers to him (cf. Mt 18:10; Heb 1:14), adding the idea that such an angel occasionally showed himself and that his appearance resembled the person under his care.

12:16 they were astonished. Though they had been "earnestly praying to God for him" (v. 5).

12:17 James. The Lord's brother, a leader in the Jerusalem church (Gal 1:19). James, the brother of John, had been killed (see v. 2).

12:19 Caesarea. Not only a headquarters for Roman procurators, but Agrippa used it as his capital when no procurators were assigned to Judea (see notes on 8:40; 10:1).

12:20 Tyre and Sidon. The leading cities of Phoenicia (Lebanon today). They were dependent on the grainfields of Galilee for their food. Blastus. The treasurer; not otherwise known.

12:21 On the appointed day. A festival Herod was celebrating in honor of Claudius Caesar (Josephus, Antiquities, 19.8.2). wearing his royal robes. The historian Josephus describes a silver robe, dazzling bright, that Herod wore that day. When people acclaimed him a god, he did not deny it. He was seized with violent pains, was carried out and died five days later (Josephus, Antiquities, 19.8.2).

12:23 angel of the Lord. See note on v. 7. eaten by worms. A miserable death associated with Herod's acceptance of acclaim to be divine, but may also be seen as divine retribution for his persecution of the church.

12:24 the word of God ... spread. Third summary report of progress (see 6:7; 9:31). Three more follow (16:5; 19:20; 28:31).

12:25 John ... Mark. See v. 12. He was perhaps the young man who fled on the night of Jesus' arrest (Mk 14:51–52). He wrote the second Gospel (see Introduction to Mark: Author; John Mark in the NT) and accompanied Barnabas and Saul on the first part of their first missionary journey (see notes on 15:38–39).

13:1 prophets. See note on 11:27. The special gift of inspiration experienced by OT prophets (Dt 18:18–20; 2Pe 1:21) was known in the NT as well (2:17–18; 1Co 14:29–32; Eph 3:5). The prophets are second to the apostles in Paul's lists (1Co 12:28–29; Eph 2:20; 4:11; but cf. Lk 11:49; Ro 12:6; 1Co 12:10). teachers. See 11:26; 15:35; 18:11; 20:20; 28:31; 1Co 12:28–29; Eph 4:11. Barnabas ... Saul. The church leaders at Antioch, perhaps listed in the order of their importance. Barnabas. See note on 4:36. He was sent originally to Antioch by the church in Jerusalem (11:22), had recently returned from taking alms to Jerusalem (12:25) and was a recognized leader in the church at Antioch. Simeon called Niger. "Simeon" suggests Jewish background; in that case, Niger (Latin for "black") may indicate his dark complexion. Lucius of Cyrene. Lucius is a Latin name. In the second group of preachers coming to Antioch, some were from Cyrene (11:20), capital of Libya (see 6:9 and note). Manaen. In Hebrew, Menahem. Since he was the foster brother of Herod Antipas, he would be able to tell of the thoughts and actions of Herod (see Lk 9:7–9).

13:2 worshiping the Lord and fasting. Paul's first missionary journey did not result from a planning session but from the Spirit's initiative as the leaders worshiped (see v. 4). The communication from the Holy Spirit may have come through the prophets.

13:3 placed their hands on them. For the purpose of separating the two for the designated work (see 14:26 for and prayed, they placed their hands on them[c] and sent them off.[d]

On Cyprus

[4]The two of them, sent on their way by the Holy Spirit,[e] went down to Seleucia and sailed from there to Cyprus.[f] [5]When they arrived at Salamis, they proclaimed the word of God[g] in the Jewish synagogues.[h] John[i] was with them as their helper.

[6]They traveled through the whole island until they came to Paphos. There they met a Jewish sorcerer[j] and false prophet[k] named Bar-Jesus, [7]who was an attendant of the proconsul,[l] Sergius Paulus. The proconsul, an intelligent man, sent for Barnabas and Saul because he wanted to hear the word of God. [8]But Elymas the sorcerer[m] (for that is what his name means) opposed them and tried to turn the proconsul[n] from the faith.[o] [9]Then Saul, who was also called Paul, filled with the Holy Spirit,[p] looked straight at Elymas and said, [10]"You are a child of the devil[q] and an enemy of everything that is right! You are full of all kinds of deceit and trickery. Will you never stop perverting the right ways of the Lord?[r] [11]Now the hand of the Lord is against you.[s] You are going to be blind, and for a time you will be unable to see the light of the sun."[t]

Immediately mist and darkness came over him, and he groped about, seeking someone to lead him by the hand. [12]When the proconsul[u] saw what had happened, he believed, for he was amazed at the teaching about the Lord.

the completion of the mission). Fasting and prayer accompany this appointment (see 14:23; cf. Lk 2:37).

13:4 See map No. 11 at the end of the study Bible. Seleucia. The seaport of Antioch (16 miles to the west, and 5 miles upstream from the mouth of the Orontes River). Cyprus. Many Jews lived there, and the gospel had already been preached there (11:19–20; see note on 11:19).

13:5 Salamis. A town on the east coast of the central plain of Cyprus, near modern Famagusta. John. John Mark, a cousin of Barnabas (see Col 4:10); see also note on 12:25.

13:6 Paphos. At the western end of Cyprus, nearly 100 miles from Salamis. It was the headquarters for Roman rule. Bar-Jesus. "Bar" is Aramaic for "son of"; "Jesus" is derived from the Greek for "Joshua" (see NIV text note on Mt 1:21).

13:7 proconsul. Since Cyprus was a Roman senatorial province, a proconsul was assigned to it.

13:8 Elymas. A Semitic name meaning "sorcerer" or "magician" or "wise man" (probably a self-assumed designation).

13:9 Saul ... called Paul. The names mean "asked [of God]" and "little" respectively. It was customary to have a given name, in this case Saul (Hebrew, Jewish background), and a later name, in this case Paul (Roman, Hellenistic background). From now on Saul is called Paul in Acts. This may be due to Saul's success in preaching to Paulus or to the fact that he is now entering the Gentile phase of his ministry. The order in which they are mentioned now changes from "Barnabas and Saul" to "Paul and Barnabas." Upon their return to the Jerusalem church, however, the order reverts to "Barnabas and Paul" (15:12).

13:12 he believed. He was convinced by the miracle and the message.

13:13 Perga in Pamphylia. Perga was the capital of Pamphylia, a coastal province of Asia Minor between the provinces of Lycia and Cilicia, and was 5 miles inland and 12 panions sailed to Perga in Pamphylia,[w] where John[x] left them to return to Jerusalem. [14]From Perga they went on to Pisidian Antioch.[y] On the Sabbath[z] they entered the synagogue[a] and sat down. [15]After the reading from the Law[b] and the Prophets, the synagogue rulers sent word to them, saying, "Brothers, if you have a message of encouragement for the people, please speak."

[16]Standing up, Paul motioned with his hand[c] and said: "Men of Israel and you Gentiles who worship God, listen to me! [17]The God of the people of Israel chose our fathers; he made the people prosper during their stay in Egypt, with mighty power he led them out of that country,[d] [18]he endured their conduct[u][e] for about forty years in the desert,[f] [19]he overthrew seven nations in Canaan[g] and gave their land to his people[h] as their inheritance.[i] [20]All this took about 450 years.

"After this, God gave them judges[j] until the time of Samuel the prophet.[k] [21]Then the people asked for a king,[l] and he gave them Saul[m] son of Kish, of the tribe of Benjamin,[n] who ruled forty years. [22]After removing Saul,[o] he made David their king.[p] He testified concerning him: 'I have found David son of Jesse a man after my own heart;[q] he will do everything I want him to do.'[r]

[23]"From this man's descendants[s] God has brought to Israel the Savior[t] Jesus,[u] as he promised.[v] [24]Before the coming of Jesus, John preached repentance and baptism to all the people of Israel.[w] [25]As John was completing his work,[x] he said: 'Who do you think I am? I am not that one.[y] No, but he is coming after me, whose sandals I am not worthy to untie.'[z]

[26]"Brothers,[a] children of Abraham,[b] and you God-fearing Gentiles, it is to us that this message of salvation[c] has been sent. [27]The people of Jerusalem and their rulers did not recognize Jesus,[d] yet in condemning him they fulfilled the words of the prophets[e] that are read every Sabbath. [28]Though they found no proper ground for a death sentence, they asked Pilate to have him executed.[f] [29]When they had carried out all that was written about him,[g] they took him down from the tree[h] and laid him in a tomb.[i] [30]But God raised him from the dead,[j] [31]and for many days he was seen by those who had traveled with him from Galilee to Jerusalem.[k] They are now his witnesses[l] to our people.

[32]"We tell you the good news:[m] What God promised our fathers[n] [33]he has fulfilled for us, their children, by raising up Jesus.[o] As it is written in the second Psalm:

> " 'You are my Son;
> today I have become your > Father.'[v][w][p]

[34]The fact that God raised him from the dead, never to decay, is stated in these words:

> " 'I will give you the holy and sure > blessings promised to > David.'[x][q]

[35]So it is stated elsewhere:

> " 'You will not let your Holy One see > decay.'[y][r]

[36]"For when David had served God's miles east of the important seaport Attalia. John left them. Homesickness to get back to Jerusalem, an illness of Paul necessitating a change in plans and a trip to Galatia, and a change in leadership from Barnabas to Paul have all been suggested as reasons for John Mark's return. Paul's dissatisfaction with his departure is noted later (15:37–39).

13:14 Pisidian. See note on 14:24. Antioch. Named after Antiochus, king of Syria after the death of Alexander the Great. It was 110 miles from Perga and was at the hub of good roads and trade. The city had a large Jewish population. It was a Roman colony, which meant that a contingent of retired military men was settled there. They were given free land and were made citizens of the city of Rome, with all the accompanying privileges. synagogue. Paul's regular practice was to begin his preaching in the synagogue as long as the Jews would allow it (see v. 5; 14:1; 17:1,10,17; 18:4,19; 19:8). His reason for doing so was grounded in his understanding of God's redemptive plan (see v. 46; Ro 1:16; 2:9–10; see also Ro 9–11). He was not neglecting his Gentile mission, for the God-fearers (Gentiles committed to worshiping the one true God) were part of the audience. Moreover, the synagogue provided a ready-made preaching situation with a building, regularly scheduled meetings and a people who knew the OT Scriptures. It was customary to invite visitors, and especially visiting rabbis (such as Paul), to address the gathering.

13:15 the Law and the Prophets. Sections from the OT were read, followed by exposition and exhortation. rulers. Those who were responsible for calling readers and preachers, arranging the service and maintaining order.

13:16 Gentiles who worship God. See note on 10:2.

13:20 about 450 years. The 400 years of the "stay in Egypt" (v. 17; see note on 7:6) plus the 40 years in the desert and the time between the crossing of the Jordan and the distribution of the land (see Jos 14–19).

13:23 as he promised. See, e.g., Isa 11:1–16.

13:29–31 tree . . . tomb . . . God raised . . . witnesses. See note on 3:14.

13:31 many days. Forty days (see 1:3).

13:33 today I have become your Father. Here refers to the resurrection of Jesus (see NIV text note here and note on Ps 2:7–9; cf. Ro 1:4).

13:35 not let your Holy One see decay. Quoted also in Peter's sermon at Pentecost (see note on 2:27).

purpose in his own generation, he fell asleep;[s] he was buried with his fathers[t] and his body decayed. [37]But the one whom God raised from the dead[u] did not see decay.

[38]"Therefore, my brothers, I want you to know that through Jesus the forgiveness of sins is proclaimed to you.[v] [39]Through him everyone who believes[w] is justified from everything you could not be justified from by the law of Moses.[x] [40]Take care that what the prophets have said does not happen to you:

[41]" 'Look, you scoffers, wonder and perish, for I am going to do something in your days that you would never believe, even if someone told you.'[z]"[y]

[42]As Paul and Barnabas were leaving the synagogue,[z] the people invited them to speak further about these things on the next Sabbath. [43]When the congregation was dismissed, many of the Jews and devout converts to Judaism followed Paul and Barnabas, who talked with them and urged them to continue in the grace of God.[a]

[44]On the next Sabbath almost the whole city gathered to hear the word of the Lord. [45]When the Jews saw the crowds, they were filled with jealousy and talked abusively[b] against what Paul was saying.[c]

[46]Then Paul and Barnabas answered them boldly: "We had to speak the word of God to you first.[d] Since you reject it and do not consider yourselves worthy of eternal life, we now turn to the Gentiles.[e] [47]For this is what the Lord has commanded us:

" 'I have made you[a] a light for the Gentiles,[f] that you[a] may bring salvation to the ends of the earth.'[b]"[g]

[48]When the Gentiles heard this, they were glad and honored the word of the Lord;[h] and all who were appointed for eternal life believed.

[49]The word of the Lord[i] spread through the whole region. [50]But the Jews incited the God-fearing women of high standing and the leading men of the city. They stirred up persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and expelled them from their region.[j] [51]So they shook the dust from their feet[k] in protest against them and went to Iconium.[l] [52]And the disciples[m] were filled with joy and with the Holy Spirit.[n]

In Iconium

14 At Iconium[o] Paul and Barnabas went as usual into the Jewish synagogue.[p] There they spoke so effectively that a great number[q] of Jews and Gentiles believed. [2]But the Jews who refused to believe stirred up the Gentiles and poisoned their minds against the brothers.[r] [3]So Paul and Barnabas spent considerable time there, speaking boldly[s] for the Lord, who confirmed the message of his grace by enabling them to do miraculous signs and wonders.[t] [4]The people of the city were divided; some sided with the Jews, others with the apostles.[u] [5]There was a plot afoot among the Gentiles and Jews,[v] together with their leaders, to mistreat them and stone them.[w] [6]But they found out about it and fled[x] to the Lycaonian cities of Lystra and Derbe and to the surrounding country, [7]where they continued to preach[y] the good news.[z]

In Lystra and Derbe

[8]In Lystra there sat a man crippled in his feet, who was lame from birth[a] and had never walked. [9]He listened to Paul as he was speaking. Paul looked directly at him, saw that he had faith to be healed[b]

13:39 justified from. Justification combines two aspects: (1) the forgiveness of sins (here); (2) the gift of righteousness (Ro 3:21–22).

13:46 had to speak . . . to you first. Since the gospel came from and was for the Jews first and since Paul was himself a Jew with great compassion for his people (Ro 9:1–5; 10:1–3). See note on v. 14.

13:48 all who were appointed for eternal life believed. Possession of eternal life involves both human faith and divine appointment.

13:51 shook the dust. To show the severance of responsibility and the repudiation of those who had rejected their message and had brought suffering to the servants of the Lord (see note on Lk 9:5). Iconium. Modern Konya; it was an important crossroads and agricultural center in the central plain of the province of Galatia.

13:52 filled . . . with the Holy Spirit. See note on 2:4.

14:1 great number. At first there was good success, then bitter opposition from the Jews (v. 2). But these evidently failed in their initial attempt, for Paul and Barnabas remained there a considerable time (v. 3). A second wave of persecution was planned, involving violence (v. 5).

14:3 confirmed . . . by . . . miraculous signs. A major purpose of miracles was to confirm the truth of the words and the approval of God.

14:4 apostles. Both Paul and Barnabas are called apostles (see v. 14; see also note on Mk 6:30). The term is used here not of the Twelve but in the broader sense to refer to persons sent on a mission, i.e., missionaries (see 13:2–3).

14:5 stone them. A Jewish mode of execution for blasphemy. Probably mob action was planned here.

14:6 Lycaonian cities. Lycaonia was a district east of Pisidia, north of the Taurus Mountains. It was part of the Roman province of Galatia. Lystra. A Roman colony (see note on 13:14) and probable home of Timothy (though he was known in Iconium as well), it was about 20 miles from Iconium and 130 miles from Antioch. Derbe. About 60 miles from Lystra; home of Gaius (see 20:4 and note on 14:20).

[10]and called out, "Stand up on your feet!"[c] At that, the man jumped up and began to walk.[d]

[11]When the crowd saw what Paul had done, they shouted in the Lycaonian language, "The gods have come down to us in human form!"[e] [12]Barnabas they called Zeus, and Paul they called Hermes because he was the chief speaker.[f] [13]The priest of Zeus, whose temple was just outside the city, brought bulls and wreaths to the city gates because he and the crowd wanted to offer sacrifices to them.

[14]But when the apostles Barnabas and Paul heard of this, they tore their clothes[g] and rushed out into the crowd, shouting: [15]"Men, why are you doing this? We too are only men,[h] human like you. We are bringing you good news,[i] telling you to turn from these worthless things[j] to the living God,[k] who made heaven and earth[l] and sea and everything in them.[m] [16]In the past, he let[n] all nations go their own way.[o] [17]Yet he has not left himself without testimony:[p] He has shown kindness by giving you rain from heaven and crops in their seasons;[q] he provides you with plenty of food and fills your hearts with joy."[r] [18]Even with these words, they had difficulty keeping the crowd from sacrificing to them.

[19]Then some Jews[s] came from Antioch and Iconium[t] and won the crowd over. They stoned Paul[u] and dragged him outside the city, thinking he was dead. [20]But after the disciples[v] had gathered around him, he got up and went back into the city. The next day he and Barnabas left for Derbe.

The Return to Antioch in Syria

[21]They preached the good news[w] in that city and won a large number[x] of disciples. Then they returned to Lystra, Iconium[y] and Antioch, [22]strengthening the disciples and encouraging them to remain true to the faith.[z] "We must go through many hardships[a] to enter the kingdom of God," they said. [23]Paul and Barnabas appointed elders[c][b] for them in each church and, with prayer and fasting,[c] committed them to the Lord,[d] in whom they had put their trust. [24]After going through Pisidia, they came into Pamphylia,[e] [25]and when they had preached the word in Perga, they went down to Attalia.

[26]From Attalia they sailed back to Antioch,[f] where they had been committed to the grace of God[g] for the work they had now completed.[h] [27]On arriving there, they gathered the church together and reported all that God had done through them[i] and how he had opened the door[j] of faith to the Gentiles. [28]And they stayed there a long time with the disciples.[k]

The Council at Jerusalem

15 Some men[l] came down from Judea to Antioch and were teaching the brothers:[m] "Unless you are circum-

[c]23 Or Barnabas ordained elders; or Barnabas had elders elected

14:12 Zeus ... Hermes. Zeus was the patron god of the city, and his temple was there. People who came to bring sacrifices to Zeus apparently decided to make an offering to Paul and Barnabas instead. The identification of Zeus with Barnabas may indicate that his appearance was more imposing, and Paul was identified as the god Hermes (the Roman Mercury) because he was the spokesman (see 28:6). This incident may have been occasioned by an ancient legend that told of a supposed visit to the same general area by Zeus and Hermes. They were, however, not recognized by anyone except an old couple. So the people of Lystra were determined not to allow such an oversight to happen again.

14:13 city gates. The Greek for this expression can refer to the temple gates, the city gates or house gates.

14:14 tore their clothes. A Jewish way of expressing great anguish (see Ge 37:29,34).

14:15 worthless things. Used in the OT to denote false gods (see 1Sa 12:21).

14:19 They stoned Paul. Inside the city rather than at the usual place of execution outside the walls (cf. 2Co 11:25).

14:20 disciples had gathered around him. Young Timothy may have been present (see 2Ti 3:10–11). Derbe. A border town in the southeastern part of the Lycaonian region of Galatia (see note on v. 6). An inscription naming the city has been discovered about 30 miles east of what was previously thought to be the city site.

14:23 appointed. The Greek for this word (used also in 2Co 8:19) can mean (1) to stretch out the hand, (2) to appoint by show of hands or (3) to appoint or elect without regard to the method. In 6:6 the appointment of the Seven included selection by the church and presentation to the apostles, who prayed and laid their hands on them. Because these were new churches, at least partly pagan in background, Paul and Barnabas may have both selected and appointed the elders.

14:24 Pisidia. A district about 120 miles long and 50 miles wide, north of Pamphylia (13:13–14). Bandits frequented the region (see perhaps 2Co 11:26). Pamphylia. A district 80 miles long and 20 miles at the widest part, on the southern coast of Asia Minor. After A.D. 74 Pisidia was included in the Roman province of Pamphylia (see 13:13).

14:25 Perga. See note on 13:13. Attalia. The best harbor on the coast of Pamphylia (see 13:13).

14:26 Antioch. See 11:20; see also note on 11:19.

14:27 opened the door of faith. God had brought Gentiles to faith—had, as it were, opened the door for them to believe (cf. 11:18).

14:28 long time. Probably more than a year.

15:1 Some men. Probably from "the party of the Pharisees" (v. 5). These were believers who insisted that before a person could become a true Christian he must keep the law of Moses, and the test of such compliance was circumcision. from Judea. Meant that these Judaizers (or legalists) were given a hearing, not that they correctly represented the apostles and elders of Jerucised,[n] according to the custom taught by Moses,[o] you cannot be saved." [2]This brought Paul and Barnabas into sharp dispute and debate with them. So Paul and Barnabas were appointed, along with some other believers, to go up to Jerusalem[p] to see the apostles and elders[q] about this question. [3]The church sent them on their way, and as they traveled through Phoenicia[r] and Samaria, they told how the Gentiles had been converted.[s] This news made all the brothers very glad. [4]When they came to Jerusalem, they were welcomed by the church and the apostles and elders, to whom they reported everything God had done through them.[t]

[5]Then some of the believers who belonged to the party[u] of the Pharisees[v] stood up and said, "The Gentiles must be circumcised and required to obey the law of Moses."[w]

[6]The apostles and elders met to consider this question. [7]After much discussion, Peter got up and addressed them: "Brothers, you know that some time ago God made a choice among you that the Gentiles might hear from my lips the message of the gospel and believe.[x] [8]God, who knows the heart,[y] showed that he accepted them by giving the Holy Spirit to them,[z] just as he did to us. [9]He made no distinction between us and them,[a] for he purified their hearts by faith.[b]

15:18 [k]Isa 45:21

[10]Now then, why do you try to test God[c] by putting on the necks of the disciples a yoke[d] that neither we nor our fathers have been able to bear? [11]No! We believe it is through the grace[e] of our Lord Jesus that we are saved, just as they are."

[12]The whole assembly became silent as they listened to Barnabas and Paul telling about the miraculous signs and wonders[f] God had done among the Gentiles through them.[g] [13]When they finished, James[h] spoke up: "Brothers, listen to me. [14]Simon[d] has described to us how God at first showed his concern by taking from the Gentiles a people for himself.[i] [15]The words of the prophets are in agreement with this, as it is written:

[16]" 'After this I will return and rebuild David's fallen tent.
Its ruins I will rebuild,
and I will restore it,
[17]that the remnant of men may seek the Lord, and all the Gentiles who bear my name, says the Lord, who does these things'[e j]
[18] that have been known for ages.[f k]

[19]"It is my judgment, therefore, that salem (cf. v. 24).

15:2 go up to Jerusalem. See notes on 12:1; Gal 2:1. Those who hold that Gal 2:1–10 refers to the famine visit of 11:27–30; 12:25 argue that since Gal 2:2 says that the visit mentioned there was occasioned by a revelation, it must refer to Agabus's prediction of the coming famine (11:27–28). Those who believe that Gal 2:1–10 refers to the Jerusalem council visit of 15:1–22 assert that the famine visit occurred at the time of Herod Agrippa's death in A.D. 44 (11:27–30; 12:25). Thus Saul's conversion, which was 14 years earlier (Gal 2:1), would have occurred in 30, the probable year of Christ's crucifixion—which obviously seems too early.

15:4–22 The sequence of meetings described in vv. 4–22 is: (1) a general meeting of welcome and report (vv. 4–5); (2) a meeting of the leaders (perhaps to one side) while the church was still assembled (vv. 6–11); (3) a meeting of the apostles, the elders and the whole assembly (vv. 12–22).

15:4 The first meeting was a report, cordially received, about the work done among the Gentiles.

15:5 believers who belonged to the party of the Pharisees. Some Pharisees became Christians and brought their Judaic beliefs with them. They believed that Gentiles must first become converts to Judaism and be circumcised (see v. 1), and then they would be eligible to be saved by faith. Perhaps some of them had gone to Antioch and now returned to present their case.

15:7 Peter got up. After a period of considerable discussion by the apostles and elders, Peter addressed them. Gentiles might hear. Peter's argument was his own experience: God had sent him to preach to the Gentiles (10:28–29).

15:8 giving the Holy Spirit to them. The irrefutable proof of God's acceptance (see 10:44,47; 11:17–18).

15:9 purified their hearts by faith. Peter's way of saying what Paul affirmed (Ro 5:1; cf. Gal 2:15–16).

15:10 a yoke. The law (see Gal 5:1; cf. Mt 11:28–29).

15:11 through the grace of our Lord. No circumcision was required. we are saved, just as they are. See Ro 3:9.

15:12 assembly became silent. See note on vv. 4–22. Apparently the people had remained in place while the apostles and elders met. The assembly had not remained quiet during that time, but now they became silent to listen to the leaders. Barnabas and Paul. The order here puts Barnabas first (perhaps reflecting his importance in Jerusalem), whereas in the account of the missionary journey the order was "Paul and Barnabas" after the events on the island of Cyprus (13:7,9,13,42). miraculous signs and wonders. See 8:19–20; 14:3.

15:13 James. The brother of the Lord. His argument added proof from Scripture.

15:14 Simon. Peter (see v. 7). James uses Peter's Hebrew name in its Hebrew form (Simeon; see NIV text note). a people for himself. A new community largely made up of Gentiles but including Jews as well (Jn 10:16; cf. 1Pe 2:9–10).

15:15 prophets. Specifically Am 9:11–12 (see NIV text note on Am 9:12).

15:16 After this I will return. Some have taken this quotation from Amos as setting forth a sequence of the end times, including (1) the church age (taking out "a people for himself," v. 14), (2) the restoration of Israel as a nation (v. 16) and (3) the final salvation of the Gentiles (vv. 17–18). Others declare that the quotation merely confirms God's intent to save Gentiles.

15:19 not make it difficult. Circumcision was not required, we should not make it difficult for the Gentiles who are turning to God. 20Instead we should write to them, telling them to abstain from food polluted by idols,[l] from sexual immorality,[m] from the meat of strangled animals and from blood.[n] 21For Moses has been preached in every city from the earliest times and is read in the synagogues on every Sabbath."[o]

The Council's Letter to Gentile Believers

22Then the apostles and elders,[p] with the whole church, decided to choose some of their own men and send them to Antioch[q] with Paul and Barnabas. They chose Judas (called Barsabbas) and Silas,[r] two men who were leaders among the brothers. 23With them they sent the following letter:

The apostles and elders, your brothers,

To the Gentile believers in Antioch,[s] Syria[t] and Cilicia:[u]

Greetings.[v]

24We have heard that some went out from us without our authorization and disturbed you, troubling your minds by what they said.[w] 25So we all agreed to choose some men and send them to you with our dear friends Barnabas and Paul— 26men who have risked their lives[x] for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ. 27Therefore we are sending Judas and Silas[y] to confirm by word of mouth what we are writing. 28It seemed good to the Holy Spirit[z] and to us not to burden you with anything beyond the following requirements: 29You are to abstain from food sacrificed to idols, from blood, from the meat of strangled animals and from sexual immorality.[a] You will do well to avoid these things.

Farewell.

30The men were sent off and went down to Antioch, where they gathered the church together and delivered the letter. 31The people read it and were glad for its encouraging message. 32Judas and Silas,[b] who themselves were prophets,[c] said much to encourage and strengthen the brothers. 33After spending some time there, they were sent off by the brothers with the blessing of peace[d] to return to those who had sent them.[g] 35But Paul and Barnabas remained in Antioch, where they and many others taught and preached[e] the word of the Lord.[f]

Disagreement Between Paul and Barnabas

36Some time later Paul said to Barnabas, "Let us go back and visit the brothers in all the towns[g] where we preached the word of the Lord[h] and see how they are doing." 37Barnabas wanted to take John, also called Mark,[i] with them, 38but Paul did not think it wise to take him, because he had deserted them[j] in Pamphylia and had not continued with them in the work. 39They had such a sharp disagreement that they parted combut four stipulations were laid down (see note on v. 20). These were in areas where the Gentiles had particular weaknesses and where the Jews were particularly repulsed by Gentile violations. It would help both the individual and the relationship between Gentile and Jew if these requirements were observed. They involved divine directives that the Jews believed were given before the Mosaic laws.

15:20 food polluted by idols. See v. 29; 1Co 8:7–13; Rev 2:14,20. sexual immorality. A sin taken too lightly by the Greeks and also associated with certain pagan religious festivals. meat of strangled animals. Thus retaining the blood that was forbidden to be eaten (see Ge 9:4). blood. Expressly forbidden in Jewish law (see Lev 17:10–12). Reference here may be to consuming blood apart from meat.

15:22 apostles and elders, with the whole church. Apparently there was unanimous agreement with the choice of messengers and with the contents of the letter (vv. 23–29). Judas (called Barsabbas). The same surname as that of Joseph Barsabbas (see 1:23 and note). The two may have been brothers. Silas. A leader in the Jerusalem church, a prophet (v. 32) and a Roman citizen (16:37).

15:23 in Antioch, Syria and Cilicia. Antioch was the leading city of the combined provinces of Syria and Cilicia.

15:28 seemed good to the Holy Spirit and to us. Prior authority is given to the Spirit (whose working in the assembly is thus claimed), but there was also agreement among the apostles, elders and brothers (vv. 22–23).

15:29 abstain from food . . . sexual immorality. See note on v. 20.

15:32 prophets. One of the primary functions of prophets in the early church was, as here indicated, to encourage and strengthen the brothers.

15:33 those who had sent them. The Jerusalem church (see v. 22).

15:34 See NIV text note on v. 33.

15:36 towns where we preached the word. Towns of the first missionary journey (see 13:4–14:26).

15:38 he had deserted them. Mark had turned back at Perga and did not go to Antioch, Iconium, Lystra and Derbe (see note on 13:13).

15:39 they parted company. Barnabas and Mark do not appear again in Acts. However, in 1Co 9:6 Paul names Barnabas as setting a noble example in working to support himself. Also in Gal 2:11–13 another scene is described in Antioch that includes Barnabas. Mark evidently returned from his work with Barnabas and became associated with Peter (see 1Pe 5:13). During Paul's first imprisonment, Mark was included in Paul's group (see Col 4:10; Phm 24). By the pany. Barnabas took Mark and sailed for Cyprus, [40]but Paul chose Silas[k] and left, commended by the brothers to the grace of the Lord.[l] [41]He went through Syria[m] and Cilicia,[n] strengthening the churches.[o]

Timothy Joins Paul and Silas

16 He came to Derbe and then to Lystra,[p] where a disciple named Timothy[q] lived, whose mother was a Jewess and a believer,[r] but whose father was a Greek. [2]The brothers[s] at Lystra and Iconium[t] spoke well of him. [3]Paul wanted to take him along on the journey, so he circumcised him because of the Jews who lived in that area, for they all knew that his father was a Greek.[u] [4]As they traveled from town to town, they delivered the decisions reached by the apostles and elders[v] in Jerusalem[w] for the people to obey.[x] [5]So the churches were strengthened[y] in the faith and grew daily in numbers.[z] end of Paul's life he came to admire Mark so much that he requested him to come to be with him during his final days (2Ti 4:11; see Introduction to Mark: John Mark in the NT). Cyprus. The island of Barnabas's birthplace (cf. 4:36).

15:40 Silas. Had returned to Jerusalem with Judas after delivering the Jerusalem letter (vv. 32–33). His presence in Antioch now indicates that, after reporting to those who had sent him, he came back to Antioch to participate in the church's work there.

16:1 See map No. 11 at the end of the study Bible. Derbe. See notes on 14:6,20. Paul had approached Derbe on the first trip from the opposite direction, so the order of towns is reversed here. Lystra. See note on 14:6. Timothy. Since Paul addressed him as a young man some 15 years later (see 1Ti 4:12), he must have been in his teens at this time. father was a Greek. Statements concerning his mother's faith (here and in 2Ti 1:5) and silence concerning any faith on his father's part suggest that the father was neither a convert to Judaism nor a believer in Christ.

16:3 he circumcised him. As a matter of expediency so that his work among the Jews might be more effective. This was different from Titus's case (see Gal 2:3), where circumcision was refused because some were demanding it as necessary for salvation.

Paul's Vision of the Man of Macedonia

6Paul and his companions traveled throughout the region of Phrygia[a] and Galatia,[b] having been kept by the Holy Spirit from preaching the word in the province of Asia.[c] 7When they came to the border of Mysia, they tried to enter Bithynia, but the Spirit of Jesus[d] would not allow them to. 8So they passed by Mysia and went down to Troas.[e] 9During the night Paul had a vision[f] of a man of Macedonia[g] standing and begging him, "Come over to Macedonia and help us." 10After Paul had seen the vision, we[h] got ready at once to leave for Macedonia, concluding that God had called us to preach the gospel[i] to them.

Lydia's Conversion in Philippi

11From Troas[j] we put out to sea and sailed straight for Samothrace, and the next day on to Neapolis. 12From there we traveled to Philippi,[k] a Roman colony and the leading city of that district of Macedonia.[l] And we stayed there several days.

13On the Sabbath[m] we went outside the city gate to the river, where we expected to find a place of prayer. We sat down and began to speak to the women who had gathered there. 14One of those listening was a woman named Lydia, a dealer in purple cloth from the city of Thyatira,[n] who was a worshiper of God. The Lord opened her heart[o] to respond to Paul's message. 15When she and the members of her household[p] were baptized,[q] she invited us to her home. "If you consider me a believer in the Lord," she said, "come and stay at my house." And she persuaded us.

16:6 his companions. Silas and Timothy. Phrygia. The district was formerly the Hellenistic territory of Phrygia, but it had more recently been divided between the Roman provinces of Asia and Galatia. Iconium and Antioch were in Galatian Phrygia. Galatia. The name had been used to denote the Hellenistic kingdom, but in 25 B.C. it had been expanded considerably to become the Roman province of that name. Asia. This, too, had been a smaller area formerly but now was a Roman province including the Hellenistic districts of Mysia, Lydia, Caria and parts of Phrygia.

16:7 Mysia. In the northwest part of the province of Asia. Luke uses these old Hellenistic names, but Paul preferred the provincial (Roman) names. Bithynia. A senatorial province formed after 74 B.C., it was east of Mysia. Spirit of Jesus. As the "Holy Spirit" was used at times interchangeably with "God" (see 5:3–4), so here "Holy Spirit" is used interchangeably with "Spirit of Jesus." not allow. The Spirit may have led in any of a number of ways: vision, circumstances, good sense or use of the prophetic gift.

16:8 Troas. Located ten miles from ancient Troy. Alexandria Troas (its full name) was a Roman colony and an important seaport for connections between Macedonia and Greece on the one hand and Asia Minor on the other. Paul returned to Troas following his work in Ephesus on his third journey (see 2Co 2:12). At some time—on Paul's second journey or on his third—a church was started there, for Paul ministered to believers in Troas when he returned from his third journey on his way to Jerusalem (20:5–12).

16:9 vision. One of the ways God gave direction (cf. 10:3). man of Macedonia. Macedonia had become a Roman province in 148 B.C. There is no indication that the man of the vision is Luke, as some have suggested, but he does join the group at this point.

16:10 we got ready. This is where the "we" passages of Acts begin (see Introduction: Author). The conclusion is that Luke is informing the reader that he had joined the party at Troas.

16:11 Samothrace. An island in the northeastern Aegean Sea. It was a convenient place for boats to anchor rather than risk sailing at night. Neapolis. The seaport for Philippi, ten miles away; modern Kavalla.

16:12 Philippi. A city in eastern Macedonia named after Philip II, father of Alexander the Great (see map of "Philippi," p. 1804). Since it was a Roman colony, it was independent of provincial administration and had a governmental organization modeled after that of Rome (see note on 13:14). Many retired legionnaires from the Roman army settled there, but few Jews. See Introduction to Philippians: Recipients. leading city. Thessalonica was the capital of Macedonia. But Macedonia had four districts, and Philippi was in the first of these. Amphipolis, however, was the first city of that district. Luke may have intended to say that Philippi was "a" leading city (there is no article in the Greek), or that it was the first city reached from the border, or that its fame and significance made it truly the leading city of the area.

16:13 a place of prayer. There were so few Jews in Philippi that there was no synagogue, so the Jews who were there met for prayer along the banks of the Gangites River (see map of "Philippi," p. 1804). It was customary for such places of prayer to be located outdoors near running water.

16:14 Lydia. A businesswoman. Her name may be associated with her place of origin, the Hellenistic district of Lydia. Thyatira. In the Roman province of Asia, 20 miles southeast of Pergamum (in the Hellenistic kingdom of Lydia). It was famous for its dyeing works, especially royal purple (crimson). See Rev 1:11 and note on Rev 2:18. worshiper of God. Lydia was a Gentile who, like Cornelius (see 10:2), believed in the true God and followed the moral teachings of Scripture. She had not, however, become a full convert to Judaism. opened her heart. After the resurrection the minds of the disciples were opened to understand the Scriptures (Lk 24:45); similarly, Lydia's heart was opened to respond to the gospel message of Paul.

16:16 spirit by which she predicted the future. A "python" spirit, a demonic spirit. The python was a mythical snake worshiped at Delphi and associated with the Delphic oraplace of prayer,[r] we were met by a slave girl who had a spirit[s] by which she predicted the future. She earned a great deal of money for her owners by fortune-telling. 17This girl followed Paul and the rest of us, shouting, "These men are servants of the Most High God,[t] who are telling you the way to be saved." 18She kept this up for many days. Finally Paul became so troubled that he turned around and said to the spirit, "In the name of Jesus Christ I command you to come out of her!" At that moment the spirit left her.[u]

19When the owners of the slave girl realized that their hope of making money[v] was gone, they seized Paul and Silas[w] and dragged[x] them into the marketplace to face the authorities. 20They brought them before the magistrates and said, "These men are Jews, and are throwing our city into an uproar[y] 21by advocating customs unlawful for us Romans[z] to accept or practice."[a]

25About midnight[e] Paul and Silas[f] were praying and singing hymns[g] to God, and the other prisoners were listening to them. 26Suddenly there was such a violent earthquake that the foundations of the prison were shaken.[h] At once all the prison doors flew open,[i] and everybody's chains came loose.[j] 27The jailer woke up, and when he saw the prison doors open, he drew his sword and was about to kill himself because he thought the prisoners had escaped.[k] 28But Paul shouted, "Don't harm yourself! We are all here!"

29The jailer called for lights, rushed in and fell trembling before Paul and Silas.[l] 30He then brought them out and asked, "Sirs, what must I do to be saved?"[m]

31They replied, "Believe[n] in the Lord Jesus, and you will be saved[o]—you and your household."[p] 32Then they spoke the word of the Lord to him and to all the others in his house. 33At that hour of the night[q] the jailer took them and washed their wounds; then immediately he and all his family were baptized.[r] 34The jailer brought them into his house and set a meal before them; he[s] was filled with joy because he had come to believe in God—he and his whole family.

35When it was daylight, the magistrates sent their officers to the jailer with the order: "Release those men." 36The jailer[t] told Paul, "The magistrates have ordered that you and Silas be released. Now you can leave. Go in peace."[u]

37But Paul said to the officers: "They beat us publicly without a trial, even though we are Roman citizens,[v] and threw us into prison. And now do they want to get rid of us quietly? No! Let them come themselves and escort us out."

38The officers reported this to the magistrates, and when they heard that Paul and Silas were Roman citizens, they were alarmed.[w] 39They came to appease them and escorted them from the prison, requesting them to leave the city.[x] 40After Paul and Silas came out of the prison, they went to Lydia's house,[y] where they met with the brothers[z] and encouraged them. Then they left.

cle. The term "python" came to be used of the persons through whom the python spirit supposedly spoke. Since such persons spoke involuntarily, the term "ventriloquist" was used to describe them. To what extent she actually predicted the future is not known.

16:17 rest of us. The "we" section (see note on v. 10) ends here and begins again in 20:5. Most High God. A title used by the man possessed by an evil spirit (Mk 5:7). It was a common title among both Jews (see Nu 24:16; Isa 14:14; Da 3:26) and Greeks (found in inscriptions). But the title is not used of God in the NT by Christians or Jews (cf. Ac 7:48).

16:20 magistrates. The Greek term strategos (Latin praetor), not the usual word but a term of courtesy used in some Roman colonies, such as Philippi.

16:21 customs unlawful. If a religion failed to receive Roman approval, it was considered religio illicita. Judaism had legal recognition, but Christianity did not.

16:22 beaten. With rods.

16:24 inner cell . . . stocks. Used not only for extra security but also for torture.

16:27 about to kill himself. If a prisoner escaped, the life of the guard was demanded in his place (see 12:19). To take his own life would shorten the shame and distress.

16:30 what must I do to be saved? The jailer had heard that these were preachers of a way of salvation (v. 17). Now with the earthquake and his own near death, he wanted to know about the way.

16:31 Believe in the Lord Jesus. A concise statement of the way of salvation (see 10:43).

16:32 word of the Lord. See 10:36. Paul and Silas explained the gospel more thoroughly to the jailer and to all the other members of his household, and they all believed in Christ and were saved (v. 34).

16:34 filled with joy. The consistent consequence of conversion, regardless of circumstances (see note on 8:39).

16:35 magistrates. See note on v. 20.

16:37 without a trial. Public beating for a Roman citizen (see v. 38) would have been illegal, let alone beating without a trial. Let them come themselves. Paul and Silas were not asking for an escort to salve their injured pride as much as they were establishing their innocence for the sake of the church in Philippi and its future.

In Thessalonica

17 When they had passed through Amphipolis and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica,[a] where there was a Jewish synagogue. 2As his custom was, Paul went into the synagogue,[b] and on three Sabbath[c] days he reasoned with them from the Scriptures,[d] 3explaining and proving that the Christ[h] had to suffer[e] and rise from the dead.[f] "This Jesus I am proclaiming to you is the Christ,[h]" [g] he said. 4Some of the Jews were persuaded and joined Paul and Silas,[h] as did a large number of God-fearing Greeks and not a few prominent women.

5But the Jews were jealous; so they rounded up some bad characters from the marketplace, formed a mob and started a riot in the city.[i] They rushed to Jason's[j] house in search of Paul and Silas in order to bring them out to the crowd.[i] 6But when they did not find them, they dragged[k] Jason and some other brothers[i] before the city officials, shouting: "These men who have caused trouble all over the world[m] have now come here,[n] 7and Jason has welcomed them into his house. They are all defying Caesar's decrees, saying that there is another king, one called Jesus."[o] 8When they heard this, the crowd and the city officials were thrown into turmoil. 9Then they made Jason[p] and the others post bond and let them go.

In Berea

10As soon as it was night, the brothers sent Paul and Silas[q] away to Berea.[r] On arriving there, they went to the Jewish synagogue.[s] 11Now the Bereans were of more noble character than the Thessalonians,[t] for they received the message with great eagerness and examined the Scriptures[u] every day to see if what Paul said was true.[v] 12Many of the Jews believed, as did also a number of prominent Greek women and many Greek men.[w]

13When the Jews in Thessalonica learned that Paul was preaching the word of God at Berea,[x] they went there too, agitating the crowds and stirring them up. 14The brothers[y] immediately sent Paul to the coast, but Silas[z] and Timothy[a] stayed at Berea. 15The men who escorted Paul brought him to Athens[b] and then left with instructions for Silas and Timothy to join him as soon as possible.[c]

In Athens

16While Paul was waiting for them in Athens, he was greatly distressed to see that the city was full of idols. 17So he reasoned in the synagogue[d] with the Jews and the God-fearing Greeks, as well as in the marketplace day by day with those who happened to be there. 18A group of

[h] 3 Or Messiah [i] 5 Or the assembly of the people

17:1 Amphipolis ... Thessalonica. The Egnatian Way crossed the whole of present-day northern Greece east-west and included Philippi, Amphipolis, Apollonia and Thessalonica on its route. At several locations, such as Kavalla (Neapolis), Philippi and Apollonia, the road is still visible today. If a person traveled about 30 miles a day, each city could be reached after one day's journey. Thessalonica. About 100 miles from Philippi. It was the capital of the province of Macedonia and had a population of more than 200,000, including a colony of Jews (and a synagogue). All these contributed to Paul's decision to preach there. See Introduction to 1 Thessalonians: The City and the Church.

17:2 synagogue. See note on 13:14. three Sabbath days. These two weeks represent the time spent in the synagogue reasoning with the Jews, not Paul's total time in Thessalonica. An analysis of the Thessalonian letters reveals that Paul had taught them much more doctrine than would have been possible in two or three weeks.

17:4 God-fearing Greeks. See notes on 10:2; 16:14. prominent women. Perhaps the wives of the leading men of the city, but women who deserve notice and position in their own right (see also v. 12).

17:5 were jealous. Because of the large number of people (including some Jews, many God-fearing Gentiles and many prominent women) who responded to Paul's ministry (cf. 13:45). Jason's house. Paul had probably been staying there.

17:6 city officials. The Greek term politarch (lit. "city ruler"), used here and in v. 8, is found nowhere else in Greek literature, but it was discovered in 1835 in a Greek inscription on an arch that had spanned the Egnatian Way on the west side of Thessalonica. (The arch was destroyed in 1867, but the block with the inscription was rescued and is now in the British Museum in London.) The term has since been found in 16 other inscriptions in surrounding towns of Macedonia, and elsewhere.

17:7 defying Caesar's decrees. Blasphemy was the gravest accusation for a Jew, but treason—to support a rival king above Caesar—was the worst accusation for a Roman.

17:9 post bond. Jason was forced to guarantee a peaceful, quiet community, or he would face the confiscation of his properties and perhaps even death.

17:10 Paul and Silas. It has been suggested that Timothy was left at Philippi and rejoined Paul and Silas at Berea (compare v. 10 with v. 14). Berea. Modern Verria, located 50 miles from Thessalonica in another district of Macedonia. synagogue. See note on 13:14.

17:14 the coast. One might conclude that Paul went by boat to Athens. But the road to Athens is also a coast road, and Paul may have walked the distance after having been escorted to the coast (some 20 miles). In any event, Christian companions stayed with him until reaching Athens.

17:15 Athens. Five centuries before Paul, Athens had been at the height of its glory in art, philosophy and literature. She had retained her reputation in philosophy through the years and still maintained a leading university in Paul's day.

17:17 synagogue. See note on 13:14. God-fearing Greeks. See note on 10:2.

17:18 Epicurean ... philosophers. Originally they taught that the supreme good is happiness—but not mere momentary pleasure or temporary gratification. By Paul's Epicurean and Stoic philosophers began to dispute with him. Some of them asked, "What is this babbler trying to say?" Others remarked, "He seems to be advocating foreign gods." They said this because Paul was preaching the good news[e] about Jesus and the resurrection.[f] 19Then they took him and brought him to a meeting of the Areopagus,[g] where they said to him, "May we know what this new teaching[h] is that you are presenting? 20You are bringing some strange ideas to our ears, and we want to know what they mean." 21(All the Athenians[i] and the foreigners who lived there spent their time doing nothing but talking about and listening to the latest ideas.)

22Paul then stood up in the meeting of the Areopagus[j] and said: "Men of Athens! I see that in every way you are very religious.[k] 23For as I walked around and looked carefully at your objects of worship, I even found an altar with this inscription: TO AN UNKNOWN GOD. Now what you worship as something unknown[l] I am going to proclaim to you.

24"The God who made the world and everything in it[m] is the Lord of heaven and earth[n] and does not live in temples built by hands.[o] 25And he is not served by human hands, as if he needed anything, because he himself gives all men life and breath and everything else.[p] 26From one man he made every nation of men, that they should inhabit the whole earth; and he determined the times set for them and the exact places where they should live.[q] 27God did this so that men would seek him and perhaps reach out for him and find him, though he is not far from each one of us.[r] 28'For in him we live and move and have our being.'[s] As some of your own poets have said, 'We are his offspring.'

29"Therefore since we are God's offspring, we should not think that the divine being is like gold or silver or stone—an image made by man's design and skill.[t] 30In the past God overlooked[u] such ignorance,[v] but now he commands all people everywhere to repent.[w] 31For he has set a day when he will judge[x] the world with justice[y] by the man he has appointed.[z] He has given proof of this to all men by raising him from the dead."[a]

32When they heard about the resurrection of the dead,[b] some of them sneered, but others said, "We want to hear you again on this subject." 33At that, Paul left the Council. 34A few men became followers of Paul and believed. Among them was Dionysius, a member time, however, this philosophy had degenerated into a more sensual system of thought. Stoic philosophers. They taught that people should live in accord with nature, recognize their own self-sufficiency and independence, and suppress their desires. At its best, Stoicism had some admirable qualities, but, like Epicureanism, by Paul's time it had degenerated into a system of pride. babbler. The Greek word meant "seed picker," a bird picking up seeds here and there. Then it came to refer to the loafer in the marketplace who picked up whatever scraps of learning he could find and paraded them without digesting them himself.

17:19 Areopagus. Means "hill of Ares." Ares was the Greek god of thunder and war (the Roman equivalent was Mars). The Areopagus was located just west of the acropolis and south of the Agora and had once been the site of the meeting of the Court or Council of the Areopagus. Earlier the Council governed a Greek city-state, but by NT times the Areopagus retained authority only in the areas of religion and morals and met in the Royal Portico at the northwest corner of the Agora. They considered themselves the custodians of teachings that introduced new religions and foreign gods.

17:22 religious. Or "superstitious." The Greek for this word could be used to congratulate a person or to criticize him, depending on whether the person using it included himself in the circle of individuals he was describing. The Athenians would not know which meaning to take until Paul continued. In this context it is clear that Paul wanted to be complimentary in order to gain a hearing.

17:23 TO AN UNKNOWN GOD. The Greeks were fearful of offending any god by failing to give him attention; so they felt they could cover any omissions by the label "unknown god." Other Greek writers confirm that such altars could be seen in Athens—a striking point of contact for Paul.

17:24 The God who made the world. Thus a personal Creator, in contrast with the views of pantheistic Stoicism.

17:26 From one man he made every nation. All people are of one family (whether Athenians or Romans, Greeks or barbarians, Jews or Gentiles). determined the times. He planned the exact times when nations should emerge and decline. places where they should live. He also planned the specific area to be occupied by each nation. He is God, the Designer (things were not left to Chance, as the Epicureans thought).

17:28 some of your own poets. There are two quotations here: (1) "In him we live and move and have our being," from the Cretan poet Epimenides (c. 600 B.C.) in his Cretica, and (2) "We are his offspring," from the Cilician poet Aratus (c. 315–240) in his Phaenomena, as well as from Cleanthes (331–233) in his Hymn to Zeus. Paul quotes Greek poets elsewhere as well (see 1Co 15:33; Tit 1:12 and notes).

17:30 overlooked such ignorance. God had not judged them for worshiping false gods in their ignorance (see v. 31).

17:31 the man he has appointed. Jesus, the Son of Man (see Da 7:13; cf. Mt 25:31–46; Ac 10:42).

17:32 resurrection of the dead. Immortality of the soul was accepted by the Greeks, but not resurrection of a dead body.

17:33 the Council. The meeting of the Areopagites.

17:34 Dionysius. Later tradition states, though it cannot be proved, that he became bishop of Athens. Damaris. Some have suggested that she must have been a foreign, educated woman to have been present at a public meeting such as the Areopagus. It is also possible that she was a God-fearing Gentile who had heard Paul at the synagogue (v. 17).

of the Areopagus,[c] also a woman named Damaris, and a number of others.

In Corinth

18 After this, Paul left Athens[d] and went to Corinth.[e] [2]There he met a Jew named Aquila, a native of Pontus, who had recently come from Italy with his wife Priscilla,[f] because Claudius[g] had ordered all the Jews to leave Rome. Paul went to see them, [3]and because he was a tentmaker as they were, he stayed and worked with them.[h] [4]Every Sabbath[i] he reasoned in the synagogue,[j] trying to persuade Jews and Greeks.

[5]When Silas[k] and Timothy[l] came from Macedonia,[m] Paul devoted himself exclusively to preaching, testifying to the Jews that Jesus was the Christ.[n] [6]But when the Jews opposed Paul and became abusive,[o] he shook out his clothes in protest[p] and said to them, "Your blood be on your own heads![q] I am clear of my responsibility.[r] From now on I will go to the Gentiles."[s]

[7]Then Paul left the synagogue and went next door to the house of Titius Justus, a worshiper of God.[t] [8]Crispus,[u] the synagogue ruler,[v] and his entire household[w] believed in the Lord; and many of the Corinthians who heard him believed and were baptized.

[9]One night the Lord spoke to Paul in a vision:[x] "Do not be afraid;[y] keep on speaking, do not be silent. [10]For I am with you,[z] and no one is going to attack and harm you, because I have many people in this city." [11]So Paul stayed for a year and a half, teaching them the word of God.[a]

[12]While Gallio was proconsul[b] of Achaia,[c] the Jews made a united attack on Paul and brought him into court. [13]"This man," they charged, "is persuading the people to worship God in ways contrary to the law."

[14]Just as Paul was about to speak, Gallio said to the Jews, "If you Jews were making a complaint about some misdemeanor or serious crime, it would be reasonable for me to listen to you. [15]But since it involves questions about words and names and your own law[d]—settle the matter yourselves. I will not be a judge of such things." [16]So he had them ejected from the court. [17]Then they all turned on Sosthenes[e] the synagogue ruler[f] and beat him in front of the court. But Gallio showed no concern whatever.

Priscilla, Aquila and Apollos

[18]Paul stayed on in Corinth for some time. Then he left the brothers[g] and

[i5] Or Messiah; also in verse 28

18:1 went to Corinth. Either by land along the isthmus (a distance of about 50 miles) or by sea from Piraeus, the port of Athens, to Cenchrea, on the eastern shore of the isthmus of Corinth. See Introduction to 1 Corinthians: The City of Corinth; see also map of "Corinth," p. 1735.

18:2 Pontus. In the northeastern region of Asia Minor, a province lying along the Black Sea between Bithynia and Armenia (see 2:9). Priscilla. The diminutive form of Prisca. Since no mention is made of a conversion and since a partnership is established in work (see v. 3), it is likely that they were already Christians. They may have been converted in Rome by those returning from Pentecost or by others at a later time. Claudius. Emperor of Rome (A.D. 41–54). ordered all the Jews to leave Rome. Recorded in Suetonius (Claudius, 25). The expulsion order was given, Suetonius writes, because of "their [the Jews'] continual tumults instigated by Chrestus" (a common misspelling of "Christ"). If "Chrestus" refers to Christ, the riots obviously were "about" him rather than led "by" him.

18:3 tentmaker. Paul would have been taught this trade as a youth. It was the Jewish custom to provide manual training for sons, whether rich or poor.

18:4 synagogue. See note on 13:14.

18:5 Silas and Timothy came from Macedonia. Paul instructed these two to come to him at Athens (17:15). Evidently they did (1Th 3:1), but they may have been sent back to Macedonia almost immediately to check on the churches—perhaps Silas to Philippi and Timothy to Thessalonica.

18:7 Titius Justus. Titius was a common Roman name. Justus is used to distinguish him from the Titus of 2Co 2:13; 7:13–14; 8:16,23. worshiper of God. Like Titus, an uncircumcised Gentile, but attending the synagogue.

18:8 Crispus. Paul baptized him (1Co 1:14). synagogue ruler. See note on 13:15. believed and were baptized. The response to the gospel, a process going on daily, as the tense of the Greek verbs indicates.

18:9 in a vision. Paul had seen the Lord in a resurrection body at his conversion (9:4–6; 1Co 15:8) and in the temple at Jerusalem in a trance (22:17–18). Now he sees him in a vision (see 23:11).

18:11 a year and a half. During this time he may also have taken the gospel to the neighboring districts of Achaia (2Co 1:1).

18:12 Gallio. The brother of Seneca, the philosopher, who was the tutor of Nero. Gallio was admired as a man of exceptional fairness and calmness. From an inscription found at Delphi, it is known that Gallio was proconsul of Achaia in A.D. 51–52. This information enables us to date Paul's visit to Corinth on his second journey as well as his writing of the Thessalonian letters.

18:13 contrary to the law. The Jews were claiming that Paul was advocating a religion not recognized by Roman law as Judaism was. If he had been given the opportunity to speak, he could have argued that the gospel he was preaching was the faith of his fathers (see 24:14–15; 26:6–7) and thus authorized by Roman law.

18:17 they all turned on Sosthenes. It is not clear whether the Greeks beat Sosthenes, seeing the occasion as an opportunity to vent their feelings against the Jews, or the Jews beat their own synagogue ruler because he was unsuccessful in presenting their case—probably the former. A Sosthenes is included with Paul in the writing of 1 Corinthians (1:1). Perhaps he was the second ruler of the synagogue at Corinth to become a Christian in response to Paul's preaching (see v. 8).

18:18 Priscilla and Aquila. The order of the names used here (but cf. v. 2) may indicate the prominent role of Pris-sailed for Syria,[h] accompanied by Priscilla and Aquila.[i] Before he sailed, he had his hair cut off at Cenchrea[j] because of a vow he had taken.[k] [19]They arrived at Ephesus,[l] where Paul left Priscilla and Aquila. He himself went into the synagogue and reasoned with the Jews. [20]When they asked him to spend more time with them, he declined. [21]But as he left, he promised, "I will come back if it is God's will."[m] Then he set sail from Ephesus. [22]When he landed at Caesarea,[n] he went up and greeted the church and then went down to Antioch.[o]

[23]After spending some time in Antioch, Paul set out from there and traveled from place to place throughout the region of Galatia[p] and Phrygia,[q] strengthening all the disciples.[r]

cilla or her higher social position (see Ro 16:3; 2Ti 4:19). a vow he had taken. Grammatically this could refer to Aquila, but the emphasis on Paul and his activity makes Paul more probable. It was probably a temporary Nazirite vow (see Nu 6:1–21). Different vows were frequently taken to express thanks for deliverance from grave dangers. Shaving the head marked the end of a vow.

18:19 Ephesus. Leading commercial city of Asia Minor, the capital of provincial Asia and the warden of the temple of Artemis (Diana). See Introduction to Ephesians: The City of Ephesus; see also map of "Ephesus" there. Paul left Priscilla and Aquila. They would give valuable aid upon Paul's return, providing advice as to where and how the work there could be started. synagogue. See note on 13:14.

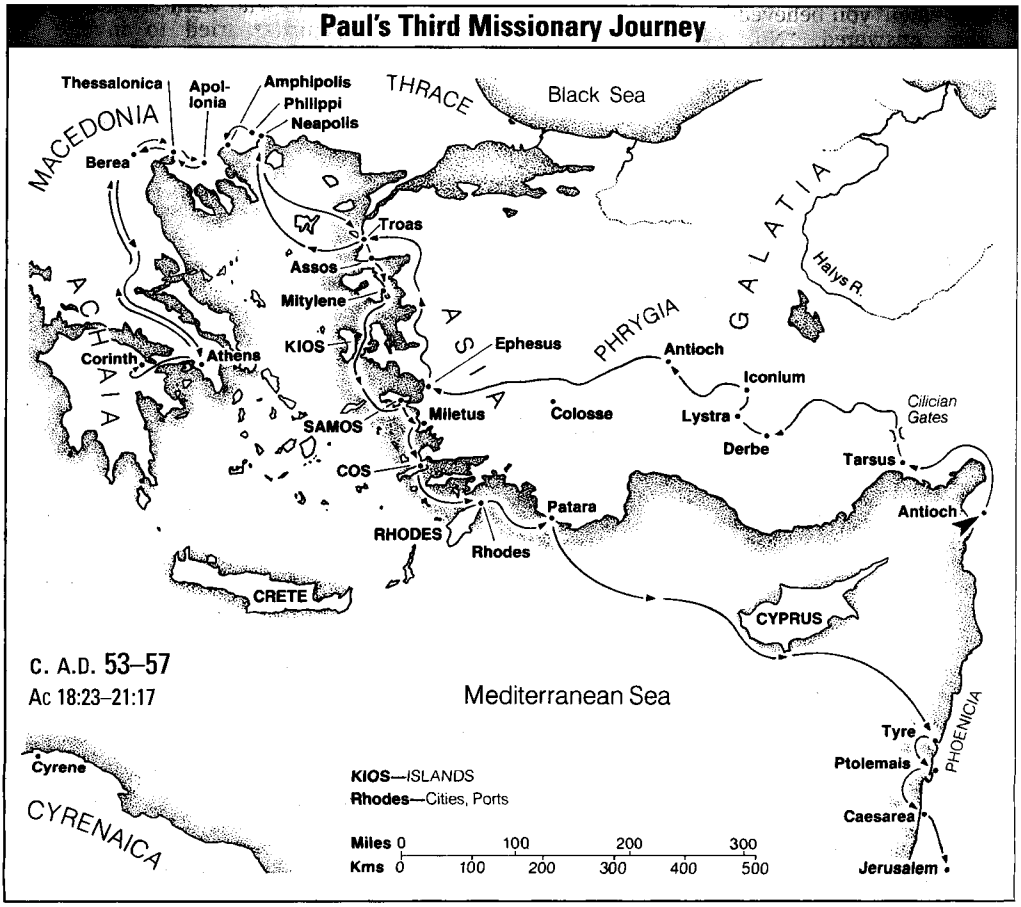
18:22 greeted the church. Could refer to a congregation in Caesarea, but the explanation that "he went up" makes it more likely that it was the church in Jerusalem, some 2,500 feet above sea level.

18:23 See map No. 11 at the end of the study Bible. region of Galatia and Phrygia. The same route he had taken when starting on his second missionary journey, but in the reverse order (16:6). The use of the phrase may indicate the southern part of Galatia in the Phrygian area (see note on 16:6).



24 Meanwhile a Jew named Apollos,[s] a native of Alexandria, came to Ephesus.[t] He was a learned man, with a thorough knowledge of the Scriptures. 25 He had been instructed in the way of the Lord, and he spoke with great fervor[k][u] and taught about Jesus accurately, though he knew only the baptism of John.[v] 26 He began to speak boldly in the synagogue. When Priscilla and Aquila[w] heard him, they invited him to their home and explained to him the way of God more adequately.

27 When Apollos wanted to go to Achaia,[x] the brothers[y] encouraged him and wrote to the disciples there to welcome him. On arriving, he was a great help to those who by grace had believed. 28 For he vigorously refuted the Jews in public debate, proving from the Scriptures[z] that Jesus was the Christ.[a]

Paul in Ephesus

19 While Apollos[b] was at Corinth,[c] Paul took the road through the interior and arrived at Ephesus.[d] There he found some disciples 2 and asked them, "Did you receive the Holy Spirit[e] when[l] you believed?"

They answered, "No, we have not even heard that there is a Holy Spirit."

3 So Paul asked, "Then what baptism did you receive?"

"John's baptism," they replied.

4 Paul said, "John's baptism[f] was a baptism of repentance. He told the people to believe in the one coming after him, that is, in Jesus."[g] 5 On hearing this, they were baptized into[m] the name of the Lord Jesus.[h] 6 When Paul placed his hands on them,[i] the Holy Spirit came on them,[j] and they spoke in tongues[n][k] and prophesied. 7 There were about twelve men in all.

8 Paul entered the synagogue[l] and spoke boldly there for three months, arguing persuasively about the kingdom of God.[m] 9 But some of them[n] became obstinate; they refused to believe and publicly maligned the Way.[o] So Paul left them. He took the disciples[p] with him and had discussions daily in the lecture hall of Tyrannus. 10 This went on for two years,[q] so that all the Jews and Greeks who lived in the province of Asia[r] heard the word of the Lord.[s]

11 God did extraordinary miracles[t] through Paul, 12 so that even handkerchiefs and aprons that had touched him were taken to the sick, and their illnesses were cured[u] and the evil spirits left them.

13 Some Jews who went around driving out evil spirits[v] tried to invoke the name of the Lord Jesus over those who were demon-possessed. They would say,

18:24 Alexandria. In Egypt. It was the second most important city in the Roman empire and had a large Jewish population.

18:25 baptism of John. It was not in the name of Jesus (see also 19:2–4). Apollos knew something about Jesus, but basically he, like John, was still looking forward to the coming of the Messiah. His baptism was based on repentance rather than on faith in the finished work of Christ.

18:27 Achaia. The Roman province with Corinth as its capital.

19:1 Apollos was at Corinth. Apollos was introduced at Ephesus (18:24) in the absence of Paul; he moved to Corinth before Paul returned to Ephesus. But later Apollos came back to Ephesus during Paul's ministry there (see 1Co 16:12). through the interior. Not the lower direct route down the Lycus and Meander valleys but the upper Phrygian route approaching Ephesus from a more northerly direction. If Paul got to northern Galatia, which is unlikely, it must have been on one of these trips through the interior (see 16:6; 18:23). Ephesus. See note on 18:19. some disciples. These 12 (v. 7) seem to have been followers of Jesus, but indirectly through John the Baptist or some of his followers. Or perhaps they had received their teaching from Apollos himself in his earlier state of partial understanding (see 18:26). Like Apollos, they had a limited understanding of the gospel (see note on 18:25).

19:2 receive the Holy Spirit. Paul finds that they were not informed about the Holy Spirit at all (vv. 3–6).

19:4 John's baptism. See notes on Mt 3:11,15. baptism of repentance. A summation of John's teaching. It was preparatory and provisional, stressing man's sinfulness and thus creating a sense of need for the gospel. John's baptism looked forward to Jesus, who by his death would make possible the forgiveness of sins (see note on Mk 1:4).

19:6 placed his hands on them. See note on 6:6. Holy Spirit came on them ... spoke in tongues and prophesied. The same experience the disciples had at Pentecost (2:4,11) and the Gentiles had in Caesarea (10:46).

19:8 three months. Much longer than the three Sabbaths in Thessalonica (17:2), but the same approach: Jews first, then Greeks (see note on 13:14).

19:9 the Way. See note on 9:2. lecture hall of Tyrannus. See map of "Ephesus," p. 1790; probably a school used regularly by Tyrannus, a philosopher or rhetorician. Instruction was probably given in the cooler, morning hours. One Greek manuscript adds that Paul did his instructing from 11:00 A.M. to 4:00 P.M. This would have been the hot time of the day, but the hall was available and the people were not at their regular work.

19:10 two years. Two years and three months (see v. 8) was the longest stay in one missionary location that Luke records. By Jewish reckoning, any part of a year is considered a year; so this period can be spoken of as three years (20:31). all ... in the province of Asia heard. One of the elements of Paul's missionary strategy is seen here. Many of the cities where Paul planted churches were strategic centers that, when evangelized, served as focal points from which the gospel radiated out to the surrounding areas. Other examples are Antioch in Pisidia (see 13:14), Thessalonica (see 17:1), Athens (see 17:15) and Corinth (see 18:1).

19:12 handkerchiefs. Probably used by Paul in his trade of leatherworking: one for tying around his head, the other around his waist. Cf. 5:15.

"In the name of Jesus,[w] whom Paul preaches, I command you to come out." [14]Seven sons of Sceva, a Jewish chief priest, were doing this. [15]One day the evil spirit answered them, "Jesus I know, and I know about Paul, but who are you?" [16]Then the man who had the evil spirit jumped on them and overpowered them all. He gave them such a beating that they ran out of the house naked and bleeding.

[17]When this became known to the Jews and Greeks living in Ephesus,[x] they were all seized with fear,[y] and the name of the Lord Jesus was held in high honor. [18]Many of those who believed now came and openly confessed their evil deeds. [19]A number who had practiced sorcery brought their scrolls together and burned them publicly. When they calculated the value of the scrolls, the total came to fifty thousand drachmas.[o] [20]In this way the word of the Lord[z] spread widely and grew in power.[a] [21]After all this had happened, Paul decided to go to Jerusalem,[b] passing through Macedonia[c] and Achaia.[d] "After I have been there," he said, "I must visit Rome also."[e] [22]He sent two of his helpers,[f] Timothy[g] and Erastus,[h] to Macedonia, while he stayed in the province of Asia[i] a little longer.

The Riot in Ephesus

[23]About that time there arose a great disturbance about the Way.[j] [24]A silversmith named Demetrius, who made silver shrines of Artemis, brought in no little business for the craftsmen. [25]He called them together, along with the workmen in related trades, and said: "Men, you know we receive a good income from this business.[k] [26]And you see and hear how this fellow Paul has convinced and led astray large numbers of people here in Ephesus[l] and in practically the whole province of Asia.[m] He says that man-made gods are no gods at all.[n] [27]There is danger not only that our trade will lose its good name, but also that the temple of the great goddess Artemis will be discredited, and the goddess herself, who is worshiped throughout the province of Asia and the world, will be robbed of her divine majesty."

[28]When they heard this, they were furious and began shouting: "Great is Artemis of the Ephesians!"[o] [29]Soon the whole city was in an uproar. The people seized Gaius[p] and Aristarchus,[q] Paul's traveling companions from Macedonia,[r] and rushed as one man into the theater. [30]Paul wanted to appear before the crowd, but the disciples[s] would not let him. [31]Even some of the officials of the province, friends of Paul, sent him a message begging him not to venture into the theater.

[32]The assembly was in confusion: Some were shouting one thing, some another.[t] Most of the people did not even know why they were there. [33]The Jews pushed Alexander to the front, and some of the crowd shouted instructions to him. He motioned[u] for silence in order to

19:14 Sceva, a Jewish chief priest. May have been related to the high priestly family of Jerusalem. But more likely he took this title himself to make further impression with his magical wiles. Drawn by Paul's ability to drive out evil spirits, Jewish exorcists wanted to copy his work (cf. 13:6).

19:19 scrolls. Such documents bearing alleged magical formulas and secret information have been unearthed. Ephesus was a center for magical incantations. fifty thousand drachmas. The high price (see NIV text note) was not due to the quality of the books but to the supposed power gained by their secret rigmarole of words and names.

19:22 Erastus. An important figure at Corinth, "the city's director of public works" at one time (see note on Ro 16:23). He is located later at Corinth also (2Ti 4:20). Just now he returns to Corinth by way of Macedonia with Timothy.

19:24 silversmith named Demetrius. Each trade had its guild, and Demetrius was probably a responsible leader of the guild for the manufacture of silver shrines and images. Artemis. The Greek name for the Roman goddess Diana. The Ephesian Artemis, however, was very different from the Greco-Roman goddess. She had taken on the characteristics of Cybele, the mother goddess of fertility worshiped in Asia Minor and served by many prostitute priestesses. A meteorite may be the basis of the many-breasted image of heavenly workmanship claimed for Artemis (v. 35). (Some have identified the objects that cover the torso of the image as ostrich eggs.) Reproductions of the original image from the time of the emperor Domitian (A.D. 81–96) have been found in Ephesus.

19:25 a good income. Since the temple of Artemis was one of the seven wonders of the ancient world, people came from far and wide to view it. Their purchase of silver shrines and images produced a lucrative business for the craftsmen.

19:27 temple of the great goddess. See map of "Ephesus," p. 1790; the glory of Ephesus: 425 feet long and 220 feet wide, having 127 white marble columns 62 feet high and less than 4 feet apart. In the inner sanctuary was the many-breasted image supposedly dropped from heaven.

19:29 Aristarchus. Traveled later with Paul from Corinth to Jerusalem (20:3–4), and also accompanied Paul on the voyage from Jerusalem to Rome (27:1–2; Col 4:10).

19:31 officials of the province. Greek Asiarchon, members of a council of men of wealth and influence elected to promote the worship of the emperor. Paul had friends in this highest circle.

19:33 Alexander. Pushed forward by the Jews either to make clear the disassociation of the Jews from the Christians and/or to accuse the Christians further of an offense against the Greeks. The crowd recognized that the Jews were not worshipers of Artemis any more than the Christians.

make a defense before the people. 34But when they realized he was a Jew, they all shouted in unison for about two hours: "Great is Artemis of the Ephesians!"[v]

35The city clerk quieted the crowd and said: "Men of Ephesus,[w] doesn't all the world know that the city of Ephesus is the guardian of the temple of the great Artemis and of her image, which fell from heaven? 36Therefore, since these facts are undeniable, you ought to be quiet and not do anything rash. 37You have brought these men here, though they have neither robbed temples[x] nor blasphemed our goddess. 38If, then, Demetrius and his fellow craftsmen[y] have a grievance against anybody, the courts are open and there are proconsuls.[z] They can press charges. 39If there is anything further you want to bring up, it must be settled in a legal assembly. 40As it is, we are in danger of being charged with rioting because of today's events. In that case we would not be able to account for this commotion, since there is no reason for it." 41After he had said this, he dismissed the assembly.

Through Macedonia and Greece

20 When the uproar had ended, Paul sent for the disciples[a] and, after encouraging them, said good-by and set out for Macedonia.[b] 2He traveled through that area, speaking many words of encouragement to the people, and finally arrived in Greece, 3where he stayed three months. Because the Jews made a plot against him[c] just as he was about to sail for Syria,[d] he decided to go back through Macedonia.[e] 4He was accompanied by Sopater son of Pyrrhus from Berea, Aristarchus[f] and Secundus from Thessalonica,[g] Gaius[h] from Derbe, Timothy[i] also, and Tychicus[j] and Trophimus[k] from the province of Asia.[l] 5These men went on ahead and waited for us[m] at Troas.[n] 6But we sailed from Philippi[o] after the Feast of Unleavened Bread, and five days later joined the others at Troas,[p] where we stayed seven days.

Eutychus Raised From the Dead at Troas

7On the first day of the week[q] we came together to break bread.[r] Paul spoke

19:35 city clerk. The secretary of the city who published the decisions of the civic assembly. He was the most important local official and the chief executive officer of the assembly, acting as go-between for Ephesus and the Roman authorities.

19:38 courts ... proconsuls. Probably general terms, not intended to refer to more than one court or one proconsul. As capital city of the province of Asia, Ephesus was the headquarters for the proconsul.

19:39 legal assembly. The regular civil meeting ordinarily held three times a month.

20:1 said good-by and set out. Paul wanted to: (1) leave Ephesus, (2) preach in Troas on his way to Macedonia, (3) meet Titus at Troas with a report from Corinth (see 2Co 2:12–13) and (4) continue collecting the offering for Judea (see 1Co 16:1–4; 2 Co 8:1–9:15; Ro 15:25–28).

20:2 He traveled through that area. May cover a considerable period. He may have gone to Illyricum (see Ro 15:19) at this time.

20:3 three months. Probably a reference to the stay in Corinth, the capital of Achaia. These would be the winter months when ships did not sail regularly. Paul probably wrote Romans at this time (see Introduction to Romans: Occasion). a plot against him. The Jews were determined to take Paul's life; also, at this time he was carrying the offering for the Christians in Judea, so there would have been a temptation for theft as well. The port at Cenchrea would have provided a convenient place for Paul's enemies to detect him as he entered a ship to embark for Syria.

20:4 These men seem to be the delegates appointed to accompany Paul and the money given for the needy in Judea (see note on 2Co 8:23). Three were from Macedonia, two from Galatia and two from Asia. Luke may have joined them at Philippi ("we sailed," v. 6; see note on 16:10). Sopater. May be the same as Sosipater (Ro 16:21). Aristarchus. See note on 19:29. Secundus. Not mentioned elsewhere. His name means "second," as Tertius (see Ro 16:22) means "third" and Quartus (see Ro 16:23) means "fourth." Gaius from Derbe. A Gaius from Macedonia was associated with Aristarchus (see 19:29), but the grouping of the names in pairs (after the reference to Sopater) indicates that this Gaius was associated with Roman Galatia and is different from the Macedonian Gaius. Timothy. May have represented more than one particular church. He was from Lystra but had been responsible for working in other churches (1Co 16:10–11; Php 2:19–23). He had been sent to Macedonia before Paul left Ephesus (19:22). Tychicus. A constant help to Paul, especially in association with the churches of Asia (Eph 6:21–22; Col 4:7–9; 2Ti 4:12; Tit 3:12). Trophimus. Appears again in 21:29 (see 2Ti 4:20). He was an Ephesian, and it is implied that he was a Gentile.

20:5 Troas. Was to be the rendezvous for Paul and those who went on ahead by sea from Neapolis, the seaport of Philippi (16:11). Paul and his immediate companions stayed in Philippi before sailing a week later.

20:6 from Philippi. From the seaport, Neapolis, about ten miles away. Feast of Unleavened Bread. Began with Passover and lasted a week. Paul spent the period in Philippi. Formerly he had hoped to reach Jerusalem sooner (see 19:21), but now he hoped to arrive there for Pentecost (see 20:16). five days later. The voyage from Neapolis to Troas took five days. It had taken about two days the other direction (16:11). seven days. Although Paul was in a hurry to arrive at Jerusalem by Pentecost, he remained seven days at Troas. This might have been because of a ship schedule, but more likely the delay was in order to meet with the believers on the first day of the week to break bread.

20:7 first day of the week. Sunday. Although some maintain that they met on Saturday evening since the Jewish day began at six o'clock the previous evening, there is no indication that Luke is using the Jewish method of reporting time to tell of happenings in this Hellenistic city. to break bread. Here indicates the Lord's Supper, since breaking bread was the expressed purpose for this formal gathering. The Lord's Supper had been commanded (Lk 22:19), and it was observed regularly (see 2:42).

to the people and, because he intended to leave the next day, kept on talking until midnight. 8There were many lamps in the upstairs room[s] where we were meeting. 9Seated in a window was a young man named Eutychus, who was sinking into a deep sleep as Paul talked on and on. When he was sound asleep, he fell to the ground from the third story and was picked up dead. 10Paul went down, threw himself on the young man[t] and put his arms around him. "Don't be alarmed," he said. "He's alive!"[u] 11Then he went upstairs again and broke bread[v] and ate. After talking until daylight, he left. 12The people took the young man home alive and were greatly comforted.

Paul's Farewell to the Ephesian Elders

13We went on ahead to the ship and sailed for Assos, where we were going to take Paul aboard. He had made this arrangement because he was going there on foot. 14When he met us at Assos, we took him aboard and went on to Mitylene. 15The next day we set sail from there and arrived off Kios. The day after that we crossed over to Samos, and on the following day arrived at Miletus.[w] 16Paul had decided to sail past Ephesus[x] to avoid spending time in the province of Asia,[y] for he was in a hurry to reach Jerusalem,[z] if possible, by the day of Pentecost.[a]

17From Miletus,[b] Paul sent to Ephesus for the elders[c] of the church. 18When they arrived, he said to them: "You know how I lived the whole time I was with you,[d] from the first day I came into the province of Asia.[e] 19I served the Lord with great humility and with tears,[f] although I was severely tested by the plots of the Jews.[g] 20You know that I have not hesitated to preach anything[h] that would be helpful to you but have taught you publicly and from house to house. 21I have declared to both Jews[i] and Greeks that they must turn to God in repentance[j] and have faith in our Lord Jesus.[k]

22"And now, compelled by the Spirit, I am going to Jerusalem,[l] not knowing what will happen to me there. 23I only know that in every city the Holy Spirit warns me[m] that prison and hardships are facing me.[n] 24However, I consider my life worth nothing to me,[o] if only I may finish the race[p] and complete the task[q] the Lord Jesus has given me[r]—the task of testifying to the gospel of God's grace.[s]

25"Now I know that none of you among whom I have gone about preaching the kingdom[t] will ever see me again.[u] 26Therefore, I declare to you today that I am innocent of the blood of all men.[v] 27For I have not hesitated to proclaim to you the whole will of God.[w] 28Keep watch over yourselves and all the flock[x] of which the Holy Spirit has made you overseers.[py] Be shepherds of

20:9 Eutychus. A name common among the freedman class (see note on 6:9).

20:10 He's alive! As Peter had raised Tabitha (9:40), so Paul raised Eutychus.

20:13 Assos. On the opposite side of the peninsula from Troas—about 20 miles away by land. The coastline, however, was about 40 miles. Thus Paul was not far behind the ship that sailed around the peninsula.

20:14 Mitylene. After the first day of sailing, they put into this harbor on the southeast shore of the island of Lesbos.

20:15 Kios. The second night they spent off the shore of this larger island, which lay along the west coast of Asia Minor. Samos. Crossing the mouth of the bay that leads to Ephesus, they came on the third day to Samos, one of the most important islands in the Aegean. Miletus. Thirty miles south of Ephesus, the destination of the ship Paul was on. He would have had to change ships to put into Ephesus, which would have lost time (see v. 16). If he had come to Ephesus, he would have had to visit a number of families, which would have taken more time. If trouble should arise, as the riot of a year ago (19:23–41), even more time would be lost. It could not be risked.

20:16 by the day of Pentecost. Fifty days from Passover. Five days plus seven days (v. 6) plus four days (vv. 13–15) had already gone by, leaving only about two-thirds of the time for the remainder of the trip.

20:17 elders of the church. The importance of the leadership of elders has been evident throughout Paul's ministry. He had delivered the famine gift from the church at Antioch to the elders of the Jerusalem church (11:30). He had appointed elders on his first missionary journey (see 14:23) and had addressed the holders of this office later in Philippi (Php 1:1, "overseers"). He requested the Ephesian elders to meet with him on this solemn occasion (see v. 28). Some years later he wrote down instruction about the elders' qualifications (1Ti 3; Tit 1).

20:19 with tears. See v. 31. Paul's ministry at Ephesus was conducted with emotional fervency and a sense of urgency.

20:22 compelled by the Spirit. Paul did not go to Jerusalem against the direction of the Spirit, as some have suggested, but because of the guidance of the Spirit. People pleaded with him not to go (21:4,12), not because the Spirit prohibited his going but because the Spirit revealed the capture that awaited him there (21:11–12).

20:25 none of you ... will ever see me again. Not a message from God but what Paul anticipated. He had been mistaken before in his plans: He had intended to stay in Ephesus until Pentecost, but he had to leave earlier (see v. 1; 1Co 16:8–9). His prophetic power was not used to foresee his own future, just as his healing power was not used to heal his own disease (see 2Co 12:7–9). As it turned out, it seems that Paul did revisit Ephesus (see 1Ti 1:3).

20:28 overseers. Be shepherds. The "elders" (v. 17) were called "overseers" and told to pastor ("shepherd") the flock—demonstrating that the same men could be called "elders," "overseers" or "pastors." his own blood. Lit. "the blood of his own one," a term of endearment (such as "his own dear one," referring to his own Son).

the church of God,[q] which he bought[a] with his own blood.[b] [29]I know that after I leave, savage wolves[c] will come in among you and will not spare the flock.[d] [30]Even from your own number men will arise and distort the truth in order to draw away disciples[e] after them. [31]So be on your guard! Remember that for three years[f] I never stopped warning each of you night and day with tears.[g]

[32]"Now I commit you to God[h] and to the word of his grace, which can build you up and give you an inheritance[i] among all those who are sanctified.[j] [33]I have not coveted anyone's silver or gold or clothing.[k] [34]You yourselves know that these hands of mine have supplied my own needs and the needs of my companions.[l] [35]In everything I did, I showed you that by this kind of hard work we must help the weak, remembering the words the Lord Jesus himself said: 'It is more blessed to give than to receive.' "

[36]When he had said this, he knelt down with all of them and prayed.[m] [37]They all wept as they embraced him and kissed him.[n] [38]What grieved them most was his statement that they would never see his face again.[o] Then they accompanied him to the ship.[p]

On to Jerusalem

21 After we[q] had torn ourselves away from them, we put out to sea and sailed straight to Cos. The next day we went to Rhodes and from there to Patara. [2]We found a ship crossing over to Phoenicia,[r] went on board and set sail. [3]After sighting Cyprus and passing to the south of it, we sailed on to Syria.[s] We landed at Tyre, where our ship was to unload its cargo. [4]Finding the disciples[t] there, we stayed with them seven days. Through the Spirit[u] they urged Paul not to go on to Jerusalem. [5]But when our time was up, we left and continued on our way. All the disciples and their wives and children accompanied us out of the city, and there on the beach we knelt to pray.[v] [6]After saying good-by to each other, we went aboard the ship, and they returned home.

[7]We continued our voyage from Tyre[w] and landed at Ptolemais, where we greeted the brothers[x] and stayed with them for a day. [8]Leaving the next day, we reached Caesarea[y] and stayed at the house of Philip[z] the evangelist,[a] one of the Seven. [9]He had four unmarried daughters who prophesied.[b]

[10]After we had been there a number of days, a prophet named Agabus[c] came down from Judea. [11]Coming over to us, he took Paul's belt, tied his own hands and feet with it and said, "The Holy Spirit says,[d] 'In this way the Jews of Jerusalem will bind[e] the owner of this belt and will hand him over to the Gentiles.' "[f]

[12]When we heard this, we and the people there pleaded with Paul not to go up to Jerusalem. [13]Then Paul answered, "Why are you weeping and breaking my heart? I am ready not only to be bound, but also to die[g] in Jerusalem for the name of the Lord Jesus."[h] [14]When he

20:31 three years. See note on 19:10.
20:32 are sanctified. Positional sanctification (see 26:18; see also note on 1Co 1:2).
20:34 supplied my own needs. Paul had worked in Thessalonica (1Th 2:9) and Corinth (Ac 18:3).
20:35 remembering the words the Lord Jesus himself said. A formula regularly used in the early church to introduce a quotation from Jesus (1 Clement 46:7). This is a rare instance of a saying of Jesus not found in the canonical Gospels.
21:1 sailed straight to Cos. Favorable winds took them to a stopping place for the night at this island. Rhodes. The leading city on the island of Rhodes, once noted for its harbor colossus, one of the seven wonders of the ancient world (but demolished over two centuries before Paul arrived there). It took them a day to get to Rhodes. Patara. On the southern coast of Lycia. Paul changed ships from a vessel that hugged the shore of Asia Minor to one going directly to Tyre and Phoenicia.
21:3 Cyprus. See 13:4. Tyre. Paul had passed through this Phoenician area at least once before (15:3; cf. Mk 7:24).
21:4 seven days. These, added to the 29 days since the Passover in Philippi, would leave only two weeks until Pentecost. urged Paul not to go. The Spirit warned of the coming trials in store for Paul at Jerusalem. Because of these warnings, Paul's brothers urged him not to go on, knowing that trials lay ahead. But Paul felt "compelled by the Spirit" to go (20:22).
21:7 Ptolemais. The modern city of Acco, north of and across the bay from Mount Carmel. It was one day's journey from Tyre on the north and another 35 miles to Caesarea on the south.
21:8 Caesarea. A Gentile city, the capital of Roman Judea (see note on 10:1). Philip the evangelist. Philip's evangelistic work may have focused on Caesarea for almost 25 years (see note on 8:40). "Evangelist" is a title used only here and in Eph 4:11; 2Ti 4:5.
21:9 unmarried daughters. They may have been dedicated in a special way to serving the Lord. prophesied. See 1Co 11:5; 12:8–10; cf. Lk 2:36. For OT prophetesses see Ex 15:20; Jdg 4:4; 2Ki 22:14; Ne 6:14.
21:10 prophet named Agabus. Evidently he held the office of prophet, as Philip held the office of evangelist (v. 8). This is the same prophet who had been in Antioch prophesying the coming famine in Jerusalem some 15 years earlier (11:27–29).
21:12 we and the people there. Now Luke, in the company of travelers with Paul, joins in urging Paul not to go to Jerusalem.

would not be dissuaded, we gave up[i] and said, "The Lord's will be done."[j]

15After this, we got ready and went up to Jerusalem.[k] 16Some of the disciples from Caesarea[l] accompanied us and brought us to the home of Mnason, where we were to stay. He was a man from Cyprus[m] and one of the early disciples.

Paul's Arrival at Jerusalem

17When we arrived at Jerusalem, the brothers[n] received us warmly.[o] 18The next day Paul and the rest of us went to see James,[p] and all the elders[q] were present. 19Paul greeted them and reported in detail what God had done among the Gentiles[r] through his ministry.[s]

20When they heard this, they praised God. Then they said to Paul: "You see, brother, how many thousands of Jews have believed, and all of them are zealous[t] for the law.[u] 21They have been informed that you teach all the Jews who live among the Gentiles to turn away from Moses,[v] telling them not to circumcise their children[w] or live according to our customs.[x] 22What shall we do? They will certainly hear that you have come, 23so do what we tell you. There are four men with us who have made a vow.[y] 24Take these men, join in their purification rites[z] and pay their expenses, so that they can have their heads shaved.[a] Then everybody will know there is no truth in these reports about you, but that you yourself are living in obedience to the law. 25As for the Gentile believers, we have written to them our decision that they should abstain from food sacrificed to idols, from blood, from the meat of strangled animals and from sexual immorality."[b]

26The next day Paul took the men and purified himself along with them. Then he went to the temple to give notice of the date when the days of purification would end and the offering would be made for each of them.[c]

Paul Arrested

27When the seven days were nearly over, some Jews from the province of Asia saw Paul at the temple. They stirred up the whole crowd and seized him,[d] 28shouting, "Men of Israel, help us! This is the man who teaches all men everywhere against our people and our law and this place. And besides, he has brought Greeks into the temple area and defiled this holy place."[e] 29(They had previously seen Trophimus[f] the Ephesian[g] in the city with Paul and assumed that Paul had brought him into the temple area.)

30The whole city was aroused, and the people came running from all directions. Seizing Paul,[h] they dragged him[i] from the temple, and immediately the gates were shut. 31While they were trying to kill him, news reached the commander of the Roman troops that the whole city of Jerusalem was in an uproar. 32He at once took some officers and soldiers and ran down to the crowd. When the rioters saw the commander and his soldiers, they stopped beating Paul.[j]

33The commander came up and arrest-

21:16 Mnason. Must have been a disciple of some means to be able to accommodate Paul and a group of about nine men traveling with him.

21:17 arrived at Jerusalem. No more than a day or two before Pentecost. the brothers received us warmly. May indicate the grateful reception of the offering as well.

21:18 James. The brother of the Lord, author of the letter of James and leader of the church in Jerusalem (see Gal 1:19; 2:9). He is called an apostle but was not one of the Twelve.

21:23 made a vow. They were evidently under the temporary Nazirite vow and became unclean before the completion time of the vow (perhaps from contact with a dead body); cf. Nu 6:2–12.

21:24 purification rites. In some instances the rites included the offering of sacrifices. Such rites were observed by choice by some Jewish Christians but were not required of Christians, whether Jew or Gentile. pay their expenses. Paul's part in sponsoring these men would include (1) paying part or all of the expenses of the sacrificial victims (in this case eight pigeons and four lambs, Nu 6:9–12) and (2) going to the temple to notify the priest when their days of purification would be fulfilled so the priests would be prepared to sacrifice their offerings (v. 26). living in obedience to the law. Paul had earlier taken a vow himself (18:18), he had been a Jew to the Jews (see 1Co 9:20–21), and Timothy had been circumcised (16:3). However, Paul was very careful not to sacrifice Christian principle in any act of obedience to the law (he would not have Titus circumcised, Gal 2:3).

21:27 seven days. Cf. Nu 6:9. These were the days required for purification, shaving their heads at the altar, the sacrifice of a sin offering and burnt offering for each, and announcing the completion to the priests. Jews from the province of Asia. Paul had suffered already from the hands of Asian Jews (20:19).

21:28 brought Greeks into the temple area. Explicitly forbidden according to inscribed stone markers (still in existence). Any Gentiles found within the bounds of the court of Israel would be killed. But there is no evidence that Paul had brought anyone other than Jews into the area.

21:29 Trophimus. Paul probably did not take him into the forbidden area. If he had, they should have attacked Trophimus rather than Paul.

21:30 gates were shut. By order of the temple officer to prevent further trouble inside the sacred precincts.

21:31 commander. Greek chiliarch, a commander of 1,000 (a regiment), Claudius Lysias by name (23:26), who was stationed at the Fortress of Antonia (see note on v. 37).

21:32 some officers. Centurions. Since the plural is used, it is likely that at least two centurions and 200 soldiers were involved.

21:33 two chains. Probably his hands were chained to a soldier on either side.

ed him and ordered him to be bound[k] with two[l] chains.[m] Then he asked who he was and what he had done. 34Some in the crowd shouted one thing and some another,[n] and since the commander could not get at the truth because of the uproar, he ordered that Paul be taken into the barracks.[o] 35When Paul reached the steps,[p] the violence of the mob was so great he had to be carried by the soldiers. 36The crowd that followed kept shouting, "Away with him!"[q]

Paul Speaks to the Crowd

22:3-16pp — Ac 9:1-22; 26:9-18

37As the soldiers were about to take Paul into the barracks,[r] he asked the commander, "May I say something to you?"

"Do you speak Greek?" he replied. 38"Aren't you the Egyptian who started a revolt and led four thousand terrorists out into the desert[s] some time ago?"[t]

39Paul answered, "I am a Jew, from Tarsus[u] in Cilicia,[v] a citizen of no ordinary city. Please let me speak to the people."

40Having received the commander's permission, Paul stood on the steps and motioned[w] to the crowd. When they were all silent, he said to them in

22 Aramaic[r]:[x] 1"Brothers and fathers,[y] listen now to my defense."

2When they heard him speak to them in Aramaic,[z] they became very quiet.

Then Paul said: 3"I am a Jew,[a] born in Tarsus[b] of Cilicia,[c] but brought up in this city. Under[d] Gamaliel[e] I was thoroughly trained in the law of our fathers[f] and was just as zealous[g] for God as any of you are today. 4I persecuted[h] the followers of this Way[i] to their death, arresting both men and women and throwing them into prison,[j] 5as also the high priest and all the Council[k] can testify. I even obtained letters from them to their brothers[l] in Damascus,[m] and went there to bring these people as prisoners to Jerusalem to be punished.

6"About noon as I came near Damascus, suddenly a bright light from heaven flashed around me.[n] 7I fell to the ground and heard a voice say to me, 'Saul! Saul! Why do you persecute me?'

8" 'Who are you, Lord?' I asked.

" 'I am Jesus of Nazareth,[o] whom you are persecuting,' he replied. 9My companions saw the light,[p] but they did not understand the voice[q] of him who was speaking to me.

10" 'What shall I do, Lord?' I asked.

" 'Get up,' the Lord said, 'and go into Damascus. There you will be told all that you have been assigned to do.'[r] 11My companions led me by the hand into Damascus, because the brilliance of the light had blinded me.[s] 12"A man named Ananias came to see me.[t] He was a devout observer of the law and highly respected by all the Jews living there.[u] 13He stood beside me and said, 'Brother Saul, receive your sight!' And at that very moment I was able to see him.

14"Then he said: 'The God of our fathers[v] has chosen you to know his will and to see[w] the Righteous One[x] and to hear words from his mouth. 15You will

21:37 barracks. The Fortress of Antonia was connected to the northern end of the temple area by two flights of steps. The tower overlooked the temple area.

21:38 the Egyptian who started a revolt. Josephus tells of an Egyptian false prophet who some years earlier had led 4,000 (Josephus, through a misreading of a Greek capital letter, says 30,000) out to the Mount of Olives. Roman soldiers killed hundreds, but the leader escaped. terrorists. The Greek here is a loanword from Latin sicarii, meaning "dagger-men," who were violent assassins.

21:39 Tarsus. See note on 22:3.

21:40 Aramaic. More likely Aramaic than Hebrew (see NIV text note), since Aramaic was the most commonly used language among Palestinian Jews.

22:1 Brothers. See note on 11:1.

22:2 Aramaic. See note on 21:40. Actually, if he had spoken in Hebrew, they would have become quieter in order not to miss a single word, because it would have been more difficult for them to understand.

22:3 born in Tarsus. Paul had citizenship in Tarsus (21:39) as well as being a Roman citizen. "No ordinary city" (21:39) was used by Euripides to describe Athens. Tarsus was 10 miles inland on the Cydnus River and 30 miles from the mountains, which were cut by a deep, narrow gorge called the Cilician Gates. It was an important commercial center, university city and crossroads of travel. brought up in this city. Paul must have come to Jerusalem at an early age. Another translation ("brought up in this city at the feet of Gamaliel, being thoroughly trained according to the law of our fathers") would suggest that Paul came to Jerusalem when he was old enough to begin training under Gamaliel. Gamaliel. The most honored rabbi of the first century. Possibly he was the grandson of Hillel (see also 5:34–40).

22:4 I persecuted the followers. See 9:1–4.

22:5 high priest. Caiaphas, the high priest over 20 years earlier, was now dead, and Ananias was high priest (see 23:2); but the records of the high priest would show Paul's testimony to be true.

22:6 About noon. A detail not included in the earlier account (9:1–22).

22:8 Who are you, Lord? See note on 9:5. persecuting. See note on 9:4.

22:9 did not understand the voice. They heard the sound (9:7) but did not understand what was said.

22:12 Ananias ... devout observer of the law. Important to this audience (see note on Lk 1:6).

22:14 to see the Righteous One. Cf. 3:14. To see the resurrected Jesus was all-important to Paul (see 26:16; 1Co 9:1; 15:8). It was that experience that had convinced him of the truth of the gospel and that became the foundation of his theology.

19" 'Lord,' I replied, 'these men know that I went from one synagogue to another to imprison[f] and beat[g] those who believe in you. 20And when the blood of your martyr[s] Stephen was shed, I stood there giving my approval and guarding the clothes of those who were killing him.'[h]

21"Then the Lord said to me, 'Go; I will send you far away to the Gentiles.' "[i]

Paul the Roman Citizen

22The crowd listened to Paul until he said this. Then they raised their voices and shouted, "Rid the earth of him![j] He's not fit to live!"[k]

23As they were shouting and throwing off their cloaks[l] and flinging dust into the air,[m] 24the commander ordered Paul to be taken into the barracks.[n] He directed[o] that he be flogged and questioned in order to find out why the people were shouting at him like this. 25As they stretched him out to flog him, Paul said to the centurion standing there, "Is it legal for you to flog a Roman citizen who hasn't even been found guilty?"[p]

"Yes, I am," he answered.

28Then the commander said, "I had to pay a big price for my citizenship."

"But I was born a citizen," Paul replied.

29Those who were about to question him[q] withdrew immediately. The commander himself was alarmed when he realized that he had put Paul, a Roman citizen,[r] in chains.[s]

Before the Sanhedrin

30The next day, since the commander wanted to find out exactly why Paul was being accused by the Jews,[t] he released him[u] and ordered the chief priests and all the Sanhedrin[v] to assemble. Then he brought Paul and had him stand before them.

23 Paul looked straight at the Sanhedrin[w] and said, "My brothers,[x] I have fulfilled my duty to God in all good conscience[y] to this day." 2At this the high priest Ananias[z] ordered those standing near Paul to strike him on the mouth.[a] 3Then Paul said to him, "God will strike you, you whitewashed wall![b] You sit there to judge me according to

[s]20 Or witness

22:16 wash your sins away. Baptism is the outward sign of an inward work of grace. The reality and the symbol are closely associated in the NT (see 2:38; Tit 3:5; 1Pe 3:21). The outward rite, however, does not produce the inward grace (cf. Ro 2:28–29; Eph 2:8–9; Php 3:4–9). See note on Ro 6:3–4.

22:17 When I returned to Jerusalem. Refers to the visit described in 9:26; Gal 1:17–18. at the temple, I fell into a trance. See Peter's trance (10:10; 11:5; cf. 2Co 12:3). Paul was not a blasphemer of the temple but continued to hold it in high honor.

22:20 giving my approval. Does not necessarily mean that Paul had to be a member of the Sanhedrin, though some have thought so (see note on 26:10). He could show his approval by allowing them to put their cloaks at his feet.

22:24 commander. See note on 21:31. barracks. See note on 21:37. that he be flogged. Not with the rod, as at Philippi (16:22–24), but with the scourge, a merciless instrument of torture. It was legal to use it to force a confession from a slave or alien but never from a Roman citizen. The scourge consisted of a whip of leather thongs with pieces of bone or metal attached to the ends.

22:25 they stretched him out. The Greek word used for tying a person to a post for whipping. centurion. See note on 10:1. Roman citizen. According to Roman law, all Roman citizens were assured exclusion from all degrading forms of punishment: beating with rods, scourging, crucifixion.

22:28 pay a big price. There were three ways to obtain Roman citizenship: (1) receive it as a reward for some outstanding service to Rome; (2) buy it at a considerable price; (3) be born into a family of Roman citizens. How Paul's father or an earlier ancestor had gained citizenship, no one knows. By 171 B.C. a large number of Jews were citizens of Tarsus, and in the time of Pompey (106–48) some of these could have received Roman citizenship as well. Cf. 16:37.

22:30 he released him. Paul was no longer bound, and presumably he would have been free completely if the Sanhedrin had not wished to detain him. chief priests. Those of the high priestly line of descent (mainly Sadducees), but the Sanhedrin now included a considerable number of Pharisees. These men constituted the ruling body of the Jews. The Jewish court was respected by the Roman governor, whose approval had to be obtained before sentencing to capital punishment.

23:1 Sanhedrin. See note on 5:21. brothers. Fellow Jews (see note on 11:1). good conscience. A consistent claim of Paul.

23:2 Ananias. High priest A.D. 47–59, son of Nebedaeus. He is not to be confused with the high priest Annas (A.D. 6–15; see note on Lk 3:2). Ananias was noted for cruelty and violence. When the revolt against Rome broke out, he was assassinated by his own people.

23:3 whitewashed wall! Having an attractive exterior but filled with unclean contents, such as tombs holding dead bodies (see Mt 23:27); or walls that look substantial but fall before the winds (see Eze 13:10–12). It is a metaphor for a hypocrite.

the law, yet you yourself violate the law by commanding that I be struck!"[c]

[4]Those who were standing near Paul said, "You dare to insult God's high priest?"

[5]Paul replied, "Brothers, I did not realize that he was the high priest; for it is written: 'Do not speak evil about the ruler of your people.'[t]"[d]

[6]Then Paul, knowing that some of them were Sadducees[e] and the others Pharisees, called out in the Sanhedrin, "My brothers,[f] I am a Pharisee,[g] the son of a Pharisee. I stand on trial because of my hope in the resurrection of the dead."[h] [7]When he said this, a dispute broke out between the Pharisees and the Sadducees, and the assembly was divided. [8](The Sadducees say that there is no resurrection,[i] and that there are neither angels nor spirits, but the Pharisees acknowledge them all.)

[9]There was a great uproar, and some of the teachers of the law who were Pharisees[j] stood up and argued vigorously. "We find nothing wrong with this man,"[k] they said. "What if a spirit or an angel has spoken to him?"[l] [10]The dispute became so violent that the commander was afraid Paul would be torn to pieces by them. He ordered the troops to go down and take him away from them by force and bring him into the barracks.[m]

[11]The following night the Lord stood near Paul and said, "Take courage![n] As you have testified about me in Jerusalem, so you must also testify in Rome."[o]

The Plot to Kill Paul

[12]The next morning the Jews formed a conspiracy[p] and bound themselves with an oath not to eat or drink until they had killed Paul.[q] [13]More than forty men were involved in this plot. [14]They went to the chief priests and elders and said, "We have taken a solemn oath not to eat anything until we have killed Paul.[r] [15]Now then, you and the Sanhedrin[s] petition the commander to bring him before you on the pretext of wanting more accurate information about his case. We are ready to kill him before he gets here."

[16]But when the son of Paul's sister heard of this plot, he went into the barracks[t] and told Paul.

[17]Then Paul called one of the centurions and said, "Take this young man to the commander; he has something to tell him." [18]So he took him to the commander.

The centurion said, "Paul, the prisoner,[u] sent for me and asked me to bring this young man to you because he has something to tell you."

[19]The commander took the young man by the hand, drew him aside and asked, "What is it you want to tell me?"

[20]He said: "The Jews have agreed to ask you to bring Paul before the Sanhedrin[v] tomorrow on the pretext of wanting more accurate information about him.[w] [21]Don't give in to them, because more than forty[x] of them are waiting in ambush for him. They have taken an oath not to eat or drink until they have killed him.[y] They are ready now, waiting for your consent to their request."

[22]The commander dismissed the young man and cautioned him, "Don't tell anyone that you have reported this to me."

Paul Transferred to Caesarea

[23]Then he called two of his centurions and ordered them, "Get ready a detachment of two hundred soldiers, seventy horsemen and two hundred spearmen[u] to go to Caesarea[z] at nine tonight.[a] [24]Provide mounts for Paul so that he may be taken safely to Governor Felix."[b]

[25]He wrote a letter as follows:

[26]Claudius Lysias,

To His Excellency,[c] Governor Felix:

Greetings.[d]

[t]5 Exodus 22:28 [u]23 The meaning of the Greek for this word is uncertain.

23:5 I did not realize that he was the high priest. Explained in different ways: 1. Paul had poor eyesight (suggested by such passages as Gal 4:15; 6:11) and failed to see that the one who presided was the high priest. 2. He failed to discern that the one who presided was the high priest because on some occasions others had sat in his place. 3. He was using pure irony: A true high priest would not give such an order. 4. He refused to acknowledge that Ananias was the high priest under these circumstances.

23:6 Sadducees. See notes on 4:1; Mt 3:7; Mk 12:18; Lk 20:27. They denied the resurrection and angels and spirits (v. 8). Pharisees. See notes on Mt 3:7; Mk 2:16; Lk 5:17.

23:10 commander. See note on 21:31. barracks. See note on 21:37.

23:11 the Lord stood near. In times of crisis and need for strength, Paul was given help (see 18:9; 22:18; 27:23).

23:12 bound themselves with an oath. Probably these were from the Zealots or the "terrorists" (see note on 21:38) later responsible for revolt against Rome.

23:17 centurions. See note on 10:1. commander. See note on 21:31.

23:22 Don't tell anyone. For the boy's own safety and because of the commander's plans to transfer Paul under cover of night (see v. 23).

23:23 soldiers . . . horsemen . . . spearmen. Heavily armed infantry, cavalry and lightly armed soldiers. The commander assigned 470 men to protect Paul, the Roman citizen (cf. 22:25–29)—but the Greek for "spearmen" is an obscure word and could perhaps be translated "additional mounts and pack animals" (see NIV text note).

23:27 for I had learned that he is a Roman citizen. Insert-

Jews and they were about to kill him,[e] but I came with my troops and rescued him,[f] for I had learned that he is a Roman citizen.[g] [28]I wanted to know why they were accusing him, so I brought him to their Sanhedrin.[h] [29]I found that the accusation had to do with questions about their law,[i] but there was no charge against him[j] that deserved death or imprisonment. [30]When I was informed[k] of a plot[l] to be carried out against the man, I sent him to you at once. I also ordered his accusers[m] to present to you their case against him.

[31]So the soldiers, carrying out their orders, took Paul with them during the night and brought him as far as Antipatris. [32]The next day they let the cavalry[n] go on with him, while they returned to the barracks.[o] [33]When the cavalry[p] arrived in Caesarea,[q] they delivered the letter to the governor[r] and handed Paul over to him. [34]The governor read the letter and asked what province he was from. Learning that he was from Cilicia,[s] [35]he said, "I will hear your case when your accusers[t] get here." Then he ordered that Paul be kept under guard[u] in Herod's palace.

The Trial Before Felix

24 Five days later the high priest Ananias[v] went down to Caesarea with some of the elders and a lawyer named Tertullus, and they brought their charges[w] against Paul before the governor.[x] [2]When Paul was called in, Tertullus presented his case before Felix: "We have enjoyed a long period of peace under you, and your foresight has brought about reforms in this nation. [3]Everywhere and in every way, most excellent[y] Felix, we acknowledge this with profound gratitude. [4]But in order not to weary you further, I would request that you be kind enough to hear us briefly.

[5]"We have found this man to be a troublemaker, stirring up riots[z] among the Jews[a] all over the world. He is a ringleader of the Nazarene[b] sect[c] [6]and even tried to desecrate the temple;[d] so we seized him. [8]By[v] examining him yourself you will be able to learn the truth about all these charges we are bringing against him."

[9]The Jews joined in the accusation,[e] asserting that these things were true.

[10]When the governor[f] motioned for him to speak, Paul replied: "I know that for a number of years you have been a judge over this nation; so I gladly make ed to gain the commander's favor with Rome, but not a true statement, because the commander did not learn of Paul's citizenship until he was about to scourge him to gain information.

23:30 ordered his accusers to present to you their case. He anticipated that the order would be given by the time the letter was delivered.

23:31 Antipatris. Rebuilt by Herod the Great and named for his father. It was a military post between Samaria and Judea—30 miles from Jerusalem.

23:33 Caesarea. The headquarters of Roman rule for Samaria and Judea—28 miles from Antipatris.

23:34 The governor. Antonius Felix. The emperor Claudius had appointed him governor of Judea c. A.D. 52, a time when Felix's brother was the emperor's favorite minister. The brothers had formerly been slaves, then freedmen, then high officials in government. The historian Tacitus said of Felix, "He held the power of a tyrant with the disposition of a slave." He married three queens in succession, one of whom was Drusilla (see note on 24:24). from Cilicia. If Paul had come from a province nearby, Felix might have turned him over for trial under another's jurisdiction.

23:35 Herod's palace. Erected as a royal residence by Herod the Great but now used as a Roman praetorium—the place for the official business of the emperor and/or to house personnel directly responsible to the emperor. Praetoria were located in Rome (Php 1:13), Ephesus, Jerusalem (Jn 18:28), Caesarea and other parts of the empire.

24:1 Five days later. After the departure from Jerusalem. This would allow just enough time for a messenger to go from Caesarea to Jerusalem, the Sanhedrin to appoint their representatives, and the appointees to make the return journey to Caesarea. Ananias. See note on 23:2. The high priest himself made the 60-mile journey to supervise the case personally. elders. The Sanhedrin was made up of 71 elders. The designation was used of both the religious and the political councils. See notes on Ex 3:16; 2Sa 3:17; Joel 1:2; Mt 15:2. lawyer. Lit. "orator." In a court trial one trained in forensic rhetoric would serve as an attorney at law. Tertullus. A common variant of the name Tertius. Possibly he was a Roman but more likely a Hellenistic Jew familiar with the procedures of the Roman court.

24:2–3 long period of peace . . . with profound gratitude. The expected eulogy with which to introduce a speech before a judge. In his six years in office Felix had eliminated bands of robbers, thwarted organized assassins and crushed a movement led by an Egyptian (see note on 21:38). But in general his record was not good. He was recalled by Rome two years later because of misrule. His reforms and improvements are hard to identify historically.

24:5 troublemaker . . . ringleader of the Nazarene sect. To excite dissension in the empire was treason against Caesar. To be a leader of a religious sect without Roman approval was contrary to law. the Nazarene sect. Christianity.

24:6 tried to desecrate the temple. The charge is now qualified by "an attempt," rather than the former claim (see note on 21:28).

24:7 See NIV text note on vv. 6–8.

24:10 Paul's reserved introduction lacks the flattery employed by Tertullus (vv. 2–4).

my defense. 11You can easily verify that no more than twelve days[g] ago I went up to Jerusalem to worship. 12My accusers did not find me arguing with anyone at the temple,[h] or stirring up a crowd[i] in the synagogues or anywhere else in the city. 13And they cannot prove to you the charges they are now making against me.[j] 14However, I admit that I worship the God of our fathers[k] as a follower of the Way,[l] which they call a sect.[m] I believe everything that agrees with the Law and that is written in the Prophets,[n] 15and I have the same hope in God as these men, that there will be a resurrection[o] of both the righteous and the wicked.[p] 16So I strive always to keep my conscience clear[q] before God and man.

17"After an absence of several years, I came to Jerusalem to bring my people gifts for the poor[r] and to present offerings. 18I was ceremonially clean[s] when they found me in the temple courts doing this. There was no crowd with me, nor was I involved in any disturbance.[t] 19But there are some Jews from the province of Asia,[u] who ought to be here before you and bring charges if they have anything against me.[v] 20Or these who are here should state what crime they found in me when I stood before the Sanhedrin— 21unless it was this one thing I shouted as I stood in their presence: 'It is concerning the resurrection of the dead that I am on trial before you today.' "[w]

22Then Felix, who was well acquainted with the Way,[x] adjourned the proceedings. "When Lysias the commander comes," he said, "I will decide your case." 23He ordered the centurion to keep Paul under guard[y] but to give him some freedom[z] and permit his friends to take care of his needs.[a]

24Several days later Felix came with his wife Drusilla, who was a Jewess. He sent for Paul and listened to him as he spoke about faith in Christ Jesus.[b] 25As Paul discoursed on righteousness, self-control[c] and the judgment[d] to come, Felix was afraid[e] and said, "That's enough for now! You may leave. When I find it convenient, I will send for you." 26At the same time he was hoping that Paul would offer him a bribe, so he sent for him frequently and talked with him.

27When two years had passed, Felix was succeeded by Porcius Festus,[f] but because Felix wanted to grant a favor to the Jews,[g] he left Paul in prison.[h]

The Trial Before Festus

25 Three days after arriving in the province, Festus[i] went up from Caesarea[j] to Jerusalem, 2where the chief priests and Jewish leaders appeared before him and presented the charges against Paul.[k] 3They urgently requested

24:11 twelve days ago. Paul answers each accusation. He was not a troublemaker, and he had not been involved in disturbances. He had but recently arrived in Jerusalem. He had spent five days in Caesarea and nearly seven in Jerusalem.

24:14 worship ... God ... as a follower of the Way. Paul admits to his part in the Way, but he still believes the Law and the Prophets. He shares the same hope as the Jews—resurrection and judgment (v. 15).

24:16 conscience clear. See note on 23:1.

24:17 to bring my people gifts for the poor. The only explicit reference in Acts to the collection that was so important to Paul (see note on 20:4). to present offerings. May refer to Paul's help in sponsoring those who were fulfilling their vows (see 21:24). He also may have intended to present offerings for himself.

24:19 Jews from the province of Asia. See 21:27–29. The absence of these Asian Jews would seem to suggest that they could not substantiate their accusations.

24:21 concerning the resurrection. Paul again introduces the point of contention between the Pharisees and Sadducees.

24:22 well acquainted with the Way. Felix could not have governed Judea and Samaria for six years without becoming familiar with the place and activities of the Christians.

24:23 to give him some freedom. Perhaps Paul was under house arrest similar to what he experienced while waiting trial in Rome (28:30–31)—in recognition of the fact that he was a Roman citizen who had not been found guilty of any crime.

24:24 Drusilla. Felix's third wife, daughter of Herod Agrippa I. At age 15 she married Azizus, king of Emesa, but deserted him for Felix a year later. Her son, also named Agrippa, died in the eruption of Vesuvius (A.D. 79).

24:25 Felix was afraid. Hearing of righteousness, self-control and the judgment, Felix looked at his past life and was filled with fear. He had a spark of sincerity and concern. When I find it convenient. Lust, pride, greed and selfish ambition made it continually inconvenient to change.

24:26 offer him a bribe. Felix supposed that Paul had access to considerable funds. He had heard of his bringing an offering to the Jewish Christians in Jerusalem (see v. 17). So he wanted Paul to give him money in order to secure his release. Paul no longer had the money, nor would he offer a bribe if he had it.

24:27 Felix was succeeded by ... Festus. Felix was recalled to Rome in A.D. 59/60 to answer for disturbances and irregularities in his rule, such as his handling of riots between Jewish and Syrian inhabitants. Festus is not mentioned in existing historical records before his arrival in Judea. He died in office after two years, but his record for that time shows wisdom and honesty superior to both his predecessor, Felix, and his successor, Albinus. to grant a favor to the Jews. Felix did not want to incite more anger among the Jews, whom he would be facing in Roman court shortly. To release Paul from prison would do just that.

25:1 from Caesarea to Jerusalem. Sixty miles, a two-day trip. Festus was anxious to go immediately to the center of Jewish rule and worship.

25:2 chief priests and Jewish leaders. The Sanhedrin (see note on Mk 14:55).

25:3 an ambush. Probably the same group that had earlier made a vow to take Paul's life (see note on 23:12).

Festus, as a favor to them, to have Paul transferred to Jerusalem, for they were preparing an ambush to kill him along the way.[l] 4Festus answered, "Paul is being held[m] at Caesarea,[n] and I myself am going there soon. 5Let some of your leaders come with me and press charges against the man there, if he has done anything wrong."

6After spending eight or ten days with them, he went down to Caesarea, and the next day he convened the court[o] and ordered that Paul be brought before him.[p] 7When Paul appeared, the Jews who had come down from Jerusalem stood around him, bringing many serious charges against him,[q] which they could not prove.[r]

8Then Paul made his defense: "I have done nothing wrong against the law of the Jews or against the temple[s] or against Caesar."

9Festus, wishing to do the Jews a favor,[t] said to Paul, "Are you willing to go up to Jerusalem and stand trial before me there on these charges?"[u]

10Paul answered: "I am now standing before Caesar's court, where I ought to be tried. I have not done any wrong to the Jews,[v] as you yourself know very well. 11If, however, I am guilty of doing anything deserving death, I do not refuse to die. But if the charges brought against me by these Jews are not true, no one has the right to hand me over to them. I appeal to Caesar!"[w]

12After Festus had conferred with his council, he declared: "You have appealed to Caesar. To Caesar you will go!"

Festus Consults King Agrippa

13A few days later King Agrippa and Bernice arrived at Caesarea[x] to pay their respects to Festus. 14Since they were spending many days there, Festus discussed Paul's case with the king. He said: "There is a man here whom Felix left as a prisoner.[y] 15When I went to Jerusalem, the chief priests and elders of the Jews brought charges against him[z] and asked that he be condemned.

16"I told them that it is not the Roman custom to hand over any man before he has faced his accusers and has had an opportunity to defend himself against their charges.[a] 17When they came here with me, I did not delay the case, but convened the court the next day and ordered the man to be brought in.[b] 18When his accusers got up to speak, they did not charge him with any of the crimes I had expected. 19Instead, they had some points of dispute[c] with him about their own religion[d] and about a dead man named Jesus who Paul claimed was alive. 20I was at a loss how to investigate such matters; so I asked if he would be willing to go to Jerusalem and stand trial there on these charges.[e] 21When Paul made his appeal to be held over for the Emperor's decision, I ordered him held until I could send him to Caesar."[f]

22Then Agrippa said to Festus, "I would like to hear this man myself."

He replied, "Tomorrow you will hear him."[g]

25:6 convened the court. To make his decision binding as a formal ruling.

25:7 which they could not prove. Again, as in the first hearing, Paul's adversaries produced no witnesses or evidence of any kind.

25:8 nothing . . . against the law. Paul had respect for the law (see Ro 7:12; 8:3–4; 1Co 9:20). against the temple. See notes on 21:28–29. Paul had not defied its customs by taking Trophimus into forbidden areas (21:29). Jesus had prophesied its destruction, but he was not responsible for its plight (Lk 21:5–6). against Caesar. Paul proclaimed the kingdom of God but not as a political rival of Rome (cf. 17:6–7). He advocated respect for law and order (see Ro 13:1–7) and prayer for civil rulers (see 1Ti 2:2).

25:9 Are you willing to go up to Jerusalem . . . ? Obviously not. Festus had said that the trial would be before him; so Paul insisted that he was then standing in the Roman civil court (v. 10). He wanted to keep his trial there rather than suffer at the hands of a Jewish religious court. As a Roman citizen, he could refuse to go to a local provincial court; instead he looked to a higher Roman court.

25:11 I appeal to Caesar! Nero had become the emperor by this time. It was the right of every Roman citizen to have his case heard before Caesar himself (or his representative) in Rome. This was the highest court of appeal, and winning such a case could have led to more than just Paul's acquittal. It could have resulted in official recognition of Christianity as distinct from Judaism.

25:12 his council. The officials and legal experts who made up the advisory council for the Roman governor.

25:13 King Agrippa. Herod Agrippa II. He was 17 years old at the death of his father in A.D. 44 (12:23). Being too young to succeed his father, he was replaced by Roman procurators. Eight years later, however, a gradual extension of territorial authority began. Ultimately he ruled over territory north and northeast of the Sea of Galilee, over several Galilean cities and over some cities in Perea. At the Jewish revolt, when Jerusalem fell, he was on the side of the Romans. He died c. A.D. 100—the last of the Herods. Bernice. The oldest daughter of Agrippa I, she was 16 years old at his death. When only 13, she married her uncle, Herod of Chalcis, and had two sons. When Herod died, she lived with her brother, Agrippa II. To silence rumors that she was living in incest with her brother, she married Polemon, king of Cilicia, but left him soon to return to Agrippa. She became the mistress of the emperor Vespasian's son Titus but was later ignored by him. to pay their respects. It was customary for rulers to pay a complimentary visit to a new ruler at the time of his assignment. It was advantageous to each that they get along (cf. Herod Antipas and Pilate, Lk 23:6–12).

25:19 religion. Or "superstition," the same word used by Paul in 17:22 (see note there).

25:22 I would like to hear. Agrippa had been wishing to hear Paul (cf. Antipas wanting to see Jesus, Lk 9:9; 23:8).

Paul Before Agrippa

26:12–18pp — Ac 9:3–8; 22:6–11

23The next day Agrippa and Bernice[h] came with great pomp and entered the audience room with the high ranking officers and the leading men of the city. At the command of Festus, Paul was brought in. 24Festus said: "King Agrippa, and all who are present with us, you see this man! The whole Jewish community[i] has petitioned me about him in Jerusalem and here in Caesarea, shouting that he ought not to live any longer.[j] 25I found he had done nothing deserving of death,[k] but because he made his appeal to the Emperor[l] I decided to send him to Rome. 26But I have nothing definite to write to His Majesty about him. Therefore I have brought him before all of you, and especially before you, King Agrippa, so that as a result of this investigation I may have something to write. 27For I think it is unreasonable to send on a prisoner without specifying the charges against him."

26 Then Agrippa said to Paul, "You have permission to speak for yourself."[m]

So Paul motioned with his hand[n] and began his defense: 2"King Agrippa, I consider myself fortunate to stand before you[o] today as I make my defense against all the accusations of the Jews,[p] 3and especially so because you are well acquainted with all the Jewish customs[q] and controversies.[r] Therefore, I beg you to listen to me patiently.

4"The Jews all know the way I have lived ever since I was a child,[s] from the beginning of my life in my own country, and also in Jerusalem. 5They have known me for a long time[t] and can testify, if they are willing, that according to the strictest sect[u] of our religion, I lived as a Pharisee.[v] 6And now it is because of my hope[w] in what God has promised our fathers[x] that I am on trial today. 7This is the promise our twelve tribes[y] are hoping to see fulfilled as they earnestly serve God day and night.[z] O king, it is because of this hope that the Jews are accusing me.[a] 8Why should any of you consider it incredible that God raises the dead?[b]

9"I too was convinced[c] that I ought to do all that was possible to oppose[d] the name of Jesus of Nazareth.[e] 10And that is just what I did in Jerusalem. On the authority of the chief priests I put many of the saints[f] in prison,[g] and when they were put to death, I cast my vote against them.[h] 11Many a time I went from one synagogue to another to have them punished,[i] and I tried to force them to blaspheme. In my obsession against them, I even went to foreign cities to persecute them.

12"On one of these journeys I was going to Damascus with the authority and commission of the chief priests. 13About noon, O king, as I was on the road, I saw a light from heaven, brighter than the sun, blazing around me and my companions. 14We all fell to the ground, and I heard a voice[j] saying to me in Aramaic,[w k] 'Saul, Saul, why do you persecute me? It is hard for you to kick against the goads.'

15"Then I asked, 'Who are you, Lord?'

" 'I am Jesus, whom you are persecuting,' the Lord replied. 16'Now get up and 25:23 audience room. Not the judgment hall, for this was not a court trial. It was in an auditorium appropriate for the pomp of the occasion, with a king, his sister, the Roman governor and the outstanding leaders of both the Jews and the Roman government present. high ranking officers. Five regiments were stationed at Caesarea, so their five commanders would be in attendance (see note on 21:31).

25:26 I have nothing definite. Festus was required to send Caesar an explicit report on the case when an appeal was made. He hoped for some help from Agrippa in this matter. This was not an official trial but a special hearing to satisfy the curiosity of Agrippa and provide an assessment for Festus. especially before you, King Agrippa. He would be sensitive to differences between Pharisees and Sadducees, expectations of the Messiah, differences between Jews and Christians, and Jewish customs pertinent to these problems.

26:1 permission to speak. Agrippa gave the permission because Festus allowed him to have charge of the hearing.

26:3 well acquainted with all the Jewish customs. Agrippa as king controlled the temple treasury and the investments of the high priest, and could appoint the high priest. He was consulted by the Romans on religious matters. This is one of the reasons Festus wanted him to assess Paul.

26:5 I lived as a Pharisee. Cf. Gal 1:14.

26:6 my hope in what God has promised. Including God's kingdom, the Messiah and the resurrection (see v. 8).

26:8 Paul had been speaking to Agrippa but at this point must have addressed others as well, such as Festus and the commanders (see note on 21:31), who did not believe in the resurrection. Agrippa was also allied with the Sadducees, whom he appointed high priests, and was likely to reject both the resurrection of Christ and resurrection in general.

26:10 I cast my vote against them. Does not necessarily mean that Paul was a member of the Sanhedrin (see note on 22:20). He may have been appointed to a commission to carry out the prosecution (see v. 12), where his vote was given.

26:11 force them to blaspheme. He tried to force them either to curse Jesus or to confess publicly that Jesus is the Son of God, in which case they could be condemned for blasphemy, a sufficient cause for death (see Mt 26:63–66).

26:12 I was going to Damascus. Again Paul gives an account of his conversion (see 9:1–19; 22:4–21 and notes).

26:14 I heard a voice. See notes on 9:7; 22:9. to kick against the goads. A Greek proverb for useless resistance—the ox succeeds only in hurting itself.

stand on your feet.[l] I have appeared to you to appoint you as a servant and as a witness of what you have seen of me and what I will show you.[m] 17I will rescue you[n] from your own people and from the Gentiles.[o] I am sending you to them 18to open their eyes[p] and turn them from darkness to light,[q] and from the power of Satan to God, so that they may receive forgiveness of sins[r] and a place among those who are sanctified by faith in me.'[s]

19"So then, King Agrippa, I was not disobedient[t] to the vision from heaven. 20First to those in Damascus,[u] then to those in Jerusalem[v] and in all Judea, and to the Gentiles[w] also, I preached that they should repent[x] and turn to God and prove their repentance by their deeds.[y] 21That is why the Jews seized me[z] in the temple courts and tried to kill me.[a] 22But I have had God's help to this very day, and so I stand here and testify to small and great alike. I am saying nothing beyond what the prophets and Moses said would happen[b]— 23that the Christ[x] would suffer[c] and, as the first to rise from the dead,[d] would proclaim light to his own people and to the Gentiles."[e]

24At this point Festus interrupted Paul's defense. "You are out of your mind,[f] Paul!" he shouted. "Your great learning[g] is driving you insane."

25"I am not insane, most excellent[h] Festus," Paul replied. "What I am saying is true and reasonable. 26The king is familiar with these things,[i] and I can speak freely to him. I am convinced that none of this has escaped his notice, because it was not done in a corner. 27King Agrippa, do you believe the prophets? I know you do."

28Then Agrippa said to Paul, "Do you think that in such a short time you can persuade me to be a Christian?"[j]

29Paul replied, "Short time or long—I pray God that not only you but all who are listening to me today may become what I am, except for these chains."[k]

30The king rose, and with him the governor and Bernice[l] and those sitting with them. 31They left the room, and while talking with one another, they said, "This man is not doing anything that deserves death or imprisonment."[m]

32Agrippa said to Festus, "This man could have been set free[n] if he had not appealed to Caesar."[o]

Paul Sails for Rome

27 When it was decided that we[p] would sail for Italy,[q] Paul and some other prisoners were handed over to a centurion named Julius, who belonged to the Imperial Regiment.[r] 2We boarded a ship from Adramyttium about to sail for ports along the coast of the province of Asia,[s] and we put out to sea. Aristarchus,[t] a Macedonian[u] from Thessalonica,[v] was with us.

3The next day we landed at Sidon;[w] and Julius, in kindness to Paul,[x] allowed him to go to his friends so they might provide for his needs.[y] 4From there we put out to sea again and passed

26:17 to them. Not only to the Jews but also to the Gentiles (see 22:21; Gal 1:15–16). His mission was from God (Gal 1:1).

26:18 from darkness to light. A figure especially characteristic of Paul (see Ro 13:12; 2Co 4:6; Eph 5:8–14; Col 1:13; 1Th 5:5). are sanctified. Positional sanctification (see notes on 20:32; 1Co 1:2).

26:22 the prophets and Moses. The OT Scriptures (Lk 24:27,44).

26:23 the first to rise from the dead. The firstfruits of the dead—to die no more (see 1Co 15:20; Col 1:18). to the Gentiles. Cf. Isa 49:6.

26:24 You are out of your mind. See Jn 10:20; 1Co 14:23. The governor felt that Paul's education and reading of the sacred Scriptures had led him to a mania about prophecy and resurrection.

26:26 not done in a corner. This gospel is based on actual events, lived out in historical times and places. The king must himself attest to the truth of what Paul has affirmed.

26:27 do you believe the prophets? King Agrippa was faced with a dilemma. If he said "Yes," Paul would press him to recognize their fulfillment in Jesus; if he said "No," he would be in trouble with the devout Jews, who accepted the message of the prophets as the very word of God.

26:28 in such a short time you can persuade me to be a Christian? His question is an evasion of Paul's question and an answer to what he anticipates Paul's next question to be. His point is that he will not be persuaded by such a brief statement.

26:29 these chains. Paul was still bound as a prisoner.

27:1 See map No. 11 at the end of the study Bible. we would sail. The "we" narrative (see note on 16:10) begins again (the last such reference appeared in 21:18). Probably Luke has spent the two years of Paul's Caesarean imprisonment nearby, and now he joins those ready to sail. centurion named Julius. Otherwise unknown. Perhaps he was given the specific duties of an imperial courier, which included delivering prisoners for trial. Imperial Regiment. The Roman legions were designated by number, and each of the regiments also had designations. The identification "Augustan," or "Imperial" (belonging to the empire), was common (see note on 10:1).

27:2 Adramyttium. A harbor on the west coast of the province of Asia, southeast of Troas, east of Assos. ports along the coast. At one of these stops, Julius would plan to transfer to a ship going to Rome. Aristarchus. See 19:29; 20:4; see also Phm 24 and Col 4:10, indicating he was in Rome with Paul later.

27:3 Sidon. About 70 miles north of Caesarea.

27:4 the lee of Cyprus. They sought the protecting shelter of the island by sailing north on the eastern side of the island, then west along the northern side. winds were against us. Prevailing winds in summer were westerly.

to the lee of Cyprus because the winds were against us.[z] 5When we had sailed across the open sea off the coast of Cilicia[a] and Pamphylia,[b] we landed at Myra in Lycia. 6There the centurion found an Alexandrian ship[c] sailing for Italy[d] and put us on board. 7We made slow headway for many days and had difficulty arriving off Cnidus. When the wind did not allow us to hold our course,[e] we sailed to the lee of Crete,[f] opposite Salmone. 8We moved along the coast with difficulty and came to a place called Fair Havens, near the town of Lasea.

9Much time had been lost, and sailing had already become dangerous because by now it was after the Fast.[yg] So Paul warned them, 10"Men, I can see that our voyage is going to be disastrous and bring great loss to ship and cargo, and to our own lives also."[h] 11But the centurion, instead of listening to what Paul said, followed the advice of the pilot and of the owner of the ship. 12Since the harbor was unsuitable to winter in, the majority decided that we should sail on, hoping to reach Phoenix and winter there. This was a harbor in Crete,[i] facing both southwest and northwest.

[yg] That is, the Day of Atonement (Yom Kippur)

27:5 Cilicia and Pamphylia. Adjoining provinces on the southern shore of Asia Minor. From Sidon to Myra along this coast would normally be a voyage of 10 to 15 days. Myra in Lycia. The growing importance of the city of Myra was associated with the development of navigation. Instead of hugging the coast from point to point, more ships were daring to run directly from Alexandria in Egypt to harbors like Myra on the southern coast of Asia Minor. It was considerably out of the way on the trip to Rome from Egypt, but the prevailing westerly wind would not allow a direct voyage toward the west. Myra became an important grain-storage city as well.

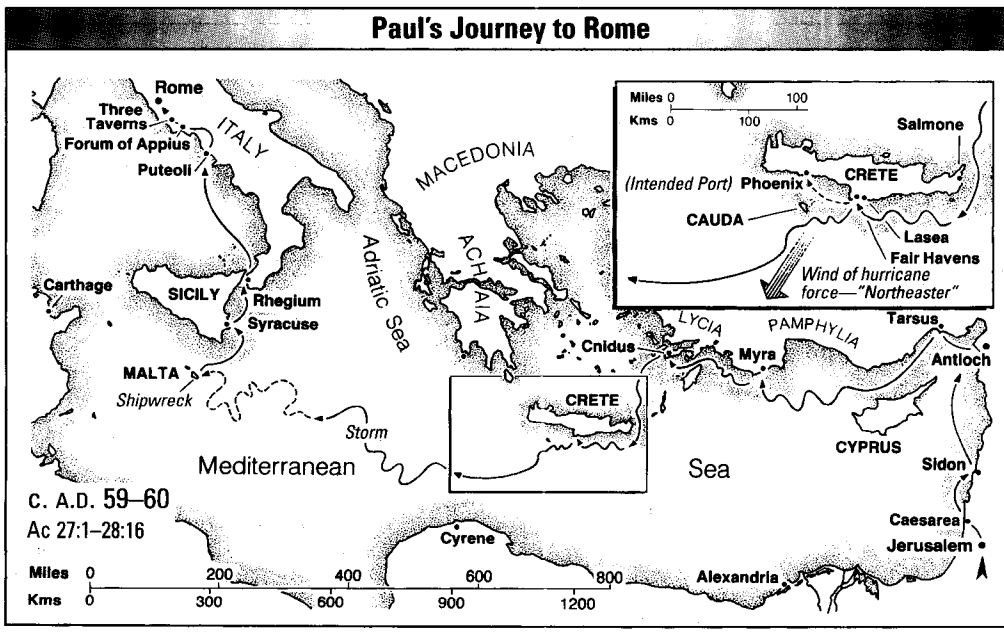
27:6 Alexandrian ship. A ship from Egypt (with grain cargo, v. 38) bound for Rome. Paul and the others could have remained on the first ship and continued up the coast to Macedonia, then taken the land route over the Egnatian Way across Greece and on to Rome, entering Italy at the port of Brundisium. But Julius chose to change ships here, accepting the opportunity of a voyage direct to Rome. Some suggest that Aristarchus from Macedonia stayed with the first ship and went to his home area to tell of Paul's coming imprisonment in Rome. If so, he later joined Paul in Rome (see note on v. 2).

27:7 Cnidus. From Myra to Cnidus at the southwest point of Asia Minor was about 170 miles. The trip probably took another 10 to 15 days. Crete. An island 160 miles long. Rather than cross the open sea to Greece, the ship was forced to bear south, seeking to sail west with the protection of the island of Crete on the north ("to the lee of Crete"). Salmone. A promontory on the northeast point of Crete.

27:8 Fair Havens . . . Lasea. The former was a port about midway on the southern coast of Crete, and the latter was a city about five miles away.

27:9 the Fast. The Jewish Day of Atonement fell in the latter part of September or in October. The usual sailing season by Jewish calculation lasted from Pentecost (May-June) to Tabernacles, which was five days after the Fast. The Romans considered sailing after Sept. 15 doubtful and after Nov. 11 suicidal.

27:12 Phoenix. A major city that served as a wintering place, having a harbor with protection against the storms.



what they wanted; so they weighed anchor and sailed along the shore of Crete.
14Before very long, a wind of hurricane force,[j] called the "northeaster," swept down from the island. 15The ship was caught by the storm and could not head into the wind; so we gave way to it and were driven along. 16As we passed to the lee of a small island called Cauda, we were hardly able to make the lifeboat[k] secure. 17When the men had hoisted it aboard, they passed ropes under the ship itself to hold it together. Fearing that they would run aground[l] on the sandbars of Syrtis, they lowered the sea anchor and let the ship be driven along. 18We took such a violent battering from the storm that the next day they began to throw the cargo overboard.[m] 19On the third day, they threw the ship's tackle overboard with their own hands. 20When neither sun nor stars appeared for many days and the storm continued raging, we finally gave up all hope of being saved.

21After the men had gone a long time without food, Paul stood up before them and said: "Men, you should have taken my advice[n] not to sail from Crete;[o] then you would have spared yourselves this damage and loss. 22But now I urge you to keep up your courage,[p] because not one of you will be lost; only the ship will be destroyed. 23Last night an angel[q] of the God whose I am and whom I serve[r] stood beside me[s] 24and said, 'Do not be afraid, Paul. You must stand trial before Caesar;[t] and God has graciously given you the lives of all who sail with you.'[u] 25So keep up your courage,[v] men, for I have faith in God that it will happen just as he told me.[w] 26Nevertheless, we must run aground[x] on some island."[y]

The Shipwreck

27On the fourteenth night we were still being driven across the Adriatic[z] Sea, when about midnight the sailors sensed they were approaching land. 28They took soundings and found that the water was a hundred and twenty feet[a] deep. A short time later they took soundings again and found it was ninety feet[b] deep. 29Fearing that we would be dashed against the rocks, they dropped four anchors from the stern and prayed for daylight. 30In an attempt to escape from the ship, the sailors let the lifeboat[z] down into the sea, pretending they were going to lower some anchors from the bow. 31Then Paul said to the centurion and the soldiers, "Unless these men stay with the ship, you cannot be saved."[a] 32So the soldiers cut the ropes that held the lifeboat and let it fall away.

33Just before dawn Paul urged them all to eat. "For the last fourteen days," he said, "you have been in constant suspense and have gone without food—you haven't eaten anything. 34Now I urge you to take some food. You need it to survive. Not one of you will lose a single hair from his head."[b] 35After he said this, he took some bread and gave thanks to God in front of them all. Then he broke it[c] and began to eat. 36They were all encouraged[d] and ate some food themselves. 37Altogether there were 276

27:14 "northeaster." A typhoon-like, east-northeast wind (the Euroquilo), which drove the ship away from their destination.

27:16 Cauda. About 23 miles from Crete. This provided enough shelter to make preparation against the storm. to make the lifeboat secure. A small boat was being towed behind the ship. It was interfering with the progress of the ship and with the steering. It may also have been in danger of being crushed against the ship in the wind and the waves. It had to be taken aboard (v. 17).

27:17 passed ropes under the ship. Probably crosswise, in order to keep the ship from being broken apart by the storm. Syrtis. A long stretch of desolate banks of quicksand along northern Africa off the coast of Tunis and Tripoli—still far away, but in such a storm the ship could be driven a great distance. sea anchor. Lowered apparently to keep the ship from running onto the sandbars of Syrtis, but the Greek for this expression should perhaps be rendered "mainsail."

27:18 throw the cargo overboard. To lighten the ship. They kept some bags of grain, however (see v. 38).

27:19 ship's tackle. Spars, planks and perhaps the yardarm with the mainsail attached. At times these were dragged behind, serving as a brake.

27:21 should have taken my advice. Although they had not done so, Paul had good news for everyone (vv. 22–26).

27:27 fourteenth night. After leaving Fair Havens. Adriatic Sea. The sea between Italy, Malta, Crete and Greece. In ancient times the Adriatic Sea extended as far south as Sicily and Crete (see NIV text note). (Some think this sea included all the area between Greece, Italy and Africa and that it was known as the Adrian, not the Adriatic, Sea.) Its extent now has been considerably reduced. sensed. By the sound of breakers.

27:28 took soundings. Measured the depth of the sea by letting down a weighted line.

27:30 attempt to escape. Without a port for the ship, the sailors felt their chance for survival was better in the single lifeboat, unencumbered by the many passengers.

27:31 Unless these men stay. If the sailors had been allowed to desert the ship in seeking to save themselves, the passengers would have been unable to beach the ship the following day.

27:33 haven't eaten anything. No provisions had been distributed nor regular meals eaten since the storm began.

27:35 took some bread and gave thanks. Paul gave two good examples: He ate food for physical nourishment and gave thanks to God. To give thanks before a meal was common practice among God's people (see Lk 9:16; 24:30; 1Ti 4:4–5).

27:37 276 of us on board. To note the number on board may have been necessary in preparation for the distribu-of us on board. 38When they had eaten as much as they wanted, they lightened the ship by throwing the grain into the sea.[e]

39When daylight came, they did not recognize the land, but they saw a bay with a sandy beach,[f] where they decided to run the ship aground if they could. 40Cutting loose the anchors,[g] they left them in the sea and at the same time untied the ropes that held the rudders. Then they hoisted the foresail to the wind and made for the beach. 41But the ship struck a sandbar and ran aground. The bow stuck fast and would not move, and the stern was broken to pieces by the pounding of the surf.[h]

42The soldiers planned to kill the prisoners to prevent any of them from swimming away and escaping. 43But the centurion wanted to spare Paul's life[i] and kept them from carrying out their plan. He ordered those who could swim to jump overboard first and get to land. 44The rest were to get there on planks or on pieces of the ship. In this way everyone reached land in safety.[j]

Ashore on Malta

28 Once safely on shore, we[k] found out that the island[l] was called Malta. 2The islanders showed us unusual kindness. They built a fire and welcomed us all because it was raining and cold. 3Paul gathered a pile of brushwood and, as he put it on the fire, a viper, driven out by the heat, fastened itself on his hand. 4When the islanders saw the snake hanging from his hand,[m] they said to each other, "This man must be a murderer; for though he escaped from the sea, Justice has not allowed him to live."[n] 5But Paul shook the snake off into the fire and suffered no ill effects.[o] 6The people expected him to swell up or suddenly fall dead, but after waiting a long time and seeing nothing unusual happen to him, they changed their minds and said he was a god.[p]

7There was an estate nearby that belonged to Publius, the chief official of the island. He welcomed us to his home and for three days entertained us hospitably. 8His father was sick in bed, suffering from fever and dysentery. Paul went in to see him and, after prayer,[q] placed his hands on him[r] and healed him.[s] 9When this had happened, the rest of the sick on the island came and were cured. 10They honored us[t] in many ways and when we were ready to sail, they furnished us with the supplies we needed.

Arrival at Rome

11After three months we put out to sea in a ship that had wintered in the island. It was an Alexandrian ship[u] with the figurehead of the twin gods Castor and Pollux. 12We put in at Syracuse and stayed there three days. 13From there we set sail and arrived at Rhegium. The next day the south wind came up, and on the following day we reached Puteoli. 14There we found some brothers[v] who tion of food or perhaps for the coming attempt to get ashore. The number is not extraordinary for the time. Josephus refers to a ship that had 600 aboard (Life, 15).

27:38 lightened the ship. They threw overboard the remaining bags of wheat (see v. 18), which had probably been kept for food supply. The lighter the ship, the farther it could sail in to shore.

27:40 untied the ropes that held the rudders. In order to lower the stern rudders into place so the ship could be steered toward the sandy shore. Ancient ships had a steering oar on either side of the stern.

27:42 soldiers planned to kill the prisoners. If a prisoner escaped, the life of his guard was taken in his place. The soldiers did not want to risk having a prisoner escape.

27:43 Once more the centurion is to be admired for stopping this plan and trusting the prisoners.

28:1 Malta. Known as Melita by the Greeks and Romans. It was included in the province of Sicily and is located 58 miles south of that large island.

28:2 islanders. Lit. "barbarians"; all non-Greek-speaking people were called this by Greeks. Far from being uncivilized tribesmen, they were Phoenician in ancestry and used a Phoenician dialect but were thoroughly Romanized. raining and cold. It was the end of October or the beginning of November.

28:3 a viper. Must have been known to the islanders to be poisonous.

28:6 to swell up. The usual medical term for inflammation; it is used only by Luke in the NT (see Introduction to Luke: Author). said he was a god. Parallel to the Lystrans' attempt to worship Paul and Barnabas (14:11–18).

28:7 Publius. A Roman name, but the first name and not the family name. It must have been what the islanders called him. chief official. The "first man" of Malta, a technical term for the top authority. Luke's designation is accurate here, as elsewhere, even though the Greek term used is not a common one. Cf. also "proconsul" (Greek anthypatos, 13:7), "magistrates" (Greek strategoi, 16:20), "city officials" (Greek politarchas, 17:6), "officials of the province" (Greek Asiarchon, 19:31).

28:11 After three months. They had to remain here until the sailing season opened in late February or early March. Castor and Pollux. The two "sons of Zeus" (Greek Dioscuroi), the guardian deities of sailors.

28:12 Syracuse. The leading city on the island of Sicily, situated on the east coast.

28:13 Rhegium. A town on the coast of Italy, near the southwestern tip and close to the narrowest point of the strait separating that country from Sicily, opposite Messina. Around the promontory north of the town was the whirlpool of Charybdis and the rock of Scylla. Coming from his triumph in Judea, the general Titus landed here on his way to Rome. Puteoli. Modern Pozzuoli, almost 200 miles from Rhegium. It was situated in the northern part of the Bay of Naples and was the chief port of Rome, though 75 miles away. The population included Jews as well as Christians.

28:14 spend a week. As at Troas (20:6) and Tyre (21:4), Paul was with them for one or perhaps two Sundays to observe the keeping of the Lord's Supper and to teach and invited us to spend a week with them. And so we came to Rome. 15The brothers[w] there had heard that we were coming, and they traveled as far as the Forum of Appius and the Three Taverns to meet us. At the sight of these men Paul thanked God and was encouraged. 16When we got to Rome, Paul was allowed to live by himself, with a soldier to guard him.[x]

Paul Preaches at Rome Under Guard

17Three days later he called together the leaders of the Jews.[y] When they had assembled, Paul said to them: "My brothers,[z] although I have done nothing against our people[a] or against the customs of our ancestors,[b] I was arrested in Jerusalem and handed over to the Romans. 18They examined me[c] and wanted to release me,[d] because I was not guilty of any crime deserving death.[e] 19But when the Jews objected, I was compelled to appeal to Caesar[f]—not that I had any charge to bring against my own people. 20For this reason I have asked to see you and talk with you. It is because of the hope of Israel[g] that I am bound with this chain."[h]

21They replied, "We have not received any letters from Judea concerning you, and none of the brothers[i] who have come from there has reported or said anything bad about you. 22But we want to hear what your views are, for we know that people everywhere are talking against this sect."[j]

23They arranged to meet Paul on a certain day, and came in even larger numbers to the place where he was staying. From morning till evening he explained and declared to them the kingdom of God[k] and tried to convince them about Jesus[l] from the Law of Moses and from the Prophets.[m] 24Some were convinced by what he said, but others would not believe.[n] 25They disagreed among themselves and began to leave after Paul had made this final statement: "The Holy Spirit spoke the truth to your forefathers when he said[o] through Isaiah the prophet:

26" 'Go to this people and say,
"You will be ever hearing but never understanding;
you will be ever seeing but never perceiving."
27For this people's heart has become calloused;[p]
they hardly hear with their ears,
and they have closed their eyes.
Otherwise they might see with their eyes,
hear with their ears,
understand with their hearts and turn, and I would heal them.'[q]

28"Therefore I want you to know that God's salvation[r] has been sent to the Gentiles,[s] and they will listen!"[d]

30For two whole years Paul stayed there in his own rented house and welcomed all who came to see him. 31Boldly[t] and without hindrance he preached the kingdom of God[u] and taught about the Lord Jesus Christ.

preach. Either the centurion had business to care for or he was free to delay the journey at Paul's request (see 27:42–43; see also 27:3). Rome. See map of "Rome," p. 1704.

28:15 Forum of Appius. A small town 43 miles from Rome, noted for its wickedness. Some Roman Christians came this far to meet Paul. Beyond this they would not be certain of the way he would come. Three Taverns. A town 33 miles from Rome. Other Roman believers met Paul here. The term "tavern" was used to designate any kind of shop.

28:16 live by himself. "In his own rented house" (v. 30). He had committed no flagrant crime and was not a politically dangerous rival. So he was allowed to have his own living quarters, but a guard was with him at all times, perhaps chained to him (Eph 6:20; Php 1:13–14,17; Col 4:3,18; Phm 10,13).

28:17 leaders of the Jews. The decree of the emperor Claudius (see 18:2) had been allowed to lapse, and Jews had returned to Rome with their leaders. My brothers. An epithet that recognized the common Jewish blood he shared with them. Cf. the usage in v. 15, referring to brothers in Christ.

28:20 the hope of Israel. See note on 26:6.

28:22 we want to hear . . . your views. The Jews in Rome were well aware of the dispute over whether Jesus was the Messiah. They wanted to hear Paul's presentation, and he was eager to present it before the arrival of adverse opinions from the Jewish leaders of Jerusalem.

28:23 Law of Moses . . . Prophets. The OT Scriptures (see Lk 24:27,44).

28:28 God's salvation has been sent to the Gentiles. The main thought of the book of Acts. The gospel is meant for all. And Paul was a chosen vessel to carry the message to Gentiles as well as to Jews.

28:29 See NIV text note on v. 28.

28:30 two whole years. Paul served the Lord (v. 31) during the full period of waiting for his accusers to press the trial in Rome. There are a number of indications that he was released from this imprisonment: 1. Acts stops abruptly at this time. 2. Paul wrote to churches expecting to visit them soon; so he must have anticipated a release (see Php 2:24; Phm 22). 3. A number of the details in the Pastoral Letters do not fit into the historical setting given in the book of Acts. Following the close of the book, these details indicate a return to Asia Minor, Crete and Greece. 4. Tradition indicates that Paul went to Spain. Even if he did not go, the very fact that a tradition arose suggests a time when he could have taken that journey. See map of "Paul's Fourth Missionary Journey," p. 1838.

Rome in the Time of Paul

The Neronian persecution in A.D. 64 was a transparent attempt by the emperor to blame Christians for the great fire that destroyed large parts of the city. The populace, however, blamed Nero and felt sorry for those unjustly tortured in the arena (cf. Tacitus, Annals, 15.44).

In terms of political importance, geographical position and sheer magnificence, the superlative city of the empire was Rome, the capital.

Located on a series of jutting foothills and low-lying eminences (the "seven hills") east of a bend in the Tiber River some 18 miles from the Mediterranean, Rome was celebrated for its impressive public buildings, aqueducts, baths, theaters and thoroughfares, many of which led from distant provinces. The city of the first Christian century had spread far beyond its fourth-century B.C. "Servian" walls and lay unwalled, secure in its greatness.

The most prominent features were the Capitoline hill, with temples to Jupiter and Juno, and the nearby Palatine, adorned with imperial palaces, including Nero's "Golden House." Both hills overlooked the Roman Forum, the hub of the entire empire.

Alternatively described as the glorious crowning achievement of mankind and as the sewer of the universe where all the scum from every corner of the empire gathered, Rome had reasons for both civic pride in its architecture and shame for staggering urban social problems not unlike those of cities today.

The apostle Paul entered the city from the south on the Via Appia. He first lived under house arrest and then, after a period of freedom, as a condemned prisoner in the Mamertine dungeon near the Forum. Remarkably, Paul was able to proclaim the gospel among all classes of people, from the palace to the prison. According to tradition, he was executed at a spot on the Ostian Way outside Rome in A.D. 68.

Author

The writer of this letter was the apostle Paul (see 1:1). No voice from the early church was ever raised against his authorship. The letter contains a number of historical references that agree with known facts of Paul's life. The doctrinal content of the book is typical of Paul, which is evident from a comparison with other letters he wrote.

Date and Place of Writing

The book was probably written in the early spring of A.D. 57. Very likely Paul was on his third missionary journey, ready to return to Jerusalem with the offering from the mission churches for poverty-stricken believers in Jerusalem (see 15:25–27). In 15:26 it is suggested that Paul had already received contributions from the churches of Macedonia and Achaia, so he either was at Corinth or had already been there. Since he had not yet been at Corinth (on his third missionary journey) when he wrote 1 Corinthians (cf. 1Co 16:1–4) and the collection issue had still not been resolved when he wrote 2 Corinthians (2Co 8—9), the writing of Romans must follow that of 1,2 Corinthians (dated c. 55).

The most likely place of writing is either Corinth or Cenchrea (about six miles away) because of references to Phoebe of Cenchrea (16:1) and to Gaius, Paul's host (16:23), who was probably a Corinthian (see 1Co 1:14). Erastus (16:23) may also have been a Corinthian (see 2Ti 4:20).

Recipients

The original recipients of the letter were the people of the church at Rome (1:7), who were predominantly Gentile. Jews, however, must have constituted a substantial minority of the congregation (see 4:1; chs. 9—11; see also note on 1:13). Perhaps Paul originally sent the entire letter to the Roman church, after which he or someone else used a shorter form (chs. 1—14 or 1—15) for more general distribution. See note on 2Pe 3:15.

Major Theme

Paul's primary theme in Romans is the basic gospel, God's plan of salvation and righteousness for all mankind, Jew and Gentile alike (1:16–17). Although justification by faith has been suggested by some as the theme, it would seem that a broader theme states the message of the book more adequately. "Righteousness from God" (1:17) includes justification by faith, but it also embraces such related ideas as guilt, sanctification and security.

Purpose

Paul's purposes for writing this letter were varied:

1. He wrote to prepare the way for his coming visit to Rome and his proposed mission to Spain (1:10–15; 15:22–29).

2. He wrote to present the basic system of salvation to a church that had not received the teaching of an apostle before.

3. He sought to explain the relationship between Jew and Gentile in God's overall plan of redemption. The Jewish Christians were being rejected by the larger Gentile group in the church (14:1) because the Jewish believers still felt constrained to observe dietary laws and sacred days (14:2–6).

Occasion

When Paul wrote this letter, he was probably at Corinth (Ac 20:2–3) on his third missionary journey. His work in the eastern Mediterranean was almost finished (see 15:18–23), and he greatly desired to visit the Roman church (see 1:11–12; 15:23–24). At this time, however, he could not go to Rome because he felt he must personally deliver the collection taken among the Gentile churches for the poverty-stricken Christians of Jerusalem (see 15:25–28). So instead of going to Rome, he sent a letter to prepare the Christians there for his intended visit in connection with a mission to Spain (see 15:23–24). For many years Paul had wanted to visit Rome to minister there (see 1:13–15), and this letter served as a careful and systematic theological introduction to that hoped-for personal ministry. Since he was not acquainted directly with the Roman church, he says little about its problems (but see 14:1—15:13; cf. also 13:1–7; 16:17–18).

Content

Paul begins by surveying the spiritual condition of all mankind. He finds Jews and Gentiles alike to be sinners and in need of salvation. That salvation has been provided by God through Jesus Christ and his redemptive work on the cross. It is a provision, however, that must be received by faith—a principle by which God has always dealt with mankind, as the example of Abraham shows. Since salvation is only the beginning of Christian experience, Paul moves on to show how the believer is freed from sin, law and death—a provision made possible by his union with Christ in both death and resurrection and by the indwelling presence and power of the Holy Spirit. Paul then shows that Israel too, though presently in a state of unbelief, has a place in God's sovereign redemptive plan. Now she consists of only a remnant, allowing for the conversion of the Gentiles, but the time will come when "all Israel will be saved" (11:26). The letter concludes with an appeal to the readers to work out their Christian faith in practical ways, both in the church and in the world. None of Paul's other letters states so profoundly the content of the gospel and its implications for both the present and the future.

Special Characteristics

1. The most systematic of Paul's letters. It reads more like an elaborate theological essay than a letter.

2. Emphasis on Christian doctrine. The number and importance of the theological themes touched upon are impressive: sin, salvation, grace, faith, righteousness, justification, sanctification, redemption, death and resurrection.

3. Widespread use of OT quotations. Although Paul regularly quotes from the OT in his letters, in Romans the argument is sometimes carried along by such quotations (see especially chs. 9—11).

4. Deep concern for Israel. Paul writes about her present status, her relationship to the Gentiles and her final salvation.

1 Paul, a servant of Christ Jesus, called to be an apostle[a] and set apart[b] for the gospel of God[c]— 2the gospel he promised beforehand[d] through his prophets[e] in the Holy Scriptures[f] 3regarding his Son, who as to his human nature[g] was a descendant of David,[h] 4and who through the Spirit[a] of holiness was declared with power to be the Son of God[b][i] by his resurrection from the dead:[j] Jesus Christ our Lord.[k] 5Through him and for his name's sake, we received grace[l] and apostleship to call people from among all the Gentiles[m] to the obedience that comes from faith.[n] 6And you also are among those who are called to belong to Jesus Christ.[o]

7To all in Rome who are loved by God[p] and called to be saints:[q]

Grace and peace to you from God our Father and from the Lord Jesus Christ.[r]

Paul's Longing to Visit Rome

8First, I thank my God through Jesus Christ for all of you,[s] because your faith is being reported all over the world.[t] 9God, whom I serve[u] with my whole heart in preaching the gospel of his Son, is my witness[v] how constantly I remember you 10in my prayers at all times;[w] and I pray that now at last by God's will[x] the way may be opened for me to come to you.[y]

11I long to see you[z] so that I may impart to you some spiritual gift[a] to make you strong— 12that is, that you and I may be mutually encouraged by each other's faith. 13I do not want you to be unaware,[b] brothers,[c] that I planned many times to come to you (but have been prevented from doing so until now)[d] in order that I might have a harvest among you, just as I have had among the other Gentiles.

14I am obligated[e] both to Greeks and non-Greeks, both to the wise and the foolish. 15That is why I am so eager to preach the gospel also to you who are at Rome.[f]

16I am not ashamed of the gospel,[g] because it is the power of God[h] for the salvation of everyone who believes:[i] first for the Jew,[j] then for the Gentile.[k] 17For in the gospel a righteousness from God is revealed,[l] a righteousness that is by faith[m] from first to last,[c] just as it is written: "The righteous will live by faith."[d][n]

[d] 17 Hab. 2:4

1:1 Paul. In ancient times writers put their names at the beginning of letters. For more information on Paul see notes on Ac 9:1; Php 3:4–14. servant. The Greek for this word means (1) a "slave," who completely belongs to his owner and has no freedom to leave, and (2) a "servant," who willingly chooses to serve his master. See notes on Ex 14:31; Ps 18 title; Isa 41:8–9; 42:1. apostle. One specially commissioned by Christ (see notes on Mk 6:30; 1Co 1:1; Heb 3:1). gospel. See note on Mk 1:1.

1:2 prophets. Not just the writers of the prophetic books, for the whole OT prophesied about Jesus (see Lk 24:27,44). Holy Scriptures. The OT.

1:7 saints. The basic idea of the Greek for this word is "holiness." All Christians are saints in that they are positionally "set apart" to God and are experientially being made increasingly "holy" by the Holy Spirit (see note on 1Co 1:2). Grace. See notes on Jnh 4:2; Gal 1:3; Eph 1:2. peace. See notes on Jn 14:27; 20:19; Gal 1:3; Eph 1:2.

1:8 thank. Paul often began his letters with thanks (see 1Co 1:4; Eph 1:16; Php 1:3; Col 1:3; 1Th 1:2; 2Th 1:3; 2Ti 1:3; Phm 4). through Jesus Christ. The Christian must go through Christ not only for requests to God (see Jn 15:16) but also to give thanks. all over the world. Every place where the gospel has been preached.

1:9 gospel of his Son. The same as the "gospel of God" (v. 1).

1:12 mutually. Paul's genuine humility is seen in his desire to be ministered to by the believers at Rome as well as to minister to them.

1:13 harvest. New converts as well as spiritual growth by those already converted. among you ... among the other Gentiles. Suggests that the church at Rome was predominantly Gentile.

1:14 Greeks. Those Gentiles who spoke Greek or followed the Greek way of life, even though they may have been Latin-speaking citizens of the Roman empire. non-Greeks. Lit. "barbarians," a word that probably imitated the unintelligible sound of their languages to Greek ears. They were the other Gentiles to whom Paul ministered.

1:16–17 The theme of the entire book.

1:16 not ashamed. Not even in the capital city of the Roman empire (see v. 15). gospel. See note on Mk 1:1. first. Not only in time but also in privilege. "Salvation is from the Jews" (Jn 4:22), and the Messiah was a Jew. The "very words of God" (3:2), the covenants, law, temple worship, revelation of the divine glory, and Messianic prophecies came to them (9:3–5). These privileges, however, were not extended to the Jews because of their superior merit or because of God's partiality toward them. It was necessary that the invasion of this world by the gospel begin at a particular point with a particular people, who in turn were responsible to carry that gospel to the other nations.

1:17 righteousness. The state of being "in the right" in relation to God (see notes on 2:13; 3:21,24).

1:18–3:20 In developing the theme of righteousness from God (1:17; 3:21–5:21), Paul sets the stage by showing that all have sinned and therefore need the righteousness that only God can provide. He shows the sin of the Gentiles (1:18–32) and the sin of the Jews (2:1–3:8) and then summarizes the sin of all—Gentile and Jew alike (3:9–20).

1:18–20 No one—not even one who has not heard of the Bible or of Christ—has an excuse for not honoring God, because the whole created world and wickedness of men who suppress the truth by their wickedness, [19]since what may be known about God is plain to them, because God has made it plain to them.[p] [20]For since the creation of the world God's invisible qualities—his eternal power and divine nature—have been clearly seen, being understood from what has been made,[q] so that men are without excuse.[r]

[21]For although they knew God, they neither glorified him as God nor gave thanks to him, but their thinking became futile and their foolish hearts were darkened.[s] [22]Although they claimed to be wise, they became fools[t] [23]and exchanged the glory of the immortal God for images[u] made to look like mortal man and birds and animals and reptiles.

[24]Therefore God gave them over[v] in the sinful desires of their hearts to sexual impurity for the degrading of their bodies with one another.[w] [25]They exchanged the truth of God for a lie,[x] and worshiped and served created things[y] rather than the Creator—who is forever praised.[z] Amen.[a]

[26]Because of this, God gave them over[b] to shameful lusts.[c] Even their women exchanged natural relations for unnatural ones.[d] [27]In the same way the men also abandoned natural relations with women and were inflamed with lust for one another. Men committed indecent acts with other men, and received in themselves the due penalty for their perversion.[e]

[28]Furthermore, since they did not think it worthwhile to retain the knowledge of God, he gave them over[f] to a depraved mind, to do what ought not to be done. [29]They have become filled with every kind of wickedness, evil, greed and depravity. They are full of envy, murder, strife, deceit and malice. They are gossips,[g] [30]slanderers, God-haters, insolent, arrogant and boastful; they invent ways of doing evil; they disobey their parents;[h] [31]they are senseless, faithless, heartless,[i] ruthless. [32]Although they know God's righteous decree that those who do such things deserve death,[j] they not only continue to do these very things but also approve[k] of those who practice them.

God's Righteous Judgment

2 You, therefore, have no excuse,[l] you who pass judgment on someone else, for at whatever point you judge the other, you are condemning yourself, because you who pass judgment do the same things.[m] [2]Now we know that God's judgment against those who do such things is based on truth. [3]So when you, a mere man, pass judgment on them and yet do the same things, do you think you will escape God's judgment? [4]Or do you show contempt for the riches[n] of his kindness,[o] tolerance[p] and patience,[q] not realizing that God's kindness leads you toward repentance?[r]

[5]But because of your stubbornness and your unrepentant heart, you are storing up wrath against yourself for the day of God's wrath[s], when his righteous judgreveals him.

1:18 wrath of God. Not a petulant, irrational burst of anger, such as humans often exhibit, but a holy, just revulsion against what is contrary to and opposes his holy nature and will. is being revealed. God's wrath is not limited to the end-time judgment of the wicked (1Th 1:10; Rev 19:15; 20:11–15). Here the wrath of God is his abandonment of the wicked to their sins (vv. 24–32). the truth. The truth about God revealed in the creation order.

1:21 knew God. From seeing his revelation in creation (vv. 19–20). The fact that these people were idolaters (v. 23) and knew God only through the creation order indicates that they were Gentiles. gave thanks. For earthly blessings, such as sun, rain and crops (see Mt 5:45; Ac 14:17).

1:23 glory. God's unique majesty (see Isa 48:11), which fallen mankind has lost sight of and for which they have substituted deities of their own devising, patterned after various creatures.

1:24,26,28 God gave them over. God allowed sin to run its course as an act of judgment.

1:25 Amen. Can mean either "Yes indeed, it is so" or "So be it" (see 9:5; 11:36; 15:33; 16:27; see also note on Dt 27:15; cf. 1Ki 1:36).

1:26 their women. Not necessarily their wives.

1:27 Homosexual practice is sinful in God's eyes. The OT also condemns the practice (see Lev 18:22).

1:28 knowledge of God. See vv. 19,21. a depraved mind. The intent precedes the act (see v. 21; Mk 7:20–23).

1:32 they know. Their outrageous conduct was not due to total ignorance of what God required but to self-will and rebellion. approve. The extreme of sin is applauding, rather than regretting, the sins of others.

2:1–16 In this section Paul sets forth principles that govern God's judgment. God judges (1) according to truth (v. 2), (2) according to deeds (vv. 6–11) and (3) according to the light a person has (vv. 12–15). These principles lay the groundwork for Paul's discussion of the guilt of the Jews (vv. 17–29).

2:1 no excuse. Paul's teaching about judging agrees with that of Jesus (see note on Mt 7:1), who did not condemn judging as such, but hypocritical judging. you who pass judgment. A warning that had special relevance for Jews, who were inclined to look down on Gentiles because of their ignorance of God's revelation in the OT and because of their immoral lives.

2:2 we know. An expression Paul frequently used that assumed the persons addressed agreed with the statement that followed (see 3:19; 7:14; 8:22,28; 1Co 8:1,4; 2Co 5:1; 1Ti 1:8).

2:3 Jesus also condemned this attitude (Mt 7:3; cf. Lk 18:9).

2:4 The purpose of God's kindness is to give opportunity for repentance (2Pe 3:9). The Jews had misconstrued his patience to be a lack of intent to judge.

2:5 day of God's wrath. Judgment at the end of time in contrast to the judgment discussed in 1:18–32.

ment[t] will be revealed. 6God "will give to each person according to what he has done."[eu] 7To those who by persistence in doing good seek glory, honor[v] and immortality,[w] he will give eternal life.[x] 8But for those who are self-seeking and who reject the truth and follow evil,[y] there will be wrath and anger.[z] 9There will be trouble and distress for every human being who does evil:[a] first for the Jew, then for the Gentile;[b] 10but glory, honor and peace for everyone who does good: first for the Jew, then for the Gentile.[c] 11For God does not show favoritism.[d]

12All who sin apart from the law will also perish apart from the law, and all who sin under the law[e] will be judged by the law. 13For it is not those who hear the law who are righteous in God's sight, but it is those who obey[f] the law who will be declared righteous. 14(Indeed, when Gentiles, who do not have the law, do by nature things required by the law,[g] they are a law for themselves, even though they do not have the law, 15since they show that the requirements of the law are written on their hearts, their consciences also bearing witness, and their thoughts now accusing, now even defending them.) 16This will take place on the day when God will judge men's secrets[h] through Jesus Christ,[i] as my gospel[j] declares.

The Jews and the Law

17Now you, if you call yourself a Jew; if you rely on the law and brag about your relationship to God;[k] 18if you know his will and approve of what is superior because you are instructed by the law; 19if you are convinced that you are a guide for the blind, a light for those who are in the dark, 20an instructor of the foolish, a teacher of infants, because you have in the law the embodiment of knowledge and truth— 21you, then, who teach others, do you not teach yourself? You who preach against stealing, do you steal?[l] 22You who say that people should not commit adultery, do you commit adultery? You who abhor idols, do you rob temples?[m] 23You who brag about the law,[n] do you dishonor God by breaking the law? 24As it is written: "God's name is blasphemed among the Gentiles because of you."[fo]

25Circumcision has value if you observe the law,[p] but if you break the law, you have become as though you had not been circumcised.[q] 26If those who are not circumcised keep the law's requirements,[r] will they not be regarded as though they were circumcised?[s] 27The one who is not circumcised physically and yet obeys the law will condemn you[t] who, even though you have the[g] written code and circumcision, are a lawbreaker.

28A man is not a Jew if he is only one outwardly,[u] nor is circumcision merely outward and physical.[v] 29No, a man is a Jew if he is one inwardly; and circumcision is circumcision of the heart,[w] by the Spirit,[x] not by the written code.[y]

2:6–7 Paul is not contradicting his continual emphasis in all his writings, including Romans, that a person is saved not by what he does but by faith in what Christ does for him. Rather, he is discussing the principle of judgment according to deeds (see note on vv. 1–16). If anyone persists in doing good deeds (i.e., lives a perfect life), he will receive eternal life. No one can do this, but if anyone could, God would give him life, since God judges according to what a person does.

2:9 first for the Jew. With spiritual privilege comes spiritual responsibility (see Am 3:2; Lk 12:48).

2:11 A basic teaching of both the OT and the NT.

2:12 law. The Mosaic law. "All who sin apart from the law" refers to Gentiles. God judges according to the light available to people. Gentiles will not be condemned for not obeying a law they did not possess. Their judgment will be on other grounds (see 1:18–20; 2:15; cf. Am 1:3–2:3).

2:13 will be declared righteous. At God's pronouncement of acquittal on judgment day (see note on 3:24).

2:14 by nature. By natural impulse without the external constraint of the Mosaic law. things required by the law. Does not mean that pagans fulfilled the requirements of the Mosaic law but refers to practices in pagan society that agreed with the law, such as caring for the sick and elderly, honoring parents and condemning adultery. law for themselves. The moral nature of pagans, enlightened by conscience (v. 15), functioned for them as the Mosaic law did for the Jews.

2:16 This verse should be read with v. 13, as the parentheses around vv. 14–15 indicate.

2:17–24 The presentation takes the form of a dialogue. Paul knew how a self-righteous Jew thought, for he had been one himself. He cites one advantage after another that Jews considered to be unqualified assets. But those assets became liabilities when there was no correspondence between profession and practice. Paul applied to the Jew the principles of judgment set forth in vv. 1–16 (see note on those verses).

2:19–20 the blind ... infants. Gentiles, to whom Jews regarded themselves as vastly superior because they (the Jews) possessed the Mosaic law.

2:22 do you rob temples? See Ac 19:37. Large amounts of wealth were often stored in pagan temples.

2:25 Circumcision. A sign of the covenant that God made with Israel (see Lev 12:3) and a pledge of the covenant blessing (see Ge 17 and notes on Ge 17:10–11). The Jews had come to regard circumcision as a guarantee of God's favor.

2:27 If a Gentile's deeds excelled those of a Jew in righteousness, that very fact condemned the Jew, who had an immeasurably better set of standards in the law of Moses.

2:29 by the Spirit. The true sign of belonging to God is not an outward mark on the physical body, but the regenerating power of the Holy Spirit within—what Paul meant by "circumcision of the heart" (see Dt 30:6).

Such a man's praise is not from men, but from God.[z]

God's Faithfulness

3 What advantage, then, is there in being a Jew, or what value is there in circumcision? 2Much in every way![a] First of all, they have been entrusted with the very words of God.[b]

3What if some did not have faith?[c] Will their lack of faith nullify God's faithfulness?[d] 4Not at all! Let God be true,[e] and every man a liar.[f] As it is written:

"So that you may be proved right when you speak and prevail when you judge."[hg]

5But if our unrighteousness brings out God's righteousness more clearly,[h] what shall we say? That God is unjust in bringing his wrath on us? (I am using a human argument.)[i] 6Certainly not! If that were so, how could God judge the world?[j] 7Someone might argue, "If my falsehood enhances God's truthfulness and so increases his glory,[k] why am I still condemned as a sinner?"[l] 8Why not say—as we are being slanderously reported as saying and as some claim that we say—"Let us do evil that good may result"?[m] Their condemnation is deserved.

No One Is Righteous

9What shall we conclude then? Are we any better[in]? Not at all! We have already made the charge that Jews and Gentiles alike are all under sin.[o] 10As it is written:

"There is no one righteous, not even one;
11 there is no one who understands,
no one who seeks God.
12All have turned away,
they have together become worthless;
there is no one who does good,
not even one."[jp]
13"Their throats are open graves; their tongues practice deceit."[kq]
"The poison of vipers is on their lips."[lr] 14 "Their mouths are full of cursing and bitterness."[ms]
15"Their feet are swift to shed blood;
16 ruin and misery mark their ways,
17and the way of peace they do not know."[nt]
18 "There is no fear of God before their eyes."[ou]

19Now we know that whatever the law says,[v] it says to those who are under the law,[w] so that every mouth may be silenced[x] and the whole world held accountable to God.[y] 20Therefore no one will be declared righteous in his sight by observing the law;[z] rather, through the law we become conscious of sin.[a]

Righteousness Through Faith

21But now a righteousness from God,[b] apart from law, has been made known, to which the Law and the Prophets testify.[c] 22This righteousness from God[d]

3:2 First of all. Paul does not discuss the other advantages of being a Jew until 9:4–5. entrusted. The advantage of having the very words of God involves a duty.

3:3 God's faithfulness. God is faithful to his promises and would punish Israel for its unbelief (v. 5; see 2Ti 2:13).

3:4 God's punishment of sin exhibits his faithfulness to his righteous character.

3:5 brings out God's righteousness. By contrast, in showing it up against the dark background of man's sin. a human argument. "Human" in the sense of its weakness and absurdity.

3:6 judge. On judgment day. the world. All moral creatures (also in v. 19)—a more limited reference than in 1:20.

3:9 Are we any better? Are Jews better than Gentiles in the sight of God? all. Nine times in four verses (vv. 9–12) Paul mentions the universality of sin ("all," two times; "no one," four times; "not even one," two times; "together," once). under sin. Under its power and condemnation.

3:10–18 A collection of OT quotations that underscores Paul's charge that both Jews and Gentiles are under the power of sin. Several factors explain why the citations are not always verbatim: 1. NT quotations sometimes gave the general sense and were not meant to be word-for-word. 2. Quotation marks were not used in Greek. 3. The quotations were often taken from the Greek translation (the Septuagint) of the Hebrew OT, because Greek readers were not familiar with the Hebrew Bible. 4. Sometimes the NT writer, in order to drive home his point, would purposely (under the inspiration of the Holy Spirit) enlarge, abbreviate or adapt an OT passage or combine two or more passages.

3:11 understands. About God and what is right.

3:13 open graves. Expressing the corruption of the heart.

3:18 fear of God. Awesome reverence for God; the source of all godliness (see note on Ge 20:11).

3:19 we know. See note on 2:2. law. The OT (as in Jn 10:34; 15:25; 1Co 14:21). those who are under the law. Jews. every mouth . . . whole world. Jews as well as Gentiles are guilty.

3:20 declared righteous. See notes on v. 24; 2:13.

3:21–5:21 Having shown that all (both Gentiles and Jews) are unrighteous (1:18–3:20), Paul now shows that God has provided a righteousness for mankind.

3:21 But now. There are two possible meanings: (1) temporal—all of time is divided into two periods, and in the "now" period the righteousness from God has been made known; (2) logical—the contrast is between the righteousness gained by observing the law (which is impossible, v. 20) and the righteousness provided by God. the Law and the Prophets testify. See Ge 15:6; Ps 32:1–2; Hab 2:4.

3:22–23 There is no difference . . . glory of God. A parenthetical thought: "All who believe" (v. 22) are "justified freely" (v. 24), not "all have sinned" (v. 23) are "justified freely" (v. 24).

3:22 no difference. Between Jews and Gentiles (see 10:12).

comes through faith[e] in Jesus Christ[f] to all who believe.[g] There is no difference,[h] [23]for all have sinned[i] and fall short of the glory of God, [24]and are justified[j] freely by his grace[k] through the redemption[l] that came by Christ Jesus. [25]God presented him as a sacrifice of atonement,[p m] through faith in his blood.[n] He did this to demonstrate his justice, because in his forbearance he had left the sins committed beforehand unpunished[o]— [26]he did it to demonstrate his justice at the present time, so as to be just and the one who justifies those who have faith in Jesus.

[27]Where, then, is boasting?[p] It is excluded. On what principle? On that of observing the law? No, but on that of faith. [28]For we maintain that a man is justified by faith apart from observing the law.[q] [29]Is God the God of Jews only? Is he not the God of Gentiles too? Yes, of Gentiles too,[r] [30]since there is only one God, who will justify the circumcised by faith and the uncircumcised through that same faith.[s] [31]Do we, then, nullify the law by this faith? Not at all! Rather, we uphold the law.

Abraham Justified by Faith

4 What then shall we say[t] that Abraham, our forefather,[u] discovered in this matter? [2]If, in fact, Abraham was justified by works, he had something to boast about—but not before God.[v] [3]What does the Scripture say? "Abraham believed God, and it was credited to him as righteousness."[q w]

[4]Now when a man works, his wages are not credited to him as a gift,[x] but as an obligation. [5]However, to the man who does not work but trusts God who justifies the wicked, his faith is credited as righteousness.[y] [6]David says the same thing when he speaks of the blessedness of the man to whom God credits righteousness apart from works:

[7]"Blessed are they whose transgressions are forgiven, whose sins are covered.
[8]Blessed is the man

[p]25 Or as the one who would turn aside his wrath, taking away sin [q]3 Gen. 15:6; also in verse 22

3:23 glory of God. What God intended man to be. The glory that man had before the fall (see Ge 1:26–28; Ps 8:5–6; cf. Eph 4:24; Col 3:10) the believer will again have through Christ (see Heb 2:5–9).

3:24 justified. Paul uses this verb 22 times, mostly in 2:13–5:1; Gal 2–3. It is translated "justify" in all cases except two (2:13; 3:20, where it is translated "declared righteous"). The term describes what happens when someone believes in Christ as his Savior: From the negative viewpoint, God declares the person to be not guilty; from the positive viewpoint, he declares him to be righteous. He cancels the guilt of the person's sin and credits righteousness to him. Paul emphasizes two points in this regard: 1. No one lives a perfectly good, holy, righteous life. On the contrary, "there is no one righteous" (v. 10), and "all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God" (v. 23). "Therefore no one will be declared righteous in his [God's] sight by observing the law" (v. 20). 2. But even though all are sinners and not sons, God will declare everyone who puts his trust in Jesus not guilty but righteous. This legal declaration is valid because Christ died to pay the penalty for our sin and lived a life of perfect righteousness that can in turn be imputed to us. This is the central theme of Romans and is stated in the theme verse, 1:17 ("a righteousness from God"). Christ's righteousness (his obedience to God's law and his sacrificial death) will be credited to believers as their own. Paul uses the word "credited" (and related terms) ten times in ch. 4 alone. freely by his grace. The central thought in justification is that, although man clearly and totally deserves to be declared guilty (vv. 9–19), because of his trust in Christ God declares him righteous. This is stated in several ways here: (1) "freely" (as a gift, for nothing), (2) "by his grace," (3) "through the redemption that came by Christ Jesus" and (4) "through faith" (v. 25). redemption. A word taken from the slave market—the basic idea is that of obtaining release by payment of a ransom. Paul uses this word to refer to release from guilt, with its liability for judgment, and to deliverance from slavery to sin, because Christ in his death paid the ransom for us.

3:25 sacrifice of atonement. The Greek for this phrase speaks of a sacrifice that satisfies the righteous wrath of God. Without this appeasement ("propitiation") all people are justly destined for eternal punishment. See NIV text note here; see also note on 1Jn 2:2. faith in his blood. Saving faith looks to Jesus Christ in his sacrificial death for us.

3:25b–26 The sins of God's people, punished symbolically in the animal sacrifices of the OT period, would be totally punished in the once-for-all sacrifice of Christ on the cross.

3:28 by faith. When Luther translated this passage, he added the word "alone," which, though not in the Greek, accurately reflects the meaning (see note on Jas 2:14–26).

3:30 only one God. By appealing to the first article of Jewish faith ("the LORD is one," Dt 6:4), Paul argues that there is only one way of salvation for both Jew and Gentile, namely, faith in Christ.

3:31 Paul anticipated being charged with antinomianism (against law): If justification comes by faith alone, then is not the law rejected? He gives a more complete answer in chs. 6–7 and reasserts the validity of the law in 13:8–10.

4:1 Abraham, our forefather. The great patriarch of the Jewish nation, the true example of a justified person (see Jas 2:21–23). The Jews of Jesus' time used Abraham as an example of justification by works, but Paul holds him up as a shining example of righteousness by faith (see Gal 3:6–9).

4:3 The reference is to Ge 15:6, where nothing is mentioned about works. credited. Abraham had kept no law, rendered no service and performed no ritual that earned credit to his account before God. His belief in God, who had made promises to him, was credited to him as righteousness.

4:6–8 God does not continue to credit unrighteousness to the sinner who repents, but forgives him when he confesses (see Ps 32:3–5; Eze 18:23,27–28,32; 33:14–16).

whose sin the Lord will never count against him."[rz]

[9]Is this blessedness only for the circumcised, or also for the uncircumcised?[a] We have been saying that Abraham's faith was credited to him as righteousness.[b] [10]Under what circumstances was it credited? Was it after he was circumcised, or before? It was not after, but before! [11]And he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness that he had by faith while he was still uncircumcised.[c] So then, he is the father[d] of all who believe[e] but have not been circumcised, in order that righteousness might be credited to them. [12]And he is also the father of the circumcised who not only are circumcised but who also walk in the footsteps of the faith that our father Abraham had before he was circumcised.

[13]It was not through law that Abraham and his offspring received the promise[f] that he would be heir of the world,[g] but through the righteousness that comes by faith.[h] [14]For if those who live by law are heirs, faith has no value and the promise is worthless,[i] [15]because law brings wrath.[j] And where there is no law there is no transgression.[k]

[16]Therefore, the promise comes by faith, so that it may be by grace[l] and may be guaranteed[m] to all Abraham's offspring—not only to those who are of the law but also to those who are of the faith of Abraham. He is the father of us all.[n] [17]As it is written: "I have made you a father of many nations."[so] He is our father in the sight of God, in whom he believed—the God who gives life[p] to the dead and calls[q] things that are not[r] as though they were.

[18]Against all hope, Abraham in hope believed and so became the father of many nations,[s] just as it had been said to him, "So shall your offspring be."[t] [19]Without weakening in his faith, he faced the fact that his body was as good as dead[u]—since he was about a hundred years old[v]—and that Sarah's womb was also dead.[w] [20]Yet he did not waver through unbelief regarding the promise of God, but was strengthened[x] in his faith and gave glory to God,[y] [21]being fully persuaded that God had power to do what he had promised.[z] [22]This is why "it was credited to him as righteousness."[a] [23]The words "it was credited to him" were written not for him

[r]8 Psalm 32:1,2 [s]17 Gen. 17:5 [t]18 Gen. 15:5

4:9 circumcised. Jews. uncircumcised. Gentiles.

4:10 not after, but before! Abraham was declared righteous (Ge 15) some 14 years before he was circumcised (Ge 17). See Gal 3:17 for a similar statement.

4:11 sign. Circumcision was, among other things, the outward sign of the righteousness that God had credited to Abraham for his faith. So then. Abraham is the "father" of believing Gentiles (the uncircumcised), because he believed and was justified before the rite of circumcision (the mark of Jews) was instituted.

4:12 father of the circumcised. Abraham is also the father of believing Jews. Thus his story shows that for Jew and Gentile alike there is only one way of justification—the way of faith.

4:13 not through law. Not on the condition that the promise be merited by works of the law. his offspring. All those of whom Abraham is said to be father (vv. 11–12). heir of the world. "World" here refers to the creation, as in 1:20. No express mention of this heirship is made in the Genesis account of Abraham. He is promised "offspring like the dust of the earth" (Ge 13:16) and possession of the land of Canaan (Ge 12:7; 13:14–15; 15:7,18–21; 17:8), and that all the peoples on earth will be blessed through him (Ge 12:3; 18:18) or his offspring (Ge 22:18). But since, as Genesis already makes clear, God purposed through Abraham and his offspring to work out the destiny of the whole world, it was implicit in the promises to Abraham that he and his offspring would "inherit the earth" (see Ps 37:9,11,22,29,34; Mt 5:5). The full realization of this awaits the consummation of the Messianic kingdom at Christ's return.

4:14 those who live by law. Those whose claim to the inheritance is based on the fulfillment of the law. promise. See note on v. 13.

4:15 law brings wrath. The law, because it reveals sin and even stimulates it (see 7:7–11), produces wrath, not promise. transgression. Overstepping a clearly defined line. Where there is no law there is still sin, but it does not have the character of transgression.

4:16 A summary of the thought of vv. 11–12. For the close correlation between faith and grace see 3:24–25; Eph 2:8. those who are of the law. Jewish Christians. those who are of the faith of Abraham. Gentile Christians who share Abraham's faith but who, like Abraham, do not possess the law.

4:17 in the sight of God. God considers Abraham the father of Jews and believing Gentiles alike, no matter how others (especially the Jews) may see him. the God who gives life to the dead. The main reference is to the birth of Isaac through Abraham and Sarah, both of whom were far past the age of childbearing (see Ge 18:11). Secondarily Paul alludes also to the resurrection of Christ (see vv. 24–25). calls things that are not. God has the ability to create out of nothing, as he demonstrated in the birth of Isaac.

4:18 Against all hope . . . in hope believed. When all hope, as a human possibility, failed, Abraham placed his hope in God.

4:19 Without weakening in his faith. Abraham had some anxious moments (see Ge 17:17–18), but God did not count these against him. faced the fact. Faith does not refuse to face reality but looks beyond all difficulties to God and his promises. Sarah's womb was also dead. Sarah was ten years younger than Abraham (see Ge 17:17) but well past the age of bearing children.

4:20 gave glory to God. Because Abraham had faith to believe that God would do what he promised. Whereas works are man's attempt to establish a claim on God, faith brings glory to him.

4:22 This is why. Abraham's faith was "credited to him as righteousness" because it was true faith, i.e., complete confidence in God's promise.

4:23 not for him alone. Abraham's experience was not private or individual but had broad implications. If justification by faith was true for him, it is universally true.

alone, [24]but also for us,[b] to whom God will credit righteousness—for us who believe in him[c] who raised Jesus our Lord from the dead.[d] [25]He was delivered over to death for our sins[e] and was raised to life for our justification.[f]

Peace and Joy

5 Therefore, since we have been justified[g] through faith,[h] we[u] have peace[i] with God through our Lord Jesus Christ,[j] [2]through whom we have gained access[k] by faith into this grace in which we now stand.[l] And we[u] rejoice in the hope[m] of the glory of God. [3]Not only so, but we[u] also rejoice in our sufferings,[n] because we know that suffering produces perseverance;[o] [4]perseverance, character; and character, hope. [5]And hope[p] does not disappoint us, because God has poured out his love[q] into our hearts by the Holy Spirit,[r] whom he has given us.

[6]You see, at just the right time,[s] when we were still powerless,[t] Christ died for the ungodly.[u] [7]Very rarely will anyone die for a righteous man, though for a good man someone might possibly dare to die. [8]But God demonstrates his own love for us in this: While we were still sinners, Christ died for us.[v]

[9]Since we have now been justified[w] by his blood,[x] how much more shall we be saved from God's wrath[y] through him! [10]For if, when we were God's enemies,[z] we were reconciled[a] to him through the death of his Son, how much more, having been reconciled, shall we be saved through his life![b] [11]Not only is this so, but we also rejoice in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom we have now received reconciliation.[c]

[u] 1,2,3 Or let us

4:24 but also for us. As Abraham was justified because he believed in a God who brought life from the dead, so we will be justified by believing "in him who raised Jesus our Lord from the dead."

4:25 These words, which reflect the Septuagint (Greek) translation of Isa 53:12, are probably quoted from a Christian confessional formula.

5:1 peace with God. Not merely a subjective feeling (peace of mind) but primarily an objective status, a new relationship with God: Once we were his enemies, but now we are his friends (see v. 10; Eph 2:16; Col 1:21–22).

5:2 access. Jesus ushers us into the presence of God. The heavy curtain (of the temple) that separated man from God and God from man has been removed (see note on Mt 27:51). hope of the glory of God. The Christian's confidence that the purpose for which God created him will be ultimately realized (see note on 3:23).

5:3 rejoice in our sufferings. Not "because of" but "in." Paul does not advocate a morbid view of life but a joyous and triumphant one.

5:4 A Christian can rejoice in suffering because he knows that it is not meaningless. Part of God's purpose is to produce character in his children.

5:5 hope does not disappoint us. The believer's hope is not to be equated with unfounded optimism. On the contrary, it is the blessed assurance of our future destiny and is based on God's love, which is revealed to us by the Holy Spirit and objectively demonstrated to us in the death of Christ. Paul has moved from faith (v. 1) to hope (vv. 2,4–5) to love (v. 5; see 1Co 13:13; see also note on 1Th 1:3). has poured out. The verb indicates a present status resulting from a past action. When we first believed in Christ, the Holy Spirit poured out his love in our hearts, and his love for us continues to dwell in us.

5:6 the right time. The appointed moment in God's redemptive plan (Mk 1:15; Gal 4:4). Christ died for the ungodly. Christ's love is grounded in God's free grace and is not the result of any inherent worthiness found in its objects (mankind). In fact, it is lavished on us in spite of our undesirable character.

5:7 righteous man ... good man. We were neither righteous nor good, but sinners, when Christ died for us (see v. 8; 3:10–12).

5:9 by his blood. By laying down his life as a sacrifice—a reference to Christ's death for our sins (see 3:25). God's wrath. The final judgment, as the verb "shall be saved" makes clear (cf. 1Th 1:9–10).

5:10 God's enemies. Man is the enemy of God, not the reverse. Thus the hostility must be removed from man if reconciliation is to be accomplished. God took the initiative in bringing this about through the death of his Son (see v. 11; Col 1:21–22). reconciled. To reconcile is "to put an end to hostility," and is closely related to the term "justify," as the parallelism in vv. 9–10 indicates:

| v. 9 | v. 10 |
|---|---|
| justified | reconciled |
| by his blood | through the death of his Son |
| shall we be saved | shall we be saved |

saved through his life. A reference to the unending life and ministry of the resurrected Christ for his people (see Heb 7:25). Since we were reconciled when we were God's enemies, we will be saved because Christ lives to keep us.

5:11 we have now received reconciliation. Reconciliation, like justification (v. 1), is a present reality for Christians and is something to rejoice about.

5:12–21 A contrast between Adam and Christ. Adam introduced sin and death into the world; Christ brought righteousness and life. The comparison begun in v. 12 is completed in v. 18; these two verses summarize the whole passage. These two men also sum up the message of the book up to this point. Adam stands for man's condemnation (1:18–3:20); Christ stands for the believer's justification (3:21–5:11).

5:12 death. Physical death is the penalty for sin. It is also the symbol of spiritual death, man's ultimate separation from God. because all sinned. Not a repetition of 3:23. The context shows that Adam's sin involved the rest of mankind in condemnation (vv. 18–19) and death (v. 15). We do not start life with even the possibility of living it sinlessly; we begin it with a sinful nature (see Ge 8:21; Ps 51:5; 58:3; Eph 2:3).

came to all men, because all sinned[f]— 13for before the law was given, sin was in the world. But sin is not taken into account when there is no law.[g] 14Never-theless, death reigned from the time of Adam to the time of Moses, even over those who did not sin by breaking a command, as did Adam,[h] who was a pattern of the one to come.[i]

15But the gift is not like the trespass.
For if the many died by the trespass of the one man,[j] how much more did God's grace and the gift that came by the grace of the one man, Jesus Christ,[k] overflow to the many! 16Again, the gift of God is not like the result of the one man's sin: The judgment followed one sin and brought condemnation, but the gift followed many trespasses and brought justification. 17For if, by the trespass of the one man, death[l] reigned through that one man, how much more will those who receive God's abundant provision of grace and of the gift of righteousness reign in life[m] through the one man, Jesus Christ.

18Consequently, just as the result of one trespass was condemnation for all men,[n] so also the result of one act of righteousness was justification[o] that brings life[p] for all men. 19For just as through the disobedience of the one man[q] the many were made sinners,[r] so also through the obedience[s] of the one man the many will be made righteous.

20The law was added so that the trespass might increase.[t] But where sin increased, grace increased all the more,[u] 21so that, just as sin reigned in death,[v] so also grace[w] might reign through righteousness to bring eternal life[x] through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Dead to Sin, Alive in Christ

6 What shall we say, then?[y] Shall we go on sinning so that grace may increase?[z] 2By no means! We died to sin;[a] how can we live in it any longer?
3Or don't you know that all of us who were baptized[b] into Christ Jesus were baptized into his death? 4We were therefore buried with him through baptism into death[c] in order that, just as Christ was raised from the dead[d] through the glory of the Father, we too may live a new life.[e]

5If we have been united with him like this in his death, we will certainly also be united with him in his resurrection.[f] 6For we know that our old self[g] was

5:13 sin is not taken into account. In the period when there was no (Mosaic) law, sin ("breaking a command," v. 14) was not charged against man (see 4:15). Death, however, continued to occur (v. 14). Since death is the penalty for sin, people between Adam and Moses were involved in the sin of someone else, namely, Adam (see note on v. 12).

5:14 pattern. Adam by his sin brought universal ruin on the human race. In this act he is the prototype of Christ, who through one righteous act (v. 18) brought universal blessing. The analogy is one of contrast.

5:15 the many. The same as "all men" in v. 12 (see Isa 53:11; Mk 10:45). how much more. A theme that runs through this section. God's grace is infinitely greater for good than is Adam's sin for evil.

5:16 gift of God. Salvation. many trespasses. The sins of the succeeding generations.

5:17 will . . . reign in life. The future reign of believers with Jesus Christ (2Ti 2:12; Rev 22:5).

5:18 life for all men. Does not mean that everyone eventually will be saved, but that salvation is available to all. To be effective, God's gracious gift must be received (see v. 17).

5:19 made righteous. A reference to a standing (status) before God (see 2Co 5:21), not to a change in character. The latter (the doctrine of sanctification) is developed in chs. 6–8.

5:20 law was added. Not to bring about redemption but to point up the need for it. The law made sin even more sinful by revealing what sin is in stark contrast to God's holiness.

6:1–8:39 In 3:21–5:21 Paul explains how God has provided for our redemption and justification. He next explains the doctrine of sanctification—the process by which believers grow to maturity in Christ. He treats this subject in three parts: (1) freedom from sin's tyranny (ch. 6), (2) freedom from the law's condemnation (ch. 7) and (3) life in the power of the Holy Spirit (ch. 8).

6:1 Shall we go on sinning so that grace may increase? This question arose out of what Paul had just said in 5:20: "Where sin increased, grace increased all the more." Such a question expresses an antinomian (against law) viewpoint. Apparently some objected to Paul's teaching of justification by faith alone because they thought it would lead to moral irresponsibility.

6:2 died to sin. The reference is to an event in the past and is explained in v. 3.

6:3–4 The when and how of the Christian's death to sin. In NT times baptism so closely followed conversion that the two were considered part of one event (see Ac 2:38 and note). So although baptism is not a means by which we enter into a vital faith relationship with Jesus Christ, it is closely associated with faith. Baptism depicts graphically what happens as a result of the Christian's union with Christ, which comes with faith—through faith we are united with Christ, just as through our natural birth we are united with Adam. As we fell into sin and became subject to death in father Adam, so we now have died and been raised again with Christ—which baptism symbolizes.

6:4 buried with him through baptism into death. Amplified in vv. 5–7. through the glory of the Father. By the power of God. God's glory is his divine excellence, his perfection. Any one of his attributes is a manifestation of his excellence. Thus his power is a manifestation of his glory, as is his righteousness (see 3:23). Glory and power are often closely related in the Bible (see Ps 145:11; Col 1:11; 1Pe 4:11; Rev 1:6; 4:11; 5:12–13; 7:12; 19:1). live a new life. Amplified in vv. 8–10.

6:6 our old self. Our unregenerate self; what we once were. body of sin. The self in its pre-Christian state, dominated by sin. This is a figurative expression in which the old self is personified. It is a "body" that can be put to death. For the believer, this old self has been "rendered powerless" (see NIV text note) so that it can no longer crucified with him[h] so that the body of sin[i] might be done away with,[v] that we should no longer be slaves to sin[j]— 7because anyone who has died has been freed from sin.[k]

8Now if we died with Christ, we believe that we will also live with him.[l] 9For we know that since Christ was raised from the dead,[m] he cannot die again; death no longer has mastery over him.[n] 10The death he died, he died to sin[o] once for all;[p] but the life he lives, he lives to God.

11In the same way, count yourselves dead to sin[q] but alive to God in Christ Jesus. 12Therefore do not let sin reign[r] in your mortal body so that you obey its evil desires. 13Do not offer the parts of your body to sin, as instruments of wickedness,[s] but rather offer yourselves to God, as those who have been brought from death to life; and offer the parts of your body to him as instruments of righteousness.[t] 14For sin shall not be your master,[u] because you are not under law,[v] but under grace.[w]

Slaves to Righteousness

15What then? Shall we sin because we are not under law but under grace?[x] By no means! 16Don't you know that when you offer yourselves to someone to obey him as slaves, you are slaves to the one whom you obey[y]—whether you are slaves to sin,[z] which leads to death,[a] or to obedience, which leads to righteousness? 17But thanks be to God[b] that, though you used to be slaves to sin,[c] you wholeheartedly obeyed the form of teaching[d] to which you were entrusted. 18You have been set free from sin[e] and have become slaves to righteousness.[f]

19I put this in human terms[g] because you are weak in your natural selves. Just as you used to offer the parts of your body in slavery to impurity and to ever-increasing wickedness, so now offer them in slavery to righteousness[h] leading to holiness. 20When you were slaves to sin,[i] you were free from the control of righteousness.[j] 21What benefit did you reap at that time from the things you are now ashamed of? Those things result in death![k] 22But now that you have been set free from sin[l] and have become slaves to God,[m] the benefit you reap leads to holiness, and the result is eternal life.[n] 23For the wages of sin is enslave us to sin—whatever lingering vitality it may yet exert in its death throes.

[v]6 Or be rendered powerless

6:7 has died. The believer's death with Christ to sin's ruling power. freed from sin. Set free from its shackles and power.

6:8 As resurrection followed death in the experience of Christ, so the believer who dies with Christ is raised to a new quality of moral life here and now. Resurrection in the sense of a new birth is already a fact, and it increasingly exerts itself in the believer's life.

6:10 he died to sin once for all. In his death Christ (for the sake of sinners) submitted to the "reign" of sin (5:21); but his death broke the judicial link between sin and death, and he passed forever from the sphere of sin's "reign." Having been raised from the dead, he now lives forever to glorify God. to God. For the glory of God.

6:11 count yourselves. The first step toward victory over sin in the believer's life (for the succeeding steps see note on vv. 12–13). He is dead to sin and alive to God, and by faith he is to live in the light of this truth. in Christ. The first occurrence in Romans of this phrase, which is found often in Paul's writings. True believers are "in Christ" because they have died with Christ and have been raised to new life with him.

6:12–13 A call for the Christian to become in experience what he already is in position—dead to sin (see vv. 5–7) and alive to God (see vv. 8–10). The second step toward the Christian's victory over sin is refusal to let sin reign in his life (v. 12). The third step is to offer himself to God (v. 13).

6:13 offer. Put yourselves in the service of, perhaps also echoing the language of sacrifice. parts of your body. All the separate capacities of your being (also in v. 19).

6:14 sin shall not be your master. Paul conceived of sin as a power that enslaves, and so personified it. not under law. The meaning is not that the Christian has been freed from all moral authority. He has, however, been freed from the law in the manner in which God's people were under law in the OT era. Law provides no enablement to resist the power of sin; it only condemns the sinner. But grace enables. under grace. For the disciplinary aspect of grace see Tit 2:11–12.

6:15–23 The question raised here seems to come from those who are afraid that the doctrine of justification by faith alone will remove all moral restraint. Paul rejects such a suggestion and shows that a Christian does not throw morality to the winds. To the contrary, he exchanges sin for righteousness as his master.

6:16 The contrast between sin and obedience suggests that sin is by nature disobedience to God.

6:17 wholeheartedly obeyed. Christian obedience is not forced or legalistic, but willing. form of teaching. May refer to a summary of the moral and ethical teachings of Christ that was given to new converts in the early church.

6:18 slaves to righteousness. A Christian has changed masters. Whereas he was formerly a slave to sin, he becomes a slave (a willing servant) to righteousness.

6:19 I put this in human terms. An apology for using an imperfect analogy. The word "slave" when applied to Christians, who are free in Christ, naturally presents problems.

6:22 set free from sin. See note on v. 6. holiness. Slavery to God produces holiness, and the end of the process is eternal life (viewed not in its present sense but in its final, future sense). There is no eternal life without holiness (see Heb 12:14). Anyone who has been justified will surely give evidence of that fact by the presence of holiness in his life. For other occurrences of the word "holiness" see v. 19; 1Co 1:30; 1Th 4:3–4,7; 2Th 2:13; 1Ti 2:15; Heb 12:14; 1Pe 1:2.

6:23 Two kinds of servitude are contrasted here. One death,[o] but the gift of God is eternal life[p] in[w] Christ Jesus our Lord.

An Illustration From Marriage

7 Do you not know, brothers[q]—for I am speaking to men who know the law—that the law has authority over a man only as long as he lives? 2For example, by law a married woman is bound to her husband as long as he is alive, but if her husband dies, she is released from the law of marriage.[r] 3So then, if she marries another man while her husband is still alive, she is called an adulteress.[s] But if her husband dies, she is released from that law and is not an adulteress, even though she marries another man.

4So, my brothers, you also died to the law[t] through the body of Christ,[u] that you might belong to another,[v] to him who was raised from the dead, in order that we might bear fruit to God. 5For when we were controlled by the sinful nature,[x w] the sinful passions aroused by the law[x] were at work in our bodies,[y] so that we bore fruit for death.[z] 6But now, by dying to what once bound us, we have been released from the law[a] so that we serve in the new way of the Spirit, and not in the old way of the written code.[b]

Struggling With Sin

7What shall we say, then?[c] Is the law sin? Certainly not![d] Indeed I would not have known what sin was except through the law.[e] For I would not have known what coveting really was if the law had not said, "Do not covet."[y f] 8But sin, seizing the opportunity afforded by the commandment,[g] produced in me every kind of covetous desire. For apart from law, sin is dead.[h] 9Once I was alive apart from law; but when the commandment came, sin sprang to life and I died. 10I found that the very commandment that was intended to bring life[i] actually brought death. 11For sin, seizing the opportunity afforded by the commandment,[j] deceived me,[k] and through the commandment put me to death. 12So then, the law is holy, and the commandment is holy, righteous and good.[l] brings death as its wages; the other results in eternal life, not as wages earned or merited, but as a gift of God. For the contrast between wages and gift see 4:4.

7:1 law. Perhaps Paul has in mind the Mosaic law, but his concern here is with the fundamental character of law as such.

7:2–3 These verses illustrate the principle set down in v. 1. Death decisively changes a person's relationship to the law.

7:4 So. Paul now draws the conclusion from the principle stated in v. 1 and illustrated in vv. 2–3. died to the law. The law's power to condemn no longer threatens the Christian, whose death here is to be understood in terms of 6:2–7. There, however, he dies to sin; here he dies to the law. The result is that the law has no more hold on him. through the body of Christ. His physical body (self) crucified. belong to another. The resurrected Christ (see 6:5). The purpose of this union is to produce the fruit of holiness.

7:5 controlled by the sinful nature. A condition, so far as Christians are concerned, that belongs to the past—the unregenerate state. aroused by the law. The law not only reveals sin; it also stimulates it. The natural tendency in man is to desire the forbidden thing. death. Physical death and, beyond that, spiritual death—final separation from God—were the fruit of our "union" with the law.

7:6 what once bound us. The law; see vv. 4,6. released from the law. In the sense of its condemnation (see note on v. 4). new way of the Spirit. See note on 8:4. old way of the written code. Life under the OT law.

7:7 Is the law sin? This question was occasioned by the remarks about the law in vv. 4–6. I. Paul seems to be using the first person pronoun of himself, but also as representative of mankind in general (vv. 7–12) and of Christians in particular (vv. 13–25). I would not have known what sin was. The law fulfilled the important function of revealing the presence and fact of sin.

7:8 opportunity afforded by the commandment. See note on v. 5. sin is dead. Not nonexistent but not fully perceived.

7:9 Once I was alive. Paul reviews his own experience from the vantage point of his present understanding. Before he realized that the law condemned him to death, he was alive. Reference is to the time either before his bar mitzvah (see below) or before his conversion, when the true rigor of the law became clear to him (see Lk 18:20–21; Php 3:6). when the commandment came. When Paul came to the realization that he stood guilty before the law—a reference either to his bar mitzvah, when he, at age 13, assumed full responsibility for the law, or to the time when he became aware of the full force of the law (at his conversion). I died. Paul came to realize he was condemned to death, because law reveals sin, and sin's wages is death (6:23).

7:10 was intended to bring life. See Lev 18:5. As it worked out, law became the avenue through which sin entered—both in Paul's experience and in that of mankind. Instead of giving life, the law brought condemnation; instead of producing holiness, it stimulated sin.

7:12 the law is holy. Despite the despicable use that sin made of the law, the law was not to blame. The law is God's and as such is holy, righteous and good.

7:13–25 Whether Paul is describing a Christian or non-Christian experience has been hotly debated through the centuries. That he is speaking of the non-Christian life is suggested by: (1) the use of phrases such as "sold as a slave to sin" (v. 14), "I know that nothing good lives in me" (v. 18) and "What a wretched man I am!" (v. 24)—which do not seem to describe Christian experience; (2) the contrast between ch. 7 and ch. 8, making it difficult for the other view to be credible; (3) the problem of the value of conversion if one ends up in spiritual misery. In favor of the view that Paul is describing Christian experience are: (1) the use of the present tense throughout the passage; (2) Paul's humble opinion of himself (v. 18); (3) his high regard for God's law (vv. 14,16); (4) the location of this passage in the section of Romans where Paul is dealing with sanctification—the growth of the Christian death to me? By no means! But in order that sin might be recognized as sin, it produced death in me[m] through what was good,[n] so that through the commandment sin might become utterly sinful.

[14]We know that the law is spiritual; but I am unspiritual,[o] sold[p] as a slave to sin.[q] [15]I do not understand what I do. For what I want to do I do not do, but what I hate I do.[r] [16]And if I do what I do not want to do, I agree that the law is good.[s] [17]As it is, it is no longer I myself who do it, but it is sin living in me.[t] [18]I know that nothing good lives in me, that is, in my sinful nature.[zu] For I have the desire to do what is good, but I cannot carry it out. [19]For what I do is not the good I want to do; no, the evil I do not want to do—this I keep on doing.[v] [20]Now if I do what I do not want to do, it is no longer I who do it, but it is sin living in me that does it.[w]

[21]So I find this law at work:[x] When I want to do good, evil is right there with me. [22]For in my inner being[y] I delight in God's law;[z] [23]but I see another law at work in the members of my body, waging war[a] against the law of my mind and making me a prisoner of the law of sin[b] at work within my members.

[24]What a wretched man I am! Who will rescue me from this body of death?[c] [25]Thanks be to God—through Jesus Christ our Lord![d]

So then, I myself in my mind am a slave to God's law,[e] but in the sinful nature a slave to the law of sin.[f]

Life Through the Spirit

8 Therefore, there is now no condemnation[g] for those who are in Christ Jesus,[ah] [2]because through Christ Jesus[i] the law of the Spirit of life[j] set me free[k] from the law of sin[l] and death. [3]For what the law was powerless[m] to do in that it was weakened by the sinful nature,[bn] God did by sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful man[o] to be a sin offering.[cp] And so he condemned sin in sinful man,[d] [4]in order that the righteous requirements[q] of the law might be fully met in us, who do not live according to the sinful nature but according to the Spirit.[r] in holiness.

7:13 Sin used a holy thing (law) for an unholy end (death). By this fact the contemptible nature of sin is revealed.

7:14 spiritual. The law had its origin in God. I am. The personal pronoun and the verb, taken together, suggest that Paul is describing his present (Christian) experience. unspiritual. Even a believer has the seeds of rebellion in his heart. sold as a slave to sin. A phrase so strong that many refuse to accept it as descriptive of a Christian. However, it may graphically point out the failure even of Christians to meet the radical ethical and moral demands of the gospel. It also points up the persistent nature of sin.

7:15 I do not understand. The struggle within creates tension, ambivalence and confusion.

7:16 I agree that the law is good. Even when Paul is rebellious and disobedient, the Holy Spirit reveals to him the essential goodness of the law.

7:17 no longer I myself who do it. Not an attempt to escape moral responsibility but a statement of the great control sin can have over a Christian's life.

7:18 nothing good lives in me. A reference to man's fallen nature, as the last phrase of the sentence indicates. Paul is not saying that no goodness at all exists in Christians.

7:20 sin . . . does it. See note on v. 17.

7:21 law. Here means "principle."

7:22 I delight in God's law. The Mosaic law or God's law generally. It is difficult to see how a non-Christian could say this.

7:23 another law. A principle or force at work in Paul preventing him from giving obedience to God's law. law of my mind. His desire to obey God's law. law of sin. Essentially the same as "another law," mentioned above.

7:24 body of death. Figurative for the body of sin (6:6) that hung on him like a corpse and from which he could not gain freedom.

7:25 The first half of this verse is the answer to the question stated in v. 24—deliverance comes, not through legalistic effort, but through Christ. The last half is a summary of vv. 13–24. I myself. The real self—the inner being that delights in God's law (v. 22).

8:1 condemnation. The law brings condemnation because it points out, stimulates and condemns sin. But the Christian is no longer "under law" (6:14). in Christ Jesus. United with him, as explained in 6:1–10 (see note on 6:11).

8:2 the law of the Spirit of life. The controlling power of the Holy Spirit, who is life-giving. Paul uses the word "law" in several different ways in Romans—to mean, e.g., a controlling power (here); God's law (2:17–20; 9:31; 10:3–5); the Pentateuch (3:21b); the OT as a whole (3:19); a principle (3:27). law of sin and death. The controlling power of sin, which ultimately produces death.

8:3 powerless to do. The law was not able to overcome sin. It could point out, condemn and even stimulate sin, but it could not remove it. in the likeness of sinful man. Christ in his incarnation became truly a man, but, unlike all other men, was sinless. in sinful man. See NIV text note; "flesh" may refer either to man's flesh or to Christ's. If the latter, it states where God condemned sin, namely, in Christ's human (but not sinful) nature—the interpretation that seems more consistent with Paul's teaching.

8:4 righteous requirements of the law. The law still plays a role in the life of a believer—not, however, as a means of salvation but as a moral and ethical guide, obeyed out of love for God and by the power that the Spirit provides. This is the fulfillment of Jer 31:33–34 (a prophecy of the new covenant). fully met. Lit. "fulfilled." God's aim in sending his Son was that believers might be enabled to embody the true and full intentions of the law. according to the Spirit. How the law's righteous requirements can be fully met—by no longer letting the sinful nature hold sway but by yielding to the directing and empowering ministry of the Holy Spirit.

8:5–8 Two mind-sets are described here: that of the sinful nature and that of the Spirit. The former leads to death, nature have their minds set on what that nature desires;[s] but those who live in accordance with the Spirit have their minds set on what the Spirit desires.[t] 6The mind of sinful man[e] is death,[u] but the mind controlled by the Spirit is life[v] and peace; 7the sinful mind[f] is hostile to God.[w] It does not submit to God's law, nor can it do so. 8Those controlled by the sinful nature[x] cannot please God.

9You, however, are controlled not by the sinful nature[y] but by the Spirit, if the Spirit of God lives in you.[z] And if anyone does not have the Spirit of Christ,[a] he does not belong to Christ. 10But if Christ is in you,[b] your body is dead because of sin, yet your spirit is alive because of righteousness. 11And if the Spirit of him who raised Jesus from the dead[c] is living in you, he who raised Christ from the dead will also give life to your mortal bodies[d] through his Spirit, who lives in you.

12Therefore, brothers, we have an obligation—but it is not to the sinful nature, to live according to it.[e] 13For if you live according to the sinful nature, you will die;[f] but if by the Spirit you put to death the misdeeds of the body,[g] you will live,[h] 14because those who are led by the Spirit of God[i] are sons of God.[j] 15For you did not receive a spirit[k] that makes you a slave again to fear,[l] but you received the Spirit of sonship.[g] And by him we cry, "Abba,[h] Father."[m] 16The Spirit himself testifies with our spirit[n] that we are God's children.[o] 17Now if we are children, then we are heirs[p]—heirs of God and co-heirs with Christ, if indeed we share in his sufferings[q] in order that we may also share in his glory.[r]

Future Glory

18I consider that our present sufferings are not worth comparing with the glory that will be revealed in us.[s] 19The creation waits in eager expectation for the sons of God[t] to be revealed. 20For the creation was subjected to frustration, not by its own choice, but by the will of the one who subjected it,[u] in hope 21that[i] the creation itself will be liberated from its bondage to decay[v] and brought into the glorious freedom of the children of God.[w]

22We know that the whole creation has been groaning[x] as in the pains of childbirth right up to the present time. 23Not only so, but we ourselves, who have the

the latter to life and peace. The sinful nature is bound up with death (v. 6), hostility to God (v. 7), insubordination (v. 7) and unacceptability to God (v. 8).

8:10 your body is dead because of sin. Even a Christian's body is subject to physical death, the consequence of sin. your spirit is alive. Or "the Spirit is life" (see v. 2). On this reading, "body" is understood as in 7:24. because of righteousness. Because the spirit of the Christian has been justified, it is not subject to death as is his body. The Christian is indwelt by the life-giving Spirit as a result of his justification.

8:11 For the close connection between the resurrection of Christ and that of believers see 1Co 6:14; 15:20,23; 2Co 4:14; Php 3:21; 1Th 4:14. give life to your mortal bodies. The resurrection of our bodies, guaranteed to believers by the indwelling presence of the Holy Spirit—whose presence is evidenced by a Spirit-controlled life (vv. 4–9), which in turn provides assurance that our resurrection is certain even now.

8:14 sons of God. God is the Father of all in the sense that he created all and his love and providential care are extended to all (see Mt 5:45). But not all are his children. Jesus said to the unbelieving Jews of his day, "You belong to your father, the devil" (Jn 8:44). People become children of God through faith in God's unique Son (see Jn 1:12–13), and being led by God's Spirit is the hallmark of this relationship.

8:15 sonship. The underlying word here is "adoption" (see NIV text note). It occurs four other times in the NT (v. 23; 9:4; Gal 4:5 [see note there]; Eph 1:5). Adoption was common among the Greeks and Romans, who granted the adopted son all the privileges of a natural son, including inheritance rights. Christians are adopted sons by grace; Christ, however, is God's Son by nature. Abba, Father. Expressive of an especially close relationship to God (see also NIV text note).

8:16 testifies with our spirit. The inner testimony of the Holy Spirit to our relationship to Christ. God's children. The same as "sons of God," terms that in the NT are synonymous.

8:17 heirs. Those who have already entered, at least partially, into the possession of their inheritance. co-heirs with Christ. Everything really belongs to Christ, but by grace we share in what is his. if indeed we share in his sufferings. The Greek construction used here does not set forth a condition but states a fact. The meaning, then, is not that there is some doubt about sharing Christ's glory. Rather, despite the fact that Christians presently suffer, they are assured a future entrance into their inheritance.

8:19 The creation. Both animate and inanimate, but exclusive of human beings (see vv. 22–23, where "whole creation" and "we ourselves" are contrasted). sons of God to be revealed. Christians are already sons of God, but the full manifestation of all that this means will not come until the end (see 1Jn 3:1–2).

8:20 was subjected to frustration. A reference to Ge 3:17–19. in hope. A possible allusion to the promise of Ge 3:15.

8:21 will be liberated from its bondage to decay. The physical universe is not destined for destruction (annihilation) but for renewal (see 2Pe 3:13; Rev 21:1). And living things will no longer be subject to death and decay, as they are today.

8:22 has been groaning. Creation is personified as a woman in labor waiting for the birth of her child.

8:23 firstfruits of the Spirit. The Christian's possession of the Holy Spirit is not only evidence of his present salvation (vv. 14,16) but is also a pledge of his future inheritance—firstfruits of the Spirit,[y] groan[z] inwardly as we wait eagerly[a] for our adoption as sons, the redemption of our bodies.[b] [24]For in this hope we were saved.[c] But hope that is seen is no hope at all.[d] Who hopes for what he already has? [25]But if we hope for what we do not yet have, we wait for it patiently.[e]

[26]In the same way, the Spirit helps us in our weakness. We do not know what we ought to pray for, but the Spirit[f] himself intercedes for us[g] with groans that words cannot express. [27]And he who searches our hearts[h] knows the mind of the Spirit, because the Spirit intercedes[i] for the saints in accordance with God's will.

More Than Conquerors

[28]And we know that in all things God works for the good[j] of those who love him,[j] who[k] have been called[k] according to his purpose.[l] [29]For those God foreknew[m] he also predestined[n] to be conformed to the likeness of his Son,[o] that he might be the firstborn[p] among many brothers. [30]And those he predestined,[q] he also called;[r] those he called, he also justified;[s] those he justified, he also glorified.[t]

[31]What, then, shall we say in response to this?[u] If God is for us,[v] who can be against us?[w] [32]He who did not spare his own Son,[x] but gave him up for us all—how will he not also, along with him, graciously give us all things? [33]Who will bring any charge[y] against those whom God has chosen? It is God who justifies. [34]Who is he that condemns?[z] Christ Jesus, who died[a]—more than that, who was raised to life[b]—is at the right hand of God[c] and is also interceding for us.[d] [35]Who shall separate us from the love of Christ?[e] Shall trouble or hardship or persecution or famine or nakedness or danger or sword?[f] [36]As it is written:

> "For your sake we face death all day long;
> we are considered as sheep to be slaughtered."[g]

[37]No, in all these things we are more than conquerors[h] through him who loved us.[i] [38]For I am convinced that neither death nor life, neither angels nor demons,[m] neither the present nor the future,[j] nor any powers,[k] [39]neither height nor depth, nor anything else in all creand not only a pledge but also the down payment on that inheritance (see 2Co 1:22; 5:5; Eph 1:14). adoption as sons. See note on v. 15. Christians are already God's children, but this is a reference to the full realization of our inheritance in Christ. redemption of our bodies. The resurrection, as the final stage of our adoption. The first stage was God's predestination of our adoption (see Eph 1:5); the second is our present inclusion as children of God (see v. 14; Gal 3:26).

8:24 in this hope. We are saved by faith (see Eph 2:8), not hope; but hope accompanies salvation.

8:26 In the same way. As hope sustains the believer in suffering, so the Holy Spirit helps him in prayer. with groans that words cannot express. In v. 23 it is the believer who groans; here it is the Holy Spirit. Whether Paul means words that are unspoken or words that cannot be expressed in human language is not clear—probably the former, though v. 27 seems to suggest the latter.

8:27 The relationship between the Holy Spirit and God the Father is so close that the Holy Spirit's prayers need not be audible. God knows his every thought.

8:28 the good. That which conforms us "to the likeness of his Son" (v. 29). called. Effectual calling: the call of God to which there is invariably a positive response.

8:29 foreknew. Some insist that the knowledge here is not abstract but is couched in love and mixed with purpose. They hold that God not only knew us before we had any knowledge of him but that he also knew us, in the sense of choosing us by his grace, before the foundation of the world (see Eph 1:4; 2Ti 1:9 and notes). Others believe that Paul here refers to the fact that in eternity past God knew those who by faith would become his people. predestined. Predestination here is to moral conformity to the likeness of his Son. that he might be the firstborn among many brothers. The reason God foreknew, predestined and conformed believers to Christ's likeness is that the Son might hold the position of highest honor in the great family of God.

8:30 predestined ... glorified. The sequence by which God carries out his predestination. glorified. Since this final stage is firmly grounded in God's set purpose, it is as certain as if it had already happened.

8:31 If God is for us. The form of the condition makes it clear that there is no doubt about it.

8:32 The argument (from the greater to the lesser) here is similar to that in 5:9–10. If God gave the supreme gift of his Son to save us, he will certainly also give whatever is necessary to bring to fulfillment the work begun at the cross. See note on Ge 22:16.

8:33–34 A court of law is in mind. No charge can be brought against the Christian because God has already pronounced a verdict of not guilty.

8:34 Three reasons are given as to why no one can condemn God's elect: (1) Christ died for us; (2) he is alive and seated at the right hand of God, the position of power; (3) he is interceding for us.

8:35–39 Paul wanted to show his readers that suffering does not separate believers from Christ but actually carries them along toward their ultimate goal.

8:36 Ps 44:22 is quoted to show that suffering has always been part of the experience of God's people.

8:37 who loved us. Referring especially to Christ's death on the cross.

8:39 neither height nor depth. It is impossible to get beyond God's loving reach. nor anything else in all creation. Includes all created things. Only God is not included, and he is the one who has justified us (v. 33).

ation, will be able to separate us from the love of God[l] that is in Christ Jesus our Lord.[m]

God's Sovereign Choice

9 I speak the truth in Christ—I am not lying,[n] my conscience confirms[o] it in the Holy Spirit— 2I have great sorrow and unceasing anguish in my heart. 3For I could wish that I myself[p] were cursed[q] and cut off from Christ for the sake of my brothers,[r] those of my own race,[s] 4the people of Israel.[t] Theirs is the adoption as sons;[u] theirs the divine glory,[v] the covenants,[w] the receiving of the law,[x] the temple worship[y] and the promises.[z] 5Theirs are the patriarchs,[a] and from them is traced the human ancestry of Christ,[b] who is God over all,[c] forever praised![nd] Amen.

6It is not as though God's word[e] had failed. For not all who are descended from Israel are Israel.[f] 7Nor because they are his descendants are they all Abraham's children. On the contrary, "It is through Isaac that your offspring will be reckoned."[og] 8In other words, it is not the natural children who are God's children,[h] but it is the children of the promise who are regarded as Abraham's offspring.[i] 9For this was how the promise was stated: "At the appointed time I will return, and Sarah will have a son."[pj]

10Not only that, but Rebekah's children had one and the same father, our father Isaac.[k] 11Yet, before the twins were born or had done anything good or bad[l]—in order that God's purpose[m] in election might stand: 12not by works but by him who calls—she was told, "The older will serve the younger."[qn] 13Just as it is written: "Jacob I loved, but Esau I hated."[ro]

14What then shall we say?[p] Is God unjust? Not at all![q] 15For he says to Moses,

> "I will have mercy on whom I have mercy, > and I will have compassion on whom I have compassion."[sr]

16It does not, therefore, depend on man's desire or effort, but on God's mercy.[s] 17For the Scripture says to Pharaoh: "I

9:1 in the Holy Spirit. Conscience is a reliable guide only when enlightened by the Holy Spirit.

9:3 cursed. The Greek for this word is anathema, and it means delivered over to the wrath of God for eternal destruction (see 1Co 12:3; 16:22; Gal 1:8–9). Such was Paul's great love for his fellow Jews. For a similar expression of love see Ex 32:32.

9:4 people of Israel. The descendants of Jacob (who was renamed Israel by God; see Ge 32:28). The name was used of the entire nation (see Jdg 5:7), then of the northern kingdom after the nation was divided (see 1Ki 12), the southern kingdom being called Judah. During the intertestamental period and later in NT times, Palestinian Jews used the title to indicate that they were the chosen people of God. Its use here is especially relevant because Paul is about to show that, despite Israel's unbelief and disobedience, God's promises to her are still valid. adoption. Israel had been accepted as God's son (see Ex 4:22–23; Jer 31:9; Hos 11:1). glory. The evidence of the presence of God among his people (see Ex 16:7,10; Lev 9:6,23; Nu 16:19). covenants. For example, the Abrahamic (Ge 15:17–21; 17:1–8); the Mosaic (Ex 19:5; 24:1–4), renewed on the plains of Moab (Dt 29:1–15), at Mounts Ebal and Gerizim (Jos 8:30–35) and at Shechem (Jos 24); the Levitical (Nu 25:12–13; Jer 33:21; Mal 2:4–5); the Davidic (2Sa 7; 23:5; Ps 89:3–4,28–29; 132:11–12); and the new (prophesied in Jer 31:31–40). promises. Especially those made to Abraham (Ge 12:7; 13:14–17; 17:4–8; 22:16–18) but also including the many OT Messianic promises (e.g., 2Sa 7:12,16; Isa 9:6–7; Jer 23:5; 31:31–34; Eze 34:23–24; 37:24–28).

9:5 patriarchs. Abraham, Isaac, Jacob and his sons. Christ, who is God. One of the clearest statements of the deity of Jesus Christ found in the entire NT, assuming the accuracy of the translation (see NIV text note). See also 1:4; Mt 1:23; 28:19; Lk 1:35; 5:20–21; Jn 1:1,3,10,14,18; 5:18; 20:28; 2Co 13:14; Php 2:6; Col 1:15–20; 2:9; Tit 2:13; Heb 1:3,8; 2Pe 1:1; Rev 1:13–18; 22:13.

9:6 God's word. His clearly stated purpose, which has not failed, because "not all who are descended from Israel are Israel." Paul is not denying the election of all Israel (as a nation) but stating that within Israel there is a separation, that of unbelieving Israel and believing Israel. Physical descent is no guarantee of a place in God's family.

9:7 descendants. Physical descendants (e.g., Ishmael and his offspring).

9:8 natural children. Those merely biologically descended from Abraham. God's children. See v. 4. Not all Israelites were God's children. The reference is to the Israel of faith.

9:11 done anything good or bad. God's choice of Jacob was based on sovereign freedom, not on the fulfillment of any prior conditions. God's purpose in election. God's purpose embodied in his election (see note on Eph 1:4).

9:12 not by works but by him who calls. Before Rebekah's children were even born, God made a choice—a choice obviously not based on works. calls. See 8:28 and note.

9:13 Jacob I loved, but Esau I hated. Equivalent to "Jacob I chose, but Esau I rejected." In vv. 6–13 Paul is clearly dealing with personal and not national election—he is not portraying the nation Israel (Jacob) over the nation Edom (Esau)—though Mal 1:2–3 (see NIV text note) does speak of the nations. Paul's intention is evident in light of the problem he is addressing: How can God's promise stand when so many who comprise Israel (in the OT collective sense) are unbelieving and therefore cut off?

9:14 Is God unjust? Unjust to elect on the basis of his sovereign freedom, as with Jacob and Esau.

9:15 Paul denies injustice in God's dealing with Isaac and Ishmael, and Jacob and Esau, by appealing to God's sovereign right to dispense mercy as he chooses.

9:16 It. God's choice, which is not controlled in any way by man. However, Paul makes it clear that the basis for Israel's rejection was her unbelief (see vv. 30–32).

9:17 Pharaoh. Pharaoh of the exodus. raised you up. Made you ruler of Egypt. my name. The character of God, particularly as revealed in the exodus (see Ex 15:13–18; Jos 2:10–11; 9:9; 1Sa 4:8).

raised you up for this very purpose, that I might display my power in you and that my name might be proclaimed in all the earth."[tt] [18]Therefore God has mercy on whom he wants to have mercy, and he hardens whom he wants to harden.[u]

[27]Isaiah cries out concerning Israel:

"Though the number of the Israelites be like the sand by the sea,[k] only the remnant will be saved.[l]
[28]For the Lord will carry out his sentence on earth with speed and finality."[xm]

[29]It is just as Isaiah said previously:

"Unless the Lord Almighty[n] had left us descendants, we would have become like Sodom,
we would have been like Gomorrah."[yo]

Israel's Unbelief

[30]What then shall we say?[p] That the Gentiles, who did not pursue righteousness, have obtained it, a righteousness that is by faith;[q] [31]but Israel, who pursued a law of righteousness,[r] has not attained it.[s] [32]Why not? Because they pursued it not by faith but as if it were by works. They stumbled over the "stumbling stone."[t] [33]As it is written:

"See, I lay in Zion a stone that causes men to stumble and a rock that makes them fall,

9:18 The first part of this verse again echoes Ex 33:19 (see v. 15) and the last part such texts as Ex 7:3; 9:12; 14:4,17, in which God is said to harden the hearts of Pharaoh and the Egyptians. on whom he wants to have mercy. Cannot mean that God is arbitrary in his mercy, because Paul ultimately bases God's rejection of Israel on her unbelief (see vv. 30–32).

9:19 Someone may object: "If God determines whose heart is hardened and whose is not, how can God blame anyone for hardening his heart?"

9:20 who are you, O man, to talk back to God? Paul is not silencing all questioning of God by man, but he is speaking to those with an impenitent, God-defying attitude who want to make God answerable to man for what he does and who, by their questions, defame the character of God.

9:21 The analogy between God and the potter and between man and the pot should not be pressed to the extreme. The main point is the sovereign freedom of God in dealing with man.

9:22–23 An illustration of the principle stated in v. 21. The emphasis is on God's mercy, not his wrath.

9:22 No one can call God to account for what he does. But he does not exercise his freedom of choice arbitrarily, and he shows great patience even toward the objects of his wrath. In light of 2:4, the purpose of such patience is to bring about repentance.

9:23 glory. See note on 3:23.

9:25–26 In the original context these passages from Hosea refer to the spiritual restoration of Israel. But Paul finds in them the principle that God is a saving, forgiving, restoring God, who delights to take those who are "not my people" and make them "my people." Paul then applies this principle to Gentiles, whom God makes his people by sovereignly grafting them into covenant relationship (see ch. 11).

9:27–29 The two passages from Isaiah indicate that only a small remnant will survive from the great multitude of Israelites. God's calling includes both Jews and Gentiles (see v. 24), but the vast majority are Gentiles, as v. 30 suggests.

9:30–32 A new step in Paul's argument: The reason for Israel's rejection lay in the nature of her disobedience—she failed to obey her own God-given law, which in reality was pointing to Christ. She pursued the law—yet not by faith but by works. Thus the real cause of Israel's rejection was that she failed to believe.

9:31 law of righteousness. The law that prescribed the way to righteousness. Paul does not reject obedience to the law but righteousness by works, the attempt to use the law to put God in one's debt.

9:32 not by faith. The failure of Israel was not that she pursued the wrong thing (i.e., righteous standing before God), but that she pursued it by works in a futile effort to merit God's favor rather than pursuing it by faith. the "stumbling stone." Jesus, the Messiah. God's rejection of Israel was not arbitrary but was based on Israel's rejection of God's way of gaining righteousness (faith).

9:33 The two passages from Isaiah, which are here combined, apparently were commonly used by early Christians in defense of Jesus' Messiahship (see 1Pe 2:4,6–8; see also Ps 118:22; Lk 20:17–18).

and the one who trusts in him will never be put to shame."[zu]

10 Brothers, my heart's desire[v] and prayer to God for the Israelites is that they may be saved. 2For I can testify about them that they are zealous[w] for God, but their zeal is not based on knowledge. 3Since they did not know the righteousness that comes from God and sought to establish their own, they did not submit to God's righteousness.[x] 4Christ is the end of the law[y] so that there may be righteousness for everyone who believes.[z]

5Moses describes in this way the righteousness that is by the law: "The man who does these things will live by them."[au] 6But the righteousness that is by faith[b] says: "Do not say in your heart, 'Who will ascend into heaven?'[b]"[c] (that is, to bring Christ down) 7"or 'Who will descend into the deep?'[c]"[d] (that is, to bring Christ up from the dead).[e] 8But what does it say? "The word is near you; it is in your mouth and in your heart,"[df] that is, the word of faith we are proclaiming: 9That if you confess[g] with your mouth, "Jesus is Lord,"[h] and believe[i] in your heart that God raised him from the dead,[j] you will be saved.[k] 10For it is with your heart that you believe and are justified, and it is with your mouth that you confess and are saved. 11As the Scripture says, "Anyone who trusts in him will never be put to shame."[el] 12For there is no difference between Jew and Gentile[m]—the same Lord is Lord of all[n] and richly blesses all who call on him, 13for, "Everyone who calls on the name of the Lord[o] will be saved."[fp]

14How, then, can they call on the one they have not believed in? And how can they believe in the one of whom they have not heard? And how can they hear without someone preaching to them? 15And how can they preach unless they are sent? As it is written, "How beautiful

10:1 prayer to God for the Israelites. Paul often prayed for the churches (see Eph 1:15–23; Col 1:3; 1Th 1:2–3; 2Th 1:3). Here he prays for the salvation of his fellow countrymen.

10:2 zealous for God. The Jews' zeal for God (see Ac 21:20; 22:3; Gal 1:14) was commendable in that God was its object, but it was flawed because it was not based on right knowledge about God's way of salvation. Paul, before his conversion, was an example of such zeal (see Gal 1:14).

10:3 righteousness that comes from God. Righteous standing based on faith (see 1:17), which comes from God as a gift and cannot be earned by man's works. their own. Righteous standing based on mere human effort.

10:4 Christ is the end of the law. Although the Greek word for "end" (telos) can mean either (1) "termination," "cessation," or (2) "goal," "culmination," "fulfillment," it seems best here to understand it in the latter sense. Christ is the fulfillment of the law (see Mt 5:17) in the sense that he brought it to completion by obeying perfectly its demands and by fulfilling its types and prophecies. The Christian is no longer "under the law" (6:15), since Christ has freed him from its condemnation, but the law still plays a role in his life. He is liberated by the Holy Spirit to fulfill its moral demands (see 8:4). righteousness. The righteous standing before God that Christ makes available to everyone who believes (see notes on 1:17; 3:24).

10:5 The man who does these things will live by them. Lev 18:5 (see note there; see also Dt 6:25) speaks of the righteousness to which Israel was called under the Sinai covenant. Some understand Paul's purpose in quoting it here as describing the way of obtaining righteousness ("will live") by keeping the law (see 2:6–10). Others think that the reference is to Christ, who perfectly fulfilled the law's demands and thus makes salvation available to all who believe (see Heb 5:9).

10:6–7 The purpose of the OT quotation is to explain the nature of the righteousness that is by faith. It does not require heroic feats such as bringing Christ down from heaven or up from the grave. Dt 30:12–13 in its original context refers to the law, and Paul here applies the basic principle to Christ.

10:8 The word is near you. In the OT passage the "word" is God's word as found in the law. Paul takes the passage and applies it to the gospel, "the word of faith"—the main point being the accessibility of the gospel. Righteousness is gained by faith, not by deeds, and is readily available to anyone who will receive it freely from God through Christ.

10:9 Jesus is Lord. The earliest Christian confession of faith (cf. 1Co 12:3), probably used at baptisms. In view of the fact that "Lord" (Greek kyrios) is used over 6,000 times in the Septuagint (the Greek translation of the OT) to translate the name of Israel's God (Yahweh), it is clear that Paul, when using this word of Jesus, is ascribing deity to him. in your heart. In Biblical terms the heart is not merely the seat of the emotions and affections, but also of the intellect and will. God raised him from the dead. A bedrock truth of Christian doctrine (see 1Co 15:4,14,17) and the central thrust of apostolic preaching (see, e.g., Ac 2:31–32; 3:15; 4:10; 10:40). Christians believe not only that Jesus lived but also that he still lives. will be saved. In the future tense. Paul is thinking of final salvation—salvation at the last day.

10:10 Salvation involves inward belief ("with your heart") as well as outward confession ("with your mouth").

10:12 no difference between Jew and Gentile. In the sense that both are on the same footing as far as salvation is concerned (see v. 13).

10:13 Peter cited this same passage (Joel 2:32) on the day of Pentecost (Ac 2:21).

10:14–15 Since it might be argued that Jews had never had a fair opportunity to hear and respond to the gospel, Paul, by means of a series of rhetorical questions, states (in reverse order) the conditions necessary to call on Christ and be saved: (1) a preacher sent from God, (2) proclamation of the message, (3) hearing the message, (4) believing the message.

10:15 How beautiful are the feet of those who bring good news! The quotation is from Isa 52:7, which refers to those who bring the exiles the good news of their imminent release from captivity in Babylon. Here it is applied to gospel preachers, who bring the good news of are the feet of those who bring good news!"[g][q]

[16]But not all the Israelites accepted the good news.[r] For Isaiah says, "Lord, who has believed our message?"[h][s]
[17]Consequently, faith comes from hearing the message,[t] and the message is heard through the word of Christ.[u]
[18]But I ask: Did they not hear? Of course they did:

"Their voice has gone out into all the earth, their words to the ends of the world."[i][v]

[19]Again I ask: Did Israel not understand? First, Moses says,

"I will make you envious[w] by those who are not a nation;
I will make you angry by a nation that has no understanding."[j][x]

[20]And Isaiah boldly says,

"I was found by those who did not seek me;
I revealed myself to those who did not ask for me."[k][y]

[21]But concerning Israel he says,

"All day long I have held out my hands to a disobedient and obstinate people."[l][z]

The Remnant of Israel

11 I ask then: Did God reject his people? By no means![a] I am an Israelite myself, a descendant of Abraham,[b] from the tribe of Benjamin.[c] [2]God did not reject his people,[d] whom he foreknew.[e] Don't you know what the Scripture says in the passage about Elijah—how he appealed to God against Israel:
[3]"Lord, they have killed your prophets and torn down your altars; I am the only one left, and they are trying to kill me"[m][?][f]
[4]And what was God's answer to him? "I have reserved for myself seven thousand who have not bowed the knee to Baal."[n][g]
[5]So too, at the present time there is a remnant[h] chosen by grace.[i]
[6]And if by grace, then it is no longer by works;[j] if it were, grace would no longer be grace.[o]

[7]What then? What Israel sought so earnestly it did not obtain,[k] but the elect did. The others were hardened,[l]
[8]as it is written:

"God gave them a spirit of stupor, eyes so that they could not see and ears so that they could not hear,[m] to this very day."[p][n]

[9]And David says:

"May their table become a snare and a trap,
a stumbling block and a retribution for them.
[10]May their eyes be darkened so they cannot see,[o] and their backs be bent forever."[q][p]

Ingrafted Branches

[11]Again I ask: Did they stumble so as to fall beyond recovery? Not at all![q] Rather, because of their transgression, salvation has come to the Gentiles[r] to make Israel envious.[s] release from captivity to sin.

10:17 word of Christ. Either (1) the gospel concerning Christ, or (2) Christ speaking his message through his messengers.

10:18 Their voice. The quotation is from Ps 19:4, which refers to the testimony of the heavens to the glory of God. Here "their voice" is applied to gospel preachers and is used to show that Israel cannot offer the excuse that she did not have opportunity to hear, since preachers went everywhere. These words (originally used to describe God's revelation in nature) aptly describe the widespread preaching of the gospel, and Paul uses them to show that Jews had ample opportunity to hear the message of redemption.

10:19 Did Israel not understand? The quotation that follows (from Dt 32:21) answers this question by suggesting that the Gentiles, whom the Jews considered to be spiritually unenlightened, understood. Surely if they understood the message, the Jews could have. those who are not a nation. The Gentiles, those who are not a nation of God's forming in the sense that Israel was.

10:21 The responsibility for Israel's rejection as a nation rested with Israel herself. She had failed to meet God's requirement, namely, faith.

11:1 reject. Totally reject. There has always been a faithful remnant among the Jewish people.

11:2 whom he foreknew. See note on 8:29.

11:5 remnant. As it was in Elijah's day, so it was in Paul's day. Despite widespread apostasy, a faithful remnant of Jews remained. chosen by grace. The grounds for the existence of the remnant was not their good works but God's grace.

11:7 What Israel sought so earnestly. A righteous standing before God, which eluded the greater part of Israel. the elect. The faithful remnant among the Jews. were hardened. Because they refused the way of faith (see 9:31–32), God made them impervious to spiritual truth (see notes on Isa 6:8–10)—a judicial hardening of Israel.

11:8 to this very day. The spiritual dullness of the Jews had continued from Isaiah's day to Paul's day.

11:9–10 The passage from Ps 69:22–23 was probably originally spoken by David concerning his enemies; Paul uses it to describe the results of the divine hardening.

11:11 their transgression. The Jews' rejection of the gospel. make Israel envious. See v. 14; 10:19.

11:12 riches for the world. Equivalent to "riches for the transgression means riches for the world, and their loss means riches for the Gentiles,[t] how much greater riches will their fullness bring!

13I am talking to you Gentiles. Inasmuch as I am the apostle to the Gentiles,[u] I make much of my ministry 14in the hope that I may somehow arouse my own people to envy[v] and save[w] some of them. 15For if their rejection is the reconciliation[x] of the world, what will their acceptance be but life from the dead?[y] 16If the part of the dough offered as firstfruits[z] is holy, then the whole batch is holy; if the root is holy, so are the branches.

22Consider therefore the kindness[g] and sternness of God: sternness to those who fell, but kindness to you, provided that you continue[h] in his kindness. Otherwise, you also will be cut off.[i] 23And if they do not persist in unbelief, they will be grafted in, for God is able to graft them in again.[j] 24After all, if you were cut out of an olive tree that is wild by nature, and contrary to nature were grafted into a cultivated olive tree,[k] how much more readily will these, the natural branches, be grafted into their own olive tree!

Gentiles," a reference to the abundant benefits of salvation already enjoyed by believing Gentiles, which had come about because of the rejection of the gospel by the Jews. That rejection caused the apostles to turn to the Gentiles (see Ac 13:46–48; 18:6). their loss. Equivalent to "their transgression" (see note on v. 11), but focusing on the loss that this transgression entailed. greater riches. See note on v. 15. their fullness. The salvation of Israel (see vv. 26–27; see also the "fullness [NIV 'full number'] of the Gentiles," v. 25).

11:13 apostle to the Gentiles. See 1:5; Ac 9:15; Gal 1:16; 2:7,9.

11:15 their rejection. God's temporary and partial exclusion of the Jews. reconciliation of the world. Somewhat equivalent to "riches for the world" (see note on v. 12). life from the dead. Equivalent to "greater riches" in v. 12. The sequence of redemptive events is: The "transgression" and "loss" (v. 12) of Israel leads to the salvation of the Gentiles, which leads to the jealousy or envy of Israel, which leads to the "fullness" (v. 12) of Israel when the hardening is removed, which leads to even more riches for the Gentiles. But what are the "greater riches" (v. 12) for the Gentiles, which Paul describes here as "life from the dead"? Three views may be suggested: (1) an unprecedented spiritual awakening in the world; (2) the consummation of redemption at the resurrection of the dead; (3) a figurative expression describing the conversion of the Jews as a joyful and glorious event (like resurrection)—which will result in even greater blessing for the world. Of these three views the first seems least likely, since, before Israel's spiritual rebirth, the fullness of the Gentiles will already have come in (see v. 25). Since the Gentile mission will then be complete, there seems to be no place for a period of unprecedented spiritual awakening. The second view also seems unlikely, since the context suggests nothing of bodily resurrection.

11:16 The first half of this verse is a reference to Nu 15:17–21. Part of the dough made from the first of the harvested grain (firstfruits) was offered to the Lord. This consecrated the whole batch. firstfruits. The patriarchs. whole batch. The Jewish people. holy. Not that all Jews are righteous (i.e., saved) but that God will be true to his promises concerning them (see 3:3–4). Paul foresaw a future for Israel, even though she was for a time set aside. root. The patriarchs. branches. The Jewish people.

11:17 branches. Individual Jews. wild olive shoot. Gentile Christians. grafted in. The usual procedure was to insert a shoot or slip of a cultivated tree into a common or wild one. In vv. 17–24, however, the metaphor is used, "contrary to nature" (v. 24), of grafting a wild olive branch (the Gentiles) into the cultivated olive tree. Such a procedure is unnatural, which is precisely the point. Normally, such a graft would be unfruitful. olive root. The patriarchs. The whole olive tree represents the people of God.

11:18 the root supports you. The salvation of Gentile Christians is dependent on the Jews, especially the patriarchs (e.g., the Abrahamic covenant). See Jn 4:22.

11:19 Branches. Unbelieving Jews.

11:20 be afraid. On the fear of God see note on Ge 20:11; see also Pr 3:7; Php 2:12–13; Heb 4:1, "be careful"; 1Pe 1:17.

11:22 kindness and sternness of God. Any adequate doctrine of God must include these two elements. When we ignore his kindness, God seems a ruthless tyrant; when we ignore his sternness, he seems a doting Father.

11:23 God is able to graft them in again. Paul holds out hope for the Jews—God is able (see Mt 19:26; Mk 10:27; Lk 18:27).

11:24 contrary to nature. Paul recognized that such grafting was not commonly practiced (see note on v. 17). The inclusion of Gentiles in the family of God is "contrary to nature" (cf. Eph 2:12). Obviously, the reasoning in this verse is more theological than horticultural. It would be difficult horticulturally to graft broken branches back into the parent tree, but the Jews really "belong" (historically and theologically) to the parent tree. Thus they will "much more readily . . . be grafted into their own olive tree."

11:25 mystery. The so-called mystery religions of Paul's day used the Greek word (mysterion) in the sense of something that was to be revealed only to the initiated. Paul himself, however, used it to refer to something formerly hidden or obscure but now revealed by God for all to know and understand (see 16:25; 1Co 2:7; 4:1; 13:2; 14:2; 15:51; Eph 1:9; 3:3–4,9; 5:32; 6:19; Col 1:26–27; 2:2; 4:3; 2Th 2:7; 1Ti 3:9,16). The word is used of (1) the incarnation (1Ti 3:16; see note there), (2) the death of Christ (1Co 2:1, NIV text note; 2:7, "secret wisdom"), (3) God's purpose to sum up all things in Christ (Eph 1:9) and especially to include both Jews and Gentiles in the NT church (Eph 3:3–6), (4) the change that will take place at the resurrection (1Co 15:51), and (5) the plan of God by which both Jew and Gentile, after a period of disobedience by both, will by his mercy be included in his kingdom (v. 25). so that you may not be conceited. God's merciful plan to include the Gentiles in his great salvation plan should humble them, not fill them with arrogance. in part. Israel's hardening is partial, not total. until. Israel's hardening is temporary, not permanent. full number of the Gentiles. The total number of the elect Gentiles.

11:26 And so. An emphatic statement that this is the way all Israel will be saved. all Israel. Three main interpretations of this phrase are: (1) the total number of elect Jews of every generation (equivalent to the "fullness" of Israel [v. 12], which is analogous to the "fullness ['full number'] of the Gentiles" [v. 25]); (2) the total number of the elect, both Jews and Gentiles, of every generation; (3) the great majority of Jews of the final generation. will be saved. The salvation of the Jews will, of course, be on the same basis as anyone's salvation: personal faith in Jesus Christ, crucified and risen from the dead. The deliverer will come from Zion. The quotation is from Isa 59:20, where the deliverer ("Redeemer") seems to refer to God. The Talmud understood the text to be a reference to the Messiah, and Paul appears to use it in this way. Zion. See note on Gal 4:26.

11:27 covenant. The new covenant of Jer 31:31–34. when I take away their sins. See Jer 31:34; Zec 13:1. Just as salvation for Gentiles involves forgiveness of sins, so the Jews, when they are saved, are forgiven by the mercy of God—his forgiveness based only on their repentance and faith (see v. 23; Zec 12:10–13:1).

11:28 they are enemies. Only temporarily. on your account. Explained in v. 11. loved on account of the patriarchs. Not because any merit was passed on from the patriarchs to the Jewish people as a whole, but because God in love chose Israel and that choice was irrevocable.

11:29 God's gifts and his call are irrevocable. God does not change his mind with reference to his call. Even though Israel is presently in a state of unbelief, God's purpose will be fulfilled in her.

11:32 all men. Both groups under discussion (Jews and Gentiles). There has been a period of disobedience for each in order that God may have mercy on them all. Paul is in no way teaching universal salvation.

11:33–36 The doxology that ends this section of Romans is the natural outpouring of Paul's praise to God, whose wisdom and knowledge brought about his great plan for the salvation of both Jews and Gentiles.

12:1–16:27 Paul now turns to the practical application of all he has said previously in the letter. This does not mean that he has not said anything about Christian living up to this point. Chs. 6–8 have touched on this already, but now Paul goes into detail to show that Jesus Christ is to be Lord of every area of life. These chapters are not a postscript to the great theological discussions in chs. 1–11. In a real sense the entire letter has been directed toward the goal of showing that God demands our action as well as our believing and thinking. Faith expresses itself in obedience.

12:1 Therefore, I urge you. Paul draws an important inference from the truth set forth in chs. 1–11. God's mercy. Much of the letter has been concerned with demonstrating this. your bodies. See 6:13 and note. living sacrifices. In contrast to dead animal sacrifices, or perhaps "living" in the sense of having the new life of the Holy Spirit (see 6:4). spiritual act. Not merely ritual activity but the involvement of heart, mind and will. worship. Obedient service.

12:2 this world. With all its evil and corruption (see Gal 1:4). be transformed. Here a process, not a single event. The same word is used in the transfiguration narratives (Mt 17:2–8; Mk 9:2–8) and in 2Co 3:18. mind. Thought and will as they relate to morality (see 1:28). Then. After any longer to the pattern of this world,[i] but be transformed by the renewing of your mind.[j] Then you will be able to test and approve what God's will is[k]—his good, pleasing[l] and perfect will.

[3]For by the grace given me[m] I say to every one of you: Do not think of yourself more highly than you ought, but rather think of yourself with sober judgment, in accordance with the measure of faith God has given you. [4]Just as each of us has one body with many members, and these members do not all have the same function,[n] [5]so in Christ we who are many form one body,[o] and each member belongs to all the others. [6]We have different gifts,[p] according to the grace given us. If a man's gift is prophesying,[q] let him use it in proportion to his[y] faith.[r] [7]If it is serving, let him serve; if it is teaching, let him teach;[s] [8]if it is encouraging, let him encourage;[t] if it is contributing to the needs of others, let him give generously;[u] if it is leadership, let him govern diligently; if it is showing mercy, let him do it cheerfully.

[y]6 Or in agreement with the [z]16 Or willing to do measure of faith menial work

the spiritual transformation just described has taken place. God's will. What God wants from the believer here and now. good. That which leads to the spiritual and moral growth of the Christian. pleasing. To God, not necessarily to us. perfect. No improvement can be made on the will of God.

12:3 measure of faith. The power given by God to each believer to fulfill various ministries in the church (see vv. 4–8). God has given. Since the power comes from God, there can be no basis for a superior attitude or self-righteousness.

12:4–8 Paul likens Christians to members of a human body. There are many members and each has a different function, but all are needed for the health of the body. The emphasis is on unity within diversity (see 1Co 12:12–31).

12:5 in Christ. The key to Paul's concept of Christian unity. It is only in Jesus Christ that any unity in the church is possible. True unity is spiritually based. See note on 6:11.

12:6 gifts. Greek charismata, referring to special gifts of grace—freely given by God to his people to meet the needs of the body (see notes on 1Co 1:7; 12:4). prophesying. See note on 1Co 12:10. let him use it. There is to be no false modesty that denies the existence of gifts or refuses to use them. in proportion to his faith. Probably means about the same thing as "measure of faith" in v. 3 (see note there).

12:7 serving. Any kind of service needed by the body of Christ or by any of its members. teaching. See notes on 1Co 12:28; Eph 4:11.

12:8 encouraging. Exhorting others with an uplifting, cheerful call to worthwhile accomplishment. The teacher often carried out this function. In teaching, the believer is shown what he must do; in encouraging, he is helped to do it. contributing. Giving what is one's own, or possibly distributing what has been given by others. let him govern. Possibly a reference to an elder. The Ephesian church had elders by about this time (see Ac 20:17; 1Th 5:12; 1Ti 5:17). showing mercy. Caring for the sick, the poor and the aged. cheerfully. Serving the needy should be a delight, not a chore.

12:9 Love. The Christian's love for fellow Christians and perhaps also for his fellowman. sincere. True love, not pretense. In view of the preceding paragraph, with its emphasis on social concern, the love Paul speaks of here is not mere emotion but is active love.

12:10 brotherly love. Love within the family of God. Honor one another above yourselves. Only a mind renewed by the Holy Spirit (see v. 2) could possibly do this (see Php 2:3).

12:11 spiritual fervor. Lit. "fervent in spirit." If "spirit" means "Holy Spirit" here the reference would be to the fervor the Holy Spirit provides.

12:12 Be joyful in hope. The certainty of the Christian's hope is a cause for joy (see 5:5; see also 8:16–25; 1Pe 1:3–9). patient. Enduring triumphantly—necessary for a Christian, because affliction is his inevitable experience (see Jn 16:33). faithful in prayer. One must not only pray in hard times, but also maintain communion with God through prayer at all times (see Lk 18:1; 1Th 5:17).

12:13 Share with God's people. The Christian has social responsibility to all people, but especially to other believers (see Gal 6:10).

12:14 Bless those who persecute you. Paul is echoing Jesus' teaching in Mt 5:44; Lk 6:28.

12:15 Identification with others in their joys and in their sorrows is a Christian's privilege and responsibility.

12:17 Do not repay anyone evil for evil. See Mt 5:39–42,44–45; 1Th 5:15; 1Pe 3:9. Be careful to do what is right in the eyes of everybody. A possible reflection of Pr 3:4 in the Septuagint (the Greek translation of the OT). Christian conduct should never betray the high moral standards of the gospel, or it will provoke the disdain of unbelievers and bring the gospel into disrepute (see 2Co 8:21; 1Ti 3:7).

12:18 If it is possible . . . live at peace. Jesus pronounced a blessing on peacemakers (Mt 5:9), and believers are to cultivate peace with everyone to the exas it depends on you, live at peace with everyone.[l] 19Do not take revenge,[m] my friends, but leave room for God's wrath, for it is written: "It is mine to avenge; I will repay,"[an] says the Lord. 20On the contrary:

"If your enemy is hungry, feed him;
if he is thirsty, give him something to drink.
In doing this, you will heap burning coals on his head."[bo]

21Do not be overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good.

Submission to the Authorities

13 Everyone must submit himself to the governing authorities,[p] for there is no authority except that which God has established.[q] The authorities that exist have been established by God. 2Consequently, he who rebels against the authority is rebelling against what God has instituted,[r] and those who do so will bring judgment on themselves. 3For rulers hold no terror for those who do right, but for those who do wrong. Do you want to be free from fear of the one in authority? Then do what is right and he will commend you.[s] 4For he is God's servant to do you good. But if you do wrong, be afraid, for he does not bear the sword for nothing. He is God's servant, an agent of wrath to bring punishment on the wrongdoer.[t] 5Therefore, it is necessary to submit to the authorities, not only because of possible punishment but also because of conscience.[u]

6This is also why you pay taxes,[v] for the authorities are God's servants, who give their full time to governing. 7Give everyone what you owe him: If you owe taxes, pay taxes;[w] if revenue, then revenue; if respect, then respect; if honor, then honor.

Love, for the Day Is Near

8Let no debt remain outstanding, except the continuing debt to love one another, for he who loves his fellowman has fulfilled the law.[x] 9The commandments, "Do not commit adultery," "Do not murder," "Do not steal," "Do not covet,"[cy] and whatever other commandment there may be, are summed up[z] in this one rule: "Love your neighbor as yourself."[da] 10Love does no harm to its neighbor. Therefore love is the fulfillment of the law.[b]

11And do this, understanding the present time. The hour has come[c] for you to wake up from your slumber,[d] because our salvation is nearer now than when we first believed. 12The night is tent that it depends on them.

12:20 heap burning coals on his head. Doing good to one's enemy (v. 21), instead of trying to take revenge, may bring about his repentance (see note on Pr 25:22).

13:1 submit. A significant word in vv. 1–7. governing authorities. The civil rulers, all of whom were probably pagans at the time Paul was writing. Christians may have been tempted not to submit to them and to claim allegiance only to Christ. established by God. Even the possibility of a persecuting state did not shake Paul's conviction that civil government is ordained by God.

13:2 judgment. Either divine judgment or, more likely, punishment by the governing authorities, since v. 3 ("For") explains this verse; see also v. 4.

13:3 do what is right and he will commend you. Paul is not stating that this will always be true but is describing the proper, ideal function of rulers. When civil rulers overstep their proper function, the Christian is to obey God rather than man (see Ac 4:19; 5:29).

13:4 he is God's servant. In the order of divine providence the ruler is God's servant (see Isa 45:1). good. Rulers exist for the benefit of society—to protect the general public by maintaining good order. the sword. The symbol of Roman authority on both the national and the international levels. Here we find the Biblical principle of using force for the maintenance of good order.

13:5 because of conscience. Civil authorities are ordained by God, and in order to maintain a good conscience Christians must duly honor them.

13:6 you pay taxes. Because rulers are God's agents, who function for the benefit of society in general.

13:8 continuing debt. To love is the one debt that is never paid off. No matter how much one has loved, he is under obligation to keep on loving. one another. Includes not only fellow Christians but all people, as the second half of the verse makes clear ("fellowman"). the law. The Mosaic law, which lays down both moral and social responsibilities.

13:9 Further explains the last statement of v. 8, namely, that love of neighbor encompasses all our social responsibilities. your neighbor. Jesus taught that our neighbor is anyone in need (see Lk 10:25–37), which is probably the idea Paul has in mind here. as yourself. Not a command to love ourselves but a recognition of the fact that we naturally do so.

13:11–14 In this section, as in other NT passages, the certain coming of the end of the present age is used to provide motivation for godly living (see, e.g., Mt 25:31–46; Mk 13:33–37; Jas 5:7–11; 2Pe 3:11–14).

13:11 present time. The time of salvation, the closing period of the present age, before the consummation of the kingdom. The hour. The time for action. our salvation. The full realization of salvation at the second coming of Jesus Christ (see 8:23; Heb 9:28; 1Pe 1:5). is nearer now. Every day brings us closer to the second advent of Christ.

13:12 The night. The present evil age. is nearly over; the day is almost here. A clear example of the NT teaching of the "nearness" of the end times (see Mt 24:33; 1Co 7:29; Php 4:5; Jas 5:8–9; 1Pe 4:7; 1Jn 2:18). These texts do not mean that the early Christians believed that Jesus would return within a few years (and thus were mistaken). Rather, they regarded the death and resurrection of Christ as the crucial events of history that began the last days. Since the next great event in God's redemptive plan is the second coming of Jesus Christ, "the night," no matter how long chronologically it may last, is "nearly over." the day.

nearly over; the day is almost here.[e] So let us put aside the deeds of darkness[f] and put on the armor[g] of light. 13Let us behave decently, as in the daytime, not in orgies and drunkenness,[h] not in sexual immorality and debauchery, not in dissension and jealousy.[i] 14Rather, clothe yourselves with the Lord Jesus Christ,[j] and do not think about how to gratify the desires of the sinful nature.[e k]

The Weak and the Strong

14 Accept him whose faith is weak,[l] without passing judgment on disputable matters. 2One man's faith allows him to eat everything, but another man, whose faith is weak, eats only vegetables.[m] 3The man who eats everything must not look down on[n] him who does not, and the man who does not eat everything must not condemn[o] the man who does, for God has accepted him. 4Who are you to judge someone else's servant?[p] To his own master he stands or falls. And he will stand, for the Lord is able to make him stand.

5One man considers one day more sacred than another;[q] another man considers every day alike. Each one should be fully convinced in his own mind. 6He who regards one day as special, does so to the Lord. He who eats meat, eats to the Lord, for he gives thanks to God;[r] and he who abstains, does so to the Lord and gives thanks to God. 7For none of us lives to himself alone[s] and none of us dies to himself alone. 8If we live, we live to the Lord; and if we die, we die to the Lord. So, whether we live or die, we belong to the Lord.[t]

9For this very reason, Christ died and returned to life[u] so that he might be the Lord of both the dead and the living.[v] 10You, then, why do you judge your brother? Or why do you look down on[w] your brother? For we will all stand before God's judgment seat.[x] 11It is written:

" 'As surely as I live,'[y] says the Lord,
'every knee will bow before me;
every tongue will confess to God.' "[fz]

12So then, each of us will give an account of himself to God.[a]

13Therefore let us stop passing judgment[b] on one another. Instead, make up your mind not to put any stumbling block or obstacle in your brother's way.[c] 14As one who is in the Lord Jesus, I am fully convinced that no

[e]14 Or the flesh [f]11 Isaiah 45:23

The appearing of Jesus Christ, which ushers in the consummation of the kingdom.

13:14 clothe yourselves with the Lord Jesus Christ. See Gal 3:27. Paul exhorts believers to display outwardly what has already taken place inwardly—including practicing all the virtues associated with Christ.

14:1 whose faith is weak. Probably Jewish Christians at Rome who were unwilling to give up the observance of certain requirements of the law, such as dietary restrictions and the keeping of the Sabbath and other special days. Their concern was not quite the same as that of the Judaizers of Galatia. The Judaizers thought they could put God in their debt by works of righteousness and were trying to force this heretical teaching on the Galatian churches, but the "weak" Roman Christians did neither. They were not yet clear as to the status of OT regulations under the new covenant inaugurated by the coming of Christ. without passing judgment on disputable matters. Fellowship among Christians is not to be based on everyone's agreement on disputable questions. Christians do not agree on all matters pertaining to the Christian life, nor do they need to.

14:2 One man's faith. In contrast, Paul now describes the "strong" Christian. Here faith is used in the sense of assurance or confidence. The strong Christian's understanding of the gospel allows him to recognize that one's diet has no spiritual significance.

14:4 someone else's. God's. A Christian must not reject a fellow Christian, who is also a servant of God. To his own master he stands or falls. The "weak" Christian is not the master of his "strong" brother, nor is the "strong" the master of the "weak." God is Master, and to him alone all believers are responsible.

14:5 one day more sacred than another. Some feel that this refers primarily to the Sabbath, but it is probably a reference to all the special days of the OT ceremonial law. considers every day alike. All days are to be dedicated to God through holy living and godly service. fully convinced in his own mind. The importance of personal conviction in disputable matters of conduct runs through this passage (see vv. 14,16,22–23).

14:6 The motivation behind the actions of both the strong and the weak is to be the same: Both should want to serve the Lord and give thanks for his provision.

14:7 none of us lives to himself alone. The reference is to "us" Christians. We do not live to please ourselves but the Lord. none of us dies to himself alone. Even in death the important thing is one's relationship to the Lord. Paul repeats the truths of this verse in v. 8.

14:9 Lord. See note on 10:9. Christ's Lordship over both the dead and the living arises out of his death and resurrection.

14:10 why do you judge your brother? Addressed to weak Christians. why do you look down on your brother? Addressed to strong Christians. we will all. Refers to every Christian. God's judgment seat. All Christians will be judged, and the judgment will be based on works (see 2Co 5:10; cf. 1Co 3:10–15).

14:13 Instead. The words that immediately follow are addressed to strong Christians. obstacle. Something that causes one to fall into sin.

14:14 As one who is in the Lord Jesus, I am fully convinced. Now that Paul was a Christian, the old food taboos no longer applied (see Mt 15:10–11,16–20; Mk 7:14–23). no food is unclean in itself. For Paul's teaching elsewhere on this subject see 1Ti 4:4; Tit 1:15. if anyone regards something as unclean, then for him it is unclean. Not to be generalized to mean that sin is only a matter of subjective opinion or conscience. Paul is not discussing conduct that in the light of Scripture is clearly sinful, but conduct concerning which Christians may legitimately differ (in this case, food regulations). With regard to such food[g] is unclean in itself.[d] But if anyone regards something as unclean, then for him it is unclean.[e] 15If your brother is distressed because of what you eat, you are no longer acting in love.[f] Do not by your eating destroy your brother for whom Christ died.[g] 16Do not allow what you consider good to be spoken of as evil.[h] 17For the kingdom of God is not a matter of eating and drinking,[i] but of righteousness, peace[j] and joy in the Holy Spirit,[k] 18because anyone who serves Christ in this way is pleasing to God and approved by men.[l]

19Let us therefore make every effort to do what leads to peace[m] and to mutual edification.[n] 20Do not destroy the work of God for the sake of food.[o] All food is clean,[p] but it is wrong for a man to eat anything that causes someone else to stumble.[q] 21It is better not to eat meat or drink wine or to do anything else that will cause your brother to fall.[r]

22So whatever you believe about these things keep between yourself and God. Blessed is the man who does not condemn[s] himself by what he approves. 23But the man who has doubts[t] is condemned if he eats, because his eating is not from faith; and everything that does not come from faith is sin.

15 We who are strong ought to bear with the failings of the weak[a] and not to please ourselves. 2Each of us should please his neighbor for his good,[v] to build him up.[w] 3For even Christ did not please himself[x] but, as it is written: "The insults of those who insult you have fallen on me."[hy] 4For everything that was written in the past was written to teach us,[z] so that through endurance and the encouragement of the Scriptures we might have hope.

5May the God who gives endurance and encouragement give you a spirit of unity[a] among yourselves as you follow Christ Jesus, 6so that with one heart and mouth you may glorify[b] the God and Father[c] of our Lord Jesus Christ.

7Accept one another,[d] then, just as Christ accepted you, in order to bring praise to God. 8For I tell you that Christ has become a servant of the Jews[ie] on behalf of God's truth, to confirm the promises[f] made to the patriarchs 9so that the Gentiles[g] may glorify God[h] for his mercy, as it is written:

matters, decisions should be guided by conscience.

14:15 love. The key to proper settlement of disputes. your brother for whom Christ died. Christ so valued the weak brother as to die for him. Surely the strong Christian ought to be willing to make adjustments in his own behavior for the sake of such brothers.

14:16 what you consider good. From your own understanding of Christian liberty. to be spoken of as evil. To exercise freedom without responsibility can lead to evil results.

14:17 kingdom of God. See notes on Mt 3:2; Lk 4:43. is not a matter of eating and drinking. To be concerned with such trivial matters is to miss completely the essence of Christian living. righteousness. Righteous living. Paul's concern for the moral and ethical dimension of the Christian life stands out in all his letters. peace. See 5:1 and note. joy in the Holy Spirit. Joy given by the Holy Spirit.

14:19 mutual edification. The spiritual building up of individual Christians and of the church (see 1:11–12).

14:20 work of God. The weak Christian brother who as a redeemed person is God's work and in whom God continues to work (cf. Eph 2:10). causes someone else to stumble. Paul recognizes a strong Christian's right to certain freedoms, but qualifies it with the principle of regard for a weak brother's scruples.

14:22 keep between yourself and God. The strong Christian is not required to go against his convictions or change his standards. Yet he is not to flaunt his Christian freedom but keep it a private matter. what he approves. Probably a reference to the eating of certain foods.

14:23 everything. The matters discussed above, namely, conduct about which there can be legitimate differences of opinion between Christians.

15:1 We who are strong. Paul identifies himself with the strong Christians, those whose personal convictions allow them more freedom than the weak. to bear. Not merely to tolerate or put up with but to uphold lovingly. failings. Not sins, since in the matters under discussion there is no clear guidance in Scripture. not to please ourselves. Not that a Christian should never please himself, but that he should not insist on doing what he wants without regard to the scruples of other Christians.

15:3 Christ did not please himself. He came to do the will of the Father, not his own will. This involved suffering and even death (see Mt 20:28; Mk 10:45; 1Co 10:33–11:1; 2Co 8:9; Php 2:5–8). The insults of those who insult you have fallen on me. In the psalm quoted (69:9) "you" refers to God and "me" refers to the righteous sufferer, whom Paul identifies with Christ. The quotation serves to show how Christ did not please himself, but voluntarily bore man's hostility toward God.

15:4 Here Paul defends his application of Ps 69:9 to Christ. In so doing, he states a great truth concerning the purpose of Scripture: It was written for our instruction, so that as we patiently endure we might be encouraged to hold fast our hope in Christ (see 1Co 10:6,11).

15:5 a spirit of unity among yourselves. Not that believers should all come to the same conclusions on the matters of conscience discussed above, but that they might agree to disagree in love.

15:7 just as Christ accepted you. See 14:3,4,15.

15:8 Christ has become a servant of the Jews. Clearly revealed in his earthly ministry. He was sent to the Jewish people and largely limited his ministry to them (see Mt 15:24). God gave a special priority, so far as the gospel is concerned, to the Jews (see 3:1–8). promises made to the patriarchs. The covenant promises made to Abraham (Ge 12:1–3; 17:7; 18:19; 22:18), Isaac (Ge 26:3–4) and Jacob (Ge 28:13–15; 46:2–4).

15:9 so that the Gentiles may glorify God. From the beginning, God's redemptive work in and for Israel had in view the redemption of the Gentiles (see Ge 12:3). They would both see God's mighty and gracious acts for his people and hear the praises of God's people as they

"Therefore I will praise you among the Gentiles;
I will sing hymns to your name."[j][i]

[10]Again, it says,

"Rejoice, O Gentiles, with his people."[k][j]

[11]And again,

"Praise the Lord, all you Gentiles, and sing praises to him, all you peoples."[l][k]

[12]And again, Isaiah says,

"The Root of Jesse[l] will spring up, one who will arise to rule over the nations;
the Gentiles will hope in him."[m][m]

[13]May the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace[n] as you trust in him, so that you may overflow with hope by the power of the Holy Spirit.[o]

Paul the Minister to the Gentiles

[14]I myself am convinced, my brothers, that you yourselves are full of goodness,[p] complete in knowledge[q] and competent to instruct one another. [15]I have written you quite boldly on some points, as if to remind you of them again, because of the grace God gave me[r] [16]to be a minister of Christ Jesus to the Gentiles[s] with the priestly duty of proclaiming the gospel of God,[t] so that the Gentiles might become an offering[u] acceptable to God, sanctified by the Holy Spirit.

[17]Therefore I glory in Christ Jesus[v] in my service to God.[w] [18]I will not venture to speak of anything except what Christ has accomplished through me in leading the Gentiles[x] to obey God[y] by what I have said and done— [19]by the power of signs and miracles,[z] through the power of the Spirit.[a] So from Jerusalem[b] all the way around to Illyricum, I have fully proclaimed the gospel of Christ.[c] [20]It has always been my ambition to preach the gospel[d] where Christ was not known, so that I would not be building on someone else's foundation.[e] [21]Rather, as it is written:

"Those who were not told about him will see,
and those who have not heard will understand."[n][f]

[22]This is why I have often been hindered from coming to you.[g]

Paul's Plan to Visit Rome

[23]But now that there is no more place for me to work in these regions, and since I have been longing for many years to see you,[h] [24]I plan to do so when I go to Spain.[i] I hope to visit you while passing through and to have you assist[j] me on my journey there, after I have enjoyed your company for a while. celebrated what God had done for them (a common theme in the Psalms; see Paul's quotations in vv. 9b–12 and note on Ps 9:1). Thus they would come to know the true God and glorify him for his mercy (see notes on Ps 46:10; 47:9). God's greatest and climactic act for Israel's salvation was the sending of the Messiah to fulfill the promises made to the patriarchs and so to gather in the great harvest of the Gentiles.

15:12 Root of Jesse. Jesse was the father of David (see 1Sa 16:5–13; Mt 1:6), and the Messiah was the "Son of David" (Mt 21:9). See Isa 11:1; Rev 5:5. Gentiles will hope in him. The Gentile mission of the early church was a fulfillment of this prophecy, as is the continuing evangelization of the nations.

15:13 God of hope. Any hope the Christian has comes from God. See note on 5:5. by the power of the Holy Spirit. Hope cannot be conjured up by man's effort; it is God's gift by his Spirit (see 8:24–25).

15:15 as if to remind you of them again. Since Paul had never preached or taught in Rome, he may be referring to Christian doctrine generally known in the church.

15:16 minister of Christ Jesus to the Gentiles. See note on 11:13. priestly duty of proclaiming the gospel. Paul's priestly function was different from that of the Levitical priests. They were involved with the rituals of the temple, whereas he preached the gospel. an offering acceptable to God, sanctified by the Holy Spirit. The offering Paul brought to God was the Gentile church.

15:17 I glory. Paul was not boasting of his own achievements but of what Christ had accomplished through him.

15:19 signs and miracles. See Ac 14:8–10; 16:16–18,25–26; 20:9–12; 28:8–9; 2Co 12:12; Heb 2:3–4. from Jerusalem. The home of the mother church, where the gospel originated and its dissemination began (see Ac 1:8). Illyricum. A Roman province north of Macedonia (present-day Albania and Yugoslavia). Acts mentions nothing of his ministry there, and perhaps all he means is that he reached the border. I have fully proclaimed the gospel. Not everyone had heard the gospel in the eastern Mediterranean, but Paul believed that his work there had been completed and it was time to move on to other places.

15:22 hindered from coming to you. Paul's great desire to complete the missionary task in the eastern Mediterranean had prevented him from making a trip to Rome.

15:23 no more place for me to work. Because of the principle stated in v. 20. longing for many years to see you. See 1:11–15.

15:24 to have you assist me on my journey there. Paul wanted to use the Roman church as a base of operations for a mission to Spain. enjoyed your company for a while. More than a quick stop at Rome was contemplated (see 1:11–12).

15:25 in the service of the saints there. Paul wanted to present the gift (see v. 26) personally to the Jerusalem church. The gift needed interpretation. It was not merely money; it represented the love and concern of the Gentile churches for their Jewish brothers and sisters. saints. Refers generally to believers in Jesus Christ (see note on 1:7).

there. 26For Macedonia[n] and Achaia[o] were pleased to make a contribution for the poor among the saints in Jerusalem.[p] 27They were pleased to do it, and indeed they owe it to them. For if the Gentiles have shared in the Jews' spiritual blessings, they owe it to the Jews to share with them their material blessings.[q] 28So after I have completed this task and have made sure that they have received this fruit, I will go to Spain[r] and visit you on the way. 29I know that when I come to you,[s] I will come in the full measure of the blessing of Christ.

30I urge you, brothers, by our Lord Jesus Christ and by the love of the Spirit,[t] to join me in my struggle by praying to God for me.[u] 31Pray that I may be rescued[v] from the unbelievers in Judea and that my service[w] in Jerusalem may be acceptable to the saints[x] there, 32so that by God's will[y] I may come to you[z] with joy and together with you be refreshed.[a] 33The God of peace[b] be with you all. Amen.

Personal Greetings

16 I commend[c] to you our sister Phoebe, a servant[o] of the church in Cenchrea.[d] 2I ask you to receive her in the Lord[e] in a way worthy of the saints[f] and to give her any help she may need from you, for she has been a great help to many people, including me.

3Greet Priscilla[p] and Aquila,[g] my fellow workers[h] in Christ Jesus.[i] 4They risked their lives for me. Not only I but all the churches of the Gentiles are grateful to them.

5Greet also the church that meets at their house.[j]

Greet my dear friend Epenetus, who was the first convert[k] to Christ in the province of Asia.[l]

6Greet Mary, who worked very hard for you.

7Greet Andronicus and Junias, my relatives[m] who have been in prison with me.[n] They are outstanding among the apostles, and they were in Christ[o] before I was.

8Greet Ampliatus, whom I love in the Lord.

9Greet Urbanus, our fellow worker in Christ,[p] and my dear friend Stachys.

10Greet Apelles, tested and approved in Christ.[q]

Greet those who belong to the household[r] of Aristobulus.

11Greet Herodion, my relative.[s]

Greet those in the household[t] of Narcissus who are in the Lord.

12Greet Tryphena and Tryphosa, those women who work hard in the Lord.

Greet my dear friend Persis, another woman who has worked very hard in the Lord.

13Greet Rufus,[u] chosen[v] in the Lord, and his mother, who has been a mother to me, too.

14Greet Asyncritus, Phlegon, Hermes, Patrobas, Hermas and the brothers with them.

15Greet Philologus, Julia, Nereus and his sister, and Olympas and all the saints[w] with them.[x]

15:33 God of peace. See notes on 5:1; 1Th 5:23.
16:1 our sister. In the sense of being a fellow believer. Phoebe. Probably the carrier of the letter to Rome. servant. See NIV text note; one who serves or ministers in any way. When church related, as it is here, it probably refers to a specific office—woman deacon or deaconess. Cenchrea. A port located about six miles east of Corinth on the Saronic Gulf.
16:3 Priscilla and Aquila. Close friends of Paul who worked in the same trade of tentmaking (see Ac 18:2–3).
16:4 risked their lives for me. There is no other record of this in the NT or elsewhere, but it must have been widely known, as the last part of the verse indicates.
16:6 Mary. Six persons are known by this name in the NT. This one is unknown apart from this reference.
16:7 Junias. A feminine name. among the apostles. Two interpretations are given: 1. "Apostles" is used in a wider sense than the Twelve—to include preachers of the gospel recognized by the churches (see Ac 14:4,14; 1Th 2:6). 2. "Apostles" is preceded by the definite article, which may indicate that the Twelve are in view. In this case, the meaning would be that these two persons were outstanding "in the opinion of" the apostles.
16:8–10 Ampliatus ... Urbanus ... Stachys ... Apelles. All common slave names found in the imperial household.
16:10 Aristobulus. Perhaps refers to the grandson of Herod the Great and brother of Herod Agrippa I.
16:11 my relative. Perhaps a reference to his being a Jew. Narcissus. Sometimes identified with Tiberius Claudius Narcissus, a wealthy freedman of the Roman emperor Tiberius.
16:12 Tryphena and Tryphosa. Perhaps sisters, even twins, because it was common for such persons to be given names from the same root. Persis. Means "Persian woman."
16:14–15 None of these persons can be further identified, except that they were slaves or freedmen in the Roman church.

16 Greet one another with a holy kiss.[y]
All the churches of Christ send greetings.

17 I urge you, brothers, to watch out for those who cause divisions and put obstacles in your way that are contrary to the teaching you have learned.[z] Keep away from them.[a] 18 For such people are not serving our Lord Christ,[b] but their own appetites.[c] By smooth talk and flattery they deceive[d] the minds of naive people. 19 Everyone has heard[e] about your obedience, so I am full of joy over you; but I want you to be wise about what is good, and innocent about what is evil.[f]

20 The God of peace[g] will soon crush[h] Satan[i] under your feet.

The grace of our Lord Jesus be with you.[j]

21 Timothy,[k] my fellow worker, sends his greetings to you, as do Lucius,[l] Jason[m] and Sosipater, my relatives.[n]

22 I, Tertius, who wrote down this letter, greet you in the Lord.

16:16 holy kiss. See 1Co 16:20; 2Co 13:12; 1Th 5:26; 1Pe 5:14. Justin Martyr (A.D. 150) tells us that the holy kiss was a regular part of the worship service in his day. It is still a practice in some churches.

16:17–20 A theological application of the story of man's fall (Ge 3).

16:17 those who cause divisions and put obstacles in your way. Who these people were we cannot tell, but some of their characteristics are mentioned in v. 18.

16:19 wise about what is good. Christians are to be experts in doing good.

16:20 God of peace. See 15:33. will soon crush Satan. A reference to Satan's final doom (cf. Ge 3:15). For "soon" see note on 13:12.

16:21 Jason. Possibly the Jason mentioned in Ac 17:5–9. Sosipater. Probably Sopater son of Pyrrhus from Berea (see Ac 20:4).

16:22 I, Tertius, who wrote down this letter. Not mentioned elsewhere in the NT. He had functioned as Paul's secretary.

16:23 Gaius. Usually identified with Titius Justus, a God-fearer, in whose house Paul stayed while in Corinth (see Ac 18:7; 1Co 1:14). His full name would be Gaius Titius Justus. here. In Corinth. Erastus. At Corinth archaeologists have discovered a reused block of stone in a paved square, with the Latin inscription: "Erastus, commissioner of public works, bore the expense of this pavement." This may refer to the Erastus mentioned here. If it does, it is the earliest reference to a Christian by name outside the NT. He may also be the same person referred to in Ac 19:22 and 2Ti 4:20, though it is difficult to be certain because the name was fairly common. Quartus. Means "fourth (son)."

16:24 See NIV text note on v. 23.

16:25 my gospel. Not a gospel different from that preached by others, but a gospel Paul received by direct revelation (see Gal 1:12). proclamation of Jesus Christ. A description of the gospel; it is about Jesus Christ, who is its content. mystery. See note on 11:25. for long ages. From eternity past (see 1Co 2:6–10).

16:26 revealed and made known through the prophetic writings. See 1:2. all nations. The universality of the gospel (see Mt 28:19).

16:27 to . . . God be glory. The ultimate purpose of all things.

1 Corinthians

Author and Date

Paul is acknowledged as the author both by the letter itself (1:1–2; 16:21) and by the early church fathers. His authorship was attested by Clement of Rome as early as A.D. 96, and today practically all NT scholars concur. The letter was written c. 55 toward the close of Paul's three-year residency in Ephesus (see 16:5–9; Ac 20:31). It is clear from his reference to staying at Ephesus until Pentecost (16:8) that he intended to remain there somewhat less than a year when he wrote 1 Corinthians.

The City of Corinth

It has been estimated that in Paul's day Corinth had a population of about 250,000 free persons, plus as many as 400,000 slaves. In a number of ways it was the chief city of Greece.

1. Its commerce. Located just off the Corinthian isthmus, it was a crossroads for travelers and traders. It had two harbors: (1) Cenchrea, six miles to the east on the Saronic Gulf, and (2) Lechaion, a mile and a half to the west on the Corinthian Gulf. Goods flowed across the isthmus on the Diolkos, a road by which smaller ships could be hauled fully loaded across the isthmus, and by which cargoes of larger ships could be transported by wagons from one side to the other. Goods flowed through the city from Italy and Spain to the west and from Asia Minor, Phoenicia and Egypt to the east.

2. Its culture. Although Corinth was not a university town like Athens, it was characterized nevertheless by typical Greek culture. Its people were interested in Greek philosophy and placed a high premium on wisdom.

3. Its religion. Corinth contained at least 12 temples. Whether they were all in use during Paul's time is not known for certain. One of the most infamous was the temple dedicated to Aphrodite, the goddess of love, whose worshipers practiced religious prostitution. About a fourth of a mile north of the theater stood the temple of Asclepius, the god of healing, and in the middle of the city the sixth-century B.C. temple of Apollo was located. In addition, the Jews had established a synagogue; the inscribed lintel of it has been found and placed in the museum at old Corinth.

4. Its immorality. Like any large commercial city, Corinth was a center for open and unbridled immorality. The worship of Aphrodite fostered prostitution in the name of religion. At one time 1,000 sacred prostitutes served her temple. So widely known did the immorality of Corinth become that the Greek verb "to Corinthianize" came to mean "to practice sexual immorality." In a setting like this it is no wonder that the Corinthian church was plagued with numerous problems.

Occasion and Purpose

Paul had received information from several sources concerning the conditions existing in the church at Corinth. Some members of the household of Chloe had informed him of the factions that had developed in the church (1:11). There were three individuals—Stephanas, Fortunatus and Achaicus—who had come to Paul in Ephesus to make some contribution to his ministry (16:17), but whether these were the ones from Chloe's household we do not know.

Some of those who had come had brought disturbing information concerning moral irregularities in the church (chs. 5—6). Immorality had plagued the Corinthian assembly almost from the beginning. From 5:9–10 it is apparent that Paul had written previously concerning moral laxness. He had urged believers "not to associate with sexually immoral people" (5:9). Because of misunderstanding he now finds it necessary to clarify his instruction (5:10–11) and to urge immediate and drastic action (5:3–5,13).

Other Corinthian visitors had brought a letter from the church that requested counsel on several subjects (see 7:1; cf. 8:1; 12:1; 16:1).

It is clear that, although the church was gifted (see 1:4–7), it was immature and unspiritual (3:1–4). Paul's purposes for writing were: (1) to instruct and restore the church in its areas of weakness, correcting erroneous practices such as divisions (1:10—4:21), immorality (ch. 5; 6:12–20), litigation in pagan courts (6:1–8) and abuse of the Lord's Supper (11:17–34); (2) to correct false teaching concerning the resurrection (ch. 15); and (3) to give instruction concerning the offering for poverty-stricken believers in Jerusalem (16:1–4).

Theme

The letter revolves around the theme of problems in Christian conduct in the church. It thus has to do with progressive sanctification, the continuing development of holiness of character. Obviously Paul was personally concerned with the Corinthians' problems, revealing a true pastor's (shepherd's) heart.

Corinth in the Time of Paul

The city of Corinth, perched like a one-eyed Titan astride the narrow isthmus connecting the Greek mainland with the Peloponnese, was one of the dominant commercial centers of the Hellenic world as early as the eighth century B.C.

No city in Greece was more favorably situated for land and sea trade. With a high, strong citadel at its back, it lay between the Saronic Gulf and the Ionian Sea and ports at Lechaion and Cenchrea. A diolkos, or stone tramway for the overland transport of ships, linked the two seas. Crowning the Acrocorinth was the temple of Aphrodite, served, according to Strabo, by more than 1,000 pagan priestess-prostitutes.

By the time the gospel reached Corinth in the spring of A.D. 52, the city had a proud history of leadership in the Achaian League, and a spirit of revived Hellenism under Roman domination following the destruction of the city by Mummius in 146 B.C.

Paul's lengthy stay in Corinth brought him directly in contact with the major monuments of the agora, many of which still survive. The fountain-house of the spring Peirene, the temple of Apollo, the macellum or meat market (ICo 10:25) and the theater, the bema (Ac 18:12), and the unimpressive synagogue all played a part in the experience of the apostle. An inscription from the theater names the city official Erastus, probably the friend of Paul mentioned in Ro 16:23.

Relevance

This letter is timely for the church today, both to instruct and to inspire. Most of the questions and problems that confronted the church at Corinth are still very much with us—problems like immaturity, instability, divisions, jealousy and envy, lawsuits, marital difficulties, sexual immorality and misuse of spiritual gifts. Yet in spite of this concentration on problems, the book contains some of the most familiar and beloved chapters in the entire Bible—e.g., ch. 13 (on love) and ch. 15 (on resurrection).

1 Paul, called to be an apostle[a] of Christ Jesus by the will of God,[b] and our brother Sosthenes,[c]

2To the church of God[d] in Corinth,[e] to those sanctified in Christ Jesus and called[f] to be holy, together with all those everywhere who call on the name[g] of our Lord Jesus Christ—their Lord and ours:

3Grace and peace to you from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.[h]

Thanksgiving

4I always thank God for you[i] because of his grace given you in Christ Jesus. 5For in him you have been enriched[j] in every way—in all your speaking and in all your knowledge[k]— 6because our testimony[l] about Christ was confirmed in you. 7Therefore you do not lack any spiritual gift[m] as you eagerly wait for our Lord Jesus Christ to be revealed.[n] 8He will keep you strong to the end, so that you will be blameless[o] on the day of our Lord Jesus Christ.[p] 9God, who has called you[q] into fellowship with his Son Jesus Christ our Lord,[r] is faithful.[s]

Divisions in the Church

10I appeal to you, brothers,[t] in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that all of you agree with one another so that there may be no divisions among you[u] and that you may be perfectly united[v] in mind and thought. 11My brothers, some from Chloe's household[w] have informed me that there are quarrels among you. 12What I mean is this: One of you says, "I follow Paul";[x] another, "I follow Apollos";[y] another, "I follow Cephas[a]";[z] still another, "I follow Christ."

13Is Christ divided? Was Paul crucified for you? Were you baptized into[b] the name of Paul?[a] 14I am thankful that I did not baptize any of you except Crispus[b] and Gaius,[c] 15so no one can say that you were baptized into my name. 16(Yes, I also baptized the household[d] of Stephanas;[e] beyond that, I don't remember if I baptized anyone else.) 17For Christ did not send me to baptize,[f] but to preach the gospel—not with words of human wisdom,[g] lest the cross of Christ be emptied of its power.

Christ the Wisdom and Power of God

[a] 12 That is, Peter [b] 13 Or in; also in verse 15

1:1 Paul. The Greek custom was to begin a letter with the writer's name. For more information on Paul see notes on Ac 9:1; Php 3:4–14. apostle of Christ Jesus. See notes on Mk 6:30; Heb 3:1. Paul uses this title in all his letters (except Philippians, 1,2 Thessalonians and Philemon) to establish his authority as Christ's messenger—an authority that had been challenged (see ch. 9; 2Co 11). He reinforces his authority by adding "by the will of God," i.e., by divine initiative. Sosthenes. Perhaps the synagogue ruler at Corinth who was assaulted by the Greeks (Ac 18:17). If so, he obviously became a Christian—possibly while Paul was preaching at Corinth (Ac 18:18) or during Apollos's ministry there (Ac 19:1).

1:2 church of God. Used only by Paul and only in Ac 20:28, here and 2Co 1:1. Its OT counterpart is the expression "assembly (or community) of the LORD" (see Dt 23:1; see also Nu 16:3; 20:4; 1Ch 28:8). sanctified. Set apart for the Lord. It can also mean "made holy," which is done by (1) being declared holy through faith in Christ's atoning death on the cross (sometimes called positional sanctification), and (2) being made holy by the work of the Holy Spirit in the lives of Christians (sometimes called progressive sanctification). In spite of the fact that Paul found much in the Corinthian Christians to criticize, he still called them "sanctified"—not because of their conduct, but because of their relationship to Christ (positional sanctification).

1:3 Grace and peace. See notes on Jnh 4:2; Jn 14:27; 20:19; Gal 1:3; Eph 1:2.

1:4 thank. See Ro 1:8.

1:5 speaking and . . . knowledge. Gifts of the Spirit (see 12:8; also 2Co 8:7).

1:6 confirmed. Paul's preaching about Christ had been accepted by the Corinthians, and they had proved it to be true.

1:7 any spiritual gift. Probably refers to the spiritual gifts of chs. 12–14. According to those chapters, a spiritual gift is a manifestation of the Holy Spirit enabling one to minister to the needs of Christ's body, the church (see 12:7–11; 14:3,12,17). The Greek word used here stresses that it is a gift of grace.

1:8 He. God the Father. the end. Of the age, when Christ comes again. on the day of our Lord Jesus Christ. When he returns (v. 7; Php 1:6).

1:9 God . . . is faithful. He may be trusted to do what he has promised (1Th 5:24), namely, to keep believers "strong to the end" (v. 8).

1:10 brothers. In Christ believers have a unity similar to that of blood brothers and sisters. Paul is referring to both men and women (see 16:20; Ro 16:3,6–7, 12–13,15).

1:11 quarrels. See Gal 5:20; Jas 4:1–2.

1:12 Apollos. He had carried on a fruitful ministry in Corinth (Ac 18:24–28; 19:1). Cephas. See NIV text notes here and on Jn 1:42. It has been suggested that those who followed Peter in Corinth were Jewish Christians.

1:13 Is Christ divided? See 12:12–13. into the name of Paul. Implies becoming a follower or intimate associate.

1:16 household. Other examples of households being baptized are those of Cornelius (Ac 10:24, 48), Lydia (Ac 16:15) and the Philippian jailer (Ac 16:33–34). The term may include family members, servants or anyone who lived in the house. Stephanas. See 16:15,17.

1:17 not . . . to baptize. Paul is not minimizing baptism; rather, he is asserting that his God-given task was primarily to preach. Jesus (Jn 4:2) and Peter (Ac 10:48) also had others baptize for them. words of human wisdom. Lit. "wisdom of speech." Paul's mission was not to couch the gospel in the language of the trained orator, who had studied the techniques of influencing people by persuasive arguments.

but to us who are being saved[j] it is the power of God.[k] [19]For it is written:

"I will destroy the wisdom of the wise;
the intelligence of the intelligent I will frustrate."[c][l]

[20]Where is the wise man?[m] Where is the scholar? Where is the philosopher of this age?[n] Has not God made foolish[o] the wisdom of the world? [21]For since in the wisdom of God the world[p] through its wisdom did not know him, God was pleased through the foolishness of what was preached to save[q] those who believe.[r] [22]Jews demand miraculous signs[s] and Greeks look for wisdom, [23]but we preach Christ crucified:[t] a stumbling block[u] to Jews and foolishness[v] to Gentiles, [24]but to those whom God has called,[w] both Jews and Greeks, Christ the power of God[x] and the wisdom of God.[y] [25]For the foolishness[z] of God is wiser than man's wisdom, and the weakness[a] of God is stronger than man's strength.

[26]Brothers, think of what you were when you were called.[b] Not many of you were wise[c] by human standards; not many were influential; not many were of noble birth. [27]But God chose[d] the foolish[e] things of the world to shame the wise; God chose the weak things of the world to shame the strong. [28]He chose the lowly things of this world and the despised things—and the things that are not[f]—to nullify the things that are, [29]so that no one may boast before him.[g] [30]It is because of him that you are in Christ Jesus,[h] who has become for us wisdom from God—that is, our righteousness,[i] holiness[j] and redemption.[k] [31]Therefore, as it is written: "Let him who boasts boast in the Lord."[d][l]

2 When I came to you, brothers, I did not come with eloquence or superior wisdom[m] as I proclaimed to you the testimony about God.[e] [2]For I resolved to know nothing while I was with you except Jesus Christ and him crucified.[n] [3]I came to you[o] in weakness[p] and fear, and with much trembling.[q] [4]My message and my preaching were not with wise and persuasive words,[r] but with a demonstration of the Spirit's power,[s] [5]so that your faith might not rest on men's wisdom, but on God's power.[t]

[c]19 Isaiah 29:14 [d]31 Jer. 9:24 [e]1 Some manuscripts as I proclaimed to you God's mystery

1:19 The quotation is from Isa 29:14, where God denounced the policy of the "wise" in Judah in seeking an alliance with Egypt when threatened by King Sennacherib of Assyria. the wise. Aristides said that on every street in Corinth one met a so-called wise man, who had his own solutions to the world's problems.

1:20 wise man. Probably a reference to Gentile philosophers in general. scholar. Probably the Jewish teacher of the law (see note on Mt 2:4). philosopher of this age. Probably refers to the Greek sophists, who engaged in long and subtle disputes. God made foolish the wisdom of the world. All humanly devised philosophical systems end in meaninglessness because they have a wrong concept of God and his revelation.

1:21 wisdom ... foolishness. Jesus expresses a similar thought in Lk 10:21. It is God's intention that worldly wisdom should not be the means of knowing him. foolishness of what was preached. Not that preaching is foolish, but that the message being preached (Christ crucified) is viewed by the world as foolish.

1:22 Greeks look for wisdom. True of Greeks in general, but especially of the Greek philosophers.

1:23 Christ crucified. See 2:2. stumbling block to Jews. They expected a triumphant, political Messiah (Ac 1:6), not a crucified one. foolishness to Gentiles. Greeks and Romans were sure that no reputable person would be crucified, so it was unthinkable that a crucified criminal could be the Savior.

1:24 power. See Ro 1:4,16; Mk 12:24. wisdom. See v. 30. The crucified Christ is the power that saves and the wisdom that transforms seeming folly into ultimate and highest discernment.

1:26–31 The Corinthian Christians themselves were living proof that salvation does not depend on anything in man, so that when someone is saved, he must boast in the Lord (v. 31).

1:30 because of him ... you are in Christ. It is God who has called you to union and communion with Christ. righteousness. It is by faith in Christ that we are justified (declared righteous); see Ro 5:19. holiness. See note on v. 2. redemption. See note on Ro 3:24.

2:1 When I came to you. On his initial trip to Corinth c. A.D. 51 (Ac 18). with eloquence or superior wisdom. See note on 1:17. Perhaps Apollos (Ac 18:24–28) had influenced the Corinthians in such a way that they were placing undue emphasis on eloquence and intellectual ability.

2:2 know nothing ... except Jesus Christ. Paul resolved to make Christ the sole subject of his teaching and preaching while he was with them. Jesus Christ. See 1:30. him crucified. See 1:17–18,23.

2:4 not with wise and persuasive words. This does not give preachers a license to neglect study and preparation. Paul's letters reveal a great deal of knowledge in many areas of learning, and his eloquence is apparent in his address before the Areopagus (see Ac 17:22–31 and notes). Paul's point is that unless the Holy Spirit works in a listener's heart, the wisdom and eloquence of a preacher are ineffective. Paul's confidence as a preacher did not rest on intellectual and oratorical ability, as did that of the Greek orators (see note on 1:17). demonstration. The Greek word is used of producing proofs in an argument in court. Paul's preaching was marked by the convincing demonstration of the power of the Holy Spirit.

2:6 mature. Wise, developed Christians; contrast the "infants" mentioned in 3:1 (see Heb 5:13–6:3).

this age, who are coming to nothing.[w] 7No, we speak of God's secret wisdom, a wisdom[x] that has been hidden[y] and that God destined for our glory before time began. 8None of the rulers of this age[z] understood it, for if they had, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory.[a] 9However, as it is written:

"No eye has seen,
no ear has heard,
no mind has conceived what God has prepared for those who love him"[b]—

10but God has revealed[c] it to us by his Spirit.[d]

The Spirit searches all things, even the deep things of God. 11For who among men knows the thoughts of a man[e] except the man's spirit[f] within him? In the same way no one knows the thoughts of God except the Spirit of God. 12We have not received the spirit[g] of the world[h] but the Spirit who is from God, that we may understand what God has freely given us. 13This is what we speak, not in words taught us by human wisdom[i] but in words taught by the Spirit, expressing spiritual truths in spiritual words.[g] 14The man without the Spirit does not accept the things that come from the Spirit of God,[j] for they are foolishness[k] to him, and he cannot understand them, because they are spiritually discerned. 15The spiritual[l] man makes judgments about all things, but he himself is not subject to any man's judgment:

16"For who has known the mind of the
that he may instruct him?"[h][m]

But we have the mind of Christ.[n]

On Divisions in the Church

3 Brothers, I could not address you as spiritual[o] but as worldly[p]—mere infants[q] in Christ. 2I gave you milk, not solid food,[r] for you were not yet ready for it.[s] Indeed, you are still not ready. 3You are still worldly. For since there is jealousy and quarreling[t] among you, are you not worldly? Are you not acting like mere men? 4For when one says, "I follow Paul," and another, "I follow Apollos,"[u] are you not mere men?

5What, after all, is Apollos?[v] And what is Paul? Only servants,[w] through whom you came to believe—as the Lord has assigned to each his task. 6I planted the seed,[x] Apollos watered it, but God made it grow. 7So neither he who plants nor he who waters is anything, but only God, who makes things grow. 8The man who plants and the man who waters have one purpose, and each will be rewarded according to his own labor.[y] 9For we are God's fellow workers;[z] you are God's field,[a] God's building.[b]

[f]9 Isaiah 64:4 [g]13 Or Spirit, interpreting spiritual truths to spiritual men [h]16 Isaiah 40:13

2:7 secret. Cf. Ro 16:25–26; Eph 3:4–5; 1Ti 3:16. The secret, or mystery, was once hidden but is now known because God has revealed it to his people (v. 10). To unbelievers it is still hidden. for our glory. God's wisdom will cause every believer to share eventually in Christ's glory (Ro 8:17).

2:8 rulers of this age. Such as the chief priests (Lk 24:20), Pilate and Herod Antipas (cf. Ac 4:27). crucified the Lord of glory. The cross is here contrasted with the majesty of the victim.

2:9 what God has prepared. Probably not to be limited to either present or future blessing; both are involved (cf. vv. 7,12).

2:10 Spirit searches all things. Not in order to know them, for he knows all things. Instead he comprehends the depth of God's nature and his plans of grace; so he is fully competent to make the revelation claimed here.

2:12 spirit of the world. Cf. v. 6 ("wisdom of this age"); the spirit of human wisdom as alienated from God—the attitude of the sinful nature (Ro 8:6–7).

2:13 words taught by the Spirit. The message Paul proclaimed was expressed in words given by the Holy Spirit. Thus spiritual truth was aptly combined with fitting spiritual words. But see NIV text note.

2:14–3:4 This passage explains why many fail to apprehend true wisdom (2:9). It is because such wisdom is perceived by the spiritual (mature) Christian (2:14–16; cf. v. 6). The Corinthians, however, were worldly (infant) believers (3:1–4), and the proof of their immaturity was their division over human leaders (3:3–4).

2:14 man without the Spirit. Described in Jude 19 as one who follows "mere natural instincts" (cf. Ro 8:9). The non-Christian is basically dominated by the merely physical, worldly or natural life. Because he does not possess the Holy Spirit, he is not equipped to receive appreciatively truth that comes from the Spirit. Such a person needs the new birth (Jn 3:1–8; Tit 3:5–6). foolishness. See 1:18.

2:15 spiritual. Mature (v. 6). not subject to any man's judgment. One who does not have the Spirit is not qualified to judge the spiritual person. Thus believers are not rightfully subject to the opinions of unbelievers.

3:1 Brothers. See note on 1:10. spiritual. See note on 2:15. worldly. See note on 2:14–3:4.

3:2 milk, not solid food. See notes on Heb 5:12–14.

3:3 like mere men. Like men of the world instead of men of God. They were following merely human standards.

3:4 I follow Paul . . . Apollos. See 1:12.

3:6 I planted. See Ac 18:4–11. Paul's work was of a pioneer nature, preaching where no one had ever preached before. Apollos watered. See Ac 18:24–28. Apollos worked in the established church, edifying the converts Paul had won.

3:9 God's field. The people are God's farm. God's building. They are also depicted as God's temple (vv. 16–17). He owns the farm and the building where both Paul and Apollos worked.

10By the grace God has given me,[c] I laid a foundation[d] as an expert builder, and someone else is building on it. But each one should be careful how he builds. 11For no one can lay any foundation other than the one already laid, which is Jesus Christ.[e] 12If any man builds on this foundation using gold, silver, costly stones, wood, hay or straw, 13his work will be shown for what it is,[f] because the Day[g] will bring it to light. It will be revealed with fire, and the fire will test the quality of each man's work.[h] 14If what he has built survives, he will receive his reward.[i] 15If it is burned up, he will suffer loss; he himself will be saved, but only as one escaping through the flames.[j]

16Don't you know that you yourselves are God's temple[k] and that God's Spirit lives in you?[l] 17If anyone destroys God's temple, God will destroy him; for God's temple is sacred, and you are that temple.

18Do not deceive yourselves. If any one of you thinks he is wise[m] by the standards of this age,[n] he should become a "fool" so that he may become wise. 19For the wisdom of this world is foolishness[o] in God's sight. As it is written: "He catches the wise in their craftiness"[i];[p] 20and again, "The Lord knows that the thoughts of the wise are futile."[jq] 21So then, no more boasting about men![r] All things are yours,[s] 22whether Paul or Apollos[t] or Cephas[ku] or the world or life or death or the present or the future[v]—all are yours, 23and you are of Christ,[w] and Christ is of God.

Apostles of Christ

4 So then, men ought to regard us as servants[x] of Christ and as those entrusted[y] with the secret things[z] of God. 2Now it is required that those who have been given a trust must prove faithful. 3I care very little if I am judged by you or by any human court; indeed, I do not even judge myself. 4My conscience[a] is clear, but that does not make me innocent.[b] It is the Lord who judges me.[c] 5Therefore judge nothing[d] before the appointed time; wait till the Lord comes.[e] He will bring to light[f] what is hidden in darkness and will expose the motives of men's hearts. At that time each will receive his praise from God.[g]

6Now, brothers, I have applied these things to myself and Apollos for your benefit, so that you may learn from us the meaning of the saying, "Do not go beyond what is written."[h] Then you will not take pride in one man over against another.[i] 7For who makes you different from anyone else? What do you have that you did not receive?[j] And if you did receive it, why do you boast as though you did not?

8Already you have all you want! Al-

3:10 I laid a foundation. By preaching Christ and him crucified (2:2). someone else. Apollos.

3:12 gold, silver, costly stones. Precious, durable work that stands the test of divine judgment; symbolic of pure Christian doctrine and living. wood, hay or straw. Worthless work that will not stand the test; symbolic of weak, insipid teaching and life.

3:13 Cf. 4:5; 2Co 5:10. the Day. See note on 1:8. fire. God's judgment. The work of some believers will stand the test while that of others will disappear—emphasizing the importance of teaching the pure word of God.

3:15 loss. Of reward (v. 14). as one escaping through the flames. Perhaps a Greek proverbial phrase, meaning "by a narrow escape," with one's work burned up by the fire of God's pure justice and judgment.

3:16 God's temple. God's church. Paul does not mean here that each of his readers is a temple of the Holy Spirit. He says, "You yourselves (plural) are God's temple (singular)." In 6:19 he speaks of each Christian as a temple of the Holy Spirit.

3:17 God will destroy him. Strong language, indicating that such a foolish laborer is not one of the Lord's true servants. This is in contrast to the thought of v. 15, where the faulty Christian worker is saved, but his work is destroyed (he suffers loss of reward). In the context of chs. 1–4 Paul here refers to people who tear the local church apart by factions and quarrels (1:11–12). sacred. Holy, set apart for God's use and glory; so do not desecrate the church by breaking it up into various factions.

3:18 become a "fool." Turn away from human wisdom (from being "wise by the standards of this age"). Cf. 1:18. become wise. Cf. 1:21, 24.

3:21 about men. About being some man's disciple (see 1:12; 3:4; cf. 1:31; 4:6). All things are yours. All these Christian leaders belong to the whole church. No group can call one leader its very own (see vv. 22–23).

3:23 you are of Christ. You are united with and belong to Christ. Christ is of God. Christ is in union with God the Father (Jn 10:30) and with God the Holy Spirit (2Co 13:14). Similarly, Christians are in union with the church's true leaders (v. 22) and with Christ (v. 23), who in turn is in union with the other members of the Trinity.

4:1 those entrusted. The Greek underlying this phrase means "house manager" or "steward." secret things. Things that human wisdom cannot discover but that are now revealed by God to his people (see note on Ro 11:25).

4:3 not even judge myself. His judgment was merely human, and his conscience may be mistaken (v. 4). Only God is fully qualified to judge.

4:5 appointed time. When God will judge believers (see 3:13). expose the motives. Cf. Ps 19:12; 139:23–24; Heb 4:12–13.

4:6 these things. See 3:5–4:5. the saying. Perhaps a proverb common among the rabbis. what is written. In Scripture. Our view of man should be Biblical (cf. v. 7; 1:9, 31; 3:19–20; Ro 12:3). We should recognize man's weakness and ever-present limitations. pride. One of the root causes of divisions.

4:8 Paul uses irony and sarcasm here to get the Corinthians to see how poor they really are because of their haughtiness and spiritual immaturity in comparison with ready you have become rich![k] You have become kings—and that without us! How I wish that you really had become kings so that we might be kings with you! [9]For it seems to me that God has put us apostles on display at the end of the procession, like men condemned to die[l] in the arena. We have been made a spectacle[m] to the whole universe, to angels as well as to men. [10]We are fools for Christ,[n] but you are so wise in Christ![o] We are weak, but you are strong![p] You are honored, we are dishonored! [11]To this very hour we go hungry and thirsty, we are in rags, we are brutally treated, we are homeless.[q] [12]We work hard with our own hands.[r] When we are cursed, we bless;[s] when we are persecuted,[t] we endure it; [13]when we are slandered, we answer kindly. Up to this moment we have become the scum of the earth, the refuse[u] of the world.

[14]I am not writing this to shame you,[v] but to warn you, as my dear children.[w] [15]Even though you have ten thousand guardians in Christ, you do not have many fathers, for in Christ Jesus I became your father[x] through the gospel.[y] [16]Therefore I urge you to imitate me.[z] [17]For this reason I am sending to you[a] Timothy,[b] my son[c] whom I love, who is faithful in the Lord. He will remind you of my way of life in Christ Jesus, which agrees with what I teach everywhere in every church.[d]

[18]Some of you have become arrogant,[e] as if I were not coming to you.[f] [19]But I will come to you very soon,[g] if the Lord is willing,[h] and then I will find out not only how these arrogant people are talking, but what power they have. [20]For the kingdom of God is not a matter of[i] talk but of power.[j] [21]What do you prefer? Shall I come to you with a whip,[k] or in love and with a gentle spirit?

Expel the Immoral Brother!

5 It is actually reported that there is sexual immorality among you, and of a kind that does not occur even among pagans: A man has his father's wife.[l] [2]And you are proud! Shouldn't you rather have been filled with grief[m] and have put out of your fellowship[n] the man who did this? [3]Even though I am not physically present, I am with you in spirit.[o] And I have already passed judgment on the one who did this, just as if I were present. [4]When you are assembled in the name of our Lord Jesus[p] and I am with you in spirit, and the power of our Lord Jesus is present, [5]hand this man over[q] to Satan,[r] so that the sinful nature[l] may be destroyed and his spirit saved on the day of the Lord.[s] apostles.

4:9 apostles. See note on 1:1. spectacle. "Theater" is derived from the Greek word used here. Paul refers to the gladiatorial contests in the arena (or perhaps to the triumphal procession of a victorious Roman general). He pictures all the world and even angels looking on while the apostles are brought in last to fight to the death.

4:10 More irony.

4:11–13 A graphic description of Paul's condition in Ephesus right up to the writing of this letter.

4:12 We work hard with our own hands. Paul was a tentmaker by trade (Ac 18:3; cf. 20:34–35; 1Co 9:6,18). we bless. See Mt 5:44. endure it. Instead of retaliating.

4:14 my dear children. See v. 15.

4:15 your father. See 3:6,10.

4:18 Some of you. Some of the Corinthians who were trying to undercut Paul's authority (see 9:1–3) were teaching that he was unstable (2Co 1:17) and that his ministry was not important (2Co 10:10).

4:19 arrogant. See 5:2.

4:20 kingdom of God. God's present reign in the lives of his people—that dynamic new life in Christ (2Co 5:17), the power of the new birth (Jn 3:3–8), showing itself in a humble life, dedicated to Christ and his church. not . . . of talk but of power. Idle, empty talk is contrasted with the genuine power of the Holy Spirit.

5:1 not . . . even among pagans. The Roman orator Cicero states that incest was practically unheard of in Roman society. his father's wife. That this expression was used rather than "his mother" suggests that the woman was his stepmother. The OT prohibited such sexual relations (Lev 18:8; Dt 27:20).

5:2 proud. Evidently proud of their liberty—a distortion of grace. put out of your fellowship. Excommunicated from the church (cf. Jn 9:22).

5:4 assembled in the name of our Lord Jesus. The Corinthians are to pass judgment on the man by the authority of the Lord Jesus. the power of our Lord Jesus is present. Jesus' power is present through his word and his Holy Spirit.

5:5 hand this man over to Satan. Abandon this sinful man to the devil that he may afflict the man as he pleases. This abandonment to Satan was to be accomplished, not by some magical incantation, but by expelling the man from the church (see v. 13; also vv. 2,7,11). To expel him was to put him out in the devil's territory, severed from any connection with God's people. so that the sinful nature may be destroyed. So that being officially ostracized from the church will cause the man such anguish that he will repent and forsake his wicked way. For an alternative interpretation see NIV text note. In the latter view, Satan is allowed to bring physical affliction on the man, which would bring him to repentance. his spirit saved. Cf. 3:15. The person put out of the church may well be a Christian. day of the Lord. When Christ returns (see 1:7).

5:6 a little yeast . . . the whole batch of dough. To illustrate Christian holiness and discipline, Paul alludes to the prohibition against the use of leaven (or yeast) in the bread eaten in the Passover Feast (see Ex 12:15). Leaven in Scripture usually symbolizes evil or sin (see note on Mk 8:15), and the church here is called on to get rid of the yeast of sin (v. 8) because they are an unleavened batch of dough—new creations in Christ (2Co 5:17).

you know that a little yeast[u] works through the whole batch of dough?[v] 7Get rid of the old yeast that you may be a new batch without yeast—as you really are. For Christ, our Passover lamb, has been sacrificed.[w] 8Therefore let us keep the Festival, not with the old yeast, the yeast of malice and wickedness, but with bread without yeast,[x] the bread of sincerity and truth.

9I have written you in my letter not to associate[y] with sexually immoral people— 10not at all meaning the people of this world[z] who are immoral, or the greedy and swindlers, or idolaters. In that case you would have to leave this world. 11But now I am writing you that you must not associate with anyone who calls himself a brother[a] but is sexually immoral or greedy, an idolater[b] or a slanderer, a drunkard or a swindler. With such a man do not even eat.[c]

12What business is it of mine to judge those outside[d] the church? Are you not to judge those inside?[e] 13God will judge those outside. "Expel the wicked man from among you."[mf]

Lawsuits Among Believers

6 If any of you has a dispute with another, dare he take it before the ungodly for judgment instead of before the saints?[g] 2Do you not know that the saints will judge the world?[h] And if you are to judge the world, are you not competent to judge trivial cases? 3Do you not know that we will judge angels? How much more the things of this life! 4Therefore, if you have disputes about such matters, appoint as judges even men of little account in the church![n] 5I say this to shame you.[i] Is it possible that there is nobody among you wise enough to judge a dispute between believers?[j] 6But instead, one brother[k] goes to law against another—and this in front of unbelievers![l]

7The very fact that you have lawsuits among you means you have been completely defeated already. Why not rather be wronged? Why not rather be cheated?[m] 8Instead, you yourselves cheat and do wrong, and you do this to your brothers.[n]

9Do you not know that the wicked will not inherit the kingdom of God?[o] Do not be deceived:[p] Neither the sexually immoral nor idolaters nor adulterers[q] nor male prostitutes nor homosexual of-

[m]13 Deut. 17:7; 19:19; 21:21; 22:21,24; 24:7 [n]4 Or matters, do you appoint as judges men of little account in the church?

5:7 Get rid of the old yeast. Perhaps refers to the Passover custom of sweeping all the (leavened) bread crumbs out of one's house before preparing the Passover meal. without yeast—as you really are. Positionally they were a new batch, already sanctified in God's sight (see 1:2; 6:11), but Paul calls on them to become holy also in conduct (see note on 1:2). Christ, our Passover lamb. In his death on the cross, Christ fulfilled the true meaning of the Jewish sacrifice of the Passover lamb (Isa 53:7; Jn 1:29). Christ, the Lamb of God, was crucified on Passover day, a celebration that began the evening before when the Passover meal was eaten (cf. Ex 12:8).

5:8 let us keep the Festival. Keeping the Feast of Unleavened Bread (which followed Passover) symbolizes living the Christian life in holy dedication to God (cf. Ro 12:1–2; 1Pe 2:5) and not getting involved in such sins as malice and wickedness and incestuous relations.

5:9 I have written you in my letter. Paul here clarifies a previous letter (one not preserved). The Corinthians mistook that letter to mean that, on separating from sin, they should disassociate themselves from all immoral persons, including non-Christian people. Instead, Paul meant that they should separate from immoral persons in the church who claimed to be Christian brothers (vv. 10–11).

5:11 With such a man do not even eat. Calling oneself a Christian while continuing to live an immoral life is reprehensible and degrading, and gives a false testimony to Christ. If the true Christian has intimate association with someone who does this, the non-Christian world may assume that the church approves such immoral, ungodly living and thus the name of Christ would be dishonored. Questions could arise concerning the true character of the Christian's own testimony (cf. Ro 16:17–18; 2Th 3:6, 14–15).

5:12 judge those inside. The church is to exercise spiritual discipline over the professing believers in the church (cf. Mt 18:15–18), but it is not to attempt to judge the unsaved world. There are governing authorities to do that (Ro 13:1–5), and the ultimate judgment of the world is to be left to God (v. 13; cf. Rev 20:11–15).

6:1 a dispute with another. Paul seems to be talking about various kinds of property court cases here (cf. the phrase "rather be cheated," v. 7), not criminal cases that should be handled by the state (Ro 13:3–4). before the saints. The Corinthians should take their property cases before qualified Christians for settlement. In Paul's day the Romans allowed the Jews to apply their own law in property matters, and since the Romans did not yet consider Christians as a separate class from the Jews, Christians no doubt had the same rights.

6:2 saints will judge the world. With Christ. Cf. Mt 19:28; 2Ti 2:12; Rev 20:4. competent to judge trivial cases. Paul views believers as fully competent to judge cases where Christians have claims against each other, because they view matters from a godly vantage point. In comparison with their future role in the judgment of the world and of angels, judgments concerning things of this life are insignificant.

6:3 we will judge angels. Cf. 2Pe 2:4,9; Jude 6.

6:4 even men of little account. See NIV text note. Either the verse suggests that the least in the church are capable of judging such small matters, or it asks ironically if believers should submit their cases to pagan judges, who really are not qualified to decide on cases between Christians.

6:7 completely defeated. Most likely by greed, retaliation and hatred, instead of practicing unselfishness, forgiveness and love—even willingness to suffer loss.

6:9 not inherit the kingdom of God. Cf. Jn 3:3–5. sexually immoral. Paul here identifies three kinds of sexually immoral persons: adulterers, male prostitutes and males who practice homosexuality. In Ro 1:26 he adds the category of females who practice homosexuality. People who engage in such practices, as well as the other offendfenders[r] [10]nor thieves nor the greedy nor drunkards nor slanderers nor swindlers[s] will inherit the kingdom of God. [11]And that is what some of you were.[t] But you were washed,[u] you were sanctified,[v] you were justified[w] in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ and by the Spirit of our God.

Sexual Immorality

[12]"Everything is permissible for me"—but not everything is beneficial.[x] "Everything is permissible for me"—but I will not be mastered by anything. [13]"Food for the stomach and the stomach for food"—but God will destroy them both.[y] The body is not meant for sexual immorality, but for the Lord,[z] and the Lord for the body. [14]By his power God raised the Lord from the dead,[a] and he will raise us also.[b] [15]Do you not know that your bodies are members of Christ himself?[c] Shall I then take the members of Christ and unite them with a prostitute? Never! [16]Do you not know that he who unites himself with a prostitute is one with her in body? For it is said, "The two will become one flesh."[d] [17]But he who unites himself with the Lord is one with him in spirit.[e]

[18]Flee from sexual immorality.[f] All other sins a man commits are outside his body, but he who sins sexually sins against his own body.[g] [19]Do you not know that your body is a temple[h] of the Holy Spirit, who is in you, whom you have received from God? You are not your own;[i] [20]you were bought at a price.[j] Therefore honor God with your body.[k]

Marriage

7 Now for the matters you wrote about: It is good for a man not to marry.[p l] [2]But since there is so much immorality, each man should have his own wife, and each woman her own husband. ers listed in vv. 9–10, are explicitly excluded from God's kingdom (but see next note).

6:11 some of you were. But. God, however, does save and sanctify people like those described in vv. 9–10.

6:12 Everything is permissible for me. Paul is probably quoting some in the Corinthian congregation who boasted that they had a right to do anything they pleased. The apostle counters by observing that such "freedom" of action may not benefit the Christian. not be mastered by anything. One may become enslaved by those actions in which he "freely" indulges (see note on 10:23).

6:13 Food for the stomach and the stomach for food. Paul quotes some Corinthians again who were claiming that as the physical acts of eating and digesting food have no bearing on one's inner spiritual life, so the physical act of promiscuous sexual activity does not affect one's spiritual life. The body is not meant for sexual immorality, but for the Lord. Paul here declares the dignity of the human body: It is intended for the Lord. Although granting that food and the stomach are transitory, Paul denies that what one does with his body is unimportant. This is particularly true of the use of sex, which the Lord has ordained in wedlock for the good of mankind (cf. Heb 13:4).

6:14 God raised the Lord . . . us also. As an illustration of God's high regard for the body, Paul cites the resurrection of Christ's body and, eventually, the believer's body (15:51–53; 1Th 4:16–17). A body destined for resurrection should not be used for immorality.

6:15 members of Christ. See 12:27. It is not merely the spirit that is a member of Christ's body; it is the whole person, consisting of spirit and body. This fact gives dignity to the human body.

6:16 one with her in body. In a sexual relationship the two bodies become one (cf. Ge 2:24; Mt 19:5), and a new human being may emerge from the sexual union. Sexual relations outside the marriage bond are a gross perversion of the divinely established marriage union.

6:17 one with him in spirit. There is a higher union than the marriage bond: the believer's spiritual union with Christ, which is the perfect model for the kind of unity that should mark the marriage relationship (cf. Eph 5:21–33).

6:18 other sins . . . are outside his body. Perhaps means that in a unique way, sexual immorality gratifies one's physical body. Or, since the word "other" does not occur in the Greek text, Paul may be quoting a Corinthian slogan (see note on v. 12), which he refutes in the second half of the verse. he who sins sexually sins against his own body. The body is a temple of the Holy Spirit (v. 19); thus to use it in prostitution disgraces God's temple. Furthermore, the prostitutes of Corinth were dedicated to the service of Aphrodite, the goddess of love and sex. See note on 7:2.

6:19 your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit. The Christian should value his body as a sacred place where God dwells and should realize that by the Spirit's presence and power he can be helped against such sins as sexual immorality (Ro 8:9). not your own. Cf. 1Pe 2:9.

6:20 honor God with your body. Cf. 10:31; Ro 6:12–13; Col 3:17.

7:1 matters you wrote about. The Corinthians had written Paul, asking him a number of vexing questions (see 8:1; 12:1). good for a man not to marry. Because of the crisis at Corinth (v. 26). Elsewhere (Eph 5:22–33; Col 3:18–19; 1Ti 3:2,12; 5:14) Paul spoke strongly in favor of the married state, and in 1Ti 4:1–3 he taught that forbidding to marry would be a sign of the end-time apostasy. Another possible interpretation is that Paul is again (see notes on 6:12–13,18) quoting a slogan of the Corinthians (see NIV text note). He refutes this idea in v. 2 by stating that sexual relations have their proper expression in marriage.

7:2 so much immorality. Example: The temple to Aphrodite on the Acrocorinth, the rocky eminence above Corinth, at one time had in service 1,000 prostitute priestesses.

7:3 fulfill . . . marital duty. Married couples should have normal sexual relations. Permanent abstention deprives the other partner of his or her natural right and may be conducive to temptation.

7:4 In the same way. Both husband and wife have conjugal rights and exclusive possession of the other in this area.

body does not belong to her alone but also to her husband. In the same way, the husband's body does not belong to him alone but also to his wife. 5Do not deprive each other except by mutual consent and for a time,[n] so that you may devote yourselves to prayer. Then come together again so that Satan[o] will not tempt you[p] because of your lack of self-control. 6I say this as a concession, not as a command.[q] 7I wish that all men were as I am.[r] But each man has his own gift from God; one has this gift, another has that.[s]

8Now to the unmarried and the widows I say: It is good for them to stay unmarried, as I am.[t] 9But if they cannot control themselves, they should marry,[u] for it is better to marry than to burn with passion.

10To the married I give this command (not I, but the Lord): A wife must not separate from her husband.[v] 11But if she does, she must remain unmarried or else be reconciled to her husband.[w] And a husband must not divorce his wife.

12To the rest I say this (I, not the Lord):[x] If any brother has a wife who is not a believer and she is willing to live with him, he must not divorce her. 13And if a woman has a husband who is not a believer and he is willing to live with her, she must not divorce him. 14For the unbelieving husband has been sanctified through his wife, and the unbelieving wife has been sanctified through her believing husband. Otherwise your children would be unclean, but as it is, they are holy.[y]

15But if the unbeliever leaves, let him do so. A believing man or woman is not bound in such circumstances; God has called us to live in peace.[z] 16How do you know, wife, whether you will save[a] your husband?[b] Or, how do you know, husband, whether you will save your wife?

17Nevertheless, each one should retain the place in life that the Lord assigned to him and to which God has called him.[c] This is the rule I lay down in all the churches.[d] 18Was a man already circumcised when he was called? He should not become uncircumcised. Was a man uncircumcised when he was called? He should not be circumcised.[e] 19Circumcision is nothing and uncircumcision is nothing.[f] Keeping God's commands is what counts. 20Each one should remain in the situation which he was in when God called him.[g] 21Were you a slave when you were called? Don't let it trouble you—although if you can gain your freedom, do so. 22For he who was a slave when he was called by the Lord is the Lord's freedman;[h] similarly, he who was a free man when he was called is

7:5 Do not deprive each other. Of sexual fulfillment. Satan ... not tempt you because of your lack of self-control. The Christian deprived of normal sexual activity with his or her marriage partner may be tempted by Satan to sexual immorality. The normal God-given sexual drive in the human being is strong.

7:6 concession, not as a command. Although marriage is desirable and according to God's plan, it was not mandatory under the difficult circumstances at Corinth (see v. 26). In another situation (1Ti 5:14) Paul urges "the younger widows to marry."

7:10 I give this command (not I, but the Lord). Paul is citing a command from the Lord Jesus during his earthly ministry that married couples must stay together (Mt 5:32; 19:3–9; Mk 10:2–12; Lk 16:18). Paul probably heard such commands from other disciples (cf. Gal 1:18–19) or from Jesus himself by a special revelation.

7:11 But if she does, she must remain unmarried or else be reconciled. Paul argues that in the light of Christ's command she (or he) is not to marry again. Rather, the separated or divorced couple are to be reconciled. Clearly the ideal is that marriage should not be permanently disrupted.

7:12 I say this (I, not the Lord). Paul is not quoting a direct command from Jesus here. any brother has a wife ... not a believer. The apostle is talking here (and in v. 13) about couples already married, when one of them becomes a Christian. If at all possible, they should remain together, unless the unbeliever, whether man or woman, refuses to remain (v. 15).

7:14 the unbelieving husband ... wife has been sanctified. The unbelieving partner is influenced by the godly life of the Christian partner; so that family is under the holy influence of the believer and in that sense is sanctified. your children ... are holy. They at least have the advantage of being under the sanctifying influence of one Christian parent (see v. 16) and so may be called holy. Some believe that such children are called holy because they are included with their parents in the new covenant in Christ, just as the children of Abraham were included in the covenant with their father (and so were circumcised).

7:15 A believing man or woman is not bound in such circumstances. The believer is not under obligation to try to continue living with the unbeliever. live in peace. If the unbeliever were forced to live with the believer, there would be no peace in the home.

7:17 retain the place in life that the Lord assigned to him. Each Christian is to live contentedly for the Lord in whatever economic, social and religious station in life God has placed him. See v. 18 for an example.

7:18 circumcised ... uncircumcised. Jew ... Gentile. In the religious sphere, Christian Jews should not try to obliterate physically the fact that they are Jews, and Christian Gentiles should not yield to Jewish pressure for circumcision (cf. Ac 15:1–5; Gal 5:1–3).

7:21 Were you a slave ...? In the social and economic sphere, the Christian slave should live contentedly in his situation, realizing that he has become free in Christ (v. 22; Jn 8:32, 36). if you can gain your freedom, do so. If a Christian slave has an opportunity to get his freedom, he should take advantage of it. In the Roman empire slaves were sometimes freed by Roman patricians. There is nothing wrong with seeking to improve your condition, but be content at every stage.

7:22 a free man ... is Christ's slave. A man who was not a Roman slave should realize that in a spiritual sense he belonged to Christ, and, because of his allegiance to Christ, he must not oppress the underprivileged slave. Cf. Eph 6:5,9; Col 3:22; 4:1.

Christ's slave.[i] 23You were bought at a price;[j] do not become slaves of men. 24Brothers, each man, as responsible to God, should remain in the situation God called him to.[k]

25Now about virgins: I have no command from the Lord,[l] but I give a judgment as one who by the Lord's mercy[m] is trustworthy. 26Because of the present crisis, I think that it is good for you to remain as you are.[n] 27Are you married? Do not seek a divorce. Are you unmarried? Do not look for a wife.[o] 28But if you do marry, you have not sinned;[p] and if a virgin marries, she has not sinned. But those who marry will face many troubles in this life, and I want to spare you this.

29What I mean, brothers, is that the time is short.[q] From now on those who have wives should live as if they had none; 30those who mourn, as if they did not; those who are happy, as if they were not; those who buy something, as if it were not theirs to keep; 31those who use the things of the world, as if not engrossed in them. For this world in its present form is passing away.[r]

32I would like you to be free from concern. An unmarried man is concerned about the Lord's affairs[s]—how he can please the Lord. 33But a married man is concerned about the affairs of this world—how he can please his wife—34and his interests are divided. An unmarried woman or virgin is concerned about the Lord's affairs: Her aim is to be devoted to the Lord in both body and spirit.[t] But a married woman is concerned about the affairs of this world—how she can please her husband. 35I am saying this for your own good, not to restrict you, but that you may live in a right way in undivided[u] devotion to the Lord.

36If anyone thinks he is acting improperly toward the virgin he is engaged to, and if she is getting along in years and he feels he ought to marry, he should do as he wants. He is not sinning.[v] They should get married. 37But the man who has settled the matter in his own mind, who is under no compulsion but has control over his own will, and who has made up his mind not to marry the virgin—this man also does the right thing. 38So then, he who marries the virgin does right,[w] but he who does not marry her does even better.[q]

39A woman is bound to her husband as long as he lives.[x] But if her husband dies, she is free to marry anyone she wishes, but he must belong to the Lord.[y] 40In my judgment,[z] she is happier if she stays as she is—and I think that I too have the Spirit of God.

7:25 Now about virgins. Paul answers another major question the Corinthians had asked (v. 1). I give a judgment as one who ... is trustworthy. Paul is not giving a direct command from Jesus here (as in v. 10; cf. Ac 20:35). In this matter, which is not a question of right and wrong, Paul expresses his own judgment. Even though he put it this way, he is certainly not denying that he wrote under the influence of divine inspiration (see v. 40). And since he writes under inspiration, what he recommends is clearly the better course of action.

7:26 present crisis. Probably a reference to the pressures of the Christian life in an immoral and particularly hostile environment (cf. vv. 2,28; 5:1; 2Ti 3:12). Paul's recommendation here does not apply to all times and all situations.

7:28 many troubles. Times of suffering and persecution for Christ, when being married would mean even greater hardship in taking care of one's mate.

7:29 time is short. The time for doing the Lord's work has become increasingly short. Life is fleeting, as times of persecution remind us. Do not be unduly concerned with the affairs of this world (vv. 29–31) because material things are changing and disappearing (v. 31). Some think the reference is to the Lord's second coming.

7:34 his interests are divided. He cannot give undistracted service to Christ (v. 35). This is particularly true in times of persecution.

7:36–38 See NIV text note.

7:36 he is acting improperly toward the virgin he is engaged to ... getting along in years ... They should get married. In the light of hostility toward believers in Corinth, a man might refrain from marrying his fiancée. But if he then realizes that his fiancée is getting beyond her prime marriageable age and the situation thus seems unfair to her, it is perfectly proper for them to get married.

7:37 has control over his own will ... does the right thing. The man who determines that there is no need for him to marry his fiancée under the circumstances has made a good decision too (v. 38). Paul may be referring to a man who has control of his passions, as in v. 7 (cf. v. 9).

7:39 bound to her husband as long as he lives. Marriage is a lifelong union (yet see the exception clause in Mt 19:9). if her husband dies. Death breaks the marriage bond, and a Christian is then free to marry another Christian ("he must belong to the Lord").

7:40 as she is. A widow. I think that I too have the Spirit of God. Paul writes as one convinced that he is guided by the Holy Spirit.

8:1 Now about food. Another matter the Corinthians had written about (see note on 7:1). sacrificed to idols. Offered on pagan altars. Meat left over from a sacri-builds up. 2The man who thinks he knows something[c] does not yet know as he ought to know.[d] 3But the man who loves God is known by God.[e]

4So then, about eating food sacrificed to idols:[f] We know that an idol is nothing at all in the world[g] and that there is no God but one.[h] 5For even if there are so-called gods,[i] whether in heaven or on earth (as indeed there are many "gods" and many "lords"), 6yet for us there is but one God,[j] the Father,[k] from whom all things came[l] and for whom we live; and there is but one Lord,[m] Jesus Christ, through whom all things came[n] and through whom we live.

7But not everyone knows this.[o] Some people are still so accustomed to idols that when they eat such food they think of it as having been sacrificed to an idol, and since their conscience is weak,[p] it is defiled. 8But food does not bring us near to God;[q] we are no worse if we do not eat, and no better if we do.

9Be careful, however, that the exercise of your freedom does not become a stumbling block[r] to the weak.[s] 10For if anyone with a weak conscience sees you who have this knowledge eating in an idol's temple, won't he be emboldened to eat what has been sacrificed to idols?[t] 11So this weak brother, for whom Christ died, is destroyed[u] by your knowledge. 12When you sin against your brothers[v] in this way and wound their weak conscience, you sin against Christ.[w] 13Therefore, if what I eat causes my brother to fall into sin, I will never eat meat again, so that I will not cause him to fall.[x]

The Rights of an Apostle

9 Am I not free?[y] Am I not an apostle?[z] Have I not seen Jesus our Lord?[a] Are you not the result of my work in the Lord?[b] 2Even though I may not be an apostle to others, surely I am to you! For you are the seal[c] of my apostleship in the Lord.

3This is my defense to those who sit in judgment on me. 4Don't we have the right to food and drink?[d] 5Don't we have the right to take a believing wife[e] fice might be eaten by the priests, eaten by the offerer and his friends at a feast in the temple (see note on v. 10) or sold in the public meat market. Some Christians felt that if they ate such meat, they participated in pagan worship and thus compromised their testimony for Christ. Other Christians did not feel this way. knowledge. Explained in vv. 2–6. Knowledge puffs up. It fills one with false pride. love builds up. Explained in vv. 7–13. The Christian should love his brother who doubts.

8:2 does not yet know. The wisest and most knowledgeable Christian realizes that his knowledge is limited. God is the only one who knows all (cf. Ro 11:33–36).

8:3 the man who loves God is known by God. A person who tempers his knowledge with love toward God shows that he is really known and thus accepted by God as one of God's own redeemed (Gal 4:8–9; 1Jn 4:7–8).

8:4 an idol is nothing. It represents no real god and possesses no power (see Ps 115:4–7; 135:15–17; Isa 44:12–20). But there are demons behind them (10:20).

8:5 so-called gods. The alleged gods of Greek and Roman mythology. many "gods" and many "lords." Not that there actually are many gods and lords. This would contradict the consistent and emphatic teaching of Scripture that there is but one God (Dt 6:4). Paul is recognizing the obvious fact that there are many who are worshiped as gods—though they do not actually exist, to say nothing of being deities.

8:6 from whom all things came ... through whom all things came. See Heb 2:10. God the Father is the ultimate source of all creation (Ac 4:24). God the Son is the dynamic one through whom, with the Father, all things came into existence (Jn 1:3; Col 1:16).

8:7 knows this. Knows that an idol has no personal reality. since their conscience is weak, it is defiled. Christians who conceive of an idol as being real cannot rid themselves of this idea. Consequently, they think that in eating meat sacrificed on pagan altars they have involved themselves in pagan worship and thus have sinned against Christ.

8:9 your freedom. To eat meat sacrificed to idols because you know that an idol is nothing (v. 4). the weak. Those Christians whose consciences are weak, who think it is wrong to eat meat sacrificed to idols.

8:10 eating in an idol's temple. At the site of ancient Corinth, archaeologists have discovered two temples containing rooms apparently used for pagan feasts where meat offered to idols was eaten. To such feasts Christians may have been invited by pagan friends.

8:11 this weak brother ... is destroyed by your knowledge. The weak Christian is influenced by the example of the stronger Christian and, though he feels it to be wrong, eats the meat that has been offered to an idol. The spiritual destruction that follows is explained in v. 12.

8:12 wound their weak conscience. Eating meat offered to idols when they feel it is wrong tends to blunt their consciences, so that doing what is wrong becomes much easier. The result may be moral tragedy. you sin against Christ. Because Christ died for your brother (v. 11), even as he died for you. It is also a sin against Christ because it breaks the unity of the members of his body (the church).

8:13 I will never eat meat again. Paul will forever refrain from engaging in the harmless practice of eating meat sacrificed to idols if it will cause his weak Christian brother, who feels it is wrong, also to eat that meat.

9:1 Am I not free? Do I not have the rights that any Christian has? Am I not an apostle? Some at Corinth (2Co 12:11–12) and elsewhere (Gal 1:1; 1:15–2:10) questioned Paul's genuine apostleship. To certify his apostleship Paul gives this proof: that he has seen the Lord Jesus (Ac 9:1–9; 22:6–16; 26:12–18), as was true of the other apostles (Ac 1:21–22). Furthermore, he adds that his ministry has produced true spiritual fruit (the Corinthians) for the Lord, which should confirm to them that he is indeed an apostle.

9:4 right to food and drink. Paul and Barnabas, as God's workers, have a right to have their food and other physical needs supplied at the church's expense (cf. vv. 6,13–14).

9:5 take a believing wife along with us. Paul asserts his right to be married, if he wishes. This does not mean that he was married, as some have imagined (see 7:7). Other along with us, as do the other apostles and the Lord's brothers[f] and Cephas[s][?][g] 6Or is it only I and Barnabas[h] who must work for a living?

7Who serves as a soldier[i] at his own expense? Who plants a vineyard[j] and does not eat of its grapes? Who tends a flock and does not drink of the milk? 8Do I say this merely from a human point of view? Doesn't the Law say the same thing? 9For it is written in the Law of Moses: "Do not muzzle an ox while it is treading out the grain."[tk] Is it about oxen that God is concerned?[l] 10Surely he says this for us, doesn't he? Yes, this was written for us,[m] because when the plowman plows and the thresher threshes, they ought to do so in the hope of sharing in the harvest.[n] 11If we have sown spiritual seed among you, is it too much if we reap a material harvest from you?[o] 12If others have this right of support from you, shouldn't we have it all the more?

But we did not use this right.[p] On the contrary, we put up with anything rather than hinder[q] the gospel of Christ. 13Don't you know that those who work in the temple get their food from the temple, and those who serve at the altar share in what is offered on the altar?[r] 14In the same way, the Lord has commanded that those who preach the gospel should receive their living from the gospel.[s] 15But I have not used any of these rights.[t] And I am not writing this in the hope that you will do such things for me. I would rather die than have anyone deprive me of this boast.[u] 16Yet when I preach the gospel, I cannot boast, for I am compelled to preach.[v] Woe to me if I do not preach the gospel! 17If I preach voluntarily, I have a reward;[w] if not voluntarily, I am simply discharging the trust committed to me.[x] 18What then is my reward? Just this: that in preaching the gospel I may offer it free of charge,[y] and so not make use of my rights[z] in preaching it.

19Though I am free[a] and belong to no man, I make myself a slave to everyone,[b] to win as many as possible.[c] 20To the Jews I became like a Jew, to win the Jews.[d] To those under the law I became like one under the law (though I myself am not under the law),[e] so as to win those under the law. 21To those not having the law I became like one not having the law[f] (though I am not free from God's law but am under Christ's law),[g] so as to win those not having the law. 22To the weak I became weak, to win the weak.[h] I have become all things to all men[i] so that by all possible means I might save some.[j] 23I do all this for the sake of the gospel, that I may share in its blessings.

24Do you not know that in a race all the runners run, but only one gets the prize?[k] Run[l] in such a way as to get the prize. 25Everyone who competes in the games goes into strict training. They apostles, including Peter (see Mk 1:30), had wives.

9:11 material harvest. Food, lodging and pay supplied by the Corinthians (cf. Gal 6:6). Paul here sets forth the principle that Christian workers should be paid for their labors.

9:12 did not use this right. The point of Paul's discussion in ch. 9. He had numerous rights that he did not claim because of his love for the Corinthians. Thus ch. 9 is an extended personal illustration of the practice advocated in ch. 8. Because of love for others, believers should be ready to surrender their rights.

9:13 those who work in the temple. The Corinthian believers would understand this illustration not only from their knowledge of the OT (cf. Lev 7:28–36; Nu 18:8–20) but also from the practice in pagan temples in Greece and Rome.

9:15 this boast. That he had preached the gospel without charge, so that they could not say that they had paid him for it.

9:16 I am compelled to preach. The Lord had laid on Paul the necessity of preaching the gospel (Ac 9:1–16; 26:16–18; see also Jer 20:9 and note).

9:18 my reward . . . in preaching the gospel. Paul's reward in preaching is not material things but the boasting that he has preached to the Corinthians without charge and has not taken advantage of the rights he deserves: food and drink, shelter and pay (vv. 3–12).

9:19 I make myself a slave to everyone. Not only did Paul not use his right to material support in preaching the gospel but he also deprived himself—curtailed his personal privileges and social and religious rights—in dealing with different kinds of people. to win. To bring to Christ.

9:20 those under the law. Those under the OT law and religious practices (the Jews). I became like one under the law. For the Jews' sake Paul conformed to the Jewish law (Ac 16:3; 18:18; 21:20–26).

9:21 those not having the law. Those who have not been raised under the OT law (the Gentiles). I became like one not having the law. Paul accommodated himself to Gentile culture when it did not violate his allegiance to Christ, though he still reckoned that he was under God's law and Christ's law. (By "Christ's law" Paul is probably referring to Christ's teachings, though the term is not necessarily restricted to them.)

9:22 the weak. Those whose consciences are weak (8:9–12). I became weak. Paul did not exercise his Christian freedom in such things as eating meat sacrificed to idols (8:9,13).

9:23 blessings. The blessings of realizing that he has been faithful to Christ in preaching, of hearing the Lord's "Well done" (Mt 25:21; Lk 19:17) and of seeing others come to Christ.

9:24 race . . . runners. The Corinthians were familiar with the foot races in their own Isthmian games, which occurred every other year and were second only to the Olympic games in importance. prize. In ancient times the prize was a perishable wreath (v. 25).

9:25 crown that will last forever. See 2Ti 4:8; Jas 1:12; 1Pe 5:4; Rev 2:10; 3:11; 4:10 and notes.

do it to get a crown[m] that will not last; but we do it to get a crown that will last forever.[n] 26Therefore I do not run like a man running aimlessly;[o] I do not fight like a man beating the air.[p] 27No, I beat my body[q] and make it my slave so that after I have preached to others, I myself will not be disqualified for the prize.[r]

Warnings From Israel's History

10 For I do not want you to be ignorant[s] of the fact, brothers, that our forefathers were all under the cloud[t] and that they all passed through the sea.[u] 2They were all baptized into[v] Moses in the cloud and in the sea. 3They all ate the same spiritual food[w] 4and drank the same spiritual drink; for they drank from the spiritual rock[x] that accompanied them, and that rock was Christ. 5Nevertheless, God was not pleased with most of them; their bodies were scattered over the desert.[y]

6Now these things occurred as examples[u z] to keep us from setting our hearts on evil things as they did. 7Do not be idolaters,[a] as some of them were; as it is written: "The people sat down to eat and drink and got up to indulge in pagan revelry."[v b] 8We should not commit sexual immorality, as some of them did—and in one day twenty-three thousand of them died.[c] 9We should not test the Lord,[d] as some of them did—and were killed by snakes.[e] 10And do not grumble, as some of them did[f]—and were killed[g] by the destroying angel.[h]

11These things happened to them as examples[i] and were written down as warnings for us,[j] on whom the fulfillment of the ages has come.[k] 12So, if you think you are standing firm,[l] be careful that you don't fall! 13No temptation has seized you except what is common to man. And God is faithful;[m] he will not let you be tempted beyond what you can bear.[n] But when you are tempted, he will also provide a way out so that you can stand up under it.

9:26 not . . . running aimlessly. See Php 3:14.

9:27 I beat my body and make it my slave. Here Paul uses the figure of boxing to represent the Christian life. He does not aimlessly beat the air, but he severely disciplines his own body in serving Christ. not be disqualified for the prize. Paul realizes that he must with rigor serve the Lord and battle against sin. If he fails in this, he may be excluded from the reward (see 3:10–15).

10:1 under the cloud. Under God's leadership and guidance (Ex 13:21–22; Nu 9:15–23; 14:14; Dt 1:33; Ps 78:14). His guidance did not fail them—he successfully led them through the sea (Ex 14:22,29).

10:2 As a people, they were united under God's redemptive program, and they submitted to Moses, God's appointed leader (Ex 14:31). baptized. A figure used to depict their submission to Moses as their deliverer and leader, just as Christian baptism depicts the believer's submission to Christ as Savior and Lord.

10:3–4 spiritual food . . . spiritual drink. The manna and the water from the rock are used as figures representing the spiritual sustenance that God continually provides for his people (Ex 16:2–36; 17:1–7; Nu 20:2–11; 21:16).

10:4 that rock was Christ. The rock, from which the water came, and the manna were symbolic of supernatural sustenance through Christ, the bread of life and the water of life (Jn 4:14; 6:30–35).

10:5 God was not pleased with most of them. In spite of the remarkable privileges given to Israel (vv. 1–4), they failed to obey God, thus incurring his displeasure. Of the adults who came out of Egypt, only Caleb and Joshua were allowed to enter Canaan (Nu 14:22–24, 28–35; Jos 1:1–2).

10:6 as they did. What Paul has in mind is described in vv. 7–10.

10:7 idolaters. Referring to the incident of the golden calf (Ex 32:1–6). The people ate a ritual meal sacrificed to an idol (cf. ch. 8).

10:8 Refers to Israel's joining herself to Baal of Peor (Nu 25:1–9), participating in the worship of this god of the Moabites and engaging in sexual immorality with the prostitute virgins who worshiped this god. twenty-three thousand. The Hebrew and Greek (Septuagint) texts of Nu 25:9 have 24,000. It is clear that Paul is not striving for exactness. He is only speaking approximately. First-century writers were not as concerned about being precise as 20th-century authors often are.

10:10 do not grumble. As in Nu 16:41. destroying angel. Paul links the angel who brought the plague of Nu 16:46–50—because of the grumbling of the Israelites against Moses and Aaron (Nu 16:41)—with the destroying angel of Ex 12:23.

10:11 written down as warnings. See note on Ro 15:4. fulfillment of the ages. The period of time inaugurated by Christ's death and resurrection and continuing into the future until Christ's second coming and beyond. It is the period of fulfillment when all that God has been doing for his people throughout all previous ages comes to its fruition in the Messiah.

10:13 temptation. Temptation in itself is not sin. Jesus was tempted (Mt 4:1–11). Yielding to the temptation is sin. stand up under it. Through God's enablement to resist the temptation to sin.

10:14 flee from idolatry. Like that described in Ex 32:1–6. Corinthian Christians had come out of a background of paganism. Temples for the worship of Apollo, Asclepius, Demeter, Aphrodite and other pagan gods and goddesses were seen daily by the Corinthians as they engaged in the activities of everyday life. The worship of Aphrodite, with its many sacred prostitutes, was a particularly strong temptation.

10:16 cup of thanksgiving. One of the cups drunk at the Jewish Passover, at which time the Lord's Supper was instituted (Mt 26:17–30; Mk 14:12–26; Lk 22:7–23). participation in the blood of Christ. A memorial symbol of fellowship with the crucified Christ, not a literal drinking of his blood. When the Lord's Supper was instituted, Christ had not yet poured out his blood. The Lord's Supper is to not the cup of thanksgiving for which we give thanks a participation in the blood of Christ? And is not the bread that we break[q] a participation in the body of Christ?[r] 17Because there is one loaf, we, who are many, are one body,[s] for we all partake of the one loaf.

18Consider the people of Israel: Do not those who eat the sacrifices[t] participate in the altar? 19Do I mean then that a sacrifice offered to an idol is anything, or that an idol is anything?[u] 20No, but the sacrifices of pagans are offered to demons,[v] not to God, and I do not want you to be participants with demons. 21You cannot drink the cup of the Lord and the cup of demons too; you cannot have a part in both the Lord's table and the table of demons.[w] 22Are we trying to arouse the Lord's jealousy?[x] Are we stronger than he?[y]

The Believer's Freedom

23"Everything is permissible"—but not everything is beneficial.[z] "Everything is permissible"—but not everything is constructive. 24Nobody should seek his own good, but the good of others.[a]

25Eat anything sold in the meat market without raising questions of conscience,[b] 26for, "The earth is the Lord's, and everything in it."[wc]

27If some unbeliever invites you to a meal and you want to go, eat whatever is put before you[d] without raising questions of conscience. 28But if anyone says to you, "This has been offered in sacrifice," then do not eat it, both for the sake of the man who told you and for conscience' sake[xe]— 29the other man's conscience, I mean, not yours. For why should my freedom[f] be judged by another's conscience? 30If I take part in the meal with thankfulness, why am I denounced because of something I thank God for?[g]

31So whether you eat or drink or whatever you do, do it all for the glory of God.[h] 32Do not cause anyone to stumble,[i] whether Jews, Greeks or the church of God[j]— 33even as I try to please everybody in every way.[k] For I am not seeking my own good but the good of many,[l] so that they may be saved.[m] 11 1Follow my example,[n] as I follow the example of Christ.[o]

[w]26 Psalm 24:1 [x]28 Some manuscripts conscience' sake, for "the earth is the Lord's and everything in it" remind us of him (11:25).

10:17 one loaf. The act of many believers partaking of one loaf of bread symbolizes the unity of the body of Christ, the church, which is nourished by the one bread of life (see Jn 6:33–58).

10:18 those who eat the sacrifices participate in the altar. When the people of Israel ate part of the sacrifice made at the altar (Lev 7:15; 8:31; Dt 12:17–18), they participated in the worship of God, who established the sacrifices and whose altar it was. Likewise when the pagans sacrificed, they did so to demons (vv. 20–21). Paul denies that the idol is anything, i.e., that it is a real deity (v. 19). Nor is a sacrifice offered to a so-called god anything, because the idol is nothing and the god being worshiped is no god at all. In reality, demons (not gods) were the objects of idol worship. God's people are warned that if they do eat meat sacrificed to idols, they should not eat it with pagans in their temple feasts, for to do so is to become "participants with demons" (v. 20).

10:22 arouse the Lord's jealousy. By sharing in pagan idolatry and worship (cf. Ex 20:5; Dt 32:21; Ps 78:58).

10:23 not everything is constructive. See note on 6:12. Personal freedom and desire for one's rights are not the only considerations. One must also consider "the good of others" (v. 24; cf. 8:1; Gal 6:2).

10:25 Eat anything sold in the meat market. Even if it has been sacrificed to an idol, because out in the public market it has lost its pagan religious significance.

10:26 A quotation from Ps 24:1 used at Jewish mealtimes as a blessing (cf. Ps 50:12; 89:11).

10:27 eat whatever is put before you. Whether or not it might be meat sacrificed to idols, ask no questions. As long as the subject has not been brought up, you are free to eat the meat, even if it had been offered to an idol.

10:28 for the sake of the man who told you. If the meat has been identified as meat sacrificed to idols and you eat it, the man—whether a believer or an unbeliever—might think you condone, or even are willing to participate in, the worship of the idols the meat has been offered to. for conscience' sake. In eating meat that has publicly been declared to have been sacrificed to idols, you may offend "the other man's conscience" (v. 29) by causing him to think it is all right to eat meat sacrificed to idols even though he has doubts about it. Or if he is an unbeliever, he may think that the Christian worships both God and a pagan idol.

10:29 my freedom. Cf. Ro 14:16. The exercise of one's personal freedom is to be governed by whether it will bring glory to God, whether it will build up the church of God and whether it will encourage the unsaved to receive Christ as Savior and Lord (vv. 31–33).

10:30 something I thank God for. Paul could thank God for meat sacrificed to idols, for the idol is nothing and the meat is a part of God's created world.

10:31 all for the glory of God. The all-inclusive principle that governs the discussion in chs. 8–10 is that God should be glorified in everything that is done.

10:32 Do not cause anyone to stumble. The particular cause of stumbling Paul had in mind was that of eating meat offered to idols (see 8:13). Living to glorify God will result in doing what is beneficial for others, whether Christians ("the church of God") or non-Christians ("Jews, Greeks").

10:33 please everybody in every way. Paul does not mean that he will compromise the truths of the gospel in order to please everybody, but that he will consider his fellowman and not cause anyone's conscience to be offended by his daily life, thus keeping that person from receiving the gospel. that they may be saved. See 9:22.

11:1 Notice the order: (1) Christ is the supreme example (cf. 1Pe 2:21); (2) Christ's apostle follows his example ("as I follow"); (3) we are to follow the apostle's example.

Propriety in Worship

2 I praise you[p] for remembering me in everything[q] and for holding to the teachings,[r] just as I passed them on to you.[r]

3 Now I want you to realize that the head of every man is Christ,[s] and the head of the woman is man,[t] and the head of Christ is God.[u] 4 Every man who prays or prophesies[v] with his head covered dishonors his head. 5 And every woman who prays or prophesies[w] with her head uncovered dishonors her head—it is just as though her head were shaved.[x] 6 If a woman does not cover her head, she should have her hair cut off; and if it is a disgrace for a woman to have her hair cut or shaved off, she should cover her head. 7 A man ought not to cover his head,[z] since he is the image[y] and glory of God; but the woman is the glory of man. 8 For man did not come from woman, but woman from man;[z] 9 neither was man created for woman, but woman for man.[a] 10 For this reason, and because of the angels, the woman ought to have a sign of authority on her head.

11 In the Lord, however, woman is not independent of man, nor is man independent of woman. 12 For as woman came from man, so also man is born of woman. But everything comes from God.[b] 13 Judge for yourselves: Is it proper for a woman to pray to God with her head uncovered? 14 Does not the very nature of things teach you that if a man has long hair, it is a disgrace to him, 15 but that if a woman has long hair, it is her glory? For long hair is given to her as a covering.
16 If anyone wants to be contentious about this, we have no other practice—nor do the churches of God.[c]

11:3–16 The subject of this section is propriety in public worship, not male-female relations in general. Paul is concerned, however, that the proper relationship between husbands and wives be reflected in public worship. As in the previous section, he desires that all be done to the glory of God (10:31).

11:3 Some understand the term "head" to refer primarily to the concept of honor, in that one's physical head is the seat of his honor (cf. vv. 4–5). Thus as Christ honored God, man is to honor Christ, and woman is to honor her husband. Others see in the word "head" the idea of authority (which would also include the concept of honor). They point out that Paul clearly uses the term in the sense of authority in Eph 1:21–22 ("under his feet"; "head over everything"), in Eph 5:22–23 (where headship is seen in a context of submission) and in Col 1:18; 2:10. Thus as Christ is in authority over man and is therefore to be honored by man, so the husband is in a position of authority and is therefore to be honored by his wife. See note on 15:28.

11:4 The first use of "head" in this verse refers to man's physical head; the second refers to his spiritual Head (Christ)—or perhaps is intended in a double sense. In the culture of Paul's day, men uncovered their heads in worship to signify their respect for and submission to deity. When a man prayed or prophesied with his head covered, he failed to show the proper attitude toward Christ.

11:5–6 For a woman, taking off her head covering in public and exposing her hair was a sign of loose morals and sexual promiscuity. Paul says she might as well have her hair cut or shaved off. The shaved head indicated that the woman either had been publicly disgraced because of some shameful act or was openly flaunting her independence and her refusal to be in submission to her husband. Paul's message to her was: Show your respect for and submission to your husband by covering your head during public worship.

Some do not see in these verses a temporary cultural significance to the covering/uncovering of the head. They insist that, since Paul referred to the order of creation (vv. 7–9), his directive is not to be restricted to his time. Thus women of all times should wear a head covering.

Others find a lasting principle in the passage requiring wives, in all ways, to show respect for their husbands by submitting to their authority—not merely by a particular style of attire, but by godly lives. Man, who was created first, is to have authority over his wife (see 1Ti 2:11–14). The wife was made out of his body (Ge 2:21–24) to be his helper and companion (Ge 2:20). She is to honor her husband by submitting to him as her head (see v. 3).

Still others see these verses, not as a mandate for all marriages, but as reflecting marriage relationships at that time in Corinth and therefore giving a reason why the women there should have covered their heads (v. 10). They point to vv. 11–12 as a contrast, emphasizing equality and mutual dependence between men and women who are "in the Lord" (v. 11; see Gal 3:28; 1Pe 3:7).

11:10 angels. Perhaps mentioned here because they are interested in all aspects of the Christian's salvation and are sensitive to decorum in worship (cf. Eph 3:10; 1Ti 5:21). sign of authority. Understood by some to refer to the woman's authority as co-ruler with man in the creation (Ge 1:26–27). Others take the phrase to refer to the man's authority as properly recognized by the woman in her head covering.

11:13–14 proper ... the very nature of things. Believers must be conscious of how their actions appear in their culture, in light of what is considered to be honorable behavior.

11:16 In worship services, Paul and the churches in general followed the common custom of the men wearing short hair and the women long hair. Paul was basing his remarks, particularly in vv. 13–16, on common custom in the churches.

11:17 no praise. Contrast v. 2.

11:18 divisions. Paul had already dealt with one aspect of these divisions (1:10–17).

and to some extent I believe it. 19No doubt there have to be differences among you to show which of you have God's approval.[f] 20When you come together, it is not the Lord's Supper you eat, 21for as you eat, each of you goes ahead without waiting for anybody else.[g] One remains hungry, another gets drunk. 22Don't you have homes to eat and drink in? Or do you despise the church of God[h] and humiliate those who have nothing?[i] What shall I say to you? Shall I praise you[j] for this? Certainly not!

23For I received from the Lord[k] what I also passed on to you:[l] The Lord Jesus, on the night he was betrayed, took bread, 24and when he had given thanks, he broke it and said, "This is my body,[m] which is for you; do this in remembrance of me." 25In the same way, after supper he took the cup, saying, "This cup is the new covenant[n] in my blood;[o] do this, whenever you drink it, in remembrance of me." 26For whenever you eat this bread and drink this cup, you proclaim the Lord's death until he comes.[p]

27Therefore, whoever eats the bread or drinks the cup of the Lord in an unworthy manner will be guilty of sinning against the body and blood of the Lord.[q] 28A man ought to examine himself[r] before he eats of the bread and drinks of the cup. 29For anyone who eats and drinks without recognizing the body of the Lord eats and drinks judgment on himself. 30That is why many among you are weak and sick, and a number of you have fallen asleep.[s] 31But if we judged ourselves, we would not come under judgment.[t] 32When we are judged by the Lord, we are being disciplined[u] so that we will not be condemned with the world.[v]

33So then, my brothers, when you come together to eat, wait for each other. 34If anyone is hungry,[w] he should eat at home,[x] so that when you meet together it may not result in judgment.

And when I come[y] I will give further directions.

11:19 God's approval. As deplorable as factions may be, they serve one good purpose: They distinguish those who are faithful and true in God's sight.

11:20 not the Lord's Supper you eat. Their intention was to eat the Lord's Supper, but it was profaned by their gluttony and discrimination.

11:21 remains hungry ... gets drunk. The early church held the agape ("love") feast in connection with the Lord's Supper (cf. 2Pe 2:13; Jude 12). Perhaps the meal was something like a present-day potluck dinner. In good Greek style they brought food for all to share, the rich bringing more and the poor less, but because of their cliques the rich ate much and the poor were left hungry.

11:22 Shall I praise you for this? See v. 17.

11:23–26 Observe the similarity of Paul's words here with Mt 26:26–29; Mk 14:22–25; and especially Lk 22:17–20.

11:23 I received from the Lord. Paul does not necessarily mean that he received the message about the Lord's Supper directly from Christ. The information probably was passed on to him by others who had heard it from Jesus.

11:24 had given thanks. The Jewish practice at meals. This makes it a true Eucharist ("thanksgiving"). my body. The broken bread is a symbol of Christ's body given for sinners (Lk 22:19). in remembrance of me. As the Feast of Passover was a commemorative meal (see Ex 12:14), so also the Lord's Supper is a memorial supper, recalling and portraying Christ's death for sinners.

11:25 after supper. After the Passover supper. The Lord's Supper was first celebrated by Jesus in connection with the Passover meal (cf. Mt 26:18–30 and parallels in Mark and Luke). the cup. A symbol of the new covenant in Jesus' blood (Lk 22:20; cf. Jer 31:31–34). (The old covenant was the Mosaic or Sinaitic covenant; see Ex 24:3–8.) By the use of this covenant sign God signifies his bestowal of salvation upon his people, sealed and paid for by the shedding of Jesus' blood.

11:26 whenever you eat ... and drink. The Lord's Supper should be held periodically, but there is no explicit instruction as to how often. until he comes. Cf. Mt 26:29.

11:27 in an unworthy manner. In the irreverent and self-centered manner that characterized some of the Corinthians at their unruly agape supper (vv. 19–22).

11:28 examine himself. A person should test the attitude of his own heart and actions and his awareness of the significance of the Supper, thus making the Supper, under God, a spiritual means of grace.

11:29 without recognizing the body of the Lord. The word "body" may refer to either the Lord's physical body or the church as the body of Christ (see 12:13,27). The first view means that the person partakes of the Lord's Supper without recognizing that it symbolizes Christ's crucified body. But in that case, why is the blood not mentioned? The second view means that the participant is not aware of the nature of the church as the body of Christ, resulting in the self-centered actions of vv. 20–21. judgment. Not God's eternal judgment, which is to come on the unbeliever, but such disciplinary judgment as physical sickness and death (v. 30).

11:30 have fallen asleep. A common first-century figure of speech for death.

11:32 disciplined. As God's redeemed children we are disciplined—just as a human father disciplines his child—so that we might repent of our sins (cf. 2Co 7:10) and grow in grace (2Pe 3:18; Heb 12:7–11).

11:33 come together to eat. Another reference to the agape fellowship meal (see note on v. 21). Each person was to exercise restraint and wait to eat with the others. If a person was too hungry, he should satisfy his hunger at home and not bring selfish and discriminatory practices into the church.

11:34 when I come ... further directions. Paul suggests that they had other problems concerning the Lord's Supper that needed his attention, but he would take care of these later.

12:1 Now about. Suggests Paul is answering another question raised by the Corinthians in their letter (cf. 7:1; 8:1; 16:1). spiritual gifts. For a definition see note on 1:7, though a different Greek word is used there.

12:2 led astray to mute idols. At one time the Corinthians had been led by various influences to worship mute idols influenced and led astray to mute idols.[c] 3Therefore I tell you that no one who is speaking by the Spirit of God says, "Jesus be cursed,"[d] and no one can say, "Jesus is Lord,"[e] except by the Holy Spirit.[f]

4There are different kinds of gifts, but the same Spirit.[g] 5There are different kinds of service, but the same Lord. 6There are different kinds of working, but the same God[h] works all of them in all men.[i]

7Now to each one the manifestation of the Spirit is given for the common good.[j] 8To one there is given through the Spirit the message of wisdom,[k] to another the message of knowledge[l] by means of the same Spirit, 9to another faith[m] by the same Spirit, to another gifts of healing[n] by that one Spirit, 10to another miraculous powers,[o] to another prophecy,[p] to another distinguishing between spirits,[q] to another speaking in different kinds of tongues,[a r] and to still another the interpretation of tongues.[a] 11All these are the work of one and the same Spirit,[s] and he gives them to each one, just as he determines.

One Body, Many Parts

12The body is a unit, though it is made up of many parts; and though all its parts are many, they form one body.[t] So it is with Christ.[u] 13For we were all baptized[v] by[b] one Spirit[w] into one body—whether Jews or Greeks, slave or free[x]—and we were all given the one Spirit to drink.[y]

14Now the body is not made up of one part but of many.[z] 15If the foot should say, "Because I am not a hand, I do not belong to the body," it would not for that reason cease to be part of the body. 16And if the ear should say, "Because I am not an eye, I do not belong to the body," it would not for that reason cease to be part of the body. 17If the whole

[a] 10 Or languages; also in verse 28 [b] 13 Or with; or in

(cf. 10:19–20), but now they are to be led by the Holy Spirit.

12:3 "Jesus be cursed" ... "Jesus is Lord." One who is regenerated by the Holy Spirit cannot pronounce a curse on Jesus; rather, he is the only one who from the heart can confess, "Jesus is Lord" (cf. Jn 20:28; also 1Jn 4:2–3). The Greek word for "Lord" here is used in the Greek translation of the OT (the Septuagint) to translate the Hebrew name Yahweh ("the LORD").

12:4–6 same Spirit ... same Lord ... same God. These verses, reflecting the Trinity, show the diversity and unity of spiritual gifts.

12:4 gifts. Gifts of grace produced by the indwelling Holy Spirit. See note on v. 1.

12:5 service. The Greek word in its various forms is used to indicate service to the Christian community, such as serving tables (Ac 6:2–3); it is also the word used a little later in the first-century Christian church for the office of deacon (Php 1:1).

12:6 working. The Greek word indicates power that is in operation. Spiritual gifts produce results that are obvious.

12:7 to each one the manifestation ... given for the common good. Every member of the body of Christ has been given some spiritual gift that is an evidence of the Spirit's working in his life. All the gifts are intended to build up the members of the Christian community (see 1Pe 4:10–11). They are not to be used for selfish advantage, as some in the Corinthian community apparently were doing.

12:8 To one ... to another. Not everyone has the same gift or all the gifts. message of wisdom ... knowledge. Gifts that meet the need of the Christian community when knowledge or wisdom is required to make decisions or to choose proper courses of action.

12:9 faith. Not saving faith, which all Christians have, but faith to meet a specific need within the body of Christ. gifts of healing. Lit. "gifts of healings." The double plural may suggest different kinds of illnesses and the various ways God heals them.

12:10 miraculous powers. Lit. "deeds of power." In Scripture a miracle is an action that cannot be explained by natural means. It is an act of God intended as evidence of his power and purpose. prophecy. A communication of the mind of God imparted to a believer by the Holy Spirit. It may be a prediction (cf. Agabus, Ac 11:28; 21:10–11) or an indication of the will of God in a given situation (cf. 14:29–30; Ac 13:1–2). distinguishing between spirits. Since there can also be false prophecies that come from evil spirits, this gift is necessary in order to distinguish the true from the false (cf. 1Jn 4:1–6). different kinds of tongues. Since the Greek word for "tongues" means "languages" or "dialects," some understand it to refer to the ability to speak in unlearned human languages, as the apostles did on the day of Pentecost (Ac 2:4,6,11; cf. also 1Co 14:9–10). Others believe that in chs. 12–14 the term "tongues" refers to both earthly and heavenly languages, including ecstatic languages of praise and prayer (13:1; 14:2,10). interpretation of tongues. The communication of the message spoken in a tongue so that hearers can understand and be edified (cf. 14:5, 13,27–28).

12:11 as he determines. The Holy Spirit sovereignly determines which gift or gifts each believer should have.

12:12 a unit ... many parts. This example illustrates the unity and diversity of the different spiritual gifts exercised by God's people, who are all members of the one body of Christ. with Christ. With Christ's body, the church, of which he is the head (Eph 1:22–23).

12:13 all baptized by one Spirit into one body. Spiritually baptized, regenerated by the Holy Spirit (Jn 3:3,5) and united with Christ as part of his body. Jews or Greeks. In Christ there is no racial or cultural distinction. slave or free. No social distinction. all given the one Spirit to drink. God has given all his people the Holy Spirit to indwell them (6:19) so that their lives may overflow with the fruit of the Spirit (Gal 5:22–23; cf. Jn 7:37–39).

12:14–20 Addressed mainly to those who feel that their gifts are inferior and unimportant. Apparently the more spectacular gifts (such as tongues) had been glorified in the Corinthian church, making those who did not have them feel inferior.

12:14 As the human body must have diversity to work effectively as a whole, so the members of Christ's body have diverse gifts, the use of which can help bring about the accomplishment of Christ's united purpose. Each must properly exercise his gifts or effectively use his position for the good of the whole: e.g., the gift of the message of wisdom, the message of knowledge, the position of apostle, elder (1Pe 5:1), deacon (Ac 6:1–6).

body were an eye, where would the sense of hearing be? If the whole body were an ear, where would the sense of smell be? 18But in fact God has arranged[a] the parts in the body, every one of them, just as he wanted them to be.[b] 19If they were all one part, where would the body be? 20As it is, there are many parts, but one body.[c] 21The eye cannot say to the hand, "I don't need you!" And the head cannot say to the feet, "I don't need you!" 22On the contrary, those parts of the body that seem to be weaker are indispensable, 23and the parts that we think are less honorable we treat with special honor. And the parts that are unpresentable are treated with special modesty, 24while our presentable parts need no special treatment. But God has combined the members of the body and has given greater honor to the parts that lacked it, 25so that there should be no division in the body, but that its parts should have equal concern for each other. 26If one part suffers, every part suffers with it; if one part is honored, every part rejoices with it.

27Now you are the body of Christ,[d] and each one of you is a part of it.[e] 28And in the church[f] God has appointed first of all apostles,[g] second prophets,[h] third teachers, then workers of miracles, also those having gifts of healing,[i] those able to help others, those with gifts of administration,[j] and those speaking in different kinds of tongues.[k] 29Are all apostles? Are all prophets? Are all teachers? Do all work miracles? 30Do all have gifts of healing? Do all speak in tongues[c]? Do all interpret? 31But eagerly desire[d][m] the greater gifts.

12:18 Paul stresses the sovereign purpose of God in diversifying the parts of the body; by implication he is saying that God has arranged that different Christians in the body of Christ exercise different spiritual gifts, not the same gift. And this diversity is intended to accomplish God's unified purpose. God's method employs diversity to create unity.

12:21–26 Addressed mainly to those who feel that their gifts are superior and most important. These verses provide another indication that some gifts, like tongues, had been magnified as being preeminent.

12:21 The principle here is the interdependence of the parts of the body in the one whole. Christians in the body of Christ are mutually dependent as they exercise their distinctive functions.

12:22 weaker are indispensable. Christians who seem to have less important functions in the body of Christ are actually indispensable.

12:23 the parts that we think are less honorable we treat with special honor. Just as we give food to the stomach, though it is a less attractive part of the body, so we should give honor and support to the Christians in the church who have ordinary gifts (in their functions). the parts that are unpresentable are treated with special modesty. Christians whose functions may be very obscure in the church are to be given special respect.

12:24 Persons with more spectacular gifts do not need to be given special honor.

12:25 no division. See 1:10–12.

12:26 every part suffers. In the body of Christ if one Christian suffers, all the Christians are affected (cf. Ac 12:1–5—the martyrdom of James and the imprisonment of Peter).

12:27 you are the body of Christ. Addressed to the local church at Corinth. Each local church is the body of Christ just as the universal church is Christ's body.

12:28 The list here differs somewhat from that in vv. 8–10 (see notes there). Paul notes three of the gifted individuals of Eph 4:11, then five of the spiritual gifts listed in vv. 8–10. The apostles and prophets were part of the foundation of the church (Eph 2:20), and teaching was associated with the pastoral office (Eph 4:11; 1Ti 3:2). These three gifted individuals are listed as "first," "second" and "third," indicating their importance in the church. The rest of the list is introduced with "then," indicating the variety that follows. Paul's lists of spiritual gifts seem to be largely random samples. Apart from v. 28a he does not rank them in importance since he has already insisted that all gifts are important (vv. 21–26). apostles. Those chosen by Christ during his earthly ministry to be with him and to go out and preach (Mk 3:14). They were also to be witnesses of the resurrection (Ac 1:21–22). The term may occasionally have been used in a broader sense (Ro 16:7; Gal 1:19). miracles ... healing ... tongues. See notes on vv. 9–10. to help others. Any act of helping others may be the product of a spiritual gift (cf. Ro 12:6–8), though the primary reference here is probably to a ministry to the poor, needy, sick and distressed (cf. Ac 6:1–6). administration. Those with gifts of administration were enabled by the Holy Spirit to organize and project plans and spiritual programs in the church.

12:29–30 Are all apostles ...? Christians have different gifts, and no one gift should be expected by everyone.

12:31 eagerly desire the greater gifts. See v. 28; 14:1,5,12,39. If the alternative translation (see NIV text note) is correct, the Corinthians were apparently seeking status through the exercise of the gifts that seemed to them to be more important. the most excellent way. Paul now shows the right way to exercise all spiritual gifts—the way of love. He does not identify love as a gift; rather, it is a fruit of the Spirit (Gal 5:22).

13:1–3 tongues ... prophecy ... faith ... give. Paul selects four gifts as examples. He declares that even their most spectacular manifestations mean nothing unless motivated by love.

13:1 tongues of men and of angels. Paul uses hyperbole. Even if he could speak not only the various languages that human beings speak but even the languages used by angels—if he did not speak in love, it would be nothing but noise. love. The Greek for this word indicates a selfless concern for the welfare of others that is not called forth by any quality of lovableness in the person loved, but is the product of a will to love in obedience to God's command. It is like Christ's love manifested on the cross (cf. Jn 13:34–35; 1Jn 3:16).

clanging cymbal. 2If I have the gift of prophecy[o] and can fathom all mysteries[p] and all knowledge,[q] and if I have a faith[r] that can move mountains,[s] but have not love, I am nothing. 3If I give all I possess to the poor[t] and surrender my body to the flames,[fu] but have not love, I gain nothing.

4Love is patient,[v] love is kind. It does not envy, it does not boast, it is not proud.[w] 5It is not rude, it is not self-seeking,[x] it is not easily angered,[y] it keeps no record of wrongs.[z] 6Love does not delight in evil[a] but rejoices with the truth.[b] 7It always protects, always trusts, always hopes, always perseveres.[c]

8Love never fails. But where there are prophecies,[d] they will cease; where there are tongues,[e] they will be stilled; where there is knowledge, it will pass away. 9For we know in part[f] and we prophesy in part, 10but when perfection comes,[g] the imperfect disappears. 11When I was a child, I talked like a child, I thought like a child, I reasoned like a child. When I became a man, I put childish ways[h] behind me. 12Now we see but a poor reflection as in a mirror;[i] then we shall see face to face.[j] Now I know in part; then I shall know fully, even as I am fully known.[k]

13And now these three remain: faith, hope and love.[l] But the greatest of these is love.[m]

Gifts of Prophecy and Tongues

14 Follow the way of love[n] and eagerly desire[o] spiritual gifts,[p] especially the gift of prophecy.[q] 2For anyone who speaks in a tongue[gr] does not speak to men but to God. Indeed, no one understands him;[s] he utters mysteries[t] with his spirit.[h] 3But everyone who prophesies speaks to men for their strengthening,[u] encouragement[v] and comfort. 4He who speaks in a tongue[w] edifies[x] himself, but he who prophesies[y] edifies the church. 5I would like

13:2 all mysteries and all knowledge. Again Paul uses hyperbole to express the amount of understanding possessed. Even if one's gift is unlimited knowledge, if one does not possess and exercise that knowledge in love, he is nothing. faith that can move mountains. A special capacity to trust God to meet outstanding needs. Again Paul uses hyperbole.

13:3 surrender my body to the flames. A reference to suffering martyrdom through burning at the stake, as many early Christians experienced. Even the supreme sacrifice, if not motivated by love, accomplishes nothing.

13:4–7 Love is now described both positively and negatively.

13:4 not proud. See 8:1.

13:5 not rude. Perhaps an indirect reference to their unruly conduct in worship (11:18–22).

13:6 does not delight in evil. As they were doing in ch. 5.

13:8 prophecies ... will cease; ... tongues ... will be stilled; ... knowledge ... will pass away. These three will cease because they are partial in nature (v. 9) and will be unnecessary when what is complete has come (v. 10).

13:10 perfection. The Greek for this word can mean "end," "fulfillment," "completeness" or "maturity." In this context the contrast is between the partial and the complete. Some refer the verse to the return of Christ, others to the death of the Christian, others to the maturity (or establishment) of the church (see the illustration in v. 11), still others to the completion of the canon of NT Scripture. Verse 12, however, seems to indicate that Paul is here speaking of Christ's second coming.

13:12 we see but a poor reflection as in a mirror. The imagery is of a polished metal (probably bronze) mirror in which one could receive only an imperfect reflection (cf. Jas 1:23)—in contrast to seeing the Lord directly and clearly in heaven. know fully ... fully known. The Christian will know the Lord to the fullest extent possible for a finite being, similar to the way the Lord knows the Christian fully and infinitely. This will not be true until the Lord returns.

13:13 remain. Now and forever. faith, hope and love. See note on 1Th 1:3. the greatest of these is love. Because God is love (1Jn 4:8) and has communicated his love to us (1Jn 4:10) and commands us to love one another (Jn 13:34–35). Love supersedes the gifts because it outlasts them all. Long after these sought-after gifts are no longer necessary, love will still be the governing principle that controls all that God and his redeemed people are and do.

14:1–5 The basic principle Paul insists on is that whatever is done in the church must contribute to the edification (building up) of the body. This is in keeping with the declaration in 12:7 that gifts are "given for the common good." It also is in agreement with the principle of love (ch. 13). What is spoken in the church, then, must be intelligible—it must be spoken in the vernacular language or at least be interpreted in the vernacular. Prophecy is therefore more desirable than tongues (unless an interpreter is present) because prophecy is spoken in the native language of the listeners.

14:1 the way of love ... spiritual gifts. Love is the means by which spiritual gifts are made effective. especially the gift of prophecy. See note on 12:10.

14:2 tongue. See NIV text note. The hearers cannot understand what the person who speaks in a tongue is saying. Therefore what he says is a mystery unless it is interpreted. Only God understands it. with his spirit. It is not spoken from his mind (see vv. 14–17).

14:3 In prophesying the speaker can edify and encourage others (12:7).

14:4 edifies himself. This edification does not involve the mind since the speaker does not understand what he has said. It is a personal edification in the area of the emotions, of deepening conviction, of fuller commitment and greater love.

14:5 like ... you to speak in tongues. Paul was not opposed to tongues-speaking if it was practiced properly. He who prophesies is greater. Because he serves the common good more effectively since what he says can be understood and thus edifies the church. unless he inter-

every one of you to speak in tongues,[i] but I would rather have you prophesy.[z] He who prophesies is greater than one who speaks in tongues,[i] unless he interprets, so that the church may be edified.[a]

[6]Now, brothers, if I come to you and speak in tongues, what good will I be to you, unless I bring you some revelation[b] or knowledge[c] or prophecy or word of instruction?[d] [7]Even in the case of lifeless things that make sounds, such as the flute or harp, how will anyone know what tune is being played unless there is a distinction in the notes? [8]Again, if the trumpet does not sound a clear call, who will get ready for battle?[e] [9]So it is with you. Unless you speak intelligible words with your tongue, how will anyone know what you are saying? You will just be speaking into the air. [10]Undoubtedly there are all sorts of languages in the world, yet none of them is without meaning. [11]If then I do not grasp the meaning of what someone is saying, I am a foreigner to the speaker, and he is a foreigner to me.[f] [12]So it is with you. Since you are eager to have spiritual gifts,[g] try to excel in gifts that build up[h] the church.

[13]For this reason anyone who speaks in a tongue should pray that he may interpret what he says.[i] [14]For if I pray in a tongue, my spirit prays,[j] but my mind is unfruitful. [15]So what shall I do? I will pray with my spirit,[k] but I will also pray with my mind; I will sing[l] with my spirit, but I will also sing with my mind. [16]If you are praising God with your spirit, how can one who finds himself among those who do not understand[j] say "Amen"[m] to your thanksgiving,[n] since he does not know what you are saying? [17]You may be giving thanks well enough, but the other man is not edified.[o]

[18]I thank God that I speak in tongues more than all of you. [19]But in the church I would rather speak five intelligible words to instruct others than ten thousand words in a tongue.[p]

[20]Brothers, stop thinking like children.[q] In regard to evil be infants,[r] but in your thinking be adults. [21]In the Law[s] it is written:

> "Through men of strange tongues > and through the lips of foreigners
> I will speak to this people, > but even then they will not listen to me,"[k][t]

says the Lord.

[22]Tongues, then, are a sign, not for believers but for unbelievers; prophecy,[u] however, is for believers, not for unbelievers. [23]So if the whole church comes prets. If the tongues-speaker also has the gift of interpretation, his speaking is as beneficial as prophecy, for then it can be understood (see v. 13).

14:6 what good will I be . . . ? It would be useless for a person to speak in tongues unless, by interpretation, he brings the church something understandable and edifying.

14:7 flute or harp. Instruments that were well known in Greece. distinction in the notes. For a person to recognize the tune and to understand and appreciate it, there must be a variety of notes so arranged as to create a meaningful tune. One note repeated monotonously cannot accomplish this.

14:8 the trumpet . . . ready for battle. All Greeks would be acquainted with the use of the trumpet for battle signals (cf. Homer's Iliad, 18.219), and the Jews would be familiar with the use of the ram's horn (Nu 10:9; Jos 6:4,9). Again, the notes sounded must convey a message.

14:9 speak intelligible words. Speak in the vernacular language of the listeners rather than in a tongue (or else provide an interpretation).

14:10 all sorts of languages. Some see vv. 10–11 as an indication that the tongues of chs. 12–14 were unlearned foreign languages.

14:12 excel in gifts that build up the church. The basic principle of ch. 14.

14:14 mind is unfruitful. When a person speaks in tongues or prays in tongues, the human mind does not produce the language.

14:15–17 pray . . . sing . . . praising God . . . say "Amen" . . . thanksgiving. Elements employed in OT (1Ch 16:36; Ne 5:13; 8:6; Ps 104:33; 136:1; 148:1) and NT worship (Ro 11:36; Eph 5:18–20). "Amen," meaning "It is true" or "So be it," is the believer's confession of agreement with the words spoken (cf. Gal 1:5). Thus it is important that a message in tongues be interpreted.

14:15 pray with my spirit . . . with my mind . . . sing with my spirit . . . with my mind. May mean that Paul will sometimes pray or sing with his spirit in a tongue; at other times he will pray or sing with his mind in his own language. Others believe that Paul was declaring his intention to pray or sing with both mind and spirit at the same time.

14:19 But in the church. Some believe that an interpretation is unnecessary when the gift of tongues is being used as a private prayer language. They base such a distinction on v. 18 (see v. 14) when compared with the phrase quoted here.

14:20 In regard to evil be infants. Just as in the case of infants, have no evil desires or wrong motives in wanting to excel in spiritual gifts (such as speaking in tongues) as an end in itself.

14:21–22 The passage from Isa 28 indicates that the foreign language of the Assyrians was a sign to unbelieving Israel that judgment was coming on them. Paul deduced from this fact that tongues were intended to be a sign for unbelievers (v. 22), as, e.g., in Ac 2:4–12. Similarly, prophecy was for believers (v. 22) since it communicated revealed truth to those disposed to receive it (cf. Mt 13:11–16).

14:21 In the Law. Cf. Ro 3:10–19, where Paul quotes from a number of passages from the OT, including Isaiah, and then in v. 19 collectively calls them "the law."

14:23 some who do not understand. Perhaps those who had become "inquirers" (see NIV text note) concerning the gospel but as yet did not really understand. some unbelievers. Those who have made no movement toward saving faith. The context is a meeting of the church in which everyone is speaking in tongues with the result that general confusion reigns. out of your mind. The visitors will be repulsed by the confusion, and the phenomenon meant to together and everyone speaks in tongues, and some who do not understand[l] or some unbelievers come in, will they not say that you are out of your mind?[v] [24]But if an unbeliever or someone who does not understand[m] comes in while everybody is prophesying, he will be convinced by all that he is a sinner and will be judged by all, [25]and the secrets[w] of his heart will be laid bare. So he will fall down and worship God, exclaiming, "God is really among you!"[x]

Orderly Worship

[26]What then shall we say, brothers?[y] When you come together, everyone[z] has a hymn,[a] or a word of instruction,[b] a revelation, a tongue[c] or an interpretation.[d] All of these must be done for the strengthening[e] of the church. [27]If anyone speaks in a tongue, two—or at the most three—should speak, one at a time, and someone must interpret. [28]If there is no interpreter, the speaker should keep quiet in the church and speak to himself and God.

[29]Two or three prophets[f] should speak, and the others should weigh carefully what is said.[g] [30]And if a revelation comes to someone who is sitting down, the first speaker should stop. [31]For you can all prophesy in turn so that everyone may be instructed and encouraged. [32]The spirits of prophets are subject to the control of prophets.[h] [33]For God is not a God of disorder[i] but of peace.[j]

As in all the congregations[k] of the saints,[l] [34]women should remain silent in the churches. They are not allowed to speak,[m] but must be in submission,[n] as the Law[o] says. [35]If they want to inquire about something, they should ask their own husbands at home; for it is disgraceful for a woman to speak in the church.

[36]Did the word of God[p] originate with you? Or are you the only people it has reached? [37]If anybody thinks he is a be an impressive sign will have a negative effect on the unsaved.

14:24 everybody is prophesying. Prophecy, spoken in the vernacular language and intended for believers, turns out to have a positive effect on unbelievers because they hear and understand and are convicted of their sins. (Yet see restrictions on prophesying in vv. 29–32 and notes there.)

14:26–27 everyone ... anyone ... someone. The stress here is again on the diversity and yet complementary nature of spiritual gifts. It is also apparent that every member could participate, not just certain leaders or officers.

14:26 a hymn, or a word of instruction, a revelation, a tongue or an interpretation. Elements that made up the worship service at Corinth. Some of these elements (the hymn and the word of instruction) came from OT and synagogue worship (cf. Mt 26:30; Lk 4:16–22). All parts of Christian worship should be edifying ("strengthening") to the church.

14:27–28 Three restrictions are placed on speaking in a tongue "in the church" (v. 28): 1. Only two or three should do so in a meeting. 2. They should do so one at a time. 3. There must be interpretation.

14:28 the speaker should keep quiet. The implication seems to be that it was up to the one speaking in a tongue in the Corinthian church to make certain that there was in the audience someone to interpret his message.

14:29 Two or three prophets should speak. Apparently in turn (v. 31), as with the tongues-speakers (v. 27). weigh carefully. Judge. The prophets themselves were to decide whether the messages of their fellow prophets were valid (see note on v. 32).

14:30 a revelation. Not an inspired revelation intended to become a part of written Scripture. In OT times, Scriptural revelation came through prophets, and in NT times through apostles or close associates of apostles. Prophecy referred to in chs. 12–14 could come through any member of the church (vv. 26,29–31). It could be a prediction (Agabus, Ac 11:28; 21:10–11), a divine directive (Ac 13:1–2) or a message designed to strengthen, encourage or comfort (v. 3).

14:32 control of prophets. Prophecy (and tongues as well) was not an uncontrollable emotional ecstasy. Paul insists that these gifts should be controlled by the recipients themselves (vv. 15, 26–32). See notes on vv. 27–29.

14:33 God ... of peace. See note on 1Th 5:23. disorder. Paul was concerned that disorderly and unregulated worship at Corinth would bring discredit on the name of the God who had called them in Christ to peace and unity. in all the congregations of the saints. A unique expression in the NT that stresses the universality and commonality of the whole visible church of God on earth. All congregations are to obey the directives that follow.

14:34–35 See note on 11:3–16. Some believe that in light of 11:3 there is a God-ordained order that is to be the basis for administration and authority. Women are to be in submission to their husbands both at home (see Eph 5:22) and in the church (see v. 34; 1Ti 2:11–12) regardless of their particular culture. According to this view, a timeless order was established at creation (see note on 11:5–6).

Others maintain that Paul's concern is that the church be strengthened (v. 26) by believers showing respect for others (see vv. 30–31) and for God (see v. 33) as they exercise their spiritual gifts. Such respect must necessarily take account of accepted social practices. If within a particular social order, it is disgraceful for a woman to speak in church—and it was in this case (v. 35)—then she shows disrespect by doing so and should remain silent. There were occasions, though—even in this culture—for women to speak in church. For example, in 11:5 Paul assumes that women pray and prophesy in public worship. Thus his purpose, according to this view, was not to define the role of women but to establish a fitting (vv. 34–35) and orderly (vv. 27–31) way of worship (v. 40).

Still others say that in this context Paul is discussing primarily the disruption of worship by women who become involved in noisy discussions surrounding tongues-speaking and prophecy. Instead of publicly clamoring for explanations, the wives were to discuss matters with their husbands at home (cf. v. 35). Paul does not altogether forbid women to speak in church (see 11:5). What he is forbidding is the disorderly speaking indicated in these verses.

14:36 Paul asks these rhetorical questions sarcastically, suggesting that the Corinthians were following their own practice in these matters rather than conforming to God's word.

14:37 the Lord's command. Paul's commands are the Lord's commands and are to be followed. In a situation prophet[q] or spiritually gifted,[r] let him acknowledge that what I am writing to you is the Lord's command.[s] [38]If he ignores this, he himself will be ignored.[n]

[39]Therefore, my brothers, be eager[t] to prophesy,[u] and do not forbid speaking in tongues. [40]But everything should be done in a fitting and orderly[v] way.

The Resurrection of Christ

15 Now, brothers, I want to remind you of the gospel[w] I preached to you,[x] which you received and on which you have taken your stand. [2]By this gospel you are saved,[y] if you hold firmly[z] to the word I preached to you. Otherwise, you have believed in vain.

[3]For what I received[a] I passed on to you[b] as of first importance[o]: that Christ died for our sins[c] according to the Scriptures,[d] [4]that he was buried,[e] that he was raised[f] on the third day[g] according to the Scriptures,[h] [5]and that he appeared to Peter,[p][i] and then to the Twelve.[j] [6]After that, he appeared to more than five hundred of the brothers at the same time, most of whom are still living, though some have fallen asleep.[k] [7]Then he appeared to James,[l] then to all the apostles,[m] [8]and last of all he appeared to me also,[n] as to one abnormally born.

[9]For I am the least of the apostles[o] and do not even deserve to be called an apostle, because I persecuted[p] the church of God.[q] [10]But by the grace[r] of God I am what I am, and his grace to me[s] was not without effect. No, I worked harder than all of them[t]—yet not I, but the grace of God that was with me.[u] [11]Whether, then, it was I or they,[v] this is what we preach, and this is what you believed.

where so much stress was being placed on gifts, Paul insists that any genuinely gifted person will recognize the apostle's God-given authority.

14:38 he himself will be ignored. Paul and the churches will ignore such a disobedient person, and so he will be regarded as an unbeliever.

14:39 do not forbid speaking in tongues. Paul's solution to the tongues problem in the Corinthian church was not to forbid tongues, but to correct the improper use of the gift.

14:40 a fitting and orderly way. As spelled out in vv. 26–35.

15:2 if you hold firmly. See note on Heb 3:14. believed in vain. If you are not persevering in the Christian faith, this is an evidence that you did not have saving faith in the first place (cf. Judas Iscariot, who eventually showed that he was not a true believer).

15:3–5 Two lines of evidence for the death and resurrection of Christ are given here: (1) the testimony of the OT (e.g., Ps 16:8–11; Isa 53:5–6,11) and (2) the testimony of eyewitnesses (Ac 1:21–22). Six resurrection appearances are listed here. The Gospels give more.

15:3 what I received I passed on to you as of first importance. Here Paul links himself with early Christian tradition. He was not its originator, nor did he receive it directly from the Lord. His source was other Christians. The verbs he uses are technical terms for receiving and transmitting tradition (see note on 11:23). What follows is the heart of the gospel: that Christ died for our sins (not for his own sins; cf. Heb 7:27), that he was buried (confirmation that he had really died) and that he was raised from the dead.

15:4 on the third day. Cf. Mt 12:40. The Jews counted parts of days as whole days. Thus the three days would include part of Friday afternoon, all of Saturday, and Sunday morning. A similar way of reckoning time is seen in Jn 20:26 (lit. "after eight days," NIV "a week later"); two Sundays are implied, one at each end of the expression.

15:5 Peter . . . the Twelve. The appearance to Peter is the one mentioned in Lk 24:34, which occurred on Easter Sunday. The appearance to the Twelve seems to have taken place on Sunday evening (see Lk 24:36–43; Jn 20:19–23). "The Twelve" seems to have been used to refer to the group of original apostles, even though Judas was no longer with them (notice, however, that the 11 disciples, the 11 apostles or "the Eleven" are referred to in Mt 28:16; Mk 16:14; Lk 24:9,33; Ac 1:26).

15:6 more than five hundred . . . at the same time. The appearance to this large group may be mentioned to help bolster the faith of those Corinthians who evidently had some doubts about the resurrection of Christ (cf. v. 12). This appearance may be the one in Galilee recorded in Mt 28:10,16–20, where the Eleven and possibly more met the risen Lord. some have fallen asleep. A common expression at that time for physical death (cf. Ac 7:60).

15:7 James. Since this James is listed in addition to the apostles, he is not James son of Zebedee or James son of Alphaeus (Mt 10:2–3). This is James, the half-brother of Jesus (Mt 13:55), who did not believe in Christ before the resurrection (Jn 7:5) but afterward joined the apostolic band (Ac 1:14) and later became prominent in the Jerusalem church (Ac 15:13). It is not clear in Scripture when and where this appearance to James occurred. to all the apostles. For example, Ac 1:6–11.

15:8 last of all. See Ac 9:1–8. This appearance to Paul came several years after the resurrection (perhaps c. A.D. 33). one abnormally born. Paul was not part of the original group of apostles. He had not lived with Christ as the others had. His entry into the apostolic office was not "normal." Furthermore, at his conversion he was abruptly snatched from his former way of life (Ac 9:3–6).

15:9 church of God. In persecuting the church, he was actually persecuting Christ (see Ac 9:4–5).

15:12–19 Some at Corinth were saying that there was no resurrection of the body, and Paul draws a number of conclusions from this false contention. If the dead do not rise from the grave, then (1) "not even Christ has been raised" (v. 13); (2) "our preaching is useless" (v. 14); (3) "so is your faith" (v. 14); (4) we are "false witnesses" that God raised Christ from the dead (v. 15); (5) "your faith is futile" (v. 17); (6) "you are still in your sins" (v. 17) and still carry the guilt and condemnation of sin; (7) "those also who have fallen asleep [have died] in Christ are lost" (v. 18); and (8) "we are to be pitied" who "only for this life . . . hope in Christ" (v. 19) and put up with persecu-been raised from the dead,[w] how can some of you say that there is no resurrection[x] of the dead? [y] [13]If there is no resurrection of the dead, then not even Christ has been raised. [14]And if Christ has not been raised,[z] our preaching is useless and so is your faith. [15]More than that, we are then found to be false witnesses about God, for we have testified about God that he raised Christ from the dead.[a] But he did not raise him if in fact the dead are not raised. [16]For if the dead are not raised, then Christ has not been raised either. [17]And if Christ has not been raised, your faith is futile; you are still in your sins.[b] [18]Then those also who have fallen asleep[c] in Christ are lost. [19]If only for this life we have hope in Christ, we are to be pitied more than all men.[d]

[20]But Christ has indeed been raised from the dead,[e] the firstfruits[f] of those who have fallen asleep.[g] [21]For since death came through a man,[h] the resurrection of the dead[i] comes also through a man. [22]For as in Adam all die, so in Christ all will be made alive.[j] [23]But each in his own turn: Christ, the firstfruits;[k] then, when he comes,[l] those who belong to him.[m] [24]Then the end will come, when he hands over the kingdom[n] to God the Father after he has destroyed all dominion, authority and power.[o] [25]For he must reign[p] until he has put all his enemies under his feet.[q] [26]The last enemy to be destroyed is death.[r] [27]For he "has put everything under his feet."[qs] Now when it says that "everything" has been put under him, it is clear that this does not include God himself, who put everything under Christ.[t] [28]When he has done this, then the Son himself will be made subject to him who put everything under him,[u] so that God may be all in all.[v]

[29]Now if there is no resurrection, what will those do who are baptized for the dead? If the dead are not raised at all, why are people baptized for them? [30]And as for us, why do we endanger ourselves every hour?[w] [31]I die every day[x]—I tion and hardship.

15:12 Christ has been raised. Christ was raised historically on the third day. Paul uses this same verb form (that expresses the certainty of Christ's bodily resurrection) a total of seven times in this passage (vv. 4,12–14,16–17,20).

15:20 But Christ has indeed been raised. Paul's categorical conclusion based on his evidence set forth in vv. 3–8. firstfruits. The first sheaf of the harvest given to the Lord (Lev 23:10–11,17,20) as a token that all the harvest belonged to the Lord and would be dedicated to him through dedicated lives. So Christ, who has been raised, is the guarantee of the resurrection of all of God's redeemed people (cf. 1Th 4:13–18).

15:21 death came through a man. Through Adam (Ge 3:17–19). the resurrection of the dead comes also through a man. Through Christ, the second Adam, "the last Adam" (v. 45; cf. Ro 5:12–21).

15:22 in Adam all die. All who are "in Adam"—i.e., his descendants—suffer death. in Christ all will be made alive. All who are "in Christ"—i.e., who are related to him by faith—will be made alive at the resurrection (cf. Jn 5:25; 1Th 4:16–17; Rev 20:6).

15:23 each in his own turn. Christ, the firstfruits, was raised in his own time in history (c. A.D. 30), and those who are identified with Christ by faith will be raised at his second coming. His resurrection is the pledge that ours will follow.

15:24 the end. The second coming of Christ and all the events accompanying it. This includes his handing over the kingdom to the Father, following his destroying all dominion, authority and power of the persons and forces who oppose him.

15:25 For he must reign. During this process of Christ's destroying all dominion and handing over the kingdom to the Father, Christ must reign (Rev 20:1–6). Some take this to mean that Christ will literally reign with his saints for 1,000 years on the earth (cf. Isa 2:2–4; Mic 4:1–5). Others believe that this refers to Christ's reign over the course of history and in the lives of his people, who are spiritually raised, or born again. This reign is viewed as continuing throughout the present age. under his feet. An OT figure for complete conquest. Verse 25 is an allusion to Ps 110:1 (cf. Mt 22:44).

15:26 This destruction of death will occur at the end of the second-coming events after Christ conquers his enemies (Rev 19:11–21; 20:5–14), at the great white throne judgment (when death and Hades will be thrown into the lake of fire).

15:28 the Son himself will be made subject to him. The Son will be made subject to the Father in the sense that administratively, after he subjects all things to his power, he will then turn it all over to God the Father, the administrative head. This is not to suggest that the Son is in any way inferior to the Father. All three persons of the Trinity are equal in deity and in dignity. The subordination referred to is one of function (see note on 11:3). The Father is supreme in the Trinity; the Son carries out the Father's will (e.g., in creation, redemption); the Spirit is sent by the Father and the Son to vitalize life, communicate God's truth, apply his salvation to people and enable them to obey God's will (or word). so that God may be all in all. The triune God will be shown to be supreme and sovereign in all things.

15:29 those ... who are baptized for the dead. The present tense suggests that at Corinth people were currently being baptized for the dead. But because Paul does not give any more information about the practice, many attempts have been made to interpret the concept. Three of these are: 1. Living believers were being baptized for believers who died before they were baptized, so that they too, in a sense, would not miss out on baptism. 2. Christians were being baptized in anticipation of the resurrection of the dead. 3. New converts were being baptized to fill the ranks of Christians who had died. At any rate, Paul mentions this custom almost in passing, using it in his arguments substantiating the resurrection of the dead, but without necessarily approving the practice. Probably the passage will always remain obscure.

15:30 why do we endanger ourselves every hour? If there is no resurrection, why should we suffer persecution and privation for Christ every day (cf. 2Co 11:23–29)?

mean that, brothers—just as surely as I glory over you in Christ Jesus our Lord. 32If I fought wild beasts[y] in Ephesus[z] for merely human reasons, what have I gained? If the dead are not raised,

"Let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we die."[ra]

33Do not be misled:[b] "Bad company corrupts good character."[c] 34Come back to your senses as you ought, and stop sinning; for there are some who are ignorant of God[d]—I say this to your shame.[e]

The Resurrection Body

35But someone may ask,[f] "How are the dead raised? With what kind of body will they come?"[g] 36How foolish![h] What you sow does not come to life unless it dies.[i] 37When you sow, you do not plant the body that will be, but just a seed, perhaps of wheat or of something else. 38But God gives it a body as he has determined, and to each kind of seed he gives its own body.[j] 39All flesh is not the same: Men have one kind of flesh, animals have another, birds another and fish another. 40There are also heavenly bodies and there are earthly bodies; but the splendor of the heavenly bodies is one kind, and the splendor of the earthly bodies is another. 41The sun has one kind of splendor,[k] the moon another and the stars another;[l] and star differs from star in splendor.

42So will it be[m] with the resurrection of the dead.[n] The body that is sown is perishable, it is raised imperishable;[o] 43it is sown in dishonor, it is raised in glory;[p] it is sown in weakness, it is raised in power; 44it is sown a natural body, it is raised a spiritual body.[q]

If there is a natural body, there is also a spiritual body. 45So it is written: "The first man Adam became a living being"[s];[r] the last Adam,[s] a life-giving spirit.[t] 46The spiritual did not come first, but the natural, and after that the spiritual.[u] 47The first man was of the dust of the earth,[v] the second man from heaven.[w] 48As was the earthly man, so are those who are of the earth; and as is the man from heaven, so also are those who are of heaven.[x] 49And just as we have borne the likeness of the earthly man,[y] so shall we[t] bear the likeness of the man from heaven.[z]

50I declare to you, brothers, that flesh and blood[a] cannot inherit the kingdom of God,[b] nor does the perishable inherit

[r] 32 Isaiah 22:13 [s] 45 Gen. 2:7 [t] 49 Some early manuscripts so let us

15:32 I fought wild beasts in Ephesus. This statement can be taken literally or figuratively. But since from Ac 19 we have no evidence of Paul suffering imprisonment and having to face the lions, it is more likely that the expression means that the enemies in Ephesus were as ferocious as wild beasts. Let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we die. See Isa 22:13; a fitting philosophy of life if there is no resurrection.

15:33 A quotation from the Greek comedy Thais written by the Greek poet Menander, whose writings the Corinthians would know. The application of the quotation is that those who are teaching that there is no resurrection (v. 12) are the "bad company," and they are corrupting the "good character" of those who hold to the correct doctrine. Cf. Pr 13:20.

15:34 stop sinning. The sin of denying that there is a resurrection and thus doubting even the resurrection of Christ, all of which had a negative effect on the lives they were living. some who are ignorant of God. Even in the Corinthian church. This, Paul says, is a shameful situation.

15:35–49 In discussing the nature of the resurrection body, Paul compares it to plant life (vv. 36–38), to fleshly beings (v. 39) and to celestial and earthly physical bodies (vv. 40–41).

15:36–38 Plant organisms, though organized similarly in their own order, are different; the seed sown is related to the new plant that sprouts, but the new sprout has a different and genuinely new body that God has given it.

15:39 All flesh is not the same. Although there is much that is similar in the organizational character of fleshly beings, each species is different: man, animals, birds, fish.

15:40–41 Here the analogy involves inanimate objects of creation: the sun, moon and stars with their differing splendor, and the earthly bodies (possibly the great mountains, canyons and seas) with their splendor. In it all, God can take similar physical material and organize it differently to accomplish his purpose.

15:42–44 In applying these analogies, the apostle says that in the case of the resurrection of the dead, God will take a perishable, dishonorable, weak (and sinful) body—"a natural body" characterized by sin—and in the resurrection make it an imperishable, glorious, powerful body. "Spiritual body" does not mean a nonmaterial body but, from the analogies, a physical one similar to the present natural body organizationally, but radically different in that it will be imperishable, glorious and powerful, fit to live eternally with God. There is continuity, but there is also change.

15:44–49 The contrast here between the natural body and the spiritual body again follows from their two representatives (see notes on vv. 21–22). One is the first Adam, who had a natural body of the dust of the ground (Ge 2:7) and through whom a natural body is given to his descendants. The other is the last Adam, Christ, the life-giving spirit (cf. Jn 5:26) who through his death and resurrection will at the second coming give his redeemed people a spiritual body—physical, yet imperishable, without corruption, and adaptable to live with God forever (cf. Php 3:21). It will be a body similar to Christ's resurrected, glorified physical body (cf. Lk 24:36–43).

15:46 Adam, the earthly man, and his descendants received natural, earthly bodies. Christ, the last Adam, the man from heaven who became incarnate in a human body, received a glorified, spiritual body following his resurrection. Similarly, his redeemed people will receive a spiritual body.

15:50 Paul's final argument about the resurrection of the body: God's redeemed people must have newly organized, imperishable bodies to live with him. "Flesh and blood" stands for perishable, corrupt, weak, sinful human beings.

the imperishable.[c] 51Listen, I tell you a mystery:[d] We will not all sleep,[e] but we will all be changed[f]— 52in a flash, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet. For the trumpet will sound,[g] the dead[h] will be raised imperishable, and we will be changed. 53For the perishable[i] must clothe itself with the imperishable,[j] and the mortal with immortality. 54When the perishable has been clothed with the imperishable, and the mortal with immortality, then the saying that is written will come true: "Death has been swallowed up in victory."[uk]

55"Where, O death, is your victory?
Where, O death, is your sting?"[vl]

56The sting of death is sin,[m] and the power of sin is the law.[n] 57But thanks be to God![o] He gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.[p]

58Therefore, my dear brothers, stand firm. Let nothing move you. Always give yourselves fully to the work of the Lord,[q] because you know that your labor in the Lord is not in vain.[r]

The Collection for God's People

16 Now about the collection[s] for God's people:[t] Do what I told the Galatian[u] churches to do. 2On the first day of every week,[v] each one of you should set aside a sum of money in keeping with his income, saving it up, so that when I come no collections will have to be made.[w] 3Then, when I arrive, I will give letters of introduction to the men you approve[x] and send them with your gift to Jerusalem. 4If it seems advisable for me to go also, they will accompany me.

Personal Requests

5After I go through Macedonia, I will come to you[y]—for I will be going through Macedonia.[z] 6Perhaps I will stay with you awhile, or even spend the winter, so that you can help me on my journey,[a] wherever I go. 7I do not want to see you now and make only a passing visit; I hope to spend some time with you, if the Lord permits.[b] 8But I will stay on at Ephesus[c] until Pentecost,[d] 9because a great door for effective work has opened to me,[e] and there are many who oppose me.

[u] 54 Isaiah 25:8 [v] 55 Hosea 13:14

15:51 mystery. Things about the resurrection body that were not understood but are now revealed (see note on Ro 11:25). We will not all sleep. Some believers will not experience death and the grave. we will all be changed. All believers, whether alive when Jesus comes again or in the grave, will receive changed, imperishable bodies.

15:52 in a flash. The change to an imperishable body will occur instantly at the last trumpet call. Some refer this to the "loud trumpet call" of Mt 24:31 or the seventh trumpet of Rev 11:15, others to the rapture (the snatching away) of God's people (cf. 1Th 4:16), which they hold will take place before Christ's (and their) return to reign on earth (cf. Rev 19:11–16; 20:1–6). we will be changed. Paul lived in anticipation of Christ's return, as all believers should.

15:56 The sting of death is sin. It was sin that brought us under death's power—it was Adam's sin that brought his death and ultimately ours (see Ro 5:12). the power of sin is the law. The law of God gives sin its power, for it reveals our sin and condemns us because of our sin.

15:57 victory through our Lord Jesus Christ. Victory over the condemnation for sin that the law brought (v. 56) and over death and the grave (vv. 54–55), through the death and resurrection of Christ (cf. Ro 4:25).

15:58 Therefore. Because of Christ's resurrection and ours, we know that serving him is not empty, useless activity. your labor in the Lord is not in vain. Our effort is invested in the Lord's winning cause. He will also reward us at his second coming (Mt 25:21; cf. Lk 19:17).

16:1 Now about. Again an answer to one of the questions of the Corinthians (cf. 7:1; 8:1; 12:1). God's people. His people at Jerusalem (cf. v. 3; Ro 15:26). Galatian churches. The fact that the Galatian and Macedonian churches (2Co 8:1; 9:1–4) are involved, along with the Corinthians, indicates that the collection of this offering was quite widespread. The Jerusalem saints may have become poverty-stricken because of the famine recorded in Ac 11:28 (c. A.D. 44 or 46), or because of the persecution of Jerusalem Christians (cf. Ac 8:1).

16:2 On the first day of every week, each one of you should set aside. Every Sunday each person was to bring what he had set aside for the Lord's work—an amount proportionate to his income. Since it was to be brought on Sunday, the new day for worship (cf. Ac 20:7; Rev 1:10), probably it was collected at the worship service, not at home. Justin Martyr indicates (in his Apology, 1. 67–68) that in his time (c. A.D. 150) offerings were brought to the church on Sundays.

16:3 For proper financial accountability and responsibility these approved men would act as auditors and guardians of the funds the Corinthians gave (cf. 2Co 8:16–21).

16:4 If it seems advisable for me to go also. Possibly to take care of important missionary business, or to be there to explain about the gift when it arrives.

16:5 After I go through Macedonia. After leaving Ephesus (v. 8), where he was when he wrote 1 Corinthians, Paul planned to go up to Macedonia, no doubt to visit the Philippians and others in northern Greece, and then to Corinth. He had originally planned to go to Corinth first and then to Macedonia but thought it best to change his plans (see 2Co 1:12–2:4).

16:6 even spend the winter. Probably the three-month stay in Greece mentioned in Ac 20:3. help me on my journey. With supplies and equipment, and certainly with prayers and goodwill. However, Paul had indicated earlier in the letter (9:7–12) that he did not want to be a financial burden to them.

16:8 until Pentecost. The 50th day (Pentecost means "50") after Passover, when the Jews celebrated the Feast of Firstfruits (Lev 23:10–16)—late spring.

16:9 many who oppose me. Probably a reference to the pagan craftsmen who made the silver shrines of Artemis and to the general populace whom they had stirred up (Ac 19:23–34).

16:10 If Timothy comes. In Ac 19:22 Paul sends Timothy (and Erastus) into Macedonia, after which Timothy was to go on to Corinth (1Co 4:17). see to it that he has nothing to has nothing to fear while he is with you, for he is carrying on the work of the Lord,[g] just as I am. [11]No one, then, should refuse to accept him.[h] Send him on his way[i] in peace[j] so that he may return to me. I am expecting him along with the brothers.

[12]Now about our brother Apollos:[k] I strongly urged him to go to you with the brothers. He was quite unwilling to go now, but he will go when he has the opportunity.

[13]Be on your guard; stand firm[l] in the faith; be men of courage; be strong.[m] [14]Do everything in love.[n]

[15]You know that the household of Stephanas[o] were the first converts[p] in Achaia,[q] and they have devoted themselves to the service[r] of the saints.[s] I urge you, brothers, [16]to submit[t] to such as these and to everyone who joins in the work, and labors at it. [17]I was glad when Stephanas, Fortunatus and Achaicus arrived, because they have supplied what was lacking from you.[u] [18]For they refreshed[v] my spirit and yours also. Such men deserve recognition.[w]

Final Greetings

[19]The churches in the province of Asia[x] send you greetings. Aquila and Priscilla[wy] greet you warmly in the Lord, and so does the church that meets at their house.[z] [20]All the brothers here send you greetings. Greet one another with a holy kiss.[a]

[21]I, Paul, write this greeting in my own hand.[b]

[22]If anyone does not love the Lord[c]—a curse[d] be on him. Come, O Lord[x][e]

[23]The grace of the Lord Jesus be with you.[f]

[24]My love to all of you in Christ Jesus. Amen.[y]

[w] 19 Greek Prisca, a variant of Priscilla [x] 22 In Aramaic the expression Come, O Lord is Marana tha. [y] 24 Some manuscripts do not have Amen.

fear. Timothy seems to have been somewhat timid (1Ti 4:12; 2Ti 1:7), and Paul wants the Corinthians to treat him kindly.

16:11 brothers. Possibly including Erastus (cf. Ac 19:22), who was a believer from Corinth and "the city's director of public works" (Ro 16:23; see note there).

16:12 Now about . . . Apollos. The Corinthians had asked Paul about Apollos (cf. the similar words, "now about," in 7:1; 8:1; 12:1; 16:1) and his coming to see them.

16:15 household of Stephanas. Evidently the Corinthians had little respect for this household that Paul had baptized (1:16). They were among the first converts in Achaia (Greece), along with the few individuals in Athens who had believed a short time earlier (Ac 17:34). service. The whole household of Stephanas was serving.

16:17 Probably the ones who had brought to the apostle the letter from the Corinthians referred to in 7:1. Their coming "supplied what was lacking" from the Corinthians, i.e., the affection of these three brothers supplied the affection Paul desired from the whole Corinthian church.

16:18 refreshed my spirit and yours. Perhaps through their willingness to come to get Paul's advice and to bring it back to them. At least a new relationship between Paul and the Corinthians was in the making.

16:19 province of Asia. The Roman province (presently in western Turkey) in which Ephesus and the surrounding cities were located (cf. Ac 19:10). During Paul's long ministry in Ephesus all in the province of Asia heard the word. The churches of Colosse, Laodicea and Hierapolis (cf. Col 4:13–16; Rev 1:11), which were located on the border of the province of Asia, may be included in the greetings, along with the other churches of Rev 2–3. Aquila and Priscilla. They had helped Paul found the church at Corinth (Ac 18:1–4). warmly in the Lord. Enthusiastically as fellow believers. the church that meets at their house. Aquila and Priscilla had left Corinth with Paul and had gone to Ephesus (Ac 18:18–19). Evidently they were still there, and a church was meeting at their house; it now sends greetings. House churches were common in this early period (cf. Ro 16:3–5; Phm 2).

16:20 holy kiss. The kiss of mutual respect and love in the Lord was evidently the public practice of early Christians—from a practice that was customary in the ancient East. Such a practice may have been used in the first-century A.D. synagogue—men kissing men, and women kissing women—and it would have been natural for the practice to have been continued in the early Jewish-Gentile churches.

16:21 greeting in my own hand. Paul now signs this letter, as was his habit (see Col 4:18; Phm 19), a mark of the authenticity of the letter (2Th 3:17). Someone else had been penning the letter for him up to this point (cf. Ro 16:22).

16:22 a curse be on him. May this person experience God's displeasure and wrath, since he has declared himself an unbeliever (Jn 3:36). This is not a curse based on things God has created (e.g., heaven and earth), an oath that Jesus forbids. Rather, it is a curse based on God as witness to the unbeliever's essential lack of love and obedience to God (see also Gal 1:8–9). Come, O Lord! See NIV text note; an expression used by the early church as a cry that the second coming of Christ may soon take place.

16:23 The apostle's usual benediction (see Gal 6:18; Eph 6:24; Php 4:23); a longer Trinitarian benediction is found in 2Co 13:14.

16:24 Although he has been severe with the Corinthians, Paul wants them to know that he loves them as believers in Christ Jesus.

2 Corinthians

Author

Paul is the author of this letter (see 1:1; 10:1). It is stamped with his style and it contains more autobiographical material than any of his other writings.

Date

The available evidence indicates that the year A.D. 55 is a reasonable estimate for the writing of this letter. From 1Co 16:5–8 we conclude that 1 Corinthians was written from Ephesus before Pentecost (in the spring) and that 2 Corinthians was written later that same year before the onset of winter. 2Co 2:13; 7:5 indicate that it was written from Macedonia.

Recipients

The opening salutation of the letter states that it was addressed to the church in Corinth and to the Christians throughout Achaia (the Roman province comprising all the territory of Greece south of Macedonia).

Purpose

The Corinthian church had been infiltrated by false teachers who were challenging both Paul's personal integrity and his authority as an apostle. Because he had announced a change in his itinerary, with the result that he would now pay the Corinthians one (long) visit instead of two (short) visits, these adversaries were asserting that his word was not to be trusted. They were also saying that he was not a genuine apostle and that he was putting into his own pocket the money they had collected for the poverty-stricken believers in Jerusalem. Paul asks the Corinthians to consider that his personal life in their midst was always honorable and that his life-transforming message of salvation was true. He urges them to prepare for his impending visit by completing the collection they had started a year previously and by dealing with the troublemakers in their midst. He warns them that he means what he writes.

Structure

The structure of the letter relates primarily to Paul's impending third visit to Corinth. The letter falls naturally into three sections:

1. Paul explains the reason for the change of itinerary (chs. 1—7).

2. Paul encourages the Corinthians to complete the collection in preparation for his arrival (chs. 8—9).

3. Paul stresses the certainty of his coming, his authenticity as an apostle and his readiness as an apostle to exercise discipline if necessary (chs. 10—13).

Unity

Some have questioned the unity of this letter (see note on 2:3–4), but it forms a coherent whole, as the structure (above) shows. Tradition has been unanimous in affirming its unity (the early church fathers, e.g., knew the letter only in its present form). Furthermore, none of the early Greek manuscripts breaks up the book.

1 Paul, an apostle[a] of Christ Jesus by the will of God,[b] and Timothy[c] our brother,

To the church of God[d] in Corinth,[e] together with all the saints throughout Achaia:[f]

2Grace and peace to you from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.[g]

The God of All Comfort

3Praise be to the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ,[h] the Father of compassion and the God of all comfort, 4who comforts us[i] in all our troubles, so that we can comfort those in any trouble with the comfort we ourselves have received from God. 5For just as the sufferings of Christ flow over into our lives,[j] so also through Christ our comfort overflows. 6If we are distressed, it is for your comfort and salvation;[k] if we are comforted, it is for your comfort, which produces in you patient endurance of the same sufferings we suffer. 7And our hope for you is firm, because we know that just as you share in our sufferings,[l] so also you share in our comfort.

8We do not want you to be uninformed,[m] brothers, about the hardships we suffered[n] in the province of Asia.[o] We were under great pressure, far beyond our ability to endure, so that we despaired even of life. 9Indeed, in our hearts we felt the sentence of death. But this happened that we might not rely on ourselves but on God,[p] who raises the dead.[q] 10He has delivered us from such a deadly peril,[r] and he will deliver us. On him we have set our hope[s] that he will continue to deliver us, 11as you help us by your prayers.[t] Then many will give thanks[u] on our[a] behalf for the gracious favor granted us in answer to the prayers of many.

Paul's Change of Plans

12Now this is our boast: Our conscience[v] testifies that we have conducted ourselves in the world, and especially in our relations with you, in the holiness[w] and sincerity[x] that are from God. We have done so not according to worldly wisdom[y] but according to God's grace. 13For we do not write you anything you cannot read or understand. And I hope that, 14as you have understood us in part, you will come to understand fully that you can boast of us just as we will boast of you in the day of the Lord Jesus.[z]

15Because I was confident of this, I planned to visit you[a] first so that you might benefit twice.[b] 16I planned to visit you on my way[c] to Macedonia[d] and to come back to you from Macedonia, and then to have you send me on my way[e] to Judea.[f] 17When I planned this, did I do it lightly? Or do I make my plans in a

1:1 apostle. One specially commissioned by Christ (see notes on Mk 6:30; 1Co 1:1; Heb 3:1). Timothy. Evidently with Paul when this letter was written, but not necessarily a co-author. our brother. Our fellow believer, our brother in Christ (cf. Ac 9:17; Heb 2:11). church of God. The community of believers, the local representatives of the universal church (see note on 1Co 1:2). saints. Another term for God's people; it means "those who have been set apart as holy to the Lord" (see note on Ro 1:7). Achaia. Greece, as distinct from Macedonia in the north. Though the letter deals particularly with the situation in Corinth, it was also intended for Christians elsewhere in Greece. Presumably copies of the letter would be made in Corinth and circulated to them.

1:2 Grace and peace. See notes on Jnh 4:2; Jn 14:27; 20:19; Gal 1:3; Eph 1:2.

1:3 God. The source of our comfort. comfort. Consolation and encouragement. This comfort flows to believers when they suffer for Jesus' sake, and it equips them to comfort others who are in trouble (vv. 4–7).

1:8 we suffered. Throughout this letter Paul uses the editorial plural (we, us, our, ourselves). Except where the context plainly indicates otherwise, these plurals should be understood as referring to Paul alone. Asia. The Roman province of that name in western Asia Minor, now Turkish territory. The precise location where Paul's hardships occurred is not given, nor is the nature of affliction.

1:9 Paul's hardships were so life-threatening that he regarded his survival and recovery as tantamount to being raised from the dead. rely ... on God. A key principle of this letter. God's grace is all-sufficient, and our weakness is precisely the opportunity for his power to be displayed (cf. 12:9–10).

1:12 In defending his trustworthiness against the slanders being spread about him, Paul appeals to the witness of his own conscience and to the Corinthians' firsthand knowledge of his character. He had spent 18 months with them when he first came to Corinth (Ac 18:11), so they could not plead ignorance of his integrity.

1:13 In keeping with their knowledge of Paul's character, they can trust what he writes from a distance: He means what he says.

1:14 in part. Some in Corinth had allowed their confidence in Paul and his apostolic authority to be shaken by the false apostles who had penetrated their ranks. day of the Lord Jesus. His return (cf. 1Th 2:19–20).

1:15 that you might benefit twice. Here and in v. 16 Paul refers to his change of itinerary. Originally he had planned to cross over by sea from Ephesus to Corinth, visiting the Corinthians before traveling north to Macedonia, and then, returning from Macedonia, to visit them a second time, thus giving them the benefit of two short visits. This was when he was on good terms with them. What probably occurred was that he paid them a quick visit directly from Ephesus, a visit he had not contemplated and one that proved to be "painful" (2:1). That visit then gave rise to his letter that caused them sorrow (see 7:8–9).

1:17 did I do it lightly? Paul's opponents in Corinth had been attempting to persuade the Christians there that this change of plan was evidence that his word was not to be trusted, that he was fickle and unreliable. The two rhetorical questions are in effect his denial that he acts lightly and that he says "Yes" and "No" at the same time so that it is impossible to know what he means. In any case, his worldly manner[g] so that in the same breath I say, "Yes, yes" and "No, no"?

18But as surely as God is faithful,[h] our message to you is not "Yes" and "No." 19For the Son of God,[i] Jesus Christ, who was preached among you by me and Silas[bj] and Timothy,[k] was not "Yes" and "No," but in him it has always[l] been "Yes." 20For no matter how many promises[m] God has made, they are "Yes" in Christ. And so through him the "Amen"[n] is spoken by us to the glory of God.[o] 21Now it is God who makes both us and you stand firm[p] in Christ. He anointed[q] us, 22set his seal[r] of ownership on us, and put his Spirit in our hearts as a deposit, guaranteeing what is to come.[s]

23I call God as my witness[t] that it was in order to spare you[u] that I did not return to Corinth. 24Not that we lord it over[v] your faith, but we work with you for your joy, because it is by faith you stand firm.[w]

2 1So I made up my mind that I would not make another painful visit to you.[x] 2For if I grieve you,[y] who is left to make me glad but you whom I have grieved? 3I wrote as I did[z] so that when I came I should not be distressed[a] by those who ought to make me rejoice. I had confidence[b] in all of you, that you would all share my joy.

4For I wrote you[c] out of great distress and anguish of heart and with many tears, not to grieve you but to let you know the depth of my love for you.

Forgiveness for the Sinner

5If anyone has caused grief,[d] he has not so much grieved me as he has grieved all of you, to some extent—not to put it too severely. 6The punishment[e] inflicted on him by the majority is sufficient for him. 7Now instead, you ought to forgive and comfort him,[f] so that he will not be overwhelmed by excessive sorrow. 8I urge you, therefore, to reaffirm your love for him. 9The reason I wrote you[g] was to see if you would stand the test and be obedient in everything.[h] 10If you forgive anyone, I also forgive him. And what I have forgiven—if there was anything to forgive—I have forgiven in the sight of Christ for your sake, 11in order that Satan[i] might not outwit us. For we are not unaware of his schemes.[j] plan to visit the Corinthians had not been abandoned; it had simply been modified.

1:18 not "Yes" and "No." Paul now (vv. 18–20) appeals to the gospel message he had preached to them: Believing it, they had found it to be altogether true and entirely free from ambiguity, and by their experience of its dynamic power they had proved it to be one great affirmative in Christ, in whom all God's promises are "Yes."

1:20 "Amen." The "Amen" uttered by the congregation at the end of an offering of prayer or praise (cf. 1Co 14:16).

1:22 seal. See notes on Hag 2:23; Eph 1:13. deposit. A part given as a guarantee that the whole will be forthcoming. The part is of the same kind as the whole. The first installment of a sum of money that has been inherited, e.g., assures the recipient that the whole will be received. This justifies the expansion of a single Greek word into several English words: "a deposit, guaranteeing what is to come."

1:23 to spare you. Paul's change of plans for visiting the Corinthian Christians had been motivated, not by a fickle and insensitive attitude, but by love and concern for them.

2:1 another painful visit. Paul had already made one painful visit to Corinth, and he wanted to avoid another such visit, though he was ready to exert his authority should it prove necessary (cf. 13:2). The occasion of this former painful visit is not known to us. It could not have been his original visit to Corinth at the time when the church there was founded in response to the preaching of the gospel. Therefore he must have paid a second visit, which is confirmed by 12:14; 13:1, where he states that the visit he is now about to make will be his third. The second visit probably took place between the writing of 1 and 2 Corinthians, though some hold that it occurred before 1 Corinthians was written.

2:3–4 I wrote as I did ... out of great distress and anguish. This passage refers to a previous letter that had been sent to the Corinthians. The consensus of the church from the earliest times has been that this previous letter is 1 Corinthians. In more recent times, however, the hypothesis that the reference is to an intermediate letter, written after 1 Corinthians and before 2 Corinthians, has been widely accepted. Some advocates of this theory hold that the letter in question is now lost; others have identified it, in whole or in part, with the last four chapters of 2 Corinthians, contending that these chapters are out of harmony with the earlier ones and that they fit the description of a letter written "out of great distress and anguish." There is, however, no historical evidence that the unity of 2 Corinthians was questioned or that its integrity was doubted prior to modern times.

2:5–11 Speaks of a particular person who has been the cause of serious offense in Corinth and upon whom church discipline has been imposed. Paul admonishes the Corinthians that because the offender has shown genuine sorrow and repentance for his sin the punishment should be discontinued and he should be lovingly restored to their fellowship. Church discipline, important as it is, should not be allowed to develop into a form of graceless rigor in which there is no room for pardon and restoration. The offense in question probably took place during Paul's intermediate visit to Corinth (see note on v. 1) and was the occasion for his writing the severe letter demanding the punishment of the offender (see note on vv. 3–4). Another view is that Paul refers to the incident recorded in 1Co 5.

2:12 when I went to Troas. Paul had traveled up from Ephesus to Troas, a city on the Aegean coast opposite the island of Tenedos, hoping to find Titus there and to receive news from him about the Corinthian church. But Titus, who presumably Paul knew would be following the same route in reverse, did not arrive in Troas; so Paul, anxious for news from Corinth, "went on to Macedonia" (v. 13), perhaps to the city of Philippi.

that the Lord had opened a door[m] for me, [13]I still had no peace of mind,[n] because I did not find my brother Titus[o] there. So I said good-by to them and went on to Macedonia.[p]

[14]But thanks be to God,[q] who always leads us in triumphal procession in Christ and through us spreads everywhere the fragrance[r] of the knowledge[s] of him. 2:13 my brother. Cf. 8:23. Paul held Titus in high esteem; he entrusted Titus with the organization of the collection of funds in Corinth for the relief of the poverty-stricken Christians of Jerusalem (8:6), and he chose him to bear this letter to the Corinthian Christians (8:16–17).

2:14 At this point Paul breaks off the narrative of his itinerary and in a characteristic manner allows his spontaneous spirit to carry him into a lengthy digression (the narrative is not resumed until 7:5). The digression, however, is quite relevant to the main tenor of this letter, for it is an immensely rich outpouring of triumphant faith in praise of the unfailing adequacy of the grace of God for every conceivable situation, no matter how threatening and destructive it may seem to be. leads us in triumphal procession. The imagery is that of a Roman triumph in which the victorious general would lead his soldiers and the captives they had taken in festive procession, while the people watched and applauded and the air was filled with the sweet smell released by the burning of spices in the streets. So the Christian, called to spiritual warfare, is triumphantly led by God in Christ, and it is through him that God spreads everywhere the "fragrance" of the knowledge of Christ.

2:16 the smell of death ... the fragrance of life. As the gospel aroma is released in the world through Christian testimony, it is always sweet-smelling, even though it may be differently received. The two ultimate categories of mankind are "those who are being saved and those who are perishing" (v. 15). To the latter, testifying Christians are the smell of death, not because the gospel message has become evil-smelling or death-dealing, but because in rejecting the life-giving grace of God unbelievers choose death for themselves. To those who welcome the gospel of God's grace, Christians with their testimony are the fragrance of life. who is equal to such a task? For the answer see 3:5.

2:17 we do not peddle the word of God for profit. Paul is referring to false teachers who had infiltrated the Corinthian church. Such persons—themselves insincere, self-sufficient and boastful—artfully presented themselves in a persuasive manner, and their chief interest was to take money from gullible church members. Paul, by contrast, had preached the gospel sincerely and free of charge, taking care not to be a financial burden to the Corinthian believers (see 11:7–12; 1Co 9:7–15).

3:1 Are we beginning to commend ourselves again? Paul is sensitive to the fact that virtually everything he wrote or said was liable to be twisted and used in a hostile manner by the false teachers in Corinth. letters of recommendation. The appearance of vagrant impostors, who claimed to be teachers of apostolic truth, led to the need for letters of recommendation. Paul needed no such confirmation; but others, including the Corinthian intruders, did need authentication and, being themselves false, often resorted to unscrupulous methods for obtaining or forging letters of recommendation.

3:2 known and read by everybody. Because of the power of the gospel demonstrated by their transformed lives.

3:3 letter from Christ. Paul is no more than the instrument in the hands of the Master. written not with ink. As a parchment or papyrus document would be. with the Spirit of the living God. As though the Spirit were a substitute for ink! Ink fades and may easily be deleted or blocked out since it is no more than an inanimate fluid. But the Spirit of the living God is himself life and therefore life-giving (v. 6), and the life he gives is eternal and without defect. not on tablets of stone. As at Sinai (see note on v. 6). on tablets of human hearts. See Jer 31:33; Eze 11:19; 36:26. Paul explains the significance of this contrast between the old and the new covenants in vv. 7–18.

3:5 our competence comes from God. Answers the question in 2:16: "And who is equal to such a task?"

3:6 ministers of. Those who serve the cause of (see Ro 15:16; Col 1:7; 4:7; 1Ti 4:6). Paul will return to the theme of "this ministry" in 4:1. new covenant. Here Paul takes up the theme suggested by the mention of "tablets of human hearts" (v. 3). See Heb 8–10 and note on Heb 7:22. Paul's reference to ministers of a new covenant in contrast to the "ministry that brought death" (v. 7) may have been occasioned by his opponents in Corinth who were Judaizers, perhaps those who claimed to be associated with Peter (1Co 1:12) and who are referred to as Hebrews in 11:22 (see note there). the letter. The "tablets of stone" on which the letter of the law was originally written (see Ex 24:12; 31:18; 32:15–16). the Spirit. The writing of the law "with the Spirit of the living God ... on tablets of human hearts," which was the promise of the new covenant as foretold by the prophets (see Jer 31:31–34; 32:39–40; Eze 11:19; 36:26). the letter kills, but the Spirit gives life. Does not mean that the external, literal sense of Scripture is deadly or unprofitable while the inner, spiritual (mystical or mythical) sense is vital. "The letter" is synonymous with the law as an external standard before which all people, because they are lawbreakers, stand guilty and condemned to death. Therefore it is described as the "ministry that brought death" and the "ministry that condemns" (vv. 7,9). On the other hand, the Spirit who gives life is the "Spirit of the living God" who, in fulfillment of the promise us competent as ministers of a new covenant[j]—not of the letter[k] but of the Spirit; for the letter kills, but the Spirit gives life.[l]

The Glory of the New Covenant

[7]Now if the ministry that brought death,[m] which was engraved in letters on stone, came with glory, so that the Israelites could not look steadily at the face of Moses because of its glory,[n] fading though it was, [8]will not the ministry of the Spirit be even more glorious? [9]If the ministry that condemns men[o] is glorious, how much more glorious is the ministry that brings righteousness![p] [10]For what was glorious has no glory now in comparison with the surpassing glory. [11]And if what was fading away came with glory, how much greater is the glory of that which lasts!

[12]Therefore, since we have such a hope,[q] we are very bold.[r] [13]We are not like Moses, who would put a veil over his face[s] to keep the Israelites from gazing at it while the radiance was fading away. [14]But their minds were made dull,[t] for to this day the same veil remains when the old covenant[u] is read.[v] It has not been removed, because only in Christ is it taken away. [15]Even to this day when Moses is read, a veil covers their hearts. [16]But whenever anyone turns to the Lord,[w] the veil is taken away.[x] [17]Now the Lord is the Spirit,[y] and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is freedom.[z] [18]And we, who with unveiled faces all reflect[c][a] the Lord's glory,[b] are being transformed into his likeness[c] with ever-increasing glory, which comes from the Lord, who is the Spirit.

of the new covenant, writes that same law inwardly "on tablets of human hearts" (v. 3). He thus provides the believer with love for God's law, which previously he had hated, and with power to keep it, which previously he had not possessed.

3:7–18 Paul is defending his "ministry" of the new covenant in Christ (cf. v. 6; 4:1) and here compares the experiences of Moses, who mediated the old covenant of Sinai, and his own as a minister of the new covenant. But he now applies the word "ministry" to the law that was "engraved in letters on stone" and to the Spirit, who writes "on tablets of human hearts" (v. 3). The point of comparison is the fading glory that shone on Moses' face and the "ever-increasing glory" reflected in the faces of those who minister the new covenant. This contrast in regard to glory serves to highlight the temporary and inadequate character of the old covenant and the permanent and effective character of the new covenant.

3:7 came with glory. The law of the old covenant given at Sinai was in no way bad or evil; on the contrary, Paul describes it elsewhere as holy, righteous, good and spiritual (Ro 7:12,14). The evil is in the hearts and deeds of people who, as lawbreakers, bring upon themselves the condemnation of the law and the penalty of death—and the law engraved on stone could not purge away that evil. its glory. The glory of God surrounded the giving of the law and was reflected on the face of Moses when he descended from the mountain (see Ex 34:29–30).

3:8–9 ministry of the Spirit . . . brings righteousness. Giving life instead of death. "Righteousness" is here both objective (justification) and personal (sanctification).

3:11 what was fading away. Paul here applies the fading to the old covenant of Sinai, which was not to endure forever. In due course it was superseded by the unfading and much more glorious radiance belonging to the new covenant.

3:13 Moses, who would put a veil over his face. See Ex 34:33–35. The purpose of the veil was to prevent the Israelites from seeing the fading of the glory.

3:14 to this day the same veil remains. The veil that prevented them from seeing the fading of the glory on Moses' face is still with them, preventing them from recognizing the temporary and inadequate character of the old covenant—a "veil" that is removed only in Christ. Only those who have received the new covenant in Christ have the power to see how the new covenant has transcended and replaced the old covenant—because of its greater glory.

3:17 the Lord is the Spirit. This statement should be linked with what was said at the end of v. 6: "the Spirit gives life." It is only by turning to the Lord (v. 16) that the condemnation and the sentence of death pronounced by the law on the lawbreaker are annulled and replaced by the free life-giving grace of the new covenant. There is a close relationship between the Spirit of Christ and the Holy Spirit. Both are said to dwell in the believer (Ro 8:9; Gal 2:20). In Ro 8:9–10 the Spirit, the Spirit of God, the Spirit of Christ, and Christ all seem to be used interchangeably. In Ac 16:6–7 the Holy Spirit and the Spirit of Jesus appear to be one and the same. Perhaps this is because the Holy Spirit proceeds from the Father and the Son, and the first two persons of the Trinity accomplish their purposes through the Spirit.

3:18 with unveiled faces. In contrast to Moses. being transformed into his likeness with ever-increasing glory. Christ himself is the glory of God in the fullness of its radiance (Heb 1:3); his is the eternal and unfading glory, which he had with the Father before the world began (Jn 17:5). We who believe are made partakers of this glory by being gradually transformed into the likeness of Christ. The reference here is to the process of Christian sanctification.

4:1 this ministry. See 3:6 and note. we do not lose heart. When God through his mercy calls and commissions his servants, he also supplies the strength necessary for them to persevere in the face of hardships and persecutions.

4:2 we have renounced secret and shameful ways. Paul is referring to the false teachers in Corinth. By contrast, he is able to appeal to the conscience of every one of them and also to his integrity in the sight of God, because his practice was always that of setting forth the truth plainly, i.e., without veiling it or resorting to deception (cf. 1:12,18–24).

setting forth the truth plainly we commend ourselves to every man's conscience[h] in the sight of God. 3And even if our gospel[i] is veiled,[j] it is veiled to those who are perishing.[k] 4The god[l] of this age[m] has blinded[n] the minds of unbelievers, so that they cannot see the light of the gospel of the glory of Christ,[o] who is the image of God.[p] 5For we do not preach ourselves,[q] but Jesus Christ as Lord,[r] and ourselves as your servants[s] for Jesus' sake. 6For God, who said, "Let light shine out of darkness,"[d][t] made his light shine in our hearts[u] to give us the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Christ.[v]

7But we have this treasure in jars of clay[w] to show that this all-surpassing power is from God[x] and not from us. 8We are hard pressed on every side,[y] but not crushed; perplexed,[z] but not in despair; 9persecuted,[a] but not abandoned;[b] struck down, but not destroyed.[c] 10We always carry around in our body the death of Jesus,[d] so that the life of Jesus may also be revealed in our body.[e] 11For we who are alive are always being given over to death for Jesus' sake,[f] so that his life may be revealed in our mortal body. 12So then, death is at work in us, but life is at work in you.[g]

13It is written: "I believed; therefore I have spoken."[e][h] With that same spirit of faith[i] we also believe and therefore speak, 14because we know that the one who raised the Lord Jesus from the dead[j] will also raise us with Jesus[k] and present us with you in his presence.[l] 15All this is for your benefit, so that the grace that is reaching more and more people may cause thanksgiving[m] to overflow to the glory of God.

16Therefore we do not lose heart.[n] Though outwardly we are wasting away, yet inwardly[o] we are being renewed[p] day by day. 17For our light and momentary troubles are achieving for us an eternal glory that far outweighs them all.[q] 18So we fix our eyes not on what is seen,

[d] 6 Gen. 1:3 [e] 13 Psalm 116:10

4:3 if our gospel is veiled. See 3:13–18.

4:4 god of this age. The devil, who is the archenemy of God and the unseen power behind all unbelief and ungodliness. Those who follow him have in effect made him their god. this age. Used in contrast to the future eternal age when God's creation will be forever purged of all that now mars and defiles it. In Gal 1:4 it is called the "present evil age." blinded the minds of unbelievers. Paul continues to use the imagery of the veil that covers the divine glory so that those who reject the gospel fail to see that glory (3:12–18). image of God. Christ, who is both the incarnate Son and the Second Person of the Trinity, authentically displays God to us, for he is the very radiance of divine glory (Heb 1:3). He is the image of God in which man was originally created and into which redeemed mankind is being gloriously transformed (3:18), until at last, when Christ comes again at the end of this age, we who believe will be like him (1Jn 3:2).

4:5 we do not preach ourselves. As did the false teachers, puffed up with self-importance. Paul does not lord it over their faith (1:24), for there is only one Lord, Jesus Christ, and he is the theme of Paul's preaching.

4:6 Let light shine out of darkness. God said this at the creation (Ge 1:2–4), and God says it again in the new creation or new birth (see 5:17; Jn 3:3,7; 1Pe 1:3) as the darkness of sin is dispelled by the light of the gospel. the light of the knowledge of the glory of God. The light that now shines in Paul's heart (qualifying him to be a proclaimer of Christ) is the knowledge of the glory of God as it was displayed in the face of Christ—who has come, not just from an earthly tabernacle, but from the glorious presence of God in heaven itself (see Jn 1:14).

4:7 this treasure. The gospel. jars of clay. It was customary to conceal treasure in clay jars, which had little value or beauty and did not attract attention to themselves and their precious contents. Here they represent Paul's human frailty and unworthiness. all-surpassing power is from God and not from us. The idea that the absolute insufficiency of man reveals the total sufficiency of God pervades this letter.

4:10 We always carry around in our body the death of Jesus. The frailty of the "clay jar" of Paul's humanity (v. 7) is plainly seen in the constant hardships and persecutions with which he is buffeted for the sake of the gospel and through which he shares in Christ's suffering (see 1:5; Ro 8:17; Php 3:10; Col 1:24).

4:11 that his life may be revealed in our mortal body. The reference is to Christ's resurrection life and power. Once again (see note on v. 7), human weakness provides the occasion for the triumph of divine power, and daily "dying" magnifies the wonder of daily resurrection life (see 1:9).

4:13 I believed; therefore I have spoken. See NIV text note. Faith leads to testimony. Paul therefore tirelessly labored and journeyed to bring the gospel message to others.

4:16 Therefore we do not lose heart. Repeating the statement in v. 1. The intervening paragraphs explain why the apostle continues to have a cheerful heart, and the remaining verses of the chapter summarize the argument he has developed. wasting away. Because of the hardships to which he is subjected. being renewed. Because of the inextinguishable flame of the resurrection life of Jesus burning within. Moreover, the inward renewal overcomes the outward destruction, and ultimately overcomes even death itself.

4:17 light and momentary troubles. Seen in the perspective of eternity, the Christian's difficulties, whatever they may be, diminish in importance. eternal glory that far outweighs them all. By comparison, the eternal glory is far greater than all the suffering one may face in this life (cf. Ro 8:18).

4:18 what is seen ... what is unseen. The experiences and circumstances of this present life, often painful and perplexing, are what is visible to the Christian; but these are merely phenomena in the passing parade of our fallen age and are therefore temporary and fleeting. To fix our eyes on these visible things would cause us to lose heart (vv. 1,16). By contrast the unseen realities, which are no less real for being invisible (cf. Heb 11:1,7,26–27), are eternal and imperishable. Accordingly, we look up and away from the impermanent appearances of this present world scene (see Php 3:20; Heb 12:2).

but on what is unseen.[r] For what is seen is temporary, but what is unseen is eternal.

Our Heavenly Dwelling

5 Now we know that if the earthly[s] tent[t] we live in is destroyed, we have a building from God, an eternal house in heaven, not built by human hands. [2]Meanwhile we groan,[u] longing to be clothed with our heavenly dwelling,[v] [3]because when we are clothed, we will not be found naked. [4]For while we are in this tent, we groan[w] and are burdened, because we do not wish to be unclothed but to be clothed with our heavenly dwelling,[x] so that what is mortal may be swallowed up by life. [5]Now it is God who has made us for this very purpose and has given us the Spirit as a deposit, guaranteeing what is to come.[y]

[6]Therefore we are always confident and know that as long as we are at home in the body we are away from the Lord. [7]We live by faith, not by sight.[z] [8]We are confident, I say, and would prefer to be away from the body and at home with the Lord.[a] [9]So we make it our goal to please him,[b] whether we are at home in the body or away from it. [10]For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ, that each one may receive what is due him[c] for the things done while in the body, whether good or bad.

The Ministry of Reconciliation

[11]Since, then, we know what it is to fear the Lord,[d] we try to persuade men. What we are is plain to God, and I hope it is also plain to your conscience.[e] [12]We are not trying to commend ourselves to you again,[f] but are giving you an opportunity to take pride in us,[g] so that you can answer those who take pride in what is seen rather than in what is in the heart. [13]If we are out of our mind,[h] it is for the sake of God; if we are in our right mind, it is for you. [14]For Christ's love compels us, because we are convinced that one died for all, and

5:13 [h] 2Co 11:1, 16,17; 12:11

5:1 earthly tent we live in. Our present body (see 2Pe 1:13). As a tent is a temporary and flimsy abode, so our bodies are frail, vulnerable and wasting away (4:10–12,16). a building from God, an eternal house in heaven. A solid structure—permanent, not temporary. This is one of the eternal realities that are as yet unseen (4:18). not built by human hands. The work of God, and therefore perfect and permanent (see Heb 9:11).

5:2 Meanwhile. As we await the Lord's return. we groan. Because we long for the perfection that will be ours when we put on the glorious spiritual body (cf. 1Co 15:42–49). clothed with our heavenly dwelling. The eternal dwelling provided by God is pictured as something the Christian puts on like a garment.

5:3 naked. Without the clothing of a body, which is the state of those whose earthly tent-dwelling has been dismantled by death (see note on v. 8).

5:4 what is mortal. Our present mortal body. swallowed up by life. By our participation in the resurrection life of Jesus (4:10) our mortal being is swallowed up by life, not by death. Paul reverses the age-old imagery of death and the grave being the great swallower (see Ps 69:15; Pr 1:12), as did Isaiah (see Isa 25:8; see also 1Co 15:54).

5:5 God . . . has given us the Spirit. The Holy Spirit, poured out by the risen and exalted Savior, applies the benefits of Christ's redeeming work to the believer's heart and makes the resurrection power of Jesus a reality of his daily experience (cf. 4:14,16). This guarantees his eventual total transformation into the likeness of Christ's glorified body (Php 3:21). deposit. See note on 1:22.

5:6 at home in the body . . . away from the Lord. Still living here in our earthly tent-dwelling (v. 1); it does not mean that we are deprived of the Lord's spiritual presence with us in our daily pilgrimage.

5:8 away from the body . . . at home with the Lord. The situation of the Christian after death, when he is no longer living in his "earthly tent" (v. 1). This is an intermediate state between death and resurrection and, apparently, a disembodied state; but it is not a limbo of oblivion, for the believer who has died is at home with his Lord, and that is preferable to our present life in the body (cf. Php 1:23).

5:9 whether we are at home in the body or away from it. Whether we will be alive or will have already died at his coming.

5:10 appear before the judgment seat of Christ. This accounting has nothing to do with justification, which is credited to the Christian fully and forever through faith in Christ; instead, it refers to what we have done with our lives as Christians (cf. 1Co 3:11–15). things done while in the body. Although the body is wasting away, we are responsible for our actions while in it. Non-Christians, too, are morally responsible and liable to God's judgment (see Ro 2:5,16), but Paul has believers in mind here.

5:11 to fear the Lord. As the one to whom we are accountable (v. 10). we try to persuade men. Paul needs to persuade some members of the Corinthian church that he, not any of the false teachers who have invaded their ranks, is their authentic apostle.

5:12 take pride in what is seen. The pretension of the false apostles is a superficial front; their concern is not with spirituality that is true and deep, but with money and popularity and self-importance.

5:13 out of our mind . . . in our right mind. Probably Paul's enemies were asserting that he was suffering from religious mania, pointing perhaps to the sensational conversion he claimed to have experienced on the road to Damascus and to what they regarded as his insane way of life. If this is to be out of his mind, Paul does not deny it, for this whole letter shows how willingly and joyfully he endured affliction for the gospel (cf. 12:10). That, however, was essentially a matter between him and God. On the other hand, there was nothing that could be called eccentric about his manner of presenting the gospel to the Corinthians, for in this he had been, and continued to be, sensible and sober-minded, avoiding flowery rhetoric and all forms of sensationalism (cf. 1Co 2:1–5).

5:14 Christ's love. As shown in his death for us, though some hold that the meaning here is "our love for Christ." one. The incarnate Son. for all. For all mankind. therefore all died. Because Christ died for all, he involved all in his death. For some his death would confirm their own death, but for others (those who by faith would become united with him) his death was their death to sin and self, so that they now live in and with the resurrected Christ (v. 15). However, some hold that Paul is not speaking specifically therefore all died.[i] 15And he died for all, that those who live should no longer live for themselves[j] but for him who died for them[k] and was raised again.

16So from now on we regard no one from a worldly[l] point of view. Though we once regarded Christ in this way, we do so no longer. 17Therefore, if anyone is in Christ,[m] he is a new creation;[n] the old has gone, the new has come![o] 18All this is from God,[p] who reconciled us to himself through Christ[q] and gave us the ministry of reconciliation: 19that God was reconciling the world to himself in Christ, not counting men's sins against them.[r] And he has committed to us the message of reconciliation. 20We are therefore Christ's ambassadors,[s] as though God were making his appeal through us.[t] We implore you on Christ's behalf: Be reconciled to God.[u] 21God made him who had no sin[v] to be sin[f] for us, so that in him we might become the righteousness of God.[w]

6 As God's fellow workers[x] we urge you not to receive God's grace in vain.[y] 2For he says,

> "In the time of my favor I heard you, > and in the day of salvation I helped you."[g z]

I tell you, now is the time of God's favor, now is the day of salvation.

Paul's Hardships

3We put no stumbling block in anyone's path,[a] so that our ministry will not be discredited. 4Rather, as servants of God we commend ourselves in every way: in great endurance; in troubles, hardships and distresses; 5in beatings, imprisonments[b] and riots; in hard work, sleepless nights and hunger;[c] 6in purity, understanding, patience and kindness; in the Holy Spirit[d] and in sincere love;[e] 7in truthful speech[f] and in the power of God;[g] with weapons of righteousness[h] in the right hand and in the left; 8through glory and dishonor,[i] bad report[j] and good report; genuine, yet regarded as impostors;[k] 9known, yet regarded as unknown; dying,[l] and yet we live on;[m] beaten, and yet not killed; 10sorrowful, yet always rejoicing;[n] poor, yet making many rich;[o] having nothing,[p] and yet possessing everything.[q]

11We have spoken freely to you, Corinthians, and opened wide our hearts to you.[r] 12We are not withholding our affection from you, but you are withholding yours from us. 13As a fair exchange—

[f] 21 Or be a sin offering
[g] 2 Isaiah 49:8

here about the scope of Christ's atonement but about the effect of Christ's death on the Christian life. Thus "all" would refer not to mankind in general but only to the church.

5:16 we once regarded Christ in this way. Paul is admitting that before his conversion he held views of Christ that were "worldly" (lit. "according to the flesh")—based on purely human considerations.

5:17 in Christ. United with Christ through faith in him and commitment to him. new creation. Redemption is the restoration and fulfillment of God's purposes in creation (see note on 4:6), and this takes place in Christ, through whom all things were made (see Jn 1:3; Col 1:16; Heb 1:2) and in whom all things are restored or created anew (cf. Ro 8:18–23; Eph 2:10).

5:18 All this is from God. God takes the initiative in redemption (see Ro 5:8; Jn 3:16), and he sustains it and brings it to completion. ministry of reconciliation. We who are the recipients of divine reconciliation have the privilege and obligation of now being, like Paul in a sense, the heralds and instruments in God's hands to minister the message of reconciliation throughout the world (v. 19).

5:21 who had no sin ... sin for us. A summary of the gospel and its logic. Christ, the only entirely righteous one, at Calvary took our sin upon himself and endured the punishment we deserved (see NIV text note), namely, death and separation from God. Thus, by a marvelous exchange, he made it possible for us to receive his righteousness and thereby be reconciled to God. Our standing and our acceptance before God are solely in him (cf. 1Co 1:30). Again, all this is God's doing; all this is freely available to us because of the initiative of divine grace.

6:1 to receive God's grace in vain. To live for oneself (see 5:15) is one way to do this.

6:2 the time of my favor ... the day of salvation. An affirmation that is true in a general sense of all God's saving acts in the history of his people, but that finds its particular fulfillment in this present age of grace between the two comings of Christ. This understanding does not exclude from grace and salvation those who lived before Christ's coming, for the believers of the OT period received the promises that in due course were fulfilled in Christ (1:20) and they saw and welcomed their fulfillment from a distance (see Jn 8:56; Heb 11:13).

6:3 We put no stumbling block in anyone's path. Paul is concerned that he live an exemplary life because he does not want the ministry discredited.

6:4–10 Cf. 4:8–12.

6:4 as servants of God we commend ourselves. Paul commends himself again inasmuch as the gospel he preached in Corinth is at stake; but, in contrast to the false apostles who were no better than self-servers, he does so as God's servant. His life, with all its trials and afflictions, could not have been more starkly different from that of these intruders whose concern was for their own comfort and prestige.

6:10 making many rich. In Christ. True wealth does not consist in worldly possessions but in being "rich toward God" (Lk 12:15,21). The believer, even if he has nothing of this world's goods, nevertheless has everything in him who is Lord of all (cf. 1Co 1:4–5; 3:21–23; Eph 2:7; 3:8; Php 4:19; Col 2:3).

6:11–13 Paul has always been completely open and sincere in his relations with the Christians in Corinth (cf. 1:12–14; 4:2), but the false apostles among them have been trying to persuade them that Paul does not really love them. Now the apostle tenderly appeals to these Corinthians, who are the beneficiaries of his love for them (cf. 11:11).

I speak as to my children[s]—open wide your hearts[t] also.

Do Not Be Yoked With Unbelievers

14Do not be yoked together[u] with unbelievers.[v] For what do righteousness and wickedness have in common? Or what fellowship can light have with darkness?[w] 15What harmony is there between Christ and Belial[h]?[x] What does a believer[y] have in common with an unbeliever?[z] 16What agreement is there between the temple of God and idols?[a] For we are the temple[b] of the living God.[c] As God has said: "I will live with them and walk among them, and I will be their God, and they will be my people."[i][d]

17"Therefore come out from them[e] and be separate,
says the Lord.
Touch no unclean thing,
and I will receive you."[j][f] 18"I will be a Father to you, and you will be my sons and daughters,[g]
says the Lord Almighty."[k][h]

7 Since we have these promises,[i] dear friends,[j] let us purify ourselves from everything that contaminates body and spirit, perfecting holiness[k] out of reverence for God.

Paul's Joy

2Make room for us in your hearts.[l] We have wronged no one, we have corrupted no one, we have exploited no one. 3I do not say this to condemn you; I have said before that you have such a place in our hearts[m] that we would live or die with you. 4I have great confidence in you; I take great pride in you.[n] I am greatly encouraged;[o] in all our troubles my joy knows no bounds.[p]

5For when we came into Macedonia,[q] this body of ours had no rest, but we were harassed at every turn[r]—conflicts on the outside, fears within.[s] 6But God, who comforts the downcast,[t] comforted us by the coming of Titus,[u] 7and not only by his coming but also by the comfort you had given him. He told us about your longing for me, your deep sorrow, your ardent concern for me, so that my joy was greater than ever.

8Even if I caused you sorrow by my letter,[v] I do not regret it. Though I did regret it—I see that my letter hurt you, but only for a little while— 9yet now I am happy, not because you were made sorry, but because your sorrow led you to repentance. For you became sorrowful as God intended and so were not harmed in any way by us. 10Godly sorrow brings repentance that leads to salvation[w] and leaves no regret, but worldly sorrow brings death. 11See what this godly sorrow has produced in you: what earnest-

6:14 Do not be yoked together with unbelievers. Doubtless Paul has in mind the OT prohibition of "mixtures" as in Dt 22:10. For the Corinthian believers to cooperate with false teachers, who are in reality servants of Satan, notwithstanding their charming and persuasive ways (see notes on 11:13–14), is to become unequally yoked, destroying the harmony and fellowship that unite them in Christ.
6:15 Belial. A term (from Hebrew) used to designate Satan (see note on Dt 13:13).
6:16 agreement ... between the temple of God and idols. There can be no reversion to or compromise with the idolatry they have forsaken for the gospel (cf. 1Th 1:9). temple of the living God. Built of "living stones," namely, Christian believers (1Pe 2:5); therefore it is all the more important that they form no defiling and unholy alliances (cf. 1Co 6:19–20).
7:1 holiness. See 1Th 4:7; 1Jn 3:3.
7:2 We have ... exploited no one. Implies that Paul had been accused by the false teachers of being unjust, destructive and fraudulent—the very things they themselves were guilty of.
7:3 Again he declares the depth of his affection for the Corinthian believers and appeals to them to respond, contrary to the wishes of the false teachers, by displaying their love for him, their genuine apostle (cf. 6:11–13).
7:4 great confidence ... my joy knows no bounds. The long digression that started at 2:14 concludes here on this note of exhilaration. The news he had been so anxiously awaiting from Corinth has turned out to be good and reassuring, and Paul is overjoyed to receive it.
7:5–6 when we came into Macedonia ... God ... comforted us by the coming of Titus. Here Paul resumes the account he began in 2:12–13, where he described how his hopes of meeting Titus in Troas were disappointed and how, restless for news, he had decided to press on into Macedonia. He now explains that on reaching Macedonia, he was at last comforted by the arrival of Titus, who brought the news he most wanted to hear concerning the situation in Corinth. Titus himself had been well received in that city and was able to assure Paul (see v. 7) of the "longing" and "ardent concern" of the Corinthian Christians for him and of the "deep sorrow" they had expressed because of the grief they had caused him. Consequently, his "joy was greater than ever."
7:8–9 I do not regret it ... I did regret it ... now I am happy. Paul did regret the necessity of writing a letter to the Corinthians that caused sorrow to them. However, it was not the actual writing that he regretted, but the situation that required the writing. Moreover, the fact that the letter had the desired effect made him happy, for their sorrow did not leave them embittered and hostile but led them to repentance. They became sorrowful as God intended, and so were benefited, not harmed, by the letter.
7:10 Godly sorrow ... worldly sorrow. The former manifests itself by repentance and the experience of divine grace; the latter brings death because, instead of being God-centered sorrow over the wickedness of sin, it is self-centered sorrow over the painful consequences of sin. The letter's primary purpose was not to deal with the notorious offender in Corinth or the person he had injured, but to test their loyalty and devotion to Paul as their apostle.

ness, what eagerness to clear yourselves, what indignation, what alarm, what longing, what concern,[x] what readiness to see justice done. At every point you have proved yourselves to be innocent in this matter. 12So even though I wrote to you,[y] it was not on account of the one who did the wrong[z] or of the injured party, but rather that before God you could see for yourselves how devoted to us you are. 13By all this we are encouraged.

In addition to our own encouragement, we were especially delighted to see how happy Titus[a] was, because his spirit has been refreshed by all of you. 14I had boasted to him about you,[b] and you have not embarrassed me. But just as everything we said to you was true, so our boasting about you to Titus[c] has proved to be true as well. 15And his affection for you is all the greater when he remembers that you were all obedient,[d] receiving him with fear and trembling.[e] 16I am glad I can have complete confidence in you.[f]

Generosity Encouraged

8 And now, brothers, we want you to know about the grace that God has given the Macedonian[g] churches. 2Out of the most severe trial, their overflowing joy and their extreme poverty welled up in rich generosity.[h] 3For I testify that they gave as much as they were able,[i] and even beyond their ability. Entirely on their own, 4they urgently pleaded with us for the privilege of sharing[j] in this service[k] to the saints.[l] 5And they did not do as we expected, but they gave themselves first to the Lord and then to us in keeping with God's will. 6So we urged[m] Titus,[n] since he had earlier made a beginning, to bring also to completion[o] this act of grace on your part. 7But just as you excel in everything[p]—in faith, in speech, in knowledge,[q] in complete earnestness and in your love for us[l]—see that you also excel in this grace of giving.

8I am not commanding you,[r] but I want to test the sincerity of your love by comparing it with the earnestness of others. 9For you know the grace[s] of our Lord Jesus Christ,[t] that though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor,[u] so that you through his poverty might become rich.[v]

10And here is my advice[w] about what is best for you in this matter: Last year you were the first not only to give but also to have the desire to do so.[x] 11Now finish the work, so that your eager willingness[y] to do it may be matched by your completion of it, according to your means. 12For if the willingness is there, the gift is acceptable according to what one has,[z] not according to what he does not have.

13Our desire is not that others might be relieved while you are hard pressed, but that there might be equality. 14At the present time your plenty will supply what they need,[a] so that in turn their plenty will supply what you need. Then there will be equality, 15as it is written: "He who gathered much did not have too much, and he who gathered little did not have too little."[m b]

[l] 7 Some manuscripts in our love for you
[m] 15 Exodus 16:18

8:1–9:15 Paul addresses the question of the collection of money for the distressed Christians in Jerusalem, which the Corinthians had started but not completed.

8:1 grace. The "grace of giving" on the part of believers (v. 7) is more than matched by the self-giving "grace of our Lord Jesus Christ" (v. 9).

8:2 overflowing joy. In the blessings of the gospel.

8:5 they gave themselves first to the Lord. The true principle of all Christian giving. These Macedonian Christians are an amazing example to the Corinthian believers and to the church in every age of the dynamic difference that God's grace makes in the lives and attitudes of his people—a central theme of this letter (cf. 12:9–10).

8:6 we urged Titus. The collection had been started in Corinth under the direction of Titus during the previous year (see v. 10; 9:2), but, no doubt because of the troubles in the Corinthian church, had slowed down or come to a standstill. Paul is now sending Titus back to them, taking with him this present letter, for the purpose of completing this good work, which he describes as an "act of grace" (cf. the link between the grace of God and the selfless generosity of the Macedonian churches in vv. 1–5).

8:7 you excel in everything. Cf. 1Co 1:4–7.

8:8 I am not commanding you. True charity and generosity cannot be commanded. sincerity of your love. They can prove this by giving selflessly and spontaneously. earnestness of others. The remarkable example of the Macedonian churches (vv. 1–5).

8:9 though he was rich . . . he became poor. The eternal Son, in his incarnation and his atoning death in our place on the cross, emptied himself of his riches (see Php 2:7). through his poverty might become rich. The supreme and inescapable incentive of all genuine Christian generosity.

8:11 Now finish the work. The work they had started "last year" with desire (v. 10) needs to be completed (see note on v. 6).

8:12 according to what one has. What matters is the willingness, which is the motive of true generosity, no matter how small the amount that can be afforded. An outstanding example of one who put this principle into practice is the poor widow (see Mk 12:41–44). The mechanics of the collection being made in Corinth had been proposed by Paul in his earlier letter (see 1Co 16:1–2).

8:15 See NIV text note. The reference is to the gathering by the Israelites of the manna in the desert. Though in the daily gathering the aged and weak might collect less than the prescribed amount and the young and vigorous might collect more, there was an equal distribution, so that the excess of some ministered to the deficiency of others.

Titus Sent to Corinth

16I thank God,[c] who put into the heart[d] of Titus[e] the same concern I have for you. 17For Titus not only welcomed our appeal, but he is coming to you with much enthusiasm and on his own initiative.[f] 18And we are sending along with him the brother[g] who is praised by all the churches[h] for his service to the gospel.[i] 19What is more, he was chosen by the churches to accompany us[j] as we carry the offering, which we administer in order to honor the Lord himself and to show our eagerness to help.[k] 20We want to avoid any criticism of the way we administer this liberal gift. 21For we are taking pains to do what is right, not only in the eyes of the Lord but also in the eyes of men.[l]

22In addition, we are sending with them our brother who has often proved to us in many ways that he is zealous, and now even more so because of his great confidence in you. 23As for Titus,[m] he is my partner[n] and fellow worker[o] among you; as for our brothers,[p] they are representatives of the churches and an honor to Christ. 24Therefore show these men the proof of your love and the reason for our pride in you,[q] so that the churches can see it.

9 There is no need[r] for me to write to you about this service[s] to the saints.[t] 2For I know your eagerness to help,[u] and I have been boasting[v] about it to the Macedonians, telling them that since last year[w] you in Achaia[x] were ready to give; and your enthusiasm has stirred most of them to action. 3But I am sending the brothers[y] in order that our boasting about you in this matter should not prove hollow, but that you may be ready, as I said you would be.[z] 4For if any Macedonians[a] come with me and find you unprepared, we—not to say anything about you—would be ashamed of having been so confident. 5So I thought it necessary to urge the brothers[b] to visit you in advance and finish the arrangements for the generous gift you had promised. Then it will be ready as a generous gift,[c] not as one grudgingly given.[d]

Sowing Generously

6Remember this: Whoever sows sparingly will also reap sparingly, and whoever sows generously will also reap generously.[e] 7Each man should give what he has decided in his heart to give,[f] not reluctantly or under compulsion,[g] for God loves a cheerful giver.[h] 8And God is able[i] to make all grace abound to you, so that in all things at all times, having all that you need,[j] you will abound in every good work. 9As it is written:

> "He has scattered abroad his gifts[k] to the poor;
> his righteousness endures forever."[n]

10Now he who supplies seed to the sower and bread for food[m] will also supply and increase your store of seed and will enlarge the harvest of your righteousness.[n] 11You will be made rich[o] in every way so that you can be generous[p] on every occasion, and through us your generosity will result in thanksgiving to God.[q]

12This service that you perform is not only supplying the needs[r] of God's people but is also overflowing in many expressions of thanks to God.[s] 13Because of the service[t] by which you have proved yourselves, men will praise God[u] for the obedience that accompanies your confession[v] of the gospel of Christ,[w] and for your generosity[x] in sharing with them and with everyone else. 14And in their prayers for you their

8:16 Titus. Had established a relationship of trust and affection with the Corinthians (see 7:6–7,13–15). He had organized the collection when it was started the previous year (see note on v. 6).

8:18 the brother. Probably Luke, but possibly Barnabas. In any case, it was someone who was widely known for the faithfulness of his ministry.

8:19 chosen by the churches. Paul provides a good example of the care that church leaders should take in handling money.

8:20 It is important not only that God sees (cf. vv. 19,21) but also that people see that one is carrying on the Lord's work in a proper, ethical and honest manner.

8:21 taking pains to do what is right. Even so, Paul is the victim of disgraceful slander (implied by 12:17–18; see Introduction: Purpose); but the integrity of his representatives (see note on v. 23) reflects well on his own integrity.

8:22 our brother. This second brother is anonymous, like the one already mentioned (see v. 18 and note).

8:23 partner and fellow worker. See note on 2:13. representatives of the churches. Duly elected delegates of the churches at large (so that they could not be dismissed as cronies chosen by Paul alone); see note on Ac 20:4. an honor to Christ. Christians of outstanding faithfulness.

9:6 Probably a well-known proverb—but not taken from the OT book of Proverbs.

9:7 See Lk 6:38.

9:8 all things ... all times ... all that you need. Through his abounding grace, God can enable each Christian to abound in generous deeds (see v. 11).

9:9–10 righteousness. See note on Ps 1:5.

9:12 not only supplying the needs of God's people. The effect of generous giving on the part of the Corinthians will extend beyond Jerusalem, the destination of their gift, to the church as a whole, causing widespread prayer and praise to be offered (see vv. 13–14).

9:14 the surpassing grace God has given you. Displayed in this unselfish demonstration of their loving concern for fellow believers who are in desperate need.

hearts will go out to you, because of the surpassing grace God has given you. 15Thanks be to God[y] for his indescribable gift![z]

Paul's Defense of His Ministry

10 By the meekness and gentleness[a] of Christ, I appeal to you—I, Paul,[b] who am "timid" when face to face with you, but "bold" when away! 2I beg you that when I come I may not have to be as bold[c] as I expect to be toward some people who think that we live by the standards of this world.[d] 3For though we live in the world, we do not wage war as the world does.[e] 4The weapons we fight with[f] are not the weapons of the world. On the contrary, they have divine power[g] to demolish strongholds.[h] 5We demolish arguments and every pretension that sets itself up against the knowledge of God,[i] and we take captive every thought to make it obedient[j] to Christ. 6And we will be ready to punish every act of disobedience, once your obedience is complete.[k]

7You are looking only on the surface of things.[o][l] If anyone is confident that he belongs to Christ,[m] he should consider again that we belong to Christ just as much as he.[n] 8For even if I boast somewhat freely about the authority the Lord gave us[o] for building you up rather than pulling you down,[p] I will not be ashamed of it. 9I do not want to seem to be trying to frighten you with my letters. 10For some say, "His letters are weighty and forceful, but in person he is unimpressive[q] and his speaking amounts to nothing."[r] 11Such people should realize that what we are in our letters when we are absent, we will be in our actions when we are present.

12We do not dare to classify or compare ourselves with some who commend themselves.[s] When they measure themselves by themselves and compare themselves with themselves, they are not wise. 13We, however, will not boast be-

[o] 7 Or Look at the obvious facts

9:15 indescribable gift. His own Son (Jn 3:16). God is the first giver; he first selflessly gives himself to us in the person of his Son, and all true Christian giving is our response of gratitude for this gift that is beyond description (cf. 8:9; 1Jn 4:9–11).

10:1 "timid" when face to face ... "bold" when away. From the mild tone of the first nine chapters of Paul's letter, it appears that the majority of the Corinthian believers had been won over to Paul (cf. 7:6–13), after having been alienated by his Corinthian opponents. In this final section (chs. 10–13), however, Paul deals firmly with the slanders that have been spread against him in Corinth by the remaining opposition. Those who wish to discredit him have been saying that he is bold at a distance, threatening to take severe disciplinary action, especially in his letters (cf., e.g., his warning that, if necessary, he will come "with a whip" in 1Co 4:18–21). But they say that he will not dare to be anything but weak and indecisive if he is present with them in person—in short, that he does not have the apostolic authority he claims to have. Paul is ready to prove otherwise, should the occasion demand, when he comes to Corinth for the third time (see vv. 6,10–11). His appeal to the meekness and gentleness of Christ is an indication of his own affectionate desire to show these same qualities when present with them. In any case, though weak in himself, Paul is strong in the Lord—as this whole letter explains—and those who are rebellious can expect to feel the force of his divinely given authority.

10:4 weapons we fight with. Paul is prepared for warfare; his weapons, however, are not the weapons prized by this fallen world and fashioned by human pride and arrogance. strongholds. Of "arguments" and "every pretension" (v. 5) defiantly raised "against the knowledge of God" (cf. Ro 1:18–23), among which are the faulty reasonings by which the false apostles have been trying to shake the faith of the Christians in Corinth (see 1Co 2:13–14).

10:5 every thought ... obedient to Christ. The center of man's being thus becomes fully subject to the lordship of Christ.

10:7 he belongs to Christ. Probably echoes the claim to superior spirituality by the Christ party (1Co 1:12) and the false teachers in Corinth. Paul, who had dramatically encountered and been commissioned by the risen Lord (see Ac 9:3–9; 22:6–11; 26:12–18) and who received the gospel he preached "by revelation from Jesus Christ" (Gal 1:12; cf. 2Co 12:2–7), asserts that he belongs to Christ just as much.

10:8 authority ... for building you up. The primary purpose of Paul's apostolic authority is constructive, for building up, not destructive, for pulling down (the same statement is made again in 13:10). The demands he makes in his letters are written so that they may put right what is amiss and so that things may be in order for his arrival, thus removing the need for severe action (pulling down) and preparing the way for edification (building up).

10:9 frighten you with my letters. See 2:3–4; 7:8–9; chs. 10–13; 1Co 4:18–21.

10:10 his speaking amounts to nothing. See note on v. 1. Paul's adversaries used a professional type of oratory as their stock in trade, designed to extract money from their gullible audiences. But Paul's manner of speaking was quite different; it was plain, straightforward and free from artificiality—and it was also free of charge (see note on 11:7), which meant, if his slanderous opponents were to be believed, that what he said was worthless. But in coming to Corinth Paul had purposely disdained academic eloquence and wisdom and was determined to proclaim the message of Christ crucified, and the transformed lives of the Corinthian believers testified to the divine power with which he spoke (cf. 1Co 2:1–5).

10:12 they measure themselves by themselves. The false teachers in Corinth behave as though there is no standard of comparison higher than themselves, but Paul boasts only in the Lord (see vv. 13–18; cf. 1Co 1:31).

10:13 the field God has assigned to us. The picture Paul has in mind may be that of an athletic contest in which lanes are marked out for the different runners. In that case "field" should be rendered "lane"—as also "area of activity" (v. 15) and "territory" (v. 16). In intruding themselves into Corinth, the false apostles had crossed into Paul's lane, which was the lane that God had marked out and that had brought him to the Corinthians as their genuine apostle. He has no intention of invading the territory marked out for others and claiming their work as his own, as these false teachers were doing. Others understand the Greek word in question to refer to an assigned sphere of authority.

yond proper limits, but will confine our boasting to the field God has assigned to us,[t] a field that reaches even to you. [14]We are not going too far in our boasting, as would be the case if we had not come to you, for we did get as far as you[u] with the gospel of Christ.[v] [15]Neither do we go beyond our limits[w] by boasting of work done by others.[px] Our hope is that, as your faith continues to grow,[y] our area of activity among you will greatly expand, [16]so that we can preach the gospel[z] in the regions beyond you.[a] For we do not want to boast about work already done in another man's territory. [17]But, "Let him who boasts boast in the Lord."[qb] [18]For it is not the one who commends himself[c] who is approved, but the one whom the Lord commends.[d]

Paul and the False Apostles

11 I hope you will put up with[e] a little of my foolishness;[f] but you are already doing that. [2]I am jealous for you with a godly jealousy. I promised you to one husband,[g] to Christ, so that I might present you[h] as a pure virgin to him. [3]But I am afraid that just as Eve was deceived by the serpent's cunning,[i] your minds may somehow be led astray from your sincere and pure devotion to Christ. [4]For if someone comes to you and preaches a Jesus other than the Jesus we preached,[j] or if you receive a different spirit[k] from the one you received, or a different gospel[l] from the one you accepted, you put up with it[m] easily enough. [5]But I do not think I am in the least inferior to those "super-apostles."[n] [6]I may not be a trained speaker,[o] but I do have knowledge.[p] We have made this perfectly clear to you in every way.

[7]Was it a sin[q] for me to lower myself in order to elevate you by preaching the gospel of God[r] to you free of charge?[s] [8]I robbed other churches by receiving support from them[t] so as to serve you. [9]And when I was with you and needed something, I was not a burden to anyone, for the brothers who came from Macedonia supplied what I needed.[u] I have kept myself from being a burden to you[v] in any way, and will continue to do so. [10]As surely as the truth of Christ is in me,[w] nobody in the regions of Achaia[x] will stop this boasting[y] of mine. [11]Why? Because I do not love you? God knows[z] I do! [12]And I will keep on doing what I am doing in order to cut the ground from under those who want an opportunity to be considered equal with us in the things they boast about.

10:16 regions beyond. Spain is probably in his thoughts (see Ro 15:24,28).

11:1 my foolishness. In order to compare his own ministry with that of the false apostles who have invaded the Corinthian church, Paul has to speak about himself, which inevitably seems like foolish boasting.

11:2 godly jealousy. Paul cannot bear the thought that there might be any rival to Christ and his gospel. I promised you to one husband. As their spiritual father (cf. 6:13), Paul has promised the Corinthian believers to Christ, who is frequently depicted in the NT as the bridegroom, with the church portrayed as his bride (Mt 9:15; Jn 3:29; Ro 7:4; 1Co 6:15; Eph 5:23–32; Rev 19:7–9; 21:2). pure virgin. Undefiled by the doctrines of false teachers (see vv. 3–4).

11:4 a Jesus other than the Jesus we preached. They presented a Jesus cast in the mold of Judaistic teachings (Paul's opponents were Jews; see v. 22). different spirit. A spirit of bondage, fear and worldliness (cf. Ro 8:15; 1Co 2:12; Gal 2:4; 4:24; Col 2:20–23) instead of a spirit of freedom, love, joy, peace and power (cf. 3:17; Ro 14:17; Gal 2:4; 5:1,22; Eph 3:20; Col 1:11; 2Ti 1:7). different gospel. Cf. Gal 1:6–9. you put up with it easily enough. They have been undiscerningly tolerant of these deceivers in their midst.

11:5 those "super-apostles." Paul's sarcastic way of referring to the false apostles who had infiltrated the Corinthian church and were in reality not apostles at all, except in their own arrogantly inflated opinion of themselves (cf. 10:12).

11:6 I may not be a trained speaker. Using the skills, references and flourishes of professional rhetoric (see note on 10:10). I do have knowledge. As the Corinthian believers well knew, Paul had knowledge of Christ that was true, powerful and God-given, totally distinct from the powerless human wisdom the false teachers were attempting to deceive them with (cf. 1Co 2:6–10).

11:7 free of charge. Another slanderous criticism made by Paul's adversaries was that his refusal to accept payment for his instruction proved that it was worth nothing. This accusation at the same time helped to cloak their own grasping character, since their method of operation, like that of first-century traveling philosophers and religious teachers, was to demand payment for their "professional" services. Paul, his enemies said, was lowering himself and committing a sin by breaking the rule that a teacher should receive payment in proportion to the worth of his performance.

11:8 robbed other churches. Accepted freely given support from established congregations.

11:9 burden. A financial liability (see note on 2:17). This reinforced his teaching that the gospel of Jesus Christ is a free gift. brothers who came from Macedonia. They brought gifts from the churches in that province (Ac 18:5), particularly from the church at Philippi (Php 4:15).

11:12 I will keep on. Paul will not be deterred from presenting the gospel without charge. Actually, this practice made his adversaries look bad. They were greedy for gain, and it would have suited them better if Paul had been willing to accept money for his teaching, for this would have put him on a level with their practice. equal. In financial matters.

11:13 masquerading as apostles of Christ. Now Paul exposes these would-be "super-apostles" (v. 5) as false apostles of Christ.[d] [14]And no wonder, for Satan[e] himself masquerades as an angel of light. [15]It is not surprising, then, if his servants masquerade as servants of righteousness. Their end will be what their actions deserve.[f]

Paul Boasts About His Sufferings

[16]I repeat: Let no one take me for a fool.[g] But if you do, then receive me just as you would a fool, so that I may do a little boasting. [17]In this self-confident boasting I am not talking as the Lord would,[h] but as a fool.[i] [18]Since many are boasting in the way the world does,[j] I too will boast.[k] [19]You gladly put up with[l] fools since you are so wise![m] [20]In fact, you even put up with[n] anyone who enslaves you[o] or exploits you or takes advantage of you or pushes himself forward or slaps you in the face. [21]To my shame I admit that we were too weak[p] for that!

What anyone else dares to boast about—I am speaking as a fool—I also dare to boast about.[q] [22]Are they Hebrews? So am I.[r] Are they Israelites? So am I.[s] Are they Abraham's descendants? So am I.[t] [23]Are they servants of Christ?[u] (I am out of my mind to talk like this.) I am more. I have worked much harder,[v] been in prison more frequently,[w] been flogged more severely,[x] and been exposed to death again and again.[y] [24]Five times I received from the Jews the forty lashes[z] minus one. [25]Three times I was beaten with rods,[a] once I was stoned,[b] three times I was shipwrecked,[c] I spent a night and a day in the open sea, [26]I have been constantly on the move. I have been in danger from rivers, in danger from bandits, in danger from my own countrymen,[d] in danger from Gentiles; in danger in the city,[e] in danger in the country, in danger at sea; and in danger from false brothers.[f] [27]I have labored and toiled[g] and have often gone without sleep; I have known hunger and thirst and have often gone without food;[h] I have been cold and naked. [28]Besides everything else, I face daily the pressure of my concern for all the churches.[i] [29]Who is weak, and I do not feel weak?[j] Who is led into sin,[k] and I do not inwardly burn?

[30]If I must boast, I will boast[l] of the things that show my weakness.[m] [31]The God and Father of the Lord Jesus, who is apostles and servants of Satan (v. 14) who are covering up their true identity.

11:14 as an angel of light. Though he is in reality the prince of darkness.

11:16 Let no one take me for a fool. See note on v. 1.

11:18 boast. By speaking of the nature of his apostolic ministry.

11:19 You gladly put up with fools. Resumes the implied rebuke of v. 4, and has the same ironic tone. There it was a matter of their readiness to tolerate false teaching; here it is a matter of their willingness to put up with disgraceful treatment by these false teachers, who are described as fools because of their self-centered boasting.

11:20 enslaves you. By the imposition of tyrannical man-made rules and prohibitions (cf. Gal 5:1). exploits you. See Mk 12:40. takes advantage of you. Thanks to the Corinthians' lack of discernment and their readiness to be impressed by outward show and clever talk. pushes himself forward. For the purpose of lording it over the members of the church (cf. 1:24). slaps you in the face. Using physical violence to cow them into submission.

11:21 too weak for that. Compared with the crude self-seeking roughness of the impostors, Paul's conduct may well be considered weak, but he is probably speaking ironically here.

11:22 Hebrews ... Israelites ... Abraham's descendants. The claims implied here on the part of the false apostles indicate that they were Jews who felt superior to Gentile Christians. From this there follows the probability that they were Judaizers, i.e., they wished to impose distinctive Jewish practices and observances as required for Gentile converts. This, of course, was not Paul's position (see Ro 2:28–29; 1Co 12:13; Gal 3:28–29; Eph 2:11–18; Col 3:11). For Paul's claim see Ac 22:3–5; 26:4–5; Php 3:5–6.

11:23 servants of Christ. Paul is not granting their claim to be servants of Christ. Indeed, the consideration of the nature of his ministry and its cost to him in suffering will show that he is more Christ's servant than any or all of them. exposed to death again and again. Cf. 4:8–11. He means this literally, for the sufferings he lists here and in the verses that follow were life-threatening. The catalogue that follows makes it clear that Luke's account in Acts is selective.

11:24–25 lashes ... rods. Eight floggings are mentioned here, five at the hands of the Jews (cf. Dt 25:1–3) and three at the hands of the Roman authorities, who used rods on these occasions (see Ac 16:22–23). The three beatings with rods took place despite the fact that Paul, being a Roman citizen, was legally protected from such punishment (cf. Ac 16:37–39; 22:25–29).

11:25 stoned. A traditional manner of Jewish execution (cf. Ac 14:19–20). shipwrecked. Only one shipwreck is recorded in Acts, but it took place after the writing of this letter (Ac 27:39–44). The three shipwrecks referred to here could have taken place during the voyages mentioned in Ac 9:30; 11:25–26; 13:4,13; 14:25–26; 16:11; 17:14; 18:18–19, 21–22. a night and a day in the open sea. Probably as a result of one of the shipwrecks.

11:26 in danger. Apart from the specific incidents referred to in the preceding verses, Paul constantly faced situations of danger as well as labors and hardships (see note on Ac 14:24).

11:29 So closely did Paul identify himself with them that he felt the weakness of any member who was weak. If anyone was led into sin, he not only burned with indignation against the person responsible but also experienced the shame of the offense and longed for the restoration of the one who had stumbled.

11:30 I will boast of the things that show my weakness. His weakness opens the way for him to experience the superabundant strength of God's grace. Therefore his boasting in its entirety, unlike that of the false apostles, is not in what he has done but in what God has done.

to be praised forever,[n] knows[o] that I am not lying. [32]In Damascus the governor under King Aretas had the city of the Damascenes guarded in order to arrest me.[p] [33]But I was lowered in a basket from a window in the wall and slipped through his hands.[q]

Paul's Vision and His Thorn

12 I must go on boasting.[r] Although there is nothing to be gained, I will go on to visions and revelations[s] from the Lord. [2]I know a man in Christ[t] who fourteen years ago was caught up[u] to the third heaven.[v] Whether it was in the body or out of the body I do not know—God knows.[w] [3]And I know that this man—whether in the body or apart from the body I do not know, but God knows— [4]was caught up[x] to paradise.[y] He heard inexpressible things, things that man is not permitted to tell. [5]I will boast about a man like that, but I will not boast about myself, except about my weaknesses.[z] [6]Even if I should choose to boast,[a] I would not be a fool,[b] because I would be speaking the truth. But I refrain, so no one will think more of me than is warranted by what I do or say.

[7]To keep me from becoming conceited because of these surpassingly great revelations,[c] there was given me a thorn in my flesh,[d] a messenger of Satan,[e] to torment me. [8]Three times I pleaded with the Lord to take it away from me.[f] [9]But he said to me, "My grace[g] is sufficient for you, for my power[h] is made perfect in weakness."[i] Therefore I will boast all the more gladly about my weaknesses, so that Christ's power may rest on me. [10]That is why, for Christ's sake, I delight[k] in weaknesses, in insults, in hardships,[l] in persecutions,[m] in difficulties. For when I am weak, then I am strong.[n]

Paul's Concern for the Corinthians

[11]I have made a fool of myself,[o] but you drove me to it. I ought to have been commended by you, for I am not in the least inferior to the "super-apostles,"[p] even though I am nothing.[q] [12]The things that mark an apostle—signs, wonders and miracles[r]—were done among you with great perseverance. [13]How were you inferior to the other churches, except that I was never a burden to you?[s] Forgive me this wrong![t]

[14]Now I am ready to visit you for the third time,[u] and I will not be a burden to you, because what I want is not your possessions but you. After all, children should not have to save up for their parents,[v] but parents for their children.[w] [15]So I will very gladly spend for you ev-

11:32 King Aretas. Aretas IV, father-in-law of Herod Antipas, ruled over the Nabatean Arabs from c. 9 B.C. to A.D. 40. The Roman emperor Caligula may have given Damascus to Aretas since it was once part of his territory.

12:1 visions and revelations. If his adversaries falsely claimed to have received their teaching directly from God through visions and revelations, Paul could claim that this was truly so in his case. But he mentions this here to show that the supreme height to which he was raised through these ecstatic experiences was counterbalanced by the humbling depth of a particular affliction he was given to bear (see v. 7), so that he should continue to glory not in self but only in the "God of all grace" (1Pe 5:10).

12:2–4 caught up to the third heaven ... caught up to paradise. Paul is sure of this remarkable experience, but he is unsure whether this rapture (being "caught up") was one that included the body or one that took place in separation from the body. The third heaven designates a place beyond the immediate heaven of the earth's atmosphere and beyond the further heaven of outer space and its constellations into the presence of God himself. Thus the risen and glorified Lord is said to have passed "through the heavens" (Heb 4:14), and now, having "ascended higher than all the heavens" (Eph 4:10), to be "exalted above the heavens" (Heb 7:26). The term "paradise" is synonymous with the third heaven, where those believers who have died are even now "at home with the Lord" (5:8; cf. "with Christ," Php 1:23). The nature of the inexpressible things that Paul heard remains unknown to us because this is something Paul was not permitted to tell. It was an experience that must have given incalculable strength to his apostleship, which involved him in such constant and extreme suffering. Moreover, as this experience was not self-induced, it afforded him no room for self-glorification (vv. 5–6).

12:5 I will boast about a man like that. Some believe that the man "caught up to the third heaven" (v. 2) was not Paul and that Paul here insists that he will not boast about such a glorious experience but only about his weakness.

12:7 thorn in my flesh. The precise nature of this severe affliction remains unknown. messenger of Satan. A further description of Paul's thorn (cf. 1Co 5:5; 11:30; 1Ti 1:20; see Job 2:10).

12:9 My grace is sufficient for you. A better solution than to remove Paul's thorn. Human weakness provides the ideal opportunity for the display of divine power.

12:10 Cf. Eph 3:16; Php 4:13.

12:11 made a fool of myself. See note on 11:1. you drove me to it. The Corinthian Christians have put Paul under pressure to write about himself as he did because they had accepted the claims of the "super-apostles" who had invaded their ranks, challenging Paul's apostolic authority.

12:12 things that mark an apostle. Extraordinary gifts and powers had been displayed in their midst. By implication, the false teachers had come to them without these apostolic signs (cf. Heb 2:3–4).

12:13 I was never a burden to you. See note on 11:9. Paul's refusal to accept any payment when preaching the gospel to the Corinthians had been slanderously twisted by his adversaries (see notes on 11:7,12). They, who had grasped at all they could get, were saying that it was he who had sinned against the Corinthians. Forgive me this wrong! Irony—resuming the line of discussion in 11:7–12.

12:14 third time. See note on 2:1. not be a burden. Chiefly now, so that the falsity and greed of the "super-apostles" may be clearly exposed (see 11:12). children. Paul is their spiritual father (cf. 6:13).

12:15 His paternal devotion to them is shown not merely erything I have and expend myself as well.[x] If I love you more,[y] will you love me less? [16]Be that as it may, I have not been a burden to you.[z] Yet, crafty fellow that I am, I caught you by trickery! [17]Did I exploit you through any of the men I sent you? [18]I urged[a] Titus[b] to go to you and I sent our brother[c] with him. Titus did not exploit you, did he? Did we not act in the same spirit and follow the same course?

[19]Have you been thinking all along that we have been defending ourselves to you? We have been speaking in the sight of God[d] as those in Christ; and everything we do, dear friends,[e] is for your strengthening.[f] [20]For I am afraid that when I come[g] I may not find you as I want you to be, and you may not find me as you want me to be.[h] I fear that there may be quarreling,[i] jealousy, outbursts of anger, factions,[j] slander,[k] gossip,[l] arrogance[m] and disorder.[n] [21]I am afraid that when I come again my God will humble me before you, and I will be grieved[o] over many who have sinned earlier[p] and have not repented of the impurity, sexual sin and debauchery[q] in which they have indulged.

Final Warnings

13 This will be my third visit to you.[r] "Every matter must be established by the testimony of two or three witnesses."[rs] [2]I already gave you a warning when I was with you the second time. I now repeat it while absent:[t] On my return I will not spare[u] those who sinned earlier[v] or any of the others, [3]since you are demanding proof that Christ is speaking through me.[w] He is not weak in dealing with you, but is powerful among you. [4]For to be sure, he was crucified in weakness,[x] yet he lives by God's power.[y] Likewise, we are weak[z] in him, yet by God's power we will live with him[a] to serve you.

[5]Examine yourselves[b] to see whether you are in the faith; test yourselves.[c] Do you not realize that Christ Jesus is in you[d]—unless, of course, you fail the test? [6]And I trust that you will discover that we have not failed the test. [7]Now we pray to God that you will not do anything wrong. Not that people will see that we have stood the test but that you will do what is right even though we may seem to have failed. [8]For we cannot do anything against the truth, but only for the truth. [9]We are glad whenever we are weak[e] but you are strong;[f] and our prayer is for your perfection.[g] [10]This is why I write these things when I am absent, that when I come I may not have to be harsh[h] in my use of authority—the authority the Lord gave me for building you up, not for tearing you down.[i]

Final Greetings

[11]Finally, brothers,[j] good-by. Aim for perfection, listen to my appeal, be of one mind, live in peace.[k] And the God of love[l] and peace[m] will be with you.

in his readiness to spend whatever money he has for them but, much more deeply, in his joyful willingness to spend himself completely for their sake.

12:16 I caught you by trickery! Sarcastically echoes another of the slanders being made against Paul by the false apostles: that he was exploiting them by the trick of organizing a collection for the poverty-stricken Christians in Jerusalem—contributions that would never reach the mother-city because they went into Paul's own pocket (v. 17). No wonder, then, that he could afford not to be a burden to them! The fact is, however, that it is these false apostles who are the "deceitful workmen" masquerading as "servants of righteousness" (11:13–15). Paul is unblemished both in conduct and in conscience, and the Corinthians are fully aware of this.

12:18 Titus . . . our brother. See notes on 8:6,16,18–23.

12:19 speaking in the sight of God . . . in Christ. Paul's concern in speaking of himself is not for his own personal prestige and reputation before people (cf. 1Co 4:3–4). It is before God that he stands, and his standing before God is in Christ. Far from being self-centered, his concern is for the Corinthians, his dear friends—for their strengthening as they too stand before God in Christ. His entire ministry, with its sufferings, is directed to this end (cf. 10:8).

12:20 I will not spare . . . any. Paul will not hesitate to take stern disciplinary action against offenders when he comes to Corinth for the third time, as he is about to do.

13:3 demanding proof that Christ is speaking through me. See note on 10:10. They will be given ample proof when he comes, unless they show a change of heart. He is not weak. Rebellion against Paul is rebellion against Christ, who appointed him as his apostle. The authority of the apostle is the authority of his Master. Any who imagine that Paul is weak will find that Christ, the Lord who speaks through his apostle, is not weak but powerful.

13:4 by God's power we will live with him. Paul is referring to his present apostolic authority, and to the fact that divine power will be displayed by the punishment of any who resist that authority.

13:5 Examine yourselves . . . test yourselves. Instead of demanding proof that Christ was speaking through him (v. 3), as the false apostles were inciting them to do, they should look into their own hearts.

13:7 do what is right. Then there will be no need for Paul to give evidence of his authority by taking disciplinary action when he comes to them.

13:8 we cannot do anything against the truth. Paul can exercise his apostolic authority only in a way that supports the truth. Consequently, if the truth is acknowledged when he arrives in Corinth, there will be no need for him to take disciplinary action.

13:9 weak. To have no need to give proof of his apostolic strength. strong. In the truth.

13:11–14 These concluding exhortations and salutations exhibit a note of confidence.

13:11 God of . . . peace. See note on 1Th 5:23.

13:12 kiss. A token of mutual trust and affection, still in common use in the Near East—corresponding to the handshake of the Western world. For Christians it must be a holy kiss, for all greetings should be purely and sincerely exchanged in Christ (see 1:2).

13:14 The benediction is Trinitarian in form and has ever since been a part of Christian worship tradition. It serves to remind us that the mystery of the Holy Trinity is known to be true not through rational or philosophical explanation but through Christian experience, whereby the believer knows firsthand the grace, the love, and the fellowship that freely flow to him from the three Persons of the one Lord God.

Galatians

Author

The opening verse identifies the author of Galatians as the apostle Paul. Apart from a few 19th-century scholars, no one has seriously questioned his authorship.

Date and Destination

The date of Galatians depends to a great extent on the destination of the letter. There are two main views:

1. The North Galatian theory. This older view holds that the letter was addressed to churches located in north-central Asia Minor (Pessinus, Ancyra and Tavium), where the Gauls had settled when they invaded the area in the third century B.C. It is held that Paul visited this area on his second missionary journey, though Acts contains no reference to such a visit. Galatians, it is maintained, was written between A.D. 53 and 57 from Ephesus or Macedonia.

2. The South Galatian theory. According to this view, Galatians was written to churches in the southern area of the Roman province of Galatia (Antioch, Iconium, Lystra and Derbe) that Paul had founded on his first missionary journey. Some believe that Galatians was written from Syrian Antioch in 48–49 after Paul's first journey and before the Jerusalem council meeting (Ac 15). Others say that Galatians was written in Syrian Antioch or Corinth between 51 and 53.

Occasion and Purpose

Judaizers were Jewish Christians who believed, among other things, that a number of the ceremonial practices of the OT were still binding on the NT church. Following Paul's successful campaign in Galatia, they insisted that Gentile converts to Christianity abide by certain OT rites, especially circumcision. They may have been motivated by a desire to avoid the persecution of Zealot Jews who objected to their fraternizing with Gentiles (see 6:12). The Judaizers argued that Paul was not an authentic apostle and that out of a desire to make the message more appealing to Gentiles he had removed from the gospel certain legal requirements.

Paul responded by clearly establishing his apostolic authority and thereby substantiating the gospel he preached. By introducing additional requirements for justification (e.g., works of the law) his adversaries had perverted the gospel of grace and, unless prevented, would bring Paul's converts into the bondage of legalism. It is by grace through faith alone that man is justified, and it is by faith alone that he is to live out his new life in the freedom of the Spirit.

Theological Teaching

Galatians stands as an eloquent and vigorous apologetic for the essential NT truth that man is justified by faith in Jesus Christ—by nothing less and nothing more—and that he is sanctified not by legalistic works but by the obedience that comes from faith in God's work for him, in him and through him by the grace and power of Christ and the Holy Spirit. It was the rediscovery of the basic message of Galatians that brought about the Reformation. Galatians is often referred to as "Luther's book," because Martin Luther relied so strongly on this letter in his writings and arguments against the prevailing theology of his day. A key verse is 2:16 (see note there).

Outline

I. Introduction (1:1–9)
   A. Salutation (1:1–5)
   B. Denunciation (1:6–9)
II. Personal: Authentication of the Apostle of Liberty and Faith (1:10—2:21)
   A. Paul's Gospel Was Received by Special Revelation (1:10–12)
   B. Paul's Gospel Was Independent of the Jerusalem Apostles and the Judean Churches (1:13—2:21)
      1. Evidenced by his early activities as a Christian (1:13–17)
      2. Evidenced by his first post-Christian visit to Jerusalem (1:18–24)
      3. Evidenced by his second post-Christian visit to Jerusalem (2:1–10)
      4. Evidenced by his rebuke of Peter at Antioch (2:11–21)
III. Doctrinal: Justification of the Doctrine of Liberty and Faith (chs. 3—4)
   A. The Galatians' Experience of the Gospel (3:1–5)
   B. The Experience of Abraham (3:6–9)
   C. The Curse of the Law (3:10–14)
   D. The Priority of the Promise (3:15–18)
   E. The Purpose of the Law (3:19–25)
   F. Sons, Not Slaves (3:26—4:11)
   G. Appeal to Enter into Freedom from Law (4:12–20)
   H. The Allegory of Hagar and Sarah (4:21–31)
IV. Practical: Practice of the Life of Liberty and Faith (5:1—6:10)
   A. Exhortation to Freedom (5:1–12)
   B. Life by the Spirit, Not by the Flesh (5:13–26)
   C. Call for Mutual Help (6:1–10)
V. Conclusion (6:11–18)

1 Paul, an apostle[a]—sent not from men nor by man,[b] but by Jesus Christ[c] and God the Father,[d] who raised him from the dead[e]— 2and all the brothers with me,[f]

To the churches in Galatia:[g]

3Grace and peace to you from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ,[h] 4who gave himself for our sins[i] to rescue us from the present evil age,[j] according to the will of our God and Father,[k] 5to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.[l]

No Other Gospel

6I am astonished that you are so quickly deserting the one who called[m] you by the grace of Christ and are turning to a different gospel[n]— 7which is really no gospel at all. Evidently some people are throwing you into confusion[o] and are trying to pervert[p] the gospel of Christ. 8But even if we or an angel from heaven should preach a gospel other than the one we preached to you,[q] let him be eternally condemned![r] 9As we have already said, so now I say again: If anybody is preaching to you a gospel other than what you accepted,[s] let him be eternally condemned!

10Am I now trying to win the approval of men, or of God? Or am I trying to please men?[t] If I were still trying to please men, I would not be a servant of Christ.

Paul Called by God

11I want you to know, brothers,[u] that the gospel I preached[v] is not something that man made up. 12I did not receive it from any man,[w] nor was I taught it; rather, I received it by revelation[x] from Jesus Christ.[y]

13For you have heard of my previous way of life in Judaism,[z] how intensely I persecuted the church of God[a] and tried to destroy it.[b] 14I was advancing in Judaism beyond many Jews of my own age and was extremely zealous[c] for the traditions of my fathers.[d] 15But when God, who set me apart from birth[a,e] and called me[f] by his grace, was pleased 16to reveal his Son in me so that I might preach him among the Gentiles,[g] I did not consult any man,[h] 17nor did I go up to Jerusalem to see those who were apostles before I was, but I went immediately into Arabia and later returned to Damascus.[i]

[a] 15 Or from my mother's womb

1:1 Paul. Writers of this time customarily put their names at the beginning of letters. For more information on Paul see notes on Ac 9:1; Php 3:4–14. apostle. One sent on a mission with full authority of representation; an ambassador (see note on 1Co 1:1). raised him from the dead. The resurrection is the central affirmation of the Christian faith (see Ac 17:18; Ro 1:4; 1Co 15:20; 1Pe 1:3), and because Paul had seen the risen Christ he was qualified to be an apostle (see Ac 1:22 and note; 2:32; 1Co 15:8).

1:2 brothers. Fellow Christians (see 3:15; 4:12; 5:11; 6:18). churches. This was a circular letter to several congregations. Galatia. The term occurs three times in the NT. In 2Ti 4:10 the reference is uncertain. In 1Pe 1:1 it refers to the northern area of Asia Minor occupied by the Gauls. Here Paul probably uses the term to refer to the Roman province of Galatia and an additional area to the south, through which he traveled on his first missionary journey (Ac 13:14–14:23).

1:3 Grace. The Christian adaptation of a common Greek form of greeting (see notes on Jnh 4:2; Eph 1:2). peace. The common Hebrew form of greeting (see notes on Jn 14:27; 20:19; Eph 1:2).

1:4 for our sins. See Mt 1:21; Jn 1:29; 1Co 15:3; 1Pe 2:24. present evil age. The present period of the world's history (see note on 2Co 4:4). In contrast to the age to come (the climax of the Messianic age), this present age is characterized by wickedness (Eph 2:2; 6:12).

1:5 For other doxologies see Ro 9:5; 11:36; 16:27; Eph 3:21; 1Ti 1:17.

1:6 so quickly. So soon after your conversion. one who called you. God. grace of Christ. The test of a pure, unadulterated gospel.

1:7 some people. The Judaizers (see Introduction: Occasion and Purpose).

1:8 eternally condemned. The Greek word (anathema) originally referred to a pagan temple offering in payment for a vow. Later it came to represent a curse (see v. 9; 1Co 12:3; 16:22; Ro 9:3).

1:10 servant of Christ. Paul once wore the "yoke of slavery" (5:1) but, having been set free from sin by the redemption that is in Christ, he became a slave of righteousness, a slave of God (see Ro 6:18,22).

1:11 I want you to know, brothers. A similar phrase is found in 1Co 15:1, where Paul sets forth the gospel he received. the gospel I preached. Called "my gospel" in Ro 2:16; 16:25. Salvation is for all and is received by faith in Christ.

1:12 received it by revelation. See Eph 3:2–6.

1:13 Judaism. The Jewish faith and way of life that developed during the period between the OT and the NT. The term is derived from Judah, the southern kingdom that came to an end in the sixth century B.C. with the exile into Babylonia. church of God. The NT counterpart of the OT assembly (see Nu 16:21) or community of the Lord (Nu 20:4).

1:14 zealous. See Php 3:6. traditions of my fathers. Traditions orally transmitted from previous generations and contrasted with the written law of Moses. Cf. the "tradition of the elders" (see note on Mt 15:2).

1:15 set me apart from birth. See Isa 49:1; Jer 1:5; Ro 1:1.

1:16 Gentiles. Lit. "nations" or "peoples." The term commonly designated foreigners—hence pagans, or the non-Jewish world. any man. Lit. "flesh and blood"—in the NT always with the implication of human weakness or ignorance (see Mt 16:17; 1Co 15:50; Eph 6:12). Paul received his message from God.

1:17 Jerusalem. The religious center of Judaism and the birthplace of Christianity. Arabia. The Nabatean kingdom in Transjordan stretching from Damascus southwest to the Suez. Damascus. Ancient capital of Syria (Aram in the OT). Paul had been converted en route from Jerusalem to Damascus (Ac 9:1–9).

18 Then after three years,[i] I went up to Jerusalem[k] to get acquainted with Peter[b] and stayed with him fifteen days. 19 I saw none of the other apostles—only James,[l] the Lord's brother. 20 I assure you before God[m] that what I am writing you is no lie.[n] 21 Later I went to Syria[o] and Cilicia.[p] 22 I was personally unknown to the churches of Judea[q] that are in Christ.[r] 23 They only heard the report: "The man who formerly persecuted us is now preaching the faith[s] he once tried to destroy."[t] 24 And they praised God[u] because of me.

Paul Accepted by the Apostles

2 Fourteen years later I went up again to Jerusalem,[v] this time with Barnabas.[w] I took Titus[x] along also. 2 I went in response to a revelation[y] and set before them the gospel that I preach among the Gentiles.[z] But I did this privately to those who seemed to be leaders, for fear that I was running or had run my race[a] in vain. 3 Yet not even Titus,[b] who was with me, was compelled to be circumcised, even though he was a Greek.[c] 4 ⌊This matter arose⌋ because some false brothers[d] had infiltrated our ranks to spy on[e] the freedom[f] we have in Christ Jesus and to make us slaves. 5 We did not give in to them for a moment, so that the truth of the gospel[g] might remain with you.

6 As for those who seemed to be important[h]—whatever they were makes no difference to me; God does not judge by external appearance[i]—those men added nothing to my message.[j] 7 On the contrary, they saw that I had been entrusted with the task[k] of preaching the gospel to the Gentiles,[c][l] just as Peter[m] had been to the Jews.[d] 8 For God, who was at work in the ministry of Peter as an apostle[n] to the Jews, was also at work in my ministry as an apostle[o] to the Gentiles. 9 James,[p] Peter[eq] and John, those reputed to be pillars,[r] gave me and Barnabas[s] the right hand of fellowship when they recognized the grace given to me.[t] They agreed that we should go to the Gentiles,[u] and they to the Jews. 10 All they asked was that we should continue to remember the poor,[v]
the very thing I was eager to do.

Paul Opposes Peter

11 When Peter[w] came to Antioch,[x] I opposed him to his face, because he was clearly in the wrong. 12 Before certain men came from James,[y] he used to eat with the Gentiles.[z] But when they arrived, he began to draw back and separate himself from the Gentiles because he was afraid of those who belonged to the circumcision group.[a] 13 The other Jews joined him in his hypocrisy, so that by their hypocrisy even Barnabas[b] was led astray.

14 When I saw that they were not acting

1:18 after three years. From the time of his departure into Arabia. The text does not say he spent the three years in Arabia. I went up to Jerusalem. Probably the visit referred to in Ac 9:26–30, though some equate it with the one in Ac 11:30. Peter. Or Cephas (see NIV text note), from the Aramaic word for "stone" (see Mt 16:18 and note). The name designates a like quality in the bearer (see note on Jn 1:42).

1:19 James. See Introduction to James: Author. In Ac 21:18 this James appears to be the leader of the elders in the Jerusalem church. the Lord's brother. See note on Lk 8:19.

1:21 Syria and Cilicia. Provinces in Asia Minor. Specifically Paul went to Tarsus (see Ac 9:30), his hometown.

2:1 Fourteen years later. Probably from the date of Paul's conversion. I went up again to Jerusalem. According to some, the visit mentioned in Ac 11:30; according to others, the one in Ac 15:1–4 (see notes on Ac 12:1; 15:2). Barnabas. Means "one who encourages." His given name was Joseph, and he was a Levite from the island of Cyprus (see Ac 4:36 and note). He was Paul's companion on the first missionary journey (Ac 13:1–14:28). Titus. A Gentile Christian who served as Paul's delegate to Corinth and later was left in Crete to oversee the church there (see Tit 1:5).

2:2 those who seemed to be leaders. Paul recognized their authority, and is probably referring to James, Peter and John (v. 9; cf. v. 6). had run my race in vain. See 1Co 15:58; Php 2:16.

2:4 false brothers. Judaizers who held that Gentile converts should be circumcised and obey the law of Moses (cf. Ac 15:5; 2Co 11:26). to spy on. Used in the Septuagint (the Greek translation of the OT) in 2Sa 10:3 and 1Ch 19:3 of spying out a territory. freedom. See 5:1,13; Ro 6:18,20,22; 8:2. "Free" and "freedom" are key words in Galatians, occurring 11 times (here; 3:28; 4:22–23,26,30–31; 5:1,13).

2:6 those who seemed to be important. See note on v. 2. judge by external appearance. Cf. Dt 10:17; 1Sa 16:7; Lk 20:21; Jas 2:1.

2:7 to the Gentiles. Paul's ministry was not exclusively to the Gentiles. In fact, he regularly went first to the synagogue when arriving in a new location (see note on Ac 13:14). He did, however, consider himself to be foremost an apostle to the Gentiles (see Ro 11:13 and note).

2:9 James. See note on 1:19. pillars. A common metaphor for those who represent and strongly support an institution. right hand of fellowship. A common practice among both Hebrews and Greeks, indicating a pledge of friendship.

2:11 Antioch. The leading city of Syria and third leading city of the Roman empire (after Rome and Alexandria). From it Paul had been sent out on his missionary journeys (see Ac 13:1–3; 14:26). in the wrong. For yielding to the pressure of the circumcision party (the Judaizers), thus going against what he knew to be right.

2:12 circumcision group. Judaizers, who believed that circumcision was necessary for salvation (cf. Ac 10:45; 11:2; Ro 4:12).

2:13 other Jews. Jewish Christians not associated with the circumcision party but whom Peter's behavior had led astray.

2:14 you live like a Gentile. You do not observe Jewish in line with the truth of the gospel,[c] I said to Peter[d] in front of them all, "You are a Jew, yet you live like a Gentile and not like a Jew.[e] How is it, then, that you force Gentiles to follow Jewish customs?[f]

15"We who are Jews by birth[g] and not 'Gentile sinners'[h] 16know that a man is not justified by observing the law,[i] but by faith in Jesus Christ.[j] So we, too, have put our faith in Christ Jesus that we may be justified by faith in Christ and not by observing the law, because by observing the law no one will be justified.[k]

17"If, while we seek to be justified in Christ, it becomes evident that we ourselves are sinners,[l] does that mean that Christ promotes sin? Absolutely not![m] 18If I rebuild what I destroyed, I prove that I am a lawbreaker. 19For through the law I died to the law[n] so that I might live for God.[o] 20I have been crucified with Christ[p] and I no longer live, but Christ lives in me.[q] The life I live in the body, I live by faith in the Son of God,[r] who loved me[s] and gave himself for me.[t] 21I do not set aside the grace of God, for if righteousness could be gained through the law,[u] Christ died for nothing!"[f]

Faith or Observance of the Law

3 You foolish[v] Galatians![w] Who has bewitched you?[x] Before your very eyes Jesus Christ was clearly portrayed as crucified.[y] 2I would like to learn just one thing from you: Did you receive the Spirit[z] by observing the law,[a] or by believing what you heard?[b] 3Are you so foolish? After beginning with the Spirit, are you now trying to attain your goal by human effort? 4Have you suffered so much for nothing—if it really was for nothing? 5Does God give you his Spirit and work miracles[c] among you because you observe the law, or because you believe what you heard?[d]

6Consider Abraham: "He believed God, and it was credited to him as righteousness."[ge] 7Understand, then, that those who believe[f] are children of Abraham.[g] 8The Scripture foresaw that God would justify the Gentiles by faith, and announced the gospel in advance to Abraham: "All nations will be blessed through you."[hh] 9So those who have faith[i] are blessed along with Abraham, the man of faith.[j]

10All who rely on observing the law[k] are under a curse,[l] for it is written: "Cursed is everyone who does not continue to do everything written in the Book of the Law."[im] 11Clearly no one is justified before God by the law,[n] because, "The righteous will live by faith."[jo] 12The law is not based on faith; on the contrary, "The man who does these things will live by them."[kp] 13Christ redeemed us from the curse of customs, especially dietary restrictions (see v. 12).

2:16 A key verse in Galatians (see Introduction: Theological Teaching). Three times it tells us that no one is justified by observing the law, and three times it underscores the indispensable requirement of placing one's faith in Christ. by observing the law. Paul is not depreciating the law itself, for he clearly maintained that God's law is "holy, righteous and good" (Ro 7:12). He is arguing against an illegitimate use of the OT law that made the observance of that law the grounds of acceptance with God. justified by faith. The essence of the gospel message (see Ro 3:20,28; Php 3:9; see also notes on Ro 3:24,28). Faith is the means by which justification is received, not its basis.

2:19 I died to the law. See v. 20; see also note on Ro 7:4.

2:20 crucified with Christ. See 5:24; 6:14; Ro 6:8–10; 7:6; see also note on Ro 6:7. gave himself for me. See 1:4; 1Ti 2:6; Tit 2:14.

2:21 Christ died for nothing. To mingle legalism with grace distorts grace and makes a mockery of the cross.

3:1 foolish. They were not mentally deficient but simply failed to use their powers of perception (see Lk 24:25; Ro 1:14; 1Ti 6:9; Tit 3:3). Who . . . ? Obviously legalistic Judaizers. portrayed as crucified. See 1Co 1:23; 2:2. The verb means "to publicly portray or placard." Cf. the bronze snake that Moses displayed on a pole (Nu 21:9).

3:2 the Spirit. From this point on in Galatians Paul refers to the Holy Spirit 16 times.

3:3 beginning with the Spirit . . . attain your goal. Both salvation and sanctification are the work of the Holy Spirit. human effort. Lit. "the flesh," a reference to human nature in its unregenerate weakness. Trying to achieve righteousness by works, including circumcision, was a part of life in the "flesh."

3:4 Paul hopes that those who have been misled will return to the true gospel.

3:7 children of Abraham. Abraham was the physical and spiritual father of the Jewish race (see Jn 8:33,39,53; Ac 7:2; Ro 4:12). Here all believers (Jews and Gentiles) are called his spiritual children (see notes on Ro 4:11–12). They are also referred to as the "seed" or "descendants" of Abraham (v. 16; Heb 2:16).

3:8 Scripture foresaw. A personification of Scripture that calls attention to its divine origin (see 1Ti 5:18).

3:9 Abraham, the man of faith. Paul develops this theme at length in Ro 4; see also Heb 11:8–19.

3:10 rely on observing the law. The reference is to legalists—those who refuse God's offer of grace and insist on pursuing righteousness through works. under a curse. Because no one under the law ever perfectly kept the law. God's blessing has never been earned, but has always been freely given. everything. See Jas 2:10.

3:11 will live. Means here (and in v. 12) almost the same thing as "will be justified."

3:13 Christ redeemed us from the curse of the law. See 4:5; Ro 8:3. tree. Used in classical Greek of stocks and poles on which bodies were impaled, here of the cross (see Ac 5:30; 10:39; 1Pe 2:24).

the law[q] by becoming a curse for us, for it is written: "Cursed is everyone who is hung on a tree."[1r] [14]He redeemed us in order that the blessing given to Abraham might come to the Gentiles through Christ Jesus,[s] so that by faith we might receive the promise of the Spirit.[t]

The Law and the Promise

[15]Brothers,[u] let me take an example from everyday life. Just as no one can set aside or add to a human covenant that has been duly established, so it is in this case. [16]The promises were spoken to Abraham and to his seed.[v] The Scripture does not say "and to seeds," meaning many people, but "and to your seed,"[mw] meaning one person, who is Christ. [17]What I mean is this: The law, introduced 430 years[x] later, does not set aside the covenant previously established by God and thus do away with the promise. [18]For if the inheritance depends on the law, then it no longer depends on a promise;[y] but God in his grace gave it to Abraham through a promise.

[19]What, then, was the purpose of the law? It was added because of transgressions[z] until the Seed[a] to whom the promise referred had come. The law was put into effect through angels[b] by a mediator.[c] [20]A mediator,[d] however, does not represent just one party; but God is one.

[21]Is the law, therefore, opposed to the promises of God? Absolutely not![e] For if a law had been given that could impart life, then righteousness would certainly have come by the law.[f] [22]But the Scripture declares that the whole world is a prisoner of sin,[g] so that what was promised, being given through faith in Jesus Christ, might be given to those who believe.

[23]Before this faith came, we were held prisoners[h] by the law, locked up until faith should be revealed.[i] [24]So the law was put in charge to lead us to Christ[nj] that we might be justified by faith.[k] [25]Now that faith has come, we are no longer under the supervision of the law.[l]

Sons of God

[26]You are all sons of God[m] through faith in Christ Jesus, [27]for all of you who were baptized into Christ[n] have clothed yourselves with Christ.[o] [28]There is neither Jew nor Greek, slave nor free,[p] male nor female,[q] for you are all one in Christ Jesus.[r] [29]If you belong to Christ,[s] then you are Abraham's seed,[t] and heirs[u] according to the promise.[v]

4 What I am saying is that as long as the heir is a child, he is no different from a slave, although he owns the whole estate. [2]He is subject to guardians and trustees until the time set by his father. [3]So also, when we were children,

[1]13 Deut. 21:23 [m]16 Gen. 12:7; 13:15; 24:7
[n]24 Or charge until Christ came

3:14 the blessing given to Abraham. See v. 8; Ro 4:1–5. promise of the Spirit. See Eze 36:26; 37:14; 39:29; Jn 14:16; cf. Eph 1:13.

3:15 Brothers. See note on 1:2. human covenant. The Greek word normally indicates a last will or testament, which is probably the legal instrument Paul is referring to here. But in the Septuagint (the Greek translation of the OT) it had been widely used of God's covenant with his people (see also Mt 26:28; Lk 1:72; Ac 3:25; 7:8; 2Co 3:14; Heb 8:9), so Paul's choice of analogy was apt for his purpose.

3:16 promises. See notes on Ro 4:13; 9:4.

3:17 430 years. See Ex 12:40–41. The period in Egypt is designated in round numbers as "400 years" in Ge 15:13; Ac 7:6.

3:19 was added. From the time of Abraham, the promise covenanted to him (Ge 12:2–3,7; 15:18–20; 17:4–8) had stood at the center of God's relationship with his people. After the exodus the law contained in the Sinaitic covenant (Ex 19–24) became an additional element in that relationship—what Jeremiah by implication called the "old covenant" when he brought God's promise of a "new covenant" (Jer 31:31–34). the Seed. Christ. through angels. See Dt 33:2; Ac 7:38,53; Heb 2:2.

3:20 The Mosaic covenant was a formal arrangement of mutual commitments between God and Israel, with Moses as the mediator. But since the promise God covenanted with Abraham involved commitment only from God's side (and God is one; see note on Dt 6:4), no mediator was involved.

3:21 The reason the law is not opposed to the promise is that, although in itself it cannot save, it serves to reveal sin, which alienates God from man, and to show the need for the salvation that the promise offers.

3:23 this faith. In Christ (v. 22). held prisoners by the law. To be a prisoner of sin (v. 22) and a prisoner of law amounts to much the same, because law reveals and stimulates sin (see 4:3; Ro 7:8; Col 2:20).

3:24 was put in charge. The expression translates the Greek paidagogos (from which "pedagogue" is derived). It refers to the personal slave-attendant who accompanied a freeborn boy wherever he went and exercised a certain amount of discipline over him. His function was more like that of a baby-sitter than a teacher (see 1Co 4:15, "guardians").

3:25–26 By adoption, the justified believer is a full adult and heir in God's family, with all the attendant rights and privileges (4:1–7; Ro 8:14–17).

3:27 baptized into Christ. See Ro 6:3–11; 1Co 12:13.

3:28 Unity in Christ transcends ethnic, social and sexual distinctions (see Ro 10:12; 1Co 12:13; Eph 2:15–16).

3:29 Christians are Abraham's true, spiritual descendants.

4:1 child. A minor. Contrast with "adults" in 1Co 14:20 ("mature" in Php 3:15).

4:2 guardians. A broader term than "[one] put in charge to lead us" in 3:24. See Mt 20:8 ("foreman"); Lk 8:3 ("manager").

4:3 in slavery. See note on 3:23. basic principles. The Greek term meant essentially "things placed side by side in we were in slavery[w] under the basic principles of the world.[x] 4But when the time had fully come,[y] God sent his Son,[z] born of a woman,[a] born under law,[b] 5to redeem[c] those under law, that we might receive the full rights[d] of sons.[e] 6Because you are sons, God sent the Spirit of his Son[f] into our hearts,[g] the Spirit who calls out, "Abba,[o] Father."[h] 7So you are no longer a slave, but a son; and since you are a son, God has made you also an heir.[i]

Paul's Concern for the Galatians

8Formerly, when you did not know God,[j] you were slaves[k] to those who by nature are not gods.[l] 9But now that you know God—or rather are known by God[m]—how is it that you are turning back to those weak and miserable principles? Do you wish to be enslaved[n] by them all over again?[o] 10You are observing special days and months and seasons and years![p] 11I fear for you, that somehow I have wasted my efforts on you.[q]

12I plead with you, brothers,[r] become like me, for I became like you. You have done me no wrong. 13As you know, it was because of an illness[s] that I first preached the gospel to you. 14Even though my illness was a trial to you, you did not treat me with contempt or scorn. Instead, you welcomed me as if I were an angel of God, as if I were Christ Jesus himself.[t] 15What has happened to all your joy? I can testify that, if you could have done so, you would have torn out your eyes and given them to me. 16Have I now become your enemy by telling you the truth?[u]

17Those people are zealous to win you over, but for no good. What they want is to alienate you [from us], so that you may be zealous for them.[v] 18It is fine to be zealous, provided the purpose is good, and to be so always and not just when I am with you.[w] 19My dear children,[x] for whom I am again in the pains of childbirth until Christ is formed in you,[y] 20how I wish I could be with you now and change my tone, because I am perplexed about you!

Hagar and Sarah

21Tell me, you who want to be under the law,[z] are you not aware of what the law says? 22For it is written that Abraham had two sons, one by the slave woman[a] and the other by the free woman.[b] 23His son by the slave woman was born in the ordinary way;[c] but his son by the free

a row" (as the ABCs) and then came to mean fundamental principles or basic elements of various kinds. The context here suggests that it refers to the elemental forms of religion, whether those of the Jews (under the law, v. 5) or those of the Gentiles (under their old religious bondage, v. 8). of the world. In the sense that these principles do not come from the "new creation" (6:15).

4:4 time had fully come. The time "set" (v. 2) by God for his children to become adult sons and heirs. God sent his Son. See Jn 1:14; 3:16; Ro 1:1–6; 1Jn 4:14. born of a woman. Showing that Christ was truly human. born under law. Subject to the Jewish law.

4:5 full rights of sons. Lit. "adoption [of a son]." See Ro 8:15, where the "Spirit of sonship" is contrasted with the "spirit of slavery" (cf. Eph 1:5). God takes into his family as fully recognized sons and heirs both Jews (those who had been under law) and Gentiles who believe in Christ.

4:6 Spirit of his Son. A new "guardian" (v. 2), identified as the "Spirit of God" in Ro 8:9 (see Ro 8:2; Eph 1:13–14). calls out. The Greek for this phrase is a vivid verb expressing deep emotion, often used of an inarticulate cry. In Mt 27:50 it is used of Jesus' final cry. Abba, Father. Expressive of an especially close relationship to God (see also NIV text note).

4:8 when you did not know God. See 1Co 12:2; 1Th 4:5. are not gods. When the Galatians were pagans, they thought that the beings they worshiped were gods; but when they became Christians, they learned better.

4:9 turning back. See 3:1–3. weak and miserable principles. See note on v. 3. enslaved . . . again. Legalistic trust in rituals, in moral achievement, in law, in good works, or even in cold, dead orthodoxy may indicate a relapse into second childhood on the part of those who should be knowing and enjoying the freedom of full-grown sons.

4:10 special days. Such as the Sabbath and the Day of Atonement (tenth day of Tishri; see Lev 16:29–34), which had never been, and can never be, in themselves means of salvation or sanctification. months and seasons. Such as New Moons (see Nu 28:11–15; Isa 1:13–14), Passover (Ex 12:18) and Firstfruits (Lev 23:10). years. Such as the sabbath year (see Lev 25:4). The Pharisees meticulously observed all these to gain merit before God.

4:11 wasted my efforts. Due to their return to the old covenant law.

4:12 brothers. See note on 1:2.

4:13 illness. On the basis of v. 15; 6:11 some suggest it was eye trouble. Others have suggested malaria or epilepsy. first preached. When Paul visited Galatia on his first missionary journey (Ac 13:14–14:23).

4:14 you welcomed me. He implies that under the influence of Judaizers they have changed their attitude toward him.

4:15 What has happened to all your joy? Because of the restraints of legalistic Judaism they had lost their blessing and joy. torn out your eyes. A hyperbole indicating their willingness, for his benefit, to part with that which was most precious to them. See Mk 2:4, where the same verb is used of digging through a roof.

4:16 your enemy. Telling the truth sometimes results in loss of friends.

4:17 Those people. Judaizers (see 2:4,12).

4:19 My dear children. For Paul's affectionate relationship to his converts see Ac 20:37–38; Php 4:1; 1Th 2:7–8. The expression occurs only here in Paul's writings, but is common in John's (e.g., Jn 13:33; 1Jn 2:1; 3:7). until Christ is formed in you. The goal of Paul's ministry (see Ro 8:29; Eph 4:13,15; Col 1:27).

4:22 two sons. Ishmael was born to the slave woman, Hagar (Ge 16:1–16), and Isaac to the free woman, Sarah (Ge 21:2–5).

woman was born as the result of a promise.[d]

[24]These things may be taken figuratively, for the women represent two covenants. One covenant is from Mount Sinai and bears children who are to be slaves: This is Hagar. [25]Now Hagar stands for Mount Sinai in Arabia and corresponds to the present city of Jerusalem, because she is in slavery with her children. [26]But the Jerusalem that is above[e] is free, and she is our mother. [27]For it is written:

"Be glad, O barren woman, who bears no children;
break forth and cry aloud,
you who have no labor pains;
because more are the children of the desolate woman than of her who has a husband."[p][f]

[28]Now you, brothers, like Isaac, are children of promise.[g] [29]At that time the son born in the ordinary way[h] persecuted the son born by the power of the Spirit.[i] It is the same now. [30]But what does the Scripture say? "Get rid of the slave woman and her son, for the slave woman's son will never share in the inheritance with the free woman's son."[q][j] [31]Therefore, brothers, we are not children of the slave woman,[k] but of the free woman.[l]

Freedom in Christ

5 It is for freedom that Christ has set us free.[m] Stand firm,[n] then, and do not let yourselves be burdened again by a yoke of slavery.[o]

[2]Mark my words! I, Paul, tell you that if you let yourselves be circumcised,[p] Christ will be of no value to you at all. [3]Again I declare to every man who lets himself be circumcised that he is obligated to obey the whole law.[q] [4]You who are trying to be justified by law[r] have been alienated from Christ; you have fallen away from grace.[s] [5]But by faith we eagerly await through the Spirit the righteousness for which we hope.[t] [6]For in Christ Jesus[u] neither circumcision nor uncircumcision has any value.[v] The only thing that counts is faith expressing itself through love.[w]

[7]You were running a good race.[x] Who cut in on you[y] and kept you from obeying the truth? [8]That kind of persuasion does not come from the one who calls you.[z] [9]"A little yeast works through the whole batch of dough."[a] [10]I am confident[b] in the Lord that you will take no other view.[c] The one who is throwing you into confusion[d] will pay the penalty, whoever he may be. [11]Brothers, if I am still preaching circumcision,

[p]27 Isaiah 54:1 [q]30 Gen. 21:10

4:24 may be taken figuratively. The Sarah-Hagar account is not an allegory in the sense that it was nonhistorical, but in the sense that Paul uses the events to illustrate a theological truth. covenant. See note on 3:15. Mount Sinai. Where the old covenant was established, with its law governing Israel's life (see Ex 19:2; 20:1–17).

4:25 corresponds to the present city of Jerusalem. Jerusalem can be equated with Mount Sinai because it represents the center of Judaism, which is still under bondage to the law issued at Mount Sinai.

4:26 the Jerusalem that is above. Rabbinical teaching held that the Jerusalem above was the heavenly archetype that in the Messianic period would be let down to earth (cf. Rev 21:2). Here it refers to the heavenly city of God, in which Christ reigns and of which Christians are citizens, in contrast to the "present city of Jerusalem" (v. 25). our mother. As citizens of the heavenly Jerusalem, Christians are her children.

4:27 Paul applies Isaiah's joyful promise to exiled Jerusalem (in her exile "barren" of children) to the ingathering of believers through the gospel, by which "Jerusalem's" children have become many.

4:28 children of promise. Children by virtue of God's promise (see 3:29; Ro 9:8).

4:29 persecuted the son born by the power of the Spirit. Suggested by Ge 21:9; cf. Ps 83:5–6. the same now. See Ac 13:50; 14:2–5,19; 1Th 2:14–16.

4:30 Get rid of the slave woman. Sarah's words in Ge 21:10 were used by Paul as the Scriptural basis for teaching the Galatians to put the Judaizers out of the church.

4:31 we are not children of the slave woman. The believer is not enslaved to the law but is a child of promise and lives by faith (cf. 3:7,29).

5:1 freedom. Emphasized by its position in the Greek sentence. The freedom spoken of here is freedom from the yoke of the law. burdened. In classical Greek the verb meant "to be caught or entangled in." yoke of slavery. The burden of the rigorous demands of the law as the means for gaining God's favor—an intolerable burden for sinful man (see Ac 15:10–11).

5:2 circumcised. As a condition for God's acceptance.

5:3 obligated to obey the whole law. The OT law is a unit; submission to it cannot be selective.

5:4 fallen away from grace. Placed yourself outside the scope of divine favor, because gaining God's favor by observing the law and receiving it by grace are mutually exclusive (see 2Pe 3:17).

5:5 the righteousness for which we hope. A reference to God's final verdict of "not guilty," assured presently to the believer by faith and by the sanctifying work of the Holy Spirit. This is one of the few eschatological statements in Galatians.

5:6 neither circumcision nor uncircumcision has any value. See v. 2; 2:21; 6:15; 1Co 7:19. faith expressing itself through love. Faith is not mere intellectual assent (see Jas 2:18–19) but a living trust in God's grace that expresses itself in acts of love (see 1Th 1:3).

5:7 were running a good race. Before the Judaizers hindered them. Paul was fond of depicting the Christian life as a race (see, e.g., 2:2; Php 2:16).

5:8 persuasion. By the Judaizers.

5:9 A proverb used here to stress the pervasive effect of Judaism. When the word "yeast" in the Bible is used as a symbol, it indicates evil or false teaching (see note on Mk 8:15), except in Mt 13:33.

5:11 Brothers. See note on 1:2. offense of the cross. See Ro 9:32–33; 1Co 1:23.

why am I still being persecuted?[e] In that case the offense[f] of the cross has been abolished. 12As for those agitators,[g] I wish they would go the whole way and emasculate themselves!

13You, my brothers, were called to be free.[h] But do not use your freedom to indulge the sinful nature[r];[i] rather, serve one another[j] in love. 14The entire law is summed up in a single command: "Love your neighbor as yourself."[sk] 15If you keep on biting and devouring each other, watch out or you will be destroyed by each other.

Life by the Spirit

16So I say, live by the Spirit,[l] and you will not gratify the desires of the sinful nature.[m] 17For the sinful nature desires what is contrary to the Spirit, and the Spirit what is contrary to the sinful nature.[n] They are in conflict with each other, so that you do not do what you want.[o] 18But if you are led by the Spirit,[p] you are not under law.[q]

19The acts of the sinful nature are obvious: sexual immorality,[r] impurity and debauchery; 20idolatry and witchcraft; hatred, discord, jealousy, fits of rage, selfish ambition, dissensions, factions 21and envy; drunkenness, orgies, and the like.[s] I warn you, as I did before, that those who live like this will not inherit the kingdom of God.[t]

22But the fruit[u] of the Spirit is love,[v] joy, peace,[w] patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, 23gentleness and self-control.[x] Against such things there is no law.[y] 24Those who belong to Christ Jesus have crucified the sinful nature[z] with its passions and desires.[a] 25Since we live by the Spirit,[b] let us keep in step with the Spirit. 26Let us not become conceited,[c] provoking and envying each other.

Doing Good to All

6 Brothers, if someone is caught in a sin, you who are spiritual[d] should restore[e] him gently. But watch yourself, or you also may be tempted. 2Carry each other's burdens, and in this way you will fulfill the law of Christ.[f] 3If anyone thinks he is something[g] when he is nothing, he deceives himself.[h] 4Each one should test his own actions. Then he can take pride in himself,[i] without comparing himself to somebody else,[j] 5for each one should carry his own load.[k]

6Anyone who receives instruction in the word must share all good things with his instructor.[l]

7Do not be deceived:[m] God cannot be mocked. A man reaps what he sows.[n] 8The one who sows to please his sinful nature,[o] from that nature[t] will reap destruction;[p] the one who sows to please the Spirit, from the Spirit will reap eter-

[r] 13 Or the flesh; also in verses 16, 17, 19 and 24
[s] 14 Lev. 19:18 [t] 8 Or his flesh, from the flesh

5:12 emasculate themselves. The Greek word means "to cut off," or "to castrate." In Php 3:2 Paul uses a related word to describe the same sort of people as "mutilators of the flesh." His sarcasm is evident.

5:13 do not use your freedom to indulge the sinful nature. See Ro 6:1; 1Pe 2:16. Liberty is not license but freedom to serve God and each other in love.

5:14 entire law is summed up. Doing to others what you would have them do to you expresses the spirit and intention of "the Law and the Prophets" (Mt 7:12; cf. Mk 12:31).

5:15 biting and devouring each other. Opposite of vv. 13–14. Seeking to attain status with God and man by mere observance of law breeds a self-righteous, critical spirit.

5:16 live by. Present tense—"go on living" (used of habitual conduct). Living by the promptings and power of the Spirit is the key to conquering sinful desires (see v. 25; Ro 8:2–4).

5:17 in conflict with each other. See Ro 7:15–23; 1Pe 2:11.

5:18 led by the Spirit. See Ro 8:14. not under law. Not under the bondage of trying to please God by minute observance of the law for salvation or sanctification (see note on Ro 6:14).

5:19–21 For other lists of vices see 1Co 6:9–10; Eph 5:5; Rev 22:15.

5:22–23 For other lists of virtues see 2Co 6:6; Eph 4:2; 5:9; Col 3:12–15. Christian character is produced by the Holy Spirit, not by the mere moral discipline of trying to live by law. Paul makes it clear that justification by faith does not result in libertinism. The indwelling Holy Spirit produces Christian virtues in the believer's life.

5:22 fruit of the Spirit. Compare the singular "fruit" with the plural "acts" (v. 19).

5:23 no law. See 1Ti 1:9.

5:24 crucified the sinful nature. See 2:20; 6:14.

5:25 keep in step with. Or "walk in line with," a different Greek verb from "live by" (or "walk by") in v. 16.

6:1 Brothers. See note on 1:2. you who are spiritual. Contrast with 1Co 3:1–3. restore. The Greek for this verb is used elsewhere for setting bones, mending nets, or bringing factions together.

6:2 Carry each other's burdens. The emphasis is on moral burdens or weaknesses (see v.1; Ro 15:1–3). law of Christ. See note on 1Co 9:21.

6:4 Each one should test his own actions. The emphasis here is on personal responsibility (see 1Co 11:28; 2Co 13:5).

6:5 carry his own load. The "for" at the beginning of the verse connects it with v. 4. Each of us is responsible before God. The reference may be to the future judgment (the verb is in the future tense), when every person will give an account to God (Ro 14:12; 2Co 5:10).

6:6 share all good things. See Php 4:14–19.

6:7 reaps what he sows. See 2Co 9:6. As vv. 8–9 show, the principle applies not only negatively but also positively.

6:8 See Ro 8:13. destruction. See 5:19–21. eternal life. In 5:21 Paul speaks of inheriting "the kingdom of God," here of reaping "eternal life." The first focuses on the realm (sphere, context) that will be inherited (as Israel inherited the promised land); the second focuses on the blessed life that will be enjoyed in that realm.

Not Circumcision but a New Creation

[11]See what large letters I use as I write to you with my own hand![v]

[12]Those who want to make a good impression outwardly[w] are trying to compel you to be circumcised.[x] The only reason they do this is to avoid being persecuted[y] for the cross of Christ. [13]Not even those who are circumcised obey the law,[z] yet they want you to be circumcised that they may boast about your flesh.[a] [14]May I never boast except in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ,[b] through which[u] the world has been crucified to me, and I to the world.[c] [15]Neither circumcision nor uncircumcision means anything;[d] what counts is a new creation.[e] [16]Peace and mercy to all who follow this rule, even to the Israel of God.

[17]Finally, let no one cause me trouble, for I bear on my body the marks[f] of Jesus.

[18]The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ[g] be with your spirit,[h] brothers. Amen.

[u] 14 Or whom

6:10 especially to those who belong to the family of believers. See 1Ti 5:8.

6:11 large letters. May have been for emphasis or, as some have suggested, because he had poor eyesight (see note on 4:13). with my own hand. The letter up to this point had probably been dictated to a scribe, after which Paul took the pen in his own hand and finished the letter.

6:12 compel you to be circumcised. Cf. 2:3. to avoid being persecuted. By advocating circumcision (see 5:11) the Judaizers were less apt to experience opposition from the Jewish opponents of Christianity. They were thinking only of themselves. See Introduction: Occasion and Purpose.

6:14 boast except in the cross. See 1Co 1:31; 2:2. the world. All that is against God. crucified to me, and I to the world. See 2:19–20; 5:24; see also notes on Jas 4:4; 1Jn 2:15.

6:15 new creation. In Christ man undergoes a transformation that results in an entirely new being. Creation again takes place (see 2Co 5:17).

6:16 Peace and mercy. Cf. Ps 125:5; 128:6. this rule. See vv. 14–15. Israel of God. In contrast to "Israel according to flesh" (a literal rendering of the Greek for "people of Israel" in 1Co 10:18), the NT church, made up of believing Jews and Gentiles, is the new seed of Abraham and the heir according to the promise (3:29; cf. Ro 9:6; Php 3:3)—though some limit the phrase here to Christian Jews (translating the conjunction as "and" instead of "even").

6:17 marks of Jesus. In ancient times the Greek word for "marks" was used of the brand that identified slaves or animals. Paul's suffering (stoning, Ac 14:19; beatings, Ac 16:22; 2Co 11:25; illness, 2Co 12:7; Gal 4:13–14) marked him as a "servant of Christ" (1:10; cf. 2Co 4:10).

6:18 Amen. A word of confirmation often used at the close of a doxology or benediction.

Ephesians

Author, Date and Place of Writing

The author identifies himself as Paul (1:1; 3:1; cf. 3:7,13; 4:1; 6:19–20). Some have taken the absence of the usual personal greetings and the verbal similarity of many parts to Colossians, among other reasons, as grounds for doubting authorship by the apostle Paul. However, this was probably a circular letter, intended for other churches in addition to the one in Ephesus (see notes on 1:1,15; 6:21–23). Paul may have written it about the same time as Colossians, c. A.D. 60, while he was in prison at Rome (see 3:1; 4:1; 6:20).

The City of Ephesus

Ephesus was the most important city in western Asia Minor (now Turkey). It had a harbor that

Ephesus in the Time of Paul

The province of Asia with its many splendid cities was one of the jewels on a belt of Roman lands encircling the Mediterranean.

Located on the most direct sea and land route to the eastern provinces of the empire, Ephesus was an emporium that had few equals anywhere in the world. Certainly no city in Asia was more famous or more populous. It ranked with Rome, Corinth, Antioch and Alexandria among the foremost urban centers of the empire.

Situated on an inland harbor (now silted up), the city was connected by a narrow channel via the Cayster River with the Aegean Sea some three miles away. Ephesus boasted impressive civic monuments, including, most prominently, the temple of Artemis (Diana), one of the seven wonders of the ancient world. Coins of the city proudly displayed the slogan Neokoros, "temple-warden."

Here in Ephesus Paul preached to large crowds of people. The silversmiths complained that he had influenced large numbers of people here in Ephesus and in practically the whole province of Asia (Ac 19:26). In one of the most dramatic events recorded in the NT, the apostle escaped a huge mob in the theater. This structure, located on the slope of Mt. Pion at the end of the Arcadian Way, could seat 25,000 people!

Other places doubtless familiar to the apostle were the Commercial Agora, the Magnesian Gate, the Town Hall or "Council House," and the Street of the Curetes. The location of the lecture hall of Tyrannus, where Paul taught, is unknown.

at that time opened into the Cayster River, which in turn emptied into the Aegean Sea. Because it was also at an intersection of major trade routes, Ephesus became a commercial center. It boasted a pagan temple dedicated to the Roman goddess Diana (Greek Artemis); cf. Ac 19:23–31. Paul made Ephesus a center for evangelism for about three years (see note on Ac 19:10), and the church there apparently flourished for some time, but later needed the warning of Rev 2:1–7.

Message

Unlike several of the other letters Paul wrote, Ephesians does not address any particular error or heresy. Paul wrote to expand the horizons of his readers, so that they might understand better the dimensions of God's eternal purpose and grace and come to appreciate the high goals God has for the church.

The letter opens with a sequence of statements about God's blessings, which are interspersed with a remarkable variety of expressions drawing attention to God's wisdom, forethought and purpose. Paul emphasizes that we have been saved, not only for our personal benefit, but also to bring praise and glory to God. The climax of God's purpose, "when the times will have reached their fulfillment," is to bring all things in the universe together under Christ (1:10). It is crucially important that Christians realize this, so in 1:15–23 Paul prays for their understanding (a second prayer occurs in 3:14–21).

Having explained God's great goals for the church, Paul proceeds to show the steps toward their fulfillment. First, God has reconciled individuals to himself as an act of grace (2:1–10). Second, God has reconciled these saved individuals to each other, Christ having broken down the barriers through his own death (2:11–22). But God has done something even beyond this: He has united these reconciled individuals in one body, the church. This is a "mystery" not fully known until it was revealed to Paul (3:1–6). Now Paul is able to state even more clearly what God has intended for the church, namely, that it be the means by which he displays his "manifold wisdom" to the "rulers and authorities in the heavenly realms" (3:7–13). It is clear through the repetition of "heavenly realms" (1:3,20; 2:6; 3:10; 6:12) that Christian existence is not merely on an earthly plane. It receives its meaning and significance from heaven, where Christ is exalted at the right hand of God (1:20).

Nevertheless, that life is lived out on earth, where the practical daily life of the believer continues to work out the purposes of God. The ascended Lord gave "gifts" to the members of his church to enable them to minister to one another and so promote unity and maturity (4:1–16). The unity of the church under the headship of Christ foreshadows the uniting of "all things in heaven and on earth" under Christ (1:10). The new life of purity and mutual deference stands in contrast to the old way of life without Christ (4:17—6:9). Those who are "strong in the Lord" have victory over the evil one in the great spiritual conflict, especially through the power of prayer (6:10–20).

Spiritual Blessings in Christ

3 Praise be to the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ,[g] who has blessed us in the heavenly realms[h] with every spiritual blessing in Christ. 4 For he chose us[i] in him before the creation of the world[j] to be holy and blameless[k] in his sight. 11 In him we were also chosen,[e] having been predestined[y] according to the plan of him who works out everything in conformity with the purpose[z] of his will, 12 in order that we, who were the first to hope in Christ, might be for the
