Foreword

SCRIPTURAL PROMISE

"The grass withers, the flower fades, but the word of our God stands forever."

—Isaiah 40:8

The New American Standard Bible has been produced with the conviction that the words of Scripture as originally penned in the Hebrew, Aramaic, and Greek were inspired by God. Since they are the eternal Word of God, the Holy Scriptures speak with fresh power to each generation, to give wisdom that leads to salvation, that men may serve Christ to the glory of God.

The purpose of the Editorial Board in making this translation was to adhere as closely as possible to the original languages of the Holy Scriptures, and to make the translation in a fluent and readable style according to current English usage.

THE FOURFOLD AIM OF THE LOCKMAN FOUNDATION

1. These publications shall be true to the original Hebrew, Aramaic, and Greek.
2. They shall be grammatically correct.
3. They shall be understandable.
4. They shall give the Lord Jesus Christ His proper place, the place which the Word gives Him; therefore, no work will ever be personalized.

Preface to the New American Standard Bible

In the history of English Bible translations, the King James Version is the most prestigious. This time-honored version of 1611, itself a revision of the Bishops' Bible of 1568, became the basis for the English Revised Version appearing in 1881 (New Testament) and 1885 (Old Testament). The American counterpart of this last work was published in 1901 as the American Standard Version. The ASV, a product of both British and American scholarship, has been highly regarded for its scholarship and accuracy. Recognizing the values of the American Standard Version, The Lockman Foundation felt an urgency to preserve these and other lasting values of the ASV by incorporating recent discoveries of Hebrew and Greek textual sources and by rendering it into more current English. Therefore, in 1959 a new translation project was launched, based on the time-honored principles of translation of the ASV and KJV. The result is the New American Standard Bible.

Translation work for the NASB was begun in 1959. In the preparation of this work numerous other translations have been consulted along with the linguistic tools and literature of biblical scholarship. Decisions about English renderings were made by consensus of a team composed of educators and pastors. Subsequently, review and evaluation by other Hebrew and Greek scholars outside the Editorial Board were sought and carefully considered.

The Editorial Board has continued to function since publication of the complete Bible in 1971. This edition of the NASB represents revisions and refinements recommended over the last several years as well as thorough research based on modern English usage.

Principles of Translation

MODERN ENGLISH USAGE: The attempt has been made to render the grammar and terminology in contemporary English. When it was felt that the word-for-word literalness was unacceptable to the modern reader, a change was made in the direction of a more current English idiom. In the instances where this has been done, the more literal rendering has been indicated in the notes. There are a few exceptions to this procedure. In particular, frequently "And" is not translated at the beginning of sentences because of differences in style between ancient and modern writing. Punctuation is a relatively modern invention, and ancient writers often linked most of their sentences with "and" or other connectives. Also, the Hebrew idiom "answered and said" is sometimes reduced to "answered" or "said" as demanded by the context. For current English the idiom "it came about that" has not been translated in the New Testament except when a major transition is needed.

ALTERNATIVE READINGS: In addition to the more literal renderings, notations have been made to include alternate translations, reading of variant manuscripts and explanatory equivalents of the text. Only such notations have been used as have been felt justified in assisting the reader's comprehension of the terms used by the original author.

HEBREW TEXT: In the present translation the latest edition of Rudolf Kittel's BIBLIA HEBRAICA has been employed together with the most recent light from lexicography, cognate languages, and the Dead Sea Scrolls.

HEBREW TENSES: Consecution of tenses in Hebrew remains a puzzling factor in translation. The translators have been guided by the requirements of a literal translation, the sequence of tenses, and the immediate and broad contexts.

THE PROPER NAME OF GOD IN THE OLD TESTAMENT: In the Scriptures, the name of God is most significant and understandably so. It is inconceivable to think of spiritual matters without a proper designation for the Supreme Deity. Thus the most common name for the Deity is God, a translation of the original Elohim. One of the titles for God is Lord, a translation of Adonai. There is yet another name which is particularly assigned to God as His special or proper name, that is, the four letters YHWH (Exodus 3:14 and Isaiah 42:8). This name has not been pronounced by the Jews because of reverence for the great sacredness of the divine name. Therefore, it has been consistently translated LORD. The only exception to this translation of YHWH is when it occurs in immediate proximity to the word Lord, that is, Adonai. In that case it is regularly translated GOD in order to avoid confusion.

It is known that for many years YHWH has been transliterated as Yahweh, however no complete certainty attaches to this pronunciation.

GREEK TEXT: Consideration was given to the latest available manuscripts with a view to determining the best Greek text. In most instances the 26th edition of Eberhard Nestle's NOVUM TESTAMENTUM GRAECE was followed.

GREEK TENSES: A careful distinction has been made in the treatment of the Greek aorist tense (usually translated as the English past, "He did") and the Greek imperfect tense (normally rendered either as English past progressive, "He was doing"; or, if inceptive, as "He began to do" or "He started to do"; or else if customary past, as "He used to do"). "Began" is italicized if it renders an imperfect tense, in order to distinguish it from the Greek verb for "begin." In some contexts the difference between the Greek imperfect and the English past is conveyed better by the choice of vocabulary or by other words in the context, and in such cases the Greek imperfect may be rendered as a simple past tense (e.g. "had an illness for many years" would be preferable to "was having an illness for many years" and would be understood in the same way).

On the other hand, not all aorists have been rendered as English pasts ("He did"), for some of them are clearly to be rendered as English perfects ("He has done"), or even as past perfects ("He had done"), judging from the context in which they occur. Such aorists have been rendered as perfects or past perfects in this translation.

As for the distinction between aorist and present imperatives, the translators have usually rendered these imperatives in the customary manner, rather than attempting any such fine distinction as "Begin to do!" (for the aorist imperative), or, "Continually do!" (for the present imperative).

As for sequence of tenses, the translators took care to follow English rules rather than Greek in translating Greek presents, imperfects and aorists. Thus, where English says, "We knew that he was doing," Greek puts it, "We knew that he does"; similarly, "We knew that he had done" is the Greek, "We knew that he did." Likewise, the English, "When he had come, they met him," is represented in Greek by, "When he came, they met him." In all cases a consistent transfer has been made from the Greek tense in the subordinate clause to the appropriate tense in English.

In the rendering of negative questions introduced by the particle mē (which always expects the answer "No") the wording has been altered from a mere, "Will he not do this?" to a more accurate, "He will not do this, will he?"

Introduction

ABOUT THE ZONDERVAN NASB STUDY BIBLE

The Zondervan NASB Study Bible is the work of a transdenominational team of Biblical scholars. All confess the authority of the Bible as God's infallible word to humanity. They have sought to clarify understanding of, develop appreciation for, and provide insight into that word.

But why a study Bible when the text itself is clearly written? Surely there is no substitute for the reading of the text itself; nothing people write about God's word can be on a level with the word itself. Further, it is the Holy Spirit alone—not fallible human beings—who can open the human mind to the divine message.

However, the Spirit also uses people to explain God's word to others. It was the Spirit who led Philip to the Ethiopian eunuch's chariot, where he asked, "Do you understand what you are reading?" (Ac 8:30). "How could I," the Ethiopian replied, "unless someone guides me?" Philip then showed him how an Old Testament passage in Isaiah related to the good news of Jesus.

This interrelationship of the Scriptures—so essential to understanding the complete Biblical message—is a major theme of the notes in The Zondervan NASB Study Bible.

Doctrinally, The Zondervan NASB Study Bible reflects traditional evangelical theology. Where editors were aware of significant differences of opinion on key passages or doctrines, they tried to follow an evenhanded approach by indicating those differences (e.g., see note on Rev 20:2). In finding solutions to problems mentioned in the book introductions, they went only as far as evidence (Biblical and non-Biblical) could carry them.

The result is a study Bible that can be used profitably by all Christians who want to be serious Bible students.

FEATURES OF THE ZONDERVAN NASB STUDY BIBLE

The Zondervan NASB Study Bible features the text of the New American Standard Bible, study notes keyed to and listed with Bible verses, introductions and outlines to books of the Bible, text notes, a cross-reference system (tens of thousands of entries), parallel passages, a concordance (nearly 20,000 references), charts, maps, essays and comprehensive indexes.

The text of the NASB, which is presented in verse-by-verse format, is organized into sections with headings.

Study Notes

The outstanding feature of this study Bible is that it contains nearly 20,000 study notes located on the same pages as the verses and passages they explain.

The study notes provide new information to supplement that found in the NASB text notes. Among other things, they

1. explain important words and concepts (see note on Lev 11:44 about "holiness");
2. interpret "difficult verses" (see notes on Mal 1:3 and Luke 14:26 for the concept of "hating" your parents);
3. draw parallels between specific people and events (see note on Ex 32:30 for the parallels between Moses and Christ as mediators);
4. describe historical and textual contexts of passages (see note on 1 Cor 8:1 for the practice of eating meat sacrificed to idols); and
5. demonstrate how one passage sheds light on another (see note on Ps 26:8 for how the presence of God's glory marked his presence in the tabernacle, in the temple, and finally in Jesus Christ himself).

Some elements of style should be noted:

1. Study notes on a passage precede notes on individual verses within that passage.
2. When a book of the Bible is referred to within a note on that book, the book name is not repeated. For example, a reference to 2 Timothy 2:18 within the notes on 2 Timothy is written 2:18, not 2 Tim 2:18.
3. In lists of references within a note, references from the book under discussion are placed first. The rest appear in Biblical order.

Introductions to Books of the Bible

Each introduction to each book of the Bible is different. Introductions vary in length and reflect both the nature of the material itself and the strengths and interests of contributing editors.

An introduction frequently reports on a book's title, author, and date of writing. It details the book's background and purpose, explores themes and theological significance, and points out special problems and distinctive literary features. Where appropriate, such as in Paul's letters to the churches, it describes the original recipients of a book and the city in which they lived.

A complete outline of the book's content is provided in each introduction (except for the introduction to Psalms). For Genesis, two outlines—a literary and a thematic—are given. Pairs of books that were originally one literary work, such as 1 and 2 Samuel, 1 and 2 Kings, and 1 and 2 Chronicles, are outlined together.

Marginal Notes

The NASB translation's extensive text notes appear within the center-column reference system. They examine such things as alternate translations, meanings of Hebrew and Greek terms, Old Testament quotations and variant readings in ancient Biblical manuscripts.

Cross-Reference System

Marginal notes and cross references appear in the center column on each page of Scripture. They are listed under the verse numbers to which they refer. Superior numbers refer to literal renderings, alternate translations, or explanations. Superior letters refer to cross-references.

Genesis 1:1–2 provides a good example of the resources of this cross-reference system.

The three lists of references in 1:1 all relate to creation, but each takes a different perspective. Note a takes up the time of creation: "in the beginning," and directs the reader to four other instances where this time is discussed. Note b addresses God's activity in creation, as well as His preexistence and His wondrous power. Note c focuses on "the heavens and the earth" as God's creation, and leads the reader to other references that deal with the created physical world.

The Creation

1 [a]In the beginning [b]God [c]created the heavens and the earth.

2 The earth was [1][a]formless and void, and [b]darkness was over the [2]surface of the deep, and [c]the Spirit of God [d]was [3]moving over the [2]surface of the waters.

3 Then [a]God said, "Let there be light"; and there was light.

4 God saw that the light was [a]good; and God [b]separated the light from the darkness.

5 [a]God called the light day, and the dark-

1:1 [a]Ps 102:25; Is 40:21; John 1:1, 2; Heb 1:10 [b]Ps 89:11; 90:2; Acts 17:24; Rom 1:20; Heb 11:3 [c]Job 38:4; Is 42:5; 45:18; Rev 4:11
2 [1]Or a waste and emptiness [2]Lit face of [3]Or hovering [a]Jer 4:23 [b]Job 38:9 [c]Ps 104:30; Is 40:13, 14 [d]Deut 32:11; Is 31:5
3 [a]Ps 33:6, 9; 2 Cor 4:6

Genesis 1:2 provides an example of how the NASB marginal notes work in tandem with the cross references. Note that the superscript numbers refer to notes that can be found in the center column. These literal renderings, alternate translations or explanations always come first under the verse heading in the center column, despite their relative position in the note. The note's cross-references appear after the notes indicated by the superscript numbers.

Parallel Passages

Cross references that appear in italics denote parallel passages. Such parallel passages are especially common in Matthew, Mark, Luke and John, and in the historical books of Samuel, Kings and Chronicles.

Concordance

The concordance is designed as a quick-reference tool to enhance Bible study. By looking up key words, you can find verses for which you remember a word or two but not their location. For example, to find the verse that says, "Your word is a lamp to my feet And a light to my path," you could look in the concordance under either "word," "lamp," "light" or "path."

Maps

The Zondervan NASB Study Bible includes 59 maps: 13 full-color and 46 black-and-white. The 13 full-color maps at the end of this Bible cover nearly 4,000 years of history, from the patriarchs to Christianity in the world today.

Strategically placed throughout the text are almost four dozen black-and-white maps. The Contents: Maps page contains a complete list of the topics covered.

The cities of Jerusalem, Damascus, Rome, Corinth, Ephesus and Philippi have been reconstructed as they might have been in ancient times. These recreations allow Bible students to visualize David's city and, in the New Testament, the places through which Paul traveled on his missionary journeys.

Charts

Complementing the study notes are 35 charts, diagrams and drawings. Two full-color time lines, located in the front of this Bible, pinpoint significant dates in the Old and New Testaments. Other charts, carefully placed within the text, give detailed information about ancient, non-Biblical texts; about Old Testament covenants, sacrifices, and feast days; about Jewish sects; and about major archaeological finds relating to the New Testament.

Essays

Five brief essays provide additional information on specific sections of the Bible: Wisdom Literature, the Minor Prophets, the Synoptic Gospels, the Pastoral Letters, and the General Letters.

A sixth essay confronts the ethical question of war, and a seventh details the history, literature and social developments of the 400 years between the Old and New Testaments.

Subject, Notes and Map Indexes

The subject index contains references to key Biblical information and important topics. The notes index pinpoints other references to persons, places, events and topics mentioned in The Zondervan NASB Study Bible notes.

Two map indexes help in locating place-names on a map.

Harmony of the Gospels

As an additional study tool for the Gospels and the life of Christ, this Bible contains a portion of The NIV Harmony of the Gospels by Robert L. Thomas and Stanley N. Gundry.

The Zondervan NASB Study Bible is an adaptation of The NIV Study Bible. The following acknowledgments recognize the contributions of those individuals involved in the development of The NIV Study Bible.

My greatest debt of gratitude is owed to God for giving me the privilege of serving as General Editor of The NIV Study Bible. Special thanks go to the four Associate Editors: Donald W. Burdick, John H. Stek, Walter W. Wessel, and Ronald Youngblood. Without their help, it would have been impossible to complete this project in a little over seven years.

In addition, grateful acknowledgment is given to all those listed on the Contributors page. Obviously the editors and contributors have profited immensely from the labors of others. We feel deeply indebted to all the commentaries and other sources we have used in our work.

I should also thank the following individuals for rendering help in various ways (though I fear that I have inadvertently omitted a few names): Caroline Blauwkamp, David R. Douglass, Stanley N. Gundry, N. David Hill, Betty Hockenberry, Charles E. Hummel, Alan F. Johnson, Janet Johnston, Donald H. Madvig, Frances Steenwyk, and Edward Viening.

Nehemiah 8:7–8, 12 says:

> The Levites . . . instructed the people in the Law while the people were standing there. They read from the Book of the Law of God, making it clear and giving the meaning so that the people could understand what was being read. . . . Then all the people went away . . . to celebrate with great joy, because they now understood the words that had been made known to them.

My associates and I will feel amply rewarded if those who use this study Bible have an experience similar to that of God's people in Nehemiah's time.

Tribute to Edwin H. Palmer

Edwin H. Palmer, who had served so capably as Executive Secretary of the NIV Committee on Bible Translation and as coordinator of all translation work on the NIV, was appointed general editor of The NIV Study Bible by Zondervan Bible Publishers in 1979. On September 16, 1980, he departed this life to "be with Christ, which is better by far" (Philippians 1:23, NIV). Before his death, however, he had laid most of the plans for The NIV Study Bible, had recruited the majority of the contributors, and had done some editorial work on the first manuscripts submitted. We gratefully acknowledge his significant contributions to the earliest stages of this project.

Explanation of General Format

NOTES AND CROSS REFERENCES are placed in a column adjoining the text on the page and listed under verse numbers to which they refer. Superior numbers refer to literal renderings, alternate translations, or explanations. Superior letters refer to cross references. Cross references in italics are parallel passages.

PARAGRAPHS are designated by bold face verse numbers or letters.

QUOTATION MARKS are used in the text in accordance with modern English usage.

"THOU," "THEE" AND "THY" are not used in this edition and have been rendered as "YOU" and "YOUR."

PERSONAL PRONOUNS are capitalized when pertaining to Deity.

ITALICS are used in the text to indicate words which are not found in the original Hebrew, Aramaic, or Greek but implied by it. Italics are used in the marginal notes to signify alternate readings for the text. Roman text in the marginal alternate readings is the same as italics in the Bible text.

SMALL CAPS in the New Testament are used in the text to indicate Old Testament quotations or obvious references to Old Testament texts. Variations of Old Testament wording are found in New Testament citations depending on whether the New Testament writer translated from a Hebrew text, used existing Greek or Aramaic translations, or paraphrased the material. It should be noted that modern rules for the indication of direct quotation were not used in biblical times; thus, the ancient writer would use exact quotations or references to quotation without specific indication of such.

ASTERISKS are used to mark verbs that are historical presents in the Greek which have been translated with an English past tense in order to conform to modern usage. The translators recognized that in some contexts the present tense seems more unexpected and unjustified to the English reader than a past tense would have been. But Greek authors frequently used the present tense for the sake of heightened vividness, thereby transporting their readers in imagination to the actual scene at the time of occurrence. However, the translators felt that it would be wise to change these historical presents to English past tenses.

The Old Testament

Genesis

INTRODUCTION

Title

The first phrase in the Hebrew text of 1:1 is bereshith ("in [the] beginning"), which is also the Hebrew title of the book (books in ancient times customarily were named after their first word or two). The English title, Genesis, is Greek in origin and comes from the word geneseos, which appears in the Greek translation (Septuagint) of 2:4; 5:1. Depending on its context, the word can mean "birth," "genealogy," or "history of origin." In both its Hebrew and Greek forms, then, the title of Genesis appropriately describes its contents, since it is primarily a book of beginnings.

Background

Chs. 1—38 reflect a great deal of what we know from other sources about ancient Mesopotamian life and culture. Creation, genealogies, destructive floods, geography and mapmaking, construction techniques, migrations of peoples, sale and purchase of land, legal customs and procedures, sheepherding and cattle-raising—all these subjects and many others were matters of vital concern to the peoples of Mesopotamia during this time. They were also of interest to the individuals, families and tribes of whom we read in the first 38 chapters of Genesis. The author appears to locate Eden, man's first home, in or near Mesopotamia; the tower of Babel was built there; Abram was born there; Isaac took a wife from there; and Jacob lived there for 20 years. Although these patriarchs settled in Canaan, their original homeland was Mesopotamia.

The closest ancient literary parallels to Gen 1—38 also come from Mesopotamia. Enuma elish, the story of the god Marduk's rise to supremacy in the Babylonian pantheon, is similar in some respects (though thoroughly mythical and polytheistic) to the Gen 1 creation account. Some of the features of certain king lists from Sumer bear striking resemblance to the genealogy in Gen 5. The 11th tablet of the Gilgamesh epic is quite similar in outline to the flood narrative in Gen 6—8. Several of the major events of Gen 1—8 are narrated in the same order as similar events in the Atrahasis epic. In fact, the latter features the same basic motif of creation-rebellion-flood as the Biblical account. Clay tablets found recently at the ancient (c. 2500–2300 B.C.) site of Ebla (modern Tell Mardikh) in northern Syria may also contain some intriguing parallels (see chart, p. xix).

Two other important sets of documents demonstrate the reflection of Mesopotamia in the first 38 chapters of Genesis. From the Mari letters (see chart, p. xix), dating from the patriarchal period, we learn that the names of the patriarchs (including especially Abram, Jacob and Job) were typical of that time. The letters also clearly illustrate the freedom of travel that was possible between various parts of the Amorite world in which the patriarchs lived. The Nuzi tablets (see chart, p. xix), though a few centuries later than the patriarchal period, shed light on patriarchal customs, which tended to survive virtually intact for many centuries. The inheritance right of an adopted household member or slave (see 15:1–4), the obligation of a barren wife to furnish her husband with sons through a servant girl (see 16:2–4), strictures against expelling such a servant girl and her son (see 21:10–11), the authority of oral statements in ancient Near Eastern law, such as the deathbed bequest (see 27:1–4,22–23,33)—these and other legal customs, social contracts and provisions are graphically illustrated in Mesopotamian documents.

As Gen 1—38 is Mesopotamian in character and background, so chs. 39—50 reflect Egyptian influence—though in not quite so direct a way. Examples of such influence are: Egyptian grape cultivation (40:9–11), the riverside scene (ch. 41), Egypt as Canaan's breadbasket (ch. 42), Canaan as the source of numerous products for Egyptian consumption (ch. 43), Egyptian religious and social customs (the end of chs. 43; 46), Egyptian administrative procedures (ch. 47), Egyptian funerary practices (ch. 50) and several Egyptian words and names used throughout these chapters. The closest specific literary parallel from Egypt is the Tale of Two Broth- ers, which bears some resemblance to the story of Joseph and Potiphar's wife (ch. 39). Egyptian autobiographical narratives (such as the Story of Sinuhe and the Report of Wenamun) and certain historical legends offer more general literary parallels.

Author and Date of Writing

Historically, Jews and Christians alike have held that Moses was the author/compiler of the first five books of the OT. These books, known also as the Pentateuch (meaning "five-volumed book"), were referred to in Jewish tradition as the five fifths of the law (of Moses). The Bible itself suggests Mosaic authorship of Genesis, since Ac 15:1 refers to circumcision as "the custom of Moses," an allusion to Gen 17. However, a certain amount of later editorial updating does appear to be indicated (see, e.g., notes on 14:14; 36:31; 47:11).

The historical period during which Moses lived seems to be fixed with a fair degree of accuracy by 1 Kings. We are told that "the fourth year of Solomon's reign over Israel" was the same as "the four hundred and eightieth year after the sons of Israel came out of the land of Egypt" (1Ki 6:1). Since the former was c. 966 B.C., the latter — and thus the date of the exodus — was c. 1446 (assuming that the 480 in 1Ki 6:1 is to be taken literally; see Introduction to Judges: Background). The 40-year period of Israel's wanderings in the desert, which lasted from c. 1446 to c. 1406, would have been the most likely time for Moses to write the bulk of what is today known as the Pentateuch.

During the last three centuries many scholars have claimed to find in the Pentateuch four underlying sources. The presumed documents, allegedly dating from the tenth to the fifth centuries B.C., are called J (for Jahweh/Yahweh, the personal OT name for God), E (for Elohim, a generic name for God), D (for Deuteronomic) and P (for Priestly). Each of these documents is claimed to have its own characteristics and its own theology, which often contradicts that of the other documents. The Pentateuch is thus depicted as a patchwork of stories, poems and laws. However, this view is not supported by conclusive evidence, and intensive archaeological and literary research has tended to undercut many of the arguments used to challenge Mosaic authorship.

Theme and Message

Genesis speaks of beginnings — of the heavens and the earth, of light and darkness, of seas and skies, of land and vegetation, of sun and moon and stars, of sea and air and land animals, of human beings (made in God's own image, the climax of His creative activity), of sin and redemption, of blessing and cursing, of society and civilization, of marriage and family, of art and craft and industry. The list could go on and on. A key word in Genesis is the Hebrew word for "account," or "records," which also serves to divide the book into its ten major parts (see Literary Features and Literary Outline) and which includes such concepts as birth, genealogy and history.

The book of Genesis is foundational to the understanding of the rest of the Bible. Its message is rich and complex, and listing its main elements gives a succinct outline of the Biblical message as a whole. It is supremely a book of relationships, highlighting those between God and nature, God and man, and man and man. It is thoroughly monotheistic, taking for granted that there is only one God worthy of the name and opposing the ideas that there are many gods (polytheism), that there is no god at all (atheism) and that everything is divine (pantheism). It clearly teaches that the one true God is sovereign over all that exists (i.e., His entire creation), and that by divine election He often exercises His unlimited freedom to overturn human customs, traditions and plans. It introduces us to the way in which God initiates and makes covenants with His chosen people, pledging His love and faithfulness to them and calling them to promise theirs to Him. It establishes sacrifice as the substitution of life for life (ch. 22). It gives us the first hint of God's provision for redemption from the forces of evil (compare 3:15 with Ro 16:17–20) and contains the oldest and most profound definition of faith (15:6). More than half of Heb 11 — the NT roll of the faithful — refers to characters in Genesis.

Literary Features

The message of a book is often enhanced by its literary structure and characteristics. Genesis is divided into ten main sections, most of which begin with the Hebrew word for "account" or "generations" (see 2:4 [account]; 5:1 [generations]; 6:9; 10:1; 11:10; 11:27; 25:12; 25:19; 36:1 — repeated for emphasis at 36:9 — and 37:2). The first five sections can be grouped together and, along with the introduction to the book as a whole (1:1 — 2:3), can be appropriately called "primeval history" (1:1 — 11:26), sketching the period from Adam to Abraham. The last five sections constitute a much longer (but equally unified) account, and relate the story of God's dealings with Abraham, Isaac, Jacob and Joseph and their families — a section often called "patriarchal history" (11:27 — 50:26). This section is in turn composed of three narrative cycles (Abraham-Isaac, 11:27 — 25:11; Isaac-Jacob, 25:19 — 35:29; 37:1; Jacob-Joseph, 37:2 — 50:26), interspersed by the genealogies of Ishmael (25:12 – 18) and Esau (ch. 36).

The narrative frequently concentrates on the life of a later son in preference to the firstborn: Seth over Cain, Isaac over Ishmael, Jacob over Esau, Judah and Joseph over their brothers, and Ephraim over Manasseh. Such emphasis on divinely chosen men and their families is perhaps the most obvious literary and theological characteristic of the book of Genesis as a whole. It strikingly underscores the fact that the people of God are not the product of natural human developments, but are the result of God's sovereign and gracious intrusion in human history. He brings out of the fallen human race a new humanity consecrated to Himself, called and destined to be the people of His kingdom and the channel of His blessing to the whole earth.

Numbers with symbolic significance figure prominently in Genesis. The number ten, in addition to being the number of sections into which Genesis is divided, is also the number of names appearing in the genealogies of chs. 5 and 11 (see note on 5:5). The number seven also occurs frequently. The Hebrew text of 1:1 consists of exactly seven words and that of 1:2 of exactly 14 (twice seven). There are seven days of creation, seven names in the genealogy of ch. 4 (see note on 4:17 – 18; see also 4:15,24; 5:31), various sevens in the flood story, 70 descendants of Noah's sons (ch. 10), a sevenfold promise to Abram (12:2 – 3), seven years of abundance and then seven of famine in Egypt (ch. 41), and 70 descendants of Jacob (ch. 46). Other significant numbers, such as 12 and 40, are used with similar frequency.

The book of Genesis is basically prose narrative, punctuated here and there by brief poems (the longest is the so-called Blessing of Jacob in 49:2 – 27). Much of the prose has a lyrical quality and uses the full range of figures of speech and other devices that characterize the world's finest epic literature. Vertical and horizontal parallelism between the two sets of three days in the creation account (see note on 1:11); the ebb and flow of sin and judgment in ch. 3 (the serpent and woman and man sin successively; then God questions them in reverse order; then he judges them in the original order); the powerful monotony of "and he died" at the end of paragraphs in ch. 5; the climactic hinge effect of the phrase "But God remembered Noah" (8:1) at the midpoint of the flood story; the hourglass structure of the account of the tower of Babel in 11:1 – 9 (narrative in vv. 1 – 2,8 – 9; discourse in vv. 3 – 4,6 – 7; v. 5 acting as transition); the macabre pun in 40:19 (see 40:13); the alternation between brief accounts about firstborn sons and lengthy accounts about younger sons — these and numerous other literary devices add interest to the narrative and provide interpretive signals to which the reader should pay close attention.

It is no coincidence that many of the subjects and themes of the first three chapters of Genesis are reflected in the last three chapters of Revelation. We can only marvel at the superintending influence of the Lord Himself, who assures us that "all Scripture is inspired by God" (2 Tim 3:16) and that men "moved by the Holy Spirit spoke from God" (2 Pet 1:21).

The Creation

1 [a]In the beginning [b]God [c]created the heavens and the earth.

2 The earth was [1][a]formless and void, and [b]darkness was over the [2]surface of the deep, and [c]the Spirit of God [d]was [3]moving over the [2]surface of the waters.

3 Then [a]God said, "Let there be light"; and there was light.

4 God saw that the light was [a]good; and God [b]separated the light from the darkness.

5 [a]God called the light day, and the darkness He called night. And [b]there was evening and there was morning, one day.

6 Then God said, "Let there be [1]an [a]expanse in the midst of the waters, and let it separate the waters from the waters."

7 God made the [1]expanse, and separated [a]the waters which were below the [1]expanse from the waters [b]which were above the [1]expanse; and it was so.

8 God called the [1]expanse heaven. And there was evening and there was morning, a second day.

10 God called the dry land earth, and the [a]gathering of the waters He called seas; and God saw that it was good.

11 Then God said, "Let the earth sprout [1][a]vegetation: [2]plants yielding seed, and fruit trees on the earth bearing fruit after [3]their kind [4]with seed in them"; and it was so.

12 The earth brought forth [1]vegetation, [2]plants yielding seed after [3]their kind, and trees bearing fruit [4]with seed in them, after [3]their kind; and God saw that it was good.

13 There was evening and there was morning, a third day.

14 Then God said, "Let there be [1][a]lights in the [2][b]expanse of the heavens to separate the day from the night, and let them be for [c]signs and for [d]seasons and for days and years;

1:1 A summary statement introducing the six days of creative activity. The truth of this majestic verse was joyfully affirmed by poet (Ps 102:25) and prophet (Is 40:21). In the beginning God. The Bible always assumes, and never argues, God's existence. Although everything else had a beginning, God has always been (Ps 90:2). In the beginning. John 1:1–10, which stresses the work of Christ in creation, opens with the same phrase. God created. The Hebrew noun Elohim is plural but the verb is singular, a normal usage in the OT when reference is to the one true God. This use of the plural expresses intensification rather than number and has been called the plural of majesty, or of potentiality. In the OT the Hebrew verb for "create" is used only of divine, never of human, activity. the heavens and the earth. "All things" (Is 44:24). That God created everything is also taught in Ecc l 11:5; Jer 10:16; John 1:3; Col 1:16; Heb 1:2. The positive, life-oriented teaching of v. 1 is beautifully summarized in Is 45:18.

1:2 earth. The focus of this account. formless and void. The phrase, which appears elsewhere only in Jer 4:23, gives structure to the rest of the chapter (see note on v. 11). God's "separating" and "gathering" on days 1–3 gave form, and His "making" and "filling" on days 4–6 removed the void. darkness . . . the waters. Completes the picture of a world awaiting God's light-giving, order-making and life-creating word. and. Or "but." The awesome (and, for ancient man, fearful) picture of the original state of the visible creation is relieved by the majestic announcement that the mighty Spirit of God hovers over creation. The announcement anticipates God's creative words that follow. Spirit of God. He was active in creation, and His creative power continues today (see Job 33:4; Ps 104:30). moving over. Like a bird that provides for and protects its young (see Deut 32:11; Is 31:5). The imagery may also suggest the winged sun disk, which throughout the ancient Near East was a symbol of divine majesty.

1:3 God said. Merely by speaking, God brought all things into being (Ps 33:6,9; 148:5; Heb 11:3). Let there be light. God's first creative word called forth light in the midst of the primeval darkness. Light is necessary for making God's creative works visible and life possible. In the OT it is also symbolic of life and blessing (see 2 Sam 22:29; Job 3:20; 30:26; 33:30; Ps 49:19; 56:13; 97:11; 112:4; Is 53:11; 58:8,10; 59:9; 60:1,3). Paul uses this word to illustrate God's re-creating work in sin-darkened hearts (2 Cor 4:6).

1:4 Everything God created is good (see vv. 10,12,18,21,25); in fact, the conclusion declares it to be "very good" (v. 31). The creation, as fashioned and ordered by God, had no lingering traces of disorder and no dark and threatening forces arrayed against God or man. Even darkness and the deep were given benevolent functions in a world fashioned to bless and sustain life (see Ps 104:19–26; 127:2).

1:5 called. See vv. 8,10. In ancient times, to name something or someone implied having dominion or ownership (see 17:5,15; 41:45; 2 Kin 23:34; 24:17; Dan 1:7). Both day and night belong to the Lord (Ps 74:16). one day. Some say that the creation days were 24-hour days, others that they were indefinite periods.

1:6 expanse. The atmosphere, or "heaven" (v. 8), as seen from the earth. "Strong as a molten mirror" (Job 37:18) and "like a curtain" (Is 40:22) are among the many pictorial phrases used to describe it.

1:7 and it was so. The only possible outcome, whether stated (vv. 9,11,15,24,30) or implied, to God's "Let there be."

1:9 one place. A picturesque way of referring to the "seas" (v. 10) that surround the dry ground on all sides and into which the waters of the lakes and rivers flow. The earth was "formed out of water" (2 Pet 3:5) and "founded . . . upon the seas" (Ps 24:2), and the waters are not to cross the boundaries set for them (Ps 104:7–9; Jer 5:22).

1:11 God said. This phrase is used twice on the third day (vv. 9,11) and three times (vv. 24,26,29) on the sixth day. These two days are climactic, as the following structure of ch. 1 reveals (see note on v. 2 regarding "formless and void"):

Days of forming	Days of filling
1. "light" (v. 3)	4. "lights" (v. 14)
2. "waters below the expanse . . . waters above the expanse" (v. 7)	5. "every living creature that moves, with which the waters swarmed . . . every winged bird" (v. 21)
3a. "dry land" (v. 9)	$6a_1$. "cattle and creeping things and beasts of the earth" (v. 24)
	$6a_2$. "man" (v. 26)
b. "vegetation" (v. 11)	b. "every green plant for food" (v. 30)

Both the horizontal and vertical relationships between the days demonstrate the literary beauty of the chapter and stress the orderliness and symmetry of God's creative activity. kind. See vv. 12,21,24–25. Both creation and reproduction are orderly.

1:14 be for signs. In the ways mentioned here, not in any astrological or other such sense.

15 and let them be for [1]lights in the [2]expanse of the heavens to give light on the earth"; and it was so.

16 God made the two [1]great lights, the [a]greater [2]light [3]to govern the day, and the lesser [2]light [3]to govern the night; He made [b]the stars also.

17 [a]God placed them in the [1]expanse of the heavens to give light on the earth,

18 and [1]to [a]govern the day and the night, and to separate the light from the darkness; and God saw that it was good.

19 There was evening and there was morning, a fourth day.

20 Then God said, "Let the waters [1]teem with swarms of living creatures, and let birds fly above the earth [2]in the open [3]expanse of the heavens."

21 God created [a]the great sea monsters and every living creature that moves, with which the waters swarmed after their kind, and every winged bird after its kind; and God saw that it was good.

22 God blessed them, saying, "Be fruitful and multiply, and fill the waters in the seas, and let birds multiply on the earth."

23 There was evening and there was morning, a fifth day.

24 [a]Then God said, "Let the earth bring forth living creatures after [1]their kind: cattle and creeping things and beasts of the earth after [1]their kind"; and it was so.

25 God made the [a]beasts of the earth after [1]their kind, and the cattle after [1]their kind, and everything that creeps on the ground after its kind; and God saw that it was good.

26 Then God said, "Let [a]Us make [b]man in Our image, according to Our likeness; and let them [c]rule over the fish of the sea and over the birds of the [1]sky and over the cattle and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creeps on the earth."

27 God created man [a]in His own image, in the image of God He created him; [b]male and female He created them.

28 God blessed them; and God said to them, "[a]Be fruitful and multiply, and fill the earth, and subdue it; and rule over the fish of the sea and over the birds of the [1]sky and over every living thing that [2]moves on the earth."

29 Then God said, "Behold, [a]I have given you every plant yielding seed that is on the [1]surface of all the earth, and every tree [2]which has fruit yielding seed; it shall be food for you;

30 and [a]to every beast of the earth and to every bird of the [1]sky and to every thing that [2]moves on the earth [3]which has life, I have given every green plant for food"; and it was so.

31 God saw all that He had made, and behold, it was very [a]good. And there was evening and there was morning, the sixth day.

1:16 two great lights. The words "sun" and "moon" seem to be avoided deliberately here, since both were used as proper names for the pagan deities associated with these heavenly bodies. They are light-givers to be appreciated, not powers to be feared, because the one true God made them (see Is 40:26). Perhaps because of the emphasis on the greater light and lesser light, the stars seem to be mentioned almost as an afterthought. But Ps 136:9 indicates that the stars help the moon "rule by night." to govern. The great Creator-King assigns subordinate regulating roles to certain of His creatures (see vv. 26,28).

1:17–18 The three main functions of the heavenly bodies.

1:21 sea monsters. The Hebrew word underlying this phrase was used in Canaanite mythology to name a dreaded sea monster. He is often referred to figuratively in OT poetry as one of God's most powerful opponents. He is pictured as national (Babylon, Jer 51:34; Egypt, Is 51:9; Ezek 29:3; 32:2) or cosmic (Job 7:12; Ps 74:13; Is 27:1, though some take the latter as a reference to Egypt). In Genesis, however, the creatures of the sea are portrayed not as enemies to be feared but as part of God's good creation to be appreciated. winged bird. The term denotes anything that flies, including insects (see Deut 14:19–20).

1:22 Be fruitful and multiply. God's benediction on living things that inhabit the water and that fly in the air. By His blessing they flourish and fill both realms with life (see note on v. 28). God's rule over His created realm promotes and blesses life.

1:26 Us . . . Our . . . Our. God speaks as the Creator-King, announcing His crowning work to the members of His heavenly court (see 3:22; 11:7; Is 6:8; see also 1 Kin 22:19–23; Job 15:8; Jer 23:18). image . . . likeness. No distinction should be made between "image" and "likeness," which are synonyms in both the OT (5:1; 9:6) and the NT (1 Cor 11:7; Col 3:10; James 3:9). Since man is made in God's image, every human being is worthy of honor and respect; he is neither to be murdered (9:6) nor cursed (James 3:9). "Image" includes such characteristics as "righteousness and holiness" (Eph 4:24) and "knowledge" (Col 3:10). Believers are to be "conformed to the image" of Christ (Rom 8:29) and will someday be "like Him" (1 John 3:2). rule. Man is the climax of God's creative activity, and God has crowned him "with glory and majesty" and made him "to rule" over the rest of His creation (Ps 8:5–8). Since man was created in the image of the divine King, delegated sovereignty (kingship) was bestowed on him. (For redeemed man's ultimate kingship see notes on Heb 2:5–9.)

1:27 This highly significant verse is the first occurrence of poetry in the OT (which is about 40 percent poetry). created. The word is used here three times to describe the central divine act of the sixth day (see note on v. 1). male and female. Alike they bear the image of God, and together they share in the divine benediction that follows.

1:28 God blessed them . . . fill . . . subdue . . . rule. Man goes forth under this divine benediction—flourishing, filling the earth with his kind, and exercising dominion over the other earthly creatures (see v. 26; 2:15; Ps 8:6–8). Human culture, accordingly, is not anti-God (though fallen man often has turned his efforts into proud rebellion against God). Rather, it is the expression of man's bearing the image of his Creator and sharing, as God's servant, in God's kingly rule. As God's representative in the creaturely realm, he is steward of God's creatures. He is not to exploit, waste or despoil them, but to care for them and use them in the service of God and man.

1:29–30 People and animals seem to be portrayed as originally vegetarian (see 9:3).

1:31 very good. See note on v. 4. the sixth day. Perhaps to stress the finality and importance of this day, in the Hebrew text the definite article is first used here in regard to the creation days.

The Creation of Man and Woman

2 Thus the heavens and the earth were completed, and all [a]their hosts.

2 By [a]the seventh day God completed His work which He had done, and [b]He rested on the seventh day from all His work which He had done.

3 Then God blessed the seventh day and sanctified it, because in it He rested from all His work which God had created [1]and made.

4 [1][a]This is the account of the heavens and the earth when they were created, in [b]the day that the LORD God made earth and heaven.

5 [a]Now no shrub of the field was yet in the earth, and no plant of the field had yet sprouted, [b]for the LORD God had not sent rain upon the earth, and there was no man to [1]cultivate the ground.

6 But a [1]mist used to rise from the earth and water the whole [2]surface of the ground.

7 Then the LORD God formed man of [a]dust from the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and [b]man became a living [1]being.

8 The LORD God planted a [a]garden toward the east, in Eden; and there He placed the man whom He had formed.

9 Out of the ground the LORD God caused to grow [a]every tree that is pleasing to the sight and good for food; [b]the tree of life also in the midst of the garden, and the tree of the knowledge of good and evil.

10 Now a [a]river [1]flowed out of Eden to water the garden; and from there it divided and became four [2]rivers.

11 The name of the first is Pishon; it [1]flows around the whole land of [a]Havilah, where there is gold.

12 The gold of that land is good; the bdellium and the onyx stone are there.

13 The name of the second river is Gihon; it [1]flows around the whole land of Cush.

14 The name of the third river is [1][a]Tigris; it [2]flows east of Assyria. And the fourth river is the [3][b]Euphrates.

15 Then the LORD God took the man and put him into the garden of Eden to cultivate it and keep it.

16 The LORD God [a]commanded the man, saying, "From any tree of the garden you may eat freely;

2:2 completed . . . rested. God ceased on the seventh day, not because He was weary, but because nothing formless or empty remained. His creative work was completed—and it was totally effective, absolutely perfect, "very good" (1:31). It did not have to be repeated, repaired or revised, and the Creator rested to commemorate it.

2:3 God blessed the seventh day and sanctified it . . . rested. Although the word "Sabbath" is not used here, the Hebrew verb translated "rested" (see v. 2) is the origin of the noun "Sabbath." Ex 20:11 quotes the first half of v. 3, but substitutes "Sabbath" for "seventh," clearly equating the two. The first record of obligatory Sabbath observance is of Israel on her way from Egypt to Sinai (Ex 16), and according to Neh 9:13–14 the Sabbath was not an official covenant obligation until the giving of the law at Mount Sinai.

2:4 account. The Hebrew word for "account" or "generations" occurs ten times in Genesis—at the beginning of each main section (see Introduction: Literary Features). the heavens and the earth. See note on 1:1. The phrase "the account of the heavens and the earth" introduces the record of what happened to God's creation. The blight of sin and rebellion brought a threefold curse that darkens the story of Adam and Eve in God's good and beautiful garden: (1) on Satan (3:14); (2) on the ground, because of man (3:17); and (3) on Cain (4:11). 1:1–2:3 is a general account of creation, while 2:4–4:26 focuses on the beginning of human history. LORD God. "LORD" (Hebrew YHWH, "Yahweh") is the personal and covenant name of God (see note on Ex 3:15), emphasizing His role as Israel's Redeemer and covenant Lord (see note on Ex 6:6), while "God" (Hebrew Elohim) is a general term. Both names occur thousands of times in the OT, and often, as here, they appear together—clearly indicating that they refer to the same one and only God.

2:7 formed. The Hebrew for this verb commonly referred to the work of a potter (see Is 45:9; Jer 18:6), who fashions vessels from clay (see Job 33:6). "Make" (1:26), "created" (1:27) and "form" are used to describe God's creation of both man and animals (v. 19; 1:21,25). man. The Hebrew for "man" (adam) sounds like and may be related to the Hebrew for "ground" (adamah); it is also the name Adam (see 2:20). breath of life. Humans and animals alike have the breath of life in them (see 1:30; Job 33:4). man became a living being. The Hebrew phrase here translated "living being" is translated "living creatures" in 1:20,24. The words of 2:7 therefore imply that people, at least physically, have affinity with the animals. The great difference is that man is made "in the image of God" (1:27) and has an absolutely unique relation both to God as His servant and to the other creatures as their divinely appointed steward (Ps 8:5–8).

2:8 toward the east. From the standpoint of the author of Genesis. The garden was perhaps near where the Tigris and Euphrates rivers (see v. 14) meet, in what is today southern Iraq. Eden. A name synonymous with "paradise" and related to either (1) a Hebrew word meaning "bliss" or "delight" or (2) a Mesopotamian word meaning "a plain." Perhaps the author subtly suggests both.

2:9 tree of life. Signifying and giving life, without death, to those who eat its fruit (see 3:22; Rev 2:7; 22:2,14). tree of the knowledge of good and evil. Signifying and giving knowledge of good and evil, leading ultimately to death, to those who eat its fruit (v. 17; 3:3). "Knowledge of good and evil" refers to moral knowledge or ethical discernment (see Deut 1:39; Is 7:15–16). Adam and Eve possessed both life and moral discernment as they came from the hand of God. Their access to the fruit of the tree of life showed that God's will and intention for them was life. Ancient pagans believed that the gods intended for man always to be mortal. In eating the fruit of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, Adam and Eve sought a creaturely source of discernment in order to be morally independent of God.

2:11 Pishon. Location unknown. The Hebrew word may be a common noun meaning "gusher." Havilah. Location unknown; perhaps mentioned again in 10:29. It is probably to be distinguished from the Havilah of 10:7, which was in Egypt.

2:13 Gihon. Location unknown. The Hebrew word may be a common noun meaning "spurter." Both the Pishon and the Gihon may have been streams in Lower Mesopotamia near the Persian Gulf. The names were those current when Moses wrote.

2:14 Assyria. Lit. "Asshur," an ancient capital city of Assyria ("Assyria" and "Asshur" are related words). Euphrates. Often called simply "the River" (1 Kin 4:21,24) because of its size and importance.

2:15 cultivate . . . keep. See note on 1:28. Man is now charged to govern the earth responsibly under God's sovereignty.

2:16 any tree. Including the tree of life (v. 9).

17 but from the tree of the knowledge of good and evil you shall not [1]eat, for in the day that you eat from it [a]you will surely die."
18 Then the LORD God said, "It is not good for the man to be alone; [a]I will make him a helper [1]suitable for him."
19 [a]Out of the ground the LORD God formed every beast of the field and every bird of the [1]sky, and [b]brought them to the man to see what he would call them; and whatever the man called a living creature, that was its name.
20 The man gave names to all the cattle, and to the birds of the [1]sky, and to every beast of the field, but for [2]Adam there was not found [a]a helper [3]suitable for him.
21 So the LORD God caused a [a]deep sleep to fall upon the man, and he slept; then He took one of his ribs and closed up the flesh at that place.
22 The LORD God [1]fashioned into a woman [a]the rib which He had taken from the man, and brought her to the man.
23 The man said,
"[a]This is now bone of my bones,
And flesh of my flesh;
[1]She shall be called [2]Woman,
Because [1]she was taken out of [3]Man."
24 [a]For this reason a man shall leave his father and his mother, and be joined to his wife; and they shall become one flesh.
25 [a]And the man and his wife were both naked and were not ashamed.

The Fall of Man

3 Now [a]the serpent was more crafty than any beast of the field which the LORD God had made. And he said to the woman,

"Indeed, has God said, 'You shall not eat from [1]any tree of the garden'?"
2 The woman said to the serpent, "[a]From the fruit of the trees of the garden we may eat;
3 but from the fruit of the tree which is in the middle of the garden, God has said, 'You shall not eat from it or touch it, or you will die.' "
4 [a]The serpent said to the woman, "You surely will not die!
5 "For God knows that in the day you eat from it your eyes will be opened, and [a]you will be like God, knowing good and evil."
6 [a]When the woman saw that the tree was good for food, and that it was a delight to the eyes, and that the tree was desirable to make one wise, she took from its fruit and ate; and she gave also to her husband with her, and he ate.
7 Then the eyes of both of them were opened, and they [a]knew that they were naked; and they sewed fig leaves together and made themselves [1]loin coverings.
8 They heard the sound of [a]the LORD God walking in the garden in the [1]cool of the day, [b]and the man and his wife hid themselves from the presence of the LORD God among the trees of the garden.
9 Then the LORD God called to the man, and said to him, "[a]Where are you?"
10 He said, "[a]I heard the sound of You in the garden, and I was afraid because I was naked; so I hid myself."
11 And He said, "Who told you that you were naked? Have you eaten from the tree of which I commanded you not to eat?"
12 [a]The man said, "The woman whom

2:17 surely die. Despite the serpent's denial (3:4), disobeying God ultimately results in death.
2:18–25 The only full account of the creation of woman in ancient Near Eastern literature.
2:18 not good . . . to be alone. Without female companionship and a partner in reproduction, the man could not fully realize his humanity.
2:19 call them. His first act of dominion over the creatures around him (see note on 1:5).
2:24 leave his father and his mother. Instead of remaining under the protective custody of his parents a man leaves them and, with his wife, establishes a new family unit. joined . . . one flesh. The divine intention for husband and wife was monogamy. Together they were to form an inseparable union, of which "one flesh" is both a sign and an expression.
2:25 naked . . . not ashamed. Freedom from shame, signifying moral innocence, would soon be lost as a result of sin (see 3:7).
3:1 serpent. The great deceiver clothed himself as a serpent, one of God's good creatures. He insinuated a falsehood and portrayed rebellion as clever, but essentially innocent, self-interest. Therefore "the devil, or Satan," is later referred to as "the serpent of old" (Rev 12:9; 20:2). crafty. The Hebrew words for "crafty" and "naked" are almost identical. Though naked, the man and his wife felt no shame (2:25). The craftiness of the serpent led them to sin, and they then became ashamed of their nakedness (see v. 7). Indeed, has God said . . . ? The question and the response changed the course of human history. By causing the woman to doubt God's word, Satan brought evil into the world. Here the deceiver undertook to alienate man from God. In Job 1–2 he, as the accuser, acted to alienate God from man (see also Zech 3:1).
3:3 You shall not . . . touch it. The woman adds to God's word, distorting His directive and demonstrating that the serpent's subtle challenge was working its poison.
3:4 You surely will not die! The blatant denial of a specific divine pronouncement (see 2:17).
3:5 God knows. Satan accuses God of having unworthy motives. In Job 1:9–11; 2:4–5 he accuses the righteous man of the same. your eyes will be opened, and you will be like God. The statement is only half true. Their eyes were opened, to be sure (see v. 7), but the result was quite different from what the serpent had promised. knowing good and evil. See note on 2:9.
3:6 good for food . . . a delight to the eyes . . . desirable to make one wise. Three aspects of temptation. Cf. 1 John 2:16; Luke 4:3,5,9.
3:7 they knew that they were naked. No longer innocent like children, they had a new awareness of themselves and of each other in their nakedness and shame. they . . . made . . . coverings. Their own feeble and futile attempt to hide their shame, which only God could cover (see note on v. 21).
3:8 the garden. Once a place of joy and fellowship with God, it became a place of fear and of hiding from God.
3:9 Where are you? A rhetorical question (see 4:9).
3:12 The woman whom You gave . . . gave me. The man blames God and the woman—anyone but himself—for his sin.

You gave to be with me, she gave me from the tree, and I ate."

13 Then the LORD God said to the woman, "What is this you have done?" And the woman said, "[a]The serpent deceived me, and I ate."

14 The LORD God said to the serpent,
"[a]Because you have done this,
Cursed are you more than all cattle,
And more than every beast of the field;
On your belly you will go,
And [b]dust you will eat
All the days of your life;
15 And I will put [a]enmity
Between you and the woman,
And between your seed and her seed;
[b]He shall [1]bruise you on the head,
And you shall bruise him on the heel."
16 To the woman He said,
"I will greatly multiply
Your pain [1]in childbirth,
In pain you will [a]bring forth children;
Yet your desire will be for your husband,
And [b]he will rule over you."
17 Then to Adam He said, "Because you have listened to the voice of your wife, and have eaten from the tree about which I commanded you, saying, 'You shall not eat from it';
[a]Cursed is the ground because of you;
[b]In [1]toil you will eat of it
All the days of your life.
18 "Both thorns and thistles it shall grow for you;
And you will eat the [1]plants of the field;
19 By the sweat of your face
You will eat bread,
Till you [a]return to the ground,
Because [b]from it you were taken;
For you are dust,
And to dust you shall return."

20 Now the man called his wife's name [1][a]Eve, because she was the mother of all the living.

21 The LORD God made garments of skin for Adam and his wife, and clothed them.

22 Then the LORD God said, "Behold, the man has become like one of [a]Us, knowing good and evil; and now, he might stretch out his hand, and take also from [b]the tree of life, and eat, and live forever"—

23 therefore the LORD God sent him out from the garden of Eden, to cultivate the ground from which he was taken.

24 So [a]He drove the man out; and at the [b]east of the garden of Eden He stationed the [c]cherubim and the flaming sword which turned every direction to guard the way to [d]the tree of life.

Cain and Abel

4 Now the man [1]had relations with his wife Eve, and she conceived and gave birth to [2]Cain, and she said, "I have gotten a [3]manchild with the help of the LORD."

2 Again, she gave birth to his brother Abel. And [a]Abel was [b]a keeper of flocks, but Cain was a tiller of the ground.

3 So it came about [1]in the course of time that Cain brought an offering to the LORD of the fruit of the ground.

4 [a]Abel, on his part also brought of the firstlings of his flock and of their fat portions. And [b]the LORD had regard for Abel and for his offering;

3:13 The serpent deceived me. The woman blames the serpent rather than herself.

3:14 Cursed. The serpent, the woman and the man were all judged, but only the serpent and the ground were cursed—the latter because of Adam (v. 17). dust. The symbol of death itself (v. 19) would be the serpent's food.

3:15 He shall bruise you on the head, And you shall bruise him on the heel. The antagonism between people and snakes is used to symbolize the outcome of the titanic struggle between God and the evil one, a struggle played out in the hearts and history of mankind. The offspring of the woman would eventually crush the serpent's head, a promise fulfilled in Christ's victory over Satan—a victory in which all believers will share (see Rom 16:20).

3:16 pain in childbirth. Her judgment fell on what was most uniquely hers as a woman and as a "helper suitable" (2:20) for her husband. Similarly, the man's "toil" (v. 17) was a judgment on him as worker of the soil. Some believe that the Hebrew root underlying "pain" and "toil" should here be understood in the sense of burdensome labor (see Prov 5:10, "hard-earned"; 14:23, "labor"). bring forth children. As a sign of grace in the midst of judgment, the human race would continue. desire . . . rule. Her sexual attraction for the man, and his headship over her, will become intimate aspects of her life in which she experiences trouble and anguish rather than unalloyed joy and blessing.

3:17–19 you will eat. Though he would have to work hard and long (judgment), the man would be able to produce food that would sustain life (grace).

3:19 return to the ground . . . to dust you shall return. Man's labor would not be able to stave off death. The origin of his body (see 2:7) and the source of his food (see v. 17) became a symbol of his eventual death.

3:21 clothed them. God graciously provided Adam and Eve with more effective clothing (cf. v. 7) to cover their shame (cf. v. 10).

3:22 Us. See note on 1:26. knowing good and evil. In a terribly perverted way, Satan's prediction (v. 5) came true. live forever. Sin, which always results in death (Rom 6:23; James 1:14–15), cuts the sinner off from God's gift of eternal life.

3:23 sent him out from the garden of Eden, to cultivate the ground. Before he sinned, man had worked in a beautiful and pleasant garden (2:15). Now he would have to work hard ground cursed with thorns and thistles (v. 18).

3:24 cherubim. Similar to the statues of winged figures that stood guard at the entrances to palaces and temples in ancient Mesopotamia (see note on Ex 25:18). to guard. The sword of God's judgment stood between fallen man and God's garden. The reason is given in v. 22. Only through God's redemption in Christ does man have access again to the tree of life (see Rev 2:7; 22:2, 14, 19).

4:1 with the help of the LORD. Eve acknowledged that God is the ultimate source of life (see Acts 17:25).

4:2 Abel. The name means "breath" or "temporary" or "meaningless" (the translation of the same basic Hebrew word that is in Eccl 1:2; 12:8) and hints at the shortness of Abel's life.

4:3–4 Cain brought . . . fruit . . . Abel . . . brought of the firstlings of his flock and of their fat portions. The contrast is not between an offer-

5 but [a]for Cain and for his offering He had no regard. So [b]Cain became very angry and his countenance fell.

6 Then the LORD said to Cain, "[a]Why are you angry? And why has your countenance fallen?

7 "[a]If you do well, [1]will not your countenance be lifted up? [b]And if you do not do well, sin is crouching at the door; and its desire is for you, [c]but you must master it."

8 Cain [1]told Abel his brother. And it came about when they were in the field, that Cain rose up against Abel his brother and [a]killed him.

9 Then the LORD said to Cain, "[a]Where is Abel your brother?" And he said, "I do not know. Am I my brother's keeper?"

10 He said, "What have you done? [a]The voice of your brother's blood is crying to Me from the ground.

11 "Now [a]you are cursed from the ground, which has opened its mouth to receive your brother's blood from your hand.

12 "[a]When you cultivate the ground, it will no longer yield its strength to you; [b]you will be a vagrant and a wanderer on the earth."

13 Cain said to the LORD, "My punishment is too great to bear!

14 "Behold, You have [c]driven me this day from the face of the ground; and from Your face I will be hidden, and [b]I will be a vagrant and a wanderer on the earth, and [c]whoever finds me will kill me."

15 So the LORD said to him, "Therefore whoever kills Cain, vengeance will be taken on him [a]sevenfold." And the LORD [1][b]appointed a sign for Cain, so that no one finding him would slay him.

16 Then Cain went out from the presence [a]of the LORD, and [1]settled in the land of [2]Nod, east of Eden.

17 Cain [1]had relations with his wife and she conceived, and gave birth to Enoch; and he built a city, and called the name of the city Enoch, after the name of his son.

18 Now to Enoch was born Irad, and Irad [1]became the father of Mehujael, and Mehujael [1]became the father of Methushael, and Methushael [1]became the father of Lamech.

19 Lamech took to himself [a]two wives: the name of the one was Adah, and the name of the other, Zillah.

20 Adah gave birth to Jabal; he was the father of those who dwell in tents and have livestock.

21 His brother's name was Jubal; he was ing of plant life and an offering of animal life, but between a careless, thoughtless offering and a choice, generous offering (cf. Lev 3:16). Motivation and heart attitude are all-important, and God looked with favor on Abel and his offering because of Abel's faith (Heb 11:4). firstlings. Indicative of the recognition that all the productivity of the flock is from the Lord and all of it belongs to Him.

4:5 angry. God did not look with favor on Cain and his offering, and Cain (whose motivation and attitude were bad from the outset) reacted predictably.

4:7 sin is crouching at the door. The Hebrew word for "crouching" is the same as an ancient Babylonian word referring to an evil demon crouching at the door of a building to threaten the people inside. Sin may thus be pictured here as just such a demon, waiting to pounce on Cain—it desires to have him. He may already have been plotting his brother's murder. its desire is for you. In Hebrew, the same expression as that for "Your desire will be for [your husband]" in 3:16 (see also Song 7:10).

4:8 rose up against . . . his brother and killed him. The first murder was especially monstrous because it was committed against a brother (see vv. 9–11; 1 John 3:12) and against a good man (Matt 23:35; Heb 11:4)—a striking illustration of the awful consequences of the fall.

4:9 Where . . . ? A rhetorical question (see 3:9). I do not know. An outright lie. Am I my brother's keeper? A statement of callous indifference—all too common through the whole course of human history.

4:10 your brother's blood is crying to Me. Abel, in one sense a prophet (Luke 11:50–51), still speaks, though dead (Heb 11:4), for his spilled blood continues to cry out to God against all those who do violence to their human brothers. But the blood of Christ "speaks better than the blood of Abel" (Heb 12:24).

4:11 cursed. The ground had been cursed because of human sin (3:17), and now Cain himself is cursed. Formerly he had worked the ground, and it had produced life for him (vv. 2–3). Now the ground, soaked with his brother's blood, would symbolize death and would no longer yield for him its produce (v. 12).

4:12 wanderer. Estranged from his fellowman and finding even the ground inhospitable, he became a wanderer in the land of wandering (see note on v. 16).

4:13 My punishment is too great to bear! Confronted with his crime and its resulting curse, Cain responded not with remorse but with self-pity. His sin was virtually uninterrupted: impiety (v. 3), anger (v. 5), jealousy, deception and murder (v. 8), falsehood (v. 9) and self-seeking (v. 13). The final result was alienation from God Himself (vv. 14,16).

4:14–15 whoever . . . whoever . . . no one. These words seem to imply the presence of substantial numbers of people outside Cain's immediate family, but perhaps they only anticipate the future rapid growth of the race.

4:15 sign. A warning sign to protect him from an avenger. For the time being, the life of the murderer is spared (but see 6:7; 9:6). For a possible parallel see Ezek 9:4.

4:16 Nod. Location unknown. Nod means "wandering" (see vv. 12, 14).

4:17–18 Cain . . . Enoch . . . Irad . . . Mehujael . . . Methushael . . . Lamech. Together with that of Adam, these names add up to a total of seven, a number often signifying completeness (see v. 15). Each of the six names listed here is paralleled by a similar or identical name in the genealogy of Seth in ch. 5 as follows: Kenan (5:12), Enoch (5:21), Jared (5:18), Mahalalel (5:15), Methuselah (5:25), Lamech (5:28). The similarity between the two sets of names is striking and may suggest the selective nature of such genealogies (see note on 5:5). See also Introduction to 1 Chronicles: Genealogies.

4:17 city. The Hebrew for this word can refer to any permanent settlement, however small. Cain tried to redeem himself from his wandering state by the activity of his own hands—in the land of wandering he builds a city.

4:19 took to himself two wives. Polygamy entered history. Haughty Lamech, the seventh from Adam in the line of Cain, perhaps sought to attain the benefits of God's primeval blessing (see 1:28 and note) by his own device—multiplying his wives. Monogamy, however, was the original divine intention (see 2:23–24).

4:20–22 Jabal . . . Jubal . . . Tubal-cain. Lamech's three sons had the father of all those who play the lyre and pipe.

22 As for Zillah, she also gave birth to Tubal-cain, the forger of all implements of bronze and iron; and the sister of Tubal-cain was Naamah.

23 Lamech said to his wives,

"Adah and Zillah,
Listen to my voice,
You wives of Lamech,
Give heed to my speech,
[a]For I [1]have killed a man for wounding me;
And a boy for striking me;
24 If Cain is avenged [a]sevenfold,
Then Lamech seventy-sevenfold."

25 [a]Adam [1]had relations with his wife again; and she gave birth to a son, and named him [2]Seth, for, she said, "God [3]has appointed me another [4]offspring in place of Abel, [b]for Cain killed him."

26 To Seth, to him also [a]a son was born; and he called his name Enosh. Then men began [b]to call [1]upon the name of the LORD.

Descendants of Adam

5 This is the book of the generations of Adam. In the day when God created man, He made him [a]in the likeness of God.

2 He created them [a]male and female, and He [b]blessed them and named them [1]Man in the day when they were created.

3 When Adam had lived one hundred and thirty years, he [1]became the father of a son in his own likeness, according to his image, and named him Seth.

4 Then the days of Adam after he became the father of Seth were eight hundred years, and he had other sons and daughters.

5 So all the days that Adam lived were nine hundred and thirty years, and he died.

6 Seth lived one hundred and five years, and became the father of Enosh.

7 Then Seth lived eight hundred and seven years after he became the father of Enosh, and he had other sons and daughters.

8 So all the days of Seth were nine hundred and twelve years, and he died.

9 Enosh lived ninety years, and became the father of Kenan.

10 Then Enosh lived eight hundred and fifteen years after he became the father of Kenan, and he had other sons and daughters.

11 So all the days of Enosh were nine hundred and five years, and he died.

12 Kenan lived seventy years, and became the father of Mahalalel.

13 Then Kenan lived eight hundred and forty years after he became the father of Mahalalel, and he had other sons and daughters.

14 So all the days of Kenan were nine hundred and ten years, and he died.

15 Mahalalel lived sixty-five years, and became the father of Jared.

16 Then Mahalalel lived eight hundred and thirty years after he became the father of Jared, and he had other sons and daughters.

17 So all the days of Mahalalel were eight hundred and ninety-five years, and he died.

18 Jared lived one hundred and sixty-two years, and became the father of Enoch.

19 Then Jared lived eight hundred years after he became the father of Enoch, and he had other sons and daughters.

20 So all the days of Jared were nine hundred and sixty-two years, and he died.

21 Enoch lived sixty-five years, and became the father of Methuselah.

similar names, each derived from a Hebrew verb meaning "to bring, carry, lead," and emphasizing activity. Tubal-cain's name was especially appropriate, since "Cain" means "metalsmith."

4:22 implements. For agriculture and construction, but they were also weapons.

4:23 killed a man for wounding me. Violent and wanton destruction of human life by one who proclaimed his complete independence from God by taking vengeance with his own hands (see Deut 32:35). Lamech proudly claimed to be master of his own destiny, thinking that he and his sons, by their own achievements, would redeem themselves from the curse on the line of Cain. This titanic claim climaxes the catalog of sins that began with Cain's prideful selfishness at the beginning of the chapter.

4:24 seventy-sevenfold. Lamech's vicious announcement of personal revenge found its counterpoint in Jesus' response to Peter's question about forgiveness in Matt 18:21–22.

4:25 again . . . another offspring. Abel was dead, and Cain was alienated; so Adam and Eve were granted a third son to carry on the family line.

4:26 Enosh. The name, like "Adam" (see note on 2:7), means "man." began to call upon the name of the LORD. Lamech's proud self-reliance, so characteristic of the line of Cain, is contrasted with dependence on God found in the line of Seth.

5:1 generations. See note on 2:4. likeness. See note on 1:26.

5:2 male and female. See note on 1:27. blessed them. See 1:28 and note. named them. See note on 1:5. Man. Often refers to both sexes (mankind) in the early chapters of Genesis (see, e.g., 3:22–24).

5:3 his own likeness . . . his image. See note on 1:26. As God created man in His own perfect image, so now sinful Adam has a son in his own imperfect image.

5:5 nine hundred and thirty years. See notes on v. 27; 6:3. Whether the large numbers describing human longevity in the early chapters of Genesis are literal or have a conventional literary function—or both—is uncertain. Some believe that several of the numbers have symbolic significance, such as Enoch's 365 (v. 23) years (365 being the number of days in a year, thus a full life) and Lamech's 777 (v. 31) years (777 being an expansion and multiple of seven, the number of completeness; cf. the "seventy-seven times" of Lamech's namesake in 4:24). The fact that there are exactly ten names in the Gen 5 list (as in the genealogy of 11:10–26) makes it likely that it includes gaps, the lengths of which may be summarized in the large numbers. Other ancient genealogies outside the Bible exhibit similarly large figures. For example, three kings in a Sumerian list (which also contains exactly ten names) are said to have reigned 72,000 years each—obviously exaggerated time spans. and he died. Repeated as a sad refrain throughout the chapter, the only exception being Enoch (see note on v. 24). The phrase is a stark reminder of God's judgment on sin resulting from Adam's fall.

22 Then Enoch [a]walked with God three hundred years after he became the father of Methuselah, and he had other sons and daughters.

23 So all the days of Enoch were three hundred and sixty-five years.

24 [a]Enoch walked with God; and he was not, for God [b]took him.

25 Methuselah lived one hundred and eighty-seven years, and became the father of Lamech.

26 Then Methuselah lived seven hundred and eighty-two years after he became the father of Lamech, and he had other sons and daughters.

27 So all the days of Methuselah were nine hundred and sixty-nine years, and he died.

28 Lamech lived one hundred and eighty-two years, and became the father of a son.

29 Now he called his name Noah, saying, "This one will [1]give us rest from our work and from the toil of our hands arising from [a]the ground which the LORD has cursed."

30 Then Lamech lived five hundred and ninety-five years after he became the father of Noah, and he had other sons and daughters.

31 So all the days of Lamech were seven hundred and seventy-seven years, and he died.

32 Noah was [a]five hundred years old, and Noah became the father of Shem, Ham, and Japheth.

The Corruption of Mankind

6 Now it came about, when men began to multiply on the face of the land, and daughters were born to them,

2 that the sons of God saw that the daughters of men were [1]beautiful; and they took wives for themselves, whomever they chose.

3 Then the LORD said, "[a]My Spirit shall not [1]strive with man forever, [2b]because he also is flesh; [3]nevertheless his days shall be one hundred and twenty years."

4 The [a]Nephilim were on the earth in those days, and also afterward, when the sons of God came in to the daughters of men, and they bore children to them. Those were the mighty men who were of old, men of renown.

5 Then the LORD saw that the wickedness of man was great on the earth, and that [a]every intent of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually.

6 [a]The LORD was sorry that He had made man on the earth, and He was [b]grieved [1]in His heart.

7 The LORD said, "[a]I will blot out man whom I have created from the face of the land, from man to animals to creeping things and to birds of the [1]sky; for [b]I am sorry that I have made them."

8 But [a]Noah [b]found favor in the eyes of the LORD.

5:22 walked with God. The phrase replaces the word "lived" in the other paragraphs of the chapter and reminds us that there is a difference between walking with God and merely living.

5:24 and he was not, for God took him. The phrase replaces "and he died" in the other paragraphs of the chapter. Like Elijah, who was "taken" (2 Kin 2:10) to heaven, Enoch was taken away (cf. Ps 49:15; 73:24) to the presence of God without experiencing death (Heb 11:5). Lamech, the seventh from Adam in the genealogy of Cain, was evil personified. But "Enoch, in the seventh generation from Adam" (Jude 14) in the genealogy of Seth, "obtained the witness . . . that he was pleasing to God" (Heb 11:5).

5:27 nine hundred and sixty-nine years. Only Noah and his family survived the flood. If the figures concerning life spans are literal, Methuselah died in the year of the flood (the figures in vv. 25,28 and 7:6 add up to exactly 969).

6:1 multiply. See note on 1:22.

6:2 sons of God saw . . . daughters of men . . . and they took wives. See v. 4. The phrase "sons of God" here has been interpreted to refer either to angels or to human beings. In such places as Job 1:6; 2:1 it refers to angels, and perhaps also in Ps 29:1 (where it is translated "sons of the mighty"). Some interpreters also appeal to Jude 6–7 (as well as to Jewish literature) in referring the phrase here to angels.

Others, however, maintain that intermarriage and cohabitation between angels and human beings, though commonly mentioned in ancient mythologies, are surely excluded by the very nature of the created order (ch. 1; Mark 12:25). Elsewhere, expressions equivalent to "sons of God" often refer to human beings, though in contexts quite different from the present one (see Deut 14:1; 32:5; Ps 73:15; Is 43:6; Hos 1:10; 11:1; Luke 3:38; 1 John 3:1–2,10). "Sons of God" (vv. 2,4) possibly refers to godly men, and "daughters of men" to sinful women (significantly, they are not called "daughters of God"), probably from the wicked line of Cain. If so, the context suggests that vv. 1–2 describe the intermarriage of the Sethites ("sons of God") of ch. 5 with the Cainites ("daughters of men") of ch. 4, indicating a breakdown in the separation of the two groups.

Another plausible suggestion is that the "sons of God" refers to royal figures (kings were closely associated with gods in the ancient Near East) who proudly perpetuated and aggravated the corrupt life-style of Lamech son of Cain (virtually a royal figure) and established for themselves royal harems.

6:3 Two key phrases in the Hebrew of this verse are obscure: the one rendered "strive with" (which could be translated "remain in") and the one rendered "is flesh" (which could be translated "is corrupt"). The verse seems to announce that the period of grace between God's declaration of judgment and its arrival would be 120 years (cf. 1 Pet 3:20). But if "remain in" is accepted, the verse announces that man's life span would henceforth be limited to 120 years (but see 11:10–26).

6:4 Nephilim. People of great size and strength (see Num 13:31–33). The Hebrew word means "fallen ones." In men's eyes they were "the mighty men . . . of old, men of renown," but in God's eyes they were sinners ("fallen ones") ripe for judgment.

6:5 One of the Bible's most vivid descriptions of total depravity. And because man's nature remained unchanged, things were no better after the flood (8:21).

6:6 The LORD was sorry . . . He was grieved in His heart. Man's sin is God's sorrow (see Eph 4:30).

6:7 I will blot out man . . . from the face of the land. The period of grace (see v. 3 and note) was coming to an end. animals . . . creeping things . . . birds. Though morally innocent, the animal world, as creatures under man's corrupted rule, shared in his judgment.

6:8–9 found favor . . . righteous . . . blameless . . . walked with God. See note on 5:22. Noah's godly life was a powerful contrast to the wicked lives of his contemporaries (see v. 5 and note; see also v. 12). This description of Noah does not imply sinless perfection.

9 These are the records of the generations of Noah. Noah was a [a]righteous man, [1][b]blameless in his [2]time; Noah [c]walked with God.

10 Noah [1]became the father of three sons: Shem, Ham, and Japheth.

11 Now the earth was [a]corrupt in the sight of God, and the earth was [b]filled with violence.

12 God looked on the earth, and behold, it was corrupt; for [a]all flesh had corrupted their way upon the earth.

13 Then God said to Noah, "[a]The end of all flesh has come before Me; for the earth is filled with violence because of them; and behold, I am about to destroy them with the earth.

14 "Make for yourself an ark of gopher wood; you shall make the ark with rooms, and shall [1]cover it inside and out with pitch.

15 "This is how you shall make it: the length of the ark three hundred [1]cubits, its breadth fifty [1]cubits, and its height thirty [1]cubits.

16 "You shall make a [1]window for the ark, and finish it to a cubit from [2]the top; and set the door of the ark in the side of it; you shall make it with lower, second, and third decks.

17 "Behold, [a]I, even I am bringing the flood of water upon the earth, to destroy all flesh in which is the breath of life, from under heaven; everything that is on the earth shall perish.

18 "But I will establish [a]My covenant with you; and [b]you shall enter the ark—you and your sons and your wife, and your sons' wives with you.

The Flood

7 Then the LORD said to Noah, "Enter the ark, you and all your household, for you alone I have seen to be [a]righteous before Me in this [1]time.

2 "You shall take [1]with you of every [a]clean animal [2]by sevens, a male and his female; and of the animals that are not clean two, a male and his female;

3 also of the birds of the [1]sky, [2]by sevens, male and female, to keep [3]offspring alive on the face of all the earth.

4 "For after [a]seven more days, I will send rain on the earth [b]forty days and forty nights; and I will blot out from the face of the land [c]every living thing that I have made."

5 [a]Noah did according to all that the LORD had commanded him.

6 Now Noah was [a]six hundred years old when the flood of water [1]came upon the earth.

6:9 generations. See note on 2:4. righteous. See note on Ps 1:5.
6:14 ark. The Hebrew for this word is used elsewhere only in reference to the basket that saved the baby Moses (Ex 2:3,5). cover it . . . with pitch. Moses' mother made his basket watertight in the same way (see Ex 2:3).
6:17 flood of water upon the earth, to destroy all flesh . . . under heaven. Some believe that the deluge was worldwide, partly because of the apparently universal terms of the text—both here and elsewhere (vv. 7,12–13; 7:4,19, 21–23; 8:21; 9:11,15). Others argue that nothing in the narrative of chs. 6–9 prevents the flood from being understood as regional—destroying everything in its wake, but of relatively limited scope and universal only from the standpoint of Moses' geographic knowledge. "Earth," e.g., may be defined in the more restricted sense of "land." "All flesh . . . under heaven" may mean all life within the range of Noah's perception. (See the universal language used to describe the drought and famine in the time of Joseph—41:54,57; see also note on 41:57.) Since the purpose of the floodwaters was to destroy sinful mankind (see v. 13), and since the writer possibly had in mind only the inhabitants of the ancient Near East, this flood may not have had to be worldwide to destroy them. The apostle Peter, however, seems to assume that the flood and its devastation were universal and total, except for Noah and his family (2 Pet 3:6; but see note there).
6:18 covenant. See note on 9:9. Noah would understand the full implications of God's covenant with him only after the floodwaters had dried up (see 9:8–17). enter the ark. The story of Noah's salvation from the flood illustrates God's redemption of His children (see Heb 11:7; 2 Pet 2:5) and typifies baptism (see 1 Pet 3:20–21). your sons and your wife, and your sons' wives with you. God extends His loving concern to the whole family of righteous Noah—a consistent pattern in God's dealings with His people, underscoring the moral and responsible relationship of parents to their children (see 17:7–27; 18:19; Deut 30:19; Ps 78:1–7; 102:28; 103:17–18; 112:1–2; Acts 2:38–39; 16:31; 1 Cor 7:14).
6:19 two of every kind . . . to keep them alive. Most animals were doomed to die in the flood (see note on v. 7), but at least one pair of each kind was preserved to restock the earth after the waters subsided.
6:20 kind. See note on 1:11.
6:22 according to all that God had commanded him, so he did. The account stresses Noah's obedience (see 7:5,9,16).
7:1 Enter the ark. The beginning of God's final word to Noah before the flood. God's first word to Noah after the flood begins similarly: "Go out of the ark" (8:16). righteous. See note on 6:8–9. As a "preacher of righteousness" (2 Pet 2:5), Noah warned his contemporaries of coming judgment and testified to the vitality of his own faith (see Heb 11:7).
7:2 every clean animal by sevens . . . and of the . . . not clean two. The ceremonially unclean animals would only have to reproduce themselves after the flood, but ceremonially clean animals would be needed also for the burnt offerings that Noah would sacrifice (see 8:20) and for food (see 9:3).
7:4 forty days and forty nights. A length of time often characterizing a critical period in redemptive history (see v. 12; Deut 9:11; Matt 4:1–11).

7 Then [a]Noah and his sons and his wife and his sons' wives with him entered the ark because of the water of the flood.
8 [a]Of clean animals and animals that are not clean and birds and everything that creeps on the ground,
9 there went into the ark to Noah [1]by twos, male and female, as God had commanded Noah.
10 It came about after [a]the seven days, that the water of the flood [1]came upon the earth.
11 In the [a]six hundredth year of Noah's life, in the second month, on the seventeenth day of the month, on the same day all [b]the fountains of the great deep burst open, and the [1]floodgates of the sky were opened.
12 [a]The rain [1]fell upon the earth for forty days and forty nights.
13 On the very same day [a]Noah and Shem and Ham and Japheth, the sons of Noah, and Noah's wife and the three wives of his sons with them, entered the ark, 14 they and every beast after its kind, and all the cattle after [1]their kind, and every creeping thing that creeps on the earth after its kind, and every bird after its kind, [2]all sorts of birds.
15 So they went into the ark to Noah, [a]by twos of all flesh in which was the breath of life.
16 Those that entered, male and female of all flesh, entered as God had commanded him; and the LORD closed it behind him.
17 Then the flood [1]came upon the earth for [a]forty days, and the water increased and lifted up the ark, so that it rose above the earth.
18 The water prevailed and increased greatly upon the earth, and the ark [1]floated on the [2]surface of the water.
19 The water prevailed more and more upon the earth, so that all the high mountains [1]everywhere under the heavens were covered.

21 [a]All flesh that [1]moved on the earth perished, birds and cattle and beasts and every swarming thing that swarms upon the earth, and all mankind;
22 of all that was on the dry land, all [a]in whose nostrils was the breath of the spirit of life, died.
23 Thus He blotted out [1]every living thing that was upon the face of the land, from man to animals to creeping things and to birds of the [2]sky, and they were blotted out from the earth; and only [a]Noah was left, together with those that were with him in the ark.
24 [a]The water prevailed upon the earth one hundred and fifty days.

The Flood Subsides

8 But [a]God remembered Noah and all the beasts and all the cattle that were with him in the ark; and [b]God caused a wind to pass over the earth, and the water subsided.
2 Also [a]the fountains of the deep and the [1]floodgates of the sky were closed, and [b]the rain from the sky was restrained;
3 and the water receded steadily from the earth, and at the end [a]of one hundred and fifty days the water decreased.
4 In the seventh month, on the seventeenth day of the month, [a]the ark rested upon the mountains of Ararat.
5 The water decreased steadily until the tenth month; in the tenth month, on the first day of the month, the tops of the mountains became visible.
6 Then it came about at the end of forty days, that Noah opened the [a]window of the ark which he had made;
7 and he sent out a raven, and it [1]flew here and there until the water was dried up
[2]from the earth.
8 Then he sent out a dove from him, to see if the water was abated from the face of the land;

7:7 entered the ark because of the water. Noah and his family were saved, but life as usual continued for everyone else until it was too late (see Matt 24:37–39).

7:13 Noah and . . . the sons of Noah, and Noah's wife and the three wives of his sons. "A few persons, that is, eight" (1 Pet 3:20; see 2 Pet 2:5), survived the flood.

7:14 every beast . . . all the cattle . . . every creeping thing that creeps on the earth . . . every bird. Four of the five categories of animate life mentioned in 1:21–25. The fifth category—sea creatures—could remain alive outside the ark.

7:16 God had commanded him . . . the LORD closed it behind him. "God" gave the command, but in His role as redeeming "LORD" (see notes on 2:4; Ex 6:6) He closed the door of the ark behind Noah and his family. Neither divine name is mentioned in the rest of ch. 7, as the full fury of the flood was unleashed on sinful mankind.

7:20 prevailed fifteen cubits higher, and the mountains were covered. The ark was 30 cubits high (6:15), so the water was deep enough to keep it from running aground.

7:22 breath of the spirit of life. God's gift at creation (see 1:30; 2:7) was taken away because of sin.

8:1 So far the flood narrative has been an account of judgment; from this point on it is a story of redemption. God remembered Noah. Though He had not been mentioned since 7:16 or heard from for 150 days (see 7:24), God had not forgotten Noah and his family. To "remember" in the Bible is not merely to recall to mind; it is to express concern for someone, to act with loving care for him. When God remembers His people, He does so "with favor" (Neh 5:19; 13:31). wind. The Hebrew word translated "Spirit" in 1:2 is here rendered "wind," and introduces a series of parallels between the events of chs. 8–9 and those of ch. 1 in their literary order: Compare 8:2 with 1:7; 8:5 with 1:9; 8:7 with 1:20; 8:17 with 1:25; 9:1 with 1:28a; 9:2 with 1:28b; 9:3 with 1:30. Ch. 1 describes the original beginning, while chs. 8–9 describe a new beginning after the flood.

8:4 mountains. The word is plural and refers to a range of mountains. Ararat. The name is related to Assyrian Urartu, which became an extensive and mountainous kingdom (see Jer 51:27; see also Is 37:38), including much of the territory north of Mesopotamia and east of modern Turkey. The ark's landfall was probably in southern Urartu.

9 but the dove found no resting place for the sole of her foot, so she returned to him into the ark, for the water was on the [1]surface of all the earth. Then he put out his hand and took her, and brought her into the ark to himself.

10 So he waited yet another seven days; and again he sent out the dove from the ark.

11 The dove came to him toward [1]evening, and behold, in her [2]beak was a freshly picked olive leaf. So Noah knew that the water was abated from the earth.

12 Then he waited yet another seven days, and sent out [a]the dove; but she did not return to him again.

13 Now it came about in the [a]six hundred and first year, in the first month, on the first of the month, the water was dried up [1]from the earth. Then Noah removed the covering of the ark, and looked, and behold, the [2]surface of the ground was dried up.

14 In the second month, on the twenty-seventh day of the month, the earth was dry.

15 Then God spoke to Noah, saying,

16 "Go out of the ark, you and your wife and your sons and your sons' wives with you.

17 "Bring out with you every living thing of all flesh that is with you, birds and animals and every creeping thing that creeps on the earth, that they may [1a]breed abundantly on the earth, and be fruitful and multiply on the earth."

18 So Noah went out, and his sons and his wife and his sons' wives with him.

19 Every beast, every creeping thing, and every bird, everything that moves on the earth, went out [1]by their families from the ark.

20 Then Noah built [a]an altar to the LORD, and took of every [b]clean animal and of every clean bird and offered [c]burnt offerings on the altar.

21 The LORD [a]smelled the soothing aroma; and the LORD said [1]to Himself, "I will never again [b]curse the ground on account of man, for [c]the [2]intent of man's heart is evil from his youth; [d]and I will never again [3]destroy every living thing, as I have done.

22 "While the earth remains,
Seedtime and harvest,
And cold and heat,
And [a]summer and winter,
And [b]day and night
Shall not cease."

Covenant of the Rainbow

9 And God blessed Noah and his sons and said to them, "[a]Be fruitful and multiply, and fill the earth.

2 "The fear of you and the terror of you will be on every beast of the earth and on every bird of the [1]sky; with everything that creeps on the ground, and all the fish of the sea, into your hand they are given.

3 "Every moving thing that is alive shall be food for you; I give all to you, [a]as I gave the green plant.

4 "Only you shall not eat flesh with its life, that is, [a]its blood.

5 "Surely I will require [1a]your lifeblood; [2b]from every beast I will require it. And 8:11 the dove came to him . . . in her beak was a freshly plucked olive leaf. Olives do not grow at high elevations, and the fresh leaf was a sign to Noah that the water had receded from the earth. The modern symbol of peace represented by a dove carrying an olive branch in its beak has its origin in this story.

8:13 in the six hundred and first year, in the first month, on the first of the month. The date formula signals mankind's new beginning after the flood.
8:14 In the second month, on the twenty-seventh day of the month. More than a year after the flood began (see 7:11).
8:16 Go out of the ark. See note on 7:1.
8:17 breed abundantly . . . be fruitful . . . multiply. See 1:22 and note. The animals and birds could now repopulate their former habitats.
8:20 LORD. Since worship is a very personal matter, it is to God as "the LORD" (see note on 2:4) that Noah brought his sacrifice (see 4:4). burnt offerings. See Lev 1:3–4 and notes.
8:21 smelled the soothing aroma. A figurative way of saying that the Lord takes delight in His children's worship of Him (see Eph 5:2; Phil 4:18). curse the ground. Although the Hebrew here has a different word for "curse," the reference appears to be to the curse of 3:17. It may be that the Lord here pledged never to add curse upon curse as He had in regard to Cain (4:12). for the intent of man's heart is evil. For almost identical phraseology see 6:5. Because of man's extreme wickedness, God had destroyed him (6:7) by means of a flood (6:17). Although righteous Noah and his family had been saved, he and his offspring were descendants of Adam and carried in their hearts the inheritance of sin. God graciously promises never again to deal with sin by sending such a devastating deluge (see 9:11,15). Human history is held open for God's dealing with sin in a new and redemptive way—the way that was prepared for by God's action at Babel (see notes on 11:6,8) and that begins to unfold with the call of Abram (12:1). from his youth. The phrase replaces "continually" in 6:5 and emphasizes the truth that sin infects a person's life from his conception and birth (Ps 51:5; 58:3).
8:22 Times and seasons, created by God in the beginning (see 1:14), will never cease till the end of history.
9:1–7 At this new beginning, God renewed His original benediction (1:28) and His provision for man's food (cf. v. 3; 1:29–30). But because sin had brought violence into man's world and because God now appointed meat as a part of man's food (v. 3), further divine provisions and stipulations are added (vv. 4–6). Yet God's benediction dominates and encloses the whole (see v. 7).
9:2 into your hand they are given. God reaffirmed that mankind would rule over all creation, including the animals (see note on 1:26).
9:3 Every moving thing that is alive shall be food. Meat would now supplement mankind's diet.
9:4 you shall not eat flesh with its life, that is, its blood. Lev 17:14 stresses the intimate relationship between blood and life by twice declaring that "the life of all flesh is its blood." Life is the precious and mysterious gift of God, and man is not to seek to preserve it or increase the life-force within him by eating "life" that is "in the blood" (Lev 17:11)—as many pagan peoples throughout history have thought they could do.
9:5 I will require your lifeblood; from every beast I will require it. God Himself is the great defender of human life (see 4:9–12), which is precious to Him because man was created in His image (v. 6) and because man is the earthly representative and focal point

COVENANTS	REFERENCE	TYPE	PARTICIPANT	DESCRIPTION
NOAHIC	Gen 9:8-17	Royal Grant	Made with "righteous" (6:9) Noah (and his descendants and every living thing on earth—all life that is subject to man's jurisdiction)	An unconditional divine promise never to destroy all earthly life with some natural catastrophe; the covenant "sign" being the rainbow in the storm cloud
ABRAHAMIC A	Gen 15:9-21	Royal (land) Grant	Made with "righteous" (his faith was "reckoned to him as righteousness," v. 6) Abram (and his descendants, v. 16)	An unconditional divine promise to fulfill the grant of the land; a self-maledictory oath symbolically enacted it (v. 17)
ABRAHAMIC B	Gen 17	Suzerain-vassal	Made with Abraham as patriarchal head of his household	A conditional divine pledge to be Abraham's God and the God of his descendants (cf. "As for Me," v. 4; "as for you," v. 9); the condition: total consecration to the Lord as symbolized by circumcision
SINAITIC	Ex 19-24	Suzerain-vassal	Made with Israel as the descendants of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob and as the people the Lord has redeemed from bondage to an earthly power	A conditional divine pledge to be Israel's God (as her Protector and the Guarantor of her blessed destiny); the condition: Israel's total consecration to the Lord as His people (His kingdom) who live by His rule and serve His purposes in history
PHINEHAS	Num 25:10-13	Royal Grant	Made with the zealous priest Phinehas	An unconditional divine promise to maintain the family of Phinehas in a "perpetual priesthood" (implicitly a pledge to Israel to provide her forever with a faithful priesthood)
DAVIDIC	2 Sam 7:5-16	Royal Grant	Made with faithful King David after his devotion to God as Israel's king and the Lord's anointed vassal had come to special expression (v. 2)	An unconditional divine promise to establish and maintain the Davidic dynasty on the throne of Israel (implicitly a pledge to Israel) to provide her forever with a godly king like David and through that dynasty to do for her what He had done through David—bring her into rest in the promised land (1 Kin 4:20-21; 5:3-4)
NEW	Jer 31:31-34	Royal Grant	Promised to rebellious Israel as she is about to be expelled from the promised land in actualization of the most severe covenant curse (Lev 26:27-39; Deut 28:36-37, 45-68)	An unconditional divine promise to unfaithful Israel to forgive her sins and establish His relationship with her on a new basis by writing His law "on their heart"—a covenant of pure grace

Major Types of Royal Covenants/Treaties in the Ancient Near East

ROYAL GRANT (UNCONDITIONAL)
A king's grant (of land or some other benefit) to a loyal servant for faithful or exceptional service. The grant was normally perpetual and unconditional, but the servant's heirs benefited from it only as they continued their father's loyalty and service. (Cf. 1 Sam 8:14; 22:7; 27:6; Esth 8:1.)

PARITY
A covenant between equals, binding them to mutual friendship or at least to mutual respect for each other's spheres and interests. Participants called each other "brothers." (Cf. Gen 21:27; 26:31; 31:44-54; 1 Kin 5:12; 15:19; 20:32-34; Amos 1:9.)

SUZERAIN-VASSAL (CONDITIONAL)
A covenant regulating the relationship between a great king and one of his subject kings. The great king claimed absolute right of sovereignty, demanded total loyalty and service (the vassal must "love" his suzerain) and pledged protection of the subject's realm and dynasty, conditional on the vassal's faithfulness and loyalty to him. The vassal pledged absolute loyalty to his suzerain—whatever service his suzerain demanded—and exclusive reliance on the suzerain's protection. Participants called each other "lord" and "servant" or "father" and "son." (Cf. Josh 9:6,8; Ezek 17:13-18; Hosea 12:1.)

Commitments made in these covenants were accompanied by self-maledictory oaths (made orally, ceremonially or both). The gods were called upon to witness the covenants and implement the curses of the oaths if the covenants were violated.

16 "When the bow is in the cloud, then I will look upon it, to remember the [a]everlasting covenant between God and every living creature of all flesh that is on the earth."
17 And God said to Noah, "This is the sign of the covenant which I have established between Me and all flesh that is on the earth."
18 Now the sons of Noah who came out of the ark were Shem and Ham and Japheth; and [a]Ham was the father of Canaan.
19 These three were the sons of Noah, and
[a]from these the whole earth was [1]populated.
20 Then Noah began [1]farming and planted a vineyard.
21 He drank of the wine and [a]became drunk, and uncovered himself inside his tent.
22 Ham, the father of Canaan, [a]saw the nakedness of his father, and told his two brothers outside.
23 But Shem and Japheth took a garment and laid it upon both their shoulders and walked backward and covered the nakedness of their father; and their faces were [1]turned away, so that they did not see their father's nakedness.
24 When Noah awoke from his wine, he knew what his youngest son had done to him.
25 So he said,
"[a]Cursed be Canaan;
[1][b]A servant of servants
He shall be to his brothers."
26 He also said,
"[a]Blessed be the LORD,
The God of Shem;
And let Canaan be [1]his servant.

of God's kingdom. In the theocracy (kingdom of God) established at Sinai, a domestic animal that had taken human life was to be stoned to death (Ex 21:28–32).

9:6 Whoever sheds man's blood, By man his blood shall be shed. In the later theocracy, those guilty of premeditated murder were to be executed (see Ex 21:12–14; Num 35:16–32; see also Rom 13:3–4; 1 Pet 2:13–14). For in the image of God He made man. See 1:26 and note. In killing a human being, a murderer demonstrates his contempt for God as well as for his fellowman.

9:9 Now . . . I Myself do establish My covenant. God sovereignly promised in this covenant to Noah, to Noah's descendants and to all other living things (as a kind of gracious reward to righteous Noah, the new father of the human race—see 6:18) never again to destroy man and the earth until His purposes for His creation are fully realized ("while the earth remains," 8:22). For similar commitments by God see His covenants with Abram (15:18–20), Phinehas (Num 25:10–13) and David (2 Sam 7). See chart, p. 16.

9:11 all flesh shall never again be cut off by the water of the flood. A summary of the provisions of the Lord's covenant with Noah—an eternal covenant, as seen in such words and phrases as "never again" (vv. 11,15), "for all successive generations" (v. 12) and "everlasting" (v. 16).

9:12 sign. A covenant sign was a visible seal and reminder of covenant commitments. Circumcision would become the sign of the covenant with Abraham (see 17:11), and the Sabbath would be the sign of the covenant with Israel at Sinai (see Ex 31:16–17).

9:13 bow. Rain and the rainbow doubtless existed long before the time of Noah's flood, but after the flood the rainbow took on new meaning as the sign of the Noahic covenant.

9:19 populated. Thus anticipating the table of nations (see note on 11:8).

9:20 began farming. Noah, like his father Lamech (see 5:29), was a farmer.

9:21 He drank of the wine and became drunk. The first reference to wine connects it with drunkenness. uncovered himself inside his tent. Excessive use of wine led, among other things, to immodest behavior (see 19:30–35).

9:22 father of Canaan. Mentioned here because Ham, in acting as he did, showed himself to be the true father of Canaan (i.e., of the Canaanites; see note on 15:16). told his two brothers. He broadcast, rather than covered, his father's immodesty.

9:23 faces were turned . . . so that they did not see. They wanted to avoid further disgrace to their father.

9:24 from his wine. From the drunkenness caused by the wine.

9:25 Cursed be Canaan. Some maintain that Ham's son (see vv. 18,22) was to be punished because of his father's sin (see Ex 20:5), but Ex 20 restricts such punishment to "those who hate Me." It is probably better to hold that Canaan and his descendants were to be punished because they were going to be even worse than Ham (Lev 18:2–3,6–30). servant of servants. Joshua's subjection of the Gibeonites (Josh 9:27) is one of the fulfillments (see also Josh 16:10; Judg 1:28,30,33,35; 1 Kin 9:20–21). Noah's prophecy cannot be used to justify the enslavement of blacks, since those cursed here were Canaanites, who were Caucasian.

9:26 Blessed be the LORD. The Lord (instead of Shem) is blessed (praised) because He is the source of Shem's blessing. He is also

27 "[a]May God enlarge Japheth,
And let him dwell in the tents of Shem;
And let Canaan be [1]his servant."

28 Noah lived three hundred and fifty years after the flood.

29 So all the days of Noah were nine hundred and fifty years, and he died.

the "God of Shem" (and his descendants, the Semites—which included the Israelites) in a special sense.

9:27 dwell in the tents of Shem. Share in the blessings bestowed on Shem.

9:29 and he died. See note on 5:5. As the tenth and last member of the genealogy of Seth (5:3–32), Noah had an obituary that ends like those of his worthy ancestors.

10:1 generations. See note on 2:4. The links affirmed here may not all be based on strictly physical descent, but may include geographical, historical and linguistic associations (see note on v. 5.) For example, the Hebrew for "sons" can mean "descendants" or "successors" or "nations," and the Hebrew for "father" can mean "ancestor" or "predecessor" or "founder." See also Introduction to 1 Chronicles: Genealogies.

10:2 Japheth. As the least involved in the Biblical narrative and perhaps also as the oldest of Noah's sons (see note on v. 21), his descendants or successors are listed first. The genealogy of Shem, the chosen line, appears last in the chapter (see vv. 21–31; see also 11:10–26). The 14 nations that came from Japheth plus the 30 from Ham and the 26 from Shem add up to 70 (the multiple of 10 and 7, both numbers signifying completeness; see note on 5:5), perhaps in anticipation of the 70 members of Jacob's family in Egypt (see 46:27; Ex 1:5; also Deut 32:8). The Japhethites lived generally north and west of Canaan in Eurasia. Gomer. The people of Gomer (the later Cimmerians) and related nations (see v. 3) lived near the Black Sea. Magog. Possibly the father of a Scythian people who inhabited the Caucasus and adjacent regions southeast of the Black Sea. Madai. The later Medes. Javan. Ionia (southern Greece) and perhaps western Asia Minor. Tubal, Meshech. Not related to Tobolsk and Moscow in modern Russia. Together with Magog they are mentioned in later Assyrian inscriptions. See also Ezek 38:2. Probably Tubal was in Pontus, and Meshech was in the Moschian Mountains. Their movement was from eastern Asia Minor north to the Black Sea. Tiras. Possibly the Thrace of later times.

10:3 Ashkenaz. The later Scythians. All three names in this verse refer to peoples located in the upper Euphrates region.

10:4 Elishah. Either Alashia (an ancient name for Cyprus) or a reference to Sicily and southern Italy. Tarshish. Probably southern Spain. Kittim. A people living on Cyprus. Dodanim. Some manuscripts have "Rodanim" (see NASB marg.), a people whose name is perhaps reflected in Rhodes (a Greek isle).

10:5 See vv. 20,31. lands . . . language . . . families . . . nations. Geographic, ethnic, political and linguistic terms, respectively. These several criteria were used to differentiate the various groups of people.

10:6 Ham. The Hamites were located in southwestern Asia and northeast Africa. Cush. The upper Nile region, south of Egypt. Mizraim. Means "two Egypts," a reference to Upper and Lower Egypt. Put. Either Libya (see note on v. 13) or the land the ancient Egyptians called Punt (modern Somalia). Canaan. The name means "land of purple" (as does Phoenicia, the Greek name for the same general region)—so called because Canaan was a major producer and exporter of purple dye, highly prized by royalty. The territory was much later called Palestine after the Philistines (see v. 14).

10:7 sons of Cush. The seven Cushite nations here mentioned were all in Arabia. Sheba and Dedan (or their namesakes) reappear as two of Abraham's grandsons (see 25:3). Together with Raamah they are mentioned in Ezek 27:20–22.

10:8 Cush. Probably not the same as that in vv. 6–7. Located in Mesopotamia, its name may be related to that of the later Kassites. Nimrod. Possibly the Hebrew name of Sargon I, an early ruler of Akkad (see v. 10).

10:10 Erech. The Hebrew name for Uruk (modern Warka), one of the important cities in ancient Mesopotamia.

10:12 great city. Possibly a reference to Calah (or even Resen), but most likely to Nineveh (see Jon 1:2; 3:2; 4:11), either alone or including the surrounding urban areas.

10:13 Ludim. Perhaps the Lydians in Asia Minor (see note on v. 22). Anamim. Located in north Africa, west of Egypt, near Cyrene. Lehabim. Perhaps the Libyan desert tribes (see note on v. 6). Naphtuhim. People of Lower Egypt.

10:14 Pathrusim. The inhabitants of Upper Egypt (see note on v. 6). Caphtorim. Crete, known as Caphtor in ancient times, was for a while the homeland of various Philistine groups (see Jer 47:4; Amos 9:7). The Philistines themselves were a vigorous Indo-European maritime people who invaded Egypt early in the 12th century B.C. After being driven out, they migrated in large numbers to southwest Canaan, later extending their influence over most of the land. The Philistines of the patriarchal period (see 21:32,34; 26:1,8,14–15,18) no doubt had earlier settled in Canaan more peacefully and in smaller numbers.

10:15 Sidon. An important commercial city on the northwest coast of Canaan. Heth. The progenitor of the Hittites, a powerful people, centered in Asia Minor, who dominated much of Canaan from c. 1800 to c. 1200 B.C.

25 [a]Two sons were born to Eber; the name of the one was [1]Peleg, for in his days the earth was divided; and his brother's name was Joktan.

10:16 Jebusite. Inhabited Jerusalem at the time of Israel's conquest of Canaan. Jerusalem was also known as Jebus during part of its history (see Judg 19:10–11; 1 Chr 11:4). Amorite. The name comes from an Akkadian word meaning "westerner" (west from the Babylonian perspective). Amorites lived in the hill country of Canaan at the time of the Israelite conquest.

10:17–18 Together with the Girgashites (v. 16), these groups inhabited small city-states for the most part.

10:19 Sodom and Gomorrah and Admah and Zeboiim. See 14:2,8 (see also note on 13:10); probably located east and/or southeast of the Dead Sea.

10:21 Also to Shem . . . children were born. The descendants of Shem were called Shemites (later modified to Semites). Eber. Though a distant descendant of Shem (see vv. 24–25; 11:14–17), Eber's importance as the ancestor of the Hebrews ("Eber" is the origin of the Hebrew word for "Hebrew") is already hinted at here. The Ebla tablets (see Introduction: Background) frequently refer to a king named Ebrium, who ruled Ebla for 28 years. It is possible that Ebrium and Eber were the same person.

10:22 Elam. The Elamites lived east of Mesopotamia. Asshur. An early name for Assyria (see note on 2:14) in northern Mesopotamia. Arpachshad. See also 11:10–13; perhaps a compound form of the Hebrew word for Chaldea, in southern Mesopotamia. Lud. Probably the Lydians of Asia Minor (see note on v. 13). Aram. Located northeast of Canaan, the area known today as Syria.

10:24 Shelah. See 11:12–15.

10:25 Peleg. Peleg means "division" (see 11:16–19).

10:26 Joktan. The predecessor of numerous south Arabian kingdoms.

10:28 Sheba. In southwest Arabia (roughly the area of Yemen). A later queen of Sheba made a memorable visit to King Solomon in the tenth century B.C. (see 1 Kin 10:1–13).

10:29 Ophir. The source of much of King Solomon's gold (see 1 Kin 9:28; 10:11). Its location seems to have been south of Canaan, perhaps somewhere in Africa or south Arabia (but see note on 1 Kin 9:28).

30 Now their [1]settlement [2]extended from Mesha as you go toward Sephar, the hill country of the east.

32 These are the families of the sons of Noah, according to their genealogies, by their nations; and [a]out of these the nations were separated on the earth after the flood.

Universal Language, Babel, Confusion

11 Now the whole earth [1]used the same language and [2]the same words.

2 It came about as they journeyed east, that they found a plain in the land [a]of Shinar and [1]settled there.

3 They said to one another, "Come, let us make bricks and burn them thoroughly." And they used brick for stone, and they used [a]tar for mortar.

4 They said, "Come, let us build for ourselves a city, and a tower whose top [a]will reach into heaven, and let us make for ourselves [b]a name, otherwise we [c]will be scattered abroad over the face of the whole earth."

5 [a]The LORD came down to see the city and the tower which the sons of men had built.

6 The LORD said, "Behold, they are one people, and they all have [1][a]the same language. And this is what they began to do, and now nothing which they purpose to do will be [2]impossible for them.

7 "Come, [a]let Us go down and there [b]confuse their [1]language, so that they will not understand one another's [1]speech."

Descendants of Shem

10 [a]These are the records of the generations of Shem. Shem was one hundred years old, and [1]became the father of Arpachshad two years after the flood;

11 and Shem lived five hundred years after he became the father of Arpachshad, and he had other sons and daughters.

12 Arpachshad lived thirty-five years, and became the father of Shelah;

13 and Arpachshad lived four hundred and three years after he became the father of Shelah, and he had other sons and daughters.

14 Shelah lived thirty years, and became the father of Eber;

15 and Shelah lived four hundred and three years after he became the father of Eber, and he had other sons and daughters.

16 Eber lived thirty-four years, and became the father of Peleg;

17 and Eber lived four hundred and thirty years after he became the father of Peleg, and he had other sons and daughters.

18 Peleg lived thirty years, and became the father of Reu;

19 and Peleg lived two hundred and nine years after he became the father of Reu, and he had other sons and daughters.

11:1–9 Chronologically earlier than ch. 10, this section provides the main reason for the scattering of the peoples listed there. The narrative is a beautiful example of inverted or hourglass structure (see Introduction: Literary Features).

11:1 the whole earth. The survivors of the flood and their descendants (see vv. 4,8–9).

11:3 brick for stone, and . . . tar for mortar. Stone and mortar were used as building materials in Canaan. Stone was scarce in Mesopotamia, however, so mud brick and tar were used (as indicated by archaeological excavations).

11:4 us . . . ourselves . . . us . . . ourselves . . . we. The people's plans were egotistical and proud. tower. The typical Mesopotamian temple-tower, known as a ziggurat, was square at the base and had sloping, stepped sides that led upward to a small shrine at the top. will reach into heaven. A similar ziggurat may be described in 28:12. Other Mesopotamian ziggurats were given names demonstrating that they, too, were meant to serve as staircases from earth to heaven: "The House of the Link between Heaven and Earth" (at Larsa), "The House of the Seven Guides of Heaven and Earth" (at Borsippa), "The House of the Foundation-Platform of Heaven and Earth" (at Babylon), "The House of the Mountain of the Universe" (at Asshur). name. In the OT, "name" also refers to reputation, fame or renown. (The Nephilim were "men of renown [lit. 'name']," 6:4.) At Babel (see note on v. 9) rebellious man undertook a united and godless effort to establish for himself, by a titanic human enterprise, a world renown by which he would dominate God's creation (cf. 10:8–12; 2 Sam 18:18). scattered. See note on v. 8.

11:6 they began . . . and now. If the whole human race remained united in the proud attempt to take its destiny into its own hands and, by its man-centered efforts, to seize the reins of history, there would be no limit to its unrestrained rebellion against God. The kingdom of man would displace and exclude the kingdom of God.

11:7 let Us. See notes on 1:1,26. God's "Come, let Us" from heaven counters proud man's "Come, let us" (v. 4) from earth. not understand one another's speech. Without a common language, joint effort became impossible (see v. 8).

11:8 scattered. See v. 4; 9:19. God dispersed the people because of their rebellious pride. Even the greatest of human powers cannot defy God and long survive.

11:9 Babel. That is, Babylon (see NASB marg.). The word is of Akkadian origin and means "gateway to a god" (Jacob's stairway was similarly called "gate of heaven"; see 28:17). confused. The Hebrew word used here (balal) sounds like "Babel," the Hebrew word for Babylon and the origin of the English word "babel."

11:10–26 A ten-name genealogy, like that of Seth (see 5:3–31; see also note on 5:5). Unlike the Sethite genealogy, however, the genealogy of Shem does not give total figures for the ages of the men at death and does not end each paragraph with "and he died." It covers the centuries between Shem and Abram as briefly as possible.

11:10 generations. See note on 2:4.

20 Reu lived thirty-two years, and became the father of Serug;
21 and Reu lived two hundred and seven years after he became the father of Serug, and he had other sons and daughters.
22 Serug lived thirty years, and became the father of Nahor;
23 and Serug lived two hundred years after he became the father of Nahor, and he had other sons and daughters.
24 Nahor lived twenty-nine years, and became the father of [a]Terah;
25 and Nahor lived one hundred and nineteen years after he became the father of Terah, and he had other sons and daughters.
26 Terah lived seventy years, and became [a]the father of Abram, Nahor and Haran.
27 Now these are the records of the generations of Terah. Terah became the father of Abram, Nahor and Haran; and [a]Haran became the father of [b]Lot.
28 Haran died [1]in the presence of his father Terah in the land of his birth, in [a]Ur of the Chaldeans.
29 Abram and [a]Nahor took wives for themselves. The name of Abram's wife was [b]Sarai; and the name of Nahor's wife was [c]Milcah, the daughter of Haran, the father of Milcah [1]and Iscah.
30 [a]Sarai was barren; she had no child.
31 Terah took Abram his son, and Lot the son of Haran, his grandson, and Sarai his daughter-in-law, his son Abram's wife; and they went out [1]together from [a]Ur of the Chaldeans in order to enter the land of Canaan; and they went as far as Haran, and [2]settled there.

Abram Journeys to Egypt

12 Now [a]the LORD said to Abram,
"[1]Go forth from your country,
And from your relatives
And from your father's house,
To the land which I will show you;
2 And [a]I will make you a great nation,
And [b]I will bless you,
And make your name great;
And so [1][c]you shall be a blessing;
3 And [a]I will bless those who bless you,
And the one who [1]curses you I will [2]curse.
[b]And in you all the families of the earth will be blessed."
4 So Abram went forth as the LORD had spoken to him; and [a]Lot went with him. Now Abram was seventy-five years old when he departed from Haran.
5 Abram took Sarai his wife and Lot his nephew, and all their [a]possessions which they had accumulated, and [b]the [1]persons which they had acquired in Haran, and they [2]set out for the land of Canaan; [c]thus they came to the land of Canaan.
6 Abram passed through the land as far as the site of [a]Shechem, to the [1]oak of Moreh. Now the Canaanite was then in the land.
7 The LORD [a]appeared to Abram and said, "[b]To your [1]descendants I will give this land." So he built [c]an altar there to the LORD who had appeared to him.

11:26 Terah . . . became the father of Abram, Nahor and Haran. As in the case of Shem, Ham and Japheth, the names of the three sons may not be in chronological order by age (see 9:24; see also 10:21). Haran died while his father was still alive (see v. 28).
11:27 generations. See note on 2:4.
11:28 Ur of the Chaldeans. Possibly in northern Mesopotamia, but more likely the site on the Euphrates in southern Iraq excavated by Leonard Woolley between 1922 and 1934. Ruins and artifacts from Ur reveal a civilization and culture that reached high levels before Abram's time. King Ur-Nammu, who may have been Abram's contemporary, is famous for his law code.
11:30 Sarai was barren. The sterility of Abram's wife (see 15:2–3; 17:17) emphasized the fact that God's people would not come by natural generation from the post-Babel peoples. God was bringing a new humanity into being, of whom Abram was father (17:5), just as Adam and Noah were fathers of the fallen human race.
11:31 they went as far as Haran. In Hebrew the name of the town is spelled differently from that of Abram's brother (v. 26). The moon-god was worshiped at both Ur and Haran, and since Terah was an idolater (see Josh 24:2) he probably felt at home in either place. Haran was a flourishing caravan city in the 19th century B.C. In the 18th century it was ruled by Amorites (see note on 10:16).
12:1 said. God had spoken to Abram "when he was in Mesopotamia, before he lived in Haran" (Acts 7:2). Go forth . . . show you. Abram must leave the settled world of the post-Babel nations and begin a pilgrimage with God to a better world of God's making (see 24:7).
12:2–3 God's promise to Abram has a sevenfold structure: (1) "I will make you a great nation," (2) "I will bless you," (3) "and make your name great," (4) "you shall be a blessing," (5) "I will bless those who bless you," (6) "the one who curses you I will curse," and (7) "in you all the families of the earth will be blessed." God's original blessing on all mankind (1:28) would be restored and fulfilled through Abram and his offspring. In various ways and degrees, these promises were reaffirmed to Abram (v. 7; 15:5–21; 17:4–8; 18:18–19; 22:17–18), to Isaac (26:2–4), to Jacob (28:13–15; 35:11–12; 46:3) and to Moses (Ex 3:6–8; 6:2–8). The seventh promise is quoted in Acts 3:25 with reference to Peter's Jewish listeners (see Acts 3:12)—Abram's physical descendants—and in Gal 3:8 with reference to Paul's Gentile listeners—Abram's spiritual descendants.
12:4 Abram went forth as the LORD had spoken to him. See Heb 11:8. Prompt obedience grounded in faith characterized this patriarch throughout his life (see 17:23; 21:14; 22:3). Lot went with him. See 13:1,5. Lot at first was little more than Abram's ward. seventy-five years old. Although advanced in age at the time of his call, Abram would live for another full century (see 25:7; see also note on 5:5).
12:5 persons which they had acquired. Wealthy people in that ancient world always had servants to help them with their flocks and herds (see 15:3; 24:2). Not all servants were slaves; many were voluntarily employed.
12:6 site of Shechem, to the oak of Moreh. See perhaps 35:4; Judg 9:6,37. A famous sanctuary was located at Shechem in central Canaan, and a large tree was often a conspicuous feature at such holy places. But Abram worshiped the Lord there, not the local deity.
12:7 The LORD appeared. The Lord frequently appeared visibly to Abram and to others, but not in all His glory (see Ex 33:18–20; John 1:18). an altar. The first of several that Abram built at places

8 Then he proceeded from there to the mountain on the east of Bethel, and pitched his tent, with [a]Bethel on the west and Ai on the east; and there he built an altar to the LORD and [b]called upon the name of the LORD.

9 Abram journeyed on, continuing toward [a]the [1]Negev.

10 Now there was [a]a famine in the land; so Abram went down to Egypt to sojourn there, for the famine was [b]severe in the land.

11 It came about when he [1]came near to Egypt, that he said to Sarai his wife, "See now, I know that you are a [2][a]beautiful woman;

12 [a]and when the Egyptians see you, they will say, 'This is his wife'; and they will kill me, but they will let you live.

13 "Please say that you are [a]my sister so that it may go well with me because of you, and that [1][b]I may live on account of you."

14 It came about when Abram came into Egypt, the Egyptians [1]saw that the woman was very beautiful.

15 Pharaoh's officials saw her and praised her to Pharaoh; and [a]the woman was taken into Pharaoh's house.

16 Therefore [a]he treated Abram well for her sake; and [1][b]gave him sheep and oxen and donkeys and male and female servants and female donkeys and camels.

17 But the LORD [a]struck Pharaoh and his house with great plagues because of Sarai, Abram's wife.

18 Then Pharaoh called Abram and said, "[a]What is this you have done to me? Why did you not tell me that she was your wife?

19 "Why did you say, 'She is my sister,' so that I took her for my wife? Now then, [1]here is your wife, take her and go."

20 Pharaoh commanded his men concerning him; and they [1]escorted him away, with his wife and all that belonged to him.

Abram and Lot

13 So Abram went up from Egypt to [a]the [1]Negev, he and his wife and all that belonged to him, and Lot with him.

2 Now Abram was [a]very rich in livestock, in silver and in gold.

3 He went [1]on his journeys from the [2]Negev as far as Bethel, to the place where his tent had been at the beginning, [a]between Bethel and Ai,

4 to the place of the [a]altar which he had made there formerly; and there Abram called on the name of the LORD.

5 Now [a]Lot, who went with Abram, also had flocks and herds and tents.

6 And [a]the land could not [1]sustain them [2]while dwelling together, [b]for their possessions were so great that they were not able to remain together.

7 [a]And there was strife between the herdsmen of Abram's livestock and the herdsmen of Lot's livestock. Now [b]the Canaanite and the Perizzite were dwelling then in the land.

8 [a]So Abram said to Lot, "Please let there be no strife between you and me, nor between my herdsmen and your herdsmen, for we are brothers.

9 "Is not the whole land before you? Please separate from me; if to the left, then I will go to the right; or if to the right, then I will go to the left."

10 Lot lifted up his eyes and saw all the [1][a]valley of the Jordan, that it was well watered everywhere—this was before the LORD [b]destroyed Sodom and Gomorrah—like where he had memorable spiritual experiences (see v. 8; 13:18; 22:9). He acknowledged that the land of Canaan belonged to the Lord in a special way (see Ex 20:24; Josh 22:19).

12:8 Bethel. Just north of Jerusalem, it was an important town in the religious history of God's ancient people (see, e.g., 28:10–22; 35:1–8; 1 Kin 12:26–29). Only Jerusalem is mentioned more often in the OT.

12:9 Negev. The dry wasteland stretching southward from Beersheba. The same Hebrew word is translated "southward" in 13:14.

12:10 went down to Egypt . . . for the famine was severe. Egypt's food supply was usually plentiful because the Nile's water supply was normally dependable.

12:11 beautiful. See v. 14. She was 65 at the time (see v. 4; 17:17). The Genesis Apocryphon (one of the Dead Sea Scrolls) praises Sarai's beauty. Abram's experience in this episode foreshadows Israel's later experience in Egypt, as the author of Genesis, writing after the exodus, was very much aware. Abram was truly the "father" of Israel.

12:13 say that you are my sister. If Pharaoh were to add Sarai to his harem while knowing that she was Abram's wife, he would have to kill Abram first.

12:15 Pharaoh. See note on Ex 1:11.

12:16 Livestock was an important measure of wealth in ancient times (see 13:2). male and female servants. See note on v. 5. camels. Although camels were not widely used until much later (see, e.g., Judg 6:5), archaeology has confirmed their occasional domestication as early as the patriarchal period.

12:19 Why did you say, 'She is my sister' . . . ? Egyptian ethics emphasized the importance of absolute truthfulness, and Abram was put in the uncomfortable position of being exposed as a liar.

12:20 Pharaoh commanded his men. See Ex 12:31–32.

13:2 very rich. Abram left Egypt with greater wealth than he had before—even as Israel would later leave Egypt laden with wealth from the Egyptians (Ex 3:22; 12:36).

13:4 Abram called on the name of the LORD. As he had done earlier at the same place (see 12:8).

13:6 the land could not sustain them. Livestock made up the greater part of their possessions, and the region around Bethel and Ai did not have enough water or pasture for such large flocks and herds (see v. 10; 26:17–22,32; 36:7).

13:7 the Perizzite. May refer to rural inhabitants in contrast to city dwellers.

13:8 brothers. Relatives (as often in the Bible).

13:9 Abram, always generous, gave his young nephew the opportunity to choose the land he wanted. He himself would not obtain wealth except by the Lord's blessing (see 14:22–24).

13:10 valley. The Hebrew for this word picturesquely describes this section of the Jordan Valley as oval in shape. like the land of Egypt. Because of its abundant and dependable water supply (see note on 12:10), Egypt came the closest to matching Eden's ideal conditions (see 2:10). the LORD destroyed Sodom and Gomorrah. See especially 18:16–19:29. The names of Sodom and Gomorrah became proverbial for vile wickedness and for divine judgment on

[c]the garden of the LORD, [d]like the land of Egypt as you go to [e]Zoar.

11 So Lot chose for himself all the [1]valley of the Jordan, and Lot journeyed eastward. Thus they separated from each other.

12 Abram [1]settled in the land of Canaan, while Lot [1]settled in [a]the cities of the [2]valley, and moved his tents as far as Sodom.

13 Now [a]the men of Sodom were wicked [1]exceedingly and [b]sinners against the LORD.

14 The LORD said to Abram, after Lot had separated from him, "[a]Now lift up your eyes and look from the place where you are, [b]northward and southward and eastward and westward;

15 [a]for all the land which you see, [b]I will give it to you and to your [1]descendants forever.

16 "I will make your [1]descendants [a]as the dust of the earth, so that if anyone can number the dust of the earth, then your [1]descendants can also be numbered.

17 "Arise, [a]walk about the land through its length and breadth; for [b]I will give it to you."

18 Then Abram moved his tent and came and dwelt by the [1a]oaks of Mamre, which are in Hebron, and there he built [b]an altar to the LORD.

War of the Kings

14 And it came about in the days of Amraphel king of [a]Shinar, Arioch king of Ellasar, Chedorlaomer king of [b]Elam, and Tidal king of [1]Goiim,

2 that they made war with Bera king of Sodom, and with Birsha king of Gomorrah, Shinab king of [a]Admah, and Shemeber king of [b]Zeboiim, and the king of Bela (that is, [c]Zoar).

3 All these [1]came as allies to [a]the valley of Siddim (that is, [b]the Salt Sea).

sin. Archaeology has confirmed that, prior to this catastrophe, the now dry area east and southeast of the Dead Sea (see note on 10:19) had ample water and was well populated.

13:12 Lot . . . moved his tents as far as Sodom. Since the men of Sodom were known to be wicked (see v. 13), Lot was flirting with temptation by choosing to live near them. Contrast the actions of Abram (v. 18).

13:14 Lift up your eyes and look. See Deut 34:1–4. Lot and Abram are a study in contrasts. The former looked selfishly and coveted (v. 10); the latter looked as God commanded and was blessed.

13:16 as the dust of the earth. A simile (common in the ancient Near East) for the large number of Abram's offspring (see 28:14; 2 Chr 1:9; see also Num 23:10). Similar phrases are: "as the stars of the heavens" and "as the sand which is on the seashore" (22:17).

13:17 walk about the land through its length and breadth. Either to inspect it or to exercise authority over it, demonstrating the promised ownership.

13:18 oaks. See note on 12:6. Mamre. A town named after one of Abram's allies (see 14:13). Hebron. Kiriath-arba (see note on 23:2). altar. See note on 12:7.

14:1 Amraphel king of Shinar. Not the great Babylonian king Hammurapi, as once thought. Elam. See note on 10:22. Goiim. The Hebrew word means "Gentile nations" and may be a common noun here (as in Is 9:1).

14:3 Salt Sea. The Dead Sea, whose water contains a 25 percent concentration of chloride and bromide salts, making it the densest large body of water on earth.

14:6 Horites. Formerly thought to be cave dwellers (the Hebrew word hor means "cave"), they are now known to have been the Hurrians, a non-Semitic people widely dispersed throughout the ancient Near East.

14:7 En-mishpat. Another name for Kadesh, it means "spring of judgment/justice." It is called Meribah-kadesh, "quarreling/litigation at Kadesh," in Deut 32:51 (see Num 27:14). Kadesh. Located in the southwest Negev (see note on 12:9), it was later called Kadesh-barnea (see Num 32:8). Amalekites. A tribal people living in the Negev and in the Sinai peninsula. Amorites. See note on 10:16.

14:10 tar pits. Lumps of asphalt are often seen even today floating in the southern end of the Dead Sea. hill country. The Dead Sea, the lowest body of water on earth (about 1,300 feet below sea level), is flanked by hills on both sides.

14:12 Lot . . . was living in Sodom. He moved into the town and was living among its wicked people (see 2 Pet 2:8). Though Lot was "righteous," he was now in danger of imitating the "sensual conduct of unprincipled men" (2 Pet 2:7).

14:13 Hebrew. Abram, the father of the Hebrew people, is the first Biblical character to be called a Hebrew (see "Eber" in note on 10:21). Usually an ethnic term in the Bible, it was normally used by non-Isra-

14 When Abram heard that [a]his [1]relative had been taken captive, he [2]led out his trained men, [b]born in his house, three hundred and eighteen, and went in pursuit as far as [c]Dan.

15 [a]He divided [1]his forces against them by night, he and his servants, and [2]defeated them, and pursued them as far as Hobah, which is [3]north of [b]Damascus.

16 He [a]brought back all the goods, and also brought back [b]his [1]relative Lot with his possessions, and also the women, and the people.

God's Promise to Abram

17 Then after his return from the [1]defeat of Chedorlaomer and the kings who were with him, [a]the king of Sodom went out to meet him at the valley of Shaveh (that is, [b]the King's Valley).

18 And [a]Melchizedek king of Salem brought out [b]bread and wine; now he was a [c]priest of [1]God Most High.

19 He blessed him and said,

"Blessed be Abram of [1]God Most High,
[2a]Possessor of heaven and earth;

20 And blessed be [1]God Most High,
Who has delivered your enemies into your hand."

[a]He gave him a tenth of all.

21 The king of Sodom said to Abram, "Give the [1]people to me and take the goods for yourself."

elites in a disparaging sense (see, e.g., 39:17). Outside the Bible, people known as the Habiru/Apiru (a word probably related to Hebrew) are referred to as a propertyless, dependent, immigrant (foreign) social class rather than as a specific ethnic group. Negative descriptions of them are given in the Amarna letters (clay tablets found in Egypt). Mamre. A town was named after him (see 13:18 and note).

14:14 his trained men, born in his house, three hundred and eighteen. A clear indication of Abram's great wealth. The Hebrew for "trained men" is found only here in the Bible. A related word used elsewhere in very ancient texts means "armed retainers." Dan. This well-known city in the north was not given the name "Dan" until the days of the judges (see Judg 18:29). The designation here is thus an editorial updating subsequent to Moses' time.

14:17 King's Valley. Near Jerusalem, probably to the east (see 2 Sam 18:18).

14:18 Melchizedek king of Salem . . . priest. See Heb 7:1. In ancient times, particularly in non-Israelite circles, kingly and priestly duties were often performed by the same individual. "Melchizedek" means "My king is righteousness" or "king of righteousness" (see Heb 7:2). "Salem" is a shortened form of "Jerusalem" (see Ps 76:2) and is related to the Hebrew word for "peace" (see Heb 7:2). The name of Adoni-zedek, another king of Jerusalem (see Josh 10:1), is very similar to that of Melchizedek and means "My lord is righteousness" or "lord of righteousness." bread and wine. An ordinary meal (see Judg 19:19), in no way related to the NT ordinance of communion. Melchizedek offered the food and drink as a show of friendship and hospitality.

14:19 God Most High, Possessor of heaven and earth. The titles "most high," "lord of heaven" and "creator of earth" (see NASB marg.) were frequently applied to the chief Canaanite deity in ancient times. Terminology and location (Jerusalem was in central Canaan) thus indicate that Melchizedek was probably a Canaanite king-priest. But Abram, by identifying Melchizedek's "God Most High" with "the LORD" (see v. 22), bore testimony to the one true God, whom Melchizedek had come to know.

14:20 He gave him a tenth of all. Although Melchizedek's view of God was no doubt deficient, Abram's response to his blessing seems to indicate that he recognized that Melchizedek served the same God as he (see v. 18). So Abram took the occasion to offer him a tithe of his spoils for God Most High. A tenth was the king's share (see 1 Sam 8:15,17). Melchizedek is later spoken of as a type or prefiguration of Jesus, our "great high priest" (Heb 4:14), whose priesthood is therefore in "the order of Melchizedek," not "according to the order of Aaron" (Heb 7:11; see Ps 110:4).

14:22 I have sworn. Lit. "I have raised my hand." The raising of the hand when making an oath was common practice in ancient times (see Deut 32:40; Rev 10:5–6).

14:23 I will not take . . . anything that is yours. Cf. 2 Kin 5:16. Abram refused to let himself become obligated to anyone but the Lord. Had he done so, this Canaanite king might later have claimed the right of kingship over Abram.

15:1 I am a shield to you. Whether "shield" or "sovereign" is meant (it can be translated either way), the reference is to the Lord as Abram's King. As elsewhere, "shield" stands for king (e.g., Deut 33:29; 2 Sam 22:3; Ps 7:10; 84:9). Your reward shall be very great. Though Abram was quite rich (13:2), God Himself was Abram's greatest treasure (cf. Deut 10:9).

15:2 Eliezer of Damascus. A servant probably acquired by Abram on his journey southward from Haran (see 12:5). He may also be the unnamed "servant" of 24:2.

15:3–4 Ancient documents uncovered at Nuzi (see chart, p. xix) near Kirkuk on a branch of the Tigris River, as well as at other places, demonstrate that a childless man could adopt one of his own male servants to be heir and guardian of his estate. Abram apparently contemplated doing this with Eliezer, or perhaps had already done so.

"Now look toward the heavens, and [a]count the stars, if you are able to count them." And He said to him, "[b]So shall your [1]descendants be."

6 [a]Then he believed in the LORD; and He reckoned it to him as righteousness.

7 And He said to him, "I am the LORD who brought you out of [a]Ur of the Chaldeans, to [b]give you this land to [1]possess it."

8 He said, "O Lord [1]GOD, [a]how may I know that I will [2]possess it?"

9 So He said to him, "[1]Bring Me a three year old heifer, and a three year old female goat, and a three year old ram, and a turtledove, and a young pigeon."

10 Then he [1]brought all these to Him and [a]cut them [2]in two, and laid each half opposite the other; but he [b]did not cut the birds.

11 The birds of prey came down upon the carcasses, and Abram drove them away.

12 Now when the sun was going down, [a]a deep sleep fell upon Abram; and behold, [1]terror and great darkness fell upon him.

13 God said to Abram, "Know for certain that [a]your [1]descendants will be strangers in a land that is not theirs, [2]where [b]they will be enslaved and oppressed [c]four hundred years.

14 "But I will also judge the nation whom they will serve, and afterward they will come out [a]with [1]many possessions.

15 "As for you, [a]you shall go to your fathers in peace; you will be buried at a good old age.

16 "Then in [a]the fourth generation they will return here, for [b]the iniquity of the Amorite is not yet complete."

17 It came about when the sun had set, that it was very dark, and behold, there appeared a smoking oven and a flaming torch which [a]passed between these pieces.

18 On that day the LORD made a covenant with Abram, saying,

"[a]To your [1]descendants I have given this land,
From [b]the river of Egypt as far as the great river, the river Euphrates:

19 [a]the Kenite and the Kenizzite and the Kadmonite

20 and the Hittite and the Perizzite and the Rephaim

21 and the Amorite and the Canaanite and the Girgashite and the Jebusite."

Sarai and Hagar

16 Now [a]Sarai, Abram's wife had borne him no children, and she had [b]an Egyptian maid whose name was Hagar.

2 So Sarai said to Abram, "Now behold, the LORD has prevented me from bearing children. [a]Please go in to my maid; perhaps I will [1]obtain children through her." And Abram listened to the voice of Sarai.

3 After Abram had [1]lived [a]ten years in the land of Canaan, Abram's wife Sarai took 15:5 count the stars, if you are able. See 22:17. More than 8,000 stars are clearly visible in the darkness of a Near Eastern night. So shall your descendants be. The promise was initially fulfilled in Egypt (see Ex 1; see also Deut 1:10; Heb 11:12). Ultimately, all who belong to Christ are Abram's offspring (see Gal 3:29).

15:6 Abram is the "father of all who believe" (Rom 4:11), and this verse is the first specific reference to faith in God's promises. It also teaches that God graciously responds to a man's faith by crediting righteousness to him (see Heb 11:7).

15:7 I am the LORD who brought you out. Ancient royal covenants often began with (1) the self-identification of the king and (2) a brief historical prologue, as here (see Ex 20:2).

15:8 how may I know . . . ? Cf. Luke 1:18. Abram believed God's promise of a son, but he asked for a guarantee of the promise of the land.

15:9 three year old. The prime age for most sacrificial animals (see 1 Sam 1:24).

15:10 he did not cut the birds. Perhaps because they were too small (see Lev 1:17).

15:13 land that is not theirs. Egypt (see 46:3–4). four hundred years. A round number. According to Ex 12:40 Israel spent 430 years in Egypt.

15:15 The fulfillment is recorded in 25:8.

15:16 in the fourth generation. That is, after 400 years (see v. 13). A "generation" was the age of a man when his first son (from the legal standpoint) was born—in Abram's case, 100 years (see 21:5). the iniquity of the Amorite is not yet complete. Just how sinful many Canaanite religious practices were is now known from archaeological artifacts and from their own epic literature, discovered at Ras Shamra (ancient Ugarit) on the north Syrian coast beginning in 1929 (see chart, p. xix). Their "worship" was polytheistic and included child sacrifice, idolatry, religious prostitution and divination (cf. Deut 18:9–12). God was patient in judgment, even with the wicked Canaanites.

15:17 smoking oven and a flaming torch. Symbolizing the presence of God (see Ex 3:2; 14:24; 19:18; 1 Kin 18:38; Acts 2:3–4). passed between these pieces. Of the slaughtered animals (v. 10). In ancient times the parties solemnized a covenant by walking down an aisle flanked by the pieces of slaughtered animals (see Jer 34:18–19). The practice signified a self-maledictory oath: "May it be so done to me if I do not keep my oath and pledge." Having credited Abram's faith as righteousness, God now graciously ministered to his need for assurance concerning the land. He granted Abram a promissory covenant, as He had to Noah (see 9:9 and note; see also chart, p. 16).

15:18 made a covenant. Lit. "cut a covenant," referring to the slaughtering of the animals (the same Hebrew verb is translated "made" and "cut" in Jer 34:18). I have given this land. The Lord initially fulfilled this covenant through Joshua (see Josh 1:2–9; 21:43; see also 1 Kin 4:20–21). river of Egypt. Probably the modern Wadi el-Arish in northeastern Sinai.

15:19–21 A similar list of ten peoples is found in 10:15–18 (see notes there). The number ten signifies completeness.

16:1 no children. See note on 11:30. Egyptian. Perhaps Hagar was acquired while Abram and Sarai were in Egypt (see 12:10–20).

16:2 The LORD has prevented me from bearing children. Some time had passed since the revelation of 15:4 (see 16:3), and Sarai impatiently implied that God was not keeping His promise. go in to my maid. An ancient custom, illustrated in Old Assyrian marriage contracts, the Code of Hammurapi and the Nuzi tablets (see note on 15:3–4), to ensure the birth of a male heir. Sarai would herself solve the problem of her barrenness.

16:3 ten years. Abram was now 85 years old (see 12:4; 16:16).

Hagar the Egyptian, her maid, and gave her to her husband Abram as his wife.

4 He went in to Hagar, and she conceived; and when she saw that she had conceived, her mistress was despised in her sight.

5 And Sarai said to Abram, "[a]May the wrong done me be upon you. I gave my maid into your [1]arms, but when she saw that she had conceived, I was despised in her [2]sight. [b]May the LORD judge between [3]you and me."

6 But Abram said to Sarai, "Behold, your maid is in your [1]power; do to her what is good in your [2]sight." So Sarai treated her harshly, and [a]she fled from her presence.

7 Now [a]the angel of the LORD found her by a spring of water in the wilderness, by the spring on the way to [b]Shur.

8 He said, "Hagar, Sarai's maid, [a]where have you come from and where are you going?" And she said, "I am fleeing from the presence of my mistress Sarai."

9 Then the angel of the LORD said to her, "Return to your mistress, and submit yourself [1]to her authority."

10 Moreover, the [a]angel of the LORD said to her, "[b]I will greatly multiply your [1]descendants so that [2]they will be too many to count."

11 The angel of the LORD said to her further,

"Behold, you are with child,
And you will bear a son;
And you shall call his name [1]Ishmael,
Because [a]the LORD [2]has given heed to your affliction.

13 Then she called the name of the LORD who spoke to her, "[1]You are [2]a God who sees"; for she said, "[a]Have I even [3]remained alive here after seeing Him?"

14 Therefore the well was called [1]Beer-lahai-roi; behold, it is between [a]Kadesh and Bered.

Abraham and the Covenant of Circumcision

17 Now when Abram was ninety-nine years old, [a]the LORD appeared to Abram and said to him,

"I am [1]God [b]Almighty;
Walk before Me, and be [2c]blameless.
2 "I will [1]establish My [a]covenant between Me and you,
And I will [b]multiply you exceedingly."
3 Abram [a]fell on his face, and God talked with him, saying,
4 "As for Me, behold, My covenant is with you,
And you will be the father of a [a]multitude of nations.

16:4 mistress was despised. Peninnah acted similarly toward Hannah (see 1 Sam 1:6).

16:5 May the LORD judge between you and me. An expression of hostility or suspicion (see 31:53; see also 31:49).

16:7 the angel of the LORD. Since the angel of the Lord speaks for God in the first person (v. 10) and Hagar is said to name "the LORD who spoke to her, 'You are a God who sees' " (v. 13), the angel appears to be both distinguished from the Lord (in that he is called "messenger"—the Hebrew for "angel" means "messenger") and identified with Him. Similar distinction and identification can be found in 19:1,21; 31:11,13; Ex 3:2,4; Judg 2:1–5; 6:11–12,14; 13:3,6,8–11,13,15–17,20–23; Zech 3:1–6; 12:8. Traditional Christian interpretation has held that this "angel" was a preincarnate manifestation of Christ as God's Messenger-Servant. It may be, however, that, as the Lord's personal messenger who represented Him and bore His credentials, the angel could speak on behalf of (and so be identified with) the One who sent him (see especially 19:21; cf. 18:2,22; 19:2). Whether this "angel" was the second person of the Trinity remains therefore uncertain. Shur. Located east of Egypt (see 25:18; 1 Sam 15:7).

16:8 I am fleeing from the presence of my mistress. Not yet knowing exactly where she was going, Hagar answered only the first of the angel's questions.

16:10 A promise reaffirmed in 17:20 and fulfilled in 25:13–16.

16:11 Ishmael. See 17:20.

16:12 wild donkey. Away from human settlements, Ishmael would roam the desert like a wild donkey (see Job 24:5; Hos 8:9). to the east of. If the marginal rendering is correct ("in defiance of"), the hostility would be that between Sarai and Hagar (see vv. 4–6), which was passed on to their descendants (see 25:18).

16:13 Have I even remained alive here after seeing Him? Cf. Ex 33:23; to see God's face was believed to bring death (see 32:30; Ex 33:20).

16:14 Beer-lahai-roi. See NASB marg.; another possible translation that fits the context equally well is: "well of the one who sees me and who lives." Kadesh. See note on 14:7.

17:1 ninety-nine years old. Thirteen years had passed since Ishmael's birth (see 16:16; 17:24–25). appeared. See note on 12:7. I am. See note on 15:7. God Almighty. The Hebrew (El-Shaddai) perhaps means "God, the Mountain One," either highlighting the invincible power of God or referring to the mountains as God's symbolic home (see Ps 121:1). It was the special name by which God revealed Himself to the patriarchs (see Ex 6:3). Shaddai occurs 31 times in the book of Job and 17 times in the rest of the Bible. Walk before Me, and be blameless. Perhaps equivalent to "Walk with Me, and be blameless" (see notes on 5:22; 6:8–9). After Abram's and Sarai's attempt to obtain the promised offspring by using a surrogate mother, God appeared to Abram. The Lord made it clear that, if Abram was to receive God's promised and covenanted benefits, he must be God's faithful and obedient servant. His faith must be accompanied by the "obedience of faith" (Rom 1:5; see ch. 22).

17:2 My covenant. See 12:2–3; 13:14–16; 15:4–5. The covenant is God's. God calls it "My covenant" nine times in vv. 2–21, and He initiates (see 15:18), confirms (v. 2) and establishes (v. 7) it. multiply you. See 13:16 and note. Earlier God had covenanted to keep His promise concerning the land (ch. 15); here He broadens His covenant to include the promised offspring. See chart, p. 16.

5 "No longer shall your name be called
[1]Abram,
But [a]your name shall be
[2]Abraham;
For [b]I will make you the father of a multitude of nations.
6 "I will make you exceedingly fruitful, and I will make nations of you, and [a]kings will come forth from you.
7 "I will establish My covenant between Me and you and your [1]descendants after you throughout their generations for an [a]ever-

8 "[a]I will give to you and to your [1]descendants after you, the land of your sojournings, all the land of Canaan, for an everlasting possession; and [b]I will be their God."
9 God said further to Abraham, "Now as for you, [a]you shall keep My covenant, you and your [1]descendants after you throughout their generations.
10 "[a]This is My covenant, which you shall keep, between Me and you and your [1]descendants after you: every male among you shall out your generations, a servant who is born in the house or who is bought with money from any foreigner, who is not of your [1]descendants.

13 "A servant who is born in your house or [a]who is bought with your money shall surely be circumcised; thus shall My covenant be in your flesh for an everlasting covenant.
14 "But an uncircumcised male who is not circumcised in the flesh of his foreskin, that person shall be [a]cut off from his people; he has broken My covenant."
15 Then God said to Abraham, "As for Sarai your wife, you shall not call her name Sarai, but [1]Sarah shall be her name.
16 "I will bless her, and indeed I will give you [a]a son by her. Then I will bless her, and she shall be a mother of nations; [b]kings of peoples will [1]come from her."
17 Then Abraham [a]fell on his face and laughed, and said in his heart, "Will a child be born to a man one hundred years old? And [b]will Sarah, who is ninety years old, bear a child?"
18 And Abraham said to God, "Oh that Ishmael might live before You!"
19 But God said, "No, but Sarah your wife will bear you [a]a son, and you shall call his name [1]Isaac; and [b]I will establish My covenant with him for an everlasting covenant for his [2]descendants after him.

17:5 Abram . . . Abraham. The first name means "Exalted Father," probably in reference to God (i.e., "[God is] Exalted Father"); the second means "father of many," in reference to Abraham. your name shall be. By giving Abram a new name (see Neh 9:7) God marked him in a special way as His servant (see notes on 1:5; 2:19).
17:6 nations . . . kings. This promise came also to Sarah (v. 16) and was renewed to Jacob (35:11; see 48:19). It referred to the proliferation of Abraham's offspring, who, like the descendants of Noah (see ch. 10), would someday become many nations and spread over the earth. Ultimately it finds fulfillment in such passages as Rom 4:16–18; 15:8–12; Gal 3:29; Rev 7:9; 21:24.
17:7 everlasting. From God's standpoint (see vv. 13,19), but capable of being broken from man's standpoint (see v. 14; cf. Is 24:5; Jer 31:32). to be God to you. The heart of God's covenant promise, repeated over and over in the OT (see, e.g., v. 8; Jer 24:7; 31:33; Ezek 34:30–31; Hos 2:23; Zech 8:8). This is God's pledge to be the protector of His people and the One who provides for their well-being and guarantees their future blessing (see 15:1).
17:8 land. See 12:7; 15:18; Acts 7:5. everlasting possession. The land, though an everlasting possession given by God, could be temporarily lost because of disobedience (see Deut 28:62–63; 30:1–10).
17:9 as for you. Balances the "As for Me" of v. 4. Having reviewed His covenanted commitment to Abraham (see 15:8–21), and having broadened it to include the promise of offspring, God now called upon Abraham to make a covenanted commitment to Him—to "Walk before Me, and be blameless" (v. 1). keep My covenant. Participation in the blessings of the Abrahamic covenant was conditioned on obedience (see 18:19; 22:18; 26:4–5).
17:10 circumcised. Circumcision was God's appointed "sign of the covenant" (v. 11), which signified Abraham's covenanted commitment to the Lord—that the Lord alone would be his God, whom he would trust and serve. It symbolized a self-maledictory oath (analogous to the oath to which God had submitted Himself; see note on 15:17): "If I am not loyal in faith and obedience to the Lord, may the sword of the Lord cut off me and my offspring (see v. 14) as I have cut off my foreskin." Thus Abraham was to place himself under the rule of the Lord as his King, consecrating himself, his offspring and all he possessed to the service of the Lord. For circumcision as signifying consecration to the Lord see Ex 6:12; Lev 19:23; 26:41; Deut 10:16; 30:6; Jer 4:4; 6:10; 9:25–26; Ezek 44:7,9. Other nations also practiced circumcision (see Jer 9:25–26; Ezek 32:18–19), but not for the covenant reasons that Israel did.
17:11 sign of the covenant. See notes on 9:12; 15:17. As the covenant sign, circumcision also (see note on v. 10) marked Abraham as the one to whom God had made covenant commitment (15:7–21) in response to Abraham's faith, which He "reckoned . . . to him as righteousness" (15:6). Paul comments on this aspect of the covenant sign in Rom 4:11.
17:12 eight days old. See 21:4 and Acts 7:8 (Isaac); Luke 1:59 (John the Baptist); 2:21 (Jesus); Phil 3:5 (Paul). Abraham was 99 years old when the newly initiated rite of circumcision was performed on him (see v. 24). The Arabs, who consider themselves descendants of Ishmael, are circumcised at the age of 13 (see v. 25). For them, as for other peoples, it serves as a rite of transition from childhood to manhood, thus into full participation in the community.
17:14 cut off from his people. Removed from the covenant people by divine judgment (see note on v. 10).
17:15 Sarai . . . Sarah. Both names evidently mean "princess." The renaming stressed that she was to be the mother of nations and kings (see v. 16) and thus to serve the Lord's purpose (see note on v. 5).
17:16 son. Fulfilled in Isaac (see 21:2–3).
17:17 laughed. In temporary disbelief (see 18:12; cf. Rom 4:19–21). The verb is a pun on the name "Isaac," which means "he laughs" (see v. 19; 18:12–15; 21:3,6).

20 "As for Ishmael, I have heard you;
behold, I will bless him, and [a]will make him fruitful and will multiply him exceedingly.
[b]He shall [1]become the father of twelve princes, and I will make him a [c]great nation.
21 "But My covenant I will establish with [a]Isaac, whom [b]Sarah will bear to you at this season next year."
22 When He finished talking with him,
[a]God went up from Abraham.
23 Then Abraham took Ishmael his son, and all the servants who were [a]born in his house and all who were bought with his money, every male among the men of Abraham's household, and circumcised the flesh of their foreskin in the very same day, [b]as God had said to him.
24 Now Abraham was ninety-nine years old when [a]he was circumcised in the flesh of his foreskin.
25 And [a]Ishmael his son was thirteen years old when he was circumcised in the flesh of his foreskin.
26 In the very same day Abraham was circumcised, and Ishmael his son.
27 All the men of his household, who were [a]born in the house or bought with money from a foreigner, were circumcised with him.

you may [2]refresh yourselves; after that you may go on, since you have [3]visited your ser-

said."
6 So Abraham hurried into the tent to Sarah, and said, "[1]Quickly, prepare three [2]measures of fine flour, knead it and make bread cakes."
7 Abraham also ran to the herd, and took a tender and [1]choice calf and gave it to the servant, and he hurried to prepare it.
8 He took curds and milk and the calf which he had prepared, and placed it before them; and he was standing by them under

9 Then they said to him, "Where is Sarah your wife?" And he said, "There, in the tent."
10 He said, "[a]I will surely return to you [1]at ing at the tent door, which was behind him.

17:20 multiply him. See note on 13:16. father of twelve princes. Fulfilled in 25:16.
17:21 Paul cites the choice of Isaac (and not Ishmael) as one proof of God's sovereign right to choose to save by grace alone (see Rom 9:6–13). at this season next year. See 21:2.
17:22 God went up from Abraham. A solemn conclusion to the conversation.
17:23 in the very same day. Abraham was characterized by prompt obedience (see note on 12:4).
18:1 appeared. See note on 12:7. oaks. See note on 12:6. Mamre. See note on 13:18. the heat of the day. Early afternoon.
18:2 three men. At least two of the "men" were angels (see 19:1; see also note on 16:7). The third may have been the Lord Himself (see vv. 1,13,17,20,26,33; see especially v. 22). ran. The story in vv. 2–8 illustrates Near Eastern hospitality in several ways: 1. Abraham gave prompt attention to the needs of his guests (vv. 2,6–7). 2. He bowed low to the ground (v. 2). 3. He politely addressed one of his guests as "my lord" and called himself "your servant" (vv. 3,5), a common way of speaking when addressing a superior (see, e.g., 19:2,18–19). 4. He acted as if it would be a favor to him if they allowed him to serve them (vv. 3–5). 5. He asked that water be brought to wash their feet (see v. 4), an act of courtesy to refresh a traveler in a hot, dusty climate (see 19:2; 24:32; 43:24). 6. He prepared a lavish meal for them (vv. 5–8; a similar lavish offering was presented to a divine messenger in Judg 6:18–19; 13:15–16). 7. He stood nearby (v. 8), assuming the posture of a servant (see v. 22), to meet their every wish. Heb 13:2 is probably a reference to vv. 2–8 and 19:1–3.
18:6 bread cakes. Probably round, thin loaves.
18:10 See 17:21. Paul quotes this promise of Isaac's birth (see v. 14) in Rom 9:9 and relates it to Abraham's spiritual offspring (see Rom 9:7–8).
18:12 laughed. In disbelief, as also Abraham had at first (see note on 17:17).
18:14 Is anything too difficult for the LORD? The answer is no, for Sarah as well as for her descendants Mary and Elizabeth (see Luke 1:34–37). Nothing within God's will, including creation (see Jer 32:17) and redemption (see Matt 19:25–26), is impossible for Him.
18:16 Sodom. See notes on 10:19; 13:10.
18:17 Abraham was God's friend (see v. 19; 2 Chr 20:7; James 2:23; see also Is 41:8, but see note there). And because he was now 18 since Abraham will surely become a great and [1]mighty nation, and in him [a]all the nations of the earth will be blessed?

19 "For I have [1][a]chosen him, so that he may [b]command his children and his household after him to [c]keep the way of the LORD by doing righteousness and justice, so that the LORD may bring upon Abraham [d]what He has spoken about him."

20 And the LORD said, "[a]The outcry of Sodom and Gomorrah is indeed great, and their sin is exceedingly grave.

21 "I will [a]go down now, and see if they have done entirely according to its outcry, which has come to Me; and if not, I will know."

22 Then [a]the men turned away from there and went toward Sodom, while Abraham was still standing before [b]the LORD.

23 Abraham came near and said, "[a]Will You indeed sweep away the righteous with the wicked?

24 "Suppose there are fifty righteous within the city; will You indeed sweep it away and not [1]spare the place for the sake of the fifty righteous who are in it?

25 "Far be it from You to do [1]such a thing, to slay the righteous with the wicked, so that the righteous and the wicked are treated alike. Far be it from You! Shall not [a]the Judge of all the earth [2]deal justly?"

26 So the LORD said, "[a]If I find in Sodom fifty righteous within the city, then I will [1]spare the whole place on their account."

27 And Abraham replied, "Now behold, I have [1]ventured to speak to the Lord, although I am but [a]dust and ashes.

28 "Suppose the fifty righteous are lacking five, will You destroy the whole city because of five?" And He said, "I will not destroy it if I find forty-five there."

29 He spoke to Him yet again and said, "Suppose forty are found there?" And He said, "I will not do it on account of the forty."

30 Then he said, "Oh may the Lord not be angry, and I shall speak; suppose thirty are found there?" And He said, "I will not do it if I find thirty there."

31 And he said, "Now behold, I have [1]ventured to speak to the Lord; suppose twenty are found there?" And He said, "I will not destroy it on account of the twenty."

32 Then he said, "[a]Oh may the Lord not be angry, and I shall speak only this once; suppose ten are found there?" And He said, "I will not destroy it on account of the ten."

33 As soon as He had finished speaking to Abraham [a]the LORD departed, and Abraham returned to his place.

The Doom of Sodom

19 Now the [a]two angels came to Sodom in the evening as Lot was sitting in the gate of Sodom. When [b]Lot saw them, he rose to meet them and [1]bowed down with his face to the ground.

2 And he said, "Now behold, my lords, please turn aside into your servant's house, and spend the night, and wash your feet; then you may rise early and go on your way." They said however, "No, but we shall spend the night in the square."

3 Yet he urged them strongly, so they turned aside to him and entered his house;

God's covenant friend (see Job 29:4), God convened His heavenly council (see note on 1:26) at Abraham's tent. There He announced His purpose for Abraham (v. 10) and for the wicked of the plain (vv. 20–21)—redemption and judgment. He thus even gave Abraham opportunity to speak in His court and to intercede for the righteous in Sodom and Gomorrah. Abraham was later called a prophet (20:7). Here, in Abraham, is exemplified the great privilege of God's covenant people throughout the ages: God has revealed His purposes to them and allows their voice to be heard (in intercession) in the court of heaven.

18:18 a great and mighty nation . . . will be blessed. See note on 12:2–3.

18:19 chosen. Lit. "known." In Hebrew usage, "to know" sometimes connotes "to choose" (see, e.g., Amos 3:2).

18:20 outcry. A cry of righteous indignation (cf. the blood of Abel, 4:10) that became one of the reasons for the destruction of the cities (see 19:13). Gomorrah. See notes on 10:19; 13:10. sin is exceedingly grave. The sin of Sodom (and probably of Gomorrah as well) was already proverbial (see 13:13) and remained so for centuries (see Ezek 16:49–50).

18:21 I will go down. The result would be judgment (as in 11:5–9), but God also comes down to redeem (as in Ex 3:8). see. Not a denial of God's infinite knowledge but a figurative way of stating that He does not act out of ignorance or on the basis of mere complaints.

18:22 Abraham was still standing before the LORD. Illustrates the mutual accessibility that existed between God and His servant.

18:23 The second time Abraham intervened for his relatives and for Sodom (see 14:14–16).

18:25 Judge of all the earth. Abraham based his plea on the justice and authority ("Judge" could be translated "Ruler") of God, confident that God would do what was right (see Deut 32:4).

18:27 Lord. Abraham used the title "Lord," not the intimate name "LORD," throughout his prayer. He was appealing to God as "Judge of all the earth." dust and ashes. In contrast to God's exalted position, Abraham described himself as insignificant (see Job 30:19; 42:6).

18:32 only this once. Abraham's questioning in vv. 23–32 did not arise from a spirit of haggling but of compassion for his relatives and of wanting to know God's ways. ten. Perhaps Abraham stopped at ten because he had been counting while praying: Lot, his wife, possibly two sons (see 19:12), at least two married daughters and their husbands (see 19:14), and two unmarried daughters (see 19:8).

18:33 his place. Mamre (see v. 1). The next morning Abraham went back to see what God had done (see 19:27).

19:1–3 See note on 18:2.

19:1 the two angels. See notes on 16:7; 18:2. Lot was sitting in the gate of Sodom. Lot had probably become a member of Sodom's ruling council, since a city gateway served as the administrative and judicial center where legal matters were discussed and prosecuted (see Ruth 4:1–12).

19:2 square. A large open space near the main city gateway (see 2 Chr 32:6) where public gatherings were held. Important cities like Jerusalem could have two or more squares (see Neh 8:16).

[a]and he prepared a feast for them, and baked unleavened bread, and they ate.

4 Before they lay down, [a]the men of the city, the men of Sodom, surrounded the house, both young and old, all the people [1]from every quarter;

5 and they called to Lot and said to him, "[a]Where are the men who came to you tonight? Bring them out to us that we may [1]have relations with them."

6 But Lot went out to them at the doorway, and shut the door behind him,

7 and said, "Please, my brothers, do not act wickedly.

8 "Now behold, [a]I have two daughters who have not [1]had relations with man; please let me bring them out to you, and do to them [2]whatever you like; only do nothing to these men, inasmuch as they have come under the [3]shelter of my roof."

9 But they said, "Stand aside." Furthermore, they said, "This one came in [1]as an alien, and already [a]he is acting like a judge; now we will treat you worse than them." So they pressed hard against [2]Lot and came near to break the door.

10 But [a]the men reached out their [1]hands and brought Lot into the house [2]with them, and shut the door.

11 [a]They [1]struck the men who were at the doorway of the house with blindness, both small and great, so that they wearied themselves trying to find the doorway.

12 Then the two men said to Lot, "Whom else have you here? A son-in-law, and your sons, and your daughters, and whomever you have in the city, bring them out of the place;

13 for we are about to destroy this place, because [a]their outcry has become so great before the LORD that [b]the LORD has sent us to destroy it."

14 Lot went out and spoke to his sons-in-law, who [1]were to marry his daughters, and said, "Up, [a]get out of this place, for the LORD will destroy the city." [b]But he appeared to his sons-in-law [2]to be jesting.

15 When morning dawned, the angels urged Lot, saying, "Up, take your wife and your two daughters who are here, or you will be swept away in the [1]punishment of the city."

16 But he hesitated. So the men [a]seized his hand and the hand of his wife and the [1]hands of his two daughters, for [b]the compassion of the LORD was upon him; and they brought him out, and put him outside the city.

17 When they had brought them outside, [1]one said, "[a]Escape for your life! [b]Do not look behind you, and do not stay [2]anywhere in the [c]valley; escape to [d]the [3]mountains, or you will be swept away."

18 But Lot said to them, "Oh no, my lords!

19 "Now behold, your servant has found favor in your sight, and you have magnified your lovingkindness, which you have shown me by saving my life; but I cannot escape to the [1]mountains, for the disaster will overtake me and I will die;

20 now behold, this town is near enough to flee to, and it is small. Please, let me escape there (is it not small?) [1]that my life may be saved."

21 He said to him, "Behold, I grant you this [1]request also, not to overthrow the town of which you have spoken.

22 "Hurry, escape there, for I cannot do anything until you arrive there." Therefore the name of the town was called [1][a]Zoar.

23 The sun had risen over the earth when Lot came to Zoar.

24 Then the LORD [a]rained on Sodom and Gomorrah brimstone and fire from the LORD out of heaven,

25 and [a]He overthrew those cities, and all the [1]valley, and all the inhabitants of the cities, and what grew on the ground.

26 But his wife, from behind him, [a]looked back, and she became a pillar of salt.

28 and he looked down toward Sodom and Gomorrah, and toward all the land of the [1]valley, and he saw, and behold, [a]the smoke of the land ascended like the smoke of a [2]furnace.

29 Thus it came about, when God destroyed the cities of the [1]valley, that [a]God remembered Abraham, and [b]sent Lot out of 19:4–9 See Judg 19:22–25.

19:5 have relations with them. Homosexuality was so characteristic of the men of Sodom (see Jude 7) that it is still often called sodomy.

19:8 under the shelter of my roof. Ancient hospitality obliged a host to protect his guests in every situation.

19:9 This one came in as an alien, and already he is acting like a judge. Centuries later, Moses was also considered an outsider and accused of setting himself up as a judge (see Ex 2:14; Acts 7:27).

19:13 we are about to destroy this place. Sodom's wickedness had made it ripe for destruction (see Is 3:9; Jer 23:14; Lam 4:6; Zeph 2:8–9; 2 Pet 2:6; Jude 7).

19:14 he appeared to his sons-in-law to be jesting. Lot apparently had lost his power of moral persuasion even among his family members.

19:16 hesitated. Perhaps because of reluctance to leave his material possessions. his hand and the hand of his wife and the hands of his two daughters. The ten righteous people required to save Sodom (see 18:32) had now been reduced to four. the compassion of the LORD was upon him. Deliverance is due to divine mercy, not to human righteousness (cf. Titus 3:5).

19:24 rained . . . brimstone and fire. Perhaps from a violent earthquake spewing up asphalt, such as is still found in this region.

19:26 his wife . . . looked back, and she became a pillar of salt. Her disobedient hesitation (see v. 17) became proverbial in later generations (see Luke 17:32). Even today, grotesque salt formations near the southern end of the Dead Sea are reminders of her folly.

19:29 God remembered Abraham. See note on 8:1. God . . . sent

Lot Is Debased

30 Lot went up from Zoar, and [1][a]stayed in the [2]mountains, and his two daughters with him; for he was afraid to [3]stay in Zoar; and he [1]stayed in a cave, he and his two daughters.

31 Then the firstborn said to the younger, "Our father is old, and there is not a man [1]on earth to [a]come in to us after the manner of the earth.

32 "Come, [a]let us make our father drink wine, and let us lie with him that we may preserve [1]our family through our father."

33 So they made their father drink wine that night, and the firstborn went in and lay with her father; and he did not know when she lay down or when she arose.

34 On the following day, the firstborn said to the younger, "Behold, I lay last night with my father; let us make him drink wine tonight also; then you go in and lie with him, that we may preserve [1]our family through our father."

35 So they made their father drink wine that night also, and the younger arose and lay with him; and he did not know when she lay down or when she arose.

36 Thus both the daughters of Lot were with child by their father.

37 The firstborn bore a son, and called his name [a]Moab; he is the father of the Moabites to this day.

38 As for the younger, she also bore a son, and called his name Ben-ammi; he is the father of the [1]sons of [a]Ammon to this day.

Abraham's Treachery

20 Now Abraham journeyed from [a]there toward the land of [b]the [1]Negev, and [2]settled between Kadesh and Shur; then he sojourned in [c]Gerar.

2 Abraham said of Sarah his wife, "[a]She is my sister." So [b]Abimelech king of Gerar sent and took Sarah.

3 [a]But God came to Abimelech in a dream of the night, and said to him, "Behold, [b]you are a dead man because of the woman whom you have taken, for she is [1]married."

4 Now Abimelech had not come near her; and he said, "Lord, [a]will You slay a nation, even though [1]blameless?

5 "Did he not himself say to me, 'She is my sister'? And she [a]herself said, 'He is my brother.' In [b]the integrity of my heart and the innocence of my [1]hands I have done this."

6 Then God said to him in the dream, "Yes, I know that in the integrity of your heart you have done this, and I also [1][a]kept you from sinning against Me; therefore I did not let you touch her.

7 "Now therefore, restore the man's wife, for [a]he is a prophet, and he will pray for you and you will live. But if you do not restore her, know that you shall surely die, you and all who are yours."

8 So Abimelech arose early in the morning and called all his servants and told all these things in their hearing; and the men were greatly frightened.

9 [a]Then Abimelech called Abraham and said to him, "What have you done to us? And [1]how have I sinned against you, that you have brought on me and on my kingdom [b]a great sin? You have done to me [2]things that ought not to be done."

10 And Abimelech said to Abraham, "What have you [1]encountered, that you have done this thing?"

11 Abraham said, "Because I thought, surely there is no [a]fear of God in this place, and [b]they will kill me because of my wife.

12 "Besides, she actually is my sister, the daughter of my father, but not the daughter of my mother, and she became my wife;

13 and it came about, when [a]God caused me to wander from my father's house, that I said to her, 'This is [1]the kindness which you will show to me: [2]everywhere we go, [b]say of me, "He is my brother." ' "

14 [a]Abimelech then took sheep and oxen and male and female servants, and gave them to Abraham, and restored his wife Sarah to him.

15 Abimelech said, "[a]Behold, my land is before you; [1]settle wherever [2]you please."

Lot out of the midst of the overthrow. Lot's deliverance was the main concern of Abraham's prayer (18:23–32), which God now answered.

19:33 they made their father drink wine . . . and the firstborn went in and lay with her father. Though Lot's role was somewhat passive, he bore the basic responsibility for the drunkenness and incest that eventually resulted in his two daughters' becoming pregnant by him (see v. 36).

19:36–38 The sons born to Lot's daughters were the ancestors of the Moabites and Ammonites (see Deut 2:9,19), two nations that were to become bitter enemies of Abraham's descendants (see, e.g., 1 Sam 14:47; 2 Chr 20:1).

20:1 between Kadesh and Shur. See notes on 14:7; 16:7. Gerar. Located at the edge of Philistine territory, about halfway between Gaza on the Mediterranean coast and Beersheba in the northern Negev.

20:2 Abimelech. Probably the father or grandfather of the later king who bore the same name (see 26:1).

20:3 dream. Once again God intervened to spare the mother of the promised offspring. Dreams were a frequent mode of revelation in the OT (see 28:12; 31:10–11; 37:5–9; 40:5; 41:1; Num 12:6; Judg 7:13; 1 Kin 3:5; Dan 2:3; 4:5; 7:1).

20:7 prophet. See note on 18:17. Abraham was the first man to bear this title (see Ps 105:15).

20:11 fear of God. A conventional phrase equivalent to "true religion." "Fear" in this phrase has the sense of reverential trust in God that includes commitment to His revealed will (word).

20:12 she actually is my sister, the daughter of my father, but not the daughter of my mother. Abraham's half-truth was a sinful deception, not a legitimate explanation.

20:14–16 Abimelech's generosity was a strong contrast to Abraham's fearfulness and deception.

16 To Sarah he said, "Behold, I have given your [a]brother a thousand pieces of silver; behold, it is [1]your vindication before all who are with you, and before all men you are cleared."

17 [a]Abraham prayed to God, and God healed Abimelech and his wife and his maids, so that they bore children.

18 [a]For the LORD had closed fast all the wombs of the household of Abimelech because of Sarah, Abraham's wife.

Isaac Is Born

21 [a]Then the LORD took note of Sarah as He had said, and the LORD did for Sarah as He had [1]promised.

2 [a]So Sarah conceived and bore a son to Abraham in his old age, at [b]the appointed time of which God had spoken to him.

3 Abraham called the name of his son who was born to him, whom Sarah bore to him, [a]Isaac.

4 Then Abraham circumcised his son Isaac when he was [a]eight days old, as God had commanded him.

5 Now Abraham was [a]one hundred years old when his son Isaac was born to him.

6 Sarah said, "God has made [a]laughter for me; everyone who hears will laugh [1]with me."

7 And she said, "[a]Who would have said to Abraham that Sarah would nurse children? Yet I have borne him a son in his old age."

8 The child grew and was weaned, and Abraham made a great feast on the day that Isaac was weaned.

Sarah Turns against Hagar

9 Now Sarah saw [a]the son of Hagar the Egyptian, whom she had borne to Abraham, [1][b]mocking.

10 Therefore she said to Abraham, "[a]Drive out this maid and her son, for the son of this maid shall not be an heir with my son [1]Isaac."

11 [a]The matter [1]distressed Abraham greatly because of his son.

12 But God said to Abraham, "[1]Do not be distressed because of the lad and your maid; whatever Sarah tells you, listen to her, for [a]through Isaac [2]your descendants shall be named.

13 "And of [a]the son of the maid I will make a nation also, because he is your [1]descendant."

14 So Abraham rose early in the morning and took bread and a [1]skin of water and gave them to Hagar, putting them on her shoulder, and gave her the boy, and sent her away. And she departed and wandered about in the wilderness of Beersheba.

15 When the water in the skin was used up, she [1]left the boy under one of the bushes.

16 Then she went and sat down opposite him, about a bowshot away, for she said, "Do not let me [1]see the boy die." And she sat opposite him, and [a]lifted up her voice and wept.

17 God [a]heard the lad crying; and the angel of God called to Hagar from heaven and said to her, "What is the matter with you, Hagar? [b]Do not fear, for God has heard the voice of the lad where he is.

18 "Arise, lift up the lad, and hold him by [1]the hand, [a]for I will make a great nation of him."

19 Then God [a]opened her eyes and she saw [b]a well of water; and she went and filled the [1]skin with water and gave the lad a drink.

20 [a]God was with the lad, and he grew; and he [1]lived in the wilderness and became an archer.

21 [a]He [1]lived in the wilderness of Paran, and his mother took a wife for him from the land of Egypt.

Covenant with Abimelech

22 Now it came about at that time that [a]Abimelech and Phicol, the commander of 20:16 pieces. That is, shekels. Originally the shekel was only a weight, not a coin, since coinage was not invented till the seventh century B.C.

21:1 took note of Sarah as He had said. See 17:16. did for Sarah as He had promised. See Gal 4:22–23,28.

21:3 Isaac. See note on 17:17.

21:4 See notes on 17:10,12.

21:5 Abraham, in fulfillment of the promise made to him (see 17:16), miraculously became a father at the age of 100 years (see 17:17).

21:6 laughter . . . laugh. See note on 17:17.

21:8 weaned. At age two or three, as was customary in the ancient Near East.

21:9 the son of Hagar the Egyptian, whom she had borne. Ishmael, who was in his late teens at this time (see 16:15–16). mocking. Or "at play." In either case, Sarah saw Ishmael as a potential threat to Isaac's inheritance (v. 10).

21:10 Drive out this maid and her son. See Gal 4:21–31. Driving them out would have had the effect of disinheriting Ishmael.

21:11 The matter distressed Abraham. Both love and legal custom played a part in Abraham's anguish. He knew that the customs of his day, illustrated later in the Nuzi tablets (see chart, p. xix), prohibited the arbitrary expulsion of a servant girl's son (whose legal status was relatively weak in any case).

21:12 whatever Sarah tells you, listen to her. God overruled in this matter (as He had done earlier; see 15:4), promising Abraham that both Isaac and Ishmael would have numerous descendants. through Isaac your descendants shall be named. See Rom 9:6–8 and Heb 11:17–19 for broader spiritual applications of this statement.

21:14 early in the morning. Though Abraham would now be separated from Ishmael for the first time, he responded to God's command with prompt obedience (see note on 12:4). Beersheba. See note on v. 31.

21:15 one of the bushes. See note on v. 33.

21:17 God heard . . . God has heard. A pun on the name "Ishmael," which means "God hears" (see 16:11; 17:20).

21:21 wilderness of Paran. Located in north central Sinai. his mother took a wife for him from the land of Egypt. Parents often arranged their children's marriages (see ch. 24).

21:22 Abimelech. See 20:2 and note. Phicol. Either a family his army, spoke to Abraham, saying, "[b]God is with you in all that you do;

23 now therefore, [a]swear to me here by God that you will not deal falsely with me or with my offspring or with my posterity, but according to the kindness that I have shown to you, you shall show to me and to the land in which you have sojourned."

24 Abraham said, "I swear it."

25 But Abraham [1]complained to Abimelech because of the well of water which the servants of Abimelech [a]had seized.

26 And Abimelech said, "I do not know who has done this thing; you did not tell me, nor did I hear of it [1]until today."

27 Abraham took sheep and oxen and gave them to Abimelech, and [a]the two of them made a covenant.

28 Then Abraham set seven ewe lambs of the flock by themselves.

29 Abimelech said to Abraham, "What do these seven ewe lambs mean, which you have set by themselves?"

30 He said, "You shall take these seven ewe lambs from my hand so that it may be a [a]witness to me, that I dug this well."

31 Therefore he called that place [a]Beersheba, because there the two of them took an oath.

32 So they made a covenant at Beersheba; and Abimelech and Phicol, the commander of his army, arose and returned to the land of the Philistines.

33 Abraham planted a tamarisk tree at Beersheba, and there [a]he called on the name of the LORD, the [b]Everlasting God.

34 And Abraham sojourned [a]in the land of the Philistines for many days.

The Offering of Isaac

22:1 Now it came about after these things, that [a]God tested Abraham, and said to him, "[b]Abraham!" And he said, "Here I am."

2 He said, "Take now [a]your son, your only son, whom you love, Isaac, and go to the land of [b]Moriah, and offer him there as a [c]burnt offering on one of the mountains of which I will tell you."

3 So Abraham rose early in the morning and saddled his donkey, and took two of his young men with him and Isaac his son; and he split wood for the burnt offering, and arose and went to the place of which God had told him.

4 On the third day Abraham raised his eyes and saw the place from a distance.

5 Abraham said to his young men, "Stay here with the donkey, and I and the lad will go over there; and we will worship and return to you."

6 Abraham took the wood of the burnt offering and [a]laid it on Isaac his son, and he took in his hand the fire and the knife. So the two of them walked on together.

7 Isaac spoke to Abraham his father and said, "My father!" And he said, "Here I am, my son." And he said, "Behold, the fire and the wood, but where is the [a]lamb for the burnt offering?"

name or an official title, since it reappears over 60 years later (25:26) in a similar context (26:26).

21:23 swear to me . . . by God . . . the kindness that I have shown . . . show to me. Phrases commonly used when making covenants or treaties (see vv. 27,32). "Kindness" as used here refers to acts of friendship (cf. v. 27; 20:14). Such covenants always involved oaths.

21:27 sheep and oxen. Probably to be used in the treaty ceremony (see 15:10).

21:31 Beersheba, because there the two of them took an oath. Beersheba can mean "well of seven" or "well of the oath." For a similar pun on the name see 26:33. Beersheba, an important town in the northern Negev, marked the southernmost boundary of the Israelite monarchy in later times (see, e.g., 2 Sam 17:11). An ancient well there is still pointed out as "Abraham's well" (see v. 25), but its authenticity is not certain.

21:32 Philistines. See note on 10:14.

21:33 tamarisk. A shrub or small tree that thrives in arid regions. Its leafy branches provide welcome shade, and it is probably the unidentified bush under which Hagar put Ishmael in v. 15. Everlasting God. Hebrew El Olam, a phrase unique to this passage. It is one of a series of names that include El, "God," as an element (see 14:19 and note; 17:1 and note; 33:20; 35:7).

22:1 after these things. Isaac had grown into adolescence or young manhood, as implied also by 21:34 ("for many days"). tested. Not "tempted," for God does not tempt (James 1:13). Satan tempts us (see 1 Cor 7:5) in order to make us fall; God tests us in order to confirm our faith (Ex 20:20) or prove our commitment (Deut 8:2). See note on Matt 4:1. Here I am. Abraham answered with the response of a servant, as did Moses and Samuel when God called them by name (see Ex 3:4; 1 Sam 3:4,6,8).

22:2 your son, your only son, whom you love, Isaac. Isaac is placed last in this sequence in order to heighten the effect. He was the "only son" of the promise (21:12). land of Moriah. The author of Chronicles identifies the area as the temple mount in Jerusalem (2 Chr 3:1). Today "Mount Moriah" is occupied by the Dome of the Rock, an impressive Muslim structure erected in A.D. 691. A large outcropping of rock inside the building is still pointed to as the traditional site of the intended sacrifice of Isaac. offer him there as a burnt offering. Abraham had committed himself by covenant to be obedient to the Lord and had consecrated his son Isaac to the Lord by circumcision. The Lord put His servant's faith and loyalty to the supreme test, thereby instructing Abraham, Isaac and their descendants as to the kind of total consecration the Lord's covenant requires. The test also foreshadowed the perfect consecration in sacrifice that another offspring of Abraham would undergo (see note on v. 16) in order to wholly consecrate Abraham and his spiritual descendants to God and to fulfill the covenant promises.

22:3 early in the morning. Prompt obedience, even under such trying circumstances, characterized Abraham's response to God (see note on 12:4).

22:4 third day. Three days would be necessary for the journey from Beersheba (see v. 19) to Jerusalem.

22:5 lad. See v. 12. The Hebrew for this word has a wide range of meaning, from an infant (see Ex 2:6) to a young man of military age (see 1 Chr 12:28). we will . . . return to you. Abraham, the man of faith and "the father of all who believe" (Rom 4:11), "considered that God is able to raise people even from the dead" (Heb 11:19) if that were necessary to fulfill His promise.

8 Abraham said, "God will [1]provide for Himself the lamb for the burnt offering, my son." So the two of them walked on together.

9 Then they came to [a]the place of which God had told him; and Abraham built [b]the altar there and arranged the wood, and bound his son Isaac and [c]laid him on the altar, on top of the wood.

10 Abraham stretched out his hand and took the knife to slay his son.

11 But [a]the angel of the LORD called to him from heaven and said, "Abraham, Abraham!" And he said, "Here I am."

12 He said, "Do not stretch out your hand against the lad, and do nothing to him; for now [a]I know that you [1]fear God, since you have not withheld [b]your son, your only son, from Me."

13 Then Abraham raised his eyes and looked, and behold, behind him a ram caught in the thicket by his horns; and Abraham went and took the ram and offered him up for a burnt offering in the place of his son.

14 Abraham called the name of that place [1]The LORD Will Provide, as it is said to this day, "In the mount of the LORD [a]it will [2]be provided."

15 Then the angel of the LORD called to Abraham a second time from heaven,

16 and said, "[a]By Myself I have sworn, declares the LORD, because you have done this thing and have not withheld your son, your only son,

17 indeed I will greatly bless you, and I will greatly [a]multiply your [1]seed as the stars of the heavens and as [b]the sand which is on the seashore; and [c]your [1]seed shall possess the gate of [2]their enemies.

18 "[a]In your [1]seed all the nations of the earth shall [2]be blessed, because you have [b]obeyed My voice."

19 [a]So Abraham returned to his young men, and they arose and went together to Beersheba; and Abraham lived at Beersheba.

20 Now it came about after these things, that it was told Abraham, saying, "Behold, [a]Milcah [1]also has borne children to your brother Nahor:

21 Uz his firstborn and Buz his brother and Kemuel the father of Aram

22 and Chesed and Hazo and Pildash and Jidlaph and Bethuel."

23 Bethuel [1]became the father of [a]Rebekah; these eight Milcah bore to Nahor, Abraham's brother.

24 His concubine, whose name was Reumah, [1]also bore Tebah and Gaham and Tahash and Maacah.

Death and Burial of Sarah

23 Now [1]Sarah lived one hundred and twenty-seven years; these were the years of the life of Sarah.

2 Sarah died in [a]Kiriath-arba (that is, Hebron) in the land of Canaan; and Abraham [1]went in to mourn for Sarah and to weep for her.

3 Then Abraham rose from before his dead, and spoke to the [a]sons of Heth, saying,

4 "I am [a]a stranger and a sojourner among you; [b]give me [1]a [c]burial site among you that I may bury my dead out of my sight."

5 The sons of Heth answered Abraham, saying to him,

6 "Hear us, my lord, you are a [1][a]mighty prince among us; bury your dead in the choicest of our graves; none of us will refuse you his grave for burying your dead."

22:8 God will provide for Himself the lamb. The immediate fulfillment of Abraham's trusting response was the ram of v. 13, but its ultimate fulfillment is the Lamb of God (John 1:29,36).

22:9 laid him on the altar, on top of the wood. Isaac is here a type (prefiguration) of Christ (see note on v. 16).

22:11 angel of the LORD. See note on 16:7. Abraham, Abraham! The repetition of the name indicates urgency (see 46:2; Ex 3:4; 1 Sam 3:10; Acts 9:4). Here I am. See note on v. 1.

22:12 fear God. See note on 20:11. you have not withheld your son, your only son, from Me. See v. 16. Abraham's "faith was perfected" by what he did (James 2:21–22).

22:13 in the place of. Substitutionary sacrifice of one life for another is here mentioned for the first time. As the ram died in Isaac's place, so also Jesus gave His life as a ransom "for" (lit. "instead of") many (Mark 10:45).

22:14 mount of the LORD. During the Israelite monarchy the phrase referred to the temple mount in Jerusalem (see Ps 24:3; Is 2:3; 30:29; Zech 8:3).

22:16 By Myself I have sworn. There is no greater name in which the Lord can take an oath (see Heb 6:13). you . . . have not withheld your son, your only son. Abraham's devotion is paralleled by God's love to us in Christ as reflected in John 3:16 and Rom 8:32, which may allude to this verse.

22:17 multiply your seed as the stars of the heavens. See 13:16; 15:5 and notes. sand which is on the seashore. Fulfilled, at least in part, during Solomon's reign (see 1 Kin 4:20). gate. Taking possession of the gate of a city was tantamount to occupying the city itself (see 24:60).

22:18 all the nations of the earth shall be blessed. See note on 12:2–3. because you have obeyed My voice. See note on 17:9.

22:23–24 Abraham's brother Nahor (see 11:26) became the father of eight sons by his wife and four by his concubine (see note on 25:6). They would later become the ancestors of 12 Aramean (see v. 21) tribes, just as Abraham's grandson Jacob would become the ancestor of the 12 tribes of Israel (see 49:28).

23:2 Kiriath-arba. Means "the town of Arba" (Arba was the most prominent member of a tribe living in the Hebron area [see Josh 14:15]). It can also mean "the town of four," referring to the place where Anak (see Josh 15:13–14; 21:11) and his three sons lived (see Judg 1:10,20). went. Either from Beersheba to Hebron or into where Sarah's body was lying.

23:3 sons of Heth. See note on 10:15. They were apparently in control of the Hebron area at this time.

23:4 a stranger and a sojourner. This and similar phrases were used often by the patriarchs and their descendants in reference to themselves (see 1 Chr 29:15; Ps 39:12; see also Heb 11:13). On this earth Abraham was "dwelling in tents" (Heb 11:9), the most temporary of dwellings. But he looked forward to the more permanent home promised him, which the author of Hebrews calls "the city which has foundations, whose architect and builder is God" (Heb 11:10).

23:6 you are a mighty prince. Probably intended as words of flattery.

7 So Abraham rose and bowed to the people of the land, the sons of Heth.

8 And he spoke with them, saying, "If it is your [1]wish for me to bury my dead out of my sight, hear me, and approach [a]Ephron the son of Zohar for me,

9 that he may give me the cave of Machpelah which he owns, which is at the end of his field; for the full price let him give it to me in [1]your presence for [2]a burial site."

10 Now Ephron was sitting among the sons of Heth; and Ephron the Hittite answered Abraham in the hearing of the sons of Heth; even [a]of all who went in at the gate of his city, saying,

11 "No, my lord, hear me; [a]I give you the field, and I give you the cave that is in it. In the presence of the sons of my people I give it to you; bury your dead."

12 And Abraham bowed before the people of the land.

13 He spoke to Ephron in the hearing of the people of the land, saying, "If you will only please listen to me; I will give the price of the field, accept it from me that I may bury my dead there."

14 Then Ephron answered Abraham, saying to him,

15 "My lord, listen to me; a piece of land worth four hundred [a]shekels of silver, what is that between me and you? So bury your dead."

16 Abraham listened to Ephron; and Abraham [a]weighed out for Ephron the silver which he had named in the [1]hearing of the sons of Heth, four hundred shekels of silver, [2]commercial standard.

17 So [a]Ephron's field, which was in Machpelah, which faced Mamre, the field and cave which was in it, and all the trees which were in the field, that were [1]within all the confines of its border, [2]were deeded over 18 to Abraham for a possession [a]in the presence of the sons of Heth, before all who went in at the gate of his city.

19 After this, Abraham buried Sarah his wife in the cave of the field at Machpelah facing Mamre (that is, Hebron) in the land of Canaan.

20 So the field and the cave that is in it, [1]were [a]deeded over to Abraham for [2]a burial site by the sons of Heth.

A Bride for Isaac

24 Now [a]Abraham was old, advanced in age; and the LORD had [b]blessed Abraham in every way.

2 Abraham said to his servant, the oldest of his household, who had [a]charge of all that he owned, "[b]Please place your hand under my thigh,

3 and I will make you swear by the LORD, [a]the God of heaven and the God of earth, that you [b]shall not take a wife for my son from the daughters of [c]the Canaanites, among whom I live,

4 but you will go to [a]my country and to my relatives, and take a wife for my son Isaac."

5 The servant said to him, "Suppose the woman is not willing to follow me to this land; should I take your son back to the land from where you came?"

6 Then Abraham said to him, "[a]Beware that you do not take my son back there!

7 "[a]The LORD, the God of heaven, who took me from my father's house and from the land of my birth, and who spoke to me and who swore to me, saying, '[b]To your [1]descendants I will give this land,' He will send [c]His angel before you, and you will take a wife for my son from there.

23:9 cave of Machpelah. Though inaccessible today, the tombs of several patriarchs and their wives—Abraham and Sarah, Isaac and Rebekah, Jacob and Leah (see v. 19; 25:8–10; 49:30–31; 50:12–13)—are, according to tradition, located in a large cave deep beneath the Mosque of Abraham, a Muslim shrine in Hebron. end of his field. Because buying the entire field would have made Abraham responsible for certain additional financial and social obligations, he wanted to buy only a small part of it. Hittite laws stipulated that when a landowner sold only part of his property to someone else, the original and principal landowner had to continue paying all dues on the land. But if the landowner disposed of an entire tract, the new owner had to pay the dues.

23:10 in the hearing of the sons of Heth . . . who went in at the gate. The main gateway of a city was usually the place where legal matters were transacted and attested (see v. 18; see also note on 19:1).

23:11 my lord. Perhaps intended to flatter Abraham (see v. 15). give. Or "sell."

23:15 four hundred shekels of silver, what is that between me and you? See note on 20:16. Despite Ephron's pretense of generosity, 400 shekels of silver was an exorbitant price for a field (see, e.g., Jer 32:9). Ephron was taking advantage of Abraham during a time of grief and bereavement. He knew that Abraham had to deal quickly in order to have a place to bury Sarah, so he insisted that Abraham buy the entire lot and assume responsibility for the dues as well.

23:16 commercial standard. Subject to more variation and therefore greater dishonesty than the later royal standard (see 2 Sam 14:26), which was carefully regulated and more precise.

23:17 the field and cave which was in it, and all the trees. In order to be free of all obligations relating to the field in which the cave of Machpelah was located, Ephron had held out for the sale of the entire field and its contents (see note on v. 9).

23:19 buried Sarah his wife . . . in the land of Canaan. In that culture, people had a strong desire to be buried "with their fathers" (see note on 25:8) in their native land. By purchasing a burial place in Canaan, Abraham indicated his unswerving commitment to the Lord's promise. Canaan was his new homeland.

24:2 his servant, the oldest in his household. Probably Eliezer of Damascus (see note on 15:2). place your hand under my thigh. Near the organ of procreation, probably because this oath was related to the continuation of Abraham's line through Isaac (see 47:29).

24:3 the LORD, the God of heaven and the God of earth. See v. 7. For a similar majestic title used by Abraham in an oath see 14:22.

24:4 my country. Mesopotamia (see note on v. 10). take a wife for my son. See note on 21:21.

24:7 To your descendants I will give this land. Repeats the promise of 12:7. His angel. See note on 16:7.

low you, then you will [a]be free from this my oath; [b]only do not take my son back there."

9 So the servant [a]placed his hand under the thigh of Abraham his master, and swore to him concerning this matter.

10 Then the servant took ten camels from the camels of his master, and set out with a variety of [a]good things of his master's in his hand; and he arose and went to [1]Mesopotamia, to [b]the city of Nahor.

11 He made the camels kneel down outside the city by [a]the well of water at evening time, [b]the time when women go out to draw water.

12 He said, "[a]O LORD, the God of my master Abraham, please [1][b]grant me success today, and show lovingkindness to my master Abraham.

13 "Behold, [a]I am standing by the [1]spring, and the daughters of the men of the city are coming out to draw water;

14 now may it be that the girl to whom I say, 'Please let down your jar so that I may drink,' and [1]who answers, 'Drink, and I will water your camels also'—may she be the one whom You have appointed for Your servant Isaac; and by this I will know that You have shown lovingkindness to my master."

Rebekah Is Chosen

15 [a]Before he had finished speaking, behold, [b]Rebekah who was born to Bethuel the son of [c]Milcah, the wife of Abraham's brother Nahor, came out with her jar on her shoulder.

16 The girl was [a]very beautiful, a virgin, and no man had [1]had relations with her; and she went down to the spring and filled her jar and came up.

17 Then the servant ran to meet her, and said, "[a]Please let me drink a little water from your jar."

18 [a]She said, "Drink, my lord"; and she quickly lowered her jar to her hand, and gave him a drink.

19 Now when she had finished giving him a drink, [a]she said, "I will draw also for your camels until they have finished drinking."

20 So she quickly emptied her jar into the trough, and ran back to the well to draw, and she drew for all his camels.

21 [a]Meanwhile, the man was gazing at her [1]in silence, to know whether the LORD had made his journey successful or not.

22 When the camels had finished drinking, the man took a [a]gold ring weighing a half-shekel and two bracelets for her [1]wrists weighing ten shekels in gold,

23 and said, "Whose daughter are you? Please tell me, is there room for us to lodge in your father's house?"

24 She said to him, "[a]I am the daughter of Bethuel, the son of Milcah, whom she bore to Nahor."

25 Again she said to him, "We have plenty of both straw and feed, and room to lodge in."

26 Then the man [a]bowed low and worshiped the LORD.

27 He said, "[a]Blessed be the LORD, the God of my master Abraham, who has not forsaken [b]His lovingkindness and His truth toward my master; as for me, [c]the LORD has guided me in the way to the house of my master's brothers."

28 Then [a]the girl ran and told her mother's household about these things.

29 Now Rebekah had a brother whose name was [a]Laban; and Laban ran outside to the man at the spring.

30 When he saw the ring and the bracelets on his sister's [1]wrists, and when he heard the words of Rebekah his sister, saying, "[2]This is what the man said to me," he went to the man; and behold, he was standing by the camels at the spring.

31 And he said, "[a]Come in, [b]blessed of the LORD! Why do you stand outside since [c]I have prepared the house, and a place for the camels?"

32 So the man entered the house. Then [1][a]Laban unloaded the camels, and he gave straw and feed to the camels, and water to wash his feet and the feet of the men who were with him.

33 But when food was set before him to eat, he said, "I will not eat until I have told my business." And he said, "Speak on."

34 So he said, "I am [a]Abraham's servant.

35 "The LORD has greatly [a]blessed my master, so that he has become [1]rich; and He has given him [b]flocks and herds, and silver and 24:10 camels. See note on 12:16. Mesopotamia. Hebrew Aram-naharaim, meaning "Aram of the two rivers"—the Euphrates and the Tigris. Aram (see note on 10:22) Naharaim was the northern part of the area called later by the Greeks "Mesopotamia," meaning "between the rivers." city of Nahor. Perhaps named after Abraham's brother (see v. 15; 11:26). It is mentioned in clay tablets excavated by the French beginning in 1933 at the ancient city of Mari on the Euphrates (see chart, p. xix). Nahor was located in the Haran (see note on 11:31) district and was ruled by an Amorite prince in the 18th century B.C.

24:11 at evening time, the time the women go out to draw water. The coolest time of day.

24:14 by this I will know. Like his master Abraham, the servant asked God for a sign to validate his errand (see note on 15:8). lovingkindness. See v. 27; probably a reference to God's covenant with Abraham, which had promised numerous descendants through Isaac (see 17:19; 21:12).

24:15 Before he had finished speaking. God had already begun to answer. Rebekah . . . was born to Bethuel the son of . . . the wife of Abraham's brother. Isaac would thus be marrying his father's grandniece (see v. 48).

24:22 half-shekel. See note on 20:16; see also Ex 38:26.

24:32–33 See note on 18:2.

24:34–49 The servant explained his mission to Rebekah's family. His speech, which summarizes the narrative of the earlier part of the chapter, is an excellent example of the ancient storyteller's art, which was designed to fix the details of a story in the hearer's memory.

gold, and servants and maids, and camels and donkeys.

36 "Now [a]Sarah my master's wife bore a son to my master [1]in her old age, and [b]he has given him all that he has.

37 "[a]My master made me swear, saying, 'You shall not take a wife for my son from the daughters of the Canaanites, in whose land I [1]live;

38 but you shall go to my father's house and to my relatives, and take a wife for my son.'

39 "[a]I said to my master, 'Suppose the woman does not follow me.'

40 "He said to me, '[a]The LORD, before whom I have [b]walked, will send [c]His angel with you to make your journey successful, and you will take a wife for my son from my relatives and from my father's house;

41 [a]then you will be free from my oath, when you come to my relatives; and if they do not give her to you, you will be free from my oath.'

42 "So [a]I came today to the spring, and said, 'O LORD, the God of my master Abraham, if now You will make my journey on which I go [b]successful;

43 behold, [a]I am standing by the [1]spring, and may it be that the maiden who comes out to draw, and to whom I say, "[b]Please let me drink a little water from your jar";

44 and she will say to me, "You drink, and I will draw for your camels also"; let her be the woman whom the LORD has appointed for my master's son.'

45 "Before I had finished [a]speaking in my heart, behold, [b]Rebekah came out with her jar on her shoulder, and went down to the spring and drew, and [c]I said to her, 'Please let me drink.'

46 "She quickly lowered her jar from her shoulder, and said, '[a]Drink, and I will water your camels also'; so I drank, and she watered the camels also.

47 "[a]Then I asked her, and said, 'Whose daughter are you?' And she said, 'The daughter of Bethuel, Nahor's son, whom Milcah bore to him'; and I put the [b]ring on her nose, and the bracelets on her [1]wrists.

48 "And I [a]bowed low and worshiped the LORD, and blessed the LORD, the God of my master Abraham, [b]who had guided me in the right way to take the daughter of my master's [1]kinsman for his son.

49 "So now if you are going to [1][a]deal kindly and truly with my master, tell me; and if not, let me know, that I may turn to the right hand or the left."

50 Then Laban and Bethuel replied, "[a]The matter comes from the LORD; [b]so we cannot speak to you bad or good.

51 "Here is Rebekah before you, take her and go, and let her be the wife of your master's son, as the LORD has spoken."

52 When Abraham's servant heard their words, he [a]bowed himself to the ground [1]before the LORD.

53 The servant brought out [a]articles of silver and articles of gold, and garments, and gave them to Rebekah; he also gave precious things to her brother and to her mother.

54 Then he and the men who were with him ate and drank and spent the night. When they arose in the morning, he said, "[a]Send me away to my master."

55 But her brother and her mother said, "[a]Let the girl stay with us a few days, say ten; afterward she may go."

56 He said to them, "Do not delay me, since [a]the LORD has prospered my way. Send me away that I may go to my master."

57 And they said, "We will call the girl and [1]consult her wishes."

58 Then they called Rebekah and said to her, "Will you go with this man?" And she said, "I will go."

59 Thus they sent away their sister Rebekah and [a]her nurse with Abraham's servant and his men.

60 They blessed Rebekah and said to her,
"May you, our sister,
[a]Become thousands of ten thousands,
And may [b]your [1]descendants possess
The gate of those who hate them."

61 Then Rebekah arose with her maids, and they mounted the camels and followed the man. So the servant took Rebekah and departed.

Isaac Marries Rebekah

62 Now Isaac had come from going to [a]Beer-lahai-roi; for he [1]was living in [b]the [2]Negev.

63 Isaac went out [a]to [1]meditate in the field toward evening; and [b]he lifted up his eyes and looked, and behold, camels were coming.

64 Rebekah lifted up her eyes, and when she saw Isaac she dismounted from the camel.

65 She said to the servant, "Who is that man walking in the field to meet us?" And the servant said, "He is my master." Then she took her [1]veil and covered herself.

66 The servant told Isaac all the things that he had done.

67 Then Isaac brought her into his mother Sarah's tent, and [a]he took Rebekah, and she became his wife, and [b]he loved her; thus Isaac was comforted after [c]his mother's death.

Abraham's Death

25 Now Abraham took another wife, [1]whose name was Keturah.

2 [a]She bore to him Zimran and Jokshan and Medan and Midian and Ishbak and Shuah.

3 Jokshan [1]became the father of Sheba and Dedan. And the sons of Dedan were Asshurim and Letushim and Leummim.

4 The sons of Midian were Ephah and Epher and Hanoch and Abida and Eldaah. All these were the sons of Keturah.

5 [a]Now Abraham gave all that he had to Isaac;

6 but to the sons of [1]his concubines, Abraham gave gifts while he was still living, and [a]sent them away from his son Isaac eastward, to the land of the east.

7 These are [1]all the years of Abraham's life that he lived, [a]one hundred and seventy-five years.

8 Abraham breathed his last and died [a]in a [1]ripe old age, an old man and satisfied with life; and he was [b]gathered to his people.

9 Then his sons Isaac and Ishmael buried him in [a]the cave of Machpelah, in the field of Ephron the son of Zohar the Hittite, facing Mamre,

10 [a]the field which Abraham purchased from the sons of Heth; there Abraham was buried with Sarah his wife.

11 It came about after the death of Abraham, that [a]God blessed his son Isaac; and Isaac [1]lived by [b]Beer-lahai-roi.

Isaac's Sons

19 Now these are the records of [a]the generations of Isaac, Abraham's son: Abraham [1]became the father of Isaac;

20 and Isaac was forty years old when he took [a]Rebekah, the [b]daughter of Bethuel the [1]Aramean of Paddan-aram, the [c]sister of Laban the [1]Aramean, to be his wife.

21 Isaac prayed to the LORD on behalf of his wife, because she was barren; and [a]the LORD [1]answered him and Rebekah his wife [b]conceived.

22 But the children struggled together within her; and she said, "If it is so, why then am I this way?" So she went to [a]inquire of the LORD.

23 The LORD said to her,

"[a]Two nations are in your womb;
[b]And two peoples will be separated from your body;
And one people shall be stronger than the other;
And [c]the older shall serve the younger."

25:1 took another wife. Or "married another woman"—his "concubine" (1 Chr 1:32). took. Or "had taken," since Abraham would have been 140 years old at this time if the order is chronological.
25:5 gave all that he had to Isaac. The law of primogeniture provided that at least a double share of the father's property be given to the firstborn son when the father died (Deut 21:15–17). Parallels to this practice come from Nuzi, from Larsa in the Old Babylonian period and from Assyria in the Middle Assyrian period. Isaac was Abraham's firstborn son according to law.
25:6 gifts. These doubtless represented the inheritance left to Abraham's other sons. concubines. Secondary wives; polygamy was practiced even by godly men in ancient times, though it was not the original divine intention (see note on 4:19).
25:7 one hundred and seventy-five years. Abraham lived for a full century after "he departed from Haran" (12:4).
25:8 died in a ripe old age. As God had promised (see 15:15). an old man and satisfied with life. A phrase used also of the patriarch Job (see Job 42:17). was gathered to his people. Joined his ancestors and/or deceased relatives in death (see 2 Kin 22:20; 2 Chr 34:28).
25:9 Isaac and Ishmael. Isaac, legally the firstborn (see note on v. 5), is listed first.
25:11 Beer-lahai-roi. See note on 16:14.
25:12 generations. See note on 2:4.
25:13 names of the sons of Ishmael. Many are Arab names, giving credence to the Arab tradition that Ishmael is their ancestor.
25:16 twelve princes. Twelve major tribes descended from Abraham's son Ishmael (as predicted in 17:20)—as was also true of Abraham's brother Nahor (see note on 22:23–24).
25:18 in defiance of. See note on 16:12; or possibly "to the east of" (see also 25:6).
25:19 generations. See note on 2:4.
25:20 Paddan-aram. Means "plain of Aram," another name for Aram-naharaim (Northwest Mesopotamia; see note on 24:10).
25:22 struggled together. The struggle between Jacob and Esau began in the womb (see also v. 26). went. Perhaps to a nearby place of worship.
25:23 the older shall serve the younger. The ancient law of primogeniture (see note on v. 5) provided that, under ordinary circumstances, the younger of two sons would be subservient to the older. God's election of the younger son highlights the fact that God's people are the product not of natural or worldly development but of His sovereign intervention in the affairs of men (see 24 When her days to be delivered were fulfilled, behold, there were twins in her womb.

25 Now the first came forth red, [a]all over like a hairy garment; and they named him Esau.
26 Afterward his brother came forth with [a]his hand holding on to Esau's heel, so [b]his name was called [1]Jacob; and Isaac was [c]sixty years old when she gave birth to them.
27 When the boys grew up, Esau became a skillful hunter, a man of the field, but Jacob was a [1]peaceful man, [2][a]living in tents.
28 Now Isaac loved Esau, because [1]he had [a]a taste for game, [b]but Rebekah loved Jacob.
29 When Jacob had cooked [a]stew, Esau came in from the field and he was [1]famished;
30 and Esau said to Jacob, "Please let me have a swallow of [1]that red stuff there, for I am [2]famished." Therefore his name was called [3]Edom.
31 But Jacob said, "[1]First sell me your [a]birthright."
32 Esau said, "Behold, I am about to die; so of what use then is the birthright to me?"
33 And Jacob said, "[1]First swear to me"; so he swore to him, and [a]sold his birthright to Jacob.
34 Then Jacob gave Esau bread and lentil stew; and he ate and drank, and rose and went on his way. Thus Esau despised his birthright.

Isaac Settles in Gerar

26 Now there was [a]a famine in the land, besides the previous famine that had occurred in the days of Abraham. So Isaac went to Gerar, to [b]Abimelech king of the Philistines.
2 The LORD [a]appeared to him and said, "Do not go down to Egypt; [1][b]stay in the land of which I shall tell you.
3 "Sojourn in this land and [a]I will be with you and [b]bless you, for [c]to you and to your [1]descendants I will give all these lands, and I will establish [d]the oath which I swore to your father Abraham.
4 "[a]I will multiply your [1]descendants as the stars of heaven, and will give your [1]descendants all these lands; and [b]by your [1]descendants all the nations of the earth [2]shall be blessed;
5 because Abraham [1][a]obeyed Me and kept My charge, My commandments, My statutes and My laws."
6 So Isaac [1]lived in Gerar.
7 When the men of the place asked about his wife, he said, "[a]She is my sister," for he was [b]afraid to say, "my wife," thinking, "[1]the men of the place might kill me on account of Rebekah, for she is [c]beautiful."
8 It came about, when he had been there a long time, that Abimelech king of the Philistines looked out through a window, and saw, and behold, Isaac was caressing his wife Rebekah.
9 Then Abimelech called Isaac and said, "Behold, certainly she is your wife! How then did you say, 'She is my sister'?" And Isaac said to him, "Because I said, 'I might die on account of her.' "
10 [a]Abimelech said, "What is this you have done to us? One of the people might note on 11:30). Part of this verse is quoted in Rom 9:10–12 as an example of God's sovereign right to do "whatever He pleases" (Ps 115:3)—not in an arbitrary way (see Rom 9:14), but according to His own perfect will.

25:24–26 For another unusual birth of twin boys see 38:27–30.

25:25 red. A pun on Edom, one of Esau's other names (Esau may mean "hairy").

25:26 his hand holding on to Esau's heel. Hostility between the Israelites (Jacob's descendants) and Edomites (Esau's descendants) became the rule rather than the exception (see, e.g., Num 20:14–21; Obad 9–10). Jacob. The name became proverbial for the unsavory quality of deceptiveness (see Jer 9:4).

25:31 sell me your birthright. In ancient times the birthright included the inheritance rights of the firstborn (see Heb 12:16; see also note on v. 5). Jacob was ever the schemer, seeking by any means to gain advantage over others. But it was by God's appointment and care, not Jacob's wits, that he came into the blessing.

25:33 First swear to me. A verbal oath was all that was required to make the transaction legal.

25:34 lentil. A small pea-like annual plant, the pods of which turn reddish-brown when boiled. It grows well even in bad soil and has provided an important source of nourishment in the Near East since ancient times (see 2 Sam 17:28; 23:11; Ezek 4:9). Esau despised his birthright. In so doing, he proved himself to be "godless" (Heb 12:16), since at the heart of the birthright were the covenant promises that Isaac had inherited from Abraham.

26:1–33 The events of some of these verses (e.g., vv. 1–11) occurred before the birth of Esau and Jacob. Verses 1–11 are placed here to highlight the fact that the birthright and blessing Jacob struggled to obtain from his father (see 25:22,31–33; 27:5–29) involved the covenant inheritance of Abraham that Isaac had received.

26:1 the previous famine . . . in the days of Abraham. See 12:10. Gerar. See note on 20:1. Abimelech. Probably the son or grandson of the earlier king who bore the same name (see 20:2). Philistines. See note on 10:14.

26:2 appeared. See note on 12:7.

26:3 I will be with you. God's promise to be a sustainer and protector of His people is repeated often (see, e.g., v. 24; 28:15; 31:3; Josh 1:5; Is 41:10; Jer 1:8,19; Matt 28:20; Acts 18:10; see also Gen 17:7 and note). the oath which I swore to your father Abraham. See 22:16–18.

26:4 descendants as the stars of heaven. See 13:16; 15:5 and notes. by your descendants all the nations of the earth shall be blessed. See note on 12:2–3.

26:5 because Abraham obeyed Me. See note on 17:9. charge . . . commandments . . . statutes . . . laws. Legal language describing various aspects of the divine regulations that God's people were expected to keep (see Lev 26:14–15,46; Deut 11:1). Addressing Israel after the covenant at Sinai, the author of Genesis used language that strictly applied only to that covenant. But he emphasized to Israel that their father Abraham had been obedient to God's will in his time and that they must follow his example if they were to receive the covenant promises.

26:7 for she is beautiful. See 12:11,14.

26:8 caressing. The word in Hebrew (a form of the verb translated "laugh" in 17:17; 18:12–13,15; 21:6 and "mock" in 21:9) is yet another pun on Isaac's name.

easily have lain with your wife, and you would have brought guilt upon us."

11 So Abimelech charged all the people, saying, "He who [a]touches this man or his wife shall surely be put to death."

12 Now Isaac sowed in that land and [1]reaped in the same year a hundredfold. And [a]the LORD blessed him,

13 and the man [a]became rich, and continued to grow [1]richer until he became very [1]wealthy;

14 for [a]he had possessions of flocks [1]and herds and a great household, so that the Philistines envied him.

15 Now [a]all the wells which his father's servants had dug in the days of Abraham his father, the Philistines stopped up [1]by filling them with earth.

16 Then Abimelech said to Isaac, "Go away from us, for you are [1][a]too powerful for us."

17 And Isaac departed from there and camped in the valley of Gerar, and [1]settled there.

Quarrel over the Wells

18 Then Isaac dug again the wells of water which [1]had been dug in the days of his father Abraham, for the Philistines had stopped them up after the death of Abraham; and he [2]gave them the same names which his father had [3]given them.

19 But when Isaac's servants dug in the valley and found there a well of [1]flowing water, 20 the herdsmen of Gerar [a]quarreled with the herdsmen of Isaac, saying, "The water is ours!" So he named the well [1]Esek, because they contended with him.

21 Then they dug another well, and they quarreled over it too, so he named it [1]Sitnah.

22 He moved away from there and dug another well, and they did not quarrel over it; so he named it [1]Rehoboth, for he said, "[2][a]At last the LORD has made [3]room for us, and we will be [b]fruitful in the land."

23 Then he went up from there to [a]Beersheba.

24 The LORD [a]appeared to him the same night and said,

"[b]I am the God of your father Abraham;
[c]Do not fear, for I am with you.
I [d]will bless you, and multiply your [1]descendants,
For the sake of My servant Abraham."

25 So he built an [a]altar there and called upon the name of the LORD, and pitched his tent there; and there Isaac's servants dug a well.

Covenant with Abimelech

26 Then [a]Abimelech came to him from Gerar [1]with his adviser Ahuzzath and Phicol the commander of his army.

27 Isaac said to them, "[a]Why have you come to me, since you hate me and have sent me away from you?"

28 They said, "We see plainly [a]that the LORD has been with you; so we said, 'Let there now be an oath between us, even between [1]you and us, and let us make a covenant with you,

29 that you will do us no harm, just as we have not touched you [1]and have done to you nothing but good and have sent you away in peace. You are now the [a]blessed of the LORD.' "

30 Then [a]he made them a feast, and they ate and drank.

31 In the morning they arose early and [1][a]exchanged oaths; then Isaac sent them away and they departed from him in peace.

32 Now it came about on the same day, that Isaac's servants came in and told him about the well which they had dug, and said to him, "We have found water."

33 So he called it Shibah; therefore the name of the city is [a]Beersheba to this day.

34 When Esau was forty years old [a]he [1]married Judith the daughter of Beeri the Hittite, and Basemath the daughter of Elon the Hittite;

35 and [a]they [1]brought grief to Isaac and Rebekah.

Jacob's Deception

27 Now it came about, when Isaac was old and [a]his eyes were too dim to see, that he called his [b]older son Esau and said to him, "My son." And he said to him, "Here I am."

26:16 you are too powerful for us. An indication that the covenant promises were being fulfilled. Already in the days of the patriarchs, the presence of God's people in the land was seen as a threat by the peoples of the world. As the world's people pursued their own godless living, God's people aroused their hostility. A similar complaint was voiced by an Egyptian pharaoh hundreds of years later (Ex 1:9).

26:20 The water is ours! In those arid regions, disputes over water rights and pasturelands were common (see 13:6–11; 21:25; 36:7).

26:25 built an altar. See note on 12:7. called upon the name of the LORD. See 4:26 and note.

26:26 Phicol. See note on 21:22.

26:30 made them a feast. Covenants were often concluded with a shared meal, signifying the bond of friendship (see 31:54; Ex 24:11).

26:33 the name of the city is Beersheba. See note on 21:31.

26:34 When Esau was forty years old he married. As had his father Isaac (see 25:20). Forty years was roughly equivalent to a generation in later times (see Num 32:13). Judith . . . Basemath. In addition to these two wives, Esau also married Mahalath, who was the sister of Nebaioth and daughter of Ishmael (28:9). The Esau genealogy of ch. 36 also mentions three wives, but they are identified as "Adah the daughter of Elon the Hittite," "Oholibamah the daughter of Anah . . . the Hivite" and "Basemath, Ishmael's daughter, the sister of Nebaioth" (36:2–3). Possibly the lists have suffered in transmission, or perhaps alternate names or nicknames are used. It may also be that Esau married more than three wives.

26:35 They brought grief. Isaac and Rebekah were determined not to allow Jacob to make the same mistake of marrying Hittite or Canaanite women (see 27:46–28:2).

27:1 his eyes were too dim to see. In ancient times, blindness and near blindness were common among elderly people (see 48:10; 1 Sam 4:15). Here I am. See note on 22:1.

2 [1][a]Isaac said, "Behold now, I am old and I do not know the day of my death.
3 "Now then, please take your gear, your quiver and your bow, and go out to the field and [a]hunt game for me;
4 and prepare a savory dish for me such as I love, and bring it to me that I may eat, so that [a]my soul may bless you before I die."
5 Rebekah was listening while Isaac spoke to his son Esau. So when Esau went to the field to hunt for game to bring home,
6 [a]Rebekah said to her son Jacob,
"Behold, I heard your father speak to your brother Esau, saying,
7 'Bring me some game and prepare a savory dish for me, that I may eat, and bless you in the presence of the LORD before my death.'
8 "Now therefore, my son, [a]listen to [1]me
[2]as I command you.
9 "Go now to the flock and [1]bring me two choice [2]young goats from there, that I may prepare them as a savory dish for your father, such as he loves.
10 "Then you shall bring it to your father, that he may eat, so that he may bless you before his death."
11 Jacob [1]answered his mother Rebekah,
"Behold, Esau my brother is a [a]hairy man and I am a smooth man.
12 "[a]Perhaps my father will feel me, then I will be as a [1]deceiver in his sight, and I will bring upon myself a curse and not a blessing."
13 But his mother said to him, "Your curse be on me, my son; only [a]obey my voice, and go, get them for me."
14 So he went and got them, and brought them to his mother; and his mother made savory food such as his father loved.
15 Then Rebekah took the [1]best [a]garments of Esau her elder son, which were with her in the house, and put them on Jacob her younger son.
16 And she put the skins of the [1]young goats on his hands and on the smooth part of his neck.
17 She also gave the savory food and the bread, which she had made, [1]to her son
Jacob.
18 Then he came to his father and said,

19 Jacob said to his father, "I am Esau your firstborn; I have done as you told me.
[a]Get up, please, sit and eat of my game, that
[1][b]you may bless me."
20 Isaac said to his son, "How is it that you have it so quickly, my son?" And he said, "[a]Because the LORD your God caused it to happen to me."
21 Then Isaac said to Jacob, "Please come close, that [a]I may feel you, my son, whether you are really my son Esau or not."
22 So Jacob came close to Isaac his father, and he felt him and said, "The voice is the voice of Jacob, but the hands are the hands of Esau."
23 He did not recognize him, because his hands were [a]hairy like his brother Esau's hands; so he blessed him.
24 And he said, "Are you really my son
Esau?" And he said, "I am."
25 So he said, "Bring it to me, and I will eat of my son's game, that [1][a]I may bless you." And he brought it to him, and he ate; he also brought him wine and he drank.
26 Then his father Isaac said to him,
"Please come close and kiss me, my son."
27 So he came close and kissed him; and when he smelled the smell of his garments, he [a]blessed him and said,

"See, [b]the smell of my son
Is like the smell of a field [c]which the LORD has blessed;
28 Now may [a]God give you of the dew of heaven,
And of the [b]fatness of the earth,
And an abundance of grain and new

And nations bow down to you;

The Stolen Blessing

30 Now it came about, as soon as Isaac had finished blessing Jacob, and Jacob had hardly gone out from the presence of Isaac

27:4 a savory dish . . . such as I love. Rebekah and Jacob took advantage of Isaac's love for a certain kind of food (see vv. 9,14). my soul may bless you before I die. Oral statements, including deathbed bequests (see 49:28–33), had legal force in ancient Near Eastern law. bless. See note on v. 36.

27:5 listening. Eavesdropping.

27:6 Rebekah. Throughout the Jacob story the author develops a wordplay on "birthright" (bekorah) and "blessing" (berakah), both of which Jacob seeks to obtain; and Rebekah (ribqah) does her best to further the cause of her favorite son. said to her son Jacob. The parental favoritism mentioned in 25:28 is about to bear its poisonous fruit.

27:8 my son, listen to me as I command you. Rebekah proves to be just as deceitful as Jacob, whose very name signifies deceit (see v. 36; 25:26 and note).

27:13 Your curse be on me. Cf. the similar self-imprecation in Matt 27:25.

27:20 your God. Consistent with Jacob's language elsewhere (31:5,42; 32:9). Not until his safe return from Haran did he speak of the Lord as his own God (cf. 28:20–22; 33:18–20).

27:24 Are you really my son Esau? To the very end of the charade, Isaac remained suspicious.

27:27 kissed him. In his attempt to obtain the covenant blessing, Jacob the father of Israel betrayed with a kiss. Jesus the great Son of Israel, who ultimately obtained the blessing for Israel, was betrayed with a kiss (Matt 26:48–49; Luke 22:48).

27:29 Be master of your brothers. Isaac was unwittingly blessing Jacob and thus fulfilling God's promise to Rebekah in 25:23.

his father, that Esau his brother came in from his hunting.

31 Then he also made savory food, and brought it to his father; and he said to his father, "[a]Let my father arise and eat of his son's game, that [1][b]you may bless me."

32 Isaac his father said to him, "[a]Who are you?" And he said, "I am your son, [b]your firstborn, Esau."

33 Then Isaac [1]trembled violently, and said, "[a]Who was he then that hunted game and brought it to me, so that I ate of all of it before you came, and blessed him? [b]Yes, and he shall be blessed."

34 When Esau heard the words of his father, [a]he cried out with an exceedingly great and bitter cry, and said to his father, "Bless me, even me also, O my father!"

35 And he said, "[a]Your brother came deceitfully and has taken away your blessing."

36 Then he said, "[1]Is he not rightly named [a]Jacob, for he has supplanted me these two times? He took away my birthright, and behold, now he has taken away my blessing." And he said, "Have you not reserved a blessing for me?"

37 But Isaac replied to Esau, "Behold, I have made him [a]your master, and all his [1]relatives I have given to him [2]as servants; and with grain and new wine I have sustained him. Now as for you then, what can I do, my son?"

38 Esau said to his father, "Do you have only one blessing, my father? Bless me, even me also, O my father." So Esau lifted his voice and [a]wept.

39 Then [a]Isaac his father answered and said to him,

"Behold, [1][b]away from the [2]fertility of the earth shall be your dwelling,
And [1]away from the dew of heaven from above.

40 "By your sword you shall live,
And your brother [a]you shall serve;
But it shall come about [b]when you become restless,
That you will [1]break his yoke from your neck."

41 So Esau [a]bore a grudge against Jacob because of the blessing with which his father had blessed him; and Esau said [1]to himself, "[b]The days of mourning for my father are near; then I will kill my brother Jacob."

42 Now when the words of her elder son Esau were reported to Rebekah, she sent and called her younger son Jacob, and said to him, "Behold your brother Esau is consoling himself concerning you by planning to kill you.

43 "Now therefore, my son, [a]obey my voice, and arise, [1]flee to [b]Haran, to my brother [c]Laban!

44 "Stay with him [a]a few days, until your brother's fury [1]subsides, 45 until your brother's anger [1]against you subsides and he forgets [a]what you did to him. Then I will send and get you from there. Why should I be bereaved of you both in one day?"

46 Rebekah said to Isaac, "I am tired of [1]living because of [a]the daughters of Heth; [b]if Jacob takes a wife from the daughters of Heth, like these, from the daughters of the land, what good will my life be to me?"

5 [a]Gen 27:43

Jacob Is Sent Away

28 So Isaac called Jacob and [a]blessed him and charged him, and said to him, "[b]You shall not take a wife from the daughters of Canaan.

2 "Arise, go to Paddan-aram, to the house of [a]Bethuel your mother's father; and from there take to yourself a wife from the daughters of Laban your mother's brother.

3 "May [1][a]God Almighty [b]bless you and [c]make you fruitful and [d]multiply you, that you may become a [e]company of peoples.

4 "May He also give you the [a]blessing of Abraham, to you and to your [1]descendants with you, that you may [b]possess the land of your [c]sojournings, which God gave to Abraham."

5 Then [a]Isaac sent Jacob away, and he went to Paddan-aram to Laban, son of Bethuel the Aramean, the brother of Rebekah, the mother of Jacob and Esau.

27:33 Yes, and he shall be blessed. The ancient world believed that blessings and curses had a kind of magical power to accomplish what they pronounced. But Isaac, as heir and steward of God's covenant blessing, acknowledged that he had solemnly transmitted that heritage to Jacob by way of a legally binding bequest (see note on v. 4).

27:34 exceedingly great and bitter cry. Esau's tears provided "no place for repentance" (Heb 12:17).

27:36 Is he not rightly named Jacob . . .? Jacob means "he grasps the heel" (figuratively, "he deceives"); see 25:26 and note. He took away my birthright . . . now he has taken away my blessing. The Hebrew for "birthright" is bekorah, and for "blessing" it is berakah (see note on v. 6). Though Esau tried to separate birthright from blessing, the former led inevitably to the latter, since both involved the inheritance of the firstborn (see Heb 12:16–17).

27:39 away from the fertility of the earth . . . away from the dew of heaven. Cf. v. 28. Isaac's secondary blessing of Esau could be only a parody of his primary blessing of Jacob.

27:40 See 25:23 and notes on 25:22,26.

27:43 obey my voice. Bad advice earlier (see vv. 8,13), but sensible counsel this time.

27:44 a few days. Twenty years, as it turned out (see 31:38,41).

27:45 you both. Either Jacob and Isaac or Jacob and Esau, who would become a target for blood revenge if he killed Jacob (cf. 2 Sam 14:6–7).

27:46 See note on 26:35.

28:2 Paddan-aram. Means "plain of Aram," another name for Aram-naharaim (see note on 24:10). from there take to yourself a wife. See 24:3–4.

28:3 God Almighty. See note on 17:1.

28:4 the blessing of Abraham. For Paul's application of this phrase to Christian believers see Gal 3:14.

28:5 See map, p. 47.

6 Now Esau saw that Isaac had blessed Jacob and sent him away to Paddan-aram to take to himself a wife from there, and that when he blessed him he charged him, saying, "[a]You shall not take a wife from the daughters of Canaan,"

7 and that Jacob had obeyed his father and his mother and had gone to Paddan-aram.

8 So Esau saw that [a]the daughters of Canaan displeased [1]his father Isaac;

9 and Esau went to Ishmael, and [1]married, [a]besides the wives that he had, Mahalath the daughter of Ishmael, Abraham's son, the sister of Nebaioth.

Jacob's Dream

10 Then Jacob departed from [a]Beersheba and went toward [b]Haran.

11 He [1]came to [2]a [a]certain place and spent the night there, because the sun had set; and he took one of the stones of the place and put it [3]under his head, and lay down in that place.

12 [a]He had a dream, and behold, a ladder was set on the earth with its top reaching to heaven; and behold, [b]the angels of God were ascending and descending on it.

13 And behold, [a]the LORD stood [1]above it and said, "I am the LORD, [b]the God of your father Abraham and the God of Isaac; the land on which you lie, I will give it [c]to you and to [d]your [2]descendants.

14 "Your [1]descendants will also be like [a]the dust of the earth, and you will [2]spread out [b]to the west and to the east and to the north and to the south; and [c]in you and in your [1]descendants shall all the families of the earth be blessed.

15 "Behold, [a]I am with you and [b]will keep you wherever you go, and [c]will bring you back to this land; for [d]I will not leave you until I have done what I have [1]promised you."

16 Then Jacob [a]awoke from his sleep and said, "[b]Surely the LORD is in this place, and I did not know it."

17 He was afraid and said, "[a]How awesome is this place! This is none other than the house of God, and this is the gate of heaven."

18 So Jacob rose early in the morning, and took [a]the stone that he had put [1]under his head and set it up as a pillar and poured oil on its top.

19 He called the name of that place [1a]Bethel; however, [2]previously the name of the city had been [b]Luz.

20 Then Jacob [a]made a vow, saying, "[b]If God will be with me and will keep me on this journey that I [1]take, and will give me [2c]food to eat and garments to wear, 21 and [a]I return to my father's house in [1]safety, [b]then the LORD will be my God.

22 "This stone, which I have set up as a pillar, [a]will be God's house, and [b]of all that You give me I will surely give a tenth to You."

Jacob Meets Rachel

29 Then Jacob [1]went on his journey, and came to the land of [a]the sons of the east.

2 He looked, and [1]saw [a]a well in the field, and behold, three flocks of sheep were lying there beside it, for from that well they watered the flocks. Now the stone on the mouth of the well was large.

3 When all the flocks were gathered there, they would then roll the stone from the mouth of the well and water the sheep, and put the stone back in its place on the mouth of the well.

4 Jacob said to them, "My brothers, where are you from?" And they said, "We are from [a]Haran."

5 He said to them, "Do you know Laban the [a]son of Nahor?" And they said, "We know him."

6 And he said to them, "Is it well with him?" And they said, "It is well, and here is [a]Rachel his daughter coming with the sheep."

28:9 besides the wives that he had. See 26:34 and note.
28:11 one of the stones . . . under his head. In ancient times headrests (e.g., in Egypt) were often quite hard, sometimes being made of metal. People were used to sleeping on the ground.
28:12 ladder. Not a ladder with rungs, it was more likely a stairway such as mounted the sloping side of a ziggurat (see note on 11:4). angels of God were ascending and descending on it. A sign that the Lord offered to be Jacob's God. Jesus told a disciple that he would "see the heavens opened and the angels of God ascending and descending on the Son of Man" (John 1:51). Jesus Himself is the bridge between heaven and earth (see John 14:6), the only "mediator . . . between God and men" (1 Tim 2:5).
28:13 the LORD stood above it. Mesopotamian ziggurats were topped with a small shrine where worshipers prayed to their gods.
28:14 like the dust of the earth. See note on 13:16. in you . . . shall all the families of the earth be blessed. Repeats the blessing of 12:3.
28:15 I am with you. See note on 26:3. I will not leave you. Unlike the gods of pagan religions, in which the gods were merely local deities who gave protection only within their own territories, the one true God assured Jacob that He would always be with him wherever he went.
28:17 house of God . . . gate of heaven. Phrases that related Jacob's stairway to the Mesopotamian ziggurats (see notes on 11:4,9).
28:18 pillar. A memorial of worship or of communion between man and God, common in ancient times. poured oil on its top. To consecrate it (see Ex 30:25–29).
28:21 return . . . in safety. Partially fulfilled in 33:18. the LORD will be my God. For the first time Jacob considered (conditionally: "If . . .") acknowledging the God of Abraham and Isaac (see v. 13; 27:20) as his own. His full acknowledgment came only after his safe return from Haran (see 33:20 and note).
28:22 This stone . . . will be God's house. In the sense that it would memorialize Jacob's meeting with God at Bethel (Bethel means "house of God"). of all that You give me I will surely give a tenth to You. A way of acknowledging the Lord as his God and King (see note on 14:20).
29:5 son. Or "grandson" (see note on 10:1; see also 24:15,29).

7 He said, "Behold, it is still high day; it is not time for the livestock to be gathered. Water the sheep, and go, pasture them."

8 But they said, "We cannot, until all the flocks are gathered, and they roll the stone from the mouth of the well; then we water the sheep."

9 While he was still speaking with them, Rachel came with her father's sheep, for she was a shepherdess.

10 When Jacob saw Rachel the daughter of Laban his mother's brother, and the sheep of Laban his mother's brother, Jacob went up and rolled the stone from the mouth of the well and watered the flock of Laban his mother's brother.

11 Then Jacob [a]kissed Rachel, and lifted his voice and wept.

12 Jacob told Rachel that he was a [1][a]relative of her father and that he was Rebekah's son, and [b]she ran and told her father.

13 So when [a]Laban heard the news of Jacob his sister's son, he ran to meet him, and [b]embraced him and kissed him and brought him to his house. Then he related to Laban all these things.

14 Laban said to him, "Surely you are [a]my bone and my flesh." And he stayed with him a month.

15 Then Laban said to Jacob, "Because you are my [1]relative, should you therefore serve me for nothing? Tell me, what shall [a]your wages be?"

16 Now Laban had two daughters; the name of the older was Leah, and the name of the younger was Rachel.

17 And Leah's eyes were weak, but Rachel was [a]beautiful of form and [1]face.

18 Now Jacob [a]loved Rachel, so he said, "[b]I will serve you seven years for your younger daughter Rachel."

19 Laban said, "It is better that I give her to you than to give her to another man; stay with me."

20 So Jacob served seven years for Rachel and they seemed to him but a few days [a]because of his love for her.

Laban's Treachery

21 Then Jacob said to Laban, "Give me my wife, for my [1]time is completed, that I may [a]go in to her."

22 Laban gathered all the men of the place and made a feast.

23 Now in the evening he took his daughter Leah, and brought her to him; and Jacob went in to her.

24 Laban also gave his maid Zilpah to his daughter Leah as a maid.

25 So it came about in the morning that, behold, it was Leah! And he said to Laban, "[a]What is this you have done to me? Was it not for Rachel that I served with you? Why then have you [b]deceived me?"

26 But Laban said, "It is not [1]the practice in our place to [2]marry off the younger before the firstborn.

27 "Complete the week of this one, and we will give you the other also for the service which [a]you shall serve with me for another seven years."

28 Jacob did so and completed her week, and he gave him his daughter Rachel as his wife.

29 Laban also gave his maid Bilhah to his daughter Rachel as her maid.

30 So Jacob went in to Rachel also, and indeed [a]he loved Rachel more than Leah, and he served with [1]Laban for [b]another seven years.

31 Now the LORD saw that Leah was [1]unloved, and He opened her womb, but Rachel was barren.

32 Leah conceived and bore a son and named him [1]Reuben, for she said, "Because the LORD has [2][a]seen my affliction; surely now my husband will love me."

33 Then she conceived again and bore a son and said, "[a]Because the LORD has [1]heard that I am [2]unloved, He has therefore given me this son also." So she named him Simeon.

34 She conceived again and bore a son and said, "Now this time my husband will become [1]attached to me, because I have borne him three sons." Therefore he was named [a]Levi.

29:9 shepherdess. The task of caring for sheep and goats in the Middle East was shared by men and women.

29:10 rolled the stone. A feat of unusual strength for one man, because the stone was large (see v. 2).

29:11 wept. For joy.

29:14 my bone and my flesh. A Hebrew phrase that stresses blood kinship (see, e.g., 2:23).

29:16 Leah . . . Rachel. The names mean "cow" and "ewe" respectively, appropriate in a herdsman's family.

29:21 my wife. If Jacob had said "Rachel," Laban would have had no excuse for giving him Leah.

29:22 feast. A wedding feast was usually seven days long (see vv. 27–28; Judg 14:10,12).

29:23 in the evening . . . Jacob went in to her. The darkness, or perhaps a veil (see 24:65), may have concealed Leah's identity.

29:24 See v. 29; a wedding custom documented in Old Babylonian marriage contracts.

29:25 you deceived me. Jacob, the deceiver in name (see note on 25:26) as well as in behavior (see 27:36), had himself been deceived. The one who had tried everything to obtain the benefits of the firstborn had now, against his will, received the firstborn (vv. 16,26).

29:28 he gave him his daughter Rachel. Before Jacob worked another seven years (see v. 30).

29:30 Jacob . . . loved Rachel more than Leah. Not only because Rachel had been his choice from the beginning but also, no doubt, because Laban had tricked Jacob into marrying Leah.

29:31–35 Leah, though unloved, nevertheless became the mother of Jacob's first four sons, including Levi (ancestor of the Aaronic priestly line) and Judah (ancestor of David and his royal line, and ultimately of Jesus).

29:32 named him Reuben . . . Because the LORD has seen my affliction. Ishmael had received his name in similar circumstances (see 16:11).

35 And she conceived again and bore a son and said, "This time I will [1]praise the LORD." Therefore she named him [2][a]Judah. Then she stopped bearing.

The Sons of Jacob

30 Now when Rachel saw that [a]she bore Jacob no children, [1]she became jealous of her sister; and she said to Jacob, "[b]Give me children, or else I die."

2 Then Jacob's anger burned against Rachel, and he said, "Am I in the place of God, who has [a]withheld from you the fruit of the womb?"

3 She said, "[a]Here is my maid Bilhah, go in to her that she may [b]bear on my knees, that [1][a]through her I too may have children."

4 So [a]she gave him her maid Bilhah as a wife, and Jacob went in to her.

5 Bilhah conceived and bore Jacob a son.

6 Then Rachel said, "God has [1][a]vindicated me, and has indeed heard my voice and has given me a son." Therefore she named him [2]Dan.

7 Rachel's maid Bilhah conceived again and bore Jacob a second son.

8 So Rachel said, "With [1]mighty wrestlings I have [2]wrestled with my sister, and I have indeed prevailed." And she named him Naphtali.

9 When Leah saw that she had stopped bearing, she took her maid Zilpah and gave her to Jacob as a wife.

10 Leah's maid Zilpah bore Jacob a son.

11 Then Leah said, "[1]How fortunate!" So she named him [2]Gad.

12 Leah's maid Zilpah bore Jacob a second son.

13 Then Leah said, "[1]Happy am I! For women [a]will call me happy." So she named him [2]Asher.

14 Now in the days of wheat harvest Reuben went and found [a]mandrakes in the field, and brought them to his mother Leah. Then Rachel said to Leah, "Please give me some of your son's mandrakes."

15 But she said to her, "Is it a small matter for you to take my husband? And would you take my son's mandrakes also?" So Rachel said, "Therefore he may lie with you tonight in return for your son's mandrakes."

16 When Jacob came in from the field in the evening, then Leah went out to meet him and said, "You must come in to me, for I have surely hired you with my son's mandrakes." So he lay with her that night.

17 God gave heed to Leah, and she conceived and bore Jacob a fifth son.

18 Then Leah said, "God has given me my [1]wages because I gave my maid to my husband." So she named him Issachar.

19 Leah conceived again and bore a sixth son to Jacob.

20 Then Leah said, "God has endowed me with a good gift; now my husband [1]will dwell with me, because I have borne him six sons." So she named him Zebulun.

21 Afterward she bore a daughter and named her Dinah.

22 Then [a]God remembered Rachel, and God gave heed to her and [b]opened her womb.

23 So she conceived and bore a son and said, "God has [a]taken away my reproach."

24 She named him Joseph, saying, "[a]May the LORD [1]give me another son."

Jacob Prospers

25 Now it came about when Rachel had borne Joseph, that Jacob said to Laban, "[a]Send me away, that I may go to my own place and to my own country.

26 "Give me my wives and my children [a]for whom I have served you, and let me depart; for you yourself know my service which I have [1]rendered you."

27 But Laban said to him, "If now [1]it pleases you, stay with me; I have divined

30:1 she became jealous of her sister. As Jacob was of his older brother. Give me children, or else I die. Tragically prophetic words (see 35:16–19).
30:2 Am I in the place of God . . . ? Jacob was forever trying to secure the blessing by his own efforts. Here he has to acknowledge that the blessing of offspring could come only from God (see 31:7–13 for the blessing of flocks). Joseph later echoed these words (see 50:19).
30:3 go in to her. See v. 9; see also 16:2 and note. on my knees. Apparently an expression symbolic of adoption (see 48:10–16) and meaning "as though my own" (see note on 50:23).
30:4 as a wife. As a concubine (see 35:22).
30:5–12 Jacob's fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth sons were born to him through his maidservant concubines.
30:14 give me some of your son's mandrakes. The mandrake has fleshy, forked roots that resemble the lower part of a human body and were therefore superstitiously thought to induce pregnancy when eaten (see Song 7:13). Rachel, like Jacob (vv. 37–43), tried to obtain what she wanted by magical means.
30:16 hired. The Hebrew for this word is a pun on the name Issachar. (Issachar sounds like the Hebrew for "reward.")
30:17–20 Jacob's ninth and tenth sons were born through Leah, who was thus the mother of half of Jacob's 12 sons (see note on 29:31–35).
30:20 endowed . . . gift. The Hebrew terms for these words are puns on the name Zebulun. (Zebulun probably means "honor.")
30:21 Dinah. See ch. 34.
30:22 God remembered Rachel. See note on 8:1.
30:23 reproach. Barrenness was considered to be shameful, a mark of divine disfavor (see 16:2; 30:2).
30:24 May the LORD give me another son. The fulfillment of Rachel's wish would bring about her death (see 35:16–19).
30:27 divined. The attempt to discover hidden knowledge through mechanical means (see 44:5), the interpretation of omens (see Ezek 21:21) or the aid of supernatural powers (see Acts 16:16). It was strictly forbidden to Israel (Lev 19:26; Deut 18:10,14) because it reflected a pagan concept of the world controlled by evil forces, and therefore obviously not under the sovereign rule of the Lord. the LORD has blessed me on your account. Cf. 21:22; 26:28–29. The offspring of Abraham were a source of blessing (see 12:2).

[a]that the LORD has blessed me on your account."

28 He [1]continued, "[a]Name me your wages, and I will give it."

29 But he said to him, "[a]You yourself know how I have served you and how your cattle have [1]fared with me.

30 "For you had little before [1]I came and it has [2]increased to a multitude, and the LORD has blessed you [3]wherever I turned. But now, when shall I provide for my own household also?"

31 So he said, "What shall I give you?" And Jacob said, "You shall not give me anything. If you will do this one thing for me, I will again pasture and keep your flock:

32 let me pass through your entire flock today, removing from there every [a]speckled and spotted sheep and every black [1]one among the lambs and the spotted and speckled among the goats; and such shall be my wages.

33 "So my [1]honesty will answer for me later, when you come concerning my [2]wages. Every one that is not speckled and spotted among the goats and black among the lambs, if found with me, will be considered stolen."

34 Laban said, "[1]Good, let it be according to your word."

35 So he removed on that day the striped and spotted male goats and all the speckled and spotted female goats, every one with white in it, and all the black ones among the sheep, and gave them into the [1]care of his sons.

36 And he put a distance of three days' journey between himself and Jacob, and Jacob fed the rest of Laban's flocks.

37 Then Jacob [1]took fresh rods of poplar and almond and plane trees, and peeled white stripes in them, exposing the white which was [2]in the rods.

38 He set the rods which he had peeled in front of the flocks in the gutters, even in the watering troughs, where the flocks came to drink; and they [1]mated when they came to drink.

39 So the flocks [1]mated by the rods, and the flocks brought forth striped, speckled, and spotted.

40 Jacob separated the lambs, and [1]made the flocks face toward the striped and all the black in the flock of Laban; and he put his own herds apart, and did not put them with Laban's flock.

41 Moreover, whenever the [1]stronger of the flock [2]were mating, Jacob would place the rods in the sight of the flock in the gutters, so that they might [3]mate by the rods;

42 but when the flock was feeble, he did not put them in; so the feebler were Laban's and the [1]stronger Jacob's.

43 So [a]the man [1]became exceedingly prosperous, and had large flocks and female and male servants and camels and donkeys.

Jacob Leaves Secretly for Canaan

31 Now [1]Jacob heard the words of Laban's sons, saying, "Jacob has taken away all that was our father's, and from what belonged to our father he has made all this [2]wealth."

2 Jacob saw the [1]attitude of Laban, and behold, it was not friendly toward him as formerly.

3 Then the LORD said to Jacob, "[a]Return to the land of your fathers and to your relatives, and [b]I will be with you."

4 So Jacob sent and called Rachel and Leah to his flock in the field,

5 and said to them, "[a]I see your father's [1]attitude, that it is not friendly toward me as formerly, but [b]the God of my father has been with me.

6 "[a]You know that I have served your father with all my strength.

7 "Yet your father has [a]cheated me and [b]changed my wages ten times; however, [c]God did not allow him to hurt me.

8 "If [a]he spoke thus, 'The speckled shall be your wages,' then all the flock brought forth speckled; and if he spoke thus, 'The striped shall be your wages,' then all the flock brought forth striped.

9 "Thus God has [a]taken away your father's livestock and given them to me.

10 "And it came about at the time when the flock were [1]mating that I lifted up my eyes and saw in a dream, and behold, the male goats which were [2]mating were striped, speckled, and mottled.

11 "Then [a]the angel of God said to me in the dream, 'Jacob,' and I said, 'Here I am.'

30:35 he removed. Secretly and without telling Jacob.

30:37 poplar . . . white. The Hebrew terms for these words are puns on the name Laban. As Jacob had gotten the best of Esau (whose other name, Edom, means "red"; see note on 25:25) by means of red stew (25:30), so he now tries to get the best of Laban (whose name means "white") by means of white branches. In effect, Jacob was using Laban's own tactic (deception) against him.

30:39 The scheme worked—but only because of God's intervention (see Jacob's own admission in 31:9), not because of Jacob's superstition.

30:43 the man became exceedingly prosperous. Over a period of six years (see 31:41). While in Haran Jacob obtained both family and wealth.

31:3 Return to the land of your fathers. Every sign Jacob was getting—from his wives (see vv. 14–16), from Laban (see v. 2), from Laban's sons (see v. 1) and now from God Himself—told him that it was time to return to Canaan. I will be with you. See note on 26:3.

31:4 Rachel and Leah. At long last (see v. 14) Rachel, the younger, has been given precedence over Leah—but she will soon become a deceiver like her husband Jacob (see vv. 31,35).

31:7 ten times. See v. 41. "Ten" here probably signifies completeness. In effect, Jacob accused Laban of cheating him at every turn.

31:9 See note on 30:39.

31:11 angel of God. See note on 16:7. Here I am. See note on 22:1.

12 "He said, 'Lift up now your eyes and see that all the male goats which are [1]mating are striped, speckled, and mottled; for [a]I have seen all that Laban has been doing to you.

13 'I am [a]the God of Bethel, where you [b]anointed a pillar, where you made a vow to Me; now arise, [1]leave this land, and [c]return to the land of your birth.' "

14 Rachel and Leah said to him, "Do we still have any portion or inheritance in our father's house?

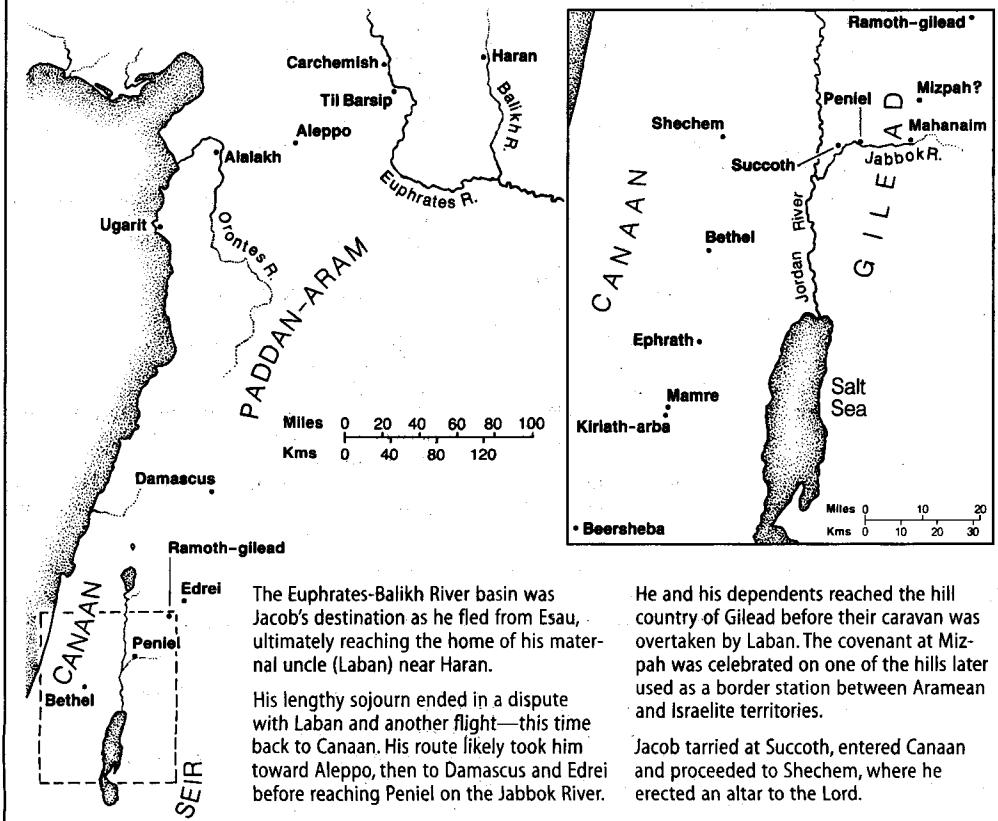
15 "Are we not reckoned by him as foreigners? For [a]he has sold us, and has also [1]entirely consumed [2]our purchase price.

16 "Surely all the wealth which God has taken away from our father belongs to us and our children; now then, do whatever God has said to you."

17 Then Jacob arose and put his children and his wives upon camels;

18 and he drove away all his livestock and all his property which he had gathered, his acquired livestock which he had gathered in Paddan-aram, [a]to go to the land of Canaan to his father Isaac.

19 When Laban had gone to shear his flock, then Rachel stole the [1][a]household idols that were her father's.



20 And Jacob [1]deceived Laban the Arameanby not telling him that he was fleeing.

21 So he fled with all that he had; and he arose and crossed the Euphrates River, and set his face toward the hill country of [a]Gilead.

31:13 Bethel, where you anointed a pillar. See note on 28:18.
31:18 Paddan-aram. Means "plain of Aram," another name for Aram-naharaim (see note on 24:10). See map below.
31:19 household idols. Small portable idols, which Rachel probably stole because she thought they would bring her protection and blessing. Or perhaps she wanted to have something tangible to worship on the long journey ahead, a practice referred to much later in the writings of Josephus, a first-century Jewish historian. In any case, Rachel was not yet free of her pagan background (see 35:2; Josh 24:2).
31:21 So he fled. As he had fled earlier from Esau (27:42–43). Jacob's devious dealings produced only hostility from which he had to flee. Gilead. A fertile region southeast of the Sea of Galilee.

Jacob's Journeys

The Euphrates-Balikh River basin was Jacob's destination as he fled from Esau, ultimately reaching the home of his maternal uncle (Laban) near Haran.

His lengthy sojourn ended in a dispute with Laban and another flight—this time back to Canaan. His route likely took him toward Aleppo, then to Damascus and Edrei before reaching Peniel on the Jabbok River.

He and his dependents reached the hill country of Gilead before their caravan was overtaken by Laban. The covenant at Mizpah was celebrated on one of the hills later used as a border station between Aramean and Israelite territories.

Jacob tarried at Succoth, entered Canaan and proceeded to Shechem, where he erected an altar to the Lord.

Laban Pursues Jacob

22 When it was told Laban on the third day that Jacob had fled,

23 then he took his [1]kinsmen with him and pursued him a distance of seven days' journey, and he overtook him in the hill country of Gilead.

24 [a]God came to Laban the Aramean in a [b]dream of the night and said to him, "[1c]Be careful that you do not speak to Jacob either good or bad."

25 Laban caught up with Jacob. Now Jacob had pitched his tent in the hill country, and Laban with his [1]kinsmen camped in the hill country of Gilead.

26 Then Laban said to Jacob, "What have you done [1]by deceiving me and carrying away my daughters like captives of the sword?

27 "Why did you flee secretly and [1]deceive me, and did not tell me so that I might have sent you away with joy and with songs, with [a]timbrel and with [b]lyre;

28 and did not allow me [a]to kiss my sons and my daughters? Now you have done foolishly.

29 "It is in [1]my power to do you harm, but [a]the God of your father spoke to me last night, saying, '[2b]Be careful not to speak either good or bad to Jacob.'

30 "Now you have indeed gone away because you longed greatly for your father's house; but why did you steal [a]my gods?"

31 Then Jacob replied to Laban, "Because I was afraid, for I thought that you would take your daughters from me by force.

32 "[a]The one with whom you find your gods shall not live; in the presence of our [1]kinsmen [2]point out what is yours [3]among my belongings and take it for yourself." For Jacob did not know that Rachel had stolen them.

33 So Laban went into Jacob's tent and into Leah's tent and into the tent of the two maids, but he did not find them. Then he went out of Leah's tent and entered Rachel's tent.

34 Now Rachel had taken the [1]household idols and put them in the camel's saddle, and she sat on them. And Laban felt through all the tent but did not find them.

35 She said to her father, "Let not my lord be angry that I cannot [a]rise before you, for the manner of women is upon me." So he searched but did not find the [1b]household idols.

36 Then Jacob became angry and contended with Laban; and Jacob said to Laban, "What is my transgression? What is my sin that you have hotly pursued me?

37 "Though you have felt through all my goods, what have you found of all your household goods? Set it here before my [1]kinsmen and your [1]kinsmen, that they may decide between us two.

38 "These twenty years I have been with you; your ewes and your female goats have not miscarried, nor have I eaten the rams of your flocks.

39 "That which was torn of beasts I did not bring to you; I bore the loss of it myself. You required it of my hand whether stolen by day or stolen by night.

40 "Thus I was: by day the [1]heat consumed me and the frost by night, and my sleep fled from my eyes.

41 "These twenty years I have been in your house; [a]I served you fourteen years for your two daughters and six years for your flock, and you [b]changed my wages ten times.

42 "If [a]the God of my father, the God of Abraham, and the fear of Isaac, had not been for me, surely now you would have sent me away empty-handed. [b]God has seen my affliction and the toil of my hands, so He [c]rendered judgment last night."

The Covenant of Mizpah

43 Then Laban replied to Jacob, "The daughters are my daughters, and the children are my children, and [a]the flocks are my flocks, and all that you see is mine. But what can I do this day to these my daughters or to their children whom they have borne?

44 "So now come, let us [a]make a covenant, [1]you and I, and [b]let it be a witness between [2]you and me."

45 Then Jacob took [a]a stone and set it up as a pillar.

46 Jacob said to his [1]kinsmen, "Gather stones." So they took stones and made a heap, and they ate there by the heap.

47 Now Laban [a]called it [1]Jegar-sahadutha, but Jacob called it [2]Galeed.

48 Laban said, "[a]This heap is a witness between [1]you and me this day." Therefore it was named Galeed, 49 and [1a]Mizpah, for he said, "May the LORD watch between [2]you and me when we are [3]absent one from the other.

31:26 deceiving. Jacob's character, reflected in his name (see note on 25:26; see also 27:36), is emphasized in the narrative again and again.

31:27 lyre. Much smaller, and with fewer strings (usually 6 to 12), than a modern harp.

31:32 The one with whom you find your gods shall not live. Cf. 44:7–12. Though he made the offer in all innocence, Jacob almost lost his beloved Rachel. He had now been deceived even by his wife.

31:34 in the camel's saddle . . . sat on them. Indicating the small size and powerlessness of the household gods.

31:35 I cannot rise before you, for the manner of women is upon me. In later times, anything a menstruating woman sat on was considered ritually unclean (Lev 15:20). Rachel, too, had become a deceiver.

31:42 fear. Here a surrogate for God. Or perhaps the Hebrew for this word means "Kinsman," stressing the intimacy of God's relationship to the patriarch.

31:46 ate. See note on 26:30.

31:48 For the naming of an altar under similar circumstances see Josh 22:10–12,34.

31:49 May . . . other. The so-called Mizpah benediction, which in context is in fact a denunciation or curse.

50 "If you mistreat my daughters, or if you take wives besides my daughters, although no man is with us, see, [a]God is witness between [1]you and me."

51 Laban said to Jacob, "Behold this heap and behold the pillar which I have set between [1]you and me.

52 "This heap is a witness, and the pillar is a witness, that I will not pass by this heap to you for harm, and you will not pass by this heap and this pillar to me, for harm.

53 "[a]The God of Abraham and the God of Nahor, the God of their father, [b]judge between us." So Jacob swore by [c]the fear of his father Isaac.

54 Then Jacob [a]offered a sacrifice on the mountain, and called his [1]kinsmen to [2]the meal; and they ate [3]the meal and spent the night on the mountain.

55 [1]Early in the morning Laban arose, and [a]kissed his sons and his daughters and blessed them. Then Laban departed and returned to his place.

Jacob's Fear of Esau

32 Now as Jacob went on his way, [a]the angels of God met him.

2 Jacob said when he saw them, "This is God's [1]camp." So he named that place [2a]Mahanaim.

3 Then Jacob [a]sent messengers before him to his brother Esau in the land of [b]Seir, the [1]country of [c]Edom.

4 He also commanded them saying, "Thus you shall say to my lord Esau: 'Thus says your servant Jacob, "I have sojourned with Laban, and [a]stayed until now;

5 [a]I have oxen and donkeys and flocks and male and female servants; and I have sent to tell my lord, [b]that I may find favor in your sight." ' "

6 The messengers returned to Jacob, saying, "We came to your brother Esau, and furthermore [a]he is coming to meet you, and four hundred men are with him."

7 Then Jacob was [a]greatly afraid and distressed; and he divided the people who were with him, and the flocks and the herds and the camels, into two companies;

8 for he said, "If Esau comes to the one company and [1]attacks it, then the company which is left will escape."

9 Jacob said, "O [a]God of my father Abraham and God of my father Isaac, O LORD, who said to me, '[b]Return to your country and to your relatives, and I will [1]prosper you,'

10 [1]I am unworthy [a]of all the lovingkindness and of all the [2]faithfulness which You have shown to Your servant; for with my staff only I crossed this Jordan, and now I have become two companies.

11 "[a]Deliver me, I pray, [b]from the hand of my brother, from the hand of Esau; for I fear him, that he will come and [1]attack me and the [c]mothers with the children.

12 "For You said, '[a]I will surely [1]prosper you and [b]make your [2]descendants as the sand of the sea, which is too great to be numbered.' "

13 So he spent the night there. Then he [1]selected from what [2]he had with him a [a]present for his brother Esau:

14 two hundred female goats and twenty male goats, two hundred ewes and twenty rams,

15 thirty milking camels and their colts, forty cows and ten bulls, twenty female donkeys and ten male donkeys.

16 He delivered them into the hand of his servants, every drove by itself, and said to his servants, "Pass on before me, and put a space between droves."

17 He commanded the [1]one in front, say-

31:51 heap . . . pillar . . . between you and me. Boundary markers between Laban's territory and Jacob's territory. Galeed, Jacob's name for the heap, is a pun on Gilead (see v. 47, where Aramaic Jegar-sahadutha means "witness heap"; Galeed also means "witness heap").

31:53 God of their father. Or possibly "gods of their father [i.e., Terah]," reflecting Laban's polytheistic background (see Josh 24:2). fear of his father Isaac. See note on v. 42. Jacob had met the "God of Isaac" (28:13) at Bethel 20 years earlier.

31:54 sacrifice . . . meal. Two important aspects of the covenant-making (see v. 44) process (see Ex 24:5–8,11). kinsmen. Those with whom he had now entered into a covenant. The common meal indicated mutual acceptance (see note on 26:30).

31:55 blessed. Or "said farewell to" (see 47:10).

32:1 angels of God met him. Jacob had just left the region of the hostile Laban and is about to enter the region of the hostile Esau. He was met by the angels of God, whom he had seen at Bethel when he was fleeing from Esau to go to Laban (28:12). Thus God was with Jacob, as He had promised (see 28:15; 31:3; see also note on 26:3).

32:2 Mahanaim. Means "two camps" and is located in Gilead (see note on 31:21) east of the Jordan and north of the Jabbok (see note on v. 22). Two camps had just met in hostility and separated in peace. Two camps were again about to meet (in hostility, Jacob thought) and separate in peace. But Jacob called this crucial place "two camps" after seeing the angelic encampment, suggesting that he saw God's encampment as a divine assurance. God's host had come to escort him safely to Canaan (see 33:12,15). Yet he also feared meeting with Esau, so he divided his household into two camps (see vv. 7,10), still trying to protect himself by his own devices.

32:3 Seir . . . Edom. Far to the south of Jacob's ultimate destination, but he assumed that Esau would come seeking revenge as soon as he heard that Jacob was on his way back.

32:4 your servant. A phrase suggesting both courtesy and humility.

32:6 four hundred. A round number for a sizable unit of fighting men (see 1 Sam 22:2; 25:13; 30:10).

32:9 Jacob said. His first recorded prayer since leaving Bethel.

32:11 mothers with the children. Jacob was afraid that Esau's wrath would extend to Jacob's family as well.

32:12 your descendants as the sand of the sea. A reference to God's promise in 28:14 (see 22:17 and note).

32:13 present. Probably a wordplay: Out of his "two companies" (Hebrew maḥanayim, v. 2; see vv. 7–8,10) Jacob selects a "present" (minḥah) for his brother.

ing, "When my brother Esau meets you and asks you, saying, 'To whom do you belong, and where are you going, and to whom do these animals in front of you belong?'

18 then you shall say, 'These belong to your servant Jacob; it is a present sent to my lord Esau. And behold, he also is behind us.' "

19 Then he commanded also the second and the third, and all those who followed the droves, saying, "After this manner you shall speak to Esau when you find him;

20 and you shall say, 'Behold, your servant Jacob also is behind us.' " For he said, "I will appease him with the present that goes before me. Then afterward I will see his face; perhaps he will accept me."

21 So the present passed on before him, while he himself spent that night in the camp.

22 Now he arose that same night and took his two wives and his two maids and his eleven children, and crossed the ford of the [a]Jabbok.

23 He took them and sent them across the stream. And he sent across whatever he had.

Jacob Wrestles

24 Then Jacob was left alone, and a man [a]wrestled with him until daybreak.

25 When he saw that he had not prevailed against him, he touched the socket of his thigh; so the socket of Jacob's thigh was dislocated while he wrestled with him.

26 Then he said, "Let me go, for the dawn is breaking." But he said, "[a]I will not let you go unless you bless me."

27 So he said to him, "What is your name?" And he said, "Jacob."

28 [a]He said, "Your name shall no longer be Jacob, but [1]Israel; for you have striven with God and with men and have prevailed."

29 Then [a]Jacob asked him and said, "Please tell me your name." But he said, "Why is it that you ask my name?" And he blessed him there.

30 So Jacob named the place [1]Peniel, for he said, "[a]I have seen God face to face, yet my [2]life has been preserved."

31 Now the sun rose upon him just as he crossed over [a]Penuel, and he was limping on his thigh.

32 Therefore, to this day the sons of Israel do not eat the sinew of the hip which is on the socket of the thigh, because he touched the socket of Jacob's thigh in the sinew of the hip.

Jacob Meets Esau

33 Then Jacob lifted his eyes and looked, and behold, [a]Esau was coming, and four hundred men with him. So he divided the children [1]among Leah and Rachel and the two maids.

2 He put the maids and their children [1]in front, and Leah and her children [2]next, and Rachel and Joseph [2]last.

3 But he himself passed on ahead of them and [a]bowed down to the ground seven times, until he came near to his brother.

4 Then Esau ran to meet him and embraced him, and [a]fell on his neck and kissed him, and they wept.

5 He lifted his eyes and saw the women and the children, and said, "[1]Who are these with you?" So he said, "[a]The children whom God has graciously given your servant."

6 Then the maids came near [1]with their children, and they bowed down.

7 Leah likewise came near with her children, and they bowed down; and afterward Joseph came near with Rachel, and they bowed down.

8 And he said, "What do you mean by [a]all this company which I have met?" And he said, "[b]To find favor in the sight of my lord."

32:22 Jabbok. Today called the Wadi Zerqa, flowing westward into the Jordan about 20 miles north of the Dead Sea.

32:24 left alone. As he had been at Bethel (28:10–22). a man. God Himself (as Jacob eventually realized; see v. 30) in the form of an angel (see Hos 12:3–4 and note on Gen 16:7). wrestled. God wrestled (ye'abeq) with Jacob (ya'aqob) by the Jabbok (yabboq)—the author delighted in wordplay. Jacob had struggled all his life to prevail, first with Esau, then with Laban. Now, as he was about to reenter Canaan, he was shown that it was with God that he must "wrestle." It was God who held his destiny in His hands.

32:25 had not prevailed against him . . . touched the socket. God came to him in such a form that Jacob could wrestle with Him successfully, yet He showed Jacob that He could disable him at will.

32:26 I will not let you go. Jacob's persistence was soon rewarded (v. 29). unless you bless me. Jacob finally acknowledged that the blessing must come from God.

32:28 Your name shall no longer be Jacob. Now that Jacob had acknowledged God as the source of blessing and was about to reenter the promised land, the Lord acknowledged Jacob as His servant by changing his name (see 17:5 and note). Israel. Means "he struggles with God." Here in Father Jacob/Israel, the nation of Israel got her name and her characterization: the people who struggle with God (memorialized in the name Israel) and with men (memorialized in the name Jacob) and overcome. God later confirmed Jacob's new name (35:10).

32:29 Why is it that you ask my name? Such a request of God is both unworthy and impossible to fulfill (see Judg 13:17–18).

32:30 I have seen God face to face, yet my life has been preserved. See note on 16:13; see also Judg 6:22–23; 13:22. Only God's "back" (see Ex 33:23) or "feet" (see Ex 24:10) or "form" (see Num 12:8), in a symbolic sense, may be seen.

32:32 do not eat the sinew. Probably the sciatic muscle. Mentioned nowhere else in the Bible, this dietary prohibition is found in the later writings of Judaism. Jacob retained in his body, and Israel retained in her dietary practice, a perpetual reminder of this fateful encounter with God.

33:2 Rachel and Joseph last. Jacob wanted to keep his favorite wife and child farthest away from potential harm.

33:3 bowed down to the ground seven times. A sign of total submission, documented also in texts found at Tell el-Amarna in Egypt and dating to the 14th century B.C. (see chart, p. xix).

33:4 All Jacob's fears proved unfounded. God had been at work and had so blessed Esau (v. 9) that he no longer held a grudge against Jacob.

9 But Esau said, "[a]I have plenty, my brother; let what you have be your own."

10 Jacob said, "No, please, if now I have found favor in your sight, then take my present from my hand, [1]for I see your face as one sees the face of God, and you have received me favorably.

11 "Please take my [1][a]gift which has been brought to you, [b]because God has dealt graciously with me and because I have [2]plenty." Thus he urged him and he took it.

12 Then [1]Esau said, "Let us take our journey and go, and I will go before you."

13 But he said to him, "My lord knows that the children are frail and that the flocks and herds which are nursing are [1]a care to me. And if they are driven hard one day, all the flocks will die.

14 "Please let my lord pass on before his servant, and I will proceed at my leisure, according to the pace of the cattle that are before me and according to the pace of the children, until I come to my lord at [a]Seir."

15 Esau said, "Please let me leave with you some of the people who are with me." But he said, "[1]What need is there? [a]Let me find favor in the sight of my lord."

16 So Esau returned that day on his way to Seir.

17 Jacob journeyed to [1][a]Succoth, and built for himself a house and made booths for his livestock; therefore the place is named Succoth.

Jacob Settles in Shechem

18 Now Jacob came safely to the city of [a]Shechem, which is in the land of Canaan, when he came from [b]Paddan-aram, and camped before the city.

19 [a]He bought the piece of land where he had pitched his tent from the hand of the sons of Hamor, Shechem's father, for one hundred [1]pieces of money.

20 Then he erected there an altar and called it [1]El-Elohe-Israel.

The Treachery of Jacob's Sons

34 Now [a]Dinah the daughter of Leah, whom she had borne to Jacob, went out to [1]visit the daughters of the land.

2 When Shechem the son of Hamor [a]the Hivite, the prince of the land, saw her, he took her and lay with her [1]by force.

3 [1]He was deeply attracted to Dinah the daughter of Jacob, and he loved the girl and [2]spoke tenderly to her.

4 So Shechem [a]spoke to his father Hamor, saying, "Get me this young girl for a wife."

5 Now Jacob heard that he had defiled Dinah his daughter; but his sons were with his livestock in the field, so Jacob kept silent until they came in.

6 Then Hamor the father of Shechem went out to Jacob to speak with him.

7 Now the sons of Jacob came in from the field when they heard it; and the men were grieved, and they were very angry because he had done a [1][a]disgraceful thing in Israel [2]by lying with Jacob's daughter, for such a thing ought not to be done.

8 But Hamor spoke with them, saying, "The soul of my son Shechem longs for your daughter; please give her to him [1]in marriage.

9 "Intermarry with us; give your daughters to us and take our daughters for yourselves.

10 "Thus you shall [1]live with us, and [a]the land shall be open before you; [1]live and [b]trade in it and [c]acquire property in it."

11 Shechem also said to her father and to her brothers, "If I find favor in your sight, then I will give whatever you say to me.

12 "Ask me ever so much bridal payment and gift, and I will give according as you say to me; but give me the girl [1]in marriage."

13 But Jacob's sons answered Shechem and his father Hamor with deceit, because he had defiled Dinah their sister.

14 They said to them, "We cannot do this 33:9 my brother. Esau's generous and loving response was in contrast to Jacob's cautious and fearful "my lord" (v. 8).

33:11 gift. The Hebrew for "gift" is the same as that used for "blessing" in 27:35. The author of Genesis was conscious of the irony that Jacob now acknowledged that the blessing he had struggled for was from God. In his last attempt to express reconciliation with Esau, Jacob in a sense gave back the "blessing" he had stolen from his brother, doing so from the blessings the Lord had given him.
33:14 until I come to my lord at Seir. But Jacob, still the deceiver, had no intention of following Esau all the way to Seir.
33:18 Paddan-aram. Means "plain of Aram," another name for Aram-naharaim (see note on 24:10). came safely. The answer to Jacob's prayer of 20 years earlier (see 28:21). Shechem. An important city in central Canaan, first built and inhabited during the patriarchal period. Jacob followed in the footsteps of Father Abraham (see 12:6). Jacob dug a well there (see John 4:5–6) that can still be seen today.
33:19 pieces of money. The Hebrew word translated by this phrase (qesitah, a unit of money of unknown weight and value) is always found in patriarchal contexts (see Josh 24:32; Job 42:11).
33:20 erected there an altar. See note on 12:7. called it El-Elohe-Israel. Jacob formally acknowledged the God of his fathers as his God also (see 28:21). But he lingered at Shechem and did not return to Bethel (see 35:1), and that meant trouble (see ch. 34).
34:1–31 The name of God ends ch. 33 and begins ch. 35, but it is completely absent from this sordid chapter (see note on 7:16).
34:2 Shechem. See 33:19. He was probably named after the city.
34:4 Get me this young girl for a wife. See note on 21:21.
34:7 Israel. The clan of Israel. such a thing ought not to be done. Cf. Tamar's plea to Amnon in a similar situation (2 Sam 13:12).
34:9 Intermarry with us. The Canaanites wanted to absorb Israel (see v. 16) in order to benefit from the blessings Jacob had received from the Lord (both his offspring and his possessions—vv. 21–23). This was a danger Israel constantly faced from other peoples and nations—either absorption or hostility, both of which are perpetual threats to the people of God.
34:12 bridal payment and gift. For a specific example of this marriage custom see 24:53.
34:13 Jacob's sons answered . . . with deceit. Like father, like son (see 27:24; see also note on 25:26).

thing, to give our sister to [a]one who is uncircumcised, for that would be a disgrace to us.

15 "Only on this condition will we consent to you: if you will become like us, in that every male of you be circumcised, 16 then we will give our daughters to you, and we will take your daughters for ourselves, and we will [1]live with you and become one people.

17 "But if you will not listen to us to be circumcised, then we will take our daughter and go."

18 Now their words seemed [1]reasonable to Hamor and Shechem, Hamor's son.

19 The young man did not delay to do the thing, because he was delighted with Jacob's daughter. Now he was more respected than all the household of his father.

20 So Hamor and his son Shechem came to the [a]gate of their city and spoke to the men of their city, saying, 21 "These men are [1]friendly with us; therefore let them [2]live in the land and trade in it, for behold, the land is [3]large enough for them. Let us take their daughters [4]in marriage, and give our daughters to them.

22 "Only on this condition will the men consent to us to [1]live with us, to become one people: that every male among us be circumcised as they are circumcised.

23 "Will not their livestock and their property and all their animals be ours? Only let us consent to them, and they will [1]live with us."

24 [a]All who went out of the gate of his city listened to Hamor and to his son Shechem, and every male was circumcised, all who went out of the gate of his city.

25 Now it came about on the third day, when they were in pain, that two of Jacob's sons, [a]Simeon and Levi, Dinah's brothers, each took his sword and came upon the city unawares, and killed every male.

26 They killed Hamor and his son Shechem with the edge of the sword, and took Dinah from Shechem's house, and went forth.

27 Jacob's sons came upon the slain and looted the city, because they had defiled their sister.

28 They took their flocks and their herds and their donkeys, and that which was in the city and that which was in the field;

29 and they captured and looted all their wealth and all their little ones and their wives, even all that was in the houses.

30 Then Jacob said to Simeon and Levi, "You have [a]brought trouble on me by [b]making me odious among the inhabitants of the land, among [c]the Canaanites and the Perizzites; and [1][d]my men being few in number, they will gather together against me and [2]attack me and I will be destroyed, I and my household."

31 But they said, "Should he [1]treat our sister as a harlot?"

Jacob Moves to Bethel

35 Then God said to Jacob, "Arise, go up to [a]Bethel and [1]live there, and make an altar there to [b]God, who appeared to you [c]when you fled [2]from your brother Esau."

2 So Jacob said to his [a]household and to all who were with him, "Put away [b]the foreign gods which are among you, and [c]purify yourselves and change your garments;

3 and let us arise and go up to Bethel, and I will make [a]an altar there to God, [b]who answered me in the day of my distress and [c]has been with me [1]wherever I have gone."

4 So they gave to Jacob all the foreign gods which [1]they had and the rings which were in their ears, and Jacob hid them under the [2]oak which was near Shechem.

5 As they journeyed, there was [1][a]a great terror upon the cities which were around them, and they did not pursue the sons of Jacob.

6 So Jacob came to [a]Luz (that is, Bethel), which is in the land of Canaan, he and all the people who were with him.

7 [a]He built an altar there, and called the place [1]El-bethel, because there God had revealed Himself to him when he fled [2]from his brother.

8 Now [a]Deborah, Rebekah's nurse, died, and she was buried below Bethel under the oak; it was named [1]Allon-bacuth.

10 [a]God said to him,
"Your name is Jacob;
[1]You shall no longer be called Jacob,
But Israel shall be your name."
Thus He called [2]him Israel.

11 God also said to him,
"I am [1][a]God Almighty;
[b]Be fruitful and multiply;
A nation and a [c]company of nations shall [2]come from you,
And [d]kings shall [2]come forth from 12 "[a]The land which I gave to Abraham

I will give it to you,

13 Then [a]God went up from him in the place where He had spoken with him.

14 Jacob set up [a]a pillar in the place where He had spoken with him, a pillar of stone, and he poured out a drink offering on it; he also poured oil on it.

15 So Jacob named the place where God had spoken with him, [1][a]Bethel.

16 Then they journeyed from Bethel; and when there was still some distance to go to [a]Ephrath, Rachel began to give birth and she [1]suffered severe labor.

17 When she was in severe labor the midwife said to her, "Do not fear, for now [a]you have another son."

18 It came about as her soul was departing (for she died), that she named him [1]Ben-oni; but his father called him [2]Benjamin.

20 Jacob set up a pillar over her grave; that is the [a]pillar of Rachel's grave to this day.

21 Then Israel journeyed on and pitched his tent beyond the [1][a]tower of [2]Eder.

22 It came about while Israel was dwelling in that land, that [a]Reuben went and lay with Bilhah his father's concubine, and Israel heard of it.

The Sons of Israel

Now there were twelve sons of Jacob—

23 [a]the sons of Leah: Reuben, Jacob's firstborn, then Simeon and Levi and Judah and Issachar and Zebulun;

24 [a]the sons of Rachel: Joseph and Benjamin;

25 and [a]the sons of Bilhah, Rachel's maid: Dan and Naphtali;

26 and [a]the sons of Zilpah, Leah's maid: Gad and Asher. These are the sons of Jacob who were born to him in Paddan-aram.

27 Jacob came to his father Isaac at [a]Mamre of [b]Kiriath-arba (that is, Hebron), where Abraham and Isaac had sojourned.

28 Now the days of Isaac were [a]one hundred and eighty years.

29 Isaac breathed his last and died and was [a]gathered to his people, an [b]old man [1]of ripe age; and [c]his sons Esau and Jacob buried him.

Means "plain of Aram," another name for Aram-naharaim (see note on 24:10).

35:10 Jacob . . . Israel. The previous assignment of an additional name (see 32:28) is here confirmed. For similar examples compare 21:31 with 26:33, and 28:19 with 35:15.

35:11–12 This event climaxes the Isaac-Jacob cycle (see Introduction: Literary Features). Now that Jacob was at last back at Bethel, where God had begun His direct relationship with him, God confirmed to this chosen son of Isaac the covenant promises made to Abraham (17:1–8; see 28:3). His words echo His original benediction pronounced on man in the beginning (1:28) and renewed after the flood (9:1,7). God's blessing on mankind would be fulfilled in and through Jacob and his offspring. See also 47:27; Ex 1:7.

35:13 See note on 17:22.

35:14 See 28:18 and note. drink offering. A liquid poured out as a sacrifice to a deity.

35:15 See 28:19; see also note on v. 10.

35:16 Ephrath. The older name for Bethlehem (see v. 19) in Judah (see Ruth 1:2; Mic 5:2).

35:17 another son. An echo of Rachel's own plea at the time of Joseph's birth (see 30:24).

35:18 Benjamin. The name can mean "son of the right hand" or "son of the south"—in distinction from the other sons, who were born in the north. One set of Hebrew terms for indicating direction was based on facing east, so south was on the right.

35:19 Rachel died. In childbirth (see note on 30:1).

35:20 Rachel's grave. See 1 Sam 10:2. The traditional, though not authentic, site is near Bethlehem.

35:21 tower of Eder. Means "tower of the flock," doubtless referring to a watchtower built to discourage thieves from stealing sheep and other animals (see, e.g., 2 Chr 26:10). The same Hebrew phrase is used figuratively in Mic 4:8, where "flock" refers to the people of Judah (see Mic 4:6–7).

35:22 Reuben's act was an arrogant and premature claim to the rights of the firstborn—here the right to inherit his father's concubine. For this he would lose his legal status as firstborn (see 49:3–4; 1 Chr 5:1; see also note on 37:21).

35:26 sons of Jacob . . . born to him in Paddan-aram. Obviously a summary statement since Benjamin was born in Canaan (see vv. 16–18).

35:27 Mamre of Kiriath-arba (that is, Hebron). See notes on 13:18; 23:2.

35:29 See note on 25:8. buried him. In the family tomb, the cave of Machpelah (49:30–31).

36:1 generations. See note on 2:4. Though repeated in v. 9, the word does not mark the start of a new main section there since the information in vv. 9–43 is merely an expansion of that in vv. 1–8. Esau (that is, Edom). See note on 25:25. Reddish rock formations, primarily sandstone, are conspicuous in the territory of the Edomites, located south and southeast of the Dead Sea.

36:2–3 See note on 26:34.

the Hittite, and [b]Oholibamah the daughter of Anah and the [c]granddaughter of Zibeon the Hivite;

3 also Basemath, Ishmael's daughter, the sister of Nebaioth.

4 Adah bore [a]Eliphaz to Esau, and Basemath bore Reuel,

5 and Oholibamah bore Jeush and Jalam and Korah. These are the sons of Esau who were born to him in the land of Canaan.

6 [a]Then Esau took his wives and his sons and his daughters and all [1]his household, and his livestock and all his cattle and all his goods which he had acquired in the land of Canaan, and went to another land away from his brother Jacob.

7 [a]For their property had become too great for them to [1]live together, and the [b]land where they [c]sojourned could not sustain them because of their livestock.

8 So Esau lived in the hill country of [a]Seir; Esau is [b]Edom.

Descendants of Esau

9 These then are the records of the generations of Esau the father of [1]the Edomites in the hill country of Seir.

10 These are the names of Esau's sons: Eliphaz the son of Esau's wife Adah, Reuel the son of Esau's wife Basemath.

11 The sons of Eliphaz were Teman, Omar, [1]Zepho and Gatam and Kenaz.

12 Timna was a concubine of Esau's son Eliphaz and she bore [a]Amalek to Eliphaz. These are the sons of Esau's wife Adah.

13 These are the sons of Reuel: Nahath and Zerah, Shammah and Mizzah. These were the sons of Esau's wife Basemath.

14 These were the sons of Esau's wife Oholibamah, the daughter of Anah and the [1]granddaughter of Zibeon: [2]she bore to Esau, Jeush and Jalam and Korah.

15 These are the chiefs of the sons of Esau. The sons of Eliphaz, the firstborn of Esau, are chief Teman, chief Omar, chief Zepho, chief Kenaz, 16 chief Korah, chief Gatam, chief Amalek. These are the chiefs [1]descended from Eliphaz in the land of Edom; these are the sons of Adah.

17 These are the sons of Reuel, Esau's son: chief Nahath, chief Zerah, chief Shammah, chief Mizzah. These are the chiefs [1]descended from Reuel in the land of Edom; these are the sons of Esau's wife Basemath.

18 These are the sons of Esau's wife Oholibamah: chief Jeush, chief Jalam, chief Korah. These are the chiefs [1]descended from Esau's wife Oholibamah, the daughter of Anah.

19 These are the sons of Esau (that is, Edom), and these are their chiefs.

20 These are the sons of Seir [a]the Horite, the inhabitants of the land: Lotan and Shobal and Zibeon and Anah, 21 and Dishon and Ezer and Dishan. These are the chiefs [1]descended from the Horites, the sons of Seir in the land of Edom.

22 The sons of Lotan were Hori and [1]Hemam; and Lotan's sister was Timna.

23 These are the sons of Shobal: [1]Alvan and Manahath and Ebal, [2]Shepho and Onam.

24 These are the sons of Zibeon: Aiah and Anah—he is the Anah who found the hot springs in the wilderness when he was pasturing the donkeys of his father Zibeon.

25 These are the children of Anah: Dishon, and Oholibamah, the daughter of Anah.

26 These are the sons of [1][a]Dishon: [2]Hemdan and Eshban and Ithran and Cheran.

27 These are the sons of Ezer: Bilhan and Zaavan and [1]Akan.

28 These are the sons of Dishan: Uz and Aran.

29 These are the chiefs [1]descended from the Horites: chief Lotan, chief Shobal, chief Zibeon, chief Anah, 30 chief Dishon, chief Ezer, chief Dishan. These are the chiefs [1]descended from the Horites, according to their various chiefs in the land of Seir.

31 Now these are the kings who reigned in the land of Edom before any [a]king reigned over the sons of Israel.

32 [1][a]Bela the son of Beor reigned in Edom, and the name of his city was Dinhabah.

33 Then Bela died, and Jobab the son of Zerah of Bozrah became king in his place.

34 Then Jobab died, and Husham of the land of the Temanites became king in his place.

35 Then Husham died, and Hadad the son of Bedad, who [1]defeated Midian in the field of Moab, became king in his place; and the name of his city was Avith.

36 Then Hadad died, and Samlah of Masrekah became king in his place.

37 Then Samlah died, and Shaul of Rehoboth on the Euphrates River became king in his place.

36:7 See 13:6; see also 26:20 and note.

36:8 Seir. Another name for Edom. The word itself is related to the Hebrew word meaning "hair," a possible meaning also for the name "Esau" (see note on 25:25). Esau's clan must have driven away the original Horite (see v. 20) inhabitants of Seir (see 14:6 and note). The descendants of Seir are listed in vv. 20–28.

36:10–14 The same list of Esau's descendants (see 1 Chr 1:35–37) is repeated in vv. 15–19 as a list of tribal chieftains.

36:11 Eliphaz . . . Teman. One of Job's friends was named Eliphaz the Temanite (Job 2:11), and Job himself was from the land of Uz (Job 1:1). Thus Job probably lived in Edom (see vv. 28,34).

36:12 Amalek. See note on 14:7.

36:20–28 See note on v. 8. The same list of Seir's descendants (see 1 Chr 1:38–42) is repeated in abbreviated form in vv. 29–30 as a list of tribal chieftains.

36:31 before any king reigned over the sons of Israel. Presupposes the later Israelite monarchy and is therefore an editorial updating subsequent to Moses' time (see note on 14:14).

38 Then Shaul died, and Baal-hanan the son of Achbor became king in his place.

39 Then Baal-hanan the son of Achbor died, and [1]Hadar became king in his place; and the name of his city was [2]Pau; and his wife's name was Mehetabel, the daughter of Matred, daughter of Mezahab.

40 Now these are the names of the chiefs [1]descended from Esau, according to their families and their localities, by their names: chief Timna, chief [2]Alvah, chief Jetheth,

41 chief Oholibamah, chief Elah, chief Pinon,

42 chief Kenaz, chief Teman, chief Mibzar,

43 chief Magdiel, chief Iram. These are the chiefs of Edom (that is, Esau, the father of [1]the Edomites), according to their habitations in the land of their possession.

Joseph's Dream

37 Now Jacob lived in [a]the land [1]where his father had sojourned, in the land of Canaan.

2 These are the records of the generations of Jacob.

Joseph, when [a]seventeen years of age, was pasturing the flock with his brothers while he was still a youth, along with [b]the sons of Bilhah and the sons of Zilpah, his father's wives. And Joseph brought back a [c]bad report about them to their father.

3 Now Israel loved Joseph more than all his sons, because he was [a]the son of his old age; and he made him a [1][b]varicolored tunic.

4 His brothers saw that their father loved him more than all his brothers; and so they [a]hated him and could not speak to him [1]on friendly terms.

5 Then Joseph [1][a]had a dream, and when he told it to his brothers, they hated him even more.

6 He said to them, "Please listen to this dream which I have [1]had;

7 for behold, we were binding sheaves in the field, and lo, my sheaf rose up and also stood erect; and behold, your sheaves gathered around and [a]bowed down to my sheaf."

8 Then his brothers said to him, "[a]Are you actually going to reign over us? Or are you really going to rule over us?" So they hated him even more for his dreams and for his words.

9 Now he [1]had still another dream, and related it to his brothers, and said, "Lo, I have [1]had still another dream; and behold, the sun and the moon and eleven stars were bowing down to me."

10 He related it to his father and to his brothers; and his father rebuked him and said to him, "What is this dream that you have [1]had? Shall I and your mother and [a]your brothers actually come to bow ourselves down before you to the ground?"

11 [a]His brothers were jealous of him, but his father [b]kept the saying in mind.

12 Then his brothers went to pasture their father's flock in Shechem.

13 Israel said to Joseph, "Are not your brothers pasturing the flock in [a]Shechem? Come, and I will send you to them." And he said to him, "[1]I will go."

14 Then he said to him, "Go now and see about the welfare of your brothers and the welfare of the flock, and bring word back to me." So he sent him from the valley of [a]Hebron, and he came to Shechem.

15 A man found him, and behold, he was wandering in the field; and the man asked him, "[1]What are you looking for?"

16 He said, "I am looking for my brothers; please tell me where they are pasturing the flock."

36:43 These . . . possession. A summary statement for the whole chapter (just as v. 1 is a title for the whole chapter).

37:1 Canaan. Jacob made the promised land his homeland and was later buried there (49:29–30; 50:13). His son Joseph also insisted on being buried in Canaan, which he recognized as the land the Lord had promised to Israel (50:24–25). The Jacob-Joseph cycle (see Introduction: Literary Features) begins and ends with references to the land of promise.

37:2 generations. See note on 2:4. The word here introduces the tenth and final main section of Genesis. Joseph. The author immediately introduces Joseph, on whom the last cycle of the patriarchal narrative centers. In his generation, he, more than any other, represented Israel—as a people who struggled with God and with men and overcame (see note on 32:28) and as a source of blessing to the nations (see 12:2–3). It is, moreover, through the life of Joseph that the covenant family in Canaan becomes an emerging nation in Egypt, thus setting the stage for the exodus. The story of God's dealings with the patriarchs foreshadows the subsequent Biblical account of God's purpose with Israel. It begins with the election and calling out of Abram from the post-Babel nations and ends with Israel in Egypt (in the person of Joseph) preserving the life of the nations (see 41:57; 50:20). So God would deliver Israel out of the nations (the exodus), eventually to send them on a mission of life to the nations (cf. Matt 28:18–20; Acts 1:8). a bad report about them. Doubtless about all his brothers (as the later context indicates), not just the sons of his father's concubines.

37:3 varicolored tunic. A mark of Jacob's favoritism, "for in this manner the virgin daughters of the king dressed themselves in robes" (2 Sam 13:18).

37:5 dream. See note on 20:3.

37:7 bowed down. Joseph's dream would later come true (42:6; 43:26; 44:14).

37:8 are you really going to rule over us? Joseph would later become the "the one distinguished among his brothers" (Deut 33:16) and receive "the birthright" (1 Chr 5:2), at least the double portion of the inheritance (see note on 25:5), since his father adopted his two sons (48:5).

37:10 your mother. Jacob possibly refers to Leah, since Rachel has already died (see 35:19). bow ourselves down before you. An unsettling echo of a hope expressed earlier to Jacob by his father Isaac (see 27:29).

37:11 kept the saying in mind. A hint that Jacob later recalled Joseph's dreams when events brought about their fulfillment. Cf. Mary's equally sensitive response to events during Jesus' boyhood days (Luke 2:19,51).

37:12 Shechem. See note on 33:18.

17 Then the man said, "They have moved from here; for I heard them say, 'Let us go to [a]Dothan.' " So Joseph went after his brothers and found them at Dothan.

The Plot against Joseph

18 [1]When they saw him from a distance and before he came close to them, they [a]plotted against him to put him to death.

19 They said to one another, "[1]Here comes this dreamer!

20 "Now then, come and let us kill him and throw him into one of the pits; and [a]we will say, 'A wild beast devoured him.' Then let us see what will become of his dreams!"

21 But [a]Reuben heard this and rescued him out of their hands and said, "Let us not [1]take his life."

22 Reuben further said to them, "Shed no blood. Throw him into this pit that is in the wilderness, but do not lay hands on him"—that he might rescue him out of their hands, to restore him to his father.

23 So it came about, when Joseph [1]reached his brothers, that they stripped Joseph of his [2]tunic, the varicolored tunic that was on him;

24 and they took him and threw him into the pit. Now the pit was empty, without any water in it.

25 Then they sat down to eat [1]a meal. And as they raised their eyes and looked, behold, a caravan of [a]Ishmaelites was coming from Gilead, with their camels bearing [2b]aromatic gum and [3c]balm and [4]myrrh, [5]on their way to bring them down to Egypt.

26 Judah said to his brothers, "What profit is it for us to kill our brother and [a]cover up his blood?

27 "[a]Come and let us sell him to the Ishmaelites and not lay our hands on him, for he is our brother, our own flesh." And his brothers listened to him.

28 Then some [a]Midianite traders passed by, so they pulled him up and lifted Joseph out of the pit, and [b]sold [1]him to the Ishmaelites for twenty shekels of silver. Thus [c]they brought Joseph into Egypt.

29 Now Reuben returned to the pit, and behold, Joseph was not in the pit; so he [a]tore his garments.

30 He returned to his brothers and said, "[a]The boy is not there; as for me, where am I to go?"

31 So [a]they took Joseph's tunic, and slaughtered a male goat and dipped the tunic in the blood;

32 and they sent the varicolored tunic and brought it to their father and said, "We found this; please [1]examine it to see whether it is your son's tunic or not."

33 Then he [1]examined it and said, "It is my son's tunic. [a]A wild beast has devoured him; [b]Joseph has surely been torn to pieces!"

34 So Jacob [a]tore his clothes, and put sackcloth on his loins and mourned for his son many days.

35 Then all his sons and all his daughters arose to comfort him, but he refused to be comforted. And he said, "Surely I will [a]go down to Sheol in mourning for my son." So his father wept for him.

36 Meanwhile, the [1]Midianites [a]sold him in Egypt to Potiphar, Pharaoh's officer, the captain of the bodyguard.

37:17 Dothan. Located about 13 miles north of Shechem, Dothan was already an ancient city by this time.

37:19 dreamer. The Hebrew for this word means "master of dreams" or "dream expert" and is here used with obvious sarcasm.

37:21 Reuben . . . rescued him. As Jacob's firstborn, he felt responsible for Joseph. He would later remind his brothers of this day (42:22). Initially Reuben's attempts to influence events seemed successful (30:14–17). But after his arrogant incest with Bilhah (see 35:22 and note) his efforts were always ineffective (see 42:37–38)—demonstrating his loss of the status of firstborn (see 49:3–4). Effective leadership passed to Judah (see vv. 26–27; 43:3–5,8–10; 44:14–34; 46:28; 49:8–12).

37:23–24 Similarly, in Egypt Joseph (though innocent of any wrongdoing) would be stripped of his position of privilege and thrown into prison—also as a result of domestic intrigue (ch. 39). His cloak also would be torn from him and shown to Potiphar, but he would be rescued (41:14).

37:25 Ishmaelites. Also called Midianites (v. 28; see Judg 8:22,24,26) and Medanites (the literal Hebrew for "Midianites" in v. 36). These various tribal groups were interrelated, since Midian and Medan, like Ishmael, were also sons of Abraham (25:2). Gilead. See note on 31:21. balm. An oil or gum, with healing properties (see Jer 51:8), exuded by the fruit or stems of one or more kinds of small trees. The balm of Gilead was especially effective (see Jer 8:22; 46:11). myrrh. Probably to be identified with labdanum, an aromatic gum (see Ps 45:8; Prov 7:17; Song 3:6; 5:13) exuded from the leaves of the cistus rose. Its oil was used in beauty treatments (see Esth 2:12), and it was sometimes mixed with wine and drunk to relieve pain (see Mark 15:23). As a gift fit for a king, myrrh was brought to Jesus after His birth (Matt 2:11) and applied to His body after His death (John 19:39–40).

37:28 twenty shekels of silver. In later times, this amount was the value of a male of Joseph's age who had been dedicated to the Lord (see Lev 27:5).

37:31–33 Again a slaughtered goat figures prominently in an act of deception (see 27:5–13).

37:34 tore his clothes. See v. 29. put sackcloth on. Wearing coarse and uncomfortable sackcloth instead of ordinary clothes was a sign of mourning.

37:35 daughters. The term can include daughters-in-law (e.g., a daughter-in-law of Jacob is mentioned in 38:2). Sheol. The grave. According to some, the Hebrew word Sheol can also refer in a more general way to the realm of the dead, the netherworld, where, it was thought, departed spirits live (for a description of Sheol see, e.g., Job 3:13–19).

37:36 sold. "As a slave" (Ps 105:17). The peoples of the Arabian Desert were long involved in international slave trade (cf. Amos 1:6,9). bodyguard. The Hebrew for this word can mean "executioners" (the captain of whom was in charge of the royal prisoners; see 40:4), or it can mean "butchers" (the captain of whom was the chief cook in the royal court; cf. 1 Sam 9:23–24).

38:1–30 The unsavory events of this chapter illustrate the dan-

[2]visited a certain [a]Adullamite, whose name was Hirah.

2 Judah saw there a daughter of a certain Canaanite whose name was [a]Shua; and he took her and went in to her.

3 So she conceived and bore a son and he named him [a]Er.

4 Then she conceived again and bore a son and named him [a]Onan.

5 She bore still another son and named him [a]Shelah; and it was at Chezib [1]that she bore him.

6 Now Judah took a wife for Er his firstborn, and her name was Tamar.

7 But [a]Er, Judah's firstborn, was evil in the sight of the LORD, so the LORD took his life.

8 Then Judah said to Onan, "[a]Go in to your brother's wife, and perform your duty as a brother-in-law to her, and raise up [1]offspring for your brother."

9 Onan knew that the [1a]offspring would not be his; so when he went in to his brother's wife, he [2]wasted his seed on the ground in order not to give [1]offspring to his brother.

10 But what he did was displeasing in the sight of the LORD; so He [a]took his life also.

11 Then Judah said to his daughter-in-law Tamar, "[a]Remain a widow in your father's house until my son Shelah grows up"; for he [1]thought, "I am afraid that he too may die like his brothers." So Tamar went and lived in her father's house.

12 Now [1]after a considerable time Shua's daughter, the wife of Judah, died; and when [2]the time of mourning was ended, Judah went up to his sheepshearers at [a]Timnah, he and his friend Hirah the Adullamite.

13 It was told to Tamar, "[1]Behold, your father-in-law is going up to [a]Timnah to shear his sheep."

14 So she [1]removed her widow's garments and [a]covered herself with a [2]veil, and wrapped herself, and sat in the gateway of [3]Enaim, which is on the road to Timnah; for she saw that Shelah had grown up, and [b]she had not been given to him as a wife.

15 When Judah saw her, he thought she was a harlot, for she had covered her face.

16 So he turned aside to her by the road, and said, "[1]Here now, let me come in to you"; for he did not know that she was his daughter-in-law. And she said, "What will you give me, that you may come in to me?"

17 He said, therefore, "I will send you a [1]young goat from the flock." She said, moreover, "Will you give a pledge until you send it?"

18 He said, "What pledge shall I give you?" And she said, "[a]Your seal and your cord, and your staff that is in your hand." So he gave them to her and went in to her, and she conceived by him.

19 Then she arose and departed, and [1]removed her [2]veil and put on her widow's garments.

20 When Judah sent the [1]young goat by his friend the Adullamite, to receive the pledge from the woman's hand, he did not find her.

21 He asked the men of her place, saying, "Where is the temple prostitute who was by the road at Enaim?" But they said, "There has been no temple prostitute here."

22 So he returned to Judah, and said, "I did not find her; and furthermore, the men of the place said, 'There has been no temple prostitute here.' "

23 Then Judah said, "Let her [1]keep them, otherwise we will become a laughingstock. [2]After all, I sent this young goat, but you did not find her."

24 Now it was about three months later ger that Israel as God's separated people faced if they remained among the Canaanites (see 15:16 and note). In Egypt the Israelites were kept separate because the Egyptians despised them (43:32; 46:34). While there, God's people were able to develop into a nation without losing their identity. Judah's actions contrasted with those of Joseph (ch. 39)—demonstrating the moral superiority of Joseph, to whom leadership in Israel fell in his generation (see 37:5–9).

38:1 departed from his brothers. Joseph was separated from his brothers by force, but Judah voluntarily separated himself to seek his fortune among the Canaanites. Adullamite. Adullam was a town southwest of Jerusalem (see 2 Chr 11:5,7).

38:3–4 Er . . . Onan. The names also appear as designations of tribes in Mesopotamian documents of this time.

38:5 Chezib. Probably the same as Achzib (Josh 15:44), three miles west of Adullam. The "men of Cozeba" (another form of the same word) were descendants of Shelah son of Judah (see 1 Chr 4:21–22). The Hebrew root of the name means "deception" (see Mic 1:14 and note), a theme running throughout the story of Jacob and his sons.

38:6 Judah took a wife for Er. See note on 21:21.

38:8 A concise description of the custom known as "levirate marriage" (Latin levir means "brother-in-law"). Details of the practice are given in Deut 25:5–6, where it is laid down as a legal obligation within Israel (cf. Matt 22:24). The custom is illustrated in Ruth 4:5, though there it is extended to the nearest living relative (see Ruth 3:12 and note on Ruth 2:20), since neither Boaz nor the nearer kinsman was a brother-in-law.

38:9 knew that the offspring would not be his. Similarly, Ruth's nearest kinsman was fearful that if he married Ruth he would endanger his own estate (Ruth 4:5–6). wasted his seed on the ground. A means of birth control sometimes called "onanism" (after Onan).

38:10 what he did. His refusal to perform his levirate duty.

38:11 he thought, " . . . he too may die like his brothers." Thus Judah had no intention of giving Shelah to Tamar (see v. 14).

38:12 Timnah. Exact location unknown, but somewhere in the hill country of Judah (see Josh 15:48,57).

38:14 sat . . . the road. Prostitutes (see v. 15) customarily stationed themselves by the roadside (Jer 3:2). Enaim. Means "two springs"; probably the same as Enam in the western foothills of Judah (see Josh 15:33–34).

38:18 seal and your cord. Probably a small cylinder seal of the type used to sign clay documents by rolling them over the clay. The owner wore it around his neck on a cord threaded through a hole drilled lengthwise through it.

38:21 temple prostitute. The Hebrew here differs from that used for "harlot" in v. 15. Judah's friend perhaps deliberately used the that Judah was informed, "[1]Your daughter-in-law Tamar has played the harlot, and behold, she is also with child by harlotry." Then Judah said, "Bring her out and [a]let her be burned!"

25 It was while she was being brought out that she sent to her father-in-law, saying, "I am with child by the man to whom these things belong." And she said, "[a]Please examine and see, whose signet ring and cords and staff are these?"

26 Judah recognized them, and said, "[a]She is more righteous than I, inasmuch as [b]I did not give her to my son Shelah." And he did not [1]have relations with her again.

27 It came about at the time she was giving birth, that behold, there were [a]twins in her womb.

28 Moreover, it took place while she was giving birth, one put out a hand, and the midwife took and tied a scarlet thread on his hand, saying, "This one came out first."

29 But it came about as he drew back his hand, that behold, his brother came out. Then she said, "What a breach you have made for yourself!" So he was named [1][a]Perez.

30 Afterward his brother came out who had the scarlet thread on his hand; and he was named [1][a]Zerah.

Joseph's Success in Egypt

39 Now Joseph had been taken down to Egypt; and Potiphar, an Egyptian officer of Pharaoh, the captain of the bodyguard, bought him [1]from the [a]Ishmaelites, who had taken him down there.

2 [a]The LORD was with Joseph, so he became a [1]successful man. And he was in the house of his master, the Egyptian.

3 Now his master [a]saw that the LORD was with him and how the LORD [b]caused all that he did to prosper in his hand.

4 So Joseph [a]found favor in his sight and [1]became his personal servant; and he made him overseer over his house, and [b]all that he owned he put in his [2]charge.

5 It came about that from the time he made him overseer in his house and over all that he owned, the LORD [a]blessed the Egyptian's house on account of Joseph; thus [b]the LORD's blessing was upon all that he owned, in the house and in the field.

6 So he left everything he owned in Joseph's [1]charge; and with him there he did not [2]concern himself with anything except the [3]food which he [4]ate.

Now Joseph was [a]handsome in form and appearance.

7 It came about after these events [a]that his master's wife [1]looked with desire at Joseph, and she said, "[b]Lie with me."

8 But [a]he refused and said to his master's wife, "Behold, with me here, my master [1]does not concern himself with anything in the house, and he has put all that he owns in my [2]charge.

9 "[1][a]There is no one greater in this house than I, and he has withheld nothing from me except you, because you are his wife. How then could I do this great evil and [b]sin against God?"

10 As she spoke to Joseph day after day, he did not listen to her to lie beside her or be with her.

11 Now it happened [1]one day that he went into the house to do his work, and none of the men of the household was there inside.

12 She caught him by his garment, saying, "Lie with me!" And he left his garment in her hand and fled, and went outside.

more acceptable term, since ritual prostitutes enjoyed a higher social status in Canaan than did ordinary prostitutes.

38:24 let her be burned. In later times, burning was the legal penalty for prostitution (see Lev 21:9).

38:27–30 For a similarly unusual birth of twin boys see 25:24–26.

38:29 Perez. Became the head of the leading clan in Judah and the ancestor of David (see Ruth 4:18–22) and ultimately of Christ (see Matt 1:1–6).

39:1 See 37:36. taken down to Egypt. Joseph's experiences in Egypt, as well as those of his youth in Canaan (see note on 37:23–24), are similar to Israel's national experiences in Egypt. Initially, because of God's blessing, Joseph attains a position of honor (in Potiphar's house); he is then unjustly thrown into prison, his only crime being his attractiveness and moral integrity; and finally he is raised up among the Egyptians as the one who, because God is with him, holds their lives in his hands. Similarly Israel was first received with honor in Egypt (because of Joseph); then she was subjected to cruel bondage, her only crime being God's evident blessings upon her; and finally God raised her up in the eyes of the Egyptians (through the ministry of Moses) as they came fearfully to recognize that these people and their God did indeed hold their lives in their hands. The author of Genesis knew the events of the exodus and shows how the history of God and the patriarchs moved forward to and foreshadowed that event (see also 15:13–16; 48:21–22; 50:24–25). Ishmaelites. See note on 37:25.

39:2–6 See vv. 20–23. Though Joseph's situation changed drastically, God's relationship to him remained the same.

39:2 The LORD was with Joseph. See note on 26:3. This fact, mentioned several times here (vv. 3,21,23), is stressed also by Stephen (Acts 7:9).

39:5 the LORD blessed the Egyptian's house on account of Joseph. The offspring of Abraham are becoming a blessing to the nations (see 12:2–3; 30:27).

39:6 left everything he owned in Joseph's charge. Joseph had full responsibility for the welfare of Potiphar's house, as later he would have full responsibility in prison (vv. 22–23) and later still in all Egypt (41:41). Always this Israelite came to hold the welfare of his "world" in his hands—but always by the blessing and overruling of God, never by his own wits, as his father Jacob had so long attempted. In the role that he played in Israel's history and in the manner in which he lived it, Joseph was a true representative of Israel.

39:7 looked with desire at. The phrase is used in the same sense in Akkadian in Section 25 of the Code of Hammurapi.

39:9 sin against God. All sin is against God, first and foremost (see Ps 51:4).

39:10 As she spoke to Joseph day after day, he did not listen. Samson twice succumbed under similar pressure (Judg 14:17; 16:16–17).

13 [1]When she saw that he had left his garment in her hand and had fled outside,
14 she called to the men of her household and said to them, "See, he has brought in a [1]Hebrew to us to make sport of us; he came in to me to lie with me, and I [2]screamed.
15 "When he heard that I raised my voice and [1]screamed, he left his garment beside me and fled and went outside."
16 So she [1]left his garment beside her until his master came home.
17 Then she [a]spoke to him [1]with these words, "[2]The Hebrew slave, whom you brought to us, came in to me to make sport of me;
18 and as I raised my voice and [1]screamed, he left his garment beside me and fled outside."

Joseph Imprisoned

19 Now when his master heard the words of his wife, which she spoke to him, saying, "[1]This is what your slave did to me," [a]his anger burned.
20 So Joseph's master took him and [a]put him into the jail, the place where the king's prisoners were confined; and he was there in the jail.
21 But [a]the LORD was with Joseph and extended kindness to him, and [b]gave him favor in the sight of the chief jailer.
22 The chief jailer [a]committed to Joseph's [1]charge all the prisoners who were in the jail; so that whatever was done there, he was [2]responsible for it.
23 [a]The chief jailer did not supervise anything under [1]Joseph's charge because [b]the LORD was with him; and whatever he did, [c]the LORD made to prosper.

Joseph Interprets a Dream

40 Then it came about after these things, [a]the cupbearer and the baker for the king of Egypt offended their lord, the king of Egypt.
2 Pharaoh was [a]furious with his two officials, the chief cupbearer and the chief baker.
3 So he put them in confinement in the house of the [a]captain of the bodyguard, in the jail, the same place where Joseph was imprisoned.
4 The captain of the bodyguard put Joseph in charge of them, and he [1]took care of them; and they were in confinement for [2]some time.
5 Then the cupbearer and the baker for the king of Egypt, who were confined in jail, both had a dream the same night, each man with his own dream and each dream with its own interpretation.
6 [1]When Joseph came to them in the morning and observed them, [2]behold, they were dejected.
7 He asked Pharaoh's officials who were with him in confinement in his master's house, "[1][a]Why are your faces so sad today?"
8 Then they said to him, "[a]We have [1]had a dream and there is no one to interpret it." Then Joseph said to them, "[b]Do not interpretations belong to God? Tell it to me, please."
9 So the chief cupbearer told his dream to Joseph, and said to him, "In my dream, [1]behold, there was a vine in front of me;
10 and on the vine were three branches. And as it was budding, its blossoms came out, and its clusters produced ripe grapes.
11 "Now Pharaoh's cup was in my hand; so I took the grapes and squeezed them into Pharaoh's cup, and I put the cup into Pharaoh's [1]hand."
12 Then Joseph said to him, "This is the [a]interpretation of it: the three branches are three days;
13 within three more days Pharaoh will [1]lift up your head and restore you to your [2]office; and you will put Pharaoh's cup into his hand according to your former custom when you were his cupbearer.
14 "Only [1]keep me in mind when it goes well with you, and please [a]do me a kindness [2]by mentioning me to Pharaoh and get me out of this house.
15 "For [a]I was in fact kidnapped from the land of the Hebrews, and even here I have done nothing that they should have put me into the [1]dungeon."
16 When the chief baker saw that he had interpreted favorably, he said to Joseph, "I 39:14 a Hebrew. See v. 17; see also note on 14:13.

39:20–23 See note on vv. 2–6.
39:20 the place where the king's prisoners were confined. Though understandably angry (see v. 19), Potiphar put Joseph in the "house of the captain of the bodyguard" (40:3)—certainly not the worst prison available.
40:2 chief cupbearer. Would be the divinely appointed agent for introducing Joseph to Pharaoh (see 41:9–14).
40:5 each dream with its own interpretation. Throughout the ancient Near East it was believed that dreams had specific meanings and that proper interpretation of them could help the dreamer predict his future (see note on 20:3). God was beginning to prepare the way for Joseph's rise in Egypt.
40:8 interpretations belong to God. Only God can interpret dreams properly and accurately (see 41:16,25,28; Dan 2:28). Tell it to me. Joseph presents himself as God's agent through whom God will make known the revelation contained in their dreams—Israel is God's prophetic people through whom God's revelation comes to the nations (see 18:17 and note; 41:16,28,32).
40:13 lift up your head and restore you to your office. See Ps 3:3; 27:6. For this meaning of the idiom "lift up one's head" see 2 Kin 25:27 and Jer 52:31, where the Hebrew for "released" in the context of freeing a prisoner means lit. "lifted up the head of."
40:14 keep me in mind when it goes well with you. Unfortunately, the cupbearer "did not remember Joseph" (v. 23) until two full years later (see 41:1,9–13).
40:15 dungeon. Probably hyperbole to reflect Joseph's despair (see note on 39:20). Since the same Hebrew word is translated "pit" in 37:24, the author of Genesis has established a link with Joseph's earlier experience at the hands of his brothers.

also saw in my dream, and behold, there were three baskets of white bread on my head;

17 and in the top basket there were some of all [1]sorts of baked food for Pharaoh, and the birds were eating them out of the basket on my head."

18 Then Joseph answered and said, "This is its interpretation: the three baskets are three days;

19 within three more days Pharaoh will lift up your head from you and will hang you on a tree, and the birds will eat your flesh off you."

20 Thus it came about on the third day, which was [a]Pharaoh's birthday, that he made a feast for all his servants; [b]and he lifted up the head of the chief cupbearer and the head of the chief baker among his servants.

21 He restored the chief cupbearer to his [1]office, and [a]he put the cup into Pharaoh's [2]hand;

22 but [a]he hanged the chief baker, just as Joseph had interpreted to them.

23 Yet the chief cupbearer did not remember Joseph, but [a]forgot him.

Pharaoh's Dream

41 Now it happened at the end of two full years that Pharaoh had a dream, and behold, he was standing by the Nile.

2 And lo, from the Nile there came up seven cows, sleek and [1]fat; and they grazed in the [a]marsh grass.

3 Then behold, seven other cows came up after them from the Nile, ugly and [1]gaunt, and they stood by the other cows on the bank of the Nile.

4 The ugly and [1]gaunt cows ate up the seven sleek and fat cows. Then Pharaoh awoke.

5 He fell asleep and dreamed a second time; and behold, seven ears of grain came up on a single stalk, plump and good.

6 Then behold, seven ears, thin and scorched by the east wind, sprouted up after them.

7 The thin ears swallowed up the seven plump and full ears. Then Pharaoh awoke, and behold, it was a dream.

8 Now in the morning [a]his spirit was troubled, so he sent and called for all the [1b]magicians of Egypt, and all its [c]wise men. And Pharaoh told them his [2]dreams, but [d]there was no one who could interpret them to Pharaoh.

9 Then the chief cupbearer spoke to Pharaoh, saying, "I would make mention today of [a]my own [1]offenses.

10 "Pharaoh was [a]furious with his servants, and [b]he put me in confinement in the house of the captain of the bodyguard, both me and the chief baker.

11 "[a]We had a dream [1]on the same night, [2]he and I; each of us dreamed according to the interpretation of his own dream.

12 "Now a Hebrew youth was with us there, a [a]servant of the captain of the bodyguard, and we related them to him, and [b]he interpreted our dreams for us. To each one he interpreted according to his own dream.

13 "And just [a]as he interpreted for us, so it happened; he restored me in my [1]office, but he hanged him."

Joseph Interprets

14 Then Pharaoh sent and [a]called for Joseph, and they [b]hurriedly brought him out of the dungeon; and when he had shaved himself and changed his clothes, he came to Pharaoh.

15 Pharaoh said to Joseph, "I have had a dream, [a]but no one can interpret it; and [b]I have heard [1]it said about you, that [2]when you hear a dream you can interpret it."

16 Joseph then answered Pharaoh, saying, "[1a]It is not in me; [b]God will [2]give Pharaoh a favorable answer."

17 So Pharaoh spoke to Joseph, "In my dream, behold, I was standing on the bank of the Nile;

18 and behold, seven cows, [1]fat and sleek came up out of the Nile, and they grazed in the marsh grass.

19 "Lo, seven other cows came up after them, poor and very ugly and [1]gaunt, such as I had never seen for [2]ugliness in all the land of Egypt;

20 and the lean and [1]ugly cows ate up the first seven fat cows.

21 "Yet when they had [1]devoured them, it could not be [2]detected that they had [1]devoured them, [3]for they were just as ugly as [4]before. Then I awoke.

22 "I saw also in my dream, and behold, seven ears, full and good, came up on a single stalk;

40:19 lift up your head. A grisly pun based on the same idiom used in v. 13.
40:20 Pharaoh's birthday. Centuries later, the birthday of Herod the tetrarch would become the occasion for another beheading (see Matt 14:6–10).
41:2 from the Nile there came up seven cows. Cattle often submerged themselves up to their necks in the Nile to escape sun and insects.
41:6 scorched by the east wind. The Palestinian sirocco (in Egypt the khamsin), which blows in from the desert (see Hos 13:15) in late spring and early fall, often withers vegetation (see Is 40:7; Ezek 17:10).

41:14 Pharaoh sent and called for Joseph. Effecting his permanent release from prison (see Ps 105:20). shaved. Egyptians were normally smooth-shaven, while Palestinians wore beards (see 2 Sam 10:5; Jer 41:5).
41:16 It is not in me; God will give Pharaoh a favorable answer. See 40:8; Dan 2:27–28,30; 2 Cor 3:5.

24 and the thin ears swallowed the seven good ears. Then [a]I told it to the [1]magicians, but there was no one who could explain it to me."
25 Now Joseph said to Pharaoh, "Pharaoh's [1]dreams are one and the same; [a]God has told to Pharaoh what He is about to do.
26 "The seven good cows are seven years; and the seven good ears are seven years; the [1]dreams are one and the same.
27 "The seven lean and ugly cows that came up after them are seven years, and the seven thin ears scorched by the east wind [a]will be seven years of famine.
28 "[1]It is as I have spoken to Pharaoh: [a]God has shown to Pharaoh what He is about to do.
29 "Behold, [a]seven years of great abundance are coming in all the land of Egypt;
30 and after them [a]seven years of famine will [1]come, and all the abundance will be forgotten in the land of Egypt, and the famine will [2]ravage the land.
31 "So the abundance will be unknown in the land because of that subsequent famine; for it will be very severe.
32 "Now as for the repeating of the dream to Pharaoh twice, it means that [a]the matter is determined by God, and God will quickly bring it about.
33 "Now let Pharaoh look for a man [a]discerning and wise, and set him over the land of Egypt.
34 "Let Pharaoh take action to appoint overseers [1]in charge of the land, and let him exact a fifth of the produce of the land of Egypt in the seven years of abundance.
35 "Then let them [a]gather all the food of these good years that are coming, and store up the grain for food in the cities under Pharaoh's authority, and let them guard it.
36 "Let the food become as a reserve for the land for the seven years of famine which will occur in the land of Egypt, so that the land will not perish during the famine."
37 Now the [1]proposal seemed good [2]to Pharaoh and [2]to all his servants.

Joseph Is Made a Ruler of Egypt

38 Then Pharaoh said to his servants, "Can we find a man like this, [a]in whom is a divine spirit?"
39 So Pharaoh said to Joseph, "Since God has informed you of all this, there is no one so [a]discerning and wise as you are.
40 "[a]You shall be over my house, and according to your [1]command all my people shall [2]do homage; only in the throne I will be greater than you."
41 Pharaoh said to Joseph, "See, I have set you [a]over all the land of Egypt."
42 Then Pharaoh [a]took off his signet ring from his hand and put it on Joseph's hand, and clothed him in garments of fine linen and [b]put the gold necklace around his neck.
43 He had him ride in [1]his second chariot; and they proclaimed before him, "[2]Bow the knee!" And he set him over all the land of Egypt.
44 Moreover, Pharaoh said to Joseph, "Though I am Pharaoh, yet [a]without [1]your permission no one shall raise his hand or foot in all the land of Egypt."
45 Then Pharaoh named Joseph [1]Zaphenath-paneah; and he gave him Asenath, the daughter of Potiphera priest of [2][a]On, as his wife. And Joseph went forth over the land of Egypt.
46 Now Joseph was [a]thirty years old when he [1]stood before Pharaoh, king of Egypt. And Joseph went out from the presence of Pharaoh and went through all the land of Egypt.
47 During the seven years of plenty the land brought forth [1]abundantly.
48 So he gathered all the food of these sev-

41:27 seven years of famine. See Acts 7:11. Long famines were rare in Egypt because of the regularity of the annual overflow of the Nile, but not uncommon elsewhere (see 2 Kin 8:1). According to the NT, the great famine in the time of Elijah lasted three and a half years (James 5:17), thus half of seven years; it had been cut short by Elijah's intercession (1 Kin 18:42; James 5:18).
41:32 Repetition of a divine revelation was often used for emphasis (see 37:5–9; Amos 7:1–6,7–9; 8:1–3).
41:38 a divine spirit. Lit."a spirit of God (or of the gods)." The word "spirit" should probably not be capitalized in such passages, since reference to the Holy Spirit would be out of character in statements by pagan rulers.
41:40 You shall be over my house. Pharaoh took Joseph's advice (see v. 33) and decided that Joseph himself should be "governor over Egypt" (Acts 7:10; see also Ps 105:21). according to your command all my people shall do homage. More lit."at your command all my people are to kiss (you)"—i.e., kiss your hands or feet in an act of homage and submission (see Ps 2:12 and note).
41:42 Three symbols of transfer and/or sharing of royal authority, referred to also in Esth 3:10 (signet ring); Esth 6:11 (robe); and Dan 5:7,16,29 (gold necklace).
41:43 He had him ride in his second chariot. The position was probably that of vizier, the highest executive office below that of the king himself. Bow the knee! The Hebrew here may be an Egyptian imperative of a Semitic loanword.
41:45 named Joseph Zaphenath-paneah. As a part of assigning Joseph an official position within his royal administration (see note on 1:5). Pharaoh presumed to use this marvelously endowed servant of the Lord for his own royal purposes—as a later Pharaoh would attempt to use divinely blessed Israel for the enrichment of Egypt (Ex 1). He did not recognize that Joseph served a Higher Power, whose kingdom and redemptive purposes are being advanced. (The meaning of Joseph's Egyptian name is uncertain.) Asenath. The name is Egyptian and probably means "She belongs to (the goddess) Neith." Potiphera. Not the same person as "Potiphar" (37:36; 39:1); the name (also Egyptian) means "he whom (the sun-god) Ra has given." On. Located ten miles northeast of modern Cairo, it was called Heliopolis ("city of the sun") by the Greeks and was an important center for the worship of Ra, who had a temple there. Potiphera therefore bore an appropriate name.
41:46 thirty years old. In just 13 years (see 37:2), Joseph had become second-in-command (v. 43) in Egypt.

en years which occurred in the land of Egypt and placed the food in the cities; he placed in every city the food from its own surrounding fields.

49 Thus Joseph stored up grain [1]in great abundance like the sand of the sea, until he stopped [2]measuring it, for it was [3]beyond measure.

The Sons of Joseph

50 Now before the year of famine came, [a]two sons were born to Joseph, whom Asenath, the daughter of Potiphera priest of [1]On, bore to him.

51 Joseph named the firstborn [1]Manasseh, "For," he said, "God has made me forget all my trouble and all my father's household."

52 He named the second [1]Ephraim, "For," he said, "[a]God has made me fruitful in the land of my affliction."

53 When the seven years of plenty which had been in the land of Egypt came to an end, 54 and [a]the seven years of famine began to come, just as Joseph had said, then there was famine in all the lands, but in all the land of Egypt there was bread.

55 So when all the land of Egypt was famished, the people cried out to Pharaoh for bread; and Pharaoh said to all the Egyptians, "Go to Joseph; [a]whatever he says to you, you shall do."

56 When the famine was spread over all the face of the earth, then Joseph opened all [1]the storehouses, and sold to the Egyptians; and the famine was severe in the land of Egypt.

57 The people of all the earth came to Egypt to buy grain from Joseph, because [a]the famine was severe in all the earth.

Joseph's Brothers Sent to Egypt

42 Now [a]Jacob saw that there was grain in Egypt, and Jacob said to his sons, "Why are you staring at one another?"

2 He said, "Behold, [a]I have heard that there is grain in Egypt; go down there and buy some for us [1]from that place, [b]so that we may live and not die."

3 Then ten brothers of Joseph went down to buy grain from Egypt.

4 But Jacob did not send Joseph's brother [a]Benjamin with his brothers, for he said, "[b]I am afraid that harm may befall him."

5 So the sons of Israel came to buy grain among those who were coming, [a]for the famine was in the land of Canaan also.

6 Now [a]Joseph was the ruler over the land; he was the one who sold to all the people of the land. And Joseph's brothers came and [b]bowed down to him with their faces to the ground.

7 When Joseph saw his brothers he recognized them, but he disguised himself to them and [a]spoke to them harshly. And he said to them, "Where have you come from?" And they said, "From the land of Canaan, to buy food."

8 But Joseph had recognized his brothers, although [a]they did not recognize him.

9 Joseph [a]remembered the dreams which he [1]had about them, and said to them, "You are spies; you have come to look at the [2]undefended parts of our land."

10 Then they said to him, "No, [a]my lord, but your servants have come to buy food.

11 "We are all sons of one man; we are [a]honest men, your servants are not spies."

12 Yet he said to them, "No, but you have come to look at the [1]undefended parts of our land!"

13 But they said, "Your servants are twelve brothers in all, the sons of one man in the land of Canaan; and behold, the youngest is with [a]our father today, and [b]one is no longer alive."

14 Joseph said to them, "It is as I said [1]to you, you are spies;

15 by this you will be tested: [a]by the life of Pharaoh, you shall not go from this place unless your youngest brother comes here!

41:49 like the sand of the sea. A simile also for the large number of offspring promised to Abraham and Jacob (see 22:17; 32:12).

41:52 Ephraim. The wordplay on the name (Ephraim sounds like the Hebrew for "twice fruitful") reflects the fact that God gave Joseph "two" (see v. 50) sons.

41:57 all the earth. The known world from the writer's perspective (the Middle East). This description of the famine in the time of Joseph echoes the author's description of the flood in the time of Noah. God saved only Noah and his family from the flood, so that Noah became the new (after Adam) father of the race. With the call of Abram out of the post-flood and post-Babel nations, God once more singled out one man, now to be the father of His special people. God promised that, through this man and his descendants, "all the families of the earth will be blessed" (12:3). The author highlights the fact that in this new crisis hope rested with one of these descendants.

42:2–3 Stephen refers to this incident (Acts 7:12).

42:4 did not send Joseph's brother Benjamin. Their mother Rachel had died (35:19), and Jacob thought Joseph also was dead (37:33). Jacob did not want to lose Benjamin, the remaining son of his beloved Rachel.

42:5 famine was in the land of Canaan also. As in the time of Abram (see 12:10 and note).

42:6 bowed down to him. In fulfillment of Joseph's dreams (see 37:7,9).

42:8 Joseph had recognized his brothers. Although at least 20 years had passed since he had last seen them (see 37:2; 41:46,53–54), they had been adults at the time and their appearance had not changed much. they did not recognize him. Joseph, a teenager at the time of his enslavement, was now an adult in an unexpected position of authority, wearing Egyptian clothes and speaking to his brothers through an interpreter (see v. 23). He was, moreover, shaven in the Egyptian manner (see note on 41:14).

42:10 my lord . . . your servants. Unwittingly, Joseph's brothers again fulfilled his dreams and their own scornful fears (see 37:8).

42:15 by the life of Pharaoh. The most solemn oaths were pronounced in the name of the reigning monarch (as here) or of the 16 "Send one of you that he may get your brother, while you remain confined, that your words may be tested, whether there is [a]truth in you. But if not, by the life of Pharaoh, surely you are spies."

17 So he put them all together in [a]prison for three days.

18 Now Joseph said to them on the third day, "Do this and live, for [a]I fear God:

19 if you are honest men, let one of your brothers be confined in [1]your prison; but as for the rest of you, go, carry grain for the famine of your households,

20 and [a]bring your youngest brother to me, so your words may be verified, and you will not die." And they did so.

21 Then they said to one another, "[a]Truly we are guilty concerning our brother, because we saw the distress of his soul when he pleaded with us, yet we would not listen; therefore this distress has come upon us."

22 Reuben answered them, saying, "[a]Did I not tell [1]you, 'Do not sin against the boy'; and you would not listen? [2b]Now comes the reckoning for his blood."

23 They did not know, however, that Joseph understood, for there was an interpreter between them.

24 He turned away from them and [a]wept. But when he returned to them and spoke to them, he [b]took Simeon from them and bound him before their eyes.

25 [a]Then Joseph gave orders to fill their bags with grain and to restore every man's money in his sack, and to give them provisions for the journey. And thus it was done for them.

26 So they loaded their donkeys with their grain and departed from there.

27 As one of them opened his sack to give his donkey fodder at the lodging place, he saw his [a]money; and behold, it was in the mouth of his sack.

28 Then he said to his brothers, "My money has been returned, and behold, it is even in my sack." And their hearts [1]sank, and they turned [2]trembling to one another, saying, "[a]What is this that God has done to us?"

Simeon Is Held Hostage

29 When they came to their father Jacob in the land of Canaan, they told him all that had happened to them, saying,

30 "The man, the lord of the land, [a]spoke harshly with us, and took us for spies of the country.

31 "But we said to him, 'We are [a]honest men; we are not spies.

32 'We are twelve brothers, sons of our father; one is no longer alive, and the youngest is with our father today in the land of Canaan.'

33 "The man, the lord of the land, said to us, '[a]By this I will know that you are honest men: leave one of your brothers with me and take grain for the famine of your households, and go.

34 'But bring your youngest brother to me that I may know that you are not spies, but [1]honest men. I will give your brother to you, and you may [a]trade in the land.' "

35 Now it came about as they were emptying their sacks, that behold, [a]every man's bundle of money was in his sack; and when they and their father saw their bundles of money, they were dismayed.

36 Their father Jacob said to them, "You have [a]bereaved me of my children: Joseph is no more, and Simeon is no more, and you would take Benjamin; all these things are against me."

37 Then Reuben spoke to his father, saying, "You may put my two sons to death if I do not bring him back to you; put him in my [1]care, and I will return him to you."

38 But [1]Jacob said, "My son shall not go down with you; for his [a]brother is dead, and he alone is left. [b]If harm should befall him on the journey [2]you are taking, then you will [c]bring my gray hair down to Sheol in sorrow."

The Return to Egypt

43 [a]Now the famine was severe in the land.

2 So it came about when they had finished eating the grain which they had brought from Egypt, that their father said to them, "Go back, buy us a little food."

3 Judah spoke to him, however, saying, "[a]The man solemnly warned [1]us, 'You shall not see my face unless your brother is with you.'

4 "If you send our brother with us, we will go down and buy you food.

5 "But if you do not send him, we will not go down; for the man said to us, 'You will not see my face unless your brother is with you.' "

6 Then Israel said, "Why did you treat

43:3 Judah spoke to him. From this point on, Judah became the spokesman for his brothers (see vv. 8–10; 44:14–34; 46:28). His tribe would become preeminent among the 12 (see 49:8–10), and he would be an ancestor of Jesus (see Matt 1:2,17; Luke 3:23,33).

me so badly [1]by telling the man whether you still had another brother?"

7 But they said, "The man questioned particularly about us and our relatives, saying, '[a]Is your father still alive? Have you another brother?' So we [1]answered his questions. Could we possibly know that he would say, 'Bring your brother down'?"

8 Judah said to his father Israel, "Send the lad with me and we will arise and go, [a]that we may live and not die, we as well as you and our little ones.

9 "[a]I myself will be surety for him; [1]you may hold me responsible for him. If I do not bring him back to you and set him before you, then [2]let me bear the blame before you forever.

10 "For if we had not delayed, surely by now we could have returned twice."

11 Then their father Israel said to them, "If it must be so, then do this: take some of the best products of the land in your [1]bags, and carry down to the man [a]as a present, a little [2b]balm and a little honey, [3]aromatic gum and [4]myrrh, pistachio nuts and almonds.

12 "Take double the money in your hand, and take back in your hand [a]the money that was returned in the mouth of your sacks; perhaps it was a mistake.

13 "Take your brother also, and arise, return to the man;

14 and may [1a]God Almighty [b]grant you compassion in the sight of the man, so that he will release to you [c]your other brother and Benjamin. And as for me, [d]if I am bereaved of my children, I am bereaved."

15 So the men took [a]this present, and they took double the money in their hand, and Benjamin; then they arose and went down to Egypt and stood before Joseph.

Joseph Sees Benjamin

16 When Joseph saw Benjamin with them, he said to his [a]house steward, "Bring the men into the house, and slay an animal and make ready; for the men are to dine with me at noon."

17 So the man did as Joseph said, and [1]brought the men to Joseph's house.

18 Now the men were afraid, because they were brought to Joseph's house; and they said, "It is because of the money that was returned in our sacks the first time that we are being brought in, that he may [1]seek occasion against us and fall upon us, and take us for slaves with our donkeys."

19 So they came near to Joseph's house steward, and spoke to him at the entrance of the house,

20 and said, "Oh, my lord, we indeed came down the first time to buy food, 21 and it came about when we came to the lodging place, that we opened our sacks, and behold, [a]each man's money was in the mouth of his sack, our money in [1]full. So [b]we have brought it back in our hand.

22 "We have also brought down other money in our hand to buy food; we do not know who put our money in our sacks."

23 He said, "[1]Be at ease, do not be afraid. [a]Your God and the God of your father has given you treasure in your sacks; [2]I had your money." Then [b]he brought Simeon out to them.

24 Then the man brought the men into Joseph's house and [a]gave them water, and they [b]washed their feet; and he gave their donkeys fodder.

25 So they prepared [a]the present [1]for Joseph's coming at noon; for they had heard that they were to eat [2]a meal there.

26 When Joseph came home, they brought into the house to him the present which was in their hand and [a]bowed to the ground before him.

27 Then he asked them about their welfare, and said, "[a]Is your old father well, of whom you spoke? Is he still alive?"

28 They said, "Your servant our father is well; he is still alive." [a]They bowed down [1]in homage.

29 As he lifted his eyes and saw his brother Benjamin, his mother's son, he said, "Is this [a]your youngest brother, of whom you spoke to me?" And he said, "[b]May God be gracious to you, my son."

30 Joseph hurried out for [1a]he was deeply stirred over his brother, and he sought a place to weep; and he entered his chamber and [b]wept there.

31 Then he washed his face and came out; and he [a]controlled himself and said, "[1]Serve the meal."

32 So they served him by himself, and them

43:9 Judah offered himself as security for Benjamin's safety—an even more generous gesture than that of Reuben (see 42:37 and note).

43:11 carry . . . as a present. A customary practice when approaching one's superior, whether political (see 1 Sam 16:20), military (see 1 Sam 17:18) or religious (see 2 Kin 5:15). balm . . . myrrh. See 37:25 and note. honey. Either that produced by bees, or an inferior substitute made by boiling grape or date juice down to a thick syrup. pistachio nuts. Mentioned only here in the Bible; the fruit of a small, broad-crowned tree that is native to Asia Minor, Syria and Canaan but not to Egypt.

43:14 God Almighty. See note on 17:1. if I am bereaved . . . I am bereaved. Cf. Esther's similar phrase of resignation in Esth 4:16.

43:21 The brothers' statement to Joseph's steward compressed the details (see 42:27,35).

43:23 Your God . . . has given you treasure. The steward spoke better than he knew.

43:24 See note on 18:2.

43:26 bowed to the ground. Additional fulfillment of Joseph's dreams (37:7,9; see also 42:6; 43:28).

43:29 Benjamin, his mother's son. Joseph's special relationship to Benjamin is clear. God be gracious to you. Later blessings and benedictions would echo these words (see Num 6:25; Ps 67:1).

43:30 Joseph . . . wept. Both emotional and sensitive, he wept often (see 42:24; 45:2,14–15; 46:29).

43:32 Egyptians could not eat bread with the Hebrews. The taboo by themselves, and the Egyptians who ate with him by themselves, because the Egyptians could not eat bread with the Hebrews, for that is [1][a]loathsome to the Egyptians.

33 Now they [1]were seated before him, [a]the firstborn according to his birthright and the youngest according to his youth, and the men looked at one another in astonishment.

34 He took portions to them from [1]his own table, [a]but Benjamin's portion was five times as much as any of theirs. So they feasted and drank freely with him.

The Brothers Are Brought Back

44 [a]Then he commanded his house steward, saying, "Fill the men's sacks with food, as much as they can carry, and put each man's money in the mouth of his sack.

2 "Put my cup, the silver cup, in the mouth of the sack of the youngest, and his money for the grain." And he did [1]as Joseph had told him.

3 [1]As soon as it was light, the men were sent away, they with their donkeys.

4 They had just gone out of [a]the city, and were not far off, when Joseph said to his house steward, "Up, follow the men; and when you overtake them, say to them, 'Why have you repaid evil for good?

5 'Is not this the one from which my lord drinks and which he indeed uses for [a]divination? You have done wrong in doing this.' "

6 So he overtook them and spoke these words to them.

7 They said to him, "Why does my lord speak such words as these? Far be it from your servants to do such a thing.

8 "Behold, [a]the money which we found in the mouth of our sacks we have brought back to you from the land of Canaan. How then could we steal silver or gold from your lord's house?

9 "[a]With whomever of your servants it is found, let him die, and we also will be my lord's [b]slaves."

10 So he said, "Now let it also be according to your words; he with whom it is found shall be my slave, and the rest of you shall be innocent."

11 Then they hurried, each man lowered his sack to the ground, and each man opened his sack.

12 He searched, beginning with the oldest and ending with the youngest, and [a]the cup was found in Benjamin's sack.

13 Then they [a]tore their clothes, and when each man loaded his donkey, they returned to [b]the city.

14 When Judah and his brothers came to Joseph's house, he was still there, and [a]they fell to the ground before him.

15 Joseph said to them, "What is this deed that you have done? Do you not know that such a man as I can indeed practice [a]divination?"

16 So Judah said, "What can we say to my lord? What can we speak? And how can we justify ourselves? God has found out the iniquity of your servants; behold, we are my lord's [a]slaves, both we and the one in whose [1]possession the cup has been found."

17 But he said, "Far be it from me to do this. The man in whose [1]possession the cup has been found, he shall be my slave; but as for you, go up in peace to your father."

18 Then Judah approached him, and said, "Oh my lord, may your servant please speak a word in my lord's ears, and [1][a]do not be angry with your servant; for [b]you are equal to Pharaoh.

19 "[a]My lord asked his servants, saying, 'Have you a father or a brother?'

20 "We said to my lord, 'We have an old father and [a]a little child of his old age. Now [b]his brother is dead, so he alone is left of his mother, and his father loves him.'

21 "Then you said to your servants, '[a]Bring him down to me that I may set my eyes on him.'

22 "But we said to my lord, 'The lad cannot leave his father, for if he should leave his father, [1]his father would die.'

23 "You said to your servants, however, '[a]Unless your youngest brother comes down with you, you will not see my face again.'

24 "Thus it came about when we went up to your servant my father, we told him the words of my lord.

25 "[a]Our father said, 'Go back, buy us a little food.'

26 "But we said, 'We cannot go down. If our youngest brother is with us, then we will go down; for we cannot see the man's face unless our youngest brother is with us.'

was probably based on ritual or religious reasons (see Ex 8:26), unlike the Egyptian refusal to associate with shepherds (see 46:34), which was probably based on social custom.

43:34 Benjamin's portion was five times as much. Again reflecting his special status with Joseph (see note on v. 29; see also 45:22).

44:4 the city. Identity unknown, though Memphis (about 13 miles south of modern Cairo) and Zoan (in the eastern delta region) have been suggested.

44:5 divination. See v. 15; see also note on 30:27.

44:9 With whomever of your servants it is found, let him die. Years earlier, Jacob had given Laban a similar rash response (see 31:32 and note).

44:10 The steward softened the penalty contained in the brothers' proposal.

44:12 beginning with the oldest and ending with the youngest. For a similar building up of suspense see 31:33.

44:13 tore their clothes. A sign of distress and grief (see 37:29).

44:14 fell to the ground before him. Further fulfillment of Joseph's dreams in 37:7,9 (see 42:6; 43:26,28).

44:16 God has found out the iniquity of your servants. Like Joseph's steward (see note on 43:23), Judah spoke better than he knew—or perhaps his words had a double meaning (see 42:21).

44:18 Judah . . . said. See note on 43:3. lord . . . servant. See note on 42:10. you are equal to Pharaoh. Words more flattering than true (see 41:40,43).

28 and the one went out from me, and [a]I said, "Surely he is torn in pieces," and I have not seen him since.
29 'If you take this one also from [1]me, and harm befalls him, you will [a]bring my gray hair down to Sheol in [2]sorrow.'
30 "Now, therefore, when I come to your servant my father, and the lad is not with us, since [1][a]his life is bound up in the lad's life,
31 when he sees that the lad is not with us, he will die. Thus your servants will [a]bring the gray hair of your servant our father down to Sheol in sorrow.
32 "For your servant [a]became surety for the lad to my father, saying, 'If I do not bring him back to you, then [1]let me bear the blame before my father forever.'
33 "Now, therefore, please let your servant remain instead of the lad a slave to my lord, and let the lad go up with his brothers.
34 "For how shall I go up to my father if the lad is not with me—for fear that I see the evil that would [1]overtake my father?"

Joseph Deals Kindly with His Brothers

45 Then Joseph could not control himself before all those who stood by him, and he cried, "Have everyone go out from me." So there [1]was no man with him [a]when Joseph made himself known to his brothers.
2 [a]He [1]wept so loudly that the Egyptians heard it, and the household of Pharaoh heard of it.
3 Then Joseph said to his brothers, "[a]I am Joseph! [b]Is my father still alive?" But his brothers could not answer him, for [c]they were dismayed at his presence.
4 Then Joseph said to his brothers, "Please come [1]closer to me." And they came [1]closer. And he said, "I am your brother Joseph, whom you [a]sold into Egypt.
5 "Now do not be grieved or angry [1]with yourselves, because [a]you sold me here, for [b]God sent me before you to preserve life.
6 "For the famine has been in the land [a]these two years, and there are still five years in which there will be neither plowing nor harvesting.
7 "[a]God sent me before you to preserve for you a remnant in the earth, and to keep you alive by a great [1]deliverance.
8 "Now, therefore, it was not you who sent me here, but God; and He has made me a [a]father to Pharaoh and lord of all his household and ruler over all the land of Egypt.
9 "Hurry and go up to my father, and [a]say to him, 'Thus says your son Joseph, "God has made me lord of all Egypt; come down to me, do not delay.
10 "You shall [1]live in the land of [a]Goshen, and you shall be near me, you and your children and your children's children and your flocks and your herds and all that you have.
11 "There I will also [a]provide for you, for there are still five years of famine to come, and you and your household and all that you have would be impoverished." '
12 "Behold, your eyes see, and the eyes of my brother Benjamin see, that it is my mouth which is speaking to you.
13 "Now you must tell my father of all my splendor in Egypt, and all that you have seen; and you must hurry and [a]bring my father down here."
14 Then he fell on his brother Benjamin's neck and [a]wept, and Benjamin wept on his neck.
15 He kissed all his brothers and wept on them, and afterward his brothers talked with him.
16 Now when [a]the [1]news was heard in Pharaoh's house [2]that Joseph's brothers had come, it [3]pleased Pharaoh and his servants.
17 Then Pharaoh said to Joseph, "Say to your brothers, 'Do this: load your beasts and [1]go to the land of Canaan,
18 and take your father and your households and come to me, and [a]I will give you the [1]best of the land of Egypt and you will eat the fat of the land.'
19 "Now you are ordered, 'Do this: [1]take [a]wagons from the land of Egypt for your lit-

44:30 his life is bound up in the lad's life. The Hebrew underlying this clause is later used for "the soul of Jonathan" being "knit to the soul of David" (1 Sam 18:1).
44:33 instead of the lad. Judah's willingness to be a substitute for Benjamin helped make amends for his role in selling Joseph (see 37:26–27).
44:34 for fear that I see the evil. Judah remembers an earlier scene (37:34–35).

45:5 God sent me. See vv. 7–9; Acts 7:9. God had a purpose to work through the brothers' thoughtless and cruel act (see Acts 2:23; 4:28).
45:6 Joseph was now 39 years old (see 41:46,53).
45:7 a remnant. Although none had been lost, they had escaped a great threat to them all; so Joseph called them a remnant in the confidence that they would live to produce a great people.
45:8 father. A title of honor given to viziers (see note on 41:43) and other high officials (in the Apocrypha see 1 Maccabees 11:32). All three titles of Joseph in this verse were originally Egyptian.
45:9 Hurry . . . do not delay. Joseph is anxious to see Jacob as soon as possible (see v. 13).
45:10 Goshen. A region in the eastern part of the Nile delta, it was very fertile (see v. 18) and remains so today.
45:12 my mouth . . . is speaking. Not through an interpreter as before (see 42:23).
45:14 wept. See 43:30 and note.

45:18 you will eat the fat of the land. An echo of Isaac's blessing on Jacob (see 27:28).

tle ones and for your wives, and bring your father and come.

20 'Do not [1]concern yourselves with your goods, for the [2]best of all the land of Egypt is yours.' "

21 Then the sons of Israel did so; and Joseph gave them [a]wagons according to the [1]command of Pharaoh, and gave them provisions for the journey.

22 To [1]each of them he gave [a]changes of garments, but to Benjamin he gave three hundred pieces of silver and [b]five changes of garments.

23 To his father he sent [1]as follows: ten donkeys loaded with the [2]best things of Egypt, and ten female donkeys loaded with grain and bread and sustenance for his father [3]on the journey.

24 So he sent his brothers away, and [1]as they departed, he said to them, "Do not [2]quarrel on the journey."

25 Then they went up from Egypt, and came to the land of Canaan to their father Jacob.

26 They told him, saying, "Joseph is still alive, and indeed he is ruler over all the land of Egypt." But [1]he was stunned, for [a]he did not believe them.

27 When they told him all the words of Joseph that he had spoken to them, and when he saw the [a]wagons that Joseph had sent to carry him, the spirit of their father Jacob revived.

28 Then Israel said, "It is enough; my son Joseph is still alive. I will go and see him before I die."

Jacob Moves to Egypt

46 So Israel set out with all that he had, and came to [a]Beersheba, and offered sacrifices to the [b]God of his father Isaac.

2 [a]God spoke to Israel [1]in visions of the night and said, "[b]Jacob, Jacob." And he said, "Here I am."

3 He said, "[a]I am God, the God of your father; do not be afraid to go down to Egypt, for I will [b]make you a great nation there.

4 "[a]I will go down with you to Egypt, and [b]I will also surely bring you up again; and [c]Joseph will [1]close your eyes."

5 Then Jacob arose from Beersheba; and the sons of Israel carried their father Jacob and their little ones and their wives in the [a]wagons which Pharaoh had sent to carry him.

6 They took their livestock and their property, which they had acquired in the land of Canaan, and [a]came to Egypt, Jacob and all his [1]descendants with him:

7 his sons and his grandsons with him, his daughters and his granddaughters, and all his [1]descendants he brought with him to Egypt.

Those Who Came to Egypt

8 Now these are the [a]names of the sons of Israel, Jacob and his sons, who went to Egypt: Reuben, Jacob's firstborn.

9 The sons of Reuben: Hanoch and Pallu and Hezron and Carmi.

10 The [a]sons of Simeon: [1]Jemuel and Jamin and Ohad and [2]Jachin and [3]Zohar and Shaul the son of a Canaanite woman.

11 The sons of Levi: [1]Gershon, Kohath, and Merari.

12 The sons of Judah: Er and Onan and Shelah and Perez and Zerah (but Er and Onan died in the land of Canaan). And the [a]sons of Perez were Hezron and Hamul.

13 The sons of Issachar: Tola and [1]Puvvah and [2]Iob and Shimron.

14 The sons of Zebulun: Sered and Elon and Jahleel.

15 These are the sons of Leah, whom she bore to Jacob in Paddan-aram, with his daughter Dinah; [1]all his sons and his daughters numbered thirty-three.

16 The [a]sons of Gad: [1]Ziphion and Haggi, Shuni and [2]Ezbon, Eri and [3]Arodi and Areli.

17 The [a]sons of Asher: Imnah and Ishvah and Ishvi and Beriah and their sister Serah. And the [b]sons of Beriah: Heber and Malchiel.

18 These are the sons of Zilpah, whom Laban gave to his daughter Leah; and she bore to Jacob these sixteen persons.

19 The sons of Jacob's wife Rachel: Joseph and Benjamin.

45:24 Do not quarrel. Joseph wanted nothing to delay their return (see note on v. 9), and he wanted them to avoid mutual accusation and recrimination concerning the past.

46:3 I am . . . the God of your father; do not be afraid. A verbatim repetition of God's statement to Isaac in 26:24. I will make you a great nation. The Lord reaffirmed one aspect of His promise to Abraham (see 12:2). there. See Ex 1:7.

46:4 I will go down with you to Egypt. God would be with Jacob as he went south to Egypt just as He was with him when he went north to Haran, and would again bring him back as He had done before (see 28:15; see also 15:16; 48:21).

46:8 these are the names of the sons of Israel . . . who went to Egypt. The Hebrew here is repeated verbatim in Ex 1:1 (see note there), where it introduces the background for the story of the exodus (predicted here in v. 4).

46:15 Paddan-aram. See note on 25:20. numbered thirty-three. There are 34 names in vv. 8–15. To bring the number to 33 the name Ohad in v. 10 should probably be removed, since it does not appear in the parallel lists in Num 26:12–13; 1 Chr 4:24. The Hebrew form of "Ohad" looks very much like that of the nearby "Zohar" (see Ex 6:15), and a later scribe probably added Ohad to the text accidentally.

20 [a]Now to Joseph in the land of Egypt were born Manasseh and Ephraim, whom Asenath, the daughter of Potiphera, priest of On, bore to him.

21 The [a]sons of Benjamin: Bela and Becher and Ashbel, Gera and Naaman, [1]Ehi and Rosh, [2]Muppim and [3]Huppim and Ard.

22 These are the sons of Rachel, who were born to Jacob; there were fourteen persons in all.

23 The sons of Dan: [1]Hushim.

24 The sons of Naphtali: [1]Jahzeel and Guni and Jezer and [2]Shillem.

25 These are the [a]sons of Bilhah, whom [b]Laban gave to his daughter Rachel, and she bore these to Jacob; there were seven persons in all.

26 [a]All the persons belonging to Jacob, who came to Egypt, [1]his direct descendants, not including the wives of Jacob's sons, were sixty-six persons in all,

27 and the sons of Joseph, who were born to him in Egypt were [1]two; [a]all the persons of the house of Jacob, who came to Egypt, were seventy.

28 Now he sent Judah before him to Joseph, to point out the way before him to [a]Goshen; and they came into the land of Goshen.

29 Joseph [1]prepared his chariot and went up to Goshen to meet his father Israel; as soon as he appeared [2]before him, he fell on his neck and [a]wept on his neck a long time.

30 Then Israel said to Joseph, "Now let me die, since I have seen your face, that you are still alive."

31 Joseph said to his brothers and to his father's household, "[a]I will go up and tell Pharaoh, and will say to him, 'My brothers and my father's household, who were in the land of Canaan, have come to me;

32 and the men are shepherds, for they have been [1]keepers of livestock; and they have brought their flocks and their herds and all that they have.'

33 "When Pharaoh calls you and says, '[a]What is your occupation?'

34 you shall say, 'Your servants have been [1][a]keepers of livestock from our youth even until now, both we and our fathers,' that you may [2]live in the land of [b]Goshen; for every shepherd is [3][c]loathsome to the Egyptians."

Jacob's Family Settles in Goshen

47 Then [a]Joseph went in and told Pharaoh, and said, "My father and my brothers and their flocks and their herds and all that they have, have come out of the land of Canaan; and behold, they are in the land of [b]Goshen."

2 He took five men from among his brothers and [a]presented them to Pharaoh.

3 Then Pharaoh said to his brothers, "[a]What is your occupation?" So they said to Pharaoh, "Your servants are [b]shepherds, both we and our fathers."

4 They said to Pharaoh, "[a]We have come to sojourn in the land, for there is no pasture for your servants' flocks, for [b]the famine is severe in the land of Canaan. Now, therefore, please let your servants [1][c]live in the land of Goshen."

5 Then Pharaoh said to [1]Joseph, "Your father and your brothers have come to you.

6 "The land of Egypt is [1]at your disposal; [2]settle your father and your brothers in [a]the best of the land, let them [3]live in the land of Goshen; and if you know any [b]capable men among them, then [4]put them in charge of my livestock."

7 Then Joseph brought his father Jacob and [1]presented him to Pharaoh; and Jacob [a]blessed Pharaoh.

8 Pharaoh said to Jacob, "How many [1]years have you lived?"

9 So Jacob said to Pharaoh, "The [1][a]years of my sojourning are one hundred and [2]thirty; few and [3]unpleasant have been the [1]years of my life, nor have they [4]attained [b]the [1]years [5]that my fathers lived during the days of their sojourning."

10 And Jacob [a]blessed Pharaoh, and went out from [1]his presence.

11 So Joseph [1]settled his father and his brothers and gave them a possession in the land of Egypt, in [a]the best of the land, in the land of [b]Rameses, as Pharaoh had ordered.

12 Joseph [a]provided his father and his brothers and all his father's household with [1]food, according to their little ones.

13 Now there was no [1]food in all the land,

46:20 See note on 41:45.

46:26 All the persons belonging to Jacob, who came to Egypt . . . were sixty-six. The total of 33 (see v. 15 and note), 16 (v. 18), 14 (v. 22) and 7 (see v. 25) is 70 (v. 27). To arrive at 66 we must subtract Er and Onan, who "died in the land of Canaan" (v. 12), and Manasseh and Ephraim (v. 20), who "were born . . . in Egypt" (v. 27).

46:27 seventy. See Deut 10:22. Seventy is the ideal and complete number (see Introduction: Literary Features; see also notes on 5:5; 10:2) of Jacob's descendants who would have been in Egypt if Er and Onan had not died earlier (see 38:7–10). For the number 75 in Acts 7:14 see note there.

46:28 he sent Judah before him. See note on 43:3.

46:29 wept. See 43:30 and note.

46:34 every shepherd is loathsome to the Egyptians. See note on 43:32.

47:9 sojourning. Jacob referred to the itinerant nature of patriarchal life in general and of his own in particular as he hopefully awaited the fulfillment of the promise of a land (see also Deut 26:5). nor have they attained the years . . . my fathers lived. Abraham lived to the age of 175 (25:7), Isaac to 180 (35:28).

47:11 best of the land. See note on 45:10. land of Rameses. The city of Rameses is mentioned in Ex 1:11; 12:37; Num 33:3,5. The name doubtless refers to the great Egyptian pharaoh Rameses II, who reigned centuries later (the designation here involves an editorial updating). In addition to being known as Goshen (see v. 27), the "land of Rameses" was called the "field of Zoan" in Ps 78:12,43 because the famine was very severe, so that [a]the land of Egypt and the land of Canaan languished because of the famine.

14 [a]Joseph gathered all the money that was found in the land of Egypt and in the land of Canaan for the grain which they bought, and Joseph brought the money into Pharaoh's house.

15 When the money was all spent in the land of Egypt and in the land of Canaan, all the Egyptians came to Joseph [1]and said, "Give us [2]food, for [a]why should we die in your presence? For our money [3]is gone."

16 Then Joseph said, "Give up your livestock, and I will give you food for your livestock, since your money [1]is gone."

17 So they brought their livestock to Joseph, and Joseph gave them [1]food in exchange for the horses and the [2]flocks and the herds and the donkeys; and he [3]fed them with [1]food in exchange for all their livestock [4]that year.

18 When that year was ended, they came to him the [1]next year and said to him, "We will not hide from my lord that our money is all spent, and the [2]cattle are my lord's. There is nothing left [3]for my lord except our bodies and our lands.

19 "Why should we die before your eyes, both we and our land? Buy us and our land for [1]food, and we and our land will be slaves to Pharaoh. So give us seed, that we may live and not die, and that the land may not be desolate."

Result of the Famine

20 So Joseph bought all the land of Egypt for Pharaoh, for [1]every Egyptian sold his field, because the famine was severe upon them. Thus the land became Pharaoh's.

21 As for the people, he removed them to the cities from one end of Egypt's border to the other.

22 Only the land of the priests he did not buy, for the priests had an allotment from Pharaoh, and they [1]lived off the allotment which Pharaoh gave them. Therefore, they did not sell their land.

23 Then Joseph said to the people, "Behold, I have today bought you and your land for Pharaoh; now, here is seed for you, and you may sow the land.

24 "[1]At the harvest you shall give a [a]fifth to Pharaoh, and [2]four-fifths shall be your own for seed of the field and for your food and for those of your households and as food for your little ones."

25 So they said, "You have saved our lives! Let us find favor in the sight of my lord, and we will be Pharaoh's slaves."

26 Joseph made it a statute concerning the land of Egypt valid to this day, that Pharaoh should have the fifth; [a]only the land of the priests [1]did not become Pharaoh's.

27 Now Israel [1]lived in the land of Egypt, in [2]Goshen, and they [a]acquired property in it and [b]were fruitful and became very numerous.

28 Jacob lived in the land of Egypt [a]seventeen years; so the [1]length of Jacob's life was one hundred and forty-seven years.

29 When [1][a]the time for Israel to die drew near, he called his son Joseph and said to him, "Please, if I have found favor in your sight, [b]place now your hand under my thigh and [c]deal with me in kindness and [2]faithfulness. Please do not bury me in Egypt, 30 but when I [a]lie down with my fathers, you shall carry me out of Egypt and bury me in [b]their burial place." And he said, "I will do as you have said."

31 He said, "[a]Swear to me." So he swore to him. Then [b]Israel bowed in worship at the head of the bed.

Israel's Last Days

48 Now it came about after these things that [1]Joseph was told, "Behold, your father is sick." So he took his two sons [a]Manasseh and Ephraim with him.

2 When [1]it was told to Jacob, "Behold, your son Joseph has come to you," Israel [2]collected his strength and sat [3]up in the bed.

3 Then Jacob said to Joseph, "[1][a]God Almighty appeared to me at [b]Luz in the land of Canaan and blessed me,

4 and He said to me, 'Behold, I will make you fruitful and numerous, and I will make you a company of peoples, and will give this land to your [1]descendants after you for [a]an everlasting possession.'

5 "Now your two sons, who were born to you in the land of Egypt before I came to you in Egypt, are mine; [a]Ephraim and Manasseh shall be mine, as [b]Reuben and Simeon are.

(see note on Gen 44:4).

47:13 the famine was very severe. After the people used up all their money to buy grain (see vv. 14–15), they traded their livestock (vv. 16–17), then their land (v. 20), then themselves (v. 21).

47:21 The Egyptians were to move temporarily into the cities until seed could be distributed to them for planting (see v. 23).

47:26 Pharaoh should have the fifth. The same was true "in the seven years of abundance" (41:34)—but now all the land on which the produce grew belonged to Pharaoh as well.

47:27 Israel . . . were fruitful and became very numerous. See 35:11–12; 46:3 and notes.

47:29 place now your hand under my thigh. See 24:2 and note. In both cases, ties of family kinship are being stressed.

47:30 lie down with my fathers. See note on 25:8. bury me in their burial place. In the cave of Machpelah (see 50:12–13).

47:31 bowed in worship at the head of the bed. Cf. 48:2.

48:3 God Almighty. See note on 17:1. Luz. The older name for Bethel (see 28:19).

48:5 your two sons . . . are mine. Jacob would adopt them as his own. Ephraim and Manasseh. See v. 1 for the expected order, since Manasseh was Joseph's firstborn (see 41:51). Jacob mentions Ephraim first because he intends to give him the primary blessing and thus "put Ephraim before Manasseh" (v. 20). mine, as Reuben and Simeon are. Joseph's first two sons would enjoy equal status

6 "But your offspring that [1]have been born after them shall be yours; they shall be called by the [2]names of their brothers in their inheritance.

7 "Now as for me, when I came from [a]Paddan, [b]Rachel died, [1]to my sorrow, in the land of Canaan on the journey, when there was still some distance to go to Ephrath; and I buried her there on the way to Ephrath (that is, Bethlehem)."

8 When Israel [a]saw Joseph's sons, he said, "Who are these?"

9 Joseph said to his father, "[a]They are my sons, whom God has given me here." So he said, "Bring them to me, please, that [b]I may bless them."

10 Now [a]the eyes of Israel were so dim from age that he could not see. Then [1]Joseph brought them close to him, and he [b]kissed them and embraced them.

11 Israel said to Joseph, "I never [1]expected to see your face, and behold, God has let me see your [2]children as well."

12 Then Joseph [1]took them from his knees, and [a]bowed with his face to the ground.

14 But Israel stretched out his right hand and laid it on the head of Ephraim, who was the younger, and his left hand on Manasseh's head, [1]crossing his hands, [2]although [a]Manasseh was the firstborn.

15 He blessed Joseph, and said,

"[a]The God before whom my fathers
Abraham and Isaac walked,
[b]The God who has been my shepherd
[1]all my life to this day,

16 [a]The angel who has redeemed me from all evil,
[b]Bless the lads;
And may my name [1]live on in them,
And the [2]names of my fathers
Abraham and Isaac;
And [c]may they grow into a multitude in the midst of the earth."

17 When Joseph saw that his father [a]laid his right hand on Ephraim's head, it displeased him; and he grasped his father's hand to remove it from Ephraim's head to Manasseh's head.

18 Joseph said to his father, "Not so, my father, for this one is the firstborn. Place your right hand on his head."

19 But his father refused and said, "I know, my son, I know; he also will become a people and he also will be great. However, his younger brother shall be greater than he, and [a]his [1]descendants shall become a [2]multitude of nations."

20 [a]He blessed them that day, saying,

"By you Israel will pronounce blessing, saying,
'May God make you like Ephraim and Manasseh!' "

Thus he put Ephraim before Manasseh.

21 Then Israel said to Joseph, "Behold, I am about to die, but [a]God will be with you, and [b]bring you back to the land of your fathers.

22 "I give you one [1]portion more than your brothers, [a]which I took from the hand of the Amorite with my sword and my bow."

with Jacob's first two sons (35:23) and in fact would eventually supersede them. Because of an earlier sinful act (see 35:22 and note), Reuben would lose his birthright to Jacob's favorite son, Joseph (see 49:3–4; 1 Chr 5:2), and thus to Joseph's sons (see 1 Chr 5:1).

48:6 offspring that have been born after them shall be yours. They would take the place of Ephraim and Manasseh, whom Jacob had adopted. they shall be called by the names of their brothers in their inheritance. They would perpetuate the names of Ephraim and Manasseh for purposes of inheritance (for a similar provision see 38:8 and note; Deut 25:5–6). Joseph's territory would thus be divided between Ephraim and Manasseh, but Levi (Jacob's third son; see 35:23) would not receive a share of the land (Josh 14:4). The total number of tribal allotments would therefore remain the same.

48:7 Paddan. That is, Paddan-aram, meaning "plain of Aram," another name for Aram-naharaim (see note on 24:10). Rachel died. See 35:16–19. Adopted by Joseph's father, Ephraim and Manasseh in effect took the place of other sons whom Joseph's mother, Rachel, might have borne had she not died. Ephrath. See note on 35:16.

48:8 Israel . . . said, "Who are these?" Either because he had never met them or because, being old, he could not see them clearly.

48:10 eyes . . . dim from age that he could not see. See note on 27:1. kissed them and embraced them. While they were on Jacob's knees (see v. 12), probably symbolizing adoption (see note on 30:3).

48:13–20 See note on Acts 6:6.

48:13 Manasseh . . . toward Israel's right. Joseph wanted Jacob to bless Manasseh, Joseph's firstborn, by placing his right hand on Manasseh's head.

48:15 blessed. As his father Isaac had blessed him (27:27–29). Joseph. Used here collectively for Ephraim and Manasseh (the Hebrew for "you" and "yours in v. 21 is plural). before whom . . . Abraham and Isaac walked. See notes on 5:22; 17:1. shepherd. An intimate royal metaphor for God (see Ps 23:1), used in Genesis only here and in Jacob's later blessing of Joseph (49:24).

48:16 angel. See note on 16:7. The angel—God Himself—had earlier blessed Jacob (see 32:29; see also note on 32:24).

48:19 his younger brother shall be greater than he. See note on 25:23. During the divided monarchy (930–722 B.C.), Ephraim's descendants were the most powerful tribe in the north. "Ephraim" was often used to refer to the northern kingdom as a whole (see, e.g., Is 7:2,5,8–9; Hos 9:13; 12:1,8).

48:20 he put Ephraim before Manasseh. Jacob, the younger son who struggled with Esau for the birthright and blessing and who preferred the younger sister (Rachel) above the older (Leah), now advanced Joseph's younger son ahead of the older.

48:21 Joseph. See note on v. 15. I am about to die. Years later, Joseph spoke these words to his brothers (50:24).

48:22 one portion more. The Hebrew for this phrase is identical with the place-name Shechem, where Joseph was later buried in a plot of ground inherited by his descendants (see Josh 24:32; see also 33:19; John 4:5). I took from . . . the Amorite. Possibly referring to the event of 34:25–29.

Israel's Prophecy concerning His Sons

49 Then Jacob summoned his sons and said, "Assemble yourselves that I may tell you what will befall you [a]in the [1]days to come.

2 "Gather together and hear, O sons of Jacob;
And [a]listen to Israel your father.

3 "Reuben, you are my firstborn;
My might and [a]the beginning of my strength,
[1]Preeminent in dignity and
[1]preeminent in power.
4 "[1]Uncontrolled as water, you shall not have preeminence,
[a]Because you went up to your father's bed;
Then you defiled it—he went up to my couch.

5 "[a]Simeon and Levi are brothers;
Their swords are implements of violence.
6 "[a]Let my soul not enter into their council;
Let not my glory be united with their assembly;
Because in their anger they slew [1]men,
And in their self-will they lamed [2]oxen.
7 "Cursed be their anger, for it is fierce;
And their wrath, for it is cruel.
[a]I will [1]disperse them in Jacob,
And scatter them in Israel.

8 "Judah, your brothers shall praise you;
Your hand shall be on the neck of your enemies;
[a]Your father's sons shall bow down to you.
9 "Judah is a [a]lion's whelp;
From the prey, my son, you have gone up.
[b]He [1]couches, he lies down as a lion,
And as a [2]lion, who [3]dares rouse him up?
10 "[a]The scepter shall not depart from Judah,
Nor the ruler's staff from between his feet,
[1]Until Shiloh comes,
And [b]to him shall be the obedience of the peoples.
11 "[1][a]He ties his foal to the vine,
And his donkey's colt to the choice vine;
[b]He washes his garments in wine,
And his robes in the blood of grapes.
12 "His eyes are [1]dull from wine,
And his teeth [2]white from milk.

13 "[a]Zebulun will dwell at the seashore;
And he shall be [1]a haven for ships,
And his flank shall be toward Sidon.

14 "Issachar is [1]a strong donkey,
[a]Lying down between the [2]sheepfolds.
15 "When he saw that a resting place was good
And that the land was pleasant,
He bowed his shoulder to bear burdens,
And became a slave at forced labor.

16 "[a]Dan shall [b]judge his people,
As one of the tribes of Israel.
17 "Dan shall be a serpent in the way,
A horned snake in the path,
That bites the horse's heels,
So that his rider falls backward.

49:2–27 Often called the "Blessing of Jacob," this is the longest poem in Genesis. Its various blessings were intended not only for Jacob's 12 sons but also for the tribes that descended from them (see v. 28). For other poetic blessings in Genesis see 9:26–27; 14:19–20; 27:27–29; 27:39–40; 48:15–16; 48:20.

49:4 Uncontrolled. Reuben's descendants were characterized by indecision (see Judg 5:15–16). you shall not have preeminence, Because you went up to your father's bed. See 35:22 and note; see also notes on 37:21; 48:5.

49:5 Simeon and Levi are brothers. They shared the traits of violence, anger and cruelty (see vv. 6–7).

49:7 I will disperse them. Fulfilled when Simeon's descendants were absorbed into the territory of Judah (see Josh 19:1,9) and when Levi's descendants were dispersed throughout the land, living in 48 towns and the surrounding pasturelands (see note on 48:6; see also Num 35:2,7; Josh 14:4; 21:41).

49:8 Cf. 27:29,40; 37:7,9. Judah, your brothers . . . shall bow down to you. See note on 43:3. As those who would become the leading tribes of southern and northern Israel respectively, Judah and Joseph were given the longest (vv. 8–12 and vv. 22–26) of Jacob's blessings. Judah was the fourth of Leah's sons and also the fourth son born to Jacob (29:35), but Reuben, Simeon and Levi had forfeited their right of leadership. So Jacob assigns leadership to Judah (a son of Leah) but a double portion to Joseph (a son of Rachel). See also 1 Chr 5:2.

49:9 Judah is a lion's whelp. A symbol of sovereignty, strength and courage. Judah (or Israel) is often pictured as a lion in later times (see Ezek 19:1–7; Mic 5:8; and especially Num 24:9). Judah's greatest descendant, Jesus Christ (see note on 43:3), is Himself called "the Lion that is from the tribe of Judah" (Rev 5:5).

49:10 Though difficult to translate, the verse has been traditionally understood as Messianic. It was initially fulfilled in David, and ultimately in Christ. scepter. See Num 24:17 and note. Until Shiloh comes. Or "Until he comes to whom it belongs," repeated almost verbatim in Ezek 21:27 in a section where Zedekiah, the last king of Judah, is told to "take off the crown" (Ezek 21:26) from his head because dominion over Jerusalem will ultimately be given to the one "whose right it is."

49:11 Judah's descendants would someday enjoy a settled and prosperous life.

49:13 Though landlocked by the tribes of Asher and Manasseh, the descendants of Zebulun were close enough to the Mediterranean (within ten miles) to "draw out the abundance of the seas" (Deut 33:19).

49:17 Dan shall be a serpent. The treachery of a group of Danites in later times is described in Judg 18:27. That bites the horse's heels. Samson, from the tribe of Dan, would single-handedly hold the Philistines at bay (Judg 14–16).

18 "[a]For Your salvation I wait, O LORD.

19 "[a]As for Gad, [1]raiders shall raid him,
But he will raid at their [2]heels.

49:18 Jacob pauses midway through his series of blessings to utter a brief prayer for God's help.

49:19 Gad, raiders shall raid him. Located east of the Jordan (see Josh 13:24–27), the descendants of Gad were vulnerable to raids by the Moabites to the south, as the Mesha (see 2 Kin 3:4) Stele (a Moabite inscription dating from the late ninth century B.C.) illustrates (see chart, p. xix).

49:20 Asher, his food shall be rich. Fertile farmlands near the Mediterranean (see Josh 19:24–30) would ensure the prosperity of Asher's descendants.

49:21 Naphtali is a doe let loose. Perhaps a reference to an independent spirit fostered in the descendants of Naphtali by their somewhat isolated location in the hill country north of the Sea of Galilee (see Josh 19:32–38).

49:22 fruitful . . . fruitful. A pun on the name Ephraim (see note on 41:52), who Jacob predicted would be greater than Joseph's firstborn son Manasseh (48:19–20). branches run over a wall. Ephraim's descendants tended to expand their territory (see Josh 17:14–18).

49:24 his bow remained firm. The warlike Ephraimites (see Judg 8:1; 12:1) would often prove victorious in battle (see Josh 17:18). Mighty One of Jacob. Stresses the activity of God in saving and redeeming His people (see Is 49:26). Shepherd. See note on 48:15. Stone of Israel. Israel's sure defense (see Deut 32:4,15,18, 30–31)—a figure often used also in Psalms and Isaiah.

49:25 Almighty. See note on 17:1. blessings of heaven . . . of the deep. The fertility of the soil watered by rains from above and springs and streams from below. of the breasts and of the womb. The fertility of man and animals. For the later prosperity of Ephraim's descendants see Hos 12:8.

49:26 Joseph . . . the one distinguished among his brothers. See note on v. 8. Ephraim would gain supremacy, especially over the northern tribes (see Josh 16:9; Is 7:1–2; Hos 13:1).

49:27 Benjamin is a ravenous wolf. See the exploits of Ehud (Judg

May they be on the head of Joseph,
And on the crown of the head of the one distinguished among his brothers.

27 "Benjamin is a [1]ravenous wolf;
In the morning he devours the prey,
And in the evening he divides the spoil."

28 All these are the twelve tribes of Israel, and this is what their father said to them [1]when he blessed them. He blessed them, every one [2]with the blessing appropriate to him.

29 Then he charged them and said to them, "I am about to be [a]gathered to my people; [b]bury me with my fathers in the cave that is in [c]the field of Ephron the Hittite,

30 in the [a]cave that is in the field of Machpelah, which is before Mamre, in the land of Canaan, which Abraham bought along with the field from Ephron the Hittite for a [1]burial site.

31 "There they buried [a]Abraham and his wife [b]Sarah, there they buried [c]Isaac and his wife Rebekah, and there I buried Leah—

32 the field and the cave that is in it, purchased from the sons of Heth."

33 When Jacob finished charging his sons, he drew his feet into the bed and [a]breathed his last, and was [b]gathered to his people.

The Death of Israel

50 Then Joseph fell on his father's face, and wept over him and kissed him.

2 Joseph commanded his servants the physicians to embalm his father. So the physicians [a]embalmed Israel.

3 Now forty days were [1]required for [2]it, for [3]such is the period required for embalming. And the Egyptians [a]wept for him seventy days.

4 When the days of [1]mourning for him were past, Joseph spoke to the household of Pharaoh, saying, "If now I have found favor in your sight, please speak [2]to Pharaoh, saying,

5 '[a]My father made me swear, saying, "Behold, I am about to die; in my grave [b]which I dug for myself in the land of Canaan, there you shall bury me." Now therefore, please let me go up and bury my father; then I will return.' "

6 Pharaoh said, "Go up and bury your father, as he made you swear."

7 So Joseph went up to bury his father, and with him went up all the servants of Pharaoh, the elders of his household and all the elders of the land of Egypt,

8 and all the household of Joseph and his brothers and his father's household; they left only their little ones and their flocks and their herds in the land of Goshen.

9 There also went up with him both chariots and horsemen; and it was a very great company.

10 When they came to the [1]threshing floor of Atad, which is beyond the Jordan, they [a]lamented there with a very great and [2]sorrowful lamentation; and he [3]observed seven days mourning for his father.

11 Now when the inhabitants of the land, the Canaanites, saw the mourning at [1]the threshing floor of Atad, they said, "This is a [2]grievous [3]mourning for the Egyptians." Therefore it was named [4]Abel-mizraim, which is beyond the Jordan.

Burial at Machpelah

12 Thus his sons did for him as he had charged them;

13 for his sons carried him to the land of Canaan and buried him in [a]the cave of the field of Machpelah before Mamre, which Abraham had bought along with the field for a [1]burial site from Ephron the Hittite.

14 After he had buried his father, Joseph returned to Egypt, he and his brothers, and all who had gone up with him to bury his father.

15 When Joseph's brothers saw that their father was dead, they said, "[a]What if Joseph bears a grudge against us and pays us back in full for all the wrong which we did to him!"

16 So they [1]sent a message to Joseph, saying, "Your father charged before he died, saying,

17 'Thus you shall say to Joseph, "Please forgive, I beg you, the transgression of your brothers and their sin, for they did you wrong." ' And now, please forgive the trans-

50:10 threshing floor. Grain was threshed on a flat circular area, either of rock or of pounded earth. Threshing floors were located on an elevated open place exposed to the wind, usually at the edge of town or near the main gate (see 1 Kin 22:10). See note on Ruth 1:22.

20 "As for you, [a]you meant evil against me, but God meant it for good in order to bring about [1]this present result, to preserve many people alive.

21 "So therefore, do not be afraid; [a]I will provide for you and your little ones." So he comforted them and spoke [1]kindly to them.

Death of Joseph

22 Now Joseph stayed in Egypt, he and his father's household, and Joseph lived one hundred and ten years.

23 Joseph saw the third generation of Ephraim's sons; also the sons of Machir, the son of Manasseh, were [a]born on Joseph's knees.

24 Joseph said to his brothers, "[a]I am about to die, but God will surely [1]take care of you and bring you up from this land to the land which He [2]promised on oath to [b]Abraham, to [c]Isaac and to [d]Jacob."

25 Then Joseph made the sons of Israel swear, saying, "God will surely [1]take care of you, and [a]you shall carry my bones up from here."

26 So Joseph died at the age of one hundred and ten years; and [1]he was [a]embalmed and placed in a coffin in Egypt.

50:17 Joseph wept. See note on 43:30. Joseph may have been saddened by the thought that his brothers might be falsely implicating their father in their story. Or he may have regretted his failure to reassure them sooner that he had already forgiven them.

50:18 fell down before him. A final fulfillment of Joseph's earlier dreams (see note on 37:7; see also 37:9). We are your servants. They had earlier expressed a similar willingness, but under quite different circumstances (see 44:9,33).

50:19 Am I in God's place? See note on 30:2.

50:20 God meant it for good. Their act, out of personal animosity toward a brother, had been used by God to save life—the life of the Israelites, the Egyptians and all the nations that came to Egypt to buy food in the face of a famine that threatened the known world. At the same time, God showed by these events that his purpose for the nations is life and that this purpose would be effected through the descendants of Abraham.

The name of Machir later became almost interchangeable with that of Manasseh himself (see Judg 5:14). were born on Joseph's knees. Joseph probably adopted Machir's children (see note on 30:3).

50:24 brothers. Perhaps used here in a broader sense than siblings. I am about to die. See note on 48:21. God will . . . bring you up from this land. Joseph did not forget God's promises (cf. 15:16; 46:4; 48:21) concerning "the exodus" (Heb 11:22).

50:25 See 47:29–31 for a similar request by Jacob. carry my bones up from here. Centuries later Moses did so to fulfill his ancestor's oath (see Ex 13:19). Joseph's bones were eventually "buried . . . at Shechem, in the piece of ground which Jacob had bought from the sons of Hamor" (Josh 24:32; see Gen 33:19).

50:26 Joseph died at the age of one hundred and ten years. See v. 22. Ancient Egyptian records indicate that 110 years was considered to be the ideal life span; to the Egyptians this would have signified divine blessing upon Joseph.

Exodus

INTRODUCTION

Title

"Exodus" is a Latin word derived from Greek Exodos, the name given to the book by those who translated it into Greek. The word means "exit," "departure" (see Luke 9:31; Heb 11:22). The name was retained by the Latin Vulgate, by the Jewish author Philo (a contemporary of Christ) and by the Syriac version. In Hebrew the book is named after its first two words, we'elleh shemoth ("These are the names of"). The same phrase occurs in Gen 46:8, where it likewise introduces a list of the names of those Israelites "who came to Egypt" (1:1). Thus Exodus was not intended to exist separately, but was thought of as a continuation of a narrative that began in Genesis and was completed in Leviticus, Numbers and Deuteronomy. The first five books of the Bible are together known as the Pentateuch (see Introduction to Genesis: Author and Date of Writing).

Author and Date of Writing

Several statements in Exodus indicate that Moses wrote certain sections of the book (see 17:14; 24:4; 34:27). In addition, Josh 8:31 refers to the command of Ex 20:25 as having been "written in the book of the law of Moses." The NT also claims Mosaic authorship for various passages in Exodus (see, e.g., Mark 7:10; 12:26 and NASB marg.; see also Luke 2:22–23). Taken together, these references strongly suggest that Moses was largely responsible for writing the book of Exodus—a traditional view not convincingly challenged by the commonly held notion that the Pentateuch as a whole contains four underlying sources (see Introduction to Genesis: Author and Date of Writing).

Chronology

According to 1 Kin 6:1, the exodus took place 480 years before "the fourth year of Solomon's reign over Israel." Since that year was c. 966 B.C., it has been traditionally held that the exodus occurred c. 1446. The "three hundred years" of Judg 11:26 fits comfortably within this time span (see Introduction to Judges: Background). In addition, although Egyptian chronology relating to the 18th dynasty remains somewhat uncertain, recent research tends to support the traditional view that two of this dynasty's pharaohs, Thutmose III and his son Amunhotep II, were the pharaohs of the oppression and the exodus respectively (see notes on 2:15,23; 3:10).

On the other hand, the appearance of the name Raamses in 1:11 has led many to the conclusion that the 19th-dynasty pharaoh Seti I and his son Rameses II were the pharaohs of the oppression and the exodus respectively. Furthermore, archaeological evidence of the destruction of numerous Canaanite cities in the 13th century B.C. has been interpreted as proof that Joshua's troops invaded the promised land in that century. These and similar lines of argument lead to a date for the exodus of c. 1290 (see Introduction to Joshua: Historical Setting).

The identity of the cities' attackers, however, cannot be positively ascertained. The raids may have been initiated by later Israelite armies, or by Philistines or other outsiders. In addition, the archaeological evidence itself has become increasingly ambiguous, and recent evaluations have tended to redate some of it to the 18th dynasty. Also, the name Raamses in 1:11 could very well be the result of an editorial updating by someone who lived centuries after Moses—a procedure that probably accounts for the appearance of the same word in Gen 47:11 (see note there).

In short, there are no compelling reasons to modify in any substantial way the traditional 1446 B.C. date for the exodus of the Israelites from Egyptian bondage.

The Route of the Exodus

At least three routes of escape from Pithom and Raamses (1:11) have been proposed: (1) a northern route through the land of the Philistines (but see 13:17); (2) a middle route leading eastward across Sinai to Beersheba; and (3) a southern route along the west coast of Sinai to the southeastern extremities of the peninsula. The southern route seems most likely, since several of the sites in Israel's desert itinerary have been tentatively identified along it. See map No. 3 at the end of the study Bible. The exact place where Israel crossed the "Red Sea" is uncertain, however (see notes on 13:18; 14:2).

Themes and Theology

Exodus lays a foundational theology in which God reveals His name, His attributes, His redemption, His law and how He is to be worshiped. It also reports the appointment and work of the first covenant mediator (Moses), describes the beginnings of the priesthood, defines the role of the prophet and relates how the ancient covenant relationship between God and His people came under a new administration (the Sinai covenant).

Profound insights into the nature of God are found in chs. 3; 6; 33 — 34. The focus of these texts is on the fact and importance of His presence (as signified by His name Yahweh and by His glory). But emphasis is also placed on His attributes of justice, truthfulness, mercy, faithfulness and holiness. Thus to know God's "name" is to know Him and His character (see 3:13 – 15; 6:3).

God is also the Lord of history, for there is no one like Him: "majestic in holiness, Awesome in praises, working wonders" (15:11). Neither the affliction of Israel nor the plagues in Egypt were outside His control. Pharaoh, the Egyptians and all Israel saw the power of God.

It is reassuring to know that God remembers and is concerned about His people (see 2:24). What He had promised centuries earlier to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob He now begins to bring to fruition as Israel is freed from Egyptian bondage and sets out for the land of promise. The covenant at Sinai is but another step in God's fulfillment of His promise to the patriarchs (3:15 – 17; 6:2 – 8; 19:3 – 8).

The theology of salvation is likewise one of the strong emphases of the book. The verb "redeem" is used, e.g., in 6:6; 15:13. But the heart of redemption theology is best seen in the Passover narrative of ch. 12 and the sealing of the covenant in ch. 24. The apostle Paul viewed the death of the Passover lamb as fulfilled in Christ (1 Cor 5:7). Indeed, John the Baptist called Jesus the "Lamb of God who takes away the sin of the world" (John 1:29).

The foundation of Biblical ethics and morality is laid out first in the gracious character of God as revealed in the exodus itself and then in the Ten Commandments (20:1 – 17) and the ordinances of the book of the covenant (20:22 — 23:33), which taught Israel how to apply in a practical way the principles of the commandments.

The book concludes with an elaborate discussion of the theology of worship. Though costly in time, effort and monetary value, the tabernacle, in meaning and function, points to the chief end of man: "to glorify God and to enjoy him forever" (Westminster Shorter Catechism). By means of the tabernacle, the omnipotent, unchanging and transcendent God of the universe came to "dwell" or "tabernacle" with His people, thereby revealing His gracious nearness as well. God is not only mighty in Israel's behalf; He is also present in her midst.

However, these theological elements do not merely sit side by side in the Exodus narrative. They receive their fullest and richest significance from the fact that they are embedded in the account of God's raising up His servant Moses (1) to liberate His people from Egyptian bondage, (2) to inaugurate His earthly kingdom among them by bringing them into a special national covenant with Him, and (3) to erect within Israel God's royal tent. And this account of redemption from bondage leading to consecration in covenant and the pitching of God's royal tent in the earth, all through the ministry of a chosen mediator, discloses God's purpose in history — the purpose He would fulfill through Israel, and ultimately through Jesus Christ the supreme Mediator.

Israel Multiplies in Egypt

1 Now these are the [a]names of the sons of Israel who came to Egypt with Jacob; they came each one [1]with his household:

2 Reuben, Simeon, Levi and Judah;

3 Issachar, Zebulun and Benjamin;

4 Dan and Naphtali, Gad and Asher.

5 All the [1]persons who came from the loins of Jacob were [a]seventy [2]in number, but Joseph was already in Egypt.

6 [a]Joseph died, and all his brothers and all that generation.

7 But the sons of Israel [a]were fruitful and [1]increased greatly, and multiplied, and became exceedingly [2]mighty, so that the land was filled with them.

8 Now a new [a]king arose over Egypt, who did not know Joseph.

9 [a]He said to his people, "Behold, the people of the sons of Israel are [1]more and mightier than we.

10 "Come, let us [a]deal wisely with them, or else they will multiply and [1]in the event of war, they will also join themselves to those who hate us, and fight against us and [2]depart from the land."

11 So they appointed [a]taskmasters over them to afflict them with [1][b]hard labor. And they built for Pharaoh [c]storage cities, Pithom and [d]Raamses.

12 But the more they afflicted them, [a]the more they multiplied and the more they [1]spread out, so that they were in dread of the sons of Israel.

13 The Egyptians compelled the sons of Israel [a]to labor rigorously;

14 and they made [a]their lives bitter with hard labor in mortar and bricks and at all kinds of labor in the field, all their labors which they rigorously [1]imposed on them.

15 Then the king of Egypt spoke to the Hebrew midwives, one of whom [1]was named Shiphrah and the other [1]was named Puah;

16 and he said, "When you are helping the Hebrew women to give birth and see them upon the birthstool, [a]if it is a son, then you shall put him to death; but if it is a daughter, then she shall live."

17 But the midwives [1][a]feared God, and [b]did not do as the king of Egypt had [2]commanded them, but let the boys live.

18 So the king of Egypt called for the midwives and said to them, "Why have you done this thing, and let the boys live?"

19 The midwives said to Pharaoh, "Because the Hebrew women are not as the Egyptian women; for they are vigorous and give birth before the midwife [1]can get to them."

20 So [a]God was good to the midwives, and [b]the people multiplied, and became very [1]mighty.

21 Because the midwives [1][a]feared God, He [2][b]established [3]households for them.

22 Then Pharaoh commanded all his people, saying, "[a]Every son who is born [1]you are to cast into [b]the Nile, and every daughter you are to keep alive."

The Birth of Moses

2 Now a man from [a]the house of Levi went and [1]married a daughter of Levi.

2 The woman conceived and bore a son;

1:1–5 These verses clearly indicate that Exodus was written as a continuation of Genesis. The Israelites lived in Egypt 430 years (see 12:40).

1:1 these are the names of. The same expression appears in Gen 46:8 at the head of a list of Jacob's descendants. Israel . . . Jacob. Jacob had earlier been given the additional name Israel (see Gen 32:28; 35:10 and notes).

1:2–4 The sons of Leah (Reuben through Zebulun) and Rachel (Benjamin; Joseph is not mentioned because the list includes only those "who came to Egypt with Jacob," v. 1) are listed in the order of their seniority and before the sons of Rachel's and Leah's maidservants: Bilhah had Dan and Naphtali, Zilpah had Gad and Asher (see Gen 35:23–26).

1:5 seventy. See note on Gen 46:27.

1:6–7 From the death of Joseph to the rise of a new king (v. 8) was more than 200 years.

1:7 See Acts 7:17. God's promised blessing of fruitfulness and increase had been given to Adam (Gen 1:28), Noah (Gen 8:17; 9:1,7), Abraham (Gen 17:2,6; 22:17), Isaac (Gen 26:4) and Jacob (Gen 28:14; 35:11; 48:4). God continued to fulfill His promise during the 430-year sojourn in Egypt. the land was filled with them. The Hebrew used here echoes the blessing of Adam (Gen 1:28)—God's initial blessing of mankind was being fulfilled in Israel. The Israelites who left Egypt are said to number about 600,000 men, "aside from children" (12:37). land. Goshen (see note on Gen 45:10).

1:8 See Acts 7:18. new king. Probably Ahmose, the founder of the 18th dynasty, who expelled the Hyksos (foreign—predominantly Semitic—rulers of Egypt).

1:11 taskmasters. The same official Egyptian designation appears on a wall painting in the Theban tomb of Rekhmire during the reign of the 18th-dynasty pharaoh Thutmose III (see Introduction: Chronology). Raamses. See note on Gen 47:11. Pharaoh. The word, which is Egyptian in origin and means "great house," is a royal title rather than a personal name.

1:14 made their lives bitter. A fact commemorated in the Passover meal, which was eaten with "bitter herbs" (12:8). all kinds of labor in the field. Including pumping the waters of the Nile into the fields to irrigate them (see Deut 11:10).

1:15 Hebrew. See note on Gen 14:13. Shiphrah and . . . Puah. Semitic, not Egyptian, names. Since the Israelites were so numerous, there were probably other midwives under Shiphrah and Puah.

1:16 birthstool. The Hebrew term means lit. "two stones"; a woman sat on them while giving birth.

1:17 See Acts 5:29 for a parallel in the early church. feared God. See note on Gen 20:11.

2:1 a man . . . a daughter of Levi. Perhaps Amram and Jochebed (but see note on 6:20).

and when she saw [1]that he was [2][a]beautiful, she hid him for three months.

3 But when she could hide him no longer, she got him a [1][a]wicker [2]basket and covered it over with tar and pitch. Then she put the child into it and set it among the [b]reeds by the bank of the Nile.

4 [a]His sister stood at a distance to [1]find out what would [2]happen to him.

5 The daughter of Pharaoh came down [a]to bathe at the Nile, with her maidens walking alongside the Nile; and she saw the [1]basket among the reeds and sent her maid, and she brought it to her.

6 When she opened it, she [1]saw the child, and behold, the [2]boy was crying. And she had pity on him and said, "This is one of the Hebrews' children."

7 Then his sister said to Pharaoh's daughter, "Shall I go and call [1]a nurse for you from the Hebrew women that she may nurse the child for you?"

8 Pharaoh's daughter said to her, "Go ahead." So the girl went and called the child's mother.

9 Then Pharaoh's daughter said to her, "Take this child away and nurse him for me and I will give you your wages." So the woman took the child and nursed him.

10 The child grew, and she brought him to Pharaoh's daughter and [a]he became her son. And she named him [1]Moses, and said, "Because I [2]drew him out of the water."

11 Now it came about in those days, [a]when Moses had grown up, that he went out to his brethren and looked on their [1][b]hard labors; and [c]he saw an Egyptian beating a Hebrew, one of his brethren.

12 So he [1]looked this way and that, and when he saw there was no one around, he [a]struck down the Egyptian and hid him in the sand.

13 He went out [a]the next day, and behold, two Hebrews were [1]fighting with each other; and he said to the [2]offender, "Why are you striking your companion?"

14 But he said, "[a]Who made you a [1]prince or a judge over us? Are you [2]intending to kill me as you killed the Egyptian?" Then Moses was afraid and said, "Surely the matter has become known."

Moses Escapes to Midian

15 When Pharaoh heard of this matter, he tried to kill Moses. But [a]Moses fled from the presence of Pharaoh and [1]settled in the land of Midian, and he sat down [b]by a well.

16 Now [a]the priest of Midian had seven daughters; and [b]they came to draw water and filled the troughs to water their father's flock.

17 Then the shepherds came and drove them away, but [a]Moses stood up and helped them and watered their flock.

18 When they came to [a]Reuel their father, he said, "Why have you come back so soon today?"

19 So they said, "An Egyptian delivered us from the hand of the shepherds, and what is more, he even drew the water for us and watered the flock."

20 He said to his daughters, "Where is he then? Why is it that you have left the man behind? Invite him [1]to have something to eat."

21 [a]Moses was willing to dwell with the man, and he gave his daughter [b]Zipporah to Moses.

22 Then she gave birth to [a]a son, and he named him [1]Gershom, for he said, "I have been [b]a [2]sojourner in a foreign land."

2:2 he was beautiful. Moses was "lovely in the sight of God" (Acts 7:20; cf. Heb 11:23). The account of Moses' remarkable deliverance in infancy foreshadows the deliverance from Egypt that God would later effect through him.

2:3 wicker basket. Each of the two Hebrew words lying behind this phrase is of Egyptian origin. The word for "basket" is used only here and of Noah's ark (see note on Gen 6:14). Moses' basket was a miniature version of the large, seaworthy "papyrus vessels" mentioned in Is 18:2. reeds. A word of Egyptian derivation, reflected in the proper name "Red Sea" (Hebrew Yam Suph, "Sea of Reeds").

2:4 His sister. Miriam (see 15:20).

2:5 the daughter of Pharaoh. Perhaps the famous 18th-dynasty princess who later became Queen Hatshepsut. maidens. They stayed on the river bank to bathe the princess.

2:10 See Acts 7:21–22. he became her son. Throughout this early part of Exodus, all the pharaoh's efforts to suppress Israel were thwarted by women: the midwives (1:17), the Israelite mothers (1:19), Moses' mother and sister (vv. 3–4,7–9), the pharaoh's daughter (here). The pharaoh's impotence to destroy the people of God is thus ironically exposed. Moses. The name, of Egyptian origin, means "is born" and forms the second element in such pharaonic names as Ahmose (see note on 1:8), Thutmose and Raamses (see note on 1:11). drew him out. A Hebrew wordplay on the name Moses (which sounds like the Hebrew for "draw out"), emphasizing his providential rescue from the Nile. Thus Moses' name may also have served as a reminder of the great act of deliverance God worked through him at the "Red Sea" (see 13:17–14:31).

2:11–15 See Acts 7:23–29; Heb 11:24–27.

2:11 Moses had grown up. He was now 40 years old (see Acts 7:23).

2:14 Who made you a prince or a judge . . . ? Unwittingly, the speaker made a prediction that would be fulfilled 40 years later (see Acts 7:27,30,35). The Hebrew word for "judge" could also refer to a deliverer, as in the book of Judges (see Acts 7:35); it was often a synonym for "ruler" in the OT (see Gen 18:25 and note) as well as in ancient Canaanite usage. Moses was afraid. See note on Heb 11:27.

2:15 Pharaoh. Probably Thutmose III (see Introduction: Chronology). Midian. Named after one of Abraham's younger sons (see Gen 25:2; see also note on Gen 37:25). Midian was located in southeastern Sinai and west central Arabia, flanking the eastern arm of the Red Sea (Gulf of Aqaba) on both sides. Dry and desolate, it formed a stark contrast to Moses' former home in the royal court. He lived in Midian 40 years (see Acts 7:29–30).

2:16 priest of Midian. Reuel (see v. 18), which means "friend of God." His other name, Jethro (see 3:1), may be a title meaning "his excellency."

23 Now it came about in the course of those many days that the king of Egypt died. And the sons of Israel [a]sighed because of the bondage, and they cried out; and [b]their cry for help because of their bondage rose up to God.

24 So [a]God heard their groaning; and God remembered [b]His covenant with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

25 [a]God saw the sons of Israel, and God [1]took notice of them.

The Burning Bush

3 Now Moses was pasturing the flock of [a]Jethro his father-in-law, the priest of Midian; and he led the flock to the [1]west side of the wilderness and came to [b]Horeb, the [c]mountain of God.

2 [a]The angel of the LORD appeared to him in a blazing fire from the midst of [1]a [b]bush; and he looked, and behold, the bush was burning with fire, yet the bush was not consumed.

3 So Moses said, "[1][a]I must turn aside now and see this [2]marvelous sight, why the bush is not burned up."

4 When the LORD saw that he turned aside to look, [a]God called to him from the midst of the bush and said, "Moses, Moses!" And he said, "Here I am."

5 Then He said, "Do not come near here; [a]remove your sandals from your feet, for the place on which you are standing is holy ground."

6 He said also, "[a]I am the God of your father, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob." [b]Then Moses hid his face, for he was [c]afraid to look at God.

7 The LORD said, "I have surely [a]seen the affliction of My people who are in Egypt, and have given heed to their cry because of their taskmasters, for I am aware of their sufferings.

8 "So I have come down [a]to deliver them from the [1]power of the Egyptians, and to bring them up from that land to a [b]good and spacious land, to a land flowing with milk and honey, to the place of [c]the Canaanite and the Hittite and the Amorite and the Perizzite and the Hivite and the Jebusite.

9 "Now, behold, [a]the cry of the sons of Israel has come to Me; furthermore, I have seen the oppression with which the Egyptians are oppressing them.

The Mission of Moses

10 "Therefore, come now, and I will send you to Pharaoh, [a]so that you may bring My people, the sons of Israel, out of Egypt."

11 But Moses said to God, "[a]Who am I, that I should go to Pharaoh, and that I should bring the sons of Israel out of Egypt?"

12 And He said, "Certainly [a]I will be with you, and this shall be the sign to you that it is I who have sent you: [b]when you have brought the people out of Egypt, [c]you shall [1]worship God at this mountain."

13 Then Moses said to God, "Behold, I am going to the sons of Israel, and I will say to them, 'The God of your fathers has sent me to you.' Now they may say to me, 'What is His name?' What shall I say to them?"

14 God said to Moses, "[1][a]I AM WHO [1]I AM"; and He said, "Thus you shall say to the sons of Israel, '[1]I AM has sent me to you.' "

14 [1]Related to the name of God, YHWH, rendered LORD, which is derived from the verb HAYAH, to be [a]Ex 6:3; John 8:24, 28, 58; Heb 13:8; Rev 1:8; 4:8

2:23 in the course of those many days. Thutmose III (see note on v. 15) enjoyed a long reign.
2:24 covenant with Abraham. See Gen 15:17–18; 17:7 and notes. Isaac. See Gen 17:19; 26:24. Jacob. See Gen 35:11–12.
3:1 Like David (2 Sam 7:8), Moses was called from tending the flock to be the shepherd of God's people. Jethro. See note on 2:16. Horeb. Means "desert," "desolation"; either (1) an alternate name for Mount Sinai or (2) another high mountain in the same vicinity in the southeast region of the Sinai peninsula. Tradition identifies Mount Horeb with Ras es-Safsaf ("willow peak"), 6,500 feet high, and Mount Sinai with Jebel Musa ("mountain of Moses"), 7,400 feet high, but both identifications are uncertain.
3:2 angel of the LORD. Used interchangeably with "the LORD" and "God" in v. 4 (see note on Gen 16:7). appeared to him in a blazing fire. God's revelation of Himself and His will was often accompanied by fire (see 13:21; 19:18; 1 Kin 18:24,38).
3:4 Every true prophet was called by God (see, e.g., 1 Sam 3:4; Is 6:8; Jer 1:4–5; Ezek 2:1–8; Hos 1:2; Amos 7:15; Jon 1:1–2; see also note on 7:1–2). Moses, Moses! . . . Here I am. See notes on Gen 22:1,11.
3:5 remove your sandals. A practice still followed by Muslims before entering a mosque. holy. The ground was not holy by nature but was made so by the divine presence (see, e.g., Gen 2:3). Holiness involves being consecrated to the Lord's service and thus being separated from the commonplace.
3:6 See 2:24 and note. afraid to look at God. See notes on Gen 16:13; 32:30. Later, as the Lord's servant, Moses would meet with God on Mount Sinai (19:3) and even ask to see God's glory (33:18).
3:8 I have come down to deliver. God may also come down to judge (see Gen 11:5–9; 18:21). land flowing with milk and honey. The traditional and proverbial description of the hill country of Canaan—in its original pastoral state (see note on Is 7:15). Canaanite . . . Jebusite. See notes on Gen 10:6,15–16; 13:7. The list of the Canaanite nations ranges from two names (see Gen 13:7) to five (see Num 13:29) to six (as here; see also Judg 3:5) to ten (see Gen 15:19–21) to twelve (see Gen 10:15–18). The classic description includes seven names (see, e.g., Deut 7:1), seven being the number of completeness (see note on Gen 4:17–18).
3:10 Pharaoh. Probably Amunhotep II (see Introduction: Chronology).
3:11 Moses' first expression of reluctance (see v. 13; 4:1,10,13).
3:12 I will be with you. See note on Gen 26:3. The Hebrew word translated "I will be" is the same as the one translated "I AM" in v. 14. sign. A visible proof or guarantee that what God had promised He would surely fulfill (see notes on 4:8; Gen 15:8).
3:13 Moses' second expression of reluctance. What is His name? God had not yet identified Himself to Moses by name (see v. 6; cf. Gen 17:1).
3:14 I AM WHO I AM. The name by which God wished to be 15 God, furthermore, said to Moses, "Thus you shall say to the sons of Israel, '[a]The LORD, the God of your fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob, has sent me to you.' This is My name forever, and this is My [b]memorial-name [1]to all generations.

16 "Go and [a]gather the elders of Israel together and say to them, '[b]The LORD, the God of your fathers, the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, has appeared to me, saying, "[1][c]I am indeed concerned about you and what has been done to you in Egypt.

17 "So [a]I said, I will bring you up out of the affliction of Egypt to the land of [b]the Canaanite and the Hittite and the Amorite and the Perizzite and the Hivite and the Jebusite, to a land [c]flowing with milk and honey." '

18 "[a]They will [1]pay heed to what you say; and [b]you with the elders of Israel will come to the king of Egypt and you will say to him, 'The LORD, the God of the Hebrews, has met with us. So now, please, let us go a [c]three days' journey into the wilderness, that we may sacrifice to the LORD our God.'

19 "But I know that the king of Egypt [a]will not permit you to go, [b]except [1]under compulsion.

20 "So I will stretch out [a]My hand and strike Egypt with all My [b]miracles which I shall do in the midst of it; and [c]after that he will let you go.

21 "I will grant this people [a]favor in the sight of the Egyptians; and it shall be that when you go, you will not go empty-handed.

22 "But every woman [a]shall ask of her neighbor and the woman who lives in her house, articles of silver and articles of gold, and clothing; and you will put them on your sons and daughters. Thus you will [b]plunder the Egyptians."

Moses Given Powers

4 Then Moses said, "What if they will not believe me or [a]listen [1]to what I say? For they may say, '[b]The LORD has not appeared to you.' "

2 The LORD said to him, "What is that in your hand?" And he said, "[a]A staff."

3 Then He said, "Throw it on the ground." So he threw it on the ground, and [a]it became a serpent; and Moses fled from it.

4 But the LORD said to Moses, "Stretch out your hand and grasp it by its tail"—so he stretched out his hand and caught it, and it became a staff in his [1]hand—

5 "that [a]they may believe that [b]the LORD, the God of their fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob, has appeared to you."

6 The LORD furthermore said to him, "Now put your hand into your bosom." So he put his hand into his bosom, and when he took it out, behold, his hand was [a]leprous like snow.

7 Then He said, "Put your hand into your bosom again." So he put his hand into his bosom again, and when he took it out of his bosom, behold, [a]it was restored like the rest of his flesh.

8 "If they will not believe you or [1]heed the [2]witness of the first sign, they may believe the [2]witness of the last sign.

9 "But if they will not believe even these two signs or heed what you say, then you shall take some water from the Nile and pour it on the dry ground; and the water which you take from the Nile [a]will become blood on the dry ground."

10 Then Moses said to the LORD, "Please, Lord, [a]I have never been [1]eloquent, neither [2]recently nor in time past, nor since You have spoken to Your servant; for I am [3]slow of speech and [3]slow of tongue."

known and worshiped in Israel—the name that expressed His character as the dependable and faithful God who desires the full trust of His people (see v. 12, where "I will be" is completed by "with you"; see also 34:5–7). I AM. Jesus applied the phrase to Himself; in so doing He claimed to be God and risked being stoned for blasphemy (see John 8:58–59).

3:15 The LORD. The Hebrew for this name is Yahweh (often incorrectly spelled "Jehovah"; see note on Deut 28:58). It means "He is" or "He will be" and is the third-person form of the verb translated "I will be" in v. 12 and "I AM" in v. 14. When God speaks of Himself He says, "I AM," and when we speak of Him we say, "He is."

3:16 elders. The Hebrew for this word means lit. "bearded ones," perhaps reflecting the age, wisdom, experience and influence necessary for a man expected to function as an elder. As heads of local families and tribes, "elders" had a recognized position also among the Babylonians, Hittites, Egyptians (see Gen 50:7), Moabites and Midianites (see Num 22:7). Their duties included judicial arbitration and sentencing (see Deut 22:13–19) as well as military leadership (see Josh 8:10) and counsel (see 1 Sam 4:3).

3:18 Hebrews. See note on Gen 14:13. three days' journey. Probably a conventional expression for a short trip rather than a journey of exactly three days. wilderness. God had met with Moses there (see vv. 1–2) and would meet with him there again (see v. 12).

3:20 miracles. A prediction of the plagues that God would send against Egypt (see 7:14–12:30).

3:21–22 See 11:2–3; 12:35–36.

3:21 when you go, you will not go empty-handed. God had promised Abraham that after Israel had served for 400 years they would "come out with many possessions" (Gen 15:14; see Ps 105:37). Israel herself was to live by the same principle of providing gifts to a released slave (see Deut 15:12–15).

4:1 Moses' third expression of reluctance (in spite of God's assurance in 3:18).

4:2 staff. Probably a shepherd's crook.

4:3 serpent. See 7:9–10 and note. Throughout much of Egypt's history the pharaoh wore a cobra made of metal on the front of his headdress as a symbol of his sovereignty.

4:8 sign. A supernatural event or phenomenon designed to demonstrate authority, provide assurance (see Josh 2:12–13), bear testimony (see Is 19:19–20), give warning (see Num 17:10) or encourage faith. See note on 3:12.

4:10 Moses' fourth expression of reluctance. I am slow of 11 The LORD said to him, "Who has made man's mouth? Or [a]who makes him mute or deaf, or seeing or blind? Is it not I, the LORD?

12 "Now then go, and [a]I, even I, will be with your mouth, and [b]teach you what you are to say."
13 But he said, "Please, Lord, now [1]send the message by whomever You will."

Aaron to Be Moses' Mouthpiece

14 Then the anger of the LORD burned against Moses, and He said, "Is there not your brother Aaron the Levite? I know that [1]he speaks fluently. And moreover, behold, [a]he is coming out to meet you; when he sees you, he will be glad in his heart.
15 "You are to speak to him and [a]put the words in his mouth; and I, even I, will be with your mouth and his mouth, and I will teach you what you are to do.
16 "Moreover, [a]he shall speak for you to the people; and he will be as a mouth for you and you will be as God to him.
17 "You shall take in your hand [a]this staff, [b]with which you shall perform the signs."
18 Then Moses departed and returned to [1]Jethro [a]his father-in-law and said to him, "Please, let me go, that I may return to my brethren who are in Egypt, and see if they are still alive." And Jethro said to Moses, "Go in peace."
19 Now the LORD said to Moses in Midian, "Go [1]back to Egypt, for [a]all the men who were seeking your life are dead."
20 So Moses took his wife and his [a]sons and mounted them on a donkey, and returned to the land of Egypt. Moses also took the [b]staff of God in his hand.
21 The LORD said to Moses, "When you go [1]back to Egypt see that you perform before Pharaoh all [a]the wonders which I have put in your [2]power; but [b]I will harden his heart so that he will not let the people go.
22 "Then you shall say to Pharaoh, 'Thus says the LORD, "[a]Israel is My son, My firstborn.
23 "So I said to you, '[a]Let My son go that he may serve Me'; but you have refused to let him go. Behold, [b]I will kill your son, your firstborn." ' "
24 Now it came about at the lodging place on the way that the LORD met him and [a]sought to put him to death.
25 Then Zipporah took [a]a flint and cut off her son's foreskin and [1]threw it at Moses' feet, and she said, "You are indeed a bridegroom of blood to me."
26 So He let him alone. At that time she said, "You are a bridegroom of blood"—[1]because of the circumcision.
27 [a]Now the LORD said to Aaron, "Go to meet Moses in the wilderness." So he went and met him at the [b]mountain of God and kissed him.
28 [a]Moses told Aaron all the words of the LORD with which He had sent him, and [b]all the signs that He had commanded him to do.
29 Then Moses and Aaron went and [a]assembled all the elders of the sons of Israel;
30 and [a]Aaron spoke all the words which the LORD had spoken to Moses. He then performed the [b]signs in the sight of the people.
31 So [a]the people believed; and when they heard that the LORD [1][b]was concerned about the sons of Israel and that He had seen their affliction, then [c]they bowed low and worshiped.

speech and slow of tongue. Not in the sense of a speech impediment (see Acts 7:22). He complained, instead, of not being eloquent or quick-witted enough to respond to the pharaoh (see 6:12). Cf. the description of Paul in 2 Cor 10:10.

4:13 Moses' fifth and final expression of reluctance.

4:14 the anger of the LORD burned against Moses. Although the Lord is "slow to anger" (34:6), He does not withhold His anger or punishment from His disobedient children forever (see 34:7). Levite. Under Aaron's leadership Israel's priesthood would come from the tribe of Levi.

4:15–16 See note on 7:1–2.

4:19 all the men . . . are dead. Including Thutmose III (see 2:15,23; see also Introduction: Chronology).

4:20 sons. Gershom (see 2:22) and Eliezer. The latter, though unmentioned by name until 18:4, had already been born.

4:21 wonders. See note on 3:20. I will harden his heart. Nine times in Exodus the hardening of the pharaoh's heart is ascribed to God (here; 7:3; 9:12; 10:1,20,27; 11:10; 14:4,8; see Rom 9:17–18 and notes); another nine times the pharaoh is said to have hardened his own heart (7:13–14,22; 8:15,19,32; 9:7,34–35). The pharaoh alone was the agent of the hardening in each of the first five plagues. Not until the sixth plague did God confirm the pharaoh's willful action (see 9:12), as he had told Moses he would do (see similarly Rom 1:24–28).

4:22 son. Used collectively of the Israelites also in Hos 11:1. My firstborn. A figure of speech indicating Israel's special relationship with God (see Jer 31:9; Hos 11:1).

4:23 kill . . . your firstborn. Anticipates the tenth plague (see 11:5; 12:12).

4:24 lodging place. Perhaps near water, where travelers could spend the night. The LORD . . . sought to put him to death. Evidently because Moses had failed to circumcise his son (see Gen 17:9–14).

4:25 Zipporah . . . cut off her son's foreskin. Sensing that divine displeasure had threatened Moses' life, she quickly performed the circumcision on their young son. flint. Continued to be used for circumcision long after metal was introduced, probably because flint knives were sharper than the metal instruments available and thus more efficient for the surgical procedure (see Josh 5:2 and note). feet. Probably a euphemism for "genitals," as in Deut 28:57 ("between her legs," lit. "feet").

4:26 bridegroom of blood. Circumcision may have been repulsive to Zipporah—though it was practiced for various reasons among many peoples of the ancient Near East.

4:30 Aaron spoke all the words which the LORD had spoken to Moses. See note on 7:1–2.

Israel's Labor Increased

5 And afterward Moses and Aaron came and said to Pharaoh, "[a]Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, '[b]Let My people go that they may celebrate a feast to Me in the wilderness.' "

2 But Pharaoh said, "[a]Who is the LORD that I should obey His voice to let Israel go? I do not know the LORD, and besides, [b]I will not let Israel go."

3 Then they said, "[a]The God of the Hebrews has met with us. Please, let us go a three days' journey into the wilderness that we may sacrifice to the LORD our God, otherwise He will fall upon us with pestilence or with the sword."

4 But the king of Egypt said to them, "Moses and Aaron, why do you [1]draw the people away from their [2]work? Get back to your [3][a]labors!"

5 Again Pharaoh said, "Look, [a]the people of the land are now many, and you would have them cease from their labors!"

6 So the same day Pharaoh commanded [a]the taskmasters over the people and their [b]foremen, saying,

7 "You are no longer to give the people straw to make brick as previously; let them go and gather straw for themselves.

8 "But the quota of bricks which they were making previously, you shall impose on them; you are not to reduce any of it. Because they are [a]lazy, therefore they cry out, '[1]Let us go and sacrifice to our God.'

9 "Let the labor be heavier on the men, and let them work at it so that they will pay no attention to false words."

10 So [a]the taskmasters of the people and their foremen went out and spoke to the people, saying, "Thus says Pharaoh, 'I am not going to give you any straw.

11 'You go and get straw for yourselves wherever you can find it, but none of your labor will be reduced.' "

12 So the people scattered through all the land of Egypt to gather stubble for straw.

13 The taskmasters pressed them, saying, "Complete your [1]work quota, [2]your daily amount, just as when [3]you had straw."

14 Moreover, [a]the foremen of the sons of Israel, whom Pharaoh's taskmasters had set over them, [b]were beaten [1]and were asked, "Why have you not completed your required amount either yesterday or today in making brick as previously?"

15 Then the foremen of the sons of Israel came and cried out to Pharaoh, saying, "Why do you deal this way with your servants?

16 "There is no straw given to your servants, yet they keep saying to us, 'Make bricks!' And behold, your servants are being beaten; but it is the fault of your own people."

17 But he said, "You are [a]lazy, very lazy; therefore you say, 'Let us go and sacrifice to the LORD.'

18 "So go now and work; for you will be given no straw, yet you must deliver the quota of bricks."

19 The foremen of the sons of Israel saw that they were in trouble [1]because they were told, "You must not reduce [2]your daily amount of bricks."

20 When they left Pharaoh's presence, they met Moses and Aaron as they were [1]waiting for them.

21 [a]They said to them, "[b]May the LORD look upon you and judge you, for you have [c]made [1]us odious in Pharaoh's sight and in the sight of his servants, to put a sword in their hand to kill us."

22 Then Moses returned to the LORD and said, "[a]O Lord, why have You brought harm to this people? Why did You ever send me?

23 "Ever since I came to Pharaoh to speak in Your name, he has done harm to this people, [a]and You have not delivered Your people at all."

God Promises Action

6 Then the LORD said to Moses, "Now you shall see what I will do to Pharaoh; for [1][a]under compulsion he will let them go, and [1]under compulsion he will drive them out of his land."

2 God spoke further to Moses and said to him, "I am [a]the LORD;

3 and I appeared to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, as [1][a]God Almighty, but by [b]My name, [2]LORD, I did not make Myself known to them.

4 "I also established [a]My covenant with 5:3 See 3:18 and note. The reason for sacrificing where the Egyptians could not see them is given in 8:26 (see note on Gen 43:32).

5:6 taskmasters. See note on 1:11. foremen. Israelite supervisors whose method of appointment and whose functions are indicated in vv. 14–16.
5:7 straw. Chopped and mixed with the clay as binder to make the bricks stronger.
5:9 false words. The pharaoh labels all hopes of a quick release for Israel as presumptuous and false.
5:21 May the LORD look upon you and judge you. See Gen 16:5; 31:49 and notes.
6:1 Now. Without further delay, God will act.
6:2 I am the LORD. Appears four times in this passage: (1) to introduce the message; (2) to confirm God's promise of redemption (v. 6) based on the evidence of vv. 2–5; (3) to underscore God's intention to adopt Israel (v. 7); (4) to confirm His promise of the land and to conclude the message (v. 8).
6:3 God Almighty. See note on Gen 17:1. by My name, LORD, I did not make Myself known to them. See notes on 3:14–15. This does not necessarily mean that the patriarchs were totally ignorant of the name Yahweh ("the LORD"), but it indicates that they did not understand its full implications as the name of the One who would redeem His people (see notes on v. 6; Gen 2:4). That fact could be comprehended only by the Israelites who were to experience the exodus, and by their descendants. make Myself known. This experiential sense of the verb "to know" is intend-them, to give them the land of Canaan, the [1]land in which they sojourned.

5 "Furthermore I have [a]heard the groaning of the sons of Israel, because the Egyptians are holding them in bondage, and I have remembered My covenant.

6 "Say, therefore, to the sons of Israel, '[a]I am the LORD, and [b]I will bring you out from under the burdens of the Egyptians, and I will deliver you from their bondage. I will also [c]redeem you with [d]an outstretched arm and with great judgments.

7 'Then I will take you [1][a]for My people, and [b]I will be [2]your God; and [c]you shall know that I am the LORD your God, who brought you out from under the burdens of the Egyptians.

8 'I will bring you to the land which [a]I [1]swore to give to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and [b]I will give it to you for a possession; [c]I am the LORD.' "

9 So Moses spoke thus to the sons of Israel, but they did not listen to Moses on [a]account of their [1]despondency and cruel bondage.

10 Now the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

11 "[a]Go, [1]tell Pharaoh king of Egypt [2]to let the sons of Israel go out of his land."

12 But Moses spoke before the LORD, saying, "Behold, the sons of Israel have not listened to me; [a]how then will Pharaoh listen to me, for I am [1][b]unskilled in speech?"

13 Then the LORD spoke to Moses and to Aaron, and gave them a charge to the sons of Israel and to Pharaoh king of Egypt, to bring the sons of Israel out of the land of Egypt.

The Heads of Israel

14 These are the heads of their fathers' households. [a]The sons of Reuben, Israel's firstborn: Hanoch and Pallu, Hezron and Carmi; these are the families of Reuben.

17 [a]The sons of Gershon: [1]Libni and Shimei, according to their families.

6:5 remembered. See note on Gen 8:1.

6:6 I will bring you out . . . will deliver you . . . will also redeem you. The verbs stress the true significance of the name Yahweh—"the LORD"—who is the Redeemer of His people (see note on v. 3). great judgments. See 7:4. The Lord's acts include redemption (for Israel) and judgment (against Egypt).

6:7–8 brought you out from . . . will bring you to. Redemption means not only release from slavery and suffering but also deliverance to freedom and joy.

6:7 I will take you for My people, and I will be your God. Words that anticipate the covenant at Mount Sinai (see 19:5–6; see also Jer 31:33).

6:8 See Gen 22:15–17. swore. See note on Gen 14:22.

6:12 I am unskilled in speech. See note on 4:10.

6:13 to Moses and to Aaron. The genealogy contained in vv. 14–25 gives details concerning the background of Moses and Aaron. Only the first three of Jacob's 12 sons (Reuben, Simeon and Levi) are listed since Moses and Aaron were from the third tribe.

6:16 Merari. The name is of Egyptian origin, as are those of Putiel and Phinehas (see v. 25) and of Moses himself (see note on 2:10). the length of Levi's life was one hundred and thirty-seven years. See vv. 18,20. In the OT, attention is usually called to a person's life span only when it exceeds 100 years.

6:20 Amram . . . Aaron and Moses. There is some reason to believe that Amram and Jochebed were not the immediate parents but the ancestors of Aaron and Moses. Kohath, Amram's father (see v. 18), was born before Jacob's (Israel's) descent into Egypt (see Gen 46:11), where the Israelites then stayed 430 years (see 12:40–41). Since Moses was 80 years old at the time of the exodus (see 7:7), he must have been born at least 350 years after Kohath, who consequently could not have been Moses' grandfather (see v. 18). Therefore Amram must not have been Moses' father, and the Hebrew verb for "bore" must have the same meaning it sometimes has in Gen 10 (see Gen 10:8, where it is translated "became the father of" and where "father" may mean "ancestor" or "predecessor" or "founder"; see also note on Gen 10:1). Jochebed. The name appears to mean "The LORD is glory." If so, it shows that the name Yahweh (here abbreviated as Jo-) was known before Moses was born (see note on v. 3). Aaron and Moses. Aaron, as the firstborn (see 7:7), is listed first in the official genealogy.

26 It was the same Aaron and Moses to whom the LORD said, "[a]Bring out the sons of Israel from the land of Egypt according to their [b]hosts."

27 They were the ones [a]who spoke to Pharaoh king of Egypt [1]about bringing out the sons of Israel from Egypt; it was the same Moses and Aaron.

28 Now it came about on the day when the LORD spoke to Moses in the land of Egypt,

29 that the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, "[a]I am the LORD; [b]speak to Pharaoh king of Egypt all that I speak to you."

30 But Moses said before the LORD, "Behold, I am [1][a]unskilled in speech; how then will Pharaoh listen to me?"

"I Will Stretch Out My Hand"

7 Then the LORD said to Moses, "[a]See, I make you as God to Pharaoh, and your brother Aaron shall be your prophet.

2 "You shall speak all that I command you, and your brother [a]Aaron shall speak to Pharaoh that he let the sons of Israel go out of his land.

3 "But [a]I will harden Pharaoh's heart that I may [b]multiply My signs and My wonders in the land of Egypt.

4 "When [a]Pharaoh does not listen to you, then I will lay My hand on Egypt and [b]bring out My hosts, My people the sons of Israel, from the land of Egypt by [c]great judgments.

5 "[a]The Egyptians shall know that I am the LORD, when I [b]stretch out My hand on Egypt and bring out the sons of Israel from their midst."

6 So Moses and Aaron did it; [a]as the LORD commanded them, thus they did.

7 Moses was [a]eighty years old and Aaron [1]eighty-three, when they spoke to Pharaoh.

Aaron's Rod Becomes a Serpent

8 Now the LORD spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying,

9 "When Pharaoh speaks to you, saying, '[1][a]Work a miracle,' then you shall say to Aaron, '[b]Take your staff and throw it down before Pharaoh, that it may become a serpent.' "

10 So Moses and Aaron came to Pharaoh, and thus they did just as the LORD had commanded; and Aaron threw his staff down before Pharaoh and [1]his servants, and it [a]became a serpent.

11 Then Pharaoh also [a]called for the wise men and the sorcerers, and they also, the [1][b]magicians of Egypt, did [2]the same with [c]their secret arts.

12 For each one threw down his staff and they turned into serpents. But Aaron's staff swallowed up their staffs.

13 Yet [a]Pharaoh's heart was [1]hardened, and he did not listen to them, as the LORD had said.

Water Is Turned to Blood

14 Then the LORD said to Moses, "Pharaoh's heart is [1]stubborn; he refuses to let the people go.

15 "Go to Pharaoh in the morning [1]as [a]he is going out to the water, and station yourself to meet him on the bank of the Nile; and you shall take in your hand [b]the staff that was turned into a serpent.

16 "[a]You shall say to him, 'The LORD, the God of the Hebrews, sent me to you, saying, "[b]Let My people go, that they may serve Me in the wilderness. But behold, you have not listened until now."

17 'Thus says the LORD, "[a]By this you shall know that I am the LORD: behold, I will strike [1]the water that is in the Nile with the staff that is in my hand, and [b]it will be turned to blood.

18 "[a]The fish that are in the Nile will die, and the Nile will [1]become foul, and the Egyptians will [2b]find difficulty in drinking water from the Nile." ' "

19 Then the LORD said to Moses, "Say to Aaron, 'Take your staff and [a]stretch out your hand over the waters of Egypt, over their rivers, over their [1]streams, and over their

7:1–2 As God transmits His word through His prophets to His people, so Moses will transmit God's message through Aaron to the pharaoh. The prophet's task was to speak God's word on God's behalf. He was God's "mouth" (4:15–16).

7:11 wise men and . . . magicians. See note on Gen 41:8. According to tradition, two of the magicians who opposed Moses were named Jannes and Jambres (see 2 Tim 3:8; the first is also mentioned in the pre-Christian Dead Sea Scrolls). the magicians of Egypt, did the same with their secret arts. Either through sleight of hand or by means of demonic power.
7:12 Aaron's staff swallowed up their staffs. Demonstrating God's mastery over the pharaoh and the gods of Egypt.
7:13 heart was hardened. See note on 4:21.
7:14–10:29 The first nine plagues can be divided into three groups of three plagues each—7:14–8:19; 8:20–9:12; 9:13–10:29—with the first plague in each group (the first, the fourth and the seventh) introduced by a warning delivered to the pharaoh in the morning as he went out to the Nile (see v. 15; 8:20; 9:13).
7:17 water . . . in the Nile . . . will be turned to blood. See Ps 78:44; 105:29. The first nine plagues may have been a series of miraculous intensifications of natural events taking place in less than a year, and coming at God's bidding and timing. If so, the first plague resulted from the flooding of the Nile in late summer and early fall as large quantities of red sediment were washed down from Ethiopia, causing the water to become as red as blood (see the similar incident in 2 Kin 3:22). my. Moses'.

pools, and over all their reservoirs of water, that they may become blood; and there will be blood throughout all the land of Egypt, both in vessels of wood and in vessels of stone.' "

20 So Moses and Aaron did even as the LORD had commanded. And he lifted up [1][a]the staff and struck the water that was in the Nile, in the sight of Pharaoh and in the sight of his servants, and [b]all the water that was in the Nile was turned to blood.

21 The fish that were in the Nile died, and the Nile [1]became foul, so that the Egyptians could not drink water from the Nile. And the blood was through all the land of Egypt.

22 [a]But the [1]magicians of Egypt did [2]the same with their secret arts; and Pharaoh's heart was [3]hardened, and he did not listen to them, as the LORD had said.

23 Then Pharaoh turned and went into his house [1]with no concern even for this.

24 So all the Egyptians dug around the Nile for water to drink, for they could not drink of the water of the Nile.

25 Seven days [1]passed after the LORD had struck the Nile.

Frogs over the Land

8 [1]Then the LORD said to Moses, "Go to Pharaoh and say to him, 'Thus says the LORD, "[a]Let My people go, that they may serve Me.

2 "But if you refuse to let them go, behold, I will smite your whole territory with frogs.

3 "The Nile will [a]swarm with frogs, which will come up and go into your house and into your bedroom and on your bed, and into the houses of your servants and on your people, and into your ovens and into your kneading bowls.

4 "So the frogs will come up on you and your people and all your servants." ' "

5 [1]Then the LORD said to Moses, "Say to Aaron, '[a]Stretch out your hand with your staff over the rivers, over the [2]streams and over the pools, and make frogs come up on the land of Egypt.' "

6 So Aaron stretched out his hand over the waters of Egypt, and the [1][a]frogs came up and covered the land of Egypt.

7 [a]The [1]magicians did [2]the same with their secret arts, [3]making frogs come up on the land of Egypt.

8 Then Pharaoh [a]called for Moses and Aaron and said, "[b]Entreat the LORD that He remove the frogs from me and from my people; and [c]I will let the people go, that they may sacrifice to the LORD."

9 Moses said to Pharaoh, "[1]The honor is yours to tell me: when shall I entreat for you and your servants and your people, that the frogs be [2]destroyed from you and your houses, that they may be left only in the Nile?"

10 Then he said, "Tomorrow." So he said, "May it be according to your word, that you may know that there is [a]no one like the LORD our God.

11 "The [a]frogs will depart from you and your houses and your servants and your people; they will be left only in the Nile."

12 Then Moses and Aaron went out from Pharaoh, and [a]Moses cried to the LORD concerning the frogs which He had [1]inflicted upon Pharaoh.

13 The LORD did according to the word of Moses, and the frogs died out of the houses, the courts, and the fields.

14 So they piled them in heaps, and the land [1]became foul.

15 But when Pharaoh saw that there was relief, he [1]hardened his heart and [a]did not listen to them, as the LORD had said.

The Plague of Insects

16 Then the LORD said to Moses, "Say to Aaron, 'Stretch out your staff and strike the dust of the earth, that it may become [1]gnats through all the land of Egypt.' "

17 They did so; and Aaron stretched out his hand with his staff, and struck the dust of the earth, and there were [1]gnats on man and beast. All the dust of the earth became [1][a]gnats through all the land of Egypt.

18 The [1]magicians tried with their secret arts to bring forth [2]gnats, but [a]they could not; so there were [2]gnats on man and beast.

19 Then the [1]magicians said to Pharaoh, "[a]This is the finger of God." But Pharaoh's heart was [2]hardened, and he did not listen to them, as the LORD had said.

in vessels of wood and in vessels of stone. Lit. "in/on the wooden things and in/on the stone things." Some think that, since the Egyptians believed that their gods inhabited idols and images made of wood, clay and stone (see Deut 29:16–17), the plague may have been intended as a rebuke to their religion (see 12:12).

7:20 Nile. Egypt's dependence on the life-sustaining waters of the Nile led to its deification as the god Hapi, for whom hymns of adoration were composed. See note on v. 19.

7:24 dug around the Nile for water to drink. Filtered through sandy soil near the river bank, the polluted water would become safe for drinking.

7:25 Seven days passed. The plagues did not follow each other in rapid succession.

8:2 I will smite your whole territory with frogs. The frog (or toad) was deified in the goddess Heqt, who assisted women in childbirth.

8:3 come up. The frogs abandoned the Nile and swarmed over the land, perhaps because the unusually high concentration of bacteria-laden algae had by now proved fatal to most of the fish, thus polluting the river.

8:13 the LORD did according to the word of Moses. For similar occurrences see v. 31; 1 Sam 12:18; 1 Kin 18:42–45; Amos 7:1–6. the frogs died. Probably because they had been infected by the bacteria (Bacillus anthracis) in the Nile algae (see note on v. 3).

8:16 dust . . . may become gnats. The word "dust" is perhaps a reference to the enormous number (see, e.g., Gen 13:16) of the gnats, bred in the flooded fields of Egypt in late autumn.

8:19 finger of God. A concise and colorful figure of speech

20 Now the LORD said to Moses, "[a]Rise early in the morning and present yourself before Pharaoh, [1]as [b]he comes out to the water, and say to him, 'Thus says the LORD, "[c]Let My people go, that they may serve Me.

21 "For if you do not let My people go, behold, I will send swarms of insects on you and on your servants and on your people and into your houses; and the houses of the Egyptians will be full of swarms of insects, and also the ground on which they dwell.

22 "[a]But on that day I will set apart the land of Goshen, where My people are [1]living, so that no swarms of insects will be there, in order that you may know that [2b]I, the LORD, am in the midst of the land.

23 "I will [1]put a division between My people and your people. Tomorrow this sign will occur." ' "

24 Then the LORD did so. And there came [1]great swarms of insects into the house of Pharaoh and the houses of his servants and the land was [a]laid waste because of the swarms of insects in all the land of Egypt.

25 Pharaoh [a]called for Moses and Aaron and said, "[b]Go, sacrifice to your God within the land."

26 But Moses said, "It is not right to do so, for we will sacrifice to the LORD our God [1]what is [a]an abomination to the Egyptians. If we sacrifice [1]what is an abomination to the Egyptians before their eyes, will they not then stone us?

27 "We must go a [a]three days' journey into the wilderness and sacrifice to the LORD our God as He [1]commands us."

28 Pharaoh said, "[a]I will let you go, that you may sacrifice to the LORD your God in the wilderness; only you shall not go very far away. [b]Make supplication for me."

29 Then Moses said, "Behold, I am going out from you, and I shall make supplication to the LORD that the swarms of insects may depart from Pharaoh, from his servants, and from his people tomorrow; only do not let Pharaoh [a]deal deceitfully again in not letting the people go to sacrifice to the LORD."

30 So [a]Moses went out from Pharaoh and made supplication to the LORD.

31 The LORD did [1]as Moses asked, and removed the swarms of insects from Pharaoh, from his servants and from his people; not one remained.

32 But Pharaoh [1]hardened his heart this time also, and [a]he did not let the people go.

Egyptian Cattle Die

9 Then the LORD said to Moses, "Go to Pharaoh and speak to him, 'Thus says the LORD, the God of the Hebrews, "[a]Let My people go, that they may serve Me.

2 "For [a]if you refuse to let them go and [1]continue to hold them,

3 behold, [a]the hand of the LORD [1]will come with a very severe pestilence on your livestock which are in the field, on the horses, on the donkeys, on the camels, on the herds, and on the flocks.

4 "[a]But the LORD will make a distinction between the livestock of Israel and the livestock of Egypt, so that [b]nothing will die of all that belongs to the sons of Israel." ' "

5 The LORD set a definite time, saying, "Tomorrow the LORD will do this thing in the land."

6 So the LORD did this thing on the next day, and [a]all the livestock of Egypt died; [b]but of the livestock of the sons of Israel, not one died.

7 Pharaoh sent, and behold, there was not even one of the livestock of Israel dead. But [a]the heart of Pharaoh was [1]hardened, and he did not let the people go.

The Plague of Boils

8 Then the LORD said to Moses and Aaron, "Take for yourselves handfuls of soot from a kiln, and let Moses throw it toward the sky in the sight of Pharaoh.

9 "It will become fine dust over all the referring to God's miraculous power (see 31:18; Ps 8:3). Jesus drove out demons "by the finger of God" (Luke 11:20). Cf. the similar use of the phrase "hand of the LORD" in 9:3.

8:21 I will send swarms of insects. Probably Stomoxys calcitrans, which would have multiplied rapidly as the receding Nile left breeding places in its wake. Full-grown, such insects infest houses and stables and bite men and animals.

8:22 I will set apart. See 33:16. God makes a "division" (v. 23) between Moses' people and the pharaoh's people in this plague as well as in the fifth (see 9:4,6), the seventh (see 9:26), the ninth (see 10:23) and the tenth (see 11:7)—and probably also the sixth and eighth (see 9:11; 10:6)—demonstrating that the Lord can preserve His own people while judging Egypt. Goshen. See note on Gen 45:10.

8:26 an abomination to the Egyptians. See Gen 46:34; see also Gen 43:32 and note.

8:31 The LORD did as Moses asked. See note on v. 13.

9:3 hand of the LORD. See note on 8:19. very severe pestilence on your livestock. The flies of the fourth plague (see note on 8:21) probably carried the anthrax bacteria (see note on 8:13) that would now infect the animals, which had been brought into the fields again as the floodwaters subsided. The Egyptians worshiped many animals and animal-headed deities, including the bull-gods Apis and Mnevis, the cow-god Hathor and the ram-god Khnum. Thus Egyptian religion is again rebuked and ridiculed (see note on 7:19).

9:4 distinction. See note on 8:22.

9:5 Tomorrow. To give those Egyptians who feared God time to bring their livestock in from the fields and out of danger (see also v. 20).

9:6 all the livestock of Egypt died. That is, all that were left out in the fields. Protected livestock remained alive (see vv. 19–21).

9:8 Take . . . soot . . . throw it toward the sky. Perhaps symbolizing either the widespread extent of the plague of boils or their black coloration. kiln. Used for firing bricks, the symbol of Israel's bondage (see 1:14; 5:7–19). The same Hebrew word is translated "furnace" in Gen 19:28 and is used as a simile for the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah.

land of Egypt, and will become [a]boils breaking out with sores on man and beast through all the land of Egypt."

10 So they took soot from a kiln, and stood before Pharaoh; and Moses threw it toward the sky, and it became boils breaking out with sores on man and beast.

11 [a]The [1]magicians could not stand before Moses because of the boils, for the boils were on the magicians [2]as well as on all the Egyptians.

12 And [a]the LORD [1]hardened Pharaoh's heart, and he did not listen to them, just as the LORD had spoken to Moses.

13 Then the LORD said to Moses, "[a]Rise up early in the morning and stand before Pharaoh and say to him, 'Thus says the LORD, the God of the Hebrews, "[b]Let My people go, that they may serve Me.

14 "For this time I will send all My plagues [1]on you and your servants and your people, so that [a]you may know that there is no one like Me in all the earth.

15 "For if by now I had put forth My hand and struck you and your people with pestilence, you would then have been cut off from the earth.

16 "But, indeed, [a]for this reason I have allowed you to [1]remain, in order to show you My power and in order to proclaim My name through all the earth.

17 "Still you exalt yourself against My people [1]by not letting them go.

The Plague of Hail

18 "Behold, about this time tomorrow, [a]I will [1]send a very heavy hail, such as has not been seen in Egypt from the day it was founded [2]until now.

19 "Now therefore send, bring [a]your livestock and whatever you have in the field to safety. [b]Every man and beast that is found in the field and is not brought home, when the hail comes down on them, will die." ' "

20 [a]The one among the servants of Pharaoh who [1]feared the word of the LORD made his servants and his livestock flee into the houses;

21 but he who [1]paid no regard to the word of the LORD [2]left his servants and his livestock in the field.

22 Now the LORD said to Moses, "Stretch out your hand toward the sky, that [1][a]hail may fall on all the land of Egypt, on man and on beast and on every plant of the field, throughout the land of Egypt."

23 Moses stretched out his staff toward the sky, and the LORD [1]sent [2]thunder and [a]hail, and fire ran down to the earth. And the LORD rained hail on the land of Egypt.

24 So there was hail, and fire [1]flashing continually in the midst of the hail, very severe, such as had not been in all the land of Egypt since it became a nation.

25 [a]The hail struck all that was in the field through all the land of Egypt, both man and beast; the hail also struck every plant of the field and shattered every tree of the field.

26 [a]Only in the land of Goshen, where the sons of Israel were, there was no hail.

27 Then Pharaoh [1][a]sent for Moses and Aaron, and said to them, "[b]I have sinned this time; the LORD is the righteous one, and I and my people are the wicked ones.

28 "[a]Make supplication to the LORD, for there has been enough of God's [1]thunder and hail; and [b]I will let you go, and you shall stay no longer."

29 Moses said to him, "As soon as I go out of the city, I will [a]spread out my [1]hands to the LORD; the [2]thunder will cease and there will be hail no longer, that you may know that [b]the earth is the LORD's.

30 "[a]But as for you and your servants, I know that [b]you do not yet [1]fear [2]the LORD God."

31 (Now the flax and the [a]barley were [1]ruined, for the barley was in the ear and the flax was in bud.

32 But the wheat and the spelt were not [1]ruined, for they ripen late.)

33 [a]So Moses went out of the city from Pharaoh, and spread out his [1]hands to the LORD; and the [2]thunder and the hail ceased, and rain [3]no longer poured on the earth.

9:9 boils. Probably skin anthrax (a variety of the plague that struck the livestock in vv. 1–7), a black, burning abscess that develops into a pustule. man and beast. The plague on the livestock now extended to other animals as well as to the people of Egypt.

9:11 magicians could not stand. The "boils of Egypt" (Deut 28:27) seriously affected the knees and legs (see Deut 28:35).

9:12 the LORD hardened Pharaoh's heart. See note on 4:21.

9:16 Paul quotes this verse as an outstanding illustration of the sovereignty of God (see Rom 9:17).

9:18 I will send a very heavy hail. The flooding of the Nile (the probable occasion of the first six plagues) came to an end late in the fall. The hailstorm is thus in the proper chronological position, taking place in January or February when the flax and barley were in flower but the wheat and spelt had not yet germinated (see vv. 31–32).

9:19–21 See note on v. 6.

9:27 I have sinned this time. For the first time the pharaoh acknowledges his sinfulness and perceives its devastating results.

9:29 spread out my hands. See 1 Kin 8:22,38,54; 2 Chr 6:12–13,29; Ezra 9:5; Ps 44:20; 88:9; 143:6; Is 1:15; 1 Tim 2:8. Statues of men praying with hands upraised have been found by archaeologists at several ancient sites in the Middle East.

9:31–32 See note on v. 18.

9:32 spelt. Grains of spelt, a member of the grass family allied to wheat, have been found in ancient Egyptian tombs. Although inferior to wheat, it grows well in poorer and drier soil.

34 But when Pharaoh saw that the rain and the hail and the [1]thunder had ceased, he sinned again and [2]hardened his heart, he and his servants.

35 Pharaoh's heart was [1]hardened, and he did not let the sons of Israel go, just as the [a]LORD had spoken through Moses.

The Plague of Locusts

10 Then the LORD said to Moses, "Go to Pharaoh, for [a]I have [1]hardened his heart and the heart of his servants, that I may [2]perform these signs of Mine [3]among them,

2 and [a]that you may tell in the [1]hearing of your son, and of your grandson, how I made a mockery of the Egyptians and how I [2]performed My signs among them, [b]that you may know that I am the LORD."

3 Moses and Aaron went to Pharaoh and said to him, "Thus says the LORD, the God of the Hebrews, 'How long will you refuse to [a]humble yourself before Me? [b]Let My people go, that they may serve Me.

4 'For if you refuse to let My people go, behold, tomorrow I will bring locusts into your territory.

5 'They shall cover the surface of the land, so that no one will be able to see the land. [a]They will also eat the rest of what has escaped—what is left to you from the hail—and they will eat every tree which sprouts for you out of the field.

6 'Then [a]your houses shall be filled and the houses of all your servants and the houses of all the Egyptians, something which neither your fathers nor your grandfathers have seen, from the day that they [1]came upon the earth until this day.' " And he turned and went out from Pharaoh.

7 [a]Pharaoh's servants said to him, "How long will this man be [b]a snare to us? Let the men go, that they may serve the LORD their God. Do you not [1]realize that Egypt is destroyed?"

8 So Moses and Aaron [a]were brought back to Pharaoh, and he said to them, "[b]Go, serve the LORD your God! [1]Who are the ones that are going?"

9 Moses said, "[a]We shall go with our young and our old; with our sons and our daughters, [b]with our flocks and our herds we shall go, for we [1]must hold a feast to the LORD."

10 Then he said to them, "Thus may the LORD be with you, [1]if ever I let you and your little ones go! Take heed, for evil is [2]in your mind.

11 "Not so! Go now, the men among you, and serve the LORD, for [1]that is what you desire." So [a]they were driven out from Pharaoh's presence.

12 Then the LORD said to Moses, "[a]Stretch out your hand over the land of Egypt for the locusts, that they may come up on the land of Egypt and [b]eat every plant of the land, even all that the hail has left."

13 So Moses stretched out his staff over the land of Egypt, and the LORD directed an east wind on the land all that day and all that night; and when it was morning, the east wind [1]brought the [a]locusts.

14 [a]The locusts came up over all the land of Egypt and settled in all the territory of Egypt; they were very [1]numerous. There had never been so many [2]locusts, nor would there be so many [3]again.

15 For they covered the surface of the whole land, so that the land was darkened; and they [a]ate every plant of the land and all the fruit of the trees that the hail had left. Thus nothing green was left on tree or plant of the field through all the land of Egypt.

16 Then Pharaoh hurriedly [a]called for Moses and Aaron, and he said, "[b]I have sinned against the LORD your God and against you.

17 "Now therefore, please forgive my sin only this once, and [a]make supplication to the LORD your God, that He would only remove this death from me."

18 [a]He went out from Pharaoh and made supplication to the LORD.

19 So the LORD shifted the wind to a very strong west wind which took up the locusts and drove them into the [1]Red Sea; not one locust was left in all the territory of Egypt.

20 But [a]the LORD [1]hardened Pharaoh's heart, and he did not let the sons of Israel go.

Darkness over the Land

21 Then the LORD said to Moses, "[a]Stretch out your hand toward the sky, that there may be darkness over the land of Egypt, even a darkness [b]which may be felt."

22 So Moses stretched out his hand

10:2 tell . . . your son. The memory of God's redemptive acts is to be kept alive by reciting them to our descendants (see 12:26–27; 13:8,14–15; Deut 4:9; Ps 77:11–20; 78:4–6,43–53; 105:26–38; 106:7–12; 114:1–3; 135:8–9; 136:10–15).

10:4 I will bring locusts. In March or April the prevailing east winds (see v. 13) would bring in hordes of migratory locusts at their immature and most voracious stage. As also today, locust plagues were greatly feared in ancient times and became a powerful symbol of divine judgment (see Joel 1:4–7; 2:1–11; Amos 7:1–3).

10:7 How long . . . ? The pharaoh's officials ironically echo the phrase used by Moses in v. 3. Egypt is destroyed. Human rebellion and disobedience always bring death and destruction in their wake.

10:11 Go now, the men. From the pharaoh's standpoint, (1) the women and children should remain behind as hostages, and (2) it was typically only the men who participated fully in worship.

10:13 east wind. See note on v. 4.

10:19 the LORD shifted the wind. The forces of nature are compelled to obey His sovereign will (see 14:21; Matt 8:23–27). Red Sea. See note on 2:3.

10:21 there may be darkness over . . . Egypt. Like the third and toward the sky, and there was [a]thick darkness in all the land of Egypt for three days.

23 They did not see one another, nor did anyone rise from his place for three days, [a]but all the sons of Israel had light in their dwellings.
24 Then Pharaoh [a]called to Moses, and said, "Go, serve the LORD; only let your flocks and your herds be detained. Even [b]your little ones may go with you."
25 But Moses said, "You must also [1]let us have sacrifices and burnt offerings, that we may [2]sacrifice them to the LORD our God.
26 "[a]Therefore, our livestock too shall go with us; not a hoof shall be left behind, for we shall take some of them to serve the LORD our God. And until we arrive there, we ourselves do not know with what we shall serve the LORD."
27 But [a]the LORD [1]hardened Pharaoh's heart, and he was not willing to let them go.
28 Then Pharaoh said to him, "[a]Get away from me! [1]Beware, do not see my face again, for in the day you see my face you shall die!"
29 Moses said, "You are right; [a]I shall never see your face again!"

The Last Plague

11 Now the LORD said to Moses, "One more plague I will bring on Pharaoh and on Egypt; [a]after that he will let you go from here. When he lets you go, he will surely drive you out from here completely.
2 "Speak now in the [1]hearing of the people that [a]each man ask from his neighbor and each woman from her neighbor for articles of silver and articles of gold."
3 [a]The LORD gave the people favor in the sight of the Egyptians. [b]Furthermore, the man Moses himself was [1]greatly esteemed in the land of Egypt, both in the sight of Pharaoh's servants and in the sight of the people.
4 Moses said, "Thus says the LORD, 'About [a]midnight I am going out into the midst of Egypt,
5 and [a]all the firstborn in the land of Egypt shall die, from the firstborn of the Pharaoh who sits on his throne, even to the firstborn of the slave girl who is behind the millstones; all the firstborn of the cattle as well.
6 'Moreover, there shall be [a]a great cry in all the land of Egypt, such as there has not been before and such as shall never be again.
7 '[a]But against any of the sons of Israel a dog will not even [1]bark, whether against man or beast, that you may [2]understand how the LORD makes a distinction between Egypt and Israel.'
8 "[a]All these your servants will come down to me and bow themselves [1]before me, saying, 'Go out, you and all the people who [2]follow you,' and after that I will go out." [b]And he went out from Pharaoh in hot anger.
9 Then the LORD said to Moses, "[a]Pharaoh will not listen to you, so [b]that My wonders will be multiplied in the land of Egypt."
10 [a]Moses and Aaron performed all these wonders before Pharaoh; yet [b]the LORD [1]hardened Pharaoh's heart, and he did not let the sons of Israel go out of his land.

The Passover Lamb

12 Now the LORD said to Moses and Aaron in the land of [1]Egypt,
2 "[a]This month shall be the beginning of months for you; it is to be the first month of the year to you.
3 "Speak to all the congregation of Israel, saying, 'On the tenth of this month they are each one to take a [1]lamb for themselves, according to their fathers' households, a [1]lamb for [2]each household.
4 'Now if the household is too small for a [1]lamb, then he and his neighbor nearest to his house are to take one according to the [2]number of persons in them; according to [3]what each man should eat, you are to [4]divide the lamb.
5 'Your [1]lamb shall be [a]an unblemished male a year old; you may take it from the sheep or from the goats.

sixth plagues, this ninth plague was unannounced to Pharaoh. It was possibly caused by the arrival of an unusually severe khamsin, the blinding sandstorm that blows in from the desert each year in the early spring. The darkness was an insult to the sun-god Ra (or Re), one of the chief deities of Egypt.
10:28 Pharaoh declares that he will never again grant Moses an audience. the day you see my face. During a plague of darkness, these words are somewhat ironic.
11:1 when he lets you go. The Hebrew for this phrase can also be read "as one sends away [a bride]"—i.e., laden with gifts (see Gen 24:53).
11:2–3 See 12:35–36.
11:4 Moses said. Continuing the speech of 10:29.
11:5 all the firstborn in . . . Egypt shall die. See Ps 78:51; 105:36; 135:8; 136:10. This is the ultimate disaster, since all the plans and dreams of a father were bound up in his firstborn son, who received a double share of the family estate when the father died (see Deut 21:17 and note). Moreover, judgment on the firstborn represented judgment on the entire community. slave girl who is behind the millstones. The lowliest of occupations (see Is 47:2).
11:7 distinction. See note on 8:22.
12:2 This month shall be the beginning of months. The inauguration of the religious calendar in Israel (see chart, p. 92). In the ancient Near East, new year festivals normally coincided with the new season of life in nature. The designation of this month as Israel's religious New Year reminded Israel that her life as the people of God was grounded in God's redemptive act in the exodus. The Canaanite name for this month was Abib (see 13:4; 23:15; 34:18; Deut 16:1), which means "young head of grain." Later the Babylonian name Nisan was used (see Neh 2:1; Esth 3:7). Israel's agricultural calendar began in the fall (see note on 23:16), and during the monarchy it dominated the nation's civil calendar. Both calendars (civil and religious) existed side by side until after the exile. Judaism today uses only the calendar that begins in the fall.
12:3 congregation of Israel. The Israelites gathered in assembly.
12:5 lamb . . . unblemished. See Lev 22:18–25. Similarly, Jesus was like "a lamb unblemished and spotless" (1 Pet 1:19).

6 'You shall keep it until the [a]fourteenth day of the same month, then the whole assembly of the congregation of Israel is to kill it [2][b]at twilight.

7 'Moreover, they shall take some of the blood and put it on the two doorposts and on the lintel [1]of the houses in which they eat it.

8 'They shall eat the flesh [a]that same night, [b]roasted with fire, and they shall eat it with [c]unleavened bread [1][d]and bitter herbs.

9 'Do not eat any of it raw or boiled at all with water, but rather [a]roasted with fire, both its head and its legs along with [b]its entrails.

10 'And you shall not leave any of it over until morning, but whatever is left of it until morning, you shall burn with fire.

11 'Now you shall eat it in this manner: with your loins girded, your sandals on your feet, and your staff in your hand; and you shall eat it in haste—it is [a]the LORD'S Passover.

12 'For [a]I will go through the land of Egypt on that night, and will strike down all the firstborn in the land of Egypt, both man and beast; and [b]against all the gods of Egypt I will execute judgments—[c]I am the LORD.

13 'The blood shall be a sign for you on the houses where you [1]live; and when I see the blood I will pass over you, and no plague will befall you [2]to destroy you when I strike the land of Egypt.

Feast of Unleavened Bread

14 'Now [a]this day will be [b]a memorial to you, and you shall celebrate it as a feast to the LORD; throughout your generations you are to celebrate it as [1][c]a permanent ordinance.

15 'Seven days you shall eat unleavened bread, but on the first day you shall [1]remove leaven from your houses; for whoever eats anything leavened from the first day until the seventh day, [b]that [2]person shall be cut off from Israel.

16 'On the first day you shall have a holy assembly, and another holy assembly on the seventh day; no work at all shall be done on them, except what must be eaten [1]by every person, that alone may be [2]prepared by you.

17 'You shall also observe [a]the Feast of Unleavened Bread, for on this [b]very day I brought your hosts out of the land of Egypt; therefore you shall observe this day throughout your generations as [c]a [1]permanent ordinance.

18 'In the first month, on the fourteenth day of the month at evening, you shall eat unleavened bread, until the twenty-first day of the month at evening.

19 'Seven days there shall be no leaven found in your houses; for whoever eats what is leavened, that [1][b]person shall be cut off from the congregation of Israel, whether he is an alien or a native of the land.

20 'You shall not eat anything leavened; in all your dwellings you shall eat unleavened bread.' "

21 Then [a]Moses called for all the elders of Israel and said to them, "[1]Go and [b]take for yourselves [2]lambs according to your families, and slay [c]the Passover lamb.

22 "[a]You shall take a bunch of hyssop and dip it in the blood which is in the basin, and [1]apply some of the blood that is in the basin to the lintel and the two doorposts; and none of you shall go outside the door of his house until morning.

12:6 at twilight. Lit. "between the two evenings," an idiom meaning either (1) between the decline of the sun and sunset, or (2) between sunset and nightfall—which has given rise to disputes about when the Sabbath and other holy days begin.
12:7 blood. Symbolizes a sacrifice offered as a substitute, one life laid down for another (see Lev 17:11). Thus Israel escapes the judgment about to fall on Egypt only through the mediation of a sacrifice (see Heb 9:22; 1 John 1:7).
12:8 unleavened bread. Reflecting the haste with which the people left Egypt (see vv. 11,39; Deut 16:3). bitter herbs. Endive, chicory and other bitter-tasting plants are indigenous to Egypt. Eating them would recall the bitter years of servitude there (see 1:14).
12:9 roasted . . . head . . . legs . . . entrails. The method wandering shepherds used to cook meat.
12:11 Passover. Explained in vv. 13,23,27 to mean that the Lord would "pass over" and not destroy the occupants of houses that were under the sign of the blood.
12:12 against all the gods of Egypt . . . judgments. Some had already been judged (see notes on 7:19; 8:2; 9:3; 10:21), and now all would be: (1) They would be shown to be powerless to deliver from the impending slaughter, and (2) many animals sacred to the gods would be killed.
12:13 sign. Just as the plagues were miraculous signs of judgment on Pharaoh and his people (see 8:23), so the Lord's "passing over" the Israelites who placed themselves under the sign of blood was a pledge of God's mercy.
12:14 celebrate it as a permanent ordinance. Frequent references to Passover observance occur in the rest of Scripture (see Num 9:1–5; Josh 5:10; 2 Kin 23:21–23; 2 Chr 30:1–27; 35:1–19; Ezra 6:19–22; Luke 2:41–43; John 2:13,23; 6:4; 11:55—12:1). The ordinance is still kept by practicing Jews today.
12:15 remove leaven from your houses. Yeast later was often used as a symbol of sin, such as "hypocrisy" (Luke 12:1) or "malice and wickedness" (1 Cor 5:8). Before celebrating Passover, the observant Jew today conducts a systematic (often symbolic) search of his house to remove every crumb of leavened bread that might be there (see v. 19). cut off from Israel. Removed from the covenant people by execution (see, e.g., 31:14; Lev 20:2–3) or banishment. See also Gen 17:14 and note.
12:17 Feast of Unleavened Bread. Began with the Passover meal and continued for seven days (see vv. 18–19; see also Mark 14:12).
12:21 Passover lamb. Jesus is "our Passover" (1 Cor 5:7), sacrificed "once for all" (Heb 7:27) for us.
12:22 hyssop. Here probably refers to an aromatic plant (Origanum maru) of the mint family with a straight stalk (see John 19:29) and white flowers. The hairy surface of its leaves and branches held liquids well and made it suitable as a sprinkling

A Memorial of Redemption

23 "For [a]the LORD will pass through to smite the Egyptians; and when He sees the blood on the lintel and on the two doorposts, the LORD will pass over the door and will [b]not allow the [c]destroyer to come in to your houses to smite you.

24 "And [a]you shall observe this event as an ordinance for you and your children forever.

25 "When you enter the land which the LORD will give you, as He has [1]promised, you shall observe this [2]rite.

26 "[a]And when your children say to you, '[1]What does this rite mean to you?'

27 you shall say, 'It is a Passover sacrifice to [a]the LORD [1]who passed over the houses of the sons of Israel in Egypt when He smote the Egyptians, but [2]spared our homes.' " [b]And the people bowed low and worshiped.

28 Then the sons of Israel went and did so; just as the LORD had commanded Moses and Aaron, so they did.

29 Now it came about at [a]midnight that [b]the LORD struck all [c]the firstborn in the land of Egypt, from the firstborn of Pharaoh who sat on his throne to the firstborn of the captive who was in the dungeon, and all the firstborn of [d]cattle.

30 Pharaoh arose in the night, he and all his servants and all the Egyptians, and there was [a]a great cry in Egypt, for there was no home where there was not someone dead.

31 Then [a]he called for Moses and Aaron at night and said, "Rise up, [b]get out from among my people, both you and the sons of Israel; and go, [1]worship the LORD, as you have said.

32 "Take [a]both your flocks and your herds, as you have said, and go, and bless me also."

Exodus of Israel

33 [a]The Egyptians urged the people, to send them out of the land in haste, for they said, "We will all be dead."

34 So the people took [a]their dough before it was leavened, with their kneading bowls bound up in the clothes on their shoulders.

35 [a]Now the sons of Israel had done according to the word of Moses, for they had requested from the Egyptians articles of silver and articles of gold, and clothing;

36 and the LORD had given the people favor in the sight of the Egyptians, so that they let them have their request. Thus they [a]plundered the Egyptians.

37 Now the [a]sons of Israel journeyed from [b]Rameses to Succoth, about [c]six hundred thousand men on foot, aside from children.

38 A [a]mixed multitude also went up with them, [1]along with flocks and herds, a [b]very large number of livestock.

39 They baked the dough which they had brought out of Egypt into cakes of unleavened bread. For it had not become leavened, since they were [a]driven out of Egypt and could not delay, nor had they [1]prepared any provisions for themselves.

40 Now the time [1]that the sons of Israel lived in Egypt was [a]four hundred and thirty years.

41 And at the end of four hundred and thirty years, [1]to [a]the very day, [b]all the hosts of the LORD went out from the land of Egypt.

Ordinance of the Passover

42 [a]It is a night [1]to be observed for the LORD for having brought them out from the land of Egypt; this night is for the LORD, [1]to be observed [2]by all the sons of Israel throughout their generations.

43 The LORD said to Moses and Aaron, "This is the ordinance of [a]the Passover: no [1b]foreigner is to eat of it;

44 but every man's [a]slave purchased with money, after you have circumcised him, then he may eat of it.

45 "[a]A sojourner or a hired servant shall not eat of it.

46 "It is to be eaten in a single house; you are not to bring forth any of the flesh outside device for use in purification rituals (see Lev 14:4,6,49,51–52; Num 19:6,18; Heb 9:19; see also Ps 51:7). dip it in the blood. Today at Passover meals a sprig of parsley or other plant is dipped in salt water to symbolize the lowly diet and tears of the Israelites during their time of slavery.

12:23 pass over. See note on v. 11. the destroyer. In Ps 78:49 the agent of God's wrath against the Egyptians is described as "a band of destroying angels." God often used angels to bring destructive plagues (see 2 Sam 24:15–16; 2 Kin 19:35; see also 1 Cor 10:10, a reference to Num 16:41–49).

12:26 your children say to you, 'What does this rite mean to you?' See 13:14. The Passover was to be observed as a memorial feast commemorating Israel's redemption and appropriating it anew. As observed today, it includes the asking of similar questions by the youngest child present.

12:27 Passover sacrifice. See note on v. 21. passed over. See note on v. 11.

12:29 captive who was in the dungeon. The lowliest of situations (see note on 11:5).

12:31 he called for Moses. Though he had sworn never again to grant Moses an audience (see 10:28 and note), Pharaoh now summons Moses (and Aaron) into his presence.

12:35–36 See 3:21–22; 11:2–3.

12:37 journeyed from Rameses. See 1:11; see also note on Gen 47:11. The Israelite departure took place "the next day after the Passover" (Num 33:3). Succoth. Probably modern Tell el-Maskhutah in the Wadi Tumeilat, west of the Bitter Lakes. about six hundred thousand men. A round number for 603,550 (see note on 38:26).

12:38 a mixed multitude. Possibly including such Egyptians as those mentioned in 9:20.

12:41 four hundred and thirty years, to the very day. See notes on Gen 15:13; Acts 7:6.

of the house, [a]nor are you to break any bone of it.

47 "[a]All the congregation of Israel are to [1]celebrate this.

48 "But [a]if a [1]stranger sojourns with you, and [2]celebrates the Passover to the LORD, let all his males be circumcised, and then let him come near to [3]celebrate it; and he shall be like a native of the land. But no uncircumcised person may eat of it.

49 "[1][a]The same law shall [2]apply to the native as to the [3]stranger who sojourns among you."

50 Then all the sons of Israel did so; they did just as the LORD had commanded Moses and Aaron.

51 And on that same day [a]the LORD brought the sons of Israel out of the land of Egypt [1][b]by their hosts.

Consecration of the Firstborn

13 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 2 "[a]Sanctify to Me every firstborn, the first [1]offspring of every womb among the sons of Israel, both of man and beast; it belongs to Me."

3 Moses said to the people, "[a]Remember this day in which you went out from Egypt, from the house of [1]slavery; for [b]by [2]a powerful hand the LORD brought you out from this place. [c]And nothing leavened shall be eaten.

4 "On this day in the [a]month of Abib, you are about to go forth.

5 "It shall be when the LORD [a]brings you to the land of the Canaanite, the Hittite, the Amorite, the Hivite and the Jebusite, which [b]He swore to your fathers to give you, a land flowing with milk and honey, [c]that you shall [1]observe this rite in this month.

6 "For [a]seven days you shall eat unleavened bread, and on the seventh day there shall be a feast to the LORD.

7 "Unleavened bread shall be eaten throughout the seven days; and [a]nothing leavened shall be seen [1]among you, nor shall any leaven be seen [1]among you in all your borders.

God Leads the People

17 Now when Pharaoh had let the people go, God did not lead them by the way of the land of the Philistines, even though it was 12:46 nor . . . break any bone of it. See Num 9:12; Ps 34:20; quoted in John 19:36 in reference to Jesus.

12:48 no uncircumcised person may eat of it. Only those consecrated to the Lord in covenant commitment could partake of Passover; only for them could it have its full meaning (see Gen 17:9–14). Concerning participants in the Lord's Supper see 1 Cor 11:28.

13:2 Sanctify to Me every firstborn . . . among the sons. God had adopted Israel as His firstborn (see 4:22) and had delivered every firstborn among the Israelites, whether man or animal, from the tenth plague (see 12:12–13). All the firstborn in Israel were therefore His. Jesus, Mary's firstborn son (see Luke 2:7), was presented to the Lord in accordance with this law (see Luke 2:22–23).

13:5 See note on 3:8.

13:9 sign . . . on your hand, and as a reminder on your forehead. A figure of speech (see v. 16; Deut 6:8; 11:18; see also Prov 3:3; 6:21; 7:3; Song 8:6). A literal reading of this verse has led to the practice of writing the texts of vv. 1–10, vv. 11–16, Deut 6:4–9 and Deut 11:13–21 on separate strips of parchment and placing them in two small leather boxes, which the observant Jew straps on his forehead and left arm before his morning prayers. The boxes are called "phylacteries" (Matt 23:5). This practice seems to have originated after the exile to Babylon.

13:13 every first offspring of a donkey. The economic importance of pack animals allowed for their redemption through sacrificing a lamb. redeem. See 6:6. The verb means "obtain release by means of payment." every firstborn . . . among your sons. Humans were to be consecrated to the Lord by their life, not by their death (see Gen 22:12; Num 3:39–51; cf. Rom 12:1).

13:14 See note on 12:26.

13:16 See note on v. 9.

13:17 way of the land of the Philistines. Although the most direct route from Goshen to Canaan, it was heavily guarded by a string of Egyptian fortresses.

near; for God said, "[a]The people might change their minds when they see war, and return to Egypt."

18 Hence God led the people around by the way of the wilderness to the [1]Red Sea; and the sons of Israel went up [a]in martial array from the land of Egypt.

19 Moses took [a]the bones of Joseph with him, for he had made the sons of Israel solemnly swear, saying, "God will surely [1]take care of you, and you shall carry my bones from here with you."

20 Then they set out from [a]Succoth and camped in Etham on the edge of the wilderness.

21 [a]The LORD was going before them in a pillar of cloud by day to lead them on the way, and in a pillar of fire by night to give them light, that they might [1]travel by day and by night.

22 [1]He [a]did not take away the pillar of cloud by day, nor the pillar of fire by night, from before the people.

Pharaoh in Pursuit

14 Now the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 2 "Tell the sons of Israel to turn back and camp before [a]Pi-hahiroth, between [b]Migdol and the sea; you shall camp in front of Baal-zephon, opposite it, by the sea.

3 "For Pharaoh will say of the sons of Israel, 'They are wandering aimlessly in the land; the wilderness has shut them in.'

4 "Thus [a]I will [1]harden Pharaoh's heart, and [b]he will chase after them; and I will be honored through Pharaoh and all his army, and [c]the Egyptians will know that I am the LORD." And they did so.

5 When the king of Egypt was told that the people had fled, [1]Pharaoh and his servants had a change of heart toward the people, and they said, "What is this we have done, that we have let Israel go from serving us?"

6 So he made his chariot ready and took his people with him;

7 and he took six hundred select chariots, and all the other chariots of Egypt with officers over all of them.

8 [a]The LORD [1]hardened the heart of Pharaoh, king of Egypt, and he chased after the sons of Israel as the sons of Israel were going out [2b]boldly.

9 Then [a]the Egyptians chased after them with all the horses and chariots of Pharaoh, his horsemen and his army, and they overtook them camping by the sea, [b]beside Pi-hahiroth, in front of Baal-zephon.

10 As Pharaoh drew near, the sons of Israel [1]looked, and behold, the Egyptians were marching after them, and they became very frightened; [a]so the sons of Israel cried out to the LORD.

11 Then [a]they said to Moses, "Is it because there were no graves in Egypt that you have taken us away to die in the wilderness? Why have you dealt with us in this way, [1]bringing us out of Egypt?

12 "[a]Is this not the word that we spoke to you in Egypt, saying, '[1]Leave us alone that we may serve the Egyptians'? For it would have been better for us to serve the Egyptians than to die in the wilderness."

The Sea Is Divided

13 But Moses said to the people, "[a]Do not fear! [1]Stand by and see [b]the salvation of the LORD which He will accomplish for you today; for the Egyptians whom you have seen today, you will never see them again forever.

14 "[a]The LORD will fight for you while [b]you keep silent."

15 Then the LORD said to Moses, "Why are you crying out to Me? Tell the sons of Israel to go forward.

16 "As for you, lift up [a]your staff and stretch out your hand over the sea and divide it, and the sons of Israel shall [1]go through the midst of the sea on dry land.

17 "As for Me, behold, [a]I will [1]harden the hearts of the Egyptians so that they will go in after them; and I will be honored through 13:18 way of the wilderness. Leading south along the west coast of the Sinai peninsula. Red Sea. See note on 2:3. Various locations of the crossing have been proposed along the line of the modern Suez Canal and including the northern end of the Gulf of Suez (see map No. 3 at the end of the study Bible; but see also note on 14:2). in martial array. Probably armed only with spears, bows and slings.

13:19 See notes on Gen 50:24–25.

13:20 Succoth. See note on 12:37. Etham. Location unknown.

13:21 pillar of cloud...pillar of fire. The visible symbol of God's presence among His people (see 14:24; see also note on 3:2). The Lord often spoke to them from the pillar (see Num 12:5–6; Deut 31:15–16; Ps 99:6–7).

14:2 turn back. Northward, in the general direction from which they had come. Pi-hahiroth. "Faces Baal-zephon" (Num 33:7). Migdol. Location unknown. The name means "watchtower." sea. The sea that the NASB, in accordance with established tradition, calls the Red Sea—in Hebrew Yam Suph, i.e., Sea of Reeds (see notes on 2:3; 13:18). Reference can hardly be to the northern end of the Gulf of Suez since reeds do not grow in salt water. Moreover, an Egyptian papyrus locates Baal-zephon in the vicinity of Tahpanhes (see note on Jer 2:16), a site near Lake Menzaleh about 20 miles east of Rameses. The crossing of the "Red Sea" thus probably occurred at the southern end of Lake Menzaleh (see map, p. 97; but see note on 13:18). Baal-zephon. Means "Baal of the north" or "Baal of North (Mountain)"—also the name of a Canaanite god.

14:4 know that I am the LORD. See note on 6:3.

14:7 officers. The Hebrew for the singular of this word means "third man," perhaps referring to his place in a chariot crew.

14:14 The LORD will fight for you. A necessary reminder that although Israel was armed for battle ("in martial array," 13:18) and "going out boldly" (v. 8), the victory would be won by God alone.

The Exodus

The exodus and conquest narratives form the classic historical and spiritual drama of OT times. Subsequent ages looked back to this period as one of obedient and victorious living under divine guidance. Close examination of the environment and circumstances also reveals the strenuous exertions, human sin and bloody conflicts of the era.

In historical terms, the exodus from Egypt was ignored by Egyptian scribes and recorders. No definitive monuments mention the event itself, but a stele of Pharaoh Merneptah (c. 1225 B.C.) claims that a people called Israel were encountered by Egyptian troops somewhere in northern Canaan.

Finding precise geographical and chronological details of the period is problematic, but new information has emerged from vast amounts of fragmentary archaeological and inscriptional evidence. Hittite cuneiform documents parallel the ancient covenant formula governing Israel's "national contract" with God at Mount Sinai.

The Late Bronze Age (c. 1550-1200 B.C.) was a time of major social migrations. Egyptian control over the Semites in the eastern Nile delta was harsh, with a system of brickmaking quotas imposed on the labor force, often the landless, low-class "Apiru." Numerous Canaanite towns were violently destroyed. New populations, including the "Sea Peoples," made their presence felt in Anatolia, Egypt, Canaan, Transjordan, and elsewhere in the eastern Mediterranean.

Correspondence from Canaanite town rulers to the Egyptian court in the time of Akhenaten (c. 1375 B.C.) reveals a weak structure of alliances, with an intermittent Egyptian military presence and an ominous fear of people called "Habiru" ("Apiru").

Pharaoh and all his army, through his chariots and his horsemen.

18 "[a]Then the Egyptians will know that I am the LORD, when I am honored through Pharaoh, through his chariots and his horsemen."

19 [a]The angel of God, who had been going before the camp of Israel, moved and went behind them; and the pillar of cloud moved from before them and stood behind them.

20 So it came between the camp of Egypt and the camp of Israel; and there was the cloud [1]along with the darkness, yet it gave light at night. Thus the one did not come near the other all night.

21 [a]Then Moses stretched out his hand over the sea; and the LORD [1]swept the sea back by a strong east wind all night and turned the sea into [b]dry land, so [c]the waters were divided.

22 [a]The sons of Israel [1]went through the midst of the sea on the dry land, and [b]the waters were like a wall to them on their right hand and on their left.

23 Then [a]the Egyptians took up the pursuit, and all Pharaoh's horses, his chariots and his horsemen went in after them into the midst of the sea.

24 At the morning watch, [a]the LORD looked down on the [1]army of the Egyptians [2]through the pillar of fire and cloud and brought the [1]army of the Egyptians into confusion.

25 He [1]caused their chariot wheels to swerve, and He made them drive with difficulty; so the Egyptians said, "Let [2]us flee from Israel, [a]for the LORD is fighting for them against the Egyptians."

26 Then the LORD said to Moses, "[a]Stretch out your hand over the sea so that the waters may come back over the Egyptians, over their chariots and their horsemen."

27 So Moses stretched out his hand over the sea, and [a]the sea returned to its normal state at daybreak, while the Egyptians were fleeing [1]right into it; then the LORD [2b]overthrew the Egyptians in the midst of the sea.

28 The waters returned and covered the chariots and the horsemen, [1]even Pharaoh's entire army that had gone into the sea after them; [a]not even one of them remained.

29 But the sons of Israel walked on [a]dry land through the midst of the sea, and the waters were like a wall to them on their right hand and on their left.

30 [a]Thus the LORD saved Israel that day from the hand of the Egyptians, and Israel [b]saw the Egyptians dead on the seashore.

31 When Israel saw the great [1]power which the LORD had [2]used against the Egyptians, the people [3]feared the LORD, and [a]they believed in the LORD and in His servant Moses.

The Song of Moses and Israel

15 [a]Then Moses and the sons of Israel sang this song to the LORD, [1]and said,

"[2b]I will sing to the LORD, for He [3]is highly exalted;
[c]The horse and its rider He has hurled into the sea.

2 "[1a]The LORD is my strength and song,
And He has become my salvation;
[b]This is my God, and I will praise Him;

14:19 angel of God. See note on Gen 16:7; here associated with the cloud (see 13:21).

14:20 came between the camp of Egypt and . . . Israel. The pillar of cloud (signifying the Lord's presence) protected Israel (see Ps 105:39).

14:21 strong east wind. See 10:13. In 15:8 the poet praises the Lord and calls the wind the "blast of Your nostrils," affirming (as here) that the miracle occurred in accordance with God's timing and under His direction (see 15:10).

14:22 through . . . the sea on the dry ground. In later times, psalmists and prophets reminded Israel of what God had done for them (see Ps 66:6; 106:9; 136:13–14; Is 51:10; 63:11–13). waters were like a wall. See v. 29. The waters were "piled up" (15:8) on both sides.

14:24 morning watch. Often the time for surprise attack (see Josh 10:9; 1 Sam 11:11). the LORD looked down. See note on 13:21.

14:25 the LORD is fighting for them. See note on v. 14.

14:27 the LORD overthrew the Egyptians in the midst of the sea. As He had done with the locusts of the eighth plague (see 10:19).

14:28 not even one of them remained. The Lord's victory over the pharaoh's army was complete.

14:31 feared the LORD. See note on Gen 20:11. believed in the Lord and in His servant Moses. Faith in God's mighty power and confidence in Moses' leadership. His servant. Here refers to one who has the status of a high official in the Lord's kingly administration (see Num 12:8; Deut 34:5). See also the same title applied to Joshua (Josh 24:29), Samuel (1 Sam 3:10), David (2 Sam 3:18) and Elijah (2 Kin 9:36).

15:1–18 A hymn celebrating God's spectacular victory over the pharaoh and his army. The focus of the song is God Himself (see v. 11); the divine name Yahweh ("the LORD") appears ten times. Similes—"like a stone" (v. 5), "like a heap" (v. 8) and "like lead" (v. 10)—mark the conclusion of three of the five stanzas. The first four stanzas (vv. 1–5, 6–8, 9–10, 11–12) retell the story of the "salvation" (14:13) at the Red Sea, and the final stanza (vv. 13–18) anticipates the future approach to and conquest of Canaan (the promised land).

15:1 Moses and the sons of Israel sang. As though one person, the whole community praises God. I will sing. A common way to begin a hymn of praise (see Judg 5:3; Ps 89:1; 101:1; 108:1).

15:2 The first half of the verse is quoted verbatim in Ps 118:14 (see Is 12:2).

15:3 The LORD is a warrior. See note on 14:14. God is often pictured as a king leading His people into battle (see, e.g., Deut 1:30; Judg 4:14; 2 Sam 5:24; 2 Chr 20:17–18).

Until the people pass over whom You [c]have purchased.

The horse and his rider He has hurled into the sea."

15:4 officers. See note on 14:7.

15:5 went down . . . like a stone. Babylon is similarly described in Jer 51:63–64.

15:8 See note on 14:22. blast of Your nostrils. See note on 14:21; see also Ps 18:15.

15:10 You blew with Your wind. See note on 14:21.

15:11 Who is like You . . . ? See Ps 35:10; 71:19; 89:6; 113:5; Mic 7:18. The Lord, who tolerates no rivals, has defeated all the gods of Egypt and their worshipers.

15:12 earth. Perhaps refers to Sheol or the grave (see Deut 32:22; Ps 63:9; 71:20), the realm of death below, since it was the sea that swallowed the Egyptians.

15:13 people whom You have redeemed. See note on 6:6. Your holy habitation. Perhaps a reference to the house of worship at Shiloh (see Jer 7:12), and ultimately the temple on Mount Zion (see Ps 76:2), the "place" God "chooses" (Deut 12:14,18,26; 14:25; 16:7,15–16; 17:8,10; 18:6; 31:11) to put "His name" (Deut 12:5,11,21; 14:23–24; 16:2,6,11; 26:2). But the phrase may refer to the promised land, which is called "Your dwelling" and "the sanctuary . . . Your hands have established" in v. 17.

15:14–15 Philistia . . . Edom . . . Moab . . . Canaan. The order is roughly that along the route Israel would follow from Mount Sinai to the promised land.

15:15 chiefs. The term used earlier of the Edomite rulers (see Gen 36:15–19,21,29–30,40,43).

15:16 dread fall upon them. See note on 1 Chr 14:17. purchased. Or "created" (the same alternative translation is possible in Deut 32:6). In Ps 74:2 the meaning "bought" or "purchased" is found in context with "redeemed" (see note on 13:13).

15:17 inheritance. The promised land (see 1 Sam 26:19; Ps 79:1).

15:20 prophetess. See Num 12:1–2 for a statement by Miriam concerning her prophetic gift (see note on 7:1–2). Other prophetesses in the Bible were Deborah (Judg 4:4), Isaiah's wife (Is 8:3, but see note there), Huldah (2 Kin 22:14), Noadiah (Neh 6:14), Anna (Luke 2:36) and Philip's daughters (Acts 21:9). women went out after her with timbrels and with dancing. Such celebration was common after victory in battle (see 1 Sam 18:6; 2 Sam 1:20).

15:21 Miriam repeats the first four lines of the victory hymn (see v. 1), changing only the form of the first verb.

The LORD Provides Water

22 [a]Then Moses [1]led Israel from the [2]Red Sea, and they went out into [b]the wilderness of [c]Shur; and they went three days in the wilderness and found no water.

23 When they came to [a]Marah, they could not drink the waters [1]of Marah, for they were [2]bitter; therefore it was named [3]Marah.

24 So the people [a]grumbled at Moses, saying, "What shall we drink?"

25 Then he [a]cried out to the LORD, and the LORD showed him [b]a tree; and he threw it into the waters, and the waters became sweet.

There He [c]made for them a statute and regulation, and there He [d]tested them.

26 And He said, "[a]If you will give earnest heed to the voice of the LORD your God, and do what is right in His sight, and give ear [b]to His commandments, and keep all His statutes, [c]I will put none of the diseases on you which I have put on the Egyptians; for I, [d]the LORD, am your healer."

27 Then they came to [a]Elim where there were twelve springs of water and seventy date palms, and they camped there beside the waters.

The LORD Provides Manna

16 Then they set out from Elim, and all the congregation of the sons of Israel came to the wilderness of [a]Sin, which is between Elim and Sinai, on [b]the fifteenth day of the second month after their departure from the land of Egypt.

2 The whole congregation of the sons of Israel [a]grumbled against Moses and Aaron in the wilderness.

3 The sons of Israel said to them, "[a]Would that we had died by the LORD's hand in the land of Egypt, [b]when we sat by the pots of [1]meat, when we ate bread to the full; for you have brought us out into this wilderness to kill this whole assembly with hunger."

4 Then the LORD said to Moses, "Behold, [a]I will rain bread from heaven for you; and the people shall go out and gather a day's portion every day, that I may [b]test them, whether or not they will walk in My [1]instruction.

5 "[a]On the sixth day, when they prepare what they bring in, it will be twice as much as they gather daily."

6 So Moses and Aaron said to all the sons of Israel, "At evening [1][a]you will know that the LORD has brought you out of the land of Egypt;

7 and in the morning [1]you will see [a]the glory of the LORD, for [b]He hears your grumblings against the LORD; and [c]what are we, that you grumble against us?"

The LORD Provides Meat

8 Moses said, "This will happen when the LORD gives you [1]meat to eat in the evening, and bread to the full in the morning; for the LORD hears your grumblings which you grumble against Him. And what are we? Your grumblings are [a]not against us but against the LORD."

9 Then Moses said to Aaron, "Say to all the congregation of the sons of Israel, '[a]Come near before the LORD, for He has heard your grumblings.' "

10 It came about as Aaron spoke to the whole congregation of the sons of Israel, that they [1]looked toward the wilderness, and behold, [a]the glory of the LORD appeared in the cloud.

11 And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

12 "[a]I have heard the grumblings of the sons of Israel; speak to them, saying, '[1]At 15:22 wilderness of Shur. Located east of Egypt (see Gen 25:18; 1 Sam 15:7) in the northwestern part of the Sinai peninsula. In Num 33:8 it is called the "wilderness of Etham." Shur and Etham both mean "fortress wall" (Shur in Hebrew, Etham in Egyptian).

15:23 Marah. Probably modern Ain Hawarah, inland from the Gulf of Suez and 50 miles south of its northern end.
15:24 grumbled. During their wilderness wanderings, the Israelites grumbled against Moses and Aaron whenever they faced a crisis (see 16:2; 17:3; Num 14:2; 16:11,41). In reality, however, they were grumbling against the Lord (16:8). Paul warns us not to follow their example (see 1 Cor 10:10).
15:25 he threw it into the waters, and the waters became sweet. For a similar occurrence see 2 Kin 2:19–22. a statute and regulation. Technical terms presumably referring to what follows in v. 26. tested. See note on Gen 22:1. God tested Israel also in connection with His provision of manna (see 16:4; Deut 8:2–3) and the giving of the Ten Commandments (see 20:20).
15:27 Elim. Seven miles south of Ain Hawarah (see note on v. 23) in the well-watered valley of Gharandel. date palms. Elim means "large trees."
16:1 from Elim . . . to the wilderness of Sin. See Num 33:10–11. The wilderness of Sin was in southwestern Sinai ("Sin" is probably derived from "Sinai") in the region today called Debbet er-Ramleh. fifteenth day of the second month. Exactly one month had passed since Israel's exodus from Egypt (see 12:2,6,29,31).
16:2 grumbled. See note on 15:24.
16:3 meat. Num 11:5 lists additional items of food from Egypt that the Israelites craved.
16:4 bread from heaven. Jesus called Himself "the bread out of heaven" (John 6:32), "the bread of God" (John 6:33), "the bread of life" (John 6:35,48), "the living bread that came down out of heaven" (John 6:51)—all in the spiritual sense (John 6:63). For a similar application see Deut 8:3 and Jesus' quotation of it in Matt 4:4. go out and gather a day's portion every day. Probably the background for Jesus' model petition in Matt 6:11; Luke 11:3. test. See notes on 15:25; Gen 22:1.
16:5 sixth day . . . twice as much as they gather daily. To provide for "the seventh day, the sabbath" (v. 26), "a sabbath observance" (v. 23). See v. 29.
16:6 know. See note on 6:3.
16:8 meat . . . in the evening, and bread . . . in the morning. See vv. 13–14.
16:10 glory of the LORD appeared in the cloud. See 24:15–17; see also note on 13:21.

twilight you shall eat [2]meat, and in the morning you shall be filled with bread; and [b]you shall know that I am the LORD your God.' "

13 So it came about at evening that [a]the quails came up and covered the camp, and in the morning [b]there was a layer of dew around the camp.

14 [a]When the layer of dew [1]evaporated, behold, on the [2]surface of the wilderness [b]there was a fine flake-like thing, fine as the frost on the ground.

15 When the sons of Israel saw it, they said to one another, "[1]What is it?" For they did not know what it was. And Moses said to them, "[a]It is the bread which the LORD has given you to eat.

16 "This is [1]what the LORD has commanded, 'Gather of it every man [2]as much as he should eat; you shall take [3][a]an omer apiece according to the number of persons each of you has in his tent.' "

17 The sons of Israel did so, and some gathered much and some little.

18 When they measured it with an omer, [a]he who had gathered much had no excess, and he who had gathered little had no lack; every man gathered [1]as much as he should eat.

19 Moses said to them, "[a]Let no man leave any of it until morning."

20 But they did not listen to Moses, and some left part of it until morning, and it bred worms and became foul; and Moses was angry with them.

21 They gathered it morning by morning, every man [1]as much as he should eat; but when the sun grew hot, it would melt.

The Sabbath Observed

22 [a]Now on the sixth day they gathered twice as much bread, two omers for each one. When all the [b]leaders of the congregation came and told Moses,

23 then he said to them, "This is what the LORD [1]meant: [a]Tomorrow is a sabbath observance, a holy sabbath to the LORD. Bake what you will bake and boil what you will boil, and [b]all that is left over [2]put aside to be kept until morning."

24 So they [1]put it aside until morning, as Moses had ordered, and [a]it did not become foul nor was there any worm in it.

25 Moses said, "Eat it today, for today is a sabbath to the LORD; today you will not find it in the field.

26 "[a]Six days you shall gather it, but on the seventh day, the sabbath, there will be [1]none."

27 It came about on the seventh day that some of the people went out to gather, but they found none.

28 Then the LORD said to Moses, "[a]How long do you refuse to keep My commandments and My [1]instructions?

29 "See, [1]the LORD has given you the sabbath; therefore He gives you bread for two days on the sixth day. Remain every man in his place; let no man go out of his place on the seventh day."

30 So the people rested on the seventh day.

31 The house of [a]Israel named it [1]manna, and it was like [b]coriander seed, white, and its taste was like wafers with honey.

32 Then Moses said, "This is [1]what the LORD has commanded, 'Let an omerful of it be kept throughout your generations, that they may see the bread that I fed you in the wilderness, when I brought you out of the land of Egypt.' "

33 Moses said to Aaron, "[a]Take a jar and put an omerful of manna in it, and place it before the LORD to be kept throughout your generations."

34 As the LORD commanded Moses, so Aaron placed it before [a]the Testimony, to be kept.

35 [a]The sons of Israel ate the manna forty years, until they came to an inhabited land; they ate the manna until they came to the border of the land of Canaan.

36 (Now [a]an omer is a tenth of an [1]ephah.)

Water in the Rock

17 Then all the congregation of the sons of Israel journeyed by [1]stages from the wilderness of [a]Sin, according to the [2]command of the LORD, and camped at [b]Rephidim, and there was no water for the people to drink.

16:18 See 2 Cor 8:15, where Paul quotes the heart of the verse as an illustration of Christians who share with each other what they possess.
16:23 sabbath. The first occurrence of the word itself, though the principle of the seventh day as a day of rest and holiness is set forth in the account of creation (see note on Gen 2:3).
16:29 See note on v. 5.
16:31 manna. See note on Num 11:7.
16:33 jar. Said in Heb 9:4 to be made of gold.
16:34 Testimony. Anticipates the later description of the tablets containing the Ten Commandments as the "two tablets of the testimony" (31:18; 32:15; 34:29), which gave their name to the "ark of the testimony" (25:22; 26:33) in which they were placed (see 25:16,21) along with the jar of manna (see Heb 9:4; see also Rev 2:17 and note).
16:35 ate the manna forty years . . . until they came to . . . Canaan. The manna stopped at the time the Israelites celebrated their first Passover in Canaan (see Josh 5:10–12).
17:1 journeyed by stages. For the places to which they journeyed see Num 33:12–14. Rephidim. Probably either the Wadi Refayid or the Wadi Feiran, both near Jebel Musa (see note on 3:1) in southern Sinai.

2 Therefore the people [a]quarreled with Moses and said, "Give us water that we may drink." And Moses said to them, "[b]Why do you quarrel with me? [c]Why do you test the LORD?"

3 But the people thirsted there for water; and [1]they [a]grumbled against Moses and said, "Why, now, have you brought us up from Egypt, to kill [2]us and [3]our children and [3b]our livestock with thirst?"

4 So Moses cried out to the LORD, saying, "What shall I do to this people? A [a]little more and they will stone me."

5 Then the LORD said to Moses, "Pass before the people and take with you some of [a]the elders of Israel; and take in your hand your staff with which [b]you struck the Nile, and go.

6 "Behold, I will stand before you there on the rock at [a]Horeb; and [b]you shall strike the rock, and water will come out of it, that the people may drink." And Moses did so in the sight of the elders of Israel.

7 He named the place [1a]Massah and [2b]Meribah because of the quarrel of the sons of Israel, and because they [c]tested the LORD, saying, "Is the LORD among us, or not?"

Amalek Fought

8 Then [a]Amalek came and fought against Israel at [b]Rephidim.

9 So Moses said to [a]Joshua, "Choose men for us and go out, fight against Amalek. Tomorrow I will station myself on the top of the hill with [b]the staff of God in my hand."

10 Joshua did as Moses [1]told him, [2]and fought against Amalek; and Moses, Aaron, and [a]Hur went up to the top of the hill.

11 So it came about when Moses held his hand up, that Israel prevailed, and when he let his hand [1]down, Amalek prevailed.

12 But Moses' hands were heavy. Then they took a stone and put it under him, and he sat on it; and Aaron and Hur [a]supported his hands, one on one side and one on the other. Thus his hands were steady until the sun set.

13 So Joshua [1]overwhelmed Amalek and his people with the edge of the sword.

14 Then the LORD said to Moses, "[a]Write this in [1]a book as a memorial and [2]recite it to Joshua, [3]that [b]I will utterly blot out the memory of Amalek from under heaven."

15 Moses built an [a]altar and named it [b]The LORD is My Banner;

16 and he said, "[1a]The LORD has sworn; the LORD will have war against Amalek from generation to generation."

Jethro, Moses' Father-in-law

18 Now [a]Jethro, the priest of Midian, Moses' father-in-law, heard of all that God had done for Moses and for Israel His people, how the LORD had brought Israel out of Egypt.

2 Jethro, Moses' father-in-law, took Moses' wife [a]Zipporah, after he had sent her away, 17:4 this people. The same note of distance and alienation ("this people" instead of "my people") in such situations (see also the interplay in 32:7, 9–11; 33:13) is found often in the prophets (see, e.g., Is 6:9; Hag 1:2).

17:6 I will stand . . . there on the rock. Paul may have had this incident in mind when he spoke of Christ as "a spiritual rock which followed" Israel (see 1 Cor 10:4; see also Heb 11:24–26). Horeb. See note on 3:1. Strike the rock, and water will come out. The event was later celebrated by Israel's hymn writers and prophets (see Ps 78:15–16,20; 105:41; 114:8; Is 48:21).
17:7 Massah and Meribah. Heb 3:7–8,15 (quoting Ps 95:7–8) gives the meaning "day of trial" for Massah and "provoked" for Meribah. Another Meribah, where a similar incident occurred near Kadesh-barnea (see note on Gen 14:7), is referred to in Num 20:13,24; 27:14; Deut 32:51; 33:8; Ps 81:7; 106:32; Ezek 47:19; 48:28.
17:8 Amalek. See note on Gen 14:7.
17:9 Joshua. The name given by Moses to Hoshea son of Nun (see Num 13:16). "Hoshea" means "salvation," while "Joshua" means "The LORD saves." The Greek form of the name Joshua is the same as that of the name Jesus. Joshua was from the tribe of Ephraim (Num 13:8), one of the most powerful of the 12 tribes (see notes on Gen 48:6,19). fight against Amalek. Joshua's military prowess uniquely suited him to be the conqueror of Canaan 40 years later, while his faith in God and loyalty to Moses suited him to be Moses' "servant" (24:13; 33:11) and successor (see Deut 1:38; 3:28; 31:14; 34:9; Josh 1:5).
17:10 Hur. Perhaps the same Hur who was the son of Caleb and the grandfather of Bezalel (see 1 Chr 2:19–20), one of the builders of the tabernacle (see 31:2–5).
17:11 held his hand up. A symbol of appeal to God for help and enablement (see note on 9:29; see also 9:22; 10:12; 14:16).
17:14 Write. See 24:4; 34:27–28; Num 33:2; Deut 28:58; 29:20,21,27; 30:10; 31:9,19,22,24; see also Introduction: Author and Date of Writing. book. Or "scroll," a long strip of leather or papyrus on which scribes wrote in columns (see Jer 36:23) with pen (see Is 8:1) and ink (see Jer 36:18), sometimes on both sides (see Ezek 2:10; Rev 5:1). After being rolled into a scroll, the "book" was often sealed (see Is 29:11; Dan 12:4; Rev 5:1–2,5,9) to protect its contents. Scrolls were of various sizes (see Is 8:1; Rev 10:2,9–10). Certain Egyptian examples reached lengths of over 100 feet; Biblical scrolls, however, rarely exceeded 30 feet in length, as in the case of a book like Isaiah (see Luke 4:17). Reading the contents of a scroll involved the awkward procedure of unrolling it with one hand while rolling it up with the other (see Is 34:4; Ezek 2:10; Luke 4:17,20; Rev 6:14). Shortly after the time of Christ the scroll gave way to the book form still used today.
17:15 My Banner. Recalling Moses' petition with upraised hands (see vv. 11–12,16) and testifying to the power of God displayed in defense of His people.
18:1 Jethro, the priest of Midian. See note on 2:16.
18:2 sent her away. Apparently Moses sent Zipporah to her father with the news that the Lord had blessed his mission (see v. 1) and that he was in the vicinity of Mount Sinai with Israel.

named Gershom, for Moses said, "I have been [b]a [2]sojourner in a foreign land."

4 [1]The other was named [2a]Eliezer, for he said, "[b]The God of my father was my help, and delivered me from the sword of Pharaoh."

5 Then Jethro, Moses' father-in-law, came with his sons and his wife to Moses [1]in the wilderness where he was camped, at [a]the mount of God.

6 He [1]sent word to Moses, "I, your father-in-law Jethro, am coming to you with your wife and her two sons with her."

7 Then Moses went out to meet his father-in-law, and [a]he bowed down and [b]kissed him; and they [c]asked each other of their welfare and went into the tent.

8 Moses told his father-in-law all that the LORD had done to Pharaoh and to the Egyptians [a]for Israel's sake, all the [b]hardship that had befallen them on the journey, and how [c]the LORD had delivered them.

9 Jethro rejoiced over all [a]the goodness which the LORD had done to Israel, [1]in delivering [2]them from the hand of the Egyptians.

10 So Jethro said, "[a]Blessed be the LORD who delivered you from the hand of the Egyptians and from the hand of Pharaoh, and who delivered the people from under the hand of the Egyptians.

11 "Now I know that [a]the LORD is greater than all the gods; [1]indeed, [b]it was proven when they dealt proudly against [2]the people."

12 [a]Then Jethro, Moses' father-in-law, took a burnt offering and sacrifices for God, and Aaron came with all the elders of Israel to eat [1]a meal with Moses' father-in-law before God.

13 It came about the next day that Moses sat to judge the people, and the people stood about Moses from the morning until the evening.

14 Now when Moses' father-in-law saw all that he was doing for the people, he said, "What is this thing that you are doing for the people? Why do you alone sit as judge and all the people stand about you from morning until evening?"

15 Moses said to his father-in-law, "Because the people come to me [a]to inquire of God.

16 "When they have a [1a]dispute, it comes to me, and I judge between a man and his neighbor and make known the statutes of God and His laws."

Jethro Counsels Moses

17 Moses' father-in-law said to him, "The thing that you are doing is not good.

18 "[a]You will surely wear out, both yourself and [1]these people who are with you, for the [2]task is too heavy for you; [b]you cannot do it alone.

19 "Now listen to [1]me: I will give you counsel, and God be with you. [2]You be the people's representative before God, and you [a]bring the [3]disputes to God, 20 [a]then teach them the statutes and the laws, and make known to them [b]the way in which they are to walk and the work they are to do.

21 "Furthermore, you shall [1]select out of all the people [a]able men [b]who fear God, men of truth, those who [c]hate dishonest gain; and you shall place these over them as leaders of thousands, [2]of hundreds, [2]of fifties and [2]of tens.

22 "Let them judge the people at all times; and let it be [a]that every major [1]dispute they will bring to you, but every minor [1]dispute they themselves will judge. So it will be easier for you, and [b]they will bear the burden with you.

23 "If you do this thing and God so commands you, then you will be able to [1]endure, and all [2]these people also will go to [3]their place in peace."

24 So Moses listened [1]to his father-in-law and did all that he had said.

25 Moses chose [a]able men out of all Israel and made them heads over the people, leaders of thousands, [1]of hundreds, [1]of fifties and [1]of tens.

26 They judged the people at all times; [a]the difficult [1]dispute they would bring to Moses, but every minor [1]dispute they themselves would judge.

27 Then Moses [1a]bade his father-in-law farewell, and he went his way into his own land.

Moses on Sinai

19 [a]In the third month after the sons of Israel had gone out of the land of Egypt, [1]on that very day they came into the wilderness of [b]Sinai.

2 When they set out from [a]Rephidim, they came to the wilderness of Sinai and camped in the wilderness; and there Israel camped in front of [b]the mountain.

18:5 mount of God. See 3:1 and note.
18:11 Now I know that the LORD is greater than all the gods. See the similar confession of Naaman in 2 Kin 5:15.
18:12 took. The verb means "provided" an animal for sacrifice (see, e.g., 25:2; Lev 12:8), not "officiated at" a sacrifice. eat a meal with. A token of friendship (contrast the battle with the Amalekites, 17:8–16). Such a meal often climaxed the establishment of a treaty (see Gen 31:54; Ex 24:11).
18:15 to inquire of God. Usually by going to a place of worship (see Gen 25:22 and note; Num 27:21) or to a prophet (see 1 Sam 9:9; 1 Kin 22:8).
18:16 statutes of God and His laws. The process of compiling and systematizing the body of divine law that would govern the newly formed nation of Israel may have already begun (see 15:25–26 and note on Gen 26:5).
18:21 men who fear God. See note on Gen 20:11.
19:2 wilderness of Sinai. Located in the southeast region of the peninsula (see note on 3:1). The narrator locates there the

3 Moses went up to God, and [a]the LORD called to him from the mountain, saying, "Thus you shall say to the house of Jacob and tell the sons of Israel:

4 '[a]You yourselves have seen what I did to the Egyptians, and how I bore you on [b]eagles' wings, and brought you to Myself.

5 'Now then, [a]if you will indeed obey My voice and [b]keep My covenant, then you shall be [c]My [1]own possession among all the peoples, for [d]all the earth is Mine;

6 and you shall be to Me [a]a kingdom of priests and [b]a holy nation.' These are the words that you shall speak to the sons of Israel."

7 [a]So Moses came and called the elders of the people, and set before them all these words which the LORD had commanded him.

8 [a]All the people answered together and said, "All that the LORD has spoken we will do!" And Moses brought back the words of the people to the LORD.

9 The LORD said to Moses, "Behold, I will come to you in [a]a thick cloud, so that the [b]people may hear when I speak with you and may also believe in you forever." Then Moses told the words of the people to the LORD.

10 The LORD also said to Moses, "Go to the people and [a]consecrate them today and tomorrow, and let them [b]wash their garments;

11 and let them be ready for the third day, for on [a]the third day the LORD will come down on Mount Sinai in the sight of all the people.

12 "You shall set bounds for the people all around, saying, '[1]Beware that you do not go up on the mountain or touch the border of it; [a]whoever touches the mountain shall surely be put to death.

13 'No hand shall touch him, but [a]he shall surely be stoned or [1]shot through; whether beast or man, he shall not live.' When the ram's horn sounds a long blast, they shall come up to [b]the mountain."

14 So Moses went down from the mountain to the people and consecrated the people, and they washed their garments.

15 He said to the people, "Be ready for the third day; do not go near a woman."

16 [a]So it came about on the third day, when it was morning, that there were [1]thunder and lightning flashes and a thick cloud upon the mountain and a very loud trumpet sound, so that all the people who were in the camp trembled.

17 And Moses brought the people out of the camp to meet God, and they stood at the [1]foot of the mountain.

The LORD Visits Sinai

18 [a]Now Mount Sinai was all in smoke because the LORD descended upon it [b]in fire; and its smoke ascended like [c]the smoke of a furnace, and [d]the whole mountain [1]quaked violently.

19 When the sound of the trumpet grew louder and louder, Moses spoke and [a]God answered him with [1]thunder.

20 [a]The LORD came down on Mount Sinai, to the top of the mountain; and the LORD called Moses to the top of the mountain, and Moses went up.

21 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, "Go down, [1]warn the people, so that [a]they do not break through to the LORD to gaze, and many of them [2]perish.

22 "Also let the [a]priests who come near to the LORD consecrate themselves, or else the LORD will break out against them."

23 Moses said to the LORD, "The people cannot come up to Mount Sinai, for You events recorded in the rest of Exodus, all of Leviticus, and Num 1:1–10:10.

19:3 Jacob . . . Israel. See note on 1:1.

19:4 I bore you on eagles' wings. The description best fits the female golden eagle.

19:5 if . . . then. The covenant between God and Israel at Mount Sinai is the outgrowth and extension of the Lord's covenant with Abraham and his descendants 600 years earlier (see chart, p. 16). Participation in the divine blessings is conditioned on obedience added to faith (see note on Gen 17:9). My covenant. See note on Gen 9:9. My own possession among all the peoples. The equivalent phrases used of Christians in 1 Pet 2:9 are "chosen race" and "people for God's own possession" (see Deut 7:6; 14:2; 26:18; Ps 135:4; Mal 3:17). all the earth is Mine. God is the Creator and Possessor of the earth and everything in it (see Gen 14:19,22; Ps 24:1–2).

19:6 kingdom of priests. Israel was to constitute the Lord's kingdom (the people who acknowledged Him as their King) and, like priests, was to be wholly consecrated to His service (see Is 61:6; cf. 1 Pet 2:5; Rev 1:6; 5:10; 20:6). holy nation. See 1 Pet 2:9. God's people, both individually and collectively, are to be set apart (see note on 3:5) to do His will (see Deut 7:6; 14:2,21; 26:19; Is 62:12).

19:8 All that the LORD has spoken we will do. The people promised to obey the terms of the covenant (see 24:3,7; Deut 5:27).

19:9 thick cloud. See 13:21 and note. the people may hear when I speak. See Deut 4:33. may . . . believe in you forever. See 14:31 and note.

19:10–11 Outward preparation to meet God symbolizes the inward consecration God requires of His people.

19:12–13 The whole mountain becomes holy because of God's presence (see 3:5 and note). Israel must keep herself from the mountain even as she is to keep herself from the tabernacle (see Num 3:10).

19:15 do not go near a woman. Not because sex is sinful but because it may leave the participants ceremonially unclean (see Lev 15:18; see also 1 Sam 21:4–5).

19:16 thunder . . . lightning . . . loud trumpet sound. God's appearance is often accompanied by an impressive display of meteorological sights and sounds (see, e.g., 1 Sam 7:10; 12:18; Job 38:1; 40:6; Ps 18:13–14). thick cloud. See 13:21 and note.

19:18 fire . . . smoke of a furnace. See Gen 15:17 and note.

19:22 priests. See also v. 24. Before the Aaronic priesthood was established (see 28:1), priestly functions were performed either by the elders (see note on 3:16; see also 3:18; 12:21; 18:12) or by designated younger men (see 24:5). But perhaps the verse

[1]warned us, saying, '[a]Set bounds about the mountain and consecrate it.' "

24 Then the LORD said to him, "[1]Go down and come up again, [a]you and Aaron with you; but do not let the [b]priests and the people break through to come up to the LORD, or He will break forth upon them."

25 So Moses went down to the people and told them.

The Ten Commandments

20 Then God spoke all these words, saying,

2 "[a]I am the LORD your God, [b]who brought you out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of [1]slavery.

3 "[a]You shall have no other [b]gods [1]before Me.

4 "[a]You shall not make for yourself [1]an idol, or any likeness of what is in heaven above or on the earth beneath or in the water under the earth.

5 "[a]You shall not worship them or serve them; for I, the LORD your God, am a [b]jealous God, [c]visiting the iniquity of the fathers on the children, on the third and the fourth generations of those who hate Me,

6 but showing lovingkindness to [a]thousands, to those who love Me and keep My commandments.

7 "[a]You shall not take the name of the LORD your God in vain, for the LORD will not [1]leave him unpunished who takes His name in vain.

8 "Remember [a]the sabbath day, to keep it holy.

9 "[a]Six days you shall labor and do all your work,

10 but the seventh day is a sabbath of the LORD your God; in it [a]you shall not do any work, you or your son or your daughter, your male or your female servant or your cattle or your sojourner who [1]stays with you.

11 "[a]For in six days the LORD made the heavens and the earth, the sea and all that is in them, and rested on the seventh day; therefore the LORD blessed the sabbath day and made it holy.

anticipates the regulations for the Aaronic priests who will be appointed. who come near to the LORD. To officiate at sacrifices (see 40:32; Lev 21:23).

20:1–17 See Deut 5:6–21; see also Matt 5:21,27; 19:17–19; Mark 10:19; Luke 18:20; Rom 13:9; Eph 6:2–3.

20:1 words. A technical term for "(covenant) stipulations" in the ancient Near East (e.g., among the Hittites; see also 24:3,8; 34:28). The basic code in Israel's divine law is found in vv. 2–17, elsewhere called the "Ten Commandments" (34:28; Deut 4:13; 10:4), the Hebrew words for which mean lit. "Ten Words." "Decalogue," a term of Greek origin often used as a synonym for the Ten Commandments, also means lit. "Ten Words."

20:2 I am the LORD your God, who brought you out. The Decalogue reflects the structure of the contemporary royal treaties (see note on Gen 15:7). On the basis of (1) a preamble, in which the great king identified himself ("I am the LORD your God"), and (2) a historical prologue, in which he sketched his previous gracious acts toward the subject king or people ("who brought you out . . ."), the Lord then set forth (3) the treaty (covenant) stipulations (see Deut 5:1–3,7–21) to be obeyed (in this case, ten in number: vv. 3–17). Use of this ancient royal treaty pattern shows that the Lord is here formally acknowledged as Israel's King and that Israel is His subject people. As His subjects, His covenant people are to render complete submission, allegiance and obedience to Him out of gratitude for His mercies, reverence for His sovereignty, and trust in His continuing care. See chart, p. 16.

20:3 before. The Hebrew for this word is translated "in hostility toward" in Gen 16:12; 25:18. Something of that sense may be intended here. In any event, no deity, real or imagined, is to rival the one true God in Israel's heart and life.

20:4 idol, or any likeness. Because God has no visible form, any idol intended to resemble Him would be a sinful misrepresentation of Him (see Deut 4:12,15–18). Since other gods are not to be worshiped (see v. 5), making idols of them would be equally sinful (see Deut 4:19,23–28).

20:5 jealous God. God will not put up with rivalry or unfaithfulness. Usually His "jealousy" concerns Israel and assumes the covenant relationship (analogous to marriage) and the Lord's exclusive right to possess Israel and to claim her love and allegiance. Actually, jealousy is part of the vocabulary of love. The "jealousy" of God (1) demands exclusive devotion to Himself (see 34:14; Deut 4:24; 32:16,21; Josh 24:19; Ps 78:58; 1 Cor 10:22; James 4:5), (2) delivers to judgment all who oppose Him (see Deut 29:20; 1 Kin 14:22; Ps 79:5; Is 42:13; 59:17; Ezek 5:13; 16:38; 23:25; 36:5; Nah 1:2; Zeph 1:18; 3:8) and (3) vindicates His people (see 2 Kin 19:31; Is 9:7; 26:11; Ezek 39:25; Joel 2:18; Zech 1:14; 8:2). In some of these passages the meaning is closer to "zeal" (the same Hebrew word may be translated either way, depending on context). on the third and fourth generations of those who hate Me. Those Israelites who blatantly violate God's covenant and thus show that they reject the Lord as their King will bring down judgment on themselves and their households (see, e.g., Num 16:31–34; Josh 7:24 and note)—households were usually extended to "three or four" generations. See note on Ps 109:12. hate. In covenant contexts the terms "hate" and "love" (v. 6) were conventionally used to indicate rejection of or loyalty to the covenant Lord.

20:6 to thousands, to those. See 1 Chr 16:15; Ps 105:8. love Me and keep My commandments. See John 14:15; 1 John 5:3. In the treaty language of the ancient Near East the "love" owed to the great king was a conventional term for total allegiance and implicit trust expressing itself in obedient service.

20:7 take the name of the LORD . . . in vain. By profaning God's name—e.g., by swearing falsely by it (see Lev 19:12; see also Jer 7:9), as on the witness stand in court. Jesus elaborates on oath-taking in Matt 5:33–37.

20:8 See Gen 2:3. sabbath. See note on 16:23. holy. See note on 3:5.

20:9 Six days. The question of a shorter "work week" in a modern industrialized culture is not in view.

20:10 in it you shall not do any work. Two reasons (one here and one in Deuteronomy) are given: (1) Having completed His work of creation God "rested on the seventh day" (v. 11), and the Israelites are to observe the same pattern in their service of God in the creation; (2) the Israelites must cease all labor so that their servants can also participate in the Sabbath-rest—just as God had delivered His people from the burden of slavery in Egypt (see Deut 5:14–15). The Sabbath thus became a "sign" of the covenant between God and Israel at Mount Sinai (see 31:12–17; see also note on Gen 9:12).

12 "[a]Honor your father and your mother, that your [b]days may be prolonged in the land which the LORD your God gives you.

13 "[a]You shall not murder.

14 "[a]You shall not commit adultery.

15 "[a]You shall not steal.

16 "[a]You shall not bear false witness against your [b]neighbor.

17 "[a]You shall not covet your neighbor's house; [b]you shall not covet your neighbor's wife or his male servant or his female servant or his ox or his donkey or anything that belongs to your neighbor."

18 [a]All the people perceived the [1]thunder and the lightning flashes and the sound of the trumpet and the mountain smoking; and when the people saw it, they trembled and stood at a distance.

19 [a]Then they said to Moses, "Speak [1]to us yourself and we will listen; but let not God speak [1]to us, or we will die."

20 Moses said to the people, "[a]Do not be afraid; for God has come in order [b]to test you, and in order that [c]the fear of Him may [1]remain with you, so that you may not sin."

21 So the people stood at a distance, while Moses approached [a]the thick cloud where God was.

22 Then the LORD said to Moses, "Thus you shall say to the sons of Israel, 'You yourselves have seen that [a]I have spoken [1]to you from heaven.

2 "If you buy [a]a Hebrew slave, he shall serve for six years; but on the seventh he shall go out as a free man without payment.

3 "If he comes [1]alone, he shall go out [1]alone; if he is the husband of a wife, then his wife shall go out with him.

20:12 Honor. (1) Prize highly (see Prov 4:8), (2) care for (see Ps 91:15), (3) show respect for (see Lev 19:3; 20:9), and (4) obey (see Deut 21:18–21; cf. Eph 6:1). that your days may be prolonged. "The first commandment with a promise" (Eph 6:2). See also note on Deut 6:2.

20:13 See Matt 5:21–26. murder. The Hebrew for this verb usually refers to a premeditated and deliberate act.

20:14 See Matt 5:27–30. adultery. A sin "against God" (Gen 39:9) as well as against the marriage partner.

20:17 covet. Desire something with evil motivation (see Matt 15:19). To break God's commandments inwardly is equivalent to breaking them outwardly (see Matt 5:21–30).

20:18–21 Concludes the account of the giving of the Decalogue. The order of the narrative appears to be different from the order of events, since v. 18 is most likely a continuation of 19:25. On this reading, the proclamation of the Decalogue took place after Moses approached God (v. 21). Biblical writers often did not follow chronological sequence in their narratives for various literary reasons. The purpose of chronological displacement here may have been either (1) to keep the Decalogue distinct from the "book of the covenant" (24:7) that follows (20:22–23:19), or (2) to conclude the account with the formal institution of Moses' office as covenant mediator—or both.

20:19 See Heb 12:19–20. Israel requests a mediator to stand between them and God, a role fulfilled by Moses and subsequently by priests, prophets and kings—and ultimately by Jesus Christ (see 1 Tim 2:5).

20:20 Do not be afraid. Do not think that God's display of His majesty is intended simply to fill you with abject fear. He has come to enter into covenant with you as your heavenly King. test. See note on Gen 22:1. fear of Him. See note on Gen 20:11.

20:22–23:19 The stipulations of the "book of the covenant" (24:7), consisting largely of expansions on and expositions of the Ten Commandments. See chart, p. 255.

20:22–26 Initial stipulations governing Israel's basic relationship with God (cf. v. 3).

20:22 heaven. God's dwelling place. Even on "top of the mountain" (19:20) God spoke from heaven.

20:23 See vv. 3–4. The contrast between the one true God "in the heavens," who "does whatever He pleases" (Ps 115:3), and idols of silver or gold, who can do nothing at all (see Ps 115:4–7; see also Ps 135:5–6,15–17), is striking indeed.

20:24 altar of earth. Such an altar, with dimensions the same as those of the altar in the tabernacle (see 27:1), has been found in the excavated ruins of a small Iron Age (10th, or possibly 11th, century B.C.) Israelite temple at Arad in southern Israel. burnt offerings. See note on Lev 1:3. peace offerings. See note on Lev 3:1. every place. The numerous temporary places of worship (see, e.g., Josh 8:30–31; Judg 6:24; 21:4; 1 Sam 7:17; 14:35; 2 Sam 24:25; 1 Kin 18:30).

20:25 you shall not build it of cut stones. Many ancient altars of undressed stones (from various periods) have been found in Israel. if you wield your tool on it, you will profane it. For reasons not now clear, but perhaps related to pagan practices.

20:26 steps. The oldest stepped altar known in Israel is at Megiddo and dates between 3000 and 2500 B.C. nakedness . . . be exposed. Men who ascended to such altars would expose their nakedness in the presence of God. Although Aaron and his descendants served at stepped altars (see Lev 9:22; Ezek 43:17), they were instructed to wear linen undergarments (see 28:42–43; Lev 6:10; 16:3–4; Ezek 44:17–18).

21:2–11 See Jer 34:8–22.

21:2 Hebrew. See note on Gen 14:13. on the seventh he shall go out as a free man. The Lord's servants are not to be anyone's perpetual slaves (see 20:10 and note).

her children shall belong to her master, and he shall go out [1]alone.

5 "But [a]if the slave plainly says, 'I love my master, my wife and my children; I will not go out as a free man,'

6 then his master shall bring him to [1]God, then he shall bring him to the door or the doorpost. And his master shall pierce his ear with an awl; and he shall serve him permanently.

7 "[a]If a man sells his daughter as a female slave, she is not to [1]go free [b]as the male slaves [1]do.

8 "If she is [1]displeasing in the eyes of her master [2]who designated her for himself, then he shall let her be redeemed. He does not have authority to sell her to a foreign people because of his [3]unfairness to her.

9 "If he designates her for his son, he shall deal with her according to the custom of daughters.

10 "If he takes to himself another woman, he may not reduce her [1]food, her clothing, or [a]her conjugal rights.

11 "If he will not do these three things for her, then she shall go out for nothing, without payment of money.

Personal Injuries

12 "[a]He who strikes a man so that he dies shall surely be put to death.

13 "[a]But [1]if he did not lie in wait for him, but [b]God let him fall into his hand, then I will appoint you a place to which he may flee.

14 "[a]If, however, a man acts presumptuously toward his neighbor, so as to kill him craftily, you are to take him even from My altar, that he may die.

15 "He who strikes his father or his mother shall surely be put to death.

16 "[a]He who [1]kidnaps a man, whether he sells him or he is found in his [2]possession, shall surely be put to death.

21:6 God. Or "the judges" (see 22:8–9,28). pierce his ear with an awl. See Deut 15:17. Submission to this rite symbolized willing service (see Ps 40:6–8 and note on Ps 40:6).
21:12–15 See 20:13 and note; see also Num 35:16–34; Deut 19:1–13; 21:1–9; 24:7; 27:24–25; Josh 20:1–9.
21:12 See Gen 9:6 and note.
21:13 did not lie in wait for him. Related terms and expressions are "unintentionally" (Num 35:11), "without enmity" (Num 35:22), "was not his enemy" (Num 35:23), "not seeking his injury" (Num 35:23) and "not hating him previously" (Deut 19:4). Premeditated murder is thus distinguished from accidental manslaughter. God let him fall into his hand. The event is beyond human control—in modern legal terminology, an "act of God." place. A city of refuge (see Num 35:6–32; Deut 19:1–13; Josh 20:1–9; 21:13,21,27,32,38).
21:14 even from My altar. The horns of the altar were a final refuge for those subject to judicial action (see 1 Kin 1:50–51; 2:28; Amos 3:14 and notes).
21:15 See 20:12.
21:16 See 20:15.
21:19 walks around outside on his staff. Is convalescing in a satisfactory way. his loss of time. Lit. "his sitting," i.e., his enforced idleness.
21:20–21 Benefit of doubt was granted to the slaveholder where no homicidal intentions could be proved.
21:23–25 See Deut 19:21. The so-called law of retaliation, as its contexts show, was meant to limit the punishment to fit the crime. By invoking the law of love, Jesus corrected the popular misunderstanding of the law of retaliation (see Matt 5:38–42). See note on Lev 24:20.
21:23 any further injury. Either to mother or to child.
21:26–27 Humane applications of the law of retaliation.
21:28–32 The law of the goring ox.
21:28 the ox shall surely be stoned. By killing someone, the ox becomes accountable for that person's life (see Gen 9:5).
21:30 If a ransom is demanded. If the victim's family is willing to accept a ransom payment instead of demanding the death penalty. he shall give for the redemption of his life. The ransom is not to compensate the victim's family but to save the negligent man's life.

31 "Whether it gores a son or [1]a daughter, it shall be done to him according to [2]the same rule.

32 "If the ox gores a male or female slave, [1]the owner shall give his or her master [a]thirty shekels of silver, and the ox shall be stoned.

33 "If a man opens a pit, or [1]digs a pit and does not cover it over, and an ox or a donkey falls into it, 34 the owner of the pit shall make restitution; he shall [1]give money to its owner, and the dead animal shall become his.

35 "If one man's ox hurts another's so that it dies, then they shall sell the live ox and divide its price equally; and also they shall divide the dead ox.

36 "Or if it is known that the ox was previously in the habit of goring, yet its owner has not confined it, he shall surely pay ox for ox, and the dead animal shall become his.

Property Rights

22 "[1]If a man steals an ox or a sheep and slaughters it or sells it, he shall pay five oxen for the ox and [a]four sheep for the sheep.

2 "[1]If the [a]thief is [2]caught while breaking in and is struck so that he dies, there will be no bloodguiltiness on his account.

3 "But if the sun has risen on him, there will be bloodguiltiness on his account. He shall surely make restitution; if he owns nothing, then he shall be [a]sold for his theft.

4 "If what he stole is actually found alive in his [1]possession, whether an ox or a donkey or a sheep, [a]he shall pay double.

5 "If a man lets a field or vineyard be grazed bare and lets his animal loose so that it grazes in another man's field, he shall make restitution from the best of his own field and the best of his own vineyard.

6 "If a fire breaks out and spreads to thorn bushes, so that stacked grain or the standing grain or the field itself is consumed, he who started the fire shall surely make restitution.

7 "[a]If a man gives his neighbor money or goods to keep for him and it is stolen from the man's house, if the thief is [1]caught, he shall pay double.

Sundry Laws

16 "[a]If a man seduces a virgin who is not engaged, and lies with her, he must pay a dowry for her to be his wife.

17 "If her father absolutely refuses to give her to him, he shall [1]pay money equal to the [a]dowry for virgins.

19 "[a]Whoever lies with an animal shall surely be put to death.

20 "[a]He who sacrifices to [1]any god, other than to the LORD alone, shall be [2]utterly destroyed.

21 "[a]You shall not wrong a stranger or oppress him, for you were strangers in the land of Egypt.

22 "[a]You shall not afflict any widow or orphan.

21:32 thirty shekels of silver. Apparently the standard price for a slave. It was also the amount Judas was willing to accept as his price for betraying Jesus (see Matt 26:14–15; see also Zech 11:12–13). shekels. See note on Gen 20:16.

21:33–36 Laws concerning injuries to animals.

22:1–15 Laws concerning property rights (see 20:15).

22:2 An act of self-defense in darkness does not produce bloodguilt.

22:3 Killing an intruder in broad daylight is not justifiable.

22:5 from the best. Restitution should always err on the side of quality and generosity.

22:6 thorn bushes. Often used as hedges (see Mic 7:4) bordering cultivated areas.

22:11 See 20:7 and note. an oath before the LORD. The judges were God's representatives in court cases (see 21:6; 22:8–9,28).

22:12–13 Similar laws apparently existed as early as the patriarchal period (see Gen 31:39).

22:16–31 General laws related to social obligations.

22:16 dowry. A gift, usually substantial, given by the prospective groom to the bride's family as payment for her (see Gen 24:53). The custom is still followed today in parts of the Middle East.

22:18 See Deut 18:10,14; 1 Sam 28:9; Is 47:12–14.

22:19 Ancient myths and epics describe acts of bestiality performed by pagan gods and demigods in Babylon and Canaan.

22:20 See 20:3–5. The total destruction (see NASB marg.) of the idolatrous Canaanites was later commanded by the Lord (see Num 21:2; Deut 2:34; 3:6; 7:2; 13:15; 20:17; Josh 2:10; 6:17,21; 8:25; 10:1,28,35,37,39–40; 11:11–12,20–21; Judg 1:17).

22:21–27 That the poor, the widow, the orphan, the alien—in 23 "If you afflict him at all, and [a]if he does cry out to Me, [b]I will surely hear his cry;

24 and My anger will be kindled, and I will kill you with the sword, [a]and your wives shall become widows and your children fatherless.
25 "[a]If you lend money to My people, to the poor [1]among you, you are not to [2]act as a creditor to him; you shall not [3]charge him [b]interest.
26 "If you ever take your neighbor's cloak [a]as a pledge, you are to return it to him before the sun sets,
27 for that is his only covering; it is his cloak for his [1]body. What else shall he sleep in? And it shall come about that [a]when he cries out to Me, I will hear him, for [b]I am gracious.
28 "You shall not [1a]curse God, [b]nor curse a ruler of your people.
29 "[a]You shall not delay the offering from [1]your harvest and your vintage. [b]The firstborn of your sons you shall give to Me.
30 "[a]You shall do the same with your oxen and with your sheep. It shall be with its mother seven days; [b]on the eighth day you shall give it to Me.
31 "[a]You shall be holy men to Me, therefore [b]you shall not eat any flesh torn to pieces in the field; you shall throw it to the dogs.

Sundry Laws

23 "[a]You shall not bear a false report; do not join your hand with a wicked man to be a [b]malicious witness.
2 "You shall not follow [1]the masses in doing evil, nor shall you [2]testify in a dispute so as to turn aside after [1]a multitude in order to [a]pervert justice;
3 [a]nor shall you [1]be partial to a poor man in his dispute.
4 "[a]If you meet your enemy's ox or his donkey wandering away, you shall surely return it to him.
5 "[a]If you see the donkey of one who hates you lying helpless under its load, you shall refrain from leaving it to him, you shall surely release it with him.
6 "[a]You shall not pervert the justice due to your needy brother in his dispute.
7 "[a]Keep far from a false charge, and [b]do not kill the innocent or the righteous, for [c]I will not acquit the guilty.
8 "[a]You shall not take a bribe, for a bribe blinds the clear-sighted and [1]subverts the cause of the just.
9 "[a]You shall not oppress a [1]stranger, since you yourselves know the [2]feelings of a [1]stranger, for you also were [1]strangers in the land of Egypt.

The Sabbath and Land

10 "[a]You shall sow your land for six years and gather in its yield,
11 but on the seventh year you shall let it [1]rest and lie fallow, so that the needy of your people may eat; and whatever they leave the beast of the field may eat. You are to do the same with your vineyard and your olive grove.
12 "[a]Six days you are to do your work, but on the seventh day you shall cease from labor so that your ox and your donkey may rest, and the son of your female slave, as well as [1]your stranger, may refresh themselves.
13 "Now [a]concerning everything which I have said to you, be on your guard; and [b]do not mention the name of other gods, nor let them be heard [1]from your mouth.

fact, all defenseless people—are objects of God's special concern and providential care is clear from the writings of Moses (see 21:26–27; 23:6–12; Lev 19:9–10; Deut 14:29; 16:11,14; 24:19–21; 26:12–13), the psalmists (see Ps 10:14,17–18; 68:5; 82:3; 146:9) and the prophets (see Is 1:23; 10:2; Jer 7:6; 22:3; Zech 7:10; Mal 3:5) as well as from the teachings of Jesus (see, e.g., Matt 25:34–45).

22:25–27 Laws dealing with interest on loans (see Lev 25:35–37; Deut 15:7–11; 23:19–20; see also Neh 5:7–12; Job 24:9; Prov 28:8; Ezek 18:13; 22:12). Interest for profit was not to be charged at the expense of the poor. Generosity in such matters was extended even further by Jesus (see Luke 6:34–35).

22:26–27 If all that a man had to offer as his pledge for a loan was his cloak, he was among the poorest of the poor (see Amos 2:8 and note).

22:28 not curse God. Or "not revile the judges." nor curse a ruler of your people. A ruler was God's representative; quoted by a penitent Paul after he had unwittingly insulted the high priest (see Acts 23:4–5).

22:29 firstborn . . . give to Me. See notes on 4:22; 13:2,13; see also 13:15.

22:30 do the same with your oxen and with your sheep. See notes on 13:2; 13:13; see also 13:12,15. on the eighth day you shall give it to Me. The same principle applied in a different way to firstborn sons as well (see note on Gen 17:12).

22:31 Since God's people were "a kingdom of priests" (see 19:6 and note), they were to obey a law later specified for members of the Aaronic priesthood (see Lev 22:8) as well.

23:1–9 Most of the regulations in this section pertain to 20:16.

23:1 See Lev 19:16; Deut 22:13–19; 1 Kin 21:10–13.

23:4–5 Those hostile to you are to be shown the same consideration as others (see Deut 22:1–4; Prov 25:21). Jesus teaches that this means "love your enemies" (Matt 5:44).

23:7 1 Kin 21:10–13 is a vivid illustration of violation of this law.

23:8 See Deut 16:19. Samuel exemplifies faithful stewardship in this regard (see 1 Sam 12:3), while his sons do not (see 1 Sam 8:3).

23:10–13 Extensions of the principles taught in 20:8–11; Deut 5:12–15.

23:14–19 See 34:18–26; Lev 23:4–44; Num 28:16–29:40; Deut 16:1–17.

15 "You shall observe [a]the Feast of Unleavened Bread; for seven days you are to eat unleavened bread, as I commanded you, at the appointed time in the [b]month Abib, for in it you came out of Egypt. And [1][c]none shall appear before Me empty-handed.

16 "Also you shall observe [a]the Feast of the Harvest of the first fruits of your labors from what you sow in the field; also the Feast of the Ingathering at the end of the year [b]when you gather in the fruit of your labors from the field.

17 "[a]Three times a year all your males shall appear before the Lord [1]GOD.

18 "[a]You shall not offer the blood of My sacrifice with leavened bread; [b]nor is the fat of My [1]feast to remain overnight until morning.

19 "You shall bring [a]the choice first fruits of your soil into the house of the LORD your God.

"[b]You are not to boil a young goat in the milk of its mother.

Conquest of the Land

20 "Behold, I am going to send [a]an angel before you to guard you along the way and [b]to bring you into the place which I have prepared.

21 "Be on your guard before him and obey his voice; [a]do not be rebellious toward him, for he will not pardon your transgression, since [b]My name is in him.

22 "But if you truly obey his voice and do all that I say, then [a]I will be an enemy to your enemies and an adversary to your adversaries.

23 "[a]For My angel will go before you and bring you in to the land of the Amorites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Canaanites, the Hivites and the Jebusites; and I will completely destroy them.

24 "[a]You shall not worship their gods, nor serve them, nor do according to their deeds; [b]but you shall utterly overthrow them and break their [c]sacred pillars in pieces.

25 "[a]But you shall serve the LORD your God, [1]and He will bless your bread and your water; and [b]I will remove sickness from your midst.

26 "There shall be no one miscarrying or [a]barren in your land; [b]I will fulfill the number of your days.

27 "I will [a]send My terror ahead of you, and [b]throw into confusion all the people among whom you come, and I will [c]make all your enemies turn their backs to you.

28 "I will send [a]hornets ahead of you so that they will [b]drive out the Hivites, the Canaanites, and the Hittites before you.

29 "[a]I will not drive them out before you in a single year, that the land may not become desolate and the beasts of the field become too numerous for you.

30 "I will drive them out before you [a]little by little, until you become fruitful and take possession of the land.

31 "[a]I will fix your boundary from the [1]Red Sea to the sea of the Philistines, and from the wilderness to the River Euphrates; [b]for I will deliver the inhabitants of the land into your hand, and you will [c]drive them out before you.

32 "[a]You shall [1]make no covenant with them [b]or with their gods.

23:15 Feast of Unleavened Bread. Celebrated from the 15th through the 21st days of the first month (usually about mid-March to mid-April; see note on 12:2) at the beginning of the barley harvest; it commemorated the exodus.
23:16 Feast of the Harvest. Also called the "Feast of Weeks" (34:22) because it was held seven weeks after the Feast of Unleavened Bread. It was celebrated on the sixth day of the third month (usually about mid-May to mid-June) during the wheat harvest. In later Judaism it came to commemorate the giving of the law on Mount Sinai, though there is no evidence of this significance in the OT. In NT times it was called "(the day of) Pentecost" (Acts 2:1; 20:16; 1 Cor 16:8), which means "50" (see Lev 23:16). Feast of the Ingathering. Also called the "Feast of Booths" (Lev 23:34) because the Israelites lived in temporary shelters when God brought them out of Egypt (see Lev 23:43). It was celebrated from the 15th through the 22nd days of the seventh month (usually about mid-September to mid-October) when the produce of the orchards and vines had been harvested; it commemorated the wilderness wanderings after the exodus. end of the year. End of the agricultural year, which began in the fall (see note on 12:2).
23:17 all your males. Normally accompanied by their families (see, e.g., 1 Sam 1).
23:18 not . . . with leavened bread. See note on 12:15. nor . . . remain overnight until morning. See 12:9–10.
23:19 first fruits. Representative of the whole harvest. The offering of first fruits was an acknowledgment that the harvest was from the Lord and belonged wholly to Him. You are not to boil a young goat in the milk of its mother. Perhaps a protest against a Canaanite pagan ritual (see v. 33; 34:15).
23:20 angel. See 14:19; see also note on Gen 16:7. place . . . I have prepared. Canaan (cf. the similar statement of Jesus in John 14:2–3).
23:21 name. Representing God's presence.
23:22 if. See note on 19:5.
23:23 See 3:8 and note.
23:28 hornets. The meaning of the Hebrew for this word is uncertain. The Septuagint (the Greek translation of the OT) renders it "wasp," but the translators may have been guessing. In any event, the Lord promises to send some agent to disable or frighten the peoples of Canaan so that they will not be able to resist Israel's invasion. But probably the word involves concrete imagery and the focus of the statement is on the effects—therefore we are not to look for some historical agent to which the word metaphorically refers (cf. Is 7:18).
23:30 little by little. See Judg 1.
23:31 See Gen 15:18; 1 Kin 4:21. Red Sea. The (south)eastern border (here the modern Gulf of Aqaba; see note on 1 Kin 9:26). sea of the Philistines. The western border (the Mediterranean). the wilderness. The southern border (northeastern Sinai; see note on Gen 15:18). the River. The northern border (the Euphrates River).

33 "[a]They shall not live in your land, because they will make you sin against Me; for if you serve their gods, [b]it will surely be a snare to you."

People Affirm Their Covenant with God

24 Then He said to Moses, "[a]Come up to the LORD, you and Aaron, [b]Nadab and Abihu and [c]seventy of the elders of Israel, and you shall worship at a distance.

2 "Moses alone, however, shall come near to the LORD, but they shall not come near, nor shall the people come up with him."

3 Then Moses came and recounted to the people all the words of the LORD and all the [1]ordinances; and all the people answered with one voice and said, "[a]All the words which the LORD has spoken we will do!"

4 [a]Moses wrote down all the words of the LORD. Then he arose early in the morning, and built an [b]altar [1]at the foot of the mountain with twelve pillars for the twelve tribes of Israel.

5 He sent young men of the sons of Israel, [a]and they offered burnt offerings and sacrificed young bulls as peace offerings to the LORD.

6 [a]Moses took half of the blood and put it in basins, and the other half of the blood he sprinkled on the altar.

7 Then he took [a]the book of the covenant and read it in the hearing of the people; and they said, "[b]All that the LORD has spoken we will do, and we will be obedient!"

8 So [a]Moses took the blood and sprinkled it on the people, and said, "Behold [b]the blood of the covenant, which the LORD has [1]made with you [2]in accordance with all these words."

9 Then Moses went up [1]with Aaron, [a]Nadab and Abihu, and seventy of the elders of Israel,

10 and [a]they saw the God of Israel; and under His feet [1][b]there appeared to be a pavement of sapphire, [2]as clear as the sky itself.

11 Yet He did not stretch out His hand against the nobles of the sons of Israel; and [a]they saw God, and they ate and drank.

12 Now the LORD said to Moses, "Come up to Me on the mountain and [1]remain there, and [a]I will give you the stone tablets [2]with the law and the commandment which I have written for their instruction."

13 So Moses arose [1]with [a]Joshua his [2]servant, and Moses went up to [b]the mountain of God.

14 But to the elders he said, "[a]Wait here for us until we return to you. And behold, [b]Aaron and Hur are with you; whoever [1]has a legal matter, let him approach them."

15 Then Moses went up to the mountain, and [a]the cloud covered the mountain.

16 [a]The glory of the LORD [1]rested on Mount Sinai, and the cloud covered it for six days; and on the seventh day He [b]called to Moses from the midst of the cloud.

17 [a]And to the eyes of the sons of Israel the appearance of the glory of the LORD was like a [b]consuming fire on the mountain top.

18 Moses entered the midst of the cloud [1]as he went up to the mountain; and Moses was on the mountain [a]forty days and forty nights.

23:33 snare. A symbol of destruction (see 10:7; Job 18:9; Ps 18:5; Prov 13:14; 21:6; Is 24:17–18).
24:1 Come up. The action, temporarily interrupted for the book of the covenant (20:22–23:33), is resumed from 20:21. Moses and his associates would ascend the mountain after the events of vv. 3–8. Nadab and Abihu. Aaron's two oldest sons. Nadab would have succeeded Aaron as high priest, but he and his brother died because they offered unauthorized fire before the Lord (see Lev 10:1–2; Num 3:4). seventy . . . elders. Cf. Num 11:16; perhaps representing Jacob's 70 descendants (see 1:5; Gen 46:27 and note). elders. See note on 3:16. at a distance. See 20:21.
24:2 Moses alone. The mediator between God and the people of Israel. Jesus, who is greater than Moses (see Heb 3:1–6), is the "mediator of a new covenant" (Heb 12:24).
24:3 words. Probably refers to the Ten Commandments (see 20:1 and note). ordinances. Probably refers to the stipulations of the book of the covenant (21:1–23:19). we will do. See v. 7; see also 19:8 and note.
24:4 Moses wrote. See note on 17:14; see also Introduction: Author and Date of Writing. twelve pillars for. See Josh 4:5,20; 1 Kin 18:31.
24:5 young men . . . offered. See note on 19:22.
24:6 half of the blood . . . the other half. The division of the blood points to the twofold aspect of the "blood of the covenant" (v. 8): The blood on the altar symbolizes God's forgiveness and His acceptance of the offering; the blood on the people points to an oath that binds them in obedience (see vv. 3,7).
24:7 book of the covenant. Strictly speaking, 20:22–23:19 (see note there)—but here implying also the stipulations of 20:2–17; 23:20–33. we will do . . . we will be obedient. See v. 3; see also 19:8 and note.
24:8 Only after the people agreed to obey the Lord could they participate in His covenant with them. blood of the covenant. See Mark 14:24 and note.
24:9 went up. See v. 1 and note.
24:10 saw . . . God. But not in the fullness of His glory (see 33:20; see also notes on 3:6; Gen 16:13; Num 12:8; Ezek 1:28). sapphire. Or "lapis lazuli." sky. Symbolized by the blue color of the "lapis lazuli" (see Ezek 1:26).
24:11 stretch out His hand against. See 9:15. nobles. Lit. "corners," "corner supports"; used in the sense of "nobles" only here. Cf. Gal 2:9. ate and drank. A covenant meal (cf. Gen 26:30; 31:54), celebrating the sealing of the covenant described in vv. 3–8. It foreshadows the Lord's Supper, which celebrates the new covenant sealed by Christ's death (see 1 Cor 11:25–26).
24:12 Come up. See note on v. 1. stone tablets. See note on 31:18. their. The people's. instruction. As instruction from the covenant Lord, the laws were divine directives.

24:14 Hur. See note on 17:10.
24:17 glory of the LORD. See 16:10.
24:18 was on the mountain. Moses did not come down until he had received instructions concerning the tabernacle and its furnishings (see 32:15). forty days and forty nights. Jesus, the new Moses (see note on v. 2), fasted for the same length of time (see Matt 4:2).

Offerings for the Sanctuary

25 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,
2 "[a]Tell the sons of Israel to [1]raise a [2]contribution for Me; [b]from every man whose heart moves him you shall [1]raise My [2]contribution.

3 "This is the [1]contribution which you are to [2]raise from them: gold, silver and bronze,

6 [a]oil for lighting, [b]spices for the anointing oil and for the fragrant incense,

7 onyx stones and setting stones for the [a]ephod and for the [1][b]breastpiece.

8 "Let them [a]construct a sanctuary for Me, [b]that I may dwell among them.

9 "[a]According to all that I am going to show you, as the pattern of the tabernacle and the pattern of all its furniture, just so you shall construct it.

25:2 contribution. Here refers to a voluntary contribution.
25:4 blue, purple and scarlet. Royal colors. blue, purple. Dyes derived from various shellfish (primarily the murex) that swarm in the waters of the northeast Mediterranean. So important for the local economy was the dyeing industry that the promised land was known as Canaan (which means "land of purple"), later called Phoenicia (also meaning "land of purple") by the Greeks. scarlet. Derived from the eggs and carcasses of the worm Coccus ilicis, which attaches itself to the leaves of the holly plant. fine linen. A very high quality cloth (often used by Egyptian royalty) made from thread spun from the fibers of flax straw. The Hebrew for this term derives ultimately from Egyptian. Excellent examples of unusually white, tightly woven linen have been found in ancient Egyptian tombs. Some are so finely woven that they cannot be distinguished from silk without the use of a magnifying glass. goat hair. From long-haired goats. A coarse, black (cf. Song 1:5; 6:5) material, it was often used to weave cloth for tents.
25:5 rams' skins dyed red. After all the wool had been removed from the skins. The final product was similar to present-day morocco leather. porpoise. Native to the Red Sea. acacia. The wood is darker and harder than oak and is avoided by wood-eating insects. It is common in the Sinai peninsula.
25:6 spices. Those used in the anointing oil are identified in 30:23–24 as myrrh (balsam sap), cinnamon (bark of the cinnamon tree, a species of laurel), cane (pith from the root of a reed plant) and cassia (made from dried flowers of the cinnamon tree). Those used in the fragrant incense are identified in 30:34 as stacte (a powder taken from the middle of hardened drops of myrrh—rare and very valuable), onycha (made from mollusk shells) and galbanum (a rubbery resin taken from the roots of a flowering plant that thrives in Syria and Persia).
25:7 setting stones. See 28:17–20.
25:8 sanctuary. Lit. "holy place," "place set apart." See note on 3:5.
25:9 tabernacle. Lit. "dwelling place." The word is rarely used of human dwellings; it almost always signifies the place where God dwells among His people (see v. 8; 29:45–46; Lev 26:11; Ezek 37:27; cf. John 1:14; Rev 21:3). pattern. See note on v. 40.
25:10 ark. See v. 14. That is, "chest" (such was its form and function). The Hebrew for this word is translated by the more traditional term "ark" throughout the rest of Exodus (see note on Deut 10:1–3); it is different from that used to refer to Noah's ark and to the reed basket in which the infant Moses was placed (see note on 2:3). Of all the tabernacle furnishings, the ark is mentioned first probably because it symbolized the throne of the Lord (see 1 Sam 4:4; 2 Sam 6:2), the great King, who chose to dwell among His people (see note on v. 9).
25:11 pure gold. Uncontaminated by silver or other impurities.
25:12 rings. Lit. "houses," "housings," into which poles were inserted to carry the ark (see v. 14).
25:16 testimony. The two tablets on which were inscribed the Ten Commandments as the basic stipulations of the Sinai covenant (see 20:1–17; 31:18). The Hebrew word for "testimony" is related to a Babylonian word meaning "covenant stipulations." See also notes on v. 22; 16:34.
25:17 mercy. Or "atonement." It speaks of reconciliation, the divine act of grace whereby God draws to Himself and makes "at one" with Him those who were once alienated from Him. In the OT, the shed blood of sacrificial offerings effected atonement (see Lev 17:11 and note); in the NT, the blood of Jesus, shed once for all time, does the same (see Rom 3:25; 1 John 2:2). mercy seat. Or "atonement cover" (see note on Lev 16:2). That God's symbolic throne was capped with an atonement cover signified His great mercy toward His people—only such a God can be revered (see Ps 130:3–4).
25:18 cherubim. Probably similar to the carvings of winged sphinxes that adorned the armrests of royal thrones (see note on v. 10) in many parts of the ancient Near East (see also note on Gen 3:24). In the OT the cherubim were symbolic attendants that marked the place of the Lord's "enthronement" in His earthly kingdom (see 1 Sam 4:4; 2 Sam 6:2; 2 Kin 19:15; Ps 99:1). From the cover of the ark (God's symbolic throne) the Lord gave directions to Moses (see v. 22; Num 7:89). Later the ark's presence in 20 "[a]The cherubim shall have their wings spread upward, covering the mercy seat with their wings and [1]facing one another; the faces of the cherubim are to be turned toward the mercy seat.

21 "[a]You shall put the mercy seat [1]on top of the ark, and [b]in the ark you shall put the testimony which I will give to you.

22 "[a]There I will meet with you; and from above the mercy seat, from [b]between the two cherubim which are upon the ark of the testimony, I will speak to you about all that I will give you in commandment for the sons of Israel.

The Table of Showbread

23 "[a]You shall make a table of acacia wood, two cubits [1]long and one cubit [2]wide and one and a half cubits [3]high.

24 "You shall overlay it with pure gold and make a gold [a]border around it.

25 "You shall make for it a rim of a handbreadth around it; and you shall make a gold border for the rim around it.

26 "You shall make four gold rings for it and put rings on the four corners which are on its four feet.

27 "The rings shall be close to the rim as holders for the poles to carry the table.

28 "You shall make the poles of acacia wood and overlay them with gold, so that with them the table may be carried.

29 "You shall make its [1][a]dishes and its pans and its jars and its [2]bowls with which to pour drink offerings; you shall make them of pure gold.

30 "You shall set [a]the bread of the [1]Presence on the table before Me [2]at all times.

The Golden Lampstand

31 "[a]Then you shall make a lampstand of pure gold. The lampstand and its base and its shaft are to be made of hammered work; its cups, its [1]bulbs and its flowers shall be of one piece with it.

32 "[a]Six branches shall go out from its sides; three branches of the lampstand from its one side and three branches of the lampstand from its [1]other side.

33 "[a]Three cups shall be shaped like almond blossoms in the one branch, a [1]bulb and a flower, and three cups shaped like almond blossoms in the [2]other branch, a [1]bulb and a flower—so for six branches going out from the lampstand;

34 and [a]in the lampstand four cups shaped like almond blossoms, its [1]bulbs and its flowers.

35 "[a]A [1]bulb shall be under the first pair of branches coming out of it, and a [1]bulb under the second pair of branches coming out of it, and a [1]bulb under the third pair of branches coming out of it, for the six branches coming out of the lampstand.

36 "[a]Their [1]bulbs and their branches shall be of one piece with it; all of it shall be one piece of hammered work of pure gold.

37 "Then you shall make its lamps seven in number; and [a]they shall [1]mount its lamps so as to shed light on the space in front of it.

38 "Its snuffers and [1]their trays shall be of pure gold.

39 "It shall be made from a talent of pure gold, with all these utensils.

40 "[a]See that you make them [b]after the pattern for them, which was shown to you on the mountain.

the temple at Jerusalem would designate it as God's earthly royal city (see Ps 9:11; 18:10 and notes).

25:22 I will meet with you. See note on 27:21. ark of the testimony. Called this because it contained the testimony (see note on v. 16). The phrase "ark of the testimony" is a synonym of the more familiar phrase "ark of the covenant" (see, e.g., Num 10:33).

25:23 table. The table taken from the second (Zerubbabel's) temple by Antiochus Epiphanes is depicted on the Arch of Titus among the items the Romans took back to Rome after conquering Jerusalem in A.D. 70.

25:26 rings. See note on v. 12.

25:30 bread of the Presence. Traditionally "showbread." In this phrase, "Presence" refers to the presence of God Himself (as in 33:14–15; Is 63:9). The bread (twelve loaves, one for each tribe) represented a perpetual bread offering to the Lord by which Israel declared that she consecrated to God the fruits of her labors, and by which she at the same time acknowledged that all such fruit had been hers only by God's blessing. See Lev 24:5–9.

25:31 its cups, its bulbs and its flowers. The design is patterned after an almond tree (see v. 33), the first of the trees in the Near East to blossom in spring. The cups of the lampstand resemble either the calyx (outer covering of the flower) or the almond nut.

25:37 lamps. The ancient lamp was a small clay saucer with part of its rim pinched together to form a spout from which protruded the top of a wick fed by oil contained in the saucer. (Examples of seven-spouted lamps come from the time of Moses.) The ruins of Beth Shan and Megiddo have yielded examples of a metal pedestal topped by a ledge designed to carry a lamp. The classic representation of the shape of the tabernacle lampstand comes from the time of Herod the Great and may be seen on the Arch of Titus in Rome. The lamps were to burn all night in the tabernacle, tended by the priests. Oil for the lamps was to be supplied by the people; the light from the lamps represented the glory of the Lord reflected in the consecrated lives of the Israelites—Israel's glory answering to God's glory in the tabernacle (29:43). See 27:20–21. seven. Signifying completeness.

25:40 Quoted in Heb 8:5 in order to contrast the "shadow" (the trappings of the old covenant) with the reality (the Christ of the new covenant). See also Heb 10:1.

26:1 tabernacle. See note on 25:9. Its basic structure was to be 15 feet wide by 45 feet long by 15 feet high. Over an inner lining of embroidered linen (vv. 1–6), it was to have a covering woven of goat hair (vv. 7–13) and two additional coverings of leather, one made from ram skins dyed red and one from the hides of porpoises (v. 14). Internally, the ceiling was probably

The Tabernacle

The new religious observances taught by Moses in the wilderness centered on rituals connected with the tabernacle, and amplified Israel's sense of separateness, purity and oneness under the Lordship of Yahweh.

A few wilderness shrines have been found in Sinai, notably at Serabit el-Khadem and at Timnah in the Negev, and show marked Egyptian influence.

Specific cultural antecedents to portable shrines carried on poles and covered with thin sheets of gold can be found in ancient Egypt as early as the Old Kingdom (2800-2250 B.C.), but were especially prominent in the 18th and 19th dynasties (1570-1180). The best examples come from the fabulous tomb of Tutankhamun, c. 1350.

Comparisons of construction details in the text of Ex 25-40 with the frames, shrines, poles, sheathing, draped fabric covers, gilt rosettes, and winged protective figures from the shrine of Tutankhamun are instructive. The period, the Late Bronze Age, is equivalent in all dating systems to the era of Moses and the exodus.

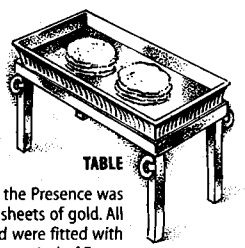
Tabernacle Furnishings

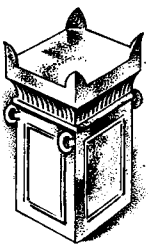
The symbolism of God's redemptive covenant was preserved in the tabernacle, making each element an object lesson for the worshiper. The Levitical priests, including some with Egyptian names and perhaps Egyptian training, gave meticulous attention to facts about the shrine. Reconstruction of the furnishings is possible because of extremely detailed descriptions and precise measurements recorded in Exodus 25–40.



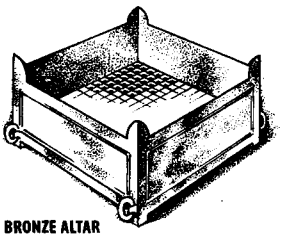
ARK OF THE COVENANT

The ark of the Testimony (or Covenant) compares with the roughly contemporary shrine and funerary furniture of King Tutankhamun (c. 1350 B.C.), which, along with the Nimrud and Samaria ivories from a later period, have been used to guide the graphic interpretation of the text. Both sources show the conventional way of depicting extreme reverence, with facing winged guardians shielding a sacred place.

LAMPSTAND



The traditional form of the lampstand is not attested archaeologically until much later.



TABLE

The table holding the bread of the Presence was made of wood covered with thin sheets of gold. All of the objects were portable and were fitted with rings and carrying poles, practices typical of Egyptian ritual processions as early as the Old Kingdom.

INCENSE ALTAR

BRONZE ALTAR

The altar of burnt offering was made of wood overlaid with bronze. The size, five cubits square and three cubits high, matches altars found at Arad and Beersheba from the period of the monarchy.

29 "You shall overlay the boards with gold and make their rings of gold as holders for the bars; and you shall overlay the bars with gold.

30 "Then you shall erect the tabernacle [a]according to its plan which you have been shown in the mountain.

The Veil and Screen

31 "You shall make [a]a veil of [1]blue and purple and scarlet material and fine twisted linen; it shall be made with cherubim, the work of a skillful workman.

32 "You shall [1]hang it on four pillars of acacia overlaid with gold, their hooks also being of gold, on four [2]sockets of silver.

33 "You shall [1]hang up the veil under the clasps, and shall bring in [a]the ark of the testimony there within the veil; and the veil shall [2]serve for you as a partition [b]between the holy place and the holy of holies.

34 "[a]You shall put the mercy seat on the ark of the testimony in the holy of holies.

35 "[a]You shall set the table outside the veil, and the [b]lampstand opposite the table on the side of the tabernacle toward the south; and you shall put the table on the north side.

36 "[a]You shall make a screen for the doorway of the tent of [1]blue and purple and scarlet material and fine twisted linen, the work of a [2]weaver.

37 "[a]You shall make five pillars of acacia for the screen and overlay them with gold, their hooks also being of gold; and you shall cast five [1]sockets of [2]bronze for them.

The Bronze Altar

27 "And you shall make [a]the altar of acacia wood, five [1]cubits long and five cubits wide; the altar shall be square, and its height shall be three cubits.

2 "You shall make [a]its horns on its four corners; its horns shall be of one piece with it, and you shall overlay it with [1]bronze.

3 "You shall make its pails for removing its ashes, and its shovels and its basins and its forks and its firepans; you shall make all its utensils of bronze.

4 "You shall make for it a grating of network of bronze, and on the net you shall make four bronze rings [1]at its four corners.

5 "You shall put it beneath, under the ledge of the altar, so that the net will reach halfway up the altar.

6 "You shall make poles for the altar, poles of acacia wood, and overlay them with bronze.

7 "Its poles shall be inserted into the rings, so that the poles shall be on the two sides of the altar [a]when it is carried.

8 "You shall make it hollow with planks; [a]as it was shown to you in the mountain, so they shall make it.

Court of the Tabernacle

9 "You shall make [a]the court of the [1]tabernacle. [2]On the south side there shall be hangings for the court of fine twisted linen one hundred cubits long for one side;

10 and its pillars shall be twenty, with their twenty [1]sockets of bronze; the hooks of the pillars and their [2]bands shall be of silver.

26:29 rings. Lit. "houses," "housings" (see note on 25:12).
26:30 plan. See note on 25:40.
26:31–35 A curtain was to divide the tabernacle into two rooms, the holy place and the holy of holies, with the former twice as large as the latter. The holy of holies probably formed a perfect cube, 15 feet by 15 feet by 15 feet. Enclosed with linen curtains embroidered with cherubim and containing only the ark of the testimony, it represented God's throne room. The holy place represented His royal guest chamber where His people symbolically came before Him in the bread of the Presence (see note on 25:30), the light from the lampstand (see note on 25:37) and the incense from the altar of incense (see note on 30:1).
26:31 veil. To separate the holy place from the holy of holies (see v. 33). It was called the "screening veil" (39:34; 40:21; Num 4:5) because it screened the ark (see 27:21; see also notes on 16:34; 25:22). At the moment when Christ died, the curtain of Herod's temple was torn, thereby giving the believer direct access to the presence of God (see Mark 15:38; Heb 6:19–20; 10:19–22). cherubim. See v. 1 and note. The curtain at the entrance to the holy place did not have cherubim (see v. 36).
26:37 bronze. Inside the tabernacle, gold was the metal of choice; outside—beginning with the bases of the outer curtain (see v. 36)—the metal of choice was bronze. The furnishings close to the place of God's dwelling were made of, or overlaid with, gold; those farther away (see 27:2–6; 30:18) were made of, or overlaid with, bronze. The bases that supported the frames of the tabernacle and the four posts holding the dividing curtain were of silver (see vv. 19,21,25,32).
27:1 altar. The altar of burnt offering (see Lev 4:7,10,18). acacia wood. See note on 25:5.
27:2 horns. Projections of the four corner posts. They were symbols of help and refuge (see 1 Kin 1:50; 2:28; Ps 18:2). They also symbolized the atoning power of the altar: Some of the blood was put on the horns of the altar before the rest was poured out at the base (see 29:12; Lev 4:7,18,25,30,34; 8:15; 9:9; 16:18).
27:3 pails for removing its ashes. From the grating (see v. 4). shovels. To haul the ashes away. basins. To catch the blood of the animals slain beside the altar and to sprinkle it at the base. forks. Three-pronged forks for arranging the sacrifice or removing the priests' portion from the container in which it was being boiled (see 1 Sam 2:13–14). firepans. Probably for carrying fire from the altar of burnt offering to the altar of incense inside the holy place (see Lev 10:1; 16:12–13).
27:4 grating. Placed midway between the top and bottom of the boxlike structure. Since the intense heat of the fire built inside the upper half of the altar would have eventually destroyed it, perhaps the hollow altar (see v. 8) was designed to be filled with earth when it was in use. rings. See note on 25:12.

11 "Likewise for the north side in length there shall be hangings one hundred cubits long, and its twenty pillars with their twenty [1]sockets of bronze; the hooks of the pillars and their bands shall be of silver.

12 "For the width of the court on the west side shall be hangings of fifty cubits with their ten pillars and their ten [1]sockets.

13 "The width of the court on the [1]east side shall be fifty cubits.

14 "The hangings for the one [1]side of the gate shall be fifteen cubits with their three pillars and their three [2]sockets.

15 "And for the [1]other [2]side shall be hangings of fifteen cubits with their three pillars and their three [3]sockets.

16 "For the gate of the court there shall be a screen of twenty cubits, of [1]blue and purple and scarlet material and fine twisted linen, the work of a [2]weaver, with their four pillars and their four [3]sockets.

17 "All the pillars around the court shall be furnished with silver bands with their hooks of silver and their [1]sockets of bronze.

18 "The length of the court shall be one hundred cubits, and the width fifty throughout, and the height five cubits of fine twisted linen, and their [1]sockets of bronze.

19 "All the utensils of the tabernacle used in all its service, and all its pegs, and all the pegs of the court, shall be of bronze.

20 "You shall charge the sons of Israel, that they bring you [a]clear oil of beaten olives for the [1]light, to make a lamp [2]burn continually.

21 "In the [a]tent of meeting, outside [b]the veil which is before the testimony, [c]Aaron and his sons shall keep it in order from evening to morning before the LORD; it shall be a perpetual [d]statute throughout their generations [1]for the sons of Israel.

Garments of the Priests

28 "Then [a]bring near to yourself Aaron your brother, and his sons with him, from among the sons of Israel, to minister as priest to Me—Aaron, [b]Nadab and Abihu, Eleazar and Ithamar, Aaron's sons.

2 "You shall make [a]holy garments for Aaron your brother, for glory and for beauty.

3 "You shall speak to all the [1][a]skillful persons [b]whom I have endowed with [2]the spirit of wisdom, that they make Aaron's garments to consecrate him, that he may minister as priest to Me.

4 "These are the garments which they shall make: a [1][a]breastpiece and an ephod and a robe and a tunic of checkered work, a turban and a sash, and they shall make holy garments for Aaron your brother and his sons, that he may minister as priest to Me.

5 "They shall take [a]the gold and the [1]blue and the purple and the scarlet material and the fine linen.

6 "They shall also make [a]the ephod of gold, of [1]blue and purple and scarlet material and fine twisted linen, the work of the skillful workman.

7 "It shall have two shoulder pieces joined to its two ends, that it may be joined.

8 "The skillfully woven band, which is on it, shall be like its workmanship, [1]of the same material: of gold, of [2]blue and purple and scarlet material and fine twisted linen.

9 "You shall take two onyx stones and engrave on them the names of the sons of Israel,

10 six of their names on the one stone and the names of the remaining six on the [1]other stone, according to their birth.

11 "[1]As a jeweler engraves a signet, you shall engrave the two stones according to the names of the sons of Israel; you shall [2]set them in filigree settings of gold.

12 "You shall put the two stones on the shoulder pieces of the ephod, as stones of memorial for the sons of Israel, and Aaron shall [a]bear their names before the LORD on his two shoulders [b]for a memorial.

27:12–13 west side . . . east side. The courtyard is described as having two equal parts. The holy of holies probably occupied the central position in the western half, the altar of burnt offering the central position in the eastern half.

27:13–14 east side . . . the gate. The entry gate to the tabernacle courtyard faced east, as did that of Solomon's temple (see Ezek 8:16) and of Herod's temple.

27:18 five cubits. Five cubits equaled about seven and a half feet, high enough to block the view of people standing outside the courtyard, thus protecting the sanctity and privacy of the worship taking place inside.

27:20 clear oil of beaten olives. Unripe olives were crushed in a mortar. The pulpy mass was then placed in a cloth basket through the bottom of which the oil dripped, producing a clear fuel that burned with little or no smoke.

27:21 tent of meeting. The tabernacle; it was not a place where God's people met for collective worship but one where God Himself met—by appointment, not by accident—with His people (see 29:42–43). veil which is before the testimony. See note on 26:31. keep it in order from evening to morning. The lamps were lit in the evening (see 30:8) and apparently extinguished in the morning (1 Sam 3:3).

28:1 Nadab and Abihu. See note on 24:1. minister as priest to Me. In order "to offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins" and to "deal gently with the ignorant and misguided" (Heb 5:1–2). Another important function of the priests was to read the law of Moses to the people and remind them of their covenant obligations (see Deut 31:9–13; Neh 8:2–3).

28:2 for glory and for beauty. The garments were to exalt the office and functions of lesser priests (see v. 40) as well as of the high priest.

28:6 ephod. A sleeveless vestment worn by the high priest. Sometimes the word refers to an otherwise unidentified object of worship (see, e.g., Judg 8:27; 18:17; Hos 3:4).

28:8 band. Apparently to hold the front and the back of the ephod to the priest's body.

28:12 Aaron shall bear their names . . . on his two shoulders. To symbolize the fact that the high priest represents all Israel when he ministers in the tabernacle.

14 and two chains of pure gold; you shall make them of twisted cordage work, and you shall put the corded chains on the filigree settings.

15 "[a] You shall make a [1]breastpiece of judgment, the work of a skillful workman; like the work of the ephod you shall make it: of gold, of [2]blue and purple and scarlet material and fine twisted linen you shall make it.

16 "It shall be square and folded double, a span [1]in length and a span [1]in width.

17 "You shall [1]mount on it four rows of stones; the first row shall be a row of ruby, topaz and emerald;

18 and the second row a turquoise, a sapphire and a diamond;

19 and the third row a jacinth, an agate and an amethyst;

20 and the fourth row a beryl and an onyx and a jasper; they shall be [1]set in gold filigree.

21 "The stones shall be according to the names of the sons of Israel: twelve, according to their names; they shall be like the engravings of a seal, each [a]according to his name for the twelve tribes.

22 "You shall make on the [1]breastpiece chains of twisted cordage work in pure gold.

23 "You shall make on the breastpiece two rings of gold, and shall put the two rings on the two ends of the breastpiece.

24 "You shall put the two cords of gold on the two rings at the ends of the breastpiece.

25 "You shall put the other two ends of the two cords on the two filigree settings, and put them on the shoulder pieces of the ephod, at the front of it.

26 "You shall make two rings of gold and shall place them on the two ends of the breastpiece, on the edge of it, which is toward the inner side of the ephod.

27 "You shall make two rings of gold and put them on the bottom of the two shoulder pieces of the ephod, on the front of it close to the place where it is joined, above the skillfully woven band of the ephod.

28 "They shall bind the breastpiece by its rings to the rings of the ephod with a [1]blue cord, so that it will be on the skillfully woven band of the ephod, and that the breastpiece will not come loose from the ephod.

29 "Aaron shall carry the names of the sons of Israel in the breastpiece of judgment over his heart when he enters the holy place, for a memorial before the LORD continually.

30 "[a] You shall put in the breastpiece of judgment the [1][b]Urim and the Thummim, and they shall be over Aaron's heart when he goes in before the LORD; and Aaron shall carry the judgment of the sons of Israel over his heart before the LORD continually.

31 "[a] You shall make the robe of the ephod all of [1]blue.

32 "There shall be an opening [1]at its top in the middle of it; around its opening there shall be a binding of woven work, as like the opening of a coat of mail, so that it will not be torn.

33 "You shall make on its hem pomegranates of blue and purple and scarlet material, all around on its hem, and bells of gold between them all around:

34 a golden bell and a pomegranate, a golden bell and a pomegranate, all around on the hem of the robe.

35 "It shall be on Aaron [1]when he ministers; and [2]its tinkling shall be heard when he enters and [3]leaves the holy place before the LORD, so that he will not die.

36 "You shall also make [a]a plate of pure gold and shall engrave on it, like the engravings of a seal, '[b]Holy to the LORD.'

37 "You shall [1]fasten it on a [2]blue cord, and it shall be on the turban; it shall be at the front of the turban.

38 "It shall be on Aaron's forehead, and Aaron shall [1][a]take away the iniquity of the holy things which the sons of Israel consecrate, with regard to all their holy gifts; and it shall always be on his forehead, that [b]they may be accepted before the LORD.

39 "You shall weave [a]the tunic of checkered work of fine linen, and shall make a turban of fine linen, and you shall make a sash, the work of a [1]weaver.

40 "For Aaron's sons you shall make [a]tunics; you shall also make sashes for them, and you shall make [1][b]caps for them, for glory and for beauty.

41 "You shall put them on Aaron your brother and on his sons with him; and you shall [a]anoint them and [1]ordain them and consecrate them, that they may serve Me as priests.

28:15 of judgment. By means of the Urim and Thummim (see note on v. 30).

28:29 Aaron shall carry the names . . . over his heart. Thus the nation was doubly represented before the Lord (see v. 12 and note).

28:30 the Urim and the Thummim. The Hebrew for this phrase probably means "the lights [or possibly 'curses'] and the perfections." The Hebrew word Urim begins with the first letter of the Hebrew alphabet (aleph) and Thummim begins with the last letter (taw). They were sacred lots and were often used in times of crisis to determine the will of God (see Num 27:21). It has been suggested that if Urim (or "lights") dominated when the lots were cast the answer was "no," but if Thummim (or "perfections") dominated it was "yes." In any event, their "every decision" was "from the LORD" (Prov 16:33).

28:31 robe. Worn under the ephod.

28:35 According to Jewish tradition, one end of a length of rope was tied to the high priest's ankle and the other end remained outside the tabernacle. If the bells on his robe stopped tinkling while he was in the holy place, the assumption that he had died could be tested by pulling gently on the rope.

28:38 take away the iniquity. Symbolically.

28:39 tunic. Worn under the robe.

28:40 for glory and for beauty. See note on v. 2.

42 "You shall make for them [a]linen breeches to cover their bare flesh; they shall [1]reach from the loins even to the thighs.

43 "They shall be on Aaron and on his sons when they enter the tent of meeting, or [a]when they approach the altar to minister in the holy place, so that they do not incur [1]guilt and die. [b]It shall be a statute forever to him and to his [2]descendants after him.

Consecration of the Priests

29 "[a]Now this is [1]what you shall do to them to consecrate them to minister as priests to Me: take one young bull and two rams without blemish,

2 and [a]unleavened bread and unleavened cakes mixed with oil, and unleavened wafers [1]spread with oil; you shall make them of fine wheat flour.

3 "You shall put them in one basket, and present them in the basket along with the bull and the two rams.

4 "Then [a]you shall bring Aaron and his sons to the doorway of the tent of meeting and wash them with water.

5 "You shall take the garments, and put on Aaron the [a]tunic and [b]the robe of the ephod and [c]the ephod and [d]the [1]breastpiece, and gird him with the skillfully [e]woven band of the ephod;

6 and you shall set the [a]turban on his head and put [b]the holy crown on the turban.

7 "Then you shall take [a]the anointing oil and pour it on his head and anoint him.

8 "You shall bring his sons and put [a]tunics on them.

9 "You shall gird them with [a]sashes, Aaron and his sons, and bind [1]caps on them, and they shall have [b]the priesthood by a perpetual statute. So you shall [2c]ordain Aaron and his sons.

The Sacrifices

10 "Then you shall bring the bull before the tent of meeting, and Aaron and his sons shall [a]lay their hands on the head of the bull.

11 "You shall slaughter the bull before the LORD at the doorway of the tent of meeting.

12 "You shall [a]take some of the blood of the bull and put it on [b]the horns of the altar with your finger; and you shall pour out all the blood at the base of the altar.

13 "You shall [a]take all the fat that covers the entrails and the [1]lobe of the liver, and the two kidneys and the fat that is on them, and offer them up in smoke on the altar.

14 "But [a]the flesh of the bull and its hide and its refuse, you shall burn with fire outside the camp; it is a sin offering.

15 "[a]You shall also take the one ram, and Aaron and his sons shall lay their hands on the head of the ram;

16 and you shall slaughter the ram and shall take its blood and sprinkle it around on the altar.

17 "Then you shall cut the ram into its pieces, and wash its entrails and its legs, and put them [1]with its pieces and [2]its head.

18 "You shall offer up in smoke the whole ram on the altar; it is a burnt offering to the LORD: [a]it is a soothing aroma, an offering by fire to the LORD.

19 "Then [a]you shall take the [1]other ram, and Aaron and his sons shall lay their hands on the head of the ram.

20 "You shall slaughter the ram, and take some of its blood and put it on the lobe of Aaron's right ear and on the lobes of his sons' right ears and on the thumbs of their right hands and on the big toes of their right feet, and sprinkle the rest of the blood around on the altar.

21 "Then you shall take some of the blood that is on the altar and some of the [a]anointing oil, and sprinkle it on Aaron and on his garments and on his sons and on his sons' garments with him; so he and his garments shall be consecrated, as well as his sons and his sons' garments with him.

22 "You shall also take the fat from the ram and the fat tail, and the fat that covers the entrails and the [1]lobe of the liver, and the two kidneys and the fat that is on them and the right thigh (for it is a ram of [2]ordination),

23 and one cake of bread and [a]one cake of bread mixed with oil and one wafer from the basket of unleavened bread which is set before the LORD;

24 and you shall put [1]all these [2]in the [3]hands of Aaron and [2]in the [3]hands of his sons, and shall wave them as a wave offering before the LORD.

25 "[a]You shall take them from their hands, and offer them up in smoke on the altar on 29:7 anoint him. Symbolizing spiritual enduement for serving God (see Is 61:1).

29:10 bring the bull. As a sin offering (see v. 14) to atone for the past sins of Aaron and his sons (see Lev 4:3). lay their hands on the head of the bull. As a symbol of (1) the animal's becoming their substitute and (2) transferring their sins to the sin-bearer (see Lev 16:20–22 and note).

the burnt offering for a soothing aroma before the LORD; it is an offering by fire to the LORD.

26 "Then you shall take [a]the breast of Aaron's ram of [1]ordination, and wave it as a wave offering before the LORD; and it shall be your portion.

27 "You shall consecrate the breast of the wave offering and the thigh of the heave offering which was waved and which was [1]offered from the ram of [2]ordination, from the one which was for Aaron and from the one which was for his sons.

28 "It shall be for Aaron and his sons as their portion forever from the sons of Israel, for it is a heave offering; and it shall be a heave offering from the sons of Israel from the sacrifices of their peace offerings, even their heave offering to the LORD.

29 "[a]The holy garments of Aaron shall be for his sons after him, [1]that in them they may be anointed and ordained.

30 "For seven days the one of his sons who is priest in his stead shall put them on when he enters the tent of meeting to minister in the holy place.

Food of the Priests

31 "You shall take the ram of [1]ordination and [a]boil its flesh in a holy place.

32 "Aaron and his sons shall eat the flesh of the ram and the bread that is in the basket, at the doorway of the tent of meeting.

33 "Thus [a]they shall eat [1]those things by which atonement was made [2]at their ordination and consecration; but a [3][b]layman shall not eat them, because they are holy.

34 "[a]If any of the flesh of [1]ordination or any of the bread remains until morning, then you shall burn the remainder with fire; it shall not be eaten, because it is holy.

35 "Thus you shall do to Aaron and to his sons, according to all that I have commanded you; you shall [1]ordain them through [a]seven days.

36 "[a]Each day you shall offer a bull as a sin offering for atonement, and you shall [1]purify the altar when you make atonement [2]for it, and [b]you shall anoint it to consecrate it.

37 "For seven days you shall make atonement [1]for the altar and consecrate it; then [a]the altar shall be most holy, and whatever touches the altar shall be holy.

38 "Now [a]this is what you shall offer on the altar: two one year old lambs each day, continuously.

39 "The [a]one lamb you shall offer in the morning and the [1]other lamb you shall offer at [2]twilight;

40 and there shall be one-tenth of an ephah of fine flour mixed with one-fourth of a hin of beaten oil, and one-fourth of a hin of wine for a drink offering with one lamb.

41 "The [1]other lamb you shall offer at [2]twilight, and shall offer with it [3]the same grain offering and [4]the same drink offering as in the morning, for a soothing aroma, an offering by fire to the LORD.

42 "It shall be a continual burnt offering throughout your generations at the doorway of the tent of meeting before the LORD, [a]where I will meet with you, to speak to you there.

43 "I will meet there with the sons of Israel, and it shall be consecrated by My glory.

44 "I will consecrate the tent of meeting and the altar; I will also consecrate Aaron and his sons to minister as priests to Me.

45 "[a]I will dwell among the sons of Israel and will be their God.

46 "They shall know that [a]I am the LORD their God who brought them out of the land of Egypt, that I might dwell among them; I am the LORD their God.

The Altar of Incense

30 "Moreover, you shall make [a]an altar as a place for burning incense; you shall make it of acacia wood.

2 "Its length shall be a [1]cubit, and its width a cubit, it shall be square, and its height shall be two cubits; its horns shall be [2]of one piece with it.

3 "You shall overlay it with pure gold, its top and its [1]sides all around, and its horns; and you shall make a gold molding all around for it.

4 "You shall make two gold rings for it under its molding; you shall make them on its two side walls—on [1]opposite sides—and [2]they shall be holders for poles with which to carry it.

5 "You shall make the poles of acacia wood and overlay them with gold.

6 "You shall put [1]this altar in front of the veil that is [2]near the ark of the testimony, in front of the [3][a]mercy seat that is over the ark of the testimony, where I will meet with you.

7 "Aaron shall burn fragrant incense on it; he shall burn it every morning when he trims the lamps.

8 "When Aaron [1]trims the lamps at [2]twilight, he shall burn incense. There shall be perpetual incense before the LORD throughout your generations.

9 "You shall not offer any strange incense on [1]this altar, or burnt offering or meal offering; and you shall not pour out a drink offering on it.

10 "Aaron shall [a]make atonement on its horns once a year; he shall make atonement on it with the blood of the sin offering of atonement once a year throughout your generations. It is most holy to the LORD."

11 The LORD also spoke to Moses, saying,

12 "When you take [a]a [1]census of the sons of Israel [2]to number them, then each one of them shall give [b]a ransom for [3]himself to the LORD, when you [4]number them, so that there will be no plague among them when you [4]number them.

13 "This is what everyone who [1]is numbered shall give: half a shekel according to the shekel of the sanctuary ([a]the shekel is twenty gerahs), half a shekel as a [2]contribution to the LORD.

14 "Everyone who [1]is numbered, from twenty years old and over, shall give the [2]contribution to the LORD.

15 "The rich shall not pay more and the poor shall not pay less than the half shekel, when you give the [1]contribution to the LORD to make atonement for [2]yourselves.

16 "You shall take the atonement money from the sons of Israel and shall give it for the service of the tent of meeting, that it may be a memorial for the sons of Israel before the LORD, to make atonement for [1]yourselves."

17 The LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

18 "You shall also make [a]a laver of [1]bronze, with its base of bronze, for washing; and you shall [b]put it between the tent of meeting and the altar, and you shall put water in it.

19 "Aaron and his sons shall [a]wash their hands and their feet from it;

20 when they enter the tent of meeting, they shall wash with water, so that they will not die; or when they approach the altar to minister, by offering up in smoke a fire sacrifice to the LORD.

21 "So they shall wash their hands and their feet, so that they will not die; and [a]it shall be a perpetual statute for them, for [1]Aaron and his [2]descendants throughout their generations."

The Anointing Oil

22 Moreover, the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

23 "Take also for yourself the finest of spices: of flowing myrrh five hundred shekels, and of fragrant cinnamon half as much, two hundred and fifty, and of fragrant cane two hundred and fifty,

24 and of cassia five hundred, according to the shekel of the sanctuary, and of olive oil a hin.

25 "You shall make [1]of these a holy anointing oil, a perfume mixture, the work of a perfumer; it shall be [a]a holy anointing oil.

26 "With it [a]you shall anoint the tent of meeting and the ark of the testimony,

27 and the table and all its utensils, and the lampstand and its utensils, and the altar of incense, 28 and the altar of burnt offering and all its utensils, and the laver and its stand.

29 "You shall also consecrate them, that they may be most holy; whatever touches them shall be holy.

30 "[a]You shall anoint Aaron and his sons, and consecrate them, that they may minister as priests to Me.

31 "You shall speak to the sons of Israel, saying, 'This shall be a holy anointing oil to Me throughout your generations.

32 'It shall not be poured on [1]anyone's body, nor shall you make any like it in [2]the same proportions; [a]it is holy, and it shall be holy to you.

33 '[a]Whoever shall mix any like it or whoever puts any of it on a [1]layman [2b]shall be cut off from his people.' "

The Incense

34 Then the LORD said to Moses, "Take for yourself spices, stacte and onycha and galbanum, spices with pure frankincense; there shall be an equal part of each.

35 "With it you shall make incense, a perfume, the work of a perfumer, salted, pure, and holy.

36 "You shall beat some of it very fine, and put part of it before the testimony in the tent of meeting [a]where I will meet with you; it shall be most holy to you.

37 "The incense which you shall make, [a]you shall not make in [1]the same proportions for yourselves; it shall be holy to you for the LORD.

30:10 atonement . . . once a year. See Lev 16:34.
30:12 take a census. Perhaps such censuses were taken on various occasions (and at stated intervals) to enter the Israelites into an official roll for public duties in the Lord's service (see Num 1:2; 26:2). give a ransom for himself. An extension of the principle stated in 13:13,15 (see note on 13:13).
30:14 twenty years old and over. Of military age (see Num 1:3).
30:16 tent of meeting. See note on 27:21.
30:18 laver. Made from bronze mirrors contributed by Israelite women (see 38:8). washing. See note on 29:4.

38 "[a]Whoever shall make any like it, to [1]use as perfume, [2]shall be cut off from his people."

The Skilled Craftsmen

31 [a]Now the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,
2 "See, I have called by name Bezalel, the [a]son of Uri, the son of Hur, of the tribe of Judah.
3 "I have [a]filled him with the Spirit of God in wisdom, in understanding, in knowledge, and in all kinds of [1]craftsmanship,
4 to [1]make artistic designs for work in gold, in silver, and in [2]bronze,
5 and in the cutting of stones [1]for settings, and in the carving of wood, that he may work in all kinds of [2]craftsmanship.
6 "And behold, I Myself have [1]appointed with him [a]Oholiab, the son of Ahisamach, of the tribe of Dan; and in the hearts of all who are [2]skillful I have put [3]skill, that they may make all that I have commanded you:
7 [a]the tent of meeting, and [b]the ark of testimony, and [c]the [1]mercy seat upon it, and all the furniture of the tent,
8 [a]the table also and its [1]utensils, and the [b]pure gold lampstand with all its [1]utensils, and [c]the altar of incense,
9 [a]the altar of burnt offering also with all its [1]utensils, and [b]the laver and its stand,
10 the [1][a]woven garments as well, and the holy garments for Aaron the priest, and the garments of his sons, with which to [2]carry on their priesthood;
11 [a]the anointing oil also, and the [b]fragrant incense for the holy place, they are to make them according to all that I have commanded you."

The Sign of the Sabbath

12 The LORD spoke to Moses, saying,
13 "But as for you, speak to the sons of Israel, saying, '[a]You shall surely observe My sabbaths; for this is [b]a sign between Me and you throughout your generations, that you may know that I am the LORD who sanctifies you.
14 'Therefore you are to observe the sabbath, for it is holy to you. [a]Everyone who profanes it shall surely be put to death; for whoever does any work on it, that person shall be cut off from among his people.
15 '[a]For six days work may be done, but on the seventh day there is a [b]sabbath of complete rest, holy to the LORD; [c]whoever does any work on the sabbath day shall surely be put to death.
16 'So the sons of Israel shall observe the sabbath, to [1]celebrate the sabbath throughout their generations as a perpetual covenant.'
17 "[a]It is a sign between Me and the sons of Israel forever; [b]for in six days the LORD made heaven and earth, but on the seventh day He ceased from labor, and was refreshed."
18 When He had finished speaking with him upon Mount Sinai, He gave Moses [a]the two tablets of the testimony, tablets of stone, [b]written by the finger of God.

The Golden Calf

32 Now when the people saw that Moses [a]delayed to come down from the mountain, the people assembled about Aaron and said to him, "Come, [b]make us [1]a god who will go before us; as for [c]this Moses, the man who brought us up from the land of Egypt, we do not know what has become of him."
2 Aaron said to them, "[a]Tear off the gold rings which are in the ears of your wives, your sons, and your daughters, and bring them to me."
3 Then all the people tore off the gold rings which were in their ears and brought them to Aaron.
4 He took this from their hand, and fashioned it with a graving tool and made it into a [a]molten calf; and they said, "[1]This is your 31:3 filled him with the Spirit of God. Ability to work as a skilled craftsman was a spiritual gift, equipping a person for special service to God.

31:6 Oholiab. Means "The (divine) father is my tent/tabernacle." The names of Bezalel (see note on v. 2) and Oholiab were appropriate for the chief craftsmen working on the tabernacle.
31:7 tent of meeting. See note on 27:21.
31:13 observe My Sabbaths. Instructions for building the tabernacle and making the priestly garments are concluded by impressing on the Israelites the importance and necessity of keeping the Sabbath even while carrying out this special task.
31:14 cut off from among his people. See note on 12:15.
31:16–17 covenant . . . sign. In her rhythm of work and rest in the service of God, Israel is to emulate God's pattern in creation as an ever-renewed sign of her covenant with God (see note on Gen 9:12).
31:18 two tablets. In keeping with ancient Near Eastern practice, these were duplicates of the covenant document, not two sections of the Ten Commandments. One copy belonged to each party of the covenant. Since Israel's copy was to be laid up in the presence of her God (according to custom), both covenant tablets (God's and Israel's) were placed in the ark (see 25:21). testimony. See notes on 16:34; 25:16. written by the finger of God. Because it was God's covenant (see 19:5–6), and the stipulations of the covenant (20:1–17) were His.
32:1 delayed. Forty days and forty nights (see 24:18 and note). the people. Probably the tribe and clan leaders. Moses . . . who brought us up from . . . Egypt. A rebellious contrast to the gracious statement of Israel's covenant Lord (see 20:2 and note; 29:46).
32:2 gold rings. Probably part of the plunder brought from Egypt (see 3:21–22; 11:2–3; 12:35–36).

god, O Israel, who brought you up from the land of Egypt."

5 Now when Aaron saw this, he built an altar before it; and Aaron made a proclamation and said, "Tomorrow shall be a feast to the LORD."

6 So the next day they rose early and [a]offered burnt offerings, and brought peace offerings; and [b]the people sat down to eat and to drink, and rose up [c]to play.

7 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, "Go [1]down at once, for your people, whom [a]you brought up from the land of Egypt, have [b]corrupted themselves.

8 "They have quickly turned aside from the way which I commanded them. [a]They have made for themselves a molten calf, and have worshiped it and [b]have sacrificed to it and said, '[1c]This is your god, O Israel, who brought you up from the land of Egypt!' "

9 [a]The LORD said to Moses, "I have seen this people, and behold, they are [1b]an obstinate people.

10 "Now then [a]let Me alone, that My anger may burn against them and that I may destroy them; and [b]I will make of you a great nation."

Moses' Entreaty

11 Then [a]Moses entreated the LORD his God, and said, "O LORD, why does Your anger burn against Your people whom You have brought out from the land of Egypt with great power and with a mighty hand?

12 "Why should [a]the Egyptians speak, saying, 'With evil intent He brought them out to kill them in the mountains and to destroy them from the face of the earth'? Turn from Your burning anger and change Your mind about doing harm to Your people.

13 "Remember Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, Your servants to whom You [a]swore by Yourself, and said to them, 'I will [b]multiply your [1]descendants as the stars of the heavens, and [c]all this land of which I have spoken I will give to your [1]descendants, and they shall inherit it forever.' "

14 [a]So the LORD changed His mind about the harm which He said He would do to His people.

15 [a]Then Moses turned and went down from the mountain with the two tablets of the testimony in his hand, [b]tablets which were written on both [1]sides; they were written on one side and the other.

16 The tablets were God's work, and the writing was God's writing engraved on the tablets.

17 Now when Joshua heard the sound of the people [1]as they shouted, he said to Moses, "There is a sound of war in the camp."

18 But he said,

"It is not the sound of the cry of triumph,
Nor is it the sound of the cry of defeat;
But the sound of singing I hear."

Moses' Anger

19 It came about, as soon as [1]Moses came near the camp, that [a]he saw the calf and the dancing; and Moses' anger burned, and [b]he threw the tablets from his hands and shattered them [2]at the foot of the mountain.

20 [a]He took the calf which they had made and burned it with fire, and ground it to powder, and scattered it over the surface of the water and made the sons of Israel drink it.

21 Then Moses said to Aaron, "What did this people do to you, that you have brought such great sin upon them?"

in solid gold and then further shaped with a tool, later to be melted down in the fire. The calf was probably similar to representations of the Egyptian bull-god Apis (see note on Jer 46:15). Its manufacture was a flagrant violation of the second commandment (20:4–5). they. The leaders among the people (see note on v. 1). This is your god . . . up from the land of Egypt. A parody of 20:2 (see note on v. 1). Centuries later, King Jeroboam would quote these words when he set up two golden calves in the northern kingdom of Israel (see 1 Kin 12:28–29).

32:5 altar before it . . . feast to the LORD. Apparently Aaron recognized the idolatrous consequences of his deed and acted quickly to keep the people from turning completely away from the Lord.

32:6 the people sat down . . . rose up to play. A pagan symbol evoked pagan religious practices. Paul quotes this sentence as a vivid example of Israel's tendency toward idolatry (see 1 Cor 10:7). The Hebrew verb translated "rose up to play" often has sexual connotations (see, e.g., "caressing," Gen 26:8). Immoral orgies frequently accompanied pagan worship in ancient times.

32:7,9 your people . . . this people. By not calling Israel "My people" (as, e.g., in 3:10), God indicates that He is disowning them for breaking His covenant with them.

32:7 corrupted. And, therefore, ripe for destruction (see v. 10; Gen 6:11–13).

32:9 obstinate. Like unresponsive oxen or horses (see Jer 27:11–12; see also note on Neh 3:5).

32:10 I will make of you a great nation. After Israel—Abraham's descendants—has been destroyed, God will transfer to Moses the pledge originally given to Abraham (see Gen 12:2).

32:11 Your people. Using God's own words (see v. 7 and note), Moses appeals to God's special relationship to Israel, then to God's need to vindicate His name in the eyes of the Egyptians (see v. 12), and finally to the great patriarchal promises (see v. 13).

32:13 Israel. Jacob (see 33:1; see also Gen 32:28).

32:14 the LORD changed His mind. See note on Jer 18:7–10; see also 2 Sam 24:16; Ps 106:45; Amos 7:1–6; James 5:16.

32:15 went down from the mountain. See note on 24:18. two tablets. See note on 31:18. testimony. See notes on 16:34; 25:16. written on both sides. Tablets were often thus inscribed in ancient times.

32:16 God's work . . . God's writing. See 31:18.

32:17 Joshua. Perhaps he had accompanied Moses part of the way up the mountain (see 24:13).

32:19 shattered them. Thus testifying against Israel that they had broken the covenant.

32:20 burned it . . . ground it to powder. King Jeroboam's altar (see note on v. 4) at Bethel received the same treatment (see 2 Kin 23:15).

22 Aaron said, "Do not let the anger of my lord burn; you know the people yourself, [a]that they are [1]prone to evil.

23 "For [a]they said to me, 'Make [1]a god for us who will go before us; for this Moses, the man who brought us up from the land of Egypt, we do not know what has become of him.'

24 "I said to them, 'Whoever has any gold, let them tear it off.' So they gave it to me, and [a]I threw it into the fire, and out came this calf."

25 Now when Moses saw that the people were [1]out of control—for Aaron had [a]let them [2]get out of control to be a derision among [3]their enemies—

26 then Moses stood in the gate of the camp, and said, "Whoever is for the LORD, come to me!" And all the sons of Levi gathered together to him.

27 He said to them, "Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, 'Every man of you put his sword upon his thigh, and go back and forth from gate to gate in the camp, and kill every man his brother, and every man his friend, and every man his [1]neighbor.' "

28 So [a]the sons of Levi did [1]as Moses instructed, and about three thousand men of the people fell that day.

29 Then Moses said, "[1]Dedicate yourselves today to the LORD—for every man has been against his son and against his brother—in order that He may bestow a blessing upon you today."

30 On the next day Moses said to the people, "[a]You yourselves have [1]committed a great sin; and now I am going up to the LORD, perhaps I can [b]make atonement for your sin."

31 Then Moses returned to the LORD, and said, "Alas, this people has [1]committed a great sin, and they have made [2]a [a]god of gold for themselves.

32 "But now, if You will, forgive their sin—and if not, please blot me out from Your [a]book which You have written!"

33 The LORD said to Moses, "Whoever has sinned against Me, [a]I will blot him out of My book.

34 "But go now, lead the people [a]where I told you. Behold, [b]My angel shall go before you; nevertheless [c]in the day when I [1]punish, [d]I will [2]punish them for their sin."

35 [a]Then the LORD smote the people, because of [b]what they did with the calf which Aaron had made.

The Journey Resumed

33 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, "Depart, go up from here, you and the people whom you have brought up from the land of Egypt, to the land of which [a]I swore to Abraham, [b]Isaac, and [c]Jacob, saying, '[d]To your [1]descendants I will give it.'

2 "I will send [a]an angel before you and [b]I will drive out the Canaanite, the Amorite, the Hittite, the Perizzite, the Hivite and the Jebusite.

3 "Go up to a land [a]flowing with milk and honey; for I will not go up in your midst, because you are [1b]an obstinate people, and [c]I might destroy you on the way."

4 When the people heard this [1]sad word, [a]they went into mourning, and none of them put on his ornaments.

5 For the LORD had said to Moses, "Say to the sons of Israel, 'You are [1a]an obstinate people; should I go up in your midst for one moment, I would destroy you. Now therefore, put off your ornaments from you, that I may know what I shall do with you.' "

6 So the sons of Israel stripped them-

32:22–24 In his desperation, Aaron blamed the people (see notes on Gen 3:12–13).

32:24 out came this calf. Aaron could hardly have thought that Moses would believe such an incredible story.

32:25 were out of control . . . get out of control. The same Hebrew root underlies both phrases and is found also in Prov 29:18 ("unrestrained"). Anarchy reigns among people who refuse to obey and worship the Lord.

32:26 Whoever is for the LORD, come to me. See Josh 24:15; 1 Kin 18:21; Matt 6:24. all. A generalization since Deut 33:9 implies that some of the Levites were also slain. sons of Levi. The descendants of Levi (Gen 29:34) may have originally been regarded as priests (Deut 18:6–8). But at some stage they became subordinate to the priests who were descendants of Aaron, the brother of Moses (38:21; Num 3:9–10; 1 Chr 16:4–6,37–42).

32:27 kill every man his brother . . . his friend . . . his neighbor. See Matt 10:37; Luke 14:26.

32:28 the sons of Levi did as Moses instructed. Their zeal for the Lord is later matched by Aaron's grandson Phinehas, resulting in a perpetual covenant of the priesthood (see Num 25:7–13).

32:29 Dedicate yourselves today to the LORD. Because of their zeal for the Lord the Levites were set apart to be caretakers of the tabernacle and aides to the priests (see Num 1:47–53; 3:5–9, 12,41,45; 4:2–3).

32:30 make atonement for your sin. By making urgent intercession before God, as the mediator God had appointed between Himself and Israel. No sacrifice that Israel or Moses might bring could atone for this sin. But Moses so identified himself with Israel that he made his own death the condition for God's destruction of the nation (see v. 32). Jesus Christ, the great Mediator, offered Himself on the cross to make atonement for His people.

32:32 book which You have written. See notes on Ps 9:5; 51:1; 69:28.

32:33 Whoever has sinned . . . I will blot him out. Moses' gracious offer is refused, because the person who sins is responsible for his own sin (see Deut 24:16; Ezek 18:4 and note).

32:34 Go now, lead the people. Thus Moses received assurance that the Lord will continue His covenant with wayward Israel and fulfill His promise concerning the land. where I told you. Canaan (see 33:1).

33:2 Canaanite . . . Jebusite. See note on 3:8.

33:3 land flowing with milk and honey. See note on 3:8. I will not go up in your midst. The Lord's presence, earlier assured to His people (see 23:21 and note), is now temporarily withdrawn because of sin. obstinate. See note on 32:9.

33:6 stripped themselves of their ornaments. As a sign of mourning (see Ezek 26:16–17).

selves of their ornaments, from Mount Horeb onward.

7 Now Moses used to take [a]the tent and pitch it outside the camp, a good distance from the camp, and he called it the tent of meeting. And [b]everyone who sought the LORD would go out to the tent of meeting which was outside the camp.

8 And it came about, whenever Moses went out to the tent, that all the people would arise and stand, each at the entrance of his tent, and gaze after Moses until he entered the tent.

9 Whenever Moses entered the tent, [a]the pillar of cloud would descend and stand at the entrance of the tent; [b]and [1]the LORD would speak with Moses.

10 When all the people saw the pillar of cloud standing at the entrance of the tent, all the people would arise and worship, each at the entrance of his tent.

11 Thus [a]the LORD used to speak to Moses face to face, just as a man speaks to his friend. When [1]Moses returned to the camp, [b]his servant Joshua, the son of Nun, a young man, would not depart from the tent.

Moses Intercedes

12 Then Moses said to the LORD, "See, You say to me, '[a]Bring up this people!' But You Yourself have not let me know [b]whom You will send with me. [c]Moreover, You have said, 'I have known you by name, and you have also found favor in My sight.'

13 "Now therefore, I pray You, if I have found favor in Your sight, [a]let me know Your ways that I may know You, so that I may find favor in Your sight. [b]Consider too, that this nation is Your people."

14 And He said, "[a]My presence shall go with you, and [b]I will give you rest."

15 Then he said to Him, "[a]If Your presence does not go with us, do not lead us up from here.

16 "For how then can it be known that I have found favor in Your sight, I and Your people? Is it not by Your going with us, so that [a]we, I and Your people, may be distinguished from all the other people who are upon the face of the [1]earth?"

17 The LORD said to Moses, "I will also do this thing of which you have spoken; [a]for you have found favor in My sight and I have known you by name."

18 [a]Then [1]Moses said, "I pray You, show me Your glory!"

19 And He said, "[a]I Myself will make all My goodness pass before you, and will proclaim the name of the LORD before you; and [b]I will be gracious to whom I will be gracious, and will show compassion on whom I will show compassion."

20 But He said, "You cannot see My face, [a]for no man can see Me and live!"

21 Then the LORD said, "Behold, there is a place [1]by Me, and [a]you shall stand there on the rock;

22 and it will come about, while My glory is passing by, that I will put you in the cleft of the rock and [a]cover you with My hand until I have passed by.

23 "Then I will take My hand away and you shall see My back, but [a]My face shall not be seen."

The Two Tablets Replaced

34 Now the LORD said to Moses, "Cut out for yourself [a]two stone tablets like the former ones, and [b]I will write on the tablets the words that were on the former tablets which you shattered.

2 "So be ready by morning, and come up in the morning to [a]Mount Sinai, and [1]present yourself there to Me on the top of the mountain.

3 "[a]No man is to come up with you, nor let any man be seen [1]anywhere on the mountain; even the flocks and the herds may not graze in front of that mountain."

4 So he cut out [a]two stone tablets like the former ones, and Moses rose up early in the morning and went up to Mount Sinai, as the 33:7 tent of meeting which was outside the camp. Not the tabernacle (contrast 27:21), which occupied a central location within the Israelite camp, but a temporary structure where the people could inquire of the Lord until the more durable tabernacle was completed.

33:9 pillar of cloud would descend. Symbolizing God's communication with Moses "as a man speaks to his friend" (v. 11). Later, a similar descent crowned the completion of the tabernacle (see 40:33–34; see also note on 13:21).

33:11 the LORD used to speak to Moses face to face. As the OT mediator, Moses was unique among the prophets. Joshua . . . would not depart from the tent. Probably his task was to guard the tent against intrusion by others.

33:12 You Yourself have not let me know whom You will send with me. See note on v. 3. Moses objects that a mere angel is no substitute for God's own presence. I have known you by name. I have chosen you for my special purpose.

33:13 let me know Your ways. A prayer that is answered in 34:6–7.

33:14 My presence shall go with you. The Lord's gracious response to Moses' concern (see note on v. 12).

33:17 for you have found favor in My sight. How much more does God hear the prayers of His Son Jesus Christ (see Matt 17:5; Heb 3:1–6)!

33:18 See v. 22. In a sense, Moses' prayer was finally answered on the Mount of Transfiguration (Luke 9:30–32), where he shared a vision—however brief—of the Lord's glory with Elijah and three of Jesus' disciples.

33:19 goodness. God's nature and character. name. A further symbol of God's nature, character and person (see Ps 20:1; John 1:12; 17:6). Here His name implies His mercy (grace) and His compassion (as it does also in 34:6).

33:20 See note on Gen 16:13; see also John 1:18; 6:46; 1 Tim 1:17; 1John 4:12.

33:21–23 God speaks of Himself in human language. See 34:5–7 for the fulfillment of His promise.

34:1 two stone tablets . . . I will write on the tablets. See note on 31:18. words. See note on 20:1.

LORD had commanded him, and he took two stone tablets in his hand.

5 [a]The LORD descended in the cloud and stood there with him as [1]he called upon the name of the LORD.

6 Then the LORD passed by in front of him and proclaimed, "The LORD, the LORD God, [a]compassionate and gracious, slow to anger, and abounding in lovingkindness and [1]truth;

7 who [a]keeps lovingkindness for thousands, who forgives iniquity, transgression and sin; yet He [b]will by no means leave the guilty unpunished, [c]visiting the iniquity of fathers on the children and on the grandchildren to the third and fourth generations."

8 Moses made haste [1][a]to bow low toward the earth and worship.

9 He said, "[a]If now I have found favor in Your sight, O Lord, I pray, let the Lord go along in our midst, even though [1][b]the people are so obstinate, and [c]pardon our iniquity and our sin, and [d]take us as Your own [2]possession."

The Covenant Renewed

10 Then [1]God said, "Behold, [a]I am going to make a covenant. Before all your people [b]I will perform miracles which have not been [2]produced in all the earth nor among any of the nations; and all the people [3]among whom you live will see the working of the LORD, for it is a fearful thing that I am going to perform with you.

11 "[1]Be sure to observe what I am commanding you this day: behold, [a]I am going to drive out the Amorite before you, and the Canaanite, the Hittite, the Perizzite, the Hivite and the Jebusite.

12 "[a]Watch yourself that you make no covenant with the inhabitants of the land into which you are going, or it will become a snare in your midst.

13 "[a]But rather, you are to tear down their altars and smash their sacred pillars and cut down their [1][b]Asherim

14 —for [a]you shall not worship any other god, for the LORD, whose name is Jealous, is a jealous God—

15 otherwise you might make a covenant with the inhabitants of the land and they would play the harlot with their gods and [a]sacrifice to their gods, and someone [b]might invite you [1]to eat of his sacrifice,

16 and [a]you might take some of his daughters for your sons, and his daughters might play the harlot with their gods and cause your sons also to play the harlot with their gods.

17 "[a]You shall make for yourself no molten gods.

18 "You shall observe [a]the Feast of Unleavened Bread. For [b]seven days you are to eat unleavened bread, [1]as I commanded you, at the appointed time in the [c]month of Abib, for in the month of Abib you came out of Egypt.

19 "[a]The first offspring from every womb belongs to Me, and all your male livestock, the first offspring from [1]cattle and sheep.

20 "[a]You shall redeem with a lamb the [1]first offspring from a donkey; and if you do not redeem it, then you shall break its neck. You shall redeem [b]all the firstborn of your sons. [2][c]None shall appear before Me empty-handed.

21 "You shall work [a]six days, but on the seventh day you shall rest; even during plowing time and harvest you shall rest.

22 "You shall celebrate [a]the Feast of Weeks, that is, the first fruits of the wheat harvest, and the Feast of Ingathering at the turn of the year.

23 "[a]Three times a year all your males are to appear before the Lord [1]GOD, the God of Israel.

24 "For I will [1][a]drive out nations before you and enlarge your borders, and no man shall covet your land when you go up three times a year to appear before the LORD your God.

25 "[a]You shall not [1]offer the blood of My sacrifice with leavened bread, [b]nor is the sacrifice of the Feast of the Passover to [2]be left over until morning.

34:5 name. See note on 33:19.
34:6–7 See 33:19 and note. The Lord's proclamation of the meaning and implications of His name in these verses became a classic exposition that was frequently recalled elsewhere in the OT (see Num 14:18; Neh 9:17; Ps 86:15; 103:8; 145:8; Joel 2:13; Jon 4:2). See also notes on 3:14–15; 6:2–3.
34:7 for thousands. Or "to thousands" (see 20:6). iniquity, transgression and sin. See Is 59:12 and note.
34:10 make a covenant. Renewing the covenant he had earlier made (chs. 19–24). Verses 10–26, many of which are quoted almost verbatim from previous sections of Exodus (compare especially vv. 18–26 with 23:14–19), are sometimes referred to as the "Ritual Decalogue."
34:12 make no covenant with the inhabitants of the land. Israel is not to make a treaty of peace with any of the people of Canaan to let them live in the land.
34:13 Asherim. Symbols of Asherah, the name of the consort (wife) of El, the chief Canaanite god. Wooden poles, perhaps carved in her image, were often set up in her honor and placed near other pagan objects of worship (see, e.g., Judg 6:25).
34:14 whose name is Jealous. See note on 20:5.
34:15 play the harlot. See Judg 2:17 and note. eat of his sacrifice. Partaking of food sacrificed to a pagan deity invites compromise (cf. 1 Cor 8; 10:18–21).
34:17 make . . . no molten gods. As Aaron had done when he made the golden calf (see 32:4).
34:18–26 See notes on 23:14–19.
34:21 even during plowing time and harvest you shall rest. Just as they were also to rest while building the tabernacle (see notes on 31:13,16–17).

26 "You shall bring [a]the very first of the first fruits of your soil into the house of the LORD your God.

"You shall not boil a young goat in its mother's milk."

27 Then the LORD said to Moses, "[a]Write [1]down these words, for in accordance with these words I have made [b]a covenant with you and with Israel."

28 So he was there with the LORD [a]forty days and forty nights; he did not eat bread or drink water. And [b]he wrote on the tablets the words of the covenant, [c]the Ten [1]Commandments.

Moses' Face Shines

29 It came about when Moses was coming down from Mount Sinai (and the [a]two tablets of the testimony were in Moses' hand as he was coming down from the mountain), that Moses did not know that [b]the skin of his face shone because of his speaking with Him.

30 So when Aaron and all the sons of Israel saw Moses, behold, the skin of his face shone, and [a]they were afraid to come near him.

31 Then Moses called to them, and Aaron and all the rulers in the congregation returned to him; and Moses spoke to them.

32 Afterward all the sons of Israel came near, and he commanded them to do everything that the LORD had spoken [1]to him on Mount Sinai.

33 When Moses had finished speaking with them, [a]he put a veil over his face.

34 But whenever Moses went in before the LORD to speak with Him, [a]he would take off the veil until he came out; and whenever he came out and spoke to the sons of Israel what he had been commanded, 35 [a]the sons of Israel would see the face of Moses, that the skin of Moses' face shone. So Moses would replace the veil over his face until he went in to speak with Him.

The Sabbath Emphasized

35 Then Moses assembled all the congregation of the sons of Israel, and said to them, "[a]These are the things that the LORD has commanded you to [1]do:

2 "[a]For six days work may be done, but on the seventh day you shall have a holy day, [b]a sabbath of complete rest to the LORD; [c]whoever does any work on it shall be put to death.

3 "[a]You shall not kindle a fire in any of your dwellings on the sabbath day."

4 Moses spoke to all the congregation of the sons of Israel, saying, "This is the thing which the LORD has commanded, saying,

5 '[a]Take from among you a [1]contribution to the LORD; whoever is of a willing heart, let him bring it as the LORD's [1]contribution: gold, silver, and [2]bronze,

6 and [1]blue, purple and scarlet material, fine linen, goats' hair,

7 and rams' skins [1]dyed red, and porpoise skins, and acacia wood,

8 and oil for lighting, and spices for the anointing oil, and for the fragrant incense,

9 and onyx stones and setting stones for the ephod and for the [1]breastpiece.

Tabernacle Workmen

10 '[a]Let every skillful man among you come, and make all that the LORD has commanded:

34:27 Write down these words. As he had earlier written down similar words (see 24:4).

34:28 he wrote. Here the Lord, rather than Moses, is probably the subject (see v. 1). the words of the covenant, the Ten Commandments. The two phrases are synonymous (see note on 20:1).

34:29 testimony. See notes on 16:34; 25:16. shone. He who had asked to see God's glory (33:18) now, quite unawares, reflects the divine glory. The Hebrew for "shone" is related to the Hebrew noun for "horn." The meaning of the phrase was therefore misunderstood by the Vulgate (the Latin translation), and thus European medieval art often showed horns sprouting from Moses' head.

34:33 he put a veil over his face. So that the Israelites would not see the fading away of the radiance but would continue to honor Moses as the one who represented God. For a NT reflection on Moses' action see 2 Cor 3:7–18 and notes.

35:1–3 Just as the Israelites had been reminded of the importance of Sabbath observance immediately after the instructions for building the tabernacle and making the priestly garments (see note on 31:13), so now—just before the fulfilling of those instructions—the people are given the same reminder.

35:4–39:43 For the most part repeated from chs. 25–28; 30:1–5; 31:1–11 (see notes on those passages), sometimes verbatim, but with the verbs primarily in the past rather than the future tense and with the topics arranged in a different order. Such repetition was a common feature of ancient Near Eastern literature and was intended to fix the details of a narrative in the reader's mind (see note on Gen 24:34–49).

35:5 whoever is of a willing heart. The voluntary motivation behind the offering of materials and services for the tabernacle is stressed (see vv. 21–22,26,29; 36:2–3).

18 the pegs of the tabernacle and the pegs of the court and their cords;

19 the [1][a]woven garments for ministering in the holy place, the holy garments for Aaron the priest and the garments of his sons, to minister as priests.' "

Gifts Received

20 Then all the congregation of the sons of Israel departed from Moses' presence.

21 [a]Everyone whose heart [1]stirred him and everyone whose spirit [2]moved him came and brought the LORD's [3]contribution for the work of the tent of meeting and for all its service and for the holy garments.

22 Then all [1]whose hearts moved them, both men and women, came and brought brooches and [2]earrings and signet rings and bracelets, all articles of gold; so did every man who [3]presented an offering of gold to the LORD.

23 Every man, [1]who had in his possession [2]blue and purple and scarlet material and fine linen and goats' hair and rams' skins [3]dyed red and porpoise skins, brought them.

24 Everyone who could make a [1]contribution of silver and [2]bronze brought the LORD's [1]contribution; and every man [3]who had in his possession acacia wood for any work of the service brought it.

25 All the [1]skilled women spun with their hands, and brought what they had spun, in [2]blue and purple and scarlet material and in fine linen.

26 All the women whose heart [1]stirred with a skill spun the goats' hair.

27 The rulers brought the onyx stones and the stones for setting for the ephod and for the [1]breastpiece;

28 and [a]the spice and the oil for the light and for the anointing oil and for the fragrant incense.

29 The [1]Israelites, all the men and women, whose heart [2]moved them to bring material for all the work, which the LORD had commanded through Moses to be done, brought a [a]freewill offering to the LORD.

30 [a]Then Moses said to the sons of Israel, "See, the LORD has called by name Bezalel the son of Uri, the son of Hur, of the tribe of Judah.

31 "And He has filled him with the Spirit of God, in wisdom, in understanding and in knowledge and in all [1]craftsmanship;

32 [1]to make designs for working in gold and in silver and in [2]bronze,

33 and in the cutting of stones for settings and in the carving of wood, so as to perform in every inventive work.

34 "He also has put in his heart to teach, both he and [a]Oholiab, the son of Ahisamach, of the tribe of Dan.

35 "[a]He has filled them with [1]skill to perform every work of an engraver and of a designer and of an embroiderer, in [2]blue and in purple and in scarlet material, and in fine linen, and of a weaver, as performers of every work and makers of designs.

The Tabernacle Underwritten

36 "Now Bezalel and Oholiab, and every [1]skillful person in whom the LORD has put [2]skill and understanding to know how to perform all the work [3]in the construction of the sanctuary, shall perform in accordance with all that the LORD has commanded."

2 Then Moses called Bezalel and Oholiab and every [1]skillful person in [2]whom the LORD had put [3]skill, [a]everyone whose heart stirred him, to come to the work to perform it.

3 They received from Moses all the [1]contributions which the sons of Israel had brought [2]to perform the work [3]in the construction of the sanctuary. And they still continued bringing to him freewill offerings every morning.

4 And all the [1]skillful men who were performing all the work of the sanctuary came, each from [2]the work which [3]he was performing,

5 and they said to [1]Moses, "[a]The people are bringing much more than enough for the [2]construction work which the LORD commanded us to [3]perform."

6 So Moses issued a command, and a [1]proclamation was circulated throughout the camp, saying, "Let no man or woman any longer perform work for the [2]contributions of the sanctuary." Thus the people were restrained from bringing any more.

7 [a]For the [1]material they had was sufficient and more than enough for all the work, to perform it.

Construction Proceeds

8 [a]All the [1]skillful men among those who were performing the work made the [2]tabernacle with ten curtains; of fine twisted linen and [3]blue and purple and scarlet material, with cherubim, the work of a skillful workman, [4]Bezalel made them.

9 The length of each curtain was twenty-eight [1]cubits and the width of each curtain four [1]cubits; all the curtains had [2]the same measurements.

10 He [1]joined five curtains to one another and the other five curtains he [1]joined to one another.

11 He made loops of [1]blue on the edge of the [2]outermost curtain in the first [3]set; he did likewise on the edge of the curtain that was [2]outermost in the second [3]set.

12 He made [a]fifty loops in the one curtain and he made fifty loops on the [1]edge of the curtain that was in the second [2]set; the loops were opposite each other.

35:21 tent of meeting. See note on 27:21.

36:1–38 See note on 35:4–39:43.

13 He made [a]fifty clasps of gold and [1]joined the curtains to one another with the clasps, so the tabernacle was [2]a unit.

14 Then [a]he made curtains of goats' hair for a tent over the tabernacle; he made eleven curtains [1]in all.

15 The length of each curtain was thirty cubits and four cubits the width of each curtain; the eleven curtains had [1]the same measurements.

16 He [1]joined five curtains by themselves and the other six curtains by themselves.

17 Moreover, he made fifty loops on the edge of the curtain that was outermost in the first [1]set, and he made fifty loops on the edge of the curtain that was outermost in the second [1]set.

18 He made fifty clasps of [1]bronze to [2]join the tent together so that it would be [3]a unit.

19 He made a covering for the tent of rams' skins [1]dyed red, and a covering of porpoise skins above.

20 [a]Then he made the boards for the tabernacle of acacia wood, standing upright.

21 Ten cubits was the length of [1]each board and one and a half cubits the width of each board.

22 There were two tenons for each board, [1]fitted to one another; thus he did for all the boards of the tabernacle.

23 He made the boards for the tabernacle: twenty boards [1]for the south side;

24 and he made forty [1]sockets of silver under the twenty boards; two [1]sockets under one board for its two tenons and two [1]sockets under another board for its two tenons.

25 Then for the second side of the tabernacle, on the north side, he made twenty boards, 26 and their forty [1]sockets of silver; two [1]sockets under one board and two [1]sockets under another board.

27 For the [1]rear of the tabernacle, to the west, he made six boards.

28 He made two boards for the corners of the [1]tabernacle at the [2]rear.

29 They were double beneath, and together they were complete to its [1]top [2]to the first ring; thus he did with both of them for the two corners.

30 There were eight boards with their [1]sockets of silver, sixteen [1]sockets, [2]two under every board.

31 Then he made [a]bars of acacia wood, five for the boards of one side of the tabernacle, 32 and five bars for the boards of the [1]other side of the tabernacle, and five bars for the boards of the tabernacle for the [2]rear side to the west.

33 He made the middle bar to pass through in the [1]center of the boards from end to end.

34 He overlaid the boards with gold and made their rings of gold as holders for the bars, and overlaid the bars with gold.

35 [a]Moreover, he made the veil of [1]blue and purple and scarlet material, and fine twisted linen; he made it with cherubim, the work of a skillful workman.

36 He made four pillars of acacia for it, and overlaid them with gold, with their hooks of gold; and he cast four [1]sockets of silver for them.

37 He made a [a]screen for the doorway of the tent, of [1]blue and purple and scarlet material, and fine twisted linen, the work of a [2]weaver;

38 and he made its [a]five pillars with their hooks, and he overlaid their tops and their [1]bands with gold; but their five [2]sockets were of [3]bronze.

Construction Continues

37 [a]Now Bezalel made the ark of acacia wood; its length was two and a half [1]cubits, and its width one and a half cubits, and its height one and a half cubits;

2 and he overlaid it with pure gold inside and out, and made a gold molding for it all around.

3 He cast four rings of gold for it on its four feet; even two rings on one side of it, and two rings on the [1]other side of it.

4 He made poles of acacia wood and overlaid them with gold.

5 He put the poles into the rings on the sides of the ark, to carry [1]it.

6 He made a [1]mercy seat of pure gold, two and a half cubits [2]long and one and a half cubits [3]wide.

7 He made two cherubim of gold; he made them of hammered work [1]at the two ends of the mercy seat;

8 one cherub [1]at the one end and one cherub [1]at the other end; he made the cherubim of one piece with the mercy seat [1]at the two ends.

9 The cherubim had their wings spread upward, covering the [1]mercy seat with their wings, with their faces toward each other; the faces of the cherubim were toward the mercy seat.

10 [a]Then he made the table of acacia wood, two [1]cubits [2]long and a cubit [3]wide and one and a half cubits [4]high.

11 He overlaid it with pure gold, and made a gold molding for it all around.

12 He made a rim for it of a handbreadth all around, and made a gold molding for its rim all around.

13 He cast four gold rings for it and put the rings on the four corners that were on its four feet.

37:1–29 See note on 35:4–39:43.

37:1 Bezalel made the ark. The chief craftsman (see 31:2–3) was given the honor of making the most sacred object (see 25:10 and note) among the furnishings for the tabernacle.

14 Close by the rim were the rings, the holders for the poles to carry the table.

15 He made the poles of acacia wood and overlaid them with gold, to carry the table.

16 He made the utensils which were on the table, its [1]dishes and its pans and its [2]bowls and its jars, with which to pour out drink offerings, of pure gold.

17 [a]Then he made the lampstand of pure gold. He made the lampstand of hammered work, its base and its shaft; its cups, its [1]bulbs and its flowers were of one piece with it.

18 There were six branches going out of its sides; three branches of the lampstand from the one side of it and three branches of the lampstand from the [1]other side of it;

19 three cups shaped like almond blossoms, a [1]bulb and a flower in one branch, and three cups shaped like almond blossoms, a [1]bulb and a flower in the other branch—so for the six branches going out of the lampstand.

20 In the lampstand there were four cups shaped like almond blossoms, its [1]bulbs and its flowers;

21 and a [1]bulb was under the first pair of branches coming out of it, and a [1]bulb under the second pair of branches coming out of it, and a [1]bulb under the third pair of branches coming out of it, for the six branches coming out of the lampstand.

22 Their [1]bulbs and their branches were of one piece with it; the whole of it was a single hammered work of pure gold.

23 He made its seven lamps with its snuffers and its [1]trays of pure gold.

24 He made it and all its utensils from a talent of pure gold.

25 [a]Then he made the altar of incense of acacia wood: a cubit [1]long and a cubit [2]wide, square, and two cubits [3]high; its horns were of one piece with it.

26 He overlaid it with pure gold, its top and its [1]sides all around, and its horns; and he made a gold molding for it all around.

27 He made two golden rings for it under its molding, on its two sides—on opposite sides—as holders for poles with which to carry it.

28 He made the poles of acacia wood and overlaid them with gold.

29 [a]And he made the holy anointing oil and the pure, fragrant incense of spices, the work of a perfumer.

The Tabernacle Completed

38 [a]Then he made the altar of burnt offering of acacia wood, five [1]cubits [2]long, and five cubits [3]wide, square, and three cubits [4]high.

2 He made its horns on its four corners, its horns [1]being of one piece with it, and he overlaid it with [2]bronze.

3 He made all the utensils of the altar, the pails and the shovels and the basins, the flesh hooks and the firepans; he made all its utensils of bronze.

4 He made for the altar a grating of bronze network beneath, under its ledge, reaching halfway up.

5 He cast four rings on the four ends of the bronze grating as holders for the poles.

6 He made the poles of acacia wood and overlaid them with bronze.

7 He inserted the poles into the rings on the sides of the altar, with which to carry it. He made it hollow with planks.

8 [a]Moreover, he made the laver of bronze with its base of bronze, [1]from the mirrors of the serving women who served at the doorway of the tent of meeting.

9 [a]Then he made the court: [1]for the south side the hangings of the court were of fine twisted linen, one hundred cubits;

10 their twenty pillars, and their twenty [1]sockets, made of bronze; the hooks of the pillars and their [2]bands were of silver.

11 For the north side there were one hundred cubits; their twenty pillars and their twenty [1]sockets were of bronze, the hooks of the pillars and their [2]bands were of silver.

12 For the west side there were hangings of fifty cubits with their ten pillars and their ten [1]sockets; the hooks of the pillars and their [2]bands were of silver.

13 For the [1]east side fifty cubits.

14 The hangings for the one [1]side of the gate were fifteen cubits, with their three pillars and their three [2]sockets,

15 and so for the [1]other [2]side. [3]On both sides of the gate of the court were hangings of fifteen cubits, with their three pillars and their three [4]sockets.

16 All the hangings of the court all around were of fine twisted linen.

17 The [1]sockets for the pillars were of [2]bronze, the hooks of the pillars and their [3]bands, of silver; and the overlaying of their tops, of silver, and all the pillars of the court were furnished with silver [3]bands.

18 The screen of the gate of the court was the work of the [1]weaver, of [2]blue and purple and scarlet material and fine twisted linen. And the length was twenty cubits and the [3]height was five cubits, corresponding to the hangings of the court.

19 Their four pillars and their four [1]sockets were of bronze; their hooks were of silver, and the overlaying of their tops and their [2]bands were of silver.

20 All the pegs of the [1]tabernacle and of the court all around were of bronze.

the [2]tabernacle, the [2]tabernacle of the testimony, as they were [3]numbered according to the [4]command of Moses, for the service of the Levites, by the hand of Ithamar the son of Aaron the priest.

22 Now [a]Bezalel the son of Uri, the son of Hur, of the tribe of Judah, made all that the LORD had commanded Moses.

23 With him was [a]Oholiab the son of Ahisamach, of the tribe of Dan, an engraver and a skillful workman and a [1]weaver in [2]blue and in purple and in scarlet material, and fine linen.

24 All the gold that was used for the work, in all the work of the sanctuary, even the gold of the wave offering, was 29 talents and 730 shekels, according to [a]the shekel of the sanctuary.

25 [a]The silver of those of the congregation who were [1]numbered was 100 talents and 1,775 shekels, according to the shekel of the sanctuary;

26 [a]a beka a head (that is, half a shekel according to the shekel of the sanctuary), for each one who passed over to those who were [1]numbered, from twenty years old and upward, for [b]603,550 men.

27 The hundred talents of silver were for casting the [1]sockets of the sanctuary and the [1]sockets of the veil; one hundred [1]sockets for the hundred talents, a talent for a [1]socket.

28 Of the 1,775 shekels, he made hooks for the pillars and overlaid their tops and made [1]bands for them.

29 The bronze of the wave offering was 70 talents and 2,400 shekels.

30 With it he made the [1]sockets to the doorway of the tent of meeting, and the bronze altar and its bronze grating, and all the utensils of the altar,

31 and the [1]sockets of the court all around and the [1]sockets of the gate of the court, and all the pegs of the [2]tabernacle and all the pegs of the court all around.

The Priestly Garments

39 Moreover, from the [1][a]blue and purple and scarlet material, they made finely [b]woven garments for ministering in the holy place [2]as well as the holy garments which were for Aaron, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

2 [a]He made the ephod of gold, and of [1]blue and purple and scarlet material, and fine twisted linen.

3 Then they hammered out gold sheets and cut them into threads [1]to be woven in with the [2]blue and the purple and the scarlet material, and the fine linen, the work of a skillful workman.

4 They made attaching shoulder pieces for [1]the ephod; it was attached at its two upper ends.

5 The skillfully woven band which was on it was like its workmanship, [1]of the same material: of gold and of [2]blue and purple and scarlet material, and fine twisted linen, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

6 [a]They made the onyx stones, set in gold filigree settings; they were engraved like the engravings of a signet, according to the names of the sons of Israel.

7 And [a]he placed them on the shoulder pieces of the ephod, as memorial stones for the sons of Israel, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

8 [a]He made the breastpiece, the work of a skillful workman, like the workmanship of the ephod: of gold and of [1]blue and purple and scarlet material and fine twisted linen.

9 It was square; they made the breastpiece folded double, a span [1]long and a span [2]wide when folded double.

10 And they [1]mounted four rows of stones on it. The first row was a row of ruby, topaz, and emerald;

11 and the second row, a turquoise, a sapphire and a diamond;

12 and the third row, a jacinth, an agate, and an amethyst;

13 and the fourth row, a beryl, an onyx, and a jasper. They were set in gold filigree settings when they were [1]mounted.

14 The stones were corresponding to the names of the sons of Israel; they were twelve, corresponding to their names, engraved with the engravings of a signet, each with its name for the twelve tribes.

15 They made on the breastpiece chains like cords, of twisted cordage work in pure gold.

16 They made two gold filigree settings and two gold rings, and put the two rings on the two ends of the breastpiece.

17 Then they put the two gold cords in the two rings at the ends of the breastpiece.

18 They put the other two ends of the two cords on the two filigree settings, and put them on the shoulder pieces of the ephod at the front of it.

19 They made two gold rings and placed them on the two ends of the breastpiece, on its inner edge which was next to the ephod.

20 Furthermore, they made two gold rings and placed them on the bottom of the two shoulder pieces of the ephod, on the front of 38:25 100 talents and 1,775 shekels. Since there are 3,000 shekels in a talent, 100 talents equals 300,000 shekels, which, when added to the 1,775 shekels, gives a grand total of 301,775—half a shekel for each of the 603,550 men of military age (v. 26).

38:26 603,550 men. The number is doubtless to be understood literally, since the figures in the tribal census (see Num 1:21–43; 2:4–31) total 603,550 (see Num 1:46 and note). See Introduction to Numbers: Special Problem.

it, close to the place where it joined, above the woven band of the ephod.

21 They bound the breastpiece by its rings to the rings of the ephod with a [1]blue cord, so that it would be on the woven band of the ephod, and that the breastpiece would not come loose from the ephod, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

22 [a]Then he made the robe of the ephod of woven work, all of [1]blue;

23 [a]and the opening of the robe was at the top in the center, as the opening of a coat of mail, with a binding all around its opening, so that it would not be torn.

24 They made pomegranates of [1]blue and purple and scarlet material and twisted linen on the hem of the robe.

25 They also made bells of pure gold, and put the bells between the pomegranates all around on the hem of the [1]robe, 26 [1]alternating a bell and a pomegranate all around on the hem of the robe for the service, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

27 [a]They made the tunics of finely woven linen for Aaron and his sons,

28 and the turban of fine linen, and the decorated [1]caps of fine linen, and the linen breeches of fine twisted linen,

29 and the sash of fine twisted linen, and [1]blue and purple and scarlet material, the work of the [2]weaver, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

30 [a]They made the plate of the holy crown of pure gold, and [1]inscribed it like the engravings of a signet, "Holy to the LORD."

31 They [1]fastened a [2]blue cord to it, to [1]fasten it on the turban above, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

32 Thus all the work of the [1]tabernacle of the tent of meeting was completed; and the sons of Israel did according to all that the LORD had commanded Moses; so they did.

33 They brought the tabernacle to Moses, the tent and all its [1]furnishings: its clasps, its boards, its bars, and its pillars and its [2]sockets;

34 and the covering of rams' skins [1]dyed red, and the covering of porpoise skins, and the screening veil;

35 the ark of the testimony and its poles and the [1]mercy seat;

36 the table, all its utensils, and the bread of the [1]Presence;

37 the pure gold lampstand, [1]with its arrangement of lamps and all its utensils, and the oil for the light;

38 and the gold altar, and the anointing oil and the fragrant incense, and the veil for the doorway of the tent;

39 the [1]bronze altar and its [1]bronze grating, its poles and all its utensils, the laver and its stand;

40 the hangings for the court, its pillars and its [1]sockets, and the screen for the gate of the court, its cords and its pegs and all the [2]equipment for the service of the tabernacle, for the tent of meeting;

41 the woven garments for ministering in the holy place and the holy garments for Aaron the priest and the garments of his sons, to minister as priests.

42 So the sons of Israel did all the work according to all that the LORD had commanded Moses.

43 And Moses [1]examined all the work and behold, they had done it; just as the LORD had commanded, this they had done. So Moses [a]blessed them.

The Tabernacle Erected

40 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

2 "[a]On the first day of the first month you shall set up the [1]tabernacle of the tent of meeting.

3 "[a]You shall place the ark of the testimony there, and you shall screen the ark with the veil.

4 "You shall [a]bring in the table and [1][b]arrange what belongs on it; and you shall [c]bring in the lampstand and [2]mount its lamps.

5 "Moreover, you shall [a]set the gold altar of incense before the ark of the testimony, and set up the veil for the doorway to the tabernacle.

6 "You shall set the altar of burnt offering in front of the doorway of the tabernacle of the tent of meeting.

7 "You shall [a]set the laver between the tent of meeting and the altar and put water [1]in it.

8 "You shall set up the court all around and [1]hang up the veil for the gateway of the court.

9 "Then you shall take the anointing oil and [a]anoint the tabernacle and all that is in it, and shall consecrate it and all its [1]furnishings; and it shall be holy.

10 "You shall anoint the altar of burnt offering and all its utensils, and consecrate the altar, and [a]the altar shall be most holy.

11 "You shall anoint the laver and its stand, and consecrate it.

12 "Then you shall [a]bring Aaron and his sons to the doorway of the tent of meeting and wash them with water.

Moses.
33 He [a]erected the court all around the veil for the gateway of the court. Thus Moses finished the work.

The Glory of the LORD

34 [a]Then the cloud covered the tent of meeting, and the [b]glory of the LORD filled the tabernacle.
35 Moses [a]was not able to enter the tent of meeting because the cloud had settled on it, and the glory of the LORD filled the tabernacle.
36 Throughout all their journeys [a]whenever the cloud was taken up from over the tabernacle, the sons of Israel would set out; 37 but [a]if the cloud was not taken up, then they did not set out until the day when it was taken up.
38 For throughout all their journeys, [a]the cloud of the LORD was on the tabernacle by day, and there was fire in it by night, in the sight of all the house of Israel.

40:16 according to all that the LORD had commanded him, so he did. Moses' obedience to God's command is a key theme of the final chapter of Exodus (see vv. 19,21,23,25,27,29,32). It was the people who provided all the resources and made all the components, but it was the Lord's servant Moses who was authorized to erect the tabernacle and prepare it for the Lord's entry.
40:33 Moses finished the work. See note on 39:32.
40:34 With the glory of the Lord entering the tabernacle, the great series of events that began with the birth of Moses and his rescue from the Nile, foreshadowing the deliverance of Israel from Egypt, comes to a grand climax. From now on, the Israelites march through the wilderness, and through history, with the Lord tenting among them and leading them to the land of fulfilled promises.
40:38 See note on 13:21. house of Israel. The nation, viewed as an extended family household.

Leviticus

Author and Date

See note on 1:1 and Introduction to Genesis: Author and Date of Writing.

Title

Leviticus receives its name from the Septuagint (the Greek translation of the OT) and means "relating to the Levites." Its Hebrew title, wayyiqra', is the first word in the Hebrew text of the book and means "And He [i.e., the Lord] called." Although Leviticus does not deal only with the special duties of the Levites, it is so named because it concerns mainly the service of worship at the tabernacle, which was conducted by the priests who were the sons of Aaron, assisted by many from the rest of the tribe of Levi. Exodus gave the directions for building the tabernacle, and now Leviticus gives the laws and regulations for worship there, including instructions on ceremonial cleanness, moral laws, holy days, the sabbath year and the year of jubilee. These laws were given, at least for the most part, during the year that Israel camped at Mount Sinai, when God directed Moses in organizing Israel's worship, government and military forces. The book of Numbers continues the history with preparations for moving on from Sinai to Canaan.

Themes

The key thought of Leviticus is holiness (see note on 11:44)—the holiness of God and man (man must revere God in "holiness"). In Leviticus spiritual holiness is symbolized by physical perfection. Therefore the book demands perfect animals for its many sacrifices (chs. 1—7) and requires priests without deformity (chs. 8—10). A woman's hemorrhaging after giving birth (ch. 12); sores, burns or baldness (chs. 13—14); a man's bodily discharge (15:1–18); specific activities during a woman's monthly period (15:19–33)—all may be signs of blemish (a lack of perfection) and may symbolize man's spiritual defects, which break his spiritual wholeness. The person with visible skin disease must be banished from the camp, the place of God's special presence, just as Adam and Eve were banished from the Garden of Eden. Such a person can return to the camp (and therefore to God's presence) when he is pronounced whole again by the examining priests. Before he can reenter the camp, however, he has to offer the prescribed, perfect sacrifices (symbolizing the perfect, whole sacrifice of Christ).

After the covenant at Sinai, Israel was the earthly representation of God's kingdom (the theocracy), and, as her King, the Lord established His administration over all of Israel's life. Her religious, communal and personal life was so regulated as to establish her as God's holy people and to instruct her in holiness. Special attention was given to Israel's religious ritual. The sacrifices were to be offered at an approved sanctuary, which would symbolize both God's holiness and His compassion. They were to be controlled by the priests, who by care and instruction would preserve them in purity and carefully teach their meaning to the people. Each particular sacrifice was to have meaning for the people of Israel but would also have spiritual and symbolic import.

For more information on the meaning of sacrifice in general see the solemn ritual of the day of atonement (ch. 16). For the meaning of the blood of the offering see 17:11; Gen 9:4. For the emphasis on substitution see 16:21.

Some suppose that the OT sacrifices were remains of old agricultural offerings—a human desire to offer part of one's possessions as a love gift to the deity. But the OT sacrifices were specifically prescribed by God and received their meaning from the Lord's covenant relationship with Israel—whatever their superficial resemblances to pagan sacrifices. They indeed include the idea of a gift, but this is accompanied by such other values as dedication, communion, propitiation (appeasing God's judicial wrath against sin) and restitution.

The various offerings have differing functions, the primary ones being atonement (see note on Ex 25:17) and worship.

Outline

The subjects treated in Leviticus, as in any book of laws and regulations, cover several categories:

I. The Five Main Offerings (chs. 1—7)
   A. Their Content, Purpose and Manner of Offering (1:1 — 6:7)
   B. Additional Regulations (6:8 — 7:38)
II. The Ordination, Installation and Work of Aaron and His Sons (chs. 8 — 10)
III. Laws of Cleanness — Food, Childbirth, Diseases, etc. (chs. 11 — 15)
IV. The Day of Atonement and the Centrality of Worship at the Tabernacle (chs. 16 — 17)
V. Moral Laws Covering Incest, Honesty, Thievery, Idolatry, etc. (chs. 18 — 20)
VI. Regulations for the Priests, the Offerings and the Annual Feasts (21:1 — 24:9)
VII. Punishment for Blasphemy, Murder, etc. (24:10 – 23)
VIII. The Sabbath Year, Jubilee, Land Tenure and Reform of Slavery (ch. 25)
IX. Blessings and Curses for Covenant Obedience and Disobedience (ch. 26)
X. Regulations for Offerings Vowed to the Lord (ch. 27)

The Law of Burnt Offerings

1 Then [a]the LORD called to Moses and spoke to him from the tent of meeting, saying,

2 "Speak to the sons of Israel and say to them, 'When any man of you brings an [1][a]offering to the LORD, you shall bring your [1]offering of animals from [b]the herd or the flock.

3 'If his offering is a [a]burnt offering from the herd, he shall offer it, a male [b]without defect; he shall offer it [c]at the doorway of the tent of meeting, that he may be accepted before the LORD.

1:1 Emphasizes that the contents of Leviticus were given to Moses by God at Mount Sinai. Cf. also the concluding verse (27:34). In more than 50 places it is said that the Lord spoke to Moses. Modern criticism has attributed practically the whole book to priestly legislation written during or after the exile. But this is without objective evidence, is against the repeated claim of the book to be Mosaic, is against the traditional Jewish view, and runs counter to other OT and NT witness (Rom 10:5). Many items in Leviticus are now seen to be best explained in terms of a second-millennium B.C. date, which is also the most likely time for Moses to have written the Pentateuch (see Introduction to Genesis: Author and Date of Writing). There is no convincing reason not to take at face value the many references to Moses and his work. tent of meeting. The tabernacle, where God met with Israel (see note on Ex 27:21).

1:2 brings an offering. The Hebrew word for "offering" used here (qorban) comes from the word translated "brings." An "offering" is something that someone "brings" to God as a gift (most offerings were voluntary, such as the burnt offering). This word for "offering" is also used in Mark 7:11 ("Corban"), where Mark translates it as something "given" (see note there).

1:3 burnt offering. See further priestly regulations in 6:8–13 (see also chart, p. 139). A burnt offering was offered every morning and evening for all Israel (Ex 29:39–42). Double burnt offerings were brought on the Sabbath (Num 28:9–10) and extra ones on feast days (Num 28–29). In addition, anyone could offer special burnt offerings to express devotion to the Lord. male. The burnt offering had to be a male animal because of its greater value, and also perhaps because it was thought to better represent vigor and fertility. It was usually a young sheep or goat (for the average individual), but bulls (for the wealthy) and doves or pigeons (for the poor) were also specified. without defect. The animal had to be unblemished (cf. Mal 1:8). As in all offerings, the offerer was to lay his hand on the head of the animal to express identification between himself and the animal (16:21), whose death would then be accepted in "atonement" (v. 4). The blood was sprinkled on the sides of the great altar (located outside the tabernacle—later the temple—in the eastern half of the courtyard), where the fire of sacrifice was never to go out (6:13). The whole sacrifice was to be burned up (v. 9), including the head, legs, fat and inner organs. It is therefore sometimes called a holocaust offering (holo means "whole," and caust means "burnt"). When a bull was offered, however, the officiating priest could keep its hide (7:8). The burnt offering may have been the usual sacrifice offered by the patriarchs. It was the most comprehensive in its meaning. Its Hebrew name means "going up," perhaps symbolizing worship and prayer as its aroma ascended to the Lord (v. 17). The completeness of its burning also speaks of dedication on the part of the worshiper. doorway of the tent of meeting. Where the altar of burnt offering was (see Ex 40:29). accepted before the LORD. See Rom 12:1; Phil 4:18.

1:4 lay his hand on. See notes on v. 3; Ex 29:10. atonement. See notes on 16:20–22; 17:11.

1:5 Only after the offerer killed the animal (symbolizing substitution of a perfect animal sacrifice for a sinful human life) did the priestly work begin. blood. See notes on 17:11; Heb 9:18. sprinkle . . . around the altar. See Ex 24:6; Heb 9:19–21.

1:6 skin. The whole animal was burned except the hide, which was given to the priest (7:8).

1:9,13,17 soothing aroma to the LORD. The OT sacrifices foreshadowed Christ, who was an "offering . . . as a fragrant aroma" (Eph 5:2; cf. Phil 4:18).

1:11 northward. See diagram, p. 114.

1:14 birds. Three categories of sacrifices are mentioned: (1) herds (vv. 3–9), (2) flocks (vv. 10–13) and (3) birds (vv. 14–17). Sacrifices of birds were allowed for the poor (see 5:7; 12:8; Luke 2:24).

16 'He shall also take away its crop with its feathers and cast it beside the altar eastward, to the place of the [1][a]ashes.

17 'Then he shall tear it by its wings, but [a]shall not sever it. And the priest shall offer it up in smoke on the altar on the wood which is on the fire; [b]it is a burnt offering, an offering by fire of a soothing aroma to the LORD.

The Law of Grain Offerings

2 'Now when anyone presents a [a]grain offering as an offering to the LORD, his offering shall be of fine flour, and he shall pour oil on it and put frankincense on it.

2 'He shall then bring it to Aaron's sons the priests; and shall take from it [a]his handful of its fine flour and of its oil with all of its frankincense. And the priest shall offer it up in smoke as its [b]memorial portion on the altar, an offering by fire of a soothing aroma to the LORD.

3 '[a]The remainder of the grain offering belongs to [b]Aaron and his sons: a thing most holy, of the offerings to the LORD by fire.

4 'Now when you bring an offering of a grain offering baked in an oven, it shall be [a]unleavened cakes of fine flour mixed with oil, or unleavened wafers [1]spread with oil.

5 'If your offering is a grain offering made [a]on the griddle, it shall be of fine flour, unleavened, mixed with oil;

6 you shall break it into bits and pour oil on it; it is a grain offering.

7 'Now if your offering is a grain offering made [a]in a [1]pan, it shall be made of fine flour with oil.

8 'When you bring in the grain offering which is made of these things to the LORD, it shall be presented to the priest and he shall bring it to the altar.

9 'The priest then shall take up from the grain offering [a]its memorial portion, and shall offer it up in smoke on the altar as an offering by fire of a soothing aroma to the LORD.

10 '[a]The remainder of the grain offering belongs to Aaron and his sons: a thing most holy of the offerings to the LORD by fire.

11 '[a]No grain offering, which you bring to the LORD, shall be made with leaven, for you shall not offer [1]up in smoke any leaven or any honey as an [b]offering by fire to the LORD.

12 '[a]As an offering of first fruits you shall bring them to the LORD, but they shall not ascend for a soothing aroma on the altar.

13 'Every grain offering of yours, moreover, you shall season with salt, so that [a]the salt of the covenant of your God shall not be lacking from your grain offering; with all your offerings you shall offer salt.

14 'Also if you bring a grain offering of early ripened things to the LORD, you shall bring [a]fresh heads of grain roasted in the fire, grits of new growth, for the grain offering of your early ripened things.

15 'You shall then put oil on it and lay incense on it; it is a grain offering.

16 'The priest shall offer up in smoke [a]its memorial portion, part of its grits and its oil with all its incense as an offering by fire to the LORD.

The Law of Peace Offerings

1:17 not sever it. See note on Gen 15:10.

2:1 grain offering. See further priestly regulations in 6:14–23; 7:9–10. It was made of grain or fine flour. If baked or cooked, it consisted of cakes or wafers made in a pan or oven or on a griddle. It was the only bloodless offering, but it was to accompany the burnt offering (see Num 28:3–6), sin offering (see Num 6:14–15) and peace offering (see 9:4; Num 6:17). The amounts of grain offering ingredients specified to accompany a bull, ram or lamb sacrificed as a burnt offering are given in Num 28:12–13. A representative handful of flour was to be burned on the altar with the accompanying offerings, and the balance was to be baked without yeast and eaten by the priests in their holy meals (6:14–17). The flour that was burned on the altar was mixed with olive oil for shortening, salted for taste and accompanied by incense, but it was to have no yeast or honey—neither of which was allowed on the altar (vv. 11–13). The cooked product was similar to pie crust. The worshiper was not to eat any of the grain offering, and the priests were not to eat any of their own grain offerings, which were to be totally burned (6:22–23). The Hebrew word for grain offering can mean "present" or "gift" and is often used in that way (see Gen 43:11). The sacred gifts expressed devotion to God (see v. 2). fine flour. Grain that was milled and sifted. oil. Olive oil is often mentioned in connection with grain and new wine as fresh products of the harvest (see Deut 7:13). Used extensively in cooking, it was a suitable part of the worshiper's gift. frankincense. The chief ingredient in incense (see Ex 30:34–35).

2:3 thing most holy. For this reason, the priests were to eat it in the sanctuary area proper and not feed their families with it (6:16–18).

2:4 unleavened. See notes on Ex 12:8,15.

2:5 griddle. A clay pan that rested on a stone heated by a fire. Later, iron pans were sometimes used.

2:11 honey. It was forbidden on the altar perhaps because of its use in brewing beer (as an aid to fermentation), though some suggest that it was because of its use in Canaanite cultic practice.

2:12 first fruits. See 23:10–11; Ex 23:16,19; Num 15:18–20; Deut 18:4–5; 26:1–11.

2:13 salt of the covenant. In ancient times salt was often costly and a valuable part of the diet. Perhaps this is why it was used as a covenant sign and was required for sacrifices.

3:1 peace offerings. See further priestly regulations in 7:11–21, 28–34. Two basic ideas are included in this offering: peace and fellowship. The traditional translation is "peace offering," a name that comes from the Hebrew word for the offering, which in turn is related to the Hebrew word shalom, meaning "peace" or "wholeness." Thus the offering perhaps symbolized peace between God and man as well as the inward peace that resulted. The peace offering was the only sacrifice of which the offerer might eat a part. Fellowship was involved because the offerer, on the basis of the sacrifice, had fellowship with God and with the priest, who also ate part of the offering (7:14–15, 31–34). This sacrifice—along with others—was offered by the thousands during the three annual festivals in Israel (see Ex 23:14–17; Num 29:39) because multitudes of people came to the temple to worship and share in a communal meal. During the monarchy, the animals offered by the people were usually supplemented by large numbers given by the king. At the dedication of the temple, Solomon offered 20,000 cattle and 120,000 sheep and goats as peace offerings over a period of 14 days (1 Kin 8:63–65).

3:2 lay his hand on. See notes on 1:3; Ex 29:10.

3:5 on the burnt offering. The burnt offerings for the nation as a whole were offered every morning and evening, and the peace offerings were offered on top of them.

3:9 fat tail. A breed of sheep still much used in the Middle East has a tail heavy with fat.

3:11,16 on the altar as food. Israelite sacrifices were not "food for the gods" (as in other ancient cultures; see Ezek 16:20; cf. Ps 50:9–13) but were sometimes called "food" metaphorically (21:6,8,17,21; 22:25) in the sense that they were gifts to God and that He received them with delight.

3:17 not eat any fat or any blood. See note on 17:11.

4:2 unintentionally. See 5:15; contrast Num 15:30–31. Four classes of people involved in committing unintentional sins are listed: (1) "the anointed priest" (vv. 3–12), (2) the "whole congregation of Israel" (vv. 13–21), (3) a "leader" (vv. 22–26) and (4) "anyone of the common people" (vv. 27–35). Heb 9:7 speaks of sins "committed in ignorance" in referring to the day of atonement.

4:3 anointed priest. The high priest (see 6:20,22). sins. All high priests sinned except the high priest Jesus Christ (Heb 5:1–3; 7:26–28). on the people. The relationship of the priests to the people was so intimate in Israel (as a nation consecrated to God) that the people became guilty when the priest sinned. let him. Although the burnt, grain and peace offerings (chs. 1–3) were voluntary, the sin offering was compulsory (see vv. 14,23,28). without defect. A defective sacrifice could not be a substitute for a defective people. The final perfect sacrifice for the sins of God's people was the crucified Christ, who was without any moral defect (Heb 9:13–14; 1 Pet 1:19). sin offering. See further priestly regulations in 6:24–30; Num 15:22–29. As soon as an "anointed priest" (or a person from one of the other classes of people) became aware of unintentional sin, he was to bring his sin offering to the Lord. On the other hand, should the priest (or others) remain unaware of unintentional sin, this lack was atoned for on the day of atonement.

4:4 Three principles of atonement are found in this verse: (1) substitution ("bring the bull"), (2) identification ("lay his hand on the head") and (3) the death of the substitute ("slay the bull").

4:5 blood. See note on 17:11. There were two types of sin offer-

When more than one kind of offering was presented (as in Num 7:16,17), the procedure was usually as follows: (1) sin offering or guilt offering, (2) burnt offering, (3) peace offering and grain offering (along with a drink offering). This sequence furnishes part of the spiritual significance of the sacrificial system. First, sin had to be dealt with (sin offering or guilt offering). Second, the worshiper committed himself completely to God (burnt offering and grain offering). Third, fellowship or communion between the Lord, the priest and the worshiper (peace offering) was established. To state it another way, there were sacrifices of expiation (sin offerings and guilt offerings), consecration (burnt offerings and grain offerings) and communion (peace offerings—these included vow offerings, thank offerings and freewill offerings).

11 'But [a]the hide of the bull and all its flesh with its head and its legs and its entrails and its refuse, 12 [1]that is, all the rest of the bull, he is to bring out to [a]a clean place outside the camp where the [2]ashes are poured out, and burn it on wood with fire; where the [2]ashes are poured out it shall be burned.

13 '[a]Now if the whole congregation of Israel commits error and the matter [1]escapes the notice of the assembly, and they commit any of the [2]things which the LORD has commanded not to be done, and they become guilty;

14 [a]when the sin [1]which they have [2]committed becomes known, then the assembly shall offer [b]a [3]bull of the herd for a sin offering and bring it before the tent of meeting.

15 'Then [a]the elders of the congregation shall lay their hands on the head of the bull before the LORD, and the bull shall be slain [b]before the LORD.

16 'Then the anointed priest is to bring some of the blood of the bull to the tent of meeting;

18 'He shall put some of the blood on the horns of [a]the altar which is before the LORD [1]in the tent of meeting; and all the blood he shall pour out at the base of the altar of burnt offering which is at the doorway of the tent of meeting.

19 '[a]He shall remove all its fat from it and offer it up in smoke on the altar.

20 'He shall also do with the bull just as he did with [a]the bull of the sin offering; thus he shall do with it. So [b]the priest shall make atonement for them, and they will be forgiven.

21 'Then he is to bring out the bull to a place outside the camp and burn it as he burned the first bull; it is [a]the sin offering for the assembly.

22 'When [a]a leader [b]sins and unintentionally does any one of all the [1]things which the LORD his God has commanded not to be done, and he becomes guilty, 23 [1a]if his sin [2]which he has committed is made known to him, he shall bring for his offering a [3b]goat, [c]a male without defect.

ings. The first (vv. 3–21) and more important involved sprinkling the blood in the tabernacle in front of the inner curtain or, in the case of the solemn day of atonement (ch. 16), on and in front of the mercy seat itself. This type of sin offering was not eaten. The fat, kidneys and covering of the liver were burned on the great altar, but all the rest was burned outside the camp (v. 12). Heb 13:11–13 clearly draws the parallel to our sin offering, Jesus, who suffered outside the city gate. This type of sin offering was offered by and for a priest or by the elders for the whole community. In general, the animal to be sacrificed was a young bull, but on the day of atonement the sin offering was to be a goat (16:9).

The second type of sin offering (4:22–5:13) was for a leader of the nation or a private individual. Some of the blood was applied to the horns of the great altar, the rest poured out at its base. The fat, etc., was burned on the altar, but the rest of the offering was given to the priest and his male relatives as food to be eaten in a holy place (6:29–30; see 10:16–20). The sin offering brought by a private person was to be a female goat or lamb. If the person was poor, he could bring a turtledove or young pigeon (5:7–8; 12:6,8; cf. Luke 2:24), or even about two quarts of flour (5:11). The offering included confession (5:5) and the symbolic transfer of guilt by laying hands on the sacrifice (v. 29; 16:21). Then the priest who offered the sacrifice made atonement for the sin, and the Lord promised forgiveness (5:13). By bringing such a sin offering, a faithful Israelite under conviction of sin sought restoration of fellowship with God.

4:6 finger. The right forefinger (see 14:16). seven. The number was symbolic of perfection and completeness (see note on Gen 5:5). veil. The great curtain that separated the holy place from the holy of holies (Ex 26:33).

4:7 horns. The four horns of the altar (see Ex 30:1–3) were symbols of the atoning power of the sin offering (Ex 30:10).

4:8–10 See 3:3–5.

4:12 outside the camp. See note on 13:45–46. So also Jesus was crucified outside Jerusalem (Heb 13:11–13; see 9:11; 16:26–28; Num 19:3; Ezek 43:21). clean. The distinction between clean and unclean was a matter of ritual or religious purity, not a concern for physical cleanliness (see chs. 11–15 for examples; see also Mark 7:1–4). burn. Since the sins of the offerer were symbolically transferred to the sacrificial bull, the bull had to be entirely destroyed and not thrown on the ash pile of 1:16.

4:15 elders. See note on Ex 3:16.

4:18 altar. Of incense (see v. 7).

4:20 sin offering. The offering of the priest who had sinned (v. 3). will be forgiven. In 4:20–6:7 this is a key phrase, occurring nine times and referring to forgiveness by God.

4:23 goat, a male. Less valuable animals were sacrificed for those with lesser standing in the community or of lesser economic means. Thus a bull was required for the high priest (v. 3) and the whole community (v. 14), but a male goat for a civic leader (v. 23) and a female goat (v. 28) or lamb (v. 32) for an ordinary Israelite. If an offerer was too poor, then turtledoves and pigeons were sufficient (5:7) or even a handful of fine flour (5:11–12).

24 'He shall lay his hand on the head of the male goat and slay it in the place where [1]they slay the burnt offering before the LORD; it is a sin offering.

25 'Then the priest is to take some of the blood of the sin offering with his finger and put it on [a]the horns of the altar of burnt offering; and the rest of its blood he shall pour out at the base of the altar of burnt offering.

26 '[a]All its fat he shall offer up in smoke on the altar as in the case of the fat of the sacrifice of peace offerings. Thus [b]the priest shall make atonement for him in regard to his sin, and he will be forgiven.

27 'Now if [1]anyone of [2]the common people sins [a]unintentionally in doing any of the [3]things which the LORD has commanded not to be done, and becomes guilty, 28 [1][a]if his sin which he has [2]committed is made known to him, then he shall bring for his offering a [3][b]goat, a [c]female without defect, for his sin which he has [2]committed.

29 '[a]He shall lay his hand on the head of the sin offering and [b]slay the sin offering at the place of the burnt offering.

30 'The priest shall take some of its blood with his finger and put it on the horns of [a]the altar of burnt offering; and [b]all the rest of its blood he shall pour out at the base of the altar.

31 '[a]Then he shall remove all its fat, just as the fat was removed from the sacrifice of peace offerings; and the priest shall offer it up in smoke on the altar for [b]a soothing aroma to the LORD. Thus the priest shall make atonement for him, [1]and he will be forgiven.

32 'But if he brings [a]a lamb as his offering for a sin offering, he shall bring it, a female without defect.

33 '[a]He shall lay his hand on the head of the sin offering and slay it for a sin offering [b]in the place where [1]they slay the burnt offering.

34 'The priest is to take some of the blood of the sin offering with his finger and put it on the horns of [a]the altar of burnt offering, and [b]all the rest of its blood he shall pour out at the base of the altar.

35 'Then he shall remove [a]all its fat, just as the fat of the lamb is removed from the sacrifice of the peace offerings, and the priest shall offer them up in smoke on the altar, on the offerings by fire to the LORD. Thus [b]the priest shall make atonement for him in regard to his sin which he has [1]committed, and he will be forgiven.

The Law of Guilt Offerings

5 'Now if a person sins after he hears a [1]public [a]adjuration to testify when he is a witness, whether he has seen or otherwise known, if he does not tell it, then he will bear his [2]guilt.

2 'Or if a person touches [a]any unclean thing, whether a carcass of an unclean beast or the carcass of unclean cattle or a carcass of unclean swarming things, though it is hidden from him and he is unclean, then he will be guilty.

3 'Or if he touches human uncleanness, of whatever sort his uncleanness may be with which he becomes unclean, and it is hidden from him, and then he comes to know it, he will be guilty.

4 'Or if a person [a]swears thoughtlessly with his lips to do evil or to do good, in whatever matter a man may speak thoughtlessly with an oath, and it is hidden from him, and then he comes to know it, he will be guilty in one of these.

5 'So it shall be when he becomes guilty in one of these, that he shall [a]confess that in which he has sinned.

6 'He shall also bring his guilt offering to the LORD for his sin which he has [1]committed, [a]a female from the flock, a lamb or a [2]goat as a sin offering. So the priest shall make atonement on his behalf for his sin.

7 'But if [1]he cannot afford a lamb, then he shall bring to the LORD his guilt offering for that in which he has sinned, two turtledoves or two young pigeons, [a]one for a sin offering and the other for a burnt offering.

8 'He shall bring them to the priest, who shall offer first that which is for the sin offering and shall nip its head at the front of its neck, but he [a]shall not sever it.

9 'He shall also sprinkle some of the blood of the sin offering [a]on the side of the altar, while the rest of the blood shall be drained out [b]at the base of the altar: it is a sin offering.

10 'The second he shall then prepare as a burnt offering [a]according to the ordinance. [b]So the priest shall make atonement on his behalf for his sin which he has [1]committed, and it will be forgiven him.

11 'But [a]if his [1]means are insufficient for two turtledoves or two young pigeons, then for his offering for that which he has sinned, he shall bring the tenth of an [2]ephah of fine flour for a sin offering; [b]he shall not put oil

13 'So the priest shall make atonement for him concerning his sin which he has [1]committed from [a]one of these, and it will be forgiven him; then [b]the rest shall become the priest's, like the grain offering.' "

14 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

15 "[a]If a person acts unfaithfully and sins [b]unintentionally against the LORD's holy things, then he shall bring his [c]guilt offering to the LORD: [d]a ram without defect from the flock, according to your valuation in silver by shekels, in terms of the [e]shekel of the sanctuary, for a guilt offering.

16 "[a]He shall make restitution for that which he has sinned against the holy thing, and shall add to it a fifth part of it and give it to the priest. [b]The priest shall then make atonement for him with the ram of the guilt offering, and it will be forgiven him.

17 "Now if a person sins and does any of the things [1]which the LORD has commanded not to be done, [a]though he was unaware, still he is guilty and shall bear his punishment.

18 "He is then to bring to the priest [a]a ram without defect from the flock, according to your valuation, for a guilt offering. So the priest shall make atonement for him concerning his error in which he sinned [b]unintentionally and did not know it, and it will be forgiven him.

19 "It is a guilt offering; he was certainly guilty before the LORD."

Guilt Offering

6 [1]Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

2 "[a]When a person sins and acts unfaithfully against the LORD, and deceives his companion in regard to a deposit or a security entrusted to him, or through robbery, or if he has extorted from his companion,

3 or [a]has found what was lost and lied about it and sworn falsely, so that he sins in regard to any one of the things a man may do;

4 then it shall be, when he sins and becomes guilty, that he shall [a]restore what he took by robbery or what he got by extortion, or the deposit which was [1]entrusted to him or the lost thing which he found,

5 or anything about which he swore falsely; [a]he shall make restitution for it [1]in full and add to it one-fifth more. [b]He shall give it to the one to whom it belongs on the day he presents his guilt offering.

6 "Then he shall bring to the priest his guilt offering to the LORD, [a]a ram without defect from the flock, according to your valuation, for a guilt offering,

7 and [a]the priest shall make atonement for him before the LORD, and he will be forgiven for any one of the things which he may have done to incur guilt."

The Priest's Part in the Offerings

8 [1]Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

9 "Command Aaron and his sons, saying, 'This is [a]the law for the burnt offering: the burnt offering itself shall remain on the hearth on the altar all night until the morning, and [b]the fire on the altar is to be kept burning on it.

10 'The priest is to put on [a]his linen robe, and he shall put on undergarments next to his flesh; and he shall take up the [1]ashes to which the fire [2]reduces the burnt offering on the altar and place them beside the altar.

11 'Then he shall take off his garments and put on other garments, and carry the [1]ashes outside the camp to a clean place.

12 'The fire on the altar shall be kept burning on it. It shall not go out, but the priest shall burn wood on it every morning; and he shall lay out the burnt offering on it, and offer up in smoke the fat portions of the peace offerings [a]on it.

13 'Fire shall be kept burning continually on the altar; it is not to go out.

14 'Now this is the law of the grain offering: the sons of Aaron shall present it before the LORD in front of the altar.

15 '[a]Then one of them shall lift up from it a handful of the fine flour of the grain offering, [1]with its oil and all the incense that is on the grain offering, and he shall offer it up in smoke on the altar, a soothing aroma, as its memorial offering to the LORD.

16 '[a]What is left of it Aaron and his sons are to eat. It shall be eaten as unleavened cakes in a holy place; they are to eat it in the court of the tent of meeting.

5:15 guilt offering. See further priestly regulations in 7:1–6 (see also Is 53:10). Traditionally called the "trespass offering," it was very similar to the sin offering (cf. 7:7), and the Hebrew words for the two were apparently sometimes interchanged. The major difference between the guilt and sin offerings was that the guilt offering was brought in cases where restitution for the sin was possible and therefore required (v. 16). Thus in cases of theft and cheating (6:2–5) the stolen property had to be returned along with 20 percent indemnity. By contrast, the sin offering was prescribed in cases of sin where no restitution was possible. The animal sacrificed as a guilt offering was always a ram.

6:3 what was lost. See Deut 22:1–3.

6:6 to the priest . . . to the LORD. Sacrifices were brought to the Lord, but priests were His authorized representatives.

6:9 burnt offering. See ch. 1; Num 15:1–16 and notes.

6:13 The perpetual fire on the altar represented uninterrupted offering to and appeal to God on behalf of Israel.

6:14 grain offering. See ch. 2 and notes.

17 'aIt shall not be baked with leaven. I have given it as their share from My offerings by fire; bit is most holy, like the sin offering and cthe guilt offering.

18 'aEvery male among the sons of Aaron may eat it; it is a permanent ordinance throughout your generations, from the offerings by fire to the LORD. bWhoever touches them will become consecrated.' "

19 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 20 "This is the offering which Aaron and his sons are to present to the LORD on the day when he is anointed; the tenth of an aephah of fine flour as ba 1regular grain offering, half of it in the morning and half of it in the evening.

21 "It shall be prepared with oil on a agriddle. When it is well stirred, you shall bring it. You shall present the grain offering in baked pieces as a soothing aroma to the LORD.

22 "The anointed priest who will be in his place 1among his sons shall 2offer it. By a permanent ordinance it shall be entirely offered up in smoke to the LORD.

23 "So every grain offering of the priest shall be burned entirely. It shall not be eaten."

24 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 25 "Speak to Aaron and to his sons, saying, 'This is the law of the sin offering: ain the place where the burnt offering is slain the sin offering shall be slain before the LORD; it is most holy.

26 'aThe priest who offers it for sin shall eat it. It shall be eaten in a holy place, in the court of the tent of meeting.

27 'aAnyone who touches its flesh will become consecrated; and when any of its blood 1splashes on a garment, in a holy place you shall wash what was splashed on.

28 'Also athe earthenware vessel in which it was boiled shall be broken; and if it was boiled in a bronze vessel, then it shall be scoured and rinsed in water.

29 'aEvery male among the priests may eat of it; bit is most holy.

30 'But no sin offering aof which any of the blood is brought into the tent of meeting to make atonement bin the holy place shall be eaten; cit shall be burned with fire.

The Priest's Part in the Offerings

7 'Now this is the law of the aguilt offering; it is most holy.

2 'In athe place where they slay the burnt offering they are to slay the guilt offering, and he shall sprinkle its blood around on the altar.

3 'Then he shall offer from it all its fat: the afat tail and the fat that covers the entrails,

4 and the two kidneys with the fat that is on them, which is on the loins, and the lobe on the liver he shall remove awith the kidneys.

5 'The priest shall offer them up in smoke on the altar as an offering by fire to the LORD; it is a guilt offering.

6 'aEvery male among the priests may eat of it. It shall be eaten in a holy place; it is most holy.

7 'The guilt offering is like the asin offering, there is one law for them; the bpriest who makes atonement with it 1shall have it.

8 'Also the priest who presents any man's burnt offering, 1that priest shall have for himself the skin of the burnt offering which he has presented.

9 'Likewise, every grain offering that is baked in the oven and everything prepared in a 1pan or on a agriddle 2shall belong to the priest who presents it.

10 'Every grain offering, mixed with oil or dry, shall 1belong to all the sons of Aaron, 2to all alike.

11 'Now this is the law of the asacrifice of peace offerings which shall be presented to the LORD.

12 'If he offers it by way of athanksgiving, then along with the sacrifice of thanksgiving he shall offer bunleavened cakes mixed with oil, and unleavened wafers 1spread with oil, and cakes of well stirred fine flour mixed with oil.

13 'With the sacrifice of his peace offerings for thanksgiving, he shall present his offering with cakes of aleavened bread.

14 'Of 1this he shall present one of every offering as a 2contribution to the LORD; ait shall 3belong to the priest who sprinkles the blood of the peace offerings.

7:3 fat tail. See note on 3:9.
7:7–10 See Num 18:8–20; 1 Cor 9:13.
7:11–36 This section supplements ch. 3, adding regulations about (1) three types of peace offerings (thanksgiving, vv. 12–15; votive, v. 16; freewill, v. 16), (2) prohibition of eating fat and blood (vv. 22–27) and (3) the priests' share (vv. 28–36).
7:12–15 Thanksgiving offerings were given in gratitude for deliverance from sickness (Ps 116:17), trouble (Ps 107:22) or death (Ps 56:12), or for a blessing received.
7:13 leavened. This regulation was not against the prohibition of 2:11 or Ex 23:18 since the offering here was not burned on the altar.
7:15–18 See 19:5–8. All meat had to be eaten promptly (in the case of the thanksgiving offering on the same day, and in the case of the votive and freewill offerings within two days). One reason may have been that in Canaan meat spoiled quickly and thus became ceremonially impure (v. 18) because it was not

[a]votive or a freewill offering, it shall be eaten on the day that he offers his sacrifice, and on the [1]next day what is left of it may be eaten;

17 [a]but what is left over from the flesh of the sacrifice on the third day shall be burned with fire.

18 'So if any of the flesh of the sacrifice of his peace offerings should ever be eaten on the third day, he who offers it will not be accepted, and it will not be reckoned to his benefit. It shall be an [a]offensive thing, and the person who eats of it will bear his own iniquity.

19 'Also the flesh that touches anything unclean shall not be eaten; it shall be burned with fire. [1]As for other flesh, anyone who is clean may eat such flesh.

20 '[a]But the person who eats the flesh of the sacrifice of peace offerings which belong to the LORD, [1]in his uncleanness, that person [b]shall be cut off from his people.

21 '[a]When anyone touches anything unclean, whether human uncleanness, or an unclean animal, or any unclean [1]detestable thing, and eats of the flesh of the sacrifice of peace offerings which belong to the LORD, that person shall be cut off from his people.' "

22 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

23 "Speak to the sons of Israel, saying, 'You shall not eat [a]any fat from an ox, a sheep or a goat.

24 'Also the fat of an animal which dies and the fat of an animal [a]torn by beasts may be put to any other use, but you must certainly not eat it.

25 'For whoever eats the fat of the animal from which [1]an offering by fire is offered to the LORD, even the person who eats shall be cut off from his people.

26 '[a]You are not to eat any blood, either of bird or animal, in any of your dwellings.

27 'Any person who eats any blood, even that person shall be cut off from his people.' "

28 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

29 "Speak to the sons of Israel, saying, 'He who offers [a]the sacrifice of his peace offerings to the LORD shall bring his offering to the LORD from the sacrifice of his peace offerings.

30 'His own hands are to bring offerings by fire to the LORD. He shall bring the fat with the breast, that the [a]breast may be [1]presented as a wave offering before the LORD.

31 'The priest shall offer up the fat in smoke on the altar, but [a]the breast shall belong to Aaron and his sons.

32 'You shall give [a]the right thigh to the priest as a [1]contribution from the sacrifices of your peace offerings.

33 'The one among the sons of Aaron who offers the blood of the peace offerings and the fat, the right thigh shall be his as his portion.

34 'For I have taken [a]the breast of the wave offering and the thigh of the [1]contribution from the sons of Israel from the sacrifices of their peace offerings, and have given them to Aaron the priest and to his sons as their due forever from the sons of Israel.

35 'This is [1]that which is consecrated to Aaron and [1]that [a]which is consecrated to his sons from the offerings by fire to the LORD, in that day when he presented them to serve as priests to the LORD.

36 '[1]These the LORD had commanded to be given them from the sons of Israel in the day that He [a]anointed them. It is their due forever throughout their generations.' "

37 This is the law of the burnt offering, the grain offering and the sin offering and the guilt offering and [a]the ordination offering and the sacrifice of peace offerings,

38 [a]which the LORD commanded Moses at Mount Sinai in the day that He commanded the sons of Israel to [1]present their offerings to the LORD in the wilderness of Sinai.

The Consecration of Aaron and His Sons

8 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, then perfect (1:3; see 21:16–23). The prohibition applied also to the Passover (Ex 12:10).

7:16 votive. See 22:18–23. A vow was a solemn promise to offer a gift to God in response to a divine deliverance or blessing. Such vows often accompanied prayers for deliverance or blessing (see note on Ps 7:17). freewill offering. See 22:18–23.

7:19 unclean. See note on 4:12.

7:20 cut off from his people. Removed from the covenant people through direct divine judgment (Gen 17:14), or (as here and in vv. 21,25,27; 17:4,9–10,14; 18:29; 19:8; 20:3,5–6,17–18; 23:29) through execution (see, e.g., 20:2–3; Ex 31:14), or possibly sometimes through banishment.

7:21 detestable. The penalty for doing things that were abominable in the Lord's eyes was severe (see note on v. 20; see also 18:29; 20:13).

7:22–27 See note on 17:11.

7:23 fat. The prohibition of fat for food was as strict as that of blood, but the reason was different. The fat of the peace offerings was the Lord's and was to be burned on the altar. There was no explicit prohibition of eating the fat of hunted animals like the gazelle or deer, but probably that was included (see 3:17; Deut 12:15–22).

3 and assemble all the congregation at the doorway of the tent of meeting."

4 So Moses did just as the LORD commanded him. When the congregation was assembled at the doorway of the tent of meeting,

5 Moses said to the congregation, "This is the thing which the LORD has commanded to do."

6 Then [a]Moses had Aaron and his sons come near and [b]washed them with water.

7 He [a]put the tunic on him and girded him with the sash, and clothed him with the robe and put the ephod on him; and he girded him with the artistic band of the ephod, [1]with which he tied it to him.

8 He then placed the [1]breastpiece on him, and in the [1]breastpiece he put [2][a]the Urim and the Thummim.

9 He also placed the turban on his head, and on the turban, at its front, he placed [a]the golden plate, the holy crown, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

10 Moses then took [a]the anointing oil and anointed the [1]tabernacle and all that was in it, and consecrated them.

11 He sprinkled some of it on the altar seven times and anointed the altar and all its utensils, and the basin and its stand, to [a]consecrate them.

12 Then he poured some of the [a]anointing oil on Aaron's head and anointed him, to consecrate him.

13 [a]Next Moses had Aaron's sons come near and clothed them with tunics, and girded them with sashes and bound [1]caps on them, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

14 Then he brought [a]the bull of the sin offering, and Aaron and his sons laid their hands on the head of the bull of the sin offering.

15 Next [1]Moses slaughtered it and took the blood and with his finger [a]put some of it around on the horns of the altar, and purified the altar. Then he poured out the rest of the blood at the base of the altar and consecrated it, to make atonement for it.

16 He also [a]took all the fat that was on the entrails and the [1]lobe of the liver, and the two kidneys and their fat; and Moses offered it up in smoke on the altar.

17 [a]But the bull and its hide and its flesh and its refuse he burned in the fire outside the camp, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

18 Then he presented [a]the ram of the burnt offering, and Aaron and his sons laid their hands on the head of the ram.

19 [1]Moses slaughtered it and sprinkled the blood around on the altar.

20 When he had cut the ram into its pieces, Moses [a]offered up the head and the pieces and the suet in smoke.

21 After he had washed the entrails and the legs with water, Moses [a]offered up the whole ram in smoke on the altar. It was a burnt offering for a soothing aroma; it was an offering by fire to the LORD, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

22 Then he presented the second ram, [a]the ram of [1]ordination, and Aaron and his sons laid their hands on the head of the ram.

23 [1]Moses slaughtered it and took some of its blood and [a]put it on the lobe of Aaron's right ear, and on the thumb of his right hand and on the big toe of his right foot.

24 He also had Aaron's sons come near; and Moses put some of the blood on the lobe of their right ear, and on the thumb of their right hand and on the big toe of their right foot. Moses then [a]sprinkled the rest of the blood around on the altar.

25 He took the fat, and the fat tail, and all the fat that was on the entrails, and the [1]lobe of the liver and the two kidneys and their fat and the right thigh.

26 [a]From the basket of unleavened bread that was before the LORD, he took one unleavened cake and one cake of bread mixed with oil and one wafer, and placed them on the portions of fat and on the right thigh.

27 He then [a]put all these on the hands of Aaron and on the hands of his sons and presented them as a wave offering before the LORD.

28 Then Moses [a]took them from their hands and offered them up in smoke on the altar with the burnt offering. They were an ordination offering for [b]a soothing aroma; it was an offering by fire to the LORD.

29 Moses also took [a]the breast and presented it for a wave offering before the LORD; it was [b]Moses' portion of the ram of ordination, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

30 So Moses [a]took some of the anointing oil and some of the blood which was on the altar and sprinkled it on Aaron, on his garments, on his sons, and on the garments of his sons with him; and he consecrated Aaron, his garments, and his sons, and the garments of his sons with him.

31 Then Moses said to Aaron and to his sons, "[a]Boil the flesh at the doorway of the tent of meeting, and eat it there together with the bread which is in the basket of the ordination offering, just as I commanded, [b]saying, 'Aaron and his sons shall eat it.'

32 "[a]The remainder of the flesh and of the bread you shall burn in the fire.

33 "[a]You shall not go outside the doorway of the tent of meeting for seven days, until the day that the period of your ordination is fulfilled; for he will [1]ordain you through seven days.

34 "The LORD has commanded to do as has been done this day, to make atonement on your behalf.

35 "At the doorway of the tent of meeting, moreover, you shall remain day and night for seven days and [a]keep the charge of the LORD, so that you will not die, for so I have been commanded."

36 Thus Aaron and his sons did all the things which the LORD had commanded through Moses.

Aaron Offers Sacrifices

9 Now it came about [a]on the eighth day that Moses called Aaron and his sons and the elders of Israel;

2 and he said to Aaron, "[a]Take for yourself a calf, a bull, for a sin offering and a ram for a burnt offering, both without defect, and offer them before the LORD.

3 "Then to the sons of Israel you shall speak, saying, 'Take a male goat for a sin offering, and a calf and a lamb, both one year old, without defect, for a burnt offering,

4 and an ox and a ram for peace offerings, to sacrifice before the LORD, and a grain offering mixed with oil; for today [a]the LORD will appear to you.' "

5 So they took what Moses had commanded to the front of the tent of meeting, and the whole congregation came near and stood before the LORD.

6 Moses said, "This is the thing which the LORD has commanded you to do, that [a]the glory of the LORD may appear to you."

7 Moses then said to Aaron, "Come near to the altar and [1][a]offer your sin offering and your burnt offering, that you may make atonement for yourself and for the people; then make the offering [2]for the people, that you may make atonement for them, just as the LORD has commanded."

8 [a]So Aaron came near to the altar and slaughtered the calf of the sin offering which was for himself.

9 [a]Aaron's sons presented the blood to him; and he dipped his finger in the blood and [b]put some on the horns of the altar, and poured out the rest of the blood at the base of the altar.

10 The fat and the kidneys and the [1]lobe of the liver of the sin offering, he then offered up in smoke on the altar just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

11 [a]The flesh and the skin, however, he burned with fire outside the camp.

12 Then he slaughtered the burnt offering; and Aaron's sons handed the blood to him and he sprinkled it around on the altar.

13 They handed the burnt offering to him in [1]pieces, with the head, and he offered them up in smoke on the altar.

14 He also washed the entrails and the legs, and offered them up in smoke with the burnt offering on the altar.

15 Then he presented the people's offering, and took the [a]goat of the sin offering which was for the people, and slaughtered it and offered it for sin, like the first.

16 He also presented the burnt offering, and [1]offered it according to [a]the ordinance.

17 Next he presented [a]the grain offering, and filled his [1]hand with some of it and offered it up in smoke on the altar, [b]besides the burnt offering of the morning.

18 Then [a]he slaughtered the ox and the ram, the sacrifice of peace offerings which was for the people; and Aaron's sons handed the blood to him and he sprinkled it around on the altar.

19 As for the portions of fat from the ox and from the ram, the fat tail, and the fat [a]covering, and the kidneys and the [1]lobe of the liver,

20 they now placed the portions of fat on the breasts; and he offered [1]them up in smoke on the altar.

21 But [a]the breasts and the right thigh Aaron [1]presented as a wave offering before the LORD, just as Moses had commanded.

22 Then Aaron lifted up his hands toward the people and [a]blessed them, and he stepped down after making the sin offering and the burnt offering and the peace offerings.

23 Moses and Aaron went into the tent of meeting. When they came out and blessed the people, [a]the glory of the LORD appeared to all the people.

24 [a]Then fire came out from before the LORD and consumed the burnt offering and the portions of fat on the altar; and when all the people saw it, they shouted and fell on their faces.

The Sin of Nadab and Abihu

10 Now [a]Nadab and Abihu, the sons of Aaron, took their respective [b]firepans, and after putting fire in them, placed incense on it and offered strange fire before the LORD, which He had not commanded them.

2 [a]And fire came out from the presence of the LORD and consumed them, and they died before the LORD.

3 Then Moses said to Aaron, "It is what the LORD spoke, saying,

'By those who [a]come near Me I [1][b]will be treated as holy,
And before all the people I will [c]be honored.'"

So Aaron, therefore, kept silent.

4 Moses called also to [a]Mishael and Elzaphan, the sons of Aaron's uncle Uzziel, and said to them, "Come forward, carry your [1]relatives away from the front of the sanctuary to the outside of the camp."

5 So they came forward and carried them still in their [a]tunics to the outside of the camp, as Moses had said.

6 Then Moses said to Aaron and to his sons Eleazar and Ithamar, "[a]Do not [1]uncover your heads nor tear your clothes, so that you will not die and that He will not [b]become wrathful against all the congregation. But your [2]kinsmen, the whole house of Israel, shall bewail the burning which the LORD has [3]brought about.

7 "You shall not even go out from the doorway of the tent of meeting, or you will die; for [a]the LORD's anointing oil is upon you." So they did according to the word of Moses.

8 The LORD then spoke to Aaron, saying,

9 "[a]Do not drink wine or strong drink, neither you nor your sons with you, when you come into the tent of meeting, so that you will not die—it is a perpetual statute throughout your generations—

10 and [a]so as to make a distinction between the holy and the profane, and between the unclean and the clean,

11 and [a]so as to teach the sons of Israel all the statutes which the LORD has spoken to them through Moses."

12 Then Moses spoke to Aaron, and to his surviving sons, [a]Eleazar and Ithamar, "[b]Take the grain offering that is left over from the LORD's offerings by fire and eat it unleavened beside the altar, for it is most holy.

13 "You shall eat it, moreover, in a holy place, because it is your due and your sons' due out of the LORD's offerings by fire; for thus I have been commanded.

14 "[a]The breast of the wave offering, however, and the thigh of the offering you may eat in a clean place, you and your sons and your daughters with you; for they have been given as your due and your sons' due out of the sacrifices of the peace offerings of the sons of Israel.

15 "[a]The thigh offered by lifting up and the breast offered by waving they shall bring along with the offerings by fire of the portions of fat, to present as a wave offering before the LORD; so it shall be a thing perpetually due you and your sons with you, just as the LORD has commanded."

16 But Moses searched carefully for the [a]goat of the sin offering, and behold, it had been burned up! So he was angry with Aaron's surviving sons Eleazar and Ithamar, saying, 17 "Why [a]did you not eat the sin offering at the holy place? For it is most holy, and [1]He gave it to you to bear away [b]the guilt of the congregation, to make atonement for them before the LORD.

18 "Behold, [a]since its blood had not been brought inside, into the sanctuary, you should certainly have [b]eaten it in the sanctuary, just as I commanded."

19 But Aaron spoke to Moses, "Behold, this very day they [a]presented their sin offering and their burnt offering before the LORD. When things like these happened to me, if I

9:24 fire came out from before the LORD. See 10:2; 1 Kin 18:38.
10:1 firepans. Ceremonial vessels containing hot coals and used for burning incense (see 16:12–13; 2 Chr 26:19; Rev 8:3–4).
10:2 died before the LORD. Aaron's older sons are mentioned also in Ex 6:23; 24:1,9; 28:1; Num 3:2–4; 26:60–61; 1 Chr 6:3; 24:1–2. They are regularly remembered as having died before the Lord and as having had no sons. Their death was tragic and at first seems harsh, but no more so than that of Ananias and Sapphira (Acts 5:1–11). In both cases a new era was being inaugurated (cf. also the judgment on Achan, Josh 7, and on Uzzah, 2 Sam 6:1–7). The new community had to be made aware that it existed for God, not vice versa.
10:6 tear your clothes. See 21:10; see also note on Gen 44:13.
10:7 not . . . go out. To join the mourners (see 21:11–12).
10:10 between the holy and the profane. The distinction between what was holy (sacred) and what was profane (common) was carefully maintained (see Ezek 22:26; 42:20; 44:23; 48:14–15).
10:12–15 See 7:28–36; Num 18:8–20; Deut 18:1–5.
10:18 since its blood had not been brought inside . . . you should . . . have eaten. There were two types of sin offerings: (1) those in which the blood was sprinkled within the tabernacle, and (2) those in which it was sprinkled only on the great altar. Portions of the second type normally should have been eaten (see note on 4:5). But Moses was satisfied when he learned that Aaron had acted sincerely and not in negligence or rebellion (vv. 19–20).
10:19 things like these happened to me. Perhaps referring to had eaten a sin offering today, would it have been good in the sight of the LORD?"

20 When Moses heard that, it seemed good in his sight.

Laws about Animals for Food

11 The LORD spoke again to Moses and to Aaron, saying to them,
2 "Speak to the sons of Israel, saying, '[a]These are the creatures which you may eat from all the animals that are on the earth.
3 'Whatever divides a hoof, thus making split hoofs, and chews the cud, among the animals, that you may eat.
4 'Nevertheless, [a]you are not to eat of these, among those which chew the cud, or among those which divide the hoof: the camel, for though it chews cud, it does not divide the hoof, it is unclean to you.
5 'Likewise, the [1]shaphan, for though it chews cud, it does not divide the hoof, it is unclean to you;
6 the [1]rabbit also, for though it chews cud, it does not divide the hoof, it is unclean to you;
7 and the pig, for though it divides the hoof, thus making a split hoof, it does not chew cud, it is unclean to you.
8 'You shall not eat of their flesh nor touch their carcasses; they are unclean to you.
9 '[a]These you may eat, whatever is in the water: all that have fins and scales, those in the water, in the seas or in the rivers, you may eat.
10 '[a]But whatever is in the seas and in the rivers that does not have fins and scales among all the teeming life of the water, and among all the living creatures that are in the water, they are detestable things to you,
11 and they shall be [1]abhorrent to you; you may not eat of their flesh, and their carcasses you shall detest.
12 'Whatever in the water does not have fins and scales is [1]abhorrent to you.

Avoid the Unclean

13 'These, moreover, [a]you shall detest among the birds; they are [1]abhorrent, not to be eaten: the [2]eagle and the vulture and the [3]buzzard,
14 and the kite and the falcon in its kind,
15 every raven in its kind,
16 and the ostrich and the owl and the sea gull and the hawk in its kind,
17 and the little owl and the cormorant and the [1]great owl,
18 and the white owl and the [1]pelican and the carrion vulture,
19 and the stork, the heron in its kinds, and the hoopoe, and the bat.
20 'All the [1]winged insects that walk on all fours are detestable to you.
21 'Yet these you may eat among all the [1]winged insects which walk on all fours: those which have above their feet jointed legs with which to jump on the earth.
22 'These of them you may eat: the locust in its kinds, and the devastating locust in its kinds, and the cricket in its kinds, and the grasshopper in its kinds.
23 'But all other [1]winged insects which are four-footed are detestable to you.
24 'By these, moreover, you will be made unclean: whoever touches their carcasses becomes unclean until evening,
25 and [a]whoever picks up any of their carcasses shall wash his clothes and be unclean until evening.
26 'Concerning all the animals which divide the hoof but do not make a split hoof, or which do not chew cud, they are unclean to you: whoever touches them becomes unclean.
27 'Also whatever walks on its paws, among all the creatures that walk on all fours, are unclean to you; whoever touches their carcasses becomes unclean until evening,
28 and the one who picks up their carcasses shall wash his clothes and be unclean until evening; they are unclean to you.
29 'Now these are to you the unclean among the swarming things which swarm on the earth: the mole, and the mouse, and the [1]great lizard in its kinds,
30 and the gecko, and the [1]crocodile, and the lizard, and the [2]sand reptile, and the chameleon.
31 'These are to you the unclean among all the swarming things; whoever touches them when they are dead becomes unclean until evening.
32 'Also anything on which one of them may fall when they are dead becomes unclean, including any wooden article, or the death of his two oldest sons (v. 2), for which he mourned by fasting. Or possibly something had occurred that made him ceremonially unclean.

11:2 These . . . you may eat. Ch. 11 is closely paralleled in Deut 14:3–21 but is more extensive. The animals acceptable for human consumption were those that chewed the cud and had a split hoof (v. 3). Of marine life, only creatures with fins and scales were permissible (v. 9). Birds and insects are also covered in the instructions (vv. 13–23). The distinction between clean and unclean food was as old as the time of Noah (Gen 7:2). The main reason for the laws concerning clean and unclean food is the same as for other laws concerning the clean and unclean—to preserve the sanctity of Israel as God's holy people (see v. 44). Some hold that certain animal life was considered unclean for health considerations, but it is difficult to substantiate this idea. Uncleanness typified sin and defilement. For the uncleanness of disease and bodily discharges see chs. 13–15.

11:6 rabbit. Does not technically chew the cud with regurgitation. The apparent chewing movements of the rabbit caused it to be classified popularly with cud chewers.

11:20 all fours. Although insects have six legs, perhaps people in ancient times did not count as ordinary legs the two large hind legs used for jumping.

clothing, or a skin, or a sack—any article [1]of which use is made—[a]it shall be put in the water and be unclean until evening, then it becomes clean.

33 'As for any [a]earthenware vessel into which one of them may fall, whatever is in it becomes unclean and you shall break [1]the vessel.

34 'Any of the [1]food which may be eaten, on which water comes, shall become unclean, and any [1]liquid which may be drunk in every vessel shall become unclean.

35 'Everything, moreover, on which part of their carcass may fall becomes unclean; an oven or a [1]stove shall be smashed; they are unclean and shall continue as unclean to you.

36 'Nevertheless a spring or a cistern [1]collecting water shall be clean, though the one who touches their carcass shall be unclean.

37 'If a part of their carcass falls on any seed for sowing which is to be sown, it is clean.

38 'Though if water is put on the seed and a part of their carcass falls on it, it is unclean to you.

39 'Also if one of the animals dies which you have for food, the one who touches its carcass becomes unclean until evening.

40 '[a]He too, who eats some of its carcass shall wash his clothes and be unclean until evening, and the one who picks up its carcass shall wash his clothes and be unclean until evening.

41 '[a]Now every swarming thing that swarms on the earth is detestable, not to be eaten.

42 'Whatever crawls on its belly, and whatever walks on all fours, whatever has many feet, in respect to every swarming thing that swarms on the earth, you shall not eat them, for they are detestable.

43 '[a]Do not render [1]yourselves detestable through any of the swarming things that swarm; and you shall not make yourselves unclean with them so that you become unclean.

44 'For [a]I am the LORD your God. Consecrate yourselves therefore, and [b]be holy, for I am holy. And you shall not make yourselves unclean with any of the swarming things that swarm on the earth.

45 '[a]For I am the LORD who brought you up from the land of Egypt to be your God; thus [b]you shall be holy, for I am holy.' "

46 This is the law regarding the animal and the bird, and every living thing that moves in the waters and everything that swarms on the earth, 47 [a]to make a distinction between the unclean and the clean, and between the edible creature and the creature which is not to be eaten.

Laws of Motherhood

12 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 2 "Speak to the sons of Israel, saying:

'When a woman [1]gives birth and bears a male child, then she shall be unclean for seven days, [a]as in the days of [2]her menstruation she shall be unclean.

3 'On [a]the eighth day the flesh of his foreskin shall be circumcised.

4 'Then she shall remain in the blood of her purification for thirty-three days; she shall not touch any consecrated thing, nor enter the sanctuary until the days of her purification are completed.

5 'But if she bears a female child, then she shall be unclean for two weeks, as in her [1]menstruation; and she shall remain in the blood of her purification for sixty-six days.

6 '[a]When the days of her purification are completed, for a son or for a daughter, she shall bring to the priest at the doorway of the tent of meeting a one year old lamb for a burnt offering and a young pigeon or a turtledove [b]for a sin offering.

7 'Then he shall offer it before the LORD and make atonement for her, and she shall be cleansed from the [1]flow of her blood. This is the law for her who bears a child, whether a male or a female.

8 'But if [1]she cannot afford a lamb, then she shall take [a]two turtledoves or two young pigeons, [b]the one for a burnt offering and the other for a sin offering; and the [c]priest shall make atonement for her, and she will be clean.' "

11:44 be holy, for I am holy. Holiness is the key theme of Leviticus, ringing like a refrain in various forms throughout the book (e.g., v. 45; 19:2; 20:7,26; 21:8,15; 22:9,16,32). The word "holy" appears more often in Leviticus than in any other book of the Bible. Israel was to be totally consecrated to God. Her holiness was to be expressed in every aspect of her life, to the extent that all of life had a certain ceremonial quality. Because of who God is and what He has done (v. 45), His people must dedicate themselves fully to Him (cf. Matt 5:48). See Rom 12:1.

11:45 brought . . . from the land of Egypt. A refrain found 8 more times in Leviticus (19:36; 22:33; 23:43; 25:38,42,55; 26:13,45) and nearly 60 times in 18 other books of the OT.

11:46–47 A summary of ch. 11.

12:2 unclean. The uncleanness came from the bleeding (vv. 4–5,7), not from the birth. It is not clear why the period of uncleanness after the birth of a baby boy (40 days) was half the period for a girl (80 days). menstruation. See 15:19–24.

The Test for Leprosy

13 Then the LORD spoke to Moses and to Aaron, saying,

2 "When a man has on the skin of his [1]body a swelling or a scab or a bright spot, and it becomes [2]an infection of leprosy on the skin of his [1]body, [a]then he shall be brought to Aaron the priest or to one of his sons the priests.

3 "The priest shall look at the mark on the skin of the [1]body, and if the hair in the infection has turned white and the infection appears to be deeper than the skin of his [1]body, it is an infection of leprosy; when the priest has looked at him, he shall pronounce him unclean.

4 "But if the bright spot is white on the skin of his [1]body, and [2]it does not appear to be deeper than the skin, and the hair on it has not turned white, then the priest shall [3]isolate him who has the infection for seven days.

5 "The priest shall look at him on the seventh day, and if in his eyes the infection [1]has not changed and the infection has not spread on the skin, then the priest shall [2]isolate him for seven more days.

6 "The priest shall look at him again on the seventh day, and if the infection has faded and the mark has not spread on the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him clean; it is only a scab. And he shall [a]wash his clothes and be clean.

7 "But if the scab spreads farther on the skin after he has shown himself to the priest for his cleansing, he shall appear again to the priest.

8 "The priest shall look, and if the scab has spread on the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean; it is leprosy.

9 "When the infection of leprosy is on a man, then he shall be brought to the priest.

10 "The priest shall then look, and if there is a [a]white swelling in the skin, and it has turned the hair white, and there is quick raw flesh in the swelling,

11 it is [1]a chronic leprosy on the skin of his [2]body, and the priest shall pronounce him unclean; he shall not [3]isolate him, for he is unclean.

12 "If the leprosy breaks out farther on the skin, and the leprosy covers all the skin of him who has the infection from his head even to his feet, [1]as far as the priest can see,

13 then the priest shall look, and behold, if the leprosy has covered all his [1]body, he shall pronounce clean him who has the infection; it has all turned white and he is clean.

14 "But whenever raw flesh appears on him, he shall be unclean.

15 "The priest shall look at the raw flesh, and he shall pronounce him unclean; the raw flesh is unclean, it is leprosy.

16 "Or if the raw flesh turns again and is changed to white, then he shall [a]come to the priest,

17 and the priest shall look at him, and behold, if the infection has turned to white, then the priest shall pronounce clean him who has the infection; he is clean.

18 "When the [1]body has a boil on its skin and it is healed,

19 and in the place of the boil there is a white swelling or a reddish-white, bright spot, then it shall be shown to the priest;

20 and the priest shall look, and behold, if [1]it appears to be lower than the skin, and the hair on it has turned white, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean; it is the infection of leprosy, it has broken out in the boil.

21 "But if the priest looks at it, and behold, there are no white hairs in it and it is not lower than the skin and is faded, then the priest shall [1]isolate him for seven days;

22 and if it spreads farther on the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean; it is an infection.

23 "But if the bright spot remains in its place and does not spread, it is only the scar of the boil; and the priest shall pronounce him clean.

24 "Or if the [1]body sustains in its skin a burn by fire, and the raw flesh of the burn becomes a bright spot, reddish-white, or white,

25 then the priest shall look at it. And if the hair in the bright spot has [a]turned white and it appears to be deeper than the skin, it is leprosy; it has broken out in the burn. Therefore, the priest shall pronounce him unclean; it is an infection of leprosy.

26 "But if the priest looks at it, and indeed, there is no white hair in the bright spot and it is no [1]deeper than the skin, but is dim, then the priest shall [2]isolate him for seven days;

27 and the priest shall look at him on the seventh day. If it spreads farther in the skin,

13:1–46 This section deals with preliminary symptoms of skin diseases (vv. 1–8) and then with the symptoms of (1) raw flesh (vv. 9–17), (2) boils (vv. 18–23), (3) burns (vv. 24–28), (4) sores on the head or chin (vv. 29–37), (5) white spots (vv. 38–39) and (6) skin diseases on the head that cause baldness (vv. 40–44).
13:2 infection . . . on the skin. Occurs often in chs. 13–14; see also 22:4; Num 5:2. Since it is unlikely that ancient people would have understood the concept of infectiousness, this rendering is questionable; the Hebrew should perhaps be translated simply "skin disease." Such diseases show visible defects that could function aptly as a symbol for defilement—as could mildew (cf. vv. 47–59). leprosy. The Hebrew word was used for various diseases affecting the skin—not necessarily leprosy; see also 22:4–8; Num 5:2–4; Deut 24:8–9. The symptoms described, and the fact that they may rapidly change (vv. 6,26–27,32–37), show that the disease was not true leprosy (Hansen's disease). They apply also to a number of other diseases, as well as to rather harmless skin eruptions. The Hebrew word translated "infection of leprosy" can also mean "mildew" (v. 47; 14:34; and especially 14:57).

then the priest shall pronounce him unclean; it is an infection of leprosy.

28 "But if the bright spot remains in its place and has not spread in the skin, but is dim, it is the swelling from the burn; and the priest shall pronounce him clean, for it is only the scar of the burn.

29 "Now if a man or woman has an infection on the head or on the beard,

30 then the priest shall look at the infection, and if it appears to be deeper than the skin and there is thin yellowish hair in it, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean; it is a scale, it is leprosy of the head or of the beard.

31 "But if the priest looks at the infection of the scale, and indeed, it appears to be no deeper than the skin and there is no black hair in it, then the priest shall [1]isolate the person with the scaly infection for seven days.

32 "On the seventh day the priest shall look at the infection, and if the scale has not spread and no yellowish hair has [1]grown in it, and the appearance of the scale is no deeper than the skin,

33 then he shall shave himself, but he shall not shave the scale; and the priest shall [1]isolate the person with the scale seven more days.

34 "Then on the seventh day the priest shall look at the scale, and if the scale has not spread in the skin and it appears to be no deeper than the skin, the priest shall pronounce him clean; and he shall wash his clothes and be clean.

35 "But if the scale spreads farther in the skin after his cleansing, 36 then the priest shall look at him, and if the scale has spread in the skin, the priest need not seek for the yellowish hair; he is unclean.

37 "If in his sight the scale has remained, however, and black hair has grown in it, the scale has healed, he is clean; and the priest shall pronounce him clean.

38 "When a man or a woman has bright spots on the skin of the [1]body, even white bright spots, 39 then the priest shall look, and if the bright spots on the skin of their [1]bodies are a faint white, it is [2]eczema that has broken out on the skin; he is clean.

40 "Now if a [1]man loses the hair of his head, he is [a]bald; he is clean.

41 "If his head becomes bald at the [1]front and sides, he is bald on the forehead; he is clean.

42 "But if on the bald head or the bald forehead, there occurs a reddish-white infection, it is leprosy breaking out on his bald head or on his bald forehead.

43 "Then [a]the priest shall look at him; and if the swelling of the infection is reddish-white on his bald head or on his bald forehead, like the appearance of leprosy in the skin of the [1]body, 44 he is a leprous man, he is unclean. The priest shall surely pronounce him unclean; his infection is on his head.

45 "As for the leper who has the infection, his clothes shall be torn, and [a]the hair of his head shall be [1]uncovered, and he shall [b]cover his mustache and cry, '[c]Unclean! Unclean!'

46 "He shall remain unclean all the days during which he has the infection; he is unclean. He shall live alone; his dwelling shall be [a]outside the camp.

47 "When a garment has a [1]mark of leprosy in it, whether it is a wool garment or a linen garment,

48 whether in [1]warp or woof, of linen or of wool, whether in leather or in any article made of leather, 49 if the mark is greenish or reddish in the garment or in the leather, or in the [1]warp or in the woof, or in any article of leather, it is a leprous mark and shall be shown to the priest.

50 "Then [a]the priest shall look at the mark and shall [1]quarantine the article with the mark for seven days.

51 "He shall then look at the mark on the seventh day; if the mark has spread in the garment, whether in the warp or in the woof, or in the leather, whatever the purpose for which the leather is used, the mark is a [1]leprous malignancy, it is unclean.

52 "So he shall burn the garment, whether the warp or the woof, in wool or in linen, or any article of leather in which the mark occurs, for it is a [1]leprous malignancy; it shall be burned in the fire.

53 "But if the priest shall look, and indeed the mark has not spread in the garment, either in the warp or in the woof, or in any article of leather,

54 then the priest shall order them to wash the thing in which the mark occurs and he shall [1]quarantine it for seven more days.

13:45–46 The ceremonially unclean were excluded from the camp (the area around the tabernacle and courtyard), where the Israelites lived in tents. Later, no unclean person was allowed in the temple area, where he could mingle with others. Not only was God present in the tabernacle in a special way, but also in the camp (Num 5:3; Deut 23:14). Therefore unclean people were not to be in the camp (see Num 5:1–4; 12:14–15, Miriam; 31:19–24; see also Lev 10:4–5; Num 15:35–36; 2 Kin 7:3–4; 2 Chr 26:21, Uzziah). As a result of their separation from God, the unclean were to exhibit their grief by tearing their clothes, by having unkempt hair and by partially covering their faces (v. 45).
13:47 leprosy. Or "mildew." During Israel's rainy season (October through March), mildew is a problem along the coast and by the Sea of Galilee, where it is very humid.

unclean; you shall burn it in the fire, whether an eating away has produced bareness on the top or on the front of it.

56 "Then if the priest looks, and if the mark has faded after it has been washed, then he shall tear it out of the garment or out of the leather, whether from the warp or from the woof;

57 and if it appears again in the garment, whether in the warp or in the woof, or in any article of leather, it is an outbreak; the article with the mark shall be burned in the fire.

58 "The garment, whether the warp or the woof, or any article of leather from which the mark has departed when you washed it, it shall then be washed a second time and will be clean."

59 This is the law for the mark of leprosy in a garment of wool or linen, whether in the warp or in the woof, or in any article of leather, for pronouncing it clean or unclean.

Law of Cleansing a Leper

14 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 2 "This shall be the law of the leper in the day of his cleansing. [a]Now he shall be brought to the priest,

3 and the priest shall go [a]out to the outside of the camp. Thus the priest shall look, and if the [1]infection of leprosy has been healed in the leper,

4 then the priest shall give orders to take two live clean birds and [a]cedar wood and a [1]scarlet string and hyssop for the one who is to be cleansed.

5 "The priest shall also give orders to slay the one bird in an earthenware vessel over [1]running water.

6 "As for the live bird, he shall take it together with [a]the cedar wood and the [1]scarlet string and the [b]hyssop, and shall dip them and the live bird in the blood of the bird that was slain over the [2]running water.

7 "[a]He shall then sprinkle seven times the one who is to be cleansed from the leprosy and shall pronounce him clean, and shall let the live bird go free over the open field.

8 "[a]The one to be cleansed shall then wash his clothes and shave off all his hair and bathe in water and [b]be clean. Now afterward, he may enter the camp, but he [c]shall stay outside his tent for seven days.

13:59 A summary of ch. 13.
14:1–32 The ritual after the skin disease had been cured had three parts: (1) ritual for the first week (outside the camp, vv. 1–7), (2) ritual for the second week (inside the camp, vv. 8–20) and (3) special permission for the poor (vv. 21–32).
14:4 hyssop. A plant used in ceremonial cleansing (see note on Ex 12:22).
14:5 slay. Diseases and disorders were a symbol of sin and rendered a person or object ceremonially unclean. The prescribed cleansing included sacrifice as well as washing (see note on 13:54).
14:6 cedar . . . string . . . hyssop. Also used for cleansing in vv. 51–52; Num 19:6.
14:7,16,51 seven times. See note on 4:6.
14:7 clean. Perhaps the yarn and cedar stick were used as well as the hyssop plant to sprinkle the blood for cleansing (see Ps 51:7). Further sacrifices are specified in vv. 10–31. let the live bird go free. Cf. 16:22; see note on 16:5.
14:8 The Levites were similarly cleansed (see Num 8:7).

ing and the grain offering on the altar. Thus the priest shall make atonement for him, and [a]he will be clean.

21 "[a]But if he is poor and his [1]means are insufficient, then he is to take one male lamb for a [b]guilt offering as a wave offering to make atonement for him, and one-tenth of an [2]ephah of fine flour mixed with oil for a grain offering, and a [3c]log of oil,

22 and two turtledoves or two young pigeons which [1]are within his means, [a]the one shall be a [b]sin offering and the other a burnt offering.

23 "[a]Then the eighth day he shall bring them for his cleansing to the priest, at the doorway of the tent of meeting, before the LORD.

24 "The priest shall take the lamb of the guilt offering and [a]the [1]log of oil, and the priest shall offer them for a wave offering before the LORD.

25 "Next he shall slaughter the lamb of the guilt offering, and the priest is to take some of the blood of the guilt offering and put it on [a]the lobe of the right ear of the one to be cleansed and on the thumb of his right hand and on the big toe of his right foot.

26 "The priest shall also pour some of the oil into his left palm;

27 and with his right-hand finger the priest shall sprinkle some of the oil that is in his left palm seven times before the LORD.

28 "The priest shall then put some of the oil that is in his palm on the lobe of the right ear of the one to be cleansed, and on the thumb of his right hand and on the big toe of his right foot, on the place of the blood of the guilt offering.

29 "Moreover, the rest of the oil that is in the priest's palm he shall put on the head of the one to be cleansed, to make atonement on his behalf before the LORD.

30 "He shall then offer one of the turtledoves or young pigeons, [1]which are within his means.

31 "He shall offer what [1]he can afford, [a]the one for a sin offering and the other for a burnt offering, together with the grain offering. So the priest shall make atonement before the LORD on behalf of the one to be cleansed.

32 "This is the law for him in whom there is an infection of leprosy, whose [1]means are limited for his cleansing."

Cleansing a Leprous House

35 then the one who owns the house shall come and tell the priest, saying, 'Something like [a]a mark of leprosy has become visible to me in the house.'

36 "The priest shall then command that they empty the house before the priest goes in to look at the mark, so that everything in the house need not become unclean; and afterward the priest shall go in to look at the house.

37 "So he shall look at the mark, and if the mark on the walls of the house has greenish or reddish depressions and appears deeper than the [1]surface,

38 then the priest shall come out of the house, to the [1]doorway, and [2]quarantine the house for seven days.

39 "The priest shall return on the seventh day and [1]make an inspection. If the mark has indeed spread in the walls of the house, 40 then the priest shall order them to tear out the stones with the mark in them and throw them away [1]at an unclean place outside the city.

41 "He shall have the house scraped all around [1]inside, and they shall dump the plaster that they scrape off at an unclean place outside the city.

43 "If, however, the mark breaks out again in the house after he has torn out the stones and scraped the house, and after it has been replastered,

Cleansing Unhealthiness

15 The LORD also spoke to Moses and to Aaron, saying,

2 "Speak to the sons of Israel, and say to them, '[a]When any man has a discharge from his [1]body, [2]his discharge is unclean.

3 'This, moreover, shall be his uncleanness in his discharge: it is his uncleanness whether his body allows its discharge to flow or whether his body obstructs its discharge.

4 'Every bed on which the person with the discharge lies becomes unclean, and everything on which he sits becomes unclean.

5 'Anyone, moreover, who touches his bed shall wash his clothes and bathe in water and be unclean until evening;

6 and whoever sits on the thing on which the man with the discharge has been sitting, shall wash his clothes and bathe in water and be unclean until evening.

7 'Also whoever touches the [1]person with the discharge shall wash his clothes and bathe in water and be unclean until evening.

8 'Or if the man with the discharge spits on one who is clean, he too shall wash his clothes and bathe in water and be unclean until evening.

9 'Every saddle on which the person with the discharge rides becomes unclean.

10 'Whoever then touches any of the things which were under him shall be unclean until evening, and he who carries them shall wash his clothes and bathe in water and be unclean until evening.

11 'Likewise, whomever the one with the discharge touches without having rinsed his hands in water shall wash his clothes and bathe in water and be unclean until evening.

12 'However, an [a]earthenware vessel which the person with the discharge touches shall be broken, and every wooden vessel shall be rinsed in water.

13 'Now when the man with the discharge becomes cleansed from his discharge, then he [a]shall count off for himself seven days for his cleansing; he shall then wash his clothes and bathe his body in [1]running water and will become clean.

14 'Then on the eighth day he shall take for himself [a]two turtledoves or two young pigeons, and come before the LORD to the doorway of the tent of meeting and give them to the priest;

15 and the priest shall offer them, [a]one for a sin offering and the other for a burnt offering. So [b]the priest shall make atonement on his behalf before the LORD because of his discharge.

16 '[a]Now if a [1]man has a seminal emission, he shall bathe all his body in water and be unclean until evening.

17 'As for any garment or any leather on which there is seminal emission, it shall be washed with water and be unclean until evening.

18 'If a man lies with a woman so that there is a seminal emission, they shall both bathe in water and be [a]unclean until evening.

19 '[a]When a woman has a discharge, if her discharge in her body is blood, she shall continue in her menstrual impurity for seven days; and whoever touches her shall be unclean until evening.

20 'Everything also on which she lies during her menstrual impurity shall be unclean, and everything on which she sits shall be unclean.

21 'Anyone who touches her bed shall wash his clothes and bathe in water and be unclean until evening.

22 'Whoever touches any thing on which she sits shall wash his clothes and bathe in water and be unclean until evening.

23 'Whether it be on the bed or on the thing on which she is sitting, when he touches it, he shall be unclean until evening.

15:1–33 The chapter deals with (1) male uncleanness caused by bodily discharge (vv. 2–15) or emission of semen (vv. 16–18); (2) female uncleanness caused by her monthly period (vv. 19–24) or lengthy hemorrhaging (vv. 25–30); (3) summary (vv. 31–33).
15:2 discharge from his body. Probably either diarrhea or urethral discharge (various kinds of infections). The contamination of anything under the man (v. 10), whether he sat (vv. 4,6,9) or lay (v. 4) on it, indicates that the bodily discharge had to do with the buttocks or genitals.
15:4 bed. Something like a mat (cf. 2 Sam 11:13).
15:13 cleansed. God brought about the healing; the priest could only ascertain that a person was already healed.
15:16 seminal. Normal sexual activity and a woman's menstruation required no sacrifices but only washing and a minimal period of uncleanness.
15:19 seven days. See 12:2. This regulation is the background of 2 Sam 11:4 (Bathsheba).
15:20 See note on Gen 31:35.

24 'aIf a man actually lies with her so that her menstrual impurity is on him, he shall be unclean seven days, and every bed on which he lies shall be unclean.

25 'aNow if a woman has a discharge of her blood many days, not at the period of her menstrual impurity, or if she has a discharge beyond [1]that period, all the days of her impure discharge she shall continue as though [2]in her menstrual impurity; she is unclean.

26 'Any bed on which she lies all the days of her discharge shall be to her like [1]her bed at menstruation; and every thing on which she sits shall be unclean, like [2]her uncleanness at that time.

27 'Likewise, whoever touches them shall be unclean and shall wash his clothes and bathe in water and be unclean until evening.

28 'When she becomes clean from her discharge, she shall count off for herself seven days; and afterward she will be clean.

29 'Then on the eighth day she shall take for herself two turtledoves or two young pigeons and bring them in to the priest, to the doorway of the tent of meeting.

30 'The priest shall offer the aone for a sin offering and the other for a burnt offering. So the priest shall make atonement on her behalf before the LORD because of her impure discharge.'

31 "Thus you shall keep the sons of Israel separated from their uncleanness, so that they will not die in their uncleanness by their adefiling My [1]tabernacle that is among them."

32 This is the law for the one with a discharge, and for the man [1]who has a seminal emission so that he is unclean by it, 33 and for the woman who is ill because of menstrual impurity, and for the one who has a discharge, whether a male or a female, or a man who lies with an unclean woman.

Law of Atonement

16 Now the LORD spoke to Moses after athe death of the two sons of Aaron, when they had approached the presence of the LORD and died.

2 The LORD said to Moses:

"Tell your brother Aaron that he shall not enter aat any time into the holy place inside the veil, before the [1]mercy seat which is on the ark, or he will die; for bI will appear in the cloud over the [1]mercy seat.

3 "Aaron shall enter the holy place with this: with a [1]bull for a asin offering and a ram for a burnt offering.

4 "He shall put on the aholy linen tunic, and the linen undergarments shall be next to his [1]body, and he shall be girded with the linen sash and attired with the linen turban (these are holy garments). Then he shall bbathe his [1]body in water and put them on.

5 "He shall take from the congregation of the sons of Israel atwo male goats for a sin offering and one ram for a burnt offering.

15:24 A case of the woman's period beginning during intercourse. This is different from 18:19 and 20:18. menstrual impurity. During her period a woman was protected from sexual activity. No offering was required for uncleanness contracted by a man in this way, but the uncleanness lasted seven days.
15:25 discharge of her blood many days. As, e.g., the woman in Matt 9:20. beyond that period. An unnatural discharge, possibly caused by disease, was treated like a sickness and required an offering upon recovery (vv. 28–30; see vv. 14–15).
15:31 Addressed to the priests, thus emphasizing the importance of the regulations. Since God dwelt in the tabernacle, any unholiness, symbolized by the discharges of ch. 15, could result in death if the people came into His presence. Sin separates all people from a holy God and results in their death, unless atonement is made (see the next chapter).
16:1–34 See 23:26–32; 25:9; Ex 30:10; Num 29:7–11; Heb 9:7. The order of ritual for the day of atonement was as follows: 1. The high priest went to the basin in the courtyard, removed his regular garments, washed himself (v. 4) and went into the holy place to put on the special garments for the day of atonement (v. 4). 2. He went out to sacrifice a bull at the altar of burnt offering as a sin offering for himself and the other priests (v. 11). 3. He went into the holy of holies with some of the bull's blood, with incense and with coals from the altar of burnt offering (vv. 12–13). The incense was placed on the burning coals, and the smoke of the incense hid the ark from view. 4. He sprinkled some of the bull's blood on and in front of the mercy seat (v. 14). 5. He went outside the tabernacle and cast lots for two goats to see which was to be sacrificed and which was to be the scapegoat (vv. 7–8). 6. At the altar of burnt offering the high priest killed the goat for the sin offering for the people, and for a second time he went into the holy of holies, this time to sprinkle the goat's blood in front of and on the mercy seat (vv. 5,9,15–16a). 7. He returned to the holy place (called "tent of meeting" in v. 16) and sprinkled the goat's blood there (v. 16b). 8. He went outside to the altar of burnt offering and sprinkled it (v. 18) with the blood of the bull (for himself, v. 11) and of the goat (for the people, v. 15). 9. While in the courtyard, he laid both hands on the second goat, thus symbolizing the transfer of Israel's sin, and sent it out into the wilderness (vv. 20–22). 10. The man who took the goat away, after he accomplished his task, washed himself and his clothes outside the camp (v. 26) before rejoining the people. 11. The high priest entered the holy place to remove his special garments (v. 23). 12. He went out to the basin to wash and put on his regular priestly clothes (v. 24). 13. As a final sacrifice he went out to the great altar and offered a ram (v. 3) as a burnt offering for himself, and another ram (v. 5) for the people (v. 24). 14. The conclusion of the entire day was the removal of the sacrifices for the sin offerings to a place outside the camp, where they were burned, and there the man who performed this ritual bathed and washed his clothes (vv. 27–28) before rejoining the people.
16:1 death of the two sons of Aaron. See 10:1–3.
16:2 mercy seat. See Ex 25:17 and note. Blood sprinkled on the lid of the ark made atonement for Israel on the day of atonement (vv. 15–17). In the Septuagint (the Greek translation of the OT) the word for "mercy seat" is the same one used of Christ and translated "propitiation" in Rom 3:25 (see note there).
16:3 bull. For Aaron's cleansing (vv. 6,11). Before Aaron could minister in the holy place for the nation, he himself had to be cleansed (Heb 5:1–3); not so Christ, who is our high priest and Aaron's antitype (Heb 7:26–28).
16:5 two male goats for a sin offering. One was the usual sin offering (see notes on 4:3,5) and the other a scapegoat. No sin-

6 "Then [a]Aaron shall offer the bull for the sin offering which is for himself, that he may make atonement for himself and for his household.

7 "He shall take the two goats and present them before the LORD at the doorway of the tent of meeting.

8 "Aaron shall cast lots for the two goats, one lot for the LORD and the other lot for the [1]scapegoat.

9 "Then Aaron shall offer the goat on which the lot for the LORD fell, and make it a sin offering.

10 "But the goat on which the lot for the [1]scapegoat fell shall be presented alive before the LORD, to make [a]atonement upon it, to send it into the wilderness as the [1]scapegoat.

11 "Then Aaron shall offer the bull of the sin offering [a]which is for himself and make atonement for himself and [b]for his household, and he shall slaughter the bull of the sin offering which is for himself.

12 "He shall take a [a]firepan full of coals of fire from upon the altar before the LORD and [1]two handfuls of finely ground [b]sweet incense, and bring it inside the veil.

13 "He shall put the incense on the fire before the LORD, that the cloud of incense may cover the [1][a]mercy seat that is on the ark of the testimony, [b]otherwise he will die.

14 "Moreover, [a]he shall take some of the blood of the bull and sprinkle it [b]with his finger on the [1]mercy seat on the east side; also in front of the [1]mercy seat he shall sprinkle some of the blood with his finger seven times.

15 "Then he shall slaughter the goat of the sin offering [a]which is for the people, and bring its blood inside the veil and do with its blood as he did with the blood of the bull, and sprinkle it on the [1]mercy seat and in front of the [1]mercy seat.

16 "[a]He shall make atonement for the holy place, because of the impurities of the sons of Israel and because of their transgressions in regard to all their sins; and thus he shall do for the tent of meeting which abides with them in the midst of their impurities.

17 "When he goes in to make atonement in the holy place, no one shall be in the tent of meeting until he comes out, that he may make atonement for himself and for his household and for all the assembly of Israel.

18 "Then he shall go out to the altar that is before the LORD and make atonement for it, and shall take some of the blood of the bull and of the blood of the goat and [a]put it on the horns of the altar on all sides.

19 "[a]With his finger he shall sprinkle some of the blood on it seven times and cleanse it, and from the impurities of the sons of Israel consecrate it.

20 "When he finishes atoning for the holy place and the tent of meeting and the altar, he shall offer the live goat.

21 "Then Aaron shall lay both of his hands on the head of the live goat, and [a]confess over it all the iniquities of the sons of Israel and all their transgressions [1]in regard to all their sins; and he shall lay them on the head of the goat and send it away into the wilderness by the hand of a man who stands in readiness.

22 "The goat shall bear on itself all their iniquities to a solitary land; and he shall release the goat in the wilderness.

23 "Then Aaron shall come into the tent of meeting and take off [a]the linen garments which he put on when he went into the holy place, and shall leave them there.

24 "[a]He shall bathe his [1]body with water in a holy place and put on [b]his clothes, and come forth and offer his burnt offering and the burnt offering of the people and make atonement for himself and for the people.

25 "Then he shall offer up in smoke the fat of the sin offering on the altar.

26 "The one who released the goat as the [1]scapegoat [a]shall wash his clothes and bathe his [2]body with water; then afterward he shall come into the camp.

27 "But the bull of the sin offering and the goat of the sin offering, [a]whose blood was brought in to make atonement in the holy place, shall be taken outside the camp, and they shall burn their hides, their flesh, and their refuse in the fire.

28 "Then the [a]one who burns them shall wash his clothes and bathe his body with water, then afterward he shall come into the camp.

gle offering could fully typify the atonement of Christ. The one goat was killed, its blood sprinkled in the holy place and its body burned outside the camp (vv. 15,27), symbolizing the payment of the price of Christ's atonement. The other goat, sent away alive and bearing the sins of the nation (v. 21), symbolized the removal of sin and its guilt. ram. For the sins of the people; the one in v. 3 was for the sins of the high priest. Both were sacrificed at the end of the ceremony (v. 24).

16:6–10 An outline of vv. 11–22.

16:11 make atonement for himself. See note on v. 3.

16:13 The smoke of the incense covered the ark so that the high priest would not see the glorious presence of God (v. 2) and thus die.

16:14 See Rom 3:25. seven times. See note on 4:6.

16:16 tent of meeting. Here and in vv. 17,20,33 the term means the holy place.

16:20–22 A summary description of substitutionary atonement. The sin of the worshipers was confessed and symbolically transferred to the sacrificial animal, on which hands were laid (see notes on 1:3; Ex 29:10; see also Lev 1:4; 3:8; 4:4).

16:24 holy place. Cf. 6:26. burnt offering . . . burnt offering. The two rams mentioned in vv. 3,5.

30 for it is on this day that [1]atonement shall be made for you to [a]cleanse you; you will be clean from all your sins before the LORD.

31 "It is to be a sabbath of solemn rest for you, that you may [a]humble your souls; it is a permanent statute.

32 "So the priest who is anointed and [1]ordained to serve as priest in his father's place shall make atonement: he shall thus put on [a]the linen garments, the holy garments,

33 and make atonement for the holy sanctuary, and he shall make atonement for the tent of meeting and for the altar. He shall also make atonement for [a]the priests and for all the people of the assembly.

34 "Now you shall have this as a [a]permanent statute, to [b]make atonement for the sons of Israel for all their sins once every year." And just as the LORD had commanded Moses, so he did.

Blood for Atonement

17 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 2 "Speak to Aaron and to his sons and to all the sons of Israel and say to them, 'This is what the LORD has commanded, saying,

3 "Any man from the house of Israel who slaughters an ox or a lamb or a goat in the camp, or who slaughters it outside the camp,

4 and [a]has not brought it to the doorway of the tent of meeting to present it as an offering to the LORD before the [1]tabernacle of the LORD, bloodguiltiness is to be reckoned to that man. He has shed blood and that man shall be cut off from among his people.

5 "[1]The reason is so that the sons of Israel may bring their sacrifices which they were sacrificing in the open field, that they may bring them in to the LORD, at the doorway of the tent of meeting to the priest, and sacrifice them as sacrifices of peace offerings to the LORD.

6 "The priest shall sprinkle the blood on the altar of the LORD at the doorway of the tent of meeting, and [a]offer up the fat in smoke as a soothing aroma to the LORD.

7 "[a]They shall no longer sacrifice their sacrifices to the [1]goat demons with which they play the harlot. This shall be a permanent statute to them throughout their generations." '

8 "Then you shall say to them, 'Any man from the house of Israel, or from the aliens who sojourn among them, who offers a burnt offering or sacrifice,

9 and [a]does not bring it to the doorway of the tent of meeting to [1]offer it to the LORD, that man also shall be cut off from his people.

10 '[a]And any man from the house of Israel, or from the aliens who sojourn among them, who eats any blood, [b]I will set My face against that person who eats blood and will cut him off from among his people.

11 'For [a]the [1]life of the flesh is in the blood, and I have given it to you on the altar to make atonement for your souls; for [b]it is the blood by reason of the [1]life that makes atonement.'

12 "Therefore I said to the sons of Israel, 'No person among you may eat blood, nor may any alien who sojourns among you eat blood.'

13 "So when any man from the sons of Israel, or from the aliens who sojourn among them, [1]in hunting catches a beast or a bird which may be eaten, [a]he shall pour out its blood and cover it with earth.

14 "[a]For as for the [1]life of all flesh, its blood is identified with its [1]life. Therefore I said to the sons of Israel, 'You are not to eat the blood of any flesh, for the [1]life of all flesh is its blood; whoever eats it shall be cut off.'

15 "[a]When any person eats an animal which dies or is torn by beasts, whether he is a native or an alien, he shall wash his clothes and bathe in water, and remain unclean until evening; then he will become clean.

16 "But if he does not wash them or bathe his body, then [a]he shall bear his [1]guilt."

16:29,31 humble your souls. The expression came to be used of fasting (Ps 35:13). The day of atonement was the only regular fast day stipulated in the OT (see 23:27,29,32, where humbling oneself probably implies fasting), though tradition later added other fast days to the Jewish calendar (see Zech 7:5; 8:19).

16:29 seventh month. Tishri, the seventh month, begins with the blowing of trumpets (see note on 23:24). The day of atonement follows on the 10th day, and on the 15th day the Feast of Booths begins (see 23:23–36).

16:30 clean from all your sins. On the day of atonement the repentant Israelite was assured of sins forgiven.

16:34 once every year. Heb 9:11–10:14 repeatedly points out this contrast with Christ's "once for all" sacrifice.

17:4 tabernacle of the LORD. The people, with few exceptions (e.g., Deut 12:15,20–21), were directed to sacrifice only at the central sanctuary (Deut 12:5–6). Sennacherib's representative referred to Hezekiah's requiring worship only in Jerusalem (2 Kin 18:22). One reason for such a regulation was to keep the Israelites from becoming corrupted by the Canaanites' pagan worship. cut off from among his people. See note on 7:20.

17:5 to the priest . . . to the LORD. See note on 6:6.

17:7 play the harlot. See 20:5–6; see also Judg 2:17 and note.

17:11 the life of the flesh is in the blood. See note on Gen 9:4. The blood shed in the sacrifices was sacred. It epitomized the life of the sacrificial victim. Since life was sacred, blood (a symbol of life) had to be treated with respect (Gen 9:5–6). Eating blood was therefore strictly forbidden (see 7:26–27; Deut 12:16,23–25; 15:23; 1 Sam 14:32–34). blood . . . makes atonement. Practically every sacrifice included the sprinkling or smearing of blood on the altar or within the tabernacle (v. 6; 1:5; 3:2; 4:6,25; 7:2), thus teaching that atonement involves the substitution of life for life. The blood of the OT sacrifice pointed forward to the blood of the Lamb of God, who obtained for His people "eternal redemption" (Heb 9:12). "Without shedding of blood there is no forgiveness" (Heb 9:22).

17:15 dies or is torn. Such animals would not have had the blood drained from them and therefore would be forbidden.

Laws on Immoral Relations

18 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 2 "Speak to the sons of Israel and say to them, 'ᵃI am the LORD your God.

3 'You shall not do [1]what is ᵃdone in the land of Egypt where you lived, nor are you to do [1]what is ᵇdone in the land of Canaan where I am bringing you; you shall not walk in their statutes.

4 'You are to perform My judgments and keep My statutes, [1]to live in accord with them; ᵃI am the LORD your God.

5 'So you shall keep My statutes and My judgments, ᵃby which a man may live if he does them; I am the LORD.

18:1–20:27 Here God's people are given instructions concerning interpersonal relations and a morality reflecting God's holiness. Israel was thereby prepared for a life different from the Canaanites, whose life-style was deplorably immoral. Ch. 18 contains prohibitions in the moral sphere, ch. 19 expands the Ten Commandments to detail correct morality, and ch. 20 assesses the penalties for violating God's standard of morality. See chart, p. 255.

18:2 In chs. 18–26 the phrase "I am the LORD" occurs 47 times. The Lord's name (i.e., His revealed character as Yahweh, "the LORD") is the authority that stands behind His instructions. See note on Ex 3:15.

18:3 Six times in this chapter Israel is warned not to follow the example of pagans (here, two times; see also vv. 24,26–27,30).

18:5 live. With God's full blessing. The law was the way of life for the redeemed (see Ezek 20:11,13,21), not a way of salvation for the lost (see Rom 10:5; Gal 3:12).

18:6 A summary of the laws against incest (vv. 7–18). Penalties for incestuous relations are given in ch. 20.

18:7 This prohibition applied also after the father's death. If the father was still living, the act was adulterous and therefore forbidden.

18:8 your father's wife. Other than your mother—assuming there is more than one wife.

18:11 sister. There would be many half-sisters in a polygamous society. Tamar claimed that an exception to this prohibition could be made (2 Sam 13:12–13; but see note there).

18:14 your aunt. See 20:20. If the father's brother was alive, the act would be adulterous. If he was dead, one could rationalize such a marriage because the aunt was not a blood relative—but it was forbidden.

18:15 Cf. the account of Judah and Tamar (Gen 38:18).

18:16 your brother's wife. The law also applied to a time after divorce or the brother's death. To marry one's brother's widow was not immoral but might damage the brother's inheritance. The levirate law of Deut 25:5–6 offered an exception that preserved the dead brother's inheritance and continued his line.

18:17 daughter. Stepdaughter (granddaughter-in-law is also covered in the verse). The law applied even after the mother's death.

18:18 Cf. the account of Jacob with Leah and Rachel (Gen 29:23–30).

18:19 See Ezek 18:6; 22:10.

18:21 Molech. The god of the Ammonites (see 20:2–5; 1 Kin 11:5 and note). The detestable practice of sacrificing children to Molech was common in Phoenicia and other surrounding countries. Cf. 2 Kin 3:26–27. King Manasseh evidently sacrificed his sons to Molech (2 Chr 33:6; see 2 Kin 23:10). Jer 32:35 protests the practice.

18:22 lie with a male. See 20:13, where the penalty for homosexual acts is death.

which I am casting out before you have become defiled.

25 'For the land has become defiled, [a]therefore I have brought its [1]punishment upon it, so the land [b]has spewed out its inhabitants.

26 'But as for you, you are to keep My statutes and My judgments and shall not do any of these abominations, neither the native, nor the alien who sojourns among you

27 (for the men of the land who have been before you have done all these abominations, and the land has become defiled);

28 so that the land will not spew you out, should you defile it, as it has spewed out the nation which has been before you.

29 'For whoever does any of these abominations, [1]those persons who do so shall be cut off from among their people.

30 'Thus you are to keep [a]My charge, that you do not practice any of the abominable customs which have been practiced before you, so as not to defile yourselves with them; [b]I am the LORD your God.' "

Idolatry Forbidden

19 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying: 2 "Speak to all the congregation of the sons of Israel and say to them, '[a]You shall be holy, for I the LORD your God am holy.

3 'Every one of you [a]shall reverence his mother and his father, and you shall keep [b]My sabbaths; [c]I am the LORD your God.

4 'Do not turn to [a]idols or make for yourselves molten [b]gods; I am the LORD your God.

5 'Now when you offer a sacrifice of peace offerings to the LORD, you shall offer it so that you may be accepted.

6 'It shall be eaten the same day you offer it, and the next day; but what remains until the third day shall be burned with fire.

7 'So if it is eaten at all on the third day, it is an offense; it will not be accepted.

8 'Everyone who eats it will bear his iniquity, for he has profaned the holy thing of the LORD; and that person shall be cut off from his people.

Sundry Laws

9 '[a]Now when you reap the harvest of your land, you shall not reap to the very corners of your field, nor shall you gather the gleanings of your harvest.

10 'Nor shall you glean your vineyard, nor shall you gather the fallen fruit of your vineyard; you shall leave them for the needy and for the stranger. I am the LORD your God.

11 '[a]You shall not steal, nor deal falsely, [b]nor lie to one another.

12 '[a]You shall not swear falsely by My name, so as to [b]profane the name of your God; I am the LORD.

13 '[a]You shall not oppress your neighbor, nor rob him. [b]The wages of a hired man are not to remain with you all night until morning.

14 'You shall not curse a deaf man, nor [a]place a stumbling block before the blind, but you shall revere your God; I am the LORD.

15 '[a]You shall do no injustice in judgment; you shall not be partial to the poor nor defer to the great, but you are to judge your neighbor fairly.

16 'You shall not go about as [a]a slanderer among your people, and you are not to [1]act against the [2b]life of your neighbor; I am the LORD.

17 'You [a]shall not hate your [1]fellow countryman in your heart; you [b]may surely reprove your neighbor, but shall not incur sin because of him.

18 '[a]You shall not take vengeance, [b]nor bear any grudge against the sons of your people, but [c]you shall love your neighbor as yourself; I am the LORD.

19 'You are to keep My statutes. You shall not breed together two kinds of your cattle; [a]you shall not sow your field with two kinds of seed, nor wear a garment upon you of two kinds of material mixed together.

20 '[a]Now if a man lies carnally with a woman who is a slave acquired for another man, but who has in no way been redeemed nor given her freedom, there shall be punishment; they shall not, however, be put to death, because she was not free.

21 'He shall bring his guilt offering to the LORD to the doorway of the tent of meeting, [a]a ram for a guilt offering.

22 'The priest shall also make atonement for him with the ram of the guilt offering

The stricter Pharisees (school of Shammai) added to this command what they thought it implied: "Hate your enemy" (Matt 5:43). Jesus' reaction, "Love your enemies," was in line with true OT teaching (see vv. 17,34) and was more in agreement with the middle-of-the-road Pharisees. Rabbi Nahmanides caught their sentiments: "One should place no limitations upon the love for the neighbor, but instead a person should love to do an abundance of good for his fellow being as he does for himself." "Neighbor" does not merely mean one who lives nearby, but anyone with whom one comes in contact.

On Human Sacrifice and Immoralities

20 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 2 "You shall also say to the sons of Israel:

'Any man from the sons of Israel or from the aliens sojourning in Israel [a]who gives any of his [1]offspring to Molech, shall surely be put to death; [b]the people of the land shall stone him with stones.

3 'I will also set My face against that man and will cut him off from among his people, because he has given some of his [1]offspring to Molech, [a]so as to defile My sanctuary and [b]to profane My holy name.

4 'If the people of the land, however, [1]should ever disregard that man when he gives any of his [2]offspring to Molech, so as not to put him to death,

5 then I Myself will set My face against that man and against his family, and I will cut off from among their people both him and all those who play the harlot after him, by playing the harlot after Molech.

6 'As for the person who turns to [1][a]mediums and to spiritists, to play the harlot after them, I will also set My face against that person and will cut him off from among his people.

7 'You shall consecrate yourselves therefore and [a]be holy, for I am the LORD your God.

8 '[a]You shall keep My statutes and practice them; I am the LORD who sanctifies you.

9 '[a]If there is anyone who curses his father or his mother, he shall surely be put to death; he has cursed his father or his mother, his bloodguiltiness is upon him.

10 '[a]If there is a man who commits adultery with another man's wife, one who commits adultery with his friend's wife, the adulterer and the adulteress shall surely be put to death.

11 '[a]If there is a man who lies with his father's wife, he has uncovered his father's nakedness; both of them shall surely be put to death, their bloodguiltiness is upon them.

19:34 you were aliens in . . . Egypt. See Deut 5:15.

19:35 do no wrong in judgment. In a culture with no bureau of weights and measures, cheating in business transactions by falsification of standards was common (see Deut 25:13–16; Prov 11:1; 16:11; 20:10,23). The prophets also condemned such sin (Amos 8:5; Mic 6:10–11).

20:1–27 In ch. 20 many of the same sins listed in ch. 18 are mentioned again, but this time usually with the death penalty specified. Israel's God is a jealous God and tolerates no rivals (see note on Ex 20:5). He requires exclusive allegiance (see Ex 20:3). See note on 18:1–20:27.

14 'aIf there is a man who [1]marries a woman and her mother, it is immorality; both he and they shall be burned with fire, so that there will be no immorality in your midst.

15 'aIf there is a man who lies with an animal, he shall surely be put to death; you shall also kill the animal.

16 'If there is a woman who approaches any animal to [1]mate with it, you shall kill the woman and the animal; they shall surely be put to death. Their bloodguiltiness is upon them.

17 'aIf there is a man who takes his sister, his father's daughter or his mother's daughter, so that he sees her nakedness and she sees his nakedness, it is a disgrace; and they shall be cut off in the sight of the sons of their people. He has uncovered his sister's nakedness; he bears his guilt.

18 'aIf there is a man who lies with a [1]menstruous woman and uncovers her nakedness, he has laid bare her flow, and she has [2]exposed the flow of her blood; thus both of them shall be cut off from among their people.

19 'aYou shall also not uncover the nakedness of your mother's sister or of your father's sister, for such a one has made naked his [1]blood relative; they will bear their guilt.

20 'aIf there is a man who lies with his uncle's wife he has uncovered his uncle's nakedness; they will bear their sin. They will die childless.

21 'aIf there is a man who takes his brother's wife, it is [1]abhorrent; he has uncovered his brother's nakedness. They will be childless.

22 'You are therefore to keep all My statutes and all My ordinances and do them, so that the land to which I am bringing you to [1]live will not aspew you out.

23 'Moreover, you shall not [1]follow athe customs of the nation which I will drive out before you, for they did all these things, and btherefore I have abhorred them.

24 'Hence I have said to you, "aYou are to possess their land, and I Myself will give it to you to possess it, a land flowing with milk and honey." I am the LORD your God, who has bseparated you from the peoples.

25 'aYou are therefore to make a distinction between the clean animal and the unclean, and between the unclean bird and the clean; and you shall not make [1]yourselves detestable by animal or by bird or by anything [2]that creeps on the ground, which I have separated for you as unclean.

26 'Thus you are to be holy to Me, for I the LORD am holy; and I ahave set you apart from the peoples to be Mine.

27 'Now a man or a woman awho is a medium or a [1]spiritist shall surely be put to death. They shall be stoned with stones, their bloodguiltiness is upon them.' "

Regulations concerning Priests

21 Then the LORD said to Moses, "Speak to the priests, the sons of Aaron, and say to them:

'aNo one shall defile himself for a dead person among his people,

2 aexcept for his relatives who are nearest to him, his mother and his father and his son and his daughter and his brother,

3 also for his virgin sister, who is near to him [1]because she has had no husband; for her he may defile himself.

4 'He shall not defile himself as a [1]relative by marriage among his people, and so profane himself.

5 'aThey shall not make any baldness on their heads, bnor shave off the edges of their beards, cnor make any cuts in their flesh.

6 'They shall be holy to their God and anot profane the name of their God, for they present the offerings by fire [1]to the LORD, bthe food of their God; so they shall be holy.

7 'aThey shall not take a woman who is profaned by harlotry, nor shall they take a woman divorced from her husband; for he is holy to his God.

8 'You shall consecrate him, therefore, for he offers athe food of your God; he shall be holy to you; for I the LORD, who sanctifies you, am holy.

21:1–22:33 Directions for the priests' conduct, especially about separation from ceremonial uncleanness.
21:1 for a dead person. Touching a corpse (Num 19:11) or entering the home of a person who had died (Num 19:14) made one unclean. A priest was only to contract such uncleanness at the death of a close relative (vv. 2–3), and the regulations for the high priest denied him even this (vv. 11–12).
21:5 cuts in their flesh. See 19:27–28. Such lacerations and disfigurement were common among pagans as signs of mourning and to secure the attention of their deity (see 1 Kin 18:28). Israelite faith had a much less grotesque view of death (see, e.g., vv. 1–4; Gen 5:24; 2 Sam 12:23; Heb 11:19).
21:8 I . . . am holy. See note on 11:44.

his brothers, on whose head the anointing oil has been poured and [1]who has been consecrated to wear the garments, [a]shall not [2]uncover his head nor tear his clothes;

11 [a]nor shall he approach any dead person, nor defile himself even for his father or his mother;

12 [a]nor shall he go out of the sanctuary nor profane the sanctuary of his God, for [b]the consecration of the anointing oil of his God is on him; I am the LORD.

13 'He shall take a wife in her virginity.

14 '[a]A widow, or a divorced woman, or one who is profaned by harlotry, these he may not take; but rather he is to [1]marry a virgin of his own people,

15 so that he will not profane his [1]offspring among his people; for I am the LORD who sanctifies him.' "

16 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

17 "Speak to Aaron, saying, 'No man of your [1]offspring throughout their generations who has a defect shall approach to offer the [a]food of his God.

18 '[a]For no one who has a defect shall approach: a blind man, or a lame man, or he who has a [1][a]disfigured face, or any deformed limb,

19 or a man who has a broken foot or broken hand,

20 or a hunchback or a dwarf, or one who has a [1]defect in his eye or eczema or scabs or [a]crushed testicles.

21 'No man among the [1]descendants of Aaron the priest who has a defect is to come near to offer the LORD'S offerings by fire; since he has a defect, he shall not come near to offer [a]the food of his God.

22 'He may eat [a]the food of his God, both of the most holy and of the holy,

23 only he shall not go in to the veil or come near the altar because he has a defect, so that he will not profane My sanctuaries. For I am the LORD who sanctifies them.' "

24 So Moses spoke to Aaron and to his sons and to all the sons of Israel.

Sundry Rules for Priests

22 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 2 "Tell Aaron and his sons to be careful with the holy gifts of the sons of Israel, which they dedicate to Me, so as not to profane My holy name; I am the LORD.

3 "Say to them, '[a]If any man among all your [1]descendants throughout your generations approaches the holy gifts which the sons of Israel dedicate to the LORD, while he has an uncleanness, that person shall be cut off from before Me; I am the LORD.

4 '[a]No man of the [1]descendants of Aaron, who is a leper or who has a discharge, may eat of the holy gifts until he is clean. [b]And if one touches anything made unclean by a corpse or if [c]a man has a seminal emission,

5 or [a]if a man touches any teeming things by which he is made unclean, or any man by whom he is made unclean, whatever his uncleanness;

6 a [1]person who touches any such shall be unclean until evening, and shall not eat of the holy gifts unless he has bathed his [2]body in water.

7 'But when the sun sets, he will be clean, and afterward he shall eat of the holy gifts, for [a]it is his [1]food.

8 'He shall not eat [a]an animal which dies or is torn by beasts, becoming unclean by it; I am the LORD.

9 'They shall therefore keep [a]My charge, so that [b]they will not bear sin because of it and die thereby because they profane it; I am the LORD who sanctifies them.

10 '[a]No [1]layman, however, is to eat the holy gift; a sojourner with the priest or a hired man shall not eat of the holy gift.

11 '[a]But if a priest buys a [1]slave as his property with his money, [2]that one may eat of it, and those who are born in his house may eat of his [3]food.

12 'If a priest's daughter is married to a [1]layman, she shall not eat of the [2]offering of the gifts.

13 'But if a priest's daughter becomes a widow or divorced, and has no child and returns to her father's house as in her youth, she shall eat of her father's [1]food; [a]but no [2]layman shall eat of it.

14 '[a]But if a man eats a holy gift unintentionally, then he shall add to it a fifth of it and shall give the holy gift to the priest.

15 '[a]They shall not profane the holy gifts of the sons of Israel which they offer to the LORD,

16 and so cause them [a]to bear [1]punishment for guilt by eating their holy gifts; for I am the LORD who sanctifies them.' "

21:17 defect. Like the sacrifices that had to be without defect, the priests were to typify Christ's perfection (Heb 9:13–14).
21:23 veil. Between the holy place and the holy of holies (see Ex 26:33).
22:3 cut off from before Me. Excluded from the worshiping community.
22:4 See 13:1–46 and note on 13:45–46; 15:1–18 and notes; 21:11.
22:5 See 11:29–31.
22:8 See 17:15 and note.
22:9 die . . . because they profane it. The laws of cleanness were the same for priests and people, but the penalties were far more severe for the priests, who had greater responsibility. Cf. Nadab and Abihu (10:1–3) and the faithless priests of Malachi's day (Mal 1:6–2:9). sanctifies. See note on 11:44.
22:14 add to it a fifth . . . to the priest. Cf. 5:16.

all the sons of Israel and say to them, '[a]Any man of the house of Israel or of the aliens in Israel who presents his offering, whether it is any of their [1]votive or any of their freewill offerings, which they present to the LORD for a burnt offering—

19 [a]for you to be accepted—it must be a male without defect from the cattle, the sheep, or the goats.

20 '[a]Whatever has a defect, you shall not offer, for it will not be accepted for you.

21 'When a man offers a sacrifice of peace offerings to the LORD [a]to [1]fulfill a special vow or for a freewill offering, of the herd or of the flock, it must be perfect to be accepted; there shall be no defect in it.

22 'Those that are blind or fractured or maimed or having a running sore or eczema or scabs, you shall not offer to the LORD, nor make of them an offering by fire on the altar to the LORD.

26 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

27 "When an ox or a sheep or a goat is born, it shall [1]remain [a]seven days [2]with its mother, and from the eighth day on it shall be accepted as a sacrifice of an offering by fire to the LORD.

28 "[a]But, whether it is an ox or a sheep, you shall not kill both it and its young in one day.

29 "When you sacrifice [a]a sacrifice of thanksgiving to the LORD, you shall sacrifice it so that you may be accepted.

Laws of Religious Festivals

23 The LORD spoke again to Moses, saying, 2 "Speak to the sons of Israel and say to them, '[a]The LORD's appointed times which you shall [b]proclaim as holy convocations—My appointed times are these:

3 '[a]For six days work may be done, but on the seventh day there is a sabbath of complete rest, a holy convocation. You shall not do any work; it is a sabbath to the LORD in all your dwellings.

4 'These are the [a]appointed times of the LORD, holy convocations which you shall proclaim at the times appointed for them.

5 '[a]In the first month, on the fourteenth day of the month [1]at twilight is the LORD's Passover.

6 'Then on the fifteenth day of the same month there is the [a]Feast of Unleavened Bread to the LORD; for seven days you shall eat unleavened bread.

7 'On the first day you shall have a holy convocation; you shall [a]not do any laborious work.

8 'But for seven days you shall present an offering by fire to the LORD. On the seventh day is a holy convocation; you shall not do any laborious work.' "

9 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

10 "Speak to the sons of Israel and say to them, 'When you enter the land which I am going to give to you and [a]reap its harvest, then you shall bring in the sheaf of the first fruits of your harvest to the priest.

11 'He shall wave the sheaf before the LORD for you to be accepted; on the day after the sabbath the priest shall wave it.

12 'Now on the day when you wave the sheaf, you shall offer a male lamb one year old without defect for a burnt offering to the LORD.

22:18 burnt offering. See note on 1:3.

22:20–22 See Mal 1:8.

22:21 peace offerings. See note on 3:1.

22:24 bruised or crushed or torn or cut. Castrated animals were not acceptable offerings.

22:28 Perhaps the prohibition was humanitarian (see v. 27), or possibly it was practical: The mother was to be saved to build up the flock (see Deut 22:6–7). Or it may have been a law to avoid an otherwise unknown pagan custom (see note on Ex 23:19).

22:30 the same day. The rule applied also to the Passover (Ex 34:25); however, the peace offering could be saved and eaten on the following day (7:16).

23:2 appointed times. See Ex 23:14–17 and notes; 34:18–25; Num 28–29; Deut 16:1–17. The parallel in Numbers (the fullest and closest to Leviticus) specifies in great detail the offerings to be made at each feast. See chart, pp. 164–165.

23:3 sabbath. See notes on Ex 16:23; 20:9–10. The sabbath is associated with the annual feasts also in Ex 23:12. Two additional lambs were to be sacrificed as a burnt offering every weekly sabbath (Num 28:9–10).

23:5 first month. See note on Ex 12:2. The Israelites had three systems of referring to months. In one, the months were simply numbered (as here and in v. 24). In another, the Canaanite names were used (Abib, Bul, etc.), of which only four are known. In the third system, the Babylonian names (Nisan, Adar, Tishri, Kislev, etc.) were used—in the exilic and postexilic books only—and are still used today. See chart, p. 92. Passover. See notes on Ex 12:11,14,21.

23:6 Feast of Unleavened Bread. See note on Ex 23:15. During the Feast the first sheaf of the barley harvest was brought (see vv. 10–11).

13 'Its [a]grain offering shall then be two-tenths of an ephah of fine flour mixed with oil, an offering by fire to the LORD for a soothing aroma, with its drink offering, a fourth of a [1]hin of wine.

14 'Until this same day, until you have brought in the offering of your God, [a]you shall eat neither bread nor roasted grain nor new growth. It is to be a perpetual statute throughout your generations in all your dwelling places.

15 '[a]You shall also count for yourselves from the day after the sabbath, from the day when you brought in the sheaf of the wave offering; there shall be seven complete sabbaths.

16 'You shall count fifty days to the day after the seventh sabbath; then you shall present a [a]new grain offering to the LORD.

17 'You shall bring in from your dwelling places two loaves of bread for a wave offering, made of two-tenths of an [1]ephah; they shall be of a fine flour, baked [a]with leaven as first fruits to the LORD.

18 'Along with the bread you shall present seven one year old male lambs without defect, and a bull of the herd and two rams; they are to be a burnt offering to the LORD, with their grain offering and their drink offerings, an offering by fire of a soothing aroma to the LORD.

19 'You shall also offer [a]one male goat for a sin offering and two male lambs one year old for a sacrifice of peace offerings.

20 'The priest shall then wave them with the bread of the first fruits for a wave offering with two lambs before the LORD; they are to be holy to the LORD for the priest.

21 'On this same day you shall [a]make a proclamation as well; you are to have a holy convocation. You shall do no laborious [b]work. It is to be a perpetual statute in all

22 '[a]When you reap the harvest of your land, moreover, you shall not reap to the very corners of your field nor gather the gleaning of your harvest; you are to leave them for the needy and the alien. I am the LORD your God.' "

The Day of Atonement

26 The LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

27 "On exactly [a]the tenth day of this seventh month is [b]the day of atonement; it shall be a holy convocation for you, and you shall humble your souls and present an offering by fire to the LORD.

28 "You shall not do any work on this same day, for it is a [a]day of atonement, [b]to make atonement on your behalf before the LORD your God.

23:24 seventh month on the first of the month. Today known as the Jewish New Year (Rosh Hashanah, "the beginning of the year"), but not so called in the Bible (the Hebrew expression is only used in Ezek 40:1 in a date formula). blowing of trumpets. Trumpets were blown on the first of every month (Ps 81:3). With no calendars available, the trumpets sounding across the land were an important signal of the beginning of the new season, the end of the agricultural year. See note on 16:29; see also chart, p. 92.

23:27 day of atonement. For details see notes on 16:1–34. Aaron was to enter the holy of holies only once a year (16:29–34) on the day called by modern Jews Yom Kippur. The Biblical name, however, is the plural Yom Hakkippurim (as in this verse), derived from the Hebrew words yom ("day") and kipper ("to atone"). The day was typological, foreshadowing the work of Christ, our high priest (see Heb 9:7; 13:11–12). humble your souls. See note on 16:29,31.

In addition, new moons were often special feast days (Num 10:10; 1 Chr 23:31; Ezra 3:5; Neh 10:33; Ps 81:3; Is 1:13-14; 66:23; Hosea 5:7; Amos 8:5; Col 2:16).

29 "If there is any [1]person who will not humble himself on this same day, [a]he shall be cut off from his people.
30 "As for any person who does any work on this same day, that person I will destroy from among his people.
31 "You shall do no work at all. It is to be a perpetual statute throughout your generations in all your dwelling places.
32 "It is to be a sabbath of complete rest to you, and you shall humble your souls; on the ninth of the month at evening, from evening until evening you shall keep your sabbath."
33 Again the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,
34 "Speak to the sons of Israel, saying, 'On [a]the fifteenth of this seventh month is the [b]Feast of Booths for seven days to the LORD.
35 'On the first day is a holy convocation; you shall do [a]no laborious work of any kind.

37 'These are [a]the appointed times of the LORD which you shall proclaim as holy convocations, to present offerings by fire to the LORD—burnt offerings and grain offerings, sacrifices and drink offerings, [b]each day's matter on its own day—

39 'On exactly the fifteenth day of the seventh month, [a]when you have gathered in the crops of the land, you shall celebrate the feast of the LORD for seven days, with a [1]rest on the first day and a [1]rest on the eighth day.
40 'Now on the first day you shall take for yourselves the [1]foliage of beautiful trees, palm branches and boughs of leafy trees and willows of the brook, and you shall rejoice before the LORD your God for seven days.
41 'You shall thus celebrate it as a feast to the LORD for seven days in the year. It shall be a perpetual statute throughout your generations; you shall celebrate it in the seventh month.
42 'You shall [1]live [a]in booths for seven days; all the native-born in Israel shall [1]live in booths,
43 so that [a]your generations may know that I had the sons of Israel live in booths when I brought them out from the land of Egypt. I am the LORD your God.' "
44 So Moses declared to the sons of Israel [a]the appointed times of the LORD.

The Lamp and the Bread of the Sanctuary

24 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,
2 "Command the sons of Israel that they bring to you [a]clear oil from beaten olives for the [1]light, to make a lamp [2]burn continually.
3 "Outside the veil of testimony in the tent of meeting, Aaron shall keep it in order from evening to morning before the LORD continually; it shall be a perpetual statute throughout your generations.
4 "He shall keep the lamps in order on the [a]pure gold lampstand before the LORD continually.
5 "[a]Then you shall take fine flour and bake twelve cakes with it; two-tenths of an ephah shall be in each cake.
6 "You shall set them in two rows, six to a row, on the [a]pure gold table before the LORD.
7 "You shall put pure frankincense on each row that it may be [a]a memorial portion for the bread, even an offering by fire to the LORD.
8 "[a]Every sabbath day he shall set it in order before the LORD [b]continually; it is an everlasting covenant [1]for the sons of Israel.
9 "[a]It shall be for Aaron and his sons, and they shall eat it in a holy place; for it is most holy to him from the LORD's offerings by fire, his portion forever."
10 Now the son of an Israelite woman, whose father was an Egyptian, went out among the sons of Israel; and the Israelite woman's son and a man of Israel struggled with each other in the camp.
11 The son of the Israelite woman blasphemed the [a]Name and cursed. So they brought him to Moses. (Now his mother's name was Shelomith, the daughter of Dibri, of the tribe of Dan.)
12 They put him in [1]custody [2]so that [a]the

24:2–4 See Ex 27:20–21.
24:3 testimony. See note on Ex 16:34. keep it in order. Keep the lamps burning (see vv. 2,4). continually. Every night without interruption, but not throughout the day. See 1 Sam 3:3 and note.
24:5 two-tenths of an ephah. About four quarts. Either the loaves were quite large or a smaller unit of measurement is intended (the Hebrew word ephah is not expressed).
24:7 pure frankincense. Not used as a condiment for the bread, but burned either in piles on the table or in small receptacles alongside the rows of bread.
24:8 it. Often called the "bread of the Presence" (see Ex 25:30 and note). It represented a gift from the 12 tribes and signified the fact that God sustained His people. It was eaten by the priests (24:9).
24:9 See 1 Sam 21:4–6.
24:10 father was an Egyptian. An alien. The laws, at least in the judicial sphere, applied equally to both the alien and the native-born Israelite (v. 22; see Ex 12:49).
24:11 blasphemed. See Ex 20:7 and note.

command of the LORD might be made clear to them.

13 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

14 "Bring the one who has cursed outside the camp, and let all who heard him [a]lay their hands on his head; then [b]let all the congregation stone him.

15 "You shall speak to the sons of Israel, saying, '[a]If anyone curses his God, then he will bear his sin.

16 'Moreover, the one who [a]blasphemes the name of the LORD shall surely be put to death; all the congregation shall certainly stone him. The alien as well as the native, when he blasphemes the Name, shall be put to death.

"An Eye for an Eye"

17 '[a]If a man [1]takes the life of any human being, he shall surely be put to death.

18 '[a]The one who [1]takes the life of an animal shall make it good, life for life.

19 'If a man [1]injures his neighbor, just as he has done, so it shall be done to him:

20 [a]fracture for fracture, [b]eye for eye, tooth for tooth; just as he has [1]injured a man, so it shall be [2]inflicted on him.

21 'Thus the one who [1]kills an animal shall make it good, but [a]the one who [1]kills a man shall be put to death.

22 'There shall be [a]one [1]standard for you; it shall be for the stranger as well as the native, for I am the LORD your God.' "

23 Then Moses spoke to the sons of Israel, and they brought the one who had cursed outside the camp and stoned him with stones. Thus the sons of Israel did, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

The Sabbatic Year and Year of Jubilee

25 The LORD then spoke to Moses [1]at Mount Sinai, saying,

2 "Speak to the sons of Israel and say to them, 'When you come into the land which I shall give you, then the land shall have a sabbath to the LORD.

3 '[a]Six years you shall sow your field, and six years you shall prune your vineyard and gather in its crop,

4 but during [a]the seventh year the land shall have a sabbath rest, a sabbath to the LORD; you shall not sow your field nor prune your vineyard.

5 'Your harvest's [1]aftergrowth you shall not reap, and your grapes of untrimmed vines you shall not gather; the land shall have a sabbatical year.

6 '[a]All of you shall have the sabbath products of the land for food; yourself, and your male and female slaves, and your hired man and your foreign resident, those who live as aliens with you.

7 'Even your cattle and the animals that are in your land shall have all its crops to eat.

8 'You are also to count off seven sabbaths of years for yourself, seven times seven years, so that you have the time of the seven sabbaths of years, namely, forty-nine years.

9 'You shall then sound a ram's horn abroad on [a]the tenth day of the seventh month; on the day of atonement you shall sound a horn all through your land.

10 'You shall thus consecrate the fiftieth year and [a]proclaim [1]a release through the land to all its inhabitants. It shall be a jubilee for you, [2]and [b]each of you shall return to his own property, [2]and each of you shall return to his family.

11 'You shall have the fiftieth year as a jubilee; you shall not sow, nor reap its aftergrowth, nor gather in from its untrimmed vines.

12 'For it is a jubilee; it shall be holy to you. You shall eat its crops out of the field.

24:17,21 See Gen 9:6 and note.

24:20 eye for eye, tooth for tooth. See note on Ex 21:23–25. This represents a statement of principle: The penalty is to fit the crime, not exceed it. An actual eye or tooth was not to be required, nor is there evidence that such a penalty was ever exacted. A similar law of retaliation is found in the Code of Hammurapi, which also seems not to have been literally applied. Christ, like the middle-of-the-road Pharisees (school of Hillel), objected to an extremist use of this judicial principle to excuse private vengeance, such as by the strict Pharisees (school of Shammai); see Matt 5:38–42.

24:22 See note on v. 10.

25:4 land shall have a sabbath. See Ex 23:10–11. The Israelites did not practice crop rotation, but the fallow year (when the crops were not planted) served somewhat the same purpose. And just as the land was to have a sabbath year, so the servitude of a Hebrew slave was limited to six years, apparently whether or not the year he was freed was a sabbath year (see Ex 21:2 and note). Deut 15:1–11 specifies that debts were also to be canceled in the sabbath year. The care for the poor in the laws of Israel (see Ex 23:11) is noteworthy. See 23:7,35; Deut 31:10; Neh 10:31.

25:9 day of atonement. See notes on 16:1–34; see also 23:27.

25:10 fiftieth year. Possibly a fallow year in addition to the seventh sabbath year, or perhaps the same as the 49th year (counting the first and last years). Jewish sources from the period between the Testaments favor the latter interpretation. proclaim a release . . . inhabitants. See vv. 39–43,47–55. The Liberty Bell in Philadelphia is so named because this statement was written on it. Cf. Is 61:1–2; Luke 4:16–21. jubilee. The Hebrew for this word is the same as and may be related to one of the Hebrew words for "[ram's] horn," "trumpet" (see, e.g., Ex 19:13), though in v. 9 a different Hebrew word for "ram's horn" is used. Trumpets were blown at the close of the day of atonement to inaugurate the year of jubilee. Cf. 23:24.

25:13 return to his own property. See v. 10. The Lord prohibited the accumulation of property to the detriment of the poor. "The land is Mine," said the Lord (v. 23). God's people are only tenants (see 1 Chr 29:15; Heb 11:13).

[1]friend; he is to sell to you according to the number of years of crops.

16 'In proportion to the [1]extent of the years you shall increase its price, and in proportion to the fewness of the years you shall diminish its price, for it is a number of crops he is selling to you.

17 'So you shall not wrong one another, but you shall [1]fear your God; for I am the LORD your God.

18 'You shall thus observe My statutes and keep My judgments, so as to carry them out, that you may live securely on the land.

19 'Then the land will yield its produce, so that you can eat your fill and live securely on it.

20 'But if you say, "What are we going to eat on the seventh year [1]if we do not sow or gather in our crops?"

21 then I will so order My blessing for you in the sixth year that it will bring forth the crop for three years.

22 'When you are sowing the eighth year, you can still eat old things from the crop, eating the old until the ninth year when its crop comes in.

The Law of Redemption

23 'The land, moreover, shall not be sold permanently, for the land is Mine; for you are but aliens and sojourners with Me.

24 'Thus for every [1]piece of your property, you are to provide for the redemption of the land.

25 'If a [1]fellow countryman of yours becomes so poor he has to sell part of his property, then his nearest kinsman is to come and buy back what his [1]relative has sold.

26 'Or in case a man has no kinsman, but so [1]recovers his means as to find sufficient for its redemption, 27 then he shall calculate the years since its sale and refund the balance to the man to whom he sold it, and so return to his property.

28 'But if [1]he has not found sufficient means to get it back for himself, then what he has sold shall remain in the hands of its purchaser until the year of jubilee; but at the jubilee it shall [2]revert, that he may return to his property.

29 'Likewise, if a man sells a dwelling house in a walled city, then his redemption right remains valid until a full year from its sale; his right of redemption lasts a full year.

30 'But if it is not bought back for him within the space of a full year, then the house that is in the walled city passes permanently to its purchaser throughout his generations; it does not [1]revert in the jubilee.

31 'The houses of the villages, however, which have no surrounding wall shall be considered [1]as open fields; they have redemption rights and [2]revert in the jubilee.

32 'As for cities of the Levites, the Levites have a permanent right of redemption for the houses of the cities which are their possession.

33 'What, therefore, [1]belongs to the Levites may be redeemed and a house sale [2]in the city of this possession [3]reverts in the jubilee, for the houses of the cities of the Levites are their possession among the sons of Israel.

34 'But pasture fields of their cities shall not be sold, for that is their perpetual possession.

Of Poor Countrymen

35 'Now in case a [1]countryman of yours becomes poor and his [2]means with regard to you falter, then you are to sustain him, like a stranger or a sojourner, that he may live with you.

36 'Do not take [1]usurious interest from him, but revere your God, that your [2]countryman may live with you.

37 'You shall not give him your silver at interest, nor your food for gain.

38 'I am the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt to give you the land of Canaan and to be your God.

39 'If a [1]countryman of yours becomes so poor with regard to you that he sells himself to you, you shall not subject him to a slave's service.

40 'He shall be with you as a hired man, as if he were a sojourner; he shall serve with you until the year of jubilee.

41 'He shall then go out from you, he and his sons with him, and shall go back to his family, that he may return to the property of his forefathers.

42 'For they are My servants whom I brought out from the land of Egypt; they are not to be sold in a slave sale.

43 'You shall not rule over him with severity, but are to revere your God.

44 'As for your male and female slaves whom you may have—you may acquire male and female slaves from the pagan nations that are around you.

45 'Then, too, it is out of the sons of the sojourners who live as aliens among you that 25:15 number of years of crops. The number of years left for harvesting. In a way, the sale of land in Israel was a lease until the year of jubilee (see 27:18,23).

25:24 redemption of the land. That is, the right to repurchase the land by (or for) the original family.
25:25 nearest kinsman is to come and buy back. See Jer 32:6–15. This is apparently what the nearest relative was to do for Naomi and Ruth (Ruth 4:1–4), but he was also obligated to marry the widow and support the family (see Deut 25:5–10). Only Boaz was willing to do both (Ruth 4:9–10).
25:33 cities of the Levites. See Num 35:1–8; Josh 21:1–42.
25:36 usurious interest. The main idea was not necessarily to forbid all interest, but to assist the poor. The law did not forbid lending so much as it encouraged giving.

you may gain acquisition, and out of their families who are with you, whom they will have [1]produced in your land; they also may become your possession.

46 'You may even bequeath them to your sons after you, to receive as a possession; you can use them as permanent slaves. [a]But in respect to your [1]countrymen, the sons of Israel, you shall not rule with severity over one another.

Of Redeeming a Poor Man

47 'Now if the [1]means of a stranger or of a sojourner with you becomes sufficient, and a [2]countryman of yours becomes so poor with regard to him as to sell himself to a stranger who is sojourning with you, or to the descendants of a stranger's family,

48 then he shall have redemption right after he has been sold. One of his brothers may redeem him, 49 or his uncle, or his uncle's son, may redeem him, or one of his blood relatives from his family may redeem him; or [1][a]if he prospers, he may redeem himself.

50 'He then with his purchaser shall calculate from the year when he sold himself to him up to the year of jubilee; and the price of his sale shall correspond to the number of years. It is like the days of a hired man that he shall be with him.

51 'If there are still many years, [a]he shall refund part of his purchase price in proportion to them for his own redemption;

52 and if few years remain until the year of jubilee, he shall so calculate with him. In proportion to his years he is to refund the amount for his redemption.

53 'Like a man hired year by year he shall be with him; [a]he shall not rule over him with severity in your sight.

54 'Even if he is not redeemed by [1]these means, [a]he shall still go out in the year of jubilee, he and his sons with him.

55 'For the sons of Israel are My servants; they are My servants whom I brought out from the land of Egypt. I am the LORD your God.

Blessings of Obedience

26 'You shall not make for yourselves [1][a]idols, nor shall you set up for yourselves [b]an image or [c]a sacred pillar, nor shall you place a [d]figured stone in your land to bow down [2]to it; for I am the LORD your God.

2 '[a]You shall keep My sabbaths and reverence My sanctuary; I am the LORD.

3 '[a]If you walk in My statutes and keep My commandments so as to carry them out,

4 then [a]I shall give you rains in their season, so that the land will yield its produce and the trees of the field will bear their fruit.

5 '[a]Indeed, your threshing will last for you until grape gathering, and grape gathering will last until sowing time. You will thus eat your [1]food to the full and [b]live securely in your land.

6 '[a]I shall also grant peace in the land, so that [b]you may lie down with no one making you tremble. [c]I shall also eliminate harmful beasts from the land, and [d]no sword will pass through your land.

7 'But you will chase your enemies and they will fall before you by the sword;

8 [a]five of you will chase a hundred, and a hundred of you will chase ten thousand, and your enemies will fall before you by the sword.

9 'So I will turn toward you and [a]make you fruitful and multiply you, and I will [b]confirm My covenant with you.

10 '[a]You will eat the old supply and clear out the old because of the new.

11 '[a]Moreover, I will make My [1]dwelling among you, and My soul will not [2]reject you.

12 '[a]I will also walk among you and be your God, and you shall be My people.

13 '[a]I am the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt so that you would not be their slaves, and [b]I broke the bars of your yoke and made you walk erect.

Penalties of Disobedience

14 '[a]But if you do not obey Me and do not carry out all these commandments,

15 if, instead, you [a]reject My statutes, and if your soul abhors My ordinances so as not to carry out all My commandments, and so [b]break My covenant,

16 I, in turn, will do this to you: I will appoint over you a [a]sudden terror, consumption and fever that will waste away the eyes and cause the [b]soul to pine away; also, [c]you will sow your seed uselessly, for your enemies will eat it up.

17 'I will set My face against you so that you will be struck down before your enemies; and 25:55 servants. Covenant terminology, similar to "vassals." Slavery, however demeaning, is not brutal where the masters truly recognize themselves as God's servants. Cf. Paul's exhortation to both slaves and masters (Eph 6:5–9; Col 3:22–4:1).

26:1 You shall not make . . . idols. This verse probably does not forbid making statues, but it does forbid worshiping God in any material form (see Ex 20:4 and note). "God is spirit" (John 4:24; see Deut 4:15–19).

26:3 keep My commandments. Obedience is the key to blessing (see Gal 6:7–10; James 1:22–25). Compare the blessings promised in vv. 3–13 with those in Deut 28:1–14.

26:9 fruitful and multiply. See note on Gen 1:22; contrast Lev 26:22.

26:12 your God . . . My people. Covenantal terms later made famous by Hosea (1:9–10; 2:23). See Jer 31:33; Ezek 36:28; Heb 8:10.

26:14 if you do not obey Me. The list of curses for covenant disobedience (see vv. 14–39) is usually much longer than that of blessings for obedience (as in vv. 3–13; see Deut 28:15–29:28; cf. Deut 28:1–14).

26:17 See v. 36 and the allusion to this statement in Prov 28:1.

[a]those who hate you will rule over you, and [b]you will flee when no one is pursuing you.

18 'If also after these things you do not obey Me, then I will punish you [a]seven times more for your sins.

19 'I will also [a]break down your pride of power; I will also make your sky like iron and your earth like bronze.

20 '[a]Your strength will be spent uselessly, for your land will not yield its produce and the trees of the land will not yield their fruit.

21 'If then, you [1][a]act with hostility against Me and are unwilling to obey Me, I will increase the plague on you [b]seven times according to your sins.

22 '[a]I will let loose among you the beasts of the field, which will bereave you of your children and destroy your cattle and reduce your number so that [b]your roads lie deserted.

23 '[a]And if by these things you are not turned to Me, but act with hostility against Me, 24 then I will [a]act with hostility against you; and I, even I, will strike you [b]seven times for your sins.

25 'I will also bring upon you a sword which will execute [a]vengeance for the covenant; and when you gather together into your cities, I will send [b]pestilence among you, so that you shall be delivered into enemy hands.

26 '[a]When I break your staff of bread, ten women will bake your bread in one oven, and they will bring back your bread [1]in rationed amounts, so that you will [b]eat and not be satisfied.

27 'Yet if in spite of this you do not obey Me, but act with hostility against Me, 28 then [a]I will act with wrathful hostility against you, and I, even I, will punish you seven times for your sins.

29 'Further, [a]you will eat the flesh of your sons and the flesh of your daughters you will eat.

30 'I then [a]will destroy your high places, and cut down your [b]incense altars, and heap your [1]remains on the [1]remains of your idols, for My soul shall abhor you.

31 'I will [1]lay [a]waste your cities as well and will make your [b]sanctuaries desolate, and I will not [c]smell your soothing aromas.

32 'I will make [a]the land desolate [b]so that your enemies who settle in it will be appalled over it.

33 'You, however, I [a]will scatter among the nations and will draw out a sword after you, as your land becomes desolate and your cities become waste.

34 '[a]Then the land will [1]enjoy its sabbaths all the days of the desolation, while you are in your enemies' land; then the land will rest and [1]enjoy its sabbaths.

41 I also was acting with hostility against them, to bring them into the land of their enemies—[a]or if their uncircumcised heart becomes humbled so that [b]they then make amends for their iniquity,

42 then I will remember [a]My covenant with Jacob, and I will remember also [b]My covenant with Isaac, and [c]My covenant with Abraham as well, and I will remember the land.

43 '[a]For the land will be abandoned by them, and will make up for its sabbaths while it is made desolate without them. They, meanwhile, will be making amends for their iniquity, [1]because they rejected My ordinances and their [b]soul abhorred My statutes.

44 'Yet in spite of this, when they are in the land of their enemies, I will not reject them, nor will I so [a]abhor them as [b]to destroy them, [c]breaking My covenant with them; for I am the LORD their God.

45 'But I will remember for them the [a]covenant with their ancestors, whom I brought out of the land of Egypt in the sight of the nations, that [b]I might be their God. I am the LORD.' "

46 [a]These are the statutes and ordinances and laws which the LORD established between Himself and the sons of Israel [1]through Moses at Mount Sinai.

Rules concerning Valuations

27:1–34 This final chapter concerns things promised to the them, 'a When a man makes a difficult vow, he shall be valued according to your valuation of persons belonging to the LORD.

3 'If your valuation is of the male from twenty years even to sixty years old, then your valuation shall be fifty shekels of silver, after a the shekel of the sanctuary.

4 'Or if it is a female, then your valuation shall be thirty shekels.

5 'If it be from five years even to twenty years old then your valuation for the male shall be twenty shekels and for the female ten shekels.

6 'But if they are from a month even up to five years old, then your valuation shall be a five shekels of silver for the male, and for the female your valuation shall be three shekels of silver.

7 'If they are from sixty years old and upward, if it is a male, then your valuation shall be fifteen shekels, and for the female ten shekels.

8 'But if he is poorer than your valuation, then he shall be placed before the priest and the priest shall value him; a according to [1] the means of the one who vowed, the priest shall value him.

9 'Now if it is an animal of the kind which [1] men can present as an offering to the LORD, any such that one gives to the LORD shall be holy.

10 'a He shall not replace it or exchange it, a good for a bad, or a bad for a good; or if he does exchange animal for animal, then both it and its substitute shall become holy.

11 'If, however, it is any unclean animal of the kind which [1] men do not present as an offering to the LORD, then he shall place the animal before the priest.

12 'The priest shall value it [1] as either good or bad; as you, the priest, value it, so it shall be.

13 'But if he should ever wish to redeem it, then he shall add one-fifth of it to your valuation.

14 'Now if a man consecrates his house as holy to the LORD, then the priest shall value it [1] as either good or bad; as the priest values it, so it shall stand.

15 'Yet if the one who consecrates it should wish to redeem his house, then he shall add one-fifth of your valuation price to it, so that it may be his.

16 'Again, if a man consecrates to the LORD part of the fields of his own property, then your valuation shall be [1] proportionate to the seed needed for it: a homer of barley seed at fifty shekels of silver.

17 'If he consecrates his field as of the year of jubilee, according to your valuation it shall stand.

18 'If he consecrates his field after the jubilee, however, then the priest shall calculate the price for [1] him [2] proportionate to the years that are left until the year of jubilee; and it shall be deducted from your valuation.

19 'If the one who consecrates it should ever wish to redeem the field, then he shall add one-fifth of your valuation price to it, so that it may pass to him.

20 'Yet if he will not redeem the field, [1] but has sold the field to another man, it may no longer be redeemed;

21 and when it [1] reverts in the jubilee, the field shall be holy to the LORD, like a field [2] set apart; a it shall be for the priest as his [3] property.

22 'Or if he consecrates to the LORD a field which he has bought, which is not a part of the field of his own [1] property, 23 then the priest shall calculate for [1] him the amount of your valuation up to the year of jubilee; and he shall on that day give your valuation as holy to the LORD.

24 'In the year of jubilee the field shall return to the one from whom he bought it, to whom the possession of the land belongs.

25 'Every valuation of yours, moreover, shall be after a the shekel of the sanctuary. The shekel shall be twenty gerahs.

26 'a However, a firstborn among animals, which as a firstborn belongs to the LORD, no man may consecrate it; whether ox or sheep, it is the LORD's.

27 'But if it is among the unclean animals, then he shall [1] redeem it according to your valuation and add to it one-fifth of it; and if it is not redeemed, then it shall be sold according to your valuation.

28 'Nevertheless, a anything which a man [1] sets apart to the LORD out of all that he has, of man or animal or of the fields of his own property, shall not be sold or redeemed. Anything [2] devoted to destruction is most holy to the LORD.

Lord in kind—servants, animals, houses or lands. But provisions were made to give money instead of the item, in which case usually the adding of a fifth of its value was required. Such vows were expressions of special thanksgiving (cf. Hannah, 1 Sam 1:28) and were given over and above the expected sacrifices.

27:2 a difficult vow. Possibly to give slaves to the service of the temple, but more likely to offer oneself or a member of one's family. Since only Levites were acceptable for most work of this kind, other people gave the monetary equivalent—but see 1 Sam 1:11.

27:9 shall be holy. An animal given for a sacrifice could not be exchanged for another (v. 10). The people of Malachi's day chose the poorest animals after having vowed to offer good ones (Mal 1:13–14). If an unclean animal was given, it could be redeemed with the 20 percent penalty (vv. 11–13).

27:28 sets apart to the LORD. See NASB marg. Devoting something was far more serious than dedicating it to sacred use. The devoted thing became totally the Lord's. Achan's sin was the greater because he stole what had been devoted to the Lord (Josh 7:11). Persons devoted to destruction were usually the captives in the wars of Canaan (cf. 1 Sam 15:3,18).

29 'No [1]one who may have been [2]set apart among men shall be ransomed; he shall surely be put to death.

30 'Thus [a]all the tithe of the land, of the seed of the land or of the fruit of the tree, is the LORD'S; it is holy to the LORD.

31 'If, therefore, a man wishes to redeem part of his tithe, he shall add to it one-fifth of it.

32 'For every tenth part of herd or flock, whatever [a]passes under the rod, the tenth one shall be holy to the LORD.

33 '[a]He is not to be concerned whether it is good or bad, nor shall he exchange it; or if he does exchange it, then both it and its substitute shall become holy. It shall not be redeemed.' "

27:30 tithe. A tenth (see Num 18:21–29; Deut 12:6–18; 14:22–29; 26:12). From these passages it appears that Israel actually had three tithes: (1) the general tithe (here), paid to the Levites (Num 18:21), who in turn had to give a tenth of that to the priests (Num 18:26); (2) the tithe associated with the sacred meal involving offerer and Levite (Deut 14:22–27); (3) the tithe paid every three years to the poor (Deut 14:28–29).

27:34 These are the commandments which the LORD commanded Moses. See 1:1; 7:37–38; 25:1; 26:46. This is strong testimony for the Mosaic authorship and divine origin of the book.

Numbers

INTRODUCTION

Title

The English name of the book comes from the Septuagint (the Greek translation of the OT) and is based on the census lists found in chs. 1; 26. The Hebrew title of the book (bemidbar, "in the wilderness") is more descriptive of its contents. Numbers presents an account of the 38-year period of Israel's wandering in the wilderness following the establishment of the covenant of Sinai (compare 1:1 with Deut 1:1).

Author and Date

The book has traditionally been ascribed to Moses. This conclusion is based on (1) statements concerning Moses' writing activity (e.g., 33:1–2; Ex 17:14; 24:4; 34:27) and (2) the assumption that the first five books of the Bible, the Pentateuch, are a unit and come from one author. See Introduction to Genesis: Author and Date of Writing.

It is not necessary, however, to claim that Numbers came from Moses' hand complete and in final form. Portions of the book were probably added by scribes or editors from later periods of Israel's history. For example, the protestation of the humility of Moses (12:3) would hardly be convincing if it came from his own mouth. But it seems reasonable to assume that Moses wrote the essential content of the book.

Contents

Numbers relates the story of Israel's journey from Mount Sinai to the plains of Moab on the border of Canaan. Much of its legislation for people and priests is similar to that in Exodus, Leviticus and Deuteronomy. The book tells of the murmuring and rebellion of God's people and of their subsequent judgment. Those whom God had redeemed from slavery in Egypt and with whom He had made a covenant at Mount Sinai responded not with faith, gratitude and obedience but with unbelief, ingratitude and repeated acts of rebellion, which came to extreme expression in their refusal to undertake the conquest of Canaan (ch. 14). The community of the redeemed forfeited their part in the promised land. They were condemned to live out their lives in the wilderness; only their children would enjoy the fulfillment of the promise that had originally been theirs (cf. Heb 3:7—4:11).

Theological Teaching

In telling the story of Israel's wilderness wanderings, Numbers offers much that is theologically significant. During the first year after Israel's deliverance from Egypt, she entered into covenant with the Lord at Sinai to be the people of His kingdom, among whom He pitched His royal tent (the tabernacle)—this is the story of Exodus. As the account of Numbers begins, the Lord organizes Israel into a military camp. Leaving Sinai, she marches forth as His conquering army, with the Lord at her head, to establish His kingdom in the promised land in the midst of the nations. The book graphically portrays Israel's identity as the Lord's redeemed covenant people and her vocation as the servant people of God, charged with establishing His kingdom on earth. God's purpose in history is implicitly disclosed: to invade the arena of fallen humanity and effect the redemption of His creation—the mission in which His people are also to be totally engaged.

Numbers also presents the chastening wrath of God against His disobedient people. Because of her rebellion (and especially her refusal to undertake the conquest of Canaan), Israel was in breach of covenant. The fourth book of the Pentateuch presents a sobering reality: The God who had entered into covenant with Abraham (Gen 15; 17), who had delivered His people from bondage in the exodus (Ex 14—15), who had brought Israel into covenant with Himself as His "own possession" (Ex 19; see especially Ex 19:5 and NASB marg.) and who had revealed His holiness and the gracious means of approaching Him (Lev 1—7) was also a God of wrath. His wrath extended to His errant children as well as to the enemy nations of Egypt and Canaan.

Even Moses, the great prophet and servant of the Lord, was not exempt from God's wrath when he disobeyed God. Ch. 20, which records his error, begins with the notice of Miriam's death (20:1) and concludes with the record of Aaron's death (20:22–29). Here is the passing of the old guard. Those whom God has used to establish the nation are dying before the nation has come into its own.

The questions arise: Is God finished with the nation as a whole (cf. Rom 11:1)? Are His promises a thing of the past? In one of the most remarkable sections of the Bible—the account of Balaam, the pagan diviner (chs. 22—24)—the reply is given. The Lord, working in a providential and direct way, proclaims His continued faithfulness to His purpose for His people despite their unfaithfulness to Him.

Balaam is Moab's answer to Moses, the man of God. He is an internationally known prophet who shares the pagan belief that the God of Israel is like any other deity who might be manipulated by acts of magic or sorcery. But from the early part of the narrative, when Balaam first encounters the one true God in visions, and in the narrative of the journey on the donkey (ch. 22), he begins to learn that dealing with the true God is fundamentally different from anything he has ever known. When he attempts to curse Israel at the instigation of Balak king of Moab, Balaam finds his mouth unable to express the curse he desires to pronounce. Instead, from his lips come blessings on Israel and curses on her enemies (chs. 23—24).

In his seven prophetic oracles, Balaam proclaims God's great blessing for His people (see 23:20). Though the immediate enjoyment of this blessing will always depend on the faithfulness of His people, the ultimate realization of God's blessing is sure—because of the character of God (see 23:19). Thus Numbers reaffirms the ongoing purposes of God. Despite His judgment on His rebellious people, God is still determined to bring Israel into the land of promise. His blessing to her rests in His sovereign will.

The teaching of the book has lasting significance for Israel and for the church (cf. Rom 15:4; 1 Cor 10:6,11). God does display His wrath even against His errant people, but His grace is renewed as surely as is the dawn and His redemptive purpose will not be thwarted.

Special Problem

The large numbers of men conscripted into Israel's army puzzle modern scholars (see, e.g., the figures in 1:46; 26:51). These numbers of men mustered for warfare demand a total population in excess of 2,000,000. Such numbers seem to be exceedingly large for the times, for the locale, for the wilderness wanderings, and in comparison with the inhabitants of Canaan. See note on 3:43.

Various possibilities have been suggested to solve this problem. Some have thought that the numbers may have been corrupted in transmission. The present text, however, does not betray textual difficulties with the numbers.

Others have felt that the Hebrew word for "thousand" might have a different meaning here from its usual numerical connotation. In some passages, for example, the word is a technical term for a company of men that may or may not equal 1,000 (e.g., Josh 22:14 and NASB marg.; 1 Sam 23:23). Further, some have postulated that this Hebrew word means "chief" (as in Gen 36:15). In this way the figure 53,400 (26:47) would mean "53 chiefs plus 400 men." Such a procedure would yield a greatly reduced total, but it would be at variance with the fact that the Hebrew text adds the "thousands" in the same way it adds the "hundreds" for a large total. Also, this would make the proportion of chiefs to fighting men top-heavy (59 chiefs for 300 men in Simeon).

Another option is to read the Hebrew word for "thousand" with a dual meaning of "chief" and "1,000," with the chiefs numbering one less than the stated figure. For example, the 46,500 of Reuben (1:21) is read as 45 chiefs and 1,500 fighting men, the 59,300 of Simeon (1:23) is read as 58 chiefs and 1,300 fighting men, etc. But in this case, as in the former, the totals of 1:46 and 2:32 must then be regarded as errors of understanding (perhaps by later scribes).

Still another approach is to regard the numbers as symbolic figures rather than as strictly mathematical. The numerical value of the Hebrew letters in the expression bene yisra'el ("all the congregation of the sons of Israel," 1:2) equals 603 (the number of the thousands of the fighting men, 1:46); the remaining 550 (plus 1 for Moses) might come from the numerical equivalent of the Hebrew letters in the expression "whoever is able to go to war in Israel" (1:3). This symbolic use of numbers (called "gematria") is not unknown in the Bible (see Rev 13:18), but it is not likely in Numbers, where there are no literary clues pointing in that direction.

While the problem of the large numbers has not been satisfactorily solved, the Bible does point to a remarkable increase of Jacob's descendants during the four centuries of their sojourn in Egypt (see Ex 1:7–12). With all their difficulties, these numbers also point to the great role of providence and miracles in God's dealings with his people during their life in the wilderness (see note on 1:46).

Structure and Outline

The book has three major divisions, based on Israel's geographical locations. Each of the three divisions has two parts, as the following breakdown demonstrates: (1) Israel at Sinai, preparing to depart for the land of promise (1:1—10:10), followed by the journey from Sinai to Kadesh (10:11—12:16); (2) Israel at Kadesh, delayed as a result of rebellion (13:1—20:13), followed by the journey from Kadesh to the plains of Moab (20:14—22:1); (3) Israel on the plains of Moab, anticipating the conquest of the land of promise (22:2—32:42), followed by appendixes dealing with various matters (chs. 33—36).

The Census of Israel's Warriors

1 Then the LORD spoke to Moses in the wilderness of Sinai, in the tent of meeting, on [a]the first of the second month, in the second year after they had come out of the land of Egypt, saying,

2 "[a]Take a [1]census of all the congregation of the sons of Israel, by their families, by their fathers' households, according to the number of names, every male, head by head

3 from [a]twenty years old and upward, whoever is able to go out to war in Israel, you and Aaron shall [1]number them by their armies.

4 "With you, moreover, there shall be a man of each tribe, [a]each one head of his father's household.

5 "These then are the names of the men who shall stand with you: [a]of Reuben, Elizur the son of Shedeur;

6 of Simeon, Shelumiel the son of Zurishaddai;

7 of Judah, [a]Nahshon the son of Amminadab;

8 of Issachar, Nethanel the son of Zuar;

9 of Zebulun, Eliab the son of Helon;

10 of the sons of Joseph: of Ephraim, Elishama the son of Ammihud; of Manasseh, Gamaliel the son of Pedahzur;

11 of Benjamin, Abidan the son of Gideoni;

12 of Dan, Ahiezer the son of Ammishaddai;

13 of Asher, Pagiel the son of Ochran;

14 of Gad, Eliasaph the son of [a]Deuel;

15 of Naphtali, Ahira the son of Enan.

16 "These are they who were [a]called of the congregation, the leaders of their fathers' tribes; they were the [b]heads of [1]divisions of Israel."

17 So Moses and Aaron took these men who had been designated by name,

18 and they assembled all the congregation together on the [a]first of the second month. Then they registered by [b]ancestry in their families, by their fathers' households, according to the number of names, from twenty years old and upward, head by head, 19 just as [a]the LORD had commanded Moses. So he numbered them in the wilderness of Sinai.

1:1 the LORD spoke to Moses. One of the most pervasive emphases in Numbers is the fact that the Lord spoke to Moses and through Moses to Israel. From the opening words to the closing words (36:13), this is stated over 150 times and in more than 20 ways. The Lord's use of Moses as His prophet is described in 12:6–8. One of the Hebrew names for the book is wayedabber ("And He [the LORD] spoke"), from the first word in the Hebrew text. tent of meeting. The tabernacle. wilderness of Sinai. The more common Hebrew name for Numbers is bemidbar ("in the wilderness"), the fifth word in the Hebrew text. The events of Numbers cover a period of 38 years and nine or ten months, i.e., the period of Israel's wilderness wanderings. first of the second month . . . second year. Thirteen months after the exodus, Numbers begins. Israel had spent the previous year in the region of Mount Sinai receiving the law and erecting the tabernacle. Now she was to be mustered as a military force for an orderly march. Dating events from the exodus (for another example see 1 Kin 6:1) is similar to the Christian practice of dating years in reference to the incarnation of Christ (B.C. and A.D.). The exodus was God's great act of deliverance of His people from bondage.

1:2 Take. The Hebrew for this word is plural, indicating that Moses and Aaron were to complete this task together (see v. 3, "you and Aaron"), but the primary responsibility lay with Moses. census. Its main purpose was to form a military roster, not a social, political or taxing document.

1:3 able to go out to war. Refers to the principal military purpose of the census. The phrase occurs 14 times in ch. 1 and again in 26:2.

1:4 a man of each tribe. By having a representative from each tribe assist Moses and Aaron, the count would be regarded as legitimate by all.

1:5–16 The names of these men occur again in chs. 2; 7; 10. Most contain within them a reference to the name of God. Levi is not represented in the list (see vv. 47–53).

1:19 So he numbered them in the wilderness of Sinai. A summary statement; vv. 20–43 provide the details.

1:20–43 For each tribe there are two verses in repetitive formulaic structure, giving: (1) the name of the tribe, (2) the specifics of those numbered, (3) the name of the tribe again and (4) the total count for that tribe. The numbers for each tribe are rounded off to the hundred (but Gad to the 50, v. 25). The same numbers are given for each tribe in ch. 2, where there are four triads of tribes. A peculiarity in the numbers that leads some to believe that they are symbolic is that the hundreds are grouped between 200 and 700. Also, various speculations have arisen regarding the meaning of the Hebrew word for "thousand" (see Introduction: Special Problem). In this chapter, the word has been used to mean 1,000 in order for the totals to be achieved.

27 their numbered men of the tribe of Judah were 74,600.

28 [a]Of the sons of Issachar, their genealogical registration by their families, by their fathers' households, according to the number of names, from twenty years old and upward, whoever was able to go out to war, 29 their numbered men of the tribe of Issachar were 54,400.

30 [a]Of the sons of Zebulun, their genealogical registration by their families, by their fathers' households, according to the number of names, from twenty years old and upward, whoever was able to go out to war, 31 their numbered men of the tribe of Zebulun were 57,400.

32 [a]Of the sons of Joseph, namely, of the sons of Ephraim, their genealogical registration by their families, by their fathers' households, according to the number of names, from twenty years old and upward, whoever was able to go out to war, 33 their numbered men of the tribe of Ephraim were 40,500.

34 [a]Of the sons of Manasseh, their genealogical registration by their families, by their fathers' households, according to the number of names, from twenty years old and upward, whoever was able to go out to war, 35 their numbered men of the tribe of Manasseh were 32,200.

36 [a]Of the sons of Benjamin, their genealogical registration by their families, by their fathers' households, according to the number of names, from twenty years old and upward, whoever was able to go out to war, 37 their numbered men of the tribe of Benjamin were 35,400.

38 [a]Of the sons of Dan, their genealogical registration by their families, by their fathers' households, according to the number of names, from twenty years old and upward, whoever was able to go out to war, 39 their numbered men of the tribe of Dan were 62,700.

40 [a]Of the sons of Asher, their genealogical registration by their families, by their fathers' households, according to the number of names, from twenty years old and upward, whoever was able to go out to war, 41 their numbered men of the tribe of Asher were 41,500.

42 [a]Of the sons of Naphtali, their genealogical registration by their families, by their fathers' households, according to the number of names, from twenty years old and upward, whoever was able to go out to war, 43 their numbered men of the tribe of Naphtali were 53,400.

44 These are the ones who were numbered, whom Moses and Aaron numbered, with the leaders of Israel, twelve men, each of whom was of his father's household.

45 So all the numbered men of the sons of Israel by their fathers' households, from twenty years old and upward, whoever was able to go out to war in Israel, 46 even all the numbered men were [a]603,550.

Levites Exempted

47 [a]The Levites, however, were not numbered among them by their fathers' tribe.

48 For the LORD had spoken to Moses, saying,

49 "Only the tribe of Levi [a]you shall not number, nor shall you take their [1]census among the sons of Israel.

50 "But you shall [a]appoint the Levites over the [1]tabernacle of the testimony, and over all its furnishings and over all that belongs to it. They shall carry the tabernacle and all its furnishings, and they shall take care of it; they shall also camp around the [1]tabernacle.

51 "[a]So when the tabernacle is to set out, the Levites shall take it down; and when the tabernacle encamps, the Levites shall set it up. But [b]the [1]layman who comes near shall be put to death.

52 "[a]The sons of Israel shall camp, each man by his own camp, and each man by his own standard, according to their armies.

1:32–35 Because the descendants of Levi were excluded from the census (see note on v. 47), the descendants of Joseph are listed according to the families of his two sons, Ephraim (vv. 32–33) and Manasseh (vv. 34–35). In this way the traditional tribal number of 12 is maintained, and Joseph is given the "double portion" of the ranking heir (cf. Gen 49:22–26; Deut 33:13–17; 2 Kin 2:9).

1:46 603,550. Except for Joshua and Caleb, all these died in the wilderness. The mathematics of these numbers is accurate and complex. It is complex in that the totals are reached in two ways: (1) a linear listing of 12 units (vv. 20–43), with the total given (v. 46); (2) four sets of triads, each with a subtotal, and then the grand total (2:3–32). These figures are also consistent with those in Ex 12:37; 38:26. This large number of men conscripted for the army suggests a population for the entire community in excess of 2,000,000 (see Introduction: Special Problem). Ex 1:7 describes the remarkable growth of the Hebrew people in Egypt during the 400-year sojourn. They had become so numerous that they were regarded as a grave threat to the security of Egypt (Ex 1:9–10,20). Israel's amazing growth from the 70 who entered Egypt (Ex 1:5) was an evidence of God's great blessing and His faithfulness to His covenant with Abraham (Gen 12:2; 15:5; 17:4–6; 22:17).

1:47 Because of their special tasks, the Levites were excluded from this military count. They too had to perform service to the Lord, but they were to be engaged in the ceremonies and maintenance of the tabernacle (see note on vv. 32–35).

1:50 testimony. The Ten Commandments written on stone tablets (see Ex 31:18; 32:15; 34:29), which were placed in the ark (Ex 25:16,21; 40:20), leading to the phrase the "ark of the testimony" (Ex 25:22; 26:33,34).

1:51 layman. The Hebrew for this phrase is often translated "stranger," "alien" or "foreigner" (e.g., Is 1:7; Hos 7:9). Thus a non-Levite Israelite was considered an alien to the religious duties of the tabernacle (see Ex 29:33; 30:33; Lev 22:12). death. See 3:10,38; 18:7; cf. 16:31–33; 1 Sam 6:19.

53 "[a]But the Levites shall camp around the tabernacle of the testimony, so that there will be [b]no wrath on the congregation of the sons of Israel. [c]So the Levites shall keep charge of the tabernacle of the testimony."

54 Thus the sons of Israel did; according to all which the LORD had commanded Moses, so they did.

Arrangement of the Camps

2 Now the LORD spoke to Moses and to Aaron, saying,

2 "[a]The sons of Israel shall camp, each by his own standard, with the [1]banners of their fathers' households; they shall camp around the tent of meeting [2]at a distance.

3 "Now those who camp on the east side toward the sunrise shall be of the standard of the camp of Judah, by their armies, and the leader of the sons of Judah: [a]Nahshon the son of Amminadab,

4 and his army, even their [1]numbered men, 74,600.

5 "Those who camp next to him shall be the tribe of Issachar, and the leader of the sons of Issachar: [a]Nethanel the son of Zuar,

6 and his army, even their numbered men, 54,400.

7 "Then comes the tribe of Zebulun, and the leader of the sons of Zebulun: [a]Eliab the son of Helon,

8 and his army, even his numbered men, 57,400.

9 "The total of the numbered men of the camp of Judah: 186,400, by their armies. [a]They shall set out first.

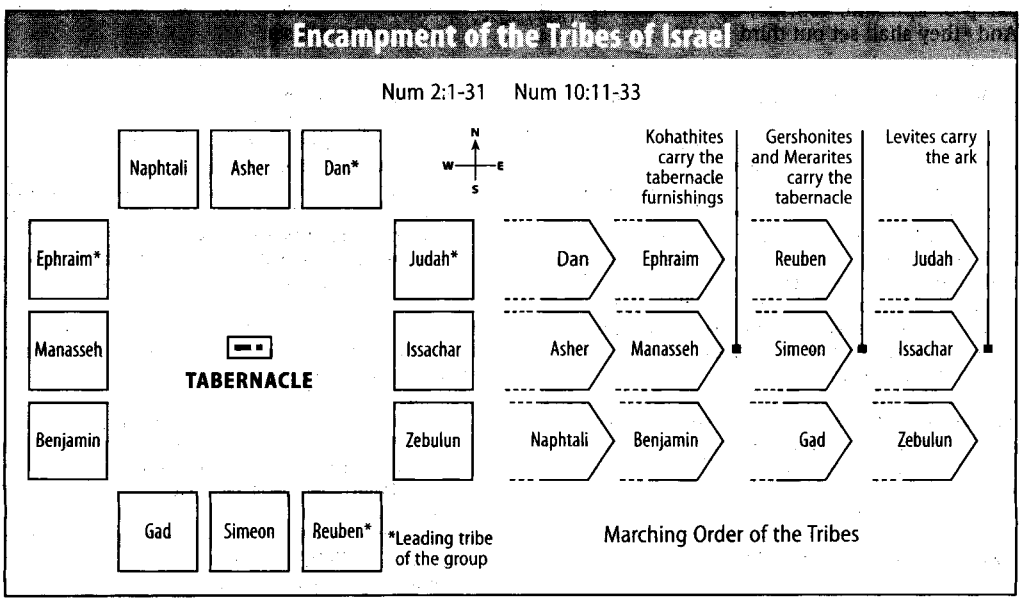
1:53 camp around the tabernacle. See 3:21–38. wrath. The Levites formed a protective hedge against trespassing by the non-Levites to keep them from experiencing divine wrath.

1:54 the LORD had commanded Moses, so they did. In view of Israel's great disobedience in the later chapters of Numbers, these words of initial compliance have a special poignancy.



2:1–34 This chapter is symmetrically structured:

Summary command (vv. 1–2)
Details of execution (vv. 3–33)
Eastern camp (vv. 3–9)
Southern camp (vv. 10–16)
Tent and Levites (v. 17)
Western camp (vv. 18–24)
Northern camp (vv. 25–31)
Summary totals (vv. 32–33)
Summary conclusion (v. 34)

In ch. 1 the nation is mustered, and the genealogical relationships are clarified. In ch. 2 the nation is put in structural order, and the line of march and place of encampment are established. The numbers of ch. 1 are given in a new pattern, and the same leaders are named here again.

2:2 each. Each was to know his exact position within the camp. standard . . . banners. Each tribe had its banner, and each triad of tribes had its standard. Jewish tradition suggests that the tribal banners corresponded in color to the 12 stones in the breastpiece of the high priest (Ex 28:15–21). Tradition also holds that the standard of the triad led by Judah had the figure of a lion, that of Reuben the figure of a man, that of Ephraim the figure of an ox and that of Dan the figure of an eagle (see the four living creatures described by Ezek 1:10; cf. Rev 4:7). But these traditions are not otherwise substantiated. See diagram below. at a distance. See 1:52–53.

2:3–7 Judah . . . Issachar . . . Zebulun. The fourth, fifth and sixth sons of Jacob and Leah. It is somewhat surprising to have these three tribes first in the order of march, since Reuben is regularly noted as Jacob's firstborn son (1:20). However, because of the failure of the older brothers (Reuben, Simeon and Levi; see Gen 49:3–7), Judah is granted pride of place among his brothers (Gen 49:8). Judah produced the royal line from which the Messiah came (Gen 49:10; Ruth 4:18–21; Matt 1:1–16).

10 "On the south side shall be the standard of the camp of Reuben by their armies, and the leader of the sons of Reuben: [a]Elizur the son of Shedeur,

11 and his army, even their numbered men, 46,500.

12 "Those who camp next to him shall be the tribe of Simeon, and the leader of the sons of Simeon: [a]Shelumiel the son of Zurishaddai,

13 and his army, even their numbered men, 59,300.

14 "Then comes the tribe of Gad, and the leader of the sons of Gad: [a]Eliasaph the son of [1]Deuel,

15 and his army, even their numbered men, 45,650.

16 "The total of the numbered men of the camp of Reuben: 151,450 by their armies. And [a]they shall set out second.

17 "[a]Then the tent of meeting shall set out with the camp of the Levites in the midst of the camps; just as they camp, so they shall set out, every man in his place by their standards.

18 "On the west side shall be the standard of the camp of [a]Ephraim by their armies, and the leader of the sons of Ephraim shall be [b]Elishama the son of Ammihud,

19 and his army, even their numbered men, 40,500.

20 "Next to him shall be the tribe of Manasseh, and the leader of the sons of Manasseh: [a]Gamaliel the son of Pedahzur,

21 and his army, even their numbered men, 32,200.

22 "Then comes the tribe of [a]Benjamin, and the leader of the sons of Benjamin: [b]Abidan the son of Gideoni,

23 and his army, even their numbered men, 35,400.

24 "The total of the numbered men of the camp of Ephraim: 108,100, by their armies. And [a]they shall set out third.

27 "Those who camp next to him shall be the tribe of Asher, and the leader of the sons of Asher: [a]Pagiel the son of Ochran,

28 and his army, even their numbered men, 41,500.

29 "Then comes the tribe of [a]Naphtali, and the leader of the sons of Naphtali: [b]Ahira the son of Enan,

30 and his army, even their numbered men, 53,400.

31 "The total of the numbered men of the camp of Dan was 157,600. [a]They shall set out last by their standards."

32 These are the numbered men of the sons of Israel by their fathers' households; the total of the numbered men of the camps by their armies, [a]603,550.

33 [a]The Levites, however, were not numbered among the sons of Israel, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

34 Thus the sons of Israel did; according to all that the LORD commanded Moses, so they camped by their standards, and so they set out, every one by his family according to his father's household.

Levites to Be Priesthood

3 [a]Now these are the records of the generations of Aaron and Moses at the time when the LORD spoke with Moses on Mount Sinai.

2 [a]These then are the names of the sons of Aaron: Nadab the firstborn, and Abihu, Eleazar and Ithamar.

3 These are the names of the sons of Aaron, the [a]anointed priests, whom he [1]ordained to serve as priests.

2:10–12 Reuben . . . Simeon. The first and second sons of Jacob and Leah.

2:14 Gad. The first son of Jacob and Zilpah (Leah's maidservant). Levi, Leah's third son, is not included with the divisions of the congregation. Deuel. Or "Reuel" (see NASB marg.). The Hebrew letters for d and r were easily confused by scribes (copyists) because of their similarity in form (see note on Gen 10:4).

2:17 tent of meeting. Representing God's presence in the heart of the camp (see 1:1 and note). Levites. In the line of march, the Judah and Reuben triads would lead the community, then would come the tabernacle with the attendant protective hedge of Levites (see note on 1:53), and last would come the Ephraim and Dan triads.

2:18–22 The Rachel tribes (Joseph and Benjamin) were on the west. Joseph's two sons Manasseh and Ephraim received a special blessing from their grandfather Jacob, but the younger son, Ephraim, was given precedence over Manasseh (Gen 48:5–20). Here, true to Jacob's words, Ephraim is ahead of Manasseh. Last comes Benjamin, the last son born to Jacob.

2:25 Dan. The first son of Bilhah, Rachel's maidservant.

2:27 Asher. The second son of Zilpah, Leah's maidservant.

2:29 Naphtali. The second son of Bilhah.

2:32 603,550. See 1:46 and note.

2:33 Levites. See notes on 1:47,53.

2:34 did; according to all that the LORD commanded Moses. As in 1:54, these words of absolute compliance contrast with Israel's later folly. by their standards . . . by his family . . . his father's household. A major accomplishment for a people so numerous, so recently enslaved and more recently a mob in disarray. It may have been the orderliness of this encampment that led Balaam to say: "How fair are your tents, O Jacob, Your dwellings, O Israel!" (24:5).

3:1 Aaron and Moses. At first glance, the names seem out of order, but the emphasis is correct: It is the family of Aaron that is about to be described (see v. 2).

3:3 anointed priests. Ex 28:41 records God's command to Moses to anoint his brother Aaron and his sons as priests of the Lord (see Ex 30:30; Lev 8:30). By this solemn act they were consecrated in a special way to the Lord. Kings (1 Sam 16:13) were also anointed with oil for special service to God. Physical objects could be anointed as well (see Gen 28:18; Ex 29:36). The Hebrew term for "anointed" (mashiah) later became the specific term for the Messiah. "The Christ" (Greek) and "the Messiah" (Hebrew) both mean "the Anointed One." ordained. The Hebrew for this

4 [a]But Nadab and Abihu died before the LORD when they offered strange fire before the LORD in the wilderness of Sinai; and they had no children. So Eleazar and Ithamar served as priests [1]in the lifetime of their father Aaron.

5 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

6 "[a]Bring the tribe of Levi near and set them before Aaron the priest, that they may serve him.

7 "They shall perform the duties for [1]him and for the whole congregation before the tent of meeting, to do the [a]service of the tabernacle.

8 "They shall also keep all the furnishings of the tent of meeting, along with the duties of the sons of Israel, to do the service of the tabernacle.

9 "You shall thus [a]give the Levites to Aaron and to his sons; they are wholly given to him from among the sons of Israel.

10 "So you shall appoint Aaron and his sons that [a]they may keep their priesthood, but [b]the [1]layman who comes near shall be put to death."

11 Again the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

12 "Now, behold, I [a]have taken the Levites from among the sons of Israel instead of every [b]firstborn, the first issue of the womb among the sons of Israel. So the Levites shall be Mine.

13 "For [a]all the firstborn are Mine; on the day that I struck down all the firstborn in the land of Egypt, I sanctified to Myself all the firstborn in Israel, from man to beast. They shall be Mine; I am the LORD."

14 Then the LORD spoke to Moses [a]in the wilderness of Sinai, saying,

15 "[1][a]Number the sons of Levi by their fathers' households, by their families; every male from a month old and upward you shall number."

16 So Moses numbered them according to the [1]word of the LORD, just as he had been commanded.

17 [a]These then are the sons of Levi by their names: Gershon and Kohath and Merari.

18 These are the names of the [a]sons of Gershon by their families: Libni and Shimei;

19 and the sons of Kohath by their families: Amram and Izhar, Hebron and Uzziel;

20 and the sons of Merari by their families: Mahli and Mushi. These are the families of the Levites according to their fathers' households.

21 Of Gershon was the family of the Libnites and the family of the Shimeites; these were the families of the Gershonites.

22 Their numbered men, in the numbering of every male from a month old and upward, even their numbered men were 7,500.

23 The families of the Gershonites were to camp behind the [1]tabernacle westward, 24 and the leader of the fathers' households of the Gershonites was Eliasaph the son of Lael.

Duties of the Priests

25 Now [a]the duties of the sons of Gershon in the tent of meeting involved the tabernacle and [b]the tent, its covering, and [c]the screen for the doorway of the tent of meeting,

26 and [a]the hangings of the court, and [b]the screen for the doorway of the court which is around the tabernacle and the altar, and its cords, according to all the service [1]concerning them.

word means lit. "fill your hand" (see NASB marg. at Ex 32:29). By this act there was an investing of authority, a consecration and a setting apart.

3:4 Nadab and Abihu. See Lev 10:1–3 and notes. strange fire. This seems to be a deliberately obscure expression, as though the narrator finds the very concept distasteful. They were using fire that the Lord had not commanded (see Lev 10:1). Proximity to God's holiness requires righteousness and obedience from His priests. For all time, the deaths of Aaron's newly consecrated sons serve to warn God's ministers of the awesome seriousness of their tasks (cf. 1 Sam 2:12–17, 22–25,27–36; 3:11–14; 4:1–11). For similar divine judgments at the beginning of new stages in salvation history see Josh 7; 2 Sam 6:7; Acts 5:1–11.

3:5–10 These commands are not followed by a report of obedience as were the commands in chs. 1–2, but further details are given in ch. 8. Clear distinctions are made here between the priestly house (the sons of Aaron) and the Levites. The latter were to be aides to the priests, and they served not only Aaron but the whole nation in the process (see vv. 7–8).

3:9 to him. It appears that the issue here is service to Aaron (and through him to the Lord); in 8:16 the service is to the Lord.

3:10 layman. Lit. "stranger"—anyone lacking authorization. Service at the tabernacle may be performed only at the express appointment of the Lord. The words of v. 10 follow the paragraph telling of the death of Aaron's sons. They were authorized persons, but used unauthorized means. If the sons of Aaron were put to death at the commencement of their duties, how dare an unauthorized person even think to trespass? See v. 38; 18:7.

3:12–13 See note on Ex 13:2. Mine. Repeated for emphasis.

3:12 instead of. An example of the practice of substitution (see Gen 22:13 and note; Matt 20:28).

3:15 a month old and upward. The counting of the Levites corresponds to that of the other tribes in chs. 1–2, except that all males from the age of one month, rather than from 20 years, were to be counted. The Levites were not being mustered for war, but for special service in the sacred precincts of the Lord.

3:16 as he had been commanded. The obedience of Moses to the Lord's command is explicit and total.

3:21–38 The words of 1:53, "camp around the tabernacle of the testimony," are detailed by the four paragraphs in this section: (1) Gershon to the west (vv. 21–26); (2) Kohath to the south (vv. 27–32); (3) Merari to the north (vv. 33–37); (4) Moses and Aaron and sons to the east (v. 38). The other tribes began with the most favored: (1) Judah on the east (2:3); (2) Reuben on the south (2:10); (3) Ephraim on the west (2:18); (4) Dan on the north (2:25). The Levitical clans lead up to the most favored. The leaders of the Levitical houses correspond to the leaders of the other tribes (see note on 1:5–16). As the names of the other tribal leaders include a form of God's name, so do these names.

3:24 Eliasaph. Means "(My) God has added." Lael. Means "belonging to God."

27 Of Kohath was the family of the Amramites and the family of the Izharites and the family of the Hebronites and the family of the Uzzielites; these were the families of the Kohathites.

28 In the numbering of every male from a month old and upward, there were 8,600, performing the duties of the sanctuary.

29 The families of the sons of Kohath were to camp on the southward side of the tabernacle, 30 and the leader of the fathers' households of the Kohathite families was [1]Elizaphan the son of Uzziel.

31 Now [a]their duties involved [b]the ark, [c]the table, [d]the lampstand, [e]the altars, and the utensils of the sanctuary with which they minister, and the screen, and all the service [1]concerning them;

32 and Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest was the chief of the leaders of Levi, and had the oversight of those who perform the duties of the sanctuary.

33 Of Merari was the family of the Mahlites and the family of the Mushites; these were the families of Merari.

34 Their numbered men in the numbering of every male from a month old and upward, were 6,200.

35 The leader of the fathers' households of the families of Merari was Zuriel the son of Abihail. They were to [a]camp on the northward side of the tabernacle.

36 Now the appointed duties of the sons of Merari involved the frames of the tabernacle, its bars, its pillars, its sockets, all its equipment, and the service concerning them, 37 and the pillars around the court with their sockets and their pegs and their cords.

38 Now those who were to [a]camp before the tabernacle eastward, before the tent of meeting toward the sunrise, are Moses and Aaron and his sons, performing the duties of the sanctuary for the obligation of the sons of Israel; but [b]the [1]layman coming near was to be put to death.

Firstborn Redeemed

40 Then the LORD said to Moses, "[a]Number every firstborn male of the sons of Israel from a month old and upward, and [1]make a list of their names.

41 "You [a]shall take the Levites for Me, I am the LORD, instead of all the firstborn among the sons of Israel, and the cattle of the Levites instead of all the firstborn among the cattle of the sons of Israel."

42 So Moses numbered all the firstborn among the sons of Israel, just as the LORD had commanded him;

43 and all the firstborn males by the number of names from a month old and upward, for their numbered men were [a]22,273.

44 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

45 "[a]Take the Levites instead of all the firstborn among the sons of Israel and the cattle of the Levites. And the Levites shall be Mine; I am the LORD.

46 "[a]For the ransom of the 273 of the firstborn of the sons of Israel who are in excess beyond the Levites,

47 you shall take [a]five shekels apiece, per head; you shall take them in [b]terms of the shekel of the sanctuary ([c]the shekel is twenty [1]gerahs),

48 and give the money, the ransom of those who are in excess among them, to Aaron and to his sons."

49 So Moses took the ransom money from those who were in excess, beyond those ransomed by the Levites;

50 from the firstborn of the sons of Israel he took the money in terms of the shekel of the sanctuary, 1,365.

51 Then Moses gave the ransom money to Aaron and to his sons, at the [1]command of the LORD, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

3:28 8,600. The total number of Levites given in v. 39 is 22,000—300 less than the totals of 7,500 Gershonites (v. 22), 8,600 Kohathites (here) and 6,200 Merarites (v. 34). Many believe that a copyist may have made a mistake here, and that the correct number is 8,300.

3:30 Elizaphan. Means "(My) God has protected." Uzziel. Means "My strength is God."

3:35 Zuriel. Means "My Rock is God." Abihail. Means "My (divine) Father is power."

3:38 toward the sunrise. The most honored location, but Moses and Aaron were placed there for a representative ministry (on behalf of the Israelites). the layman . . . was to be put to death. Service in the tabernacle was an act of mercy, a means for the people to come before God. Yet it was marked by strict discipline—it had to be done in God's way. The sovereignty of God was evident in His limitations on the means to approach Him (see v. 10; 1:51; 18:7).

3:41 I am the LORD. What is being commanded conforms to God's character as Yahweh ("the LORD"; see note on Ex 3:14).

3:43 22,273. Seems too small for a population in excess of 2,000,000, and is used as an argument for attempting to find a means of reducing the total number of the people (calculations based on this number suggest a total population of about 250,000). Some suggest that the 22,273 firstborn of Israel were those born since the exodus, all the firstborn at the time of the exodus having already been set apart for the Lord at the first Passover (see Ex 12:22–23). This, however, creates a new problem since nowhere is that allegedly distinct group assigned any special service of the Lord. See Introduction: Special Problem.

Duties of the Kohathites

4 Then the LORD spoke to Moses and to Aaron, saying,

2 "Take [1]a census of the [2]descendants of Kohath from among the sons of Levi, by their families, by their fathers' households,

3 from [a]thirty years and upward, even to fifty years old, all who enter the service to do the work in the tent of meeting.

4 "This is the work of the [1]descendants of Kohath in the tent of meeting, concerning the most holy things.

5 "When the camp sets out, Aaron and his sons shall go in and they shall take down [a]the veil of the screen and cover the [b]ark of the testimony with it;

6 and they shall lay a [a]covering of porpoise skin on it, and shall spread over it a cloth of pure [1]blue, and shall insert its poles.

7 "Over the table of the bread of the Presence they shall also spread a cloth of [1]blue and put on it the dishes and the pans and the sacrificial bowls and the jars for the drink offering, and [a]the continual bread shall be on it.

8 "They shall spread over them a cloth of scarlet material, and cover the same with a covering of porpoise skin, and they shall insert its poles.

9 "Then they shall take a [1]blue cloth and cover the [a]lampstand for the light, [b]along with its lamps and its snuffers, and its [2]trays and all its oil vessels, by which they serve it;

10 and they shall put it and all its utensils in a covering of porpoise skin, and shall put it on the carrying bars.

11 "Over the golden altar they shall spread a [1]blue cloth and cover it with a covering of porpoise skin, and shall insert its poles;

12 and they shall take all the utensils of service, with which they serve in the sanctuary, and put them in a [1]blue cloth and cover them with a covering of porpoise skin, and put them on the carrying bars.

13 "Then they shall take away the [1]ashes from the [a]altar, and spread a purple cloth over it.

14 "They shall also put on it all its utensils by which they serve in connection with it: the firepans, the forks and shovels and the basins, all the utensils of the altar; and they shall spread a cover of porpoise skin over it and insert its poles.

15 "When Aaron and his sons have finished covering the holy objects and all the furnishings of the sanctuary, when the camp is to set out, after that the sons of Kohath shall come to carry them, so that they will not touch the holy objects [a]and die. These are the [1]things in the tent of meeting which the sons of Kohath are to carry.

16 "The responsibility of Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest is [a]the oil for the light and the [b]fragrant incense and [c]the continual grain offering and [d]the anointing oil—the responsibility of all the [1]tabernacle and of all that is in it, with the sanctuary and its furnishings."

17 Then the LORD spoke to Moses and to Aaron, saying,

18 "Do not let the tribe of the families of the Kohathites be cut off from among the Levites.

19 "But do this to them that they may live and [a]not die when they approach the most holy objects: Aaron and his sons shall go in and assign each of them to his work and to his load;

20 but [a]they shall not go in to see the holy objects even for a moment, or they will die."

Duties of the Gershonites

21 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

22 "Take [1]a census of the sons of Gershon [2]also, by their fathers' households, by their families;

23 from [a]thirty years and upward to fifty years old, you shall [1]number them; all who enter to perform the service to do the work in the tent of meeting.

24 "This is the service of the families of the Gershonites, in serving and in carrying:

25 they shall carry [a]the curtains of the tabernacle and the tent of meeting with its covering and [b]the covering of porpoise skin that is on top of it, and the screen for the doorway of the tent of meeting,

26 and [a]the hangings of the court, and the screen for the doorway of the gate of the court which is around the tabernacle and the altar, and their cords and all the equipment for their service; and all that is to be done, [1]they shall perform.

27 "All the service of the sons of the Gershonites, in all their loads and in all their work, shall be performed at the [1]command of Aaron and his sons; and you shall assign to them as a duty all their loads.

28 "This is the service of the families of the sons of the Gershonites in the tent of meeting, and their duties shall be [1]under the direction of Ithamar the son of Aaron the priest.

4:3 thirty . . . to fifty years. Ch. 3 listed all males over the age of one month (3:15). Ch. 4 lists those Levites who were of age to serve in the tabernacle. Of the 22,000 Levite males (3:39), 8,580 were of age for service (v. 48). From 8:24 we learn that the beginning age for service was 25; perhaps the first 5 years were something of an apprenticeship.

4:4 most holy things. Despite the fact that the primary care of these holy things was given to the Kohathites, they were forbidden to touch them (v. 15) or even to look at them (v. 20), on pain of death. All the work of the Kohathites was to be strictly supervised by Aaron and his sons, and only the priests were able to touch and look at the unveiled holy things.

4:16 responsibility of Eleazar . . . the priest. The high priest could draw near to the most holy things on behalf of the people. If he had not been able to do so, there could have been no worship by the community.

Duties of the Merarites

29 "As for the sons of Merari, you shall number them by their families, by their fathers' households;

30 from [a]thirty years and upward even to fifty years old, you shall number them, everyone who enters the service to do the work of the tent of meeting.

31 "Now this is the duty of their loads, for all their service in the tent of meeting: the boards of the tabernacle and its bars and its pillars and its [1]sockets,

32 and the pillars around the court and their [1]sockets and their pegs and their cords, with all their equipment and with all their service; and you shall assign each man by name the items [2]he is to carry.

33 "This is the service of the families of the sons of Merari, according to all their service in the tent of meeting, [1]under the direction of Ithamar the son of Aaron the priest."

34 So Moses and Aaron and the leaders of the congregation numbered the sons of the Kohathites by their families and by their fathers' households, 35 from [a]thirty years and upward even to fifty years old, everyone who entered the service for work in the tent of meeting.

36 Their numbered men by their families were 2,750.

37 These are the numbered men of the Kohathite families, everyone who was serving in the tent of meeting, whom Moses and Aaron numbered according to the [1]commandment of the LORD [2]through Moses.

38 The numbered men of the sons of Gershon by their families and by their fathers' households, 39 from thirty years and upward even to fifty years old, everyone who entered the service for work in the tent of meeting.

40 Their numbered men by their families, by their fathers' households, were 2,630.

41 These are the numbered men of the families of the sons of Gershon, everyone who was serving in the tent of meeting, whom Moses and Aaron numbered according to the [1]commandment of the LORD.

45 These are the numbered men of the families of the sons of Merari, whom Moses and Aaron numbered according to the [1]commandment of the LORD [2]through Moses.

48 Their numbered men were [a]8,580.

49 According to the [1]commandment of the LORD [2]through Moses, they [a]were numbered, everyone by his serving or carrying; thus these were his numbered men, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

On Defilement

5 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,
2 "Command the sons of Israel that they [a]send away from the camp every leper and everyone having a [b]discharge and everyone who is [c]unclean because of a dead person.

3 "You shall send away both male and female; you shall send them outside the camp so that they will not defile their camp where I dwell [a]in their midst."

4 The sons of Israel did so and sent them outside the camp; just as the LORD had spoken to Moses, thus the sons of Israel did.

5 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,
6 "Speak to the sons of Israel, '[a]When a man or woman commits any of the sins of mankind, acting unfaithfully against the LORD, and that person is guilty,

7 then [1]he shall [a]confess [2]his sins which [3]he has committed, and he [b]shall make restitution in full for his wrong and add to it one-

5:2 leper. See note on Lev 13:2; cf. Luke 5:12–16; 17:11–19. discharge. See note on Lev 15:2. Such discharges were primarily from the sexual organs and were chronic in nature (cf. Luke 8:43–48). The people who suffered from them became living object lessons to the whole camp on the necessity for all people to be "clean" in their approach to God. unclean. Ceremonially unfit to be with the community, and a possible contaminant to the tabernacle and the pure worship of the Lord. Aspects of uncleanness were not left in the abstract or theoretical; the focus was on tangible issues, such as clearly evident skin diseases and discharges. dead person. The ultimate tangible sign of uncleanness. Processes of decay and disease in dead flesh were evident to all. Physical contact with a corpse was a sure mark of uncleanness; normal contacts with the living would have to be curtailed until proper cleansing had been made. See note on 6:6 for application to the Nazirite vow. Jesus reached out to the dead as well as to the living; His raising of Jairus's daughter began with holding her limp hand (Luke 8:54).

5:3 male and female. The concept of clean versus unclean cuts across sexual lines. The essential issue was the presence of the Lord in the camp; there can be no uncleanness where He dwells. In the new Jerusalem (Rev 21:2–3) the dwelling of God with man will be uncompromised by any form of uncleanness (Rev 21:27).

5:5–10 The connection of these verses (on personal wrongs) with the first paragraph (on ritual uncleanness) may be that of moving from the outward, visible defects to the inward, more secret faults that mar the purity of the community. Those with evident marks of uncleanness are to be expelled for the duration of their malady. But more insidious are those people who have overtly sinned against others in the community, and who think that they may continue to function as though they had done nothing wrong.

fifth of it, and give it to him whom he has wronged.

8 'But if the man has no [1]relative to whom restitution may be made for the wrong, the restitution which is made for the wrong must go to the LORD for the priest, besides the ram of atonement, by which atonement is made for him.

9 '[a]Also every [1]contribution pertaining to all the holy gifts of the sons of Israel, which they offer to the priest, shall be his.

10 'So every man's holy gifts shall be his; whatever any man gives to the priest, it [a]becomes his.' "

The Adultery Test

11 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

12 "Speak to the sons of Israel and say to them, 'If any man's wife [a]goes astray and is unfaithful to him,

13 and a man has [a]intercourse with her and it is hidden from the eyes of her husband and she is [1]undetected, although she has defiled herself, and there is no witness against her and she has not been caught in the act,

14 [1]if a spirit of [a]jealousy comes over him and he is jealous of his wife when she has defiled herself, or if a spirit of jealousy comes over him and he is jealous of his wife when she has not defiled herself,

15 the man shall then bring his wife to the priest, and shall bring as [1]an offering for her one-tenth of an [2]ephah of barley meal; he shall not pour oil on it nor put frankincense on it, for it is a grain offering of jealousy, a grain offering of memorial, [a]a reminder of iniquity.

16 'Then the priest shall bring her near and have her stand before the LORD, 17 and the priest shall take holy water in an earthenware vessel; and [1]he shall take some of the dust that is on the floor of the tabernacle and put it into the water.

18 'The priest shall then have the woman stand before the LORD and let the hair of the woman's head go loose, and place the grain offering of memorial [1]in her hands, which is the grain offering of jealousy, and in the hand of the priest is to be the water of bitterness that brings a curse.

19 'The priest shall have her take an oath and shall say to the woman, "If no man has lain with you and if you have not [a]gone astray into uncleanness, being under the authority of your husband, be [1]immune to this water of bitterness that brings a curse;

20 if you, however, have [a]gone astray, being under the authority of your husband, and if you have defiled yourself and a man other than your husband has had intercourse with you"

21 (then the priest shall have the woman [a]swear with the oath of the curse, and the priest shall say to the woman), "the LORD make you a curse and an oath among your people by the LORD's making your thigh [1]waste away and your abdomen swell;

22 and this water that brings a curse shall go into your [1]stomach, and make your abdomen swell and your thigh [2]waste away." And the woman [a]shall say, "Amen. Amen."

23 'The priest shall then write these curses on a scroll, and he shall [1]wash them off into the water of bitterness.

24 'Then he shall make the woman drink the water of bitterness that brings a curse, so that the water which brings a curse will go into her [1]and cause bitterness.

25 'The priest shall take the grain offering of jealousy from the woman's hand, and he shall wave the grain offering before the LORD and bring it to the altar;

5:11–31 Again, the connection with the preceding two paragraphs seems to be a movement from the more open, obvious sins to the more personal, hidden ones. Issues of purity begin with physical marks (vv. 1–4), are expanded to interpersonal relationships (vv. 5–10), and then intrude into the most intimate of relationships—the purity of a man and woman in their marriage bed. A test for marital fidelity is far more difficult to prove than a test for a skin disorder; hence, the larger part of the chapter is given to this most sensitive of issues.

5:14 spirit of jealousy. This may have been provoked on the basis of good cause, and the issue must be faced. The concern is not just for the bruised feelings of the husband but is ultimately based on the reality of God's dwelling among His people (v. 3). Yet the chapter is designed to prevent unfounded charges of unfaithfulness. This text was not to be used by a capricious, petty or malevolent husband to badger an innocent woman. defiled. The subject of the chapter is consistent; the purity of the camp where God dwells (v. 3) is the burden of the passage.

5:15–28 The actions presented here seem severe and harsh. But the consequences would have been worse for a woman charged with adultery by an angry husband if there was no provision for her guilt or innocence to be demonstrated. That she was taken to the priest (v. 15) is finally an act of mercy. The gravity of the ritual for a suspected unfaithful wife shows that the law regards marital infidelity most seriously. This was not just a concern of a jealous husband. The entire community was affected by this breach of faith; hence, the judgment was in the context of the community.

5:18 let the hair . . . go loose. A sign of openness; for the guilty, an expectation of judgment and mourning. water of bitterness that brings a curse. Or "curse-bringing water of bitterness." It is not just that the water was bitter tasting but that the water had the potential of bringing with it a bitter curse. The Lord's role in the proceedings (vv. 16,21,25) is emphasized repeatedly to show that this potion was neither simply a tool of magic nor merely a psychological device to determine stress. The verdict with respect to the woman was precipitated by her physiological and psychological responses to the bitter water, but the judgment was from the Lord.

5:21 your thigh waste away and your abdomen swell. The figurative language here (and in vv. 22,27) speaks of the loss of the capacity for childbearing (and, if pregnant, the miscarriage of the child). This is demonstrated by the determination of the fate of a woman wrongly charged (v. 28). For a woman in the ancient Near East to be denied the ability to bear children was a personal loss of inestimable proportions. Since it was in the bearing of children that a woman's worth was realized in the ancient world, this was a grievous punishment indeed.

26 and [a]the priest shall take a handful of the grain offering as its memorial offering and offer it up in smoke on the altar, and afterward he shall make the woman drink the water.

27 'When he has made her drink the water, then it shall come about, if she has defiled herself and has been unfaithful to her husband, that the water which brings a curse will go into her [1]and cause bitterness, and her abdomen will swell and her thigh will [2]waste away, and the woman will become [a]a curse among her people.

28 'But if the woman has not defiled herself and is clean, she will then be free and conceive [1]children.

29 'This is the law of jealousy: when a wife, being under the authority of her husband, [a]goes astray and defiles herself,

30 or when a spirit of jealousy comes over a man and he is jealous of his wife, he shall then make the woman stand before the LORD, and the priest shall apply all this law to her.

31 'Moreover, the man will be free from [1]guilt, but that woman shall [a]bear her [1]guilt.' "

Law of the Nazirites

6 Again the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,
2 "Speak to the sons of Israel and say to them, 'When a man or woman makes a [1]special vow, the vow of [a]a [2]Nazirite, to [3]dedicate himself to the LORD,

3 he shall [a]abstain from wine and strong drink; he shall drink no vinegar, whether made from wine or strong drink, nor shall he drink any grape juice nor eat fresh or dried grapes.

4 'All the days of his [1]separation he shall not eat anything that is produced by the grape vine, from the seeds even to the skin.

5 'All the days of his vow of separation [a]no razor shall pass over his head. He shall be holy until the days are fulfilled for which he separated himself to the LORD; he shall let the locks of hair on his head grow long.

6 '[a]All the days of his separation to the LORD he shall not go near to a dead person.

6:2 man or woman. See ch. 30 for the differences between the vows of men and women. vow . . . Nazirite. Involved separation or consecration for a specific period of special devotion to God—on occasion even for life. Attention is usually given to the prohibitions for the Nazirite; more important to the Lord is the positive separation (see v. 8). This was not just a vow of personal self-discipline; it was an act of total devotion to the Lord.
6:4 anything that is produced by the grape vine. Not only was the fermented beverage forbidden, but even the seed and skin of the grape. During the period of a Nazirite's vow, three areas of his (or her) life were governed: (1) diet, (2) appearance and (3) associations. Every Israelite was regulated in these areas, but for the Nazirite each regulation was heightened. An analogy may be the practice of some Christians to forgo certain (good) foods during the period of Lent to enhance spiritual devotion to Christ in the special period of remembering His sufferings.
6:5 no razor. See Judg 13:5. The unusually long hair of a Nazirite would become a physical mark of his (or her) vow of special devotion to the Lord. Cf. Lev 21:5.
6:6 dead person. See note on 5:2. For the Nazirite, the prohibition of contact with dead bodies extended even to the deceased within his (or her) own family (v. 7; contrast Lev 21:1–3).
6:9–12 The provisions of the Nazirite vow concerned areas where he (or she) was able to make conscious decisions. This section deals with the unexpected and the unplanned events of daily living.
6:13–20 The offerings of the Nazirite at the completion of the period of the vow were extensive, expensive and expressive of the spirit of total commitment to the Lord during this time of special devotion. In addition to these several offerings the Nazirite burned his (or her) hair (the sign of the vow).

of meeting, and take the dedicated hair of his head and put it on the fire which is under the sacrifice of peace offerings.

19 '[a]The priest shall take the ram's shoulder when it has been boiled, and one unleavened cake out of the basket and one unleavened wafer, and shall put them on the [1]hands of the Nazirite after he has shaved his [2]dedicated hair.

20 'Then the priest shall wave them for a wave offering before the LORD. It is holy for the priest, together with the breast offered by waving and the thigh offered by lifting up; and [a]afterward the Nazirite may drink wine.'

21 "This is the law of the Nazirite who vows his offering to the LORD according to his separation, in addition to what else [1]he can afford; according to his vow which he takes, so he shall do according to the law of his separation."

Aaron's Benediction

22 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

23 "Speak to Aaron and to his sons, saying, 'Thus [a]you shall bless the sons of Israel. You shall say to them:

24 The LORD [a]bless you, and [b]keep you;

25 The LORD [a]make His face shine on you,
And [b]be gracious to you;

26 The LORD [a]lift up His countenance on you,
And [b]give you peace.'

27 "So they shall [1][a]invoke My name on the sons of Israel, and I then will bless them."

Offerings of the Leaders

7 Now on [a]the day that Moses had finished setting up the tabernacle, he [b]anointed it and consecrated it with all its furnishings and the altar and all its utensils; he anointed them and consecrated them also.

2 Then [a]the leaders of Israel, the heads of their fathers' households, [b]made an offering (they were the leaders of the tribes; they were the ones who [1]were over the [2]numbered men).

3 When they brought their offering before the LORD, six [a]covered carts and twelve oxen, a cart for every two of the leaders and an ox for each one, then they presented them before the tabernacle.

4 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

5 "Accept these things from them, that they may be [1]used in the service of the tent of meeting, and you shall give them to the Levites, to each man according to his service."

6 So Moses took the carts and the oxen and gave them to the Levites.

7 Two carts and four oxen he gave to the sons of Gershon, according to [a]their service,

8 and four carts and eight oxen he gave to the sons of Merari, according to [a]their service, under the [1]direction of Ithamar the son of Aaron the priest.

9 But he did not give any to the sons of Kohath because theirs was [a]the service of the holy objects, which they carried on the shoulder.

10 The leaders offered the dedication offering [1]for the altar [2]when [a]it was anointed, so the leaders offered their offering before the altar.

11 Then the LORD said to Moses, "Let them present their offering, one leader each day, for the dedication of the altar."

12 Now the one who presented his offering on the first day was Nahshon the son of Amminadab, of the tribe of Judah;

13 and his offering was one silver [1][a]dish whose weight was one hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels, [b]according to [2]the shekel of the sanctuary, both of them full of fine flour mixed with oil for a grain offering;

14 one gold pan of ten shekels, full of incense;

15 one [1]bull, one ram, one male lamb one year old, for a burnt offering;

16 [a]one male goat for a sin offering;

17 and for the sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five male goats, five male lambs one year old. This was the offering of [a]Nahshon the son of Amminadab.

6:21 This is the law of the Nazirite. Summary statements such as this not only end a section, but also solemnize its contents.
6:24–26 The Aaronic benediction. The threefold repetition of the divine name Yahweh ("the LORD") is for emphasis and gives force to the expression in v. 27: "So they shall invoke my name on the sons of Israel." Each verse conveys two elements of benediction, and the verses are progressively longer (in the Hebrew text, the first verse has three words, the second has five and the third has seven).
6:25 make His face shine on you. In acceptance and favor.
6:26 peace. The Hebrew for this word is shalom, here seen in its most expressive fullness—not the absence of war, but a positive state of rightness and well-being. Such peace comes only from the Lord.
7:1–89 See Ex 40, which describes the setting up of the tabernacle and ends with the report of the cloud covering and the presence of the Lord filling the tabernacle. With much repetition of language, this chapter (the longest in the Pentateuch) records the magnificent (and identical) gifts to the Lord for tabernacle service from the leaders of the 12 tribes. The fact that the record of these gifts follows the text of the Aaronic benediction (6:24–26) seems fitting: In response to God's promise to bless His people, they bring gifts to Him in 12 sequential days of celebrative pageantry.

7:12–78 The leaders of the 12 tribes have already been named in 1:5–15; 2:3–32. The order of the presentation of their offerings to the Lord is the same as the order of march: first, the triad of tribes camped east of the tabernacle (Judah, Issachar and Zebulun: 2:3–9; 7:12,18,24); second, the triad camped to the south (Reuben, Simeon and Gad: 2:10–16; 7:30,36,42); third, the triad to the west (Ephraim, Manasseh and Benjamin: 2:18–24; 7:48,54,60); finally, those to the north (Dan, Asher and Naphtali: 2:25–31; 7:66,72,78). See diagram, p. 179.

89 Now when [a]Moses went into the tent of meeting to speak with Him, he heard the voice speaking to him from above [b]the [1]mercy seat that was on the ark of the testimony, from [c]between the two cherubim, so He spoke to him.

The Seven Lamps

8 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,
2 "Speak to Aaron and say to him, 'When you [1]mount the lamps, the seven lamps will [a]give light in the front of the lampstand.' "
3 Aaron therefore did so; he [1]mounted its lamps at the front of the lampstand, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.
4 [a]Now this was the workmanship of the lampstand, hammered work of gold; from its base to its flowers it was hammered work; [b]according to the pattern which the LORD had showed Moses, so he made the lampstand.

Cleansing the Levites

5 Again the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,
6 "Take the Levites from among the sons of Israel and [a]cleanse them.
7 "Thus you shall do to them, for their [1]cleansing: sprinkle [2]purifying [a]water on them, and let them [3b]use a razor over their

8:2 in the front of the lampstand. The holy place in the tabernacle (see Ex 25:37; 26:33; 27:21).
8:5–26 Describes the cleansing of the Levites and may be compared with the account of the ordination of Aaron and his sons to the priesthood (Lev 8). The Levites are helpers to the priests, and the language describing their consecration is somewhat different from that of the priests. The priests were made holy, the Levites clean; the priests were anointed and washed, the Levites sprinkled; the priests were given new garments, the Levites washed theirs; blood was applied to the priests, it was waved over the Levites.
8:7 use a razor over their whole body. Symbolic of the completeness of their cleansing, as in the case of the ritual cleanswhole [4]body and [c]wash their clothes, and they will be clean.

8 "Then let them take a [1]bull with [a]its grain offering, fine flour mixed with oil; and a second [1]bull you shall take for a sin offering.

9 "So [a]you shall present the Levites before the tent of meeting. [b]You shall also assemble the whole congregation of the sons of Israel,

10 and present the Levites before the LORD; and the sons of Israel [a]shall lay their hands on the Levites.

11 "Aaron then shall [1]present the Levites before the LORD as a [a]wave offering from the sons of Israel, that they may [2]qualify to perform the service of the LORD.

12 "Now [a]the Levites shall lay their hands on the heads of the bulls; then offer the one for a sin offering and the other for a burnt offering to the LORD, to make atonement for the Levites.

13 "You shall have the Levites stand before Aaron and before his sons so as to present them as a wave offering to the LORD.

14 "Thus you shall separate the Levites from among the sons of Israel, and [a]the Levites shall be Mine.

15 "Then after that the Levites may go in to serve the tent of meeting. But you shall cleanse them and [a]present them as a wave offering;

16 for they are [a]wholly given to Me from among the sons of Israel. I have taken them for Myself [b]instead of every first issue of the womb, the firstborn of all the sons of Israel.

17 "For [a]every firstborn among the sons of Israel is Mine, among the men and among the animals; on the day that I struck down all the firstborn in the land of Egypt I sanctified them for Myself.

18 "But I have taken the Levites instead of every firstborn among the sons of Israel.

19 "[a]I have given the Levites as [1]a gift to Aaron and to his sons from among the sons of Israel, to perform the service of the sons of Israel at the tent of meeting and to make atonement on behalf of the sons of Israel, so that there will be no [b]plague among the sons of Israel by [2]their coming near to the sanctuary."

20 Thus did Moses and Aaron and all the congregation of the sons of Israel to the Levites; according to all that the LORD had commanded Moses concerning the Levites, so the sons of Israel did to them.

21 [a]The Levites, too, purified themselves from sin and washed their clothes; and Aaron presented them as a wave offering before the LORD. Aaron also made atonement for them to cleanse them.

22 Then after that the Levites went in to perform their service in the tent of meeting before Aaron and before his sons; just as the LORD had commanded Moses concerning the Levites, so they did to them.

Retirement

23 Now the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

24 "This is what applies to the Levites: from [a]twenty-five years old and upward [1]they shall enter to perform service in the work of the tent of meeting.

25 "But at the age of fifty years they shall [1]retire from service in the work and not work any more.

26 "They may, however, [1]assist their brothers in the tent of meeting, [a]to keep an obligation, but they themselves shall do no work. Thus you shall deal with the Levites concerning their obligations."

The Passover

9 Thus the LORD spoke to Moses in the wilderness of Sinai, in [a]the first month of the second year after they had come out of the land of Egypt, saying,

2 "Now, let the sons of Israel observe the Passover at [a]its appointed time.

ing of one cured of skin disease (Lev 14:8).

8:10 sons of Israel shall lay their hands on the Levites. The Levites were substitutes for the nation; by laying hands on them, the other people of the nation were acknowledging this substitutionary act (see vv. 16–18).

8:16 to Me. See note on 3:9.

8:19 I have given the Levites as a gift to Aaron and to his sons. The Levites were given to the Lord for His exclusive use (see v. 14). Now the Lord gives His Levites to the priests as their aides for the work of ministry in the tabernacle worship. so that there will be no plague among the sons of Israel. The Levites were a protective hedge for the community against trespassing in the sacred precincts of the tabernacle (see note on 1:53).

8:20 according to all that the LORD had commanded Moses. See vv. 4,22; 1:54; 2:34; 3:16,51; 4:49; 5:4; 9:5,23. The implicit obedience of Moses and the Israelites to God's commands in the areas of ritual and regimen stands in sharp contrast to the people's complaints against the Lord's loving character and to their breaches of faith that begin in ch. 11.

8:24 twenty-five years old. See note on 4:3. The age at which the Levites entered service was reduced to 20 by David (see 1 Chr 23:24,27), as the circumstances of their work had greatly changed by the time of the monarchy (see 1 Chr 23:26). It is difficult to imagine a change in circumstances between 4:3 and this verse, however. Therefore the rabbinical suggestion that these two verses indicate a five-year period of apprenticeship seems reasonable.

8:26 They may . . . assist. After a Levite had reached the mandatory retirement age of 50 (see v. 25), he was still free to assist his younger co-workers (perhaps at festivals), but he was no longer to do the difficult work he had done in his prime.

9:1–14 This unit is in four parts: (1) the command to keep the Passover (vv. 1–5); (2) the question concerning those ceremonially unclean (vv. 6–8); (3) the response of the Lord—giving permission for legitimate delay, but judgment for willful neglect (vv. 9–13); (4) the rights of the alien at Passover (v. 14). The first Passover was held in Egypt (see Ex 12). The second is here at Sinai a year later. Because of Israel's rebellion and God's judgment on her (ch. 14), Israel would not celebrate the Passover again until she entered the promised land (see Josh 5:10).

9:1 first month of the second year. The events of this chapter preceded the beginning of the census in ch. 1 (see 1:1).

[1]at twilight, you shall observe it at its appointed time; you shall observe it according to all its statutes and according to all its ordinances."

4 So Moses [1]told the sons of Israel to observe the Passover.

5 [a]They observed the Passover in the first month, on the fourteenth day of the month, at twilight, in the wilderness of Sinai; [b]according to all that the LORD had commanded Moses, so the sons of Israel did.

6 But there were some men who were [a]unclean because of the [1]dead person, so that they could not observe Passover on that day; so [b]they came before Moses and Aaron on that day.

7 Those men said to him, "Though we are unclean because of the [1]dead person, why are we restrained from presenting the offering of the LORD at its appointed time among the sons of Israel?"

8 Moses therefore said to them, "[1a]Wait, and I will listen to what the LORD will command concerning you."

9 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

10 "Speak to the sons of Israel, saying, 'If any one of you or of your generations becomes unclean because of a dead [1]person, or is on a distant journey, he may, however, observe the Passover to the LORD.

11 'In the second month on the [a]fourteenth day at twilight, they shall observe it; they [b]shall eat it with unleavened bread and bitter herbs.

12 'They [a]shall leave none of it until morning, [b]nor break a bone of it; according to all the statute of the Passover they shall observe it.

13 '[a]But the man who is clean and is not on a journey, and yet [1]neglects to observe the Passover, that [2]person shall then be cut off from his people, for he did not present the offering of the LORD at its appointed time. That man [b]will bear his sin.

14 '[a]If an alien sojourns among you and [1]observes the Passover to the LORD, according to the statute of the Passover and according to its ordinance, so he shall do; you shall have [b]one statute, both for the alien and for the native of the land.' "

The Cloud on the Tabernacle

15 Now on [a]the day that the tabernacle was erected [b]the cloud covered the tabernacle, the [c]tent of the testimony, and [d]in the evening it was like the appearance of fire over the tabernacle, until morning.

16 So it was continuously; [a]the cloud would cover it by day, and the appearance of fire by night.

17 [a]Whenever the cloud was lifted from over the tent, afterward the sons of Israel would then set out; and in the place where the cloud settled down, there the sons of Israel would camp.

18 At the [1]command of the LORD the sons of Israel would set out, and at the [1]command of the LORD they would camp; [a]as long as the cloud settled over the tabernacle, they remained camped.

19 Even when the cloud lingered over the tabernacle for many days, [1]the sons of Israel would keep the LORD's charge and not set out.

20 If [1]sometimes the cloud remained a few days over the tabernacle, [a]according to the [2]command of the LORD they remained camped. Then according to the [2]command of the LORD they set out.

21 If [1]sometimes the cloud [2]remained from evening until morning, when the cloud was lifted in the morning, they would move out; or if it remained in the daytime and at night, whenever the cloud was lifted, they would set out.

22 Whether it was two days or a month or a year that the cloud lingered over the tabernacle, staying above it, the sons of Israel remained camped and did not set out; but [a]when it was lifted, they did set out.

23 [a]At the [1]command of the LORD they camped, and at the [1]command of the LORD they set out; they kept the LORD's charge, according to the [1]command of the LORD through Moses.

9:3 twilight. Traditional Jewish practice regards this period as the end of one day and the beginning of the next.

9:7 why are we restrained from presenting the offering of the LORD...? Those with ceremonial uncleanness had a keen desire to worship the Lord "in spirit and truth" (John 4:24).

9:10 he may... observe. God's gracious provision for these people was an alternative day one month later (v. 11) so that they would not be excluded totally from the Passover celebration. The Lord thus demonstrates the reality of the distance that uncleanness brings between a believer and his (or her) participation in the worship of the community, but He also provides a merciful alternative.

9:12 nor break a bone of it. When Jesus ("our Passover," 1 Cor 5:7; cf. John 1:29) was crucified, it was reported that none of His bones was broken, in fulfillment of Scripture (John 19:36). See also Ex 12:46; Ps 34:20.

9:13 neglects to observe... cut off. The NT also issues grave warnings concerning the abuse or misuse of the celebration of the Lord's Supper (1 Cor 11:28–30). See note on Ex 12:15.

9:14 alien. Must first be circumcised before participating in the Passover celebration (Ex 12:48).

9:15 cloud covered the tabernacle. See notes on Ex 13:21; 40:34. The cloud was the visible symbol of the Lord's presence hovering above the tabernacle. That this was no ordinary cloud is attested not only by its spontaneous appearance at the completion of the setting up of the tabernacle, but also by the fact that at night it had the appearance of fire. The Lord also directed the movements of His people by means of the cloud (vv. 17–18).

9:18 At the command of the LORD. The lifting and settling of the cloud are identified with the Lord's command.

9:23 kept the LORD's charge. The repetitious nature of vv. 15–23 enhances the expectation of continued complete obedience to the Lord's direction of Israel's movements through the wilderness. The role of Moses is mentioned for balance: Moses was

The Silver Trumpets

10 The LORD spoke further to Moses, saying,

2 "Make yourself two trumpets of silver, of hammered work you shall make them; and you shall use them for [a]summoning the congregation and for having the camps set out.

3 "[a]When both are blown, all the congregation shall gather themselves to you at the doorway of the tent of meeting.

4 "Yet if only one is blown, then the [a]leaders, the heads of the [1]divisions of Israel, shall assemble before you.

5 "But when you blow an alarm, the camps that are pitched [a]on the east side shall set out.

6 "When you blow an alarm the second time, the camps that are pitched on [a]the south side shall set out; an alarm is to be blown for them to set out.

7 "When convening the assembly, however, you shall blow without [a]sounding an alarm.

8 "[a]The priestly sons of Aaron, moreover, shall blow the trumpets; and [1]this shall be for you a perpetual statute throughout your generations.

9 "When you go to war in your land against the adversary who [a]attacks you, then you shall sound an alarm with the trumpets, that you may be [b]remembered before the LORD your God, and be saved from your enemies.

10 "Also in the day of your gladness and in your appointed [1]feasts, and on the first days of your months, [a]you shall blow the trumpets over your burnt offerings, and over the sacrifices of your peace offerings; and they shall be as a reminder of you before your God. I am the LORD your God."

The Tribes Leave Sinai

11 Now in [a]the second year, in the second month, on the twentieth of the month, the cloud was lifted from over the [1]tabernacle of the testimony;

12 and the sons of Israel set out on [a]their journeys from the wilderness of Sinai. Then the cloud settled down in the [b]wilderness of Paran.

13 [a]So they moved out for the first time according to the [1]commandment of the LORD through Moses.

14 The standard of the camp of the sons of Judah, according to their armies, [a]set out first, with Nahshon the son of Amminadab, over its army,

15 and Nethanel the son of Zuar, over the tribal army of the sons of Issachar;

16 and Eliab the son of Helon over the tribal army of the sons of Zebulun.

17 [a]Then the tabernacle was taken down; and the sons of Gershon and the sons of Merari, who were carrying the tabernacle, set out.

18 Next [a]the standard of the camp of Reuben, according to their armies, set out with Elizur the son of Shedeur, over its army,

19 and Shelumiel the son of Zurishaddai over the tribal army of the sons of Simeon, 20 and Eliasaph the son of Deuel was over the tribal army of the sons of Gad.

21 [a]Then the Kohathites set out, carrying the holy objects; and [b]the tabernacle was set up before their arrival.

22 [a]Next the standard of the camp of the sons of Ephraim, according to their armies, was set out, with Elishama the son of Ammihud over its army,

23 and Gamaliel the son of Pedahzur over the tribal army of the sons of Manasseh;

24 and Abidan the son of Gideoni over the tribal army of the sons of Benjamin.

25 [a]Then the standard of the camp of the sons of Dan, according to their armies, which formed the [b]rear guard for all the camps, set out, with Ahiezer the son of Ammishaddai over its army, the Lord's agent, who interpreted the movement of the cloud as signaling the movement of the people. The tragedy of their subsequent disobedience (ch. 11) is heightened by this paragraph on their obedience.

10:2 trumpets. Long, straight, slender metal tubes with flared ends. They were blown for order and discipline.

10:3 blown. Not only for assembling but also for marching (vv. 5–6), battle (v. 9) and festivals (v. 10). Since different signals were used (v. 7), a guild of priestly musicians was developed (v. 8). See Josh 6:4 for the use of seven trumpets of rams' horns (Hebrew shophar) in the battle of Jericho.

10:10 in your appointed feasts . . . blow the trumpets. As an introit to prepare the people for communion with God. Later, David expanded the instruments to include the full orchestra in the worship of the Lord (see, e.g., 1 Chr 25), but he maintained the playing of the silver trumpets regularly before the ark of the covenant (1 Chr 16:6).

10:11–28 The structure of this section is: (1) v. 11, time frame; (2) vv. 12–13, introductory summary of setting out; (3) vv. 14–17, setting out of the tribes led by Judah (see 2:3–9); (4) vv. 18–21, setting out of the tribes led by Reuben (see 2:10–16); (5) vv. 22–24, setting out of the tribes led by Ephraim (see 2:18–24); (6) vv. 25–27, setting out of the tribes led by Dan (see 2:25–31); (7) v. 28, concluding summary of the line of march.

10:11 second month . . . twentieth of the month. After 11 months in the region of Mount Sinai, the people set out for the promised land, led by the cloud. This verse begins the second great section of the book of Numbers (10:11–22:1). Israel leaves on a journey that in a few months should have led to the conquest of Canaan.

10:14–27 The names of the leaders of the 12 tribes are given for the fourth time in the book (see 1:5–15; 2:3–31; 7:12–83). The order of the line of march is essentially the same as that in ch. 2. The new details are that the Gershonites and Merarites, who carry the tabernacle, follow the triad of the Judah tribes (v. 17), and the Kohathites, who carry the holy things, follow the triad of the Reuben tribes (v. 21) (see diagram, p. 179).

10:14 standard. As in 2:3,10,18,25, each of the four triads of tribes had a standard or banner for rallying and organization.

26 and Pagiel the son of Ochran over the tribal army of the sons of Asher;
27 and Ahira the son of Enan over the tribal army of the sons of Naphtali.
28 [1]This was the order of march of the sons of Israel by their armies as they set out.
29 Then Moses said to [a]Hobab the son of [b]Reuel the Midianite, Moses' father-in-law, "We are setting out to the place of which the LORD said, '[c]I will give it to you'; [d]come with us and we will do you good, for the LORD [e]has [1]promised good concerning Israel."
30 But he said to him, "[a]I will not come, but rather will go to my own land and relatives."
31 Then he said, "Please do not leave us, inasmuch as you know where we should camp in the wilderness, and you [a]will be as eyes for us.
32 "So it will be, if you go with us, that [1][a]whatever good the LORD [2]does for us, [b]we will [3]do for you."
33 [a]Thus they set out from the mount of the LORD three days' journey, with [b]the ark of the covenant of the LORD journeying in front of them for the [1]three days, to seek out [c]a resting place for them.
34 [a]The cloud of the LORD was over them by day when they set out from the camp.
35 Then it came about when the ark set out that Moses said,
"[a]Rise up, O LORD!
And let Your enemies be scattered,
And let those [b]who hate You flee
[1]before You."
36 When it came to rest, he said,
"[a]Return, O LORD,
To the myriad [b]thousands of Israel."

The People Complain

11 Now the people became like [a]those who complain of adversity [b]in the hearing of the LORD; and when the LORD heard it, His anger was kindled, and the fire of the LORD burned among them and consumed some of the outskirts of the camp.
2 [a]The people therefore cried out to Moses, and Moses prayed to the LORD and the fire [1]died out.
3 So the name of that place was called [1][a]Taberah, because the fire of the LORD burned among them.
4 The [a]rabble who were among them [1]had greedy desires; and also the sons of Israel wept again and said, "[b]Who will give us [2]meat to eat?
5 "[a]We remember the fish which we used to eat free in Egypt, the cucumbers and the melons and the leeks and the onions and the garlic,
6 but now [a]our [1]appetite is gone. There is nothing at all [2]to look at except this manna."
7 [a]Now the manna was like coriander seed, and its appearance like that of [b]bdellium.
8 The people would go about and gather it and grind it [1]between two millstones or beat it in the mortar, and boil it in the pot and make cakes with it; and its taste was as the taste of [2]cakes baked with oil.
9 [a]When the dew fell on the camp at night, the manna would fall [1]with it.

10:29 Hobab the son of Reuel. Thus Hobab was Moses' brother-in-law. Reuel. Jethro (see Ex 2:18; 3:1).
10:31 be as eyes. Judg 1:16 indicates that Hobab acceded to Moses' request.
10:33 three days' journey. Because of the huge numbers of people in the tribes of Israel, and because this was their first organized march, it is not likely that this first journey covered much territory.
10:35–36 Reinforces the portrayal of Israel as the Lord's army on the march, with the Lord in the vanguard.
10:35 Later used in the opening words of a psalm celebrating God's triumphal march from Sinai to Jerusalem (see Ps 68:1).
11:1 people . . . who complain. The first ten chapters of Numbers repeatedly emphasize the complete obedience of Moses and the people to the dictates of the Lord. But only three days into their march, the people reverted to disloyal complaints. They had expressed the same complaints a year earlier only three days after their deliverance at the waters of the "Red Sea" (Ex 15:22–27) and subsequently had complained about manna (Ex 16) and a lack of water (Ex 17:1–7). fire of the LORD. By God's mercy, this purging fire was limited to the outskirts of the camp. The phrase sometimes refers to fire ignited by lightning (as probably in 1 Kin 18:38).
11:3 Taberah. Means "burning."
11:4 rabble. An apt term for the non-Israelite mixed group of people who followed the Israelites out of Egypt, pointing to a recurring source of complaints and trouble in the camp. Those who did not know the Lord and His mercies incited those who did know Him to rebel against Him. Who will give us meat to eat? As in Ex 16, the people began to complain about their diet, forgetting what God had done for them (see Ps 106:14). Certainly meat was not their common fare when they were slaves in Egypt. Now that they were in a new type of distress, the people romanticized the past and minimized its discomforts.
11:5 fish . . . cucumbers . . . garlic. Suggestive of the varieties of foods available in Egypt, in contrast to the diet of manna in the wilderness.
11:7 manna. Several naturalistic explanations for the manna have been given. For example, some equate it with the sticky and often granular honeydew that is excreted in Sinai in early June by various scale insects and that solidifies rapidly through evaporation. But no naturally occurring substance fits all the data of the text, and several factors suggest that manna was in fact the Lord's unique provision for His people in the wilderness: 1. The meaning of the Hebrew word for "manna" suggests that it was something unknown by the people at the time (see note on Ex 16:15). 2. The appearance and taste of the manna (see Ex 16:31) suggest that it is not something experienced by other peoples in other times. 3. The daily abundance of the manna and its regular periodic surge and slump (double amounts on the sixth day but none on the seventh day, Ex 16:22,27) hardly fit a natural phenomenon. 4. Its availability in ample supply for the entire wilderness experience, no matter where the people were (Ex 16:35), argues against a natural substance. 5. The keeping of a sample of the manna in the ark for future generations (Ex 16:33–34) suggests that it was a unique food.

The Complaint of Moses

10 Now Moses heard the people weeping throughout their families, each man at the doorway of his tent; and the anger of the LORD was kindled greatly, and [1]Moses was displeased.

11 [a]So Moses said to the LORD, "Why have You [1]been so hard on Your servant? And why have I not found favor in Your sight, that You have laid the burden of all this people on me?

12 "Was it I who conceived all this people?
Was it I who brought them forth, that You should say to me, 'Carry them in your bosom as a [1][a]nurse carries a nursing infant, to the land which [b]You swore to their fathers'?

13 "Where am I to get meat to give to [a]all this people? For they weep before me, saying, 'Give us meat that we may eat!'

14 "[a]I alone am not able to carry all this people, because it is too [1]burdensome for me.

15 "[a]So if You are going to deal thus with me, please kill me at once, if I have found favor in Your sight, and do not let me see my wretchedness."

Seventy Elders to Assist

16 The LORD therefore said to Moses,
"Gather for Me [a]seventy men from the elders of Israel, [b]whom you know to be the elders of the people and their officers and bring them to the tent of meeting, and let them take their stand there with you.

17 "[a]Then I will come down and speak with you there, and I will take of [b]the Spirit who is upon you, and will put Him upon them; and they shall bear the burden of the people with you, so that you will not bear it all alone.

for you have wept [b]in the ears of the LORD, saying, "Oh that someone would give us

Therefore the LORD will give you meat and you shall eat.

19 'You shall eat, not one day, nor two days, nor five days, nor ten days, nor twenty days,

20 [1]but a whole month, until it comes out of your nostrils and becomes loathsome to you; because [a]you have rejected the LORD

Him, saying, "Why did we ever leave

21 But Moses said, "The people, among

22 "Should flocks and herds be slaughtered

23 The LORD said to Moses, "Is [a]the LORD'S

[b]My word will [2]come true for you or not."

24 So Moses went out and [a]told the people the words of the LORD. Also, he gathered seventy men of the elders of the people, and stationed them around the tent.

25 [a]Then the LORD came down in the cloud and spoke to him; and He took of the Spirit who was upon him and placed Him upon the seventy elders. And when the Spirit rested upon them, they prophesied. But they did not do it again.

26 But two men had remained in the camp;
the name of one was Eldad and the name of the [1]other Medad. And [a]the Spirit rested upon 11:10 the anger of the LORD was kindled greatly. The rejection of His gracious gift of heavenly food (called "bread from heaven" in Ex 16:4) angered the Lord. God had said that the reception of the manna by the people would be a significant test of their obedience (Ex 16:4). In view of the good things He was to give them (10:32), the people were expected to receive each day's supply of manna as a gracious gift of a merciful God, and a promise of abundance to come. In spurning the manna, the people had spurned the Lord. They had failed the test of faith. Moses was displeased. The people's reaction to God's provision of manna was troubling to Moses as well. Instead of asking the Lord to understand the substance of their complaint, Moses asked Him why he was given such an ungrateful people to lead.

11:11–15 A prayer of distress and complaint, filled with urgency, irony and passion.

11:12 Was it I who conceived all these people? The implication is that the Lord conceived the people of Israel, that He was their nurse and that their promises were His. Moses asks that he be relieved of his mediatorial office, for "it is too burdensome for me" (v. 14; cf. Elijah, 1 Kin 19). Even death, Moses asserts (v. 15), would be preferable to facing the continuing complaints of the people.

11:16–34 The Lord's response to the great distress of His prophet was twofold—mercy and curse: 1. There was mercy to Moses in that his responsibility was now to be shared by 70 leaders (vv. 16–17). 2. There was a curse on the people that was analogous to their complaint: They asked for meat and would now become sick with meat (vv. 18–34).

11:18 you shall eat meat. Their distress at the lack of variety in the daily manna had led the people to challenge the Lord's goodness. They had wailed for meat. Now they were going to get their fill of meat, so much that it would make them physically ill (v. 20).

11:20 you have rejected the LORD. The principal issue was not meat at all, but a failure to demonstrate proper gratitude to the Lord, who was in their midst and who was their constant source of good.

11:21 people . . . are 600,000 on foot. The numbers are consistent: A marching force of this size suggests a total population of over 2,000,000 (see note on 1:46). Moses' distress at providing meat for this immense number of people (v. 22) is nearly comical—the task is impossible.

11:23 Is the LORD'S power limited? The human impossibility is an occasion for demonstrating the Lord's power.

11:25 they prophesied. Probably means that they gave ecstatic expression to an intense religious experience (see 1 Sam 10:5–6; 18:10; 19:20–24; 1 Kin 18:29). But they did not do it again. It seems that the temporary gift of prophecy to the elders was primarily to establish their credentials as Spirit-empowered leaders.

them (now they were among those who had been registered, but had not gone out to the tent), and they prophesied in the camp.

27 So a young man ran and told Moses and said, "Eldad and Medad are prophesying in the camp."

28 Then [a]Joshua the son of Nun, the attendant of Moses from his youth, said, "[b]Moses, my lord, restrain them."

29 But Moses said to him, "Are you jealous for my sake? [a]Would that all the LORD's people were prophets, that the LORD would put His Spirit upon them!"

30 Then Moses [1]returned to the camp, both he and the elders of Israel.

The Quail and the Plague

31 [a]Now there went forth a wind from the LORD and it brought quail from the sea, and let them fall beside the camp, about a day's journey on this side and a day's journey on the other side, all around the camp and [1]about two [2]cubits deep on the surface of the ground.

32 The people [1]spent all day and all night and all the next day, and gathered the quail (he who gathered least gathered ten [2][a]homers) and they spread them out for themselves all around the camp.

33 [a]While the meat was still between their teeth, before it was chewed, the anger of the LORD was kindled against the people, and the LORD struck the people with a very severe plague.

34 So the name of that place was called [1][a]Kibroth-hattaavah, because there they buried the people who had been greedy.

35 From Kibroth-hattaavah [a]the people set out for Hazeroth, and they [1]remained at Hazeroth.

The Murmuring of Miriam and Aaron

12 Then Miriam and Aaron spoke against Moses because of the Cushite woman whom he had married (for he had married a [a]Cushite woman);

2 [a]and they said, "Has the LORD indeed spoken only through Moses? Has He not spoken through us as well?" And the LORD heard it.

3 (Now the man Moses was [a]very humble, more than any man who was on the face of the earth.)

4 Suddenly the LORD said to Moses and Aaron and to Miriam, "You three come out to the tent of meeting." So the three of them came out.

5 [a]Then the LORD came down in a pillar of cloud and stood at the doorway of the tent, and He called [1]Aaron and Miriam. When they had both come forward,

6 He said,
"Hear now My words:
If there is a prophet among you,
I, the LORD, shall make Myself known to him in a [a]vision.
I shall speak with him in a [b]dream.
7 "Not so, with [a]My servant Moses,
[b]He is faithful in all My household;
8 [a]With him I speak mouth to mouth,
Even openly, and not in dark sayings,
And he beholds [b]the form of the LORD.
Why then were you not afraid
To speak against My servant, against Moses?"

9 So the anger of the LORD burned against them and [a]He departed.

10 But when the cloud had withdrawn from over the tent, behold, [a]Miriam was leprous, as [b]white as snow. As Aaron

11:29 Are you jealous for my sake? Here the true spirit of Moses is demonstrated. Rather than being threatened by the public demonstration of the gifts of the Spirit by Eldad and Medad, Moses desired that all God's people might have the full gifts of the Spirit (cf. Phil 1:15–18). This verse is a fitting introduction to the inexcusable challenge to Moses' leadership in ch. 12.

11:31–32 Cf. the great provision of Jesus in the feeding of the 5,000 (John 6:5–13) and the 4,000 (Matt 15:29–39). In those cases the feeding was a demonstration of God's grace; in this instance it was of God's wrath.

11:34 Kibroth-hattaavah. Means "graves of greediness." These graves marked the death camp of those who had turned against the food of the Lord's mercy.

12:1 Cushite woman . . . he had married. Cush was the first son of Ham, the father of the southernmost peoples known to the Hebrews (Gen 10:6–7), living in the southern Nile valley. Moses' wife Zipporah may be referred to here (see Ex 2:15–22); if so, the term "Cushite" is used in contempt of her Midianite ancestry. It is more likely, however, that the reference is to a new wife taken by Moses, perhaps after the death of his first wife. The attack on the woman was a pretext; its focus was the prophetic gift of Moses and his special relationship with the Lord (v. 2).

12:2 Has He not spoken through us as well? Of course He had. Mic 6:4 speaks of Moses, Aaron and Miriam as God's gracious provision for Israel. The prophetic gifting of the 70 elders (11:24–30) seems to have been the immediate provocation for the attack of Miriam and Aaron on their brother.

12:3 Perhaps a later addition to the text, alerting the reader to the great unfairness of the charge of arrogance against Moses.

12:4 Suddenly. The abruptness of the Lord's response instilled terror (see Job 22:10; Is 47:11; Jer 4:20).

12:5 came down. Often used of divine manifestations. In 11:25 the Lord came down in grace; here and in Gen 11:5 He came down in judgment. In a sense every theophany (appearance of God) is a picture and promise of the grand theophany, the incarnation of Jesus, both in grace and in judgment.

12:6–8 The poetic cast of these words adds a sense of solemnity to them. The point of the poem is clear: All true prophetic vision is from the Lord, but in the case of Moses his position and faithfulness enhance his special relationship with the Lord.

12:7 My servant. See notes on Ex 14:31; Ps 18 title; Is 41:8–9; 42:1. My household. The household of God's people Israel.

12:8 openly . . . not in dark sayings. God's revelation does not come with equal clarity to His servants. There may be oracles of the Lord that a prophet might not fully understand at the time; to him they may be riddles and mysteries (cf. 1 Pet 1:10–11). But to Moses, God spoke with special clarity, as though face to face (see also Deut 34:10).

12:10 leprous. See note on Lev 13:2. Miriam, the principal offender against her brother Moses, has become an outcast, as turned toward Miriam, behold, she was leprous.

11 Then Aaron said to Moses, "Oh, my lord, I beg you, [a]do not account this sin to us, in which we have acted foolishly and in which we have sinned.

12 "Oh, do not let her be like one dead, whose flesh is half eaten away when he comes from his mother's womb!"

13 Moses cried out to the LORD, saying, "O God, [a]heal her, I pray!"

14 But the LORD said to Moses, "If her father had but [a]spit in her face, would she not bear her shame for seven days? Let her be shut up for seven days [b]outside the camp, and afterward she may be received again."

15 So [a]Miriam was shut up outside the camp for seven days, and the people did not move on until Miriam was received again.

16 Afterward, however, the people moved out from Hazeroth and camped in the wilderness of Paran.

Spies View the Land

13 Then [a]the LORD spoke to Moses saying,
2 "[a]Send out for yourself men so that they may spy out the land of Canaan, which I am going to give to the sons of Israel; you shall send a man from each of their fathers' tribes, every one a leader among them."

3 So Moses sent them from the wilderness of Paran at the [1]command of the LORD, all of them men who were heads of the sons of Israel.

4 These then were their names: from the tribe of Reuben, Shammua the son of Zaccur;

5 from the tribe of Simeon, Shaphat the son of Hori;

6 from the tribe of Judah, [a]Caleb the son of Jephunneh;

7 from the tribe of Issachar, Igal the son of Joseph;

8 from the tribe of Ephraim, [a]Hoshea the son of Nun;

9 from the tribe of Benjamin, Palti the son of Raphu;

10 from the tribe of Zebulun, Gaddiel the son of Sodi;

11 from the tribe of Joseph, from the tribe of Manasseh, Gaddi the son of Susi;

12 from the tribe of Dan, Ammiel the son of Gemalli;

13 from the tribe of Asher, Sethur the son of Michael;

14 from the tribe of Naphtali, Nahbi the son of Vophsi;

15 from the tribe of Gad, Geuel the son of Machi.

16 These are the names of the men whom Moses sent to spy out the land; but Moses called [a]Hoshea the son of Nun, Joshua.

17 When Moses sent them to spy out the land of Canaan, he said to them, "Go up [1]there into [a]the [2]Negev; then go up into the hill country.

18 "See what the land is like, and whether the people who live in it are strong or weak, whether they are few or many.

19 "How is the land in which they live, is it good or bad? And how are the cities in which they live, are they [1]like open camps or with fortifications?

20 "[a]How is the land, is it fat or lean? Are there trees in it or not? [1]Make an [b]effort then to get some of the fruit of the land." Now the time was the time of the first ripe grapes.

21 So they went up and spied out the land from [a]the wilderness of Zin as far as Rehob, [1b]at Lebo-hamath.

22 When they had gone up into [a]the Negev, [1]they came to Hebron where [b]Ahiman, Sheshai and Talmai, the [2]descendants of [c]Anak were. (Now Hebron was built seven years before [d]Zoan in Egypt.)

she now suffers from a skin disease that would exclude her from the community of Israel (see 5:1–4).

12:11 my lord, I beg you. Aaron's repentance for the sin of presumption is touching, both in its intensity and in his concern for his (and Moses') sister.

12:14 shame for seven days. An act of public rebuke (see Deut 25:9) demands a period of public shame. A period of seven days was a standard time for uncleanness occasioned by being in contact with a dead body (see 19:11,14,16).

12:16 wilderness of Paran. The southernmost region of the promised land. The people's opportunity to conquer the land was soon to come.

13:2 spy out the land of Canaan. The use of spies was a common practice in the ancient Near East (see note on Josh 2:1–24). From Deut 1:22–23 it appears that this directive of the Lord was in response to the people's request. Thus the very sending of the spies was an expression of God's grace.

13:4–15 The names listed here are different from those in chs. 1–2; 7; 10. Presumably the tribal leaders in the four earlier lists were older men. The task for the spies called for men who were younger and more robust, but no less respected by their peers.

13:16 Moses called Hoshea the son of Nun, Joshua. A parenthetical statement anticipating the later prominence of Joshua. The reader is alerted to the significance of this name in the list of the spies; here is a man of destiny. Hoshea means "salvation"; Joshua means "The LORD saves" ("Jesus" is the Greek form of Hebrew "Joshua").

13:17–20 Moses' instruction to the 12 spies was comprehensive; a thorough report of the land and its produce and the peoples and their towns was required in their reconnaissance mission.

13:21 spied out the land. The journey of the spies began in the southernmost extremity of the land (the wilderness of Zin) and took them to the northernmost point (Rehob, near Lebo Hamath; see 34:8). This journey of about 250 miles each way took them 40 days (v. 25), perhaps a round number.

13:22 Hebron. The first city the spies came to in Canaan. The parenthetical comment about the city's being built seven years before Zoan in Egypt may have been prompted by their amazement at the size and fortifications of the city that was so closely associated with the lives of their ancestors four centuries before this time (see Gen 13:14–18; 14:13; 23:2; 25:9; 35:27–29; 50:13). In the stories of the ancestors of their people, Hebron had not been a great city, but a dwelling and trading place for shepherds and herdsmen. descendants of Anak. Three notable Anak descendants are mentioned as living at Hebron. The Ana-

23 Then they came to the [1]valley of [2][a]Eshcol and from there cut down a branch with a single cluster of grapes; and they carried it on a pole between two men, with some of the pomegranates and the figs.

24 That place was called the valley of [1]Eshcol, because of the cluster which the sons of Israel cut down from there.

The Spies' Reports

25 When they returned from spying out the land, at the end of forty days,

26 they proceeded to come to Moses and Aaron and to all the congregation of the sons of Israel [1]in the wilderness of Paran, at [a]Kadesh; and they brought back word to them and to all the congregation and showed them the fruit of the land.

27 Thus they told him, and said, "We went in to the land where you sent us; and [a]it certainly does flow with milk and honey, and [b]this is its fruit.

28 "Nevertheless, [a]the people who live in the land are strong, and the cities are fortified and very large; and moreover, we saw [b]the [1]descendants of Anak there.

29 "Amalek is living in the land of [a]the Negev and the Hittites and the Jebusites and [b]the Amorites are living in the hill country, and [c]the Canaanites are living by the sea and by the side of the Jordan."

30 Then Caleb quieted the people [1]before Moses and said, "We should by all means go up and take possession of it, for we will surely overcome it."

31 But the men who had gone up with him said, "[a]We are not able to go up against the people, for they are too strong for us."

32 So they gave out to the sons of Israel [a]a bad report of the land which they had spied out, saying, "The land through which we have gone, in spying it out, is [b]a land that devours its [1]inhabitants; and [c]all the people whom we saw in it are men of great size.

33 "There also we saw the [a]Nephilim (the sons of Anak are part of the Nephilim); and [b]we became like grasshoppers in our own sight, and so we were in their sight."

The People Rebel

14 Then all the congregation [1]lifted up their voices and cried, and the people wept [2]that night.

2 All the sons of Israel [a]grumbled against Moses and Aaron; and the whole congregation said to them, "[b]Would that we had died in the land of Egypt! Or would that we had died in this wilderness!

3 "Why is the LORD bringing us into this land, [a]to fall by the sword? [b]Our wives and our little ones will become plunder; would it not be better for us to return to Egypt?"

4 So they said to one another, "[a]Let us appoint a leader and return to Egypt."

5 [a]Then Moses and Aaron fell on their faces in the presence of all the assembly of the congregation of the sons of Israel.

6 Joshua the son of Nun and Caleb the son of Jephunneh, of those who had spied out the land, tore their clothes;

7 and they spoke to all the congregation of the sons of Israel, saying, "[a]The land which we passed through to spy out is an exceedingly good land.

8 "[a]If the LORD is pleased with us, then He will bring us into this land and give it to us—[b]a land which flows with milk and honey.

9 "Only [a]do not rebel against the LORD; and do not [b]fear the people of the land, for they will be our [1]prey. Their [2]protection has been removed from them, and the LORD is with us; do not fear them."

10 [a]But all the congregation said to stone them with stones. Then [b]the glory of the LORD appeared in the tent of meeting to all the sons of Israel.

Moses Pleads for the People

11 [a]The LORD said to Moses, "How long will this people spurn Me? And how long will [b]they not believe in Me, despite all the signs which I have performed in their midst?

kites were men of great stature; their physical size brought fear to the people (see vv. 32–33). In a later day of faith, Caleb was to drive them from their city (Josh 15:14; Judg 1:10).

13:23 valley of Eshcol. Eschol means "cluster." This valley is near Hebron; presumably the spies cut the cluster of grapes on their return journey. The size of the grape cluster should have indicated the goodness of the land God was giving them.

13:26–29 The first part of the spies' report was truthful, but the goodness of the land was offset in their fearful eyes by the powerful peoples who lived there.

13:30 Caleb quieted the people. Only Caleb and Hoshea (Joshua) gave a report prompted by faith in God.

13:32 bad report of the land. The promised land was a good land, a gracious gift from God. By speaking bad things about it, the faithless spies were speaking evil of the Lord (cf. 10:29).

13:33 Their words became exaggerations and distortions. The Anakites were now said to be Nephilim (see note on Gen 6:4). The reference to the Nephilim seems deliberately intended to evoke fear. The exaggeration of the faithless led to their final folly: "We became like grasshoppers."

14:1 all . . . the people wept. The frightening words of the faithless spies led to mourning by the entire community and to their great rebellion against the Lord. They forgot all the miracles the Lord had done for them, they despised His mercies, and they spurned His might. In their ingratitude they preferred death (v. 2).

14:3 little ones. The most reprehensible charge against God's grace was that concerning their children. Only their children would survive (see vv. 31–33).

14:9 the LORD is with us. There are no walls, no fortifications, no factors of size or bearing, and certainly no gods that can withstand the onslaught of God's people when the Lord is with them.

14:10 the glory of the LORD appeared. The theophany (manifestation of God) must have been staggering in its sudden and intense display of His majesty and wrath.

14:11 spurn Me. By refusing to believe in the Lord's power, especially in view of all the wonders they had experienced, the people of Israel were spurning Him.

12 "I will smite them with [1][a]pestilence and dispossess them, and I [b]will make you into a nation greater and mightier than they."

13 [a]But Moses said to the LORD, "Then the Egyptians will hear of it, for by Your strength You brought up this people from their midst,

14 and they will tell it to the inhabitants of this land. They have heard that You, O LORD, are in the midst of this people, for [a]You, O LORD, are seen eye to eye, while Your cloud stands over them; and You go before them in a pillar of cloud by day and in a pillar of fire by night.

15 "Now if You slay this people as one man, [a]then the nations who have heard of Your fame will [1]say,

16 'Because the LORD [a]could not bring this people into the land which He promised them by oath, therefore He slaughtered them in the wilderness.'

17 "But now, I pray, let the power of the Lord be great, just as You have [1]declared,

18 '[a]The LORD is slow to anger and abundant in lovingkindness, forgiving iniquity and transgression; but [b]He will by no means clear the guilty, [c]visiting the iniquity of the fathers on the children [1]to the third and the fourth generations.'

19 "[a]Pardon, I pray, the iniquity of this people according to the greatness of Your lovingkindness, just as You also have forgiven this people, from Egypt even until now."

The LORD Pardons and Rebukes

20 So the LORD said, "[a]I have pardoned them according to your word;

21 but indeed, [a]as I live, [1b]all the earth will be filled with the glory of the LORD.

22 "Surely [a]all the men who have seen My glory and My signs which I performed in Egypt and in the wilderness, yet [b]have put Me to the test these ten times and have not listened to My voice, 23 [a]shall by no means see the land which I swore to their fathers, nor shall any of those who spurned Me see it.

14:12 I will make you into a nation. For the second time since the exodus, God speaks of starting over with Moses in creating a people faithful to Himself (see Ex 32:10).

14:13 the Egyptians will hear of it. Moses desires to protect the Lord's reputation. The enemies of God's people will charge the Lord with inability to complete His deliverance and will be contemptuous of His power.

14:17–19 Moses now moves from the Lord's reputation to His character, presenting a composite quotation of His own words of loyal love for and faithful discipline of His people (see Ex 20:6; 34:6–7).

14:22 ten times. Perhaps to be enumerated as follows: (1) Ex 14:10–12; (2) Ex 15:22–24; (3) Ex 16:1–3; (4) Ex 16:19–20; (5) Ex 16:27–30; (6) Ex 17:1–4; (7) Ex 32:1–35; (8) Num 11:1–3; (9) 11:4–34; (10) 14:3. But "ten times" may also be a way of saying "many times."

14:24 My servant Caleb . . . has had a different spirit. Caleb seems to be singled out; perhaps the words of vv. 7–9 were his, and he was joined in them by Joshua. Caleb's ultimate vindication came 45 years later (see note on 13:22; see also Josh 14:10).

14:28 Just as you have spoken . . . I will surely do to you. The people of Israel brought upon themselves their punishment. They had said that they would rather die in the wilderness (v. 2) than be led into Canaan to die by the sword. All those 20 years old or more, who were counted in the census, were to die in the wilderness (v. 29). The only exceptions would be Joshua and Caleb (v. 30). Only their children would survive (v. 31)—the children that the people said God would allow to die in the wilderness (v. 3).

14:34 The 40 days of the travels of the spies became the numerical pattern for their suffering: one year for one day—for 40 years they would recount their misjudgment, and for 40 years the people 20 years old or more would be dying, so that only the young generation might enter the land. Significantly, Israel's refusal to carry out the Lord's commission to conquer His land is the climactic act of rebellion for which God condemns Israel to die in the wilderness.

ness they shall be destroyed, and there they will die.' "

36 [a]As for the men whom Moses sent to spy out the land and who returned and made all the congregation grumble against him by bringing out a bad report concerning the land,

37 even [a]those men who brought out the very bad report of the land died by a [b]plague before the LORD.

38 But Joshua the son of Nun and Caleb the son of Jephunneh remained alive out of those men who went to spy out the land.

Israel Repulsed

39 When Moses spoke [a]these words to all the sons of Israel, [b]the people mourned greatly.

40 In the morning, however, they rose up early and went up to the [1]ridge of the hill country, saying, "[a]Here we are; [2]we have indeed sinned, but we will go up to the place which the LORD has promised."

41 But Moses said, "[a]Why then are you transgressing the [1]commandment of the LORD, when it will not succeed?

42 "[a]Do not go up, or you will be struck down before your enemies, for the LORD is not among you.

43 "For the Amalekites and the Canaanites will be there in front of you, and you will fall by the sword, inasmuch as you have turned back from following the LORD. And the LORD will not be with you."

44 But they went up heedlessly to the [1]ridge of the hill country; neither [a]the ark of the covenant of the LORD nor Moses left the camp.

45 Then the Amalekites and the Canaanites who lived in that hill country came down, and struck them and beat them down as far as [a]Hormah.

14:37 those men who brought out the very bad report of the land died. The judgment on the ten evil spies was immediate; the generation that they influenced would live out their lives in the wilderness.

14:40 we will go up. Now, too late, the people determine to go up to the land they had refused. Such a course of action was doomed to failure. Not only was the Lord not with them; He was against them (v. 41). Their subsequent defeat (v. 45) was another judgment the rebellious people brought down upon their own heads.

15:1–41 This chapter is divided into three units, each introduced by the phrase, "The LORD spoke to Moses" (vv. 1,17,37). The people were under terrible judgment because they had disobeyed the specific commands of the Lord and had despised His character.

15:2 When you enter the land. The juxtaposition of this clause with the sad ending of ch. 14 is dramatic. The sins of the people were manifold; they would be judged. The grace and mercy of the Lord are magnified as He points to the ultimate realization of His ancient promise to Abraham (Gen 12:7), as well as to His continuing promise to the nation that they would indeed enter the land.

15:3–12 Grain and wine offerings were to accompany the offerings by fire; the grain was to be mixed with oil. The offerings increased in amounts with the increase of size of the sacrificial animal (vv. 6–12). These passages are the first to indicate that wine offerings must accompany all burnt and fellowship offerings.

15:14 alien. As in the case of the celebration of the Passover (see note on 9:14), the alien had the same regulations as the native-born Israelite. The commonwealth of Israel would always be open to proselytes. Indeed, the charter of Israel's faith embraces all peoples of the earth (Gen 12:3).

throughout your generations; as you are, so shall the alien be before the LORD.

16 'There is to be [a]one law and one ordinance for you and for the alien who sojourns with you.' "

17 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

18 "Speak to the sons of Israel and say to them, 'When you enter the land where I bring you,

19 then it shall be, that when you eat of the [1][a]food of the land, you shall lift up [2]an offering to the LORD.

20 '[a]Of the first of your [1]dough you shall lift up a cake as an [2]offering; as [b]the [2]offering of the threshing floor, so you shall lift it up.

21 'From the first of your [1]dough you shall give to the LORD an [2]offering throughout your generations.

22 'But when you [a]unwittingly fail and do not observe all these commandments, which the LORD has spoken to Moses,

23 even all that the LORD has commanded you [1]through Moses, from the day when the LORD gave commandment and onward throughout your generations,

24 then it shall be, if it is done [a]unintentionally, [1]without the knowledge of the congregation, that all the congregation shall offer one bull for a burnt offering, as a soothing aroma to the LORD, [b]with its grain offering and its drink offering, according to the ordinance, and one male goat for a sin offering.

25 'Then [a]the priest shall make atonement for all the congregation of the sons of Israel, and they will be forgiven; for it was an error, and they have brought their offering, an offering by fire to the LORD, and their sin offering before the LORD, for their error.

26 'So all the congregation of the sons of Israel will be forgiven, with the alien who sojourns among them, for it happened to all the people through [a]error.

27 'Also if one person sins [a]unintentionally, then he shall offer a one year old female goat for a sin offering.

28 '[a]The priest shall make atonement before the LORD for the person who goes astray when he sins unintentionally, making atonement for him [1]that he may be forgiven.

29 'You shall have one law for him who does anything unintentionally, for him who is native among the sons of Israel and for the alien who sojourns among them.

30 'But the person who does anything [a]defiantly, whether he is native or an alien, that one is blaspheming the LORD; and that person shall be cut off from among his people.

31 'Because he has [a]despised the word of the LORD and has broken His commandment, that person shall be completely cut off; [b]his [1]guilt will be on him.' "

Sabbath-breaking Punished

32 Now while the sons of Israel were in the wilderness, they found a man [a]gathering wood on the sabbath day.

33 Those who found him gathering wood brought him to Moses and Aaron and to all the congregation;

34 and they put him in [1]custody [a]because it had not been [2]declared what should be done to him.

35 Then the LORD said to Moses, "The man shall surely be put to death; [a]all the congregation shall stone him with stones outside the camp."

36 So all the congregation brought him outside the camp and stoned him [1]to death with stones, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

37 The LORD also spoke to Moses, saying,

38 "Speak to the sons of Israel, and tell them that they shall make for themselves [a]tassels on the corners of their garments throughout their generations, and that they shall put on the tassel of each corner a cord of blue.

39 "It shall be a tassel for you [1]to look at and [a]remember all the commandments of the LORD, so as to do them and not [2]follow after your own heart and your own eyes, after which you played the harlot, 40 so that you may remember to do all My commandments and [a]be holy to your God.

15:20 Of the first of your dough. This law also looks forward to the time when the Israelites would be in the land. The first of the threshed grain was to be made into a cake and presented to the Lord. This concept of the firstfruits is a symbol that all blessing is from the Lord and all produce belongs to Him.

15:22 unwittingly fail. Sins may be unintentional, but they still need to be dealt with (see note on Lev 4:2). Such unintentional sins may be committed by the people as a whole (vv. 22–26) or by an individual (vv. 27–29).

15:30 defiantly. Lit. "with a high hand." Unlike unintentional sins, for which there are provisions of God's mercy, one who sets his hand defiantly to despise the word of God and to blaspheme His name must be punished. This was the experience of the nation in ch. 14, and it is described in the case of an individual here in vv. 32–36. cut off from among his people. See note on Ex 12:15.

15:32 gathering wood on the sabbath day. The penalty for breaking the sabbath was death (v. 36; Ex 31:15; 35:2). As in the case of the willful blasphemer (Lev 24:10–16), the sabbath-breaker was guilty of high-handed rebellion (see note on v. 30) and was judged with death. By the time of Christ, Sabbath-keeping had become distorted to the point that its regulations were regarded as more important than the needs of people. Jesus confronted the Pharisees on this issue on several occasions (see, e.g., Matt 12:1–14). From their point of view, these regulations (vv. 32–36) gave them reasons to seek His death (Matt 12:14).

15:38 tassels on the corners of their garments. As one would walk along, the tassels would swirl about at the edge of his garment (cf. v. 39), serving as excellent memory prods to obey God's commands (cf. Deut 6:4–9).

15:41 I am the LORD your God who brought you out. The demands that God made upon His people were grounded in His act of redemption (see Ex 20:2 and note).

you out from the land of Egypt to be your God; I am the LORD your God."

Korah's Rebellion

16 Now [a]Korah the son of Izhar, the son of Kohath, the son of Levi, with [b]Dathan and Abiram, the sons of Eliab, and On the son of Peleth, sons of Reuben, took action,

2 and they rose up before Moses, [1]together with some of the sons of Israel, two hundred and fifty leaders of the congregation, [2][a]chosen in the assembly, men of renown.

3 They assembled together [a]against Moses and Aaron, and said to them, "[1][b]You have gone far enough, for all the congregation are holy, every one of them, and [c]the LORD is in their midst; so why do you exalt yourselves above the assembly of the LORD?"

4 When Moses heard this, [a]he fell on his face;

5 and he spoke to Korah and all his company, saying, "Tomorrow morning the LORD will show who is His, and [a]who is holy, and will bring him near to Himself; even [b]the one whom He will choose, He will bring near to Himself.

6 "Do this: take censers for yourselves, Korah and all [1]your company,

7 and put fire in them, and lay incense upon them in the presence of the LORD tomorrow; and the man whom the LORD chooses shall be the one who is holy. [1][a]You have gone far enough, you sons of Levi!"

8 Then Moses said to Korah, "Hear now, you sons of Levi,

9 [a]is it [1]not enough for you that the God of Israel has separated you from the rest of the congregation of Israel, [b]to bring you near to Himself, to do the service of the tabernacle of the LORD, and to stand before the congregation to minister to them;

10 and that He has brought you near, Korah, and all your brothers, sons of Levi, with you? And are you [a]seeking for the priesthood also?

11 "Therefore you and all your company are gathered together [a]against the LORD; but as for Aaron, [1]who is he that [b]you grumble against him?"

12 Then Moses sent [1]a summons to Dathan and Abiram, the sons of Eliab; but they said, "We will not come up.

13 "Is it [1]not enough that you have brought us up out of a [a]land flowing with milk and honey [b]to have us die in the wilderness, but you would also lord it over us?

14 "Indeed, you have not brought us [a]into a land flowing with milk and honey, nor have you given us an inheritance of [b]fields and vineyards. Would you [1][c]put out the eyes of [2]these men? We will not come up!"

15 Then Moses became very angry and said to the LORD, "[a]Do not regard their offering! [b]I have not taken a single donkey from them, nor have I done harm to any of them."

16 Moses said to Korah, "You and all your company be present before the LORD tomorrow, both you and they along with Aaron.

17 "Each of you take his firepan and put incense on [1]it, and each of you bring his censer before the LORD, two hundred and fifty firepans; also you and Aaron shall each bring his firepan."

18 So they each took his own censer and put fire on [1]it, and laid incense on [1]it; and they stood at the doorway of the tent of meeting, with Moses and Aaron.

19 Thus Korah assembled all the congregation against them at the doorway of the tent of meeting. And [a]the glory of the LORD appeared to all the congregation.

20 Then the LORD spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying,

21 "[a]Separate yourselves from among this congregation, [b]that I may consume them instantly."

22 But they fell on their faces and said, "O God, [a]God of the spirits of all flesh, [b]when one man sins, will You be angry with the entire congregation?"

23 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

24 "Speak to the congregation, saying, '[a]Get back from around the dwellings of Korah, Dathan and Abiram.' "

16:1–7 Earlier, Miriam and Aaron had led a rebellion against the leadership of Moses (ch. 12). Now Korah and his allies attack the leadership of Moses and Aaron. Korah was descended from Levi through Kohath. As a Kohathite, he had high duties in the service of the Lord at the tabernacle (see 4:1–20), but he desired more. His passion was to assume the role of priest, and he used deception to advance his claim. Korah was joined by the Reubenites, Dathan, Abiram and On, and about 250 other leaders of Israel who had their own complaints. Their charge was that Moses had "gone far enough" (v. 3) in taking the role of spiritual leadership of the people; "all the congregation are holy" (v. 3). To this abusive charge Moses retorts, "You have gone far enough, you sons of Levi!" (v. 7), and sets up a trial by fire.

16:12 Dathan and Abiram. Their charge against Moses was that he had not led them into the land of promise. They claimed that Moses had in fact led the people "out of a land flowing with milk and honey" (v. 13). By this strange alchemy, in their minds the land of Egypt has been transformed from prison to paradise.

16:15 nor have I done harm to any of them. Moses' humanity is seen in his plea of innocence.

16:18–21 The trial was to be by fire: Which men would the Lord accept as His priests in the holy tabernacle? The 250 men allied with Korah came with arrogance to withstand Moses and Aaron at the entrance to the tent of meeting. The revelation of the Lord's glory was sure and sudden (v. 19), with words of impending doom for the rebellious people (v. 21). The punishment was fittingly ironic. Those 250 men who dared to present themselves as priests before the Lord with fire in their censers were themselves put to death by fire (perhaps lightning) from the Lord (see v. 35).

16:22 Here the magnanimity of Moses and Aaron is seen.

16:24 Get back. God's judgment was going to be severe, but He did not want to lash out against bystanders. It appears that Korah himself had left the 250 false priests and was standing with Dathan and Abiram to continue their opposition to Moses.

25 Then Moses arose and went to Dathan and Abiram, with the elders of Israel following him,

26 and he spoke to the congregation, saying, "[a]Depart now from the tents of these wicked men, and touch nothing that belongs to them, [b]or you will be swept away in all their sin."

27 So they got back from around the dwellings of Korah, Dathan and Abiram; and Dathan and Abiram came out and stood at the doorway of their tents, along with their wives and [a]their sons and their little ones.

28 Moses said, "By this you shall know that [a]the LORD has sent me to do all these deeds; for this is not [1]my doing.

29 "If these men die [1]the death of all men or [2]if they suffer the [a]fate of all men, then the LORD has not sent me.

30 "But [a]if the LORD [1]brings about an entirely new thing and the ground opens its mouth and swallows them up with all that is theirs, and they [b]descend alive into [2]Sheol, then you will understand that these men have spurned the LORD."

31 As he finished speaking all these words, the ground that was under them split open;

32 and [a]the earth opened its mouth and swallowed them up, and their households, and [b]all the men who belonged to Korah with their possessions.

33 So they and all that belonged to them went down alive to [1]Sheol; and the earth closed over them, and they perished from the midst of the assembly.

34 All Israel who were around them fled at their [1]outcry, for they said, "The earth may swallow us up!"

35 [a]Fire also came forth from the LORD and consumed the [b]two hundred and fifty men who were offering the incense.

36 [1]Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

37 "Say to Eleazar, the son of Aaron the priest, that he shall take up the censers out of the midst of the [1]blaze, for they are holy; and you scatter the [2]burning coals abroad.

38 "As for the censers of these [1]men who have sinned at the cost of their lives, let them be made into hammered sheets for a plating of the altar, since they did present them before the LORD and they are holy; and [a]they shall be for a sign to the sons of Israel."

39 So Eleazar the priest took the bronze censers which the men who were burned had offered, and they hammered them out as a plating for the altar,

40 as a [1]reminder to the sons of Israel that [a]no [2]layman who is not of the [3]descendants of Aaron should come near [b]to burn incense before the LORD; so that he will not become like Korah and his company—just as the LORD had spoken to him [4]through Moses.

Murmuring and Plague

41 But on the next day all the congregation of the sons of Israel [a]grumbled against Moses and Aaron, saying, "You are the ones who have caused the death of the LORD'S people."

42 It came about, however, when the congregation had assembled against Moses and Aaron, that they turned toward the tent of meeting, and behold, the cloud covered it and [a]the glory of the LORD appeared.

43 Then Moses and Aaron came to the front of the tent of meeting,

44 and the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

45 "[1][a]Get away from among this congregation, that I may consume them instantly." Then they fell on their faces.

46 Moses said to Aaron, "Take your censer and put in it fire from the altar, and lay incense on it; then bring it quickly to the congregation and [a]make atonement for them, for [b]wrath has gone forth from the LORD, the plague has begun!"

47 Then Aaron took it as Moses had spoken, and ran into the midst of the assembly, for behold, the plague had begun among the people. [a]So he put on the incense and made atonement for the people.

48 He took his stand between the dead and the living, so that the plague was checked.

49 [a]But those who died by the plague were 14,700, besides those who [b]died on account of Korah.

50 Then Aaron returned to Moses at the doorway of the tent of meeting, for the plague had been checked.

Aaron's Rod Buds

17 [1]Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 2 "Speak to the sons of Israel, and get from them a rod for each father's household:

16:30 entirely new thing. Moses wished to assure the people that the imminent judgment was the direct work of the Lord and not a chance event that might be interpreted differently. The opening of the earth to swallow the rebels was a sure sign of the wrath of God and the vindication of Moses and Aaron.

16:32 swallowed them up, and their households. The sons of Korah did not die (26:11); apparently they did not join their father in his rash plan. The households of the other rebels died with them.

16:37 take up the censers. The true priests took the censers of the 250 deceased impostors from their charred remains and hammered them into bronze sheets for the altar as a memorial of the folly of a self-proclaimed priest (v. 40).

16:41 all the congregation . . . grumbled. Again the community attacked Moses, unfairly charging him with the death of the Lord's people. Except for the intervention of Moses and Aaron (see vv. 4,22), the entire nation might have been destroyed because of their continued rebellion (see v. 45).

16:49 those who died . . . were 14,700. The number makes sense only if the community is as large as the census lists of ch. 2 suggest.

17:1–13 This story follows the account of the divine judgment of Korah (16:1–35) and the narrative of the symbolic use given to the censers of the rebels and its aftermath (16:36–50). Ch.

twelve rods, from all their leaders according to their fathers' households. You shall write each name on his rod,

3 and write Aaron's name on the rod of Levi; for there is one rod for the head of each of their fathers' households.

4 "You shall then deposit them in the tent of meeting in front of [a]the testimony, where I meet with you.

5 "It will come about that the rod of [a]the man whom I choose will sprout. Thus I will lessen from upon Myself the grumblings of the sons of Israel, who are grumbling against you."

6 Moses therefore spoke to the sons of Israel, and all their leaders gave him a rod apiece, for each leader according to their fathers' households, twelve rods, with the rod of Aaron among their rods.

7 So Moses deposited the rods before the LORD in [a]the tent of the testimony.

8 Now on the next day Moses went into the tent of the testimony; and behold, [a]the rod of Aaron for the house of Levi had sprouted and put forth buds and produced blossoms, and it bore ripe almonds.

9 Moses then brought out all the rods from the presence of the LORD to all the sons of Israel; and they looked, and each man took his rod.

10 But the LORD said to Moses, "Put back the rod of Aaron [a]before the testimony [1]to be kept as a sign against the [2b]rebels, that you may put an end to their grumblings against Me, so that they will not die."

11 Thus Moses did; just as the LORD had commanded him, so he did.

12 Then the sons of Israel spoke to Moses, saying, "[a]Behold, we perish, we are dying, we are all dying!

13 "[a]Everyone who comes near, who comes near to the tabernacle of the LORD, must die. Are we to perish completely?"

Duties of Levites

18 So the LORD said to Aaron, "You and your sons and your father's household with you shall [a]bear the guilt [1]in connection with the sanctuary, and you and your sons with you shall bear the guilt [2]in connection with your priesthood.

2 "But bring with you also your brothers, the tribe of Levi, the tribe of your father, that they may be [a]joined with you and serve you, while you and your sons with you are before the tent of the testimony.

3 "And they shall thus attend to your obligation and the obligation of all the tent, but [a]they shall not come near to the furnishings of the sanctuary and [b]the altar, or both they and you will die.

4 "They shall be joined with you and attend to the obligations of the tent of meeting, for all the service of the tent; but an [1]outsider may not come near you.

5 "So you shall attend to the [a]obligations of the sanctuary and the obligations of the altar, [b]so that there will no longer be wrath on the sons of Israel.

6 "Behold, I Myself [a]have taken your [1]fellow Levites from among the sons of Israel; they are [b]a gift to you, [2]dedicated to the LORD, to perform the service for the tent of meeting.

7 "But you and your sons with you shall [a]attend to your priesthood for everything concerning the altar and inside the veil, and you are to perform service. I am giving you the priesthood as [b]a [1]bestowed service, but [c]the [2]outsider who comes near shall be put to death."

The Priests' Portion

17 is thus the third in a series of accounts vindicating the Aaronic priesthood against all opposition. The selection of 12 rods, one from each tribe, was a symbolic act whereby the divine choice of Aaron would be indicated again.

17:3 write Aaron's name on the rod of Levi. The test needed to be unequivocal because of the wide support given to Korah's rebellion. The 250 who had joined with Korah were from many, perhaps all, of the tribes.

17:4 in front of the testimony. In front of the ark, with the Ten Commandments, thus probably in the holy place, near the altar of incense.

17:8 had sprouted and put forth buds . . . blossoms . . . ripe almonds. God exceeded the demands of the test so that there might be no uncertainty as to who had acted or what He intended by His action.

17:10 before the testimony. Aaron's rod joined the stone tablets of the law of Moses (see note on Ex 25:16) and the jar of manna (Ex 16:33–34) within or near the ark of the covenant (see Heb 9:4). These holy symbols were ever before the Lord as memorials of His special deeds in behalf of His people. Moreover, should anyone of a later age dare to question the unique and holy place of the Aaronic priests in the Lord's service, this symbolic memorial of God's choice of Aaron would stand in opposition to his audacity. It is difficult to overestimate the importance of the role of Aaron and his sons in the worship of Israel (see note on 18:1–7).

17:12 we perish . . .! At last the people realized the sin of their arrogance in challenging Aaron's role. The appropriate ways of approaching the Lord are detailed in chs. 18–19.

18:1–7 Aaron and his family, chosen by the Lord to be the true priests of holy worship, faced a burdensome task. The lament of the people in 17:12–13 was real; grievous sins against the holy meeting place of the Lord and His people would be judged by death. The Lord's mercy in providing a legitimate priesthood was actually an aspect of His grace (cf. Ps 99:6–8), because it was the people's only hope for deliverance from judgment.

18:2 bring . . . your brothers, the tribe of Levi. The Aaronic priests were to be assisted by the others in the tribe of Levi, but the assistants were not to go beyond their serving role. If they did so, not only would they die, but so would the priests who were responsible (v. 3).

18:7 giving you the priesthood as a bestowed service. Of all men, the priests were privileged to approach the holy place and minister before the Lord. The priesthood was a gift of God's grace to both priests and people.

of Israel I have given them to you as a portion and to your sons as a perpetual allotment.

9 "This shall be yours from the most holy gifts reserved from the fire; every offering of theirs, even [a]every grain offering and every [b]sin offering and every guilt offering, which they shall render to Me, shall be most holy for you and for your sons.

10 "As the most holy gifts you shall eat it; every male shall eat it. It shall be holy to you.

11 "This also is yours, [a]the offering of their gift, even all the wave offerings of the sons of Israel; I have [b]given them to you and to your sons and daughters with you as a perpetual allotment. Everyone of your household who is clean may eat it.

12 "[a]All the [1]best of the fresh oil and all the [1]best of the fresh wine and of the grain, the first fruits of those which they give to the LORD, I give them to you.

13 "[a]The first ripe fruits of all that is in their land, which they bring to the LORD, shall be yours; everyone of your household who is clean may eat it.

14 "[a]Every devoted thing in Israel shall be yours.

15 "[1a]Every first issue of the womb of all flesh, whether man or animal, which they offer to the LORD, shall be yours; nevertheless the firstborn of man you shall surely redeem, and the firstborn of unclean animals you shall redeem.

16 "As to their redemption price, from a month old you shall redeem them, by your valuation, five [1]shekels in silver, according to the [1]shekel of the sanctuary, which is twenty gerahs.

17 "But [a]the firstborn of an ox or the firstborn of a sheep or the firstborn of a goat, you shall not redeem; they are holy. [b]You shall sprinkle their blood on the altar and shall offer up their fat in smoke as an offering by fire, for a soothing aroma to the LORD.

18 "Their [1]meat shall be yours; it shall be yours like the [a]breast of a wave offering and like the right thigh.

19 "[a]All the offerings of the holy gifts, which the sons of Israel offer to the LORD, I have given to you and your sons and your daughters with you, as a perpetual allotment. It is [b]an everlasting covenant of salt before the LORD to you and your [1]descendants with you."

20 Then the LORD said to Aaron, "[a]You shall have no inheritance in their land nor own any portion among them; [b]I am your portion and your inheritance among the sons of Israel.

21 "To the sons of Levi, behold, I have given all the [a]tithe in Israel for an inheritance, in return for their service which they perform, the service of the tent of meeting.

22 "[a]The sons of Israel shall not come near the tent of meeting again, or they will bear sin and die.

23 "Only the Levites shall perform the service of the tent of meeting, and they shall [a]bear their iniquity; it shall be a perpetual statute throughout your generations, and among the sons of Israel [b]they shall have no inheritance.

24 "For the tithe of the sons of Israel, which they offer as an offering to the LORD, I have given to the Levites for an inheritance; therefore I have said concerning them, '[a]They shall have no inheritance among the sons of Israel.' "

25 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

26 "Moreover, you shall speak to the Levites and say to them, 'When you take from the sons of Israel [a]the tithe which I have given you from them for your inheritance, then you shall present an offering from it to the LORD, a [b]tithe of the tithe.

27 'Your offering shall be reckoned to you as the grain from the threshing floor or the full produce from the wine vat.

28 'So you shall also present an offering to the LORD from your tithes, which you receive from the sons of Israel; and from it you shall give the LORD's offering to Aaron the priest.

29 'Out of all your gifts you shall present every offering due to the LORD, from all the [1]best of them, [2]the sacred part from them.'

18:8 a portion and . . . a perpetual allotment. The priests were to be supported in their work of ministry (see Lev 6:14–7:36). Since the Levites as a whole and the priests in particular had no part in the land that God was going to give them, it was necessary that the means for their provision be spelled out fully. They were not to have a part in the land; their share was the Lord Himself (v. 20).

18:11 your sons and daughters. Provision was made not only for the priests, but for their families as well. Only family members who were ceremonially unclean were forbidden to eat the gifts and offerings of the people (see v. 13). Provisions for cleansing were stated in Lev 22:4–8.

18:12 best of the fresh oil . . . fresh wine . . . grain. Since the best items of produce were to be given to the Lord, these became the special foods of the priests and their families. The NT writers similarly argue that those who minister the word of God in the present period should also be paid suitably for their work (see, e.g., 1 Cor 9:3–10 and notes).

18:19 everlasting covenant of salt. A permanent provision for the priests. The phrase "covenant of salt" (see 2 Chr 13:5) remains obscure. In Lev 2:13 the salt that must accompany grain offerings is called the "salt of the covenant." According to Ezek 43:24, salt is also to be sprinkled on burnt offerings, and Ex 30:35 specifies salt as one of the ingredients in the special incense compounded for the sanctuary. A "covenant of salt" is perhaps an allusion to the salt used in the sacrificial meal that commonly accompanied the making of a covenant (see Gen 31:54; Ex 24:5–11; Ps 50:5).

18:26–32 Although the Levites were the recipients of the tithe given to the Lord, they were not themselves exempt from worshiping God by tithing. They in turn were to give a tenth of their income to Aaron (v. 28) and were to be sure that the best part was given as the Lord's portion (v. 29). By obedient compliance the Levites would escape judicial death (v. 32).

30 "You shall say to them, 'When you have [1]offered from it the best of it, then the rest shall be reckoned to the Levites as the product of the threshing floor, and as the product of the wine vat.

31 'You may eat it anywhere, you and your households, for it is your compensation in return for your service in the tent of meeting.

32 'You will bear no sin by reason of it when you have [1]offered the [2]best of it. But you shall not [a]profane the sacred gifts of the sons of Israel, or you will die.' "

Ordinance of the Red Heifer

19 Then the LORD spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying,

2 "This is the statute of the law which the LORD has commanded, saying, 'Speak to the sons of Israel that they bring you an [a]unblemished red heifer in which is no defect and [b]on which a yoke has never [1]been placed.

3 'You shall give it to [a]Eleazar the priest, and it shall [b]be brought outside the camp and be slaughtered in his presence.

4 'Next Eleazar the priest shall take some of its blood with his finger and [a]sprinkle some of its blood toward the front of the tent of meeting seven times.

5 'Then the heifer shall be burned in his sight; [a]its hide and its flesh and its blood, with its refuse, shall be burned.

6 'The priest shall take [a]cedar wood and hyssop and scarlet material and cast it into the midst of the [1]burning heifer.

7 'The priest [a]shall then wash his clothes and bathe his [1]body in water, and afterward come into the camp, but the priest shall be unclean until evening.

8 'The one who burns it shall also wash his clothes in water and bathe his [1]body in water, and shall be unclean until evening.

9 'Now a man who is clean shall gather up the ashes of the heifer and deposit them outside the camp in a clean place, and [1]the congregation of the sons of Israel shall keep it as [a]water to remove impurity; it is [2]purification from sin.

10 'The one who gathers the ashes of the heifer [a]shall wash his clothes and be unclean until evening; and it shall be a perpetual statute to the sons of Israel and to the alien who sojourns among them.

11 '[a]The one who touches the corpse of any [1]person shall be unclean for seven days.

12 'That one shall [a]purify himself from uncleanness with [1]the water on the third day and on the seventh day, and then he will be clean; but if he does not purify himself on the third day and on the seventh day, he will not be clean.

13 '[a]Anyone who touches a corpse, the [1]body of a man who has died, and does not purify himself, [b]defiles the [2]tabernacle of the LORD; and that person shall be cut off from Israel. Because the water for impurity was not [3c]sprinkled on him, he shall be unclean; his uncleanness is still on him.

14 'This is the law when a man dies in a tent: everyone who comes into the tent and everyone who is in the tent shall be unclean for seven days.

15 'Every open vessel, which has no covering [1]tied down on it, shall be unclean.

16 '[a]Also, anyone who in the open field touches one who has been slain with a sword or who has died naturally, or a human bone or a grave, shall be unclean for seven days.

17 'Then for the unclean person they shall take some of the [1]ashes of the [2]burnt [3a]purification from sin and [4]flowing water shall be [5]added to them in a vessel.

18 'A clean person shall take hyssop and dip it in the water, and sprinkle it on the tent and on all the furnishings and on the persons who were there, and on the one who touched the bone or the one slain or the one dying naturally or the grave.

19:2 red heifer. The qualifying words, "unblemished . . . no defect," are familiar in contexts of sacrificial worship in the OT. But this is not a sacrificial animal. It is a cow, not an ox; it is to be slaughtered, not sacrificed; and it is to be killed outside the camp, not at the holy altar. The ashes of the red heifer (v. 9) are the primary focus of this act, for they will be used in the ritual of the water of cleansing. The burning of the animal with its blood and offal (v. 5) is unprecedented in the OT. The normal pattern for the sacrifice of the burnt offering is given in Lev 1:3–9. In every respect the killing of the red heifer is distinct: A female animal was taken outside the camp to be killed; the priest had to be present, but he did not identify himself with it; and a bit of the heifer's blood was sprinkled from the priest's finger toward the tabernacle seven times, but the rest of the animal was to be burned in its entirety, without the draining of its blood or the cleansing of its offal.

19:6 cedar wood and hyssop and scarlet material. Associated with the cleansing properties of the ashes of the red heifer.

19:12 purify himself . . . with the water. The ashes from the red heifer were kept outside the camp and would be mixed as needed with water to provide a means of cleansing after contact with dead bodies.

19:13 defiles the tabernacle of the LORD. Willful neglect of the provision for cleansing brought not only judgment on the person, but also a pollution of the tabernacle itself. cut off from Israel. See note on Ex 12:15.

19:14 everyone who is in the tent. There would be many occasions in which a person would become unclean, not because of deliberate contact with a dead body, but just by being in the proximity of one who died.

19:18 hyssop and dip it in the water, and sprinkle. Here the method of the cleansing ritual is explained. A ceremonially clean person had to sprinkle the ceremonially unclean person or thing. The cleansing power of the blood of Christ is specifically contrasted ("much more"; Heb 9:13–14) with the cleansing effectiveness of the water of the ashes of the red heifer.

20 'But the man who is unclean and does not purify himself from uncleanness, that person shall be cut off from the midst of the assembly, because he has [a]defiled the sanctuary of the LORD; the water for impurity has not been sprinkled on him, he is unclean.

21 'So it shall be a perpetual statute for them. And he [a]who sprinkles the water for impurity shall wash his clothes, and he who touches the water for impurity shall be unclean until evening.

22 '[a]Furthermore, anything that the unclean person touches shall be unclean; and the person who touches it shall be unclean until evening.' "

Death of Miriam

20 Then the sons of Israel, the whole congregation, came to the [a]wilderness of Zin in the first month; and the people stayed at Kadesh. Now Miriam died there and was buried there.

2 [a]There was no water for the congregation, [b]and they assembled themselves against Moses and Aaron.

3 [a]The people thus contended with Moses and spoke, saying, "[b]If only we had perished [c]when our brothers perished before the LORD!

4 "[a]Why then have you brought the LORD'S assembly into this wilderness, for us and our beasts to die [1]here?

5 "Why have you made us come up from Egypt, to bring us in to this wretched place? [a]It is not a place of [1]grain or figs or vines or pomegranates, nor is there water to drink."

6 Then Moses and Aaron came in from the presence of the assembly to the doorway of the tent of meeting and [a]fell on their faces. Then the glory of the LORD appeared to them;

7 and the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

The Water of Meribah

8 "Take [a]the rod; and you and your brother Aaron assemble the congregation and speak to the rock before their eyes, that it may yield its water. You shall thus bring forth water for them out of the rock and let the congregation and their beasts drink."

9 So Moses took the rod [a]from before the LORD, just as He had commanded him;

10 and Moses and Aaron gathered the assembly before the rock. And he said to them, "[a]Listen now, you rebels; shall we bring forth water for you out of this rock?"

11 Then Moses lifted up his hand and struck the rock twice with his rod; and [a]water came forth abundantly, and the congregation and their beasts drank.

12 But the LORD said to Moses and Aaron, "[a]Because you have not believed Me, to treat Me as holy in the sight of the sons of Israel, therefore you shall not bring this assembly into the land which I have given them."

13 Those were the waters of [1][a]Meribah, [2]because the sons of Israel contended with the LORD, and He proved Himself holy among them.

14 From Kadesh Moses then sent messengers to [a]the king of Edom: "Thus your brother Israel has said, 'You [b]know all the hardship that has befallen us;

15 that our fathers went down to Egypt, and we stayed in Egypt a long time, and the Egyptians treated us and our fathers badly.

20:1–29 This chapter begins with the death of Miriam (v. 1), concludes with the death of Aaron (v. 28), includes the record of the conflict with Edom (vv. 14–21) and centers on the tragic sin of Moses (vv. 11–12). Such was the sad beginning of Israel's last year in the wilderness.

20:1 first month. The year is not given, but a comparison of vv. 22–29 with 33:38 leads to the conclusion that this chapter begins in the 40th year after the exodus (see notes on 1:1; 9:1). Most of the people 20 years old or more at the time of the rebellion at Kadesh (chs. 13–14) would already have died. at Kadesh. The larger part of the wilderness wandering is left without record. The people may have gone through a cycle of roving travels, seeking the water sources and the sparse vegetation, supported primarily by manna. But their circuits would bring them back to the central camp at Kadesh, the scene of their great rebellion (chs. 13–14). They have now come full circle; the land of promise lies before them again.

20:2 no water. Forty years earlier, the Lord had instructed Moses to take the staff he had used to strike the Nile (Ex 7:17) and to strike the rock at Horeb to initiate a flow of water (Ex 17:1–7). Now, 40 years later, at the place of Israel's worst acts of rebellion, the scene was recurring. The children of the rebellious nation now desire to die with their parents; the complaints about the bread from heaven are repeated by the sons.

20:8 speak to the rock. Moses was told to take his rod, through which God had performed wonders in Egypt and in the wilderness all these years, but this time he was merely to speak to the rock and it would pour out its water for the people. Cf. Ps 114:8.

20:10 Listen now, you rebels. At once the accumulated anger, exasperation and frustration of 40 years came to expression (see Ps 106:33).

20:11 struck the rock twice with his rod. In his rage Moses disobeyed the Lord's instruction to speak to the rock (v. 8). Moses' rash action brought a stern rebuke from the Lord (v. 12). The nature of Moses' offense is not clearly stated in this text, but these factors appear to be involved: 1. Moses' action was a lack of trust in God (v. 12), as though he believed that a word alone would not suffice. 2. God's holiness was offended by Moses' rash action (v. 12), for he had not shown proper deference to God's presence.

20:12 you shall not bring this assembly into the land. The end result of Moses' action is sure: Neither Aaron nor Moses would enter the land of promise. Of their contemporaries only Joshua and Caleb would survive to enter the land. The inclusion of Aaron demonstrates his partnership with his brother in the breach against God's holiness.

20:13 Meribah. Means "contention." The same name was used 40 years earlier at the first occasion of bringing water from the rock (Ex 17:7, where it is also called Massah, "testing"). Ps 95:8 laments the rebellion at Meribah and Massah.

20:14–21 Moses' attempt to pass through the territory of Edom by peaceful negotiation and payment for services rendered is met by arrogant rebuff.

20:14 your brother Israel. The people of Edom were descended from Esau, the brother of Jacob (see Gen 36:1).

16 'But [a]when we cried out to the LORD, He heard our voice and sent [b]an angel and brought us out from Egypt; now behold, we are at Kadesh, a town on the edge of your territory.

17 'Please [a]let us pass through your land. We will not pass through field or through vineyard; we will not even drink water from a well. We will go along the king's highway, not turning to the right or left, until we pass through your territory.' "

18 [a]Edom, however, said to him, "You shall not pass through [1]us, or I will come out with the sword against you."

19 Again, the sons of Israel said to him, "We will go up by the highway, and if I and [a]my livestock do drink any of your water, [b]then I will [1]pay its price. Let me only pass through on my feet, [2]nothing else."

20 But he said, "[a]You shall not pass through." And Edom came out against him with a heavy [1]force and with a strong hand.

21 [a]Thus Edom refused to allow Israel to pass through his territory; [b]so Israel turned away from him.

22 Now when they set out from [a]Kadesh, the sons of Israel, the whole congregation, came to Mount Hor.

Death of Aaron

23 Then the LORD spoke to Moses and Aaron at [a]Mount Hor by the border of the land of Edom, saying, 24 "Aaron will be [a]gathered to his people; for he shall not enter the land which I have given to the sons of Israel, because [b]you rebelled against My [1]command at the waters of Meribah.

25 "Take Aaron and his son [a]Eleazar and bring them up to Mount Hor;

26 and strip Aaron of his garments and put them on his son Eleazar. So Aaron will be [a]gathered to his people, and will die there."

27 So Moses did just as the LORD had commanded, and they went up to Mount Hor in the sight of all the congregation.

28 After Moses had stripped Aaron of his garments and [a]put them on his son Eleazar, [b]Aaron died there on the mountain top. Then Moses and Eleazar came down from the mountain.

29 When all the congregation saw that Aaron had died, all the house of Israel wept for Aaron thirty [a]days.

Arad Conquered

21 When the Canaanite, the king of [a]Arad, who lived in the [1]Negev, heard that Israel was coming by the way of [2]Atharim, then he fought against Israel and took some of them captive.

2 So [a]Israel made a vow to the LORD and said, "If You will indeed deliver this people into my hand, then I will [1]utterly destroy their cities."

3 The LORD heard the voice of Israel and delivered up the Canaanites; then they [1]utterly destroyed them and their cities. Thus the name of the place was called [2a]Hormah.

4 Then they set out from Mount Hor by the way of the [1]Red Sea, to [a]go around the land of Edom; and the [2]people became impatient because of the journey.

5 The people spoke against God and Moses, "[a]Why have you brought us up out of Egypt to die in the wilderness? For there is no [1]food and no water, and [2b]we loathe this miserable food."

The Bronze Serpent

6 [a]The LORD sent fiery serpents among the people and [b]they bit the people, so that [c]many people of Israel died.

20:17 king's highway. The major north-south trade route in Transjordan, extending from Arabia to Damascus.

20:20 heavy force and . . . strong hand. The show of force by Edom caused Israel to turn away so as not to risk conflict with this brother nation. Israel was forbidden by the Lord to take even a foothold in Edom (see Deut 2:4–6).

20:22 Mount Hor. Other than its proximity to the border of Edom (v. 23), nothing is known for certain about its location.

20:24 gathered to his people. A euphemism for death (see, e.g., Gen 25:8,17; 35:29). you. The Hebrew is plural. Aaron had joined Moses in rebellion against God (v. 12); his impending death was a precursor of Moses' death as well (see Dt 34).

20:25 Aaron and his son Eleazar. There was no doubt about Aaron's successor, just as there was no doubt about Moses' successor (see Dt 34).

20:26–28 While Aaron was still alive, his garments were to be placed on his son; only then did he die.

20:29 wept for Aaron. His death (and that of Moses) marked the passing of a generation. The old generation was now nearly gone; in 40 years there had been almost a complete turnover of the people 20 years old or more.

21:1–3 The first battle of the new community against the Canaanites was provoked by the king of Arad, perhaps as he was raiding them. The result was a complete victory for the Israelites—a new day for them, since they had been defeated by the Amalekites and Canaanites a generation before (14:41–45).

21:2 utterly destroy. The Hebrew term refers to the irrevocable giving over of things or persons to the Lord, often by totally destroying them.

21:3 Hormah. Means "devoted to destruction"; the association with Israel's earlier defeat is made certain by the use of this place-name (see 14:45).

21:4 With Moses' determination not to engage Edom in battle (see note on 20:20), the people became impatient with him and with the direction the Lord was taking them. Flushed with victory, they were confident in themselves. They forgot that their victory over Arad was granted by the Lord in response to their solemn pledge (v. 2); now they were ready to rebel again.

21:5 we loathe this miserable food. The people's impatience (v. 4) led them to blaspheme God, to reject His servant Moses and to despise the bread from heaven. This is the most bitter of their several attacks on the manna (see note on 11:7). Just as Moses' attack on the rock was more than it appeared to be (see note on 20:11), so the people's contempt for the heavenly bread was more serious than one might think. Rejecting the heavenly manna was tantamount to spurning God's grace (cf. John 6:32–35,48–51,58).

7 [a]So the people came to Moses and said, "We have sinned, because we have spoken against the LORD and you; [b]intercede with the LORD, that He may remove the serpents from us." And Moses interceded for the people.

8 Then the LORD said to Moses, "[1]Make a [a]fiery serpent, and set it on a standard; and it shall come about, that everyone who is bitten, when he looks at it, he will live."

9 And Moses made a [a]bronze serpent and set it on the standard; and it came about, that if a serpent bit any man, when he looked to the bronze serpent, he lived.

10 [a]Now the sons of Israel moved out and camped in Oboth.

11 They journeyed from Oboth and camped at Iyeabarim, in the wilderness which is opposite Moab, to the [1]east.

12 [a]From there they set out and camped in [1]Wadi Zered.

13 From there they journeyed and camped on the other side of the Arnon, which is in the wilderness that comes out of the border of the Amorites, [a]for the Arnon is the border of Moab, between Moab and the Amorites.

14 Therefore it is said in the Book of the Wars of the LORD,

"Waheb in Suphah,
And the wadis of the Arnon,
15 And the slope of the wadis
That extends to the site of [a]Ar,
And leans to the border of Moab."

16 [a]From there they continued to [1]Beer, that is the well where the LORD said to Moses, "Assemble the people, that I may give them water."

17 [a]Then Israel sang this song:

"Spring up, O well! Sing to it!
18 "The well, which the leaders sank,
Which the nobles of the people dug,
With the scepter and with their staffs."

And from the wilderness they continued to Mattanah,

19 and from Mattanah to Nahaliel, and from Nahaliel to Bamoth,

20 and from Bamoth to the valley that is in the land of Moab, at the top of Pisgah which overlooks the [1]wasteland.

Two Victories

21 [a]Then Israel sent messengers to Sihon, king of the Amorites, saying,

22 "[a]Let me pass through your land. We will not turn off into field or vineyard; we will not drink water from wells. We will go by the king's highway until we have passed through your border."

23 [a]But Sihon would not permit Israel to pass through his border. So Sihon gathered all his people and went out against Israel in the wilderness, and came to [b]Jahaz and fought against Israel.

24 Then [a]Israel [1]struck him with the edge of the sword, and took possession of his land from the Arnon to the Jabbok, as far as the sons of Ammon; for the [b]border of the sons of Ammon was [2]Jazer.

25 Israel took all these cities and [a]Israel lived in all the cities of the Amorites, in Heshbon, and in all her [1]villages.

26 For Heshbon was the city of Sihon, king of the Amorites, who had fought against the former king of Moab and had taken all his land out of his hand, as far as the Arnon.

27 Therefore those who use proverbs say,

"Come to Heshbon! Let it be built!
So let the city of Sihon be established.
28 "[a]For a fire went forth from Heshbon,
A flame from the town of Sihon;
It devoured [b]Ar of Moab,
The [1c]dominant [2]heights of the Arnon.
29 "[a]Woe to you, O Moab!
You are ruined, O people of [b]Chemosh!
[c]He has given his sons as fugitives,
[d]And his daughters into captivity,
To an Amorite king, Sihon.
30 "But we have cast them down,
Heshbon is ruined as far as [a]Dibon,
Then we have laid waste even to Nophah,
Which reaches to Medeba."

31 Thus Israel lived in the land of the Amorites.

32 Moses sent to spy out [a]Jazer, and they captured its villages and dispossessed the Amorites who were there.

33 [a]Then they turned and went up by the way of Bashan, and Og the king of Bashan

21:8–9 In response to the people's confession of sin (v. 7), God directed Moses to make an image of a serpent and put it on a pole, so that anyone who had been bitten could look at it and live. See the typological use of this incident in John 3:14–15.

21:10–13 The people skirt Edom and make their way to the Arnon, the wadi that serves as the border between Moab and the region of the Amorites and that flows west into the midpoint of the Dead Sea.

21:14 Book of the Wars of the LORD. Mentioned only here in the OT. This is not in existence today; it was presumably an ancient collection of songs of war in praise of God (see note on 10:3 for music in war). Cf. the "book of Jashar" (Josh 10:13; 2 Sam 1:18).

21:16 I may give them water. The quest for water had been a constant problem during the wilderness experience (see ch. 20; Ex 17).

21:17–18 The "song of the well" may also come from the Book of the Wars of the Lord (v. 14).

21:21–26 As with Edom (20:14–19), Israel requested freedom to pass through the land of the Amorites. When Sihon, their king, tried to meet Israel with a show of force, he suffered an overwhelming defeat. The land of the Amorites was in Transjordan, extending from the Arnon River (at the midpoint of the Dead Sea) to the Jabbok River (v. 24), which flows into the Jordan some 24 miles north of the Dead Sea.

21:27–30 This third ancient poem in ch. 21 was an Amorite taunt song about their earlier victory over Moab (v. 29). Perhaps the "song of Heshbon" was also preserved in the Book of the Wars of the Lord (v. 14).

21:33 Bashan. The region northeast of the Sea of Galilee.

went out [1]with all his people, for battle at [b]Edrei.

34 But the LORD said to Moses, "[a]Do not fear him, for I have given him into your hand, and all his people and his land; and you shall do to him as you did to Sihon, king of the Amorites, who lived at Heshbon."

35 So [a]they [1]killed him and his sons and all his people, until there was no remnant left him; and they possessed his land.

Balak Sends for Balaam

22 [a]Then the sons of Israel journeyed, and camped in the plains of Moab beyond the Jordan opposite Jericho.

2 Now [a]Balak the son of Zippor saw all that Israel had done to the Amorites.

3 [a]So Moab was in great fear because of the people, for they were numerous; and Moab was in dread of the sons of Israel.

4 Moab said to the elders of [a]Midian, "Now this [1]horde will lick up all that is around us, as the ox licks up the grass of the field." And Balak the son of Zippor was king of Moab at that time.

5 So he sent messengers to [a]Balaam the son of Beor, at [b]Pethor, which is near the [1]River, in the land of the sons of his people, to call him, saying, "Behold, a people came out of Egypt; behold, they cover the surface of the land, and they are living opposite me.

6 "[a]Now, therefore, please come, [b]curse this people for me since they are too [1]mighty for me; perhaps I may be able to [2]defeat them and drive them out of the land. For I know that he whom you bless is blessed, and he whom you curse is cursed."

7 So the elders of Moab and the elders of Midian departed with the fees for [a]divination in their hand; and they came to Balaam and [1]repeated Balak's words to him.

8 He said to them, "Spend the night here, and I will bring word back to you as the LORD may speak to me." And the leaders of Moab stayed with Balaam.

9 Then [a]God came to Balaam and said, "Who are these men with you?"

10 Balaam said to God, "Balak the son of Zippor, king of Moab, has sent word to me,

11 'Behold, there is a people who came out of Egypt and they cover the surface of the land; now come, curse them for me; perhaps I may be able to fight against them and drive them out.' "

12 God said to Balaam, "Do not go with them; [a]you shall not curse the people, for they [b]are blessed."

13 So Balaam arose in the morning and said to Balak's leaders, "Go back to your land, for the LORD has refused to let me go with you."

14 The leaders of Moab arose and went to Balak and said, "Balaam refused to come with us."

15 Then Balak again sent leaders, more numerous and more distinguished than [1]the former.

16 They came to Balaam and said to him, "Thus says Balak the son of Zippor, 'Let nothing, I beg you, hinder you from coming to me;

17 for I will indeed honor you richly, and I will do whatever you say to me. [a]Please come then, curse this people for me.' "

18 Balaam replied to the servants of Balak, "[a]Though Balak were to give me his house full of silver and gold, I could not do anything, either small or great, contrary to the [1]command of the LORD my God.

19 "Now please, you also stay here tonight, and I will find out what else the LORD will speak to me."

20 God came to Balaam at night and said to him, "If the men have come to call you, rise up and go with them; but [a]only the word which I speak to you shall you do."

21:35 killed him. By defeating Og, Israel now controlled Transjordan from Moab to the heights of Bashan in the vicinity of Mount Hermon. The victory over Sihon and Og became a subject of song (Ps 135:11; 136:19–20), and is a regular part of the commemoration of the works of the Lord in the Passover celebration.
22:1 plains of Moab. Israel now marched back to their staging area east of the Jordan and just north of the Dead Sea. From this point they would launch their attack on Canaan, beginning with the ancient city of Jericho. Moab did not trust Israel's intentions, however. Moab's fear leads to a remarkable interval in the story of Israel: the account of Balak and Balaam (chs. 22–24).
22:3 Moab was in great fear. Balak king of Moab did not know that Israel had no plans against him.
22:4 said to the elders of Midian. Balak made an alliance with the Midianites to oppose Israel (see v. 7). as the ox licks up the grass of the field. A proverbial simile particularly fitting for a pastoral people.
22:5 sent messengers to Balaam. Since Balak believed that there was no military way to withstand Israel, he sought to oppose them through pagan divination (vv. 6–7), sending for a diviner with an international reputation. (One of Balaam's non-Biblical prophecies is preserved in an Aramaic text from Deir Alla in the Jordan Valley dating to c. 700 B.C.)
22:8 bring word . . . as the LORD may speak. The language here and in v. 18 ("the LORD my God") has led some to believe that Balaam was a believer in Yahweh ("the LORD"), God of Israel. Based on the subsequent narrative, however, it seems best to take Balaam's words as claiming to be the spokesman for any god. Balaam is universally condemned in Scripture for moral, ethical and religious faults (see 31:7–8,15–16; Deut 23:3–6; Josh 13:22; 24:9–10; Neh 13:1–3; Mic 6:5; 2 Pet 2:15–16; Jude 11; Rev 2:14).
22:9 God came to Balaam. The author shows his aversion to the pagan prophet Balaam by using "God" instead of "the LORD" (Yahweh), as Balaam does (e.g., in v. 8). By this subtle device, the narrator distances himself from Balaam's outrageous claims. That God spoke to Balaam is not to be denied, but Balaam did not yet realize that the God of Israel was unlike the supposed deities that he usually schemed against.
22:12 they are blessed. Israel was under the Lord's blessing promised to Abraham (see note on Gen 12:2–3).
22:20 go with them. There appears to be a contradiction between the permission God grants Balaam here and the prohibition He had given earlier (v. 12), and then the anger the Lord displayed against Balaam on his journey (v. 22). The diffi-

21 [a]So Balaam arose in the morning, and saddled his donkey and went with the leaders of Moab.

The Angel and Balaam

22 But God was angry because he was going, [a]and the angel of the LORD took his stand in the way as an adversary against him. Now he was riding on his donkey and his two servants were with him.

23 When the donkey saw the angel of the LORD standing in the way with his drawn sword in his hand, the donkey turned off from the way and went into the field; but Balaam struck the donkey to turn her back into the way.

24 Then the angel of the LORD stood in a narrow path of the vineyards, with a wall on this side and a wall on that side.

25 When the donkey saw the angel of the LORD, she pressed herself to the wall and pressed Balaam's foot against the wall, so he struck her again.

26 The angel of the LORD went further, and stood in a narrow place where there was no way to turn to the right hand or the left.

27 When the donkey saw the angel of the LORD, she lay down under Balaam; so [a]Balaam was angry and struck the donkey with his stick.

28 And [a]the LORD opened the mouth of the donkey, and she said to Balaam, "What have I done to you, that you have struck me these three times?"

29 Then Balaam said to the donkey, "Because you have made a mockery of me! If there had been a sword in my hand, [a]I would have killed you by now."

30 The donkey said to Balaam, "Am I not your donkey on which you have ridden all your life to this day? Have I ever been accustomed to do so to you?" And he said, "No."

31 Then the LORD opened the eyes of Balaam, and he saw [a]the angel of the LORD standing in the way with his drawn sword in his hand; and he bowed [1]all the way to the ground.

32 The angel of the LORD said to him, "Why have you struck your donkey these three times? Behold, I have come out as an adversary, because your way was [1][a]contrary to me.

33 "But the donkey saw me and turned aside from me these three times. If she had not turned aside from me, I would surely have killed you just now, and let her live."

34 Balaam said to the angel of the LORD, "[a]I have sinned, for I did not know that you were standing in the way against me. Now then, if it is displeasing to you, I will turn back."

35 But the angel of the LORD said to Balaam, "Go with the men, but [a]you shall speak only the word which I [1]tell you." So Balaam went along with the leaders of Balak.

36 When Balak heard that Balaam was coming, he went out to meet him at the city of Moab, which is on the Arnon border, [1]at the extreme end of the border.

37 Then Balak said to Balaam, "Did I not urgently send to you to call you? Why did you not come to me? Am I really unable to honor you?"

38 So Balaam said to Balak, "Behold, I have come now to you! [a]Am I able to speak anything at all? The word that God puts in my mouth, that I shall speak."

39 And Balaam went with Balak, and they came to Kiriath-huzoth.

40 Balak sacrificed oxen and sheep, and sent some to Balaam and the leaders who were with him.

41 Then it came about in the morning that Balak took Balaam and brought him up to [1][a]the high places of Baal, and he saw from there [2]a [b]portion of the people.

culty is best understood as lying in the contrary character of Balaam. God had forbidden him to go to curse Israel. He then allowed Balaam to go, but only if he would follow the Lord's direction. But Balaam's real intentions were known to the Lord, and so with severe displeasure He confronted the pagan prophet.

22:23 the donkey saw the angel of the LORD. The internationally known seer is blind to spiritual reality, but his proverbially dumb beast is able to see the angel of the Lord on the path. As a pagan prophet, Balaam was a specialist in animal divination, but his animal saw what he was blind to observe.

22:29 If there had been a sword in my hand. A ridiculous picture of the hapless Balaam. A sword was nearby (see vv. 23,31–33), but its victim was not going to be the donkey.

22:31 Then the LORD opened the eyes of Balaam. The language follows the same structure as the opening words of v. 28. In some ways, the opening of the eyes of the pagan prophet to see the reality of the angel was the greater miracle.

22:35 speak only the word which I tell you. The one great gain was that Balaam was now more aware of the seriousness of the task before him; he would not be able to change the word the Lord would give him (see 23:12,20,26).

22:37 Did I not urgently send to you to call you? The comic element of the story is seen not only in the hapless Balaam but also in the frustrated Balak (see 23:11,25; 24:10).

22:40 Balak sacrificed oxen and sheep. Not sacrifices to the Lord. The pieces given to Balaam would have included the livers, for, as a pagan diviner, Balaam was a specialist in liver divination. Balaam subsequently gave up his acts of sorcery as the power of the Lord's word came upon him (24:1).

23:1 seven altars . . . seven bulls and seven rams. These sacrifices were prepared as a part of Balaam's pagan actions. The number seven (signifying completeness) was held in high regard among Semitic peoples in general; the many animals would provide abundant liver and organ materials for the diviner from the east.

2 Balak did just as Balaam had spoken, and Balak and Balaam offered up a bull and a ram on each altar.
3 Then Balaam said to Balak, "Stand beside your burnt offering, and I will go; perhaps the LORD will come to meet me, and whatever He shows me I will tell you." So he went to a bare hill.
4 Now God met Balaam, and he said to Him, "I have set up the seven altars, and I have offered up a bull and a ram on each altar."
5 Then the LORD [a]put a word in Balaam's mouth and said, "Return to Balak, and you shall speak thus."
6 So he returned to him, and behold, he was standing beside his burnt offering, he and all the leaders of Moab.
7 He took up his [1]discourse and said,
"From [a]Aram Balak has brought me, Moab's king from the mountains of the East,
'[b]Come curse Jacob for me,
And come, denounce Israel!'
8 "[a]How shall I curse whom God has not cursed?
And how can I denounce whom the LORD has not denounced?
9 "As I see him from the top of the rocks,
And I look at him from the hills;
[a]Behold, a people who dwells apart,
And will not be reckoned among the nations.
10 "[a]Who can count the dust of Jacob,
Or number the fourth part of Israel?
[b]Let [1]me die the death of the upright,
[c]And let my end be like his!"
11 Then Balak said to Balaam, "What have you done to me? [a]I took you to curse my enemies, but behold, you have actually blessed them!"
12 He replied, "Must I not be careful to speak [a]what the LORD puts in my mouth?"
13 Then Balak said to him, "Please come with me to another place from where you may see them, although you will only see the extreme end of them and will not see all of them; and curse them for me from there."
14 So he took him to the field of Zophim, to the top of Pisgah, and built seven altars and offered a bull and a ram on each altar.
15 And he said to Balak, "Stand here beside your burnt offering while I myself meet the LORD over there."
16 Then the LORD met Balaam and [a]put a word in his mouth and said, "Return to Balak, and thus you shall speak."
17 He came to him, and behold, he was standing beside his burnt offering, and the leaders of Moab with him. And Balak said to him, "What has the LORD spoken?"
18 Then he took up his [1]discourse and said,
"Arise, O Balak, and hear;
Give ear to me, O son of Zippor!
19 "[a]God is not a man, that He should lie, Nor a son of man, that He should repent;
[b]Has He said, and will He not do it?
Or has He spoken, and will He not make it good?
20 "Behold, I have received a command to bless;
[a]When He has blessed, then [b]I cannot revoke it.
21 "[a]He has not observed [1]misfortune in Jacob;
[b]Nor has He seen trouble in Israel;
[c]The LORD his God is with him,
[d]And the shout of a king is among them.
22 "[a]God brings them out of Egypt,
He is for them like the [b]horns of the wild ox.
23 "[a]For there is no omen against Jacob,
Nor is there any divination against Israel;
At the proper time it shall be said to
Jacob
And to Israel, what God has done!

23:2 Balak did as Balaam had spoken. Balaam is in charge; Balak is now his subordinate.

23:7–24:24 There are seven poetic oracles here: The first four are longer, have introductory narrative bridges and are written in exquisite poetry (23:7–10; 23:18–24; 24:3–9; 24:15–19). The last three are brief, are much more difficult to understand, and follow one another in a staccato pattern (24:20,21–22, 23–24).

23:7 discourse. Hebrew mashal, usually translated "proverb" or "oracle." By this word the distinctive nature of Balaam's prophecies is established; none of the prophecies of Israel's true prophets is described by this term.

23:8 How shall I curse whom God has not cursed? That which Balaam had been hired to do he was unable to do. God kept him from pronouncing a curse on His people, who were unlike the nations of the world (v. 9).

23:10 Let me die the death of the upright. A wish not granted (see 31:8,16). let my end be like his! He who had come to curse desired to share in Israel's blessing.

23:13 will not see all of them. Balak attempted to reduce Israel's power by selecting a point where their immense numbers would be obscured. Unfortunately for Balak, the oracle that followed (vv. 18–24) exceeded the first in its blessing on Israel.

23:19 God is not a man, that He should lie. These sublime words describe the immutability of the Lord and the integrity of His word. Balaam is a foil for God—constantly shifting, prevaricating, equivocating, changing—a prime example of the distinction between God and man.

23:21 the shout of a king is among them. That the first explicit declaration of the Lord's kingship in the Pentateuch was made by Balaam is a suitable improbability. Because God is King (Sovereign), He was able to use Balaam for his own ends—to bless his people in a new and wonderful manner.

23:22 wild ox. Or "aurochs" or "oryx," a traditional image of power in the ancient Near East (see also 24:8).

23:23 no omen against Jacob. Balaam speaks from his frightful experience. He had no means in his bag of tricks to withstand God's blessing of Israel.

24 "[a]Behold, a people rises like a lioness,
And as a lion it lifts itself;
It will not lie down until it devours the prey,
And drinks the blood of the slain."

25 Then Balak said to Balaam, "Do not curse them at all nor bless them at all!"

26 But Balaam replied to Balak, "Did I not tell you, '[1a]Whatever the LORD speaks, that I must do'?"

27 Then Balak said to Balaam, "Please come, I will take you to another place; perhaps it will be [1]agreeable with God that you curse them for me from there."

28 So Balak took Balaam to the top of Peor which overlooks the [1]wasteland.

29 Balaam said to Balak, "Build seven altars for me here and prepare seven bulls and seven rams for me here."

30 Balak did just as Balaam had said, and offered up a bull and a ram on each altar.

The Prophecy from Peor

24 When Balaam saw that it [1]pleased the LORD to bless Israel, he did not go as at other times to [2]seek [a]omens but he set his face toward the [b]wilderness.

2 And Balaam lifted up his eyes and saw Israel [1]camping tribe by tribe; and [a]the Spirit of God came upon him.

3 He took up his [1]discourse and said,
"[a]The oracle of Balaam the son of Beor,
And the oracle of the man whose eye is opened;
4 The oracle of him who [a]hears the [1]words of God,
Who sees the [b]vision of [2]the Almighty,
Falling down, yet having his eyes uncovered,
5 How fair are your tents, O Jacob,
Your dwellings, O Israel!
6 "Like [1]valleys that stretch out,
Like gardens beside the river,
Like [a]aloes planted by the LORD,
Like [b]cedars beside the waters.
7 "Water will flow from his buckets,
And his seed will be by many waters,
And his king shall be higher than [a]Agag,
[b]And his kingdom shall be exalted.
8 "[a]God brings him out of Egypt,
He is for him like the horns of the wild ox.
[b]He will devour the nations who are his adversaries,
And will crush their bones in pieces,
And shatter them with his [c]arrows.
9 "[a]He [1]couches, he lies down as a lion,
And as a [2]lion, who [3]dares rouse him?
[b]Blessed is everyone who blesses you,
And cursed is everyone who curses you."

10 Then Balak's anger burned against Balaam, and he struck his [1]hands together; and Balak said to Balaam, "I called you to curse my enemies, but behold, you have persisted in blessing them these three times!

11 "Therefore, [1]flee to your place now. I said I would honor you greatly, but behold, the LORD has held you back from honor."

12 Balaam said to Balak, "[a]Did I not tell your messengers whom you had sent to me, saying,

13 'Though Balak were to give me his house full of silver and gold, I could not do anything contrary to the [1]command of the LORD, either good or bad, [a]of my own [2]accord. [b]What the LORD speaks, that I will speak'?

14 "And now, behold, [a]I am going to my people; come, and I will advise you what this people will do to your people in the [1]days to come."

15 He took up his discourse and said,
"[a]The oracle of Balaam the son of Beor,
And the oracle of the man whose eye is opened,
16 The oracle of him who hears the [1]words of God,

23:24 like a lioness. Israel was about to arise and devour its foes, like a lioness on the hunt (see 24:9; Gen 49:9).

24:1 go . . . to seek omens. Balaam's magic and sorcery are identified here (see notes on 22:40; 23:1).

24:2 the Spirit of God came upon him. Not to be confused with the filling of the Spirit (Acts 2:1–4), or with the anointing of the Spirit (Is 61:1). This unexpected language prepares the reader for the heightened revelation that is about to come from the unwitting messenger.

24:3–4 The extensive introduction of this oracle describes Balaam's experience in the Lord's presence. Now Balaam's eyes were opened (see note on 22:31).

24:6–7 Balaam speaks here in general, but luxuriant, terms of the blessings that will come to the Israelites as they settle in their new land. The lushness of their blessing from the Lord is reminiscent of Eden.

24:7 higher than Agag. Possibly a specific future prophecy concerning the opponent of King Saul (1 Sam 15:32–33)—setting the stage for the even more remarkable words of the fourth oracle (vv. 15–19). But it may be that Agag was a common name among Amalekite kings and that the allusion here is to the Amalekites who attacked Israel when she came out of Egypt (see Ex 17:8–13) and again when she first approached Canaan (see 14:45).

24:8 God brings him out of Egypt. These central words about Israel's salvation are recited by one who was a hostile outsider (see notes on 23:21; 25:1–18).

24:9 Blessed is everyone who blesses you . . . curses you. The theology of blessing and cursing in the promises made to Abraham (Gen 12:2–3) is now a part of this oracle of blessing. Perhaps here Balaam was reasserting his desire to be a part of Israel's blessing (see note on 23:10).

24:11 the LORD has held you back from honor. In his disgust with Balaam's failure to curse Israel, Balak now dismisses him without pay—the ultimate insult to his greed (see 2 Pet 2:15).

24:14 in the days to come. The distant (Messianic) future is usually indicated by this expression (see, e.g., Jer 48:47 and note).

24:15–16 As in the third oracle (see vv. 3–4), the introduction to the fourth oracle is lengthy, helping to prepare the reader for the startling words of the prophecy.

And knows the knowledge of the [2]Most High,
Who sees the vision of [3]the Almighty,
Falling down, yet having his eyes uncovered.
17 "I see him, but not now;
I behold him, but not near;
A star shall come forth from Jacob,
[a]A scepter shall rise from Israel,
[b]And shall crush through the [1]forehead of Moab,
And [2]tear down all the sons of [3]Sheth.
18 "[a]Edom shall be a possession,
[b]Seir, its enemies, also will be a possession,
While Israel performs valiantly.
19 "One from Jacob shall have dominion,
And will destroy the remnant from the city."
20 And he looked at Amalek and took up his discourse and said,
"Amalek was the first of the nations,
[a]But his end shall be [1]destruction."
21 And he looked at the [a]Kenite, and took up his discourse and said,
"Your dwelling place is enduring,
And your nest is set in the cliff.
22 "Nevertheless Kain will be consumed;
How long will [a]Asshur [1]keep you captive?"
23 Then he took up his discourse and said,
"Alas, who can live except God has ordained it?
24 "But ships shall come from the coast of [a]Kittim,
And they shall afflict Asshur and will afflict [b]Eber;
[c]So they also will come to destruction."
25 Then Balaam arose and departed and returned to [a]his place, and Balak also went his way.

The Sin of Peor

25 While Israel remained at [a]Shittim, the people began [b]to play the harlot with the daughters of Moab.
2 For [a]they invited the people to the sacrifices of their gods, and the people ate and bowed down to their gods.
3 So [a]Israel joined themselves to [1]Baal of Peor, and the LORD was angry against Israel.
4 The LORD said to Moses, "Take all the leaders of the people and execute them [1]in broad daylight before the LORD, [a]so that the fierce anger of the LORD may turn away from Israel."
5 So Moses said to the judges of Israel, "Each of you [a]slay his men who have joined themselves to [1]Baal of Peor."
6 Then behold, one of the sons of Israel came and brought to his [1]relatives a [a]Midianite woman, in the sight of Moses and in the sight of all the congregation of the sons of Israel, [b]while they were weeping at the doorway of the tent of meeting.
7 [a]When Phinehas the son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron the priest, saw it, he arose from the midst of the congregation and took a spear in his hand,
8 and he went after the man of Israel into the [1]tent and pierced both of them through, the man of Israel and the woman, through the [2]body. [a]So the plague on the sons of Israel was checked.
9 [a]Those who died by the plague were 24,000.

The Zeal of Phinehas

10 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,
11 "[a]Phinehas the son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron the priest, has turned away My wrath from the sons of Israel in that he was jealous with My jealousy among them, so that I did 24:17 star . . . scepter. Perhaps fulfilled initially in David, but ultimately in the coming Messianic ruler. Israel's future Deliverer will be like a star (cf. Rev 22:16) and scepter in his royalty and will bring victory over the enemies of his people (see v. 19). Sheth. Possibly the early inhabitants of Moab known as the Shutu people in ancient Egyptian documents.

24:20 Amalek was the first. The first to attack Israel and oppose the Lord's purpose with his people (see Ex 17:8–13).
24:21 Kenite. The name suggests a tribe of metal workers. In other passages the Kenites are allied with Israel (see, e.g., Judg 1:16; 4:11; 1 Sam 15:6). Since Moses' father-in-law was a Kenite but also associated with Midian (see Ex 2:16), it may be that Balaam's reference is to Midianites (see 22:4,7). nest. Hebrew qen, a wordplay on the word for Kenites (Hebrew qeni).
24:22 Asshur. Assyria.
24:24 Kittim. Probably ancient Kition in Cyprus. they shall afflict Asshur and will afflict Eber; So . . . destruction. One nation will rise and supplant another, only to face its own doom. By contrast, there is the implied ongoing blessing on Israel, and their sure promise of a future deliverer who will have the final victory (vv. 17–19).
25:1–18 It is not until 31:8,16 that we learn that the principal instigator of Israel's apostasy was Balaam (see notes on 22:5,8). Failing to destroy Israel by means of the mantic curse, Balaam seduced Israel by the Canaanite fertility rites of Baal.
25:1 Shittim. Another name for the region of Israel's staging for the conquest of Canaan; it was across the Jordan River opposite the ancient city of Jericho (see Josh 2:1). play the harlot. Israel's engagement in the fertility rites of Baal involved not only the evil of sexual immorality. It was also a breach of covenant with the Lord, a worship of the gods of the land (vv. 2–3) and a foretaste of the people's ruin in the unfolding of their history.
25:4 execute them in broad daylight. The special display of the corpses would warn survivors of the consequences of sin.
25:6 brought to his relatives a Midianite woman. The contempt for the holy things and the word of the Lord shown by Zimri (v. 14) and his lover Cozbi (v. 15) is unimaginable.
25:9 24,000. The number of those who died because of the flagrant actions of the people in their worship of Baal exceeded even those who died in the rebellion of Korah and his allies (14,700; see 16:49). Again, the large number of those who died fits well with the immense number of the people stated in the first census (1:46) and the second (26:51).
25:11 he was jealous with My jealousy. Cf. Ex 20:4–6. The zeal of Phinehas for the Lord's honor became the occasion for the not destroy the sons of Israel [b]in My jealousy.

12 "Therefore say, '[a]Behold, I give him My [b]covenant of peace;

13 and it shall be for him and his [1]descendants after him, a covenant of a [a]perpetual priesthood, because he was jealous for his God and [b]made atonement for the sons of Israel.' "

14 Now the name of the [1]slain man of Israel who was [1]slain with the Midianite woman, was Zimri the son of Salu, a leader of a father's household among the Simeonites.

15 The name of the Midianite woman who was [1]slain was [a]Cozbi the daughter of [b]Zur, [2]who was head of the people of a father's household in Midian.

16 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

17 "[a]Be hostile to the Midianites and strike them;

18 for they have been hostile to you with their tricks, with which they have deceived you in the affair of Peor and in the affair of Cozbi, the daughter of the leader of Midian, their sister who was slain on the day of the plague because of Peor."

Census of a New Generation

26 [1]Then it came about after the [a]plague, [2]that the LORD spoke to Moses and to Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest, saying,

2 "[a]Take a [1]census of all the congregation of the sons of Israel from twenty years old and upward, by their fathers' households, whoever is able to go out to war in Israel."

3 So Moses and Eleazar the priest spoke with them [a]in the plains of Moab by the Jordan at Jericho, saying,

4 "Take a census of the people from twenty years old and upward, as the LORD has commanded Moses."

Now the sons of Israel who came out of the land of Egypt were:

5 Reuben, Israel's firstborn, the sons of Reuben: of Hanoch, the family of the Hanochites; of Pallu, the family of the Palluites;

6 of Hezron, the family of the Hezronites; of Carmi, the family of the Carmites.

7 These are the families of the Reubenites, and those who were numbered of them were [a]43,730.

8 The son of Pallu: Eliab.

9 The sons of Eliab: Nemuel and Dathan and Abiram. These are the Dathan and Abiram who were [a]called by the congregation, who contended against Moses and against Aaron in the company of Korah, when they contended against the LORD,

10 and [a]the earth opened its mouth and swallowed them up along with Korah, when that company died, [b]when the fire devoured 250 men, so that they became a [1]warning.

11 [a]The sons of Korah, however, did not die.

12 The sons of Simeon according to their families: of [1]Nemuel, the family of the Nemuelites; of Jamin, the family of the Jaminites; of [2]Jachin, the family of the Jachinites;

13 of [1]Zerah, the family of the Zerahites; of Shaul, the family of the Shaulites.

14 These are the families of the Simeonites, [a]22,200.

15 The sons of Gad according to their families: of [1]Zephon, the family of the Zephonites; of Haggi, the family of the Haggites; of Shuni, the family of the Shunites;

16 of [1]Ozni, the family of the Oznites; of Eri, the family of the Erites;

17 of [1]Arod, the family of the Arodites; of Areli, the family of the Arelites.

18 These are the families of the sons of Lord's covenanting with him and his descendants as God's true priests (see note on Gen 9:9). This son of Eleazar contrasts with the casual wickedness of his uncles, Nadab and Abihu (see Lev 10:1–3 and notes).

25:17 Be hostile to the Midianites. Because of their active participation in the seduction of the Israelites. Midianites had been in league with Balak from the beginning of the confrontation (see 22:4,7) and became the objects of a holy war (31:1–24).

26:1–51 The first census of those who were mustered for the war of conquest had been taken over 38 years earlier. That first generation of men 20 years old or more had nearly all died. It was now time for the new generation to be numbered and mustered for the campaign that awaited them. The aged Moses was joined in the task this time by his nephew Eleazar; Aaron was dead (see 20:28). In this second census the prominent clans of each tribe are listed. The numbers of most of the tribes increase. Reuben is one of the tribes that shows a decline. It is possible that the slight reduction of the families of Reuben was brought about by the judgment on their members during the rebellion of Korah and his Reubenite allies (see note on v. 9). In the intervening years the family of Reuben had nearly caught up with its former numbers (see note on v. 14). Note the comparison of the numbers of each tribe from the first census to the second:

Tribe	First Census	Second Census
Reuben	46,500	43,730
Simeon	59,300	22,200
Gad	45,650	40,500
Judah	74,600	76,500
Issachar	54,400	64,300
Zebulun	57,400	60,500
Ephraim	40,500	32,500
Manasseh	32,200	52,700
Benjamin	35,400	45,600
Dan	62,700	64,400
Asher	41,500	53,400
Naphtali	53,400	45,400
Total	603,550	601,730

26:9 Dathan and Abiram. The listing of Reuben's families becomes an occasion to remind the reader of the part that certain of their number had in Korah's rebellion (see 16:1; cf. Jude 11).

26:14 22,200. The greatest loss was in the tribe of Simeon (down from 59,300). Zimri was from the house of Simeon (25:14). Perhaps most of the 24,000 who died in the plague of that time were from Simeon. The judgment was so recent that the tribe had not had time to recover, as had the tribe of Reuben (see note on vv. 1–51).

Gad according to those who were numbered of them, [a]40,500.

19 The [a]sons of Judah were Er and Onan, but Er and Onan died in the land of Canaan.

20 The [a]sons of Judah according to their families were: of Shelah, the family of the Shelanites; of Perez, the family of the Perezites; of Zerah, the family of the Zerahites.

21 The sons of Perez were: of Hezron, the family of the Hezronites; of Hamul, the family of the Hamulites.

22 These are the families of Judah according to those who were numbered of them, [a]76,500.

23 The [a]sons of Issachar according to their families: of Tola, the family of the Tolaites; of [1]Puvah, the family of the Punites;

24 of [1]Jashub, the family of the Jashubites; of Shimron, the family of the Shimronites.

25 These are the families of Issachar according to those who were numbered of them, [a]64,300.

26 The [a]sons of Zebulun according to their families: of Sered, the family of the Seredites; of Elon, the family of the Elonites; of Jahleel, the family of the Jahleelites.

27 These are the families of the Zebulunites according to those who were numbered of them, [a]60,500.

28 The [a]sons of Joseph according to their families: Manasseh and Ephraim.

29 The sons of Manasseh: of Machir, the family of the Machirites; and [a]Machir [1]became the father of Gilead: of Gilead, the family of the Gileadites.

30 These are the sons of Gilead: of [1]Iezer, the family of the [a]Iezerites; of Helek, the family of the Helekites;

31 and of Asriel, the family of the Asrielites; and of Shechem, the family of the Shechemites;

32 and of Shemida, the family of the Shemidaites; and of Hepher, the family of the Hepherites.

33 Now Zelophehad the son of Hepher had no sons, but only daughters; and [a]the names of the daughters of Zelophehad were Mahlah, Noah, Hoglah, Milcah and Tirzah.

34 These are the families of Manasseh; and those who were numbered of them were [a]52,700.

35 These are the sons of Ephraim according to their families: of Shuthelah, the family of the Shuthelahites; of [1]Becher, the family of the Becherites; of Tahan, the family of the Tahanites.

36 These are the sons of Shuthelah: of Eran, the family of the Eranites.

37 These are the families of the sons of Ephraim according to those who were numbered of them, [a]32,500. These are the sons of Joseph according to their families.

38 The sons of Benjamin according to their families: of Bela, the family of the Belaites; of Ashbel, the family of the Ashbelites; of [1]Ahiram, the family of the Ahiramites;

39 of [1]Shephupham, the family of the Shuphamites; of [2]Hupham, the family of the Huphamites.

40 The sons of Bela were [1]Ard and Naaman: of Ard, the family of the Ardites; of Naaman, the family of the Naamites.

41 These are the sons of Benjamin according to their families; and those who were numbered of them were [a]45,600.

42 These are the sons of Dan according to their families: of [1]Shuham, the family of the Shuhamites. These are the families of Dan according to their families.

43 All the families of the Shuhamites, according to those who were numbered of them, were [a]64,400.

44 The [a]sons of Asher according to their families: of Imnah, the family of the Imnites; of Ishvi, the family of the Ishvites; of Beriah, the family of the Beriites.

45 Of the sons of Beriah: of Heber, the family of the Heberites; of Malchiel, the family of the Malchielites.

46 The name of the daughter of Asher was Serah.

47 These are the families of the sons of Asher according to those who were numbered of them, [a]53,400.

48 The [a]sons of Naphtali according to their families: of Jahzeel, the family of the Jahzeelites; of Guni, the family of the Gunites;

49 of Jezer, the family of the Jezerites; of [a]Shillem, the family of the Shillemites.

50 These are the families of Naphtali according to their families; and those who were numbered of them were [a]45,400.

51 These are those who were numbered of the sons of Israel, [a]601,730.

26:20 Perez. The line of David and Jesus would be traced through him (Ruth 4:18–22; Matt 1:1–3).
26:29,35 Manasseh . . . Ephraim. The order of the tribes is the same as in ch. 1, except for the inversion of Ephraim and Manasseh.
26:33 Zelophehad . . . daughters. See 27:1–11; 36.
26:34 52,700. The greatest gain was in the tribe of Manasseh (up from 32,200). The reason for this increase is not known.
26:46 daughter . . . was Serah. The listing of this solitary daughter is striking.
26:51 601,730. Despite all that the people had been through during the years of wilderness experience, their total number was nearly the same as that of those who were first numbered. This remarkable fact is to be regarded as the blessing of the Lord, in fulfillment of His many promises to give numerical strength to the people descended from Abraham through Jacob (see note on Gen 12:2–3). This grand total and its parts are in accord with the general pattern of the numbers in the book (see note on 1:46).

53 "[1]Among these the land shall be divided for an inheritance according to the number of names.

54 "[a]To the larger group you shall increase their inheritance, and to the smaller group you shall diminish their inheritance; each shall be given their inheritance according to those who were numbered of them.

55 "But the land shall be [a]divided by lot. They shall [1]receive their inheritance according to the names of the tribes of their fathers.

56 "According to the selection by lot, their inheritance shall be divided between the larger and the smaller groups."

57 [a]These are those who were numbered of the Levites according to their families: of Gershon, the family of the Gershonites; of Kohath, the family of the Kohathites; of Merari, the family of the Merarites.

58 These are the families of Levi: the family of the Libnites, the family of the Hebronites, the family of the Mahlites, the family of the Mushites, the family of the Korahites. [a]Kohath [1]became the father of Amram.

59 The name of Amram's wife [a]was Jochebed, the daughter of Levi, who was born to Levi in Egypt; and she bore to Amram: Aaron and Moses and their sister Miriam.

60 [a]To Aaron were born Nadab and Abihu, Eleazar and Ithamar.

61 [a]But Nadab and Abihu died when they offered strange fire before the LORD.

62 Those who were numbered of them were [a]23,000, every male from a month old and upward, for [b]they were not numbered among the sons of Israel [c]since no inheritance was given to them among the sons of Israel.

63 These are those who were numbered by Moses and Eleazar the priest, who numbered the sons of Israel in the plains of Moab by the Jordan at Jericho.

64 [a]But among these there was not a man of those who were numbered by Moses and Aaron the priest, who numbered the sons of Israel in the wilderness of Sinai.

65 For the LORD had said [1]of them, "[a]They shall surely die in the wilderness." And not a man was left of them, [b]except Caleb the son of Jephunneh and Joshua the son of Nun.

A Law of Inheritance

27 Then [a]the daughters of Zelophehad, the son of Hepher, the son of Gilead, the son of Machir, the son of Manasseh, of the families of Manasseh the son of Joseph, came near; and these are [b]the names of his daughters: Mahlah, Noah and Hoglah and Milcah and Tirzah.

2 They stood before Moses and before Eleazar the priest and before the leaders and all the congregation, at the doorway of the tent of meeting, saying,

3 "Our father [a]died in the wilderness, yet he was not among the company of those who gathered themselves together against the LORD in the company of Korah; but he died in his own sin, and [b]he had no sons.

4 "Why should the name of our father be withdrawn from among his family because he had no son? Give us a possession among our father's brothers."

5 [a]So Moses brought their case before the LORD.

6 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

7 "[a]The daughters of Zelophehad are right in their statements. You shall surely give them a hereditary possession among their father's brothers, and you shall transfer the inheritance of their father to them.

8 "Further, you shall speak to the sons of Israel, saying, 'If a man dies and has no son, then you shall transfer his inheritance to his daughter.

9 'If he has no daughter, then you shall give his inheritance to his brothers.

10 'If he has no brothers, then you shall give his inheritance to his father's brothers.

11 'If his father has no brothers, then you shall give his inheritance to his nearest relative in his own family, and he shall possess it; and it shall be a [a]statutory ordinance to the sons of Israel, just as the LORD commanded Moses.' "

12 [a]Then the LORD said to Moses, "Go up to this [b]mountain of Abarim, and see the land which I have given to the sons of Israel.

13 "When you have seen it, you too [a]will be gathered to your people, [b]as Aaron your brother [1]was;

26:53 divided . . . according to the number. Larger tribes would receive larger shares, but decisions of place would be made by lot (see 33:54).

26:57 Levites. As in the first census (ch. 3), the Levites were counted separately.

27:1–11 The daughters of a man who had no son (see 26:33) were concerned about their rights of inheritance and the preservation of their father's name in the land (v. 4). Their action in approaching Moses, Eleazar and the leaders of the nation was unprecedented, an act of courage and conviction.

27:3 he died in his own sin. A particular case from among those who died in the wilderness (see 26:64–65). These pious women had a sound understanding of the nature of the wilderness experience and a just claim for their family.

27:5 Moses brought their case before the LORD. This verse indicates how case law might have operated in Israel. The general laws would be proclaimed. Then legitimate exceptions or special considerations would come to the elders, and perhaps to Moses himself. He then would await a decision from the Lord. In this case, the Lord gave a favorable decision for these women. Ch. 36 provides an appendix to this account.

27:12–23 The juxtaposition of the story of Zelophehad's daughters' request for an inheritance in the land (vv. 1–11) and the Lord's words to Moses about his own exclusion from the land (vv. 12–14) is touching. Provisions are made for exceptions and irregularities in the inheritance laws, but there is no provision for Moses. His sin at the waters of Meribah at Kadesh (20:1–13) was always before him.

strife of the congregation, [a]you rebelled against My [1]command [2]to treat Me as holy before their eyes at the water." (These are the waters of Meribah of Kadesh in the wilderness of Zin.)

Joshua to Succeed Moses

15 Then Moses spoke to the LORD, saying,
16 "[a]May the LORD, the God of the spirits of all flesh, appoint a man over the congregation,
17 who [a]will go out [1]and come in before them, and who will lead them out and [2]bring them in, so that the congregation of the LORD will not be [b]like sheep which have no shepherd."
18 So the LORD said to Moses, "[1]Take Joshua the son of Nun, a man [a]in whom is the Spirit, and [b]lay your hand on him;
19 and have him stand before Eleazar the priest and before all the congregation, and [a]commission him in their sight.
20 "You shall put some of your [1]authority on him, in order that all the congregation of the sons of Israel may obey him.
21 "Moreover, he shall stand before Eleazar the priest, who shall inquire for him [a]by the judgment of the Urim before the LORD. At his [1]command they shall go out and at his [1]command they shall come in, both he and the sons of Israel with him, even all the congregation."
22 Moses did just as the LORD commanded him; and he took Joshua and set him before Eleazar the priest and before all the congregation.
23 Then he laid his hands on him and [a]commissioned him, just as the LORD had spoken [1]through Moses.

Laws for Offerings

28 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,
2 "Command the sons of Israel and say to them, 'You shall [1]be careful to present My offering, My [a]food for My offerings by fire, of a soothing aroma to Me, at their appointed time.'
3 "[a]You shall say to them, 'This is the offering by fire which you shall offer to the LORD: two male lambs one year old without defect as a continual burnt offering every day.

27:16 appoint a man. Moses' reaction to this reassertion of his restriction is a prayer for his successor.
27:18 Take Joshua. As Moses and Aaron needed to determine the true successor of Aaron before his death (20:22–29), so the true successor of Moses also needed to be established. Joshua and Caleb were the two heroes in the darkest hour of Israel's apostasy (chs. 13–14). It was fitting that the Lord selected one of them (cf. Ex 17:9–14; 24:13; 32:17; 33:11).
27:20 put some of your authority on him. The transition from Moses' leadership to that of any successor would be difficult. The change would be smoother by a gradual shift of power while Moses was still alive.
28:1–29:40 These chapters attest to the all-pervasiveness of sacrifice in the life of the people and to the enormity of the work of the priests. Perhaps the reason for these passages at this time is to give continuity to the impending transition from the leadership of Moses to that of Joshua (27:12–23).
28:1–8 See Ex 29:38–41; Lev 1–7 and notes.
28:9–10 The sabbath offerings were in addition to the daily offerings.
28:11–15 The sacrifices at the beginning of the month were of great significance. These were times for celebration and blowing of trumpets in worship (see 10:10).
28:16–25 The priests are instructed as to the proper preparation for the Passover in the first month of the year. Passover is also associated with the Feast of Unleavened Bread (see Ex 12:15; Lev 23:4–8). The number 7 (and 14, its multiple) reappears frequently in the paragraph.

28:26–31 The Feast of Weeks came 50 days after the Feast of Unleavened Bread (see Lev 23:9–22); from this number the term "Pentecost" (meaning "fifty") was used in the NT (Ac 2:1).

29:1–6 The Feast of Trumpets came at the beginning of the seventh month, a busy month for the worship of the Lord in holy festivals (see Lev 23:23–25; see also chart, pp. 164–165). Later in Jewish tradition this feast commemorated the New Year, Rosh Hashanah. The trumpet used was the shophar, the ram's horn.

29:7–11 The Feast of Trumpets leads into the day of atonement, a time of confession, contrition and celebration (see Lev 16; 23:26–32).

29:12–34 In the seventh month the Feast of Trumpets took place on the first day, the day of atonement occurred on the tenth day, and the Feast of Booths began on the 15th day and lasted for seven days (see Lev 23:33–44). Each day of the Feast of Booths had its own order for sacrifice.

40 [1]Moses spoke to the sons of Israel in accordance with all that the LORD had commanded Moses.

The Law of Vows

30 Then Moses spoke to [a]the heads of the tribes of the sons of Israel, saying, "This is the word which the LORD has commanded.
2 "[a]If a man makes a vow to the LORD, or takes an oath to bind himself with a binding obligation, he shall not violate his word; he shall do according to all that proceeds out of his mouth.
3 "Also if a woman makes a vow to the LORD, and binds herself by an obligation in her father's house in her youth,
4 and her father hears her vow and her obligation by which she has bound herself, and her father [1]says nothing to her, then all her vows shall stand and every obligation by which she has bound herself shall stand.
5 "But if her father should forbid her on the day he hears of it, none of her vows or her obligations by which she has bound herself shall stand; and the LORD will forgive her because her father had forbidden her.
6 "However, if she should [1]marry while [2]under her vows or the rash statement of her lips by which she has bound herself,
7 and her husband hears of it and says nothing to her on the day he hears it, then her vows shall stand and her obligations by which she has bound herself shall stand.
8 "But if on the day her husband hears of it, he forbids her, then he shall annul her vow which [1]she is under and the rash statement of her lips by which she has bound herself; and the LORD will forgive her.
9 "But the vow of a widow or of a divorced woman, everything by which she has bound herself, shall stand against her.
10 "However, if she vowed in her hus-

30:1–16 The principal OT passage on vows (see Deut 23:21–23). A vow is not to be made rashly (cf. Eccl 5:1–7), and a vow to the Lord must be kept.
30:3–5 The vow of an unmarried woman still under her father's protection might be nullified by her father. This and the following law were probably designed for the protection of the woman, who in ancient Near Eastern society was subject to strong societal pressures, some of which would leave her without defense.

16 These are the statutes which the LORD commanded Moses, as between a man and his wife, and as between a father and his daughter, while she is in her youth in her father's house.

The Slaughter of Midian

31 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 2 "[a]Take full vengeance for the sons of Israel on the Midianites; afterward you will be [b]gathered to your people."

3 Moses spoke to the people, saying, "Arm men from among you for the war, that they may [1]go against Midian to execute [a]the LORD'S vengeance on Midian.

4 "A thousand from each tribe of all the tribes of Israel you shall send to the war."

5 So there were [1]furnished from the thousands of Israel, a thousand from each tribe, twelve thousand armed for war.

6 Moses sent them, a thousand from each tribe, to the war, and Phinehas the son of Eleazar the priest, to the war with them, [a]and the holy vessels and [b]the trumpets for the alarm in his hand.

7 So they made war against Midian, just as the LORD had commanded Moses, and [a]they killed every male.

8 They killed the kings of Midian along with the rest of their slain: [a]Evi and Rekem and [b]Zur and Hur and Reba, the five kings of Midian; they also killed [c]Balaam the son of Beor with the sword.

9 The sons of Israel captured the women of Midian and their little ones; and all their cattle and all their flocks and all their goods they plundered.

10 Then they burned all their cities where they lived and all their camps with fire.

11 [a]They took all the spoil and all the prey, both of man and of beast.

12 They brought the captives and the prey and the spoil to Moses, and to Eleazar the priest and to the congregation of the sons of Israel, to the camp at the plains of Moab, which are by the Jordan opposite Jericho.

13 Moses and Eleazar the priest and all the leaders of the congregation went out to meet them outside the camp.

14 Moses was angry with the officers of the army, the captains of thousands and the captains of hundreds, who had come from service in the war.

15 And Moses said to them, "Have you [1]spared [a]all the women?

16 "[a]Behold, these [1]caused the sons of Israel, through the [2]counsel of [b]Balaam, to [3]trespass against the LORD in the matter of Peor, so the plague was among the congregation of the LORD.

17 "[a]Now therefore, kill every male among the little ones, and kill every woman who has known man [1]intimately.

30:10–15 Further examples of the complications that come in the taking of vows within the husband-wife relationship. Such complications may have come up much as in the case of Zelophehad's daughters (27:1–11). One case after another presented itself, resulting in this final codification. Presumably, in the centuries leading up to the NT, the legal decisions on vows became even more complex. The words of Jesus that one is to avoid complications connected with oaths (Matt 5:33–37) are liberating.

31:1–24 The Lord declares a holy war (see essay, p. 271) against the Midianites as one of Moses' last actions before the end of his life. Moses was not motivated by petty jealousy; rather, the war was "the LORD's vengeance" (v. 3) for the Midianites' part in seducing the Israelites to engage in sexual immorality and to worship the Baal of Peor. (See 25:16–18, where the specific mention of Cozbi, a Midianite woman, heightens the anger expressed in ch. 31.)

31:2 gathered to your people. A euphemism for death (see, e.g., Gen 25:8,17; 35:29).

31:4 A thousand from each tribe of... Israel. The burden of the holy war had to be shared equally among the tribes.

31:6 Phinehas. His zeal for the Lord's honor led him to execute Zimri and Cozbi (25:8). Now he leads in the sacred aspects of the battle to demonstrate that this is a holy war. trumpets. See note on 10:3.

31:7 as the LORD had commanded Moses. The battle was the Lord's.

31:8 they also killed Balaam. Ch. 25 lacks the name of the principal instigator of the seduction of the Israelite men to the depraved worship of Baal. But here he is found among the dead. What Balaam had been unable to accomplish through acts of magic or sorcery (chs. 22–24) he was almost able to achieve by his advice to the Midianites (v. 16).

31:9–18 While the troops killed the men of Midian, they spared the women and children as plunder. Moses commanded that only the virgin women (who were thus innocent of the indecencies at Peor) could be spared; the guilty women and the boys (who might endanger the inheritance rights of Israelite men) were to be put to death (vv. 15–17).

31:19–24 Since this was holy war, both people (vv. 19–20) and things (vv. 21–24) had to be cleansed (cf. 19:11–13).

selves, you and your captives, on the third day and on the seventh day.

20 "You shall purify for yourselves every garment and every article of [1]leather and all the work of goats' hair, and all articles of wood."

21 Then Eleazar the priest said to the men of war who had gone to battle, "This is the statute of the law which the LORD has commanded Moses:

22 only the gold and the silver, the bronze, the iron, the tin and the lead,

23 everything that can stand the fire, you shall pass through the fire, and it shall be clean, but it shall be purified with [a]water for impurity. But whatever cannot stand the fire you shall pass through the water.

24 "And you shall wash your clothes on the seventh day and be clean, and afterward you may enter the camp."

Division of the Booty

25 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

26 "You and Eleazar the priest and the heads of the fathers' households of the congregation take a count of the booty [1]that was captured, both of man and of animal;

27 and [a]divide the booty between the warriors who went out to battle and all the congregation.

28 "[a]Levy a tax for the LORD from the men of war who went out to battle, one [1]in five hundred of the persons and of the cattle and of the donkeys and of the sheep;

29 take it from their half and give it to Eleazar the priest, as an [1]offering to the LORD.

30 "From the sons of Israel's half, you shall take one drawn out of every fifty of the persons, of the cattle, of the donkeys and of the sheep, from all the animals, and give them to the Levites who [a]keep charge of the tabernacle of the LORD."

31 Moses and Eleazar the priest did just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

32 Now the booty that remained from the spoil which the [1]men of war had plundered was 675,000 sheep,

33 and 72,000 cattle,

34 and 61,000 donkeys,

35 and of human beings, of the women who had not known man [1]intimately, all the persons were 32,000.

36 The half, the portion of those who went out to war, was as follows: the number of sheep was 337,500,

37 and the LORD's levy of the sheep was 675;

38 and the cattle were 36,000, from which the LORD's levy was 72;

39 and the donkeys were 30,500, from which the LORD's levy was 61;

40 and the human beings were 16,000, from whom the LORD's levy was 32 persons.

41 Moses gave the levy which was the LORD's offering to Eleazar the priest, just [a]as the LORD had commanded Moses.

42 As for the sons of Israel's half, which Moses [1]separated from the men who had gone to war—

43 now the congregation's half was 337,500 sheep,

44 and 36,000 cattle,

45 and 30,500 donkeys,

46 and the human beings were 16,000—

47 and from the sons of Israel's half, Moses took one drawn out of every fifty, both of man and of animals, and gave them to the Levites, who kept charge of the tabernacle of the LORD, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

48 Then the officers who were over the thousands of the army, the captains of thousands and the captains of hundreds, approached Moses, 49 and they said to Moses, "Your servants have taken a census of men of war who are in our charge, and no man of us is missing.

50 "So we have brought as an offering to the LORD what each man found, articles of gold, armlets and bracelets, signet rings, earrings and necklaces, [a]to make atonement for ourselves before the LORD."

51 Moses and Eleazar the priest took the gold from them, all kinds of wrought articles.

52 All the gold of the offering which they offered up to the LORD, from the captains of thousands and the captains of hundreds, was 16,750 shekels.

53 [a]The men of war had taken booty, every man for himself.

54 So Moses and Eleazar the priest took the gold from the captains of thousands and of hundreds, and brought it to the tent of meeting as [a]a memorial for the sons of Israel before the LORD.

Reuben and Gad Settle in Gilead

32 Now the sons of Reuben and the sons of Gad had an [a]exceedingly large number of livestock. So when they saw the land of [b]Jazer and the land of Gilead, that [1]it was indeed a place suitable for livestock,

2 the sons of Gad and the sons of Reuben came and spoke to Moses and to Eleazar the priest and to the leaders of the congregation, saying,

3 "[a]Ataroth, Dibon, Jazer, Nimrah, Heshbon, Elealeh, Sebam, Nebo and Beon, 31:26–35 Another aspect of holy war was the fair distribution of the spoils of war, both among those who fought in the battle and among those who stayed with the community, with appropriate shares to be given to the Lord, whose battle it was (v. 28).

32:1 sons of Reuben and the sons of Gad. The abundance of fertile grazing land in Transjordan prompted the leaders of these two tribes to request that they be allowed to settle there and not cross the Jordan. This area too was a gift of God won by conquest.

4 the land [a]which the LORD [1]conquered before the congregation of Israel, is a land for livestock, and your servants have livestock."

5 They said, "If we have found favor in your sight, let this land be given to your servants as a possession; do not take us across the Jordan."

6 But Moses said to the sons of Gad and to the sons of Reuben, "Shall your brothers go to war while you yourselves sit here?

7 "[a]Now why are you [1]discouraging the sons of Israel from crossing over into the land which the LORD has given them?

8 "[1]This is what your fathers did when I sent them from [a]Kadesh-barnea to see the land.

9 "For when they went up to [a]the [1]valley of Eshcol and saw the land, they [2]discouraged the sons of Israel so that they did not go into the land which the LORD had given them.

10 "So [a]the LORD's anger burned in that day, and He swore, saying,

11 '[a]None of the men who came up from Egypt, from twenty years old and upward, shall see the land which I swore to Abraham, to Isaac and to Jacob; for they did not follow Me fully,

12 except Caleb the son of Jephunneh the Kenizzite and Joshua the son of Nun, [a]for they have followed the LORD fully.'

13 "[a]So the LORD's anger burned against Israel, and He made them wander in the wilderness forty years, until the entire generation of those who had done evil in the sight of the LORD was destroyed.

14 "Now behold, you have risen up in your fathers' place, a brood of sinful men, to add still more to the burning [a]anger of the LORD against Israel.

15 "For if you [a]turn away from following Him, He will once more abandon them in the wilderness, and you will destroy all these people."

16 Then they came near to him and said, "We will build here sheepfolds for our livestock and cities for our little ones;

17 [a]but we ourselves will be armed ready to go before the sons of Israel, until we have brought them to their place, while our little ones live in the fortified cities because of the inhabitants of the land.

18 "[a]We will not return to our homes until every one of the sons of Israel has possessed his inheritance.

19 "For we will not have an inheritance with them on the other side of the Jordan and beyond, because our inheritance has fallen to us [a]on this side of the Jordan toward the east."

20 [a]So Moses said to them, "If you will do [1]this, if you will arm yourselves before the LORD for the war,

21 and all of you armed men cross over the Jordan before the LORD until He has driven His enemies out from before Him,

22 [a]and the land is subdued before the LORD, then afterward you shall return and be free of obligation toward the LORD and toward Israel, and this land shall be yours for a possession before the LORD.

23 "But if you will not do so, behold, you have sinned against the LORD, and be sure [a]your sin will find you out.

24 "Build yourselves cities for your little ones, and sheepfolds for your sheep, and [a]do [1]what you have promised."

25 The sons of Gad and the sons of Reuben spoke to Moses, saying, "Your servants will do just as my lord commands.

26 "[a]Our little ones, our wives, our livestock and all our cattle shall [1]remain there in the cities of Gilead;

27 while your servants, everyone who is armed for war, will [a]cross over in the presence of the LORD to battle, just as my lord says."

28 So Moses gave command concerning them to Eleazar the priest, and to Joshua the son of Nun, and to the heads of the fathers' households of the tribes of the sons of Israel.

29 Moses said to them, "If the sons of Gad and the sons of Reuben, everyone who is armed for battle, will cross with you over the Jordan in the presence of the LORD, and the land is subdued before you, then you shall give them the land of Gilead for a possession;

30 but if they will not cross over with you armed, they shall have possessions among you in the land of Canaan."

31 The sons of Gad and the sons of Reuben answered, saying, "As the LORD has said to your servants, so we will do.

32 "We ourselves will cross over armed in the presence of the LORD into the land of Canaan, and the possession of our inheritance shall remain with us across the Jordan."

33 [a]So Moses gave to them, to the sons of Gad and to the sons of Reuben and to the half-tribe of Joseph's son Manasseh, the 32:8 This is what your fathers did. Moses' fear was that the failure of these two tribes to stay with the whole community in conquering Canaan would be the beginning of a general revolt against entering the land. It would be the failure of Kadesh (chs. 13–14) all over again. Moreover, the conquest of Canaan was a commission to all Israel.

32:17 we ourselves will be armed. The leaders of Reuben and Gad sought to assure Moses that they did not wish to shirk their duty in helping to conquer the land. They would join their brothers in battle but wished to leave their families and livestock behind in the territory of their choosing.

Review of the Journey from Egypt to Jordan

33 These are the journeys of the sons of Israel, by which they came out from the land of Egypt by their armies, under [a]the [1]leadership of Moses and Aaron.

2 Moses recorded their starting places according to their journeys by the [1]command of the LORD, and these are their journeys according to their starting places.

3 [a]They journeyed from Rameses in the first month, on the fifteenth day of the first month; on the [1]next day after the Passover the sons of Israel [b]started out [2]boldly in the sight of all the Egyptians,

4 while the Egyptians were burying all their firstborn whom the LORD had struck down among them. The LORD had also executed judgments [a]on their gods.

5 Then [a]the sons of Israel journeyed from Rameses and camped in Succoth.

6 [a]They journeyed from Succoth and camped in Etham, which is on the edge of the wilderness.

7 [a]They journeyed from Etham and turned back to Pi-hahiroth, which faces Baal-zephon, and they camped before Migdol.

8 [a]They journeyed [1]from before Hahiroth and passed through the midst of the sea into the wilderness; and [b]they went three days' journey in the wilderness of Etham and camped at Marah.

9 [a]They journeyed from Marah and came to Elim; and in Elim there were twelve springs of water and seventy palm trees, and they camped there.

10 They journeyed from Elim and camped by the [1]Red Sea.

11 They journeyed from the [1]Red Sea and camped in [a]the wilderness of Sin.

12 They journeyed from the wilderness of Sin and camped at Dophkah.

13 They journeyed from Dophkah and camped at Alush.

14 They journeyed from Alush and camped [a]at Rephidim; now it was there that the people had no water to drink.

15 They journeyed from Rephidim and camped in [a]the wilderness of Sinai.

16 They journeyed from the wilderness of Sinai and camped at [a]Kibroth-hattaavah.

17 They journeyed from Kibroth-hattaavah and camped at [a]Hazeroth.

18 They journeyed from Hazeroth and camped at Rithmah.

19 They journeyed from Rithmah and camped at Rimmon-perez.

20 They journeyed from Rimmon-perez and camped at [a]Libnah.

21 They journeyed from Libnah and camped at Rissah.

22 They journeyed from Rissah and camped in Kehelathah.

23 They journeyed from Kehelathah and camped at Mount Shepher.

24 They journeyed from Mount Shepher and camped at Haradah.

25 They journeyed from Haradah and camped at Makheloth.

26 They journeyed from Makheloth and camped at Tahath.

27 They journeyed from Tahath and camped at Terah.

28 They journeyed from Terah and camped at Mithkah.

29 They journeyed from Mithkah and camped at Hashmonah.

30 They journeyed from Hashmonah and camped at [a]Moseroth.

31 They journeyed from Moseroth and camped at Bene-jaakan.

33:1–49 The numerous places (significantly 40 in number between Rameses and the plains of Moab) in Israel's wilderness experience are listed. Unfortunately, most of the sites were wilderness encampments, not cities with lasting archaeological records; so they are difficult to locate. Many of the places (e.g., in vv. 19–29) are not recorded elsewhere in Exodus and Numbers. Some of the places mentioned elsewhere (e.g., Taberah, 11:3; see 21:19) are missing here. The data warrant these conclusions: 1. Moses recorded the list at the Lord's command (v. 2). 2. The list should be taken seriously, as an accurate recapitulation of the stages of the journey, despite difficulty in locating many of the sites. 3. The numerical factor of 40 sites between Rameses and the plains of Moab suggests some styling of the list, which helps to account for the sites not included. 4. As in the case of genealogies in the Pentateuch, some factors of ancient significance may not be clear to us today. 5. Ultimately the record is a recital of the Lord's blessing on His people for the extended period of their wilderness experience. Although certainly not without geographical importance, the listing of the stages of Israel's experience in the wilderness is fundamentally a religious document, a litany of the Lord's deliverance of His people.

37 They journeyed from Kadesh and camped at [a]Mount Hor, [b]at the edge of the land of Edom.
38 [a]Then Aaron the priest went up to Mount Hor at the [1]command of the LORD, and died there in the fortieth year after the sons of Israel had come from the land of Egypt, on the first day in the fifth month.
39 Aaron was one hundred twenty-three years old when he died on Mount Hor.
40 Now the Canaanite, the king of [a]Arad [1]who lived in the [2]Negev in the land of Canaan, heard of the coming of the sons of Israel.
41 Then they journeyed from Mount Hor and camped at Zalmonah.

49 They camped by the Jordan, from Beth-jeshimoth as far as [a]Abel-shittim in the plains of Moab.

Law of Possessing the Land

50 Then the LORD spoke to Moses in the plains of Moab by the Jordan opposite Jericho, saying,
51 "Speak to the sons of Israel and say to them, '[a]When you cross over the Jordan into the land of Canaan,

55 'But if you do not drive out the inhabitants of the land from before you, then it shall come about that those whom you let remain of them will become [a]as pricks in your eyes and as thorns in your sides, and they will trouble you in the land in which you live.
56 'And as I plan to do to them, so I will do to you.' "

Instruction for Apportioning Canaan

34 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,
2 "Command the sons of Israel and say to them, 'When you enter [a]the land of Canaan, this is the land that shall fall to you as an inheritance, even the land of Canaan according to its borders.
3 '[a]Your southern [1]sector shall [2]extend from the wilderness of Zin along the side of Edom, and your southern border shall [2]extend from the end of the Salt Sea [b]eastward.

7 '[a]And this shall be your north border: you shall draw your border line from the Great Sea to Mount Hor.
8 'You shall draw a line from Mount Hor to [a]the [1]Lebo-hamath, and the termination of the border shall be at Zedad;
9 and the border shall proceed to Ziphron, and its termination shall be at Hazar-enan. This shall be your north border.
10 'For your eastern border you shall also draw a line from Hazar-enan to Shepham, 11 and the border shall go down from Shepham to [a]Riblah on the east side of Ain; and the border shall go down and reach to the [1]slope on the east side of the Sea of [b]Chinnereth.

Particularly important was the command to destroy all symbols of the pagan religious system of the Canaanites.

34:3–12 The listing of the four boundaries is not only for information, but also to display again the dimensions of God's great gift to His people.

12 'And the border shall go down to the Jordan and its termination shall be at the Salt Sea. This shall be your land according to its borders all around.' "

13 So Moses commanded the sons of Israel, saying, "[a]This is the land that you are to apportion by lot among you as a possession, which the LORD has commanded to give to the nine and a half tribes.

14 "[a]For the tribe of the sons of Reuben have received theirs according to their fathers' households, and the tribe of the sons of Gad according to their fathers' households, and the half-tribe of Manasseh have received their possession.

15 "The two and a half tribes have received their possession across the Jordan opposite Jericho, eastward toward the sunrising."

16 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

17 "[a]These are the names of the men who shall apportion the land to you for inheritance: Eleazar the priest and Joshua the son of Nun.

18 "You shall take one leader of every tribe to apportion the land for inheritance.

19 "These are the names of the men: of the tribe of [a]Judah, [b]Caleb the son of Jephunneh.

20 "Of the tribe of the sons of [a]Simeon, Samuel the son of Ammihud.

21 "Of the tribe of [a]Benjamin, Elidad the son of Chislon.

22 "Of the tribe of the sons of Dan a leader, Bukki the son of Jogli.

23 "Of the sons of Joseph: of the tribe of the sons of Manasseh a leader, Hanniel the son of Ephod.

24 "Of the tribe of the sons of Ephraim a leader, Kemuel the son of Shiphtan.

25 "Of the tribe of the sons of Zebulun a leader, Elizaphan the son of Parnach.

26 "Of the tribe of the sons of Issachar a leader, Paltiel the son of Azzan.

27 "Of the tribe of the sons of Asher a leader, Ahihud the son of Shelomi.

28 "Of the tribe of the sons of Naphtali a leader, Pedahel the son of Ammihud."

29 These are those whom the LORD commanded to apportion the inheritance to the sons of Israel in the land of Canaan.

Cities for the Levites

35 [a]Now the LORD spoke to Moses in the plains of Moab by the Jordan opposite Jericho, saying,

2 "Command the sons of Israel that they give to the Levites from the inheritance of their possession cities to live in; and you shall give to the Levites pasture lands around the cities.

3 "The cities shall be theirs to live in; and their pasture lands shall be for their cattle and for their herds and for all their beasts.

4 "The pasture lands of the cities which you shall give to the Levites shall extend from the wall of the city [1]outward a thousand cubits around.

5 "You shall also measure outside the city on the east side two thousand cubits, and on the south side two thousand cubits, and on the west side two thousand cubits, and on the north side two thousand cubits, with the city in the center. This shall become theirs as pasture lands for the cities.

Cities of Refuge

6 "The cities which you shall give to the Levites shall be the [a]six cities of refuge, which you shall give for the manslayer to flee to; and in addition to them you shall give forty-two cities.

7 "All the cities which you shall give to the Levites shall be [a]forty-eight cities, [1]together with their pasture lands.

8 "[a]As for the cities which you shall give from the possession of the sons of Israel, you shall take more from the larger and you shall take less from the smaller; each shall give some of his cities to the Levites in proportion to his possession which he inherits."

9 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

10 "[a]Speak to the sons of Israel and say to them, 'When you cross the Jordan into the land of Canaan,

11 [a]then you shall select for yourselves cities to be your [b]cities of refuge, that the manslayer who has [1]killed any person [c]unintentionally may flee there.

12 '[a]The cities shall be to you as a refuge from the avenger, so that the manslayer will not die until he stands before the congregation for [1]trial.

13 'The cities which you are to give shall be your six cities of refuge.

14 'You [a]shall give three cities across the Jordan and three cities [1]in the land of Canaan; they are to be cities of refuge.

15 'These six cities shall be for refuge for the sons of Israel, and for the alien and for the sojourner among them; that anyone who [1]kills a person [a]unintentionally may flee there.

34:13–15 The new realities that the settlement of Reuben, Gad and the half-tribe of Manasseh in Transjordan brought about (see ch. 32).

34:16–29 The listing of the new tribal leaders recalls the listing of the leaders of the first generation (1:5–16). This time the promise will be realized; these new leaders will assist Eleazar and Joshua in actually allotting the land.

35:1–5 Since the Levites would not receive an allotment with the other tribes in the land (1:47–53), they would need towns in which to live and to raise their families and care for their livestock. The Levites were to be spread throughout the land, not in an isolated encampment. Josh 21 presents the fulfillment of this command.

35:6–15 Six Levitical cities were to be stationed strategically in the land—three in Transjordan and three in Canaan proper—as cities of refuge, where a person guilty of unintentional manslaughter might escape blood revenge. Josh 20 describes the sites that were chosen.

16 'ᵃBut if he struck him down with an iron object, so that he died, he is a murderer; the murderer shall surely be put to death.

17 'If he struck him down with a stone in the hand, by which he will die, and as a result he died, he is a murderer; the murderer ᵃshall surely be put to death.

18 'Or if he struck him with a wooden object in the hand, by which he might die, and as a result he died, he is a murderer; the murderer shall surely be put to death.

19 'The blood avenger himself shall put the murderer to death; he shall put him to death when he meets him.

20 'ᵃIf he pushed him of hatred, or threw something at him ᵇlying in wait and as a result he died, 21 or if he struck him down with his hand in enmity, and as a result he died, the one who struck him shall surely be put to death, he is a murderer; the blood avenger shall put the murderer to death when he meets him.

22 'ᵃBut if he pushed him suddenly without enmity, or threw something at him without lying in wait,

23 or with any ¹deadly object of stone, and without seeing it dropped on him so that he died, while he was not his enemy nor seeking his injury,

24 then ᵃthe congregation shall judge between the slayer and the blood avenger according to these ordinances.

25 'The congregation shall deliver the manslayer from the hand of the blood avenger, and the congregation shall restore him to his city of refuge to which he fled; and he shall live in it until the death of the high priest who was anointed with the holy oil.

26 'But if the manslayer at any time goes beyond the border of his city of refuge to which he may flee,

27 and the blood avenger finds him outside the border of his city of refuge, and the blood avenger kills the manslayer, he will not be guilty of blood

28 because he should have remained in his city of refuge until the death of the high priest. But after the death of the high priest the manslayer shall return to the land of his possession.

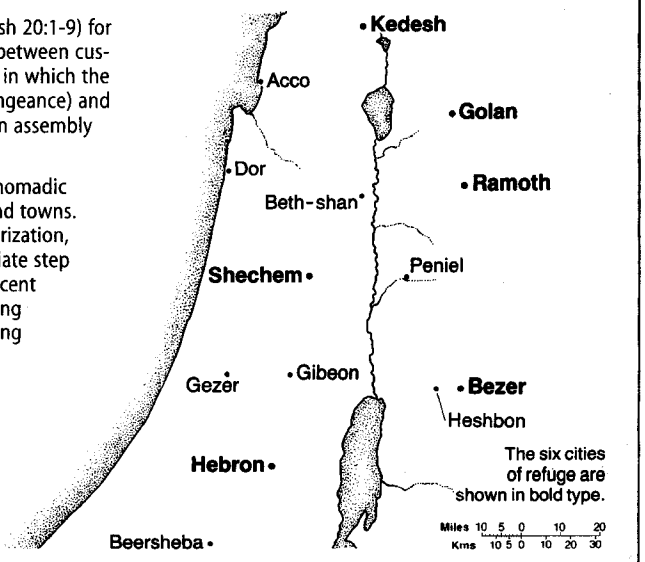
29 'These things shall be for a ᵃstatutory ordinance to you throughout your generations in all your dwellings.

30 'ᵃIf anyone kills a person, the murderer shall be put to death at the ¹evidence of witnesses, but ᵇno person shall be put to death on the testimony of one witness.

35:16–21 Various descriptions of the taking of life are presented that would indicate willful murder.

35:22 without enmity. The cities of refuge were to be established for the person who had committed an act of involuntary manslaughter.

35:24 according to these ordinances. Any gracious provision is subject to abuse. For this reason the case of the involuntary slayer had to be determined by the judges. Further, the accused man had to stay in the city of refuge until the death of the high priest (when there would be a general amnesty). If the accused left the city of refuge, he would become fair game again for the avenger of blood.



35:25–28 See note on Josh 20:6.

Cities of Refuge

The idea of providing cities of refuge (Josh 20:1-9) for capital offenses is rooted in the tension between customary tribal law (retaliation or revenge, in which the blood relative is obligated to execute vengeance) and civil law (carried out less personally by an assembly according to a standard code of justice).

Blood feuds are usually associated with nomadic groups; legal procedures, with villages and towns. Israel, a society in the process of sedentarization, found it necessary to adopt an intermediate step regulating manslaughter, so that an innocent person would not be killed before standing trial. Absolution was possible only by being cleared by his hometown assembly, and by the eventual death of the high priest, which freed the offender from ritual pollution.

31 'Moreover, you shall not take ransom for the life of a murderer who is guilty of death, but he shall surely be put to death.

32 'You shall not take ransom for him who has fled to his city of refuge, that he may return to live in the land [1]before the death of the priest.

33 '[a]So you shall not pollute the land in which you are; for blood pollutes the land and no expiation can be made for the land for the blood that is shed on it, except [b]by the blood of him who shed it.

34 'You shall not [a]defile the land in which you live, in the midst of which [b]I dwell; for I the LORD am dwelling in the midst of the sons of Israel.' "

Inheritance by Marriage

36 [a]And the heads of the fathers' households of the family of the sons of Gilead, the son of Machir, the son of Manasseh, of the families of the sons of Joseph, came near and spoke before Moses and before the leaders, the heads of the fathers' households of the sons of Israel,

2 and they said, "The LORD commanded my lord to give the land by lot to the sons of Israel as an inheritance, and my lord [a]was commanded by the LORD to give the inheritance of Zelophehad our brother to his daughters.

3 "But if they [1]marry one of the sons of the other tribes of the sons of Israel, their inheritance will be withdrawn from the inheritance of our fathers and will be added to the inheritance of the tribe to which they belong; thus it will be withdrawn from our allotted inheritance.

4 "When the [a]jubilee of the sons of Israel [1]comes, then their inheritance will be added to the inheritance of the tribe to which they belong; so their inheritance will be withdrawn from the inheritance of the tribe of our fathers."

5 Then Moses commanded the sons of Israel according to the [1]word of the LORD, saying, "The tribe of the sons of Joseph are right in their statements.

6 "[a]This is [1]what the LORD has commanded concerning the daughters of Zelophehad, saying, 'Let them marry [2]whom they wish; only they must marry within the family of the tribe of their father.'

7 "Thus [a]no inheritance of the sons of Israel shall [1]be transferred from tribe to tribe, for the sons of Israel shall each [2]hold to the inheritance of the tribe of his fathers.

8 "[a]Every daughter who comes into possession of an inheritance of any tribe of the sons of Israel shall be wife to one of the family of the tribe of her father, so that the sons of Israel each may possess the inheritance of his fathers.

9 "Thus no inheritance shall [1]be transferred from one tribe to another tribe, for the tribes of the sons of Israel shall each [2]hold to his own inheritance."

10 Just as the LORD had commanded Moses, so the daughters of Zelophehad did;

11 [a]Mahlah, Tirzah, Hoglah, Milcah and Noah, the daughters of Zelophehad married their uncles' sons.

12 They married those from the families of the sons of Manasseh the son of Joseph, and their inheritance [1]remained with the tribe of the family of their father.

13 [a]These are the commandments and the ordinances which the LORD commanded to the sons of Israel through Moses in the plains of Moab by the Jordan opposite Jericho.

ty being accused and sentenced to death on insufficient evidence.

35:32 Not even an involuntary slayer could leave the city of refuge on the payment of a ransom.

35:33 blood pollutes the land. The crime of murder is not only an offense against the sanctity of life; it is in fact a pollutant to the Lord's sacred land.

36:1–13 Presents an interesting further development of the account of Zelophehad's daughters (see 27:1–11). Since the Lord had instructed Moses that the women might inherit their father's land, new questions arose: What will happen to the family lands if these daughters marry among other tribes? Will not the original intention of the first provision be frustrated? Such questions led to the decision that marriage is to be kept within one's own tribe, so that the family allotments will not pass "from one tribe to another tribe" (v. 9).

36:10 Just as the LORD had commanded Moses, so the daughters of Zelophehad did. The book of Numbers, which so often presents the rebellion of God's people against His grace and in defiance of His will, ends on a happy note. These noble women, who were concerned for their father's name and their own place in the land, obeyed the Lord.

Deuteronomy

[illegible]

Title

The word "Deuteronomy" (meaning "repetition of the law"), the name of the last book of the Pentateuch, arose from a mistranslation in the Greek Septuagint and the Latin Vulgate of a phrase in Deut 17:18, which in Hebrew means "copy of this law." The error is not serious, however, since Deuteronomy is, in a certain sense, a "repetition of the law" (see Structure and Outline). The Hebrew name of the book is 'elleh haddebarim ("These are the words") or, more simply, debarim ("words"; see 1:1).

Author

The book itself testifies that, for the most part, Moses wrote it (1:5; 31:9,22,24), and other OT books agree (1 Kin 2:3; 8:53; 2 Kin 14:6; 18:12)—though the preamble (1:1–5) may have been written by someone else, and the report of Moses' death (ch. 34) was almost certainly written by someone else. Jesus also bears testimony to Mosaic authorship (Matt 19:7–8; Mark 10:3–5; John 5:46–47), and so do other NT writers (Acts 3:22–23; 7:37–38; Rom 10:19). Moreover, Jesus quotes Deuteronomy as authoritative (Matt 4:4,7,10). In the NT there are almost 100 quotations of and allusions to Deuteronomy. Tradition uniformly testifies to the Mosaic authorship of the book (see, e.g., Mark 12:19). See Introduction to Genesis: Author and Date of Writing.

Date

The book is probably to be dated c. 1406 B.C. (see Introduction to Genesis: Author and Date of Writing).

Historical Setting

Deuteronomy locates Moses and the Israelites in the territory of Moab in the area where the Jordan flows into the Dead Sea (1:5). As his final act at this important time of transferring leadership to Joshua, Moses delivered his farewell addresses to prepare the people for their entrance into Canaan. These addresses were actually a covenant renewal (see Structure and Outline). In them, Moses emphasized the laws that were especially needed at such a time, and he presented them in a way appropriate to the situation. In contrast to the matter-of-fact narratives of Leviticus and Numbers, the book of Deuteronomy comes to us from Moses' heart in a warm, personal, sermonic form of expression.

Theological Teaching

The love relationship of the Lord to His people and that of the people to the Lord as their sovereign God pervade the whole book. Deuteronomy's spiritual emphasis and its call to total commitment to the Lord in worship and obedience inspired references to its message throughout the rest of Scripture.

Structure and Outline

Deuteronomy's literary structure supports its historical setting. By its interpretive, repetitious, reminiscent and somewhat irregular style it shows that it is a series of more or less extemporaneous addresses, sometimes describing events in nonchronological order (see, e.g., 10:3). But it also bears in its structure clear reflections of the suzerain-vassal treaties (see chart, p. 16) of the preceding and then-current Near Eastern states, a structure that lends itself to the Biblical emphasis on the covenant between the Lord and His people. In this sense Deuteronomy is a covenant renewal document, as the following outline shows:

I. The Preamble (1:1–5)
II. The Historical Prologue (1:6—4:43)
III. The Stipulations of the Covenant (4:44—26:19)
  A. The Great Commandment: The Demand for Absolute Allegiance (4:44—11:32)
  B. Supplementary Requirements (chs. 12—26)
    1. Ceremonial consecration (12:1—16:17)
    2. Governmental leaders and a righteous nation (16:18—21:21)
    3. Sanctity of God's kingdom (21:22—25:19)
    4. Confession of God as Redeemer-King (ch. 26)
IV. Ratification; Curses and Blessings (chs. 27—30)
V. Leadership Succession under the Covenant (chs. 31—34)
  A. Change of Leadership (31:1–29)
  B. Song of Moses (31:30—32:47)
  C. Moses' Testamental Blessing on the Tribes (32:48—33:29)
  D. Death of Moses and Succession of Joshua (ch. 34)

The book is sometimes divided into three addresses:
I. First Address (1:1—4:43)
II. Second Address (4:44—28:68)
III. Third Address (chs. 29—33)
IV. Moses' Death (ch. 34)

Israel's History after the Exodus

1 These are the words which Moses spoke to all Israel [a]across the Jordan in the wilderness, in the [b]Arabah opposite [1]Suph, between Paran and Tophel and Laban and Hazeroth and Dizahab.

2 It is eleven days' journey from [a]Horeb by the way of Mount [b]Seir to [c]Kadesh-barnea.

3 In the [a]fortieth year, on the first day of the eleventh month, Moses spoke to the children of Israel, [b]according to all that the LORD had commanded him to give to them,

4 after he had [1][a]defeated Sihon the king of the Amorites, who lived in Heshbon, and [b]Og the king of Bashan, who lived in [c]Ashtaroth [2]and Edrei.

5 Across the Jordan in the land of Moab, Moses undertook to expound this law, saying,

6 "The LORD our God [a]spoke to us at Horeb, saying, 'You have [1]stayed long enough at this mountain.

7 'Turn and set your journey, and go to [a]the hill country of the Amorites, and to all their neighbors in the Arabah, in the hill country and in the lowland and in [b]the [1]Negev and by the seacoast, the land of the Canaanites, and Lebanon, as far as the great river, the river Euphrates.

8 'See, I have placed the land before you; go in and possess the land which the LORD [a]swore to give to your fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob, to them and their [1]descendants after them.'

9 "I spoke to you at that time, saying, '[a]I am not able to bear the burden of you alone.

10 'The LORD your God has [a]multiplied you, and behold, you are this day like the stars of heaven in number.

11 'May the LORD, the God of your fathers, increase you a thousand-fold more than you are and bless you, [a]just as He has [1]promised you!

12 'How can I alone bear the load and burden of you and your strife?

13 '[1][a]Choose wise and discerning and experienced men from your tribes, and I will appoint them as your heads.'

14 "You answered me and said, 'The thing which you have said to do is good.'

15 "So I took the heads of your tribes, wise and experienced men, and [1]appointed them heads over you, leaders of thousands and [2]of hundreds, [2]of fifties and [2]of tens, and officers for your tribes.

16 "Then I charged your judges at that time, saying, 'Hear the cases between your [1]fellow countrymen, and [a]judge righteously between a man and his [2]fellow countryman, or the alien who is with him.

17 '[a]You shall not show partiality in judgment; you shall hear the small and the great alike. You shall [b]not fear [1]man, for the judgment is God's. [c]The case that is too hard for you, you shall bring to me, and I will hear it.'

18 "[a]I commanded you at that time all the things that you should do.

19 "Then we set out from [a]Horeb, and went through all that [b]great and terrible wilderness which you saw on the way to the [c]hill country of the Amorites, just as the LORD our God had commanded us; and we came to [a]Kadesh-barnea.

20 "I said to you, 'You have come to the hill country of the Amorites which the LORD our God is about to give us.

21 'See, the LORD your God has placed the land before you; go up, take possession, as the LORD, the God of your fathers, has spoken to you. [a]Do not fear or be dismayed.'

1:1–5 The preamble gives the historical setting for the entire book.

1:1 Moses spoke. Almost all of Deuteronomy is made up of speeches by Moses during the final months of his life, just before the Israelites crossed the Jordan to enter Canaan. Arabah. Includes the valley of the Jordan (from the Sea of Galilee to the southern end of the Dead Sea) and the valley extending down to the Gulf of Aqaba. Suph . . . Paran and Tophel and Laban and Hazeroth and Dizahab. Places along the route from Sinai to the territory of Moab.

1:2 Horeb. The usual name for Mount Sinai in Deuteronomy (the only exception is in 33:2). Kadesh-barnea. See note on Gen 14:7. Seir. See note on Gen 36:8.

1:3 fortieth year. After leaving Egypt. The Lord had condemned Israel to 40 years of wandering in Sinai as punishment for not entering Canaan as He had commanded them to do at Kadesh (Num 14:33–34). The 40 years included the time spent at Sinai and on the journey to Kadesh as well as the next 38 years (see 2:14). See 8:2–5; 29:5–6; Num 14:29–35; 32:13; Heb 3:7–19. eleventh month. January-February.

1:5 this law. The Ten Commandments and other laws given at Mount Sinai and recorded in Ex 20–24, Leviticus and Numbers. In Deuteronomy the laws are summarized and interpreted, and adjusted to the new, specific situation Israel would face in Canaan. Thus Deuteronomy is, in essence, a covenant renewal (and updating) document.

1:7 See Josh 1:4. The land is described by its various geographical areas (see map No. 2 at the end of the study Bible). Arabah. See note on v. 1; here the Jordan Valley and the Dead Sea area. hill country. The midsection running north and south. lowland. Sloping toward the Mediterranean. Negev. See note on Gen 12:9. seacoast. The Mediterranean coastal strip. The "land of the Canaanites" and "Lebanon, as far as the . . . Euphrates" make up the northern sector. The "hill country of the Amorites" is, in general, the central and southern mountains. This description of the land agrees with that in the promise (see v. 8) to Abraham in Gen 15:18–21, a promise later limited to Isaac's descendants (Gen 26:2–4) and still later to the descendants of Jacob (Gen 35:11–12).

1:9–18 Cf. 16:18–20; Ex 18:13–26.

1:10 The LORD your God. This title occurs almost 300 times in Deuteronomy in addition to the many times that "LORD" is used alone or in other combinations. like the stars of heaven. See 10:22; 28:62; Gen 13:16 and note; 15:5 and note; 22:17; 26:4; Ex 32:13.

1:19–46 See Num 13–14.

22 "[a]Then all of you approached me and said, 'Let us send men before us, that they may search out the land for us, and bring back to us word of the way by which we should go up and the cities which we shall enter.'

23 "The thing pleased me and I took twelve of your men, one man for each tribe.

24 "[a]They turned and went up into the hill country, and came to the valley of Eshcol and spied it out.

25 "Then they took some of the fruit of the land in their hands and brought it down to us; and they brought us back a report and said, 'It is a good land which the LORD our God is about to give us.'

26 "[a]Yet you were not willing to go up, but [b]rebelled against the [1]command of the LORD your God;

27 and [a]you grumbled in your tents and said, 'Because the LORD hates us, He has brought us out of the land of Egypt to deliver us into the hand of the Amorites to destroy us.

28 'Where can we go up? Our brethren have made our hearts melt, saying, "The people are bigger and taller than we; the cities are large and fortified to heaven. And besides, we saw [a]the sons of the Anakim there." '

29 "Then I said to you, 'Do not be shocked, nor fear them.

30 'The LORD your God who goes before you will [a]Himself fight on your behalf, [1]just as He did for you in Egypt before your eyes,

31 and in the wilderness where you saw how [a]the LORD your God carried you, just as a man carries his son, in all the way which you have walked until you came to this place.'

32 "But [1][a]for all this, you did not trust the LORD your God,

33 [a]who goes before you on your way, [b]to seek out a place for you to encamp, in fire by night and cloud by day, to show you the way in which you should go.

1:21 as the LORD . . . has spoken to you. The promise of the land (see note on v. 7) was reaffirmed to Moses at the burning bush (v. 8; Ex 3:8,17). Now the Israelites are told to enter the land and conquer it. Do not fear or be dismayed. See 31:8; Josh 1:9; 8:1; 10:25.

1:23 twelve. They are named in Num 13:4–15.

1:24 Eshcol. See Num 13:23 and note.

1:26 you . . . rebelled. Although they themselves had not rebelled, the people were being addressed as a nation united with the earlier rebellious generation (see 5:2; cf. 29:1).

1:27 grumbled. See note on Ex 15:24. the LORD hates us. The people's statement is ironic indeed in the light of Deuteronomy's major theme (see Introduction: Theological Teaching).

1:28 Anakim. Earlier inhabitants of Canaan, described as giants (see 2:10,21; 9:2; Num 13:32).

1:30 as He did for you in Egypt. See Ex 14:1–15:19.

1:31 God carried you. See notes on Is 41:10,13; 43:1–2; cf. Is 40:11; Jer 31:10; Ezek 34:11–16.

1:33 in fire by night and cloud by day. The presence of the Lord was in the cloud over the tabernacle to guide the Israelites through their wilderness journeys (see Ex 13:21 and note; 40:34–38).

1:36 Caleb. See Num 13:30–14:38; Josh 14:6–15.

1:37 on your account. See 3:26; 4:21. God was angry with Moses when in a wrong spirit he struck the rock at Meribah to get water (Num 20:9–13; 27:12–14). And since it was the Israelites who had incited him to sin, God was angry with them too. This event (v. 37) occurred almost 40 years after that of the preceding verses (vv. 34–36), but Moses, interested in telling of the Israelites' sin and his own, brings the two events together.

1:39 have no knowledge of good or evil. See notes on Gen 2:9; Is 7:15.

1:41 you. See note on v. 26.

1:43 you rebelled against the command of the LORD. The same charge as in v. 26. First the people rebelled against the Lord's command to go into the land, then against His command not to enter the land. After their first rebellion the Lord would not go with them. His presence was essential, and Israel needed to learn that lesson.

1:44 bees. See note on Ex 23:28.

1:45 before the LORD. At the tabernacle.

46 "So you remained in [a]Kadesh many days, [1]the days that you spent there.

Wanderings in the Wilderness

2 "[a]Then we turned and set out for the wilderness by the way to the [1]Red Sea, as the LORD spoke to me, and circled [b]Mount Seir for many days.

2 "And the LORD spoke to me, saying,

3 'You have circled this mountain long enough. Now turn north,

4 [a]and command the people, saying, "You will pass through the [b]territory of your brothers the sons of Esau who live in Seir; and [c]they will be afraid of you. So be very careful;

5 do not [1]provoke them, for I will not give you any of their land, even as little as a [2]footstep [a]because I have given Mount Seir to Esau as a possession.

6 "You shall buy food from them with money so that you may eat, and you shall also purchase water from them with money so that you may drink.

7 "For the LORD your God has blessed you in all [1]that you have done; He has known your [2]wanderings through this [a]great wilderness. These [b]forty years the LORD your God has been with you; you have not lacked a thing." '

8 "So we passed beyond our brothers the sons of Esau, who live in Seir, away from the [a]Arabah road, away from Elath and [b]from Ezion-geber. And we turned and passed through by the way of the wilderness of Moab.

9 "Then the LORD said to me, 'Do not harass Moab, nor provoke them to war, for I will not give you any of [1]their land as a possession, because I have given [a]Ar to [b]the sons of Lot as a possession.

10 (The [a]Emim lived there formerly, a people as great, numerous, and tall as the Anakim.

11 Like the Anakim, they are also regarded as [a]Rephaim, but the Moabites call them Emim.

12 [a]The Horites formerly lived in Seir, but the sons of Esau dispossessed them and destroyed them from before them and settled in their place, [b]just as Israel did to the land of [1]their possession which the LORD gave to them.)

13 'Now arise and cross over the [1]brook Zered yourselves.' So we crossed over the [1]brook Zered.

14 "Now the [1]time that it took for us to come from Kadesh-barnea until we crossed over the [2]brook Zered was [a]thirty-eight years, until [b]all the generation of the men of war perished from within the camp, as [c]the LORD had sworn to them.

15 "[a]Moreover the hand of the LORD was against them, to destroy them from within the camp until they all perished.

16 "So it came about when [a]all the men of war had finally perished from among the people,

17 that the LORD spoke to me, saying,

18 'Today you shall cross over [a]Ar, the border of Moab.

19 'When you come opposite the [a]sons of Ammon, do not harass them nor provoke them, for I will not give you any of the land of the sons of Ammon as a possession, because I have given it to [b]the sons of Lot as a possession.'

20 (It is also regarded as the land of the [a]Rephaim, for Rephaim formerly lived in it, but the Ammonites call them Zamzummin,

21 a people as great, numerous, and tall as the Anakim, but the LORD destroyed them before them. And they dispossessed them and settled in their place, 22 just as He did for the sons of Esau, who [a]live in Seir, when He destroyed [b]the Horites from before them; they dispossessed them and settled in their place even to this day.

23 And the [a]Avvim, who lived in villages as far as Gaza, the [1b]Caphtorim who came from [2c]Caphtor, destroyed them and lived in their place.)

24 'Arise, set out, and pass through the [1a]valley of Arnon. Look! I have given Sihon the Amorite, king of Heshbon, and his land into your hand; begin to take possession and contend with him in battle.

25 'This day I will begin to put [a]the dread and fear of you [1]upon the peoples [2]everywhere under the heavens, who, when they hear the report of you, [b]will tremble and be in anguish because of you.'

26 "[a]So I sent messengers from the wilderness of Kedemoth to Sihon king of Heshbon with words of peace, saying, 27 'Let me pass through your land, I will [1]travel only on the highway; I will not turn aside to the right or to the left.

Conquests Recounted

3 "[a]Then we turned and went up the road to Bashan, and Og, king of Bashan, [1]with all his people came out to meet us in battle at Edrei.

2 "But the LORD said to me, 'Do not fear him, for I have delivered him and all his people and his land into your hand; and you shall do to him just as you did to Sihon king of the Amorites, who lived at Heshbon.'

3 "So the LORD our God delivered Og also, king of Bashan, with all his people into our hand, and we smote [1]them until no survivor was [2]left.

4 "We captured all his cities at that time; there was not a city which we did not take from them: sixty cities, all the region of [a]Argob, the kingdom of Og in Bashan.

5 "All these were cities fortified with high walls, gates and bars, besides a great many [1]unwalled towns.

6 "We [1]utterly destroyed them, as we did to [a]Sihon king of Heshbon, [2b]utterly destroying [3]the men, women and children of every city.

7 "[a]But all the animals and the spoil of the cities we took as our booty.

8 "[a]Thus we took the land at that time from the hand of the two kings of the Amorites who were beyond the Jordan, from the [1]valley of Arnon to Mount Hermon

9 (Sidonians [a]call Hermon [b]Sirion, and the Amorites call it [c]Senir):

10 all the cities of the plateau and all Gilead and [a]all Bashan, as far as Salecah and Edrei, cities of the kingdom of Og in Bashan.

11 (For only Og king of Bashan was left of the remnant of the [a]Rephaim. Behold, his [1]bedstead was an iron [1]bedstead; it is in

2:26 Kedemoth. Means "eastern regions."
2:30 hardened his spirit and made his heart obstinate. In the OT, actions are often attributed to God without the mention of mediate or contributing situations or persons. Sihon by his own conscious will refused Israel passage, but it was God who would give Sihon's land to Israel (see note on Ex 4:21).
2:32 Jahaz. See note on Is 15:4.
2:34 utterly destroyed. The Hebrew for this expression usually denotes the destruction of everyone and everything that could be destroyed. Objects like gold, silver and bronze, not subject to destruction, were put in a secure place as God's possession. Destruction of people and things made them useless to the conquerors but put them in the hands of God. So the word is sometimes translated "destroyed" and sometimes "be under the ban" (see, e.g., Josh 6:17). The practice was sometimes limited, as when God assigned captured livestock and other plunder to His people as recompense for service in His army (see v. 35; 3:7; Jos 8:2).
2:36 Aroer. See note on Is 17:2. Gilead. See note on Gen 31:21.
2:37 Jabbok. See note on Gen 32:22.
3:3 delivered Og . . . into our hand. As in 2:26–37.
3:4 sixty cities. The cities were large and walled (1 Kin 4:13), implying a heavily populated territory (see v. 5). region of Argob. An otherwise unidentified area in Bashan (see vv. 13–14; 1 Kin 4:13).
3:6–7 See note on 2:34.
3:8 Mount Hermon. Snowcapped throughout the year and rising to a height of over 9,200 feet, it is one of the most prominent and beautiful mountains in Lebanon.
3:9 Sirion. This name for Mount Hermon is found also in a Canaanite document contemporary with Moses. Senir. This name for Mount Hermon is also found in Assyrian sources.
3:10 Salecah. A city marking the eastern boundary of Bashan (see Josh 13:11).
3:11 iron bedstead. Sarcophagi (stone coffins) of basalt have been found in Bashan, and the Hebrew for "bedstead" (which can be translated "sarcophagus") and "iron" may reflect this. If an actual bed, it was probably made of wood but with certain iron

[b]Rabbah of the sons of Ammon. Its length was nine cubits and its width four cubits [2]by ordinary cubit.)

12 "So we took possession of this land at that time. From [a]Aroer, which is by the [1]valley of Arnon, and half the hill country of [b]Gilead and its cities I gave to the Reubenites and to the Gadites.

13 "The rest of Gilead and all Bashan, the kingdom of Og, I gave to the half-tribe of Manasseh, all the region of Argob (concerning all Bashan, it is called the land of Rephaim.

14 [a]Jair the son of Manasseh took all the region of Argob as far as the border of the Geshurites and the Maacathites, and called [1]it, that is, Bashan, after his own name, [2]Havvoth-jair, as it is to this day.)

15 "[a]To Machir I gave Gilead.

16 "To the Reubenites and to the Gadites I gave from Gilead even as far as the [1]valley of Arnon, the middle of the [1]valley [2]as a border and as far as the [1]river [a]Jabbok, the border of the sons of Ammon;

17 the Arabah also, with the Jordan [1]as a border, from [2a]Chinnereth [b]even as far as the sea of the Arabah, [c]the Salt Sea, [3]at the foot of the slopes of Pisgah on the east.

18 "Then I commanded you at that time, saying, '[a]The LORD your God has given you this land to possess it; [b]all you valiant men shall cross over armed before your brothers, the sons of Israel.

19 '[a]But your wives and your little ones and your livestock (I know that you have [b]much livestock) shall remain in your cities which I have given you,

20 [a]until the LORD gives rest to your fellow countrymen as to you, and they also possess the land which the LORD your God will give them beyond the Jordan. [b]Then you may return every man to his possession which I have given you.'

21 "I commanded Joshua at that time, saying, 'Your eyes have seen all that the LORD your God has done to these two kings; so the LORD shall do to all the kingdoms into which you are about to cross.

22 'Do not fear them, for the LORD your God [a]is the one fighting for you.'

23 "I also pleaded with the LORD at that time, saying,

24 'O Lord [1]GOD, You have begun to show Your servant [a]Your greatness and Your strong hand; for what [b]god is there in heaven or on earth who can do such works and mighty acts as Yours?

25 'Let me, I pray, cross over and see the [a]fair land that is beyond the Jordan, [1]that good hill country and Lebanon.'

26 "But [a]the LORD was angry with me on your account, and would not listen to me; and the LORD said to me, '[1]Enough! Speak to Me no more of this matter.

27 'Go up to the top of [a]Pisgah and lift up your eyes to the west and north and south and east, and see it with your eyes, [b]for you shall not cross over this Jordan.

28 '[a]But charge Joshua and encourage him and strengthen him, [b]for he shall go across [1]at the head of this people, and he will give them as an inheritance the land which you will see.'

29 "So we remained in the valley opposite [a]Beth-peor.

Israel Urged to Obey God's Law

4 "Now, O Israel, listen to the statutes and the judgments which [a]I am teaching you to perform, so that [b]you may live and go in and take possession of the land which the LORD, the God of your fathers, is giving you.

2 "[a]You shall not add to the word which [b]I am commanding you, nor take away from it, that you may keep the commandments of the LORD your God which I command you.

3 "[a]Your eyes have seen what the LORD fixtures, as were the "iron chariots" (see note on Josh 17:16). Rabbah of the sons of Ammon. Called Philadelphia in NT times, Rabbah was the capital of ancient Ammon (Amos 1:13–14). Today its name is Amman, the capital of the kingdom of Jordan.

3:12–20 See Num 32; 34:13–15.

3:14 Jair . . . Havvoth-jair. See note on Judg 10:3. the Geshurites and the Maacathites. Two comparatively small kingdoms, Geshur was east of the Sea of Galilee and Maacah was east of the Waters of Merom (see note on Josh 11:5) and north of Geshur.

3:15 Machir. See note on Gen 50:23.

3:17 Chinnereth. See note on Mark 1:16. Pisgah. On the edge of the high plateau overlooking the Dead Sea from the east.

3:20 rest. A peaceful situation—free from external threat and oppression, and untroubled within by conflict, famine or plague (see 12:9–10; 25:19; see also notes on Josh 1:13; 1 Kin 5:4; Heb 4:1–11).

3:22 God is the one. The conquest narratives emphasize the truth that without the Lord's help Israel's victory would be impossible. The Lord's power, not Israel's unaided strength, achieved victory. Moses bolstered Israel's resolve and faith by this assurance (see 1:30; 2:21–22,31; 20:4).

3:23–25 Moses' final plea to be allowed to enter the land (see 1:37 and note; 31:2).

3:26 on your account. See note on 1:37.

3:27 Go up to the top of Pisgah. Moses did so after he had expounded the law to the Israelites to prepare them for life in the promised land (see 32:48–52; 34:1–6). Pisgah. See note on v. 17. lift up your eyes to the west and north and south and east. Like Abraham (see Gen 13:14), Moses would inherit the promised land only through his descendants (see 34:1–4).

3:28 charge Joshua. See 31:7–8.

3:29 Beth-peor. Means "house/sanctuary of Peor." Very likely, reference is to the cult place where the Baal of Peor was worshiped (see Num 23:28; 25:3,5).

4:1 O Israel, listen. God's call to His people to hear and obey is a frequent theme in Deuteronomy (see, e.g., 5:1; 6:3–4; 9:1; 20:3) and elsewhere in the OT. See also note on 6:4–9.

4:2 You shall not add . . . nor take away. The revelation the Lord gives is sufficient. All of it must be obeyed, and anything that adulterates or contradicts it cannot be tolerated (see 12:32; Prov 30:6; Gal 3:15; Rev 22:18–19).

has done in the case of Baal-peor, for all the men who followed Baal-peor, the LORD your God has destroyed [1]them from among you.

4 "But you who held fast to the LORD your God are alive today, every one of you.

5 "See, I have taught you statutes and judgments [a]just as the LORD my God commanded me, that you should do thus in the land where you are entering to possess it.

6 "So keep and do them, [a]for that is your wisdom and your understanding in the sight of the peoples who will hear all these statutes and say, 'Surely this great nation is a wise and understanding people.'

7 "For [a]what great nation is there that has a god [b]so near to it as is the LORD our God [c]whenever we call on Him?

8 "Or what great nation is there that has [a]statutes and judgments as righteous as this whole law which I am setting before you today?

9 "Only [a]give heed to yourself and keep your soul diligently, so that you do not forget the things which your eyes have seen and they do not depart from your heart [b]all the days of your life; but [c]make them known to your sons and your grandsons.

10 "Remember the day you stood before the LORD your God at Horeb, when the LORD said to me, 'Assemble the people to Me, that I may let them hear My words [a]so they may learn to [1]fear Me all the days they live on the earth, and that they may [b]teach their children.'

11 "You came near and stood at the foot of the mountain, [a]and the mountain burned with fire to the very heart of the heavens: darkness, cloud and thick gloom.

12 "Then the LORD spoke to you from the midst of the fire; you heard the sound of words, but you saw no form—only a voice.

13 "So He declared to you His covenant which He commanded you to perform, that is, [a]the Ten [1]Commandments; and [b]He wrote them on two tablets of stone.

14 "The LORD commanded me at that time to teach you statutes and judgments, that you might perform them in the land where you are going over to possess it.

[2]Or a graven image [a]Deut 4:16 [b]Deut 4:23 [c]2 Kin 17:17

4:4 held fast. See note on 10:20.

4:7 near . . . whenever we call on Him. The Israelites always had access to the Lord in prayer. His presence was symbolized by the tabernacle in the center of the camp, and by the pillar of cloud over the tabernacle (see Ex 40:34–38; Num 23:21).

4:9 make them known to your sons. See v. 10; 11:19; cf. Ex 12:26–27.

4:10–14 See Ex 19–24.

4:10 Remember. The divine call to Israel to remember the Lord's past redemptive acts—especially how He delivered them from slavery in Egypt—is a common theme in Deuteronomy (5:15; 7:18; 8:2,18; 9:7,27; 11:2; 15:15; 16:3,12; 24:9,18,22; 25:17) and is summarized in 32:7: "Remember the days of old."

4:12 no form. See v. 15; see also note on Ex 20:4. "God is spirit" (John 4:24; cf. Is 31:3).

4:13 His covenant . . . the Ten Commandments. See notes on Ex 20:1; 34:28. two tablets of stone. See note on Ex 31:18.

4:15–18 See note on Ex 20:4.

4:19 not . . . be drawn away. As kings of Judah would be later (2 Kin 23:5).

4:20 iron furnace. Suggests that the period in Egypt was a time of affliction, testing and refinement for the Israelites (see 1 Kin 8:51; Jer 11:4; see also Is 48:10).

4:21 on your account. See note on 1:37.

4:24 consuming fire. See 9:3; see also note on Ex 24:17. jealous God. See 5:9; 6:15; see also note on Ex 20:5.

4:25 When you . . . have remained long in the land. The pattern of Israel's rebellion, resulting in expulsion from the land, and then their repentance, leading to restoration to the land, is prominent in Deuteronomy (see, e.g., the blessing and curse formulas in chs. 27–28).

26 I [a]call heaven and earth to witness against you today, that you will [b]surely perish quickly from the land where you are going over the Jordan to possess it. You shall not [1]live long on it, but will be utterly destroyed.

27 "The LORD will [a]scatter you among the peoples, and you will be left few in number among the nations where the LORD drives you.

28 "[a]There you will serve gods, the work of man's hands, [b]wood and stone, [c]which neither see nor hear nor eat nor smell.

29 "[a]But from there you will seek the LORD your God, and you will find Him if you search for Him [b]with all your heart and all your soul.

30 "When you [a]are in distress and all these things have come upon you, [b]in the latter days [c]you will return to the LORD your God and listen to His voice.

31 "For the LORD your God is a [a]compassionate God; [b]He will not fail you nor [c]destroy you nor [d]forget the covenant with your fathers which He swore to them.

32 "Indeed, [a]ask now concerning the former days which were before you, since the [b]day that God created [1]man on the earth, and inquire [c]from one end of the heavens to the other. [d]Has anything been done like this great thing, or has anything been heard like it?

33 "[a]Has any people heard the voice of God speaking from the midst of the fire, as you have heard it, and survived?

34 "[a]Or has a god tried to go to take for himself a nation from within another nation [b]by trials, by signs and wonders and by war and [c]by a mighty hand and by an outstretched arm and by great terrors, [1]as the LORD your God did for you in Egypt before your eyes?

35 "To you it was shown that you might know that the LORD, He is God; [a]there is no other besides Him.

36 "[a]Out of the heavens He let you hear His voice [b]to discipline you; and on earth He let you see His great fire, and you heard His words from the midst of the fire.

37 "[1][a]Because He loved your fathers, therefore He chose [2]their descendants after them. And He [3][b]personally brought you from Egypt by His great power, 38 driving out from before you nations greater and mightier than you, to bring you in and [a]to give you their land for an inheritance, as it is today.

39 "Know therefore today, and take it to your heart, that [a]the LORD, He is God in heaven above and on the earth below; there is no other.

40 "[a]So you shall keep His statutes and His commandments which I am [1]giving you today, that [b]it may go well with you and with your children after you, and [c]that you may [2]live long on the land which the LORD your God is giving you for all time."

41 [a]Then Moses set apart three cities across the Jordan to the [1]east,

42 that a manslayer might flee there, who unintentionally slew his neighbor without having enmity toward him in time past; and by fleeing to one of these cities he might live:

43 [a]Bezer in the wilderness on the plateau for the Reubenites, and Ramoth in Gilead for the Gadites, and Golan in Bashan for the Manassites.

44 Now this is the law which Moses set before the sons of Israel;

45 these are the testimonies and the statutes and the ordinances which Moses spoke to the sons of Israel, when they came out from Egypt,

46 across the Jordan, in the valley [a]opposite Beth-peor, in the land of [b]Sihon king of the Amorites who lived at Heshbon, whom Moses and the sons of Israel [1]defeated when they came out from Egypt.

47 They took possession of his land and the land of [a]Og king of Bashan, the two kings of the Amorites, who were across the Jordan to the [1]east,

48 from [a]Aroer, which is on the edge of the [1]valley of Arnon, even as far as [b]Mount Sion (that is, Hermon), 49 with all the Arabah across the Jordan to the east, even as far as the sea of the Arabah, [1]at the foot of the slopes of Pisgah.

4:29 with all your heart and . . . soul. Indicates total involvement and commitment. The phrase is applied not only to how the Lord's people should seek Him, but also to how they should fear (revere) Him, live in obedience to Him, love and serve Him (6:5; 10:12; 11:13; 13:3; 30:6), and, after forsaking Him, renew their allegiance and commitment (26:16; 30:2,10).
4:31 covenant . . . He swore to them. See notes on Gen 21:23; 22:16; Heb 6:13,18. In ancient times, parties to a covenant were expected to confirm their intentions by means of a self-maledictory oath (see note on Gen 15:17).
4:35 that you might know. See v. 10. there is no other besides Him. See v. 39; 5:7; 6:4 and note; 32:39. Moses' belief in one God was total and uncompromising (see note on Ge 1:1).
4:37 He loved. The first reference in Deuteronomy to God's love for His people (see Introduction: Theological Teaching). See note on 7:8; see also 5:10; 7:9,13; 10:15; 23:5. The corollary truth is that His people should love Him (see note on 6:5).

4:43 Bezer. About 20 miles east of the northeast corner of the Dead Sea.

"Hear, O Israel, the statutes and the ordinances which I am speaking today in your [1]hearing, that you may learn them and observe [2]them carefully.

2 "The LORD our God made [a]a covenant with us at Horeb.

3 "[a]The LORD did not make this covenant with our fathers, but with us, with all those of [1]us alive here today.

6 '[a]I am the LORD your God who brought you out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of [1]slavery.

7 '[a]You shall have no other gods [1]before Me.

8 '[a]You shall not make for yourself [1]an idol, or any likeness of what is in heaven above [2]or on the earth beneath [2]or in the water under the earth.

11 '[a]You shall not take the name of the LORD your God in vain, for the LORD will not [1]leave him unpunished who takes His name in vain.

12 '[a]Observe the sabbath day to keep it holy, as the LORD your God commanded you.

13 'Six days you shall labor and do all your work,

14 but [a]the seventh day is a sabbath of the LORD your God; in it you shall not do any work, you or your son or your daughter or your male servant or your female servant or your ox or your donkey or any of your cattle or your sojourner who [1]stays with you, so that your male servant and your female servant may rest as well as you.

15 '[a]You shall remember that you were a slave in the land of Egypt, and the LORD your God brought you out of there by a mighty hand and by an outstretched arm; therefore the LORD your God commanded you to observe the sabbath day.

16 '[a]Honor your father and your mother, as the LORD your God has commanded you, [b]that your days may be prolonged and that it may go well with you on the land which the LORD your God gives you.

17 '[a]You shall not murder.

Moses Interceded

22 "These words the LORD spoke to all your assembly at the mountain from the midst of the fire, of the cloud and of the thick gloom, with a great voice, and He added no more. [a]He wrote them on two tablets of stone and gave them to me.

23 "And when you heard the voice from the midst of the darkness, while the mountain was burning with fire, you came near to me, all the heads of your tribes and your elders.

24 "You said, 'Behold, the LORD our God has shown us His glory and His greatness, and we have heard His voice from the midst of the fire; we have seen today that God speaks with man, yet he lives.

25 '[a]Now then why should we die? For this great fire will consume us; if we hear the voice of the LORD our God any longer, then we will die.

5:1 Hear, O Israel. See note on 4:1.

5:2 covenant with us at Horeb. See note on Ex 19:5. God's covenant with Israel, given at Mount Horeb (Sinai) and now being confirmed, bound Israel to the Lord as their absolute Sovereign, and to His laws and regulations as their way of life. Adherence to the covenant would bring to Israel the blessings of the Lord, while breaking the covenant would bring against them the punishments described as "curses" (see, e.g., 28:15–20). Jer 31:31–34 predicted the establishing of a new covenant, which made the Sinaitic covenant obsolete (see Heb 7:22; see also Heb 8:6–13; 10:15–18 and notes). See chart, p. 16.

5:3 not . . . with our fathers, but with us. The covenant was made with those who were present at Sinai, but since they were representatives of the nation, it was made with all succeeding generations as well.

5:5 See vv. 23–26; Ex 20:18–21.

5:6–21 The Ten Commandments are both the basis and the heart of Israel's relationship with the Lord. It is almost impossible to exaggerate their effect on subsequent history. They constitute the basis of moral principles throughout the Western world, and they summarize what the one true God expects of His people in terms of faith, worship and conduct (see notes on Ex 20:3–17).

5:12 as the LORD your God commanded you. Missing from the parallel verse in Exodus (20:8), this clause reminds the people of the divine origin of the Ten Commandments 40 years earlier (see vv. 15–16).

5:14 so that your male servant and your female servant may rest. See note on Ex 20:10; see also v. 15.

5:15 remember. See note on 4:10.

5:16–21 The NT quotes often from this section of the Ten Commandments (see cross references).

5:20 See 19:18–19.

5:22 words. See note on Ex 20:1. two tablets of stone. See note on Ex 31:18.

5:25 we will die. See notes on Gen 16:13; 32:30.

26 'For [a]who is there of all flesh who has heard the voice of the living God speaking from the midst of the fire, as we have, and lived?

27 '[1]Go near and hear all that the LORD our God says; then speak to us all that the LORD our God speaks to you, and we will hear and do it.'

28 "The LORD heard the voice of your words when you spoke to me, [a]and the LORD said to me, 'I have heard the voice of the words of this people which they have spoken to you. They have done well in all that they have spoken.

29 '[a]Oh that they had such a heart in them, that they would fear Me and [b]keep all My commandments always, that [c]it may be well with them and with their sons forever!

30 'Go, say to them, "Return to your tents."

31 '[a]But as for you, stand here by Me, that I may speak to you all the commandments and the statutes and the judgments which you shall teach them, that they may observe them in the land which I give them to possess.'

32 "So you shall observe to do just as the LORD your God has commanded you; [a]you shall not turn aside to the right or to the left.

33 "[a]You shall walk in all the way which the LORD your God has commanded you, [b]that you may live and that it may be well with you, and that you may prolong your days in the land which you will possess.

Obey God and Prosper

6 "Now this is the commandment, the statutes and the judgments which the LORD your God has commanded me to teach you, that you might do them in the land where you are going over to possess it,

2 so that you and your son and your grandson might [a]fear the LORD your God, to keep all His statutes and His commandments which I command you, [b]all the days of your life, and that your days may be prolonged.

4 "[a]Hear, O Israel! The LORD is our God, the [b]LORD is one!

5 "[a]You shall love the LORD your God [b]with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your might.

6 "[a]These words, which I am commanding you today, shall be on your heart.

7 [a]You shall teach them diligently to your sons and shall talk of them when you sit in your house and when you walk by the way and when you lie down and when you rise up.

8 "[a]You shall bind them as a sign on your hand and they shall be as [1]frontals [2]on your forehead.

9 "[a]You shall write them on the doorposts of your house and on your gates.

10 "Then it shall come about when the LORD your God brings you into the land which He swore to your fathers, Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, to give you, [a]great and splendid cities which you did not build,

11 and houses full of all good things which you did not fill, and hewn cisterns which you did not dig, vineyards and olive trees which you did not plant, and [a]you eat and are satisfied,

12 then watch yourself, that [a]you do not forget the LORD who brought you from the land of Egypt, out of the house of [1]slavery.

13 "[a]You shall [1]fear only the LORD your God; and you shall [2]worship Him and [b]swear by His name.

14 "[a]You shall not follow other gods, any of the gods of the peoples who surround you, 15 for the LORD your God in the midst of you is a [a]jealous God; otherwise the anger of the LORD your God will be kindled against you, and He will [1]wipe you off the face of the earth.

5:27 we will hear and do it. See note on Ex 19:8.

6:2 fear the LORD. See note on Gen 20:11. days may be prolonged. See 4:40; 5:16,33. By obeying the Lord and keeping His decrees, individual Israelites would enjoy long life in the land, and the people as a whole would enjoy a long national existence in the land.

6:3 land flowing with milk and honey. See note on Ex 3:8. The phrase is used 14 times from Exodus through Deuteronomy and 5 times elsewhere in the OT (see especially 32:13–14).

6:4–9 Known as the Shema, Hebrew for "Hear." It has become the Jewish confession of faith, recited daily by the pious (see Matt 22:37–38; Mark 12:29–30; Luke 10:27).

6:4 Hear, O Israel. See note on 4:1. the LORD is one. A divinely revealed insight, especially important in view of the multiplicity of Baals and other gods of Canaan and elsewhere (see, e.g., Judg 2:11–13).

6:5 You shall love the LORD. Love for God and neighbor (see Lev 19:18) is built on the love that the Lord has for His people (1 John 4:19–21) and on His identification with them. Such love is to be total, involving one's whole being (see notes on 4:29; Josh 22:5).

6:6 words . . . shall be on your heart. A feature that would especially characterize the "new covenant" (Jer 31:31; see Jer 31:33).

6:8–9 Many Jews take these verses literally and tie phylacteries (see note on Matt 23:5) to their foreheads and left arms. They also attach mezuzot (small wooden or metal containers in which passages of Scripture are placed) to the doorframes of their houses. But a figurative interpretation is supported by 11:18–20; Ex 13:9,16. See note on Ex 13:9.

6:10–12 Because the emphasis in Scripture is always on what God does and not on what His people achieve, they are never to forget what He has done for them.

6:13 Quoted in part by Jesus in response to Satan's temptation (Matt 4:10; Luke 4:8). Jesus quoted from Deuteronomy in response to the devil's other two temptations as well (see notes on v. 16; 8:3).

6:15 jealous God. See note on Ex 20:5.

16 "[a]You shall not put the LORD your God to the test, [b]as you tested Him at Massah.

17 "[a]You should diligently keep the commandments of the LORD your God, and His testimonies and His statutes which He has commanded you.

18 "You shall do what is right and good in the sight of the LORD, that [a]it may be well with you and that you may go in and possess the good land which the LORD swore to give your fathers, 19 by driving out all your enemies from before you, as the LORD has spoken.

20 "[a]When your son asks you in time to come, saying, 'What do the testimonies and the statutes and the judgments mean which the LORD our God commanded you?'

21 then you shall say to your son, 'We were slaves to Pharaoh in Egypt, and the LORD brought us from Egypt with a mighty hand.

22 'Moreover, the LORD showed great and distressing signs and wonders before our eyes against Egypt, Pharaoh and all his household;

23 He brought us out from there in order to bring us in, to give us the land which He had sworn to our fathers.'

24 "So the LORD commanded us to observe all these statutes, [a]to fear the LORD our God for our good always and [b]for our survival, as it is today.

25 "[a]It will be righteousness for us if we [1]are careful to observe all this commandment before the LORD our God, just as He commanded us.

Warnings

7 "[a]When the LORD your God brings you into the land where you are entering to possess it, and clears away many nations before you, the Hittites and the Girgashites and the Amorites and the Canaanites and the Perizzites and the Hivites and the Jebusites, [b]seven nations greater and stronger than you,

2 and when the LORD your God delivers them before you and you [1]defeat them, [a]then you shall [2]utterly destroy them. [b]You shall make no covenant with them [c]and show no favor to them.

3 "Furthermore, [a]you shall not intermarry with them; you shall not give your [1]daughters to [2]their sons, nor shall you take [3]their daughters for your [4]sons.

4 "For [1]they will turn your [2]sons away from [3]following Me to serve other gods; then the anger of the LORD will be kindled against you and [a]He will quickly destroy you.

5 "But thus you shall do to them: [a]you shall tear down their altars, and smash their sacred pillars, and hew down their [1]Asherim, and burn their graven images with fire.

6 "For you are [a]a holy people to the LORD your God; the LORD your God has chosen you to be [b]a people for His [1]own possession out of all the peoples who are on the face of the [2]earth.

7 "[a]The LORD did not set His love on you nor choose you because you were more in number than any of the peoples, for you were the fewest of all peoples,

8 but because the LORD loved you and kept the [a]oath which He swore to your forefathers, [b]the LORD brought you out by a mighty hand and redeemed you from the house of [1]slavery, from the hand of Pharaoh king of Egypt.

9 "Know therefore that the LORD your God, [a]He is God, [b]the faithful God, [c]who keeps [1]His covenant and [1]His lovingkindness to a thousandth generation with those who [d]love Him and keep His commandments;

10 but [a]repays those who hate Him to [1]their faces, to destroy [2]them; He will not delay [3]with him who hates Him, He will repay him to his face.

11 "Therefore, you shall keep the commandment and the statutes and the judgments which I am commanding you today, to do them.

6:25 righteousness. Probably here refers to a true, personal relationship with the covenant Lord that manifests itself in the daily lives of God's people (see 24:13).
7:1 Hittites . . . Jebusites. See 20:17; see also notes on Gen 10:6,15–18; 13:7. seven nations. See note on Ex 3:8.
7:2–5 You shall make no covenant . . . not intermarry . . . tear down their altars. Israel was to have no association—political, social or religious—with the idol worshipers of Canaan (see v. 16; see also note on 2:34).
7:2 utterly destroy them. See note on 2:34.
7:4 turn your sons . . . to serve other gods. The Lord's command against intermarriage with foreigners was not racially motivated but was intended to prevent spiritual contamination and apostasy (see, e.g., 1 Kin 11:1–11; Neh 13:25–27).
7:5 altars . . . sacred pillars . . . Asherim. Cult objects of Canaanite idolatrous worship (see 12:3; 16:21–22). Asherim were wooden symbols of the goddess Asherah (see Ex 34:13 and note.)
7:6 holy. Separated from all corrupting people or things and consecrated totally to the Lord (see note on Ex 3:5). possession. See note on Ex 19:5.
7:8 because the LORD loved you. "His covenant and His lovingkindness" (vv. 9,12) stem from God's love for His people, based on His character and embodied in His covenant; they do not stem from the numerical greatness of the people or any virtue of theirs. His love must be reciprocated by His people (see vv. 9–10; 9:4–6; see also note on 6:5).
7:9 Know . . . that the LORD . . . is God. See Ps 100:3. thousandth generation with those who love Him. See note on Ex 20:6.
7:12–15 The blessings are elaborated in 28:1–14; 30:1–10.

you [1]His covenant and [1]His lovingkindness which He swore to your forefathers.

13 "He will [a]love you and bless you and [b]multiply you; He will also bless the fruit of your womb and the fruit of your ground, your grain and your new wine and your oil, the increase of your herd and the young of your flock, [1]in the land which He swore to your forefathers to give you.

14 "You shall be blessed above all peoples; there will be no male or female [a]barren among you or among your cattle.

15 "[a]The LORD will remove from you all sickness; and He will not put on you any of the harmful diseases of Egypt which you have known, but He will lay them on all who hate you.

16 "You shall consume all the peoples whom the LORD your God will deliver to you; [a]your eye shall not pity them, nor shall you serve their gods, for that would be [b]a snare to you.

17 "If you should say in your heart, 'These nations are greater than I; how can I [a]dispossess them?'

18 you shall not be afraid of them; you shall well [a]remember what the LORD your God did to Pharaoh and to all Egypt:

19 [a]the great trials which your eyes saw and the signs and the wonders and the mighty hand and the outstretched arm by which the LORD your God brought you out. So shall the LORD your God do to all the peoples of whom you are afraid.

20 "Moreover, the LORD your God will send [a]the hornet against them, until those who are left and hide themselves from you perish.

21 "You shall not dread [1]them, for [a]the LORD your God is in your midst, [b]a great and awesome God.

22 "[a]The LORD your God will clear away these nations before you little by little; you will not be able to put an end to them quickly, for the [1]wild beasts would grow too numerous for you.

23 "[a]But the LORD your God will deliver them before you, and will [1]throw them into great confusion until they are destroyed.

24 "[a]He will deliver their kings into your hand so that you will make their name perish from under heaven; [b]no man will be able to stand before you until you have destroyed them.

25 "The graven images of their gods you are to [a]burn with fire; you shall [b]not covet the silver or the gold that is on them, nor take it for yourselves, or you will be [c]snared by it, for it is an [d]abomination to the LORD your God.

26 "You shall not bring an abomination into your house, and like it come under the [a]ban; you shall utterly detest it and you shall utterly abhor it, for it is something banned.

God's Gracious Dealings

8 "All the commandments that I am commanding you today you shall be careful to do, that you [a]may live and multiply, and go in and possess the land which the LORD swore to give to your forefathers.

2 "[a]You shall remember all the way which the LORD your God has [b]led you in the wilderness these forty years, that He might humble you, [c]testing you, to know what was in your heart, whether you would keep His commandments or not.

3 "He humbled you and let you be hungry, and fed you with manna which you did not know, nor did your fathers know, that He might make you [1]understand that [a]man does not live by bread alone, but man lives by everything that proceeds out of the mouth of the LORD.

4 "[a]Your clothing did not wear out on you, nor did your foot swell these forty years.

5 "[a]Thus you are to know in your heart that the LORD your God was disciplining you just as a man disciplines his son.

6 "Therefore, you shall keep the commandments of the LORD your God, to walk in His ways and to [1]fear Him.

7 "For [a]the LORD your God is bringing you into a good land, a land of brooks of water, of fountains and springs, flowing forth in valleys and hills;

8 a land of wheat and barley, of vines and fig trees and pomegranates, a land of olive oil and honey;

9 a land where you will eat food without scarcity, in which you will not lack anything; a land whose stones are iron, and out of whose hills you can dig copper.

Bread sustains but does not guarantee life, which is God's gift to those who trust in and live by His word: His commands and promises (see vv. 1,18). God's "discipline" (v. 5) of His people by bringing them through the wilderness taught them this fundamental truth. There they were humbled (cf. v. 14) by being cast in total dependence on the Lord.

10 "When [a]you have eaten and are satisfied, you shall bless the LORD your God for the good land which He has given you.

11 "[1]Beware that you do not [a]forget the LORD your God by not keeping His commandments and His ordinances and His statutes which I am commanding you today;

12 otherwise, [a]when you have eaten and are satisfied, and have built good houses and lived in them,

13 and when your herds and your flocks multiply, and your silver and gold multiply, and all that you have multiplies,

14 then your heart will become [1]proud and you will [a]forget the LORD your God who brought you out from the land of Egypt, out of the house of [2]slavery.

15 "He led you through [a]the great and terrible wilderness, with its [b]fiery serpents and scorpions and thirsty ground where there was no water; He [c]brought water for you out of the rock of flint.

16 "In the wilderness He fed you manna [a]which your fathers did not know, that He might humble you and that He might [b]test you, to do good for you [1]in the end.

17 "Otherwise, [a]you may say in your heart, 'My power and the strength of my hand made me this wealth.'

18 "But you shall remember the LORD your God, for [a]it is He who is giving you power to make wealth, that He may confirm His covenant which He swore to your fathers, as it is this day.

19 "It shall come about if you ever forget the LORD your God and go after other gods and serve them and worship them, [a]I testify against you today that you will surely perish.

20 "Like the nations that the LORD makes to perish before you, so [a]you shall perish; because you would not listen to the voice of the LORD your God.

Israel Provoked God

9 "Hear, O Israel! You are crossing over the Jordan today to go in to dispossess [a]nations greater and mightier than you, great cities [1][b]fortified to heaven,

2 a people great and tall, the sons of the Anakim, whom you know and of whom you have heard it said, '[a]Who can stand before the sons of Anak?'

3 "Know therefore today that [a]it is the LORD your God who is crossing over before you as [b]a consuming fire. He will destroy them and He will subdue them before you, so that [c]you may drive them out and destroy them quickly, just as the LORD has spoken to you.

4 "[a]Do not say in your heart when the LORD your God has driven them out before [1]you, 'Because of my righteousness the LORD has brought me in to possess this land,' but it is [b]because of the wickedness of these nations that the LORD is dispossessing them before you.

5 "It is [a]not for your righteousness or for the uprightness of your heart that you are going to possess their land, but it is because of the wickedness of these nations that the LORD your God is driving them out before you, in order to confirm [b]the [1]oath which the LORD swore to your fathers, to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.

6 "Know, then, it is not because of your righteousness that the LORD your God is giving you this good land to possess, for you are [a]a [1]stubborn people.

7 "Remember, do not forget how you provoked the LORD your God to wrath in the wilderness; [a]from the day that you left the land of Egypt until you arrived at this place, you have been rebellious against the LORD.

8 "Even [a]at Horeb you provoked the LORD to wrath, and the LORD was so angry with you that He would have destroyed you.

9 "When I went up to the mountain to receive the tablets of stone, the tablets of the covenant which the LORD had made with you, then I remained on the mountain forty days and nights; [a]I neither ate bread nor drank water.

10 "The LORD gave me the two tablets of stone [a]written by the finger of God; and on them were all the words which the LORD had spoken with you at the mountain from the midst of the fire on the day of the assembly.

11 "It came about [a]at the end of forty days and nights that the LORD gave me the two tablets of stone, the tablets of the covenant.

12 "[a]Then the LORD said to me, 'Arise, go down from here quickly, for your people whom you brought out of Egypt have acted corruptly. They have [b]quickly turned aside from the way which I commanded them; they have made a molten image for themselves.'

13 "The [a]LORD spoke further to me, saying, 'I have seen this people, and indeed, it is a [1][b]stubborn people.

14 '[a]Let Me alone, that I may destroy them and [b]blot out their name from under heaven; and I will make of you a nation mightier and greater than they.'

15 "[a]So I turned and came down from the mountain while the mountain was burning with fire, and the two tablets of the covenant were in my two hands.

16 "And I saw that you had indeed sinned against the LORD your God. You had made for yourselves a molten calf; you had turned aside quickly from the way which the LORD had commanded you.

17 "I took hold of the two tablets and threw them from my hands and smashed them before your eyes.

18 "[a]I fell down before the LORD, [b]as at the first, forty days and nights; [c]I neither ate bread nor drank water, [d]because of all your sin which you had committed in doing what was evil in the sight of the LORD to provoke Him to anger.

19 "For [a]I was afraid of the anger and hot displeasure with which the LORD was wrathful against you in order to destroy you, [b]but the LORD listened to me that time also.

20 "The LORD was angry enough with Aaron to destroy him; so I also prayed for Aaron at the same time.

21 "[a]I took your [1]sinful thing, the calf which you had made, and burned it with fire and crushed it, grinding it very small until it was as fine as dust; and I threw its dust into the brook that came down from the mountain.

22 "Again at [a]Taberah and at [b]Massah and at [c]Kibroth-hattaavah you provoked the LORD to wrath.

23 "When the LORD sent you from [a]Kadesh-barnea, saying, '[b]Go up and possess the land which I have given you,' then you rebelled against the [1]command of the LORD your God; [c]you neither believed Him nor listened to His voice.

24 "[a]You have been rebellious against the LORD from the day I knew you.

26 "[a]I prayed to the LORD and said, 'O Lord GOD, do not destroy Your people, even Your inheritance, whom You have redeemed through Your greatness, whom You have brought out of Egypt with a mighty hand.

27 'Remember Your servants, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob; do not look at the stubbornness of this people or at their wickedness or their sin.

28 'Otherwise the land from which You brought us may say, "[a]Because the LORD was not able to bring them into the land which He had [1]promised them and because He hated them He has brought them out to slay them in the wilderness."

29 'Yet they are Your people, even [a]Your inheritance, whom You have brought out by Your [b]great power and Your outstretched arm.'

The Tablets Rewritten

10 "At that time the LORD said to me, '[a]Cut out for yourself two tablets of stone like the former ones, and come up to Me on the mountain, and [b]make an ark of wood for yourself.

2 '[a]I will write on the tablets the words that were on the former tablets which you shattered, and [b]you shall put them in the ark.'

3 "So [a]I made an ark of acacia wood and [b]cut out two tablets of stone like the former ones, and went up on the mountain with the two tablets in my hand.

4 "He wrote on the tablets, like the former writing, [a]the Ten [1]Commandments [b]which the LORD had spoken to you on the mountain from the midst of the fire [c]on the day of the assembly; and the LORD gave them to me.

5 "Then I turned and [a]came down from the mountain and [b]put the tablets in the ark which I had made; [c]and there they are, as the LORD commanded me."

6 (Now the sons of Israel set out from [1]Beeroth [a]Bene-jaakan to Moserah. [b]There Aaron died and there he was buried and Eleazar his son ministered as priest in his place.

7 [a]From there they set out to Gudgodah, and from Gudgodah to Jotbathah, a land of brooks of water.

8 [a]At that time the LORD set apart the tribe of Levi to carry the ark of the covenant of the LORD, to stand before the LORD [b]to serve Him and to bless in His name until this day.

9:19 the LORD listened to me that time also. Moses' intercessory prayer on this occasion (vv. 26–29) ranks among the great prayers for Israel's national survival (see 1 Sam 7:5,8–9; Jer 15:1).

10:3 Ex 34–37 show that the order of events here is different from that in Exodus (see Introduction: Structure and Outline).
10:6–9 A historical parenthesis, apparently stemming from Moses' prayer for Aaron and the Israelites (9:26–29) and the reference to the ark (vv. 1–5).
10:8 carry the ark. See note on Num 1:50. to serve. See note on 21:5.

9 [a]Therefore, Levi does not have a portion or inheritance with his brothers; the LORD is his inheritance, just as the LORD your God spoke to him.)

10 "[a]I, moreover, stayed on the mountain forty days and forty nights like the first time, and the LORD listened to me that time also; the LORD was not willing to destroy you.

11 "Then the LORD said to me, 'Arise, proceed on your journey ahead of the people, that they may go in and possess the land which I swore to their fathers to give them.'

12 "[a]Now, Israel, what does the LORD your God require from you, but to [1]fear the LORD your God, to walk in all His ways and [b]love Him, and to serve the LORD your God with [c]all your heart and with all your soul, 13 and to keep the LORD's commandments and His statutes which I am commanding you today for your good?

14 "Behold, [a]to the LORD your God belong heaven and the [1]highest heavens, [b]the earth and all that is in it.

15 "[a]Yet on your fathers did the LORD set His affection to love them, and He chose their [1]descendants after them, even you above all peoples, as it is this day.

16 "[a]So circumcise [1]your heart, and [b]stiffen your neck no longer.

17 "[a]For the LORD your God is the God of gods and the [b]Lord of lords, the great, the mighty, and the awesome God [c]who does not show partiality nor [d]take a bribe.

18 "He executes justice for [a]the orphan and the widow, and shows His love for the alien by giving him food and clothing.

19 "[a]So show your love for the alien, for you were aliens in the land of Egypt.

20 "You shall fear the LORD your God; you shall serve Him and [a]cling to Him, and [b]you shall swear by His name.

21 "He is [a]your praise and He is your God, who has done these great and awesome things for you which your eyes have seen.

22 "[a]Your fathers went down to Egypt seventy persons in all, [b]and now the LORD your God has made you as numerous as the stars of heaven.

Rewards of Obedience

11 "You shall therefore [a]love the LORD your God, and always [b]keep His charge, His statutes, His ordinances, and His commandments.

2 "Know this day [a]that I am not speaking with your sons who have not known and who have not seen the [1]discipline of the LORD your God—His greatness, His mighty hand and His outstretched arm,

3 and [a]His signs and His works which He did in the midst of Egypt to Pharaoh the king of Egypt and to all his land;

4 and what He did to Egypt's army, to its horses and its chariots, [a]when He made the water of the [1]Red Sea to [2]engulf them while they were pursuing you, and the LORD [3]completely destroyed them;

5 and what He did to you in the wilderness until you came to this place;

6 and [a]what He did to Dathan and Abiram, the sons of Eliab, the son of Reuben, when the earth opened its mouth and swallowed them, their households, their tents, and [b]every living thing that [1]followed them, among all Israel—

7 but your own eyes have seen all the great work of the LORD which He did.

8 "You shall therefore keep every commandment which I am commanding you today, [a]so that you may be strong and go in and possess the land into which you are about to cross to possess it;

9 [a]so that you may prolong your days on the land which the LORD swore to your fathers to give to them and to their [1]descendants, [b]a land flowing with milk and honey.

10 "For the land, into which you are entering to possess it, is not like the land of Egypt from which you came, where you used to sow your seed and water it with your [1]foot like a vegetable garden.

11 "But [a]the land into which you are about to cross to possess it, a land of hills and valleys, drinks water from the rain of heaven,

12 a land for which the LORD your God cares; [a]the eyes of the LORD your God are always on it, from the [1]beginning even to the end of the year.

13 "It shall come about, [a]if you listen obediently to my commandments which I am commanding you today, [b]to love the LORD

29 "It shall come about, when the LORD your God brings you into the land where you are entering to possess it, [a]that you shall place the blessing on Mount Gerizim and the curse on Mount Ebal.

30 "Are they not across the Jordan, west of the way toward the sunset, in the land of the Canaanites who live in the Arabah, opposite [a]Gilgal, beside [b]the [1]oaks of Moreh?

31 "For you are about to cross the Jordan to go in to possess the land which the LORD your God is giving you, and [a]you shall possess it and live in it, 32 and you shall be careful to do all the statutes and the judgments which I am setting before you today.

Laws of the Sanctuary

12 "These are the statutes and the judgments which you shall carefully observe in the land which the LORD, the God of your fathers, has given you to possess [1a]as long as you live on the [2]earth.

2 "You shall utterly destroy all the places where the nations whom you shall dispossess serve their gods, on the [a]high mountains and on the hills and under every green tree.

3 "[a]You shall tear down their altars and smash their sacred pillars and burn their [1]Asherim with fire, and you shall cut down the engraved images of their gods and [b]obliterate their name from that place.

4 "You shall not act like this toward the LORD your God.

5 "[a]But you shall seek the LORD at the place which the LORD your God will choose from all your tribes, to establish His name there for His dwelling, and there you shall come.

11:17 shut up the heavens. The all-important seasonal rains (see v. 14) were controlled by the Lord—not by Baal, as the inhabitants of Canaan thought (cf. Hos 2:8,17).

11:22 hold fast. See note on 10:20.
11:24 Every place on which the sole of your foot treads. See note on 1:7.
11:26–30 The blessings and curses proclaimed on Mount Gerizim and Mount Ebal are detailed in chs. 27–28.

11:30 way. Probably the north-south road that ran parallel to the Jordan between the Sea of Galilee and the Dead Sea. Arabah. See note on 1:1. The Canaanites who lived there controlled the territory around Gerizim and Ebal. oaks of Moreh. See note on Gen 12:6.

12:5 the place which the LORD . . . will choose . . . to establish His name. The tabernacle, the Lord's dwelling place during the wilderness journey, will be located in the city in Canaan where the Lord would choose to dwell. Moses stresses the importance of centralizing the place of worship as he prepares the people for settlement in the promised land, where the Canaanites had 6 "There you shall bring your burnt offerings, your sacrifices, [a]your tithes, the [1]contribution of your hand, your votive offerings, your freewill offerings, and the firstborn of your herd and of your flock.

7 "There also you and your households shall eat before the LORD your God, and [a]rejoice in all [1]your undertakings in which the LORD your God has blessed you.

8 "You shall not do at all what we are doing here today, every man doing whatever is right in his own eyes;

9 for you have not as yet come to [a]the resting place and the [b]inheritance which the LORD your God is giving you.

10 "When you cross the Jordan and live in the land which the LORD your God is giving you to inherit, and [a]He gives you rest from all your enemies around you so that you live in security, 11 [a]then it shall come about that the place in which the LORD your God will choose for His name to dwell, there you shall bring all that I command you: your burnt offerings and your sacrifices, your tithes and the [1]contribution of your hand, and all your choice votive offerings which you will vow to the LORD.

12 "And you shall [a]rejoice before the LORD your God, you and your sons and daughters, your male and female servants, and the [b]Levite who is within your gates, since [c]he has no portion or inheritance with you.

13 "[a]Be careful that you do not offer your burnt offerings in every cultic place you see,

14 but in the place which the LORD chooses in one of your tribes, there you shall offer your burnt offerings, and there you shall do all that I command you.

15 "[a]However, you may slaughter and eat meat within any of your gates, [1]whatever you desire, according to the blessing of the LORD your God which He has given you; the unclean and the clean may eat of it, as of [b]the gazelle and the deer.

16 "[a]Only you shall not eat the blood; [b]you are to pour it out on the ground like water.

17 "[a]You are not allowed to eat within your gates the tithe of your grain or new wine or oil, or the firstborn of your herd or flock, or any of your votive offerings which you vow, or your freewill offerings, or the [1]contribution of your hand.

18 "But [a]you shall eat them before the LORD your God in [b]the place which the LORD your God will choose, you and your son and daughter, and your male and female servants, and the [c]Levite who is within your gates; and you shall [d]rejoice before the LORD your God in all [1]your undertakings.

19 "[a]Be careful that you do not forsake the Levite [1]as long as you live in your land.

20 "When the LORD your God extends your border [a]as He has promised you, and you say, 'I will eat meat,' because [1]you desire to eat meat, then you may eat meat, [2]whatever you desire.

21 "If the place which the LORD your God chooses to put His name is too far from you, then you may slaughter of your herd and flock which the LORD has given you, as I have commanded you; and you may eat within your gates [1]whatever you desire.

22 "Just as a gazelle or a deer is eaten, so you will eat it; the unclean and the clean alike may eat of it.

23 "Only be sure [a]not to eat the blood, for the blood is the [1]life, and you shall not eat the [1]life with the flesh.

24 "You shall not eat it; you shall pour it out on the ground like water.

25 "You shall not eat it, so that [a]it may be well with you and your sons after you, for [b]you will be doing what is right in the sight of the LORD.

26 "[a]Only your holy things which you may have and your votive offerings, you shall take and go to the place which the LORD chooses.

27 "And [a]you shall offer your burnt offerings, the flesh and the blood, on the altar of the LORD your God; and the blood of your sacrifices shall be poured out on the altar of the LORD your God, and [b]you shall eat the flesh.

28 "Be careful to listen to all these words which I command you, so that [a]it may be well with you and your sons after you forever, for you will be doing what is good and right in the sight of the LORD your God.

29 "When [a]the LORD your God cuts off before you the nations which you are going in to dispossess, and you dispossess them and dwell in their land,

30 beware that you are not ensnared [1]to follow them, after they are destroyed before you, and that you do not inquire after their gods, saying, 'How do these nations serve their gods, that I also may do likewise?'

27 "Also you shall not neglect [a]the Levite who is in your [1]town, [b]for he has no portion or inheritance among you.

28 "[a]At the end of every third year you shall bring out all the tithe of your produce in that year, and shall deposit it in your [1]town.

29 "The Levite, [a]because he has no portion or inheritance among you, and [b]the alien, the [1]orphan and the widow who are in your [2]town, shall come and [c]eat and be satisfied, in order that [d]the LORD your God may bless you in all the work of your hand which you do.

The Sabbatic Year

15 "[a]At the end of every seven years you shall [1]grant a remission of debts.

2 "This is the manner of remission: every creditor shall release what he has loaned to his neighbor; he shall not exact it of his neighbor and his brother, because the LORD's remission has been proclaimed.

3 "[a]From a foreigner you may exact it, but your hand shall release whatever of yours is with your brother.

15:1 [1]Lit make a release [a]Deut 31:10 3 [a]Deut 23:20

14:2 His own possession. See note on Ex 19:5.
14:3–21 The subject of clean and unclean food is discussed in greater detail in Lev 11 (see notes there).
14:21 shall not eat . . . dies of itself. Because of the prohibition against eating blood, since the dead animal's blood would not be properly drained (see 12:16,24; see also notes on Gen 9:4; Lev 17:11). shall not boil a young goat in its mother's milk. See note on Ex 23:19.
14:22–29 See Num 18:21–29. Taken together, the two passages suggest the following: 1. Annually, a tenth of all Israelite produce was to be taken to the city of the central sanctuary for distribution to the Levites. 2. At that time, at an initial festival, all Israelites ate part of the tithe. 3. The rest, which would be by far the major part of it, belonged to the Levites. 4. Every third year the tithe was gathered in the towns and stored for distribution to the Levites and the less fortunate: aliens, fatherless and widows (see 26:12). 5. The Levites were to present to the Lord a tenth of their tithe. See note on Lev 27:30.
14:22 tithe. See notes on Gen 14:20; 28:22.
14:23 establish His name. See note on 12:5.
14:25 money. Pieces of silver of various weights were a common medium of exchange, but not in the form of coins (see note on Gen 20:16).
15:1 every seven years. See Ex 23:10–11; Lev 25:1–7.
15:3 From a foreigner you may exact it. Since he was not subject to the command to allow his fields to lie fallow during the seventh year, a foreigner would probably be financially able to pay his debts if asked to do so.

4 "However, there will be no poor among you, since [a]the LORD will surely bless you in the land which the LORD your God is giving you as an inheritance to possess,

5 if only you listen obediently to the voice of the LORD your God, to observe carefully all this commandment which I am commanding you today.

6 "[a]For the LORD your God will bless you as He has promised you, and you will lend to many nations, but you will not borrow; and you will rule over many nations, but they will not rule over you.

7 "If there is [a]a poor man with you, one of your brothers, in any of your [1]towns in your land which the LORD your God is giving you, [b]you shall not harden your heart, nor close your hand from your poor brother;

8 but [a]you shall freely open your hand to him, and shall generously lend him sufficient for his need in whatever he lacks.

9 "Beware that there is no base [1]thought in your heart, saying, '[a]The seventh year, the year of remission, is near,' and [b]your eye is hostile toward your poor brother, and you give him nothing; then he [c]may cry to the LORD against you, and it will be a sin in you.

10 "You shall generously give to him, and your heart shall not be grieved when you give to him, because [a]for this thing the LORD your God will bless you in all your work and in all [1]your undertakings.

11 "[a]For the poor will never cease to be [1]in the land; therefore I command you, saying, 'You shall freely open your hand to your brother, to your needy and poor in your land.'

12 "[a]If your [1]kinsman, a Hebrew man or woman, is sold to you, then he shall serve you six years, but in the seventh year you shall set him [2]free.

13 "When you set him [1]free, you shall not send him away empty-handed.

14 "You shall furnish him liberally from your flock and from your threshing floor and from your wine vat; you shall give to him as the LORD your God has blessed you.

15 "You shall remember that you were a slave in the land of Egypt, and the LORD your God redeemed you; therefore I command you [1]this today.

16 "It shall come about [a]if he says to you, 'I will not go out from you,' because he loves you and your household, since he fares well with you;

17 then you shall take an awl and pierce it through his ear into the door, and he shall be your servant forever. Also you shall do likewise to your maidservant.

18 "It shall not seem hard to you when you set him [1]free, for he has given you six years with [2]double the service of a hired man; so the LORD your God will bless you in whatever you do.

19 "[a]You shall consecrate to the LORD your God all the firstborn males that are born of your herd and of your flock; you shall not work with the firstborn of your herd, nor shear the firstborn of your flock.

20 "[a]You and your household shall eat it every year before the LORD your God in the place which the LORD chooses.

21 "[a]But if it has any [1]defect, such as lameness or blindness, or any serious [1]defect, you shall not sacrifice it to the LORD your God.

22 "You shall eat it within your gates; [a]the unclean and the clean alike may eat it, as [a]a gazelle or a deer.

23 "Only [a]you shall not eat its blood; you are to pour it out on the ground like water.

The Feasts of Passover, of Weeks, and of Booths

16 "Observe [a]the month of Abib and [1][b]celebrate the Passover to the LORD your God, for in the month of Abib the LORD your God brought you out of Egypt by night.

2 "You shall sacrifice the Passover to the LORD your God from the flock and the herd, in the place where the LORD chooses to establish His name.

3 "[a]You shall not eat leavened bread with it; seven days you shall eat with it unleavened bread, the bread of affliction (for you came out of the land of Egypt in haste), so that you may remember [b]all the days of your 15:4 there will be no poor among you. Because of the Lord's reward for obedience (vv. 4–6), and because of the sabbath-year arrangement (vv. 7–11). This "year of remission" (v. 9) gave Israelites who had experienced economic reverses a way to gain release from indebtedness and so, in a measure, a way to equalize wealth. Cf. the provisions of the year of jubilee (Lev 25:8–38).

15:6 you will lend. If Israel failed to follow the Lord's commands, the reverse would be true (see 28:43–44).
15:11 the poor will never cease . . . in the land. See also Jesus' statement in Matt 26:11. Even in the best of societies under the most enlightened laws, the uncertainties of life and the variations among citizens result in some people becoming poor. In such cases the Lord commands that generosity and kindness be extended to them.
15:15 remember. See note on 4:10.
15:16 because he loves you. In Ex 21:5–6 an additional reason is given: The servant may want to stay with his family.
15:17 take an awl and pierce it through his ear. See note on Ex 21:6.
15:18 double the service. A Hebrew servant worked twice as many years as the Code of Hammurapi, e.g., required for release from debt (see chart, p. xix). Other ancient legal texts, however, support "equivalent to" as a possible translation of the phrase.
15:19 consecrate . . . the firstborn males. Because the Lord saved His people from the plague of death on the firstborn in Egypt (see Ex 12:12,29; 13:2 and note; 13:15).

life the day when you came out of the land of Egypt.

4 "For seven days no leaven shall be seen with you in all your territory, and [a]none of the flesh which you sacrifice on the evening of the first day shall remain overnight until morning.

5 "You are not allowed to sacrifice the Passover in any of your [1]towns which the LORD your God is giving you;

6 but [a]at the place where the LORD your God chooses to establish His name, you shall sacrifice the Passover in the evening at sunset, at the time that you came out of Egypt.

7 "You shall [a]cook and eat it in the place which the LORD your God chooses. In the morning you are to return to your tents.

8 "Six days you shall eat unleavened bread, and [a]on the seventh day there shall be [b]a solemn assembly to the LORD your God; you shall do no work on it.

9 "[a]You shall count seven weeks for yourself; you shall begin to count seven weeks from the time you begin to put the sickle to the standing grain.

10 "Then you shall [1]celebrate the Feast of Weeks to the LORD your God with a tribute of a freewill offering of your hand, which you shall give just as the LORD your God blesses you;

11 and you shall [a]rejoice before the LORD your God, you and your son and your daughter and your male and female servants and [b]the Levite who is in your [1]town, and [c]the stranger and the [2]orphan and the widow who are in your midst, in the place where the LORD your God chooses to establish His name.

12 "[a]You shall remember that you were a slave in Egypt, and you shall be careful to observe these statutes.

13 "[a]You shall [1]celebrate the Feast of Booths seven days after you have gathered in from your threshing floor and your wine vat;

14 and you shall [a]rejoice in your feast, you and your son and your daughter and your male and female servants and the Levite and the stranger and the [1]orphan and the widow who are in your [2]towns.

15 "Seven days you shall celebrate a feast to the LORD your God in the place which the LORD chooses, because the LORD your God will bless you in all your produce and in all the work of your hands, so that you will be altogether joyful.

16 "[a]Three times in a year all your males shall appear before the LORD your God in the place which He chooses, at the Feast of Unleavened Bread and at the Feast of Weeks and at the Feast of Booths, and [b]they shall not appear before the LORD empty-handed.

17 "Every man [1]shall give as he is able, according to the blessing of the LORD your God which He has given you.

18 "You shall appoint for yourself judges and officers in all your [1]towns which the LORD your God is giving you, according to your tribes, and they shall judge the people with righteous judgment.

19 "[a]You shall not distort justice; [b]you shall not [1]be partial, and [c]you shall not take a bribe, for a bribe blinds the eyes of the wise and perverts the words of the righteous.

20 "Justice, and only justice, you shall pursue, that [a]you may live and possess the land which the LORD your God is giving you.

21 "[a]You shall not plant for yourself an [1]Asherah of any kind of tree beside the altar of the LORD your God, which you shall make for yourself.

22 "[a]You shall not set up for yourself a sacred pillar which the LORD your God hates.

Administration of Justice

17 "[a]You shall not sacrifice to the LORD your God an ox or a sheep which has a blemish or any [1]defect, for that is a detestable thing to the LORD your God.

2 "[a]If there is found in your midst, in any of your [1]towns, which the LORD your God is giving you, a man or a woman who does what is evil in the sight of the LORD your God, by transgressing His covenant,

3 and has gone and [a]served other gods and worshiped them, [b]or the sun or the moon or any of the heavenly host, [c]which I have not commanded,

4 and if it is told you and you have heard of it, then you shall inquire thoroughly. Behold, if it is true and the thing certain that this detestable thing has been done in Israel,

5 then you shall bring out that man or that woman who has done this evil deed to your gates, that is, the man or the woman, and [a]you shall stone them to [1]death.

6 "[a]On the [1]evidence of two witnesses or three witnesses, he who is to die shall be put to death; he shall not be put to death on the [1]evidence of one witness.

7 "[a]The hand of the witnesses shall be first against him to put him to death, and afterward the hand of all the people. [b]So you shall purge the evil from your midst.

8 "[a]If any case is too difficult for you to decide, between [1]one kind of homicide or another, between [2]one kind of lawsuit or another, and between [3]one kind of assault or another, being cases of dispute in your [4]courts, then you shall arise and go up to [b]the place which the LORD your God chooses.

9 "So you shall come to [a]the Levitical priest or the judge who is in office in those days, and you shall inquire of them and they will declare to you the verdict in the case.

10 "You shall do according to the [1]terms of the verdict which they declare to you from that place which the LORD chooses; and you shall be careful to observe according to all that they teach you.

11 "[a]According to the [1]terms of the law which they teach you, and according to the verdict which they tell you, you shall do; you shall not turn aside from the word which they declare to you, to the right or the left.

12 "The man who acts [a]presumptuously by not listening to the priest who stands there to serve the LORD your God, nor to the judge, that man shall die; thus you shall purge the evil from Israel.

13 "Then all the people will hear and be afraid, and will not act [a]presumptuously again.

14 "When you enter the land which the LORD your God gives you, and you [a]possess it and live in it, and you say, '[b]I will set a king over me like all the nations who are around me,'

15 you shall surely set a king over you whom the LORD your God chooses, one [a]from among your [1]countrymen you shall set as king over yourselves; you may not put a foreigner over yourselves who is not your [1]countryman.

17 "[a]He shall not multiply wives for himself, [1]or else his heart will turn away; nor shall he greatly increase silver and gold for himself.

18 "Now it shall come about when he sits on the throne of his kingdom, he shall write for himself a copy of this law on a scroll [1][a]in the presence of the Levitical priests.

19 "It shall be with him and he shall read it [a]all the days of his life, that he may learn to fear the LORD his God, [1]by carefully observing all the words of this law and these statutes, 20 that his heart may not be lifted up above his [1]countrymen [a]and that he may not turn aside from the commandment, to the right or the left, so that he and his sons may continue long in his kingdom in the midst of Israel.

Portion of the Levites

18 "[a]The Levitical priests, the whole tribe of Levi, shall have no portion or inheritance with Israel; they shall eat the LORD's offerings by fire and His [1]portion.

2 "[a]They shall have no inheritance among their [1]countrymen; the LORD is their inheritance, as He [2]promised them.

3 "[a]Now this shall be the priests' due from the people, from those who offer a sacrifice, either an ox or a sheep, of which they shall give to the priest the shoulder and the two cheeks and the stomach.

4 "You shall give him the [a]first fruits of your grain, your new wine, and your oil, and the first shearing of your sheep.

5 "[a]For the LORD your God has chosen him and his sons from all your tribes, to [b]stand [1]and serve in the name of the LORD forever.

17:7 you shall purge the evil from your midst. See v. 12; see also note on 13:5.

17:14 a king . . . like all the nations . . . around me. Moses, Joshua and a succession of judges were chosen directly by the Lord to govern Israel on His behalf. As Gideon later said, "The LORD shall rule over you" (Judg 8:23; see note there). Moses here, however, anticipates a time when the people would ask for a king (see 1 Sam 8:4–9) contrary to the Lord's ideal for them (see notes on 7:2–5; 1 Sam 8:1–12:25; see also Lev 20:23). So Moses gives guidance concerning the eventual selection of a king.

17:16–17 The very things that later kings were guilty of, beginning especially with Solomon (1 Kin 4:26; 11:1–4)—except that they did not make Israel return to Egypt (but see Jer 42:13–43:7).

17:18 write for himself a copy of this law. As a sign of submission to the Lord as his King, and as a guide for his rule in obedience to his heavenly Suzerain. This was required procedure for vassal kings under the suzerainty treaties among the Hittites and others before and during this period (see note on 31:9). See chart, p. 16.

17:20 his heart may not be lifted up. The king was not above God's law, any more than were the humblest of his subjects.

18:1 no portion or inheritance. No private ownership of land. Towns and surrounding pasturelands were set aside for the use of the Levites (Josh 21:41–42), as were the tithes and parts of sacrifices (see 14:22–29 and note; Lev 27:30 and note; Num 18:21–29).

13 "[a]You shall be [1]blameless before the LORD your God.

14 "For those nations, which you shall dispossess, listen to those who [a]practice witchcraft and to diviners, but as for you, the LORD your God has not allowed you to do so.

Cities of Refuge

19 "[a]When the LORD your God cuts off the nations, whose land the LORD your God gives you, and you dispossess them and settle in their cities and in their houses,

2 [a]you shall set aside three cities for yourself in the midst of your land, which the LORD your God gives you to [1]possess.

3 "You shall prepare the [1]roads for yourself, and divide into three parts the territory of your land which the LORD your God will give you as a possession, [2]so that any manslayer may flee there.

4 "[a]Now this is the case of the manslayer who may flee there and live: when he [1]kills his friend [2]unintentionally, [3]not hating him previously—

5 as when a man goes into the forest with his friend to cut wood, and his hand [1]swings the axe to cut down the tree, and the iron head slips off the [2]handle and [3]strikes his friend so that he dies—he may flee to one of these cities and live;

6 otherwise the avenger of blood might pursue the manslayer [1]in the heat of his anger, and overtake him, because the way is long, and [2]take his life, though he was not deserving of death, since he had not hated him previously.

7 "Therefore, I command you, saying, 'You shall set aside three cities for yourself.'

8 "If the LORD your God [a]enlarges your territory, just as He has sworn to your fathers, and gives you all the land which He [1]promised to give your fathers—

9 if you [1]carefully observe all this commandment which I command you today, [a]to love the LORD your God, and to walk in His ways always—[b]then you shall add three more cities for yourself, besides these three.

[a]Gen 15:18 9 [1]Lit keep...to do it [a]Deut 6:5 [b]Josh 20:7

18:9 detestable things of those nations. What follows is the most complete list of magical or spiritistic arts in the OT. All were practiced in Canaan, and all are condemned and prohibited. The people are not to resort to such sources for their information, guidance or revelation. Rather, they are to listen to the Lord's true prophets (see vv. 14–22; Is 8:19–20).

18:10 makes his son or his daughter pass through the fire. See 12:31; see also note on Lev 18:21.

18:15 prophet like me. Verse 16, as well as the general context (see especially vv. 20–22), indicates that a series of prophets is meant. At Mount Horeb the people requested that Moses take the message from God and deliver it to them (see Ex 20:19 and note). But now that Moses is to leave them, he says that another spokesman will take his place, and then another will be necessary for the next generation. This is therefore a collective reference to the prophets who will follow. As such, it is also the basis for Messianic expectation and receives a unique fulfillment in Jesus (see John 1:21,25,45; 5:46; 6:14; 7:40; Acts 3:22–26; 7:37).

18:16 See Ex 20:18–19; Heb 12:18–21.

18:18 My words in his mouth. See Ex 4:15–16; Jer 1:9; see also note on Ex 7:1–2.

18:20 prophet who speaks . . . presumptuously. . . . shall die. See note on 13:1–5. See 13:5; Jer 28:15–17.

18:21–22 This negative form of statement is always true. But the positive statement, "If the prophecy comes true, it is from the Lord," may not always be true (see note on 13:1–5).

19:1–13 See 4:41–43; Num 35:9–28; Jos 20.

10 "So innocent blood will not be shed in the midst of your land which the LORD your God gives you as an inheritance, and [a]bloodguiltiness be on you.

11 "But [a]if there is a man who hates his neighbor and lies in wait for him and rises up against him and strikes [1]him so that he dies, and he flees to one of these cities,

12 then the elders of his city shall send and take him from there and deliver him into the hand of the avenger of blood, that he may die.

13 "[1][a]You shall not pity him, but [b]you shall purge the blood of the innocent from Israel, that it may go well with you.

Laws of Landmark and Testimony

14 "[a]You shall not move your neighbor's boundary mark, which the ancestors have set, in your inheritance which you will inherit in the land that the LORD your God gives you to [1]possess.

15 "[a]A single witness shall not rise up against a man on account of any iniquity or any sin [1]which he has committed; on the [2]evidence of two or three witnesses a matter shall be confirmed.

16 "[a]If a malicious witness rises up against a man to [1]accuse him of [2]wrongdoing, 17 then both the men who have the dispute shall stand [a]before the LORD, before the priests and the judges who will be in office in those days.

18 "The judges [a]shall investigate thoroughly, and if the witness is a false witness and he has [1]accused his brother falsely, 19 then [a]you shall do to him just as he had intended to do to his brother. Thus you shall purge the evil from among you.

20 "[a]The rest will hear and be afraid, and will never again do such an evil thing among you.

21 "Thus [1][a]you shall not show pity: [b]life for life, [c]eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot.

Laws of Warfare

20 "When you go out to battle against your enemies and see [a]horses and chariots and people more numerous than you, [b]do not be afraid of them; for the LORD your God, who brought you up from the land of Egypt, is with you.

4 and the elders of that city shall bring the heifer down to a valley with running water, which has not been plowed or sown, and shall break the heifer's neck there in the valley.

5 "Then [a]the priests, the sons of Levi, shall come near, for the LORD your God has chosen them to serve Him and to bless in the name of the LORD; and every dispute and every [1]assault [2]shall be settled by them.

Domestic Relations

10 "When you go out to battle against your enemies, and [a]the LORD your God delivers them into your hands and you take them away captive,

11 and see among the captives a beautiful woman, and have a desire for her and would take her as a wife for yourself,

20:17 Hittite . . . Jebusite. See 7:1; see also notes on Gen 10:6,15–18; 13:7.

20:19 you shall not destroy its trees. The failure of later armies to follow this wise rule stripped bare much of the Holy Land (though the absence of woodlands there today is of relatively recent origin).

21:5 to serve. To officiate at the place of worship before the Lord on behalf of the people (see 10:8; 18:5). to bless. See Num 6:22–27.

21:6 wash their hands. Symbolic of a declaration of innocence (v. 7; see Matt 27:24).

21:10 against your enemies. The enemies here are those outside Canaan (see 20:14–15); so the woman (v. 11) could be taken captive and would not be subject to total destruction.

21:12 shave her head. Indicative of leaving her former life and beginning a new life, or perhaps symbolic of mourning (v. 13; see, e.g., Jer 47:5; Mic 1:16) or of humiliation (see note on Is 7:20). For cleansing rites see Lev 14:8; Num 8:7; cf. 2 Sam 19:24.

21:14 humbled. Twelve other times the Hebrew for this word is used of men forcing women to have sexual intercourse with them (22:24,29; Gen 34:2; Judg 19:24; 20:5; 2 Sam 13:12,14,22,32; Lam 5:11; Ezek 22:10–11).

21:15 two wives. See notes on Gen 4:19; 25:6.

21:16 before. The order of birth rather than parental favoritism governed succession, though the rule was sometimes set aside with divine approval (cf., e.g., Jacob or Solomon).

21:17 double portion. In Israel the oldest son enjoyed a double share of the inheritance. Parallels to this practice come from Nuzi, Larsa in the Old Babylonian period, and Assyria in the Mid-

[a]beginning of his strength; [b]to him belongs the right of the firstborn.

18 "If any man has a stubborn and rebellious son who will [a]not obey his father or his mother, and when they chastise him, he will not even listen to them,

19 then his father and mother shall seize him, and bring him out to the elders of his city [1]at the gateway of his hometown.

20 "They shall say to the elders of his city, 'This son of ours is stubborn and rebellious, he will not obey us, he is a glutton and a drunkard.'

21 "[a]Then all the men of his city shall stone him to death; so [b]you shall remove the evil from your midst, and [c]all Israel will hear of it and fear.

22 "If a man has committed a sin [a]worthy of death and he is put to death, and you hang him on a tree,

23 [a]his corpse shall not hang all night on the tree, but you shall surely bury him on the same day (for [b]he who is hanged is [1]accursed of God), so that you [c]do not defile your land which the LORD your God gives you as an inheritance.

Sundry Laws

22 "[a]You shall not see your [1]countryman's ox or his sheep straying away, and [2]pay no attention to them; you shall certainly bring them back to your countryman.

2 "If your countryman is not near you, or if you do not know him, then you shall bring it home to your house, and it shall remain with you until your countryman looks for it; then you shall restore it to him.

3 "Thus you shall do with his donkey, and you shall do the same with his garment, and you shall do likewise with anything lost by your countryman, which he has lost and you have found. You are not allowed to [1]neglect them.

4 "You shall not see your countryman's donkey or his ox fallen down on the way, and [1]pay no attention to them; you shall certainly help him to raise them up.

5 "A woman shall not wear man's clothing, nor shall a man put on a woman's clothing; for whoever does these things is an abomination to the LORD your God.

6 "If you happen to come upon a bird's nest along the way, in any tree or on the ground, with young ones or eggs, and the mother sitting on the young or on the eggs, [a]you shall not take the mother with the young;

7 you shall certainly let the mother go, but the young you may take for yourself, [a]in order that it may be well with you and that you may prolong your days.

8 "When you build a new house, you shall make a parapet for your roof, so that you will not bring bloodguilt on your house if anyone falls from it.

9 "[a]You shall not sow your vineyard with two kinds of seed, or [1]all the produce of the seed which you have sown and the increase of the vineyard will become defiled.

10 "[a]You shall not plow with an ox and a donkey together.

11 "[a]You shall not wear a material mixed of wool and linen together.

12 "[a]You shall make yourself tassels on the four corners of your garment with which you cover yourself.

Laws on Morality

13 "[a]If any man takes a wife and goes in to her and then [1]turns against her,

14 and charges her with shameful deeds and [1]publicly defames her, and says, 'I took this woman, but when I came near her, I did not find her a virgin,'

15 then the girl's father and her mother shall take and bring out the evidence of the girl's virginity to the elders of the city at the gate.

16 "The girl's father shall say to the elders, 'I gave my daughter to this man for a wife, but he [1]turned against her;

17 and behold, he has charged her with shameful deeds, saying, "I did not find your daughter a virgin." But [1]this is the evidence of my daughter's virginity.' And they shall spread the garment before the elders of the city.

18 "So [a]the elders of that city shall take the man and chastise him, 21:18 stubborn and rebellious . . . will not obey. In wicked defiance of the fifth commandment (see 5:16; Ex 20:12 and note).

21:21 stone him to death. See 5:16; 27:16; Ex 21:15,17. you shall remove the evil from your midst. See note on 13:5.

21:22 put to death . . . on a tree. The offender was first executed, then "hung on a tree" (see Gen 40:19), or, as the Hebrew for this phrase doubtless intends, "impaled on a pole" (see note on Esth 2:23).

21:23 not hang all night on the tree. Prolonged exposure gives undue attention to the crime and the criminal. accursed of God. God had condemned murder, and hanging on a tree symbolized divine judgment and rejection. Christ accepted the full punishment of our sins, thus becoming "a curse for us" (Gal 3:13).

22:1 not see . . . and pay no attention. See vv. 3–4. The Biblical legislation was intended not only to punish criminal behavior but also to express concern for people and their possessions. See chart, p. 255.

22:5 Probably intended to prohibit such perversions as transvestism and homosexuality, especially under religious auspices. The God-created differences between men and women are not to be disregarded (see Lev 18:22; 20:13).

22:14 find her a virgin. Find a blood-stained cloth or garment (see vv. 15,17,20).

22:15 elders . . . at the gate. See 25:7; see also notes on Gen 19:1; Ruth 4:1.

19 and they shall fine him a hundred shekels of silver and give it to the girl's father, because he [1]publicly defamed a virgin of Israel. And she shall remain his wife; he cannot [2]divorce her all his days.

20 "But if this [1][a]charge is true, that the girl was not found a virgin,

21 then they shall bring out the girl to the doorway of her father's house, and the men of her city shall stone her [1]to death because she has [a]committed an act of folly in Israel by playing the harlot in her father's house; thus [b]you shall purge the evil from among you.

22 "[a]If a man is found lying with a married woman, then both of them shall die, the man who lay with the woman, and the woman; thus you shall purge the evil from Israel.

23 "[a]If there is a girl who is a virgin engaged to a man, and another man finds her in the city and lies with her,

24 then you shall bring them both out to the gate of that city and you shall stone them [1]to death; the girl, because she did not cry out in the city, and the man, because he has violated his neighbor's wife. Thus you shall purge the evil from among you.

25 "But if in the field the man finds the girl who is engaged, and the man forces her and lies with her, then only the man who lies with her shall die.

26 "But you shall do nothing to the girl; there is no sin in the girl worthy of death, for just as a man rises against his neighbor and murders him, so is this case.

27 "When he found her in the field, the engaged girl cried out, but there was no one to save her.

28 "[a]If a man finds a girl who is a virgin, who is not engaged, and seizes her and lies with her and they are discovered,

29 then the man who lay with her shall give to the girl's father fifty shekels of silver,

22:19 hundred shekels of silver. A heavy fine—several times what Hosea paid to buy Gomer back (Hos 3:2) or what Jeremiah paid for the field at Anathoth (Jer 32:9). It may have been about twice the average bride-price (see note on v. 29). The high fine, in addition to the no-divorce rule, was intended to restrain not only a husband's charges against his wife but also easy divorce.
22:21,24 you shall purge the evil from among you. See v. 22; see also note on 13:5.
22:22 See Lev 20:10.
22:29 fifty shekels of silver. Probably equaled the average and she shall become his wife because he has violated her; he cannot divorce her all his days.

30 "[1][a]A man shall not take his father's wife so that he will not uncover his father's skirt.

Persons Excluded from the Assembly

23 "[a]No one who is [1]emasculated or has his male organ cut off shall enter the assembly of the LORD.

2 "No one of illegitimate birth shall enter the assembly of the LORD; none of his descendants, even to the tenth generation, shall enter the assembly of the LORD.

3 "[a]No Ammonite or Moabite shall enter the assembly of the LORD; none of their descendants, even to the tenth generation, shall ever enter the assembly of the LORD,

4 [a]because they did not meet you with [1]food and water on the way when you came out of Egypt, and because they hired against you [b]Balaam the son of Beor from Pethor of [2]Mesopotamia, to curse you.

5 "Nevertheless, the LORD your God was not willing to listen to Balaam, but the LORD your God [a]turned the curse into a blessing for you because the LORD your God [b]loves you.

6 "[a]You shall never seek their peace or their prosperity all your days.

7 "You shall not detest an Edomite, for [a]he is your brother; you shall not detest an Egyptian, [b]because you were an alien in his land.

8 "The sons of the third generation who are born to them may enter the assembly of the LORD.

9 "When you go out as [1]an army against your enemies, you shall keep yourself from every evil thing.

10 "[a]If there is among you any man who is unclean because of a nocturnal emission, then he must go outside the camp; he may not [1]reenter the camp.

11 "But it shall be when evening approaches, he shall bathe himself with water, and at sundown he may [1]reenter the camp.

12 "You shall also have a place outside the camp and go out there,

13 and you shall have a [1]spade among your tools, and it shall be when you sit down outside, you shall dig with it and shall turn [2]to cover up your excrement.

14 "Since [a]the LORD your God walks in the midst of your camp to deliver you and to [1]defeat your enemies before you, therefore your camp must be [b]holy; and He must not see [2]anything indecent among you [3]or He will turn away from you.

15 "[a]You shall not hand over to his master a slave who has [1]escaped from his master to you.

16 "He shall live with you in your midst, in the place which he shall choose in one of your [1]towns where it pleases him; [a]you shall not mistreat him.

17 "[a]None of the daughters of Israel shall be a cult prostitute, [b]nor shall any of the sons of Israel be a cult prostitute.

18 "You shall not bring the hire of a harlot or the wages of a [1][a]dog into the house of the LORD your God for any votive offering, for both of these are an abomination to the LORD your God.

19 "[a]You shall not charge interest to your [1]countrymen: interest on money, food, or anything that may be loaned at interest.

20 "[a]You may charge interest to a foreigner, but to your [1]countrymen you shall not charge interest, so that [b]the LORD your God may bless you in all [2]that you undertake in the land which you are about to enter to [3]possess.

21 "[a]When you make a vow to the LORD your God, you shall not delay to pay it, for it would be sin in you, [1]and the LORD your God will surely require it of you.

22 "However, if you refrain from vowing, it would not be sin in you.

23 "You shall be careful to perform what goes out from your lips, just as you have voluntarily vowed to the LORD your God, what you have [1]promised.

24 "When you enter your neighbor's vineyard, then you may eat grapes [1]until you are fully satisfied, but you shall not put any in your [2]basket.

bride-price, which must have varied with the economic status of the participants (see note on Ex 22:16).

22:30 his father's wife. Refers to a wife other than his mother (see 27:20). uncover his father's skirt. Lit."uncover the corner of his father's garment" (see notes on Ruth 3:9; Ezek 16:8).

23:1 For blessings on eunuchs in later times see Is 56:4–5; Acts 8:26–39.

23:2–3 even to the tenth generation. Perhaps forever, since ten is symbolic of completeness or finality. In v. 6 the equivalent expression is "all your days" (lit."all your days forever").

23:3 Ruth is an outstanding exception to Moabite exclusion from Israel (see Introduction to Ruth: Theme and Theology).

23:4 Balaam the son of Beor. See Num 22:4–24:25.

23:6 never seek their peace or . . . prosperity. See the prophets' denunciation of Moab, Ammon and Edom (Is 15–16; Jer 48:1–49:6; Ezek 25:1–11; Amos 1:13–2:3; Zeph 2:8–11).

23:7 Edomite . . . your brother. Edom (Esau) is often condemned for his hostility against his brother Jacob (Israel; see Amos 1:11; Obad 10; see also notes on Gen 25:22,26).

23:9–14 Sanitary rules for Israel's military camps. For similar rules for the people in general see Lev 15.

23:15 a slave who has escaped . . . to you. A foreign slave seeking freedom in Israel (see v. 16). Cf. 24:7.

23:17–18 See notes on Ex 34:15; Jdg 2:17.

23:18 dog. A word often associated with moral or spiritual impurity (cf. Matt 7:6; 15:26; Php 3:2). Here it probably refers to a male prostitute.

23:19 interest. See notes on Ex 22:25–27; Lev 25:36.

23:20 charge . . . a foreigner. A foreign businessman would come into Israel for financial advantage and so would be subject to paying interest.

23:21–23 See notes on Num 30; see also Eccl 5:4–6.

25 "[a]When you enter your neighbor's standing grain, then you may pluck the heads with your hand, but you shall not wield a sickle in your neighbor's standing grain.

Law of Divorce

24 "When a man takes a wife and marries her, and it happens [1]that she finds no favor in his eyes because he has found some [a]indecency in her, and [b]he writes her a certificate of divorce and puts it in her hand and sends her out from his house,

2 and she leaves his house and goes and becomes another man's wife,

3 and if the latter husband [1]turns against her and writes her a certificate of divorce and puts it in her hand and sends her out of his house, or if the latter husband dies who took her to be his wife,

4 then her [a]former husband who sent her away is not allowed to take her again to be his wife, since she has been defiled; for that is an abomination before the LORD, and you shall not bring sin on the land which the LORD your God gives you as an inheritance.

5 "[a]When a man takes a new wife, he shall not go out with the army nor be charged with any duty; he shall be free at home one year and shall [b]give happiness to his wife whom he has taken.

Sundry Laws

6 "No one shall take a handmill or an upper millstone in pledge, for he would be taking a life in pledge.

7 "[a]If a man is [1]caught kidnapping any of his [2]countrymen of the sons of Israel, and he deals with him violently or sells him, then that thief shall die; so you shall purge the evil from among you.

8 "[a]Be careful against [1]an infection of leprosy, that you diligently observe and do according to all that the Levitical priests teach you; as I have commanded them, so you shall be careful to do.

9 "Remember what the LORD your God did [a]to Miriam on the way as you came out of Egypt.

10 "[a]When you make your neighbor a loan of any sort, you shall not enter his house to take his pledge.

11 "You shall remain outside, and the man to whom you make the loan shall bring the pledge out to you.

14 "[a]You shall not oppress a hired servant who is poor and needy, whether he is one of your [1]countrymen or one of your aliens who is in your land in your [2]towns.

15 "[a]You shall give him his wages on his day [1]before the sun sets, for he is poor and sets his [2]heart on it; so that [b]he will not cry against you to the LORD and it become sin in you.

17 "[a]You shall not pervert the justice [1]due an alien or [2]an orphan, nor [b]take a widow's garment in pledge.

18 "But you shall remember that you were a slave in Egypt, and that the LORD your God redeemed you from there; therefore I am commanding you to do this thing.

19 "[a]When you reap your harvest in your field and have forgotten a sheaf in the field, you shall not go back to get it; it shall be [b]for the alien, for the [1]orphan, and for the widow, in order that the LORD your God [c]may bless you in all the work of your hands.

20 "[a]When you beat your olive tree, you shall not go over the boughs [1]again; it shall be [b]for the alien, for the [2]orphan, and for the widow.

21 "When you gather the grapes of your vineyard, you shall not [1]go over it again; it shall be for the alien, for the [2]orphan, and for the widow.

22 "You shall remember that you were a slave in the land of Egypt; therefore I am commanding you to do this thing.

Sundry Laws

25 "[a]If there is a dispute between men and they go to [1]court, and [2]the judges decide their case, [b]and they justify the righteous and condemn the wicked,

2 then it shall be if the wicked man [1a]deserves to be beaten, the judge shall then make him lie down and be beaten in his presence with the number of stripes according to his [2]guilt.

24:1–4 In the books of Moses divorce was permitted and regulated (see Lev 21:7,14; 22:13; Num 30:9). Jesus conditioned the law of 24:1 in the Sermon on the Mount (Matt 5:31–32) and cited the higher law of creation (Matt 19:3–9).

24:5 happiness. Marital bliss was held in high regard.

24:6 millstone. Used for grinding grain for flour and daily food (see note on Judg 9:53).

24:7 you shall purge the evil from among you. See note on 13:5.

24:8 leprosy. See note on Lev 13:2.

24:9 Remember. See vv. 18, 22; see also note on 4:10.

24:10–13 See note on Ex 22:26–27.

24:16 everyone shall be put to death for his own sin. See Ezek 18:4 and note.

24:17–18 When the Israelites were in trouble, the Lord helped them. Therefore they were not to take advantage of others in difficulty.

24:19–21 See note on Lev 19:9–10.

3 "[a]He may beat him forty times but no more, so that he does not beat him with many more stripes than these and your brother is not [b]degraded in your eyes.

4 "[a]You shall not muzzle the ox while he is threshing.

5 "When brothers live together and one of them dies and has no son, the wife of the deceased shall not be married outside the family to a strange man. [a]Her husband's brother shall go in to her and take her to himself as wife and perform the duty of a husband's brother to her.

6 "It shall be that the firstborn whom she bears shall [1]assume the name of his dead brother, so that [a]his name will not be blotted out from Israel.

7 "[a]But if the man does not desire to take his brother's wife, then his brother's wife shall go up to the gate to the elders and say, 'My husband's brother refuses to establish a name for his brother in Israel; he is not willing to perform the duty of a husband's brother to me.'

8 "Then the elders of his city shall summon him and speak to him. And if he persists and says, 'I do not desire to take her,'

9 [a]then his brother's wife shall come to him in the sight of the elders, and pull his sandal off his foot and [b]spit in his face; and she shall [1]declare, 'Thus it is done to the man who does not build up his brother's house.'

10 "In Israel his name shall be called, 'The house of him whose sandal is removed.'

11 "If two men, a man and his [1]countryman, are struggling together, and the wife of one comes near to deliver her husband from the hand of the one who is striking him, and puts out her hand and seizes his genitals, 12 then you shall cut off her [1]hand; [2][a]you shall not show pity.

13 "[a]You shall not have in your bag [1]differing weights, a large and a small.

14 "You shall not have in your house [1]differing measures, a large and a small.

15 "You shall have a full and just weight; you shall have a full and just [1]measure, [a]that your days may be prolonged in the [2]land which the LORD your God gives you.

17 "[a]Remember what Amalek did to you along the way when you came out from Egypt, 18 how he met you along the way and attacked among you all the stragglers at your rear when you were faint and weary; and he [a]did not [1]fear God.

19 "Therefore it shall come about when the LORD your God has given you [a]rest from all your surrounding enemies, in the land which the LORD your God gives you as an inheritance to [1]possess, you shall blot out the memory of Amalek from under heaven; you must not forget.

Offering First Fruits

26 "Then it shall be, when you enter the land which the LORD your God gives you as an inheritance, and you possess it and live in it,

2 that you shall take some of [a]the first of all the produce of the ground which you bring in from your land that the LORD your God gives you, and you shall put it in a basket and [b]go to the place where the LORD your God chooses to establish His name.

3 "You shall go to the priest who is in office at that time and say to him, 'I declare this day to the LORD [1]my God that I have entered the land which the LORD swore to our fathers to give us.'

4 "Then the priest shall take the basket from your hand and set it down before the altar of the LORD your God.

5 "You shall answer and say before the LORD your God, '[a]My father was a [1]wandering Aramean, and he went down to Egypt and [2]sojourned there, [b]few in number; but there he became a [c]great, mighty and populous nation.

6 'And the [a]Egyptians treated us harshly and afflicted us, and imposed hard labor on us.

7 'Then [a]we cried to the LORD, the God of our fathers, and the LORD heard our voice and saw our affliction and our toil and our oppression;

25:3 forty times but no more. Beating could subject the culprit to abuse, so the law kept the punishment from becoming inhumane. Cf. Paul's experience (2 Cor 11:24).

25:4 Applied to ministers of Christ in 1 Cor 9:9–10; 1 Tim 5:17–18. threshing. See notes on Gen 50:10; Ruth 1:22.

25:5–6 The continuity of each family and the decentralized control of land through family ownership were basic to the Mosaic economy (see note on Gen 38:8).

25:7 if the man does not desire to take his brother's wife. See vv. 8–10; note the experiences, with some variations, described in Gen 38:8–10; Ruth 4:1–12. to the gate to the elders. See 22:15; see also notes on Gen 19:1; Ru 4:1.

25:11–12 Cf. Ex 21:22–25.

25:13–16 See note on Lev 19:35.

25:14 measures. Of quantity.

25:17 Remember. See note on 4:10. Amalek. See Ex 17:8–16; Num 14:45.

25:18 fear God. See note on Gen 20:11.

25:19 rest. See note on 3:20.

26:1 inheritance. See note on Ex 32:13.

26:2 first of all the produce. The offering described here occurred only once and must not be confused with the annual offerings of first fruits (see 18:4 and note). the place where the LORD . . . chooses to establish His Name. See note on 12:5.

26:5 wandering Aramean. A reference to Jacob, who had wandered from southern Canaan to Haran and back (Gen 27–35) and who later migrated to Egypt (see Gen 46:3–7). He also married two Aramean women (see Gen 28:5; 29:16,28). few in number . . . became a great . . . nation. See Ex 1:5; 1:7 and note.

8 [a]and the LORD brought us out of Egypt with a mighty hand and an outstretched arm and with great terror and with signs and wonders;
9 and He has brought us to this place and has given us this land, [a]a land flowing with milk and honey.
10 'Now behold, I have brought the first of the produce of the ground [a]which You, O LORD have given me.' And you shall set it down before the LORD your God, and worship before the LORD your God;
11 and you and [a]the Levite and the alien who is among you shall [b]rejoice in all the good which the LORD your God has given you and your household.
12 "[a]When you have finished [1]paying all the tithe of your increase in the third year, the year of tithing, then you shall give it to the Levite, to the stranger, to the [2]orphan and to the widow, that they may eat in your [3]towns and be satisfied.
13 "You shall say before the LORD your God,
'I have removed the sacred portion from my house, and also have given it to the Levite and the alien, the [1]orphan and the widow, according to all Your commandments which You have commanded me; [a]I have not transgressed or forgotten any of Your commandments.
14 'I have not eaten of it [1]while mourning, nor have I removed any of it while I was unclean, nor offered any of it to the dead. I have listened to the voice of the LORD my God; I have done according to all that You have commanded me.
15 '[a]Look down from Your holy habitation, from heaven, and bless Your people Israel, and the ground which You have given us, [b]a land flowing with milk and honey, as You swore to our fathers.'
16 "This day the LORD your God commands you to do these statutes and ordinances. You shall therefore be careful to do them [a]with all your heart and with all your soul.
17 "[a]You have today declared the LORD to be your God, and [1]that you would walk in His ways and keep His statutes, His commandments and His ordinances, and listen to His voice.
18 "The LORD has today declared you to be [a]His people, a treasured possession, as He promised you, and [1]that you should keep all
His commandments;
19 and [1]that He will [a]set you high above all nations which He has made, for praise, fame, and honor; and that you shall be [b]a consecrated people to the LORD your God, as He has spoken."

The Curses of Mount Ebal

27 Then Moses and the elders of Israel charged the people, saying, "Keep all the commandments which I command you today.
2 "[a]So it shall be on the day when you cross the Jordan to the land which the LORD your God gives you, that you shall set up for yourself large stones and coat them with lime
3 and write on them all the words of this law, when you cross over, so that you may enter the land which the LORD your God gives you, [a]a land flowing with milk and honey, as the LORD, the God of your fathers,
[1]promised you.
4 "So it shall be when you cross the Jordan, you shall set up [a]on Mount Ebal, these stones, [1]as I am commanding you today, and you shall coat them with lime.
5 "Moreover, you shall build there an altar to the LORD your God, an altar of stones; you
[a]shall not [1]wield an iron tool on them.
6 "You shall build the altar of the LORD your God of [1]uncut stones, and you shall offer on it burnt offerings to the LORD your God;
7 and you shall sacrifice peace offerings and eat there, and [a]rejoice before the LORD your God.
8 "You shall write on the [1]stones all the words of this law very distinctly."
9 Then Moses and the Levitical priests spoke to all Israel, saying, "Be silent and listen, O Israel! This day you have become a people for the LORD your God.
10 "You shall therefore [1]obey the LORD your God, and do His commandments and His statutes which I command you today."
11 Moses also charged the people on that day, saying,
12 "When you cross the Jordan, these shall stand on [a]Mount Gerizim to bless the people: [b]Simeon, Levi, Judah, Issachar, Joseph, and Benjamin.

27:13 these shall stand on Mount Ebal. Reuben and Zebulun were descendants of Jacob by Leah; the rest were his descendants by the maidservants Zilpah and Bilhah (see Gen 35:23,25–26).
27:15 makes an idol . . . molten image. In violation of the first and second commandments of the Decalogue (see note on Ex 20:1). 27:26 Quoted in Gal 3:10 to prove that mankind is under a curse because no one follows the law of God fully. by doing them. It is not enough to assert allegiance to the law; one must live according to its stipulations.
28:1–14 These blessings are the opposites of the curses in vv. 15–44 (compare especially vv. 3–6 with vv. 16–19).
28:5,17 basket . . . kneading bowl. Used at home for storage and for the preparation of foods, particularly bread.
28:7 For the reverse see v. 25.
28:12 storehouse, the heavens. For the heavens as the storehouse of rain, snow, hail and wind see Job 38:22; Ps 135:7; Jer 10:13; 51:16. you shall lend. For the opposite see v. 44; see also note on 15:6.

Consequences of Disobedience

15 "[a]But it shall come about, if you do not [1]obey the LORD your God, to observe to do all His commandments and His statutes with which I charge you today, that all these curses will come upon you and overtake you:

16 "[a]Cursed shall you be in the city, and cursed shall you be in the [1]country.

18 "[a]Cursed shall be the [1]offspring of your [2]body and the [1]produce of your ground, the increase of your herd and the young of your flock.

19 "[a]Cursed shall you be when you come in, and cursed shall you be when you go out.

20 "[a]The LORD will send upon you curses, confusion, and [b]rebuke, in all [1]you undertake to do, until you are destroyed and until [c]you perish quickly, on account of the evil of your deeds, because you have forsaken Me.

21 "[a]The LORD will make the pestilence cling to you until He has consumed you from the land where you are entering to possess it.

22 "[a]The LORD will smite you with consumption and with fever and with inflammation and with fiery heat and with [1]the sword and [b]with blight and with mildew, and they will pursue you until [c]you perish.

23 "[1]The heaven which is over your head shall be bronze, and the earth which is under you, iron.

24 "[a]The LORD will make the rain of your land powder and dust; from heaven it shall come down on you until you are destroyed.

25 "[a]The LORD shall cause you to be [1]defeated before your enemies; you will go out one way against them, but you will flee seven ways before them, and you will [b]be an example of terror to all the kingdoms of the earth.

26 "[a]Your carcasses will be food to all birds of the sky and to the beasts of the earth, and there will be no one to frighten them away.

27 "[a]The LORD will smite you with the boils of Egypt and with [b]tumors and with the scab and with the itch, from which you cannot be healed.

28 "The LORD will smite you with madness and with blindness and with bewilderment of heart;

29 and you will [1][a]grope at noon, as the blind man gropes in darkness, and you will not prosper in your ways; but you shall only be oppressed and robbed continually, with none to save you.

30 "[a]You shall betroth a wife, but another man will violate her; [b]you shall build a house, but you will not live in it; you shall plant a vineyard, but you will not [1]use its fruit.

31 "Your ox shall be slaughtered before your eyes, but you will not eat of it; your donkey shall be torn away from you, and will not be restored to you; your sheep shall be given to your enemies, and you will have none to save you.

32 "[a]Your sons and your daughters shall be given to another people, while your eyes look on and yearn for them continually; but there will be nothing [1]you can do.

33 "[a]A people whom you do not know shall eat up the produce of your ground and all your labors, and you will never be anything but oppressed and crushed continually.

34 "You shall be driven mad by the sight of [1]what you see.

35 "[a]The LORD will strike you on the knees and legs with sore boils, from which you cannot be healed, from the sole of your foot to the crown of your head.

36 "[a]The LORD will bring you and your king, whom you set over you, to a nation which neither you nor your fathers have known, and there you shall serve other gods, [b]wood and stone.

37 "[a]You shall become a horror, a proverb, and a taunt among all the people where the LORD drives you.

38 "[a]You shall bring out much seed to the field but you will gather in little, for [b]the locust will consume it.

39 "[a]You shall plant and cultivate vineyards, but you will neither drink of the wine nor gather the grapes, for the worm will devour them.

40 "[a]You shall have olive trees throughout your territory but you will not anoint yourself with the oil, for your olives will drop off.

41 "[a]You shall [1]have sons and daughters but they will not be yours, for they will go into captivity.

42 "[a]The cricket shall possess all your trees and the produce of your ground.

43 "[a]The alien who is among you shall rise above you higher and higher, but you will go down lower and lower.

44 "[a]He shall lend to you, but you will not lend to him; [b]he shall be the head, and you will be the tail.

45 "So all these curses shall come on you and pursue you and overtake you [a]until you are destroyed, because you would not [1]obey the LORD your God by keeping His commandments and His statutes which He commanded you.

46 "They shall become [a]a sign and a wonder on you and your [1]descendants forever.

47 "[a]Because you did not serve the LORD your God with joy and a glad heart, for the abundance of all things;

48 therefore you shall serve your enemies whom the LORD will send against you, [a]in hunger, in thirst, in nakedness, and in the lack of all things; and He [b]will put an iron yoke on your neck until He has destroyed you.

49 "[a]The LORD will bring a nation against you from afar, from the end of the earth, [b]as the eagle swoops down, a nation whose language you shall not understand,

50 a nation of fierce countenance who will [a]have no respect for the old, nor show favor to the young.

51 "Moreover, it shall eat the [1]offspring of your herd and the produce of your ground until you are destroyed, who also leaves you no grain, new wine, or oil, nor the increase of your herd or the young of your flock until they have caused you to perish.

52 "[a]It shall besiege you in all your [1]towns until your high and fortified walls in which you trusted come down throughout your land, and it shall besiege you in all your [1]towns throughout your land which the LORD your God has given you.

53 "[a]Then you shall eat the [1]offspring of your own body, the flesh of your sons and of your daughters whom the LORD your God has given you, during the siege and the distress by which your enemy will [2]oppress you.

54 "The man who is [1]refined and very delicate among you [2]shall be hostile toward his brother and toward the wife [3]he cherishes and toward the rest of his children who remain,

55 so that he will not give even one of them any of the flesh of his children which he will eat, since he has nothing else left, during the siege and the distress by which your enemy will [1]oppress you in all your [2]towns.

56 "[a]The [1]refined and delicate woman among you, who would not venture to set the sole of her foot on the ground for delicateness and [2]refinement, [3]shall be hostile toward the husband [4]she cherishes and toward her son and daughter,

57 and toward her afterbirth which issues from between her [1]legs and toward her children whom she bears; for [a]she will eat them secretly for lack of anything else, during the siege and the distress by which your enemy will [2]oppress you in your [3]towns.

58 "If you are not careful to observe all the words of this law which are written in this book, to [1][a]fear this honored and awesome [b]name, [2]the LORD your God, 59 then the LORD will bring extraordinary plagues on you and [1]your descendants, even [2]severe and lasting plagues, and miserable and chronic sicknesses.

60 "[a]He will bring back on you all the diseases of Egypt of which you were afraid, and they will cling to you.

61 "Also every sickness and every plague which, not written in the book of this law, the LORD will bring on you [a]until you are destroyed.

62 "Then you shall be left few in number, [a]whereas you were as numerous as the stars of heaven, because you did not [1]obey the LORD your God.

63 "It shall come about that as the LORD [a]delighted over you to prosper you, and multiply you, so the LORD will [b]delight over you to make you perish and destroy you; and you will be [c]torn from the land where you are entering to possess it.

64 "Moreover, the LORD will [a]scatter you among all peoples, from one end of the earth to the other end of the earth; and there you shall [b]serve other gods, wood and stone, which you or your fathers have not known.

65 "[a]Among those nations you shall find no rest, and there will be no resting place for the sole of your foot; but there [b]the LORD will give you a trembling heart, failing of eyes, and despair of soul.

66 "So your life shall [1]hang in doubt before you; and you will be in dread night and day, and shall have no assurance of your life.

67 "[a]In the morning you shall say, 'Would that it were evening!' And at evening you shall say, 'Would that it were morning!' because of the dread of your heart which you dread, and for the sight of your eyes which you will see.

28:53 you shall eat . . . sons and . . . daughters. For the actualizing of this curse see 2 Kin 6:24–29; Lam 2:20; 4:10. the distress by which your enemy will oppress you. See vv. 55, 57. The repetition of the clause emphasizes the distress that the Israelites would suffer if they refused to obey the Lord.

28:58 words of this law. See note on 31:24. this honored and awesome name, the LORD. See note on Ex 3:15. One of the oddities of history and revelation is the loss of the proper pronunciation of the Hebrew word YHWH, the most intimate and personal name of God in the OT (see note on Gen 2:4). "Jehovah" is a spelling that developed from combining the consonants of the name with the vowels of a word for "Lord" (Adonai). "Yahweh" is probably the original pronunciation. The name eventually ceased to be pronounced because later Jews thought it too holy to be uttered and feared violating Ex 20:7 and Lev 24:16. It is translated "LORD" in this version (see Preface to the NASB).

28:60 diseases of Egypt. Those brought on the Egyptians during the plagues (see 7:15; Ex 15:26).

28:61 book of this law. See note on 31:24.

28:62 as the stars of heaven. See 1:10; see also notes on Gen 13:16; 15:5.

28:64 will scatter you. Experienced by Israel in the Assyrian (722–721 B.C.) and Babylonian (586 B.C.) exiles (see 2 Kin 17:6; 25:21).

68 "The LORD will bring you back to Egypt in ships, by the way about which I spoke to you, 'You will never see it again!' And there you will offer yourselves for sale to your enemies as male and female slaves, but there will be no buyer."

The Covenant in Moab

29 [1][a]These are the words of the covenant which the LORD commanded Moses to make with the sons of Israel in the land of Moab, besides the [b]covenant which He had made with them at Horeb.

2 [1]And Moses summoned all Israel and said to them, "You have seen all that the LORD did before your eyes in the land of Egypt to Pharaoh and all his servants and all his land;

3 [a]the great trials which your eyes have seen, those great signs and wonders.

4 "Yet to this day [a]the LORD has not given you a heart to know, nor eyes to see, nor ears to hear.

5 "I have led you forty years in the wilderness; [a]your clothes have not worn out on you, and your sandal has not worn out on your foot.

6 "[a]You have not eaten bread, nor have you drunk wine or strong drink, in order that you might know that I am the LORD your God.

7 "[a]When you [1]reached this place, Sihon the king of Heshbon and Og the king of Bashan came out to meet us for battle, but we [2]defeated them;

8 and we took their land and [a]gave it as an inheritance to the Reubenites, the Gadites, and the half-tribe of the Manassites.

9 "[a]So keep the words of this covenant to do them, [b]that you may prosper in all that you do.

10 "You stand today, all of you, before the LORD your God: your chiefs, your tribes, your elders and your officers, even all the men of Israel,

11 your little ones, your wives, and the alien who is within your camps, from [a]the one who chops your wood to the one who draws your water,

12 that you may enter into the covenant with the LORD your God, and into His oath which the LORD your God is making with you today,

13 in order that He may establish you today as His people and that [a]He may be your God, just as He spoke to you and as He swore to your fathers, to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

14 "Now not with you alone am I [a]making this covenant and this oath,

15 [a]but both with those who stand here with us today in the presence of the LORD our God and with those who are not with us here today

16 (for you know how we lived in the land of Egypt, and how we came through the midst of the nations through which you passed;

17 moreover, you have seen their abominations and their idols of [a]wood, stone, silver, and gold, which they had with them);

18 [a]so that there will not be among you a man or woman, or family or tribe, whose heart turns away today from the LORD our God, to go and serve the gods of those nations; that there will not be among you [b]a root bearing poisonous fruit and wormwood.

19 "It shall be when he hears the words of this curse, that he will [1]boast, saying, 'I have peace though I walk in the stubbornness of my heart in order [2]to destroy the watered land with the dry.'

20 "The LORD shall never be willing to forgive him, but rather the anger of the LORD and [a]His jealousy will [1][b]burn against that man, and every curse which is written in this book will [2]rest on him, and the LORD will [c]blot out his name from under heaven.

21 "Then the LORD will single him out for [1]adversity from all the tribes of Israel, according to all the curses of the covenant [a]which are written in this book of the law.

22 "Now the generation to come, your sons who rise up after you and [a]the foreigner who comes from a distant land, when they see the plagues of the land and the diseases with which the LORD has [1]afflicted it, will say,

23 'All its land is [a]brimstone and salt, [b]a burning waste, [1]unsown and unproductive, and no grass grows in it, like the overthrow of [c]Sodom and Gomorrah, Admah and Zeboiim, which the LORD overthrew in His anger and in His wrath.'

24 "All the nations will say, '[a]Why has the LORD done thus to this land? Why this great [1]outburst of anger?'

28:68 the way about which I spoke . . . 'You will never see it again!' See 17:16; Ex 13:17; Num 14:3–4.

29:1 See notes on 5:2–3.

29:2 You have seen. Only those who were less than 20 years old (Num 14:29) when Israel followed the majority spy report at Kadesh-barnea and refused to enter Canaan would have actually experienced life in Egypt before the exodus. But Moses is speaking to the people as a nation and referring to the national experience (see note on 5:3).

29:4 Quoted in Rom 11:8 and applied to hardened Israel.

29:8 gave it as an inheritance. See 3:12–17.

29:9–15 A clear summary of the nature of covenant reaffirmation.

29:18 root bearing poisonous fruit and wormwood. The poison of idolatry, involving the rejection of the Lord.

29:20 The LORD shall never be willing to forgive him. Not to be taken as contradictory to 2 Pet 3:9 ("not wishing for any to perish"). Peter, too, says that those who deny the "Master" bring "swift destruction upon themselves" (2 Pet 2:1). this book. See note on 31:24. blot out his name. See 9:14; Ex 32:32–33; Rev 3:5.

29:23 overthrow of Sodom. See Gen 19:24–25; see also notes on Gen 10:19; 13:10.

25 "Then men will say, '[a]Because they forsook the covenant of the LORD, the God of their fathers, which He made with them when He brought them out of the land of Egypt.

26 'They went and served other gods and worshiped them, gods whom they have not known and whom He had not [1]allotted to them.

27 'Therefore, the anger of the LORD burned against that land, [a]to bring upon it every curse which is written in this book;

28 and [a]the LORD uprooted them from their land in anger and in fury and in great wrath, and cast them into another land, as it is this day.'

29 "[a]The secret things belong to the LORD our God, but [b]the things revealed belong to us and to our sons forever, that we may observe all the words of this law.

Restoration Promised

30 "So it shall be when all of these things have come upon you, [a]the blessing and the curse which I have set before you, and you [1]call them to mind [b]in all nations where the LORD your God has banished you,

2 and you [a]return to the LORD your God and [1]obey Him [b]with all your heart and soul according to all that I command you today, you and your sons,

3 then the LORD your God will [a]restore [1]you from captivity, and have compassion on you, and [b]will gather you again from all the peoples where the LORD your God has [c]scattered you.

4 "If your outcasts are at the ends of the [1]earth, [a]from there the LORD your God will gather you, and from there He will [2]bring you back.

5 "[a]The LORD your God will bring you into the land which your fathers possessed, and you shall possess it; and He will prosper you and [b]multiply you more than your fathers.

6 "Moreover [a]the LORD your God will circumcise your heart and the heart of your [1]descendants, [b]to love the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul, so that you may live.

7 "[a]The LORD your God will [1]inflict all these curses on your enemies and on those who hate you, who persecuted you.

8 "And you shall again [1]obey the LORD, and observe all His commandments which I command you today.

9 "[a]Then the LORD your God will [1]prosper you abundantly in all the work of your hand, in the [2]offspring of your [3]body and in the [2]offspring of your cattle and in the [2]produce of your ground, for [b]the LORD will again rejoice over you for good, just as He rejoiced over your fathers;

10 [1]if you [2]obey the LORD your God to keep His commandments and His statutes which [a]are written in this book of the law, [1]if you turn to the LORD your God [b]with all your heart and soul.

11 "For this commandment which I command you today is not too difficult for you, nor is it [1]out of reach.

12 "It is not in heaven, [1]that you should say, '[a]Who will go up to heaven for us to get it for us and make us hear it, that we may observe it?'

13 "Nor is it beyond the sea, [1]that you should say, 'Who will cross the sea for us to get it for us and make us hear it, that we may observe it?'

14 "But the word is very near you, in your mouth and in your heart, that you may observe it.

Choose Life

15 "See, [a]I have set before you today life and [1]prosperity, and death and [2]adversity;

16 in that I command you today [a]to love the LORD your God, to walk in His ways and to keep His commandments and His statutes and His judgments, that you [b]may live and multiply, and that the LORD your God may bless you in the land where you are entering to possess it.

17 "But if your heart turns away and you will not obey, but are drawn away and worship other gods and serve them,

18 I declare to you today that [a]you shall surely perish. You will not prolong your days in the land where you are crossing the Jordan to enter [1]and possess it.

19 "[a]I call heaven and earth to witness against you today, that I have set before you life and death, [b]the blessing and the curse. So choose life in order that you may live, you and your [1]descendants,

20 [a]by loving the LORD your God, by obeying His voice, and [b]by holding fast to Him;

30:19 I call heaven and earth to witness. The typical ancient covenant outside the OT contained a list of gods who served as "witnesses" to its provisions. The covenant in Deuteronomy was "witnessed" by heaven and earth (see 31:28; 32:1; see also notes on Ps 50:1; Isa 1:2).

Moses' Last Counsel

31 So Moses went and spoke these words to all Israel.

2 And he said to them, "I am [a]a hundred and twenty years old today; [b]I am no longer able to come and go, and the LORD has said to me, '[c]You shall not cross this Jordan.'

3 "[a]It is the LORD your God who will cross ahead of you; He will destroy these nations before you, and you shall dispossess them. [b]Joshua is the one who will cross ahead of you, just as the LORD has spoken.

4 "The LORD will do to them just as He did to Sihon and Og, the kings of the Amorites, and to their land, when He destroyed them.

5 "[a]The LORD will deliver them up before you, and you shall do to them according to all the commandments which I have commanded you.

6 "[a]Be strong and courageous, [b]do not be afraid or tremble at them, for [c]the LORD your God is the one who goes with you. [d]He will not fail you or forsake you."

7 Then Moses called to Joshua and said to him in the sight of all Israel, "[a]Be strong and courageous, for you shall go with this people into the land which the LORD has sworn to their fathers to give them, and you shall give it to them as an inheritance.

8 "[a]The LORD is the one who goes ahead of you; He will be with you. [b]He will not fail you or forsake you. Do not fear or be dismayed."

9 So Moses wrote this law and gave it to the priests, the sons of Levi [a]who carried the ark of the covenant of the LORD, and to all the elders of Israel.

10 Then Moses commanded them, saying, "At the end of every seven years, at the time of [a]the year of remission of debts, at the [b]Feast of Booths, 11 when all Israel comes [a]to appear before the LORD your God at [b]the place which He will choose, [c]you shall read this law in front of all Israel in their hearing.

12 "Assemble the people, the men and the women and children and [1]the alien who is in your [2]town, so that they may hear and [a]learn and fear the LORD your God, and be careful to observe all the words of this law.

13 "Their children, who have not known, will hear and learn to fear the LORD your God, as long as you live on the land [1]which you are about to cross the Jordan to [2]possess."

Israel Will Fall Away

14 Then the LORD said to Moses, "Behold, [1][a]the time for you to die is near; call Joshua, and present yourselves at the tent of meeting, that I may commission him." [b]So Moses and Joshua went and presented themselves at the tent of meeting.

15 [a]The LORD appeared in the tent in a pillar of cloud, and the pillar of cloud stood at the doorway of the tent.

16 The LORD said to Moses, "Behold, [a]you are about to lie down with your fathers; and [b]this people will arise and play the harlot with the strange gods of the land, into the midst of which they are going, and [c]will forsake Me and break My covenant which I have made with them.

17 "[a]Then My anger will be kindled against them in that day, and [b]I will forsake them and [c]hide My face from them, and they will be consumed, and many evils and troubles will come upon them; so that they will say in that day, '[d]Is it not because our God is not among us that these evils have come upon us?'

18 "But I will surely hide My face in that day because of all the evil which they will do, for they will turn to other gods.

19 "Now therefore, [a]write this song for yourselves, and teach it to the sons of Israel; put it [1]on their lips, so that this song may be a witness for Me against the sons of Israel.

20 "[a]For when I bring them into the land flowing with milk and honey, which I swore to their fathers, and they have eaten and are satisfied and [b]become [1]prosperous, then they will turn to other gods and serve them, and spurn Me and break My covenant.

21 "Then it shall come about, [a]when many evils and troubles have come upon them, that this song will testify before them as a witness (for it shall not be forgotten from the words of this law" are said to be their life. The law, the Lord and life are bound together. "Life" in this context refers to all that makes life rich, full and productive—as God created it to be.

31:2 no longer able to come and go. Not a reference to physical disability (see 34:7). The Lord did not allow Moses to lead the people into Canaan because of his sin (see 1:37; 3:23–27; 4:21–22; 32:48–52; Num 20:2–13).

31:4 just as He did to Sihon and Og. See 2:26–3:11.

31:6 Be strong and courageous. The Lord's exhortation, often through His servants, to the people of Israel (Josh 10:25), to Joshua (vv. 7,23; Josh 1:6–7,9,18), to Solomon (1 Chr 22:13; 28:20) and to Hezekiah's military officers (2 Chr 32:7). By trusting in the Lord and obeying Him, His followers would be victorious in spite of great obstacles. He will not fail you or forsake you. See v. 8; Josh 1:5; 1 Kin 8:57; see also note on Gen 28:15.

31:9 wrote this law and gave it to the priests. Ancient treaties specified that a copy of the treaty was to be placed before the gods at the religious centers of the nations involved. For Israel, that meant to place it in or near the ark of the covenant (cf. notes on Ex 16:34; 31:18).

31:10 every seven years. See 15:4 and note; Ex 23:10–11; Lev 25:1–7; see also chart, pp. 164–165.

31:11 place which He will choose. See note on 12:5. read this law in front of all Israel. Reading the law to the Israelites (and teaching it to them) was one of the main duties of the priests (see 33:10; Mal 2:4–9).

31:14 I may commission him. See v. 23; cf. Num 27:18–23.

31:19 write this song . . . and teach it. See v. 22; 31:30–32:43.

[1]lips of their descendants); for [b]I know their intent which they are [2]developing today, before I have brought them into the land which I swore."

22 [a]So Moses wrote this song the same day, and taught it to the sons of Israel.

Joshua Is Commissioned

23 [a]Then He commissioned Joshua the son of Nun, and said, "[b]Be strong and courageous, for you shall bring the sons of Israel into the land which I swore to them, and [c]I will be with you."

24 It came about, when Moses finished writing the words of this law in a book until they were complete,

25 that Moses commanded the Levites [a]who carried the ark of the covenant of the LORD, saying,

26 "Take this book of the law and place it beside the ark of the covenant of the LORD your God, that it may [1]remain there as a witness against you.

27 "For I know [a]your rebellion and [b]your [1]stubbornness; behold, while I am still alive with you today, you have been rebellious against the LORD; how much more, then, after my death?

28 "Assemble to me all the elders of your tribes and your officers, that I may speak these words in their hearing and [a]call the heavens and the earth to witness against them.

29 "For I know that after my death you will [a]act corruptly and turn from the way which I have commanded you; and evil will befall you in the latter days, for you will do that which is evil in the sight of the LORD, provoking Him to anger with the work of your hands."

30 Then Moses spoke in the hearing of all the assembly of Israel the words of this song, until they were complete:

The Song of Moses

32 "[a]Give ear, O heavens, and let me speak;
And let the earth hear the words of my mouth.
2 "[a]Let my teaching drop as the rain,
My speech distill as the dew,
[b]As the droplets on the fresh grass
And as the showers on the herb.
3 "[a]For I proclaim the name of the LORD;
[b]Ascribe greatness to our God!
4 "[a]The Rock! His work is perfect,
[b]For all His ways are [1]just;
[c]A God of faithfulness and without injustice,
Righteous and upright is He.
5 "[1][a]They have acted corruptly toward Him,
They are not His children, because of their defect;
[b]But are a perverse and crooked generation.
6 "Do you thus [a]repay the LORD,
[b]O foolish and unwise people?
[c]Is not He your Father who has bought you?
[d]He has made you and established you.
7 "Remember the days of old,
Consider the years of all generations.
[a]Ask your father, and he will inform you,
Your elders, and they will tell you.
8 "[a]When the Most High gave the nations their inheritance,
When He separated the sons of [1]man,
He set the boundaries of the peoples
[b]According to the number of the sons of Israel.
9 "[a]For the LORD'S portion is His people;
Jacob is the allotment of His inheritance.
10 "[a]He found him in a desert land,
And in the howling waste of a wilderness;
He encircled him, He cared for him,
He guarded him as [b]the pupil of His eye.
11 "[a]Like an eagle that stirs up its nest,
That hovers over its young,
[b]He spread His wings and caught them,
He carried them on His pinions.
12 "[a]The LORD alone guided him,
[b]And there was no foreign god with him.
13 "[a]He made him ride on the high places of the earth,

32:11 hovers over. See note on Ge 1:2.

And he ate the produce of the field;
[b]And He made him suck honey from the rock,
And [c]oil from the flinty rock,
14 Curds of cows, and milk of the flock,
With fat of lambs,
And rams, the breed of Bashan, and goats,
[a]With the finest of the wheat—
And of the [b]blood of grapes you drank wine.

15 "[a]But [1]Jeshurun grew fat and kicked—
You are grown fat, thick, and sleek—
[b]Then he forsook God [c]who made him,
And scorned [d]the Rock of his salvation.

[b]Because of the provocation of His sons and daughters.
20 "Then He said, 'I will hide My face from them,

32:13 honey from the rock. See Ps 81:16. In Canaan, bees sometimes built their hives in clefts of rocks (cf. Is 7:18–19). oil from the flinty rock. Olive trees often grew on rocky hillsides, as on the Mount of Olives east of Jerusalem.
32:14 Bashan. See note on Ezek 39:18. blood of grapes. Wine (see Gen 49:11).
32:15 Jeshurun. Means "the upright one," i.e., Israel; see also Is 44:2 and note. Rock. See v. 18 and note on v. 4.
32:21 Quoted in part in Rom 10:19 to illustrate Israel's failure to understand the good news about Christ.
32:22 lowest part of Sheol. See note on Gen 37:35.
32:30 their Rock. Israel's God.
32:31 their rock. The god of Israel's enemy.
32:34 Sealed up in My treasuries. The Lord's plans for the future are fixed and certain. Sin will be punished in due time.
32:35–36 Quoted in part in Heb 10:30 as a warning against rejecting the Son of God.
32:35 Vengeance is Mine, and retribution. Quoted in Rom 12:19 to affirm that avenging is God's prerogative.

When He sees that their [1] strength is gone,
And there is none remaining, bond or free.
37 "And He will say, '[a] Where are their gods,

40 'Indeed, [a] I lift up My hand to heaven,
And say, as I live forever,
41 [a] If I sharpen My [1] flashing sword,
And My hand takes hold on justice,
[b] I will render vengeance on My adversaries,
And I will repay those who hate Me.
42 '[a] I will make My arrows drunk with blood,
[b] And My sword will devour flesh,
With the blood of the slain and the captives,
From the long-haired [1] leaders of the enemy.'
43 "[a] Rejoice, O nations, with His people;
[b] For He will avenge the blood of His servants,
[c] And will render vengeance on His adversaries,
[d] And will atone for His land and His people."

44 Then Moses came and spoke all the words of this song in the hearing of the people, he, with [1a] Joshua the son of Nun.

45 When Moses had finished speaking all these words to all Israel, 46 he said to them, "[a] Take to your heart all the words with which I am warning you today, which you shall command [b] your sons to observe [1] carefully, even all the words of this law.

47 "For it is not an idle word for you; indeed [a] it is your life. And [b] by this word you will prolong your days in the land, [1] which you are about to cross the Jordan to [2] possess."

48 [a] The LORD spoke to Moses that very same day, saying,

49 "[a] Go up to this mountain of the Abarim, Mount Nebo, which is in the land of Moab [1] opposite Jericho, and look at the land of Canaan, which I am giving to the sons of Israel for a possession.

50 "Then die on the mountain where you ascend, and be [a] gathered to your people, as Aaron your brother died on Mount Hor and was gathered to his people, 51 [a] because you broke faith with Me in the midst of the sons of Israel at the waters of Meribah-kadesh, in the [b] wilderness of Zin, because you did not treat Me as holy in the midst of the sons of Israel.

52 "[a] For you shall see the land at a distance, but [b] you shall not go there, into the land which I am giving the sons of Israel."

The Blessing of Moses

33 Now this is the blessing with which Moses [a] the man of God blessed the sons of Israel before his death.

2 He said,
"[a] The LORD came from Sinai,
[b] And [1] dawned on them from Seir;
[c] He shone forth from Mount Paran,
And He came from [d] the [2] midst of ten thousand holy ones;
[e] At His right hand there was [3] flashing lightning for them.
3 "[a] Indeed, He loves [1] the people;
[b] All [2] Your holy ones are in Your hand,
[c] And they [3] followed in Your steps;
Everyone receives of Your words.
4 "[a] Moses charged us with a law,
[b] A possession for the assembly of Jacob.
5 "[a] And He was king in Jeshurun,
When the heads of the people were gathered,
The tribes of Israel together.

6 "[a] May Reuben live and not die,
Nor his men be few."

7 [a] And this regarding Judah; so he said,
"Hear, O LORD, the voice of Judah,
And bring him to his people.

The Death of Moses

34 [a]Now Moses went up from the plains of Moab to Mount Nebo, to the top of Pisgah, which is opposite Jericho. And the LORD [b]showed him all the land, Gilead as far as Dan,
2 and all Naphtali and the land of Ephraim and Manasseh, and all the land of Judah as far as the [1][a]western sea,
3 and the [1]Negev and the plain in the valley of Jericho, [a]the city of palm trees, as far as Zoar.
4 Then the LORD said to him, "This is the land which [a]I swore to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, saying, 'I will give it to your [1]descendants'; I have let you see it with your eyes, but you shall not go over there."
5 So Moses [a]the servant of the LORD [b]died there in the land of Moab, according to the [1]word of the LORD.
6 And He buried him in the valley in the land of Moab, [a]opposite Beth-peor; but [b]no man knows his burial place to this day.
7 Although Moses was [a]one hundred and twenty years old when he died, [b]his eye was not dim, nor his vigor abated.
8 So the sons of Israel wept for Moses in the plains of Moab thirty days; then the days of weeping and mourning for Moses came to an end.
9 Now Joshua the son of Nun was [a]filled with the spirit of wisdom, for Moses had laid his hands on him; and the sons of Israel listened to him and did as the LORD had commanded Moses.
10 Since that time [a]no prophet has risen in Israel like Moses, whom [b]the LORD knew face to face,
11 for all the signs and wonders which the LORD sent him to perform in the land of Egypt against Pharaoh, all his servants, and all his land,
12 and for all the mighty [1]power and for all the great terror which Moses performed in the sight of all Israel.

The Conquest and the Ethical Question of War

Many readers of Joshua (and other OT books) are deeply troubled by the role that warfare plays in this account of God's dealings with His people. Not a few relieve their ethical scruples by ascribing the author's perspective to a pre-Christian (and sub-Christian) stage of moral development that the Christian, in the light of Christ's teaching, must repudiate and transcend. Hence the main thread of the narrative line of Joshua is an offense to them.

It must be remembered, however, that the book of Joshua does not address itself to the abstract ethical question of war as a means for gaining human ends. It can only be understood in the context of the history of redemption unfolding in the Pentateuch, with its interplay of divine grace and judgment. Of that story it is the direct continuation.

Joshua is not an epic account of Israel's heroic generation or the story of Israel's conquest of Canaan with the aid of her national deity. It is rather the story of how God, to whom the whole world belongs, at one stage in the history of redemption reconquered a portion of the earth from the powers of this world that had claimed it for themselves, defending their claims by force of arms and reliance on their false gods. It tells how God commissioned His people, under His servant Joshua, to take Canaan in His name out of the hands of the idolatrous and dissolute Canaanites (whose measure of sin was now full; see Gen 15:16). It tells how He aided them in that enterprise and gave them conditional tenancy in His land in fulfillment of the ancient pledge.

Joshua is the story of the kingdom of God breaking into the world of nations at a time when national and political entities were viewed as the creation of the gods and living proofs of their power. Thus the Lord's triumph over the Canaanites testified to the world that the God of Israel is the one true and living God, whose claim on the world is absolute. It was also a warning to the nations that the irresistible advance of the kingdom of God would ultimately disinherit all those who opposed it, giving place in the earth only to those who acknowledge and serve the Lord. At once an act of redemption and of judgment, it gave notice of the outcome of history and anticipated the eschatological destiny of mankind and the creation.

The battles for Canaan were therefore the Lord's war, undertaken at a particular time in the program of redemption. God gave His people under Joshua no commission or license to conquer the world with the sword but a particular, limited mission. The conquered land itself would not become Israel's national possession by right of conquest, but it belonged to the Lord. So the land had to be cleansed of all remnants of paganism. Its people and their wealth were not for Israel to seize as the booty of war from which to enrich themselves (as Achan tried to do, ch. 7) but were placed under God's ban (were to be devoted to God to dispense with as He pleased). On that land Israel was to establish a commonwealth faithful to the righteous rule of God and thus be a witness (and a blessing) to the nations. If she herself became unfaithful and conformed to Canaanite culture and practice, she would in turn lose her place in the Lord's land—as she almost did in the days of the judges, and as she did eventually in the exile.

War is a terrible curse that the human race brings on itself as it seeks to possess the earth by its own unrighteous ways. But it pales before the curse that awaits all those who do not heed God's testimony to Himself or His warnings—those who oppose the rule of God and reject His offer of grace. The God of the second Joshua (Jesus) is the God of the first Joshua also. Although now for a time He reaches out to the whole world with the gospel (and commissions his people urgently to carry His offer of peace to all nations), the sword of His judgment waits in the wings—and His second Joshua will wield it (Rev 19:11–16).

Joshua

Title and Theme

Joshua is a story of conquest and fulfillment for the people of God. After many years of slavery in Egypt and 40 years in the wilderness, the Israelites were finally allowed to enter the land promised to their fathers. Abraham, always a migrant, never possessed the country to which he was sent, but he left to his children the legacy of God's covenant that made them the eventual heirs of all of Canaan (see Gen 15:13,16,18; 17:8). Joshua was destined to turn that promise into reality.

Where Deuteronomy ends, the book of Joshua begins: The tribes of Israel are still camped on the east side of the Jordan River. The narrative opens with God's command to move forward and pass through the river on dry land. Then it relates the series of victories in central, southern and northern Canaan that gave the Israelites control of all the hill country and the Negev. It continues with a description of the tribal allotments and ends with Joshua's final addresses to the people. The theme of the book, therefore, is the establishment of Israel in the promised land.

Earlier in his life Joshua was called simply Hoshea (Num 13:8,16), meaning "salvation." But later Moses changed his name to Joshua, meaning "The LORD saves" (or "The LORD gives victory"). When this same name (the Greek form of which is Jesus) was given to Mary's firstborn son, it became the most loved of names.

In the Hebrew Bible the book of Joshua initiates a division called the Former Prophets, including also Judges, Samuel and Kings—all historical in content but written from a prophetic standpoint. They do more than merely record the nation's development from Moses to the fall of Judah in 586 B.C. They prophetically interpret God's covenant ways with Israel in history—how He fulfills and remains true to His promises (especially through His servants such as Joshua, the judges, Samuel and David) and how He deals with the waywardness of the Israelites. In Joshua it was the Lord who won the victories and "gave Israel all the land which He had sworn to give to their fathers" (21:43).

Author and Date

In the judgment of many scholars Joshua was not written until the end of the period of the kings, some 800 years after the actual events. But there are significant reasons to question this conclusion and to place the time of composition much earlier. The earliest Jewish traditions (Talmud) claim that Joshua wrote his own book except for the final section about his funeral, which is attributed to Eleazar son of Aaron (the last verse must have been added by a later editor).

On at least two occasions the text reports writing at Joshua's command or by Joshua himself. When the tribes received their territories, Joshua instructed his men, "Go and walk through the land and describe it" (18:8). Then in the last scene of the book, when Joshua led Israel in a renewal of the covenant with the Lord, he "made for them a statute and an ordinance" (24:25). On yet another occasion the one telling the story appears also to have been a participant in the event; he uses the pronoun "us" (5:6).

Moreover, the author's observations are accurate and precise. He is thoroughly at ease with the antiquated names of cities, such as "the Jebusite" city (15:8; 18:16,28) for Jerusalem, Kiriath-arba (14:15; 15:54; 20:7; 21:11) for Hebron, and Great Sidon (11:8; 19:28) for what later became simply Sidon. Tyre is mentioned (19:29), but in the days of Joshua it had not yet developed into a port of major importance.

But if some features suggest Joshua's own lifetime, others point to a time somewhat later. The account of the long day when the sun stood still at Aijalon is substantiated by a quotation from another source, the Book of Jashar (10:13). This would hardly be natural for an eyewitness of the miracle, writing shortly after it happened. Also, there are 12 instances where the phrase "until this day" is employed by the author.

It seems safe to conclude that the book, at least in its early form, dates from the beginning of the monarchy. Some think that Samuel may have had a hand in shaping or compiling the materials of the book, but in fact we are unsure who the final author or editor was.

The Life of Joshua

Joshua's remarkable life was filled with excitement, variety, success and honor. He was known for his deep trust in God and as "a man in whom is the Spirit" (Num 27:18). As a youth he lived through the bitter realities of slavery in Egypt, but he also witnessed the supernatural plagues and the miracle of Israel's escape from the army of the Egyptians when the waters of the sea opened before them. In the Sinai peninsula it was Joshua who led the troops of Israel to victory over the Amalekites (Ex 17:8–13). He alone was allowed to accompany Moses up the holy mountain where the tablets of the testimony were received (Ex 24:13–14). And it was he who stood watch at the temporary tent of meeting Moses set up before the tabernacle was erected (Ex 33:11).

Joshua was elected to represent his own tribe of Ephraim when the 12 spies were sent into Canaan to look over the land. Only Joshua and his friend Caleb were ready to follow God's will and take immediate possession of the land (see Num 14:26–34). The rest were condemned to die in the wilderness. Even Moses died short of the goal and was told to turn everything over to Joshua. God promised to guide and strengthen Joshua, just as he had Moses (Deut 31:23).

Joshua proved to be not only a military strategist in the battles that followed, but also a statesman in the way he governed the tribes. Above all, he was God's chosen servant (see 24:29 and note on Deut 34:5) to bring Moses' work to completion and establish Israel in the promised land. In that role he was a striking OT type (foreshadowing) of Christ (see notes on Heb 4:1,6–8).

Historical Setting

At the time of the Israelite migration into Canaan the superpowers of the ancient Near East were relatively weak. The Hittites had faded from the scene. Neither Babylon nor Egypt could maintain a military presence in Canaan, and the Assyrians would not send in their armies until centuries later.

As the tribes circled east of the Dead Sea, only the stronghold of Edom offered any resistance. Moab was forced to let Israel pass through her territory and camp in her plains. When Og and Sihon, two regional Amorite kings of Transjordan, tried to stop the Israelites, they were easily defeated and their lands occupied.

Biblical archaeologists call this period the Late Bronze Age (1550–1200 B.C.). Today thousands of artifacts give testimony to the richness of the Canaanite material culture, which was in many ways superior to that of the Israelites. When the ruins of the ancient kingdom of Ugarit were discovered at modern Ras Shamra on the northern coast of Syria (see chart on "Ancient Texts Relating to the OT," p. xix), a wealth of new information came to light concerning the domestic, commercial and religious life of the Canaanites. From a language close to Hebrew came stories of ancient kings and gods that revealed their immoral behavior and cruelty. In addition, pagan temples, altars, tombs and ritual vessels have been uncovered, throwing more light on the culture and customs of the peoples surrounding Israel.

Excavations at the ancient sites of Megiddo, Beth Shan and Gezer show how powerfully fortified these cities were and why they were not captured and occupied by Israel in Joshua's day. Many other fortified towns were taken, however, so that Israel became firmly established in the land as the dominant power. Apart from Jericho and Ai, Joshua is reported to have burned only Hazor (11:13), so attempts to date these events by destruction levels in the mounds of Canaan's ancient cities are questionable undertakings. It must also be remembered that other groups were involved in campaigns in the region about this time, among whom were Egyptian rulers and the Sea Peoples (including the Philistines). There had also been much intercity warfare among the Canaanites, and afterward the period of the judges was marked by general turbulence.

Much of the data from archaeology appears to support a date for Joshua's invasion c. 1250 B.C. This fits well with an exodus that would then have taken place 40 years earlier under the famous Rameses II, who ruled from the Nile delta at a city with the same name (Ex 1:11). It also places Joseph in Egypt in a favorable situation. Four hundred years before Rameses II the pharaohs were the Semitic Hyksos, who also ruled from the delta near the land of Goshen.

On the other hand, a good case can be made for the traditional viewpoint that the invasion occurred c. 1406 B.C. The oppression would have taken place under Amunhotep II after the death of his father Thutmose III, who is known to have used slave labor in his building projects. The earlier date also fits better with the two numbers found in Judg 11:26 and 1 Kin 6:1, since it allows for an additional 150 years between Moses and the monarchy. God's Charge to Joshua

1 Now it came about after the death of Moses the servant of the LORD, that the LORD spoke to Joshua the son of Nun, Moses' [1]servant, saying,

2 "Moses [a]My servant is dead; now therefore arise, [b]cross this Jordan, you and all this people, to the land which I am giving to them, to the sons of Israel.

3 "[a]Every place on which the sole of your foot treads, I have given it to you, just as I spoke to Moses.

4 "[a]From the wilderness and this Lebanon, even as far as the great river, the river Euphrates, all the land of the Hittites, and as far as the Great Sea toward the setting of the sun will be your territory.

5 "[a]No man will be able to stand before you all the days of your life. Just as I have been with Moses, I will be with you; [b]I will not fail you or forsake you.

6 "[a]Be strong and courageous, for you shall give this people possession of the land which I swore to their fathers to give them.

7 "Only be strong and very courageous; [1][a]be careful to do according to all the law which Moses My servant commanded you; do not turn from it to the right or to the left, so that you may [2]have success wherever you go.

8 "[a]This book of the law shall not depart from your mouth, but you shall meditate on it day and night, so that you may [1]be careful to do according to all that is written in it; [b]for then you will make your way prosperous, and then you will [2]have success.

9 "Have I not commanded you? [a]Be strong and courageous! [b]Do not tremble or be dismayed, for the LORD your God is with you wherever you go."

Joshua Assumes Command

10 Then Joshua commanded the officers of the people, saying,

11 "Pass through the midst of the camp and command the people, saying, 'Prepare provisions for yourselves, for within [a]three days you are to cross this Jordan, to go in to possess the land which the LORD your God is giving you, to possess it.' "

12 [a]To the Reubenites and to the Gadites and to the half-tribe of Manasseh, Joshua [1]said,

13 "Remember the word which Moses the servant of the LORD commanded you, saying, '[a]The LORD your God gives you rest and will give you this land.'

14 "Your wives, your little ones, and your cattle shall remain in the land which Moses gave you beyond the Jordan, but you shall cross before your brothers in battle array, all your valiant warriors, and shall help them,

15 until the LORD gives your brothers rest, as He gives you, and they also possess the land which the LORD your God is giving

1:1–18 The Lord initiates the action by charging Joshua, His chosen replacement for Moses (see Deut 31:1–8), to lead Israel across the Jordan and take possession of the promised land. He urges courage and promises success—but only if Israel obeys the law of God that Moses has given them. The chapter consists of speeches significant in their content and order: The Lord commands Joshua as His appointed leader over His people (vv. 1–9); Joshua, as the Lord's representative, addresses Israel (vv. 10–15); Israel responds to Joshua as the Lord's representative and successor to Moses (vv. 16–18). Thus the events of the book are set in motion and the roles of the main actors indicated.

1:1 after the death of Moses. Immediately the time and occasion of the action are set forth, showing that the story will continue where Deuteronomy ended, with the death of Moses. Cf. "after the death of Joshua" (Judg 1:1). servant of the LORD. See notes on Ex 14:31; Deut 34:5; Ps 18 title; Is 41:8–9; 42:1. Moses' servant. The title by which Joshua served for many years as second in command (see Num 11:28; see also Ex 24:13; 33:11; Deut 1:38).

1:2 Jordan. The flow of the Jordan near Jericho was not large during most of the year (only 80–100 feet wide), but at flood stage in the spring it filled its wider bed, which at places was a mile wide and far more treacherous to cross. land which I am giving to them. A central theme of the Pentateuch (see Gen 12:1; 50:24; Ex 3:8; 23:31; Deut 1:8). Joshua records the fulfillment of this promise of God.

1:3–5 See Deut 11:24–25.

1:4 The dimensions of the land promised to Israel vary (compare this text and Gen 15:18 with Deut 34:1–4), but these are the farthest limits—conquered and held only by David and Solomon. Canaan was still called "Hatti-land" centuries after the Hittites had withdrawn to the north. But Joshua was to take all he set out to conquer; wherever he set his foot was his. His victories gave to the 12 tribes most of the central hill country and much of the Negev.

1:5 I will be with you. To direct, sustain and assure success.

1:6 land which I swore to their fathers. The long-awaited inheritance pledged to the descendants of Abraham (Gen 15:7,8–21) and of Jacob (Gen 28:13).

1:7 be careful to do. Success was not guaranteed unconditionally (see Deut 8:1; 11:8,22–25).

1:8 book of the law. A documentary form of the laws from Sinai was already extant. mouth. See Deut 4:9–10; 6:6–7; 11:19. The law was usually read orally (cf. Deut 30:9–14; Acts 8:30). meditate. See Ps 1:2.

1:9 Have I not commanded you? A rhetorical question that emphasizes the authority of the speaker.

1:10 Joshua commanded. At this point Joshua assumes full command. officers. May refer to those whom Moses had appointed over the divisions within the tribes (Ex 18:21; Deut 1:15).

1:11 provisions. Foodstuffs needed for the next several days of march.

1:12–15 The threat from the two kings of Transjordan was overcome by military victory and the occupation of the lands north of Moab and east of the Jordan River. The two and a half tribes who asked to remain had been charged by Moses to send their fighting men across with the rest to conquer Canaan (Num 21:21–35; 32:1–27). The conquest of the promised land must be an undertaking by all Israel.

1:13 rest. An important OT concept (see notes on Deut 3:20; 2 Sam 7:1,11), implying secure borders, peace with neighboring countries and absence of threat to life and well-being within the land (see note on 1 Kin 5:4).

1:14 in battle array, all your valiant warriors. Those over 20 (see, e.g., Ex 38:26), known for their valor and able to equip themselves with the weapons of war.

them. [a]Then you shall return to [1]your own land, and possess [2]that which Moses [b]the servant of the LORD gave you beyond the Jordan toward the sunrise."

16 They answered Joshua, saying, "All that you have commanded us we will do, and wherever you send us we will go.

17 "Just as we obeyed Moses in all things, so we will obey you; only [a]may the LORD your God be with you as He was with Moses.

18 "Anyone who rebels against your [1]command and does not obey your words in all that you command him, shall be put to death; only be strong and courageous."

Rahab Shelters Spies

2 Then Joshua the son of Nun sent two men as spies secretly from [a]Shittim, saying, "Go, view the land, especially Jericho." So they went and came into the house of [b]a harlot whose name was Rahab, and [1]lodged there.

2 It was told the king of Jericho, saying, "Behold, men from the sons of Israel have come here tonight to search out the land."

3 And the king of Jericho sent word to Rahab, saying, "Bring out the men who have come to you, who have entered your house, for they have come to search out all the land."

4 But the [a]woman had taken the two men and hidden them, and she said, "Yes, the men came to me, but I did not know where they were from.

5 "It came about when it was time to shut the gate at dark, that the men went out; I do not know where the men went. Pursue them quickly, for you will overtake them."

7 So the men pursued them on the road to the Jordan to the fords; and as soon as those who were pursuing them had gone out, they shut the gate.

8 Now before they lay down, [1]she came up to them on the roof,

9 and said to the men, "[a]I know that the LORD has given you the land, and that the [b]terror of you has fallen on us, and that all the inhabitants of the land have [1]melted away before you.

10 "[a]For we have heard how the LORD dried up the water of the [1]Red Sea before you when you came out of Egypt, and [b]what you did to the two kings of the Amorites who were beyond the Jordan, to Sihon and Og, whom you [2]utterly destroyed.

1:18 Anyone who rebels. Having just taken the oath of allegiance to Joshua, they now agree to the death penalty for any act of treason (e.g., the sin of Achan, 7:15). be strong and courageous. The people's words of encouragement to Joshua echo and reinforce those from the Lord (vv. 6–7,9).

2:1–24 The mission of the two spies and the account of Rahab. The practice of reconnaissance and espionage is as old as war itself (cf. Judg 7:10–11; 1 Sam 26:6–12). Rahab became a convert to the God of Israel and a famous woman among the Hebrews. She is honored in the NT for her faith (Heb 11:31) and for her good works (James 2:25).

2:1 sent . . . from Shittim. The invasion point was in the plains of Moab facing toward the Jordan and Jericho (Num 33:48–49). The Hebrew word Shittim means "acacia trees," which grow in the semi-arid conditions of the wilderness. especially Jericho. The primary focus of the spies. It was a fortified city, was well supplied by strong springs, which helped to make it an oasis, and was located just five miles west of the Jordan. Its name probably means "moon city," and archaeological excavations there reveal continuous occupation back to at least 7000 B.C. harlot. Josephus and other early sources refer to Rahab as an "innkeeper," but see Heb 11:31; James 2:25.

2:2 king of Jericho. The major cities of Canaan were in reality small kingdoms, each ruled by a local king (attested also in the Amarna letters of the 14th century B.C.; see chart, p. xix).

2:6 hidden . . . in the stalks of flax. Rooftops in the Near East are still used for drying grain or stalks. Rahab's cunning saved the lives of the two Israelites but put her own life in jeopardy.

2:7 Jordan . . . fords. Shallow crossings of the Jordan, where the depth of normal flow averages only three feet.

2:8–11 Rahab's confession has a significant concentric structure:

a. "I know";
b. "terror. . . has fallen on us . . . the inhabitants of the land";
c. "we have heard";
bb. "our hearts melted and no courage remained in any man";
aa. "the LORD your God, He is God."

Rahab's personal confession forms the outer frame (a.-aa.); the inner frame (b.-bb.) offers the military intelligence that the spies report back to Joshua; the center (c., v. 10) sums up the news about the Lord that occasioned both the Canaanite fear and Rahab's abandonment of Canaan and its gods for the Lord and Israel. Her confession of faith in the Lord and her accurate information about the Lord's triumphs over powerful enemies are astounding. That the hearts of the Canaanites were "melted away" (v. 9) was vital information to the spies.

2:10 utterly destroyed. See note on Num 21:2.

2:12 deal kindly with my father's household. The Hebrew for "kindness" or "kindly" is frequently translated "love" or "unfailing love" and often summarizes God's covenant favor toward His people or the love that people are to show to others. Rahab had acted toward the spies as though she was an Israelite, and now she asks that Israel treat her similarly. pledge of truth. Their oath to spare the whole family (v. 14).

2:14 kindly and faithfully. The terms of the pledge made by us the land that we will [a]deal kindly and [3]faithfully with you."

The Promise to Rahab

15 Then she let them down by a rope through the window, for her house was on the city wall, so that she was living on the wall.

16 She said to them, "[a]Go to the hill country, so that the pursuers will not happen upon you, and hide yourselves there for three days until the pursuers return. Then afterward you may go on your way."

17 The men said to her, "[a]We shall be free from this oath [1]to you which you have made us swear, 18 [1]unless, when we come into the land, you tie this cord of scarlet thread in the window through which you let us down, and [a]gather to yourself into the house your father and your mother and your brothers and all your father's household.

19 "It shall come about that anyone who goes out of the doors of your house into the street, his blood shall be on his own head, and we shall be free; but anyone who is with you in the house, [a]his blood shall be on our head if a hand is laid on him.

20 "But if you tell this business of ours, then we shall be free from the oath which you have made us swear."

21 She said, "According to your words, so be it." So she sent them away, and they departed; and she tied the scarlet cord in the window.

22 They departed and came to the hill country, and remained there for three days until the pursuers returned. Now the pursuers had sought them [1]all along the road, but had not found them.

23 Then the two men returned and came down from the hill country and crossed over and came to Joshua the son of Nun, and they related to him all that had happened to them.

24 They said to Joshua, "Surely the LORD has given all the land into our hands; moreover, [a]all the inhabitants of the land have [1]melted away before us."

Israel Crosses the Jordan

3 Then Joshua rose early in the morning; and he and all the sons of Israel set out from [a]Shittim and came to the Jordan, and they lodged there before they crossed.

2 [a]At the end of three days the officers went through the midst of the camp;

3 and they commanded the people, saying, "When you see the [a]ark of the covenant of the LORD your God with the Levitical priests carrying it, then you shall set out from your place and go after it.

4 "However, there shall be between you and it a distance of about 2,000 [1]cubits by measure. Do not come near it, that you may know the way by which you shall go, for you have not passed this way before."

5 Then Joshua said to the people, "[a]Consecrate yourselves, for tomorrow the LORD will do wonders among you."

6 And Joshua spoke to the priests, saying, "Take up the ark of the covenant and cross over ahead of the people." So they took up the ark of the covenant and went ahead of the people.

7 Now the LORD said to Joshua, "This day I will begin to [a]exalt you in the sight of all the spies echo Rahab's request (v. 12). when the LORD gives us the land. All were convinced of the inevitable victory of the Israelites over the city of Jericho.

2:15 her house was on the city wall. There is archaeological evidence that the people of Jericho would occasionally build their houses onto the city wall. Although this evidence predates the time of Joshua, it may still serve to illumine this verse. Alternatively, the Late Bronze fortifications at Jericho may have included a casemate wall (a hollow wall with partitions), and Rahab may have occupied one or more rooms inside it.

2:18 cord of scarlet thread in the window. The function of the red marker was similar to that of the blood of the Passover lamb when the Lord struck down the firstborn of Egypt (see Ex 12:13,22–23). The early church viewed the blood-colored cord as a type (symbol) of Christ's atonement.

2:19 his blood shall be on our head. A vow that accepted responsibility for the death of another, with its related guilt and the retribution meted out by either relatives or the state.

2:22 the hill country. Directly west of ancient Jericho were the high, rugged hills of the central mountain ridge in Canaan. They are honeycombed with caves, making the concealment and escape of the two spies relatively easy.

3:1–4:24 Details of the river crossing and the memorial of 12 stones set up in the camp at Gilgal. The great significance of this account can hardly be overemphasized, since it marks the crossing of the boundary into the promised land and parallels the miracle of the "Red Sea" crossing in the exodus (Ex 14–15). The Israelites' faith in the God of their fathers was renewed and strengthened when it was about to be most severely challenged, while at the same time the Canaanites' fear was greatly increased (5:1). In this account the author uses an "overlay" technique in which, having narrated the crossing to its conclusion (ch. 3), he returns to various points in the event to enlarge on several details: the stones for a memorial (4:1–9); the successful crossing by all Israel (4:10–14); the renewed flow of the river after the crossing was completed (4:15–18). The final paragraph of ch. 4 (vv. 19–24) picks up the story again from 3:17 and completes the account by noting Israel's encampment at Gilgal and the erecting of the stone memorial.

3:3 ark of the covenant. The most sacred of the tabernacle furnishings (see Ex 25:10–22). Since it signified the Lord's throne, the Lord Himself went into the Jordan ahead of His people as He led them into the land of rest (see Num 10:33–36).

3:4 distance of about 2,000 cubits. There was evidently a line of march, with the priests and ark leading the way. Respect for the sacred symbol of the Lord's holy presence accounts for this gap of about 1,000 yards between the people and the priests bearing the ark.

3:5 Consecrate yourselves. Before their meeting with God at Sinai this had involved washing all their garments as well as their bodies, and also abstinence from sexual intercourse (see Ex 19:10,14–15).

3:7 I will begin to exalt you. A prime objective for the divine intervention at the Jordan was to validate the leadership of Israel, that they may know that just as I have been with Moses, I will be with you.

8 "You shall, moreover, command the priests who are carrying the ark of the covenant, saying, 'When you come to the edge of the waters of the Jordan, you shall stand still in the Jordan.' "

9 Then Joshua said to the sons of Israel, "Come here, and hear the words of the LORD your God."

10 Joshua said, "By this you shall know that [a]the living God is among you, and that He will assuredly [b]dispossess from before you the Canaanite, the Hittite, the Hivite, the Perizzite, the Girgashite, the Amorite, and the Jebusite.

11 "Behold, the ark of the covenant of [a]the Lord of all the earth is crossing over ahead of you into the Jordan.

12 "Now then, [a]take for yourselves twelve men from the tribes of Israel, one man for each tribe.

13 "It shall come about when the soles of the feet of the priests who carry the ark of the LORD, the Lord of all the earth, rest in the waters of the Jordan, the waters of the Jordan will be cut off, and the waters which are [1]flowing down from above [2]will [a]stand in one heap."

14 So when the people set out from their tents to cross the Jordan with the priests carrying [a]the ark of the covenant before the people,

15 and when those who carried the ark came into the Jordan, and the feet of the priests carrying the ark were dipped in the edge of the water (for the [a]Jordan overflows all its banks all the days of harvest),

16 [a]the waters which were [1]flowing down from above stood and rose up in [b]one heap, a great distance away at Adam, the city that is beside Zarethan; and those which were [1]flowing down toward the sea of the [c]Arabah, the Salt Sea, were completely cut off. So the people crossed opposite Jericho.

17 And the priests who carried the ark of the covenant of the LORD stood firm [a]on dry ground in the middle of the Jordan while all Israel crossed on dry ground, until all the nation had finished crossing the Jordan.

Memorial Stones from Jordan

4 Now when all the nation had finished crossing the [a]Jordan, the LORD spoke to Joshua, saying,

2 "[a]Take for yourselves twelve men from the people, one man from each tribe,

3 and command them, saying, 'Take up for yourselves twelve stones from here out of the middle of the Jordan, from the place where the priests' feet are standing firm, and carry them over with you and lay them down in [a]the lodging place where you will lodge tonight.' "

4 So Joshua called the twelve men whom he had appointed from the sons of Israel, one man from each tribe;

5 and Joshua said to them, "[1]Cross again to the ark of the LORD your God into the middle of the Jordan, and each of you take up a stone on his shoulder, according to the number of the tribes of the sons of Israel.

Joshua. With a miraculous event so much like that of the "Red Sea" crossing, Joshua's position as the Lord's servant would be shown to be comparable to that of Moses.

3:10 By this you shall know. The manner by which God is about to bring Israel across the Jordan River, the watery boundary of the promised land, will bring assurance that the one true God is with them and that He will surely dislodge the present inhabitants of Canaan. Two fundamental issues are at stake: 1. Who is the true and mighty God—the God of Israel or the god on whom the Canaanites depend (Baal, who was believed to reign as king among the gods because he had triumphed over the sea-god)? By opening the way through the flooded Jordan the Lord would show both Israel and the Canaanites that He is Lord over the waters (as He was at the "Red Sea," at the flood and at creation) and that He is able to establish His own order in the world. See 1 Kin 20:23; 2 Kin 18:32–35. 2. Who has the rightful claim to the land—the Lord or the Canaanites? (For the juridical aspect of such wars see Judg 11:27.) By passing safely through the Jordan at the head of His army the Lord showed the rightness of His claim on the land. In the ancient Near East a common way for obtaining the judicial verdict of the gods was by compelling the accused to submit to trial by water ordeal. Usually this involved casting him into a river (if the accused drowned, the gods had found him guilty; if not, the gods had declared him innocent). In Israel, however, another form of water ordeal was practiced (see Num 5:16–28). Significantly, the Lord would enter the Jordan first and then remain there until His whole army had crossed safely over. Thus His claim to the land was vindicated before the eyes of all who heard about it. And it was His claim, not Israel's; she came through the Jordan only with Him and as His army, "baptized" to His service. Canaanite . . . Jebusite. See notes on Gen 9:25; 10:6,15–16; 13:7; 15:16; 23:3; Ex 3:8; Judg 3:3; 6:10.

3:12 take . . . twelve men. Joshua seems to anticipate the Lord's instructions concerning a stone monument of the event (see 4:2–3).

3:13 cut off. Blocked, stopped in its flow. stand in one heap. The Hebrew for "heap" is found here, in v. 16 and also in the poetic accounts of the "Red Sea" crossing (Ex 15:8; Ps 78:13). It is possible that God used a physical means (such as a landslide) to dam up the Jordan at the place called Adam (v. 16), near the entrance of the Jabbok. (As recently as 1927 a blockage of the water in this area was recorded that lasted over 20 hours.) But if so, the miraculous element is not diminished (see Ex 14:21).

3:15 when. The stoppage nearly 20 miles upstream (v. 16) would have happened several hours earlier to make the events coincide. overflows all its banks. Because of the spring rains and the melting of snow on Mount Hermon. harvest. Grain harvest took place in April and May.

3:17 the priests who carried the ark . . . stood firm on dry ground in the middle of the Jordan. Signifying that the Lord Himself remained in the place of danger until all Israel had crossed the Jordan.

4:3 in the lodging place where you will lodge tonight. Indicating that the entire nation made the crossing in one day.

6 "[1]Let this be a sign among you, so that [a]when your children ask [2]later, saying, 'What do these stones mean to you?'

7 then you shall say to them, 'Because the [a]waters of the Jordan were cut off before the ark of the covenant of the LORD; when it crossed the Jordan, the waters of the Jordan were cut off.' So these stones shall become a [b]memorial to the sons of Israel forever."

8 Thus the sons of Israel did as Joshua commanded, and took up twelve stones from the middle of the Jordan, just as the LORD spoke to Joshua, according to the number of the tribes of the sons of Israel; and they carried them over with them to [a]the lodging place and put them down there.

9 Then Joshua set up twelve [a]stones in the middle of the Jordan at the place where the feet of the priests who carried the ark of the covenant were standing, and they are there to this day.

10 For the priests who carried the ark were standing in the middle of the Jordan until everything was completed that the LORD had commanded Joshua to speak to the people, according to all that Moses had commanded Joshua. And the people hurried and crossed;

11 and when all the people had finished crossing, the ark of the LORD and the priests crossed before the people.

12 [a]The sons of Reuben and the sons of Gad and the half-tribe of Manasseh crossed over in battle array before the sons of Israel, just as Moses had spoken to them;

13 about 40,000 equipped for war, crossed for battle before the LORD to the desert plains of Jericho.

14 [a]On that day the LORD exalted Joshua in the sight of all Israel; so that they [1]revered him, just as they had [1]revered Moses all the days of his life.

15 Now the LORD said to [1]Joshua,

16 "Command the priests who carry [a]the ark of the testimony that they come up from the Jordan."

17 So Joshua commanded the priests, saying, "Come up from the Jordan."

18 It came about when the priests who carried the ark of the covenant of the LORD had come up from the middle of the Jordan, and the soles of the priests' feet were [1]lifted up to the dry ground, that the waters of the Jordan returned to their place, and went over all its banks as before.

19 Now the people came up from the Jordan on the [a]tenth of the first month and camped at Gilgal on the eastern edge of Jericho.

20 [1a]Those twelve stones which they had taken from the Jordan, Joshua set up [b]at Gilgal.

21 He said to the sons of [1]Israel, "When your children ask their fathers in time to come, saying, 'What are these stones?'

22 then you shall inform your children, saying, 'Israel crossed this Jordan on [a]dry ground.'

23 "For the LORD your God dried up the waters of the Jordan before you until you had crossed, just as the LORD your God had done to the [1]Red Sea, [a]which He dried up before us until we had crossed;

24 that [a]all the peoples of the earth may know that the [b]hand of the LORD is mighty, so that you may [1c]fear the LORD your God [2]forever."

Israel Is Circumcised

5 Now it came about when all the kings of the Amorites who were beyond the Jordan to the west, and all the kings of the [a]Canaanites who were by the sea, [b]heard how the LORD had dried up the waters of the Jordan before the sons of Israel until [1]they had crossed, that their hearts melted, and there was no spirit in them any longer because of the sons of Israel.

2 At that time the LORD said to Joshua, "Make for yourself [a]flint knives and circumcise again the sons of Israel the second time."

5:1 [1]Other mss read we [a]Num 13:29 [b]Josh 2:10, 11
2 [a]Ex 4:25

4:6 What do these stones mean . . . ? A stone monument was commonly used as a memorial to remind future generations of what had happened at that place (24:26; 1 Sam 7:12).

4:9 Joshua set up twelve stones in. Suggesting that Joshua set up a second pile in the middle of the river. An alternative translation ("Joshua set up the twelve stones that had been in") suggests that each tribe brought a stone for the monument from the riverbed to the new campsite at Gilgal, and Joshua constructed the monument there (see v. 20).

4:13 about 40,000. Seems too few for the number of men listed in Num 26 for Reuben, Gad and half of Manasseh; the contingents were very likely representative since it would have been imprudent to leave the people undefended who settled in Transjordan (cf. 22:8, "brothers"; Num 32:17).

4:19 tenth of the first month. The day the Passover lamb was to be selected (Ex 12:3). Gilgal. Usually identified with the ruins at Khirbet el-Mafjer, two miles northeast of Jericho.

4:23 God dried up the . . . Jordan. Still another descriptive phrase for the miracle, along with "the waters . . . cut off," "rose up in one heap" and "waters . . . stood" (3:16).

4:24 that all . . . may know. The Lord's revelation of His power to the Israelites was a public event that all the Canaanites heard about (see 5:1), just as they had heard of the crossing of the "Red Sea" and defeat of Sihon and Og (2:10). you. The Hebrew can also be read as "they." fear the LORD. Worship and serve Him according to His commandments.

5:1–12 Two covenantal ceremonies were resumed at Gilgal in accordance with the laws from Sinai: the rite of circumcision and the Feast of the Passover. Both were significant preparations for the conquest of the promised land.

5:1 Amorites . . . Canaanites. Usually interchangeable, these general names included the many smaller nations in the land. Amorite meant "westerner," and Canaanite referred to the people living along the Mediterranean coast. This verse perhaps concludes the account of the crossing since it notes the effect of that event on the peoples of Canaan (see note on 3:10).

5:2 flint knives. Metal knives were available, but flint made a more efficient surgical tool, as modern demonstrations have

3 So Joshua made himself flint knives and circumcised the sons of Israel at [1]Gibeath-haaraloth.

4 This is the reason why Joshua circumcised them: [a]all the people who came out of Egypt who were males, all the men of war, died in the wilderness along the way after they came out of Egypt.

5 For all the people who came out were circumcised, but all the people who were born in the wilderness along the way as they came out of Egypt had not been circumcised.

6 For the sons of Israel walked [a]forty years in the wilderness, until all the nation, that is, the men of war who came out of Egypt, [1]perished because they did not listen to the voice of the LORD, [b]to whom the LORD had sworn that He would not let them see the land which the LORD had sworn to their fathers to give us, a land flowing with milk and honey.

7 Their children whom He raised up in their place, Joshua [1]circumcised; for they were uncircumcised, because they had not circumcised them along the way.

8 Now when they had finished circumcising all the nation, they remained in their places in the camp until they were [1]healed.

9 Then the LORD said to Joshua, "Today I have rolled away [a]the reproach of Egypt from you." So the name of that place is called [1]Gilgal to this day.

10 While the sons of Israel camped at Gilgal [a]they observed the Passover on the evening of the [b]fourteenth day of the month on the desert plains of Jericho.

11 On the [1]day after the Passover, on [2]that very day, they ate some of the produce of the land, unleavened cakes and parched grain.

12 [a]The manna ceased on the [1]day after they had eaten some of the produce of the land, so that the sons of Israel no longer had manna, but they ate some of the yield of the land of Canaan during that year.

13 Now it came about when Joshua was by Jericho, that he lifted up his eyes and looked, and behold, [a]a man was standing opposite him with his sword drawn in his hand, and Joshua went to him and said to him, "Are you for us or for our adversaries?"

14 He said, "No; rather I indeed come now as captain of the host of the LORD." And Joshua [a]fell on his face to the earth, and bowed down, and said to him, "What has my lord to say to his servant?"

15 The captain of the LORD's host said to Joshua, "[a]Remove your sandals from your feet, for the place where you are standing is holy." And Joshua did so.

The Conquest of Jericho

6 Now Jericho was tightly shut because of the sons of Israel; no one went out and no one came in.

shown. Israel had to be consecrated to the Lord's service before she could undertake the Lord's warfare and take possession of the land (cf. Ex 4:24–26). circumcise. Circumcision marked every male as a son of Abraham (Gen 17:10–11) bound to the service of the Lord, and it was a prerequisite for the Passover (Ex 12:48).

5:3 Gibeath-haaraloth. See NASB marg.

5:6 forty years. The time between their departure from Egypt and the crossing of the Jordan. Only 38 years had passed since they turned back at Kadesh-barnea (Num 14:20–22; Deut 2:14).

5:9 reproach of Egypt. Although the reference may be to Egypt's enslavement of Israel, it is much more likely that the author had in mind the reproach the Egyptians would have cast upon her and her God if Israel had perished in the wilderness (see Ex 32:12; Num 14:13; Deut 9:28). Now that the wilderness journey is over and Israel is safely in the promised land as His special people consecrated to Him by circumcision, the reproach of Egypt is rolled away.

5:10 Passover. The ceremonies took place in the month of Abib, the first month of the year (Ex 12:2). At twilight on the 14th day of the month the Passover lamb was to be slaughtered, then roasted and eaten that same night (Ex 12:5–8). Israel had not celebrated Passover since Sinai, one year after her release from Egypt (Num 9:1–5). Before the next season she had rebelled at the border of Canaan, and the generation of the exodus had been condemned to die in the wilderness (Num 14:21–23, 29–35). For that generation the celebration of Passover (deliverance from judgment) could have had little meaning.

5:11 unleavened cakes. Bread baked without yeast. It was to be eaten during the seven feast days that followed (Ex 12:15; Lev 23:6).

5:12 manna ceased. This transition from eating manna to eating the "produce of the land" (v. 11) ended 40 years of dependence on God's special provision. Manna was God's gift for the wilderness journey; from now on He provided Israel with food from the promised land.

5:13–6:5 The narration of the conquest is introduced by the sudden appearance of a heavenly figure who calls himself the "captain of the host of the LORD" (5:14).

5:13 Joshua was by Jericho. The leader of God's army went to scout the nearest Canaanite stronghold, but another warrior was already on the scene. a man was standing. The experience is taken by many to be an encounter with God in human form (theophany), or with Christ (Christophany). But angels also were sent on missions of this kind (Judg 6:11; 13:3), and some were identified as captains over the heavenly armies (Dan 10:5,20; 12:1).

5:14 No; rather. Joshua and Israel must know their place—it is not that God is on their side; rather, they must fight God's battles. captain of the host of the LORD. God has sent the commander of His heavenly armies to take charge of the battle on earth. Joshua must take orders from him (6:2–5), and he can also know that the armies of heaven are committed to this war—as later events confirm. my lord. A term of respect for a superior.

5:15 Joshua is commissioned to undertake the Lord's battles for Canaan, just as Moses had been commissioned to confront Pharaoh (Ex 3:5).

6:1 Jericho. Modern Tell es-Sultan, site of more than two dozen ancient cities, built and destroyed, one above the other. Many had powerful, double walls, but none of the levels has been positively identified as the one that fell under Joshua. The tell (mound) is roughly 400 by 200 yards in size. Since Jericho may have been a center for the worship of the moon-god (Jericho probably means "moon city"), God was destroying not only Canaanite cities, but also Canaanite religion. See map No. 3 at the end of the study Bible.

2 The LORD said to Joshua, "See, I have given Jericho into your hand, with [a]its king and the valiant warriors.

3 "You shall march around the city, all the men of war circling the city once. You shall do so for six days.

4 "Also seven priests shall carry seven [a]trumpets of rams' horns before the ark; then on the seventh day you shall march around the city seven times, and the priests shall blow the trumpets.

5 "It shall be that when they make a long blast with the ram's horn, and when you hear the sound of the trumpet, all the people shall shout with a great shout; and the wall of the city will fall down [1]flat, and the people will go up every man [2]straight ahead."

6 So Joshua the son of Nun called the priests and said to them, "Take up the ark of the covenant, and let seven priests carry seven trumpets of rams' horns before the ark of the LORD."

7 Then [1]he said to the people, "Go forward, and march around the city, and let the armed men go on before the ark of the LORD."

8 And it was so, that when Joshua had spoken to the people, the seven priests carrying the seven trumpets of rams' horns before the LORD went forward and blew the trumpets; and the ark of the covenant of the LORD followed them.

9 The armed men went before the priests who blew the trumpets, and [a]the rear guard came after the ark, while they continued to blow the trumpets.

10 But Joshua commanded the people, saying, "You shall not shout nor let your voice be heard nor let a word proceed out of your mouth, until the day I tell you, 'Shout!' Then you shall shout!"

11 So he had the ark of the LORD [1]taken around the city, circling it once; then they came into the camp and spent the night in the camp.

12 Now Joshua rose early in the morning, and the priests took up the ark of the LORD.

13 [a]The seven priests carrying the seven trumpets of rams' horns before the ark of the LORD went on continually, and blew the trumpets; and the armed men went before them and [b]the rear guard came after the ark of the LORD, while they continued to blow the trumpets.

14 Thus the second day they marched around the city once and returned to the camp; they did so for six days.

15 Then on the seventh day they rose early at the dawning of the day and marched around the city in the same manner seven times; only on that day they marched around the city seven times.

16 At the seventh time, when the priests blew the trumpets, Joshua said to the people, "[a]Shout! For the LORD has given you the city.

17 "The city shall be [a]under the ban, it and all that is in it belongs to the LORD; only Rahab the harlot [1]and all who are with her in the house shall live, because she hid the messengers whom we sent.

18 "But as for you, only keep yourselves from the things under the ban, so that you do not [1]covet them and [a]take some of the things under the ban, and make the camp of Israel accursed and bring trouble on it.

6:2 The LORD. The Lord's command no doubt comes to Joshua through the "captain of the host of the LORD" (5:14), who orders the first conquest of a Canaanite city.

6:3 march around the city. A ritual act, signifying a siege of the city, that was to be repeated for six days.

6:4 trumpets of rams' horns. Instruments not of music but of signaling, in both religious and military contexts (which appear to come together here). The trumpets were to be sounded (v. 8), as on the seventh day, announcing the presence of the Lord (see 2 Sam 6:15; 1 Chr 15:28; Zech 9:14). ark. Signified that the Lord was laying siege to the city. seventh day. No note is taken of the sabbath during this seven-day siege, but perhaps that was the day the Lord gave the city to Israel as the first pledge of the land of rest. To arrive at the goal of a long march on the seventh day is a motif found also in other ancient Near Eastern literature. In any event, the remarkable constellation of sevens (seven priests with trumpets, seven days, seven encirclements on the seventh day) underscores the sacred significance of the event (see Introduction to Revelation: Distinctive Feature) and is, perhaps, a deliberate evoking of the seven days of creation to signal the beginning of God's new order in the world.

6:5 long blast . . . great shout. Signaling the onset of the attack—psychological warfare, intended to create panic and confusion (see Judg 7). In the Dead Sea Scroll of "The War of the Sons of Light against the Sons of Darkness," the Levites are instructed to blow in unison a great battle fanfare to melt the heart of the enemy (see essay, p. 1356.) every man straight ahead. Not a breach here and there but a general collapse of the walls, giving access to the city from all sides.

6:7 armed men. The Hebrew for this term differs from that in v. 3 but may be synonymous with it. It is to be expected that the ark led the procession. If so, the present reference may be to a kind of royal guard (but see v. 9 and note).

6:8–14 Throughout these verses the ark of the Lord is made the center of focus, highlighting the fact that it was the Lord Himself who besieged the city.

6:9 rear guard. If the rear guard was made up of the final contingents of the army (see Num 10:25), the armed guard of vv. 7,9 constituted the main body of troops.

6:12–14 Literary repetition reflects repetition in action, a common feature in ancient Near Eastern literature.

6:17 under the ban. See vv. 18, 21; 2:10; see also note on Num 21:2. The ban placed all of Jericho's inhabitants under the curse of death and all of the city's treasures that could not be destroyed under consignment to the Lord's house (v. 19). According to the law of Moses this ban could be applied to animals for sacrifice, to property given to God, or to any person found worthy of death (Lev 27:28–29). It was Moses himself who ruled that all the inhabitants of Canaan be "devoted" by execution for their idolatry and all its accompanying moral corruption (Deut 20:16–18). See note on Deut 2:34. Rahab . . . and all who are with her in the house shall live. Honoring the pledge made by the two spies (2:14).

6:18 make the camp of Israel accursed. See note on v. 17. If Israel took for herself anything that was under God's ban, she herself would fall under the ban.

19 "[a]But all the silver and gold and articles of bronze and iron are holy to the LORD; they shall go into the treasury of the LORD."

20 So the people shouted, and [1]priests blew the trumpets; and when the people heard the sound of the trumpet, the people shouted with a great shout and the [a]wall fell down [2]flat, so that the people went up into the city, every man straight [3]ahead, and they took the city.

21 [a]They [1]utterly destroyed everything in the city, both man and woman, young and old, and ox and sheep and donkey, with the edge of the sword.

22 Joshua said to the two men who had spied out the land, "[a]Go into the harlot's house and bring the woman and all she has out of there, as you have sworn to her."

23 So the young men who were spies went in and [a]brought out Rahab and her father and her mother and her brothers and all she had; they also brought out all her relatives and placed them outside the camp of Israel.

24 [a]They burned the city with fire, and all that was in it. Only the silver and gold, and articles of bronze and iron, they put into the treasury of the [1]house of the LORD.

25 However, [a]Rahab the harlot and her father's household and all she had, Joshua [1]spared; and she has lived in the midst of Israel to this day, for [b]she hid the messengers whom Joshua sent to spy out Jericho.

26 Then Joshua made them take an oath at that time, saying, "[a]Cursed before the LORD is the man who rises up and builds this city Jericho; with the loss of his firstborn he shall lay its foundation, and with the loss of his youngest son he shall set up its gates."

27 So [a]the LORD was with Joshua, and his [b]fame was in all the land.

Israel Is Defeated at Ai

7 [a]But the sons of Israel acted unfaithfully in regard to the things under the ban, for Achan, the son of Carmi, the son of Zabdi, the son of Zerah, from the tribe of Judah, took some of the things under the ban, therefore the anger of the LORD burned against the sons of Israel.

2 Now Joshua sent men from Jericho to Ai, which is near [a]Beth-aven, east of Bethel, and said to them, "[1]Go up and spy out the land." So the men went up and spied out Ai.

3 They returned to Joshua and said to him, "Do not let all the people go up; only about two or three thousand men need go up [1]to Ai; do not make all the people toil up there, for they are few."

4 So about three thousand men from the people went up there, but [a]they fled [1]from the men of Ai.

5 The men of Ai struck down about thirty-six of their men, and pursued them [1]from the gate as far as Shebarim and struck them down on the descent, so the [a]hearts of the people melted and became as water.

6 Then Joshua [a]tore his clothes and fell to the earth on his face before the ark of the LORD until the evening, both he and the elders of Israel; and [b]they put dust on their heads.

7 Joshua said, "Alas, O Lord [1]GOD, why did You ever bring this people over the Jordan, only to deliver us into the hand of the Amorites, to destroy us? If only we had been willing [2]to dwell beyond the Jordan!

8 "O Lord, what can I say since Israel has turned their [1]back before their enemies?

6:25 she has lived in . . . Israel. The faith of Rahab is noted twice in the NT (Heb 11:31; James 2:25).

6:26 Cursed . . . is the man. Jericho itself was to be devoted to the Lord as a perpetual sign of God's judgment on the wicked Canaanites and as a first fruits offering of the land. This was a way of signifying that the conquered land belonged to the Lord. The curse was fulfilled in the rebellious days of King Ahab (1 Kin 16:34).

7:1–26 The tragic story of Achan, which stands in sharp contrast to the story of Rahab. In the earlier event a Canaanite prostitute, because of her courageous allegiance to Israel and her acknowledgment of the Lord, was spared and received into Israel. She abandoned Canaan and its gods on account of the Lord and Israel, and so received Canaan back. In the present event an Israelite (of the tribe of Judah, no less), because of his disloyalty to the Lord and Israel, is executed as the Canaanites were. He stole the riches of Canaan from the Lord, and so lost his inheritance in the promised land. This is also a story of how one man's sin adversely affected the entire nation. Throughout this account (as often in the OT) Israel is considered a corporate unity in covenant with and in the service of the Lord. Thus even in the acts of one (Achan) or a few (the 3,000 defeated at Ai) all Israel is involved (see vv. 1,11; 22:20).

7:2 from Jericho to Ai. An uphill march of some 15 miles through a ravine to the top of the central Palestinian ridge. Strategically, an advance from Gilgal to Ai would bring Israel beyond the Jordan Valley and provide them a foothold in the central highlands. Ai in Hebrew means "the ruin." It is usually identified with et-Tell (meaning "the ruin" in Arabic), just two miles east of Bethel, but some dispute this precise identification.

Beth-aven. Means "house of wickedness," a derogatory designation of either Bethel itself or a pagan shrine nearby (see 1 Sam 13:5; Hos 4:15; Amos 5:5). spy out the land. See note on 2:1–24.

7:5 Shebarim. Means "breaks," a fitting term for the rocky bluffs overlooking the Jordan Valley.

7:6 Joshua tore his clothes. A sign of great distress (see Gen 37:29,34; 44:13; Judg 11:35). Joshua's dismay (and that of the people), as indicated by his prayer, arose from his recognition that the Lord had not been with Israel's troops in the battle. And without the Lord the whole venture for which Israel had crossed the Jordan would be impossible. Moreover, the Canaanites would now judge that neither Israel nor her God was invincible. They would pour out of their fortified cities, combine forces and descend on Israel in the Jordan Valley, from which Israel could not escape across the flooding Jordan.

7:9 Your great name. Joshua pleads, as Moses had (Num

10 So the LORD said to Joshua, "Rise up! Why is it that you have fallen on your face?

11 "Israel has sinned, and [a]they have also transgressed My covenant which I commanded them. And they have even taken some of the things under the ban and have both stolen and deceived. Moreover, they have also put them among their own things.

12 "Therefore the [a]sons of Israel cannot stand before their enemies; they turn their [1]backs before their enemies, for they have become accursed. I will not be with you anymore unless you destroy the things under the ban from your midst.

13 "Rise up! [a]Consecrate the people and say, 'Consecrate yourselves for tomorrow, for thus the LORD, the God of Israel, has said, "[b]There are things under the ban in your midst, O Israel. You cannot stand before your enemies until you have removed the things under the ban from your midst."

14 'In the morning then you shall come near by your tribes. And it shall be that the tribe which [a]the LORD takes by lot shall come near by families, and the family which the LORD takes shall come near by households, and the household which the LORD takes shall come near man by man.

15 '[a]It shall be that the one who is taken with the things under the ban shall be burned with fire, he and all that belongs to him, because he has transgressed the covenant of the LORD, and because he [b]has committed a disgraceful thing in Israel.' "

The Sin of Achan

16 So Joshua arose early in the morning and brought Israel near by [1]tribes, and the tribe of Judah was taken.

17 He brought the family of Judah near, and he took the family of the Zerahites; and he brought the family of the Zerahites near man by man, and Zabdi was taken.

18 He brought his household near man by man; and [a]Achan, son of Carmi, son of Zabdi, son of Zerah, from the tribe of Judah, was taken.

19 Then Joshua said to Achan, "My son, I implore you, [a]give glory to the LORD, the God of Israel, and give praise to Him; and tell me now what you have done. Do not hide it from me."

20 So Achan answered Joshua and said, "Truly, I have sinned against the LORD, the God of Israel, and [1]this is what I did:

21 when I saw among the spoil a beautiful mantle from Shinar and two hundred shekels of silver and a bar of gold fifty shekels in weight, then I [a]coveted them and took them; and behold, they are concealed in the earth inside my tent with the silver underneath it."

22 So Joshua sent messengers, and they ran to the tent; and behold, it was concealed in his tent with the silver underneath it.

23 They took them from inside the tent and brought them to Joshua and to all the sons of Israel, and they poured them out before the LORD.

24 Then Joshua and all Israel with him, took Achan the son of Zerah, the silver, the mantle, the bar of gold, his sons, his daughters, his [1]oxen, his donkeys, his sheep, his tent and all that belonged to him; and they brought them up to [a]the valley of [2]Achor.

25 Joshua said, "Why have you [a]troubled us? The LORD will trouble you this day." And all Israel stoned [1]them with stones; and they burned them with fire [2]after they had stoned them with stones.

26 They raised over him a great heap of stones that stands to this day, and the LORD turned from the fierceness of His anger. Therefore the name of that place has been called [a]the valley of [1]Achor to this day.

7:11 Israel has sinned. One soldier's theft of the devoted goods brought collective guilt on the entire nation (see 22:20). transgressed My covenant. See v. 15. This is the main indictment; what follows is further specification.

7:12 become accursed. See note on 6:18.

7:13 Consecrate yourselves. A series of purifications to be undertaken by every Israelite in preparation for meeting with God, as before a solemn religious feast or a special assembly called by the Lord (see note on 3:5). Here God summons His people before Him for His judgment.

7:14 tribe which the LORD takes. When the lots are cast, one of the tribes is taken by the LORD so that the search is narrowed until the Lord exposes the guilty persons. The lots may have been the Urim and Thummim from the ephod of the high priest (see notes on Ex 28:30; 1 Sam 2:28; see also 1 Sam 14:41).

7:15 disgraceful thing in Israel. An act that within Israel, as the covenant people of the Lord, is an outrage of utter folly (see Deut 22:21; Judg 19:23–24; 20:6,10; 2 Sam 13:12).

7:19 My son. Joshua took a fatherly attitude toward Achan. give glory to the LORD. A solemn charge to tell the truth. give praise to Him. Or "confess to Him."

7:21 mantle from Shinar. A valuable import. two hundred shekels . . . fifty shekels. The silver would have weighed about five pounds, the gold about one and one-fourth pounds.

7:23 before the LORD. Who is here the Judge.

7:24 Joshua . . . all Israel. Joshua and all Israel were God's agents for executing His judgment on both the Canaanites and this violator of the covenant. all that belonged to him. As the head of (and example for) his family, Achan involved his whole household in his guilt and punishment. This is in accordance with the principle of corporate solidarity—the whole community is represented in one member (especially the head of that community).

7:25 stoned them. Because Achan had been found guilty of violating the covenant of the holy Lord (see Ex 19:13; Lev 24:23; Num 15:36). Afterward the bodies were burned to purge the land of the evil.

7:26 great heap of stones. A second monument in the land to the events of the conquest—alongside the memorial at Gilgal (4:20). Achor. Means "trouble." Achor was also another form of Achan's name (see 1 Chr 2:7, where Achan is called "Achar").

The Conquest of Ai

8 Now the LORD said to Joshua, "[a]Do not fear or be dismayed. Take all the people of war with you and arise, go up to Ai; see, [b]I have given into your hand the king of Ai, his people, his city, and his land.

2 "You shall do to Ai and its king just as you did to Jericho and its king; you shall [a]take only its spoil and its cattle as plunder for yourselves. [1]Set an ambush for the city behind it."

3 So Joshua rose with all the people of war to go up to Ai; and Joshua chose 30,000 men, valiant warriors, and sent them out at night.

4 He commanded them, saying, "See, you are [a]going to ambush the city from behind [1]it. Do not go very far from the city, but all of you be ready.

5 "Then I and all the people who are with me will approach the city. And when they come out to meet us as at the first, [a]we will flee before them.

6 "They will come out after us until we have drawn them away from the city, for they will say, 'They are fleeing before us as at the first.' So we will flee before them.

7 "And you shall rise from your ambush and take possession of the city, for the LORD your God will deliver it into your hand.

8 "Then it will be when you have seized the city, that you shall set the city on fire. You shall do it [a]according to the word of the LORD. See, I have commanded you."

9 So Joshua sent them away, and they went to the place of ambush and remained between Bethel and Ai, on the west side of Ai; but Joshua spent that night among the people.

10 Now Joshua [a]rose early in the morning and mustered the people, and he went up with the elders of Israel before the people to Ai.

11 Then all the people of war who were with him went up and drew near and arrived in front of the city, and camped on the north side of Ai. Now there was a valley between him and Ai.

12 And he took about 5,000 men and set them in ambush between [a]Bethel and Ai, on the west side of the [1]city.

13 So they stationed the people, all the army that was on the north side of the city, and its rear guard on the west side of the city, and Joshua spent that night in the midst of the valley.

14 It came about when the king of Ai saw it, that the men of the city hurried and rose up early and went out to meet Israel in battle, he and all his people at the appointed place before the desert plain. But he did not know that there was an ambush against him behind the city.

15 Joshua and all Israel pretended to be beaten before them, and fled [a]by the way of the wilderness.

16 And all the people who were in the city were called together to pursue them, and they pursued Joshua and [a]were drawn away from the city.

17 So not a man was left in Ai or Bethel who had not gone out after Israel, and they left the city [1]unguarded and pursued Israel.

18 Then the LORD said to Joshua, "[a]Stretch out the javelin that is in your hand toward Ai, for I will give it into your hand." So Joshua stretched out the javelin that was in his hand toward the city.

19 The men in ambush rose quickly from their place, and when he had stretched out his hand, they ran and entered the city and captured it, and they quickly set the city on fire.

20 When the men of Ai turned [1]back and looked, behold, the smoke of the city ascended to the sky, and they had no place to flee this way or that, for the people who had been fleeing to the wilderness turned against the pursuers.

21 When Joshua and all Israel saw that the men in ambush had captured the city and that the smoke of the city ascended, they turned back and [1]slew the men of Ai.

22 [1]The others came out from the city to encounter them, so that they were trapped in the midst of Israel, [2]some on this side and some on that side; and they [3]slew them until [a]no one was left [4]of those who survived or escaped.

23 But they took alive the king of Ai and brought him to Joshua.

24 Now when Israel had finished killing all the inhabitants of Ai in the field in the wilderness where they pursued them, and all of them were fallen by the edge of the sword until they were destroyed, then all Israel returned to Ai and struck it with the edge of the sword.

25 [a]All who fell that day, both men and women, were 12,000—all the [1]people of Ai.

26 For Joshua [a]did not withdraw his hand with which he stretched out the javelin until 8:1–29 Renewal of the conquest and the taking of Ai.

8:1 Do not fear. Now that Israel is purged, the Lord reassures Joshua once more (see 1:3–5; 3:11–13; 6:2–5).
8:2 you shall take . . . as plunder. The Lord now assigns the wealth of Canaan to His troops who fight His battles. Set an ambush. Still in command, the Lord directs the attack.
8:12 5,000. Verse 3 speaks of a contingent of 30,000 assigned to the ambush. Perhaps Joshua assigned two different units to the task to assure success. Or from the original 30,000 a unit of 5,000 may have been designated to attack Ai itself while the remaining 25,000 served as a covering force to block the threat from Bethel (see v. 17).
8:13 army . . . on the north side. In full visibility Joshua's main force moved north of the city, then pretended to flee to the east, drawing out the entire army of defenders.
8:17 Ai or Bethel. Their joint action indicates that the two cities were closely allied, though each is said to have had a king (12:9,16).

he had [1]utterly destroyed all the inhabitants of Ai.

27 [a]Israel took only the cattle and the spoil of that city as plunder for themselves, according to the word of the LORD which He had commanded Joshua.

28 So Joshua burned Ai and made it [a]a heap forever, a desolation until this day.

29 [a]He hanged the king of Ai on a tree until evening; and at sunset Joshua gave command and they took his body down from the tree and threw it at the entrance of the city gate, and raised over it a great heap of stones that stands to this day.

30 Then Joshua built an altar to the LORD, the God of Israel, in [a]Mount Ebal, 31 just as Moses the servant of the LORD had commanded the sons of Israel, as it is written in the book of the law of Moses, [a]an altar of uncut stones on which no man had wielded an iron tool; and they offered burnt offerings on it to the LORD, and sacrificed peace offerings.

32 He [a]wrote there on the stones a copy of the law of Moses, which [1]he had written, in the presence of the sons of Israel.

33 [a]All Israel with their elders and officers and their judges were standing on both sides of the ark before the Levitical priests who carried the ark of the covenant of the LORD, the stranger as well as the native. Half of them stood in front of [b]Mount Gerizim and half of them in front of Mount Ebal, just as Moses the servant of the LORD had given command at first to bless the people of Israel.

34 Then afterward he read all the words of the law, the blessing and the curse, according to all that is written in [a]the book of the law.

35 There was not a word of all that Moses had commanded which Joshua did not read before all the assembly of Israel [a]with the women and the little ones and the strangers who were [1]living among them.

8:29 hanged the king of Ai on a tree. The Israelites did not execute by hanging. "Tree" may refer to a pole on which the king's body was impaled after execution (see note on Deut 21:22). until evening. According to Mosaic instructions (see Deut 21:22–23). great heap of stones. A third monument in the land (see note on 7:26).

8:30–35 The renewal of the covenant with the Lord as Moses had ordered (Deut 11:26–30; 27:1–8) concludes the account of the initial battles (see Introduction: Outline). The conquest of Canaan has already been put into rich theological perspective. This final event (see also Joshua's final official act, ch. 24) underscores Israel's servant relationship to the Lord. In conquest and occupation she must faithfully acknowledge her one identity as the people of the kingdom of God, subject to His commission and rule (see note on 5:14).

How Israel could assemble peacefully between Mount Ebal and Mount Gerizim without further conquest is a worrisome question—and has led to some radical reconstructions of Israel's history. It must be noted, however, that Biblical narrators at times followed a thematic rather than a strictly chronological order of events. That may be the case here, since it is clear that the story of the Gibeonite deception and submission (ch. 9) is included in the thematic development of how Israel came into possession of the rest of Canaan (see the author's introduction in 9:1–2). The Shechemites (Shechem was a major city lying between the two mountains mentioned) were Hivites (or were under Hivite domination; see Gen 34:2) and thus were related to the people of the Gibeonite cities (9:7; 11:19). Also, there was no important town between Gibeon and Shechem (Bethel and Ai had been subdued). Perhaps the treaty of submission established between Israel and the Gibeonites (ch. 9) applied also to the Hivites of Shechem, and the covenant renewal ceremony that concludes ch. 8 (and the previous narrative section) actually took place chronologically after the events narrated in ch. 9. If this suggestion is correct, the Gibeonites or their representatives would have been among the "aliens" who participated with Israel in the covenant event (vv. 33,35).

8:30 Mount Ebal. At the foot of this peak was the fortress city of Shechem, where Abraham had built an altar (Gen 12:6–7).

8:31 burnt offerings. See Lev 1:1–17. peace offerings. See Lev 3:1–17; 7:11–18.

8:32 wrote . . . on the stones. Moses had ordered the people first to plaster the stones, then to inscribe on them the words of the law (Deut 27:2–4). These stones are the fourth monument in the land (see note on v. 29).

8:33 stranger as well as the native. Israel now included those who were part of the "mixed multitude" (Ex 12:38) who had come out of Egypt, plus others who had associated with them during the wilderness wanderings (see note on vv. 30–35).

8:34 the blessing and the curse. See Deut 27–28 and notes.

9:1–27 The account of how the Gibeonites deceived the leaders of the tribes and obtained a treaty of submission to Israel. It is the first of three sections telling how Israel came into possession of the bulk of the land. Verses 1–2 introduce the three units.

9:1 kings who were beyond the Jordan. Small, independent city-kingdoms were scattered over Canaan, inhabited by a variety of peoples who had come earlier from outside the land (compare vv. 1–2 with Gen 15:19).

9:3 Gibeon. A site just north of Jerusalem called el-Jib, showing the remains of a Late Bronze Age city with an excellent water supply. The Gibeonites were in league with a number of neighboring towns (v. 17) but seem to have been dominant in the confederation.

9:4 they also acted craftily. Motivated by their fear of Israel's envoys, and took worn-out sacks on their donkeys, and wineskins worn-out and torn and [2]mended,

5 and worn-out and patched sandals on their feet, and worn-out clothes on themselves; and all the bread of their provision was dry and had become crumbled.

6 They went to Joshua to the [a]camp at Gilgal and said to him and to the men of Israel, "We have come from a far country; now therefore, make a covenant with us."

7 The men of Israel said to the [a]Hivites, "Perhaps you are living [1]within our land; [b]how then shall we make a covenant with you?"

8 But they said to Joshua, "[a]We are your servants." Then Joshua said to them, "Who are you and where do you come from?"

9 They said to him, "Your servants have come from [a]a very far country because of the [1]fame of the LORD your God; for [b]we have heard the report of Him and all that He did in Egypt,

10 and all that He did to the two kings of the Amorites who were beyond the Jordan, to Sihon king of Heshbon and to Og king of Bashan who was at Ashtaroth.

11 "So our elders and all the inhabitants of our country spoke to us, saying, 'Take provisions in your hand for the journey, and go to meet them and say to them, "[a]We are your servants; now then, make a covenant with us." '

12 "This our bread was warm when we took it for our provisions out of our houses on the day that we left to come to you; but now behold, it is dry and has become crumbled.

13 "These wineskins which we filled were new, and behold, they are torn; and these our clothes and our sandals are worn out because of the very long journey."

14 So the men of Israel took some of their provisions, and [a]did not ask for the [1]counsel of the LORD.

15 [a]Joshua made peace with them and made a covenant with them, to let them live; and the leaders of the congregation swore an oath to them.

16 It came about at the end of three days after they had made a covenant with them, that they heard that they were neighbors and that they were living [1]within their land.

17 Then the sons of Israel set out and came to their cities on the third day. Now their cities were [a]Gibeon and Chephirah and Beeroth and Kiriath-jearim.

18 The sons of Israel did not strike them because the leaders of the congregation had sworn to them by the LORD the God of Israel. And the whole congregation grumbled against the leaders.

19 But all the leaders said to the whole congregation, "We have sworn to them by the LORD, the God of Israel, and now we cannot touch them.

20 "This we will do to them, even let them live, so that wrath will not be upon us for the oath which we swore to them."

21 The leaders said to them, "Let them live." So they became [a]hewers of wood and drawers of water for the whole congregation, just as the leaders had spoken to them.

22 Then Joshua called for them and spoke to them, saying, "Why have you deceived us, saying, 'We are very far from you,' [a]when you are living [1]within our land?

23 "Now therefore, you are [a]cursed, and [1]you shall never cease being slaves, both hewers of wood and drawers of water for the house of my God."

24 So they answered Joshua and said, "[a]Because it was certainly told your servants that the LORD your God had commanded His servant Moses to give you all the land, and to destroy all the inhabitants of the land before you; therefore we feared greatly for our lives because of you, and have done this thing.

25 "Now behold, [a]we are in your hands; do as it seems good and right in your sight to do to us."

26 Thus he did to them, and delivered

God, the Gibeonites used pretense to trick Joshua into a treaty that would allow them to live.

9:6 make a covenant with us. In this request they were offering to submit themselves by treaty to be subjects of the Israelites (see v. 11, where they call themselves "your servants"—unmistakable language in the international diplomacy of that day). They chose submission rather than certain death (v. 24).

9:7 Hivites. Possibly Horites, an ethnic group living in Canaan related to the Hurrians of northern Mesopotamia (11:19; Gen 10:17; Ex 23:23; Jdg 3:3).

9:9 heard the report of Him. The same reports that had been heard in Jericho (see 2:10).

9:14 did not ask . . . the LORD. Did not consult their King, whose mission they were on.

9:15 made peace . . . a covenant. A covenant to let them live was sworn by the heads of the tribes—i.e., an oath was taken in the holy name of God. All such oaths were binding in Israel (see Ex 20:7; Lev 19:12; 1 Sam 14:24).

9:18 the whole congregation grumbled. Perhaps the people feared the consequences of not following through on the earlier divine order to destroy all the Canaanites, but more likely they grumbled because they could not take over the Gibeonite cities and possessions.

9:21 hewers of wood and drawers of water. A conventional phrase for household servants.

9:23 cursed. Noah's prediction that Canaan would someday "be the servant of Shem" (Gen 9:25–26) has part of its fulfillment in this event. for the house of my God. Probably specifies how the Gibeonites were to serve "the whole congregation" (v. 21). Worship at the tabernacle (and later at the temple) required much wood and water (for sacrifices and washing) and consequently a great deal of menial labor. From now on, that labor was to be supplied by the Gibeonites, perhaps on a rotating basis. In this way they entered the Lord's service. When Solomon became king, the tabernacle and altar were at Gibeon (2 Chr 1:3,5).

them from the hands of the sons of Israel, and they did not kill them.

27 But Joshua made them that day hewers of wood and drawers of water for the congregation and for the altar of the LORD, to this day, [a]in the place which He would choose.

Five Kings Attack Gibeon

10 Now it came about when Adoni-zedek king of Jerusalem heard that Joshua had captured Ai, and had [1]utterly destroyed it (just [a]as he had done to Jericho and its king, so he had done to Ai and its king), and that the inhabitants of Gibeon had [b]made peace with Israel and were [2]within their land,

2 that [1]he [a]feared greatly, because Gibeon was a great city, like one of the royal cities, and because it was greater than Ai, and all its men were mighty.

3 Therefore Adoni-zedek king of Jerusalem sent word [a]to Hoham king of Hebron and to Piram king of Jarmuth and to Japhia king of Lachish and to Debir king of Eglon, saying,

4 "Come up to me and help me, and let us [1]attack Gibeon, for it has [a]made peace with Joshua and with the sons of Israel."

5 So the five kings of [a]the Amorites, the king of Jerusalem, the king of Hebron, the king of Jarmuth, the king of Lachish, and the king of Eglon, gathered together and went up, they with all their armies, and camped by Gibeon and fought against it.

6 Then the men of Gibeon sent word to Joshua to the camp at Gilgal, saying, "Do not [1]abandon your servants; come up to us quickly and save us and help us, for all the kings of the Amorites that live in the hill country have assembled against us."

7 So Joshua went up from Gilgal, he and [a]all the people of war with him and all the valiant warriors.

8 The LORD said to Joshua, "[a]Do not fear them, for I have given them into your hands; not [1]one of them shall stand before you."

9 So Joshua came upon them suddenly [1]by marching all night from Gilgal.

10 [a]And the LORD confounded them before Israel, and He [1]slew them with a great slaughter at Gibeon, and pursued them by the way of the ascent of Beth-horon and struck them as far as Azekah and Makkedah.

11 As they fled from before Israel, while they were at the descent of Beth-horon, [a]the LORD threw large stones from heaven on them as far as Azekah, and they died; there were more who died [1]from the hailstones than those whom the sons of Israel killed with the sword.

12 Then Joshua spoke to the LORD in the day when the LORD delivered up the Amorites before the sons of Israel, and he said in the sight of Israel,

"O [a]sun, stand still at Gibeon,
And O moon in the valley of Aijalon."

13 [a]So the sun stood still, and the moon stopped,
Until the nation avenged themselves of their enemies.

Is it not written in [b]the book of Jashar? And [c]the sun stopped in the middle of the sky and did not hasten to go down for about a whole day.

14 There was no day like that before it or after it, when the LORD listened to the voice of a man; for [a]the LORD fought for Israel.

15 Then Joshua and all Israel with him returned to the camp to Gilgal.

9:27 the place which He would choose. Joshua moved the tabernacle (and its altar) to Shiloh, and there it would reside at least until the days of Samuel (1 Sam 4:3). Later, the Lord chose Jerusalem (1 Kin 9:3).

10:1–43 The army under Joshua comes to the defense of Gibeon and defeats the coalition of southern kings at Aijalon, then subdues all the southern cities of Judah and the Negev.

10:1 Adoni-zedek. Means "lord of righteousness" or "My (divine) lord is righteous." An earlier king of Jerusalem had a similar name (Melchizedek; see Gen 14:18 and note). Jerusalem. City of the Jebusites.

10:2 great city. Gibeon was not only larger in size than Bethel or Ai, but also closer to Jerusalem. With Bethel and Ai conquered and the Gibeonite league in submission, the Israelites were well established in the central highlands, virtually cutting the land in two. Naturally the king of Jerusalem felt threatened, and he wanted to reunite all the Canaanites against Israel. Perhaps he also held (or claimed) some political dominion over the Gibeonite cities and viewed their submission to Israel as rebellion. mighty. Men famous for their courage in battle, yet wise enough to have made peace with the Israelites.

10:5 five kings of the Amorites. Rulers over five of the major cities in the southern mountains. The Amorites of the hills are here distinguished from the Canaanites along the coast.

10:6 come . . . and save us. An urgent appeal for deliverance to a man whose name means "The LORD saves." A treaty such as Joshua had made with the Gibeonites usually obliged the ruling nation to come to the aid of the subject peoples if they were attacked.

10:9 marching all night. Gilgal was about 20 miles east of Gibeon, a steep uphill climb for Joshua's men. suddenly. Joshua attacked early in the morning, perhaps while the moon was still up (v. 12).

10:10 confounded. The Hebrew for this word implies terror or panic.

10:11 descent of Beth-horon. A long descent to the plain of Aijalon below, following the main east-west crossroad just north of Jerusalem. large stones from heaven. For the Lord's use of the elements of nature as His armaments see Judg 5:20; 1 Sam 7:10; Job 38:22.

10:13 book of Jashar. An early account of Israel's wars (perhaps all in poetic form; see 2 Sam 1:18; see also note on Judg 5:1–31), but never a part of canonical Scripture. did not . . . go down. Some believe that God extended the hours of daylight for the Israelites to defeat their enemies. Others suggest that the sun remained cool (perhaps as the result of an overcast sky) for an entire day, allowing the fighting to continue through the afternoon. The fact is we do not know what happened, except that it involved divine intervention.

Victory at Makkedah

16 Now these [a]five kings had fled and hidden themselves in the cave at Makkedah.

17 It was told Joshua, saying, "The five kings have been found hidden in the cave at Makkedah."

18 Joshua said, "Roll large stones against the mouth of the cave, and assign men by it to guard them,

19 but do not stay there yourselves; pursue your enemies and [1]attack them in the rear. Do not allow them to enter their cities, for the LORD your God has delivered them into your hand."

20 It came about when Joshua and the sons of Israel had finished [1]slaying them with a very great slaughter, [a]until they were destroyed, and the survivors who remained of them [2]had entered the fortified cities, 21 that all the people returned to the camp to Joshua at Makkedah in peace. No one [1]uttered a word against any of the sons of Israel.

22 Then Joshua said, "Open the mouth of the cave and bring these five kings out to me from the cave."

23 They did so, and [a]brought these five kings out to him from the cave: the king of Jerusalem, the king of Hebron, the king of Jarmuth, the king of Lachish, and the king of Eglon.

24 When they brought these kings out to Joshua, Joshua called for all the men of Israel, and said to the chiefs of the men of war who had gone with him, "Come near, [a]put your feet on the necks of these kings." So they came near and put their feet on their necks.

25 Joshua then said to them, "[a]Do not fear or be dismayed! Be strong and courageous, for thus the LORD will do to all your enemies with whom you fight."

26 So afterward Joshua struck them and put them to death, and he [a]hanged them on five trees; and they hung on the trees until evening.

27 It came about at [1]sunset that Joshua gave a command, and [a]they took them down from the trees and threw them into the cave where they had hidden themselves, and put large stones over the mouth of the cave, to this very day.

Joshua's Conquest of Southern Palestine

29 Then Joshua and all Israel with him passed on from Makkedah to [a]Libnah, and fought against Libnah.

30 The LORD gave it also with its king into the hands of Israel, and he struck it and every person who was in it with the edge of the sword. He left no survivor in it. Thus he did to its king just as he had done to the king of Jericho.

31 And Joshua and all Israel with him passed on from Libnah to Lachish, and they camped by it and fought against it.

32 The LORD gave Lachish into the hands of Israel; and he captured it on the second day, and struck it and every person who was in it with the edge of the sword, according to all that he had done to Libnah.

33 Then Horam king of [a]Gezer came up to help Lachish, and Joshua [1]defeated him and his people until he had left him no survivor.

10:16 Makkedah. A town near Azekah (v. 10) in the western foothills where Joshua's troops made their camp.

10:19 pursue your enemies. Most of the fighting men defending the southern cities were caught and killed before they could reach the safety of their fortresses.

10:21 No one uttered a word. The thought here appears to be that no one dared even to raise his voice against the Israelites anymore.

10:24 put your feet on the necks. Public humiliation of defeated enemy chieftains was the usual climax of warfare in the ancient Near East.

10:26 hanged them on five trees. See note on Deut 21:22.

10:27 put large stones. A fifth monument in the land to the events of the conquest (see note on 8:32).

10:28 destroyed . . . every person. The holy ban was placed on the people of Makkedah, meaning they were "devoted to death" for their wicked deeds (see notes on Num 21:2; Deut 2:34). The same fate came to the other major cities of the south (vv. 29–42).

10:33 Horam king of Gezer. An important detail: the defeat of the king of the most powerful city in the area. Gezer was eventually taken over by the Egyptians and given to King Solomon as a wedding gift (see 1 Kin 9:16).

10:38 Debir. In the past, Debir (also known as Kiriath-sepher, 15:15) was identified with Tell Beit Mirsim. More recently, however, it has been equated with Khirbet Rabud, about five miles southwest of Hebron.

he had done to Hebron, so he did to Debir and its king, as he had also done to Libnah and its king.

40 Thus Joshua struck all the land, [a]the hill country and the [1]Negev and the lowland and the slopes and [b]all their kings. He left no survivor, but [c]he [2]utterly destroyed all who breathed, just as the LORD, the God of Israel, had commanded.

41 Joshua struck them from Kadesh-barnea even as far as Gaza, and all the country of [a]Goshen even as far as Gibeon.

42 Joshua captured all these kings and their lands at one time, because [a]the LORD, the God of Israel, fought for Israel.

43 So Joshua and all Israel with him returned to the camp at Gilgal.

Northern Palestine Taken

11 Then it came about, when Jabin king of [a]Hazor heard of it, that he sent to Jobab king of Madon and to the king of Shimron and to the king of Achshaph,

2 and to the kings who were of the north in the hill country, and in the [a]Arabah—south of [1]Chinneroth and in the lowland and on the [2]heights of Dor on the west—

3 to the Canaanite on the east and on the west, and the Amorite and the Hittite and the Perizzite and the Jebusite in the hill country, and [a]the Hivite [1]at the foot of [b]Hermon in the land of [c]Mizpeh.

4 They came out, they and all their armies with them, [a]as many people as the sand that is on the seashore, with very many horses and chariots.

5 So all of these kings having agreed to meet, came and encamped together at the waters of Merom, to fight against Israel.

6 Then the LORD said to Joshua, "[a]Do not be afraid because of them, for tomorrow at this time I will deliver all of them slain before Israel; you shall [b]hamstring their horses and burn their chariots with fire."

7 So Joshua and all the people of war with him came upon them suddenly by the waters of Merom, and attacked them.

8 The LORD delivered them into the hand of Israel, so that they [1]defeated them, and pursued them as far as Great Sidon and [a]Misrephoth-maim and the valley of [b]Mizpeh to the east; and they struck them until no survivor was left to them.

9 Joshua did to them as the LORD had told him; he [a]hamstrung their horses and burned their chariots with fire.

10 Then Joshua turned back at that time, and captured [a]Hazor and struck its king with the sword; for Hazor formerly was the head of all these kingdoms.

11 [a]They struck every person who was in it with the edge of the sword, [1]utterly destroying them; there was no one left who breathed. And he burned Hazor with fire.

12 Joshua captured all the cities of these kings, and all their kings, and he struck them with the edge of the sword, and utterly destroyed them; just [a]as Moses the servant of the LORD had commanded.

13 However, Israel did not burn any cities that stood on their mounds, except Hazor alone, which Joshua burned.

14 [a]All the spoil of these cities and the cattle, the sons of Israel took as their plunder; but they struck every man with the edge of the sword, until they had destroyed them. They left no one who breathed.

15 Just as the LORD had commanded Moses his servant, so Moses commanded Joshua, and so Joshua did; he left nothing undone of all that the LORD had commanded Moses.

10:41 Kadesh-barnea . . . Gaza. The south-to-north limits in the western part of the region. Goshen. A seldom-used name for the eastern Negev, not to be confused with the Goshen in the delta of Egypt; it is also the name of a town (15:51). Goshen and Gibeon mark the south-to-north limits in the eastern part of the region.

11:1–23 Only the northern cities remained to be conquered. The major battle for the hills of Galilee is fought and won against Hazor and the coalition of other northern city-states. A summary follows of all Joshua's victories in the southern and central regions as well.

11:1 Jabin king of Hazor. Jabin is perhaps a dynastic name, used again in the days of Deborah (Judg 4:2). The archaeological excavation of Hazor shows that it was the largest and best fortified of all the Canaanite cities. Its lower city measured 175 acres.

11:2 Chinneroth. Means "harp"; the Sea of Galilee.

11:4 as many . . . as the sand . . . on the seashore. A widely used figure of speech for indicating large numbers (see note on Gen 22:17).

11:5 all of these kings. Jabin's muster extended as far as the Arabah (v. 2) in the Jordan Valley and as far as Dor on the Mediterranean, south of Mount Carmel. Merom. Probably modern Meirun, just northwest of Safed near the source of the Wadi Ammud (Marun)—some eight miles northwest of the Sea of Galilee.

11:6 hamstring their horses. Done by cutting the tendon above the hock or ankle, crippling the horse so that it cannot walk again. burn their chariots. These advanced implements of war were not used by the armies of Israel until the time of Solomon (see 1 Kin 9:22; 10:26–29).

11:10 Joshua . . . captured Hazor. Perhaps his greatest victory. Hazor's armed forces, however, had been defeated earlier at Merom. The archaeological site reveals extensive damage and the burning of the Canaanite city c. 1400 B.C., c. 1300 and again c. 1230. Since the destruction level at c. 1300 probably indicates the burning of the city by Pharaoh Seti I, this leaves the destruction levels at c. 1400 and c. 1230 for Joshua's conquest. Those who hold to the late date of the conquest opt for the 1230 level; those who hold to the early date opt for 1400 (see Introduction: Historical Setting). Once again the ban of total destruction was applied (v. 11).

11:13 mounds. The Hebrew word is tel (Arabic tell), a hill formed by the accumulated debris of many ancient settlements one above the other (see note on 7:2).

11:15 he left nothing undone. Joshua's success should be measured in the light of the specific orders given by God, which he carried out fully, rather than by the total area that

16 Thus Joshua took all that land: [a]the hill country and all the [1]Negev, all that land of Goshen, the lowland, [b]the Arabah, the hill country of Israel and its lowland

17 from [a]Mount Halak, that rises toward Seir, even as far as Baal-gad in the valley of Lebanon [1]at the foot of Mount Hermon. And he captured [b]all their kings and struck them down and put them to death.

18 Joshua waged war a long time with all these kings.

19 There was not a city which made peace with the sons of Israel except [a]the Hivites living in Gibeon; they took them all in battle.

20 [a]For it was of the LORD to [1]harden their hearts, to meet Israel in battle in order that he might [b]utterly destroy them, that they might [2]receive no mercy, but that he might destroy them, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

21 Then Joshua came at that time and cut off [a]the Anakim from the hill country, from Hebron, from Debir, from Anab and from all the hill country of Judah and from all the hill country of Israel. Joshua utterly destroyed them with their cities.

22 There were no Anakim left in the land of the sons of Israel; only in Gaza, in [a]Gath, and in [b]Ashdod some remained.

23 So Joshua took the whole land, according to all that the LORD had spoken to Moses, and [a]Joshua gave it for an inheritance to Israel according to their divisions by their tribes. [b]Thus the land had rest from war.

Kings Defeated by Israel

12 Now these are the [a]kings of the land whom the sons of Israel [1]defeated, and whose land they possessed beyond the Jordan toward the sunrise, from the valley of the Arnon as far as Mount Hermon, and all the Arabah to the east:

2 Sihon king of the Amorites, who lived in Heshbon, and ruled [a]from Aroer, which is on the edge of the valley of the Arnon, both the middle of the valley and half of Gilead, even as far as the brook Jabbok, the border of the sons of Ammon;

3 and the [a]Arabah as far as the Sea of [1]Chinneroth toward the east, and as far as the sea of the Arabah, even the Salt Sea, eastward [2]toward [b]Beth-jeshimoth, and on the south, [3]at the foot of the slopes of Pisgah;

4 and the territory of Og king of Bashan, one of [a]the remnant of Rephaim, who lived at [b]Ashtaroth and at Edrei,

5 and ruled over Mount Hermon and [a]Salecah and all Bashan, as far as [b]the border of the Geshurites and the Maacathites, and half of Gilead, as far as the border of Sihon king of Heshbon.

6 Moses the servant of the LORD and the sons of Israel [1]defeated them; and [a]Moses the servant of the LORD gave it to the Reubenites and the Gadites and the half-tribe of Manasseh as a possession.

7 Now these are the kings of the land whom Joshua and the sons of Israel [1]defeated beyond the Jordan toward the west, from Baal-gad in the valley of Lebanon even as far as [a]Mount Halak, which rises toward Seir; and Joshua gave it to the tribes of Israel as a possession according to their divisions, 11:18 a long time. An estimation of the duration of Joshua's conquests can be made from the life-span of Caleb: Seven years had elapsed from the beginning of the conquest (age 78; compare 14:7 with Deut 2:14) until he took Hebron (age 85; see 14:10).

They were related to the Nephilim (see note on Gen 6:4) and were named after their forefather, Anak. Joshua shared with Caleb his victory over the Anakites (14:12–15).

Canaan Divided among the Tribes

13 Now [a]Joshua was old and advanced in years when the LORD said to him, "You are old and advanced in years, and very much of the land remains to be possessed.
2 "This is the land that remains: all the regions of the Philistines and all those of the [a]Geshurites;
3 from the Shihor which is [1]east of Egypt, even as far as the border of Ekron to the north (it is counted as Canaanite); the [a]five lords of the Philistines: the Gazite, the Ashdodite, the Ashkelonite, the Gittite, the Ekronite; and the Avvite
4 [1]to the south, all the land of the Canaanite, and Mearah that belongs to the Sidonians, as far as [a]Aphek, to the border of the [b]Amorite;
5 and the land of the [a]Gebalite, and all of Lebanon, toward the [1]east, [b]from Baal-gad below Mount Hermon as far as [2]Lebo-hamath.
6 "All the inhabitants of the hill country from Lebanon as far as [a]Misrephoth-maim, all the Sidonians, I will [1]drive them out from before the sons of Israel; [b]only allot it to Israel for an inheritance as I have commanded you.
7 "Now therefore, apportion this land for an inheritance to the nine tribes and the half-tribe of Manasseh."

8 With [1]the other half-tribe, the Reubenites and the Gadites received their inheritance which Moses gave them [a]beyond the Jordan to the east, just as Moses the servant of the LORD gave to them;
9 from Aroer, which is on the edge of the valley of the Arnon, with the city which is in the middle of the valley, and all the plain of Medeba, as far as Dibon;
10 and all the cities of Sihon king of the Amorites, who reigned in Heshbon, as far as the border of the sons of Ammon;
11 and [a]Gilead, and the [1]territory of the Geshurites and Maacathites, and all Mount Hermon, and all Bashan as far as Salecah;
12 all the kingdom of [a]Og in Bashan, who reigned in Ashtaroth and in Edrei (he alone was left of the remnant of the Rephaim); for Moses [b]struck them and dispossessed them.
13 But the sons of Israel did not dispossess the Geshurites or the Maacathites; for Geshur and Maacath live among Israel until this day.
14 [a]Only to the tribe of Levi he did not give an inheritance; the offerings by fire to the LORD, the God of Israel, are [1]their inheritance, as He spoke to him.
15 So Moses gave an inheritance to the tribe of the sons of Reuben according to their families.
16 Their [1]territory was [a]from Aroer, which is on the edge of the valley of the Arnon, with the city which is in the middle of the valley and all the plain by Medeba;
17 Heshbon, and all its cities which are on the plain: Dibon and Bamoth-baal and Beth-baal-meon,
18 and [a]Jahaz and Kedemoth and Mephaath,
19 and [a]Kiriathaim and Sibmah and Zereth-shahar on the hill of the valley,
20 and Beth-peor and the slopes of Pisgah and Beth-jeshimoth,
21 even all the cities of the plain and all the kingdom of Sihon king of the Amorites who reigned in Heshbon, whom Moses struck with the chiefs of Midian, [a]Evi and Rekem and Zur and Hur and Reba, the princes of Sihon, who lived in the land.
22 The sons of Israel also killed [a]Balaam

13:1–32 The heavenly King, who has conquered the land, begins the administration of His realm by assigning specific territories to the several tribes. Much of chs. 13–21 reads like administrative documents. The account begins by noting the land still to be subdued (but to be allotted) and by recalling the assignments already made by Moses to the two and a half tribes east of the Jordan (see map No. 4 at the end of the study Bible).
13:1 Joshua was old. Between 90 and 100 years of age; Caleb was 85 (14:10).
13:3 Shihor. Another name for the Wadi el-Arish below Gaza at the eastern entrance to the Sinai. lords. The Hebrew for this word is probably derived from a Greek term for "tyrant," indicating the Aegean background of the Philistines. See map, p. 312.
13:5 Gebalite. Inhabitants of the ancient city of Byblos just north of modern Beirut. The Phoenicians and the Philistines held most of the territory still to be occupied by Israel.
13:9 Aroer. This town on the Arnon River marked the southern boundary of Israel. From here the land extended through Gilead and Bashan to the slopes of Mount Hermon in the north, the territory once dominated by the two kings of the Amorites, Sihon and Og.
13:14 the offerings . . . are their inheritance. See Deut 18:1–8 and note on Deut 18:1.
13:15 Moses gave . . . to . . . Reuben. The land east of the Jordan between the Arnon River (boundary of Moab) and Heshbon (the old royal city of Sihon).
13:22 Balaam the son of Beor. The one who supposedly had influence with the gods (Num 22–24) was slain when the Lord the son of Beor, the diviner, with the sword among the rest of their slain.

23 The border of the sons of Reuben was the [1]Jordan. This was the inheritance of the sons of Reuben according to their families, the cities and their villages.

24 Moses also gave an inheritance to the tribe of Gad, to the sons of Gad, according to their families.

25 Their territory was [a]Jazer, and all the cities of Gilead, and half the land of the sons of Ammon, as far as Aroer which is before Rabbah;

26 and from Heshbon as far as Ramath-mizpeh and Betonim, and from Mahanaim as far as the border of [1]Debir;

27 and in the valley, Beth-haram and Beth-nimrah and Succoth and Zaphon, the rest of the kingdom of Sihon king of Heshbon, with the Jordan [1]as a border, as far as the lower end of the Sea of [2a]Chinnereth beyond the Jordan to the east.

28 This is the inheritance of the sons of Gad according to their families, the cities and their villages.

29 Moses also gave an inheritance to the half-tribe of Manasseh; and it was for the half-tribe of the sons of Manasseh according to their families.

30 Their territory was from Mahanaim, all Bashan, all the kingdom of Og king of Bashan, and all [a]the [1]towns of Jair, which are in Bashan, sixty cities;

31 also half of Gilead, with [a]Ashtaroth and Edrei, the cities of the kingdom of Og in Bashan, were for the sons of Machir the son of Manasseh, for half of the sons of Machir according to their families.

punished the Midianites for trying to seduce Israel into idolatry and sexual immorality (see Num 25; 31:8).

13:24 Moses . . . to the tribe of Gad. The central area, beginning near Heshbon on the south and reaching, along the Jordan, to the southern end of the Sea of Galilee. It included most of Gilead, but the exact boundary between Gad and the half-tribe of Manasseh remains somewhat uncertain since not all the places named can now be located.

13:29 Moses . . . to the half-tribe of Manasseh. The lands east and north of the Sea of Galilee, but also including the upper part of Gilead. Makir led in the occupation of these lands (see Num 32:32,39–42).

32 These are the territories which Moses apportioned for an inheritance in the plains of Moab, beyond the Jordan at Jericho to the east.

33 But [a]to the tribe of Levi, Moses did not give an inheritance; the LORD, the God of Israel, is their inheritance, as He had [1]promised to them.

Caleb's Request

14 Now these are the territories which the sons of Israel inherited in the land of Canaan, which [a]Eleazar the priest, and Joshua the son of Nun, and the heads of the [1]households of the tribes of the sons of Israel apportioned to them for an inheritance,

2 by the [a]lot of their inheritance, as the LORD commanded [1]through Moses, for the nine tribes and the half-tribe.

3 For [a]Moses had given the inheritance of the two tribes and the half-tribe beyond the Jordan; but [b]he did not give an inheritance to the Levites among them.

4 For the sons of Joseph were two tribes, [a]Manasseh and Ephraim, and they did not give a portion to the Levites in the land, except cities to live in, with their pasture lands for their livestock and for their property.

5 Thus the sons of Israel did just [a]as the LORD had commanded Moses, and they divided the land.

6 Then the sons of Judah drew near to Joshua in Gilgal, and [a]Caleb the son of Jephunneh the Kenizzite said to him, "You know the word which the LORD spoke to 13:33 the LORD . . . is their inheritance. See v.14; see also Deut 18:1–8 and note on Deut 18:1.

14:1–15 A short introductory chapter for the following section (chs. 15–19), with a special note on the Lord's faithfulness to Caleb.

14:1 Eleazar the priest. Son of Aaron, Eleazar as high priest was the highest official over the casting of the lots. The Urim and Thummim (see notes on Ex 28:30; 1 Sam 2:28) may have been used.

14:4 Manasseh and Ephraim. Sons of Joseph. Since Jacob had adopted them as his own sons (Gen 48:5), they constituted two separate tribes. This made possible the 12-part nation, with the Levites serving as a nonpolitical tribe.

14:6 the word . . . the LORD spoke. Caleb now recalls the prom-

Moses the man of God concerning [1]you and me in Kadesh-barnea.

7 "I was forty years old when [a]Moses the servant of the LORD sent me from Kadesh-barnea to spy out the land, and I brought word back to him as it was in my heart.

8 "Nevertheless my brethren who went up with me made the heart of the people [1]melt with fear; but [a]I followed the LORD my God fully.

9 "So Moses swore on that day, saying, 'Surely [a]the land on which your foot has trodden will be an inheritance to you and to your children forever, because you have followed the LORD my God fully.'

10 "Now behold, the LORD has let me live, just as He spoke, these forty-five years, from the time that the LORD spoke this word to Moses, when Israel walked in the wilderness; and now behold, I am eighty-five years old today.

11 "[a]I am still as strong today as I was in the day Moses sent me; as my strength was then, so my strength is now, for war and for [b]going out and coming in.

12 "Now then, give me this hill country about which the LORD spoke on that day, for you heard on that day that [a]Anakim were there, with great fortified cities; perhaps the LORD will be with me, and I will [1]drive them out as the LORD has spoken."

13 So Joshua [a]blessed him and [b]gave Hebron to Caleb the son of Jephunneh for an inheritance.

14 Therefore, Hebron became the inheritance of Caleb the son of Jephunneh the Kenizzite until this day, because he followed the LORD God of Israel fully.

15 Now the name of Hebron was formerly [1]Kiriath-arba; for Arba was the greatest man among the Anakim. [a]Then the land had rest from war.

Territory of Judah

15 Now [a]the lot for the tribe of the sons of Judah according to their families [1]reached the [b]border of Edom, southward to the [c]wilderness of Zin at the extreme south.

2 Their south border was from the lower end of the Salt Sea, from the bay that turns to the south.

3 Then it proceeded southward to the ascent of Akrabbim and continued to Zin, then went up by the south of Kadesh-barnea and continued to Hezron, and went up to Addar and turned about to Karka.

4 It [a]continued to Azmon and proceeded to the [1][b]brook of Egypt, and the [2]border ended at the sea. This shall be your south border.

5 The [a]east border was the Salt Sea, as far as the [1]mouth of the Jordan. And the [b]border of the north side was from the bay of the sea at the [1]mouth of the Jordan.

6 Then the border went up to Beth-hoglah, and continued on the north of Beth-arabah, and the border went up to the stone of Bohan the son of Reuben.

7 The border went up to Debir from [a]the valley of Achor, and turned northward toward Gilgal which is opposite the ascent of Adummim, which is on the south of the valley; and the border continued to the waters of En-shemesh and [1]it ended at En-rogel.

8 Then the border went up the valley of Ben-hinnom to the slope of the [a]Jebusite on the south (that is, Jerusalem); and the border went up to the top of the mountain which is before the valley of Hinnom to the west, which is at the end of the valley of Rephaim toward the north.

9 From the top of the mountain the border curved to the spring of the waters of Nephtoah and proceeded to the cities of Mount Ephron, then the border curved to [a]Baalah (that is, [b]Kiriath-jearim).

10 The border turned about from Baalah westward to Mount Seir, and continued to the slope of Mount Jearim on the north (that is, Chesalon), and went down to Beth-shemesh and continued through [a]Timnah.

11 The border proceeded to the side of Ekron northward. Then the border curved to Shikkeron and continued to Mount Baalah and proceeded to Jabneel, and the [1]border ended at the sea.

12 The west border was [a]at the Great Sea, even its [1]coastline. This is the border around the sons of Judah according to their families.

ise from the Lord 38 years earlier at Kadesh-barnea when he brought back a good report of the land (Num 13:30; 14:6–9; Deut 1:34–36).

14:12 this hill country. Hebron is situated high in the Judahite hill country, about 25 miles south of Jerusalem. Anakim. See note on 11:21.

14:15 Kiriath-arba. Means "the town of Arba" and was named for Arba, the father of the Anakites (15:13; 21:11). It can also mean "the town of four." Hebron means "union." Then the land had rest from war. Since the Judahites and Caleb approached Joshua concerning their territory while he was still headquartered at Gilgal, it may be that they did so shortly before the wars fought under Joshua were ended (see 11:23).

15:1–63 Judah is the first of the west bank tribes to have its territory delineated. First the outer limits are listed, then the area apportioned to Caleb and Othniel; finally the Canaanite cities allotted to the clans of Judah are named region by region.

15:1 tribe of . . . Judah. Judah's priority is anchored in the oracle of Jacob (Gen 49:8–12) and upheld in the history of the nation (2 Kin 17:18).

15:4 south border. The points listed formed a curved line beginning at the lower tip of the Dead Sea and moving under Kadesh-barnea to join the Mediterranean coast at the mouth of the Wadi el-Arish (see note on 13:3).

15:5 border of the north. Judah's border with Benjamin ran in a westerly line from the mouth of the Jordan through the Hinnom Valley, just south of Jerusalem, over to Timnah, then northwest to the coastal city of Jabneel (later called Jamnia), about ten miles south of Joppa.

13 Now [a]he gave to Caleb the son of Jephunneh a portion [b]among the sons of Judah, according to the [1]command of the LORD to Joshua, namely, [2]Kiriath-arba, Arba being the father of Anak (that is, Hebron).

14 [a]Caleb [1]drove out from there the three [b]sons of Anak: Sheshai and Ahiman and Talmai, the children of Anak.

15 Then [a]he went up from there against the inhabitants of Debir; now the name of Debir formerly was Kiriath-sepher.

16 And Caleb said, "The one who [1]attacks Kiriath-sepher and captures it, [2]I will give him Achsah my daughter as a wife."

17 [a]Othniel the son of Kenaz, the brother of Caleb, captured it; so he gave him Achsah his daughter as a wife.

18 [a]It came about that when she came to him, she persuaded him to ask her father for a field. So she alighted from the donkey, and Caleb said to her, "What do you want?"

19 Then she said, "Give me a blessing; since you have given me the land of the [1]Negev, give me also springs of water." So he gave her the upper springs and the lower springs.

20 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the sons of Judah according to their families.

21 Now the cities at the extremity of the tribe of the sons of Judah toward the border of Edom in the south were Kabzeel and [a]Eder and Jagur,

22 and Kinah and Dimonah and Adadah,

23 and Kedesh and Hazor and Ithnan,

24 Ziph and Telem and Bealoth,

25 and Hazor-hadattah and Kerioth-hezron (that is, Hazor),

26 Amam and Shema and Moladah,

27 and Hazar-gaddah and Heshmon and Beth-pelet,

28 and Hazar-shual and [a]Beersheba and Biziothiah,

29 Baalah and Iim and Ezem,

30 and Eltolad and Chesil and Hormah,

31 and [a]Ziklag and Madmannah and Sansannah,

32 and Lebaoth and Shilhim and Ain and Rimmon; in all, twenty-nine cities with their villages.

33 In the lowland: [a]Eshtaol and Zorah and Ashnah,

34 and Zanoah and En-gannim, Tappuah and Enam,

35 Jarmuth and [a]Adullam, Socoh and Azekah,

36 and Shaaraim and Adithaim and Gederah and Gederothaim; fourteen cities with their villages.

37 Zenan and Hadashah and Migdal-gad,

38 and Dilean and Mizpeh and Joktheel,

39 [a]Lachish and Bozkath and Eglon,

40 and Cabbon and Lahmas and Chitlish,

41 and Gederoth, Beth-dagon and Naamah and Makkedah; sixteen cities with their villages.

42 Libnah and Ether and Ashan,

43 and Iphtah and Ashnah and Nezib,

44 and Keilah and Achzib and Mareshah; nine cities with their villages.

45 Ekron, with its towns and its villages;

46 from Ekron even to the sea, all that were by the [1]side of Ashdod, with their villages.

47 Ashdod, its towns and its villages; Gaza, its towns and its villages; as far as [a]the [1]brook of Egypt and the Great Sea, even its [2]coastline.

48 In the hill country: Shamir and Jattir and Socoh,

49 and Dannah and Kiriath-sannah (that is, Debir),

50 and Anab and Eshtemoh and Anim,

51 and Goshen and Holon and Giloh; eleven cities with their villages.

52 Arab and Dumah and Eshan,

53 and Janum and Beth-tappuah and Aphekah,

54 and Humtah and Kiriath-arba (that is, Hebron), and Zior; nine cities with their villages.

55 Maon, Carmel and Ziph and Juttah,

56 and Jezreel and Jokdeam and Zanoah,

57 Kain, Gibeah and Timnah; ten cities with their villages.

58 Halhul, Beth-zur and Gedor,

59 and Maarath and Beth-anoth and Eltekon; six cities with their villages.

60 Kiriath-baal (that is, Kiriath-jearim), and Rabbah; two cities with their villages.

61 In the wilderness: Beth-arabah, Middin and Secacah,

62 and Nibshan and the City of Salt and Engedi; six cities with their villages.

63 Now as for the [a]Jebusites, the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the sons of Judah could not [1]drive them out; so the Jebusites live

15:48 hill country. The high region south of Jerusalem. The Septuagint adds 11 names, including Tekoa and Bethlehem, to this list.

15:62 Only Engedi can be positively located, though the "City of Salt" is believed by many to be Qumran, where, centuries later, the scribes who produced the Dead Sea Scrolls lived.
15:63 Jebusites. A victory over the city of the Jebusites by the men of Judah is recorded in Judg 1:8, but evidently this did not result in its permanent occupation. Both Benjamin and Judah with the sons of Judah at Jerusalem until this day.

Territory of Ephraim

16 Then the lot for the sons of Joseph went from the Jordan at Jericho to the waters of Jericho on the east into [a]the wilderness, going up from Jericho through the hill country to Bethel.

2 It went from Bethel to Luz, and [a]continued to the border of the Archites at Ataroth.

3 It went down westward to the territory of the Japhletites, as far as the territory of lower [a]Beth-horon even to [b]Gezer, and [1]it ended at the sea.

4 The [a]sons of Joseph, Manasseh and Ephraim, received their inheritance.

5 Now this was the territory of the sons of Ephraim according to their families: the border of their inheritance eastward was [a]Ataroth-addar, as far as upper Beth-horon.

6 Then the border went westward at [a]Michmethath on the north, and the border turned about eastward to Taanath-shiloh and continued beyond it to the east of Janoah.

7 It went down from Janoah to Ataroth and to [a]Naarah, then reached Jericho and came out at the Jordan.

8 From [a]Tappuah the border continued westward to the [1]brook of Kanah, and [2]it ended at the sea. This is the inheritance of the tribe of the sons of Ephraim according to their families, 9 together with the cities which were set apart for the sons of Ephraim in the midst of the inheritance of the sons of Manasseh, all the cities with their villages.

10 [a]But they did not [1]drive out the Canaanites who lived in Gezer, so [b]the Canaanites live in the midst of Ephraim to this day, and they became forced laborers.

Territory of Manasseh

17 Now this was the lot for the tribe of [a]Manasseh, for he was the firstborn of Joseph. To Machir the firstborn of Manasseh, the father of Gilead, [1]were allotted Gilead and Bashan, because he was a man of war.

2 So the lot was made for the rest of the sons of Manasseh according to their families: for the sons of Abiezer and for the sons of Helek and for the sons of Asriel and for the sons of Shechem and for the sons of Hepher and for the sons of Shemida; these were the male [1]descendants of Manasseh the son of Joseph according to their families.

3 However, [a]Zelophehad, the son of Hepher, the son of Gilead, the son of Machir, the son of Manasseh, had no sons, only daughters; and these are the names of his daughters: Mahlah and Noah, Hoglah, Milcah and Tirzah.

4 They came near before Eleazar the priest and before Joshua the son of Nun and before the leaders, saying, "The LORD commanded Moses to give us an inheritance among our brothers." So [a]according to the [1]command of the LORD he gave them an inheritance among their father's brothers.

5 Thus there fell ten portions to Manasseh, besides the land of Gilead and Bashan, which is beyond the Jordan,

6 because the daughters of Manasseh received an inheritance among his sons. And the [a]land of Gilead belonged to the rest of the sons of Manasseh.

7 The border of Manasseh [1]ran from Asher to Michmethath which was east of Shechem; then the border went [2]southward to the inhabitants of En-tappuah.

8 The land of Tappuah belonged to Manasseh, but [a]Tappuah on the border of Manasseh belonged to the sons of Ephraim.

9 The [a]border went down to the [1]brook of Kanah, southward of the [1]brook (these cities belonged to Ephraim among the cities of Manasseh), and the border of Manasseh was on the north side of the [1]brook and [2]it ended at the sea.

10 The south side belonged to Ephraim and the north side to Manasseh, and the sea was [1]their border; and they reached to Asher on the north and to Issachar on the east.

11 In Issachar and in Asher, [a]Manasseh had Beth-shean and its towns and Ibleam and its towns, and the inhabitants of Dor and its towns, and the inhabitants of En-dor and its towns, and the inhabitants of Taanach and failed to take the Jebusite fortress of Jerusalem (Judg 1:21).

16:1–17:18 Two chapters are devoted to the lands given to the "house of Joseph" (Ephraim and the half-tribe of Manasseh that settled west of the Jordan). Following Judah, the Joseph tribes were given priority.

16:1 lot for . . . Joseph. Ephraim's southern border moved west from Jericho past Bethel and down to Gezer and the Mediterranean coast.

16:5 border. Ephraim's northern border began down by the Jordan and ran west near Shiloh, but south of Shechem, then followed the Wadi Kanah down to the Mediterranean Sea.

16:10 Gezer. See note on 10:33. became forced laborers. Since Gezer does not appear to have come under Israelite control until the days of Solomon (1 Kin 9:15–16), this may be a note added after that event (but see 2 Sam 5:25).

17:1 Manasseh . . . the firstborn of Joseph. A reminder to the proud Ephraimites that Manasseh had been the firstborn, though Jacob gave priority to Ephraim when he adopted Joseph's two sons (Gen 48:14,19).

17:3 Zelophehad . . . had . . . only daughters. Before Moses died, he promised the daughters an allotment along with their relatives (see Num 26:33; 27:1–7).

17:5 ten portions. Manasseh's territory was second only to Judah's in size. The ten portions went to the five brothers (minus Hepher) and to the five granddaughters of Hepher. For the law protecting the inheritance rights of a daughter without brothers see Num 27:8–11.

17:11 Beth-shean . . . Megiddo. These powerfully fortified cities, and others along Manasseh's common border with Issachar and Asher, were not conquered until later. When King Saul died its towns, and the inhabitants of Megiddo and its towns, the third is [b]Napheth.

12 [a]But the sons of Manasseh could not take possession of these cities, because the Canaanites persisted in living in that land.

13 It came about when the sons of Israel became strong, [a]they put the Canaanites to forced labor, but they did not [1]drive them out completely.

14 Then the [a]sons of Joseph spoke to Joshua, saying, "Why have you given me only one lot and one portion for an inheritance, since I am a numerous people whom the LORD has thus far blessed?"

15 Joshua said to them, "If you are a numerous people, go [1]up to the forest and [2]clear a place for yourself there in the land of the Perizzites and of the Rephaim, since the hill country of Ephraim is too narrow for you."

16 The sons of Joseph said, "The hill country is not enough for us, and all the Canaanites who live in the valley land have [a]chariots of iron, both those who are in Beth-shean and its towns and those who are in the valley of Jezreel."

17 Joshua spoke to the house of Joseph, to Ephraim and Manasseh, saying, "You are a numerous people and have great power; you shall not have one lot only,

18 but the hill country shall be yours. For though it is a forest, you shall [1]clear it, and to its [2]farthest borders it shall be yours; for you shall [3]drive out the Canaanites, even though they have [a]chariots of iron and though they are strong."

Rest of the Land Divided

18 Then the whole congregation of the sons of Israel assembled themselves at [a]Shiloh, and set up the tent of meeting there; and the land was subdued before them.

2 There remained among the sons of Israel seven tribes who had not divided their inheritance.

3 So Joshua said to the sons of Israel, "[a]How long will you put off entering to take possession of the land which the LORD, the God of your fathers, has given you?

4 "Provide for yourselves three men from [1]each tribe that I may send them, and that they may arise and walk through the land and write a description of it according to their inheritance; then they shall [2]return to me.

5 "They shall divide it into seven portions; [a]Judah shall stay in its territory on the south, and the house of Joseph shall stay in their territory on the north.

6 "You shall describe the land in seven divisions, and bring the description here to me. [a]I will cast lots for you here before the LORD our God.

7 "For [a]the Levites have no portion among you, because the priesthood of the LORD is [1]their inheritance. Gad and Reuben and the half-tribe of Manasseh also have received their inheritance eastward beyond the Jordan, which Moses the servant of the LORD gave them."

8 Then the men arose and went, and Joshua commanded those who went to describe the land, saying, "Go and walk through the land and describe it, and return to me; then I will cast lots for you here before the LORD in [a]Shiloh."

9 So the men went and passed through the land, and described it by cities in seven divisions in a book; and they came to Joshua to the camp at Shiloh.

10 And [a]Joshua cast lots for them in Shiloh before the LORD, and there Joshua divided the land to the sons of Israel according to their divisions.

in battle, the victorious Philistines fastened his body to the wall of Beth-shean (see 1 Sam 31:10), which suggests that that city was in league with the Philistines.

17:13 when the sons of Israel became strong. Possibly referring to the days of David and Solomon (see note on 16:10).

17:14 sons of Joseph . . . numerous. The reference is to both Ephraim and Manasseh (see v. 17). The allotment to the Joseph tribes is here handled as one (see 16:1,4)—though the two subdivisions are then described separately (16:5–17:11).

17:15 clear a place for yourself. This region of Canaan was still heavily forested. It seems that the Israelites viewed their assigned territories primarily in terms of the number of cities that had their land cleared for farming and pasturage, not in terms of the size of the region in which these cities were located. The region assigned to the Joseph tribes was at the time not as heavily populated as others. Perizzites and . . . Rephaim. Here listed as neighboring peoples, though elsewhere the Perizzites are said to have lived on the west bank in Canaan (3:10; 12:8) and the Rephaites in the Transjordan kingdom of Og (12:4; 13:12). See notes on Gen 13:7; Deut 2:11. hill country of Ephraim. The territory of the Joseph tribes—under the name of the legal firstborn (see note on v. 1).

17:16 in the valley land. Only in the plains were chariots effective. chariots of iron. Chariots with certain parts made of iron (see note on 2 Sam 8:7), perhaps the axles—the use of iron was a new development (see note on 11:6).

18:1–19:51 Seven tribes remained to be assigned land: Benjamin, Simeon, Zebulun, Issachar, Asher, Naphtali and Dan. Their lots were cast at Shiloh, after which a special portion was awarded to Joshua.

18:1 Shiloh. About ten miles northeast of Bethel, a little east of the main road from Bethel to Shechem. tent of meeting. The tabernacle (see note on Ex 27:21) with its sacred ark of the covenant. It would remain at Shiloh until the time of Samuel (1 Sam 4:3).

18:3 take possession. Conquest had to be followed by settlement, which required a survey, then a fair distribution, and then a full occupation of the land. A distinction must therefore be made between the national wars of conquest (Joshua) and the tribal wars of occupation (Judg 1–2).

18:5 north. Relative to the territory of Judah.

18:6 I will cast lots for you. See note on 14:1.

18:7 priesthood of the LORD is their inheritance. See 13:14; see also Deut 18:1–8 and note on Deut 18:1.

18:9 book. The actual form of the document was probably that of a scroll.

The Territory of Benjamin

11 Now the lot of the tribe of the sons of Benjamin came up according to their families, and the territory of their lot [1]lay between the sons of Judah and the sons of Joseph.

12 [a]Their border on the north side was from the Jordan, then the border went up to the side of Jericho on the north, and went up through the hill country westward, and [1]it ended at the wilderness of Beth-aven.

13 From there the border continued to [a]Luz, to the side of Luz (that is, Bethel) southward; and the border went down to Ataroth-addar, near the hill which lies on the south of [b]lower Beth-horon.

14 The border extended from there and turned round on the west side southward, from the hill which lies before Beth-horon southward; and [1]it ended at Kiriath-baal (that is, Kiriath-jearim), a city of the sons of Judah. This was the west side.

15 Then the [a]south side was from the edge of Kiriath-jearim, and the border went westward and went to the fountain of the waters of Nephtoah.

16 The border went down to the edge of the hill which is in the [a]valley of Ben-hinnom, which is in the valley of Rephaim northward; and it went down to the valley of Hinnom, to the slope of the Jebusite southward, and went down to En-rogel.

17 It extended northward and went to En-shemesh and went to Geliloth, which is opposite the ascent of Adummim, and it went down to the [a]stone of Bohan the son of Reuben.

18 It continued to the side in front of the Arabah northward and went down to the Arabah.

19 The border continued to the side of Beth-hoglah northward; and the [1]border ended at the north bay of the Salt Sea, at the south end of the Jordan. This was the south border.

20 Moreover, the Jordan was its border on the east side. This was the inheritance of the sons of Benjamin, according to their families and according to its borders all around.

21 Now the cities of the tribe of the sons of Benjamin according to their families were Jericho and Beth-hoglah and Emek-keziz,

22 and Beth-arabah and Zemaraim and Bethel,

23 and Avvim and Parah and Ophrah,

24 and Chephar-ammoni and Ophni and [a]Geba; twelve cities with their villages.

25 Gibeon and Ramah and Beeroth,

26 and Mizpeh and Chephirah and Mozah,

27 and Rekem and Irpeel and Taralah,

28 and [a]Zelah, Haeleph and the Jebusite (that is, Jerusalem), Gibeah, Kiriath; fourteen cities with their villages. This is the inheritance of the [b]sons of Benjamin according to their families.

Territory of Simeon

19 Then the second lot [1]fell to Simeon, to the tribe of the sons of Simeon according to their families, and their inheritance was in the midst of the inheritance of the sons of Judah.

2 So they had as their inheritance Beer-sheba or [1]Sheba and Moladah,

3 and Hazar-shual and Balah and Ezem,

4 and Eltolad and Bethul and Hormah,

5 and Ziklag and Beth-marcaboth and Hazar-susah,

6 and Beth-lebaoth and Sharuhen; thirteen cities with their villages;

7 Ain, Rimmon and Ether and Ashan; four cities with their villages;

8 and all the villages which were around these cities as far as Baalath-beer, Ramah of the [1]Negev. This was the inheritance of the tribe of the sons of Simeon according to their families.

9 The inheritance of the sons of Simeon was taken from the portion of the sons of Judah, for the share of the sons of Judah was too large for them; so the sons of Simeon received an inheritance in the midst of [1]Judah's inheritance.

Territory of Zebulun

10 Now the third lot came up for the sons of Zebulun according to their families. And the territory of their inheritance was as far as Sarid.

11 Then their border went up to the west and to Maralah, it then [1]touched Dabbesheth and reached to the [2]brook that is before Jokneam.

12 Then it turned from Sarid to the east toward the sunrise as far as the border of Chisloth-tabor, and it proceeded to Daberath and [1]up to Japhia.

13 From there it continued eastward toward the sunrise to Gath-hepher, to Eth-kazin, and it proceeded to Rimmon [1]which stretches to Neah.

14 The border circled around it on the north to Hannathon, and [1]it ended at the valley of Iphtahel.

15 Included also were Kattah and Nahalal and Shimron and Idalah and Bethlehem; twelve cities with their villages.

18:23 Avvim. The people of Ai.

19:1 second lot . . . Simeon. Cities within the borders of Judah (15:21) in the Negev along Judah's southern border (1 Chr 4:24–42).

19:10 third lot came up for the sons of Zebulun. To this tribe went a portion of lower Galilee west of the Sea of Galilee and in the vicinity of NT Nazareth.

16 This was the inheritance of the sons of Zebulun according to their families, these cities with their villages.

Territory of Issachar

17 The fourth lot [1]fell to Issachar, to the sons of Issachar according to their families.
18 Their territory was to Jezreel and included Chesulloth and [a]Shunem,
19 and Hapharaim and Shion and Anaharath,
20 and Rabbith and Kishion and Ebez,
21 and Remeth and En-gannim and En-haddah and Beth-pazzez.
22 The border reached to [a]Tabor and Shahazumah and Beth-shemesh, and [1]their border ended at the Jordan; sixteen cities with their villages.
23 This was the inheritance of the tribe of the sons of Issachar according to their families, the cities with their villages.

Territory of Asher

24 Now the fifth lot [1]fell to the tribe of the sons of Asher according to their families.
25 Their territory was Helkath and Hali and Beten and Achshaph, 26 and Allammelech and Amad and Mishal; and it reached to Carmel on the west and to Shihor-libnath.
27 It turned toward the [1]east to Beth-dagon and reached to Zebulun, and to the valley of Iphtahel northward to Beth-emek and Neiel; then it proceeded on [2]north to [a]Cabul, 28 and Ebron and Rehob and Hammon and Kanah, as far as Great [a]Sidon.
29 The border turned to Ramah and to the fortified city of Tyre; then the border turned to Hosah, and [1]it ended at the sea by the region of [a]Achzib.
30 Included also were Ummah, and Aphek and Rehob; twenty-two cities with their villages.
31 This was the inheritance of the tribe of the sons of Asher according to their families, these cities with their villages.

Territory of Naphtali

32 The sixth lot [1]fell to the sons of Naphtali; to the sons of Naphtali according to their families.
33 Their border was from Heleph, from the oak in Zaanannim and Adami-nekeb and Jabneel, as far as Lakkum, and [1]it ended at the Jordan.
34 Then the border turned westward to Aznoth-tabor and proceeded from there to Hukkok; and it reached to Zebulun on the south and [1]touched Asher on the west, and to Judah at the Jordan toward the [2]east.
35 The fortified cities were Ziddim, Zer and [a]Hammath, Rakkath and [b]Chinnereth,
36 and Adamah and Ramah and Hazor,
37 and Kedesh and Edrei and En-hazor,
38 and Yiron and Migdal-el, Horem and Beth-anath and Beth-shemesh; nineteen cities with their villages.
39 This was the inheritance of the tribe of the sons of Naphtali according to their families, the cities with their villages.

Territory of Dan

40 The seventh lot [1]fell to the tribe of the sons of Dan according to their families.
41 The territory of their inheritance was Zorah and Eshtaol and Ir-shemesh,
42 and Shaalabbin and Aijalon and Ithlah,
43 and Elon and Timnah and Ekron,
44 and Eltekeh and Gibbethon and Baalath,
45 and Jehud and Bene-berak and Gath-rimmon,
46 and Me-jarkon and Rakkon, with the territory over against [1]Joppa.
47 The territory of the [a]sons of Dan proceeded [1]beyond them; for the sons of Dan went up and fought with Leshem and captured it. Then they struck it with the edge of the sword and possessed it and [2]settled in it; and they called [3][b]Leshem Dan after the name of Dan their father.
48 This was the inheritance of the tribe of the sons of Dan according to their families, these cities with their villages.
49 When they finished apportioning the land for inheritance by its borders, the sons of Israel gave an inheritance in their midst to Joshua the son of Nun.

19:17 fourth lot . . . to Issachar. Southwest of the Sea of Galilee reaching down to Beth-shan and west to the Jezreel Valley. Mount Tabor marked its northern border.
19:24 fifth lot . . . to . . . Asher. Asher was given the coastal area as far north as Sidon in Phoenicia and as far south as Mount Carmel.
19:32 sixth lot . . . to . . . Naphtali. An area mostly to the north of the Sea of Galilee, taking in the modern Huleh Valley and the mountains bordering on Asher to the west. Its southernmost point was at the lower edge of the Sea of Galilee.
19:40 seventh lot . . . to . . . Dan. An elbow of land squeezed between Ephraim and Judah and west of Benjamin. The port of Joppa marked the northwestern corner of Dan.
19:47 territory of . . . Dan proceeded beyond them. Lit. "went out from them," probably indicating they were not able to maintain control over it. The Amorites of this area "forced the sons of Dan to the hill country" (Judg 1:34), so most of the tribe migrated to the upper Jordan Valley, where they seized the town of Leshem (or Laish, Judg 18:2–10,27–29) and renamed it Dan.
19:49 gave an inheritance . . . to Joshua. In the account of the distribution of the promised land (the territory west of the Jordan), the assignment to Caleb is treated first (14:6–15), the assignment to Joshua last. Thus the allotting of inheritance to these two dauntless servants of the Lord from the wilderness generation (see Num 13:30; 14:6,24,30) frames the whole account—and both received the territory they asked for. Appropriately, Joshua's allotment came last; he was not a king or a warlord but the servant of God commissioned to bring the Lord's people into the promised land.

50 In accordance with the [1]command of the LORD they gave him the city for which he asked, [a]Timnath-serah in the hill country of Ephraim. So he built the city and [2]settled in it.

51 [a]These are the inheritances which Eleazar the priest, and Joshua the son of Nun, and the heads of the [1]households of the tribes of the sons of Israel distributed by lot in Shiloh before the LORD at the doorway of the tent of meeting. So they finished dividing the land.

Six Cities of Refuge

20 Then the LORD spoke to Joshua, saying, 2 "Speak to the sons of Israel, saying, '[1]Designate [a]the cities of refuge, of which I spoke to you [2]through Moses,

3 that the manslayer who [1]kills any person unintentionally, without premeditation, may flee there, and they shall become your refuge from the avenger of blood.

4 'He shall flee to one of these cities, and shall stand at the entrance of the [a]gate of the city and state his case in the hearing of the elders of that city; and they shall [1]take him into the city to them and give him a place, so that he may dwell among them.

5 'Now [a]if the avenger of blood pursues him, then they shall not deliver the manslayer into his hand, because he struck his neighbor without premeditation and did not hate him beforehand.

6 'He shall dwell in that city [a]until he stands before the congregation for judgment, until the death of the one who is high priest in those days. Then the manslayer shall [1]return to his own city and to his own house, to the city from which he fled.' "

7 So they [1]set apart [a]Kedesh in [2]Galilee in the hill country of Naphtali and Shechem in the hill country of Ephraim, and Kiriath-arba (that is, Hebron) in [b]the hill country of Judah.

8 Beyond the Jordan east of Jericho, they [1]designated Bezer in the wilderness on the plain from the tribe of Reuben, and Ramoth in Gilead from the tribe of Gad, and Golan in Bashan from the tribe of Manasseh.

9 [a]These were the appointed cities for all the sons of Israel and for the stranger who sojourns among them, that whoever [1]kills any person unintentionally may flee there, and not die by the hand of the avenger of blood until he stands before the congregation.

Forty-eight Cities of the Levites

21 Then the heads of [1]households of [a]the Levites approached Eleazar the priest, and Joshua the son of Nun, and the heads of [1]households of the tribes of the sons of Israel.

2 They spoke to them at Shiloh in the land of Canaan, saying, "[a]The LORD commanded [1]through Moses to give us cities to live in, with their pasture lands for our cattle."

3 So the sons of Israel gave the Levites from their inheritance these cities with their pasture lands, according to the [1]command of the LORD.

4 Then the lot came out for the families of the Kohathites. And the sons of Aaron the priest, who were of the Levites, [1]received thirteen cities by lot from the tribe of Judah and from the tribe of the Simeonites and from the tribe of Benjamin.

5 The rest of the sons of Kohath [1]received ten cities by lot from the families of the tribe of Ephraim and from the tribe of Dan and from the half-tribe of Manasseh.

6 The sons of Gershon [1]received thirteen cities by lot from the families of the tribe of 19:50 Timnath-serah. Located in the southwestern corner of Ephraim, facing out to the sea. Here Joshua was also buried (24:30).

20:1–9 Having distributed the land to the tribes, the Lord's next administrative regulation (see note on 13:1–32) provided an elementary system of government, specifically a system of regional courts to deal with capital offenses having to do with manslaughter. Thus this most inflammatory of cases was removed from local jurisdiction, and a safeguard was created against the easy miscarriage of justice (with its potential for endless blood feuds) when retribution for manslaughter was left in the hands of family members. The cities chosen were among those also assigned to the Levites, where ideally the law of Moses would especially be known and honored.

20:2 of which I spoke to you through Moses. See Num 35:6–34.

20:3 avenger of blood. Also translated "close relative" (Ruth 3:9), or "Redeemer" (Ps 19:14). The avenger was a near relative with the obligation of exacting retribution (see Lev 24:17; Num 35:16–28).

20:4 gate of the city. Traditional place for trials, where the elders sat to hold court (see Ruth 4:1 and note; see also Job 29:7).

20:6 congregation. Made up of the adult males of the city. Their function in the trial before the elders (v. 4) is not clear, but perhaps they witnessed the trial to see that it was fair (closed courts are notoriously corruptible). death of the . . . high priest. See Num 35:25–28. Either an atoning effect or a kind of amnesty was achieved by the high priest's death.

20:7 they set apart Kedesh. A wordplay in the Hebrew: "they consecrated (the town of) consecration." The other two cities west of the Jordan already had sacred associations: For Shechem see 8:30–35 and note; Gen 12:6–7; for Hebron see Gen 23:2; 49:29–32. The geographical distribution of the cities was important: one in the north, one in the midlands and one in the south. (See v. 8, where the order of the three cities of refuge that served in Transjordan is reversed: Bezer in the south, Ramoth in the midlands and Golan in the north.) See map, p. 226.

20:9 the stranger. Evidence of the equal protection granted to the foreigners living in Israel (cf. Lev 19:33–34; Deut 10:18–19).

21:1–45 Finally the Levites are allotted their towns and adjoining pasturelands—with the priestly families being given precedence (see v. 10).

21:4 Kohathites. The three sons of Levi were Kohath, Gershon and Merari (Ex 6:16; Num 3:17). Judah . . . Simeonites . . . Benjamin. Tribal areas close to Jerusalem, which would later be the site of the temple. The remaining Kohathites received cities in adjoining tribes.

Issachar and from the tribe of Asher and from the tribe of Naphtali and from the half-tribe of Manasseh in Bashan.

7 The sons of Merari according to their families [1]received twelve cities from the tribe of Reuben and from the tribe of Gad and from the tribe of Zebulun.

8 Now the [a]sons of Israel gave by lot to the Levites these cities with their pasture lands, as the LORD had commanded [1]through Moses.

9 They gave these cities which are here mentioned by name from the tribe of the sons of Judah and from the tribe of the sons of Simeon;

10 and they were for the sons of Aaron, one of the families of the Kohathites, of the sons of Levi, for the lot was theirs first.

11 Thus [a]they gave them Kiriath-arba, Arba being the [b]father of Anak (that is, Hebron), in the hill country of Judah, with its surrounding pasture lands.

12 But the fields of the city and its villages they gave to Caleb the son of Jephunneh as his possession.

13 So [a]to the sons of Aaron the priest they gave [b]Hebron, the city of refuge for the manslayer, with its pasture lands, and [c]Libnah with its pasture lands,

14 and [a]Jattir with its pasture lands and [b]Eshtemoa with its pasture lands,

15 and [1]Holon with its pasture lands and [a]Debir with its pasture lands,

16 and [1]Ain with its pasture lands and [a]Juttah with its pasture lands and [b]Beth-shemesh with its pasture lands; nine cities from these two tribes.

17 From the tribe of Benjamin, [a]Gibeon with its pasture lands, [b]Geba with its pasture lands, 18 Anathoth with its pasture lands and [1]Almon with its pasture lands; four cities.

19 All the cities of the sons of Aaron, the priests, were thirteen cities with their pasture lands.

20 Then the cities from the tribe of Ephraim were allotted to the [a]families of the sons of Kohath, the Levites, even to the rest of the sons of Kohath.

21 They gave them [a]Shechem, the city of refuge for the manslayer, with its pasture lands, in the hill country of Ephraim, and Gezer with its pasture lands, 22 and Kibzaim with its pasture lands and Beth-horon with its pasture lands; four cities.

23 From the tribe of Dan, Elteke with its pasture lands, Gibbethon with its pasture lands, 24 Aijalon with its pasture lands, Gath-rimmon with its pasture lands; four cities.

25 From the half-tribe of Manasseh, they allotted Taanach with its pasture lands and Gath-rimmon with its pasture lands; two cities.

26 All the cities with their pasture lands for the families of the rest of the sons of Kohath were ten.

27 [a]To the sons of Gershon, one of the families of the Levites, from the half-tribe of Manasseh, they gave Golan in Bashan, the city of refuge for the manslayer, with its pasture lands, and Be-eshterah with its pasture lands; two cities.

28 From the tribe of Issachar, they gave Kishion with its pasture lands, Daberath with its pasture lands, 29 Jarmuth with its pasture lands, En-gannim with its pasture lands; four cities.

30 From the tribe of Asher, they gave Mishal with its pasture lands, Abdon with its pasture lands, 31 Helkath with its pasture lands and Rehob with its pasture lands; four cities.

32 From the tribe of Naphtali, they gave [a]Kedesh in Galilee, the city of refuge for the manslayer, with its pasture lands and Hammoth-dor with its pasture lands and Kartan with its pasture lands; three cities.

33 All the cities of the Gershonites according to their families were thirteen cities with their pasture lands.

34 To the families of [a]the sons of Merari, the rest of the Levites, they gave from the tribe of Zebulun, Jokneam with its pasture lands and Kartah with its pasture lands.

35 Dimnah with its pasture lands, Nahalal with its pasture lands; four cities.

36 From the tribe of Reuben, they gave [a]Bezer with its pasture lands and Jahaz with its pasture lands, 37 Kedemoth with its pasture lands and Mephaath with its pasture lands; four cities.

38 From the tribe of Gad, they gave [a]Ramoth in Gilead, the city of refuge for the manslayer, with its pasture lands and [b]Mahanaim with its pasture lands, 39 Heshbon with its pasture lands, Jazer with its pasture lands; four cities in all.

40 All these were the cities of the sons of Merari according to their families, the rest of the families of the Levites; and their lot was twelve cities.

41 [a]All the cities of the Levites in the midst of the possession of the sons of Israel were forty-eight cities with their pasture lands.

42 These cities each had its surrounding pasture lands; thus it was with all these cities.

43 [a]So the LORD gave Israel all the land which He had sworn to give to their fathers, and [b]they possessed it and lived in it.

44 And the LORD [a]gave them rest on every side, according to all that He had sworn to their fathers, and [b]no one of all their enemies stood before them; [c]the LORD gave all their enemies into their hand.

45 [a]Not [1]one of the good promises which the LORD had [2]made to the house of Israel failed; all came to pass.

Tribes beyond Jordan Return

22 [a]Then Joshua summoned the Reubenites and the Gadites and the half-tribe of Manasseh,

2 and said to them, "You have kept all that Moses the servant of the LORD commanded you, [a]and have listened to my voice in all that I commanded you.

3 "You have not forsaken your brothers these many days to this day, but have kept the charge of the commandment of the LORD your God.

4 "And now [a]the LORD your God has given rest to your brothers, as He spoke to them; therefore turn now and go to your tents, to the land of your possession, which Moses the servant of the LORD gave you beyond the Jordan.

5 "Only be very careful to observe the commandment and the law which Moses the servant of the LORD commanded you, to [a]love the LORD your God and walk in all His ways and keep His commandments and hold fast to Him and serve Him [b]with all your heart and with all your soul."

6 So Joshua [a]blessed them and sent them away, and they went to their tents.

7 Now [a]to the one half-tribe of Manasseh Moses had given a possession in Bashan, but [b]to the other half Joshua gave a possession among their brothers westward beyond the Jordan. So when Joshua sent them away to their tents, he blessed them,

8 and said to [1]them, "Return to your tents with great riches and with very much livestock, with silver, gold, bronze, iron, and with very many clothes; [a]divide the spoil of your enemies with your brothers."

9 The sons of Reuben and the sons of Gad and the half-tribe of Manasseh returned home and departed from the sons of Israel at Shiloh which is in the land of Canaan, to go to the [a]land of Gilead, to the land of their possession which they had possessed, according to the [1]command of the LORD [2]through Moses.

The Offensive Altar

10 When they came to the region of the Jordan which is in the land of Canaan, the sons of Reuben and the sons of Gad and the half-tribe of Manasseh built an altar there by the Jordan, a large altar in appearance.

11 And the sons of Israel heard it [1]said, "Behold, the sons of Reuben and the sons of Gad and the half-tribe of Manasseh have [a]built an altar at the [2]frontier of the land of Canaan, in the region of the Jordan, on the side belonging to the sons of Israel."

12 When the sons of Israel heard of it, the whole congregation of the sons of Israel gathered themselves at [a]Shiloh to go up against them in war.

13 Then the sons of Israel sent to the sons of Reuben and to the sons of Gad and to the half-tribe of Manasseh, into the land of Gilead, [a]Phinehas the son of Eleazar the priest, 14 and with him ten chiefs, one chief for each father's household from each of the tribes of Israel; and [a]each one of them was the head of his father's household among the [1]thousands of Israel.

15 They came to the sons of Reuben and to the sons of Gad and to the half-tribe of Manasseh, to the land of Gilead, and they spoke with them saying, had fulfilled His sworn promise to give Israel this land (see Gen 15:18–21). The occupation of the land was not yet complete (see 23:4–5; Judg 1–2), but the national campaign was over and Israel was finally established in the promised land. No power was left in Canaan that could threaten to dislodge her.

16 "Thus says the whole congregation of the LORD, 'What is this unfaithful act which you have committed against the God of Israel, turning away from following the LORD this day, by [a]building yourselves an altar, to rebel against the LORD this day?

21:44 rest on every side. See note on 1:13.

22:1–34 The two and a half tribes from east of the Jordan, faithful in battle, are now commended by Joshua and sent to their homes. But their "altar of witness" (see vv. 26–27,34) was misunderstood, and disciplinary action against them was narrowly averted.

22:2 all that Moses . . . commanded. Moses had ordered them to join the other tribes in the conquest of Canaan (Num 32:16–27; Deut 3:18).

22:5 love the LORD . . . serve Him with all your heart. Both Moses and Joshua saw that obedience to the laws of God would require love and service from the heart. In the ancient Near East, "love" was also a political term, indicating truehearted loyalty to one's king.

22:8 divide . . . with your brothers. Moses also had seen the need for a fair sharing of the spoils of war (Num 31:25–27).

22:10 region of the Jordan. Understood in the Septuagint to be Gilgal, next to Jericho; more likely it was a site east of Shiloh along the Jordan River (18:17).

22:11 and the sons of Israel heard. Anxiety about apostasy led to hasty conclusions. They thought the altar had been set up as a rival to the true altar at Shiloh.

22:12 gathered . . . at Shiloh. In the presence of God at the tabernacle. to go up against them in war. To take disciplinary action (cf. Deut 13:12–18; Judg 20).

22:13–14 A prestigious delegation is sent to try to turn the Transjordan tribes from their (supposed) act of rebellion against the Lord.

22:16 What is this unfaithful act . . . ? The accusations were very grave: You have committed apostasy and rebellion.

17 'Is not [a]the iniquity of Peor [1]enough for us, from which we have not cleansed ourselves to this day, although a plague came on the congregation of the LORD, 18 that you must turn away this day from following the LORD? If you rebel against the LORD today, [a]He will be angry with the whole congregation of Israel tomorrow.

19 'If, however, the land of your possession is unclean, then [1]cross into the land of the possession of the LORD, where the LORD's tabernacle [2]stands, and take possession among us. Only do not rebel against the LORD, or rebel against us by [a]building an altar for yourselves, besides the altar of the LORD our God.

20 'Did not [a]Achan the son of Zerah act unfaithfully in the things under the ban, and wrath fall on all the congregation of Israel? And that man did not perish alone in his iniquity.' "

21 Then the sons of Reuben and the sons of Gad and the half-tribe of Manasseh answered and spoke to the heads of the [1]families of Israel.

22 "The [a]Mighty One, God, the LORD, the Mighty One, God, the LORD! [b]He knows, and may Israel itself know. If it was in rebellion, or if in an unfaithful act against the LORD do not save us this day!

23 "If we have built us an altar to turn away from following the LORD, or if to [a]offer a burnt offering or grain offering on it, or if to offer sacrifices of peace offerings on it, may the LORD Himself require it.

24 "But truly we have done this out of concern, [1]for a reason, saying, 'In time to come your sons may say to our [2]sons, "What have you to do with the LORD, the God of Israel?

25 "For the LORD has made the Jordan a border between us and you, you sons of Reuben and sons of Gad; you have no portion in the LORD." So your sons may make our sons stop fearing the LORD.'

26 "Therefore we said, 'Let us [1]build an altar, not for burnt offering or for sacrifice;

27 rather it shall be [a]a witness between us and you and between our generations after us, that we are to [b]perform the service of the LORD before Him with our burnt offerings, and with our sacrifices and with our peace offerings, so that your sons will not say to our sons in time to come, "You have no portion in the LORD." '

28 "Therefore we said, 'It shall also come about if they say this to us or to our generations in time to come, then we shall say, "See the copy of the altar of the LORD which our fathers made, not for burnt offering or for sacrifice; rather it is a witness between us and you." '

29 "Far be it from us that we should rebel against the LORD and turn away from following the LORD this day, by [a]building an altar for burnt offering, for grain offering or for sacrifice, besides the altar of the LORD our God which is before His [1]tabernacle."

30 So when Phinehas the priest and the leaders of the congregation, even the heads of the [1]families of Israel who were with him, heard the words which the sons of Reuben and the sons of Gad and the sons of Manasseh spoke, it pleased them.

31 And Phinehas the son of Eleazar the priest said to the sons of Reuben and to the sons of Gad and to the sons of Manasseh, "Today we know that the [a]LORD is in our midst, because you have not committed this unfaithful act against the LORD; now you have delivered the sons of Israel from the hand of the LORD."

32 Then Phinehas the son of Eleazar the priest and the leaders returned from the sons of Reuben and from the sons of Gad, from the land of Gilead to the land of Canaan, to the sons of Israel, and brought back word to them.

33 The word pleased the sons of Israel, and the sons of Israel [a]blessed God; and they did not speak of going up against them in war to destroy the land in which the sons of Reuben and the sons of Gad were living.

34 The sons of Reuben and the sons of Gad [a]called the altar Witness; "For," they said, "it is a witness between us that the LORD is God."

22:19 is unclean. By pagan worship, corrupting its inhabitants. the land of the . . . LORD. The promised land proper had never included Transjordan territory. Canaan was the land the Lord especially claimed as His own and promised to the descendants of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.

22:20 Achan . . . all the congregation of Israel? See note on 7:1–26.

22:22 The Mighty One, God, the LORD. See note on Ps 50:1. The repetition of the sacred names gives an oath-like quality to this strong denial of any wrongdoing.

22:27 witness. The altar, presumably of uncut stone (see 8:31; Ex 20:25), was to serve as a testimony to the commitment of the Transjordan tribes to remain loyal to the Lord, and to their continued right to worship the Lord at the tabernacle—even though they lived outside the land of promise. It constitutes the sixth memorial monument in the land noted by the author of Joshua (see note on 10:27).

22:31 you have delivered the sons of Israel. Their words prevented a terrible punishment that the other tribes were about to inflict as a divine act of judgment (consider the implications of v. 20).

23:1–16 Joshua, the Lord's servant, delivers a farewell address recalling the victories the Lord has given, but also reminding the people of areas yet to be possessed and of the need to be loyal to God's covenant laws. Their mission remains—to be the people of God's kingdom in the world.

23:1 rest. See note on 1:13. advanced in years. Joshua was approaching the age of 110 (24:29).

3 "And you have seen all that the LORD your God has done to all these nations because of you, for [a]the LORD your God is He who has been fighting for you.

4 "See, [a]I have apportioned to you these nations which remain as an inheritance for your tribes, with all the nations which I have cut off, from the Jordan even to the Great Sea toward the setting of the sun.

6 "[a]Be very firm, then, to keep and do all that is written in the book of the law of Moses, so that you may not turn aside from it to the right hand or to the left,

7 so that you will not [1]associate with these nations, these which remain among you, or [a]mention the name of their gods, or [b]make anyone swear by them, or [c]serve them, or bow down to them.

10 "[a]One of your men puts to flight a thousand, for the LORD your God is [b]He who fights for you, just as He [1]promised you.

12 "For if you ever go back and [a]cling to the rest of these nations, these which remain among you, and [b]intermarry with them, so that you [1]associate with them and they with you,

13 know with certainty that the LORD your God will not continue to [1]drive these nations out from before you; but they will be a [a]snare and a trap to you, and a whip on your sides and thorns in your eyes, until you perish from off this good land which the LORD your God has given you.

14 "Now behold, today [a]I am going the way of all the earth, and you know in all your hearts and in all your souls that [b]not one word of all the good words which the LORD your God spoke concerning you has failed; all have [1]been fulfilled for you, not [2]one of them has failed.

15 "It shall come about that just as all the good words which the LORD your God spoke to you have come upon you, so [a]the LORD will bring upon you all the threats, until He has destroyed you from off this good land which the LORD your God has given you.

16 "[a]When you transgress the covenant of the LORD your God, which He commanded you, and go and serve other gods and bow down to them, then the anger of the LORD will burn against you, and you will perish quickly from off the good land which He has given you."

Joshua Reviews Israel's History

24 Then [a]Joshua gathered all the tribes of Israel to Shechem, and called for the elders of Israel and for their heads and their judges and their officers; and they presented themselves before God.

2 Joshua said to all the people, "Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, 'From ancient times your fathers lived beyond the [1]River, namely, [a]Terah, the father of Abraham and the father of Nahor, and they served other gods.

3 'Then [a]I took your father Abraham from beyond the [1]River, and led him through all the land of Canaan, and [b]multiplied his [2]descendants and gave him [c]Isaac.

23:6 Be very firm, then, to . . . do. Echoing the Lord's instructions at the beginning (1:7–8; see 22:5). book of the law. A reference to canonical written materials from the time of Moses (cf. Deut 30:10,19; 31:9,24,26).

23:11 love the LORD your God. A concluding summation (see note on 22:5).

23:12 if you ever go back. Remaining in the promised land was conditioned on faithfulness to the Lord and separation from the idolaters still around them. Failure to meet these conditions would bring Israel's banishment from the land (cf. vv. 13,15–16; 2 Kin 17:7–8; 2 Chr 7:14–20). cling to . . . intermarry. The Lord prohibited alliances, either national or domestic, with the peoples of Canaan because such alliances would tend to compromise Israel's loyalty to the Lord (see Ex 34:15–16; Deut 7:2–4).

23:13 a snare and a trap. Joshua's warning echoes Ex 23:33; 34:12; Deut 7:16.

24:1–33 Once more Joshua assembled the tribes at Shechem to call Israel to a renewal of the covenant (see 8:30–35). It was his final official act as the Lord's servant, mediator of the Lord's rule over His people. In this he followed the example of Moses, whose final official act was also a call to covenant renewal—of which Deuteronomy is the preserved document.

24:2 Thus says the LORD. Only a divinely appointed mediator would dare to speak for God with direct discourse, as in vv. 2–13. From ancient times. In accordance with the common ancient Near Eastern practice of making treaties (covenants), a brief recital of the past history of the relationship precedes the making of covenant commitments. Joshua here focuses on the separation of Abraham from his polytheistic family, the deliverance of Israel from Egypt and the Lord's establishment of His people in Canaan. the River. See NASB marg.

8 'Then [a]I brought you into the land of the Amorites who lived beyond the Jordan, and they fought with you; and I gave them into your hand, and you took possession of their land when I destroyed them before you.

9 'Then [a]Balak the son of Zippor, king of Moab, arose and fought against Israel, and he sent and summoned Balaam the son of Beor to curse you.

10 'But I [a]was not willing to listen to Balaam. So he had to bless you, and I delivered you from his hand.

11 '[a]You crossed the Jordan and came to Jericho; and the citizens of Jericho fought against you, and [b]the Amorite and the Perizzite and the Canaanite and the Hittite and the Girgashite, the Hivite and the Jebusite. Thus [c]I gave them into your hand.

12 'Then I [a]sent the hornet before you and it [1]drove out the two kings of the Amorites from before you, but [b]not by your sword or your bow.

13 '[a]I gave you a land on which you had not labored, and cities which you had not built, and you have lived in them; you are eating of vineyards and olive groves which you did not plant.'

"We Will Serve the LORD"

14 "Now, therefore, [1][a]fear the LORD and serve Him in sincerity and [2]truth; and put away the gods which your fathers served beyond the [3]River and in Egypt, and serve the LORD.

15 "If it is disagreeable in your sight to serve the LORD, choose for yourselves today whom you will serve: whether the gods which your fathers served which were beyond the River, or [a]the gods of the Amorites in whose land you are living; but as for me and my house, we will serve the LORD."

16 The people answered and said, "Far be it from us that we should forsake the LORD to serve other gods;

17 for the LORD our God is He who brought us and our fathers up out of the land of Egypt, from the house of [1]bondage, and who did these great signs in our sight and preserved us through all the way in which we went and among all the peoples through whose midst we passed.

18 "The LORD drove out from before us all the peoples, even the Amorites who lived in the land. We also will serve the LORD, for He is our God."

19 Then Joshua said to the people, "You will not be able to serve the LORD, [a]for He is a holy God. He is [b]a jealous God; [c]He will not forgive your transgression or your sins.

20 "[a]If you forsake the LORD and serve foreign gods, then He will turn and do you harm and consume you after He has done good to you."

21 The people said to Joshua, "No, but we will serve the LORD."

22 Joshua said to the people, "You are witnesses against yourselves that [a]you have chosen for yourselves the LORD, to serve Him." And they said, "We are witnesses."

23 "Now therefore, put away the foreign gods which are in your midst, and [a]incline your hearts to the LORD, the God of Israel."

24 [a]The people said to Joshua, "We will serve the LORD our God and we will [1]obey His voice."

25 [a]So Joshua made a covenant with the people that day, and made for them a statute and an ordinance in Shechem.

26 And Joshua [a]wrote these words in the book of the law of God; and he took a large stone and set it up there under the oak that was by the sanctuary of the LORD.

24:14 fear the LORD. Trust, serve and worship Him. gods which your fathers served beyond the River and in Egypt. See v. 2. Joshua appealed to the Israelites to put away the gods their forefathers had worshiped in Mesopotamia and Egypt. In Ur and Haran, Terah's family would have been exposed to the worship of the moon-god, Nanna(r) or Sin. The golden calf of Ex 32:4 may be an example of their worship of the gods of Egypt. It was probably patterned after Apis, the sacred bull of Egypt; see note on Ex 32:4. 24:32 bones of Joseph. Returning his bones to Shechem was significant not only because of the ancient plot of land Jacob bought from Hamor (Gen 33:19), but also because Shechem was to be the center of the tribes of Ephraim and Manasseh, the two sons of Joseph. Also, the return fulfilled an oath sworn to Joseph on his deathbed (Gen 50:25; Ex 13:19).

Judges

INTRODUCTION

Title

The title describes the leaders Israel had from the time of the elders who outlived Joshua until the time of the monarchy. Their principal purpose is best expressed in 2:16: "Then the LORD raised up judges, who delivered them from the hands of . . . those who plundered them." Since it was God who permitted the oppressions and raised up deliverers, He Himself was Israel's ultimate Judge and Deliverer (11:27; see 8:23, where Gideon, a judge, insists that the Lord is Israel's true ruler).

Author and Date

Although, according to tradition, Samuel wrote the book, authorship is actually uncertain. It is possible that Samuel assembled some of the accounts from the period of the judges and that such prophets as Nathan and Gad, both of whom were associated with David's court, had a hand in shaping and editing the material (see 1 Chr 29:29).

The date of composition is also unknown, but it was undoubtedly during the monarchy. The frequent expression "In those days there was no king in Israel" (17:6; 18:1; 19:1; 21:25) suggests a date after the establishment of the monarchy. The observation that the Jebusites still controlled Jerusalem (1:21) has been taken to indicate a time before David's capture of the city c. 1000 B.C. (see 2 Sam 5:6–10). But the new conditions in Israel alluded to in chs. 17—21 suggest a time after the Davidic dynasty had been effectively established (tenth century B.C.).

Theme and Theology

The book of Judges describes the life of Israel in the promised land from the death of Joshua to the rise of the monarchy. On the one hand, it is an account of frequent apostasy, provoking divine chastening. On the other hand, it tells of urgent appeals to God in times of crisis, moving the Lord to raise up leaders (judges) through whom He throws off foreign oppressors and restores the land to peace.

After Israel was established in the promised land through the ministry of Joshua, her pilgrimage ended. Many of the covenant promises God had given to the patriarchs in Canaan and to the fathers in the wilderness had now been fulfilled. The Lord's land, where Israel was to enter into rest, lay under her feet; it remained only for her to occupy it, to displace the Canaanites and to cleanse it of paganism. The time had come for Israel to be the kingdom of God in the form of an established commonwealth on earth.

But in Canaan Israel quickly forgot the acts of God that had given her birth and had established her in the land. Consequently she lost sight of her unique identity as God's people, chosen and called to be His army and the loyal citizens of His emerging kingdom. She settled down and attached herself to Canaan's peoples, morals, gods, and religious beliefs and practices as readily as to Canaan's agriculture and social life.

Throughout Judges the fundamental issue is the lordship of God in Israel—i.e., Israel's acknowledgment of and loyalty to His rule. His kingship over Israel had been uniquely established by the covenant at Sinai (Ex 19—24), which was later renewed by Moses on the plains of Moab (Deut 29) and by Joshua at Shechem (Josh 24). The author accuses Israel of having rejected the kingship of the Lord again and again. She stopped fighting the Lord's battles, turned to the gods of Canaan to secure the blessings of family, flocks and fields, and abandoned God's laws for daily living. In the very center of the cycle of the judges (see Outline), Gideon had to remind Israel that the Lord was her King (see note on 8:23). The recurring lament, and indictment, of chs. 17—21 (see Outline) is: "In those days there was no king in Israel; every man did what was right in his own eyes" (see note on 17:6). The primary reference here is doubtless to the earthly mediators of the Lord's rule (i.e., human kings), but the implicit charge is that Israel did not truly acknowledge or obey her heavenly King either.

Only by the Lord's sovereign use of foreign oppression to chasten His people — thereby implementing the covenant curses (see Lev 26:14–45; Deut 28:15–68) — and by His raising up deliverers when His people cried out to Him did He maintain His kingship in Israel and preserve the embryonic kingdom from extinction. Israel's flawed condition was graphically exposed; she continued to need new saving acts by God in order to enter into the promised rest (see note on Josh 1:13).

Out of the recurring cycles of disobedience, foreign oppression, cries of distress, and deliverance (see 2:11–19; Neh 9:26–31) emerges another important theme — the covenant faithfulness of the Lord. The amazing patience and long-suffering of God are no better demonstrated than during this unsettled period.

Remarkably, this age of Israel's failure, following directly on the redemptive events that came through Moses and Joshua, is in a special way the OT age of the Spirit. God's Spirit enabled men to accomplish feats of victory in the Lord's holy war against the powers that threatened His kingdom (see 3:10; 6:34; 11:29; 13:25; 14:6,19; 15:14; see also 1 Sam 10:6,10; 11:6; 16:13). This same Spirit, poured out on the church following the redemptive work of the second Joshua (Jesus), empowered the people of the Lord to begin the task of preaching the gospel to all nations and of advancing the kingdom of God (see notes on Acts 1:2,8).

Background

Fixing precise dates for the judges is difficult and complex. The dating system followed here is based primarily on 1 Kin 6:1, which speaks of an interval of 480 years between the exodus and the fourth year of Solomon's reign. This would place the exodus c. 1446 B.C. and the period of the judges between c. 1380 and the rise of Saul, c. 1050. Jephthah's statement that Israel had occupied Heshbon for 300 years (11:26) generally agrees with these dates.

Some maintain, however, that the number 480 in 1 Kin 6:1 is somewhat artificial, arrived at by multiplying 12 (perhaps in reference to the 12 judges) by 40 (a conventional number of years for a generation). They point out the frequent use of the round numbers 10, 20, 40 and 80 in the book of Judges itself. A later date for the exodus would of course require a much shorter period of time for the judges (see Introduction to Exodus: Chronology).

Literary Features

Even a quick reading of Judges discloses its basic threefold division: (1) a prologue (1:1 — 3:6), (2) a main body (3:7 — 16:31) and (3) an epilogue (chs. 17 — 21). Closer study brings to light a more complex structure, with interwoven themes that bind the whole into an intricately designed portrayal of the character of an age.

The prologue (1:1 — 3:6) has two parts, and each serves a different purpose. They are not chronologically related, nor does either offer a strict chronological scheme of the time as a whole. The first part (1:1 — 2:5) sets the stage historically for the narratives that follow. It describes Israel's occupation of the promised land — from her initial success to her large-scale failure and divine rebuke.

The second part (2:6 — 3:6) indicates a basic perspective on the period from the time of Joshua to the rise of the monarchy, a time characterized by recurring cycles of apostasy, oppression, cries of distress and gracious divine deliverance. The author summarizes and explains the Lord's dealings with his rebellious people and introduces some of the basic vocabulary and formulas he will use in the later narratives: "did evil in the sight of the LORD," 2:11 (see 3:7,12; 4:1; 6:1; 10:6); "gave them into the hands of," 2:14 (see 6:1; 13:1); and "sold them," 2:14 (see 3:8; 4:2; 10:7).

The main body of the book (3:7 — 16:31), which gives the actual accounts of the recurring cycles (apostasy, oppression, distress, deliverance), has its own unique design. Each cycle has a similar beginning ("The sons of Israel did what was evil in the sight of the LORD"; see note on 3:7) and a recognizable conclusion ("the land had rest . . . years" or "judged Israel . . . years"; see note on 3:11). The first of these cycles (Othniel; see 3:7–11 and note) provides the "report form" used for each successive story of oppression and deliverance.

The remaining five cycles form the following narrative units, built around the rest of the major judges:

1. Ehud (3:12–30), a lone hero from the tribe of Benjamin who delivers Israel from oppression from the east.

2. Deborah (chs. 4—5), a woman from one of the Joseph tribes (Ephraim, west of the Jordan) who judges at a time when Israel is being overrun by a coalition of Canaanites under Sisera.

3. Gideon and his son Abimelech (chs. 6—9), who form the central account. In many ways Gideon is the ideal judge, evoking memory of Moses, while his son is the very antithesis of a responsible and faithful judge.

4. Jephthah (10:6—12:7), a social outcast from the other Joseph tribe (Manasseh, east of the Jordan) who judges at a time when Israel is being threatened by a coalition of powers under the king of Ammon.

5. Samson (chs. 13—16), a lone hero from the tribe of Dan who delivers Israel from oppression from the west.

The arrangement of these narrative units is significant. The central accounts of Gideon (the Lord's ideal judge) and Abimelech (the anti-judge) are bracketed by the parallel narratives of the woman Deborah and the social outcast Jephthah—which in turn are framed by the stories of the lone heroes Ehud and Samson. In this way even the structure focuses attention on the crucial issue of the period of the judges: Israel's attraction to the Baals of Canaan (shown by Abimelech; see note on 9:1–57) versus the Lord's kingship over His people (encouraged by Gideon; see note on 8:23).

The epilogue (chs. 17—21) characterizes the era in yet another way, depicting religious and moral corruption on the part of individuals, cities and tribes. Like the introduction, it has two divisions that are neither chronologically related nor expressly dated to the careers of specific judges. The events must have taken place, however, rather early in the period of the judges (see notes on 18:30; 20:1,28).

By dating the events of the epilogue only in relationship to the monarchy (see the recurring refrain in 17:6; 18:1; 19:1; 21:25), the author contrasts the age of the judges with the better time that the monarchy inaugurated, undoubtedly having in view the rule of David and his dynasty (see note on 17:1—21:25). The book mentions two instances of the Lord's assigning leadership to the tribe of Judah: (1) in driving out the Canaanites (1:1–2), and (2) in disciplining a tribe in Israel (20:18). The author views the ruler from the tribe of Judah as the savior of the nation.

The first division of the epilogue (chs. 17—18) relates the story of Micah's development of a paganized place of worship and tells of the tribe of Dan abandoning their allotted territory while adopting Micah's corrupted religion. The second division (chs. 19—21) tells the story of a Levite's sad experience at Gibeah in Benjamin and records the disciplinary removal of the tribe of Benjamin because it had defended the degenerate town of Gibeah.

The two divisions have several interesting parallels:

1. Both involve a Levite's passing between Bethlehem (in Judah) and Ephraim across the Benjamin-Dan corridor.

2. Both mention 600 warriors—those who led the tribe of Dan and those who survived from the tribe of Benjamin.

3. Both conclude with the emptying of a tribal area in that corridor (Dan and Benjamin).

Not only are these Benjamin-Dan parallels significant within the epilogue, but they also form a notable link to the main body of the book. The tribe of Benjamin, which in the epilogue undertook to defend gross immorality, setting ties of blood above loyalty to the Lord, was the tribe from which the Lord raised up the deliverer Ehud (3:15). The tribe of Dan, which in the epilogue retreated from its assigned inheritance and adopted pagan religious practices, was the tribe from which the Lord raised up the deliverer Samson (13:2,5). Thus the tribes that in the epilogue depict the religious and moral corruption of Israel are the very tribes from which the deliverers were chosen whose stories frame the central account of the book (Gideon-Abimelech).

The whole design of the book from prologue to epilogue, the unique manner in which each section deals with the age as a whole, and the way the three major divisions are interrelated clearly portray an age gone awry—an age when "there was no king in Israel" and "every man did what was right in his own eyes" (see note on 17:6). Of no small significance is the fact that the story is in episodes and cycles. It is given as the story of all Israel, though usually only certain areas are directly involved. The book portrays the centuries after Joshua as a time of Israelite unfaithfulness to the Lord and of her surrender to the allurements of Canaan. Only by the mercies of God was Israel not overwhelmed and absorbed by the pagan nations around her. Meanwhile, however, the history of redemption virtually stood still—awaiting the forward thrust of the Lord's servant David and the establishment of his dynasty.

Jerusalem Is Captured

1 Now it came about after the death of Joshua that the sons of Israel [a]inquired of the LORD, saying, "Who shall go up first for us [b]against the Canaanites, to fight against them?"

2 The LORD said, "[a]Judah shall go up; behold, I have given the land into his hand."

3 Then Judah said to Simeon his brother, "Come up with me into [1]the territory allotted me, that we may fight against the Canaanites; and [2]I in turn will go with you into [3]the territory allotted you." So Simeon went with him.

4 Judah went up, and [a]the LORD gave the Canaanites and the Perizzites into their hands, and they [1]defeated ten thousand men at Bezek.

5 They found Adoni-bezek in Bezek and fought against him, and they [1]defeated the Canaanites and the Perizzites.

6 But Adoni-bezek fled; and they pursued him and caught him and cut off his [1]thumbs and big toes.

7 Adoni-bezek said, "Seventy kings with their thumbs and their big toes cut off used to gather up scraps under my table; [a]as I have done, so God has repaid me." So they brought him to Jerusalem and he died there.

8 Then the sons of Judah fought against [a]Jerusalem and captured it and struck it with the edge of the sword and set the city on fire.

9 Afterward the sons of Judah went down to fight against the Canaanites living in the hill country and in the [1]Negev and in the lowland.

10 [a]So Judah went against the Canaanites who lived in Hebron (now the name of Hebron formerly was Kiriath-arba); and they struck Sheshai and Ahiman and Talmai.

Capture of Other Cities

11 Then [a]from there he went against the inhabitants of Debir (now the name of Debir formerly was Kiriath-sepher).

12 And Caleb said, "The one who attacks Kiriath-sepher and captures it, I will even give him my daughter Achsah for a wife."

13 [a]Othniel the son of Kenaz, Caleb's younger brother, captured it; so he gave him his daughter Achsah for a wife.

14 Then [a]it came about when she came to him, that she persuaded him to ask her father for a field. Then she alighted from [1]her donkey, and Caleb said to her, "What [2]do you want?"

15 She said to him, "Give me a blessing, since you have given me the land of the [1]Negev, give me also springs of water." So Caleb gave her the upper springs and the lower springs.

1:1–3:6 An introduction in two parts: (1) an account of Israel's failure to lay claim completely to the promised land as the Lord had directed (1:1–36) and of His rebuke for their disloyalty (2:1–5); (2) an overview of the main body of the book (3:7–16:31), portraying Israel's rebellious ways in the centuries after Joshua's death and showing how the Lord dealt with her in that period (2:6–3:6). See Introduction: Literary Features.

1:1–36 Judah is assigned leadership in occupying the land (v. 2; see 20:18). Her vigorous efforts (together with those of Simeon) highlight by contrast the sad story of failure that follows. Only Ephraim's success at Bethel (vv. 22–26) breaks the monotony of that story.

1:1 after the death of Joshua. The book of Judges, like that of Joshua, tells of an era following the death of a leading figure in the history of redemption (see Josh 1:1). Joshua probably died c. 1390 B.C. The battles under his leadership broke the power of the Canaanites to drive the Israelites out of the land. The task that now confronted Israel was the actual occupation of Canaanite territory (see notes on Josh 18:3; 21:43–45). inquired of the LORD. Probably by the priestly use of Urim and Thummim (see notes on Ex 28:30; 1 Sam 2:28). go up. The main Israelite encampment was at Gilgal, near Jericho in the Jordan Valley (about 800 feet below sea level), while the Canaanite cities were mainly located in the central hill country (about 2,500–3,500 feet above sea level).

1:2 Judah shall go up. See 20:18. Judah was also the first to be assigned territory west of the Jordan (Josh 15). The leadership role of the tribe of Judah had been anticipated in the blessing of Jacob (Gen 49:8–12).

1:3 Simeon. Joshua assigned to Simeon cities within the territory of Judah (Josh 19:1,9; see Gen 49:5–7).

1:4 Canaanites. See note on Gen 10:6. Perizzites. See note on Gen 13:7. Bezek. Location unknown. Saul marshaled his army there before going to Jabesh-gilead (1 Sam 11:8).

1:5 Adoni-bezek. Means "lord of Bezek."

1:6 cut off his thumbs and big toes. Physically mutilating prisoners of war was a common practice in the ancient Near East (see note on 16:21). It rendered them unfit for military service.

1:7 Seventy kings. Canaan was made up of many small city-states, each of which was ruled by a king. "Seventy" may be a round number, or it may be symbolic of a large number. under my table. Humiliating treatment, like that given to a dog (see Matt 15:27; Luke 16:21). God has repaid me. See note on Ex 21:23–25.

1:8 fought against Jerusalem. Although the city was defeated, it was not occupied by the Israelites at this time (see v. 21). Israel did not permanently control the city until David captured it c. 1000 B.C. (2 Sam 5:6–10).

1:10 Kiriath-arba. See note on Josh 14:15.

1:11 Debir. See note on Josh 10:38.

1:12 Caleb. He and Joshua had brought back an optimistic report about the prospects of conquering Canaan (Num 14:6–9). daughter . . . for a wife. Victory in battle was one way to pay the bride-price for a girl (see 1 Sam 18:25).

1:13 Othniel. First major judge (see 3:7–11).

1:15 upper . . . lower springs. They still water the local farms in Hebron.

1:16 Moses' father-in-law. See note on Ex 2:16.

1:17 Judah . . . Simeon. Judah was fulfilling her commitment (v. 3).

18 And Judah took [a]Gaza with its territory and Ashkelon with its territory and Ekron with its territory.

19 Now the LORD was with Judah, and they took possession of the hill country; but they could not [1]drive out the inhabitants of the valley because they had [a]iron chariots.

20 Then they gave Hebron to Caleb, [a]as Moses had [1]promised; and he drove out from there [b]the three sons of Anak.

21 [a]But the sons of Benjamin did not drive out the [b]Jebusites who lived in Jerusalem; so the Jebusites have lived with the sons of Benjamin in Jerusalem to this day.

22 Likewise the house of Joseph went up against Bethel, and the LORD was with them.

23 The house of Joseph spied out Bethel ([a]now the name of the city was formerly Luz).

24 The spies saw a man coming out of the city and they said to him, "Please show us the entrance to the city and [a]we will treat you kindly."

25 So he showed them the entrance to the city, and they struck the city with the edge of 1:18 Gaza . . . Ashkelon . . . Ekron. Three of the five main cities inhabited by the Philistines (see map below).

1:19 could not drive out the inhabitants. Israel failed to comply with God's commands (Deut 7:1–5; 20:16–18) to drive the Canaanites out of the land. Five factors were involved in that failure: (1) The Canaanites possessed superior weapons (v. 19); (2) Israel disobeyed God by making treaties with the Canaanites (2:1–3); (3) Israel violated the covenant the Lord had made with their forefathers (2:20–21); (4) God was testing Israel's faithfulness to obey His commands (2:22–23; 3:4); (5) God was giving Israel, as His army, the opportunity to develop her skills in warfare (3:1–2). iron chariots. Wooden vehicles with certain iron fittings, perhaps axles.

1:20 as Moses had promised. See Num 14:24; Deut 1:36; Josh 14:9–14. Anak. See note on Num 13:22.

1:21 sons of Benjamin did not drive out. See note on v. 8. Jerusalem lay on the border between Benjamin and Judah but was allotted to Benjamin (Josh 18:28). Jebusites. See note on Gen 10:16.

1:22 house of Joseph. Ephraim and West Manasseh. Bethel. See note on Gen 12:8. There is archaeological evidence of a destruction in the 13th century B.C. that may reflect the battle mentioned in this verse.

1:23 spied out. See note on Num 13:2.

Five Cities of the Philistines

Like a string of opulent pearls along the Mediterranean coast, the five cities of the Philistines comprise a litany of familiar Biblical names: Gaza, Ashkelon, Ashdod, Ekron and Gath.

Each was a commercial emporium with important connections reaching as far as Egypt along the coastal route, the "interstate highway" of the ancient world. The ships of Phoenicia, Cyprus, Crete and the Aegean called at Philistia's seaports, which included a site today called Tell Qasile, where a Philistine temple has been found, on the Yarkon River just north of modern Tel Aviv.

The Philistine plain itself was an arid, loess-covered lowland bordering on the desert to the south—a stretch of undulating sand dunes adjacent to the sea—and the foothills of the Judahite plateau on the east. No area in Biblical history was more frequently contested than the western foothills (the Shephelah region), lying on the border between Judea and Philistia. Beth-shemesh, Timnah, Azekah and Ziklag were among the towns coveted by both Israelites and Philistines, and they figure in the stories of Samson, Goliath and David.

The area to the north of Philistia, the plain of Sharon, was also contested at various periods: During Saul's reign the Philistines even held Beth-shan and the Esdraelon valley. Later, from about the time of Baasha on, a long border war was conducted by the Israelites at Gibbethon. Originally a part of Judah's tribal allotment, the coastal area was never totally wrested away from the Philistines, who may have begun their occupation as early as the time of Abraham.

the sword, [a]but they let the man and all his family go free.

26 The man went into the land of the Hittites and built a city and named it Luz [1]which is its name to this day.

Places Not Conquered

27 [a]But Manasseh did not take possession of Beth-shean and its villages, or Taanach and its villages, or the inhabitants of Dor and its villages, or the inhabitants of Ibleam and its villages, or the inhabitants of Megiddo and its villages; so [b]the Canaanites persisted in living in that land.

28 It came about when Israel became strong, that they put the Canaanites to forced labor, but they did not drive them out completely.

29 [a]Ephraim did not drive out the Canaanites who were living in Gezer; so the Canaanites lived in Gezer among them.

30 Zebulun did not drive out the inhabitants of Kitron, or the inhabitants of [1]Nahalol; so the Canaanites lived among them and became subject to forced labor.

31 Asher did not drive out the inhabitants of Acco, or the inhabitants of Sidon, or of Ahlab, or of Achzib, or of Helbah, or of Aphik, or of Rehob.

32 So the Asherites lived among the Canaanites, the inhabitants of the land; for they did not drive them out.

33 Naphtali did not drive out the inhabitants of Beth-shemesh, or the inhabitants of Beth-anath, but lived among the Canaanites, the inhabitants of the land; and the inhabitants of Beth-shemesh and Beth-anath became forced labor for them.

34 Then the Amorites [1]forced the sons of Dan into the hill country, for they did not allow them to come down to the valley;

36 The border of the Amorites ran from the [a]ascent of Akrabbim, from Sela and upward.

Israel Rebuked

2 Now [a]the angel of the LORD came up from Gilgal to [b]Bochim. And he said, "[c]I brought you up out of Egypt and led you into the land which I have sworn to your fathers; and I said, '[d]I will never break My covenant with you,

2 and as for you, [a]you shall make no covenant with the inhabitants of this land; [b]you shall tear down their altars.' But you have not [1]obeyed Me; what is this you have done?

3 "Therefore I also said, '[a]I will not drive them out before you; but they will [1]become [b]as thorns in your sides and their gods will be a snare to you.' "

4 When the angel of the LORD spoke these words to all the sons of Israel, the people lifted up their voices and wept.

5 So they named that place [1]Bochim; and there they sacrificed to the LORD.

Joshua Dies

6 [a]When Joshua had dismissed the people, the sons of Israel went each to his inheritance to possess the land.

7 The people served the LORD all the days of Joshua, and all the days of the elders who [1]survived Joshua, who had seen all the great work of the LORD which He had done for Israel.

8 Then Joshua the son of Nun, the servant of the LORD, died at the age of one hundred and ten.

1:25 let the man . . . go free. Cf. the treatment of Rahab (Josh 6:25).

1:26 land of the Hittites. A name for Aram (Syria) at the time of the conquest (see note on Gen 10:15).

1:27–29 See Josh 17:16–18.

1:28 forced labor. See note on 1 Kin 5:13.

1:33 Beth-shemesh. Location unknown. The name means "house of the sun(-god)." There was also a Beth-shemesh in Judah (see note on v. 35). Beth-anath. Means "house of (the goddess) Anath" (see note on 3:31).

1:34 Amorites. See note on Gen 10:16. forced the sons of Dan. Joshua had defeated the Amorites earlier (Josh 10:5–11), but they were still strong enough to withstand the Danites. For this reason a large number of Danites migrated northward a short time later (see ch. 18).

1:35 Mount Heres. Means "mountain of the sun(-god)"; probably the Beth-shemesh in Judah, which is also called Ir-shemesh, "city of the sun(-god)" (Josh 19:41).

1:36 border of the Amorites. Their southern boundary (see Josh 15:2–3).

2:1–5 Because Israel had not zealously laid claim to the land as the Lord had directed (see 1:27–36), He withdrew His helping hand. On this note the first half of the introduction ends. Although the actual time of the Lord's rebuke is not indicated, it was probably early in the period of the judges and may even have been connected with the event in Josh 9 (or possibly Josh 18:1–3).

2:1 angel of the LORD. See note on Gen 16:7. The role of the angel of the Lord in this passage parallels that of the unnamed prophet in 6:8–10 and the word of the Lord in 10:11–14, calling His people to account. Gilgal. The place where Israel first became established in the land under Joshua (see Josh 4:19–5:12). out of Egypt. The theme of Exodus, frequently referred to as the supreme evidence of God's redemptive love for His people (see Ex 20:2). sworn. See Gen 15:18; see also note on Heb 6:13.

2:2 make no covenant. To have done so would have broken their covenant with the Lord (see Ex 23:32).

2:6–3:6 The second half of the introduction continues the narrative of Josh 24:28–31. It is a preliminary survey of the accounts narrated in Judg 3:7–16:31, showing that Israel's first centuries in the promised land are a recurring cycle of apostasy, oppression, cries of distress and gracious deliverance (see Introduction: Literary Features). The author reminds Israel that she will enjoy God's promised rest in the promised land only when she is loyal to Him and to His covenant.

2:6 possess the land. See note on 1:1.

2:8 servant of the LORD. Joshua is identified as the Lord's official representative (see notes on Ex 14:31; Ps 18 title; Is 41:8–9;

9 And they buried him in the territory of [a]his inheritance in Timnath-heres, in the hill country of Ephraim, north of Mount Gaash.

10 All that generation also were gathered to their fathers; and there arose another generation after them who [a]did not know the LORD, nor yet the work which He had done for Israel.

Israel Serves Baals

11 Then the sons of Israel did [a]evil in the sight of the LORD and [1]served the [b]Baals,

12 and [a]they forsook the LORD, the God of their fathers, who had brought them out of the land of Egypt, and followed other gods from among the gods of the peoples who were around them, and bowed themselves down to them; thus they provoked the LORD to anger.

13 So they forsook the LORD and [a]served Baal and the Ashtaroth.

14 [a]The anger of the LORD burned against Israel, and He gave them into the hands of plunderers who plundered them; and [b]He sold them into the hands of their enemies around them, so that they could no longer stand before their enemies.

15 Wherever they went, the hand of the LORD was against them for evil, as the LORD had spoken and [a]as the LORD had sworn to them, so that they were severely distressed.

16 [a]Then the LORD raised up judges [1]who delivered them from the hands of those who plundered them.

17 Yet they did not listen to their judges, for they played the harlot after other gods and bowed themselves down to them. They turned aside quickly from the way [a]in which their fathers had walked in obeying the commandments of the LORD; they did not do as their fathers.

18 When the LORD raised up judges for them, [a]the LORD was with the judge and delivered them from the hand of their enemies all the days of the judge; for the LORD was [b]moved to pity by their groaning because of those who oppressed and afflicted them.

19 But it came about when the judge died, that they would turn back and act more corruptly than their fathers, in following other gods to serve them and bow down to them; they did not abandon their practices or their stubborn ways.

20 [a]So the anger of the LORD burned against Israel, and He said, "Because this nation has transgressed My covenant which I commanded their fathers and has not listened to My voice,

21 [a]I also will no longer drive out before them any of the nations which Joshua left when he died,

22 in order to [a]test Israel by them, whether they will keep the way of the LORD to walk in it as their fathers [1]did, or not."

23 So the LORD allowed those nations to remain, not driving them out quickly; and He did not give them into the hand of Joshua.

2:10–15 The Lord withdraws His help because of Israel's apostasy. He "sells" the people He had "bought" (Ex 15:16) and redeemed (Ex 15:13; cf. Ps 74:2).

2:10 gathered to their fathers. See Gen 15:15; see also note on Gen 25:8. who did not know the LORD . . . Israel. They had no direct experience of the Lord's acts (see Ex 1:8).

2:11 did evil in the sight of the LORD. The same expression is used in 3:7,12; 4:1; 6:1; 10:6. Baals. The many local forms of this Canaanite deity (see note on v. 13).

2:12 provoked the LORD to anger. See Deut 4:25; see also note on Zec 1:2.

2:13 Baal. Means "lord." Baal, the god worshiped by the Canaanites and Phoenicians, was variously known to them as the son of Dagon and the son of El. In Aram (Syria) he was called Hadad and in Babylonia Adad. Believed to give fertility to the womb and life-giving rain to the soil, he is pictured as standing on a bull, a popular symbol of fertility and strength (see 1 Kin 12:28). The storm cloud was his chariot, thunder his voice, and lightning his spear and arrows. The worship of Baal involved sacred prostitution and sometimes even child sacrifice (see Jer 19:5). The stories of Elijah and Elisha (1 Kin 17–2 Kin 13), as well as many other OT passages, directly or indirectly protest Baalism (e.g., Ps 29:3–9; 68:1–4,32–34; 93:1–5; 97:1–5; Jer 10:12–16; 14:22; Hos 2:8,16–17; Amos 5:8). Ashtaroth. Female deities such as Ashtoreth (consort of Baal) and Asherah (consort of El, the chief god of the Canaanite pantheon). Ashtoreth was associated with the evening star and was the beautiful goddess of war and fertility. She was worshiped as Ishtar in Babylonia and as Athtart in Aram. To the Greeks she was Astarte or Aphrodite, and to the Romans, Venus. Worship of the Ashtoreths involved extremely lascivious practices (1 Kin 14:24; 2 Kin 23:7).

2:14 gave them into the hands of. The same expression is used in 6:1; 13:1. sold them. The same expression is used in 3:8; 4:2; 10:7.

2:16–19 The Lord was merciful to His people in times of distress, sending deliverers to save them from oppression. But Israel continually forgot these saving acts, just as she had those He had performed through Moses and Joshua.

2:16 judges. See Introduction: Title. There were six major judges (Othniel, Ehud, Deborah, Gideon, Jephthah and Samson) and six minor ones (Shamgar, Tola, Jair, Ibzan, Elon and Abdon).

2:17 played the harlot. Since the Hebrew for Baal (meaning "lord") was also used by women to refer to their husbands, it is understandable that the metaphor of adultery was commonly used in connection with Israelite worship of Baal (see Hos 2:2–3,16–17).

2:18 groaning . . . oppressed. The language of the Egyptian bondage (see Ex 2:24; 3:9; 6:5).

2:20–23 The Lord decided to leave the remaining nations to test Israel's loyalty.

3:1–6 The list of nations the Lord left roughly describes an arc along the western and northern boundaries of the area actu-

4 They were for [1][a]testing Israel, to find out if they would [2]obey the commandments of the LORD, which He had commanded their fathers [3]through Moses.

5 [a]The sons of Israel lived among the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Amorites, the Perizzites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites;

6 and [a]they took their daughters for themselves as wives, and gave their own daughters to their sons, and served their gods.

7 The sons of Israel did [a]what was evil in the sight of the LORD, and [b]forgot the LORD their God and [c]served the Baals and the [1]Asheroth.

8 Then the anger of the LORD was kindled against Israel, so that He sold them into the hands of Cushan-rishathaim king of [1]Mesopotamia; and the sons of Israel served Cushan-rishathaim eight years.

The First Judge Delivers Israel

9 When the sons of Israel cried to the LORD, the LORD raised up a deliverer for the sons of Israel to deliver them, [a]Othniel the son of Kenaz, Caleb's younger brother.

10 [a]The Spirit of the LORD came upon him, and he judged Israel. When he went out to war, the LORD gave Cushan-rishathaim king of [1]Mesopotamia into his hand, so that [2]he prevailed over Cushan-rishathaim.

11 Then the land had rest forty years. And Othniel the son of Kenaz died.

12 Now the sons of Israel again [a]did evil in the sight of the LORD. So [b]the LORD strengthened Eglon the king of Moab against Israel, because they had done evil in the sight of the LORD.

13 And he gathered to himself the sons of Ammon and Amalek; and he went and [1]defeated Israel, and they possessed [a]the city of the palm trees.

14 The sons of Israel served Eglon the king of Moab eighteen years.

Ehud Delivers from Moab

15 But when the sons of Israel [a]cried to the LORD, the LORD raised up a deliverer for them, Ehud the son of Gera, the Benjamite, a left-handed man. And the sons of Israel sent tribute by [1]him to Eglon the king of Moab.

16 Ehud made himself a sword which had two edges, a cubit in length, and he bound it on his right thigh under his cloak.

ally occupied by Israel at the death of Joshua (vv. 1–4). Within Israelite-occupied territory there were large groups of native peoples (v. 5; see 1:27–36) with whom the Israelites intermingled, often adopting their religions (v. 6).

3:2 might be taught war. As His covenant servant, Israel was the Lord's army for fighting against the powers of the world that were settled in His land. In view of the incomplete conquest, succeeding generations in Israel needed to become capable warriors. "Only" probably here means "especially."

3:3 five lords. The Hebrew for "lords" is related to the word "tyrant" (see note on Josh 13:3) and is used only of Philistine rulers. These rulers had control of a five-city confederacy. At one point Judah defeated three of these cities (1:18) but was unable to hold them. Sidonians. Here used collectively of the Phoenicians. Hivites. Here identified with a region in northern Canaan reaching all the way to Hamath (see also Josh 11:3). Mount Baal-hermon. Probably Mount Hermon (see 1 Chr 5:23).

3:6 took their daughters . . . and served their gods. See note on Josh 23:12. The degenerating effect of such intermarriage is well illustrated in Solomon's experience (1 Kin 11:1–8).

3:7–11 In the account of Othniel's judgeship the author provides the basic literary form he uses in his accounts of the major judges (i.e., beginning statement; cycle of apostasy, oppression, distress, deliverance; recognizable conclusion), adding only the brief details necessary to complete the report (see Introduction: Literary Features).

3:7 did . . . evil in the sight of the LORD. A recurring expression (see v. 12; 4:1; 6:1; 10:6; 13:1) used to introduce the cycles of the judges (see Introduction: Literary Features). Baals. See note on 2:13. Asheroth. See notes on 2:13; Ex 34:13.

3:8 Cushan-rishathaim. Probably means "doubly wicked Cushan," perhaps a caricature of his actual name (see note on 10:6 regarding Baal-zebub). Mesopotamia. See note on Gen 24:10.

3:9 Israel cried to the LORD. The Israelites' cries of distress occurred in each recurring cycle of the judges (see Introduction: Literary Features). Othniel. See 1:13.

3:10 Spirit of the LORD came upon him. The Spirit empowered Othniel to deliver His people, as He did Gideon (6:34), Jephthah (11:29), Samson (14:6,19) and also David (1 Sam 16:13). Cf. Num 11:25–29.

3:11 the land had rest . . . years. A recognizable conclusion to the cycle of a judge (noted only here and in v. 30; 5:31; 8:28). After the judgeship of Gideon this formula is replaced by "judged Israel . . . years" (12:7; 15:20; 16:31). See Introduction: Literary Features. forty years. A conventional number of years for a generation (see Introduction: Background).

3:12–30 Ehud's triumph over Eglon king of Moab. The left-handed Benjamite was an authentic hero. All alone, and purely by his wits, he cut down the king of Moab, who had established himself in Canaan near Jericho. This account balances that of Samson in the five narrative units central to the book of Judges (see Introduction: Literary Features).

3:12 Moab. See note on Gen 19:36–38.

3:13 sons of Ammon. See note on Gen 19:33. sons of . . . Amalek. These descendants of Esau (Gen 36:12,16) lived in the Negev (Num 13:29). See note on Gen 14:7.

3:14 sons of Israel. Here mainly Benjamin and Ephraim.

3:15 left-handed man. Left-handedness was noteworthy among Benjamites (see 20:15–16)—which is ironic since Benjamin means "son of (my) right hand." Being left-handed, Ehud could conceal his dagger on the side where it was not expected (see v. 21). tribute. An annual payment, perhaps of agricultural products (cf. 2Ki 3:4).

3:16 a sword which had two edges. During the period of the judges, Israelite weapons were often fashioned or improvised for the occasion: Shamgar's oxgoad (v. 31), Jael's tent peg (4:22), Gideon's jars and torches (7:20), the woman's millstone (9:53) and Samson's donkey jawbone (15:15). See 1 Sam 13:19.

17 He presented the tribute to Eglon king of Moab. Now Eglon was a very fat man.
18 It came about when he had finished presenting the tribute, that he sent away the people who had carried the tribute.
19 But he himself turned back from the idols which were at Gilgal, and said, "I have a secret message for you, O king." And he said, "Keep silence." And all who attended him left him.
20 Ehud came to him while he was sitting alone in his cool roof chamber. And Ehud said, "I have a message from God for you." And he arose from his seat.
21 Ehud stretched out his left hand, took the sword from his right thigh and thrust it into his belly.
22 The handle also went in after the blade, and the fat closed over the blade, for he did not draw the sword out of his belly; and the refuse came out.
23 Then Ehud went out into the vestibule and shut the doors of the roof chamber behind him, and locked them.
24 When he had gone out, his servants came and looked, and behold, the doors of the roof chamber were locked; and they said, "[a]He is only [1]relieving himself in the cool room."
25 They waited until they [1]became anxious; but behold, he did not open the doors of the roof chamber. Therefore they took the key and opened them, and behold, their master had fallen to the [2]floor dead.
26 Now Ehud escaped while they were delaying, and he passed by the idols and escaped to Seirah.

27 It came about when he had arrived, that [a]he blew the trumpet in the hill country of Ephraim; and the sons of Israel went down with him from the hill country, and he was in front of them.
28 He said to them, "Pursue them, for the LORD has given your enemies the Moabites into your hands." So they went down after him and seized [a]the fords of the Jordan opposite Moab, and did not allow anyone to cross.
29 They struck down at that time about ten thousand Moabites, all robust and valiant men; and no one escaped.
30 So Moab was subdued that day under the hand of Israel. And the land was undisturbed for eighty years.

Shamgar Delivers from Philistines

31 After him came [a]Shamgar the son of Anath, who struck down six hundred Philistines with an oxgoad; and he also saved Israel.

Deborah and Barak Deliver from Canaanites

4 Then [a]the sons of Israel again did evil in the sight of the LORD, after Ehud died.
2 And the LORD sold them into the hand of [a]Jabin king of Canaan, who reigned in Hazor; and the commander of his army was Sisera, who lived in [b]Harosheth-hagoyim.
3 The sons of Israel cried to the LORD; for he had nine hundred [a]iron chariots, and he oppressed the sons of Israel severely for twenty years.
4 Now Deborah, a [1]prophetess, the wife of Lappidoth, was judging Israel at that time.

3:19 idols. Lit."carved (stone) things," a frequent Hebrew word for stone idols. But here the reference may be to carved stone statues of Eglon, marking the boundary of the territory he now claims as part of his expanded realm—a common practice in the ancient Near East.

3:20 roof chamber. Rooms were built on the flat roofs of houses (2 Kin 4:10–11) and palaces (Jer 22:13–14), and had latticed windows (2 Kin 1:2) that provided comfort in the heat of summer.

3:28 seized the fords. This move prevented the Moabites from sending reinforcements and also enabled the Israelites to cut off the Moabites fleeing Jericho.

3:30 eighty years. Round numbers are frequently used in Judges (see Introduction: Background).

3:31 Shamgar. The first of six minor judges and a contemporary of Deborah (see 5:6–7). His name is foreign, so he was probably not an Israelite. son of Anath. Indicates either that Shamgar came from the town of Beth-anath (see 1:33) or that his family worshiped the goddess Anath. Since Anath, Baal's sister, was a goddess of war who fought for Baal, the expression "son of Anath" may have been a military title, meaning "a warrior." oxgoad. A long, wooden rod, sometimes having a metal tip, used for driving draft animals (see 1 Sam 13:21).

4:1–5:31 Deborah's triumph over Sisera (commander of a Canaanite army)—first narrated in prose (ch. 4), then celebrated in song (ch. 5). At the time of the Canaanite threat from the north, Israel remained incapable of united action until a woman (Deborah) summoned them to the Lord's battle. Because the warriors of Israel lacked the courage to rise up and face the enemy, the glory of victory went to a woman (Jael)—and she may not have been an Israelite.

4:1–2 Except for the Canaanites, Israel's enemies came from outside the territory she occupied. Nations like Mespotamia, Moab, Midian and Ammon were mainly interested in plunder, but the Canaanite uprising of chs. 4–5 was an attempt to restore Canaanite power in the north. The Philistines engaged in continual struggle with Israel for permanent control of the land in the southern and central regions.

4:2 Jabin. See Ps 83:9–10. The name was possibly royal rather than personal. Joshua is credited with having earlier slain a king by the same name (Josh 11:1,10). Hazor. The original royal city of the Jabin dynasty; it may still have been in ruins (see note on Josh 11:10). Sisera sought to recover the territory once ruled by the kings of Hazor. Sisera. His name suggests he was not a Canaanite.

4:3 nine hundred. The number probably represents a coalition rather than the chariot force of one city. In the 15th century B.C., Pharaoh Thutmose III boasted of having captured 924 chariots at the battle of Megiddo. sons of Israel. Mainly Zebulun and Naphtali, but West Manasseh, Issachar and Asher were also affected.

4:4 Deborah. Means "bee"; cf. Deut 1:44. She is the only judge said to have been a prophet(ess). Other women spoken of as prophetesses are Miriam (Ex 15:20), Huldah (2 Kin 22:14), Noadiah (Neh 6:14) and Anna (Luke 2:36), but see also Acts 21:9.

Deborah between Ramah and Bethel in the hill country of Ephraim; and the sons of Israel came up to her for judgment.

6 Now she sent and summoned [a]Barak the son of Abinoam from Kedesh-naphtali, and said to him, "[1]Behold, the LORD, the God of Israel, has commanded, 'Go and march to Mount Tabor, and take with you ten thousand men from the sons of Naphtali and from the sons of Zebulun.

7 'I will draw out to you Sisera, the commander of Jabin's army, with his chariots and his [1]many troops to the river Kishon, and [a]I will give him into your hand.' "

8 Then Barak said to her, "If you will go with me, then I will go; but if you will not go with me, I will not go."

9 She said, "I will surely go with you; nevertheless, the honor shall not be yours on the journey that you are about to take, [a]for the LORD will sell Sisera into the hands of a woman." Then Deborah arose and went with Barak to Kedesh.

10 Barak called [a]Zebulun and Naphtali together to Kedesh, and ten thousand men went up [1][b]with him; Deborah also went up with him.

11 Now Heber [a]the Kenite had separated himself from the Kenites, from the sons of Hobab the father-in-law of Moses, and had pitched his tent as far away as the [1]oak in [b]Zaanannim, which is near Kedesh.

12 Then they told Sisera that Barak the son of Abinoam had gone up to Mount Tabor.

13 Sisera called together all his chariots, [a]nine hundred iron chariots, and all the people who were with him, from [b]Harosheth-hagoyim to the river Kishon.

14 Deborah said to Barak, "Arise! For this is the day in which the LORD has given Sisera into your hands; [1]behold, [a]the LORD has gone out before you." So Barak went down from Mount Tabor with ten thousand men following him.

15 [a]The LORD [1]routed Sisera and all his chariots and all his army with the edge of the sword before Barak; and Sisera alighted from his chariot and fled away on foot.

16 But Barak pursued the chariots and the army as far as Harosheth-hagoyim, and all the army of Sisera fell by the edge of the sword; [a]not even one was left.

17 Now Sisera fled away on foot to the tent of Jael the wife of Heber the Kenite, for there was peace between Jabin the king of Hazor and the house of Heber the Kenite.

18 Jael went out to meet Sisera, and said to him, "Turn aside, my master, turn aside to me! Do not be afraid." And he turned aside to her into the tent, and she covered him with a [1]rug.

19 [a]He said to her, "Please give me a little water to drink, for I am thirsty." So she opened a [1]bottle of milk and gave him a drink; then she covered him.

20 He said to her, "Stand in the doorway of the tent, and it shall be if anyone comes and inquires of you, and says, 'Is there anyone here?' that you shall say, 'No.' "

21 But Jael, Heber's wife, [a]took a tent peg and [1]seized a hammer in her hand, and went secretly to him and drove the peg into his temple, and it went through into the ground;

4:6 Barak. Means "thunderbolt"—which suggests that he is summoned to be the Lord's "flashing sword" (Deut 32:41). He is named among the heroes of faith in Heb 11:32. Kedesh-naphtali. A town affected by the Canaanite oppression. Mount Tabor. A mountain about 1,300 feet high, northeast of the battle site. Naphtali and . . . Zebulun. Issachar, a near neighbor of these tribes, is not mentioned here but is included in the poetic description of the battle in 5:15. In all, six tribes are mentioned as having participated in the battle.

4:7 With the Israelites encamped on the slopes of Mount Tabor, safe from chariot attack, the Lord's strategy was to draw Sisera into a trap. For the battle site, Sisera cleverly chose the Valley of Jezreel along the Kishon River, where his chariot forces would have ample maneuvering space to range the battlefield and attack in numbers from any quarter. But that was his undoing, for he did not know the power of the Lord, who would fight from heaven for Israel with storm and flood (see 5:20–21), as He had done in the days of Joshua (Josh 10:11–14). Even in modern times storms have rendered the plain along the Kishon virtually impassable. In April of 1799 the flooded Kishon River aided Napoleon's victory over a Turkish army.

4:9 a woman. Barak's timidity (and that of Israel's other warriors, whom he exemplified) was due to lack of trust in the Lord and was thus rebuked (see note on 9:54).

4:11 Heber the Kenite. Since one meaning of Heber's name is "ally," and since "Kenite" identifies him as belonging to a clan of metalworkers, the author hints at the truth that this member of a people allied with Israel since the days of Moses has moved from south to north to ally himself (see v. 17) with the Canaanite king who is assembling a large force of "iron chariots." It is no doubt he who informs Sisera of Barak's military preparations. the Kenites. Settled in the south not far from Kadesh Barnea in the Negev (see 1:16). Hobab. See Num 10:29.

4:14 gone out before you. As a king at the head of his army (see 1 Sam 8:20). See also Ex 15:3 ("The LORD is a warrior"); Josh 10:10–11; 2 Sam 5:24; 2 Chr 20:15–17,22–24. Barak went down from Mount Tabor. The Lord's "thunderbolt" (see note on v. 6) descends the mountain to attack the Canaanite army.

4:15 routed. See note on v. 7. The Hebrew for this word is also used of the panic that overcame the Egyptians at the "Red Sea" (Ex 14:24) and the Philistines at Mizpah (1 Sam 7:10).

4:18 he turned aside to her . . . tent. Since ancient Near Eastern custom prohibited any man other than a woman's husband or father from entering her tent, Jael seemed to offer Sisera an ideal hiding place.

4:19 bottle. Containers for liquids were normally made from the skins of goats or lambs. milk. See note on 5:25. Jael, whose name means "mountain goat," gave him milk to drink—and it was most likely goat's milk (see Ex 23:19; Prov 27:27).

4:21 drove the peg into his temple. The laws of hospitality normally meant that one tried to protect a guest from any harm (see 19:23; Gen 19:8). Jael remained true to her family's previous alliance with Israel (she may not have been an Israelite) and so undid her husband's deliberate breach of faith. Armed only with domestic implements, this dauntless woman destroyed the great warrior whom Barak had earlier feared.

for he was sound asleep and exhausted. So he died.

22 And behold, as Barak pursued Sisera, Jael came out to meet him and said to him, "Come, and I will show you the man whom you are seeking." And he entered [1]with her, and behold Sisera was lying dead with the tent peg in his temple.

23 So [a]God subdued on that day Jabin the king of Canaan before the sons of Israel.

24 The hand of the sons of Israel pressed heavier and heavier upon Jabin the king of Canaan, until they had [1]destroyed Jabin the king of Canaan.

The Song of Deborah and Barak

5 [a]Then Deborah and Barak the son of Abinoam sang on that day, saying,

2 "[a]That [1]the leaders led in Israel,
That [b]the people volunteered,
Bless the LORD!

3 "Hear, O kings; give ear, O rulers!
[a]I—to the LORD, I will sing,
I will sing praise to the LORD, the God of Israel.

4 "[a]LORD, when You went out from Seir,
When You marched from the field of Edom,
[b]The earth quaked, the heavens also dripped,
Even the clouds dripped water.

5 "[a]The mountains [1]quaked at the presence of the LORD,
[b]This Sinai, at the presence of the LORD, the God of Israel.

6 "In the days of [a]Shamgar the son of Anath,
In the days of [b]Jael, the highways [1]were deserted,
And travelers [2]went by [3]roundabout ways.

7 "The peasantry ceased, they ceased in Israel,
Until I, Deborah, arose,
Until I arose, a mother in Israel.

8 "[a]New gods were chosen;
Then war was in the gates.
Not a shield or a spear was seen
Among forty thousand in Israel.

9 "My heart goes out to [a]the commanders of Israel,
The volunteers among the people;
Bless the LORD!

10 "[a]You who ride on [1]white donkeys,
You who sit on rich carpets,
And you who travel on the road—[2]sing!

11 "At the sound of those who divide flocks among [a]the watering places,
There they shall recount [b]the righteous deeds of the LORD,
The righteous deeds for His [1]peasantry in Israel.
Then the people of the LORD went down [c]to the gates.

12 "[a]Awake, awake, Deborah;
Awake, awake, [1]sing a song!
Arise, Barak, and [b]take away your captives, O son of Abinoam.

The people of the LORD came down to me as warriors.

4:22 Sisera was lying dead. With Sisera dead the kingdom of Jabin was no longer a threat. The land "flowing with milk and honey" had been saved by the courage and faithfulness of "Bee" (see note on v. 4) and "Mountain Goat" (see note on v. 19).

5:1–31 To commemorate a national victory with songs was a common practice (see Ex 15:1–18; Num 21:27–30; Deut 32:1–43; 1 Sam 18:7). The "Book of the Wars of the LORD" (see note on Num 21:14) and the "book of Jashar" (see note on Josh 10:13) were probably collections of such songs.

The song was probably written by Deborah (see v. 7) and is thus one of the oldest poems in the Bible. It highlights some of the central themes of the narrative (cf. Ex 15:1–18; 1 Sam 2:1–10; 2 Sam 22; 23:1–7; Luke 1:46–55,68–79). In particular, it celebrates before the nations (v. 3) the righteous acts of the Lord and of His warriors (v. 11). The song may be divided into the following sections: (1) the purpose of the song (praise) and the occasion for the deeds it celebrates (vv. 2–9); (2) the exhortation to Israel to act in accordance with her heroic past (vv. 10–11a); (3) the people's appeal to Deborah (vv. 11b–12); (4) the gathering of warriors (vv. 13–18); (5) the battle (vv. 19–23); (6) the crafty triumph of Jael over Sisera (vv. 24–27); (7) the anxious waiting of Sisera's mother (vv. 28–30); and (8) the conclusion (v. 31).

5:4–5 Poetic recalling of the Lord's terrifying appearance in a storm cloud many years before, when he had brought Israel through the wilderness into Canaan (see Deut 33:2; Ps 68:7–8; Mic 1:3–4; see also Ps 18:7–15).

5:4 Seir. Mt. Seir, in Edom. For a similar association of Seir (and Mount Paran) with Sinai see Deut 33:2. the heavens also dripped. See Ps 68:7–10.

5:5 This Sinai. See Ps 68:8. An earthquake and thunderstorm occurred when God appeared at Mount Sinai (Ex 19:16–18).

5:6 Shamgar. See note on 3:31. highways were deserted. Because of enemy garrisons and marauding bands (see note on 4:1–2) the roads were unsafe.

5:7 peasantry ceased. The inhabitants of villages fled to walled towns for protection.

5:8 Not a shield or spear was seen. Either because Israel had made peace with the native Canaanites (see 3:5–6) or because she had been disarmed (see 1 Sam 13:19–22).

5:10 who ride on white donkeys. An allusion to the nobles and the wealthy (see 10:4; 12:14).

5:11 sound of those who divide flocks. The leaders are encouraged by the songs ("sound"; cf. "sing" in v. 10) of the minstrels at the watering places—songs that rehearse the past heroic achievements of the Lord and His warriors.

5:12 Awake. A plea to take action (see Ps 44:23; Is 51:9). take away your captives. The same action is applied to God in Ps 68:18 and to Christ in Eph 4:8.

5:13–18 The warriors of the Lord who gathered for the battle. The tribes who came were Ephraim, Benjamin, Manasseh ("Machir" is possibly both East and West Manasseh; see Deut 3:15; Josh 13:29–31; 17:1), Zebulun (vv. 14,18), Issachar (v. 15) and Naphtali (v. 18). Especially involved were Zebulun and Naphtali (v. 18; see 4:10), the tribes most immediately affected

And Naphtali also, on the high places of the field.

19 "[a]The kings came and fought;

[c]They took no plunder in silver.
20 "[a]The stars fought from heaven,

Most blessed is she of women in the tent.

And she shattered and pierced his temple.

Where he bowed, there he fell [1]dead.

by Sisera's tyranny. Reuben (vv. 15–16) and Gad (here referred to as Gilead, v. 17), from east of the Jordan, and Dan and Asher, from along the coast (v. 17), are rebuked for not responding. Judah and Simeon are not even mentioned, perhaps because they were already engaged with the Philistines. Levi is not mentioned because it did not have military responsibilities in the theocracy (kingdom of God).

5:14 root is in Amalek. Some Amalekites apparently once lived in the hill country of Ephraim (see 12:15). Machir. The firstborn son of Manasseh (Josh 17:1). Although the descendants of Machir settled on both sides of the Jordan (see Deut 3:15; Josh 13:29–31; 17:1; 1 Chr 7:14–19), reference here is to those west of the Jordan (see v. 17; Josh 17:5).

5:18 on the high places of the field. Perhaps connected to Gen 49:21, where Naphtali is described as a "doe let loose."

5:19 Megiddo. Megiddo and Taanach dominated the main pass that runs northeast through the hill country from the plain of Sharon to the Valley of Jezreel. Because of its strategic location, the "plain of Megiddo" (2 Chr 35:22) has been a frequent battleground from the earliest times. There Pharaoh Thutmose III defeated a Canaanite coalition in 1468 B.C., and there in A.D. 1917 the British under General Allenby ended the rule of the Turks in Palestine by vanquishing them in the Valley of Jezreel opposite Megiddo. In Biblical history the forces of Israel under Deborah and Barak crushed the Canaanites "near the waters of Megiddo" (v. 19), and there Judah's good king Josiah died in battle against Pharaoh Neco II in 609 B.C. (2 Kin 23:29). See also the reference in Rev 16:16 to "the place which in Hebrew is called Har-Magedon" (i.e., "Mount Megiddo") as the site of the "war of the great day of God, the Almighty" (Rev 16:14).

5:20 stars fought. A poetic way of saying that the powers of heaven fought in Israel's behalf (see note on 4:7).

5:21 swept them away. See note on 4:7.

5:23 Meroz. Because of its refusal to help the army of the Lord, this Israelite town in Naphtali was cursed. Other cities were also punished severely for refusing to participate in the wars of the Lord (see 8:15–17; 21:5–10).

5:25 curds. Artificially soured milk made by shaking milk in a skin-bottle and then allowing it to ferment (due to bacteria that remained in the skin from previous use).

5:28 This graphic picture of the anxious waiting of Sisera's mother heightens the triumph of Jael over the powerful Canaanite general and presents a contrast between this mother in Canaan and the triumphant Deborah, "a mother in Israel" (v. 7).

Israel Oppressed by Midian

6 Then the sons of Israel a did what was evil in the sight of the LORD; and the LORD gave them into the hands of b Midian seven years.

2 The 1power of Midian prevailed against Israel. Because of Midian the sons of Israel made for themselves a the dens which were in the mountains and the caves and the strongholds.

3 For it was when Israel had sown, that the Midianites would come up with the Amalekites and the sons of the east and 1go against them.

4 So they would camp against them and a destroy the produce of the earth 1as far as Gaza, and b leave no sustenance in Israel as well as no sheep, ox, or donkey.

5 For they would come up with their livestock and their tents, they would come in a like locusts for number, both they and their camels were innumerable; and they came into the land to devastate it.

6 So Israel was brought a very low because of Midian, and the sons of Israel cried to the LORD.

7 Now it came about when the sons of Israel cried to the LORD on account of Midian,

8 that the LORD sent a prophet to the sons of Israel, and a he said to them, "Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, 'It was I who brought you up from Egypt and brought you out from the house of 1slavery.

9 'I delivered you from the hands of the Egyptians and from the hands of all your oppressors, and dispossessed them before you and gave you their land,

10 and I said to you, "I am the LORD your God; you a shall not fear the gods of the Amorites in whose land you live. But you have not 1obeyed Me." ' "

Gideon Is Visited

11 Then a the angel of the LORD came and sat under the 1oak that was in Ophrah, which belonged to Joash the b Abiezrite as his son c Gideon was beating out wheat in the wine press in order to save it from the Midianites.

12 The angel of the LORD appeared to him and said to him, "The LORD is with you, O valiant warrior."

13 Then Gideon said to him, "O my lord, if the LORD is with us, why then has all this happened to us? And where are all His miracles which our fathers told us about, saying, 'Did not the LORD bring us up from Egypt?' But a now the LORD has abandoned us and given us into the hand of Midian."

14 The LORD 1looked at him and said, "a Go in this your strength and deliver Israel from the hand of Midian. Have I not sent you?"

5:31 The song ends with a prayer that the present victory would be the pattern for all future battles against the Lord's enemies (see Num 10:35; Ps 68:1–2). Your enemies . . . those who love Him. The two basic attitudes of people toward the Lord. As Lord of the covenant and royal Head of His people Israel, He demanded their love (see Ex 20:6), just as kings in the ancient Near East demanded the love of their subjects. forty years. A conventional number of years for a generation (see Introduction: Background).

6:1–9:57 The Gideon and Abimelech narratives are a literary unit and constitute the center account of the judges. They are bracketed by the stories of Deborah (from Ephraim, a son of Joseph; west of the Jordan) and Jephthah (from Manasseh, the other son of Joseph; east of the Jordan)—which in turn are bracketed by the stories of the heroes Ehud (from Benjamin) and Samson (from Dan). In this center narrative, the crucial issues of the period of the judges are emphasized: the worship of Baal, and the Lord's kingship over His covenant people Israel (see note on 8:23).

6:1 Midian. See notes on Gen 37:25; Ex 2:15. Since they were apparently not numerous enough to wage war against the Israelites alone, they often formed coalitions with surrounding peoples—as with the Moabites (Num 22:4–6; 25:6–18), the Amalekites and other tribes from the east (v. 3). Their defeat was an event long remembered in Hebrew history (see Ps 83:9; Is 9:4; 10:26; Hab 3:7).

6:3 Amalekites. See note on Gen 14:7. Normally they were a people of the Negev, but they are in coalition here with the Midianites and other eastern peoples, who were nomads from the desert east of Moab and Ammon.

6:5 like locusts for number. A vivid picture of the marauders who swarmed across the land, leaving it stripped bare (see 7:12; Ex 10:13–15; Joel 1:4). camels. The earliest OT reference to the use of mounted camels in warfare.

6:7 cried to the LORD. The Israelites' cries of distress occurred in each recurring cycle of the judges (see Introduction: Literary Features).

6:8 prophet. See notes on 2:1; 10:11. The unnamed prophet rebuked Israel for forgetting that the Lord had saved them from Egyptian bondage and had given them the land (vv. 9–10).

6:10 Amorites. Probably here includes all the inhabitants of Canaan (see note on Gen 10:16).

6:11 angel of the LORD. See note on Gen 16:7. Ophrah. To be distinguished from the Benjamite Ophrah (Josh 18:23). Abiezrite. The Abiezrites (v. 24) were from the tribe of Manasseh (Josh 17:2). beating out wheat in the wine press. Rather than in the usual, exposed area (see note on Ruth 1:22). Gideon felt more secure threshing in this better protected but very confined space.

6:12 valiant warrior. Apparently Gideon belonged to the upper class, perhaps a kind of aristocracy (see v. 27), in spite of his disclaimer in v. 15.

6:14 LORD looked. See vv. 22–23. Apparently this appearance of the "angel of the LORD" (v. 11) was a theophany (a manifes-

15 [a]He said to Him, "O Lord, [1]how shall I deliver Israel? Behold, my family is the least in [b]Manasseh, and I am the youngest in my father's house."

16 [a]But the LORD said to him, "Surely I will be with you, and you shall [1]defeat Midian as one man."

17 So [1]Gideon said to Him, "If now I have found favor in Your sight, then show me [a]a sign that it is You who speak with me.

18 "Please do not depart from here, until I come back to You, and bring out my offering and lay it before You." And He said, "I will remain until you return."

19 Then Gideon went in and [a]prepared a young goat and unleavened bread from an [1]ephah of flour; he put the meat in a basket [2]and the broth in a pot, and brought them out to him under the [3]oak and presented them.

20 The angel of God said to him, "Take the meat and the unleavened bread and lay them on this rock, and pour out the broth." And he did so.

21 Then the angel of the LORD put out the end of the staff that was in his hand and touched the meat and the unleavened bread; and [a]fire sprang up from the rock and consumed the meat and the unleavened bread. Then the angel of the LORD [1]vanished from his sight.

22 [a]When Gideon saw that he was the angel of the LORD, [1]he said, "Alas, O Lord [2]GOD! For now I have seen the angel of the LORD face to face."

23 The LORD said to him, "Peace to you, do not fear; you shall not die."

24 Then Gideon built an altar there to the LORD and named it [1]The LORD is Peace. To this day it is still [a]in Ophrah of the Abiezrites.

25 Now on the same night the LORD said to him, "Take your father's bull [1]and a second bull seven years old, and pull down the altar of Baal which belongs to your father, and cut down the [2a]Asherah that is beside it;

26 and build an altar to the LORD your God on the top of this stronghold in an orderly manner, and take a second bull and offer a burnt offering with the wood of the Asherah which you shall cut down."

27 Then Gideon took ten men of his servants and did as the LORD had spoken to him; and because he was too afraid of his father's household and the men of the city to do it by day, he did it by night.

The Altar of Baal Destroyed

28 When the men of the city arose early in the morning, behold, the altar of Baal was torn down, and the Asherah which was beside it was cut down, and the second bull was offered on the altar which had been built.

29 They said to one another, "Who did this thing?" And when they searched about and inquired, they said, "Gideon the son of Joash did this thing."

30 Then the men of the city said to Joash, "Bring out your son, that he may die, for he has torn down the altar of Baal, and indeed, he has cut down the Asherah which was beside it."

31 But Joash said to all who stood against him, "Will you contend for Baal, or will you deliver him? Whoever will [1]plead for him shall be put to death by morning. If he is a god, let him contend for himself, because someone has torn down his altar."

32 Therefore on that day he named him [a]Jerubbaal, that is to say, "Let Baal contend against him," because he had torn down his altar.

33 Then all the Midianites and the Amalekites and the sons of the east assembled themselves; and they crossed over and camped in [a]the valley of Jezreel.

34 So [a]the Spirit of the LORD [1]came upon Gideon; and he [b]blew a trumpet, and the Abiezrites were called together to follow him.

35 He sent messengers throughout Manasseh, and they also were called together to follow him; and he sent messengers to Asher, [a]Zebulun, and Naphtali, and [b]they came up to meet them.

tation of God). Go... Have I not sent you? Gideon was commissioned to deliver Israel as Moses had been (see Ex 3:7–10).
6:15 how shall I...? The Lord usually calls the lowly rather than the mighty to act for Him (see notes on Gen 25:23; 1 Sam 9:21).
6:17 show me a sign. See vv. 36–40; cf. the signs the Lord gave Moses as assurance that He would be with him in his undertaking (see Ex 3:12; 4:1–17).
6:21 consumed the meat. Indicating that Gideon's offering was accepted (see Lev 9:24).
6:23 shall not die. See 13:22 and notes on Gen 16:13; 32:30.
6:25 pull down the altar. Gideon's first task as the Lord's warrior was to tear down an altar to Baal, as Israel had been commanded to do (see 2:2; Ex 34:13; Deut 7:5). Baal. See note on 2:13. Asherah. See NASB marg.; see also notes on 2:13; Ex 34:13.
6:26 altar... in an orderly manner. See Ex 20:25.
6:30 he may die. The Israelites were so apostate that they were willing to kill one of their own people for the cause of Baal (contrast Deut 13:6–10, where God told Moses that idolaters must be stoned).
6:32 Jerubbaal. Means "let Baal contend." This name later occurs as Jerubbesheth (2 Sam 11:21) by substituting a degrading term (Hebrew bosheth, "shameful thing") for the name of Baal, as in the change of the names Eshbaal and Merib-baal (1 Chr 8:33–34) to Ish-bosheth and Mephibosheth (see notes on 2 Sam 2:8; 4:4). Let Baal contend against him. Let Baal defend himself against Gideon.
6:33 valley of Jezreel. See note on 5:19.
6:34 Spirit... came upon. Lit. "Spirit... clothed Himself with." This vivid figure, used only three times (here; 1 Chr 12:18; 2 Chr 24:20), emphasizes that the Spirit of the Lord empowered the human agent and acted through him (see note on 3:10).
6:35 Manasseh. West Manasseh. Asher. This tribe earlier had failed to answer the call to arms (5:17).

Sign of the Fleece

36 Then Gideon said to God, "[a]If You will deliver Israel [1]through me, as You have spoken,

37 behold, I will put a fleece of wool on the threshing floor. If there is dew on the fleece only, and it is dry on all the ground, then I will know that You will deliver Israel [1]through me, as You have spoken."

38 And it was so. When he arose early the next morning and squeezed the fleece, he drained the dew from the fleece, a bowl full of water.

39 Then Gideon said to God, "[a]Do not let Your anger burn against me that I may speak once more; please let me make a test once more with the fleece, let it now be dry only on the fleece, and let there be dew on all the ground."

40 God did so that night; for it was dry only on the fleece, and dew was on all the ground.

Gideon's 300 Chosen Men

7 Then [a]Jerubbaal (that is, Gideon) and all the people who were with him, rose early and camped beside [1]the spring of Harod; and the camp of Midian was on the north side of [2]them by the hill of [b]Moreh in the valley.

2 The LORD said to Gideon, "The people who are with you are too many for Me to give Midian into their hands, [a]for Israel [1]would become boastful, saying, 'My own [2]power has delivered me.'

3 "Now therefore [1]come, proclaim in the hearing of the people, saying, '[a]Whoever is afraid and trembling, let him return and depart from Mount Gilead.' " So 22,000 people returned, but 10,000 remained.

4 [a]Then the LORD said to Gideon, "The people are still too many; bring them down to the water and I will test them for you there. Therefore it shall be that he of whom I say to you, 'This one shall go with you,' he shall go with you; but everyone of whom I say to you, 'This one shall not go with you,' he shall not go."

5 So he brought the people down to the water. And the LORD said to Gideon, "You shall separate everyone who laps the water with his tongue as a dog laps, as well as everyone who kneels to drink."

6 Now the number of those who lapped, putting their hand to their mouth, was 300 men; but all the rest of the people kneeled to drink water.

7 The LORD said to Gideon, "I will deliver you [a]with the 300 men who lapped and will give the Midianites into your hands; so let all the other people go, each man to his [1]home."

8 So [1]the 300 men took the people's provisions and their trumpets into their hands. And [2]Gideon sent all the other men of Israel, each to his tent, but retained the 300 men; and the camp of Midian was below him in the valley.

9 Now the same night it came about that the LORD said to him, "Arise, go down against the camp, [a]for I have given it into your hands.

10 "But if you are afraid to go down, go with Purah your servant down to the camp, 11 and you will hear what they say; and [a]afterward your hands will be strengthened that you may go down against the camp." So he went with Purah his servant down to the [1]outposts of the army that was in the camp.

12 Now the Midianites and the Amalekites and all the sons of the east were lying in the valley [a]as numerous as locusts; and their camels were without number, [b]as numerous as the sand on the seashore.

13 When Gideon came, behold, a man was relating a dream to his friend. And he said, "Behold, I [1]had a dream; [2]a loaf of barley bread was tumbling into the camp of Midian, and it came to the tent and struck it so that it fell, and turned it [3]upside down so that the tent lay flat."

14 His friend replied, "This is nothing less than the sword of Gideon the son of Joash, a man of Israel; God has given Midian and all the camp [a]into his hand."

15 When Gideon heard the account of the dream and its interpretation, he bowed in worship. He returned to the camp of Israel and said, "Arise, for the LORD has given the camp of Midian into your hands."

16 He divided the 300 men into three [1]companies, and he put trumpets and empty

7:1 Harod. Means "trembling" and may refer to either the timidity of the Israelites (v. 3) or the great panic of the Midianites when Gideon attacked (v. 21). The Hebrew verb form is translated "routed" in 8:12. hill of Moreh. Located across the Valley of Jezreel, approximately four miles from the Israelite army.
7:3 let him return. Those who were afraid to fight the Lord's battle were not to go out with His army so that they would not demoralize the others (Deut 20:8). Mount Gilead. Perhaps used here as another name for Mount Gilboa.
7:6 lapped. The 300 remained on their feet, prepared for any emergency.
7:8–14 The Lord provided Gideon with encouraging intelligence information for the battle.
7:13–14 Although revelations by dreams are frequently mentioned in the OT, here both dreamer and interpreter are non-Israelite. Contrast Joseph, who interpreted dreams in Egypt (Gen 40:1–22; 41:1–32), and Daniel, who interpreted dreams in Babylon (Dan 2:1–45; 4:4–27).
7:13 loaf of barley bread. Since barley was considered an inferior grain and only one-half the value of wheat (see 2 Kin 7:1), it is a fitting symbol for Israel, which was inferior in numbers.
7:16 three companies. A strategy adopted by Israel on several occasions (9:43; 1 Sam 11:11; 2 Sam 18:2). trumpets. Rams' horns (see Ex 19:13).

17 He said to them, "Look at me and do likewise. And behold, when I come to the outskirts of the camp, [1]do as I do.

18 "When I and all who are with me blow the trumpet, then you also blow the trumpets all around the camp and say, 'For the LORD and for Gideon.' "

Confusion of the Enemy

19 So Gideon and the hundred men who were with him came to the outskirts of the camp at the beginning of the middle watch, when they had just posted the watch; and they blew the trumpets and smashed the pitchers that were in their hands.

20 When the three [1]companies blew the trumpets and broke the pitchers, they held the torches in their left hands and the trumpets in their right hands for blowing, and cried, "A sword for the LORD and for Gideon!"

21 Each stood in his place around the camp; and [a]all the [1]army ran, crying out as they fled.

22 When they blew 300 trumpets, the [a]LORD set the sword of one against another even throughout the whole [1]army; and the [1]army fled as far as Beth-shittah toward Zererah, as far as the edge of [b]Abel-meholah, by Tabbath.

23 The men of Israel were summoned from [a]Naphtali and Asher and all Manasseh, and they pursued Midian.

24 Gideon sent messengers throughout all the hill country of Ephraim, saying, "Come down [1]against Midian and [a]take the waters before them, as far as Beth-barah and the

Gideon's Battles

The story of Gideon begins with a graphic portrayal of one of the most striking facts of life in the Fertile Crescent: the periodic migration of nomadic people from the Aramean desert into the settled areas of Canaan. Each spring the tents of the bedouin herdsmen appeared overnight almost as if by magic, scattered on the hills and fields of the farming districts. Conflict between these two ways of life (herdsmen and farmers) was inevitable.

In the Biblical period, the vast numbers and warlike practice of the herdsmen reduced the village people to near vassalage. Gideon's answer was twofold: (1) religious reform, starting with his own family; and (2) military action, based on a coalition of northern Israelite tribes. The location of Gideon's hometown, "Ophrah of the Abiezrites," is not known with certainty, but probably was ancient Aper (modern Afula) in the Valley of Jezreel.

The battle at the spring of Harod is justly celebrated for its strategic brilliance. Denied the use of the only local water source, the Midianites camped in the valley and fell victim to the small band of Israelites, who attacked them from the heights of the hill of Moreh.

The main battle took place north of the hill near the village of En-dor at the foot of Mount Tabor. Fleeing by way of the Jordan Valley, the Midianites were trapped when the Ephraimites seized the fords of the Jordan from below Beth-shan to Beth-barah near Adam.

Jordan." So all the men of Ephraim were summoned and they took the waters as far as Beth-barah and the Jordan.

25 They captured the two leaders of Midian, [a]Oreb and Zeeb, and they killed Oreb at the rock of Oreb, and they killed Zeeb at the wine press of Zeeb, while they pursued Midian; and they brought the heads of Oreb and Zeeb to Gideon [b]from across the Jordan.

Zebah and Zalmunna Routed

8 Then the men of Ephraim said to him, "[a]What is this thing you have done to us, not calling us when you went to fight against Midian?" And they contended with him vigorously.

2 But he said to them, "What have I done now in comparison with you? Is not the gleaning of the grapes of Ephraim better than the vintage of Abiezer?

3 "God has given the leaders of Midian, Oreb and Zeeb into your hands; and what was I able to do in comparison with you?" Then their [1]anger toward him subsided when he said [2]that.

4 Then Gideon and the 300 men who were with him came [a]to the Jordan and crossed over, weary yet pursuing.

5 He said to the men of [a]Succoth, "Please give loaves of bread to the people who are following me, for they are weary, and I am pursuing Zebah and Zalmunna, the kings of Midian."

6 The leaders of Succoth said, "[1][a]Are the hands of Zebah and Zalmunna already in your hands, that we should give bread to your army?"

7 Gideon said, "[1]All right, [a]when the LORD has given Zebah and Zalmunna into my hand, then I will [2]thrash your [3]bodies with the thorns of the wilderness and with briers."

8 He went up from there to [1][a]Penuel and spoke similarly to them; and the men of Penuel answered him just as the men of Succoth had answered.

9 So he spoke also to the men of Penuel, saying, "When I return safely, [a]I will tear down this tower."

10 Now Zebah and Zalmunna were in Karkor, and their [1]armies with them, about 15,000 men, all who were left of the entire [2]army of the sons of the east; [a]for the fallen were 120,000 [3]swordsmen.

11 Gideon went up by the way of those who lived in tents on the east of Nobah and Jogbehah, and [1]attacked the camp when the camp was [2]unsuspecting.

12 When Zebah and Zalmunna fled, he pursued them and captured the two kings of Midian, Zebah and Zalmunna, and routed the whole [1]army.

13 Then Gideon the son of Joash returned from the battle [1]by the ascent of Heres.

14 And he captured a youth [1]from Succoth and questioned him. Then the youth wrote down for him the princes of Succoth and its elders, seventy-seven men.

15 He came to the men of Succoth and said, "Behold Zebah and Zalmunna, concerning whom you taunted me, saying, '[1][a]Are the hands of Zebah and Zalmunna already in your hand, that we should give bread to your men who are weary?' "

16 He took the elders of the city, and thorns of the wilderness and briers, and he [1]disciplined the men of Succoth with them.

17 [a]He tore down the tower of Penuel and killed the men of the city.

18 Then he said to Zebah and Zalmunna, "What kind of men were they whom you killed at Tabor?" And they said, "They were like you, each one [1]resembling the son of a king."

19 He said, "They were my brothers, the sons of my mother. As the LORD lives, if only you had let them live, I would not kill you."

20 So he said to Jether his firstborn, "Rise, kill them." But the youth did not draw his sword, for he was afraid, because he was still a youth.

21 Then Zebah and Zalmunna said, "Rise up yourself, and fall on us; for as the man, so dan Valley. waters . . . the Jordan. Probably the river crossings in the vicinity of Beth-shean. By controlling the river the Israelites could prevent the escape of the fleeing Midianites (see note on 3:28). Beth-barah. Exact location unknown, but it must have been some distance down the river. Gideon's pursuit of the enemy across the river took him to Succoth, a town near the Jabbok River (8:5).

7:25 Oreb. Means "raven." Zeeb. Means "wolf." heads. Frequently parts of the bodies of dead victims, such as heads, hands (8:6) and foreskins (1 Sam 18:25), were cut off and brought back as a kind of body count.

8:1 men of Ephraim. Contrast Gideon, who placates the wrath of this tribe (vv. 2–3), with Jephthah, who brings humiliation and defeat to it (12:1–6).

8:2 gleaning. Leftover grain after the main gathering of the harvest (see note on Ruth 1:22). Here Gideon implies that Ephraim has accomplished more than he and all the other forces involved in the initial attack. Abiezer. Gideon's clan (see note on 6:11). The name means "My (divine) Father is helper" or "My (divine) Father is strong."

8:3 their anger . . . subsided. "A gentle answer turns away wrath" (Prov 15:1).

8:5 kings of Midian. Zebah and Zalmunna may have belonged to different Midianite tribes (see Num 31:8).

8:6 hands. See note on 7:25. that we should give bread . . . ? The officials of Succoth doubted Gideon's ability to defeat the Midianite coalition and feared reprisal if they gave his army food.

8:8 Penuel. The place where Jacob had wrestled with God (Gen 32:30–31).

8:19 sons of my mother. In an age when men often had several wives it was necessary to distinguish between full brothers and half brothers.

8:21 Rise up yourself. Dying at the hands of a boy may have been considered a disgrace (see 1 Sam 17:42). ornaments. Crescent necklaces, as in Is 3:18.

is his strength." [a]So Gideon arose and killed Zebah and Zalmunna, and [b]took the crescent ornaments which were on their camels' necks.

22 Then the men of Israel said to Gideon, "Rule over us, both you and your son, also your son's son, for you have delivered us from the hand of Midian."

23 But Gideon said to them, "I will not rule over you, nor shall my son rule over you; [a]the LORD shall rule over you."

24 Yet Gideon said to them, "I would [1]request of you, that each of you give me [2]an earring from his spoil." (For they had gold earrings, because they were [a]Ishmaelites.)

25 They said, "We will surely give them." So they spread out a garment, and every one of them threw an earring there from his spoil.

26 The weight of the gold earrings that he requested was 1,700 shekels of gold, besides the crescent ornaments and the pendants and the purple robes which were on the kings of Midian, and besides the neck bands that were on their camels' necks.

27 Gideon made it into [a]an ephod, and placed it in his city, Ophrah, and all Israel played the harlot with it there, so that it became a snare to Gideon and his household.

Forty Years of Peace

28 So Midian was subdued before the sons of Israel, and they did not lift up their heads anymore. And the land was undisturbed for forty years in the days of Gideon.

29 Then [a]Jerubbaal the son of Joash went and lived in his own house.

30 Now Gideon had [a]seventy sons who [1]were his direct descendants, for he had many wives.

31 His concubine who was in Shechem also bore him a son, and he [1]named him Abimelech.

32 And Gideon the son of Joash died at a ripe old age and was buried in the tomb of his father Joash, in Ophrah of the Abiezrites.

33 Then it came about, as soon as Gideon was dead, [a]that the sons of Israel again played the harlot with the Baals, and made [b]Baal-berith their god.

34 Thus the sons of Israel [a]did not remember the LORD their God, who had delivered them from the hands of all their enemies on every side;

35 [a]nor did they show kindness to the household of Jerubbaal (that is, Gideon) in accord with all the good that he had done to Israel.

Abimelech's Conspiracy

9 And [a]Abimelech the son of Jerubbaal went to Shechem to his mother's [1]relatives, and spoke to them and to the whole clan of the household of his mother's father, saying,

2 "Speak, now, in the hearing of all the leaders of Shechem, 'Which is better for you, that [a]seventy men, all the sons of Jerubbaal, rule over you, or that one man rule over you?' Also, remember that I am [b]your bone and your flesh."

3 And his mother's [1]relatives spoke all these words on his behalf in the hearing of all the leaders of Shechem; and [2]they were

8:23 I will not rule . . . the LORD shall rule. Gideon, like Samuel (1 Sam 8:4–20), rejected the establishment of a monarchy because he regarded it as a replacement of the Lord's rule. God's rule over Israel (theocracy) is a central issue in Judges.
8:24 earring. Or possibly "nose ring" (see Gen 24:47; Ezek 16:12). Ishmaelites. Related to the Midianites (Gen 25:1–2) and sometimes identified with them (vv. 22,24; Gen 37:25–28; 39:1). See note on Gen 37:25.
8:27 ephod. Sometimes a holy garment associated with the priesthood (Ex 28:6–30; 39:2–26; Lev 8:7), at other times a pagan object associated with idols (17:5; 18:14,17).
8:28 forty years. A conventional number of years for a generation (see Introduction: Background).
8:29 Jerubbaal. See note on 6:32.
8:30 seventy sons. A sign of power and prosperity (see 12:14; 2 Kin 10:1).
8:31 concubine. She was originally a slave in his household (9:18; see note on Gen 16:2). Abimelech. Appears elsewhere as a royal title (Gen 20:2; 26:1; Ps 34 title) and means "My (divine) Father is King." Gideon, in naming his son, acknowledges that the Lord (here called "Father") is King.
8:32 at a ripe old age. A phrase used elsewhere only of Abraham (Gen 15:15; 25:8) and David (1 Chr 29:28).
8:33 Baals. See notes on 2:11,13. Baal-berith. Means "lord of the covenant"; the same deity is called El-berith ("god of the covenant") in 9:46. There was a temple dedicated to him (see 9:4) in Shechem. The word "covenant" in his name probably refers to a solemn treaty that bound together a league of Canaanite cities whose people worshiped him as their god. Ironically, Shechem (v. 31), near Mount Ebal, was the site at which Joshua had twice renewed the Lord's covenant with Israel after they had entered Canaan (Josh 8:30–35; 24:25–27). See also note on 2:11.
9:1–57 The stories of Gideon and Abimelech form the literary center of Judges (see Introduction: Literary Features). Abimelech, who tried to set himself up like a Canaanite city king with the help of Baal (v. 4), stands in sharp contrast to his father Gideon (Jerubbaal), who had attacked Baal worship and insisted that the Lord ruled over Israel. Abimelech attempted this Canaanite revival in the very place where Joshua had earlier reaffirmed Israel's allegiance to the Lord (Josh 24:14–27). In every respect Abimelech was the antithesis of the Lord's appointed judges.
9:1 Shechem. See note on Gen 33:18. Ruins dating from the Canaanite era give evidence of a sacred area, probably to be associated with the temple of Baal-berith or El-berith (vv. 4,46). Archaeological evidence, which is compatible with the destruction of Shechem by Abimelech, indicates that its sacred area was never rebuilt after this time.
9:2 leaders. The singular form of the Hebrew for this word is ba'al. It means "lord" or "owner" and probably refers here to the aristocracy or landowners of the city. your bone and your flesh. Being half-Canaanite, Abimelech intimated that it was in their best interest to make him king rather than be under the rule of Gideon's 70 sons. The following he gathered was based on this relationship and became a threat to the people of Israel.

inclined to follow Abimelech, for they said, "He is [a]our [3]relative."

4 They gave him seventy pieces of silver from the house of [a]Baal-berith with which Abimelech hired worthless and reckless fellows, and they followed him.

5 Then he went to his father's house at Ophrah and [a]killed his brothers the sons of Jerubbaal, [b]seventy men, on one stone. But Jotham the youngest son of Jerubbaal was left, for he hid himself.

6 All the men of Shechem and all [1]Beth-millo assembled together, and they went and made Abimelech king, by the [2]oak of the pillar which was in Shechem.

7 Now when they told Jotham, he went and stood on the top of [a]Mount Gerizim, and lifted his voice and called out. Thus he said to them, "Listen to me, O men of Shechem, that God may listen to you.

8 "Once the trees went forth to anoint a king over them, and they said to the olive tree, 'Reign over us!'

9 "But the olive tree said to them, 'Shall I leave my fatness with [1]which God and men are honored, and go to wave over the trees?'

10 "Then the trees said to the fig tree, 'You come, reign over us!'

11 "But the fig tree said to them, 'Shall I leave my sweetness and my good [1]fruit, and go to wave over the trees?'

12 "Then the trees said to the vine, 'You come, reign over us!'

13 "But the vine said to them, 'Shall I leave my new wine, which cheers God and men, and go to wave over the trees?'

14 "Finally all the trees said to the bramble, 'You come, reign over us!'

15 "The bramble said to the trees, 'If in [1]truth you are anointing me as king over you, come and take refuge in my shade; but if not, may fire come out from the bramble and consume the cedars of Lebanon.'

16 "Now therefore, if you have dealt in [1]truth and integrity in making Abimelech king, and if you have dealt well with [a]Jerubbaal and his house, and [2]have dealt with him [3]as he deserved—

17 for my father fought for you and [1]risked his life and delivered you from the hand of Midian;

18 but you have risen against my father's house today and have killed [a]his sons, seventy men, on one stone, and have made Abimelech, [b]the son of his maidservant, king over the men of Shechem, because he is your [1]relative—

19 if then you have dealt in [1]truth and integrity with Jerubbaal and his house this day, rejoice in Abimelech, and let him also rejoice in you.

20 "But if not, let fire come out from Abimelech and consume the men of Shechem and [1]Beth-millo; and let fire come out from the men of Shechem and from [1]Beth-millo, and consume Abimelech."

21 Then Jotham escaped and fled, and went to Beer and remained there because of Abimelech his brother.

Shechem and Abimelech Fall

22 Now Abimelech ruled over Israel three years.

23 [a]Then God sent an evil spirit between Abimelech and the men of Shechem; and the men of Shechem [b]dealt treacherously with Abimelech,

9:4 from the house. Ancient temples served as depositories for personal and civic funds. The payments of vows and penalties, as well as gifts, were also part of the temple treasury. The temple of Baal-berith is probably to be identified with a large building found at Shechem by archaeologists. worthless and reckless fellows. Use of mercenaries to accomplish political or military goals was common in ancient times. Others who used them are Jephthah (11:3), David (1 Sam 22:1–2), Absalom (2 Sam 15:1), Adonijah (1 Kin 1:5), Rezon (1 Kin 11:23–24) and Jeroboam (2 Chr 13:6–7).

9:5 on one stone. Abimelech's 70 brothers were slaughtered like sacrificial animals (see 13:19–20; 1 Sam 14:33–34). In effect he inaugurated his kingship by using his Israelite half brothers as his coronation sacrifices (see 2 Sam 15:10,12; 1 Kin 1:5,9; 3:4).

9:6 Beth-millo. "Millo" is derived from a Hebrew verb meaning "to fill" and probably refers to the earthen fill used to erect a platform on which walls and other large structures were built. Beth-millo may be identical to the "inner chamber" of v. 46. oak. See Josh 24:25–26; see also note on Gen 12:6.

9:7 top. Probably a ledge that overlooked the city.

9:8 trees went forth. Fables of this type, in which inanimate objects speak and act, were popular among Eastern peoples of that time (see 2 Kin 14:9).

9:9–13 The olive tree, the fig tree and the vine were all plants that produced fruit of great importance to the people of the Near East.

9:13 cheers God. Cf. Ex 29:40.

9:14 bramble. Probably the well-known buckthorn, a scraggly bush common in the hills of Canaan and a constant menace to farming. It produced nothing of value and was an apt figure for Abimelech.

9:15 shade. Ironically, in offering shade to the trees, the thornbush symbolized the traditional role of kings as protectors of their subjects (see Is 30:2–3; 32:1–2; Lam 4:20; Dan 4:12). cedars of Lebanon. The most valuable of Near Eastern trees, here symbolic of the leading men of Shechem (see v. 20).

9:20 fire come out . . . and consume. A grim prediction that Abimelech and the people of Shechem would destroy each other. Fire spreads rapidly through bramble bushes and brings about swift destruction (see Ex 22:6; Is 9:18).

9:21 Beer. A very common name, meaning "a well."

9:22 Israel. Those Israelites who recognized Abimelech's authority, mainly in the vicinity of Shechem.

9:23 evil spirit. Perhaps a spirit of distrust and bitterness. The Hebrew for "spirit" is often used to describe an attitude or disposition. dealt treacherously. The one who founded his kingdom by treachery is himself undone by treachery.

their brother, who killed them, and on the men of Shechem, who strengthened his hands to kill his brothers.

25 The men of Shechem set [1]men in ambush against him on the tops of the mountains, and they robbed all who might pass by them along the road; and it was told to Abimelech.

26 Now Gaal the son of Ebed came with his [1]relatives, and crossed over into Shechem; and the men of Shechem put their trust in him.

27 They went out into the field and gathered the grapes of their vineyards and trod them, and held a [1]festival; and they went into the house of [a]their god, and ate and drank and cursed Abimelech.

28 Then Gaal the son of Ebed said, "Who is Abimelech, and who is Shechem, that we should serve him? Is he not the son of Jerubbaal, and is Zebul not his [1]lieutenant? Serve the men of [a]Hamor the father of Shechem; but why should we serve him?

29 "[1][a]Would, therefore, that this people were under my authority! Then I would remove Abimelech." And he said to Abimelech, "Increase your army and come out."

30 When Zebul the ruler of the city heard the words of Gaal the son of Ebed, his anger burned.

31 He sent messengers to Abimelech [1]deceitfully, saying, "Behold, Gaal the son of Ebed and his [2]relatives have come to Shechem; and behold, they are [3]stirring up the city against you.

32 "Now therefore, arise by night, you and the people who are with you, and lie in wait in the field.

33 "In the morning, as soon as the sun is up, you shall rise early and rush upon the city; and behold, when he and the people who are with him come out against you, you shall [a]do to them [1]whatever you can."

34 So Abimelech and all the people who were with him arose by night and lay in wait against Shechem in four [1]companies.

35 Now Gaal the son of Ebed went out and stood in the entrance of the city gate; and Abimelech and the people who were with him arose from the ambush.

36 When Gaal saw the people, he said to Zebul, "[1]Look, people are coming down from the tops of the mountains." But Zebul said to him, "You are seeing the shadow of the mountains as if they were men."

37 Gaal spoke again and said, "Behold, people are coming down from [a]the [1]highest part of the land, and one [2]company comes by the way of [3]the diviners' [4]oak."

38 Then Zebul said to him, "Where is your [1]boasting now with which you said, 'Who is Abimelech that we should serve him?' Is this not the people whom you despised? Go out now and fight with them!"

39 So Gaal went out before the leaders of Shechem and fought with Abimelech.

40 Abimelech chased him, and he fled before him; and many fell wounded up to the entrance of the gate.

41 Then Abimelech remained at Arumah, but Zebul drove out Gaal and his [1]relatives so that they could not remain in Shechem.

42 Now it came about the next day, that the people went out to the field, and it was told to Abimelech.

43 So he took [1]his people and divided them into three [2]companies, and lay in wait in the field; when he looked and [3]saw the people coming out from the city, he arose against them and [4]slew them.

44 Then Abimelech and the [1]company who was with him dashed forward and stood in the entrance of the city gate; the other two [2]companies then dashed against all who were in the field and [3]slew them.

45 Abimelech fought against the city all that day, and he captured the city and killed the people who were in it; then he [a]razed the city and sowed it with salt.

46 When all the leaders of the tower of Shechem heard of it, they entered the inner chamber of the [1]temple of [a]El-berith.

47 It was told Abimelech that all the leaders of the tower of Shechem were gathered together.

48 So Abimelech went up to Mount [a]Zalmon, he and all the people who were with him; and Abimelech took [1]an axe in his hand and cut down a branch from the trees, and lifted it and laid it on his shoulder. Then he said to the people who were with him, "What you have seen me do, hurry and do [2]likewise."

49 All the people also cut down each one his branch and followed Abimelech, and put them on the inner chamber and set the inner 9:26 put their trust in him. Just as the fickle population had followed Abimelech, so they are now swayed by the deceptive proposals of Gaal.

9:27 held a festival. The vintage harvest was one of the most joyous times of the year (see Is 16:9–10; Jer 25:30), but festivals and celebrations held at pagan temples often degenerated into debauched drinking affairs.

9:28 Hamor. The Hivite ruler who had founded the city of Shechem (Gen 33:19; 34:2; Josh 24:32).

9:32 lie in wait. Ambush succeeded against Gibeah in Benjamin (20:37) and against Ai (Jos 8:2).

9:34 four companies. Smaller segments meant less chance of detection. Also, attack from several directions was good strategy.

9:37 highest part of the land. See note on Ezek 38:12. diviner's oak. Probably a sacred tree in some way related to the temple of Baal-berith (see note on Gen 12:6).

9:43 three companies. See note on 7:16.

9:45 sowed it with salt. To condemn it to perpetual barrenness and desolation (see Deut 29:23; Ps 107:33–34; Jer 17:6; Zep 2:9).

9:46 inner chamber. Probably the Beth-millo of v. 6. El-berith. Baal-berith (v. 4).

chamber on fire over those inside, so that all the men of the tower of Shechem also died, about a thousand men and women.

50 Then Abimelech went to Thebez, and he camped against Thebez and captured it.

51 But there was a strong tower in the center of the city, and all the men and women with all the leaders of the city fled there and shut themselves in; and they went up on the roof of the tower.

52 So Abimelech came to the tower and fought against it, and approached the entrance of the tower to burn it with fire.

53 But [a]a certain woman threw an upper millstone on Abimelech's head, crushing his skull.

54 Then [a]he called quickly to the young man, his armor bearer, and said to him, "Draw your sword and kill me, so that it will not be said of me, 'A woman slew him.' " So [1]the young man pierced him through, and he died.

55 When the men of Israel saw that Abimelech was dead, each departed to his [1]home.

56 Thus [a]God repaid the wickedness of Abimelech, which he had done to his father in killing his seventy brothers.

57 Also God returned all the wickedness of the men of Shechem on their heads, and the curse of Jotham the son of Jerubbaal came [1]upon them.

Oppression of Philistines and Ammonites

10 Now after Abimelech died, Tola the son of Puah, the son of Dodo, a man of Issachar, [a]arose to save Israel; and he lived in Shamir in the hill country of Ephraim.

2 He judged Israel twenty-three years. Then he died and was buried in Shamir.

3 After him, Jair the Gileadite arose and judged Israel twenty-two years.

4 He had thirty sons who rode on thirty donkeys, and they had thirty cities [1]in the land of Gilead [a]that are called [2]Havvoth-jair to this day.

5 And Jair died and was buried in Kamon.

6 Then the sons of Israel again did evil in the sight of the LORD, [a]served the Baals and the Ashtaroth, the gods of Aram, the gods of Sidon, the gods of Moab, [b]the gods of the sons of Ammon, and the gods of the Philistines; thus [c]they forsook the LORD and did not serve Him.

7 The anger of the LORD burned against Israel, and He [a]sold them into the hands of the Philistines and into the hands of the sons of Ammon.

8 They [1]afflicted and crushed the sons of Israel [2]that year; for eighteen years they afflicted all the sons of Israel who were beyond the Jordan [3]in Gilead in the land of the Amorites.

9 The sons of Ammon crossed the Jordan to fight also against Judah, Benjamin, and the house of Ephraim, so that Israel was greatly distressed.

10 Then the [a]sons of Israel cried out to the LORD, saying, "We have sinned against You, for indeed, we have forsaken our God and served the Baals."

11 The LORD said to the sons of Israel, "Did I not deliver you [a]from the Egyptians, 9:49 set the inner chamber on fire. In fulfillment of Jotham's curse (v. 20).

9:53 woman. While the men used bows, arrows and spears, women helped to defend the tower by dropping heavy stones on those who came near it. upper millstone. See note on 3:16. The upper, revolving stone of a mill was circular, with a hole in the center. Grinding grain was women's work (see Ex 11:5), usually considered too lowly for men to perform (see 16:21). Abimelech was killed by a woman using a domestic implement (see also 4:21).

9:54 armor bearer. A military leader usually had a young man carry his shield and spear (see 1 Sam 14:6; 31:4). A woman slew him. It was considered a disgrace for a soldier to die at the hands of a woman. Abimelech's shameful death was long remembered (2 Sam 11:21).

9:56 God repaid. God was in control of the events. As Israel's true King, He brought Abimelech's wickedness to a quick and shameful end.

9:57 curse of Jotham. See v. 20.

10:1 Tola the son of Puah . . . a man of Issachar. Tola and Puah bear names of two of the sons of Issachar (Gen 46:13; Num 26:23; 1Ch 7:1).

10:3 Jair. Since Jair came from Gilead (the territory assigned to Manasseh) and since a descendant of Manasseh bore the same name (Num 32:41; Deut 3:14; 1 Kin 4:13), it appears that Jair was a Manassite.

10:4 thirty sons . . . thirty donkeys . . . thirty cities. Evidence of wealth and position. Havvoth-jair. See NASB marg.

10:6–12:7 Israel now turned to Jephthah, a social outcast whom they had driven from the land and caused to become an outlaw without an inheritance in Israel. The author notes this to Israel's shame. The account of Jephthah's judgeship balances that of Deborah in the story of the judges (see note on 4:1–5:31; see also Introduction: Literary Features).
