Tribute to Edwin H. Palmer

Edwin H. Palmer, who had served so capably as Executive Secretary of the NIV Committee on Bible Translation and as coordinator of all translation work on the NIV, was appointed General Editor of The NIV Study Bible by Zondervan Bible Publishers in 1979. On September 16, 1980, he departed this life to "be with Christ, which is better by far" (Philippians 1:23). Before his death, however, he had laid most of the plans for The NIV Study Bible, had recruited the majority of the contributors, and had done some editorial work on the first manuscripts submitted. We gratefully acknowledge his significant contributions to the earliest stages of this project.

Preface

THE NEW INTERNATIONAL VERSION is a completely new translation of the Holy Bible made by over a hundred scholars working directly from the best available Hebrew, Aramaic and Greek texts. It had its beginning in 1965 when, after several years of exploratory study by committees from the Christian Reformed Church and the National Association of Evangelicals, a group of scholars met at Palos Heights, Illinois, and concurred in the need for a new translation of the Bible in contemporary English. This group, though not made up of official church representatives, was transdenominational. Its conclusion was endorsed by a large number of leaders from many denominations who met in Chicago in 1966.

Responsibility for the new version was delegated by the Palos Heights group to a self-governing body of fifteen, the Committee on Bible Translation, composed for the most part of biblical scholars from colleges, universities and seminaries. In 1967 the New York Bible Society (now the International Bible Society) generously undertook the financial sponsorship of the project—a sponsorship that made it possible to enlist the help of many distinguished scholars. The fact that participants from the United States, Great Britain, Canada, Australia and New Zealand worked together gave the project its international scope. That they were from many denominations—including Anglican, Assemblies of God, Baptist, Brethren, Christian Reformed, Church of Christ, Evangelical Free, Lutheran, Mennonite, Methodist, Nazarene, Presbyterian, Wesleyan and other churches—helped to safeguard the translation from sectarian bias.

How it was made helps to give the New International Version its distinctiveness. The translation of each book was assigned to a team of scholars. Next, one of the Intermediate Editorial Committees revised the initial translation, with constant reference to the Hebrew, Aramaic or Greek. Their work then went to one of the General Editorial Committees, which checked it in detail and made another thorough revision. This revision in turn was carefully reviewed by the Committee on Bible Translation, which made further changes and then released the final version for publication. In this way the entire Bible underwent three revisions, during each of which the translation was examined for its faithfulness to the original languages and for its English style.

All this involved many thousands of hours of research and discussion regarding the meaning of the texts and the precise way of putting them into English. It may well be that no other translation has been made by a more thorough process of review and revision from committee to committee than this one.

From the beginning of the project, the Committee on Bible Translation held to certain goals for the New International Version: that it would be an accurate translation and one that would have clarity and literary quality and so prove suitable for public and private reading, teaching, preaching, memorizing and liturgical use. The Committee also sought to preserve some measure of continuity with the long tradition of translating the Scriptures into English.

In working toward these goals, the translators were united in their commitment to the authority and infallibility of the Bible as God's Word in written form. They believe that it contains the divine answer to the deepest needs of humanity, that it sheds unique light on our path in a dark world, and that it sets forth the way to our eternal well-being.

The first concern of the translators has been the accuracy of the translation and its fidelity to the thought of the biblical writers. They have weighed the significance of the lexical and grammatical details of the Hebrew, Aramaic and Greek texts. At the same time, they have striven for more than a word-for-word translation. Because thought patterns and syntax differ from language to language, faithful communication of the meaning of the writers of the Bible demands frequent modifications in sentence structure and constant regard for the contextual meanings of words.

A sensitive feeling for style does not always accompany scholarship. Accordingly the Committee on Bible Translation submitted the developing version to a number of stylistic consultants. Two of them read every book of both Old and New Testaments twice—once before and once after the last major revision—and made invaluable suggestions. Samples of the translation were tested for clarity and ease of reading by various kinds of people—young and old, highly educated and less well educated, ministers and laymen.

Concern for clear and natural English—that the New International Version should be idiomatic but not idiosyncratic, contemporary but not dated—motivated the translators and consultants. At the same time, they tried to reflect the differing styles of the biblical writers. In view of the international use of English, the translators sought to avoid obvious Americanisms on the one hand and obvious Anglicisms on the other. A British edition reflects the comparatively few differences of significant idiom and of spelling.

As for the traditional pronouns "thou," "thee" and "thine" in reference to the Deity, the translators judged that to use these archaisms (along with the old verb forms such as "doest," "wouldest" and "hadst") would violate accuracy in translation. Neither Hebrew, Aramaic nor Greek uses special pronouns for the persons of the Godhead. A present-day translation is not enhanced by forms that in the time of the King James Version were used in everyday speech, whether referring to God or man.

For the Old Testament the standard Hebrew text, the Masoretic Text as published in the latest editions of Biblia Hebraica, was used throughout. The Dead Sea Scrolls contain material bearing on an earlier stage of the Hebrew text. They were consulted, as were the Samaritan Pentateuch and the ancient scribal traditions relating to textual changes. Sometimes a variant Hebrew reading in the margin of the Masoretic Text was followed instead of the text itself. Such instances, being variants within the Masoretic tradition, are not specified by footnotes. In rare cases, words in the consonantal text were divided differently from the way they appear in the Masoretic Text. Footnotes indicate this. The translators also consulted the more important early versions—the Septuagint; Aquila, Symmachus and Theodotion; the Vulgate; the Syriac Peshitta; the Targums; and for the Psalms the Juxta Hebraica of Jerome. Readings from these versions were occasionally followed where the Masoretic Text seemed doubtful and where accepted principles of textual criticism showed that one or more of these textual witnesses appeared to provide the correct reading. Such instances are footnoted. Sometimes vowel letters and vowel signs did not, in the judgment of the translators, represent the correct vowels for the original consonantal text. Accordingly some words were read with a different set of vowels. These instances are usually not indicated by footnotes.

The Greek text used in translating the New Testament was an eclectic one. No other piece of ancient literature has such an abundance of manuscript witnesses as does the New Testament. Where existing manuscripts differ, the translators made their choice of readings according to accepted principles of New Testament textual criticism. Footnotes call attention to places where there was uncertainty about what the original text was. The best current printed texts of the Greek New Testament were used.

There is a sense in which the work of translation is never wholly finished. This applies to all great literature and uniquely so to the Bible. In 1973 the New Testament in the New International Version was published. Since then, suggestions for corrections and revisions have been received from various sources. The Committee on Bible Translation carefully considered the suggestions and adopted a number of them. These were incorporated in the first printing of the entire Bible in 1978. Additional revisions were made by the Committee on Bible Translation in 1983 and appear in printings after that date.

As in other ancient documents, the precise meaning of the biblical texts is sometimes uncertain. This is more often the case with the Hebrew and Aramaic texts than with the Greek text. Although archaeological and linguistic discoveries in this century aid in understanding difficult passages, some uncertainties remain. The more significant of these have been called to the reader's attention in the footnotes.

In regard to the divine name YHWH, commonly referred to as the Tetragrammaton, the translators adopted the device used in most English versions of rendering that name as "LORD" in capital letters to distinguish it from Adonai, another Hebrew word rendered "Lord," for which small letters are used. Wherever the two names stand together in the Old Testament as a compound name of God, they are rendered "Sovereign LORD."

Because for most readers today the phrases "the LORD of hosts" and "God of hosts" have little meaning, this version renders them "the LORD Almighty" and "God Almighty." These renderings convey the sense of the Hebrew, namely, "he who is sovereign over all the 'hosts' (powers) in heaven and on earth, especially over the 'hosts' (armies) of Israel." For readers unacquainted with Hebrew this does not make clear the distinction between Sabaoth ("hosts" or "Almighty") and Shaddai (which can also be translated "Almighty"), but the latter occurs infrequently and is always footnoted. When Adonai and YHWH Sabaoth occur together, they are rendered "the Lord, the LORD Almighty."

As for other proper nouns, the familiar spellings of the King James Version are generally retained. Names traditionally spelled with "ch," except where it is final, are usually spelled in this translation with "k" or "c," since the biblical languages do not have the sound that "ch" frequently indicates in English—for example, in chant. For well-known names such as Zechariah, however, the traditional spelling has been retained. Variation in the spelling of names in the original languages has usually not been indicated. Where a person or place has two or more different names in the Hebrew, Aramaic or Greek texts, the more familiar one has generally been used, with footnotes where needed.

To achieve clarity the translators sometimes supplied words not in the original texts but required by the context. If there was uncertainty about such material, it is enclosed in brackets. Also for the sake of clarity or style, nouns, including some proper nouns, are sometimes substituted for pronouns, and vice versa. And though the Hebrew writers often shifted back and forth between first, second and third personal pronouns without change of antecedent, this translation often makes them uniform, in accordance with English style and without the use of footnotes.

Poetical passages are printed as poetry, that is, with indentation of lines and with separate stanzas. These are generally designed to reflect the structure of Hebrew poetry. This poetry is normally characterized by parallelism in balanced lines. Most of the poetry in the Bible is in the Old Testament, and scholars differ regarding the scansion of Hebrew lines. The translators determined the stanza divisions for the most part by analysis of the subject matter. The stanzas therefore serve as poetic paragraphs.

As an aid to the reader, italicized sectional headings are inserted in most of the books. They are not to be regarded as part of the NIV text, are not for oral reading, and are not intended to dictate the interpretation of the sections they head.

The footnotes in this version are of several kinds, most of which need no explanation. Those giving alternative translations begin with "Or" and generally introduce the alternative with the last word preceding it in the text, except when it is a single-word alternative; in poetry quoted in a footnote a slant mark indicates a line division. Footnotes introduced by "Or" do not have uniform significance. In some cases two possible translations were considered to have about equal validity. In other cases, though the translators were convinced that the translation in the text was correct, they judged that another interpretation was possible and of sufficient importance to be represented in a footnote.

In the New Testament, footnotes that refer to uncertainty regarding the original text are introduced by "Some manuscripts" or similar expressions. In the Old Testament, evidence for the reading chosen is given first and evidence for the alternative is added after a semicolon (for example: Septuagint; Hebrew father). In such notes the term "Hebrew" refers to the Masoretic Text.

It should be noted that minerals, flora and fauna, architectural details, articles of clothing and jewelry, musical instruments and other articles cannot always be identified with precision. Also measures of capacity in the biblical period are particularly uncertain (see the table of weights and measures following the text).

Like all translations of the Bible, made as they are by imperfect man, this one undoubtedly falls short of its goals. Yet we are grateful to God for the extent to which he has enabled us to realize these goals and for the strength he has given us and our colleagues to complete our task. We offer this version of the Bible to him in whose name and for whose glory it has been made. We pray that it will lead many into a better understanding of the Holy Scriptures and a fuller knowledge of Jesus Christ the incarnate Word, of whom the Scriptures so faithfully testify.

Introduction

About The NIV Study Bible

The New International Version of the Bible (NIV) is unsurpassed in accuracy, clarity and literary grace. The commitments that led to the completion of this version later guided several of its translators to spearhead publication of The NIV Study Bible. Their purpose was unchanged: to communicate the word of God to the hearts of people.

Like the NIV itself, The NIV Study Bible is the work of a transdenominational team of Biblical scholars. All confess the authority of the Bible as God's infallible word to humanity. They have sought to clarify understanding of, develop appreciation for, and provide insight into that word.

But why a study Bible when the NIV text itself is so clearly written? Surely there is no substitute for the reading of the text itself; nothing people write about God's word can be on a level with the word itself. Further, it is the Holy Spirit alone—not fallible human beings—who can open the human mind to the divine message.

However, the Spirit also uses people to explain God's word to others. It was the Spirit who led Philip to the Ethiopian eunuch's chariot, where he asked, "Do you understand what you are reading?" (Ac 8:31). "How can I," the Ethiopian replied, "unless someone explains it to me?" Philip then showed him how an Old Testament passage in Isaiah related to the good news of Jesus.

This interrelationship of the Scriptures—so essential to understanding the complete Biblical message—is a major theme of the notes in The NIV Study Bible.

Doctrinally, The NIV Study Bible reflects traditional evangelical theology. Where editors were aware of significant differences of opinion on key passages or doctrines, they tried to follow an evenhanded approach by indicating those differences (e.g., see note on Rev 20:2). In finding solutions to problems mentioned in the book introductions, they went only as far as evidence (Biblical and non-Biblical) could carry them.

The result is a study Bible that can be used profitably by all Christians who want to be serious Bible students.

Features of The NIV Study Bible

The NIV Study Bible features the text of the New International Version, study notes keyed to and listed with Bible verses, introductions and outlines to books of the Bible, text notes, a cross-reference system (100,000 entries), parallel passages, a concordance (over 35,000 references), charts, maps, essays and comprehensive indexes.

The text of the NIV, which is divided into paragraphs as well as verses, is organized into sections with headings.

Study Notes

The outstanding feature of this study Bible is that it contains nearly 20,000 study notes located on the same pages as the verses and passages they explain.

The study notes provide new information to supplement that found in the NIV text notes. Among other things, they

1. explain important words and concepts (see note on Lev 11:44 about "holiness");
2. interpret "difficult verses" (see notes on Mal 1:3 and Lk 14:26 for the concept of "hating" your parents);
3. draw parallels between specific people and events (see note on Ex 32:30 for the parallels between Moses and Christ as mediators);
4. describe historical and textual contexts of passages (see note on 1Co 8:1 for the practice of eating meat sacrificed to idols); and
5. demonstrate how one passage sheds light on another (see note on Ps 26:8 for how the presence of God's glory marked his presence in the tabernacle, in the temple, and finally in Jesus Christ himself).

Some elements of style should be noted:

1. Study notes on a passage precede notes on individual verses within that passage.
2. When a book of the Bible is referred to within a note on that book, the book name is not repeated. For example, a reference to 2 Timothy 2:18 within the notes on 2 Timothy is written 2:18, not 2Ti 2:18.
3. In lists of references within a note, references from the book under discussion are placed first. The rest appear in Biblical order.

Introductions to Books of the Bible

Each introduction to each book of the Bible is different. Introductions vary in length and reflect both the nature of the material itself and the strengths and interests of contributing editors.

An introduction frequently reports on a book's title, author, and date of writing. It details the book's background and purpose, explores themes and theological significance, and points out special problems and distinctive literary features. Where appropriate, such as in Paul's letters to the churches, it describes the original recipients of a book and the city in which they lived.

A complete outline of the book's content is provided in each introduction (except for the introduction to Psalms). For Genesis, two outlines—a literary and a thematic—are given. Pairs of books that were originally one literary work, such as 1 and 2 Samuel, 1 and 2 Kings, and 1 and 2 Chronicles, are outlined together.

Text Notes

NIV text notes are indicated by raised, bold-faced letters following the words or phrases they explain. They examine such things as alternate translations, meanings of Hebrew and Greek terms, Old Testament quotations, and variant readings in ancient Biblical manuscripts. Text notes appear at the bottom of the right-hand column, preceded by their bold letters and verse numbers.

Cross-Reference System

The cross-reference system can be used to explore concepts, as well as specific words. For example, one can either study "angels as protectors" (see Mt 18:10) or focus on the word "angel" (see Jn 20:12).

The NIV cross-reference system resembles a series of interlocking chains with many links. The head, or organizing, link in each concept chain is indicated by the letter "S" (short for "See"). The appearance of a head link in a list of references usually signals another list of references that will cover a slightly different aspect of the concept or word being studied. The various chains in the cross-reference system—which is virtually inexhaustible—continually intersect and diverge.

Cross references are indicated by raised light-italic letters. When a single word is addressed by both text notes and cross references, the bold NIV text-note letter comes first. The cross references normally appear in the center column and, when necessary, continue at the bottom of the right-hand column preceding the NIV text notes.

The four lists of references are in Biblical order with one exception: If reference is made to a verse within the same chapter, that verse (indicated by "ver") is listed first. If an Old Testament verse is quoted in the New Testament, the New Testament reference is marked with an asterisk (*).

Genesis 1:1 provides a good example of the resources of the cross-reference system.

The Beginning

1 In the beginning[a] God created[b] the heavens[c] and the earth.[d] [2]Now the earth was[a] formless[e] and empty,[f] darkness was over the surface of the deep,[g] and the Spirit of God[h] was hovering[i] over the waters.

[3]And God said,[j] "Let there be light," and there was light.[k] [4]God saw that the light was good,[l] and he separated the light from the darkness.[m] [5]God called[n] the light "day," and the darkness he called "night."[o] And there was evening, and there was morning[p]—the first day.

1:1 [a]Ps 102:25; Pr 8:23; Isa 40:21; 41:4, 26; Jn 1:1-2
[c]ver 6; Ne 9:6; Job 9:8; 37:18; Ps 96:5; 104:2; 115:15; 121:2; 136:5; Isa 40:22; 42:5; 51:13; Jer 10:12; 51:15
[d]Ge 14:19; 2Ki 19:15; Ne 9:6; Job 38:4; Ps 90:2; 136:6; 146:6; Isa 37:16; 40:28; 42:5; 44:24; 45:12, 18; Jer 27:5; 32:17; Ac 14:15;

The four lists of references all relate to creation, but each takes a different perspective. Note a takes up the time of creation: "in the beginning." Note b lists three other occurrences of the word "created" in Genesis 1—2. Note c focuses on "the heavens" as God's creation. Because note d is attached to the end of the verse as well as to the word "earth," it deals with the word "earth," with the phrase "the heavens and the earth" and with creation itself (the whole verse).

Parallel Passages

When two or more passages of Scripture are nearly identical or deal with the same event, this "parallel" is noted at the sectional headings for those passages. Such passages are especially common in Matthew, Mark, Luke and John; and in Samuel, Kings and Chronicles.

Identical or nearly identical passages are noted with "pp." Similar passages—those not dealing with the same event—are noted with "Ref."

To conserve space and avoid repetition, when a parallel passage is noted at a sectional heading, no further parallels are listed in the cross-reference system.

Concordance

The concordance is the largest ever bound together with an English Bible. It was compiled and edited by John R. Kohlenberger III and Edward W. Goodrick. By looking up key words, you can find verses for which you remember a word or two but not their location. For example, to find the verse that states that the word of God is "sharper than any double-edged sword," you could look in the concordance under either "sharper," "double-edged," or "sword."

Maps

The NIV Study Bible includes 59 maps: 13 full-color and 46 black-and-white. The 13 full-color maps at the end of this Bible cover nearly 4,000 years of history, from the patriarchs to Christianity in the world today.

Strategically placed throughout the text are almost four dozen black-and-white maps specially designed for The NIV Study Bible. The Contents: Maps page contains a complete list of the topics covered.

The cities of Damascus, Rome, Corinth, Ephesus and Philippi have been reconstructed as they might have been in New Testament times. These recreations allow Bible students to visualize the places through which Paul traveled on his missionary journeys.

Charts

Complementing the study notes are 35 charts, diagrams and drawings designed specifically for The NIV Study Bible. Two full-color time lines, located in the front of this Bible, pinpoint significant dates in the Old and New Testaments. Other charts, carefully placed within the text, give detailed information about ancient, non-Biblical texts, about Old Testament covenants, sacrifices, and feast days, about Jewish sects, and about major archaeological finds relating to the New Testament.

Essays

Five brief essays provide additional information on specific sections of the Bible: Wisdom Literature, the Minor Prophets, the Synoptic Gospels, the Pastoral Letters, and the General Letters.

A sixth essay confronts the ethical question of war, and a seventh details the history, literature and social developments of the 400 years between the Old and New Testaments.

Subject, Notes and Map Indexes

The subject index contains references to key Biblical information and important topics. The notes index pinpoints other references to persons, places, events and topics mentioned in The NIV Study Bible notes.

Two map indexes help in locating place-names on a map.

As an additional study tool for the Gospels and the life of Christ, this Bible contains a portion of The NIV Harmony of the Gospels, by Robert L. Thomas and Stanley N. Gundry.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

My greatest debt of gratitude is owed to God for giving me the privilege of serving as General Editor of The NIV Study Bible. Special thanks go to the four Associate Editors: Donald W. Burdick, John H. Stek, Walter W. Wessel, and Ronald Youngblood. Without their help, it would have been impossible to complete this project in approximately seven years.

In addition, grateful acknowledgment is given to all those listed on the Contributors page. Obviously the editors and contributors have profited immensely from the labors of others. We feel deeply indebted to all the commentaries and other sources we have used in our work.

I should also thank the following individuals for rendering help in various ways (though I fear that I have inadvertently omitted a few names): Caroline Blauwkamp, David R. Douglass, Stanley N. Gundry, N. David Hill, Betty Hockenberry, Charles E. Hummel, Alan F. Johnson, Janet Johnston, Donald H. Madvig, Frances Steenwyk, and Edward Viening.

Nehemiah 8:7–8, 12 says:

> The Levites . . . instructed the people in the Law while the people were standing there. They read from the Book of the Law of God, making it clear and giving the meaning so that the people could understand what was being read. . . . Then all the people went away . . . to celebrate with great joy, because they now understood the words that had been made known to them.

My associates and I will feel amply rewarded if those who use this study Bible have an experience similar to that of God's people in the time of Ezra and Nehemiah.

1995 Edition

Since 1995 marked the 10th anniversary of The NIV Study Bible, the publisher and I decided to give it a new look. We added some features, corrected a few mistakes, and made certain kinds of material more accessible through the use of the following symbols:

The seedling calls attention to Scripture references containing study notes that have practical principles for personal application.

The trowel points out references containing study notes that provide light from the study of archaeology. Since there is more personal application material in the study notes than archaeological information, we have also indicated where archaeological data can be found in certain book introductions, maps and charts.

The silhouette of a human head identifies a character sketch.

Special thanks go to Walter Wessel for his significant contribution to the study notes in the book of Matthew, and to Michael Vander Klipp and other Zondervan editors for their help.

TRANSLITERATIONS

A simplified system has been used for transliterating words from ancient Biblical languages into English. The only transliterations calling for comment are these:

| Transliteration | Pronunciation |
|---|---|
| ʾ | Glottal stop |
| ḥ | Similar to the "ch" in the German word Buch |
| ṭ | Similar to the "t" in the verb "tear" |
| ʿ | Similar to the glottal stop |
| ṣ | Similar to the "ts" in "hits" |
| ś | Similar to the "s" in "sing" |

Ancient Texts Relating to the Old Testament

Major representative examples of ancient Near Eastern non-Biblical documents that provide parallels to or shed light on various OT passages.

| AMARNA LETTERSCanaanite Akkadian14th century B.C. | Hundreds of letters, written primarily by Canaanite scribes, illuminate social, political and religious relationships between Canaan and Egypt during the reigns of Amunhotep III and Akhenaten. |
| AMENEMOPE'S WISDOMEgyptianEarly 1st millennium B.C. | Thirty chapters of wisdom instruction are similar to Pr 22:17-24:22 and provide the closest external parallels to OT wisdom literature. |
| ATRAHASIS EPICAkkadianEarly 2nd millennium B.C. | A cosmological epic depicts creation and early human history, including the flood (cf. Ge 1-9). |
| BABYLONIAN THEODICYAkkadianEarly 1st millennium B.C. | A sufferer and his friend dialogue with each other (cf. Job). |
| CYRUS CYLINDERAkkadian6th century B.C. | King Cyrus of Persia records the conquest of Babylon (cf. Da 5:30; 6:28) and boasts of his generous policies toward his new subjects and their gods. |
| DEAD SEA SCROLLSHebrew, Aramaic, Greek3rd century B.C. to 1st century A.D. | Several hundred scrolls and fragments include the oldest copies of OT books and passages. |
| EBLA TABLETSSumerian, EblaiteMid-3rd millennium B.C. | Thousands of commercial, legal, literary and epistolary texts describe the cultural vitality and political power of a pre-patriarchal civilization in northern Syria. |
| ELEPHANTINE PAPYRIAramaicLate 5th century B.C. | Contracts and letters document life among Jews who fled to southern Egypt after Jerusalem was destroyed in 586 B.C. |
| ENUMA ELISHAkkadianEarly 2nd millennium B.C. | Marduk, the Babylonian god of cosmic order, is elevated to the supreme position in the pantheon. The 7-tablet epic contains an account of creation (cf. Ge 1–2). |
| GEZER CALENDARHebrew10th century B.C. | A schoolboy from west-central Israel describes the seasons, crops and farming activity of the agricultural year. |
| GILGAMESH EPICAkkadianEarly 2nd millennium B.C. | Gilgamesh, ruler of Uruk, experiences numerous adventures, including a meeting with Utnapishtim, the only survivor of a great deluge (cf. Ge 6–9). |
| HAMMURAPI'S CODEAkkadian18th century B.C. | Together with similar law codes that preceded and followed it, the Code of Hammurapi exhibits close parallels to numerous passages in the Mosaic legislation of the OT. |
| HYMN TO THE ATENEgyptian14th century B.C. | The poem praises the beneficence and universality of the sun in language somewhat similar to that used in Ps 104. |
| ISHTAR'S DESCENTAkkadian1st millennium B.C. | The goddess Ishtar temporarily descends to the netherworld, which is pictured in terms reminiscent of OT descriptions of Sheol. |
| JEHOIACHIN'S RATION DOCKETSAkkadianEarly 6th century B.C. | Brief texts from the reign of Nebuchadnezzar II refer to rations allotted to Judah's exiled king Jehoiachin and his sons (cf. 1Ki 25:27-30). |
| KING LISTSSumerianLate 3rd millennium B.C. | The reigns of Sumerian kings before the flood are described as lasting for thousands of years, reminding us of the longevity of the preflood patriarchs in Ge 5. |
| LACHISH LETTERSHebrewEarly 6th century B.C. | Inscriptions on pottery fragments vividly portray the desperate days preceding the Babylonian siege of Jerusalem in 588-586 B.C. (cf. Jer 34:7). |
| LAMENTATION OVER THE DESTRUCTION OF URSumerianEarly 2nd millennium B.C. | The poem mourns the destruction of the city of Ur at the hands of the Elamites (cf. the OT book of Lamentations). |
| LUDLUL BEL NEMEQIAkkadianLate 2nd millennium B.C. | A suffering Babylonian nobleman describes his distress in terms faintly reminiscent of the experiences of Job. |

| MARI TABLETSAkkadian18th century B.C. | Letters and administrative texts provide detailed information regarding customs, language and personal names that reflect the culture of the OT patriarchs. |
| MERNEPTAH STELEEgyptian13th century B.C. | Pharaoh Merneptah figuratively describes his victory over various peoples in western Asia, including "Israel." |
| MESHA STELE (MOABITE STONE)Moabite9th century B.C. | Mesha, king of Moab (see 2Ki 3:4), rebels against a successor of Israel's king Omri. |
| MURASHU TABLETSAkkadian5th century B.C. | Commercial documents describe financial transactions engaged in by Murashu and Sons, a Babylonian firm that did business with Jews and other exiles. |
| MURSILIS'S TREATY WITH DUPPI-TESSUBHittiteMid-2nd millennium B.C. | King Mursilis imposes a suzerainty treaty on King Duppi-Tessub. The literary outline of this and other Hittite treaties is strikingly paralleled in OT covenants established by God with his people. |
| NABONIDUS CHRONICLEAkkadianMid-6th century B.C. | The account describes the absence of King Nabonidus from Babylon. His son Belshazzar is therefore the regent in charge of the kingdom (cf. Da 5:29-30). |
| NEBUCHADNEZZAR CHRONICLEAkkadianEarly 6th century B.C. | A chronicle from the reign of Nebuchadnezzar II includes the Babylonian account of the siege of Jerusalem in 597 B.C. (see 2Ki 24:10-17). |
| NUZI TABLETSAkkadianMid-2nd millennium B.C. | Adoption, birthright-sale and other legal documents graphically illustrate OT patriarchal customs current centuries earlier. |
| PESSIMISTIC DIALOGUEAkkadianEarly 1st millennium B.C. | A master and his servant discuss the pros and cons of various activities (cf. Ecc 1-2). |
| RAS SHAMRA TABLETSUgaritic15th century B.C. | Canaanite deities and rulers experience adventures in epics that enrich our understanding of Canaanite mythology and religion and of OT poetry. |
| SARGON LEGENDAkkadian1st millennium B.C. | Sargon I (the Great), ruler of Akkad in the late 3rd millennium B.C., claims to have been rescued as an infant from a reed basket found floating in a river (cf. Ex 2). |
| SARGON'S DISPLAY INSCRIPTIONAkkadian8th century B.C. | Sargon II takes credit for the conquest of Samaria in 722/721 B.C. and states that he captured and exiled 27,290 Israelites. |
| SENNACHERIB'S PRISMAkkadianEarly 7th century B.C. | Sennacherib vividly describes his siege of Jerusalem in 701 B.C. making Hezekiah a prisoner in his own royal city (but cf. 2Ki 19:35-37). |
| SEVEN LEAN YEARS TRADITIONEgyptian2nd century B.C. | Egypt experiences 7 years of low Niles and famine, which, by a contractual agreement between Pharaoh Djoser (28th century B.C.) and a god, will be followed by prosperity (cf. Ge 41). |
| SHALMANESER'S BLACK OBELISKAkkadian9th century B.C. | Israel's king Jehu presents tribute to Assyria's king Shalmaneser III. Additional Assyrian and Babylonian texts refer to other kings of Israel and Judah. |
| SHISHAK'S GEOGRAPHICAL LISTEgyptian10th century B.C. | Pharaoh Shishak lists the cities that he captured or made tributary during his campaign in Judah and Israel (cf. 1Ki 14:25-26). |
| SILOAM INSCRIPTIONHebrewLate 8th century B.C. | A Judahite workman describes the construction of an underground conduit to guarantee Jerusalem's water supply during Hezekiah's reign (cf. 2Ki 20:20; 2Ch 32:30). |
| SINUHE'S STORYEgyptian20th-19th centuries B.C. | An Egyptian official of the 12th dynasty goes into voluntary exile in Syria and Canaan during the OT patriarchal period. |
| TALE OF TWO BROTHERSEgyptian13th century B.C. | A young man rejects the amorous advances of his older brother's wife (cf. Ge 39). |
| WENAMUN'S JOURNEYEgyptian11th century B.C. | An official of the Temple of Amun at Thebes in Egypt is sent to Byblos in Canaan to buy lumber for the ceremonial barge of his god. |

Old Testament

Genesis

Title

The first phrase in the Hebrew text of 1:1 is bereshith ("in [the] beginning"), which is also the Hebrew title of the book (books in ancient times customarily were named after their first word or two). The English title, Genesis, is Greek in origin and comes from the word geneseos, which appears in the Greek translation (Septuagint) of 2:4; 5:1. Depending on its context, the word can mean "birth," "genealogy," or "history of origin." In both its Hebrew and Greek forms, then, the title of Genesis appropriately describes its contents, since it is primarily a book of beginnings.

Background

Chs. 1—38 reflect a great deal of what we know from other sources about ancient Mesopotamian life and culture. Creation, genealogies, destructive floods, geography and mapmaking, construction techniques, migrations of peoples, sale and purchase of land, legal customs and procedures, sheepherding and cattle-raising—all these subjects and many others were matters of vital concern to the peoples of Mesopotamia during this time. They were also of interest to the individuals, families and tribes of whom we read in the first 38 chapters of Genesis. The author appears to locate Eden, man's first home, in or near Mesopotamia; the tower of Babel was built there; Abram was born there; Isaac took a wife from there; and Jacob lived there for 20 years. Although these patriarchs settled in Palestine, their original homeland was Mesopotamia.

The closest ancient literary parallels to Ge 1—38 also come from Mesopotamia. Enuma elish, the story of the god Marduk's rise to supremacy in the Babylonian pantheon, is similar in some respects (though thoroughly mythical and polytheistic) to the Ge 1 creation account. Some of the features of certain king lists from Sumer bear striking resemblance to the genealogy in Ge 5. The 11th tablet of the Gilgamesh epic is quite similar in outline to the flood narrative in Ge 6—8. Several of the major events of Ge 1—8 are narrated in the same order as similar events in the Atrahasis epic. In fact, the latter features the same basic motif of creation-rebellion-flood as the Biblical account. Clay tablets found recently at the ancient (c. 2500–2300 B.C.) site of Ebla (modern Tell Mardikh) in northern Syria may also contain some intriguing parallels (see chart on "Ancient Texts Relating to the OT," p. xxii).

Two other important sets of documents demonstrate the reflection of Mesopotamia in the first 38 chapters of Genesis. From the Mari letters (see chart on p. xxii), dating from the patriarchal period, we learn that the names of the patriarchs (including especially Abram, Jacob and Job) were typical of that time. The letters also clearly illustrate the freedom of travel that was possible between various parts of the Amorite world in which the patriarchs lived. The Nuzi tablets (see chart on p. (xxii), though a few centuries later than the patriarchal period, shed light on patriarchal customs, which tended to survive virtually intact for many centuries. The inheritance right of an adopted household member or slave (see 15:1–4), the obligation of a barren wife to furnish her husband with sons through a servant girl (see 16:2–4), strictures against expelling such a servant girl and her son (see 21:10–11), the authority of oral statements in ancient Near Eastern law, such as the deathbed bequest (see 27:1–4,22–23,33)—these and other legal customs, social contracts and provisions are graphically illustrated in Mesopotamian documents.

As Ge 1—38 is Mesopotamian in character and background, so chs. 39—50 reflect Egyptian influence—though in not quite so direct a way. Examples of such influence are: Egyptian grape cultivation (40:9–11), the riverside scene (ch. 41), Egypt as Canaan's breadbasket (ch. 42), Canaan as the source of numerous products for Egyptian consumption (ch. 43), Egyptian religious and social customs (the end of chs. 43; 46), Egyptian administrative procedures (ch. 47), Egyptian funerary practices (ch. 50) and several Egyptian words and names used throughout these chapters. The closest specific literary parallel from Egypt is the Tale of Two Brothers, which bears some resemblance to the story of Joseph and Potiphar's wife (ch. 39). Egyptian autobiographical narratives (such as the Story of Sinuhe and the Report of Wenamun) and certain historical legends offer more general literary parallels.

Author and Date of Writing

Historically, Jews and Christians alike have held that Moses was the author/compiler of the first five books of the OT. These books, known also as the Pentateuch (meaning "five-volumed book"), were referred to in Jewish tradition as the five fifths of the law (of Moses). The Bible itself suggests Mosaic authorship of Genesis, since Ac 15:1 refers to circumcision as "the custom taught by Moses," an allusion to Ge 17. However, a certain amount of later editorial updating does appear to be indicated (see, e.g., notes on 14:14; 36:31; 47:11).

The historical period during which Moses lived seems to be fixed with a fair degree of accuracy by 1 Kings. We are told that "the fourth year of Solomon's reign over Israel" was the same as "the four hundred and eightieth year after the Israelites had come out of Egypt" (1Ki 6:1). Since the former was c. 966 B.C., the latter—and thus the date of the exodus—was c. 1446 (assuming that the 480 in 1Ki 6:1 is to be taken literally; see Introduction to Judges: Background). The 40-year period of Israel's wanderings in the desert, which lasted from c. 1446 to c. 1406, would have been the most likely time for Moses to write the bulk of what is today known as the Pentateuch.

During the last three centuries many scholars have claimed to find in the Pentateuch four underlying sources. The presumed documents, allegedly dating from the tenth to the fifth centuries B.C., are called J (for Jahweh/Yahweh, the personal OT name for God), E (for Elohim, a generic name for God), D (for Deuteronomic) and P (for Priestly). Each of these documents is claimed to have its own characteristics and its own theology, which often contradicts that of the other documents. The Pentateuch is thus depicted as a patchwork of stories, poems and laws. However, this view is not supported by conclusive evidence, and intensive archaeological and literary research has tended to undercut many of the arguments used to challenge Mosaic authorship.

Theme and Message

Genesis speaks of beginnings—of the heavens and the earth, of light and darkness, of seas and skies, of land and vegetation, of sun and moon and stars, of sea and air and land animals, of human beings (made in God's own image, the climax of his creative activity), of sin and redemption, of blessing and cursing, of society and civilization, of marriage and family, of art and craft and industry. The list could go on and on. A key word in Genesis is "account," which also serves to divide the book into its ten major parts (see Literary Features and Literary Outline) and which includes such concepts as birth, genealogy and history.

The book of Genesis is foundational to the understanding of the rest of the Bible. Its message is rich and complex, and listing its main elements gives a succinct outline of the Biblical message as a whole. It is supremely a book of relationships, highlighting those between God and nature, God and man, and man and man. It is thoroughly monotheistic, taking for granted that there is only one God worthy of the name and opposing the ideas that there are many gods (polytheism), that there is no god at all (atheism) and that everything is divine (pantheism). It clearly teaches that the one true God is sovereign over all that exists (i.e., his entire creation), and that by divine election he often exercises his unlimited freedom to overturn human customs, traditions and plans. It introduces us to the way in which God initiates and makes covenants with his chosen people, pledging his love and faithfulness to them and calling them to promise theirs to him. It establishes sacrifice as the substitution of life for life (ch. 22). It gives us the first hint of God's provision for redemption from the forces of evil (compare 3:15 with Ro 16:17–20) and contains the oldest and most profound definition of faith (15:6). More than half of Heb 11—the NT roll of the faithful—refers to characters in Genesis.

Literary Features

The message of a book is often enhanced by its literary structure and characteristics. Genesis is divided into ten main sections, each beginning with the word "account" (see 2:4; 5:1; 6:9; 10:1; 11:10; 11:27; 25:12; 25:19; 36:1—repeated for emphasis at 36:9—and 37:2). The first five sections can be grouped together and, along with the introduction to the book as a whole (1:1—2:3), can be appropriately called "primeval history" (1:1—11:26), sketching the period from Adam to Abraham. The last five sections constitute a much longer (but equally unified) account, and relate the story of God's dealings with Abraham, Isaac, Jacob and Joseph and their families—a section often called "patriarchal history" (11:27—50:26). This section is in turn composed of three narrative cycles (Abraham-Isaac, 11:27—25:11; Isaac-Jacob, 25:19—35:29; 37:1; Jacob-Joseph, 37:2—50:26), interspersed by the genealogies of Ishmael (25:12–18) and Esau (ch. 36).

The narrative frequently concentrates on the life of a later son in preference to the firstborn: Seth over Cain, Shem over Japheth (but see NIV text note on 10:21), Isaac over Ishmael, Jacob over Esau, Judah and Joseph over their brothers, and Ephraim over Manasseh. Such emphasis on divinely chosen men and their families is perhaps the most obvious literary and theological characteristic of the book of Genesis as a whole. It strikingly underscores the fact that the people of God are not the product of natural human developments, but are the result of God's sovereign and gracious intrusion in human history. He brings out of the fallen human race a new humanity consecrated to himself, called and destined to be the people of his kingdom and the channel of his blessing to the whole earth.

Numbers with symbolic significance figure prominently in Genesis. The number ten, in addition to being the number of sections into which Genesis is divided, is also the number of names appearing in the genealogies of chs. 5 and 11 (see note on 5:5). The number seven also occurs frequently. The Hebrew text of 1:1 consists of exactly seven words and that of 1:2 of exactly 14 (twice seven). There are seven days of creation, seven names in the genealogy of ch. 4 (see note on 4:17–18; see also 4:15,24; 5:31), various sevens in the flood story, 70 descendants of Noah's sons (ch. 10), a sevenfold promise to Abram (12:2–3), seven years of abundance and then seven of famine in Egypt (ch. 41), and 70 descendants of Jacob (ch. 46). Other significant numbers, such as 12 and 40, are used with similar frequency.

The book of Genesis is basically prose narrative, punctuated here and there by brief poems (the longest is the so-called Blessing of Jacob in 49:2–27). Much of the prose has a lyrical quality and uses the full range of figures of speech and other devices that characterize the world's finest epic literature. Vertical and horizontal parallelism between the two sets of three days in the creation account (see note on 1:11); the ebb and flow of sin and judgment in ch. 3 (the serpent and woman and man sin successively; then God questions them in reverse order; then he judges them in the original order); the powerful monotony of "and then he died" at the end of paragraphs in ch. 5; the climactic hinge effect of the phrase "But God remembered Noah" (8:1) at the midpoint of the flood story; the hourglass structure of the account of the tower of Babel in 11:1–9 (narrative in vv. 1–2,8–9; discourse in vv. 3–4,6–7; v. 5 acting as transition); the macabre pun in 40:19 (see 40:13); the alternation between brief accounts about firstborn sons and lengthy accounts about younger sons—these and numerous other literary devices add interest to the narrative and provide interpretive signals to which the reader should pay close attention.

It is no coincidence that many of the subjects and themes of the first three chapters of Genesis are reflected in the last three chapters of Revelation. We can only marvel at the superintending influence of the Lord himself, who assures us that "all Scripture is God-breathed" (2Ti 3:16) and that the men who wrote it "spoke from God as they were carried along by the Holy Spirit" (2Pe 1:21).

[3]And God said,[j] "Let there be light," and there was light.[k] [4]God saw that the light was good,[l] and he separated the light from the darkness.[m] [5]God called[n] the light "day," and the darkness he called "night."[o] And there was evening, and there was morning[p]—the first day.

[6]And God said,[q] "Let there be an expanse[r] between the waters[s] to separate water from water." [7]So God made the expanse and separated the water under the expanse from the water above it.[t] And it was so.[u] [8]God called[v] the expanse "sky."[w] And there was evening, and there was morning[x]—the second day.

[9]And God said, "Let the water under the sky be gathered to one place,[y] and let dry ground[z] appear." And it was so.[a] [10]God called[b] the dry ground "land," and the gathered waters[c] he called "seas."[d] And God saw that it was good.[e]

[a]2 Or possibly became

1:1 A summary statement introducing the six days of creative activity. The truth of this majestic verse was joyfully affirmed by poet (Ps 102:25) and prophet (Isa 40:21). In the beginning God. The Bible always assumes, and never argues, God's existence. Although everything else had a beginning, God has always been (Ps 90:2). In the beginning. Jn 1:1–10, which stresses the work of Christ in creation, opens with the same phrase. God created. The Hebrew noun Elohim is plural but the verb is singular, a normal usage in the OT when reference is to the one true God. This use of the plural expresses intensification rather than number and has been called the plural of majesty, or of potentiality. In the OT the Hebrew verb for "create" is used only of divine, never of human, activity. the heavens and the earth. "All things" (Isa 44:24). That God created everything is also taught in Ecc 11:5; Jer 10:16; Jn 1:3; Col 1:16; Heb 1:2. The positive, life-oriented teaching of v. 1 is beautifully summarized in Isa 45:18.

1:2 earth. The focus of this account. formless and empty. The phrase, which appears elsewhere only in Jer 4:23, gives structure to the rest of the chapter (see note on v. 11). God's "separating" and "gathering" on days 1–3 gave form, and his "making" and "filling" on days 4–6 removed the emptiness. darkness ... the waters. Completes the picture of a world awaiting God's light-giving, order-making and life-creating word. and. Or "but." The awesome (and, for ancient man, fearful) picture of the original state of the visible creation is relieved by the majestic announcement that the mighty Spirit of God hovers over creation. The announcement anticipates God's creative words that follow. Spirit of God. He was active in creation, and his creative power continues today (see Job 33:4; Ps 104:30). hovering over. Like a bird that provides for and protects its young (see Dt 32:11; Isa 31:5). The imagery may also suggest the winged sun disk, which throughout the ancient Near East was a symbol of divine majesty.

1:3 God said. Merely by speaking, God brought all things into being (Ps 33:6,9; 148:5; Heb 11:3). Let there be light. God's first creative word called forth light in the midst of the primeval darkness. Light is necessary for making God's creative works visible and life possible. In the OT it is also symbolic of life and blessing (see 2Sa 22:29; Job 3:20; 30:26; 33:30; Ps 49:19; 56:13; 97:11; 112:4; Isa 53:11; 58:8,10; 59:9; 60:1,3). Paul uses this word to illustrate God's re-creating work in sin-darkened hearts (2Co 4:6).

1:4 Everything God created is good (see vv. 10,12,18,21,25); in fact, the conclusion declares it to be "very good" (v. 31). The creation, as fashioned and ordered by God, had no lingering traces of disorder and no dark and threatening forces arrayed against God or man. Even darkness and the deep were given benevolent functions in a world fashioned to bless and sustain life (see Ps 104:19–26; 127:2).

1:5 called. See vv. 8,10. In ancient times, to name something or someone implied having dominion or ownership (see 17:5,15; 41:45; 2Ki 23:34; 24:17; Da 1:7). Both day and night belong to the Lord (Ps 74:16). first day. Some say that the creation days were 24-hour days, others that they were indefinite periods.

1:6 expanse. The atmosphere, or "sky" (v. 8), as seen from the earth. "Hard as a mirror" (Job 37:18) and "like a canopy" (Isa 40:22) are among the many pictorial phrases used to describe it.

1:7 And it was so. The only possible outcome, whether stated (vv. 9,11,15,24,30) or implied, to God's "Let there be."

1:9 one place. A picturesque way of referring to the "seas" (v. 10) that surround the dry ground on all sides and into which the waters of the lakes and rivers flow. The earth was "formed out of water" (2Pe 3:5) and "founded ... upon the seas" (Ps 24:2), and the waters are not to cross the boundaries set for them (Ps 104:7–9; Jer 5:22).

1:11 God said. This phrase is used twice on the third day (vv. 9,11) and three times (vv. 24,26,29) on the sixth day. These two days are climactic, as the following structure of ch. 1 reveals (see note on v. 2 regarding "formless and empty"):

| Days of forming | Days of filling |
| 1. "light" (v. 3) | 4. "lights" (v. 14) |
| 2. "water under the expanse ... water above it" (v. 7) | 5. "every living and moving thing with which the water teems ... every winged bird" (v. 21) |
| 3a. "dry ground" (v. 9) | $6a_1$. "livestock, creatures that move along the ground, and wild animals" (v. 24) |
| | $6a_2$. "man" (v. 26) |
| b. "vegetation" (v. 11) | b. "every green plant for food" (v. 30) |

Both the horizontal and vertical relationships between the days demonstrate the literary beauty of the chapter and stress the orderliness and symmetry of God's creative activity. kinds. See vv. 12,21,24–25. Both creation and reduce vegetation:[f] seed-bearing plants and trees on the land that bear fruit with seed in it, according to their various kinds.[g]" And it was so.[h] 12The land produced vegetation: plants bearing seed according to their kinds[i] and trees bearing fruit with seed in it according to their kinds. And God saw that it was good.[j] 13And there was evening, and there was morning[k]—the third day.

14And God said, "Let there be lights[l] in the expanse of the sky to separate the day from the night,[m] and let them serve as signs[n] to mark seasons[o] and days and years,[p] 15and let them be lights in the expanse of the sky to give light on the earth." And it was so.[q] 16God made two great lights—the greater light[r] to govern[s] the day and the lesser light to govern[t] the night.[u] He also made the stars.[v] 17God set them in the expanse of the sky to give light on the earth, 18to govern the day and the night,[w] and to separate light from darkness. And God saw that it was good.[x] 19And there was evening, and there was morning[y]—the fourth day.

20And God said, "Let the water teem with living creatures,[z] and let birds fly above the earth across the expanse of the sky."[a] 21So God created[b] the great creatures of the sea[c] and every living and moving thing with which the water teems,[d] according to their kinds, and every winged bird according to its kind.[e] And God saw that it was good.[f] 22God blessed them and said, "Be fruitful and increase in number and fill the water in the seas, and let the birds increase on the earth."[g] 23And there was evening, and there was morning[h]—the fifth day.

24And God said, "Let the land produce living creatures[i] according to their kinds:[j] livestock, creatures that move along the ground, and wild animals, each according to its kind." And it was so.[k] 25God made the wild animals[l] according to their kinds, the livestock according to their kinds, and all the creatures that move along the ground according to their kinds.[m] And God saw that it was good.[n]

26Then God said, "Let us[o] make man[p] in our image,[q] in our likeness,[r] and let them rule[s] over the fish of the sea and the birds of the air,[t] over the livestock, over all the earth,[b] and over all the creatures that move along the ground."

27So God created[u] man[v] in his own image,[w] in the image of God[x] he created him; production are orderly.

1:14 serve as signs. In the ways mentioned here, not in any astrological or other such sense.

1:16 two great lights. The words "sun" and "moon" seem to be avoided deliberately here, since both were used as proper names for the pagan deities associated with these heavenly bodies. They are light-givers to be appreciated, not powers to be feared, because the one true God made them (see Isa 40:26). Perhaps because of the emphasis on the greater light and lesser light, the stars seem to be mentioned almost as an afterthought. But Ps 136:9 indicates that the stars help the moon "govern the night." to govern. The great Creator-King assigns subordinate regulating roles to certain of his creatures (see vv. 26,28).

1:17–18 The three main functions of the heavenly bodies.

1:21 creatures of the sea. The Hebrew word underlying this phrase was used in Canaanite mythology to name a dreaded sea monster. He is often referred to figuratively in OT poetry as one of God's most powerful opponents. He is pictured as national (Babylon, Jer 51:34; Egypt, Isa 51:9; Eze 29:3; 32:2) or cosmic (Job 7:12; Ps 74:13; Isa 27:1, though some take the latter as a reference to Egypt). In Genesis, however, the creatures of the sea are portrayed not as enemies to be feared but as part of God's good creation to be appreciated. winged bird. The term denotes anything that flies, including insects (see Dt 14:19–20).

1:22 Be fruitful and increase in number. God's benediction on living things that inhabit the water and that fly in the air. By his blessing they flourish and fill both realms with life (see note on v. 28). God's rule over his created realm promotes and blesses life.

1:26 us . . . our . . . our. God speaks as the Creator-King, announcing his crowning work to the members of his heavenly court (see 3:22; 11:7; Isa 6:8; see also 1Ki 22:19–23; Job 15:8; Jer 23:18). image . . . likeness. No distinction should be made between "image" and "likeness," which are synonyms in both the OT (5:1; 9:6) and the NT (1Co 11:7; Col 3:10; Jas 3:9). Since man is made in God's image, every human being is worthy of honor and respect; he is neither to be murdered (9:6) nor cursed (Jas 3:9). "Image" includes such characteristics as "righteousness and holiness" (Eph 4:24) and "knowledge" (Col 3:10). Believers are to be "conformed to the likeness" of Christ (Ro 8:29) and will someday be "like him" (1Jn 3:2). rule. Man is the climax of God's creative activity, and God has "crowned him with glory and honor" and "made him ruler" over the rest of his creation (Ps 8:5–8). Since man was created in the image of the divine King, delegated sovereignty (kingship) was bestowed on him. (For redeemed man's ultimate kingship see notes on Heb 2:5–9.)

1:27 This highly significant verse is the first occurrence of poetry in the OT (which is about 40 percent poetry). created. The word is used here three times to describe the central divine act of the sixth day (see note on v. 1). male and female. Alike they bear the image of God, and together they share in the divine benediction that follows.

male and female[y] he created

[28]God blessed them and said to them,[a] "Be fruitful and increase in number;[b] fill the earth[c] and subdue it. Rule over[d] the fish of the sea and the birds of the air and over every living creature that moves on the ground.[e]"

[29]Then God said, "I give you every seed-bearing plant on the face of the whole earth and every tree that has fruit with seed in it. They will be yours for food.[f] [30]And to all the beasts of the earth and all the birds of the air and all the creatures that move on the ground—everything that has the breath of life[g] in it—I give every green plant for food.[h]" And it was so.

[31]God saw all that he had made,[i] and it was very good.[j] And there was evening, and there was morning[k]—the sixth day.

2 Thus the heavens and the earth were completed in all their vast array.[l]

[2]By the seventh day[m] God had finished the work he had been doing; so on the seventh day he rested[c] from all his work.[n] [3]And God blessed the seventh day and made it holy,[o] because on it he rested[p] from all the work of creating[q] that he had done.

Adam and Eve

[4]This is the account[r] of the heavens and the earth when they were created.[s]

When the LORD God made the earth and the heavens— [5]and no shrub of the field had yet appeared on the earth[d] and no plant of the field had yet sprung up,[t] for the LORD God had not sent rain on the earth[d][u] and there was no man to work the ground, [6]but streams[e] came up from the earth and watered the whole surface of the ground— [7]the LORD God formed[v] the man[f][w] from the dust[x] of the ground[y] and breathed into his nostrils the breath[z] of life,[a] and the man became a living being.[b]

[8]Now the LORD God had planted a gar-

[c] 2 Or ceased; also in verse 3 [d] 5 Or land; also in verse 6 [e] 6 Or mist [f] 7 The Hebrew for man (adam) sounds like and may be related to the Hebrew for ground (adamah); it is also the name Adam (see Gen. 2:20).

1:28 God blessed them ... fill ... subdue ... Rule. Man goes forth under this divine benediction—flourishing, filling the earth with his kind, and exercising dominion over the other earthly creatures (see v. 26; 2:15; Ps 8:6–8). Human culture, accordingly, is not anti-God (though fallen man often has turned his efforts into proud rebellion against God). Rather, it is the expression of man's bearing the image of his Creator and sharing, as God's servant, in God's kingly rule. As God's representative in the creaturely realm, he is steward of God's creatures. He is not to exploit, waste or despoil them, but to care for them and use them in the service of God and man.

1:29–30 People and animals seem to be portrayed as originally vegetarian (see 9:3).

1:31 very good. See note on v. 4. the sixth day. Perhaps to stress the finality and importance of this day, in the Hebrew text the definite article is first used here in regard to the creation days.

2:2 finished ... rested. God rested on the seventh day, not because he was weary, but because nothing formless or empty remained (see NIV text note). His creative work was completed—and it was totally effective, absolutely perfect, "very good" (1:31). It did not have to be repeated, repaired or revised, and the Creator rested to commemorate it.

2:3 God blessed the seventh day and made it holy ... rested. Although the word "Sabbath" is not used here, the Hebrew verb translated "rested" (see v. 2) is the origin of the noun "Sabbath." Ex 20:11 quotes the first half of v. 3, but substitutes "Sabbath" for "seventh," clearly equating the two. The first record of obligatory Sabbath observance is of Israel on her way from Egypt to Sinai (Ex 16), and according to Ne 9:13–14 the Sabbath was not an official covenant obligation until the giving of the law at Mount Sinai.

2:4 account. The Hebrew word for "account" occurs ten times in Genesis—at the beginning of each main section (see Introduction: Literary Features). the heavens and the earth. See note on 1:1. The phrase "the account of the heavens and the earth" introduces the record of what happened to God's creation. The blight of sin and rebellion brought a threefold curse that darkens the story of Adam and Eve in God's good and beautiful garden: (1) on Satan (3:14); (2) on the ground, because of man (3:17); and (3) on Cain (4:11). 1:1–2:3 is a general account of creation, while 2:4–4:26 focuses on the beginning of human history. LORD God. "LORD" (Hebrew YHWH, "Yahweh") is the personal and covenant name of God (see note on Ex 3:15), emphasizing his role as Israel's Redeemer and covenant Lord (see note on Ex 6:6), while "God" (Hebrew Elohim) is a general term. Both names occur thousands of times in the OT, and often, as here, they appear together—clearly indicating that they refer to the same one and only God.

2:7 formed. The Hebrew for this verb commonly referred to the work of a potter (see Isa 45:9; Jer 18:6), who fashions vessels from clay (see Job 33:6). "Make" (1:26), "create" (1:27) and "form" are used to describe God's creation of both man and animals (v. 19; 1:21,25). breath of life. Humans and animals alike have the breath of life in them (see 1:30; Job 33:4). man became a living being. The Hebrew phrase here translated "living being" is translated "living creatures" in 1:20,24. The words of 2:7 therefore imply that people, at least physically, have affinity with the animals. The great difference is that man is made "in the image of God" (1:27) and has an absolutely unique relation both to God as his servant and to the other creatures as their divinely appointed steward (Ps 8:5–8).

2:8 in the east. From the standpoint of the author of Genesis. The garden was perhaps near where the Tigris and Euphrates rivers (see v. 14) meet, in what is today den in the east, in Eden;[c] and there he put the man he had formed. [9]And the LORD God made all kinds of trees grow out of the ground—trees[d] that were pleasing to the eye and good for food. In the middle of the garden were the tree of life[e] and the tree of the knowledge of good and evil.[f]

[10]A river[g] watering the garden flowed from Eden;[h] from there it was separated into four headwaters. [11]The name of the first is the Pishon; it winds through the entire land of Havilah,[i] where there is gold. [12](The gold of that land is good; aromatic resin[g][j] and onyx are also there.) [13]The name of the second river is the Gihon; it winds through the entire land of Cush.[h] [14]The name of the third river is the Tigris;[k] it runs along the east side of Asshur. And the fourth river is the Euphrates.[l]

[15]The LORD God took the man and put him in the Garden of Eden[m] to work it and take care of it. [16]And the LORD God commanded the man, "You are free to eat from any tree in the garden;[n] [17]but you must not eat from the tree of the knowledge of good and evil,[o] for when you eat of it you will surely die."[p]

[18]The LORD God said, "It is not good for the man to be alone. I will make a helper suitable for him."[q]

[19]Now the LORD God had formed out of the ground all the beasts of the field[r] and all the birds of the air.[s] He brought them to the man to see what he would name them; and whatever the man called[t] each living creature,[u] that was its name. [20]So the man gave names to all the livestock, the birds of the air and all the beasts of the field.

But for Adam[i] no suitable helper[v] was found. [21]So the LORD God caused the man to fall into a deep sleep;[w] and while he was sleeping, he took one of the man's ribs[j] and closed up the place with flesh. [22]Then the LORD God made a woman from the rib[k][x] he had taken out of the man, and he brought her to the man.

"This is now bone of my bones and flesh of my flesh;[y] she shall be called[z] 'woman,[l]' for she was taken out of man.[a]"

[24]For this reason a man will leave his father and mother and be united[b] to his wife, and they will become one flesh.[c] southern Iraq. Eden. A name synonymous with "paradise" and related to either (1) a Hebrew word meaning "bliss" or "delight" or (2) a Mesopotamian word meaning "a plain." Perhaps the author subtly suggests both.

2:9 tree of life. Signifying and giving life, without death, to those who eat its fruit (see 3:22; Rev 2:7; 22:2,14). tree of the knowledge of good and evil. Signifying and giving knowledge of good and evil, leading ultimately to death, to those who eat its fruit (v. 17; 3:3). "Knowledge of good and evil" refers to moral knowledge or ethical discernment (see Dt 1:39; Isa 7:15–16). Adam and Eve possessed both life and moral discernment as they came from the hand of God. Their access to the fruit of the tree of life showed that God's will and intention for them was life. Ancient pagans believed that the gods intended for man always to be mortal. In eating the fruit of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, Adam and Eve sought a creaturely source of discernment in order to be morally independent of God.

2:11 Pishon. Location unknown. The Hebrew word may be a common noun meaning "gusher." Havilah. Location unknown; perhaps mentioned again in 10:29. It is probably to be distinguished from the Havilah of 10:7, which was in Egypt.

2:13 Gihon. Location unknown. The Hebrew word may be a common noun meaning "spurter." Both the Pishon and the Gihon may have been streams in Lower Mesopotamia near the Persian Gulf. The names were those current when Moses wrote.

2:14 Asshur. An ancient capital city of Assyria ("Assyria" and "Asshur" are related words). Euphrates. Often called simply "the River" (1Ki 4:21,24) because of its size and importance.

2:15 work ... take care. See note on 1:28. Man is now charged to govern the earth responsibly under God's sovereignty.

2:16 any tree. Including the tree of life (v. 9).

2:17 surely die. Despite the serpent's denial (3:4), disobeying God ultimately results in death.

2:18–25 The only full account of the creation of woman in ancient Near Eastern literature.

2:18 not good ... to be alone. Without female companionship and a partner in reproduction, the man could not fully realize his humanity.

2:19 name them. His first act of dominion over the creatures around him (see note on 1:5).

2:24 leave his father and mother. Instead of remaining under the protective custody of his parents a man leaves them and, with his wife, establishes a new family unit. united ... one flesh. The divine intention for husband and wife was monogamy. Together they were to form an inseparable union, of which "one flesh" is both a sign and an expression.

ADAM

NAME MEANS: "Man" (Ge 2:20)
BIRTH DATA: Formed by God from the dust of the earth in the Garden of Eden OCCUPATION: Farmer, zoologist, caretaker of Eden BEST KNOWN FOR:

- being the first person created in God's image
- with Eve, receiving God's creation mandate (Ge 1:28)
- being the father of the human race
- naming all the animals
- with Eve, participating in humanity's fall into sin

25The man and his wife were both naked,[d] and they felt no shame.

The Fall of Man

3 Now the serpent[e] was more crafty than any of the wild animals the LORD God had made. He said to the woman, "Did God really say, 'You must not eat from any tree in the garden'?[f]"

2The woman said to the serpent, "We may eat fruit from the trees in the garden,[g] 3but God did say, 'You must not eat fruit from the tree that is in the middle of the garden, and you must not touch it, or you will die.' "[h]

4"You will not surely die," the serpent said to the woman.[i] 5"For God knows that when you eat of it your eyes will be opened, and you will be like God,[j] knowing good and evil."

6When the woman saw that the fruit of the tree was good for food and pleasing to the eye, and also desirable[k] for gaining wisdom, she took some and ate it. She also gave some to her husband,[l] who was with her, and he ate it.[m] 7Then the eyes of both of them were opened, and they realized they were naked;[n] so they sewed fig leaves together and made coverings for themselves.[o]

8Then the man and his wife heard the sound of the LORD God as he was walking[p] in the garden in the cool of the day, and they hid[q] from the LORD God among the trees of the garden. 9But the LORD God called to the man, "Where are you?"[r]

10He answered, "I heard you in the garden, and I was afraid[s] because I was naked;[t] so I hid."

11And he said, "Who told you that you were naked?[u] Have you eaten from the tree that I commanded you not to eat from?[v]"

12The man said, "The woman you put here with me[w]—she gave me some fruit from the tree, and I ate it."

13Then the LORD God said to the woman, "What is this you have done?"

The woman said, "The serpent deceived me,[x] and I ate."

14So the LORD God said to the serpent, "Because you have done this, "Cursed[y] are you above all the livestock and all the wild animals!

You will crawl on your belly and you will eat dust[z]
all the days of your life.
15And I will put enmity between you and the woman, and between your offspring[ma] and hers;[b] he will crush[n] your head,[c] and you will strike his heel."

16To the woman he said,

[m] 15 Or seed [n] 15 Or strike

2:25 naked . . . no shame. Freedom from shame, signifying moral innocence, would soon be lost as a result of sin (see 3:7).

3:1 serpent. The great deceiver clothed himself as a serpent, one of God's good creatures. He insinuated a falsehood and portrayed rebellion as clever, but essentially innocent, self-interest. Therefore "the devil, or Satan," is later referred to as "that ancient serpent" (Rev 12:9; 20:2). crafty. The Hebrew words for "crafty" and "naked" are almost identical. Though naked, the man and his wife felt no shame (2:25). The craftiness of the serpent led them to sin, and they then became ashamed of their nakedness (see v. 7). Did God really say . . . ? The question and the response changed the course of human history. By causing the woman to doubt God's word, Satan brought evil into the world. Here the deceiver undertook to alienate man from God. In Job 1–2 he, as the accuser, acted to alienate God from man (see also Zec 3:1).

3:3 and you must not touch it. The woman adds to God's word, distorting his directive and demonstrating that the serpent's subtle challenge was working its poison.

3:4 You will not surely die. The blatant denial of a specific divine pronouncement (see 2:17).

3:5 God knows. Satan accuses God of having unworthy motives. In Job 1:9–11; 2:4–5 he accuses the righteous man of the same. your eyes will be opened, and you will be like God. The statement is only half true. Their eyes were opened, to be sure (see v. 7), but the result was quite different from what the serpent had promised. knowing good and evil. See note on 2:9.

3:6 good for food . . . pleasing to the eye . . . desirable for gaining wisdom. Three aspects of temptation. Cf. 1Jn 2:16; Lk 4:3,5,9.

3:7 they realized they were naked. No longer innocent like children, they had a new awareness of themselves and of each other in their nakedness and shame. they . . . made coverings. Their own feeble and futile attempt to hide their shame, which only God could cover (see note on v. 21).

3:8 the garden. Once a place of joy and fellowship with God, it became a place of fear and of hiding from God.

3:9 Where are you? A rhetorical question (see 4:9).

3:12 The woman you put here . . . gave me. The man blames God and the woman—anyone but himself—for his sin.

3:13 The serpent deceived me. The woman blames the serpent rather than herself.

3:14 Cursed. The serpent, the woman and the man were all judged, but only the serpent and the ground were cursed—the latter because of Adam (v. 17). dust. The symbol of death itself (v. 19) would be the serpent's food.

3:15 he will crush your head, and you will strike his heel. The antagonism between people and snakes is used to symbolize the outcome of the titanic struggle between God and the evil one, a struggle played out in the hearts and history of mankind. The offspring of the woman would eventually crush the serpent's head, a promise fulfilled in Christ's victory over Satan—a victory in which all believers will share (see Ro 16:20).

3:16 pains in childbearing. Her judgment fell on what was most uniquely hers as a woman and as a "suitable helper"

"I will greatly increase your pains in childbearing; with pain you will give birth to children.[d]
Your desire will be for your husband, and he will rule over you.[e]"

17To Adam he said, "Because you listened to your wife and ate from the tree about which I commanded you, 'You must not eat of it,'[f]

"Cursed[g] is the ground[h] because of you; through painful toil[i] you will eat of it all the days of your life.[j] 18It will produce thorns and thistles[k] for you, and you will eat the plants of the field.[l] 19By the sweat of your brow[m] you will eat your food[n] until you return to the ground, since from it you were taken;
for dust you are and to dust you will return."[o]

20Adam[o] named his wife Eve,[pp] because she would become the mother of all the living.

21The LORD God made garments of skin for Adam and his wife and clothed them.[q] 22And the LORD God said, "The man has now become like one of us,[r] knowing good and evil. He must not be allowed to reach out his hand and take also from the tree of life[s] and eat, and live forever." 23So the LORD God banished him from the Garden of Eden[t] to work the ground[u] from which he had been taken. 24After he drove the man out, he placed on the east side[q] of the Garden of Eden[v] cherubim[w] and a flaming sword[x] flashing back and forth to guard the way to the tree of life.[y]

Cain and Abel

4 Adam[o] lay with his wife[z] Eve,[a] and she became pregnant and gave birth to Cain.[r b] She said, "With the help of the LORD I have brought forth[s] a man." 2Later she gave birth to his brother Abel.[c]

Now Abel kept flocks, and Cain worked the soil.[d] 3In the course of time Cain brought some of the fruits of the soil as an offering[e] to the LORD.[f] 4But

[o]20,1 Or The man [p]20 Eve probably means living. [q]24 Or placed in front [r]1 Cain sounds like the Hebrew for brought forth or acquired. [s]1 Or have acquired

(2:20) for her husband. Similarly, the man's "painful toil" (v. 17) was a judgment on him as worker of the soil. Some believe that the Hebrew root underlying "pains," "pain" and "painful toil" should here be understood in the sense of burdensome labor (see Pr 5:10, "toil"; 14:23, "hard work"). give birth to children. As a sign of grace in the midst of judgment, the human race would continue. desire ... rule. Her sexual attraction for the man, and his headship over her, will become intimate aspects of her life in which she experiences trouble and anguish rather than unalloyed joy and blessing.

3:17–19 you will eat. Though he would have to work hard and long (judgment), the man would be able to produce food that would sustain life (grace).

3:19 return to the ground ... to dust you will return. Man's labor would not be able to stave off death. The origin of his body (see 2:7) and the source of his food (see v. 17) became a symbol of his eventual death.

3:21 clothed them. God graciously provided Adam and Eve with more effective clothing (cf. v. 7) to cover their shame (cf. v. 10).

3:22 us. See note on 1:26. knowing good and evil. In a terribly perverted way, Satan's prediction (v. 5) came true. live forever. Sin, which always results in death (Ro 6:23; Jas 1:14–15), cuts the sinner off from God's gift of eternal life.

3:23 banished him from the Garden ... to work the ground. Before he sinned, man had worked in a beautiful and pleasant garden (2:15). Now he would have to work hard ground cursed with thorns and thistles (v. 18).

3:24 cherubim. Similar to the statues of winged, human-headed bulls or lions that stood guard at the entrances to palaces and temples in ancient Mesopotamia (see note on Ex 25:18). to guard. The sword of God's judgment stood between fallen man and God's garden. The reason is given in v. 22. Only through God's redemption in Christ does man have access again to the tree of life (see Rev 2:7; 22:2,14,19).

4:1 With the help of the LORD. Eve acknowledged that God is the ultimate source of life (see Ac 17:25).

4:2 Abel. The name means "breath" or "temporary" or "meaningless" (the translation of the same basic Hebrew word that is in Ecc 1:2; 12:8) and hints at the shortness of Abel's life.

4:3–4 Cain brought some of the fruits ... But Abel brought fat portions from some of the firstborn of his flock. The contrast is not between an offering of plant life and an offering of animal life, but between a careless, thoughtless offering and a choice, generous offering (cf. Lev 3:16). Motivation and heart attitude are all-important, and God looked with favor on Abel and his offering because of Abel's faith (Heb 11:4). firstborn. Indicative of the recognition that all the productivity of the flock is from the Lord and all of it belongs to him.

EVE

NAME MEANS: "Living" (Ge 3:20)
BIRTH DATA: God formed her from one of Adam's ribs in the Garden of Eden OCCUPATION: Wife, mother, co-caretaker of Eden
BEST KNOWN FOR:

- being the first female and completing the human pair
- being the mother of the human race
- listening to Satan's lies and participating in humanity's fall into sin
- with Adam, hearing God's promise to redeem them one day (Ge 3:15)

Abel brought fat portions[g] from some of the firstborn of his flock.[h] The LORD looked with favor on Abel and his offering,[i] [5]but on Cain and his offering he did not look with favor. So Cain was very angry, and his face was downcast.

[6]Then the LORD said to Cain, "Why are you angry?[j] Why is your face downcast? [7]If you do what is right, will you not be accepted? But if you do not do what is right, sin is crouching at your door;[k] it desires to have you, but you must master it."

[8]Now Cain said to his brother Abel, "Let's go out to the field."[t] And while they were in the field, Cain attacked his brother Abel and killed him.[m]

[9]Then the LORD said to Cain, "Where is your brother Abel?"[n]

"I don't know,[o]" he replied. "Am I my brother's keeper?"

[10]The LORD said, "What have you done? Listen! Your brother's blood cries out to me from the ground.[p] [11]Now you are under a curse[q] and driven from the ground, which opened its mouth to receive your brother's blood from your hand. [12]When you work the ground, it will no longer yield its crops for you.[r] You will be a restless wanderer[s] on the earth."[t]

[15]But the LORD said to him, "Not so[u]; if anyone kills Cain[x], he will suffer vengeance[y] seven times over.[z]" Then the LORD put a mark on Cain so that no one who found him would kill him. [16]So Cain went out from the LORD's presence[a] and lived in the land of Nod,[v] east of Eden.[b]

[17]Cain lay with his wife,[c] and she became pregnant and gave birth to Enoch. Cain was then building a city,[d] and he named it after his son[e] Enoch. [18]To Enoch was born Irad, and Irad was the father of Mehujael, and Mehujael was the father of Methushael, and Methushael was the father of Lamech.

[19]Lamech married[f] two women,[g]

[t]8 Samaritan Pentateuch, Septuagint, Vulgate and Syriac; Masoretic Text does not have "Let's go out to the field."
[u]15 Septuagint, Vulgate and Syriac; Hebrew Very well
[v]16 Nod means wandering (see verses 12 and 14).

4:5 angry. God did not look with favor on Cain and his offering, and Cain (whose motivation and attitude were bad from the outset) reacted predictably.

4:7 sin is crouching at your door. The Hebrew word for "crouching" is the same as an ancient Babylonian word referring to an evil demon crouching at the door of a building to threaten the people inside. Sin may thus be pictured here as just such a demon, waiting to pounce on Cain—it desires to have him. He may already have been plotting his brother's murder. it desires to have you. In Hebrew, the same expression as that for "Your desire will be for [your husband]" in 3:16 (see also SS 7:10).

4:8 attacked his brother ... and killed him. The first murder was especially monstrous because it was committed with deliberate deceit ("Let's go out to the field"), against a brother (see vv. 9–11; 1Jn 3:12) and against a good man (Mt 23:35; Heb 11:4)—a striking illustration of the awful consequences of the fall.

4:9 Where ...? A rhetorical question (see 3:9). I don't know. An outright lie. Am I my brother's keeper? A statement of callous indifference—all too common through the whole course of human history.

4:10 Your brother's blood cries out. Abel, in one sense a prophet (Lk 11:50–51), "still speaks, even though he is dead" (Heb 11:4), for his spilled blood continues to cry out to God against all those who do violence to their human brothers. But the blood of Christ "speaks a better word" (Heb 12:24).

4:11 curse. The ground had been cursed because of human sin (3:17), and now Cain himself is cursed. Formerly he had worked the ground, and it had produced life for him (vv. 2–3). Now the ground, soaked with his brother's blood, would symbolize death and would no longer yield for him its produce (v. 12).

4:12 wanderer. Estranged from his fellowman and finding even the ground inhospitable, he became a wanderer in the land of wandering (see NIV text note on v. 16).

4:13 My punishment is more than I can bear. Confronted with his crime and its resulting curse, Cain responded not with remorse but with self-pity. His sin was virtually uninterrupted: impiety (v. 3), anger (v. 5), jealousy, deception and murder (v. 8), falsehood (v. 9) and self-seeking (v. 13). The final result was alienation from God himself (vv. 14,16).

4:14–15 whoever ... anyone ... no one. These words seem to imply the presence of substantial numbers of people outside Cain's immediate family, but perhaps they only anticipate the future rapid growth of the race.

4:15 mark. A warning sign to protect him from an avenger. For the time being, the life of the murderer is spared (but see 6:7; 9:6). For a possible parallel see Eze 9:4.

4:16 Nod. Location unknown. See NIV text note.

4:17–18 Cain ... Enoch ... Irad ... Mehujael ... Methushael ... Lamech. Together with that of Adam, these names add up to a total of seven, a number often signifying completeness (see v. 15). Each of the six names listed here is paralleled by a similar or identical name in the genealogy of Seth in ch. 5 as follows: Kenan (5:12), Enoch (5:21), Jared (5:18), Mahalalel (5:15), Methuselah (5:25), Lamech (5:28). The similarity between the two sets of names is striking and may suggest the selective nature of such genealogies (see note on 5:5). See also Introduction to 1 Chronicles: Genealogies.

4:17 city. The Hebrew for this word can refer to any permanent settlement, however small. Cain tried to redeem himself from his wandering state by the activity of his own hands—in the land of wandering he builds a city.

4:19 married two women. Polygamy entered history. Haughty Lamech, the seventh from Adam in the line of Cain, perhaps sought to attain the benefits of God's primeval blessing (see 1:28 and note) by his own device—multiplying his wives. Monogamy, however, was the original divine intention (see 2:23–24).

one named Adah and the other Zillah.
20 Adah gave birth to Jabal; he was the father of those who live in tents and raise livestock. 21 His brother's name was Jubal; he was the father of all who play the harp[h] and flute.[i] 22 Zillah also had a son, Tubal-Cain, who forged[j] all kinds of tools out of[w] bronze and iron. Tubal-Cain's sister was Naamah.

23 Lamech said to his wives,

"Adah and Zillah, listen to me;
wives of Lamech, hear my words.
I have killed[x k] a man for wounding me, a young man for injuring me.
24 If Cain is avenged[l] seven times,[m] then Lamech seventy-seven times.[n]"

25 Adam lay with his wife[o] again, and she gave birth to a son and named him Seth,[y p] saying, "God has granted me another child in place of Abel, since Cain killed him."[q] 26 Seth also had a son, and he named him Enosh.[r]

At that time men began to call on[z] the name of the LORD.[s]

From Adam to Noah

5 This is the written account[t] of Adam's line.[u]

When God created man, he made him in the likeness of God.[v] 2 He created them[w] male and female[x] and blessed them. And when they were created, he called them "man.[a]"

3 When Adam had lived 130 years, he had a son in his own likeness, in his own image;[y] and he named him Seth.[z] 4 After Seth was born, Adam lived 800 years and had other sons and daughters. 5 Altogether, Adam lived 930 years, and then he died.[a]

6 When Seth had lived 105 years, he became the father[b] of Enosh.[b] 7 And after he became the father of Enosh, Seth lived 807 years and had other sons and daughters. 8 Altogether, Seth lived 912 years, and then he died.

9 When Enosh had lived 90 years, he became the father of Kenan.[c] 10 And after he became the father of Kenan, Enosh lived 815 years and had other sons and daughters. 11 Altogether, Enosh lived 905 years, and then he died.

12 When Kenan had lived 70 years, he became the father of Mahalalel.[d] 13 And after he became the father of Mahalalel, Kenan lived 840 years and had other sons and daughters. 14 Altogether, Kenan lived 910 years, and then he died.

15 When Mahalalel had lived 65 years, he became the father of Jared.[e] 16 And after he became the father of Jared, Ma-halalel lived 830 years and had other sons and daughters. 17 Altogether, Maha-lalel lived 895 years, and then he died.

18 When Jared had lived 162 years, he became the father of Enoch.[f] 19 And af-

4:20–22 Jabal ... Jubal ... Tubal-Cain. Lamech's three sons had similar names, each derived from a Hebrew verb meaning "to bring, carry, lead," and emphasizing activity. Tubal-Cain's name was especially appropriate, since "Cain" means "metalsmith."

4:22 tools. For agriculture and construction, but they were also weapons.

4:23 killed a man for wounding me. Violent and wanton destruction of human life by one who proclaimed his complete independence from God by taking vengeance with his own hands (see Dt 32:35). Lamech proudly claimed to be master of his own destiny, thinking that he and his sons, by their own achievements, would redeem themselves from the curse on the line of Cain. This titanic claim climaxes the catalog of sins that began with Cain's prideful selfishness at the beginning of the chapter.

4:24 seventy-seven times. Lamech's vicious announcement of personal revenge found its counterpoint in Jesus' response to Peter's question about forgiveness in Mt 18:21–22.

4:25 again ... another child. Abel was dead, and Cain was alienated; so Adam and Eve were granted a third son to carry on the family line.

4:26 Enosh. The name, like "Adam" (see NIV text note on 2:7), means "man." began to call on the name of the LORD. Lamech's proud self-reliance, so characteristic of the line of Cain, is contrasted with dependence on God found in the line of Seth.

5:1 account. See note on 2:4. likeness. See note on 1:26.

5:2 male and female. See note on 1:27. blessed them. See 1:28 and note. called them. See note on 1:5. man. Often refers to both sexes (mankind) in the early chapters of Genesis (see, e.g., 3:22–24).

5:3 his own likeness ... his own image. See note on 1:26. As God created man in his own perfect image, so now sinful Adam has a son in his own imperfect image.

5:5 930 years. See notes on v. 27; 6:3. Whether the large numbers describing human longevity in the early chapters of Genesis are literal or have a conventional literary function—or both—is uncertain. Some believe that several of the numbers have symbolic significance, such as Enoch's 365 (v. 23) years (365 being the number of days in a year, thus a full life) and Lamech's 777 (v. 31) years (777 being an expansion and multiple of seven, the number of completeness; cf. the "seventy-seven times" of Lamech's namesake in 4:24). The fact that there are exactly ten names in the Ge 5 list (as in the genealogy of 11:10–26) makes it likely that it includes gaps, the lengths of which may be summarized in the large numbers. Other ancient genealogies outside the Bible exhibit similarly large figures. For example, three kings in a Sumerian list (which also contains exactly ten names) are said to have reigned 72,000 years each—obviously exaggerated time spans. and then he died. Repeated as a sad refrain throughout the chapter, the only exception being Enoch (see note on v. 24). The phrase is a stark reminder of God's judgment on sin resulting from Adam's fall.

ter he became the father of Enoch, Jared lived 800 years and had other sons and daughters. [20]Altogether, Jared lived 962 years, and then he died.

[21]When Enoch had lived 65 years, he became the father of Methuselah.[g] [22]And after he became the father of Methuselah, Enoch walked with God[h] 300 years and had other sons and daughters. [23]Altogether, Enoch lived 365 years. [24]Enoch walked with God;[i] then he was no more, because God took him away.[j]

[25]When Methuselah had lived 187 years, he became the father of Lamech.[k] [26]And after he became the father of Lamech, Methuselah lived 782 years and had other sons and daughters. [27]Altogether, Methuselah lived 969 years, and then he died.

[28]When Lamech had lived 182 years, he had a son. [29]He named him Noah[c][l] and said, "He will comfort us in the labor and painful toil of our hands caused by the ground the LORD has cursed.[m]" [30]After Noah was born, Lamech lived 595 years and had other sons and daughters. [31]Altogether, Lamech lived 777 years, and then he died.

[32]After Noah was 500 years old,[n] he became the father of Shem,[o] Ham and Japheth.[p]

The Flood

6 When men began to increase in number on the earth[q] and daughters were born to them, [2]the sons of God[r] saw that the daughters of men[s] were beautiful,[t] and they married[u] any of them they chose. [3]Then the LORD said, "My Spirit[v] will not contend with[d] man forever,[w] for he is mortal[e];[x] his days will be a hundred and twenty years."

[4]The Nephilim[y] were on the earth in those days—and also afterward—when the sons of God went to the daughters of men[z] and had children by them. They were the heroes of old, men of renown.[a]

[5]The LORD saw how great man's wickedness on the earth had become,[b] and that every inclination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil all the time.[c] [6]The LORD was grieved[d] that he had made man on the earth, and his heart was filled with pain. [7]So the LORD said, "I will wipe mankind, whom I have created, from the face of the earth[e]—men and animals, and creatures that move along the ground, and birds of the air—

[c] 29 Noah sounds like the Hebrew for comfort.
[d] 3 Or My spirit will not remain in [e] 3 Or corrupt

5:22 walked with God. The phrase replaces the word "lived" in the other paragraphs of the chapter and reminds us that there is a difference between walking with God and merely living.

5:24 then he was no more, because God took him away. The phrase replaces "and then he died" in the other paragraphs of the chapter. Like Elijah, who was "taken" (2Ki 2:10) to heaven, Enoch was taken away (cf. Ps 49:15; 73:24) to the presence of God without experiencing death (Heb 11:5). Lamech, the seventh from Adam in the genealogy of Cain, was evil personified. But "Enoch, the seventh from Adam" (Jude 14) in the genealogy of Seth, "was commended as one who pleased God" (Heb 11:5).

5:27 969 years. Only Noah and his family survived the flood. If the figures concerning life spans are literal, Methuselah died in the year of the flood (the figures in vv. 25,28 and 7:6 add up to exactly 969).

6:1 increase in number. See note on 1:22.

6:2 sons of God saw ... daughters of men ... and they married. See v. 4. The phrase "sons of God" here has been interpreted to refer either to angels or to human beings. In such places as Job 1:6; 2:1 it refers to angels, and perhaps also in Ps 29:1 (where it is translated "mighty ones"). Some interpreters also appeal to Jude 6–7 (as well as to Jewish literature) in referring the phrase here to angels.

Others, however, maintain that intermarriage and cohabitation between angels and human beings, though commonly mentioned in ancient mythologies, are surely excluded by the very nature of the created order (ch. 1; Mk 12:25). Elsewhere, expressions equivalent to "sons of God" often refer to human beings, though in contexts quite different from the present one (see Dt 14:1; 32:5; Ps 73:15; Isa 43:6; Hos 1:10; 11:1; Lk 3:38; 1Jn 3:1–2,10). "Sons of God" (vv. 2,4) possibly refers to godly men, and "daughters of men" to sinful women (significantly, they are not called "daughters of God"), probably from the wicked line of Cain. If so, the context suggests that vv. 1–2 describe the intermarriage of the Sethites ("sons of God") of ch. 5 with the Cainites ("daughters of men") of ch. 4, indicating a breakdown in the separation of the two groups.

Another plausible suggestion is that the "sons of God" refers to royal figures (kings were closely associated with gods in the ancient Near East) who proudly perpetuated and aggravated the corrupt life-style of Lamech son of Cain (virtually a royal figure) and established for themselves royal harems.

6:3 Two key phrases in the Hebrew of this verse are obscure: the one rendered "contend with" (see NIV text note) and the one rendered "for he is mortal." The verse seems to announce that the period of grace between God's declaration of judgment and its arrival would be 120 years (cf. 1Pe 3:20). But if the NIV text note reading is accepted, the verse announces that man's life span would henceforth be limited to 120 years (but see 11:10–26).

6:4 Nephilim. People of great size and strength (see Nu 13:31–33). The Hebrew word means "fallen ones." In men's eyes they were "the heroes of old, men of renown," but in God's eyes they were sinners ("fallen ones") ripe for judgment.

6:5 One of the Bible's most vivid descriptions of total depravity. And because man's nature remained unchanged, things were no better after the flood (8:21).

6:6 The LORD was grieved ... his heart was filled with pain. Man's sin is God's sorrow (see Eph 4:30).

6:7 I will wipe mankind ... from the face of the earth. The period of grace (see v. 3 and note) was coming to an end. animals ... creatures ... birds. Though morally innocent, the animal world, as creatures under man's corrupted rule, shared in his judgment.

for I am grieved that I have made them.[f]" 8But Noah[g] found favor in the eyes of the LORD.[h] 9This is the account[i] of Noah.

Noah was a righteous man, blameless[j] among the people of his time,[k] and he walked with God.[l] 10Noah had three sons: Shem,[m] Ham and Japheth.[n]

11Now the earth was corrupt[o] in God's sight and was full of violence.[p] 12God saw how corrupt[q] the earth had become, for all the people on earth had corrupted their ways.[r] 13So God said to Noah, "I am going to put an end to all people, for the earth is filled with violence because of them. I am surely going to destroy[s] both them and the earth.[t] 14So make yourself an ark of cypress[f] wood;[u] make rooms in it and coat it with pitch[v] inside and out. 15This is how you are to build it: The ark is to be 450 feet long, 75 feet wide and 45 feet high.[g] 16Make a roof for it and finish[h] the ark to within 18 inches[i] of the top. Put a door in the side of the ark and make lower, middle and upper decks. 17I am going to bring floodwaters[w] on the earth to destroy all life under the heavens, every creature that has the breath of life in it. Everything on earth will perish.[x] 18But I will establish my covenant with you,[y] and you will enter the ark[z]—you and your sons and your wife and your sons' wives with you. 19You are to bring into the ark two of all living creatures, male and female, to keep them alive with you.[a] 20Two[b] of every kind of bird, of every kind of animal and of every kind[c] of creature that moves along the ground will come to you to be kept alive.[d] 21You are to take every kind of food that is to be eaten and store it away as food for you and for them."

22Noah did everything just as God commanded him.[e]

7 The LORD then said to Noah, "Go into the ark, you and your whole family,[f] because I have found you righteous[g] in this generation. 2Take with you seven[j] of every kind of clean[h] animal, a male and its mate, and two of every kind of unclean animal, a male and its mate, 3and also seven of every kind of

[f] 14 The meaning of the Hebrew for this word is uncertain. [g] 15 Hebrew 300 cubits long, 50 cubits wide and 30 cubits high (about 140 meters long, 23 meters wide and 13.5 meters high) [h] 16 Or Make an opening for light by finishing [i] 16 Hebrew a cubit (about 0.5 meter) [j] 2 Or seven pairs; also in verse 3

6:8–9 found favor ... righteous ... blameless ... walked with God. See note on 5:22. Noah's godly life was a powerful contrast to the wicked lives of his contemporaries (see v. 5 and note; see also v. 12). This description of Noah does not imply sinless perfection.

6:9 account. See note on 2:4. righteous. See note on Ps 1:5.

6:14 ark. The Hebrew for this word is used elsewhere only in reference to the basket that saved the baby Moses (Ex 2:3,5). coat it with pitch. Moses' mother made his basket watertight in the same way (see Ex 2:3).

6:16 roof. Perhaps overhanging, to keep the rain from coming in. within 18 inches of the top. Noah's ark probably had a series of small windows (see 8:6) encircling the entire vessel 18 inches from the top to admit light and air.

6:17 floodwaters on the earth to destroy all life under the heavens. Some believe that the deluge was worldwide, partly because of the apparently universal terms of the text—both here and elsewhere (vv. 7,12–13; 7:4,19, 21–23; 8:21; 9:11,15). Others argue that nothing in the narrative of chs. 6–9 prevents the flood from being understood as regional—destroying everything in its wake, but of relatively limited scope and universal only from the standpoint of Moses' geographic knowledge. "Earth," e.g., may be defined in the more restricted sense of "land" (see 2:5). "All life under the heavens" may mean all life within the range of Noah's perception. (See the universal language used to describe the drought and famine in the time of Joseph—41:54,57; see also note on 41:57.) Since the purpose of the floodwaters was to destroy sinful mankind (see v. 13), and since the writer possibly had in mind only the inhabitants of the ancient Near East, this flood may not have had to be worldwide to destroy them. The apostle Peter, however, seems to assume that the flood and its devastation were universal and total, except for Noah and his family (2Pe 3:6; but see note there).

6:18 covenant. See note on 9:9. Noah would understand the full implications of God's covenant with him only after the floodwaters had dried up (see 9:8–17). enter the ark. The story of Noah's salvation from the flood illustrates God's redemption of his children (see Heb 11:7; 2Pe 2:5) and typifies baptism (see 1Pe 3:20–21). your sons and your wife and your sons' wives with you. God extends his loving concern to the whole family of righteous Noah—a consistent pattern in God's dealings with his people, underscoring the moral and responsible relationship of parents to their children (see 17:7–27; 18:19; Dt 30:19; Ps 78:1–7; 102:28; 103:17–18; 112:1–2; Ac 2:38–39; 16:31; 1Co 7:14).

6:19 two of all living creatures ... to keep them alive. Most animals were doomed to die in the flood (see note on v. 7), but at least one pair of each kind was preserved to restock the earth after the waters subsided.

6:20 kind. See note on 1:11.

6:22 did everything just as God commanded. The account stresses Noah's obedience (see 7:5,9,16).

7:1 Go into the ark. The beginning of God's final word to Noah before the flood. God's first word to Noah after the flood begins similarly: "Come out of the ark" (8:16). righteous. See note on 6:8–9. As a "preacher of righteousness" (2Pe 2:5), Noah warned his contemporaries of coming judgment and testified to the vitality of his own faith (see Heb 11:7).

7:2 seven of every kind of clean animal ... two of every kind of unclean animal. The ceremonially unclean animals would only have to reproduce themselves after the flood, but ceremonially clean animals would be needed also for the burnt offerings that Noah would sacrifice (see 8:20) and for food (see 9:3).

bird, male and female, to keep their various kinds alive[i] throughout the earth.
4Seven days from now I will send rain[j] on the earth[k] for forty days[l] and forty nights,[m] and I will wipe from the face of the earth every living creature I have made.[n]"

6Noah was six hundred years old[p] when the floodwaters came on the earth.
7And Noah and his sons and his wife and his sons' wives entered the ark[q] to escape the waters of the flood. 8Pairs of clean and unclean[r] animals, of birds and of all creatures that move along the ground, 9male and female, came to Noah and entered the ark, as God had commanded Noah.[s] 10And after the seven days[t] the floodwaters came on the earth.

13On that very day Noah and his sons,[z] Shem, Ham and Japheth, together with his wife and the wives of his three sons, entered the ark.[a] 14They had with them every wild animal according to its kind, all livestock according to their kinds, every creature that moves along the ground according to its kind and every bird according to its kind,[b] everything with wings. 15Pairs of all creatures that have the breath of life in them came to Noah and entered the ark.[c] 16The animals going in were male and female of every living thing, as God had commanded Noah.[d] Then the LORD shut him in.

17For forty days[e] the flood kept coming on the earth, and as the waters increased they lifted the ark high above the earth. 18The waters rose and increased greatly on the earth, and the ark floated on the surface of the water. 19They rose greatly on the earth, and all the high mountains under the entire heavens were covered.[f] 20The waters rose and covered the mountains to a depth of more than twenty feet.[k,l] [g] 21Every living thing that moved on the earth perished—birds, livestock, wild animals, all the creatures that swarm over the earth, and all mankind.[h] 22Everything on dry land that had the breath of life[i] in its nostrils died. 23Every living thing on the face of the earth was wiped out; men and animals and the creatures that move along the ground and the birds of the air were wiped from the earth.[j] Only Noah was left, and those with him in the ark.[k]

8 But God remembered[m] Noah and all the wild animals and the livestock that were with him in the ark, and he sent a wind over the earth,[n] and the waters receded. 2Now the springs of the deep and the floodgates of the heavens[o] had been closed, and the rain[p] had stopped falling from the sky. 3The water receded steadily from the earth. At the end of the hundred and fifty days[q] the water had gone down, 4and on the seventeenth day of the seventh month[r] the

[k] 20 Hebrew fifteen cubits (about 6.9 meters) [l] 20 Or rose more than twenty feet, and the mountains were covered

7:4 forty days and forty nights. A length of time often characterizing a critical period in redemptive history (see v. 12; Dt 9:11; Mt 4:1–11).

7:7 entered the ark to escape the waters. Noah and his family were saved, but life as usual continued for everyone else until it was too late (see Mt 24:37–39).

7:13 Noah and his sons . . . together with his wife and the wives of his three sons. "Only a few people, eight in all" (1Pe 3:20; see 2Pe 2:5), survived the flood.

7:14 every wild animal . . . all livestock . . . every creature that moves along the ground . . . every bird. Four of the five categories of animate life mentioned in 1:21–25. The fifth category—sea creatures—could remain alive outside the ark.

7:16 God had commanded Noah . . . the LORD shut him in. "God" gave the command, but in his role as redeeming "LORD" (see notes on 2:4; Ex 6:6) he closed the door of the ark behind Noah and his family. Neither divine name is mentioned in the rest of ch. 7, as the full fury of the flood was unleashed on sinful mankind.

7:20 covered the mountains to a depth of more than twenty feet. The ark was 45 feet high (6:15), so the water was deep enough to keep it from running aground.

7:22 breath of life. God's gift at creation (see 1:30; 2:7) was taken away because of sin.

8:1 So far the flood narrative has been an account of judgment; from this point on it is a story of redemption. God remembered Noah. Though he had not been mentioned since 7:16 or heard from for 150 days (see 7:24), God had not forgotten Noah and his family. To "remember" in the Bible is not merely to recall to mind; it is to express concern for someone, to act with loving care for him. When God remembers his people, he does so "with favor" (Ne 5:19; 13:31). wind. The Hebrew word translated "Spirit" in 1:2 is here rendered "wind," and introduces a series of parallels between the events of chs. 8–9 and those of ch. 1 in their literary order: Compare 8:2 with 1:7; 8:5 with 1:9; 8:7 with 1:20; 8:17 with 1:25; 9:1 with 1:28a; 9:2 with 1:28b; 9:3 with 1:30. Ch. 1 describes the original beginning, while chs. 8–9 describe a new beginning after the flood.

8:4 mountains. The word is plural and refers to a range of mountains. Ararat. The name is related to Assyrian Urartu, which became an extensive and mountainous kingdom (see Jer 51:27; see also Isa 37:38), including much of the territory north of Mesopotamia and east of modern Turkey. The ark's landfall was probably in southern Urartu.

ark came to rest on the mountains[s] of Ararat.[t] [5]The waters continued to recede until the tenth month, and on the first day of the tenth month the tops of the mountains became visible.

[6]After forty days[u] Noah opened the window he had made in the ark [7]and sent out a raven,[v] and it kept flying back and forth until the water had dried up from the earth.[w] [8]Then he sent out a dove[x] to see if the water had receded from the surface of the ground. [9]But the dove could find no place to set its feet because there was water over all the surface of the earth; so it returned to Noah in the ark. He reached out his hand and took the dove and brought it back to himself in the ark. [10]He waited seven more days and again sent out the dove from the ark. [11]When the dove returned to him in the evening, there in its beak was a freshly plucked olive leaf! Then Noah knew that the water had receded from the earth.[y] [12]He waited seven more days and sent the dove out again, but this time it did not return to him.

[13]By the first day of the first month of Noah's six hundred and first year,[z] the water had dried up from the earth. Noah then removed the covering from the ark and saw that the surface of the ground was dry. [14]By the twenty-seventh day of the second month[a] the earth was completely dry.

[15]Then God said to Noah, [16]"Come out of the ark, you and your wife and your sons and their wives.[b] [17]Bring out every kind of living creature that is with you—the birds, the animals, and all the creatures that move along the ground—so they can multiply on the earth and be fruitful and increase in number upon it."[c]

[18]So Noah came out, together with his sons and his wife and his sons' wives.[d] [19]All the animals and all the creatures that move along the ground and all the birds—everything that moves on the earth—came out of the ark, one kind after another.

[20]Then Noah built an altar to the LORD[e] and, taking some of all the clean animals and clean[f] birds, he sacrificed burnt offerings[g] on it. [21]The LORD smelled the pleasing aroma[h] and said in his heart: "Never again will I curse the ground[i] because of man, even though[m] every inclination of his heart is evil from childhood.[j] And never again will I destroy[k] all living creatures,[l] as I have done.

[22]"As long as the earth endures, seedtime and harvest,[m] cold and heat, summer and winter,[n] day and night will never cease."[o]

[m]21 Or man, for

8:6 window. See note on 6:16.

8:11 the dove returned ... in its beak was a freshly plucked olive leaf. Olives do not grow at high elevations, and the fresh leaf was a sign to Noah that the water had receded from the earth. The modern symbol of peace represented by a dove carrying an olive branch in its beak has its origin in this story.

8:13 first day of the first month of Noah's six hundred and first year. The date formula signals mankind's new beginning after the flood.

8:14 twenty-seventh day of the second month. More than a year after the flood began (see 7:11).

8:16 Come out of the ark. See note on 7:1.

8:17 multiply ... be fruitful ... increase in number. See 1:22 and note. The animals and birds could now repopulate their former habitats.

8:20 LORD. Since worship is a very personal matter, it is to God as "the LORD" (see note on 2:4) that Noah brought his sacrifice (see 4:4). burnt offerings. See Lev 1:4.

8:21 smelled the pleasing aroma. A figurative way of saying that the Lord takes delight in his children's worship of him (see Eph 5:2; Php 4:18). curse the ground. Although the Hebrew here has a different word for "curse," the reference appears to be to the curse of 3:17. It may be that the Lord here pledged never to add curse upon curse as he had in regard to Cain (4:12). even though every inclination of his heart is evil. For almost identical phraseology see 6:5. Because of man's extreme wickedness, God had destroyed him (6:7) by means of a flood (6:17). Although righteous Noah and his family had been saved, he and his offspring were descendants of Adam and carried in their hearts the inheritance of sin. God graciously promises never again to deal with sin by sending such a devastating deluge (see 9:11,15). Human history is held open for God's dealing with sin in a new and redemptive way—the way that was prepared for by God's action at Babel (see notes on 11:6,8) and that begins to unfold with the call of Abram (12:1). from childhood. The phrase replaces "all the time" in 6:5 and emphasizes the truth that sin infects a person's life from his conception and birth (Ps 51:5; 58:3).

8:22 Times and seasons, created by God in the beginning (see 1:14), will never cease till the end of history.

9:1–7 At this new beginning, God renewed his original benediction (1:28) and his provision for man's food (cf. v. 3;

- obeying God by building an ark to preserve the world's creatures
- being given the same creation mandate as Adam and Eve (Ge 9) pears in the clouds, I will see it and remember the everlasting covenant[l] be-

17So God said to Noah, "This is the sign of the covenant[m] I have established between me and all life on the earth."

The Sons of Noah

18The sons of Noah who came out of the ark were Shem, Ham and Japheth.[n]
(Ham was the father of Canaan.)[o]
19These were the three sons of Noah,[p] and from them came the people who were scattered over the earth.[q]

20Noah, a man of the soil, proceeded[n]

n20 Or soil, was the first

1:29–30). But because sin had brought violence into man's world and because God now appointed meat as a part of man's food (v. 3), further divine provisions and stipulations are added (vv. 4–6). Yet God's benediction dominates and encloses the whole (see v. 7).

9:2 they are given into your hands. God reaffirmed that mankind would rule over all creation, including the animals (see note on 1:26).

9:3 Everything that lives and moves will be food. Meat would now supplement mankind's diet.

9:4 you must not eat meat that has its lifeblood. Lev 17:14 stresses the intimate relationship between blood and life by twice declaring that "the life of every creature is its blood." Life is the precious and mysterious gift of God, and man is not to seek to preserve it or increase the life-force within him by eating "life" that is "in the blood" (Lev 17:11)—as many pagan peoples throughout history have thought they could do.

9:5 for your lifeblood ... I will demand an accounting from every animal. God himself is the great defender of human life (see 4:9–12), which is precious to him because man was created in his image (v. 6) and because man is the earthly representative and focal point of God's kingdom. In the theocracy (kingdom of God) established at Sinai, a domestic animal that had taken human life was to be stoned to death (Ex 21:28–32).

9:6 Whoever sheds the blood of man, by man shall his blood be shed. In the later theocracy, those guilty of premeditated murder were to be executed (see Ex 21:12–14; Nu 35:16–32; see also Ro 13:3–4; 1Pe 2:13–14). for in the image of God has God made man. See 1:26 and note. In killing a human being, a murderer demonstrates his contempt for God as well as for his fellowman.

9:9 I now establish my covenant. God sovereignly promised in this covenant to Noah, to Noah's descendants and to all other living things (as a kind of gracious reward to righteous Noah, the new father of the human race—see 6:18) never again to destroy man and the earth until his purposes for his creation are fully realized ("as long as the earth endures," 8:22). For similar commitments by God see his covenants with Abram (15:18–20), Phinehas (Nu 25:10–13) and David (2Sa 7). See chart on "Major Covenants in the OT," p. 19.

9:11 Never again will all life be cut off by the waters of a flood. A summary of the provisions of the Lord's covenant with Noah—an eternal covenant, as seen in such words and phrases as "never again" (vv. 11,15), "for all generations to come" (v. 12) and "everlasting" (v. 16).

9:12 sign. A covenant sign was a visible seal and reminder of covenant commitments. Circumcision would become the sign of the covenant with Abraham (see 17:11), and the Sabbath would be the sign of the covenant with Israel at Sinai (see Ex 31:16–17).

9:13 rainbow. Rain and the rainbow doubtless existed long before the time of Noah's flood, but after the flood the rainbow took on new meaning as the sign of the Noahic covenant.

9:19 scattered. Thus anticipating the table of nations (see note on 11:8).

9:20 man of the soil. Noah, like his father Lamech (see

Major Covenants in the Old Testament

| COVENANTS | REFERENCE | TYPE | PARTICIPANT | DESCRIPTION |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Noahic | Ge 9:8-17 | Royal Grant | Made with "righteous" (6:9) Noah (and his descendants and every living thing on earth—all life that is subject to man's jurisdiction) | An unconditional divine promise never to destroy all earthly life with some natural catastrophe; the covenant "sign" being the rainbow in the storm cloud |
| Abrahamic A | Ge 15:9-21 | Royal (land) Grant | Made with "righteous" (his faith was "credited to him as righteousness," v. 6) Abram (and his descendants, v. 16) | An unconditional divine promise to fulfill the grant of the land; a self-maledictory oath symbolically enacted it (v. 17) |
| Abrahamic B | Ge 17 | Suzerain-vassal | Made with Abraham as patriarchal head of his household | A conditional divine pledge to be Abraham's God and the God of his descendants (cf. "As for me," v. 4; "As for you," v. 9); the condition: total consecration to the Lord as symbolized by circumcision |
| Sinaitic | Ex 19-24 | Suzerain-vassal | Made with Israel as the descendants of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob and as the people the Lord has redeemed from bondage to an earthly power | A conditional divine pledge to be Israel's God (as her Protector and the Guarantor of her blessed destiny); the condition: Israel's total consecration to the Lord as his people (his kingdom) who live by his rule and serve his purposes in history |
| Phinehas | Nu 25:10-13 | Royal Grant | Made with the zealous priest Phinehas | An unconditional divine promise to maintain the family of Phinehas in a "lasting priesthood" (implicitly a pledge to Israel to provide her forever with a faithful priesthood) |
| Davidic | 2Sa 7:5-16 | Royal Grant | Made with faithful King David after his devotion to God as Israel's king and the Lord's anointed vassal had come to special expression (v. 2) | An unconditional divine promise to establish and maintain the Davidic dynasty on the throne of Israel (implicitly a pledge to Israel) to provide her forever with a godly king like David and through that dynasty to do for her what he had done through David—bring her into rest in the promised land (1Ki 4:20-21; 5:3-4) |
| New | Jer 31:31-34 | Royal Grant | Promised to rebellious Israel as she is about to be expelled from the promised land in actualization of the most severe covenant curse (Lev 26:27-39; Dt 28:36-37, 45-68) | An unconditional divine promise to unfaithful Israel to forgive her sins and establish his relationship with her on a new basis by writing his law "on their hearts"—a covenant of pure grace |

Major Types of Royal Covenants/Treaties in the Ancient Near East

Royal Grant (unconditional)
A king's grant (of land or some other benefit) to a loyal servant for faithful or exceptional service. The grant was normally perpetual and unconditional, but the servant's heirs benefited from it only as they continued their father's loyalty and service. (Cf. 1Sa 8:14; 22:7; 27:6; Est 8:1.)

Parity
A covenant between equals, binding them to mutual friendship or at least to mutual respect for each other's spheres and interests. Participants called each other "brothers." (Cf. Ge 21:27; 26:31; 31:44-54; 1Ki 5:12; 15:19; 20:32-34; Am 1:9.)

Suzerain-vassal (conditional)
A covenant regulating the relationship between a great king and one of his subject kings. The great king claimed absolute right of sovereignty, demanded total loyalty and service (the vassal must "love" his suzerain) and pledged protection of the subject's realm and dynasty, conditional on the vassal's faithfulness and loyalty to him. The vassal pledged absolute loyalty to his suzerain—whatever service his suzerain demanded—and exclusive reliance on the suzerain's protection. Participants called each other "lord" and "servant" or "father" and "son." (Cf. Jos 9:6,8; Eze 17:13-18; Hos 12:1.)

Commitments made in these covenants were accompanied by self-maledictory oaths (made orally, ceremonially or both). The gods were called upon to witness the covenants and implement the curses of the oaths if the covenants were violated.

to plant a vineyard. 21When he drank some of its wine,[r] he became drunk and lay uncovered inside his tent. 22Ham, the father of Canaan, saw his father's nakedness[s] and told his two brothers outside. 23But Shem and Japheth took a garment and laid it across their shoulders; then they walked in backward and covered their father's nakedness. Their faces were turned the other way so that they would not see their father's nakedness.

24When Noah awoke from his wine and found out what his youngest son had done to him, 25he said,

"Cursed[t] be Canaan![u]
The lowest of slaves will he be to his brothers.[v]"

26He also said,

"Blessed be the LORD, the God of Shem![w]
May Canaan be the slave[x] of Shem.[o] 27May God extend the territory of Japheth[p];[y] may Japheth live in the tents of Shem,[z] and may Canaan be his[q] slave."

28After the flood Noah lived 350 years. 29Altogether, Noah lived 950 years, and then he died.[a]

5:29), was a farmer.

9:21 When he drank some of its wine, he became drunk. The first reference to wine connects it with drunkenness. uncovered inside his tent. Excessive use of wine led, among other things, to immodest behavior (see 19:30–35).

9:22 father of Canaan. Mentioned here because Ham, in acting as he did, showed himself to be the true father of Canaan (i.e., of the Canaanites; see note on 15:16). told his two brothers. He broadcast, rather than covered, his father's immodesty.

9:23 faces were turned ... so that they would not see. They wanted to avoid further disgrace to their father.

9:24 from his wine. From the drunkenness caused by the wine.

9:25 Cursed be Canaan! Some maintain that Ham's son (see vv. 18,22) was to be punished because of his father's sin (see Ex 20:5), but Ex 20 restricts such punishment to "those who hate me." It is probably better to hold that Canaan and his descendants were to be punished because they were going to be even worse than Ham (Lev 18:2–3,6–30). lowest of slaves. Joshua's subjection of the Gibeonites (Jos 9:27) is one of the fulfillments (see also Jos 16:10; Jdg 1:28,30,33,35; 1Ki 9:20–21). Noah's prophecy cannot be used to justify the enslavement of blacks, since those cursed here were Canaanites, who were Caucasian.

9:26 Blessed be the LORD. The Lord (instead of Shem) is blessed (praised) because he is the source of Shem's blessing. He is also the "God of Shem" (and his descendants, the Semites—which included the Israelites) in a special sense.

9:27 live in the tents of Shem. Share in the blessings bestowed on Shem.

9:29 and then he died. See note on 5:5. As the tenth and last member of the genealogy of Seth (5:3–32), Noah had an obituary that ends like those of his worthy ancestors.

10:1 account. See note on 2:4. The links affirmed here may not all be based on strictly physical descent, but may include geographical, historical and linguistic associations (see note on v. 5 and NIV text notes on vv. 2,8; 11:10). See also Introduction to 1 Chronicles: Genealogies.

10:2 Japheth. As the least involved in the Biblical narrative and perhaps also as the oldest of Noah's sons (see v. 21 and NIV text note), his descendants or successors are listed first. The genealogy of Shem, the chosen line, appears last in the chapter (see vv. 21–31; see also 11:10–26). The 14 nations that came from Japheth plus the 30 from Ham and the 26 from Shem add up to 70 (the multiple of 10 and 7, both numbers signifying completeness; see note on 5:5), perhaps in anticipation of the 70 members of Jacob's family in Egypt (see 46:27; Ex 1:5; also Dt 32:8). The Japhethites lived generally north and west of Palestine in Eurasia. Gomer. The people of Gomer (the later Cimmerians) and related nations (see v. 3) lived near the Black Sea. Magog. Possibly the father of a Scythian people who inhabited the Caucasus and adjacent regions southeast of the Black Sea. Madai. The later Medes. Javan. Ionia (southern Greece) and perhaps western Asia Minor. Tubal, Meshech. Not related to Tobolsk and Moscow in modern Russia. Together with Magog they are mentioned in later Assyrian inscriptions. See also Eze 38:2. Probably Tubal was in Pontus, and Meshech was in the Moschian Mountains. Their movement was from eastern Asia Minor north to the Black Sea. Tiras. Possibly the Thrace of later times.

10:3 Ashkenaz. The later Scythians. All three names in this verse refer to peoples located in the upper Euphrates region.

10:4 Elishah. Either Alashia (an ancient name for Cyprus) or a reference to Sicily and southern Italy. Tarshish. Probably southern Spain. the Kittim. A people living on Cyprus. Rodanim. A people whose name is perhaps reflected in Rhodes (a Greek isle).

10:5 See vv. 20,31. territories ... clans ... nations ... language. Geographic, ethnic, political and linguistic terms, respectively. These several criteria were used to differentiate the various groups of people.

10:6 Ham. The Hamites were located in southwestern Asia and northeast Africa. Cush. The upper Nile region, south of Egypt. Mizraim. Means "two Egypts," a reference to Upper and Lower Egypt. Put. Either Libya (see note on v. 13) or the land the ancient Egyptians called Punt (modern Somalia). Canaan. The name means "land of purple" (as does Phoenicia, the Greek name for the same general region)—so called because Canaan was a major producer and exporter of purple dye, highly prized by royalty. The territory was much later called Palestine after the Philistines (see v. 14).

10:7 sons of Cush. The seven Cushite nations here mentioned were all in Arabia. Sheba and Dedan (or their namesakes) reappear as two of Abraham's grandsons (see 25:3). Together with Raamah they are mentioned in Eze 27:20–22.

10:8 Cush. Probably not the same as that in vv. 6–7. Located in Mesopotamia, its name may be related to that of the later Kassites. Nimrod. Possibly the Hebrew name of Sargon I, an early ruler of Akkad (see v. 10).

10:10 Erech. The Hebrew name for Uruk (modern Warka), one of the important cities in ancient Mesopotamia.

10:12 great city. Possibly a reference to Calah (or even Resen), but most likely to Nineveh (see Jnh 1:2; 3:2; 4:11), either alone or including the surrounding urban areas.

10:13 Ludites. Perhaps the Lydians in Asia Minor (see note on v. 22). Anamites. Located in north Africa, west of Egypt, near Cyrene. Lehabites. Perhaps the Libyan desert tribes (see note on v. 6). Naphtuhites. People of Lower Egypt.

10:14 Pathrusites. The inhabitants of Upper Egypt (see note on v. 6). Caphtorites. Crete, known as Caphtor in ancient times, was for a while the homeland of various Philistine groups (see Jer 47:4; Am 9:7). The Philistines themselves were a vigorous Indo-European maritime people who invaded Egypt early in the 12th century B.C. After being driven out, they migrated in large numbers to southwest Canaan, later extending their influence over most of the Later the Canaanite[s] clans scattered from Sidon[u] toward Gerar[v] as far as Gaza,[w] and then toward Sodom, Gomorrah, Admah and Zeboiim,[x] as far as Lasha.

20These are the sons of Ham by their clans and languages, in their territories and nations.

21Sons were also born to Shem, whose older brother was[z] Japheth; Shem was the ancestor of all the sons of Eber.[y]

22The sons of Shem:
Elam,[z] Asshur,[a] Arphaxad,[b]
Lud and Aram.[c]
23The sons of Aram:
Uz,[d] Hul, Gether and Meshech.[a] 24Arphaxad was the father of[b] Shelah, and Shelah the father of Eber.[e]
25Two sons were born to Eber:
One was named Peleg,[c] because in his time the earth was divided;
his brother was named Joktan.
26Joktan was the father of Almodad, Sheleph, Hazaramaveth,
Jerah, 27Hadoram, Uzal,[f] Diklah, 28Obal, Abimael, Sheba,[g]
29Ophir,[h] Havilah and Jobab. All these were sons of Joktan.

30The region where they lived stretched from Mesha toward Sephar, in the eastern hill country.

31These are the sons of Shem by their clans and languages, in their territories and nations.

32These are the clans of Noah's sons,[i] according to their lines of descent, within their nations. From these the nations spread out over the earth[j] after the flood.

10:15 Sidon. An important commercial city on the northwest coast of Canaan. Hittites. A powerful people, centered in Asia Minor, who dominated much of Canaan from c. 1800 to c. 1200 B.C.

10:16 Jebusites. Inhabitants of Jerusalem at the time of Israel's conquest of Canaan. Jerusalem was also known as Jebus during part of its history (see Jdg 19:10–11; 1Ch 11:4). Amorites. The name comes from an Akkadian word meaning "westerner" (west from the Babylonian perspective). Amorites lived in the hill country of Canaan at the time of the Israelite conquest.

10:17–18 Together with the Girgashites (v. 16), these groups inhabited small city-states for the most part.

10:19 Sodom, Gomorrah, Admah and Zeboiim. See 14:2,8 (see also note on 13:10); probably located east and/or southeast of the Dead Sea.

10:21 Sons were also born to Shem. The descendants of Shem were called Shemites (later modified to Semites). Eber. Though a distant descendant of Shem (see vv. 24–25; 11:14–17), Eber's importance as the ancestor of the Hebrews ("Eber" is the origin of the Hebrew word for "Hebrew") is already hinted at here. The Ebla tablets (see Introduction: Background) frequently refer to a king named Ebrium, who ruled Ebla for 28 years. It is possible that Ebrium and Eber were the same person.

10:22 Elam. The Elamites lived east of Mesopotamia. Asshur. An early name for Assyria (see note on 2:14) in northern Mesopotamia. Arphaxad. See also 11:10–13; perhaps a compound form of the Hebrew word for Chaldea, in southern Mesopotamia. Lud. Probably the Lydians of Asia Minor (see note on v. 13). Aram. Located northeast of Canaan, the area known today as Syria.

10:24 Shelah. See 11:12–15.

10:25 Peleg. See NIV text note and 11:16–19. the earth was divided. Perhaps resulting from the dispersion of peoples described in 11:1–9.

10:26 Joktan. The predecessor of numerous south Arabian kingdoms.

10:28 Sheba. In southwest Arabia (roughly the area of Yemen). A later queen of Sheba made a memorable visit to King Solomon in the tenth century B.C. (see 1Ki 10:1–13).

10:29 Ophir. The source of much of King Solomon's gold (see 1Ki 9:28; 10:11). Its location seems to have been south of Palestine, perhaps somewhere in Africa or south Arabia (but see note on 1Ki 9:28).

11:1–9 Chronologically earlier than ch. 10, this section provides the main reason for the scattering of the peoples listed there. The narrative is a beautiful example of inverted or hourglass structure (see Introduction: Literary Features).

11:1 the whole world. The survivors of the flood and their descendants (see vv. 4,8–9).

3They said to each other, "Come, let's make bricks[m] and bake them thoroughly." They used brick instead of stone,[n] and tar[o] for mortar. 4Then they said,
"Come, let us build ourselves a city, with a tower that reaches to the heavens,[p] so that we may make a name[q] for ourselves and not be scattered[r] over the face of the whole earth."[s]

5But the LORD came down[t] to see the city and the tower that the men were building. 6The LORD said, "If as one people speaking the same language[u] they have begun to do this, then nothing they plan to do will be impossible for them.
7Come, let us[v] go down[w] and confuse their language so they will not understand each other."[x]

8So the LORD scattered them from there over all the earth,[y] and they stopped building the city. 9That is why it was called Babel[fz]—because there the LORD confused the language[a] of the whole world.[b] From there the LORD scattered[c] them over the face of the whole earth.

From Shem to Abram

11:10–27pp — Ge 10:21–31; 1Ch 1:17–27

10This is the account[d] of Shem.

Two years after the flood, when Shem was 100 years old, he became the father[g] of Arphaxad.[e] 11And after he became the father of Arphaxad, Shem lived 500 years and had other sons and daughters.

12When Arphaxad had lived 35 years, he became the father of Shelah.[f] 13And after he became the father of Shelah, Arphaxad lived 403 years and had other sons and daughters.[h]

14When Shelah had lived 30 years, he became the father of Eber.[g] 15And after he became the father of Eber, Shelah lived 403 years and had other sons and daughters.

16When Eber had lived 34 years, he became the father of Peleg.[h] 17And after he became the father of Peleg, Eber lived 430 years and had other sons and daughters.

18When Peleg had lived 30 years, he became the father of Reu.[i] 19And after he became the father of Reu, Peleg lived 209 years and had other sons and daughters.

20When Reu had lived 32 years, he became the father of Serug.[j] 21And after he became the father of Serug, Reu lived 207 years and had other sons and daughters.

22When Serug had lived 30 years, he became the father of Nahor.[k] 23And after he became the father of Nahor, Serug lived 200 years and had other sons and daughters.

24When Nahor had lived 29 years, he became the father of Terah.[l] 25And after he became the father of Terah, Nahor lived 119 years and had other sons and daughters.

26After Terah had lived 70 years, he became the father of Abram,[m] Nahor[n]
and Haran.[o]

11:3 brick instead of stone, and tar for mortar. Stone and mortar were used as building materials in Canaan. Stone was scarce in Mesopotamia, however, so mud brick and tar were used (as indicated by archaeological excavations).

11:4 us . . . ourselves . . . we . . . ourselves. The people's plans were egotistical and proud. tower. The typical Mesopotamian temple-tower, known as a ziggurat, was square at the base and had sloping, stepped sides that led upward to a small shrine at the top. reaches to the heavens. A similar ziggurat may be described in 28:12. Other Mesopotamian ziggurats were given names demonstrating that they, too, were meant to serve as staircases from earth to heaven: "The House of the Link between Heaven and Earth" (at Larsa), "The House of the Seven Guides of Heaven and Earth" (at Borsippa), "The House of the Foundation-Platform of Heaven and Earth" (at Babylon), "The House of the Mountain of the Universe" (at Asshur). name. In the OT, "name" also refers to reputation, fame or renown. (The Nephilim were "men of renown [lit. 'name']," 6:4.) At Babel (see note on v. 9) rebellious man undertook a united and godless effort to establish for himself, by a titanic human enterprise, a world renown by which he would dominate God's creation (cf. 10:8–12; 2Sa 18:18). scattered. See note on v. 8.

11:6 If . . . then. If the whole human race remained united in the proud attempt to take its destiny into its own hands and, by its man-centered efforts, to seize the reins of history, there would be no limit to its unrestrained rebellion against God. The kingdom of man would displace and exclude the kingdom of God.

11:7 let us. See notes on 1:1,26. God's "Come, let us" from above counters proud man's "Come, let us" (v. 4) from below. not understand each other. Without a common language, joint effort became impossible (see v. 8).

11:8 scattered. See v. 4; 9:19. God dispersed the people because of their rebellious pride. Even the greatest of human powers cannot defy God and long survive.

11:9 Babel. See NIV text note and 10:10. The word is of Akkadian origin and means "gateway to a god" (Jacob's stairway was similarly called "gate of heaven"; see 28:17). confused. The Hebrew word used here (balal) sounds like "Babel," the Hebrew word for Babylon and the origin of the English word "babel."

11:10–26 A ten-name genealogy, like that of Seth (see 5:3–31; see also note on 5:5). Unlike the Sethite genealogy, however, the genealogy of Shem does not give total figures for the ages of the men at death and does not end each paragraph with "and then he died." It covers the centuries between Shem and Abram as briefly as possible.

11:10 account. See note on 2:4.

11:26 Terah . . . became the father of Abram, Nahor and 27This is the account[p] of Terah.

Terah became the father of Abram, Nahor[q] and Haran. And Haran became the father of Lot.[r] 28While his father Terah was still alive, Haran died in Ur of the Chaldeans,[s] in the land of his birth. 29Abram and Nahor[t] both married. The name of Abram's wife was Sarai,[u] and the name of Nahor's wife was Milcah;[v] she was the daughter of Haran, the father of both Milcah and Iscah. 30Now Sarai was barren; she had no children.[w]

31Terah took his son Abram, his grandson Lot[x] son of Haran, and his daughter-in-law[y] Sarai, the wife of his son Abram, and together they set out from Ur of the Chaldeans[z] to go to Canaan.[a] But when they came to Haran,[b] they settled there.

32Terah[c] lived 205 years, and he died in Haran.

The Call of Abram

12 The LORD had said to Abram, "Leave your country, your people and your father's household[d] and go to the land[e] I will show you.[f]

2"I will make you into a great nation[g] and I will bless you;[h]
I will make your name great, and you will be a blessing.[i] 3I will bless those who bless you, and whoever curses you I will curse;[j] and all peoples on earth will be blessed through you.[k]"

6Abram traveled through the land[s] as far as the site of the great tree of Moreh[t] at Shechem.[u] At that time the Canaanites[v] were in the land. 7The LORD appeared to Abram[w] and said, "To your Haran. As in the case of Shem, Ham and Japheth, the names of the three sons may not be in chronological order by age (see 9:24; see also 10:21 and NIV text note). Haran died while his father was still alive (see v. 28).

11:27 account. See note on 2:4.

11:28 Ur of the Chaldeans. Possibly in northern Mesopotamia, but more likely the site on the Euphrates in southern Iraq excavated by Leonard Woolley between 1922 and 1934. Ruins and artifacts from Ur reveal a civilization and culture that reached high levels before Abram's time. King Ur-Nammu, who may have been Abram's contemporary, is famous for his law code.

11:30 Sarai was barren. The sterility of Abram's wife (see 15:2–3; 17:17) emphasized the fact that God's people would not come by natural generation from the post-Babel peoples. God was bringing a new humanity into being, of whom Abram was father (17:5), just as Adam and Noah were fathers of the fallen human race.

11:31 they came to Haran. In Hebrew the name of the town is spelled differently from that of Abram's brother (v. 26). The moon-god was worshiped at both Ur and Haran, and since Terah was an idolater (see Jos 24:2) he probably felt at home in either place. Haran was a flourishing caravan city in the 19th century B.C. In the 18th century it was ruled by Amorites (see note on 10:16).

12:1 had said. God had spoken to Abram "while he was still in Mesopotamia, before he lived in Haran" (Ac 7:2). Leave . . . show you. Abram must leave the settled world of the post-Babel nations and begin a pilgrimage with God to a better world of God's making (see 24:7).

12:2–3 God's promise to Abram has a sevenfold structure: (1) "I will make you into a great nation," (2) "I will bless you," (3) "I will make your name great," (4) "you will be a blessing," (5) "I will bless those who bless you," (6) "whoever curses you I will curse," and (7) "all peoples on earth will be blessed through you." God's original blessing on all mankind (1:28) would be restored and fulfilled through Abram and his offspring. In various ways and degrees, these promises were reaffirmed to Abram (v. 7; 15:5–21; 17:4–8; 18:18–19; 22:17–18), to Isaac (26:2–4), to Jacob (28:13–15; 35:11–12; 46:3) and to Moses (Ex 3:6–8; 6:2–8). The seventh promise is quoted in Ac 3:25 with reference to Peter's Jewish listeners (see Ac 3:12)—Abram's physical descendants—and in Gal 3:8 with reference to Paul's Gentile listeners—Abram's spiritual descendants.

12:4 Abram left, as the LORD had told him. See Heb 11:8. Prompt obedience grounded in faith characterized this patriarch throughout his life (see 17:23; 21:14; 22:3). Lot went with him. See 13:1,5. Lot at first was little more than Abram's ward. seventy-five years old. Although advanced in age at the time of his call, Abram would live for another full century (see 25:7; see also note on 5:5).

12:5 people they had acquired. Wealthy people in that ancient world always had servants to help them with their flocks and herds (see 15:3; 24:2). Not all servants were slaves; many were voluntarily employed.

12:6 site of the great tree of Moreh. See perhaps 35:4; Jdg 9:6,37. A famous sanctuary was located at Shechem in central Canaan, and a large tree was often a conspicuous feature at such holy places. But Abram worshiped the Lord there, not the local deity.

12:7 The LORD appeared. The Lord frequently appeared visibly to Abram and to others, but not in all his glory (see Ex 33:18–20; Jn 1:18). an altar. The first of several that Abram built at places where he had memorable spiritual experiences (see v. 8; 13:18; 22:9). He acknowledged that the land of Canaan belonged to the Lord in a special way (see Ex 20:24; Jos 22:19).

offspring[i] I will give this land.'[x]"[y] So he built an altar there to the LORD,[z] who had appeared to him.

[8]From there he went on toward the hills east of Bethel[a] and pitched his tent,[b] with Bethel on the west and Ai[c] on the east. There he built an altar to the LORD and called on the name of the LORD.[d] [9]Then Abram set out and continued toward the Negev.[e]

Abram in Egypt

12:10–20Ref — Ge 20:1–18; 26:1–11

[10]Now there was a famine in the land,[f] and Abram went down to Egypt to live there for a while because the famine was severe.[g] [11]As he was about to enter Egypt, he said to his wife Sarai,[h] "I know what a beautiful woman[i] you are. [12]When the Egyptians see you, they will say, 'This is his wife.' Then they will kill me but will let you live. [13]Say you are my sister,[j] so that I will be treated well for your sake and my life will be spared because of you."

[14]When Abram came to Egypt, the Egyptians saw that she was a very beautiful woman.[k] [15]And when Pharaoh's officials saw her, they praised her to Pharaoh, and she was taken into his palace. [16]He treated Abram well for her sake, and Abram acquired sheep and cattle, male and female donkeys, menservants and maidservants, and camels.[l]

[17]But the LORD inflicted[m] serious diseases on Pharaoh and his household[n] because of Abram's wife Sarai. [18]So Pharaoh summoned Abram. "What have you done to me?"[o] he said. "Why didn't you tell me she was your wife?[p] [19]Why did you say, 'She is my sister,'[q] so that I took her to be my wife? Now then, here is your wife. Take her and go!" [20]Then Pharaoh gave orders about Abram to his men, and they sent him on his way, with his wife and everything he had.

Abram and Lot Separate

13 So Abram went up from Egypt[r] to the Negev,[s] with his wife and everything he had, and Lot[t] went with him. [2]Abram had become very wealthy[u] in livestock[v] and in silver and gold.

[3]From the Negev[w] he went from place to place until he came to Bethel,[x] to the place between Bethel and Ai[y] where his tent had been earlier [4]and where he had first built an altar.[z] There Abram called on the name of the LORD.[a]

[5]Now Lot,[b] who was moving about with Abram, also had flocks and herds and tents. [6]But the land could not support them while they stayed together, for their possessions were so great that they were not able to stay together.[c] [7]And quarreling[d] arose between Abram's herdsmen and the herdsmen of Lot. The Canaanites[e] and Perizzites[f] were also living in the land[g] at that time.

[8]So Abram said to Lot,[h] "Let's not have any quarreling between you and me,[i] or between your herdsmen and mine, for we are brothers.[j] [9]Is not the whole land before you? Let's part company. If you go to the left, I'll go to the 12:8 Bethel. Just north of Jerusalem, it was an important town in the religious history of God's ancient people (see, e.g., 28:10–22; 35:1–8; 1Ki 12:26–29). Only Jerusalem is mentioned more often in the OT.

12:9 Negev. The dry wasteland stretching southward from Beersheba. The same Hebrew word is translated "south" in 13:14.

12:10 went down to Egypt ... because the famine was severe. Egypt's food supply was usually plentiful because the Nile's water supply was normally dependable.

12:11 beautiful. See v. 14. She was 65 at the time (see v. 4; 17:17). The Genesis Apocryphon (one of the Dead Sea Scrolls) praises Sarai's beauty. Abram's experience in this episode foreshadows Israel's later experience in Egypt, as the author of Genesis, writing after the exodus, was very much aware. Abram was truly the "father" of Israel.

12:13 Say you are my sister. If Pharaoh were to add Sarai to his harem while knowing that she was Abram's wife, he would have to kill Abram first.

12:15 Pharaoh. See note on Ex 1:11.

12:16 Livestock was an important measure of wealth in ancient times (see 13:2). menservants and maidservants. See note on v. 5. camels. Although camels were not widely used until much later (see, e.g., Jdg 6:5), archaeology has confirmed their occasional domestication as early as the patriarchal period.

12:19 Why did you say, 'She is my sister' ... ? Egyptian ethics emphasized the importance of absolute truthfulness, and Abram was put in the uncomfortable position of being exposed as a liar.

12:20 Pharaoh gave orders. See Ex 12:31–32.

13:2 had become very wealthy. Abram left Egypt with greater wealth than he had before—even as Israel would later leave Egypt laden with wealth from the Egyptians (Ex 3:22; 12:36).

13:4 Abram called on the name of the LORD. As he had done earlier at the same place (see 12:8).

13:6 the land could not support them. Livestock made up the greater part of their possessions, and the region around Bethel and Ai did not have enough water or pasture for such large flocks and herds (see v. 10; 26:17–22,32; 36:7).

13:7 Perizzites. May refer to rural inhabitants in contrast to city dwellers.

13:8 brothers. Relatives (as often in the Bible).

13:9 Abram, always generous, gave his young nephew the opportunity to choose the land he wanted. He himself would not obtain wealth except by the Lord's blessing (see 14:22–24).

[10]Lot looked up and saw that the whole plain[l] of the Jordan[m] was well watered, like the garden of the LORD,[n] like the land of Egypt,[o] toward Zoar.[p] (This was before the LORD destroyed Sodom[q] and Gomorrah.)[r] [11]So Lot chose for himself the whole plain of the Jordan and set out toward the east. The two men parted company: [12]Abram lived in the land of Canaan,[s] while Lot[t] lived among the cities of the plain[u] and pitched his tents near Sodom.[v] [13]Now the men of Sodom[w] were wicked and were sinning greatly against the LORD.[x]

[14]The LORD said to Abram after Lot had parted from him, "Lift up your eyes from where you are and look north and south, east and west.[y] [15]All the land that you see I will give to you and your offspring[j] forever.[z] [16]I will make your offspring like the dust of the earth, so that if anyone could count the dust, then your offspring could be counted.[a] [17]Go, walk through the length and breadth of the land,[b] for I am giving it to you."[c]

[18]So Abram moved his tents and went to live near the great trees of Mamre[d] at Hebron,[e] where he built an altar to the LORD.[f]

Abram Rescues Lot

14 At this time Amraphel king of Shinar,[kg] Arioch king of Ellasar, Kedorlaomer[h] king of Elam[i] and Tidal king of Goiim [2]went to war against Bera king of Sodom, Birsha king of Gomorrah, Shinab king of Admah, Shemeber king of Zeboiim,[j] and the king of Bela (that is, Zoar).[k] [3]All these latter kings joined forces in the Valley of Siddim[l] (the Salt Sea[lm]). [4]For twelve years they had been subject to Kedorlaomer,[n] but in the thirteenth year they rebelled.

[5]In the fourteenth year, Kedorlaomer[o] and the kings allied with him went out and defeated the Rephaites[p] in Ashteroth Karnaim, the Zuzites in Ham, the Emites[q] in Shaveh Kiriathaim [6]and the Horites[r] in the hill country of Seir,[s] as far as El Paran[t] near the desert. [7]Then they turned back and went to En Mishpat (that is, Kadesh),[u] and they conquered the whole territory of the Amalekites,[v] as well as the Amorites[w] who were living in Hazazon Tamar.[x]

[8]Then the king of Sodom, the king of Gomorrah,[y] the king of Admah, the king of Zeboiim[z] and the king of Bela (that is, Zoar)[a] marched out and drew up their battle lines in the Valley of Siddim[b] [9]against Kedorlaomer[c] king of Elam,[d] Tidal king of Goiim, Amraphel king of Shinar and Arioch king of Ellasar—four kings against five. [10]Now the Valley of Siddim[e] was full of tar[f] pits,

[j]15 Or seed; also in verse 16 [k]1 That is, Babylonia; also in verse 9 [l]3 That is, the Dead Sea

13:10 plain. The Hebrew for this word picturesquely describes this section of the Jordan Valley as oval in shape. like the land of Egypt. Because of its abundant and dependable water supply (see note on 12:10), Egypt came the closest to matching Eden's ideal conditions (see 2:10). the LORD destroyed Sodom and Gomorrah. See especially 18:16–19:29. The names of Sodom and Gomorrah became proverbial for vile wickedness and for divine judgment on sin. Archaeology has confirmed that, prior to this catastrophe, the now dry area east and southeast of the Dead Sea (see note on 10:19) had ample water and was well populated.

13:12 Lot ... pitched his tents near Sodom. Since the men of Sodom were known to be wicked (see v. 13), Lot was flirting with temptation by choosing to live near them. Contrast the actions of Abram (v. 18).

13:14 Lift up your eyes ... and look. See Dt 34:1–4. Lot and Abram are a study in contrasts. The former looked selfishly and coveted (v. 10); the latter looked as God commanded and was blessed.

13:16 like the dust of the earth. A simile (common in the ancient Near East) for the large number of Abram's offspring (see 28:14; 2Ch 1:9; see also Nu 23:10). Similar phrases are: "as numerous as the stars in the sky" and "as the sand on the seashore" (22:17).

13:17 walk through the length ... of the land. Either to inspect it or to exercise authority over it, demonstrating the promised ownership.

13:18 great trees. See note on 12:6. Mamre. A town named after one of Abram's allies (see 14:13). Hebron. Kiriath Arba (see note on 23:2). altar. See note on 12:7.

14:1 Amraphel king of Shinar. Not the great Babylonian king Hammurapi, as once thought. Elam. See note on 10:22. Goiim. The Hebrew word means "Gentile nations" and may be a common noun here (as in Isa 9:1).

14:3 Salt Sea. The Dead Sea, whose water contains a 25 percent concentration of chloride and bromide salts, making it the densest large body of water on earth.

14:6 Horites. Formerly thought to be cave dwellers (the Hebrew word hor means "cave"), they are now known to have been the Hurrians, a non-Semitic people widely dispersed throughout the ancient Near East.

14:7 En Mishpat. Another name for Kadesh, it means "spring of judgment/justice." It is called Meribah Kadesh, "quarreling/litigation at Kadesh," in Dt 32:51 (see Nu 27:14). Kadesh. Located in the southwest Negev (see note on 12:9), it was later called Kadesh Barnea (see Nu 32:8). Amalekites. A tribal people living in the Negev and in the Sinai peninsula. Amorites. See note on 10:16.

14:10 tar pits. Lumps of asphalt are often seen even today floating in the southern end of the Dead Sea. hills. The Dead Sea, the lowest body of water on earth (about 1,300 feet below sea level), is flanked by hills on both sides.

and when the kings of Sodom and Gomorrah[g] fled, some of the men fell into them and the rest fled to the hills.[h] [11]The four kings seized all the goods[i] of Sodom and Gomorrah and all their food; then they went away. [12]They also carried off Abram's nephew Lot[j] and his possessions, since he was living in Sodom.

[13]One who had escaped came and reported this to Abram the Hebrew.[k] Now Abram was living near the great trees of Mamre[l] the Amorite, a brother[m] of Eshcol[m] and Aner, all of whom were allied with Abram. [14]When Abram heard that his relative[n] had been taken captive, he called out the 318 trained[o] men born in his household[p] and went in pursuit as far as Dan.[q] [15]During the night Abram divided his men[r] to attack them and he routed them, pursuing them as far as Hobah, north of Damascus.[s] [16]He recovered[t] all the goods[u] and brought back his relative Lot and his possessions, together with the women and the other people.

[17]After Abram returned from defeating Kedorlaomer[v] and the kings allied with him, the king of Sodom[w] came out to meet him in the Valley of Shaveh (that is, the King's Valley).[x]

[18]Then Melchizedek[y] king of Salem[nz] brought out bread[a] and wine.[b] He was priest of God Most High,[c] [19]and he blessed Abram,[d] saying,

"Blessed be Abram by God Most High,[e]
Creator[o] of heaven and earth.[f]
[20]And blessed be[p] God Most High,[g] who delivered your enemies into your hand."

Then Abram gave him a tenth of everything.[h]

[21]The king of Sodom[i] said to Abram, "Give me the people and keep the goods[j] for yourself."

[22]But Abram said to the king of Sodom,[k] "I have raised my hand[l] to the LORD, God Most High,[m] Creator of heaven and earth,[n] and have taken an oath [23]that I will accept nothing belonging to you,[o] not even a thread or the thong of a sandal, so that you will never be able to say, 'I made Abram rich.' [24]I will accept nothing but what my men have eaten and the share that belongs to the men who went with me—to Aner, Eshcol and Mamre.[p] Let them have their share."

[m]13 Or a relative; or an ally [n]18 That is, Jerusalem [o]19 Or Possessor; also in verse 22 [p]20 Or And praise be to

14:12 Lot . . . was living in Sodom. He moved into the town and was living among its wicked people (see 2Pe 2:8). Though Lot was "righteous," he was now in danger of imitating the "filthy lives of lawless men" (2Pe 2:7).

14:13 Hebrew. Abram, the father of the Hebrew people, is the first Biblical character to be called a Hebrew (see "Eber" in note on 10:21). Usually an ethnic term in the Bible, it was normally used by non-Israelites in a disparaging sense (see, e.g., 39:17). Outside the Bible, people known as the Habiru/Apiru (a word probably related to Hebrew) are referred to as a propertyless, dependent, immigrant (foreign) social class rather than as a specific ethnic group. Negative descriptions of them are given in the Amarna letters (clay tablets found in Egypt). Mamre. A town was named after him (see 13:18 and note).

14:14 318 trained men born in his household. A clear indication of Abram's great wealth. The Hebrew for "trained men" is found only here in the Bible. A related word used elsewhere in very ancient texts means "armed retainers." Dan. This well-known city in the north was not given the name "Dan" until the days of the judges (see Jdg 18:29). The designation here is thus an editorial updating subsequent to Moses' time.

14:17 King's Valley. Near Jerusalem, probably to the east (see 2Sa 18:18).

14:18 Melchizedek king of Salem . . . priest. See Heb 7:1. In ancient times, particularly in non-Israelite circles, kingly and priestly duties were often performed by the same individual. "Melchizedek" means "My king is righteousness" or "king of righteousness" (see Heb 7:2). "Salem" is a shortened form of "Jerusalem" (see Ps 76:2) and is related to the Hebrew word for "peace" (see Heb 7:2). The name of Adoni-Zedek, another king of Jerusalem (see Jos 10:1), is very similar to that of Melchizedek and means "My lord is righteousness" or "lord of righteousness." bread and wine. An ordinary meal (see Jdg 19:19), in no way related to the NT ordinance of communion. Melchizedek offered the food and drink as a show of friendship and hospitality.

14:19 God Most High, Creator of heaven and earth. The titles "most high," "lord of heaven" and "creator of earth" were frequently applied to the chief Canaanite deity in ancient times. Terminology and location (Jerusalem was in central Canaan) thus indicate that Melchizedek was probably a Canaanite king-priest. But Abram, by identifying Melchizedek's "God Most High" with "the LORD" (see v. 22), bore testimony to the one true God, whom Melchizedek had come to know.

14:20 Abram gave him a tenth of everything. Although Melchizedek's view of God was no doubt deficient, Abram's response to his blessing seems to indicate that he recognized that Melchizedek served the same God as he (see v. 18). So Abram took the occasion to offer him a tithe of his spoils for God Most High. A tenth was the king's share (see 1Sa 8:15,17). Melchizedek is later spoken of as a type or prefiguration of Jesus, our "great high priest" (Heb 4:14), whose priesthood is therefore "in the order of Melchizedek, not in the order of Aaron" (Heb 7:11; see Ps 110:4).

14:22 I have raised my hand. A standard oath-taking practice in ancient times (see Dt 32:40; Rev 10:5–6).

14:23 I will accept nothing belonging to you. Cf. 2Ki 5:16. Abram refused to let himself become obligated to anyone but the Lord. Had he done so, this Canaanite king might later have claimed the right of kingship over Abram.

God's Covenant With Abram

15 After this, the word of the LORD came to Abram[q] in a vision:[r]

"Do not be afraid,[s] Abram.
I am your shield,[q][t]
your very great reward.[r][u]"

[2]But Abram said, "O Sovereign LORD,[v] what can you give me since I remain childless[w] and the one who will inherit[s] my estate is Eliezer of Damascus?[x]" [3]And Abram said, "You have given me no children; so a servant[y] in my household[z] will be my heir."

[4]Then the word of the LORD came to him: "This man will not be your heir, but a son coming from your own body will be your heir.[a]" [5]He took him outside and said, "Look up at the heavens and count the stars[b]—if indeed you can count them." Then he said to him, "So shall your offspring be."[c]

[6]Abram believed the LORD, and he credited it to him as righteousness.[d]

[7]He also said to him, "I am the LORD, who brought you out[e] of Ur of the Chaldeans[f] to give you this land to take possession of it."[g]

[8]But Abram said, "O Sovereign LORD,[h] how can I know[i] that I will gain possession of it?"[j]

[9]So the LORD said to him, "Bring me a heifer,[k] a goat and a ram, each three years old,[l] along with a dove and a young pigeon.[m]"

[10]Abram brought all these to him, cut them in two and arranged the halves opposite each other;[n] the birds, however, he did not cut in half.[o] [11]Then birds of prey came down on the carcasses,[p] but Abram drove them away.

[12]As the sun was setting, Abram fell into a deep sleep,[q] and a thick and dreadful darkness came over him. [13]Then the LORD said to him, "Know for certain that your descendants will be strangers in a country not their own, and they will be enslaved[r] and mistreated four hundred years.[s] [14]But I will punish the nation they serve as slaves, and afterward they will come out[t] with great possessions.[u] [15]You, however, will go to your fathers[v] in peace and be buried at a good old age.[w] [16]In the fourth generation[x] your descendants will come back here,[y] for the sin of the Amorites[z] has not yet reached its full measure."

[q] 1 Or sovereign [r] 1 Or shield; / your reward will be very great [s] 2 The meaning of the Hebrew for this phrase is uncertain.

15:1 I am your shield. Whether "shield" or "sovereign" is meant (see NIV text note), the reference is to the Lord as Abram's King. As elsewhere, "shield" stands for king (e.g., Dt 33:29; 2Sa 22:3; Ps 7:10; 84:9). your very great reward. Though Abram was quite rich (13:2), God himself was Abram's greatest treasure (cf. Dt 10:9).

15:2 Eliezer of Damascus. A servant probably acquired by Abram on his journey southward from Haran (see 12:5). He may also be the unnamed "chief servant" of 24:2.

15:3–4 Ancient documents uncovered at Nuzi (see chart on "Ancient Texts Relating to the OT," p. xxii) near Kirkuk on a branch of the Tigris River, as well as at other places, demonstrate that a childless man could adopt one of his own male servants to be heir and guardian of his estate. Abram apparently contemplated doing this with Eliezer, or perhaps had already done so.

15:5 count the stars—if indeed you can. See 22:17. More than 8,000 stars are clearly visible in the darkness of a Near Eastern night. So shall your offspring be. The promise was initially fulfilled in Egypt (see Ex 1; see also Dt 1:10; Heb 11:12). Ultimately, all who belong to Christ are Abram's offspring (see Gal 3:29).

15:6 Abram is the "father of all who believe" (Ro 4:11), and this verse is the first specific reference to faith in God's promises. It also teaches that God graciously responds to a man's faith by crediting righteousness to him (see Heb 11:7).

15:7 I am the LORD, who brought you out. Ancient royal covenants often began with (1) the self-identification of the king and (2) a brief historical prologue, as here (see Ex 20:2).

15:8 how can I know . . . ? Cf. Lk 1:18. Abram believed God's promise of a son, but he asked for a guarantee of the promise of the land.

15:9 three years old. The prime age for most sacrificial animals (see 1Sa 1:24).

15:10 the birds . . . he did not cut in half. Perhaps because they were too small (see Lev 1:17).

15:13 a country not their own. Egypt (see 46:3–4). four hundred years. A round number. According to Ex 12:40 Israel spent 430 years in Egypt.

15:15 The fulfillment is recorded in 25:8.

15:16 In the fourth generation. That is, after 400 years (see v. 13). A "generation" was the age of a man when his first son (from the legal standpoint) was born—in Abram's case, 100 years (see 21:5). the sin of the Amorites has not yet reached its full measure. Just how sinful many Canaanite religious practices were is now known from archaeological artifacts and from their own epic literature, discovered at Ras Shamra (ancient Ugarit) on the north Syrian coast beginning in 1929 (see chart on "Ancient Texts Relating to the OT," p. xxii). Their "worship" was polytheistic and included child sacrifice, idolatry, religious prostitution and divination (cf. Dt 18:9–12). God was patient in judgment, even with the wicked Canaanites.

15:17 a smoking firepot with a blazing torch. Symbolizing the presence of God (see Ex 3:2; 14:24; 19:18; 1Ki 18:38; Ac 2:3–4). passed between the pieces. Of the slaughtered animals (v. 10). In ancient times the parties solemnized a covenant by walking down an aisle flanked by the pieces of slaughtered animals (see Jer 34:18–19). The practice

ing torch[a] appeared and passed between the pieces.[b] [18]On that day the LORD made a covenant with Abram[c] and said, "To your descendants I give this land,[d] from the river[t] of Egypt[e] to the great river, the Euphrates[f]— [19]the land of the Kenites,[g] Kenizzites, Kadmonites, [20]Hittites,[h] Perizzites,[i] Rephaites,[j] [21]Amorites, Canaanites, Girgashites and Jebusites."[k]

Hagar and Ishmael

16 Now Sarai,[l] Abram's wife, had borne him no children.[m] But she had an Egyptian maidservant[n] named Hagar;[o] [2]so she said to Abram, "The LORD has kept me from having children.[p] Go, sleep with my maidservant; perhaps I can build a family through her."[q]

Abram agreed to what Sarai said. [3]So after Abram had been living in Canaan[r] ten years,[s] Sarai his wife took her Egyptian maidservant Hagar and gave her to her husband to be his wife. [4]He slept with Hagar,[t] and she conceived.

When she knew she was pregnant, she began to despise her mistress.[u] [5]Then Sarai said to Abram, "You are responsible for the wrong I am suffering. I put my servant in your arms, and now that she knows she is pregnant, she despises me. May the LORD judge between you and me."[v]

[6]"Your servant is in your hands,[w]" Abram said. "Do with her whatever you think best." Then Sarai mistreated[x] Hagar; so she fled from her.

[7]The angel of the LORD[y] found Hagar near a spring[z] in the desert; it was the spring that is beside the road to Shur.[a] [8]And he said, "Hagar,[b] servant of Sarai, where have you come from, and where are you going?"[c]

"I'm running away from my mistress Sarai," she answered.

[9]Then the angel of the LORD told her, "Go back to your mistress and submit to her." [10]The angel added, "I will so increase your descendants that they will be too numerous to count."[d]

[11]The angel of the LORD[e] also said to her:

"You are now with child and you will have a son.[f]
You shall name him[g] Ishmael,[u h] for the LORD has heard of your misery.[i] [12]He will be a wild donkey[j] of a man; his hand will be against everyone and everyone's hand against him, signified a self-maledictory oath: "May it be so done to me if I do not keep my oath and pledge." Having credited Abram's faith as righteousness, God now graciously ministered to his need for assurance concerning the land. He granted Abram a promissory covenant, as he had to Noah (see 9:9 and note; see also chart on "Major Covenants in the OT," p. 19).

15:18 made a covenant. Lit. "cut a covenant," referring to the slaughtering of the animals (the same Hebrew verb is translated "made" and "cut" in Jer 34:18). I give this land. The Lord initially fulfilled this covenant through Joshua (see Jos 1:2–9; 21:43; see also 1Ki 4:20–21). river of Egypt. Probably the modern Wadi el-Arish in northeastern Sinai.

15:19–21 A similar list of ten peoples is found in 10:15–18 (see notes there). The number ten signifies completeness.

16:1 no children. See note on 11:30. Egyptian. Perhaps Hagar was acquired while Abram and Sarai were in Egypt (see 12:10–20).

16:2 The LORD has kept me from having children. Some time had passed since the revelation of 15:4 (see 16:3), and Sarai impatiently implied that God was not keeping his promise. Go, sleep with my maidservant. An ancient custom, illustrated in Old Assyrian marriage contracts, the Code of Hammurapi and the Nuzi tablets (see note on 15:3–4), to ensure the birth of a male heir. Sarai would herself solve the problem of her barrenness.

16:3 ten years. Abram was now 85 years old (see 12:4; 16:16).

16:5 May the LORD judge between you and me. An expression of hostility or suspicion (see 31:53; see also 31:49).

16:7 The angel of the LORD. Since the angel of the Lord speaks for God in the first person (v. 10) and Hagar is said to name "the LORD who spoke to her: 'You are the God who sees me' " (v. 13), the angel appears to be both distinguished from the Lord (in that he is called "messenger"—the Hebrew for "angel" means "messenger") and identified with him. Similar distinction and identification can be found in 19:1,21; 31:11,13; Ex 3:2,4; Jdg 2:1–5; 6:11–12,14; 13:3,6,8–11,13,15–17,20–23; Zec 3:1–6; 12:8. Traditional Christian interpretation has held that this "angel" was a preincarnate manifestation of Christ as God's Messenger-Servant. It may be, however, that, as the Lord's personal messenger who represented him and bore his credentials, the angel could speak on behalf of (and so be identified with) the One who sent him (see especially 19:21; cf. 18:2,22; 19:2). Whether this "angel" was the second person of the Trinity remains therefore uncertain. Shur. Located east of Egypt (see 25:18; 1Sa 15:7).

16:8 I'm running away from my mistress. Not yet knowing exactly where she was going, Hagar answered only the first of the angel's questions.

16:10 A promise reaffirmed in 17:20 and fulfilled in 25:13–16.

16:11 Ishmael. See NIV text note and 17:20.

16:12 wild donkey. Away from human settlements, Ishmael would roam the desert like a wild donkey (see Job 24:5; Hos 8:9). hostility. The hostility between Sarai and Hagar (see vv. 4–6) was passed on to their descendants (see 25:18).

[15]So Hagar[q] bore Abram a son,[r] and Abram gave the name Ishmael[s] to the son she had borne. [16]Abram was eighty-six years old[t] when Hagar bore him Ishmael.

The Covenant of Circumcision

17 When Abram was ninety-nine years old,[u] the LORD appeared to him[v] and said, "I am God Almighty[y];[w] walk before me and be blameless.[x] [2]I will confirm my covenant between me and you[y] and will greatly increase your numbers."[z]

[3]Abram fell facedown,[a] and God said to him, [4]"As for me, this is my covenant with you:[b] You will be the father of many nations.[c] [5]No longer will you be called Abram[z]; your name will be Abraham,[ad] for I have made you a father of many nations.[e] [6]I will make you very fruitful;[f] I will make nations of you, and kings will come from you.[g] [7]I will establish my covenant[h i] as an everlasting covenant[j k] between me and you and your descendants after you for the generations to come, to be your God[l] and the God of your descendants after you.[m] [8]The whole land of Canaan,[n] where you are now an alien,[o] I will give as an everlasting possession to you and your descendants after you;[p] and I will be their God.[q]"

[9]Then God said to Abraham, "As for [v] 12 Or live to the east / of [w] 13 Or seen the back of [x] 14 Beer Lahai Roi means well of the Living One who sees me. [y] 1 Hebrew El-Shaddai [z] 5 Abram means exalted father. [a] 5 Abraham means father of many.

16:13 I have now seen the One who sees me. See NIV text note and cf. Ex 33:23. To see God's face was believed to bring death (see 32:30; Ex 33:20).

16:14 Beer Lahai Roi. See NIV text note. Another possible translation that fits the context equally well is: "well of the one who sees me and who lives." Kadesh. See note on 14:7.

17:1 ninety-nine years old. Thirteen years had passed since Ishmael's birth (see 16:16; 17:24–25). appeared. See note on 12:7. I am. See note on 15:7. God Almighty. The Hebrew (El-Shaddai) perhaps means "God, the Mountain One," either highlighting the invincible power of God or referring to the mountains as God's symbolic home (see Ps 121:1). It was the special name by which God revealed himself to the patriarchs (see Ex 6:3). Shaddai occurs 31 times in the book of Job and 17 times in the rest of the Bible. walk before me and be blameless. Perhaps equivalent to "walk with me and be blameless" (see notes on 5:22; 6:8–9). After Abram's and Sarai's attempt to obtain the promised offspring by using a surrogate mother, God appeared to Abram. The Lord made it clear that, if Abram was to receive God's promised and covenanted benefits, he must be God's faithful and obedient servant. His faith must be accompanied by the "obedience that comes from faith" (Ro 1:5; see ch. 22).

17:2 my covenant. See 12:2–3; 13:14–16; 15:4–5. The covenant is God's. God calls it "my covenant" nine times in vv. 2–21, and he initiates (see 15:18), confirms (v. 2) and establishes (v. 7) it. numbers. See 13:16 and note. Earlier God had covenanted to keep his promise concerning the land (ch. 15); here he broadens his covenant to include the promised offspring. See chart on "Major Covenants in the OT," p. 19.

17:5 Abram ... Abraham. See NIV text notes. The first name means "Exalted Father," probably in reference to God (i.e., "[God is] Exalted Father"); the second means "father of many," in reference to Abraham. your name will be. By giving Abram a new name (see Ne 9:7) God marked him in a special way as his servant (see notes on 1:5; 2:19).

17:6 nations ... kings. This promise came also to Sarah (v. 16) and was renewed to Jacob (35:11; see 48:19). It referred to the proliferation of Abraham's offspring, who, like the descendants of Noah (see ch. 10), would someday become many nations and spread over the earth. Ultimately it finds fulfillment in such passages as Ro 4:16–18; 15:8–12; Gal 3:29; Rev 7:9; 21:24.

17:7 everlasting. From God's standpoint (see vv. 13,19), but capable of being broken from man's standpoint (see v. 14; cf. Isa 24:5; Jer 31:32). to be your God. The heart of God's covenant promise, repeated over and over in the OT (see, e.g., v. 8; Jer 24:7; 31:33; Eze 34:30–31; Hos 2:23; Zec 8:8). This is God's pledge to be the protector of his people and the One who provides for their well-being and guarantees their future blessing (see 15:1).

17:8 land. See 12:7; 15:18; Ac 7:5. everlasting possession. The land, though an everlasting possession given by God, could be temporarily lost because of disobedience (see Dt 28:62–63; 30:1–10).

17:9 As for you. Balances the "As for me" of v. 4. Having reviewed his covenanted commitment to Abraham (see 15:8–21), and having broadened it to include the promise of offspring, God now called upon Abraham to make a covenanted commitment to him—to "walk before me and be blameless" (v. 1). keep my covenant. Participation in the blessings of the Abrahamic covenant was conditioned on obedience (see 18:19; 22:18; 26:4–5).

ABRAHAM

NAME MEANS: "Father of many" (Ge 17:5)
BIRTHPLACE: Ur of the Chaldeans, moved to Canaan OCCUPATION: Wealthy livestock owner
BEST KNOWN FOR:
- hearing the call of God; following in faith
- becoming the father of the Jewish people
- hearing and accepting God's covenant (Ge 17:7)

you, you must keep my covenant,[r] you and your descendants after you for the generations to come.[s] 10This is my covenant with you and your descendants after you, the covenant you are to keep: Every male among you shall be circumcised.[t] 11You are to undergo circumcision,[u] and it will be the sign of the covenant[v] between me and you. 12For the generations to come[w] every male among you who is eight days old must be circumcised,[x] including those born in your household or bought with money from a foreigner—those who are not your offspring. 13Whether born in your household or bought with your money, they must be circumcised.[y] My covenant in your flesh is to be an everlasting covenant.[z] 14Any uncircumcised male, who has not been circumcised[a] in the flesh, will be cut off from his people;[b] he has broken my covenant."[c]

15God also said to Abraham, "As for Sarai[d] your wife, you are no longer to call her Sarai; her name will be Sarah.[e] 16I will bless her and will surely give you a son by her.[f] I will bless her so that she will be the mother of nations;[g] kings of peoples will come from her."

17Abraham fell facedown;[h] he laughed[i] and said to himself, "Will a son be born to a man a hundred years old?[j] Will Sarah bear a child at the age of ninety?"[k] 18And Abraham said to God, "If only Ishmael[l] might live under your blessing!"[m]

19Then God said, "Yes, but your wife Sarah will bear you a son,[n] and you will call him Isaac.[bo] I will establish my covenant with him[p] as an everlasting covenant[q] for his descendants after him. 20And as for Ishmael, I have heard you: I will surely bless him; I will make him fruitful and will greatly increase his numbers.[r] He will be the father of twelve rulers,[s] and I will make him into a great nation.[t] 21But my covenant[u] I will establish with Isaac, whom Sarah will bear to you[v] by this time next year."[w] 22When he had finished speaking with Abraham, God went up from him.[x]

23On that very day Abraham took his son Ishmael and all those born in his household[y] or bought with his money, every male in his household, and circumcised them, as God told him.[z] 24Abraham was ninety-nine years old[a] when he was circumcised,[b] 25and his son Ishmael[c] was thirteen; 26Abraham and his son Ishmael were both circumcised on that same day. 27And every male in Abraham's household[d], including those born in his household or bought from a foreigner, was circumcised with him.

17:10 circumcised. Circumcision was God's appointed "sign of the covenant" (v. 11), which signified Abraham's covenanted commitment to the Lord—that the Lord alone would be his God, whom he would trust and serve. It symbolized a self-maledictory oath (analogous to the oath to which God had submitted himself; see note on 15:17): "If I am not loyal in faith and obedience to the Lord, may the sword of the Lord cut off me and my offspring (see v. 14) as I have cut off my foreskin." Thus Abraham was to place himself under the rule of the Lord as his King, consecrating himself, his offspring and all he possessed to the service of the Lord. For circumcision as signifying consecration to the Lord see Ex 6:12 (NIV text note); Lev 19:23 (NIV text note); 26:41; Dt 10:16; 30:6; Jer 4:4; 6:10 (NIV text note); 9:25–26; Eze 44:7,9. Other nations also practiced circumcision (see Jer 9:25–26; Eze 32:18–19), but not for the covenant reasons that Israel did.

17:11 sign of the covenant. See notes on 9:12; 15:17. As the covenant sign, circumcision also (see note on v. 10) marked Abraham as the one to whom God had made covenant commitment (15:7–21) in response to Abraham's faith, which he "credited ... to him as righteousness" (15:6). Paul comments on this aspect of the covenant sign in Ro 4:11.

17:12 eight days old. See 21:4 and Ac 7:8 (Isaac); Lk 1:59 (John the Baptist); 2:21 (Jesus); Php 3:5 (Paul). Abraham was 99 years old when the newly initiated rite of circumcision was performed on him (see v. 24). The Arabs, who consider themselves descendants of Ishmael, are circumcised at the age of 13 (see v. 25). For them, as for other peoples, it serves as a rite of transition from childhood to manhood, thus into full participation in the community.

17:14 cut off from his people. Removed from the covenant people by divine judgment (see note on v. 10).

17:15 Sarai ... Sarah. Both names evidently mean "princess." The renaming stressed that she was to be the mother of nations and kings (see v. 16) and thus to serve the Lord's purpose (see note on v. 5).

17:16 son. Fulfilled in Isaac (see 21:2–3).

17:17 laughed. In temporary disbelief (see 18:12; cf. Ro 4:19–21). The verb is a pun on the name "Isaac," which means "he laughs" (see NIV text notes on v. 19 and 21:3; see also 18:12–15; 21:6).

17:20 numbers. See note on 13:16. father of twelve rulers. Fulfilled in 25:16.

17:21 Paul cites the choice of Isaac (and not Ishmael) as one proof of God's sovereign right to choose to save by grace alone (see Ro 9:6–13). by this time next year. See 21:2.

17:22 God went up from him. A solemn conclusion to the conversation.

17:23 On that very day. Abraham was characterized by prompt obedience (see note on 12:4).

18:1 appeared. See note on 12:7. great trees. See note on 12:6. Mamre. See note on 13:18. the heat of the day. Early afternoon.

his tent[g] in the heat of the day. [2]Abraham looked up[h] and saw three men[i] standing nearby. When he saw them, he hurried from the entrance of his tent to meet them and bowed low to the ground.[j]

[3]He said, "If I have found favor in your eyes,[k] my lord,[c] do not pass your servant[l] by. [4]Let a little water be brought, and then you may all wash your feet[m] and rest under this tree. [5]Let me get you something to eat,[n] so you can be refreshed and then go on your way—now that you have come to your servant."

"Very well," they answered, "do as you say."

[6]So Abraham hurried into the tent to Sarah. "Quick," he said, "get three seahs[d] of fine flour and knead it and bake some bread."[o]

[7]Then he ran to the herd and selected a choice, tender calf[p] and gave it to a servant, who hurried to prepare it. [8]He then brought some curds[q] and milk[r] and the calf that had been prepared, and set these before them.[s] While they ate, he stood near them under a tree.

[9]"Where is your wife Sarah?"[t] they asked him.

"There, in the tent,[u]" he said.

[10]Then the LORD[e] said, "I will surely return to you about this time next year,[v] and Sarah your wife will have a son."[w]

Now Sarah was listening at the entrance to the tent, which was behind him. [11]Abraham and Sarah were already old and well advanced in years,[x] and Sarah was past the age of childbearing.[y] [12]So Sarah laughed[z] to herself as she thought, "After I am worn out and my master[f][a] is old, will I now have this pleasure?"

[13]Then the LORD said to Abraham, "Why did Sarah laugh and say, 'Will I really have a child, now that I am old?'[b] [14]Is anything too hard for the LORD?[c] I will return to you at the appointed time next year[d] and Sarah will have a son."[e]

[15]Sarah was afraid, so she lied and said, "I did not laugh."

But he said, "Yes, you did laugh."

Abraham Pleads for Sodom

[16]When the men[f] got up to leave, they looked down toward Sodom, and Abraham walked along with them to see them on their way. [17]Then the LORD said, "Shall I hide from Abraham[g] what I am about to do? [18]Abraham will surely become a great and powerful nation,[i] and all nations on earth will be blessed through him. [19]For I have chosen him[j], so that he will direct his children[k] and his household after him to keep the way of the LORD[l] by doing what is right and

18:2 three men. At least two of the "men" were angels (see 19:1; see also note on 16:7). The third may have been the Lord himself (see vv. 1,13,17,20,26,33; see especially v. 22). hurried. The story in vv. 2–8 illustrates Near Eastern hospitality in several ways: 1. Abraham gave prompt attention to the needs of his guests (vv. 2,6–7). 2. He bowed low to the ground (v. 2). 3. He politely addressed one of his guests as "my lord" and called himself "your servant" (vv. 3,5), a common way of speaking when addressing a superior (see, e.g., 19:2,18–19). 4. He acted as if it would be a favor to him if they allowed him to serve them (vv. 3–5). 5. He asked that water be brought to wash their feet (see v. 4), an act of courtesy to refresh a traveler in a hot, dusty climate (see 19:2; 24:32; 43:24). 6. He prepared a lavish meal for them (vv. 5–8; a similar lavish offering was presented to a divine messenger in Jdg 6:18–19; 13:15–16). 7. He stood nearby (v. 8), assuming the posture of a servant (see v. 22), to meet their every wish. Heb 13:2 is probably a reference to vv. 2–8 and 19:1–3.

18:6 bread. A plural word referring to round, thin loaves.

18:10 See 17:21. Paul quotes this promise of Isaac's birth (see v. 14) in Ro 9:9 and relates it to Abraham's spiritual offspring (see Ro 9:7–8).

18:12 laughed. In disbelief, as also Abraham had at first (see note on 17:17).

18:14 Is anything too hard for the LORD? The answer is no, for Sarah as well as for her descendants Mary and Elizabeth (see Lk 1:34–37). Nothing within God's will, including creation (see Jer 32:17) and redemption (see Mt 19:25–26), is impossible for him.

18:16 Sodom. See notes on 10:19; 13:10.

18:17 Abraham was God's friend (see v. 19; 2Ch 20:7; Jas 2:23; see also Isa 41:8, but see note there). And because he was now God's covenant friend (see Job 29:4), God convened his heavenly council (see note on 1:26) at Abraham's tent. There he announced his purpose for Abraham (v. 10) and for the wicked of the plain (vv. 20–21)—redemption and judgment. He thus even gave Abraham opportunity to speak in his court and to intercede for the righteous in Sodom and Gomorrah. Abraham was later called a prophet (20:7). Here, in Abraham, is exemplified the great privilege of God's covenant people throughout the ages: God has revealed his purposes to them and allows their voice to be heard (in intercession) in the court of heaven.

18:18 a great and powerful nation ... blessed through him. See note on 12:2–3.

18:19 chosen. Lit. "known" (as in Am 3:2).

- miraculously bearing a child at the age of 90
- her status as the mother of the nation from which Jesus came just,[m] so that the LORD will bring about for Abraham what he has promised him."[n]

[20]Then the LORD said, "The outcry against Sodom[o] and Gomorrah is so great[p] and their sin so grievous[q] [21]that I will go down[r] and see if what they have done is as bad as the outcry that has reached me. If not, I will know."

[22]The men[s] turned away and went toward Sodom,[t] but Abraham remained standing before the LORD.[g][u] [23]Then Abraham approached him and said: "Will you sweep away the righteous with the wicked?[v] [24]What if there are fifty righteous people in the city? Will you really sweep it away and not spare[h] the place for the sake of the fifty righteous people in it?[w] [25]Far be it from you to do such a thing[x]—to kill the righteous with the wicked, treating the righteous[y] and the wicked alike.[z] Far be it from you! Will not the Judge[i][a] of all the earth do right?"[b]

[26]The LORD said, "If I find fifty righteous people in the city of Sodom, I will spare the whole place for their sake.[c]"

[27]Then Abraham spoke up again: "Now that I have been so bold as to speak to the Lord, though I am nothing but dust and ashes,[d] [28]what if the number of the righteous is five less than fifty? Will you destroy the whole city because of five people?"

"If I find forty-five there," he said, "I will not destroy it."

[29]Once again he spoke to him, "What if only forty are found there?"

He said, "For the sake of forty, I will not do it."

[30]Then he said, "May the Lord not be angry,[e] but let me speak. What if only thirty can be found there?"

He answered, "I will not do it if I find thirty there."

[31]Abraham said, "Now that I have been so bold as to speak to the Lord, what if only twenty can be found there?"

He said, "For the sake of twenty, I will not destroy it."

[32]Then he said, "May the Lord not be angry, but let me speak just once more.[f] What if only ten can be found there?"

He answered, "For the sake of ten,[g] I will not destroy it."

[33]When the LORD had finished speaking[h] with Abraham, he left,[i] and Abraham returned home.[j]

Sodom and Gomorrah Destroyed

19 The two angels[k] arrived at Sodom[l] in the evening, and Lot[m] was sitting in the gateway of the city.[n] When he saw them, he got up to meet them and bowed down with his face to the ground.[o] [2]"My lords," he said, "please turn aside to your servant's house. You can wash your feet[p] and spend the night and then go on your way early in the morning."

"No," they answered, "we will spend the night in the square."[q]

[3]But he insisted[r] so strongly that they did go with him and entered his house.[s] He prepared a meal for them, baking bread without yeast,[t] and they ate.[u]

[g]22 Masoretic Text; an ancient Hebrew scribal tradition but the LORD remained standing before Abraham
[h]24 Or forgive; also in verse 26 [i]25 Or Ruler

18:20 outcry. A cry of righteous indignation (cf. the blood of Abel, 4:10) that became one of the reasons for the destruction of the cities (see 19:13). Gomorrah. See notes on 10:19; 13:10. sin so grievous. The sin of Sodom (and probably of Gomorrah as well) was already proverbial (see 13:13) and remained so for centuries (see Eze 16:49–50).

18:21 I will go down. The result would be judgment (as in 11:5–9), but God also comes down to redeem (as in Ex 3:8). see. Not a denial of God's infinite knowledge but a figurative way of stating that he does not act out of ignorance or on the basis of mere complaints.

18:22 Abraham remained standing before the LORD. The text and NIV text note both illustrate the mutual accessibility that existed between God and his servant.

18:23 The second time Abraham intervened for his relatives and for Sodom (see 14:14–16).

18:25 Judge of all the earth. Abraham based his plea on the justice and authority (see NIV text note) of God, confident that God would do what was right (see Dt 32:4).

18:27 Lord. Abraham used the title "Lord," not the intimate name "LORD," throughout his prayer. He was appealing to God as "Judge of all the earth." dust and ashes. In contrast to God's exalted position, Abraham described himself as insignificant (see Job 30:19; 42:6).

18:32 just once more. Abraham's questioning in vv. 23–32 did not arise from a spirit of haggling but of compassion for his relatives and of wanting to know God's ways. ten. Perhaps Abraham stopped at ten because he had been counting while praying: Lot, his wife, possibly two sons (see 19:12), at least two married daughters and their husbands (see 19:14 and NIV text note), and two unmarried daughters (see 19:8).

18:33 home. To Mamre (see v. 1). The next morning Abraham went back to see what God had done (see 19:27).

19:1–3 See note on 18:2.

19:1 The two angels. See notes on 16:7; 18:2. Lot was sitting in the gateway of the city. Lot had probably become a member of Sodom's ruling council, since a city gateway served as the administrative and judicial center where legal matters were discussed and prosecuted (see Ru 4:1–12).

19:2 square. A large open space near the main city gateway (see 2Ch 32:6) where public gatherings were held. Important cities like Jerusalem could have two or more squares (see Ne 8:16).

19:3 bread without yeast. So that it could be baked quickly (see 18:6; Ex 12:39).

4Before they had gone to bed, all the men from every part of the city of Sodom[v]— both young and old—surrounded the house. 5They called to Lot, "Where are the men who came to you tonight? Bring them out to us so that we can have sex with them."[w]

6Lot went outside to meet them[x] and shut the door behind him 7and said, "No, my friends. Don't do this wicked thing.
8Look, I have two daughters who have never slept with a man. Let me bring them out to you, and you can do what you like with them. But don't do anything to these men, for they have come under the protection of my roof."[y]

9"Get out of our way," they replied.
And they said, "This fellow came here as an alien,[z] and now he wants to play the judge![a] We'll treat you worse than them." They kept bringing pressure on Lot and moved forward to break down the door.

10But the men[b] inside reached out and pulled Lot back into the house and shut the door. 11Then they struck the men who were at the door of the house, young and old, with blindness[c] so that they could not find the door.

12The two men said to Lot, "Do you have anyone else here—sons-in-law, sons or daughters, or anyone else in the city who belongs to you?[d] Get them out of here, 13because we[e] are going to destroy this place. The outcry to the LORD against its people is so great[f] that he has sent us to destroy it."[g]

14So Lot went out and spoke to his sons-in-law, who were pledged to marry[j] his daughters. He said, "Hurry and get out of this place, because the LORD is about to destroy the city![h]" But his sons-in-law thought he was joking.[i]

15With the coming of dawn, the angels urged Lot, saying, "Hurry! Take your wife and your two daughters who are here, or you will be swept away[j] when the city is punished.[k]"

16When he hesitated, the men grasped his hand and the hands of his wife and of his two daughters[l] and led them safely out of the city, for the LORD was merciful to them.[m] 17As soon as they had brought them out, one of them said, "Flee for your lives![n] Don't look back,[o] and don't stop anywhere in the plain![p] Flee to the mountains[q] or you will be swept away!"

18But Lot said to them, "No, my lords,[k] please! 19Your[l] servant has found favor in your[l] eyes,[r] and you[l] have shown great kindness[s] to me in sparing my life. But I can't flee to the mountains;[t] this disaster will overtake me, and I'll die. 20Look, here is a town near enough to run to, and it is small. Let me flee to it—it is very small, isn't it?
Then my life will be spared."

21He said to him, "Very well, I will grant this request[u] too; I will not overthrow the town you speak of. 22But flee there quickly, because I cannot do anything until you reach it." (That is why the town was called Zoar.[m][v])

23By the time Lot reached Zoar,[w] the sun had risen over the land. 24Then the LORD rained down burning sulfur[x] on Sodom and Gomorrah[y]—from the LORD out of the heavens.[z] 25Thus he overthrew those cities[a] and the entire plain,[b] including all those living in the cities—and also the vegetation in the land.[c] 26But Lot's wife looked back,[d] and she became a pillar of salt.[e]

27Early the next morning Abraham got up and returned to the place where he had stood before the LORD.[f] 28He looked down toward Sodom and Gomorrah, toward all the land of the plain, and he saw dense smoke rising from the land, like smoke from a furnace.[g]

29So when God destroyed the cities of 19:4–9 See Jdg 19:22–25.

19:5 have sex with them. Homosexuality was so characteristic of the men of Sodom (see Jude 7) that it is still often called sodomy.

19:8 under the protection of my roof. Ancient hospitality obliged a host to protect his guests in every situation.

19:9 This fellow came here as an alien, and now he wants to play the judge. Centuries later, Moses was also considered an outsider and accused of setting himself up as a judge (see Ex 2:14; Ac 7:27).

19:13 we are going to destroy this place. Sodom's wickedness had made it ripe for destruction (see Isa 3:9; Jer 23:14; La 4:6; Zep 2:8–9; 2Pe 2:6; Jude 7).

19:14 his sons-in-law thought he was joking. Lot apparently had lost his power of moral persuasion even among his family members.

19:16 hesitated. Perhaps because of reluctance to leave his material possessions. his hand and the hands of his wife and of his two daughters. The ten righteous people required to save Sodom (see 18:32) had now been reduced to four. the LORD was merciful to them. Deliverance is due to divine mercy, not to human righteousness (cf. Tit 3:5).

19:24 rained down burning sulfur. Perhaps from a violent earthquake spewing up asphalt, such as is still found in this region.

19:26 Lot's wife looked back, and she became a pillar of salt. Her disobedient hesitation (see v. 17) became proverbial in later generations (see Lk 17:32). Even today, grotesque salt formations near the southern end of the Dead Sea are reminders of her folly.

Lot and His Daughters

30 Lot and his two daughters left Zoar[l] and settled in the mountains,[m] for he was afraid to stay in Zoar. He and his two daughters lived in a cave. 31 One day the older daughter said to the younger, "Our father is old, and there is no man around here to lie with us, as is the custom all over the earth. 32 Let's get our father to drink wine and then lie with him and preserve our family line[n] through our father."[o]

33 That night they got their father to drink wine, and the older daughter went in and lay with him. He was not aware of it when she lay down or when she got up.[p]

34 The next day the older daughter said to the younger, "Last night I lay with my father. Let's get him to drink wine again tonight, and you go in and lie with him so we can preserve our family line through our father."[q] 35 So they got their father to drink wine[r] that night also, and the younger daughter went and lay with him. Again he was not aware of it when she lay down or when she got up.[s]

36 So both of Lot's daughters became pregnant by their father.[t] 37 The older daughter had a son, and she named him Moab[n];[u] he is the father of the Moabites[v] of today. 38 The younger daughter also had a son, and she named him Ben-Ammi[o]; he is the father of the Ammonites[w] of today.

Abraham and Abimelech

20:1–18Ref — Ge 12:10–20; 26:1–11

20 Now Abraham moved on from there[x] into the region of the Negev[y] and lived between Kadesh[z] and Shur.[a] For a while[b] he stayed in Gerar,[c] 2 and there Abraham said of his wife Sarah, "She is my sister.[d]" Then Abimelech[e] king of Gerar sent for Sarah and took her.[f]

3 But God came to Abimelech[g] in a dream[h] one night and said to him, "You are as good as dead[i] because of the woman you have taken; she is a married woman."[j]

4 Now Abimelech had not gone near her, so he said, "Lord, will you destroy an innocent nation?[k] 5 Did he not say to me, 'She is my sister,[l]' and didn't she also say, 'He is my brother'? I have done this with a clear conscience[m] and clean hands.[n]"

6 Then God said to him in the dream, "Yes, I know you did this with a clear conscience, and so I have kept[o] you from sinning against me.[p] That is why I did not let you touch her. 7 Now return the man's wife, for he is a prophet,[q] and he will pray for you[r] and you will live. But if you do not return her, you may be sure that you and all yours will die."[s]

8 Early the next morning Abimelech summoned all his officials, and when he told them all that had happened, they were very much afraid. 9 Then Abimelech called Abraham in and said, "What have you done to us? How have I wronged you that you have brought such great guilt upon me and my kingdom? You have done things to me that should not be done.[t]" 10 And Abimelech asked Abraham, "What was your reason for doing this?"

11 Abraham replied, "I said to myself, 'There is surely no fear of God[u] in this place, and they will kill me because of my wife.'[v] 12 Besides, she really is my sister,[w] the daughter of my father brought Lot out of the catastrophe. Lot's deliverance was the main concern of Abraham's prayer (18:23–32), which God now answered.

19:33 they got their father to drink wine, and the older daughter went in and lay with him. Though Lot's role was somewhat passive, he bore the basic responsibility for the drunkenness and incest that eventually resulted in his two daughters' becoming pregnant by him (see v. 36).

19:36–38 The sons born to Lot's daughters were the ancestors of the Moabites and Ammonites (see Dt 2:9,19), two nations that were to become bitter enemies of Abraham's descendants (see, e.g., 1Sa 14:47; 2Ch 20:1).

20:1 between Kadesh and Shur. See notes on 14:7; 16:7. Gerar. Located at the edge of Philistine territory, about halfway between Gaza on the Mediterranean coast and Beersheba in the northern Negev.

20:2 Abimelech. Probably the father or grandfather of the later king who bore the same name (see 26:1).

20:3 dream. Once again God intervened to spare the mother of the promised offspring. Dreams were a frequent mode of revelation in the OT (see 28:12; 31:10–11; 37:5–9; 40:5; 41:1; Nu 12:6; Jdg 7:13; 1Ki 3:5; Da 2:3; 4:5; 7:1).

20:7 prophet. See note on 18:17. Abraham was the first man to bear this title (see Ps 105:15).

20:11 fear of God. A conventional phrase equivalent to "true religion." "Fear" in this phrase has the sense of reverential trust in God that includes commitment to his revealed will (word).

20:12 she really is my sister, the daughter of my father though not of my mother. Abraham's half-truth was a sinful deception, not a legitimate explanation.

though not of my mother; and she became my wife. 13And when God had me wander[x] from my father's household,[y] I said to her, 'This is how you can show your love to me: Everywhere we go, say of me, "He is my brother." ' "

14Then Abimelech[z] brought sheep and cattle and male and female slaves and gave them to Abraham,[a] and he returned Sarah his wife to him. 15And Abimelech said, "My land is before you; live wherever you like."[b]

16To Sarah he said, "I am giving your brother a thousand shekels[p] of silver. This is to cover the offense against you before all who are with you; you are completely vindicated."

17Then Abraham prayed to God,[c] and God healed Abimelech, his wife and his slave girls so they could have children again, 18for the LORD had closed up every womb in Abimelech's household because of Abraham's wife Sarah.[d]

The Birth of Isaac

21 Now the LORD was gracious to Sarah[e] as he had said, and the LORD did for Sarah what he had promised.[f] 2Sarah became pregnant and bore a son[g] to Abraham in his old age,[h] at the very time God had promised him.[i] 3Abraham gave the name Isaac[q][j] to the son Sarah bore him. 4When his son Isaac was eight days old, Abraham circumcised him,[k] as God commanded him. 5Abraham was a hundred years old[l] when his son Isaac was born to him.

6Sarah said, "God has brought me laughter,[m] and everyone who hears about this will laugh with me." 7And she added, "Who would have said to Abraham that Sarah would nurse children? Yet I have borne him a son in his old age."[n]

Hagar and Ishmael Sent Away

8The child grew and was weaned,[o] and on the day Isaac was weaned Abraham held a great feast. 9But Sarah saw that the son whom Hagar the Egyptian had borne to Abraham[p] was mocking,[q] 10and she said to Abraham, "Get rid of that slave woman[r] and her son, for that slave woman's son will never share in the inheritance with my son Isaac."[s]

11The matter distressed Abraham greatly because it concerned his son.[t] 12But God said to him, "Do not be so distressed about the boy and your maidservant. Listen to whatever Sarah tells you, because it is through Isaac that your offspring[r] will be reckoned.[u] 13I will make the son of the maidservant into a nation[v] also, because he is your offspring."

14Early the next morning Abraham took some food and a skin of water and gave them to Hagar.[w] He set them on her shoulders and then sent her off with the boy. She went on her way and wandered in the desert of Beersheba.[x]

15When the water in the skin was gone, she put the boy under one of the bushes. 16Then she went off and sat down nearby, about a bowshot away, for she thought, "I cannot watch the boy die." And as she sat there nearby, she[s] began to sob.[y]

17God heard the boy crying,[z] and the angel of God[a] called to Hagar from heaven[b] and said to her, "What is the matter, Hagar? Do not be afraid;[c] God has heard the boy crying as he lies there. 18Lift the boy up and take him by the

20:14–16 Abimelech's generosity was a strong contrast to Abraham's fearfulness and deception.

20:16 shekels. Though not in the Hebrew, the word is correctly supplied here as the most common unit of weight in ancient times. Originally the shekel was only a weight, not a coin, since coinage was not invented till the seventh century B.C.

21:1 was gracious to Sarah as he had said. See 17:16. did for Sarah what he had promised. See Gal 4:22–23,28.

21:3 Isaac. See note on 17:17.

21:4 See notes on 17:10,12.

21:5 Abraham, in fulfillment of the promise made to him (see 17:16), miraculously became a father at the age of 100 years (see 17:17).

21:6 laughter . . . laugh. See note on 17:17.

21:8 weaned. At age two or three, as was customary in the ancient Near East.

21:9 the son whom Hagar the Egyptian had borne. Ishmael, who was in his late teens at this time (see 16:15–16). mocking. Or "at play." In either case, Sarah saw Ishmael as a potential threat to Isaac's inheritance (v. 10).

21:10 Get rid of that slave woman and her son. See Gal 4:21–31. Driving them out would have had the effect of disinheriting Ishmael.

21:11 The matter distressed Abraham. Both love and legal custom played a part in Abraham's anguish. He knew that the customs of his day, illustrated later in the Nuzi tablets (see chart on "Ancient Texts Relating to the OT," p. xxii), prohibited the arbitrary expulsion of a servant girl's son (whose legal status was relatively weak in any case).

21:12 Listen to whatever Sarah tells you. God overruled in this matter (as he had done earlier; see 15:4), promising Abraham that both Isaac and Ishmael would have numerous descendants. it is through Isaac that your offspring will be reckoned. See Ro 9:6–8 and Heb 11:17–19 for broader spiritual applications of this statement.

21:14 Early the next morning. Though Abraham would now be separated from Ishmael for the first time, he responded to God's command with prompt obedience (see note on 12:4). Beersheba. See note on v. 31.

21:15 one of the bushes. See note on v. 33.

21:17 God heard . . . God has heard. A pun on the name "Ishmael" (see NIV text note on 16:11; see also 17:20).

hand, for I will make him into a great nation.[d]"

[19]Then God opened her eyes[e] and she saw a well of water.[f] So she went and filled the skin with water and gave the boy a drink.

[20]God was with the boy[g] as he grew up. He lived in the desert and became an archer. [21]While he was living in the Desert of Paran,[h] his mother got a wife for him[i] from Egypt.

The Treaty at Beersheba

[22]At that time Abimelech[j] and Phicol the commander of his forces[k] said to Abraham, "God is with you in everything you do.[l] [23]Now swear[m] to me here before God that you will not deal falsely with me or my children or my descendants.[n] Show to me and the country where you are living as an alien the same kindness I have shown to you."[o]

[24]Abraham said, "I swear it."

[25]Then Abraham complained to Abimelech about a well of water that Abimelech's servants had seized.[p] [26]But Abimelech said, "I don't know who has done this. You did not tell me, and I heard about it only today."

[27]So Abraham brought sheep and cattle and gave them to Abimelech, and the two men made a treaty.[q] [28]Abraham set apart seven ewe lambs from the flock, [29]and Abimelech asked Abraham, "What is the meaning of these seven ewe lambs you have set apart by themselves?"

[30]He replied, "Accept these seven lambs from my hand as a witness[r] that I dug this well.[s]"

[31]So that place was called Beersheba,[t] because the two men swore an oath[u] there.

[32]After the treaty[v] had been made at Beersheba,[w] Abimelech and Phicol the commander of his forces[x] returned to the land of the Philistines.[y] [33]Abraham planted a tamarisk tree[z] in Beersheba, and there he called upon the name of the LORD,[a] the Eternal God.[b] [34]And Abraham stayed in the land of the Philistines[c] for a long time.

Abraham Tested

22 Some time later God tested[d] Abraham. He said to him, "Abraham!"

"Here I am,"[e] he replied.

[2]Then God said, "Take your son[f], your only son, Isaac, whom you love, and go to the region of Moriah.[g] Sacrifice him there as a burnt offering[h] on one of the mountains I will tell you about.[i]"

[3]Early the next morning[j] Abraham got up and saddled his donkey. He took

21:21 Desert of Paran. Located in north central Sinai. his mother got a wife for him from Egypt. Parents often arranged their children's marriages (see ch. 24).

21:22 Abimelech. See 20:2 and note. Phicol. Either a family name or an official title, since it reappears over 60 years later (25:26) in a similar context (26:26).

21:23 swear to me ... before God ... Show to me ... kindness. Phrases commonly used when making covenants or treaties (see vv. 27,32). "Kindness" as used here refers to acts of friendship (cf. v. 27; 20:14). Such covenants always involved oaths.

21:27 sheep and cattle. Probably to be used in the treaty ceremony (see 15:10).

21:31 Beersheba, because the two men swore an oath there. See NIV text note. For a similar pun on the name see 26:33. Beersheba, an important town in the northern Negev, marked the southernmost boundary of the Israelite monarchy in later times (see, e.g., 2Sa 17:11). An ancient well there is still pointed out as "Abraham's well" (see v. 25), but its authenticity is not certain.

21:32 Philistines. See note on 10:14.

21:33 tamarisk. A shrub or small tree that thrives in arid regions. Its leafy branches provide welcome shade, and it is probably the unidentified bush under which Hagar put Ishmael in v. 15. Eternal God. Hebrew El Olam, a phrase unique to this passage. It is one of a series of names that include El, "God," as an element (see 14:19 and note; 17:1 and note; 33:20; 35:7).

22:1 Some time later. Isaac had grown into adolescence or young manhood, as implied also by 21:34 ("a long time"). tested. Not "tempted," for God does not tempt (Jas 1:13). Satan tempts us (see 1Co 7:5) in order to make us fall; God tests us in order to confirm our faith (Ex 20:20) or prove our commitment (Dt 8:2). See note on Mt 4:1. Here I am. Abraham answered with the response of a servant, as did Moses and Samuel when God called them by name (see Ex 3:4; 1Sa 3:4,6,8).

22:2 your son, your only son, Isaac, whom you love. In the Hebrew text "Isaac" follows the clause "whom you love," in order to heighten the effect: "your son, your only son, whom you love—Isaac." Isaac was the "only son" of the promise (21:12). region of Moriah. The author of Chronicles identifies the area as the temple mount in Jerusalem (2Ch 3:1). Today "Mount Moriah" is occupied by the Dome of the Rock, an impressive Muslim structure erected in A.D. 691. A large outcropping of rock inside the building is still pointed to as the traditional site of the intended sacrifice of Isaac. Sacrifice him. Abraham had committed himself by covenant to be obedient to the Lord and had consecrated his son Isaac to the Lord by circumcision. The Lord put his servant's faith and loyalty to the supreme test, thereby instructing Abraham, Isaac and their descendants as to the kind of total consecration the Lord's covenant requires. The test also foreshadowed the perfect consecration in sacrifice that another offspring of Abraham would undergo (see note on v. 16) in order to wholly consecrate Abraham and his spiritual descendants to God and to fulfill the covenant promises.

22:3 Early the next morning. Prompt obedience, even under such trying circumstances, characterized Abraham's response to God (see note on 12:4).

with him two of his servants and his son Isaac. When he had cut enough wood for the burnt offering, he set out for the place God had told him about. 4On the third day Abraham looked up and saw the place in the distance. 5He said to his servants, "Stay here with the donkey while I and the boy go over there. We will worship and then we will come back to you.[k]"

6Abraham took the wood for the burnt offering and placed it on his son Isaac,[l] and he himself carried the fire and the knife.[m] As the two of them went on together, 7Isaac spoke up and said to his father Abraham, "Father?"

"Yes, my son?" Abraham replied.

"The fire and wood are here," Isaac said, "but where is the lamb[n] for the burnt offering?"

8Abraham answered, "God himself will provide[o] the lamb[p] for the burnt offering, my son." And the two of them went on together.

9When they reached the place God had told him about,[q] Abraham built an altar[r] there and arranged the wood[s] on it. He bound his son Isaac and laid him on the altar,[t] on top of the wood. 10Then he reached out his hand and took the knife[u] to slay his son.[v] 11But the angel of the LORD[w] called out to him from heaven,[x] "Abraham! Abraham!"[y]

"Here I am,"[z] he replied.

12"Do not lay a hand on the boy," he said. "Do not do anything to him. Now I know that you fear God,[a] because you have not withheld from me your son, your only son.[b]"

22:4 third day. Three days would be necessary for the journey from Beersheba (see v. 19) to Jerusalem.

22:5 boy. See v. 12. The Hebrew for this word has a wide range of meaning, from an infant (see Ex 2:6) to a young man of military age (see 1Ch 12:28). we will come back to you. Abraham, the man of faith and "the father of all who believe" (Ro 4:11), "reasoned that God could raise the dead" (Heb 11:19) if that were necessary to fulfill his promise.

22:8 God himself will provide the lamb. The immediate fulfillment of Abraham's trusting response was the ram of v. 13, but its ultimate fulfillment is the Lamb of God (Jn 1:29,36).

22:9 laid him on the altar, on top of the wood. Isaac is here a type (prefiguration) of Christ (see note on v. 16).

22:11 angel of the LORD. See note on 16:7. Abraham! Abraham! The repetition of the name indicates urgency (see 46:2; Ex 3:4; 1Sa 3:10; Ac 9:4). Here I am. See note on v. 1.

22:12 fear God. See note on 20:11. you have not withheld from me your son, your only son. See v. 16. Abraham's "faith was made complete by what he did" (Jas 2:21–22).

22:13 instead of. Substitutionary sacrifice of one life for another is here mentioned for the first time. As the ram died in Isaac's place, so also Jesus gave his life as a ransom "for" (lit. "instead of") many (Mk 10:45).

22:14 mountain of the LORD. During the Israelite monarchy the phrase referred to the temple mount in Jerusalem (see Ps 24:3; Isa 2:3; 30:29; Zec 8:3).

22:16 I swear by myself. There is no greater name in which the Lord can take an oath (see Heb 6:13). you ... have not withheld your son, your only son. Abraham's devotion is paralleled by God's love to us in Christ as reflected in Jn 3:16 and Ro 8:32, which may allude to this verse.

22:17 descendants as numerous as the stars in the sky. See 13:16; 15:5 and notes. sand on the seashore. Fulfilled, at least in part, during Solomon's reign (see 1Ki 4:20). cities. Lit. "gates." Taking possession of the gate of a city was tantamount to occupying the city itself (see 24:60).

22:18 all nations on earth will be blessed. See note on 12:2–3. because you have obeyed me. See note on 17:9.

ISAAC

NAME MEANS: "He laughs" (Ge 21:3)
BIRTH DATA: By a miracle of God, born to Abraham (100 years old) and Sarah (90 years old)
OCCUPATION: Livestock owner
BEST KNOWN FOR:

- being the child God had promised to continue the covenant line
- being used by God to test Abraham's faith (Ge 22)
- becoming the father of twin sons, Esau and Jacob firstborn, Buz[v] his brother, Kemuel (the father of Aram), [22]Kesed, Hazo, Pildash, Jidlaph and Bethuel.[w] [23]Bethuel became the father of Rebekah.[x] Milcah bore these eight sons to Abraham's brother Nahor.[y] [24]His concubine,[z] whose name was Reumah, also had sons: Tebah, Gaham, Tahash and Maacah.

The Death of Sarah

23 Sarah lived to be a hundred and twenty-seven years old. [2]She died at Kiriath Arba[a] (that is, Hebron)[b] in the land of Canaan, and Abraham went to mourn for Sarah and to weep over her.[c]

[3]Then Abraham rose from beside his dead wife and spoke to the Hittites.[w][d] He said, [4]"I am an alien and a stranger[e] among you. Sell me some property for a burial site here so I can bury my dead.[f]"

[5]The Hittites replied to Abraham, [6]"Sir, listen to us. You are a mighty prince[g] among us. Bury your dead in the choicest of our tombs. None of us will refuse you his tomb for burying your dead."

[7]Then Abraham rose and bowed down before the people of the land, the Hittites. [8]He said to them, "If you are willing to let me bury my dead, then listen to me and intercede with Ephron son of Zohar[h] on my behalf [9]so he will sell me the cave of Machpelah,[i] which belongs to him and is at the end of his field. Ask him to sell it to me for the full price as a burial site among you."

[10]Ephron the Hittite was sitting among his people and he replied to Abraham in the hearing of all the Hittites[j] who had come to the gate[k] of his city. [11]"No, my lord," he said. "Listen to me; I give[x][l] you the field, and I give[x] you the cave that is in it. I give[x] it to you in the presence of my people. Bury your dead."

[12]Again Abraham bowed down before the people of the land [13]and he said to Ephron in their hearing, "Listen to me, if you will. I will pay the price of the field. Accept it from me so I can bury my dead there."

[14]Ephron answered Abraham, [15]"Listen to me, my lord; the land is worth four hundred shekels[y] of silver,[m] but what is that between me and you? Bury your dead."

[16]Abraham agreed to Ephron's terms and weighed out for him the price he had named in the hearing of the Hittites: four hundred shekels of silver,[n] according to the weight current among the merchants.[o]

[17]So Ephron's field in Machpelah[p] near Mamre[q]—both the field and the cave in it, and all the trees within the

[x] 11 Or sell
[y] 15 That is, about 10 pounds (about 4.5 kilograms)

22:23–24 Abraham's brother Nahor (see 11:26) became the father of eight sons by his wife and four by his concubine. They would later become the ancestors of 12 Arameans (see v. 21) tribes, just as Abraham's grandson Jacob would become the ancestor of the 12 tribes of Israel (see 49:28).

23:2 Kiriath Arba. Means "the town of Arba" (Arba was the most prominent member of a tribe living in the Hebron area [see Jos 14:15]). It can also mean "the town of four," referring to the place where Anak (see Jos 15:13–14; 21:11) and his three sons lived (see Jdg 1:10,20). went. Either from Beersheba to Hebron or into where Sarah's body was lying.

23:3 Hittites. See note on 10:15. They were apparently in control of the Hebron area at this time.

23:4 an alien and a stranger. The phrase was used often by the patriarchs and their descendants in reference to themselves (see 1Ch 29:15; Ps 39:12; see also Heb 11:13). On this earth Abraham "lived in tents" (Heb 11:9), the most temporary of dwellings. But he looked forward to the more permanent home promised him, which the author of Hebrews calls "the city with foundations, whose architect and builder is God" (Heb 11:10).

23:6 You are a mighty prince. Probably intended as words of flattery.

23:9 cave of Machpelah. Though inaccessible today, the tombs of several patriarchs and their wives—Abraham and Sarah, Isaac and Rebekah, Jacob and Leah (see v. 19; 25:8–10; 49:30–31; 50:12–13)—are, according to tradition, located in a large cave deep beneath the Mosque of Abraham, a Muslim shrine in Hebron. end of his field. Because buying the entire field would have made Abraham responsible for certain additional financial and social obligations, he wanted to buy only a small part of it. Hittite laws stipulated that when a landowner sold only part of his property to someone else, the original and principal landowner had to continue paying all dues on the land. But if the landowner disposed of an entire tract, the new owner had to pay the dues.

23:10 in the hearing of all the Hittites who had come to the gate. The main gateway of a city was usually the place where legal matters were transacted and attested (see v. 18; see also note on 19:1).

23:11 my lord. Perhaps intended to flatter Abraham (see v. 15). give. See NIV text note.

23:15 four hundred shekels of silver, but what is that between me and you? See note on 20:16. Despite Ephron's pretense of generosity, 400 shekels of silver was an exorbitant price for a field (see, e.g., Jer 32:9). Ephron was taking advantage of Abraham during a time of grief and bereavement. He knew that Abraham had to deal quickly in order to have a place to bury Sarah, so he insisted that Abraham buy the entire lot and assume responsibility for the dues as well.

23:16 weight current among the merchants. Subject to more variation and therefore greater dishonesty than the later royal standard (see 2Sa 14:26), which was carefully regulated and more precise.

23:17 the field and the cave in it, and all the trees. In order to be free of all obligations relating to the field in which the cave of Machpelah was located, Ephron had held out for the sale of the entire field and its contents (see note on v. 9).

borders of the field—was deeded [18]to Abraham as his property[r] in the presence of all the Hittites[s] who had come to the gate[t] of the city. [19]Afterward Abraham buried his wife Sarah in the cave in the field of Machpelah[u] near Mamre (which is at Hebron[v]) in the land of Canaan.[w] [20]So the field and the cave in it were deeded[x] to Abraham by the Hittites as a burial site.[y]

Isaac and Rebekah

24 Abraham was now old and well advanced in years,[z] and the LORD had blessed[a] him in every way.[b] [2]He said to the chief[z] servant[c] in his household, the one in charge of all that he had,[d] "Put your hand under my thigh.[e] [3]I want you to swear[f] by the LORD, the God of heaven[g] and the God of earth,[h] that you will not get a wife for my son[i] from the daughters of the Canaanites,[j] among whom I am living,[k] [4]but will go to my country and my own relatives[l] and get a wife for my son Isaac.[m]"

[5]The servant asked him, "What if the woman is unwilling to come back with me to this land?[n] Shall I then take your son back to the country you came from?[o]"

[6]"Make sure that you do not take my son back there,"[p] Abraham said. [7]"The LORD, the God of heaven,[q] who brought me out of my father's household and my native land[r] and who spoke to me and promised me on oath, saying, 'To your offspring[as] I will give this land'[t]—he will send his angel before you[u] so that you can get a wife for my son from there. [8]If the woman is unwilling to come back with you, then you will be released from this oath[v] of mine. Only do not take my son back there."[w] [9]So the servant put his hand under the thigh[x] of his master[y] Abraham and swore an oath to him concerning this matter.

[10]Then the servant took ten of his master's camels[z] and left, taking with him all kinds of good things[a] from his master. He set out for Aram Naharaim[bb] and made his way to the town of Nahor.[c] [11]He had the camels kneel down near the well[d] outside the town; it was toward evening, the time the women go out to draw water.[e]

[12]Then he prayed, "O LORD, God of my master Abraham,[f] give me success[g] today, and show kindness[h] to my master Abraham. [13]See, I am standing beside this spring, and the daughters of the townspeople are coming out to draw water.[i] [14]May it be that when I say to a girl, 'Please let down your jar that I may have a drink,' and she says, 'Drink,[j] and I'll water your camels too'[k]—let her be the one you have chosen for your servant Isaac.[l] By this I will know[m] that you have shown kindness to my master."

[15]Before he had finished praying,[n] Rebekah[o] came out with her jar on her shoulder. She was the daughter of Bethuel[p] son of Milcah,[q] who was the wife of Abraham's brother Nahor.[r] [16]The girl was very beautiful,[s] a virgin;[t] no man had ever lain with her. She went down to the spring, filled her jar and came up again.

[17]The servant hurried to meet her and said, "Please give me a little water from your jar."[u]

[z]2 Or oldest [a]7 Or seed [b]10 That is, Northwest Mesopotamia

23:19 buried his wife . . . in the land of Canaan. In that culture, people had a strong desire to be buried "with their fathers" (see note on 25:8) in their native land. By purchasing a burial place in Canaan, Abraham indicated his unswerving commitment to the Lord's promise. Canaan was his new homeland.

24:2 chief servant in his household. Probably Eliezer of Damascus (see note on 15:2). Put your hand under my thigh. Near the organ of procreation, probably because this oath was related to the continuation of Abraham's line through Isaac (see 47:29).

24:3 the LORD, the God of heaven and the God of earth. See v. 7. For a similar majestic title used by Abraham in an oath see 14:22.

24:4 my country. Mesopotamia (see note on v. 10). get a wife for my son. See note on 21:21.

24:7 To your offspring I will give this land. Repeats the promise of 12:7. his angel. See note on 16:7.

24:10 camels. See note on 12:16. Aram Naharaim. See NIV text note; lit. "Aram of the two rivers"—the Euphrates and the Tigris. Aram (see note on 10:22) Naharaim was the northern part of the area called later by the Greeks "Mesopotamia"—lit. "between the rivers." town of Nahor. Perhaps named after Abraham's brother (see v. 15; 11:26). It is mentioned in clay tablets excavated by the French beginning in 1933 at the ancient city of Mari on the Euphrates (see chart on "Ancient Texts Relating to the OT," p. xxii). Nahor was located in the Haran (see note on 11:31) district and was ruled by an Amorite prince in the 18th century B.C.

24:11 toward evening, the time the women go out to draw water. The coolest time of day.

24:14 By this I will know. Like his master Abraham, the servant asked God for a sign to validate his errand (see note on 15:8). kindness. See v. 27; probably a reference to God's covenant with Abraham, which had promised numerous descendants through Isaac (see 17:19; 21:12).

24:15 Before he had finished praying. God had already begun to answer. Rebekah . . . was the daughter of Bethuel son of . . . the wife of Abraham's brother. Isaac would thus be marrying his father's grandniece (see v. 48).

18 "Drink,[v] my lord," she said, and quickly lowered the jar to her hands and gave him a drink.
19 After she had given him a drink, she said, "I'll draw water for your camels[w] too,[x] until they have finished drinking."
20 So she quickly emptied her jar into the trough, ran back to the well to draw more water, and drew enough for all his camels.[y] 21 Without saying a word, the man watched her closely to learn whether or not the LORD had made his journey successful.[z]
22 When the camels had finished drinking, the man took out a gold nose ring[a] weighing a beka[c] and two gold bracelets[b] weighing ten shekels.[d] 23 Then he asked, "Whose daughter are you?[c] Please tell me, is there room in your father's house for us to spend the night?[d]"
24 She answered him, "I am the daughter of Bethuel, the son that Milcah bore to Nahor.[e]" 25 And she added, "We have plenty of straw and fodder,[f] as well as room for you to spend the night."
26 Then the man bowed down and worshiped the LORD,[g] 27 saying, "Praise be to the LORD,[h] the God of my master Abraham,[i] who has not abandoned his kindness and faithfulness[j] to my master. As for me, the LORD has led me on the journey[k] to the house of my master's relatives."[l]
28 The girl ran and told her mother's household about these things.[m] 29 Now Rebekah had a brother named Laban,[n] and he hurried out to the man at the spring. 30 As soon as he had seen the nose ring, and the bracelets on his sister's arms,[o] and had heard Rebekah tell what the man said to her, he went out to the man and found him standing by the camels near the spring. 31 "Come, you who are blessed by the LORD,"[p] he said. "Why are you standing out here? I have prepared the house and a place for the camels."
32 So the man went to the house, and the camels were unloaded. Straw and fodder[q] were brought for the camels, and water for him and his men to wash their feet.[r] 33 Then food was set before him, but he said, "I will not eat until I have told you what I have to say."
"Then tell us," ⌊Laban⌋ said.
34 So he said, "I am Abraham's servant.[s] 35 The LORD has blessed[t] my master abundantly,[u] and he has become wealthy.[v] He has given him sheep and cattle, silver and gold, menservants and maidservants, and camels and donkeys.[w] 36 My master's wife Sarah has borne him a son in her[e] old age,[x] and he has given him everything he owns.[y] 37 And my master made me swear an oath,[z] and said, 'You must not get a wife for my son from the daughters of the Canaanites, in whose land I live,[a] 38 but go to my father's family and to my own clan, and get a wife for my son.'[b]
39 "Then I asked my master, 'What if the woman will not come back with me?'[c]
40 "He replied, 'The LORD, before whom I have walked,[d] will send his angel with you[e] and make your journey a success,[f] so that you can get a wife for my son from my own clan and from my father's family.[g] 41 Then, when you go to my clan, you will be released from my oath even if they refuse to give her to you—you will be released from my oath.'[h]
42 "When I came to the spring today, I said, 'O LORD, God of my master Abraham, if you will, please grant success[i] to the journey on which I have come. 43 See, I am standing beside this spring;[j] if a maiden[k] comes out to draw water and I say to her, "Please let me drink a little water from your jar,"[l] 44 and if she says to me, "Drink, and I'll draw water for your camels too," let her be the one the LORD has chosen for my master's son.'[m]
45 "Before I finished praying in my heart,[n] Rebekah came out, with her jar on her shoulder.[o] She went down to the spring and drew water, and I said to her, 'Please give me a drink.'[p]
46 "She quickly lowered her jar from her shoulder and said, 'Drink, and I'll water your camels too.'[q] So I drank, and she watered the camels also.[r]
47 "I asked her, 'Whose daughter are you?'[s]
"She said, 'The daughter of Bethuel[t] son of Nahor, whom Milcah bore to him.'[u]
"Then I put the ring in her nose[v] and the bracelets on her arms,[w] 48 and I bowed down and worshiped the LORD.[x] I praised the LORD, the God of my master Abraham,[y] who had led me on the right road to get the granddaughter of my master's brother for his son.[c] [49]Now if you will show kindness and faithfulness[a] to my master, tell me; and if not, tell me, so I may know which way to turn."

[50]Laban and Bethuel[b] answered, "This is from the LORD;[c] we can say nothing to you one way or the other.[d] [51]Here is Rebekah; take her and go, and let her become the wife of your master's son, as the LORD has directed.[e]"

[52]When Abraham's servant heard what they said, he bowed down to the ground before the LORD.[f] [53]Then the servant brought out gold and silver jewelry and articles of clothing[g] and gave them to Rebekah; he also gave costly gifts[h] to her brother and to her mother. [54]Then he and the men who were with him ate and drank and spent the night there.

When they got up the next morning, he said, "Send me on my way[i] to my master."

[55]But her brother and her mother replied, "Let the girl remain with us ten days or so;[j] then you[f] may go."

[56]But he said to them, "Do not detain me, now that the LORD has granted success[k] to my journey. Send me on my way[l] so I may go to my master."

[57]Then they said, "Let's call the girl and ask her about it."[m] [58]So they called Rebekah and asked her, "Will you go with this man?"

"I will go,"[n] she said.

[59]So they sent their sister Rebekah on her way,[o] along with her nurse[p] and Abraham's servant and his men. [60]And they blessed[q] Rebekah and said to her,

"Our sister, may you increase to thousands upon thousands;[r] may your offspring possess the gates of their enemies."[s]

[61]Then Rebekah and her maids[t] got ready and mounted their camels and went back with the man. So the servant took Rebekah and left.

[62]Now Isaac had come from Beer Lahai Roi,[u] for he was living in the Negev.[v] [63]He went out to the field one evening to meditate,[g][w] and as he looked up,[x] he saw camels approaching. [64]Rebekah also looked up and saw Isaac. She got down from her camel[y] [65]and asked the servant, "Who is that man in the field coming to meet us?"

"He is my master," the servant answered. So she took her veil[z] and covered herself.

[66]Then the servant told Isaac all he had done. [67]Isaac brought her into the tent[a] of his mother Sarah,[b] and he married Rebekah.[c] So she became his wife, and he loved her;[d] and Isaac was comforted after his mother's death.[e]

The Death of Abraham

25:1–4pp — 1Ch 1:32–33

25 Abraham took[h] another wife, whose name was Keturah. [2]She bore him Zimran,[f] Jokshan, Medan, Midian,[g] Ishbak and Shuah.[h] [3]Jokshan was the father of Sheba[i] and Dedan;[j] the descendants of Dedan were the Asshurites, the Letushites and the Leummites. [4]The sons of Midian were Ephah,[k] Epher, Hanoch, Abida and Eldaah. All these were descendants of Keturah.

[5]Abraham left everything he owned to Isaac.[l] [6]But while he was still living, he gave gifts to the sons of his concubines[m] and sent them away from his son Isaac[n] to the land of the east.[o]

[7]Altogether, Abraham lived a hundred and seventy-five years.[p] [8]Then Abraham breathed his last and died at a good old age,[q] an old man and full of years; and he was gathered to his people.[r] [9]His sons Isaac and Ishmael buried him[s] in the cave of Machpelah[t] near

[f]55 Or she [g]63 The meaning of the Hebrew for this word is uncertain. [h]1 Or had taken

24:53 The rich gifts bestowed on Rebekah and her family indicated the wealth of the household into which she was being asked to marry—far from her loved ones and homeland.

24:60 See 22:17 and note.

24:62 Beer Lahai Roi. See note on 16:14.

24:65 she took her veil and covered herself. Apparently a sign that she was unmarried (cf. 38:14,19).

24:67 tent. Often used as a bridal chamber (see Ps 19:4–5).

25:1 took another wife. Or "married another woman"—his "concubine" (1Ch 1:32). took. Or "had taken" (see NIV text note), since Abraham would have been 140 years old at this time if the order is chronological.

25:5 left everything he owned to Isaac. The law of primogeniture provided that at least a double share of the father's property be given to the firstborn son when the father died (Dt 21:15–17). Parallels to this practice come from Nuzi, from Larsa in the Old Babylonian period and from Assyria in the Middle Assyrian period. Isaac was Abraham's firstborn son according to law.

25:6 gifts. These doubtless represented the inheritance left to Abraham's other sons. concubines. Polygamy was practiced even by godly men in ancient times, though it was not the original divine intention (see note on 4:19).

25:7 a hundred and seventy-five years. Abraham lived for a full century after "he set out from Haran" (12:4).

25:8 died at a good old age. As God had promised (see 15:15). an old man and full of years. A phrase used also of the patriarch Job (see Job 42:17). was gathered to his people. Joined his ancestors and/or deceased relatives in death (see 2Ki 22:20; 2Ch 34:28).

25:9 Isaac and Ishmael. Isaac, legally the firstborn (see note on v. 5), is listed first.

Mamre,[u] in the field of Ephron[v] son of Zohar the Hittite,[w] [10]the field Abraham had bought from the Hittites.[ix] There Abraham was buried with his wife Sarah. [11]After Abraham's death, God blessed his son Isaac,[y] who then lived near Beer Lahai Roi.[z]

Ishmael's Sons

25:12–16pp — 1Ch 1:29–31

[12]This is the account[a] of Abraham's son Ishmael, whom Sarah's maidservant, Hagar[b] the Egyptian, bore to Abraham.[c]

[13]These are the names of the sons of Ishmael, listed in the order of their birth: Nebaioth[d] the firstborn of Ishmael, Kedar,[e] Adbeel, Mibsam, [14]Mishma, Dumah,[f] Massa, [15]Hadad, Tema,[g] Jetur,[h] Naphish and Kedemah. [16]These were the sons of Ishmael, and these are the names of the twelve tribal rulers[i] according to their settlements and camps.[j] [17]Altogether, Ishmael lived a hundred and thirty-seven years. He breathed his last and died, and he was gathered to his people.[k] [18]His descendants[l] settled in the area from Havilah to Shur,[m] near the border of Egypt, as you go toward Asshur. And they lived in hostility toward[j] all their brothers.[n]

Jacob and Esau

[19]This is the account[o] of Abraham's son Isaac.

Abraham became the father of Isaac, [20]and Isaac was forty years old[p] when he married Rebekah[q] daughter of Bethuel[r] the Aramean from Paddan Aram[ks] and sister of Laban[t] the Aramean.[u]

[21]Isaac prayed to the LORD on behalf of his wife, because she was barren.[v] The LORD answered his prayer,[w] and his wife Rebekah became pregnant. [22]The babies jostled each other within her, and she said, "Why is this happening to me?" So she went to inquire of the LORD.[x]

[23]The LORD said to her,

"Two nations[y] are in your womb, and two peoples from within you will be separated;
one people will be stronger than the other, and the older will serve the younger.[z]"

[24]When the time came for her to give birth,[a] there were twin boys in her womb.[b] [25]The first to come out was red,[c] and his whole body was like a hairy garment;[d] so they named him Esau.[le] [26]After this, his brother came out,[f] with his hand grasping Esau's heel;[g] so he was named Jacob.[mh] Isaac was sixty years old[i] when Rebekah gave birth to them.

[27]The boys grew up, and Esau became a skillful hunter,[j] a man of the open country,[k] while Jacob was a quiet man, staying among the tents. [28]Isaac, who had a taste for wild game,[l] loved Esau, but Rebekah loved Jacob.[m]

[29]Once when Jacob was cooking some stew,[n] Esau came in from the open country,[o] famished. [30]He said to Jacob, "Quick, let me have some of that red

25:13 names of the sons of Ishmael. Many are Arab names, giving credence to the Arab tradition that Ishmael is their ancestor.

25:16 twelve tribal rulers. Twelve major tribes descended from Abraham's son Ishmael (as predicted in 17:20)—as was also true of Abraham's brother Nahor (see note on 22:23–24).

25:18 in hostility toward. See note on 16:12; or possibly "to the east of" (see NIV text notes here and on 16:12; see also 25:6).

25:19 account. See note on 2:4.

25:20 Paddan Aram. See NIV text note; means "plain of Aram," another name for Aram Naharaim (see note on 24:10).

25:22 jostled each other. The struggle between Jacob and Esau began in the womb (see also v. 26). went. Perhaps to a nearby place of worship.

25:23 the older will serve the younger. The ancient law of primogeniture (see note on v. 5) provided that, under ordinary circumstances, the younger of two sons would be subservient to the older. God's election of the younger son highlights the fact that God's people are the product not of natural or worldly development but of his sovereign intervention in the affairs of men (see note on 11:30). Part of this verse is quoted in Ro 9:10–12 as an example of God's sovereign right to do "whatever pleases him" (Ps 115:3)—not in an arbitrary way (see Ro 9:14), but according to his own perfect will.

25:24–26 For another unusual birth of twin boys see 38:27–30.

25:25 red. A pun on Edom, one of Esau's other names (see v. 30 and NIV text note).

25:26 his hand grasping Esau's heel. Hostility between the Israelites (Jacob's descendants) and Edomites (Esau's descendants) became the rule rather than the exception (see, e.g., Nu 20:14–21; Ob 9–10). Jacob. See NIV text note. The name became proverbial for the unsavory quality of deceptiveness (see NIV text note on Jer 9:4).

stew![p] I'm famished!" (That is why he was also called Edom.[n])[q]

[31]Jacob replied, "First sell me your birthright.[r]"

[32]"Look, I am about to die," Esau said. "What good is the birthright to me?"

[33]But Jacob said, "Swear[s] to me first." So he swore an oath to him, selling his birthright[t] to Jacob.

[34]Then Jacob gave Esau some bread and some lentil stew.[u] He ate and drank, and then got up and left.

So Esau despised his birthright.

Isaac and Abimelech

26:1–11Ref — Ge 12:10–20; 20:1–18

26 Now there was a famine in the land[v]—besides the earlier famine of Abraham's time—and Isaac went to Abimelech king of the Philistines[w] in Gerar.[x] [2]The LORD appeared[y] to Isaac and said, "Do not go down to Egypt;[z] live in the land where I tell you to live.[a] [3]Stay in this land for a while,[b] and I will be with you[c] and will bless you.[d] For to you and your descendants I will give all these lands[e] and will confirm the oath I swore to your father Abraham.[f] [4]I will make your descendants[g] as numerous as the stars in the sky[h] and will give them all these lands,[i] and through your offspring[o] all nations on earth will be blessed,[j] [5]because Abraham obeyed me[k] and kept my requirements, my commands, my decrees[l] and my laws.[m]" [6]So Isaac stayed in Gerar.[n]

[7]When the men of that place asked him about his wife, he said, "She is my sister,[o]" because he was afraid to say, "She is my wife." He thought, "The men of this place might kill me on account of Rebekah, because she is beautiful."

[8]When Isaac had been there a long time, Abimelech king of the Philistines[p] looked down from a window and saw Isaac caressing his wife Rebekah. [9]So Abimelech summoned Isaac and said, "She is really your wife! Why did you say, 'She is my sister'?[q]"

Isaac answered him, "Because I thought I might lose my life on account of her."

[10]Then Abimelech said, "What is this you have done to us?[r] One of the men might well have slept with your wife, and you would have brought guilt upon us."

[11]So Abimelech gave orders to all the people: "Anyone who molests[s] this man or his wife shall surely be put to death."[t]

[12]Isaac planted crops in that land and the same year reaped a hundredfold,[u] because the LORD blessed him.[v] [13]The man became rich, and his wealth continued to grow until he became very wealthy.[w] [14]He had so many flocks and herds and servants[x] that the Philistines envied him.[y] [15]So all the wells[z] that his father's servants had dug in the time of his father Abraham, the Philistines stopped up,[a] filling them with earth.

[16]Then Abimelech said to Isaac, "Move

[n] 30 Edom means red. [o] 4 Or seed

25:31 sell me your birthright. In ancient times the birthright included the inheritance rights of the firstborn (see Heb 12:16; see also note on v. 5). Jacob was ever the schemer, seeking by any means to gain advantage over others. But it was by God's appointment and care, not Jacob's wits, that he came into the blessing.

25:33 Swear to me first. A verbal oath was all that was required to make the transaction legal.

25:34 lentil. A small pea-like annual plant, the pods of which turn reddish-brown when boiled. It grows well even in bad soil and has provided an important source of nourishment in the Near East since ancient times (see 2Sa 17:28; 23:11; Eze 4:9). Esau despised his birthright. In so doing, he proved himself to be "godless" (Heb 12:16), since at the heart of the birthright were the covenant promises that Isaac had inherited from Abraham.

26:1–33 The events of some of these verses (e.g., vv. 1–11) occurred before the birth of Esau and Jacob. Verses 1–11 are placed here to highlight the fact that the birthright and blessing Jacob struggled to obtain from his father (see 25:22,31–33; 27:5–29) involved the covenant inheritance of Abraham that Isaac had received.

26:1 the earlier famine of Abraham's time. See 12:10. Abimelech. Probably the son or grandson of the earlier king who bore the same name (see 20:2). Philistines. See note on 10:14. Gerar. See note on 20:1.

26:2 appeared. See note on 12:7.

26:3 I will be with you. God's promise to be a sustainer and protector of his people is repeated often (see, e.g., v. 24; 28:15; 31:3; Jos 1:5; Isa 41:10; Jer 1:8,19; Mt 28:20; Ac 18:10; see also Ge 17:7 and note). the oath I swore to your father Abraham. See 22:16–18.

26:4 descendants as numerous as the stars in the sky. See 13:16; 15:5 and notes. through your offspring all nations on earth will be blessed. See note on 12:2–3.

26:5 because Abraham obeyed me. See note on 17:9. requirements . . . commands . . . decrees . . . laws. Legal language describing various aspects of the divine regulations that God's people were expected to keep (see Lev 26:14–15,46; Dt 11:1). Addressing Israel after the covenant at Sinai, the author of Genesis used language that strictly applied only to that covenant. But he emphasized to Israel that their father Abraham had been obedient to God's will in his time and that they must follow his example if they were to receive the covenant promises.

26:8 caressing. The word in Hebrew (a form of the verb translated "laugh" in 17:17; 18:12–13,15; 21:6 and "mock" in 21:9) is yet another pun on Isaac's name.

26:16 you have become too powerful for us. An indication that the covenant promises were being fulfilled. Already in the days of the patriarchs, the presence of God's people in the land was seen as a threat by the peoples of the world. As the world's people pursued their away from us;[b] you have become too powerful for us.[c]"

17So Isaac moved away from there and encamped in the Valley of Gerar[d] and settled there. 18Isaac reopened the wells[e] that had been dug in the time of his father Abraham, which the Philistines had stopped up after Abraham died, and he gave them the same names his father had given them.

19Isaac's servants dug in the valley and discovered a well of fresh water there. 20But the herdsmen of Gerar quarreled[f] with Isaac's herdsmen and said, "The water is ours!"[g] So he named the well Esek,[p] because they disputed with him. 21Then they dug another well, but they quarreled[h] over that one also; so he named it Sitnah.[q] 22He moved on from there and dug another well, and no one quarreled over it. He named it Rehoboth,[r][i] saying, "Now the LORD has given us room[j] and we will flourish[k] in the land."

23From there he went up to Beersheba.[l] 24That night the LORD appeared to him and said, "I am the God of your father Abraham.[m] Do not be afraid,[n] for I am with you;[o] I will bless you and will increase the number of your descendants[p] for the sake of my servant Abraham."[q]

26Meanwhile, Abimelech had come to him from Gerar, with Ahuzzath his personal adviser and Phicol the commander of his forces.[u] 27Isaac asked them, "Why have you come to me, since you were hostile to me and sent me away?[v]"

28They answered, "We saw clearly that the LORD was with you;[w] so we said, 'There ought to be a sworn agreement between us'—between us and you. Let us make a treaty[x] with you 29that you will do us no harm,[y] just as we did not molest you but always treated you well and sent you away in peace. And now you are blessed by the LORD."[z]

30Isaac then made a feast[a] for them, and they ate and drank. 31Early the next morning the men swore an oath[b] to each other. Then Isaac sent them on their way, and they left him in peace.

32That day Isaac's servants came and told him about the well[c] they had dug. They said, "We've found water!" 33He called it Shibah,[s] and to this day the name of the town has been Beersheba.[td]

34When Esau was forty years old,[e] he married Judith daughter of Beeri the Hittite, and also Basemath daughter of Elon the Hittite.[f] 35They were a source of grief to Isaac and Rebekah.[g]

Jacob Gets Isaac's Blessing

27 When Isaac was old and his eyes were so weak that he could no longer see,[h] he called for Esau his older son[i] and said to him, "My son."

"Here I am," he answered.

2Isaac said, "I am now an old man and don't know the day of my death.[j] 3Now then, get your weapons—your quiver and bow—and go out to the open country[k] to hunt some wild game for me. 4Prepare me the kind of tasty food I like[l] and bring it to me to eat, so that I may give you my blessing[m] before I die."[n]

5Now Rebekah was listening as Isaac

26:34 When Esau was forty years old, he married. As had his father Isaac (see 25:20). Forty years was roughly equivalent to a generation in later times (see Nu 32:13). Judith ... Basemath. In addition to these two wives, Esau also married Mahalath, "sister of Nebaioth and daughter of Ishmael" (28:9). The Esau genealogy of ch. 36 also mentions three wives, but they are identified as "Adah daughter of Elon the Hittite," "Oholibamah daughter of Anah ... the Hivite" and "Basemath daughter of Ishmael and sister of Nebaioth" (36:2–3). Possibly the lists have suffered in transmission, or perhaps alternate names or nicknames are used. It may also be that Esau married more than three wives.

26:35 They were a source of grief. Isaac and Rebekah were determined not to allow Jacob to make the same mistake of marrying Hittite or Canaanite women (see 27:46–28:2).

27:1 eyes were so weak that he could no longer see. In ancient times, blindness and near blindness were common among elderly people (see 48:10; 1Sa 4:15). Here I am. See note on 22:1.

27:4 the kind of tasty food I like. Rebekah and Jacob took advantage of Isaac's love for a certain kind of food (see vv. 9,14). give you my blessing before I die. Oral statements, including deathbed bequests (see 49:28–33), had legal force in ancient Near Eastern law. blessing. See note on v. 36.

27:5 listening. Eavesdropping.

spoke to his son Esau. When Esau left for the open country[o] to hunt game and bring it back, 6Rebekah said to her son Jacob,[p] "Look, I overheard your father say to your brother Esau, 7'Bring me some game and prepare me some tasty food to eat, so that I may give you my blessing in the presence of the LORD before I die.'[q] 8Now, my son, listen carefully and do what I tell you:[r] 9Go out to the flock and bring me two choice young goats,[s] so I can prepare some tasty food for your father, just the way he likes it.[t] 10Then take it to your father to eat, so that he may give you his blessing[u] before he dies."

11Jacob said to Rebekah his mother, "But my brother Esau is a hairy man,[v] and I'm a man with smooth skin. 12What if my father touches me?[w] I would appear to be tricking him and would bring down a curse[x] on myself rather than a blessing."

13His mother said to him, "My son, let the curse fall on me.[y] Just do what I say;[z] go and get them for me."

14So he went and got them and brought them to his mother, and she prepared some tasty food, just the way his father liked it.[a] 15Then Rebekah took the best clothes[b] of Esau her older son,[c] which she had in the house, and put them on her younger son Jacob. 16She also covered his hands and the smooth part of his neck with the goatskins.[d] 17Then she handed to her son Jacob the tasty food and the bread she had made.

18He went to his father and said, "My father."

"Yes, my son," he answered. "Who is it?"[e]

19Jacob said to his father, "I am Esau your firstborn.[f] I have done as you told me. Please sit up and eat some of my game[g] so that you may give me your blessing."[h]

20Isaac asked his son, "How did you find it so quickly, my son?"

"The LORD your God gave me success,[i]" he replied.

21Then Isaac said to Jacob, "Come near so I can touch you,[j] my son, to know whether you really are my son Esau or not."

22Jacob went close to his father Isaac,[k] who touched[l] him and said, "The voice is the voice of Jacob, but the hands are the hands of Esau." 23He did not recognize him, for his hands were hairy like those of his brother Esau;[m] so he blessed him. 24"Are you really my son Esau?" he asked.

"I am," he replied.

25Then he said, "My son, bring me some of your game to eat, so that I may give you my blessing."[n]

Jacob brought it to him and he ate; and he brought some wine and he drank. 26Then his father Isaac said to him, "Come here, my son, and kiss me."

27So he went to him and kissed[o] him[p]. When Isaac caught the smell of his clothes,[q] he blessed him and said,

"Ah, the smell of my son is like the smell of a field that the LORD has blessed.[r] 28May God give you of heaven's dew[s] and of earth's richness[t]— an abundance of grain[u] and new wine.[v]

27:6 Rebekah. Throughout the Jacob story the author develops a wordplay on "birthright" (bekorah) and "blessing" (berakah), both of which Jacob seeks to obtain; and Rebekah (ribqah) does her best to further the cause of her favorite son. said to her son Jacob. The parental favoritism mentioned in 25:28 is about to bear its poisonous fruit.

27:8 my son, . . . do what I tell you. Rebekah proves to be just as deceitful as Jacob, whose very name signifies deceit (see NIV text notes on v. 36; 25:26).

27:13 let the curse fall on me. Cf. the similar self-imprecation in Mt 27:25.

27:20 your God. Consistent with Jacob's language elsewhere (31:5,42; 32:9). Not until his safe return from Haran did he speak of the Lord as his own God (cf. 28:20–22; 33:18–20).

27:24 Are you really my son Esau? To the very end of the charade, Isaac remained suspicious.

27:27 kissed him. In his attempt to obtain the covenant blessing, Jacob the father of Israel betrayed with a kiss. Jesus the great Son of Israel, who ultimately obtained the blessing for Israel, was betrayed with a kiss (Mt 26:48–49; Lk 22:48).

27:29 Be lord over your brothers. Isaac was unwittingly blessing Jacob and thus fulfilling God's promise to Rebekah in 25:23.

JACOB

NAME MEANS: "He grasps the heel" (Ge 25:26)
BIRTH DATA: Born a twin with Esau; the two fought even in their mother's womb OCCUPATION: Shepherd, livestock owner
BEST KNOWN FOR:

- being notoriously deceptive; he tricked his brother Esau out of his inheritance
- earning the name "Israel," meaning "He struggles with God" (Ge 32:22–30)
- being the father of twelve sons who became the patriarchs of Israel's twelve tribes and those who bless you be blessed.[y]"

30After Isaac finished blessing him and Jacob had scarcely left his father's presence, his brother Esau came in from hunting. 31He too prepared some tasty food and brought it to his father. Then he said to him, "My father, sit up and eat some of my game, so that you may give me your blessing."[z]

32His father Isaac asked him, "Who are you?"[a]

"I am your son," he answered, "your firstborn, Esau.[b]"

33Isaac trembled violently and said, "Who was it, then, that hunted game and brought it to me?[c] I ate it just before you came and I blessed him—and indeed he will be blessed![d]"

35But he said, "Your brother came deceitfully[g] and took your blessing."[h]

36Esau said, "Isn't he rightly named Jacob[u]?[i] He has deceived[j] me these two times: He took my birthright,[k] and now he's taken my blessing!"[l] Then he asked, "Haven't you reserved any blessing for me?"

37Isaac answered Esau, "I have made him lord over you and have made all his relatives his servants, and I have sustained him with grain and new wine.[m] So what can I possibly do for you, my son?"

38Esau said to his father, "Do you have only one blessing, my father? Bless me too, my father!" Then Esau wept aloud.[n]

39His father Isaac answered him,[o]

"Your dwelling will be away from the earth's richness, away from the dew[p] of heaven above.[q] 40You will live by the sword and you will serve[r] your brother.[s]
But when you grow restless, you will throw his yoke from off your neck.[t]"

Jacob Flees to Laban

41Esau held a grudge[u] against Jacob[v] because of the blessing his father had given him. He said to himself, "The days of mourning[w] for my father are near; then I will kill[x] my brother Jacob."[y]

42When Rebekah was told what her older son Esau[z] had said, she sent for her younger son Jacob and said to him, "Your brother Esau is consoling himself with the thought of killing you.[a] 43Now then, my son, do what I say: Flee at once to my brother Laban[c] in Haran.[d] 44Stay with him for a while[e] until your brother's fury subsides. 45When your brother is no longer angry with you and forgets what you did to him,[f] I'll send word for you to come back from there.[g] Why should I lose both of you in one day?"

46Then Rebekah said to Isaac, "I'm disgusted with living because of these Hittite[h] women. If Jacob takes a wife from among the women of this land,[i] from Hittite women like these, my life will not be worth living."[j]

28 So Isaac called for Jacob and blessed[v k] him and commanded him: "Do not marry a Canaanite woman.[l] 2Go at once to Paddan Aram,[w m] to the house of your mother's father Bethuel.[n] Take a wife for yourself there, from among the daughters of Laban, your mother's brother.[o] 3May God Almighty[x p] bless[q] you and make you fruitful[r] and increase your numbers[s] until you become a community of peo-

[u] 36 Jacob means he grasps the heel (figuratively, he deceives). [v] 1 Or greeted [w] 2 That is, Northwest Mesopotamia; also in verses 5, 6 and 7 [x] 3 Hebrew El-Shaddai

27:33 indeed he will be blessed. The ancient world believed that blessings and curses had a kind of magical power to accomplish what they pronounced. But Isaac, as heir and steward of God's covenant blessing, acknowledged that he had solemnly transmitted that heritage to Jacob by way of a legally binding bequest (see note on v. 4).

27:34 loud and bitter cry. Esau's tears "could bring about no change of mind" (Heb 12:17).

27:36 Isn't he rightly named Jacob? See NIV text notes here and on 25:26. He took my birthright, and now he's taken my blessing! The Hebrew for "birthright" is bekorah, and for "blessing" it is berakah (see note on v. 6). Though Esau tried to separate birthright from blessing, the former led inevitably to the latter, since both involved the inheritance of the firstborn (see Heb 12:16–17).

27:39 away from the earth's richness, away from the dew of heaven. Cf. v. 28. Isaac's secondary blessing of Esau could be only a parody of his primary blessing of Jacob.

27:40 See 25:23 and notes on 25:22,26.

27:43 do what I say. Bad advice earlier (see vv. 8,13), but sensible counsel this time.

27:44 for a while. Twenty years, as it turned out (see 31:38,41).

27:45 both of you. Either Jacob and Isaac or Jacob and Esau, who would become a target for blood revenge if he killed Jacob (cf. 2Sa 14:6–7).

27:46 See note on 26:35.

28:2 Paddan Aram. Means "plain of Aram," another name for Aram Naharaim (see note on 24:10). Take a wife for yourself there. See 24:3–4.

28:3 God Almighty. See note on 17:1.

ples. [4]May he give you and your descendants the blessing given to Abraham,[t] so that you may take possession of the land[u] where you now live as an alien,[v] the land God gave to Abraham." [5]Then Isaac sent Jacob on his way,[w] and he went to Paddan Aram,[x] to Laban son of Bethuel the Aramean,[y] the brother of Rebekah,[z] who was the mother of Jacob and Esau.

[6]Now Esau learned that Isaac had blessed Jacob and had sent him to Paddan Aram to take a wife from there, and that when he blessed him he commanded him, "Do not marry a Canaanite woman,"[a] [7]and that Jacob had obeyed his father and mother and had gone to Paddan Aram. [8]Esau then realized how displeasing the Canaanite women[b] were to his father Isaac;[c] [9]so he went to Ishmael[d] and married Mahalath, the sister of Nebaioth[e] and daughter of Ishmael son of Abraham, in addition to the wives he already had.[f]

Jacob's Dream at Bethel

[10]Jacob left Beersheba[g] and set out for Haran.[h] [11]When he reached a certain place,[i] he stopped for the night because the sun had set. Taking one of the stones there, he put it under his head[j] and lay down to sleep. [12]He had a dream[k] in which he saw a stairway[y] resting on the earth, with its top reaching to heaven, and the angels of God were ascending and descending on it.[l] [13]There above it[z] stood the LORD,[m] and he said: "I am the LORD, the God of your father Abraham and the God of Isaac.[n] I will give you and your descendants the land[o] on which you are lying.[p] [14]Your descendants will be like the dust of the earth, and you[q] will spread out to the west and to the east, to the north and to the south.[r] All peoples on earth will be blessed through you and your offspring.[s] [15]I am with you[t] and will watch over you[u] [v] wherever you go,[w] and I will bring you back to this land.[x] I will not leave you[y] until I have done what I have promised you."[z] [a]

[16]When Jacob awoke from his sleep,[b] he thought, "Surely the LORD is in this place, and I was not aware of it." [17]He was afraid and said, "How awesome is this place![c] This is none other than the house of God;[d] this is the gate of heaven."

[18]Early the next morning Jacob took the stone he had placed under his head[e] and set it up as a pillar[f] and poured oil on top of it.[g] [19]He called that place Bethel,[a] [h] though the city used to be called Luz.[i]

[20]Then Jacob made a vow,[j] saying, "If God will be with me and will watch over me[k] on this journey I am taking and will give me food to eat and clothes to wear[l] [21]so that I return safely[m] to my father's house,[n] then the LORD[b] will be my God[o] [22]and[c] this stone that I have set up as a pillar[p] will be God's house,[q] and of all that you give me I will give you a tenth.[r]"

28:4 the blessing given to Abraham. For Paul's application of this phrase to Christian believers see Gal 3:14.

28:5 See map of "Jacob's Journeys," p. 53.

28:9 in addition to the wives he already had. See 26:34 and note.

28:11 one of the stones . . . under his head. In ancient times headrests (e.g., in Egypt) were often quite hard, sometimes being made of metal. People were used to sleeping on the ground.

28:12 stairway. Not a ladder with rungs, it was more likely a stairway such as mounted the sloping side of a ziggurat (see note on 11:4). angels of God were ascending and descending on it. A sign that the Lord offered to be Jacob's God. Jesus told a disciple that he would "see heaven open, and the angels of God ascending and descending on the Son of Man" (Jn 1:51). Jesus himself is the bridge between heaven and earth (see Jn 14:6), the only "mediator between God and men" (1Ti 2:5).

28:13 above it stood the LORD. Mesopotamian ziggurats were topped with a small shrine where worshipers prayed to their gods.

28:14 like the dust of the earth. See note on 13:16. All peoples on earth will be blessed through you. Repeats the blessing of 12:3.

28:15 I am with you. See note on 26:3. I will not leave you. Unlike the gods of pagan religions, in which the gods were merely local deities who gave protection only within their own territories, the one true God assured Jacob that he would always be with him wherever he went.

28:17 house of God . . . gate of heaven. Phrases that related Jacob's stairway to the Mesopotamian ziggurats (see notes on 11:4,9).

28:18 pillar. A memorial of worship or of communion between man and God, common in ancient times. poured oil on top of it. To consecrate it (see Ex 30:25–29).

28:21 return safely. Partially fulfilled in 33:18. the LORD will be my God. For the first time Jacob considered (conditionally: "If . . .") acknowledging the God of Abraham and Isaac (see v. 13; 27:20) as his own. His full acknowledgment came only after his safe return from Haran (see 33:20 and note).

28:22 this stone . . . will be God's house. In the sense that it would memorialize Jacob's meeting with God at Bethel (see NIV text note on v. 19). of all that you give me I will give you a tenth. A way of acknowledging the Lord as his God and King (see note on 14:20).

Jacob Arrives in Paddan Aram

29 Then Jacob continued on his journey and came to the land of the eastern peoples.[s] 2There he saw a well in the field, with three flocks of sheep lying near it because the flocks were watered from that well.[t] The stone[u] over the mouth of the well was large. 3When all the flocks were gathered there, the shepherds would roll the stone[v] away from the well's mouth and water the sheep.[w] Then they would return the stone to its place over the mouth of the well.

4Jacob asked the shepherds, "My brothers, where are you from?"[x]

"We're from Haran,[y]" they replied.

5He said to them, "Do you know Laban, Nahor's grandson?"[z]

"Yes, we know him," they answered.

6Then Jacob asked them, "Is he well?"

"Yes, he is," they said, "and here comes his daughter Rachel[a] with the sheep.[b]"

7"Look," he said, "the sun is still high; it is not time for the flocks to be gathered. Water the sheep and take them back to pasture."

8"We can't," they replied, "until all the flocks are gathered and the stone[c] has been rolled away from the mouth of the well. Then we will water[d] the sheep."

9While he was still talking with them, Rachel came with her father's sheep,[e] for she was a shepherdess. 10When Jacob saw Rachel[f] daughter of Laban, his mother's brother, and Laban's sheep, he went over and rolled the stone[g] away from the mouth of the well and watered[h] his uncle's sheep.[i] 11Then Jacob kissed[j] Rachel and began to weep aloud.[k] 12He had told Rachel that he was a relative[l] of her father and a son of Rebekah.[m] So she ran and told her father.[n]

13As soon as Laban[o] heard the news about Jacob, his sister's son, he hurried to meet him. He embraced him[p] and kissed him and brought him to his home, and there Jacob told him all these things.

14Then Laban said to him, "You are my own flesh and blood."[q]

Jacob Marries Leah and Rachel

After Jacob had stayed with him for a whole month, 15Laban said to him, "Just because you are a relative[r] of mine, should you work for me for nothing? Tell me what your wages[s] should be."

16Now Laban had two daughters; the name of the older was Leah,[t] and the name of the younger was Rachel.[u] 17Leah had weak[d] eyes, but Rachel[v] was lovely in form, and beautiful.[w] 18Jacob was in love with Rachel[x] and said, "I'll work for you seven years in return for your younger daughter Rachel."[y]

19Laban said, "It's better that I give her to you than to some other man. Stay here with me." 20So Jacob served seven years to get Rachel,[z] but they seemed like only a few days to him because of his love for her.[a]

21Then Jacob said to Laban, "Give me my wife. My time is completed, and I want to lie with her.[b]"

22So Laban brought together all the people of the place and gave a feast.[c] 23But when evening came, he took his daughter Leah[d] and gave her to Jacob, and Jacob lay with her. 24And Laban gave his servant girl Zilpah[e] to his daughter as her maidservant.[f]

25When morning came, there was Leah! So Jacob said to Laban, "What is this you have done to me?[g] I served you for Rachel, didn't I? Why have you deceived me?[h]"

26Laban replied, "It is not our custom here to give the younger daughter in marriage before the older one.[i] 27Finish this daughter's bridal week;[j] then we will give you the younger one also, in return for another seven years of work.[k]"

28And Jacob did so. He finished the week with Leah, and then Laban gave

29:5 Laban, Nahor's grandson. See 24:15,29. The Hebrew word here for "grandson" is lit. "son," which can refer to any male descendant (see NIV text note on 10:2).

29:9 shepherdess. The task of caring for sheep and goats in the Middle East was shared by men and women.

29:10 rolled the stone away. A feat of unusual strength for one man, because the stone was large (see v. 2).

29:11 weep aloud. For joy.

29:14 flesh and blood. The English equivalent of a Hebrew phrase that means lit. "bone and flesh" and that stresses blood kinship (see, e.g., 2:23).

29:16 Leah ... Rachel. The names mean "cow" and "ewe" respectively, appropriate in a herdsman's family.

29:21 my wife. If Jacob had said "Rachel," Laban would have had no excuse for giving him Leah.

29:22 feast. A wedding feast was usually seven days long (see vv. 27–28; Jdg 14:10,12).

29:23 when evening came ... Jacob lay with her. The darkness, or perhaps a veil (see 24:65), may have concealed Leah's identity.

29:24 See v. 29; a wedding custom documented in Old Babylonian marriage contracts.

29:25 you deceived me. Jacob, the deceiver in name (see NIV text notes on 25:26; 27:36) as well as in behavior (see 27:36), had himself been deceived. The one who had tried everything to obtain the benefits of the firstborn had now, against his will, received the firstborn (vv. 16,26).

29:28 then Laban gave him his daughter Rachel. Before Jacob worked another seven years (see v. 30).

him his daughter Rachel to be his wife.[l] [29]Laban gave his servant girl Bilhah[m] to his daughter Rachel as her maidservant.[n] [30]Jacob lay with Rachel also, and he loved Rachel more than Leah.[o] And he worked for Laban another seven years.[p]

Jacob's Children

[31]When the LORD saw that Leah was not loved,[q] he opened her womb,[r] but Rachel was barren. [32]Leah became pregnant and gave birth to a son.[s] She named him Reuben,[e][t] for she said, "It is because the LORD has seen my misery.[u] Surely my husband will love me now."

[33]She conceived again, and when she gave birth to a son she said, "Because the LORD heard that I am not loved,[v] he gave me this one too." So she named him Simeon.[f][w]

[34]Again she conceived, and when she gave birth to a son she said, "Now at last my husband will become attached to me,[x] because I have borne him three sons." So he was named Levi.[g][y]

[35]She conceived again, and when she gave birth to a son she said, "This time I will praise the LORD." So she named him Judah.[h][z] Then she stopped having children.[a]

30 When Rachel saw that she was not bearing Jacob any children,[b] she became jealous of her sister.[c] So she said to Jacob, "Give me children, or I'll die!"

[2]Jacob became angry with her and said, "Am I in the place of God,[d] who has kept you from having children?"[e]

[3]Then she said, "Here is Bilhah,[f] my maidservant.[g] Sleep with her so that she can bear children for me and that through her I too can build a family."[h]

[4]So she gave him her servant Bilhah as a wife.[i] Jacob slept with her,[j] [5]and she became pregnant and bore him a son. [6]Then Rachel said, "God has vindicated me;[k] he has listened to my plea and given me a son."[l] Because of this she named him Dan.[i][m]

[7]Rachel's servant Bilhah[n] conceived again and bore Jacob a second son. [8]Then Rachel said, "I have had a great struggle with my sister, and I have won."[o] So she named him Naphtali.[j][p]

[9]When Leah[q] saw that she had stopped having children,[r] she took her maidservant Zilpah[s] and gave her to Jacob as a wife.[t] [10]Leah's servant Zilpah[u] bore Jacob a son. [11]Then Leah said, "What good fortune!"[k] So she named him Gad.[l][v]

[12]Leah's servant Zilpah bore Jacob a second son. [13]Then Leah said, "How happy I am! The women will call me[w] happy."[x] So she named him Asher.[m][y]

[14]During wheat harvest,[z] Reuben went out into the fields and found some mandrake plants,[a] which he brought to his mother Leah. Rachel said to Leah, "Please give me some of your son's mandrakes."

[15]But she said to her, "Wasn't it enough[b] that you took away my husband? Will you take my son's mandrakes too?"

"Very well," Rachel said, "he can sleep with you tonight in return for your son's mandrakes."[c]

[16]So when Jacob came in from the fields that evening, Leah went out to meet him. "You must sleep with me,"

29:30 Jacob . . . loved Rachel more than Leah. Not only because Rachel had been his choice from the beginning but also, no doubt, because Laban had tricked Jacob into marrying Leah.

29:31–35 Leah, though unloved, nevertheless became the mother of Jacob's first four sons, including Levi (ancestor of the Aaronic priestly line) and Judah (ancestor of David and his royal line, and ultimately of Jesus).

29:32 named him Reuben . . . because the LORD has seen my misery. Ishmael had received his name in similar circumstances (see 16:11).

30:1 she became jealous of her sister. As Jacob was of his older brother. Give me children, or I'll die! Tragically prophetic words (see 35:16–19).

30:2 Am I in the place of God . . . ? Jacob was forever trying to secure the blessing by his own efforts. Here he has to acknowledge that the blessing of offspring could come only from God (see 31:7–13 for the blessing of flocks). Joseph later echoed these words (see 50:19).

30:3 Sleep with her. See v. 9; see also 16:2 and note. for me. Lit. "on my knees," apparently an expression symbolic of adoption (see 48:10–16) and meaning "as though my own" (see 50:23 and NIV text note).

30:4 as a wife. As a concubine (see 35:22).

30:5–12 Jacob's fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth sons were born to him through his maidservant concubines.

30:14 give me some of your son's mandrakes. The mandrake has fleshy, forked roots that resemble the lower part of a human body and were therefore superstitiously thought to induce pregnancy when eaten (see SS 7:13). Rachel, like Jacob (vv. 37–43), tried to obtain what she wanted by magical means.

30:16 hired. The Hebrew for this word is a pun on the name Issachar (see NIV text note on v. 18).

she said. "I have hired you with my son's mandrakes."[d] So he slept with her that night.

[17]God listened to Leah,[e] and she became pregnant and bore Jacob a fifth son. [18]Then Leah said, "God has rewarded me for giving my maidservant to my husband."[f] So she named him Issachar.[ng]

[19]Leah conceived again and bore Jacob a sixth son. [20]Then Leah said, "God has presented me with a precious gift. This time my husband will treat me with honor,[h] because I have borne him six sons." So she named him Zebulun.[oi]

[21]Some time later she gave birth to a daughter and named her Dinah.[j]

[22]Then God remembered Rachel;[k] he listened to her[l] and opened her womb.[m] [23]She became pregnant and gave birth to a son[n] and said, "God has taken away my disgrace."[o] [24]She named him Joseph,[pp] and said, "May the LORD add to me another son."[q]

Jacob's Flocks Increase

[25]After Rachel gave birth to Joseph, Jacob said to Laban, "Send me on my way[r] so I can go back to my own homeland.[s] [26]Give me my wives and children, for whom I have served you,[t] and I will be on my way. You know how much work I've done for you."

[27]But Laban said to him, "If I have found favor in your eyes,[u] please stay. I have learned by divination[v] that[q] the LORD has blessed me because of you."[w] [28]He added, "Name your wages,[x] and I will pay them."

[29]Jacob said to him, "You know how I have worked for you[y] and how your livestock has fared under my care.[z] [30]The little you had before I came has increased greatly, and the LORD has blessed you wherever I have been.[a] But now, when may I do something for my own household?[b]"

[31]"What shall I give you?" he asked.

"Don't give me anything," Jacob replied. "But if you will do this one thing for me, I will go on tending your flocks and watching over them: [32]Let me go through all your flocks today and remove from them every speckled or spotted sheep, every dark-colored lamb and every spotted or speckled goat.[c] They will be my wages.[d] [33]And my honesty will testify for me in the future, whenever you check on the wages you have paid me. Any goat in my possession that is not speckled or spotted, or any lamb that is not dark-colored,[e] will be considered stolen.[f]"

[34]"Agreed," said Laban. "Let it be as you have said." [35]That same day he removed all the male goats that were streaked or spotted, and all the speckled or spotted female goats (all that had white on them) and all the dark-colored lambs,[g] and he placed them in the care of his sons.[h] [36]Then he put a three-day journey[i] between himself and Jacob, while Jacob continued to tend the rest of Laban's flocks.

[37]Jacob, however, took fresh-cut branches from poplar, almond[j] and plane trees[k] and made white stripes on them by peeling the bark and exposing the white inner wood of the branches.[l] [38]Then he placed the peeled branches[m] in all the watering troughs,[n] so that they would be directly in front of the flocks when they came to drink. When the flocks were in heat[o] and came to drink, [39]they mated in front of the branches.[p] And they bore young that were streaked or speckled or spotted.[q] [40]Jacob set apart the young of the flock by themselves, but made the rest face the streaked and dark-colored animals[r] that belonged to Laban. Thus he made sepa-

30:17–20 Jacob's ninth and tenth sons were born through Leah, who was thus the mother of half of Jacob's 12 sons (see note on 29:31–35).

30:20 presented ... gift. The Hebrew terms for these words are puns on the name Zebulun (see NIV text note).

30:21 Dinah. See ch. 34.

30:22 God remembered Rachel. See note on 8:1.

30:23 disgrace. Barrenness was considered to be shameful, a mark of divine disfavor (see 16:2; 30:2).

30:24 May the LORD add to me another son. The fulfillment of Rachel's wish would bring about her death (see 35:16–19).

30:27 divination. The attempt to discover hidden knowledge through mechanical means (see 44:5), the interpretation of omens (see Eze 21:21) or the aid of supernatural powers (see Ac 16:16). It was strictly forbidden to Israel (Lev 19:26; Dt 18:10,14) because it reflected a pagan concept of the world controlled by evil forces, and therefore obviously not under the sovereign rule of the Lord. the LORD has blessed me because of you. Cf. 21:22; 26:28–29. The offspring of Abraham were a source of blessing (see 12:2).

30:35 he removed. Secretly and without telling Jacob.

30:37 poplar ... white. The Hebrew terms for these words are puns on the name Laban. As Jacob had gotten the best of Esau (whose other name, Edom, means "red"; see note on 25:25) by means of red stew (25:30), so he now tries to get the best of Laban (whose name means "white") by means of white branches. In effect, Jacob was using Laban's own tactic (deception) against him.

30:39 The scheme worked—but only because of God's intervention (see Jacob's own admission in 31:9), not because of Jacob's superstition.

rate flocks for himself and did not put them with Laban's animals. 41Whenever the stronger females were in heat,[s] Jacob would place the branches in the troughs in front of the animals so they would mate near the branches,[t] 42but if the animals were weak, he would not place them there. So the weak animals went to Laban and the strong ones to Jacob.[u] 43In this way the man grew exceedingly prosperous and came to own large flocks, and maidservants and menservants, and camels and donkeys.[v]

Jacob Flees From Laban

31 Jacob heard that Laban's sons[w] were saying, "Jacob has taken everything our father owned and has gained all this wealth from what belonged to our father."[x] 2And Jacob noticed that Laban's attitude toward him was not what it had been.[y]

3Then the LORD said to Jacob, "Go back[z] to the land of your fathers and to your relatives, and I will be with you."[a]

4So Jacob sent word to Rachel and Leah to come out to the fields where his flocks were. 5He said to them, "I see that your father's[b] attitude toward me is not what it was before,[c] but the God of my father has been with me.[d] 6You know that I've worked for your father with all my strength,[e] 7yet your father has cheated[f] me by changing my wages[g] ten times.[h] However, God has not allowed him to harm me.[i] 8If he said, 'The speckled ones will be your wages,' then all the flocks gave birth to speckled young; and if he said, 'The streaked ones will be your wages,'[j] then all the flocks bore streaked young. 9So God has taken away your father's livestock[k] and has given them to me.[l]

10"In breeding season I once had a dream[m] in which I looked up and saw that the male goats mating with the flock were streaked, speckled or spotted. 11The angel of God[n] said to me in the dream,[o] 'Jacob.' I answered, 'Here I am.'[p] 12And he said, 'Look up and see that all the male goats mating with the flock are streaked, speckled or spotted,[q] for I have seen all that Laban has been doing to you.[r] 13I am the God of Bethel,[s] where you anointed a pillar[t] and where you made a vow[u] to me. Now leave this land at once and go back to your native land.[v]' "

14Then Rachel and Leah replied, "Do we still have any share[w] in the inheritance of our father's estate? 15Does he not regard us as foreigners?[x] Not only has he sold us, but he has used up what was paid for us.[y] 16Surely all the wealth that God took away from our father belongs to us and our children.[z] So do whatever God has told you."

17Then Jacob put his children and his wives[a] on camels,[b] 18and he drove all his livestock ahead of him, along with all the goods he had accumulated[c] in Paddan Aram,[rd] to go to his father Isaac[e] in the land of Canaan.[f]

19When Laban had gone to shear his sheep,[g] Rachel stole her father's household gods.[h] 20Moreover, Jacob deceived[i] Laban the Aramean[j] by not telling him he was running away.[k] 21So he fled[l] with all he had, and crossing the River,[sm] he headed for the hill country of Gilead.[n]

Laban Pursues Jacob

22On the third day[o] Laban was told that Jacob had fled.[p] 23Taking his relatives[q] with him[r], he pursued Jacob for seven days and caught up with him in the hill country of Gilead.[s] 24Then God

30:43 the man grew exceedingly prosperous. Over a period of six years (see 31:41). While in Haran Jacob obtained both family and wealth.

31:3 Go back to the land of your fathers. Every sign Jacob was getting—from his wives (see vv. 14–16), from Laban (see v. 2), from Laban's sons (see v. 1) and now from God himself—told him that it was time to return to Canaan. I will be with you. See note on 26:3.

31:19 household gods. Small portable idols, which Rachel probably stole because she thought they would bring her protection and blessing. Or perhaps she wanted to have something tangible to worship on the long journey ahead, a practice referred to much later in the writings of Josephus, a first-century Jewish historian. In any case, Rachel was not yet free of her pagan background (see 35:2; Jos 24:2).

31:21 So he fled. As he had fled earlier from Esau (27:42–43). Jacob's devious dealings produced only hostility from which he had to flee. Gilead. A fertile region southeast of the Sea of Galilee.

[25]Jacob had pitched his tent in the hill country of Gilead[w] when Laban overtook him, and Laban and his relatives camped there too. [26]Then Laban said to Jacob, "What have you done?[x] You've deceived me,[y] and you've carried off my daughters like captives in war.[z] [27]Why did you run off secretly and deceive me? Why didn't you tell me,[a] so I could send you away with joy and singing to the music of tambourines[b] and harps?[c] [28]You didn't even let me kiss my grandchildren and my daughters good-by.[d] You have done a foolish thing. ## Jacob's Journeys

The Euphrates-Balikh River basin was Jacob's destination as he fled from Esau, ultimately reaching the home of his maternal uncle (Laban) near Haran.

His lengthy sojourn ended in a dispute with Laban and another flight—this time back to Canaan. His route likely took him toward Aleppo, then to Damascus and Edrei before reaching Peniel on the Jabbok River.

He and his dependents reached the hill country of Gilead before their caravan was overtaken by Laban. The covenant at Mizpah was celebrated on one of the hills later used as a border station between Aramean and Israelite territories.

Jacob tarried at Succoth, entered Canaan and proceeded to Shechem, where he erected an altar to the Lord.

them inside her camel's saddle[r] and was sitting on them. Laban searched[s] through everything in the tent but found nothing.

35Rachel said to her father, "Don't be angry, my lord, that I cannot stand up in your presence;[t] I'm having my period.[u]" So he searched but could not find the household gods.[v]

36Jacob was angry and took Laban to task. "What is my crime?" he asked Laban. "What sin have I committed[w] that you hunt me down?[x] 37Now that you have searched through all my goods, what have you found that belongs to your household?[y] Put it here in front of your relatives[z] and mine, and let them judge between the two of us.[a]

38"I have been with you for twenty years now.[b] Your sheep and goats have not miscarried,[c] nor have I eaten rams from your flocks. 39I did not bring you animals torn by wild beasts; I bore the loss myself. And you demanded payment from me for whatever was stolen[d] by day or night.[e] 40This was my situation: The heat consumed me in the daytime and the cold at night, and sleep fled from my eyes.[f] 41It was like this for the twenty years[g] I was in your household. I worked for you fourteen years for your two daughters[h] and six years for your flocks,[i] and you changed my wages[j] ten times.[k] 42If the God of my father,[l] the God of Abraham[m] and the Fear of Isaac,[n] had not been with me,[o] you would surely have sent me away empty-handed. But God has seen my hardship and the toil of my hands,[p] and last night he rebuked you.[q]"

43Laban answered Jacob, "The women are my daughters, the children are my children, and the flocks are my flocks.[r] All you see is mine. Yet what can I do today about these daughters of mine, or about the children they have borne? 44Come now, let's make a covenant,[s] you and I, and let it serve as a witness between us."[t]

45So Jacob took a stone and set it up as a pillar.[u] 46He said to his relatives, "Gather some stones." So they took stones and piled them in a heap,[v] and they ate there by the heap. 47Laban called it Jegar Sahadutha,[t] and Jacob called it Galeed.[u w]

48Laban said, "This heap[x] is a witness between you and me today."[y] That is why it was called Galeed. 49It was also called Mizpah,[v z] because he said, "May the LORD keep watch between you and me when we are away from each other. 50If you mistreat[a] my daughters or if you take any wives besides my daughters, even though no one is with us, remember that God is a witness[b] between you and me."[c]

51Laban also said to Jacob, "Here is this heap,[d] and here is this pillar[e] I have set up between you and me. 52This heap is a witness, and this pillar is a witness,[f] that I will not go past this heap to your side to harm you and that you will not go past this heap[g] and pillar to my side to harm me.[h] 53May the God of Abraham[i] and the God of Nahor,[j] the God of their father, judge between us."[k]

So Jacob took an oath[l] in the name of the Fear of his father Isaac.[m] 54He offered a sacrifice[n] there in the hill country and invited his relatives to a meal.[o] After they had eaten, they spent the night there.

[3]Jacob sent messengers[v] ahead of him to his brother Esau[w] in the land of Seir,[x] the country of Edom.[y] [4]He instructed them: "This is what you are to say to my master[z] Esau: 'Your servant[a] Jacob says, I have been staying with Laban[b] and have remained there till now. [5]I have cattle and donkeys, sheep and goats, menservants and maidservants.[c] Now I am sending this message to my lord,[d] that I may find favor in your eyes.[e]' "

[6]When the messengers returned to Jacob, they said, "We went to your brother Esau, and now he is coming to meet you, and four hundred men are with him."[f]

[7]In great fear[g] and distress[h] Jacob divided the people who were with him into two groups,[xi] and the flocks and herds and camels as well. [8]He thought, "If Esau comes and attacks one group,[y] the group[y] that is left may escape."

[9]Then Jacob prayed, "O God of my father Abraham,[j] God of my father Isaac,[k] O LORD, who said to me, 'Go back to your country and your relatives, and I will make you prosper,'[l] [10]I am unworthy of all the kindness and faithfulness[m] you have shown your servant. I had only my staff[n] when I crossed this Jordan, but now I have become two groups.[o] [11]Save me, I pray, from the hand of my brother Esau, for I am afraid[p] he will come and attack me,[q] and also the mothers with their children.[r] [12]But you have said, 'I will surely make you prosper and will make your descendants like the sand[s] of the sea, which cannot be counted.[t]' "

[13]He spent the night there, and from what he had with him he selected a gift[u] for his brother Esau: [14]two hundred female goats and twenty male goats, two hundred ewes and twenty rams,[v] [15]thirty female camels with their young, forty cows and ten bulls, and twenty female donkeys and ten male donkeys.[w] [16]He put them in the care of his servants, each herd by itself, and said to his servants, "Go ahead of me, and keep some space between the herds."[x]

[17]He instructed the one in the lead: "When my brother Esau meets you and asks, 'To whom do you belong, and where are you going, and who owns all these animals in front of you?' [18]then you are to say, 'They belong to your servant[y] Jacob. They are a gift[z] sent to my lord Esau, and he is coming behind us.' "

[19]He also instructed the second, the third and all the others who followed the herds: "You are to say the same thing to Esau when you meet him. [20]And be sure to say, 'Your servant[a] Jacob is coming behind us.' " For he thought, "I will pacify him with these gifts[b] I am sending on ahead;[c] later, when I see him, perhaps he will receive me."[d] [21]So Jacob's gifts[e] went on ahead of him, but he himself spent the night in the camp.

Jacob Wrestles With God

[22]That night Jacob got up and took his two wives, his two maidservants and his eleven sons[f] and crossed the ford of the Jabbok.[g] [23]After he had sent them across the stream, he sent over all his possessions.[h] [24]So Jacob was left

[w] 2 Mahanaim means two camps. [x] 7 Or camps; also in verse 10 [y] 8 Or camp

God, whom he had seen at Bethel when he was fleeing from Esau to go to Laban (28:12). Thus God was with Jacob, as he had promised (see 28:15; 31:3; see also note on 26:3).

32:2 Mahanaim. Located in Gilead (see note on 31:21) east of the Jordan and north of the Jabbok (see note on v. 22). Two camps (see NIV text note) had just met in hostility and separated in peace. Two camps were again about to meet (in hostility, Jacob thought) and separate in peace. But Jacob called this crucial place "two camps" after seeing the angelic encampment, suggesting that he saw God's encampment as a divine assurance. God's host had come to escort him safely to Canaan (see 33:12,15). Yet he also feared meeting with Esau, so he divided his household into two camps (see vv. 7,10 and NIV text note on v. 7), still trying to protect himself by his own devices.

32:3 Seir . . . Edom. Far to the south of Jacob's ultimate destination, but he assumed that Esau would come seeking revenge as soon as he heard that Jacob was on his way back.

32:4 Your servant. A phrase suggesting both courtesy and humility.

32:6 four hundred. A round number for a sizable unit of fighting men (see 1Sa 22:2; 25:13; 30:10).

32:9 Jacob prayed. His first recorded prayer since leaving Bethel.

32:11 mothers with their children. Jacob was afraid that Esau's wrath would extend to Jacob's family as well.

32:12 your descendants like the sand of the sea. A reference to God's promise in 28:14 (see 22:17 and note).

32:13 gift. Probably a wordplay: Out of his "two camps" (Hebrew maḥanayim, v. 2; see vv. 7–8,10) Jacob selects a "gift" (minḥah) for his brother.

32:22 Jabbok. Today called the Wadi Zerqa, flowing westward into the Jordan about 20 miles north of the Dead Sea.

32:24 left alone. As he had been at Bethel (28:10–22). a man. God himself (as Jacob eventually realized; see v. 30) in the form of an angel (see Hos 12:3–4 and note on Ge 16:7). wrestled. God wrestled (ye'abeq) with Jacob (ya'aqob) by the Jabbok (yabboq)—the author delighted in wordplay. Jacob had struggled all his life to prevail, first with Esau, then with Laban. Now, as he was about to reenter Canaan, he was shown that it was with God that he must "wrestle." It was God who held his destiny in his hands.

alone,[i] and a man[j] wrestled with him till daybreak. [25]When the man saw that he could not overpower him, he touched the socket of Jacob's hip[k] so that his hip was wrenched as he wrestled with the man. [26]Then the man said, "Let me go, for it is daybreak."

But Jacob replied, "I will not let you go unless you bless me."[l]

[27]The man asked him, "What is your name?"

"Jacob,"[m] he answered.

[28]Then the man said, "Your name[n] will no longer be Jacob, but Israel,[zo] because you have struggled with God and with men and have overcome."[p]

[29]Jacob said, "Please tell me your name."[q]

But he replied, "Why do you ask my name?"[r] Then he blessed[s] him there.

[30]So Jacob called the place Peniel,[a] saying, "It is because I saw God face to face,[t] and yet my life was spared."

[31]The sun rose above him as he passed Peniel,[bu] and he was limping because of his hip. [32]Therefore to this day the Israelites do not eat the tendon attached to the socket of the hip,[v] because the socket of Jacob's hip was touched near the tendon.

Jacob Meets Esau

33 Jacob looked up and there was Esau, coming with his four hundred men;[w] so he divided the children among Leah, Rachel and the two maidservants.[x] [2]He put the maidservants and their children[y] in front, Leah and her children next, and Rachel and Joseph[z] in the rear. [3]He himself went on ahead and bowed down to the ground[a] seven times[b] as he approached his brother.

[4]But Esau[c] ran to meet Jacob and embraced him; he threw his arms around his neck and kissed him.[d] And they wept.[e] [5]Then Esau looked up and saw the women and children. "Who are these with you?" he asked.

Jacob answered, "They are the children God has graciously given your servant.[f]"

[6]Then the maidservants and their children[g] approached and bowed down.[h] [7]Next, Leah and her children[i] came and bowed down.[j] Last of all came Joseph and Rachel,[k] and they too bowed down.

[8]Esau asked, "What do you mean by all these droves I met?"[l]

"To find favor in your eyes, my lord,"[m] he said.

[9]But Esau said, "I already have plenty,[n] my brother. Keep what you have for yourself."

[10]"No, please!" said Jacob. "If I have found favor in your eyes,[o] accept this gift[p] from me. For to see your face is like seeing the face of God,[q] now that you have received me favorably.[r] [11]Please accept the present[s] that was

[z]28 Israel means he struggles with God. [a]30 Peniel means face of God. [b]31 Hebrew Penuel, a variant of Peniel

32:25 could not overpower him ... touched the socket. God came to him in such a form that Jacob could wrestle with him successfully, yet he showed Jacob that he could disable him at will.

32:26 I will not let you go. Jacob's persistence was soon rewarded (v. 29). unless you bless me. Jacob finally acknowledged that the blessing must come from God.

32:28 Your name will no longer be Jacob. Now that Jacob had acknowledged God as the source of blessing and was about to reenter the promised land, the Lord acknowledged Jacob as his servant by changing his name (see 17:5 and note). Israel. See NIV text note. Here in Father Jacob/Israel, the nation of Israel got her name and her characterization: the people who struggle with God (memorialized in the name Israel) and with men (memorialized in the name Jacob) and overcome. God later confirmed Jacob's new name (35:10).

32:29 Why do you ask my name? Such a request of God is both unworthy and impossible to fulfill (see Jdg 13:17–18).

32:30 I saw God face to face, and yet my life was spared. See note on 16:13; see also Jdg 6:22–23; 13:22. Only God's "back" (see Ex 33:23) or "feet" (see Ex 24:10) or "form" (see Nu 12:8), in a symbolic sense, may be seen.

32:32 do not eat the tendon. Probably the sciatic muscle. Mentioned nowhere else in the Bible, this dietary prohibition is found in the later writings of Judaism. Jacob retained in his body, and Israel retained in her dietary practice, a perpetual reminder of this fateful encounter with God.

33:2 Rachel and Joseph in the rear. Jacob wanted to keep his favorite wife and child farthest away from potential harm.

33:3 bowed down to the ground seven times. A sign of total submission, documented also in texts found at Tell el-Amarna in Egypt and dating to the 14th century B.C. (see chart on "Ancient Texts Relating to the OT," p. xxii).

33:4 All Jacob's fears proved unfounded. God had been at work and had so blessed Esau (v. 9) that he no longer held a grudge against Jacob.

33:9 my brother. Esau's generous and loving response was in contrast to Jacob's cautious and fearful "my lord" (v. 8).

33:11 present. The Hebrew for "present" is the same as that used for "blessing" in 27:35. The author of Genesis was conscious of the irony that Jacob now acknowledged that the blessing he had struggled for was from God. In his brought to you, for God has been gracious to me[t] and I have all I need."[u] And because Jacob insisted,[v] Esau accepted it.

12Then Esau said, "Let us be on our way; I'll accompany you."

13But Jacob said to him, "My lord[w] knows that the children are tender and that I must care for the ewes and cows that are nursing their young.[x] If they are driven hard just one day, all the animals will die. 14So let my lord go on ahead of his servant, while I move along slowly at the pace of the droves[y] before me and that of the children, until I come to my lord in Seir.[z]"

15Esau said, "Then let me leave some of my men with you."

"But why do that?" Jacob asked. "Just let me find favor in the eyes of my lord."[a]

18After Jacob came from Paddan Aram,[dd] he arrived safely at the[e] city of Shechem[e] in Canaan and camped within sight of the city. 19For a hundred pieces of silver,[f] he bought from the sons of Hamor,[f] the father of Shechem,[g] the plot of ground[h] where he pitched his tent.[i] 20There he set up an altar[j] and called it El Elohe Israel.[g]

Dinah and the Shechemites

34 Now Dinah,[k] the daughter Leah had borne to Jacob, went out to visit the women of the land. 2When Shechem[l] son of Hamor[m] the Hivite,[n] the ruler of that area, saw her, he took her and violated her.[o] 3His heart was drawn to Dinah[p] daughter of Jacob,[q] and he loved[r] the girl and spoke tenderly[s] to her. 4And Shechem said to his father Hamor, "Get me this girl as my wife."[t]

5When Jacob heard that his daughter Dinah had been defiled,[u] his sons were in the fields with his livestock; so he kept quiet about it until they came home.

6Then Shechem's father Hamor went out to talk with Jacob.[v] 7Now Jacob's sons had come in from the fields as soon as they heard what had happened. They were filled with grief[w] and fury,[x] because Shechem had done a disgraceful thing in[h] Israel[y] by lying with Jacob's daughter—a thing that should not be done.[z]

8But Hamor said to them, "My son Shechem has his heart set on your daughter. Please give her to him as his wife.[a] 9Intermarry with us; give us your daughters and take our daughters for yourselves.[b] 10You can settle among us;[c] the land is open to you.[d] Live in it, trade[i] in it,[e] and acquire property in it.[f]"

11Then Shechem said to Dinah's father and brothers, "Let me find favor in your eyes,[g] and I will give you whatever you ask. 12Make the price for the bride[h] and the gift I am to bring as great as you like, and I'll pay whatever you ask me. Only give me the girl as my wife."

13Because their sister Dinah had been defiled,[i] Jacob's sons replied deceitfullast attempt to express reconciliation with Esau, Jacob in a sense gave back the "blessing" he had stolen from his brother, doing so from the blessings the Lord had given him.

33:14 until I come to my lord in Seir. But Jacob, still the deceiver, had no intention of following Esau all the way to Seir.

33:18 Paddan Aram. Means "plain of Aram," another name for Aram Naharaim (see note on 24:10). arrived safely. The answer to Jacob's prayer of 20 years earlier (see 28:21). Shechem. An important city in central Canaan, first built and inhabited during the patriarchal period. Jacob followed in the footsteps of Father Abraham (see 12:6). Jacob dug a well there (see Jn 4:5–6) that can still be seen today.

33:19 pieces of silver. See NIV text note. The Hebrew word translated by this phrase is always found in patriarchal contexts (see Jos 24:32; Job 42:11).

33:20 set up an altar. See note on 12:7. called it El Elohe Israel. See NIV text note. Jacob formally acknowledged the God of his fathers as his God also (see 28:21). But he lingered at Shechem and did not return to Bethel (see 35:1), and that meant trouble (see ch. 34).

34:1–31 The name of God ends ch. 33 and begins ch. 35, but it is completely absent from this sordid chapter (see note on 7:16).

34:2 Shechem. See 33:19. He was probably named after the city.

34:4 Get me this girl as my wife. See note on 21:21.

34:7 Israel. The clan of Israel. a thing that should not be done. Cf. Tamar's plea to Amnon in a similar situation (2Sa 13:12).

34:9 Intermarry with us. The Canaanites wanted to absorb Israel (see v. 16) in order to benefit from the blessings Jacob had received from the Lord (both his offspring and his possessions—vv. 21–23). This was a danger Israel constantly faced from other peoples and nations—either absorption or hostility, both of which are perpetual threats to the people of God.

34:12 the price for the bride and the gift I am to bring. For a specific example of this marriage custom see 24:53.

34:13 Jacob's sons replied deceitfully. Like father, like son (see 27:24; see also note on 25:26).

ly[j] as they spoke to Shechem and his father Hamor. 14They said to them, "We can't do such a thing; we can't give our sister to a man who is not circumcised.[k] That would be a disgrace to us. 15We will give our consent to you on one condition[l] only: that you become like us by circumcising all your males.[m] 16Then we will give you our daughters and take your daughters for ourselves.[n] We'll settle among you and become one people with you.[o] 17But if you will not agree to be circumcised, we'll take our sister[i] and go."

18Their proposal seemed good to Hamor and his son Shechem. 19The young man, who was the most honored[p] of all his father's household, lost no time in doing what they said, because he was delighted with Jacob's daughter.[q] 20So Hamor and his son Shechem went to the gate of their city[r] to speak to their fellow townsmen. 21"These men are friendly toward us," they said. "Let them live in our land and trade in it;[s] the land has plenty of room for them. We can marry their daughters and they can marry ours.[t] 22But the men will consent to live with us as one people only on the condition that our males be circumcised,[u] as they themselves are. 23Won't their livestock, their property and all their other animals become ours?[v] So let us give our consent to them, and they will settle among us.[w]"

25Three days later, while all of them were still in pain,[y] two of Jacob's sons, Simeon[z] and Levi,[a] Dinah's brothers, took their swords[b] and attacked the unsuspecting city,[c] killing every male.[d] 26They put Hamor and his son Shechem to the sword[e] and took Dinah[f] from Shechem's house and left. 27The sons of Jacob came upon the dead bodies and looted the city[g] where[k] their sister had been defiled.[h] 28They seized their flocks and herds and donkeys[i] and everything else of theirs in the city and out in the fields.[j] 29They carried off all their wealth and all their women and children,[k] taking as plunder[l] everything in the houses.[m]

30Then Jacob said to Simeon and Levi, "You have brought trouble[n] on me by making me a stench[o] to the Canaanites and Perizzites, the people living in this land.[p] We are few in number,[q] and if they join forces against me and attack me, I and my household will be destroyed."

31But they replied, "Should he have treated our sister like a prostitute?[r]"

Jacob Returns to Bethel

35 Then God said to Jacob, "Go up to Bethel[s] and settle there, and build an altar[t] there to God,[u] who appeared to you[v] when you were fleeing from your brother Esau."[w]

2So Jacob said to his household[x] and to all who were with him, "Get rid of the foreign gods[y] you have with you, and purify yourselves and change your clothes.[z] 3Then come, let us go up to Bethel, where I will build an altar to God,[a] who answered me in the day of my distress[b] and who has been with me wherever I have gone."[c] 4So they gave Jacob all the foreign gods they had and the rings in their ears,[d] and Jacob buried them under the oak[e] at Shechem.[f] 5Then they set out, and the terror of God[g] fell upon the towns all around them so that no one pursued them.[h]

6Jacob and all the people with him came to Luz[i] (that is, Bethel) in the land of Canaan.[j] 7There he built an altar,[k] and he called the place El Bethel,[l] because it was there that God revealed himself to him[m] when he was fleeing from his brother.[n]

34:23 The greed of the men of Shechem led to their destruction.

34:24 The Canaanites were even willing to submit to Israel's covenant rite in order to attain their purposes.

34:25 Simeon and Levi. Because they slaughtered the men of Shechem, their own descendants would be scattered far and wide (see note on 49:7). Dinah's brothers. All three were children of Leah (29:33–34; 30:21). killing every male. Shechem's crime, serious as it was, hardly warranted such brutal and extensive retaliation (see vv. 27–29).

34:30 Perizzites. See note on 13:7.

died and was buried under the oak[p] below Bethel.[q] So it was named Allon Bacuth.[m]

9After Jacob returned from Paddan Aram,[n r] God appeared to him again and blessed him.[s] 10God said to him, "Your name is Jacob,[o] but you will no longer be called Jacob; your name will be Israel.[p]"[t] So he named him Israel.

11And God said to him, "I am God Almighty[q];[u] be fruitful and increase in number.[v] A nation[w] and a community of nations will come from you, and kings will come from your body.[x] 12The land I gave to Abraham and Isaac I also give to you, and I will give this land to your descendants after you.[y]"[z] 13Then God went up from him[a] at the place where he had talked with him.

14Jacob set up a stone pillar[b] at the place where God had talked with him, and he poured out a drink offering[c] on it; he also poured oil on it.[d] 15Jacob called the place where God had talked with him Bethel.[re]

The Deaths of Rachel and Isaac

35:23–26pp — 1Ch 2:1–2

16Then they moved on from Bethel. While they were still some distance from Ephrath,[f] Rachel[g] began to give birth and had great difficulty. 17And as she was having great difficulty in childbirth, the midwife[h] said to her, "Don't be afraid, for you have another son."[i] 18As she breathed her last—for she was dying—she named her son Ben-Oni.[sj] But his father named him Benjamin.[tk]

19So Rachel died and was buried on the way to Ephrath[l] (that is, Bethlehem[m]). 20Over her tomb Jacob set up a pillar, and to this day[n] that pillar marks Rachel's tomb.[o]

21Israel moved on again and pitched his tent beyond Migdal Eder.[p] 22While Israel was living in that region, Reuben went in and slept with his father's concubine[q] Bilhah,[r] and Israel heard of it.

Jacob had twelve sons:

23The sons of Leah:[s]
Reuben the firstborn[t] of Jacob,
Simeon, Levi, Judah,[u] Issachar and Zebulun.[v]

24The sons of Rachel:
Joseph[w] and Benjamin.[x]

25The sons of Rachel's maidservant Bilhah:[y]
Dan and Naphtali.[z]

26The sons of Leah's maidservant Zilpah:[a]
Gad[b] and Asher.[c]

These were the sons of Jacob,[d] who were born to him in Paddan Aram.[e]

27Jacob came home to his father Isaac[f] in Mamre,[g] near Kiriath Arba[h] (that is, Hebron),[i] where Abraham and Isaac had stayed.[j] 28Isaac lived a hundred and eighty years.[k] 29Then he breathed his last and died and was gathknown tree (see note on v. 4), perhaps the "great tree" mentioned in 1Sa 10:3. below. Either "lower than" or "to the south of."

35:9 Jacob returned. See map of "Jacob's Journeys," p. 53. Paddan Aram. Means "plain of Aram," another name for Aram Naharaim (see note on 24:10).

35:10 Jacob ... Israel. The previous assignment of an additional name (see 32:28) is here confirmed. For similar examples compare 21:31 with 26:33, and 28:19 with 35:15.

35:11–12 This event climaxes the Isaac-Jacob cycle (see Introduction: Literary Features). Now that Jacob was at last back at Bethel, where God had begun his direct relationship with him, God confirmed to this chosen son of Isaac the covenant promises made to Abraham (17:1–8; see 28:3). His words echo his original benediction pronounced on man in the beginning (1:28) and renewed after the flood (9:1,7). God's blessing on mankind would be fulfilled in and through Jacob and his offspring. See also 47:27; Ex 1:7.

35:13 See note on 17:22.

35:14 See 28:18 and note. drink offering. A liquid poured out as a sacrifice to a deity.

35:15 See 28:19; see also note on v. 10.

35:16 Ephrath. The older name for Bethlehem (see v. 19) in Judah (see Ru 1:2; Mic 5:2).

35:17 another son. An echo of Rachel's own plea at the time of Joseph's birth (see 30:24).

35:18 Benjamin. See NIV text note. The name can also mean "son of the south"—in distinction from the other sons, who were born in the north. One set of Hebrew terms for indicating direction was based on facing east, so south was on the right.

35:19 Rachel died. In childbirth (see note on 30:1).

35:20 Rachel's tomb. See 1Sa 10:2. The traditional, though not authentic, site is near Bethlehem.

35:21 Migdal Eder. Means "tower of the flock," doubtless referring to a watchtower built to discourage thieves from stealing sheep and other animals (see, e.g., 2Ch 26:10). The same Hebrew phrase is used figuratively in Mic 4:8, where "flock" refers to the people of Judah (see Mic 4:6–7).

35:22 Reuben's act was an arrogant and premature claim to the rights of the firstborn—here the right to inherit his father's concubine. For this he would lose his legal status as firstborn (see 49:3–4; 1Ch 5:1; see also note on 37:21).

35:26 sons of Jacob ... born to him in Paddan Aram. Obviously a summary statement since Benjamin was born in Canaan (see vv. 16–18).

35:27 Mamre, near Kiriath Arba (that is, Hebron). See notes on 13:18; 23:2.

35:29 See note on 25:8. buried him. In the family tomb, the cave of Machpelah (49:30–31).

Esau's Descendants

36:10–14pp — 1Ch 1:35–37
36:20–28pp — 1Ch 1:38–42

36 This is the account[o] of Esau (that is, Edom).[p]

2Esau took his wives from the women of Canaan:[q] Adah daughter of Elon the Hittite,[r] and Oholibamah[s] daughter of Anah[t] and granddaughter of Zibeon the Hivite[u]— 3also Basemath[v] daughter of Ishmael and sister of Nebaioth.[w]

4Adah bore Eliphaz to Esau, Basemath bore Reuel,[x] 5and Oholibamah bore Jeush, Jalam and Korah.[y] These were the sons of Esau, who were born to him in Canaan.

6Esau took his wives and sons and daughters and all the members of his household, as well as his livestock and all his other animals and all the goods he had acquired in Canaan,[z] and moved to a land some distance from his brother Jacob.[a] 7Their possessions were too great for them to remain together; the land where they were staying could not support them both because of their livestock.[b] 8So Esau[c] (that is, Edom)[d] settled in the hill country of Seir.[e]

9This is the account[f] of Esau the father of the Edomites[g] in the hill country of Seir.

10These are the names of Esau's sons:
Eliphaz, the son of Esau's wife Adah, and Reuel, the son of Esau's wife Basemath.[h] 11The sons of Eliphaz:[i]
Teman,[j] Omar, Zepho, Gatam and Kenaz.[k]
12Esau's son Eliphaz also had a concubine[l] named Timna, who bore him Amalek.[m] These were grandsons of Esau's wife Adah.[n]
13The sons of Reuel:
Nahath, Zerah, Shammah and Mizzah. These were grandsons of Esau's wife Basemath.[o] 14The sons of Esau's wife Oholibamah[p] daughter of Anah and granddaughter of Zibeon, whom she bore to Esau:
Jeush, Jalam and Korah.[q]
15These were the chiefs[r] among Esau's descendants:
The sons of Eliphaz the firstborn of Esau:
Chiefs Teman,[s] Omar, Zepho, Kenaz,[t] 16Korah,[u] Gatam and Amalek. These were the chiefs descended from Eliphaz[u] in Edom;[v] they were grandsons of Adah.[w]
17The sons of Esau's son Reuel:[x]
Chiefs Nahath, Zerah, Shammah and Mizzah. These were the chiefs descended from Reuel in Edom; they were grandsons of Esau's wife Basemath.[y]
18The sons of Esau's wife Oholibamah:[z]
Chiefs Jeush, Jalam and Korah.[a] These were the chiefs descended from Esau's wife Oholibamah daughter of Anah.
19These were the sons of Esau[b] (that is, Edom),[c] and these were their chiefs.[d]

20These were the sons of Seir the Horite,[e] who were living in the region:
Lotan, Shobal, Zibeon, Anah,[f]
21Dishon, Ezer and Dishan. These sons of Seir in Edom were Horite chiefs.[g]
22The sons of Lotan:

Though repeated in v. 9, the word does not mark the start of a new main section there since the information in vv. 9–43 is merely an expansion of that in vv. 1–8. Esau (that is, Edom). See 25:30 and NIV text note. Reddish rock formations, primarily sandstone, are conspicuous in the territory of the Edomites, located south and southeast of the Dead Sea.

36:2–3 See note on 26:34.

36:7 See 13:6; see also 26:20 and note.

36:8 Seir. Another name for Edom. The word itself is related to the Hebrew word meaning "hair," a possible meaning also for the name "Esau" (see NIV text note on 25:25). Esau's clan must have driven away the original Horite (see v. 20) inhabitants of Seir (see 14:6 and note). The descendants of Seir are listed in vv. 20–28.

36:10–14 The same list of Esau's descendants (see 1Ch 1:35–37) is repeated in vv. 15–19 as a list of tribal chieftains.

36:11 Eliphaz: Teman. One of Job's friends was named Eliphaz the Temanite (Job 2:11), and Job himself was from the land of Uz (Job 1:1). Thus Job probably lived in Edom (see vv. 28,34).

36:12 Amalek. See note on 14:7.

36:20–28 See note on v. 8. The same list of Seir's descendants (see 1Ch 1:38–42) is repeated in abbreviated form in vv. 29–30 as a list of tribal chieftains.

The Rulers of Edom

36:31–43pp — 1Ch 1:43–54

31These were the kings who reigned in Edom before any Israelite king[o] reigned[y]:
32Bela son of Beor became king of Edom. His city was named Dinhabah.
33When Bela died, Jobab son of Zerah from Bozrah[p] succeeded him as king.
34When Jobab died, Husham from the land of the Temanites[q] succeeded him as king.
35When Husham died, Hadad son of Bedad, who defeated Midian[r] in the country of Moab,[s] succeeded him as king. His city was named Avith.
36When Hadad died, Samlah from Masrekah succeeded him as king.
37When Samlah died, Shaul from Rehoboth[t] on the river[z] succeeded him as king.
38When Shaul died, Baal-Hanan son of Acbor succeeded him as king.
39When Baal-Hanan son of Acbor died, Hadad[a] succeeded him as king. His city was named Pau, and his wife's name was Mehetabel daughter of Matred, the daughter of Me-Zahab.

40These were the chiefs[u] descended from Esau, by name, according to their clans and regions:
Timna, Alvah, Jetheth, 41Oholibamah, Elah, Pinon, 42Kenaz, Teman, Mibzar, 43Magdiel and Iram. These were the chiefs of Edom, according to their settlements in the land they occupied.

This was Esau the father of the Edomites.[v]

[w]24 Vulgate; Syriac discovered water; the meaning of the Hebrew for this word is uncertain. [x]26 Hebrew Dishan, a variant of Dishon [y]31 Or before an Israelite king reigned over them [z]37 Possibly the Euphrates [a]39 Many manuscripts of the Masoretic Text, Samaritan Pentateuch and Syriac (see also 1 Chron. 1:50); most manuscripts of the Masoretic Text Hadar

36:31 before any Israelite king reigned. Presupposes the later Israelite monarchy and is therefore an editorial updating subsequent to Moses' time (see note on 14:14).
36:43 This ... Edomites. A summary statement for the whole chapter (just as v. 1 is a title for the whole chapter).
37:1 Canaan. Jacob made the promised land his homeland and was later buried there (49:29–30; 50:13). His son Joseph also insisted on being buried in Canaan, which he recognized as the land the Lord had promised to Israel (50:24–25). The Jacob-Joseph cycle (see Introduction: Literary Features) begins and ends with references to the land of promise.
37:2 account. See note on 2:4. The word here introduces the tenth and final main section of Genesis. Joseph. The author immediately introduces Joseph, on whom the last cycle of the patriarchal narrative centers. In his generation, he, more than any other, represented Israel—as a people who struggled with God and with men and overcame (see note on 32:28) and as a source of blessing to the nations (see 12:2–3). It is, moreover, through the life of Joseph that the covenant family in Canaan becomes an emerging nation in Egypt, thus setting the stage for the exodus. The story of God's dealings with the patriarchs foreshadows the subsequent Biblical account of God's purpose with Israel. It begins with the election and calling out of Abram from the post-Babel nations and ends with Israel in Egypt (in the person of Joseph) preserving the life of the nations (see 41:57; 50:20). So God would deliver Israel out of the nations (the exodus), eventually to send them on a mission of life to the nations (cf. Mt 28:18–20; Ac 1:8). a bad report about them. Doubtless about all his brothers (as the later context indicates), not just the sons of his father's concubines.
37:3 richly ornamented robe. A mark of Jacob's favoritism, "the kind of garment the virgin daughters of the king wore" (2Sa 13:18).

JOSEPH

NAME MEANS: "May he [God] add" (Ge 30:24)
BIRTH DATA: Born the first son of Jacob and Rachel OCCUPATION: Shepherd, slave, influential ruler in Egypt
BEST KNOWN FOR:
- being Jacob's favored son, which stirred murderous hatred in his brothers
- becoming a faithful slave to his Egyptian master
- his God-given talents as a dream interpreter
- saving his own famine-stricken family as a wise ruler in Egypt any of his other sons,[g] because he had been born to him in his old age;[h] and he made a richly ornamented[b] robe[i] for him.[j] 4When his brothers saw that their father loved him more than any of them, they hated him[k] and could not speak a kind word to him.

5Joseph had a dream,[l] and when he told it to his brothers,[m] they hated him all the more.[n] 6He said to them, "Listen to this dream I had: 7We were binding sheaves[o] of grain out in the field when suddenly my sheaf rose and stood upright, while your sheaves gathered around mine and bowed down to it."[p]

8His brothers said to him, "Do you intend to reign over us? Will you actually rule us?"[q] And they hated him all the more[r] because of his dream and what he had said.

9Then he had another dream,[s] and he told it to his brothers. "Listen," he said, "I had another dream, and this time the sun and moon and eleven stars[t] were bowing down to me."[u]

10When he told his father as well as his brothers,[v] his father rebuked[w] him and said, "What is this dream you had? Will your mother and I and your brothers actually come and bow down to the ground before you?"[x] 11His brothers were jealous of him,[y] but his father kept the matter in mind.[z]

Joseph Sold by His Brothers

12Now his brothers had gone to graze their father's flocks near Shechem,[a] 13and Israel[b] said to Joseph, "As you know, your brothers are grazing the flocks near Shechem.[c] Come, I am going to send you to them."

"Very well," he replied.

14So he said to him, "Go and see if all is well with your brothers[d] and with the flocks, and bring word back to me." Then he sent him off from the Valley of Hebron.[e]

When Joseph arrived at Shechem, 15a man found him wandering around in the fields and asked him, "What are you looking for?"

16He replied, "I'm looking for my brothers. Can you tell me where they are grazing their flocks?"

17"They have moved on from here," the man answered. "I heard them say, 'Let's go to Dothan.[f]' "

So Joseph went after his brothers and found them near Dothan. 18But they saw him in the distance, and before he reached them, they plotted to kill him.[g]

19"Here comes that dreamer![h]" they said to each other. 20"Come now, let's kill him and throw him into one of these cisterns[i] and say that a ferocious animal[j] devoured him.[k] Then we'll see what comes of his dreams."[l]

21When Reuben[m] heard this, he tried to rescue him from their hands. "Let's not take his life," he said.[n] 22"Don't shed any blood. Throw him into this cistern[o] here in the desert, but don't lay a hand on him." Reuben said this to rescue him from them and take him back to his father.[p]

23So when Joseph came to his brothers, they stripped him of his robe—the richly ornamented robe[q] he was wearing— 24and they took him and threw him into the cistern.[r] Now the cistern was empty; there was no water in it.

25As they sat down to eat their meal,

[b] 3 The meaning of the Hebrew for richly ornamented is uncertain; also in verses 23 and 32.

37:5 dream. See note on 20:3.

37:7 bowed down. Joseph's dream would later come true (42:6; 43:26; 44:14).

37:8 Will you actually rule us? Joseph would later become the "prince among his brothers" (Dt 33:16) and receive "the rights of the firstborn" (1Ch 5:2), at least the double portion of the inheritance (see note on 25:5), since his father adopted his two sons (48:5).

37:10 your mother. Jacob possibly refers to Leah, since Rachel has already died (see 35:19). bow down . . . before you. An unsettling echo of a hope expressed earlier to Jacob by his father Isaac (see 27:29).

37:11 kept the matter in mind. A hint that Jacob later recalled Joseph's dreams when events brought about their fulfillment. Cf. Mary's equally sensitive response to events during Jesus' boyhood days (Lk 2:19,51).

37:12 Shechem. See note on 33:18.

37:17 Dothan. Located about 13 miles north of Shechem, Dothan was already an ancient city by this time.

37:19 dreamer. The Hebrew for this word means "master of dreams" or "dream expert" and is here used with obvious sarcasm.

37:21 Reuben . . . tried to rescue him. As Jacob's firstborn, he felt responsible for Joseph. He would later remind his brothers of this day (42:22). Initially Reuben's attempts to influence events seemed successful (30:14–17). But after his arrogant incest with Bilhah (see 35:22 and note) his efforts were always ineffective (see 42:37–38)—demonstrating his loss of the status of firstborn (see 49:3–4). Effective leadership passed to Judah (see vv. 26–27; 43:3–5,8–10; 44:14–34; 46:28; 49:8–12).

37:23–24 Similarly, in Egypt Joseph (though innocent of any wrongdoing) would be stripped of his position of privilege and thrown into prison—also as a result of domestic intrigue (ch. 39). His cloak also would be torn from him and shown to Potiphar, but he would be rescued (41:14).

37:25 Ishmaelites. Also called Midianites (v. 28; see Jdg 8:22,24,26) and Medanites (see NIV text note on v. 36). These various tribal groups were interrelated, since Midian and Medan, like Ishmael, were also sons of Abraham (25:2). Gilead. See note on 31:21. balm. An oil or gum, with healing properties (see Jer 51:8), exuded by the fruit or stems of one or more kinds of small trees. The balm of Gilead was especially effective (see Jer 8:22; 46:11). myrrh. Probably to be identified with labdanum, an aromatic gum (see Ps 45:8; Pr 7:17; SS 3:6; 5:13) exuded from the leaves they looked up and saw a caravan of Ishmaelites[s] coming from Gilead.[t] Their camels were loaded with spices, balm[u] and myrrh,[v] and they were on their way to take them down to Egypt.[w]

[26]Judah[x] said to his brothers, "What will we gain if we kill our brother and cover up his blood?[y] [27]Come, let's sell him to the Ishmaelites and not lay our hands on him; after all, he is our brother,[z] our own flesh and blood.[a]" His brothers agreed.

[28]So when the Midianite[b] merchants came by, his brothers pulled Joseph up out of the cistern[c] and sold[d] him for twenty shekels[c] of silver[e] to the Ishmaelites,[f] who took him to Egypt.[g]

[29]When Reuben returned to the cistern and saw that Joseph was not there, he tore his clothes.[h] [30]He went back to his brothers and said, "The boy isn't there! Where can I turn now?"[i]

[31]Then they got Joseph's robe,[j] slaughtered a goat and dipped the robe in the blood.[k] [32]They took the ornamented robe[l] back to their father and said, "We found this. Examine it to see whether it is your son's robe."

[33]He recognized it and said, "It is my son's robe! Some ferocious animal[m] has devoured him. Joseph has surely been torn to pieces."[n]

[34]Then Jacob tore his clothes,[o] put on sackcloth[p] and mourned for his son many days.[q] [35]All his sons and daughters came to comfort him,[r] but he refused to be comforted.[s] "No," he said, "in mourning will I go down to the grave[d][t] to my son.[u]" So his father wept for him.

[36]Meanwhile, the Midianites[e][v] sold Joseph[w] in Egypt to Potiphar, one of Pharaoh's officials, the captain of the guard.[x]

Judah and Tamar

38 At that time, Judah[y] left his brothers and went down to stay with a man of Adullam[z] named Hirah.[a] [2]There Judah met the daughter of a Canaanite man named Shua.[b] He married her and lay with her; [3]she became pregnant and gave birth to a son, who was named Er.[c] [4]She conceived again and gave birth to a son and named him Onan.[d] [5]She gave birth to still another son and named him Shelah.[e] It was at Kezib that she gave birth to him.

[6]Judah got a wife for Er, his firstborn, and her name was Tamar.[f] [7]But Er, Judah's firstborn, was wicked in the LORD's sight;[g] so the LORD put him to death.[h]

[8]Then Judah said to Onan, "Lie with your brother's wife and fulfill your duty to her as a brother-in-law to produce off-of the cistus rose. Its oil was used in beauty treatments (see Est 2:12), and it was sometimes mixed with wine and drunk to relieve pain (see Mk 15:23). As a gift fit for a king, myrrh was brought to Jesus after his birth (Mt 2:11) and applied to his body after his death (Jn 19:39–40).

37:28 twenty shekels of silver. In later times, this amount was the value of a male of Joseph's age who had been dedicated to the Lord (see Lev 27:5).

37:31–33 Again a slaughtered goat figures prominently in an act of deception (see 27:5–13).

37:34 tore his clothes. See v. 29. put on sackcloth. Wearing coarse and uncomfortable sackcloth instead of ordinary clothes was a sign of mourning.

37:35 daughters. The term can include daughters-in-law (e.g., a daughter-in-law of Jacob is mentioned in 38:2). grave. According to some, the Hebrew word Sheol (see NIV text note) can also refer in a more general way to the realm of the dead, the netherworld, where, it was thought, departed spirits live (for a description of Sheol see, e.g., Job 3:13–19).

37:36 sold. "As a slave" (Ps 105:17). The peoples of the Arabian Desert were long involved in international slave trade (cf. Am 1:6,9). guard. The Hebrew for this word can mean "executioners" (the captain of whom was in charge of the royal prisoners; see 40:4), or it can mean "butchers" (the captain of whom was the chief cook in the royal court; cf. 1Sa 9:23–24).

38:1–30 The unsavory events of this chapter illustrate the danger that Israel as God's separated people faced if they remained among the Canaanites (see 15:16 and note). In Egypt the Israelites were kept separate because the Egyptians despised them (43:32; 46:34). While there, God's people were able to develop into a nation without losing their identity. Judah's actions contrasted with those of Joseph (ch. 39)—demonstrating the moral superiority of Joseph, to whom leadership in Israel fell in his generation (see 37:5–9).

38:1 left his brothers. Joseph was separated from his brothers by force, but Judah voluntarily separated himself to seek his fortune among the Canaanites. Adullam. A town southwest of Jerusalem (see 2Ch 11:5,7).

38:3–4 Er . . . Onan. The names also appear as designations of tribes in Mesopotamian documents of this time.

38:5 Kezib. Probably the same as Aczib (Jos 15:44), three miles west of Adullam. The "men of Cozeba" (another form of the same word) were descendants of Shelah son of Judah (see 1Ch 4:21–22). The Hebrew root of the name means "deception" (see Mic 1:14 and NIV text note), a theme running throughout the story of Jacob and his sons.

38:6 Judah got a wife for Er. See note on 21:21.

38:8 A concise description of the custom known as "levirate marriage" (Latin levir means "brother-in-law"). Details of the practice are given in Dt 25:5–6, where it is laid down as a legal obligation within Israel (cf. Mt 22:24). The custom is illustrated in Ru 4:5, though there it is extended to the nearest living relative ("kinsman-redeemer," Ru 3:12), since neither Boaz nor the nearer kinsman was a brother-in-law.

spring for your brother."[i] [9]But Onan knew that the offspring would not be his; so whenever he lay with his brother's wife, he spilled his semen on the ground to keep from producing offspring for his brother. [10]What he did was wicked in the LORD's sight; so he put him to death also.[j]

[11]Judah then said to his daughter-in-law[k] Tamar,[l] "Live as a widow in your father's house[m] until my son Shelah[n] grows up."[o] For he thought, "He may die too, just like his brothers." So Tamar went to live in her father's house.

[12]After a long time Judah's wife, the daughter of Shua,[p] died. When Judah had recovered from his grief, he went up to Timnah,[q] to the men who were shearing his sheep,[r] and his friend Hirah the Adullamite[s] went with him.

[13]When Tamar[t] was told, "Your father-in-law is on his way to Timnah to shear his sheep,"[u] [14]she took off her widow's clothes,[v] covered herself with a veil[w] to disguise herself, and then sat down[x] at the entrance to Enaim, which is on the road to Timnah.[y] For she saw that, though Shelah[z] had now grown up, she had not been given to him as his wife.

[15]When Judah saw her, he thought she was a prostitute,[a] for she had covered her face. [16]Not realizing[b] that she was his daughter-in-law,[c] he went over to her by the roadside and said, "Come now, let me sleep with you."[d]

"And what will you give me to sleep with you?"[e] she asked.

[17]"I'll send you a young goat[f] from my flock," he said.

"Will you give me something as a pledge[g] until you send it?" she asked.

[18]He said, "What pledge should I give you?"

"Your seal[h] and its cord, and the staff[i] in your hand," she answered. So he gave them to her and slept with her, and she became pregnant by him.[j] [19]After she left, she took off her veil and put on her widow's clothes[k] again.

[20]Meanwhile Judah sent the young goat by his friend the Adullamite[l] in order to get his pledge[m] back from the woman, but he did not find her. [21]He asked the men who lived there, "Where is the shrine prostitute[n] who was beside the road at Enaim?"

"There hasn't been any shrine prostitute here," they said.

[22]So he went back to Judah and said, "I didn't find her. Besides, the men who lived there said, 'There hasn't been any shrine prostitute here.' "

[23]Then Judah said, "Let her keep what she has,[o] or we will become a laughingstock.[p] After all, I did send her this young goat, but you didn't find her."

[24]About three months later Judah was told, "Your daughter-in-law Tamar is guilty of prostitution, and as a result she is now pregnant."

Judah said, "Bring her out and have her burned to death!"[q]

[25]As she was being brought out, she sent a message to her father-in-law. "I am pregnant by the man who owns these," she said. And she added, "See if you recognize whose seal and cord and staff these are."[r]

[26]Judah recognized them and said, "She is more righteous than I,[s] since I wouldn't give her to my son Shelah.[t]" And he did not sleep with her again.

[27]When the time came for her to give birth, there were twin boys in her womb.[u] [28]As she was giving birth, one of them put out his hand; so the midwife[v] took a scarlet thread and tied it on his wrist[w] and said, "This one came out first." [29]But when he drew back his hand, his brother came out,[x] and she said, "So this is how you have broken out!" And he was named Perez.[y] [30]Then his brother, who had the scarlet thread on

38:9 knew that the offspring would not be his. Similarly, Ruth's nearest kinsman was fearful that if he married Ruth he would endanger his own estate (Ru 4:5–6). spilled his semen on the ground. A means of birth control sometimes called "onanism" (after Onan).

38:10 What he did. His refusal to perform his levirate duty.

38:11 he thought, "He may die too, just like his brothers." Thus Judah had no intention of giving Shelah to Tamar (see v. 14).

38:12 Timnah. Exact location unknown, but somewhere in the hill country of Judah (see Jos 15:48,57).

38:14 sat down . . . the road. Prostitutes (see v. 15) customarily stationed themselves by the roadside (Jer 3:2). Enaim. Means "two springs"; probably the same as Enam in the western foothills of Judah (see Jos 15:33–34).

38:18 seal and its cord. Probably a small cylinder seal of the type used to sign clay documents by rolling them over the clay. The owner wore it around his neck on a cord threaded through a hole drilled lengthwise through it.

38:21 shrine prostitute. The Hebrew here differs from that used for "prostitute" in v. 15. Judah's friend perhaps deliberately used the more acceptable term, since ritual prostitutes enjoyed a higher social status in Canaan than did ordinary prostitutes.

38:24 have her burned to death. In later times, burning was the legal penalty for prostitution (see Lev 21:9).

38:27–30 For a similarly unusual birth of twin boys see 25:24–26.

38:29 Perez. Became the head of the leading clan in Judah and the ancestor of David (see Ru 4:18–22) and ultimately of Christ (see Mt 1:1–6).

Joseph and Potiphar's Wife

39 Now Joseph[b] had been taken down to Egypt. Potiphar, an Egyptian who was one of Pharaoh's officials, the captain of the guard,[c] bought him from the Ishmaelites who had taken him there.[d]

[2]The LORD was with Joseph[e] and he prospered, and he lived in the house of his Egyptian master. [3]When his master saw that the LORD was with him[f] and that the LORD gave him success in everything he did,[g] [4]Joseph found favor in his eyes[h] and became his attendant. Potiphar put him in charge of his household,[i] and he entrusted to his care everything he owned.[j] [5]From the time he put him in charge of his household and of all that he owned, the LORD blessed the household[k] of the Egyptian because of Joseph.[l] The blessing of the LORD was on everything Potiphar had, both in the house and in the field.[m] [6]So he left in Joseph's care everything he had;[n] with Joseph in charge, he did not concern himself with anything except the food he ate.

Now Joseph was well-built and handsome,[o] [7]and after a while his master's wife took notice of Joseph and said, "Come to bed with me!"[p]

[8]But he refused.[q] "With me in charge," he told her, "my master does not concern himself with anything in the house; everything he owns he has entrusted to my care.[r] [9]No one is greater in this house than I am.[s] My master has withheld nothing from me except you, because you are his wife. How then could I do such a wicked thing and sin against God?"[t] [10]And though she spoke to Joseph day after day, he refused[u] to go to bed with her or even be with her.

[11]One day he went into the house to attend to his duties,[v] and none of the household servants[w] was inside. [12]She caught him by his cloak[x] and said, "Come to bed with me!"[y] But he left his cloak in her hand and ran out of the house.[z]

[13]When she saw that he had left his cloak in her hand and had run out of the house, [14]she called her household servants.[a] "Look," she said to them, "this Hebrew[b] has been brought to us to make sport of us![c] He came in here to sleep with me, but I screamed.[d] [15]When he heard me scream for help, he left his cloak beside me and ran out of the house."[e]

[16]She kept his cloak beside her until his master came home. [17]Then she told him this story:[f] "That Hebrew[g] slave[h] you brought us came to me to make sport of me. [18]But as soon as I screamed for help, he left his cloak beside me and ran out of the house."

[19]When his master heard the story his wife told him, saying, "This is how your slave treated me," he burned with anger.[i] [20]Joseph's master took him and [g] 30 Zerah can mean scarlet or brightness.

39:1 See 37:36. taken down to Egypt. Joseph's experiences in Egypt, as well as those of his youth in Canaan (see note on 37:23–24), are similar to Israel's national experiences in Egypt. Initially, because of God's blessing, Joseph attains a position of honor (in Potiphar's house); he is then unjustly thrown into prison, his only crime being his attractiveness and moral integrity; and finally he is raised up among the Egyptians as the one who, because God is with him, holds their lives in his hands. Similarly Israel was first received with honor in Egypt (because of Joseph); then she was subjected to cruel bondage, her only crime being God's evident blessings upon her; and finally God raised her up in the eyes of the Egyptians (through the ministry of Moses) as they came fearfully to recognize that these people and their God did indeed hold their lives in their hands. The author of Genesis knew the events of the exodus and shows how the history of God and the patriarchs moved forward to and foreshadowed that event (see also 15:13–16; 48:21–22; 50:24–25). Ishmaelites. See note on 37:25.

39:2–6 See vv. 20–23. Though Joseph's situation changed drastically, God's relationship to him remained the same.

39:2 The LORD was with Joseph. See note on 26:3. This fact, mentioned several times here (vv. 3,21,23), is stressed also by Stephen (Ac 7:9).

39:5 the LORD blessed the household of the Egyptian because of Joseph. The offspring of Abraham are becoming a blessing to the nations (see 12:2–3; 30:27).

39:6 left in Joseph's care everything he had. Joseph had full responsibility for the welfare of Potiphar's house, as later he would have full responsibility in prison (vv. 22–23) and later still in all Egypt (41:41). Always this Israelite came to hold the welfare of his "world" in his hands—but always by the blessing and overruling of God, never by his own wits, as his father Jacob had so long attempted. In the role that he played in Israel's history and in the manner in which he lived it, Joseph was a true representative of Israel.

39:7 took notice of. Looked with desire at. The phrase is used in the same sense in Akkadian in Section 25 of the Code of Hammurapi.

39:9 sin against God. All sin is against God, first and foremost (see Ps 51:4).

39:10 though she spoke to Joseph day after day, he refused. Samson twice succumbed under similar pressure (Jdg 14:17; 16:16–17).

39:14 this Hebrew. See v. 17; see also note on 14:13.

39:20–23 See note on vv. 2–6.

39:20 the place where the king's prisoners were confined. Though understandably angry (see v. 19), Potiphar put Joseph in the "house of the captain of the guard" (40:3)—certainly not the worst prison available.

put him in prison,[j] the place where the king's prisoners were confined.

But while Joseph was there in the prison, [21]the LORD was with him;[k] he showed him kindness[l] and granted him favor in the eyes of the prison warden.[m] [22]So the warden put Joseph in charge of all those held in the prison, and he was made responsible for all that was done there.[n] [23]The warden paid no attention to anything under Joseph's[o] care, because the LORD was with Joseph and gave him success in whatever he did.[p]

The Cupbearer and the Baker

40 Some time later, the cupbearer[q] and the baker[r] of the king of Egypt offended their master, the king of Egypt. [2]Pharaoh was angry[s] with his two officials,[t] the chief cupbearer and the chief baker, [3]and put them in custody in the house of the captain of the guard,[u] in the same prison where Joseph was confined. [4]The captain of the guard[v] assigned them to Joseph,[w] and he attended them.

After they had been in custody[x] for some time, [5]each of the two men—the cupbearer and the baker of the king of Egypt, who were being held in prison—had a dream[y] the same night, and each dream had a meaning of its own.[z]

[6]When Joseph came to them the next morning, he saw that they were dejected. [7]So he asked Pharaoh's officials who were in custody[a] with him in his master's house, "Why are your faces so sad today?"[b]

[8]"We both had dreams," they answered, "but there is no one to interpret them."[c]

Then Joseph said to them, "Do not interpretations belong to God?[d] Tell me your dreams."

[9]So the chief cupbearer[e] told Joseph his dream. He said to him, "In my dream I saw a vine in front of me, [10]and on the vine were three branches. As soon as it budded, it blossomed,[f] and its clusters ripened into grapes. [11]Pharaoh's cup was in my hand, and I took the grapes, squeezed them into Pharaoh's cup and put the cup in his hand."

[12]"This is what it means,[g]" Joseph said to him. "The three branches are three days.[h] [13]Within three days[i] Pharaoh will lift up your head[j] and restore you to your position, and you will put Pharaoh's cup in his hand, just as you used to do when you were his cupbearer.[k] [14]But when all goes well with you, remember me[l] and show me kindness;[m] mention me to Pharaoh[n] and get me out of this prison. [15]For I was forcibly carried off from the land of the Hebrews,[o] and even here I have done nothing to deserve being put in a dungeon."[p]

[16]When the chief baker[q] saw that Joseph had given a favorable interpretation,[r] he said to Joseph, "I too had a dream: On my head were three baskets[s] of bread.[h] [17]In the top basket were all kinds of baked goods for Pharaoh, but the birds were eating them out of the basket on my head."

[18]"This is what it means," Joseph said. "The three baskets are three days.[t] [19]Within three days[u] Pharaoh will lift off your head[v] and hang you on a tree.[i][w] And the birds will eat away your flesh."[x]

[20]Now the third day[y] was Pharaoh's birthday,[z] and he gave a feast for all his officials.[a] He lifted up the heads of the chief cupbearer and the chief baker[b] in the presence of his officials: [21]He restored the chief cupbearer[c] to his position,[d] so that he once again put the cup into Pharaoh's hand,[e] [22]but he hanged[j] the chief baker,[f] just as Joseph had said to them in his interpretation.[g]

40:2 chief cupbearer. Would be the divinely appointed agent for introducing Joseph to Pharaoh (see 41:9–14).

40:5 each dream had a meaning. Throughout the ancient Near East it was believed that dreams had specific meanings and that proper interpretation of them could help the dreamer predict his future (see note on 20:3). God was beginning to prepare the way for Joseph's rise in Egypt.

40:8 interpretations belong to God. Only God can interpret dreams properly and accurately (see 41:16,25,28; Da 2:28). Tell me. Joseph presents himself as God's agent through whom God will make known the revelation contained in their dreams—Israel is God's prophetic people through whom God's revelation comes to the nations (see 18:17 and note; 41:16,28,32).

40:13 lift up your head and restore you to your position. See Ps 3:3; 27:6. For this meaning of the idiom "lift up one's head" see 2Ki 25:27 and Jer 52:31, where the Hebrew for "released" in the context of freeing a prisoner means lit. "lifted up the head of."

40:14 when all goes well with you, remember me. Unfortunately, the cupbearer "forgot him" (v. 23) until two full years later (see 41:1,9–13).

40:15 dungeon. Probably hyperbole to reflect Joseph's despair (see note on 39:20). Since the same Hebrew word is translated "cistern" in 37:24, the author of Genesis has established a link with Joseph's earlier experience at the hands of his brothers.

40:19 lift off your head. A grisly pun based on the same idiom used in v. 13.

40:20 Pharaoh's birthday. Centuries later, the birthday of Herod the tetrarch would become the occasion for another beheading (see Mt 14:6–10).

Pharaoh's Dreams

41 When two full years had passed, Pharaoh had a dream:[i] He was standing by the Nile,[j] 2when out of the river there came up seven cows, sleek and fat,[k] and they grazed among the reeds.[l] 3After them, seven other cows, ugly and gaunt, came up out of the Nile and stood beside those on the riverbank.
4And the cows that were ugly and gaunt ate up the seven sleek, fat cows. Then Pharaoh woke up.[m]

5He fell asleep again and had a second dream: Seven heads of grain,[n] healthy and good, were growing on a single stalk. 6After them, seven other heads of grain sprouted—thin and scorched by the east wind.[o] 7The thin heads of grain swallowed up the seven healthy, full heads. Then Pharaoh woke up;[p] it had been a dream.

8In the morning his mind was troubled,[q] so he sent for all the magicians[r] and wise men of Egypt. Pharaoh told them his dreams, but no one could interpret them for him.[s]

9Then the chief cupbearer said to Pharaoh, "Today I am reminded of my shortcomings.[t] 10Pharaoh was once angry with his servants,[u] and he imprisoned me and the chief baker in the house of the captain of the guard.[v] 11Each of us had a dream the same night, and each dream had a meaning of its own.[w] 12Now a young Hebrew[x] was there with us, a servant of the captain of the guard.[y] We told him our dreams, and he interpreted them for us, giving each man the interpretation of his dream.[z] 13And things turned out exactly as he interpreted them to us: I was restored to my position, and the other man was hanged.[ka]"

14So Pharaoh sent for Joseph, and he was quickly brought from the dungeon.[b] When he had shaved[c] and changed his clothes,[d] he came before Pharaoh.

15Pharaoh said to Joseph, "I had a dream, and no one can interpret it.[e] But I have heard it said of you that when you hear a dream you can interpret it."[f]

16"I cannot do it," Joseph replied to Pharaoh, "but God will give Pharaoh the answer he desires."[g]

17Then Pharaoh said to Joseph, "In my dream I was standing on the bank of the Nile,[h] 18when out of the river there came up seven cows, fat and sleek, and they grazed among the reeds.[i] 19After them, seven other cows came up—scrawny and very ugly and lean. I had never seen such ugly cows in all the land of Egypt. 20The lean, ugly cows ate up the seven fat cows that came up first.
21But even after they ate them, no one could tell that they had done so; they looked just as ugly as before. Then I woke up.

22"In my dreams I also saw seven heads of grain, full and good, growing on a single stalk. 23After them, seven other heads sprouted—withered and thin and scorched by the east wind. 24The thin heads of grain swallowed up the seven good heads. I told this to the magicians, but none could explain it to me.[j]" 25Then Joseph said to Pharaoh, "The dreams of Pharaoh are one and the same.[k] God has revealed to Pharaoh what he is about to do.[l] 26The seven good cows[m] are seven years, and the seven good heads of grain are seven years; it is one and the same dream.

27The seven lean, ugly cows that came up afterward are seven years, and so are the seven worthless heads of grain scorched by the east wind: They are seven years of famine.[n]

28"It is just as I said to Pharaoh: God has shown Pharaoh what he is about to do.[o] 29Seven years of great abundance[p] are coming throughout the land of Egypt, 30but seven years of famine[q] will follow them. Then all the abundance in Egypt will be forgotten, and the famine will ravage the land.[r] 31The abundance in the land will not be remembered, because the famine that follows it will be so severe. 32The reason the dream was given to Pharaoh in two forms is that the 41:8 his mind was troubled. See 40:6–7. magicians. Probably priests who claimed to possess occult knowledge. no one could interpret them. See Da 2:10–11.

41:13 things turned out exactly as he interpreted them. Because his words were from the Lord (see Ps 105:19).

41:14 Pharaoh sent for Joseph. Effecting his permanent release from prison (see Ps 105:20). shaved. Egyptians were normally smooth-shaven, while Palestinians wore beards (see 2Sa 10:5; Jer 41:5).

41:16 I cannot do it . . . but God will give Pharaoh the answer. See 40:8; Da 2:27–28,30; 2Co 3:5.

41:27 seven years of famine. See Ac 7:11. Long famines were rare in Egypt because of the regularity of the annual overflow of the Nile, but not uncommon elsewhere (see 2Ki 8:1). According to the NT, the great famine in the time of Elijah lasted three and a half years (Jas 5:17), thus half of seven years; it had been cut short by Elijah's intercession (1Ki 18:42; Jas 5:18).

41:32 Repetition of a divine revelation was often used for matter has been firmly decided[s] by God, and God will do it soon.[t]

33"And now let Pharaoh look for a discerning and wise man[u] and put him in charge of the land of Egypt.[v] 34Let Pharaoh appoint commissioners[w] over the land to take a fifth[x] of the harvest of Egypt during the seven years of abundance.[y] 35They should collect all the food of these good years that are coming and store up the grain under the authority of Pharaoh, to be kept in the cities for food.[z] 36This food should be held in reserve for the country, to be used during the seven years of famine that will come upon Egypt,[a] so that the country may not be ruined by the famine."

37The plan seemed good to Pharaoh and to all his officials.[b] 38So Pharaoh asked them, "Can we find anyone like this man, one in whom is the spirit of God[1]?"[c]

39Then Pharaoh said to Joseph, "Since God has made all this known to you,[d] there is no one so discerning and wise as you.[e] 40You shall be in charge of my palace,[f] and all my people are to submit to your orders.[g] Only with respect to the throne will I be greater than you.[h]"

Joseph in Charge of Egypt

41So Pharaoh said to Joseph, "I hereby put you in charge of the whole land of Egypt."[i] 42Then Pharaoh took his signet ring[j] from his finger and put it on Joseph's finger. He dressed him in robes[k] of fine linen[l] and put a gold chain around his neck.[m] 43He had him ride in a chariot[n] as his second-in-command,[m o] and men shouted before him, "Make way[n]!"[p] Thus he put him in charge of the whole land of Egypt.[q]

44Then Pharaoh said to Joseph, "I am Pharaoh, but without your word no one will lift hand or foot in all Egypt."[r] 45Pharaoh gave Joseph[s] the name Zaphenath-Paneah and gave him Asenath daughter of Potiphera, priest[t] of On,[o u] to be his wife.[v] And Joseph went throughout the land of Egypt.

46Joseph was thirty years old[w] when he entered the service[x] of Pharaoh king of Egypt. And Joseph went out from Pharaoh's presence and traveled throughout Egypt. 47During the seven years of abundance[y] the land produced plentifully. 48Joseph collected all the food produced in those seven years of abundance in Egypt and stored it in the cities.[z] In each city he put the food grown in the fields surrounding it. 49Joseph stored up huge quantities of grain, like the sand of the sea;[a] it was so much that he stopped keeping records because it was beyond measure.

50Before the years of famine came, two sons were born to Joseph by Asenath daughter of Potiphera, priest of On.[b] 51Joseph named his firstborn[c] Manasseh[p d] and said, "It is because God has made me forget all my trouble and all my father's household." 52The second son he named Ephraim[q e] and said, "It is because God has made me fruitful[f] in the land of my suffering."

53The seven years of abundance in Egypt came to an end, 54and the seven emphasis (see 37:5–9; Am 7:1–6,7–9; 8:1–3).

41:38 in whom is the spirit of God. See NIV text note. The word "spirit" should probably not be capitalized in such passages, since reference to the Holy Spirit would be out of character in statements by pagan rulers.

41:40 You shall be in charge. Pharaoh took Joseph's advice (see v. 33) and decided that Joseph himself should be "ruler over Egypt" (Ac 7:10; see also Ps 105:21). all my people are to submit to your orders. More lit. "at your command all my people are to kiss (you)"—i.e., kiss your hands or feet in an act of homage and submission (see Ps 2:12 and note).

41:42 Three symbols of transfer and/or sharing of royal authority, referred to also in Est 3:10 (signet ring); Est 6:11 (robe); and Da 5:7,16,29 (gold chain).

41:43 second-in-command. The position was probably that of vizier, the highest executive office below that of the king himself. Make way! See NIV text note. The Hebrew here may be an Egyptian imperative of a Semitic loanword, meaning "Bow the knee!"

41:45 gave Joseph the name Zaphenath-Paneah. As a part of assigning Joseph an official position within his royal administration (see note on 1:5). Pharaoh presumed to use this marvelously endowed servant of the Lord for his own royal purposes—as a later Pharaoh would attempt to use divinely blessed Israel for the enrichment of Egypt (Ex 1). He did not recognize that Joseph served a Higher Power, whose kingdom and redemptive purposes are being advanced. (The meaning of Joseph's Egyptian name is uncertain.) Asenath. The name is Egyptian and probably means "She belongs to (the goddess) Neith." Potiphera. Not the same person as "Potiphar" (37:36; 39:1); the name (also Egyptian) means "he whom (the sun-god) Ra has given." On. Located ten miles northeast of modern Cairo, it was called Heliopolis ("city of the sun") by the Greeks and was an important center for the worship of Ra, who had a temple there. Potiphera therefore bore an appropriate name.

41:46 thirty years old. In just 13 years (see 37:2), Joseph had become second-in-command (v. 43) in Egypt.

41:49 like the sand of the sea. A simile also for the large number of offspring promised to Abraham and Jacob (see 22:17; 32:12).

41:52 Ephraim. The meaning of the name (see NIV text note) reflects the fact that God gave Joseph "two" (see v. 50) sons.

years of famine[g] began,[h] just as Joseph had said. There was famine in all the other lands, but in the whole land of Egypt there was food. 55When all Egypt began to feel the famine,[i] the people cried to Pharaoh for food. Then Pharaoh told all the Egyptians, "Go to Joseph and do what he tells you."[j]

56When the famine had spread over the whole country, Joseph opened the storehouses and sold grain to the Egyptians,[k] for the famine[l] was severe throughout Egypt.[m] 57And all the countries came to Egypt to buy grain from Joseph,[n] because the famine was severe in all the world.[o]

Joseph's Brothers Go to Egypt

42 When Jacob learned that there was grain in Egypt,[p] he said to his sons, "Why do you just keep looking at each other?" 2He continued, "I have heard that there is grain in Egypt. Go down there and buy some for us,[q] so that we may live and not die."[r]

3Then ten of Joseph's brothers went down to buy grain[s] from Egypt. 4But Jacob did not send Benjamin,[t] Joseph's brother, with the others, because he was afraid that harm might come to him.[u] 5So Israel's sons were among those who went to buy grain,[v] for the famine was in the land of Canaan[w] also.[x]

6Now Joseph was the governor of the land,[y] the one who sold grain to all its people.[z] So when Joseph's brothers arrived, they bowed down to him with their faces to the ground.[a] 7As soon as Joseph saw his brothers, he recognized them, but he pretended to be a stranger and spoke harshly to them.[b] "Where do you come from?"[c] he asked.

"From the land of Canaan," they replied, "to buy food."

8Although Joseph recognized his brothers, they did not recognize him.[d] 9Then he remembered his dreams[e] about them and said to them, "You are spies![f] You have come to see where our land is unprotected."[g]

10"No, my lord,[h]" they answered. "Your servants have come to buy food.[i] 11We are all the sons of one man. Your servants[j] are honest men,[k] not spies.[l]"

12"No!" he said to them. "You have come to see where our land is unprotected."[m]

13But they replied, "Your servants[n] were twelve brothers, the sons of one man, who lives in the land of Canaan.[o] The youngest is now with our father, and one is no more."[p]

14Joseph said to them, "It is just as I told you: You are spies![q] 15And this is how you will be tested: As surely as Pharaoh lives,[r] you will not leave this place unless your youngest brother comes here.[s] 16Send one of your number to get your brother;[t] the rest of you will be kept in prison,[u] so that your words may be tested to see if you are telling the truth.[v] If you are not, then as surely as Pharaoh lives, you are spies![w]" 17And he put them all in custody[x] for three days.

18On the third day, Joseph said to them, "Do this and you will live, for I fear God:[y] 19If you are honest men,[z] let one of your brothers stay here in prison,[a] while the rest of you go and take grain back for your starving households.[b] 20But you must bring your youngest brother to me,[c] so that your words may be verified and that you may not die." This they proceeded to do.

21They said to one another, "Surely we are being punished because of our brother.[d] We saw how distressed he was 41:57 all the world. The known world from the writer's perspective (the Middle East). This description of the famine in the time of Joseph echoes the author's description of the flood in the time of Noah. God saved only Noah and his family from the flood, so that Noah became the new (after Adam) father of the race. With the call of Abram out of the post-flood and post-Babel nations, God once more singled out one man, now to be the father of his special people. God promised that, through this man and his descendants, "all peoples on earth will be blessed" (12:3). The author highlights the fact that in this new crisis hope rested with one of these descendants.

42:2–3 Stephen refers to this incident (Ac 7:12).

42:4 did not send Benjamin, Joseph's brother. Their mother Rachel had died (35:19), and Jacob thought Joseph also was dead (37:33). Jacob did not want to lose Benjamin, the remaining son of his beloved Rachel.

42:5 famine was in the land of Canaan also. As in the time of Abram (see 12:10 and note).

42:6 they bowed down to him. In fulfillment of Joseph's dreams (see 37:7,9).

42:8 Joseph recognized his brothers. Although at least 20 years had passed since he had last seen them (see 37:2; 41:46,53–54), they had been adults at the time and their appearance had not changed much. they did not recognize him. Joseph, a teenager at the time of his enslavement, was now an adult in an unexpected position of authority, wearing Egyptian clothes and speaking to his brothers through an interpreter (see v. 23). He was, moreover, shaven in the Egyptian manner (see note on 41:14).

42:10 my lord ... Your servants. Unwittingly, Joseph's brothers again fulfilled his dreams and their own scornful fears (see 37:8).

42:15 As surely as Pharaoh lives. The most solemn oaths were pronounced in the name of the reigning monarch (as here) or of the speaker's deities (Ps 16:4; Am 8:14) or of the Lord himself (Jdg 8:19; 1Sa 14:39,45; 19:6).

42:21 how distressed he was ... distress has come upon us. The brothers realized they were beginning to reap what they had sown (see Gal 6:7).

when he pleaded with us for his life, but we would not listen; that's why this distress[e] has come upon us."

22Reuben replied, "Didn't I tell you not to sin against the boy?[f] But you wouldn't listen! Now we must give an accounting[g] for his blood."[h] 23They did not realize[i] that Joseph could understand them,[j] since he was using an interpreter.

24He turned away from them and began to weep,[k] but then turned back and spoke to them again. He had Simeon taken from them and bound before their eyes.[l]

25Joseph gave orders to fill their bags with grain,[m] to put each man's silver back in his sack,[n] and to give them provisions[o] for their journey.[p] After this was done for them, 26they loaded their grain on their donkeys[q] and left.

27At the place where they stopped for the night one of them opened his sack to get feed for his donkey,[r] and he saw his silver in the mouth of his sack.[s] 28"My silver has been returned," he said to his brothers. "Here it is in my sack."

Their hearts sank[t] and they turned to each other trembling[u] and said, "What is this that God has done to us?"[v]

29When they came to their father Jacob in the land of Canaan,[w] they told him all that had happened to them.[x] They said, 30"The man who is lord over the land spoke harshly to us[y] and treated us as though we were spying on the land.[z] 31But we said to him, 'We are honest men; we are not spies.[a] 32We were twelve brothers, sons of one father. One is no more, and the youngest is now with our father in Canaan.'[b]

33"Then the man who is lord over the land said to us, 'This is how I will know whether you are honest men: Leave one of your brothers here with me, and take food for your starving households and go.[c] 34But bring your youngest brother to me so I will know that you are not spies but honest men.[d] Then I will give your brother back to you,[e] and you can trade[r] in the land.[f]' "

35As they were emptying their sacks, there in each man's sack was his pouch of silver![g] When they and their father saw the money pouches, they were frightened.[h] 36Their father Jacob said to them, "You have deprived me of my children. Joseph is no more and Simeon is no more,[i] and now you want to take Benjamin.[j] Everything is against me![k]"

37Then Reuben said to his father, "You may put both of my sons to death if I do not bring him back to you. Entrust him to my care,[l] and I will bring him back."[m]

38But Jacob said, "My son will not go down there with you; his brother is dead[n] and he is the only one left. If harm comes to him[o] on the journey you are taking, you will bring my gray head down to the grave[s][p] in sorrow."[q]

The Second Journey to Egypt

43 Now the famine was still severe in the land.[r] 2So when they had eaten all the grain they had brought from Egypt,[s] their father said to them, "Go back and buy us a little more food."[t]

3But Judah[u] said to him, "The man warned us solemnly, 'You will not see my face again unless your brother is with you.'[v] 4If you will send our brother along with us, we will go down and buy food for you.[w] 5But if you will not send him, we will not go down, because the man said to us, 'You will not see my face again unless your brother is with you.'[x]"

7They replied, "The man questioned us closely about ourselves and our family. 'Is your father still living?'[a] he asked us. 'Do you have another brother?'[b] We simply answered his questions. How were we to know he would say, 'Bring your brother down here'?"[c]

8Then Judah[d] said to Israel[e] his father, "Send the boy along with me and we will go at once, so that we and you and our children may live and not die.[f] 9I myself will guarantee his safety; you can hold me personally responsible for him.[g] If I do not bring him back to you and set him here before you, I will bear the blame[h] before you all my life.[i] 10As it is, if we had not delayed,[j] we could have gone and returned twice."

43:11 take them . . . as a gift. A customary practice when them, "If it must be, then do this: Put some of the best products[l] of the land in your bags and take them down to the man as a gift[m]—a little balm[n] and a little honey, some spices[o] and myrrh,[p] some pistachio nuts and almonds. 12Take double the amount[q] of silver with you, for you must return the silver that was put back into the mouths of your sacks.[r] Perhaps it was a mistake. 13Take your brother also and go back to the man at once.[s] 14And may God Almighty[tt] grant you mercy[u] before the man so that he will let your other brother and Benjamin come back with you.[v] As for me, if I am bereaved, I am bereaved."[w]

15So the men took the gifts and double the amount of silver,[x] and Benjamin also. They hurried[y] down to Egypt and presented themselves[z] to Joseph. 16When Joseph saw Benjamin[a] with them, he said to the steward of his house,[b] "Take these men to my house, slaughter an animal and prepare dinner;[c] they are to eat with me at noon."

17The man did as Joseph told him and took the men to Joseph's house.[d] 18Now the men were frightened[e] when they were taken to his house.[f] They thought, "We were brought here because of the silver that was put back into our sacks[g] the first time. He wants to attack us[h] and overpower us and seize us as slaves[i] and take our donkeys.[j]"

19So they went up to Joseph's steward[k] and spoke to him at the entrance to the house. 20"Please, sir," they said, "we came down here the first time to buy food.[l] 21But at the place where we stopped for the night we opened our sacks and each of us found his silver—the exact weight—in the mouth of his sack. So we have brought it back with us.[m] 22We have also brought additional silver with us to buy food. We don't know who put our silver in our sacks."

23"It's all right," he said. "Don't be afraid. Your God, the God of your father,[n] has given you treasure in your sacks;[o] I received your silver." Then he brought Simeon out to them.[p]

24The steward took the men into Joseph's house,[q] gave them water to wash their feet[r] and provided fodder for their donkeys. 25They prepared their gifts[s] for Joseph's arrival at noon,[t] because they had heard that they were to eat there.

26When Joseph came home,[u] they presented to him the gifts[v] they had brought into the house, and they bowed down before him to the ground.[w] 27He asked them how they were, and then he said, "How is your aged father[x] you told me about? Is he still living?"[y]

28They replied, "Your servant our father[z] is still alive and well." And they bowed low[a] to pay him honor.[b]

29As he looked about and saw his brother Benjamin, his own mother's son,[c] he asked, "Is this your youngest brother, the one you told me about?"[d] And he said, "God be gracious to you,[e] my son." 30Deeply moved[f] at the sight of his brother, Joseph hurried out and looked for a place to weep. He went into his private room and wept[g] there.

31After he had washed his face, he came out and, controlling himself,[h] said, "Serve the food."[i] approaching one's superior, whether political (see 1Sa 16:20), military (see 1Sa 17:18) or religious (see 2Ki 5:15). balm ... myrrh. See 37:25 and note. honey. Either that produced by bees, or an inferior substitute made by boiling grape or date juice down to a thick syrup. pistachio nuts. Mentioned only here in the Bible; the fruit of a small, broad-crowned tree that is native to Asia Minor, Syria and Palestine but not to Egypt.

43:14 God Almighty. See note on 17:1. if I am bereaved, I am bereaved. Cf. Esther's similar phrase of resignation in Est 4:16.

43:21 The brothers' statement to Joseph's steward compressed the details (see 42:27,35).

43:23 Your God ... has given you treasure. The steward spoke better than he knew.

43:24 See note on 18:2.

43:26 bowed down. Additional fulfillment of Joseph's dreams (37:7,9; see also 42:6; 43:28).

43:29 Benjamin, his own mother's son. Joseph's special relationship to Benjamin is clear. God be gracious to you. Later blessings and benedictions would echo these words (see Nu 6:25; Ps 67:1).

43:30 Joseph ... wept. Both emotional and sensitive, he wept often (see 42:24; 45:2,14–15; 46:29).

43:32 Egyptians could not eat with Hebrews. The taboo was probably based on ritual or religious reasons (see Ex 8:26), unlike the Egyptian refusal to associate with shepherds (see 46:34), which was probably based on social custom.

43:34 Benjamin's portion was five times as much. Again reflecting his special status with Joseph (see note on v. 29; see also 45:22).

A Silver Cup in a Sack

44 Now Joseph gave these instructions to the steward of his house:[p] "Fill the men's sacks with as much food as they can carry, and put each man's silver in the mouth of his sack.[q] 2Then put my cup,[r] the silver one,[s] in the mouth of the youngest one's sack, along with the silver for his grain." And he did as Joseph said.

6When he caught up with them, he repeated these words to them. 7But they said to him, "Why does my lord say such things? Far be it from your servants[y] to do anything like that![z] 8We even brought back to you from the land of Canaan[a] the silver[b] we found inside the mouths of our sacks.[c] So why would we steal[d] silver or gold from your master's house? 9If any of your servants[e] is found to have it, he will die;[f] and the rest of us will become my lord's slaves.[g]"

10"Very well, then," he said, "let it be as you say. Whoever is found to have it[h] will become my slave;[i] the rest of you will be free from blame."[j]

11Each of them quickly lowered his sack to the ground and opened it. 12Then the steward[k] proceeded to search,[l] beginning with the oldest and ending with the youngest.[m] And the cup was found in Benjamin's sack.[n] 13At this, they tore their clothes.[o] Then they all loaded their donkeys[p] and returned to the city.

14Joseph was still in the house[q] when Judah[r] and his brothers came in, and they threw themselves to the ground before him.[s] 15Joseph said to them, "What is this you have done?[t] Don't you know that a man like me can find things out by divination?[u]"

16"What can we say to my lord?[v]" Judah[w] replied. "What can we say? How can we prove our innocence?[x] God has uncovered your servants'[y] guilt. We are now my lord's slaves[z]—we ourselves and the one who was found to have the cup.[a]"

17But Joseph said, "Far be it from me to do such a thing![b] Only the man who was found to have the cup will become my slave.[c] The rest of you, go back to your father in peace."[d]

18Then Judah[e] went up to him and said: "Please, my lord,[f] let your servant speak a word to my lord. Do not be angry[g] with your servant, though you are equal to Pharaoh himself. 19My lord asked his servants,[h] 'Do you have a father or a brother?'[i] 20And we answered, 'We have an aged father, and there is a young son born to him in his old age.[j] His brother is dead,[k] and he is the only one of his mother's sons left, and his father loves him.'[l]

21"Then you said to your servants,[m] 'Bring him down to me so I can see him for myself.'[n] 22And we said to my lord,[o] 'The boy cannot leave his father; if he leaves him, his father will die.'[p] 23But you told your servants, 'Unless your youngest brother comes down with you, you will not see my face again.'[q] 24When we went back to your servant my father,[r] we told him what my lord[s] had said.[t]

25"Then our father said, 'Go back and buy a little more food.'[u] 26But we said, 'We cannot go down. Only if our youngest brother is with us will we go. We cannot see the man's face unless our youngest brother is with us.'[v]

27"Your servant my father[w] said to us, 'You know that my wife bore me two sons.[x] 28One of them went away from me, and I said, "He has surely been torn to pieces."[y] And I have not seen him since.[z] 29If you take this one from me too and harm comes to him, you will bring my gray head down to the grave[uu a] in misery.'[b]

Joseph Makes Himself Known

45 Then Joseph could no longer control himself[m] before all his attendants, and he cried out, "Have everyone leave my presence!"[n] So there was no one with Joseph when he made himself known to his brothers. 2And he wept[o] so loudly that the Egyptians heard him, and Pharaoh's household heard about it.[p]

3Joseph said to his brothers, "I am Joseph! Is my father still living?"[q] But his brothers were not able to answer him,[r] because they were terrified at his presence.[s]

4Then Joseph said to his brothers,
"Come close to me."[t] When they had done so, he said, "I am your brother Joseph, the one you sold into Egypt![u] 5And now, do not be distressed[v] and do not be angry with yourselves for selling me here,[w] because it was to save lives that God sent me ahead of you.[x] 6For two years now there has been famine[y] in the land, and for the next five years there will not be plowing and reaping.

44:30 whose life is closely bound up with the boy's life. The Hebrew underlying this clause is later used of Jonathan's becoming "one in spirit with David" (1Sa 18:1).

44:33 in place of the boy. Judah's willingness to be a substitute for Benjamin helped make amends for his role in selling Joseph (see 37:26–27).

44:34 Do not let me see the misery. Judah remembers an earlier scene (37:34–35).

45:2 wept. See vv. 14–15; see also 43:30 and note.

45:3 brothers . . . were terrified. Either because they thought they were seeing a ghost or because they were afraid of what Joseph would do to them.

45:4 I am your brother Joseph. See v. 3; Ac 7:13. This time Joseph emphasized his relationship to them. you sold. See note on 37:28.

45:5 God sent me. See vv. 7–9; Ac 7:9. God had a purpose to work through the brothers' thoughtless and cruel act (see Ac 2:23; 4:28).

45:6 Joseph was now 39 years old (see 41:46,53).

45:7 a remnant. Although none had been lost, they had escaped a great threat to them all; so Joseph called them a remnant in the confidence that they would live to produce a great people.

45:8 father. A title of honor given to viziers (see note on 41:43) and other high officials (in the Apocrypha see 1 Maccabees 11:32). All three titles of Joseph in this verse were originally Egyptian.

45:9 hurry back . . . don't delay. Joseph is anxious to see Jacob as soon as possible (see v. 13).

45:10 Goshen. A region in the eastern part of the Nile delta, it was very fertile (see v. 18) and remains so today.

45:12 I . . . am speaking. Not through an interpreter as before (see 42:23).

45:14 wept. See 43:30 and note.

21So the sons of Israel did this. Joseph gave them carts,[e] as Pharaoh had commanded, and he also gave them provisions for their journey.[f] 22To each of them he gave new clothing,[g] but to Benjamin he gave three hundred shekels[w] of silver and five sets of clothes.[h] 23And this is what he sent to his father: ten donkeys[i] loaded with the best things[j] of Egypt, and ten female donkeys loaded with grain and bread and other provisions for his journey.[k] 24Then he sent his brothers away, and as they were leaving he said to them, "Don't quarrel on the way!"[l]

25So they went up out of Egypt[m] and came to their father Jacob in the land of Canaan.[n] 26They told him, "Joseph is still alive! In fact, he is ruler of all Egypt."[o] Jacob was stunned; he did not believe them.[p] 27But when they told him everything Joseph had said to them, and when he saw the carts[q] Joseph had sent to carry him back, the spirit of their father Jacob revived. 28And Israel said, "I'm convinced![r] My son Joseph is still alive. I will go and see him before I die."[s]

Jacob Goes to Egypt

46 So Israel[t] set out with all that was his, and when he reached Beersheba,[u] he offered sacrifices[v] to the God of his father Isaac.[w]

2And God spoke to Israel[x] in a vision at night[y] and said, "Jacob! Jacob!"

"Here I am,"[z] he replied.

3"I am God, the God of your father,"[a] he said. "Do not be afraid[b] to go down to Egypt,[c] for I will make you into a great nation[d] there.[e] 4I will go down to Egypt with you, and I will surely bring you back again.[f] And Joseph's own hand will close your eyes.[g]"

5Then Jacob left Beersheba,[h] and Israel's[i] sons took their father Jacob and their children and their wives in the carts[j] that Pharaoh had sent to transport him. 6They also took with their livestock and the possessions[k] they had acquired[l] in Canaan, and Jacob and all his offspring went to Egypt.[m] 7He took with him to Egypt[n] his sons and grandsons and his daughters and granddaughters—all his offspring.[o]

8These are the names of the sons of Israel[p] (Jacob and his descendants) who went to Egypt:

Reuben the firstborn[q] of Jacob.

9The sons of Reuben:[r]
Hanoch, Pallu,[s] Hezron and Carmi.[t]

10The sons of Simeon:[u]
Jemuel,[v] Jamin, Ohad, Jakin, Zohar[w] and Shaul the son of a Canaanite woman.

11The sons of Levi:[x]
Gershon,[y] Kohath[z] and Merari.[a]

12The sons of Judah:[b]
Er,[c] Onan,[d] Shelah, Perez[e] and Zerah[f] (but Er and Onan had died in the land of Canaan).[g]
The sons of Perez:[h]
Hezron and Hamul.[i]

13The sons of Issachar:[j]
Tola, Puah,[x k] Jashub[y l] and Shimron.

14The sons of Zebulun:[m]
Sered, Elon and Jahleel.

46:3–4 As Israel and his family were about to leave Canaan, God reaffirmed his covenant promises.

46:3 I am ... the God of your father ... Do not be afraid. A verbatim repetition of God's statement to Isaac in 26:24. I will make you into a great nation. The Lord reaffirmed one aspect of his promise to Abraham (see 12:2). there. See Ex 1:7.

46:4 I will go down to Egypt with you. God would be with Jacob as he went south to Egypt just as he was with him when he went north to Haran, and would again bring him back as he had done before (see 28:15; see also 15:16; 48:21).

46:8 These are the names of the sons of Israel ... who went to Egypt. Repeated verbatim in Ex 1:1 (see note there), where it introduces the background for the story of the exodus (predicted here in v. 4).

17The sons of Asher:[r]
Imnah, Ishvah, Ishvi and Beriah.
Their sister was Serah.
The sons of Beriah:
Heber and Malkiel.
18These were the children born to Jacob by Zilpah,[s] whom Laban had given to his daughter Leah[t]—sixteen in all.

19The sons of Jacob's wife Rachel:[u]
Joseph and Benjamin.[v] 20In Egypt, Manasseh[w] and Ephraim[x] were born to Joseph[y] by Asenath daughter of Potiphera, priest of On.[bz]
21The sons of Benjamin:[a]
Bela, Beker, Ashbel, Gera, Naaman, Ehi, Rosh, Muppim, Huppim and Ard.[b] 22These were the sons of Rachel[c] who were born to Jacob—fourteen in all.

23The son of Dan:[d]
Hushim.[e]
24The sons of Naphtali:[f]
Jahziel, Guni, Jezer and Shillem.
25These were the sons born to Jacob by Bilhah,[g] whom Laban had given to his daughter Rachel[h]—seven in all.

26All those who went to Egypt with Jacob—those who were his direct descendants, not counting his sons' wives—numbered sixty-six persons.[i] 27With the two sons[c] who had been born to Joseph in Egypt,[j] the members of Jacob's family, which went to Egypt, were seventy[d] in all.[k]

28Now Jacob sent Judah[l] ahead of him to Joseph to get directions to Goshen.[m] When they arrived in the region of Goshen, 29Joseph had his chariot[n] made ready and went to Goshen to meet his father Israel.[o] As soon as Joseph appeared before him, he threw his arms around his father[e] and wept[p] for a long time.[q]

30Israel[r] said to Joseph, "Now I am ready to die, since I have seen for myself that you are still alive."[s]

31Then Joseph said to his brothers and to his father's household, "I will go up and speak to Pharaoh and will say to him, 'My brothers and my father's household, who were living in the land of Canaan,[t] have come to me.[u] 32The men are shepherds;[v] they tend livestock,[w] and they have brought along their flocks and herds and everything they own.'[x] 33When Pharaoh calls you in and asks, 'What is your occupation?'[y] 34you should answer, 'Your servants[z] have tended livestock from our boyhood on, just as our fathers did.'[a] Then you will be allowed to settle[b] in the region of Goshen,[c] for all shepherds are detestable to the Egyptians.[d]"

47 Joseph went and told Pharaoh, "My father and brothers, with their flocks and herds and everything they own, have come from the land of Canaan[e] and are now in Goshen."[f]
2He chose five of his brothers and presented them[g] before Pharaoh.

3Pharaoh asked the brothers, "What is your occupation?"[h]
"Your servants[i] are shepherds,[j]" they replied to Pharaoh, "just as our fathers were." 4They also said to him, "We have come to live here awhile,[k] because the famine is severe in Canaan[l] and your servants' flocks have no pasture.[m] So now, please let your servants settle in Goshen."[n]

5Pharaoh said to Joseph, "Your father and your brothers have come to you, 6and the land of Egypt is before you; settle[o] your father and your brothers in the best part of the land.[p] Let them live in Goshen. And if you know of any among them with special ability,[q] put them in charge of my own livestock.[r]"

7Then Joseph brought his father Jacob in and presented him[s] before Pharaoh.

After Jacob blessed[f] Pharaoh,[t] 8Pharaoh asked him, "How old are you?"

9And Jacob said to Pharaoh, "The years of my pilgrimage are a hundred and thirty.[u] My years have been few and difficult,[v] and they do not equal the years of the pilgrimage of my fathers.[w]" 10Then Jacob blessed[g] Pharaoh[x] and went out from his presence.

11So Joseph settled his father and his brothers in Egypt and gave them property in the best part of the land,[y] the district of Rameses,[z] as Pharaoh directed. 12Joseph also provided his father and his brothers and all his father's household with food, according to the number of their children.[a]

Joseph and the Famine

13There was no food, however, in the whole region because the famine was severe; both Egypt and Canaan wasted away because of the famine.[b] 14Joseph collected all the money that was to be found in Egypt and Canaan in payment for the grain they were buying,[c] and he brought it to Pharaoh's palace.[d] 15When the money of the people of Egypt and Canaan was gone,[e] all Egypt came to Joseph[f] and said, "Give us food. Why should we die before your eyes?[g] Our money is used up."

16"Then bring your livestock,[h]" said Joseph. "I will sell you food in exchange for your livestock, since your money is gone.[i]" 17So they brought their livestock to Joseph, and he gave them food in exchange for their horses,[j] their sheep and goats, their cattle and donkeys.[k] And he brought them through that year with food in exchange for all their livestock.

18When that year was over, they came to him the following year and said, "We cannot hide from our lord the fact that since our money is gone[l] and our livestock belongs to you,[m] there is nothing left for our lord except our bodies and our land. 19Why should we perish before your eyes[n]—we and our land as well? Buy us and our land in exchange for food,[o] and we with our land will be in bondage to Pharaoh.[p] Give us seed so that we may live and not die,[q] and that the land may not become desolate."

20So Joseph bought all the land in Egypt for Pharaoh. The Egyptians, one and all, sold their fields, because the famine was too severe[r] for them. The land became Pharaoh's, 21and Joseph reduced the people to servitude,[h][s] from one end of Egypt to the other. 22However, he did not buy the land of the priests,[t] because they received a regular allotment from Pharaoh and had food enough from the allotment[u] Pharaoh gave them. That is why they did not sell their land.

23Joseph said to the people, "Now that I have bought you and your land today for Pharaoh, here is seed[v] for you so you can plant the ground.[w] 24But when the crop comes in, give a fifth[x] of it to Pharaoh. The other four-fifths you may keep as seed for the fields and as food for yourselves and your households and your children."

25"You have saved our lives," they said. "May we find favor in the eyes of our lord;[y] we will be in bondage to Pharaoh."[z]

26So Joseph established it as a law concerning land in Egypt—still in force today—that a fifth[a] of the produce belongs to Pharaoh. It was only the land of the priests that did not become Pharaoh's.[b]

27Now the Israelites settled in Egypt in the region of Goshen.[c] They acquired property there[d] and were fruitful and increased greatly in number.[e]

28Jacob lived in Egypt[f] seventeen years, and the years of his life were a hundred and forty-seven.[g] 29When the time drew near for Israel[h] to die,[i] he called for his son Joseph and said to him, "If I have found favor in your eyes,[j] put your hand under my thigh[k] and prom-

47:9 pilgrimage. Jacob referred to the itinerant nature of patriarchal life in general and of his own in particular as he hopefully awaited the fulfillment of the promise of a land (see also Dt 26:5). they do not equal the years of . . . my fathers. Abraham lived to the age of 175 (25:7), Isaac to 180 (35:28).

47:11 best part of the land. See note on 45:10. district of Rameses. The city of Rameses is mentioned in Ex 1:11; 12:37; Nu 33:3,5. The name doubtless refers to the great Egyptian pharaoh Rameses II, who reigned centuries later (the designation here involves an editorial updating). In addition to being known as Goshen (see v. 27), the "district of Rameses" was called the "region of Zoan" in Ps 78:12,43 (see note on Ge 44:4).

47:13 the famine was severe. After the people used up all their money to buy grain (see vv. 14–15), they traded their livestock (vv. 16–17), then their land (v. 20), then themselves (v. 21).

47:21 The NIV text note reading would mean that the Egyptians were to move temporarily into the cities until seed could be distributed to them for planting (see v. 23).

47:26 a fifth of the produce belongs to Pharaoh. The same was true "during the seven years of abundance" (41:34)—but now all the land on which the produce grew belonged to Pharaoh as well.

47:27 the Israelites . . . were fruitful and increased greatly in number. See 35:11–12; 46:3 and notes.

47:29 put your hand under my thigh. See 24:2 and note. In both cases, ties of family kinship are being stressed.

ise that you will show me kindness[l] and faithfulness.[m] Do not bury me in Egypt, [30]but when I rest with my fathers,[n] carry me out of Egypt and bury me where they are buried."[o]

"I will do as you say," he said.

[31]"Swear to me,"[p] he said. Then Joseph swore to him,[q] and Israel[r] worshiped as he leaned on the top of his staff.[is]

Manasseh and Ephraim

48 Some time later Joseph was told, "Your father is ill." So he took his two sons Manasseh and Ephraim[t] along with him. [2]When Jacob was told, "Your son Joseph has come to you," Israel[u] rallied his strength and sat up on the bed.

[3]Jacob said to Joseph, "God Almighty[jv] appeared to me at Luz[w] in the land of Canaan, and there he blessed me[x] [4]and said to me, 'I am going to make you fruitful and will increase your numbers.[y] I will make you a community of peoples, and I will give this land[z] as an everlasting possession to your descendants after you.'[a]

[5]"Now then, your two sons born to you in Egypt[b] before I came to you here will be reckoned as mine; Ephraim and Manasseh will be mine,[c] just as Reuben[d] and Simeon[e] are mine. [6]Any children born to you after them will be yours; in the territory they inherit they will be reckoned under the names of their brothers. [7]As I was returning from Paddan,[kf] to my sorrow[g] Rachel died in the land of Canaan while we were still on the way, a little distance from Ephrath. So I buried her there beside the road to Ephrath" (that is, Bethlehem).[h]

[8]When Israel[i] saw the sons of Joseph,[j] he asked, "Who are these?"

[9]"They are the sons God has given me here,"[k] Joseph said to his father.

Then Israel said, "Bring them to me so I may bless[l] them."

[10]Now Israel's eyes were failing because of old age, and he could hardly see.[m] So Joseph brought his sons close to him, and his father kissed them[n] and embraced them.[o]

[11]Israel[p] said to Joseph, "I never expected to see your face again,[q] and now God has allowed me to see your children too."[r]

[15]Then he blessed[z] Joseph and said,

47:30 rest with my fathers. See note on 25:8. bury me where they are buried. In the cave of Machpelah (see 50:12–13).

47:31 worshiped as he leaned on the top of his staff. Quoted in Heb 11:21. Compare 48:2 with the NIV text note reading here.

48:3 God Almighty. See note on 17:1. Luz. The older name for Bethel (see 28:19).

48:5 your two sons . . . will be reckoned as mine. Jacob would adopt them as his own. Ephraim and Manasseh. See v. 1 for the expected order, since Manasseh was Joseph's firstborn (see 41:51). Jacob mentions Ephraim first because he intends to give him the primary blessing and thus "put Ephraim ahead of Manasseh" (v. 20). mine, just as Reuben and Simeon are mine. Joseph's first two sons would enjoy equal status with Jacob's first two sons (35:23) and in fact would eventually supersede them. Because of an earlier sinful act (see 35:22 and note), Reuben would lose his birthright to Jacob's favorite son, Joseph (see 49:3–4; 1Ch 5:2), and thus to Joseph's sons (see 1Ch 5:1).

48:6 children born to you after them will be yours. They would take the place of Ephraim and Manasseh, whom Jacob had adopted. in the territory they inherit they will be reckoned under the names of their brothers. They would perpetuate the names of Ephraim and Manasseh for purposes of inheritance (for a similar provision see 38:8 and note; Dt 25:5–6). Joseph's territory would thus be divided between Ephraim and Manasseh, but Levi (Jacob's third son; see 35:23) would receive "no share of the land" (Jos 14:4). The total number of tribal allotments would therefore remain the same.

48:7 Paddan. That is, Paddan Aram, meaning "plain of Aram," another name for Aram Naharaim (see note on 24:10). Rachel died. See 35:16–19. Adopted by Joseph's father, Ephraim and Manasseh in effect took the place of other sons whom Joseph's mother, Rachel, might have borne had she not died. Ephrath. See note on 35:16.

48:8 Israel . . . asked, "Who are these?" Either because he had never met them or because, being old, he could not see them clearly.

48:10 because of old age . . . he could hardly see. See note on 27:1. kissed them and embraced them. While they were on Jacob's knees (see v. 12), probably symbolizing adoption (see note on 30:3).

48:13–20 See note on Ac 6:6.

48:13 Manasseh . . . toward Israel's right hand. Joseph wanted Jacob to bless Manasseh, Joseph's firstborn, by placing his right hand on Manasseh's head.

48:15 blessed. As his father Isaac had blessed him (27:27–29). Joseph. Used here collectively for Ephraim and Manasseh (see NIV text note on v. 21). before whom . . . Abraham and Isaac walked. See notes on 5:22; 17:1. shepherd. An intimate royal metaphor for God (see Ps 23:1), used in Genesis only here and in Jacob's later blessing of Joseph (49:24).

"May the God before whom my fathers
Abraham and Isaac walked,[a] the God who has been my shepherd[b] all my life to this day, 16the Angel[c] who has delivered me from all harm[d]
—may he bless[e] these boys.[f]
May they be called by my name and the names of my fathers Abraham and Isaac,[g] and may they increase greatly upon the earth."[h]

17When Joseph saw his father placing his right hand[i] on Ephraim's head[j] he was displeased; so he took hold of his father's hand to move it from Ephraim's head to Manasseh's head. 18Joseph said to him, "No, my father, this one is the firstborn; put your right hand on his head."[k]

19But his father refused and said, "I know, my son, I know. He too will become a people, and he too will become great.[l] Nevertheless, his younger brother will be greater than he,[m] and his descendants will become a group of nations.[n]" 20He blessed[o] them that day[p] and said,

"In your[l] name will Israel[q] pronounce this blessing:[r]
'May God make you like Ephraim[s] and Manasseh.[t]' "

So he put Ephraim ahead of Manasseh.

21Then Israel said to Joseph, "I am about to die, but God will be with you[m][u] and take you[m] back to the land of your[m] fathers.[v] 22And to you, as one who is over your brothers,[w] I give the ridge of land[n][x] I took from the Amorites with my sword[y] and my bow."

48:16 Angel. See note on 16:7. The angel—God himself—had earlier blessed Jacob (see 32:29; see also note on 32:24).

48:19 his younger brother will be greater than he. See note on 25:23. During the divided monarchy (930–722 B.C.), Ephraim's descendants were the most powerful tribe in the north. "Ephraim" was often used to refer to the northern kingdom as a whole (see, e.g., Isa 7:2,5,8–9; Hos 9:13; 12:1,8).

48:20 he put Ephraim ahead of Manasseh. Jacob, the younger son who struggled with Esau for the birthright and blessing and who preferred the younger sister (Rachel) above the older (Leah), now advanced Joseph's younger son ahead of the older.

48:21 Joseph. See note on v. 15. I am about to die. Years later, Joseph spoke these words to his brothers (50:24).

48:22 ridge of land. The Hebrew for this phrase is identical with the place-name Shechem, where Joseph was later buried in a plot of ground inherited by his descendants (see Jos 24:32; see also 33:19; Jn 4:5). I took from the Amorites. Possibly referring to the event of 34:25–29.

49:2–27 Often called the "Blessing of Jacob," this is the longest poem in Genesis. Its various blessings were intended not only for Jacob's 12 sons but also for the tribes that descended from them (see v. 28). For other poetic blessings in Genesis see 9:26–27; 14:19–20; 27:27–29; 27:39–40; 48:15–16; 48:20.

49:4 Turbulent. Reuben's descendants were characterized by indecision (see Jdg 5:15–16). You will no longer excel, for you went up onto your father's bed. See 35:22 and note; see also notes on 37:21; 48:5.

49:5 Simeon and Levi are brothers. They shared the traits of violence, anger and cruelty (see vv. 6–7).

49:7 I will scatter them. Fulfilled when Simeon's descendants were absorbed into the territory of Judah (see Jos 19:1,9) and when Levi's descendants were dispersed throughout the land, living in 48 towns and the surrounding pasturelands (see note on 48:6; see also Nu 35:2,7; Jos 14:4; 21:41).

49:8 Cf. 27:29,40; 37:7,9. Judah, your brothers . . . will bow down to you. See note on 43:3. As those who would become the leading tribes of southern and northern Israel respectively, Judah and Joseph were given the longest (vv. 8–12 and vv. 22–26) of Jacob's blessings. Judah was the fourth of Leah's sons and also the fourth son born to Jacob (29:35), but Reuben, Simeon and Levi had forfeited their right of leadership. So Jacob assigns leadership to Judah (a son of Leah) but a double portion to Joseph (a son of Rachel). See also 1Ch 5:2.

49:9 You are a lion's cub. A symbol of sovereignty, strength and courage. Judah (or Israel) is often pictured as a lion in later times (see Eze 19:1–7; Mic 5:8; and especially Nu 24:9). Judah's greatest descendant, Jesus Christ (see note on 43:3), is himself called "the Lion of the tribe of Judah" (Rev 5:5).

49:10 Though difficult to translate (see NIV text note), the verse has been traditionally understood as Messianic. It was initially fulfilled in David, and ultimately in Christ. scepter. See Nu 24:17 and note. until he comes to whom it belongs. Repeated almost verbatim in Eze 21:27 in a section where Zedekiah, the last king of Judah, is told to "remove the crown" (Eze 21:26) from his head because dominion over Jerusalem will ultimately be given to the one "to whom it rightfully belongs."

49:11 Judah's descendants would someday enjoy a settled and prosperous life.

49:13 Though landlocked by the tribes of Asher and Manasseh, the descendants of Zebulun were close enough to the Mediterranean (within ten miles) to "feast on the abundance of the seas" (Dt 33:19).

49:17 Dan will be a serpent. The treachery of a group of Danites in later times is described in Jdg 18:27. that bites the horse's heels. Samson, from the tribe of Dan, would single-handedly hold the Philistines at bay (Jdg 14–16).

49:18 Jacob pauses midway through his series of blessings to utter a brief prayer for God's help.

49:19 Gad will be attacked. Located east of the Jordan (see Jos 13:24–27), the descendants of Gad were vulnerable to raids by the Moabites to the south, as the Mesha (see 2Ki 3:4) Stele (a Moabite inscription dating from the late ninth century B.C.) illustrates (see chart on "Ancient Texts Relating to the OT," p. xxii).

49:20 Asher's food will be rich. Fertile farmlands near the Mediterranean (see Jos 19:24–30) would ensure the prosperity of Asher's descendants.

49:21 Naphtali is a doe set free. Perhaps a reference to an independent spirit fostered in the descendants of Naphtali by their somewhat isolated location in the hill country north of the Sea of Galilee (see Jos 19:32–38).

49:22 fruitful . . . fruitful. A pun on the name Ephraim (see NIV text note on 41:52), who Jacob predicted would be greater than Joseph's firstborn son Manasseh (48:19–20). branches climb over a wall. Ephraim's descendants tended to expand their territory (see Jos 17:14–18).

49:24 his bow remained steady. The warlike Ephraimites (see Jdg 8:1; 12:1) would often prove victorious in battle (see Jos 17:18). Mighty One of Jacob. Stresses the activity of God in saving and redeeming his people (see Isa

For the later prosperity of Ephraim's descendants see Hos 12:8.

49:26 Joseph . . . the prince among his brothers. See note on v. 8. Ephraim would gain supremacy, especially over the northern tribes (see Jos 16:9; Isa 7:1–2; Hos 13:1).

49:27 Benjamin is a ravenous wolf. See the exploits of Ehud (Jdg 3:12–30) and Saul and Jonathan (1Sa 11–15). See Jdg 19–21 for examples of the savagery that characterized one group of Benjamin's descendants.

49:28 twelve tribes of Israel. See note on vv. 2–27.

49:29 Bury me with my fathers. See note on 25:8. Jacob does not forget that the land of his fathers is his God-appointed homeland (see note on 23:19).

The Tribes of Israel

* Jacob's name was symbolically changed to Israel when he wrestled with the divine visitor at Peniel. As patriarch of the 12 tribes, he bequeathed his new name to the nation, which often was still poetically called "Jacob."

 Levi was not included among the tribes given land allotments following the conquest of Canaan (cf. Ge 49:7). Instead, Moses set the Levites apart for national priestly duty as belonging to the Lord (Nu 3:1-4,49). Joshua awarded them 48 towns scattered throughout Israel (Jos 21:1-45).

 Joseph became the father of two tribes in Israel since Jacob adopted his two sons Ephraim and Manasseh.

lah,[c] near Mamre[d] in Canaan, which Abraham bought as a burial place[e] from Ephron the Hittite, along with the field.[f] [31]There Abraham[g] and his wife Sarah[h] were buried, there Isaac and his wife Rebekah[i] were buried, and there I buried Leah.[j] [32]The field and the cave in it were bought from the Hittites.[ck]"

[33]When Jacob had finished giving instructions to his sons, he drew his feet up into the bed, breathed his last and was gathered to his people.[l]

50 Joseph threw himself upon his father and wept over him and kissed him.[m] [2]Then Joseph directed the physicians in his service to embalm his father Israel. So the physicians embalmed him,[n] [3]taking a full forty days, for that was the time required for embalming. And the Egyptians mourned for him seventy days.[o]

[4]When the days of mourning[p] had passed, Joseph said to Pharaoh's court,[q] "If I have found favor in your eyes,[r] speak to Pharaoh for me. Tell him, [5]'My father made me swear an oath[s] and said, "I am about to die;[t] bury me in the tomb I dug for myself[u] in the land of Canaan."[v] Now let me go up and bury my father;[w] then I will return.' "

[6]Pharaoh said, "Go up and bury your father, as he made you swear to do."

[7]So Joseph went up to bury his father. All Pharaoh's officials[x] accompanied him—the dignitaries of his court[y] and all the dignitaries of Egypt— [8]besides all the members of Joseph's household and his brothers and those belonging to his father's household.[z] Only their children and their flocks and herds were left in Goshen.[a] [9]Chariots[b] and horsemen[d] also went up with him. It was a very large company.

[10]When they reached the threshing floor[c] of Atad, near the Jordan, they lamented loudly and bitterly;[d] and there Joseph observed a seven-day period[e] of mourning[f] for his father.[g] [11]When the Canaanites[h] who lived there saw the mourning at the threshing floor of Atad, they said, "The Egyptians are holding a solemn ceremony of mourning."[i] That is why that place near the Jordan is called Abel Mizraim.[e]

[12]So Jacob's sons did as he had commanded them:[j] [13]They carried him to the land of Canaan and buried him in the cave in the field of Machpelah,[k] near Mamre,[l] which Abraham had bought as a burial place from Ephron the Hittite,[m] along with the field.[n] [14]After burying his father, Joseph returned to Egypt, together with his brothers and all the others who had gone with him to bury his father.[o]

Joseph Reassures His Brothers

[15]When Joseph's brothers saw that their father was dead, they said, "What if Joseph holds a grudge[p] against us and pays us back for all the wrongs we did to him?"[q] [16]So they sent word to Joseph, saying, "Your father left these instructions[r] before he died: [17]'This is what you are to say to Joseph: I ask you to forgive your brothers the sins[s] and the wrongs they committed in treating you so badly.'[t] Now please forgive the sins of the servants of the God of your father.[u]" When their message came to him, Joseph wept.[v]

[18]His brothers then came and threw themselves down before him.[w] "We are your slaves,"[x] they said.

[19]But Joseph said to them, "Don't be afraid. Am I in the place of God?[y] [20]You

50:5 My father made me swear an oath. See 47:29–31. dug. Or "bought," as the Hebrew for this verb is translated in Hos 3:2 (see also Dt 2:6). go up. To Hebron, which has a higher elevation than Goshen.
50:10 threshing floor. Grain was threshed on a flat circular area, either of rock or of pounded earth. Threshing floors were located on an elevated open place exposed to the wind, usually at the edge of town or near the main gate (see 1Ki 22:10). See note on Ru 1:22.
50:15 holds a grudge ... and pays us back. Similarly, Esau had once planned to kill Jacob as soon as Isaac died (see 27:41).
50:17 Joseph wept. See note on 43:30. Joseph may have been saddened by the thought that his brothers might be falsely implicating their father in their story. Or he may have regretted his failure to reassure them sooner that he had already forgiven them.
50:18 threw themselves down. A final fulfillment of Joseph's earlier dreams (see note on 37:7; see also 37:9). We are your slaves. They had earlier expressed a similar willingness, but under quite different circumstances (see 44:9,33).
50:19 Am I in the place of God? See note on 30:2.
50:20 God intended it for good. Their act, out of personal animosity toward a brother, had been used by God to save life—the life of the Israelites, the Egyptians and all the nations that came to Egypt to buy food in the face of a famine that threatened the known world. At the same time, God showed by these events that his purpose for the nations is life and that this purpose would be effected through the descendants of Abraham.

The Death of Joseph

22Joseph stayed in Egypt, along with all his father's family. He lived a hundred and ten years[f] 23and saw the third generation[g] of Ephraim's[h] children.[i] Also the children of Makir[j] son of Manasseh[k] were placed at birth on Joseph's knees.[l]

24Then Joseph said to his brothers, "I am about to die.[m] But God will surely come to your aid[n] and take you up out of this land to the land[o] he promised on oath to Abraham,[p] Isaac[q] and Jacob."[r] 25And Joseph made the sons of Israel swear an oath[s] and said, "God will surely come to your aid, and then you must carry my bones[t] up from this place."[u]

26So Joseph died[v] at the age of a hundred and ten.[w] And after they embalmed him,[x] he was placed in a coffin in Egypt.

50:25 See 47:29–31 for a similar request by Jacob. carry my bones up from this place. Centuries later Moses did so to fulfill his ancestor's oath (see Ex 13:19). Joseph's bones were eventually "buried at Shechem in the tract of land that Jacob bought . . . from the sons of Hamor" (Jos 24:32; see Ge 33:19).

50:26 Joseph died at the age of a hundred and ten. See v. 22. Ancient Egyptian records indicate that 110 years was considered to be the ideal life span; to the Egyptians this would have signified divine blessing upon Joseph.

Exodus

Title

"Exodus" is a Latin word derived from Greek Exodos, the name given to the book by those who translated it into Greek. The word means "exit," "departure" (see Lk 9:31; Heb 11:22). The name was retained by the Latin Vulgate, by the Jewish author Philo (a contemporary of Christ) and by the Syriac version. In Hebrew the book is named after its first two words, we'elleh shemoth ("These are the names of"). The same phrase occurs in Ge 46:8, where it likewise introduces a list of the names of those Israelites "who went to Egypt with Jacob" (1:1). Thus Exodus was not intended to exist separately, but was thought of as a continuation of a narrative that began in Genesis and was completed in Leviticus, Numbers and Deuteronomy. The first five books of the Bible are together known as the Pentateuch (see Introduction to Genesis: Author and Date of Writing).

Author and Date of Writing

Several statements in Exodus indicate that Moses wrote certain sections of the book (see 17:14; 24:4; 34:27). In addition, Jos 8:31 refers to the command of Ex 20:25 as having been "written in the Book of the Law of Moses." The NT also claims Mosaic authorship for various passages in Exodus (see, e.g., Mk 7:10; 12:26 and NIV text notes; see also Lk 2:22–23). Taken together, these references strongly suggest that Moses was largely responsible for writing the book of Exodus—a traditional view not convincingly challenged by the commonly held notion that the Pentateuch as a whole contains four underlying sources (see Introduction to Genesis: Author and Date of Writing).

Chronology

According to 1Ki 6:1, the exodus took place 480 years before "the fourth year of Solomon's reign over Israel." Since that year was c. 966 B.C., it has been traditionally held that the exodus occurred c. 1446. The "three hundred years" of Jdg 11:26 fits comfortably within this time span (see Introduction to Judges: Background). In addition, although Egyptian chronology relating to the 18th dynasty remains somewhat uncertain, recent research tends to support the traditional view that two of this dynasty's pharaohs, Thutmose III and his son Amunhotep II, were the pharaohs of the oppression and the exodus respectively (see notes on 2:15,23; 3:10).

On the other hand, the appearance of the name Rameses in 1:11 has led many to the conclusion that the 19th-dynasty pharaoh Seti I and his son Rameses II were the pharaohs of the oppression and the exodus respectively. Furthermore, archaeological evidence of the destruction of numerous Canaanite cities in the 13th century B.C. has been interpreted as proof that Joshua's troops invaded the promised land in that century. These and similar lines of argument lead to a date for the exodus of c. 1290 (see Introduction to Joshua: Historical Setting).

The identity of the cities' attackers, however, cannot be positively ascertained. The raids may have been initiated by later Israelite armies, or by Philistines or other outsiders. In addition, the archaeological evidence itself has become increasingly ambiguous, and recent evaluations have tended to redate some of it to the 18th dynasty. Also, the name Rameses in 1:11 could very well be the result of an editorial updating by someone who lived centuries after Moses—a procedure that probably accounts for the appearance of the same word in Ge 47:11 (see note there).

In short, there are no compelling reasons to modify in any substantial way the traditional 1446 B.C. date for the exodus of the Israelites from Egyptian bondage.

The Route of the Exodus

At least three routes of escape from Pithom and Rameses (1:11) have been proposed: (1) a northern route through the land of the Philistines (but see 13:17); (2) a middle route leading eastward across Sinai to Beersheba; and (3) a southern route along the west coast of Sinai to the southeastern extremities of the peninsula. The southern route seems most likely, since several of the sites in Israel's desert itinerary have been tentatively identified along it. See map No. 3 at the end of the study Bible. The exact place where Israel crossed the "Red Sea" is uncertain, however (see notes on 13:18; 14:2).

Themes and Theology

Exodus lays a foundational theology in which God reveals his name, his attributes, his redemption, his law and how he is to be worshiped. It also reports the appointment and work of the first covenant mediator (Moses), describes the beginnings of the priesthood, defines the role of the prophet and relates how the ancient covenant relationship between God and his people came under a new administration (the Sinai covenant).

Profound insights into the nature of God are found in chs. 3; 6; 33—34. The focus of these texts is on the fact and importance of his presence (as signified by his name Yahweh and by his glory). But emphasis is also placed on his attributes of justice, truthfulness, mercy, faithfulness and holiness. Thus to know God's "name" is to know him and his character (see 3:13–15; 6:3).

God is also the Lord of history, for there is no one like him: "majestic in holiness, awesome in glory, working wonders" (15:11). Neither the affliction of Israel nor the plagues in Egypt were outside his control. Pharaoh, the Egyptians and all Israel saw the power of God.

It is reassuring to know that God remembers and is concerned about his people (see 2:24). What he had promised centuries earlier to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob he now begins to bring to fruition as Israel is freed from Egyptian bondage and sets out for the land of promise. The covenant at Sinai is but another step in God's fulfillment of his promise to the patriarchs (3:15–17; 6:2–8; 19:3–8).

The theology of salvation is likewise one of the strong emphases of the book. The verb "redeem" is used, e.g., in 6:6; 15:13. But the heart of redemption theology is best seen in the Passover narrative of ch. 12 and the sealing of the covenant in ch. 24. The apostle Paul viewed the death of the Passover lamb as fulfilled in Christ (1Co 5:7). Indeed, John the Baptist called Jesus the "Lamb of God, who takes away the sin of the world" (Jn 1:29).

The foundation of Biblical ethics and morality is laid out first in the gracious character of God as revealed in the exodus itself and then in the Ten Commandments (20:1–17) and the ordinances of the Book of the Covenant (20:22—23:33), which taught Israel how to apply in a practical way the principles of the commandments.

The book concludes with an elaborate discussion of the theology of worship. Though costly in time, effort and monetary value, the tabernacle, in meaning and function, points to the chief end of man: "to glorify God and to enjoy him forever" (Westminster Shorter Catechism). By means of the tabernacle, the omnipotent, unchanging and transcendent God of the universe came to "dwell" or "tabernacle" with his people, thereby revealing his gracious nearness as well. God is not only mighty in Israel's behalf; he is also present in her midst.

However, these theological elements do not merely sit side by side in the Exodus narrative. They receive their fullest and richest significance from the fact that they are embedded in the account of God's raising up his servant Moses (1) to liberate his people from Egyptian bondage, (2) to inaugurate his earthly kingdom among them by bringing them into a special national covenant with him, and (3) to erect within Israel God's royal tent. And this account of redemption from bondage leading to consecration in covenant and the pitching of God's royal tent in the earth, all through the ministry of a chosen mediator, discloses God's purpose in history—the purpose he would fulfill through Israel, and ultimately through Jesus Christ the supreme Mediator.

The Israelites Oppressed

1 These are the names of the sons of Israel[a] who went to Egypt with Jacob, each with his family: [2]Reuben, Simeon, Levi and Judah; [3]Issachar, Zebulun and Benjamin; [4]Dan and Naphtali; Gad and Asher.[b] [5]The descendants of Jacob numbered seventy[a] in all;[c] Joseph was already in Egypt.

[6]Now Joseph and all his brothers and all that generation died,[d] [7]but the Israelites were fruitful and multiplied greatly and became exceedingly numerous,[e] so that the land was filled with them.

[8]Then a new king, who did not know about Joseph, came to power in Egypt.[f] [9]"Look," he said to his people, "the Israelites have become much too numerous[g] for us.[h] [10]Come, we must deal shrewdly[i] with them or they will become even more numerous and, if war breaks out, will join our enemies, fight against us and leave the country."[j]

[11]So they put slave masters[k] over them to oppress them with forced labor,[l] and they built Pithom and Rameses[m] as store cities[n] for Pharaoh. [12]But the more they were oppressed, the more they multiplied and spread; so the Egyptians came to dread the Israelites [13]and worked them ruthlessly.[o] [14]They made their lives bitter with hard labor[p] in brick[q] and mortar and with all kinds of work in the fields; in all their hard labor the Egyptians used them ruthlessly.[r]

[15]The king of Egypt said to the Hebrew midwives,[s] whose names were Shiphrah and Puah, [16]"When you help the Hebrew women in childbirth and observe them on the delivery stool, if it is a boy, kill him; but if it is a girl, let her live."[t] [17]The midwives, however, feared[u] God and did not do what the king of Egypt had told them to do;[v] they let the boys live. [18]Then the king of Egypt summoned the midwives and asked them, "Why have you done this? Why have you let the boys live?"

[20]So God was kind to the midwives[x] and the people increased and became even more numerous. [21]And because the midwives feared[y] God, he gave them families[z] of their own.

[22]Then Pharaoh gave this order to all his people: "Every boy that is born[b] you must throw into the Nile,[a] but let every girl live."[b]

The Birth of Moses

2 Now a man of the house of Levi[c] married a Levite woman,[d] [2]and she became pregnant and gave birth to a son. When she saw that he was a fine[e] child,

[a]5 Masoretic Text (see also Gen. 46:27); Dead Sea Scrolls and Septuagint (see also Acts 7:14 and note at Gen. 46:27) seventy-five [b]22 Masoretic Text; Samaritan Pentateuch, Septuagint and Targums born to the Hebrews

1:1–5 These verses clearly indicate that Exodus was written as a continuation of Genesis. The Israelites lived in Egypt 430 years (see 12:40).

1:1 These are the names of. The same expression appears in Ge 46:8 at the head of a list of Jacob's descendants. Israel . . . Jacob. Jacob had earlier been given the additional name Israel (see Ge 32:28; 35:10 and notes).

1:2–4 The sons of Leah (Reuben through Zebulun) and Rachel (Benjamin; Joseph is not mentioned because the list includes only those "who went to Egypt with Jacob," v. 1) are listed in the order of their seniority and before the sons of Rachel's and Leah's maidservants: Bilhah had Dan and Naphtali, Zilpah had Gad and Asher (see Ge 35:23–26).

1:5 seventy. See note on Ge 46:27.

1:6–7 From the death of Joseph to the rise of a new king (v. 8) was more than 200 years.

1:7 See Ac 7:17. God's promised blessing of fruitfulness and increase had been given to Adam (Ge 1:28), Noah (Ge 8:17; 9:1,7), Abraham (Ge 17:2,6; 22:17), Isaac (Ge 26:4) and Jacob (Ge 28:14; 35:11; 48:4). God continued to fulfill his promise during the 430-year sojourn in Egypt. the land was filled with them. The Hebrew used here echoes the blessing of Adam (Ge 1:28)—God's initial blessing of mankind was being fulfilled in Israel. The Israelites who left Egypt are said to number about 600,000 men, "besides women and children" (12:37). land. Goshen (see note on Ge 45:10).

1:8 See Ac 7:18. new king. Probably Ahmose, the founder of the 18th dynasty, who expelled the Hyksos (foreign—predominantly Semitic—rulers of Egypt).

1:11 slave masters. The same official Egyptian designation appears on a wall painting in the Theban tomb of Rekhmire during the reign of the 18th-dynasty pharaoh Thutmose III (see Introduction: Chronology). Rameses. See note on Ge 47:11. Pharaoh. The word, which is Egyptian in origin and means "great house," is a royal title rather than a personal name.

1:14 made their lives bitter. A fact commemorated in the Passover meal, which was eaten "with bitter herbs" (12:8). all kinds of work in the fields. Including pumping the waters of the Nile into the fields to irrigate them (see Dt 11:10).

1:15 Hebrew. See note on Ge 14:13. Shiphrah and Puah. Semitic, not Egyptian, names. Since the Israelites were so numerous, there were probably other midwives under Shiphrah and Puah.

1:16 delivery stool. The Hebrew term means lit. "two stones"; a woman sat on them while giving birth.

1:17 See Ac 5:29 for a parallel in the early church. feared God. See note on Ge 20:11.

2:1 a man . . . a Levite woman. Perhaps Amram and Jochebed (but see note on 6:20).

2:2 a fine child. Moses was "no ordinary child" (Ac 7:20; Heb 11:23), "fair in the sight of God" (see NIV text note on Ac 7:20). The account of Moses' remarkable deliverance in infancy foreshadows the deliverance from Egypt that God would later effect through him.

she hid him for three months.[f] 3But when she could hide him no longer, she got a papyrus[g] basket for him and coated it with tar and pitch.[h] Then she placed the child in it and put it among the reeds[i] along the bank of the Nile. 4His sister[j] stood at a distance to see what would happen to him.

5Then Pharaoh's daughter went down to the Nile to bathe, and her attendants were walking along the river bank.[k] She saw the basket among the reeds and sent her slave girl to get it. 6She opened it and saw the baby. He was crying, and she felt sorry for him. "This is one of the Hebrew babies," she said.

7Then his sister asked Pharaoh's daughter, "Shall I go and get one of the Hebrew women to nurse the baby for you?"

8"Yes, go," she answered. And the girl went and got the baby's mother. 9Pharaoh's daughter said to her, "Take this baby and nurse him for me, and I will pay you." So the woman took the baby and nursed him. 10When the child grew older, she took him to Pharaoh's daughter and he became her son. She named[l] him Moses,[c] saying, "I drew[m] him out of the water."

Moses Flees to Midian

11One day, after Moses had grown up, he went out to where his own people[n] were and watched them at their hard labor.[o] He saw an Egyptian beating a Hebrew, one of his own people. 12Glancing this way and that and seeing no one, he killed the Egyptian and hid him in the sand. 13The next day he went out and saw two Hebrews fighting. He asked the one in the wrong, "Why are you hitting your fellow Hebrew?"[p]

14The man said, "Who made you ruler and judge over us?[q] Are you thinking of killing me as you killed the Egyptian?" Then Moses was afraid and thought, "What I did must have become known."

15When Pharaoh heard of this, he tried to kill[r] Moses, but Moses fled[s] from Pharaoh and went to live in Midian,[t] where he sat down by a well. 16Now a priest of Midian[u] had seven daughters, and they came to draw water[v] and fill the troughs[w] to water their father's flock. 17Some shepherds came along and drove them away, but Moses got up and came to their rescue[x] and watered their flock.[y]

18When the girls returned to Reuel[z] their father, he asked them, "Why have you returned so early today?"

19They answered, "An Egyptian rescued us from the shepherds. He even drew water for us and watered the flock."

20"And where is he?" he asked his daughters. "Why did you leave him? Invite him to have something to eat."[a]

21Moses agreed to stay with the man, who gave his daughter Zipporah[b] to Moses in marriage. 22Zipporah gave birth to a son, and Moses named him Gershom,[d c] saying, "I have become an alien[d] in a foreign land."

23During that long period,[e] the king of Egypt died.[f] The Israelites groaned in their slavery[g] and cried out, and their cry[h] for help because of their slavery

[d] 22 Gershom sounds like the Hebrew for an alien there.

2:3 papyrus basket. Each of the two Hebrew words lying behind this phrase is of Egyptian origin. The word for "basket" is used only here and of Noah's ark (see note on Ge 6:14). Moses' basket was a miniature version of the large, seaworthy "papyrus boats" mentioned in Isa 18:2. reeds. A word of Egyptian derivation, reflected in the proper name "Red Sea" (see NIV text note on 10:19).

2:4 His sister. Miriam (see 15:20).

2:5 Pharaoh's daughter. Perhaps the famous 18th-dynasty princess who later became Queen Hatshepsut. attendants. They stayed on the river bank to bathe the princess.

2:10 See Ac 7:21–22. he became her son. Throughout this early part of Exodus, all the pharaoh's efforts to suppress Israel were thwarted by women: the midwives (1:17), the Israelite mothers (1:19), Moses' mother and sister (vv. 3–4,7–9), the pharaoh's daughter (here). The pharaoh's impotence to destroy the people of God is thus ironically exposed. Moses. The name, of Egyptian origin, means "is born" and forms the second element in such pharaonic names as Ahmose (see note on 1:8), Thutmose and Rameses (see note on 1:11). drew him out. A Hebrew wordplay on the name Moses (see NIV text note), emphasizing his providential rescue from the Nile. Thus Moses' name may also have served as a reminder of the great act of deliverance God worked through him at the "Red Sea" (see 13:17–14:31).

2:11–15 See Ac 7:23–29; Heb 11:24–27.

2:11 Moses had grown up. He was now 40 years old (see Ac 7:23).

2:14 Who made you ruler and judge . . . ? Unwittingly, the speaker made a prediction that would be fulfilled 40 years later (see Ac 7:27,30,35). The Hebrew word for "judge" could also refer to a deliverer, as in the book of Judges (see Ac 7:35); it was often a synonym for "ruler" in the OT (see Ge 18:25 and note) as well as in ancient Canaanite usage. Moses was afraid. See note on Heb 11:27.

2:15 Pharaoh. Probably Thutmose III (see Introduction: Chronology). Midian. Named after one of Abraham's younger sons (see Ge 25:2; see also note on Ge 37:25). Midian was located in southeastern Sinai and west central Arabia, flanking the eastern arm of the Red Sea (Gulf of Aqaba) on either side. Dry and desolate, it formed a stark contrast to Moses' former home in the royal court. He lived in Midian 40 years (see Ac 7:29–30).

2:16 priest of Midian. Reuel (see v. 18), which means "friend of God." His other name, Jethro (see 3:1), may be a title meaning "his excellency."

2:23 During that long period. Thutmose III (see note on v. 15) enjoyed a long reign.

went up to God. 24God heard their groaning and he remembered[i] his covenant[j] with Abraham, with Isaac and with Jacob. 25So God looked on the Israelites and was concerned[k] about them.

Moses and the Burning Bush

3 Now Moses was tending the flock of Jethro[l] his father-in-law, the priest of Midian,[m] and he led the flock to the far side of the desert and came to Horeb,[n] the mountain[o] of God. 2There the angel of the LORD[p] appeared to him in flames of fire[q] from within a bush.[r] Moses saw that though the bush was on fire it did not burn up. 3So Moses thought, "I will go over and see this strange sight—why the bush does not burn up."

4When the LORD saw that he had gone over to look, God called[s] to him from within the bush,[t] "Moses! Moses!"

And Moses said, "Here I am."[u]

5"Do not come any closer,"[v] God said. "Take off your sandals, for the place where you are standing is holy ground."[w] 6Then he said, "I am the God of your father, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac and the God of Jacob."[x] At this, Moses hid[y] his face, because he was afraid to look at God.[z]

7The LORD said, "I have indeed seen[a] the misery[b] of my people in Egypt. I have heard them crying out because of their slave drivers, and I am concerned[c] about their suffering.[d] 8So I have come down[e] to rescue them from the hand of the Egyptians and to bring them up out of that land into a good and spacious land,[f] a land flowing with milk and honey[g]—the home of the Canaanites, Hittites, Amorites, Perizzites, Hivites[h] and Jebusites.[i] 9And now the cry of the Israelites has reached me, and I have seen the way the Egyptians are oppressing[j] them. 10So now, go. I am sending[k] you to Pharaoh to bring my people the Israelites out of Egypt."[l]

11But Moses said to God, "Who am I,[m] that I should go to Pharaoh and bring the Israelites out of Egypt?"

12And God said, "I will be with you.[n] And this will be the sign[o] to you that it is I who have sent you: When you have brought the people out of Egypt, you[e] will worship God on this mountain.[p]"

13Moses said to God, "Suppose I go to the Israelites and say to them, 'The God of your fathers has sent me to you,' and they ask me, 'What is his name?'[q] Then what shall I tell them?"

14God said to Moses, "I AM WHO I AM.[f]

[e] 12 The Hebrew is plural. [f] 14 Or I WILL BE WHAT I WILL BE

2:24 covenant with Abraham. See Ge 15:17–18; 17:7 and notes. with Isaac. See Ge 17:19; 26:24. with Jacob. See Ge 35:11–12.

3:1 Like David (2Sa 7:8), Moses was called from tending the flock to be the shepherd of God's people. Jethro. See note on 2:16. Horeb. Means "desert," "desolation"; either (1) an alternate name for Mount Sinai or (2) another high mountain in the same vicinity in the southeast region of the Sinai peninsula. Tradition identifies Mount Horeb with Ras es-Safsaf ("willow peak"), 6,500 feet high, and Mount Sinai with Jebel Musa ("mountain of Moses"), 7,400 feet high, but both identifications are uncertain.

3:2 angel of the LORD. Used interchangeably with "the LORD" and "God" in v. 4 (see note on Ge 16:7). appeared to him in flames of fire. God's revelation of himself and his will was often accompanied by fire (see 13:21; 19:18; 1Ki 18:24,38).

3:4 Every true prophet was called by God (see, e.g., 1Sa 3:4; Isa 6:8; Jer 1:4–5; Eze 2:1–8; Hos 1:2; Am 7:15; Jnh 1:1–2; see also note on 7:1–2). Moses, Moses! . . . Here I am. See notes on Ge 22:1,11.

3:5 Take off your sandals. A practice still followed by Muslims before entering a mosque. holy. The ground was not holy by nature but was made so by the divine presence (see, e.g., Ge 2:3). Holiness involves being consecrated to the Lord's service and thus being separated from the commonplace.

3:6 See 2:24 and note. afraid to look at God. See notes on Ge 16:13; 32:30. Later, as the Lord's servant, Moses would meet with God on Mount Sinai (19:3) and even ask to see God's glory (33:18).

3:8 I have come down to rescue. God may also come down to judge (see Ge 11:5–9; 18:21). land flowing with milk and honey. The traditional and proverbial description of the hill country of Canaan—in its original pastoral state (see note on Isa 7:15). Canaanites . . . Jebusites. See notes on Ge 10:6,15–16; 13:7. The list of the Canaanite nations ranges from two names (see Ge 13:7) to five (see Nu 13:29) to six (as here; see also Jdg 3:5) to ten (see Ge 15:19–21) to twelve (see Ge 10:15–18). The classic description includes seven names (see, e.g., Dt 7:1), seven being the number of completeness (see note on Ge 4:17–18).

3:10 Pharaoh. Probably Amunhotep II (see Introduction: Chronology).

3:11 Moses' first expression of reluctance (see v. 13; 4:1,10,13).

3:12 I will be with you. See note on Ge 26:3. The Hebrew word translated "I will be" is the same as the one translated "I AM" in v. 14. sign. A visible proof or guarantee that what God had promised he would surely fulfill (see notes on 4:8; Ge 15:8).

3:13 Moses' second expression of reluctance. What is his name? God had not yet identified himself to Moses by name (see v. 6; cf. Ge 17:1).

3:14 I AM WHO I AM. The name by which God wished to be known and worshiped in Israel—the name that expressed his character as the dependable and faithful God who desires the full trust of his people (see v. 12, where "I will be" is completed by "with you"; see also 34:5–7). I AM. The shortened form of the name is perhaps found also in Ps

This is what you are to say to the Israelites: 'I AM[r] has sent me to you.' "

15God also said to Moses, "Say to the Israelites, 'The LORD,[s] the God of your fathers[s]—the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac and the God of Jacob[t]—has sent me to you.' This is my name[u] forever, the name by which I am to be remembered from generation to generation.[v]

16"Go, assemble the elders[w] of Israel and say to them, 'The LORD, the God of your fathers—the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob[x]—appeared to me and said: I have watched over you and have seen[y] what has been done to you in Egypt. 17And I have promised to bring you up out of your misery in Egypt[z] into the land of the Canaanites, Hittites, Amorites, Perizzites, Hivites and Jebusites—a land flowing with milk and honey.'[a]

18"The elders of Israel will listen[b] to you. Then you and the elders are to go to the king of Egypt and say to him, 'The LORD, the God of the Hebrews,[c] has met[d] with us. Let us take a three-day journey[e] into the desert to offer sacrifices[f] to the LORD our God.' 19But I know that the king of Egypt will not let you go unless a mighty hand[g] compels him. 20So I will stretch out my hand[h] and strike the Egyptians with all the wonders[i] that I will perform among them. After that, he will let you go.[j]

21"And I will make the Egyptians favorably disposed[k] toward this people, so that when you leave you will not go empty-handed.[l] 22Every woman is to ask her neighbor and any woman living in her house for articles of silver[m] and gold[n] and for clothing, which you will put on your sons and daughters. And so you will plunder[o] the Egyptians."[p]

Signs for Moses

4 Moses answered, "What if they do not believe me or listen[q] to me and say, 'The LORD did not appear to you'?"

2Then the LORD said to him, "What is that in your hand?"

"A staff,"[r] he replied.

3The LORD said, "Throw it on the ground."

Moses threw it on the ground and it became a snake,[s] and he ran from it. 4Then the LORD said to him, "Reach out your hand and take it by the tail." So Moses reached out and took hold of the snake and it turned back into a staff in his hand. 5"This," said the LORD, "is so that they may believe[t] that the LORD, the God of their fathers—the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac and the God of Jacob—has appeared to you."

6Then the LORD said, "Put your hand inside your cloak." So Moses put his hand into his cloak, and when he took it out, it was leprous,[h] like snow.[u]

7"Now put it back into your cloak," he said. So Moses put his hand back into his cloak, and when he took it out, it was restored,[v] like the rest of his flesh.

8Then the LORD said, "If they do not believe[w] you or pay attention to the first miraculous sign,[x] they may believe the second. 9But if they do not believe these

*15 The Hebrew for LORD sounds like and may be derived from the Hebrew for I AM in verse 14.
[h]6 The Hebrew word was used for various diseases affecting the skin—not necessarily leprosy.

50:21 (see NIV text note there). Jesus applied the phrase to himself; in so doing he claimed to be God and risked being stoned for blasphemy (see Jn 8:58–59).

3:15 The LORD. The Hebrew for this name is Yahweh (often incorrectly spelled "Jehovah"; see note on Dt 28:58). It means "He is" or "He will be" and is the third-person form of the verb translated "I will be" in v. 12 and "I AM" in v. 14. When God speaks of himself he says, "I AM," and when we speak of him we say, "He is."

3:16 elders. The Hebrew for this word means lit. "bearded ones," perhaps reflecting the age, wisdom, experience and influence necessary for a man expected to function as an elder. As heads of local families and tribes, "elders" had a recognized position also among the Babylonians, Hittites, Egyptians (see Ge 50:7), Moabites and Midianites (see Nu 22:7). Their duties included judicial arbitration and sentencing (see Dt 22:13–19) as well as military leadership (see Jos 8:10) and counsel (see 1Sa 4:3).

3:18 Hebrews. See note on Ge 14:13. three-day journey. Probably a conventional expression for a short trip rather than a journey of exactly three days. desert. God had met with Moses there (see vv. 1–2) and would meet with him there again (see v. 12).

3:20 wonders. A prediction of the plagues that God would send against Egypt (see 7:14–12:30).

3:21–22 See 11:2–3; 12:35–36.

3:21 when you leave you will not go empty-handed. God had promised Abraham that after Israel had served for 400 years they would "come out with great possessions" (Ge 15:14; see Ps 105:37). Israel herself was to live by the same principle of providing gifts to a released slave (see Dt 15:12–15).

4:1 Moses' third expression of reluctance (in spite of God's assurance in 3:18).

4:2 staff. Probably a shepherd's crook.

4:3 snake. See 7:9–10 and note. Throughout much of Egypt's history the pharaoh wore a cobra made of metal on the front of his headdress as a symbol of his sovereignty.

4:8 miraculous sign. A supernatural event or phenomenon designed to demonstrate authority, provide assurance (see Jos 2:12–13), bear testimony (see Isa 19:19–20), give warning (see Nu 17:10) or encourage faith. See note on 3:12.

two signs or listen to you, take some water from the Nile and pour it on the dry ground. The water you take from the river will become blood[y] on the ground."

[10]Moses said to the LORD, "O Lord, I have never been eloquent, neither in the past nor since you have spoken to your servant. I am slow of speech and tongue."[z]

[11]The LORD said to him, "Who gave man his mouth? Who makes him deaf or mute?[a] Who gives him sight or makes him blind?[b] Is it not I, the LORD? [12]Now go;[c] I will help you speak and will teach you what to say."[d]

[13]But Moses said, "O Lord, please send someone else to do it."[e]

[14]Then the LORD's anger burned[f] against Moses and he said, "What about your brother, Aaron the Levite? I know he can speak well. He is already on his way to meet[g] you, and his heart will be glad when he sees you. [15]You shall speak to him and put words in his mouth;[h] I will help both of you speak and will teach you what to do. [16]He will speak to the people for you, and it will be as if he were your mouth[i] and as if you were God to him.[j] [17]But take this staff[k] in your hand[l] so you can perform miraculous signs[m] with it."

Moses Returns to Egypt

[18]Then Moses went back to Jethro his father-in-law and said to him, "Let me go back to my own people in Egypt to see if any of them are still alive."

Jethro said, "Go, and I wish you well."

[19]Now the LORD had said to Moses in Midian, "Go back to Egypt, for all the men who wanted to kill[n] you are dead.[o]" [20]So Moses took his wife and sons,[p] put them on a donkey and started back to Egypt. And he took the staff[q] of God in his hand.

[21]The LORD said to Moses, "When you return to Egypt, see that you perform before Pharaoh all the wonders[r] I have given you the power to do. But I will harden his heart[s] so that he will not let the people go.[t] [22]Then say to Pharaoh, 'This is what the LORD says: Israel is my firstborn son,[u] [23]and I told you, "Let my son go,[v] so he may worship[w] me." But you refused to let him go; so I will kill your firstborn son.' "[x]

[24]At a lodging place on the way, the LORD met ⌊Moses⌋[i] and was about to kill[y] him. [25]But Zipporah[z] took a flint knife, cut off her son's foreskin[a] and touched ⌊Moses'⌋ feet with it.[j] "Surely you are a bridegroom of blood to me," she said. [26]So the LORD let him alone. (At that time she said "bridegroom of blood," referring to circumcision.)

[27]The LORD said to Aaron, "Go into the desert to meet Moses." So he met Moses at the mountain[b] of God and kissed[c] him. [28]Then Moses told Aaron everything the LORD had sent him to say, and also about all the miraculous signs he had commanded him to perform.

[29]Moses and Aaron brought together all the elders[d] of the Israelites, [30]and Aaron told them everything the LORD had said to Moses. He also performed the

[i] 24 Or ⌊Moses' son⌋; Hebrew him [j] 25 Or and drew near ⌊Moses'⌋ feet

4:10 Moses' fourth expression of reluctance. I am slow of speech and tongue. Not in the sense of a speech impediment (see Ac 7:22). He complained, instead, of not being eloquent or quick-witted enough to respond to the pharaoh (see 6:12). Cf. the description of Paul in 2Co 10:10.

4:13 Moses' fifth and final expression of reluctance.

4:14 the LORD's anger burned against Moses. Although the Lord is "slow to anger" (34:6), he does not withhold his anger or punishment from his disobedient children forever (see 34:7). Levite. Under Aaron's leadership Israel's priesthood would come from the tribe of Levi.

4:15–16 See note on 7:1–2.

4:19 all the men . . . are dead. Including Thutmose III (see 2:15,23; see also Introduction: Chronology).

4:20 sons. Gershom (see 2:22) and Eliezer. The latter, though unmentioned by name until 18:4, had already been born.

4:21 wonders. See note on 3:20. I will harden his heart. Nine times in Exodus the hardening of the pharaoh's heart is ascribed to God (here; 7:3; 9:12; 10:1,20,27; 11:10; 14:4,8; see Ro 9:17–18 and notes); another nine times the pharaoh is said to have hardened his own heart (7:13–14,22; 8:15,19,32; 9:7,34–35). The pharaoh alone was the agent of the hardening in each of the first five plagues. Not until the sixth plague did God confirm the pharaoh's willful action (see 9:12), as he had told Moses he would do (see similarly Ro 1:24–28).

4:22 firstborn son. A figure of speech indicating Israel's special relationship with God (see Jer 31:9; Hos 11:1). son. Used collectively of the Israelites also in Hos 11:1.

4:23 kill your firstborn son. Anticipates the tenth plague (see 11:5; 12:12).

4:24 lodging place. Perhaps near water, where travelers could spend the night. The LORD . . . was about to kill him. Evidently because Moses had failed to circumcise his son (see Ge 17:9–14).

4:25 Zipporah . . . cut off her son's foreskin. Sensing that divine displeasure had threatened Moses' life, she quickly performed the circumcision on their young son. flint knife. Continued to be used for circumcision long after metal was introduced, probably because flint knives were sharper than the metal instruments available and thus more efficient for the surgical procedure (see Jos 5:2 and note). feet. Probably a euphemism for "genitals," as in Dt 28:57 ("womb," lit. "feet").

4:26 bridegroom of blood. Circumcision may have been repulsive to Zipporah—though it was practiced for various reasons among many peoples of the ancient Near East.

4:30 Aaron told them everything the LORD had said to Moses. See note on 7:1–2.

Bricks Without Straw

5 Afterward Moses and Aaron went to Pharaoh and said, "This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says: 'Let my people go,[j] so that they may hold a festival[k] to me in the desert.' "

[2]Pharaoh said, "Who is the LORD,[l] that I should obey him and let Israel go? I do not know the LORD and I will not let Israel go."[m]

[3]Then they said, "The God of the Hebrews has met with us. Now let us take a three-day journey[n] into the desert to offer sacrifices to the LORD our God, or he may strike us with plagues[o] or with the sword."

[4]But the king of Egypt said, "Moses and Aaron, why are you taking the people away from their labor?[p] Get back to your work!" [5]Then Pharaoh said, "Look, the people of the land are now numerous,[q] and you are stopping them from working."

[6]That same day Pharaoh gave this order to the slave drivers[r] and foremen in charge of the people: [7]"You are no longer to supply the people with straw for making bricks;[s] let them go and gather their own straw. [8]But require them to make the same number of bricks as before; don't reduce the quota.[t] They are lazy;[u] that is why they are crying out, 'Let us go and sacrifice to our God.'[v] [9]Make the work harder for the men so that they keep working and pay no attention to lies."

[10]Then the slave drivers[w] and the foremen went out and said to the people, "This is what Pharaoh says: 'I will not give you any more straw. [11]Go and get your own straw wherever you can find it, but your work will not be reduced[x] at all.' " [12]So the people scattered all over Egypt to gather stubble to use for straw. [13]The slave drivers kept pressing them, saying, "Complete the work required of you for each day, just as when you had straw." [14]The Israelite foremen appointed by Pharaoh's slave drivers were beaten[y] and were asked, "Why didn't you meet your quota of bricks yesterday or today, as before?"

[15]Then the Israelite foremen went and appealed to Pharaoh: "Why have you treated your servants this way? [16]Your servants are given no straw, yet we are told, 'Make bricks!' Your servants are being beaten, but the fault is with your own people."

[17]Pharaoh said, "Lazy, that's what you are—lazy![z] That is why you keep saying, 'Let us go and sacrifice to the LORD.' [18]Now get to work.[a] You will not be given any straw, yet you must produce your full quota of bricks."

[19]The Israelite foremen realized they were in trouble when they were told, "You are not to reduce the number of bricks required of you for each day." [20]When they left Pharaoh, they found Moses and Aaron waiting to meet them, [21]and they said, "May the LORD look upon you and judge[b] you! You have made us a stench[c] to Pharaoh and his officials and have put a sword[d] in their hand to kill us."[e]

God Promises Deliverance

[22]Moses returned to the LORD and said, "O Lord, why have you brought trouble upon this people?[f] Is this why you sent me? [23]Ever since I went to Pharaoh to speak in your name, he has brought trouble upon this people, and you have not rescued[g] your people at all."

6 Then the LORD said to Moses, "Now you will see what I will do to Pharaoh: Because of my mighty hand[h] he will let them go;[i] because of my mighty hand he will drive them out of his country."[j]

[2]God also said to Moses, "I am the LORD.[k] [3]I appeared to Abraham, to Isaac

5:1 Pharaoh. See note on 3:10.
5:3 See 3:18 and note. The reason for sacrificing where the Egyptians could not see them is given in 8:26 (see note on Ge 43:32).
5:6 slave drivers. Probably the same as the Egyptian "slave masters" in 1:11 (see note there). foremen. Israelite supervisors whose method of appointment and whose functions are indicated in vv. 14–16.
5:7 straw. Chopped and mixed with the clay as binder to make the bricks stronger.
5:9 lies. The pharaoh labels all hopes of a quick release for Israel as presumptuous and false.
5:21 May the LORD look upon you and judge you! See Ge 16:5; 31:49 and notes.
6:1 Now. Without further delay, God will act.
6:2 I am the LORD. Appears four times in this passage: (1) to introduce the message; (2) to confirm God's promise of redemption (v. 6) based on the evidence of vv. 2–5; (3) to underscore God's intention to adopt Israel (v. 7); (4) to confirm his promise of the land and to conclude the message (v. 8).
6:3 God Almighty. See note on Ge 17:1. by my name the LORD I did not make myself known to them. See notes on 3:14–15. This does not necessarily mean that the patriarchs were totally ignorant of the name Yahweh ("the LORD"), but it indicates that they did not understand its full implications as the name of the One who would redeem his people (see notes on v. 6; Ge 2:4). That fact could be comprehended only by the Israelites who were to experience the exodus, and by their descendants. make myself known. This experiential sense of the verb "to know" is intended also in its repeated use throughout the account of and to Jacob as God Almighty,[k] but by my name[m] the LORD[l][n] I did not make myself known to them.[m] [4]I also established my covenant[o] with them to give them the land[p] of Canaan, where they lived as aliens.[q] [5]Moreover, I have heard the groaning[r] of the Israelites, whom the Egyptians are enslaving, and I have remembered my covenant.[s]

[6]"Therefore, say to the Israelites: 'I am the LORD, and I will bring you out from under the yoke of the Egyptians.[t] I will free you from being slaves to them, and I will redeem[u] you with an outstretched arm[v] and with mighty acts of judgment.[w] [7]I will take you as my own people, and I will be your God.[x] Then you will know[y] that I am the LORD your God, who brought you out from under the yoke of the Egyptians. [8]And I will bring you to the land[z] I swore[a] with uplifted hand[b] to give to Abraham, to Isaac and to Jacob.[c] I will give it to you as a possession. I am the LORD.' "[d]

[9]Moses reported this to the Israelites, but they did not listen to him because of their discouragement and cruel bondage.[e]

[10]Then the LORD said to Moses, [11]"Go, tell[f] Pharaoh king of Egypt to let the Israelites go out of his country."[g]

[12]But Moses said to the LORD, "If the Israelites will not listen[h] to me, why would Pharaoh listen to me, since I speak with faltering lips[n]?"[i]

[16]These were the names of the sons of Levi[n] according to their records: Gershon,[o] Kohath and Merari.[p] Levi lived 137 years.

[17]The sons of Gershon, by clans, were Libni and Shimei.[q]

[18]The sons of Kohath[r] were Amram, Izhar, Hebron and Uzziel.[s] Kohath lived 133 years.

[19]The sons of Merari were Mahli and Mushi.[t]

These were the clans of Levi according to their records.

the plagues (see v. 7; 7:17; 8:10,22; 9:14,29; 10:2; 11:7) and in connection with the exodus itself (see 14:4,18; 16:6,8,12; 18:11).

6:5 remembered. See note on Ge 8:1.

6:6 I will bring you out ... will free you ... will redeem you. The verbs stress the true significance of the name Yahweh—"the LORD"—who is the Redeemer of his people (see note on v. 3). mighty acts of judgment. See 7:4. The Lord's acts include redemption (for Israel) and judgment (against Egypt).

6:7–8 brought you out from ... will bring you to. Redemption means not only release from slavery and suffering but also deliverance to freedom and joy.

6:7 I will take you as my own people, and I will be your God. Words that anticipate the covenant at Mount Sinai (see 19:5–6; see also Jer 31:33).

6:8 See Ge 22:15–17. swore with uplifted hand. See note on Ge 14:22.

6:12 I speak with faltering lips. See note on 4:10.

6:13 Moses and Aaron. The genealogy contained in vv. 14–25 gives details concerning the background of Moses and Aaron. Only the first three of Jacob's 12 sons (Reuben, Simeon and Levi) are listed since Moses and Aaron were from the third tribe.

6:16 Merari. The name is of Egyptian origin, as are those of Putiel and Phinehas (see v. 25) and of Moses himself (see note on 2:10). Levi lived 137 years. See vv. 18,20. In the OT, attention is usually called to a person's life span only when it exceeds 100 years.

6:20 Amram ... Aaron and Moses. There is some reason to believe that Amram and Jochebed were not the immediate parents but the ancestors of Aaron and Moses. Kohath, Amram's father (see v. 18), was born before Jacob's (Israel's) descent into Egypt (see Ge 46:11), where the Israelites then stayed 430 years (see 12:40–41). Since Moses was 80 years old at the time of the exodus (see 7:7), he must have been born at least 350 years after Kohath, who consequently could not have been Moses' grandfather (see v. 18). Therefore Amram must not have been Moses' father, and the Hebrew verb for "bore" must have the same meaning it sometimes has in Ge 10 (see NIV text note on Ge 10:8, where it is translated "was the father of"). Jochebed. The name appears to mean "The LORD is glory." If so, it shows that the name Yahweh (here abbreviated as Jo-) was known before Moses was born (see note on v. 3). Aaron and Moses. Aaron, as the firstborn (see 7:7), is listed first in the official genealogy.

[22]The sons of Uzziel were Mishael, Elzaphan[x] and Sithri.

[23]Aaron married Elisheba, daughter of Amminadab[y] and sister of Nahshon,[z] and she bore him Nadab and Abihu,[a] Eleazar[b] and Ithamar.[c]

[24]The sons of Korah[d] were Assir, Elkanah and Abiasaph. These were the Korahite clans.

[25]Eleazar son of Aaron married one of the daughters of Putiel, and she bore him Phinehas.[e]

These were the heads of the Levite families, clan by clan.

[26]It was this same Aaron and Moses to whom the LORD said, "Bring the Israelites out of Egypt[f] by their divisions."[g] [27]They were the ones who spoke to Pharaoh[h] king of Egypt about bringing the Israelites out of Egypt. It was the same Moses and Aaron.[i]

Aaron to Speak for Moses

[28]Now when the LORD spoke to Moses in Egypt, [29]he said to him, "I am the LORD.[j] Tell Pharaoh king of Egypt everything I tell you."

[30]But Moses said to the LORD, "Since I speak with faltering lips,[k] why would Pharaoh listen to me?"

7 Then the LORD said to Moses, "See, I have made you like God[l] to Pharaoh, and your brother Aaron will be your prophet.[m] [2]You are to say everything I command you, and your brother Aaron is to tell Pharaoh to let the Israelites go out of his country. [3]But I will harden Pharaoh's heart,[n] and though I multiply my miraculous signs and wonders[o] in Egypt, [4]he will not listen[p] to you. Then I will lay my hand on Egypt and with mighty acts of judgment[q] I will bring out my divisions,[r] my people the Israelites. [5]And the Egyptians will know that I am the LORD[s] when I stretch out my hand[t] against Egypt and bring the Israelites out of it."

[6]Moses and Aaron did just as the LORD commanded[u] them. [7]Moses was eighty years old[v] and Aaron eighty-three when they spoke to Pharaoh.

Aaron's Staff Becomes a Snake

[8]The LORD said to Moses and Aaron, [9]"When Pharaoh says to you, 'Perform a miracle,[w]' then say to Aaron, 'Take your staff and throw it down before Pharaoh,' and it will become a snake."[x]

[10]So Moses and Aaron went to Pharaoh and did just as the LORD commanded. Aaron threw his staff down in front of Pharaoh and his officials, and it became a snake. [11]Pharaoh then summoned wise men and sorcerers,[y] and the Egyptian magicians[z] also did the same things by their secret arts:[a] [12]Each one threw down his staff and it became a snake. But Aaron's staff swallowed up their staffs. [13]Yet Pharaoh's heart[b] became hard and he would not listen[c] to them, just as the LORD had said.

The Plague of Blood

[14]Then the LORD said to Moses, "Pharaoh's heart is unyielding;[d] he refuses to let the people go. [15]Go to Pharaoh in the morning as he goes out to the water.[e] Wait on the bank of the Nile[f] to meet him, and take in your hand the staff that was changed into a snake. [16]Then say to him, 'The LORD, the God of the Hebrews, has sent me to say to you: Let my people go, so that they may worship[g] me in the desert. But until now you have not listened.[h] [17]This is what the LORD says: By this you will know that I am the LORD:[i] With the staff that is in my hand I will

6:30 faltering lips. See v. 12 and note on 4:10.

7:1–2 As God transmits his word through his prophets to his people, so Moses will transmit God's message through Aaron to the pharaoh. The prophet's task was to speak God's word on God's behalf. He was God's "mouth" (4:15–16).

7:3 harden. See note on 4:21. miraculous signs. See notes on 3:12; 4:8.

7:4 mighty acts of judgment. See note on 6:6.

7:7 Moses was eighty years old. See notes on 2:11,15.

7:9–10 snake. The Hebrew for this word is different from that used in 4:3 (see Ps 74:13, "monster"). A related word (also translated "monster") is used in Eze 29:3 as a designation for Egypt and her king.

7:11 wise men and . . . magicians. See note on Ge 41:8. According to tradition, two of the magicians who opposed Moses were named Jannes and Jambres (see 2Ti 3:8; the first is also mentioned in the pre-Christian Dead Sea Scrolls). The Egyptian Magicians did the same things by their secret arts. Either through sleight of hand or by means of demonic power.

7:12 Aaron's staff swallowed up their staffs. Demonstrating God's mastery over the pharaoh and the gods of Egypt.

7:13 heart became hard. See note on 4:21.

7:14–10:29 The first nine plagues can be divided into three groups of three plagues each—7:14–8:19; 8:20–9:12; 9:13–10:29—with the first plague in each group (the first, the fourth and the seventh) introduced by a warning delivered to the pharaoh in the morning as he went out to the Nile (see v. 15; 8:20; 9:13).

7:17 my. Moses'. the water of the Nile . . . will be changed into blood. See Ps 78:44; 105:29. The first nine plagues may have been a series of miraculous intensifications of natural events taking place in less than a year, and coming at God's bidding and timing. If so, the first plague resulted from the flooding of the Nile in late summer and early fall as large quantities of red sediment were washed down from Ethiopia, causing the water to become as red as blood (see the similar incident in 2Ki 3:22).

strike the water of the Nile, and it will be changed into blood.[j] [18]The fish in the Nile will die, and the river will stink;[k] the Egyptians will not be able to drink its water.' "[l]

[19]The LORD said to Moses, "Tell Aaron, 'Take your staff[m] and stretch out your hand[n] over the waters of Egypt—over the streams and canals, over the ponds and all the reservoirs'—and they will turn to blood. Blood will be everywhere in Egypt, even in the wooden buckets and stone jars."

[20]Moses and Aaron did just as the LORD had commanded.[o] He raised his staff in the presence of Pharaoh and his officials and struck the water of the Nile,[p] and all the water was changed into blood.[q] [21]The fish in the Nile died, and the river smelled so bad that the Egyptians could not drink its water. Blood was everywhere in Egypt.

[22]But the Egyptian magicians[r] did the same things by their secret arts,[s] and Pharaoh's heart[t] became hard; he would not listen to Moses and Aaron, just as the LORD had said. [23]Instead, he turned and went into his palace, and did not take even this to heart. [24]And all the Egyptians dug along the Nile to get drinking water[u], because they could not drink the water of the river.

The Plague of Frogs

[25]Seven days passed after the LORD struck the Nile. 8 [1]Then the LORD said to Moses, "Go to Pharaoh and say to him, 'This is what the LORD says: Let my people go, so that they may worship[v] me. [2]If you refuse to let them go, I will plague your whole country with frogs.[w] [3]The Nile will teem with frogs. They will come up into your palace and your bedroom and onto your bed, into the houses of your officials and on your people,[x] and into your ovens and kneading troughs.[y] [4]The frogs will go up on you and your people and all your officials.' "

[5]Then the LORD said to Moses, "Tell Aaron, 'Stretch out your hand with your staff[z] over the streams and canals and ponds, and make frogs[a] come up on the land of Egypt.' "

[6]So Aaron stretched out his hand over the waters of Egypt, and the frogs[b] came up and covered the land. [7]But the magicians did the same things by their secret arts;[c] they also made frogs come up on the land of Egypt.

[8]Pharaoh summoned Moses and Aaron and said, "Pray[d] to the LORD to take the frogs away from me and my people, and I will let your people go to offer sacrifices[e] to the LORD."

[9]Moses said to Pharaoh, "I leave to you the honor of setting the time[f] for me to pray for you and your officials and your people that you and your houses may be rid of the frogs, except for those that remain in the Nile."

[10]"Tomorrow," Pharaoh said.

Moses replied, "It will be as you say, so that you may know there is no one like the LORD our God.[g] [11]The frogs will leave you and your houses, your officials and your people; they will remain only in the Nile."

[12]After Moses and Aaron left Pharaoh, Moses cried out to the LORD about the frogs he had brought on Pharaoh. [13]And the LORD did what Moses asked.[h] The frogs died in the houses, in the courtyards and in the fields. [14]They were piled into heaps, and the land reeked of them. [15]But when Pharaoh saw that there was relief,[i] he hardened his heart[j] and would not listen to Moses and Aaron, just as the LORD had said.

The Plague of Gnats

[16]Then the LORD said to Moses, "Tell Aaron, 'Stretch out your staff[k] and strike the dust of the ground,' and throughout the land of Egypt the dust will become gnats." [17]They did this, and when Aaron stretched out his hand with the staff and struck the dust of the ground, gnats[l] came upon men and animals. All the dust throughout the land of Egypt became gnats. [18]But when the ma-

7:19 your staff. Aaron was acting on Moses' behalf (see v. 17). in the wooden buckets and stone jars. Lit. "in/on the wooden things and in/on the stone things." Some think that, since the Egyptians believed that their gods inhabited idols and images made of wood, clay and stone (see Dt 29:16–17), the plague may have been intended as a rebuke to their religion (see 12:12).

7:20 Nile. Egypt's dependence on the life-sustaining waters of the Nile led to its deification as the god Hapi, for whom hymns of adoration were composed. See note on v. 19.

7:24 dug along the Nile to get drinking water. Filtered through sandy soil near the river bank, the polluted water would become safe for drinking.

7:25 Seven days passed. The plagues did not follow each other in rapid succession.

8:2 I will plague your whole country with frogs. The frog (or toad) was deified in the goddess Heqt, who assisted women in childbirth.

8:3 come up. The frogs abandoned the Nile and swarmed over the land, perhaps because the unusually high concentration of bacteria-laden algae had by now proved fatal to most of the fish, thus polluting the river.

8:13 the LORD did what Moses asked. For similar occurrences see v. 31; 1Sa 12:18; 1Ki 18:42–45; Am 7:1–6. The frogs died. Probably because they had been infected by the bacteria (Bacillus anthracis) in the Nile algae (see note on v. 3).

8:16 dust will become gnats. The word "dust" is perhaps a reference to the enormous number (see, e.g., Ge 13:16) of the gnats, bred in the flooded fields of Egypt in late autumn.

gicians[m] tried to produce gnats by their secret arts,[n] they could not. And the gnats were on men and animals.

[19]The magicians said to Pharaoh, "This is the finger[o] of God." But Pharaoh's heart[p] was hard and he would not listen,[q] just as the LORD had said.

The Plague of Flies

[20]Then the LORD said to Moses, "Get up early in the morning[r] and confront Pharaoh as he goes to the water and say to him, 'This is what the LORD says: Let my people go, so that they may worship[s] me. [21]If you do not let my people go, I will send swarms of flies on you and your officials, on your people and into your houses. The houses of the Egyptians will be full of flies, and even the ground where they are.

[22]" 'But on that day I will deal differently with the land of Goshen,[t] where my people live;[u] no swarms of flies will be there, so that you will know[v] that I, the LORD, am in this land. [23]I will make a distinction[p] between my people and your people.[w] This miraculous sign will occur tomorrow.' "

[24]And the LORD did this. Dense swarms of flies poured into Pharaoh's palace and into the houses of his officials, and throughout Egypt the land was ruined by the flies.[x]

[25]Then Pharaoh summoned[y] Moses and Aaron and said, "Go, sacrifice to your God here in the land."

[26]But Moses said, "That would not be right. The sacrifices we offer the LORD our God would be detestable to the Egyptians.[z] And if we offer sacrifices that are detestable in their eyes, will they not stone us? [27]We must take a three-day journey[a] into the desert to offer sacrifices[b] to the LORD our God, as he commands us."

[28]Pharaoh said, "I will let you go to offer sacrifices to the LORD your God in the desert, but you must not go very far. Now pray[c] for me."

[29]Moses answered, "As soon as I leave you, I will pray to the LORD, and tomorrow the flies will leave Pharaoh and his officials and his people. Only be sure that Pharaoh does not act deceitfully[d] again by not letting the people go to offer sacrifices to the LORD."

[30]Then Moses left Pharaoh and prayed to the LORD,[e] [31]and the LORD did what Moses asked: The flies left Pharaoh and his officials and his people; not a fly remained. [32]But this time also Pharaoh hardened his heart[f] and would not let the people go.

The Plague on Livestock

9 Then the LORD said to Moses, "Go to Pharaoh and say to him, 'This is what the LORD, the God of the Hebrews, says: "Let my people go, so that they may worship[g] me." [2]If you refuse to let them go and continue to hold them back, [3]the hand[h] of the LORD will bring a terrible plague[i] on your livestock in the field—on your horses and donkeys and camels and on your cattle and sheep and goats. [4]But the LORD will make a distinction between the livestock of Israel and that of Egypt,[j] so that no animal belonging to the Israelites will die.' "

[5]The LORD set a time and said, "Tomorrow the LORD will do this in the land." [6]And the next day the LORD did it: All the livestock[k] of the Egyptians died,[l] but not one animal belonging to the Israelites died. [7]Pharaoh sent men to investigate and found that not even one of the animals of the Israelites had died. Yet his heart[m] was unyielding and he would not let the people go.[n]

8:19 finger of God. A concise and colorful figure of speech referring to God's miraculous power (see 31:18; Ps 8:3). Jesus drove out demons "by the finger of God" (Lk 11:20). Cf. the similar use of the phrase "hand of the LORD" in 9:3.

8:21 I will send swarms of flies. Probably Stomoxys calcitrans, which would have multiplied rapidly as the receding Nile left breeding places in its wake. Full-grown, such flies infest houses and stables and bite men and animals.

8:22 I will deal differently. See 33:16. God makes a "distinction" (v. 23) between Moses' people and the pharaoh's people in this plague as well as in the fifth (see 9:4,6), the seventh (see 9:26), the ninth (see 10:23) and the tenth (see 11:7)—and probably also the sixth and eighth (see 9:11; 10:6)—demonstrating that the Lord can preserve his own people while judging Egypt. Goshen. See note on Ge 45:10.

8:26 detestable to the Egyptians. See Ge 46:34; see also Ge 43:32 and note.

8:31 the LORD did what Moses asked. See note on v. 13.

9:3 hand of the LORD. See note on 8:19. terrible plague on your livestock. The flies of the fourth plague (see note on 8:21) probably carried the anthrax bacteria (see note on 8:13) that would now infect the animals, which had been brought into the fields again as the floodwaters subsided. The Egyptians worshiped many animals and animal-headed deities, including the bull-gods Apis and Mnevis, the cow-god Hathor and the ram-god Khnum. Thus Egyptian religion is again rebuked and ridiculed (see note on 7:19).

9:4 distinction. See note on 8:22.

9:5 Tomorrow. To give those Egyptians who feared God time to bring their livestock in from the fields and out of danger (see also v. 20).

9:6 All the livestock of the Egyptians died. That is, all that were left out in the fields. Protected livestock remained alive (see vv. 19–21).

9:8 Take . . . soot . . . toss it into the air. Perhaps symbolizing either the widespread extent of the plague of boils or on, "Take handfuls of soot from a furnace and have Moses toss it into the air in the presence of Pharaoh. 9It will become fine dust over the whole land of Egypt, and festering boils[o] will break out on men and animals throughout the land."

10So they took soot from a furnace and stood before Pharaoh. Moses tossed it into the air, and festering boils broke out on men and animals. 11The magicians[p] could not stand before Moses because of the boils that were on them and on all the Egyptians. 12But the LORD hardened Pharaoh's heart[q] and he would not listen[r] to Moses and Aaron, just as the LORD had said to Moses.

The Plague of Hail

13Then the LORD said to Moses, "Get up early in the morning, confront Pharaoh and say to him, 'This is what the LORD, the God of the Hebrews, says: Let my people go, so that they may worship[s] me, 14or this time I will send the full force of my plagues against you and against your officials and your people, so you may know[t] that there is no one like[u] me in all the earth. 15For by now I could have stretched out my hand and struck you and your people[v] with a plague that would have wiped you off the earth. 16But I have raised you up[q] for this very purpose,[w] that I might show you my power[x] and that my name might be proclaimed in all the earth. 17You still set yourself against my people and will not let them go. 18Therefore, at this time tomorrow I will send the worst hailstorm[y] that has ever fallen on Egypt, from the day it was founded till now.[z] 19Give an order now to bring your livestock and everything you have in the field to a place of shelter, because the hail will fall on every man and animal that has not been brought in and is still out in the field, and they will die.' "

22Then the LORD said to Moses, "Stretch out your hand toward the sky so that hail will fall all over Egypt—on men and animals and on everything growing in the fields of Egypt." 23When Moses stretched out his staff toward the sky, the LORD sent thunder[c] and hail,[d] and lightning flashed down to the ground. So the LORD rained hail on the land of Egypt; 24hail fell and lightning flashed back and forth. It was the worst storm in all the land of Egypt since it had become a nation.[e] 25Throughout Egypt hail struck everything in the fields—both men and animals; it beat down everything growing in the fields and stripped every tree.[f] 26The only place it did not hail was the land of Goshen,[g] where the Israelites were.[h]

27Then Pharaoh summoned Moses and Aaron. "This time I have sinned,"[i] he said to them. "The LORD is in the right,[j] and I and my people are in the wrong. 28Pray[k] to the LORD, for we have had enough thunder and hail. I will let you go;[l] you don't have to stay any longer."

29Moses replied, "When I have gone out of the city, I will spread out my hands[m] in prayer to the LORD. The thunder will stop and there will be no more hail, so you may know that the earth[n] is the LORD's. 30But I know that you and your officials still do not fear[o] the LORD God."

their black coloration. furnace. Possibly a kiln for firing bricks, the symbol of Israel's bondage (see 1:14; 5:7–19). The same word is used in Ge 19:28 as a simile for the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah.

9:9 boils. Probably skin anthrax (a variety of the plague that struck the livestock in vv. 1–7), a black, burning abscess that develops into a pustule. men and animals. The plague on the livestock now extended to other animals as well as to the people of Egypt.

9:11 magicians could not stand. The "boils of Egypt" (Dt 28:27) seriously affected the knees and legs (see Dt 28:35).

9:12 the LORD hardened Pharaoh's heart. See note on 4:21.

9:16 Paul quotes this verse as an outstanding illustration of the sovereignty of God (see Ro 9:17).

9:18 I will send . . . hailstorm. The flooding of the Nile (the probable occasion of the first six plagues) came to an end late in the fall. The hailstorm is thus in the proper chronological position, taking place in January or February when the flax and barley were in flower but the wheat and spelt had not yet germinated (see vv. 31–32).

9:19–21 See note on v. 6.

9:27 This time I have sinned. For the first time the pharaoh acknowledges his sinfulness and perceives its devastating results.

9:29 spread out my hands. See 1Ki 8:22,38,54; 2Ch 6:12–13,29; Ezr 9:5; Ps 44:20; 88:9; 143:6; Isa 1:15; 1Ti 2:8. Statues of men praying with hands upraised have been found by archaeologists at several ancient sites in the Middle East.

9:31–32 See note on v. 18.

9:32 spelt. Grains of spelt, a member of the grass family allied to wheat, have been found in ancient Egyptian tombs. Although inferior to wheat, it grows well in poorer and drier soil.

spelt,[q] however, were not destroyed, because they ripen later.)

[33]Then Moses left Pharaoh and went out of the city. He spread out his hands toward the LORD; the thunder and hail stopped, and the rain no longer poured down on the land. [34]When Pharaoh saw that the rain and hail and thunder had stopped, he sinned again: He and his officials hardened their hearts. [35]So Pharaoh's heart[r] was hard and he would not let the Israelites go, just as the LORD had said through Moses.

The Plague of Locusts

10 Then the LORD said to Moses, "Go to Pharaoh, for I have hardened his heart[s] and the hearts of his officials so that I may perform these miraculous signs[t] of mine among them [2]that you may tell your children[u] and grandchildren how I dealt harshly[v] with the Egyptians and how I performed my signs among them, and that you may know that I am the LORD."[w]

[3]So Moses and Aaron went to Pharaoh and said to him, "This is what the LORD, the God of the Hebrews, says: 'How long will you refuse to humble[x] yourself before me? Let my people go, so that they may worship me. [4]If you refuse[y] to let them go, I will bring locusts[z] into your country tomorrow. [5]They will cover the face of the ground so that it cannot be seen. They will devour what little you have left[a] after the hail, including every tree that is growing in your fields.[b] [6]They will fill your houses[c] and those of all your officials and all the Egyptians—something neither your fathers nor your forefathers have ever seen from the day they settled in this land till now.' "[d] Then Moses turned and left Pharaoh.

[7]Pharaoh's officials said to him, "How long will this man be a snare[e] to us? Let the people go, so that they may worship the LORD their God. Do you not yet realize that Egypt is ruined?"[f]

[8]Then Moses and Aaron were brought back to Pharaoh. "Go, worship[g] the LORD your God," he said. "But just who will be going?"

[9]Moses answered, "We will go with our young and old, with our sons and daughters, and with our flocks and herds, because we are to celebrate a festival[h] to the LORD."

[10]Pharaoh said, "The LORD be with you—if I let you go, along with your women and children! Clearly you are bent on evil.[r] [11]No! Have only the men go; and worship the LORD, since that's what you have been asking for." Then Moses and Aaron were driven out of Pharaoh's presence.

[12]And the LORD said to Moses, "Stretch out your hand[i] over Egypt so that locusts will swarm over the land and devour everything growing in the fields, everything left by the hail."

[13]So Moses stretched out his staff[j] over Egypt, and the LORD made an east wind blow across the land all that day and all that night. By morning the wind had brought the locusts;[k] [14]they invaded all Egypt and settled down in every area of the country in great numbers. Never before had there been such a plague of locusts,[l] nor will there ever be again. [15]They covered all the ground until it was black. They devoured[m] all that was left after the hail—everything growing in the fields and the fruit on the trees. Nothing green remained on tree or plant in all the land of Egypt.

[16]Pharaoh quickly summoned[n] Moses and Aaron and said, "I have sinned[o] against the LORD your God and against you. [17]Now forgive[p] my sin once more and pray[q] to the LORD your God to take this deadly plague away from me."

[18]Moses then left Pharaoh and prayed to the LORD.[r] [19]And the LORD changed the wind to a very strong west wind, which caught up the locusts and carried them into the Red Sea.[s] Not a locust was left anywhere in Egypt. [20]But the LORD hardened Pharaoh's heart,[s] and he would not let the Israelites go.

The Plague of Darkness

[21]Then the LORD said to Moses, "Stretch

10:2 tell your children. The memory of God's redemptive acts is to be kept alive by reciting them to our descendants (see 12:26–27; 13:8,14–15; Dt 4:9; Ps 77:11–20; 78:4–6,43–53; 105:26–38; 106:7–12; 114:1–3; 135:8–9; 136:10–15).

10:4 I will bring locusts. In March or April the prevailing east winds (see v. 13) would bring in hordes of migratory locusts at their immature and most voracious stage. As also today, locust plagues were greatly feared in ancient times and became a powerful symbol of divine judgment (see Joel 1:4–7; 2:1–11; Am 7:1–3).

10:7 How long . . . ? The pharaoh's officials ironically echo the phrase used by Moses in v. 3. Egypt is ruined. Human rebellion and disobedience always bring death and destruction in their wake.

10:11 Have only the men go. From the pharaoh's standpoint, (1) the women and children should remain behind as hostages, and (2) it was typically only the men who participated fully in worship.

10:13 east wind. See note on v. 4.

10:19 the LORD changed the wind. The forces of nature are compelled to obey his sovereign will (see 14:21; Mt 8:23–27). Red Sea. See NIV text note.

10:21 darkness will spread over Egypt. Like the third and sixth plagues, this ninth plague was unannounced to Pharaoh. It was possibly caused by the arrival of an unusually out your hand toward the sky so that darkness[t] will spread over Egypt—darkness that can be felt." 22So Moses stretched out his hand toward the sky, and total darkness[u] covered all Egypt for three days. 23No one could see anyone else or leave his place for three days. Yet all the Israelites had light in the places where they lived.[v]

24Then Pharaoh summoned Moses and said, "Go,[w] worship the LORD. Even your women and children[x] may go with you; only leave your flocks and herds behind."[y]

25But Moses said, "You must allow us to have sacrifices and burnt offerings[z] to present to the LORD our God. 26Our livestock too must go with us; not a hoof is to be left behind. We have to use some of them in worshiping the LORD our God, and until we get there we will not know what we are to use to worship the LORD."

27But the LORD hardened Pharaoh's heart,[a] and he was not willing to let them go. 28Pharaoh said to Moses, "Get out of my sight! Make sure you do not appear before me again! The day you see my face you will die."

29"Just as you say," Moses replied, "I will never appear[b] before you again."

The Plague on the Firstborn

11 Now the LORD had said to Moses, "I will bring one more plague on Pharaoh and on Egypt. After that, he will let you go[c] from here, and when he does, he will drive you out completely.[d] 2Tell the people that men and women alike are to ask their neighbors for articles of silver and gold."[e] 3(The LORD made the Egyptians favorably disposed[f] toward the people, and Moses himself was highly regarded[g] in Egypt by Pharaoh's officials and by the people.)

4So Moses said, "This is what the LORD says: 'About midnight[h] I will go throughout Egypt.[i] 5Every firstborn son in Egypt will die, from the firstborn son of Pharaoh, who sits on the throne, to the firstborn son of the slave girl, who is at her hand mill,[k] and all the firstborn of the cattle as well. 6There will be loud wailing[l] throughout Egypt—worse than there has ever been or ever will be again. 7But among the Israelites not a dog will bark at any man or animal.' Then you will know that the LORD makes a distinction[m] between Egypt and Israel. 8All these officials of yours will come to me, bowing down before me and saying, 'Go,[n] you and all the people who follow you!' After that I will leave."[o] Then Moses, hot with anger, left Pharaoh.

9The LORD had said to Moses, "Pharaoh will refuse to listen[p] to you—so that my wonders[q] may be multiplied in Egypt." 10Moses and Aaron performed all these wonders before Pharaoh, but the LORD hardened Pharaoh's heart,[r] and he would not let the Israelites go out of his country.

The Passover

12:14–20pp — Lev 23:4–8; Nu 28:16–25; Dt 16:1–8

12 The LORD said to Moses and Aaron in Egypt, 2"This month is to be for you the first month,[s] the first month of your year. 3Tell the whole community of Israel that on the tenth day of this month each man is to take a lamb[tt] for his family, one for each household.[u] 4If any household is too small for a whole lamb, they must share one with their nearest neighbor, having taken into account the number of people there are. You are to determine the amount of lamb needed in accordance with what each person will eat. 5The animals you choose must be year-old males without defect,[v] and you severe khamsin, the blinding sandstorm that blows in from the desert each year in the early spring. The darkness was an insult to the sun-god Ra (or Re), one of the chief deities of Egypt.

10:28 Pharaoh declares that he will never again grant Moses an audience. The day you see my face. During a plague of darkness, these words are somewhat ironic.

11:1 and when he does. The Hebrew for this phrase can also be read "as one sends away [a bride]"—i.e., laden with gifts (see Ge 24:53).

11:2–3 See 12:35–36.

11:4 Moses said. Continuing the speech of 10:29.

11:5 Every firstborn son in Egypt will die. See Ps 78:51; 105:36; 135:8; 136:10. This is the ultimate disaster, since all the plans and dreams of a father were bound up in his firstborn son, who received a double share of the family estate when the father died (see Dt 21:17 and note). Moreover, judgment on the firstborn represented judgment on the entire community. slave girl, who is at her hand mill. The lowliest of occupations (see Isa 47:2).

11:7 distinction. See note on 8:22.

12:2 This month is . . . the first month. The inauguration of the religious calendar in Israel (see chart on "Hebrew Calendar," p. 101). In the ancient Near East, new year festivals normally coincided with the new season of life in nature. The designation of this month as Israel's religious New Year reminded Israel that her life as the people of God was grounded in God's redemptive act in the exodus. The Canaanite name for this month was Abib (see 13:4; 23:15; 34:18; Dt 16:1), which means "young head of grain." Later the Babylonian name Nisan was used (see Ne 2:1; Est 3:7). Israel's agricultural calendar began in the fall (see note on 23:16), and during the monarchy it dominated the nation's civil calendar. Both calendars (civil and religious) existed side by side until after the exile. Judaism today uses only the calendar that begins in the fall.

12:3 community of Israel. The Israelites gathered in assembly.

12:5 animals . . . without defect. See Lev 22:18–25. Similarly, Jesus was like "a lamb without blemish or may take them from the sheep or the goats. 6Take care of them until the fourteenth day of the month,[w] when all the people of the community of Israel must slaughter them at twilight.[x] 7Then they are to take some of the blood[y] and put it on the sides and tops of the doorframes of the houses where they eat the lambs. 8That same night[z] they are to eat the meat roasted[a] over the fire, along with bitter herbs,[b] and bread made without yeast.[c] 9Do not eat the meat raw or cooked in water, but roast it over the fire—head, legs and inner parts.[d] 10Do not leave any of it till morning;[e] if some is left till morning, you must burn it. 11This is how you are to eat it: with your cloak tucked into your belt, your sandals on your feet and your staff in your hand. Eat it in haste;[f] it is the LORD's Passover.[g]

12"On that same night I will pass through[h] Egypt and strike down[i] every firstborn[j]—both men and animals—and I will bring judgment on all the gods[k] of Egypt. I am the LORD.[l] 13The blood will be a sign for you on the houses where you are; and when I see the blood, I will pass over[m] you. No destructive plague will touch you when I strike Egypt.[n]

14"This is a day you are to commemorate;[o] for the generations to come you shall celebrate it as a festival to the LORD—a lasting ordinance.[p] 15For seven days you are to eat bread made without yeast.[q] On the first day remove the yeast from your houses, for whoever eats anything with yeast in it from the first day through the seventh must be cut off[r] from Israel. 16On the first day hold a sacred assembly, and another one on the seventh day. Do no work[s] at all on these days, except to prepare food for everyone to eat—that is all you may do.

17"Celebrate the Feast of Unleavened Bread,[t] because it was on this very day that I brought your divisions out of Egypt.[u] Celebrate this day as a lasting ordinance for the generations to come.[v] 18In the first month[w] you are to eat bread made without yeast, from the evening of the fourteenth day until the evening of the twenty-first day. 19For seven days no yeast is to be found in your houses. And whoever eats anything with yeast in it must be cut off[x] from the community of Israel, whether he is an alien[y] or native-born. 20Eat nothing made with yeast. Wherever you live,[z] you must eat unleavened bread."[a] 21Then Moses summoned all the elders of Israel and said to them, "Go at once and select the animals for your families and slaughter the Passover[b] lamb. 22Take a bunch of hyssop,[c] dip it into the blood in the basin and put some of defect" (1Pe 1:19).

12:6 at twilight. Lit. "between the two evenings," an idiom meaning either (1) between the decline of the sun and sunset, or (2) between sunset and nightfall—which has given rise to disputes about when the Sabbath and other holy days begin.

12:7 blood. Symbolizes a sacrifice offered as a substitute, one life laid down for another (see Lev 17:11). Thus Israel escapes the judgment about to fall on Egypt only through the mediation of a sacrifice (see Heb 9:22; 1Jn 1:7).

12:8 bitter herbs. Endive, chicory and other bitter-tasting plants are indigenous to Egypt. Eating them would recall the bitter years of servitude there (see 1:14). bread made without yeast. Reflecting the haste with which the people left Egypt (see vv. 11,39; Dt 16:3).

12:9 roast it ... head, legs and inner parts. The method wandering shepherds used to cook meat.

12:11 Passover. Explained in vv. 13,23,27 to mean that the Lord would "pass over" and not destroy the occupants of houses that were under the sign of the blood.

12:12 judgment on all the gods of Egypt. Some had already been judged (see notes on 7:19; 8:2; 9:3; 10:21), and now all would be: (1) They would be shown to be powerless to deliver from the impending slaughter, and (2) many animals sacred to the gods would be killed.

12:13 sign. Just as the plagues were miraculous signs of judgment on Pharaoh and his people (see 8:23), so the Lord's "passing over" the Israelites who placed themselves under the sign of blood was a pledge of God's mercy.

12:14 celebrate it as ... a lasting ordinance. Frequent references to Passover observance occur in the rest of Scripture (see Nu 9:1–5; Jos 5:10; 2Ki 23:21–23; 2Ch 30:1–27; 35:1–19; Ezr 6:19–22; Lk 2:41–43; Jn 2:13,23; 6:4; 11:55—12:1). The ordinance is still kept by practicing Jews today.

12:15 remove the yeast from your houses. Yeast later was often used as a symbol of sin, such as "hypocrisy" (Lk 12:1) or "malice and wickedness" (1Co 5:8). Before celebrating Passover, the observant Jew today conducts a systematic (often symbolic) search of his house to remove every crumb of leavened bread that might be there (see v. 19). cut off from Israel. Removed from the covenant people by execution (see, e.g., 31:14; Lev 20:2–3) or banishment. See also Ge 17:14 and note.

12:17 Feast of Unleavened Bread. Began with the Passover meal and continued for seven days (see vv. 18–19; see also Mk 14:12).

12:21 Passover lamb. Jesus is "our Passover lamb" (1Co 5:7), sacrificed "once for all" (Heb 7:27) for us.

12:22 hyssop. Here probably refers to an aromatic plant (Origanum maru) of the mint family with a straight stalk (see Jn 19:29) and white flowers. The hairy surface of its leaves and branches held liquids well and made it suitable as a sprinkling device for use in purification rituals (see Lev 14:4,6,49,51–52; Nu 19:6,18; Heb 9:19; see also Ps 51:7). dip it into the blood. Today at Passover meals a sprig of parsley or other plant is dipped in salt water to symbolize the lowly diet and tears of the Israelites during their the blood[d] on the top and on both sides of the doorframe. Not one of you shall go out the door of his house until morning. 23When the LORD goes through the land to strike[e] down the Egyptians, he will see the blood[f] on the top and sides of the doorframe and will pass over[g] that doorway, and he will not permit the destroyer[h] to enter your houses and strike you down.

24"Obey these instructions as a lasting ordinance[i] for you and your descendants. 25When you enter the land[j] that the LORD will give you as he promised, observe this ceremony. 26And when your children[k] ask you, 'What does this ceremony mean to you?' 27then tell them, 'It is the Passover[l] sacrifice to the LORD, who passed over the houses of the Israelites in Egypt and spared our homes when he struck down the Egyptians.' "[m] Then the people bowed down and worshiped.[n] 28The Israelites did just what the LORD commanded[o] Moses and Aaron.

29At midnight[p] the LORD[q] struck down all the firstborn[r] in Egypt, from the firstborn of Pharaoh, who sat on the throne, to the firstborn of the prisoner, who was in the dungeon, and the firstborn of all the livestock[s] as well. 30Pharaoh and all his officials and all the Egyptians got up during the night, and there was loud wailing[t] in Egypt, for there was not a house without someone dead.

The Exodus

31During the night Pharaoh summoned Moses and Aaron and said, "Up! Leave my people, you and the Israelites! Go, worship[u] the LORD as you have requested. 32Take your flocks and herds,[v] as you have said, and go. And also bless[w] me."

33The Egyptians urged the people to hurry[x] and leave[y] the country. "For otherwise," they said, "we will all die!"[z] 34So the people took their dough before the yeast was added, and carried it on their shoulders in kneading troughs[a] wrapped in clothing. 35The Israelites did as Moses instructed and asked the Egyptians for articles of silver and gold[b] and for clothing.[c] 36The LORD had made the Egyptians favorably disposed[d] toward the people, and they gave them what they asked for; so they plundered[e] the Egyptians.

37The Israelites journeyed from Rameses[f] to Succoth.[g] There were about six hundred thousand men[h] on foot, besides women and children. 38Many other people[i] went up with them, as well as large droves of livestock, both flocks and herds. 39With the dough they had brought from Egypt, they baked cakes of unleavened bread. The dough was without yeast because they had been driven out[j] of Egypt and did not have time to prepare food for themselves.

40Now the length of time the Israelite people lived in Egypt[u] was 430 years.[k] 41At the end of the 430 years, to the very day, all the LORD's divisions[l] left Egypt.[m] 42Because the LORD kept vigil that night to bring them out of Egypt, on this night all the Israelites are to keep vigil to honor the LORD for the generations to come.[n]

Passover Restrictions

43The LORD said to Moses and Aaron, "These are the regulations for the Passover:[o]

"No foreigner[p] is to eat of it. 44Any slave you have bought may eat of it after you have circumcised[q] him, 45but a temporary resident and a hired worker[r] may not eat of it.

46"It must be eaten inside one house; take none of the meat outside the house. Do not break any of the bones.[s] 47The time of slavery.

12:23 pass over. See note on v. 11. the destroyer. In Ps 78:49 the agent of God's wrath against the Egyptians is described as "a band of destroying angels." God often used angels to bring destructive plagues (see 2Sa 24:15–16; 2Ki 19:35; see also 1Co 10:10, a reference to Nu 16:41–49).

12:26 your children ask you, 'What does this ceremony mean to you?' See 13:14. The Passover was to be observed as a memorial feast commemorating Israel's redemption and appropriating it anew. As observed today, it includes the asking of similar questions by the youngest child present.

12:27 Passover sacrifice. See note on v. 21. passed over. See note on v. 11.

12:29 prisoner, who was in the dungeon. The lowliest of situations (see note on 11:5).

12:31 Pharaoh summoned Moses. Though he had sworn never again to grant Moses an audience (see 10:28 and note), Pharaoh now summons Moses (and Aaron) into his presence.

12:35–36 See 3:21–22; 11:2–3.

12:37 journeyed from Rameses. See 1:11; see also note on Ge 47:11. The Israelite departure took place "the day after the Passover" (Nu 33:3). Succoth. Probably modern Tell el-Maskhutah in the Wadi Tumeilat, west of the Bitter Lakes. about six hundred thousand men. A round number for 603,550 (see note on 38:26).

12:38 many other people. Possibly including such Egyptians as those mentioned in 9:20.

12:41 430 years, to the very day. See notes on Ge 15:13; Ac 7:6.

12:46 Do not break any of the bones. See Nu 9:12; Ps 34:20; quoted in Jn 19:36 in reference to Jesus.

whole community of Israel must celebrate it.

48"An alien living among you who wants to celebrate the LORD's Passover must have all the males in his household circumcised; then he may take part like one born in the land.[t] No uncircumcised[u] male may eat of it. 49The same law applies to the native-born and to the alien[v] living among you."

50All the Israelites did just what the LORD had commanded[w] Moses and Aaron. 51And on that very day the LORD brought the Israelites out of Egypt[x] by their divisions.[y]

Consecration of the Firstborn

13 The LORD said to Moses, 2"Consecrate to me every firstborn male.[z] The first offspring of every womb among the Israelites belongs to me, whether man or animal."

3Then Moses said to the people, "Commemorate this day, the day you came out of Egypt,[a] out of the land of slavery, because the LORD brought you out of it with a mighty hand.[b] Eat nothing containing yeast.[c] 4Today, in the month of Abib,[d] you are leaving. 5When the LORD brings you into the land of the Canaanites,[e] Hittites, Amorites, Hivites and Jebusites[f]—the land he swore to your forefathers to give you, a land flowing with milk and honey[g]—you are to observe this ceremony[h] in this month: 6For seven days eat bread made without yeast and on the seventh day hold a festival[i] to the LORD. 7Eat unleavened bread during those seven days; nothing with yeast in it is to be seen among you, nor shall any yeast be seen anywhere within your borders. 8On that day tell your son,[j] 'I do this because of what the LORD did for me when I came out of Egypt.' 9This observance will be for you like a sign on your hand[k] and a reminder on your forehead[l] that the law of the LORD is to be on your lips. For the LORD brought you out of Egypt with his mighty hand.[m] 10You must keep this ordinance[n] at the appointed time[o] year after year.

11"After the LORD brings you into the land of the Canaanites[p] and gives it to you, as he promised on oath[q] to you and your forefathers,[r] 12you are to give over to the LORD the first offspring of every womb. All the firstborn males of your livestock belong to the LORD.[s] 13Redeem with a lamb every firstborn donkey,[t] but if you do not redeem it, break its neck.[u] Redeem[v] every firstborn among your sons.[w]

14"In days to come, when your son[x] asks you, 'What does this mean?' say to him, 'With a mighty hand the LORD brought us out of Egypt, out of the land of slavery.[y] 15When Pharaoh stubbornly refused to let us go, the LORD killed every firstborn in Egypt, both man and animal. This is why I sacrifice to the LORD the first male offspring of every womb and redeem each of my firstborn sons.'[z] 16And it will be like a sign on your hand and a symbol on your forehead[a] that the LORD brought us out of Egypt with his mighty hand."

Crossing the Sea

17When Pharaoh let the people go, God did not lead them on the road through the Philistine country, though that was shorter. For God said, "If they face war, they might change their minds and return to Egypt."[b] 18So God led[c] the people around by the desert road toward the

All the firstborn in Israel were therefore his. Jesus, Mary's firstborn son (see Lk 2:7), was presented to the Lord in accordance with this law (see Lk 2:22–23).

13:5 See note on 3:8.

13:9 like a sign on your hand and a reminder on your forehead. A figure of speech (see v. 16; Dt 6:8; 11:18; see also Pr 3:3; 6:21; 7:3; SS 8:6). A literal reading of this verse has led to the practice of writing the texts of vv. 1–10, vv. 11–16, Dt 6:4–9 and Dt 11:13–21 on separate strips of parchment and placing them in two small leather boxes, which the observant Jew straps on his forehead and left arm before his morning prayers. The boxes are called "phylacteries" (Mt 23:5). This practice seems to have originated after the exile to Babylon.

13:13 Redeem. See 6:6. The verb means "obtain release by means of payment." every firstborn donkey. The economic importance of pack animals allowed for their redemption through sacrificing a lamb. every firstborn among your sons. Humans were to be consecrated to the Lord by their life, not by their death (see Ge 22:12; Nu 3:39–51; cf. Ro 12:1).

13:14 See note on 12:26.

13:16 See note on v. 9.

13:17 road through the Philistine country. Although the most direct route from Goshen to Canaan, it was heavily guarded by a string of Egyptian fortresses.

13:18 desert road. Leading south along the west coast of the Sinai peninsula. Red Sea. See NIV text note. Various locations of the crossing have been proposed along the line of the modern Suez Canal and including the northern end of the Gulf of Suez (see map No. 3 at the end of the study Bible; but see also note on 14:2). armed for battle. Probably only with spears, bows and slings.

Red Sea.[v] The Israelites went up out of Egypt armed for battle.[d]

19Moses took the bones of Joseph[e] with him because Joseph had made the sons of Israel swear an oath. He had said, "God will surely come to your aid, and then you must carry my bones up with you from this place."[w][f]

20After leaving Succoth[g] they camped at Etham on the edge of the desert.[h] 21By day the LORD went ahead[i] of them in a pillar of cloud[j] to guide them on their way and by night in a pillar of fire to give them light, so that they could travel by day or night. 22Neither the pillar of cloud by day nor the pillar of fire by night left[k] its place in front of the people.

14 Then the LORD said to Moses, 2"Tell the Israelites to turn back and encamp near Pi Hahiroth, between Migdol[l] and the sea. They are to encamp by the sea, directly opposite Baal Zephon.[m] 3Pharaoh will think, 'The Israelites are wandering around the land in confusion, hemmed in by the desert.' 4And I will harden Pharaoh's heart,[n] and he will pursue them.[o] But I will gain glory[p] for myself through Pharaoh and all his army, and the Egyptians will know that I am the LORD."[q] So the Israelites did this.

5When the king of Egypt was told that the people had fled,[r] Pharaoh and his officials changed their minds[s] about them and said, "What have we done? We have let the Israelites go and have lost their services!" 6So he had his chariot made ready and took his army with him. 7He took six hundred of the best chariots,[t] along with all the other chariots of Egypt, with officers over all of them. 8The LORD hardened the heart[u] of Pharaoh king of Egypt, so that he pursued the Israelites, who were marching out boldly.[v] 9The Egyptians—all Pharaoh's horses[w] and chariots, horsemen[x] and troops[x]—pursued the Israelites and overtook[y] them as they camped by the sea near Pi Hahiroth, opposite Baal Zephon.[z]

10As Pharaoh approached, the Israelites looked up, and there were the Egyptians, marching after them. They were terrified and cried[a] out to the LORD. 11They said to Moses, "Was it because there were no graves in Egypt that you brought us to the desert to die?[b] What have you done to us by bringing us out of Egypt? 12Didn't we say to you in Egypt, 'Leave us alone; let us serve the Egyptians'? It would have been better for us to serve the Egyptians than to die in the desert!"[c]

13Moses answered the people, "Do not be afraid.[d] Stand firm and you will see[e] the deliverance the LORD will bring you today. The Egyptians you see today you will never see[f] again. 14The LORD will fight[g] for you; you need only to be still."[h]

15Then the LORD said to Moses, "Why are you crying out to me?[i] Tell the Israelites to move on. 16Raise your staff[j] and stretch out your hand over the sea to divide the water[k] so that the Israelites can go through the sea on dry ground. 17I will harden the hearts[l] of the Egyptians so that they will go in after them.[m] And I will gain glory through Pharaoh and all his army, through his chariots and his horsemen. 18The Egyptians will know that I am the LORD[n] when I gain glory through Pharaoh, his chariots and his horsemen."

19Then the angel of God,[o] who had been traveling in front of Israel's army, withdrew and went behind them. The pillar of cloud[p] also moved from in 13:21 pillar of cloud . . . pillar of fire. The visible symbol of God's presence among his people (see 14:24; see also note on 3:2). The Lord often spoke to them from the pillar (see Nu 12:5–6; Dt 31:15–16; Ps 99:6–7).

14:2 turn back. Northward, in the general direction from which they had come. Pi Hahiroth. Located "east of Baal Zephon" (Nu 33:7). Migdol. Location unknown. The name means "watchtower." sea. The sea that the NIV, in accordance with established tradition, calls the Red Sea—in Hebrew Yam Suph, i.e., Sea of Reeds (see 13:18 and NIV text note). Reference can hardly be to the northern end of the Gulf of Suez since reeds do not grow in salt water. Moreover, an Egyptian papyrus locates Baal Zephon in the vicinity of Tahpanhes (see note on Jer 2:16), a site near Lake Menzaleh about 20 miles east of Rameses. The crossing of the "Red Sea" thus probably occurred at the southern end of Lake Menzaleh (see map of "The Exodus," p. 106; but see note on 13:18). Baal Zephon. Means "Baal of the north" or "Baal of North (Mountain)"—also the name of a Canaanite god.

14:4 know that I am the LORD. See note on 6:3.

14:7 officers. The Hebrew for the singular of this word means "third man," perhaps referring to his place in a chariot crew.

14:14 The LORD will fight for you. A necessary reminder that although Israel was "armed for battle" (13:18) and "marching out boldly" (v. 8), the victory would be won by God alone.

14:19 angel of God. See note on Ge 16:7; here associated with the cloud (see 13:21).

The Exodus

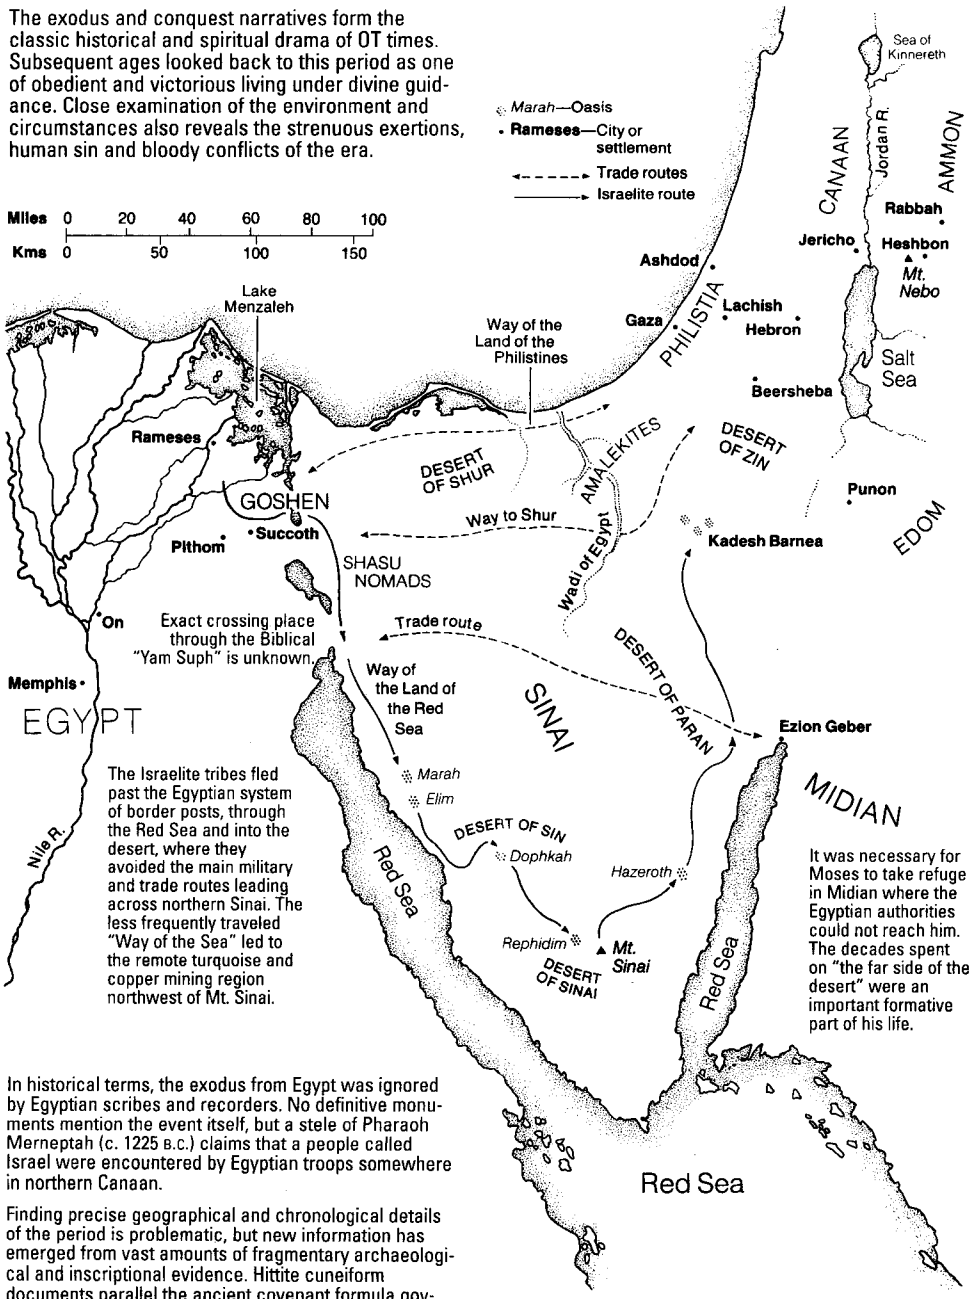
The exodus and conquest narratives form the classic historical and spiritual drama of OT times. Subsequent ages looked back to this period as one of obedient and victorious living under divine guidance. Close examination of the environment and circumstances also reveals the strenuous exertions, human sin and bloody conflicts of the era.



The Israelite tribes fled past the Egyptian system of border posts, through the Red Sea and into the desert, where they avoided the main military and trade routes leading across northern Sinai. The less frequently traveled "Way of the Sea" led to the remote turquoise and copper mining region northwest of Mt. Sinai.

It was necessary for Moses to take refuge in Midian where the Egyptian authorities could not reach him. The decades spent on "the far side of the desert" were an important formative part of his life.

In historical terms, the exodus from Egypt was ignored by Egyptian scribes and recorders. No definitive monuments mention the event itself, but a stele of Pharaoh Merneptah (c. 1225 B.C.) claims that a people called Israel were encountered by Egyptian troops somewhere in northern Canaan.

Finding precise geographical and chronological details of the period is problematic, but new information has emerged from vast amounts of fragmentary archaeological and inscriptional evidence. Hittite cuneiform documents parallel the ancient covenant formula governing Israel's "national contract" with God at Mount Sinai.

The Late Bronze Age (c. 1550-1200 B.C.) was a time of major social migrations. Egyptian control over the Semites in the eastern Nile delta was harsh, with a system of brickmaking quotas imposed on the labor force, often the landless, low-class "Apiru." Numerous Canaanite towns were violently destroyed. New populations, including the "Sea Peoples," made their presence felt in Anatolia, Egypt, Palestine, Transjordan, and elsewhere in the eastern Mediterranean.

Correspondence from Canaanite town rulers to the Egyptian court in the time of Akhenaten (c. 1375 B.C.) reveals a weak structure of alliances, with an intermittent Egyptian military presence and an ominous fear of people called "Habiru" ("Apiru").

front and stood behind[q] them, 20coming between the armies of Egypt and Israel. Throughout the night the cloud brought darkness[r] to the one side and light to the other side; so neither went near the other all night long.

21Then Moses stretched out his hand[s] over the sea,[t] and all that night the LORD drove the sea back with a strong east wind[u] and turned it into dry land.[v] The waters were divided,[w] 22and the Israelites went through the sea[x] on dry ground,[y] with a wall[z] of water on their right and on their left.

23The Egyptians pursued them, and all Pharaoh's horses and chariots and horsemen[a] followed them into the sea. 24During the last watch of the night the LORD looked down from the pillar of fire and cloud[b] at the Egyptian army and threw it into confusion.[c] 25He made the wheels of their chariots come off[y] so that they had difficulty driving. And the Egyptians said, "Let's get away from the Israelites! The LORD is fighting[d] for them against Egypt."[e]

26Then the LORD said to Moses, "Stretch out your hand over the sea so that the waters may flow back over the Egyptians and their chariots and horsemen." 27Moses stretched out his hand over the sea, and at daybreak the sea went back to its place.[f] The Egyptians were fleeing toward[z] it, and the LORD swept them into the sea.[g] 28The water flowed back and covered the chariots and horsemen—the entire army of Pharaoh that had followed the Israelites into the sea.[h] Not one of them survived.[i]

29But the Israelites went through the sea on dry ground,[j] with a wall[k] of water on their right and on their left. 30That day the LORD saved[l] Israel from the hands of the Egyptians, and Israel saw the Egyptians lying dead on the shore. 31And when the Israelites saw the great power[m] the LORD displayed against the Egyptians, the people feared[n] the LORD and put their trust[o] in him and in Moses his servant.

The Song of Moses and Miriam

15 Then Moses and the Israelites sang this song[p] to the LORD:

"I will sing[q] to the LORD, for he is highly exalted.
The horse and its rider[r]
he has hurled into the sea.[s] 2The LORD is my strength[t] and my song;

14:20 coming between the armies of Egypt and Israel. The pillar of cloud (signifying the Lord's presence) protected Israel (see Ps 105:39).

14:21 strong east wind. See 10:13. In 15:8 the poet praises the Lord and calls the wind the "blast of your nostrils," affirming (as here) that the miracle occurred in accordance with God's timing and under his direction (see 15:10).

14:22 through the sea on dry ground. In later times, psalmists and prophets reminded Israel of what God had done for them (see Ps 66:6; 106:9; 136:13–14; Isa 51:10; 63:11–13). wall of water. See v. 29. The waters were "piled up" (15:8) on both sides.

14:24 last watch of the night. Often the time for surprise attack (see Jos 10:9; 1Sa 11:11). the LORD looked down. See note on 13:21.

14:25 The LORD is fighting for them. See note on v. 14.

14:27 The LORD swept them into the sea. As he had done with the locusts of the eighth plague (see 10:19).

14:28 Not one of them survived. The Lord's victory over the pharaoh's army was complete.

14:31 feared the LORD. See note on Ge 20:11. put their trust in him and in Moses. Faith in God's mighty power and confidence in Moses' leadership. his servant. Here refers to one who has the status of a high official in the Lord's kingly administration (see Nu 12:8; Dt 34:5). See also the same title applied to Joshua (Jos 24:29), Samuel (1Sa 3:10), David (2Sa 3:18) and Elijah (2Ki 9:36).

15:1–18 A hymn celebrating God's spectacular victory over the pharaoh and his army. The focus of the song is God himself (see v. 11); the divine name Yahweh ("the LORD") appears ten times. Similes—"like a stone" (v. 5), "like a wall" (v. 8) and "like lead" (v. 10)—mark the conclusion of three of the five stanzas. The first four stanzas (vv. 1–5, 6–8, 9–10, 11–12) retell the story of the "deliverance" (14:13) at the Red Sea, and the final stanza (vv. 13–18) anticipates the future approach to and conquest of Canaan.

15:1 Moses and the Israelites sang. As though one person, the whole community praises God. I will sing. A common way to begin a hymn of praise (see Jdg 5:3; Ps 89:1; 101:1; 108:1).

15:2 The first half of the verse is quoted verbatim in

MOSES

NAME SUGGESTS: "Draw out" (Ex 2:10—see NIV text note)
BIRTH DATA: Born under a death sentence, Moses was saved through God's grace and his own mother's courage (Ex 2:1–10)
OCCUPATION: Prince, shepherd, leader of God's people Israel
BEST KNOWN FOR:

- obeying God's call to lead his people Israel out of slavery in Egypt
- the miraculous signs God worked through him
- becoming Israel's lawgiver (Ex 20)
- an act of disobedience that kept him from entering the promised land he has become my salvation.[u]

He is my God,[v] and I will praise him, my father's God, and I will exalt[w] him.
3The LORD is a warrior;[x]
the LORD is his name.[y] 4Pharaoh's chariots and his army[z]
he has hurled into the sea.
The best of Pharaoh's officers are drowned in the Red Sea.[a] 5The deep waters[a] have covered them; they sank to the depths like a stone.[b]

6"Your right hand,[c] O LORD, was majestic in power.
Your right hand,[d] O LORD, shattered[e] the enemy.
7In the greatness of your majesty[f] you threw down those who opposed you.
You unleashed your burning anger;[g] it consumed[h] them like stubble.
8By the blast of your nostrils[i] the waters piled up.[j]
The surging waters stood firm like a wall;[k]
the deep waters congealed in the heart of the sea.[l]

9"The enemy boasted,
'I will pursue,[m] I will overtake them.
I will divide the spoils;[n]
I will gorge myself on them.
I will draw my sword and my hand will destroy them.'
10But you blew with your breath,[o]
and the sea covered them.
They sank like lead in the mighty waters.[p]

11"Who among the gods is like you,[q] O LORD?
Who is like you—majestic in holiness,[r] awesome in glory,[s] working wonders?[t]

[a] 4 Hebrew Yam Suph; that is, Sea of Reeds; also in verse 22 [b] 15 Or rulers [c] 16 Or created

Ps 118:14 (see Isa 12:2).

15:3 The LORD is a warrior. See note on 14:14. God is often pictured as a king leading his people into battle (see, e.g., Dt 1:30; Jdg 4:14; 2Sa 5:24; 2Ch 20:17–18).

15:4 officers. See note on 14:7.

15:5 sank ... like a stone. Babylon is similarly described in Jer 51:63–64.

15:8 See note on 14:22. blast of your nostrils. See note on 14:21; see also Ps 18:15.

15:10 you blew with your breath. See note on 14:21.

15:11 Who is like you ...? See Ps 35:10; 71:19; 89:6; 113:5; Mic 7:18. The Lord, who tolerates no rivals, has defeated all the gods of Egypt and their worshipers.

15:12 earth. Perhaps refers to Sheol or the grave (see Ps 63:9; 71:20), the "realm of death below" (Dt 32:22), since it was the sea that swallowed the Egyptians.

15:13 people you have redeemed. See note on 6:6. your holy dwelling. Perhaps a reference to the house of worship at Shiloh (see Jer 7:12), and ultimately the temple on Mount Zion (see Ps 76:2), the "place" God would "choose" (Dt 12:14,18,26; 14:25; 16:7,15–16; 17:8,10; 18:6; 31:11) to put "his Name" (Dt 12:5,11,21; 14:23–24; 16:2,6,11; 26:2). But the phrase may refer to the promised land, which is called "your dwelling" and "the sanctuary ... your hands established" in v. 17.

15:14–15 Philistia ... Edom ... Moab ... Canaan. The order is roughly that along the route Israel would follow from Mount Sinai to the promised land.

15:15 chiefs. The term used earlier of the Edomite rulers (see Ge 36:15–19,21,29–30,40,43).

15:16 dread will fall upon them. See note on 1Ch 14:17. bought. See NIV text note; see also Dt 32:6 and NIV text note. In Ps 74:2 the meaning "bought" or "purchased" is found in context with "redeemed" (see note on 13:13).

15:17 inheritance. The promised land (see 1Sa 26:19; Ps 79:1).

19When Pharaoh's horses, chariots and horsemen[d] went into the sea,[q] the LORD brought the waters of the sea back over them, but the Israelites walked through the sea on dry ground.[r] 20Then Miriam[s] the prophetess,[t] Aaron's sister, took a tambourine in her hand, and all the women followed her, with tambourines[u] and dancing.[v] 21Miriam sang[w] to them:

The Waters of Marah and Elim

22Then Moses led Israel from the Red Sea and they went into the Desert[z] of Shur.[a] For three days they traveled in the desert without finding water.[b] 23When they came to Marah, they could not drink its water because it was bitter. (That is why the place is called Marah.[ec]) 24So the people grumbled[d] against Moses, saying, "What are we to drink?"[e]

25Then Moses cried out[f] to the LORD, and the LORD showed him a piece of wood. He threw[g] it into the water, and the water became sweet.

There the LORD made a decree and a law for them, and there he tested[h] them. 26He said, "If you listen carefully to the voice of the LORD your God and do what is right in his eyes, if you pay attention to his commands and keep[i] all his decrees,[j] I will not bring on you any of the diseases[k] I brought on the Egyptians, for I am the LORD, who heals[l] you."

27Then they came to Elim, where there were twelve springs and seventy palm trees, and they camped[m] there near the water.

Manna and Quail

16 The whole Israelite community set out from Elim and came to the Desert of Sin,[n] which is between Elim and Sinai, on the fifteenth day of the second month after they had come out of Egypt.[o] 2In the desert the whole community grumbled[p] against Moses and Aaron. 3The Israelites said to them, "If only we had died by the LORD's hand in Egypt![q] There we sat around pots of meat and ate all the food[r] we wanted, but you have brought us out into this desert to starve this entire assembly to death."[s]

4Then the LORD said to Moses, "I will rain down bread from heaven[t] for you. The people are to go out each day and gather enough for that day. In this way I will test[u] them and see whether they will follow my instructions. 5On the sixth day they are to prepare what they bring in, and that is to be twice[v] as much as they gather on the other days."

15:20 prophetess. See Nu 12:1–2 for a statement by Miriam concerning her prophetic gift (see note on 7:1–2). Other prophetesses in the Bible were Deborah (Jdg 4:4), Isaiah's wife (Isa 8:3, but see note there), Huldah (2Ki 22:14), Noadiah (Ne 6:14), Anna (Lk 2:36) and Philip's daughters (Ac 21:9). women followed her, with tambourines and dancing. Such celebration was common after victory in battle (see 1Sa 18:6; 2Sa 1:20).

15:21 Miriam repeats the first four lines of the victory hymn (see v. 1), changing only the form of the first verb.

15:22 Desert of Shur. Located east of Egypt (see Ge 25:18; 1Sa 15:7) in the northwestern part of the Sinai peninsula. In Nu 33:8 it is called the "Desert of Etham." Shur and Etham both mean "fortress wall" (Shur in Hebrew, Etham in Egyptian).

15:23 Marah. Probably modern Ain Hawarah, inland from the Gulf of Suez and 50 miles south of its northern end.

15:24 grumbled. During their desert wanderings, the Israelites grumbled against Moses and Aaron whenever they faced a crisis (see 16:2; 17:3; Nu 14:2; 16:11,41). In reality, however, they were grumbling "against the LORD" (16:8). Paul warns us not to follow their example (see 1Co 10:10).

15:25 He threw it into the water, and the water became sweet. For a similar occurrence see 2Ki 2:19–22. a decree and a law. Technical terms presumably referring to what follows in v. 26. tested. See note on Ge 22:1. God tested Israel also in connection with his provision of manna (see 16:4; Dt 8:2–3) and the giving of the Ten Commandments (see 20:20).

15:27 Elim. Seven miles south of Ain Hawarah (see note on v. 23) in the well-watered valley of Gharandel. palm trees. Elim means "large trees."

16:1 from Elim . . . to the Desert of Sin. See Nu 33:10–11. The Desert of Sin was in southwestern Sinai ("Sin" is probably derived from "Sinai") in the region today called Debbet er-Ramleh. fifteenth day of the second month. Exactly one month had passed since Israel's exodus from Egypt (see 12:2,6,29,31).

16:2 grumbled. See note on 15:24.

16:3 meat. Nu 11:5 lists additional items of food from Egypt that the Israelites craved.

16:4 bread from heaven. Jesus called himself "the true bread from heaven" (Jn 6:32), "the bread of God" (Jn 6:33), "the bread of life" (Jn 6:35,48), "the living bread that came down from heaven" (Jn 6:51)—all in the spiritual sense (Jn 6:63). For a similar application see Dt 8:3 and Jesus' quotation of it in Mt 4:4. go out each day and gather enough for that day. Probably the background for Jesus' model petition in Mt 6:11; Lk 11:3. test. See notes on 15:25; Ge 22:1.

16:5 sixth day . . . twice as much as they gather on the other days. To provide for "the seventh day, the Sabbath" (v. 26), "a day of rest" (v. 23). See v. 29.

6So Moses and Aaron said to all the Israelites, "In the evening you will know that it was the LORD who brought you out of Egypt,[w] 7and in the morning you will see the glory[x] of the LORD, because he has heard your grumbling[y] against him. Who are we, that you should grumble against us?"[z] 8Moses also said, "You will know that it was the LORD when he gives you meat to eat in the evening and all the bread you want in the morning, because he has heard your grumbling[a] against him. Who are we? You are not grumbling against us, but against the LORD."[b]

9Then Moses told Aaron, "Say to the entire Israelite community, 'Come before the LORD, for he has heard your grumbling.' "

10While Aaron was speaking to the whole Israelite community, they looked toward the desert, and there was the glory[c] of the LORD appearing in the cloud.[d]

11The LORD said to Moses, 12"I have heard the grumbling[e] of the Israelites. Tell them, 'At twilight you will eat meat, and in the morning you will be filled with bread. Then you will know that I am the LORD your God.' "[f]

13That evening quail[g] came and covered the camp, and in the morning there was a layer of dew[h] around the camp. 14When the dew was gone, thin flakes like frost[i] on the ground appeared on the desert floor. 15When the Israelites saw it, they said to each other, "What is it?" For they did not know[j] what it was.

Moses said to them, "It is the bread[k] the LORD has given you to eat. 16This is what the LORD has commanded: 'Each one is to gather as much as he needs. Take an omer[fl] for each person you have in your tent.' "

17The Israelites did as they were told; some gathered much, some little. 18And when they measured it by the omer, he who gathered much did not have too much, and he who gathered little did not have too little.[m] Each one gathered as much as he needed.

21Each morning everyone gathered as much as he needed, and when the sun grew hot, it melted away. 22On the sixth day, they gathered twice[q] as much—two omers[g] for each person—and the leaders of the community[r] came and reported this to Moses. 23He said to them, "This is what the LORD commanded: 'Tomorrow is to be a day of rest, a holy Sabbath[s] to the LORD. So bake what you want to bake and boil what you want to boil. Save whatever is left and keep it until morning.' "

24So they saved it until morning, as Moses commanded, and it did not stink or get maggots in it. 25"Eat it today," Moses said, "because today is a Sabbath to the LORD. You will not find any of it on the ground today. 26Six days you are to gather it, but on the seventh day, the Sabbath,[t] there will not be any."

27Nevertheless, some of the people went out on the seventh day to gather it, but they found none. 28Then the LORD said to Moses, "How long will you[h] refuse to keep my commands[u] and my instructions? 29Bear in mind that the LORD has given you the Sabbath; that is why on the sixth day he gives you bread for two days. Everyone is to stay where he is on the seventh day; no one is to go out."

30So the people rested on the seventh day.

31The people of Israel called the bread manna.[iv] It was white like coriander seed and tasted like wafers made with honey. 32Moses said, "This is what the LORD has commanded: 'Take an omer of manna and keep it for the generations to come, so they can see the bread I gave you to eat in the desert when I brought you out of Egypt.' "

33So Moses said to Aaron, "Take a jar and put an omer of manna[w] in it. Then place it before the LORD to be kept for the generations to come."

34As the LORD commanded Moses, Aar-

Water From the Rock

17 The whole Israelite community set out from the Desert of Sin,[d] traveling from place to place as the LORD commanded. They camped at Rephidim,[e] but there was no water[f] for the people to drink. 2So they quarreled with Moses and said, "Give us water[g] to drink."[h]

Moses replied, "Why do you quarrel with me? Why do you put the LORD to the test?"[i]

3But the people were thirsty[j] for water there, and they grumbled[k] against Moses. They said, "Why did you bring us up out of Egypt to make us and our children and livestock die[l] of thirst?"

4Then Moses cried out to the LORD, "What am I to do with these people? They are almost ready to stone[m] me."

5The LORD answered Moses, "Walk on ahead of the people. Take with you some of the elders of Israel and take in your hand the staff[n] with which you struck the Nile,[o] and go. 6I will stand there before you by the rock at Horeb.[p] Strike[q] the rock, and water[r] will come out of it for the people to drink." So Moses did this in the sight of the elders of Israel. 7And he called the place Massah[is] and Meribah[kt] because the Israelites quarreled and because they tested the LORD saying, "Is the LORD among us or not?"

The Amalekites Defeated

8The Amalekites[u] came and attacked the Israelites at Rephidim.[v] 9Moses said to Joshua,[w] "Choose some of our men and go out to fight the Amalekites. Tomorrow I will stand on top of the hill with the staff[x] of God in my hands."

10So Joshua fought the Amalekites as Moses had ordered, and Moses, Aaron and Hur[y] went to the top of the hill. 11As long as Moses held up his hands, the Israelites were winning,[z] but whenever he lowered his hands, the Amalekites were winning. 12When Moses' hands grew tired, they took a stone and put it under him and he sat on it. Aaron and Hur held his hands up—one on one side, one on the other—so that his hands remained steady till sunset.[a] 13So Joshua overcame the Amalekite[b] army with the sword.

14Then the LORD said to Moses, their name to the "ark of the Testimony" (25:22; 26:33) in which they were placed (see 25:16,21) along with the jar of manna (see Heb 9:4; see also Rev 2:17 and note).

16:35 ate manna forty years ... until they reached ... Canaan. The manna stopped at the time the Israelites celebrated their first Passover in Canaan (see Jos 5:10–12).

17:1 traveling from place to place. For a list of specific sites see Nu 33:12–14. Rephidim. Probably either the Wadi Refayid or the Wadi Feiran, both near Jebel Musa (see note on 3:1) in southern Sinai.

17:2 put the LORD to the test. Israel fails the Lord's testing of her (see 16:4) by putting the Lord to the test.

17:3 grumbled. See note on 15:24.

17:4 these people. The same note of distance and alienation ("these people" instead of "my people") in such situations is found often in the prophets (see, e.g., Isa 6:9; Hag 1:2).

17:6 I will stand there ... by the rock. Paul may have had this incident in mind when he spoke of Christ as "the spiritual rock that accompanied" Israel (see 1Co 10:4; see also Heb 11:24–26). Horeb. See note on 3:1. Strike the rock, and water will come out. The event was later celebrated by Israel's hymn writers and prophets (see Ps 78:15–16,20; 105:41; 114:8; Isa 48:21).

17:7 Massah and Meribah. Heb 3:7–8,15 (quoting Ps 95:7–8) gives the meaning "testing" for Massah and "rebellion" for Meribah. Another Meribah, where a similar incident occurred near Kadesh Barnea (see note on Ge 14:7), is referred to in Nu 20:13,24; 27:14; Dt 32:51; 33:8; Ps 81:7; 106:32; Eze 47:19; 48:28.

17:8 Amalekites. See note on Ge 14:7.

17:9 Joshua. The name given by Moses to Hoshea son of Nun (see Nu 13:16). "Hoshea" means "salvation," while "Joshua" means "The LORD saves." The Greek form of the name Joshua is the same as that of the name Jesus, for the meaning of which see NIV text note on Mt 1:21. Joshua was from the tribe of Ephraim (Nu 13:8), one of the most powerful of the 12 tribes (see notes on Ge 48:6,19). fight the Amalekites. Joshua's military prowess uniquely suited him to be the conqueror of Canaan 40 years later, while his faith in God and loyalty to Moses suited him to be Moses' "aide" (24:13; 33:11) and successor (see Dt 1:38; 3:28; 31:14; 34:9; Jos 1:5).

17:10 Hur. Perhaps the same Hur who was the son of Caleb and the grandfather of Bezalel (see 1Ch 2:19–20), one of the builders of the tabernacle (see 31:2–5).

17:11 held up his hands. A symbol of appeal to God for help and enablement (see note on 9:29; see also 9:22; 10:12; 14:16).

17:14 Write. See 24:4; 34:27–28; Nu 33:2; Dt 28:58; 29:20,21,27; 30:10; 31:9,19,22,24; see also Introduction: Author and Date of Writing. scroll. A long strip of leather or papyrus on which scribes wrote in columns (see Jer 36:23) with pen (see Isa 8:1) and ink (see Jer 36:18), sometimes on both sides (see Eze 2:10; Rev 5:1). After being rolled up, a scroll was often sealed (see Isa 29:11; Da 12:4; Rev 5:1–2,5,9) to protect its contents. Scrolls were of various sizes (see Isa 8:1; Rev 10:2,9–10). Certain Egyptian examples reached lengths of over 100 feet; Biblical scrolls, however, rarely exceeded 30 feet in length, as in the case of a book like Isaiah (see Lk 4:17). Reading the contents of a

"Write[c] this on a scroll as something to be remembered and make sure that Joshua hears it, because I will completely blot out[d] the memory of Amalek[e] from under heaven."

15Moses built an altar[f] and called[g] it The LORD is my Banner. 16He said, "For hands were lifted up to the throne of the LORD. The[l] LORD will be at war against the Amalekites[h] from generation to generation."[i]

Jethro Visits Moses

18 Now Jethro,[j] the priest of Midian[k] and father-in-law of Moses, heard of everything God had done for Moses and for his people Israel, and how the LORD had brought Israel out of Egypt.[l]

2After Moses had sent away his wife Zipporah,[m] his father-in-law Jethro received her 3and her two sons.[n] One son was named Gershom,[m] for Moses said, "I have become an alien in a foreign land";[o] 4and the other was named Eliezer,[n][p] for he said, "My father's God was my helper;[q] he saved me from the sword of Pharaoh."

5Jethro, Moses' father-in-law, together with Moses' sons and wife, came to him in the desert, where he was camped near the mountain[r] of God. 6Jethro had sent word to him, "I, your father-in-law Jethro, am coming to you with your wife and her two sons."

7So Moses went out to meet his father-in-law and bowed down[s] and kissed[t] him. They greeted each other and then went into the tent. 8Moses told his father-in-law about everything the LORD had done to Pharaoh and the Egyptians for Israel's sake and about all the hardships[u] they had met along the way and how the LORD had saved[v] them.

9Jethro was delighted to hear about all the good things[w] the LORD had done for Israel in rescuing them from the hand of the Egyptians. 10He said, "Praise be to the LORD,[x] who rescued you from the hand of the Egyptians and of Pharaoh, and who rescued the people from the hand of the Egyptians. 11Now I know that the LORD is greater than all other gods,[y] for he did this to those who had treated Israel arrogantly."[z] 12Then Jethro, Moses' father-in-law,[a] brought a burnt offering[b] and other sacrifices[c] to God, and Aaron came with all the elders of Israel to eat bread[d] with Moses' father-in-law in the presence[e] of God.

13The next day Moses took his seat to serve as judge for the people, and they stood around him from morning till evening. 14When his father-in-law saw all that Moses was doing for the people, he said, "What is this you are doing for the people? Why do you alone sit as judge, while all these people stand around you from morning till evening?"

15Moses answered him, "Because the people come to me to seek God's will.[f] 16Whenever they have a dispute,[g] it is brought to me, and I decide between the parties and inform them of God's decrees and laws."[h]

17Moses' father-in-law replied, "What you are doing is not good. 18You and these people who come to you will only wear yourselves out. The work is too heavy for you; you cannot handle it alone.[i] 19Listen now to me and I will give you some advice, and may God be with you.[j] You must be the people's representative before God and bring their disputes[k] to him. 20Teach them the decrees and laws,[l] and show them the way to live[m] and the duties they are to perform.[n] 21But select capable men[o] from all the people—men who fear[p] God, trustworthy men who hate dishonest gain[q]—and appoint them as officials[r] over thousands, hundreds, fifties and tens. 22Have them serve as judges for the people at all times, but have them scroll involved the awkward procedure of unrolling it with one hand while rolling it up with the other (see Isa 34:4; Eze 2:10; Lk 4:17,20; Rev 6:14). Shortly after the time of Christ the scroll gave way to the book form still used today.

17:15 my Banner. Recalling Moses' petition with upraised hands (see vv. 11–12,16) and testifying to the power of God displayed in defense of his people.

18:1 Jethro the priest of Midian. See note on 2:16.

18:2 sent away his wife. Apparently Moses sent Zipporah to her father with the news that the Lord had blessed his mission (see v. 1) and that he was in the vicinity of Mount Sinai with Israel.

18:5 mountain of God. See 3:1 and note.

18:11 Now I know that the LORD is greater than all other gods. See the similar confession of Naaman in 2Ki 5:15.

18:12 brought. The verb means "provided" an animal for sacrifice (see, e.g., 25:2; Lev 12:8), not "officiated at" a sacrifice. eat bread with. A token of friendship (contrast the battle with the Amalekites, 17:8–16). Such a meal often climaxed the establishment of a treaty (see Ge 31:54; Ex 24:11).

18:15 seek God's will. Inquire of God, usually by going to a place of worship (see Ge 25:22 and note; Nu 27:21) or to a prophet (see 1Sa 9:9; 1Ki 22:8).

18:16 God's decrees and laws. The process of compiling and systematizing the body of divine law that would govern the newly formed nation of Israel may have already begun (see 15:25–26 and note on Ge 26:5).

18:21 men who fear God. See note on Ge 20:11.

bring every difficult case[s] to you; the simple cases they can decide themselves. That will make your load lighter, because they will share[t] it with you. 23If you do this and God so commands, you will be able to stand the strain, and all these people will go home satisfied."

24Moses listened to his father-in-law and did everything he said. 25He chose capable men from all Israel and made them leaders[u] of the people, officials over thousands, hundreds, fifties and tens.[v] 26They served as judges[w] for the people at all times. The difficult cases[x] they brought to Moses, but the simple ones they decided themselves.[y]

27Then Moses sent his father-in-law on his way, and Jethro returned to his own country.[z]

At Mount Sinai

19 In the third month after the Israelites left Egypt[a]—on the very day—they came to the Desert of Sinai.[b] 2After they set out from Rephidim,[c] they entered the Desert of Sinai, and Israel camped there in the desert in front of the mountain.[d]

3Then Moses went up to God,[e] and the LORD called[f] to him from the mountain and said, "This is what you are to say to the house of Jacob and what you are to tell the people of Israel: 4'You yourselves have seen what I did to Egypt,[g] and how I carried you on eagles' wings[h] and brought you to myself.[i] 5Now if you obey me fully[j] and keep my covenant,[k] then out of all nations you will be my treasured possession.[l] Although the whole earth[m] is mine, 6you[o] will be for me a kingdom of priests[n] and a holy nation.'[o] These are the words you are to speak to the Israelites."

7So Moses went back and summoned the elders[p] of the people and set before them all the words the LORD had commanded him to speak.[q] 8The people all responded together, "We will do everything the LORD has said."[r] So Moses brought their answer back to the LORD.

9The LORD said to Moses, "I am going to come to you in a dense cloud,[s] so that the people will hear me speaking[t] with you and will always put their trust[u] in you." Then Moses told the LORD what the people had said.

19:3 Jacob . . . Israel. See note on 1:1.

19:4 I carried you on eagles' wings. The description best fits the female golden eagle.

19:5 if . . . then. The covenant between God and Israel at Mount Sinai is the outgrowth and extension of the Lord's covenant with Abraham and his descendants 600 years earlier (see chart on "Major Covenants in the OT," p. 19). Participation in the divine blessings is conditioned on obedience added to faith (see note on Ge 17:9). my covenant. See note on Ge 9:9. out of all nations . . . my treasured possession. The equivalent phrases used of Christians in 1Pe 2:9 are "chosen people" and "people belonging to God" (see Dt 7:6; 14:2; 26:18; Ps 135:4; Mal 3:17). the whole earth is mine. God is the Creator and Possessor of the earth and everything in it (see Ge 14:19,22; Ps 24:1–2).

19:6 kingdom of priests. Israel was to constitute the Lord's kingdom (the people who acknowledged him as their King) and, like priests, was to be wholly consecrated to his service (see Isa 61:6; cf. 1Pe 2:5; Rev 1:6; 5:10; 20:6). holy nation. See 1Pe 2:9. God's people, both individually and collectively, are to be "set apart" (see note on 3:5) to do his will (see Dt 7:6; 14:2,21; 26:19; Isa 62:12).

19:8 We will do everything the LORD has said. The people promised to obey the terms of the covenant (see 24:3,7; Dt 5:27).

19:9 dense cloud. See 13:21 and note. the people will hear me speaking. See Dt 4:33. put their trust in you. See 14:31 and note.

19:10–11 Outward preparation to meet God symbolizes the inward consecration God requires of his people.

19:12–13 The whole mountain becomes holy because of God's presence (see 3:5 and note). Israel must keep herself from the mountain even as she is to keep herself from the tabernacle (see Nu 3:10).

19:15 Abstain from sexual relations. Not because sex is sinful but because it may leave the participants ceremonially unclean (see Lev 15:18; see also 1Sa 21:4–5).

yourselves for the third day. Abstain[r] from sexual relations."

16On the morning of the third day there was thunder[g] and lightning, with a thick cloud[h] over the mountain, and a very loud trumpet blast.[i] Everyone in the camp trembled.[j] 17Then Moses led the people out of the camp to meet with God, and they stood at the foot of the mountain.[k] 18Mount Sinai was covered with smoke,[l] because the LORD descended on it in fire.[m] The smoke billowed up from it like smoke from a furnace,[n] the whole mountain[p] trembled[o] violently, 19and the sound of the trumpet grew louder and louder. Then Moses spoke and the voice[p] of God answered[q] him.[q]

20The LORD descended to the top of Mount Sinai[r] and called Moses to the top of the mountain. So Moses went up 21and the LORD said to him, "Go down and warn the people so they do not force their way through to see[s] the LORD and many of them perish.[t] 22Even the priests, who approach[u] the LORD, must consecrate[v] themselves, or the LORD will break out against them."[w]

23Moses said to the LORD, "The people cannot come up Mount Sinai,[x] because you yourself warned us, 'Put limits[y] around the mountain and set it apart as holy.' "

24The LORD replied, "Go down and bring Aaron[z] up with you. But the priests and the people must not force their way through to come up to the LORD, or he will break out against them."[a]

25So Moses went down to the people and told them.

19:16 thunder ... lightning ... trumpet blast. God's appearance is often accompanied by an impressive display of meteorological sights and sounds (see, e.g., 1Sa 7:10; 12:18; Job 38:1; 40:6; Ps 18:13–14). thick cloud. See 13:21 and note.

19:18 fire ... smoke from a furnace. See Ge 15:17 and note.

19:22 priests. See also v. 24. Before the Aaronic priesthood was established (see 28:1), priestly functions were performed either by the elders (see note on 3:16; see also 3:18; 12:21; 18:12) or by designated younger men (see 24:5). But perhaps the verse anticipates the regulations for the Aaronic priests who will be appointed. who approach the LORD. To officiate at sacrifices (see 40:32; Lev 21:23).

20:1–17 See Dt 5:6–21; see also Mt 5:21,27; 19:17–19; Mk 10:19; Lk 18:20; Ro 13:9; Eph 6:2–3.

20:1 words. A technical term for "(covenant) stipulations" in the ancient Near East (e.g., among the Hittites; see also 24:3,8; 34:28). The basic code in Israel's divine law is found in vv. 2–17, elsewhere called the "Ten Commandments" (34:28; Dt 4:13; 10:4), the Hebrew words for which mean lit. "Ten Words." "Decalogue," a term of Greek origin often used as a synonym for the Ten Commandments, also means lit. "Ten Words."

20:2 I am the LORD your God, who brought you out. The Decalogue reflects the structure of the contemporary royal treaties (see note on Ge 15:7). On the basis of (1) a preamble, in which the great king identified himself ("I am the LORD your God"), and (2) a historical prologue, in which he sketched his previous gracious acts toward the subject king or people ("who brought you out ..."), the Lord then set forth (3) the treaty (covenant) stipulations (see Dt 5:1–3,7–21) to be obeyed (in this case, ten in number: vv. 3–17). Use of this ancient royal treaty pattern shows that the Lord is here formally acknowledged as Israel's King and that Israel is his subject people. As his subjects, his covenant people are to render complete submission, allegiance and obedience to him out of gratitude for his mercies, reverence for his sovereignty, and trust in his continuing care. See chart on "Major Covenants in the OT," p. 19.

20:3 before. The Hebrew for this word is translated "in hostility toward" in Ge 16:12; 25:18. Something of that sense may be intended here. In any event, no deity, real or imagined, is to rival the one true God in Israel's heart and life.

20:4 idol in the form of anything. Because God has no visible form, any idol intended to resemble him would be a sinful misrepresentation of him (see Dt 4:12,15–18). Since other gods are not to be worshiped (see v. 5), making idols of them would be equally sinful (see Dt 4:19,23–28).

20:5 jealous God. God will not put up with rivalry or unfaithfulness. Usually his "jealousy" concerns Israel and assumes the covenant relationship (analogous to marriage) and the Lord's exclusive right to possess Israel and to claim her love and allegiance. Actually, jealousy is part of the vocabulary of love. The "jealousy" of God (1) demands exclusive devotion to himself (see 34:14; Dt 4:24; 32:16,21; Jos 24:19; Ps 78:58; 1Co 10:22; Jas 4:5 and NIV text note), (2) delivers to judgment all who oppose him (see Dt 29:20; 1Ki 14:22; Ps 79:5; Isa 42:13; 59:17; Eze 5:13; 16:38; 23:25; 36:5; Na 1:2; Zep 1:18; 3:8) and (3) vindicates his people (see 2Ki 19:31; Isa 9:7; 26:11; Eze 39:25; Joel 2:18; Zec 1:14; 8:2). In some of these passages the meaning is closer to "zeal" (the same Hebrew word may be translated either way, depending on context). to the third and fourth generation of those who hate me. Those Israelites who down to them or worship[j] them; for I, the LORD your God, am a jealous God,[k] punishing the children for the sin of the fathers[l] to the third and fourth generation[m] of those who hate me, 6but showing love to a thousand[n] ⌊generations⌋ of those who love me and keep my commandments.

On it you shall not do any work, neither you, nor your son or daughter, nor your manservant or maidservant, nor your animals, nor the alien within your gates. 11For in six days the LORD made the heavens and the earth,[s] the sea, and all that is in them, but he rested[t] on the seventh day.[u] Therefore the LORD blessed the Sabbath day and made it holy.

12"Honor your father and your mother,[v] so that you may live long[w] in the land[x] the LORD your God is giving you.

blatantly violate God's covenant and thus show that they reject the Lord as their King will bring down judgment on themselves and their households (see, e.g., Nu 16:31–34; Jos 7:24 and note)—households were usually extended to "three or four" generations. See note on Ps 109:12. hate. In covenant contexts the terms "hate" and "love" (v. 6) were conventionally used to indicate rejection of or loyalty to the covenant Lord.

20:6 a thousand ⌊generations⌋ of those. See 1Ch 16:15; Ps 105:8. love me and keep my commandments. See Jn 14:15; 1Jn 5:3. In the treaty language of the ancient Near East the "love" owed to the great king was a conventional term for total allegiance and implicit trust expressing itself in obedient service.

20:7 misuse the name of the LORD. By profaning God's name—e.g., by swearing falsely by it (see Lev 19:12; see also Jer 7:9 and NIV text note), as on the witness stand in court. Jesus elaborates on oath-taking in Mt 5:33–37.

20:8 See Ge 2:3. Sabbath. See note on 16:23. holy. See note on 3:5.

20:9 Six days. The question of a shorter "work week" in a modern industrialized culture is not in view.

20:10 On it you shall not do any work. Two reasons (one here and one in Deuteronomy) are given: (1) Having completed his work of creation God "rested on the seventh day" (v. 11), and the Israelites are to observe the same pattern in their service of God in the creation; (2) the Israelites must cease all labor so that their servants can also participate in the Sabbath-rest—just as God had delivered his people from the burden of slavery in Egypt (see Dt 5:14–15). The Sabbath thus became a "sign" of the covenant between God and Israel at Mount Sinai (see 31:12–17; see also note on Ge 9:12).

20:12 Honor. (1) Prize highly (see Pr 4:8), (2) care for (see Ps 91:15), (3) show respect for (see Lev 19:3; 20:9), and (4) obey (see Dt 21:18–21; cf. Eph 6:1). so that you may live long. "The first commandment with a promise" (Eph 6:2). See also note on Dt 6:2.

20:13 See Mt 5:21–26. murder. The Hebrew for this verb usually refers to a premeditated and deliberate act.

20:14 See Mt 5:27–30. adultery. A sin "against God" (Ge 39:9) as well as against the marriage partner.

20:17 covet. Desire something with evil motivation (see Mt 15:19). To break God's commandments inwardly is equivalent to breaking them outwardly (see Mt 5:21–30).

20:18–21 Concludes the account of the giving of the Decalogue. The order of the narrative appears to be different from the order of events, since v. 18 is most likely a continuation of 19:25. On this reading, the proclamation of the Decalogue took place after Moses approached God (v. 21). Biblical writers often did not follow chronological sequence in their narratives for various literary reasons. The purpose of chronological displacement here may have been either (1) to keep the Decalogue distinct from the "Book of the Covenant" (24:7) that follows (20:22–23:19), or (2) to conclude the account with the formal institution of Moses' office as covenant mediator—or both.

20:19 See Heb 12:19–20. Israel requests a mediator to stand between them and God, a role fulfilled by Moses and subsequently by priests, prophets and kings—and ultimately by Jesus Christ.

20:20 Do not be afraid. Do not think that God's display of his majesty is intended simply to fill you with abject fear. He has come to enter into covenant with you as your heavenly King. test. See note on Ge 22:1. fear of God. See note on Ge 20:11.

afraid.[j] God has come to test[k] you, so that the fear[l] of God will be with you to keep you from sinning."[m] 21The people remained at a distance, while Moses approached the thick darkness[n] where God was.

Idols and Altars

22Then the LORD said to Moses, "Tell the Israelites this: 'You have seen for yourselves that I have spoken to you from heaven:[o] 23Do not make any gods to be alongside me;[p] do not make for yourselves gods of silver or gods of gold.[q]

24"'Make an altar[r] of earth for me and sacrifice on it your burnt offerings[s] and fellowship offerings,[s] your sheep and goats and your cattle. Wherever I cause my name[t] to be honored, I will come to you and bless[u] you. 25If you make an altar of stones for me, do not build it with dressed stones, for you will defile it if you use a tool[v] on it. 26And do not go up to my altar on steps, lest your nakedness[w] be exposed on it.'

21:2–11Ref — Lev 25:39–55

2"If you buy a Hebrew servant,[y] he is to serve you for six years. But in the seventh year, he shall go free,[z] without paying anything. 3If he comes alone, he is to go free alone; but if he has a wife when he comes, she is to go with him. 4If his master gives him a wife and she bears him sons or daughters, the woman and her children shall belong to her master, and only the man shall go free.

5"But if the servant declares, 'I love my master and my wife and children and do not want to go free,'[a] 6then his master must take him before the judges.[t][b] He shall take him to the door or the doorpost and pierce[c] his ear with an awl. Then he will be his servant for life.[d]

7"If a man sells his daughter as a servant, she is not to go free as menservants do. 8If she does not please the master who has selected her for himself,[u] he must let her be redeemed. He has no right to sell her to foreigners, because he has broken faith with her. 9If he selects her for his son, he must grant her the rights of a daughter. 10If he marries another woman, he must not deprive the first one of her food, clothing and marital rights.[e] 11If he does not provide her with these three things, she is to go free, without any payment of money.

Personal Injuries

12"Anyone who strikes a man and kills him shall surely be put to death.[f] 13However, if he does not do it intentionally, but God lets it happen, he is to flee to a place[g] I will designate. 14But if a man schemes and kills another man de-

20:22–26 Initial stipulations governing Israel's basic relationship with God (cf. v. 3).

20:22 heaven. God's dwelling place. Even on "top of Mount Sinai" (19:20) God spoke from heaven.

20:23 See vv. 3–4. The contrast between the one true God "in heaven," who "does whatever pleases him" (Ps 115:3), and idols of silver or gold, who can do nothing at all (see Ps 115:4–7; see also Ps 135:5–6,15–17), is striking indeed.

20:24 altar of earth. Such an altar, with dimensions the same as those of the altar in the tabernacle (see 27:1), has been found in the excavated ruins of a small Iron Age (10th, or possibly 11th, century B.C.) Israelite temple at Arad in southern Palestine. burnt offerings. See note on Lev 1:3. fellowship offerings. See note on Lev 3:1. Wherever. Not the later central sanctuary at Jerusalem, but numerous temporary places of worship (see, e.g., Jos 8:30–31; Jdg 6:24; 21:4; 1Sa 7:17; 14:35; 2Sa 24:25; 1Ki 18:30).

20:25 do not build it with dressed stones. Many ancient altars of undressed stones (from various periods) have been found in Palestine. defile it if you use a tool on it. For reasons not now clear, but perhaps related to pagan practices.

20:26 steps. The oldest stepped altar known in Palestine is at Megiddo and dates between 3000 and 2500 B.C. nakedness be exposed. Men who ascended to such altars would expose their nakedness in the presence of God. Although Aaron and his descendants served at stepped altars (see Lev 9:22; Eze 43:17), they were instructed to wear linen undergarments (see 28:42–43; Lev 6:10; 16:3–4; Eze 44:17–18).

21:2 Hebrew. See note on Ge 14:13. in the seventh year, he shall go free. The Lord's servants are not to be anyone's perpetual slaves (see 20:10 and note).

21:6 the judges. See 22:8–9,28 and NIV text notes. pierce his ear with an awl. See Dt 15:17. Submission to this rite symbolized willing service (see Ps 40:6–8 and note on Ps 40:6).

Premeditated murder is thus distinguished from accidental manslaughter. God lets it happen. The event is beyond human control—in modern legal terminology, an "act of God." place. A city of refuge (see Nu 35:6–32; Dt 19:1–13; Jos 20:1–9; 21:13,21,27,32,38).

horns of the altar were a final refuge for those subject to judicial action (see 1Ki 1:50–51; 2:28; Am 3:14 and notes).

21:15 See 20:12.

21:19 walks around outside with his staff. Is convalescing in a satisfactory way. the loss of his time. Lit. "his sitting," i.e., his enforced idleness.

21:20–21 Benefit of doubt was granted to the slaveholder where no homicidal intentions could be proved.

21:23–25 See Dt 19:21. The so-called law of retaliation, as its contexts show, was meant to limit the punishment to fit the crime. By invoking the law of love, Jesus corrected the popular misunderstanding of the law of retaliation (see Mt 5:38–42). See note on Lev 24:20.

21:23 serious injury. Either to mother or to child.

21:26–27 Humane applications of the law of retaliation.

21:28–32 The law of the goring bull.

21:28 the bull must be stoned to death. By killing someone, the bull becomes accountable for that person's life (see Ge 9:5).

21:30 if payment is demanded. If the victim's family is willing to accept a ransom payment instead of demanding the death penalty. he may redeem his life by paying. The payment (lit. "ransom," as in Nu 35:31) is not to compensate the victim's family but to save the negligent man's life.

21:32 thirty shekels of silver. Apparently the standard price for a slave. It was also the amount Judas was willing to accept as his price for betraying Jesus (see Mt 26:14–15; see also Zec 11:12–13). shekels. See note on Ge 20:16.

21:33–36 Laws concerning injuries to animals.

22:1–15 Laws concerning property rights (see 20:15).

field or vineyard and lets them stray and they graze in another man's field, he must make restitution[d] from the best of his own field or vineyard.

6"If a fire breaks out and spreads into thornbushes so that it burns shocks[e] of grain or standing grain or the whole field, the one who started the fire must make restitution.[f]

7"If a man gives his neighbor silver or goods for safekeeping[g] and they are stolen from the neighbor's house, the thief, if he is caught, must pay back double.[h] 8But if the thief is not found, the owner of the house must appear before the judges[ai] to determine whether he has laid his hands on the other man's property. 9In all cases of illegal possession of an ox, a donkey, a sheep, a garment, or any other lost property about which somebody says, 'This is mine,' both parties are to bring their cases before the judges.[j] The one whom the judges declare[b] guilty must pay back double to his neighbor.

10"If a man gives a donkey, an ox, a sheep or any other animal to his neighbor for safekeeping[k] and it dies or is injured or is taken away while no one is looking, 11the issue between them will be settled by the taking of an oath[l] before the LORD that the neighbor did not lay hands on the other person's property. The owner is to accept this, and no restitution is required. 12But if the animal was stolen from the neighbor, he must make restitution[m] to the owner. 13If it was torn to pieces by a wild animal, he shall bring in the remains as evidence and he will not be required to pay for the torn animal.[n]

14"If a man borrows an animal from his neighbor and it is injured or dies while the owner is not present, he must make restitution.[o] 15But if the owner is with the animal, the borrower will not have to pay. If the animal was hired, the money paid for the hire covers the loss.[p]

Social Responsibility

16"If a man seduces a virgin[q] who is not pledged to be married and sleeps with her, he must pay the bride-price,[r] and she shall be his wife. 17If her father absolutely refuses to give her to him, he must still pay the bride-price for virgins.

22"Do not take advantage of a widow or an orphan.[y] 23If you do and they cry out[z] to me, I will certainly hear their cry.[a] 24My anger will be aroused, and I will kill you with the sword; your wives will become widows and your children fatherless.[b]

25"If you lend money to one of my people among you who is needy, do not be like a moneylender; charge him no interest.[dc] 26If you take your neighbor's cloak as a pledge,[d] return it to him by sunset, 27because his cloak is the only covering he has for his body. 22:6 thornbushes. Often used as hedges (see Mic 7:4) bordering cultivated areas.

22:11 See 20:7 and note. an oath before the LORD. The judges were God's representatives in court cases (see 21:6; 22:8–9,28 and NIV text notes).

22:12–13 Similar laws apparently existed as early as the patriarchal period (see Ge 31:39).

22:16–31 General laws related to social obligations.

22:16 bride-price. A gift, usually substantial, given by the prospective groom to the bride's family as payment for her (see Ge 24:53). The custom is still followed today in parts of the Middle East.

22:18 See Dt 18:10,14; 1Sa 28:9; Isa 47:12–14.

22:19 Ancient myths and epics describe acts of bestiality performed by pagan gods and demigods in Babylon and Canaan.

22:20 See 20:3–5. The total destruction (see NIV text note) of the idolatrous Canaanites was later commanded by the Lord (see Nu 21:2; Dt 2:34; 3:6; 7:2; 13:15; 20:17; Jos 2:10; 6:17,21; 8:25; 10:1,28,35,37,39–40; 11:11–12,20–21; Jdg 1:17).

22:21–27 That the poor, the widow, the orphan, the alien—in fact, all defenseless people—are objects of God's special concern and providential care is clear from the writings of Moses (see 21:26–27; 23:6–12; Lev 19:9–10; Dt 14:29; 16:11,14; 24:19–21; 26:12–13), the psalmists (see Ps 10:14,17–18; 68:5; 82:3; 146:9) and the prophets (see Isa 1:23; 10:2; Jer 7:6; 22:3; Zec 7:10; Mal 3:5) as well as from the teachings of Jesus (see, e.g., Mt 25:34–45).

22:25–27 Laws dealing with interest on loans (see Lev 25:35–37; Dt 15:7–11; 23:19–20; see also Ne 5:7–12; Job 24:9; Pr 28:8; Eze 18:13; 22:12). Interest for profit was not to be charged at the expense of the poor. Generosity in such matters was extended even further by Jesus (see Lk 6:34–35).

22:26–27 If all that a man had to offer as his pledge for a loan was his cloak, he was among the poorest of the poor (see Am 2:8 and note).

Laws of Justice and Mercy

23 "Do not spread false reports.[p] Do not help a wicked man by being a malicious witness.[q]

2"Do not follow the crowd in doing wrong. When you give testimony in a lawsuit, do not pervert justice[r] by siding with the crowd,[s] 3and do not show favoritism[t] to a poor man in his lawsuit.

4"If you come across your enemy's[u] ox or donkey wandering off, be sure to take it back to him.[v] 5If you see the donkey[w] of someone who hates you fallen down under its load, do not leave it there; be sure you help him with it.

6"Do not deny justice[x] to your poor people in their lawsuits. 7Have nothing to do with a false charge[y] and do not put an innocent[z] or honest person to death,[a] for I will not acquit the guilty.[b]

8"Do not accept a bribe,[c] for a bribe blinds those who see and twists the words of the righteous.

9"Do not oppress an alien;[d] you yourselves know how it feels to be aliens, because you were aliens in Egypt.

12"Six days do your work,[f] but on the seventh day do not work, so that your ox and your donkey may rest and the slave born in your household, and the alien as well, may be refreshed.[g]

13"Be careful[h] to do everything I have said to you. Do not invoke the names of other gods;[i] do not let them be heard on your lips.[j]

[e]28 Or Do not revile the judges [f]29 The meaning of the Hebrew for this phrase is uncertain.

22:28 Do not . . . curse the ruler of your people. A ruler was God's representative; quoted by a penitent Paul after he had unwittingly insulted the high priest (see Ac 23:4–5).

22:29 give me the firstborn. See notes on 4:22; 13:2,13; see also 13:15.

22:30 Do the same with your cattle and your sheep. See notes on 13:2; 13:13; see also 13:12,15. give them to me on the eighth day. The same principle applied in a different way to firstborn sons as well (see note on Ge 17:12).

22:31 Since God's people were "a kingdom of priests" (see 19:6 and note), they were to obey a law later specified for members of the Aaronic priesthood (see Lev 22:8) as well.

23:1–9 Most of the regulations in this section pertain to 20:16.

23:1 See Lev 19:16; Dt 22:13–19; 1Ki 21:10–13.

23:4–5 Those hostile to you are to be shown the same consideration as others (see Dt 22:1–4; Pr 25:21). Jesus teaches that this means "Love your enemies" (Mt 5:44).

23:7 1Ki 21:10–13 is a vivid illustration of violation of this law.

23:8 See Dt 16:19. Samuel exemplifies faithful stewardship in this regard (see 1Sa 12:3), while his sons do not (see 1Sa 8:3).

23:10–13 Extensions of the principles taught in 20:8–11; Dt 5:12–15.

23:14–19 See 34:18–26; Lev 23:4–44; Nu 28:16–29:40; Dt 16:1–17.

23:15 Feast of Unleavened Bread. Celebrated from the 15th through the 21st days of the first month (usually about mid-March to mid-April; see note on 12:2) at the beginning of the barley harvest; it commemorated the exodus.

23:16 Feast of Harvest. Also called the "Feast of Weeks" (34:22) because it was held seven weeks after the Feast of Unleavened Bread. It was celebrated on the sixth day of the third month (usually about mid-May to mid-June) during the wheat harvest. In later Judaism it came to commemorate the giving of the law on Mount Sinai, though there is no evidence of this significance in the OT. In NT times it was called "(the day of) Pentecost" (Ac 2:1; 20:16; 1Co 16:8), which means "50" (see Lev 23:16). Feast of Ingathering. Also called the "Feast of Tabernacles" (Lev 23:34) or "Booths" because the Israelites lived in temporary shelters when God brought them out of Egypt (see Lev 23:43). It was celebrated from the 15th through the 22nd days of the seventh month (usually about mid-September to mid-October) when the produce of the orchards and vines had been harvested; it commemorated the desert with the firstfruits[p] of the crops you sow in your field.

"Celebrate the Feast of Ingathering[q] at the end of the year, when you gather in your crops from the field.[r] 17"Three times[s] a year all the men are to appear before the Sovereign LORD.

18"Do not offer the blood of a sacrifice to me along with anything containing yeast.[t]

"The fat of my festival offerings must not be kept until morning.[u] 19"Bring the best of the firstfruits[v] of your soil to the house of the LORD your God.

"Do not cook a young goat in its mother's milk.[w]

God's Angel to Prepare the Way

20"See, I am sending an angel[x] ahead of you to guard you along the way and to bring you to the place I have prepared.[y] 21Pay attention to him and listen[z] to what he says. Do not rebel against him; he will not forgive[a] your rebellion,[b] since my Name[c] is in him. 22If you listen carefully to what he says and do[d] all that I say, I will be an enemy[e] to your enemies and will oppose those who oppose you. 23My angel will go ahead of you and bring you into the land of the Amorites, Hittites, Perizzites, Canaanites, Hivites and Jebusites,[f] and I will wipe them out. 24Do not bow down before their gods or worship[g] them or follow their practices.[h] You must demolish[i] them and break their sacred stones[j] to pieces. 25Worship the LORD your God,[k] and his blessing[l] will be on your food and water. I will take away sickness[m] from among you, 26and none will miscarry or be barren[n] in your land. I will give you a full life span.[o]

27"I will send my terror[p] ahead of you and throw into confusion[q] every nation you encounter. I will make all your enemies turn their backs and run.[r] 28I will send the hornet[s] ahead of you to drive the Hivites, Canaanites and Hittites[t] out of your way. 29But I will not drive them out in a single year, because the land would become desolate and the wild animals[u] too numerous for you. 30Little by little I will drive them out before you, until you have increased enough to take possession[v] of the land.

31"I will establish your borders from the Red Sea[g] to the Sea of the Philistines,[h] and from the desert to the River.[i w] I will hand over to you the people who live in the land and you will drive them out[x] before you. 32Do not make a covenant[y] with them or with their gods. 33Do not let them live in your land, or they will cause you to sin against me, because the worship of their gods will certainly be a snare[z] to you."

wanderings after the exodus. end of the year. End of the agricultural year, which began in the fall (see note on 12:2).

23:17 all the men. Normally accompanied by their families (see, e.g., 1Sa 1).

23:18 not . . . with anything containing yeast. See note on 12:15. not be kept until morning. See 12:9–10.

23:19 firstfruits. Representative of the whole harvest. The offering of firstfruits was an acknowledgment that the harvest was from the Lord and belonged wholly to him. Do not cook a young goat in its mother's milk. Perhaps a protest against a Canaanite pagan ritual (see v. 33; 34:15).

23:20 angel. See 14:19; see also note on Ge 16:7. place I have prepared. Canaan (cf. the similar statement of Jesus in Jn 14:2–3).

23:21 Name. Representing God's presence.

23:22 If. See note on 19:5.

23:23 See 3:8 and note.

23:28 hornet. The meaning of the Hebrew for this word is uncertain. The Septuagint (the Greek translation of the OT) renders it "wasp," but the translators may have been guessing. In any event, the Lord promises to send some agent to disable or frighten the peoples of Canaan so that they will not be able to resist Israel's invasion. But probably the word involves concrete imagery and the focus of the statement is on the effects—therefore we are not to look for some historical agent to which the word metaphorically refers (cf. Isa 7:18).

23:30 Little by little. See Jdg 1.

23:31 See Ge 15:18; 1Ki 4:21. Red Sea. The (south)eastern border (here the modern Gulf of Aqaba; see note on 1Ki 9:26). Sea of the Philistines. The western border (see NIV text note). the desert. The southern border (northeastern Sinai; see note on Ge 15:18). the River. The northern border (see NIV text note).

23:33 snare. A symbol of destruction (see 10:7; Job 18:9; Ps 18:5; Pr 13:14; 21:6; Isa 24:17–18).

24:1 Come up. The action, temporarily interrupted for the Book of the Covenant (20:22–23:33), is resumed from 20:21. Moses and his associates would ascend the mountain after the events of vv. 3–8. Nadab and Abihu. Aaron's two oldest sons. Nadab would have succeeded Aaron as high priest, but he and his brother died because they offered unauthorized fire before the Lord (see Lev 10:1–2; Nu 3:4). seventy . . . elders. Cf. Nu 11:16; perhaps representing Jacob's 70 descendants (see 1:5; Ge 46:27 and note). elders. See note on 3:16. at a distance. See 20:21.

distance, [2]but Moses alone is to approach[d] the LORD; the others must not come near. And the people may not come up with him."

[3]When Moses went and told the people all the LORD's words and laws,[e] they responded with one voice, "Everything the LORD has said we will do."[f] [4]Moses then wrote[g] down everything the LORD had said.

He got up early the next morning and built an altar[h] at the foot of the mountain and set up twelve stone pillars[i] representing the twelve tribes of Israel. [5]Then he sent young Israelite men, and they offered burnt offerings[j] and sacrificed young bulls as fellowship offerings[jk] to the LORD. [6]Moses[l] took half of the blood[m] and put it in bowls, and the other half he sprinkled[n] on the altar. [7]Then he took the Book of the Covenant[o] and read it to the people. They responded, "We will do everything the LORD has said; we will obey."[p]

[8]Moses then took the blood, sprinkled it on the people[q] and said, "This is the blood of the covenant[r] that the LORD has made with you in accordance with all these words."

[9]Moses and Aaron, Nadab and Abihu, and the seventy elders[s] of Israel went up [10]and saw[t] the God of Israel. Under his feet was something like a pavement made of sapphire,[ku] clear as the sky[v] itself. [11]But God did not raise his hand against these leaders of the Israelites; they saw[w] God, and they ate and drank.[x]

[12]The LORD said to Moses, "Come up to me on the mountain and stay here, and I will give you the tablets of stone,[y] with the law and commands I have written for their instruction."

[13]Then Moses set out with Joshua[z] his aide, and Moses went up on the mountain[a] of God. [14]He said to the elders, "Wait here for us until we come back to you. Aaron and Hur[b] are with you, and anyone involved in a dispute[c] can go to them."

[15]When Moses went up on the mountain, the cloud[d] covered it, [16]and the glory[e] of the LORD settled on Mount Sinai.[f] For six days the cloud covered the mountain, and on the seventh day the LORD called to Moses from within the cloud.[g] [17]To the Israelites the glory of the LORD looked like a consuming fire[h] on top of the mountain. [18]Then Moses entered the cloud as he went on up the mountain. And he stayed on the mountain forty[i] days and forty nights.[j]

24:2 Moses alone. The mediator between God and the people of Israel. Jesus, who is greater than Moses (see Heb 3:1–6), is the "mediator of a new covenant" (Heb 12:24).

24:3 words. Probably refers to the Ten Commandments (see 20:1 and note). laws. Probably refers to the stipulations of the Book of the Covenant (21:1–23:19). we will do. See v. 7; see also 19:8 and note.

24:5 young Israelite men . . . offered. See note on 19:22.

24:6 half of the blood . . . the other half. The division of the blood points to the twofold aspect of the "blood of the covenant" (v. 8): The blood on the altar symbolizes God's forgiveness and his acceptance of the offering; the blood on the people points to an oath that binds them in obedience (see vv. 3,7).

24:7 Book of the Covenant. Strictly speaking, 20:22–23:19 (see note there)—but here implying also the stipulations of 20:2–17; 23:20–33. We will do . . . we will obey. See v. 3; see also 19:8 and note.

24:8 then. Only after the people agreed to obey the Lord could they participate in his covenant with them. blood of the covenant. See Mk 14:24 and note.

24:10 saw . . . God. But not in the fullness of his glory (see 33:20; see also notes on 3:6; Ge 16:13; Nu 12:8; Eze 1:28). sapphire. See NIV text note. sky. Symbolized by the blue color of the "sapphire" (see Eze 1:26).

24:11 raise his hand against. See 9:15. leaders. Lit. "corners," "corner supports"; used in the sense of "leaders" only here. Cf. Gal 2:9. ate and drank. A covenant meal (cf. Ge 26:30; 31:54), celebrating the sealing of the covenant described in vv. 3–8. It foreshadows the Lord's Supper, which celebrates the new covenant sealed by Christ's death (see 1Co 11:25–26).

24:12 Come up. See note on v. 1. tablets of stone. See note on 31:18. their. The people's. instruction. As instruction from the covenant Lord, the laws were divine directives.

24:13 Joshua his aide. See note on 17:9.

24:14 Hur. See note on 17:10.

24:17 glory of the LORD. See 16:10.

24:18 stayed on the mountain. Moses did not come down until he had received instructions concerning the tabernacle and its furnishings (see 32:15). forty days and forty nights. Jesus, the new Moses (see note on v. 2), fasted for the same length of time (see Mt 4:2).

25:2 offering. Here refers to a voluntary contribution.

try that the promised land was known as Canaan (which means "land of purple"), later called Phoenicia (also meaning "land of purple") by the Greeks. scarlet. Derived from the eggs and carcasses of the worm Coccus ilicis, which attaches itself to the leaves of the holly plant. fine linen. A very high quality cloth (often used by Egyptian royalty) made from thread spun from the fibers of flax straw. The Hebrew for this term derives ultimately from Egyptian. Excellent examples of unusually white, tightly woven linen have been found in ancient Egyptian tombs. Some are so finely woven that they cannot be distinguished from silk without the use of a magnifying glass. goat hair. From long-haired goats. A coarse, black (cf. SS 1:5; 6:5) material, it was often used to weave cloth for tents.

25:5 ram skins dyed red. After all the wool had been removed from the skins. The final product was similar to present-day morocco leather. sea cows. Native to the Red Sea. acacia. The wood is darker and harder than oak and is avoided by wood-eating insects. It is common in the Sinai peninsula.

25:6 spices. Those used in the anointing oil are identified in 30:23–24 as myrrh (balsam sap), cinnamon (bark of the cinnamon tree, a species of laurel), cane (pith from the root of a reed plant) and cassia (made from dried flowers of the cinnamon tree). Those used in the fragrant incense are identified in 30:34 as gum resin (a powder taken from the middle of hardened drops of myrrh—rare and very valuable), onycha (made from mollusk shells) and galbanum (a rubbery resin taken from the roots of a flowering plant that thrives in Syria and Persia).

25:7 other gems. See 28:17–20.

25:8 sanctuary. Lit. "holy place," "place set apart." See note on 3:5.

25:9 tabernacle. Lit. "dwelling place." The word is rarely used of human dwellings; it almost always signifies the place where God dwells among his people (see v. 8; 29:45–46; Lev 26:11; Eze 37:27; cf. Jn 1:14; Rev 21:3). pattern. See note on v. 40.

25:10 chest. See v. 14. Such was its form and function. The Hebrew for this word is translated by the more traditional term "ark" throughout the rest of Exodus (see note on Dt 10:1–3); it is different from that used to refer to Noah's ark and to the reed basket in which the infant Moses was placed (see note on 2:3). Of all the tabernacle furnishings, the ark is mentioned first probably because it symbolized the throne of the Lord (see 1Sa 4:4; 2Sa 6:2), the great King, who chose to dwell among his people (see note on v. 9).

25:11 pure gold. Uncontaminated by silver or other impurities.

25:12 rings. Lit. "houses," "housings," into which poles were inserted to carry the ark (see v. 14).

25:16 Testimony. The two tablets on which were inscribed the Ten Commandments as the basic stipulations of the Sinai covenant (see 20:1–17; 31:18). The Hebrew word for "Testimony" is related to a Babylonian word meaning "covenant stipulations." See also notes on v. 22; 16:34.

25:17 atonement. Reconciliation, the divine act of grace whereby God draws to himself and makes "at one" with him those who were once alienated from him. In the OT, the shed blood of sacrificial offerings effected atonement (see Lev 17:11 and note); in the NT, the blood of Jesus, shed once for all time, does the same (see Ro 3:25; 1Jn 2:2). atonement cover. See NIV text note; see also Lev 16:2 and note. That God's symbolic throne was capped with an atonement cover signified his great mercy toward his people—only such a God can be revered (see Ps 130:3–4).

25:18 cherubim. Probably similar to the carvings of winged sphinxes that adorned the armrests of royal thrones (see note on v. 10) in many parts of the ancient Near East (see also note on Ge 3:24). In the OT the cherubim were symbolic attendants that marked the place of the Lord's "enthronement" in his earthly kingdom (see 1Sa 4:4; 2Sa 6:2; 2Ki 19:15; Ps 99:1). From the cover of the ark (God's symbolic throne) the Lord gave directions to Moses (see v. 22; Nu 7:89). Later the ark's presence in the temple at Jerusalem would designate it as God's earthly royal city (see Ps 9:11; 18:10 and notes).

The Table

25:23–29pp — Ex 37:10–16

23"Make a table[l] of acacia wood—two cubits long, a cubit wide and a cubit and a half high.[p] 24Overlay it with pure gold and make a gold molding around it. 25Also make around it a rim a handbreadth[q] wide and put a gold molding on the rim. 26Make four gold rings for the table and fasten them to the four corners, where the four legs are. 27The rings are to be close to the rim to hold the poles used in carrying the table. 28Make the poles of acacia wood, overlay them with gold[m] and carry the table with them. 29And make its plates and dishes of pure gold, as well as its pitchers and bowls for the pouring out of offerings.[n] 30Put the bread of the Presence[o] on this table to be before me at all times.

The Lampstand

31"Make a lampstand[p] of pure gold and hammer it out, base and shaft; its flowerlike cups, buds and blossoms shall be of one piece with it. 32Six branches are to extend from the sides of the lampstand—three on one side and three on the other. 33Three cups shaped like almond flowers with buds and blossoms are to be on one branch, three on the next branch, and the same for all six branches extending from the lampstand. 34And on the lampstand there are to be four cups shaped like almond flowers with buds and blossoms. 35One bud shall be under the first pair of branches extending from the lampstand, a second bud under the second pair, and a third bud under the third pair—six branches in all. 36The buds and branches shall all be of one piece with the lampstand, hammered out of pure gold.[q]

37"Then make its seven lamps[r] and set them up on it so that they light the space in front of it. 38Its wick trimmers and trays[s] are to be of pure gold. 39A talent[r] of pure gold is to be used for the lampstand and all these accessories. 40See that you make them according to the pattern[t] shown you on the mountain.

25:22 ark of the Testimony. Called this because it contained the Testimony (see note on v. 16). The phrase "ark of the Testimony" is a synonym of the more familiar phrase "ark of the covenant" (see, e.g., Nu 10:33). I will meet with you. See note on 27:21.

25:23 table. The table taken from the second (Zerubbabel's) temple by Antiochus Epiphanes is depicted on the Arch of Titus among the items the Romans took back to Rome after conquering Jerusalem in A.D. 70.

25:26 rings. See note on v. 12.

25:30 bread of the Presence. Traditionally "showbread." In this phrase, "Presence" refers to the presence of God himself (as in 33:14–15; Isa 63:9). The bread (twelve loaves, one for each tribe) represented a perpetual bread offering to the Lord by which Israel declared that she consecrated to God the fruits of her labors, and by which she at the same time acknowledged that all such fruit had been hers only by God's blessing. See Lev 24:5–9.

25:31 flowerlike cups, buds and blossoms. The design is patterned after an almond tree (see v. 33), the first of the trees in the Near East to blossom in spring. The cups of the lampstand resemble either the calyx (outer covering of the flower) or the almond nut.

25:37 seven. Signifying completeness. lamps. The ancient lamp was a small clay saucer with part of its rim pinched together to form a spout from which protruded the top of a wick fed by oil contained in the saucer. (Examples of seven-spouted lamps come from the time of Moses.) The ruins of Beth Shan and Megiddo have yielded examples of a metal pedestal topped by a ledge designed to carry a lamp. The classic representation of the shape of the tabernacle lampstand comes from the time of Herod the Great and may be seen on the Arch of Titus in Rome. The lamps were to burn all night in the tabernacle, tended by the priests. Oil for the lamps was to be supplied by the people; the light from the lamps represented the glory of the Lord reflected in the consecrated lives of the Israelites—Israel's glory answering to God's glory in the tabernacle (29:43). See 27:20–21.

25:40 Quoted in Heb 8:5 in order to contrast the "shadow" (the trappings of the old covenant) with the reality (the Christ of the new covenant). See also Heb 10:1.

26:1 tabernacle. See note on 25:9. Its basic structure was to be 15 feet wide by 45 feet long by 15 feet high. Over an inner lining of embroidered linen (vv. 1–6), it was to have a covering woven of goat hair (vv. 7–13) and two additional coverings of leather, one made from ram skins dyed red and one from the hides of sea cows (v. 14). Internally, the ceiling was probably flat, but whether the leather coverings had a ridge line with sloping sides (like a tent) is not known. Symbolically the tabernacle represented God's royal tent. finely twisted linen and blue, purple and scarlet yarn. See note on 25:4. cherubim. Signifying a royal chamber (see 25:18 and note).

Fold the sixth curtain double at the front of the tent. [10]Make fifty loops along the edge of the end curtain in one set and also along the edge of the end curtain in the other set. [11]Then make fifty bronze clasps and put them in the loops to fasten the tent together as a unit.[z] [12]As for the additional length of the tent curtains, the half curtain that is left over is to hang down at the rear of the tabernacle. ## The Tabernacle

The new religious observances taught by Moses in the desert centered on rituals connected with the tabernacle, and amplified Israel's sense of separateness, purity and oneness under the Lordship of Yahweh.

A few desert shrines have been found in Sinai, notably at Serabit el-Khadem and at Timnah in the Negev, and show marked Egyptian influence.

Specific cultural antecedents to portable shrines carried on poles and covered with thin sheets of gold can be found in ancient Egypt as early as the Old Kingdom (2800-2250 B.C.), but were especially prominent in the 18th and 19th dynasties (1570-1180). The best examples come from the fabulous tomb of Tutankhamun, c. 1350.

Comparisons of construction details in the text of Ex 25-40 with the frames, shrines, poles, sheathing, draped fabric covers, gilt rosettes, and winged protective figures from the shrine of Tutankhamun are instructive. The period, the Late Bronze Age, is equivalent in all dating systems to the era of Moses and the exodus.

go under them—two bases for each frame, one under each projection. [20]For the other side, the north side of the tabernacle, make twenty frames [21]and forty silver bases[d]—two under each frame. [22]Make six frames for the far end, that is, the west end of the tabernacle, [23]and make two frames for the corners at the far end. [24]At these two corners they must be double from the bottom all the way to the top, and fitted into a single ring; both shall be like that. [25]So there will be eight frames and sixteen silver bases—two under each frame.

[26]"Also make crossbars of acacia wood: five for the frames on one side of the tabernacle, [27]five for those on the other side, and five for the frames on the west, at the far end of the tabernacle. [28]The center crossbar is to extend from end to end at the middle of the frames. [29]Overlay the frames with gold and make gold rings to hold the crossbars. Also overlay the crossbars with gold.

munity to be used to cast the bases (see 38:27).

26:23 corners. Or "angles," perhaps referring to mitered joints at the corners.

26:26 crossbars. To strengthen the frames on the north, south and west sides.

26:29 rings. Lit. "houses," "housings" (see note on 25:12).

26:30 plan. See note on 25:40.

26:31–35 A curtain was to divide the tabernacle into two rooms, the Holy Place and the Most Holy Place, with the former twice as large as the latter. The Most Holy Place probably formed a perfect cube, 15 feet by 15 feet by 15 feet. Enclosed with linen curtains embroidered with cherubim and containing only the ark of the Testimony, it represented God's throne room. The Holy Place represented his royal guest chamber where his people symbolically came before him in the bread of the Presence (see note on 25:30), the light from the lampstand (see note on 25:37) and the incense from the altar of incense (see note on 30:1).

26:31 curtain. To separate the Holy Place from the Most Holy Place (see v. 33). It was called the "shielding curtain" (39:34; 40:21; Nu 4:5) because it shielded the ark (see 27:21; see also notes on 16:34; 25:22). At the moment when Christ died, the curtain of Herod's temple was torn, thereby giving the believer direct access to the presence of God (see Mk 15:38; Heb 6:19–20; 10:19–22). cherubim. See v. 1 and note. The curtain at the entrance to the Holy Place did not have cherubim (see v. 36).

Tabernacle Furnishings

The symbolism of God's redemptive covenant was preserved in the tabernacle, making each element an object lesson for the worshiper. The Levitical priests, including some with Egyptian names and perhaps Egyptian training, gave meticulous attention to facts about the shrine. Reconstruction of the furnishings is possible because of extremely detailed descriptions and precise measurements recorded in Exodus 25–40.

ARK OF THE COVENANT

The ark of the Covenant (or Testimony) compares with the roughly contemporary shrine and funerary furniture of King Tutankhamun (c. 1350 B.C.), which, along with the Nimrud and Samaria ivories from a later period, have been used to guide the graphic interpretation of the text. Both sources show the conventional way of depicting extreme reverence, with facing winged guardians shielding a sacred place.

LAMPSTAND

The traditional form of the lampstand is not attested archaeologically until much later.

TABLE

The table holding the bread of the Presence was made of wood covered with thin sheets of gold. All of the objects were portable and were fitted with rings and carrying poles, practices typical of Egyptian ritual processions as early as the Old Kingdom.

INCENSE ALTAR

BRONZE ALTAR

The altar of burnt offering was made of wood overlaid with bronze. The size, five cubits square and three cubits high, matches altars found at Arad and Beersheba from the period of the monarchy.

The Courtyard

27:9–19pp — Ex 38:9–20

[9]"Make a courtyard[x] for the tabernacle. The south side shall be a hundred cubits[z] long and is to have curtains of finely twisted linen, [10]with twenty posts and twenty bronze bases and with silver hooks and bands on the posts. [11]The north side shall also be a hundred cubits long and is to have curtains, with twenty posts and twenty bronze bases and with silver hooks and bands on the posts.

[12]"The west end of the courtyard shall be fifty cubits[a] wide and have curtains, with ten posts and ten bases. [13]On the east end, toward the sunrise, the courtyard shall also be fifty cubits wide. [14]Curtains fifteen cubits[b] long are to be on one side of the entrance, with three posts and three bases, [15]and curtains fifteen cubits long are to be on the other side, with three posts and three bases.

[16]"For the entrance to the courtyard, provide a curtain[y] twenty cubits[c] long, of blue, purple and scarlet yarn and finely twisted linen—the work of an embroiderer[z]—with four posts and four bases. [17]All the posts around the courtyard are to have silver bands and hooks, and bronze bases. [18]The courtyard shall be a hundred cubits long and fifty cubits wide,[d] with curtains of finely twisted linen five cubits[e] high, and with bronze bases. [19]All the other articles used in the service of the tabernacle, whatever their function, including all the tent pegs for it

26:37 bronze. Inside the tabernacle, gold was the metal of choice; outside—beginning with the bases of the outer curtain (see v. 36)—the metal of choice was bronze. The furnishings close to the place of God's dwelling were made of, or overlaid with, gold; those farther away (see 27:2–6; 30:18) were made of, or overlaid with, bronze. The bases that supported the frames of the tabernacle and the four posts holding the dividing curtain were of silver (see vv. 19,21,25,32).

27:1 altar. The altar of burnt offering (see Lev 4:7,10,18). acacia wood. See note on 25:5.

27:2 horns. Projections of the four corner posts. They were symbols of help and refuge (see 1Ki 1:50; 2:28; Ps 18:2). They also symbolized the atoning power of the altar: Some of the blood was put on the horns of the altar before the rest was poured out at the base (see 29:12; Lev 4:7,18,25,30,34; 8:15; 9:9; 16:18).

27:3 pots to remove the ashes. From the grating (see v. 4). shovels. To haul the ashes away. sprinkling bowls. To catch the blood of the animals slain beside the altar and to sprinkle it at the base. meat forks. Three-pronged forks for arranging the sacrifice or removing the priests' portion from the container in which it was being boiled (see 1Sa 2:13–14). firepans. Probably for carrying fire from the altar of burnt offering to the altar of incense inside the Holy Place (see Lev 10:1; 16:12–13).

27:4 grating. Placed midway between the top and bottom of the boxlike structure. Since the intense heat of the fire built inside the upper half of the altar would have eventually destroyed it, perhaps the hollow altar (see v. 8) was designed to be filled with earth when it was in use. ring. See note on 25:12.

27:12–13 west end ... east end. The courtyard is described as having two equal parts. The Most Holy Place probably occupied the central position in the western half, the altar of burnt offering the central position in the eastern half.

27:13–14 toward the sunrise ... the entrance. The entrance to the tabernacle courtyard faced east, as did that of Solomon's temple (see Eze 8:16) and of Herod's temple.

27:18 five cubits. See NIV text note; high enough to block the view of people standing outside the courtyard, thus protecting the sanctity and privacy of the worship taking place inside.

and those for the courtyard, are to be of bronze.

Oil for the Lampstand

27:20-21pp — Lev 24:1-3

20"Command the Israelites to bring you clear oil[a] of pressed olives for the light so that the lamps may be kept burning. 21In the Tent of Meeting,[b] outside the curtain that is in front of the Testimony,[c] Aaron and his sons are to keep the lamps[d] burning before the LORD from evening till morning. This is to be a lasting ordinance[e] among the Israelites for the generations to come.

The Priestly Garments

28 "Have Aaron[f] your brother brought to you from among the Israelites, along with his sons Nadab and Abihu,[g] Eleazar and Ithamar,[h] so they may serve me as priests.[i] 2Make sacred garments[j] for your brother Aaron, to give him dignity and honor.[k] 3Tell all the skilled men[l] to whom I have given wisdom[m] in such matters that they are to make garments for Aaron, for his consecration, so he may serve me as priest. 4These are the garments they are to make: a breastpiece,[n] an ephod,[o] a robe,[p] a woven tunic,[q] a turban[r] and a sash. They are to make these sacred garments for your brother Aaron and his sons, so they may serve me as priests. 5Have them use gold, and blue, purple and scarlet yarn, and fine linen.[s]

The Ephod

6"Make the ephod[t] of gold, and of blue, purple and scarlet yarn, and of finely twisted linen—the work of a skilled craftsman. 7It is to have two shoulder pieces attached to two of its corners, so it can be fastened. 8Its skillfully woven waistband[u] is to be like it—of one piece with the ephod and made with gold, and with blue, purple and scarlet yarn, and with finely twisted linen.

9"Take two onyx stones and engrave[v] on them the names of the sons of Israel 10in the order of their birth—six names on one stone and the remaining six on the other. 11Engrave the names of the sons of Israel on the two stones the way a gem cutter engraves a seal. Then mount the stones in gold filigree settings 12and fasten them on the shoulder pieces of the ephod as memorial stones for the sons of Israel. Aaron is to bear the names on his shoulders[w] as a memorial[x] before the LORD. 13Make gold filigree settings 14and two braided chains of pure gold, like a rope, and attach the chains to the settings.

The Breastpiece

28:15-28pp — Ex 39:8-21

15"Fashion a breastpiece[y] for making decisions—the work of a skilled craftsman. Make it like the ephod: of gold, and of blue, purple and scarlet yarn, and of finely twisted linen. 16It is to be square—a span[f] long and a span wide—and folded double. 17Then mount four rows of precious stones[z] on it. In the first row there shall be a ruby, a topaz and a beryl; 18in the second row a turquoise, a sapphire[g] and an emerald; 19in the third row a jacinth, an agate and an amethyst; 20in the fourth row a chrysolite,[a] an onyx and a jasper.[h] Mount them in gold filigree settings. 21There are to be twelve stones, one for each of the names of the sons of Israel,[b] each engraved like a seal with the name of one of the twelve tribes.[c]

22"For the breastpiece make braided chains of pure gold, like a rope. 23Make two gold rings for it and fasten them to two corners of the breastpiece. 24Fasten the two gold chains to the rings at the corners of the breastpiece, 25and the other ends of the chains to the two settings, attaching them to the shoulder pieces of the ephod at the front. 26Make two gold rings and attach them to the other two

27:20 clear oil of pressed olives. Unripe olives were crushed in a mortar. The pulpy mass was then placed in a cloth basket through the bottom of which the oil dripped, producing a clear fuel that burned with little or no smoke.
27:21 Tent of Meeting. The tabernacle; it was not a place where God's people met for collective worship but one where God himself met—by appointment, not by accident—with his people (see 29:42–43). curtain that is in front of the Testimony. See note on 26:31. lamps burning ... from evening till morning. The lamps were lit in the evening (see 30:8) and apparently extinguished in the morning (1Sa 3:3).
28:1 Nadab and Abihu. See note on 24:1. serve me as priests. In order "to offer gifts and sacrifices for sins" and "to deal gently with those who are ignorant and are going astray" (Heb 5:1–2). Another important function of the priests was to read the law of Moses to the people and remind them of their covenant obligations (see Dt 31:9–13; Ne 8:2–3).
28:2 to give him dignity and honor. The garments were to exalt the office and functions of lesser priests (see v. 40) as well as of the high priest.
28:6 ephod. A sleeveless vestment worn by the high priest. Sometimes the word refers to an otherwise unidentified object of worship (see, e.g., Jdg 8:27; 18:17; Hos 3:4).
28:8 waistband. Apparently to hold the front and the back of the ephod to the priest's body.
28:12 Aaron is to bear the names on his shoulders. To symbolize the fact that the high priest represents all Israel when he ministers in the tabernacle.
28:15 for making decisions. By means of the Urim and Thummim (see note on v. 30).

corners of the breastpiece on the inside edge next to the ephod. 27Make two more gold rings and attach them to the bottom of the shoulder pieces on the front of the ephod, close to the seam just above the waistband of the ephod. 28The rings of the breastpiece are to be tied to the rings of the ephod with blue cord, connecting it to the waistband, so that the breastpiece will not swing out from the ephod.

29"Whenever Aaron enters the Holy Place,[d] he will bear the names of the sons of Israel over his heart on the breastpiece of decision as a continuing memorial before the LORD. 30Also put the Urim and the Thummim[e] in the breastpiece, so they may be over Aaron's heart whenever he enters the presence of the LORD. Thus Aaron will always bear the means of making decisions for the Israelites over his heart before the LORD.

Other Priestly Garments

31"Make the robe of the ephod entirely of blue cloth, 32with an opening for the head in its center. There shall be a woven edge like a collar[i] around this opening, so that it will not tear. 33Make pomegranates[f] of blue, purple and scarlet yarn around the hem of the robe, with gold bells between them. 34The gold bells and the pomegranates are to alternate around the hem of the robe. 35Aaron must wear it when he ministers. The sound of the bells will be heard when he enters the Holy Place before the LORD and when he comes out, so that he will not die.

36"Make a plate[g] of pure gold and engrave on it as on a seal: HOLY TO THE LORD.[h] 37Fasten a blue cord to it to attach it to the turban; it is to be on the front of the turban. 38It will be on Aaron's forehead, and he will bear the guilt[i] involved in the sacred gifts the Israelites consecrate, whatever their gifts may be. It will be on Aaron's forehead continually so that they will be acceptable[j] to the LORD.

39"Weave the tunic[k] of fine linen and make the turban[l] of fine linen. The sash is to be the work of an embroiderer. 40Make tunics, sashes and headbands for Aaron's sons,[m] to give them dignity and honor.[n] 41After you put these clothes[o] on your brother Aaron and his sons, anoint[p] and ordain them. Consecrate them so they may serve me as priests.[q]

42"Make linen undergarments[r] as a covering for the body, reaching from the waist to the thigh. 43Aaron and his sons must wear them whenever they enter the Tent of Meeting[s] or approach the altar to minister in the Holy Place,[t] so that they will not incur guilt and die.[u]

"This is to be a lasting ordinance[v] for Aaron and his descendants.

Consecration of the Priests

29:1–37pp — Lev 8:1–36

29 "This is what you are to do to consecrate[w] them, so they may serve me as priests: Take a young bull and two rams without defect.[x] 2And from fine wheat flour, without yeast, make bread, and cakes mixed with oil, and wafers spread with oil.[y] 3Put them in a basket and present them in it—along with the bull and the two rams.[z] 4Then bring Aaron and his sons to the entrance to the Tent of Meeting and wash them with water.[a] 5Take the garments[b] and dress Aaron with the tunic, the robe of the ephod, the ephod itself and the breastpiece. Fasten the ephod on him by its skillfully woven waistband.[c] 6Put the turban[d] on his head and attach the sacred diadem[e] to the turban. 7Take the anointing oil[f] and anoint him by pouring it on his head. 8Bring his sons and [i] 32 The meaning of the Hebrew for this word is uncertain.

28:29 Aaron ... will bear the names ... over his heart. Thus the nation was doubly represented before the Lord (see v. 12 and note).

28:30 the Urim and the Thummim. The Hebrew for this phrase probably means "the curses and the perfections." The Hebrew word Urim begins with the first letter of the Hebrew alphabet (aleph) and Thummim begins with the last letter (taw). They were sacred lots and were often used in times of crisis to determine the will of God (see Nu 27:21). It has been suggested that if Urim ("curses") dominated when the lots were cast the answer was "no," but if Thummim ("perfections") dominated it was "yes." In any event, their "every decision" was "from the LORD" (Pr 16:33).

28:31 robe. Worn under the ephod.

28:35 According to Jewish tradition, one end of a length of rope was tied to the high priest's ankle and the other end remained outside the tabernacle. If the bells on his robe stopped tinkling while he was in the Holy Place, the assumption that he had died could be tested by pulling gently on the rope.

28:38 bear the guilt. Symbolically.

28:39 tunic. Worn under the robe.

28:40 to give them dignity and honor. See note on v. 2.

28:42–43 See note on 20:26.

28:43 Tent of Meeting. See note on 27:21.

29:1 consecrate them. See note on 19:10–11. without defect. See note on 12:5.

29:4 Tent of Meeting. See note on 27:21. wash them with water. Symbolizing the removal of ceremonial uncleanness (cf. Heb 10:22) and thus signifying the purity that must characterize them.

29:7 anoint him. Symbolizing spiritual enduement for serving God (see Isa 61:1).

dress them in tunics[g] 9and put headbands on them. Then tie sashes on Aaron and his sons.[ih] The priesthood is theirs by a lasting ordinance.[i] In this way you shall ordain Aaron and his sons.

10"Bring the bull to the front of the Tent of Meeting, and Aaron and his sons shall lay their hands on its head.[j] 11Slaughter it in the LORD's presence[k] at the entrance to the Tent of Meeting. 12Take some of the bull's blood and put it on the horns[l] of the altar with your finger, and pour out the rest of it at the base of the altar.[m] 13Then take all the fat[n] around the inner parts,[o] the covering of the liver, and both kidneys with the fat on them, and burn them on the altar. 14But burn the bull's flesh and its hide and its offal[p] outside the camp.[q] It is a sin offering.

15"Take one of the rams,[r] and Aaron and his sons shall lay their hands on its head.[s] 16Slaughter it and take the blood and sprinkle it against the altar on all sides. 17Cut the ram into pieces and wash[t] the inner parts and the legs, putting them with the head and the other pieces. 18Then burn the entire ram on the altar. It is a burnt offering to the LORD, a pleasing aroma,[u] an offering made to the LORD by fire.

19"Take the other ram,[v] and Aaron and his sons shall lay their hands on its head.[w] 20Slaughter it, take some of its blood and put it on the lobes of the right ears of Aaron and his sons, on the thumbs of their right hands, and on the big toes of their right feet.[x] Then sprinkle blood against the altar on all sides.[y] 21And take some of the blood[z] on the altar and some of the anointing oil[a] and sprinkle it on Aaron and his garments and on his sons and their garments. Then he and his sons and their garments will be consecrated.[b]

22"Take from this ram the fat,[c] the fat tail, the fat around the inner parts, the covering of the liver, both kidneys with the fat on them, and the right thigh. (This is the ram for the ordination.) 23From the basket of bread made without yeast, which is before the LORD, take a loaf, and a cake made with oil, and a wafer. 24Put all these in the hands of Aaron and his sons and wave them before the LORD as a wave offering.[d] 25Then take them from their hands and burn them on the altar along with the burnt offering for a pleasing aroma to the LORD, an offering made to the LORD by fire.[e] 26After you take the breast of the ram for Aaron's ordination, wave it before the LORD as a wave offering, and it will be your share.[f]

27"Consecrate those parts of the ordination ram that belong to Aaron and his sons:[g] the breast that was waved and the thigh that was presented. 28This is always to be the regular share from the Israelites for Aaron and his sons. It is the contribution the Israelites are to make to the LORD from their fellowship offerings.[kh]

29"Aaron's sacred garments[i] will belong to his descendants so that they can be anointed and ordained in them.[j] 30The son[k] who succeeds him as priest and comes to the Tent of Meeting to minister in the Holy Place is to wear them seven days.

31"Take the ram[l] for the ordination and cook the meat in a sacred place.[m] 32At the entrance to the Tent of Meeting, Aaron and his sons are to eat the meat of the ram and the bread[n] that is in the basket. 33They are to eat these offerings by which atonement was made for their ordination and consecration. But no one else may eat[o] them, because they are sacred. 34And if any of the meat of the ordination ram or any bread is left over till morning,[p] burn it up. It must not be eaten, because it is sacred.

35"Do for Aaron and his sons everything I have commanded you, taking seven days to ordain them. 36Sacrifice a bull each day[q] as a sin offering to make atonement[r]. Purify the altar by making atonement for it, and anoint it to consecrate[s] it. 37For seven days make atonement for the altar and consecrate it. Then

29:10 Bring the bull. As a sin offering (see v. 14) to atone for the past sins of Aaron and his sons (see Lev 4:3). lay their hands on its head. As a symbol of (1) the animal's becoming their substitute and (2) transferring their sins to the sin-bearer (see Lev 16:20–22 and note).

29:12 horns of the altar. See note on 27:2.

29:13 fat. The most select parts of the bull (see Lev 3:3–5,16) were burned on the altar as a sacrifice to the Lord.

29:14 flesh ... hide ... offal. Thought of as bearing sin, and thus burned outside the camp (see Heb 13:11–13).

29:18 burn the entire ram. Symbolizing total dedication.

the altar will be most holy, and whatever touches it will be holy.[t]

38"This is what you are to offer on the altar regularly each day:[u] two lambs a year old. 39Offer one in the morning and the other at twilight.[v] 40With the first lamb offer a tenth of an ephah[l] of fine flour mixed with a quarter of a hin[m] of oil[w] from pressed olives, and a quarter of a hin of wine as a drink offering.[x] 41Sacrifice the other lamb at twilight[y] with the same grain offering[z] and its drink offering as in the morning—a pleasing aroma, an offering made to the LORD by fire.

42"For the generations to come[a] this burnt offering is to be made regularly[b] at the entrance to the Tent of Meeting[c] before the LORD. There I will meet you and speak to you;[d] 43there also I will meet with the Israelites, and the place will be consecrated by my glory.[e]

44"So I will consecrate the Tent of Meeting and the altar and will consecrate Aaron and his sons to serve me as priests.[f] 45Then I will dwell[g] among the Israelites and be their God.[h] 46They will know that I am the LORD their God, who brought them out of Egypt[i] so that I might dwell among them. I am the LORD their God.[j]

The Altar of Incense

30 "Make an altar[k] of acacia wood for burning incense.[l] 2It is to be square, a cubit long and a cubit wide, and two cubits high[n]—its horns[m] of one piece with it. 3Overlay the top and all the sides and the horns with pure gold, and make a gold molding around it.[n] 4Make two gold rings[o] for the altar below the molding—two on opposite sides—to hold the poles used to carry it. 5Make the poles of acacia wood and overlay them with gold.[p] 6Put the altar in front of the curtain that is before the ark of the Testimony—before the atonement cover[q] that is over the Testimony—where I will meet with you.

7"Aaron must burn fragrant incense[r] on the altar every morning when he tends the lamps. 8He must burn incense again when he lights the lamps at twilight so incense will burn regularly before the LORD for the generations to come.[s] 9Do not offer on this altar any other incense[t] or any burnt offering or grain offering, and do not pour a drink offering on it. 10Once a year[u] Aaron shall make atonement[v] on its horns. This annual atonement must be made with the blood of the atoning sin offering[w] for the generations to come.[x] It is most holy to the LORD."

Atonement Money

11Then the LORD said to Moses, 12"When you take a census[y] of the Israelites to count them, each one must pay the LORD a ransom[z] for his life at the time he is counted. Then no plague[a] will come on them when you number them. 13Each one who crosses over to those already counted is to give a half shekel,[o] according to the sanctuary shekel,[b] which weighs twenty gerahs. This half shekel is an offering to the LORD. 14All who cross over, those twenty years old or more,[c] are to give an offering to the LORD. 15The rich are not to give more than a half shekel and the poor are not to give less[d] when you make the offering to the LORD to atone for your lives. 16Receive the atonement[e] money from the Israelites and use it for the service of the Tent of Meeting.[f] It will be a 29:38–39 Institution of the daily morning and evening offerings—sometimes observed even during days of apostasy (see 2Ki 16:15).

29:42–43 I will meet. See note on 27:21.
29:43 my glory. Symbolic of God's presence over the ark of the covenant (see note on 25:10; see also 40:34–35; 1Ki 8:10–13).
29:45–46 dwell among. See note on 25:9.
29:45 I will . . . be their God. Commonly denotes the essence of the divine promise pledged in his covenant with his people (see note on 6:7).
29:46 I am the LORD . . . who brought them out. See note on 20:2.
30:1 incense. Its fragrant smoke symbolized the prayers of God's people (see Ps 141:2; Lk 1:10; Rev 5:8; 8:3–4).
30:3 gold. See note on 26:37.
30:4 rings. See note on 25:12.

30:10 annual atonement. See Lev 16:34.
30:12 take a census. Perhaps such censuses were taken on various occasions (and at stated intervals) to enter the Israelites into an official roll for public duties in the Lord's service (see Nu 1:2; 26:2). pay . . . a ransom for his life. An extension of the principle stated in 13:13,15 (see note on 13:13).
30:14 twenty years old or more. Of military age (see Nu 1:3).
30:16 Tent of Meeting. See note on 27:21.

memorial[g] for the Israelites before the LORD, making atonement for your lives."

Basin for Washing

17Then the LORD said to Moses, 18"Make a bronze basin,[h] with its bronze stand, for washing. Place it between the Tent of Meeting and the altar, and put water in it. 19Aaron and his sons are to wash their hands and feet[i] with water[j] from it. 20Whenever they enter the Tent of Meeting, they shall wash with water so that they will not die.[k] Also, when they approach the altar to minister by presenting an offering made to the LORD by fire, 21they shall wash their hands and feet so that they will not die. This is to be a lasting ordinance[l] for Aaron and his descendants for the generations to come."[m]

Anointing Oil

22Then the LORD said to Moses, 23"Take the following fine spices:[n] 500 shekels[p] of liquid myrrh,[o] half as much (that is, 250 shekels) of fragrant cinnamon,[p] 250 shekels of fragrant cane,[q] 24500 shekels[r] of cassia[s]—all according to the sanctuary shekel—and a hin[q] of olive oil. 25Make these into a sacred anointing oil, a fragrant blend, the work of a perfumer.[t] It will be the sacred anointing oil.[u] 26Then use it to anoint[v] the Tent of Meeting, the ark of the Testimony, 27the table and all its articles, the lampstand and its accessories, the altar of incense, 28the altar of burnt offering and all its utensils, and the basin with its stand. 29You shall consecrate them[w] so they will be most holy, and whatever touches them will be holy.[x]

30"Anoint Aaron and his sons and consecrate[y] them so they may serve me as priests.[z] 31Say to the Israelites, 'This is to be my sacred anointing oil[a] for the generations to come.[b] 32Do not pour it on men's bodies and do not make any oil with the same formula. It is sacred, and you are to consider it sacred.[c] 33Whoever makes perfume like it and whoever puts it on anyone other than a priest must be cut off[d] from his people.' "

Incense

34Then the LORD said to Moses, "Take fragrant spices[e]—gum resin, onycha and galbanum—and pure frankincense, all in equal amounts, 35and make a fragrant blend of incense,[f] the work of a perfumer.[g] It is to be salted and pure and sacred. 36Grind some of it to powder and place it in front of the Testimony in the Tent of Meeting, where I will meet[h] with you. It shall be most holy[i] to you. 37Do not make any incense with this formula for yourselves; consider it holy[j] to the LORD. 38Whoever makes any like it to enjoy its fragrance must be cut off[k] from his people."

Bezalel and Oholiab

31:2-6pp — Ex 35:30-35

31 Then the LORD said to Moses, 2"See, I have chosen Bezalel[l] son of Uri, the son of Hur,[m] of the tribe of Judah, 3and I have filled him with the Spirit of God, with skill, ability and knowledge[n] in all kinds of crafts[o]— 4to make artistic designs for work in gold, silver and bronze, 5to cut and set stones, to work in wood, and to engage in all kinds of craftsmanship. 6Moreover, I have appointed Oholiab[p] son of Ahisamach, of the tribe of Dan,[q] to help him. Also I have given skill to all the craftsmen[r] to make everything I have commanded you: 7the Tent of Meeting,[s] the ark of the Testimony[t] with the atonement cover[u] on it, and all the other furnishings of the tent— 8the table[v] and its articles, the pure gold lampstand[w] and all its accessories, the altar of incense,[x] 9the altar of burnt offering[y] and all its utensils, the basin[z] with its stand— 10and also the woven garments[a], both the sacred garments for Aaron the priest and the garments for his sons when they serve as priests, 11and the anointing oil[b] and fragrant incense[c] for the Holy Place. They are to make them just as I commanded[d] you."

14" 'Observe the Sabbath, because it is holy to you. Whoever does any work on the Sabbath day must be put to death. 16The Israelites are to observe the Sabbath,[l] celebrating it for the generations to come as a lasting covenant. 17It will be a sign[m] between me and the Israelites forever, for in six days the LORD made the heavens and the earth, and on the seventh day he abstained from work and rested.[n]' "[o]

18When the LORD finished speaking to Moses on Mount Sinai,[p] he gave him the two tablets of the Testimony, the tablets of stone[q] inscribed by the finger of God.[r]

The Golden Calf

32 When the people saw that Moses was so long in coming down from the mountain,[s] they gathered around Aaron and said, "Come, make us gods[s] who will go before[t] us. As for this fellow Moses who brought us up out of Egypt, we don't know what has happened to him."[u]

2Aaron answered them, "Take off the gold earrings[v] that your wives, your sons and your daughters are wearing, and bring them to me." 3So all the people took off their earrings and brought them to Aaron. 4He took what they handed him and made it into an idol[w] cast in the shape of a calf,[x] fashioning it with a tool. Then they said, "These are your gods,[ty] O Israel, who brought you up out of Egypt."[z]

5When Aaron saw this, he built an altar in front of the calf and announced, "Tomorrow there will be a festival[a] to the LORD." 6So the next day the people rose early and sacrificed burnt offerings and presented fellowship offerings.[ub] Afterward they sat down to eat and drink[c] and got up to indulge in revelry.[d]

7Then the LORD said to Moses, "Go down, because your people, whom you brought up out of Egypt,[e] have become corrupt.[f] 8They have been quick to turn away[g] from what I commanded them and have made themselves an idol[h] cast in the shape of a calf.[i] They have bowed down to it and sacrificed[j] to it and have said, 'These are your gods, O Israel, who brought you up out of Egypt.'[k]

ed by impressing on the Israelites the importance and necessity of keeping the Sabbath even while carrying out this special task.

31:14 cut off from his people. See note on 12:15.

31:16–17 covenant . . . sign. In her rhythm of work and rest in the service of God, Israel is to emulate God's pattern in creation as an ever-renewed sign of her covenant with God (see note on Ge 9:12).

31:18 two tablets. In keeping with ancient Near Eastern practice, these were duplicates of the covenant document, not two sections of the Ten Commandments. One copy belonged to each party of the covenant. Since Israel's copy was to be laid up in the presence of her God (according to custom), both covenant tablets (God's and Israel's) were placed in the ark (see 25:21). Testimony. See notes on 16:34; 25:16. inscribed by the finger of God. Because it was God's covenant (see 19:5–6), and the stipulations of the covenant (20:1–17) were his.

32:1 so long. Forty days and forty nights (see 24:18 and note). they. Probably the tribe and clan leaders. gods. See NIV text note. Moses who brought us up out of Egypt. A rebellious contrast to the gracious statement of Israel's covenant Lord (see 20:2 and note; 29:46).

32:2 gold earrings. Probably part of the plunder brought from Egypt (see 3:21–22; 11:2–3; 12:35–36).

32:4 cast in the shape of a calf. Either gold plating over a carved wooden calf (it was later burned, v. 20) or crudely cast in solid gold and then further shaped with a tool, later to be melted down in the fire. The calf was probably similar to representations of the Egyptian bull-god Apis (see note on Jer 46:15). Its manufacture was a flagrant violation of the second commandment (20:4–5). they. The leaders among the people (see note on v. 1). These are your gods . . . up out of Egypt. A parody of 20:2 (see note on v. 1). Centuries later, King Jeroboam would quote these words when he set up two golden calves in the northern kingdom of Israel (see 1Ki 12:28–29).

32:5 altar in front of the calf . . . festival to the LORD. Apparently Aaron recognized the idolatrous consequences of his deed and acted quickly to keep the people from turning completely away from the Lord.

32:6 they sat down . . . indulge in revelry. A pagan symbol evoked pagan religious practices. Paul quotes this sentence as a vivid example of Israel's tendency toward idolatry (see 1Co 10:7). The Hebrew verb translated "indulge in revelry" often has sexual connotations (see, e.g., "caressing," Ge 26:8). Immoral orgies frequently accompanied pagan worship in ancient times.

32:7,9 your people . . . these people. By not calling Israel "my people" (as, e.g., in 3:10), God indicates that he is disowning them for breaking his covenant with them.

32:7 corrupt. And, therefore, ripe for destruction (see v. 10; Ge 6:11–13).

32:9 stiff-necked. Like unresponsive oxen or horses (see Jer 27:11–12; see also note on Ne 3:5).

necked[l] people. [10]Now leave me alone[m] so that my anger may burn against them and that I may destroy[n] them. Then I will make you into a great nation."[o]

[11]But Moses sought the favor[p] of the LORD his God. "O LORD," he said, "why should your anger burn against your people, whom you brought out of Egypt with great power and a mighty hand?[q] [12]Why should the Egyptians say, 'It was with evil intent that he brought them out, to kill them in the mountains and to wipe them off the face of the earth'?[r] Turn from your fierce anger; relent and do not bring disaster[s] on your people. [13]Remember[t] your servants Abraham, Isaac and Israel, to whom you swore by your own self:[u] 'I will make your descendants as numerous as the stars[v] in the sky and I will give your descendants all this land[w] I promised them, and it will be their inheritance forever.' " [14]Then the LORD relented[x] and did not bring on his people the disaster he had threatened.

[15]Moses turned and went down the mountain with the two tablets of the Testimony[y] in his hands.[z] They were inscribed[a] on both sides, front and back. [16]The tablets were the work of God; the writing was the writing of God, engraved on the tablets.[b]

[17]When Joshua[c] heard the noise of the people shouting, he said to Moses, "There is the sound of war in the camp."

[18]Moses replied:

"It is not the sound of victory,
it is not the sound of defeat;
it is the sound of singing that I hear."

[19]When Moses approached the camp and saw the calf[d] and the dancing,[e] his anger burned[f] and he threw the tablets out of his hands, breaking them to pieces[g] at the foot of the mountain. [20]And he took the calf they had made and burned[h] it in the fire; then he ground it to powder,[i] scattered it on the water[j] and made the Israelites drink it.

[21]He said to Aaron, "What did these people do to you, that you led them into such great sin?"

[22]"Do not be angry,[k] my lord," Aaron answered. "You know how prone these people are to evil.[l] [23]They said to me, 'Make us gods who will go before us. As for this fellow Moses who brought us up out of Egypt, we don't know what has happened to him.'[m] [24]So I told them, 'Whoever has any gold jewelry, take it off.' Then they gave me the gold, and I threw it into the fire, and out came this calf!"[n]

[25]Moses saw that the people were running wild and that Aaron had let them get out of control and so become a laughingstock[o] to their enemies. [26]So he stood at the entrance to the camp and said, "Whoever is for the LORD, come to me." And all the Levites rallied to him.

[27]Then he said to them, "This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says: 'Each man strap a sword to his side. Go back and forth through the camp from one end to the other, each killing his brother and friend and neighbor.' "[p] [28]The Levites did as Moses commanded, and that day about three thousand of the people died.

[29]Then Moses said, "You have been set

32:10 I will make you into a great nation. After Israel—Abraham's descendants—has been destroyed, God will transfer to Moses the pledge originally given to Abraham (see Ge 12:2).

32:11 your people. Using God's own words (see v. 7 and note), Moses appeals to God's special relationship to Israel, then to God's need to vindicate his name in the eyes of the Egyptians (see v. 12), and finally to the great patriarchal promises (see v. 13).

32:22–24 In his desperation, Aaron blamed the people (see notes on Ge 3:12–13).

32:24 out came this calf. Aaron could hardly have thought that Moses would believe such an incredible story.

32:25 were running wild . . . get out of control. The same Hebrew root underlies both phrases and is found also in Pr 29:18 ("cast off restraint"). Anarchy reigns among people who refuse to obey and worship the Lord.

32:26 Whoever is for the LORD, come to me. See Jos 24:15; 1Ki 18:21; Mt 6:24. all. A generalization since Dt 33:9 implies that some of the Levites were also slain. Levites. The descendants of Levi (Ge 29:34) may have originally been regarded as priests (Dt 18:6–8). But at some stage they became subordinate to the priests who were descendants of Aaron, the brother of Moses (38:21; Nu 3:9–10; 1 Ch 16:4–6,37–42).

32:27 killing his brother and friend and neighbor. See Mt 10:37; Lk 14:26.

32:28 The Levites did as Moses commanded. Their zeal for the Lord is later matched by Aaron's grandson Phinehas, resulting in a perpetual covenant of the priesthood (see Nu 25:7–13).

32:29 You have been set apart to the LORD today. Because of their zeal for the Lord the Levites were set apart to be apart to the LORD today, for you were against your own sons and brothers, and he has blessed you this day."

30The next day Moses said to the people, "You have committed a great sin.[q] But now I will go up to the LORD; perhaps I can make atonement[r] for your sin."

31So Moses went back to the LORD and said, "Oh, what a great sin these people have committed![s] They have made themselves gods of gold.[t] 32But now, please forgive their sin[u]—but if not, then blot me[v] out of the book[w] you have written."

33The LORD replied to Moses, "Whoever has sinned against me I will blot out[x] of my book. 34Now go, lead[y] the people to the place[z] I spoke of, and my angel[a] will go before you. However, when the time comes for me to punish,[b] I will punish them for their sin."

35And the LORD struck the people with a plague because of what they did with the calf[c] Aaron had made.

33 Then the LORD said to Moses, "Leave this place, you and the people you brought up out of Egypt, and go up to the land I promised on oath[d] to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, saying, 'I will give it to your descendants.'[e] 2I will send an angel[f] before you and drive out the Canaanites, Amorites, Hittites, Perizzites, Hivites and Jebusites.[g] 3Go up to the land flowing with milk and honey.[h] But I will not go with you, because you are a stiff-necked[i] people and I might destroy[j] you on the way."

4When the people heard these distressing words, they began to mourn[k] and no one put on any ornaments. 5For the LORD had said to Moses, "Tell the Israelites, 'You are a stiff-necked people.[l] If I were to go with you even for a moment, I might destroy[m] you. Now take off your ornaments and I will decide what to do with you.' " 6So the Israelites stripped off their ornaments at Mount Horeb.[n]

The Tent of Meeting

7Now Moses used to take a tent and pitch it outside the camp some distance away, calling it the "tent of meeting."[o] Anyone inquiring[p] of the LORD would go to the tent of meeting outside the camp. 8And whenever Moses went out to the tent, all the people rose and stood at the entrances to their tents,[q] watching Moses until he entered the tent. 9As Moses went into the tent, the pillar of cloud[r] would come down and stay at the entrance, while the LORD spoke[s] with Moses. 10Whenever the people saw the pillar of cloud standing at the entrance to the tent, they all stood and worshiped, each at the entrance to his tent.[t] 11The LORD would speak to Moses face to face,[u] as a man speaks with his friend. Then Moses would return to the camp, but his young aide Joshua[v] son of Nun did not leave the tent.

Moses and the Glory of the LORD

12Moses said to the LORD, "You have been telling me, 'Lead these people,'[w] but you have not let me know whom you will send with me. You have said, 'I know you by name[x] and you have found favor[y] with me.' 13If you are pleased with me, teach me your ways[z] so I may know you and continue to find caretakers of the tabernacle and aides to the priests (see Nu 1:47–53; 3:5–9,12,41,45; 4:2–3).

32:30 make atonement for your sin. By making urgent intercession before God, as the mediator God had appointed between himself and Israel. No sacrifice that Israel or Moses might bring could atone for this sin. But Moses so identified himself with Israel that he made his own death the condition for God's destruction of the nation (see v. 32). Jesus Christ, the great Mediator, offered himself on the cross to make atonement for his people.

32:32 book you have written. See notes on Ps 9:5; 51:1; 69:28.

32:33 Whoever has sinned . . . I will blot out. Moses' gracious offer is refused, because the person who sins is responsible for his own sin (see Dt 24:16; Eze 18:4 and note).

32:34 Now go, lead the people. Thus Moses received assurance that the Lord will continue his covenant with wayward Israel and fulfill his promise concerning the land. the place I spoke of. Canaan (see 33:1).

33:2 Canaanites . . . Jebusites. See note on 3:8.

33:3 land flowing with milk and honey. See note on 3:8. I will not go with you. The Lord's presence, earlier assured to his people (see 23:21 and note), is now temporarily withdrawn because of sin. stiff-necked. See note on 32:9.

33:6 stripped off their ornaments. As a sign of mourning (see Eze 26:16–17).

33:7 tent of meeting outside the camp. Not the tabernacle (contrast 27:21), which occupied a central location within the Israelite camp, but a temporary structure where the people could inquire of the Lord until the more durable tabernacle was completed.

33:9 pillar of cloud would come down. Symbolizing God's communication with Moses "as a man speaks with his friend" (v. 11). Later, a similar descent crowned the completion of the tabernacle (see 40:33–34; see also note on 13:21).

33:11 The LORD would speak to Moses face to face. As the OT mediator, Moses was unique among the prophets. Joshua . . . did not leave the tent. Probably his task was to guard the tent against intrusion by others.

33:12 you have not let me know whom you will send with me. See note on v. 3. Moses objects that a mere angel is no substitute for God's own presence. I know you by name. I have chosen you for my special purpose.

33:13 teach me your ways. A prayer that is answered in 34:6–7.

favor with you. Remember that this nation is your people."[a]

14The LORD replied, "My Presence[b] will go with you, and I will give you rest."[c]

15Then Moses said to him, "If your Presence[d] does not go with us, do not send us up from here. 16How will anyone know that you are pleased with me and with your people unless you go with us?[e] What else will distinguish me and your people from all the other people on the face of the earth?"[f]

17And the LORD said to Moses, "I will do the very thing you have asked,[g] because I am pleased with you and I know you by name."[h]

18Then Moses said, "Now show me your glory."[i]

19And the LORD said, "I will cause all my goodness to pass[j] in front of you, and I will proclaim my name,[k] the LORD, in your presence. I will have mercy on whom I will have mercy, and I will have compassion on whom I will have compassion.[l] 20But," he said, "you cannot see my face, for no one may see[m] me and live."

21Then the LORD said, "There is a place near me where you may stand on a rock. 22When my glory passes by, I will put you in a cleft in the rock[n] and cover you with my hand[o] until I have passed by. 23Then I will remove my hand and you will see my back; but my face must not be seen."

The New Stone Tablets

34 The LORD said to Moses, "Chisel out two stone tablets like the first ones,[p] and I will write on them the words that were on the first tablets,[q] which you broke.[r] 2Be ready in the morning, and then come up on Mount Sinai.[s] Present yourself to me there on top of the mountain. 3No one is to come with you or be seen anywhere on the mountain;[t] not even the flocks and herds may graze in front of the mountain."

4So Moses chiseled[u] out two stone tablets like the first ones and went up Mount Sinai early in the morning, as the LORD had commanded him; and he carried the two stone tablets in his hands.[v] 5Then the LORD came down in the cloud[w] and stood there with him and proclaimed his name, the LORD.[x] 6And he passed in front of Moses, proclaiming, "The LORD, the LORD, the compassionate[y] and gracious God, slow to anger,[z] abounding in love[a] and faithfulness,[b] 7maintaining love to thousands,[c] and forgiving wickedness, rebellion and sin.[d] Yet he does not leave the guilty unpunished;[e] he punishes the children and their children for the sin of the fathers to the third and fourth generation."[f]

8Moses bowed to the ground at once and worshiped. 9"O Lord, if I have found favor[g] in your eyes," he said, "then let the Lord go with us.[h] Although this is a stiff-necked[i] people, forgive our wickedness and our sin,[j] and take us as your inheritance."[k]

10Then the LORD said: "I am making a covenant[l] with you. Before all your people I will do wonders[m] never before done in any nation in all the world.[n] The people you live among will see how awesome is the work that I, the LORD, will do for you. 11Obey what I command[o] you today. I will drive out before you the Amorites, Canaanites, Hittites,

33:14 My Presence will go with you. The Lord's gracious response to Moses' concern (see note on v. 12).

33:17 because I am pleased with you. How much more does God hear the prayers of his Son Jesus Christ (see Mt 17:5; Heb 3:1–6)!

33:18 See v. 22. In a sense, Moses' prayer was finally answered on the Mount of Transfiguration (Lk 9:30–32), where he shared a vision—however brief—of the Lord's glory with Elijah and three of Jesus' disciples.

33:19 goodness. God's nature and character. name. A further symbol of God's nature, character and person (see Ps 20:1; Jn 1:12; 17:6 and NIV text note). Here his name implies his mercy (grace) and his compassion (as it does also in 34:6).

33:20 See note on Ge 16:13; see also Jn 1:18; 6:46; 1Ti 1:17; 1Jn 4:12.

33:21–23 God speaks of himself in human language. See 34:5–7 for the fulfillment of his promise.

34:1 two stone tablets . . . I will write on them. See note on 31:18. words. See note on 20:1.

34:5 name. See note on 33:19.

34:6–7 See 33:19 and note. The Lord's proclamation of the meaning and implications of his name in these verses became a classic exposition that was frequently recalled elsewhere in the OT (see Nu 14:18; Ne 9:17; Ps 86:15; 103:8; 145:8; Joel 2:13; Jnh 4:2). See also notes on 3:14–15; 6:2–3.

34:7 thousands. Or "a thousand generations" (see 20:6). wickedness, rebellion and sin. See Isa 59:12 and note.

34:10 making a covenant. Renewing the covenant he had earlier made (chs. 19–24). Verses 10–26, many of which are quoted almost verbatim from previous sections of Exodus (compare especially vv. 18–26 with 23:14–19), are sometimes referred to as the Ritual Decalogue since they can be convincingly divided into ten sections (see, e.g., the NIV paragraphing of vv. 15–26).

Perizzites, Hivites and Jebusites.[p] 12Be careful not to make a treaty[q] with those who live in the land where you are going, or they will be a snare[r] among you. 13Break down their altars, smash their sacred stones and cut down their Asherah poles.[v s] 14Do not worship any other god,[t] for the LORD, whose name[u] is Jealous, is a jealous God.[v]

15"Be careful not to make a treaty[w] with those who live in the land; for when they prostitute[x] themselves to their gods and sacrifice to them, they will invite you and you will eat their sacrifices.[y] 16And when you choose some of their daughters as wives[z] for your sons and those daughters prostitute themselves to their gods,[a] they will lead your sons to do the same.

17"Do not make cast idols.[b]

18"Celebrate the Feast of Unleavened Bread.[c] For seven days eat bread made without yeast,[d] as I commanded you. Do this at the appointed time in the month of Abib,[e] for in that month you came out of Egypt.

19"The first offspring[f] of every womb belongs to me, including all the firstborn males of your livestock, whether from herd or flock. 20Redeem the firstborn donkey with a lamb, but if you do not redeem it, break its neck.[g] Redeem all your firstborn sons.[h]

"No one is to appear before me empty-handed.[i]

21"Six days you shall labor, but on the seventh day you shall rest;[j] even during the plowing season and harvest[k] you must rest.

22"Celebrate the Feast of Weeks with the firstfruits[l] of the wheat harvest, and the Feast of Ingathering[m] at the turn of the year.[w] 23Three times[n] a year all your men are to appear before the Sovereign LORD, the God of Israel. 24I will drive out nations[o] before you and enlarge your territory,[p] and no one will covet your land when you go up three times each year to appear before the LORD your God.

25"Do not offer the blood of a sacrifice to me along with anything containing yeast,[q] and do not let any of the sacrifice from the Passover Feast remain until morning.[r]

26"Bring the best of the firstfruits[s] of your soil to the house of the LORD your God.

"Do not cook a young goat in its mother's milk."[t]

27Then the LORD said to Moses, "Write[u] down these words, for in accordance with these words I have made a covenant[v] with you and with Israel." 28Moses was there with the LORD forty days and forty nights[w] without eating bread or drinking water.[x] And he wrote on the tablets[y] the words of the covenant—the Ten Commandments.[z]

The Radiant Face of Moses

29When Moses came down from Mount Sinai[a] with the two tablets of the Testimony in his hands,[b] he was not aware that his face was radiant[c] because he had spoken with the LORD. 30When Aaron and all the Israelites saw Moses, his face was radiant, and they were afraid to come near him. 31But Moses called to them; so Aaron and all the leaders of the community[d] came back to him, and he spoke to them. 32Afterward all the Israelites came near him, and he gave them all the commands[e] the LORD had given him on Mount Sinai.

33When Moses finished speaking to them, he put a veil[f] over his face. 34But

34:13 Asherah poles. Asherah was the name of the consort (wife) of El, the chief Canaanite god. Wooden poles, perhaps carved in her image, were often set up in her honor and placed near other pagan objects of worship (see, e.g., Jdg 6:25).

34:21 even during the plowing season and harvest you must rest. Just as they were also to rest while building the tabernacle (see notes on 31:13,16–17).

34:27 Write down these words. As he had earlier written down similar words (see 24:4).

34:28 he wrote. Here the Lord, rather than Moses, is probably the subject (see v. 1). the words of the covenant—the Ten Commandments. The two phrases are synonymous (see note on 20:1).

34:29 Testimony. See notes on 16:34; 25:16. was radiant. He who had asked to see God's glory (33:18) now, quite unawares, reflects the divine glory. The Hebrew for "was radiant" is related to the Hebrew noun for "horn." The meaning of the phrase was therefore misunderstood by the Vulgate (the Latin translation), and thus European medieval art often showed horns sprouting from Moses' head.

34:33 he put a veil over his face. So that the Israelites would not see the fading away of the radiance but would continue to honor Moses as the one who represented God. For a NT reflection on Moses' action see 2Co 3:7–18 and whenever he entered the LORD's presence to speak with him, he removed the veil until he came out. And when he came out and told the Israelites what he had been commanded, [35]they saw that his face was radiant.[g] Then Moses would put the veil back over his face until he went in to speak with the LORD.

Sabbath Regulations

35 Moses assembled the whole Israelite community and said to them, "These are the things the LORD has commanded[h] you to do: [2]For six days, work is to be done, but the seventh day shall be your holy day, a Sabbath[i] of rest to the LORD. Whoever does any work on it must be put to death.[j] [3]Do not light a fire in any of your dwellings on the Sabbath day.[k]"

Materials for the Tabernacle

35:4–9pp — Ex 25:1–7
35:10–19pp — Ex 39:32–41

[4]Moses said to the whole Israelite community, "This is what the LORD has commanded: [5]From what you have, take an offering for the LORD. Everyone who is willing is to bring to the LORD an offering of gold, silver and bronze; [6]blue, purple and scarlet yarn and fine linen; goat hair; [7]ram skins dyed red and hides of sea cows[x]; acacia wood; [8]olive oil[l] for the light; spices for the anointing oil and for the fragrant incense; [9]and onyx stones and other gems to be mounted on the ephod and breastpiece.

[10]"All who are skilled among you are to come and make everything the LORD has commanded:[m] [11]the tabernacle[n] with its tent and its covering, clasps, frames, crossbars, posts and bases; [12]the ark[o] with its poles and the atonement cover and the curtain[p] that shields it; [13]the table[q] with its poles and all its articles and the bread of the Presence; [14]the lampstand[r] that is for light with its accessories, lamps and oil for the light; [15]the altar[s] of incense with its poles, the anointing oil[t] and the fragrant incense;[u] the curtain for the doorway at the entrance to the tabernacle;[v] [16]the altar[w] of burnt offering with its bronze grating, its poles and all its utensils; the bronze basin[x] with its stand; [17]the curtains of the courtyard with its posts and bases, and the curtain for the entrance to the courtyard;[y] [18]the tent pegs[z] for the tabernacle and for the courtyard, and their ropes; [19]the woven garments worn for ministering in the sanctuary—both the sacred garments[a] for Aaron the priest and the garments for his sons when they serve as priests."

[20]Then the whole Israelite community withdrew from Moses' presence, [21]and everyone who was willing and whose heart moved him came and brought an offering to the LORD for the work on the Tent of Meeting, for all its service, and for the sacred garments. [22]All who were willing, men and women alike, came and brought gold jewelry of all kinds: brooches, earrings, rings and ornaments. They all presented their gold as a wave offering to the LORD. [23]Everyone who had blue, purple or scarlet yarn[b] or fine linen, or goat hair, ram skins dyed red or hides of sea cows brought them. [24]Those presenting an offering of silver or bronze brought it as an offering to the LORD, and everyone who had acacia wood for any part of the work brought it. [25]Every skilled woman[c] spun with her hands and brought what she had spun—blue, purple or scarlet yarn or fine linen. [26]And all the women who were willing and had the skill spun the goat hair. [27]The leaders[d] brought onyx stones and other gems[e] to be mounted on the ephod and breastpiece. [28]They also brought spices and olive oil for the light and for the anointing oil and for the fragrant incense.[f] [29]All the Israelite men and women who were willing[g] brought to the LORD freewill offerings[h] for all the work the LORD through Moses had commanded them to do.

Bezalel and Oholiab

35:30–35pp — Ex 31:2–6

[30]Then Moses said to the Israelites, "See, the LORD has chosen Bezalel son of Uri, the son of Hur, of the tribe of Judah, [31]and he has filled him with the Spirit of God, with skill, ability and knowledge in all kinds of crafts[i]— [32]to make artistic designs for work in gold, silver and bronze, [33]to cut and set stones, to work notes.

35:1–3 Just as the Israelites had been reminded of the importance of Sabbath observance immediately after the instructions for building the tabernacle and making the priestly garments (see note on 31:13), so now—just before the fulfilling of those instructions—the people are given the same reminder.

35:4–39:43 For the most part repeated from chs. 25–28; 30:1–5; 31:1–11 (see notes on those passages), sometimes verbatim, but with the verbs primarily in the past rather than the future tense and with the topics arranged in a different order. Such repetition was a common feature of ancient Near Eastern literature and was intended to fix the details of a narrative in the reader's mind (see note on Ge 24:34–49).

35:5 Everyone who is willing. The voluntary motivation behind the offering of materials and services for the tabernacle is stressed (see vv. 21–22,26,29; 36:2–3).

35:21 Tent of Meeting. See note on 27:21.

in wood and to engage in all kinds of artistic craftsmanship. 34And he has given both him and Oholiab[j] son of Ahisamach, of the tribe of Dan, the ability to teach[k] others. 35He has filled them with skill to do all kinds of work[l] as craftsmen, designers, embroiderers in blue, purple and scarlet yarn and fine linen, and weavers—all of them master craftsmen and designers.

36 1So Bezalel, Oholiab and every skilled person[m] to whom the LORD has given skill and ability to know how to carry out all the work of constructing the sanctuary[n] are to do the work just as the LORD has commanded."

2Then Moses summoned Bezalel[o] and Oholiab[p] and every skilled person to whom the LORD had given ability and who was willing[q] to come and do the work. 3They received from Moses all the offerings[r] the Israelites had brought to carry out the work of constructing the sanctuary. And the people continued to bring freewill offerings morning after morning. 4So all the skilled craftsmen who were doing all the work on the sanctuary left their work 5and said to Moses, "The people are bringing more than enough[s] for doing the work the LORD commanded to be done."

6Then Moses gave an order and they sent this word throughout the camp: "No man or woman is to make anything else as an offering for the sanctuary." And so the people were restrained from bringing more, 7because what they already had was more[t] than enough to do all the work.

The Tabernacle

36:8–38pp — Ex 26:1–37

14They made curtains of goat hair for the tent over the tabernacle—eleven altogether. 15All eleven curtains were the same size—thirty cubits long and four cubits wide.[z] 16They joined five of the curtains into one set and the other six into another set. 17Then they made fifty loops along the edge of the end curtain in one set and also along the edge of the end curtain in the other set. 18They made fifty bronze clasps to fasten the tent together as a unit.[v] 19Then they made for the tent a covering of ram skins dyed red, and over that a covering of hides of sea cows.[a]

20They made upright frames of acacia wood for the tabernacle. 21Each frame was ten cubits long and a cubit and a half wide,[b] 22with two projections set parallel to each other. They made all the frames of the tabernacle in this way. 23They made twenty frames for the south side of the tabernacle 24and made forty silver bases to go under them—two bases for each frame, one under each projection. 25For the other side, the north side of the tabernacle, they made twenty frames 26and forty silver bases—two under each frame. 27They made six frames for the far end, that is, the west end of the tabernacle, 28and two frames were made for the corners of the tabernacle at the far end. 29At these two corners the frames were double from the bottom all the way to the top and fitted into a single ring; both were made alike. 30So there were eight frames and sixteen silver bases—two under each frame.

35They made the curtain[w] of blue, purple and scarlet yarn and finely twisted linen, with cherubim worked into it by a skilled craftsman. 36They made four posts of acacia wood for it and overlaid them with gold. They made gold hooks for them and cast their four silver bases. 37For the entrance to the tent they made a curtain of blue, purple and scarlet yarn and finely twisted linen—the work of an

The Ark

37:1–9pp — Ex 25:10–20

37 Bezalel[y] made the ark[z] of acacia wood—two and a half cubits long, a cubit and a half wide, and a cubit and a half high.[c] 2He overlaid it with pure gold,[a] both inside and out, and made a gold molding around it. 3He cast four gold rings for it and fastened them to its four feet, with two rings on one side and two rings on the other. 4Then he made poles of acacia wood and overlaid them with gold. 5And he inserted the poles into the rings on the sides of the ark to carry it.

6He made the atonement cover[b] of pure gold—two and a half cubits long and a cubit and a half wide.[d] 7Then he made two cherubim[c] out of hammered gold at the ends of the cover. 8He made one cherub on one end and the second cherub on the other; at the two ends he made them of one piece with the cover. 9The cherubim had their wings spread upward, overshadowing[d] the cover with them. The cherubim faced each other, looking toward the cover.[e]

The Table

37:10–16pp — Ex 25:23–29

10They[e] made the table[f] of acacia wood—two cubits long, a cubit wide, and a cubit and a half high.[f] 11Then they overlaid it with pure gold[g] and made a gold molding around it. 12They also made around it a rim a handbreadth[g] wide and put a gold molding on the rim. 13They cast four gold rings for the table and fastened them to the four corners, where the four legs were. 14The rings[h] were put close to the rim to hold the poles used in carrying the table. 15The poles for carrying the table were made of acacia wood and were overlaid with gold. 16And they made from pure gold the articles for the table—its plates and dishes and bowls and its pitchers for the pouring out of drink offerings.

The Lampstand

37:17–24pp — Ex 25:31–39

17They made the lampstand[i] of pure gold and hammered it out, base and shaft; its flowerlike cups, buds and blossoms were of one piece with it. 18Six branches extended from the sides of the lampstand—three on one side and three on the other. 19Three cups shaped like almond flowers with buds and blossoms were on one branch, three on the next branch and the same for all six branches extending from the lampstand. 20And on the lampstand were four cups shaped like almond flowers with buds and blossoms. 21One bud was under the first pair of branches extending from the lampstand, a second bud under the second pair, and a third bud under the third pair—six branches in all. 22The buds and the branches were all of one piece with the lampstand, hammered out of pure gold.[j]

23They made its seven lamps,[k] as well as its wick trimmers and trays, of pure gold. 24They made the lampstand and all its accessories from one talent[h] of pure gold.

The Altar of Incense

37:25–28pp — Ex 30:1–5

25They made the altar of incense[l] out of acacia wood. It was square, a cubit long and a cubit wide, and two cubits high[i]—its horns[m] of one piece with it. 26They overlaid the top and all the sides and the horns with pure gold, and made a gold molding around it. 27They made two gold rings[n] below the molding—two on opposite sides—to hold the poles used to carry it. 28They made the poles of acacia wood and overlaid them with gold.[o]

29They also made the sacred anointing oil[p] and the pure, fragrant incense[q]—the work of a perfumer.

The Altar of Burnt Offering

38:1–7pp — Ex 27:1–8

38 They[j] built the altar of burnt offering of acacia wood, three cubits[k] high; it was square, five cubits long and five cubits wide.[l] 2They made a horn at each of the four corners, so that the horns and the altar were of one piece, and they overlaid the altar with bronze.[r] 3They made all its utensils[s] of bronze—its pots, shovels, sprinkling bowls, meat forks and firepans. 4They made a grating for the altar, a bronze network, to be under its ledge, halfway up the altar. 5They cast bronze rings to hold the poles for the four corners of the bronze grating. 6They made the poles of acacia wood and overlaid them with bronze. 7They inserted the poles into the rings so they would be on the sides of the altar for carrying it. They made it hollow, out of boards.

Basin for Washing

8They made the bronze basin[t] and its bronze stand from the mirrors of the women[u] who served at the entrance to the Tent of Meeting.

The Courtyard

38:9–20pp — Ex 27:9–19

9Next they made the courtyard. The south side was a hundred cubits[m] long and had curtains of finely twisted linen, 10with twenty posts and twenty bronze bases, and with silver hooks and bands on the posts. 11The north side was also a hundred cubits long and had twenty posts and twenty bronze bases, with silver hooks and bands on the posts.

12The west end was fifty cubits[n] wide and had curtains, with ten posts and ten bases, with silver hooks and bands on the posts. 13The east end, toward the sunrise, was also fifty cubits wide. 14Curtains fifteen cubits[o] long were on one side of the entrance, with three posts and three bases, 15and curtains fifteen cubits long were on the other side of the entrance to the courtyard, with three posts and three bases. 16All the curtains around the courtyard were of finely twisted linen. 17The bases for the posts were bronze. The hooks and bands on the posts were silver, and their tops were overlaid with silver; so all the posts of the courtyard had silver bands.

18The curtain for the entrance to the courtyard was of blue, purple and scarlet yarn and finely twisted linen—the work of an embroiderer. It was twenty cubits[p] long and, like the curtains of the courtyard, five cubits[q] high, 19with four posts and four bronze bases. Their hooks and bands were silver, and their tops were overlaid with silver. 20All the tent pegs[v] of the tabernacle and of the surrounding courtyard were bronze.

The Materials Used

21These are the amounts of the materials used for the tabernacle, the tabernacle of the Testimony,[w] which were recorded at Moses' command by the Levites under the direction of Ithamar[x] son of Aaron, the priest. 22(Bezalel[y] son of Uri, the son of Hur, of the tribe of Judah, made everything the LORD commanded Moses; 23with him was Oholiab[z] son of Ahisamach, of the tribe of Dan—a craftsman and designer, and an embroiderer in blue, purple and scarlet yarn and fine linen.) 24The total amount of the gold from the wave offering used for all the work on the sanctuary[a] was 29 talents and 730 shekels,[r] according to the sanctuary shekel.[b]

25The silver obtained from those of the community who were counted in the census[c] was 100 talents and 1,775 shekels,[s] according to the sanctuary shekel— 26one beka per person,[d] that is, half a shekel,[t] according to the sanctuary shekel,[e] from everyone who had crossed over to those counted, twenty years old or more,[f] a total of 603,550 men.[g] 27The 100 talents[u] of silver were used to cast the bases[h] for the sanctuary and for the curtain—100 bases from the 100 talents, one talent for each base. 28They used the 1,775 shekels[v] to make the hooks for the posts, to overlay the tops of the posts, and to make their bands.

29The bronze from the wave offering was 70 talents and 2,400 shekels.[w] 30They used it to make the bases for the entrance to the Tent of Meeting, the bronze altar with its bronze grating and all its utensils, 31the bases for the surrounding courtyard and those for its entrance and all the tent pegs for the tabernacle and those for the surrounding courtyard.

38:25 100 talents and 1,775 shekels. Since there are 3,000 shekels in a talent, 100 talents equals 300,000 shekels, which, when added to the 1,775 shekels, gives a grand total of 301,775—half a shekel for each of the 603,550 men of military age (v. 26).

38:26 603,550 men. The number is doubtless to be understood literally, since the figures in the tribal census (see Nu 1:21–43; 2:4–31) total 603,550 (see Nu 1:46 and note). See Introduction to Numbers: Special Problem.

38:27 one talent for each base. See note on 26:19.

The Priestly Garments

39 From the blue, purple and scarlet yarn[i] they made woven garments for ministering in the sanctuary.[j] They also made sacred garments[k] for Aaron, as the LORD commanded Moses.

The Ephod

39:2–7pp — Ex 28:6–14

2They[x] made the ephod of gold, and of blue, purple and scarlet yarn, and of finely twisted linen. 3They hammered out thin sheets of gold and cut strands to be worked into the blue, purple and scarlet yarn and fine linen—the work of a skilled craftsman. 4They made shoulder pieces for the ephod, which were attached to two of its corners, so it could be fastened. 5Its skillfully woven waistband was like it—of one piece with the ephod and made with gold, and with blue, purple and scarlet yarn, and with finely twisted linen, as the LORD commanded Moses.

6They mounted the onyx stones in gold filigree settings and engraved them like a seal with the names of the sons of Israel. 7Then they fastened them on the shoulder pieces of the ephod as memorial[l] stones for the sons of Israel, as the LORD commanded Moses.

The Breastpiece

39:8–21pp — Ex 28:15–28

8They fashioned the breastpiece[m]—the work of a skilled craftsman. They made it like the ephod: of gold, and of blue, purple and scarlet yarn, and of finely twisted linen. 9It was square—a span[y] long and a span wide—and folded double. 10Then they mounted four rows of precious stones on it. In the first row there was a ruby, a topaz and a beryl; 11in the second row a turquoise, a sapphire[z] and an emerald; 12in the third row a jacinth, an agate and an amethyst; 13in the fourth row a chrysolite, an onyx and a jasper.[a] They were mounted in gold filigree settings. 14There were twelve stones, one for each of the names of the sons of Israel, each engraved like a seal with the name of one of the twelve tribes.[n]

15For the breastpiece they made braided chains of pure gold, like a rope. 16They made two gold filigree settings and two gold rings, and fastened the rings to two of the corners of the breastpiece. 17They fastened the two gold chains to the rings at the corners of the breastpiece, 18and the other ends of the chains to the two settings, attaching them to the shoulder pieces of the ephod at the front. 19They made two gold rings and attached them to the other two corners of the breastpiece on the inside edge next to the ephod. 20Then they made two more gold rings and attached them to the bottom of the shoulder pieces on the front of the ephod, close to the seam just above the waistband of the ephod. 21They tied the rings of the breastpiece to the rings of the ephod with blue cord, connecting it to the waistband so that the breastpiece would not swing out from the ephod—as the LORD commanded Moses.

Other Priestly Garments

27For Aaron and his sons, they made tunics of fine linen[o]—the work of a weaver— 28and the turban[p] of fine linen, the linen headbands and the undergarments of finely twisted linen. 29The sash was of finely twisted linen and blue, purple and scarlet yarn—the work of an embroiderer—as the LORD commanded Moses.

30They made the plate, the sacred diadem, out of pure gold and engraved on it, like an inscription on a seal: HOLY TO THE LORD.[q] 31Then they fastened a blue cord to it to attach it to the turban,[r] as the LORD commanded Moses.

Moses Inspects the Tabernacle

39:32–41pp — Ex 35:10–19

32So all the work on the tabernacle, the Tent of Meeting, was completed. The Israelites did everything just as the LORD commanded Moses.[s] 33Then they brought the tabernacle[t] to Moses: the 42The Israelites had done all the work just as the LORD had commanded Moses.[i] 43Moses inspected the work and saw that they had done it just as the LORD had commanded.[j] So Moses blessed[k] them.

Setting Up the Tabernacle

40 Then the LORD said to Moses: 2"Set up[l] the tabernacle, the Tent of Meeting,[m] on the first day of the first month.[n] 3Place the ark[o] of the Testimony in it and shield the ark with the curtain. 4Bring in the table[p] and set out what belongs on it.[q] Then bring in the lampstand[r] and set up its lamps. 5Place the gold altar[s] of incense in front of the ark of the Testimony and put the curtain at the entrance to the tabernacle.

6"Place the altar[t] of burnt offering in front of the entrance to the tabernacle, the Tent of Meeting; 7place the basin[u] between the Tent of Meeting and the altar and put water in it. 8Set up the courtyard[v] around it and put the curtain at the entrance to the courtyard.

9"Take the anointing oil and anoint[w] the tabernacle and everything in it; consecrate it and all its furnishings,[x] and it will be holy. 10Then anoint the altar of burnt offering and all its utensils; consecrate[y] the altar, and it will be most holy. 11Anoint the basin and its stand and consecrate them.

12"Bring Aaron and his sons to the entrance to the Tent of Meeting[z] and wash them with water.[a] 13Then dress Aaron in the sacred garments,[b] anoint him and consecrate[c] him so he may serve me as priest. 14Bring his sons and dress them in tunics.[d] 15Anoint them just as you anointed their father, so they may serve me as priests. Their anointing will be to a priesthood that will continue for all generations to come.[e]" 16Moses did everything just as the LORD commanded[f] him.

17So the tabernacle[g] was set up on the first day of the first month[h] in the second year. 18When Moses[i] set up the tabernacle, he put the bases in place, erected the frames,[j] inserted the crossbars and set up the posts. 19Then he spread the tent over the tabernacle and put the covering[k] over the tent, as the LORD commanded[l] him.

22Moses placed the table[r] in the Tent of Meeting on the north side of the tabernacle outside the curtain 23and set out the bread[s] on it before the LORD, as the LORD commanded[t] him.

24He placed the lampstand[u] in the Tent of Meeting opposite the table on the south side of the tabernacle 25and set up the lamps[v] before the LORD, as the LORD commanded[w] him.

26Moses placed the gold altar[x] in the Tent of Meeting in front of the curtain 27and burned fragrant incense on it, as the LORD commanded[y] him. 28Then he put up the curtain[z] at the entrance to the tabernacle.

29He set the altar[a] of burnt offering near the entrance to the tabernacle, the Tent of Meeting, and offered on it burnt offerings and grain offerings,[b] as the LORD commanded[c] him.

39:43 Moses blessed them. For the faithfulness with which the Israelites had donated their gifts, time and talents in building the tabernacle and all its furnishings—faithfulness in service brings divine benediction.

40:2 first day of the first month. The tabernacle was set up almost a year after the institution of the Passover (see v. 17; 12:2,6).

40:16 Moses did . . . just as the LORD commanded. Moses' obedience to God's command is a key theme of the final chapter of Exodus (see vv. 19,21,23,25,27,29,32). It was the people who provided all the resources and made all the components, but it was the Lord's servant Moses who was authorized to erect the tabernacle and prepare it for the Lord's entry.

[30]He placed the basin[d] between the Tent of Meeting and the altar and put water in it for washing, [31]and Moses and Aaron and his sons used it to wash[e] their hands and feet. [32]They washed whenever they entered the Tent of Meeting or approached the altar,[f] as the LORD commanded[g] Moses.

[33]Then Moses set up the courtyard[h] around the tabernacle and altar and put up the curtain[i] at the entrance to the courtyard. And so Moses finished the work.

The Glory of the LORD

[34]Then the cloud[j] covered the Tent of Meeting, and the glory[k] of the LORD filled the tabernacle. [35]Moses could not enter the Tent of Meeting because the cloud had settled upon it, and the glory[l] of the LORD filled the tabernacle.[m]

[36]In all the travels of the Israelites, whenever the cloud lifted from above the tabernacle, they would set out;[n] [37]but if the cloud did not lift, they did not set out—until the day it lifted. [38]So the cloud[o] of the LORD was over the tabernacle by day, and fire was in the cloud by night, in the sight of all the house of Israel during all their travels.

Leviticus

Author and Date

See note on 1:1 and Introduction to Genesis: Author and Date of Writing.

Title

Leviticus receives its name from the Septuagint (the Greek translation of the OT) and means "relating to the Levites." Its Hebrew title, wayyiqra', is the first word in the Hebrew text of the book and means "And he [i.e., the Lord] called." Although Leviticus does not deal only with the special duties of the Levites, it is so named because it concerns mainly the service of worship at the tabernacle, which was conducted by the priests who were the sons of Aaron, assisted by many from the rest of the tribe of Levi. Exodus gave the directions for building the tabernacle, and now Leviticus gives the laws and regulations for worship there including instructions on ceremonial cleanness, moral laws, holy days, the sabbath year and the Year of Jubilee. These laws were given, at least for the most part, during the year that Israel camped at Mount Sinai, when God directed Moses in organizing Israel's worship, government and military forces. The book of Numbers continues the history with preparations for moving on from Sinai to Canaan.

Themes

The key thought of Leviticus is holiness (see note on 11:44)—the holiness of God and man (man must revere God in "holiness"). In Leviticus spiritual holiness is symbolized by physical perfection. Therefore the book demands perfect animals for its many sacrifices (chs. 1—7) and requires priests without deformity (chs. 8—10). A woman's hemorrhaging after giving birth (ch. 12); sores, burns or baldness (chs. 13—14); a man's bodily discharge (15:1–18); specific activities during a woman's monthly period (15:19–33)—all may be signs of blemish (a lack of perfection) and may symbolize man's spiritual defects, which break his spiritual wholeness. The person with visible skin disease must be banished from the camp, the place of God's special presence, just as Adam and Eve were banished from the Garden of Eden. Such a person can return to the camp (and therefore to God's presence) when he is pronounced whole again by the examining priests. Before he can reenter the camp, however, he has to offer the prescribed, perfect sacrifices (symbolizing the perfect, whole sacrifice of Christ).

After the covenant at Sinai, Israel was the earthly representation of God's kingdom (the theocracy), and, as her King, the Lord established his administration over all of Israel's life. Her religious, communal and personal life was so regulated as to establish her as God's holy people and to instruct her in holiness. Special attention was given to Israel's religious ritual. The sacrifices were to be offered at an approved sanctuary, which would symbolize both God's holiness and his compassion. They were to be controlled by the priests, who by care and instruction would preserve them in purity and carefully teach their meaning to the people. Each particular sacrifice was to have meaning for the people of Israel but would also have spiritual and symbolic import.

For more information on the meaning of sacrifice in general see the solemn ritual of the Day of Atonement (ch. 16). For the meaning of the blood of the offering see 17:11; Ge 9:4. For the emphasis on substitution see 16:21.

Some suppose that the OT sacrifices were remains of old agricultural offerings—a human desire to offer part of one's possessions as a love gift to the deity. But the OT sacrifices were specifically prescribed by God and received their meaning from the Lord's covenant relationship with Israel—whatever their superficial resemblances to pagan sacrifices. They indeed include the idea of a gift, but this is accompanied by such other values as dedication, communion, propitiation (appeasing God's judicial wrath against sin) and restitution. The various offerings have differing functions, the primary ones being atonement (see note on Ex 25:17) and worship.

Outline

The subjects treated in Leviticus, as in any book of laws and regulations, cover several categories:

I. The Five Main Offerings (chs. 1—7)
   A. Their Content, Purpose and Manner of Offering (1:1—6:7)
   B. Additional Regulations (6:8—7:38)
II. The Ordination, Installation and Work of Aaron and His Sons (chs. 8—10)
III. Laws of Cleanness—Food, Childbirth, Diseases, etc. (chs. 11—15)
IV. The Day of Atonement and the Centrality of Worship at the Tabernacle (chs. 16—17)
V. Moral Laws Covering Incest, Honesty, Thievery, Idolatry, etc. (chs. 18—20)
VI. Regulations for the Priests, the Offerings and the Annual Feasts (21:1—24:9)
VII. Punishment for Blasphemy, Murder, etc. (24:10–23)
VIII. The Sabbath Year, Jubilee, Land Tenure and Reform of Slavery (ch. 25)
IX. Blessings and Curses for Covenant Obedience and Disobedience (ch. 26)
X. Regulations for Offerings Vowed to the Lord (ch. 27)

The Burnt Offering

1 The LORD called to Moses[a] and spoke to him from the Tent of Meeting.[b] He said, 2"Speak to the Israelites and say to them: 'When any of you brings an offering to the LORD,[c] bring as your offering an animal from either the herd or the flock.[d]

3" 'If the offering is a burnt offering[e] from the herd,[f] he is to offer a male without defect.[g] He must present it at the entrance to the Tent[h] of Meeting so that it[a] will be acceptable[i] to the LORD. 4He is to lay his hand on the head[j] of the burnt offering,[k] and it will be accepted[l] on his behalf to make atonement[m] for him. 5He is to slaughter[n] the young bull[o] before the LORD, and then Aaron's sons[p] the priests shall bring the blood and sprinkle it against the altar on all sides[q] at the entrance to the Tent of Meeting. 6He is to skin[r] the burnt offering and cut it into pieces.[s] 7The sons of Aaron the priest are to put fire on the altar and arrange wood[t] on the fire. 8Then Aaron's sons the priests shall arrange the pieces, including the head and the fat,[u] on the burning wood[v] that is on the altar. 9He is to wash the inner parts and the legs with water,[w] and the priest is to burn all of it[x] on the altar.[y] It is a burnt offering,[z] an offering made by fire,[a] an aroma pleasing to the LORD.[b]

10" 'If the offering is a burnt offering from the flock, from either the sheep[c] or the goats,[d] he is to offer a male without defect. 11He is to slaughter it at the north side of the altar[e] before the LORD, and Aaron's sons the priests shall sprinkle its blood against the altar on all sides.[f] 12He is to cut it into pieces, and the priest shall arrange them, including the head and the fat,[g] on the burning wood that is on the altar. 13He is to wash the inner parts and the legs with water,[h] and the priest is to bring all of it and burn it[i] on the altar.[j] It is a burnt offering,[k] an offering made by fire, an aroma pleasing to the LORD.

14" 'If the offering to the LORD is a burnt offering of birds, he is to offer a dove or a young pigeon.[l] 15The priest shall bring it to the altar, wring off the head[m] and

[a]3 Or he

1:1 Emphasizes that the contents of Leviticus were given to Moses by God at Mount Sinai. Cf. also the concluding verse (27:34). In more than 50 places it is said that the Lord spoke to Moses. Modern criticism has attributed practically the whole book to priestly legislation written during or after the exile. But this is without objective evidence, is against the repeated claim of the book to be Mosaic, is against the traditional Jewish view, and runs counter to other OT and NT witness (Ro 10:5). Many items in Leviticus are now seen to be best explained in terms of a second-millennium B.C. date, which is also the most likely time for Moses to have written the Pentateuch (see Introduction to Genesis: Author and Date of Writing). There is no convincing reason not to take at face value the many references to Moses and his work. Tent of Meeting. The tabernacle, where God met with Israel (see note on Ex 27:21).

1:2 brings an offering. The Hebrew word for "offering" used here comes from the word translated "brings." An "offering" is something that someone "brings" to God as a gift (most offerings were voluntary, such as the burnt offering). Corban is the word for "offering" and is used in Mk 7:11, where Mark also translates it "gift" (see note there).

1:3 burnt offering. See further priestly regulations in 6:8–13 (see also chart on "OT Sacrifices," p. 149). A burnt offering was offered every morning and evening for all Israel (Ex 29:39–42). Double burnt offerings were brought on the Sabbath (Nu 28:9–10) and extra ones on feast days (Nu 28–29). In addition, anyone could offer special burnt offerings to express devotion to the Lord. male. The burnt offering had to be a male animal because of its greater value, and also perhaps because it was thought to better represent vigor and fertility. It was usually a young sheep or goat (for the average individual), but bulls (for the wealthy) and doves or pigeons (for the poor) were also specified. without defect. The animal had to be unblemished (cf. Mal 1:8). As in all offerings, the offerer was to lay his hand on the head of the animal to express identification between himself and the animal (16:21), whose death would then be accepted in "atonement" (v. 4). The blood was sprinkled on the sides of the great altar (located outside the tabernacle—later the temple—in the eastern half of the courtyard), where the fire of sacrifice was never to go out (6:13). The whole sacrifice was to be burned up (v. 9), including the head, legs, fat and inner organs. It is therefore sometimes called a holocaust offering (holo means "whole," and caust means "burnt"). When a bull was offered, however, the officiating priest could keep its hide (7:8). The burnt offering may have been the usual sacrifice offered by the patriarchs. It was the most comprehensive in its meaning. Its Hebrew name means "going up," perhaps symbolizing worship and prayer as its aroma ascended to the Lord (v. 17). The completeness of its burning also speaks of dedication on the part of the worshiper. entrance to the Tent of Meeting. Where the altar of burnt offering was (see Ex 40:29). acceptable to the LORD. See Ro 12:1; Php 4:18.

1:4 lay his hand on. See notes on v. 3; Ex 29:10. atonement. See notes on 16:20–22; 17:11.

1:5 Only after the offerer killed the animal (symbolizing substitution of a perfect animal sacrifice for a sinful human life) did the priestly work begin. blood. See notes on 17:11; Heb 9:18. sprinkle it against the altar. See Ex 24:6; Heb 9:19–21.

1:6 skin. The whole animal was burned except the hide, which was given to the priest (7:8).

1:9,13,17 aroma pleasing to the LORD. The OT sacrifices foreshadowed Christ, who was a "fragrant offering" (Eph 5:2; cf. Php 4:18).

1:11 north side. See diagram of "The Tabernacle," p. 124.

1:14 birds. Three categories of sacrifices are mentioned: (1) herds (vv. 3–9), (2) flocks (vv. 10–13) and (3) birds (vv. 14–17). Sacrifices of birds were allowed for the poor (see 5:7; 12:8; Lk 2:24).

burn it on the altar; its blood shall be drained out on the side of the altar.[n] 16He is to remove the crop with its contents[b] and throw it to the east side of the altar, where the ashes[o] are. 17He shall tear it open by the wings, not severing it completely,[p] and then the priest shall burn it on the wood[q] that is on the fire on the altar. It is a burnt offering, an offering made by fire, an aroma pleasing to the LORD.

The Grain Offering

2 " 'When someone brings a grain offering[r] to the LORD, his offering is to be of fine flour.[s] He is to pour oil[t] on it,[u] put incense on it[v] 2and take it to Aaron's sons the priests. The priest shall take a handful of the fine flour[w] and oil, together with all the incense,[x] and burn this as a memorial portion[y] on the altar, an offering made by fire,[z] an aroma pleasing to the LORD.[a] 3The rest of the grain offering belongs to Aaron and his sons;[b] it is a most holy[c] part of the offerings made to the LORD by fire.

4" 'If you bring a grain offering baked in an oven,[d] it is to consist of fine flour: cakes made without yeast and mixed with oil, or[c] wafers[e] made without yeast and spread with oil.[f] 5If your grain offering is prepared on a griddle,[g] it is to be made of fine flour mixed with oil, and without yeast. 6Crumble it and pour oil on it; it is a grain offering. 7If your grain offering is cooked in a pan,[h] it is to be made of fine flour and oil. 8Bring the grain offering made of these things to the LORD; present it to the priest, who shall take it to the altar. 9He shall take out the memorial portion[i] from the grain offering and burn it on the altar as an offering made by fire, an aroma pleasing to the LORD.[j] 10The rest of the grain offering belongs to Aaron and his sons;[k] it is a most holy part of the offerings made to the LORD by fire.[l]

11" 'Every grain offering you bring to the LORD must be made without yeast,[m] for you are not to burn any yeast or honey in an offering made to the LORD by fire. 12You may bring them to the LORD as an offering of the firstfruits,[n] but they are not to be offered on the altar as a pleasing aroma. 13Season all your grain offerings with salt.[o] Do not leave the salt of the covenant[p] of your God out of your grain offerings; add salt to all your offerings.

14" 'If you bring a grain offering of firstfruits[q] to the LORD, offer crushed heads of new grain roasted in the fire. 15Put oil and incense[r] on it; it is a grain offering. 16The priest shall burn the memorial portion[s] of the crushed grain and the oil, together with all the incense,[t] as an offering made to the LORD by fire.[u]

The Fellowship Offering

3 " 'If someone's offering is a fellowship offering,[d][v] and he offers an animal from the herd, whether male or

1:17 not severing it completely. See note on Ge 15:10.
2:1 grain offering. See further priestly regulations in 6:14–23; 7:9–10. It was made of grain or fine flour. If baked or cooked, it consisted of cakes or wafers made in a pan or oven or on a griddle. It was the only bloodless offering, but it was to accompany the burnt offering (see Nu 28:3–6), sin offering (see Nu 6:14–15) and fellowship offering (see 9:4; Nu 6:17). The amounts of grain offering ingredients specified to accompany a bull, ram or lamb sacrificed as a burnt offering are given in Nu 28:12–13. A representative handful of flour was to be burned on the altar with the accompanying offerings, and the balance was to be baked without yeast and eaten by the priests in their holy meals (6:14–17). The flour that was burned on the altar was mixed with olive oil for shortening, salted for taste and accompanied by incense, but it was to have no yeast or honey—neither of which was allowed on the altar (vv. 11–13). The cooked product was similar to pie crust. The worshiper was not to eat any of the grain offering, and the priests were not to eat any of their own grain offerings, which were to be totally burned (6:22–23). The Hebrew word for grain offering can mean "present" or "gift" and is often used in that way (see Ge 43:11). The sacred gifts expressed devotion to God (see v. 2). fine flour. Grain that was milled and sifted. oil. Olive oil is often mentioned in connection with grain and new wine as fresh products of the harvest (see Dt 7:13). Used extensively in cooking, it was a suitable part of the worshiper's gift. incense. Frankincense was the chief ingredient (see Ex 30:34–35).
2:3 most holy part. For this reason, the priests were to eat it in the sanctuary area proper and not feed their families with it (6:16–18).
2:4 without yeast. See notes on Ex 12:8,15.
2:5 griddle. A clay pan that rested on a stone heated by a fire. Later, iron pans were sometimes used.
2:11 honey. It was forbidden on the altar perhaps because of its use in brewing beer (as an aid to fermentation), though some suggest that it was because of its use in Canaanite cultic practice.
2:12 firstfruits. See 23:10–11; Ex 23:16,19; Nu 15:18–20; Dt 18:4–5; 26:1–11.
2:13 salt of the covenant. In ancient times salt was often costly and a valuable part of the diet. Perhaps this is why it was used as a covenant sign and was required for sacrifices.
3:1 fellowship offering. See further priestly regulations in 7:11–21,28–34. Two basic ideas are included in this offering: peace and fellowship. The traditional translation is "peace offering," a name that comes from the Hebrew word for the offering, which in turn is related to the Hebrew word shalom, meaning "peace" or "wholeness." Thus the offering perhaps symbolized peace between God and man as well as the inward peace that resulted. The fellowship offering was the only sacrifice of which the offerer might eat a part. Fellowship was involved because the offerer, on the basis of the sacrifice, had fellowship with God and with the priest, who also ate part of the offering (7:14–15,31–34). This sacrifice—along with others—was offered by the thousands during the three annual festivals in Israel (see Ex 23:14–17; Nu 29:39) because multitudes of people came to the temple to worship and share in a communal meal. During the monarchy, the animals offered by the people were usually supplemented by large numbers given by the king. At the dedication of the temple, Solomon offered 20,000 cattle and 120,000 sheep and goats as fellowship offerings over a period of 14 days (1Ki 8:63–65).

3:2 lay his hand on. See notes on 1:3; Ex 29:10.

3:5 on top of the burnt offering. The burnt offerings for the nation as a whole were offered every morning and evening, and the fellowship offerings were offered on top of them.

3:9 fat tail. A breed of sheep still much used in the Middle East has a tail heavy with fat.

3:11,16 on the altar as food. Israelite sacrifices were not "food for the gods" (as in other ancient cultures; see Eze 16:20; cf. Ps 50:9–13) but were sometimes called "food" metaphorically (21:6,8,17,21; 22:25) in the sense that they were gifts to God and that he received them with delight.

3:17 not eat any fat or any blood. See note on 17:11.

4:2 unintentionally. See 5:15; contrast Nu 15:30–31. Four classes of people involved in committing unintentional sins are listed: (1) "the anointed priest" (vv. 3–12), (2) the "whole Israelite community" (vv. 13–21), (3) a "leader" (vv. 22–26) and (4) a "member of the community" (vv. 27–35). Heb 9:7 speaks of sins "committed in ignorance" in referring to the Day of Atonement.

4:3 anointed priest. The high priest (see 6:20,22). sins. All high priests sinned except the high priest Jesus Christ (Heb 5:1–3; 7:26–28). on the people. The relationship of the priests to the people was so intimate in Israel (as a nation consecrated to God) that the people became guilty when the priest sinned. must. Although the burnt, grain and fellowship offerings (chs. 1–3) were voluntary, the sin offering was compulsory (see vv. 14,23,28). without defect. A defective sacrifice could not be a substitute for a defective people. The final perfect sacrifice for the sins of God's people was the crucified Christ, who was without any moral defect (Heb 9:13–14; 1Pe 1:19). sin offering. See further priestly regulations in 6:24–30; Nu 15:22–29. As soon as an "anointed priest" (or a person from one of the other classes of people) became aware of unintentional sin, he was to bring his sin offering to the Lord. On the other hand, should the priest (or others) remain unaware of unintentional sin, this lack was atoned for on the Day of Atonement.

4:4 Three principles of atonement are found in this verse: (1) substitution ("present the bull"), (2) identification ("lay his hand on its head") and (3) the death of the substitute ("slaughter it").

Old Testament Sacrifices

| SACRIFICE | OT REFERENCES | ELEMENTS | PURPOSE |
|---|---|---|---|
| Burnt Offering | Lev 1; 6:8-13; 8:18-21; 16:24 | Bull, ram or male bird (dove or young pigeon for the poor); wholly consumed; no defect | Voluntary act of worship; atonement for unintentional sin in general; expression of devotion, commitment and complete surrender to God |
| Grain Offering | Lev 2; 6:14-23 | Grain, fine flour, olive oil, incense, baked bread (cakes or wafers), salt; no yeast or honey; accompanied burnt offering and fellowship offering (along with drink offering) | Voluntary act of worship; recognition of God's goodness and provisions; devotion to God |
| Fellowship Offering | Lev 3; 7:11-34 | Any animal without defect from herd or flock; variety of breads | Voluntary act of worship; thanksgiving and fellowship (it included a communal meal) |
| Sin Offering | Lev 4:1–5:13; 6:24-30; 8:14-17; 16:3-22 | 1. Young bull: for high priest and congregation2. Male goat: for leader3. Female goat or lamb: for common person4. Dove or pigeon: for the poor5. Tenth of an ephah of fine flour: for the very poor | Mandatory atonement for specific unintentional sin; confession of sin; forgiveness of sin; cleansing from defilement |
| Guilt Offering | Lev. 5:14–6:7; 7:1-6 | Ram or lamb | Mandatory atonement for unintentional sin requiring restitution; cleansing from defilement; make restitution; pay 20% fine |

When more than one kind of offering was presented (as in Nu 7:16,17), the procedure was usually as follows: (1) sin offering or guilt offering, (2) burnt offering, (3) fellowship offering and grain offering (along with a drink offering). This sequence furnishes part of the spiritual significance of the sacrificial system. First, sin had to be dealt with (sin offering or guilt offering). Second, the worshiper committed himself completely to God (burnt offering and grain offering). Third, fellowship or communion between the Lord, the priest and the worshiper (fellowship offering) was established. To state it another way, there were sacrifices of expiation (sin offerings and guilt offerings), consecration (burnt offerings and grain offerings) and communion (fellowship offerings—these included vow offerings, thank offerings and freewill offerings).

the LORD. 5Then the anointed priest shall take some of the bull's blood[p] and carry it into the Tent of Meeting. 6He is to dip his finger into the blood and sprinkle[q] some of it seven times before the LORD,[r] in front of the curtain of the sanctuary.[s] 7The priest shall then put some of the blood on the horns[t] of the altar of fragrant incense that is before the LORD in the Tent of Meeting. The rest of the bull's blood he shall pour out at the base of the altar[u] of burnt offering[v] at the entrance to the Tent of Meeting. 8He shall remove all the fat[w] from the bull of the sin offering—the fat that covers the inner parts or is connected to them, 9both kidneys with the fat on them near the loins, and the covering of the liver, which he will remove with the kidneys[x]— 10just as the fat is removed from the ox[ey] sacrificed as a fellowship offering.[fz] Then the priest shall burn them on the altar of burnt offering.[a] 11But the hide of the bull and all its flesh, as well as the head and legs, the inner parts and offal[b]— 12that is, all the rest of the bull—he must take outside the camp[c] to a place ceremonially clean,[d] where the ashes[e] are thrown, and burn it[f] in a wood fire on the ash heap.[g]

In this way the priest will make atonement[w] for them, and they will be forgiven.[x] 21Then he shall take the bull outside the camp[y] and burn it as he burned the first bull. This is the sin offering for the community.[z]

[e] 10 The Hebrew word can include both male and female. [f] 10 Traditionally peace offering; also in verses 26, 31 and 35

4:5 blood. See note on 17:11. There were two types of sin offerings. The first (vv. 3–21) and more important involved sprinkling the blood in the tabernacle in front of the inner curtain or, in the case of the solemn Day of Atonement (ch. 16), on and in front of the atonement cover (traditionally "mercy seat") itself. This type of sin offering was not eaten. The fat, kidneys and covering of the liver were burned on the great altar, but all the rest was burned outside the camp (v. 12). Heb 13:11–13 clearly draws the parallel to our sin offering, Jesus, who suffered outside the city gate. This type of sin offering was offered by and for a priest or by the elders for the whole community. In general, the animal to be sacrificed was a young bull, but on the Day of Atonement the sin offering was to be a goat (16:9).

The second type of sin offering (4:22–5:13) was for a leader of the nation or a private individual. Some of the blood was applied to the horns of the great altar, the rest poured out at its base. The fat, etc., was burned on the altar, but the rest of the offering was given to the priest and his male relatives as food to be eaten in a holy place (6:29–30; see 10:16–20). The sin offering brought by a private person was to be a female goat or lamb. If the person was poor, he could bring a dove or young pigeon (5:7–8; 12:6,8; cf. Lk 2:24), or even about two quarts of flour (5:11). The offering included confession (5:5) and the symbolic transfer of guilt by laying hands on the sacrifice (v. 29; 16:21). Then the priest who offered the sacrifice made atonement for the sin, and the Lord promised forgiveness (5:13). By bringing such a sin offering, a faithful Israelite under conviction of sin sought restoration of fellowship with God.

4:6 finger. The right forefinger (see 14:16). seven. The number was symbolic of perfection and completeness (see note on Ge 5:5). curtain. The great curtain that separated the Holy Place from the Most Holy Place (Ex 26:33).

4:7 horns. The four horns of the altar (see Ex 30:1–3) were symbols of the atoning power of the sin offering (Ex 30:10).

4:8–10 See 3:3–5.

4:12 outside the camp. See note on 13:45–46. So also Jesus was crucified outside Jerusalem (Heb 13:11–13; see 9:11; 16:26–28; Nu 19:3; Eze 43:21). ceremonially clean. The distinction between clean and unclean was a matter of ritual or religious purity, not a concern for physical cleanliness (see chs. 11–15 for examples; see also Mk 7:1–4). burn. Since the sins of the offerer were symbolically transferred to the sacrificial bull, the bull had to be entirely destroyed and not thrown on the ash pile of 1:16.

4:15 elders. See note on Ex 3:16.

4:18 altar. Of incense (see v. 7).

4:20 sin offering. The offering of the priest who had sinned (v. 3). will be forgiven. In 4:20–6:7 this is a key phrase, occurring nine times and referring to forgiveness by God.

4:23 male goat. Less valuable animals were sacrificed for those with lesser standing in the community or of lesser economic means. Thus a bull was required for the high priest (v. 3) and the whole community (v. 14), but a male goat for a civic leader (v. 23) and a female goat (v. 28) or lamb (v. 32) for an ordinary Israelite. If an offerer was too poor, then doves and pigeons were sufficient (5:7) or even sin he committed, he must bring as his offering a male goat[c] without defect. [24]He is to lay his hand on the goat's head and slaughter it at the place where the burnt offering is slaughtered before the LORD.[d] It is a sin offering.[e] [25]Then the priest shall take some of the blood of the sin offering with his finger and put it on the horns of the altar[f] of burnt offering and pour out the rest of the blood at the base of the altar.[g] [26]He shall burn all the fat on the altar as he burned the fat of the fellowship offering. In this way the priest will make atonement[h] for the man's sin, and he will be forgiven.[i]

[27]"'If a member of the community sins unintentionally[j] and does what is forbidden in any of the LORD's commands, he is guilty. [28]When he is made aware of the sin he committed, he must bring as his offering[k] for the sin he committed a female goat[l] without defect. ### The Guilt Offering

[14]The LORD said to Moses: [15]"When a person commits a violation and sins unintentionally[h] in regard to any of the LORD's holy things, he is to bring to the LORD as a penalty[i] a ram[j] from the flock, one without defect and of the proper value in silver, according to the sanctuary shekel.[h][k] It is a guilt offering.[l] [16]He must make restitution[m] for what he has failed to do in regard to the holy things, add a fifth of the value[n] to that and give it all to the priest, who will make atonement for him with the ram as a guilt offering, and he will be forgiven.

[17]"If a person sins and does what is forbidden in any of the LORD's commands, even though he does not know it,[o] he is guilty and will be held responsible.[p] [18]He is to bring to the priest as a guilt offering[q] a ram from the flock, one without defect and of the proper value. In this way the priest will make atonement for him for the wrong he has committed unintentionally, and he will be forgiven.[r] [19]It is a guilt offering; he has been guilty of[i] wrongdoing against the LORD."[s]

6 The LORD said to Moses: [2]"If anyone sins and is unfaithful to the LORD[t] by deceiving his neighbor[u] about something entrusted to him or left in his care[v] or stolen, or if he cheats[w] him, [3]or if he finds lost property and lies about it,[x] or if he swears falsely,[y] or if he commits any such sin that people may do— [4]when he thus sins and becomes guilty, he must return[z] what he has stolen or taken by extortion, or what was entrusted to him, or the lost property he found, [5]or whatever it was he swore falsely about. He must make restitution[a] in full, add a fifth of the value to it and give it all to the owner on the day he presents his guilt offering.[b] [6]And as a penalty he must bring to the priest, that is, to the LORD, his guilt offering,[c] a ram from the flock, one without defect and of the proper value.[d] [7]In this way the priest will make atonement[e] for him before the LORD, and he will be forgiven for any of these things he did that made him guilty."

The Burnt Offering

[8]The LORD said to Moses: [9]"Give Aaron and his sons this command: 'These are the regulations for the burnt offering[f]: The burnt offering is to remain on the altar hearth throughout the night, till morning, and the fire must be kept burning on the altar.[g] [10]The priest shall then put on his linen clothes,[h] with linen undergarments next to his body,[i] and shall remove the ashes[j] of the burnt offering that the fire has consumed on the altar and place them beside the altar. [11]Then he is to take off these clothes and put on others, and carry the ashes outside the camp to a place that is ceremonially clean.[k] [12]The fire on the altar must be kept burning; it must not go out. Every morning the priest is to add firewood[l] and arrange the burnt offering on the fire and burn the fat[m] of the fellowship offerings[j][n] on it. [13]The fire must be kept burning on the altar continuously; it must not go out.

The Grain Offering

[14]" 'These are the regulations for the grain offering:[o] Aaron's sons are to bring it before the LORD, in front of the altar. [15]The priest is to take a handful of fine flour and oil, together with all the incense[p] on the grain offering,[q] and burn the memorial portion[r] on the altar as an aroma pleasing to the LORD. 5:15 guilt offering. See further priestly regulations in 7:1–6 (see also Isa 53:10). Traditionally called the "trespass offering," it was very similar to the sin offering (cf. 7:7), and the Hebrew words for the two were apparently sometimes interchanged. The major difference between the guilt and sin offerings was that the guilt offering was brought in cases where restitution for the sin was possible and therefore required (v. 16). Thus in cases of theft and cheating (6:2–5) the stolen property had to be returned along with 20 percent indemnity. By contrast, the sin offering was prescribed in cases of sin where no restitution was possible. The animal sacrificed as a guilt offering was always a ram.

19The LORD also said to Moses, 20"This is the offering Aaron and his sons are to bring to the LORD on the day he[l] is anointed:[f] a tenth of an ephah[mg] of fine flour[h] as a regular grain offering,[i] half of it in the morning and half in the evening. 21Prepare it with oil on a griddle;[j] bring it well-mixed and present the grain offering broken[n] in pieces as an aroma pleasing to the LORD. 22The son who is to succeed him as anointed priest[k] shall prepare it. ### The Sin Offering

24The LORD said to Moses, 25"Say to Aaron and his sons: 'These are the regulations for the sin offering:[m] The sin offering is to be slaughtered before the LORD[n] in the place[o] the burnt offering is slaughtered; it is most holy. 26The priest who offers it shall eat it; it is to be eaten in a holy place,[p] in the courtyard[q] of the Tent of Meeting.[r] 27Whatever touches any of the flesh will become holy,[s] and if any of the blood is spattered on a garment, you must wash it in a holy place. 28The clay pot[t] the meat is cooked in must be broken; but if it is cooked in a bronze pot, the pot is to be scoured and rinsed with water. 29Any male in a priest's family may eat it;[u] it is most holy.[v] 30But any sin offering whose blood is brought into the Tent of Meeting to make atonement[w] in the Holy Place[x] must not be eaten; it must be burned.[y]

It is a guilt offering. 6Any male in a priest's family may eat it,[d] but it must be eaten in a holy place; it is most holy.[e]

The Priests' Share

28The LORD said to Moses, 29"Say to the Israelites: 'Anyone who brings a fellowship offering to the LORD is to bring part of it as his sacrifice to the LORD. 30With his own hands he is to bring the offering made to the LORD by fire; he is to bring the fat, together with the breast, and wave the breast before the LORD as a wave offering.[k] 31The priest shall burn the fat on the altar,[l] but the breast belongs to Aaron and his sons.[m] 32You are to give the right thigh of your fellowship offerings to the priest as a contribution.[n] 33The son of Aaron who offers the blood and the fat of the fellowship offering shall have the right thigh as his share. 34From the fellowship offerings of the Israelites, I have taken the breast that is waved and the thigh[o] that is presented and have given them to Aaron the priest and his sons[p] as their regular share from the Israelites.'"

35This is the portion of the offerings made to the LORD by fire that were allotted to Aaron and his sons on the day they were presented to serve the LORD as priests. 36On the day they were anointed,[q] the LORD commanded that the Israelites give this to them as their regular share for the generations to come.

37These, then, are the regulations for the burnt offering,[r] the grain offering,[s] the sin offering, the guilt offering, the ordination offering[t] and the fellowship offering, 38which the LORD gave Moses[u] on Mount Sinai[v] on the day he commanded the Israelites to bring their offerings to the LORD,[w] in the Desert of Sinai.

case of the vow and freewill offerings within two days). One reason may have been that in Canaan meat spoiled quickly and thus became ceremonially impure (v. 18) because it was not then perfect (1:3; see 21:16–23). The prohibition applied also to the Passover (Ex 12:10).

7:16 vow. See 22:18–23. A vow was a solemn promise to offer a gift to God in response to a divine deliverance or blessing. Such vows often accompanied prayers for deliverance or blessing (see note on Ps 7:17). freewill offering. See 22:18–23.

7:19 ceremonially unclean. See note on 4:12.

7:20 cut off from his people. Removed from the covenant people through direct divine judgment (Ge 17:14), or (as here and in vv. 21,25,27; 17:4,9–10,14; 18:29; 19:8; 20:3,5–6,17–18; 23:29) through execution (see, e.g., 20:2–3; Ex 31:14), or possibly sometimes through banishment.

7:21 detestable. The penalty for doing things that were abominable in the Lord's eyes was severe (see note on v. 20; see also 18:29; 20:13).

7:22–27 See note on 17:11.

7:23 fat. The prohibition of fat for food was as strict as that of blood, but the reason was different. The fat of the fellowship offerings was the Lord's and was to be burned on the altar. There was no explicit prohibition of eating the fat of hunted animals like the gazelle or deer, but probably that was included (see 3:17; Dt 12:15–22).

7:26 not eat the blood. See note on 17:11; see also 3:17; 19:26; Ge 9:4–6; Dt 12:16,23–25; 15:23; 1Sa 14:32–34; Eze 33:25.

7:28–36 See 10:12–15; Nu 18:8–20; Dt 18:1–5.

7:30–32 breast . . . right thigh. The breast and right thigh given to the priest were first presented to the Lord with gestures described as waving the breast and presenting the thigh (v. 34). See 8:25–29; 9:21; 10:14–15; Ex 29:26–27; Nu 6:20; 18:11,18.

7:37–38 A summary of chs. 1–7.

7:37 ordination offering. See 8:14–36; Ex 29:1–35.

The Ordination of Aaron and His Sons

8:1–36pp — Ex 29:1–37

8 The LORD said to Moses, 2"Bring Aaron and his sons,[x] their garments,[y] the anointing oil,[z] the bull for the sin offering,[a] the two rams[b] and the basket containing bread made without yeast,[c] 3and gather the entire assembly[d] at the entrance to the Tent of Meeting." 4Moses did as the LORD commanded him, and the assembly gathered at the entrance to the Tent of Meeting.

5Moses said to the assembly, "This is what the LORD has commanded to be done.[e]" 6Then Moses brought Aaron and his sons forward and washed them with water.[f] 7He put the tunic on Aaron, tied the sash around him, clothed him with the robe and put the ephod on him. He also tied the ephod to him by its skillfully woven waistband; so it was fastened on him.[g] 8He placed the breastpiece[h] on him and put the Urim and Thummim[i] in the breastpiece. 9Then he placed the turban[j] on Aaron's head and set the gold plate, the sacred diadem,[k] on the front of it, as the LORD commanded Moses.[l]

10Then Moses took the anointing oil[m] and anointed[n] the tabernacle[o] and everything in it, and so consecrated them. 11He sprinkled some of the oil on the altar seven times, anointing the altar and all its utensils and the basin with its stand, to consecrate them.[p] 12He poured some of the anointing oil on Aaron's head and anointed[q] him to consecrate him.[r] 13Then he brought Aaron's sons[s] forward, put tunics[t] on them, tied sashes around them and put headbands on them, as the LORD commanded Moses.[u]

22He then presented the other ram, the ram for the ordination,[g] and Aaron and his sons laid their hands on its head.[h] 23Moses slaughtered the ram and took some of its blood and put it on the lobe of Aaron's right ear, on the thumb of his right hand and on the big toe of his right foot.[i] 24Moses also brought Aaron's sons forward and put some of the blood on the lobes of their right ears, on the thumbs of their right hands and on the big toes of their right feet. Then he sprinkled blood against the altar on all sides.[j] 25He took the fat[k], the fat tail, all the fat around the inner parts, the covering of the liver, both kidneys and their fat and the right thigh. 26Then from the basket of bread made without yeast, which was before the LORD, he took a cake of bread, and one made with oil, and a wafer;[l] he put these on the fat portions and on the right thigh. 27He put all these in the hands of Aaron and his sons and waved them before the LORD[m] as a wave offering. 28Then Moses took them from their hands and burned them on the altar on top of the burnt offering as an ordination offering, a pleasing aroma, an offering made to the LORD by fire. 29He also took the breast—Moses' share of the ordination ram[n]—and waved it before the LORD as a wave offering, as the LORD commanded Moses.

30Then Moses[o] took some of the anointing oil and some of the blood from the altar and sprinkled them on Aaron and his garments[p] and on his sons and their garments. So he consecrated[q] Aaron and his garments and his sons and their garments.

The oil was used to anoint the tabernacle, sacred objects and consecrated priests (vv. 10–12,30). It was later used to anoint leaders and kings (1Sa 10:1; 16:13). See also note on Ex 29:7.

[31]Moses then said to Aaron and his sons, "Cook the meat at the entrance to the Tent of Meeting[r] and eat it there with the bread from the basket of ordination offerings, as I commanded, saying,[q] 'Aaron and his sons are to eat it.' [32]Then burn up the rest of the meat and the bread. [33]Do not leave the entrance to the Tent of Meeting for seven days, until the days of your ordination are completed, for your ordination will last seven days.[s] [34]What has been done today was commanded by the LORD[t] to make atonement for you. [35]You must stay at the entrance to the Tent of Meeting day and night for seven days and do what the LORD requires,[u] so you will not die; for that is what I have been commanded." [36]So Aaron and his sons did everything the LORD commanded through Moses.

The Priests Begin Their Ministry

9 On the eighth day[v] Moses summoned Aaron and his sons and the elders[w] of Israel. [2]He said to Aaron, "Take a bull calf for your sin offering and a ram for your burnt offering, both without defect, and present them before the LORD. [3]Then say to the Israelites: 'Take a male goat[x] for a sin offering,[y] a calf[z] and a lamb[a]—both a year old and without defect—for a burnt offering, [4]and an ox[rb] and a ram for a fellowship offering[sc] to sacrifice before the LORD, together with a grain offering mixed with oil. For today the LORD will appear to you.[d]' "

[5]They took the things Moses commanded to the front of the Tent of Meeting, and the entire assembly came near and stood before the LORD. [6]Then Moses said, "This is what the LORD has commanded you to do, so that the glory of the LORD[e] may appear to you."

[7]Moses said to Aaron, "Come to the altar and sacrifice your sin offering and your burnt offering and make atonement for yourself and the people;[f] sacrifice the offering that is for the people and make atonement for them, as the LORD has commanded.[g]"

[8]So Aaron came to the altar and slaughtered the calf as a sin offering[h] for himself. [9]His sons brought the blood to him,[i] and he dipped his finger into the blood and put it on the horns of the altar; the rest of the blood he poured out at the base of the altar.[j k] [10]On the altar he burned the fat, the kidneys and the covering of the liver from the sin offering, as the LORD commanded Moses; [11]the flesh and the hide[l] he burned up outside the camp.[m]

[12]Then he slaughtered the burnt offering.[n] His sons handed him the blood,[o] and he sprinkled it against the altar on all sides. [13]They handed him the burnt offering piece by piece, including the head, and he burned them on the altar.[p] [14]He washed the inner parts and the legs and burned them on top of the burnt offering on the altar.[q]

[15]Aaron then brought the offering that was for the people.[r] He took the goat for the people's sin offering and slaughtered it and offered it for a sin offering as he did with the first one.

[16]He brought the burnt offering and offered it in the prescribed way.[s] [17]He also brought the grain offering, took a handful of it and burned it on the altar in addition to the morning's burnt offering.[t]

[18]He slaughtered the ox and the ram as the fellowship offering for the people.[u] His sons handed him the blood, and he sprinkled it against the altar on all sides. [19]But the fat portions of the ox and the ram—the fat tail, the layer of fat, the kidneys and the covering of the liver—[20]these they laid on the breasts, and then Aaron burned the fat on the altar. [21]Aaron waved the breasts and the right thigh before the LORD as a wave offering,[v] as Moses commanded.

[22]Then Aaron lifted his hands toward the people and blessed them.[w] And having sacrificed the sin offering, the burnt offering and the fellowship offering, he stepped down.

[23]Moses and Aaron then went into the Tent of Meeting.[x] When they came out, they blessed the people; and the glory of the LORD[y] appeared to all the people. [24]Fire[z] came out from the presence of the LORD and consumed the burnt offering and the fat portions on the altar. And when all the people saw it, they shouted for joy and fell facedown.[a]

The Death of Nadab and Abihu

10 Aaron's sons Nadab and Abihu[b] took their censers,[c] put fire in them[d] and added incense;[e] and they offered unauthorized fire before the LORD,[f] contrary to his command.[g] 2So fire came out[h] from the presence of the LORD and consumed them,[i] and they died before the LORD.[j] 3Moses then said to Aaron, "This is what the LORD spoke of when he said:

" 'Among those who approach me[k]
I will show myself holy;[l] in the sight of all the people
I will be honored.[m]' "

Aaron remained silent.

4Moses summoned Mishael and Elzaphan,[n] sons of Aaron's uncle Uzziel,[o] and said to them, "Come here; carry your cousins outside the camp,[p] away from the front of the sanctuary.[q]" 5So they came and carried them, still in their tunics,[r] outside the camp, as Moses ordered.

6Then Moses said to Aaron and his sons Eleazar and Ithamar,[s] "Do not let your hair become unkempt,[t] and do not tear your clothes,[u] or you will die and the LORD will be angry with the whole community.[v] But your relatives, all the house of Israel, may mourn[w] for those the LORD has destroyed by fire. 7Do not leave the entrance to the Tent of Meeting[x] or you will die, because the LORD's anointing oil[y] is on you." So they did as Moses said.

8Then the LORD said to Aaron, 9"You and your sons are not to drink wine[z] or other fermented drink[a] whenever you go into the Tent of Meeting, or you will die. This is a lasting ordinance[b] for the generations to come. 10You must distinguish between the holy and the common, between the unclean and the clean,[c] 11and you must teach[d] the Israelites all the decrees the LORD has given them through Moses.[e]"

12Moses said to Aaron and his remaining sons, Eleazar and Ithamar, "Take the grain offering[f] left over from the offerings made to the LORD by fire and eat it prepared without yeast beside the altar,[g] for it is most holy. 13Eat it in a holy place,[h] because it is your share and your sons' share of the offerings made to the LORD by fire; for so I have been commanded.[i] 14But you and your sons and your daughters may eat the breast[j] that was waved and the thigh that was presented. Eat them in a ceremonially clean place;[k] they have been given to you and your children as your share of the Israelites' fellowship offerings.[u] 15The thigh[l] that was presented and the breast that was waved must be brought with the fat portions of the offerings made by fire, to be waved before the LORD as a wave offering.[m] This will be the regular share for you and your children, as the LORD has commanded."

16When Moses inquired about the goat of the sin offering[n] and found that it had been burned up, he was angry with Eleazar and Ithamar, Aaron's remaining sons, and asked, 17"Why didn't you eat the sin offering[o] in the sanctuary area? It is most holy; it was given to you to take away the guilt[p] of the community by making atonement for them before the LORD. 18Since its blood was not taken into the Holy Place,[q] you should have eaten the goat in the sanctuary area, as I commanded.[r]"

19Aaron replied to Moses, "Today they

10:2; 1Ki 18:38.

10:1 censers. Ceremonial vessels containing hot coals and used for burning incense (see 16:12–13; 2Ch 26:19; Rev 8:3–4).

10:2 died before the LORD. Aaron's older sons are mentioned also in Ex 6:23; 24:1,9; 28:1; Nu 3:2–4; 26:60–61; 1Ch 6:3; 24:1–2. They are regularly remembered as having died before the Lord and as having had no sons. Their death was tragic and at first seems harsh, but no more so than that of Ananias and Sapphira (Ac 5:1–11). In both cases a new era was being inaugurated (cf. also the judgment on Achan, Jos 7, and on Uzzah, 2Sa 6:1–7). The new community had to be made aware that it existed for God, not vice versa.

10:6 tear your clothes. See 21:10; see also note on Ge 44:13.

10:7 Do not leave. To join the mourners (see 21:11–12).

10:10 between the holy and the common. The distinction between what was holy (sacred) and what was common (profane) was carefully maintained (see Eze 22:26; 42:20; 44:23; 48:14–15).

10:12–15 See 7:28–36; Nu 18:8–20; Dt 18:1–5.

10:18 Since its blood was not taken into the Holy Place, you should have eaten. There were two types of sin offerings: (1) those in which the blood was sprinkled within the tabernacle, and (2) those in which it was sprinkled only on the great altar. Portions of the second type normally should have been eaten (see note on 4:5). But Moses was satisfied when he learned that Aaron had acted sincerely and not in negligence or rebellion (vv. 19–20).

10:19 such things as this have happened to me. Perhaps referring to the death of his two oldest sons (v. 2), for which he mourned by fasting. Or possibly something had occurred that made him ceremonially unclean.

sacrificed their sin offering and their burnt offering[s] before the LORD, but such things as this have happened to me. Would the LORD have been pleased if I had eaten the sin offering today?" [20]When Moses heard this, he was satisfied.

Clean and Unclean Food

11 The LORD said to Moses and Aaron, [2]"Say to the Israelites: 'Of all the animals that live on land, these are the ones you may eat:[t] [3]You may eat any animal that has a split hoof completely divided and that chews the cud.

[4]" 'There are some that only chew the cud or only have a split hoof, but you must not eat them.[u] The camel, though it chews the cud, does not have a split hoof; it is ceremonially unclean for you. [5]The coney,[v] though it chews the cud, does not have a split hoof; it is unclean for you. [6]The rabbit, though it chews the cud, does not have a split hoof; it is unclean for you. [7]And the pig,[v] though it has a split hoof completely divided, does not chew the cud; it is unclean for you. [8]You must not eat their meat or touch their carcasses; they are unclean for you.[w]

[9]" 'Of all the creatures living in the water of the seas and the streams, you may eat any that have fins and scales. [10]But all creatures in the seas or streams that do not have fins and scales—whether among all the swarming things or among all the other living creatures in the water—you are to detest.[x] [11]And since you are to detest them, you must not eat their meat and you must detest their carcasses.[y] [12]Anything living in the water that does not have fins and scales is to be detestable to you.[z]

[13]" 'These are the birds you are to detest and not eat because they are detestable: the eagle, the vulture, the black vulture, [14]the red kite, any kind[a] of black kite, [15]any kind of raven,[b] [16]the horned owl, the screech owl, the gull, any kind of hawk, [17]the little owl, the cormorant, the great owl, [18]the white owl,[c] the desert owl, the osprey, [19]the stork,[d] any kind[e] of heron, the hoopoe and the bat.[w][f]

[20]" 'All flying insects that walk on all fours are to be detestable to you.[g] [21]There are, however, some winged creatures that walk on all fours that you may eat: those that have jointed legs for hopping on the ground. [22]Of these you may eat any kind of locust,[h] katydid, cricket or grasshopper. [23]But all other winged creatures that have four legs you are to detest.

[24]" 'You will make yourselves unclean by these;[i] whoever touches their carcasses will be unclean till evening.[j] [25]Whoever picks up one of their carcasses must wash his clothes,[k] and he will be unclean till evening.[l]

[26]" 'Every animal that has a split hoof not completely divided or that does not chew the cud is unclean for you; whoever touches ⌊the carcass of⌋ any of them will be unclean. [27]Of all the animals that walk on all fours, those that walk on their paws are unclean for you; whoever touches their carcasses will be unclean till evening. [28]Anyone who picks up their carcasses must wash his clothes, and he will be unclean till evening.[m] They are unclean for you.

[29]" 'Of the animals that move about on the ground, these are unclean for you:[n] the weasel, the rat,[o] any kind of great lizard, [30]the gecko, the monitor lizard, the wall lizard, the skink and the chameleon. [31]Of all those that move along the ground, these are unclean for you. Whoever touches them when they are dead will be unclean till evening. [32]When one of them dies and falls on something, that article, whatever its use, will be unclean, whether it is made of wood, cloth, hide or sackcloth.[p] Put it in water; it will be unclean till evening, and then it will be clean. [33]If one of them falls into a clay pot, everything in it will be unclean, and you must break the pot.[q] [34]Any food that could be eaten but has water on it from such a pot is unclean, and any liquid that could be drunk from it is un-

11:2 the ones you may eat. Ch. 11 is closely paralleled in Dt 14:3–21 but is more extensive. The animals acceptable for human consumption were those that chewed the cud and had a split hoof (v. 3). Of marine life, only creatures with fins and scales were permissible (v. 9). Birds and insects are also covered in the instructions (vv. 13–23). The distinction between clean and unclean food was as old as the time of Noah (Ge 7:2). The main reason for the laws concerning clean and unclean food is the same as for other laws concerning the clean and unclean—to preserve the sanctity of Israel as God's holy people (see v. 44). Some hold that certain animal life was considered unclean for health considerations, but it is difficult to substantiate this idea. Uncleanness typified sin and defilement. For the uncleanness of disease and bodily discharges see chs. 13–15.

11:6 rabbit. Does not technically chew the cud with regurgitation. The apparent chewing movements of the rabbit caused it to be classified popularly with cud chewers.

11:20 all fours. Although insects have six legs, perhaps people in ancient times did not count as ordinary legs the two large hind legs used for jumping.

clean. 35Anything that one of their carcasses falls on becomes unclean; an oven or cooking pot must be broken up. They are unclean, and you are to regard them as unclean. 36A spring, however, or a cistern for collecting water remains clean, but anyone who touches one of these carcasses is unclean. 37If a carcass falls on any seeds that are to be planted, they remain clean. 38But if water has been put on the seed and a carcass falls on it, it is unclean for you.

39" 'If an animal that you are allowed to eat dies,[r] anyone who touches the carcass[s] will be unclean till evening. 40Anyone who eats some of the carcass[t] must wash his clothes, and he will be unclean till evening.[u] Anyone who picks up the carcass must wash his clothes, and he will be unclean till evening.

41" 'Every creature that moves about on the ground is detestable; it is not to be eaten. 42You are not to eat any creature that moves about on the ground, whether it moves on its belly or walks on all fours or on many feet; it is detestable. 43Do not defile yourselves by any of these creatures.[v] Do not make yourselves unclean by means of them or be made unclean by them. 44I am the LORD your God;[w] consecrate yourselves[x] and be holy,[y] because I am holy.[z] Do not make yourselves unclean by any creature that moves about on the ground.[a] 45I am the LORD who brought you up out of Egypt[b] to be your God;[c] therefore be holy, because I am holy.[d]

46" 'These are the regulations concerning animals, birds, every living thing that moves in the water and every creature that moves about on the ground. 47You must distinguish between the unclean and the clean, between living creatures that may be eaten and those that may not be eaten.[e]' "

Purification After Childbirth

12 The LORD said to Moses, 2"Say to the Israelites: 'A woman who becomes pregnant and gives birth to a son will be ceremonially unclean for seven days, just as she is unclean during her monthly period.[f] 3On the eighth day[g] the boy is to be circumcised.[h] 4Then the woman must wait thirty-three days to be purified from her bleeding. She must not touch anything sacred or go to the sanctuary until the days of her purification are over. 5If she gives birth to a daughter, for two weeks the woman will be unclean, as during her period. Then she must wait sixty-six days to be purified from her bleeding.

6" 'When the days of her purification for a son or daughter are over,[i] she is to bring to the priest at the entrance to the Tent of Meeting a year-old lamb[j] for a burnt offering and a young pigeon or a dove for a sin offering.[k] 7He shall offer them before the LORD to make atonement for her, and then she will be ceremonially clean from her flow of blood.

" 'These are the regulations for the woman who gives birth to a boy or a girl. 8If she cannot afford a lamb, she is to bring two doves or two young pigeons,[l] one for a burnt offering and the other for a sin offering.[m] In this way the priest will make atonement for her, and she will be clean.[n]' "

11:36 cistern for collecting water. The use of waterproof plaster for lining cisterns dug in the ground was an important factor in helping the Israelites to settle the dry areas of Canaan after the conquest (cf. 2Ch 26:10).

11:41 ground. Verses 29–30 identify the animals that move about (or swarm) on the ground.

11:44 be holy, because I am holy. Holiness is the key theme of Leviticus, ringing like a refrain in various forms throughout the book (e.g., v. 45; 19:2; 20:7,26; 21:8,15; 22:9,16,32). The word "holy" appears more often in Leviticus than in any other book of the Bible. Israel was to be totally consecrated to God. Her holiness was to be expressed in every aspect of her life, to the extent that all of life had a certain ceremonial quality. Because of who God is and what he has done (v. 45), his people must dedicate themselves fully to him (cf. Mt 5:48). See Ro 12:1.

11:45 brought ... out of Egypt. A refrain found 8 more times in Leviticus (19:36; 22:33; 23:43; 25:38,42,55; 26:13,45) and nearly 60 times in 18 other books of the OT.

11:46–47 A summary of ch. 11.

12:2 unclean. The uncleanness came from the bleeding (vv. 4–5,7), not from the birth. It is not clear why the period of uncleanness after the birth of a baby boy (40 days) was half the period for a girl (80 days). monthly period. See 15:19–24.

12:3 See notes on Ge 17:10,12.

12:6 burnt offering. See note on 1:3. sin offering. See notes on 4:3,5.

12:8 See 1:14–17 and note on 1:14; see also 5:7–10; 14:21–22; and especially Lk 2:24 (Mary's offering for Jesus).

13:1–46 This section deals with preliminary symptoms of skin diseases (vv. 1–8) and then with the symptoms of (1) raw flesh (vv. 9–17), (2) boils (vv. 18–23), (3) burns (vv. 24–28), (4) sores on the head or chin (vv. 29–37), (5) white spots (vv. 38–39) and (6) skin diseases on the head that cause baldness (vv. 40–44).

13:2 infectious skin disease. Occurs often in chs. 13–14; see also 22:4; Nu 5:2. Since it is unlikely that ancient people would have understood the concept of infectiousness, this rendering is questionable; the Hebrew should perhaps be translated simply "skin disease." Such diseases show visible defects that could function aptly as a symbol for defilement—as could mildew (cf. vv. 47–59). disease. See NIV text note; see also 22:4–8; Nu 5:2–4; Dt 24:8–9. The symptoms described, and the fact that they may rapidly change (vv. 6,26–27,32–37), show that the disease was not true leprosy (Hansen's disease). They apply also to a num-ing[o] or a rash or a bright spot[p] on his skin that may become an infectious skin disease,[xq] he must be brought to Aaron the priest[r] or to one of his sons[y] who is a priest. 3The priest is to examine the sore on his skin, and if the hair in the sore has turned white and the sore appears to be more than skin deep,[z] it is an infectious skin disease. When the priest examines him, he shall pronounce him ceremonially unclean.[s] 4If the spot[t] on his skin is white but does not appear to be more than skin deep and the hair in it has not turned white, the priest is to put the infected person in isolation for seven days.[u] 5On the seventh day[v] the priest is to examine him,[w] and if he sees that the sore is unchanged and has not spread in the skin, he is to keep him in isolation another seven days. 6On the seventh day the priest is to examine him again, and if the sore has faded and has not spread in the skin, the priest shall pronounce him clean;[x] it is only a rash. The man must wash his clothes,[y] and he will be clean.[z] 7But if the rash does spread in his skin after he has shown himself to the priest to be pronounced clean, he must appear before the priest again.[a] 8The priest is to examine him, and if the rash has spread in the skin, he shall pronounce him unclean; it is an infectious disease.

9"When anyone has an infectious skin disease, he must be brought to the priest. 10The priest is to examine him, and if there is a white swelling in the skin that has turned the hair white and if there is raw flesh in the swelling, 11it is a chronic skin disease[b] and the priest shall pronounce him unclean. He is not to put him in isolation, because he is already unclean.

12"If the disease breaks out all over his skin and, so far as the priest can see, it covers all the skin of the infected person from head to foot, 13the priest is to examine him, and if the disease has covered his whole body, he shall pronounce that person clean. Since it has all turned white, he is clean. 14But whenever raw flesh appears on him, he will be unclean. 15When the priest sees the raw flesh, he shall pronounce him unclean. The raw flesh is unclean; he has an infectious disease.[c] 16Should the raw flesh change and turn white, he must go to the priest. 17The priest is to examine him, and if the sores have turned white, the priest shall pronounce the infected person clean;[d] then he will be clean.

18"When someone has a boil[e] on his skin and it heals, 19and in the place where the boil was, a white swelling or reddish-white[f] spot[g] appears, he must present himself to the priest. 20The priest is to examine it, and if it appears to be more than skin deep and the hair in it has turned white, the priest shall pronounce him unclean. It is an infectious skin disease[h] that has broken out where the boil was. 21But if, when the priest examines it, there is no white hair in it and it is not more than skin deep and has faded, then the priest is to put him in isolation for seven days. 22If it is spreading in the skin, the priest shall pronounce him unclean; it is infectious. 23But if the spot is unchanged and has not spread, it is only a scar from the boil, and the priest shall pronounce him clean.[i]

24"When someone has a burn on his skin and a reddish-white or white spot appears in the raw flesh of the burn, 25the priest is to examine the spot, and if the hair in it has turned white, and it appears to be more than skin deep, it is an infectious disease that has broken out in the burn. The priest shall pronounce him unclean; it is an infectious skin disease.[j] 26But if the priest examines it and there is no white hair in the spot and if it is not more than skin deep and has faded, then the priest is to put him in isolation for seven days.[k] 27On the seventh day the priest is to examine him,[l] and if it is spreading in the skin, the priest shall pronounce him unclean; it is an infectious skin disease. 28If, however, the spot is unchanged and has not spread in the skin but has faded, it is a swelling from the burn, and the priest shall pronounce him clean; it is only a scar from the burn.[m]

29"If a man or woman has a sore on the head[n] or on the chin, 30the priest is to examine the sore, and if it appears to be more than skin deep and the hair in it is yellow and thin, the priest shall pronounce that person unclean; it is an itch, an infectious disease of the head or chin. 31But if, when the priest examines this kind of sore, it does not seem to be more than skin deep and there is no black hair in it, then the priest is to put the infected person in isolation for seven days.[o] 32On the seventh day the priest is to examine the sore,[p] and if the itch has not spread and there is no yellow hair in it and it does not appear to be more than skin deep, [33]he must be shaved except for the diseased area, and the priest is to keep him in isolation another seven days. [34]On the seventh day the priest is to examine the itch,[q] and if it has not spread in the skin and appears to be no more than skin deep, the priest shall pronounce him clean. He must wash his clothes, and he will be clean.[r] [35]But if the itch does spread in the skin after he is pronounced clean, [36]the priest is to examine him, and if the itch has spread in the skin, the priest does not need to look for yellow hair; the person is unclean.[s] [37]If, however, in his judgment it is unchanged and black hair has grown in it, the itch is healed. He is clean, and the priest shall pronounce him clean.

[43]The priest is to examine him, and if the swollen sore on his head or forehead is reddish-white like an infectious skin disease, [44]the man is diseased and is unclean. The priest shall pronounce him unclean because of the sore on his head.

[45]"The person with such an infectious disease must wear torn clothes,[u] let his hair be unkempt,[a] cover the lower part of his face[v] and cry out, 'Unclean! Unclean!'[w] [46]As long as he has the infection he remains unclean. He must live alone; he must live outside the camp.[x]

Regulations About Mildew

[47]"If any clothing is contaminated with mildew—any woolen or linen clothing, [48]any woven or knitted material of linen or wool, any leather or anything made of leather— [49]and if the contamination in the clothing, or leather, or woven or knitted material, or any leather article, is greenish or reddish, it is a spreading mildew and must be shown to the priest.[y] [50]The priest is to examine the mildew[z] and isolate the affected article for seven days. [51]On the seventh day he is to examine it,[a] and if the mildew has spread in the clothing, or the woven or knitted material, or the leather, whatever its use, it is a destructive mildew; the article is unclean.[b] [52]He must burn up the clothing, or the woven or knitted material of wool or linen, or any leather article that has the contamination in it, because the mildew is destructive; the article must be burned up.[c]

[53]"But if, when the priest examines it, the mildew has not spread in the clothing, or the woven or knitted material, or the leather article, [54]he shall order that the contaminated article be washed. Then he is to isolate it for another seven days. [55]After the affected article has been washed, the priest is to examine it, and if the mildew has not changed its appearance, even though it has not spread, it is unclean. Burn it with fire, whether the mildew has affected one side or the other. [56]If, when the priest examines it, the mildew has faded after the article has been washed, he is to tear the contaminated part out of the clothing, or the leather, or the woven or knitted material. [57]But if it reappears in the clothing, or in the woven or knitted material, or in the leather article, it is spreading, and whatever has the mildew must be burned with fire. [58]The clothing, or the woven or knitted material, or any leather article that has been washed and is rid of the mildew, must be washed again, and it will be clean."

[59]These are the regulations concerning contamination by mildew in woolen or linen clothing, woven or knitted material, or any leather article, for pronouncing them clean or unclean.

13:45–46 The ceremonially unclean were excluded from the camp (the area around the tabernacle and courtyard), where the Israelites lived in tents. Later, no unclean person was allowed in the temple area, where he could mingle with others. Not only was God present in the tabernacle in a special way, but also in the camp (Nu 5:3; Dt 23:14). Therefore unclean people were not to be in the camp (see Nu 5:1–4; 12:14–15, Miriam; 31:19–24; see also Lev 10:4–5; Nu 15:35–36; 2Ki 7:3–4; 2Ch 26:21, Uzziah). As a result of their separation from God, the unclean were to exhibit their grief by tearing their clothes, by having unkempt hair and by partially covering their faces (v. 45).

13:47 mildew. During Israel's rainy season (October through March), this is a problem along the coast and by the Sea of Galilee, where it is very humid.

13:54 washed. See vv. 34,55–56,58. The treatment of disorders commonly included washing.

13:59 A summary of ch. 13.

14:1–32 The ritual after the skin disease had been cured had three parts: (1) ritual for the first week (outside the camp, vv. 1–7), (2) ritual for the second week (inside the camp, vv. 8–20) and (3) special permission for the poor (vv. 21–32).

camp and examine him.[e] If the person has been healed of his infectious skin disease,[bf] [4]the priest shall order that two live clean birds and some cedar wood, scarlet yarn and hyssop[g] be brought for the one to be cleansed.[h] [5]Then the priest shall order that one of the birds be killed over fresh water in a clay pot.[i] [6]He is then to take the live bird and dip it, together with the cedar wood, the scarlet yarn and the hyssop, into the blood of the bird that was killed over the fresh water.[j] [7]Seven times[k] he shall sprinkle[l] the one to be cleansed of the infectious disease and pronounce him clean. Then he is to release the live bird in the open fields.[m]

[8]"The person to be cleansed must wash his clothes,[n] shave off all his hair and bathe with water;[o] then he will be ceremonially clean.[p] After this he may come into the camp,[q] but he must stay outside his tent for seven days. [9]On the seventh day[r] he must shave off all his hair;[s] he must shave his head, his beard, his eyebrows and the rest of his hair. He must wash his clothes and bathe himself with water, and he will be clean.[t]

[10]"On the eighth day[u] he must bring two male lambs and one ewe lamb[v] a year old, each without defect, along with three-tenths of an ephah[cw] of fine flour mixed with oil for a grain offering,[x] and one log[d] of oil.[y] [11]The priest who pronounces him clean shall present[z] both the one to be cleansed and his offerings before the LORD at the entrance to the Tent of Meeting.[a]

[12]"Then the priest is to take one of the male lambs and offer it as a guilt offering,[b] along with the log of oil; he shall wave them before the LORD as a wave offering.[c] [13]He is to slaughter the lamb in the holy place[d] where the sin offering and the burnt offering are slaughtered. Like the sin offering, the guilt offering belongs to the priest;[e] it is most holy. [14]The priest is to take some of the blood of the guilt offering and put it on the lobe of the right ear of the one to be cleansed, on the thumb of his right hand and on the big toe of his right foot.[f] [15]The priest shall then take some of the log of oil, pour it in the palm of his own left hand,[g] [16]dip his right forefinger into the oil in his palm, and with his finger sprinkle some of it before the LORD seven times.[h] [17]The priest is to put some of the oil remaining in his palm on the lobe of the right ear of the one to be cleansed, on the thumb of his right hand and on the big toe of his right foot, on top of the blood of the guilt offering.[i] [18]The rest of the oil in his palm the priest shall put on the head of the one to be cleansed[j] and make atonement for him before the LORD.

[19]"Then the priest is to sacrifice the sin offering and make atonement for the one to be cleansed from his uncleanness.[k] After that, the priest shall slaughter the burnt offering [20]and offer it on the altar, together with the grain offering, and make atonement for him,[l] and he will be clean.[m]

[21]"If, however, he is poor[n] and cannot afford these,[o] he must take one male lamb as a guilt offering to be waved to make atonement for him, together with a tenth of an ephah[e] of fine flour mixed with oil for a grain offering, a log of oil, [22]and two doves or two young pigeons,[p] which he can afford, one for a sin offering and the other for a burnt offering.[q]

Cleansing From Mildew

33The LORD said to Moses and Aaron, 34"When you enter the land of Canaan,[e] which I am giving you as your possession,[f] and I put a spreading mildew in a house in that land, 35the owner of the house must go and tell the priest, 'I have seen something that looks like mildew in my house.' 36The priest is to order the house to be emptied before he goes in to examine the mildew, so that nothing in the house will be pronounced unclean. After this the priest is to go in and inspect the house. 37He is to examine the mildew on the walls, and if it has greenish or reddish[g] depressions that appear to be deeper than the surface of the wall, 38the priest shall go out the doorway of the house and close it up for seven days.[h] 39On the seventh day[i] the priest shall return to inspect the house. If the mildew has spread on the walls, 40he is to order that the contaminated stones be torn out and thrown into an unclean place outside the town.[j] 41He must have all the inside walls of the house scraped and the material that is scraped off dumped into an unclean place outside the town. 42Then they are to take other stones to replace these and take new clay and plaster the house.

43"If the mildew reappears in the house after the stones have been torn out and the house scraped and plastered, 44the priest is to go and examine it and, if the mildew has spread in the house, it is a destructive mildew; the house is unclean.[k] 45It must be torn down—its stones, timbers and all the plaster—and taken out of the town to an unclean place.

46"Anyone who goes into the house while it is closed up will be unclean till evening.[l] 47Anyone who sleeps or eats in the house must wash his clothes.[m]

48"But if the priest comes to examine it and the mildew has not spread after the house has been plastered, he shall pronounce the house clean,[n] because the mildew is gone. 49To purify the house he is to take two birds and some cedar wood, scarlet yarn and hyssop.[o] 50He shall kill one of the birds over fresh water in a clay pot.[p] 51Then he is to take the cedar wood, the hyssop,[q] the scarlet yarn and the live bird, dip them into the blood of the dead bird and the fresh water, and sprinkle the house seven times.[r] 52He shall purify the house with the bird's blood, the fresh water, the live bird, the cedar wood, the hyssop and the scarlet yarn. 53Then he is to release the live bird in the open fields[s] outside the town. In this way he will make atonement for the house, and it will be clean.[t]"

54These are the regulations for any infectious skin disease,[u] for an itch, 55for mildew[v] in clothing or in a house, 56and for a swelling, a rash or a bright spot,[w] 57to determine when something is clean or unclean.

Discharges Causing Uncleanness

15 The LORD said to Moses and Aaron, 2"Speak to the Israelites and say to them: 'When any man has a bodily discharge,[y] the discharge is unclean. 3Whether it continues flowing from his body or is blocked, it will make him unclean. This is how his discharge will bring about uncleanness:

4" 'Any bed the man with a discharge lies on will be unclean, and anything he sits on will be unclean. 5Anyone who touches his bed must wash his clothes[z] and bathe with water,[a] and he will be unclean till evening.[b] 6Whoever sits on

14:33–53 There are many similarities between this section and the previous one, particularly in the manner of restoration.

14:45 torn down. A house desecrated by mildew, mold or fungus would be a defiled place to live in, so drastic measures had to be taken.

15:1–33 The chapter deals with (1) male uncleanness caused by bodily discharge (vv. 2–15) or emission of semen (vv. 16–18); (2) female uncleanness caused by her monthly period (vv. 19–24) or lengthy hemorrhaging (vv. 25–30); (3) summary (vv. 31–33).

15:2 bodily discharge. Probably either diarrhea or urethral discharge (various kinds of infections). The contamination of anything under the man (v. 10), whether he sat (vv. 4,6,9) or lay (v. 4) on it, indicates that the bodily discharge had to do with the buttocks or genitals.

15:4 bed. Something like a mat (cf. 2Sa 11:13).

anything that the man with a discharge sat on must wash his clothes and bathe with water, and he will be unclean till evening.

7" 'Whoever touches the man[c] who has a discharge[d] must wash his clothes and bathe with water, and he will be unclean till evening.

8" 'If the man with the discharge spits[e] on someone who is clean, that person must wash his clothes and bathe with water, and he will be unclean till evening.

9" 'Everything the man sits on when riding will be unclean, 10and whoever touches any of the things that were under him will be unclean till evening; whoever picks up those things[f] must wash his clothes and bathe with water, and he will be unclean till evening.

11" 'Anyone the man with a discharge touches without rinsing his hands with water must wash his clothes and bathe with water, and he will be unclean till evening.

12" 'A clay pot[g] that the man touches must be broken, and any wooden article[h] is to be rinsed with water.

13" 'When a man is cleansed from his discharge, he is to count off seven days[i] for his ceremonial cleansing; he must wash his clothes and bathe himself with fresh water, and he will be clean.[j] 14On the eighth day he must take two doves or two young pigeons[k] and come before the LORD to the entrance to the Tent of Meeting and give them to the priest. 15The priest is to sacrifice them, the one for a sin offering[l] and the other for a burnt offering.[m] In this way he will make atonement before the LORD for the man because of his discharge.[n]

16" 'When a man has an emission of semen,[o] he must bathe his whole body with water, and he will be unclean till evening.[p] 17Any clothing or leather that has semen on it must be washed with water, and it will be unclean till evening.

18When a man lies with a woman and there is an emission of semen,[q] both must bathe with water, and they will be unclean till evening.

19" 'When a woman has her regular flow of blood, the impurity of her monthly period[r] will last seven days, and anyone who touches her will be unclean till evening.

20" 'Anything she lies on during her period will be unclean, and anything she sits on will be unclean. 21Whoever touches her bed must wash his clothes and bathe with water, and he will be unclean till evening.[s] 22Whoever touches anything she sits on must wash his clothes and bathe with water, and he will be unclean till evening. 23Whether it is the bed or anything she was sitting on, when anyone touches it, he will be unclean till evening.

24" 'If a man lies with her and her monthly flow[t] touches him, he will be unclean for seven days; any bed he lies on will be unclean.

25" 'When a woman has a discharge of blood for many days at a time other than her monthly period[u] or has a discharge that continues beyond her period, she will be unclean as long as she has the discharge, just as in the days of her period. 26Any bed she lies on while her discharge continues will be unclean, as is her bed during her monthly period, and anything she sits on will be unclean, as during her period. 27Whoever touches them will be unclean; he must wash his clothes and bathe with water, and he will be unclean till evening.

28" 'When she is cleansed from her discharge, she must count off seven days, and after that she will be ceremonially clean. 29On the eighth day she must take two doves or two young pigeons[v] and bring them to the priest at the entrance to the Tent of Meeting. 30The priest is to sacrifice one for a sin offering and the other for a burnt offering. In this way he will make atonement for her before the LORD for the uncleanness of her discharge.[w]

15:13 cleansed. God brought about the healing; the priest could only ascertain that a person was already healed.

15:16 semen. Normal sexual activity and a woman's menstruation required no sacrifices but only washing and a minimal period of uncleanness.

15:19 seven days. See 12:2. This regulation is the background of 2Sa 11:4 (Bathsheba).

15:20 See note on Ge 31:35.

15:24 A case of the woman's period beginning during intercourse. This is different from 18:19 and 20:18. flow. During her period a woman was protected from sexual activity. No offering was required for uncleanness contracted by a man in this way, but the uncleanness lasted seven days.

15:25 discharge of blood for many days. As, e.g., the woman in Mt 9:20. beyond her period. An unnatural discharge, possibly caused by disease, was treated like a sickness and required an offering upon recovery (vv. 28–30; see vv. 14–15).

15:31 Addressed to the priests, thus emphasizing the importance of the regulations. Since God dwelt in the tabernacle, any unholiness, symbolized by the discharges of ch. 15, could result in death if the people came into his presence. Sin separates all people from a holy God and results in their death, unless atonement is made (see the next chapter).

32These are the regulations for a man with a discharge, for anyone made unclean by an emission of semen,[y] 33for a woman in her monthly period, for a man or a woman with a discharge, and for a man who lies with a woman who is ceremonially unclean.[z]

The Day of Atonement

16:2–34pp — Lev 23:26–32; Nu 29:7–11

16 The LORD spoke to Moses after the death of the two sons of Aaron who died when they approached the LORD.[a] 2The LORD said to Moses: "Tell your brother Aaron not to come whenever he chooses[b] into the Most Holy Place[c] behind the curtain[d] in front of the atonement cover[e] on the ark, or else he will die, because I appear[f] in the cloud[g] over the atonement cover.

3"This is how Aaron is to enter the sanctuary area:[h] with a young bull[i] for a sin offering and a ram for a burnt offering.[j] 4He is to put on the sacred linen tunic,[k] with linen undergarments next to his body; he is to tie the linen sash around him and put on the linen turban.[l] These are sacred garments;[m] so he must bathe himself with water[n] before he puts them on.[o] 5From the Israelite community[p] he is to take two male goats[q] for a sin offering and a ram for a burnt offering.

6"Aaron is to offer the bull for his own sin offering to make atonement for himself and his household.[r] 7Then he is to take the two goats and present them before the LORD at the entrance to the Tent of Meeting. 8He is to cast lots[s] for the two goats—one lot for the LORD and the other for the scapegoat.[ht] 9Aaron shall bring the goat whose lot falls to the LORD and sacrifice it for a sin offering. 10But the goat chosen by lot as the scapegoat shall be presented alive before the LORD to be used for making atonement[u] by sending it into the desert as a scapegoat.

11"Aaron shall bring the bull for his own sin offering to make atonement for himself and his household,[v] and he is to slaughter the bull for his own sin offering. 12He is to take a censer full of burning coals[w] from the altar before the LORD and two handfuls of finely ground fragrant incense[x] and take them behind the curtain. 13He is to put the incense on the fire before the LORD, and the smoke of the incense will conceal the atonement

[h]8 That is, the goat of removal; Hebrew azazel; also in verses 10 and 26

16:1–34 See 23:26–32; 25:9; Ex 30:10; Nu 29:7–11; Heb 9:7. The order of ritual for the Day of Atonement was as follows: 1. The high priest went to the basin in the courtyard, removed his regular garments, washed himself (v. 4) and went into the Holy Place to put on the special garments for the Day of Atonement (v. 4). 2. He went out to sacrifice a bull at the altar of burnt offering as a sin offering for himself and the other priests (v. 11). 3. He went into the Most Holy Place with some of the bull's blood, with incense and with coals from the altar of burnt offering (vv. 12–13). The incense was placed on the burning coals, and the smoke of the incense hid the ark from view. 4. He sprinkled some of the bull's blood on and in front of the cover of the ark (v. 14). 5. He went outside the tabernacle and cast lots for two goats to see which was to be sacrificed and which was to be the scapegoat (vv. 7–8). 6. At the altar of burnt offering the high priest killed the goat for the sin offering for the people, and for a second time he went into the Most Holy Place, this time to sprinkle the goat's blood in front of and on the atonement cover (vv. 5,9,15–16a). 7. He returned to the Holy Place (called "Tent of Meeting" in v. 16) and sprinkled the goat's blood there (v. 16b). 8. He went outside to the altar of burnt offering and sprinkled it (v. 18) with the blood of the bull (for himself, v. 11) and of the goat (for the people, v. 15). 9. While in the courtyard, he laid both hands on the second goat, thus symbolizing the transfer of Israel's sin, and sent it out into the desert (vv. 20–22). 10. The man who took the goat away, after he accomplished his task, washed himself and his clothes outside the camp (v. 26) before rejoining the people. 11. The high priest entered the Holy Place to remove his special garments (v. 23). 12. He went out to the basin to wash and put on his regular priestly clothes (v. 24). 13. As a final sacrifice he went out to the great altar and offered a ram (v. 3) as a burnt offering for himself, and another ram (v. 5) for the people (v. 24). 14. The conclusion of the entire day was the removal of the sacrifices for the sin offerings to a place outside the camp, where they were burned, and there the man who performed this ritual bathed and washed his clothes (vv. 27–28) before rejoining the people.

16:1 sons of Aaron who died. See 10:1–3.

16:2 atonement cover. See Ex 25:17 and note. Blood sprinkled on the lid of the ark made atonement for Israel on the Day of Atonement (vv. 15–17). In the Septuagint (the Greek translation of the OT) the word for "atonement cover" is the same one used of Christ and translated "sacrifice of atonement" in Ro 3:25 (see NIV text note there).

16:3 sanctuary area. The Most Holy Place (see v. 2). bull. For Aaron's cleansing (vv. 6,11). Before Aaron could minister in the Most Holy Place for the nation, he himself had to be cleansed (Heb 5:1–3); not so Christ, who is our high priest and Aaron's antitype (Heb 7:26–28).

16:5 two male goats for a sin offering. One was the usual sin offering (see notes on 4:3,5) and the other a scapegoat. No single offering could fully typify the atonement of Christ. The one goat was killed, its blood sprinkled in the Most Holy Place and its body burned outside the camp (vv. 15,27), symbolizing the payment of the price of Christ's atonement. The other goat, sent away alive and bearing the sins of the nation (v. 21), symbolized the removal of sin and its guilt. ram. For the sins of the people; the one in v. 3 was for the sins of the high priest. Both were sacrificed at the end of the ceremony (v. 24).

16:6–10 An outline of vv. 11–22.

16:11 make atonement for himself. See note on v. 3.

16:13 The smoke of the incense covered the ark so that the high priest would not see the glorious presence of God (v. 2) and thus die.

cover[v] above the Testimony, so that he will not die. [14]He is to take some of the bull's blood[a] and with his finger sprinkle it on the front of the atonement cover; then he shall sprinkle some of it with his finger seven times before the atonement cover.[b]

[15]"He shall then slaughter the goat for the sin offering for the people[c] and take its blood behind the curtain[d] and do with it as he did with the bull's blood: He shall sprinkle[e] it on the atonement cover and in front of it. [16]In this way he will make atonement[f] for the Most Holy Place[g] because of the uncleanness and rebellion of the Israelites, whatever their sins have been. He is to do the same for the Tent of Meeting,[h] which is among them in the midst of their uncleanness. [17]No one is to be in the Tent of Meeting from the time Aaron goes in to make atonement in the Most Holy Place until he comes out, having made atonement for himself, his household and the whole community of Israel.

[18]"Then he shall come out to the altar[i] that is before the LORD and make atonement for it. He shall take some of the bull's blood and some of the goat's blood and put it on all the horns of the altar.[j] [19]He shall sprinkle some of the blood on it with his finger seven times to cleanse it and to consecrate it from the uncleanness of the Israelites.[k]

[20]"When Aaron has finished making atonement for the Most Holy Place, the Tent of Meeting and the altar, he shall bring forward the live goat.[l] [21]He is to lay both hands on the head of the live goat[m] and confess[n] over it all the wickedness and rebellion of the Israelites—all their sins—and put them on the goat's head. He shall send the goat away into the desert in the care of a man appointed for the task. [22]The goat will carry on itself all their sins[o] to a solitary place; and the man shall release it in the desert.

[23]"Then Aaron is to go into the Tent of Meeting and take off the linen garments[p] he put on before he entered the Most Holy Place, and he is to leave them there.[q] [24]He shall bathe himself with water in a holy place[r] and put on his regular garments.[s] Then he shall come out and sacrifice the burnt offering for himself and the burnt offering for the people,[t] to make atonement for himself and for the people.[u] [25]He shall also burn the fat of the sin offering on the altar.

[26]"The man who releases the goat as a scapegoat[v] must wash his clothes[w] and bathe himself with water;[x] afterward he may come into the camp. [27]The bull and the goat for the sin offerings, whose blood was brought into the Most Holy Place to make atonement, must be taken outside the camp;[y] their hides, flesh and offal are to be burned up. [28]The man who burns them must wash his clothes and bathe himself with water; afterward he may come into the camp.[z]

[29]"This is to be a lasting ordinance[a] for you: On the tenth day of the seventh month[b] you must deny yourselves[ic] and not do any work[d]—whether native-born[e] or an alien living among you—[30]because on this day atonement will be made[f] for you, to cleanse you. Then, before the LORD, you will be clean from all your sins.[g] [31]It is a sabbath of rest, and you must deny yourselves;[h] it is a lasting ordinance.[i] [32]The priest who is anointed and ordained[j] to succeed his father as high priest is to make atonement. He is to put on the sacred linen garments[k] [33]and make atonement for the Most Holy Place, for the Tent of Meeting and the altar, and for the priests and all the people of the community.[l]

[34]"This is to be a lasting ordinance[m] for you: Atonement is to be made once a year[n] for all the sins of the Israelites."

And it was done, as the LORD commanded Moses.

16:20–22 A summary description of substitutionary atonement. The sin of the worshipers was confessed and symbolically transferred to the sacrificial animal, on which hands were laid (see notes on 1:3; Ex 29:10; see also Lev 1:4; 3:8; 4:4).

16:29,31 deny yourselves. See NIV text note; more lit. "humble (or afflict) yourselves." The expression came to be used of fasting (Ps 35:13). The Day of Atonement was the only regular fast day stipulated in the OT (see 23:27,29,32 and NIV text note), though tradition later added other fast days to the Jewish calendar (see Zec 7:5; 8:19).

16:29 seventh month. Tishri, the seventh month, begins with the Feast of Trumpets (see note on 23:24). The Day of Atonement follows on the 10th day, and on the 15th day the Feast of Tabernacles begins (see 23:23–36).

16:30 clean from all your sins. On the Day of Atonement the repentant Israelite was assured of sins forgiven.

16:34 once a year. Heb 9:11–10:14 repeatedly points out this contrast with Christ's "once for all" sacrifice.

Unlawful Sexual Relations

18 The LORD said to Moses, [2]"Speak to the Israelites and say to them: 'I am the LORD your God.[p] [3]You must not do as they do in Egypt, where you used to live, and you must not do as they do in the land of Canaan, where I am bringing you. Do not follow their practices.[q] [4]You must obey my laws[r] and be careful to follow my decrees.[s] I am the LORD your God.[t] [5]Keep my decrees and laws,[u] for the man who obeys them will live by them.[v] I am the LORD.

[k]15 Traditionally peace offerings [l]7 Or demons

17:4 tabernacle of the LORD. The people, with few exceptions (e.g., Dt 12:15,20–21), were directed to sacrifice only at the central sanctuary (Dt 12:5–6). Sennacherib's representative referred to Hezekiah's requiring worship only in Jerusalem (2Ki 18:22). One reason for such a regulation was to keep the Israelites from becoming corrupted by the Canaanites' pagan worship. cut off from his people. See note on 7:20.

17:5 to the priest, that is, to the LORD. See note on 6:6.

17:7 prostitute themselves. See 20:5–6; see also Jdg 2:17 and note.

17:11 the life of a creature is in the blood. See note on Ge 9:4. The blood shed in the sacrifices was sacred. It epitomized the life of the sacrificial victim. Since life was sacred, blood (a symbol of life) had to be treated with respect (Ge 9:5–6). Eating blood was therefore strictly forbidden (see 7:26–27; Dt 12:16,23–25; 15:23; 1Sa 14:32–34). blood ... makes atonement. Practically every sacrifice included the sprinkling or smearing of blood on the altar or within the tabernacle (v. 6; 1:5; 3:2; 4:6,25; 7:2), thus teaching that atonement involves the substitution of life for life. The blood of the OT sacrifice pointed forward to the blood of the Lamb of God, who obtained for his people "eternal redemption" (Heb 9:12). "Without the shedding of blood there is no forgiveness" (Heb 9:22).

17:15 found dead or torn. Such animals would not have had the blood drained from them and therefore would be forbidden.

18:1–20:27 Here God's people are given instructions concerning interpersonal relations and a morality reflecting God's holiness. Israel was thereby prepared for a life different from the Canaanites, whose life-style was deplorably immoral. Ch. 18 contains prohibitions in the moral sphere, ch. 19 expands the Ten Commandments to detail correct morality, and ch. 20 assesses the penalties for violating God's standard of morality. See chart on "Major Social Concerns in the Covenant," p. 267.

18:2 In chs. 18–26 the phrase "I am the LORD" occurs 47 times. The Lord's name (i.e., his revealed character as Yahweh, "the LORD") is the authority that stands behind his instructions. See note on Ex 3:15.

18:3 Six times in this chapter Israel is warned not to follow the example of pagans (here, two times; see also vv. 24,26–27,30).

18:5 live. With God's full blessing. The law was the way of life for the redeemed (see Eze 20:11,13,21), not a way of salvation for the lost (see Ro 10:5; Gal 3:12).

18:6 A summary of the laws against incest (vv. 7–18). Penalties for incestuous relations are given in ch. 20.

18:7 This prohibition applied also after the father's death.

[m] 21 Or to be passed through [the fire]

If the father was still living, the act was adulterous and therefore forbidden.

18:8 your father's wife. Other than your mother—assuming there is more than one wife.

18:11 sister. There would be many half-sisters in a polygamous society. Tamar claimed that an exception to this prohibition could be made (2Sa 13:12–13; but see note there).

18:14 your aunt. See 20:20. If the father's brother was alive, the act would be adulterous. If he was dead, one could rationalize such a marriage because the aunt was not a blood relative—but it was forbidden.

18:15 Cf. the account of Judah and Tamar (Ge 38:18).

18:16 your brother's wife. The law also applied to a time after divorce or the brother's death. To marry one's brother's widow was not immoral but might damage the brother's inheritance. The levirate law of Dt 25:5–6 offered an exception that preserved the dead brother's inheritance and continued his line.

18:17 daughter. Stepdaughter (granddaughter-in-law is also covered in the verse). The law applied even after the mother's death.

18:18 Cf. the account of Jacob with Leah and Rachel (Ge 29:23–30).

18:19 See Eze 18:6; 22:10.

18:21 Molech. The god of the Ammonites (see 20:2–5; 1Ki 11:5 and note). The detestable practice of sacrificing children to Molech was common in Phoenicia and other surrounding countries. Cf. 2Ki 3:26–27. King Manasseh evidently sacrificed his sons to Molech (2Ch 33:6; see 2Ki 23:10). Jer 32:35 protests the practice.

18:22 lie with a man. See 20:13, where the penalty for homosexual acts is death.

18:29 detestable. See note on 7:21. cut off from their people. See note on 7:20.

19:1 See note on 18:1–20:27.

19:2 Be holy. See note on 11:44.

and say to them: 'Be holy because I, the LORD your God,[f] am holy.[g]

3" 'Each of you must respect his mother and father,[h] and you must observe my Sabbaths.[i] I am the LORD your God.[j]

4" 'Do not turn to idols or make gods of cast metal for yourselves.[k] I am the LORD your God.[l]

5" 'When you sacrifice a fellowship offering[n] to the LORD, sacrifice it in such a way that it will be accepted on your behalf. 6It shall be eaten on the day you sacrifice it or on the next day; anything left over until the third day must be burned up.[m] 7If any of it is eaten on the third day, it is impure and will not be accepted.[n] 8Whoever eats it will be held responsible[o] because he has desecrated what is holy[p] to the LORD; that person must be cut off from his people.[q]

9" 'When you reap the harvest of your land, do not reap to the very edges[r] of your field or gather the gleanings of your harvest.[s] 10Do not go over your vineyard a second time[t] or pick up the grapes that have fallen.[u] Leave them for the poor and the alien.[v] I am the LORD your God.

11" 'Do not steal.[w]

" 'Do not lie.[x]

" 'Do not deceive one another.[y]

12" 'Do not swear falsely[z] by my name[a] and so profane[b] the name of your God. I am the LORD.

13" 'Do not defraud your neighbor[c] or rob[d] him.[e]

" 'Do not hold back the wages of a hired man[f] overnight.[g] 14" 'Do not curse the deaf or put a stumbling block in front of the blind,[h] but fear your God.[i] I am the LORD.

15" 'Do not pervert justice;[j] do not show partiality[k] to the poor or favoritism to the great,[l] but judge your neighbor fairly.[m] 16" 'Do not go about spreading slander[n] among your people.

" 'Do not do anything that endangers your neighbor's life.[o] I am the LORD.

17" 'Do not hate your brother in your heart.[p] Rebuke your neighbor frankly[q] so you will not share in his guilt.

18" 'Do not seek revenge[r] or bear a grudge[s] against one of your people,[t] but love your neighbor[u] as yourself.[v] I am the LORD.

19" 'Keep my decrees.[w]

" 'Do not mate different kinds of animals.

" 'Do not plant your field with two kinds of seed.[x]

" 'Do not wear clothing woven of two kinds of material.[y]

20" 'If a man sleeps with a woman who is a slave girl promised to another man[z] but who has not been ransomed or given her freedom, there must be due punishment. Yet they are not to be put to death, because she had not been freed. 21The man, however, must bring a ram to the entrance to the Tent of Meeting for a guilt offering to the LORD.[a] 22With the ram of the guilt offering the priest is to make atonement for him before the LORD for the sin he has committed, and his sin will be forgiven.[b]

23" 'When you enter the land and plant any kind of fruit tree, regard its fruit as forbidden.[o] For three years you are to consider it forbidden[o]; it must not be eaten. 24In the fourth year all its fruit will be holy,[c] an offering of praise to the LORD. 25But in the fifth year you may eat its fruit. In this way your harvest will be increased. I am the LORD your God.

26" 'Do not eat any meat with the blood still in it.[d]

" 'Do not practice divination[e] or sorcery.[f]

27" 'Do not cut the hair at the sides of your head or clip off the edges of your beard.[g]

19:18 love your neighbor as yourself. Quoted by Christ (Mt 22:39; Mk 12:31; Lk 10:27), Paul (Ro 13:9; Gal 5:14) and James (2:8). The stricter Pharisees (school of Shammai) added to this command what they thought it implied: "Hate your enemy" (Mt 5:43). Jesus' reaction, "Love your enemies," was in line with true OT teaching (see vv. 17,34) and was more in agreement with the middle-of-the-road Pharisees. Rabbi Nahmanides caught their sentiments: "One should place no limitations upon the love for the neighbor, but instead a person should love to do an abundance of good for his fellow being as he does for himself." "Neighbor" does not merely mean one who lives nearby, but anyone with whom one comes in contact.

37" 'Keep all my decrees[b] and all my laws[c] and follow them. I am the LORD.' "

Punishments for Sin

20 The LORD said to Moses, 2"Say to the Israelites: 'Any Israelite or any alien living in Israel who gives[r] any of his children to Molech must be put to death.[d] The people of the community are to stone him.[e] 3I will set my face against that man and I will cut him off from his people;[f] for by giving his children to Molech, he has defiled[g] my sanctuary[h] and profaned my holy name.[i] 4If the people of the community close their eyes when that man gives one of his children to Molech and they fail to put him to death,[j] 5I will set my face against that man and his family and will cut off from their people both him and all who follow him in prostituting themselves to Molech.

6" 'I will set my face against the person who turns to mediums and spiritists to prostitute himself by following them, and I will cut him off from his people.[k]

7" 'Consecrate yourselves[l] and be holy,[m] because I am the LORD your God.[n] 8Keep my decrees[o] and follow them. I am the LORD, who makes you holy.[sp]

9" 'If anyone curses his father[q] or mother,[r] he must be put to death.[s] He has cursed his father or his mother, and his blood will be on his own head.[t]

10" 'If a man commits adultery with another man's wife[u]—with the wife of his neighbor—both the adulterer and the adulteress must be put to death.[v]

11" 'If a man sleeps with his father's wife, he has dishonored his father.[w] Both the man and the woman must be put to death; their blood will be on their own heads.[x]

12" 'If a man sleeps with his daughter-in-law,[y] both of them must be put to death. What they have done is a perversion; their blood will be on their own heads.

13" 'If a man lies with a man as one lies with a woman, both of them have done what is detestable.[z] They must be put to death; their blood will be on their own heads.

14" 'If a man marries both a woman and her mother,[a] it is wicked. Both he and they must be burned in the fire,[b] so that no wickedness will be among you.[c]

15" 'If a man has sexual relations with an animal,[d] he must be put to death,[e] and you must kill the animal.

16" 'If a woman approaches an animal

20:1–27 In ch. 20 many of the same sins listed in ch. 18 are mentioned again, but this time usually with the death penalty specified. Israel's God is a jealous God and tolerates no rivals (see note on Ex 20:5). He requires exclusive allegiance (see Ex 20:3). See note on 18:1–20:27.

27" 'A man or woman who is a medium[a] or spiritist among you must be put to death.[b] You are to stone them;[c] their blood will be on their own heads.' "

Rules for Priests

21 The LORD said to Moses, "Speak to the priests, the sons of Aaron,[d] and say to them: 'A priest must not make himself ceremonially unclean[e] for any of his people who die,[f] 2except for a close relative, such as his mother or father,[g] his son or daughter, his brother, 3or an unmarried sister who is dependent on him since she has no husband—for her he may make himself unclean.[h] 4He must not make himself unclean for people related to him by marriage,[u] and so defile himself.

5" 'Priests must not shave[i] their heads or shave off the edges of their beards[j] or cut their bodies.[k] 6They must be holy to their God[l] and must not profane the name of their God.[m] Because they present the offerings made to the LORD by fire,[n] the food of their God,[o] they are to be holy.[p]

7" 'They must not marry women defiled by prostitution or divorced from their husbands,[q] because priests are holy to their God.[r] 8Regard them as holy,[s] because they offer up the food of your God.[t] Consider them holy, because I the LORD am holy—I who make you holy.[v u]

9" 'If a priest's daughter defiles herself by becoming a prostitute, she disgraces her father; she must be burned in the fire.[v]

10" 'The high priest, the one among his brothers who has had the anointing oil poured on his head[w] and who has been ordained to wear the priestly garments,[x] must not let his hair become unkempt[w] or tear his clothes.[y] 11He must not enter a place where there is a dead body.[z] He must not make himself unclean,[a] even for his father or mother,[b] 12nor leave the sanctuary[c] of his

21:1–22:33 Directions for the priests' conduct, especially about separation from ceremonial uncleanness.
21:1 for any . . . who die. Touching a corpse (Nu 19:11) or entering the home of a person who had died (Nu 19:14) made one unclean. A priest was only to contract such uncleanness at the death of a close relative (vv. 2–3), and the regulations for the high priest denied him even this (vv. 11–12).
21:5 cut their bodies. See 19:27–28. Such lacerations and disfigurement were common among pagans as signs of mourning and to secure the attention of their deity (see 1Ki 18:28). Israelite faith had a much less grotesque view of death (see, e.g., vv. 1–4; Ge 5:24; 2Sa 12:23; Heb 11:19).
21:8 I . . . am holy. See note on 11:44.

God or desecrate it, because he has been dedicated by the anointing oil[d] of his God. I am the LORD.

13" 'The woman he marries must be a virgin.[e] 14He must not marry a widow, a divorced woman, or a woman defiled by prostitution, but only a virgin from his own people, 15so he will not defile his offspring among his people. I am the LORD, who makes him holy.[x]' "

16The LORD said to Moses, 17"Say to Aaron: 'For the generations to come none of your descendants who has a defect[f] may come near to offer the food of his God.[g] 18No man who has any defect[h] may come near: no man who is blind[i] or lame,[j] disfigured or deformed; 19no man with a crippled foot or hand, 20or who is hunchbacked or dwarfed, or who has any eye defect, or who has festering or running sores or damaged testicles.[k] 21No descendant of Aaron the priest who has any defect[l] is to come near to present the offerings made to the LORD by fire.[m] He has a defect; he must not come near to offer the food of his God.[n] 22He may eat the most holy food of his God,[o] as well as the holy food; 23yet because of his defect,[p] he must not go near the curtain or approach the altar, and so desecrate my sanctuary.[q] I am the LORD, who makes them holy.[y]' "

24So Moses told this to Aaron and his sons and to all the Israelites.

22 The LORD said to Moses, 2"Tell Aaron and his sons to treat with respect the sacred offerings[s] the Israelites consecrate to me, so they will not profane my holy name.[t] I am the LORD.[u]

3"Say to them: 'For the generations to come, if any of your descendants is ceremonially unclean and yet comes near the sacred offerings that the Israelites consecrate to the LORD,[v] that person must be cut off from my presence.[w] I am the LORD.

4" 'If a descendant of Aaron has an infectious skin disease[z] or a bodily discharge,[x] he may not eat the sacred offerings until he is cleansed. He will also be unclean if he touches something defiled by a corpse[y] or by anyone who has an emission of semen, 5or if he touches any crawling thing[z] that makes him unclean, or any person[a] who makes him unclean, whatever the uncleanness may be. 6The one who touches any such thing will be unclean[b] till evening.[c] He must not eat any of the sacred offerings unless he has bathed himself with water.[d] 7When the sun goes down, he will be clean, and after that he may eat the sacred offerings, for they are his food.[e] 8He must not eat anything found dead[f] or torn by wild animals,[g] and so become unclean[h] through it. I am the LORD.[i]

9" 'The priests are to keep my requirements[j] so that they do not become guilty[k] and die[l] for treating them with contempt. I am the LORD, who makes them holy.[am]

10" 'No one outside a priest's family may eat the sacred offering, nor may the guest of a priest or his hired worker eat it.[n] 11But if a priest buys a slave with money, or if a slave is born in his household, that slave may eat his food.[o] 12If a priest's daughter marries anyone other than a priest, she may not eat any of the sacred contributions. 13But if a priest's daughter becomes a widow or is divorced, yet has no children, and she returns to live in her father's house as in her youth, she may eat of her father's food. No unauthorized person, however, may eat any of it.

14" 'If anyone eats a sacred offering by mistake,[p] he must make restitution to the priest for the offering and add a fifth of the value[q] to it. 15The priests must not desecrate the sacred offerings[r] the Israelites present to the LORD[s] 16by allowing them to eat[t] the sacred offerings and so bring upon them guilt[u] requiring payment.[v] I am the LORD, who makes them holy.[w]' "

Unacceptable Sacrifices

22:21 fellowship offering. See note on 3:1.

22:24 bruised, crushed, torn or cut. Castrated animals were not acceptable offerings.

22:28 Perhaps the prohibition was humanitarian (see v. 27), or possibly it was practical: The mother was to be saved to build up the flock (see Dt 22:6–7). Or it may have been a law to avoid an otherwise unknown pagan custom (see note on Ex 23:19).

22:30 that same day. The rule applied also to the Passover (Ex 34:25); however, the fellowship offering could be saved and eaten on the following day (7:16).

23:3 Sabbath. See notes on Ex 16:23; 20:9–10. The Sabbath is associated with the annual feasts also in Ex 23:12. Two additional lambs were to be sacrificed as a burnt offering every weekly Sabbath (Nu 28:9–10).

23:5 Passover. See notes on Ex 12:11,14,21. first month. See note on Ex 12:2. The Israelites had three systems of referring to months. In one, the months were simply numbered (as here and in v. 24). In another, the Canaanite names were used (Abib, Bul, etc.), of which only four are known. In the third system, the Babylonian names (Nisan, Adar, Tishri, Kislev, etc.) were used—in the exilic and postexilic books only—and are still used today. See chart on "Hebrew Calendar," p. 101.

23:6 Feast of Unleavened Bread. See note on Ex 23:15. During the Feast the first sheaf of the barley harvest was brought (see vv. 10–11).

With no calendars available, the trumpets sounding across the land were an important signal of the beginning of the new season, the end of the agricultural year. See note on 16:29; see also chart on "Hebrew Calendar," p. 101.

23:27 Day of Atonement. For details see notes on 16:1–34. Aaron was to enter the Most Holy Place only once a year (16:29–34) on the day called by modern Jews Yom Kippur. The Biblical name, however, is the plural Yom Hakkippurim (as in this verse), derived from the Hebrew words yom

In addition, new moons were often special feast days (Nu 10:10; 1 Ch 23:31; Ezr 3:5; Ne 10:33; Ps 81:3; Isa 1:13-14; 66:23; Hos 5:7; Am 8:5; Col 2:16).

day of this seventh month[s] is the Day of Atonement.[t] Hold a sacred assembly[u] and deny yourselves,[i] and present an offering made to the LORD by fire. [28]Do no work[v] on that day, because it is the Day of Atonement, when atonement is made for you before the LORD your God. [29]Anyone who does not deny himself on that day must be cut off from his people.[w] [30]I will destroy from among his people[x] anyone who does any work on that day. [31]You shall do no work at all. This is to be a lasting ordinance[y] for the generations to come, wherever you live. [32]It is a sabbath of rest[z] for you, and you must deny yourselves. From the evening of the ninth day of the month until the following evening you are to observe your sabbath."[a]

Feast of Tabernacles

23:33–43pp — Nu 29:12–39; Dt 16:13–17

[33]The LORD said to Moses, [34]"Say to the Israelites: 'On the fifteenth day of the seventh[b] month the LORD's Feast of Tabernacles[c] begins, and it lasts for seven days. [35]The first day is a sacred assembly;[d] do no regular work.[e] [36]For seven days present offerings made to the LORD by fire, and on the eighth day hold a sacred assembly[f] and present an offering made to the LORD by fire.[g] It is the closing assembly; do no regular work.

[37](" 'These are the LORD's appointed feasts, which you are to proclaim as sacred assemblies for bringing offerings made to the LORD by fire—the burnt offerings and grain offerings, sacrifices and drink offerings[h] required for each day. [38]These offerings[i] are in addition to those for the LORD's Sabbaths[j] and[j] in addition to your gifts and whatever you have vowed and all the freewill offerings[k] you give to the LORD.)

[39]" 'So beginning with the fifteenth day of the seventh month, after you have gathered the crops of the land, celebrate the festival[l] to the LORD for seven days;[m] the first day is a day of rest, and the eighth day also is a day of rest. [40]On the first day you are to take choice fruit from the trees, and palm fronds, leafy branches[n] and poplars,[o] and rejoice[p] before the LORD your God for seven days. [41]Celebrate this as a festival to the LORD for seven days each year. This is to be a lasting ordinance for the generations to come; celebrate it in the seventh month. [42]Live in booths[q] for seven days: All native-born Israelites are to live in booths [43]so your descendants will know[r] that I had the Israelites live in booths when I brought them out of Egypt. I am the LORD your God.' "

[44]So Moses announced to the Israelites the appointed feasts of the LORD.

Oil and Bread Set Before the LORD

24:1–3pp — Ex 27:20–21

24 The LORD said to Moses, [2]"Command the Israelites to bring you clear oil of pressed olives for the light so that the lamps may be kept burning continually. [3]Outside the curtain of the Testimony in the Tent of Meeting, Aaron is to tend the lamps before the LORD from evening till morning, continually. This is to be a lasting ordinance[s] for the generations to come. [4]The lamps on the pure gold lampstand[t] before the LORD must be tended continually.

[5]"Take fine flour and bake twelve loaves of bread,[u] using two-tenths of an ephah[kv] for each loaf. [6]Set them in two rows, six in each row, on the table of pure gold[w] before the LORD. [7]Along each row put some pure incense[x] as a memorial portion[y] to represent the bread and to be an offering made to the LORD by fire. [8]This bread is to be set out before the LORD regularly,[z] Sabbath after Sabbath,[a] on behalf of the Israelites, as a lasting covenant. [9]It belongs to Aaron and his sons,[b] who are to eat it in a holy place,[c] because it is a most holy[d]

23:29 cut off from his people. See note on 7:20.

23:34 Feast of Tabernacles. See notes on Ex 23:16; Jn 7:37–39. Tabernacles was the last of the three annual pilgrimage festivals (Ex 23:14–17; Dt 16:16).

23:42 booths. The Hebrew for this word is Sukkot and is also translated "Tabernacles" (as in v. 34), giving the feast its name. Even today, orthodox Jews construct small booths (see Ne 8:13–17) to remind them of the booths they lived in when God brought them out of Egypt at the time of the exodus (v. 43).

24:2–4 See Ex 27:20–21.

24:3 Testimony. See note on Ex 16:34. tend the lamps. So that they would burn all night. continually. Every night without interruption, but not throughout the day. See 1Sa 3:3 and note.

24:5 two-tenths of an ephah. See NIV text note. Either the loaves were quite large or a smaller unit of measurement is intended (the Hebrew word ephah is not expressed).

24:7 pure incense. Not used as a condiment for the bread, but burned either in piles on the table or in small receptacles alongside the rows of bread.

24:8 This bread. Often called the "bread of the Presence" (see Ex 25:30 and note). It represented a gift from the 12 tribes and signified the fact that God sustained his people. It was eaten by the priests (24:9).

24:9 See 1Sa 21:4–6.

part of their regular share of the offerings made to the LORD by fire."

A Blasphemer Stoned

10Now the son of an Israelite mother and an Egyptian father went out among the Israelites, and a fight broke out in the camp between him and an Israelite. 11The son of the Israelite woman blasphemed the Name[e] with a curse;[f] so they brought him to Moses.[g] (His mother's name was Shelomith, the daughter of Dibri the Danite.)[h] 12They put him in custody until the will of the LORD should be made clear to them.[i]

13Then the LORD said to Moses: 14"Take the blasphemer outside the camp. All those who heard him are to lay their hands on his head, and the entire assembly is to stone him.[j] 15Say to the Israelites: 'If anyone curses his God,[k] he will be held responsible;[l] 16anyone who blasphemes[m] the name of the LORD must be put to death.[n] The entire assembly must stone him. Whether an alien or native-born, when he blasphemes the Name, he must be put to death.

17" 'If anyone takes the life of a human being, he must be put to death.[o] 18Anyone who takes the life of someone's animal must make restitution[p]—life for life. 19If anyone injures his neighbor, whatever he has done must be done to him: 20fracture for fracture, eye for eye, tooth for tooth.[q] As he has injured the other, so he is to be injured. 21Whoever kills an animal must make restitution,[r] but whoever kills a man must be put to death.[s] 22You are to have the same law for the alien[t] and the native-born.[u] I am the LORD your God.' "

23Then Moses spoke to the Israelites, and they took the blasphemer outside the camp and stoned him.[v] The Israelites did as the LORD commanded Moses.

The Sabbath Year

25 The LORD said to Moses on Mount Sinai,[w] 2"Speak to the Israelites and say to them: 'When you enter the land I am going to give you, the land itself must observe a sabbath to the LORD. 3For six years sow your fields, and for six years prune your vineyards and gather their crops.[x] 4But in the seventh year the land is to have a sabbath of rest,[y] a sabbath to the LORD. Do not sow your fields or prune your vineyards.[z] 5Do not reap what grows of itself[a] or harvest the grapes[b] of your untended vines.[c] The land is to have a year of rest. 6Whatever the land yields during the sabbath year[d] will be food for you—for yourself, your manservant and maidservant, and the hired worker and temporary resident who live among you, 7as well as for your livestock and the wild animals[e] in your land. Whatever the land produces may be eaten.

The Year of Jubilee

25:8–38Ref — Dt 15:1–11
25:39–55Ref — Ex 21:2–11; Dt 15:12–18

It shall be a jubilee[j] for you; each one of you is to return to his family property[k] and each to his own clan. 11The fiftieth year shall be a jubilee[l] for you; do not sow and do not reap what grows of

---

24:10 Egyptian father. An alien. The laws, at least in the judicial sphere, applied equally to both the alien and the native-born Israelite (v. 22; see Ex 12:49).

24:11 blasphemed. See Ex 20:7 and note.

24:17,21 See Ge 9:6 and note.

24:20 eye for eye, tooth for tooth. See note on Ex 21:23–25. This represents a statement of principle: The penalty is to fit the crime, not exceed it. An actual eye or tooth was not to be required, nor is there evidence that such a penalty was ever exacted. A similar law of retaliation is found in the Code of Hammurapi, which also seems not to have been literally applied. Christ, like the middle-of-the-road Pharisees (school of Hillel), objected to an extremist use of this judicial principle to excuse private vengeance, such as by the strict Pharisees (school of Shammai); see Mt 5:38–42.

24:22 See note on v. 10.

25:4 land is to have a sabbath. See Ex 23:10–11. The Israelites did not practice crop rotation, but the fallow year (when the crops were not planted) served somewhat the same purpose. And just as the land was to have a sabbath year, so the servitude of a Hebrew slave was limited to six years, apparently whether or not the year he was freed was a sabbath year (see Ex 21:2 and note). Dt 15:1–11 specifies that debts were also to be canceled in the sabbath year. The care for the poor in the laws of Israel (see Ex 23:11) is noteworthy. See 23:7,35; Dt 31:10; Ne 10:31.

25:9 Day of Atonement. See notes on 16:1–34; see also 23:27.

25:10 fiftieth year. Possibly a fallow year in addition to the seventh sabbath year, or perhaps the same as the 49th year (counting the first and last years). Jewish sources from the period between the Testaments favor the latter interpretation. proclaim liberty ... inhabitants. See vv. 39–43,47–55. The Liberty Bell in Philadelphia is so named because this statement was written on it. Cf. Isa 61:1–2; Lk 4:16–21. jubilee. The Hebrew for this word is the same as and may be related to one of the Hebrew words for "[ram's] horn," "trumpet" (see, e.g., Ex 19:13), though in v. 9 a different Hebrew word for "trumpet" is used. Trumpets were blown at the close of the Day of Atonement to inaugurate the Year of Jubilee. Cf. 23:24.

itself or harvest the untended vines.[m] 12For it is a jubilee and is to be holy for you; eat only what is taken directly from the fields.

13" 'In this Year of Jubilee[n] everyone is to return to his own property.

14" 'If you sell land to one of your countrymen or buy any from him, do not take advantage of each other.[o] 15You are to buy from your countryman on the basis of the number of years[p] since the Jubilee. And he is to sell to you on the basis of the number of years left for harvesting crops. 16When the years are many, you are to increase the price, and when the years are few, you are to decrease the price,[q] because what he is really selling you is the number of crops. 17Do not take advantage of each other,[r] but fear your God.[s] I am the LORD your God.[t]

18" 'Follow my decrees and be careful to obey my laws,[u] and you will live safely in the land.[v] 19Then the land will yield its fruit,[w] and you will eat your fill and live there in safety.[x] 20You may ask, "What will we eat in the seventh year[y] if we do not plant or harvest our crops?" 21I will send you such a blessing[z] in the sixth year that the land will yield enough for three years.[a] 22While you plant during the eighth year, you will eat from the old crop and will continue to eat from it until the harvest of the ninth year comes in.[b]

23" 'The land[c] must not be sold permanently, because the land is mine[d] and you are but aliens[e] and my tenants. 24Throughout the country that you hold as a possession, you must provide for the redemption[f] of the land.

25" 'If one of your countrymen becomes poor and sells some of his property, his nearest relative[g] is to come and redeem[h] what his countryman has sold. 26If, however, a man has no one to redeem it for him but he himself prospers[i] and acquires sufficient means to redeem it, 27he is to determine the value for the years[j] since he sold it and refund the balance to the man to whom he sold it; he can then go back to his own property.[k] 28But if he does not acquire the means to repay him, what he sold will remain in the possession of the buyer until the Year of Jubilee. It will be returned[l] in the Jubilee, and he can then go back to his property.[m]

29" 'If a man sells a house in a walled city, he retains the right of redemption a full year after its sale. During that time he may redeem it. 30If it is not redeemed before a full year has passed, the house in the walled city shall belong permanently to the buyer and his descendants. It is not to be returned in the Jubilee. 31But houses in villages without walls around them are to be considered as open country. They can be redeemed, and they are to be returned in the Jubilee.

32" 'The Levites always have the right to redeem their houses in the Levitical towns,[n] which they possess. 33So the property of the Levites is redeemable—that is, a house sold in any town they hold—and is to be returned in the Jubilee, because the houses in the towns of the Levites are their property among the Israelites. 34But the pastureland belonging to their towns must not be sold; it is their permanent possession.[o]

35" 'If one of your countrymen becomes poor[p] and is unable to support himself among you, help him[q] as you would an alien or a temporary resident, so he can continue to live among you. 36Do not take interest[r] of any kind[l] from him, but fear your God,[s] so that your countryman may continue to live among you. 37You must not lend him money at interest[t] or sell him food at a profit. 38I am the LORD your God, who brought you out of Egypt to give you the land of Canaan[u] and to be your God.[v]

39" 'If one of your countrymen becomes poor among you and sells himself to you, do not make him work as a slave.[w] 40He is to be treated as a hired worker[x] or a temporary resident among you; he is to work for you until the Year of Jubilee. 41Then he and his children are to be released, and he will go back to his own clan and to the property[y] of his forefathers.[z] 42Because the Israelites are my servants, whom I brought out of Egypt,[a] they must not be sold as slaves.

25:13 return to his own property. See v. 10. The Lord prohibited the accumulation of property to the detriment of the poor. "The land is mine," said the Lord (v. 23). God's people are only tenants (see 1Ch 29:15; Heb 11:13).

come from the nations around you; from them you may buy slaves. 45You may also buy some of the temporary residents living among you and members of their clans born in your country, and they will become your property. 46You can will them to your children as inherited property and can make them slaves for life, but you must not rule over your fellow Israelites ruthlessly.
47" 'If an alien or a temporary resident among you becomes rich and one of your countrymen becomes poor and sells himself[d] to the alien living among you or to a member of the alien's clan, 48he retains the right of redemption[e] after he has sold himself. One of his relatives[f] may redeem him: 49An uncle or a cousin or any blood relative in his clan may redeem him. Or if he prospers,[g] he may redeem himself. 50He and his buyer are to count the time from the year he sold himself up to the Year of Jubilee.[h] The price for his release is to be based on the rate paid to a hired man[i] for that number of years. 51If many years remain, he must pay for his redemption a larger share of the price paid for him. 52If only a few years remain until the Year of Jubilee, he is to compute that and pay for his redemption accordingly.[j] 53He is to be treated as a man hired from year to year;
you must see to it that his owner does not rule over him ruthlessly.[k] 54" 'Even if he is not redeemed in any of these ways, he and his children are to be released in the Year of Jubilee, 55for
the Israelites belong to me as servants.
They are my servants, whom I brought out of Egypt.[l] I am the LORD your God.[m]

Reward for Obedience

26 " 'Do not make idols[n] or set up an image[o] or a sacred stone[p] for yourselves, and do not place a carved stone[q] in your land to bow down before it. I am the LORD your God.
2" 'Observe my Sabbaths[r] and have reverence for my sanctuary.[s] I am the LORD.

[m]11 Or my tabernacle

25:55 servants. Covenant terminology, similar to "vassals." Slavery, however demeaning, is not brutal where the masters truly recognize themselves as God's servants. Cf. Paul's exhortation to both slaves and masters (Eph 6:5–9; Col 3:22–4:1).

26:1 Do not make idols. This verse probably does not forbid making statues, but it does forbid worshiping God in any material form (see Ex 20:4 and note). "God is spirit" (Jn 4:24; see Dt 4:15–19).

26:3 obey my commands. Obedience is the key to blessing (see Gal 6:7–10; Jas 1:22–25). Compare the blessings promised in vv. 3–13 with those in Dt 28:1–14.

26:9 fruitful and increase. See note on Ge 1:22; contrast Lev 26:22.

26:12 your God ... my people. Covenantal terms later made famous by Hosea (1:9–10; 2:23). See Jer 31:33; Eze 36:28; Heb 8:10.

26:14 if you will not listen. The list of curses for covenant disobedience (see vv. 14–39) is usually much longer than that of blessings for obedience (as in vv. 3–13; see Dt 28:15–29:28; cf. Dt 28:1–14).

plant seed in vain, because your enemies will eat it.[w] 17I will set my face[x] against you so that you will be defeated[y] by your enemies;[z] those who hate you will rule over you,[a] and you will flee even when no one is pursuing you.[b]

18" 'If after all this you will not listen to me,[c] I will punish[d] you for your sins seven times over.[e] 19I will break down your stubborn pride[f] and make the sky above you like iron and the ground beneath you like bronze.[g] 20Your strength will be spent in vain,[h] because your soil will not yield its crops, nor will the trees of the land yield their fruit.[i]

21" 'If you remain hostile[j] toward me and refuse to listen to me, I will multiply your afflictions seven times over,[k] as your sins deserve. 22I will send wild animals[l] against you, and they will rob you of your children, destroy your cattle and make you so few[m] in number that your roads will be deserted.[n]

23" 'If in spite of these things you do not accept my correction[o] but continue to be hostile toward me, 24I myself will be hostile[p] toward you and will afflict you for your sins seven times over. 25And I will bring the sword[q] upon you to avenge[r] the breaking of the covenant. When you withdraw into your cities, I will send a plague[s] among you, and you will be given into enemy hands. 26When I cut off your supply of bread,[t] ten women will be able to bake your bread in one oven, and they will dole out the bread by weight. You will eat, but you will not be satisfied.

27" 'If in spite of this you still do not listen to me[u] but continue to be hostile toward me, 28then in my anger[v] I will be hostile[w] toward you, and I myself will punish you for your sins seven times over.[x] 29You will eat[y] the flesh of your sons and the flesh of your daughters.[z] 30I will destroy your high places,[a] cut down your incense altars[b] and pile your dead bodies on the lifeless forms of your idols,[c] and I will abhor[d] you. 31I will turn your cities into ruins[e] and lay waste[f] your sanctuaries,[g] and I will take no delight in the pleasing aroma of your offerings.[h] 32I will lay waste the land,[i] so that your enemies who live there will be appalled.[j] 33I will scatter[k] you among the nations[l] and will draw out my sword[m] and pursue you. Your land will be laid waste,[n] and your cities will lie in ruins.[o] 34Then the land will enjoy its sabbath years all the time that it lies desolate[p] and you are in the country of your enemies;[q] then the land will rest and enjoy its sabbaths. 35All the time that it lies desolate, the land will have the rest[r] it did not have during the sabbaths you lived in it.

36" 'As for those of you who are left, I will make their hearts so fearful in the lands of their enemies that the sound of a windblown leaf[s] will put them to flight.[t] They will run as though fleeing from the sword, and they will fall, even though no one is pursuing them.[u] 37They will stumble over one another[v] as though fleeing from the sword, even though no one is pursuing them. So you will not be able to stand before your enemies.[w] 38You will perish[x] among the nations; the land of your enemies will devour you.[y] 39Those of you who are left will waste away in the lands of their enemies because of their sins; also because of their fathers'[z] sins they will waste away.[a]

40" 'But if they will confess[b] their sins[c] and the sins of their fathers[d]—their treachery against me and their hostility toward me, 41which made me hostile[e] toward them so that I sent them into the land of their enemies—then when their uncircumcised hearts[f] are humbled[g] and they pay[h] for their sin, 42I will remember my covenant with Jacob[i] and my covenant with Isaac[j] and my covenant with Abraham,[k] and I will remember the land. 43For the land will be deserted[l] by them and will enjoy its sabbaths while it lies desolate without them. They will pay for their sins because they rejected[m] my laws and abhorred my decrees.[n] 44Yet in spite of this, when they are in the land of their enemies,[o] I will not reject them or ab-

46These are the decrees, the laws and the regulations that the LORD established on Mount Sinai[u] between himself and the Israelites through Moses.[v]

Redeeming What Is the LORD's

27 The LORD said to Moses, 2"Speak to the Israelites and say to them: 'If anyone makes a special vow[w] to dedicate persons to the LORD by giving equivalent values, 3set the value of a male between the ages of twenty and sixty at fifty shekels[n] of silver, according to the sanctuary shekel[o];[x] 4and if it is a female, set her value at thirty shekels.[p] 5If it is a person between the ages of five and twenty, set the value of a male at twenty shekels[q][y] and of a female at ten shekels.[r] 6If it is a person between one month and five years, set the value of a male at five shekels[s][z] of silver and that of a female at three shekels[t] of silver. 7If it is a person sixty years old or more, set the value of a male at fifteen shekels[u] and of a female at ten shekels. 8If anyone making the vow is too poor to pay[a] the specified amount, he is to present the person to the priest, who will set the value[b] for him according to what the man making the vow can afford.

9" 'If what he vowed is an animal that is acceptable as an offering to the LORD,[c] such an animal given to the LORD becomes holy.[d] 10He must not exchange it or substitute a good one for a bad one, or a bad one for a good one;[e] if he should substitute one animal for another, both it and the substitute become holy. 11If what he vowed is a ceremonially unclean animal[f]—one that is not acceptable as an offering to the LORD—the animal must be presented to the priest, 12who will judge its quality as good or bad. Whatever value the priest then sets, that is what it will be. 13If the owner wishes to redeem[g] the animal, he must add a fifth to its value.[h]

14" 'If a man dedicates his house as something holy to the LORD, the priest will judge its quality as good or bad. Whatever value the priest then sets, so it will remain. 15If the man who dedicates his house redeems it,[i] he must add a fifth to its value, and the house will again become his.

16" 'If a man dedicates to the LORD part of his family land, its value is to be set according to the amount of seed required for it—fifty shekels of silver to a homer[v] of barley seed. 17If he dedicates his field during the Year of Jubilee, the value that has been set remains. 18But if he dedicates his field after the Jubilee,[j] the priest will determine the value according to the number of years that remain[k] until the next Year of Jubilee, and its set value will be reduced. 19If the man who dedicates the field wishes to redeem it,[l] he must add a fifth to its value, and the field will again become his. 20If, however, he does not redeem the field, or if he has sold it to someone else, it can never be redeemed. 21When the field is released in the Jubilee,[m] it will become holy,[n] like a field devoted to the LORD;[o] it will become the property of the priests.[w]

22" 'If a man dedicates to the LORD a field he has bought, which is not part of his family land, 23the priest will determine its value up to the Year of Jubilee,[p] and the man must pay its value on that day as something holy to the LORD. 24In the Year of Jubilee the field will revert to the person from whom he bought it,[q] the one whose land it was. 25Every value is to be set according to the sanctuary shekel,[r] twenty gerahs[s] to the shekel.

26" 'No one, however, may dedicate the firstborn of an animal, since the firstborn already belongs to the LORD;[t] whether an ox[x] or a sheep, it is the LORD's. 27If it is one of the unclean ani-

27:1–34 This final chapter concerns things promised to the Lord in kind—servants, animals, houses or lands. But provisions were made to give money instead of the item, in which case usually the adding of a fifth of its value was required. Such vows were expressions of special thanksgiving (cf. Hannah, 1Sa 1:28) and were given over and above the expected sacrifices.

27:2 to dedicate persons. Possibly to give slaves to the service of the temple, but more likely to offer oneself or a member of one's family. Since only Levites were acceptable for most work of this kind, other people gave the monetary equivalent—but see 1Sa 1:11.

27:9 becomes holy. An animal given for a sacrifice could not be exchanged for another (v. 10). The people of Malachi's day chose the poorest animals after having vowed to offer good ones (Mal 1:13–14). If an unclean animal was given, it could be redeemed with the 20 percent penalty (vv. 11–13).

v28 The Hebrew term refers to the irrevocable giving over of things or persons to the LORD. z29 The Hebrew term refers to the irrevocable giving over of things or persons to the LORD, often by totally destroying them.

27:28 devotes to the LORD. See NIV text note. Devoting something was far more serious than dedicating it to sacred use. The devoted thing became totally the Lord's. Achan's sin was the greater because he stole what had been devoted to the Lord (Jos 7:11). Persons devoted to destruction were usually the captives in the wars of Canaan (cf. 1Sa 15:3,18).

27:29 Saul sinned in this regard when he did not totally destroy the Amalekites (1Sa 15).

27:30 tithe. A tenth (see Nu 18:21–29; Dt 12:6–18; 14:22–29; 26:12). From these passages it appears that Israel actually had three tithes: (1) the general tithe (here), paid to the Levites (Nu 18:21), who in turn had to give a tenth of that to the priests (Nu 18:26); (2) the tithe associated with the sacred meal involving offerer and Levite (Dt 14:22–27); (3) the tithe paid every three years to the poor (Dt 14:28–29).

27:34 the LORD gave Moses. See 1:1; 7:37–38; 25:1; 26:46. This is strong testimony for the Mosaic authorship and divine origin of the book.

Numbers

Title

The English name of the book comes from the Septuagint (the Greek translation of the OT) and is based on the census lists found in chs. 1; 26. The Hebrew title of the book (bemidbar, "in the desert") is more descriptive of its contents. Numbers presents an account of the 38-year period of Israel's wandering in the desert following the establishment of the covenant of Sinai (compare 1:1 with Dt 1:1).

Author and Date

The book has traditionally been ascribed to Moses. This conclusion is based on (1) statements concerning Moses' writing activity (e.g., 33:1–2; Ex 17:14; 24:4; 34:27) and (2) the assumption that the first five books of the Bible, the Pentateuch, are a unit and come from one author. See Introduction to Genesis: Author and Date of Writing.

It is not necessary, however, to claim that Numbers came from Moses' hand complete and in final form. Portions of the book were probably added by scribes or editors from later periods of Israel's history. For example, the protestation of the humility of Moses (12:3) would hardly be convincing if it came from his own mouth. But it seems reasonable to assume that Moses wrote the essential content of the book.

Contents

Numbers relates the story of Israel's journey from Mount Sinai to the plains of Moab on the border of Canaan. Much of its legislation for people and priests is similar to that in Exodus, Leviticus and Deuteronomy. The book tells of the murmuring and rebellion of God's people and of their subsequent judgment. Those whom God had redeemed from slavery in Egypt and with whom he had made a covenant at Mount Sinai responded not with faith, gratitude and obedience but with unbelief, ingratitude and repeated acts of rebellion, which came to extreme expression in their refusal to undertake the conquest of Canaan (ch. 14). The community of the redeemed forfeited their part in the promised land. They were condemned to live out their lives in the desert; only their children would enjoy the fulfillment of the promise that had originally been theirs (cf. Heb 3:7—4:11).

Theological Teaching

In telling the story of Israel's desert wanderings, Numbers offers much that is theologically significant. During the first year after Israel's deliverance from Egypt, she entered into covenant with the Lord at Sinai to be the people of his kingdom, among whom he pitched his royal tent (the tabernacle)—this is the story of Exodus. As the account of Numbers begins, the Lord organizes Israel into a military camp. Leaving Sinai, she marches forth as his conquering army, with the Lord at her head, to establish his kingdom in the promised land in the midst of the nations. The book graphically portrays Israel's identity as the Lord's redeemed covenant people and her vocation as the servant people of God, charged with establishing his kingdom on earth. God's purpose in history is implicitly disclosed: to invade the arena of fallen humanity and effect the redemption of his creation—the mission in which his people are also to be totally engaged.

Numbers also presents the chastening wrath of God against his disobedient people. Because of her rebellion (and especially her refusal to undertake the conquest of Canaan), Israel was in breach of covenant. The fourth book of the Pentateuch presents a sobering reality: The God who had entered into covenant with Abraham (Ge 15; 17), who had delivered his people from bondage in the exodus (Ex 14—15), who had brought Israel into covenant with himself as his "treasured possession" (Ex 19; see especially Ex 19:5) and who had revealed his holiness and the gracious means of approaching him (Lev 1—7) was also a God of wrath. His wrath extended to his errant children as well as to the enemy nations of Egypt and Canaan.

Even Moses, the great prophet and servant of the Lord, was not exempt from God's wrath when he disobeyed God. Ch. 20, which records his error, begins with the notice of Miriam's death (20:1) and concludes with the record of Aaron's death (20:22–29). Here is the passing of the old guard. Those whom God has used to establish the nation are dying before the nation has come into its own.

The questions arise: Is God finished with the nation as a whole (cf. Ro 11:1)? Are his promises a thing of the past? In one of the most remarkable sections of the Bible—the account of Balaam, the pagan diviner (chs. 22—24)—the reply is given. The Lord, working in a providential and direct way, proclaims his continued faithfulness to his purpose for his people despite their unfaithfulness to him.

Balaam is Moab's answer to Moses, the man of God. He is an internationally known prophet who shares the pagan belief that the God of Israel is like any other deity who might be manipulated by acts of magic or sorcery. But from the early part of the narrative, when Balaam first encounters the one true God in visions, and in the narrative of the journey on the donkey (ch. 22), he begins to learn that dealing with the true God is fundamentally different from anything he has ever known. When he attempts to curse Israel at the instigation of Balak king of Moab, Balaam finds his mouth unable to express the curse he desires to pronounce. Instead, from his lips come blessings on Israel and curses on her enemies (chs. 23—24).

In his seven prophetic oracles, Balaam proclaims God's great blessing for his people (see 23:20). Though the immediate enjoyment of this blessing will always depend on the faithfulness of his people, the ultimate realization of God's blessing is sure—because of the character of God (see 23:19). Thus Numbers reaffirms the ongoing purposes of God. Despite his judgment on his rebellious people, God is still determined to bring Israel into the land of promise. His blessing to her rests in his sovereign will.

The teaching of the book has lasting significance for Israel and for the church (cf. Ro 15:4; 1Co 10:6,11). God does display his wrath even against his errant people, but his grace is renewed as surely as is the dawn and his redemptive purpose will not be thwarted.

Special Problem

The large numbers of men conscripted into Israel's army puzzle modern scholars (see, e.g., the figures in 1:46; 26:51). These numbers of men mustered for warfare demand a total population in excess of 2,000,000. Such numbers seem to be exceedingly large for the times, for the locale, for the desert wanderings, and in comparison with the inhabitants of Canaan. See note on 3:43.

Various possibilities have been suggested to solve this problem. Some have thought that the numbers may have been corrupted in transmission. The present text, however, does not betray textual difficulties with the numbers.

Others have felt that the Hebrew word for "thousand" might have a different meaning here from its usual numerical connotation. In some passages, for example, the word is a technical term for a company of men that may or may not equal 1,000 (e.g., Jos 22:14, "family division"; 1Sa 23:23, "clans"). Further, some have postulated that this Hebrew word means "chief" (as in Ge 36:15). In this way the figure 53,400 (26:47) would mean "53 chiefs plus 400 men." Such a procedure would yield a greatly reduced total, but it would be at variance with the fact that the Hebrew text adds the "thousands" in the same way it adds the "hundreds" for a large total. Also, this would make the proportion of chiefs to fighting men top-heavy (59 chiefs for 300 men in Simeon).

Another option is to read the Hebrew word for "thousand" with a dual meaning of "chief" and "1,000," with the chiefs numbering one less than the stated figure. For example, the 46,500 of Reuben (1:20) is read as 45 chiefs and 1,500 fighting men, the 59,300 of Simeon (1:23) is read as 58 chiefs and 1,300 fighting men, etc. But in this case, as in the former, the totals of 1:46 and 2:32 must then be regarded as errors of understanding (perhaps by later scribes).

Still another approach is to regard the numbers as symbolic figures rather than as strictly mathematical. The numerical value of the Hebrew letters in the expression bene yisra'el ("the Israelite community," 1:2) equals 603 (the number of the thousands of the fighting men, 1:46); the remaining 550 (plus 1 for Moses) might come from the numerical equivalent of the Hebrew letters in the expression "all the men . . . who are able to serve in the army" (1:3). This symbolic use of numbers (called "gematria") is not unknown in the Bible (see Rev 13:18), but it is not likely in Numbers, where there are no literary clues pointing in that direction.

While the problem of the large numbers has not been satisfactorily solved, the Bible does point to a remarkable increase of Jacob's descendants during the four centuries of their sojourn in Egypt (see Ex 1:7–12). With all their difficulties, these numbers also point to the great role of providence and miracles in God's dealings with his people during their life in the desert (see note on 1:46).

Structure and Outline

The book has three major divisions, based on Israel's geographical locations. Each of the three divisions has two parts, as the following breakdown demonstrates: (1) Israel at Sinai, preparing to depart for the land of promise (1:1—10:10), followed by the journey from Sinai to Kadesh (10:11—12:16); (2) Israel at Kadesh, delayed as a result of rebellion (13:1—20:13), followed by the journey from Kadesh to the plains of Moab (20:14—22:1); (3) Israel on the plains of Moab, anticipating the conquest of the land of promise (22:2—32:42), followed by appendixes dealing with various matters (chs. 33—36).

I. Israel at Sinai, Preparing to Depart for the Promised Land (1:1—10:10)
   A. The Commands for the Census of the People (chs. 1—4)
      1. The numbers of men from each tribe mustered for war (ch. 1)
      2. The placement of the tribes around the tabernacle and their order for march (ch. 2)
      3. The placement of the Levites around the tabernacle, and the numbers of the Levites and the firstborn of Israel (ch. 3)
      4. The numbers of the Levites in their tabernacle service for the Lord (ch. 4)
   B. The Commands for Purity of the People (5:1—10:10)
      1. The test for purity in the law of jealousy (ch. 5)
      2. The Nazirite vow and the Aaronic benediction (ch. 6)
      3. The offerings of the 12 leaders at the dedication of the tabernacle (ch. 7)
      4. The setting up of the lamps and the separation of the Levites (ch. 8)
      5. The observance of the Passover (9:1–14)
      6. The covering cloud and the silver trumpets (9:15—10:10)
II. The Journey from Sinai to Kadesh (10:11—12:16)
   A. The Beginning of the Journey (10:11–36)
   B. The Beginning of the Sorrows: Fire and Quail (ch. 11)
   C. The Opposition of Miriam and Aaron (ch. 12)
III. Israel at Kadesh, the Delay Resulting from Rebellion (13:1—20:13)
   A. The 12 Spies and Their Mixed Report of the Good Land (ch. 13)
   B. The People's Rebellion against God's Commission, and Their Defeat (ch. 14)

C. A Collection of Laws on Offerings, the Sabbath and Tassels on Garments (ch. 15)

E. The Song of the Well (21:10–20)
F. The Defeat of Sihon and Og (21:21–30)
G. Israel Enters Moab (21:31—22:1)
V. Israel on the Plains of Moab, in Anticipation of Taking the Promised Land (22:2—32:42)
A. Balak of Moab Hires Balaam to Curse Israel (22:2–41)
B. Balaam Blesses Israel in Seven Oracles (chs. 23—24)
C. The Baal of Peor and Israel's Apostasy (ch. 25)
D. The Second Census (ch. 26)
E. Instructions for the New Generation (chs. 27—30)
1. The inheritance for women (27:1–11)
2. The successor to Moses (27:12–23)
3. Commands regarding offerings (28:1–15)
4. Commands regarding festivals (28:16—29:40)
5. Commands regarding vows (ch. 30)
F. The War against Midian (ch. 31)
G. The Settlement of the Transjordan Tribes (ch. 32)
VI. Appendixes Dealing with Various Matters (chs. 33—36)
A. The Stages of the Journey (ch. 33)
B. The Land of Inheritance (chs. 34—35)
C. The Inheritance for Women (ch. 36)

The Census

1 The LORD spoke to Moses in the Tent of Meeting[a] in the Desert of Sinai[b] on the first day of the second month[c] of the second year after the Israelites came out of Egypt.[d] He said: 2"Take a census[e] of the whole Israelite community by their clans and families,[f] listing every man by name,[g] one by one. 3You and Aaron[h] are to number by their divisions all the men in Israel twenty years old or more[i] who are able to serve in the army.[j] 4One man from each tribe,[k] each the head of his family,[l] is to help you.[m] 5These are the names[n] of the men who are to assist you:

from Reuben,[o] Elizur son of Shedeur;[p]
6from Simeon,[q] Shelumiel son of Zurishaddai;[r]
7from Judah,[s] Nahshon son of Amminadab;[t]
8from Issachar,[u] Nethanel son of Zuar;[v]
9from Zebulun,[w] Eliab son of Helon;[x] 10from the sons of Joseph:
from Ephraim,[y] Elishama son of Ammihud;[z] from Manasseh,[a] Gamaliel son of Pedahzur;[b] 11from Benjamin,[c] Abidan son of Gideoni;[d]
12from Dan,[e] Ahiezer son of Ammishaddai;[f]
13from Asher,[g] Pagiel son of Ocran;[h]
14from Gad,[i] Eliasaph son of Deuel;[j]
15from Naphtali,[k] Ahira son of Enan.[l]"

16These were the men appointed from the community, the leaders[m] of their ancestral tribes.[n] They were the heads of the clans of Israel.[o]

17Moses and Aaron took these men whose names had been given, 18and they called the whole community together on the first day of the second month.[p] The people indicated their ancestry[q] by their clans and families,[r] and the men twenty years old or more[s] were listed by name, one by one, 19as the LORD commanded Moses. And so he counted[t] them in the Desert of Sinai:

20From the descendants of Reuben[u] the firstborn son[v] of Israel:
All the men twenty years old or more who were able to serve in the army were listed by name, one by one, according to the records of their clans and families. 21The number from the tribe of Reuben[w] was 46,500.

22From the descendants of Simeon:[x]
All the men twenty years old or more who were able to serve in the army were counted and listed by name, one by one, according to the records of their clans and families. 23The number from the tribe of Simeon was 59,300.[y]

1:1 The LORD spoke to Moses. One of the most pervasive emphases in Numbers is the fact that the Lord spoke to Moses and through Moses to Israel. From the opening words to the closing words (36:13), this is stated over 150 times and in more than 20 ways. The Lord's use of Moses as his prophet is described in 12:6–8. One of the Hebrew names for the book is wayedabber ("And he [the LORD] spoke"), from the first word in the Hebrew text. Tent of Meeting. The tabernacle. Desert of Sinai. The more common Hebrew name for Numbers is bemidbar ("in the desert"), the fifth word in the Hebrew text. The events of Numbers cover a period of 38 years and nine or ten months, i.e., the period of Israel's desert wanderings. first day ... second month ... second year. Thirteen months after the exodus, Numbers begins. Israel had spent the previous year in the region of Mount Sinai receiving the law and erecting the tabernacle. Now she was to be mustered as a military force for an orderly march. Dating events from the exodus (for another example see 1Ki 6:1) is similar to the Christian practice of dating years in reference to the incarnation of Christ (B.C. and A.D.). The exodus was God's great act of deliverance of his people from bondage.

1:2 Take. The Hebrew for this word is plural, indicating that Moses and Aaron were to complete this task together (see v. 3, "You and Aaron"), but the primary responsibility lay with Moses. census. Its main purpose was to form a military roster, not a social, political or taxing document.

1:3 able to serve in the army. Refers to the principal military purpose of the census. The phrase occurs 14 times in ch. 1 and again in 26:2.

1:4 One man from each tribe. By having a representative from each tribe assist Moses and Aaron, the count would be regarded as legitimate by all.

1:5–16 The names of these men occur again in chs. 2; 7; 10. Most contain within them a reference to the name of God. Levi is not represented in the list (see vv. 47–53).

1:19 And so he counted them in the Desert of Sinai. A summary statement; vv. 20–43 provide the details.

1:20–43 For each tribe there are two verses in repetitive formulaic structure, giving: (1) the name of the tribe, (2) the specifics of those numbered, (3) the name of the tribe again and (4) the total count for that tribe. The numbers for each tribe are rounded off to the hundred (but Gad to the 50, v. 25). The same numbers are given for each tribe in ch. 2, where there are four triads of tribes. A peculiarity in the numbers that leads some to believe that they are symbolic is that the hundreds are grouped between 200 and 700. Also, various speculations have arisen regarding the meaning of the Hebrew word for "thousand" (see Introduction: Special Problem). In this chapter, the word has been used to mean 1,000 in order for the totals to be achieved.

24From the descendants of Gad:[z]
All the men twenty years old or more who were able to serve in the army were listed by name, according to the records of their clans and families. 25The number from the tribe of Gad[a] was 45,650.

26From the descendants of Judah:[b]
All the men twenty years old or more who were able to serve in the army were listed by name, according to the records of their clans and families. 27The number from the tribe of Judah[c] was 74,600.

28From the descendants of Issachar:[d]
All the men twenty years old or more who were able to serve in the army were listed by name, according to the records of their clans and families. 29The number from the tribe of Issachar[e] was 54,400.[f]

30From the descendants of Zebulun:[g]
All the men twenty years old or more who were able to serve in the army were listed by name, according to the records of their clans and families. 31The number from the tribe of Zebulun was 57,400.[h]

32From the sons of Joseph:[i]
From the descendants of Ephraim:[j]
All the men twenty years old or more who were able to serve in the army were listed by name, according to the records of their clans and families. 33The number from the tribe of Ephraim[k] was 40,500.

34From the descendants of Manasseh:[l]
All the men twenty years old or more who were able to serve in the army were listed by name, according to the records of their clans and families. 35The number from the tribe of Manasseh was 32,200.

36From the descendants of Benjamin:[m]
All the men twenty years old or more who were able to serve in the army were listed by name, according to the records of their clans and families. 37The number from the tribe of Benjamin[n] was 35,400.

38From the descendants of Dan:[o]
All the men twenty years old or more who were able to serve in the army were listed by name, according to the records of their clans and families. 39The number from the tribe of Dan was 62,700.[p]

40From the descendants of Asher:[q]
All the men twenty years old or more who were able to serve in the army were listed by name, according to the records of their clans and families. 41The number from the tribe of Asher[r] was 41,500.

42From the descendants of Naphtali:[s]
All the men twenty years old or more who were able to serve in the army were listed by name, according to the records of their clans and families. 43The number from the tribe of Naphtali[t] was 53,400.[u]

44These were the men counted by Moses and Aaron[v] and the twelve leaders of Israel, each one representing his family. 45All the Israelites twenty years old or more[w] who were able to serve in Israel's army were counted according to their families.[x] 46The total number was 603,550.[y]

47The families of the tribe of Levi,[z] however, were not counted[a] along with the others. 48The LORD had said to Moses: 49"You must not count the tribe of Levi or include them in the census of the other Israelites. 50Instead, appoint the Levites to be in charge of the tabernacle[b] of the Testimony[c]—over all its furnishings[d] and everything belonging to it. They are

1:32–35 Because the descendants of Levi were excluded from the census (see note on v. 47), the descendants of Joseph are listed according to the families of his two sons, Ephraim (vv. 32–33) and Manasseh (vv. 34–35). In this way the traditional tribal number of 12 is maintained, and Joseph is given the "double portion" of the ranking heir (cf. Ge 49:22–26; Dt 33:13–17; 2Ki 2:9).

1:46 603,550. Except for Joshua and Caleb, all these died in the desert. The mathematics of these numbers is accurate and complex. It is complex in that the totals are reached in two ways: (1) a linear listing of 12 units (vv. 20–43), with the total given (v. 46); (2) four sets of triads, each with a subtotal, and then the grand total (2:3–32). These figures are also consistent with those in Ex 12:37; 38:26. This large number of men conscripted for the army suggests a population for the entire community in excess of 2,000,000 (see Introduction: Special Problem). Ex 1:7 describes the remarkable growth of the Hebrew people in Egypt during the 400-year sojourn. They had become so numerous that they were regarded as a grave threat to the security of Egypt (Ex 1:9–10,20). Israel's amazing growth from the 70 who entered Egypt (Ex 1:5) was an evidence of God's great blessing and his faithfulness to his covenant with Abraham (Ge 12:2; 15:5; 17:4–6; 22:17).

1:47 Because of their special tasks, the Levites were excluded from this military count. They too had to perform service to the Lord, but they were to be engaged in the ceremonies and maintenance of the tabernacle (see note on vv. 32–35).

1:50 Testimony. The Ten Commandments written on stone to carry the tabernacle and all its furnishings; they are to take care of it and encamp around it. 51Whenever the tabernacle[e] is to move,[f] the Levites are to take it down, and whenever the tabernacle is to be set up, the Levites shall do it.[g] Anyone else who goes near it shall be put to death.[h] 52The Israelites are to set up their tents by divisions, each man in his own camp under his own standard.[i] 53The Levites, however, are to set up their tents around the tabernacle[j] of the Testimony so that wrath will not fall[k] on the Israelite community. The Levites are to be responsible for the care of the tabernacle of the Testimony.[l]" 54The Israelites did all this just as the LORD commanded Moses.

The Arrangement of the Tribal Camps

2 The LORD said to Moses and Aaron: 2"The Israelites are to camp around the Tent of Meeting some distance from it, each man under his standard[m] with the banners of his family."

tablets (see Ex 31:18; 32:15; 34:29), which were placed in the ark (Ex 25:16,21; 40:20), leading to the phrase the "ark of the Testimony" (Ex 25:22; 26:33,34).

1:51 Anyone else. The Hebrew for this phrase is often translated "stranger," "alien" or "foreigner" (e.g., Isa 1:7; Hos 7:9). Thus a non-Levite Israelite was considered an alien to the religious duties of the tabernacle (see Ex 29:33; 30:33; Lev 22:12). death. See 3:10,38; 18:7; cf. 16:31–33; 1Sa 6:19.

1:53 their tents around the tabernacle. See 3:21–38. wrath. The Levites formed a protective hedge against trespassing by the non-Levites to keep them from experiencing divine wrath.

1:54 as the LORD commanded Moses. In view of Israel's great disobedience in the later chapters of Numbers, these words of initial compliance have a special poignancy.

2:1–34 This chapter is symmetrically structured:

- Summary command (vv. 1–2)
  - Details of execution (vv. 3–33)
    - Eastern camp (vv. 3–9)
    - Southern camp (vv. 10–16)
      - Tent and Levites (v. 17)
    - Western camp (vv. 18–24)
    - Northern camp (vv. 25–31)
      - Summary totals (vv. 32–33)
- Summary conclusion (v. 34)

In ch. 1 the nation is mustered, and the genealogical relationships are clarified. In ch. 2 the nation is put in structural order, and the line of march and place of encampment are established. The numbers of ch. 1 are given in a new pattern, and the same leaders are named here again.

2:2 some distance from it. See 1:52–53. each man. Each was to know his exact position within the camp. standard ... banners. Each tribe had its banner, and each triad of tribes had its standard. Jewish tradition suggests that the tribal banners corresponded in color to the 12 stones in the breastpiece of the high priest (Ex 28:15–21). Tradition also holds that the standard of the triad led by Judah had the figure of a lion, that of Reuben the figure of a man, that of Ephraim the figure of an ox and that of Dan the figure of an eagle (see the four living creatures described by Eze 1:10; cf. Rev 4:7). But these traditions are not otherwise substantiated. See diagram of "Encampment of the Tribes of Israel," below.

2:3–7 Judah ... Issachar ... Zebulun. The fourth, fifth and sixth sons of Jacob and Leah. It is somewhat surprising to have these three tribes first in the order of march, since Reuben is regularly noted as Jacob's firstborn son (1:20). However, because of the failure of the older brothers (Reuben, Simeon and Levi; see Ge 49:3–7), Judah is granted pride of place among his brothers (Ge 49:8). Judah produced the royal line from which the Messiah came (Ge 49:10; Ru 4:18–21; Mt 1:1–16).

Encampment of the Tribes of Israel

are to encamp under their standard.
The leader of the people of Judah is Nahshon son of Amminadab.[n] 4His division numbers 74,600.

5The tribe of Issachar[o] will camp next to them. The leader of the people of Issachar is Nethanel son of Zuar.[p] 6His division numbers
54,400.

7The tribe of Zebulun will be next.
The leader of the people of Zebulun is Eliab son of Helon.[q] 8His division numbers 57,400.

9All the men assigned to the camp of Judah, according to their divisions, number 186,400. They will set out first.[r]

10On the south[s] will be the divisions of the camp of Reuben under their standard. The leader of the people of Reuben is Elizur son of Shedeur.[t] 11His division numbers
46,500.

12The tribe of Simeon[u] will camp
next to them. The leader of the people of Simeon is Shelumiel son of Zurishaddai.[v] 13His division numbers 59,300.

14The tribe of Gad[w] will be next.
The leader of the people of Gad is Eliasaph son of Deuel.[ax] 15His division numbers 45,650.

16All the men assigned to the camp of Reuben,[y] according to their divisions, number 151,450.
They will set out second.

17Then the Tent of Meeting and the camp of the Levites[z] will set out in the middle of the camps. They will set out in the same order as they encamp, each in his own place under his standard.

18On the west[a] will be the divisions of the camp of Ephraim[b] under their standard. The leader of the people of Ephraim is Elishama son of Ammihud.[c] 19His division numbers 40,500.

20The tribe of Manasseh[d] will be next to them. The leader of the people of Manasseh is Gamaliel son of Pedahzur.[e] 21His division numbers
32,200.

22The tribe of Benjamin[f] will be next. The leader of the people of Benjamin is Abidan son of Gideoni.[g] 23His division numbers 35,400.

24All the men assigned to the camp of Ephraim,[h] according to their divisions, number 108,100.
They will set out third.[i]

25On the north[j] will be the divisions of the camp of Dan, under their standard.[k] The leader of the people of Dan is Ahiezer son of Am-mishaddai.[l] 26His division numbers
62,700.

27The tribe of Asher will camp
next to them. The leader of the people of Asher is Pagiel son of Oc-ran.[m] 28His division numbers
41,500.

29The tribe of Naphtali[n] will be next. The leader of the people of Naphtali is Ahira son of Enan.[o]
30His division numbers 53,400.

31All the men assigned to the camp of Dan number 157,600. They will set out last,[p] under their standards.

32These are the Israelites, counted according to their families.[q] All those in the camps, by their divisions, number 603,550.[r] 33The Levites, however, were not counted[s] along with the other Israelites, as the LORD commanded Moses.

34So the Israelites did everything the LORD commanded Moses; that is the way

2:10–12 Reuben . . . Simeon. The first and second sons of Jacob and Leah.

2:14 Gad. The first son of Jacob and Zilpah (Leah's maidservant). Levi, Leah's third son, is not included with the divisions of the congregation. Deuel. See NIV text note. The Hebrew letters for d and r were easily confused by scribes (copyists) because of their similarity in form (see note on Ge 10:4).

2:17 Tent of Meeting. Representing God's presence in the heart of the camp (see 1:1 and note). Levites. In the line of march, the Judah and Reuben triads would lead the community, then would come the tabernacle with the attendant protective hedge of Levites (see note on 1:53), and last would come the Ephraim and Dan triads.

2:18–22 The Rachel tribes (Joseph and Benjamin) were on the west. Joseph's two sons Manasseh and Ephraim received a special blessing from their grandfather Jacob, but the younger son, Ephraim, was given precedence over Manasseh (Ge 48:5–20). Here, true to Jacob's words, Ephraim is ahead of Manasseh. Last comes Benjamin, the last son born to Jacob.

2:25 Dan. The first son of Bilhah, Rachel's maidservant.

2:27 Asher. The second son of Zilpah, Leah's maidservant.

2:29 Naphtali. The second son of Bilhah.

2:32 603,550. See 1:46 and note.

2:33 Levites. See notes on 1:47,53.

2:34 did everything the LORD commanded Moses. As in 1:54, these words of absolute compliance contrast with Israel's later folly. under their standards . . . each with his clan and family. A major accomplishment for a people so numerous, so recently enslaved and more recently a mob in disarray. It may have been the orderliness of this encampment that led Balaam to say: "How beautiful are your tents, O Jacob, your dwelling places, O Israel!" (24:5).

they encamped under their standards, and that is the way they set out, each with his clan and family.

The Levites

3 This is the account of the family of Aaron and Moses[t] at the time the LORD talked with Moses on Mount Sinai.[u]

2The names of the sons of Aaron were Nadab the firstborn[v] and Abihu, Eleazar and Ithamar.[w] 3Those were the names of Aaron's sons, the anointed priests,[x] who were ordained to serve as priests. 4Nadab and Abihu, however, fell dead before the LORD[y] when they made an offering with unauthorized fire before him in the Desert of Sinai.[z] They had no sons; so only Eleazar and Ithamar[a] served as priests during the lifetime of their father Aaron.[b]

5The LORD said to Moses, 6"Bring the tribe of Levi[c] and present them to Aaron the priest to assist him.[d] 7They are to perform duties for him and for the whole community[e] at the Tent of Meeting by doing the work[f] of the tabernacle. 8They are to take care of all the furnishings of the Tent of Meeting, fulfilling the obligations of the Israelites by doing the work of the tabernacle. 9Give the Levites to Aaron and his sons;[g] they are the Israelites who are to be given wholly to him.[b] 10Appoint Aaron[h] and his sons to serve as priests;[i] anyone else who approaches the sanctuary must be put to death."[j]

11The LORD also said to Moses, 12"I have taken the Levites[k] from among the Israelites in place of the first male offspring[l] of every Israelite woman. The Levites are mine,[m] 13for all the firstborn are mine.[n] When I struck down all the firstborn in Egypt, I set apart for myself every firstborn in Israel, whether man or animal. They are to be mine. I am the LORD."[o]

14The LORD said to Moses in the Desert of Sinai,[p] 15"Count[q] the Levites by their families and clans. Count every male a month old or more."[r] 16So Moses counted them, as he was commanded by the word of the LORD.

[b]9 Most manuscripts of the Masoretic Text; some manuscripts of the Masoretic Text, Samaritan Pentateuch and Septuagint (see also Num. 8:16) to me

3:1 Aaron and Moses. At first glance, the names seem out of order, but the emphasis is correct: It is the family of Aaron that is about to be described (see v. 2).

3:3 anointed priests. Ex 28:41 records God's command to Moses to anoint his brother Aaron and his sons as priests of the Lord (see Ex 30:30; Lev 8:30). By this solemn act they were consecrated in a special way to the Lord. Kings (1Sa 16:13) were also anointed with oil for special service to God. Physical objects could be anointed as well (see Ge 28:18; Ex 29:36). The Hebrew term for "anointed" (mashiah) later became the specific term for the Messiah (Christ); see NIV text note on Mt 1:17. ordained. The Hebrew for this word means lit. "fill the hand of" (see Ex 32:29). By this act there was an investing of authority, a consecration and a setting apart.

3:4 Nadab and Abihu. See Lev 10:1–3 and notes. unauthorized fire. Or "strange fire." This seems to be a deliberately obscure expression, as though the narrator finds the very concept distasteful. They were using fire that the Lord had not commanded (see Lev 10:1). Proximity to God's holiness requires righteousness and obedience from his priests. For all time, the deaths of Aaron's newly consecrated sons serve to warn God's ministers of the awesome seriousness of their tasks (cf. 1Sa 2:12–17,22–25,27–36; 3:11–14; 4:1–11). For similar divine judgments at the beginning of new stages in salvation history see Jos 7; 2Sa 6:7; Ac 5:1–11.

3:5–10 These commands are not followed by a report of obedience as were the commands in chs. 1–2, but further details are given in ch. 8. Clear distinctions are made here between the priestly house (the sons of Aaron) and the Levites. The latter were to be aides to the priests, and they served not only Aaron but the whole nation in the process (see vv. 7–8).

3:9 to him. See NIV text note. It appears that the issue here is service to Aaron (and through him to the Lord); in 8:16 the service is to the Lord.

3:10 anyone else. Lit. "stranger"—anyone lacking authorization. Service at the tabernacle may be performed only at the express appointment of the Lord. The words of v. 10 follow the paragraph telling of the death of Aaron's sons. They were authorized persons, but used unauthorized means. If the sons of Aaron were put to death at the commencement of their duties, how dare an unauthorized person even think to trespass? See v. 38; 18:7.

3:12–13 See note on Ex 13:2. mine. Repeated for emphasis.

3:12 in place of. An example of the practice of substitution (see Ge 22:13 and note; Mt 20:28).

3:15 a month old or more. The counting of the Levites corresponds to that of the other tribes in chs. 1–2, except that all males from the age of one month, rather than from 20 years, were to be counted. The Levites were not being mustered for war, but for special service in the sacred precincts of the Lord.

3:16 as he was commanded. The obedience of Moses to the Lord's command is explicit and total.

3:21–38 The words of 1:53, "their tents around the tabernacle of the Testimony," are detailed by the four paragraphs in this section: (1) Gershon to the west (vv. 21–26);

the Gershonite clans. 22The number of all the males a month old or more who were counted was 7,500. 23The Gershonite clans were to camp on the west, behind the tabernacle.[c] 24The leader of the families of the Gershonites was Eliasaph son of Lael. 25At the Tent of Meeting the Gershonites were responsible for the care of the tabernacle[d] and tent, its coverings,[e] the curtain at the entrance[f] to the Tent of Meeting,[g] 26the curtains of the courtyard[h], the curtain at the entrance to the courtyard surrounding the tabernacle and altar,[i] and the ropes[j]—and everything[k] related to their use.

27To Kohath[l] belonged the clans of the Amramites, Izharites, Hebronites and Uzzielites;[m] these were the Kohathite[n] clans. 28The number of all the males a month old or more[o] was 8,600.[c] The Kohathites were responsible[p] for the care of the sanctuary.[q] 29The Kohathite clans were to camp on the south side[r] of the tabernacle. 30The leader of the families of the Kohathite clans was Elizaphan[s] son of Uzziel. 31They were responsible for the care of the ark,[t] the table,[u] the lampstand,[v] the altars,[w] the articles[x] of the sanctuary used in ministering, the curtain,[y] and everything related to their use.[z] 32The chief leader of the Levites was Eleazar[a] son of Aaron, the priest. He was appointed over those who were responsible[b] for the care of the sanctuary.[c]

33To Merari belonged the clans of the Mahlites and the Mushites;[d] these were the Merarite clans.[e] 34The number of all the males a month old or more[f] who were counted was 6,200. 35The leader of the families of the Merarite clans was Zuriel son of Abihail; they were to camp on the north side of the tabernacle.[g] 36The Merarites were appointed[h] to take care of the frames of the tabernacle,[i] its crossbars,[j] posts,[k] bases, all its equipment, and everything related to their use,[l] 37as well as the posts of the surrounding courtyard[m] with their bases, tent pegs[n] and ropes.

38Moses and Aaron and his sons were to camp to the east[o] of the tabernacle, toward the sunrise, in front of the Tent of Meeting.[p] They were responsible for the care of the sanctuary[q] on behalf of the Israelites. Anyone else who approached the sanctuary was to be put to death.[r]

39The total number of Levites counted[s] at the LORD's command by Moses and Aaron according to their clans, including every male a month old or more, was 22,000.[t]

40The LORD said to Moses, "Count all the firstborn Israelite males who are a month old or more[u] and make a list of their names.[v] 41Take the Levites for me in place of all the firstborn of the Israelites,[w] and the livestock of the Levites in place of all the firstborn of the livestock of the Israelites. I am the LORD."[x]

42So Moses counted all the firstborn of the Israelites, as the LORD commanded him. 43The total number of firstborn

(2) Kohath to the south (vv. 27–32); (3) Merari to the north (vv. 33–37); (4) Moses and Aaron and sons to the east (v. 38). The other tribes began with the most favored: (1) Judah on the east (2:3); (2) Reuben on the south (2:10); (3) Ephraim on the west (2:18); (4) Dan on the north (2:25). The Levitical clans lead up to the most favored. The leaders of the Levitical houses correspond to the leaders of the other tribes (see note on 1:5–16). As the names of the other tribal leaders include a form of God's name, so do these names.

3:24 Eliasaph. Means "(My) God has added." Lael. Means "belonging to God."

3:25–26 There were three curtains or covering screens for the tabernacle: (1) at the gate of the courtyard (v. 26; 4:26); (2) at the entrance to the Tent (vv. 25,31; 4:25); (3) between the Most Holy Place and the Holy Place (4:5).

3:27 Amramites. Aaron was an Amramite (see Ex 6:20); thus he and Moses were from the family of Kohath. To the Kohathites was given the care of the most holy things (see 4:4–18).

3:28 8,600. The total number of Levites given in v. 39 is 22,000—300 less than the totals of 7,500 Gershonites (v. 22), 8,600 Kohathites (here) and 6,200 Merarites (v. 34). Many believe that a copyist may have made a mistake here, and that the correct number is 8,300 (see NIV text note).

3:30 Elizaphan. Means "(My) God has protected." Uzziel. Means "My strength is God."

3:35 Zuriel. Means "My Rock is God." Abihail. Means "My (divine) Father is power."

3:38 toward the sunrise. The most honored location, but Moses and Aaron were placed there for a representative ministry (on behalf of the Israelites). Anyone else . . . was to be put to death. Service in the tabernacle was an act of mercy, a means for the people to come before God. Yet it was marked by strict discipline—it had to be done in God's way. The sovereignty of God was evident in his limitations on the means to approach him (see v. 10; 1:51; 18:7).

3:41 I am the LORD. What is being commanded conforms to God's character as Yahweh ("the LORD"; see note on Ex 3:14).

3:43 22,273. Seems too small for a population in excess of 2,000,000, and is used as an argument for attempting to find a means of reducing the total number of the people (calculations based on this number suggest a total population of about 250,000). Some suggest that the 22,273 firstborn of Israel were those born since the exodus, all the firstborn at the time of the exodus having already been set apart for the Lord at the first Passover (see Ex 12:22–23). This, however, creates a new problem since nowhere is that al-males a month old or more,[y] listed by name, was 22,273.[z]

44The LORD also said to Moses, 45"Take the Levites in place of all the firstborn of Israel, and the livestock of the Levites in place of their livestock. The Levites are to be mine.[a] I am the LORD.[b] 46To redeem[c] the 273 firstborn Israelites who exceed the number of the Levites, 47collect five shekels[d d] for each one, according to the sanctuary shekel,[e] which weighs twenty gerahs.[f] 48Give the money for the redemption[g] of the additional Israelites to Aaron and his sons."[h]

49So Moses collected the redemption money[i] from those who exceeded the number redeemed by the Levites. 50From the firstborn of the Israelites[j] he collected silver weighing 1,365 shekels,[e k] according to the sanctuary shekel. 51Moses gave the redemption money to Aaron and his sons, as he was commanded by the word of the LORD.

The Kohathites

4 The LORD said to Moses and Aaron: 2"Take a census[l] of the Kohathite branch of the Levites by their clans and families. 3Count[m] all the men from thirty to fifty years of age[n] who come to serve in the work in the Tent of Meeting.

4"This is the work[o] of the Kohathites[p] in the Tent of Meeting: the care of the most holy things.[q] 5When the camp is to move,[r] Aaron and his sons are to go in and take down the shielding curtain[s] and cover the ark of the Testimony with it.[t] 6Then they are to cover this with hides of sea cows,[f u] spread a cloth of solid blue over that and put the poles[v] in place.

7"Over the table of the Presence[w] they are to spread a blue cloth and put on it the plates, dishes and bowls, and the jars for drink offerings;[x] the bread that is continually there[y] is to remain on it. 8Over these they are to spread a scarlet cloth, cover that with hides of sea cows and put its poles[z] in place.

9"They are to take a blue cloth and cover the lampstand that is for light, together with its lamps, its wick trimmers and trays,[a] and all its jars for the oil used to supply it. 10Then they are to wrap it and all its accessories in a covering of hides of sea cows and put it on a carrying frame.[b]

11"Over the gold altar[c] they are to spread a blue cloth and cover that with hides of sea cows and put its poles[d] in place.

12"They are to take all the articles[e] used for ministering in the sanctuary, wrap them in a blue cloth, cover that with hides of sea cows and put them on a carrying frame.[f]

13"They are to remove the ashes[g] from the bronze altar[h] and spread a purple cloth over it. 14Then they are to place on it all the utensils[i] used for ministering at the altar, including the firepans,[j] meat forks,[k] shovels[l] and sprinkling bowls.[m] Over it they are to spread a covering of hides of sea cows and put its poles[n] in place.

15"After Aaron and his sons have finished covering the holy furnishings and all the holy articles, and when the camp is ready to move,[o] the Kohathites[p] are to come to do the carrying.[q] But they must not touch the holy things[r] or they will die.[s t] The Kohathites are to carry those things that are in the Tent of Meeting.

16"Eleazar[u] son of Aaron, the priest, is to have charge of the oil for the light,[v] the fragrant incense,[w] the regular grain offering[x] and the anointing oil. He is to be in charge of the entire tabernacle and everything in it, including its holy furnishings and articles."

17The LORD said to Moses and Aaron, 18"See that the Kohathite tribal clans are not cut off from the Levites. 19So that they may live and not die when they come near the most holy things,[y] do this for them: Aaron and his sons[z] are to go into the sanctuary and assign to each man his work and what he is to carry.[a] 20But the Kohathites must not go in to look[b] at the holy things, even for a moment, or they will die."

The Gershonites

21The LORD said to Moses, 22"Take a census also of the Gershonites by their families and clans. 23Count all the men

4:3 thirty to fifty years. Ch. 3 listed all males over the age of one month (3:15). Ch. 4 lists those Levites who were of age to serve in the tabernacle. Of the 22,000 Levite males (3:39), 8,580 were of age for service (v. 48). From 8:24 we learn that the beginning age for service was 25; perhaps the first 5 years were something of an apprenticeship.

4:4 most holy things. Despite the fact that the primary care of these holy things was given to the Kohathites, they were forbidden to touch them (v. 15) or even to look at them (v. 20), on pain of death. All the work of the Kohathites was to be strictly supervised by Aaron and his sons, and only the priests were able to touch and look at the unveiled holy things.

4:6 sea cows. See NIV text note.

4:16 Eleazar . . . the priest, is to have charge. The high priest could draw near to the most holy things on behalf of the people. If he had not been able to do so, there could have been no worship by the community.

from thirty to fifty years of age[c] who come to serve in the work at the Tent of Meeting.

24"This is the service of the Gershonite clans as they work and carry burdens: 25They are to carry the curtains of the tabernacle,[d] the Tent of Meeting,[e] its covering[f] and the outer covering of hides of sea cows, the curtains for the entrance to the Tent of Meeting, 26the curtains of the courtyard surrounding the tabernacle and altar,[g] the curtain for the entrance,[h] the ropes and all the equipment[i] used in its service. The Gershonites are to do all that needs to be done with these things. 27All their service, whether carrying or doing other work, is to be done under the direction of Aaron and his sons.[j] You shall assign to them as their responsibility[k] all they are to carry. 28This is the service of the Gershonite clans[l] at the Tent of Meeting. Their duties are to be under the direction of Ithamar[m] son of Aaron, the priest.

The Merarites

29"Count[n] the Merarites by their clans and families.[o] 30Count all the men from thirty to fifty years of age who come to serve in the work at the Tent of Meeting. 31This is their duty as they perform service at the Tent of Meeting: to carry the frames of the tabernacle, its crossbars, posts and bases,[p] 32as well as the posts of the surrounding courtyard with their bases, tent pegs, ropes,[q] all their equipment and everything related to their use. Assign to each man the specific things he is to carry. 33This is the service of the Merarite clans as they work at the Tent of Meeting under the direction of Ithamar[r] son of Aaron, the priest."

The Numbering of the Levite Clans

34Moses, Aaron and the leaders of the community counted the Kohathites[s] by their clans and families. 35All the men from thirty to fifty years of age[t] who came to serve in the work in the Tent of Meeting, 36counted by clans, were 2,750. 37This was the total of all those in the Kohathite clans[u] who served in the Tent of Meeting. Moses and Aaron counted them according to the LORD's command through Moses.

38The Gershonites[v] were counted by their clans and families. 39All the men from thirty to fifty years of age who came to serve in the work at the Tent of Meeting, 40counted by their clans and families, were 2,630. 41This was the total of those in the Gershonite clans who served at the Tent of Meeting. Moses and Aaron counted them according to the LORD's command.

42The Merarites were counted by their clans and families. 43All the men from thirty to fifty years of age[w] who came to serve in the work at the Tent of Meeting, 44counted by their clans, were 3,200. 45This was the total of those in the Merarite clans.[x] Moses and Aaron counted them according to the LORD's command through Moses.

46So Moses, Aaron and the leaders of Israel counted[y] all the Levites by their clans and families. 47All the men from thirty to fifty years of age[z] who came to do the work of serving and carrying the Tent of Meeting 48numbered 8,580.[a] 49At the LORD's command through Moses, each was assigned his work and told what to carry.

Thus they were counted,[b] as the LORD commanded Moses.

The Purity of the Camp

5 The LORD said to Moses, 2"Command the Israelites to send away from the camp anyone who has an infectious skin disease[g][c] or a discharge[d] of any kind, or who is ceremonially unclean[e] because of a dead body.[f] 3Send away male and female alike; send them outside the camp so they will not defile their camp, where I dwell among them.[g]" 4The Israelites did this; they sent them outside the camp. They did just as the LORD had instructed Moses.

g2 Traditionally leprosy; the Hebrew word was used for various diseases affecting the skin—not necessarily leprosy.

5:2 infectious skin disease. See NIV text note; see also note on Lev 13:2; cf. Lk 5:12–16; 17:11–19. discharge of any kind. See note on Lev 15:2. Such discharges were primarily from the sexual organs and were chronic in nature (cf. Lk 8:43–48). The people who suffered from them became living object lessons to the whole camp on the necessity for all people to be "clean" in their approach to God. unclean. Ceremonially unfit to be with the community, and a possible contaminant to the tabernacle and the pure worship of the Lord. Aspects of uncleanness were not left in the abstract or theoretical; the focus was on tangible issues, such as clearly evident skin diseases and discharges. dead body. The ultimate tangible sign of uncleanness. Processes of decay and disease in dead flesh were evident to all. Physical contact with a corpse was a sure mark of uncleanness; normal contacts with the living would have to be curtailed until proper cleansing had been made. See note on 6:6 for application to the Nazirite vow. Jesus reached out to the dead as well as to the living; his raising of Jairus's daughter began with holding her limp hand (Lk 8:54).

5:3 male and female alike. The concept of clean versus unclean cuts across sexual lines. The essential issue was the presence of the Lord in the camp; there can be no uncleanness where he dwells. In the new Jerusalem (Rev 21:2–3) the dwelling of God with man will be uncompromised by any form of uncleanness (Rev 21:27).

Restitution for Wrongs

5 The LORD said to Moses, 6 "Say to the Israelites: 'When a man or woman wrongs another in any way[h] and so is unfaithful[h] to the LORD, that person is guilty[i] 7 and must confess[j] the sin he has committed. He must make full restitution[k] for his wrong, add one fifth to it and give it all to the person he has wronged. 8 But if that person has no close relative to whom restitution can be made for the wrong, the restitution belongs to the LORD and must be given to the priest, along with the ram[l] with which atonement is made for him.[m] 9 All the sacred contributions the Israelites bring to a priest will belong to him.[n] 10 Each man's sacred gifts are his own, but what he gives to the priest will belong to the priest.[o]' "

The Test for an Unfaithful Wife

11 Then the LORD said to Moses, 12 "Speak to the Israelites and say to them: 'If a man's wife goes astray[p] and is unfaithful to him 13 by sleeping with another man,[q] and this is hidden from her husband and her impurity is undetected (since there is no witness against her and she has not been caught in the act), 14 and if feelings of jealousy[r] come over her husband and he suspects his wife and she is impure—or if he is jealous and suspects her even though she is not impure— 15 then he is to take his wife to the priest. He must also take an offering of a tenth of an ephah[is] of barley flour[t] on her behalf. He must not pour oil on it or put incense on it, because it is a grain offering for jealousy,[u] a reminder[v] offering to draw attention to guilt.

16 " 'The priest shall bring her and have her stand before the LORD. 17 Then he shall take some holy water in a clay jar and put some dust from the tabernacle floor into the water. 18 After the priest has had the woman stand before the LORD, he shall loosen her hair[w] and place in her hands the reminder offering, the grain offering for jealousy,[x] while he himself holds the bitter water that brings a curse.[y] 19 Then the priest shall put the woman under oath and say to her, "If no other man has slept with you and you have not gone astray[z] and become impure while married to your husband, may this bitter water that brings a curse[a] not harm you. 20 But if you have gone astray[b] while married to your husband and you have defiled yourself by sleeping with a man other than your husband"— 21 here the priest is to put the woman under this curse of the oath[c]— "may the LORD cause your people to curse and denounce you when he causes your thigh to waste away and your abdomen to swell.[j] 22 May this water[d] that brings

5:5–10 The connection of these verses (on personal wrongs) with the first paragraph (on ritual uncleanness) may be that of moving from the outward, visible defects to the inward, more secret faults that mar the purity of the community. Those with evident marks of uncleanness are to be expelled for the duration of their malady. But more insidious are those people who have overtly sinned against others in the community, and who think that they may continue to function as though they had done nothing wrong.

5:11–31 Again, the connection with the preceding two paragraphs seems to be a movement from the more open, obvious sins to the more personal, hidden ones. Issues of purity begin with physical marks (vv. 1–4), are expanded to interpersonal relationships (vv. 5–10), and then intrude into the most intimate of relationships—the purity of a man and woman in their marriage bed. A test for marital fidelity is far more difficult to prove than a test for a skin disorder; hence, the larger part of the chapter is given to this most sensitive of issues.

5:14 feelings of jealousy. These may have been provoked on the basis of good cause, and the issue must be faced. The concern is not just for the bruised feelings of the husband but is ultimately based on the reality of God's dwelling among his people (v. 3). Yet the chapter is designed to prevent unfounded charges of unfaithfulness. This text was not to be used by a capricious, petty or malevolent husband to badger an innocent woman. impure. The subject of the chapter is consistent; the purity of the camp where God dwells (v. 3) is the burden of the passage.

5:15–28 The actions presented here seem severe and harsh. But the consequences would have been worse for a woman charged with adultery by an angry husband if there was no provision for her guilt or innocence to be demonstrated. That she was taken to the priest (v. 15) is finally an act of mercy. The gravity of the ritual for a suspected unfaithful wife shows that the law regards marital infidelity most seriously. This was not just a concern of a jealous husband. The entire community was affected by this breach of faith; hence, the judgment was in the context of the community.

5:18 loosen her hair. A sign of openness; for the guilty, an expectation of judgment and mourning. bitter water that brings a curse. Or "curse-bringing water of bitterness." It is not just that the water was bitter tasting but that the water had the potential of bringing with it a bitter curse. The Lord's role in the proceedings (vv. 16,21,25) is emphasized repeatedly to show that this potion was neither simply a tool of magic nor merely a psychological device to determine stress. The verdict with respect to the woman was precipitated by her physiological and psychological responses to the bitter water, but the judgment was from the Lord.

5:21 your thigh to waste away and your abdomen to swell. See NIV text note. The figurative language here (and in vv. 22,27) speaks of the loss of the capacity for childbearing (and, if pregnant, the miscarriage of the child). This is demonstrated by the determination of the fate of a woman wrongly charged (v. 28). For a woman in the ancient Near East to be denied the ability to bear children was a personal loss of inestimable proportions. Since it was in the bearing of children that a woman's worth was realized in the ancient world, this was a grievous punishment indeed.

a curse[e] enter your body so that your abdomen swells and your thigh wastes away.[k]"

" 'Then the woman is to say, "Amen. So be it.[f]"

23" 'The priest is to write these curses on a scroll[g] and then wash them off into the bitter water. 24He shall have the woman drink the bitter water that brings a curse, and this water will enter her and cause bitter suffering. 25The priest is to take from her hands the grain offering for jealousy, wave it before the LORD[h] and bring it to the altar. 26The priest is then to take a handful of the grain offering as a memorial offering[i] and burn it on the altar; after that, he is to have the woman drink the water. 27If she has defiled herself and been unfaithful to her husband, then when she is made to drink the water that brings a curse, it will go into her and cause bitter suffering; her abdomen will swell and her thigh waste away,[l] and she will become accursed[j] among her people. 28If, however, the woman has not defiled herself and is free from impurity, she will be cleared of guilt and will be able to have children.

29" 'This, then, is the law of jealousy when a woman goes astray[k] and defiles herself while married to her husband, 30or when feelings of jealousy[l] come over a man because he suspects his wife. The priest is to have her stand before the LORD and is to apply this entire law to her. 31The husband will be innocent of any wrongdoing, but the woman will bear the consequences[m] of her sin.' "

The Nazirite

6 The LORD said to Moses, 2"Speak to the Israelites and say to them: 'If a man or woman wants to make a special vow[n], a vow of separation[o] to the LORD as a Nazirite,[p] 3he must abstain from wine[q] and other fermented drink and must not drink vinegar[r] made from wine or from other fermented drink. He must not drink grape juice or eat grapes[s] or raisins. 4As long as he is a Nazirite, he must not eat anything that comes from the grapevine, not even the seeds or skins.

5" 'During the entire period of his vow of separation no razor[t] may be used on his head.[u] He must be holy until the period of his separation to the LORD is over; he must let the hair of his head grow long. 6Throughout the period of his separation to the LORD he must not go near a dead body.[v] 7Even if his own father or mother or brother or sister dies, he must not make himself ceremonially unclean[w] on account of them, because the symbol of his separation to God is on his head. 8Throughout the period of his separation he is consecrated to the LORD.

9" 'If someone dies suddenly in his presence, thus defiling the hair he has dedicated,[x] he must shave his head on the day of his cleansing[y]—the seventh day. 10Then on the eighth day[z] he must bring two doves or two young pigeons[a] to the priest at the entrance to the Tent of Meeting.[b] 11The priest is to offer one as a sin offering[c] and the other as a burnt offering[d] to make atonement[e] for him because he sinned by being in the presence of the dead body. That same day he is to consecrate his head. 12He must dedicate himself to the LORD for the period of his separation and must bring a year-old male lamb[f] as a guilt offering.[g] The previous days do not count, because he became defiled during his separation.

13" 'Now this is the law for the Nazirite when the period of his separation is over.[h] He is to be brought to the entrance to the Tent of Meeting.[i] 14There he is to present his offerings to the LORD: a year-old male lamb without defect[j] for a burnt offering, a year-old ewe lamb without defect for a sin offering,[k] a

6:2 man or woman. See ch. 30 for the differences between the vows of men and women. vow . . . Nazirite. Involved separation or consecration for a specific period of special devotion to God—on occasion even for life. Attention is usually given to the prohibitions for the Nazirite; more important to the Lord is the positive separation (see v. 8). This was not just a vow of personal self-discipline; it was an act of total devotion to the Lord.

6:4 anything that comes from the grapevine. Not only was the fermented beverage forbidden, but even the seed and skin of the grape. During the period of a Nazirite's vow, three areas of his (or her) life were governed: (1) diet, (2) appearance and (3) associations. Every Israelite was regulated in these areas, but for the Nazirite each regulation was heightened. An analogy may be the practice of some Christians to forgo certain (good) foods during the period of Lent to enhance spiritual devotion to Christ in the special period of remembering his sufferings.

6:5 no razor. See Jdg 13:5. The unusually long hair of a Nazirite would become a physical mark of his (or her) vow of special devotion to the Lord. Cf. Lev 21:5.

6:6 dead body. See note on 5:2. For the Nazirite, the prohibition of contact with dead bodies extended even to the deceased within his (or her) own family (v. 7; contrast Lev 21:1–3).

6:9–12 The provisions of the Nazirite vow concerned areas where he (or she) was able to make conscious decisions. This section deals with the unexpected and the unplanned events of daily living.

6:13–20 The offerings of the Nazirite at the completion of the period of the vow were extensive, expensive and expressive of the spirit of total commitment to the Lord during this time of special devotion. In addition to these several offerings the Nazirite burned his (or her) hair (the sign of the vow).

ram[l] without defect for a fellowship offering,[mm] [15]together with their grain offerings[n] and drink offerings,[o] and a basket of bread made without yeast—cakes made of fine flour mixed with oil, and wafers spread with oil.[p]

[16]" 'The priest is to present them[q] before the LORD[r] and make the sin offering and the burnt offering.[s] [17]He is to present the basket of unleavened bread and is to sacrifice the ram as a fellowship offering[t] to the LORD, together with its grain offering[u] and drink offering.[v]

[18]" 'Then at the entrance to the Tent of Meeting, the Nazirite must shave off the hair that he dedicated.[w] He is to take the hair and put it in the fire that is under the sacrifice of the fellowship offering.

[19]" 'After the Nazirite has shaved off the hair of his dedication, the priest is to place in his hands a boiled shoulder of the ram, and a cake and a wafer from the basket, both made without yeast.[x] [20]The priest shall then wave them before the LORD as a wave offering;[y] they are holy[z] and belong to the priest, together with the breast that was waved and the thigh that was presented.[a] After that, the Nazirite may drink wine.[b]

[21]" 'This is the law of the Nazirite[c] who vows his offering to the LORD in accordance with his separation, in addition to whatever else he can afford. He must fulfill the vow[d] he has made, according to the law of the Nazirite.' "

The Priestly Blessing

[22]The LORD said to Moses, [23]"Tell Aaron and his sons, 'This is how you are to bless[e] the Israelites. Say to them:

[24]" ' "The LORD bless you[f] and keep you;[g]
[25]the LORD make his face shine upon you[h] and be gracious to you;[i] [26]the LORD turn his face[j] toward you and give you peace.[k]" '

[27]"So they will put my name[l] on the Israelites, and I will bless them."

Offerings at the Dedication of the Tabernacle

7 When Moses finished setting up the tabernacle,[m] he anointed[n] it and consecrated it and all its furnishings.[o] He also anointed and consecrated the altar and all its utensils.[p] [2]Then the leaders of Israel,[q] the heads of families who were the tribal leaders in charge of those who were counted,[r] made offerings. [3]They brought as their gifts before the LORD six covered carts[s] and twelve oxen—an ox from each leader and a cart from every two. These they presented before the tabernacle.

[4]The LORD said to Moses, [5]"Accept these from them, that they may be used in the work at the Tent of Meeting. Give them to the Levites as each man's work requires."

[6]So Moses took the carts and oxen and gave them to the Levites. [7]He gave two carts and four oxen to the Gershonites,[t] as their work required, [8]and he gave four carts and eight oxen to the Merarites,[u] as their work required. They were all under the direction of Ithamar son of Aaron, the priest. [9]But Moses did not give any to the Kohathites,[v] because they were to carry on their shoulders[w] the holy things, for which they were responsible.

[10]When the altar was anointed,[x] the leaders brought their offerings for its dedication[y] and presented them before the altar. [11]For the LORD had said to Moses, "Each day one leader is to bring his offering for the dedication of the altar."

[12]The one who brought his offering on the first day was Nahshon[z] son of Amminadab of the tribe of Judah.

6:21 This is the law of the Nazirite. Summary statements such as this not only end a section, but also solemnize its contents.

6:24–26 The Aaronic benediction. The threefold repetition of the divine name Yahweh ("the LORD") is for emphasis and gives force to the expression in v. 27: "So they will put my name on the Israelites." Each verse conveys two elements of benediction, and the verses are progressively longer (in the Hebrew text, the first verse has three words, the second has five and the third has seven).

6:25 make his face shine upon you. In acceptance and favor.

6:26 peace. The Hebrew for this word is shalom, here seen in its most expressive fullness—not the absence of war, but a positive state of rightness and well-being. Such peace comes only from the Lord.

7:1–89 See Ex 40, which describes the setting up of the tabernacle and ends with the report of the cloud covering and the presence of the Lord filling the tabernacle. With much repetition of language, this chapter (the longest in the Pentateuch) records the magnificent (and identical) gifts to the Lord for tabernacle service from the leaders of the 12 tribes. The fact that the record of these gifts follows the text of the Aaronic benediction (6:24–26) seems fitting: In response to God's promise to bless his people, they bring gifts to him in 12 sequential days of celebrative pageantry.

7:12–78 The leaders of the 12 tribes have already been named in 1:5–15; 2:3–32. The order of the presentation of their offerings to the Lord is the same as the order of march: first, the triad of tribes camped east of the tabernacle (Judah, Issachar and Zebulun: 2:3–9; 7:12,18,24); second, the triad camped to the south (Reuben, Simeon and Gad: 2:10–16; 7:30,36,42); third, the triad to the west (Ephraim, Manasseh and Benjamin: 2:18–24; 7:48,54,60); finally, those to the north (Dan, Asher and Naphtali: 2:25–31; 7:66,72,78). See diagram of "Encampment of the Tribes of Israel," p. 189.

two oxen, five rams, five male goats and five male lambs a year old, to be sacrificed as a fellowship offering.
This was the offering of Nethanel son of Zuar.

24On the third day, Eliab son of Helon,[o]
the leader of the people of Zebulun, brought his offering.
25His offering was one silver plate
weighing a hundred and thirty shekels, and one silver sprinkling bowl weighing seventy shekels, both according to the sanctuary shekel,
each filled with fine flour mixed with oil as a grain offering; 26one goat for a sin offering; 35and two oxen, five rams, five male goats and five male lambs a year old, to be sacrificed as a fellowship offering. This was the offering of Elizur son of Shedeur.

36On the fifth day Shelumiel son of Zuri-shaddai,[q] the leader of the people of Simeon, brought his offering.
37His offering was one silver plate
weighing a hundred and thirty shekels, and one silver sprinkling bowl
weighing seventy shekels, both according to the sanctuary shekel,
each filled with fine flour mixed with oil as a grain offering; 38one gold dish weighing ten shekels, filled with incense; 39one young bull, one ram and one male lamb a year old, for a burnt offering; 40one male goat for a sin offering; 41and two oxen, five rams, five male goats and five male lambs a year old, to be sacrificed as a fellowship offering. This was the offering of Shelumiel son of Zurishaddai.

42On the sixth day Eliasaph son of Deuel,[r] the leader of the people of Gad,
brought his offering.
43His offering was one silver plate
weighing a hundred and thirty shekels, and one silver sprinkling bowl
weighing seventy shekels, both according to the sanctuary shekel,
each filled with fine flour mixed with oil as a grain offering; 44one

old, for a burnt offering; 46one male goat for a sin offering; 47and two oxen, five rams, five male goats and five male lambs a year old, to be sacrificed as a fellowship offering. This was the offering of Eliasaph son of Deuel.

48On the seventh day Elishama son of Ammihud,[s] the leader of the people of Ephraim, brought his offering.
49His offering was one silver plate

7:84–88 The totals of the 12 sets of gifts.

weighed two thousand four hundred shekels,[r] according to the sanctuary shekel.[c] 86The twelve gold dishes filled with incense weighed ten shekels each, according to the sanctuary shekel.[d] Altogether, the gold dishes weighed a hundred and twenty shekels.[s] 87The total number of animals for the burnt offering[e] came to twelve young bulls, twelve rams and twelve male lambs a year old, together with their grain offering.[f] Twelve male goats were used for the sin offering.[g] 88The total number of animals for the sacrifice of the fellowship offering[h] came to twenty-four oxen, sixty rams, sixty male goats and sixty male lambs[i] a year old. These were the offerings for the dedication of the altar after it was anointed.[j]

89When Moses entered the Tent of Meeting[k] to speak with the LORD,[l] he heard the voice speaking to him from between the two cherubim above the atonement cover[m] on the ark of the Testimony.[n] And he spoke with him.

Setting Up the Lamps

8 The LORD said to Moses, 2"Speak to Aaron and say to him, 'When you set up the seven lamps, they are to light the area in front of the lampstand.[o]' "

3Aaron did so; he set up the lamps so that they faced forward on the lampstand, just as the LORD commanded Moses. 4This is how the lampstand was made: It was made of hammered gold[p]—from its base to its blossoms. The lampstand was made exactly like the pattern[q] the LORD had shown Moses.

The Setting Apart of the Levites

5The LORD said to Moses: 6"Take the Levites from among the other Israelites and make them ceremonially clean.[r] 7To purify them, do this: Sprinkle the water of cleansing[s] on them; then have them shave their whole bodies[t] and wash their clothes,[u] and so purify themselves.[v] 8Have them take a young bull with its grain offering of fine flour mixed with oil;[w] then you are to take a second young bull for a sin offering.[x] 9Bring the Levites to the front of the Tent of Meeting[y] and assemble the whole Israelite community.[z] 10You are to bring the Levites before the LORD, and the Israelites are to lay their hands on them.[a] 11Aaron is to present the Levites before the LORD as a wave offering[b] from the Israelites, so that they may be ready to do the work of the LORD.

12"After the Levites lay their hands on the heads of the bulls,[c] use the one for a sin offering[d] to the LORD and the other for a burnt offering,[e] to make atonement[f] for the Levites. 13Have the Levites stand in front of Aaron and his sons and then present them as a wave offering[g] to the LORD. 14In this way you are to set the Levites apart from the other Israelites, and the Levites will be mine.[h]

15"After you have purified the Levites and presented them as a wave offering,[i] they are to come to do their work at the Tent of Meeting.[j] 16They are the Israelites who are to be given wholly to me. I have taken them as my own in place of the firstborn,[k] the first male offspring[l] from every Israelite woman. 17Every firstborn male in Israel, whether man or animal,[m] is mine. When I struck down all the firstborn in Egypt, I set them apart for myself.[n o] 18And I have taken the Levites in place of all the firstborn sons in Israel.[p] 19Of all the Israelites, I have given the Levites as gifts to Aaron and his sons[q] to do the work at the Tent of Meeting on behalf of the Israelites[r] and to make atonement for them[s] so that no plague will strike the Israelites when they go near the sanctuary."

7:89 The climax: Communion is established between the Lord and his prophet. The people have an advocate with God.

8:2 area in front of the lampstand. The Holy Place in the tabernacle (see Ex 25:37; 26:33; 27:21).

8:5–26 Describes the cleansing of the Levites and may be compared with the account of the ordination of Aaron and his sons to the priesthood (Lev 8). The Levites are helpers to the priests, and the language describing their consecration is somewhat different from that of the priests. The priests were made holy, the Levites clean; the priests were anointed and washed, the Levites sprinkled; the priests were given new garments, the Levites washed theirs; blood was applied to the priests, it was waved over the Levites.

8:7 shave their whole bodies. Symbolic of the completeness of their cleansing, as in the case of the ritual cleansing of one cured of skin disease (Lev 14:8).

8:10 Israelites are to lay their hands on them. The Levites were substitutes for the nation; by laying hands on them, the other people of the nation were acknowledging this substitutionary act (see vv. 16–18).

8:16 to me. See note on 3:9.

8:19 I have given the Levites as gifts to Aaron and his sons. The Levites were given to the Lord for his exclusive use (see v. 14). Now the Lord gives his Levites to the priests as their aides for the work of ministry in the tabernacle worship. so that no plague will strike the Israelites. The Levites were a protective hedge for the community against trespassing in the sacred precincts of the tabernacle (see note on 1:53).

8:20 as the LORD commanded Moses. See vv. 4,22; 1:54; 2:34; 3:16,51; 4:49; 5:4; 9:5,23. The implicit obedience of Moses and the Israelites to God's commands in the areas of ritual and regimen stands in sharp contrast to the people's complaints against the Lord's loving character and to their breaches of faith that begin in ch. 11.

community did with the Levites just as the LORD commanded Moses. 21The Levites purified themselves and washed their clothes.[t] Then Aaron presented them as a wave offering before the LORD and made atonement[u] for them to purify them.[v] 22After that, the Levites came to do their work[w] at the Tent of Meeting under the supervision of Aaron and his sons. They did with the Levites just as the LORD commanded Moses.

23The LORD said to Moses, 24"This applies to the Levites: Men twenty-five years old or more[x] shall come to take part in the work at the Tent of Meeting,[y] 25but at the age of fifty,[z] they must retire from their regular service and work no longer. 26They may assist their brothers in performing their duties at the Tent of Meeting, but they themselves must not do the work.[a] This, then, is how you are to assign the responsibilities of the Levites."

The Passover

9 The LORD spoke to Moses in the Desert of Sinai in the first month[b] of the second year after they came out of Egypt.[c] He said, 2"Have the Israelites celebrate the Passover[d] at the appointed time.[e] 3Celebrate it at the appointed time, at twilight on the fourteenth day of this month,[f] in accordance with all its rules and regulations.[g]"

4So Moses told the Israelites to celebrate the Passover,[h] 5and they did so in the Desert of Sinai[i] at twilight on the fourteenth day of the first month.[j] The Israelites did everything just as the LORD commanded Moses.[k]

6But some of them could not celebrate the Passover on that day because they were ceremonially unclean[l] on account of a dead body.[m] So they came to Moses and Aaron[n] that same day 7and said to Moses, "We have become unclean because of a dead body, but why should we be kept from presenting the LORD's offering with the other Israelites at the appointed time?[o]"

8Moses answered them, "Wait until I find out what the LORD commands concerning you."[p]

9Then the LORD said to Moses, 10"Tell the Israelites: 'When any of you or your descendants are unclean because of a dead body[q] or are away on a journey, they may still celebrate[r] the LORD's Passover. 11They are to celebrate it on the fourteenth day of the second month[s] at twilight. They are to eat the lamb, together with unleavened bread and bitter herbs.[t] 12They must not leave any of it till morning[u] or break any of its bones.[v] When they celebrate the Passover, they must follow all the regulations.[w] 13But if a man who is ceremonially clean and not on a journey fails to celebrate the Passover, that person must be cut off from his people[x] because he did not present the LORD's offering at the appointed time. That man will bear the consequences of his sin.

14" 'An alien[y] living among you who wants to celebrate the LORD's Passover must do so in accordance with its rules and regulations. You must have the same regulations for the alien and the native-born.' "

8:24 twenty-five years old. See note on 4:3. The age at which the Levites entered service was reduced to 20 by David (see 1Ch 23:24,27), as the circumstances of their work had greatly changed by the time of the monarchy (see 1Ch 23:26). It is difficult to imagine a change in circumstances between 4:3 and this verse, however. Therefore the rabbinical suggestion that these two verses indicate a five-year period of apprenticeship seems reasonable.

8:26 They may assist. After a Levite had reached the mandatory retirement age of 50 (see v. 25), he was still free to assist his younger co-workers (perhaps at festivals), but he was no longer to do the difficult work he had done in his prime.

9:1–14 This unit is in four parts: (1) the command to keep the Passover (vv. 1–5); (2) the question concerning those ceremonially unclean (vv. 6–8); (3) the response of the Lord—giving permission for legitimate delay, but judgment for willful neglect (vv. 9–13); (4) the rights of the alien at Passover (v. 14). The first Passover was held in Egypt (see Ex 12). The second is here at Sinai a year later. Because of Israel's rebellion and God's judgment on her (ch. 14), Israel would not celebrate the Passover again until she entered the promised land (see Jos 5:10).

9:1 first month of the second year. The events of this chapter preceded the beginning of the census in ch. 1 (see 1:1).

9:3 twilight. Traditional Jewish practice regards this period as the end of one day and the beginning of the next.

9:7 why should we be kept from presenting the LORD's offering . . . ? Those with ceremonial uncleanness had a keen desire to worship the Lord "in spirit and in truth" (Jn 4:24).

9:10 they may still celebrate. God's gracious provision for these people was an alternative day one month later (v. 11) so that they would not be excluded totally from the Passover celebration. The Lord thus demonstrates the reality of the distance that uncleanness brings between a believer and his (or her) participation in the worship of the community, but he also provides a merciful alternative.

9:12 not . . . break any of its bones. When Jesus ("our Passover lamb," 1Co 5:7; cf. Jn 1:29) was crucified, it was reported that none of his bones was broken, in fulfillment of Scripture (Jn 19:36). See also Ex 12:46; Ps 34:20.

9:13 fails to celebrate . . . cut off. The NT also issues grave warnings concerning the abuse or misuse of the celebration of the Lord's Supper (1Co 11:28–30). See note on Ex 12:15.

9:14 alien. Must first be circumcised before participating in the Passover celebration (Ex 12:48).

The Cloud Above the Tabernacle

15On the day the tabernacle, the Tent of the Testimony,[z] was set up,[a] the cloud[b] covered it. From evening till morning the cloud above the tabernacle looked like fire.[c] 16That is how it continued to be; the cloud covered it, and at night it looked like fire.[d] 17Whenever the cloud lifted from above the Tent, the Israelites set out;[e] wherever the cloud settled, the Israelites encamped.[f] 18At the LORD's command the Israelites set out, and at his command they encamped. As long as the cloud stayed over the tabernacle, they remained[g] in camp. 19When the cloud remained over the tabernacle a long time, the Israelites obeyed the LORD's order[h] and did not set out.[i] 20Sometimes the cloud was over the tabernacle only a few days; at the LORD's command they would encamp, and then at his command they would set out. 21Sometimes the cloud stayed only from evening till morning, and when it lifted in the morning, they set out. Whether by day or by night, whenever the cloud lifted, they set out. 22Whether the cloud stayed over the tabernacle for two days or a month or a year, the Israelites would remain in camp and not set out; but when it lifted, they would set out. 23At the LORD's command they encamped, and at the LORD's command they set out. They obeyed the LORD's order, in accordance with his command through Moses.

The Silver Trumpets

10 The LORD said to Moses: 2"Make two trumpets[j] of hammered silver, and use them for calling the community[k] together and for having the camps set out.[l] 3When both are sounded, the whole community is to assemble before you at the entrance to the Tent of Meeting. 4If only one is sounded, the leaders[m]—the heads of the clans of Israel—are to assemble before you. 5When a trumpet blast is sounded, the tribes camping on the east are to set out.[n] 6At the sounding of a second blast, the camps on the south are to set out.[o] The blast will be the signal for setting out. 7To gather the assembly, blow the trumpets,[p] but not with the same signal.[q]

8"The sons of Aaron, the priests, are to blow the trumpets. This is to be a lasting ordinance for you and the generations to come.[r] 9When you go into battle in your own land against an enemy who is oppressing you,[s] sound a blast on the trumpets.[t] Then you will be remembered[u] by the LORD your God and rescued from your enemies.[v] 10Also at your times of rejoicing—your appointed feasts and New Moon festivals[w]—you are to sound the trumpets[x] over your burnt offerings[y] and fellowship offerings,[tz] and they will be a memorial for you before your God. I am the LORD your God.[a]"

The Israelites Leave Sinai

11On the twentieth day of the second month of the second year,[b] the cloud lifted[c] from above the tabernacle of the Testimony.[d] 12Then the Israelites set out from the Desert of Sinai and traveled from place to place until the cloud came to rest in the Desert of Paran.[e] 13They set out, this first time, at the LORD's command through Moses.[f]

9:15 cloud covered it. See notes on Ex 13:21; 40:34. The cloud was the visible symbol of the Lord's presence hovering above the tabernacle. That this was no ordinary cloud is attested not only by its spontaneous appearance at the completion of the setting up of the tabernacle, but also by the fact that at night it had the appearance of fire. The Lord also directed the movements of his people by means of the cloud (vv. 17–18).

9:18 At the LORD's command. The lifting and settling of the cloud are identified with the Lord's command.

9:23 obeyed the LORD's order. The repetitious nature of vv. 15–23 enhances the expectation of continued complete obedience to the Lord's direction of Israel's movements through the desert. The role of Moses is mentioned for balance: Moses was the Lord's agent, who interpreted the movement of the cloud as signaling the movement of the people. The tragedy of their subsequent disobedience (ch. 11) is heightened by this paragraph on their obedience.

10:2 trumpets. Long, straight, slender metal tubes with flared ends. They were blown for order and discipline.

10:3 sounded. Not only for assembling but also for marching (vv. 5–6), battle (v. 9) and festivals (v. 10). Since different signals were used (v. 7), a guild of priestly musicians was developed (v. 8). See Jos 6:4 for the use of seven trumpets of rams' horns (Hebrew shophar) in the battle of Jericho.

10:10 at your . . . appointed feasts . . . sound the trumpets. As an introit to prepare the people for communion with God. Later, David expanded the instruments to include the full orchestra in the worship of the Lord (see, e.g., 1Ch 25), but he maintained the playing of the silver trumpets regularly before the ark of the covenant (1Ch 16:6).

10:11–28 The structure of this section is: (1) v. 11, time frame; (2) vv. 12–13, introductory summary of setting out; (3) vv. 14–17, setting out of the tribes led by Judah (see 2:3–9); (4) vv. 18–21, setting out of the tribes led by Reuben (see 2:10–16); (5) vv. 22–24, setting out of the tribes led by Ephraim (see 2:18–24); (6) vv. 25–27, setting out of the tribes led by Dan (see 2:25–31); (7) v. 28, concluding summary of the line of march.

10:11 twentieth day of the second month. After 11 months in the region of Mount Sinai, the people set out for the promised land, led by the cloud. This verse begins the second great section of the book of Numbers (10:11–22:1). Israel leaves on a journey that in a few months should have led to the conquest of Canaan.

10:14–27 The names of the leaders of the 12 tribes are went first, under their standard.[g] Nahshon son of Amminadab[h] was in command. [15]Nethanel son of Zuar was over the division of the tribe[i] of Issachar,[j] [16]and Eliab son of Helon[k] was over the division of the tribe of Zebulun.[l] [17]Then the tabernacle was taken down, and the Gershonites and Merarites, who carried it, set out.[m]

[18]The divisions of the camp of Reuben[n] went next, under their standard.[o] Elizur son of Shedeur[p] was in command. [19]Shelumiel son of Zurishaddai was over the division of the tribe of Simeon,[q] [20]and Eliasaph son of Deuel was over the division of the tribe of Gad.[r] [21]Then the Kohathites[s] set out, carrying the holy things.[t] The tabernacle was to be set up before they arrived.[u]

[22]The divisions of the camp of Ephraim[v] went next, under their standard. Elishama son of Ammihud[w] was in command. [23]Gamaliel son of Pedahzur was over the division of the tribe of Manasseh,[x] [24]and Abidan son of Gideoni was over the division of the tribe of Benjamin.[y]

[25]Finally, as the rear guard[z] for all the units, the divisions of the camp of Dan set out, under their standard. Ahiezer son of Ammishaddai[a] was in command. [26]Pagiel son of Ocran was over the division of the tribe of Asher,[b] [27]and Ahira son of Enan was over the division of the tribe of Naphtali.[c] [28]This was the order of march for the Israelite divisions as they set out.

[29]Now Moses said to Hobab[d] son of Reuel[e] the Midianite, Moses' father-in-law,[f] "We are setting out for the place about which the LORD said, 'I will give it to you.'[g] Come with us and we will treat you well, for the LORD has promised good things to Israel."

[30]He answered, "No, I will not go;[h] I am going back to my own land and my own people.[i]"

[31]But Moses said, "Please do not leave us. You know where we should camp in the desert, and you can be our eyes.[j] [32]If you come with us, we will share with you[k] whatever good things the LORD gives us.[l]"

[33]So they set out[m] from the mountain of the LORD and traveled for three days. The ark of the covenant of the LORD[n] went before them during those three days to find them a place to rest.[o] [34]The cloud of the LORD was over them by day when they set out from the camp.[p]

[35]Whenever the ark set out, Moses said,

"Rise up,[q] O LORD!
May your enemies be scattered;[r] may your foes flee before you.[s]"[t]

[36]Whenever it came to rest, he said,

"Return,[u] O LORD, to the countless thousands of Israel.[v]"

Fire From the LORD

11 Now the people complained[w] about their hardships in the hearing of the LORD,[x] and when he heard them his anger was aroused.[y] Then fire from the LORD burned among them[z] and consumed[a] some of the outskirts of the camp. [2]When the people cried out to Moses, he prayed[b] to the LORD[c] and the fire died down. [3]So that place was called Taberah,[u][d] because fire from the LORD had burned among them.[e] given for the fourth time in the book (see 1:5–15; 2:3–31; 7:12–83). The order of the line of march is essentially the same as that in ch. 2. The new details are that the Gershonites and Merarites, who carry the tabernacle, follow the triad of the Judah tribes (v. 17), and the Kohathites, who carry the holy things, follow the triad of the Reuben tribes (v. 21) (see diagram of "Encampment of the Tribes of Israel," p. 189).

10:14 standard. As in 2:3,10,18,25, each of the four triads of tribes had a standard or banner for rallying and organization.

10:29 Hobab son of Reuel. Thus Hobab was Moses' brother-in-law. Reuel. Jethro (see Ex 2:18; 3:1).

10:31 be our eyes. Jdg 1:16 indicates that Hobab acceded to Moses' request.

10:33 three days. Because of the huge numbers of people in the tribes of Israel, and because this was their first organized march, it is not likely that this first journey covered much territory.

10:35–36 Reinforces the portrayal of Israel as the Lord's army on the march, with the Lord in the vanguard.

10:35 Later used in the opening words of a psalm celebrating God's triumphal march from Sinai to Jerusalem (see Ps 68:1).

11:1 people complained. The first ten chapters of Numbers repeatedly emphasize the complete obedience of Moses and the people to the dictates of the Lord. But only three days into their march, the people reverted to disloyal complaints. They had expressed the same complaints a year earlier only three days after their deliverance at the waters of the "Red Sea" (Ex 15:22–27) and subsequently had complained about manna (Ex 16) and a lack of water (Ex 17:1–7). fire from the LORD. By God's mercy, this purging fire was limited to the outskirts of the camp. The phrase sometimes refers to fire ignited by lightning (as probably in 1Ki 18:38).

11:3 Taberah. See NIV text note.

Quail From the LORD

4The rabble with them began to crave other food,[f] and again the Israelites started wailing[g] and said, "If only we had meat to eat! 5We remember the fish we ate in Egypt at no cost—also the cucumbers, melons, leeks, onions and garlic.[h] 6But now we have lost our appetite; we never see anything but this manna![i]"

7The manna was like coriander seed[j] and looked like resin.[k] 8The people went around gathering it,[l] and then ground it in a handmill or crushed it in a mortar. They cooked it in a pot or made it into cakes. And it tasted like something made with olive oil. 9When the dew[m] settled on the camp at night, the manna also came down.

10Moses heard the people of every family wailing,[n] each at the entrance to his tent. The LORD became exceedingly angry, and Moses was troubled. 11He asked the LORD, "Why have you brought this trouble[o] on your servant? What have I done to displease you that you put the burden of all these people on me?[p] 12Did I conceive all these people? Did I give them birth? Why do you tell me to carry them in my arms, as a nurse carries an infant,[q] to the land you promised on oath[r] to their forefathers?[s] 13Where can I get meat for all these people?[t]
They keep wailing to me, 'Give us meat to eat!' 14I cannot carry all these people by myself; the burden is too heavy for me.[u] 15If this is how you are going to treat me, put me to death[v] right now[w]—if I have found favor in your eyes—and do not let me face my own ruin."

16The LORD said to Moses: "Bring me seventy of Israel's elders[x] who are known to you as leaders and officials among the people.[y] Have them come to the Tent of Meeting,[z] that they may stand there with you. 17I will come down and speak with you[a] there, and I will take of the Spirit that is on you and put the Spirit on them.[b] They will help you carry the burden of the people so that you will not have to carry it alone.[c]

18"Tell the people: 'Consecrate yourselves[d] in preparation for tomorrow, when you will eat meat. The LORD heard you when you wailed,[e] "If only we had meat to eat! We were better off in Egypt!"[f] Now the LORD will give you meat,[g] and you will eat it. 19You will not eat it for just one day, or two days,

11:4 rabble. An apt term for the non-Israelite mixed group of people who followed the Israelites out of Egypt, pointing to a recurring source of complaints and trouble in the camp. Those who did not know the Lord and his mercies incited those who did know him to rebel against him. If only we had meat to eat! As in Ex 16, the people began to complain about their diet, forgetting what God had done for them (see Ps 106:14). Certainly meat was not their common fare when they were slaves in Egypt. Now that they were in a new type of distress, the people romanticized the past and minimized its discomforts.

11:5 fish ... cucumbers ... garlic. Suggestive of the varieties of foods available in Egypt, in contrast to the diet of manna in the desert.

11:7 manna. Several naturalistic explanations for the manna have been given. For example, some equate it with the sticky and often granular honeydew that is excreted in Sinai in early June by various scale insects and that solidifies rapidly through evaporation. But no naturally occurring substance fits all the data of the text, and several factors suggest that manna was in fact the Lord's unique provision for his people in the desert: 1. The meaning of the Hebrew word for "manna" suggests that it was something unknown by the people at the time (see Ex 16:31 and NIV text note). 2. The appearance and taste of the manna (see Ex 16:31) suggest that it is not something experienced by other peoples in other times. 3. The daily abundance of the manna and its regular periodic surge and slump (double amounts on the sixth day but none on the seventh day, Ex 16:22,27) hardly fit a natural phenomenon. 4. Its availability in ample supply for the entire desert experience, no matter where the people were (Ex 16:35), argues against a natural substance. 5. The keeping of a sample of the manna in the ark for future generations (Ex 16:33–34) suggests that it was a unique food.

11:10 The LORD became exceedingly angry. The rejection of his gracious gift of heavenly food (called "bread from heaven" in Ex 16:4) angered the Lord. God had said that the reception of the manna by the people would be a significant test of their obedience (Ex 16:4). In view of the good things he was to give them (10:32), the people were expected to receive each day's supply of manna as a gracious gift of a merciful God, and a promise of abundance to come. In spurning the manna, the people had spurned the Lord. They had failed the test of faith. Moses was troubled. The people's reaction to God's provision of manna was troubling to Moses as well. Instead of asking the Lord to understand the substance of their complaint, Moses asked him why he was given such an ungrateful people to lead.

11:11–15 A prayer of distress and complaint, filled with urgency, irony and passion.

11:12 Did I conceive all these people? The implication is that the Lord conceived the people of Israel, that he was their nurse and that their promises were his. Moses asks that he be relieved of his mediatorial office, for "the burden is too heavy for me" (v. 14; cf. Elijah, 1Ki 19). Even death, Moses asserts (v. 15), would be preferable to facing the continuing complaints of the people.

11:16–34 The Lord's response to the great distress of his prophet was twofold—mercy and curse: 1. There was mercy to Moses in that his responsibility was now to be shared by 70 leaders (vv. 16–17). 2. There was a curse on the people that was analogous to their complaint: They asked for meat and would now become sick with meat (vv. 18–34).

11:18 you will eat meat. Their distress at the lack of variety in the daily manna had led the people to challenge the Lord's goodness. They had wailed for meat. Now they were going to get their fill of meat, so much that it would make them physically ill (v. 20).

or five, ten or twenty days, 20but for a whole month—until it comes out of your nostrils and you loathe it[h]—because you have rejected the LORD,[i] who is among you, and have wailed before him, saying, "Why did we ever leave Egypt?" '"[j]

21But Moses said, "Here I am among six hundred thousand men[k] on foot, and you say, 'I will give them meat to eat for a whole month!' 22Would they have enough if flocks and herds were slaughtered for them? Would they have enough if all the fish in the sea were caught for them?"[l]

23The LORD answered Moses, "Is the LORD's arm too short?[m] You will now see whether or not what I say will come true for you.[n]"

24So Moses went out and told the people what the LORD had said. He brought together seventy of their elders and had them stand around the Tent. 25Then the LORD came down in the cloud[o] and spoke with him,[p] and he took of the Spirit[q] that was on him and put the Spirit on the seventy elders.[r] When the Spirit rested on them, they prophesied,[s] but they did not do so again.[v]

26However, two men, whose names were Eldad and Medad, had remained in the camp. They were listed among the elders, but did not go out to the Tent. Yet the Spirit also rested on them,[t] and they prophesied in the camp. 27A young man ran and told Moses, "Eldad and Medad are prophesying in the camp."

28Joshua son of Nun,[u] who had been Moses' aide[v] since youth, spoke up and said, "Moses, my lord, stop them!"[w]

29But Moses replied, "Are you jealous for my sake? I wish that all the LORD's people were prophets[x] and that the LORD would put his Spirit[y] on them!"[z] 30Then Moses and the elders of Israel returned to the camp.

31Now a wind went out from the LORD and drove quail[a] in from the sea. It brought them[w] down all around the camp to about three feet[x] above the ground, as far as a day's walk in any direction. 32All that day and night and all the next day the people went out and gathered quail. No one gathered less than ten homers.[y] Then they spread them out all around the camp. 33But while the meat was still between their teeth[b] and before it could be consumed, the anger[c] of the LORD burned against the people, and he struck them with a severe plague.[d] 34Therefore the place was named Kibroth Hattaavah,[ze] because there they buried the people who had craved other food.

35From Kibroth Hattaavah the people traveled to Hazeroth[f] and stayed there.

Miriam and Aaron Oppose Moses

12 Miriam[g] and Aaron began to talk against Moses because of his Cushite wife,[h] for he had married a Cushite. 2"Has the LORD spoken only through Moses?" they asked. "Hasn't he also spoken through us?"[i] And the LORD heard this.[j]

3(Now Moses was a very humble

11:20 you have rejected the LORD. The principal issue was not meat at all, but a failure to demonstrate proper gratitude to the Lord, who was in their midst and who was their constant source of good.

11:21 six hundred thousand men on foot. The numbers are consistent: A marching force of this size suggests a total population of over 2,000,000 (see note on 1:46). Moses' distress at providing meat for this immense number of people (v. 22) is nearly comical—the task is impossible.

11:23 Is the LORD's arm too short? The human impossibility is an occasion for demonstrating the Lord's power.

11:25 they prophesied. Probably means that they gave ecstatic expression to an intense religious experience (see 1Sa 10:5–6; 18:10; 19:20–24; 1Ki 18:29). but they did not do so again. It seems that the temporary gift of prophecy to the elders was primarily to establish their credentials as Spirit-empowered leaders.

11:29 Are you jealous for my sake? Here the true spirit of Moses is demonstrated. Rather than being threatened by the public demonstration of the gifts of the Spirit by Eldad and Medad, Moses desired that all God's people might have the full gifts of the Spirit (cf. Php 1:15–18). This verse is a fitting introduction to the inexcusable challenge to Moses' leadership in ch. 12.

11:31–32 Cf. the great provision of Jesus in the feeding of the 5,000 (Jn 6:5–13) and the 4,000 (Mt 15:29–39). In those cases the feeding was a demonstration of God's grace; in this instance it was of God's wrath.

11:34 Kibroth Hattaavah. See NIV text note. These graves marked the death camp of those who had turned against the food of the Lord's mercy.

12:1 his Cushite wife. Cush was the first son of Ham, the father of the southernmost peoples known to the Hebrews (Ge 10:6–7), living in the southern Nile valley. Moses' wife Zipporah may be referred to here (see Ex 2:15–22); if so, the term "Cushite" is used in contempt of her Midianite ancestry. It is more likely, however, that the reference is to a new wife taken by Moses, perhaps after the death of his first wife. The attack on the woman was a pretext; its focus was the prophetic gift of Moses and his special relationship with the Lord (v. 2).

12:2 Hasn't he also spoken through us? Of course he had. Mic 6:4 speaks of Moses, Aaron and Miriam as God's gracious provision for Israel. The prophetic gifting of the 70 elders (11:24–30) seems to have been the immediate provocation for the attack of Miriam and Aaron on their brother.

12:3 Perhaps a later addition to the text, alerting the reader to the great unfairness of the charge of arrogance man,[k] more humble than anyone else on the face of the earth.)

4At once the LORD said to Moses, Aaron and Miriam, "Come out to the Tent of Meeting, all three of you." So the three of them came out. 5Then the LORD came down in a pillar of cloud;[l] he stood at the entrance to the Tent and summoned Aaron and Miriam. When both of them stepped forward, 6he said, "Listen to my words:

"When a prophet of the LORD is among you,
I reveal[m] myself to him in visions,[n]
I speak to him in dreams.[o]
7But this is not true of my servant Moses;[p] he is faithful in all my house.[q] 8With him I speak face to face, clearly and not in riddles;[r]
he sees the form of the LORD.[s]
Why then were you not afraid to speak against my servant Moses?"[t]

9The anger of the LORD burned against them,[u] and he left them.[v]

10When the cloud lifted from above the Tent,[w] there stood Miriam—leprous,[a] like snow.[x] Aaron turned toward her and saw that she had leprosy;[y] 11and he said to Moses, "Please, my lord, do not hold against us the sin we have so foolishly committed.[z] 12Do not let her be like a stillborn infant coming from its mother's womb with its flesh half eaten away."

13So Moses cried out to the LORD, "O God, please heal her![a]"

14The LORD replied to Moses, "If her father had spit in her face,[b] would she not have been in disgrace for seven days? Confine her outside the camp[c] for seven days; after that she can be brought back." 15So Miriam was confined outside the camp[d] for seven days,[e] and the people did not move on till she was brought back.

16After that, the people left Hazeroth[f] and encamped in the Desert of Paran.[g]

Exploring Canaan

13 The LORD said to Moses, 2"Send some men to explore[h] the land of Canaan,[i] which I am giving to the Israelites.[j] From each ancestral tribe[k] send one of its leaders."

3So at the LORD's command Moses sent them out from the Desert of Paran. All of them were leaders of the Israelites.[l] 4These are their names:

against Moses.

12:4 At once. The abruptness of the Lord's response instilled terror (see Job 22:10; Isa 47:11; Jer 4:20).

12:5 came down. Often used of divine manifestations. In 11:25 the Lord came down in grace; here and in Ge 11:5 he came down in judgment. In a sense every theophany (appearance of God) is a picture and promise of the grand theophany, the incarnation of Jesus, both in grace and in judgment.

12:6–8 The poetic cast of these words adds a sense of solemnity to them. The point of the poem is clear: All true prophetic vision is from the Lord, but in the case of Moses his position and faithfulness enhance his special relationship with the Lord.

12:7 my servant. See notes on Ex 14:31; Ps 18 title; Isa 41:8–9; 42:1. my house. The household of God's people Israel.

12:8 clearly and not in riddles. God's revelation does not come with equal clarity to his servants. There may be oracles of the Lord that a prophet might not fully understand at the time; to him they may be riddles and mysteries (cf. 1Pe 1:10–11). But to Moses, God spoke with special clarity, as though face to face (see also Dt 34:10).

12:10 leprous. See NIV text note. Miriam, the principal offender against her brother Moses, has become an outcast, as she now suffers from a skin disease that would exclude her from the community of Israel (see 5:1–4).

12:11 Please, my lord. Aaron's repentance for the sin of presumption is touching, both in its intensity and in his concern for his (and Moses') sister.

12:14 disgrace for seven days. An act of public rebuke (see Dt 25:9) demands a period of public shame. A period of seven days was a standard time for uncleanness occasioned by being in contact with a dead body (see 19:11,14,16).

12:16 Desert of Paran. The southernmost region of the promised land. The people's opportunity to conquer the land was soon to come.

13:2 Send some men to explore the land of Canaan. The use of spies was a common practice in the ancient Near East (see note on Jos 2:1–24). From Dt 1:22–23 it appears that this directive of the Lord was in response to the people's request. Thus the very sending of the spies was an expression of God's grace.

13:4–15 The names listed here are different from those in chs. 1–2; 7; 10. Presumably the tribal leaders in the four earlier lists were older men. The task for the spies called for men who were younger and more robust, but no less respected by their peers.

12 from the tribe of Dan, Ammiel son of Gemalli;
13 from the tribe of Asher, Sethur son of Michael;
14 from the tribe of Naphtali, Nahbi son of Vophsi;
15 from the tribe of Gad, Geuel son of Maki.

16 These are the names of the men Moses sent to explore[o] the land. (Moses gave Hoshea son of Nun[p] the name Joshua.)[q]

17 When Moses sent them to explore Canaan,[r] he said, "Go up through the Negev[s] and on into the hill country.[t] 18 See what the land is like and whether the people who live there are strong or weak, few or many. 19 What kind of land do they live in? Is it good or bad? What kind of towns do they live in? Are they unwalled or fortified? 20 How is the soil? Is it fertile or poor? Are there trees on it or not? Do your best to bring back some of the fruit of the land.[u]" (It was the season for the first ripe grapes.)[v]

21 So they went up and explored the land from the Desert of Zin[w] as far as Rehob,[x] toward Lebo[b] Hamath.[y] 22 They went up through the Negev and came to Hebron,[z] where Ahiman, Sheshai and Talmai,[a] the descendants of Anak,[b] lived. (Hebron had been built seven years before Zoan in Egypt.)[c] 23 When they reached the Valley of Eshcol,[c][d] they cut off a branch bearing a single cluster of grapes. Two of them carried it on a pole between them, along with some pomegranates[e] and figs.[f] 24 That place was called the Valley of Eshcol because of the cluster of grapes the Israelites cut off there. 25 At the end of forty days[g] they returned from exploring the land.[h]

Report on the Exploration

26 They came back to Moses and Aaron and the whole Israelite community at Kadesh[i] in the Desert of Paran.[j] There they reported to them[k] and to the whole assembly and showed them the fruit of the land.[l] 27 They gave Moses this account: "We went into the land to which you sent us, and it does flow with milk and honey![m] Here is its fruit.[n] 28 But the people who live there are powerful, and the cities are fortified and very large.[o] We even saw descendants of Anak[p] there.[q] 29 The Amalekites[r] live in the Negev; the Hittites,[s] Jebusites[t] and Amorites[u] live in the hill country;[v] and the Canaanites[w] live near the sea and along the Jordan.[x]"

30 Then Caleb[y] silenced the people before Moses and said, "We should go up and take possession of the land, for we can certainly do it."

31 But the men who had gone up with him said, "We can't attack those people; they are stronger than we are."[z] 32 And they spread among the Israelites a bad report[a] about the land they had explored. They said, "The land we explored devours[b] those living in it. All the people we saw there are of great size.[c] 33 We saw the Nephilim[d] there (the descendants of Anak[e] come from the

[b] 21 Or toward the entrance to
[c] 23 Eshcol means cluster; also in verse 24.

13:16 Moses gave Hoshea son of Nun the name Joshua. A parenthetical statement anticipating the later prominence of Joshua. The reader is alerted to the significance of this name in the list of the spies; here is a man of destiny. Hoshea means "salvation"; Joshua means "The LORD saves" (see NIV text note on Mt 1:21).

13:17–20 Moses' instruction to the 12 spies was comprehensive; a thorough report of the land and its produce and the peoples and their towns was required in their reconnaissance mission.

13:21 explored the land. The journey of the spies began in the southernmost extremity of the land (the Desert of Zin) and took them to the northernmost point (Rehob, near Lebo Hamath; see 34:8). This journey of about 250 miles each way took them 40 days (v. 25), perhaps a round number.

13:22 Hebron. The first city the spies came to in Canaan. The parenthetical comment about the city's being built seven years before Zoan in Egypt may have been prompted by their amazement at the size and fortifications of the city that was so closely associated with the lives of their ancestors four centuries before this time (see Ge 13:14–18; 14:13; 23:2; 25:9; 35:27–29; 50:13). In the stories of the ancestors of their people, Hebron had not been a great city, but a dwelling and trading place for shepherds and herdsmen. descendants of Anak. Three notable Anak descendants are mentioned as living at Hebron. The Anakites were men of great stature; their physical size brought fear to the people (see vv. 32–33). In a later day of faith, Caleb was to drive them from their city (Jos 15:14; Jdg 1:10).

13:23 Valley of Eshcol. See NIV text note. This valley is near Hebron; presumably the spies cut the cluster of grapes on their return journey. The size of the grape cluster should have indicated the goodness of the land God was giving them.

13:26–29 The first part of the spies' report was truthful, but the goodness of the land was offset in their fearful eyes by the powerful peoples who lived there.

13:30 Caleb silenced the people. Only Caleb and Hoshea (Joshua) gave a report prompted by faith in God.

13:32 bad report about the land. The promised land was a good land, a gracious gift from God. By speaking bad things about it, the faithless spies were speaking evil of the Lord (cf. 10:29).

13:33 Their words became exaggerations and distortions. The Anakites were now said to be Nephilim (see note on Ge 6:4). The reference to the Nephilim seems deliberately intended to evoke fear. The exaggeration of the faithless led to their final folly: "We seemed like grasshoppers."

Nephilim). We seemed like grasshoppers[f] in our own eyes, and we looked the same to them."

The People Rebel

14 That night all the people of the community raised their voices and wept aloud.[g] [2]All the Israelites grumbled[h] against Moses and Aaron, and the whole assembly said to them, "If only we had died in Egypt![i] Or in this desert![j] [3]Why is the LORD bringing us to this land only to let us fall by the sword?[k] Our wives and children[l] will be taken as plunder.[m] Wouldn't it be better for us to go back to Egypt?[n]" [4]And they said to each other, "We should choose a leader and go back to Egypt.[o]"

[5]Then Moses and Aaron fell face-down[p] in front of the whole Israelite assembly[q] gathered there. [6]Joshua son of Nun[r] and Caleb son of Jephunneh, who were among those who had explored the land, tore their clothes[s] [7]and said to the entire Israelite assembly, "The land we passed through and explored is exceedingly good.[t] [8]If the LORD is pleased with us,[u] he will lead us into that land, a land flowing with milk and honey,[v] and will give it to us.[w] [9]Only do not rebel[x] against the LORD. And do not be afraid[y] of the people of the land,[z] because we will swallow them up. Their protection is gone, but the LORD is with[a] us.[b] Do not be afraid of them."[c]

[10]But the whole assembly talked about stoning[d] them. Then the glory of the LORD[e] appeared at the Tent of Meeting to all the Israelites. [11]The LORD said to Moses, "How long will these people treat me with contempt?[f] How long will they refuse to believe in me,[g] in spite of all the miraculous signs[h] I have performed among them? [12]I will strike them down with a plague[i] and destroy them, but I will make you into a nation[j] greater and stronger than they."[k]

[13]Moses said to the LORD, "Then the Egyptians will hear about it! By your power you brought these people up from among them.[l] [14]And they will tell the inhabitants of this land about it. They have already heard[m] that you, O LORD, are with these people[n] and that you, O LORD, have been seen face to face,[o] that your cloud stays over them,[p] and that you go before them in a pillar of cloud by day and a pillar of fire by night.[q] [15]If you put these people to death all at one time, the nations who have heard this report about you will say, [16]'The LORD was not able to bring these people into the land he promised them on oath;[r] so he slaughtered them in the desert.'[s]

[17]"Now may the Lord's strength be displayed, just as you have declared: [18]'The LORD is slow to anger, abounding in love and forgiving sin and rebellion.[t] Yet he does not leave the guilty unpunished; he punishes the children for the sin of the fathers to the third and fourth generation.'[u] [19]In accordance with your great love, forgive[v] the sin of these people,[w] just as you have pardoned them from the time they left Egypt until now."[x]

[20]The LORD replied, "I have forgiven them,[y] as you asked. [21]Nevertheless, as surely as I live[z] and as surely as the glory of the LORD[a] fills the whole earth,[b] [22]not one of the men who saw my glory and the miraculous signs[c] I performed in Egypt and in the desert but who disobeyed me and tested me ten times[d]— [23]not one of them will ever see the land I promised on oath[e] to their

14:1 all the people ... wept. The frightening words of the faithless spies led to mourning by the entire community and to their great rebellion against the Lord. They forgot all the miracles the Lord had done for them, they despised his mercies, and they spurned his might. In their ingratitude they preferred death (v. 2).

14:3 children. The most reprehensible charge against God's grace was that concerning their children. Only their children would survive (see vv. 31–33).

14:9 the LORD is with us. There are no walls, no fortifications, no factors of size or bearing, and certainly no gods that can withstand the onslaught of God's people when the Lord is with them.

14:10 the glory of the LORD appeared. The theophany (manifestation of God) must have been staggering in its sudden and intense display of his majesty and wrath.

14:11 treat me with contempt. By refusing to believe in the Lord's power, especially in view of all the wonders they had experienced, the people of Israel were holding him in contempt.

14:12 I will make you into a nation. For the second time since the exodus, God speaks of starting over with Moses in creating a people faithful to himself (see Ex 32:10).

14:13 the Egyptians will hear about it! Moses desires to protect the Lord's reputation. The enemies of God's people will charge the Lord with inability to complete his deliverance and will be contemptuous of his power.

14:17–19 Moses now moves from the Lord's reputation to his character, presenting a composite quotation of his own words of loyal love for and faithful discipline of his people (see Ex 20:6; 34:6–7).

14:22 ten times. Perhaps to be enumerated as follows: (1) Ex 14:10–12; (2) Ex 15:22–24; (3) Ex 16:1–3; (4) Ex 16:19–20; (5) Ex 16:27–30; (6) Ex 17:1–4; (7) Ex 32:1–35; (8) Nu 11:1–3; (9) 11:4–34; (10) 14:3. But "ten times" may also be a way of saying "many times."

forefathers. No one who has treated me with contempt[f] will ever see it.[g] 24But because my servant Caleb[h] has a different spirit and follows me wholeheartedly,[i] I will bring him into the land he went to, and his descendants will inherit it.[j] 25Since the Amalekites[k] and Canaanites[l] are living in the valleys, turn[m] back tomorrow and set out toward the desert along the route to the Red Sea.[d][n]"

26The LORD said to Moses and Aaron: 27"How long will this wicked community grumble against me? I have heard the complaints of these grumbling Israelites.[o] 28So tell them, 'As surely as I live,[p] declares the LORD, I will do to you[q] the very things I heard you say: 29In this desert your bodies will fall[r]— every one of you twenty years old or more[s] who was counted in the census[t] and who has grumbled against me. 30Not one of you will enter the land[u] I swore with uplifted hand[v] to make your home, except Caleb son of Jephunneh[w] and Joshua son of Nun.[x] 31As for your children that you said would be taken as plunder, I will bring them in to enjoy the land you have rejected.[y] 32But you— your bodies will fall[z] in this desert. 33Your children will be shepherds here for forty years,[a] suffering for your unfaithfulness, until the last of your bodies lies in the desert. 34For forty years[b]— one year for each of the forty days you explored the land[c]—you will suffer for your sins and know what it is like to have me against you.' 35I, the LORD, have spoken, and I will surely do these things[d] to this whole wicked community, which has banded together against me. They will meet their end in this desert; here they will die.[e]"

36So the men Moses had sent[f] to explore the land, who returned and made the whole community grumble[g] against him by spreading a bad report[h] about it— 37these men responsible for spreading the bad report[i] about the land were struck down and died of a plague[j] before the LORD. 38Of the men who went to explore the land,[k] only Joshua son of Nun and Caleb son of Jephunneh survived.[l]

39When Moses reported this[m] to all the Israelites, they mourned[n] bitterly. 40Early the next morning they went up toward the high hill country.[o] "We have sinned[p]," they said. "We will go up to the place the LORD promised."

41But Moses said, "Why are you disobeying the LORD's command? This will not succeed![q] 42Do not go up, because the LORD is not with you. You will be defeated by your enemies,[r] 43for the Amalekites[s] and Canaanites[t] will face you there. Because you have turned away from the LORD, he will not be with you[u] and you will fall by the sword."

44Nevertheless, in their presumption they went up[v] toward the high hill country, though neither Moses nor the ark of the LORD's covenant moved from the camp.[w] 45Then the Amalekites and Canaanites[x] who lived in that hill country[y] came down and attacked them and beat them down all the way to Hormah.[z]

[d] 25 Hebrew Yam Suph; that is, Sea of Reeds

14:24 my servant Caleb has a different spirit. Caleb seems to be singled out; perhaps the words of vv. 7–9 were his, and he was joined in them by Joshua. Caleb's ultimate vindication came 45 years later (see note on 13:22; see also Jos 14:10).

14:28 I will do to you the very things I heard you say. The people of Israel brought upon themselves their punishment. They had said that they would rather die in the desert (v. 2) than be led into Canaan to die by the sword. All those 20 years old or more, who were counted in the census, were to die in the desert (v. 29). The only exceptions would be Joshua and Caleb (v. 30). Only their children would survive (v. 31)—the children that the people said God would allow to die in the desert (v. 3).

14:34 The 40 days of the travels of the spies became the numerical pattern for their suffering: one year for one day—for 40 years they would recount their misjudgment, and for 40 years the people 20 years old or more would be dying, so that only the young generation might enter the land. Significantly, Israel's refusal to carry out the Lord's commission to conquer his land is the climactic act of rebellion for which God condemns Israel to die in the desert.

14:37 these men responsible for spreading the bad report . . . were struck down. The judgment on the ten evil spies was immediate; the generation that they influenced would live out their lives in the desert.

14:40 We will go up. Now, too late, the people determine to go up to the land they had refused. Such a course of action was doomed to failure. Not only was the Lord not with them; he was against them (v. 41). Their subsequent defeat (v. 45) was another judgment the rebellious people brought down upon their own heads.

15:1–41 This chapter is divided into three units, each introduced by the phrase, "The LORD said to Moses" (vv. 1,17,37). The people were under terrible judgment because they had disobeyed the specific commands of the Lord and had despised his character.

15:2 After you enter the land. The juxtaposition of this clause with the sad ending of ch. 14 is dramatic. The sins of the people were manifold; they would be judged. The grace and mercy of the Lord are magnified as he points to the ultimate realization of his ancient promise to Abraham (Ge 12:7), as well as to his continuing promise

'After you enter the land I am giving you[a] as a home 3and you present to the LORD offerings made by fire, from the herd or the flock,[b] as an aroma pleasing to the LORD[c]—whether burnt offerings[d] or sacrifices, for special vows or freewill offerings[e] or festival offerings[f]— 4then the one who brings his offering shall present to the LORD a grain offering[g] of a tenth of an ephah[e] of fine flour[h] mixed with a quarter of a hin[f] of oil. 5With each lamb[i] for the burnt offering or the sacrifice, prepare a quarter of a hin of wine[j] as a drink offering.[k]

6" 'With a ram[l] prepare a grain offering[m] of two-tenths of an ephah[g][n] of fine flour mixed with a third of a hin[h] of oil,[o] 7and a third of a hin of wine[p] as a drink offering.[q] Offer it as an aroma pleasing to the LORD.[r]

8" 'When you prepare a young bull[s] as a burnt offering or sacrifice, for a special vow[t] or a fellowship offering[i][u] to the LORD, 9bring with the bull a grain offering[v] of three-tenths of an ephah[j][w] of fine flour mixed with half a hin[k] of oil. 10Also bring half a hin of wine[x] as a drink offering.[y] It will be an offering made by fire, an aroma pleasing to the LORD.[z] 11Each bull or ram, each lamb or young goat, is to be prepared in this manner. 12Do this for each one, for as many as you prepare.[a]

13" 'Everyone who is native-born[b] must do these things in this way when he brings an offering made by fire as an aroma pleasing to the LORD.[c] 14For the generations to come,[d] whenever an alien[e] or anyone else living among you presents an offering[f] made by fire[g] as an aroma pleasing to the LORD, he must do exactly as you do. 15The community is to have the same rules for you and for the alien living among you; this is a lasting ordinance for the generations to come.[h] You and the alien shall be the same before the LORD: 16The same laws and regulations will apply both to you and to the alien living among you.[i]' "

17The LORD said to Moses, 18"Speak to the Israelites and say to them: 'When you enter the land to which I am taking you[j] 19and you eat the food of the land,[k] present a portion as an offering to the LORD.[l] 20Present a cake from the first of your ground meal[m] and present it as an offering from the threshing floor.[n][o] 21Throughout the generations to come[p] you are to give this offering to the LORD from the first of your ground meal.[q]

Offerings for Unintentional Sins

22" 'Now if you unintentionally fail to keep any of these commands the LORD gave Moses[r]— 23any of the LORD's commands to you through him, from the day the LORD gave them and continuing through the generations to come[s]— 24and if this is done unintentionally[t] without the community being aware of it,[u] then the whole community is to offer a young bull for a burnt offering[v] as an aroma pleasing to the LORD,[w] along with its prescribed grain offering[x] and drink offering,[y] and a male goat for a sin offering.[z] 25The priest is to make atonement for the whole Israelite community, and they will be forgiven,[a] for it was not intentional[b] and they have brought to the LORD for their wrong an offering made by fire[c] and a sin offering.[d] 26The whole Israelite community and the aliens living among them will be forgiven, because all the people were involved in the unintentional wrong.[e]

27" 'But if just one person sins unintentionally,[f] he must bring a year-old female goat for a sin offering.[g] 28The priest is to make atonement[h] before the LORD for the one who erred by sinning unintentionally, and when atonement has been made for him, he will be forgiven.[i] 29One and the same law applies to everyone who sins unintentionally, whether he is a native-born Israelite or an alien.[j]

30" 'But anyone who sins defiantly,[k]

15:3–12 Grain and wine offerings were to accompany the offerings by fire; the grain was to be mixed with oil. The offerings increased in amounts with the increase of size of the sacrificial animal (vv. 6–12). These passages are the first to indicate that wine offerings must accompany all burnt and fellowship offerings.

15:14 alien. As in the case of the celebration of the Passover (see note on 9:14), the alien had the same regulations as the native-born Israelite. The commonwealth of Israel would always be open to proselytes. Indeed, the charter of Israel's faith embraces all peoples of the earth (Ge 12:3).

15:20 Present a cake from the first. This law also looks forward to the time when the Israelites would be in the land. The first of the threshed grain was to be made into a cake and presented to the Lord. This concept of the firstfruits is a symbol that all blessing is from the Lord and all produce belongs to him.

15:22 unintentionally fail. Sins may be unintentional, but they still need to be dealt with (see note on Lev 4:2). Such unintentional sins may be committed by the people as a whole (vv. 22–26) or by an individual (vv. 27–29).

15:30 defiantly. Lit. "with a high hand." Unlike unintentional sins, for which there are provisions of God's whether native-born or alien,[l] blasphemes the LORD,[m] and that person must be cut off from his people.[n] [31]Because he has despised[o] the LORD's word and broken his commands,[p] that person must surely be cut off; his guilt remains on him.[q]' "

The Sabbath-Breaker Put to Death

[32]While the Israelites were in the desert,[r] a man was found gathering wood on the Sabbath day.[s] [33]Those who found him gathering wood brought him to Moses and Aaron and the whole assembly, [34]and they kept him in custody, because it was not clear what should be done to him.[t] [35]Then the LORD said to Moses, "The man must die.[u] The whole assembly must stone him outside the camp.[v]" [36]So the assembly took him outside the camp and stoned him[w] to death,[x] as the LORD commanded Moses.[y]

Tassels on Garments

[37]The LORD said to Moses, [38]"Speak to the Israelites and say to them: 'Throughout the generations to come[z] you are to make tassels on the corners of your garments,[a] with a blue cord on each tassel. [39]You will have these tassels to look at and so you will remember[b] all the commands of the LORD, that you may obey them and not prostitute yourselves[c] by going after the lusts of your own hearts[d] and eyes. [40]Then you will remember to obey all my commands[e] and will be consecrated to your God.[f] [41]I am the LORD your God, who brought you out of Egypt to be your God.[g] I am the LORD your God.[h]' "

Korah, Dathan and Abiram

16 Korah[i] son of Izhar, the son of Kohath, the son of Levi, and certain Reubenites—Dathan and Abiram[j], sons of Eliab,[k] and On son of Peleth—became insolent[l] [2]and rose up against Moses.[l] With them were 250 Israelite men, well-known community leaders who had been appointed members of the council.[m] [3]They came as a group to oppose Moses and Aaron[n] and said to them, "You have gone too far! The whole community is holy,[o] every one of them, and the LORD is with them.[p] Why then do you set yourselves above the LORD's assembly?"[q]

[4]When Moses heard this, he fell facedown.[r] [5]Then he said to Korah and all his followers: "In the morning the LORD will show who belongs to him and who is holy,[s] and he will have that person come near him.[t] The man he chooses[u] he will cause to come near him. [6]You, Korah, and all your followers[v] are to do this: Take censers[w] [7]and tomorrow put fire[x] and incense[y] in them before the LORD. The man the LORD chooses[z] will be the one who is holy.[a] You Levites have gone too far!"

[8]Moses also said to Korah, "Now listen, you Levites! [9]Isn't it enough[b] for you that the God of Israel has separated you from the rest of the Israelite community and brought you near himself to do the work at the LORD's tabernacle and to stand before the community and minister to them?[c] [10]He has brought you and all your fellow Levites near himself, but now you are trying to get the priesthood too.[d] [11]It is against the LORD that you and all your followers have banded together. Who is Aaron that you should grumble[e] against him?[f]"

[12]Then Moses summoned Dathan and mercy, one who sets his hand defiantly to despise the word of God and to blaspheme his name must be punished. This was the experience of the nation in ch. 14, and it is described in the case of an individual here in vv. 32–36.

cut off from his people. See note on Ex 12:15.

15:32 gathering wood on the Sabbath day. The penalty for breaking the Sabbath was death (v. 36; Ex 31:15; 35:2). As in the case of the willful blasphemer (Lev 24:10–16), the Sabbath-breaker was guilty of high-handed rebellion (see note on v. 30) and was judged with death. By the time of Christ, Sabbath-keeping had become distorted to the point that its regulations were regarded as more important than the needs of people. Jesus confronted the Pharisees on this issue on several occasions (see, e.g., Mt 12:1–14). From their point of view, these regulations (vv. 32–36) gave them reasons to seek his death (Mt 12:14).

15:38 tassels on the corners of your garments. As one would walk along, the tassels would swirl about at the edge of his garment (cf. v. 39), serving as excellent memory prods to obey God's commands (cf. Dt 6:4–9).

15:41 I am the LORD your God, who brought you out. The demands that God made upon his people were grounded in his act of redemption (see Ex 20:2 and note).

16:1–7 Earlier, Miriam and Aaron had led a rebellion against the leadership of Moses (ch. 12). Now Korah and his allies attack the leadership of Moses and Aaron. Korah was descended from Levi through Kohath. As a Kohathite, he had high duties in the service of the Lord at the tabernacle (see 4:1–20), but he desired more. His passion was to assume the role of priest, and he used deception to advance his claim. Korah was joined by the Reubenites, Dathan, Abiram and On, and about 250 other leaders of Israel who had their own complaints. Their charge was that Moses had "gone too far" (v. 3) in taking the role of spiritual leadership of the people; "the whole community is holy" (v. 3). To this abusive charge Moses retorts, "You Levites have gone too far!" (v. 7), and sets up a trial by fire.

16:12 Dathan and Abiram. Their charge against Moses was that he had not led them into the land of promise. They claimed that Moses had in fact led the people "out of Abiram,[g] the sons of Eliab. But they said, "We will not come![h] [13]Isn't it enough that you have brought us up out of a land flowing with milk and honey[i] to kill us in the desert?[j] And now you also want to lord it over us?[k] [14]Moreover, you haven't brought us into a land flowing with milk and honey[l] or given us an inheritance of fields and vineyards.[m] Will you gouge out the eyes of[m] these men?[n] No, we will not come![o]"

[15]Then Moses became very angry[p] and said to the LORD, "Do not accept their offering. I have not taken so much as a donkey[q] from them, nor have I wronged any of them."

[16]Moses said to Korah, "You and all your followers are to appear before the LORD tomorrow—you and they and Aaron.[r] [17]Each man is to take his censer and put incense in it—250 censers in all—and present it before the LORD. You and Aaron are to present your censers also.[s]" [18]So each man took his censer,[t] put fire and incense in it, and stood with Moses and Aaron at the entrance to the Tent of Meeting. [19]When Korah had gathered all his followers in opposition to them[u] at the entrance to the Tent of Meeting, the glory of the LORD[v] appeared to the entire assembly. [20]The LORD said to Moses and Aaron, [21]"Separate yourselves[w] from this assembly so I can put an end to them at once."[x]

[22]But Moses and Aaron fell face-down[y] and cried out, "O God, God of the spirits of all mankind,[z] will you be angry with the entire assembly[a] when only one man sins?"[b]

[23]Then the LORD said to Moses, [24]"Say to the assembly, 'Move away from the tents of Korah, Dathan and Abiram.' "

[25]Moses got up and went to Dathan and Abiram, and the elders of Israel[c] followed him. [26]He warned the assembly, "Move back from the tents of these wicked men![d] Do not touch anything belonging to them, or you will be swept away[e] because of all their sins.[f]" [27]So they moved away from the tents of Korah, Dathan and Abiram.[g] Dathan and Abiram had come out and were standing with their wives, children[h] and little ones at the entrances to their tents.[i]

[28]Then Moses said, "This is how you will know[j] that the LORD has sent me[k] to do all these things and that it was not my idea: [29]If these men die a natural death and experience only what usually happens to men, then the LORD has not sent me.[l] [30]But if the LORD brings about something totally new, and the earth opens its mouth[m] and swallows them, with everything that belongs to them, and they go down alive into the grave,[n] then you will know that these men have treated the LORD with contempt.[o]"

[31]As soon as he finished saying all this, the ground under them split apart[p] [32]and the earth opened its mouth and swallowed them,[q] with their households and all Korah's men and all their possessions. [33]They went down alive into the grave,[r] with everything they owned; the earth closed over them, and they perished and were gone from the community. [34]At their cries, all the Israelites around them fled, shouting, "The earth is going to swallow us too!"

[35]And fire came out from the LORD[s] and consumed[t] the 250 men who were offering the incense.

[36]The LORD said to Moses, [37]"Tell Eleazar[u] son of Aaron, the priest, to take the censers[v] out of the smoldering remains and scatter the coals some distance away, for the censers are holy— [38]the censers of the men who sinned at the cost of their lives.[w] Hammer the censers a land flowing with milk and honey" (v. 13). By this strange alchemy, in their minds the land of Egypt has been transformed from prison to paradise.

16:15 nor have I wronged any of them. Moses' humanity is seen in his plea of innocence.

16:18–21 The trial was to be by fire: Which men would the Lord accept as his priests in the holy tabernacle? The 250 men allied with Korah came with arrogance to withstand Moses and Aaron at the entrance to the Tent of Meeting. The revelation of the Lord's glory was sure and sudden (v. 19), with words of impending doom for the rebellious people (v. 21). The punishment was fittingly ironic. Those 250 men who dared to present themselves as priests before the Lord with fire in their censers were themselves put to death by fire (perhaps lightning) from the Lord (see v. 35).

16:22 Here the magnanimity of Moses and Aaron is seen.

16:24 Move away. God's judgment was going to be severe, but he did not want to lash out against bystanders. It appears that Korah himself had left the 250 false priests and was standing with Dathan and Abiram to continue their opposition to Moses.

16:30 something totally new. Moses wished to assure the people that the imminent judgment was the direct work of the Lord and not a chance event that might be interpreted differently. The opening of the earth to swallow the rebels was a sure sign of the wrath of God and the vindication of Moses and Aaron.

16:32 swallowed them, with their households. The sons of Korah did not die (26:11); apparently they did not join their father in his rash plan. The households of the other rebels died with them.

16:37 take the censers. The true priests took the censers of the 250 deceased impostors from their charred remains and hammered them into bronze sheets for the altar as a memorial of the folly of a self-proclaimed priest (v. 40).

into sheets to overlay the altar,[x] for they were presented before the LORD and have become holy. Let them be a sign[y] to the Israelites."

[39]So Eleazar the priest[z] collected the bronze censers brought by those who had been burned up,[a] and he had them hammered out to overlay the altar, [40]as the LORD directed him through Moses. This was to remind the Israelites that no one except a descendant of Aaron should come to burn incense[b] before the LORD,[c] or he would become like Korah and his followers.[d]

[41]The next day the whole Israelite community grumbled against Moses and Aaron. "You have killed the LORD's people," they said.

[42]But when the assembly gathered in opposition[e] to Moses and Aaron and turned toward the Tent of Meeting, suddenly the cloud covered it and the glory of the LORD[f] appeared. [43]Then Moses and Aaron went to the front of the Tent of Meeting, [44]and the LORD said to Moses, [45]"Get away from this assembly so I can put an end[g] to them at once." And they fell facedown.

[46]Then Moses said to Aaron, "Take your censer[h] and put incense in it, along with fire from the altar, and hurry to the assembly[i] to make atonement[j] for them. Wrath has come out from the LORD;[k] the plague[l] has started." [47]So Aaron did as Moses said, and ran into the midst of the assembly. The plague had already started among the people,[m] but Aaron offered the incense and made atonement for them. [48]He stood between the living and the dead, and the plague stopped.[n] [49]But 14,700 people died from the plague, in addition to those who had died because of Korah.[o] [50]Then Aaron returned to the Tent of Meeting, for the plague had stopped.

The Budding of Aaron's Staff

17 The LORD said to Moses, [2]"Speak to the Israelites and get twelve staffs[p] from them, one from the leader of each of their ancestral tribes.[q] Write the name of each man on his staff. [3]On the staff of Levi write Aaron's name,[r] for there must be one staff for the head of each ancestral tribe. [4]Place them in the Tent of Meeting[s] in front of the Testimony,[t] where I meet with you.[u] [5]The staff belonging to the man I choose[v] will sprout,[w] and I will rid myself of this constant grumbling[x] against you by the Israelites."

[6]So Moses spoke to the Israelites, and their leaders gave him twelve staffs, one for the leader of each of their ancestral tribes, and Aaron's staff was among them. [7]Moses placed the staffs before the LORD in the Tent of the Testimony.[y]

[8]The next day Moses entered the Tent of the Testimony[z] and saw that Aaron's staff,[a] which represented the house of Levi, had not only sprouted but had budded, blossomed and produced almonds.[b] [9]Then Moses brought out all the staffs[c] from the LORD's presence to all the Israelites. They looked at them, and each man took his own staff.

[10]The LORD said to Moses, "Put back Aaron's staff[d] in front of the Testimony, to be kept as a sign to the rebellious.[e] This will put an end to their grumbling against me, so that they will not die." [11]Moses did just as the LORD commanded him.

[12]The Israelites said to Moses, "We will die! We are lost, we are all lost![f] [13]Anyone who even comes near the tabernacle

16:41 the whole Israelite community grumbled. Again the community attacked Moses, unfairly charging him with the death of the Lord's people. Except for the intervention of Moses and Aaron (see vv. 4,22), the entire nation might have been destroyed because of their continued rebellion (see v. 45).

16:49 14,700 people died. The number makes sense only if the community is as large as the census lists of ch. 2 suggest.

17:1–13 This story follows the account of the divine judgment of Korah (16:1–35) and the narrative of the symbolic use given to the censers of the rebels and its aftermath (16:36–50). Ch. 17 is thus the third in a series of accounts vindicating the Aaronic priesthood against all opposition. The selection of 12 staffs, one from each tribe, was a symbolic act whereby the divine choice of Aaron would be indicated again.

17:3 On the staff of Levi write Aaron's name. The test needed to be unequivocal because of the wide support given to Korah's rebellion. The 250 who had joined with Korah were from many, perhaps all, of the tribes.

17:4 in front of the Testimony. In front of the ark, with the Ten Commandments, thus probably in the Holy Place, near the altar of incense.

17:8 had not only sprouted but had budded, blossomed and produced almonds. God exceeded the demands of the test so that there might be no uncertainty as to who had acted or what he intended by his action.

17:10 in front of the Testimony. Aaron's rod joined the stone tablets of the law of Moses (see note on Ex 25:16) and the jar of manna (Ex 16:33–34) within or near the ark of the covenant (see Heb 9:4). These holy symbols were ever before the Lord as memorials of his special deeds in behalf of his people. Moreover, should anyone of a later age dare to question the unique and holy place of the Aaronic priests in the Lord's service, this symbolic memorial of God's choice of Aaron would stand in opposition to his audacity. It is difficult to overestimate the importance of the role of Aaron and his sons in the worship of Israel (see note on 18:1–7).

17:12 We will die! At last the people realized the sin of their arrogance in challenging Aaron's role. The appropriate ways of approaching the Lord are detailed in chs. 18–19.

of the LORD will die.[g] Are we all going to die?"

Duties of Priests and Levites

18 The LORD said to Aaron, "You, your sons and your father's family are to bear the responsibility for offenses against the sanctuary,[h] and you and your sons alone are to bear the responsibility for offenses against the priesthood. [2]Bring your fellow Levites from your ancestral tribe to join you and assist you when you and your sons minister[i] before the Tent of the Testimony. [3]They are to be responsible to you[j] and are to perform all the duties of the Tent,[k] but they must not go near the furnishings of the sanctuary or the altar, or both they and you will die.[l] [4]They are to join you and be responsible for the care of the Tent of Meeting—all the work at the Tent—and no one else may come near where you are.[m]

[5]"You are to be responsible for the care of the sanctuary and the altar,[n] so that wrath will not fall on the Israelites again. [6]I myself have selected your fellow Levites from among the Israelites as a gift to you,[o] dedicated to the LORD to do the work at the Tent of Meeting.[p] [7]But only you and your sons may serve as priests in connection with everything at the altar and inside the curtain.[q] I am giving you the service of the priesthood as a gift.[r] Anyone else who comes near the sanctuary must be put to death.[s]"

Offerings for Priests and Levites

[8]Then the LORD said to Aaron, "I myself have put you in charge of the offerings presented to me; all the holy offerings the Israelites give me I give to you and your sons as your portion[t] and regular share.[u] [9]You are to have the part of the most holy offerings[v] that is kept from the fire. From all the gifts they bring me as most holy offerings, whether grain[w] or sin[x] or guilt offerings,[y] that part belongs to you and your sons. [10]Eat it as something most holy; every male shall eat it.[z] You must regard it as holy.[a]

[11]"This also is yours: whatever is set aside from the gifts of all the wave offerings[b] of the Israelites. I give this to you and your sons and daughters as your regular share.[c] Everyone in your household who is ceremonially clean[d] may eat it.

[12]"I give you all the finest olive oil and all the finest new wine and grain[e] they give the LORD[f] as the firstfruits of their harvest.[g] [13]All the land's firstfruits that they bring to the LORD will be yours.[h] Everyone in your household who is ceremonially clean may eat it.[i]

[14]"Everything in Israel that is devoted[o] to the LORD[j] is yours. [15]The first offspring of every womb, both man and animal, that is offered to the LORD is yours.[k] But you must redeem[l] every firstborn[m] son and every firstborn male of unclean animals.[n] [16]When they are a month old,[o] you must redeem them at the redemption price set at five shekels[pp] of silver, according to the sanctuary shekel,[q] which weighs twenty gerahs.[r]

[17]"But you must not redeem the firstborn of an ox, a sheep or a goat; they are holy.[s] Sprinkle their blood[t] on the altar and burn their fat[u] as an offering made by fire, an aroma pleasing to the LORD.[v] [18]Their meat is to be yours, just as the breast of the wave offering[w] and the right thigh are yours.[x] [19]Whatever is

[o] 14 The Hebrew term refers to the irrevocable giving over of things or persons to the LORD. [p] 16 That is, about 2 ounces (about 55 grams)

18:1–7 Aaron and his family, chosen by the Lord to be the true priests of holy worship, faced a burdensome task. The lament of the people in 17:12–13 was real; grievous sins against the holy meeting place of the Lord and his people would be judged by death. The Lord's mercy in providing a legitimate priesthood was actually an aspect of his grace (cf. Ps 99:6–8), because it was the people's only hope for deliverance from judgment.

18:2 Bring your fellow Levites. The Aaronic priests were to be assisted by the others in the tribe of Levi, but the assistants were not to go beyond their serving role. If they did so, not only would they die, but so would the priests who were responsible (v. 3).

18:7 the service of the priesthood as a gift. Of all men, the priests were privileged to approach the Holy Place and minister before the Lord. The priesthood was a gift of God's grace to both priests and people.

18:8 your portion and regular share. The priests were to be supported in their work of ministry (see Lev 6:14–7:36). Since the Levites as a whole and the priests in particular had no part in the land that God was going to give them, it was necessary that the means for their provision be spelled out fully. They were not to have a part in the land; their share was the Lord himself (v. 20).

18:11 your sons and daughters. Provision was made not only for the priests, but for their families as well. Only family members who were ceremonially unclean were forbidden to eat the gifts and offerings of the people (see v. 13). Provisions for cleansing were stated in Lev 22:4–8.

18:12 finest olive oil . . . finest new wine and grain. Since the best items of produce were to be given to the Lord, these became the special foods of the priests and their families. The NT writers similarly argue that those who minister the word of God in the present period should also be paid suitably for their work (see, e.g., 1Co 9:3–10 and notes).

18:19 everlasting covenant of salt. A permanent provision for the priests. The phrase "covenant of salt" (see 2Ch 13:5) remains obscure. In Lev 2:13 the salt that must accompany grain offerings is called the "salt of the covenant." According to Eze 43:24, salt is also to be sprinkled on burnt offerings, and Ex 30:35 specifies salt as one of the set aside from the holy[y] offerings the Israelites present to the LORD I give to you and your sons and daughters as your regular share. It is an everlasting covenant of salt[z] before the LORD for both you and your offspring."

[20]The LORD said to Aaron, "You will have no inheritance in their land, nor will you have any share among them;[a] I am your share and your inheritance[b] among the Israelites.

[21]"I give to the Levites all the tithes[c] in Israel as their inheritance[d] in return for the work they do while serving at the Tent of Meeting.[e] [22]From now on the Israelites must not go near the Tent of Meeting, or they will bear the consequences of their sin and will die.[f] [23]It is the Levites who are to do the work at the Tent of Meeting and bear the responsibility for offenses against it. This is a lasting ordinance[g] for the generations to come.[h] They will receive no inheritance[i] among the Israelites.[j] [24]Instead, I give to the Levites as their inheritance the tithes that the Israelites present as an offering to the LORD.[k] That is why I said concerning them: 'They will have no inheritance among the Israelites.' "

[25]The LORD said to Moses, [26]"Speak to the Levites and say to them: 'When you receive from the Israelites the tithe I give you[l] as your inheritance, you must present a tenth of that tithe as the LORD's offering.[m] [27]Your offering will be reckoned[n] to you as grain from the threshing floor[o] or juice from the winepress.[p] [28]In this way you also will present an offering to the LORD from all the tithes[q] you receive from the Israelites. From these tithes you must give the LORD's portion to Aaron the priest. [29]You must present as the LORD's portion the best and holiest part of everything given to you.'

[30]"Say to the Levites: 'When you present the best part, it will be reckoned to you as the product of the threshing floor or the winepress.[r] [31]You and your households may eat the rest of it anywhere, for it is your wages for your work at the Tent of Meeting.[s] [32]By presenting the best part[t] of it you will not be guilty in this matter;[u] then you will not defile the holy offerings[v] of the Israelites, and you will not die.' "

The Water of Cleansing

19 The LORD said to Moses and Aaron: [2]"This is a requirement of the law that the LORD has commanded: Tell the Israelites to bring you a red heifer[w] without defect or blemish[x] and that has never been under a yoke.[y] [3]Give it to Eleazar[z] the priest; it is to be taken outside the camp[a] and slaughtered in his presence. [4]Then Eleazar the priest is to take some of its blood on his finger and sprinkle[b] it seven times toward the front of the Tent of Meeting. [5]While he watches, the heifer is to be burned—its hide, flesh, blood and offal.[c] [6]The priest is to take some cedar wood, hyssop[d] and scarlet wool[e] and throw them onto the burning heifer. [7]After that, the priest must wash his clothes and bathe himself with water.[f] He may then come into the camp, but he will be ceremonially unclean till evening. [8]The man who burns it must also wash his clothes and bathe with water, and he too will be unclean till evening.

[9]"A man who is clean shall gather up the ashes of the heifer[g] and put them in a ceremonially clean place[h] outside the camp. They shall be kept by the Israelite community for use in the water of cleansing;[i] it is for purification from sin.[j] [10]The man who gathers up[k] the ashes of the heifer must also wash his clothes, and he too will be unclean till evening.[l] This will be a lasting ordinance[m] both for the Israelites and for the aliens living among them.[n] ingredients in the special incense compounded for the sanctuary. A "covenant of salt" is perhaps an allusion to the salt used in the sacrificial meal that commonly accompanied the making of a covenant (see Ge 31:54; Ex 24:5–11; Ps 50:5).

18:26–32 Although the Levites were the recipients of the tithe given to the Lord, they were not themselves exempt from worshiping God by tithing. They in turn were to give a tenth of their income to Aaron (v. 28) and were to be sure that the best part was given as the Lord's portion (v. 29). By obedient compliance the Levites would escape judicial death (v. 32).

19:2 red heifer. The qualifying words, "without defect or blemish," are familiar in contexts of sacrificial worship in the OT. But this is not a sacrificial animal. It is a cow, not an ox; it is to be slaughtered, not sacrificed; and it is to be killed outside the camp, not at the holy altar. The ashes of the red heifer (v. 9) are the primary focus of this act, for they will be used in the ritual of the water of cleansing. The burning of the animal with its blood and offal (v. 5) is unprecedented in the OT. The normal pattern for the sacrifice of the burnt offering is given in Lev 1:3–9. In every respect the killing of the red heifer is distinct: A female animal was taken outside the camp to be killed; the priest had to be present, but he did not identify himself with it; and a bit of the heifer's blood was sprinkled from the priest's finger toward the tabernacle seven times, but the rest of the animal was to be burned in its entirety, without the draining of its blood or the cleansing of its offal.

days.[p] 12He must purify himself with the water on the third day and on the seventh day;[q] then he will be clean. But if he does not purify himself on the third and seventh days, he will not be clean.[r] 13Whoever touches the dead body[s] of anyone and fails to purify himself defiles the LORD's tabernacle.[t] That person must be cut off from Israel.[u] Because the water of cleansing has not been sprinkled on him, he is unclean;[v] his uncleanness remains on him.

14"This is the law that applies when a person dies in a tent: Anyone who enters the tent and anyone who is in it will be unclean for seven days, 15and every open container[w] without a lid fastened on it will be unclean.

16"Anyone out in the open who touches someone who has been killed with a sword or someone who has died a natural death,[x] or anyone who touches a human bone[y] or a grave,[z] will be unclean for seven days.[a]

17"For the unclean person, put some ashes[b] from the burned purification offering into a jar and pour fresh water[c] over them. 18Then a man who is ceremonially clean is to take some hyssop,[d] dip it in the water and sprinkle[e] the tent and all the furnishings and the people who were there. He must also sprinkle anyone who has touched a human bone or a grave[f] or someone who has been killed or someone who has died a natural death. 19The man who is clean is to sprinkle[g] the unclean person on the third and seventh days, and on the seventh day he is to purify him.[h] The person being cleansed must wash his clothes[i] and bathe with water, and that evening he will be clean. 20But if a person who is unclean does not purify himself, he must be cut off from the community, because he has defiled[j] the sanctuary of the LORD.[k] The water of cleansing has not been sprinkled on him, and he is unclean.[l] 21This is a lasting ordinance[m] for them.

"The man who sprinkles the water of cleansing must also wash his clothes, and anyone who touches the water of cleansing will be unclean till evening. 22Anything that an unclean[n] person touches becomes unclean, and anyone who touches it becomes unclean till evening."

Water From the Rock

20 In the first month the whole Israelite community arrived at the Desert of Zin,[o] and they stayed at Kadesh.[p] There Miriam[q] died and was buried.

2Now there was no water[r] for the community,[s] and the people gathered in opposition[t] to Moses and Aaron. 3They quarreled[u] with Moses and said, "If only we had died when our brothers fell dead[v] before the LORD![w] 4Why did you bring the LORD's community into this desert,[x] that we and our livestock should die here?[y] 5Why did you bring us up out of Egypt to this terrible place? It has no grain or figs, grapevines or pomegranates.[z] And there is no water to drink![a]"

6Moses and Aaron went from the assembly to the entrance to the Tent of Meeting[b] and fell facedown,[c] and the glory of the LORD[d] appeared to them. 7The LORD said to Moses, 8"Take the staff,[e] and you and your brother Aaron

19:12 purify himself with the water. The ashes from the red heifer were kept outside the camp and would be mixed as needed with water to provide a means of cleansing after contact with dead bodies.

19:13 defiles the LORD's tabernacle. Willful neglect of the provision for cleansing brought not only judgment on the person, but also a pollution of the tabernacle itself. cut off from Israel. See note on Ex 12:15.

19:14 anyone who is in it. There would be many occasions in which a person would become unclean, not because of deliberate contact with a dead body, but just by being in the proximity of one who died.

19:18 hyssop, dip it in the water and sprinkle. Here the method of the cleansing ritual is explained. A ceremonially clean person had to sprinkle the ceremonially unclean person or thing. The cleansing power of the blood of Christ is specifically contrasted ("much more"; Heb 9:13–14) with the cleansing effectiveness of the water of the ashes of the red heifer.

20:1–29 This chapter begins with the death of Miriam (v. 1), concludes with the death of Aaron (v. 28), includes the record of the conflict with Edom (vv. 14–21) and centers on the tragic sin of Moses (vv. 11–12). Such was the sad beginning of Israel's last year in the desert.

20:1 first month. The year is not given, but a comparison of vv. 22–29 with 33:38 leads to the conclusion that this chapter begins in the 40th year after the exodus (see notes on 1:1; 9:1). Most of the people 20 years old or more at the time of the rebellion at Kadesh (chs. 13–14) would already have died. at Kadesh. The larger part of the desert wandering is left without record. The people may have gone through a cycle of roving travels, seeking the water sources and the sparse vegetation, supported primarily by manna. But their circuits would bring them back to the central camp at Kadesh, the scene of their great rebellion (chs. 13–14). They have now come full circle; the land of promise lies before them again.

20:2 no water. Forty years earlier, the Lord had instructed Moses to take the staff he had used to strike the Nile (Ex 7:17) and to strike the rock at Horeb to initiate a flow of water (Ex 17:1–7). Now, 40 years later, at the place of Israel's worst acts of rebellion, the scene was recurring. The children of the rebellious nation now desire to die with their parents; the complaints about the bread from heaven are repeated by the sons.

20:8 Speak to that rock. Moses was told to take his staff, through which God had performed wonders in Egypt and in the desert all these years, but this time he was merely to gather the assembly together. Speak to that rock before their eyes and it will pour out its water.[f] You will bring water out of the rock for the community so they and their livestock can drink."

[9]So Moses took the staff[g] from the LORD's presence,[h] just as he commanded him. [10]He and Aaron gathered the assembly together[i] in front of the rock and Moses said to them, "Listen, you rebels, must we bring you water out of this rock?"[j] [11]Then Moses raised his arm and struck the rock twice with his staff. Water[k] gushed out, and the community and their livestock drank.

[12]But the LORD said to Moses and Aaron, "Because you did not trust in me enough to honor me as holy[l] in the sight of the Israelites, you will not bring this community into the land I give them."[m]

[13]These were the waters of Meribah,[q][n] where the Israelites quarreled[o] with the LORD and where he showed himself holy among them.[p]

Edom Denies Israel Passage

[14]Moses sent messengers from Kadesh[q] to the king of Edom,[r] saying:

"This is what your brother Israel says: You know[s] about all the hardships[t] that have come upon us. [15]Our forefathers went down into Egypt,[u] and we lived there many years.[v] The Egyptians mistreated[w] us and our fathers, [16]but when we cried out to the LORD, he heard our cry[x] and sent an angel[y] and brought us out of Egypt.[z]

"Now we are here at Kadesh, a town on the edge of your territory.[a] [17]Please let us pass through your country. We will not go through any field or vineyard, or drink water from any well. We will travel along the king's highway and not turn to the right or to the left until we have passed through your territory.[b]"

[18]But Edom[c] answered:

"You may not pass through here; if you try, we will march out and attack you with the sword.[d]"

[19]The Israelites replied:

"We will go along the main road, and if we or our livestock[e] drink any of your water, we will pay for it.[f] We only want to pass through on foot—nothing else."

[20]Again they answered:

"You may not pass through.[g]"

Then Edom[h] came out against them with a large and powerful army. [21]Since Edom refused to let them go through their territory,[i] Israel turned away from them.[j]

The Death of Aaron

[22]The whole Israelite community set out from Kadesh[k] and came to Mount Hor.[l] [23]At Mount Hor, near the border of Edom,[m] the LORD said to Moses and Aaron, [24]"Aaron will be gathered to his people.[n] He will not enter the land I give the Israelites, because both of you rebelled against my command[o] at the waters of Meribah.[p] [25]Get Aaron and his son Eleazar and take them up Mount speak to the rock and it would pour out its water for the people. Cf. Ps 114:8.

20:10 Listen, you rebels. At once the accumulated anger, exasperation and frustration of 40 years came to expression (see Ps 106:33).

20:11 struck the rock twice with his staff. In his rage Moses disobeyed the Lord's instruction to speak to the rock (v. 8). Moses' rash action brought a stern rebuke from the Lord (v. 12). The nature of Moses' offense is not clearly stated in this text, but these factors appear to be involved: 1. Moses' action was a lack of trust in God (v. 12), as though he believed that a word alone would not suffice. 2. God's holiness was offended by Moses' rash action (v. 12), for he had not shown proper deference to God's presence.

20:12 you will not bring this community into the land. The end result of Moses' action is sure: Neither Aaron nor Moses would enter the land of promise. Of their contemporaries only Joshua and Caleb would survive to enter the land. The inclusion of Aaron demonstrates his partnership with his brother in the breach against God's holiness.

20:13 Meribah. See NIV text note. The same name was used 40 years earlier at the first occasion of bringing water from the rock (Ex 17:7, where it is also called Massah, "testing"). Ps 95:8 laments the rebellion at Meribah and Massah.

20:14–21 Moses' attempt to pass through the territory of Edom by peaceful negotiation and payment for services rendered is met by arrogant rebuff.

20:14 your brother Israel. The people of Edom were descended from Esau, the brother of Jacob (see Ge 36:1).

20:17 king's highway. The major north-south trade route in Transjordan, extending from Arabia to Damascus.

20:20 large and powerful army. The show of force by Edom caused Israel to turn away so as not to risk conflict with this brother nation. Israel was forbidden by the Lord to take even a foothold in Edom (see Dt 2:4–6).

20:22 Mount Hor. Other than its proximity to the border of Edom (v. 23), nothing is known for certain about its location.

20:24 gathered to his people. A euphemism for death (see, e.g., Ge 25:8,17; 35:29). both of you. Aaron had joined Moses in rebellion against God (v. 12); his impending death was a precursor of Moses' death as well (see Dt 34).

20:25 Aaron and his son Eleazar. There was no doubt about Aaron's successor, just as there was no doubt about Moses' successor (see Dt 34).

Hor.[q] [26]Remove Aaron's garments[r] and put them on his son Eleazar, for Aaron will be gathered to his people;[s] he will die there."

[27]Moses did as the LORD commanded: They went up Mount Hor[t] in the sight of the whole community. [28]Moses removed Aaron's garments and put them on his son Eleazar.[u] And Aaron died there[v] on top of the mountain. Then Moses and Eleazar came down from the mountain, [29]and when the whole community learned that Aaron had died,[w] the entire house of Israel mourned for him[x] thirty days.

Arad Destroyed

21 When the Canaanite king of Arad,[y] who lived in the Negev,[z] heard that Israel was coming along the road to Atharim, he attacked the Israelites and captured some of them. [2]Then Israel made this vow[a] to the LORD: "If you will deliver these people into our hands, we will totally destroy[b] their cities." [3]The LORD listened to Israel's plea and gave the Canaanites[c] over to them. They completely destroyed them[d] and their towns; so the place was named Hormah.[s e]

The Bronze Snake

[4]They traveled from Mount Hor[f] along the route to the Red Sea,[t g] to go around Edom.[h] But the people grew impatient on the way;[i] [5]they spoke against God[j] and against Moses, and said, "Why have you brought us up out of Egypt[k] to die in the desert?[l] There is no bread! There is no water![m] And we detest this miserable food![n]"

[6]Then the LORD sent venomous snakes[o] among them; they bit the people and many Israelites died.[p] [7]The people came to Moses[q] and said, "We sinned[r] when we spoke against the LORD and against you. Pray that the LORD[s] will take the snakes away from us." So Moses prayed[t] for the people.

[8]The LORD said to Moses, "Make a snake and put it up on a pole;[u] anyone who is bitten can look at it and live." [9]So Moses made a bronze snake[v] and put it up on a pole. Then when anyone was bitten by a snake and looked at the bronze snake, he lived.[w]

The Journey to Moab

[10]The Israelites moved on and camped at Oboth.[x] [11]Then they set out from Oboth and camped in Iye Abarim, in the desert that faces Moab[y] toward the sunrise. [12]From there they moved on and camped in the Zered Valley.[z] [13]They set out from there and camped alongside the Arnon[a], which is in the desert extending into Amorite territory. The Arnon is the border of Moab, between Moab and the Amorites.[b] [14]That is why the Book of the Wars[c] of the LORD says:

". . . Waheb in Suphah[u] and the ravines, the Arnon [15]and[v] the slopes of the ravines

20:26–28 While Aaron was still alive, his garments were to be placed on his son; only then did he die.

20:29 mourned for him. His death (and that of Moses) marked the passing of a generation. The old generation was now nearly gone; in 40 years there had been almost a complete turnover of the people 20 years old or more.

21:1–3 The first battle of the new community against the Canaanites was provoked by the king of Arad, perhaps as he was raiding them. The result was a complete victory for the Israelites—a new day for them, since they had been defeated by the Amalekites and Canaanites a generation before (14:41–45).

21:2 totally destroy. See NIV text note.

21:3 Hormah. See NIV text note; the association with Israel's earlier defeat is made certain by the use of this place-name (see 14:45).

21:4 With Moses' determination not to engage Edom in battle (see note on 20:20), the people became impatient with him and with the direction the Lord was taking them. Flushed with victory, they were confident in themselves. They forgot that their victory over Arad was granted by the Lord in response to their solemn pledge (v. 2); now they were ready to rebel again.

21:5 we detest this miserable food! The people's impatience (v. 4) led them to blaspheme God, to reject his servant Moses and to despise the bread from heaven. This is the most bitter of their several attacks on the manna (see note on 11:7). Just as Moses' attack on the rock was more than it appeared to be (see note on 20:11), so the people's contempt for the heavenly bread was more serious than one might think. Rejecting the heavenly manna was tantamount to spurning God's grace (cf. Jn 6:32–35,48–51,58).

21:8–9 In response to the people's confession of sin (v. 7), God directed Moses to make an image of a snake and put it on a pole, so that anyone who had been bitten could look at it and live. See the typological use of this incident in Jn 3:14–15.

21:10–13 The people skirt Edom and make their way to the Arnon, the wadi that serves as the border between Moab and the region of the Amorites and that flows west into the midpoint of the Dead Sea.

21:14 Book of the Wars of the LORD. Mentioned only here in the OT. This is not in existence today; it was presumably an ancient collection of songs of war in praise of God (see note on 10:3 for music in war). Cf. the "Book of Jashar" (Jos 10:13; 2Sa 1:18).

that lead to the site of Ar[d] and lie along the border of Moab."

16From there they continued on to Beer,[e] the well where the LORD said to Moses, "Gather the people together and I will give them water."

17Then Israel sang this song:[f]

"Spring up, O well!
Sing about it,
18about the well that the princes dug, that the nobles of the people sank—the nobles with scepters and staffs."

Then they went from the desert to Mattanah, 19from Mattanah to Nahaliel, from Nahaliel to Bamoth, 20and from Bamoth to the valley in Moab where the top of Pisgah[g] overlooks the wasteland.

Defeat of Sihon and Og

21Israel sent messengers[h] to say to Sihon[i] king of the Amorites:[j]

22"Let us pass through your country. We will not turn aside into any field or vineyard, or drink water from any well. We will travel along the king's highway until we have passed through your territory.[k]"

23But Sihon would not let Israel pass through his territory.[l] He mustered his entire army and marched out into the desert against Israel. When he reached Jahaz,[m] he fought with Israel.[n] 24Israel, however, put him to the sword[o] and took over his land[p] from the Arnon to the Jabbok,[q] but only as far as the Ammonites,[r] because their border was fortified. 25Israel captured all the cities of the Amorites[s] and occupied them,[t] including Heshbon[u] and all its surrounding settlements. 26Heshbon was the city of Sihon[v] king of the Amorites,[w] who had fought against the former king of Moab[x] and had taken from him all his land as far as the Arnon.[y]

27That is why the poets say:

"Come to Heshbon and let it be rebuilt;
let Sihon's city be restored.

28"Fire went out from Heshbon, a blaze from the city of Sihon.[z]
It consumed[a] Ar[b] of Moab, the citizens of Arnon's heights.[c]
29Woe to you, O Moab![d]
You are destroyed, O people of Chemosh![e]
He has given up his sons as fugitives[f] and his daughters as captives[g] to Sihon king of the Amorites.

30"But we have overthrown them;
Heshbon is destroyed all the way to Dibon.[h]
We have demolished them as far as Nophah, which extends to Medeba.[i]"

31So Israel settled in the land of the Amorites.[j]

32After Moses had sent spies[k] to Jazer,[l] the Israelites captured its surrounding settlements and drove out the Amorites who were there. 33Then they turned and went up along the road toward Bashan[m],[n] and Og king of Bashan and his whole army marched out to meet them in battle at Edrei.[o]

34The LORD said to Moses, "Do not be afraid of him, for I have handed him over to you, with his whole army and his land. Do to him what you did to Sihon king of the Amorites, who reigned in Heshbon.[p]"

35So they struck him down, together with his sons and his whole army, leaving them no survivors.[q] And they took possession of his land.[r]

21:16 I will give them water. The quest for water had been a constant problem during the desert experience (see ch. 20; Ex 17).

21:17–18 The "song of the well" may also come from the Book of the Wars of the Lord (v. 14).

21:21–26 As with Edom (20:14–19), Israel requested freedom to pass through the land of the Amorites. When Sihon, their king, tried to meet Israel with a show of force, he suffered an overwhelming defeat. The land of the Amorites was in Transjordan, extending from the Arnon River (at the midpoint of the Dead Sea) to the Jabbok River (v. 24), which flows into the Jordan some 24 miles north of the Dead Sea.

21:27–30 This third ancient poem in ch. 21 was an Amorite taunt song about their earlier victory over Moab (v. 29). Perhaps the "song of Heshbon" was also preserved in the Book of the Wars of the Lord (v. 14).

21:33 Bashan. The region northeast of the Sea of Galilee.

21:35 struck him down. By defeating Og, Israel now controlled Transjordan from Moab to the heights of Bashan in the vicinity of Mount Hermon. The victory over Sihon and Og became a subject of song (Ps 135:11; 136:19–20), and is a regular part of the commemoration of the works of the Lord in the Passover celebration.

22:1 plains of Moab. Israel now marched back to their staging area east of the Jordan and just north of the Dead Sea. From this point they would launch their attack on Canaan, beginning with the ancient city of Jericho. Moab did not trust Israel's intentions, however. Moab's fear leads to a remarkable interval in the story of Israel: the along the Jordan[t] across from Jericho.[wu]

[2]Now Balak son of Zippor[v] saw all that Israel had done to the Amorites, [3]and Moab was terrified because there were so many people. Indeed, Moab was filled with dread[w] because of the Israelites.

[4]The Moabites[x] said to the elders of Midian,[y] "This horde is going to lick up everything[z] around us, as an ox licks up the grass of the field.[a]"

So Balak son of Zippor, who was king of Moab at that time, [5]sent messengers to summon Balaam son of Beor,[b] who was at Pethor, near the River,[xc] in his native land. Balak said:

> "A people has come out of Egypt;[d] they cover the face of the land and have settled next to me. [6]Now come and put a curse[e] on these people, because they are too powerful for me. Perhaps then I will be able to defeat them and drive them out of the country.[f] For I know that those you bless are blessed, and those you curse are cursed."

[7]The elders of Moab and Midian left, taking with them the fee for divination.[g] When they came to Balaam, they told him what Balak had said.

[8]"Spend the night here," Balaam said to them, "and I will bring you back the answer the LORD gives me.[h]" So the Moabite princes stayed with him.

[9]God came to Balaam[i] and asked,[j] "Who are these men with you?"

[10]Balaam said to God, "Balak son of Zippor, king of Moab, sent me this message: [11]'A people that has come out of Egypt covers the face of the land. Now come and put a curse on them for me. Perhaps then I will be able to fight them and drive them away.' "

[12]But God said to Balaam, "Do not go with them. You must not put a curse on those people, because they are blessed.[k]"

[13]The next morning Balaam got up and said to Balak's princes, "Go back to your own country, for the LORD has refused to let me go with you."

[14]So the Moabite princes returned to Balak and said, "Balaam refused to come with us."

[15]Then Balak sent other princes, more numerous and more distinguished than the first. [16]They came to Balaam and said:

> "This is what Balak son of Zippor says: Do not let anything keep you from coming to me, [17]because I will reward you handsomely[l] and do whatever you say. Come and put a curse[m] on these people for me."

[18]But Balaam answered them, "Even if Balak gave me his palace filled with silver and gold, I could not do anything great or small to go beyond the command of the LORD my God.[n] [19]Now stay here tonight as the others did, and I will find out what else the LORD will tell me.[o]" account of Balak and Balaam (chs. 22–24).

22:3 Moab was terrified. Balak king of Moab did not know that Israel had no plans against him.

22:4 said to the elders of Midian. Balak made an alliance with the Midianites to oppose Israel (see v. 7). as an ox licks up the grass of the field. A proverbial simile particularly fitting for a pastoral people.

22:5 summon Balaam son of Beor. Since Balak believed that there was no military way to withstand Israel, he sought to oppose them through pagan divination (vv. 6–7), sending for a diviner with an international reputation. (One of Balaam's non-Biblical prophecies is preserved in an Aramaic text from Deir Alla in the Jordan Valley dating to c. 700 B.C.)

22:8 the answer the LORD gives me. The language here and in v. 18 ("the LORD my God") has led some to believe that Balaam was a believer in Yahweh ("the LORD"), God of Israel. Based on the subsequent narrative, however, it seems best to take Balaam's words as claiming to be the spokesman for any god. Balaam is universally condemned in Scripture for moral, ethical and religious faults (see 31:7–8,15–16; Dt 23:3–6; Jos 13:22; 24:9–10; Ne 13:1–3; Mic 6:5; 2Pe 2:15–16; Jude 11; Rev 2:14).

22:9 God came to Balaam. The author shows his aversion to the pagan prophet Balaam by using "God" instead of "the LORD" (Yahweh), as Balaam does (e.g., in v. 8). By this subtle device, the narrator distances himself from Balaam's outrageous claims. That God spoke to Balaam is not to be denied, but Balaam did not yet realize that the God of Israel was unlike the supposed deities that he usually schemed against.

22:12 they are blessed. Israel was under the Lord's blessing promised to Abraham (see note on Ge 12:2–3).

22:20 go with them. There appears to be a contradiction between the permission God grants Balaam here and the prohibition he had given earlier (v. 12), and then the anger the Lord displayed against Balaam on his journey (v. 22). The difficulty is best understood as lying in the contrary character of Balaam. God had forbidden him to go to curse Israel. He then allowed Balaam to go, but only if he would follow the Lord's direction. But Balaam's real intentions were known to the Lord, and so with severe displeasure he confronted the pagan prophet.

LORD[s] stood in the road to oppose him. Balaam was riding on his donkey, and his two servants were with him. [23]When the donkey saw the angel of the LORD standing in the road with a drawn sword[t] in his hand, she turned off the road into a field. Balaam beat her[u] to get her back on the road.

[24]Then the angel of the LORD stood in a narrow path between two vineyards, with walls on both sides. [25]When the donkey saw the angel of the LORD, she pressed close to the wall, crushing Balaam's foot against it. So he beat her again.

[26]Then the angel of the LORD moved on ahead and stood in a narrow place where there was no room to turn, either to the right or to the left. [27]When the donkey saw the angel of the LORD, she lay down under Balaam, and he was angry[v] and beat her with his staff. [28]Then the LORD opened the donkey's mouth,[w] and she said to Balaam, "What have I done to you to make you beat me these three times?[x]"

[29]Balaam answered the donkey, "You have made a fool of me! If I had a sword in my hand, I would kill you right now.[y]"

[30]The donkey said to Balaam, "Am I not your own donkey, which you have always ridden, to this day? Have I been in the habit of doing this to you?"

"No," he said.

[31]Then the LORD opened Balaam's eyes,[z] and he saw the angel of the LORD standing in the road with his sword drawn. So he bowed low and fell facedown.

[32]The angel of the LORD asked him, "Why have you beaten your donkey these three times? I have come here to oppose you because your path is a reckless one before me.[y] [33]The donkey saw me and turned away from me these three times. If she had not turned away, I would certainly have killed you by now,[a] but I would have spared her."

[34]Balaam said to the angel of the LORD, "I have sinned.[b] I did not realize you were standing in the road to oppose me. Now if you are displeased, I will go back."

[35]The angel of the LORD said to Balaam, "Go with the men, but speak only what I tell you." So Balaam went with the princes of Balak.

[36]When Balak[c] heard that Balaam was coming, he went out to meet him at the Moabite town on the Arnon[d] border, at the edge of his territory. [37]Balak said to Balaam, "Did I not send you an urgent summons? Why didn't you come to me? Am I really not able to reward you?"

[38]"Well, I have come to you now," Balaam replied. "But can I say just anything? I must speak only what God puts in my mouth."[e]

[39]Then Balaam went with Balak to Kiriath Huzoth. [40]Balak sacrificed cattle and sheep,[f] and gave some to Balaam and the princes who were with him. [41]The next morning Balak took Balaam up to Bamoth Baal,[g] and from there he saw part of the people.[h]

Balaam's First Oracle

23 Balaam said, "Build me seven altars here, and prepare seven bulls and seven rams[i] for me." [2]Balak did as Balaam said, and the two of them offered a bull and a ram on each altar.[j]

[3]Then Balaam said to Balak, "Stay here beside your offering while I go aside. Perhaps the LORD will come to meet with me.[k] Whatever he reveals to me I will tell you." Then he went off to a barren height.

[4]God met with him,[l] and Balaam said, "I have prepared seven altars, and on each altar I have offered a bull and a ram."

[5]The LORD put a message in Balaam's

22:23 the donkey saw the angel of the LORD. The internationally known seer is blind to spiritual reality, but his proverbially dumb beast is able to see the angel of the Lord on the path. As a pagan prophet, Balaam was a specialist in animal divination, but his animal saw what he was blind to observe.

22:29 If I had a sword. A ridiculous picture of the hapless Balaam. A sword was nearby (see vv. 23,31–33), but its victim was not going to be the donkey.

22:31 Then the LORD opened Balaam's eyes. The language follows the same structure as the opening words of v. 28. In some ways, the opening of the eyes of the pagan prophet to see the reality of the angel was the greater miracle.

22:35 speak only what I tell you. The one great gain was that Balaam was now more aware of the seriousness of the task before him; he would not be able to change the word the Lord would give him (see 23:12,20,26).

22:37 Did I not send you an urgent summons? The comic element of the story is seen not only in the hapless Balaam but also in the frustrated Balak (see 23:11,25; 24:10).

22:40 Balak sacrificed cattle and sheep. Not sacrifices to the Lord. The pieces given to Balaam would have included the livers, for, as a pagan diviner, Balaam was a specialist in liver divination. Balaam subsequently gave up his acts of sorcery as the power of the Lord's word came upon him (24:1).

23:1 seven altars . . . seven bulls and seven rams. These sacrifices were prepared as a part of Balaam's pagan actions. The number seven (signifying completeness) was held in high regard among Semitic peoples in general; the many animals would provide abundant liver and organ materials for the diviner from the east.

23:2 Balak did as Balaam said. Balaam is in charge; Balak is now his subordinate.

mouth[m][n] and said, "Go back to Balak and give him this message."[o]

6So he went back to him and found him standing beside his offering, with all the princes of Moab.[p] 7Then Balaam[q] uttered his oracle:[r]

"Balak brought me from Aram,[s]
the king of Moab from the eastern mountains.[t]
'Come,' he said, 'curse Jacob for me;
come, denounce Israel.'[u]
8How can I curse
those whom God has not cursed?[v]
How can I denounce
those whom the LORD has not denounced?[w] 9From the rocky peaks I see them, from the heights I view them.[x]
I see a people who live apart and do not consider themselves one of the nations.[y] 10Who can count the dust of Jacob[z] or number the fourth part of Israel?
Let me die the death of the righteous,[a] and may my end be like theirs![b]"

11Balak said to Balaam, "What have you done to me? I brought you to curse my enemies,[c] but you have done nothing but bless them!"[d]

12He answered, "Must I not speak what the LORD puts in my mouth?"[e]

Balaam's Second Oracle

13Then Balak said to him, "Come with me to another place[f] where you can see them; you will see only a part but not all of them.[g] And from there, curse them for me.[h]" 14So he took him to the field of Zophim on the top of Pisgah,[i] and there he built seven altars and offered a bull and a ram on each altar.[j]

15Balaam said to Balak, "Stay here beside your offering while I meet with him over there."

16The LORD met with Balaam and put a message in his mouth[k] and said, "Go back to Balak and give him this message."

17So he went to him and found him standing beside his offering, with the princes of Moab.[l] Balak asked him, "What did the LORD say?"

18Then he uttered his oracle:[m]

"Arise, Balak, and listen;
hear me, son of Zippor.[n] 19God is not a man,[o] that he should lie,[p] nor a son of man, that he should change his mind.[q]
Does he speak and then not act?
Does he promise[r] and not fulfill?
20I have received a command to bless;[s] he has blessed,[t] and I cannot change it.[u]

21"No misfortune is seen in Jacob,[v] no misery observed in Israel.[z][w]
The LORD their God is with them;[x]
the shout of the King[y] is among them.
22God brought them out of Egypt;[z]
they have the strength of a wild ox.[a] 23There is no sorcery against Jacob, no divination[b] against Israel.

and of Israel, 'See what God has done!'

[z]21 Or He has not looked on Jacob's offenses / or on the wrongs found in Israel.

23:7–24:24 There are seven poetic oracles here: The first four are longer, have introductory narrative bridges and are written in exquisite poetry (23:7–10; 23:18–24; 24:3–9; 24:15–19). The last three are brief, are much more difficult to understand, and follow one another in a staccato pattern (24:20,21–22,23–24).

23:7 oracle. Hebrew mashal, usually translated "proverb," but here "oracle" is appropriate. By this word the distinctive nature of Balaam's prophecies is established; none of the prophecies of Israel's true prophets is described by this term.

23:8 How can I curse those whom God has not cursed? That which Balaam had been hired to do he was unable to do. God kept him from pronouncing a curse on his people, who were unlike the nations of the world (v. 9).

23:10 Let me die the death of the righteous. A wish not granted (see 31:8,16). may my end be like theirs! He who had come to curse desired to share in Israel's blessing.

23:13 a part but not all. Balak attempted to reduce Israel's power by selecting a point where their immense numbers would be obscured. Unfortunately for Balak, the oracle that followed (vv. 18–24) exceeded the first in its blessing on Israel.

23:19 God is not a man, that he should lie. These sublime words describe the immutability of the Lord and the integrity of his word. Balaam is a foil for God—constantly shifting, prevaricating, equivocating, changing—a prime example of the distinction between God and man.

23:21 the shout of the King is among them. That the first explicit declaration of the Lord's kingship in the Pentateuch was made by Balaam is a suitable improbability. Because God is King (Sovereign), he was able to use Balaam for his own ends—to bless his people in a new and wonderful manner.

23:22 wild ox. Or "aurochs" or "oryx," a traditional image of power in the ancient Near East (see also 24:8).

23:23 no sorcery against Jacob. Balaam speaks from his frightful experience. He had no means in his bag of tricks to withstand God's blessing of Israel.

23:24 like a lioness. Israel was about to arise and devour its foes, like a lioness on the hunt (see 24:9; Ge 49:9).

they rouse themselves like a lion[d] that does not rest till he devours his prey and drinks the blood[e] of his victims."

25Then Balak said to Balaam, "Neither curse them at all nor bless them at all!"
26Balaam answered, "Did I not tell you I must do whatever the LORD says?"[f]

Balaam's Third Oracle

27Then Balak said to Balaam, "Come, let me take you to another place.[g] Perhaps it will please God to let you curse them for me[h] from there." 28And Balak took Balaam to the top of Peor,[i] overlooking the wasteland.
29Balaam said, "Build me seven altars here, and prepare seven bulls and seven rams for me." 30Balak did as Balaam had said, and offered a bull and a ram on each altar.[j]

24 Now when Balaam saw that it pleased the LORD to bless Israel,[k] he did not resort to sorcery[l] as at other times, but turned his face toward the desert.[m] 2When Balaam looked out and saw Israel encamped tribe by tribe, the Spirit of God came upon him[n] 3and he uttered his oracle:

"The oracle of Balaam son of Beor,
the oracle of one whose eye sees clearly,[o] 4the oracle of one who hears the words of God,[p] who sees a vision from the Almighty,[aq] who falls prostrate, and whose eyes are opened:

5"How beautiful are your tents,[r] O Jacob, your dwelling places, O Israel!

6"Like valleys they spread out, like gardens beside a river,[s] like aloes[t] planted by the LORD, like cedars beside the waters.[u] 7Water will flow from their buckets; their seed will have abundant water.

"Their king will be greater than Agag;[v] their kingdom will be exalted.[w]

8"God brought them out of Egypt;
they have the strength of a wild ox.
They devour hostile nations and break their bones in pieces;[x] with their arrows they pierce them.[y] 9Like a lion they crouch and lie down, like a lioness[z]—who dares to rouse them?

"May those who bless you be blessed[a] and those who curse you be cursed!"[b]

10Then Balak's anger burned[c] against Balaam. He struck his hands together[d] and said to him, "I summoned you to curse my enemies,[e] but you have blessed them[f] these three times.[g] 11Now leave at once and go home![h] I said I would reward you handsomely,[i] but the LORD has kept you from being rewarded."
12Balaam answered Balak, "Did I not tell the messengers you sent me,[j] 13'Even if Balak gave me his palace filled with silver and gold, I could not do anything of my own accord, good or bad, to go beyond the command of the LORD[k]—and I must say only what the LORD says'?[l] 14Now I am going back to my people, but come, let me warn you of what this people will do to your people in days to come."[m]

24:2 the Spirit of God came upon him. Not to be confused with the filling of the Spirit (Ac 2:1–4), or with the anointing of the Spirit (Isa 61:1). This unexpected language prepares the reader for the heightened revelation that is about to come from the unwitting messenger.

24:3–4 The extensive introduction of this oracle describes Balaam's experience in the Lord's presence. Now Balaam's eyes were opened (see note on 22:31).

24:6–7 Balaam speaks here in general, but luxuriant, terms of the blessings that will come to the Israelites as they settle in their new land. The lushness of their blessing from the Lord is reminiscent of Eden.

24:7 greater than Agag. Possibly a specific future prophecy concerning the opponent of King Saul (1Sa 15:32–33)—setting the stage for the even more remarkable words of the fourth oracle (vv. 15–19). But it may be that Agag was a common name among Amalekite kings and that the allusion here is to the Amalekites who attacked Israel when she came out of Egypt (see Ex 17:8–13) and again when she first approached Canaan (see 14:45).

24:8 God brought them out of Egypt. These central words about Israel's salvation are recited by one who was a hostile outsider (see notes on 23:21; 25:1–18).

24:9 May those who bless you be blessed ... cursed! The theology of blessing and cursing in the promises made to Abraham (Ge 12:2–3) is now a part of this oracle of blessing. Perhaps here Balaam was reasserting his desire to be a part of Israel's blessing (see note on 23:10).

24:11 the LORD has kept you from being rewarded. In his disgust with Balaam's failure to curse Israel, Balak now dismisses him without pay—the ultimate insult to his greed (see 2Pe 2:15).

24:14 in days to come. The distant (Messianic) future is usually indicated by this expression (see, e.g., Jer 48:47 and note).

Balaam's Fourth Oracle

15 Then he uttered his oracle:

"The oracle of Balaam son of Beor,
the oracle of one whose eye sees clearly, 16 the oracle of one who hears the words[n] of God, who has knowledge from the Most High,[o] who sees a vision from the Almighty, who falls prostrate, and whose eyes are opened:

17 "I see him, but not now;
I behold him, but not near.[p]
A star will come out of Jacob;[q]
a scepter will rise out of Israel.[r]
He will crush the foreheads of Moab,[s]

Balaam's Final Oracles

20 Then Balaam saw Amalek[z] and uttered his oracle:

"Amalek was first among the nations, but he will come to ruin at last."[a]

21 Then he saw the Kenites[b] and uttered his oracle:

"Your dwelling place is secure,[c] your nest is set in a rock;
22 yet you Kenites will be destroyed when Asshur[d] takes you captive."

23 Then he uttered his oracle:

"Ah, who can live when God does this?[e] 24 Ships will come from the shores of Kittim;[e] they will subdue Asshur[f] and Eber,[g] but they too will come to ruin.[h]"

25 Then Balaam[i] got up and returned home and Balak went his own way.

Moab Seduces Israel

25 While Israel was staying in Shittim,[j] the men began to indulge in sexual immorality[k] with Moabite[l] women,[m] 2 who invited them to the sacrifices[n] to their gods.[o] The people ate and bowed down before these gods. 3 So Israel joined in worshiping[p] the Baal of Peor.[q] And the LORD's anger burned against them.

4 The LORD said to Moses, "Take all the leaders[r] of these people, kill them and expose[s] them in broad daylight before the LORD,[t] so that the LORD's fierce anger[u] may turn away from Israel."

5 So Moses said to Israel's judges, "Each of you must put to death[v] those of your men who have joined in worshiping the Baal of Peor."[w]

6 Then an Israelite man brought to his family a Midianite[x] woman right before the eyes of Moses and the whole assembly of Israel while they were weeping[y]

[b] 17 Samaritan Pentateuch (see also Jer. 48:45); the meaning of the word in the Masoretic Text is uncertain. [c] 17 Or possibly Moab, / batter [d] 17 Or all the noisy boasters [e] 23 Masoretic Text; with a different word division of the Hebrew A people will gather from the north.

24:15–16 As in the third oracle (see vv. 3–4), the introduction to the fourth oracle is lengthy, helping to prepare the reader for the startling words of the prophecy.

24:17 star ... scepter. Perhaps fulfilled initially in David, but ultimately in the coming Messianic ruler. Israel's future Deliverer will be like a star (cf. Rev 22:16) and scepter in his royalty and will bring victory over the enemies of his people (see v. 19). Sheth. Possibly the early inhabitants of Moab known as the Shutu people in ancient Egyptian documents.

24:20 Amalek was first. The first to attack Israel and oppose the Lord's purpose with his people (see Ex 17:8–13).

24:21 Kenites. The name suggests a tribe of metal workers. In other passages the Kenites are allied with Israel (see, e.g., Jdg 1:16; 4:11; 1Sa 15:6). Since Moses' father-in-law was a Kenite but also associated with Midian (see Ex 2:16), it may be that Balaam's reference is to Midianites (see 22:4,7). nest. Hebrew qen, a wordplay on the word for Kenites (Hebrew qeni).

24:22 Asshur. Assyria.

24:24 Kittim. Probably ancient Kition in Cyprus. they will subdue Asshur and Eber, but ... ruin. One nation will rise and supplant another, only to face its own doom. By contrast, there is the implied ongoing blessing on Israel, and their sure promise of a future deliverer who will have the final victory (vv. 17–19).

25:1–18 It is not until 31:8,16 that we learn that the principal instigator of Israel's apostasy was Balaam (see notes on 22:5,8). Failing to destroy Israel by means of the mantic curse, Balaam seduced Israel by the Canaanite fertility rites of Baal.

25:1 Shittim. Another name for the region of Israel's staging for the conquest of Canaan; it was across the Jordan River opposite the ancient city of Jericho (see Jos 2:1). indulge in sexual immorality. Israel's engagement in the fertility rites of Baal involved not only the evil of sexual immorality. It was also a breach of covenant with the Lord, a worship of the gods of the land (vv. 2–3) and a foretaste of the people's ruin in the unfolding of their history.

25:4 kill them and expose them in broad daylight. The special display of the corpses would warn survivors of the consequences of sin.

25:6 brought to his family a Midianite woman. The contempt for the holy things and the word of the Lord shown by Zimri (v. 14) and his lover Cozbi (v. 15) is unimaginable.

son of Aaron, the priest, saw this, he left the assembly, took a spear[a] in his hand 8and followed the Israelite into the tent.
He drove the spear through both of them—through the Israelite and into the the Israelites was stopped;[b] 9but those 24,000.[d]

10The LORD said to Moses, 11"Phinehas

14The name of the Israelite who was Zimri son of Salu, the leader of a Simeonite family.[n] 15And the name of the Midi-anite woman who was put to death was Cozbi[o] daughter of Zur, a tribal chief of a Midianite family.[p]

16The LORD said to Moses,[q] 17"Treat

The Second Census

26 After the plague[v] the LORD said to Moses and Eleazar son of Aaron, the priest, 2"Take a census[w] of the whole Israelite community by families—all those twenty years old or more who are able to serve in the army[x] of Israel." 3So on the plains of Moab[y] by the Jordan across from Jericho,[fz] Moses and Eleazar the priest spoke with them and said, 4"Take a census of the men twenty years old or more, as the LORD commanded Moses."

These were the Israelites who came out of Egypt:[a] 5The descendants of Reuben,[b] the firstborn son of Israel, were:

through Hanoch,[c] the Hanochite clan;
through Pallu,[d] the Palluite clan;
6through Hezron,[e] the Hezronite clan;
through Carmi,[f] the Carmite clan.
7These were the clans of Reuben; those numbered were 43,730.

8The son of Pallu was Eliab, 9and the sons of Eliab[g] were Nemuel, Dathan and Abiram. The same Dathan and Abiram were the community[h] officials who rebelled against Moses and Aaron and were among Korah's followers when they rebelled against the LORD.[i] 10The earth opened its mouth and swallowed

[fz]3 Hebrew Jordan of Jericho; possibly an ancient name for the Jordan River; also in verse 63

25:9 24,000. The number of those who died because of the flagrant actions of the people in their worship of Baal exceeded even those who died in the rebellion of Korah and his allies (14,700; see 16:49). Again, the large number of those who died fits well with the immense number of the people stated in the first census (1:46) and the second (26:51).

25:11 He was as zealous as I am for my honor. Cf. Ex 20:4–6. The zeal of Phinehas for the Lord's honor became the occasion for the Lord's covenanting with him and his descendants as God's true priests (see note on Ge 9:9). This son of Eleazar contrasts with the casual wickedness of his uncles, Nadab and Abihu (see Lev 10:1–3 and notes).

25:17 Treat the Midianites as enemies. Because of their active participation in the seduction of the Israelites. Midianites had been in league with Balak from the beginning of the confrontation (see 22:4,7) and became the objects of a holy war (31:1–24).

26:1–51 The first census of those who were mustered for the war of conquest had been taken over 38 years earlier. That first generation of men 20 years old or more had nearly all died. It was now time for the new generation to be numbered and mustered for the campaign that awaited them. The aged Moses was joined in the task this time by his nephew Eleazar; Aaron was dead (see 20:28). In this second census the prominent clans of each tribe are listed. The numbers of most of the tribes increase. Reuben is one of the tribes that shows a decline. It is possible that the slight reduction of the families of Reuben was brought about by the judgment on their members during the rebellion of Korah and his Reubenite allies (see note on v. 9). In the intervening years the family of Reuben had nearly caught up with its former numbers (see note on v. 14). Note the comparison of the numbers of each tribe from the first census to the second:

| Tribe | First Census | Second Census |
|---|---|---|
| Reuben | 46,500 | 43,730 |
| Simeon | 59,300 | 22,200 |
| Gad | 45,650 | 40,500 |
| Judah | 74,600 | 76,500 |
| Issachar | 54,400 | 64,300 |
| Zebulun | 57,400 | 60,500 |
| Ephraim | 40,500 | 32,500 |
| Manasseh | 32,200 | 52,700 |
| Benjamin | 35,400 | 45,600 |
| Dan | 62,700 | 64,400 |
| Asher | 41,500 | 53,400 |
| Naphtali | 53,400 | 45,400 |
| Total | 603,550 | 601,730 |

26:9 Dathan and Abiram. The listing of Reuben's families becomes an occasion to remind the reader of the part that certain of their number had in Korah's rebellion (see 16:1; cf. Jude 11).

24through Jashub,[f] the Jashubite clan; through Shimron, the Shimronite clan.
25These were the clans of Issachar;[g] those numbered were 64,300.

26The descendants of Zebulun[h] by their clans were:
through Sered, the Seredite clan;
through Elon, the Elonite clan;
through Jahleel, the Jahleelite clan.
27These were the clans of Zebulun;[i] those numbered were 60,500.

28The descendants of Joseph[j] by their clans through Manasseh and Ephraim[k] were:

29The descendants of Manasseh:[l] through Makir,[m] the Makirite clan (Makir was the father of Gilead[n]); through Gilead, the Gileadite clan.
30These were the descendants of Gilead:[o]

26:14 22,200. The greatest loss was in the tribe of Simeon (down from 59,300). Zimri was from the house of Simeon (25:14). Perhaps most of the 24,000 who died in the plague of that time were from Simeon. The judgment was so recent that the tribe had not had time to recover, as had the tribe of Reuben (see note on vv. 1–51).

26:34 52,700. The greatest gain was in the tribe of Manasseh (up from 32,200). The reason for this increase is not known.

45and through the descendants of Beriah:

through Shillem, the Shillemite clan.
50These were the clans of Naphtali;[f] those numbered were 45,400.[g]

52The LORD said to Moses, 53"The land is to be allotted to them as an inheritance based on the number of names.[i] 54To a larger group give a larger inheritance, and to a smaller group a smaller one; each is to receive its inheritance according to the number[j] of those listed.[k] 55Be sure that the land is distributed by lot.[l] What each group inherits will be according to the names for its ancestral tribe. 56Each inheritance is to be distributed by lot among the larger and smaller groups."

the Korahite clan.
(Kohath was the forefather of Amram;[n] 59the name of Amram's wife was Jochebed,[o] a descendant of Levi, who was born to the Levites[k] in Egypt. To Amram she bore Aaron, Moses[p] and their sister[q] Miriam.[r] 60Aaron was the father of Nadab and Abihu, Eleazar and Ithamar.[s] 61But Nadab and Abihu[t] died when they made an offering before the LORD with unauthorized fire.)[u]

26:46 daughter named Serah. The listing of this solitary daughter is striking.
26:51 601,730. Despite all that the people had been through during the years of desert experience, their total number was nearly the same as that of those who were first numbered. This remarkable fact is to be regarded as the blessing of the Lord, in fulfillment of his many promises to give numerical strength to the people descended from Abraham through Jacob (see note on Ge 12:2–3). This grand total and its parts are in accord with the general pattern of the numbers in the book (see note on 1:46).
26:53 allotted ... based on the number. Larger tribes would receive larger shares, but decisions of place would be made by lot (see 33:54).

Zelophehad's Daughters

27:1–11pp — Nu 36:1–12

27 The daughters of Zelophehad[h] son of Hepher,[i] the son of Gilead,[j] the son of Makir,[k] the son of Manasseh, belonged to the clans of Manasseh son of Joseph. The names of the daughters were Mahlah, Noah, Hoglah, Milcah and Tirzah. They approached [2]the entrance to the Tent of Meeting[l] and stood before Moses,[m] Eleazar the priest, the leaders[n] and the whole assembly, and said, [3]"Our father died in the desert.[o] He was not among Korah's followers, who banded together against the LORD,[p] but he died for his own sin and left no sons.[q] [4]Why should our father's name disappear from his clan because he had no son? Give us property among our father's relatives."

[5]So Moses brought their case[r] before the LORD[s] [6]and the LORD said to him, [7]"What Zelophehad's daughters are saying is right. You must certainly give them property as an inheritance[t] among their father's relatives and turn their father's inheritance over to them.[u]

[8]"Say to the Israelites, 'If a man dies and leaves no son, turn his inheritance over to his daughter. [9]If he has no daughter, give his inheritance to his brothers. [10]If he has no brothers, give his inheritance to his father's brothers. [11]If his father had no brothers, give his inheritance to the nearest relative in his clan, that he may possess it. This is to be a legal requirement[v] for the Israelites, as the LORD commanded Moses.' "

Joshua to Succeed Moses

[12]Then the LORD said to Moses, "Go up this mountain[w] in the Abarim range[x] and see the land[y] I have given the Israelites. [13]After you have seen it, you too will be gathered to your people,[a] as your brother Aaron[b] was, [14]for when the community rebelled at the waters in the Desert of Zin,[c] both of you disobeyed my command to honor me as holy[d] before their eyes." (These were the waters of Meribah[e] Kadesh, in the Desert of Zin.)

[15]Moses said to the LORD, [16]"May the LORD, the God of the spirits of all mankind,[f] appoint a man over this community [17]to go out and come in before them, one who will lead them out and bring them in, so the LORD's people will not be like sheep without a shepherd."[g]

[18]So the LORD said to Moses, "Take Joshua son of Nun, a man in whom is the spirit,[1h] and lay your hand on him.[i] [19]Have him stand before Eleazar the priest and the entire assembly and commission him[j] in their presence.[k] [20]Give him some of your authority so the whole Israelite community will obey him.[l] [21]He is to stand before Eleazar the priest, who will obtain decisions for him by inquiring[m] of the Urim[n] before the LORD. At his command he and the entire community of the Israelites will go out, and at his command they will come in."

[22]Moses did as the LORD commanded him. He took Joshua and had him stand before Eleazar the priest and the whole assembly. [23]Then he laid his hands on him and commissioned him,[o] as the LORD instructed through Moses.

[1]18 Or Spirit

27:1–11 The daughters of a man who had no son (see 26:33) were concerned about their rights of inheritance and the preservation of their father's name in the land (v. 4). Their action in approaching Moses, Eleazar and the leaders of the nation was unprecedented, an act of courage and conviction.

27:3 he died for his own sin. A particular case from among those who died in the desert (see 26:64–65). These pious women had a sound understanding of the nature of the desert experience and a just claim for their family.

27:5 Moses brought their case before the LORD. This verse indicates how case law might have operated in Israel. The general laws would be proclaimed. Then legitimate exceptions or special considerations would come to the elders, and perhaps to Moses himself. He then would await a decision from the Lord. In this case, the Lord gave a favorable decision for these women. Ch. 36 provides an appendix to this account.

27:12–23 The juxtaposition of the story of Zelophehad's daughters' request for an inheritance in the land (vv. 1–11) and the Lord's words to Moses about his own exclusion from the land (vv. 12–14) is touching. Provisions are made for exceptions and irregularities in the inheritance laws, but there is no provision for Moses. His sin at the waters of Meribah at Kadesh (20:1–13) was always before him.

27:16 appoint a man. Moses' reaction to this reassertion of his restriction is a prayer for his successor.

27:18 Take Joshua. As Moses and Aaron needed to determine the true successor of Aaron before his death (20:22–29), so the true successor of Moses also needed to be established. Joshua and Caleb were the two heroes in the darkest hour of Israel's apostasy (chs. 13–14). It was fitting that the Lord selected one of them (cf. Ex 17:9–14; 24:13; 32:17; 33:11).

27:20 Give him some of your authority. The transition from Moses' leadership to that of any successor would be difficult. The change would be smoother by a gradual shift of power while Moses was still alive.

28:1–29:40 These chapters attest to the all-pervasiveness of sacrifice in the life of the people and to the enormity of the work of the priests. Perhaps the reason for these passages at this time is to give continuity to the impending transition from the leadership of Moses to that of Joshua (27:12–23).

28:1–8 See Ex 29:38–41; Lev 1–7 and notes.

say to them: 'See that you present to me at the appointed time[p] the food[q] for my offerings made by fire, as an aroma pleasing to me.'[r] 3Say to them: 'This is the offering made by fire that you are to present to the LORD: two lambs a year old without defect,[s] as a regular burnt offering each day.[t] 4Prepare one lamb in the morning and the other at twilight,[u] 5together with a grain offering[v] of a tenth of an ephah[m] of fine flour[w] mixed with a quarter of a hin[n] of oil[x] from pressed olives. 6This is the regular burnt offering[y] instituted at Mount Sinai[z] as a pleasing aroma, an offering made to the LORD by fire.[a] 7The accompanying drink offering[b] is to be a quarter of a hin of fermented drink[c] with each lamb. Pour out the drink offering to the LORD at the sanctuary.[d] 8Prepare the second lamb at twilight,[e] along with the same kind of grain offering and drink offering that you prepare in the morning.[f] This is an offering made by fire, an aroma pleasing to the LORD.[g]

Sabbath Offerings

9" 'On the Sabbath[h] day, make an offering of two lambs a year old without defect,[i] together with its drink offering and a grain offering of two-tenths of an ephah[o][j] of fine flour mixed with oil.[k] 10This is the burnt offering for every Sabbath,[l] in addition to the regular burnt offering[m] and its drink offering.

Monthly Offerings

11" 'On the first of every month,[n] present to the LORD a burnt offering of two young bulls,[o] one ram[p] and seven male lambs a year old, all without defect.[q] 12With each bull there is to be a grain offering[r] of three-tenths of an ephah[p][s] of fine flour mixed with oil; with the ram, a grain offering of two-tenths[t] of an ephah of fine flour mixed with oil; 13and with each lamb, a grain offering[u] of a tenth[v] of an ephah of fine flour mixed with oil. This is for a burnt offering,[w] a pleasing aroma, an offering made to the LORD[x] by fire. 14With each bull there is to be a drink offering[y] of half a hin[q] of wine; with the ram, a third of a hin[r]; and with each lamb, a quarter of a hin. This is the monthly burnt offering to be made at each new moon[z] during the year. 15Besides the regular burnt offering[a] with its drink offering, one male goat[b] is to be presented to the LORD as a sin offering.[c]

The Passover

28:16–25pp — Ex 12:14–20; Lev 23:4–8; Dt 16:1–8

16" 'On the fourteenth day of the first month the LORD's Passover[d] is to be held. 17On the fifteenth day of this month there is to be a festival; for seven days[e] eat bread made without yeast.[f] 18On the first day hold a sacred assembly and do no regular work.[g] 19Present to the LORD an offering made by fire,[h] a burnt offering of two young bulls, one ram and seven male lambs a year old, all without defect.[i] 20With each bull prepare a grain offering of three-tenths of an ephah[j] of fine flour mixed with oil; with the ram, two-tenths;[k] 21and with each of the seven lambs, one-tenth.[l] 22Include one male goat as a sin offering[m] to make atonement for you.[n] 23Prepare these in addition to the regular morning burnt offering. 24In this way prepare the food for the offering made by fire every day for seven days as an aroma pleasing to the LORD;[o] it is to be prepared in addition to the regular burnt offering and its drink offering. 25On the seventh day hold a sacred assembly and do no regular work.

Feast of Weeks

28:26–31pp — Lev 23:15–22; Dt 16:9–12

26" 'On the day of firstfruits,[p] when you present to the LORD an offering of new grain during the Feast of Weeks,[q] hold a sacred assembly and do no regular work.[r] 27Present a burnt offering of two young bulls, one ram and seven male lambs a year old as an aroma pleasing to the LORD.[s] 28With each bull there is to be a grain offering of three-tenths of an ephah of fine flour mixed with oil; with the ram, two-tenths;[t] 29and with each of the seven lambs, one-tenth.[u] 30Include one male goat[v] to make atonement for you. 31Prepare these together with their drink offerings, in addition to the regular burnt offering[w] and its grain

28:9–10 The Sabbath offerings were in addition to the daily offerings.

28:11–15 The sacrifices at the beginning of the month were of great significance. These were times for celebration and blowing of trumpets in worship (see 10:10).

28:16–25 The priests are instructed as to the proper preparation for the Passover in the first month of the year. Passover is also associated with the Feast of Unleavened Bread (see Ex 12:15; Lev 23:4–8). The number 7 (and 14, its multiple) reappears frequently in the paragraph.

28:26–31 The Feast of Weeks came 50 days after the Feast of Unleavened Bread (see Lev 23:9–22); from this number the term "Pentecost" (meaning "fifty") was used in the NT (Ac 2:1).

Feast of Trumpets

29:1–6pp — Lev 23:23–25

29 "'On the first day of the seventh month hold a sacred assembly and do no regular work.[x] It is a day for you to sound the trumpets. 2As an aroma pleasing to the LORD,[y] prepare a burnt offering[z] of one young bull, one ram and seven male lambs a year old,[a] all without defect.[b] 3With the bull prepare a grain offering[c] of three-tenths of an ephah[s] of fine flour mixed with oil; with the ram, two-tenths[t]; 4and with each of the seven lambs, one-tenth.[u][d] 5Include one male goat[e] as a sin offering to make atonement for you. 6These are in addition to the monthly[f] and daily burnt offerings[g] with their grain offerings[h] and drink offerings[i] as specified. They are offerings made to the LORD by fire—a pleasing aroma.[j]

Day of Atonement

29:7–11pp — Lev 16:2–34; 23:26–32

7"'On the tenth day of this seventh month hold a sacred assembly. You must deny yourselves[v][k] and do no work.[l] 8Present as an aroma pleasing to the LORD a burnt offering of one young bull, one ram and seven male lambs a year old, all without defect.[m] 9With the bull prepare a grain offering[n] of three-tenths of an ephah of fine flour mixed with oil; with the ram, two-tenths;[o] 10and with each of the seven lambs, one-tenth.[p] 11Include one male goat[q] as a sin offering, in addition to the sin offering for atonement and the regular burnt offering[r] with its grain offering, and their drink offerings.[s]

Feast of Tabernacles

29:12–39pp — Lev 23:33–43; Dt 16:13–17

12"'On the fifteenth day of the seventh[t] month,[u] hold a sacred assembly and do no regular work. Celebrate a festival to the LORD for seven days. 13Present an offering made by fire as an aroma pleasing to the LORD,[v] a burnt offering of thirteen young bulls, two rams and fourteen male lambs a year old, all without defect.[w] 14With each of the thirteen bulls prepare a grain offering[x] of three-tenths of an ephah of fine flour mixed with oil; with each of the two rams, two-tenths; 15and with each of the fourteen lambs, one-tenth.[y] 16Include one male goat as a sin offering,[z] in addition to the regular burnt offering with its grain offering and drink offering.[a]

17"'On the second day[b] prepare twelve young bulls, two rams and fourteen male lambs a year old, all without defect.[c] 18With the bulls, rams and lambs, prepare their grain offerings[d] and drink offerings[e] according to the number specified.[f] 19Include one male goat as a sin offering,[g] in addition to the regular burnt offering[h] with its grain offering, and their drink offerings.[i]

29:1–6 The Feast of Trumpets came at the beginning of the seventh month, a busy month for the worship of the Lord in holy festivals (see Lev 23:23–25; see also chart on "OT Feasts and Other Sacred Days," pp. 174-5). Later in Jewish tradition this feast commemorated the New Year, Rosh Hashanah. The trumpet used was the shophar, the ram's horn.

29:7–11 The Feast of Trumpets leads into the Day of Atonement, a time of confession, contrition and celebration (see Lev 16; 23:26–32).

29:12–34 In the seventh month the Feast of Trumpets took place on the first day, the Day of Atonement occurred on the tenth day, and the Feast of Tabernacles began on the 15th day and lasted for seven days (see Lev 23:33–44). Each day of the Feast of Tabernacles had its own order for sacrifice.

32" 'On the seventh day prepare seven bulls, two rams and fourteen male lambs a year old, all without defect. 33With the bulls, rams and lambs, prepare their grain offerings and drink offerings according to the number specified. 34Include one male goat as a sin offering, in addition to the regular burnt offering with its grain offering and drink offering.

35" 'On the eighth day hold an assembly[l] and do no regular work. 36Present an offering made by fire as an aroma pleasing to the LORD,[m] a burnt offering of one bull, one ram and seven male lambs a year old,[n] all without defect. 37With the bull, the ram and the lambs, prepare their grain offerings and drink offerings according to the number specified. 38Include one male goat as a sin offering, in addition to the regular burnt offering with its grain offering and drink offering.

39" 'In addition to what you vow[o] and your freewill offerings,[p] prepare these for the LORD at your appointed feasts:[q] your burnt offerings,[r] grain offerings, drink offerings and fellowship offerings.[w]s' "

40Moses told the Israelites all that the LORD commanded him.

Vows

30 Moses said to the heads of the tribes of Israel:[t] "This is what the LORD commands: 2When a man makes a vow to the LORD or takes an oath to obligate himself by a pledge, he must not break his word but must do everything he said.[u]

3"When a young woman still living in her father's house makes a vow to the LORD or obligates herself by a pledge 4and her father hears about her vow or pledge but says nothing to her, then all her vows and every pledge by which she obligated herself will stand.[v] 5But if her father forbids her[w] when he hears about it, none of her vows or the pledges by which she obligated herself will stand; the LORD will release her because her father has forbidden her.

6"If she marries after she makes a vow[x] or after her lips utter a rash promise by which she obligates herself 7and her husband hears about it but says nothing to her, then her vows or the pledges by which she obligated herself will stand. 8But if her husband[y] forbids her when he hears about it, he nullifies the vow that obligates her or the rash promise by which she obligates herself, and the LORD will release her.[z]

9"Any vow or obligation taken by a widow or divorced woman will be binding on her.

10"If a woman living with her husband makes a vow or obligates herself by a pledge under oath 11and her husband hears about it but says nothing to her and does not forbid her, then all her vows or the pledges by which she obligated herself will stand. 12But if her husband nullifies them when he hears about them, then none of the vows or pledges that came from her lips will stand.[a] Her husband has nullified them, and the LORD will release her. 13Her husband may confirm or nullify any vow she makes or any sworn pledge to deny herself. 14But if her husband says nothing to her about it from day to day, then he confirms all her vows or the pledges binding on her. He confirms them by saying nothing to her when he hears about them. 15If, however, he nullifies them[b] some time after he hears about them, then he is responsible for her guilt."

16These are the regulations the LORD gave Moses concerning relationships between a man and his wife, and between a father and his young daughter still living in his house.

29:40 Moses told the Israelites. The recapitulation of these festivals was a necessary part of the transfer of power from Moses to Joshua.

30:1–16 The principal OT passage on vows (see Dt 23:21–23). A vow is not to be made rashly (cf. Ecc 5:1–7), and a vow to the Lord must be kept.

30:3–5 The vow of an unmarried woman still under her father's protection might be nullified by her father. This and the following law were probably designed for the protection of the woman, who in ancient Near Eastern society was subject to strong societal pressures, some of which would leave her without defense.

30:6–8 The vow of a married woman might be nullified by her husband.

30:9 widow or divorced woman. She is her own agent in the taking of vows.

30:10–15 Further examples of the complications that come in the taking of vows within the husband-wife relationship. Such complications may have come up much as in the case of Zelophehad's daughters (27:1–11). One case after another presented itself, resulting in this final codification. Presumably, in the centuries leading up to the NT, the legal decisions on vows became even more complex. The words of Jesus that one is to avoid complications connected with oaths (Mt 5:33–37) are liberating.

31:1–24 The Lord declares a holy war (see "The Conquest and the Ethical Question of War," p. 284) against the Midianites as one of Moses' last actions before the end of his life. Moses was not motivated by petty jealousy; rather, the war was "the LORD's vengeance" (v. 3) for the Midianites' part in seducing the Israelites to engage in sexual immorality and to worship the Baal of Peor. (See 25:16–18, where the specific mention of Cozbi, a Midianite woman, heightens the anger expressed in ch. 31.)

the Israelites. After that, you will be gathered to your people.[d]"

[3]So Moses said to the people, "Arm some of your men to go to war against the Midianites and to carry out the LORD's vengeance[e] on them. [4]Send into battle a thousand men from each of the tribes of Israel." [5]So twelve thousand men armed for battle,[f] a thousand from each tribe, were supplied from the clans of Israel. [6]Moses sent them into battle,[g] a thousand from each tribe, along with Phinehas[h] son of Eleazar, the priest, who took with him articles from the sanctuary[i] and the trumpets[j] for signaling.

[7]They fought against Midian, as the LORD commanded Moses,[k] and killed every man.[l] [8]Among their victims were Evi, Rekem, Zur, Hur and Reba[m]—the five kings of Midian.[n] They also killed Balaam son of Beor[o] with the sword.[p] [9]The Israelites captured the Midianite women[q] and children and took all the Midianite herds, flocks and goods as plunder.[r] [10]They burned[s] all the towns where the Midianites had settled, as well as all their camps.[t] [11]They took all the plunder and spoils, including the people and animals,[u] [12]and brought the captives, spoils[v] and plunder to Moses and Eleazar the priest and the Israelite assembly[w] at their camp on the plains of Moab, by the Jordan across from Jericho.[xx]

[13]Moses, Eleazar the priest and all the leaders of the community went to meet them outside the camp. [14]Moses was angry with the officers of the army[y]—the commanders of thousands and commanders of hundreds—who returned from the battle.

[15]"Have you allowed all the women to live?" he asked them. [16]"They were the ones who followed Balaam's advice[z] and were the means of turning the Israelites away from the LORD in what happened at Peor,[a] so that a plague[b] struck the LORD's people. [17]Now kill all the boys. And kill every woman who has slept with a man,[c] [18]but save for yourselves every girl who has never slept with a man.

[19]"All of you who have killed anyone or touched anyone who was killed[d] must stay outside the camp seven days.[e] On the third and seventh days you must purify yourselves[f] and your captives. [20]Purify every garment[g] as well as everything made of leather, goat hair or wood.[h]"

[21]Then Eleazar the priest said to the soldiers who had gone into battle,[i] "This is the requirement of the law that the LORD gave Moses: [22]Gold, silver, bronze, iron,[j] tin, lead [23]and anything else that can withstand fire must be put through the fire,[k] and then it will be clean. But it must also be purified with the water of cleansing.[l] And whatever cannot withstand fire must be put through that water. [24]On the seventh day wash your clothes and you will be clean.[m] Then you may come into the camp.[n]"

Dividing the Spoils

[25]The LORD said to Moses, [26]"You and Eleazar the priest and the family heads[o] of the community are to count all the people[p] and animals that were captured.[q] [27]Divide[r] the spoils between the soldiers who took part in the battle and the rest of the community. [28]From the soldiers who fought in the battle, set apart as tribute for the LORD[s] one out of every five hundred, whether persons, cattle, donkeys, sheep or goats. [29]Take this tribute from their half share and give it to Eleazar the priest as the LORD's part. [30]From the Israelites' half, select one out of every fifty, whether persons, cattle, donkeys, sheep, goats or other animals. Give them to the Levites, who are responsible for the care of the LORD's tabernacle.[t]" [31]So Moses and Eleazar the 31:2 gathered to your people. A euphemism for death (see, e.g., Ge 25:8,17; 35:29).

31:4 a thousand men from each of the tribes of Israel. The burden of the holy war had to be shared equally among the tribes.

31:6 Phinehas. His zeal for the Lord's honor led him to execute Zimri and Cozbi (25:8). Now he leads in the sacred aspects of the battle to demonstrate that this is a holy war. trumpets. See note on 10:3.

31:7 as the LORD commanded Moses. The battle was the Lord's.

31:8 They also killed Balaam. Ch. 25 lacks the name of the principal instigator of the seduction of the Israelite men to the depraved worship of Baal. But here he is found among the dead. What Balaam had been unable to accomplish through acts of magic or sorcery (chs. 22–24) he was almost able to achieve by his advice to the Midianites (v. 16).

31:9–18 While the troops killed the men of Midian, they spared the women and children as plunder. Moses commanded that only the virgin women (who were thus innocent of the indecencies at Peor) could be spared; the guilty women and the boys (who might endanger the inheritance rights of Israelite men) were to be put to death (vv. 15–17).

31:19–24 Since this was holy war, both people (vv. 19–20) and things (vv. 21–24) had to be cleansed (cf. 19:11–13).

31:26–35 Another aspect of holy war was the fair distribution of the spoils of war, both among those who fought in the battle and among those who stayed with the community, with appropriate shares to be given to the Lord, whose battle it was (v. 28).

priest did as the LORD commanded Moses.
32 The plunder remaining from the spoils[u] that the soldiers took was 675,000 sheep, 33 72,000 cattle, 34 61,000 donkeys 35 and 32,000 women who had never slept with a man.

36 The half share of those who fought in the battle was:

337,500 sheep, 37 of which the tribute for the LORD[v] was 675;
38 36,000 cattle, of which the tribute for the LORD was 72;
39 30,500 donkeys, of which the tribute for the LORD was 61;
40 16,000 people, of which the tribute for the LORD was 32.

41 Moses gave the tribute to Eleazar the priest as the LORD's part,[w] as the LORD commanded Moses.[x]

42 The half belonging to the Israelites, which Moses set apart from that of the fighting men— 43 the community's half— was 337,500 sheep, 44 36,000 cattle, 45 30,500 donkeys 46 and 16,000 people. 47 From the Israelites' half, Moses selected one out of every fifty persons and animals, as the LORD commanded him, and gave them to the Levites, who were responsible for the care of the LORD's tabernacle.

48 Then the officers[y] who were over the units of the army—the commanders of thousands and commanders of hundreds—went to Moses 49 and said to him, "Your servants have counted[z] the soldiers under our command, and not one is missing.[a] 50 So we have brought as an offering to the LORD the gold articles each of us acquired—armlets, bracelets, signet rings, earrings and necklaces—to make atonement for ourselves[b] before the LORD."

51 Moses and Eleazar the priest accepted from them the gold—all the crafted articles. 52 All the gold from the commanders of thousands and commanders of hundreds that Moses and Eleazar presented as a gift to the LORD weighed 16,750 shekels.[y] 53 Each soldier had taken plunder[c] for himself. 54 Moses and Eleazar the priest accepted the gold from the commanders of thousands and commanders of hundreds and brought it into the Tent of Meeting[d] as a memorial[e] for the Israelites before the LORD.

The Transjordan Tribes

32 The Reubenites and Gadites, who had very large herds and flocks,[f] saw that the lands of Jazer[g] and Gilead[h] were suitable for livestock.[i] 2 So they came to Moses and Eleazar the priest and to the leaders of the community,[j] and said, 3 "Ataroth,[k] Dibon,[l] Jazer,[m] Nimrah,[n] Heshbon,[o] Elealeh,[p] Sebam,[q] Nebo[r] and Beon[s]— 4 the land the LORD subdued[t] before the people of Israel—are suitable for livestock,[u] and your servants have livestock. 5 If we have found favor in your eyes," they said, "let this land be given to your servants as our possession. Do not make us cross the Jordan.[v]"

6 Moses said to the Gadites and Reubenites, "Shall your countrymen go to war while you sit here? 7 Why do you discourage the Israelites from going over into the land the LORD has given them?[w] 8 This is what your fathers did when I sent them from Kadesh Barnea to look over the land.[x] 9 After they went up to the Valley of Eshcol[y] and viewed the land, they discouraged the Israelites from entering the land the LORD had given them. 10 The LORD's anger was aroused[z] that day and he swore this oath:[a] 11 'Because they have not followed me wholeheartedly, not one of the men twenty years old or more[b] who came up out of Egypt[c] will see the land I promised on oath[d] to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob[e]— 12 not one except Caleb son of Jephunneh the Kenizzite and Joshua son of Nun, for they followed the LORD wholeheartedly.'[f] 13 The LORD's anger burned against Israel[g] and he made them wander in the desert forty years, until the whole generation of those who had done evil in his sight was gone.[h]

14 "And here you are, a brood of sinners, standing in the place of your fathers and making the LORD even more angry with Israel.[i] 15 If you turn away from following him, he will again leave all this people in the desert, and you will be the cause of their destruction.[j]"

16 Then they came up to him and said, "We would like to build pens[k] here for our livestock[l] and cities for our women and children. 17 But we are ready to arm

[y] 52 That is, about 420 pounds (about 190 kilograms)

32:1 Reubenites and Gadites. The abundance of fertile grazing land in Transjordan prompted the leaders of these two tribes to request that they be allowed to settle there and not cross the Jordan. This area too was a gift of God won by conquest.

32:8 This is what your fathers did. Moses' fear was that the failure of these two tribes to stay with the whole community in conquering Canaan would be the beginning of a general revolt against entering the land. It would be the failure of Kadesh (chs. 13–14) all over again. Moreover, the conquest of Canaan was a commission to all Israel.

32:17 we are ready to arm ourselves. The leaders of Reuben and Gad sought to assure Moses that they did not wish to shirk their duty in helping to conquer the land. They would join their brothers in battle but wished to leave their families and livestock behind in the territory of their choosing.

ourselves and go ahead of the Israelites[m] until we have brought them to their place.[n] Meanwhile our women and children will live in fortified cities, for protection from the inhabitants of the land. 18We will not return to our homes until every Israelite has received his inheritance.[o] 19We will not receive any inheritance with them on the other side of the Jordan, because our inheritance[p] has come to us on the east side of the Jordan."[q]

20Then Moses said to them, "If you will do this—if you will arm yourselves before the LORD for battle,[r] 21and if all of you will go armed over the Jordan before the LORD until he has driven his enemies out before him[s]— 22then when the land is subdued before the LORD, you may return[t] and be free from your obligation to the LORD and to Israel. And this land will be your possession[u] before the LORD.[v]

23"But if you fail to do this, you will be sinning against the LORD; and you may be sure that your sin will find you out.[w] 24Build cities for your women and children, and pens for your flocks,[x] but do what you have promised.[y]"

25The Gadites and Reubenites said to Moses, "We your servants will do as our lord commands.[z] 26Our children and wives, our flocks and herds will remain here in the cities of Gilead.[a] 27But your servants, every man armed for battle, will cross over to fight[b] before the LORD, just as our lord says."

28Then Moses gave orders about them[c] to Eleazar the priest and Joshua son of Nun[d] and to the family heads of the Israelite tribes.[e] 29He said to them, "If the Gadites and Reubenites, every man armed for battle, cross over the Jordan with you before the LORD, then when the land is subdued before you,[f] give them the land of Gilead as their possession.[g] 30But if they do not cross over[h] with you armed, they must accept their possession with you in Canaan.[i]"

31The Gadites and Reubenites answered, "Your servants will do what the LORD has said.[j] 32We will cross over before the LORD into Canaan armed,[k] but the property we inherit will be on this side of the Jordan.[l]"

33Then Moses gave to the Gadites,[m] the Reubenites and the half-tribe of Manasseh[n] son of Joseph the kingdom of Sihon king of the Amorites[o] and the kingdom of Og king of Bashan[p]—the whole land with its cities and the territory around them.[q]

39The descendants of Makir[b] son of Manasseh went to Gilead,[c] captured it and drove out the Amorites[d] who were there. 40So Moses gave Gilead to the Makirites,[e] the descendants of Manasseh, and they settled there. 41Jair,[f] a descendant of Manasseh, captured their settlements and called them Havvoth Jair.[zg] 42And Nobah captured Kenath[h] and its surrounding settlements and called it Nobah[i] after himself.[j]

Stages in Israel's Journey

33 Here are the stages in the journey[k] of the Israelites when they came out of Egypt[l] by divisions under the leadership of Moses and Aaron.[m] 2At the LORD's command Moses recorded[n] the stages in their journey[o]. This is their journey by stages:

3The Israelites set out[p] from Rameses[q] on the fifteenth day of the first month, the day after the 33:1–49 The numerous places (significantly 40 in number between Rameses and the plains of Moab) in Israel's desert experience are listed. Unfortunately, most of the sites were desert encampments, not cities with lasting archaeological records; so they are difficult to locate. Many of the places (e.g., in vv. 19–29) are not recorded elsewhere in Exodus and Numbers. Some of the places mentioned elsewhere (e.g., Taberah, 11:3; see 21:19) are missing here. The data warrant these conclusions: 1. Moses recorded the list at the Lord's command (v. 2). 2. The list should be taken seriously, as an accurate recapitulation of the stages of the journey, despite difficulty in locating many of the sites. 3. The numerical factor of 40 sites between Rameses and the plains of Moab suggests some styling of the list, which helps to account for the sites not included. 4. As in the case of genealogies in the Pentateuch, some factors of ancient significance may not be clear to us today. 5. Ultimately the record is a recital of the Lord's blessing on his people for the extended period of their desert experience. Although certainly not without geographical importance, the listing of the stages of Israel's experience in the desert is fundamentally a religious document, a litany of the Lord's deliverance of his people.

Passover.[r] They marched out boldly[s] in full view of all the Egyptians, 4who were burying all their firstborn,[t] whom the LORD had struck down among them; for the LORD had brought judgment[u] on their gods.[v]

7They left Etham, turned back to Pi Hahiroth, to the east of Baal Zephon,[y] and camped near Migdol.[z]

8They left Pi Hahiroth[aa] and passed through the sea[b] into the desert, and when they had traveled for three days in the Desert of Etham, they camped at Marah.[c]

9They left Marah and went to Elim, where there were twelve springs and seventy palm trees, and they camped[d] there.

15They left Rephidim[h] and camped in the Desert of Sinai.[i]

31They left Moseroth and camped at Bene Jaakan.[n]

37They left Kadesh and camped at Mount Hor,[r] on the border of Edom.[s] 38At the LORD's command Aaron the priest went up Mount Hor, where he died[t] on the first day of the fifth month of the fortieth year[u] after the Israelites came out of Egypt.[v] 39Aaron was a hundred and twenty-three years old when he died on Mount Hor.

40The Canaanite king[w] of Arad,[x] who lived in the Negev[y] of Canaan, heard that the Israelites were coming.

45They left Iyim[c] and camped at Dibon Gad.

46They left Dibon Gad and camped at Almon Diblathaim.

48They left the mountains of Abarim[d] and camped on the plains of Moab[e] by the Jordan[f] across from Jericho.[dg] 49There on the plains of Moab they camped along the Jordan from Beth Jeshimoth[h] to Abel Shittim.[i]

50On the plains of Moab by the Jordan across from Jericho[j] the LORD said to Moses, 51"Speak to the Israelites and say to them: 'When you cross the Jordan into

Boundaries of Canaan

34 The LORD said to Moses, 2"Command the Israelites and say to them: 'When you enter Canaan,[t] the land that will be allotted to you as an inheritance[u] will have these boundaries:[v]

3" 'Your southern side will include some of the Desert of Zin[w] along the border of Edom. 6" 'Your western boundary will be the coast of the Great Sea.[c] This will be your boundary on the west.[d]

7" 'For your northern boundary,[e] run a line from the Great Sea to Mount Hor[f] 8and from Mount Hor to Lebo[h] Hamath.[g] Then the boundary will go to Zedad, 9continue to Ziphron and end at Hazar Enan. This will be your boundary on the north.

Towns for the Levites

35 On the plains of Moab by the Jordan across from Jericho,[kb] the LORD said to Moses, 2"Command the Israelites to give the Levites towns to live in[c] from the inheritance the Israelites will possess. And give them pasturelands[d] around the towns. 3Then they will have towns to live in and pasturelands for their cattle, flocks and all their other livestock.[e]

4"The pasturelands around the towns that you give the Levites will extend out fifteen hundred feet[l] from the town wall. 5Outside the town, measure three thousand feet[m][f] on the east side, three thousand on the south side, three thousand on the west and three thousand on the north, with the town in the center. They will have this area as pastureland for the towns.[g]

Cities of Refuge

35:6–34Ref — Dt 4:41–43; 19:1–14; Jos 20:1–9

6"Six of the towns you give the Levites will be cities of refuge, to which a person who has killed someone may flee.[h] In addition, give them forty-two other towns. 7In all you must give the Levites forty-eight towns, together with their pasturelands. 8The towns you give the Levites from the land the Israelites possess are to be given in proportion to the inheritance of each tribe: Take many towns from a tribe that has many, but few from one that has few."[i]

9Then the LORD said to Moses: 10"Speak to the Israelites and say to them: 'When you cross the Jordan into Canaan,[j] 11select some towns to be your cities of refuge, to which a person who has killed someone[k] accidentally[l] may flee. 12They will be places of refuge from the avenger,[m] so that a person accused of murder[n] may not die before he stands trial before the assembly.[o] 13These six towns you give will be your cities of refuge.[p] 14Give three on this side of the Jordan and three in Canaan as cities of refuge. 15These six towns will be a place of refuge for Israelites, aliens and any other people living among them, so that anyone who has killed another accidentally can flee there.

35:1–5 Since the Levites would not receive an allotment with the other tribes in the land (1:47–53), they would need towns in which to live and to raise their families and care for their livestock. The Levites were to be spread throughout the land, not in an isolated encampment. Jos 21 presents the fulfillment of this command.

35:6–15 Six Levitical cities were to be stationed strategically in the land—three in Transjordan and three in Canaan proper—as cities of refuge, where a person guilty of unintentional manslaughter might escape blood revenge. Jos 20 describes the sites that were chosen.

35:16–21 Various descriptions of the taking of life are presented that would indicate willful murder.

Cities of Refuge

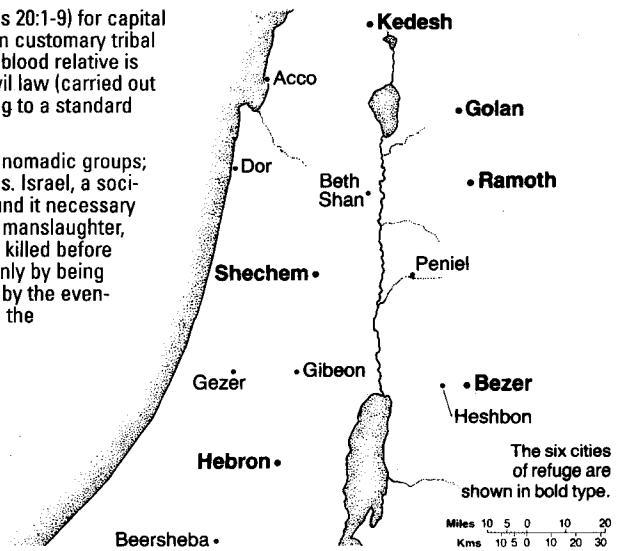
The idea of providing cities of refuge (Jos 20:1-9) for capital offenses is rooted in the tension between customary tribal law (retaliation or revenge, in which the blood relative is obligated to execute vengeance) and civil law (carried out less personally by an assembly according to a standard code of justice).

Blood feuds are usually associated with nomadic groups; legal procedures, with villages and towns. Israel, a society in the process of sedentarization, found it necessary to adopt an intermediate step regulating manslaughter, so that an innocent person would not be killed before standing trial. Absolution was possible only by being cleared by his hometown assembly, and by the eventual death of the high priest, which freed the offender from ritual pollution.



derer; the murderer shall be put to death.[q] 17Or if anyone has a stone in his hand that could kill, and he strikes someone so that he dies, he is a murderer; the murderer shall be put to death. 18Or if anyone has a wooden object in his hand that could kill, and he hits someone so that he dies, he is a murderer; the murderer shall be put to death. 19The avenger of blood[r] shall put the murderer to death; when he meets him, he shall put him to death.[s] 20If anyone with malice aforethought shoves another or throws something at him intentionally[t] so that he dies 21or if in hostility he hits him with his fist so that he dies, that person shall be put to death;[u] he is a murderer. The avenger of blood[v] shall put the murderer to death when he meets him.

22"'But if without hostility someone suddenly shoves another or throws something at him unintentionally[w] 23or, without seeing him, drops a stone on him that could kill him, and he dies, then since he was not his enemy and he did not intend to harm him, 24the assembly[x] must judge between him and the avenger of blood according to these regulations. 25The assembly must protect the one accused of murder from the avenger of blood and send him back to the city of refuge to which he fled. He must stay there until the death of the high priest,[y] who was anointed[z] with the holy oil.[a] 26"'But if the accused ever goes outside the limits of the city of refuge to which he has fled 27and the avenger of blood finds him outside the city, the avenger of blood may kill the accused without being guilty of murder. 28The accused must stay in his city of refuge until the death of the high priest; only after the death of the high priest may he return to his own property.

29"'These are to be legal requirements[b] for you throughout the generations to come,[c] wherever you live.[d]

30"'Anyone who kills a person is to be put to death as a murderer only on the testimony of witnesses. But no one is to be put to death on the testimony of only one witness.[e]

31"'Do not accept a ransom[f] for the life of a murderer, who deserves to die. He must surely be put to death.

32"'Do not accept a ransom for anyone who has fled to a city of refuge and so allow him to go back and live on his own land before the death of the high priest.

33"'Do not pollute the land where you are. Bloodshed pollutes the land,[g] and atonement cannot be made for the land on which blood has been shed, except by the blood of the one who shed it. 34Do not defile the land[h] where you live and where I dwell,[i] for I, the LORD, dwell among the Israelites.'"

Inheritance of Zelophehad's Daughters

36:1–12pp — Nu 27:1–11

36 The family heads of the clan of Gilead[j] son of Makir,[k] the son of Manasseh, who were from the clans of the descendants of Joseph,[l] came and spoke before Moses and the leaders,[m] the heads of the Israelite families. 2They said, "When the LORD commanded my lord to give the land as an inheritance to the Israelites by lot,[n] he ordered you to give the inheritance of our brother Zelophehad[o] to his daughters. 3Now suppose they marry men from other Israelite tribes; then their inheritance will be taken from our ancestral inheritance and added to that of the tribe they marry into. And so part of the inheritance allotted to us will be taken away. 4When the Year of Jubilee[p] for the Israelites comes, their inheritance will be added to that of the tribe into which they marry, and their property will be taken from the tribal inheritance of our forefathers."

5Then at the LORD's command Moses gave this order to the Israelites: "What the tribe of the descendants of Joseph is saying is right. 6This is what the LORD commands for Zelophehad's daughters: They may marry anyone they please as long as they marry within the tribal clan of their father. 7No inheritance[q] in Israel is to pass from tribe to tribe, for every 35:24 according to these regulations. Any gracious provision is subject to abuse. For this reason the case of the involuntary slayer had to be determined by the judges. Further, the accused man had to stay in the city of refuge until the death of the high priest (when there would be a general amnesty). If the accused left the city of refuge, he would become fair game again for the avenger of blood.

35:25–28 See note on Jos 20:6.

35:30 witnesses. To avoid the possibility of an innocent party being accused and sentenced to death on insufficient evidence.

35:32 Not even an involuntary slayer could leave the city of refuge on the payment of a ransom.

35:33 Bloodshed pollutes the land. The crime of murder is not only an offense against the sanctity of life; it is in fact a pollutant to the Lord's sacred land.

36:1–13 Presents an interesting further development of the account of Zelophehad's daughters (see 27:1–11). Since the Lord had instructed Moses that the women might inherit their father's land, new questions arose: What will happen to the family lands if these daughters marry among other tribes? Will not the original intention of the first provision be frustrated? Such questions led to the decision that marriage is to be kept within one's own tribe, so that the family allotments will not "pass from tribe to tribe" (v. 9).

Israelite shall keep the tribal land inherited from his forefathers. 8Every daughter who inherits land in any Israelite tribe must marry someone in her father's tribal clan,[r] so that every Israelite will possess the inheritance of his fathers. 9No inheritance may pass from tribe to tribe, for each Israelite tribe is to keep the land it inherits."

10So Zelophehad's daughters did as the LORD commanded Moses. 11Zelophehad's daughters—Mahlah, Tirzah, Hoglah, Milcah and Noah[s]—married their cousins on their father's side. 12They married within the clans of the descendants of Manasseh son of Joseph, and their inheritance remained in their father's clan and tribe.[t]

13These are the commands and regulations the LORD gave through Moses[u] to the Israelites on the plains of Moab by the Jordan across from Jericho.[n v]

These noble women, who were concerned for their father's name and their own place in the land, obeyed the Lord.

Deuteronomy

Title

The word "Deuteronomy" (meaning "repetition of the law"), the name of the last book of the Pentateuch, arose from a mistranslation in the Greek Septuagint and the Latin Vulgate of a phrase in Dt 17:18, which in Hebrew means "copy of this law." The error is not serious, however, since Deuteronomy is, in a certain sense, a "repetition of the law" (see Structure and Outline). The Hebrew name of the book is 'elleh haddebarim ("These are the words") or, more simply, debarim ("words"; see 1:1).

Author

The book itself testifies that, for the most part, Moses wrote it (1:5; 31:9,22,24), and other OT books agree (1Ki 2:3; 8:53; 2Ki 14:6; 18:12)—though the preamble (1:1–5) may have been written by someone else, and the report of Moses' death (ch. 34) was almost certainly written by someone else. Jesus also bears testimony to Mosaic authorship (Mt 19:7–8; Mk 10:3–5; Jn 5:46–47), and so do other NT writers (Ac 3:22–23; 7:37–38; Ro 10:19). Moreover, Jesus quotes Deuteronomy as authoritative (Mt 4:4,7,10). In the NT there are almost 100 quotations of and allusions to Deuteronomy. Tradition uniformly testifies to the Mosaic authorship of the book (see, e.g., Mk 12:19). See Introduction to Genesis: Author and Date of Writing.

Date

The book is probably to be dated c. 1406 B.C. (see Introduction to Genesis: Author and Date of Writing).

Historical Setting

Deuteronomy locates Moses and the Israelites in the territory of Moab in the area where the Jordan flows into the Dead Sea (1:5). As his final act at this important time of transferring leadership to Joshua, Moses delivered his farewell addresses to prepare the people for their entrance into Canaan. These addresses were actually a covenant renewal (see Structure and Outline). In them, Moses emphasized the laws that were especially needed at such a time, and he presented them in a way appropriate to the situation. In contrast to the matter-of-fact narratives of Leviticus and Numbers, the book of Deuteronomy comes to us from Moses' heart in a warm, personal, sermonic form of expression.

Theological Teaching

The love relationship of the Lord to his people and that of the people to the Lord as their sovereign God pervade the whole book. Deuteronomy's spiritual emphasis and its call to total commitment to the Lord in worship and obedience inspired references to its message throughout the rest of Scripture.

Structure and Outline

Deuteronomy's literary structure supports its historical setting. By its interpretive, repetitious, reminiscent and somewhat irregular style it shows that it is a series of more or less extemporaneous addresses, sometimes describing events in nonchronological order (see, e.g., 10:3). But it also bears in its structure clear reflections of the suzerain-vassal treaties (see chart on "Major Covenants in the OT," p. 19) of the preceding and then-current Near Eastern states, a structure that lends itself to the Biblical emphasis on the covenant between the Lord and his people. In this sense Deuteronomy is a covenant renewal document, as the following outline shows:

I. The Preamble (1:1–5)
II. The Historical Prologue (1:6—4:43)
III. The Stipulations of the Covenant (4:44—26:19)
  A. The Great Commandment: The Demand for Absolute Allegiance (4:44—11:32)
  B. Supplementary Requirements (chs. 12—26)
    1. Ceremonial consecration (12:1—16:17)
    2. Governmental leaders and a righteous nation (16:18—21:21)
    3. Sanctity of God's kingdom (21:22—25:19)
    4. Confession of God as Redeemer-King (ch. 26)
IV. Ratification; Curses and Blessings (chs. 27—30)
V. Leadership Succession under the Covenant (chs. 31—34)
  A. Change of Leadership (31:1–29)
  B. Song of Moses (31:30—32:47)
  C. Moses' Testamental Blessing on the Tribes (32:48—33:29)
  D. Death of Moses and Succession of Joshua (ch. 34)

The book is sometimes divided into three addresses:

I. First Address (1:1—4:43)
II. Second Address (4:44—28:68)
III. Third Address (chs. 29—33)
IV. Moses' Death (ch. 34)

The Command to Leave Horeb

1 These are the words Moses spoke to all Israel in the desert east of the Jordan[a]—that is, in the Arabah[b]—opposite Suph, between Paran[c] and Tophel, Laban, Hazeroth and Dizahab. 2(It takes eleven days to go from Horeb[d] to Kadesh Barnea[e] by the Mount Seir[f] road.)[g]

3In the fortieth year,[h] on the first day of the eleventh month,[i] Moses proclaimed[j] to the Israelites all that the LORD had commanded him concerning them. 4This was after he had defeated Sihon[k] king of the Amorites,[l] who reigned in Heshbon,[m] and at Edrei had defeated Og[n] king of Bashan, who reigned in Ashtaroth.[o]

5East of the Jordan in the territory of Moab,[p] Moses began to expound this law, saying:

6The LORD our God said to us[q] at Horeb,[r] "You have stayed long enough[s] at this mountain. 7Break camp and advance into the hill country of the Amorites;[t] go to all the neighboring peoples in the Arabah,[u] in the mountains, in the western foothills, in the Negev[v] and along the coast, to the land of the Canaanites[w] and to Lebanon,[x] as far as the great river, the Euphrates.[y] 8See, I have given you this land[z].[a] Go in and take possession of the land that the LORD swore[b] he would give to your fathers—to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob—and to their descendants after them."

The Appointment of Leaders

9At that time I said to you, "You are too heavy a burden[c] for me to carry alone.[d] 10The LORD your God has increased[e] your numbers[f] so that today you are as many[g] as the stars in the sky.[h] 11May the LORD, the God of your fathers, increase[i] you a thousand times and bless you as he has promised![j] 12But how can I bear your problems and your burdens and your disputes all by myself?[k] 13Choose some wise, understanding and respected men[l] from each of your tribes, and I will set them over you."

14You answered me, "What you propose to do is good."

15So I took[m] the leading men of your tribes,[n] wise and respected men,[o] and appointed them to have authority over you—as commanders[p] of thousands, of hundreds, of fifties and of tens and as tribal officials.[q] 16And I charged your judges at that time: Hear the disputes between your brothers and judge[r] fairly,[s] whether the case is between brother Israelites or between one of them and an alien.[t] 17Do not show partiality[u] in judging; hear both small and great alike. Do not be afraid of any man,[v] for judgment belongs to God. Bring me any case too hard for you, and I will hear it.[w] 18And at that time I told you everything you were to do.[x]

Spies Sent Out

19Then, as the LORD our God commanded us, we set out from Horeb and went toward the hill country of the Amorites[y] through all that vast and dreadful desert[z] that you have seen, and so we reached Kadesh Barnea.[a] 20Then I said

1:1–5 The preamble gives the historical setting for the entire book.

1:1 Moses spoke. Almost all of Deuteronomy is made up of speeches by Moses during the final months of his life, just before the Israelites crossed the Jordan to enter Canaan. Arabah. Includes the valley of the Jordan (from the Sea of Galilee to the southern end of the Dead Sea) and the valley extending down to the Gulf of Aqaba. Suph ... Paran ... Tophel, Laban, Hazeroth and Dizahab. Places along the route from Sinai to the territory of Moab.

1:2 Horeb. The usual name for Mount Sinai in Deuteronomy (the only exception is in 33:2). Kadesh Barnea. See note on Ge 14:7. Seir. See note on Ge 36:8.

1:3 fortieth year. After leaving Egypt. The Lord had condemned Israel to 40 years of wandering in Sinai as punishment for not entering Canaan as he had commanded them to do at Kadesh (Nu 14:33–34). The 40 years included the time spent at Sinai and on the journey to Kadesh as well as the next 38 years (see 2:14). See 8:2–5; 29:5–6; Nu 14:29–35; 32:13; Heb 3:7–19. eleventh month. January-February.

1:5 this law. The Ten Commandments and other laws given at Mount Sinai and recorded in Ex 20–24, Leviticus and Numbers. In Deuteronomy the laws are summarized and interpreted, and adjusted to the new, specific situation Israel would face in Canaan. Thus Deuteronomy is, in essence, a covenant renewal (and updating) document.

1:7 See Jos 1:4. The land is described by its various geographical areas (see map No. 2 at the end of the study Bible). Arabah. See note on v. 1; here the Jordan Valley and the Dead Sea area. mountains. The midsection running north and south. western foothills. Sloping toward the Mediterranean. Negev. See note on Ge 12:9. coast. The Mediterranean coastal strip. The "land of the Canaanites" and "Lebanon, as far as ... the Euphrates" make up the northern sector. The "hill country of the Amorites" is, in general, the central and southern mountains. This description of the land agrees with that in the promise (see v. 8) to Abraham in Ge 15:18–21, a promise later limited to Isaac's descendants (Ge 26:2–4) and still later to the descendants of Jacob (Ge 35:11–12).

1:9–18 Cf. 16:18–20; Ex 18:13–26.

1:10 The LORD your God. This title occurs almost 300 times in Deuteronomy in addition to the many times that "LORD" is used alone or in other combinations. as the stars in the sky. See 10:22; 28:62; Ge 13:16 and note; 15:5 and note; 22:17; 26:4; Ex 32:13.

1:19–46 See Nu 13–14.

to you, "You have reached the hill country of the Amorites, which the LORD our God is giving us. 21See, the LORD your God has given you the land. Go up and take possession[b] of it as the LORD, the God of your fathers, told you. Do not be afraid;[c] do not be discouraged."[d]

22Then all of you came to me and said, "Let us send men ahead to spy[e] out the land[f] for us and bring back a report about the route we are to take and the towns we will come to."

23The idea seemed good to me; so I selected[g] twelve of you, one man from each tribe. 24They left and went up into the hill country, and came to the Valley of Eshcol[h] and explored it. 25Taking with them some of the fruit of the land, they brought it down to us and reported,[i] "It is a good land[j] that the LORD our God is giving us."[k]

Rebellion Against the LORD

26But you were unwilling to go up;[l] you rebelled[m] against the command of the LORD your God. 27You grumbled[n] in your tents and said, "The LORD hates us; so he brought us out of Egypt to deliver us into the hands of the Amorites to destroy us. 28Where can we go? Our brothers have made us lose heart. They say, 'The people are stronger and taller[o] than we are; the cities are large, with walls up to the sky. We even saw the Anakites[p] there.' "

29Then I said to you, "Do not be terrified; do not be afraid[q] of them.[r] 30The LORD your God, who is going before you, will fight[s] for you, as he did for you in Egypt, before your very eyes, 31and in the desert. There you saw how the LORD your God carried[t] you, as a father carries his son, all the way you went until you reached this place."[u]

32In spite of this,[v] you did not trust[w] in the LORD your God, 33who went ahead of you on your journey, in fire by night and in a cloud by day,[x] to search[y] out places for you to camp and to show you the way you should go.

34When the LORD heard[z] what you said, he was angry[a] and solemnly swore:[b] 35"Not a man of this evil generation shall see the good land[c] I swore to give your forefathers, 36except Caleb[d] son of Jephunneh. He will see it, and I will give him and his descendants the land he set his feet on, because he followed the LORD wholeheartedly."[e]

37Because of you the LORD became angry[f] with me also and said, "You shall not enter[g] it, either. 38But your assistant, Joshua[h] son of Nun, will enter it. Encourage[i] him, because he will lead[j] Israel to inherit[k] it. 39And the little ones that you said would be taken captive,[l] your children who do not yet know[m] good from bad—they will enter the land. I will give it to them and they will take possession of it. 40But as for you, turn around and set out toward the desert along the route to the Red Sea.[an]"

41Then you replied, "We have sinned against the LORD. We will go up and fight, as the LORD our God commanded us." So every one of you put on his weapons, thinking it easy to go up into the hill country.

42But the LORD said to me, "Tell them, 'Do not go up and fight, because I will not be with you. You will be defeated by your enemies.' "[o]

43So I told you, but you would not listen. You rebelled against the LORD's command and in your arrogance you marched up into the hill country. 44The Amorites who lived in those hills came

1:21 as the LORD . . . told you. The promise of the land (see note on v. 7) was reaffirmed to Moses at the burning bush (v. 8; Ex 3:8,17). Now the Israelites are told to enter the land and conquer it. Do not be afraid . . . discouraged. See 31:8; Jos 1:9; 8:1; 10:25.

1:23 twelve. They are named in Nu 13:4–15.

1:24 Eshcol. See NIV text note on Nu 13:23.

1:26 you rebelled. Although they themselves had not rebelled, the people were being addressed as a nation united with the earlier rebellious generation (see 5:2; cf. 29:1).

1:27 grumbled. See note on Ex 15:24. The LORD hates us. The people's statement is ironic indeed in the light of Deuteronomy's major theme (see Introduction: Theological Teaching).

1:28 Anakites. Earlier inhabitants of Canaan, described as giants (see 2:10,21; 9:2; Nu 13:32).

1:30 as he did for you in Egypt. See Ex 14:1–15:19.

1:31 God carried you. See notes on Isa 41:10,13; 43:1–2; cf. Isa 40:11; Jer 31:10; Eze 34:11–16.

1:33 in fire by night and in a cloud by day. The presence of the Lord was in the cloud over the tabernacle to guide the Israelites through their desert journeys (see Ex 13:21 and note; 40:34–38).

1:36 Caleb. See Nu 13:30–14:38; Jos 14:6–15.

1:37 Because of you. See 3:26; 4:21. God was angry with Moses when in a wrong spirit he struck the rock at Meribah to get water (Nu 20:9–13; 27:12–14). And since it was the Israelites who had incited him to sin, God was angry with them too. This event (v. 37) occurred almost 40 years after that of the preceding verses (vv. 34–36), but Moses, interested in telling of the Israelites' sin and his own, brings the two events together.

1:39 do not yet know good from bad. See notes on Ge 2:9; Isa 7:15.

1:41 you. See note on v. 26.

1:43 You rebelled against the LORD's command. The same charge as in v. 26. First the people rebelled against the Lord's command to go into the land, then against his command not to enter the land. After their first rebellion the Lord would not go with them. His presence was essential, and Israel needed to learn that lesson.

1:44 bees. See note on Ex 23:28.

out against you; they chased you like a swarm of bees[p] and beat you down from Seir[q] all the way to Hormah.[r] 45You came back and wept before the LORD,[s] but he paid no attention[t] to your weeping and turned a deaf ear[u] to you. 46And so you stayed in Kadesh[v] many days—all the time you spent there.

Wanderings in the Desert

2 Then we turned back and set out toward the desert along the route to the Red Sea,[b][w] as the LORD had directed me. For a long time we made our way around the hill country of Seir.[x]

2Then the LORD said to me, 3"You have made your way around this hill country long enough;[y] now turn north. 4Give the people these orders:[z] 'You are about to pass through the territory of your brothers the descendants of Esau,[a] who live in Seir.[b] They will be afraid[c] of you, but be very careful. 5Do not provoke them to war, for I will not give you any of their land, not even enough to put your foot on. I have given Esau the hill country of Seir as his own.[d] 6You are to pay them in silver for the food you eat and the water you drink.' "

7The LORD your God has blessed you in all the work of your hands. He has watched[e] over your journey through this vast desert.[f] These forty years[g] the LORD your God has been with you, and you have not lacked anything.[h]

8So we went on past our brothers the descendants of Esau, who live in Seir. We turned from[i] the Arabah[j] road, which comes up from Elath and Ezion Geber,[k] and traveled along the desert road of Moab.[l]

9Then the LORD said to me, "Do not harass the Moabites or provoke them to war, for I will not give you any part of their land. I have given Ar[m] to the descendants of Lot[n] as a possession."

10(The Emites[o] used to live there—a people strong and numerous, and as tall as the Anakites.[p] 11Like the Anakites, they too were considered Rephaites,[q] but the Moabites called them Emites. 12Horites[r] used to live in Seir, but the descendants of Esau drove them out. They destroyed the Horites from before them and settled in their place, just as Israel did[s] in the land the LORD gave them as their possession.)

13And the LORD said, "Now get up and cross the Zered Valley.[t]" So we crossed the valley.

14Thirty-eight years[u] passed from the time we left Kadesh Barnea[v] until we crossed the Zered Valley. By then, that entire generation[w] of fighting men had perished from the camp, as the LORD had sworn to them.[x] 15The LORD's hand was against them until he had completely eliminated[y] them from the camp.

16Now when the last of these fighting men among the people had died, 17the LORD said to me, 18"Today you are to pass by the region of Moab at Ar.[z] 19When you come to the Ammonites,[a] do not harass them or provoke them to war,[b] for I will not give you possession of any land belonging to the Ammonites. I have given it as a possession to the descendants of Lot.[c]"

20(That too was considered a land of the Rephaites,[d] who used to live there; but the Ammonites called them Zamzummites. 21They were a people strong and numerous, and as tall as the Anakites.[e] The LORD destroyed them from before the Ammonites, who drove them out and settled in their place. 22The LORD had done the same for the descendants of Esau, who lived in Seir,[f] when he destroyed the Horites from before them. They drove them out and have lived in their place to this day. 23And as for the Avvites[g] who lived in villages as far as Gaza,[h] the Caphtorites[i] coming out from Caphtor[cj] destroyed them and settled in their place.)

1:45 before the LORD. At the tabernacle.
2:1–3:11 See Nu 20:14–21:35.
2:1 Red Sea. Here probably the Gulf of Aqaba (see note on 1Ki 9:26). hill country of Seir. The mountainous area south of the Dead Sea.
2:5 I will not give you any of their land. See vv. 9,19. The Lord told Moses to bypass Edom, Moab and Ammon because of their blood relationship to Israel. The Israelites were to take over only those lands east of the Jordan that were in the hands of the Amorites (see v. 24; 3:2). I have given. See vv. 9,19. The Lord had given the descendants of Esau (Edomites) and Lot (Moabites and Ammonites) their lands, just as he was giving the Israelites the territories of Transjordan and Canaan.
2:8 Elath and Ezion Geber. At the head of the Gulf of Aqaba. The "Arabah road" ran from the head of the gulf northward and to the east of Moab.
2:9 Ar. Location unknown.
2:10 Emites. Possibly meaning "terrors." Anakites. See note on 1:28.
2:11 Rephaites. Ancient people of large stature.
2:12 Horites. See note on Ge 14:6. the land the LORD gave them. Either (1) the Transjordan regions (see 2:24–3:20), (2) Canaan itself or (3) Transjordan and Canaan. If either (2) or (3) is intended, editorial updating is involved (see note on Ge 14:14).
2:13 Zered. The main stream (intermittent) that flows into the southern end of the Dead Sea from the east (see map No. 4 at the end of the study Bible).
2:14 Thirty-eight years. See note on 1:3.
2:20 Zamzummites. Possibly meaning "murmurers," and perhaps to be identified with the Zuzites of Ge 14:5.
2:23 Avvites. Pre-Philistine people otherwise unknown (Jos 13:3). Caphtorites. See note on Ge 10:14.

Defeat of Sihon King of Heshbon

24"Set out now and cross the Arnon Gorge.[k] See, I have given into your hand Sihon the Amorite,[l] king of Heshbon, and his country. Begin to take possession of it and engage[m] him in battle. 25This very day I will begin to put the terror[n] and fear[o] of you on all the nations under heaven. They will hear reports of you and will tremble[p] and be in anguish because of you."

26From the desert of Kedemoth[q] I sent messengers to Sihon[r] king of Heshbon offering peace[s] and saying, 27"Let us pass through your country. We will stay on the main road; we will not turn aside to the right or to the left.[t] 28Sell us food to eat[u] and water to drink for their price in silver. Only let us pass through on foot[v]— 29as the descendants of Esau, who live in Seir, and the Moabites, who live in Ar, did for us—until we cross the Jordan into the land the LORD our God is giving us." 30But Sihon king of Heshbon refused to let us pass through. For the LORD[w] your God had made his spirit stubborn[x] and his heart obstinate[y] in order to give him into your hands,[z] as he has now done.

31The LORD said to me, "See, I have begun to deliver Sihon and his country over to you. Now begin to conquer and possess his land."[a] 32When Sihon and all his army came out to meet us in battle[b] at Jahaz, 33the LORD our God delivered[c] him over to us and we struck him down,[d] together with his sons and his whole army. 34At that time we took all his towns and completely destroyed[de] them—men, women and children. We left no survivors. 35But the livestock[f] and the plunder[g] from the towns we had captured we carried off for ourselves. 36From Aroer[h] on the rim of the Arnon Gorge, and from the town in the gorge, even as far as Gilead,[i] not one town was too strong for us. The LORD our God gave[j] us all of them. 37But in accordance with the command of the LORD our God,[k] you did not encroach on any of the land of the Ammonites,[l] neither the land along the course of the Jabbok[m] nor that around the towns in the hills.

Defeat of Og King of Bashan

3 Next we turned and went up along the road toward Bashan, and Og king of Bashan[n] with his whole army marched out to meet us in battle at Edrei.[o] 2The LORD said to me, "Do not be afraid[p] of him, for I have handed him over to you with his whole army and his land. Do to him what you did to Sihon king of the Amorites, who reigned in Heshbon."

3So the LORD our God also gave into our hands Og king of Bashan and all his army. We struck them down,[q] leaving no survivors.[r] 4At that time we took all his cities.[s] There was not one of the sixty cities that we did not take from them—the whole region of Argob, Og's kingdom[t] in Bashan.[u] 5All these cities were fortified with high walls and with gates and bars, and there were also a great many unwalled villages. 6We completely destroyed[d] them, as we had done with Sihon king of Heshbon, destroying[dv] every city—men, women and children. 7But all the livestock[w] and the plunder from their cities we carried off for ourselves.

8So at that time we took from these two kings of the Amorites[x] the territory east of the Jordan, from the Arnon Gorge as far as Mount Hermon.[y] 9(Hermon is called Sirion[z] by the Sidonians; the Amorites call it Senir.)[a] 10We took all the [d] 34,6 The Hebrew term refers to the irrevocable giving over of things or persons to the LORD, often by totally destroying them.

2:24 Arnon. See note on Nu 21:10–13.
2:26 Kedemoth. Means "eastern regions."
2:30 his spirit stubborn and his heart obstinate. In the OT, actions are often attributed to God without the mention of mediate or contributing situations or persons. Sihon by his own conscious will refused Israel passage, but it was God who would give Sihon's land to Israel (see note on Ex 4:21).
2:32 Jahaz. See note on Isa 15:4.
2:34 completely destroyed. See NIV text note. The Hebrew for this expression usually denotes the destruction of everyone and everything that could be destroyed. Objects like gold, silver and bronze, not subject to destruction, were put in a secure place as God's possession. Destruction of people and things made them useless to the conquerors but put them in the hands of God. So the word is sometimes translated "destroyed" and sometimes "devoted" (see, e.g., Jos 6:17). The practice was sometimes limited, as when God assigned captured livestock and other plunder to his people as recompense for service in his army (see v. 35; 3:7; Jos 8:2).
2:36 Aroer. See note on Isa 17:2. Gilead. See note on Ge 31:21.
2:37 Jabbok. See note on Ge 32:22.
3:3 gave into our hands Og. As in 2:26–37.
3:4 sixty cities. The cities were large and walled (1Ki 4:13), implying a heavily populated territory (see v. 5). region of Argob. An otherwise unidentified area in Bashan (see vv. 13–14; 1Ki 4:13).
3:6–7 See note on 2:34.
3:8 Mount Hermon. Snowcapped throughout the year and rising to a height of over 9,200 feet, it is one of the most prominent and beautiful mountains in Lebanon.
3:9 Sirion. This name for Mount Hermon is found also in a Canaanite document contemporary with Moses. Senir. This name for Mount Hermon is also found in Assyrian sources.
3:10 Salecah. A city marking the eastern boundary of Bashan (see Jos 13:11).

towns on the plateau, and all Gilead, and all Bashan as far as Salecah[b] and Edrei, towns of Og's kingdom in Bashan. [11](Only Og king of Bashan was left of the remnant of the Rephaites.[c] His bed[e] was made of iron and was more than thirteen feet long and six feet wide.[f] It is still in Rabbah[d] of the Ammonites.)

Division of the Land

[12]Of the land that we took over at that time, I gave the Reubenites and the Gadites the territory north of Aroer[e] by the Arnon Gorge, including half the hill country of Gilead, together with its towns. [13]The rest of Gilead and also all of Bashan, the kingdom of Og, I gave to the half tribe of Manasseh.[f] (The whole region of Argob in Bashan used to be known as a land of the Rephaites.[g] [14]Jair,[h] a descendant of Manasseh, took the whole region of Argob as far as the border of the Geshurites and the Maacathites;[i] it was named[j] after him, so that to this day Bashan is called Havvoth Jair.[g]) [15]And I gave Gilead to Makir.[k] [16]But to the Reubenites and the Gadites I gave the territory extending from Gilead down to the Arnon Gorge (the middle of the gorge being the border) and out to the Jabbok River,[l] which is the border of the Ammonites. [17]Its western border was the Jordan in the Arabah,[m] from Kinnereth[n] to the Sea of the Arabah[o] (the Salt Sea[h][p]), below the slopes of Pisgah.

[18]I commanded you at that time: "The LORD your God has given[q] you this land to take possession of it. But all your able-bodied men, armed for battle, must cross over ahead of your brother Israelites.[r] [19]However, your wives,[s] your children and your livestock[t] (I know you have much livestock) may stay in the towns I have given you, [20]until the LORD gives rest to your brothers as he has to you, and they too have taken over the land that the LORD your God is giving them, across the Jordan. After that, each of you may go back to the possession I have given you."

Moses Forbidden to Cross the Jordan

[21]At that time I commanded Joshua: "You have seen with your own eyes all that the LORD your God has done to these two kings. The LORD will do the same to all the kingdoms over there where you are going. [22]Do not be afraid[u] of them;[v] the LORD your God himself will fight[w] for you."

[23]At that time I pleaded[x] with the LORD: [24]"O Sovereign LORD, you have begun to show to your servant your greatness[y] and your strong hand. For what god[z] is there in heaven or on earth who can do the deeds and mighty works[a] you do?[b] [25]Let me go over and see the good land[c] beyond the Jordan—that fine hill country and Lebanon.[d]"

[26]But because of you the LORD was angry[e] with me and would not listen to me. "That is enough," the LORD said. "Do not speak to me anymore about this matter. [27]Go up to the top of Pisgah[f] and look west and north and south and east.[g] Look at the land with your own eyes, since you are not going to cross[h] this Jordan.[i] [28]But commission[j] Joshua, and encourage[k] and strengthen him, for he will lead this people across[l] and will cause them to inherit the land that you will see." [29]So we stayed in the valley near Beth Peor.[m]

[h] 17 That is, the Dead Sea

3:11 bed ... of iron. Sarcophagi (stone coffins) of basalt have been found in Bashan, and the Hebrew for "bed" (see NIV text note) and "iron" may reflect this. If an actual bed, it was probably made of wood but with certain iron fixtures, as were the "iron chariots" (see note on Jos 17:16). Rabbah of the Ammonites. Called Philadelphia in NT times, Rabbah was the capital of ancient Ammon (Am 1:13–14). Today its name is Amman, the capital of the kingdom of Jordan.

3:12–20 See Nu 32; 34:13–15.

3:14 Jair ... Havvoth Jair. See NIV text note; see also note on Jdg 10:3. the Geshurites and the Maacathites. Two comparatively small kingdoms, Geshur was east of the Sea of Galilee and Maacah was east of the Waters of Merom (see note on Jos 11:5) and north of Geshur.

3:15 Makir. See note on Ge 50:23.

3:17 Kinnereth. See note on Mk 1:16. Pisgah. On the edge of the high plateau overlooking the Dead Sea from the east.

3:20 rest. A peaceful situation—free from external threat and oppression, and untroubled within by conflict, famine or plague (see 12:9–10; 25:19; see also notes on Jos 1:13; 1Ki 5:4; Heb 4:1–11).

3:22 God himself. The conquest narratives emphasize the truth that without the Lord's help Israel's victory would be impossible. The Lord's power, not Israel's unaided strength, achieved victory. Moses bolstered Israel's resolve and faith by this assurance (see 1:30; 2:21–22,31; 20:4).

3:23–25 Moses' final plea to be allowed to enter the land (see 1:37 and note; 31:2).

3:26 because of you. See note on 1:37.

3:27 Go up to the top of Pisgah. Moses did so after he had expounded the law to the Israelites to prepare them for life in the promised land (see 32:48–52; 34:1–6). Pisgah. See note on v. 17. look west and north and south and east. Like Abraham (see Ge 13:14), Moses would inherit the promised land only through his descendants (see 34:1–4).

3:28 commission Joshua. See 31:7–8.

3:29 Beth Peor. Means "house/sanctuary of Peor." Very likely, reference is to the cult place where the Baal of Peor was worshiped (see Nu 23:28; 25:3,5).

Obedience Commanded

4 Hear now, O Israel, the decrees[n] and laws I am about to teach[o] you. Follow them so that you may live[p] and may go in and take possession of the land that the LORD, the God of your fathers, is giving you. 2Do not add[q] to what I command you and do not subtract[r] from it, but keep[s] the commands[t] of the LORD your God that I give you.

3You saw with your own eyes what the LORD did at Baal Peor.[u] The LORD your God destroyed from among you everyone who followed the Baal of Peor, 4but all of you who held fast to the LORD your God are still alive today.

5See, I have taught[v] you decrees and laws[w] as the LORD my God commanded[x] me, so that you may follow them in the land you are entering[y] to take possession of it. 6Observe[z] them carefully, for this will show your wisdom[a] and understanding to the nations, who will hear about all these decrees and say, "Surely this great nation is a wise and understanding people."[b] 7What other nation is so great[c] as to have their gods near[d] them the way the LORD our God is near us whenever we pray to him? 8And what other nation is so great as to have such righteous decrees and laws[e] as this body of laws I am setting before you today?

9Only be careful,[f] and watch yourselves closely so that you do not forget the things your eyes have seen or let them slip from your heart as long as you live. Teach[g] them to your children[h] and to their children after them. 10Remember the day you stood before the LORD your God at Horeb,[i] when he said to me, "Assemble the people before me to hear my words so that they may learn[j] to revere[k] me as long as they live in the land[l] and may teach[m] them to their children." 11You came near and stood at the foot of the mountain[n] while it blazed with fire[o] to the very heavens, with black clouds and deep darkness.[p] 12Then the LORD spoke[q] to you out of the fire. You heard the sound of words but saw no form;[r] there was only a voice.[s] 13He declared to you his covenant,[t] the Ten Commandments,[u] which he commanded you to follow and then wrote them on two stone tablets. 14And the LORD directed me at that time to teach you the decrees and laws[v] you are to follow in the land that you are crossing the Jordan to possess.

Idolatry Forbidden

15You saw no form[w] of any kind the day the LORD spoke to you at Horeb[x] out of the fire. Therefore watch yourselves very carefully,[y] 16so that you do not become corrupt[z] and make for yourselves an idol,[a] an image of any shape, whether formed like a man or a woman, 17or like any animal on earth or any bird that flies in the air,[b] 18or like any creature that moves along the ground or any fish in the waters below. 19And when you look up to the sky and see the sun,[c] the moon and the stars[d]—all the heavenly array[e]—do not be enticed[f] into bowing down to them and worshiping[g] things the LORD your God has apportioned to all the nations under heaven. 20But as for you, the LORD took you and brought you out of the iron-smelting furnace,[h] out of Egypt,[i] to be the people of his inheritance,[j] as you now are.

21The LORD was angry with me[k] because of you, and he solemnly swore that I would not cross the Jordan and enter the good land the LORD your God is giving you as your inheritance. 22I will die in this land;[l] I will not cross the Jordan;

4:2 Do not add ... do not subtract. The revelation the Lord gives is sufficient. All of it must be obeyed, and anything that adulterates or contradicts it cannot be tolerated (see 12:32; Pr 30:6; Gal 3:15; Rev 22:18–19).

4:4 held fast. See note on 10:20.

4:7 near us whenever we pray. The Israelites always had access to the Lord in prayer. His presence was symbolized by the tabernacle in the center of the camp, and by the pillar of cloud over the tabernacle (see Ex 40:34–38; Nu 23:21).

4:9 Teach them to your children. See v. 10; 11:19; cf. Ex 12:26–27.

4:10–14 See Ex 19–24.

4:10 Remember. The divine call to Israel to remember the Lord's past redemptive acts—especially how he delivered them from slavery in Egypt—is a common theme in Deuteronomy (5:15; 7:18; 8:2,18; 9:7,27; 11:2; 15:15; 16:3,12; 24:9,18,22; 25:17) and is summarized in 32:7: "Remember the days of old."

4:12 no form. See v. 15; see also note on Ex 20:4. "God is spirit" (Jn 4:24; cf. Isa 31:3).

4:13 his covenant, the Ten Commandments. See notes on Ex 20:1; 34:28. two stone tablets. See note on Ex 31:18.

4:15–18 See note on Ex 20:4.

4:19 do not be enticed. As kings of Judah would be later (2Ki 23:5).

4:20 iron-smelting furnace. Suggests that the period in Egypt was a time of affliction, testing and refinement for the Israelites (see 1Ki 8:51; Jer 11:4; see also Isa 48:10).

but you are about to cross over and take possession of that good land.[m] 23Be careful not to forget the covenant[n] of the LORD your God that he made with you; do not make for yourselves an idol[o] in the form of anything the LORD your God has forbidden. 24For the LORD your God is a consuming fire,[p] a jealous God.[q]

25After you have had children and grandchildren and have lived in the land a long time—if you then become corrupt[r] and make any kind of idol,[s] doing evil[t] in the eyes of the LORD your God and provoking him to anger, 26I call heaven and earth as witnesses[u] against you[v] this day that you will quickly perish[w] from the land that you are crossing the Jordan to possess. You will not live there long but will certainly be destroyed. 27The LORD will scatter[x] you among the peoples, and only a few of you will survive[y] among the nations to which the LORD will drive you. 28There you will worship man-made gods[z] of wood and stone,[a] which cannot see or hear or eat or smell.[b] 29But if from there you seek[c] the LORD your God, you will find him if you look for him with all your heart[d] and with all your soul.[e] 30When you are in distress[f] and all these things have happened to you, then in later days[g] you will return[h] to the LORD your God and obey him. 31For the LORD your God is a merciful[i] God; he will not abandon[j] or destroy[k] you or forget[l] the covenant with your forefathers, which he confirmed to them by oath.

The LORD Is God

32Ask[m] now about the former days, long before your time, from the day God created man on the earth;[n] ask from one end of the heavens to the other.[o] Has anything so great[p] as this ever happened, or has anything like it ever been heard of? 33Has any other people heard the voice of God[i] speaking out of fire, as you have, and lived? 34Has any god ever tried to take for himself one nation out of another nation,[r] by testings,[s] by miraculous signs[t] and wonders,[u] by war, by a mighty hand and an outstretched arm,[v] or by great and awesome deeds,[w] like all the things the LORD your God did for you in Egypt before your very eyes?

35You were shown these things so that you might know that the LORD is God; besides him there is no other.[x] 36From heaven he made you hear his voice[y] to discipline[z] you. On earth he showed you his great fire, and you heard his words from out of the fire. 37Because he loved[a] your forefathers and chose their descendants after them, he brought you out of Egypt by his Presence and his great strength,[b] 38to drive out before you nations greater and stronger than you and to bring you into their land to give it to you for your inheritance,[c] as it is today.

39Acknowledge[d] and take to heart this day that the LORD is God in heaven above and on the earth below. There is no other.[e] 40Keep[f] his decrees and commands,[g] which I am giving you today, so that it may go well[h] with you and your children after you and that you may live long[i] in the land the LORD your God gives you for all time.

4:24 consuming fire. See 9:3; see also note on Ex 24:17. jealous God. See 5:9; 6:15; see also note on Ex 20:5.

4:25 After you . . . have lived in the land. The pattern of Israel's rebellion, resulting in expulsion from the land, and then their repentance, leading to restoration to the land, is prominent in Deuteronomy (see, e.g., the blessing and curse formulas in chs. 27–28).

4:26 heaven and earth as witnesses. See notes on 30:19; Ps 50:1; Isa 1:2.

4:27 will scatter you. See note on 28:64.

4:29 with all your heart and . . . soul. Indicates total involvement and commitment. The phrase is applied not only to how the Lord's people should seek him, but also to how they should fear (revere) him, live in obedience to him, love and serve him (6:5; 10:12; 11:13; 13:3; 30:6), and, after forsaking him, renew their allegiance and commitment (26:16; 30:2,10).

4:31 covenant . . . confirmed . . . by oath. See notes on Ge 21:23; 22:16; Heb 6:13,18. In ancient times, parties to a covenant were expected to confirm their intentions by means of a self-maledictory oath (see note on Ge 15:17).

4:35 so that you might know. See v. 10. besides him there is no other. See v. 39; 5:7; 6:4 and note; 32:39. Moses' belief in one God was total and uncompromising (see note on Ge 1:1).

4:37 he loved. The first reference in Deuteronomy to God's love for his people (see Introduction: Theological Teaching). See note on 7:8; see also 5:10; 7:9,13; 10:15; 23:5. The corollary truth is that his people should love him (see note on 6:5).

without malice aforethought. He could flee into one of these cities and save his life. 43The cities were these: Bezer in the desert plateau, for the Reubenites; Ramoth[k] in Gilead, for the Gadites; and Golan in Bashan, for the Manassites.

Introduction to the Law

44This is the law Moses set before the Israelites. 45These are the stipulations, decrees and laws Moses gave them when they came out of Egypt 46and were in the valley near Beth Peor east of the Jordan, in the land of Sihon[l] king of the Amorites, who reigned in Heshbon and was defeated by Moses and the Israelites as they came out of Egypt. 47They took possession of his land and the land of Og king of Bashan, the two Amorite kings east of the Jordan. 48This land extended from Aroer[m] on the rim of the Arnon Gorge to Mount Siyon[j][n] (that is, Hermon[o]), 49and included all the Arabah east of the Jordan, as far as the Sea of the Arabah,[k] below the slopes of Pisgah.

The Ten Commandments

5:6–21pp — Ex 20:1–17

5 Moses summoned all Israel and said:
Hear, O Israel, the decrees and laws[p] I declare in your hearing today.
Learn them and be sure to follow them.
2The LORD our God made a covenant[q] with us at Horeb.[r] 3It was not with our fathers that the LORD made this covenant, but with us,[s] with all of us who are alive here today.[t] 4The LORD spoke[u] to you face to face[v] out of the fire[w] on the mountain. 5(At that time I stood between[x] the LORD and you to declare to you the word of the LORD, because you were afraid[y] of the fire and did not go up the mountain.) And he said:

6"I am the LORD your God, who brought you out of Egypt,[z] out of the land of slavery.[a]

7"You shall have no other gods before[l] me.

8"You shall not make for yourself an idol in the form of anything in heaven above or on the earth beneath or in the waters below.[b] 9You shall not bow down to them or worship them; for I, the LORD your God, am a jealous God, punishing the children for the sin of the fathers[c] to the third and fourth generation of those who hate me,[d] 10but showing love to a thousand[e] ⌞generations⌟ of those who love me and keep my commandments.[f]

11"You shall not misuse the name[g] of the LORD your God, for the LORD will not hold anyone guiltless who misuses his name.[h]

12"Observe the Sabbath day by keeping it holy,[i] as the LORD your God has commanded you. 13Six days you shall labor and do all your work, 14but the seventh day[j] is a Sabbath to the LORD your God. On it you shall not do any work, neither you, nor your son or daughter, nor your manservant or maidservant,[k] nor your ox, your donkey or any of your animals, nor the alien within your gates, so that your manservant and maidservant may rest, as you do.[l] 15Remember that you were slaves[m] in Egypt and that the LORD your God brought you out of there with a mighty hand[n] and an outstretched arm.[o] Therefore the LORD your God has commanded you to observe the Sabbath day.

16"Honor your father[p] and your

[i] 48 Hebrew; Syriac (see also Deut. 3:9) Sirion
[k] 49 That is, the Dead Sea [l] 7 Or besides

4:43 Bezer. About 20 miles east of the northeast corner of the Dead Sea.

5:1 Hear, O Israel. See note on 4:1.

5:2 covenant with us at Horeb. See note on Ex 19:5. God's covenant with Israel, given at Mount Horeb (Sinai) and now being confirmed, bound Israel to the Lord as their absolute Sovereign, and to his laws and regulations as their way of life. Adherence to the covenant would bring to Israel the blessings of the Lord, while breaking the covenant would bring against them the punishments described as "curses" (see, e.g., 28:15–20). Jer 31:31–34 predicted the establishing of a new covenant, which made the Sinaitic covenant obsolete (see Heb 7:22; see also Heb 8:6–13; 10:15–18 and notes). See chart on "Major Covenants in the OT," p. 19.

5:3 not with our fathers ... but with us. The covenant was made with those who were present at Sinai, but since they were representatives of the nation, it was made with all succeeding generations as well.

5:5 See vv. 23–26; Ex 20:18–21.

5:6–21 The Ten Commandments are both the basis and the heart of Israel's relationship with the Lord. It is almost impossible to exaggerate their effect on subsequent history. They constitute the basis of moral principles throughout the Western world, and they summarize what the one true God expects of his people in terms of faith, worship and conduct (see notes on Ex 20:3–17).

5:12 as the LORD your God has commanded you. Missing from the parallel verse in Exodus (20:8), this clause reminds the people of the divine origin of the Ten Commandments 40 years earlier (see vv. 15–16).

5:14 so that your manservant and maidservant may rest. See note on Ex 20:10; see also v. 15.

5:15 Remember. See note on 4:10.

5:16–21 The NT quotes often from this section of the Ten Commandments.

mother,[q] as the LORD your God has commanded you, so that you may live long[r] and that it may go well with you in the land the LORD your God is giving you.

17"You shall not murder.[s]

18"You shall not commit adultery.[t]

19"You shall not steal.[u]

20"You shall not give false testimony against your neighbor.[v]

21"You shall not covet your neighbor's wife. You shall not set your desire on your neighbor's house or land, his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor."[w]

22These are the commandments the LORD proclaimed in a loud voice to your whole assembly there on the mountain from out of the fire, the cloud and the deep darkness;[x] and he added nothing more. Then he wrote them on two stone tablets[y] and gave them to me.

23When you heard the voice out of the darkness, while the mountain was ablaze with fire, all the leading men of your tribes and your elders[z] came to me. 24And you said, "The LORD our God has shown us[a] his glory and his majesty,[b] and we have heard his voice from the fire. Today we have seen that a man can live even if God speaks with him.[c] 25But now, why should we die? This great fire will consume us, and we will die if we hear the voice of the LORD our God any longer.[d] 26For what mortal man has ever heard the voice of the living God speaking out of fire, as we have, and survived?[e] 27Go near and listen to all that the LORD our God says.[f] Then tell us whatever the LORD our God tells you. We will listen and obey."[g]

28The LORD heard you when you spoke to me and the LORD said to me, "I have heard what this people said to you. Everything they said was good.[h] 29Oh, that their hearts would be inclined to fear me[i] and keep all my commands[j] always, so that it might go well with them and their children forever![k]

30"Go, tell them to return to their tents. 31But you stay here[l] with me so that I may give you all the commands, decrees and laws you are to teach them to follow in the land I am giving them to possess."

32So be careful to do what the LORD your God has commanded you;[m] do not turn aside to the right or to the left.[n] 33Walk in all the way that the LORD your God has commanded you,[o] so that you may live and prosper and prolong your days[p] in the land that you will possess.

Love the LORD Your God

6 These are the commands, decrees and laws the LORD your God directed me to teach you to observe in the land that you are crossing the Jordan to possess, 2so that you, your children and their children after them may fear[q] the LORD your God as long as you live[r] by keeping all his decrees and commands[s] that I give you, and so that you may enjoy long life.[t] 3Hear, O Israel, and be careful to obey[u] so that it may go well with you and that you may increase greatly[v] in a land flowing with milk and honey,[w] just as the LORD, the God of your fathers, promised[x] you.

4Hear, O Israel: The LORD our God, the LORD is one.[my] 5Love[z] the LORD your God with all your heart[a] and with all your soul and with all your strength.[b] 6These commandments that I give you today are to be upon your hearts.[c] 7Impress them on your children. 5:22 commandments. Lit. "words" (see note on Ex 20:1). two stone tablets. See note on Ex 31:18.
5:25 we will die. See notes on Ge 16:13; 32:30.
5:27 We will listen and obey. See note on Ex 19:8.
6:2 fear the LORD. See note on Ge 20:11. enjoy long life. See 4:40; 5:16,33. By obeying the Lord and keeping his decrees, individual Israelites would enjoy long life in the land, and the people as a whole would enjoy a long national existence in the land.
6:3–4 Hear, O Israel. See note on 4:1.
6:3 land flowing with milk and honey. See note on Ex 3:8. The phrase is used 14 times from Exodus through Deuteronomy and 5 times elsewhere in the OT (see especially 32:13–14).
6:4–9 Known as the Shema, Hebrew for "Hear." It has become the Jewish confession of faith, recited daily by the pious (see Mt 22:37–38; Mk 12:29–30; Lk 10:27).
6:4 the LORD is one. A divinely revealed insight, especially important in view of the multiplicity of Baals and other gods of Canaan and elsewhere (see, e.g., Jdg 2:11–13).
6:5 Love the LORD. Love for God and neighbor (see Lev 19:18) is built on the love that the Lord has for his people (1Jn 4:19–21) and on his identification with them. Such love is to be total, involving one's whole being (see notes on 4:29; Jos 22:5).
6:6 commandments ... upon your hearts. A feature that would especially characterize the "new covenant" (see Jer 31:33).
6:8–9 Many Jews take these verses literally and tie phyas symbols on your hands and bind them on your foreheads.[e] [9]Write them on the doorframes of your houses and on your gates.[f]

[10]When the LORD your God brings you into the land he swore to your fathers, to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, to give you—a land with large, flourishing cities you did not build,[g] [11]houses filled with all kinds of good things you did not provide, wells you did not dig,[h] and vineyards and olive groves you did not plant—then when you eat and are satisfied,[i] [12]be careful that you do not forget[j] the LORD, who brought you out of Egypt, out of the land of slavery.

[13]Fear the LORD[k] your God, serve him only[l] and take your oaths[m] in his name.[n] [14]Do not follow other gods, the gods of the peoples around you; [15]for the LORD your God[o], who is among you, is a jealous God and his anger will burn against you, and he will destroy you from the face of the land. [16]Do not test the LORD your God[p] as you did at Massah. [17]Be sure to keep[q] the commands of the LORD your God and the stipulations and decrees he has given you.[r] [18]Do what is right and good in the LORD's sight,[s] so that it may go well[t] with you and you may go in and take over the good land that the LORD promised on oath to your forefathers, [19]thrusting out all your enemies[u] before you, as the LORD said.

[20]In the future, when your son asks you,[v] "What is the meaning of the stipulations, decrees and laws the LORD our God has commanded you?" [21]tell him: "We were slaves of Pharaoh in Egypt, but the LORD brought us out of Egypt with a mighty hand.[w] [22]Before our eyes the LORD sent miraculous signs and wonders—great and terrible—upon Egypt and Pharaoh and his whole household. [23]But he brought us out from there to bring us in and give us the land that he promised on oath to our forefathers. [24]The LORD commanded us to obey all these decrees and to fear the LORD our God,[x] so that we might always prosper and be kept alive, as is the case today.[y] [25]And if we are careful to obey all this law[z] before the LORD our God, as he has commanded us, that will be our righteousness.[a]"

Driving Out the Nations

7 When the LORD your God brings you into the land you are entering to possess[b] and drives out before you many nations[c]—the Hittites,[d] Girgashites,[e] Amorites,[f] Canaanites, Perizzites,[g] Hivites[h] and Jebusites,[i] seven nations larger and stronger than you— [2]and when the LORD your God has delivered[j] them over to you and you have defeated them, then you must destroy[k] them totally.[n][l] Make no treaty[m] with them, and show them no mercy.[n] [3]Do not intermarry with them.[o] Do not give your daughters to their sons or take their daughters for your sons, [4]for they will turn your sons away from following me to serve other gods,[p] and the LORD's anger will burn against you and will quickly destroy[q] you. [5]This is what you are to do to them: Break down their altars, smash their sacred stones, cut down their Asherah poles[o][r] and burn their idols in the fire.[s] [6]For you are a people holy[t] to the LORD your God.[u] The LORD your

[o] 5 That is, symbols of the goddess Asherah; here and elsewhere in Deuteronomy

lacteries (see note on Mt 23:5) to their foreheads and left arms. They also attach mezuzot (small wooden or metal containers in which passages of Scripture are placed) to the doorframes of their houses. But a figurative interpretation is supported by 11:18–20; Ex 13:9,16. See note on Ex 13:9.

6:10–12 Because the emphasis in Scripture is always on what God does and not on what his people achieve, they are never to forget what he has done for them.

6:13 Quoted in part by Jesus in response to Satan's temptation (Mt 4:10; Lk 4:8). Jesus quoted from Deuteronomy in response to the devil's other two temptations as well (see notes on v. 16; 8:3).

6:15 jealous God. See note on Ex 20:5.

6:16 Quoted in part by Jesus in Mt 4:7; Lk 4:12 (see also note on v. 13). as you did at Massah. See 9:22; 33:8; see also note on Ex 17:7.

6:20 See Ex 12:26 and note.

6:23 brought us out ... to bring us in. See note on Ex 6:7–8.

6:25 righteousness. Probably here refers to a true, personal relationship with the covenant Lord that manifests itself in the daily lives of God's people (see 24:13).

7:1 Hittites ... Jebusites. See 20:17; see also notes on Ge 10:6,15–18; 13:7. seven nations. See note on Ex 3:8.

7:2–5 Make no treaty ... Do not intermarry ... Break down their altars. Israel was to have no association—political, social or religious—with the idol worshipers of Canaan (see v. 16; see also note on 2:34).

7:2 destroy them totally. See note on 2:34.

7:4 turn your sons ... to serve other gods. The Lord's command against intermarriage with foreigners was not racially motivated but was intended to prevent spiritual contamination and apostasy (see, e.g., 1Ki 11:1–11; Ne 13:25–27).

7:5 altars ... sacred stones ... Asherah poles. Cult objects of Canaanite idolatrous worship (see 12:3; 16:21–22). See also NIV text note; Ex 34:13 and note.

7:6 holy. Separated from all corrupting people or things and consecrated totally to the Lord (see note

God has chosen[u] you out of all the peoples on the face of the earth to be his people, his treasured possession.[w]

7The LORD did not set his affection on you and choose you because you were more numerous[x] than other peoples, for you were the fewest[y] of all peoples.[z] 8But it was because the LORD loved[a] you and kept the oath he swore[b] to your forefathers that he brought you out with a mighty hand[c] and redeemed[d] you from the land of slavery,[e] from the power of Pharaoh king of Egypt. 9Know therefore that the LORD your God is God;[f] he is the faithful God,[g] keeping his covenant of love[h] to a thousand generations[i] of those who love him and keep his commands.[j] 10But > those who hate him he will repay to their face by destruction; > he will not be slow to repay to their face those who hate him.[k]

11Therefore, take care to follow the commands, decrees and laws I give you today.

12If you pay attention to these laws and are careful to follow them, then the LORD your God will keep his covenant of love with you, as he swore to your forefathers.[l] 13He will love you and bless you[m] and increase your numbers.[n] He will bless the fruit of your womb,[o] the crops of your land—your grain, new wine[p] and oil[q]—the calves of your herds and the lambs of your flocks in the land that he swore to your forefathers to give you.[r] 14You will be blessed more than any other people; none of your men or women will be childless, nor any of your livestock without young.[s] 15The LORD will keep you free from every disease.[t] He will not inflict on you the horrible diseases you knew in Egypt,[u] but he will inflict them on all who hate you.[v] 16You must destroy all the peoples the LORD your God gives over to you.[w] Do not look on them with pity[x] and do not serve their gods,[y] for that will be a snare[z] to you.

17You may say to yourselves, "These nations are stronger than we are. How can we drive them out?[a]" 18But do not be afraid[b] of them; remember well what the LORD your God did to Pharaoh and to all Egypt.[c] 19You saw with your own eyes the great trials, the miraculous signs and wonders, the mighty hand[d] and outstretched arm, with which the LORD your God brought you out. The LORD your God will do the same to all the peoples you now fear.[e] 20Moreover, the LORD your God will send the hornet[f] among them until even the survivors who hide from you have perished. 21Do not be terrified by them, for the LORD your God, who is among you,[g] is a great and awesome God.[h] 22The LORD your God will drive out those nations before you, little by little.[i] You will not be allowed to eliminate them all at once, or the wild animals will multiply around you. 23But the LORD your God will deliver them over to you, throwing them into great confusion until they are destroyed.[j] 24He will give their kings[k] into your hand,[l] and you will wipe out their names from under heaven. No one will be able to stand up against you;[m] you will destroy them.[n] 25The images of their gods you are to burn[o] in the fire. Do not covet[p] the silver and gold on them, and do not take it for yourselves, or you will be ensnared[q] by it, for it is detestable[r] to the LORD your God. 26Do not bring a detestable thing into your house or you, like it, will be set apart for destruction.[s] Utterly abhor and detest it, for it is set apart for destruction.

Do Not Forget the LORD

8 Be careful to follow every command I am giving you today, so that you may live[t] and increase and may enter and possess the land that the LORD promised on oath to your forefathers.[u] 2Remember how the LORD your God led[v] you all the way in the desert these forty years, to humble you and to test[w] you in order to know what was in your heart, whether or not you would keep his com-

7:8 because the LORD loved you. The "covenant of love" (vv. 9,12) stems from God's love for his people, based on his character and embodied in his covenant; it does not stem from the numerical greatness of the people or any virtue of theirs. His love must be reciprocated by his people (see vv. 9–10; 9:4–6; see also note on 6:5).

mands. 3He humbled[x] you, causing you to hunger and then feeding you with manna,[y] which neither you nor your fathers had known, to teach[z] you that man does not live on bread[a] alone but on every word that comes from the mouth[b] of the LORD.[c] 4Your clothes did not wear out and your feet did not swell during these forty years.[d] 5Know then in your heart that as a man disciplines his son, so the LORD your God disciplines you.[e]

6Observe the commands of the LORD your God, walking in his ways[f] and revering him.[g] 7For the LORD your God is bringing you into a good land[h]—a land with streams and pools of water, with springs flowing in the valleys and hills;[i] 8a land with wheat and barley,[j] vines[k] and fig trees,[l] pomegranates, olive oil and honey;[m] 9a land where bread[n] will not be scarce and you will lack nothing;[o] a land where the rocks are iron and you can dig copper out of the hills.[p]

10When you have eaten and are satisfied,[q] praise the LORD your God for the good land he has given you. 11Be careful that you do not forget[r] the LORD your God, failing to observe his commands, his laws and his decrees that I am giving you this day. 12Otherwise, when you eat and are satisfied, when you build fine houses and settle down,[s] 13and when your herds and flocks grow large and your silver and gold increase and all you have is multiplied, 14then your heart will become proud and you will forget[t] the LORD your God, who brought you out of Egypt, out of the land of slavery. 15He led you through the vast and dreadful desert,[u] that thirsty and waterless land, with its venomous snakes[v] and scorpions. He brought you water out of hard rock.[w] 16He gave you manna[x] to eat in the desert, something your fathers had never known,[y] to humble and to test[z] you so that in the end it might go well with you. 17You may say to yourself,[a] "My power and the strength of my hands[b] have produced this wealth for me." 18But remember the LORD your God, for it is he who gives you the ability to produce wealth,[c] and so confirms his covenant, which he swore to your forefathers, as it is today.

19If you ever forget the LORD your God and follow other gods[d] and worship and bow down to them, I testify against you today that you will surely be destroyed.[e] 20Like the nations[f] the LORD destroyed before you, so you will be destroyed for not obeying the LORD your God.[g]

Not Because of Israel's Righteousness

9 Hear, O Israel. You are now about to cross the Jordan[h] to go in and dispossess nations greater and stronger than you,[i] with large cities[j] that have walls up to the sky.[k] 2The people are strong and tall—Anakites! You know about them and have heard it said: "Who can stand up against the Anakites?"[l] 3But be assured today that the LORD your God is the one who goes across ahead of you[m] like a devouring fire.[n] He will destroy them; he will subdue them before you. And you will drive them out and annihilate them quickly,[o] as the LORD has promised you.

4After the LORD your God has driven them out before you, do not say to yourself,[p] "The LORD has brought me here to take possession of this land because of my righteousness." No, it is on account of the wickedness[q] of these nations[r]

Bread sustains but does not guarantee life, which is God's gift to those who trust in and live by his word: his commands and promises (see vv. 1,18). God's "discipline" (v. 5) of his people by bringing them through the desert taught them this fundamental truth. There they were humbled (cf. v. 14) by being cast in total dependence on the Lord.

Both copper and iron were plentiful in the part of the Arabah south of the Dead Sea. Some of the copper mines date to the time of Solomon and earlier. Zarethan was a center for bronze works in Solomon's time (1Ki 7:45–46). Some bronze objects from this site precede the Solomonic period, and today there are copper works at Timnah in the Negev.

that the LORD is going to drive them out before you. 5It is not because of your righteousness or your integrity[s] that you are going in to take possession of their land; but on account of the wickedness[t] of these nations,[u] the LORD your God will drive them out[v] before you, to accomplish what he swore[w] to your fathers, to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.[x] 6Understand, then, that it is not because of your righteousness that the LORD your God is giving you this good land to possess, for you are a stiff-necked people.[y]

The Golden Calf

7Remember this and never forget how you provoked[z] the LORD your God to anger in the desert. From the day you left Egypt until you arrived here, you have been rebellious[a] against the LORD.[b] 8At Horeb you aroused the LORD's wrath[c] so that he was angry enough to destroy you.[d] 9When I went up on the mountain to receive the tablets of stone, the tablets of the covenant[e] that the LORD had made with you, I stayed on the mountain forty days[f] and forty nights; I ate no bread and drank no water.[g] 10The LORD gave me two stone tablets inscribed by the finger of God.[h] On them were all the commandments the LORD proclaimed to you on the mountain out of the fire, on the day of the assembly.[i]

11At the end of the forty days and forty nights,[j] the LORD gave me the two stone tablets,[k] the tablets of the covenant. 12Then the LORD told me, "Go down from here at once, because your people whom you brought out of Egypt have become corrupt.[l] They have turned away quickly[m] from what I commanded them and have made a cast idol for themselves."

13And the LORD said to me, "I have seen this people[n], and they are a stiff-necked people indeed! 14Let me alone,[o] so that I may destroy them and blot out[p] their name from under heaven.[q] And I will make you into a nation stronger and more numerous than they."

15So I turned and went down from the mountain while it was ablaze with fire. And the two tablets of the covenant were in my hands.[p][r] 16When I looked, I saw that you had sinned against the LORD your God; you had made for yourselves an idol cast in the shape of a calf.[s] You had turned aside quickly from the way that the LORD had commanded you. 17So I took the two tablets and threw them out of my hands, breaking them to pieces before your eyes.

18Then once again I fell[t] prostrate before the LORD for forty days and forty nights; I ate no bread and drank no water,[u] because of all the sin you had committed,[v] doing what was evil in the LORD's sight and so provoking him to anger. 19I feared the anger and wrath of the LORD, for he was angry enough with you to destroy you.[w] But again the LORD listened to me.[x] 20And the LORD was angry enough with Aaron to destroy him, but at that time I prayed for Aaron too. 21Also I took that sinful thing of yours, the calf you had made, and burned it in the fire. Then I crushed it and ground it to powder as fine as dust[y] and threw the dust into a stream that flowed down the mountain.[z]

22You also made the LORD angry[a] at Taberah,[b] at Massah[c] and at Kibroth Hattaavah.[d]

23And when the LORD sent you out from Kadesh Barnea,[e] he said, "Go up and take possession[f] of the land I have given you." But you rebelled[g] against the command of the LORD your God. You did not trust[h] him or obey him. 24You have been rebellious against the LORD ever since I have known you.[i]

25I lay prostrate before the LORD those forty days and forty nights[j] because the LORD had said he would destroy you.[k] 26I prayed to the LORD and said, "O Sovereign LORD, do not destroy your people,[l] your own inheritance[m] that you redeemed[n] by your great power and brought out of Egypt with a mighty hand.[o] 27Remember your servants Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. Overlook the stubbornness[p] of this people, their wickedness and their sin. 28Otherwise, the country[q] from which you brought us will say, 'Because the LORD was not able to take them into the land he had promised them, and because he hated them,[r] he brought them out to put them to death in the desert.'[s] 29But they are your people,[t] your inheritance[u] that you

Tablets Like the First Ones

10 At that time the LORD said to me, "Chisel out two stone tablets[w] like the first ones and come up to me on the mountain. Also make a wooden chest.[q] 2I will write on the tablets the words that were on the first tablets, which you broke. Then you are to put them in the chest."[x]

3So I made the ark out of acacia wood[y] and chiseled[z] out two stone tablets like the first ones, and I went up on the mountain with the two tablets in my hands. 4The LORD wrote on these tablets what he had written before, the Ten Commandments[a] he had proclaimed[b] to you on the mountain, out of the fire, on the day of the assembly.[c] And the LORD gave them to me. 5Then I came back down the mountain[d] and put the tablets in the ark[e] I had made,[f] as the LORD commanded me, and they are there now.[g]

6(The Israelites traveled from the wells of the Jaakanites to Moserah.[h] There Aaron died[i] and was buried, and Eleazar[j] his son succeeded him as priest.[k] 7From there they traveled to Gudgodah and on to Jotbathah, a land with streams of water.[l] 8At that time the LORD set apart the tribe of Levi[m] to carry the ark of the covenant[n] of the LORD, to stand before the LORD to minister[o] and to pronounce blessings[p] in his name, as they still do today.[q] 9That is why the Levites have no share or inheritance among their brothers; the LORD is their inheritance,[r] as the LORD your God told them.)

10Now I had stayed on the mountain forty days and nights, as I did the first time, and the LORD listened to me at this time also. It was not his will to destroy you.[s] 11"Go," the LORD said to me, "and lead the people on their way, so that they may enter and possess the land that I swore to their fathers to give them."

Fear the LORD

12And now, O Israel, what does the LORD your God ask of you[t] but to fear[u] the LORD your God, to walk[v] in all his ways, to love him,[w] to serve the LORD[x] your God with all your heart[y] and with all your soul,[z] 13and to observe the LORD's commands[a] and decrees that I am giving you today for your own good?[b]

experienced the discipline of the LORD your God:[j] his majesty,[k] his mighty hand, his outstretched arm;[l] [3]the signs he performed and the things he did in the heart of Egypt, both to Pharaoh king of Egypt and to his whole country;[m] [4]what he did to the Egyptian army, to its horses and chariots,[n] how he overwhelmed them with the waters of the Red Sea[ro] as they were pursuing you, and how the LORD brought lasting ruin on them. [5]It was not your children who saw what he did for you in the desert until you arrived at this place, [6]and what he did[p] to Dathan and Abiram, sons of Eliab the Reubenite, when the earth opened[q] its mouth right in the middle of all Israel and swallowed them up with their households, their tents and every living thing that belonged to them. [7]But it was your own eyes that saw all these great things the LORD has done.[r]

[8]Observe therefore all the commands[s] I am giving you today, so that you may have the strength to go in and take over the land that you are crossing the Jordan to possess,[t] [9]and so that you may live long[u] in the land that the LORD swore[v] to your forefathers to give to them and their descendants, a land flowing with milk and honey.[w] [10]The land you are entering to take over is not like the land of Egypt,[x] from which you have come, where you planted your seed and irrigated it by foot as in a vegetable garden. [11]But the land you are crossing the Jordan to take possession of is a land of mountains and valleys[y] that drinks rain from heaven.[z] [12]It is a land the LORD your God cares for; the eyes[a] of the LORD your God are continually on it from the beginning of the year to its end.

[13]So if you faithfully obey[b] the commands I am giving you today—to love[c] the LORD your God and to serve him with all your heart and with all your soul[d]— [14]then I will send rain[e] on your land in its season, both autumn and spring rains,[f] so that you may gather in your grain, new wine and oil. [15]I will provide grass[g] in the fields for your cattle, and you will eat and be satisfied.[h]

[16]Be careful, or you will be enticed to turn away and worship other gods and bow down to them.[i] [17]Then the LORD's anger[j] will burn against you, and he will shut[k] the heavens so that it will not rain and the ground will yield no produce,[l] and you will soon perish[m] from the good land the LORD is giving you. [18]Fix these words of mine in your hearts and minds; tie them as symbols on your hands and bind them on your foreheads.[n] [19]Teach them to your children,[o] talking about them when you sit at home and when you walk along the road, when you lie down and when you get up.[p] [20]Write them on the doorframes of your houses and on your gates,[q] [21]so that your days and the days of your children may be many[r] in the land that the LORD swore to give your forefathers, as many as the days that the heavens are above the earth.[s]

[22]If you carefully observe[t] all these commands I am giving you to follow—to love[u] the LORD your God, to walk in all his ways and to hold fast[v] to him— [23]then the LORD will drive out[w] all these nations[x] before you, and you will dispossess nations larger and stronger than you.[y] [24]Every place where you set your foot will be yours:[z] Your territory will extend from the desert to Lebanon, and from the Euphrates River[a] to the western sea.[s] [25]No man will be able to stand against you. The LORD your God, as he promised you, will put the terror[b] and fear of you on the whole land, wherever you go.[c]

[26]See, I am setting before you today a blessing[d] and a curse[e]— [27]the blessing[f] if you obey the commands of the LORD your God that I am giving you today; [28]the curse if you disobey[g] the commands of the LORD your God and turn from the way that I command you today by following other gods,[h] which you have not known. claim on Mount Gerizim[i] the blessings, and on Mount Ebal[j] the curses.[k] 30As you know, these mountains are across the Jordan, west of the road,[t] toward the setting sun, near the great trees of Moreh,[l] in the territory of those Canaanites living in the Arabah in the vicinity of Gilgal.[m] 31You are about to cross the Jordan to enter and take possession[n] of the land the LORD your God is giving[o] you. When you have taken it over and are living there, 32be sure that you obey all the decrees and laws I am setting before you today.

The One Place of Worship

12 These are the decrees[p] and laws you must be careful to follow in the land that the LORD, the God of your fathers, has given you to possess—as long as you live in the land.[q] 2Destroy completely all the places on the high mountains[r] and on the hills and under every spreading tree[s] where the nations you are dispossessing worship their gods. 3Break down their altars, smash[t] their sacred stones and burn[u] their Asherah[v] poles in the fire; cut down the idols of their gods and wipe out their names[w] from those places.

4You must not worship the LORD your God in their way.[x] 5But you are to seek the place the LORD your God will choose from among all your tribes to put his Name[y] there for his dwelling.[z] To that place you must go; 6there bring your burnt offerings and sacrifices, your tithes[a] and special gifts, what you have vowed[b] to give and your freewill offerings, and the firstborn of your herds and flocks.[c] 7There, in the presence[d] of the LORD your God, you and your families shall eat and shall rejoice[e] in everything you have put your hand to, because the LORD your God has blessed you.

8You are not to do as we do here today, everyone as he sees fit,[f] 9since you have not yet reached the resting place[g] and the inheritance[h] the LORD your God is giving you. 10But you will cross the Jordan and settle in the land the LORD your God is giving[i] you as an inheritance, and he will give you rest[j] from all your enemies around you so that you will live in safety. 11Then to the place the LORD your God will choose as a dwelling for his Name[k]—there you are to bring everything I command you: your burnt offerings and sacrifices, your tithes and special gifts, and all the choice possessions you have vowed to the LORD.[l] 12And there rejoice[m] before the LORD your God, you, your sons and daughters, your menservants and maidservants, and the Levites[n] from your towns, who have no allotment or inheritance[o] of their own. 13Be careful not to sacrifice your burnt offerings anywhere you please.[p] 14Offer them only at the place the LORD will choose[q] in one of your tribes, and there observe everything I command you.

15Nevertheless, you may slaughter your animals in any of your towns and eat as much of the meat as you want, as if it were gazelle or deer,[r] according to the blessing the LORD your God gives you. Both the ceremonially unclean and the clean may eat it. 16But you must not eat the blood;[s] pour[t] it out on the ground like water.[u] 17You must not eat in your own towns the tithe[v] of your grain and new wine and oil,[w] or the firstborn of your herds and flocks, or whatever you have vowed to give,[x] or your freewill offerings or special gifts.[y] 18Instead, you are to eat[z] them in the presence of the LORD your God at the place the LORD your God will choose[a]—you, your sons and daughters, your menservants and maid-

[t] 30 Or Jordan, westward

11:30 road. Probably the north-south road that ran parallel to the Jordan between the Sea of Galilee and the Dead Sea. great trees of Moreh. See note on Ge 12:6. Arabah. See note on 1:1. The Canaanites who lived there controlled the territory around Gerizim and Ebal.

12:3 altars . . . sacred stones . . . Asherah poles. See note on 7:5.

12:4 in their way. The rituals and accessories of idolatrous worship were not to be used to worship the Lord, the one true God (cf. vv. 29–31).

12:5 the place the LORD . . . will choose . . . to put his Name. The tabernacle, the Lord's dwelling place during the desert journey, will be located in the city in Canaan where the Lord would choose to dwell. Moses stresses the importance of centralizing the place of worship as he prepares the people for settlement in the promised land, where the Canaanites had established many places of worship. See vv. 11,14,18,21,26; 14:23–24; 16:2,6,11; 26:2.

12:6 See v. 11 and chart on "OT Sacrifices," p. 149.

12:8 as we do here today. Israel was not able to follow all the procedures of the sacrificial system during the desert wandering and conquest periods. Moses was giving directives for their worship and way of life when settled in the land (vv. 10–14). as he sees fit. See note on Jdg 17:6.

12:9 resting place. See note on 3:20.

12:11 dwelling for his Name. Equivalent to "dwelling for himself." See notes on Ex 3:13–15.

12:12 rejoice before the LORD. Joy, based on the Lord's blessings, was to be a major feature of Hebrew life and worship in the promised land (vv. 7,18). Levites . . . have no . . . inheritance. See 10:9; Nu 18:20,24.

12:13 not . . . anywhere you please. Sacrifices and offerings to the Lord were to be brought only to the central sanctuary, not to the various Canaanite worship sites.

12:16,24 you must not eat the blood. See notes on Ge 9:4; Lev 17:11.

servants, and the Levites from your towns—and you are to rejoice[b] before the LORD your God in everything you put your hand to. [19]Be careful not to neglect the Levites[c] as long as you live in your land.[d]

[20]When the LORD your God has enlarged your territory[e] as he promised[f] you, and you crave meat[g] and say, "I would like some meat," then you may eat as much of it as you want. [21]If the place where the LORD your God chooses to put his Name[h] is too far away from you, you may slaughter animals from the herds and flocks the LORD has given you, as I have commanded you, and in your own towns you may eat as much of them as you want.[i] [22]Eat them as you would gazelle or deer.[j] Both the ceremonially unclean and the clean may eat. [23]But be sure you do not eat the blood,[k] because the blood is the life, and you must not eat the life with the meat.[l] [24]You must not eat the blood; pour it out on the ground like water.[m] [25]Do not eat it, so that it may go well[n] with you and your children after you, because you will be doing what is right[o] in the eyes of the LORD.

[26]But take your consecrated things and whatever you have vowed to give,[p] and go to the place the LORD will choose. [27]Present your burnt offerings[q] on the altar of the LORD your God, both the meat and the blood. The blood of your sacrifices must be poured beside the altar of the LORD your God, but you may eat[r] the meat. [28]Be careful to obey all these regulations I am giving you, so that it may always go well[s] with you and your children after you, because you will be doing what is good and right in the eyes of the LORD your God.

[29]The LORD your God will cut off[t] before you the nations you are about to invade and dispossess. But when you have driven them out and settled in their land,[u] [30]and after they have been destroyed before you, be careful not to be ensnared[v] by inquiring about their gods, saying, "How do these nations serve their gods? We will do the same."[w] [31]You must not worship the LORD your God in their way, because in worshiping their gods, they do all kinds of detestable things the LORD hates.[x] They even burn their sons[y] and daughters in the fire as sacrifices to their gods.[z]

[32]See that you do all I command you; do not add[a] to it or take away from it.

Worshiping Other Gods

13 If a prophet,[b] or one who foretells by dreams,[c] appears among you and announces to you a miraculous sign or wonder, [2]and if the sign[d] or wonder of which he has spoken takes place, and he says, "Let us follow other gods"[e] (gods you have not known) "and let us worship them," [3]you must not listen to the words of that prophet[f] or dreamer.[g] The LORD your God is testing[h] you to find out whether you love[i] him with all your heart and with all your soul. [4]It is the LORD your God you must follow,[j] and him you must revere.[k] Keep his commands and obey him; serve him and hold fast[l] to him. [5]That prophet or dreamer must be put to death,[m] because he preached rebellion against the LORD your God, who brought you out of Egypt and redeemed you from the land of slavery; he has tried to turn[n] you from the way the LORD your God commanded you to follow. You must purge the evil[o] from among you.

[6]If your very own brother, or your son or daughter, or the wife you love, or your closest friend secretly entices[p] you, saying, "Let us go and worship other gods"[q] (gods that neither you nor your fathers have known, [7]gods of the peoples around you, whether near or far, from one end of the land to the other), [8]do not yield[r] to him or listen to him. Show him no pity.[s] Do not spare him or shield him. [9]You must certainly put him to death.[t] Your hand[u] must be the first in putting him to death, and then the hands of all the people. [10]Stone him to death, because he tried to turn you away[v] from the LORD your God, who brought you out of Egypt, out of the land of slavery. [11]Then all Israel will hear and be afraid,[w] and no one among you will do such an evil thing again.

[12]If you hear it said about one of the towns the LORD your God is giving you to live in [13]that wicked men[x] have arisen among you and have led the people of their town astray, saying, "Let us go and worship other gods" (gods you have not known), [14]then you must inquire, probe and investigate it thoroughly.[y] And if it is true and it has been proved that this detestable thing has been done among you,[z] [15]you must certainly put to the sword all who live in that town. Destroy it completely,[u][a] both its people and its livestock.[b] [16]Gather all the plunder of the town into the middle of the public square and completely burn the town[c] and all its plunder as a whole burnt offering to the LORD your God.[d] It is to remain a ruin[e] forever, never to be rebuilt. [17]None of those condemned things[u] shall be found in your hands, so that the LORD will turn from his fierce anger;[f] he will show you mercy,[g] have compassion[h] on you, and increase your numbers,[i] as he promised[j] on oath to your forefathers, [18]because you obey the LORD your God, keeping all his commands that I am giving you today and doing what is right[k] in his eyes.

Clean and Unclean Food

14:3–20pp — Lev 11:1–23

14 You are the children[l] of the LORD your God. Do not cut yourselves or shave the front of your heads for the dead, [2]for you are a people holy[m] to the LORD your God.[n] Out of all the peoples on the face of the earth, the LORD has chosen you to be his treasured possession.[o]

[3]Do not eat any detestable thing.[p] [4]These are the animals you may eat:[q] the ox, the sheep, the goat,[r] [5]the deer,[s] the gazelle, the roe deer, the wild goat,[t] the ibex, the antelope and the mountain sheep.[v] [6]You may eat any animal that has a split hoof divided in two and that chews the cud. [7]However, of those that chew the cud or that have a split hoof completely divided you may not eat the camel, the rabbit or the coney.[w] Although they chew the cud, they do not have a split hoof; they are ceremonially unclean for you. [8]The pig is also unclean; although it has a split hoof, it does not chew the cud. You are not to eat their meat or touch their carcasses.[u]

[9]Of all the creatures living in the water, you may eat any that has fins and scales. [10]But anything that does not have fins and scales you may not eat; for you it is unclean.

[11]You may eat any clean bird. [12]But these you may not eat: the eagle, the vulture, the black vulture, [13]the red kite, the black kite, any kind[v] of falcon,[w] [14]any kind of raven,[x] [15]the horned owl, the screech owl, the gull, any kind of hawk, [16]the little owl, the great owl, the white owl, [17]the desert owl,[y] the osprey, the cormorant, [18]the stork, any kind of heron, the hoopoe and the bat.

[19]All flying insects that swarm are unclean to you; do not eat them. [20]But any winged creature that is clean you may eat.[z]

[21]Do not eat anything you find already dead.[a] You may give it to an alien living in any of your towns, and he may eat it, or you may sell it to a foreigner. But you are a people holy to the LORD your God.[b]

Do not cook a young goat in its mother's milk.[c]

Tithes

[22]Be sure to set aside a tenth[d] of all that your fields produce each year. [23]Eat[e] the tithe of your grain, new wine[f] and oil, and the firstborn of your herds and flocks in the presence of the LORD your God at the place he will choose as a dwelling for his Name,[g] so that you

[u] 15,17 The Hebrew term refers to the irrevocable giving over of things or persons to the LORD, often by totally destroying them. [v] 5 The precise identification of some of the birds and animals in this chapter is uncertain. [w] 7 That is, the hyrax or rock badger

13:13 wicked. See 1Sa 1:16; 2:12; 25:17. The same Hebrew word is also used, e.g., in 1Sa 10:27; 30:22 ("troublemakers"); 1Ki 21:10,13 ("scoundrels"); Pr 6:12 ("scoundrel"). Later, this word (Belial in Hebrew) was used as a name for Satan (2Co 6:15), who is the personification of wickedness and lawlessness.

13:15 Destroy it completely. See note on 2:34.

14:1 cut yourselves. A pagan religious custom (see 1Ki 18:28). shave the front of your heads. Shaving the forehead was a practice of mourners in Canaan.

14:2,21 holy to the LORD. See note on Lev 11:44. The regulations regarding clean and unclean foods were intended to separate Israel from things the Lord had identified as detestable and ceremonially unclean.

14:2 treasured possession. See note on Ex 19:5.

14:3–21 The subject of clean and unclean food is discussed in greater detail in Lev 11 (see notes there).

14:21 Do not eat . . . already dead. Because of the prohibition against eating blood, since the dead animal's blood would not be properly drained (see 12:16,24; see also notes on Ge 9:4; Lev 17:11). Do not cook a young goat in its mother's milk. See note on Ex 23:19.

14:22–29 See Nu 18:21–29. Taken together, the two passages suggest the following: 1. Annually, a tenth of all Israelite produce was to be taken to the city of the central sanctuary for distribution to the Levites. 2. At that time, at an initial festival, all Israelites ate part of the tithe. 3. The rest, which would be by far the major part of it, belonged to the Levites. 4. Every third year the tithe was gathered in the towns and stored for distribution to the Levites and the less fortunate: aliens, fatherless and widows (see 26:12). 5. The Levites were to present to the Lord a tenth of their tithe. See note on Lev 27:30.

14:22 set aside a tenth. See notes on Ge 14:20; 28:22.

14:23 dwelling for his Name. See note on 12:5.

may learn[h] to revere[i] the LORD your God always. 24But if that place is too distant and you have been blessed by the LORD your God and cannot carry your tithe (because the place where the LORD will choose to put his Name is so far away), 25then exchange[j] your tithe for silver, and take the silver with you and go to the place the LORD your God will choose. 26Use the silver to buy whatever you like: cattle, sheep, wine or other fermented drink,[k] or anything you wish. Then you and your household shall eat there in the presence of the LORD your God and rejoice.[l] 27And do not neglect the Levites[m] living in your towns, for they have no allotment or inheritance of their own.[n]

28At the end of every three years, bring all the tithes[o] of that year's produce and store it in your towns,[p] 29so that the Levites (who have no allotment[q] or inheritance[r] of their own) and the aliens,[s] the fatherless and the widows who live in your towns may come and eat and be satisfied,[t] and so that the LORD your God may bless[u] you in all the work of your hands.

The Year for Canceling Debts

15:1–11Ref — Lev 25:8–38

15 At the end of every seven years you must cancel debts.[v] 2This is how it is to be done: Every creditor shall cancel the loan he has made to his fellow Israelite. He shall not require payment from his fellow Israelite or brother, because the LORD's time for canceling debts has been proclaimed. 3You may require payment from a foreigner,[w] but you must cancel any debt your brother owes you. 4However, there should be no poor among you, for in the land the LORD your God is giving you to possess as your inheritance, he will richly bless[x] you, 5if only you fully obey the LORD your God and are careful to follow[y] all these commands I am giving you today. 6For the LORD your God will bless you as he has promised, and you will lend to many nations but will borrow from none. You will rule over many nations but none will rule over you.[z]

7If there is a poor man[a] among your brothers in any of the towns of the land that the LORD your God is giving you, do not be hardhearted or tightfisted[b] toward your poor brother. 8Rather be openhanded[c] and freely lend him whatever he needs. 9Be careful not to harbor this wicked thought: "The seventh year, the year for canceling debts,[d] is near," so that you do not show ill will[e] toward your needy brother and give him nothing. He may then appeal to the LORD against you, and you will be found guilty of sin.[f] 10Give generously to him and do so without a grudging heart;[g] then because of this the LORD your God will bless[h] you in all your work and in everything you put your hand to. 11There will always be poor people[i] in the land. Therefore I command you to be openhanded toward your brothers and toward the poor and needy in your land.[j]

Freeing Servants

15:12–18pp — Ex 21:2–6
15:12–18Ref — Lev 25:38–55

12If a fellow Hebrew, a man or a woman, sells himself to you and serves you six years, in the seventh year you must let him go free.[k] 13And when you release him, do not send him away empty-handed. 14Supply him liberally from your flock, your threshing floor[l] and your winepress. Give to him as the LORD your God has blessed you. 15Remember that you were slaves[m] in Egypt and the LORD your God redeemed you.[n] That is why I give you this command today.

16But if your servant says to you, "I do not want to leave you," because he loves you and your family and is well off with you, 17then take an awl and push it through his ear lobe into the door, and he will become your servant for life. Do the same for your maidservant.

18Do not consider it a hardship to set your servant free, because his service to 15:1 every seven years. See Ex 23:10–11; Lev 25:1–7.

15:3 require payment from a foreigner. Since he was not subject to the command to allow his fields to lie fallow during the seventh year, a foreigner would probably be financially able to pay his debts if asked to do so.

15:4 there should be no poor among you. Because of the Lord's reward for obedience (vv. 4–6), and because of the sabbath-year arrangement (vv. 7–11). This "year for canceling debts" (v. 9) gave Israelites who had experienced economic reverses a way to gain release from indebtedness and so, in a measure, a way to equalize wealth. Cf. the provisions of the Year of Jubilee (Lev 25:8–38).

15:6 you will lend. If Israel failed to follow the Lord's commands, the reverse would be true (see 28:43–44).

15:11 There will always be poor people. See also Jesus' statement in Mt 26:11. Even in the best of societies under the most enlightened laws, the uncertainties of life and the variations among citizens result in some people becoming poor. In such cases the Lord commands that generosity and kindness be extended to them.

15:15 Remember. See note on 4:10.

15:16 because he loves you. In Ex 21:5–6 an additional reason is given: The servant may want to stay with his family.

The Firstborn Animals

[19]Set apart for the LORD[o] your God every firstborn male[p] of your herds and flocks.[q] Do not put the firstborn of your oxen to work, and do not shear the firstborn of your sheep.[r] [20]Each year you and your family are to eat them in the presence of the LORD your God at the place he will choose.[s] [21]If an animal has a defect,[t] is lame or blind, or has any serious flaw, you must not sacrifice it to the LORD your God.[u] [22]You are to eat it in your own towns. Both the ceremonially unclean and the clean may eat it, as if it were gazelle or deer.[v] [23]But you must not eat the blood; pour it out on the ground like water.[w]

Passover

16:1–8pp — Ex 12:14–20; Lev 23:4–8; Nu 28:16–25

16 Observe the month of Abib[x] and celebrate the Passover[y] of the LORD your God, because in the month of Abib he brought you out of Egypt by night. [2]Sacrifice as the Passover to the LORD your God an animal from your flock or herd at the place the LORD will choose as a dwelling for his Name.[z] [3]Do not eat it with bread made with yeast, but for seven days eat unleavened bread, the bread of affliction,[a] because you left Egypt in haste[b]—so that all the days of your life you may remember the time of your departure from Egypt.[c] [4]Let no yeast be found in your possession in all your land for seven days. Do not let any of the meat you sacrifice on the evening[d] of the first day remain until morning.[e]

[5]You must not sacrifice the Passover in any town the LORD your God gives you [6]except in the place he will choose as a dwelling for his Name. There you must sacrifice the Passover in the evening, when the sun goes down, on the anniversary[x][f] of your departure from Egypt. [7]Roast[g] it and eat it at the place the LORD your God will choose. Then in the morning return to your tents. [8]For six days eat unleavened bread and on the seventh day hold an assembly[h] to the LORD your God and do no work.[i]

Feast of Weeks

16:9–12pp — Lev 23:15–22; Nu 28:26–31

[9]Count off seven weeks[j] from the time you begin to put the sickle to the standing grain.[k] [10]Then celebrate the Feast of Weeks to the LORD your God by giving a freewill offering in proportion to the blessings the LORD your God has given you. [11]And rejoice[l] before the LORD your God at the place he will choose as a dwelling for his Name[m]—you, your sons and daughters, your menservants and maidservants, the Levites[n] in your towns, and the aliens,[o] the fatherless and the widows living among you.[p] [12]Remember that you were slaves in Egypt,[q] and follow carefully these decrees.

Feast of Tabernacles

16:13–17pp — Lev 23:33–43; Nu 29:12–39

[13]Celebrate the Feast of Tabernacles for seven days after you have gathered the produce of your threshing floor[r] and your winepress.[s] [14]Be joyful[t] at your Feast—you, your sons and daughters, your menservants and maidservants, and the Levites, the aliens, the fatherless and the widows who live in your towns. [15]For seven days celebrate the Feast to the LORD your God at the place the LORD will choose. For the LORD your God will bless you in all your harvest and in all the work of your hands, and your joy[u] will be complete.

[16]Three times a year all your men must appear[v] before the LORD your God at the place he will choose: at the Feast of Unleavened Bread,[w] the Feast of Weeks "Ancient Texts Relating to the OT," p. xxii). Other ancient legal texts, however, support "equivalent to" as a possible translation of the phrase.

15:19 Set apart ... every firstborn male. Because the Lord saved his people from the plague of death on the firstborn in Egypt (see Ex 12:12,29; 13:2 and note; 13:15).

15:21 If an animal has a defect ... you must not sacrifice it. See note on Lev 1:3.

16:1–8 See Ex 12:1–28; 13:1–16 and notes.

16:1 Abib. See chart on "Hebrew Calendar," p. 101.

16:3,12 remember. See note on 4:10.

16:6 on the anniversary. Referring either to the time of day (see NIV text note), as the preceding phrases do, or to the anniversary of the day it first occurred, as the NIV has translated.

16:7 to your tents. To wherever they were staying while at the festival, whether in permanent or temporary quarters.

16:8 assembly. The Hebrew for this word probably means "closing assembly," as the NIV translates it in Lev 23:36.

16:9 the time you begin to put the sickle to the standing grain. Abib 16, the second day of the Passover Feast.

16:15 your joy will be complete. As a result of God's blessing (cf. Jn 3:29; 15:11; 16:24; Php 2:2; 1Jn 1:4; 2Jn 12).

16:16 Three times a year. The three annual pilgrimage festivals (see Ex 23:14,17; 34:23).

and the Feast of Tabernacles.[x] No man should appear before the LORD empty-handed:[y] [17]Each of you must bring a gift in proportion to the way the LORD your God has blessed you.

Judges

[18]Appoint judges[z] and officials for each of your tribes in every town the LORD your God is giving you, and they shall judge the people fairly.[a] [19]Do not pervert justice[b] or show partiality.[c] Do not accept a bribe,[d] for a bribe blinds the eyes of the wise and twists the words of the righteous. [20]Follow justice and justice alone, so that you may live and possess the land the LORD your God is giving you.

Worshiping Other Gods

[21]Do not set up any wooden Asherah pole[ye] beside the altar you build to the LORD your God,[f] [22]and do not erect a sacred stone,[g] for these the LORD your God hates.

17 Do not sacrifice to the LORD your God an ox or a sheep that has any defect[h] or flaw in it, for that would be detestable[i] to him.[j]

[2]If a man or woman living among you in one of the towns the LORD gives you is found doing evil in the eyes of the LORD your God in violation of his covenant,[k] [3]and contrary to my command[l] has worshiped other gods,[m] bowing down to them or to the sun[n] or the moon or the stars of the sky,[o] [4]and this has been brought to your attention, then you must investigate it thoroughly. If it is true[p] and it has been proved that this detestable thing has been done in Israel,[q] [5]take the man or woman who has done this evil deed to your city gate and stone that person to death.[r] [6]On the testimony of two or three witnesses a man shall be put to death, but no one shall be put to death on the testimony of only one witness.[s] [7]The hands of the witnesses must be the first in putting him to death,[t] and then the hands of all the people.[u] You must purge the evil[v] from among you.

Law Courts

[8]If cases come before your courts that are too difficult for you to judge[w]—whether bloodshed, lawsuits or assaults[x]—take them to the place the LORD your God will choose.[y] [9]Go to the priests, who are Levites,[z] and to the judge[a] who is in office at that time. Inquire of them and they will give you the verdict.[b] [10]You must act according to the decisions they give you at the place the LORD will choose. Be careful to do everything they direct you to do. [11]Act according to the law they teach you and the decisions they give you. Do not turn aside from what they tell you, to the right or to the left.[c] [12]The man who shows contempt[d] for the judge or for the priest who stands ministering[e] there to the LORD your God must be put to death.[f] You must purge the evil from Israel.[g] [13]All the people will hear and be afraid, and will not be contemptuous again.[h]

The King

[14]When you enter the land the LORD your God is giving you and have taken possession[i] of it and settled in it,[j] and you say, "Let us set a king over us like all the nations around us,"[k] [15]be sure to appoint[l] over you the king the LORD your God chooses. He must be from among your own brothers.[m] Do not place a foreigner over you, one who is not a brother Israelite. [16]The king, moreover, must not acquire great numbers of horses[n] for himself[o] or make the people return to Egypt[p] to get more of them,[q] for the LORD has told you, "You are not to go back that way again."[r] [17]He must not take many wives,[s] or his heart will be led astray.[t] He must not accumulate[u] large amounts of silver and gold.[v]

[18]When he takes the throne[w] of his

16:19 See Ex 23:8 and note.
16:21–22 Asherah pole . . . sacred stone. See note on 7:5.
17:1 defect or flaw. See note on Lev 1:3.
17:3 bowing down to . . . the sun or the moon or the stars. See 2Ki 17:16; 21:3,5; 23:4–5.
17:6 two or three witnesses. A further specification of the law set forth in Nu 35:30. See 19:15; cf. Mt 18:16; 2Co 13:1; 1Ti 5:19; Heb 10:28.
17:7 You must purge the evil from among you. See v. 12; see also note on 13:5.
17:14 a king . . . like all the nations around us. Moses, Joshua and a succession of judges were chosen directly by the Lord to govern Israel on his behalf. As Gideon later said, "The LORD will rule over you" (Jdg 8:23; see note there). Moses here, however, anticipates a time when the people would ask for a king (see 1Sa 8:4–9) contrary to the Lord's ideal for them (see notes on 7:2–5; 1Sa 8:1–12:25; see also Lev 20:23). So Moses gives guidance concerning the eventual selection of a king.
17:16–17 The very things that later kings were guilty of, beginning especially with Solomon (1Ki 4:26; 11:1–4)—except that they did not make Israel return to Egypt (but see Jer 42:13–43:7).
17:18 write for himself . . . a copy of this law. As a sign of submission to the Lord as his King, and as a guide for his rule in obedience to his heavenly Suzerain.

kingdom, he is to write[x] for himself on a scroll a copy[y] of this law, taken from that of the priests, who are Levites. 19It is to be with him, and he is to read it all the days of his life[z] so that he may learn to revere the LORD his God and follow carefully all the words of this law and these decrees[a] 20and not consider himself better than his brothers and turn from the law[b] to the right or to the left.[c] Then he and his descendants will reign a long time over his kingdom in Israel.[d]

Offerings for Priests and Levites

18 The priests, who are Levites[e]—indeed the whole tribe of Levi—are to have no allotment or inheritance with Israel. They shall live on the offerings[f] made to the LORD by fire, for that is their inheritance.[g] 2They shall have no inheritance among their brothers; the LORD is their inheritance,[h] as he promised them.[i]

3This is the share due the priests[j] from the people who sacrifice a bull[k] or a sheep: the shoulder, the jowls and the inner parts.[l] 4You are to give them the firstfruits of your grain, new wine and oil, and the first wool from the shearing of your sheep,[m] 5for the LORD your God has chosen them[n] and their descendants out of all your tribes to stand and minister[o] in the LORD's name always.[p]

6If a Levite moves from one of your towns anywhere in Israel where he is living, and comes in all earnestness to the place the LORD will choose,[q] 7he may minister in the name[r] of the LORD his God like all his fellow Levites who serve there in the presence of the LORD. 8He is to share equally in their benefits, even though he has received money from the sale of family possessions.[s]

Detestable Practices

9When you enter the land the LORD your God is giving you, do not learn to imitate[t] the detestable ways[u] of the nations there. 10Let no one be found among you who sacrifices his son or daughter in[z] the fire,[v] who practices divination[w] or sorcery,[x] interprets omens, engages in witchcraft,[y] 11or casts spells,[z] or who is a medium or spiritist[a] or who consults the dead. 12Anyone who does these things is detestable to the LORD, and because of these detestable practices the LORD your God will drive out those nations before you.[b] 13You must be blameless[c] before the LORD your God.[d]

The Prophet

14The nations you will dispossess listen to those who practice sorcery or divination.[e] But as for you, the LORD your God has not permitted you to do so. 15The LORD your God will raise up for you a prophet like me from among your own brothers.[f] You must listen to him. 16For this is what you asked of the LORD your God at Horeb on the day of the assembly when you said, "Let us not hear the voice of the LORD our God nor see this great fire anymore, or we will die."[g]

17The LORD said to me: "What they say is good. 18I will raise up for them a prophet[h] like you from among their brothers; I will put my words[i] in his mouth,[j] and he will tell them everything I command him.[k] 19If anyone does not listen[l] to my words that the prophet speaks in my name,[m] I myself will call him to account.[n] 20But a prophet who presumes to speak in my name anything I have not commanded him to say, or a

[z] 10 Or who makes his son or daughter pass through

---

This was required procedure for vassal kings under the suzerainty treaties among the Hittites and others before and during this period (see note on 31:9). See chart on "Major Covenants in the OT," p. 19.

17:20 not consider himself better. The king was not above God's law, any more than were the humblest of his subjects.

18:1 no allotment or inheritance. No private ownership of land. Towns and surrounding pasturelands were set aside for the use of the Levites (Jos 21:41–42), as were the tithes and parts of sacrifices (see 14:22–29 and note; Lev 27:30 and note; Nu 18:21–29).

18:4 firstfruits. See Ex 23:19 and note; 34:26; Lev 23:10–11; Nu 15:18–20; 18:12–13.

18:5 See note on 21:5.

18:9 detestable ways of the nations. What follows is the most complete list of magical or spiritistic arts in the OT. All were practiced in Canaan, and all are condemned and prohibited. The people are not to resort to such sources for their information, guidance or revelation. Rather, they are to listen to the Lord's true prophets (see vv. 14–22; Isa 8:19–20).

18:10 sacrifices his son or daughter. See 12:31; see also note on Lev 18:21.

18:15 prophet like me. Verse 16, as well as the general context (see especially vv. 20–22), indicates that a series of prophets is meant. At Mount Horeb the people requested that Moses take the message from God and deliver it to them (see Ex 20:19 and note). But now that Moses is to leave them, he says that another spokesman will take his place, and then another will be necessary for the next generation. This is therefore a collective reference to the prophets who will follow. As such, it is also the basis for Messianic expectation and receives a unique fulfillment in Jesus (see Jn 1:21,25,45; 5:46; 6:14; 7:40; Ac 3:22–26; 7:37).

18:16 See Ex 20:18–19; Heb 12:18–21.

18:18 my words in his mouth. See Ex 4:15–16; see also note on Ex 7:1–2.

18:20 prophet who presumes to speak. See note on prophet who speaks in the name of other gods,[o] must be put to death."[p]

[21]You may say to yourselves, "How can we know when a message has not been spoken by the LORD?" [22]If what a prophet proclaims in the name of the LORD does not take place or come true,[q] that is a message the LORD has not spoken.[r] That prophet has spoken presumptuously.[s] Do not be afraid of him.

Cities of Refuge

19:1–14Ref — Nu 35:6–34; Dt 4:41–43; Jos 20:1–9

19 When the LORD your God has destroyed the nations whose land he is giving you, and when you have driven them out and settled in their towns and houses,[t] [2]then set aside for yourselves three cities centrally located in the land the LORD your God is giving you to possess. [3]Build roads to them and divide into three parts the land the LORD your God is giving you as an inheritance, so that anyone who kills a man may flee there.

[4]This is the rule concerning the man who kills another and flees there to save his life—one who kills his neighbor unintentionally, without malice aforethought. [5]For instance, a man may go into the forest with his neighbor to cut wood, and as he swings his ax to fell a tree, the head may fly off and hit his neighbor and kill him. That man may flee to one of these cities and save his life. [6]Otherwise, the avenger of blood[u] might pursue him in a rage, overtake him if the distance is too great, and kill him even though he is not deserving of death, since he did it to his neighbor without malice aforethought. [7]This is why I command you to set aside for yourselves three cities.

[8]If the LORD your God enlarges your territory,[v] as he promised[w] on oath to your forefathers, and gives you the whole land he promised them, [9]because you carefully follow all these laws I command you today—to love the LORD your God and to walk always in his ways[x]—then you are to set aside three more cities. [10]Do this so that innocent blood[y] will not be shed in your land, which the LORD your God is giving you as your inheritance, and so that you will not be guilty of bloodshed.[z]

[11]But if a man hates his neighbor and lies in wait for him, assaults and kills him,[a] and then flees to one of these cities, [12]the elders of his town shall send for him, bring him back from the city, and hand him over to the avenger of blood to die. [13]Show him no pity.[b] You must purge from Israel the guilt of shedding innocent blood,[c] so that it may go well with you.

[14]Do not move your neighbor's boundary stone set up by your predecessors in the inheritance you receive in the land the LORD your God is giving you to possess.[d]

Witnesses

[15]One witness is not enough to convict a man accused of any crime or offense he may have committed. A matter must be established by the testimony of two or three witnesses.[e]

[16]If a malicious witness[f] takes the stand to accuse a man of a crime, [17]the two men involved in the dispute must stand in the presence of the LORD before the priests and the judges[g] who are in office at the time. [18]The judges must make a thorough investigation,[h] and if the witness proves to be a liar, giving false testimony against his brother, [19]then do to him as he intended to do to his brother.[i] You must purge the evil from among you. [20]The rest of the people will hear of this and be afraid,[j] and never again will such an evil thing be done among you. [21]Show no pity:[k] life for life, eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot.[l]

Going to War

20 When you go to war against your enemies and see horses and chariots and an army greater than yours,[m] do not be afraid[n] of them,[o] because the LORD your God, who brought you up out of Egypt, will be with[p] you. [2]When you are about to go into battle, the priest shall come forward and address the army. [3]He shall say: "Hear, O Israel, today you are going into battle against your enemies. Do not be fainthearted[q]

20:3 Hear, O Israel. See note on 4:1.

or afraid; do not be terrified or give way to panic before them. 4For the LORD your God is the one who goes with you[r] to fight[s] for you against your enemies to give you victory.[t]"

5The officers shall say to the army: "Has anyone built a new house and not dedicated[u] it? Let him go home, or he may die in battle and someone else may dedicate it. 6Has anyone planted[v] a vineyard and not begun to enjoy it?[w] Let him go home, or he may die in battle and someone else enjoy it. 7Has anyone become pledged to a woman and not married her? Let him go home, or he may die in battle and someone else marry her.[x]" 8Then the officers shall add, "Is any man afraid or fainthearted? Let him go home so that his brothers will not become disheartened too."[y] 9When the officers have finished speaking to the army, they shall appoint commanders over it.

10When you march up to attack a city, make its people an offer of peace.[z] 11If they accept and open their gates, all the people in it shall be subject[a] to forced labor[b] and shall work for you. 12If they refuse to make peace and they engage you in battle, lay siege to that city. 13When the LORD your God delivers it into your hand, put to the sword all the men in it.[c] 14As for the women, the children, the livestock[d] and everything else in the city,[e] you may take these as plunder[f] for yourselves. And you may use the plunder the LORD your God gives you from your enemies. 15This is how you are to treat all the cities that are at a distance[g] from you and do not belong to the nations nearby.

16However, in the cities of the nations the LORD your God is giving you as an inheritance, do not leave alive anything that breathes.[h] 17Completely destroy[a] them—the Hittites, Amorites, Canaanites, Perizzites, Hivites and Jebusites—as the LORD your God has commanded you. 18Otherwise, they will teach you to follow all the detestable things they do in worshiping their gods,[i] and you will sin[j] against the LORD your God.

19When you lay siege to a city for a long time, fighting against it to capture it, do not destroy its trees by putting an ax to them, because you can eat their fruit. Do not cut them down. Are the trees of the field people, that you should besiege them?[b] 20However, you may cut down trees that you know are not fruit trees[k] and use them to build siege works until the city at war with you falls.

Atonement for an Unsolved Murder

21 If a man is found slain, lying in a field in the land the LORD your God is giving you to possess, and it is not known who killed him,[l] 2your elders and judges shall go out and measure the distance from the body to the neighboring towns. 3Then the elders of the town nearest the body shall take a heifer that has never been worked and has never worn a yoke[m] 4and lead her down to a valley that has not been plowed or planted and where there is a flowing stream. There in the valley they are to break the heifer's neck. 5The priests, the sons of Levi, shall step forward, for the LORD your God has chosen them to minister and to pronounce blessings[n] in the name of the LORD and to decide all cases of dispute and assault.[o] 6Then all the elders of the town nearest the body shall wash their hands[p] over the heifer whose neck was broken in the valley, 7and they shall declare: "Our hands did not shed this blood, nor did our eyes see it done. 8Accept this atonement for your people Israel, whom you have redeemed, O LORD, and do not hold your people guilty of the blood of an innocent man." And the bloodshed will be atoned for.[q] 9So you will purge[r] from yourselves the guilt of shedding innocent blood, since you have done what is right in the eyes of the LORD.

Marrying a Captive Woman

After she has lived in your house and mourned her father and mother for a full month,[x] then you may go to her and be her husband and she shall be your wife. 14If you are not pleased with her, let her go wherever she wishes. You must not sell her or treat her as a slave, since you have dishonored her.[y]

The Right of the Firstborn

15If a man has two wives,[z] and he loves one but not the other, and both bear him sons but the firstborn is the son of the wife he does not love,[a] 16when he wills his property to his sons, he must not give the rights of the firstborn to the son of the wife he loves in preference to his actual firstborn, the son of the wife he does not love.[b] 17He must acknowledge the son of his unloved wife as the firstborn by giving him a double[c] share of all he has. That son is the first sign of his father's strength.[d] The right of the firstborn belongs to him.[e]

A Rebellious Son

18If a man has a stubborn and rebellious[f] son[g] who does not obey his father and mother[h] and will not listen to them when they discipline him, 19his father and mother shall take hold of him and bring him to the elders at the gate of his town. 20They shall say to the elders, "This son of ours is stubborn and rebellious. He will not obey us. He is a profligate and a drunkard." 21Then all the men of his town shall stone him to death.[i] You must purge the evil[j] from among you. All Israel will hear of it and be afraid.[k]

Various Laws

22If a man guilty of a capital offense[l] is put to death and his body is hung on a tree, 23you must not leave his body on the tree overnight.[m] Be sure to bury[n] him that same day, because anyone who is hung on a tree is under God's curse.[o] You must not desecrate[p] the land the LORD your God is giving you as an inheritance.

22 If you see your brother's ox or sheep straying, do not ignore it but be sure to take it back to him.[q] 2If the brother does not live near you or if you do not know who he is, take it home with you and keep it until he comes looking for it. Then give it back to him. 3Do the same if you find your brother's donkey or his cloak or anything he loses. Do not ignore it.

4If you see your brother's donkey[r] or his ox fallen on the road, do not ignore it. Help him get it to its feet.[s]

5A woman must not wear men's clothing, nor a man wear women's clothing, for the LORD your God detests anyone who does this.

6If you come across a bird's nest beside the road, either in a tree or on the ground, and the mother is sitting on the young or on the eggs, do not take the mother with the young.[t] 7You may take the young, but be sure to let the mother go,[u] so that it may go well with you and you may have a long life.[v]

8When you build a new house, make a parapet around your roof so that you may not bring the guilt of bloodshed on your house if someone falls from the roof.[w]

22:8 [w] Jos 2:8; 1Sa 9:25; 2Sa 11:2

21:12 shave her head. Indicative of leaving her former life and beginning a new life, or perhaps symbolic of mourning (v. 13; see, e.g., Jer 47:5; Mic 1:16) or of humiliation (see note on Isa 7:20). For cleansing rites see Lev 14:8; Nu 8:7; cf. 2Sa 19:24.

21:14 dishonored. Twelve other times the Hebrew for this word is used of men forcing women to have sexual intercourse with them (22:24,29; Ge 34:2; Jdg 19:24; 20:5; 2Sa 13:12,14,22,32; La 5:11; Eze 22:10–11).

21:15 two wives. See notes on Ge 4:19; 25:6.

21:16 in preference to. The order of birth rather than parental favoritism governed succession, though the rule was sometimes set aside with divine approval (cf., e.g., Jacob or Solomon).

21:17 double share. In Israel the oldest son enjoyed a double share of the inheritance. Parallels to this practice come from Nuzi, Larsa in the Old Babylonian period, and Assyria in the Middle Assyrian period (see chart on "Ancient Texts Relating to the OT," p. xxii). Receiving a double portion of an estate was also tantamount to succession. Thus Elisha succeeded Elijah (2Ki 2:9). first sign of his father's strength. The first result of a man's procreative ability.

21:18 stubborn and rebellious ... does not obey. In wicked defiance of the fifth commandment (see 5:16; Ex 20:12 and note).

21:21 stone him to death. See 5:16; 27:16; Ex 21:15,17. You must purge the evil from among you. See note on 13:5.

21:22 put to death and ... hung on a tree. The offender was first executed, then "hung on a tree" (see Ge 40:19), or, as the Hebrew for this phrase doubtless intends, "impaled on a pole" (see NIV text notes on Ge 40:19; Est 2:23).

21:23 not leave his body on the tree overnight. Prolonged exposure gives undue attention to the crime and the criminal. under God's curse. God had condemned murder, and hanging on a tree symbolized divine judgment and rejection. Christ accepted the full punishment of our sins, thus becoming "a curse for us" (Gal 3:13).

22:1 do not ignore it. See vv. 3–4. The Biblical legislation was intended not only to punish criminal behavior but also to express concern for people and their possessions. See chart on "Major Social Concerns in the Covenant," p. 267.

22:5 Probably intended to prohibit such perversions as transvestism and homosexuality, especially under religious auspices. The God-created differences between men and women are not to be disregarded (see Lev 18:22; 20:13).

9Do not plant two kinds of seed in your vineyard;[x] if you do, not only the crops you plant but also the fruit of the vineyard will be defiled.[c]

10Do not plow with an ox and a donkey yoked together.[y]

11Do not wear clothes of wool and linen woven together.[z]

12Make tassels on the four corners of the cloak you wear.[a]

Marriage Violations

13If a man takes a wife and, after lying with her[b], dislikes her 14and slanders her and gives her a bad name, saying, "I married this woman, but when I approached her, I did not find proof of her virginity," 15then the girl's father and mother shall bring proof that she was a virgin to the town elders at the gate.[c] 16The girl's father will say to the elders, "I gave my daughter in marriage to this man, but he dislikes her. 17Now he has slandered her and said, 'I did not find your daughter to be a virgin.' But here is the proof of my daughter's virginity." Then her parents shall display the cloth before the elders of the town, 18and the elders[d] shall take the man and punish him. 19They shall fine him a hundred shekels of silver[d] and give them to the girl's father, because this man has given an Israelite virgin a bad name. She shall continue to be his wife; he must not divorce her as long as he lives.

20If, however, the charge is true[e] and no proof of the girl's virginity can be found, 21she shall be brought to the door

[c] 9 Or be forfeited to the sanctuary [d] 19 That is, about 2 1/2 pounds (about 1 kilogram)

22:14 proof of her virginity. A blood-stained cloth or garment (see vv. 15,17,20).

22:15 elders at the gate. See 25:7; see also notes on Ge 19:1; Ru 4:1.

22:19 hundred shekels of silver. A heavy fine—several times what Hosea paid to buy Gomer back (Hos 3:2) or what Jeremiah paid for the field at Anathoth (Jer 32:9). It may have been about twice the average bride-price (see note on v. 29). The high fine, in addition to the no-divorce rule, was intended to restrain not only a husband's charges against his wife but also easy divorce.

22:21,24 You must purge the evil from among you. See v. 22; see also note on 13:5.

Major Social Concerns in the Covenant

1. Personhood
   Everyone's person is to be secure (Ex 20:13; Dt 5:17; Ex 21:16-21,26-31; Lev 19:14; Dt 24:7; 27:18).
2. False Accusation
   Everyone is to be secure against slander and false accusation (Ex 20:16; Dt 5:20; Ex 23:1-3; Lev 19:16; Dt 19:15-21).
3. Woman
   No woman is to be taken advantage of within her subordinate status in society (Ex 21:7-11,20,26-32; 22:16-17; Dt 21:10-14; 22:13-30; 24:1-5).
4. Punishment
   Punishment for wrongdoing shall not be excessive so that the culprit is dehumanized (Dt 25:1-5).
5. Dignity
   Every Israelite's dignity and right to be God's freedman and servant are to be honored and safeguarded (Ex 21:2,5-6; Lev 25; Dt 15:12-18).
6. Inheritance
   Every Israelite's inheritance in the promised land is to be secure (Lev 25; Nu 27:5-7; 36:1-9; Dt 25:5-10).
7. Property
   Everyone's property is to be secure (Ex 20:15; Dt 5:19; Ex 21:33-36; 22:1-15; 23:4-5; Lev 19:35-36; Dt 22:1-4; 25:13-15).
8. Fruit of Labor
   Everyone is to receive the fruit of his labors (Lev 19:13; Dt 24:14; 25:4).
9. Fruit of the Ground
   Everyone is to share the fruit of the ground (Ex 23:10-11; Lev 19:9-10; 23:22; 25:3-55; Dt 14:28-29; 24:19-21).
10. Rest on Sabbath
    Everyone, down to the humblest servant and the resident alien, is to share in the weekly rest of God's Sabbath (Ex 20:8-11; Dt 5:12-15; Ex 23:12).
11. Marriage
    The marriage relationship is to be kept inviolate (Ex 20:14; Dt 5:18; see also Lev 18:6-23; 20:10-21; Dt 22:13-30).
12. Exploitation
    No one, however disabled, impoverished or powerless, is to be oppressed or exploited (Ex 22:21-27; Lev 19:14,33-34; 25:35-36; Dt 23:19; 24:6,12-15,17; 27:18).
13. Fair Trial
    Everyone is to have free access to the courts and is to be afforded a fair trial (Ex 23:6,8; Lev 19:15; Dt 1:17; 10:17-18; 16:18-20; 17:8-13; 19:15-21).
14. Social Order
    Every person's God-given place in the social order is to be honored (Ex 20:12; Dt 5:16; Ex 21:15,17; 22:28; Lev 19:3,32; 20:9; Dt 17:8-13; 21:15-21; 27:16).
15. Law
    No one shall be above the law, not even the king (Dt 17:18-20).
16. Animals
    Concern for the welfare of other creatures is to be extended to the animal world (Ex 23:5,11; Lev 25:7; Dt 22:4,6-7; 25:4).

of her father's house and there the men of her town shall stone her to death. She has done a disgraceful thing[f] in Israel by being promiscuous while still in her father's house. You must purge the evil from among you.

22If a man is found sleeping with another man's wife, both the man who slept[g] with her and the woman must die.[h] You must purge the evil from Israel.

23If a man happens to meet in a town a virgin pledged to be married and he sleeps with her, 24you shall take both of them to the gate of that town and stone them to death—the girl because she was in a town and did not scream for help, and the man because he violated another man's wife. You must purge the evil from among you.[i]

25But if out in the country a man happens to meet a girl pledged to be married and rapes her, only the man who has done this shall die. 26Do nothing to the girl; she has committed no sin deserving death. This case is like that of someone who attacks and murders his neighbor, 27for the man found the girl out in the country, and though the betrothed girl screamed,[j] there was no one to rescue her.

28If a man happens to meet a virgin who is not pledged to be married and rapes her and they are discovered,[k] 29he shall pay the girl's father fifty shekels of silver.[e] He must marry the girl, for he has violated her. He can never divorce her as long as he lives.

30A man is not to marry his father's wife; he must not dishonor his father's bed.[l]

Exclusion From the Assembly

23 No one who has been emasculated[m] by crushing or cutting may enter the assembly of the LORD.

2No one born of a forbidden marriage[f] nor any of his descendants may enter the assembly of the LORD, even down to the tenth generation.

3No Ammonite[n] or Moabite or any of his descendants may enter the assembly of the LORD, even down to the tenth generation.[o] 4For they did not come to meet you with bread and water[p] on your way when you came out of Egypt, and they hired Balaam[q] son of Beor from Pethor in Aram Naharaim[g,r] to pronounce a curse on you.[s] 5However, the LORD your God would not listen to Balaam but turned the curse[t] into a blessing for you, because the LORD your God loves[u] you. 6Do not seek a treaty[v] of friendship with them as long as you live.[w]

7Do not abhor an Edomite,[x] for he is your brother.[y] Do not abhor an Egyptian, because you lived as an alien in his country.[z] 8The third generation of children born to them may enter the assembly of the LORD.

Uncleanness in the Camp

9When you are encamped against your enemies, keep away from everything impure.[a] 10If one of your men is unclean because of a nocturnal emission, he is to go outside the camp and stay there.[b] 11But as evening approaches he is to wash himself, and at sunset[c] he may return to the camp.[d]

12Designate a place outside the camp where you can go to relieve yourself. 13As part of your equipment have something to dig with, and when you relieve yourself, dig a hole and cover up your excrement. 14For the LORD your God moves[e] about in your camp to protect you and to deliver your enemies to you. Your camp must be holy,[f] so that he will not see among you anything indecent and turn away from you.

Miscellaneous Laws

15If a slave has taken refuge[g] with you, do not hand him over to his master.[h] 16Let him live among you wherever he likes and in whatever town he chooses. Do not oppress[i] him.

17No Israelite man[j] or woman is to 22:22 See Lev 20:10.

22:29 fifty shekels of silver. Probably equaled the average bride-price, which must have varied with the economic status of the participants (see note on Ex 22:16).
22:30 his father's wife. Refers to a wife other than his mother (see 27:20). dishonor his father's bed. Lit. "uncover the corner of his father's garment" (see notes on Ru 3:9; Eze 16:8).
23:1 For blessings on eunuchs in later times see Isa 56:4–5; Ac 8:26–39.

23:3 Ruth is an outstanding exception to Moabite exclusion from Israel (see Introduction to Ruth: Theme and Theology).
23:4 Balaam son of Beor. See Nu 22:4–24:25.

23:7 Edomite . . . your brother. Edom (Esau) is often condemned for his hostility against his brother Jacob (Israel; see Am 1:11; Ob 10; see also notes on Ge 25:22,26).
23:9–14 Sanitary rules for Israel's military camps. For similar rules for the people in general see Lev 15.
23:15 If a slave has taken refuge. A foreign slave seeking freedom in Israel (see v. 16). Cf. 24:7.
23:17–18 See notes on Ex 34:15; Jdg 2:17.

become a shrine prostitute.[k] 18You must not bring the earnings of a female prostitute or of a male prostitute[h] into the house of the LORD your God to pay any vow, because the LORD your God detests them both.[l]

19Do not charge your brother interest, whether on money or food or anything else that may earn interest.[m] 20You may charge a foreigner[n] interest, but not a brother Israelite, so that the LORD your God may bless[o] you in everything you put your hand to in the land you are entering to possess.

21If you make a vow to the LORD your God, do not be slow to pay it,[p] for the LORD your God will certainly demand it of you and you will be guilty of sin.[q] 22But if you refrain from making a vow, you will not be guilty.[r] 23Whatever your lips utter you must be sure to do, because you made your vow freely to the LORD your God with your own mouth.

24If you enter your neighbor's vineyard, you may eat all the grapes you want, but do not put any in your basket. 25If you enter your neighbor's grainfield, you may pick kernels with your hands, but you must not put a sickle to his standing grain.[s]

24 If a man marries a woman who becomes displeasing to him[t] because he finds something indecent about her, and he writes her a certificate of divorce,[u] gives it to her and sends her from his house, 2and if after she leaves his house she becomes the wife of another man, 3and her second husband dislikes her and writes her a certificate of divorce, gives it to her and sends her from his house, or if he dies, 4then her first husband, who divorced her, is not allowed to marry her again after she has been defiled. That would be detestable in the eyes of the LORD. Do not bring sin upon the land the LORD[v] your God is giving you as an inheritance.

5If a man has recently married, he must not be sent to war or have any other duty laid on him. For one year he is to be free to stay at home and bring happiness to the wife he has married.[w]

6Do not take a pair of millstones—not even the upper one—as security for a debt, because that would be taking a man's livelihood as security.[x]

7If a man is caught kidnapping one of his brother Israelites and treats him as a slave or sells him, the kidnapper must die.[y] You must purge the evil from among you.[z]

8In cases of leprous[i] diseases be very careful to do exactly as the priests, who are Levites,[a] instruct you. You must follow carefully what I have commanded them.[b] 9Remember what the LORD your God did to Miriam along the way after you came out of Egypt.[c]

10When you make a loan of any kind to your neighbor, do not go into his house to get what he is offering as a pledge.[d] 11Stay outside and let the man to whom you are making the loan bring the pledge out to you. 12If the man is poor, do not go to sleep with his pledge[e] in your possession. 13Return his cloak to him by sunset[f] so that he may sleep in it.[g] Then he will thank you, and it will be regarded as a righteous act in the sight of the LORD your God.[h]

14Do not take advantage of a hired man who is poor and needy, whether he is a brother Israelite or an alien living in one of your towns.[i] 15Pay him his wages each day before sunset, because he is poor[j] and is counting on it.[k] Otherwise he may cry to the LORD against you, and you will be guilty of sin.[l]

16Fathers shall not be put to death for their children, nor children put to death for their fathers; each is to die for his own sin.[m]

17Do not deprive the alien or the fatherless[n] of justice,[o] or take the cloak of the widow as a pledge. 18Remember that you were slaves in Egypt[p] and the LORD your God redeemed you from there. That is why I command you to do this.

[h] 18 Hebrew of a dog [i] 8 The Hebrew word was used for various diseases affecting the skin—not necessarily leprosy.

23:18 male prostitute. Lit. "dog" (see NIV text note), a word often associated with moral or spiritual impurity (cf. Mt 7:6; 15:26; Php 3:2).
23:19 interest. See notes on Ex 22:25–27; Lev 25:36.
23:20 charge a foreigner. A foreign businessman would come into Israel for financial advantage and so would be subject to paying interest.
23:21–23 See notes on Nu 30; see also Ecc 5:4–6.
24:1–4 In the books of Moses divorce was permitted and regulated (see Lev 21:7,14; 22:13; Nu 30:9). Jesus conditioned the law of 24:1 in the Sermon on the Mount (Mt 5:31–32) and cited the higher law of creation (Mt 19:3–9).
24:5 happiness. Marital bliss was held in high regard.
24:6 millstones. Used for grinding grain for flour and daily food (see note on Jdg 9:53).
24:7 as a slave. Cf. 23:15. You must purge the evil from among you. See note on 13:5.
24:8 leprous diseases. See NIV text note; see also note on Lev 13:2.

24:16 each is to die for his own sin. See Eze 18:4 and note.
24:17–18 When the Israelites were in trouble, the Lord helped them. Therefore they were not to take advantage of others in difficulty.
24:19–21 See note on Lev 19:9–10.

field and you overlook a sheaf, do not go back to get it.[q] Leave it for the alien,[r] the fatherless and the widow,[s] so that the LORD your God may bless[t] you in all the work of your hands. 20When you beat the olives from your trees, do not go over the branches a second time.[u] Leave what remains for the alien, the fatherless and the widow. 21When you harvest the grapes in your vineyard, do not go over the vines again. Leave what remains for the alien, the fatherless and the widow. 22Remember that you were slaves in Egypt. That is why I command you to do this.[v]

25 When men have a dispute, they are to take it to court and the judges[w] will decide the case,[x] acquitting[y] the innocent and condemning the guilty.[z] 2If the guilty man deserves to be beaten,[a] the judge shall make him lie down and have him flogged in his presence with the number of lashes his crime deserves, 3but he must not give him more than forty lashes.[b] If he is flogged more than that, your brother will be degraded in your eyes.[c]

4Do not muzzle an ox while it is treading out the grain.[d]

5If brothers are living together and one of them dies without a son, his widow must not marry outside the family. Her husband's brother shall take her and marry her and fulfill the duty of a brother-in-law to her.[e] 6The first son she bears shall carry on the name of the dead brother so that his name will not be blotted out from Israel.[f]

11If two men are fighting and the wife of one of them comes to rescue her husband from his assailant, and she reaches out and seizes him by his private parts, 12you shall cut off her hand. Show her no pity.[l]

13Do not have two differing weights in your bag—one heavy, one light.[m] 14Do not have two differing measures in your house—one large, one small. 15You must have accurate and honest weights and measures, so that you may live long[n] in the land the LORD your God is giving you. 16For the LORD your God detests anyone who does these things, anyone who deals dishonestly.[o]

17Remember what the Amalekites[p] did to you along the way when you came out of Egypt. 18When you were weary and worn out, they met you on your journey and cut off all who were lagging behind; they had no fear of God.[q] 19When the LORD your God gives you rest[r] from all the enemies[s] around you in the land he is giving you to possess as an inheritance, you shall blot out the memory of Amalek[t] from under heaven. Do not forget!

Firstfruits and Tithes

26 When you have entered the land the LORD your God is giving you as an inheritance and have taken possession of it and settled in it, 2take some of the firstfruits[u] of all that you produce from the soil of the land the LORD your God is giving you and put them in a basket. Then go to the place the LORD your God will choose as a dwelling for his Name[v] 3and say to the priest in office at the time, "I declare today to the LORD your God that I have come to the land the LORD swore to our forefathers to give us." 4The priest shall take the basket from your hands and set it down in front of the altar of the LORD your God. 5Then you shall declare before the LORD your God: "My father was a wandering[w] Aramean,[x] and he went down into Egypt with a few people[y] and lived there and became a great nation,[z] powerful and numerous. 6But the Egyptians mistreated us and made us suffer,[a] putting us to hard labor.[b] 7Then we cried out to the LORD, the God of our fathers, and the LORD heard our voice[c] and saw[d] our misery,[e] toil and oppression.[f] 8So the LORD brought us out of Egypt[g] with a mighty hand and an outstretched arm,[h] with great terror and with miraculous signs and wonders.[i] 9He brought us to this place and gave us this land, a land flowing with milk and honey;[j] 10and now I bring the firstfruits of the soil that you, O LORD, have given me.[k]" Place the basket before the LORD your God and bow down before him. 11And you and the Levites[l] and the aliens among you shall rejoice[m] in all the good things the LORD your God has given to you and your household.

12When you have finished setting aside a tenth[n] of all your produce in the third year, the year of the tithe,[o] you shall give it to the Levite, the alien, the fatherless and the widow, so that they may eat in your towns and be satisfied. 13Then say to the LORD your God: "I have removed from my house the sacred portion and have given it to the Levite, the alien, the fatherless and the widow, according to all you commanded. I have not turned aside from your commands nor have I forgotten any of them.[p] 14I have not eaten any of the sacred portion while I was in mourning, nor have I removed any of it while I was unclean,[q] nor have I offered any of it to the dead. I have obeyed the LORD my God; I have done everything you commanded me. 15Look down from heaven,[r] your holy dwelling place, and bless[s] your people Israel and the land you have given us as you promised on oath to our forefathers, a land flowing with milk and honey."

Follow the LORD's Commands

16The LORD your God commands you this day to follow these decrees and laws; carefully observe them with all your heart and with all your soul.[t] 17You have declared this day that the LORD is your God and that you will walk in his ways, that you will keep his decrees, commands and laws, and that you will obey him.[u] 18And the LORD has declared this day that you are his people, his treasured possession[v] as he promised, and that you are to keep all his commands. 19He has declared that he will set you in praise,[w] fame and honor high above all the nations[x] he has made and that you will be a people holy[y] to the LORD your God, as he promised.

The Altar on Mount Ebal

27 Moses and the elders of Israel commanded the people: "Keep all these commands[z] that I give you today. 2When you have crossed the Jordan[a] into the land the LORD your God is giving you, set up some large stones[b] and coat them with plaster.[c] 3Write on them all the words of this law when you have crossed over to enter the land the LORD your God is giving you, a land flowing with milk and honey,[d] just as the LORD, the God of your fathers, promised you. 4And when you have crossed the Jordan, set up these stones on Mount Ebal,[e] as I command you today, and coat them with plaster. 5Build there an altar[f] to the LORD your God, an altar of stones. Do not use any iron tool[g] upon them. 6Build the altar of the LORD your God with fieldstones and offer burnt offerings on it to the LORD your God. 7Sacrifice fellowship offerings[ih] there, eating them and rejoicing[i] in the presence of the LORD your God.[j] 8And you shall write very clearly all the words of this law on these stones[k] you have set up."[l]

Curses From Mount Ebal

9Then Moses and the priests, who are Levites,[m] said to all Israel, "Be silent, O Israel, and listen! You have now become the people of the LORD your God.[n] 10Obey the LORD your God and follow his commands and decrees that I give you today."

26:18 treasured possession. See note on Ex 19:5.

27:2–8 Setting up stones inscribed with messages to be remembered was a common practice in the ancient Near East.

27:2,4 coat them with plaster. So that the writing inscribed on them would stand out clearly (see v. 8).

27:3,8 all the words of this law. The stipulations (see note on Ex 20:1) of the covenant that Moses' reaffirmation contained.

27:5 Build . . . an altar of stones. Different from the altars of the tabernacle, both in form and in use (see note on Ex 20:25).

27:9 You have now become the people of the LORD. The language of covenant renewal.

27:12 these tribes shall stand on Mount Gerizim. All six these tribes shall stand on Mount Gerizim[o] to bless the people: Simeon, Levi, Judah, Issachar,[p] Joseph and Benjamin.[q] 13And these tribes shall stand on Mount Ebal[r] to pronounce curses: Reuben, Gad, Asher, Zebulun, Dan and Naphtali.

14The Levites shall recite to all the people of Israel in a loud voice:

15"Cursed is the man who carves an image or casts an idol[s]—a thing detestable[t] to the LORD, the work of the craftsman's hands—and sets it up in secret."

Then all the people shall say, "Amen!"[u]

16"Cursed is the man who dishonors his father or his mother."[v]

Then all the people shall say, "Amen!"

17"Cursed is the man who moves his neighbor's boundary stone."[w]

Then all the people shall say, "Amen!"

Then all the people shall say, "Amen!"

21"Cursed is the man who has sexual relations with any animal."[b]

Then all the people shall say, "Amen!"

22"Cursed is the man who sleeps with his sister, the daughter of his father or the daughter of his mother."[c]

Then all the people shall say, "Amen!"

23"Cursed is the man who sleeps with his mother-in-law."[d]

Then all the people shall say, "Amen!"

24"Cursed is the man who kills[e] his neighbor secretly."[f]

Then all the people shall say, "Amen!"

25"Cursed is the man who accepts a bribe to kill an innocent person."[g]

Then all the people shall say, "Amen!"

26"Cursed is the man who does not uphold the words of this law by carrying them out."[h]

Then all the people shall say, "Amen!"[i]

Blessings for Obedience

28 If you fully obey the LORD your God and carefully follow[j] all his commands[k] I give you today, the LORD your God will set you high above all the nations on earth.[l] 2All these blessings will come upon you[m] and accompany you if you obey the LORD your God:

3You will be blessed[n] in the city and blessed in the country.[o]

4The fruit of your womb will be blessed, and the crops of your land and the young of your livestock—the calves of your herds and the lambs of your flocks.[p]

5Your basket and your kneading trough will be blessed.

6You will be blessed when you come in and blessed when you go out.[q]

7The LORD will grant that the enemies[r] who rise up against you will be defeated before you. They will come at you from one direction but flee from you in seven.[s]

8The LORD will send a blessing on your barns and on everything you put your

[9]The LORD will establish you as his holy people,[u] as he promised you on oath, if you keep the commands[v] of the LORD your God and walk in his ways. [10]Then all the peoples on earth will see that you are called by the name[w] of the LORD, and they will fear you. [11]The LORD will grant you abundant prosperity—in the fruit of your womb, the young of your livestock[x] and the crops of your ground—in the land he swore to your forefathers to give you.[y]

[12]The LORD will open the heavens, the storehouse[z] of his bounty,[a] to send rain[b] on your land in season and to bless[c] all the work of your hands. You will lend to many nations but will borrow from none.[d] [13]The LORD will make you the head, not the tail. If you pay attention to the commands of the LORD your God that I give you this day and carefully follow[e] them, you will always be at the top, never at the bottom.[f] [14]Do not turn aside from any of the commands I give you today, to the right or to the left,[g] following other gods and serving them.

Curses for Disobedience

[15]However, if you do not obey[h] the LORD your God and do not carefully follow all his commands and decrees I am giving you today,[i] all these curses will come upon you and overtake you:[j]

[16]You will be cursed in the city and cursed in the country.[k] [17]Your basket and your kneading trough will be cursed.[l] [18]The fruit of your womb will be cursed, and the crops of your land, and the calves of your herds and the lambs of your flocks.[m]
[19]You will be cursed when you come in and cursed when you go out.[n]

[20]The LORD will send on you curses,[o] confusion and rebuke[p] in everything you put your hand to, until you are destroyed and come to sudden ruin[q] because of the evil[r] you have done in forsaking him.[k] [21]The LORD will plague you with diseases until he has destroyed you from the land you are entering to possess.[s] [22]The LORD will strike you with wasting disease,[t] with fever and inflammation, with scorching heat and drought,[u] with blight[v] and mildew, which will plague[w] you until you perish.[x] [23]The sky over your head will be bronze, the ground beneath you iron.[y] [24]The LORD will turn the rain[z] of your country into dust and powder; it will come down from the skies until you are destroyed.

[25]The LORD will cause you to be defeated[a] before your enemies. You will come at them from one direction but flee from them in seven,[b] and you will become a thing of horror[c] to all the kingdoms on earth.[d] [26]Your carcasses will be food for all the birds of the air[e] and the beasts of the earth, and there will be no one to frighten them away.[f] [27]The LORD will afflict you with the boils of Egypt[g] and with tumors, festering sores and the itch, from which you cannot be cured. [28]The LORD will afflict you with madness, blindness and confusion of mind. [29]At midday you will grope[h] about like a blind man in the dark. You will be unsuccessful in everything you do; day after day you will be oppressed and robbed, with no one to rescue[i] you.

[30]You will be pledged to be married to a woman, but another will take her and ravish her.[j] You will build a house, but you will not live in it.[k] You will plant a vineyard, but you will not even begin to enjoy its fruit.[l] [31]Your ox will be slaughtered before your eyes, but you will eat none of it. Your donkey will be forcibly taken from you and will not be returned. Your sheep will be given to your enemies, and no one will rescue them. [32]Your sons and daughters will be given to another nation,[m] and you will wear out your eyes watching for them day after day, powerless to lift a hand. [33]A people that you do not know will eat what your land and labor produce, and you will have nothing but cruel oppression[n] all your days.[o] [34]The sights you see will drive you mad.[p] [35]The LORD will afflict your knees and legs with painful boils[q] that cannot be cured, spreading from the soles of your feet to the top of your head.[r]

king[s] you set over you to a nation unknown to you or your fathers.[t] There you will worship other gods, gods of wood and stone.[u] 37You will become a thing of horror[v] and an object of scorn[w] and ridicule[x] to all the nations where the LORD will drive you.[y]

38You will sow much seed in the field but you will harvest little,[z] because locusts[a] will devour[b] it. 39You will plant vineyards and cultivate them but you will not drink the wine[c] or gather the grapes, because worms will eat[d] them.[e] 40You will have olive trees throughout your country but you will not use the oil, because the olives will drop off.[f] 41You will have sons and daughters but you will not keep them, because they will go into captivity.[g] 42Swarms of locusts[h] will take over all your trees and the crops of your land.

43The alien who lives among you will rise above you higher and higher, but you will sink lower and lower.[i] 44He will lend to you, but you will not lend to him.[j] He will be the head, but you will be the tail.[k]

45All these curses will come upon you. They will pursue you and overtake you[l] until you are destroyed,[m] because you did not obey the LORD your God and observe the commands and decrees he gave you. 46They will be a sign and a wonder to you and your descendants forever.[n] 47Because you did not serve[o] the LORD your God joyfully and gladly[p] in the time of prosperity, 48therefore in hunger and thirst,[q] in nakedness and dire poverty, you will serve the enemies the LORD sends against you. He will put an iron yoke[r] on your neck[s] until he has destroyed you.

49The LORD will bring a nation against you[t] from far away, from the ends of the earth,[u] like an eagle[v] swooping down, a nation whose language you will not understand,[w] 50a fierce-looking nation without respect for the old[x] or pity for the young. 51They will devour the young of your livestock and the crops of your land until you are destroyed. They will leave you no grain, new wine[y] or oil,[z] nor any calves of your herds or lambs of your flocks until you are ruined.[a] 52They will lay siege[b] to all the cities throughout your land until the high fortified walls in which you trust fall down. They will besiege all the cities throughout the land the LORD your God is giving you.[c]

53Because of the suffering that your enemy will inflict on you during the siege, you will eat the fruit of the womb, the flesh of the sons and daughters the LORD your God has given you.[d] 54Even the most gentle and sensitive man among you will have no compassion on his own brother or the wife he loves or his surviving children, 55and he will not give to one of them any of the flesh of his children that he is eating. It will be all he has left because of the suffering your enemy will inflict on you during the siege of all your cities.[e] 56The most gentle and sensitive[f] woman among you—so sensitive and gentle that she would not venture to touch the ground with the sole of her foot—will begrudge the husband she loves and her own son or daughter[g] 57the afterbirth from her womb and the children she bears. For she intends to eat them[h] secretly during the siege and in the distress that your enemy will inflict on you in your cities.

58If you do not carefully follow all the words of this law,[i] which are written in this book, and do not revere[j] this glorious and awesome name[k]—the LORD your God— 59the LORD will send fearful plagues on you and your descendants, harsh and prolonged disasters, and severe and lingering illnesses. 60He will bring upon you all the diseases of 28:44 See notes on vv. 12–13.

28:49 ends of the earth. An indefinite figurative expression meaning "far away"—anywhere from the horizon to the perimeter of the then-known world. eagle swooping down. Symbolic of the speed and power of the Assyrians (see Hos 8:1) and Babylonians (see Jer 48:40; 49:22). whose language you will not understand. Though related to Hebrew, the languages of Assyria and Babylonia were not understood by the average Israelite (see Isa 28:11; 33:19 and note; 1Co 14:21).

28:53 suffering that your enemy will inflict on you during the siege. See vv. 55, 57. The repetition of the clause emphasizes the distress that the Israelites would suffer if they refused to obey the Lord. you will eat . . . sons and daughters. For the actualizing of this curse see 2Ki 6:24–29; La 2:20; 4:10.

28:58 words of this law. See note on 31:24. this glorious and awesome name—the LORD. See note and NIV text note on Ex 3:15. One of the oddities of history and revelation is the loss of the proper pronunciation of the Hebrew word YHWH, the most intimate and personal name of God in the OT (see note on Ge 2:4). "Jehovah" is a spelling that developed from combining the consonants of the name with the vowels of a word for "Lord" (Adonai). "Yahweh" is probably the original pronunciation. The name eventually ceased to be pronounced because later Jews thought it too holy to be uttered and feared violating Ex 20:7 and Lev 24:16. It is translated "LORD" in this version (see Preface to the NIV).

28:60 diseases of Egypt. Those brought on the Egyptians during the plagues (see 7:15; Ex 15:26).

Egypt[l] that you dreaded, and they will cling to you. 61The LORD will also bring on you every kind of sickness and disaster not recorded in this Book of the Law,[m] until you are destroyed.[n] 62You who were as numerous as the stars in the sky[o] will be left but few[p] in number, because you did not obey the LORD your God. 63Just as it pleased[q] the LORD to make you prosper and increase in number, so it will please[r] him to ruin and destroy you.[s] You will be uprooted[t] from the land you are entering to possess.

64Then the LORD will scatter[u] you among all nations,[v] from one end of the earth to the other.[w] There you will worship other gods—gods of wood and stone, which neither you nor your fathers have known.[x] 65Among those nations you will find no repose, no resting place[y] for the sole of your foot. There the LORD will give you an anxious mind, eyes[z] weary with longing, and a despairing heart.[a] 66You will live in constant suspense, filled with dread both night and day, never sure of your life. 67In the morning you will say, "If only it were evening!" and in the evening, "If only it were morning!"—because of the terror that will fill your hearts and the sights that your eyes will see.[b] 68The LORD will send you back in ships to Egypt on a journey I said you should never make again.[c] There you will offer yourselves for sale to your enemies as male and female slaves, but no one will buy you.

Renewal of the Covenant

29 These are the terms of the covenant the LORD commanded Moses to make with the Israelites in Moab,[d] in addition to the covenant he had made with them at Horeb.[e]

2Moses summoned all the Israelites and said to them:

Your eyes have seen all that the LORD did in Egypt to Pharaoh, to all his officials and to all his land.[f] 3With your own eyes you saw those great trials, those miraculous signs and great wonders.[g] 4But to this day the LORD has not given you a mind that understands or eyes that see or ears that hear.[h] 5During the forty years that I led[i] you through the desert, your clothes did not wear out, nor did the sandals on your feet.[j] 6You ate no bread and drank no wine or other fermented drink.[k] I did this so that you might know that I am the LORD your God.[l]

7When you reached this place, Sihon[m] king of Heshbon[n] and Og king of Bashan came out to fight against us, but we defeated them.[o] 8We took their land and gave it as an inheritance[p] to the Reubenites, the Gadites and the half-tribe of Manasseh.[q]

9Carefully follow[r] the terms of this covenant,[s] so that you may prosper in everything you do.[t] 10All of you are standing today in the presence of the LORD your God—your leaders and chief men, your elders and officials, and all the other men of Israel, 11together with your children and your wives, and the aliens living in your camps who chop your wood and carry your water.[u] 12You are standing here in order to enter into a covenant with the LORD your God, a covenant the LORD is making with you this day and sealing with an oath, 13to confirm you this day as his people,[v] that he may be your God[w] as he promised you and as he swore to your fathers, Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. 14I am making this covenant,[x] with its oath, not only with you 15who are standing here with us today in the presence of the LORD our God but also with those who are not here today.[y]

16You yourselves know how we lived in Egypt and how we passed through the countries on the way here. 17You saw among them their detestable images and idols of wood and stone, of silver and gold.[z] 18Make sure there is no man or woman, clan or tribe among you today whose heart turns[a] away from the LORD our God to go and worship the gods of those nations; make sure there is no root among you that produces such bitter poison.[b]

of this oath, he invokes a blessing[c] on himself and therefore thinks, "I will be safe, even though I persist in going my own way."[d] This will bring disaster on the watered land as well as the dry.[1] 20The LORD will never be willing to forgive[e] him; his wrath and zeal[f] will burn[g] against that man. All the curses written in this book will fall upon him, and the LORD will blot[h] out his name from under heaven. 21The LORD will single him out from all the tribes of Israel for disaster,[i] according to all the curses of the covenant written in this Book of the Law.[j]

22Your children who follow you in later generations and foreigners who come from distant lands will see the calamities that have fallen on the land and the diseases with which the LORD has afflicted it.[k] 23The whole land will be a burning waste[l] of salt[m] and sulfur—nothing planted, nothing sprouting, no vegetation growing on it. It will be like the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah,[n] Admah and Zeboiim, which the LORD overthrew in fierce anger.[o] 24All the nations will ask: "Why has the LORD done this to this land?[p] Why this fierce, burning anger?"

25And the answer will be: "It is because this people abandoned the covenant of the LORD, the God of their fathers, the covenant he made with them when he brought them out of Egypt.[q] 26They went off and worshiped other gods and bowed down to them, gods they did not know, gods he had not given them. 27Therefore the LORD's anger burned against this land, so that he brought on it all the curses written in this book.[r] 28In furious anger and in great wrath[s] the LORD uprooted[t] them from their land and thrust them into another land, as it is now."

29The secret things belong to the LORD our God,[u] but the things revealed belong to us and to our children forever, that we may follow all the words of this law.[v]

Prosperity After Turning to the LORD

30 When all these blessings and curses[w] I have set before you come upon you and you take them to heart wherever the LORD your God disperses you among the nations,[x] 2and when you and your children return[y] to the LORD your God and obey him with all your heart[z] and with all your soul according to everything I command you today, 3then the LORD your God will restore your fortunes[m a] and have compassion[b] on you and gather[c] you again from all the nations where he scattered[d] you.[e] 4Even if you have been banished to the most distant land under the heavens,[f] from there the LORD your God will gather[g] you and bring you back.[h] 5He will bring[i] you to the land that belonged to your fathers, and you will take possession of it. He will make you more prosperous and numerous[j] than your fathers. 6The LORD your God will circumcise your hearts and the hearts of your descendants,[k] so that you may love[l] him with all your heart and with all your soul, and live. 7The LORD your God will put all these curses[m] on your enemies who hate and persecute you.[n] 8You will again obey the LORD and follow all his commands I am giving you today. 9Then the LORD your God will make you most prosperous in all the work of your hands and in the fruit of your womb, the young of your livestock and the crops of your land.[o] The LORD will again delight[p] in you and make you prosperous, just as he delighted in your fathers, 10if you obey the LORD your God and keep his commands and decrees that are written in this Book of the Law[q] and turn to the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul.[r]

30:12,14 It is not up in heaven . . . the word is very near you. Moses declares that understanding, believing and obeying the covenant were not beyond them. Paul applies this passage to the availability of the "word of into heaven[t] to get it and proclaim it to us so we may obey it?"[u] 13Nor is it beyond the sea,[v] so that you have to ask, "Who will cross the sea to get it and proclaim it to us so we may obey it?"[w] 14No, the word is very near you; it is in your mouth and in your heart so you may obey it.[x]

15See, I set before you today life[y] and prosperity,[z] death[a] and destruction.[b] 16For I command you today to love[c] the LORD your God, to walk in his ways, and to keep his commands, decrees and laws; then you will live[d] and increase, and the LORD your God will bless you in the land you are entering to possess.

17But if your heart turns away and you are not obedient, and if you are drawn away to bow down to other gods and worship them, 18I declare to you this day that you will certainly be destroyed.[e] You will not live long in the land you are crossing the Jordan to enter and possess.

19This day I call heaven and earth as witnesses against you[f] that I have set before you life and death, blessings and curses.[g] Now choose life, so that you and your children may live 20and that you may love[h] the LORD your God, listen to his voice, and hold fast to him. For the LORD is your life,[i] and he will give[j] you many years in the land[k] he swore to give to your fathers, Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.

Joshua to Succeed Moses

31 Then Moses went out and spoke these words to all Israel: 2"I am now a hundred and twenty years old[l] and I am no longer able to lead you.[m] The LORD has said to me, 'You shall not cross the Jordan.'[n] 3The LORD your God himself will cross[o] over ahead of you.[p] He will destroy these nations[q] before you, and you will take possession of their land. Joshua also will cross[r] over ahead of you, as the LORD said. 4And the LORD will do to them what he did to Sihon and Og,[s] the kings of the Amorites, whom he destroyed along with their land. 5The LORD will deliver[t] them to you, and you must do to them all that I have commanded you. 6Be strong and courageous.[u] Do not be afraid or terrified[v] because of them, for the LORD your God goes with you;[w] he will never leave you[x] nor forsake[y] you."

7Then Moses summoned Joshua and said[z] to him in the presence of all Israel, "Be strong and courageous, for you must go with this people into the land that the LORD swore to their forefathers to give them,[a] and you must divide it among them as their inheritance. 8The LORD himself goes before you and will be with you;[b] he will never leave you nor forsake you.[c] Do not be afraid; do not be discouraged."

The Reading of the Law

9So Moses wrote[d] down this law and gave it to the priests, the sons of Levi, who carried[e] the ark of the covenant of the LORD, and to all the elders of Israel. 10Then Moses commanded them: "At the end of every seven years, in the year for canceling debts,[f] during the Feast of Tabernacles,[g] 11when all Israel comes to appear[h] before the LORD your God at the place he will choose,[i] you shall read this law[j] before them in their hearing. 12Assemble the people—men, women and children, and the aliens living in your towns—so they can listen and learn[k] to fear[l] the LORD your God and follow carefully all the words of this law. 13Their children,[m] who do not know this law, must hear it and learn to fear the LORD your God as long as you live in the land you are crossing the Jordan to possess."

faith" (Ro 10:6–10).

30:19 I call heaven and earth as witnesses. The typical ancient covenant outside the OT contained a list of gods who served as "witnesses" to its provisions. The covenant in Deuteronomy was "witnessed" by heaven and earth (see 31:28; 32:1; see also notes on Ps 50:1; Isa 1:2).

30:20 hold fast. See note on 10:20. the LORD is your life. When they chose the Lord, they chose life (v. 19). In 32:46–47 "all the words of this law" are said to be their life. The law, the Lord and life are bound together. "Life" in this context refers to all that makes life rich, full and productive—as God created it to be.

31:2 no longer able to lead. Not a reference to physical disability (see 34:7). The Lord did not allow Moses to lead the people into Canaan because of his sin (see 1:37; 3:23–27; 4:21–22; 32:48–52; Nu 20:2–13).

31:4 what he did to Sihon and Og. See 2:26–3:11.

31:6 Be strong and courageous. The Lord's exhortation, often through his servants, to the people of Israel (Jos 10:25), to Joshua (vv. 7,23; Jos 1:6–7,9,18), to Solomon (1Ch 22:13; 28:20) and to Hezekiah's military officers (2Ch 32:7). By trusting in the Lord and obeying him, his followers would be victorious in spite of great obstacles. he will never leave you nor forsake you. See v. 8; Jos 1:5; 1Ki 8:57; see also note on Ge 28:15.

31:9 wrote down this law and gave it to the priests. Ancient treaties specified that a copy of the treaty was to be placed before the gods at the religious centers of the nations involved. For Israel, that meant to place it in the ark of the covenant (see 33:9; see also notes on Ex 16:34; 31:18).

31:10 every seven years. See 15:4 and note; Ex 23:10–11; Lev 25:17; see also chart on "OT Feasts and Other Sacred Days," p. 174.

31:11 place he will choose. See note on 12:5. read this law before them. Reading the law to the Israelites (and teaching it to them) was one of the main duties of the priests (see 33:10; Mal 2:4–9).

Israel's Rebellion Predicted

14The LORD said to Moses, "Now the day of your death[n] is near. Call Joshua[o] and present yourselves at the Tent of Meeting, where I will commission him.[p]" So Moses and Joshua came and presented themselves at the Tent of Meeting.[q]

15Then the LORD appeared at the Tent in a pillar of cloud, and the cloud stood over the entrance to the Tent.[r] 16And the LORD said to Moses: "You are going to rest with your fathers,[s] and these people will soon prostitute[t] themselves to the foreign gods of the land they are entering. They will forsake[u] me and break the covenant I made with them. 17On that day I will become angry[v] with them and forsake[w] them; I will hide[x] my face[y] from them, and they will be destroyed. Many disasters[z] and difficulties will come upon them, and on that day they will ask, 'Have not these disasters come upon us because our God is not with us?'[a] 18And I will certainly hide my face on that day because of all their wickedness in turning to other gods.

19"Now write[b] down for yourselves this song and teach it to the Israelites and have them sing it, so that it may be a witness[c] for me against them. 20When I have brought them into the land flowing with milk and honey, the land I promised on oath to their forefathers,[d] and when they eat their fill and thrive, they will turn to other gods[e] and worship them,[f] rejecting me and breaking my covenant.[g] 21And when many disasters and difficulties come upon them,[h] this song will testify against them, because it will not be forgotten by their descendants. I know what they are disposed to do,[i] even before I bring them into the land I promised them on oath." 22So Moses wrote[j] down this song that day and taught it to the Israelites.

23The LORD gave this command[k] to Joshua son of Nun: "Be strong and courageous,[l] for you will bring the Israelites into the land I promised them on oath, and I myself will be with you."

24After Moses finished writing[m] in a book the words of this law[n] from beginning to end, 25he gave this command to the Levites who carried[o] the ark of the covenant of the LORD: 26"Take this Book of the Law and place it beside the ark of the covenant of the LORD your God. There it will remain as a witness against you.[p] 27For I know how rebellious[q] and stiff-necked[r] you are. If you have been rebellious against the LORD while I am still alive and with you, how much more will you rebel after I die! 28Assemble before me all the elders of your tribes and all your officials, so that I can speak these words in their hearing and call heaven and earth to testify against them.[s] 29For I know that after my death you are sure to become utterly corrupt[t] and to turn from the way I have commanded you. In days to come, disaster[u] will fall upon you because you will do evil in the sight of the LORD and provoke him to anger by what your hands have made."

The Song of Moses

30And Moses recited the words of this song from beginning to end in the hearing of the whole assembly of Israel:

32 Listen,[v] O heavens,[w] and I will speak;
hear, O earth, the words of my mouth.[x] 2Let my teaching fall like rain[y] and my words descend like dew,[z a] like showers[b] on new grass, like abundant rain on tender plants.

3I will proclaim[c] the name of the LORD.[d]
Oh, praise the greatness[e] of our God!
4He is the Rock,[f] his works are perfect,[g]
and all his ways are just.
A faithful God[h] who does no wrong, upright[i] and just is he.[j]

and spend my arrows[n] against them.
24 I will send wasting famine[o] against them, consuming pestilence[p] and deadly plague;[q]
I will send against them the fangs of wild beasts,[r]

unless the LORD had given them up?[g]
31 For their rock is not like our Rock,[h]

32 Their vine comes from the vine of Sodom[j]

33 Their wine is the venom of serpents, the deadly poison of cobras.[m]

when he sees their strength is gone and no one is left, slave[v] or free.

Moses to Die on Mount Nebo

[48]On that same day the LORD told Moses,[u] [49]"Go up into the Abarim[v] Range to Mount Nebo[w] in Moab, across from Jericho,[x] and view Canaan,[y] the land I am giving the Israelites as their own possession. [50]There on the mountain that you have climbed you will die[z] and be gathered to your people, just as your brother Aaron died[a] on Mount Hor[b] and was gathered to his people. [51]This is because both of you broke faith with me in the presence of the Israelites at the waters of Meribah Kadesh[c] in the Desert of Zin[d] and because you did not uphold my holiness among the Israelites.[e] [52]Therefore, you will see the land only from a distance;[f] you will not enter[g] the land I am giving to the people of Israel."

Moses Blesses the Tribes

33:1–29Ref — Ge 49:1–28

33 This is the blessing[h] that Moses the man of God[i] pronounced on the Israelites before his death. [2]He said:

"The LORD came from Sinai[j] and dawned over them from Seir;[k] he shone forth[l] from Mount Paran.[m]
He came with[v] myriads of holy ones[n] from the south, from his mountain slopes.[w] [3]Surely it is you who love[o] the people;
all the holy ones are in your hand.[p]
At your feet they all bow down,[q] and from you receive instruction, [4]the law that Moses gave us,[r]
the possession of the assembly of Jacob.[s] [5]He was king[t] over Jeshurun[x][u] when the leaders of the people assembled, along with the tribes of Israel.

[6]"Let Reuben live and not die, nor[y] his men be few."[v]

[7]And this he said about Judah:[w]

"Hear, O LORD, the cry of Judah;
bring him to his people.
With his own hands he defends his cause.
Oh, be his help against his foes!"

[8]About Levi[x] he said:

"Your Thummim and Urim[y] belong to the man you favored.[z]
You tested[a] him at Massah;
you contended with him at the waters of Meribah.[b] [9]He said of his father and mother,[c]
'I have no regard for them.'
He did not recognize his brothers or acknowledge his own children, but he watched over your word and guarded your covenant.[d]
[10]He teaches[e] your precepts to Jacob and your law to Israel.[f]
He offers incense before you[g] and whole burnt offerings on your altar.[h] [11]Bless all his skills, O LORD, and be pleased with the work of his hands.[i] Smite the loins of those who rise up against him; strike his foes till they rise no more."

[12]About Benjamin[j] he said:

"Let the beloved of the LORD rest secure in him,[k] for he shields him all day long,[l]

13About Joseph[o] he said:

"May the LORD bless his land with the precious dew from heaven above and with the deep waters that lie below;[p] 14with the best the sun brings forth and the finest the moon can yield;
15with the choicest gifts of the ancient mountains[q]
and the fruitfulness of the everlasting hills; 16with the best gifts of the earth and its fullness and the favor of him who dwelt in the burning bush.[r]
Let all these rest on the head of Joseph, on the brow of the prince among[z] his brothers.[s] 17In majesty he is like a firstborn bull;
his horns[t] are the horns of a wild ox.[u]
With them he will gore[v] the nations, even those at the ends of the earth.
Such are the ten thousands of Ephraim;[w] such are the thousands of Manasseh.[x]"

18About Zebulun[y] he said:

"Rejoice, Zebulun, in your going out, and you, Issachar,[z] in your tents.
19They will summon peoples to the mountain[a] and there offer sacrifices of righteousness;[b] they will feast on the abundance of the seas,[c] on the treasures hidden in the sand."

20About Gad[d] he said:

"Blessed is he who enlarges Gad's domain![e] Gad lives there like a lion, tearing at arm or head.
21He chose the best land for himself;[f]
the leader's portion was kept for him.[g]
When the heads of the people assembled, he carried out the LORD's righteous will,[h] and his judgments concerning Israel."

22About Dan[i] he said:

"Dan is a lion's cub, springing out of Bashan."

23About Naphtali[j] he said:

"Naphtali is abounding with the favor of the LORD and is full of his blessing;
he will inherit southward to the lake."

24About Asher[k] he said:

"Most blessed of sons is Asher;
let him be favored by his brothers, and let him bathe his feet in oil.[l] 25The bolts of your gates will be iron and bronze,[m] and your strength will equal your days.[n]

26"There is no one like the God of Jeshurun,[o] who rides[p] on the heavens to help you[q] and on the clouds[r] in his majesty.[s] 27The eternal[t] God is your refuge,[u] and underneath are the everlasting[v] arms.
He will drive out your enemy before you,[w] saying, 'Destroy him!'[x]
28So Israel will live in safety alone;[y] Jacob's spring is secure in a land of grain and new wine,

The Death of Moses

34 Then Moses climbed Mount Nebo[f] from the plains of Moab to the top of Pisgah,[g] across from Jericho.[h] There the LORD showed[i] him the whole land—from Gilead to Dan,[j] [2]all of Naphtali, the territory of Ephraim and Manasseh, all the land of Judah as far as the western sea,[bk] [3]the Negev[l] and the whole region from the Valley of Jericho, the City of Palms,[m] as far as Zoar.[n] [4]Then the LORD said to him, "This is the land I promised on oath[o] to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob[p] when I said, 'I will give it[q] to your descendants.' I have let you see it with your eyes, but you will not cross[r] over into it."

[5]And Moses the servant of the LORD[s] died[t] there in Moab, as the LORD had said. [6]He buried him[c] in Moab, in the valley opposite Beth Peor,[u] but to this day no one knows where his grave is.[v] [7]Moses was a hundred and twenty years old[w] when he died, yet his eyes were not weak[x] nor his strength gone.[y] [8]The Israelites grieved for Moses in the plains of Moab[z] thirty days,[a] until the time of weeping and mourning[b] was over.

[9]Now Joshua son of Nun was filled with the spirit[d] of wisdom[c] because Moses had laid his hands on him.[d] So the Israelites listened to him and did what the LORD had commanded Moses.

[10]Since then, no prophet[e] has risen in Israel like Moses,[f] whom the LORD knew face to face,[g] [11]who did all those miraculous signs and wonders[h] the LORD sent him to do in Egypt—to Pharaoh and to all his officials[i] and to his whole land. [12]For no one has[j] ever shown the mighty power or performed the awesome deeds[k] that Moses did in the sight of all Israel.

Many readers of Joshua (and other OT books) are deeply troubled by the role that warfare plays in this account of God's dealings with his people. Not a few relieve their ethical scruples by ascribing the author's perspective to a pre-Christian (and sub-Christian) stage of moral development that the Christian, in the light of Christ's teaching, must repudiate and transcend. Hence the main thread of the narrative line of Joshua is an offense to them.

It must be remembered, however, that the book of Joshua does not address itself to the abstract ethical question of war as a means for gaining human ends. It can only be understood in the context of the history of redemption unfolding in the Pentateuch, with its interplay of divine grace and judgment. Of that story it is the direct continuation.

Joshua is not an epic account of Israel's heroic generation or the story of Israel's conquest of Canaan with the aid of her national deity. It is rather the story of how God, to whom the whole world belongs, at one stage in the history of redemption reconquered a portion of the earth from the powers of this world that had claimed it for themselves, defending their claims by force of arms and reliance on their false gods. It tells how God commissioned his people, under his servant Joshua, to take Canaan in his name out of the hands of the idolatrous and dissolute Canaanites (whose measure of sin was now full; see Ge 15:16). It tells how he aided them in that enterprise and gave them conditional tenancy in his land in fulfillment of the ancient pledge.

Joshua is the story of the kingdom of God breaking into the world of nations at a time when national and political entities were viewed as the creation of the gods and living proofs of their power. Thus the Lord's triumph over the Canaanites testified to the world that the God of Israel is the one true and living God, whose claim on the world is absolute. It was also a warning to the nations that the irresistible advance of the kingdom of God would ultimately disinherit all those who opposed it, giving place in the earth only to those who acknowledge and serve the Lord. At once an act of redemption and of judgment, it gave notice of the outcome of history and anticipated the eschatological destiny of mankind and the creation.

The battles for Canaan were therefore the Lord's holy war, undertaken at a particular time in the program of redemption. God gave his people under Joshua no commission or license to conquer the world with the sword but a particular, limited mission. The conquered land itself would not become Israel's national possession by right of conquest, but it belonged to the Lord. So the land had to be cleansed of all remnants of paganism. Its people and their wealth were not for Israel to seize as the booty of war from which to enrich themselves (as Achan tried to do, ch. 7) but were placed under God's ban (were to be devoted to God to dispense with as he pleased). On that land Israel was to establish a commonwealth faithful to the righteous rule of God and thus be a witness (and a blessing) to the nations. If she herself became unfaithful and conformed to Canaanite culture and practice, she would in turn lose her place in the Lord's land—as she almost did in the days of the judges, and as she did eventually in the exile.

War is a terrible curse that the human race brings on itself as it seeks to possess the earth by its own unrighteous ways. But it pales before the curse that awaits all those who do not heed God's testimony to himself or his warnings—those who oppose the rule of God and reject his offer of grace. The God of the second Joshua (Jesus) is the God of the first Joshua also. Although now for a time he reaches out to the whole world with the gospel (and commissions his people urgently to carry his offer of peace to all nations), the sword of his judgment waits in the wings—and his second Joshua will wield it (Rev 19:11–16).

Joshua

Title and Theme

Joshua is a story of conquest and fulfillment for the people of God. After many years of slavery in Egypt and 40 years in the desert, the Israelites were finally allowed to enter the land promised to their fathers. Abraham, always a migrant, never possessed the country to which he was sent, but he left to his children the legacy of God's covenant that made them the eventual heirs of all of Canaan (see Ge 15:13,16,18; 17:8). Joshua was destined to turn that promise into reality.

Where Deuteronomy ends, the book of Joshua begins: The tribes of Israel are still camped on the east side of the Jordan River. The narrative opens with God's command to move forward and pass through the river on dry land. Then it relates the series of victories in central, southern and northern Canaan that gave the Israelites control of all the hill country and the Negev. It continues with a description of the tribal allotments and ends with Joshua's final addresses to the people. The theme of the book, therefore, is the establishment of Israel in the promised land.

Earlier in his life Joshua was called simply Hoshea (Nu 13:8,16), meaning "salvation." But later Moses changed his name to Joshua, meaning "The LORD saves" (or "The LORD gives victory"). When this same name (the Greek form of which is Jesus; see NIV text note on Mt 1:21) was given to Mary's firstborn son, it became the most loved of names.

In the Hebrew Bible the book of Joshua initiates a division called the Former Prophets, including also Judges, Samuel and Kings—all historical in content but written from a prophetic standpoint. They do more than merely record the nation's development from Moses to the fall of Judah in 586 B.C. They prophetically interpret God's covenant ways with Israel in history—how he fulfills and remains true to his promises (especially through his servants such as Joshua, the judges, Samuel and David) and how he deals with the waywardness of the Israelites. In Joshua it was the Lord who won the victories and "gave Israel all the land he had sworn to give their forefathers" (21:43).

Author and Date

In the judgment of many scholars Joshua was not written until the end of the period of the kings, some 800 years after the actual events. But there are significant reasons to question this conclusion and to place the time of composition much earlier. The earliest Jewish traditions (Talmud) claim that Joshua wrote his own book except for the final section about his funeral, which is attributed to Eleazar son of Aaron (the last verse must have been added by a later editor).

On at least two occasions the text reports writing at Joshua's command or by Joshua himself. When the tribes received their territories, Joshua instructed his men "to make a survey of the land and write a description of it" (18:8). Then in the last scene of the book, when Joshua led Israel in a renewal of the covenant with the Lord, "he drew up decrees and laws" (24:25). On yet another occasion the one telling the story appears also to have been a participant in the event; he uses the pronouns "we" and "us" (5:1,6).

Moreover, the author's observations are accurate and precise. He is thoroughly at ease with the antiquated names of cities, such as "the Jebusite city" (15:8; 18:16,28) for Jerusalem, Kiriath Arba (14:15; 15:54; 20:7; 21:11) for Hebron, and Greater Sidon (11:8; 19:28) for what later became simply Sidon. Tyre is never mentioned because in the days of Joshua it had not yet developed into a port of major importance.

But if some features suggest Joshua's own lifetime, others point to a time somewhat later. The account of the long day when the sun stood still at Aijalon is substantiated by a quotation from another source, the Book of Jashar (10:13). This would hardly be natural for an eyewitness of the miracle, writing shortly after it happened. Also, there are 12 instances where the phrase "until this day" is employed by the author.

It seems safe to conclude that the book, at least in its early form, dates from the beginning of the monarchy. Some think that Samuel may have had a hand in shaping or compiling the materials of the book, but in fact we are unsure who the final author or editor was.

The Life of Joshua

Joshua's remarkable life was filled with excitement, variety, success and honor. He was known for his deep trust in God and as "a man in whom is the spirit" (Nu 27:18). As a youth he lived through the bitter realities of slavery in Egypt, but he also witnessed the supernatural plagues and the miracle of Israel's escape from the army of the Egyptians when the waters of the sea opened before them. In the Sinai peninsula it was Joshua who led the troops of Israel to victory over the Amalekites (Ex 17:8–13). He alone was allowed to accompany Moses up the holy mountain where the tablets of the law were received (Ex 24:13–14). And it was he who stood watch at the temporary tent of meeting Moses set up before the tabernacle was erected (Ex 33:11).

Joshua was elected to represent his own tribe of Ephraim when the 12 spies were sent into Canaan to look over the land. Only Joshua and his friend Caleb were ready to follow God's will and take immediate possession of the land (see Nu 14:26–34). The rest were condemned to die in the desert. Even Moses died short of the goal and was told to turn everything over to Joshua. God promised to guide and strengthen Joshua, just as he had Moses (Dt 31:23).

Joshua proved to be not only a military strategist in the battles that followed, but also a statesman in the way he governed the tribes. Above all, he was God's chosen servant (see 24:29 and note on Dt 34:5) to bring Moses' work to completion and establish Israel in the promised land. In that role he was a striking OT type (foreshadowing) of Christ (see notes on Heb 4:1,6–8).

Historical Setting

At the time of the Israelite migration into Canaan the superpowers of the ancient Near East were relatively weak. The Hittites had faded from the scene. Neither Babylon nor Egypt could maintain a military presence in Canaan, and the Assyrians would not send in their armies until centuries later.

As the tribes circled east of the Dead Sea, only the stronghold of Edom offered any resistance. Moab was forced to let Israel pass through her territory and camp in her plains. When Og and Sihon, two regional Amorite kings of Transjordan, tried to stop the Israelites, they were easily defeated and their lands occupied.

Biblical archaeologists call this period the Late Bronze Age (1550–1200 B.C.). Today thousands of artifacts give testimony to the richness of the Canaanite material culture, which was in many ways superior to that of the Israelites. When the ruins of the ancient kingdom of Ugarit were discovered at modern Ras Shamra on the northern coast of Syria (see chart on "Ancient Texts Relating to the OT," p. xxii), a wealth of new information came to light concerning the domestic, commercial and religious life of the Canaanites. From a language close to Hebrew came stories of ancient kings and gods that revealed their immoral behavior and cruelty. In addition, pagan temples, altars, tombs and ritual vessels have been uncovered, throwing more light on the culture and customs of the peoples surrounding Israel.

Excavations at the ancient sites of Megiddo, Beth Shan and Gezer show how powerfully fortified these cities were and why they were not captured and occupied by Israel in Joshua's day. Many other fortified towns were taken, however, so that Israel became firmly established in the land as the dominant power. Apart from Jericho and Ai, Joshua is reported to have burned only Hazor (11:13), so attempts to date these events by destruction levels in the mounds of Canaan's ancient cities are questionable undertakings. It must also be remembered that other groups were involved in campaigns in the region about this time, among whom were Egyptian rulers and the Sea Peoples (including the Philistines). There had also been much intercity warfare among the Canaanites, and afterward the period of the judges was marked by general turbulence.

Much of the data from archaeology appears to support a date for Joshua's invasion c. 1250 B.C. This fits well with an exodus that would then have taken place 40 years earlier under the famous Rameses II, who ruled from the Nile delta at a city with the same name (Ex 1:11). It also places Joseph in Egypt in a favorable situation. Four hundred years before Rameses II the pharaohs were the Semitic Hyksos, who also ruled from the delta near the land of Goshen.

On the other hand, a good case can be made for the traditional viewpoint that the invasion occurred c. 1406 B.C. The oppression would have taken place under Amunhotep II after the death of his father Thutmose III, who is known to have used slave labor in his building projects. The earlier date also fits better with the two numbers found in Jdg 11:26 and 1Ki 6:1, since it allows for an additional 150 years between Moses and the monarchy. The LORD Commands Joshua

1 After the death of Moses the servant of the LORD,[a] the LORD said to Joshua[b] son of Nun, Moses' aide: 2"Moses my servant is dead. Now then, you and all these people, get ready to cross the Jordan River[cd] into the land[e] I am about to give to them[f]—to the Israelites. 3I will give you every place where you set your foot,[g] as I promised Moses.[h] 4Your territory will extend from the desert to Lebanon,[i] and from the great river, the Euphrates[j]—all the Hittite[k] country—to the Great Sea[a] on the west.[l] 5No one will be able to stand up against you[m] all the days of your life. As I was with[n] Moses, so I will be with you; I will never leave you nor forsake[o] you.

6"Be strong[p] and courageous,[q] because you will lead these people to inherit the land I swore to their forefathers[r] to give them. 7Be strong and very courageous. Be careful to obey[s] all the law[t] my servant Moses[u] gave you; do not turn from it to the right or to the left,[v] that you may be successful wherever you go.[w] 8Do not let this Book of the Law[x] depart from your mouth;[y] meditate[z] on it day and night, so that you may be careful to do everything written in it. Then you will be prosperous and successful.[a] 9Have I not commanded you? Be strong and courageous. Do not be terrified;[b] do not be discouraged,[c] for the LORD your God will be with you wherever you go."[d]

10So Joshua ordered the officers of the people:[e] 11"Go through the camp[f] and tell the people, 'Get your supplies[g] ready. Three days[h] from now you will cross the Jordan[i] here to go in and take possession[j] of the land the LORD your God is giving you for your own.' "

[a] 4 That is, the Mediterranean

1:1–18 The Lord initiates the action by charging Joshua, his chosen replacement for Moses (see Dt 31:1–8), to lead Israel across the Jordan and take possession of the promised land. He urges courage and promises success—but only if Israel obeys the law of God that Moses has given them. The chapter consists of speeches significant in their content and order: The Lord commands Joshua as his appointed leader over his people (vv. 1–9); Joshua, as the Lord's representative, addresses Israel (vv. 10–15); Israel responds to Joshua as the Lord's representative and successor to Moses (vv. 16–18). Thus the events of the book are set in motion and the roles of the main actors indicated.

1:1 After the death of Moses. Immediately the time and occasion of the action are set forth, showing that the story will continue where Deuteronomy ended, with the death of Moses. Cf. "After the death of Joshua" (Jdg 1:1). servant of the LORD. See notes on Ex 14:31; Dt 34:5; Ps 18 title; Isa 41:8–9; 42:1. Moses' aide. The title by which Joshua served for many years as second in command (see Nu 11:28; see also Ex 24:13; 33:11; Dt 1:38).

1:2 Jordan River. The flow of the Jordan near Jericho was not large during most of the year (only 80–100 feet wide), but at flood stage in the spring it filled its wider bed, which at places was a mile wide and far more treacherous to cross. land I am about to give to them. A central theme of the Pentateuch (see Ge 12:1; 50:24; Ex 3:8; 23:31; Dt 1:8). Joshua records the fulfillment of this promise of God.

1:3–5 See Dt 11:24–25.

1:4 The dimensions of the land promised to Israel vary (compare this text and Ge 15:18 with Dt 34:1–4), but these are the farthest limits—conquered and held only by David and Solomon. Canaan was still called "Hatti-land" centuries after the Hittites had withdrawn to the north. But Joshua was to take all he set out to conquer; wherever he set his foot was his. His victories gave to the 12 tribes most of the central hill country and much of the Negev.

1:5 I will be with you. To direct, sustain and assure success.

1:6 land I swore to their forefathers. The long-awaited inheritance pledged to the descendants of Abraham (Ge 15:7,8–21) and of Jacob (Ge 28:13).

1:7 Be careful to obey. Success was not guaranteed unconditionally (see Dt 8:1; 11:8,22–25).

1:8 Book of the Law. A documentary form of the laws from Sinai was already extant. mouth. See Dt 4:9–10; 6:6–7; 11:19. The law was usually read orally (cf. Dt 30:9–14; Ac 8:30). meditate. See Ps 1:2.

1:9 Have I not commanded you? A rhetorical question that emphasizes the authority of the speaker.

1:10 Joshua ordered. At this point Joshua assumes full command. officers. May refer to those whom Moses had appointed over the divisions within the tribes (Ex 18:21; Dt 1:15).

1:11 supplies. Foodstuffs needed for the next several days of march.

1:12–15 The threat from the two kings of Transjordan was overcome by military victory and the occupation of the lands north of Moab and east of the Jordan River. The two and a half tribes who asked to remain had been charged by Moses to send their fighting men across with the rest to conquer Canaan (Nu 21:21–35; 32:1–27). The conquest of the promised land must be an undertaking by all Israel.

JOSHUA

NAME MEANS: "The LORD saves" (Nu 13:16; Mt 1:21—see NIV text note)
OCCUPATION: Military commander under Moses, leader of Israel after Moses' death
BEST KNOWN FOR:

- his faith that God would give Israel victory in the promised land
- being chosen to lead the people of Israel into the promised land
- his obedience in conducting the miraculous defeat of Jericho said, 13"Remember the command that Moses the servant of the LORD gave you: 'The LORD your God is giving you rest[l] and has granted you this land.' 14Your wives,[m] your children and your livestock may stay in the land[n] that Moses gave you east of the Jordan, but all your fighting men, fully armed,[o] must cross over ahead of your brothers.[p] You are to help your brothers 15until the LORD gives them rest, as he has done for you, and until they too have taken possession of the land that the LORD your God is giving them. After that, you may go back and occupy your own land, which Moses the servant of the LORD gave you east of the Jordan toward the sunrise."[q]

16Then they answered Joshua, "Whatever you have commanded us we will do, and wherever you send us we will go.[r] 17Just as we fully obeyed Moses, so we will obey you.[s] Only may the LORD your God be with you as he was with Moses. 18Whoever rebels against your word and does not obey[t] your words, whatever you may command them, will be put to death. Only be strong and courageous![u]"

Rahab and the Spies

2 Then Joshua son of Nun secretly sent two spies[v] from Shittim.[w] "Go, look over[x] the land," he said, "especially Jericho.[y]" So they went and entered the house of a prostitute[b] named Rahab[z] and stayed there.

2The king of Jericho was told, "Look! Some of the Israelites have come here tonight to spy out the land." 3So the king of Jericho sent this message to Rahab:[a] "Bring out the men who came to you and entered your house, because they have come to spy out the whole land."

4But the woman had taken the two men[b] and hidden them.[c] She said, "Yes, the men came to me, but I did not know where they had come from. 5At dusk, when it was time to close the city gate,[d] the men left. I don't know which way they went. Go after them quickly. You may catch up with them."[e] 6(But she had taken them up to the roof and hidden them under the stalks of flax[f] she had laid out on the roof.)[g] 7So the men set out in pursuit of the spies on the road that leads to the fords of the Jordan,[h] and as soon as the pursuers[i] had gone out, the gate was shut.

8Before the spies lay down for the night, she went up on the roof[j] 9and said to them, "I know that the LORD has given this land to you and that a great fear[k] of you has fallen on us, so that all who live in this country are melting in fear because of you. 10We have heard

[b] 1 Or possibly an innkeeper

1:13 rest. An important OT concept (see notes on Dt 3:20; 2Sa 7:1,11), implying secure borders, peace with neighboring countries and absence of threat to life and well-being within the land (see note on 1Ki 5:4).

1:14 your fighting men, fully armed. Those over 20 (see, e.g., Ex 38:26), known for their valor and able to equip themselves with the weapons of war.

1:18 Whoever rebels. Having just taken the oath of allegiance to Joshua, they now agree to the death penalty for any act of treason (e.g., the sin of Achan, 7:15). be strong and courageous. The people's words of encouragement to Joshua echo and reinforce those from the Lord (vv. 6–7,9).

2:1–24 The mission of the two spies and the account of Rahab. The practice of reconnaissance and espionage is as old as war itself (cf. Jdg 7:10–11; 1Sa 26:6–12). Rahab became a convert to the God of Israel and a famous woman among the Hebrews. She is honored in the NT for her faith (Heb 11:31) and for her good works (Jas 2:25).

2:1 sent ... from Shittim. The invasion point was in the plains of Moab facing toward the Jordan and Jericho (Nu 33:48–49). The Hebrew word Shittim means "acacia trees," which grow in the semi-arid conditions of the desert. especially Jericho. The primary focus of the spies. It was a fortified city, was well supplied by strong springs, which helped to make it an oasis, and was located just five miles west of the Jordan. Its name probably means "moon city," and archaeological excavations there reveal continuous occupation back to at least 7000 B.C. prostitute. Josephus and other early sources refer to Rahab as an "innkeeper" (see NIV text note), but see Heb 11:31; Jas 2:25.

2:2 king of Jericho. The major cities of Canaan were in reality small kingdoms, each ruled by a local king (attested also in the Amarna letters of the 14th century B.C.; see chart on "Ancient Texts Relating to the OT," p. xxii).

2:6 hidden ... under the stalks of flax. Rooftops in the Near East are still used for drying grain or stalks. Rahab's cunning saved the lives of the two Israelites but put her own life in jeopardy.

2:7 fords of the Jordan. Shallow crossings of the Jordan, where the depth of normal flow averages only three feet.

2:8–11 Rahab's confession has a significant concentric structure:

a. "I know";
b. "a great fear ... has fallen on us ... all who live in this country";
c. "We have heard";
bb. "our hearts melted and everyone's courage failed";
aa. "the LORD your God is God."

Rahab's personal confession forms the outer frame (a.-aa.); the inner frame (b.-bb.) offers the military intelligence that the spies report back to Joshua; the center (c., v. 10) sums up the news about the Lord that occasioned both the Canaanite fear and Rahab's abandonment of Canaan and its gods for the Lord and Israel. Her confession of faith in the Lord and her accurate information about the Lord's triumphs over powerful enemies are astounding. That the hearts of the Canaanites were "melting in fear" (v. 9) was vital information to the spies.

2:10 completely destroyed. See NIV text note.

how the LORD dried up[l] the water of the Red Sea[c] for you when you came out of Egypt,[m] and what you did to Sihon and Og,[n] the two kings of the Amorites[o] east of the Jordan,[p] whom you completely destroyed.[dq] 11When we heard of it, our hearts melted[r] and everyone's courage failed[s] because of you,[t] for the LORD your God[u] is God in heaven above and on the earth[v] below. 12Now then, please swear to me[w] by the LORD that you will show kindness[x] to my family, because I have shown kindness to you. Give me a sure sign[y] 13that you will spare the lives of my father and mother, my brothers and sisters, and all who belong to them,[z] and that you will save us from death."

14"Our lives for your lives!"[a] the men assured her. "If you don't tell what we are doing, we will treat you kindly and faithfully[b] when the LORD gives us the land."

15So she let them down by a rope[c] through the window,[d] for the house she lived in was part of the city wall. 16Now she had said to them, "Go to the hills[e] so the pursuers[f] will not find you. Hide yourselves there three days[g] until they return, and then go on your way."[h]

17The men said to her, "This oath[i] you made us swear will not be binding on us 18unless, when we enter the land, you have tied this scarlet cord[j] in the window[k] through which you let us down, and unless you have brought your father and mother, your brothers and all your family[l] into your house. 19If anyone goes outside your house into the street, his blood will be on his own head;[m] we will not be responsible. As for anyone who is in the house with you, his blood will be on our head[n] if a hand is laid on him. 20But if you tell what we are doing, we will be released from the oath you made us swear."[o]

21"Agreed," she replied. "Let it be as you say." So she sent them away and they departed. And she tied the scarlet cord[p] in the window.[q]

22When they left, they went into the hills and stayed there three days,[r] until the pursuers[s] had searched all along the road and returned without finding them. 23Then the two men started back. They went down out of the hills, forded the river and came to Joshua son of Nun and told him everything that had happened to them. 24They said to Joshua, "The LORD has surely given the whole land into our hands;[t] all the people are melting in fear[u] because of us."

Crossing the Jordan

3 Early in the morning Joshua and all the Israelites set out from Shittim[v] and went to the Jordan,[w] where they camped before crossing over. 2After three days[x] the officers[y] went throughout the camp,[z] 3giving orders to the people: "When you see the ark of the covenant[a]

[c] 10 Hebrew Yam Suph; that is, Sea of Reeds
[d] 10 The Hebrew term refers to the irrevocable giving over of things or persons to the LORD, often by totally destroying them.

2:12 show kindness to my family. The Hebrew for "kindness" is frequently translated "love" or "unfailing love" and often summarizes God's covenant favor toward his people or the love that people are to show to others. Rahab had acted toward the spies as though she was an Israelite, and now she asks that Israel treat her similarly. sure sign. Their oath to spare the whole family (v. 14).

2:14 kindly and faithfully. The terms of the pledge made by the spies echo Rahab's request (v. 12). when the LORD gives us the land. All were convinced of the inevitable victory of the Israelites over the city of Jericho.

2:15 the house ... was part of the city wall. There is archaeological evidence that the people of Jericho would occasionally build their houses onto the city wall. Although this evidence predates the time of Joshua, it may still serve to illumine this verse. Alternatively, the Late Bronze fortifications at Jericho may have included a casemate wall (a hollow wall with partitions), and Rahab may have occupied one or more rooms inside it.

2:18 scarlet cord in the window. The function of the red marker was similar to that of the blood of the Passover lamb when the Lord struck down the firstborn of Egypt (see Ex 12:13,22–23). The early church viewed the blood-colored cord as a type (symbol) of Christ's atonement.

2:19 his blood will be on our head. A vow that accepted responsibility for the death of another, with its related guilt and the retribution meted out by either relatives or the state.

2:22 into the hills. Directly west of ancient Jericho were the high, rugged hills of the central mountain ridge in Palestine. They are honeycombed with caves, making the concealment and escape of the two spies relatively easy.

3:1–4:24 Details of the river crossing and the memorial of 12 stones set up in the camp at Gilgal. The great significance of this account can hardly be overemphasized, since it marks the crossing of the boundary into the promised land and parallels the miracle of the "Red Sea" crossing in the exodus (Ex 14–15). The Israelites' faith in the God of their fathers was renewed and strengthened when it was about to be most severely challenged, while at the same time the Canaanites' fear was greatly increased (5:1). In this account the author uses an "overlay" technique in which, having narrated the crossing to its conclusion (ch. 3), he returns to various points in the event to enlarge on several details: the stones for a memorial (4:1–9); the successful crossing by all Israel (4:10–14); the renewed flow of the river after the crossing was completed (4:15–18). The final paragraph of ch. 4 (vv. 19–24) picks up the story again from 3:17 and completes the account by noting Israel's encampment at Gilgal and the erecting of the stone memorial.

3:3 ark of the covenant. The most sacred of the tabernacle furnishings (see Ex 25:10–22). Since it signified the Lord's throne, the Lord himself went into the Jordan ahead of his people as he led them into the land of rest (see Nu 10:33–36).

of the LORD your God, and the priests,[b] who are Levites,[c] carrying it, you are to move out from your positions and follow it. [4]Then you will know which way to go, since you have never been this way before. But keep a distance of about a thousand yards[e][d] between you and the ark; do not go near it."

[5]Joshua told the people, "Consecrate yourselves,[e] for tomorrow the LORD will do amazing things[f] among you."

[6]Joshua said to the priests, "Take up the ark of the covenant and pass on ahead of the people." So they took it up and went ahead of them.

[7]And the LORD said to Joshua, "Today I will begin to exalt you[g] in the eyes of all Israel, so they may know that I am with you as I was with Moses.[h] [8]Tell the priests[i] who carry the ark of the covenant: 'When you reach the edge of the Jordan's waters, go and stand in the river.' "

[9]Joshua said to the Israelites, "Come here and listen to the words of the LORD your God. [10]This is how you will know that the living God[j] is among you[k] and that he will certainly drive out before you the Canaanites, Hittites,[l] Hivites, Perizzites,[m] Girgashites, Amorites and Jebusites.[n] [11]See, the ark of the covenant of the Lord of all the earth[o] will go into the Jordan ahead of you.[p] [12]Now then, choose twelve men[q] from the tribes of Israel, one from each tribe. [13]And as soon as the priests who carry the ark of the LORD—the Lord of all the earth[r]—set foot in the Jordan, its waters flowing downstream[s] will be cut off[t] and stand up in a heap.[u]"

[14]So when the people broke camp to cross the Jordan, the priests carrying the ark of the covenant[v] went ahead[w] of them. [15]Now the Jordan[x] is at flood stage[y] all during harvest.[z] Yet as soon as the priests who carried the ark reached the Jordan and their feet touched the water's edge, [16]the water from upstream stopped flowing.[a] It piled up in a heap[b] a great distance away, at a town called Adam in the vicinity of Zarethan,[c] while the water flowing down[d] to the Sea of the Arabah[e] (the Salt Sea[f]) was completely cut off.[g] So the people crossed over opposite Jericho.[h] [17]The priests[i] who carried the ark of the covenant of the LORD stood firm on dry ground in the middle of the Jordan,[j] while all Israel passed by until the whole nation had completed the crossing on dry ground.[k]

[e]4 Hebrew about two thousand cubits (about 900 meters) [f]16 That is, the Dead Sea

3:4 distance of about a thousand yards. There was evidently a line of march, with the priests and ark leading the way. Respect for the sacred symbol of the Lord's holy presence accounts for this gap between the people and the priests bearing the ark.

3:5 Consecrate yourselves. Before their meeting with God at Sinai this had involved washing all their garments as well as their bodies, and also abstinence from sexual intercourse (see Ex 19:10,14–15).

3:7 I will begin to exalt you. A prime objective for the divine intervention at the Jordan was to validate the leadership of Joshua. With a miraculous event so much like that of the "Red Sea" crossing, Joshua's position as the Lord's servant would be shown to be comparable to that of Moses.

3:10 This is how you will know. The manner by which God is about to bring Israel across the Jordan River, the watery boundary of the promised land, will bring assurance that the one true God is with them and that he will surely dislodge the present inhabitants of Canaan. Two fundamental issues are at stake: 1. Who is the true and mighty God—the God of Israel or the god on whom the Canaanites depend (Baal, who was believed to reign as king among the gods because he had triumphed over the sea-god)? By opening the way through the flooded Jordan the Lord would show both Israel and the Canaanites that he is Lord over the waters (as he was at the "Red Sea," at the flood and at creation) and that he is able to establish his own order in the world. See 1Ki 20:23; 2Ki 18:32–35. 2. Who has the rightful claim to the land—the Lord or the Canaanites? (For the juridical aspect of such wars see Jdg 11:27.) By passing safely through the Jordan at the head of his army the Lord showed the rightness of his claim on the land. In the ancient Near East a common way for obtaining the judicial verdict of the gods was by compelling the accused to submit to trial by water ordeal. Usually this involved casting him into a river (if the accused drowned, the gods had found him guilty; if not, the gods had declared him innocent). In Israel, however, another form of water ordeal was practiced (see Nu 5:16–28). Significantly, the Lord would enter the Jordan first and then remain there until his whole army had crossed safely over. Thus his claim to the land was vindicated before the eyes of all who heard about it. And it was his claim, not Israel's; she came through the Jordan only with him and as his army, "baptized" to his service. Canaanites ... Jebusites. See notes on Ge 9:25; 10:6,15–16; 13:7; 15:16; 23:3; Ex 3:8; Jdg 3:3; 6:10.

3:12 choose twelve men. Joshua seems to anticipate the Lord's instructions concerning a stone monument of the event (see 4:2–3).

3:13 cut off. Blocked, stopped in its flow. stand up in a heap. The Hebrew for "heap" is found here, in v. 16 and also in the poetic accounts of the "Red Sea" crossing (Ex 15:8; Ps 78:13). It is possible that God used a physical means (such as a landslide) to dam up the Jordan at the place called Adam (v. 16), near the entrance of the Jabbok. (As recently as 1927 a blockage of the water in this area was recorded that lasted over 20 hours.) But if so, the miraculous element is not diminished (see Ex 14:21).

3:15 at flood stage. Because of the spring rains and the melting of snow on Mount Hermon. harvest. Grain harvest took place in April and May. as soon as. The stoppage nearly 20 miles upstream (v. 16) would have happened several hours earlier to make the events coincide.

3:17 The priests who carried the ark ... stood firm on dry ground in the middle of the Jordan. Signifying that the Lord himself remained in the place of danger until all Israel had crossed the Jordan.

4 When the whole nation had finished crossing the Jordan,[l] the LORD said to Joshua, 2"Choose twelve men[m] from among the people, one from each tribe, 3and tell them to take up twelve stones[n] from the middle of the Jordan[o] from right where the priests stood and to carry them over with you and put them down at the place where you stay tonight.[p]"

4So Joshua called together the twelve men[q] he had appointed from the Israelites, one from each tribe, 5and said to them, "Go over before the ark of the LORD your God into the middle of the Jordan.[r] Each of you is to take up a stone on his shoulder, according to the number of the tribes of the Israelites, 6to serve as a sign[s] among you. In the future, when your children[t] ask you, 'What do these stones mean?'[u] 7tell them that the flow of the Jordan was cut off[v] before the ark of the covenant of the LORD. When it crossed the Jordan, the waters of the Jordan were cut off. These stones are to be a memorial[w] to the people of Israel forever."

8So the Israelites did as Joshua commanded them. They took twelve stones[x] from the middle of the Jordan,[y] according to the number of the tribes of the Israelites, as the LORD had told Joshua;[z] and they carried them over with them to their camp, where they put them down. 9Joshua set up the twelve stones[a] that had been[g] in the middle of the Jordan at the spot where the priests who carried the ark of the covenant had stood. And they are there to this day.[b]

10Now the priests who carried the ark remained standing in the middle of the Jordan until everything the LORD had commanded Joshua was done by the people, just as Moses had directed Joshua. The people hurried over, 11and as soon as all of them had crossed, the ark of the LORD and the priests came to the other side while the people watched.
12The men of Reuben,[c] Gad[d] and the half-tribe of Manasseh[e] crossed over, armed, in front of the Israelites,[f] as Moses had directed them.[g] 13About forty thousand armed for battle[h] crossed over[i] before the LORD to the plains of Jericho for war.

14That day the LORD exalted[j] Joshua in the sight of all Israel; and they revered him all the days of his life, just as they had revered Moses.

15Then the LORD said to Joshua,
16"Command the priests carrying the ark of the Testimony[k] to come up out of the Jordan."

17So Joshua commanded the priests,
"Come up out of the Jordan."

18And the priests came up out of the river carrying the ark of the covenant of the LORD. No sooner had they set their feet on the dry ground than the waters of the Jordan returned to their place[l] and ran at flood stage[m] as before.

19On the tenth day of the first month the people went up from the Jordan and camped at Gilgal[n] on the eastern border of Jericho. 20And Joshua set up at Gilgal the twelve stones[o] they had taken out of the Jordan. 21He said to the Israelites, "In the future when your descendants ask their fathers, 'What do these stones mean?'[p] 22tell them, 'Israel crossed the Jordan on dry ground.'[q] 23For the LORD your God dried up the Jordan before you until you had crossed over. The LORD your God did to the Jordan just what he had done to the Red Sea[h] when he dried it up before us until we had crossed over.[r] 24He did this so that all the peoples of the earth might know[s] that the hand of the LORD is powerful[t] and so that you might always fear the LORD your God.[u]"

[g]9 Or Joshua also set up twelve stones
[h]23 Hebrew Yam Suph; that is, Sea of Reeds

4:3 at the place where you stay tonight. Indicating that the entire nation made the crossing in one day.

4:6 What do these stones mean? A stone monument was commonly used as a memorial to remind future generations of what had happened at that place (24:26; 1Sa 7:12).

4:9 Joshua set up the twelve stones. Each tribe brought a stone for the monument from the riverbed to the new campsite at Gilgal, and Joshua constructed the monument there. An alternative translation suggests that Joshua set up a second pile in the middle of the river (see NIV text note).

4:13 About forty thousand. Seems too few for the number of men listed in Nu 26 for Reuben, Gad and half of Manasseh; the contingents were very likely representative since it would have been imprudent to leave the people undefended who settled in Transjordan (cf. 22:8, "brothers"; Nu 32:17).

4:19 tenth day of the first month. The day the Passover lamb was to be selected (Ex 12:3). Gilgal. Usually identified with the ruins at Khirbet el-Mafjer, two miles northeast of Jericho.

4:23 God dried up the Jordan. Still another descriptive phrase for the miracle, along with "the water . . . cut off," "piled up in a heap" and "stopped flowing" (3:16).

4:24 so that all . . . might know. The Lord's revelation of his power to the Israelites was a public event that all the Canaanites heard about (see 5:1), just as they had heard of the crossing of the "Red Sea" and defeat of Sihon and Og (2:10). you. The Hebrew can also be read as "they." fear the LORD. Worship and serve him according to his commandments.

5:1–12 Two covenantal ceremonies were resumed at Gilgal in accordance with the laws from Sinai: the rite of circumcision and the Feast of the Passover. Both were how the LORD had dried up the Jordan before the Israelites until we had crossed over, their hearts melted[w] and they no longer had the courage to face the Israelites.

[2]At that time the LORD said to Joshua, "Make flint knives[x] and circumcise[y] the Israelites again." [3]So Joshua made flint knives and circumcised the Israelites at Gibeath Haaraloth.[i]

[4]Now this is why he did so: All those who came out of Egypt—all the men of military age[z]—died in the desert on the way after leaving Egypt.[a] [5]All the people that came out had been circumcised, but all the people born in the desert during the journey from Egypt had not. [6]The Israelites had moved about in the desert[b] forty years[c] until all the men who were of military age when they left Egypt had died, since they had not obeyed the LORD. For the LORD had sworn to them that they would not see the land that he had solemnly promised their fathers to give us,[d] a land flowing with milk and honey.[e] [7]So he raised up their sons in their place, and these were the ones Joshua circumcised. They were still uncircumcised because they had not been circumcised on the way. [8]And after the whole nation had been circumcised, they remained where they were in camp until they were healed.[f]

[9]Then the LORD said to Joshua, "Today I have rolled away the reproach of Egypt from you." So the place has been called Gilgal[jg] to this day.

[10]On the evening of the fourteenth day of the month,[h] while camped at Gilgal on the plains of Jericho, the Israelites celebrated the Passover.[i] [11]The day after the Passover, that very day, they ate some of the produce of the land:[j] unleavened bread[k] and roasted grain.[l] [12]The manna stopped the day after[k] they ate this food from the land; there was no longer any manna for the Israelites, but that year they ate of the produce of Canaan.[m]

The Fall of Jericho

[13]Now when Joshua was near Jericho, he looked up and saw a man[n] standing in front of him with a drawn sword[o] in his hand. Joshua went up to him and asked, "Are you for us or for our enemies?"

[14]"Neither," he replied, "but as commander of the army of the LORD I have now come." Then Joshua fell face-down[p] to the ground[q] in reverence, and asked him, "What message does my Lord[l] have for his servant?"

significant preparations for the conquest of the promised land.

5:1 Amorite . . . Canaanite. Usually interchangeable, these general names included the many smaller nations in the land. Amorite meant "westerner," and Canaanite referred to the people living along the Mediterranean coast. This verse perhaps concludes the account of the crossing since it notes the effect of that event on the peoples of Canaan (see note on 3:10).

5:2 flint knives. Metal knives were available, but flint made a more efficient surgical tool, as modern demonstrations have shown. Israel had to be consecrated to the Lord's service before she could undertake the Lord's warfare and take possession of the land (cf. Ex 4:24–26). circumcise. Circumcision marked every male as a son of Abraham (Ge 17:10–11) bound to the service of the Lord, and it was a prerequisite for the Passover (Ex 12:48).

5:3 Gibeath Haaraloth. See NIV text note.

5:6 forty years. The time between their departure from Egypt and the crossing of the Jordan. Only 38 years had passed since they turned back at Kadesh Barnea (Nu 14:20–22; Dt 2:14).

5:9 reproach of Egypt. Although the reference may be to Egypt's enslavement of Israel, it is much more likely that the author had in mind the reproach the Egyptians would have cast upon her and her God if Israel had perished in the desert (see Ex 32:12; Nu 14:13; Dt 9:28). Now that the desert journey is over and Israel is safely in the promised land as his special people consecrated to him by circumcision, the reproach of Egypt is rolled away.

5:10 Passover. The ceremonies took place in the month of Abib, the first month of the year (Ex 12:2). At twilight on the 14th day of the month the Passover lamb was to be slaughtered, then roasted and eaten that same night (Ex 12:5–8). Israel had not celebrated Passover since Sinai, one year after her release from Egypt (Nu 9:1–5). Before the next season she had rebelled at the border of Canaan, and the generation of the exodus had been condemned to die in the desert (Nu 14:21–23,29–35). For that generation the celebration of Passover (deliverance from judgment) could have had little meaning.

5:11 unleavened bread. Bread baked without yeast. It was to be eaten during the seven feast days that followed (Ex 12:15; Lev 23:6).

5:12 manna stopped. This transition from eating manna to eating the "produce of the land" (v. 11) ended 40 years of dependence on God's special provision. Manna was God's gift for the desert journey; from now on he provided Israel with food from the promised land.

5:13–6:5 The narration of the conquest is introduced by the sudden appearance of a heavenly figure who calls himself the "commander of the army of the LORD" (5:14).

5:13 Joshua was near Jericho. The leader of God's army went to scout the nearest Canaanite stronghold, but another warrior was already on the scene. a man standing. The experience is taken by many to be an encounter with God in human form (theophany), or with Christ (Christophany). But angels also were sent on missions of this kind (Jdg 6:11; 13:3), and some were identified as captains over the heavenly armies (Da 10:5,20; 12:1).

5:14 Neither. Joshua and Israel must know their place—it is not that God is on their side; rather, they must fight God's battles. commander of the army of the LORD. God has sent the commander of his heavenly armies to take charge of the battle on earth. Joshua must take orders from him (6:2–5), and he can also know that the armies of heaven are committed to this war—as later events confirm. my Lord. A term of respect for a superior.

15The commander of the LORD's army replied, "Take off your sandals, for the place where you are standing is holy."[r]
And Joshua did so.

6 Now Jericho[s] was tightly shut up because of the Israelites. No one went out and no one came in.

2Then the LORD said to Joshua, "See, I have delivered[t] Jericho into your hands, along with its king and its fighting men. 3March around the city once with all the armed men. Do this for six days. 4Have seven priests carry trumpets of rams' horns[u] in front of the ark. On the seventh day, march around the city seven times, with the priests blowing the trumpets.[v] 5When you hear them sound a long blast[w] on the trumpets, have all the people give a loud shout;[x] then the wall of the city will collapse and the people will go up, every man straight in."

6So Joshua son of Nun called the priests and said to them, "Take up the ark of the covenant of the LORD and have seven priests carry trumpets in front of it."[y] 7And he ordered the people, "Advance[z]! March around the city, with the armed guard going ahead of the ark[a] of the LORD."

8When Joshua had spoken to the people, the seven priests carrying the seven trumpets before the LORD went forward, blowing their trumpets, and the ark of the LORD's covenant followed them. 9The armed guard marched ahead of the priests who blew the trumpets, and the rear guard[b] followed the ark. All this time the trumpets were sounding. 10But Joshua had commanded the people, "Do not give a war cry, do not raise your voices, do not say a word until the day I tell you to shout. Then shout![c]" 11So he had the ark of the LORD carried around the city, circling it once. Then the people returned to camp and spent the night there.

12Joshua got up early the next morning and the priests took up the ark of the LORD. 13The seven priests carrying the seven trumpets went forward, marching before the ark of the LORD and blowing the trumpets. The armed men went ahead of them and the rear guard followed the ark of the LORD, while the trumpets kept sounding. 14So on the second day they marched around the city once and returned to the camp. They did this for six days.

15On the seventh day, they got up at daybreak and marched around the city seven times in the same manner, except that on that day they circled the city seven times.[d] 16The seventh time around, when the priests sounded the trumpet blast, Joshua commanded the people, "Shout! For the LORD has given you the city![e] 17The city and all that is in it are

5:15 Joshua is commissioned to undertake the Lord's battles for Canaan, just as Moses had been commissioned to confront Pharaoh (Ex 3:5).

6:1 Jericho. Modern Tell es-Sultan, site of more than two dozen ancient cities, built and destroyed, one above the other. Many had powerful, double walls, but none of the levels has been positively identified as the one that fell under Joshua. The tell (mound) is roughly 400 by 200 yards in size. Since Jericho may have been a center for the worship of the moon-god (Jericho probably means "moon city"), God was destroying not only Canaanite cities, but also Canaanite religion. See map No. 3 at the end of the study Bible.

6:2 the LORD. The Lord's command no doubt comes to Joshua through the "commander of the army of the LORD" (5:14), who orders the first conquest of a Canaanite city.

6:3 March around the city. A ritual act, signifying a siege of the city, that was to be repeated for six days.

6:4 trumpets of rams' horns. Instruments not of music but of signaling, in both religious and military contexts (which appear to come together here). The trumpets were to be sounded (v. 8), as on the seventh day, announcing the presence of the Lord (see 2Sa 6:15; 1Ch 15:28; Zec 9:14). ark. Signified that the Lord was laying siege to the city. seventh day. No note is taken of the Sabbath during this seven-day siege, but perhaps that was the day the Lord gave the city to Israel as the first pledge of the land of rest. To arrive at the goal of a long march on the seventh day is a motif found also in other ancient Near Eastern literature. In any event, the remarkable constellation of sevens (seven priests with trumpets, seven days, seven encirclements on the seventh day) underscores the sacred significance of the event (see Introduction to Revelation: Distinctive Feature) and is, perhaps, a deliberate evoking of the seven days of creation to signal the beginning of God's new order in the world.

6:5 long blast . . . loud shout. Signaling the onset of the attack—psychological warfare, intended to create panic and confusion (see Jdg 7). In the Dead Sea Scroll of "The War of the Sons of Light against the Sons of Darkness," the Levites are instructed to blow in unison a great battle fanfare to melt the heart of the enemy. (For Dead Sea Scrolls see "The Time between the Testaments," p. 1424.) every man straight in. Not a breach here and there but a general collapse of the walls, giving access to the city from all sides.

6:7 armed guard. The Hebrew for this term differs from that in v. 3 but may be synonymous with it. It is to be expected that the ark led the procession. If so, the present reference may be to a kind of royal guard (but see v. 9 and note).

6:8–14 Throughout these verses the ark of the Lord is made the center of focus, highlighting the fact that it was the Lord himself who besieged the city.

6:9 rear guard. If the rear guard was made up of the final contingents of the army (see Nu 10:25), the armed guard of vv. 7,9 constituted the main body of troops.

6:12–14 Literary repetition reflects repetition in action, a common feature in ancient Near Eastern literature.

6:17 devoted. See NIV text note. The ban placed all of Jericho's inhabitants under the curse of death and all of the city's treasures that could not be destroyed under consignment to the Lord's house (v. 19). According to the law of Moses this ban could be applied to animals for sacrifice, to property given to God, or to any person found worthy of death (Lev 27:28–29). It was Moses himself who ruled that all the inhabitants of Canaan be "devoted" by execution for their idolatry and all its accompanying moral corruption to be devoted[m][f] to the LORD. Only Rahab the prostitute[n][g] and all who are with her in her house shall be spared, because she hid[h] the spies we sent. 18But keep away from the devoted things,[i] so that you will not bring about your own destruction by taking any of them. Otherwise you will make the camp of Israel liable to destruction[j] and bring trouble[k] on it. 19All the silver and gold and the articles of bronze and iron[l] are sacred to the LORD and must go into his treasury."

20When the trumpets sounded,[m] the people shouted, and at the sound of the trumpet, when the people gave a loud shout,[n] the wall collapsed; so every man charged straight in, and they took the city.[o] 21They devoted[p] the city to the LORD and destroyed[q] with the sword every living thing in it—men and women, young and old, cattle, sheep and donkeys.

22Joshua said to the two men[r] who had spied out[s] the land, "Go into the prostitute's house and bring her out and all who belong to her, in accordance with your oath to her.[t]" 23So the young men who had done the spying went in and brought out Rahab, her father and mother and brothers and all who belonged to her.[u] They brought out her entire family and put them in a place outside the camp of Israel.

26At that time Joshua pronounced this solemn oath:[b] "Cursed[c] before the LORD is the man who undertakes to rebuild this city, Jericho:

"At the cost of his firstborn son will he lay its foundations; at the cost of his youngest will he set up its gates."[d]

27So the LORD was with Joshua,[e] and his fame spread[f] throughout the land.

Achan's Sin

7 But the Israelites acted unfaithfully in regard to the devoted things[o];[g] Achan[h] son of Carmi, the son of Zimri,[p] the son of Zerah,[i] of the tribe of Judah,[j] took some of them. So the LORD's anger burned[k] against Israel.[l]

2Now Joshua sent men from Jericho to Ai,[m] which is near Beth Aven[n] to the east of Bethel,[o] and told them, "Go up and spy out[p] the region." So the men went up and spied out Ai.

3When they returned to Joshua, they said, "Not all the people will have to go up against Ai. Send two or three thousand men to take it and do not weary (Dt 20:16–18). See note on Dt 2:34. Rahab ... and ... her house shall be spared. Honoring the pledge made by the two spies (2:14).

6:18 your own destruction. See NIV text note on v. 17. If Israel took for herself anything that was under God's ban, she herself would fall under the ban.

6:25 she lives among the Israelites. The faith of Rahab is noted twice in the NT (Heb 11:31; Jas 2:25).

6:26 Cursed ... is the man. Jericho itself was to be devoted to the Lord as a perpetual sign of God's judgment on the wicked Canaanites and as a firstfruits offering of the land. This was a way of signifying that the conquered land belonged to the Lord. The curse was fulfilled in the rebellious days of King Ahab (1Ki 16:34).

7:1–26 The tragic story of Achan, which stands in sharp contrast to the story of Rahab. In the earlier event a Canaanite prostitute, because of her courageous allegiance to Israel and her acknowledgment of the Lord, was spared and received into Israel. She abandoned Canaan and its gods on account of the Lord and Israel, and so received Canaan back. In the present event an Israelite (of the tribe of Judah, no less), because of his disloyalty to the Lord and Israel, is executed as the Canaanites were. He stole the riches of Canaan from the Lord, and so lost his inheritance in the promised land. This is also a story of how one man's sin adversely affected the entire nation. Throughout this account (as often in the OT) Israel is considered a corporate unity in covenant with and in the service of the Lord. Thus even in the acts of one (Achan) or a few (the 3,000 defeated at Ai) all Israel is involved (see vv. 1,11; 22:20).

7:2 from Jericho to Ai. An uphill march of some 15 miles through a ravine to the top of the central Palestinian ridge. Strategically, an advance from Gilgal to Ai would bring Israel beyond the Jordan Valley and provide them a foothold in the central highlands. Ai in Hebrew means "the ruin." It is usually identified with et-Tell (meaning "the ruin" in Arabic), just two miles east of Bethel, but some dispute this precise identification. Beth Aven. Means "house of wickedness," a derogatory designation of either Bethel itself or a pagan shrine nearby (see 1Sa 13:5; Hos 4:15; Am 5:5). spy out the region. See note on 2:1–24.

all the people, for only a few men are there." [4]So about three thousand men went up; but they were routed by the men of Ai,[q] [5]who killed about thirty-six[r] of them. They chased the Israelites from the city gate as far as the stone quarries[q] and struck them down on the slopes. At this the hearts of the people melted[s] and became like water.

[6]Then Joshua tore his clothes[t] and fell facedown[u] to the ground before the ark of the LORD, remaining there till evening.[v] The elders of Israel[w] did the same, and sprinkled dust[x] on their heads. [7]And Joshua said, "Ah, Sovereign LORD, why[y] did you ever bring this people across the Jordan to deliver us into the hands of the Amorites to destroy us?[z] If only we had been content to stay on the other side of the Jordan! [8]O Lord, what can I say, now that Israel has been routed by its enemies? [9]The Canaanites and the other people of the country will hear about this and they will surround us and wipe out our name from the earth.[a] What then will you do for your own great name?[b]"

[10]The LORD said to Joshua, "Stand up! What are you doing down on your face? [11]Israel has sinned;[c] they have violated my covenant,[d] which I commanded them to keep. They have taken some of the devoted things; they have stolen, they have lied,[e] they have put them with their own possessions.[f] [12]That is why the Israelites cannot stand against their enemies;[g] they turn their backs[h] and run[i] because they have been made liable to destruction.[j] I will not be with you anymore[k] unless you destroy whatever among you is devoted to destruction.

[13]"Go, consecrate the people. Tell them, 'Consecrate yourselves[l] in preparation for tomorrow; for this is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says: That which is devoted is among you, O Israel. You cannot stand against your enemies until you remove it.

[14]" 'In the morning, present[m] yourselves tribe by tribe. The tribe that the LORD takes[n] shall come forward clan by clan; the clan that the LORD takes shall come forward family by family; and the family that the LORD takes shall come forward man by man. [15]He who is caught with the devoted things[o] shall be destroyed by fire,[p] along with all that belongs to him.[q] He has violated the covenant[r] of the LORD and has done a disgraceful thing in Israel!' [16]Early the next morning Joshua had Israel come forward by tribes, and Judah was taken. [17]The clans of Judah came forward, and he took the Zerahites.[t] He had the clan of the Zerahites come forward by families, and Zimri was taken. [18]Joshua had his family come forward man by man, and Achan son of Carmi, the son of Zimri, the son of Zerah, of the tribe of Judah,[u] was taken.[v]

[19]Then Joshua said to Achan, "My son, give glory[w] to the LORD,[r] the God of Israel, and give him the praise.[s] Tell[x] me what you have done; do not hide it from me."

[20]Achan replied, "It is true! I have sinned against the LORD, the God of Israel. This is what I have done: [21]When I saw in the plunder[y] a beautiful robe from Babylonia,[t] two hundred shekels[u] of silver and a wedge of gold weighing

[q]5 Or as far as Shebarim [r]19 A solemn charge to tell the truth [s]19 Or and confess to him [t]21 Hebrew Shinar [u]21 That is, about 5 pounds (about 2.3 kilograms)

7:5 stone quarries. Or a place called Shebarim (see NIV text note), meaning "breaks," a fitting term for the rocky bluffs overlooking the Jordan Valley.

7:6 Joshua tore his clothes. A sign of great distress (see Ge 37:29,34; 44:13; Jdg 11:35). Joshua's dismay (and that of the people), as indicated by his prayer, arose from his recognition that the Lord had not been with Israel's troops in the battle. And without the Lord the whole venture for which Israel had crossed the Jordan would be impossible. Moreover, the Canaanites would now judge that neither Israel nor her God was invincible. They would pour out of their fortified cities, combine forces and descend on Israel in the Jordan Valley, from which Israel could not escape across the flooding Jordan.

7:9 your own great name. Joshua pleads, as Moses had (Nu 14:13–16; Dt 9:28–29), that God's honor in the eyes of all the world was at stake in the fortunes of his people.

7:11 Israel has sinned. One soldier's theft of the devoted goods brought collective guilt on the entire nation (see 22:20). violated my covenant. See v. 15. This is the main indictment; what follows is further specification.

7:12 devoted to destruction. See note on 6:18.

7:13 Consecrate yourselves. A series of purifications to be undertaken by every Israelite in preparation for meeting with God, as before a solemn religious feast or a special assembly called by the Lord (see note on 3:5). Here God summons his people before him for his judgment.

7:14 tribe that the LORD takes. When the lots are cast, one of the tribes is "taken by the LORD" so that the search is narrowed until the Lord exposes the guilty persons. The lots may have been the Urim and Thummim from the ephod of the high priest (see notes on Ex 28:30; 1Sa 2:28; see also NIV text note on 1Sa 14:41).

7:15 disgraceful thing in Israel. An act that within Israel, as the covenant people of the Lord, is an outrage of utter folly (see Dt 22:21; Jdg 19:23–24; 20:6,10; 2Sa 13:12).

7:19 My son. Joshua took a fatherly attitude toward Achan. give glory to the LORD. See NIV text note. give him the praise. See NIV text note.

7:21 robe from Babylonia. A valuable import. two hundred shekels . . . fifty shekels. See NIV text notes.

fifty shekels,[v] I coveted[z] them and took them. They are hidden in the ground inside my tent, with the silver underneath."

[22]So Joshua sent messengers, and they ran to the tent, and there it was, hidden in his tent, with the silver underneath. [23]They took the things from the tent, brought them to Joshua and all the Israelites and spread them out before the LORD.

[24]Then Joshua, together with all Israel, took Achan son of Zerah, the silver, the robe, the gold wedge, his sons[a] and daughters, his cattle, donkeys and sheep, his tent and all that he had, to the Valley of Achor.[b] [25]Joshua said, "Why have you brought this trouble[c] on us? The LORD will bring trouble on you today."

Then all Israel stoned him,[d] and after they had stoned the rest, they burned them.[e] [26]Over Achan they heaped[f] up a large pile of rocks, which remains to this day.[g] Then the LORD turned from his fierce anger.[h] Therefore that place has been called the Valley of Achor[w] ever since.

Ai Destroyed

8 Then the LORD said to Joshua, "Do not be afraid;[i] do not be discouraged.[k] Take the whole army[l] with you, and go up and attack Ai.[m] For I have delivered[n] into your hands the king of Ai, his people, his city and his land. [2]You shall do to Ai and its king as you did to Jericho and its king, except that you may carry off their plunder[o] and livestock for yourselves.[p] Set an ambush[q] behind the city."

[3]So Joshua and the whole army moved out to attack Ai. He chose thirty thousand of his best fighting men and sent them out at night [4]with these orders: "Listen carefully. You are to set an ambush behind the city. Don't go very far from it. All of you be on the alert. [5]I and all those with me will advance on the city, and when the men come out against us, as they did before, we will flee from them. [6]They will pursue us until we have lured them away from the city, for they will say, 'They are running away from us as they did before.' So when we flee from them, [7]you are to rise up from ambush and take the city. The LORD your God will give it into your hand.[r] [8]When you have taken the city, set it on fire.[s] Do what the LORD has commanded.[t] See to it; you have my orders."

[9]Then Joshua sent them off, and they went to the place of ambush[u] and lay in wait between Bethel and Ai, to the west of Ai—but Joshua spent that night with the people.

[10]Early the next morning[v] Joshua mustered his men, and he and the leaders of Israel[w] marched before them to Ai. [11]The entire force that was with him marched up and approached the city and arrived in front of it. They set up camp north of Ai, with the valley between them and the city. [12]Joshua had taken about five thousand men and set them in ambush between Bethel and Ai, to the west of the city. [13]They had the soldiers take up their positions—all those in the camp to the north of the city and the ambush to the west of it. That night Joshua went into the valley.

[14]When the king of Ai saw this, he and all the men of the city hurried out early in the morning to meet Israel in battle at a certain place overlooking the Arabah.[x] But he did not know[y] that an ambush had been set against him behind the city. [15]Joshua and all Israel let themselves be driven back[z] before them, and they fled toward the desert.[a] [16]All the men of Ai were called to pursue them, and they pursued Joshua and were lured away[b] from the city. [17]Not a man re-

7:23 before the LORD. Who is here the Judge.

7:24 Joshua ... all Israel. Joshua and all Israel were God's agents for executing his judgment on both the Canaanites and this violator of the covenant. all that he had. As the head of (and example for) his family, Achan involved his whole household in his guilt and punishment. This is in accordance with the principle of corporate solidarity—the whole community is represented in one member (especially the head of that community).

7:25 stoned him. Because he had been found guilty of violating the covenant of the holy Lord (see Ex 19:13; Lev 24:23; Nu 15:36). Afterward the bodies were burned to purge the land of the evil.

7:26 large pile of rocks. A second monument in the land to the events of the conquest—alongside the memorial at Gilgal (4:20). Achor. See NIV text note. Achor was also another form of Achan's name (see 1Ch 2:7, "Achar," and NIV text note there).

8:1–29 Renewal of the conquest and the taking of Ai.

8:1 Do not be afraid. Now that Israel is purged, the Lord reassures Joshua once more (see 1:3–5; 3:11–13; 6:2–5).

8:2 you may carry off their plunder. The Lord now assigns the wealth of Canaan to his troops who fight his battles. Set an ambush. Still in command, the Lord directs the attack.

8:12 five thousand. Verse 3 speaks of a contingent of 30,000 assigned to the ambush. Perhaps Joshua assigned two different units to the task to assure success. Or from the original 30,000 a unit of 5,000 may have been designated to attack Ai itself while the remaining 25,000 served as a covering force to block the threat from Bethel (see v. 17).

8:13 the camp to the north. In full visibility Joshua's main force moved north of the city, then pretended to flee to the east, drawing out the entire army of defenders.

8:17 Ai or Bethel. Their joint action indicates that the two cities were closely allied, though each is said to have had a king (12:9,16).

mained in Ai or Bethel who did not go after Israel. They left the city open and went in pursuit of Israel.

18Then the LORD said to Joshua, "Hold out toward Ai the javelin[c] that is in your hand,[d] for into your hand I will deliver the city." So Joshua held out his javelin[e] toward Ai. 19As soon as he did this, the men in the ambush rose quickly[f] from their position and rushed forward. They entered the city and captured it and quickly set it on fire.[g]

20The men of Ai looked back and saw the smoke of the city rising against the sky,[h] but they had no chance to escape in any direction, for the Israelites who had been fleeing toward the desert had turned back against their pursuers. 21For when Joshua and all Israel saw that the ambush had taken the city and that smoke was going up from the city, they turned around[i] and attacked the men of Ai. 22The men of the ambush also came out of the city against them, so that they were caught in the middle, with Israelites on both sides. Israel cut them down, leaving them neither survivors nor fugitives.[j] 23But they took the king of Ai alive[k] and brought him to Joshua.

24When Israel had finished killing all the men of Ai in the fields and in the desert where they had chased them, and when every one of them had been put to the sword, all the Israelites returned to Ai and killed those who were in it. 25Twelve thousand men and women fell that day—all the people of Ai.[l] 26For Joshua did not draw back the hand that held out his javelin[m] until he had destroyed[x n] all who lived in Ai.[o] 27But Israel did carry off for themselves the livestock and plunder of this city, as the LORD had instructed Joshua.[p]

28So Joshua burned[q] Ai[r] and made it a permanent heap of ruins,[s] a desolate place to this day.[t] 29He hung the king of Ai on a tree and left him there until evening. At sunset,[u] Joshua ordered them to take his body from the tree and throw it down at the entrance of the city gate. And they raised a large pile of rocks[v] over it, which remains to this day.

The Covenant Renewed at Mount Ebal

30Then Joshua built on Mount Ebal[w] an altar[x] to the LORD, the God of Israel, 31as Moses the servant of the LORD had commanded the Israelites. He built it according to what is written in the Book of the Law of Moses—an altar of uncut stones, on which no iron tool[y] had been used. On it they offered to the LORD burnt offerings and sacrificed fellowship offerings.[y z] 32There, in the presence of the Israelites, Joshua copied on stones the law of Moses, which he had written.[a] 33All Israel, aliens and citizens[b] alike, with their elders, officials and judges, were standing on both sides of the ark

8:28 burned Ai. As he had Jericho (6:24) and would later do to Hazor (11:11). desolate place to this day. If the ruins of Ai have been correctly identified (see note on 7:2), the site shows signs of later occupation only from c. 1200 to 1100 B.C.

8:29 hung the king of Ai on a tree. The Israelites did not execute by hanging. "Tree" may refer to a pole on which the king's body was impaled after execution (see note on Dt 21:22). until evening. According to Mosaic instructions (see Dt 21:22–23). large pile of rocks. A third monument in the land (see note on 7:26).

8:30–35 The renewal of the covenant with the Lord as Moses had ordered (Dt 11:26–30; 27:1–8) concludes the account of the initial battles (see Introduction: Outline). The conquest of Canaan has already been put into rich theological perspective. This final event (see also Joshua's final official act, ch. 24) underscores Israel's servant relationship to the Lord. In conquest and occupation she must faithfully acknowledge her one identity as the people of the kingdom of God, subject to his commission and rule (see note on 5:14).

How Israel could assemble peacefully between Mount Ebal and Mount Gerizim without further conquest is a worrisome question—and has led to some radical reconstructions of Israel's history. It must be noted, however, that Biblical narrators at times followed a thematic rather than a strictly chronological order of events. That may be the case here, since it is clear that the story of the Gibeonite deception and submission (ch. 9) is included in the thematic development of how Israel came into possession of the rest of Canaan (see the author's introduction in 9:1–2). The Shechemites (Shechem was a major city lying between the two mountains mentioned) were Hivites (or were under Hivite domination; see Ge 34:2) and thus were related to the people of the Gibeonite cities (9:7; 11:19). Also, there was no important town between Gibeon and Shechem (Bethel and Ai had been subdued). Perhaps the treaty of submission established between Israel and the Gibeonites (ch. 9) applied also to the Hivites of Shechem, and the covenant renewal ceremony that concludes ch. 8 (and the previous narrative section) actually took place chronologically after the events narrated in ch. 9. If this suggestion is correct, the Gibeonites or their representatives would have been among the "aliens" who participated with Israel in the covenant event (vv. 33,35).

8:30 Mount Ebal. At the foot of this peak was the fortress city of Shechem, where Abraham had built an altar (Ge 12:6–7).

8:31 burnt offerings. See Lev 1:1–17. fellowship offerings. See Lev 3:1–17; 7:11–18.

8:32 copied on stones. Moses had ordered the people first to plaster the stones, then to inscribe on them the words of the law (Dt 27:2–4). These stones are the fourth monument in the land (see note on v. 29).

8:33 aliens and citizens alike. Israel now included the "other people" (Ex 12:38) who had come out of Egypt, plus others who had associated with them during the desert wanderings (see note on vv. 30–35).

of the covenant of the LORD, facing those who carried it—the priests, who were Levites.[c] Half of the people stood in front of Mount Gerizim and half of them in front of Mount Ebal,[d] as Moses the servant of the LORD had formerly commanded when he gave instructions to bless the people of Israel.

[34]Afterward, Joshua read all the words of the law—the blessings and the curses—just as it is written in the Book of the Law.[e] [35]There was not a word of all that Moses had commanded that Joshua did not read to the whole assembly of Israel, including the women and children, and the aliens who lived among them.[f]

The Gibeonite Deception

9 Now when all the kings west of the Jordan heard about these things—those in the hill country,[g] in the western foothills, and along the entire coast of the Great Sea[z][h] as far as Lebanon[i] (the kings of the Hittites, Amorites, Canaanites, Perizzites,[j] Hivites[k] and Jebusites)[l]— [2]they came together to make war against Joshua and Israel.

[3]However, when the people of Gibeon[m] heard what Joshua had done to Jericho and Ai,[n] [4]they resorted to a ruse: They went as a delegation whose donkeys were loaded[a] with worn-out sacks and old wineskins, cracked and mended. [5]The men put worn and patched sandals on their feet and wore old clothes. All the bread of their food supply was dry and moldy. [6]Then they went to Joshua in the camp at Gilgal[o] and said to him and the men of Israel, "We have come from a distant country;[p] make a treaty[q] with us."

[7]The men of Israel said to the Hivites,[r] "But perhaps you live near us. How then can we make a treaty[s] with you?"

[8]"We are your servants,[t]" they said to Joshua.

But Joshua asked, "Who are you and where do you come from?"

[9]They answered: "Your servants have come from a very distant country[u] because of the fame of the LORD your God. For we have heard reports[v] of him: all that he did in Egypt,[w] [10]and all that he did to the two kings of the Amorites east of the Jordan—Sihon king of Heshbon,[x] and Og king of Bashan,[y] who reigned in Ashtaroth.[z] [11]And our elders and all those living in our country said to us, 'Take provisions for your journey; go and meet them and say to them, "We are your servants; make a treaty with us."'

[12]This bread of ours was warm when we packed it at home on the day we left to come to you. But now see how dry and moldy it is. [13]And these wineskins that we filled were new, but see how cracked they are. And our clothes and sandals are worn out by the very long journey."

[14]The men of Israel sampled their provisions but did not inquire[a] of the LORD. [15]Then Joshua made a treaty of peace[b] with them to let them live,[c] and the leaders of the assembly ratified it by oath.

[16]Three days after they made the treaty with the Gibeonites, the Israelites heard that they were neighbors, living near[d] them. [17]So the Israelites set out and on the third day came to their cities: Gibeon, Kephirah, Beeroth[e] and Kiriath Jearim.[f] [18]But the Israelites did not attack them, because the leaders of the assem-

9:1–27 The account of how the Gibeonites deceived the leaders of the tribes and obtained a treaty of submission to Israel. It is the first of three sections telling how Israel came into possession of the bulk of the land. Verses 1–2 introduce the three units.

9:1 kings west of the Jordan. Small, independent city-kingdoms were scattered over Canaan, inhabited by a variety of peoples who had come earlier from outside the land (compare vv. 1–2 with Ge 15:19).

9:3 Gibeon. A site just north of Jerusalem called el-Jib, showing the remains of a Late Bronze Age city with an excellent water supply. The Gibeonites were in league with a number of neighboring towns (v. 17) but seem to have been dominant in the confederation.

9:4 they resorted to a ruse. Motivated by their fear of Israel's God, the Gibeonites used pretense to trick Joshua into a treaty that would allow them to live.

9:6 make a treaty with us. In this request they were offering to submit themselves by treaty to be subjects of the Israelites (see v. 11, where they call themselves "your servants"—unmistakable language in the international diplomacy of that day). They chose submission rather than certain death (v. 24).

9:7 Hivites. Possibly Horites, an ethnic group living in Canaan related to the Hurrians of northern Mesopotamia (11:19; Ge 10:17; Ex 23:23; Jdg 3:3).

9:9 heard reports of him. The same reports that had been heard in Jericho (see 2:10).

9:14 did not inquire of the LORD. Did not consult their King, whose mission they were on.

9:15 treaty of peace. A covenant to let them live was sworn by the heads of the tribes—i.e., an oath was taken in the holy name of God. All such oaths were binding in Israel (see Ex 20:7; Lev 19:12; 1Sa 14:24).

9:18 The whole assembly grumbled. Perhaps the people feared the consequences of not following through on the earlier divine order to destroy all the Canaanites, but more likely they grumbled because they could not take over the Gibeonite cities and possessions.

bly had sworn an oath[g] to them by the LORD, the God of Israel.

The whole assembly grumbled[h] against the leaders, 19but all the leaders answered, "We have given them our oath by the LORD, the God of Israel, and we cannot touch them now. 20This is what we will do to them: We will let them live, so that wrath will not fall on us for breaking the oath[i] we swore to them." 21They continued, "Let them live,[j] but let them be woodcutters and water carriers[k] for the entire community." So the leaders' promise to them was kept.

22Then Joshua summoned the Gibeonites and said, "Why did you deceive us by saying, 'We live a long way[l] from you,' while actually you live near[m] us? 23You are now under a curse:[n] You will never cease to serve as woodcutters and water carriers for the house of my God."

24They answered Joshua, "Your servants were clearly told[o] how the LORD your God had commanded his servant Moses to give you the whole land and to wipe out all its inhabitants from before you. So we feared for our lives because of you, and that is why we did this. 25We are now in your hands.[p] Do to us whatever seems good and right[q] to you."

26So Joshua saved them from the Israelites, and they did not kill them. 27That day he made the Gibeonites[r] woodcutters and water carriers[s] for the community and for the altar of the LORD at the place the LORD would choose.[t] And that is what they are to this day.

The Sun Stands Still

10 Now Adoni-Zedek[u] king of Jerusalem[v] heard that Joshua had taken Ai[w] and totally destroyed[bx] it, doing to Ai and its king as he had done to Jericho and its king, and that the people of Gibeon[y] had made a treaty of peace[z] with Israel and were living near them. 2He and his people were very much alarmed at this, because Gibeon was an important city, like one of the royal cities; it was larger than Ai, and all its men were good fighters. 3So Adoni-Zedek king of Jerusalem appealed to Hoham king of Hebron,[a] Piram king of Jarmuth,[b] Japhia king of Lachish[c] and Debir[d] king of Eglon.[e] 4"Come up and help me attack Gibeon," he said, "because it has made peace[f] with Joshua and the Israelites."

5Then the five kings[g] of the Amorites[h]—the kings of Jerusalem, Hebron, Jarmuth, Lachish and Eglon—joined forces. They moved up with all their troops and took up positions against Gibeon and attacked it.

6The Gibeonites then sent word to Joshua in the camp at Gilgal:[i] "Do not abandon your servants. Come up to us quickly and save us! Help us, because all the Amorite kings from the hill country have joined forces against us."

7So Joshua marched up from Gilgal with his entire army,[j] including all the best fighting men. 8The LORD said to Joshua, "Do not be afraid[k] of them; I have given them into your hand.[l] Not one of them will be able to withstand you."[m]

9After an all-night march from Gilgal, Joshua took them by surprise. 10The LORD

[bx] The Hebrew term refers to the irrevocable giving over of things or persons to the LORD, often by totally destroying them; also in verses 28, 35, 37, 39 and 40.

9:21 woodcutters and water carriers. A conventional phrase for household servants.

9:23 under a curse. Noah's prediction that Canaan would someday "be the slave of Shem" (Ge 9:25–26) has part of its fulfillment in this event. for the house of my God. Probably specifies how the Gibeonites were to serve "the entire community" (v. 21). Worship at the tabernacle (and later at the temple) required much wood and water (for sacrifices and washing) and consequently a great deal of menial labor. From now on, that labor was to be supplied by the Gibeonites, perhaps on a rotating basis. In this way they entered the Lord's service. When Solomon became king, the tabernacle and altar were at Gibeon (2Ch 1:3,5).

9:27 the place the LORD would choose. Joshua moved the tabernacle (and its altar) to Shiloh, and there it would reside at least until the days of Samuel (1Sa 4:3). Later, the Lord chose Jerusalem (1Ki 9:3).

10:1–43 The army under Joshua comes to the defense of Gibeon and defeats the coalition of southern kings at Aijalon, then subdues all the southern cities of Judah and the Negev.

10:1 Adoni-Zedek. Means "lord of righteousness" or "My (divine) lord is righteous." An earlier king of Jerusalem had a similar name (Melchizedek; see Ge 14:18 and note). Jerusalem. City of the Jebusites.

10:2 important city. Gibeon was not only larger in size than Bethel or Ai, but also closer to Jerusalem. With Bethel and Ai conquered and the Gibeonite league in submission, the Israelites were well established in the central highlands, virtually cutting the land in two. Naturally the king of Jerusalem felt threatened, and he wanted to reunite all the Canaanites against Israel. Perhaps he also held (or claimed) some political dominion over the Gibeonite cities and viewed their submission to Israel as rebellion. good fighters. Men famous for their courage in battle, yet wise enough to have made peace with the Israelites.

10:5 five kings of the Amorites. Rulers over five of the major cities in the southern mountains. The Amorites of the hills are here distinguished from the Canaanites along the coast.

10:6 Come . . . and save us! An urgent appeal for deliverance to a man whose name means "The LORD saves." A treaty such as Joshua had made with the Gibeonites usually obliged the ruling nation to come to the aid of the subject peoples if they were attacked.

10:9 all-night march. Gilgal was about 20 miles east of Gibeon, a steep uphill climb for Joshua's men. by surprise. Joshua attacked early in the morning, perhaps while the moon was still up (v. 12).

10:10 confusion. The Hebrew for this word implies terror threw them into confusion[n] before Israel,[o] who defeated them in a great victory at Gibeon.[p] Israel pursued them along the road going up to Beth Horon[q] and cut them down all the way to Azekah[r] and Makkedah.[s] 11As they fled before Israel on the road down from Beth Horon to Azekah, the LORD hurled large hailstones[t] down on them from the sky,[u] and more of them died from the hailstones than were killed by the swords of the Israelites.

12On the day the LORD gave the Amorites[v] over to Israel, Joshua said to the LORD in the presence of Israel:

"O sun, stand still over Gibeon,
O moon, over the Valley of Aijalon.[w]"

13So the sun stood still,[x]
and the moon stopped, till the nation avenged itself on[c] its enemies,

as it is written in the Book of Jashar.[y]

The sun stopped[z] in the middle of the sky and delayed going down about a full day. 14There has never been a day like it before or since, a day when the LORD listened to a man. Surely the LORD was fighting[a] for Israel!

15Then Joshua returned with all Israel to the camp at Gilgal.[b]

Five Amorite Kings Killed

16Now the five kings had fled[c] and hidden in the cave at Makkedah. 17When Joshua was told that the five kings had been found hiding in the cave at Makkedah, 18he said, "Roll large rocks up to the mouth of the cave, and post some men there to guard it. 19But don't stop! Pursue your enemies, attack them from the rear and don't let them reach their cities, for the LORD your God has given them into your hand."

20So Joshua and the Israelites destroyed them completely[d]—almost to a man—but the few who were left reached their fortified cities.[e] 21The whole army then returned safely to Joshua in the camp at Makkedah, and no one uttered a word against the Israelites.

22Joshua said, "Open the mouth of the cave and bring those five kings out to me." 23So they brought the five kings out of the cave—the kings of Jerusalem, Hebron, Jarmuth, Lachish and Eglon. 24When they had brought these kings[f] to Joshua, he summoned all the men of Israel and said to the army commanders who had come with him, "Come here and put your feet[g] on the necks of these kings." So they came forward and placed their feet[h] on their necks.

25Joshua said to them, "Do not be afraid; do not be discouraged. Be strong and courageous.[i] This is what the LORD will do to all the enemies you are going to fight." 26Then Joshua struck and killed the kings and hung them on five trees, and they were left hanging on the trees until evening.

27At sunset[j] Joshua gave the order and they took them down from the trees and threw them into the cave where they had been hiding. At the mouth of the cave they placed large rocks, which are there to this day.[k]

28That day Joshua took Makkedah. He put the city and its king to the sword and totally destroyed everyone in it. He left no survivors.[l] And he did to the king of Makkedah as he had done to the king of Jericho.[m]

Southern Cities Conquered

29Then Joshua and all Israel with him moved on from Makkedah to Libnah[n] and attacked it. 30The LORD also gave that city and its king into Israel's hand. The city and everyone in it Joshua put to the sword. He left no survivors there. And he did to its king as he had done to the king of Jericho.

or panic.

10:11 down from Beth Horon. A long descent to the plain of Aijalon below, following the main east-west crossroad just north of Jerusalem. large hailstones. For the Lord's use of the elements of nature as his armaments see Jdg 5:20; 1Sa 7:10; Job 38:22.

10:13 Book of Jashar. An early account of Israel's wars (perhaps all in poetic form; see 2Sa 1:18; see also note on Jdg 5:1–31), but never a part of canonical Scripture. delayed going down. Some believe that God extended the hours of daylight for the Israelites to defeat their enemies. Others suggest that the sun remained cool (perhaps as the result of an overcast sky) for an entire day, allowing the fighting to continue through the afternoon. The fact is we do not know what happened, except that it involved divine intervention.

10:16 Makkedah. A town near Azekah (v. 10) in the western foothills where Joshua's troops made their camp.

10:19 Pursue your enemies. Most of the fighting men defending the southern cities were caught and killed before they could reach the safety of their fortresses.

10:21 no one uttered a word. The thought here appears to be that no one dared even to raise his voice against the Israelites anymore.

10:24 put your feet on the necks. Public humiliation of defeated enemy chieftains was the usual climax of warfare in the ancient Near East.

10:26 hung them on five trees. See note on Dt 21:22.

10:27 they placed large rocks. A fifth monument in the land to the events of the conquest (see note on 8:32).

10:28 totally destroyed everyone. The holy ban was placed on the people of Makkedah, meaning they were "devoted to death" for their wicked deeds (see NIV text note on v. 1). The same fate came to the other major cities of the south (vv. 29–42).

31Then Joshua and all Israel with him moved on from Libnah to Lachish;[o] he took up positions against it and attacked it. 32The LORD handed Lachish over to Israel, and Joshua took it on the second day. The city and everyone in it he put to the sword, just as he had done to Libnah. 33Meanwhile, Horam king of Gezer[p] had come up to help Lachish, but Joshua defeated him and his army—until no survivors were left.

34Then Joshua and all Israel with him moved on from Lachish to Eglon;[q] they took up positions against it and attacked it. 35They captured it that same day and put it to the sword and totally destroyed everyone in it, just as they had done to Lachish.

36Then Joshua and all Israel with him went up from Eglon to Hebron[r] and attacked it. 37They took the city and put it to the sword, together with its king, its villages and everyone[s] in it. They left no survivors. Just as at Eglon, they totally destroyed it and everyone in it.

38Then Joshua and all Israel with him turned around and attacked Debir.[t] 39They took the city, its king and its villages, and put them to the sword. Everyone in it they totally destroyed. They left no survivors. They did to Debir and its king as they had done to Libnah and its king and to Hebron.[u]

40So Joshua subdued the whole region, including the hill country, the Negev,[v] the western foothills and the mountain slopes,[w] together with all their kings.[x] He left no survivors. He totally destroyed all who breathed, just as the LORD, the God of Israel, had commanded.[y] 41Joshua subdued them from Kadesh Barnea[z] to Gaza[a] and from the whole region of Goshen[b] to Gibeon. 42All these kings and their lands Joshua conquered in one campaign, because the LORD, the God of Israel, fought[c] for Israel.

43Then Joshua returned with all Israel to the camp at Gilgal.[d]

Northern Kings Defeated

11 When Jabin[e] king of Hazor[f] heard of this, he sent word to Jobab king of Madon, to the kings of Shimron[g] and Acshaph,[h] 2and to the northern kings who were in the mountains, in the Arabah[i] south of Kinnereth,[j] in the western foothills and in Naphoth Dor[dk] on the west; 3to the Canaanites in the east and west; to the Amorites, Hittites, Perizzites[l] and Jebusites in the hill country;[m] and to the Hivites[n] below Hermon[o] in the region of Mizpah.[p] 4They came out with all their troops and a large number of horses and chariots—a huge army, as numerous as the sand on the seashore.[q] 5All these kings joined forces[r] and made camp together at the Waters of Merom,[s] to fight against Israel.

6The LORD said to Joshua, "Do not be afraid of them, because by this time tomorrow I will hand all of them over[t] to Israel, slain. You are to hamstring[u] their horses and burn their chariots."[v]

7So Joshua and his whole army came against them suddenly at the Waters of Merom and attacked them, 8and the LORD gave them into the hand of Israel. They defeated them and pursued them all the way to Greater Sidon,[w] to Misrephoth Maim,[x] and to the Valley of Mizpah on the east, until no survivors were left. 9Joshua did to them as the LORD had directed: He hamstrung their horses and burned their chariots.

[d] 2 Or in the heights of Dor

10:33 Horam king of Gezer. An important detail: the defeat of the king of the most powerful city in the area. Gezer was eventually taken over by the Egyptians and given to King Solomon as a wedding gift (see 1Ki 9:16).

10:38 Debir. In the past, Debir (also known as Kiriath Sepher, 15:15) was identified with Tell Beit Mirsim. More recently, however, it has been equated with Khirbet Rabud, about five miles southwest of Hebron.

10:41 Kadesh Barnea to Gaza. The south-to-north limits in the western part of the region. Goshen. A seldom-used name for the eastern Negev, not to be confused with the Goshen in the delta of Egypt; it is also the name of a town (15:51). Goshen and Gibeon mark the south-to-north limits in the eastern part of the region.

11:1–23 Only the northern cities remained to be conquered. The major battle for the hills of Galilee is fought and won against Hazor and the coalition of other northern city-states. A summary follows of all Joshua's victories in the southern and central regions as well.

11:1 Jabin king of Hazor. Jabin is perhaps a dynastic name, used again in the days of Deborah (Jdg 4:2). The archaeological excavation of Hazor shows that it was the largest and best fortified of all the Canaanite cities. Its lower city measured 175 acres.

11:2 Kinnereth. Means "harp"; the Sea of Galilee.

11:4 as numerous as the sand. A widely used figure of speech for indicating large numbers (see note on Ge 22:17).

11:5 All these kings. Jabin's muster extended as far as the Arabah (v. 2) in the Jordan Valley and as far as Dor on the Mediterranean, south of Mount Carmel. Merom. Probably modern Meirun, just northwest of Safed near the source of the Wadi Ammud (Marun)—some eight miles northwest of the Sea of Galilee.

11:6 hamstring their horses. Done by cutting the tendon above the hock or ankle, crippling the horse so that it cannot walk again. burn their chariots. These advanced implements of war were not used by the armies of Israel until the time of Solomon (see 1Ki 9:22; 10:26–29).

10 At that time Joshua turned back and captured Hazor and put its king to the sword.[y] (Hazor had been the head of all these kingdoms.) 11 Everyone in it they put to the sword. They totally destroyed[e] them,[z] not sparing anything that breathed,[a] and he burned up[b] Hazor itself.

12 Joshua took all these royal cities and their kings and put them to the sword. He totally destroyed them, as Moses the servant of the LORD had commanded.[c] 13 Yet Israel did not burn any of the cities built on their mounds—except Hazor, which Joshua burned. 14 The Israelites carried off for themselves all the plunder and livestock of these cities, but all the people they put to the sword until they completely destroyed them, not sparing anyone that breathed.[d] 15 As the LORD commanded his servant Moses, so Moses commanded Joshua, and Joshua did it; he left nothing undone of all that the LORD commanded Moses.[e]

16 So Joshua took this entire land: the hill country,[f] all the Negev,[g] the whole region of Goshen, the western foothills,[h] the Arabah and the mountains of Israel with their foothills, 17 from Mount Halak, which rises toward Seir,[i] to Baal Gad[j] in the Valley of Lebanon[k] below Mount Hermon.[l] He captured all their kings and struck them down, putting them to death.[m] 18 Joshua waged war against all these kings for a long time. 19 Except for the Hivites[n] living in Gibeon,[o] not one city made a treaty of peace[p] with the Israelites, who took them all in battle. 20 For it was the LORD himself who hardened their hearts[q] to wage war against Israel, so that he might destroy them totally, exterminating them without mercy, as the LORD had commanded Moses.[r]

21 At that time Joshua went and destroyed the Anakites[s] from the hill country: from Hebron, Debir[t] and Anab,[u] from all the hill country of Judah, and from all the hill country of Israel. Joshua totally destroyed them and their towns. 22 No Anakites were left in Israelite territory; only in Gaza,[v] Gath[w] and Ashdod[x] did any survive. 23 So Joshua took the entire land,[y] just as the LORD had directed Moses, and he gave it as an inheritance[z] to Israel according to their tribal divisions.[a b]

Then the land had rest[c] from war.[d]

List of Defeated Kings

12 These are the kings of the land whom the Israelites had defeated and whose territory they took[e] over east of the Jordan,[f] from the Arnon[g] Gorge to Mount Hermon,[h] including all the eastern side of the Arabah:[i]

2 Sihon king of the Amorites, who reigned in Heshbon.[j] He ruled from Aroer[k] on the rim of the Arnon Gorge—from the middle of the gorge—to the Jabbok River,[l] which is the border of the Ammonites.[m] This included half of Gilead.[n] 3 He also ruled over the eastern Arabah from the Sea of Kinne-

[e] 11 The Hebrew term refers to the irrevocable giving over of things or persons to the LORD, often by totally destroying them; also in verses 12, 20 and 21.

11:10 Joshua ... captured Hazor. Perhaps his greatest victory. Hazor's armed forces, however, had been defeated earlier at Merom. The archaeological site reveals extensive damage and the burning of the Canaanite city c. 1400 B.C., c. 1300 and again c. 1230. Since the destruction level at c. 1300 probably indicates the burning of the city by Pharaoh Seti I, this leaves the destruction levels at c. 1400 and c. 1230 for Joshua's conquest. Those who hold to the late date of the conquest opt for the 1230 level; those who hold to the early date opt for 1400 (see Introduction: Historical Setting). Once again the ban of total destruction was applied (v. 11).

11:13 mounds. The Hebrew word is tel (Arabic tell), a hill formed by the accumulated debris of many ancient settlements one above the other (see note on 7:2).

11:15 he left nothing undone. Joshua's success should be measured in the light of the specific orders given by God, which he carried out fully, rather than by the total area that eventually would have to be occupied by Israel.

11:16 this entire land. A lesson in the geography of Canaan follows. See map No. 2 at the end of the study Bible.

11:17 Mount Halak. A desert peak to the east of Kadesh Barnea marking Israel's southern extremity. Baal Gad. The first valley west of Mount Hermon.

11:18 for a long time. An estimation of the duration of Joshua's conquests can be made from the life-span of Caleb: Seven years had elapsed from the beginning of the conquest (age 78; compare 14:7 with Dt 2:14) until he took Hebron (age 85; see 14:10).

11:20 the LORD ... hardened their hearts. God has sovereign control of history, yet his will never denies our personal and moral freedom (cf. the case of Pharaoh, Ex 8:32; 9:12).

11:21 Anakites. Had been reported by the 12 spies to be a people "of great size" (Nu 13:32), whom the Israelites had feared so much that they had refused to undertake the conquest. They were related to the Nephilim (see note on Ge 6:4) and were named after their forefather, Anak. Joshua shared with Caleb his victory over the Anakites (14:12–15).

12:1–24 A conclusion to the first section of Joshua, and a summary of the victories of the Israelites and the cities whose kings had been defeated (see map No. 3 at the end of the study Bible).

12:1 territory ... east of the Jordan. The unity of the nation is reaffirmed by the inclusion of these lands in Transjordan. Arnon Gorge. Marked the border with Moab to the south. Mount Hermon. The upper limits of Israel's land to the north.

6Moses, the servant of the LORD, and the Israelites conquered them.[a] And Moses the servant of the LORD gave their land to the Reubenites, the Gadites and the half-tribe of Manasseh to be their possession.[b]

Land Still to Be Taken

13 When Joshua was old and well advanced in years,[g] the LORD said to him, "You are very old, and there are still very large areas of land to be taken over.

2"This is the land that remains: all the regions of the Philistines[h] and Geshurites:[i] 3from the Shihor River[j] on the east of Egypt to the territory of Ekron[k] on the north, all of it counted as Canaanite (the territory of the five Philistine rulers[l] in Gaza, Ashdod,[m] Ashkelon,[n] Gath and Ekron—that of the Avvites);[o] 4from the south, all the land of the Canaanites, from Arah of the Sidonians as far as Aphek,[p] the region of the Amorites,[q] 5the area of the Gebalites[i];[r] and all Lebanon[s] to the 13:1–32 The heavenly King, who has conquered the land, begins the administration of his realm by assigning specific territories to the several tribes. Much of chs. 13–21 reads like administrative documents. The account begins by noting the land still to be subdued (but to be allotted) and by recalling the assignments already made by Moses to the two and a half tribes east of the Jordan (see map No. 4 at the end of the study Bible).

Division of the Land East of the Jordan

Conquest of Canaan

4. THE NORTHERN CAMPAIGN

Late Bronze Age Hazor was burned by Joshua (Jos 11:13). Excavations have revealed three clearly datable destruction layers, one of which may provide the strongest evidence yet for a historically verifiable date for the conquest.

The excavator thought Joshua burned the latest level (c. 1230 B.C.), but others argue that it must actually have been the earliest of the three levels, c. 1400 B.C.

1. ENTRY INTO CANAAN

When the Israelite tribes approached Canaan after four decades of desert existence, they had to overcome the two Amorite kingdoms on the Medeba plateau and in Bashan. Under Moses' leadership, they also subdued the Midianites in order to consolidate their control over the Transjordanian region.

The conquest of Canaan followed a course that in retrospect appears as though it had been planned by a brilliant strategist. Taking Jericho gave Israel control of its strategic plains, fords and roads as a base of operations. When Israel next gained control of the Bethel, Gibeon and Upper Beth Horon region, she dominated the center of the north-south Palestinian ridge. Subsequently, she was able to break the power of the allied urban centers in separate campaigns south and north.

tinue to live among the Israelites to this day.[p]

[14]But to the tribe of Levi he gave no inheritance, since the offerings made by fire to the LORD, the God of Israel, are their inheritance, as he promised them.[q]

[15]This is what Moses had given to the tribe of Reuben, clan by clan:

[16]The territory from Aroer[r] on the rim of the Arnon Gorge, and from the town in the middle of the gorge, and the whole plateau past Medeba[s] [17]to Heshbon and all its towns on the plateau,[t] including Dibon,[u] Bamoth Baal,[v] Beth Baal Meon,[w] [18]Jahaz,[x] Kedemoth,[y] Mephaath,[z] [19]Kiriathaim,[a] Sibmah,[b] Zereth Shahar on the hill in the valley, [20]Beth Peor,[c] the slopes of Pisgah, and Beth Jeshimoth [21]—all the towns on the plateau[d] and the entire realm of Sihon king of the Amorites, who ruled at Heshbon. Moses had defeated him and the Midianite chiefs,[e] Evi, Rekem, Zur, Hur and Reba[f]—princes allied with Sihon—who lived in that country. [22]In addition to those slain in battle, the Israelites had put to the sword Balaam son of Beor,[g] who practiced divination.[h] [23]The boundary of the Reubenites was the bank of the Jordan. These towns and their villages were the inheritance of the Reubenites, clan by clan.[i]

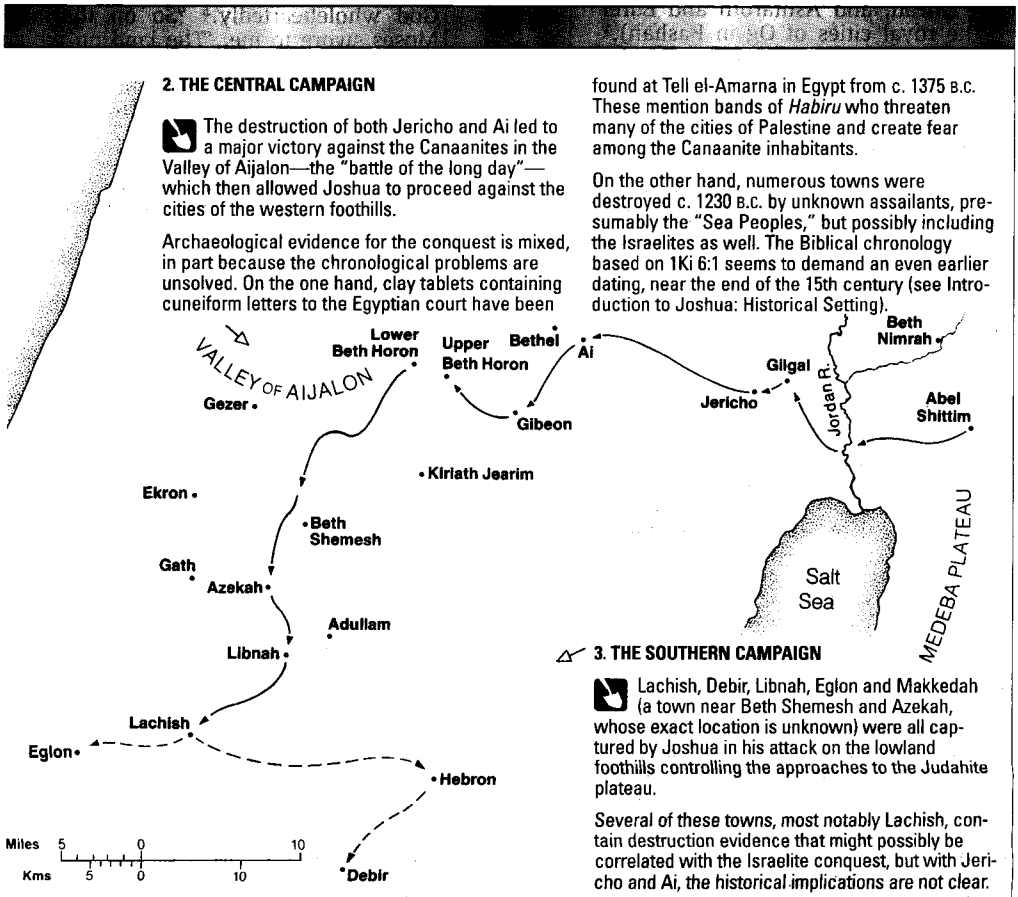
13:15 what Moses had given to . . . Reuben. The land east of the Jordan between the Arnon River (boundary of Moab) and Heshbon (the old royal city of Sihon).

13:22 Balaam son of Beor. The one who supposedly had influence with the gods (Nu 22–24) was slain when the Lord punished the Midianites for trying to seduce Israel into idolatry and sexual immorality (see Nu 25; 31:8).



24This is what Moses had given to the tribe of Gad, clan by clan:

25The territory of Jazer,[j] all the towns of Gilead[k] and half the Ammonite country as far as Aroer, near Rabbah;[l] 26and from Heshbon[m] to Ramath Mizpah and Betonim, and from Mahanaim[n] to the territory of Debir;[o] 27and in the valley, Beth Haram, Beth Nimrah,[p] Succoth[q] and Zaphon[r] with the rest of the realm of Sihon king of Heshbon (the east side of the Jordan, the territory up to the end of the Sea of Kinnereth[1][s]). 28These towns and their villages were the inheritance of the Gadites,[t] clan by clan.

29This is what Moses had given to the half-tribe of Manasseh, that is, to half the family of the descendants of Manasseh, clan by clan:

30The territory extending from Mahanaim[u] and including all of Bashan,[v] the entire realm of Og king of Bashan[w]—all the settlements of Jair[x] in Bashan, sixty towns, 31half of Gilead, and Ashtaroth and Edrei (the royal cities of Og in Bashan).[y] This was for the descendants of Makir[z] son of Manasseh—for half of the sons of Makir, clan by clan.[a]

32This is the inheritance Moses had given when he was in the plains of Moab[b] across the Jordan east of Jericho.[c] 33But to the tribe of Levi, Moses had given no inheritance;[d] the LORD, the God of Israel, is their inheritance,[e] as he promised them.[f]

Division of the Land West of the Jordan

14 Now these are the areas the Israelites received as an inheritance[g] in the land of Canaan, which Eleazar[h] the priest, Joshua son of Nun and the heads of the tribal clans of Israel[i] allotted[j] to them.[k] 2Their inheritances were assigned by lot[l] to the nine-and-a-half tribes,[m] as the LORD had commanded through Moses. 3Moses had granted the two-and-a-half tribes their inheritance east of the Jordan[n] but had not granted the Levites an inheritance among the rest,[o] 4for the sons of Joseph had become two tribes—Manasseh and Ephraim.[p] The Levites received no share of the land but only towns to live in, with pasturelands for their flocks and herds.[q] 5So the Israelites divided the land, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.[r]

Hebron Given to Caleb

6Now the men of Judah approached Joshua at Gilgal,[s] and Caleb son of Jephunneh[t] the Kenizzite said to him, "You know what the LORD said to Moses the man of God[u] at Kadesh Barnea[v] about you and me.[w] 7I was forty years old when Moses the servant of the LORD sent me from Kadesh Barnea[x] to explore the land.[y] And I brought him back a report according to my convictions,[z] 8but my brothers who went up with me made the hearts of the people melt with fear.[a] I, however, followed the LORD my God wholeheartedly.[b] 9So on that day Moses swore to me, 'The land on which your feet have walked will be your inheritance[c] and that of your children[d] forever, because you have followed the LORD my God wholeheartedly.'[m]

10"Now then, just as the LORD promised,[e] he has kept me alive for forty-five years since the time he said this to Moses, while Israel moved[f] about in the desert. So here I am today, eighty-five years old![g] 11I am still as strong[h] today as the day Moses sent me out; I'm just as vigorous[i] to go out to battle now as I was then. 12Now give me this hill country that the LORD promised me that day.[j] You yourself heard then that the Anakites[k] were there and their cities were

[1]27 That is, Galilee [m]9 Deut. 1:36

13:24 what Moses had given to . . . Gad. The central area, beginning near Heshbon on the south and reaching, along the Jordan, to the southern end of the Sea of Galilee. It included most of Gilead, but the exact boundary between Gad and the half-tribe of Manasseh remains somewhat uncertain since not all the places named can now be located.

13:29 what Moses had given to the half-tribe of Manasseh. The lands east and north of the Sea of Galilee, but also including the upper part of Gilead. Makir led in the occupation of these lands (see Nu 32:32,39–42).

13:33 the LORD . . . is their inheritance. See v.14; see also Dt 18:1–8 and note on Dt 18:1.

14:1–15 A short introductory chapter for the following section (chs. 15–19), with a special note on the Lord's faithfulness to Caleb.

14:1 Eleazar the priest. Son of Aaron, Eleazar as high priest was the highest official over the casting of the lots. The Urim and Thummim (see notes on Ex 28:30; 1Sa 2:28) may have been used.

14:4 Manasseh and Ephraim. Sons of Joseph. Since Jacob had adopted them as his own sons (Ge 48:5), they constituted two separate tribes. This made possible the 12-part nation, with the Levites serving as a nonpolitical tribe.

14:6 what the LORD said. Caleb now recalls the promise from the Lord 38 years earlier at Kadesh Barnea when he brought back a good report of the land (Nu 13:30; 14:6–9; Dt 1:34–36).

14:12 this hill country. Hebron is situated high in the Judahite hill country, about 25 miles south of Jerusalem. Anakites. See note on 11:21.

large and fortified,[l] but, the LORD helping me, I will drive them out just as he said."

[13]Then Joshua blessed[m] Caleb son of Jephunneh[n] and gave him Hebron[o] as his inheritance.[p] [14]So Hebron has belonged to Caleb son of Jephunneh the Kenizzite ever since, because he followed the LORD, the God of Israel, wholeheartedly.[q] [15](Hebron used to be called Kiriath Arba[r] after Arba,[s] who was the greatest man among the Anakites.)

Then the land had rest[t] from war.

Allotment for Judah

15:15–19pp — Jdg 1:11–15

15 The allotment for the tribe of Judah, clan by clan, extended down to the territory of Edom,[u] to the Desert of Zin[v] in the extreme south.[w]

[2]Their southern boundary started from the bay at the southern end of the Salt Sea,[nx] [3]crossed south of Scorpion[o] Pass,[y] continued on to Zin and went over to the south of Kadesh Barnea.[z] Then it ran past Hezron up to Addar and curved around to Karka. [4]It then passed along to Azmon[a] and joined the Wadi of Egypt,[b] ending at the sea. This is their[p] southern boundary.

[5]The eastern boundary[c] is the Salt Sea[d] as far as the mouth of the Jordan.

The northern boundary[e] started from the bay of the sea at the mouth of the Jordan, [6]went up to Beth Hoglah[f] and continued north of Beth Arabah[g] to the Stone of Bohan[h] son of Reuben. [7]The boundary then went up to Debir[i] from the Valley of Achor[j] and turned north to Gilgal,[k] which faces the Pass of Adummim south of the gorge. It continued along to the waters of En Shemesh[l] and came out at En Rogel.[m] [8]Then it ran up the Valley of Ben Hinnom[n] along the southern slope of the Jebusite[o] city (that is, Jerusalem[p]). From there it climbed to the top of the hill west of the Hinnom Valley[q] at the northern end of the Valley of Rephaim.[r] [9]From the hilltop the boundary headed toward the spring of the waters of Nephtoah,[s] came out at the towns of Mount Ephron and went down toward Baalah[t] (that is, Kiriath Jearim).[u] [10]Then it curved westward from Baalah[v] to Mount Seir,[w] ran along the northern slope of Mount Jearim (that is, Kesalon), continued down to Beth Shemesh[x] and crossed to Timnah.[y] [11]It went to the northern slope of Ekron,[z] turned toward Shikkeron, passed along to Mount Baalah[a] and reached Jabneel.[b] The boundary ended at the sea.

[12]The western boundary is the coastline of the Great Sea.[qc]

These are the boundaries around the people of Judah by their clans.

[13]In accordance with the LORD's command to him, Joshua gave to Caleb[d] son of Jephunneh a portion in Judah—Kiriath Arba[e], that is, Hebron.[f] (Arba was the forefather of Anak.)[g] [14]From Hebron Caleb drove out the three Anakites[h]—Sheshai, Ahiman and Talmai[i]—descendants of Anak.[j] [15]From there he marched against the people living in Debir (formerly called Kiriath Sepher). [16]And Caleb said, "I will give my daughter Acsah[k] in marriage to the man who attacks and captures Kiriath Sepher." [17]Othniel[l] son of Kenaz, Caleb's brother, took it; so Caleb gave his daughter Acsah to him in marriage.

[18]One day when she came to Othniel, she urged him[r] to ask her father for a field. When she got off her donkey, Caleb asked her, "What can I do for you?"

14:15 Kiriath Arba. Means "the town of Arba" and was named for Arba, the father of the Anakites (15:13; 21:11). It can also mean "the town of four." Hebron means "union." Then the land had rest from war. Since the Judahites and Caleb approached Joshua concerning their territory while he was still headquartered at Gilgal, it may be that they did so shortly before the wars fought under Joshua were ended (see 11:23).

15:1–63 Judah is the first of the west bank tribes to have its territory delineated. First the outer limits are listed, then the area apportioned to Caleb and Othniel; finally the Canaanite cities allotted to the clans of Judah are named region by region.

15:1 tribe of Judah. Judah's priority is anchored in the oracle of Jacob (Ge 49:8–12) and upheld in the history of the nation (2Ki 17:18).

15:4 southern boundary. The points listed formed a curved line beginning at the lower tip of the Dead Sea and moving under Kadesh Barnea to join the Mediterranean coast at the mouth of the Wadi el-Arish (see note on 13:3).

15:5 northern boundary. Judah's border with Benjamin ran in a westerly line from the mouth of the Jordan through the Hinnom Valley, just south of Jerusalem, over to Timnah, then northwest to the coastal city of Jabneel (later called Jamnia), about ten miles south of Joppa.

15:15 he marched against . . . Debir. See note on 10:38.

15:17 Othniel. See Jdg 3:7–11 for his service as judge in Israel.

19She replied, "Do me a special favor. Since you have given me land in the Negev,[m] give me also springs of water." So Caleb gave her the upper and lower springs.[n]

20This is the inheritance of the tribe of Judah, clan by clan:

21The southernmost towns of the tribe of Judah in the Negev[o] toward the boundary of Edom were:

Kabzeel,[p] Eder,[q] Jagur, 22Kinah, Dimonah, Adadah, 23Kedesh,[r] Hazor,[s] Ithnan, 24Ziph,[t] Telem, Bealoth, 25Hazor Hadattah, Kerioth Hezron (that is, Hazor),[u] 26Amam, Shema, Moladah,[v] 27Hazar Gaddah, Heshmon, Beth Pelet, 28Hazar Shual,[w] Beersheba,[x] Biziothiah, 29Baalah,[y] Iim, Ezem,[z] 30Eltolad,[a] Kesil, Hormah,[b] 31Ziklag,[c] Madmannah,[d] Sansannah, 32Lebaoth, Shilhim, Ain[e] and Rimmon[f]—a total of twenty-nine towns and their villages.

33In the western foothills:

Eshtaol,[g] Zorah,[h] Ashnah,[i] 34Zanoah,[j] En Gannim,[k] Tappuah,[l] Enam, 35Jarmuth,[m] Adullam,[n] Socoh,[o] Azekah,[p] 36Shaaraim,[q] Adithaim and Gederah[r] (or Gederothaim)[s]—fourteen towns and their villages.

37Zenan, Hadashah, Migdal Gad, 38Dilean, Mizpah,[s] Joktheel,[t] 39Lachish,[u] Bozkath,[v] Eglon,[w] 40Cabbon, Lahmas, Kitlish, 41Gederoth,[x] Beth Dagon,[y] Naamah and Makkedah[z]—sixteen towns and their villages.

42Libnah,[a] Ether, Ashan,[b] 43Iphtah, Ashnah,[c] Nezib, 44Keilah,[d] Aczib[e] and Mareshah[f]—nine towns and their villages.

45Ekron,[g] with its surrounding settlements and villages; 46west of Ekron, all that were in the vicinity of Ashdod,[h] together with their villages; 47Ashdod,[i] its surrounding settlements and villages; and Gaza, its settlements and villages, as far as the Wadi of Egypt[j] and the coastline of the Great Sea.[k]

48In the hill country:

Shamir,[l] Jattir,[m] Socoh,[n] 49Dannah, Kiriath Sannah (that is, Debir[o]), 50Anab,[p] Eshtemoh,[q] Anim, 51Goshen,[r] Holon[s] and Giloh[t]—eleven towns and their villages.

52Arab, Dumah,[u] Eshan, 53Janim, Beth Tappuah, Aphekah, 54Humtah, Kiriath Arba[v] (that is, Hebron) and Zior—nine towns and their villages.

55Maon,[w] Carmel,[x] Ziph,[y] Juttah,[z] 56Jezreel,[a] Jokdeam, Zanoah,[b] 57Kain, Gibeah[c] and Timnah[d]—ten towns and their villages.

58Halhul, Beth Zur,[e] Gedor,[f] 59Maarath, Beth Anoth and Eltekon—six towns and their villages.

60Kiriath Baal[g] (that is, Kiriath Jearim[h]) and Rabbah[i]—two towns and their villages.

61In the desert:[j]

Beth Arabah,[k] Middin, Secacah, 62Nibshan, the City of Salt and En Gedi[l]—six towns and their villages.

63Judah could not[m] dislodge the Jebusites[n], who were living in Jerusalem;[o] to this day the Jebusites live there with the people of Judah.[p]

[s] 36 Or Gederah and Gederothaim

15:19 upper and lower springs. They still water the local farms in Hebron.
15:21 southernmost towns. Most of the first 29 villages were assigned to the tribe of Simeon (cf. 19:1–9).
15:33 western foothills. The Hebrew for this term is Shephelah, meaning "lowland." This area between the highlands of central Judah and the Philistine coast was for the most part not occupied by Israel until the victories of King David. Some of the places on this list were reassigned to the tribe of Dan (cf. 19:41–43).
15:48 hill country. The high region south of Jerusalem. The Septuagint adds 11 names, including Tekoa and Bethlehem, to this list.
15:61 desert. The chalky, dry region east and south of Jerusalem that borders the Dead Sea.
15:62 Only En Gedi can be positively located, though the "City of Salt" is believed by many to be Qumran, where, centuries later, the scribes who produced the Dead Sea Scrolls lived.
15:63 Jebusites. A victory over the city of the Jebusites by the men of Judah is recorded in Jdg 1:8, but evidently this did not result in its permanent occupation. Both Benjamin and Judah failed to take the Jebusite fortress of Jerusalem (Jdg 1:21).
16:1–17:18 Two chapters are devoted to the lands given to the "house of Joseph" (Ephraim and the half-tribe of Manasseh that settled west of the Jordan). Following Judah, the Joseph tribes were given priority.
16:1 allotment for Joseph. Ephraim's southern border moved west from Jericho past Bethel and down to Gezer cho,[t] east of the waters of Jericho, and went up from there through the desert[q] into the hill country of Bethel.[r] [2]It went on from Bethel (that is, Luz[s]),[u] crossed over to the territory of the Arkites[t] in Ataroth,[u] [3]descended westward to the territory of the Japhletites as far as the region of Lower Beth Horon[v] and on to Gezer,[w] ending at the sea.

[4]So Manasseh and Ephraim, the descendants of Joseph, received their inheritance.[x]

[5]This was the territory of Ephraim, clan by clan:

The boundary of their inheritance went from Ataroth Addar[y] in the east to Upper Beth Horon[z] [6]and continued to the sea. From Micmethath[a] on the north it curved eastward to Taanath Shiloh, passing by it to Janoah[b] on the east. [7]Then it went down from Janoah[c] to Ataroth[d] and Naarah, touched Jericho and came out at the Jordan. [8]From Tappuah[e] the border went west to the Kanah Ravine[f] and ended at the sea. This was the inheritance of the tribe of the Ephraimites, clan by clan. [9]It also included all the towns and their villages that were set aside for the Ephraimites within the inheritance of the Manassites.[g]

[10]They did not dislodge the Canaanites living in Gezer; to this day the Canaanites live among the people of Ephraim but are required to do forced labor.[h]

17 This was the allotment for the tribe of Manasseh[i] as Joseph's firstborn,[j] that is, for Makir,[k] Manasseh's firstborn. Makir was the ancestor of the Gileadites, who had received Gilead[l] and Bashan[m] because the Makirites were great soldiers. [2]So this allotment was for the rest of the people of Manasseh[n]—the clans of Abiezer,[o] Helek, Asriel,[p] Shechem, Hepher[q] and Shemida.[r] These are the other male descendants of Manasseh son of Joseph by their clans.

[3]Now Zelophehad son of Hepher,[s] the son of Gilead, the son of Makir, the son of Manasseh, had no sons but only daughters,[t] whose names were Mahlah, Noah, Hoglah, Milcah and Tirzah. [4]They went to Eleazar the priest, Joshua son of Nun, and the leaders and said, "The LORD commanded Moses to give us an inheritance among our brothers." So Joshua gave them an inheritance along with the brothers of their father, according to the LORD's command.[u] [5]Manasseh's share consisted of ten tracts of land besides Gilead and Bashan east of the Jordan,[v] [6]because the daughters of the tribe of Manasseh received an inheritance among the sons. The land of Gilead belonged to the rest of the descendants of Manasseh.

[7]The territory of Manasseh extended from Asher[w] to Micmethath[x] east of Shechem.[y] The boundary ran southward from there to include the people living at En Tappuah. [8](Manasseh had the land of Tappuah, but Tappuah[z] itself, on the boundary of Manasseh, belonged to the Ephraimites.) [9]Then the boundary continued south to the Kanah Ravine.[a] There were towns belonging to Ephraim lying among the towns of Manasseh, but the boundary of Manasseh was the northern side of the ravine and ended at the sea. [10]On the south the land belonged to Ephraim, on the north to Manasseh. The territory of Manasseh reached the sea and bordered Asher[b] on the north and Issachar[c] on the east.[d]

[11]Within Issachar[e] and Asher, Manasseh also had Beth Shan,[f] Ibleam[g] and the people of Dor,[h] Endor,[i] Taanach[j] and Megiddo,[k] together with their surrounding settlements (the third in the list is Naphoth[v]).[l]

[12]Yet the Manassites were not able[m] to

17:1 Manasseh as Joseph's firstborn. A reminder to the proud Ephraimites that Manasseh had been the firstborn, though Jacob gave priority to Ephraim when he adopted Joseph's two sons (Ge 48:14,19).

17:3 Zelophehad ... had ... only daughters. Before Moses died, he promised the daughters an allotment along with their relatives (see Nu 26:33; 27:1–7).

17:5 ten tracts of land. Manasseh's territory was second only to Judah's in size. The ten portions went to the five brothers (minus Hepher) and to the five granddaughters of Hepher. For the law protecting the inheritance rights of a daughter without brothers see Nu 27:8–11.

17:11 Beth Shan ... Megiddo. These powerfully fortified cities, and others along Manasseh's common border with Issachar and Asher, were not conquered until later. When King Saul died in battle, the victorious Philistines fastened his body to the wall of Beth Shan (see 1Sa 31:10), which suggests that that city was in league with the Philistines.

occupy these towns, for the Canaanites were determined to live in that region. [13]However, when the Israelites grew stronger, they subjected the Canaanites to forced labor but did not drive them out completely.[n]

[14]The people of Joseph said to Joshua, "Why have you given us only one allotment and one portion for an inheritance? We are a numerous people and the LORD has blessed us abundantly."[o]

[15]"If you are so numerous," Joshua answered, "and if the hill country of Ephraim is too small for you, go up into the forest[p] and clear land for yourselves there in the land of the Perizzites[q] and Rephaites.[r]"

[16]The people of Joseph replied, "The hill country is not enough for us, and all the Canaanites who live in the plain have iron chariots,[s] both those in Beth Shan[t] and its settlements and those in the Valley of Jezreel."[u]

[17]But Joshua said to the house of Joseph—to Ephraim and Manasseh—"You are numerous and very powerful. You will have not only one allotment[v] [18]but the forested hill country[w] as well. Clear it, and its farthest limits will be yours; though the Canaanites have iron chariots[x] and though they are strong, you can drive them out."

Division of the Rest of the Land

18 The whole assembly of the Israelites gathered at Shiloh[y] and set up the Tent of Meeting[z] there. The country was brought under their control, [2]but there were still seven Israelite tribes who had not yet received their inheritance.

[3]So Joshua said to the Israelites: "How long will you wait before you begin to take possession of the land that the LORD, the God of your fathers, has given you? [4]Appoint three men from each tribe. I will send them out to make a survey of the land and to write a description of it,[a] according to the inheritance of each.[b] Then they will return to me. [5]You are to divide the land into seven parts. Judah is to remain in its territory on the south[c] and the house of Joseph in its territory on the north.[d] [6]After you have written descriptions of the seven parts of the land, bring them here to me and I will cast lots[e] for you in the presence of the LORD our God. [7]The Levites, however, do not get a portion among you, because the priestly service of the LORD is their inheritance.[f] And Gad, Reuben and the half-tribe of Manasseh have already received their inheritance on the east side of the Jordan. Moses the servant of the LORD gave it to them.[g]"

[8]As the men started on their way to map out the land, Joshua instructed them, "Go and make a survey of the land and write a description of it.[h] Then return to me, and I will cast lots for you here at Shiloh[i] in the presence of the LORD." [9]So the men left and went through the land. They wrote its description on a scroll, town by town, in seven parts, and returned to Joshua in the camp at Shiloh. [10]Joshua then cast lots[j] for them in Shiloh in the presence[k] of the LORD, and there he distributed the land to the Israelites according to their tribal divisions.[l]

Allotment for Benjamin

[11]The lot came up for the tribe of Benja-

17:13 when the Israelites grew stronger. Possibly referring to the days of David and Solomon (see note on 16:10).
17:14 people of Joseph . . . numerous. The reference is to both Ephraim and Manasseh (see v. 17). The allotment to the Joseph tribes is here handled as one (see 16:1,4)—though the two subdivisions are then described separately (16:5–17:11).
17:15 hill country of Ephraim. The territory of the Joseph tribes—under the name of the legal firstborn (see note on v. 1). clear land for yourselves. This region of Canaan was still heavily forested. It seems that the Israelites viewed their assigned territories primarily in terms of the number of cities that had their land cleared for farming and pasturage, not in terms of the size of the region in which these cities were located. The region assigned to the Joseph tribes was at the time not as heavily populated as others. Perizzites and Rephaites. Here listed as neighboring peoples, though elsewhere the Perizzites are said to have lived on the west bank in Canaan (3:10; 12:8) and the Rephaites in the Transjordan kingdom of Og (12:4; 13:12). See notes on Ge 13:7; Dt 2:11.
17:16 in the plain. Only in the plains were chariots effective. iron chariots. Chariots with certain parts made of iron (see note on 2Sa 8:7), perhaps the axles—the use of iron was a new development (see note on 11:6).
18:1–19:51 Seven tribes remained to be assigned land: Benjamin, Simeon, Zebulun, Issachar, Asher, Naphtali and Dan. Their lots were cast at Shiloh, after which a special portion was awarded to Joshua.
18:1 Shiloh. About ten miles northeast of Bethel, a little east of the main road from Bethel to Shechem. Tent of Meeting. The tabernacle (see note on Ex 27:21) with its sacred ark of the covenant. It would remain at Shiloh until the time of Samuel (1Sa 4:3).
18:3 take possession. Conquest had to be followed by settlement, which required a survey, then a fair distribution, and then a full occupation of the land. A distinction must therefore be made between the national wars of conquest (Joshua) and the tribal wars of occupation (Jdg 1–2).
18:5 north. Relative to the territory of Judah.
18:6 I will cast lots for you. See note on 14:1.
18:7 priestly service of the LORD is their inheritance. See 13:14; see also Dt 18:1–8 and note on Dt 18:1.
18:9 scroll. Presumed form of the document; the Hebrew for this word is not specific.
18:11 lot . . . for . . . Benjamin. A buffer zone between Judah and Ephraim, the two dominant tribes. Its northern line was the same as Ephraim's southern border (see note on 16:1), and its southern line the same as Judah's northernmost boundary (see note on 15:5).

min, clan by clan. Their allotted territory lay between the tribes of Judah and Joseph:

12On the north side their boundary began at the Jordan, passed the northern slope of Jericho and headed west into the hill country, coming out at the desert[m] of Beth Aven.[n] 13From there it crossed to the south slope of Luz[o] (that is, Bethel[p]) and went down to Ataroth Addar[q] on the hill south of Lower Beth Horon.

14From the hill facing Beth Horon[r] on the south the boundary turned south along the western side and came out at Kiriath Baal (that is, Kiriath Jearim),[s] a town of the people of Judah. This was the western side.

15The southern side began at the outskirts of Kiriath Jearim on the west, and the boundary came out at the spring of the waters of Nephtoah.[t] 16The boundary went down to the foot of the hill facing the Valley of Ben Hinnom, north of the Valley of Rephaim.[u] It continued down the Hinnom Valley[v] along the southern slope of the Jebusite city and so to En Rogel.[w] 17It then curved north, went to En Shemesh, continued to Geliloth,[x] which faces the Pass of Adummim,[y] and ran down to the Stone of Bohan[z] son of Reuben. 18It continued to the northern slope of Beth Arabah[wa] and on down into the Arabah.[b] 19It then went to the northern slope of Beth Hoglah[c] and came out at the northern bay of the Salt Sea,[xd] at the mouth of the Jordan in the south. This was the southern boundary.

20The Jordan formed the boundary on the eastern side.

These were the boundaries that marked out the inheritance of the clans of Benjamin on all sides.[e]

21The tribe of Benjamin, clan by clan, had the following cities:

Jericho, Beth Hoglah,[f] Emek Keziz, 22Beth Arabah,[g] Zemaraim,[h] Bethel,[i] 23Avvim,[j] Parah, Ophrah,[k] 24Kephar Ammoni, Ophni and Geba[l]—twelve towns and their villages.

25Gibeon,[m] Ramah,[n] Beeroth,[o] 26Mizpah,[p] Kephirah,[q] Mozah, 27Rekem, Irpeel, Taralah, 28Zelah,[r] Haeleph, the Jebusite city[s] (that is, Jerusalem[t]), Gibeah[u] and Kiriath—fourteen towns and their villages.[v]

This was the inheritance of Benjamin for its clans.[w]

Allotment for Simeon

19:2–10pp — 1Ch 4:28–33

19 The second lot came out for the tribe of Simeon, clan by clan. Their inheritance lay within the territory of Judah.[x] 2It included:

Beersheba[y] (or Sheba),[y] Moladah,[z] 3Hazar Shual,[a] Balah, Ezem,[b] 4Eltolad,[c] Bethul, Hormah,[d] 5Ziklag,[e] Beth Marcaboth, Hazar Susah, 6Beth Lebaoth and Sharuhen—thirteen towns and their villages;

7Ain, Rimmon,[f] Ether and Ashan[g]—four towns and their villages— 8and all the villages around these towns as far as Baalath Beer (Ramah in the Negev).[h]

This was the inheritance of the tribe of the Simeonites, clan by clan. 9The inheritance of the Simeonites was taken from the share of Judah,[i] because Judah's portion was more than they needed. So the Simeonites received their inheritance within the territory of Judah.[j]

Allotment for Zebulun

10The third lot came up for Zebulun,[k] clan by clan:

The boundary of their inheritance went as far as Sarid.[l] 11Going west it ran to Maralah, touched Dabbesheth, and extended to the ravine near Jokneam.[m] 12It turned east from Sarid[n] toward the sunrise to the territory of Kisloth Tabor and went on to Daberath[o] and up to Japhia. 13Then it continued eastward to Gath Hepher[p] and Eth Kazin; it came out at Rimmon[q] and turned toward Neah. 14There the boundary went around on the north to Hannathon and ended at the Valley of Iphtah El.[r] 15Included were Kattath, Nahalal,[s] Shimron,[t] Idalah and Bethlehem.[u] There were twelve towns and their villages.

16These towns and their villages were the inheritance of Zebulun,[v] clan by clan.[w]

Allotment for Issachar

17The fourth lot came out for Issachar,[x] clan by clan. 18Their territory included:

Jezreel,[y] Kesulloth, Shunem,[z] 19Hapharaim, Shion, Anaharath, 20Rabbith, Kishion,[a] Ebez, 21Remeth, En Gannim,[b] En Haddah and Beth Pazzez. 22The boundary touched Tabor,[c] Shahazumah and Beth Shemesh,[d] and ended at the Jordan. There were sixteen towns and their villages.

23These towns and their villages were the inheritance of the tribe of Issachar,[e] clan by clan.[f]

Allotment for Asher

24The fifth lot came out for the tribe of Asher,[g] clan by clan. 25Their territory included:

Helkath, Hali, Beten, Acshaph,[h] 26Allammelech, Amad and Mishal.[i] On the west the boundary touched Carmel[j] and Shihor Libnath. 27It then turned east toward Beth Dagon,[k] touched Zebulun[l] and the Valley of Iphtah El,[m] and went north to Beth Emek and Neiel, passing Cabul[n] on the left. 28It went to Abdon,[z o] Rehob,[p] Hammon[q] and Kanah,[r] as far as Greater Sidon.[s] 29The boundary then turned back toward Ramah[t] and went to the fortified city of Tyre,[u] turned toward Hosah and came out at the sea[v] in the region of Aczib,[w] 30Ummah, Aphek[x] and Rehob.[y] There were twenty-two towns and their villages.

31These towns and their villages were the inheritance of the tribe of Asher,[z] clan by clan.

Allotment for Naphtali

32The sixth lot came out for Naphtali, clan by clan:

33Their boundary went from Heleph and the large tree in Zaanannim,[a] passing Adami Nekeb and Jabneel[b] to Lakkum and ending at the Jordan. 34The boundary ran west through Aznoth Tabor and came out at Hukkok.[c] It touched Zebulun[d] on the south, Asher on the west and the Jordan[a] on the east. 35The fortified cities were Ziddim, Zer, Hammath,[e] Rakkath, Kinnereth,[f] 36Adamah, Ramah,[g] Hazor,[h] 37Kedesh,[i] Edrei,[j] En Hazor, 38Iron, Migdal El, Horem, Beth Anath[k] and Beth Shemesh.[l] There were nineteen towns and their villages.

39These towns and their villages were the inheritance of the tribe of Naphtali, clan by clan.[m]

Allotment for Dan

40The seventh lot came out for the tribe of Dan, clan by clan. 41The territory of their inheritance included:

Zorah, Eshtaol,[n] Ir Shemesh, 42Shaalabbin, Aijalon,[o] Ithlah, 43Elon, Timnah,[p] Ekron,[q] 44Elteketh, Gibbethon,[r] Baalath,[s] 45Jehud, Bene Berak, Gath Rimmon,[t] 46Me Jarkon and Rakkon, with the area facing Joppa.[u]

47(But the Danites had difficulty taking possession of their territory,[v] so they went up and attacked Leshem[w], took it, put it to the sword and occupied it. They settled in Leshem and named[x] it Dan after their forefather.)[y]

48These towns and their villages were the inheritance of the tribe of Dan,[z] clan by clan.

Allotment for Joshua

19:17 fourth lot ... for Issachar. Southwest of the Sea of Galilee reaching down to Beth Shan and west to the Jezreel Valley. Mount Tabor marked its northern border.

19:24 fifth lot ... for ... Asher. Asher was given the coastal area as far north as Sidon in Phoenicia and as far south as Mount Carmel.

19:32 sixth lot ... for Naphtali. An area mostly to the north of the Sea of Galilee, taking in the modern Huleh Valley and the mountains bordering on Asher to the west. Its southernmost point was at the lower edge of the Sea of Galilee.

19:40 seventh lot ... for ... Dan. An elbow of land squeezed between Ephraim and Judah and west of Benjamin. The port of Joppa marked the northwestern corner of Dan.

19:47 Danites had difficulty. The Amorites of this area "confined the Danites to the hill country" (Jdg 1:34), so most of the tribe migrated to the upper Jordan Valley, where they seized the town of Leshem (or Laish, Jdg 18:2–10,27–29) and renamed it Dan.

19:49 gave Joshua ... an inheritance. In the account of the distribution of the promised land (the territory west of the Jordan), the assignment to Caleb is treated first (14:6–15), the assignment to Joshua last. Thus the allotting of inheritance to these two dauntless servants of the Lord from the desert generation (see Nu 13:30; 14:6,24,30) frames the whole account—and both received the territory they asked for. Appropriately, Joshua's allotment came last; he was not a king or a warlord but the servant of God commissioned to bring the Lord's people into the promised land.

19:50 Timnath Serah. Located in the southwestern corner commanded. They gave him the town he asked for—Timnath Serah[ba] in the hill country of Ephraim. And he built up the town and settled there.

[51]These are the territories that Eleazar the priest, Joshua son of Nun and the heads of the tribal clans of Israel assigned by lot at Shiloh in the presence of the LORD at the entrance to the Tent of Meeting. And so they finished dividing[b] the land.[c]

Cities of Refuge

20:1–9Ref — Nu 35:9–34; Dt 4:41–43; 19:1–14

20 Then the LORD said to Joshua: [2]"Tell the Israelites to designate the cities of refuge, as I instructed you through Moses, [3]so that anyone who kills a person accidentally and unintentionally[d] may flee there and find protection from the avenger of blood.[e]

[4]"When he flees to one of these cities, he is to stand in the entrance of the city gate[f] and state his case before the elders[g] of that city. Then they are to admit him into their city and give him a place to live with them. [5]If the avenger of blood pursues him, they must not surrender the one accused, because he killed his neighbor unintentionally and without malice aforethought. [6]He is to stay in that city until he has stood trial before the assembly[h] and until the death of the high priest who is serving at that time. Then he may go back to his own home in the town from which he fled."

[7]So they set apart Kedesh[i] in Galilee in the hill country of Naphtali, Shechem[j] in the hill country of Ephraim, and Kiriath Arba[k] (that is, Hebron[l]) in the hill country of Judah.[m] [8]On the east side of the Jordan of Jericho[c] they designated Bezer[n] in the desert on the plateau in the tribe of Reuben, Ramoth in Gilead[op] in the tribe of Gad, and Golan in Bashan[q] in the tribe of Manasseh. [9]Any of the Israelites or any alien living among them who killed someone accidentally[r] could flee to these designated cities and not be killed by the avenger of blood prior to standing trial before the assembly.[s]

Towns for the Levites

21:4–39pp — 1Ch 6:54–80

21 Now the family heads of the Levites approached Eleazar the priest, Joshua son of Nun, and the heads of the other tribal families of Israel[t] [2]at Shiloh[u] in Canaan and said to them, "The LORD commanded through Moses that you give us towns[v] to live in, with pasturelands for our livestock."[w] [3]So, as the LORD had commanded, the Israelites gave the Levites the following towns and pasturelands out of their own inheritance:

[4]The first lot came out for the Kohathites,[x] clan by clan. The Levites who were descendants of Aaron the priest were allotted thirteen towns from the tribes of Judah, Simeon and Benjamin.[y] [5]The rest of Kohath's descendants were allotted ten towns from the clans of the tribes of Ephraim, Dan and half of Manasseh.[z]

[6]The descendants of Gershon[a] were allotted thirteen towns from the clans of the tribes of Issachar,[b] Asher,[c] Naph-

[b] 50 Also known as Timnath Heres (see Judges 2:9)
[c] 8 Jordan of Jericho was possibly an ancient name for the Jordan River.

of Ephraim, facing out to the sea. Here Joshua was also buried (24:30).

20:1–9 Having distributed the land to the tribes, the Lord's next administrative regulation (see note on 13:1–32) provided an elementary system of government, specifically a system of regional courts to deal with capital offenses having to do with manslaughter. Thus this most inflammatory of cases was removed from local jurisdiction, and a safeguard was created against the easy miscarriage of justice (with its potential for endless blood feuds) when retribution for manslaughter was left in the hands of family members. The cities chosen were among those also assigned to the Levites, where ideally the law of Moses would especially be known and honored.

20:2 as I instructed you through Moses. See Nu 35:6–34.

20:3 avenger of blood. Also translated "kinsman-redeemer" (Ru 3:9), or "Redeemer" (Ps 19:14). The avenger was a near relative with the obligation of exacting retribution (see Lev 24:17; Nu 35:16–28).

20:4 city gate. Traditional place for trials, where the elders sat to hold court (see Ru 4:1 and note; see also Job 29:7).

20:6 assembly. Made up of the adult males of the city. Their function in the trial before the elders (v. 4) is not clear, but perhaps they witnessed the trial to see that it was fair (closed courts are notoriously corruptible). and. Or "or." death of the high priest. See Nu 35:25–28. Either an atoning effect or a kind of amnesty was achieved by the high priest's death.

20:7 they set apart Kedesh. A wordplay in the Hebrew: "they consecrated (the town of) consecration." The other two cities west of the Jordan already had sacred associations: For Shechem see 8:30–35 and note; Ge 12:6–7; for Hebron see Ge 23:2; 49:29–32. The geographical distribution of the cities was important: one in the north, one in the midlands and one in the south. (See v. 8, where the order of the three cities of refuge that served in Transjordan is reversed: Bezer in the south, Ramoth in the midlands and Golan in the north.) See "Cities of Refuge," p. 237.

20:9 or any alien. Evidence of the equal protection granted to the foreigners living in Israel (cf. Lev 19:33–34; Dt 10:18–19).

21:1–45 Finally the Levites are allotted their towns and adjoining pasturelands—with the priestly families being given precedence (see v. 10).

21:4 Kohathites. The three sons of Levi were Kohath, Gershon and Merari (Ex 6:16; Nu 3:17). Judah, Simeon and Benjamin. Tribal areas close to Jerusalem, which would later be the site of the temple. The remaining Kohathites received cities in adjoining tribes.

tali and the half-tribe of Manasseh in Bashan.

7The descendants of Merari,[d] clan by clan, received twelve[e] towns from the tribes of Reuben, Gad and Zebulun.[f]

8So the Israelites allotted to the Levites these towns and their pasturelands, as the LORD had commanded through Moses.

9From the tribes of Judah and Simeon they allotted the following towns by name 10(these towns were assigned to the descendants of Aaron who were from the Kohathite clans of the Levites, because the first lot fell to them):

11They gave them Kiriath Arba[g] (that is, Hebron[h]), with its surrounding pastureland, in the hill country of Judah. (Arba was the forefather of Anak.) 12But the fields and villages around the city they had given to Caleb son of Jephunneh as his possession.[i]

13So to the descendants of Aaron the priest they gave Hebron (a city of refuge[j] for one accused of murder), Libnah,[k] 14Jattir,[l] Eshtemoa,[m] 15Holon,[n] Debir,[o] 16Ain,[p] Juttah[q] and Beth Shemesh,[r] together with their pasturelands—nine towns from these two tribes.

17And from the tribe of Benjamin they gave them Gibeon,[s] Geba,[t] 18Anathoth[u] and Almon, together with their pasturelands—four towns.

19All the towns[v] for the priests, the descendants of Aaron, were thirteen, together with their pasturelands.[w]

20The rest of the Kohathite clans of the Levites were allotted towns from the tribe of Ephraim:

21In the hill country of Ephraim they were given Shechem[x] (a city of refuge for one accused of murder) and Gezer,[y] 22Kibzaim and Beth Horon,[z] together with their pasturelands—four towns.[a] 23Also from the tribe of Dan they received Eltekeh, Gibbethon,[b] 24Aijalon[c] and Gath Rimmon,[d] together with their pasturelands—four towns.

25From half the tribe of Manasseh they received Taanach[e] and Gath Rimmon, together with their pasturelands—two towns.

26All these ten towns and their pasturelands were given to the rest of the Kohathite clans.[f]

27The Levite clans of the Gershonites were given:
from the half-tribe of Manasseh,
Golan in Bashan[g] (a city of refuge for one accused of murder[h]) and Be Eshtarah, together with their pasturelands—two towns;
28from the tribe of Issachar,[i]
Kishion,[j] Daberath,[k] 29Jarmuth[l] and En Gannim,[m] together with their pasturelands—four towns;
30from the tribe of Asher,[n]
Mishal,[o] Abdon,[p] 31Helkath and Rehob,[q] together with their pasturelands—four towns;
32from the tribe of Naphtali,
Kedesh[r] in Galilee (a city of refuge for one accused of murder[s]), Hammoth Dor and Kartan, together with their pasturelands—three towns.
33All the towns of the Gershonite[t] clans were thirteen, together with their pasturelands.

34The Merarite clans (the rest of the Levites) were given:
from the tribe of Zebulun,[u]
Jokneam,[v] Kartah, 35Dimnah and Nahalal,[w] together with their pasturelands—four towns;
36from the tribe of Reuben,
Bezer,[x] Jahaz,[y] 37Kedemoth and Mephaath,[z] together with their pasturelands—four towns;
38from the tribe of Gad,
Ramoth[a] in Gilead[b] (a city of refuge for one accused of murder), Mahanaim,[c] 39Heshbon and Jazer,[d] together with their pasturelands—four towns in all.
40All the towns allotted to the Merarite clans, who were the rest of the Levites, were twelve.[e]

41The towns of the Levites in the territory held by the Israelites were forty-eight in all, together with their pasturelands.[f] 42Each of these towns had pasturelands surrounding it; this was true for all these towns.

43So the LORD gave Israel all the land he had sworn to give their forefathers,[g] and they took possession[h] of it and set-

21:43–45 A concluding summary statement of how the Lord had fulfilled his sworn promise to give Israel this land (see Ge 15:18–21). The occupation of the land was not yet complete (see 23:4–5; Jdg 1–2), but the national campaign was over and Israel was finally established in the promised land. No power was left in Canaan that could threaten to dislodge her.

Eastern Tribes Return Home

22 Then Joshua summoned the Reubenites, the Gadites and the half-tribe of Manasseh 2and said to them, "You have done all that Moses the servant of the LORD commanded,[o] and you have obeyed me in everything I commanded. 3For a long time now—to this very day—you have not deserted your brothers but have carried out the mission the LORD your God gave you. 4Now that the LORD your God has given your brothers rest[p] as he promised, return to your homes[q] in the land that Moses the servant of the LORD gave you on the other side of the Jordan.[r] 5But be very careful to keep the commandment[s] and the law that Moses the servant of the LORD gave you: to love the LORD[t] your God, to walk in all his ways, to obey his commands,[u] to hold fast to him and to serve him with all your heart and all your soul.[v]"

6Then Joshua blessed[w] them and sent them away, and they went to their homes. 7(To the half-tribe of Manasseh Moses had given land in Bashan,[x] and to the other half of the tribe Joshua gave land on the west side[y] of the Jordan with their brothers.) When Joshua sent them home, he blessed them,[z] 8saying, "Return to your homes with your great wealth—with large herds of livestock,[a] with silver, gold, bronze and iron,[b] and a great quantity of clothing—and divide[c] with your brothers the plunder[d] from your enemies."

9So the Reubenites, the Gadites and the half-tribe of Manasseh left the Israelites at Shiloh[e] in Canaan to return to Gilead,[f] their own land, which they had acquired in accordance with the command of the LORD through Moses.

10When they came to Geliloth[g] near the Jordan in the land of Canaan, the Reubenites, the Gadites and the half-tribe of Manasseh built an imposing altar[h] there by the Jordan. 11And when the Israelites heard that they had built the altar on the border of Canaan at Geliloth near the Jordan on the Israelite side, 12the whole assembly of Israel gathered at Shiloh[i] to go to war against them.

13So the Israelites sent Phinehas[j] son of Eleazar,[k] the priest, to the land of Gilead—to Reuben, Gad and the half-tribe of Manasseh. 14With him they sent ten of the chief men, one for each of the tribes of Israel, each the head of a family division among the Israelite clans.[l]

15When they went to Gilead—to Reuben, Gad and the half-tribe of Manasseh—they said to them: 16"The whole assembly of the LORD says: 'How could you break faith[m] with the God of Israel like this? How could you turn away from the LORD and build yourselves an altar in rebellion[n] against him now? 17Was not the sin of Peor[o] enough for us? Up to this very day we have not cleansed ourselves from that sin, even though a plague fell on the community of the LORD! 18And are you now turning away from the LORD?

" 'If you rebel against the LORD today, tomorrow he will be angry with the whole community[p] of Israel. 19If the land you possess is defiled, come over to the LORD's land, where the LORD's tabernacle[q] stands, and share the land with us. But do not rebel against the LORD or against us by building an altar[r] for yourselves, other than the altar of the LORD our God. 20When Achan son of Ze-

22:1–34 The two and a half tribes from east of the Jordan, faithful in battle, are now commended by Joshua and sent to their homes. But their "altar of witness" (see vv. 26–27,34) was misunderstood, and disciplinary action against them was narrowly averted.

22:2 all that Moses . . . commanded. Moses had ordered them to join the other tribes in the conquest of Canaan (Nu 32:16–27; Dt 3:18).

22:5 love the LORD . . . serve him with all your heart. Both Moses and Joshua saw that obedience to the laws of God would require love and service from the heart. In the ancient Near East, "love" was also a political term, indicating truehearted loyalty to one's king.

22:8 divide with your brothers. Moses also had seen the need for a fair sharing of the spoils of war (Nu 31:25–27).

22:10 Geliloth. Understood in the Septuagint to be Gilgal, next to Jericho; more likely it was a site east of Shiloh along the Jordan River (18:17).

22:11 when the Israelites heard. Anxiety about apostasy led to hasty conclusions. They thought the altar had been set up as a rival to the true altar at Shiloh.

22:12 gathered at Shiloh. In the presence of God at the tabernacle. to go to war against them. To take disciplinary action (cf. Dt 13:12–18; Jdg 20).

22:13–14 A prestigious delegation is sent to try to turn the Transjordan tribes from their (supposed) act of rebellion against the Lord.

22:16 How could you . . . ? The accusations were very grave: You have committed apostasy and rebellion.

22:17 Peor. Where some of the Israelites became involved in the Moabite worship of Baal of Peor (Nu 25:1–5).

22:19 is defiled. By pagan worship, corrupting its inhabitants. the LORD's land. The promised land proper had never included Transjordan territory. Canaan was the land the Lord especially claimed as his own and promised to the descendants of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.

rah acted unfaithfully regarding the devoted things,[d] did not wrath[t] come upon the whole community[u] of Israel? He was not the only one who died for his sin.' "[v]

[21]Then Reuben, Gad and the half-tribe of Manasseh replied to the heads of the clans of Israel: [22]"The Mighty One, God, the LORD! The Mighty One, God,[w] the LORD![x] He knows![y] And let Israel know! If this has been in rebellion or disobedience to the LORD, do not spare us this day. [23]If we have built our own altar to turn away from the LORD and to offer burnt offerings and grain offerings,[z] or to sacrifice fellowship offerings[e] on it, may the LORD himself call us to account.[a]

[24]"No! We did it for fear that some day your descendants might say to ours, 'What do you have to do with the LORD, the God of Israel? [25]The LORD has made the Jordan a boundary between us and you—you Reubenites and Gadites! You have no share in the LORD.' So your descendants might cause ours to stop fearing the LORD.

[26]"That is why we said, 'Let us get ready and build an altar—but not for burnt offerings or sacrifices.' [27]On the contrary, it is to be a witness[b] between us and you and the generations that follow, that we will worship the LORD at his sanctuary with our burnt offerings, sacrifices and fellowship offerings.[c] Then in the future your descendants will not be able to say to ours, 'You have no share in the LORD.'

[28]"And we said, 'If they ever say this to us, or to our descendants, we will answer: Look at the replica of the LORD's altar, which our fathers built, not for burnt offerings and sacrifices, but as a witness[d] between us and you.'

[29]"Far be it from us to rebel[e] against the LORD and turn away from him today by building an altar for burnt offerings, grain offerings and sacrifices, other than the altar of the LORD our God that stands before his tabernacle.[f]"

[30]When Phinehas the priest and the leaders of the community—the heads of the clans of the Israelites—heard what Reuben, Gad and Manasseh had to say, they were pleased. [31]And Phinehas son of Eleazar, the priest, said to Reuben, Gad and Manasseh, "Today we know that the LORD is with us,[g] because you have not acted unfaithfully toward the LORD in this matter. Now you have rescued the Israelites from the LORD's hand."

[32]Then Phinehas son of Eleazar, the priest, and the leaders returned to Canaan from their meeting with the Reubenites and Gadites in Gilead and reported to the Israelites.[h] [33]They were glad to hear the report and praised God.[i] And they talked no more about going to war against them to devastate the country where the Reubenites and the Gadites lived.

[34]And the Reubenites and the Gadites gave the altar this name: A Witness[j] Between Us that the LORD is God.

Joshua's Farewell to the Leaders

23 After a long time had passed and the LORD had given Israel rest[k] from all their enemies around them, Joshua, by then old and well advanced in years,[l] [2]summoned all Israel—their elders,[m] leaders, judges and officials[n]—and said to them: "I am old and well advanced in years.[o] [3]You yourselves have seen everything the LORD your God has done to all these nations for your sake; it was the LORD your God who fought for you.[p] [4]Remember how I have allotted[q] as an inheritance[r] for your tribes all the land of the nations that remain—the nations I conquered—between the Jordan and the Great Sea[fs] in the west. [5]The LORD your God himself will drive them out[t] of your way. He will push them out[u] before you, and you will take possession of their land, as the LORD your God promised you.[v]

23:1 rest. See note on 1:13. well advanced in years. Joshua was approaching the age of 110 (24:29).

23:6 be careful to obey. Echoing the Lord's instructions at the beginning (1:7–8; see 22:5). Book of the Law. A reference to canonical written materials from the time of Moses (cf. Dt 30:10,19; 31:9,24,26).

Every promise[p] has been fulfilled; not one has failed.[q] 15But just as every good promise[r] of the LORD your God has come true, so the LORD will bring on you all the evil[s] he has threatened, until he has destroyed you[t] from this good land he has given you.[u] 16If you violate the covenant of the LORD your God, which he commanded you, and go and serve other gods and bow down to them, the LORD's anger will burn against you, and you will quickly perish from the good land he has given you.[v]"

The Covenant Renewed at Shechem

24 Then Joshua assembled[w] all the tribes of Israel at Shechem.[x] He summoned[y] the elders,[z] leaders, judges and officials of Israel,[a] and they presented themselves before God.

2Joshua said to all the people, "This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says: 'Long ago your forefathers, including Terah the father of Abraham and Nahor,[b] lived beyond the River[g] and worshiped other gods.[c] 3But I took your father Abraham from the land beyond the River and led him throughout Canaan[d] and gave him many descendants.[e] I gave him Isaac,[f] 4and to Isaac I gave Jacob and Esau.[g] I assigned the hill country of Seir[h] to Esau, but Jacob and his sons went down to Egypt.[i]

5" 'Then I sent Moses and Aaron,[j] and I afflicted the Egyptians by what I did there, and I brought you out.[k] 6When I brought your fathers out of Egypt, you came to the sea,[l] and the Egyptians pursued them with chariots and horsemen[h][m] as far as the Red Sea.[in] 7But they cried[o] to the LORD for help, and he put darkness[p] between you and the Egyptians; he brought the sea over them and covered them.[q] You saw with your own eyes what I did to the Egyptians.[r] Then you lived in the desert for a long time.[s]

8" 'I brought you to the land of the Amorites[t] who lived east of the Jordan. They fought against you, but I gave them into your hands. I destroyed them from before you, and you took possession of their land.[u] 9When Balak son of Zippor,[v] the king of Moab, prepared to fight against Israel, he sent for Balaam son of Beor[w] to put a curse on you.[x] 10But I would not listen to Balaam, so he blessed you[y] again and again, and I delivered you out of his hand.

11" 'Then you crossed the Jordan[z] and came to Jericho.[a] The citizens of 23:11 love the LORD your God. A concluding summation (see note on 22:5).

23:12 But if you turn away. Remaining in the promised land was conditioned on faithfulness to the Lord and separation from the idolaters still around them. Failure to meet these conditions would bring Israel's banishment from the land (cf. vv. 13,15–16; 2Ki 17:7–8; 2Ch 7:14–20). ally yourselves ... intermarry. The Lord prohibited alliances, either national or domestic, with the peoples of Canaan because such alliances would tend to compromise Israel's loyalty to the Lord (see Ex 34:15–16; Dt 7:2–4).

23:13 snares and traps. Joshua's warning echoes Ex 23:33; 34:12; Dt 7:16.

24:1–33 Once more Joshua assembled the tribes at Shechem to call Israel to a renewal of the covenant (see 8:30–35). It was his final official act as the Lord's servant, mediator of the Lord's rule over his people. In this he followed the example of Moses, whose final official act was also a call to covenant renewal—of which Deuteronomy is the preserved document.

24:2 This is what the LORD ... says. Only a divinely appointed mediator would dare to speak for God with direct discourse, as in vv. 2–13. Long ago. In accordance with the common ancient Near Eastern practice of making treaties (covenants), a brief recital of the past history of the relationship precedes the making of covenant commitments. Joshua here focuses on the separation of Abraham from his polytheistic family, the deliverance of Israel from Egypt and the Lord's establishment of his people in Canaan. the River. See NIV text note.

24:6 Red Sea. See NIV text note.

24:10 I would not listen to Balaam. Not only did the Lord reject Balaam's prayers; he also turned his curse into a blessing (see Nu 23–24).

Jericho fought against you, as did also the Amorites, Perizzites,[b] Canaanites, Hittites, Girgashites, Hivites and Jebusites,[c] but I gave them into your hands.[d] 12I sent the hornet[e] ahead of you, which drove them out[f] before you—also the two Amorite kings. You did not do it with your own sword and bow.[g] 13So I gave you a land[h] on which you did not toil and cities you did not build; and you live in them and eat from vineyards and olive groves that you did not plant.'[i]

14"Now fear the LORD[j] and serve him with all faithfulness.[k] Throw away the gods[l] your forefathers worshiped beyond the River and in Egypt,[m] and serve the LORD. 15But if serving the LORD seems undesirable to you, then choose for yourselves this day whom you will serve, whether the gods your forefathers served beyond the River, or the gods of the Amorites,[n] in whose land you are living. But as for me and my household,[o] we will serve the LORD."[p]

16Then the people answered, "Far be it from us to forsake[q] the LORD to serve other gods! 17It was the LORD our God himself who brought us and our fathers up out of Egypt, from that land of slavery,[r] and performed those great signs[s] before our eyes. He protected us on our entire journey and among all the nations through which we traveled. 18And the LORD drove out[t] before us all the nations,[u] including the Amorites, who lived in the land.[v] We too will serve the LORD, because he is our God.[w]"

19Joshua said to the people, "You are not able to serve the LORD. He is a holy God;[x] he is a jealous God.[y] He will not forgive[z] your rebellion[a] and your sins. 20If you forsake the LORD[b] and serve foreign gods, he will turn[c] and bring disaster[d] on you and make an end of you,[e] after he has been good to you."

21But the people said to Joshua, "No! We will serve the LORD."

22Then Joshua said, "You are witnesses[f] against yourselves that you have chosen[g] to serve the LORD."

"Yes, we are witnesses,[h]" they replied.

23"Now then," said Joshua, "throw away the foreign gods[i] that are among you and yield your hearts[j] to the LORD, the God of Israel."

24And the people said to Joshua, "We will serve the LORD our God and obey him."[k]

25On that day Joshua made a covenant[l] for the people, and there at Shechem[m] he drew up for them decrees and laws.[n] 26And Joshua recorded[o] these things in the Book of the Law of God.[p] Then he took a large stone[q] and set it up there under the oak[r] near the holy place of the LORD.

27"See!" he said to all the people. "This stone[s] will be a witness[t] against us. It has heard all the words the LORD has said to us. It will be a witness against you if you are untrue[u] to your God."[v]

24:12 the hornet. Lower (northern) Egypt had long used the hornet as a national symbol, so Egypt's military campaigns in Canaan may have been in mind. But "the hornet" may also refer to the reports about Israel that spread panic among the Canaanites (2:11; 5:1; 9:24). See note on Ex 23:28.

24:14 fear the LORD. Trust, serve and worship him. gods your forefathers worshiped beyond the River and in Egypt. See v. 2. Joshua appealed to the Israelites to put away the gods their forefathers had worshiped in Mesopotamia and Egypt. In Ur and Haran, Terah's family would have been exposed to the worship of the moon-god, Nanna(r) or Sin. The golden calf of Ex 32:4 may be an example of their worship of the gods of Egypt. It was probably patterned after Apis, the sacred bull of Egypt; see note on Ex 32:4. (Jeroboam's golden calves at Bethel and Dan, on the other hand, probably represented mounts or pedestals for a riding or standing deity; see 1Ki 12:28–29.)

24:15 as for me. Joshua publicly makes his commitment, hoping to elicit the same from Israel.

24:25 covenant for the people. Consisting of the pledges they had agreed to and the decrees and laws from God.

24:26 large stone. Set up as a witness to the covenant renewal that closed Joshua's ministry, this is the seventh memorial in the land reminding Israel of what the Lord had done for them through his servant (see note on 22:27). To these memorials were added the perpetual ruins of Jericho (6:26). Thus the promised land itself bore full testimony to Israel (seven being the number of completeness)—how she had come into possession of the land and how she would remain in the land only by fulfilling the covenant conditions. The land shouted its own story. oak. See note on Ge 12:6.

24:29–33 Three burials. Since it was a deep desire of the ancients to be buried in their homeland, these notices not only mark the conclusion of the story and the close of an era but also underscore the fact that Israel had

Also, the return fulfilled an oath sworn to Joseph on his deathbed (Ge 50:25; Ex 13:19).

Judges

Title

The title describes the leaders Israel had from the time of the elders who outlived Joshua until the time of the monarchy. Their principal purpose is best expressed in 2:16: "Then the LORD raised up judges, who saved them out of the hands of . . . raiders." Since it was God who permitted the oppressions and raised up deliverers, he himself was Israel's ultimate Judge and Deliverer (11:27; see 8:23, where Gideon, a judge, insists that the Lord is Israel's true ruler).

Author and Date

Although, according to tradition, Samuel wrote the book, authorship is actually uncertain. It is possible that Samuel assembled some of the accounts from the period of the judges and that such prophets as Nathan and Gad, both of whom were associated with David's court, had a hand in shaping and editing the material (see 1Ch 29:29).

The date of composition is also unknown, but it was undoubtedly during the monarchy. The frequent expression "In those days Israel had no king" (17:6; 18:1; 19:1; 21:25) suggests a date after the establishment of the monarchy. The observation that the Jebusites still controlled Jerusalem (1:21) has been taken to indicate a time before David's capture of the city c. 1000 B.C. (see 2Sa 5:6–10). But the new conditions in Israel alluded to in chs. 17—21 suggest a time after the Davidic dynasty had been effectively established (tenth century B.C.).

Theme and Theology

The book of Judges describes the life of Israel in the promised land from the death of Joshua to the rise of the monarchy. On the one hand, it is an account of frequent apostasy, provoking divine chastening. On the other hand, it tells of urgent appeals to God in times of crisis, moving the Lord to raise up leaders (judges) through whom he throws off foreign oppressors and restores the land to peace.

After Israel was established in the promised land through the ministry of Joshua, her pilgrimage ended. Many of the covenant promises God had given to the patriarchs in Canaan and to the fathers in the desert had now been fulfilled. The Lord's land, where Israel was to enter into rest, lay under her feet; it remained only for her to occupy it, to displace the Canaanites and to cleanse it of paganism. The time had come for Israel to be the kingdom of God in the form of an established commonwealth on earth.

But in Canaan Israel quickly forgot the acts of God that had given her birth and had established her in the land. Consequently she lost sight of her unique identity as God's people, chosen and called to be his army and the loyal citizens of his emerging kingdom. She settled down and attached herself to Canaan's peoples, morals, gods, and religious beliefs and practices as readily as to Canaan's agriculture and social life.

Throughout Judges the fundamental issue is the lordship of God in Israel—i.e., Israel's acknowledgment of and loyalty to his rule. His kingship over Israel had been uniquely established by the covenant at Sinai (Ex 19—24), which was later renewed by Moses on the plains of Moab (Dt 29) and by Joshua at Shechem (Jos 24). The author accuses Israel of having rejected the kingship of the Lord again and again. She stopped fighting the Lord's battles, turned to the gods of Canaan to secure the blessings of family, flocks and fields, and abandoned God's laws for daily living. In the very center of the cycle of the judges (see Outline), Gideon had to remind Israel that the Lord was her King (see note on 8:23). The recurring lament, and indictment, of chs. 17—21 (see Outline) is: "In those days Israel had no king; everyone did as he saw fit" (see note on 17:6). The primary reference here is doubtless to the earthly mediators of the Lord's rule (i.e., human kings), but the implicit charge is that Israel did not truly acknowledge or obey her heavenly King either.

Only by the Lord's sovereign use of foreign oppression to chasten his people—thereby implementing the covenant curses (see Lev 26:14–45; Dt 28:15–68)—and by his raising up deliverers when his people cried out to him did he maintain his kingship in Israel and preserve the embryonic kingdom from extinction. Israel's flawed condition was graphically exposed; she continued to need new saving acts by God in order to enter into the promised rest (see note on Jos 1:13).

Out of the recurring cycles of disobedience, foreign oppression, cries of distress, and deliverance (see 2:11–19; Ne 9:26–31) emerges another important theme—the covenant faithfulness of the Lord. The amazing patience and long-suffering of God are no better demonstrated than during this unsettled period.

Remarkably, this age of Israel's failure, following directly on the redemptive events that came through Moses and Joshua, is in a special way the OT age of the Spirit. God's Spirit enabled men to accomplish feats of victory in the Lord's holy war against the powers that threatened his kingdom (see 3:10; 6:34; 11:29; 13:25; 14:6,19; 15:14; see also 1Sa 10:6,10; 11:6; 16:13). This same Spirit, poured out on the church following the redemptive work of the second Joshua (Jesus), empowered the people of the Lord to begin the task of preaching the gospel to all nations and of advancing the kingdom of God (see notes on Ac 1:2,8).

Background

Fixing precise dates for the judges is difficult and complex. The dating system followed here is based primarily on 1Ki 6:1, which speaks of an interval of 480 years between the exodus and the fourth year of Solomon's reign. This would place the exodus c. 1446 B.C. and the period of the judges between c. 1380 and the rise of Saul, c. 1050. Jephthah's statement that Israel had occupied Heshbon for 300 years (11:26) generally agrees with these dates.

Some maintain, however, that the number 480 in 1Ki 6:1 is somewhat artificial, arrived at by multiplying 12 (perhaps in reference to the 12 judges) by 40 (a conventional number of years for a generation). They point out the frequent use of the round numbers 10, 20, 40 and 80 in the book of Judges itself. A later date for the exodus would of course require a much shorter period of time for the judges (see Introduction to Exodus: Chronology).

Literary Features

Even a quick reading of Judges discloses its basic threefold division: (1) a prologue (1:1—3:6), (2) a main body (3:7—16:31) and (3) an epilogue (chs. 17—21). Closer study brings to light a more complex structure, with interwoven themes that bind the whole into an intricately designed portrayal of the character of an age.

The prologue (1:1—3:6) has two parts, and each serves a different purpose. They are not chronologically related, nor does either offer a strict chronological scheme of the time as a whole. The first part (1:1—2:5) sets the stage historically for the narratives that follow. It describes Israel's occupation of the promised land—from her initial success to her large-scale failure and divine rebuke.

The second part (2:6—3:6) indicates a basic perspective on the period from the time of Joshua to the rise of the monarchy, a time characterized by recurring cycles of apostasy, oppression, cries of distress and gracious divine deliverance. The author summarizes and explains the Lord's dealings with his rebellious people and introduces some of the basic vocabulary and formulas he will use in the later narratives: "did evil in the eyes of the LORD," 2:11 (see 3:7,12; 4:1; 6:1; 10:6); "handed them over to," 2:14 (see 6:1; 13:1); and "sold them," 2:14 (see 3:8; 4:2; 10:7).

The main body of the book (3:7—16:31), which gives the actual accounts of the recurring cycles (apostasy, oppression, distress, deliverance), has its own unique design. Each cycle has a similar beginning ("the Israelites did evil in the eyes of the LORD"; see note on 3:7) and a recognizable conclusion ("the land had peace . . . years" or "led Israel . . . years"; see note on 3:11). The first of these cycles (Othniel; see 3:7–11 and note) provides the "report form" used for each successive story of oppression and deliverance.

The remaining five cycles form the following narrative units, built around the rest of the major judges:

1. Ehud (3:12–30), a lone hero from the tribe of Benjamin who delivers Israel from oppression from the east.

2. Deborah (chs. 4—5), a woman from one of the Joseph tribes (Ephraim, west of the Jordan) who judges at a time when Israel is being overrun by a coalition of Canaanites under Sisera.

3. Gideon and his son Abimelech (chs. 6—9), who form the central account. In many ways Gideon is the ideal judge, evoking memory of Moses, while his son is the very antithesis of a responsible and faithful judge.

4. Jephthah (10:6—12:7), a social outcast from the other Joseph tribe (Manasseh, east of the Jordan) who judges at a time when Israel is being threatened by a coalition of powers under the king of Ammon.

5. Samson (chs. 13—16), a lone hero from the tribe of Dan who delivers Israel from oppression from the west.

The arrangement of these narrative units is significant. The central accounts of Gideon (the Lord's ideal judge) and Abimelech (the anti-judge) are bracketed by the parallel narratives of the woman Deborah and the social outcast Jephthah--which in turn are framed by the stories of the lone heroes Ehud and Samson. In this way even the structure focuses attention on the crucial issue of the period of the judges: Israel's attraction to the Baals of Canaan (shown by Abimelech; see note on 9:1–57) versus the Lord's kingship over his people (encouraged by Gideon; see note on 8:23).

The epilogue (chs. 17—21) characterizes the era in yet another way, depicting religious and moral corruption on the part of individuals, cities and tribes. Like the introduction, it has two divisions that are neither chronologically related nor expressly dated to the careers of specific judges. The events must have taken place, however, rather early in the period of the judges (see notes on 18:30; 20:1,28).

By dating the events of the epilogue only in relationship to the monarchy (see the recurring refrain in 17:6; 18:1; 19:1; 21:25), the author contrasts the age of the judges with the better time that the monarchy inaugurated, undoubtedly having in view the rule of David and his dynasty (see note on 17:1—21:25). The book mentions two instances of the Lord's assigning leadership to the tribe of Judah: (1) in driving out the Canaanites (1:1–2), and (2) in disciplining a tribe in Israel (20:18). The author views the ruler from the tribe of Judah as the savior of the nation.

The first division of the epilogue (chs. 17—18) relates the story of Micah's development of a paganized place of worship and tells of the tribe of Dan abandoning their allotted territory while adopting Micah's corrupted religion. The second division (chs. 19—21) tells the story of a Levite's sad experience at Gibeah in Benjamin and records the disciplinary removal of the tribe of Benjamin because it had defended the degenerate town of Gibeah.

The two divisions have several interesting parallels:

1. Both involve a Levite's passing between Bethlehem (in Judah) and Ephraim across the Benjamin-Dan corridor.

2. Both mention 600 warriors—those who led the tribe of Dan and those who survived from the tribe of Benjamin.

3. Both conclude with the emptying of a tribal area in that corridor (Dan and Benjamin).

Not only are these Benjamin-Dan parallels significant within the epilogue, but they also form a notable link to the main body of the book. The tribe of Benjamin, which in the epilogue undertook to defend gross immorality, setting ties of blood above loyalty to the Lord, was the tribe from which the Lord raised up the deliverer Ehud (3:15). The tribe of Dan, which in the epilogue retreated from its assigned inheritance and adopted pagan religious practices, was the tribe from which the Lord raised up the deliverer Samson (13:2,5). Thus the tribes that in the epilogue depict the religious and moral corruption of Israel are the very tribes from which the deliverers were chosen whose stories frame the central account of the book (Gideon-Abimelech).

The whole design of the book from prologue to epilogue, the unique manner in which each section deals with the age as a whole, and the way the three major divisions are interrelated clearly portray an age gone awry—an age when "Israel had no king" and "everyone did as he saw fit" (see note on 17:6). Of no small significance is the fact that the story is in episodes and cycles. It is given as the story of all Israel, though usually only certain areas are directly involved. The book portrays the centuries after Joshua as a time of Israelite unfaithfulness to the Lord and of her surrender to the allurements of Canaan. Only by the mercies of God was Israel not overwhelmed and absorbed by the pagan nations around her. Meanwhile, however, the history of redemption virtually stood still—awaiting the forward thrust of the Lord's servant David and the establishment of his dynasty.

Israel Fights the Remaining Canaanites

1:11–15pp — Jos 15:15–19

1 After the death[a] of Joshua, the Israelites asked the LORD, "Who will be the first[b] to go up and fight for us against the Canaanites?[c]"

2The LORD answered, "Judah[d] is to go; I have given the land into their hands.[e]"

3Then the men of Judah said to the Simeonites their brothers, "Come up with us into the territory allotted to us, to fight against the Canaanites. We in turn will go with you into yours." So the Simeonites[f] went with them.

4When Judah attacked, the LORD gave the Canaanites and Perizzites[g] into their hands and they struck down ten thousand men at Bezek.[h] 5It was there that they found Adoni-Bezek[i] and fought against him, putting to rout the Canaanites and Perizzites. 6Adoni-Bezek fled, but they chased him and caught him, and cut off his thumbs and big toes.

7Then Adoni-Bezek said, "Seventy kings with their thumbs and big toes cut off have picked up scraps under my table. Now God has paid me back[j] for what I did to them." They brought him to Jerusalem,[k] and he died there.

8The men of Judah attacked Jerusalem[l] also and took it. They put the city to the sword and set it on fire.

9After that, the men of Judah went down to fight against the Canaanites living in the hill country,[m] the Negev[n] and the western foothills. 10They advanced against the Canaanites living in Hebron[o] (formerly called Kiriath Arba[p]) and defeated Sheshai, Ahiman and Talmai.[q]

11From there they advanced against the people living in Debir[r] (formerly called Kiriath Sepher). 12And Caleb said, "I will give my daughter Acsah in marriage to the man who attacks and captures Kiriath Sepher." 13Othniel son of Kenaz, Caleb's younger brother, took it; so Caleb gave his daughter Acsah to him in marriage.

14One day when she came to Othniel, she urged him[a] to ask her father for a field. When she got off her donkey, Caleb asked her, "What can I do for you?"

15She replied, "Do me a special favor. Since you have given me land in the Negev, give me also springs of water." Then Caleb gave her the upper and lower springs.[s]

16The descendants of Moses' father-in-law,[t] the Kenite,[u] went up from the City of Palms[b][v] with the men of Judah to live among the people of the Desert of Judah in the Negev near Arad.[w]

17Then the men of Judah went with the Simeonites[x] their brothers and attacked the Canaanites living in Zephath, and

1:1–3:6 An introduction in two parts: (1) an account of Israel's failure to lay claim completely to the promised land as the Lord had directed (1:1–36) and of his rebuke for their disloyalty (2:1–5); (2) an overview of the main body of the book (3:7–16:31), portraying Israel's rebellious ways in the centuries after Joshua's death and showing how the Lord dealt with her in that period (2:6–3:6). See Introduction: Literary Features.

1:1–36 Judah is assigned leadership in occupying the land (v. 2; see 20:18). Her vigorous efforts (together with those of Simeon) highlight by contrast the sad story of failure that follows. Only Ephraim's success at Bethel (vv. 22–26) breaks the monotony of that story.

1:1 After the death of Joshua. The book of Judges, like that of Joshua, tells of an era following the death of a leading figure in the history of redemption (see Jos 1:1). Joshua probably died c. 1390 B.C. The battles under his leadership broke the power of the Canaanites to drive the Israelites out of the land. The task that now confronted Israel was the actual occupation of Canaanite territory (see notes on Jos 18:3; 21:43–45). asked the LORD. Probably by the priestly use of Urim and Thummim (see notes on Ex 28:30; 1Sa 2:28). go up. The main Israelite encampment was at Gilgal, near Jericho in the Jordan Valley (about 800 feet below sea level), while the Canaanite cities were mainly located in the central hill country (about 2,500–3,500 feet above sea level).

1:2 Judah is to go. See 20:18. Judah was also the first to be assigned territory west of the Jordan (Jos 15). The leadership role of the tribe of Judah had been anticipated in the blessing of Jacob (Ge 49:8–12).

1:3 Simeonites. Joshua assigned to Simeon cities within the territory of Judah (Jos 19:1,9; see Ge 49:5–7).

1:4 Canaanites. See note on Ge 10:6. Perizzites. See note on Ge 13:7. Bezek. Location unknown. Saul marshaled his army there before going to Jabesh Gilead (1Sa 11:8).

1:5 Adoni-Bezek. Means "lord of Bezek."

1:6 cut off his thumbs and big toes. Physically mutilating prisoners of war was a common practice in the ancient Near East (see note on 16:21). It rendered them unfit for military service.

1:7 Seventy kings. Canaan was made up of many small city-states, each of which was ruled by a king. "Seventy" may be a round number, or it may be symbolic of a large number. under my table. Humiliating treatment, like that given to a dog (see Mt 15:27; Lk 16:21). God has paid me back. See note on Ex 21:23–25.

1:8 attacked Jerusalem. Although the city was defeated, it was not occupied by the Israelites at this time (see v. 21). Israel did not permanently control the city until David captured it c. 1000 B.C. (2Sa 5:6–10).

1:10 Kiriath Arba. See note on Jos 14:15.

1:11 Debir. See note on Jos 10:38.

1:12 Caleb. He and Joshua had brought back an optimistic report about the prospects of conquering Canaan (Nu 14:6–9). daughter . . . in marriage. Victory in battle was one way to pay the bride-price for a girl (see 1Sa 18:25).

1:13 Othniel. First major judge (see 3:7–11).

1:15 upper and lower springs. They still water the local farms in Hebron.

1:16 Moses' father-in-law. See note on Ex 2:16.

1:17 men of Judah . . . Simeonites. Judah was fulfilling her commitment (v. 3).

they totally destroyed[c] the city. Therefore it was called Hormah.[dy] 18The men of Judah also took[e] Gaza,[z] Ashkelon[a] and Ekron—each city with its territory.

19The LORD was with[b] the men of Judah. They took possession of the hill country,[c] but they were unable to drive the people from the plains, because they had iron chariots.[d] 20As Moses had promised, Hebron[e] was given to Caleb, who drove from it the three sons of Anak.[f] 21The Benjamites, however, failed[g] to dislodge the Jebusites, who were living in Jerusalem;[h] to this day the Jebusites live there with the Benjamites.

22Now the house of Joseph[i] attacked Bethel,[j] and the LORD was with them. 23When they sent men to spy out Bethel (formerly called Luz),[k] 24the spies saw a man coming out of the city and they said to him, "Show us how to get into the city and we will see that you are treated

1:18 Gaza, Ashkelon and Ekron. Three of the five main cities inhabited by the Philistines (see map below).

1:19 unable to drive the people from. Israel failed to comply with God's commands (Dt 7:1–5; 20:16–18) to drive the Canaanites out of the land. Five factors were involved in that failure: (1) The Canaanites possessed superior weapons (v. 19); (2) Israel disobeyed God by making treaties with the Canaanites (2:1–3); (3) Israel violated the covenant the Lord had made with their forefathers (2:20–21); (4) God was testing Israel's faithfulness to obey his commands (2:22–23; 3:4); (5) God was giving Israel, as his army, the opportunity to develop her skills in warfare (3:1–2). iron chariots. Wooden vehicles with certain iron fittings, perhaps axles.

1:21 Benjamites . . . failed to dislodge. See note on v. 8. Jerusalem lay on the border between Benjamin and Judah but was allotted to Benjamin (Jos 18:28). Jebusites. See note on Ge 10:16.

1:22 house of Joseph. Ephraim and West Manasseh. Bethel. See note on Ge 12:8. There is archaeological evidence of a destruction in the 13th century B.C. that may reflect the battle mentioned in this verse.

Five Cities of the Philistines

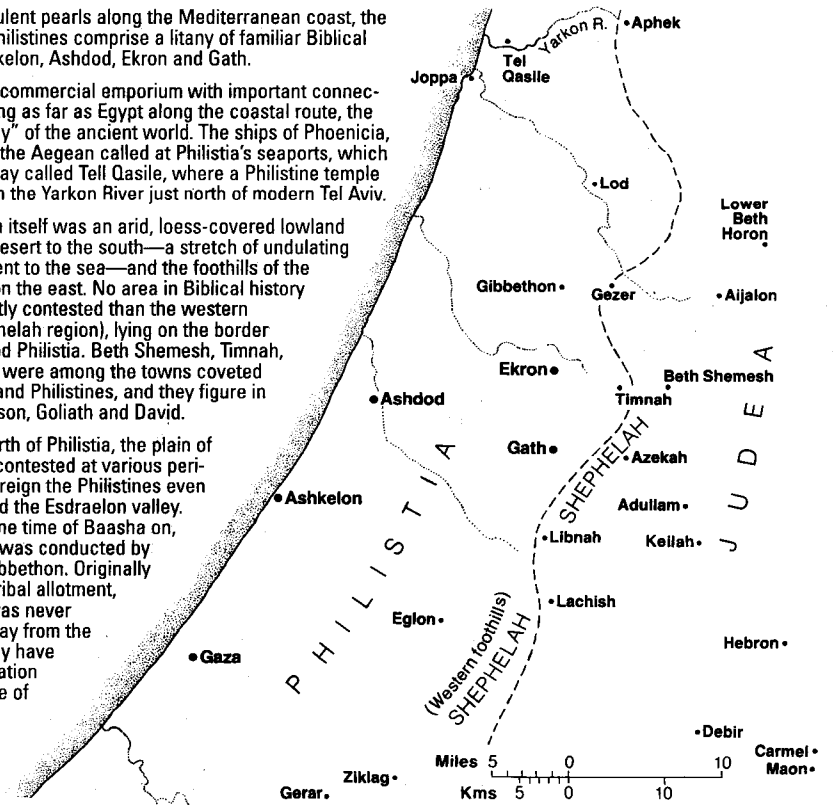
Like a string of opulent pearls along the Mediterranean coast, the five cities of the Philistines comprise a litany of familiar Biblical names: Gaza, Ashkelon, Ashdod, Ekron and Gath.

Each was a commercial emporium with important connections reaching as far as Egypt along the coastal route, the "interstate highway" of the ancient world. The ships of Phoenicia, Cyprus, Crete and the Aegean called at Philistia's seaports, which included a site today called Tell Qasile, where a Philistine temple has been found, on the Yarkon River just north of modern Tel Aviv.

The Philistine plain itself was an arid, loess-covered lowland bordering on the desert to the south—a stretch of undulating sand dunes adjacent to the sea—and the foothills of the Judahite plateau on the east. No area in Biblical history was more frequently contested than the western foothills (the Shephelah region), lying on the border between Judea and Philistia. Beth Shemesh, Timnah, Azekah and Ziklag were among the towns coveted by both Israelites and Philistines, and they figure in the stories of Samson, Goliath and David.

The area to the north of Philistia, the plain of Sharon, was also contested at various periods: During Saul's reign the Philistines even held Beth Shan and the Esdraelon valley. Later, from about the time of Baasha on, a long border war was conducted by the Israelites at Gibbethon. Originally a part of Judah's tribal allotment, the coastal area was never totally wrested away from the Philistines who may have begun their occupation as early as the time of Abraham.



well.[l]" [25]So he showed them, and they put the city to the sword but spared[m] the man and his whole family. [26]He then went to the land of the Hittites,[n] where he built a city and called it Luz,[o] which is its name to this day.

[27]But Manasseh did not[p] drive out the people of Beth Shan or Taanach or Dor[q] or Ibleam[r] or Megiddo[s] and their surrounding settlements, for the Canaanites[t] were determined to live in that land. [28]When Israel became strong, they pressed the Canaanites into forced labor but never drove them out completely.[u] [29]Nor did Ephraim[v] drive out the Canaanites living in Gezer,[w] but the Canaanites continued to live there among them.[x] [30]Neither did Zebulun drive out the Canaanites living in Kitron or Nahalol, who remained among them; but they did subject them to forced labor. [31]Nor did Asher[y] drive out those living in Acco or Sidon[z] or Ahlab or Aczib[a] or Helbah or Aphek[b] or Rehob,[c] [32]and because of this the people of Asher lived among the Canaanite inhabitants of the land. [33]Neither did Naphtali drive out those living in Beth Shemesh[d] or Beth Anath[e]; but the Naphtalites too lived among the Canaanite inhabitants of the land, and those living in Beth Shemesh and Beth Anath became forced laborers for them. [34]The Amorites[f] confined the Danites[g] to the hill country, not allowing them to come down into the plain.[h] [35]And the Amorites were determined also to hold out in Mount Heres,[i] Aijalon[j] and Shaalbim,[k] but when the power of the house of Joseph increased, they too were pressed into forced labor. [36]The boundary of the Amorites was from Scorpion[f] Pass[l] to Sela[m] and beyond.[n]

The Angel of the LORD at Bokim

2 The angel of the LORD[o] went up from Gilgal[p] to Bokim[q] and said, "I brought you up out of Egypt[r] and led you into the land that I swore to give to your forefathers.[s] I said, 'I will never break my covenant with you,[t] [2]and you shall not make a covenant with the people of this land,[u] but you shall break down their altars.[v]' Yet you have disobeyed[w] me. Why have you done this? [3]Now therefore I tell you that I will not drive them out before you;[x] they will be ⌊thorns⌋[y] in your sides and their gods will be a snare[z] to you."

[4]When the angel of the LORD had spoken these things to all the Israelites, the people wept aloud,[a] [5]and they called that place Bokim.[g][b] There they offered sacrifices to the LORD.

[f]36 Hebrew Akrabbim [g]5 Bokim means weepers.

1:25 spared the man. Cf. the treatment of Rahab (Jos 6:25).
1:26 land of the Hittites. A name for Aram (Syria) at the time of the conquest (see note on Ge 10:15).
1:27–29 See Jos 17:16–18.
1:28 forced labor. See note on 1Ki 5:13.
1:33 Beth Shemesh. Location unknown. The name means "house of the sun(-god)." There was also a Beth Shemesh in Judah (see note on v. 35). Beth Anath. Means "house of (the goddess) Anath" (see note on 3:31).
1:34 Amorites. See note on Ge 10:16. confined the Danites. Joshua had defeated the Amorites earlier (Jos 10:5–11), but they were still strong enough to withstand the Danites. For this reason a large number of Danites migrated northward a short time later (see ch. 18).
1:35 Mount Heres. Means "mountain of the sun(-god)"; probably the Beth Shemesh in Judah, which is also called Ir Shemesh, "city of the sun(-god)" (Jos 19:41).
1:36 boundary of the Amorites. Their southern boundary (see Jos 15:2–3).
2:1–5 Because Israel had not zealously laid claim to the land as the Lord had directed (see 1:27–36), he withdrew his helping hand. On this note the first half of the introduction ends. Although the actual time of the Lord's rebuke is not indicated, it was probably early in the period of the judges and may even have been connected with the event in Jos 9 (or possibly Jos 18:1–3).
2:1 angel of the LORD. See note on Ge 16:7. The role of the angel of the Lord in this passage parallels that of the unnamed prophet in 6:8–10 and the word of the Lord in 10:11–14, calling his people to account. Gilgal. The place where Israel first became established in the land under Joshua (see Jos 4:19–5:12). out of Egypt. The theme of Exodus, frequently referred to as the supreme evidence of God's redemptive love for his people (see Ex 20:2). swore to give. See Ge 15:18; see also note on Heb 6:13.
2:2 not make a covenant. To have done so would have broken their covenant with the Lord (see Ex 23:32).
2:6–3:6 The second half of the introduction continues the narrative of Jos 24:28–31. It is a preliminary survey of the accounts narrated in Jdg 3:7–16:31, showing that Israel's first centuries in the promised land are a recurring cycle of apostasy, oppression, cries of distress and gracious deliverance (see Introduction: Literary Features). The author reminds Israel that she will enjoy God's promised rest in the promised land only when she is loyal to him and to his covenant.
2:6 take possession of the land. See note on 1:1.
2:8 servant of the LORD. Joshua is identified as the Lord's official representative (see notes on Ex 14:31; Ps 18 title; Isa 41:8–9; 42:1). a hundred and ten. For the significance of this number see note on Ge 50:26.

res[he] in the hill country of Ephraim, north of Mount Gaash.

[10]After that whole generation had been gathered to their fathers, another generation grew up, who knew neither the LORD nor what he had done for Israel.[f] [11]Then the Israelites did evil[g] in the eyes of the LORD[h] and served the Baals.[i] [12]They forsook the LORD, the God of their fathers, who had brought them out of Egypt. They followed and worshiped various gods[j] of the peoples around them.[k] They provoked[l] the LORD to anger[m] [13]because they forsook[n] him and served Baal and the Ashtoreths.[o] [14]In his anger[p] against Israel the LORD handed them over[q] to raiders who plundered[r] them. He sold them[s] to their enemies all around, whom they were no longer able to resist.[t] [15]Whenever Israel went out to fight, the hand of the LORD was against them[u] to defeat them, just as he had sworn to them. They were in great distress.[v]

[16]Then the LORD raised up judges,[iw] who saved[x] them out of the hands of these raiders. [17]Yet they would not listen to their judges but prostituted[y] themselves to other gods[z] and worshiped them.[a] Unlike their fathers, they quickly turned[b] from the way in which their fathers had walked, the way of obedience to the LORD's commands.[c] [18]Whenever the LORD raised up a judge for them, he was with the judge and saved[d] them out of the hands of their enemies as long as the judge lived; for the LORD had compassion[e] on them as they groaned[f] under those who oppressed and afflicted[g] them. [19]But when the judge died, the people returned to ways even more corrupt[h] than those of their fathers,[i] following other gods and serving and worshiping them.[j] They refused to give up their evil practices and stubborn[k] ways.

[20]Therefore the LORD was very angry[l] with Israel and said, "Because this nation has violated the covenant[m] that I laid down for their forefathers and has not listened to me, [21]I will no longer drive out[n] before them any of the nations Joshua left when he died. [22]I will use them to test[o] Israel and see whether they will keep the way of the LORD and walk in it as their forefathers did." [23]The LORD had allowed those nations to remain; he did not drive them out at once by giving them into the hands of Joshua.[p]

[h]9 Also known as Timnath Serah (see Joshua 19:50 and 24:30) [i]16 Or leaders; similarly in verses 17-19

2:10–15 The Lord withdraws his help because of Israel's apostasy. He "sells" the people he had "bought" (Ex 15:16) and redeemed (Ex 15:13; cf. Ps 74:2).

2:10 gathered to their fathers. See Ge 15:15; see also note on Ge 25:8. who knew neither the LORD ... Israel. They had no direct experience of the Lord's acts (see Ex 1:8).

2:11 did evil in the eyes of the LORD. The same expression is used in 3:7,12; 4:1; 6:1; 10:6. Baals. The many local forms of this Canaanite deity (see note on v. 13).

2:12 provoked the LORD to anger. See Dt 4:25; see also note on Zec 1:2.

2:13 Baal. Means "lord." Baal, the god worshiped by the Canaanites and Phoenicians, was variously known to them as the son of Dagon and the son of El. In Aram (Syria) he was called Hadad and in Babylonia Adad. Believed to give fertility to the womb and life-giving rain to the soil, he is pictured as standing on a bull, a popular symbol of fertility and strength (see 1Ki 12:28). The storm cloud was his chariot, thunder his voice, and lightning his spear and arrows. The worship of Baal involved sacred prostitution and sometimes even child sacrifice (see Jer 19:5). The stories of Elijah and Elisha (1Ki 17–2Ki 13), as well as many other OT passages, directly or indirectly protest Baalism (e.g., Ps 29:3–9; 68:1–4,32–34; 93:1–5; 97:1–5; Jer 10:12–16; 14:22; Hos 2:8,16–17; Am 5:8). Ashtoreths. Female deities such as Ashtoreth (consort of Baal) and Asherah (consort of El, the chief god of the Canaanite pantheon). Ashtoreth was associated with the evening star and was the beautiful goddess of war and fertility. She was worshiped as Ishtar in Babylonia and as Athtart in Aram. To the Greeks she was Astarte or Aphrodite, and to the Romans, Venus. Worship of the Ashtoreths involved extremely lascivious practices (1Ki 14:24; 2Ki 23:7).

2:14 handed them over to. The same expression is used in 6:1; 13:1. sold them. The same expression is used in 3:8; 4:2; 10:7.

2:16–19 The Lord was merciful to his people in times of distress, sending deliverers to save them from oppression. But Israel continually forgot these saving acts, just as she had those he had performed through Moses and Joshua.

2:16 judges. See Introduction: Title. There were six major judges (Othniel, Ehud, Deborah, Gideon, Jephthah and Samson) and six minor ones (Shamgar, Tola, Jair, Ibzan, Elon and Abdon).

2:17 prostituted themselves. Since the Hebrew for Baal (meaning "lord") was also used by women to refer to their husbands, it is understandable that the metaphor of adultery was commonly used in connection with Israelite worship of Baal (see Hos 2:2–3,16–17).

2:18 groaned ... oppressed. The language of the Egyptian bondage (see Ex 2:24; 3:9; 6:5).

2:20–23 The Lord decided to leave the remaining nations to test Israel's loyalty.

3:1–6 The list of nations the Lord left roughly describes an arc along the western and northern boundaries of the area actually occupied by Israel at the death of Joshua (vv. 1–4). Within Israelite-occupied territory there were large groups of native peoples (v. 5; see 1:27–36) with whom the Israelites intermingled, often adopting their religions (v. 6).

3:2 only to teach warfare. As his covenant servant, Israel was the Lord's army for fighting against the powers of the world that were settled in his land. In view of the incomplete conquest, succeeding generations in Israel needed to the descendants of the Israelites who had not had previous battle experience): 3the five[r] rulers of the Philistines,[s] all the Canaanites, the Sidonians, and the Hivites[t] living in the Lebanon mountains from Mount Baal Hermon[u] to Lebo[j] Hamath.[v] 4They were left to test[w] the Israelites to see whether they would obey the LORD's commands, which he had given their forefathers through Moses.

5The Israelites lived[x] among the Canaanites, Hittites, Amorites, Perizzites,[y] Hivites and Jebusites.[z] 6They took their daughters[a] in marriage and gave their own daughters to their sons, and served their gods.[b c]

Othniel

7The Israelites did evil in the eyes of the LORD; they forgot the LORD[d] their God and served the Baals and the Asherahs.[e] 8The anger of the LORD burned against Israel so that he sold[f] them into the hands of Cushan-Rishathaim[g] king of Aram Naharaim,[k h] to whom the Israelites were subject for eight years. 9But when they cried out[i] to the LORD, he raised up for them a deliverer,[j] Othniel[k] son of Kenaz, Caleb's younger brother, who saved them. 10The Spirit of the LORD came upon him,[l] so that he became Israel's judge[l] and went to war. The LORD gave Cushan-Rishathaim[m] king of Aram[n] into the hands of Othniel, who overpowered him. 11So the land had peace[o] for forty years,[p] until Othniel son of Kenaz[q] died.

Ehud

12Once again the Israelites did evil in the eyes of the LORD,[r] and because they did this evil the LORD gave Eglon king of Moab[s] power over Israel. 13Getting the Ammonites[t] and Amalekites[u] to join him, Eglon came and attacked Israel, and they took possession of the City of Palms.[m v] 14The Israelites were subject to Eglon king of Moab[w] for eighteen years.

15Again the Israelites cried out to the LORD, and he gave them a deliverer[x]—Ehud[y], a left-handed[z] man, the son of Gera the Benjamite. The Israelites sent him with tribute[a] to Eglon king of Moab. 16Now Ehud[b] had made a double-edged sword about a foot and a half[n] long, which he strapped to his right thigh under his clothing. 17He presented the to become capable warriors. "Only" probably here means "especially."

3:3 five rulers. The Hebrew for "rulers" is related to the word "tyrant" (see note on Jos 13:3) and is used only of Philistine rulers. These rulers had control of a five-city confederacy. At one point Judah defeated three of these cities (1:18) but was unable to hold them. Sidonians. Here used collectively of the Phoenicians. Hivites. Here identified with a region in northern Canaan reaching all the way to Hamath (see also Jos 11:3). Mount Baal Hermon. Probably Mount Hermon (see 1Ch 5:23).

3:6 took their daughters ... and served their gods. See note on Jos 23:12. The degenerating effect of such intermarriage is well illustrated in Solomon's experience (1Ki 11:1–8).

3:7–11 In the account of Othniel's judgeship the author provides the basic literary form he uses in his accounts of the major judges (i.e., beginning statement; cycle of apostasy, oppression, distress, deliverance; recognizable conclusion), adding only the brief details necessary to complete the report (see Introduction: Literary Features).

3:7 did evil in the eyes of the LORD. A recurring expression (see v. 12; 4:1; 6:1; 10:6; 13:1) used to introduce the cycles of the judges (see Introduction: Literary Features). Baals. See note on 2:13. Asherahs. See notes on 2:13; Ex 34:13.

3:8 Cushan-Rishathaim. Probably means "doubly wicked Cushan," perhaps a caricature of his actual name (see note on 10:6 regarding Baal-Zebub). Aram Naharaim. See note on Ge 24:10.

3:9 they cried out to the LORD. The Israelites' cries of distress occurred in each recurring cycle of the judges (see Introduction: Literary Features). Othniel. See 1:13.

3:10 Spirit of the LORD came upon him. The Spirit empowered Othniel to deliver his people, as he did Gideon (6:34), Jephthah (11:29), Samson (14:6,19) and also David (1Sa 16:13). Cf. Nu 11:25–29.

3:11 the land had peace ... years. A recognizable conclusion to the cycle of a judge (noted only here and in v. 30; 5:31; 8:28). After the judgeship of Gideon this formula is replaced by "led Israel ... years" (12:7; 15:20; 16:31). See Introduction: Literary Features. forty years. A conventional number of years for a generation (see Introduction: Background).

3:12–30 Ehud's triumph over Eglon king of Moab. The left-handed Benjamite was an authentic hero. All alone, and purely by his wits, he cut down the king of Moab, who had established himself in Canaan near Jericho. This account balances that of Samson in the five narrative units central to the book of Judges (see Introduction: Literary Features).

3:12 Moab. See note on Ge 19:36–38.

3:13 Ammonites. See note on Ge 19:33. Amalekites. These descendants of Esau (Ge 36:12,16) lived in the Negev (Nu 13:29). See note on Ge 14:7.

3:14 Israelites. Here mainly Benjamin and Ephraim.

3:15 left-handed man. Left-handedness was noteworthy among Benjamites (see 20:15–16)—which is ironic since Benjamin means "son of (my) right hand." Being left-handed, Ehud could conceal his dagger on the side where it was not expected (see v. 21). tribute. An annual payment, perhaps of agricultural products (cf. 2Ki 3:4).

3:16 made a double-edged sword. During the period of the judges, Israelite weapons were often fashioned or improvised for the occasion: Shamgar's oxgoad (v. 31), Jael's tent peg (4:22), Gideon's jars and torches (7:20), the woman's millstone (9:53) and Samson's donkey jawbone (15:15). See 1Sa 13:19.

tribute[c] to Eglon king of Moab, who was a very fat man.[d] 18After Ehud had presented the tribute, he sent on their way the men who had carried it. 19At the idols[o] near Gilgal he himself turned back and said, "I have a secret message for you, O king."

The king said, "Quiet!" And all his attendants left him.

20Ehud then approached him while he was sitting alone in the upper room of his summer palace[pe] and said, "I have a message from God for you." As the king rose[f] from his seat, 21Ehud reached with his left hand, drew the sword[g] from his right thigh and plunged it into the king's belly. 22Even the handle sank in after the blade, which came out his back. Ehud did not pull the sword out, and the fat closed in over it. 23Then Ehud went out to the porch[q]; he shut the doors of the upper room behind him and locked them.

24After he had gone, the servants came and found the doors of the upper room locked. They said, "He must be relieving himself[h] in the inner room of the house." 25They waited to the point of embarrassment,[i] but when he did not open the doors of the room, they took a key and unlocked them. There they saw their lord fallen to the floor, dead.

26While they waited, Ehud got away. He passed by the idols and escaped to Seirah. 27When he arrived there, he blew a trumpet[j] in the hill country of Ephraim, and the Israelites went down with him from the hills, with him leading them.

28"Follow me," he ordered, "for the LORD has given Moab,[k] your enemy, into your hands.[l]" So they followed him down and, taking possession of the fords of the Jordan[m] that led to Moab, they allowed no one to cross over. 29At that time they struck down about ten thousand Moabites, all vigorous and strong; not a man escaped. 30That day Moab[n] was made subject to Israel, and the land had peace[o] for eighty years.

Shamgar

31After Ehud came Shamgar son of Anath,[p] who struck down six hundred[q] Philistines[r] with an oxgoad. He too saved Israel.

Deborah

4 After Ehud[s] died, the Israelites once again did evil[t] in the eyes of the LORD.[u] 2So the LORD sold them[v] into the hands of Jabin, a king of Canaan, who reigned in Hazor.[w] The commander of his army was Sisera,[x] who lived in Harosheth Haggoyim. 3Because he had nine hundred iron chariots[y] and had cruelly oppressed[z] the Israelites for twenty years, they cried to the LORD for help.

4Deborah,[a] a prophetess,[b] the wife of Lappidoth, was leading[r] Israel at that

[o]19 Or the stone quarries; also in verse 26 [p]20 The meaning of the Hebrew for this phrase is uncertain. [q]23 The meaning of the Hebrew for this word is uncertain. [r]4 Traditionally judging

3:19 idols. Lit. "carved (stone) things," a frequent Hebrew word for stone idols (see NIV text note). But here the reference may be to carved stone statues of Eglon, marking the boundary of the territory he now claims as part of his expanded realm—a common practice in the ancient Near East.

3:20 upper room. Rooms were built on the flat roofs of houses (2Ki 4:10–11) and palaces (Jer 22:13–14), and had latticed windows (2Ki 1:2) that provided comfort in the heat of summer.

3:22 which came out his back. Or "and the offal in his belly came out."

3:28 taking possession of the fords. This move prevented the Moabites from sending reinforcements and also enabled the Israelites to cut off the Moabites fleeing Jericho.

3:30 eighty years. Round numbers are frequently used in Judges (see Introduction: Background).

3:31 Shamgar. The first of six minor judges and a contemporary of Deborah (see 5:6–7). His name is foreign, so he was probably not an Israelite. son of Anath. Indicates either that Shamgar came from the town of Beth Anath (see 1:33) or that his family worshiped the goddess Anath. Since Anath, Baal's sister, was a goddess of war who fought for Baal, the expression "son of Anath" may have been a military title, meaning "a warrior." oxgoad. A long, wooden rod, sometimes having a metal tip, used for driving draft animals (see 1Sa 13:21).

4:1–5:31 Deborah's triumph over Sisera (commander of a Canaanite army)—first narrated in prose (ch. 4), then celebrated in song (ch. 5). At the time of the Canaanite threat from the north, Israel remained incapable of united action until a woman (Deborah) summoned them to the Lord's battle. Because the warriors of Israel lacked the courage to rise up and face the enemy, the glory of victory went to a woman (Jael)—and she may not have been an Israelite.

4:1–2 Except for the Canaanites, Israel's enemies came from outside the territory she occupied. Nations like Aram Naharaim, Moab, Midian and Ammon were mainly interested in plunder, but the Canaanite uprising of chs. 4–5 was an attempt to restore Canaanite power in the north. The Philistines engaged in continual struggle with Israel for permanent control of the land in the southern and central regions.

4:2 Jabin. See Ps 83:9–10. The name was possibly royal rather than personal. Joshua is credited with having earlier slain a king by the same name (Jos 11:1,10). Hazor. The original royal city of the Jabin dynasty; it may still have been in ruins (see note on Jos 11:10). Sisera sought to recover the territory once ruled by the kings of Hazor. Sisera. His name suggests he was not a Canaanite.

4:3 nine hundred. The number probably represents a coalition rather than the chariot force of one city. In the 15th century B.C., Pharaoh Thutmose III boasted of having captured 924 chariots at the battle of Megiddo. Israelites. Mainly Zebulun and Naphtali, but West Manasseh, Issachar and Asher were also affected.

4:4 Deborah. Means "bee"; cf. Dt 1:44. She is the only judge said to have been a prophet(ess). Other women spoken of as prophetesses are Miriam (Ex 15:20), Huldah (2Ki 22:14), Noadiah (Ne 6:14) and Anna (Lk 2:36), but see also time. 5She held court[c] under the Palm of Deborah between Ramah[d] and Bethel[e] in the hill country of Ephraim, and the Israelites came to her to have their disputes decided. 6She sent for Barak son of Abinoam[f] from Kedesh[g] in Naphtali and said to him, "The LORD, the God of Israel, commands you: 'Go, take with you ten thousand men of Naphtali[h] and Zebulun[i] and lead the way to Mount Tabor.[j] 7I will lure Sisera, the commander of Jabin's[k] army, with his chariots and his troops to the Kishon River[l] and give him into your hands.[m]' "

8Barak said to her, "If you go with me, I will go; but if you don't go with me, I won't go."

9"Very well," Deborah said, "I will go with you. But because of the way you are going about this,[s] the honor will not be yours, for the LORD will hand Sisera over to a woman." So Deborah went with Barak to Kedesh,[n] 10where he summoned[o] Zebulun and Naphtali. Ten thousand men followed him, and Deborah also went with him.

11Now Heber the Kenite had left the other Kenites,[p] the descendants of Hobab,[q] Moses' brother-in-law,[t] and pitched his tent by the great tree[r] in Zaanannim[s] near Kedesh.

12When they told Sisera that Barak son of Abinoam had gone up to Mount Tabor,[t] 13Sisera gathered together his nine hundred iron chariots[u] and all the men with him, from Harosheth Haggoyim to the Kishon River.[v]

14Then Deborah said to Barak, "Go! This is the day the LORD has given Sisera into your hands.[w] Has not the LORD gone ahead[x] of you?" So Barak went down Mount Tabor, followed by ten thousand men. 15At Barak's advance, the LORD routed[y] Sisera and all his chariots and army by the sword, and Sisera abandoned his chariot and fled on foot. 16But Barak pursued the chariots and army as far as Harosheth Haggoyim. All the troops of Sisera fell by the sword; not a man was left.[z]

17Sisera, however, fled on foot to the tent of Jael,[a] the wife of Heber the Kenite,[b] because there were friendly relations between Jabin king of Hazor[c] and the clan of Heber the Kenite.

18Jael[d] went out to meet Sisera and said to him, "Come, my lord, come right in. Don't be afraid." So he entered her tent, and she put a covering over him.

19"I'm thirsty," he said. "Please give me some water." She opened a skin of milk,[e] gave him a drink, and covered him up.

20"Stand in the doorway of the tent,"

Ac 21:9.

4:6 Barak. Means "thunderbolt"—which suggests that he is summoned to be the Lord's "flashing sword" (Dt 32:41). He is named among the heroes of faith in Heb 11:32. Kedesh in Naphtali. A town affected by the Canaanite oppression. Naphtali and Zebulun. Issachar, a near neighbor of these tribes, is not mentioned here but is included in the poetic description of the battle in 5:15. In all, six tribes are mentioned as having participated in the battle. Mount Tabor. A mountain about 1,300 feet high, northeast of the battle site.

4:7 With the Israelites encamped on the slopes of Mount Tabor, safe from chariot attack, the Lord's strategy was to draw Sisera into a trap. For the battle site, Sisera cleverly chose the Valley of Jezreel along the Kishon River, where his chariot forces would have ample maneuvering space to range the battlefield and attack in numbers from any quarter. But that was his undoing, for he did not know the power of the Lord, who would fight from heaven for Israel with storm and flood (see 5:20–21), as he had done in the days of Joshua (Jos 10:11–14). Even in modern times storms have rendered the plain along the Kishon virtually impassable. In April of 1799 the flooded Kishon River aided Napoleon's victory over a Turkish army.

4:9 a woman. Barak's timidity (and that of Israel's other warriors, whom he exemplified) was due to lack of trust in the Lord and was thus rebuked (see note on 9:54).

4:11 Heber the Kenite. Since one meaning of Heber's name is "ally," and since "Kenite" identifies him as belonging to a clan of metalworkers, the author hints at the truth that this member of a people allied with Israel since the days of Moses has moved from south to north to ally himself (see v. 17) with the Canaanite king who is assembling a large force of "iron chariots." It is no doubt he who informs Sisera of Barak's military preparations. other Kenites. Settled in the south not far from Kadesh Barnea in the Negev (see 1:16). Hobab. See Nu 10:29.

4:14 gone ahead of you. As a king at the head of his army (see 1Sa 8:20). See also Ex 15:3 ("the LORD is a warrior"); Jos 10:10–11; 2Sa 5:24; 2Ch 20:15–17,22–24. Barak went down Mount Tabor. The Lord's "thunderbolt" (see note on v. 6) descends the mountain to attack the Canaanite army.
